Airborne Seminar Slated Here Jan. 19

A four-day Airborne conference will be held here beginning Jan. 19 to discuss standardizing the method of wearing individual equipment during an airborne assault.

Representatives from the 82nd Airborne Division, XVII Airborne Corps and Army Field Forces Board No. 1 will from Fort Bragg, N. C.; 11th Airborne Division, Fort Campbell, Ky.; Quartermaster Training Command, Fort Lee, Va.; Army Field Forces Board No. 3, 85th Airborne Regimental Combat Team and the Infantry School Combat Development Section from here; will meet with representatives from the Infantry School's Airborne Department.

Discuss Standardization

The group, during their four-day conference, will discuss the standardization of wearing individual equipment for paratroopers which is up to now, had been left to unit commanders. It is hoped the standardization of the method will decrease the loss of equipment made by airborne men while jumping.

Representatives who will attend the conference will be: Col. Halbert D. Eason, G.S., XVII Airborne Corps; Lt. Col. John B. O'Connell, 82d Airborne Division; Lt. Col. S. E. Kathan, 83d Air

Others Attending

Major Carl W. Knapp, Army Field Forces Board No. 3; Major Daniel Martin, 11th Airborne Division; Warrant Officer Thomas A. Carlin and Capt. Peter E. Burns, Quartermaster Training Command; Major Harrison J. Merritt and Major Richard T. Mathews, Army Field Forces Board No. 3; Major George J. McInnes, 58th Airborne Regimental Combat Team; Lt. Col. Benjamin E. Keith, Combat Development Section; and Lt. Col. Woodrow Lams, Major Robert C. Kendrick, Capt. Michael P. Houtch, Capt. Roland A. Dossert, Lt. W. H. Palmer, waterproof play pen; Tom Hildebrandt, one company large gift assortment; Sears Roebuck, 100 per cent guaranteed baby towel; Godwin-Pope, quilted baby blanket; Cargo Trailer Sales, tank full of gas for the family car; and Dales Hardware, baby scales.

Dads To Hear Safety Clinic

Lt. Col. Earl T. Wiley of Army Field Forces Board No. 5, who has been studying safety prevention for youngsters over a period of years, will present a clinic on Jan. 15 at the first 1953 meeting of the Dad's Club.

The meeting will be held next Thursday at 8 p. m. in the auditorium of the D.C. Faith children's school.

He reported he would give the clinic for the dads in order to help them prevent injuries to their children at home and at play.

Besides Colonel Wiley, the Dad's Club also is planning to show a sports film of a recent boxing match. Other plans call for launching a membership drive.

Outstanding OCS Grad To Get Annual Award

Establishment of the Robert P. Patterson memorial award to the outstanding graduate of the Infantry Officer Candidate School here, has been announced by Secretary of the Army Frank Face, Jr.

The award was conceived by a group of civilian admirers of the late Judge Patterson, best known as a dramatic efficiency, aptitude and character.

Served As War Secretary

Judge Patterson served as Secretary of War from September 1945 to July, 1947. Earlier he was appointed assistant Secretary of War in July, 1940 and became the first Under Secretary of War when that office was established in December, 1940.

During World War I Judge Patterson entered the Army as a private and was commissioned a cop-

508th MPs Go On Duty Here

The Infantry Center has become the second Army post in the United States to have Airborne military units.

Some 45 paratroopers from the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team are on duty here with the 11th Airborne Police Detachment. Chosen from various companies of the 508th, the 45 "troopers" are under the command of Lt. Paul A. Balvayev.

Although their orders read "temporary duty," many of the Airborne "troops" have said they hope they will be placed on permanent duty. The first assignment list (Quit of the 508th said, "They're very sharp soldiers, and we're glad to have them with us."

Trained by Lt. Buster Crowley, assistant operations officer in the military police, the 508th men will be on duty for the first time in one week. Most of their "know-how" will have to be gained through experience. Lieutenant Crowley said the Airborne policemen are easy to get along with. They still wear their decorations and Airborne insignia on their uniforms and said that in his opinion the men really like their new assignments. Crowley said they are an "except master sergeant, and they all agree it's pretty good duty," he said.

tain of Infantry after completing officers training camp at Plattsburgh, N. Y. in the summer of 1917. He later won the Distinguished Service Cross, Purple Heart and the Purple Heart while serving with American Expeditionary Force in France and was discharged with the rank of lieutenant.

The decision to make the recipient of the award a graduate of the Infantry Officer Candidate School was passed in part on Judge Patterson's earlier attendance at the World War I counterpart of the present-day school.

The award will be presented each year at a ceremony in Washington, D. C. unless the award is won by an officer in an overseas assignment. In that case the award will be made in the command to which he is assigned. Funds for the award will be administered by the New York County Trust.

What is planned to present the award annually on Feb. 12, 1953, Patterson's birthday.

"Because of my great esteem for the late Judge Patterson and because of my strong personal interest in our country's military service," it has been arranged with General Adler for a presentation ceremony on Feb. 12 to that I might have the privilege of being the first of the Robert P. Patterson memorial awards," Mr. Face said.

The first winner of the award will be announced next week.

Dimes Drive Containers Go To Units This Week

Containers for donations to this year's March of Dimes Campaign are being distributed to the various activities at The Infantry Center, Col. Paul C. Serff, drive chairman, has announced.

These containers are being distributed to service clubs, the Y, YWCA, NCO clubs and officers clubs. The containers are being distributed to the units of the Infantry Center for their use in the year's campaign.

"The 1952 March of Dimes campaign has been put upon a voluntary contribution basis and no money has been established," explained Colonel Serff, "however, it is hoped that everyone here will take this opportunity to contribute to this worthy cause," he declared.

The drive chairman went on to point out that the long-standing partnership between the nation's Dimes-men, the greatest test during the record-smashing 1952 polo epidemic.

Blood Center Tells Year's Activities

The Blood Donor Center collected 13,700 pints of blood during 1952, the total to almost 20,000 pints since it began operation in 1947.

Of the 1952 total, 1,252 pints were collected at the 24th Army Hospital. The remainder, 12,448 pints, was shipped to the U. S. Blood Processing Plant, West Point, Pa., for use as blood plasma.

The biggest month for collections in 1952 was May when 1,581 pints were donated by troops of military Center units.

The biggest single week was May 19-25 when 467 pints were collected.

First Student Brigade led all blood donor Center units during the year with a total contribution of 4,943 pints. The 50th Airborne Regimental Combat Team contributed 2,965 pints, Combat Training Command 2,084 and Area Service Unit Provisional Group, 1,606.

Traffic Violators

One civilian and one military man had their driver's licenses revoked for traffic violations.

In each case the offense was driving while intoxicated.

The men are Carl Duke, civilian, 1st Corps of Engineers, and Sgt. Clifford H. Clavert of 434th Food Service Squadron, hole playoff.

Cpl. Herman Fields of Detroit, Mich., was the last man here to re-enlist for active duty in 1952.

M-Sgt. William S. Pope of Jacksonville, Fla., was the first re-enlistment for the New Year. Both men signed for a period of three years active service.

Cpl. Fields entered the Army December 27, 1947 at Deereboro, Mich., and is now serving with Headquarters and Headquarters Company of the 34th Infantry Provisional Group.

Sergeant Pope, who has a record of 11 years service with the Army, is currently serving with the 34th Infantry Regiment.

Civil Service Rates Employe 'Outstanding'

Miss Frances Willis of 2205 Hampton Avenue, Columbus, Ga., has been rated outstanding as a Civil Service secretary-in-the-Infantry Center G-4 office.

Miss Willis, who has worked in the G-4 office for four years, was unanimously chosen in December by the Civilian Personnel Performance Appraisal Committee to receive the rating for the period ending Nov. 30, 1952.

Prerequisites of a performance rating of outstanding call for a level of performance which exceeds normal requirements to such an extent that each would be considered worthy of special commendation.

This is Miss Willis' second consecutive outstanding rating.

Off-Campus Site Enrolls 68

Registration for the winter quarter at the Fort Benning branch of the University of Georgia has reached 68. Director Rembert House of Sunday.

Mr. House said he expects a total enrollment of 125 by Jan. 13, when registration ends and classes begin.

Twelve courses will be offered during the winter quarter. Classes will meet Tuesday and Thursday evenings from 6:20 to 10:40 p.m.

Defense Dept. To Ask More Promotions

KOEA (APPS) - A promise to fight for more promotions for non-commissioned officers in Korea has been made by Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, Assistant Secretary of Defense.

Making her second Korea inspection in two years, Mrs. Rosenberg also stated that she would urge maintenance of a high consistent re-enlistment rate so that a man who has 36 points will be assured a speedy return home.

She said she was told by many enlisted men that they were doing jobs that called for men in higher grades. "I am going to recommend that the Army should give more space for promotions for non-commissioned officers."

Mrs. Rosenberg said that all the men she talked to "all want to go home and all want to know about rotation. They understand the war and take their jobs with amazing courage and calmness, and they still want to finish the job."

Re-Up Total Here Is 2,421 In '52

Was the largest month with 291 re-enlistments, and January was second with 267. November had the smallest re-enlistment figure with only 107 men signed for additional terms.

A majority of the re-enlistments were for six years, with three-year enlistments drawing the second largest number. The enlistment terms and the number of men who signed for them are: six years, 1,121; three years, 522; unspecified period, 100; four years, 17, and five years, five.

Watches or tanks, it makes little difference to the men of the 3887th Ordnance Company of the Combat Training Command. They are equipped to repair them, as well as a variety of other weapons.

A mobile unit, the 3887th has its workshops set up in vans which can be moved for action and moved out in two hours.

The unit is used to store the equipment necessary for the performance of all jobs. Equipment includes tools, motors, generators and a wide assortment of machinery.

Sfc. Arthur J. Brennan, a veteran of two wars, is in charge of the watch repair van which maintains all watches for the CTC. A specialist in his field, the sergeant states that he learned his trade the "hard way."

The sergeant's assistant is Cpl. Justin W. Mandelbaum, a watch repairman from Germany. The other four members of the van's crew are instrument repairmen. They are Sfc. Thomas J. Gardoff, Sgt. Hugh Todd, Cpl. Lloyd O. Strickland and Pfc. Thomas E. Urey.

All weapons from the 45 caliber pistol to the 50 caliber machine gun can be repaired by the men of the weapons repair van. One of the members of this group is Cpl. Jerry Crump, Korean veteran and Medal of Honor recipient.

The repair of tanks and tank transporters as well as other tracked vehicles is handled by the track section. These men are able to handle any type of track.

Whether it is the replacement of a 17-pound heavy duty ratchet on a tank transporter or the removal of a sprocket wheel, the men who make such movement possible, the 3887th is equipped and ready to handle the assignment.

Army's Plastic Clothes To Get Battle Test

WASHINGTON (APPS) - The Army's new Coldwar winter clothing will be battle-tested in Korea, Army Quartermaster Colonel announced.

Three thousand sets of the revolutionary plastic jackets and trousers will be issued to combat units starting in January. The clothing already undergone preliminary climatic tests in the U. S.

The uniform, developed by the Army Quartermaster Center, employs the vapor-barrier principle. It is made of a synthetic material resembling sponge rubber which provides insulation and keeps the wearer warm, regardless of whether the skin is wet or dry. It is also capable of keeping the wearer afloat.

Except for a lightweight cotton jacket and trousers to protect the wearer against chafing and to provide pockets, no underwear or clothing is worn with the uniform.

The outfit is 16 percent lighter in weight than the latest conventional type wool uniform. It weighs approximately five pounds.

Insure Your Soul For All Eternity

BY CHAPLAIN M. F. JEFFERSON

We, as a Nation, insure anything and everything of value. The greater the value the more concerned we are in protecting it. We insure our homes, our cars, our life. We fully realize that the value itself, ipso facto, cannot be lost. We are insured against the loss of the value of the article insured.

We insure our precious jewels, automobiles, our real and personal properties. We even go as far as taking our insurance on our services and entertainments. We insure our jobs of all descriptions. But do we ever stop long enough to consider taking out Life Insurance on that object itself, ipso facto, cannot be lost. We are insured against the loss of the value of the article insured.

Support The March of Dimes

As the New Year rolls in, as it inevitably does, people across the nation are called upon to donate their money to what we feel is one of the most worthy causes in this country—the March of Dimes.

All the funds collected through the drive go to aid persons stricken by the great crippling, infantile paralysis. This dread disease is a respecter of no lines or barriers. It strikes rich or poor, young or old with the same devastating attack that all too often leaves the afflicted helpless, a twisted, bent caricature of man. The National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis, founded in 1938 leads the concerted drive against this maiming disease. It raises and finances through grants to research centers, a nationwide program to research into the cause, prevention and cure of polio.

Report From Washington

February Inductions to Hit 53,000 Mark

The Department of Defense has asked the Selective Service System to induct 53,000 men for the Army in February. Officials said the high call was necessary to replace men whose term of service was coming to an end. The February call is the largest for the Army since the early months of 1951. There was a high call for the Army in January, 1952; but 11,500 were inducted into the Marine Corps, with the balance going to the Army.

Army personnel will be granted emergency leave to go home over overseas stations if the trip contributes to the welfare of a dying member of the immediate family. Emergency leave will be granted also in the event of a death of a serviceman's wife or child. Individuals will be given free military transportation and privileges "in keeping with the degree of urgency in each case," the Army said.

27 Killed in Ireland Plane Crash

At least 27 persons aboard a British Whirlwind jet were killed when the 36-passenger plane crashed near Belfast, North Ireland this week. Seven others aboard the plane were injured. Only one of those aboard escaped injury—steward Jack Young, who was hurled from the tail of the plane as it broke up. Young said "everything was normal" as the plane approached the field for a landing.

The passengers had fastened their safety belts when suddenly there was a terrific crash, "he said. The plane, on a routine flight from London, hit a beacon light as it came in to land. It careened off the runway and crashed against the airport's radio control building before smashing into a runway closed to where officials and relatives of the passengers were waiting to welcome the arrivals.

Other Veterans Benefits

(Ex-servicemen and women of the Korean conflict are entitled to many benefits which are not contained in the K-Vet Bill. Eligible veterans and their dependents are entitled to medical and dental treatment at government expense. This article is intended to give the reader an idea of just what medical-type benefits a veteran is entitled to receive.)

Hospitalization: This benefit is worked on a priority system. First, those needing hospitalization because of injuries or disabilities incurred or aggravated in the line of military duty since June 27, 1950.

Second, those veterans with disabilities which are not connected with the service. Personnel in this category must state under oath that they are unable to pay hospital charges themselves. These veterans must wait until a bed is available.

Korean veterans who develop an active psychosis (mental illness) within two years from the date of their separation may be entitled to priority for such care as presumptive Service-connected cases.

Veterans requiring emergency medical treatment may be taken directly to the nearest VA hospital. If possible, the veteran should communicate with the VA beforehand.

Outpatient Medical Treatment: Veterans with Service-connected disabilities may receive treatment at VA outpatient clinics or from authorized private physicians. Each veteran's eligibility must be determined by the VA before treatment of this type can be authorized.

Necessary drugs prescribed by a physician authorized to give outpatient treatment to the veteran can be obtained from "homestead" druggists at government expense or by direct purchase.

Outpatient Dental Treatment: Eligibility requirements are the same as for outpatient medical treatment. The veteran's dental condition must be determined by the VA as to have been incurred in, or made worse by, the service. If so, the veteran may receive treatment from authorized private dentists.

Outpatient Treatment for Prosthetic Service-connected Disabilities: This benefit is provided until the VA can determine whether the disability actually is Service-connected. To be eligible for dentures, outpatient treatment in this category, a veteran must file his application 12 months from the date of his active service. (AFPS).

Smiling Winchill arrived in New York this week and joined his old friend the Eisenhower for dinner Tuesday night after an earlier conference at which they supposedly discussed other affairs. The U. S. president-elect and the Prime Minister of Great Britain were guests.

Gen. Matthews B. Ridgway, supreme Allied commander in Europe, will visit France this week with the Sixth Army. The organization ground troops in Europe would suffer "grievous" damage if they were to break out with the Sixth Army. The general's next 12 to 18 months, but he stated that "we would not be besting" Gen. Ridgway's command. The general's conference at the Pentagon was the first since he came to the States. "But I do hope this organization would reflect our degree of combat effectiveness. As a general, I am usually rate will vary with the tactical situation; the higher the level training, the lower the casualty rate. It is always the least trained troops which are the first lost in battle."

On The Bookshelf

HOW TO SUCCEED IN BUSINESS WITHOUT REALLY TRYING by Shepherd Mead SIMON and Schuster.

An appropriate subtitle for this hilarious book would be "a bee's guide to success." To follow the author's advice, you will have a distaste for work and a lack of respect for brains, ability and ordinary decency.

In comical fashion the author outlines the various methods to use in getting a raise, grabbing credit due to someone else and other ways to polish apples with the big boy of the firm.

The book is loaded with plenty of laughable material but if you think you wonder if part of it isn't all too true.

PLAYER PIANO by Kurt Vonnegut, Jr. Charles Scribner's Sons.

Player Piano is written along the same theme as Huxley's Brave New World and Orwell's 1984. It is a bold, new re-creation with high mechanical wizardry which the world seems to be reaching.

Following the Second Industrial Revolution, the vast industrial might of the world was directed by a vast array of vacuum tubes.

These tubes were used to answer the many questions of the government and industry. They even proved valuable in selecting the correct football teams.

However, not all of the people were happy under the new scheme of things. Two in partic-

Survey Shows Many Men Hope To Use Korea Vets Bill of Rights

By OC KENNY B. STERN
How will the Veterans' Readjustment Assistance Act of 1952, commonly known as the Korean veterans Bill of Rights, affect the serviceman when he returns to civilian life?

A survey of personnel of First OC Regiment indicated that a majority of the men will take advantage of the educational (and occupational) and home-training business loans benefits provided by the act.

Only the results in the officer and education had you not been given enlisted men categories can be projected into other units and the samplings are too small in nature to assure accuracy.

The educational level of regular personnel is high in comparison of schooling. The average was lowered slightly by crediting a man with slightly more than a full year of schooling, but the lowest full year claimed. If a man claimed 1 1/2 years of education, he was accepted for graduation simplification, with 1 1/2 years.

$7,568 Donated To Korean Kids

Literally thousands of Koreans explain celebrated Christmas this year — US Army style — thanks to the kindness of Third Army Military Personnel, their dependents and the Greenville, N. C., Episcopal Ministerial Association.

Following the custom begun only last year, Third Army Chaplains sponsored a drive for contributions at all post chaplains' services during the week of Thanksgiving.

Some $7,568 including a hand-patched $245 donation from several North Carolina ministers was dispatched to Korea in sufficient time to make the necessary Yuletide and newsworlds shipment.

Having been alerted in advance that the Third Army contribution would be forthcoming, the Eighth Army Chaplain requested that he be given authority to provide those things the Korean waifs most needed. A Christmas time or at need food, warm cloths, vitamins, canned milk, soap and simple medical supplies," he explained.

The package of money orders was sent with no strings attached. Not every Third Army installation has its own chapel, so some were not represented in this year's gift to the Korean orphans.

New Guide Of Post, City Ready

A thirty-two page pocket-size booklet giving information about the Post and the City of Greenville, is being made available to Post personnel by the Greenville Post Telephone Co. in Columbus.

The booklet is full of information about the various services, recreational activities, entertainment, religious services, etc. available to military personnel, and includes a section on "help-in-planning" phone calls. It has pictures of several post places of interest, a key map of downtown Columbus and a map of the reservation. Cooperating in providing the booklet are the Columbus Chamber of Commerce, the Public Information Office, and the Post Signal Office.

One Death Mars Holiday

One death and six injuries marked the Fort Benning holiday week according to figures obtained from Norman Adams, Infantry Center Safety Director.

Mr. Adams stated that one man from Bainbridge, Ga., was killed while riding as a passenger in an automobile during the Christmas leave period.

Turner Air Force Base at Albany, Ga., is conducting an investigation concerning the death of the Fort Benning soldier.

Prior to the holiday period the Infantry Center safety council conducted an extensive safety program. By comparing death and accident figures from previous years the council predicted two deaths and 16 injuries in private vehicles during the 15 days.

"Since the actual figures are short of the council prediction we do feel that we have had a successful holiday period," Mr. Adams stated. "However, we had hoped that we might achieve a perfect record without any deaths or accidents," said the safety director.

REURNS TO DUTY
Private Bobby Fitching has returned to duty with the Infantry Center Public Information Office after successfully completing a six weeks course in Public Information at the Army Correspondence Information School, Fort Slocum, New York. He is a member of Company A, Infantry School Detachment.

508th-House of David Open Cage Doings

A name familiar to the sports field and particularly in basketball was on display Sunday night at Briant Wells Field House when the House of David, take on the 508th Airborne Red Devils at 8 p.m. in a game that will be full of mirth, madness, ability, comedy and humor.

An admission charge of 75 cents is asked for the pre-season contest.

The famous bearded Davids will walk out on the BWFF boards headed by their clever clowning jumble Bobby Roth, one of the fastest breaking forwards in cage goings-on.

The Red Devils, under the able leadership of Coach Jim Bragan, will be hampered by the lack of a big man who can match the bearded cagers. So far in their practice games, the 508th has won eight out of ten practice games.

Returns

The team hasn't got one recognized college player on it, but three of last year's players have returned for the 1953 Fort Benning Basketball League. They are: Bobby Roth, Dick Ward, Bob Morrow, ex-Phillips Oilers guard, Anselmie Carpenter or Don Smith.

Coach Bragan lost a starting forward when his best rebounder—Will Kemp broke arm in a practice session a few weeks ago. Two new additions, right in the football team, are Willie Harney and Ken Branson. Harney looks like a possible starter because of his rebounding skill. Branson is a steady and cool player that most coaches want on their squad.

Zachary Gray stands with a good most of the squad (he lacks height), but is Morris Corbin who is now able to start playing. He was an All-City player in his last year high school in Fremont. Pat—Another All-City player is Don Ward-welle who played for Smith-sburg.

Ivan Outstanding

Probably the outstanding player on last year's quintet is Ivan, who is capable of doing great things for the Devils. Ivan can play either forward or center and he uses his...

Basketball Opens At Briant Wells Monday

The ball will be bouncing high and long at Briant Wells Field House this week as the 1953 Fort Benning Basketball League gets under way and moves into high gear.

On Sunday night, the House of David and the 508th Airborne kick off the hoop doings in the House of David with a pre-season exhibition game.

Then, on the following Mondays, Wednesday and Friday evening at BWFF, double header games are slated until Feb. 20.

Opening the regular league contest activities will be First Officer Canner, and Dick Ward of the First Sergeant's team vs. CTC and First Sergeant's team vs. ASU on Monday.

Tuesday, the 508th Airborne and Second Student Regiment vs. PMG fill out Wednesday's program and Friday evening, 1st ISD vs. 31st and First OC vs. 508th Airborne. That fills out the first week's program.

All-Army Track Will Be In 3-A During June

The All-Army championships in boxing, basketball, baseball, golf, softball, track and field, and tennis will be conducted during 1953 under the supervision of the Adjutant General with the Third Army being awarded the track and field championships.

The All-Army sports program will provide an essential motivating factor in promoting well-balanced sports at all levels of ability and all echelons of command. It will also provide an opportunity, through basic sports, to develop and maintain a high state of mental and physical well-being among military personnel and to enhance morale.

The Dates

The host commands and dates of the All-Army championships are as follows: Bowling—Fifth Army, March 24-28; Basketball—Second...

GOLDEN GLOVES PROSPECT... Manager Frank Hartley, left, coach of the ASU boxing team, wraps Howard Skene's hands before a workout in the Columbus Club. Skene, a 18-year-old Columbusian, will enter the novice class featherweight division of the Georgia Golden Gloves in Marietta Jan. 19-20. Hurtley, who is training Skene for the coming season, is looking towards a great prospect for the strong left-hooker who appeared on two Aerea amateur cards recently and won many admirers.

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

By Lester Dinoff

With the pignak tucked away in Special Services athletic locker room, the thoughts of sports fans and particularly here at Fort Benning are fast turning to the hardwood floors with the hoops on the edges. Basketball is about to take the spotlight for its annual appearance.

Merle Meltszer, who does some coasting in Soldier Shaves basketball against the First Student Regiment's athletes, accomplishments, has been staying in my ears about the merits of the Blackbirds basketball team. This column, plus Meltszer's soft, populating vocal glands, were showed in front of me. So I'm performing it off on you readers.

Pre-season performance makes it appear as if the fight for top honors this season will pick right up where it left off last year with the battle for the league title going down to the wire as two team contest between First SR and First Officer Candidate Regiment.

The General, playing as the Third Student Regiment last year, won top spot using an old New York Yankee formula. They beat the Blackbirds both times during the season and that was that.

This year, however, the script seems ripe for a complete revision. The Shirts, under the very capable leadership of Terry Scott, appear to be out to bring home all the marbles, and seem quite able to turn the trick. The biggest problem that faced Terrence in the past season was the lack of height. Well, that is one thing that will cause him no worry this year. Of course, it might bring about the loss of sleep to some of his opponents.

The Major's addition, both literally and figuratively, is Bob Richardson. The towering straggler has ranked as one of the top players in the Southern Conference last year. According to the record book, it was this 6'4" center who sparked Clemson to its 1951-52 record of 11 and 7. From what he has shown in workouts thus far, Richardson seems to be just what the doctor ordered to cure the South's ills.

Six-three Vince Dickherber and Bob Karpinski are returnees from last years team who will be backing up Richardson. Dickherber, who was starting center in 1952, figures to be more effective in his new forward slot. Little "Slim" Karpky is the Dick McQuire-Gene Melchorre type sparkplug that seems so essential to a winning column in this day of fast moving, high scoring basketball.

Two more six-plus boys round out the tentative starting lineup. George Swyers, six-three former star of West Virginia Tech, will start in the other forward position, while Johnny Deeb, 6'2", will share defense with Karpinski.

Coach Scott has three more foot boosters sitting on the bench. Olin Bonstrom, a 6-2 former high school star from Minnesota, Nelson Obernacher, 6-3 out of Texas Western at El Paso, and six-foot-one Carl Crozier are on tap to split the starting arrangement.

Add to the big men the "young" boys, five-five Vern Griffin, another of last year's quintet, five-foot-seven-inch George Griner, and another pair of five-fives, Ted Wind and the boy who will deliver the official scorer (that's-a-me) crazy, Phillip Philip.

Terry Scott, who last season was a combination manager-coach-captain and almost water boy, will be able to rest a little easier this season. With the height and depth of his reserves and with the managerial chores being ably handled by Carl Crozier, it looks as if Scott will be able to sit back and relax. His only minor (?) worries of coaching will be turning his hair gray.

After watching the team in its first few pre-season scrimmages, it seems more and more evident that when the Blackbirds take the floor against the First O.C. in the 1953 Fort Benning Basketball League, the fur should fly. When the smoke clears and the final score is posted, we should have a pretty good idea of the next likelihood in Benning basketball.

Has there ever been a complete list of all recreational facilities on the post published for the information of the men who go to the rec side of life's things? If not, here is for use... use it for what it is worth:

Baseball... Gowdy Field, located on the main post with a seating capacity of 3,000. Basketball... Briant Wells Field House on the main post and Old Gym on Eggersoff Street. Also Harmony Church Field House.

Bowling... eight alleys located in the bowling building on Main Post. Also, there are beautiful alleys in the Sand Hill area... Bowling... Briant Wells Field House on every other Thursday night, seating capacity of 2,500... also summer bouts in Gowdy Field.

Gymnastics... Briant Wells Field House is one of the most modern in the South. Complete facilities are available for all indoor and recreational purposes and are kept in top-notch condition.

Handball... two four-wall courts available at BWFF, Hundey... well stocked ranges with guides and dot packs available. Season conform with Georgia and Alabama laws... No-ifs permitted.

Peanut Bowl Big Thriller

Seven may be a lucky number, but the seventh annual Peanut Bowl basketball tournament held at Memorial Stadium turned out to be the thriller of the year.

The game certainly produced one of the most exciting scores in the history of the tournament. When the Peanut Bowl was first started, it was just a matter of time before the Peanut Bowl would become a real event.

McCoy, Jewel Vie In Arena Go

At "Kid" McCoy and Jimmy Jewel, a pair of hard-hitting middleweights, agreed Tuesday to meet in a 10-round main event boxing bout at the Columbus Arena on Monday night.

The bout will mark McCoy's town rival, Ralph Pearson, his retirement in their Dec. 3 bout in Macon.

McCoy stopped Pearson's kid brother in the third round in his last arena appearance in a fight warming up for the Pearson bout, a youngster with big arm-pits and abilities, sharply declined popular Billy LeBlanc's New Orleans in his last Columbus appearance.

The win over Pearson, a clear cut unanimous decision, was the highlight of McCoy's career so far. The Macon battler won all but two rounds of the bout and had Pearson on the floor in the third.

Losses To Ray Leo

Jewel, who lost the third decision of his career here to strong contender Ray Leo in the fall, has come back with a knockout win, and is shooting for a return match with the handsome Fort Benning slugger.

Fred Ward will probably promote the winner of the McCoy-Jewel bout with Lee, in what would be the highlight of the local boxing scene.

Both McCoy and Jewel are noted for their speed. McCoy's left hand is one of the most powerful weapons in Georgia circles, and the Macon crowd got kid in a wind-mill punch from away yards.

19 Knockouts

Jewel scored 19 knockouts in 25 bouts, the most in the state. He is expected to come in at about 150 pounds, while Jewel will tip the scales at about 157.

Scott Expects To Get Off To Winning Start

Terry Scott of the Airborne Battalion, 1st Airborne Division, expects to get off to a winning start in the 1953 Fort Benning Basketball League Monday night. Scott's capers have shown up exceptionally well, according to Lt. George Samanilo, A. & R. Co. sergeant.

The eight pre-season games ended with the Blackbirds as victors. Seven of the eight were won by a 20-point margin.

Coach Scott's tentative line-up shows eight out of nine players returning from the Airborne Battalion. Lt. Ronald R. Richardson, first baseman, a six-foot Clemson graduate, is expected to fill the center spot.

Then Scott will fill out the remaining fourth and guard slots with George Swyers, former West Virginia Tech star; John Dill, from South Missouri State; Phil Karninski, Vince Zechner, former St. Louis University freshman; and Jerry Griffin, veteran Fort Benning forward; Phil Phillips, a play-making guard; Orin D. Howard, a vet of last year's Blackbirds; and with Infantry School Detachment winning in the 1952 year group and Lawson Field Detachment leading the 89 year group. ISD defeated ASU, 65-50, with Jack Tridder leading the attack with 28 points. Pete Greer was high with 17 points, paved the way for Lawson's 31-28 victory over 2nd Student Regiment. Tim Green tallied 10 points for 2nd St.

Baseball Ump And Golfer Now OCS Trainee

Baseball umpire, golfer and of former cablecasters. This unusual combination is the person of Barney E. Stone, who is a member of the OCS Company, First Officer Candidate in training.

The 22-year-old future officer assigned to the Japanese Logistics Command in 1952, when the OCS sponsored an umpire school for military personnel. One of the men selected to attend such a well known course conducted by the National League and "Frosty" Peters of the American Association.

Upon completion of the course, and armed with a membership certificate in the Association of American Umpires of the Baseball Association, Stone expects to begin umpiring upon his career as a diamond arbitrator.

As long as I keep my membership up to date, I am eligible to call balls and strikes in organized baseball from Class D to the major leagues," Stone says. "Of course, I am planning on making the Army my career, the chances of my working in Yankee Stadium is slight," he added.

As has been noted before, Stone's other athletic accomplishment is in golf. He competed in both the 4th and 5th Division's International Golf Tournaments in 1949, 1950 and 1951.

Coach Scott's tentative line-up shows eight out of nine players returning from the Airborne Battalion. Lt. Ronald R. Richardson, first baseman, a six-foot Clemson graduate, is expected to fill the center spot.

Rifle-Pistol Club Has Monthly Shoot

The monthly pistol match of the Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club will be held Sunday at the club's range on Lumpkin Trail just south of the Range Headquarters on Dixie Road at 2 p.m.

Major Ellis Lee, distinguished rifle and pistol shooter, will conduct a 30 minute course of instruction prior to the beginning of the matches.

The 22 caliber match will open at the meet at 2:30 p.m. and will be followed by the center fire and a 45 caliber pistol and rifle competition will be available at the range for those who lack a weapon.

All shooters are invited to compete for the medals or merchandise. All teams will end up their 154-game schedule on Sept. 27.

Major Leagues Inaugural Set For April 13

Major League baseball will get off to an early start this year with opening day on April 13 and the annual All-Star game staged on Boston Braves Field on July 14.

The 1953 season is the alternate year wherein the Washington Senators and the Cincinnati Reds open their home season a day in front of the rest of the league. Thus, on the 13th, the Yankees will play at Griffith Stadium and the Pirates at Crosley Field.

All stadiums are invited to compete for the medals or merchandise. All teams will end up their 154-game schedule on Sept. 27.

New Hoop Rules Listed By Dubia

There have been a number of major and minor changes in the NCAA basketball rules and Chris Dubia, president of the South Georgia District Board of the National Association of Basketball Officials, would like to familiarize all college fans and players with the big major change this year in foul shooting. If a player misses his first foul shot on a single shot situation, he will be given a second try. This is called a one and one foul.

There are three minutes of extra overtime periods, a player will get two shots for any personal foul.

The next change is for intentional or flagrant fouling. The player fouled will get two free throws. This is called the three-point violation and a foul occur at any time during the game. Both are penalized depending on the situation. A foul during the first half will result in a 15-second violation, while a foul during the second half will result in a 30-second violation.

Dubia also has some words for the fans. He says the players' foul shooting is getting his feet thrown and stay away from the court and basket.

Dubia, who is very happy with his 25 white toolers who are working for him, has also listed the ground rules for Briant Wells Field House.

The ball hitting any obstructive object or hitting a player on the basket, frame on backboards, spectators, is a foul.

Any questions concerning the game or a situation will come through the team captain.

Black lines are out of bounds.

If a player wants to leave the floor for any reason, he must request permission from the referee.

TIC Officers Write TIS Quarterly Articles

An article entitled, "Don't Forget the Fundamentals," by Gen. J. Lawson Collins, Army Chief of Staff, as well as several articles by TIC officers will appear in the January issue of the Infantry School Quarterly, according to Lt. Col. John K. Ensey, editor.

General Collins' article is based on a talk he gave at the Infantry School last summer when he discussed his ideas on training and the application of basic principles. Ensey's article is also based on the cover of the quarterly.

Many of the articles appearing in the January Quarterly have been written by officers here. Col. Ensey said:

"On 'Top of the Ridge' by Col. Oles Parz, Infantry Center, is one of the first articles to appear on this new weapon. 'Realism' by Maj. Frank J. G. tells of Colonel Parz's experiences conducting the Infantry issue, is on the Attack Course, is the Battle Induction Course. The article is the fifth part of a five-part Quarterly series on the Battle Induction Course. Major Speltz, currently a student in the advanced course, is a Korean war veteran and was in the Attack 'C' Committee of the Tactical Department before entering the Advanced Officers Course in September.

12,000 Subscribers

The January issue of the Quarterly, which will soon be mailed to over 12,000 subscribers all over the world, has been redesigned, according to Col. Ensey, who is a member of the Training Publications Department.

Meloy VA Will Pay Dividend In '53

The 32-year-old general has been a student, an instructor and commander of the Infantry School at Fort Benning.

The student instructor in 1932-33 in the airborne course. He was appointed assistant commander of the 2nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N. C. in 1935. He was promoted to major in 1936 and joined the 2nd Infantry Division in 1937.

Under General Young's leadership, the Second Airborne Division broke through less than 30 days after the outbreak of the war and was turned to the U. S. in May, 1952. Distinguished Service Medal, Purple Heart.

Among his allied decorations are the Order of Military Merit, awarded May 4, 1952 by Lt. Gen. Lee Chong Chan, chief of the French Legion of Honor, and the French Legion of Honor, awarded by the French Ambassador in Tokyo in May, 1952.

WASHINGTON (AP)—Another dividend will be paid in 1953 to servicemen holding National Service Life Insurance policies, the Veterans Administration has announced.

The first payments will be made in February to approximately 6,000,000 eligible veterans, including personal non on active duty.

The size of the individual payments for most policy holders will be the same as in 1952, when an average of $60 was paid.

To be eligible, the policy holder must have paid premiums for three or more months between the anniversary date of his policy in 1952 and the same date in 1953.

Personnel who are eligible for the 1952 dividend but did not apply to VA Headquarters, Washington, D. C. However, policy holders who applied for the '52 dividend will receive the '53 dividend automatically. Payments will be made 30 to 40 days after the anniversary date of the policy.

The method of payment will be the same as in 1952 unless the policy holder informs the VA to the contrary. In this instance he should notify the VA office which he pays premiums.

Applications for the 1953 dividend must include your full name, mailing address, policy number, serial number and date of birth. All applications must be signed in the policy holder's own handwriting.

The 1953 dividend is the second regular one on NSLI policies—the first was paid this year and totaled $180,000,000. Two special dividends will be paid in 1953. The four total nearly $4,000,000,000.

Dad's Club To Make 1,000 Daddies Tick

What is a Dad? A Dad, we are reliably informed, is a fellow who fathers a child, expands his chest, passes out favors, and shortly thereafter—when he should be really ticking at his new job—retires behind his favorite newspaper.

But, we are also reliably informed, it isn't all Dad's fault. He means well, they tell us. The trouble with him is that he doesn't always know how to tick, is perhaps a little shy, and although his intentions are the best in the world he just slips into a rut and lets it go at that.

So the Dad's Club of Fort Benning, an organization with zip and plenty of know-how, is out to take Dad over—at least to take over a lot of Dads who are hiding behind the newspaper. The Club intends to run its membership up to a cool 1,000.

Kick-off will be tonight in the old Children's School, according to Lt. Col. Willis J. Adams, executive officer of the First Infantry Brigade, who is membership and publicity and drive lasting a month is in chairman. A drive lasting a month is in the cards.

All Army Dads, officer or enlisted, living on or off post, are eligible for membership in the Club. Every father is urged to attend the meeting January 15 at 8:00 p. m. at the Old Children's School. Club dues are $1.00 a month, payable in advance.

Gen. Meloy Takes Over

General Young Leaves Post For Washington Assignment

With the last boom of a 13-gun salute echoing over Outpost No. 1 last Saturday, Maj. Gen. Robert N. Young left Fort Benning for his new duties with the Department of the Army in Washington, D. C.

Taking over the reins as Infantry Center commander and commander of the Infantry School, 60-year-old Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., is probably the youngest man ever to resign over this vast military center.

General Young, who has been appointed the Army's deputy assistant chief of staff for personnel, was escorted on his final drive to the Main Outpost by the 122nd Army Band.

250 Gentiles Line Road

Living both sides of the road were 250 gentiles representing the Fort's major units—the 368th Regimental Combat Team, Infantry School Detachment, Area Service Unit Provisional Group, Provisional Medical Group, First Squadron Cavalry.

General Young, who has been stationed here since Oct. 23, 1951 as assistant commander of the Infantry School, is a veteran of combat in Korea where he commanded the 1st Infantry Regiment of the 24th Infantry Division and won the nation's second highest award for gallantry in action—the Distinguished Service Cross.

He was severely wounded in Korea in July 1950 and hospitalized until November. Upon his release from the hospital he served in Japan as deputy to the assistant chief of staff for personnel of the Far East Command in Tokyo.

Meloy graduated from the U. S. Military Academy and was commissioned a second lieutenant of Infantry June 14, 1927. His first assignment was with the 12th Infantry at Fort Washington, Md.

As a junior officer, Gen. Meloy entered the Infantry School as a student in September 1934 and completed the regular course in June 1935. He then attended the 1st Infantry School where, while completing his schooling at Fort Benning, he was assigned to the 8th Infantry (Light Tanks) at this post.

General Meloy graduated from the Command and Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., in June 1937 and was again assigned to Fort Benning—this time with the 1st Infantry as a military observer in England before the war. He then entered the war. He was assigned to the 1st Infantry School at Camp Howard, Texas, in April 1944 and the following October moved with the division to Europe, where he served as its chief of staff from September 1945 to the end of World War II and the start of the Korean War.

First Patterson Award Goes To Lt. H. T. Perrin

Lt. H. T. Perrin was principal speaker at the graduation ceremonies here. The 23-year-old Patterson Award winner attended Kenyon College in Gambier, where he received a bachelor of arts degree in economics in 1948. He then attended Cornell University and received his master's degree in business administration in 1950. Following his graduation, Perrin was employed by the Inland Steel Company of Chicago, Ill., where he attended the company's college training program.

Entered Army in 1951

Lieutenant Perrin entered the Army June 11, 1951, and took the basic and leadership courses at Fort Knox, Ky. He became a student in Infantry officer candidate course on Dec. 2, 1951.

Recognized by his fellow officer candidates as an outstanding student, Lieutenant Perrin is described in his company class book as "one of the best soldiers in the company. Perrin won his points with us by a modest attitude and his intellectual capacity."

After he was commissioned, Lieutenant Perrin was assigned to the Officer Candidate Regiment as a technical officer for the Fifth Officer Candidate Company. He later was assigned to regimental headquarters.

Range Gets New Targets

Installation of new target equipment, racks and frames has been completed at McAndrew Range at an approximate cost of $1,000. Lt. Col. Gordon B. Hansel, in charge of the range, has reported.

McAndrew Range, a known distance range for the M1 rifle, carbine and automatic rifle, is one of the most popular and widely used ranges here. It is also one of the post's oldest ranges, having been built during the late 1920's. Since the spring of 1952, a constant use during the year by Infantry School students it had been impossible to replace the old target frames until the Christmas vacation began. Colonel Hammond said.

Work began on the 70-target frames last Dec. 19 with civilian and military personnel working throughout the Christmas vacation to build new concrete foundations, remodel target pits, and install the new target machinery, racks and frames.

The new targets, larger and more easily operated than the old targets, are now ready for use by Infantry School students.

Command Inspection Due For Jan. 13-15
The annual Third Army command inspection will be held at Fort Benning Jan. 13-15. Col. William R. Hill, Third Army G-3, heads the 32-man inspection team, which includes 41 officers, seven civilians, and four non-commissioned officers. All team members are representatives of the Third Army G-1, G-2, G-3, G-4, and Technical, Administrative or Special Staff Sections.

"Know Your Library" Contest On
Under an Army-wide contest that, by the American Library Association, promised to go far in furthering acquainting personnel with the many services being offered by military libraries over the nation, Fort Benning will submit an entry showing operations at its six libraries, according to The Infantry Center Special Services Section. The contest is sponsored by The Adjutant General.

Miss Barbara Bronson, Fort Benning librarian, is planning an extensive publicity campaign that will include news articles, posters, and displays, hand bulletins, and radio shows. Portions of this material will be gathered together in prescribed "scrap book" form and then forwarded to Third Army Headquarters for judging. The winner in Third Army will be sent to The Adjutant General's office for final judging.

A prize of $500 goes to the first place winner with $300 for second place and $100 for third place. The awards will be used to purchase reading materials for the libraries concerned.

The Adjutant General plans to submit the three top entries in the 1953 John Cotton Dana Publicity Awards contest, sponsored jointly by the 27th and 30th Army Centers.

First Lt. Houston M. McClurkey has succeeded First Lt. George A. Millener Jr., as commander of 20th Company, Lt. McClurkey, a graduate of the United States Military Academy, West Point in 1948, saw action in Korea. He holds the Combat Infantry Badge and the Purple Heart.

Men In Field Taken Books Via 'Copter

A flying library in the form of an Army helicopter has been added to enhance one of functions of The Infantry Center library service.

The helicopter is being used to visit units taking field and bivouac training at The Infantry Center, Fort Benning, Maine, who pilots the "flying egg-buster," is able to land at almost all of the field training areas.

The Fort Benning library has maintained a policy of distributing reading material to units in the field. However, the new form of transportation has made these visits much easier.

Since training areas on the vast reservation are located some distance apart the use of the helicopter enables the library to visit several units in a short period of time.

Last week the flying library visited the Third Officer Candidate Company, Miss Barbara Bronson, Infantry Center librarian, and Miss Frances Bremer of Sand Hill Library No. 5 were on hand to distribute books and magazines to the men. The two ladies handed out over 200 books and papers to the candidates.

Major Nelson was with the 38th Infantry Regiment, Second Infantry Division, in Korea for 10 months before coming to The Infantry Center.

Fort Inspired Birth of Song

The author of the Army's Always There, which may become the Army's first official song, received inspiration for the words and music when he visited Fort Benning's year ago.

Sam H. Siegel, who was a guest of Lt. Col. Kenneth Brimes, The Infantry Center special services officer, credits Fort Benning officers and enlisted men with the "inspiration provided in writing this song."

His publisher, Sherwin Music, Inc. of New York, has sent Fort Benning several advance copies of "The Army's Always There," which will be heard publicly for the first time at President-elect Eisenhower's inauguration, Jan. 20.

The song was chosen from more than 700 entries submitted to the Army in its search for a representative anthem. It will be given a three-month trial to see how soldiers and the public react. Its author has produced such hits as "Don't Sit Under The Apple Tree and Please Don't Talk About Me When I'm Gone."

Our job is to put your Long Distance calls through, and we want to give you the best possible service. Here's how you can help yourself to faster service.

- If you can give the operator the out-of-town telephone number, she won't have to consult "Information" in the city you're calling and your call will go through faster.
- Since you may be hard to locate, it is generally better for you to call the folks back home, instead of their calling you. Charges can be reversed.

To help you get faster service, you'll find out-of-town directories for the larger cities at each telephone center.

Makeup Class Starts Jan. 20

Mr. Joe B. Lamb, makeup chairman for the Little Theatre, will conduct a series of theatrical makeup classes beginning Tuesday, Jan. 20 at 8 p.m., backstage at the Main Post Theatre.

Fort Benning personnel with previous makeup experience are especially invited to attend these classes and become active in the Little Theatre according to Mrs. Lamb. The new play, "Arsenic and Old Lace," now in rehearsal, is scheduled for February 12-13 at the Main Post Theatre. Lamb is stressed the fact that her makeup committee has not yet been selected, and volunteers are needed to work with her on this production.

A graduate of the Louisville (Ky.) College of Beauty Culture, Mrs. Lamb also attended an advanced hairstyling school in New York, and studied makeup techniques under Ivan of Hollywood in Louisville.

Planned as a series of three classes, Mrs. Lamb stated that the makeup lessons will be extended if interest in them warrants their continuation.

Further information concerning these classes may be obtained by calling Mrs. Lamb at 389-7616.

Logistics Group Show Combat Zone Problems

How are tanks and trucks repaired under combat conditions? How are wounded men evacuated and their wounds treated during a battle? How are enough rations to make a million stew for 1,000 men sent to a combat zone?

The Army supplies realistic answers to these and similar questions during a six-hour demonstration by the Logistics Group of The Infantry School's Staff Department.

This demonstration is presented for officers in the Infantry School's advanced classes as part of their instruction in the proper methods of supply, maintenance and evacuation. A condensed version of the logistics demonstration also is given to other classes.

The Infantry School. The demonstration, staged under simulated combat conditions, employs the Army's most advanced educational methods and utilizes actual combat equipment and supplies. Short skits also are presented by troops of the Combat Training Command - Infantry School demonstration troops - to help point across important points.

The skits, which take place in regimental and battalion "combat areas," are informal and describe such points as how to get gasoline rations, what to do with prisoners of war, how to make sure that frontline soldiers get hot meals, and other points often overlooked in regular classroom lectures.

One of the major demonstrations is the tracing of a casualty from the point where he is wounded to the battalion aid station through the regimental collecting station.

Sgt. Celebrates Holiday By Starting USAFI Study

A 36-year-old sergeant who quit high school in his second year celebrated his Christmas leave by starting two USAFI courses while he says, are the first step toward his goal of two years of college.

Sgt. Goff L. Coleman of Fort Benning, Ga., is attending three classes in Japanese phraseology, the first of which is in Japanese phraseology. He has a good command of the language and is a native speaker. He is also attending a class in the study of the handicaps to learning.

His first courses from USAFI are "Review of Arithmetic and Handbook of Writing and Speaking."

Quit High School

Sergeant Coleman quit high school in 1924 to work on his father's farm. "The depression hit our family," he says, and I had to help the family out.

"Many times I have regretted not having gone further in school, and at times I have felt handicapped," states Chief of Transfer Section of First OC Regiment, "I feel the USAFI courses will help me along in my advancement in the Army and in doing my work more efficiently."

"I plan on going through with USAFI courses until I have been accredited with two years of college," he declares. "I should do it in a couple of weeks."

USAFI offers courses from the grade school to second years college levels. A student will be accredited by the Army with two years of college upon passing the 20X test which he takes when he has completed a minimum of 24 semester hours of credit.

Sgt. Coleman's Army man, first enlisted in 1938 but was discharged in 1939 when he was married to the former Ruth Keith of Newburn, Tenn. He re-enlisted in 1941 and was sent to the Philippines when Correller fell May 8, 1943. When liberated Nov. 1946 he had lost some 50 pounds, emerging from "humiliation and beatings" a skeleton of 70 pounds.

Recovered, the carter soldier served at several Army posts, including a year four tour of recruiting duty in the Oklahoma Territory.

Blood Center Gets 164 Pints

The Blood Donor Center reported 164 pints of blood collected during its first full week of operation in 1953.

Seventy-three pints were retained here for use at "Red U. S. Army Hospital, and the remainder was shipped to the U. S. Blood Processing Plant at West Point, Pa., for use as plasma.

First Student Brigade led last week's donors with 56 pints. Other Infantry Center units contributing included the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, 54 pint; Unit Service Unit Provisional Group, 29 pints; Lawson Air Force Base, five pints; Army Field Force, one pint; 3rd Infantry School Detachment, one pint; Combat Training Command, two pints; Provisional Medical Group, one pint, and civilians, 13 pints.

Miss. Reservists To Hear Korea Vets

Two Korean War combat veterans and one instructor will teach Army Reservists in Mississippi the latest lessons derived from the war in Korea during January.

Capt. Fred H. Slavson of Fort Belvoir, Va., and Lt. William J. O. Barnard of Guthrie, Okla., will report on changes in Infantry tactics resulting from the war in Korea and the principles of Infantry warfare and discuss fortified positions used by Infantry units in Korea.

The two officers will talk to Army reservists in Meridian, Harrisonburg, Gulfport, Jackson, Vicksburg, Greenwood, Oxford, and Starkville, Miss., between Jan. 22-23. They will be in Meridian Jan. 23, Hattiesburg Jan. 24, Gulfport Jan. 25, Jackson Jan. 26, Vicksburg Jan. 27, Greenwood Jan. 28, and Starkville Jan. 29.

Captain Lawson and Lieutenant Barnard will speak at meetings of Army National Guard and ROTC units.

Miss. means Not New

Use of mobile instructional teams to inform personnel of the Army's civilian components of the latest developments in Infantry technology is not new, but the scope of the instructions has increased greatly since the outbreak of the Korean War.

The instructors will for the most part refer to their personal experiences to provide a clearer picture of the North Korean and Chinese Communist armies, the tactics and doctrine involved in Asiatic fighting and the expanding use of guerrilla warfare.

A discussion period will follow each lecture and conference.

The two Fort Benning officers making the trip are widely experienced combat veterans during World War II and Korea. Captain Slavson served in the Aleutian Islands during World War II and participated in the famous Attu landing.

He entered the Korean conflict in the autumn of 1951 as an intelligence officer and was in Korea until September, 1952. Captain Slavson was awarded the Bronze Star Medal for service in Korea and won the Combat Infantryman Badge during World War II.

Amor Firm In Korea

Lieutenant Barnard was a Navy aviation ordnance sergeant second class during World War II. He entered Korea in September, 1950, as platoon leader and ammunition platoon leader in the 31st Infantry Regiment.

During the breakout from the Pusan perimeter Lieutenant Barnard participated in the famed Inchon landing. He has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal with two bars for action in Korea and received the Chosen Resistant in December, 1951. He was rotated to the U. S. in May, 1951.

Post Service Clubs Plan Talent Shows

Plans are being made for a series of "short variety" talent shows at the Service Clubs.

Each club will present its show on the other post Service Clubs. An award will be presented by the Infantry Center Special Services Section to the club producing the most outstanding show.

After all the shows have been presented, the best acts from each will be formed into a package show to be presented at the post headquarters, according to present plans.

All musicians, singers, and individual entertainers of any kind are urged to contact the service club director in their area for participation in these shows.

Mr. Hulbert Leaves

Louis W. Hulbert of Third Army's G4 Section left Fort Benning Thursday following a four-day inspection of maintenance facilities and equipment.

Mr. Hulbert visited all post technical services and assisted in the development of maintenance programs.

Safety Drive Set For Kids

The boys and girls of Fort Benning are safety conscious too. They are ready and willing to do their part, the Fort Benning Children's School Student Council has voted to hold a safety poster contest.

Purpose of the contest is to stress safety practices in all phases of community life.

Children in each class in the school system will judge the three best posters submitted by their class, and class winners will be submitted to the Student Council for final judging. Prizes will be awarded the winners.

Basketball Opens On Post House Of David Beats 508th

The 1953 Fort Benning Basketball League officially opened Monday night at Briant Wells Field House with the First Officer Candidate Regiment and First Student Regiment emerging victorious.

CROWD OF 2,300 SEES HOUSE OF DAVID AND 508TH AIRBORNE HOOP OPENING THE BEARDED BOYS CLOWNEW WHILE RED DEVILS SHOWED POST BASKETBALL COACHES AND FANS WHAT TO EXPECT DURING REGULAR LEAGUE ACTION.

The crowd of 2,300 at the basketball world's House of David, post night at Briant Wells Field House and best night at Briant Wells Field House before a crowd of 2,300 paying fans, unofficially opened the 1953 Fort Benning Basketball season.

With their sawed-off forward, Bobby Roth, called the plays, the Bearded Boys clowned around, but the 508th quieted down the crowd and all the rival Benning coaches just what to expect when they get into the airborne.

High scorer for the David, Mich. professional was "Darius" McDaniels with 18 points. He was followed by Moose Gordon, with 12, and Norman Cox, with 12. The House of David led at halftime, 30-23.

Shoot Club Celebrates 2nd Year

The Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club is one organization that encourages its members to wear sidearms to its activities.

The club members are now engaged in extensive preparations for the second anniversary celebration and election day festivities that will take place on Sunday, Jan. 25, beginning with the election of the 1952 officers and ending with an NRA approved pistol match.

Just two years ago, the club was organized as an affiliated member of the National Rifle Association with 51 enthusiastic members. Since then, the enrollment has expanded by leaps and bounds to approximately 300 shooters.

However, due to the military necessity, a great percentage of the men who fired the pistol and rifle ranges a few months ago for pleasure, are now firing at less stationary targets in Korea today.

Largest Club

The Fort Benning club is one of the largest pistol and rifle clubs in the United States. The purpose of the club, stated in the simplest terms, is to provide facilities for the shooter, guidance and assistance for the novice, in all activities. It is desired to foster the principles of good shooting, sportsmanship, and the intelligent and safe handling of firearms.

During 1952, there were many rifle and pistol events sponsored and conducted by the Fort Benning club and some of these included the Southeastern Regional Small-Bore Rifle Meet, the Southeastern Regional High-Power Rifle, Registered Small-Bore Rifle Match, the Winter Pistol Shoot, and the Holiday Pistol Match.

The Fort Benning Club pistol team competed in seven matches during last year and won or placed in five of them. The team journeyed to the National Matches at Jacksonville, Fla., the National Winter Pistol Matches at Tampa, Fla., the Tournament of Five Fingers at Panama City, Fla., the Tournament of Darts at Ft. Benning, Ga., and the Seven Hills Autumn Hand Gun Championships in Atlanta, Ga. Two of these matches with 51 enthusiastic members. Since then, the enrollment has expanded by leaps and bounds to approximately 300 shooters.

Facilities improved greatly during last year and plans have been made and approved for extending the firing line and increasing the number of firing positions from 39 to 50 positions during 1953.

The finest shooters throughout the U. S. Army were assembled here at Fort Benning for preliminary training and a tour of the club, stated in the simplest terms, is to provide facilities for the shooter, guidance and assistance for the novice, in all activities. It is desired to foster the principles of good shooting, sportsmanship, and the intelligent and safe handling of firearms.

Two of the club members who

brought additional distinction and honors to the Fort Benning shooting club and who won position on the Army pistol team were Capt. Fred Keifer and WOJG Robert E. Knight. These shooters were members of the team which set a new world's record for the 22 caliber pistol events at Jacksonville, Fla., last summer. The previous record holder was the United States Treasury Department team which set the mark 12 years ago.

Col. Perry D. Swindler, founder and organizer of the Rifle and Pistol Club, was the coach of the 50-foot range with 20 firing positions was set up for the kids.

Election Day Party Set For Shooting Club

The Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club will hold its annual election of officers on Sunday, Jan. 25 prior to the free barbecue lunch that Major O. K. Horn of the Food Service School is preparing for the second anniversary celebration.

Lt. Col. Alex F. MacDonald, club president, announced a full program will be presented from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m. According to Lt. Col. Frank Barnett, executive vice-president and program chairman for Election Day, events are tentatively scheduled as follows:

Monthly Shoot

One of the regular events of the Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club's activities is the monthly pistol shoot which offers inter-club competition and excellent practice sessions for the registered members where many a seasoned shooter has been known to "blow sky high" because of pressure felt at a big match.

The winner of each monthly match applies to be the recipient of the President's Bowl, a beautiful silver bowl, which was presented to the club by a former president, Col. Swindler. It is awarded to the club member who won the most monthly matches over a period of a year. Each winner has his name and month engraved on the bowl.

The winner of the President's Bowl for 1952 was WOJG Robert E. Knight, a member of the "FIS" Weapons Department. The bowl will be officially presented to him on the club election day.

One of the new projects at the club is its acquiring youngsters with real weapons instead of toy guns. The youngsters are members of the newly formed Junior NRA group and are sponsored by the "Dad's" Club.

HONORED . . . Col. Perry D. Swindler, dean of American Pistol Shooters, is awarded a Certificate of Achievement from the Army Field Force for "exemplary services in capturing the 1952 Army Pistol Team to national victory and for conducting the 1952 National Rifle Association Championships in a superior manner." Presentation of the Certificate was made to Col. Swindler by Major Gen. Robert N. Young in front of the Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club.

TOP PISTOL SHOOTERS CONFER AFTER FIRING. Capt. Fred Keifer, Lt. and WOJG Robert E. Knight Check Target After Firing 22 And C. F. Matches

Chief instructor. A 50-foot range with 20 firing positions was set up for the kids.

This young group is made up of boys and girls divided into two age groups (up to 14 years from 14 to 18 years). Each one is a 22 caliber enthusiast. They are eligible to shoot for medals which are part of the Junior NRA program.

The aims of the Junior Club are the same as for the Senior: marksmanship, sportsmanship, and safe handling of weapons. As soon as a Fort Benning Junior team is organized and trained, it will march with other Junior Clubs throughout the country.

The annual election of new club officers for 1953 will be held at (See RIFLE, Page 16)

Keifer Wins Rifle-Pistol Club Match

Capt. Fred Keifer, the Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club's perennial winner, added another victory to his record last week when he beat out WOJG Robert E. Knight and Major Ellis Lee to win the 22 caliber and center fire aggregate with a score of 556.

The club house on Sunday, Jan. 22, beginning at 10 a. m. Lt. Col. Albeck Macdonald, club president, presides a full day with the election of officers and business meeting in the morning and a free day of new course barbecue lunch, installation of new officers, and a pistol and rifle classification shoot in the afternoon.

Excellent Lunch
The barbecue lunch is to be prepared by the outstanding students at the Food Service School under the direction of Major O. K. Horn. After the lunch, there will be a pistol and small-bore rifle classification shoot in the afternoon. Any member not having a NRA classification may take advantage of the course and attaining a marksmanship, sharpshooter, expert or master rating. Major Ellis Lee, who will coach the 1st Army Pistol team, will conduct the match.

Although there will be no campaign speeches or platform promises at the election, Jan. 25 will be a "bullet-vote" day. The Fort Benning shooters for all the Fortifications in America were held here last year at Benning. They were the NRA Rifle Championships and a NRA Registered Pistol Tournament.

SHOOT IT OUT

Some of the most outstanding rifle and pistol shooting competitions in America were held here last year at Benning. They were the NRA Rifle Championships and a NRA Registered Pistol Tournament.

against the Navy on Dec. 18 and scored a knockout over his opponent. James, who has a one and one record, also fought on that Navy record day. His other opponents were Alvin Siler, both of whom were defeated. James lost by the first round in his last fight, a first classification show, who is no longer here on post.

Excellent class two competitors
The Blair divisions met once again. Both boxers have met once in the direction of the first round. The first round was a close fight, with Blair coming out best.

Blair, who never seems to stop blowing in the ring, would be a better fighter if he were to show boxing instead of trying to show off. Blair's opponent, who was a three-bout fighter during the 1952-53 battles, he will coach the second round TKO over David Carter, and the other a decision over William Russell. His sole loss is to Bivins.

Blair has been action twice before and emerged victorious each time. He was beaten by TKO David Carter and won the post over Blair. A. WELTER

McCoey Scores Decision Over Jewel At Arena

By TOM ROSENSTONE
McCoey's victory over Jewel staged a comeback battle to win a decision over middleweight Jimmy Jewel in Birmingham in the ten-round main event of promoter Fred Ward's five bout card at the Columbus Arena Monday night. Jewel, a mechanic with Hayes Aircraft, kept the Macon brawler on his toes with stiff left jab and the first three rounds. The continuous jab to the face and hand threatened to open some of the many scars over McCoey's eyes. Bouncing back in the fourth stanza, the Macon kid staged a vicious body attack. Connecting with a hard left to the jaw, followed by a right to the body, McCoey floored his heavier opponent for an eight count in the fifth round. McCoey continued to force the fight during the remaining rounds, however, losing three rounds because of blows.

Judge Art Wolf gave the fight to McCoey, 52-48, while Judge Stafford Stokes had it 51-49. Referee Kirk Liddell said it 52-50. McCoey weighed 154; Jewel, 152.

Iron Man Hoyt Nunnally
of Atlanta, tried the unusual feat of winning two fights in one night. He scored a third round knockout over Arthur Duce and a unanimous decision, a four-round decision to Henry Jackson's opponent, Billy Frank. Nunnally followed his 41-second knockout of the third, volunteered to make a comeback. This made it just to big a night for Nunnally who has just secured his sixth victory at the Arena. Jackson hurt him several times and took a unanimous decision. Joe Ramsey, Atlanta, KO'd Buck Madison of Spartanburg, S. C., in Madison's fourth round. In another fourth round preliminary, Red David, 167, Spartanburg, S. C., earned a draw with Jim Coulton, 165, Atlanta.

Lawson Cagers Take Over Top In Little League

Lawson Air Force Base defeated the 508th Airborne, 30-15, in the Fort Benning Dads' Club sponsored Little League Basketball Monday night to take over undisputed possession of first place.

The second game of the twin bill saw the 15D five all over runner-up place in the top standings with a close 38-38 win over CTC.

Lawson is the only team in the circuit sporting an undefeated record with a 14-0 win over 2nd SR on Jan. 5, a 26-3 victory over 15D last Sunday, in addition to this week's tally.

124th Company Is Loaded With College Players

Former college athletes are plentiful in the 124th Company, Second Student Regiment, which completed its training this week. The student officers have won their varsity letters in a variety of sports ranging from tennis to basketball.

Gene Gilkey did his hoop playing for California, while Paul Larson tossed them in for Mississippi. Trackmen in the outfit are Chaplain Clinger, Texas A. & M., and Penn State. George Anderson, Niagaras, and Walter Darling, a footballer from Niagaras.

Company of the Airborne Battalion boasts two intercollegiate champions now taking jump training.

Lt. George C. Layman, from Tulsa, Okla., attended Oklahoma A & M where he was NCAA wrestling champion for 1951-52 in the 137 pound class.

Lt. Duwayne E. Dietz copped the Illinois State Championship in the 100 yard dash and the low hurdles in 1948. He went from high school the Iowa and in 1952 was the "big ten" indoor low hurdles champ.

High Lifers Win 8th Victory, 84-54, Over Bibb Mills

The High Lifers of Headquarters & Headquarters Company, Combat Training Command, added another victory to their record last week by defeating the Bibb Mills basketball five, 84-54, at Comer Auditorium.

The High Lifers, with an eight and one record, will play any team in the Fort Benning area. On Jan. 10 they meet the Columbus Opticists at North Columbus Gym. On Jan. 17 they meet Columbus Mills.

MORE WEIGHT CLASSES
Harvey L. Miller, secretary of the National Boxing Association believes that the boxing game should add three more divisions at 135, 145 and 160 pounds, forming junior lightweight, welterweight and heavyweight classes.

Col. Carrigan Wins The Legion Of Merit

Col. John A. Carrigan of Blair, Neb., Infantry Center Acting Staff Judge Advocate, received the Legion of Merit Wednesday for outstanding service in Korea. Major Gen. Robert H. Young, Infantry Center commander, made the presentation for Col. Carrigan "exceptionally meritorious standing in the performance of outstanding duties as staff judge advocate, Judge Advocate Section 1 Corps, in Korea, from July 22, 1951, to Aug. 6, 1952. The citation commended Col. # Gen. Bolling Eats In 'Blue Ribbon' Mess

Lt. Gen. A. R. Bolling, Commanding General, Third Army, during his visit to Combat Training Command here, had lunch in the messhall of Company H, 34th Regimental Combat Team, as the guest of Captain Walter P. Meyer, company commander. Company H was selected as the best mess in the 30th RCT through a process of elimination. Lt. George B. Coskey, food service supervisor for the CTC selected one company from each battalion as the best battalion mess. Col. Frank L. Eider, 30th RCT Commander, Lt. Col. Paul H. Mize, assistant operations officer, and Lawrence M. Corcoran, S-3, made a surprise inspection of each of the best messes and selected Company H messhall as outstanding in the 30th Infantry Regiment. After lunch General Bolling inspected the dayroom of Company H and expressed pleasure at the high level of entertainment and food. General Bolling, accompanied by Colonel Frank L. Eider, made an inspection of Battery B, 18th Field Artillery Battalion. The General inspected the orderly room, supply room, mess hall, barracks, day room, and motor pool, and said he was pleased with the condition of the Battalion. General Bolling's itinerary also included visits to Company K, 20th Airborne Infantry Regiment, and the 54th Signal Construction Company. Following a briefing by Col. William H. Hill, chief of Third Army's command inspection team, Gen. Bolling continued with them messhall. He then made an inspection report to Infantry Center personnel in the main theater. The officers are Capt. Walter G. Allen of the tactical department and Lt. Frank A. Allen II of Company M, Airborne Rangers. Major Gen. Walter Henry Gordon is the commanding officer of the 30th Infantry Regiment. The book includes pictures, diagrams, sketches and the history of the Japanese flower arrangement. The book is available at the Fort Benning Gift Shop.

Long Wait Is Over As 3rd Army Acts

The long wait ended today for many Fort Benning enlisted men when Third Army Headquarters awarded The Infantry Center 1,798 enlisted promotions. Notification of the rank boost was received by the Adjutant General's office in two announcements. The first authorized 1,600 promotions for The Infantry Center and the second authorized 190 for the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team. These 1,798 stripes far overshadowed any previous rank boost given The Infantry Center since the Department of the Army placed promotions on a quota system in March 1952. The previous high was in late November when 100 promotions were authorized. 760 Promotions To Pfc. The bulk of the present promotions, excluding those designated for the 508th, were to the grade of private first class, where 190 were authorized. The number allotted in other grades were: master sergeant (27) eight, sergeant first class (20) 40, sergeant (25) 29, corporal (24) 57. The number given to the 508th are as follows: four master sergeant, one sergeant, one sergeant first class, one sergeant (25) 29, corporal (24) 57. Plans also are being made to stage a special program with donations going to the March of Dimes drive.

March Of Dimes Collects $250

Some $250 has been reported collected in the 1953 March of Dimes campaign at Fort Benning. Col. Paul Seiff, March of Dimes chairman, said this money came from the Infantry Center Separation Center, only Fort Benning activity to submit a report to date. "We will not know definitely how the bulk of the drive is doing for a few days, since reports from unit post officers have not been made as yet," Col. Seiff explained. Plans also are being made to stage a special program with donations going to the March of Dimes drive.

Prizes Offered For Army Motto

A contest to help select a motto for the Third Army will be held at Fort Benning. All other installations in the Third Army area will participate. The contest is open to military personnel and civilians employed at installations in the Third Army area. The top three Fort Benning entries will be forwarded to Third Army Headquarters for final selection. Prizes for final judging between March 15 and April 15. Cash awards of $25, $25 and $15 will be given the first, second, and third place winners. The contest is open to all installations in the Third Army area. The top three Fort Benning entries will be forwarded to Third Army Headquarters for final selection. Prizes for final judging between March 15 and April 15. ### Speed Is Watchword At QM Clothes Shop

Time and labor saving machinery that performs complex jobs at a tremendous rate of speed are common items at the Quartermaster Clothing and Equipment Repair Shops here.

Often in the course of their daily operations, Quartermaster personnel run into some slightly unusual jobs. For instance, recently a supply officer had 1,000 one-piece-type cotton caps — but with no label on them. He had never attempted to sew piping on just one overpress cap can sympathize with the officer.

He was astonished when Quartermaster personnel told him to come back at 4 p.m. to get the caps. In a normal day, 1,000 to 1,200 caps can be finished.

A fast seamstress can sew up approximately six buttons on a uniform in 35 to 45 minutes. The Quartermaster Clothing Shop can better this time a little. Sewing 32 stitches to the button, it takes just one minute to sew on six buttons.

One of the most fantastic machines used in the Quartermaster shops is a pillow renovating gadget that looks like a Rubie Goldberg contraption. A soldier pillow is opened at one end and the feathers are removed.

For the guy who's just popped a button off his chest or split the seams in his new pair of OD trousers, QM has private dressing rooms where he can wait while his damage is repaired.

This Quartermaster Clothing Shop lives up to the QM boast, "If we wear it, Quartermaster can repair it."

Picks And Shovels Fly At Rangers' New Camp

BY LT. JIM MAILLER

Picks and shovels are flying in the golden hills of Doolough, home of the Ranger Department's Mountain Training Camp, but the "new dirt" is not the gold ore in the nearby hills and streams. It is the new home being built for the mountaineers.

The diggers' tools belong to 1st platoon, 588th Airborne Engineer Company of the 588th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, which is renovating a new site to replace the present temporary quarters of the Mountain Training Camp.

The new location is at Camp Washaga, 15 miles from the old site and about 18 miles northwest of Doolough, deep in the back hills of north Georgia. Camp Washaga is the state #1 camp for children and includes about 15 cabins, a lodge-type mess and recreation hall, and administration buildings.

Airborne-Ranger cooperation on the Camp Washaga project is a forecast of things to come. For the platoon, this is an early taste of grassroots engineering.

As explained by the chief of the Mountain Training Camp, Lt. Col. Robert E. Sadler, "This is the first time the men have had to get out and build something, and it's the best experience for them. We are happy with the work they are doing for us."

In charge of the platoon are Capt. Robert E. Smith, Jr. and Keith Pugh. They are winterizing the camp so the Rangers can use it nine months of the year. Cabins are being overhauled and, rigged with superior-coal heating stoves and a 1300-square-foot supply shed is going up, large enough to store all Ranger equipment when 487ers move in during the months of June, July and August.

All engineering equipment, heavy power units, and food must be trucked over eight miles of a winding, dirt road to the back-campsite. Long ago is over.

Eagle Badges Go To 5 Here

Meig, Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., Infantry Center commander, represented Fort Benning at Camp No. 27 at the annual Georgia-Alabama Boy Scout Council Banquet at the Columbus Country Club last Friday evening.

Lt. Col. James I. Moliney, assistant district commissioner of the Georgia-Alabama Council, 1st Lt. Henry McNichols, Fort Benning Quartermaster, and other Infantry Center officers and men active in the Scout program also attended.

Five Fort Benning Scouts were among those who received Eagle Scout Badges. They were Richard Shaw, son of Col. and Mrs. L. B. Shaw, John and Phillip Gibbs, sons of Capt. and Mrs. John Gibbs; William T. Martin, son of 1st Col. and Mrs. L. T. Martin; and Sgt. Clifford Potter, assistant scoutmaster.

AAA Man Teaching Driving Course Here

Harold O. Carlton, leading instructor for the American Automobile Association, is teaching a 40-hour course in driver instruction here under the sponsorship of the Army Transportation Company.

The course includes extensive behind-the-wheel training, physical tests and text book work. Students include officers, enlisted men and civilians, from all over the Third Army area.

Mr. Carlton has had over 35 years experience in the field of driver training and is a member of the American Automobile Association, the National Automobile Club, the Pennsylvania State and Oklahoma A.A.M., Penn State and Columbia University.

Graduates will receive certificates of achievement, and the outstanding officer, enlisted man or civilian will be presented with special letters of commendation.

5 Officers To Empire Operation 'Snowstorm'

Five captains from the 588th Airborne Regimental Combat Team have been selected as umpires for "Operation Snowstorm," a winter training exercise. The officers will observe conditions there and gain additional information of value to their own regiment.

While on duty at "Snowstorm" the officers will have an opportunity to observe conditions there and gain additional information of value to their own regiment.

They are Capt. William P. Brown, 1st Lt. Paul Lee, 1st Lt. Long Sanders, D. Middleton, Jr., and Dick Zator.

The select five will report early in February to the upstate New York camp and remain for approximately 60 days. They were picked for their past experience with airborne troops, large unit ground and familiarity with "winter" weather conditions. The 582d Airborne Division is the maneuver group.

'Best Outfit Seen Lately'

Gen. Bolling Commends Co. K Of 508th During Inspection

"Best company I've seen lately," were the words used by Lt. Gen. Alexander Bolling, Third Army area commander, during his command inspection tour last week of Company K, 588th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

Commanded by Capt. Paul M. Nance, now holder of the front prize of the company in the contest for 1953.

Winning the command inspection was the result of long hours of hard work on the part of both the officers and enlisted men of Company K.

The campaign for "Place No. 1" started when Captain Nance and his junior officers mapped the strategy to be followed.

In the ensuing weeks the men of the company outdid the plans of other companies. Drilling details were ordered the company area side walks. Trees were whitewashed; supply rooms smartly painted and the mess hall redecorated.

In the spirit of cooperation that brings the company officers and enlisted men contributed to better in a buffed manner. When they finished, the individual mess gear and kitware shone with a bright luster.

When the inspection team from Third Army came to the regiment according to policy, one company would be picked for personal inspection by General Bolling the next day.

The team learned the regiment and reported their findings. Rumors from regimental headquarters said that Companies A, K and were the contenders. Then Com-

Registration Drops At University Branch
Registration for the winter quarter at the Fort Benning Branch of the University of Georgia has reached 147. Director Robert C. Houser has reported. This quarter's registration is a drop from that of the prior quarter when 177 were enrolled. Mr. Houser attributed the drop to the decrease in the number of personnel at Fort Benning.

"The Republic of Korea Army officers enrolled in a special course at the Infantry School are included among those studying at the university branch along with 12 civilian dependents and 20 men from Lawson Air Force Base."

A Good Town

There was a time, not too long past, when soldiers at Fort Benning widely described their town by Columbus as a "bad town." Today, however, an entirely different attitude prevails. Since World War II, Columbus has come to be known as a "good town" wherever soldiers gather—and for good reason.

Among those mostly responsible for this about-face are the civic-minded Columbus residents who on numerous occasions have demonstrated their respect for our soldiers at Fort Benning to feel at home in Columbus, and one of the latest movements undertaken by Columbus people to promote better understanding between Fort Benning and Columbus is one that we feel will succeed.

The Columbus Rotary and Kiwanis Clubs have inaugurated a program of inviting certain soldiers from the post to attend their weekly luncheons. The first group of men, 25 soldiers, non-commissioned officers from the Area Service Unit Provisional Group, reported later that they had gained a new insight into the feelings and attitudes of Columbus and the men who mold its thought.

Especially the men who invited them were unanimous in their opinion that they had suc-

For Shame

Service men and women have established an unenviable record for themselves in the field of highway safety. One survey, measuring insurance loss by driver occupations, placed the Services in a very poor light. Sixty-four occupational fields were listed in the survey and the military ranked 51st. Only three occupations were worse.

When one stops to think for a moment, this figure seems fantastic. The quality of Service personnel should not warrant such a rating. In order to enter the Services every man and woman has to meet certain mental, physical and moral standards. Thus it would seem that their driving ability, which is dependent upon qualities measured by these standards, would be a cut or two above that of the general public. But the opposite has proven to be true in almost every type of survey made.

This poor highway safety record has resulted in the million-tonne of the individual soldier, especially the younger ones who have been labeled poor insurance risks by the insurance professions. Many insurance companies have refused to write policies covering the younger Servicemen, while others have forced policies on them only at very high rates.

This problem of traffic accidents is filled with many strange facts. For example, the

News Briefs Army Calls 53,000 For March

The Army today issued a draft call for 53,000 men for March. The call is the same as that for February.

In all 1,368,430 have been drafted or have been called since the resumption of selective service in March, 1950.

The call for March maintained the high rate of induction which started in October 1952 when 47,000 men were inducted. The same number were inducted in November and December. The January quota was 48,000.

Co. H, 30th RCT Is Unique Unit

By CAPT. ALFRED M. LEONARD
Strategic as well as tactical, 45 percent of the men of Company H, 30th RCT have served their entire army careers together. This is unique, so far at least, when one considers the terrific turnover in army careers today.

During this time they were part of Company D, 14th RCT. Their next assignment as a unit was one they all felt proud of, for the battalion they were in was selected to become the 2d Battalion of the 30th RCT at Fort Benning.

Benning Park Kids' School Is Closed

Benning Park School closed Monday, and some 63 kindergarten and first grade students were moved to the Hospital Area and Main Post schools.

Closing of the Benning Park children's school was necessitated because of the large number of Army families transferred to other posts, reducing the number of pupils enrolled in the school system, authorities explained.

Four teachers at the Benning Park school moved with the post.

Armed Forces Mission Names Visiting Speaker

The Rev. Dr. John Samuel Land, pastor of the St. Charles Episcopal Church in New Orleans, will be visiting speaker at the Armed Forces Preaching Missions here Feb. 16 to 20.

The mission is sponsored by the General Commission on Chaplains and the Joint Department of Evangelization of the National Council of Churches. Its theme "will be 'Christ: He Who Answers'.

Dr. Land was ordained to the ministry by the Presbytery of New Orleans in 1917 and has been pastor of the St. Charles Avenue Presbyterian church since that time.

While in Europe in 1949 he attended the Ecumenical Institute sponsored by the World Council of Churches at Chateau de Passy, Switzerland. Dr. Land also made a study of the work of the Church World Service in Germany, since the service and displaced persons camps in and around Munich.

He has been a lecturer at Columbia and Austin Theological Seminars and has been a contributor to several denominational magazines.

3d Btn. Sgt. Maj. Is Berriborn Man. McSgt. Eugene Harris, Jr., a veteran of 59 months overseas service, including 10 months in Korea, has succeeded as sergeant major of the 3d Battalion, 30th Infantry Regiment, Lt. Col. Sterling H. Abernathy, Battalion commander, has announced.

Sergeant Harris returned recently from Korea, where he served with the Third Infantry Division Sergeant McCollough, whom he is replacing, is being reassigned to the Far East Command.

His decorations include the Bronze Star Medal with "V" device and cluster, Combat Infantryman Badge with Star, Good Conduct Medal with three knots, American Defense Ribbon, American Theater Ribbon, Occupation Ribbon, with clasp, Pacific Theater Ribbon, Korean Service Ribbon with three stars and the UN Medal.

3 End Survey Here
A survey of Fort Benning's financial activities has been conducted by M. B. Cochran, R. E. Anderson, and G. E. South of the Third Army's Comptroller Office. The three inspectors payroll, financial activities, and non-appropriated funds. They left the Fort Benning Jan. 15.

Atlanta Miss Is Chosen As 12th OC 'Poster Girl'

By OC NORM MOORE
OC candidates of 12th OC Company have a special and highly appealing reason for going all out in the March of Dimes campaign.

The reason is a lovely young lady whom the candidates have selected to be their "21st-Century" for the drive. She is "Poster Girl" for the drive.

Ten Fort Benning personnel had their licenses revoked and four others were suspended from 30 to 60 days, during the week.

The men who had their licenses revoked are 1st Lt. Paul B. Faulkner of 12th OC Company, Second Student Regiment; 1st Lt. Warren Nagata of Company S, Infantry School Detachment; 2nd Lt. Carl Y. ## Former Russian Count Now OC Danish Officers Plan 3-Day Visit

A former Russian count who entered the United States as a tourist and was permitted to remain in the country through a special Congressional act is currently taking officer candidate training. He is Candidate Edmund K. Lovelick, 29th OC Company.

Candidate Lovelick was born in Lithuania, his parents having moved there from Moscow following the Russian Revolution. His mother is a descendant of Catherine the Great.

His father, Count Karl Lovelick, was chief of exports and imports for the Lithuanian government. He was assassinated and his estate was confiscated in the early days of World War II.

Candidate Lovelick, his mother and sister came to the United States in 1939 and were in New York City, where they now call home, when he was in Europe.

1st SR Has Crack At Boxing Crown

Knowing that the Fort Benning boxing championship will be decided within the next few weeks, the boxing coaches have come up with the first card of the new year for Briant Wells Field House tonight.

The way things look in the post's boxing standings ASU still is on top of the pile with 96 points. First SR second with 75, then 50th Airborne with 66, CTC with 37, ISD with 15 and PMG, nothing.

The ASU Raiders have been riding high since the start of this campaign since George Allen, Randolph Chiles, Claude Champman and others winning consistently. Now, all those class nine boxers have gone on to greener pastures.

This gives Jerry Periman and his First SR crew a chance, at least a certainty, to top the list. If any of you boxing enthusiasts remember last year, you will know why Periman wants the post's crown.

3 Teams Tied For Cage Lead

The 183d Fort Benning Basketball League is in its second week of play at Briant Wells Field House with three teams, the First SR, First OC and Second SR, tied for first place honors.

The First SR, a well-oiled basketball machine which is led by forward John Dull and George Soyars, has taken on the ASU and the PMG Medics thus far and beaten them 101-60 and 86-83 respectively.

The First OC, which is led by Jim Wood, a 6'3" center from Auburn, has beaten CTC 55-50 and ASU, 79-43. The Second SR Rockets, coached by Cliff Michertens of Mississippi, has defeated the Medics and the ISD Professors, 64-47 and 63-54 respectively.

The first night's results: First OC vs 50th and ASU vs PMG will be published in next week's Bayonet.

The Blackshirts, with Dull and Soyars as its top scorers, has shown the cage fans that the First SR wants the title. In the last two contests, the "Gold Band" twins scored 102 points between them. Dull, jumping in 53 with Soyars getting 50.

In Monday night's games, the shooting forwards were red hot for Dull scored with 20 points and Soyars with a mere 25.

First SR Tops In TIC Basketball

The Infantry Center basketball competition has already completed five nights of play at Briant Wells Field House and it seems that the First Student Regiment will win the laurels.

In the action that takes place this week, the Blackshirts met the Medics last Monday night in the first game of a twin bill at the nightclub, ISD and the Second SR Rockets faced.

Last night, the First Officer Candidates Regiment and the 50th Airborne in the open while the Medics and the ASU Raiders were pitted against each other in the nightclub. (The results of this twin bill occurred to late to be published in today's Bayonet.)

Friday evening, CTC is pitted against the Second SR Rockets in the first game with the Blackshirts and ISD Professors matched in the second game of the basketball double header.

On Monday evening, Jan. 26, the Generals meet the Medics in the first game, and the nightclub, the Rockets matched with the 50th Airborne.

Lost in 1951

The Blackshirts, who put up a mighty drive last year only to lose the 1952 title to the Generals, want to put that trophy in their display case. And the way that they are wanted to get it says that they will.

The First SR eagles have beaten on ASU, 101 to 60, and the Provisional Medics, 86-83. Their leading players, George Soyars and John Dull, have been red hot. With Kim Karpinski bringing the ball down court, Soyars, Dull, or center Ronnie Richardson would take the ball and accurately put it into the basket. That is a hard combination to beat.

The Medics, alas are lacking in big men and when it comes time for them to shoot, they are way off.

However, they are a club that is full of spirit and hustle. They work hard for Coach J. R. Freeman.

This Week's Hoop Schedule

Under Coach and Finholster, who dresses and gets into a ball game if he thinks it is necessary, the ISD Prof's are a fast, hustling outfit. Finholster has a forward, Bob Burkes, who is a hot ball player who can shoot with either hand, in his first game last week. Burkes has first game last week.

These two, plus Ronnie Richardson and Fin Karpinski, have been leading the Terry Scott quintet. If they remain like this, in the same leading form, for the remainder of the season, Scott can rest assured of getting the crown.

The OC quintet, which is coached by Ed Gulvis, will be the only club in the eight team league to give the Blackshirts a run for their money. Gulvis has two of his players, Frank Higgins and Vern Coffey, among the top 15 scorers in the Banning circuit.

BC Alumnae

Higgins, an alumnae of Boston College, has dumped in 28 points in two contests while Coffey scored 96 points.

The Second SR, who had to really fight when the Rockets met the ISD Prof's on Monday night, is really a two man team. Namely Roy Steiner, ex-CTC, Louis Biliken, and Bob Clifton.

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

By Lester Dinoff

All of the eight clubs in the 1952 Fort Benning Basketball League have set the fast west in the indoor arena at Briant Wells Field House and like everyone else, I have formed an idea of how the teams will stack up when the season is over.

It seems that at this time of the year, everyone is picking the top basketball five in their neck of the woods. Here is the way I see it.

1. First Student Regiment
2. First Officer Candidate Regiment
3. Combat Training Command
4. 50th Airborne
5. Second Student Regiment
6. Infantry School Detachment
7. Provisional Group Medical
8. ASU Provisional Group

Actually the First SR and the First OC quintets will be battling it out down to the wire. Both clubs have big, fast men, can score, are smooth ball handlers and players. With Terry Scott as coach, the Blackshirts in their first league game racked up 101 points against the ASU Raiders' 50. Fin Karpinski would set up the play, and either George Soyars, John Dull or Ronnie Richardson would dump it in.

The Generals, who got the post title last year with an undefeated record, got off to a slow start against CTC, but when the game ended, the OC's beat the Commanders by six points, 56-50. The Generals, under Coach Ed Gulvis, are a tough club to beat. In spirit, hustle, player height and ability.

But when they meet the Blackshirts, they will know that they have played a ball game and to the victor will go the spoils. In this case the Fort Benning basketball title.

CTC, who I originally ranked as a second division ball club, gave the nod to and up here was the league's best team. They may, or may not, beat out the 50th. The Commanders held a 154 edge over the First OC Generals at the quarter, then a five point lead at the half. But during the third period, they seem to lose the hustle and ball handling that they featured during the first half.

However, the rebounding of Roy Young, the shooting of John Williams and Dick Thompson are certainly helping the club a lot. Coach Jim Gulburie is a shrewd hoop man.

I have listed the 50th and Second SR as fourth and fifth place holders respectively, but after sitting out on the court watching them all in action, the best team in the post is not far off. Because of their ball handling, rebounding ability, team work and ability to keep on driving.

The Second SR Rockets may not even end up on top of the second division because that they are mainly a two man team. Namely, Ray Steiner, ex-CTC, Louis Biliken, and Bob Clifton. In a game populated by skyscraping giants who nearly reach from floor to basket, Steiner looks like a jack-rabbit in a herd of giraffes.

One of his main faults, however, is too much dribbling and not enough basketball. If the Little General doesn't acquire an injury, and if the Blackie coach Cliff Michertens starts playing five men, instead of two, they should finish around fifth.

The nod for sixth place goes to my home outfit, the Infantry School Detachment because of their hustle, rebounding, attitude and spirit. Coach Garland (Fin) Finholster tells me that he was very well pleased with the way the Prof's took the rebounds away from the 50th. In his eyes, the ISD quintet compare to a college five and that they are an ideal service basketball team.

I gave the ISD five as the best team in the post whether or not the ISD quintet is the ideal service club, is a moot question. They still need lots of help in all departments if they want to get surpluse in this arena.

Seventh and eight place feature a battle between the PMG Medics and the ASU Raiders. Both clubs are lacking in height, and fast moving ball players. ASU was getting pretty good during the first period against the Blackshirts, but without Les Kemp's and Willie Moore's shooting, they wouldn't have ended up with 60 points. Kemp's jumping and shooting accounted for 17 points while Moore, until he fouled out, out jumped First SR's Ronnie Richardson time and time again for the remainder of the game.

The Medics are loaded with spirit and hustle, but somebody always moved the basket when the shot field goals or foul shots. Their scoring master, Bill Fallon, so I am told, is getting his discharge. Coach J. R. Freeman will be really busy, if that is so.

The Third Army has announced new dates for its sports tournaments. The boxing meet will be held on a post level on March 21st at Fort Jackson, S. C.; basketball will be held here at Fort Benning on a regimental level on March 25-28; volleyball is a company level tournament which will be held at Camp Stewart, Ga.; track and field on a post level at Fort McCall, Ala.; golf is an individual tournament from July 7-11 at Fort Bragg, N. C.; diving and swimming will be held at Camp Gordon, Ga., from Aug. 5-8; tennis at Redstone Arsenal, Ala., on an individual basis; baseball on a post level at Camp Rucker, Ala., on Aug. 12-23; and softball will be held at Fort McPherson, Ga., on a company level on Sept. 14-19.

The Arkansas Traveler's city basketball team will be at Fort Benning on Feb. 6 for an exhibition game. The First SR Blackshirts are slated to practice with Fort 7-11 boosters. Game time is set for 8 p.m. and an admission price of 75 cents is asked.

ASU Has Big Sports Play

By PRESTON HARRIS
I hadn't expected to see the boys so soon after the holidays when I walked into the A & R Office at ASU Provisional Group Headquarters. My mind was still on the New Year's Eve celebration that I had had.

After the usual greetings and handshakes, we sat down and swapped yarns about holiday fun and then one thing or another, finally sports, and back to girls.

ASU made a fine showing at Fort Benning in athletics during 1952. Some mighty fine boys have come and gone, but their splendid records will stay in the files at Headquarters for a long time. Don Star team, Billy Hahn, center fielder and ASB from the west go.

Henry Coleman, Paul Desch, Carroll Mattson, and many more. Name the sport and ASU would sign up for it. Baseball, basketball, football, swimming, tennis, badminton, golf, tennis, ping-pong, horseback riding, what ever Special Services can think of for athletic competition we were in there pitched.

Take baseball for instance—ASU played 10 games and won seven of them with a grand team. They played good ball like real sportsmen. Guys like Major Mettes, who is now in the All-Foot team.

Don Harper, who has a contract with the Cleveland Indians and Star team last year. Bobby Dew, Fred Schum, Jack Faulstich, Leslie Kemp, Bobby Dew, and all who are now discharged.

Coach Dew, who himself is a former baseball player, praised his boy for his hustling spirit. "Hahn is one of the finest athletes in every branch of the service. He has been a great pleasure to have as an associate with him."

Joe Smith, pitcher for First Student Regiment's diamond nine force, said he is the hardest man in the league to get out with a ball player that he didn't see for a long time before anyone else.

Another fine ball player is Carroll Mattson, pitcher for the Raiders and did receive the All-Foot team award at the present because of his New York class.

Baseball was a success here at Fort Benning. The credit goes to the boys and others like Tipton, Laney, House, Coleman, Green, Green, there is Settle and Walker who have been transferred. Great ball players, all of them.

BOXING

Boxing is another sport that ASU and O&A Commanding Officer, in proud of Boys and Leaders. George Allen and Rudolph "Shoulders" Chiles, all champs in their weights, and all Class One boxers. They too have done much.

Remember Ray's peculiar stand-up stance? Or Allen's snake-like counter punchers and complete mastery of the ring? Most everyone will remember Chiles and his superb build.

Who can forget the night that he wore a fight won and then his opponent got up from the floor and hit him. Chiles went down like a wet rag. The ref was astounded and hardly knew what had happened, as he just previously stopped the fight in the middle of the round to let the medic take a look at "Shoulders," opponent. To this day, he does not know how Chiles was tagged. "I doubt if Rudolph remembers either."

General's Plane Rushes Child To TIC Hospital

The premature baby who was rushed to the U. S. Army Hospital here in the plane of Lt. Gen. Alexander R. Bolling was "holding its own Tuesday after having spent a good night," hospital officials reported.

Col. Mack Green, Infantry Center surgeon, said that the baby boy "looked good" and that he is being kept in an incubator and an oxygen tent.

The child is Michael Messengale, who was born at Fort McPherson, Ga., Jan. 25. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Messengale.

The baby was brought to the hospital by plane for emergency treatment because the type of surgical treatment needed was not available at Fort McPherson.

Sunday night the child underwent a major abdominal operation. Doctors said he is suffering from a rare intestinal condition. The baby's weight, which was four pounds, four ounces at birth, had dropped to three pounds, eight ounces.

12th Forced 'Copter Landing Successful Again For Mahoney

WO1G Herbert E. (Lucky) Mahoney, instructor pilot for the 960th Transportation Company, ASU Provisional Group, last week completed his 11th and 12th successful autorotation — or forced landings — in a helicopter.

Warrant Officer Mahoney was flying with Capt. Lester C. Robertson, commanding officer of the 960th Trans. (Heli) Co., and leading a flight of seven Sikorsky H-19 helicopters on a cross-country flight to Fort Bragg, N. C., when the engine of their helicopter suddenly failed. Captain Robertson and Warrant Officer Mahoney worked together in finding a suitable landing spot and in bringing the helicopter safely down to a safe landing in a small pasture near Milledgeville, Ga. The remaining helicopters landed in a large field, and their mechanics hurried to assist the crew of the disabled ship. No damage was noted, and after obtaining a replacement helicopter from their home base here the fliers proceeded to Fort Bragg.

Captain Robertson and Warrant Officer Mahoney flew in different ships on the return trip from Ft. Bragg, as Mahoney was to instruct a new pilot in the operational procedures of the H-19. As the formation neared Columbus, S. C., the engine in the substitute ship failed again and Mahoney had to select a landing spot in a hurry and land without power.

Again, other ships in the formation landed nearby and gave assistance to the disabled ship, and again the landing had been accomplished without damage. After repairing the engine flight proceeded to Columbia, where the helicopter was inspected, and the

A battle indoctrination course, required of all military personnel prior to overseas assignment, was held here Tuesday. The course is scheduled at the post every three months.

The training program included participation in close-combat and day-and-night infiltration problems.

During the close-combat phase, the participating troops fired at moving targets as they traveled the course, and during the infiltration phase the troops negotiated obstacle courses complete with demolition charges and overhead machine gun fire, live ammunition, and used.

The Combat Training Command conducted both phases of the problem.

Ben's Luck Runs Out

Sgt. Ben O'Neill was a big, strapping Irish lad who stood well over six feet in his stockings. They said he had a bit of that Irish luck too, for he'd been in Korea and fought all over Heartbreak Ridge and come back without a scratch. That was what he was a few times when it looked like the Chinese Communists had his number, but he was one of those extraordinary people who always came back without a scratch. It was a few weeks ago—right here at Fort Benning—his luck ran out.

The whole thing started one night when Ben tried of the local attractions to be found at Fort Benning and the surrounding areas. He and a buddy climbed into his car, a '49 model with dual carburetors and a Hollywood muffler, and headed toward Atlanta.

By nature, Ben wasn't a very cautious person. He was the type to brag that since he had lived through Korea, nothing could hurt him. But that night, he was cautious and kept his speed down for the first few miles. Then another car, doing about 65 per, pulled around him

More May Join

Another facet of off-duty recreation has been made available to more Fort Benning personnel with the announcement that membership in the Central NCO Mess Branch will no longer be restricted to those enlisted men who hold the rank of corporal or higher. In the future all enlisted men, regardless of rank, will be eligible to obtain membership. Branch will be open to all enlisted men, regardless of rank, will be eligible to obtain membership. Branch will be open to all enlisted men, regardless of rank, will be eligible to obtain membership.

Those Who Give

Men who have been wounded in Korea can fully appreciate the significance of the blood donation program. To them the program has been realistically demonstrated. One man who realizes this is Captain Walter P. Meyer, Company Commander, Company H, 24th Regimental Combat Team.

While serving in Korea with the 24th Infantry Division in the early days of the war, Captain Meyer was wounded and received three plumb of blood. This induced "induced" the program to him. When he became physically able to begin the program, he repaying his debt, as he calls it. Recently he gave his eighth pint of blood.

The story is not new, but the lesson and principle it teaches should never be forgotten. We must all remember that in order for this program to be successful, full participation must be attained. Thousands of men daily need blood not only in Korea but in the States as well. Remember, the life saved by your donation "may be your own."

Chaplain's Corner

Help Wanted—A Man

BY CHAPLAIN
(COL.) L. O. SHEFFIELD

The prophet Ezekiel asked: "Why is the Temple profaned? Why are the Holy Vessels desecrated? Why have the priests ceased their sacrifices? Why is the altar and the golden table of the bread of the presence? And why is the golden altar of incense? And why is the golden table of the showbread? And why is the golden altar of incense? And why is the golden table of the showbread?"

And God answered, "... I sought for a man among them that should make up the breach and stand in the gap before me for the land, that I should not destroy it; but I found none." (Ezekiel 22:30)

This seems to me to be one of the saddest passages in the entire Bible. God needed a man—read and understand the text. He needed a man—read and understand the text. He needed a man—read and understand the text.

Army To Get All 53,000

The Defense Department has issued a call for 53,000 soldiers by March. All are slated to go into the Army. The March quota, which will keep the Armed Forces at their authorized strength of 5,600,000.

Film Review

JEOPARDY... Barbara Stanwyck, Barry Sullivan. With her husband played on the sand of a beach by fallen timber and the tide coming in, a wife has four hours to get help and free him. In this predicament, she is confronted by an escaped convict who wants her to drive him to freedom. Mature, Drama.

NEVER WAVE AT WAC... Rosalind Russell, Marie Wilson, Paul Douglas. This is ladies' day in the Army. The hilarious adventures of socialite Rosalind Russell and chorus girl Marie Wilson provide a blend of sophistication and a slapstick that results in a comedy considerably above and beyond the call of routine. Family. Service comedy.

THE SILVER WHIP... Dale Robertson, Rory Calhoun. A young boy learns the difference between lawful responsibility and reckless bravado when he wanders off on his own.

News Briefs

Senate Approves Wilson For Post
Charles E. Wilson has been confirmed as secretary of defense by the Senate by a vote of 77 to 6 Wilson, nominated by President Eisenhower, brought a 60-40 majority from the Senate because he held about $2,500,000 of stock in General Motors, one of the government's biggest war contractors.

However the retired president of GM offered to dispose of his stock and the Senate approved his nomination for the Pentagon post.

The approval of Wilson completed the President's cabinet, but only after a bitter fight waged by Sen. Wm. Morse of Oregon, who lists himself as an independent.

The National Foundation for an Army gun crew with a 75 mm. recoilless rifle has been sent to help combat a fire raging in two gas wells in the Gulf of Mexico. The chief clerk of the firm owning the wells said the crew will try to blast the "tops" off the wells. When they are blasted the flames will go straight up and workmen will be able to place dynamite charges, which will cause great waves to extinguish the blaze.

The French National Assembly has approved that nation's largest post-war military budget. By a vote of 537 to 10 the assembly voted to appropriate 657,000,000 of its armed forces.

The Communists were the only group who voted against the bill.

Answers to Mean Puzzles Easy For Library People

BY PVT. JIM ROSENSTONE
Have you ever wondered how the third game of the 1911 World Series, or where to seat the bridegroom's mother at a bridal dinner? The answers can be obtained easily right here at the Infantry Center.

The Fort Bonning library service, which has five branch libraries plus the Main Post library, solved many such puzzling questions for Fort Bonning personnel during the past year.

Miss Barbara Bronson, of Columbus, Ga., Infantry Center librarian, said there are about 48,000 volumes in the libraries now and that about 64 daily newspapers and 150 magazines are being received regularly.

Each Tuesday night in the Main Post library, record concerts are held. Concerts are given on other nights at the branches. Stocking a collection of about 650 albums, the concerts give a wide variety of musical entertainment.

Attendance at semi-classical music along with the Main Post library running high, with about 200 to 300 attending each week. Mrs. Dale Williams, who originated the concerts, now has Branch 3 serving as a member of the library.

Combat Team at Sand Hill, Branches 4 in Harleton, serving the Second Student Regiment, and Branch 5 at the 3rd Student Regiment. Branch 4 is closed Servicemen, with 203,714 people using the libraries during the past 12 months. However, this does not mean that each one is a new book, many replace worn out copies on hand," the librarian explained.

"Fiction is more popular than non-fiction by a ratio of about two to one," Miss Bronson said. "But psychology, philosophy and poetry are becoming increasingly popular," she said.

One of the other services includes the distributing of reading material to men taking bivouac or field training, and supplying a deposit collection of books with reading units.

At the present time one deposit collection is being used at the Infantry Center. This is furnished by the 78th Engineer Construction Battalion. The library also has a portable reading service which is used to bed patients at the U. S. Army hospital.

Along with the Main Post library, the present system includes: Branch 1 at Harleton, Branch 2 at Sand Hill, serving the 30th Central Postal Directory, Branch 3 serving the 508th Airborne Regiment, Combat Team at Sand Hill, Branches 4 in Harleton, serving the Second Student Regiment, and Branch 5 at the 3rd Student Regiment. Branch 4 is closed Servicemen, with 203,714 people using the libraries during the past 12 months. However, this does not mean that each one is a new book, many replace worn out copies on hand," the librarian explained.

Library Has New Help For Those In Bed

The U. S. Army Hospital Branch Library, a part of the Fort Bonning library system, has a new method of reading for patients who are immobilized.

By using the "Ceiling Book Projector" the patient is able to read while lying flat on his back. This is made possible through the use of a "film book" which is projected on the ceiling above the patient's bed.

Once in operation the patient can operate the projector himself, and it only requires the punch of a button to "turn" the film to the next page. At the present the hospital library has 22 such book film projectors on hand.

Another service for hospital patients is the portable library book cart. The cart is wheeled through the wards four times a week. From the portable library, patients may procure books, newspapers, and the latest issues of many popular magazines. About 6,000 volumes are kept in the hospital library.

Dance To Honor Brig. Gen. Mead

Brig. Gen. Armistead D. Mead, Third Army chief of staff, will be guest of honor at a dinner dance to be given Saturday night by the Infantry Division officers at the Main Officers Mess.

General Mead is a former assistant commander of the 1st Infantry Division, served with that division in Europe during the heavy fighting in 1950 and 1951, before he joined the division in August 1950. General Mead had served in the Staff Department of the Infantry School and as commander of the Tactics Department.

General Mead was appointed assistant commander of the Third Division while it was training at Fort Benning. He was with the division when it joined X Corps in the Wonsan-Hungnam area, later Force "Dog." He covered the withdrawal of the division to Hungnam for evacuation.

After his return from Korea in 1951, General Mead was assigned to the Army General Staff where he served with the office of the controller. He was named assistant division commander of the 20th.

43 Complete Driver Stint

Forty-three Third Army transportation representatives were presented certificates last Friday afternoon at the close of a 40-hour driver instructors' course.

The certificates were presented by Col. George E. Bush, acting assistant commander of the Infantry School.

The course, sponsored by the Army Transportation Corps and conducted as a public service by the American Automobile Association, was designed to teach military personnel how to instruct drivers in conserving and maintaining cars in operating condition, preventing accidents, transportation officials said.

"GOODBYE, GOOD LUCK" Col. George E. Bush, regional commander of the 508th ARCT, bids farewell to Lt. Col. Herbert V. Mansfield (Right) as the latter prepared to transfer to the Far Eastern Command. Colonel Mansfield was executive officer of the 508th.

The course you received here was good. We are sending out the best prepared second lieutenants they are getting in the field today. Have confidence. You have every reason to have it," Gen. Meloy said.

Gen. Meloy urged the graduates to set high standards, to keep them high, and to know sub-standards. He advised them to lay their plans properly and to make them known to those under their command.

"People expect of second lieutenants in officers," he said. "Our efficiency lies in the fact that our word or signature is accepted. The test of integrity is found in battle, where the lives of men are involved, but truth and integrity cannot be acquired on the battlements. It takes years to achieve them," Gen. Meloy said.

Honor graduate was Theodore G. Jones, Jr., of Norfolk, Wash. He has been assigned to the Army Language School at Presidio, Monterey, Calif.

Distinguished graduates were: William P. Callahan, Jr., of Elizabeth, N. J.; Roger M. Jackson of Seattle, Wash.; Ernest E. Mitchell of Brentford, S. C.; and Nelson Taylor of Orange, N. J. O. Sheffield gave the invocation, and Col. George E. Bush, the Infantry School's acting assistant commandant, introduced Gen. Meloy.

Woman's Group Sponsors Benning Literary Contest

A short story and poetry contest, sponsored by the Book and Play Group of the Fort Benning Woman's Club, will get under way Feb. 1.

Post-wide participation is invited, and prizes will be awarded the best entry in each field.

The contest is open to all military personnel and their dependents, whether professional or avocational. Entries must be typed and submitted in one copy only to Mrs. Earl C. Hardy, 211A Madison Ave. S. E., Columbus, prior to March 15.

Entries will be judged on the basis of writing ability, originality, style, theme, and quality of expression.

Judges for the contest will be John Banister of the Bradley Memorial Library, Lanier Way, of the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer, and George Ginzell, of Radio Station WJCL.

Behavior Team Has New Civilian Head

Dr. Richard W. of Washington, D. C., has replaced Dr. Eugene Cogan of Los Angeles, Cal., as head of the Human Resources Research Office's survey team here.

The research team is studying the psychological reasons behind a student's refusal to complete airborne training.

The agency, with main offices in Washington, D. C., is in contact with George Washington University and the Department of the Army to study motivation, morale, and leadership in the team here. The team here is working with the Airborne Department.

Red Cross Aids 15,612 Post Cases

The American Red Cross at Fort Benning gave financial assistance totaling $76,554.34 last year, 340,824.24 more than was donated to the organization's 1952 fund campaign. Field Director John A. Cramer revealed in his annual report. The number of cases serviced during 1952 was 15,612.

These cases included the following: Leave and extension of leave reports, 7,810; Health and welfare reports, 3,159; miscellaneous services, 4,270; government benefits, 745; individuals given financial assistance, 1,816.

At the Post Hospital, the Red Cross staff conducted 1,702 recreational activities for the patients in the wards and in the recreation building. Some 4,755 hours in hospital work were contributed by Gray Ladinas and other volunteers and additional services to individual patients were 2,216.

MISS MERRILL likes to "poison" folk

'Arsenic' Tickets On Sale, Sides to Split Feb. 12-13

Miss Catherine Merrill will appear in the forthcoming Fort Benning Little Theatre production of "Arsenic and Old Lace," scheduled for the nights of Feb. 12-13 at the Main Post Theatre.

Miss Merrill will be seen as Martha Brewster, one of the unrelated sisters in Joseph Kesselring's delightful and hilarious comedy of the two spinsters who "loved" to poison people.

After receiving her degree in Journalism from Kansas State College, Miss Merrill studied at the University of Birmingham in England and under a Fulbright scholarship. Since her return to the States, she has been employed as a staff reporter for the Public Information Office here.

Accomplished Player While at Kansas State, Miss Merrill appeared in "Twelfth Night," "John Loves Mary," "The Misger," "Cyrano de Bergerac," and "Pigmalian," with the Kansas State Players.

Miss Merrill also participated in productions of "Winterest" and a number of Shakespeare plays during her stay in England.

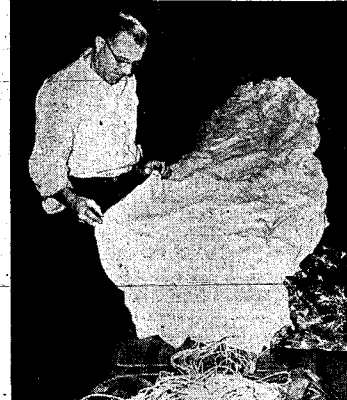

USA Photo by Herb Walters. Private Francis Walters, 500th Tank Company, has been appointed a candidate for admission to the United States Military Academy at West Point. Walters took his qualification exams last July and will attend prep school in April at Stewart Air Force Base, Newburgh, N. Y. Pfc. Walters is a graduate of Parker High School, Dayton, Ohio. The award was presented by Col. Frank L. Elder.

CHUTE WATCHDOG AT WORK ON HIS 'UMBRELLAS' Philip Phoel, Parachute Repair Foreman Here

Commissary Meats Go Modern

How do you like your port chops? Wrapped in cellophane, weighed, and neatly labeled it is the Fort Benning Commissary's idea to place the meat in a plastic container...

Chute Foreman Can't Err; Lives Hang By Stitches

"To err is human," but there is one man at Fort Benning who cannot afford to take Pope's famed position to heart. In his department an error may mean death to a Serviceman.

As parachute repair foreman, Philip Phoel has the grave responsibility of making sure each parachute is 100 per cent perfect when it leaves his section. A less than perfect parachute may result in the loss of a paratrooper's life.

Traffic Violations

The Bayonet which will publish a list of persons whose drivers licenses are revoked, those whose punishment is more severe than revocation, and those unregistered traffic violators who are refused the privilege of registering their automobiles on the post.—The Editor

Seven Fort Benning men had their licenses revoked and an eighth had his suspended for 30 days during the period Jan. 19-26. The offenses in the revocation cases were reckless driving or driving while intoxicated.

The men who had their licenses revoked are Capt. Edmond Pickett of Fourth Company, First Student Regiment; Sgt. Arnold Rodick of Company K, 30th Regimental Combat Team; Sgt. George W. Adams of 434th Air Base Group; Capt. James T. Boyette of Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 30th Regimental Combat Team; Pfc. Thomas J. Chaney of Medical Detachment, Section J; Pfc. Arthur S. Shedd of Army Air Corps, 30th Airborne Battalion, First Student Regiment; and Johnnie Ware (civil).

2 in Music Contest

Fort Benning will host two contestants to the semi-finals of the Third Army music contest, to be held at Fort McClellan, Ala., Feb. 12 and 13.

They are Col. Phillip Karparis, accordionist, and M-Sgt. Joseph H. U. S. Army Hospital.

The winners in the semi-finals will be the Fort McPherson, Ga., Feb. 15 and 16 to take part in the final.

The 14 women registering and inspecting parachutes in Phoel's department each have between 8 and 10 years of experience. They must have three years of training before qualifying for the top rating job here ever since.

A 10-minute film entitled "Position Classification" is available for showing to military and civilian supervisory personnel. It covers employment classification from "jobless" to "manual labor jobs." The Civilian Personnel Division will arrange showings.

4 Thailanders Visit At Post

Four officers of the Royal Thailand Army conferred with Brig. Gen. Guy S. Melew, Jr., Infantry Center commander, following their arrival for a three-day visit to the Infantry School.

Brigadier Lt. Gen. Luang Swandit Kolyudith, Thai Army Inspector General, the senior military official, accompanied the group. Other members include Major Gen. Prappas Charuchitnan, First Division commander; Brig. Gen. M. Prapan Kulapichit, Seventh Division commander; and Lt. Col. M. R. Sungsakul, an instructor at the Royal Thai Army General Staff College.

The Thai officers also visited The Infantry School's Automotive Department and Academic Library and were oriented on the Infantry School.

They toured The Infantry School's Communications Department and visited The First Infantry Officer Candidate Regiment and Training Aids Center.

Library Gives Concert Plans. The Main Post Library has announced the following program for its regular Tuesday evening record concert to be held at 7:30 a.m. Feb. 8.

The program will include Offenbach's Tales of Hoffman with baritone soloist; the Sadler Wells Chorus and Sir Thomas Beecham conducting the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra. This is the original sound track RETURNING FROM MEETING Lt. Col. Ralph N. Hale returned from a week's conference at Fort Belvoir, Va., on tactical bridge building. Col. First OC Regiment Organizes Rifle Team For TIC Meet
 With first place as the goal, the First Officer Candidate Regiment is organizing a rifle team which will begin training for the Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Matches which will be held sometime this spring.
 Coach of the team will be Capt. John W. Kolb, commanding officer, Headquarters & Headquarters Company, who coached first place in the last TIC rifle competition.
 Kolb expects to have a minimum of 10 to 12 men ready for competition. They will take special training every Wednesday and Saturday afternoon. First of the instruction will be actual range firing.

COST CONSCIOUS? . . . Company H, 30th Regimental Combat Team, is keeping cost conscious by means of this device of 2nd Lieut. Robert J. Walkup, unit conversation officer, which changes weekly and quotes nomenclature, use, and cost of the articles displayed. It got the "nod" from Lt. Gen. A. R. Bolling on his recent visit to the post. Corp. Mayo Hall is shown absorbing the lesson.

OC Hoteling, Disc Jockey, Naively Announced Korea

Alton S. Hoteling of Lockhaven, Pa., a disc jockey and radio announcer in civilian days, is currently taking training with the 20th OC Company, First Officer Candidate Regiment.
 Candidate Hoteling was an announcer for Radio Station WJPS in his native Lockhaven. He produced an hour long program of mood music chatter. The candidate says he is announcing his good points, but the unexpected can and does happen now and then.
 Once when the Susquehanna River overflowed its banks, he spent more 30 hours at the microphone aiding rescue teams by directing them to stranded people and relaying messages to families who couldn't be reached by phone. During this period, the station itself was flooded and the crew evacuated to higher ground.
 At recalls one special announcement he made. "But," he admits, "its significance was lost to me at the time." The story was that of the invasion of South Korea, he says, "I didn't attach much personal significance to it and I didn't realize it would mean that I would soon be in the Army."
 After he completes his tour of duty, Candidate Hoteling plans to attend Lockhaven State Teachers College, which he attended two years, and continue his education in radio and television.
Talk Procurement

'Red' Army Officer Invades TI&E Class--Casualties Light
 A "Russian" army officer readily was allowed to aid during an recently invaded a TI&E class of the 10th Infantry NCO Academy at Gailburg, Germany. Before the session was over, he had "shot" one of the students.
 The "officer" was invited to address the students on Russian soldier training. The booted and pistol and shot the student out of his chair. We then finished his talk for the lecture and began to laud the virtues of the Russian soldier. Of course the scene had been planned, and in reality the officer was an American. But the difference was that the American military training had been given them first, and then they were allowed to address the class whenever possible. American soldiers not be likely to forget. Drivers' School Opened By 434th At Lawson AFB
 The first 434th Motor Vehicle Squadron Drivers Training School opened at Lawson Air Force Base last Monday in the squadron's orderly room.
 Twenty-five students, members of the various squadrons in the 434th Troop Carrier Wing, enrolled for the class.
 The one-week course consists of 10 class periods, each period lasting four hours. Thirty-two hours will be devoted to class-room work and eight to behind-the-wheel instructions.
 The class-room periods include lectures and movies on safety driving practices, preventive maintenance, familiarity with vehicles, discussions, and question-answer sessions.
 To complete the course, a student must take a written test, a psycho-physical test, skill test, and the final road test.
 The program is under the direction of Capt. Max Wilkerson, Motor Vehicle Squadron commander, and assisted by Lt. Edwin J. Cole, A-1C Walter Moore, NCOIC in charge of the school, A-1C Frances Mahoney NCOIC in charge of the road test, and A-1C William Garner is assistant director.

2 Norse Generals Observe Training

The Norwegian Army Major Gunnar Hans Reider Holterman and Olaf E. Holset arrived Friday afternoon to observe training at The Infantry School.

The generals conferred with Brig. Gen. Guy S. Miley, Jr., Infantry Center commander and received an orientation on The Infantry School. They saw a demonstration of sniper scope firing at McAndrew Range.

The Norwegians observed several Infantry School training problems and toured the Airborne Department and saw field fortifications and camouflage in the engineering training area.

"Everything" Saved At 87th Co. Party

The 87th Chemical Smoke Generator Company was boosted by a surprise company party given last week by the company's commander, Capt. Franklin A. Tois, and other company officers. They served "Everything" down to pop corn. The 87th is not only used as chemical smoke generator specialists, but used in the field as supporting Infantry troops.

Lillian Kallir Here Monday

Miss Lillian Kallir, concert pianist, will appear at the Main Officers Club Monday at 2:30 p.m. under the auspices of the Women's Club.

Born in Prague, Miss Kallir came to this country at the outbreak of World War II and studied with the late Herman de Grabau and Madame Venezovska, in New York.

She has appeared as soloist with symphony orchestras over the United States, including the New York's Philharmonic Symphony and the Chicago, Oklahoma City, Atlanta, and Jacksonville orchestras.

Her appearance here Monday marks the end of her present concert tour, and she will leave immediately for a recital tour of France and North Africa.

LILLIAN KALLIR

Her programs will include selections from Bach, List, Beethoven, Chopin, Zoltan Kodaly, Bartok and Mendelssohn.

Fort Benning Woman's Club members will be admitted to the concert by wearing their membership tags as identification. Admission for non-members and guests is 75 cents, tax inclusive. Tickets are available at the club prior to Miss Kallir's performance.

Refreshments were reported by the Infantry Center Recruiting Office for the first 21 days of January. Combat Training Command led the major units with 19 recruiting and Area Service Unit Provisional Group followed with 15.

Luncheon will be served at 12:45 at the club, prior to the piano concert. Club members are requested to complete their luncheon reservation and club number to Mrs. Robert C. Rinkor, Fort Benning 2-8207 or Mrs. Thomas G. McCune at Columbus 2-3713 before noon Saturday.

First Boxing Card A Howling Success

508th-First SR Battling For 2nd Place In League; King Establishes Self As Top Light Heavy On Post

The first amateur fight season went off on schedule at Briant Wells Field House last Thursday night. It was a howling success, for the boxers, Spectator Services and the gallery.

This is the time of the season the fight managers are wondering if their teams can catch up with the point loaders and see if they have some sort of a chance to cog the post title.

The First SR had a chance to come close to the ASU Raiders, but two of their fighters lost. The 508th, if they don't watch out, will be battling the Blackshirts for second place. On the BWFF card, they upset their point total to 76, seven points behind the First SR.

ASU on Top

The way the standings are now, ASU is on top with 106 points. First SR second with 84, 508th third with 76. Then CTC with 41, KD with 5, and PWC with a fat zero.

In the featured bout of the eight scheduled fights, Jack King of the First SR's boxing stable secured his second decisive victory. The Commaner of ASU establishing himself as the top light heavyweight on post at the present time.

Robinson, 175, stepped up himself throughout the first round getting the edge in points over his 175-pound opponent. In the second stanza, King stopped back peddling and started an offensive campaign of his own that sent the ASU light heavy back to the canvas. The combination of lefts and rights and most of them aimed at the midsection. King forced Robinson into the ropes where he then proceeded to pummel him about in the bell ring.

King started out fast in the third round battering Robinson about, but "Old Man Robinson" was able in the ring, besides the boxers and referee Cecil Dickerson, and both fighters soon were leaning heavily on each other.

REF CECIL DICKERSON WATCHES FIGHT PULL FLAG ASU'S Robert Ford Dropped Decision To 508th's Ray Leutz

The best dressed and best looking girls basketball team on the road, the Arkansas Travelers, will meet the First Student Regiment's Blackshirts Sunday in an exhibition basketball game at Briant Wells Field House.

The game is scheduled to get under way at 8 p.m. and an admission price of 75 cents is asked for all seats.

Led by Hazel Walker, owner-manager and coach of the famed "Great All-Girls Team" are Pat Johnson, Francis "Chess" Garretts, Georgia "Moon" Mullins, Ethel Lamoue, Jo Byers, and Martha Byers.

Johnson is a veteran pro who has won three seasons with the team. She is an outstanding player on court. Ironically, she is a National Basketball Queen.

Garrette has been acclaimed by sportswriters around the nation as the greatest ever to don a basketball uniform. She is playing her second year of pro ball.

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

By Lester Dinoff

An unusual serenity has settled over the Kentucky University campus this winter season, but the gist of the basketball world is not sleeping. The giant, of course, is Coach Adolph Rupp's basketball team, which received a one year suspension from the NCAA for violation of its amateur athletic code for the 1951 season.

This ban has caused much disappointment among the loyal Wildcats followers, but Rupp whose 22 seasons at Kentucky have netted over 85 per cent victories, recently commented: "Now we have time to experiment."

The players this year are competing on an intramural basis gaining more basketball maturity while losing nothing from their eligibility status. Mastermind Rupp reports that Kentucky is looking forward to the future with redoubled determination. The team, he says, will be stocked with something new in basketball, a secret attack called a "front-back screen."

Whatever it is, basketball fans are eagerly awaiting the swarming of the "sleeping giant," who actually is not sleeping, but sharpening its claws.

Leu Eisenstein, president of the College Basketball Officials Association, says refs are reporting the new one-and-one foul is improving the brand of college play. On the other hand, one of the refs in pro basketball suggests that the one-and-one foul be jettisoned. Instead, let the fouled team get a team foul and regardless of the result of the free throw, give the ball to the foul team. This would make it unprofitable for the offending team to foul in order to get another foul.

The two-plant system was not killed by the coaches. Most of them are still for it because it gives prominence to the bench bosses, who move the faceless pawns. The system was doomed because too many spectators were beginning to yawn at the mob scenes that took place after a team lost possession of the ball. Now, the coaches are going to work. They will have to have players who can play both offense and defense. Not specialists.

During the 508th Airborne-First OC basketball game last week, the score saw-sawed back and forth five times in the second half until the Devils hit a foul shot to give them a one point edge. During the second game of the twin-bill, PWC vs ASU, Ralph Welton connected for six consecutive points within 32 seconds after the second half started. The Medics just outlasted, outshot, outplayed, and outdid everything the ASU Raiders, who were not able to connect with field goal or free throw attempts.

Charlie Beckwith, 508th football player who made second string All-Star guard, jumped from a plane last week whose number was 13. It was Beckwith's 13th jump, and he was number 13 to leave the plane.

George Allen, former ASU fighter and Third Army champion, has turned pro and added to his long list of ring accomplishments a six-round victory at Madison Square Garden in New York. John Wilson, ASU boxing coach, tried to have Ben Robinson set down to Class Two in the boxing classification due to his poor showings. The Boxing Board, which is made up of the COACHES, voted it down, four-to-one. As a result Wilson was withdrawn from the boxing eliminations that are due next month.

Fighters that are listed thus far for the eliminations are George Moore, First SR, William Edmonds, ASU, Roosevelt Bellinger, 508th, in Class Two heavyweight. In Class One Heavyweight, the First SR dominates with Dick Lehmann, Gene White and Ernest Fann. In the light heavy classes there are Jim Boyd and Jack King, First SR, and Tommy Miller of ISK in Class One. Two new names are same weight class, are Frank Love, CTC, and Robert Landrick, 508th.

In middleweight competition will be Leon Hall, CTC, Class One; Freeman Thatcher, ASU, and Norman Savada, First SR, Class Two. Light middleweights fracas will see First SR's Class Two boxers James Neal, Gordon Van Low, and Tullman Davis. In Class Three, Vince Marshall, First SR; Clifford Wilburn, ASU; Otto Parkerson, 508th; Roxcoe Chapman, CTC, and Earl Davis, ISK.

In welterweight classes, Class One, we have Ernest Hall of First SR, and Arthur Blair, in Class Two. Ed Slour, 508th, and James Thomas, CTC, in Class One. In Class Two, Ray Lewis, 508th, Robert Ford, ASU, and Adal Dukes, First SR, Class Three John Ligefti, CTC; Sam Smith and James Gregors, First SR; Walter Tompkins, ASU; and William Ray, 508th; Robert Gentry, ISK.

In lightweight competition, Class One, there is Len James, First SR, and Jesse Flores, 508th. Class Two, Juan Jaramillo, 508th, Elvis Mathews, ASU, August Wolf, 508th. In featherweight eliminations, there are Class One fighters Ray Riley of the 508th; Class Two boxer Willie Wright of ASU, and Class Three Mathew Pradla of the 508th and First SR's Mike Rosen.

In Class One bantamweights we have Nori Kawasaki of the 508th and Joe Clark of the First SR. The sole Class One flyweight is Bobby Rodriguez of the 508th.

NOTICE... Will the person who "borrowed" the bus caps off Lt. Cecil Eisenstein and returned them to the incident occurred last Thursday night while Dickerson was refereeing the amateur boxing bouts at Briant Wells Field House.

McCoy Agrees To Lee Go; Fight Set For Feb. 9th

Fancyman Ray Lee and hard hitting Al McCoy, two fighters who have earned top billing in the local arena ring, have come to a contract agreement with promoter Fred Ward and will tangle in a second main event on Feb. 9. McCoy, the Macon lad who whipped home-town rival Ralph Wingo last month at Macon, was the last to agree to the terms. He is now working out in Tampa, Fla., and is being managed by Lou Viscuso, handler of former world featherweight champion Willie Pep. Lee, headliner at Danny Harlow's and Del Flanagan's.

Post Boxers Shine In GG

Fort Benning's Ernie Fann, First Sgt heavyweight, connected with a left hook in 1:50 of the third round to knock out Craig Fields' Matthew Apollo in the heavyweight headline of the district Golden Gloves tournament at Montgomery, Ala. The first night of the tourney, Monday, was dominated by Benning entries, ten of our fighters winning the 17 bouts which they entered.

Travelers

Jim Boyd, Fort Benning light heavyweight titleholder, faced out a TKO over Walter Gregory of Montgomery in the 18-round final.

Sports Car Fans Have Local Club
BY CAPT. SAM KING
 Sports cars and sport car competition which almost faded out between World War I and II, has been revived and is now on a secure basis, having become an accepted part of the American sporting picture.

Starting with a half dozen enthusiasts, who formed the Sports Car Club of America in 1946, the club has now expanded to almost every state and has thousands of members. Since then, many other sports car clubs have sprung up all over the country.

An example of the popularity of the sports cars is the fact that since 1946, over 400,000 British MG roadsters have been sold in the United States.

What is a sports car? That is a question which is difficult to answer. Since J. Frank Duryea won the first American road race from Chicago to Dayton and back in 1895, authorities have been arguing this time point. Generally we accept the present sports car as a compromise between the all-out racing car and the family sedan. It is a car which can be used for everyday use and raced on Sundays.

Strictly Amateur
 Sports car racing in America is strictly an amateur affair and classes according to engine size. The sports car must have certain characteristics, such as light but positive steering, smooth yet firm suspension, proper weight distribution and a low center of gravity. Good brakes, contrary to the statement back in the early thirties by Earlhill, the famous sports car builder, "it doesn't build my cars to go, not stop!" and an engine that can burn pump gas yet give high performance.

Or to simplify that — good acceleration, superior brakes, and roadability of the highest order. Of course, there are all types of sports cars ranging in price from under $2,000 to more than $14,000.

Until recently, sports car racing were all in the Fort Benning-Columbus area. Last October, Capt. Sam King of the 508th Airborne, rounded up five MG owners and started to organize a sports car club. Now there are thirty members and the list is growing every day.

Organization was difficult at first, partly due to the transient nature of the post's personnel, but now several Columbus residents have joined and a brighter future was promised of a lot of fun is in sight. Since the club's inception, six MG and Force owners have departed from Benning, but several others have arrived during the same period.

Goals Laid
 Besides having fun, the purpose of the club is to encourage the ownership maintenance and operation of sports cars; to stress the importance of careful and skillful driving on public highways; to provide technical information and further the interest of competition in a safe and sane manner; and to insure interesting events with minimum safety.

Two events have been held to date with another scheduled for Feb. 10. The first event, a "Trial" was held in November. The starting point was the post and the finish at Pine Mountain. Cars departed at five minute intervals and were required to maintain an average of 40 MPH. Drivers were allowed two hidden check points and at the finish; a loss of one car-mile or late or early check point was the penalty. The winning driver by King Havel, lost two hidden check points and at the finish; a loss of one car-mile or late or early check point was the penalty. The winning driver by King Havel, lost two hidden check points and at the finish; a loss of one car-mile or late or early check point was the penalty.

The second event, Jan. 11 had a larger turnout. Another "Trial" started the day of this time a 110 mile dirt road race. The cars were not used because of their mud and unsafe condition. The winner was Capt. Gene Dance in his new Jaguar XK120 followed by Pvt. Jim Crawford, Capt. Fred Bostick and Lt. Le Boudais, all in MGs. The race ended at Fort Benning on the Alabama side of Fort Benning.

Gymkhana
 There is a gymkhana was held which provided the laughs for the day. This consisted of maneuvering the car in a parking exchange of wheels, starting and ending with a foot sprint. King took the honors with Pvt. Sherman Decker, Lt. Modesto, and Capt. Gene Dance, 2d, 3rd, and 4th.

A one-fourth mile acceleration test was completed and nobility. Dance's Jaguar ran away with the best time. Best times for the MGs were as follows: King, Decker, Bartlett, and Clyde Claiborne. The Feb. 8 event is planned for a meeting to decide a few factors that will put them on a firm and permanent basis. Officers will be elected and the following matters will be discussed: Name of club, design, future activities, and affiliation with one of the national sports car clubs.

Membership is open to owners or enthusiasts of military, or other cars. For further information contact Capt. Sam King, Columbus 2-2347.

Gulsvig Says OC Hoopsters Have Hard Training Setup

Coach Ed Gulsvig, mentor of the First Officer Candidates Regiment's basketball team says, "We may not win them all, but who ever plays us this year will know they have been in a ball game."

Gulsvig went on to discuss the difficult training problem that the Generals are encountering. Unlike many of the other teams in the Fort Benning League, the OC quintet does not get time off during regular duty hours to practice.

The First OC hoopsters must get into shape on their own time after putting in a normal day of work or training. The coach emphasized the fact to show that his boys go out on the court strictly because of their desire to play ball.

"Of course, the problems of coaching a service club are unique," says Gulsvig, who coached high school basketball in Minnesota before entering service. "The biggest problem is a successful season in Army ball is the old bugaboo known as 'transfer and discharge.'"

"Bugaboo" Fell
 The "old bugaboo" as Gulsvig calls it, has already made its weight felt in the Generals' ranks. The end of this month will see the high scoring Private Eugene Galt's discharge. The 1952 All-Army departure will leave a big gap in the OC's offense.

Harper Ties For Second In Panama Open
 Charlie Harper, golf professional at the Fort Benning Country Club, shot a 217 in the with Sammy Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, S.W. Va., and Clayton Hester of Warlike, N. C., for second place money in the $1000 Panama Open golf tournament.

Roberto de Vicenzo of Argentina won the golf meet, with a record-breaking 274, for the second straight year.

The Argentine pro turned in a three-under-par 68 to better his 1952 record by eight strokes. The Argentine was coach of the team who went into the final round with one-stroke lead over de Vicenzo, lost his chance for victory when he took an eight on the par four 18th hole.

Harper, Sneed and Hester split second, third and fourth money in the Amateur Boxing cards are offered at Fort Benning regularly. Watch your post and local newspapers for complete details.

During World War II he served with the 12th Military Police Battalion in Europe and later was on duty in Okinawa, where his unit was in charge of prisoners of war.

Col. Mansfield Off Saturday For Far East

The 50th Airborne Regimental Combat Team will bid farewell to one of its most colorful officers tomorrow. Lt. Col. Mansfield, executive officer of the paratrooper outfit, is being transferred to the Far Eastern Command. The officers of the Combat Team sponsored a party to honor him at the Main Officers' Mess.

Col. Mansfield is going back to the Far Eastern Command after an absence of five years. He returned to the United States in 1948 after serving with the famous 10th Air Division Infantry Regiment as a staff officer and then as executive officer of the 1st Airborne Division. The former group chief for a year, Colonel Mansfield phased out the gilder training in the Airborne Department and then took over the jump group of the Infantry School in June 1951. At that time he supervised 50th Airborne paratroopers and Colonel Mansfield supervised the jump training of the 1st Airborne Division. He will probably be best remembered by those who served under him when he was commander of the 1st Airborne Division. His unit reflected the drive of its leader in an outstanding manner in the jump in July 1952. Colonel Mansfield took over as RCT executive officer.

In World War II he served with the 18th Airborne Corps in Europe and with the 1st Airborne Division in the Pacific. Both Col. George O. Grizzard, commanding officer of the 50th, and Capt. Robert B. McIlton, former battalion commander of the 1st Airborne RCT, has made two combat jumps in the Far East. When airborne training was just getting going, Mansfield got his "jump column" together. Twice an instructor in the school, he is considered an authority on all phases of airborne planning and training.

Suggestions Pay Off For Five Civilians

Five Columbus area civilians employed at Fort Benning have been given cash awards for their money- and man-hour-saving suggestions. Cited for their suggestions were: John H. Watkins, Jr., of Phenix City, insect-rodent controller in the Engineers Section, 450; Starr L. Harris, of Columbus, medical laboratory technician, U.S. Army Hospital, 4185; Jesse B. Ingram of Columbus, warehouseman in the Ordnance Section, 340; Arthur A. Carroll of Lumpkin, Ga., carpenter in the Engineers Section, 450; and W. L. G. Parker of Columbus, auto equipment operator in the Transportation Section, 450. Mr. Parker has resigned his position but has been mailed a check.

The awards were presented by Brig. Gen. Guy Metoy, Jr., Infantry Center commander. He also awarded each with a Suggestion Award Certificate. In this program, conducted by the 30th Regimental Combat Team, the amount of cash presented is based on the merit of suggestion and the amount of monetary savings accruing from it.

Rams Scatter With Grid End

BY MERV MOLTZER
Having laid aside their cleats for another season, the members of the Fort Benning championship Special Troops Rams football team are scattered to the winds. At least that is the way it would appear to the casual bystander. In fact, the Rams are scattered to the winds of the First Six area. The first single block of players, 18 in all, went back to duty with the Airborne Battalion. Six former Rams, Joe Panopio, Tom Galustein, Ernest Cates, Lou Pavlik, Frank Skinner and Jim Clark have reported to Headquarters & Headquarters Company. Another future jumper, Harry Bailey, is taking his instruction with Company.

Paul Schuelke is now company clerk with A Company, while Ernest Matthews, Don Stump and Charlie Stewart, who are assigned to the same outfit, are playing basketball for the First Six Black-shirt.

Others assigned to the Battalion include John Oden, C Company supply clerk, and Bob Morstad, Company D fireman. An awaiting assignment to a regular airborne unit is Charley Allen. Dick Lohmann has taped his hands and gone back to the hospital. While John Mackie is working at the airborne gym on the other side of the post, Jim Harmon is in the hospital. A group of gridlers have been assigned to duty with the First O. C. Regiment.

508 Gridmen Hibernate To Old Outfits

BY JIM BUCK
Two months ago, Corporal Bill Dietz of the 508th Airborne football team, was an All-Post selection, but now, like grid players throughout the nation, he has hibernated by returning to his old outfit as an 8mm starter squad leader.

Dietz may be found watching the field house, or spending his off-duty hours playing on one of the Sand Hill courts. He is just another squad leader now, the same guy who was six odd gridiron, but a "terror" in a game. The only change in Dietz, is another stripe on his sleeve.

Former quarterback Gary Maty went to Fort Bragg, where he is probing about parity to go for winter maneuvers. Guard Pen Fitch is now working with the 19th Airborne QM Det. of the 508th, where he is in charge of much of the heavy drop work.

Staff Sergeant Bob Wood, P. I. Black, Harry Gibbons, Ken Miller and Dick Reiber all bound for EUCOM. Fred Dreespring suits the other way to EUCOM.

Walt Jones is now working for the First Student Brigade I & E. Dick Lohmann is supply and goes back to the hospital. Bill Conroy is working at the post with Casual Company of the First Six.

The PMG's contribution to the league champions, Dick Weaver, Jim Brown, and the four Bill, Carlson, Fallon, LeRette, and Steve, have returned to duty with the members of the Second O. C. Co's old outfits.

Travel And Adventure Open To Library Visitor

A world of travel, adventure, and culture will be unfolded to any person who has the time to stop at the Main post library or any of its branches.

The "Discussion of Great Books" program will be fully aware of the personal and all opportunity which Post Library Feb. 11 at 8 p.m. will offer.

In issuing his statement, Gen. Meloy said, "In recognition of the important part books and reading play in providing for recreation, information, and self-improvement through its Army Library Services, the Army makes every effort to supply adequate quantities of up-to-date material to the libraries of its units."

The topic for discussion will be "The Declaration of Independence" and chapters from the Bible, 1 Kings 21 and II Samuel 11, 12. One's activities during the week will include the awarding of any book to the person drawing the one-hundredth volume from the Main Post library.

OC Submariner Was Aboard 'Finback' On Epic Voyages

A former Navy man who looks back on his five submarine cruises in the crewed a tie to the periscope. With the periscope at full height, the Finback submerged and moved back in. The fiercer grabbed the line and was towed to safety.

The Finback had several other surprises. One one occasion a Japanese plane dropped a 500 pound bomb just off the starboard bow, badly damaging the navigating equipment. Another time the sub was hit with a 72-inch anti-aircraft charge.

Candidate Palancher received his discharge from the Navy in 1942 and then entered the Army Chemical Corps.

13 Altos, 10 Tenors, 12 Basses And 14 Sopranos Now In Choir

Good singing voices are plentiful at Fort Benning if the size of the Infantry Center Choir is an indication. It now has 14 sopranos, 13 altos, 10 tenors, and 12 basses.

The voice choir which regularly performs at Sunday services in the Main Chapel has recently tripled its membership during the last year and has also increased the quality of its performance, according to the Chaplain's Section.

Officers and privates sing side by side with citizens. Pvt. Eugene Hancock is assistant organist to John Miller, a civilian. Private Hancock also sings at the 5:30 p.m. Lutheran service. Mrs. Virginia Burke, choir director, is organist for the weekly chapel vesper services at 8:30 p.m. Sundays, and she and Mr. Miller, former choir director, occasionally substitute for each other.

The choir sings both at the 9:30 and 11 a.m. Sunday services, when at least two choral anthems, and often one solo anthem, plus processional and recreational hymns, are presented during the intercession of national services.

Music for Lent, Holy Week, and Easter is currently being practiced at weekly rehearsals at 7:15 p.m. each Thursday.

Members of the choir's soprano section include Miss Marie Baez, Mrs. M. J. Bowman, Mrs. D. T. Boyd, Mrs. Virginia Burke, Mrs. Mary Carpenter, Lt. Kathryn E. Fy, Mrs. Carolyn G. Galt, Betty Greer, Mrs. Alice Hatcher, Mrs. Louise Holt, Mrs. Billie Voller, Mrs. Betty Webb, and Miss Ruth Wilson. Solists are Mrs. Rios and Mrs. Yvonne Bancroft.

Also in the choir are Miss Yvonne Bancroft, Mrs. Dorothy Jenkins, Mrs. Katherine Kersey, Mrs. Paul Marks, Miss Le. Melloe, Mrs. Jeanne Purcell, Mrs. Robert Rogers, Mrs. George Ross, Mrs. Edward S. Saxby, and Miss Peggy Smith.

Included in the tenor section are Mr. Henry G. Morgan, Capt. Ray Thomas Brown, Paul Marek, Madison McClintock, Edward Lee Finley, and Henry Searcy. Pfc. Robert H. Richards, Henry Schumy, and Roger Shupe are tenor soloists.

OCs May Have To Take Speed Reading Course

Infantry School officials are considering a mandatory speed-reading course for students taking the advanced officer course.

Present plans call for all officers enrolled in the course to be given a speed-reading test upon entering the Infantry School.

A cutoff score will be determined on the basis of the results, and those falling below this score will be required to take the course.

Last September The Infantry School required members of advanced officers' class No. 1 to enroll for the 29-hour course.

During 1952, 286 officers and 60 sergeants took the course, which is available to all military personnel and all civilian employees at Fort Benning.

The Speed Reading Laboratory, operated by the Information and Education Center, has 20 reading tests, 10 of which are over 100 calibrated words.

The two-star general warned the graduates never to let "your own pride" be a mistake, otherwise you are no good to him.

Honor graduate was Peter J. Giffon. The Infantry School's first Infantry Officer Candidate Regiment.

The oath of office was administered by Major E. M. Shaffer, chief of Fort Benning's Military Personnel Division.

CONGRATULATIONS... On earning that "sixth" stripe is extended to three key non-coms by Colonel George O. Pearson, commanding officer of the 508th Airborne Regimental Central Postal Directory.

The new merit sergeants are those of only eight at Fort Benning to be promoted in the last year. They are, left to right, James W. Garrett, Battery B, 320th FA Bn., Michael O. Ashton, Company M, and Earl Braly Jr., Headquarters Battery, 320th FA Bn.

The purified blood continues through the tubing and returns to the body through a vein in the arm.

The process continues for a half hour, and the patient's strength during that time is maintained by intravenous feeding - injection of fluids into the blood stream.

After completing this six-hour blood-renewing process, the patient usually is able to eliminate waste products through his own kidneys again. However, a second or third treatment may be necessary.

The machine - which consists essentially of a large rotating steel wire mesh drum around which is wrapped 120 feet of cellophane tubing - removes the blood from the body, passes it through chemicals to remove wastes, and returns it to the body.

The patient is connected to the apparatus by a plastic inserted into an artery in his arm. The blood flows through the tubing around the drum, which is partially immersed in a water bath containing the chemicals to remove waste products.

As the drum rotates, the now-waste products seep through the cellophane tubing into the bath.

WILL PLAY ROMANTIC LEADS IN 'ARSENIC'
Mrs. Arden Leach and 2nd Lt. Robert Miller

The Fort Benning children's school band, under the direction of Delwin E. Krieger of Columbus, presented its first concert at the Main Post School recently.

The 24-piece band, which was organized last September, included members from the fourth, fifth, sixth, seventh, and eighth grades. They are planning to hold their second concert in the Spring.

The five members which the band has already covered are Row, Eventide, Plow Boy, Voice of the South, and Twinkle, Twinkle Little Star.

Mrs. Ellen Heard to replace Mrs. James Vogel in 'Arsenic' will be available at the theatre performance nights.

Mrs. Ellen Heard will play one of the leading roles, that of Abby Brewster, one of the unbalanced sisters who doted gentlemen callers with lethal elderly wigs.

Mrs. Heard replaces Mrs. James Vogel, who resigned from the cast due to illness.

Mrs. Heard, who is familiar to Fort Benning audiences for her outstanding portrayal of Mary in the "Women" last year, majored in dramatics at college. She appeared in "Dark Victory," "Pride and Prejudice," and "Tomorrow the World," and directed several one-act plays.

Experimental radio productions were also a part of her training. While a member of the Little Theatre in Louisville, Ky., Mrs. Heard played in "Years Ago."

Children's Band In First Concert Power Of Post Suggestions Saved Army Some $22,052.51

The power of suggestion is a great thing at Fort Benning. It saved the Army some $22,052.51 during the past six months.

Through the suggestion program conducted by the Civilian Personnel Division, civilian employees made 11 suggestions for a total annual savings to the government of $22,052.51.

As compensation for suggestions, Fort Benning's Efficiency Awards Committee has issued cash awards totaling $785. Highest individual award of $135 went to a laboratory technician at the U.S. Army Hospital.

His suggestion proposed a method of combining into one operation the color, appearance, and specific gravity of urine specimens. This method is now being used at the hospital with an increase in output of 25 per cent in the processing operation.

If warranted, suggestions are made through Army channels for supplementary awards and for use on other installations. From Fort Benning the efficiency ideas are forwarded to The Third Army, which in turn sends them to the Department of Army, if merited.

The Defense Department's Efficiency Awards Committee selects the outstanding suggestion of the year.

Fort Lee Officials To Use Our Methods. The Quartermaster School at Fort Lee, Va., is using the methods used at Fort Benning.

Col. R. A. White, Major Harlan A. Sommer, and Capt. Homer Stewart observed classroom instruction and technical training, and plan to apply Infantry School methods to the curriculum of the Quartermaster School, they said.

Returning to the United States, who officer asked West Point to help in locating the next of kin of the ring's members. He said he summed that he had died. Instead, he located Colonel Hector at the Infantry Center, and the ring on its way.

Gen. A. R. Bolling Will Address Men At Reserve Camp. A contract camp for Army reserve officers will be held at Fort Benning Feb. 28 through March 1.

Men Wanted; Not Geniuses

The Army's not looking for geniuses, but men for all-round and 11 a.m. Sunday services, when at least two choral anthems, and often one solo anthem, plus processional and recreational hymns, are presented during the intercession of national services.

Wallet Calendars Given Out To 4,000 By Post Ministers

Four thousand billfold-size religious calendars have been distributed by Post Office Free-Postmaster chaplains to Fort Benning.

The calendars are religious aids to remember, inform and inspire at the Infantry Center Chapel, and eight ministers of the Army.

Looked for the first time at Fort Benning, the calendars were distributed by a genetic inserted into an artery in his arm.

Gold In Benning's "Hills"

Gold has been found at The Infantry Center. However, it hasn't been found in the waters of the Upatoi on the golf and ridges of Sand Hill. The gold at Fort Benning has been found in many places and is being "mined" by both men and women under many conditions. Since large amounts have been made through-out the reservation.

Perhaps the biggest "strike" was the one registered by an infantryman at the Third Army Area Food Service School here—a new method of boiling hams. The Office of the Quartermaster General in Washington said it should not get the quarterly almost $2,000,000 annually. A fair-to-middling claim also has been struck out by the Infantry Center Quartermaster in the operation of the Fort Benning Property Disposal Yard. Salvage last year netted the government about $400,000 and forecasts are that the "vein" there should last indefinitely.

As Others See Us

How do "outsiders" feel about Fort Benning after they have visited it? A partial answer to that question is found in an article written the other day by Herb Graffius, columnist for the Chicago Sun-Times.

Mr. Graffius, who covered training assignments here in World War II, says now that the progress in training at the Infantry School "has been almost incredible." Commenting on the aptness of the theories and techniques being taught here, he wrote, "A significant experience in Korea last week is a lesson at Fort Benning today. Benning is better equipped, better trained, and given a better recreation program, than any combatants who ever went into World War II. The only thing believed that the total count may number close to 2,000. Little of the stupendous and thorough job of making the most expert sort of fighting men out of American lads who have no banking to go to war." But by being the best they greatly improve their chances of being the longest lived, and they know it.

About Three Enlisted Men . . .

The Bayonet today prints a story about Pvt. Arthur T. Fernandes, a baker for the 20th Office Canteen Company. Like many men, Private Fernandes often wants to do "something special." Unlike most men, the private carries his desire past the dream stage and makes it a reality. His latest project—three giant cakes—bore a replica of the "Bowler Men" patch which the other two bore the name of the candidates assigned to the company. Why did he go to all this trouble? Simply because he wanted to. He wanted to bring his fellow man joy.

Then there were the men of the 10th OC Company. They decided that the March of Dimes deserved help. So they chose a "Bowler Men" patch to symbolize the spirit of the drive and then went all out in raising funds within their company. Money rolled in, to all the company collected more than $200. A nice bit of cash. And don't forget M-Sgt. Cecil T. Davis, first sergeant of 28th OC Company. Following graduation from the Infantry Center, Davis often wants to do "something special." Unlike most men, the private carries his desire past the dream stage and makes it a reality. His latest project—three giant cakes—bore a replica of the "Bowler Men" patch which the other two bore the name of the candidates assigned to the company. Why did he go to all this trouble? Simply because he wanted to. He wanted to bring his fellow man joy.

ing that's cool syrup, it's not supposed to kill me. Actually, it may be as sincere as the day is long, but that doesn't change the poisonous contents. The soldier man who killed the French Admiral Darlan was sentenced to death. But he was told that when he faced the firing squad there would be no firing blanks. So he believed it. But when the shots rang out his body crumpled to the ground. Believing something sincerely didn't take away the bullets. It's tremendously important that a man believe the right thing.

News Briefs Ike Lifts Ban On U.S. Seventh Fleet

President Eisenhower, in his State of the Union message, told Congress and the nation that he was ending the U. S. Seventh Fleet's neutralizing role in the Formosa Strait, thus freeing the forces of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek for raids on the Chinese mainland.

The lifting of the Seventh Fleet ban was President Eisenhower's first step in what he calls a "new, positive foreign policy aimed at breaking the deadlock in Korea."

At home the public reaction to President Eisenhower's statement was considered favorable, but Secretary of State John Foster Dulles was reported to have expressed serious doubts as to whether the United States does not intend to support the Nationalist forces in any "reckless action" against the Chinese Communists.

Britain, Holland and Belgium counted more than 1,400 dead following the worst storm disaster in 500 years, and officials believed that the total count may number close to 2,000. Little

Report From Washington Navy Gives Contract To Build Midget Sub

(By Armed Forces Press Service) The Fairchild Engine and Airplane Corp. has been awarded the first contract for the development of a 25-ton "midget" submarine, the Navy has announced. Known as the X-1, this is the first attempt by the Navy to develop its own midget submarine.

Establish the Civilian Air Patrol as a civilian auxiliary of the Air Force, provide for substitution of its members with emergency active duty and extend the Federal Compensation Rates to include several classes of emergency active duty.

but can you buy a home? You can buy medicine, but can you buy health? You can buy luxuries, but can you buy culture? You can buy amusements, but can you buy happiness? You can buy a cross, but can you buy Christ?

And finally, it's strange how some folks have such a misconception of religion. To some, it's a load when it ought to be a lift. To others, it's something they plan to get out of the "death row." Of course, their time schedule is thrown off-balance if they happen to die at thirty.

Our Navy Larger Than All Others Added Together

The U.S. Navy at this moment is larger than all the other navies of the world combined, according to the 1952-53 edition of "Jane's Fighting Ships," renowned as the world's largest book on the world's navies.

More than 100 aircraft carriers, 15 battleships, 10 cruisers, 270 escort destroyers and 200 minesweepers, 159 patrol vessels, and more than 9,500 other craft.

By contrast the Soviet Union has only three old battleships and 11 cruisers in its fleet. The Soviet Union maintains its preponderance in submarines, having 370 in service and about 120 under construction.

Military Building Of Alaska Bases At All-Time High

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—The greatest military construction program in the history of Alaska is underway.

Defense construction in the territory, the Army disclosed, exceeds $20,000,000 and every effort is being made to have it all under contract by April, 1953.

There are 112 projects planned, many of them classified top secret. They will occupy an important place in the complex of advanced bases from which U. S. attacks will be launched and guided missiles in any direction—toward Europe, toward the Middle East, or toward North America.

Year-round construction schedules have been instituted to eliminate the former complete work stoppage during the bitterly cold winter months.

Youngsters seem to have boundless energy. They're on the go from opening till night, running, yelling, laughing, and playing—and when it comes time for them to go to bed they want to stay up watching TV or listening to the radio.

The Fort Benning Dad's Club is trying to guide this surplus energy into proper channels by its support of supervised youth activities.

Active participation in all these projects by all Fort Benning dads is an important factor in the successful operation of the Dad's Club. Col. Bruno Jaseremski, president of the Dad's Club, said he pointed out that youngsters like to feel a partnership with their father and that Dad's Club activities offers a perfect opportunity for the forming of such a partnership.

One of the big problems that face the Dad's Club is that of personnel turnover at Fort Benning. Due to this factor there is an urgent need for more members. They are needed to serve on the committees that sponsor the various Club projects.

Those ships were built for only a few years of service. They were built to last, but they were built to last only a few years.

There are 112 projects planned, many of them classified top secret. They will occupy an important place in the complex of advanced bases from which U. S. attacks will be launched and guided missiles in any direction—toward Europe, toward the Middle East, or toward North America.

Other areas in the complex include Okinawa, Greenland, U. S. United Kingdom, North Africa, and other portions of the eastern Mediterranean area.

Year-round construction schedules have been instituted to eliminate the former complete work stoppage during the bitterly cold winter months.

Last winter, interior work kept 60 per cent of the projects running all through the cold winter months. This winter the percentage is expected to be higher.

RUBBER NECKING... A group of youngsters and their parents wait in line for a ride on "The Buddy Seat," a controlled drop from one of the airborne jump towers. The ride was sponsored by the Dad's Club and donations were accepted for the Club treasury.

PING PONG... Angie Sherrard and Sonya Jastremski take a winning shot at ping pong. Brat Barracks, a Dad's Club project, has facilities for pool, dancing, and cards, as well as ping pong.

The era of push-button training One of the targets, a silhouette is mounted on a movable cart has arrived at the Infantry School, type, is mounted on a movable cart and, along with it, an experienced engineer in the field of electronics is on hand to assist in initial tests.

The push-button gadget is known as the Ground Combat Assessor (GCA), and the engineering expert is Charles W. Blanc of the Western Electric Company, who is at Fort Benning for the installation and testing of the equipment.

Remote Control As a "time-money-manpower" saver, the GCA consists of four targets controlled from an operator's console behind the firing lines. Each target is individually controlled, and the operator can, with an electrical timing device, pre-set the time each target will remain in place after the push of a button has raised it into position.

COs Responsible For 'Selling' Job

Public information is the responsibility of company and industry. Major Gen. Floyd L. Parks, Army chief of information, Friday told 148 producers of a military school's associate advanced class No. 2.

The Army commander, not the public information officer, is to actually a staff assistant, is responsible for the public's view of his unit, the two-star general reminded the graduates of the 15-week course.

"The power of the press, radio, television and other means of communication are well known, but we must be sure that the public is by personal example the general declared.

Gen. Parks added that the Army has been in the past years carrying the true picture and understanding of the Army to the American people. We must become more responsible for our own actions and our own words. We should allow the civilian to understand us, he said.

Chaplain (Major) Robert B. Herndon delivered the invocation and music was provided by Fort Benning's 122nd Army Band.

6 Military Districts To Hear TIC Officers

Ten infantry officers from Fort Benning will discuss lessons learned in the campaign in Korea at Military District meetings during February in Georgia, North and South Carolina, Alabama, Tennessee, and Mississippi.

The six teams, composed of 100 military veterans now assigned to the Infantry School's Frank T. Miller, Jr. of Las Vegas, Nev., Col. John M. Lynch of New York, N. Y., Lt. Col. Raymond J. Jennings of Okmulgee, Okla., Lt. Col. Robert H. Summers of Morgantown, W. Va., Maj. George R. Mitchell of Laguna, Fla., and John B. Van Eaton of Xenia, Ohio. John C. Hughes of Harris, Ill., Col. H. H. Oster, Jr. of Greensboro, N. C., Capt. Charles E. Capline of Sidney, Ohio, and Capt. Joseph McCoy of Detroit, Mich.

Coleman Midren, Lynch, Jennings and Summers will be principal speakers at the six scheduled meetings that will be followed by question-answer periods.

The Korean tactics teams will be in the North and South Carolina Military Districts Feb. 9, Georgia and Tennessee Military Districts Feb. 16, Alabama Military District Feb. 17, and Mississippi Military District, Feb. 23.

MI Rifle Rates With The Best, Expert Weaps

As an all-purpose weapon the Army's M1 cannot be best, according to the company classmate Paul McNeil of Centralia, Kan., competitor in more than 100 rifle matches.

McNeil of the 12th Officer Candidate Company and won the M-1 rifle match among the best rifle rifles he has used.

"Naturally, target rifle matches are more accurate, but with experience a shooter can become much more effective with the M-1," he added.

McNeil, who estimates he has taken about 25 first-place awards in rifle competition, captured the University team before entering the service in February, 1952.

As a sophomore he fired in 73 matches, one against the U. S. Military Academy in which he placed second in the Southeastern Region at Tournament.

LT. R. J. FRANCO RETURNS M-SGT. C. T. DAVIS' SALUTE

Sgt. Davis Salutes 98 Times; 26th Co. Donates 98 Dollars

The tradition of a newly-commissioned officer giving a dollar salute to the first enlisted man to salute him was altered slightly by members of the 26th Officer Candidate Company and enriched the March of Dimes fund by $98.

The new second lieutenant, who were graduated last Friday, with the ceremony of pinning on the gold bars until they returned to the company area following the formal graduation ceremony.

There the bars were pinned on the second lieutenant, Lt. R. J. Franco, past M-Sgt. Cecil T. Davis, the company's first sergeant. As each officer passed him, Sgt. Davis presented him a salute and a "thank you, sir," as the officer returned the salute and handed him a dollar. The $98 the sergeant collected in this manner was placed in the collection box of the March of Dimes.

An interest of $83 was contributed by the former officer candidates when the editor of the company classmate Paul McNeil of Centralia, Kan., competitor in more than 100 rifle matches.

Lawson Change Is Announced

The 494th Troop Carrier Wing, stationed at Lawson Air Force Base, has been redesignated the 494th Troop Carrier Wing.

The change in designation was necessitated by the fact that the 494th Troop Carrier Wing was reassigned from active service with the U. S. Army to the Air Force.

The Wing, which was called to active service in May, 1951, was stationed at Altheimer Air Force Base, Ind., and was moved to Lawson Air Force Base, Ga., during its tour of duty of the wing assigned to active service in many large-scale maneuvers including Operation Southern Pine, Snowfall, and Leaf Storm.

It also performed the largest aerial troop movement in history when it moved the 2nd Infantry Division to Texas from its permanent station in Germany, Ind., for participation in Operation Long Horn.

The 494th will carry out the functions previously performed by the 494th and Col. Troy W. Crawford, wing commander, will continue as commanding officer of Lawson AFB.

Col. Pearson Announces New Team Of Aides

Announcing wide changes in his executive team, Colonel George O. Pearson, commander of the 50th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, has named five field grade officers to new posts inside the Red Devil unit.

The reorganization, effective tomorrow, involves one Lieutenant colonel and four majors in what the regimental adjutant, Major James Dunn, described as a move to strengthen the effectiveness of the Regimental Combat Team as new officers are integrated into the outfit.

Principals in the move are Lt. Col. Murray L. Harvey and Major Kenneth K. Keenon, Robert A. Matthews, Angelo J. Nicolette and Patrick B. Ward.

Colonel Harvey, transferred here from the Far East Command, is the new commander of the First Battalion, replacing Lt. Col. Warren A. Milton, who is now assistant regimental executive officer. Colonel Harvey was formerly executive officer of Camp Pulli in Japan.

Major Keenon, regimental S-4,

Extension Class Equal To Staff College Begins

A special 12-day associate course on the Command and General Staff College level began here Monday for Third Army area officers.

The first phase, officially opened by Maj. Gen. Charles D. W. Caubhan, deputy Third Army commander, will be followed by the second and third phases to be held concurrently Feb. 23 to March 7.

Equivalent to an associate course offered at the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kan., the course will provide an opportunity for officers unable to leave their duties here to receive full credit.

Instruction consists of 155 extension-course hours given up three two-weeks periods, approximately one year apart. Each two-week period includes 10 days of classroom instruction.

McConnell Gets Boost In Rank

Lt. Col. William J. McConnell of Shreveport, La., executive officer of Fort Benning's Infantry Officer Candidate Regiment, has been promoted to Colonel.

Gen. John R. Hodge, Army Field Forces chief, who was at Fort Benning at the time Col. McConnell received notification of the boost in rank, and Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., Infantry Center commander, presented the new Colonel with his eagle.

Col. McConnell, who has 14 years Army service, has been executive officer of the OC Regiment since coming to Fort Benning April 2, 1952. Prior to that time he served with the 11th Military Mission in Tehran from April 1950 until March 1952.

He also saw duty with the 88th Division and 18th Army Group in Italy from August 1944 until 9-5 Day and the Army of Occupation in Austria from August 1945 until January 1947.

Col. McConnell is a 1938 graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

March Of Dimes Fites Tonight

Robinson Tests Miller In Top Bout On Card

The International Boxing Corporation of Fort Benning, the Boxing Board, has come up with another amateur fight card for the House of Haskie, Briant Wells Field House, tonight that will cause fit everyone, adults and children. The program, which has been scheduled to go on at 8 p. m. MARCH OF DIMES show, the first bout goes off at 8 p. m. An admission price of 40 cents is asked for all seats.

It is a worthy cause, folks. Pack Briant Wells to the rafters so your feet, move your arms or your friends, could fight with you. In an effort to shake off his last few losses, ASU's Bob Robinson will take on Tommy Miller of ISD in a light heavyweight battle, while Ray Riley of 508th takes on Willie Wright of ASU in a featherweight bout.

Both of these bouts are Class C competitions and could be called the features of the MARCH OF DIMES program. Robinson has appeared in the arena on six occasions and emerged victoriously only twice. He scored two wins over Lou Burgess, the first a TKO and a Decision in their rematch.

Four Losses
Like most of his other light heavyweight bouts, Robinson lost to Claude Chapman, Gene White, and twice to Jack King, who seems to be his jinx.

Miller is a newcomer to Benning's ring warfare. The Ray Riley-Willie Wright featherweight contest will see the opponent in seven fights. This being Wright's seventh year, is different because the feather has had five fights with August Wray of the 508th, and with Charles DeForte, an ASU team member.

Wright has lost three of the five Wray and scored a TKO over DeForte.

Riley, who hasn't climbed through the ropes for some time has a three and one record. He beat western Jimmy Miller twice and scored a decision over Bob Smeone. His sole loss is to First SR's champion, Len James.

Class Two Bout
In Class Two bouts, the MARCH OF DIMES show, August Wray of 508th meets Frank Love of ASU in a lightweight fight, Ed Stout of 508th in a welterweight meet, and First SR's Willie Thomas tests Ray Letz of the Airborne in a light welter frame.

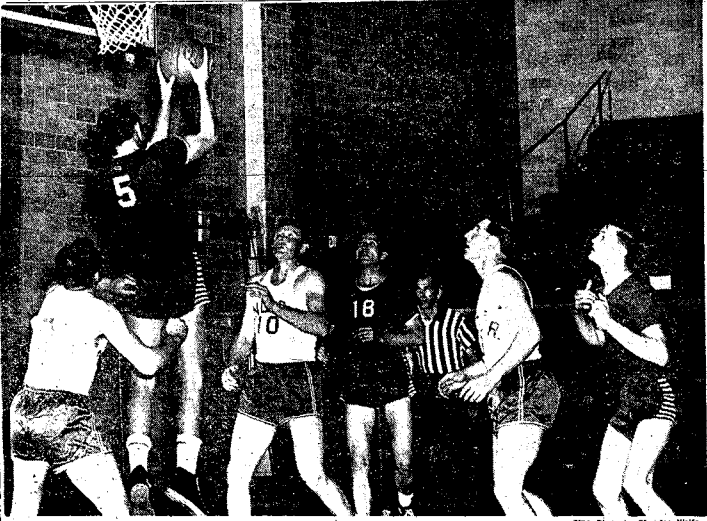

In Class Three fights, Frank Love of CTC tangles with light heavyweight Robert Landford of the 508th, Robert Collins of ASU tests Matthew Prada of First SR tests Matthew Prada of First SR in a feather fight.

Class Four
In Class Four competition, heavyweight William Edwards of ASU takes on 508th's Roosevelt Bollinger. Vince Marshall, First SR, meets Roscoe Chapman of CTC in a light middleweight bout, and John Jaugot of CTC takes on Sam Smith of First SR in a light welter one.

Class Five Fights
In the two Class Five scraps, Earl Davis of ISD meets Joe Kent of 508th in a middleweight bout, while Mike Lantz, another paratrooper, takes on lightweight Fred Douglas of ASU.

If you take a quick look at the boxing standings you will see that ASU is on top with 136 points, First SR second with 83, and the 508th third with 76. The bouts that will draw everyone's attention, will be the bouts which feature Blackshirt and Red Devil honors.

The 508th, if they win every bout that they have entered, could garner 24 points and take over second place in the standings. For the First SR, on the same line, if it would accumulate only 11 points from the four bouts that they are listed for.

First SR Tops Hoop League; Almost Dumped By 508th

Coach Terry Scott of the First SR team accumulated 231 points between the 508th and the Blackshirts is virtually assured of calling the 1933 Fort Benning Basketball League championship points for 24.4 per game, while his own for his combats ranked up their fifth straight victory in league competition.

Scott's main claim to the post hoc crown is his two star forwards, George Swyers and John Dull, who have been getting their usual 10 to 12 points per game. The "Gold Dust" twins have accounted for 231 points between them. To break the statistics further, Swyers dumped in 124 points for 12.4 per game, while Dull scored 107 points per game, or 10.7 points per game.

For awhile last Monday night during the Blackshirt-508th game at Briant Wells Field House, it looked like the Red Devils might get the "gold dust." Usually, the First SR maintains an approximate ten point lead over all of their opponents at all times during the game. But during the first period, the 508th, paced by Larry Ivan, their high scorer, Bob Barror, and John Troize, nearly scored 21.2 points per game, toward down a 19 point margin to three points.

All-Court Press
The Red Devils, however, started an all-court press and when they got their hands on the ball, they got nut Coach Jim Bragan tried to get the team to slow down, but then the Scotsmen started to build up the margin once again and it was all over for the 508th.

It looks like the CTC commanders are certain of a berth in the first division of the league. The Jim Guthrie quintet with Roy Young, Art Greene, Dick Thompson and Jim Williams will, be hard to beat.

Playing on the same twin-bill with the 508th-First SR, you could say loved with the last place ASU Raiders to the tune of 15-30. The ASU five, and where they get their players from is a good question, have only one victory to their credit. They beat ISD, 55-28 week.

The only player that Bobby Dewes (See BASKETBALL, Page 10) defeated his team mate Sam Smith for the Negro title.

In the 126 pound featherweight class, Mike Rosen of the Blackshirts beat Ray Riley of the 508th in a real blood and guts contest. It looks to me like Riley may have suffered deep cuts in the brow for he was bleeding at the bell ending the bout.

And six, you know that since we haven't got a handweight who could stand up to the 508th's Nori Kawasaki, well, he just climbed in and climbed out with the title.

C. O. — If it must have been a good tournament, Periman. How come Len James, our Third Army champion did not fight?

J. P. — James, sir, did not feel up to par. So he assisted me in the corner during the bouts. One of the columnists in Montgomery wrote that much of the success of the Fort Benning representative was due to a pair of cage handlers. This duo, that sir is James and myself, master-minded the Benning show that paid off in so many district championships.

Sir, the thunder of last year's great Negro competitor, this columnists goes on to say, was put into this year by a bronze heavyweight from the First SR. The man in question was a symphony in muscles named Ernie Fann. It finally came to light on the second night of the meet that the impressive Fann was not just a flash in the pan. Only two years ago, Fann finished the first of amateur rindom — the heavyweight amateur champion of the world.

To spectators, Fann seemed like a ghost from some newswheel of the mid-1920s. Before one round had elapsed in the youngster's Montgomery debut, there was something strikingly familiar in his physical makeup and in the calm, collected way that he stalked his prey before moving in at precisely the right moment for the coup de grace.

Sir, you still there?

C. O. — Continue on Periman.

J. J. — Fann uttered a maddening left hook that floored Matt Aspin for the count on the opening night and an unseen voice from somewhere in the balcony summed up what everybody was thinking: "Be damned if that boy don't look real like Joe Louis."

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

by Lester Diaoif

The First Student Regiment boxing team went en masse to the State Golden Gloves Championships held last week in Montgomery, Ala., and for the greater part of the three day show, Fort Benning boxers and their accomplishments dominated the three day tournament completely.

It all started when Coach Jerry Periman's First SR squad received an invitation to attend, along with other teams from the post. Periman, who conducts his boxing classes in an atmosphere that resembles Sullivan's Gym, got permission from his commanding officer to attend and off the Blackshirts went.

The team returned here Thursday morning and Periman immediately got on the phone to notify his commanding officer of the results. From the conversations that I have had in the past with Jerry and his squad, I assume it went something like this:

C. O. — Well, Mr. Periman, how did the boxing team make out? (The CO called Jerry, Mister because his rank is WOJG)

J. P. — Sir, I'm sorry to say that we came back from Montgomery with only 11 titles and four runner-up positions.

C. O. — How did the 508th Airborne team make out? (The Commanding Officer is an ardent follower of Fort Benning boxing and knows that the Red Devils are pressing on his team's heels.)

J. P. — Sir, they won two titles, the lightweight and bantamweight.

C. F. — Periman, how come we had runner-ups? (The C. O. is a little peeved that the 508th took two Golden Gloves titles and with them back to Sand Hill.)

J. P. — Sir, the only bouts that we lost were when our own boys boxed borus with each other.

C. O. — Who were some of our winners?

J. P. — Well sir, Dick Lohmann, last year's heavyweight champion on post, took that crown by beating team-mate George Hoppe, in the Negro division. Ernie Fann, former world Amateur Golden Gloves Champion, was unable to compete because of a dislocated shoulder received in his opening bout. So, the title went to Gene White.

In the light heavyweight class, Jack King, who seems as if he next Fort Benning champion, was the winner. There wasn't any Negro light heavy champion.

In the 160-pound class our own boys clashed and Al (Nose) Farsae beat out Vince Marshall for the white middleweight title, while Joe Salvette was the Negro winner by a TKO over Roosevelt Daniel of Montgomery.

In the 135 pound lightweight competition, Juan Jaramillo, another 508th boy, was victorious, while our own Adel Duker defeated his team mate Sam Smith for the Negro title.

In the 126 pound featherweight class, Mike Rosen of the Blackshirts beat Ray Riley of the 508th in a real blood and guts contest. It looks to me like Riley may have suffered deep cuts in the brow for he was bleeding at the bell ending the bout.

This Week's Benning Has Sound Sports Arrangements

1933 was a big year for sports at Fort Benning according to the Benning Sports Service Statistician. Football drew the most fans and players, some 119,000, with boxing coming a close second.

Here are the statistics that were compiled by Major Gene Myers, sports officer: Football 18 games 18,000 fans 37,000 tickets 7,100 Boxing 50 games 110,000 fans 11,000 tickets 10,000 Football 13 games 119,000 fans 216 matches 10,000 Volleyball 14 matches 220 fans 100 tickets 100 matches 34 matches 840 fans 1,044 tickets 1,044 matches 1 meet 254 fans 1,044 tickets 18 matches 247 fans 247 tickets 11 matches 90 fans 90 tickets 3 games 674 fans 674 tickets has who goes into the game and really puts out in Les Kemp, who has scored an average of 13.1 points per game.

The First Officer Candidate five may be heading for a downfall for they have already lost two of their star players, Francis Higgins, ex-Boston College player, and Jim Wood, ex-Ansbura guard. Higgins has returned to civilian life while Wood, who has completed OCS and received his commission, has been transferred to the Airborne School for jump training.
The Generals, in their weekly appearance, beat out the Second SR Rockets, 85-59. The big gun who really hurt the Cliff Knights' aggregation was Orv Koepke, a returnee from last year's team. Gets 25 Points.
Koepke racked up 25 points for the OC quintet getting 12 points for the game, most of them up-and-down to his great rebounding ability.

High man for the Rockets was little Ray Steiner, ex-St. Louis Billiken, who becomes a Little Napoleon on the floor. Steiner, who dumped in 11 points, ought to concentrate on getting points instead of telling players what to do and where to move on the floor.
Most of the teams have a coach never got away with that stuff when he played for Ed Hickov.
The steady influence of See- and SR is Bob Clifton, and Dwight Hill, Clifton who was a University of Iowa guard for three years, has appeared in four contests and scored 84 points. Hill, an ex-Ansbura player, has chalked up 38 points in five contests.
If Steiner, Clifton and Hill could appear on the floor at the same time, maybe the Rockets would put up a different appearance. But, under the league rules, only two officers can play at the same time. There must be three entitled men on the court at all times.
The surprise flop of the league is Carlisle Pinhoister's School Detachment, who at this writing, are tied for the league cellar with ASU. The Professors, in their lone appearance, were shaken to the core when the Rockets sound-ed out a 65-56 victory over them.
The ASU five bottled up ISD's one-shotted, non-shoot, specialist Bob Burkes, a National Christian College forward, and that seemed to do the trick. Their defense was as good that they held ISD to six points in the second period.
On Upgrade
The club that is slowly fighting its way up is the PMG Medics, who in ISD in that contest, the Medics, with Ralph Clifton, scoring 18 points, out-busted the Frogs and had them in nine points in the third period, while they themselves scored 20.
In games that are to be played next week the First SR will take on ISD and Second SR met First SR last night; PMG vs. CTC and 508th leaving ASU tomorrow evening. The game which will draw the

Kramer Tennis Troupe Here At BWFH, March 6

Never in tennis has the issue been more clearly defined than in the head-on collision between Jack Kramer, world-wide champion of pro tennis, and the Australian whiz, Frank Sedgeman, who just abdicated his world crown to seek a fortune on the international professional tennis circuit. Kramer and Sedgeman, along with an McGregor and Pancho Segura, will appear in an Australian-American duel at Bryant Woods Field House on March 6. The action-packed program of two singles and one doubles, will start at 8 p.m. Admission is $1.50.

JACK KRAMER
... pro tennis champ

World's Best
Which ever star wins, he will have the unchallenged title of the World's Greatest Tennis Player. Kramer, the unbeatable, carried the world amateur tennis crown in competition in 1947, and quickly play-off-pay ranks. Now the Australian Boomerang, Sedgeman, is trying to follow in his footsteps. Sedgeman is rated by many critics as the greatest tennis player of this era. He won the United States title in 1952, and the Aussie crown in '52. He has paired off with McGregor for the most of the titles for doubles.
McGregor won the 1952 Australian singles crown by beating out Sedgeman. Many followers of net play believe that eventually he will become greater than his fellow countryman and this belief was strengthened by his performance in Australia's recent Davis Cup triumph.

WON IN DAVIS CUP
In 1950, McGregor was a surprise choice to play against the U. S. in the Davis Cup at Forest Hills, N. Y. Just 21, he came through on opening day against veteran Ted Schroeder and started the Cup en route to his Down Under homeland.
Sedgeman is best-known for his two-handed style of tennis play, and is considered one of the most colorful of today's tennis players. He turned pro in 1947 after being ranked in the first year of the United States (1942-1947) inclusive.
He was the intercollegiate champion for the University of California from 1942-44.
Sedgeman has the most colorful career of all the troupe. After being an amateur player, he turned professional in 1947 to tour with the famous Eddie Rickenbacker him of his world pro title by whipping the '48-'49 amateur champion Pancho Gonzales 96-77, and 82-78.

MUCHO TITLES
In 1949, Kramer, won the singles and doubles titles of professional tennis. He has played infrequently in tournaments, but in 1951 he won the Inquirer Masters, beating out Gonzales, Segura, Frank Kovacs, Welby Van Horn, and Rigney.
This is his first venture as a

Fortune Found In Junk Yard; $400,000 Said To Be Amount

Imagine finding nearly $400,000 in a junk yard—and right here in Fort Benning, Ga. It's been done.
The fortune wasn't in folding money, exactly; nor had it been really lost. But when that much money can be saved it is as good as found.
The Army Property Disposal Yard, operated under the supervision of the Infantry Center Quartermaster Section, realized a profit of about that figure last year by collecting various and every worn-out item that had been discarded on the reservation.
Better known as the "salvage yard," Property Disposal has salvaged thousands of dollars for the taxpayers of this country, according to Sgt. L. David G. Lee, disposal officer.
Among the items that enter the disposal yards are discarded and leave bringing profit to the government are ferrous and non-ferrous metals, mixed paper and cardboard, grease and bones, edible garbage, tin cans, lumber, scrap rubber, various containers, and a number of other articles.
These items are processed and either sold, redistributed to organizations at Fort Benning, or donated to such Federally-sponsored agencies as schools and public health units.
The processed articles are classified as scrap, which is of no value except for its basic material content—and surplus articles is exempt from the operation of Federal agencies.
When items are sold to civilians on the open market, the Quartermaster's Purchasing and Contracting Division issues invitations for bids with the highest bidder receiving the articles. The prices of the items are governed by OCS

Drone-Towed Targets Save Taxpayers Money

FORT BLISS, Texas—Army anti-aircraft artillery gunners are using their own particular type of aerial target to save the taxpayer thousands of dollars.

Soldiers at Fort Bliss are firing their anti-aircraft guns at drone-towed targets. Instead of firing on the planes themselves, they use both money and valuable equipment. (Sherman anti-aircraft weapons used in defense against the drone-towed targets require a low-flying, highly maneuverable target.)

To use a pilot-plane with drone-towed target for this type of training would endanger both planes and pilot. So the RCAT was used until recently when the cheaper target flag was substituted.

The target plane—which costs approximately $2,500—is a 12-foot miniature controlled from the ground by radio. It can be maneuvered to dart quickly in and out of range as its hedge-hopping prototype does when flown by the Air Force.

The target flag used with the radio-controlled target plane is made from large flags served at the Air Force after displaying targets for the larger anti-aircraft guns.

The low-line for an RCAT flag is made from used parachute line tied together to provide a 500-foot line for the flag.

After the RCAT's fuel supply is exhausted, or if the plane is damaged by a stray bullet, a parachute is released from the target plane to float it gently to the ground so it won't be damaged further on landing.

During a single month, the 2nd RCAT Detachment flew 30 missions. Planes towing targets gave firing units 1,200 crossing courses—"flights" during which the target passes across a line perpendicular to the gun.

169 Pints Given To Blood Center

One hundred and sixty-nine pints of blood were collected last week by the Blood Donor Center at Fort Benning.

The 36th Airborne Regimental Combat Team topped other post units with a donation of 64 pints. Haversaw was the Area Service Unit. Provisional Group, which gave 20 pints.

Other units and their donations are as follows: First Student Brigade, 20 pints; First Infantry Officer Candidate Regiment, 16 pints; 14th Infantry School Detachment, eight; Army Field Force Board No. 3, seven; Provisional Medical Group, three; and Combat Training Command, two.

Soviets Trying To Copy Signal System of U.S.

(Editor's note: Following is the second in a series of six articles comparing a U.S. Army combat division with the Infantry division of the Soviet Russian Army.)

When the U.S. Army has been criticized for having approximately twice as many radio men in one of its Infantry battalions as are found in a Russian Army battalion, the criticism is usually based on the fact that the U.S. Army has more radio men per soldier.

But this very fact spells the difference between killing power and ineffective firepower.

The present U.S. Army communications system has been tested and proved in battle. It has established American commanders in control and, in many instances, contact almost far superior numbers.

The Russians have learned the hard way that a division without communications is like a muscle without nerves but its forces without the capability of coordinated action.

Russia now is making every effort to copy the U.S. Army communications system as efficient as that of the U.S. Army.

Initiating U.S.

Since the beginning of the Korean conflict, the Russians have imitated every major U.S. technological advance.

At present, 12 per cent of the Russian Infantry organization is assigned to communications duties. In the U.S. Army, the figure is 15 per cent. If the Russian effort to improve their communications system is successful, the three per cent differential is certain to be closed.

U.S. artillery has proved to be the most flexible and, therefore, the most powerful known to the modern world. A very significant comparison of modern communications-controlled artillery with the older style can be drawn from the Korean conflict.

U.S. Operations in Korea are supported by artillery which is the last word in effectiveness due largely to communications. North Korea and Chinese artillery units are at a great disadvantage because they often are limited to pre-arranged fire missions—because they lack the mobility and flexibility of the U.S. Army's units. Forward observers are unable to obtain fire on targets of opportunity. Communist infantry units are unable to obtain rapid

Post Is 2nd In Donations For Koreans

It has just been learned, in a report issued Tuesday, that Fort Benning was the second highest contributor in the Third Army to the 1952 Thanksgiving offering for Korean orphans and orphanages.

Donations totaling $1,044.47 were collected at relations' parties by Fort Benning chaplains for the all-over Third Army offering, which reached a grand total of $1,568.12, according to Chaubain (Col.) Lexington, O. Shindler, Infantry Center chaplain.

Camp Rucker, Ala., was the highest contributor with $1,568.87.

The special offering, requested by Lt. Gen. Alexander R. Bolling, Third Army commander, has been forwarded by him to Gen. Mark W. Clark with a request that the money be used by U.S. Army chaplains to purchase gifts they consider most vital to the needs of Korean orphans.

Baker Writes 130 OC Names In Icing On Two Huge Cakes

Pfc. Arthur J. Fernandes of 20th Mountain, Meigs, is satisfying his life's ambition as a baker for 20th OC Company. He is receiving commendations for his original and tasty pastries from other companies and is a cadre personnel alike.

Every now and then Pfc. Fernandes creates something out of this world for the appetites in 20th OC Company, but last week he created a series of cakes that really won acclaim.

The creation consisted of three maple cakes with buttercream icing. The original came in the form of decorations. Two of the cakes bore the names of the candidates assigned to the company and the third was decorated with a replica of the "Follow Me" patch, two OCS patches, and the unit designation—all in different colors.

When they were served at dinner, each candidate received the piece bearing his name and cadre personnel shared the other cake.

Pfc. Fernandes says he didn't have anything else to keep him busy that night. "With the class conducting soon (Feb. 13) I thought it would be appropriate to give something special in honor of the occasion," he says.

General Depot Men 130 Reenlistments Recorded In Dec.

Fort Benning with 130 reenlistments ranked first percentage-wise in the Third Army area during December. The post's reenlisting office reported Friday.

Other posts in the Third Army area reporting reenlistments included Camp Stewart, Ga., 28; Fort Bragg, N.C., 173; Camp Jackson, Ala., 41; Camp Rucker, Ala., 82; and Fort Jackson, S. C., 179.

CHAPLAINS OF THREE FAITHS DISCUSS PLANS FOR OBSERVANCE

Brotherhood Week Begins At Post Today

Fort Benning will observe National Brotherhood Week beginning today—with emphasis on understanding and cooperation among all people. Assistant Infantry Center Chaplain (Major) Robert B. Herndon announced.

A Christian hospital will speak at Jewish services tomorrow at the U. S. Army Hospital Chapel, and Jewish Chaplain (Lt.) L. B. A. Mussman will be guest speaker at general Protestant services Sunday in the Main Chapel.

National Brotherhood Week here will be held in connection with the two-week Armed Forces Peacekeeping Mission which begins Sunday. The New Dr. John Samuel Land, pastor of New Oriental Land, Park Avenue Presbyterian Church, will lead the mission.

During February, a series of ecumenistic missions will be held to assist every military installation in the nation.

Brig. Gen. G. S. Meloy, Jr., Infantry Center commander, will entertain for Dr. Land Feb. 16 at a luncheon at the Main Officers Mess. Guests will include eight Protestant clergymen from Columbus, commanders of Fort Benning's major units, and all Fort Benning Protestant chaplains.

Dr. Land is a graduate of Presbyterian College (See BROTHERHOOD, Page 1).

Our 'Watchdog' Pares At Costs

The watchdog of Fort Benning's purse is showing its teeth again. A penny saved is a penny earned is the slogan of the Third Army and the Comptroller's Office here is taking up the cry of the economy battle.

Cost consciousness is a state of mind, according to Lt. Col. Norman A. Campbell, assistant comptroller and such cost thoughtfulness is paying off.

Known as the Management Improvement Program, the curbing of cost of operation includes work simplification, work measurement, manpower survey, supply economy and cost consciousness, efficiency awards and employee suggestion.

The Work Simplification Section of the Comptroller's Office here has set up a two-week course for civilians who supervise between 5 and 10 persons. Supervisors learn to simplify the work of their employees. After classroom instruction they are given three months in which to make a suggestion that will result in a savings in material or money for the government. Without these suggestions, the course is "funkt."

Simple recommendations by employees are the construction of permanent shipping box for certain items, thereby saving lumber and nails, and a suggestion for using fewer nuts and bolts in a power survey done with the amount of work achieved by employees, not with a saving in material.

Reclaim Clothing

In some instances the Army has emphasized economy by putting a coat tag on equipment, stating exactly how much each item costs the government.

Used clothing is reclaimed by the (See WATCHDOG, Page 8)

Cross Fingers, Knock On Wood; Fatalities—None

According to Norman A. M. Evans, Infantry Center safety director, Fort Benning is reaching for an all-time driving safety record. There have been no driving fatalities so far in 1953, while last year at this time there had been six," Mr. Evans declared.

He pointed out that there has not been a Fort Benning driving fatality since Nov. 24 of last year.

High Decorations Awarded To Three Benning Officers

Two Silver Stars and a Distinguished Flying Cross were presented to three Fort Benning officers Saturday by Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., Infantry Center commander.

Oak Leaf Clusters, in lieu of second Silver Star, were awarded to Col. Herbert J. Vander Hiele, 1st Lt. Howard Smith of Clayton, N. Y., 1st Lt. Emory Albert of Bowling Green, Va., and the Distinguished Flying Cross.

Following presentation ceremonies Meloy and Col. Harry M. Grizzuti, commander First Infantry Officer Candidate Regiment, reviewed a parade of the School Officer Candidate Battalion.

Col. Vander Hiele was commanding a regiment near Kamsung, Korea in October when the action occurred for which he was awarded the Silver Star.

According to the citation he "continually remained in the forward areas despite dangerous enemy fire, serving as a constant inspiration to his men."

The citation also reports that a Col. Vander Hiele "disregarding his personal safety, moved forward and eliminated a hostile machine gun which was firing on friendly troops."

Ford Group Here To See

Lt. Smith won his decoration while serving as a platoon leader with Company I of the Eighth Cavalry Regiment near Chobokkol, Korea, Nov. 21, 1951.

The outpost held by Lt. Smith's platoon was subjected to a "massive volume of artillery, mortar and machine gun fire."

New General Is Assigned

Brig. Gen. Carl F. Fritzsche Will Be Assistant Commandant

Brig. Gen. Carl F. Fritzsche of Cleveland, Ohio, now assistant commander of the 25th Infantry Division in Korea, has been appointed assistant commandant of the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Secretary of the Army Robert T. Stevens announced Monday.

He will return to the U. S. next month.

Gen. Fritzsche went to the Far East in April, 1952, after two years as an instructor at the Army War College.

He was born in Cleveland, March 27, 1903. After attending Miami University at Oxford, Ohio, for two years, he entered the United States Military Academy at West Point, graduating in 1928.

He has attended the Command and General Staff College, National War College and Army War College.

The 49-year-old general was at Fort Benning in 1952 as a student in the Infantry School's company officer course.

He holds the Legion of Merit, Bronze Star Medal and Army Distinguished Service Cross.

Gen. and Mrs. Fritzsche, the daughter of Col. Harry B. Crockett, Lt. Col. Fred W. Crockett, Mrs. Crea and their daughters, Barbara, L. and Anne, 15, will reside at Fort Benning.

Dimes Total $10,500 On The Post

Contributions to the 1953 March of Dimes have risen to approximately $10,000, with all major post units having reported, it was announced Monday.

Some smaller units and late collections, however, had not been tabulated according to Col. P. C. Serff of San Rafael, Calif., Fort Benning's chief of fund-raising.

Among the major contributions were $3,800.38 from the First Student Brigade and $1,850 from the Area Service Unit Provisional Group.

Proceeds from last Thursday night's boxing matches, which totaled $260.25, also were contributed to the infantile paralysis campaign by Special Services.

The Infantile Paralysis Foundation chapter in Columbus will receive the money.

Capt. Blomquist Heads Photo Lab

Capt. Harry E. Blomquist of Philadelphia, Pa., has arrived at Fort Benning for duty.

Capt. Blomquist will be in charge of production in the Signal Corps Photo Lab and will be responsible for all official photographic requirements from the post and surrounding areas. It was pronounced a "gala affair."

Highlight of the evening was the presentation of a King and Queen from more than 100 contestants.

Pvt. Pete Bow, Company C 46th Engineers, was selected King after counting of the votes. Pvt. Bow entered the service from Falmouth, Me.

P-TA Examines Kids' Problems

The Child Study Group of Post Benning's P-TA is conducting a series of monthly programs dealing with educational problems and problems at various grammar school age levels.

In March, the program will feature situations pertaining to the second and third grades, in April fourth and fifth grades, and in May grades six, seven, and eight. Both parents and teachers will participate in the programs.

The first program, held recently, was a two-page playlet depicting the contrast between the old-type and modern classrooms. A discussion and question period followed the playlet, which Mrs. Evelyn Southwood, P-TA chairman, was in charge.

Those participating included kindergarten and first grade teachers, kindergarten instructors were Mrs. Helen Crowley, Miss Mary Reese, Mrs. Shirley Bradley, Miss Isabelle Cahalan, and Miss Dottie Smith, who portrayed students. Teachers' and first grade instructor Mrs. Marjha Harding.

Other first grade teachers in the play were Miss Jean Johnson, Mrs. Rita Dance, Mrs. Lucille Martin, Mrs. Daphne Whitley, Miss Blanche Cross, and Miss Sue Fowler.

Week's Drive For Bonds Off Monday

One who has been to Korea and knows how it is over there is Cpl. Jerry Crump, Medal of Honor winner. This is what Jerry says about Defense Bonds:

"I got hurt, but I got back alive because our armed forces have the finest medical equipment in the world—even in the front lines. And you helped get it there by investing in U. S. Defense Bonds."

An intensive one-week Defense Bond drive for civilians will be held at Fort Benning beginning Monday, Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., infantry center commander, announced.

The drive will be headed by Charles Davis, secretary of the Civilian Personnel Division's Suggestion Awards Committee. It's slogan will be "One Week for America," and will coincide with a similar drive in Columbus.

Mr. Davis will be aided in the campaign by vice chairmen appointed by various units on the post. An effort will be made to see that every individual has an opportunity to purchase a bond, he said.

Kick-off meeting of Mr. Davis and his vice chairmen was held Tuesday morning in the Civilian Personnel Division Office, according to T. A. Barlett, division chief.

An Atlanta representative of the Savings Department of the Savings Bond Division was one of the speakers and Joseph Woodruff, state director of the Division, was to offer campaign literature.

Message Center Responsible For Smooth Unit Functioning

By PFC MERV MELTZER

Nerve center of every military installation is the section known as the Message Center. Without it, business in the unit would slow down to a crawl. It's responsible for all distribution in the unit.

Under the supervision of its chief clerk, MSGr. Harold Graham, the message center of First Student Brigade is second in importance only to the Infantry Center section itself in operations at the Infantry School. Sergeant Graham's group is charged with the routing of all official and semi-official papers and bulletins for the routing of all official and semi-official papers and bulletins for the routing of all official orders. Within the section, the most important single function of the message center is the checking of correspondence for indorsement and enclosure and the proper expedient of urgent messages and papers. This task falls to SFCs Ambrose Garber and Clifford Hugelback.

The two other men assigned to message center are Cpl. William Hopper, who operates the Mimeograph machine, and Pfc. Ray Fowler, the section's driver.

QC Post Office Rated Superior By Third Army

The four-man staff of the First Officer Candidate Regiment's post office has received a "superior" rating from the Third Army Postal Inspector.

Col. Harry M. Grizzard, commanding officer of the regiment, has complimented the men for their fine showing in the inspection and said he is "highly pleased" with the report he has received from Third Army headquarters.

The staff, all members of Headquarters and Headquarters Company, is headed by Sfc. John Haddock. The other members are Cpl. Joseph D. Spence and Pfc. John A. Prigger, Jr., and Dwight Binchard.

Magic Eye Identifies Motor Ills

BY PVT. DANA SEMOUR

It has long been realized that an automatic pilot has proven itself a boon to aviation, and, to a great extent, relieved pressure on the "live" pilot. Now someone has taken pity on the poor burdened aircraft mechanic and devised what most mechanics may come to nickname the "Automatic Mechanic."

Actually this new device, the Sperry Engine Analyzer, does just what its name implies. It detects, locates, and identifies engine troubles with such clarity the mechanic can switch trouble as it begins to develop long before conventional instruments show any symptoms.

The Sperry Engine Analyzer closely resembles the television set in your home, but it's a good bit smaller. Unlike your TV set, however, the desired view on the Engine Analyzer screen is the static pattern that you'd just as soon do without on your TV screen. The static pattern, says, do the engine troubles, each pattern identifying a specific trouble.

For example, before the advent of the Engine Analyzer the aircraft mechanic had difficulty in locating one or more faulty spark plugs. That's now such difficulty is water under the bridge, for the Engine Analyzer is capable of detecting and pinpointing the trouble to a specific spark plug in a specific cylinder without faulting each and every plug and its trouble by a static picture.

So the next time you see static lines on a television set remember that in aircraft engine work it's the static picture that's important. Also under surveillance by the 50th Transportation Co. (Hqtr) is the Bendix Ignition Analyzer.

The Party Line

I think that I shall never see
 A poem lovely as a tree. . . .
 Last week in "The Bayonet" we recorded that the forests of Britain had provided enough timber to "lift the mortgage," almost $5,000,000 worth. Therefore our piece of earth has "twice" been paid for in full, and posterity is served.

But today, upon reflection, we see more in Britain's trees than the dollars that took so long in growing. We see high in their branches and between their twigs those things which the poet sang; but because we are children of another day we can see that trees and poets may grow and work and die, as it were, in vain.

Trees inspired Kipling to beautiful things, and he left to us thoughts that shall live forever. He did not say that trees worked long hours, produced while others slept, or that they could not be bent to man's will; but he knew these things, as we do. He knew that trees grow as God tells them to grow, with unobstructed aid on every breeze. Therefore

Horror of Horrors!

In a federal courtroom several weeks ago a judge pondered the sentencing of 13 so-called "second-string" Communist writers. At one point he suggested that perhaps it would be better to deport the 13 to Russia rather than place them in a prison here and feed them.

Much to his amazement, and probably the horror of every Communist propagandist writer, the 13 volunteered the information that they would gladly take any prison sentence that was sent to the "workers' paradise." Like many Communists before, including some of the original founders of the Communist Party in the United States, these people were making public acknowledgment that the bill of goods they are peddling is as flimsy as it is fraudulent.

The Decent Thing To Do

The driver of the car whined as he heard the rasping sound that metal makes as it grates against metal. Furtively he climbed from the driver's seat and inspected the other car. The streak of black paint was a study in contrast on the sleek fender of the yellow convertible and the small dent in the fender was set at a rather rakish angle, but he knew that the owner of the convertible would not be too pleased with it either. Therefore, after a quick look around for witnesses, he quickly climbed back into his car and sped from the scene.

Of course, the above is fictitious, but similar events are taking place every day in the parking lots and along the streets of The Infantry Center. In many cases when there are no witnesses the offending driver quickly absents himself from the area and leaves the owner of the damaged vehicle to pay the cost of repairs. Common sense should dictate another course of action. Accidents of this sort happen. Rare indeed is the person who

Eisenhower Supported On Far East

Prominent Congressional leaders have voiced their support for back any move that the Eisenhower administration would make in the Far East, including a blockade of Communist China.

Sen. Robert Taft of Ohio says that he personally favors a blockade of China, but believes that the United States should first try to get Allied support for the move. He added that he has no official information that the administration is planning such a move.

Sen. Richard Russell of Georgia has also joined the growing congressional demand that a blockade against Red China be instituted.

Secretary of State John Foster Dulles has returned from his European tour and given President Eisenhower a "blatantly optimistic" report on prospects for the proposed West European Army.

In his talk with the President, Dulles stressed that they had discussed only the "high points" of the 10-day trip to several European countries. A full report is scheduled for later in the week at a meeting of the National Security Council, whose members include the President, Dulles and military leaders.

The Secretary of State also said that he will report to "members

Gen. Meloy Presents Diplomas To 14 Work Study Graduates

Fourteen military and civilian non-commissioned personnel who completed the work study course at Fort Benning were presented certificates last Tuesday by Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., the Infantry Center commander.

Those receiving certificates include six Operations Section of the Infantry School and eight representatives from the Transportation Section.

Two others from the Operations Section were transferred and will receive certificates at the Camp D. Gordon Harshbarger, S. C. chief of the Organization and Methods Division in the Convalescent's Office.

Operations personnel receiving certificates were: Mrs. Janice Modling, M-Sgt. Clyde R. Birch of the Supply and Budget Division; Property Officer: M-Sgt. Wadus W. Parker, class custodian; Sgt. Ward A. Smith, Publications Section; Sgt. C. A. Longford, Publications Division; Lt. E. F. Murphy, Planning Terrain and Ammunition Section; Lt. Leif E. Call, classroom custodial officer, and M-Sgt. H. O. Marshall, Drop Receiving Branch.

Transportation and personnel receiving certificates were: Capt. Robert L. Nader, Eric Francis A. Allen, M-Sgt. Alvin E. Grant, and Sgt. Louis G. Hill, Cadet Army, Grant, Ver-

Maj. Ramirez Is Made Exec.

Maj. Augustin A. Ramirez, who formerly was the 1st of Combat Division, 1st Lt. Leif E. Call, Training Command, has been appointed Executive Officer, 2d Battalion, 30th Regimental Combat Team, Col. Frank L. Eider, Commander, Fort Benning.

Major Ramirez has returned to the 30th after completing the Associate Advanced Officers course at the Infantry Center. He is an outstanding student in the school and second in his class.

A native of Puerto Rico, Major Ramirez was in the 1st of Combat from 1950 to October 1951, with the Army's Puerto Rican Regiment, 6th Infantry Regiment. He also served with that unit during World War II in North Africa, France, and Germany.

Major Ramirez has been with the 30th since his return from Korea, with the exception of the Commanding Officer's duty assignment he attended the Infantry School.

2d Bn. Of 30th Wins 2d Award

The 2d Battalion, 30th Regimental Combat Team, has received an Army Certificate of Appreciation for driving 100,000 miles without an accident in government vehicles.

Col. Frank L. Eider, Commanding Officer, 30th RCT, presented the Certificate to Lt. Col. Robert Thompson, 2d Battalion, 30th RCT. This is the second award presented to the 2d Battalion since its formation.

The Battalion is well on its way to reaching the third award but its present commanding officer will not be able to finish the act and receive it. Colonel Thompson is now on orders for an overseas assignment and will leave soon.

Buddy Seats Unload $100 In Dads' Lap

The Fort Benning Dads' Club collected about $100 when it sponsored a "Buddy Seats" contest. The contest was held on Feb. 10 at the Polo Hunt Club.

Special prizes that the club prepared to help support the contest were a radio, a clock, a watch, and a pair of shoes. Another buddy seat ride contest was held on Feb. 10 between 9 a. m. and 12 noon.

The contest was held at the Polo Hunt Club. The club is now planning to hold a "Buddy Seats" contest on Feb. 17.

Construction Cost Hits Million Here

Fort Benning is a beehive of construction activity. The Infantry Center Building, estimated at 463 worth of contract work currently in progress.

Unauthorized Air Units Are Being Hunted

Louis E. Abritton, electrical engineer, and Stephan A. Avary, mechanical engineer, both of Third Army headquarters, are at Fort Benning to inspect air conditioning and refrigeration units.

Mr. Abritton and Mr. Avary will also check summer maintenance units. Col. Richard F. Davis, Infantry Center engineer, reported.

One of the purposes of the inspection is to determine whether there is any unauthorized air conditioning in any authorized in a few cases, such as theaters and restaurants.

He further pointed out that even the installation of air conditioning units from private funds, and any unauthorized air conditioning in a building by the Pressure Concrete Company, at a cost of $25,000, is a violation of the law.

He added that special permission orders obtained from the Department of the Army in private funds, and any unauthorized air conditioning in a building by the Pressure Concrete Company, at a cost of $25,000, is a violation of the law.

School Instructor To Address AAUW

How the Army carries democratic ideas to foreign countries will be the subject of an address Saturday by Lt. Col. Frank D. Quirk of Fort Benning, to the Association of University Women.

Major Quirk is an instructor in the Infantry School's staff department at Fort Benning.

Before assuming his present duties at Fort Benning, Major Quirk was assigned to the Airborne Infantry Center, 2d Airborne Division at Fort Bragg.

He holds the Bronze Star Medal for gallantry in action, Air Medal and Purple Heart.

Officer Class Learns Future Assignments

Three officers from the Army's Infantry Career Management Division returned to Washington, D. C. Saturday after announcing future assignments for Fort Benning officers.

Col. R. P. Owsinghouse, division chief, Lt. Col. K. Olson and Lt. Col. C. E. Porteous told students in advanced classes what their assignments will be following graduation May 31. They also reported assignments for other Fort Benning officers expecting transfer within the next six months.

HALCYON DAYS . . . AFTER TURMOIL IN KOREA Lt. Landers Supervises Maintenance; Cpl. John McMurtry

M-Sgt. To 1st Lt. In 122 Days Is Record Of 508th's Landers

From master sergeant to first lieutenant in 122 days, that is the record of one of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team's most decorated officers. Lt. John P. Landers, Headquarters Company, Second Battalion, made the promotion in Korea after winning the Distinguished Service Cross, Silver Star, Bronze Star, and Purple Heart.

The Second Battalion motor officer ran by wears all his decorations and few people in his own unit know of his deeds. His uniform is usually decorated with only his Combat Infantryman Badge and his silver jump wings.

A veteran of seven years in the service, Lt. Landers has 27 months overseas duty in the Far East Command. The husky blonde officer first went overseas as a corporal. He served with the West-105th Platoon of Company P of the 21st Infantry, the 9th Infantry Division, and while a member of that unit, as a platoon sergeant, his whole company was pinned down by fire near the Nakdong River. Landers and other sergeant rushed the well fortified automatic weapons with two bags of hand grenades and completely annihilated the enemy. For that

Landers won the Silver Star. During the bloody withdrawal from Thion, Landers organized and took charge of a convoy of six trucks carrying 174 wounded men to South Korea. Though enemy fire was coming in from hills surrounding the roads, he kept the convoy moving until an enemy roadblock menaced the lives of all. Organizing the men with another NCO, Landers split force and rushed the roadblock. A nightlong battle ensued and

Membership At Mission Grows

St. Michael's Mission, which has been recognized by the Episcopal Diocese of Atlanta, now boasts a membership of 63, comparable to 200 parishioners in an average-size civilian parish.

The Fort Benning mission was recognized officially Oct. 21, 1951, as a result of the efforts of Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Albert V. Murray, former Episcopal chaplain at the Infantry Center, and the Rev. Colin Campbell, rector of Trinity Church in Columbia.

An Episcopal service of Holy Communion now is celebrated every Sunday in the U. S. Army Hospital Chapel by the Rev. Mr. Campbell, who conducts services in the absence of a regular priest.

Episcopal Chaplain (Capt.) Fred Weilage, who has been conducting services at Fort Benning, left the post in January and is slated for an early discharge.

43 Boxers Set For Tourney

First Round Of Eliminations Under Way

BY JIM ROSENTHAL

The Fort Benning Boxing Board whittled down its list of eligible boxers and came up with 43 fighters who will move into action for the year's ring championships tonight.

The first round of the elimination bouts will get under way with 15 bouts scheduled for tonight at the Field House.

The second round eliminations will be held next Thursday, with the championships being decided Feb. 20.

Top champions will afterwards participate in the T and R Army Boxing Tournament which will be held at Fort Jackson, S. C., March 11 and 12. All Army Tournament on March 21-22.

Because of the number of class three light heavyweights and light welterweights, boys were awarded to 1951's Tommy Miller in the light heavy division and William Wray of the 508th Airborne in the light welter class.

In the light middleweight division, two bouts will be held. Truman Davis of First SR is matched against Tommie Vane Marshall and Albert Farsene, another Black-shirt boxer, will tangle with Clifford Wilburn of ASU.

These two bouts will go first with the winners of each fight meeting in the 12th bout on the card to determine who steps into the class one middleweight.

The same situation prevails in the light welterweight division. Robert Collins of ISD faces Walter Rounson of ASU and James Gregory of First SR meets staminate Sam Smith. The two winners will meet in the evening's last bout.

Fighting twice in one night eliminates any further doubling-up during the final two nights of boxing. Other bouts that are scheduled for the quarter-finals are: heavyweights, George Hoopes of First SR against William Edmonds of ASU; light heavyweight, Frank Love of ASU meeting Ben Robinson of First SR.

Jack Young of First SR opposes James Boyd, also of First SR, in the middleweight division. ASU's Freeman Thatcher is pitted against Norman Salvaire of First SR.

In the welterweight bout, Elmer Blair of CFC fights Ernest Hart of First SR. James Bivins of First SR battles with Ed Stout of 508th.

In the lightweight class, August Wolf 508th meets his team mate Juan Jaramilla. The 508th also declared Bobby Rodriguez of the 508th Airborne the Fort Benning flyweight.

Remps Hurt
The Raiders high man was Herman Henry with 20 points. This tournament gets under way with the club's leader, Les Kemp, was hurt in the early stages of the contest and had to be taken out of the early stages of the year's look place last week when Coach Freeman's PMG Medics doctor, Ed Gough of First OC, Jim Guthrie, 67-64. The Medics, and credit give of CFC Jim Brennan of 508th Airborne, due to them, one missed a goal. Pinholster of ISD, Cliff played the Commanders. If it, Helms of Second SR, 21 points, man of PMG, and Bobby Dewe of ASU are meeting next week with Special Services sports officer, Maj. Gene Myers, to get plans settled for the tournament.

Last year's winners, the Genes, all went through an unbroken season only to lose in the quarter-finals. The first round of the tournament, the B I A E K shirts were hot on their heels all year, but when the two clubs met, the OC face came out on top. As the tables this year were reversed, the First SR five with their two high stepping forwards, Sweeney and John Dull, have been racking up all the league opponents. A quick look at the Fort Benning Basketball Statistics will tell you how effective they both were.

Previous High
The official score-keeper of the First SR-First OC contest, the high scoring record for Brian Wells was and the person requested the information was informed that Larry Ivan of the 508th Airborne dumped in 43 points a few weeks ago to set the high mark. Sweeney, as mentioned before, went wild in the second half and scored 41 points.

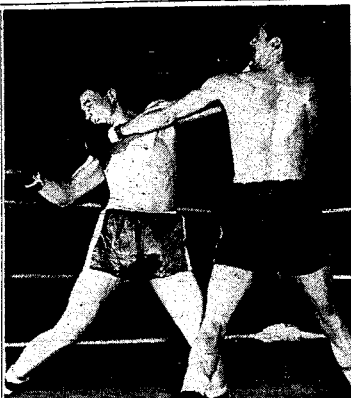

Pin did not move in a game total of 47 points and a new high, but still can better it. The Black-shirt mark for the 508th look the PMG Mours last night.

In the other game of the evening, the CTC commanders romped and jumped all over the ISD Prof. 86-55, with Roy Young scoring 24 points and Dick Thompson getting 47 points as he guided the First SR Black-shirt to a 39-29 victory over the First OC in what some cage fans call the end of the Fort Benning single round bout in league.

Actually, last night's game between the Second SR and ASU and PMG and 508th were the classic double header, but the results of the twin bill will not be published until next week's Bayonet due to our deadline.

Besides having set an individual scoring record, the Black-shirts also went through an unbroken season and beat their arch-basketball rivals for league honors.

EARL DAVIS (L.) AND JOE KENT EXCHANGE LEFTS 508th Boxer Scored 2nd Round KO Over ISD Opponent

Powerful Left Gives Blair Nod

Paid admission events that are scheduled by Special Services seem to be greeted by sports fans who stay away in droves even if the admission goes to a worthy cause like the March of Dimes.

The Boxing Board put on a nine-bout show last week and by the time the first bout fighters climbed through the ropes, Brian Wells of Field House held about the same crowd that turns out for one of the basketball doubleheaders.

Showing a remarkable improvement by knocking out August Wolf of 508th in 1:15 of the first round, Mathew in his first start beat Adell Dukes, while Wolf beat Willie Wright three times and decimated Fred Dastemarch once.

Coach Harry Breese, seeing that his fighter was hurt and liable to get injured some more by Rosen, climbed up on the edge of the canvas and told referee Cecil Dickson to stop the fight.

Warned boxer Dickerson in an earlier bout on the card, the Vince Marshall-Wille fight, the first round, Marshall stepped in and told the judges that the First SR fighter was hitting Taylor, a CTC boxer, below the belt in the clinch.

Marshall, however, still won the fight by decision with his superior hitting ability. (See BLAIR, Page 19)

Showing the crowd that he no longer fights like the clown of old, the CTC welter caught Stout with four fast lefts to the head and the last firing Red Devil clinched and felled heavy hitter Blair.

508th JOHN TREZISE (4) BRINGS BLOW DOWN COURT IN ASU CONTEST Red Devils Hit Century Mark 100-58. Other Players: Larry Ivan (8), Don Smith (10) And Raiders Ed Evans (6).

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

By Lester Dinaoff

With spring just around the corner and everyone breaking out with baseballs, softballs and volleyballs, Company H of the 30th Infantry RCT has inaugurated a volleyball tournament so that when their higher headquarters starts the regimental meet, they will be set.

Each platoon will be represented by a six-man team and each team will play two matches per week. The tournament will be used as a means to determine an All-SR team which will represent Company H in battalion and regimental competition. Captain Walter F. Meyers, Company Commander, is giving every man in the organization an opportunity to show his prowess and ability on the court, and expects to come up with a good team.

If any of you readers are interested in forming a fencing club, or getting some dueling practice, contact Lt. Mailier at the 308th Airborne PTO (71194). Mailier is an ex-collegiate fencer who carries his fols with him and is looking for a sparring mate.

Chris Duba, president of the Basketball Officials that work the 1953 Fort Benning Basketball League contests at Briant Wells Field House, pulled an "iron man" stunt a few weeks ago. Chris officiated at first game and when one of the whistle blowers for the second half of the twin-bill did not show, Chris went in there once again.

Everyone except one referee to my knowledge has college experience in basketball. Jim Stacy went to San Diego State, Herb Smith, Rhode Island U., Don Robm is a West Point, so is Gus Diehl, Rees Jones and Herchel Chapman, Jim Dunn went to Maryland, Frank Merrigold, DePaul, Jack Schoneky, Penn State, Russell Copeland, Ashland Statefield, Charles Langston, Tom Sparkman, Middle Tennessee State, Jack Murray, Oklahoma City University, Paul Morley, Milligan, Duke, Illeray State (Kentucky). Joe Smith's alma mater is unknown.

Special Services has lined up the Jack Kramer tennis troupe for a one night stand here at Fort Benning in early March. The professional racket men will play at Briant Wells two singles and one doubles match. Other members of the troupe are Frank Seaman, Pancho Segura, and Ken McGregor. Admissions at $1.50 to make it all seat.

Mt. Sgt. John Wilson of the ASU Provisional Group boxing team is on his way to EUCOM. After being long associated with the Raiders boxing team, Wilson has turned over the coaching reins to Frank Hartley, who has been an assistant coach. Hartley is ably assisted now by Billy Francis.

It has long been the contention of sportswriters that followers of the many art of modified-murder (boxing, that is) are among the most uneducated and ill-informed of sports fans. Like a person watching a foreign language movie, they laugh on the straight line and cheer when nothing worth a laugh is happening. Not one in 50 men can tell me the difference between left and right and a night crowd, and if there isn't any one here they do not buy.

According to one of my old buddies, Billy Stevens, who writes one of the best boxing columns in the country for the New York Sunday Enquirer, the Pentagon chiefs have officially given their approval to professional boxers who want to fight on their own time. This has been in effect for some time now and Stevens was kind enough to send me a letter telling about this.

Most of the fans in the basketball league have received invitations to participate in the Bibb City Tournament. If you are a fan remember, the 508th Airborne was last year's victor in the Columbus tourney.

Sic, Charlie Parker of the ISD A & R staff is readying a swimming meet and a billiards tournament for all Infantry School Detachments. If any of you remember any of the players on the combination ISD-ASU Green Wave football team, you will remember Parker, who wears the green and white jersey. These kinds fans and players who would like to improve their game could contact Chuck Evert at the Officer's Mess. Evert conducts a weekly class at the Club.

The Columbus Cardinals, inhabitants of Golden Park, will be taking off for spring training around March 15, Bill Bergesch reports. Last week the contracts went out to some 30 ball players and the first player to turn down the contract signed was Bill Harris, catcher, who hit .258 for the Red Birds last season.

The Fort Benning baseball season is slated to get under way in late March or early April, depending on how many teams are entered in the league. March 19-16, the games will be held in Gowdy Field on Sand Hill's diamond.

By the way, does anyone know of a good baseball scorer and statistician?

Troups for the 1953 Army Pistol team are now taking place. After a month of instructional periods and eliminations, Major Ellis Lee, coach and captain of the shooters, will send three five-man teams to the Mid-Winter Pistol Championships which will be held in Tampa, Fla. on March 19-21. Shooters from every Army command have sent their best here. Two of last year's returnees who shot the Army into world honors are Joe Benner, who fired in the Olympics, and Oscar Weinmayer.

Sic, Ed White and Sic, Glines of the Special Services sports staff are now students in the Busbush Umpires School in Sanford, Fla. They will be the men in black and arbitrators during the Benning baseball games. Sports Officer Gene Myers is preparing a Life Saving Course in conjunction with the Red Cross.

Benning Boxers Win 10 Crowns In Alabama GG

Fort Benning boxers walked off with 10 championships last week at the Alabama Golden Gloves tournament in Montgomery and are entered in the Southern Regionals in Nashville, Tenn., this week.

The First SR team, with Coach Jerry Periman calling the signals, took four championships in the white division and six titlists in the colored division.

In the white division, Fort Benning's 1651 heavyweight champion, Dick Lohmann, continued down the victory trail. Jack King, light heavyweight and a strong contender, was also victorious using a vicious body attack on most of his opponents.

Gordon Van Loon won the middleweight crown and Albert Forrest took the light middleweight title. In the colored division, Gene White claimed the heavyweight title and Jim Boyd last year's best light heavy winner, captured that class title. Joe Salvetto scored in the middleweight event and Jimmy Rivins won the welterweight crown.

Adel Dukes accounted for the light welter championship and Joe Clark garnered the bantamweight crown. Juan Jaramillo of the 50th Airborne was runner-up in the lightweight division.

HEAVY CHAMP... Fort Benning's amateur heavyweight boxing champion, Dick Lohmann, added another title to his string last week by winning the Alabama State Golden Gloves Heavyweight Crown. Lohmann scored a kayo over Bob Wagner of Mobile in 1:49 of the second round. Holding the champ's hand up is Referee Statford.

Lee Drops Close Decision To McCoy In Arena Battle

Al "Kid" McCoy of Macon won a split decision over Ray Lee, late of Fort Benning, in the main event of a five-bout card in the Columbus Arena last Monday evening.

Lee, who has been stationed here was transferred to Fort Bragg, N. C., and returned to Columbus for a special leave for the fight. The blood battle got the decision from Referee Bill Dierolf 33-47, 33-47, 33-47. Judge Art Wolf and John Sullivan saw it 31-49 for the Kid.

The action was fast throughout the whole fight, and brought the near-capacity crowd to the arena. Lee, a crowd to his feet many times. First one man, then the other would gain an advantage, but each time they shook off the blows and continued the furious pace.

The opening round was fought on a special leave for the fight. McCoy fought the range, with hard left to the head and caught Lee coming in. The hindmost left came right back in the third and delivered a solid right to the front fighter's head that spun him completely.

Little League Hoop Action Ends Saturday

Fort Benning Little League basketball season will end Saturday with the playing of the final four games and the awarding of trophies to the winning teams. Saturday afternoon's games will not affect the league race in either division "A" or "B". Trophies and athletic packets will be awarded to the winners of the final games of the Class "A" division, the Lawson Air Force Base of the Class "B" division, and the Infantry School Detachment. The Infantry School Detachment has a record of wins against the Lawson Air Force Base and the Infantry School Detachment has won its last game in league competition.

Standings of other teams in the Class "A" division are: The Service Unit—four victories and six losses; First Student Regiment, three wins and seven losses; Combat Training Command, three victories and eight defeats.

The new regulations state: (1) During the first 37 minutes of play, a foul by a player in the key area of an overtime period, whenever an ordinary foul calling for a free throw is committed, the fouled player will be given a second chance to make the point if he misses the first time. A second foul is still taken and counts for two points.

(2) In the last three minutes of regulation or overtime play, all fouls automatically call for a free throw, each worth a point. All through the game, all free throws must be taken with no waiting permitted. Ten seconds are allowed to take every free throw.

F & G Assn. Raises Bounty On Varimits

Due to the large number of varimits on the Fort Benning Military Reservation, the Fish and Game Maintenance Association has raised the bounty on predatory animals and birds during this month. When a hunter brings in the carcass of a bobcat or a fox, the F & G Office will pay him $5. However, the bounty on animals or birds must be killed on post.

WARMIN' THE BENCH

College basketball is receiving a new facelift for the 1952 season. Under the new rules which are expected to add eight to 20 minutes of action to each game, the average score may also be increased. With the hoop game turning towards more offensive play, it is doubtful that there will be any repeats of those scenic 22-41 scores of the past.

The new regulations state: (1) During the first 37 minutes of play, a foul by a player in the key area of an overtime period, whenever an ordinary foul calling for a free throw is committed, the fouled player will be given a second chance to make the point if he misses the first time. ## 'Gold Dust' Twins Top Benning Cage Scoring

BY MEVY MELTZER

With the first half of league play over, and the Student League quietest still the team to beat that you truly dubbed the "Gold Dust" twins, continue to dominate the scoring throughout the season.

Average better than 40 points per game, the twins, George Swyers and John Dull are coasting down the court with ease. In this year's campaign, a "Gold Dust" twin is the leading scorer in three inches shorter than the Blackie's center, Tom Richardson who is 6'8", he is the answer to Coach Terry Scott's prayer. No small man to begin with, Swyers has been doubling in brass, his great leaver's compliment, his scoring throughout the season.

High Jumper

Going up like a high jumper on a goal stick, he gave the club a heavy arm. At six-foot, he is an inch shorter than his scoring partner's height in the Benning circuit. Swyer's "ability" is not a

OC Candidate Recalls Past

Only an athlete would become the least bit nostalgic at the thought of an approaching Army Physical training test, but Candidate-Robert Holsten of 12th Officer Candidate Company, First O. C. Regiment, admits that the sight of a p.d. field brings back memories.

Holsten has butted his way through a ring career that extends over six years and 120 fights.

Born in San Francisco, he began his ring career at the age of 17 when he started dropping in at the YMCA gym for workouts. It was the same gym that was host to many of California's Golden Gloves champions.

In Holsten's first year of boxing, he fought his way into the state finals in the light-heavy division, but lost his final bout. He came out of the following year, but lost his "crow star" fight with two seasons of boxing behind him.

Holsten fought his way to the light-weight championship of California. After completion of high school, he entered the Kings Point, Naval Academy, New York, and over the while studying for a navy career, the young pugilist was able to participate in inter-ship bouts while on sea.

After his discharge, Holsten returned to San Francisco and resumed his fighting—this time as a semi-pro. However, he decided that he was getting a little too old to take the beating and retired.

Holsten mentions his bout with Willie Fox as one of his most outstanding at which time he gave the former service man a battle, "It's not too difficult in the light-weight division," he claims a battle, "Most of them can't stand one good punch often winds things up."

Tennis Tour Needs Plans Plus Men Like Sedgman

Let you be among those gullible souls who think all it takes is a major tennis tour is straining to locate a referee with a voice loud enough to carry down the street from the balcony, we suggest that you prepare and organization need adequate and organization need the necessary to make such an undertaking a success.

Putting together the ingredients that will make the dust of world professional tennis, the amateur link Frank Sedgman and world pro ruler Jack Kramer are the two men who are the key to a successful tour here at Miami.

The Kramer troupe, which will play two singles and two doubles, also will feature Ken McGregor and Francho Segura. McGregor is the tennis champion of Australia while Segura is runner-up to Kramer in world pro competition.

Just ask Kramer, the all-time tennis great who took this upon himself to promote his extravaganza. Having assembled the great Aussies and the colorful Segura, he merely had two things to do: one was to organize the tour and the second was to get the participants names down in contract form.

The big hitch was the fact that the Davis Cup Matches were scheduled just before the New Year. The Aussies and McGregor indicated that they would entertain a pro offer, absolutely unwilling to make any definite commitments until they had defended the prized trophy.

What few fans realize is that on an international tour of this nature, there is no stopping. On the U. S. segment of the tour the players will cover as many as 40,000 miles, playing an average of five nights per week.

If you have been following the recent Davis Cup Matches, you will remember that Sedgman, winner in all of his Davis Cup sessions, won the title for Australia and has been ranked the number one amateur for the last two years.

Along with McGregor, the Aussie duo are the only pair to ever sweep four major titles in one year: 1951; U. S., British, Aussie and French. This pair holds the title in youthfulness over the professional, Kramer and Segura.

Sedgman is only 25, while the ruler of the pros has reached 31. McGregor is a mere 22, while Francho, the famed two-faced player is the same age as Kramer.

For a modest, quiet youngster who would prefer to have his slushy racket do his talking, McGregor has gained more fame than most pro athletes. Most of his exploits have been course of grabbing off every major international net title. But a lot of it accrued through the "hustle" more than through the "game" of "hustle" play.

Sedgman started that ball rolling by becoming engaged to cute little Jean Spence. From there the Aussie picked it up with enthusiasm for which they are known and a wedding present of $12,300 for the couple.

Bush Leaves For Europe Next June

Col. George E. Bush of Gallipoli, Ohio, the Infantry School's acting assistant commander, leaves in June for duty in Europe.

Col. Bush has been acting assistant commander since Jan. 15 last when he was appointed to the post to succeed Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., now Infantry Center commander.

Brig. Gen. Curt Fritzsche, assistant commander of the 25th Infantry Division in Korea, returns to the U. S. next month to become assistant commander of the school.

Col. Bush also is assigned (See LIFE, Page 15)

OC Realizes Blood's Value

Like many other Korean veterans, Infantry Officer Candidate Donald M. Hankrick of Fort Benning knows the true value of blood.

Hankrick, of Cambridge, Mass., received mortal shrapnel wounds during Operation Killer two years ago near the Iron Triangle. "I'm all for the blood donor program. It saved my life," said Hankrick who was given more than four pints of whole blood, making up two pints of plasma.

"And I know from experience that blood donations have saved thousands of other lives."

Hankrick took the Bronze Star Medal, Purple Heart and Combat Infantryman Badge. He served in Korea with the 24th Infantry Division.

Newbold Gets Korea Citation

First Lt. William G. Newbold of Miami, Fla., has been presented the Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pedant for service in Korea.

Lt. Col. Hal D. Steward, Infantry Center public information officer, made the presentation.

Lt. Newbold, also assigned to The Infantry Center Public Information Office, received the decoration for his outstanding service with the Public Information Office Headquarters, Korean Base Section.

Chiang's Son To Visit Post

Five Chinese Nationalist Army generals, including the son of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek, are expected to visit the post for a two-day visit.

Headed by Lt. Gen. Hsu Pei-Kan, assistant chief of staff in the Ministry of National Defense, the group includes Maj. Gen. Yang Hsiang-Engineer school commander; Maj. Gen. Kung Yu, Infantry Center public information officer.

(See LIFE, Page 15)

Chiang's Son To Visit Post

As assistant public information officer, Lt. Newbold was responsible for supervision of all administrative functions, preparation of released news and feature stories, historical coverage and logistical support of accredited correspondents.

The citation reports:

During his duty in Korea and Japan, Lt. Newbold covered the Korean prison uprisings and the Republic of Korea political crisis. For the latter he received the Republic of Korea Order of Merit, Chung Moo, with the Silver Star. He also received the Bronze Medal, Purple Heart and Combat Infantryman Badge.

Lt. Newbold, a former recruiting sergeant in Columbus, is married to the former Eloise Alger of Donaldsonville, Ga.

Dads Club Meet Set For Tonight

The Fort Benning Dad's Club will hold its regular monthly meeting today in the Polo Hunt Club.

A buffet will be served starting at 6:30 p.m., followed by a short business meeting and a play, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," staged by club members. Motion pictures of the 1952 World Series also will be shown.

The February meeting will end the membership drive which has brought the club's roster to well over the 500 mark.

The Dad's Club will again operate the Airborne Department's buddy seat ride next Saturday between 8 a.m. and 12 noon with voluntary contributions collected to support activities which the club promotes at Fort Benning.

Special Events Planned

The Special Events Committee has plans to raise funds for the drive through soldier's shows, basketball games, bowling matches, a golf tournament, hillbilly jam-boree and more.

Honorary chairman of the campaign will be Brig. Gen. John Moloy Jr., Infantry Center commander. Majoritary board members will be major unit commanders and chiefs of the staff sections.

The Special Events Committee includes Col. Jefferson R. Crook, adjutant general; Capt. John A. Cramer, Red Cross field director; Capt. Arthur P. D. Sloan, O. Sheffield, Religious Activities Director; and Capt. Robert C. Sloan, Special Events Committee, and Major Robert C. Kinok, Publicity Officer.

Col. Gooler To Head Drive As Chairman

Plans have been completed at Fort Benning for the annual American Red Cross fund campaign, which opens Feb. 28 and ends April 1.

Col. Max H. Gooler, who will head the drive as executive chairman, has set a goal of 100 percent participation by the estimated 25,000 military and civilian personnel on the post.

Plans include the designation of Feb. 22 as Red Cross Sunday in all channels, and a special Red Cross offering will be taken March 15.

The Troop Information and Education Section will prepare and publish background information concerning the Red Cross activities at Fort Benning. Troop 1 & 2 also will distribute posters and organize discussion groups.

Be Leaders Of All, Pearson Tells Grads

The value of the Infantry's leadership in a modern world of technological advances was pointed out last Friday by Col. George O. Pearson, commander of the 50th ABN Division (Residential Combat Team), to nearly 200 graduates of the associate company officer's course.

Colonel Pearson, graduation speaker for the Infantry School course, urged the officers to be "purchasing bonds and contributing to the principles of specialization but not to particularism."

Charles Davis of Columbus, secretary of the Civilian Personnel Division's Suggestion Awards Committee and executive chairman of the current bond drive, and company chairmen are working toward 50 per cent participation by all Infantry personnel on the post.

Civilians Buy Savings Bonds

Fort Benning's Third Army Training Aids Center jumped from 10 per cent to 55 per cent in civilian personnel participation in the Savings Bond Drive Monday, first day of the campaign.

Before the weekend drive began, only three of the 29 employees of the Training Aids Center were purchasing bonds under the payroll savings plan. There are now 15 participants.

to forget that "the increasing complexity of organization and arms demands equal attention to efficiency in leadership." He also noted that the Infantry officer must excel.

Too Often Forget

"Officers of the Infantry — not only the young ones — too often forget their inherent role as leaders of all the branches," he said.

To often soldiers of specialized branches look to you for Infantry leadership only to find that the Infantry leader has become "over-assessed by the technical knowledge possessed by the specialist," Colonel Pearson said.

"Real armsof military leadership can be developed only by a study of Infantry tactics and training. It is the hard core of the 'any military program,'" he continued.

The Infantry junior officer must not fail to "study and prepare ourselves for higher command responsibilities," said the airborne veteran of Pacific campaigns.

The "Declaring War"

Battles soon become a series of platoon-size engagements with the side winning the greater number becoming the victor of the battle, he said.

"You (platoon leaders) are the deciding factor in every war," Colonel Pearson added. "So assert yourself as leaders by knowing that you have the knowledge to lead a winning team."

Look Out, Life, We're Out!

The strident sound of martial music, presentation of discharge papers, a last Army pay, and civilian life ahead . . .

That's the final phase of military life for 1,400 service men and women each month as they are processed through Fort Benning's Separation Point.

It is also the end of four days of consultations, physical examinations, pay record check, orientation, and interviews.

During those four days the future civilians have an opportunity to learn their veteran benefits, Army Reserve obligations, employment changes in defense work, and Civil Service and employment rights if they had a job before entering service.

Briefed on habits the servicemen busy with routine details, such as filling out cards for the post locator unit and mail check. When this is completed, they are issued mess hall passes and busing.

They are briefed on their civilian rights resulting from military service. They also may request an additional copy of the GI Bill if anything has been omitted in the briefing.

Shuttle buses take the men to the Army Hospital, where they are given a final physical check-up. Ten days prior to arriving (See LIFE, Page 15)

Even the smallest bit part received an excellent portrayal at the hands of the Little Theater group. So well did the players fulfill the demands of their craft that no one can really be singled out for praise.

Perhaps a special word should be said for Mrs. Ellen Heard and Miss Catherine Merritt, who played the roles of the two sisters. They portrayed the parts of the two lovely and crazy spinsters to perfection.

The only miscue in the play was pulled by a "cop" who persisted in carrying out his duty of controlling the "brob, lucked at a crazy angle under his arm.

We Are Not Alone

The fantastic production capabilities of the United States are being used repeatedly. During World War II the term "Arsenal of Democracy" was used widely, and even such a person as Premier Stalin himself paid tribute to the ability of the American muscles of our nation. But in our rush to sing our own praises we Americans tend to forget the job our Allies, such as the British, are doing.

The British contribution to the Allied propaganda program was shown dramatically when the English Canberra jet medium-bomber set a trans-Atlantic speed record establishing an average one-way time of four hours and two minutes. Several weeks ago it sped from the British Isles to Australia at the fantastic rate of speed. This plane is held in such esteem that it is being manufactured under license in this country as the B-37A by the Glenn Martin Company.

But the main British effort is being made in the heavy bomber class where seven heavy bombers have been placed on "super priority" basis. Planes in this class include the delta-winged Avro-688, a four-jet bomber; the H. P. 4, another four-jet plane, and the Victors Valant. All of these are described as having global striking power, carrying heavy bomb loads—the exact figures are not available.

Four nations of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization possess the ability to supply British tanks that proved themselves in battle during World War II, and again in Korea.

According to Britain's Ambassador to the United States, the British tanks that proved themselves in battle during World War II, and again in Korea.

Of course, the contributions mentioned above do not constitute the limit of the British cooperation in our mutual defense effort, but the Bayonet thought that it would be helpful to Americans to know that efforts of the British people are known.

U. S. Jets Fire On Russian-Type Craft

The Far East Air Force reported this week that two Russian-type propeller-driven aircraft made two firing passes toward U. S. interceptors and then a jet-propelled aircraft was shot down before being driven away from inside the boundaries of the Japanese islands.

The jets reported that one of the jets had been damaged and was smoking as they raced for the security of the Russian-held Kurile Islands.

The FEAFF reported that the American jets intercepted the two propeller-driven aircraft and with warning bursts informed them that they were to land. The planes replied to this maneuver with "heating firing passes" that were fired at the interceptors.

In Korea U. S. Sabre pilots guarding 200 Allied fighter-bombers on a raid at a Communist air base and supply center destroyed another and damaged seven more, the Air Force reported.

Ninety-six buildings were destroyed in the target area near Pyongyang, the fighter-bomber pilots reported.

The ground war was at a standstill as frigid zero weather descended along the battlefield.

President Eisenhower met this week with a score of administrative and military officials for a two-day conference which stirred speculation that the use

Former Mortician Wishes Drivers Could See Victims

Office Candidate Gerald P. Fiskert of 26th O Company, a former mortician says that drivers could see victims of wrecks as they pass.

Dubbed "The Last Man to let you down," by fellow candidates in his profession, Fiskert, a genial, friendly man, says that a mortician's grief caused by mishaps that everyone has the chance to see and hear is being done away with.

Fiskert, a former mortician from the Pittsburgh Institute of Mortuary Science in 1951, he was employed as an embalmer in a Johnston, N.C. funeral home.

To Hold Tryouts
The Fort Benning Little Theater announces that tryouts for their next production, "Who Comes to Dinner," will be held at 7:30 at Brown Hall, evening at 8:00. The play is a comedy and stage hands are needed. Make-up artists and dressers are also needed. Tryouts are scheduled for early May production.

Whosoever Gives . . .

"Whosoever gives to one of these little ones even a cup of cold water they will say that they shall not lose his reward."

Third Army personnel gave more than $100,000 in their annual contribution for relief of Korean orphans. Lt. General Alexander R. Bolling, commanding general of the Third Army, has received acknowledgment of the generous donation from Gen. Mark Clark and Col. James T. Wilson, staff chaplain, Army Forces, Far East.

"As the representative of the chaplains in the Far East," Chaplain Wilson wrote, "I, too, wish to express to you my feelings of gratitude for this act of Christian charity. It is a remarkable expression of Christian compassion on behalf of these destitute and forsaken children. The abiding nature of this spirit within your command is set forth by the fact that this is the second year that a Thanksgiving offering has been made to these children, demonstrating that this is no passing sentimentalism but a spirit of mercy that cares and remembers."

Chaplain Wilson, former Third Army chief of chaplains, was the originator of the Thanksgiving offering for Korean orphans. He started the movement in 1951.

Clothes Make The Man

According to news dispatches the Army enlisted men will soon get the chance to wear optional dress uniforms of blue if they are willing to pay the $60 or $30 the uniform is said to cost. The question still being debated is only the color of the trim and the service stripes are to be worn.

Comments from enlisted personnel here concerning the proposed change are widely divided. The desire to dress up and look sharp is strong with all enlisted men but the necessity of paying for the uniform is something else again. The Bayonet is not advocating that the American taxpayer pay for the uniform. Rather we believe that if a man wants to wear the uniform he will be willing to pay for it.

YOU'LL "GET HOME" FASTER BY THE NUMBERS

It's always a treat to "get home"—whether by plane, train or telephone. And usually, the faster the better.

That's why it's helpful to call by number when you make your visit by Long Distance telephone. When you give the operator the out-of-town number, she doesn't have to consult "Information" in the city you're calling and you'll "get home" faster.

You'll find out-of-town directories for frequently called cities at each telephone center. These centers are located at the Main Post, Saad Hill and Harmony Church area.

And remember, it's better for you to call the folks back home instead of their calling you, since you may be hard to locate. Charges can be reversed.

Gas Chambers Help Combat Gas Warfare

How does it feel to be caught without a gas mask during a gas attack?

Infantry Center personnel are learning the answer to this question during a training problem being conducted at the 6th Chemical Smoke Generator Company.

The problem, which consists of two steps, is designed to give the men confidence in their gas masks.

To perform the first step the man dons his gas mask, enters a room filled with tear gas, waits under the chamber and then leaves.

Then, so that the man knows how it feels to be caught in a gas attack without his mask on, he removes his mask, chamber and allowed to leave he must recite his name, rank, and serial number to one of the instructors who is present in the chamber. Then, in tears, he is allowed to leave.

Claims Title Of Youngest Veteran

18-year-old Pvt. Lohar G. F. Baur, taking Airborne training with Company D of the Airborne Battalion, claims a record as having been the youngest combat veteran now with the United States Army.

He was 12 years old in the Hitler youth movement in Germany when the Russians were advancing on Berlin during World War II. The Germans, short on manpower, used every available male, including Baur, for the defense of the fatherland.

After the war his sister, married to an American soldier, sent him to come to the United States. Lohar joined the Army with the idea of applying for OCS after he puts in five citizenship papers.

Airborne Buddies Are Still Together

Pvts. Donald E. Knowles and Alfred A. Pachini of Company A, Airborne Battalion, are carrying the "buddy" tradition mighty far. They might be Siamese twins, their lives have followed the same pattern so closely. They attended the same high school together and both worked as gas station attendants in their home town, Fitchburg, Mass.

They enlisted in the Army together and took basic at Fort Dix, N. J. in the same company. They plan to spend the rest of their Army careers together.

OC Celebrates Graduation; Donates 31st Pint of Blood

Lt. Don Eric Finney of Memphis, Tenn., joined 46 of his 20th OC Company classmates in fulfilling the donation quota of the First Regiment.

The 26-year-old officer, who began contributing blood while a high school student at Memphis in 1941, has been giving at a rate of at least one pint every six months. He has furnished almost enough to replace the blood streams of two persons.

As a constant blood donor, the former candidate says it takes less than four minutes to fill a pint bottle by his stop watch.

"Giving blood has not affected me physically except that I feel more energetic after a donation. At the same time, I know I'm helping someone who needs blood, especially in the battlefield."

He holds donor cards from the Baptist Hospital, the Methodist Hospital, and St. Joseph's Hospital, all in Memphis, and about six from Army blood donor centers.

Lieutenant Finney enlisted in the Army in 1945. After completing basic training at Camp Blanton, Fla., he went to jump school here and has 13 jumps to his credit.

His officer, made the presentation on occupation duty, and was discharged from the Army in 1948 as a sergeant.

As a civil service employee for the Air Force at Malheur Air Force Depot he organized a group of blood donors who contributed regularly to the Red Cross.

In April 1949 he enlisted in the

Promotion Quota For NCOs Raised

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army increased its enlisted NCO promotion quota by 10,000 over the January high as it announced the February quota of 70,700.

In the top three pay grades, the quotas remained the same last month—N. Sgt., 1,500; SFC, 4,500; and to Sgt., 18,000.

The increase in the sergeant (E-4) grade "The Army" a quota 5,000 to the lowest pay grade in February. This is an increase of 10,000 over the January quota and 34,000 more than projected in that grade last December.

Operations Office Cites Lt. Murphy

First Lt. Eugene F. Murphy of St. Albans, N. Y., has received a letter of commendation from the Infantry School's Operations Office for "outstanding services."

Col. Robert G. Sherrard, operations officer, made the presentation. The letter commended Murphy, an assistant operations officer, for his initiative, energy, and unusual initiative in terrain planning and forecasting needs for area maintenance and improvements."

British General Tours Post; Sees Training Activities

British Army Maj. Gen. W. Strick, left, left the post last week following a one-day visit to the Infantry Center.

Gen. Strick, commander of the Army Staff of British Joint Services Mission in Washington, D. C., conferred with Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., Infantry Center commander and then received an orientation of the Infantry School.

He also visited the Operations Office, Airborne and Weapons Departments, First Officer Candidates' Regiment, and Army Field Forces Board No. 3.

He was guest of honor at an official luncheon given by Gen. Meloy at the Main Officers Mess.

2 Colonels To Attend Conferences On Tanks

Col. James H. Adams and Benjamin N. Davis of the Infantry School's Combat Developments Section will attend tank conferences during February.

Col. Adams, section chief, left Feb. 16 for Fort Leavenworth, Kan., to attend a preliminary meeting of the fifth annual tank conference to be held at Aberdeen Proving Ground, and Col. Davis, assistant section chief, leaves for Aberdeen Feb. 20.

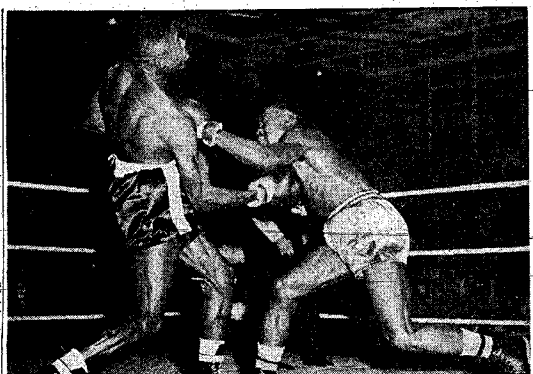

Representatives from the Armed School at Fort Knox, Ky., Army Field Forces headquarters at Fort Monroe, Va., technical services, and ballistics research laboratories also will attend the conference.

There are all kinds of people here at Fort Benning and one of the latest to come here is Caples G. Nolan, an ex-fighter, coach and boxing promoter.

The former matchmaker picks Turpin to succeed Robinson on the basis of his power and aggressiveness which was shown before defeating Carl "Boke" Olson of Hawaii as the best American middleweight...

Nolan entered the boxing scene as a lightweight fighting for the North Side Boys Club of Kansas City, Mo., the site of many of Ray Lee's early successes.

After getting his discharge, Nolan turned to promoting boxing and organized the Saines Boys Club in Utah.

Some weeks ago I too went out on a limb and predicted or picked whom I thought would win the 1933 Fort Benning Basketball League.

If you check the standings at this moment, you will see that I was right in my first two choices.

There is plenty of shooting going on in the vicinity of the Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club for the 1933 Army Pistol Team is working out on the club's range in preparation for the Mid-Winter Pistol Matches at Tampa, Fla.

Of last year's winning squad, Lea has three returnees. Joe Benner, Robert E. Knight and Oscar Weimmeister.

Frank Love of CTC is headed for the canvas after being the receiving end of one of Ben Robinson's powerful punches.

During the second SR-ASU contest, the officials called 49 personal fouls and four technical fouls and four technical fouls and four technical fouls.

Lew Jenkins Referees GG Fives In Texas

To boost the Austin, Tex., Golden Gloves bouts this year, Lew Jenkins, ex-lightweight champion of the world, was asked by his home state to return to the scene of his initial successes and referee the bouts.

Jenkins, first sergeant of 25th Company, First Student Regiment, was allowed by Uncle Sam to "visit the greatest state in the world" and participate in the "biggies."

The Austin Junior Chamber of Commerce awarded the boxer-turned-referee the Certificate of Distinction. Jenkins, accompanied by his wife and son, explained, "It was a junior to the key to the city."

A sketch of Jenkins, the beaten champion of the world, rising to the heights of a Silver Star winner during the Korean Campaign, graced the program of the fight, and on the inside cover was his life story. His rise from a cartoonist to the lightweight title, the story of loss, and his not caring about winning the Silver Star.

Pancho Segura Out-Strips Horatio Alger Characters

Like the housewives who never knew the boon of washing machines, mechanics, refrigeration and many labor-saving devices of the modern day, Horatio Alger was born too soon. Had he wielded his pen (pardon the verb) in this era, he would have to dream up rags-to-riches heroes.

He'd have a ready-made one in Francisco (Pancho) Segura, who smacking news from Ecuador who his out-strips Alger protagonists in his secondary attraction to the amateur tennis of his career.

Segura, who is playing Australia Cup at Ken McGregor here March 6 at East Wells Field House, has been showing the most dynamic tennis of his career.

PUSH SHOT . . . Dick Thompson (13), CTC forward, peddles the air while making two points for the Commanders in a recent game with the ISD Profors. CTC defeated the Profors, 88-55. Referee Jack Schoenley keeps sharp eye on play. ISD player is unidentified.

TOP BOWLER . . . M-Sgt. Curtis DeWitt, of the 11th Airborne Team No. 1, is the top scorer on his legging squib which is tied for second place in the 1952 Fort Benning Enlisted Men's Bowling League. Here is the style while Barney Haynes pines while Barney Haynes pines bowlers with five markers.

But he got a push up the ladder by a crisis motivated Guayby. Challenged to a tennis match, he surveyed his major dilemma; either it had to swallow his pride and appoint Segura to represent it or lose face in certain defeat. It swallowed its pride.

Get Yourself Tired
Pancho won and followed up by sweeping through the Bolivarian Olympiad—the accepted championship of South America. Delighted Ecuadorian spectators sent him off to the United States with simple and confident instructions: bring back the Yaguaj championship.

But to the consternation of his countrymen, Pancho was bounced out of tournament after tournament by ordinary players. It was a rough situation for the bewildered Pancho, a lad of 29, who had difficulty understanding basic English.

He first cracked the top ten in the United States in 1942, and he'll be turned pro following the 1951 season. For three consecutive years he was ranked third.

Since turning professional he has developed remarkably so much that many critics believe that he would have dominated the amateur ranks, at least until the servers, including Kramer, feel that it was the top-flight competition he encountered on two tours that made him so formidable.

To see Segura hopping around the court like a monkey on a stick, his white teeth flashing against the background of his swarthy Latin skin, his body contorted into strange positions to accommodate his odd strokes, is one of the top treats of tennis. Not a bit of it is conscious show, either, and the recognition of this fact makes him the darling of the galleries.

OC School Celebrates Re-act Day

The Infantry Officer Candidate School last week celebrated the second year of its reactivation, having been reopened February 1951 after a lapse of four years.

The school has played a major role in staffing the officer corps of the Army since the outbreak of the World War II. More than 67,000 lieutenants were trained here in the period from 1941 when the OCS program was instituted, until 11 May 1947 when the school was deactivated.

Meloy Asks 100 Per Cent Quota Be Attained By Post Personnel

Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., Infantry Center commander, has issued the following statement in connection with the Red Cross campaign:

The services offered by the American Red Cross are limited in their variety and extent by just one factor: the amount of money contributed to the support of those services.

Answer the Call! 1953 RED CROSS POSTER - "Marching Flags," as the poster is called, was used first in 1933 and is being used again—20 years later—because of its great popularity, according to American Red Cross officials.

ed with the respect due an officer by junior candidates. They are required to accept additional responsibility in their advancement toward graduation day, such as assistant duty officers, assistant officers of the day, and commanders of the guard.

Throughout training candidates are placed in positions of command—platoon leaders, platoon sergeants, platoon leaders, and company commander—and are judged by their tactical officers on their leadership ability. Inadequate performances by a candidate result in counsel from the tactical officer, and if the candidate fails to show improvement he may be referred to a panel of officers who, after discussing the case with the candidate concerned, may either recommend he be permitted to continue his training or that he be dropped from the school. Four such panels are held during a cycle, in the 8th, 12th, 16th, and 21st weeks.

Have Two Executive Officers
The First Officer Candidate Regiment is commanded by Colonel Grizzard, a graduate of the United States Military Academy at West Point with more than 28 years of Army service. He is assisted by Col. John P. Reed, executive officer for evaluation, and Lt. Col. Franklin R. Brickett, executive officer for administration.

The regiment is serviced by officer and enlisted cadre of Headquarters and Headquarters Company and men assigned to the various companies. Four men who were with the 1st OC when it was known as the First Officer Candidate Battalion, two years ago still remain with the unit. They are—Sgt. Emul Rogers Jr., first sergeant of 6th OC Company, Sfc. Goff L. Coleman, chief of the transport section; Sgt. Ray B. Leach, duty NCO of 6th OC Company, and Cpl. John L. Wright, company clerk of 29th OC Company.

He is still with them Mrs. Evelyn Yang, wife of Major Albert Yang, who is serving in Korea, is the only civilian service worker still connected with the OC program. She is a clerk in the classification and assignment section of regimental headquarters.

Five officers remain from the original staff; they are Capt. Joe B. Flores, regimental S-1; Capt. William K. Wimmer, commanding officer of 19th OC Company; Lt. Alfred M. Adams, 1st S-2; 1st S-3 officer; 1st Lt. Hamilton H. Ackerman; and Lt. Houston M. McMurray, commanding officer of 29th OC Company.

Charles Baxley Takes Fire Call At Main Control Board

Fire Eaters On The Ball

Firefighting at the Infantry Center has evolved from two antique trucks 13 years ago to a highly scientific operation today, says a Fire Chief Gilbert A. Ward, Jr.

There are now six fire stations on the reservation, 10 modern combination trucks, and 14 fire fighters. Two-way radios are installed in the trucks and in official cars to coordinate fire fighting operations from a control point, where a man is on duty 24 hours a day. When a fire is reported, a direct wire call is flashed to the station in that area, and in a matter of minutes a fire truck pulls up ready to swing into action.

Carry Gas Masks
The trucks carry fire extinguishers, dry powder and liquid foam-producing units, and high pressure water pumps. They are equipped with gas masks too.

Each of the trucks contains certain quantities of poisonous gas.

The fire chief pointed out that one of the fire departments in Brooklyn, N.Y., and Pvt. Herbert W. Ladden was sent to help remove the hazards, there are four full-time fire inspectors who make continuous inspections of buildings on the reservation to locate enemy mortars, machine guns and other close support weapons by radio.

The fire department has undertaken an extensive training program for its own personnel and enlisted auxiliary fire fighters. Originally, the regular fire fighters were chosen from among military personnel, but they are now civilian employees.

Col. Richard F. Ebbs, Infantry Center, organizer, is the fire marshal, and Walter Hatch E. Hamilton, assistant.

Haag 'Hurries' Through College

Capt. Charles F. Haag of Clark, N.Y., has completed two years of college work in a 12-month period without once leaving the post.

The officer accumulated the required 84 hours of college credit and held down his Army job in the Quartermaster Section's classification and repair division at the same time.

He took the Army's general education development test on the first year college level, receiving 60 credit hours, and then enrolled in the University of Georgia branch at the post, adding another 16 hours to complete his sophomore requirements with a B-plus average.

Because of his Army experience, Capt. Haag was exempted from the first year of college. He was appointed commanding officer of the Third Infantry Division's Quartermaster Company.

Koreans Knock; Ike Lets 'Em In

When an American citizen wants to see the President of the United States, he may write his Congressman, then be referred to a large number of secretaries of other officials who are not "sublimated" by the Chief Executive, and if lucky, he might meet the Max.

But a group of Republic of Korea Army officers from Fort Monmouth, N. J., were vacationing in New York, N. Y., during the Christmas holidays, and almost immediately were to the President's house and knocked.

At that time the Chief Executive was in the White House, and his secretary was living at the New York residence he occupied as president of Columbia University.

The Korean officers, who were staying at a midtown hotel, decided they would like to meet this famous man who was to be the next President. Although they had an appointment, they went from their hotel to Morningside Heights, where General Eisenhower was staying.

It is understood that a group of Korean officers, were invited to the White House by Mr. Eisenhower, who was vacationing in New York, N. Y., during the Christmas holidays, and almost immediately were to the President's house and knocked.

The Nature Of Man

By Chaplain Clarence M. Wallace

Mark Mark said that man is an animal — an eating animal. Underneath his behavior you must understand economics and the law of supply and demand. To make man happy you must give him a full inner life. The world we live in is a machine made that man must continue to eat. If he cannot eat he will be troublesome. If he cannot eat he will be satisfied and happy.

Charles Darwin said that man is an animal — a struggling animal. Survival and power are his chief objectives. Let man have dominion over his environment and influence over his fellows and he will be happy. He will not be content just to eat; he must also dominate. His lost for power is stronger than his appetite for food — let him be free, let him feast on the praise of men around him, and he will be content.

Sigmond Freud said that man is an animal — a breeding animal. The sex impulses are prior to any other life. Give man full and uncurbed expression in sex and he will be happy. Deflect or subvert his passions and man becomes unmanageable. Give his biology free rein and his problems are solved.

Arthur Koestler said that man is an animal — a reasoning animal. Give him knowledge and he will behave. Educate all men in the good life and they will live the good life. A man misbehaves because he does not know better.

Develop his mind, and his life will be controlled and he will be happy.

Karl Marx said that man is a SON OF GOD, made in the likeness of God himself. Man has within him infinite capacities for development from a creature "a little lower than the angels" to the heights of Sonship in the Family of God. Jesus said of man, "The Kingdom of God is within you," indicating the possibilities for good within every man. Jesus said that man can be truly happy only by the attainment of eternal fellowship with God.

Each of us must decide what should be our own attitude as to the nature of man and the meaning of life, and the destiny of man is determined by the choices we make.

Bill Would Grant Services Free Postage

(By Armed Forces Press Service)

Representative Lodge (R-Conn.) has introduced a bill which would grant free postage to all members of the Armed Forces. This would repeal the Postal Act of July 1956 which allowed "tracking" privileges only in certain specified areas. Troops in Korea are the only ones with the privilege at present.

Sky Is Like Home to 508th'er

The sky is almost as familiar as the ground to Lt. William L. Manderson of the 508th Airborne Parachute Regimental Combat Team, former stunt man who has made his 1000 Army parachute jump. Lt. Manderson, a paratrooper since 1943, says stunt jumps are exciting but sometimes frightening.

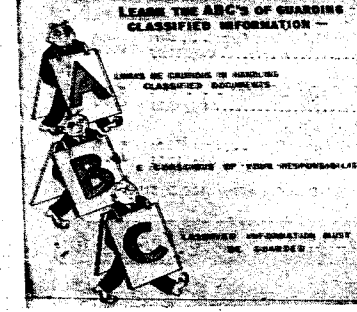

"It's thrilling for crowds, but once of twice I look good, but I don't like it in actual stunts," he declared. "I used to turn tips after about 1000 feet. One time I hung from the third status of a plane while it buzzed the crowd," he continued.

Mr. Manderson had stunt jump came when I was still trying my flaps when the parachute reached the ground. That's the only time I have been injured in a parachute jump.

Manderson, who commands Company D of the 508th, has made 10 jumps with an Air Force seat-type parachute from heights up to 10,000 feet. He began his high altitude jumps, 8,000 to 10,000 feet, while a sergeant with the Air Landing Training Division of the Airborne Department here. He also made many stunts for accuracy with this group.

Lt. Manderson served in Europe with the 508th Airborne Infantry Regiment, Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower's honor guard, and in the U.S. with the 508th Airborne Infantry Regiment.

PROPOSED DRESS UNIFORM — Choice on the Army's new dress uniform has been narrowed to the four models shown above. The final selection will be made by Robert T. Stevens, Secretary of the Army, in the near future. The proposed uniform will be authorized as optional and will cost approximately $10. Material for the uniform is Nersky, flannel or doeskin.

Two Korea Vets Named To School's Logistics Group

Major David Kern of Richmond, Va., and James Cole of Abingdon, Va., have been named to the Logistics Group of The Infantry School's Staff Department.

Major Kern came to Fort Benning after 34 months with the 16th Airborne Infantry in Korea. He returned to the United States in 1952, where he was assigned to the 16th Airborne Infantry. He was later assigned to the 16th Airborne Infantry. He was later assigned to the 16th Airborne Infantry.

Film Review

OFF LIMITS — Bob Hooper, Marjorie Maxwell, Mickey Rooney. Paramount may well have the makings of a new box office comedy team in Bob Hope and Mickey Rooney judging by their performance in this entertaining farce dealing with the pal's adventures as members of the military police. Family. Service comedy.

THE QUIET MAN — John Wayne, Maureen O'Hara, Barry Fitzgerald, Victor McLaglen. This story of an explosive courtship and marriage is in reality a pictorial display of the beauty and customs of Ireland where the picture was made. Everything from a tender love scene to fist fight that covers half of County Galway are made more effective by the authentic surroundings in which they occur. Family. Comedy.

MRS. GREENGLASS — Vittorio Gassman, Gloria Grahame. Vittorio Gassman tries to enter the United States illegally with a group of displaced persons from Europe. When the Immigration officers say he must be shipped back, he escapes. Many people become involved in his desperate flight which winds up atop the United Nations building. Family. Adventure-Sentimental.

JACK McCALL, DESPERADO — George Montgomery, Angela Stevens. This picture is based on the life of Jack McCall, a post-Civil War gunslinger who is said to have slain Wild Bill Hickok in a gun duel. Family. Western.

THE BANDIT OF SHERWOOD FOREST (Rialto) — Cornell O'Neil, Anita Louise. Equally as diabolical as his famous father, the son of Robin Hood becomes involved in high adventure that requires all his skill as horseman, bowman and strategist to preclude a usual, from spitting the throne of England. Family. Adventure.

THE TALL TEXAN — Lloyd Bridges, Marie Windsor, Lee J. Cobb. A group of police officers have to fight their way out of an Indian trap when one of them invades the Indians' burial grounds. 10 p.m. Midwest boxing show by radio, 10 p.m.

Infantry Remains Key To Victory, General States

The Infantry is the elite fighting corps of the Army, Major Gen. Miles Reber told 13 graduates of officer candidate class No. 17.

Gen. Reber, chief of the Army's Legislative Liaison Division, stressed the new infantry second lieutenant that they would be congratulated on their choice of service in the Army, for "you have obtained a commission in the Infantry, which is the fighting, tool-cutting edge of the Army."

"In spite of new scientific advances being made in military warfare, the man on the ground is still the final key to success in defeating the enemy and gaining the final victory as has been proven in Korea," the speaker emphasized.

Gen. Reber also warned the graduates that they face a great challenge. "Never before has our country needed the caliber of leadership in all ranks, military and civilian, as they are needed today," he said.

House graduate was Garth I. Geddes, son of Mrs. Lydia Geddes of Fayetteville, Idaho. Lt. Geddes has been assigned to Camp Roberts, Calif.

Each cadet office was administered to the new Infantry Lieutenant. The new Infantry Lieutenant, Capt. Robert C. Sheer, field, and music was furnished by the 122nd Army Band.

McBride Gets School Position

Col. William McBride of Ft. Litchburg, Mass., has assumed duties as the new Infantry School's director of instruction's office.

Col. McBride formerly was with the Far East Command headquarters where he was assigned to the G-3 Section.

A graduate of Massachusetts Military Academy at Cambridge he was called to active duty in January, 1941 with the 24th Division of the Massachusetts National Guard. He was integrated into the Regular Army in 1942.

Col. McBride served with the 9th Division in Europe during World War II and with the Ninth Division and 11th Constabulary Regiment on occupation duty in Germany.

He is a 1943 graduate of the Command and General Staff College, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and was a student at the Infantry School in 1941-42.

He holds the Silver Star, Bronze Star Medal with two Oak Leaf Clusters, Commendation Ribbon and Purple Heart.

Capt. Duane Cited By General Meloy

Major Gen. George Armstrong, Army Surgeon General, who was here to inspect the post hospital, made the presentation.

The letter, cited Capt. Duane for the "superior manner in which he has performed his duties in the Medical Corps."

SCOUTS VISIT ATLANTA

Thirteen Boy Scouts of the Explorer Post No. 27 and their dates visited with Col. Hurdley in Atlanta last Saturday. The group traveled by bus to Atlanta.

Officials Meet Here To Discuss Budget

Maj. Gen. C. Cole of Third Army's Budget Department arrives Saturday to discuss budget affairs with Col. Daniel H. Hurdley, Infantry Center commander.

Col. W. B. Gardner, Third Army controller, and H. H. Hurdley, Management Division chief, also were here this week to confer with Col. Hurdley and Col. R. R. Rutte, head of Third Army's Manpower Survey Team.

Turks The Toughest, Says OC

"The toughest soldiers I ever saw were the Turks," says Officer Candidate George Fryer who, as the ship on which the candidate sailed picked up troops in approximately six countries and took them either to Japan or to Inchon. On their return trips they carried back to their homelands men from their wounded or who were being returned.

This "shuttle run" was operated by the Military Sea Transport Service, a Navy Department organization. Before his Korean runs, Fryer, who states all of his recent study at the Merchant Marine Academy, shipped to Germany 17 times on ships carrying troops to and from the States.

Six Reps. Elected To 21st OC Council

Six officer candidates of 21st OC Company were elected to represent the class on the company student council, a governing body that suggests and promotes projects.

Heading the group is Candidate Joseph E. Miles, who came from the United States in 1946 from the Philippines. Other members include candidates Edward J. Ferraro of Ontario, Cal.; Irving R. Byron of Drexel, Pa.; Edwin L. Miller of Oakland, Cal.; Moses M. Leeds of San Francisco, Cal.; and John C. Rawls of Eldorado, Ark.

Doctor Aided Mexican Goodwill

It's people like Dr. (Capt.) H. Porvenir, Mexico, in 1950, to provide Mexican doctors with modern medical equipment and methods who help to cement the friendship which exists today between the U. S. and Mexico.

Dr. Banoff, now of the Eye, Ear, Nose and Throat Clinic, was one of the several doctors who organized a general clinic in Elido El.

The clinic occupied a remodeled school building during the Summer of 1950, but later expanded into an annex, built by natives of the north Mexico village under the direction of the committee. A water supply system also was constructed under the supervision of the Unitarian committee.

Since that time, the village has furnished labor for the construction of a seven-bed hospital, in which the clinic is currently located, and has attracted patients from all over the country.

The clinic originally was staffed by all volunteers from the San Gabriel County of Health assumed responsibility for the clinic two months after it was organized.

Sgt. Woods volunteered for jump school in 1947 and has been with the 504th Airborne Force, a 4th 508th Airborne units ever since.

Sgt. Woods Joins 508th

M-Sgt. Alvin G. Woods has been assigned to Company L of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team as platoon sergeant, having transferred from the 75th Special Forces at Fort Bragg, N. C.

A veteran of 10 years service and an authority on the tactics of the trained French tankers in Morocco in World War II. He participated in the invasion of Europe and wears the Purple Heart with chest.

Sgt. Woods volunteered for jump school in 1947 and has been with the 504th Airborne Force, a 4th 508th Airborne units ever since.

Post Red Cross Worker Helped Storm Victims

One of Fort Benning's former Red Cross workers, now stationed in Southport, England, played an active role in assisting approximately 320,000 in assistance to 20 million homeless left homeless by the recent European storm disaster.

Harry P. Underwood of Paul Campbell, Ala., joined the Red Cross in November 1950, when he was stationed here as assistant field director, from December, 1950, to March, 1951, when he went overseas.

Underwood and other American Red Cross workers gave a cash grant of $7,214.45 in immediate aid grants to flood-stricken families.

The immediate grants, not learned were to provide food and clothing for the homeless families of servicemen, most of whom were able to find shelter with friends. The Red Cross helped these victims in replacing household furnishings when they located new homes. It also made arrangements for long-range immediate assistance, the 15 Red Cross workers in England made possible arrangements for long-range aid for those affected by the floods which cost hundreds of lives and left thousands homeless.

The American organization also made arrangements for long-range aid for those affected by the floods which cost hundreds of lives and left thousands homeless.

European countries through the League made an emergency appeal for aid, the American Red Cross and five other national Red Cross societies had adequately fulfilled the request, according to League officials.

By PFC VIC JOVICKS
 Airborne Battalion of the First Student Regiment has carried a large part of the credit for 14,000 Army, Air Force, and Marine personnel who have received Airborne training within the past 30 days.

Primarily a housing unit, the Airborne Battalion has several platoons to play in the job of getting students' morale at a high pitch while they are in the Airborne training area.

The volunteer centers are in the Airborne Battalion area and are in the Airborne Battalion area and are in the Airborne Battalion area.

length of the total Fort Benning contribution.

Blood-giving is another project in which the Airborne attempts to help the community. It has set 100 per cent cooperation. It has been the practice for the graduating class, usually about 200 students, to go to the blood donor center on mass and have their arms for Korean wounded.

The Airborne Battalion attempts to instill into the students a definite pride in the Airborne outfit of which they will become members. With this accomplishment the Battalion feels that it has done its job.

After reporting to Company A, the receiving company of the Battalion, the enlisted student is thoroughly processed in regard to his clothing issue, the state of his dentures, haircuts, and military courtesy. He is thoroughly indoctrinated as to what is expected of him during his stay at Fort Benning.

After five days of processing, the students are sent in groups of 50 to 250, a platoon, to one of the six training companies in the Battalion. There, Airborne training begins in earnest.

In all cases of leave, the volunteer's duty begins at 5:30 a.m. and they prepare themselves for a pre-breakfast session. After breakfast the students clean their barracks and are matched to the Airborne training area.

After having another bout of training follows and the students return to the company at 5:05 p.m., where they will have mail call and dinner.

The army food, long a subject for the cartoonist's pen, has been lauded by Airborne students as "the best anywhere in the Army."

In his off-duty hours the student is left to his own devices as much as possible. Every company in the Airborne Battalion has a large day room well-equipped with pool tables, table tennis equipment, television, radio, an extensive information and education board, and up-to-date magazines. The majority of the students spend their free time in these recreational facilities.

Free to Leave Post

Another large moral factor practiced in the Airborne Battalion is designed especially for married students. It is freedom to leave the post. If the student's family is in Columbus he is allowed to return to his home after duty hours and officers have to make an appearance in the company area during reveille next morning.

The Airborne student while in the Airborne Battalion area has proved himself a generous giver. The Battalion contributions have always been near the top in the charity drives held at the post.

The most recent major drive in which the Airborne Battalion participated was the March of Dimes to which the personnel of the Battalion contributed over $100,000, almost

It's Cook's Life For Him

BY LT. JAMES MALLER
 A career-minded Airborne cook's life is the world of pots, pans, and potato-peeling machines is the life for him.

The future is bright for the 21-year-old corporal. He enlisted from his home in Collins, Kan., two years ago after five years of baking with a bread form. And a week after earning his jump wings the new Red Devil trooper heard his company commander ask for a volunteer to attend basic cook's school. Nixon got the job.

"I wouldn't have been disappointed if I'd been turned down," said the white-faced trainee, "because I knew back when I was a junior in high school that I wanted to make the Army my career. My father was an Army sergeant and later worked with the Army as a civilian. I used to go around with Milton and I liked what I saw—be lieve it or not the Army discipline seemed good to me.

The discipline of a line soldier is no further away from mess attendants than the door of the kitchen. Into the kitchen at Company A every morning come food inspectors from the mess. The first sergeant (See COOK, Page 25)

Nixon was assigned to Headquarters of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team but he's training on-the-job at Company A of the Airborne Battalion in the First Student Regiment. This follows the Food Service School policy of "farming out" students to company-size units where they can take off the cook's apron and put on the mess steward's cap—symbol of increased responsibility and authority.

"I've got my eye out for a warrant in the food career field," Nixon said, as he inspected portable food containers in the Company mess before trucking the containers out to the Airborne trainees in the field.

Navy To Get Last Corsair From United States

Dallas, Texas (AP)—The era of the fighting Corsair, an airplane that has been in first-line combat longer than any other military aircraft in history, will soon be at an end. The Navy will accept delivery of its last propeller-driven Corsair, the 12,511st, in the near future, according to United Aircraft Corp.

Designed in 1938, the Corsair is the last piston-engine fighter to be built in the U. S. Although it flew thousands of Navy and Marine Corps pilots into history during World War II, the multi-wing Corsair is still in action in Korea today.

Corsair pilots in World War II were credited with downing 2,340 enemy aircraft while losing only 188 of their own craft. Although the end of World War II brought about the use of jets, the Corsair ruled Navy carrier decks until 1950 and was regarded as the world's best shipboard fighter.

Used as a fighter, dive-bomber, fighter-bomber, and attack plane, the Corsair has been a match for any airplane. Recently in Korea, Capt. Jesse G. Folsom, USMC, flying an F4U, shot down a Russian-built MIG.

The 12,511st Corsair, an F4U-7, will be turned over to the French Navy under the Mutual Defense Assistance Program.

Service Clubs Plan Displays On Travel In All 48 States

Fort Benning's five service clubs soon will resemble travel agencies if Capt. Dale W. Roby's plans are successful.

Capt. Roby, the Infantry Center's recreation officer, has requested funds before the drive. Now 118 of the 122 civilians in the division are using the payroll savings plan.

Employees in the Ordnance Section currently have 38 per cent participation, with 226 of the 455 civilians buying bonds. Only 141 were active in the payroll savings plan before the campaign.

Fifty-three per cent of the civilian employees at the U. S. Army Hospital are purchasing Savings Bonds. Out of the 320, only 84 persons were buying bonds before the drive. Now 150 are on the payroll savings plan.

Benning P-TA Hears From Foreign Leads

Two hundred Fort Benning parents and teachers heard a brief survey of the educational systems of four continents when Army officers from Denmark, Brazil, Thailand, and Canada addressed the Parent-Teacher Association Tuesday evening.

Lt. Joergen Kersch of the Danish Army pointed out that his country has in its parent advisory council an organization which closely resembles the American P-TA in structure and purpose.

Major Francisco Santos of Brazil spoke of the great increase in literacy standards which have followed the Brazilian educational reforms of 1927.

Thailand Army Capt. Pathon Rattanasart pointed out the similarities between the educational systems of his country, primary, a d Secondary school levels.

In tracing the influence of American thought on the educational systems of his country, Maj. John Koenigsen of Canada recalled that in the province of Manitoba it was required that school children memorize Lincoln's Gettysburg Address.

Foreign language training is offered in the schools of each of the four countries represented at the meeting, and the laws of each country provide for compulsory education of the young, according to the guest speakers.

Candidate's Gold-Seeking Saga Compares With That Of 49'ers

BY OGDEN JACOBSON
Office Candidate Morley W. Lane, 2126 O Co Company has come up with a gold-gathering saga which compares with the heartiest of the Forty-Niners in every respect but success.

The story of the tall, dark-haired candidate begins in 1945 when he was a student at North Carolina College in Naperville, Ill., after a 10-month hitch with the Seabees in the South Pacific. One night he and three others decided to head for South America for some sight-seeing and fortune hunting.

The original plan was to take pictures in Honduras and sell them to a magazine in connection with an article on industry, wildlife, and vegetation. Incidents occurred during their journey, however, which interfered with the plan.

The first obstacle they met on their 3,500 mile trip was a stream north of Guatemala. The team overcame the obstruction by being whisked across the stream. Then they ran into a landslide which blocked their progress. A convoy of Army trucks provided the manpower to give them clearance.

Their next difficulty was financing, which they solved by selling their car. And then they ran into a former minister of war of Guatemala, who tried to enlist the aid of his country, but was planning a rebellion he was planning. The next day they left the country in the evening.

RECEIVED PURPLE HEART
Sgt. Clifford A. Brower, Headquarters Detachment of Combat Training Command, has received the 23rd Infantry Regiment of the Second Infantry Division. Capt. John E. Barth, detachment commander, made the presentation.

Staff College Course Enters Final Phases

The second and third phases of a special 12-day associate course on the Command and General Staff College level began this week. The first phase was conducted Feb. 1-15.

Maj. Gen. Charles D. W. Canham, deputy Third Army commander, greeted the 60 students at the opening exercises Monday morning. Other speakers included Col. Elmer Watkins, senior Reserve Army instructor in Georgia, and Col. Ralph L. Webb of Dublin, Ga., assistant commander of the special course and senior instructor of the 81st Infantry Division (Reserve).

Brig. Gen. Carl T. Sutherland, commander of the 81st (Wildcat) Infantry Division (Reserve) will instruct in the division and assist administrative, intelligence and logistical support of the division, by preparing officers for duty as division commanders and its general staff positions at division level, school officials pointed out.

Equivalent to the associate course offered at the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., the Fort Benning instruction will provide an opportunity for Third Army area officers unable to leave their duties to receive credit for the course. Students attending the special associate course are officers of the Regular Army, National Guard or Army Reserve on active duty or members of National Guard or Army Reserve units not on active duty but with at least eight years of commissioned service.

Lt. Gen. Alexander R. Bolling, Third Army commander, is commander of the school. Instructors are field grade officers from the Third Army area. Purpose of the course is to provide instruction which will insure "effective development and employment of the division and assistant administrative, intelligence and logistical support of the division, by preparing officers for duty as division commanders and its general staff positions at division level, school officials pointed out.

Red Division Not A Balanced Team

(Editor's Note: Following is the third in a series of articles comparing a U. S. Army combat infantry division with the infantry division of the Soviet Russian Army.)

A study of weapons and vehicles of a U. S. Army infantry division and a Russian infantry division shows the superiority of the American unit. It underlines the fact that a Soviet division is not a balanced team of combined arms.

The U. S. division has three times as many tanks as the Russian unit—184 compared to 44.

The U. S. infantry division has approximately 18,000 small caliber rifle whose accuracy leaves much to be desired.

U. S. machine guns have undergone steady improvement and are very accurate as well as fast-firing.

The Russian heavy machine gun is basically a 7.62 caliber and is mounted on clumsy two-wheeled trucks. The Russians, Chinese, and the Koreans have an equivalent of the U. S. 30-caliber carbine.

Jammed guns as result of faulty cartridges are a serious problem in the U. S. Army, but faulty cartridge cases cause as many stoppages in the Russian army that they are a serious problem. Each Russian rifle has a cleaning rod at all times, and its primary purpose is to drive the cartridge cases out of the chamber of his gun.

American mortar crews can fire effectively regardless of whether they can see a target. Russian mortar crews have little flexibility and can cover the ground only by their immediate front.

Russia's Greatest Liability Is the Kremlin, Speaker Claims

Russia's greatest liability is the Kremlin itself, Dr. John Morrison of the University of Wisconsin Friday told a joint session of the Infantry School's advanced officer classes.

The fact that Russia has 200,000,000 inhabitants, has always been faced with the problem of expansion has been modified into the temperance of the Russian people, who are currently devoted and always respond to force." Dr. Morrison declared. "Their attitude is based on fear rather than on loyalty."

Russia's size and power present both advantages and disadvantages," the Soviet authority told his audience. "Although natives consider it the country's vast interior frontier than conquerors could invade it, the Soviet also must maintain several armies in various parts of the nation as a defense from further attack," he explained.

Industrial regions in the U.S.S.R. are for the most part located in European Russia, of which Moscow is the most vital center, according to Dr. Morrison. The iron and steel industry is mostly found in the Ukraine district, and the two principle industrial cities are Leningrad and Stalingrad.

Russia has only a fraction of the railroad mileage the United States. "This is largely due to the fact that the Soviet Union is compelled to maintain railway transportation routes to the salient points of the country."

Writers' Workshop Meets Monday P.M.

The first meeting of the Fort Benning Writers' Workshop will be held at 7:30 p.m. Monday, March 2, at the Main Library.

The purpose of the group will be to discuss manuscripts, consider current market trends, and generally encourage the new writer. Writers are among the world's best but the most inaccessible because they are often fierce and headliners have been used in the recent past on the Volga, which carries one-half of Russia's river-borne trade, including passenger-toll and lumber boats, he pointed out.

Dr. Morrison illustrated his lecture with slides, including maps of Russian industrial and population areas, railroads, rivers and canals and other geographical terrain on leave from the University of Maryland where he heads the Department of Geography. Dr. Morrison has twice visited Russia. He is now a visiting lecturer at the University of Wisconsin.

King Champs Named Tonight

18 Boxers Vie For Titles In TIC Finals

Some 18 fighters will be battling it out tonight for the Fort Benning Boxing Championships at the Infantry Center. Tournament entered its final round at Briant Wells.

Topping the nine-bout card will be the heavyweight fight between two First SR teammates. Ernest Fann, former National Golden-Gloves champion, meets Gen White, who just lost out in Southern District Golden Gloves competition.

Fann, making his first ring appearance at Benning, took on Dick Johnson last week in a non-decision bout that brought the semi-finals program up to seven bouts.

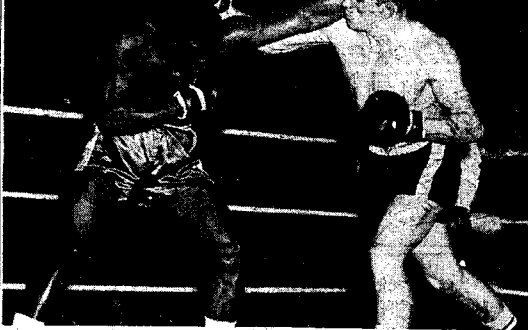

White has defeated Ben Robinson of ASU during the regular boxing campaign.

Light Heavys

In light heavyweight division, popular Jack King of First SR will battle Tommy Miller of ISD for the post title. Miller, who has never climbed through the Benning ropes, drew a bye into the finals.

King has scored three decisions over Robinson and one knockout over Tommy Bridges.

Former post and middleweight champion, Leon Hall of CTC, steps up one notch in his battles with middleweight title holder, who has decided and knocked out Thatcher in their two meetings. The ASU boxer has had Al Faresse of First SR and Kod Norman Salvetto, another Blackshirt.

ASU'S BEN ROBINSON (L) AND JACK KING OF FIRST SR MEET FOR THIRD TIME King Scored Third Straight Decision Over ASU Light Heavyweight and Advanced to Finals

King has scored three decisions over Robinson and one knockout over Tommy Bridges.

Former post and middleweight champion, Leon Hall of CTC, steps up one notch in his battles with middleweight title holder, who has decided and knocked out Thatcher in their two meetings. The ASU boxer has had Al Faresse of First SR and Kod Norman Salvetto, another Blackshirt.

The light middleweight scrap pits Clifford Wilburn of ASU against Gordon Van Lee of First SR. Wilburn has won three bouts in the tournament. A forfeit victory over Faresse, a second round TKO over Julian Davis and a decision over James Neal, all First SR fighters.

Van Lee has dethroned Willie Parker, TKO'd John Castellano and Tudolph Chiles, Chiles, however, came back to dethrone Van Lee in the welterweight class. Elmer Blair of CTC will be matched against Stout of the 568th Airborne. Blair has only one loss on his record and that was to Jimmy Elvins of First SR.

He has notched victories over David Carter, William Russell, Blowing Stout and Ernest Hall.

Stout, in his three appearances, has lost to Willie Parker, and Blair. He defeated Carter.

Lien Walker

Ray Leutz of the 508th will battle Adel Dukes of First SR for the light welterweight title. Leutz scored a decision over Robert Ford of ASU in Dukes' last loss to Eddie Matthews, but dethroned Robert Collins last week.

508TH TEAMMATES MEET IN LIGHTWEIGHT BOUT Jesse Flores (L) Scored Decision Over Juan Jaramilla

When the headline or promotional title was awarded last week, no record should be given to Robert Collins of 508th, who has the "world championship" of the tournament. Collins, who fought four rounds, with a week, allowing through the win record and tried for the win. But Dukes' O.P.A. Dukes was a little too much for Matthews' back.

When the headline or promotional title was awarded last week, no record should be given to Robert Collins of 508th, who has the "world championship" of the tournament.

Benning Cage Tournament Is Under Way

The Fort Benning Basketball Tournament got started Tuesday evening at Briant Wells Field House with First Student Regiment meeting the ASU Provisional Group and PMG taking on Second SR in their clash last night.

The results of both these games will be published in next week's Bayonet due to the publication deadline.

All eight clubs in the post hoop league have languished in the single round robin tournament and since this tournament that started this week is a single eliminatory meet, it is very possible that the cage teams will not play each other more than once.

If there is another victor, other than the First SR, there will be a two out of three playoff. The Blackshirts, if you all remember, captured the round robin title with an unbeaten record of seven straight. If it happens to take out here, they will meet the victor in the playoff.

During the last scrap between ASU and the Blackshirts, the leaders hit JBI points.

Fans Turnout To See 2nd Round

The First Student Regiment's Jack King, who is a contender for Fort Benning light heavyweight title, scored his third decision over Ben Robinson of ASU last Thursday in the second round of The Infantry Center Boxing Tournament at Briant Wells Field House before a capacity crowd.

King, who is the Southern light heavyweight champion, decided to take a rest after his second victory twice previously during the regular amateur boxing campaign.

Robinson set the pace for the third battle by coming out fast and forcing King around the ring for the first and part of the second rounds. But King, after shaking off a cold left that the ASU fighter landed in the second round, started connecting and Robinson clinched.

During the third stanza King and Robinson in a corner a couple of times and started to wound away. The ASU boxer would have had his hand torn off if King were connected with a right momentum that seemed to come from the front end of the Blackshirt fighter much on that one.

Both tired

Both fighters were tired and clinching, not for protection, but for fear when the bell sounded end of the bout.

A same little mix. Tom James of First SR, who captured last week's welterweight title and the Third Army crown as well, was knocked out of this year's running by a first round TKO over Charles DeFonseca of ASU. DeFonseca's knockout in 114 seconds was a hard one to see. DeFonseca was in the ring for the first round when he was knocked out by referee Cecil Dickerson.

The Blackshirts' Hohlmeier set in only one good blow and that occurred during the first round when he connected with a left to Matthews' back.

When the headline or promotional title was awarded last week, no record should be given to Robert Collins of 508th, who has the "world championship" of the tournament.

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

Whenever you go to a Fort Benning basketball game you will see Christian Dubis making with the necessary in his capacity as "official timer." When football was played in Doughboy Stadium, there was Dubis with the chains. So far I haven't seen just what his job is during the baseball and softball season. I hope to find out, but as Dubis says, "I don't think that I will be around by April."

A rabid sports fan, Dubis can pretty well judge whether a performer is worthy of his salt. Many people here at Fort Benning have seen the crew-cut moustache get call or officials at one of the basketball games. It is working for him to referee two games in one evening. He did this feat once this season.

Sitting there alongside of Dubis, I being the official basketball scorer, we discuss as the ball game goes along the possibilities of just which basketball players in the league will make the 1953 All Post Basketball Team. Dubis, after considerable thought, has listed these players as the men he would like to have on his team.

- | First Team              | Pos. | Second Team                 |
|-------------------------|------|-----------------------------|
| George Swyers, First SR | F    | Willis Hames, 508th         |
| Dick Thompson, CTC      | F    | Art Greene, CTC             |
| Larry Ivan, 508th       | C    | Ronnie Richardson, First SR |
| Vern Coffey, First OC   | G    | C. E. Reiter, Second CT     |
| Bob Karpinski, First SR | G    | Bob Clifton, Second SR      |
- For Honorable Mention, Dublin selected Roy Young of CTC, John Dull of First SR, Bob Burkes of ISD, Les Kemp of ASU, and Harry Ziegler of PMG. The most valuable Player award should go to Bob Karpinski, with Larry Ivan as second choice. The Best Sportsman, and I very much agree with Dublin, should be handed on a silver platter to Harry Ziegler, medical guard, with Art Greene the second choice. The Most Improved Player is Phil Phillips of First SR with John Trezise of 508th as runner-up. The Coach of the Year award goes to Capt. J. R. Freeman of the Medical with Terry Scott of First SR trailing close behind.

These selections of Dublin and mine also, are not counted when the hoop coaches ballots are tabulated. The mentor's votes are the only votes that count and the All-Post hoopers are derived from these. So you readers of the most improved Player is Phil Phillips of First SR with John Trezise of 508th as runner-up. The Coach of the Year award goes to Capt. J. R. Freeman of the Medical with Terry Scott of First SR trailing close behind.

He is also listed on the roster of scouts for the New York Giants, and that is his last touch with the game which he learned as a boy from his grandfather, Joe Castillio; Old Fango Joe, who managed the Washington Senators in 1925 and later owned the Minneapolis franchise.

Dubis got into baseball as a player in 1946 with Union City in the Class D Kitty League. The 210-pound, six-footer jumped that season with Charlotte, N. C., in the Piedmont. He also spent some time with the Welch, W. Va., club in 1947.

That brought him the assignment to Dublin as a coach, but he performed so handsomely—as an outfielder he had a .320 BA and 12 homers—that they had him in the cleanup slot of the hitting order. One Saturday night they told him that on the following Monday he was being advanced to Columbus, top farm club of the Cardinals.

A less formidable man would have resigned himself to a rocking chair or a desk job after what occurred, but Dubis, when down to 135 pounds after his weight loss, he was in the latter part of the 1949 season in his coaching job at Essex. In the spring of 1950 he left his Hickman, Ky., home and applied to the Cardinals for reinstatement as a player.

"The first night back," he explained, "during a all-night bus from his usual booming self-confident speech. "The club was leaving for St. Louis again. I was terrified over the thought of getting on the bus. Call it the wrong attitude to have, or anything, but we took the same route we had been going that last night. I was green, numb when we passed that place in the road in Minneapolis. They had six red crosses beside the highway."

Shortly after, the Dukes back in their own car, were trailing in a 5-3 ball game, Dubis was freyed mentally and physically, but when he could feel nothing else he still knew how it felt to be into a fat pitch and this one made up for a lot of things. The ball was still going up when he saw it clear the left field wall 100 feet distant. That was his last hit in professional baseball.

Benner Tops In '53 Army Pistol Squad Workouts

Twenty-six of the Army's top pistol shooters are vying at Fort Benning for berths on the 1953 Army National Mid-Winter Championship Match to be held at Tampa, Fla., March 10-14.

Major Ellis Lea, team captain, is in charge of the layout and practice sessions in which Army installations throughout the United States and the Panama Canal Zone are participating.

Of the 50 men gathered here, 15 will be selected to shoot for the Army in the Florida competition. He also was winner of the 1952. He also was winner of the 1952. He also was winner of the 1952. He also was winner of the 1952.

MAJOR ELLIS LEA, Army team captain.

who garnered the Southeastern Regional title last year, certain of berths. Lea, who will head the team on Florida team, has won over 300 medals, cups and trophies since he began entering competitions in 1928. He also was winner of the European Cup in a 1934 Individual Championship Matches in 1930.

According to the daily score sheets, Benner, Welmeister, Lea, WOJG Robert E. Knight, and Major J. H. Sanguinetti are the top performers in the workout seasons. Benner has a total aggregate score of 4,857. Welmeister, 4,600. Lea, 4,581. Knight 4,471. Sanguinetti, 4,441.

Most of the firing at the Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club's Range has been done in perfect shooting weather and the favored team members came through with perfect shooting marks in 22 caliber, center fire and .45 caliber pistols.

However, a number of the shooters have been plagued with the problems of jams, broken extractors, and similar troubles usually encountered when firing steel cased ammunition.

This is the week in which Lea will decide who will make the squad and who will be eliminated.

DISCHARGED

Vince Dickhaber, 63, stalwart of last year's First Student High School basketball team has received his honorable discharge from the Army.

Mujica To Fight Sanchez At Arena

Little Larry Mujica, former Fort Benning paratrooper who gained the Georgia heavyweight boxing championship while fighting to keep attractions here, joined Sanchez in a 10-round main event at Fred Ward's Columbus Arena Monday evening.

Sanchez, a Cuban who started boxing professionally in Havana, recently held former world welterweight champion Willie Pille on a split decision in West Palm Beach and has fought top men at Dado Marino, Max Baer, and Dave Hernandez.

Mujica, when stationed at Fort Benning, whipped many of the top Southern welterweights, and has since come on to fight only main event attractions in Miami and New Orléans, defeating Tony Lamelas, Johnny Craven and Diego Sosa.

In his two fights here, he defeated Sonny Luciano in a return bout after losing to the Patterson, J. J. Lad previously. That was his last Georgia fight, but he took a duking from Craven in Golden Park after losing his crown to the "Fart" McCoy of Miami, winner over Ray Lee here recently.

All right, not since little Johnny Wilson, a native son of Columbus, Ga., was punching boxing boxes in A.T. City featherweights, has a boxer gained the imagination of Army boxing fans and public alike as has Larry Mujica, whose opponent will have been put on the canvas more than the Moon Lie, might be the kinship, if it weren't for an Army redict which prevented Mujica from fighting when the Korean campaign started.

However the Army's loss was stoned Sonny Luciano in a return Georgia's gain because Lord Larry and Charlie Patterson, Jo Tunney, and Pablo Rodriguez who do not flatten easily.

He was unanimous 15-round decision over Ralph Pearson to lay claim to the Georgia welter title. Some say that there is no such crown but then there's no one around the state who wears boxing gloves who can successfully say "I'm the champ."

Mujica has lost only one Columbus bout and that was to Chuck Taylor, a ringwise veteran who was fighting the real good ones like Ray Robinson when Larry was still a young squirt in the amateur ranks. Now he is making a first-footed monkey out of all contenders.

In a sense, Mujica's popularity with the local burbs is paradoxical, because he has had to come a long way to win the Georgia title. Mujica hails originally from New York and got his start among the teenage hordes of amateurs—winning champions—who scramble for a mother's brain for free in the myriad of small big city gyms.

All of these kids have got a preconcite, but few of them have the heart, brains-and savvy which

It takes to successfully bridge the gap in professional boxing ranks where human punching has averaged a hundred—even with inflation.

Mujica made it. That is why he answers the bell.

A soft-spoken, 23-year-old youngster who today started in 1953, Mujica got his start in the amateur ranks around Long Island. Before enlisting in the Army, he had won himself up to six-rounders in New York City rings, like St. Nicholas Arena, and has fought several tours in Madison Square Garden.

He was featured as one of the outstanding waterweight prospects in a recent issue of Ring Magazine. It is not particularly surprising that he prefers fighting and he belts well to the body or head with both hands. He hasn't shown a kayo punch, but neither has any other fighter who has been hit by one. His chief asset is an unending willingness to mix it up, and, in fact, he's much more the tiger when his opponent has the him in trouble.

First Officer Candidate Regiment racked up 15D, 72-51. CFC defeated the 508s, 72-63.

High Scorers
Many followers of basketball are wondering if Larry Ivan, the 508th's jump' center, will be out to set a new high in individual scoring. Ivan held that honor for two weeks. Swers as a sophomore of First SR topped him by two markers. Swers set a new scoring record for Briant Wells by connecting for 47 points while Ivan's record was 45 points per game.

The Blackhawks also are the leaders in team scoring honors for they in their first game of the year have scored 101 points over 50L. The 508th also hit the century mark and that was when they defeated the Raiders, 100-58.

In foul shooting, the nod goes to Willis James of the 508th for having the best percentage. James connected for 18 baskets in 33 attempts for a 54.54 average. Art Greener of CTC and Eldon Merritt of 15D are runners-up with 69.0 averages, 16 of 24.

Ivan completed the most foul shots, 82 out of 88 attempts, but the average of 623 is tenth among the leaders. Swers' free throw average is out of 50 attempts.

person to visit consistently over a baseball worst tragedian. He doesn't volunteer information on his background, but when asked, he outlines the details simply and briefly, because they keep him pretty busy at the school and officiating basketball after duty.

Dubia learned his basketball at Murray State, Kentucky, and in his way of thinking, the only way to play good basketball is to learn the rules. And that he did. After college, and during the coaching days, he officiated in games around the world and in the Missouri area. He even worked at a Sugar Bowl tournament.

Not that I consider myself on a par with Dubia, for his knowledge of sports, all sports not just baseball, football and basketball, is more thorough and complete than mine. The All-Post eagers whom he has selected, and if he could get them all together as one club with Dubia himself as coach, I am sure would be a winning club and a tough one to beat. The players will play basketball for him, for Dubia is a hard loser. Everyone is, I suppose.

McGregor Unhappy About Sedgman's Net Supremacy

A tall, curly-haired Aussie who has been causing feminine hearts to flutter on every continent, and who is a tennis champion, Kenneth Bruce McGregor is discontented that such a state of affairs will not prevail for long.

Not that the two spectacular youngsters from Down Under are not the closest of friends. Not that they do not covet their tennis to form one of the greatest doubles combinations in the world. The McGregor feels that he is on the verge of becoming the top player in the world, an opinion which is shared by many experts. And such a rating would necessitate putting him a jump ahead of Sedgman.

These two friendly Aussies meet the two top American players, Jack Kramer and Pancho Segura at Briant Wells Field House next Friday at 8 p.m.

McGregor has only reached the age of 23, which makes him two years younger than his more experienced partner. And although he has made tremendous strides in the game, there is no doubt that he has not yet reached his peak. Sedgman has reached it, and has made the Aussie feel, but he has not yet perfected the consistency of performance that is necessary for domination.

Named to the Davis Cup squad, he went into a slump and it was a surprise when Hoptman named him to play in the opening singles. But he justified the choice by knocking off America's choice, Ted Schroeder, on an opening day, which started the Aussie on a hot streak.

McGregor has one distinction that the other three tennis greats on this safari do not possess—an advantage or handicap, depending on one's view. He is single.

He's a little vague about his future, but back Down Under, which is a point of extreme interest to a lot of cuties in the United States.

Benning Units Have Names For Teams

Most of the Fort Benning units have nicknamed for their sports teams and officers candidates of the Regiment teams are known as "The Generals," Second Student Regiment as "The Professionals," and the group as "The Professionals." The group is headed by Sgt. Fred "Pro" McGreggor, former Capt. of the 48th and also showed evidence of his prowess in doubles against all opponents. He was runner-up for the Aussie title in doubles in '47-48, and in the latter year also got to the final round in Wimbledon.

Attention Lady Golfers

The Fort Benning Women's Golf Association will hold its first officers and business meeting of the 1953 season at the Country Club tomorrow at 10:30 a.m.

Plans will be discussed and formulated for the weekly women's golf tournaments. All dualists and golfers are welcome to attend.

Detroit Tigers Infielder Now OCS Student

In spring, the sports enthusiasts' fancy turns to thoughts of home runs and double plays and ball players in the Armed Forces look forward to exhibiting their talents with one of the clubs on their list.

Officer Candidate Frank T. Nelson of 9th O. C. Company, First O. C. Regiment, is not an exception. He hopes to join the baseball team at the post where he will be assigned.

Presently under contract to the Detroit Tigers to whom he was traded last October, Nelson was in the St. Louis Browns' farm system until inducted into the Army. He is an infielder having played second, third and shortstop.

Nelson began his career in high school and then attended Arizona State University. He has a wide background also includes play with Kansas City teams and various semi-pro outfits.

From Baldwin, N. Y., he left school in 1949, signed with the Browns and was farmed out to Aberdeen, S. D., a Class C club in the Northern League. The following season he was with Wichita Falls, Tex., entry in the Class B Big State League. In 1951 he moved up to Class A ball with

YOU CAN FLY

You can learn to fly by flying. The instructor demonstrates to you what to do. Fundamentals of flying are the glide, turn; climb; straight and level flight. To turn use side pressure on stick and rudder pedal at the same time in the same direction; then neutralize the stick, taking your foot off the rudder pedal at the same time. The airplane continues to turn. To return to level flight, use pressures in the opposite manner. To climb, increase the throttle and add a normal amount of back pressure on the stick. To lower the nose, gently add forward pressure. To glide, keep the nose below the level flight position with throttle closed. Fly straight and level by keeping stick and rudder neutral, wings and nose level with reference to the horizon. King's School of Aviation, Inc., Municipal Airport on Victory Drive, would like to have the opportunity to show you how easy it is to fly. Call for Jack or Dean, telephone 2-4758. (Adv.)

QM Keeps 'House' For Post

"Housekeeper" may be a strange-sounding job title for Army activity, but that describes the work of the Quartermaster Division.

The nine quartermaster sections each correspond to some type of housework. For instance, in the "kitchen" department, there are the commissary, the central meat cutting, and the property disposal sections.

Heading the vast enterprise is Col. William R. Fields of San Antonio, Tex., Infantry Center quartermaster.

Next to Col. Fields' administrative division is the property division, which has 10,000 different items for issue to offices and quarters on the post.

2,000 Requests a Month

It's also the job of the property division to process requisitions and purchase requests for equipment. Monthly requisitions to various depots average 70,000. Local purchase requests total about 100.

Requests from post units to the property division are processed at the rate of about 2,000 monthly from 95 organizations and activities.

The property division keeps a record of all equipment issued on a loan basis, which includes furniture, such as refrigerators, stoves, drinking fountains, located in 750 buildings and three Post Exchange stores which make authorized sales and issue of individual Army clothing, netting a total sale of about $50,000 monthly also are a part of the property division.

Purchases Many Items

All purchasing by Fort Benning is done through the Quartermaster. He is responsible for contracting the division, which issues contracts for maintenance and alterations to buildings. It also issues purchase orders, handles bids and sales for the property disposal division.

EM Can Reenlist For Camp Gordon

Men whose term of service is expiring may reenlist for positions at Third Army Disciplinary Barracks at Camp Gordon, Ga. The Infantry Center recruiting section has announced.

All men who qualify will be trained at Camp Gordon before going on duty. Those who reenlist for the vacancy will be stabilized for two years. Following their tour they will become eligible for reassignment.

This will apply only to men whose term of service is now expiring.

A testing team from the U. S. Waterways Experimental Station in Vicksburg, Miss., is studying soil conditions at the post. Purpose of the survey is to determine the ability of different soils to support various types of military vehicles under varying weather conditions, according to Col. Richard F. Ebbe, Infantry Center engineer.

Under present regulations, applicants will not be allowed to take a short-term discharge to reenlist for these vacancies.

CENTRAL OF GEORGIA

THE BEST! FOR LESS!

The role of the rifle company in attack is demonstrated to Infantry School students by members of the Second Battalion, 30th Infantry Regiment, Low, Georgia, 30th Infantry Regiment.

The rifle company attack is supported by the combined fire of heavy machine guns, recoilless weapons, and tanks. In addition, the company utilizes its own fire power, which includes rifle, machine guns, carbines, grenades, rocket launchers, and its own recoilless rifle.

But firepower isn't the only requirement for the attack. The role of communications, which enables a company commander to coordinate all of the attacking units, is also stressed during problems.

And to the observers in the stands the spectacle of school troops attacking a shell-covered hill in Georgia is readily-transferable to the battlefield, where some day they may lead their men.

12 Achieve Red Cross Drive Goal

Twelve units have reached 100 per cent participation in the 1953 American Red Cross drive, with seven of them reporting a fund total of $1,077.35.

Reporting contributions were: Combat Training Command, 11,004; 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, 11,667; Provisional Medical Group 248, 60; Infantry School Detachment, 11,291.72; First Infantry Officer Candidate Regiment, 11,226.13; First Student Regiment, 11,220.85; and The Infantry School, 1832.05.

A breakdown of units with 100 per cent Red Cross membership, with five not yet reporting the amount of contributions, are: The Infantry Center headquarters, G-2 and Inspector General's Office; First Field Force Board No. 3; First Student Brigade's Headquarters Company.

Area Service Unit Provisional Group 148th Transportation Truck Company, 122nd Army Band, Provisional Band 520th Engineer, First Repair Detachment, 666th Transportation Truck Company and Staff Officers; Combat Training Command's First Battalion of the 30th Infantry Regiment and Company L of the 30th Infantry Regiment; 508th Airborne's Second Battalion Headquarters and Headquarters Company, Medical Company and Companies.

Blood Bank Gets 899 Pints In Feb.

One hundred ninety-two pints of blood were collected last week at the Blood Donor Center, bringing the February total to 899.

Thirty-one pints from last week's total were retained for use at the U. S. Army Hospital, and 361 pints were shipped to West Point, Pa. During February, 818 pints were shipped to the processing center, and the remaining 819 pints as whole blood at the hospital.

The First Student Brigade topped the list of last month's donors, with 380 pints, and the First Officer Candidate Regiment was second with 129 pints.

Other unit donations during February included: Area Service Unit Provisional Group 148th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, 109 Provisional Medical Group 24; Combat Training Command, 52; Infantry School Detachment, 22; Army Field Force Board No. 3; 315 civilians; 10; and Lawson Air Force Base, two.

1901 Member Of 30th Inf. Contacts CTC

Capt. Alfred M. Leonard, public information officer of the Combat Training Command, has received a letter from one of the original members of the 30th Infantry Regiment, whom he had recruited in 1901.

The letter was written by John N. Morton of Springfield, Mo., secretary-treasurer of the 30th Infantry Association, an organization composed of men who were with the unit from 1901 to 1906.

Morton wrote that his letter was prompted by an article he had read and written in the Benning Herald. The article concerned the 140th anniversary of the 30th.

In his letter Morton offered to send Capt. Leonard a copy of the history of the unit as compiled by the first Adjutant of the regiment in 1901. According to Morton, the history covers the five years following 1901 and includes articles about Gen. George C. Marshall and Walter B. Rogers, two of the members of the regiment at the time of the capture.

Nine OCS Branches To Train At Benning

Port Benning will assume the training of Army armor, ordnance, general medical field service, quartermaster, transportation, chemical, and field marshal officer candidates in March.

The announcement was made this week by the Army's Adjutant General.

Infantry officer candidates will continue to be trained here, but only two other officer candidate schools will be in operation when the expanded program goes into effect. They are the Engineer Officer Candidate School at Fort Belvoir, Va., and the Field Artillery, Anti-Aircraft and Guided Missile Officer Candidate School at Fort Sill, Okla.

The regular 22-week course of instruction given here will continue to be the same, said Col. Harry Grizzard, commander of the First Infantry Officer Candidate School.

Infantry officer candidates will take the Infantry officer candidate course but will graduate with commissions in the branch of service they have designated.

Branch Schools

After receiving their commission, the officers then will go on to their branch schools. Officers commissioned in the Infantry will continue to go on duty assignments following their graduation.

The first combined technical services Infantry armor officer candidate class will begin March 9. Two such classes will begin in March and will include approximately 90 armor, 31 signal, 6 ordnance and 210 infantry officer candidates for a total of 472 candidates in each class.

The technical services officer candidate schools, which have been added to the Infantry OCS, were inaugurated as an Army economy measure, Col. Grizzard said.

Chinese Generals Tour Post

Four Chinese Nationalist Army generals reviewed an honor guard Tuesday morning following their arrival to observe U. S. Infantry training.

Lt. Gen. Hsu Pei Kan, assistant chief of staff in Nationalist Defense's Ministry of National Defense, heads the group, which includes Maj. Gen. Liu Yun-Shan, Engineer School commander, Maj. Gen. Kung Yu, Infantry School commander, and Maj. Gen. Wang Kwan-Chow, Artillery School commander.

They received an honor guard Tuesday, composed of troops from the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, 1st Battalion, and conferred with Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., Infantry Center commander.

The Chinese Nationalist Army general received orientation on The Infantry School March 3, visited the Operations Office, the Automotive Department, witnessed training problems and were guests at a conference and luncheon at the Main Officers Mess.

Before leaving yesterday they inspected the Artillery and Communications Departments, observed an armor demonstration and attended a conference on joint ground operations system.

They were accompanied by Pao Chung accompanied the visitors to Port Benning.

Meloy Is Named For Second Star

Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., Infantry Center commander, Monday was nominated by President Eisenhower for the temporary rank of major general.

His nomination must be approved by the U. S. Senate before the promotion takes effect.

Gen. Meloy, who has been filling the position of a major general since he became commander of Fort Benning in January, was awarded his promotion today by the U. S. Army adjutant general in Washington, D. C.

The new major general was assistant commander of The Infantry School before he was elevated to commander of Fort Benning early this year. He replaced Maj. Gen. Robert N. Young, who is now the Army's assistant chief of staff for personnel.

The 49-year-old major general commanded the 15th Infantry Regiment of the 24th Infantry Division in Korea before he was wounded and hospitalized in July, 1950. He received a demerit as the assistant chief of staff for personnel of the Far East Command in Tokyo the following November.

Returned 1951

Gen. Meloy returned to the United States in February, 1951, to become chief of the Civil Relations Office in the Office of the Chief of Information at Army headquarters in Washington, D. C.

He was assigned to Fort Benning as assistant commander of the Infantry School in October, 1951, and held temporary command of The Infantry Center for three months following the retirement of Maj. Gen. John H. Church before the arrival of Gen. Young.

USAH Short In Specialists -Col. Brown

A critical shortage of trained personnel exists at the U. S. Army Hospital, Lt. Col. O. R. Brown, the executive officer, has announced.

According to Col. Brown, the shortage exists in the following categories: eye, ear, nose and throat technician (MOS 1271); orthopedic technician (MOS 1266); and dental laboratory technician (MOS 1081).

Unit commanders who have such personnel assigned to their organizations are requested to contact the Adjutant General - Military Personnel Division.

Army Orders Budget Slash; Civil Jobs Cut

Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., the Infantry Center commander, announced Tuesday that he has requested instructions to effect a reduction in civilian personnel here as part of an overall budget reduction ordered by the Department of the Army in December.

A 10 per cent reduction in civilian personnel was ordered this month.

Described as an economy measure, the reduction will affect 425 civilian employees. The reduction must take place within the next 90 days.

General notes will be given this week to all civilian employees, but it may be several days before any specific individuals are advised that their jobs will be abolished, officials pointed out.

It will take a few days for the Commander's Office to determine how many employees each using a contract could be eliminated from its rolls in order to operate under the reduced funds allowed by the financial plan.

Dixon, Mudgett Named Colonels

Lt. Col. Oliver R. Dixon of Bedford, Ind., and Charles F. Mudgett of Valley, N. D., group chiefs in the school's new Guinea group, have been promoted to colonel.

Dixon is the school's group chief, is a 1931 graduate of Indiana University, where he received his Reserve commission. He has also headed the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., Strategic Intelligence School, Fort Collins, D. C., and Armed Forces Staff College at Norfolk, Va.

He commanded the 126th Infantry Regiment of the 32nd Infantry Division in New Guinea, I.B. Philippines during World War II.

Mudgett is the school's chief of the United States Group Office on the United Nations Group Office in the Far East Branch in the Army's Intelligence Division.

He has been here since January 1952.

WAC Head Visits Center

Col. Irene O. Galloway, director of the Women's Army Corps, inspected the 30th Infantry Center last week and conferred with Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., Infantry Center commander.

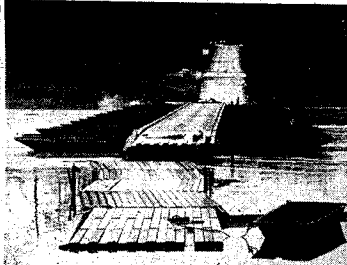

This was Col. Galloway's first visit here since she became director Jan. 3.

Accompanying her was Maj. Rebecca S. Parks, Third Army WAC commander.

After an inspection tour of the women's barracks, Col. Galloway conferred with Gen. Meloy, Col. Cortlandt K. Kraus, commanding officer of the Area Service Unit Provisional Group, and 2nd Lt. Van Walter of Marquette, Okla., acting commander of the WAC detachment at the center. The latter is part of the Area Service Unit Provisional Group.

Col. Galloway delayed the visiting party which was scheduled to arrive a day earlier.

An experimental plan involving colors to ease identification of student command positions is being employed by the 21st OC Company for the First Officer Candidate Regiment. If successful, the new color innovation will replace the traditional arm bands. The green and yellow helmets with white stripes are expected to ease identification of students in command positions. These student leadership positions are changed several times weekly to give each candidate an opportunity to show his command and leadership abilities. Student non-commissioned officers wear green helmets, with white bands used to indicate rank. A single white marker represents squad leaders and assistant platoon sergeants. Platoon sergeants have two white markings, while the first sergeant of the company employs three stripes. The brightly colored yellow helmets are worn by student commissioned officers.

When the Chattahoochee River goes on the rampage and begins to rise, it's time to call for the 78th Engineer Battalion. The maintenance and upkeep of the Pontoon bridge stretched across the river below Lawson Air Field is the responsibility of the Sand Hill unit of the Combat Training Command.

Last week when the river was swollen by the continuous rains, the 78th was called out to tie down the bridge and maintain a 24-hour watch.

Lt. Clyde Menzger and eight men from the 78th's Company A drew the assignments. To keep the approach ramps from being washed away, they jacked up the ramps, cut them loose from the main section, and tied them down.

No work had to be done to the center section of the bridge since it is able to ride with the rising water and is attached to a two-inch cable which stretches across the river, Lt. Menzger explained.

The only damage to the main section is from debris washing down the river and catching on the pontoons, the lieutenant continued. To prevent this, it is necessary to keep one man on the section at all times to push the debris past the pontoons.

During the operations a power launch was damaged and a crane was sent for to hoist the boat from the river so that it could be repaired.

Fort Benning's 1953 contribution to the March of Dimes Campaign (Georgia State Director of the fund) was turned over to the national March of Dimes.

Others present for the presentation were Col. Paul C. Seff, chairman of the post's 1953 drive, and Philip Priou, Mesconee and Chattahoochee County director.

In his presentation speech the general praised Fort Benning personnel for their "generosity of spirit" which contributed to making the drive a success.

The drive this year was conducted on a voluntary basis. In contrast to former years, Lawson Air Force Base conducted its own drive this year. The airman's check for $1,328 was presented to the March of Dimes late last month.

According to the final tabulations, First Student Brigade was first in contributions with $3,944.80 followed by Area Service Unit Professional Group with $1,850. Command Training Command ranked third with $1,548.17.

Red Cross Helped Me In Korea—Sgt. Mueller

By CAPT. MURRAY BORTON

The blaring bugles and shrill cries in the night were our first notice that the Reds were launching their assault.

So spoke Sgt. Herbert Mueller of Chicago, Ill., recently as he recalled the events leading up to his first field experience with Red Cross benefits to the fighting man in Korea.

"We were in position North of Unsan, North Korea, assigned with the task of affording protective cover for the main supply route from Pyongyang, the capital, when the attack began. As the battle progressed my unit became separated and a group of us were forced to hide in the hills.

"For three days we kept ourselves concealed within the hill mass, and attempted movement toward friendly lines during the hours of darkness only. We had brief encounters with the Reds, but everything was operating smoothly by until the fourth night, when we took nearly as important as the hill, completely exhausted.

"This proved our undoing, since our bivouac proved to be about 400 yards from a Chinese cavalry unit, and naturally we were not welcomed guests. A brief fire fight occurred during which time I was wounded in the leg and forced out of the fight. The others surrendered when ammunition was exhausted and carried me along with them on the march to the Yalu River with our captors. This was a five day march, but I was fortunate to be placed on a horse.

"While in prison we were interrogated with the usual malarky, 'Is your father a capitalist?' 'Are you a capitalist?' which all prisoners are asked, and finally released to the POW camp.

"It is particularly fitting that Fort Benning, so near the Warm Springs Foundation, has responded so generously in the campaign just past.

"I wish to commend each of you—soldier and civilian—who contributed to the campaign."

back to the front. I didn't know what they were going to do with us, but as it later turned out, they were going to release us at 'no man's land' and send us on our way. For what reason they were doing this, I didn't know.

"We ran through 'no-man's-land' was scared, and kept running toward our lines, both sides firing on our path. I was never so happy when I was halted by a fellow also of First Cavalry Division.

"No sooner were we recognized," claimed sergeant Mueller, "then the Red Cross representative of this unit was questioning us to obtain the names and home addresses of our nearest relatives. Within moments of our entry into friendly lines, a telegram was being prepared to notify our families that we were safe.

"Naturally, food, clean clothing, and sleep were on our minds, but not nearly as important as the gnawing worry that accompanies a prisoner. Who knows the anguish one's loved ones suffer after receiving notice that he is missing in action?

Weeks of hospitalization, during which time I was in the hands of the Red Cross representative, including the "Gray Ladies" paid daily visits, assured Sgt. Mueller of full recovery and eventual return to the United States.

Sgt. Mueller, operations sergeant of the Second Student Regiment, is married now, and besides his wife Barbara, his home life is composed of telling all visitors, his personal experiences with the American Red Cross.

Give So They May Serve

The early morning air was cold and the group of passengers, gathered at the airport gate, eagerly eyed the plane's cabin. They were all service men and women, dressed in combat fatigues. They were booked for the next flight from Japan to Korea. "As they moved toward the plane, the loud speaker could be heard above the roar of the plane's engines as they warmed up."

"All bookings for Flight 506 have been cancelled. "These eight 12 hours meant waiting from 12 to 12 hours at the airport—waiting for the next available seating space. But they mean much more than that. "The passengers stood silently, as if in reverence, as box after box of blood was put in their plane above the plane. With out a word they turned and went into the building to begin their long wait. The majority of them had served in Korea and they knew that that blood meant for thousands of wounded men."

The little episode quoted above is not fictional. It was written by one of the women who had waited in vain for passage on a plane that disappeared in the middle of the story. It could have begun in that Red Cross blood mobile in your hometown and it could easily end in your brother, husband or close friend on the battle field or in an evacuation hospital in Korea. "That brings us to the meat or

Andor Caprew, Savvy?

So we must keep up with new words, so Andor Caprew to you.

30th Trophy Section Has Many Relics

The original copy of the French Code of Guerre signed by Marquis Peain is one of the documents to be displayed in the trophy. That "andor" means "either" without "or" or simply "or"? Or, if you're still there, does it mean "or and" or "and or" or "either"? See what we mean? Anyway, the word may soon be vested with the weight of law, and we suppose we should respect it though we doubt we'll ever use it. The other word "Caprew" was coined by a U. S. Customs Court justice, who said it could be used as a label for all Americans and it is a word that is used by all of one family. The judge said that it is a contraction of the words "Catholic," "Protestant" and "Jew."

The Traffic Problem Is A Moral One

BY CHAPLAIN
(Lt. J. P. McCONNELL)

From more than one aspect, the traffic problem is the greatest that confronts America today. This nation depends for its life on the quick safe movement of its goods, and the highways of the nation carry an essential portion of these goods. Motor vehicles of a modern country are progressing in the size and efficiency of the smaller way. As these lines are being written, thousands of dollars worth of gasoline is being wasted by idling motors in vehicles stopped by traffic signals or inefficient operation of slow moving cars on congested highways. These difficulties and many more like them are bad enough in themselves, but much more serious is the awful tragedy of loss of life and limb in automobile accidents. This is a moral question.

The Fifth Commandment of God demands, "Thou shalt not kill," which includes within its scope everything from anger to murder and suicide. Actions on the part of men which lead to death or injury are inhuman to the extent that they are human acts. No one who operates a motor vehicle in less than a human way has a right to use the public roads. Therefore, anyone who causes injury or loss of life by his carelessness on the road is guilty of a sin. Further than that, anyone who endangers the lives of others—even though by circumstances beyond his control he hurts no one is guilty of a sin. This evil may be less serious than the traffic problem, but it is a moral question.

The answer that roads are expensive is silly because wasted time and fuel is far more expensive than any road can be. Smooth, broad, well-built highways with safe approaches, overpasses, intelligent patrols, and fast fire breaking devices cost a great deal of money, but they are worth the cost. The answer that roads are expensive is silly because wasted time and fuel is far more expensive than any road can be. ### RIOT AT GRAVESEND

By William Woods. Little Brown and Company.

Against the pageantry of the peasants' revolt in 1381, Mr. Woods has woven the tremendous story of a young aristocrat who joins in the revolt. It is here in the story also of Wat Tyler who commanded the peasants and who for a short time was able to dictate terms to Richard II, the boy-king of England.

Here also is the story of that bit of mad genius treasury which brought destruction to Tyler at the very moment when it seemed that the peasants had won.

American Soldiers Everywhere Show A Yearning For Learning

Spore-time scholars in uniform are troops bent on furthering their education. They joined the Army's Troop Education school system by the thousands during the past year.

Soldier participation in the Army's education program reached 230,875 by January of 1953. Soldier enrollment in United States Armed Forces Institute courses, group study classes, and classes conducted by co-operating civilian schools stood at 117,035 at that time.

Of these, 11,839 enrollments were on the basic level up to fifth grade level (up to eighth grade), 110,805 on the college level.

Another 20,224 finished the equivalent of one year of college by passing General Educational Development tests on the "level" basis.

Signal Section Joins Corps In Observing 90th Anniversary

The 22d Army Signal Corps personnel here joined with their colleagues the world over March 3 in observance of the 90th anniversary of the founding of their service.

The post Signal section, with 1,100 training films and 96 16 mm reels, is divided into four major divisions: Wire, Communications, Electronic and Property Divisions. Also stationed here are 320 Signal Corps personnel and the 334th Signal Construction Battalion, commanded by First Lt. Henderson of Chicago, Ill.

The Signal Section's Wire Division, directed by Capt. Roy L. Wilson of Athens, Ga., operates the three telephone exchanges on the reservation and maintains all overhead and underground cable. These hundred miles of cable keep ranges and problem areas in contact with the Main Post and there is enough cable underground to reach from Fort Benning to Chattanooga, according to Maj. William A. Warlick of Miami, Fla., acting signal officer.

If the wire in these cables were stretched out, Maj. Warlick said, there would be enough to circle the world one and a half times, or approximately 35,000 miles.

Used Homing Pigeons

Early methods of communication were often slow and unreliable. The Signal Corps has a long history of using homing pigeons or, rather, since that time, homing pigeons and their relatives. # Troopers Are Busy Devils

The 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team spreads its wings over more than 100 miles of just the 152,000 acres of this post.

Probably one of the most traveled units in the Third Army area, the 508th covered 200 miles south and 200 miles north of its home base during February as it took five major assignments in addition to regular duties.

The most distant assignment, and one of the toughest, was to forward to the Ranger Department's jungle and amphibious training camp near Edlin Air Force Base, Fla. There a platoon of 12 troopers, including a platoon sergeant, were serving as aggressors for Infantry School Ranger students.

Two platoons of the 508th are busy to the north at Camp Wabasca, Ga., where the airborne engineers are building a permanent mountain camp for the Ranger Department while more aggressors are taking part in mountain combat training problems for Ranger trainees.

The Red Devils also have a mission at Ft. Benning. In addition to all that and two officers representing the regular guard staff, it began as a temporary two-week tour, but has grown into a regular two-week rotation of 508th men.

But the guard duty doesn't end there, since the troopers do some home port policing, too. They can be seen on the Main Post directing traffic along with the regular Military Police.

The 508th Medical Company, reduced in size since the 1951 draft, are having a busy time conducting medical demonstrations for officers, candidates, associate and advanced classes at the Infantry School. They also continue to jump with the 508th to provide medical aid at drop zones and maintain ambulance service at any of the seven drop zones.

The airborne troopers, in addition, had a mission with Army Field Force Book No. 2, which tests new equipment. Red Devils volunteered to test the equipment and reported the results to the board.

The 320th Airborne Field Artillery Battalion fires a large number of field exercises for the Infantry School.

These assignments were above and beyond the call of regular 508th duties, such as regular training assignments, schooling and battalion-level parachute drops, which are standard schedules in the busy Red Devils' day.

350 Reservists At Contact Camp
Approximately 350 Army Reserve officers in the Georgia and Alabama Military Districts were here Feb. 28 and March 1 to attend a contact camp.

This was the first contact camp held here since 1950. It is designed to bring non-active duty officers up to date on Army tactics and weapons.

Brig. Gen. Guy Meloy, Jr., Infantry Center commander, officially welcomed the Reservists. Then followed an orientation on the school and center and demonstration.

The Reservists returned to their homes Sunday afternoon.

Maj. Hughes Joins Tactics

Maj. John W. Hughes Jr., of Frankfort, Ky., has been assigned to the Armored Committee of the Infantry School's Tactical Department.

He arrived here following 11 months in Korea with the Third Infantry Division.

Maj. Hughes entered the Army in June, 1942 and was commissioned in January 1943 following graduation from the Armored Officer Candidate School at Fort Knox, Ky.

During World War II he served with the XIX Corps in Europe and the XXIV Corps in the Pacific.

He was assigned to the Infantry tank team in attack and the rifle company in assault of a river line.

He was commander, addressed the Reserve officers March 1 following a mine-warfare demonstration.

The Reservists returned to their homes Sunday afternoon.

If Infantry Used Skates, Life Would Be Snap For OC Mazur

Mazur had that the Infantry doesn't travel on skates. If it did, a doughnut life would be a snap for Officer Candidate Currian C. Mazur of 12th OC Company.

Prior to joining the Army, in March 1952 Mazur was chief instructor and instructor at Staten Island, N.Y. Roller rink reported to be the newest and largest in the eastern seaboard.

In addition to instructing skaters, the candidate's talents extended to semi-pro roller hockey. For two years he was the coach of the Bayonne, N. J., Barros, a team which won two Eastern Roller Hockey League championships.

Since turning professional in 1948, Mazur has been associated with such skating celebrities as Billy Reed, U. S. National senior champion of 1947-48; and Hen and Alma Bal-uchedzer, U. S. National junior pairs champions of 1949.

The candidate believes that skating offers advantages as a competitive sport and as relaxing recreation.

"As a sport, roller skating is a great crowd pleaser with its fast action, skill, and spills," he says. "It is the most of the attributes of a healthy exercise, relatively inexpensive, and like dancing, has definite social advantages."

Candidate Mazur's connection with roller skating has not all been business. He is currently presenting New Jersey novice dance instruction, skill, and spills, he says.

Two attend Meet At Langley AFB
Two Civilian Personnel Division representatives attended a three-day supervisory pay plan meeting at Langley Air Force Base, Va., last week.

They are Horace W. Tills of the employe and utilization branch, who places civilian personnel at Lawson Air Force Base, and William A. Buzick, chief of the salary and wage branch.

The conference is being held in connection with the new supervisory pay plan, which is designed to increase full-time supervisors' pay when it goes into operation.

The Army has a similar supervisory pay plan in preparation.

Vickery Gets Highest Score Ever Attained

Two corporals from Medical Company, 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, have returned to their company after being graded as Army schools.

Cpl. William J. Fromme and Cpl. Thomas P. Vickery were graduates of electrical procedure and typing and medical records schools, respectively. Both schools ran eight weeks of instruction.

Cpl. Fromme attended the Clerical and Typing school at Ft. Jackson, S. C. He attained a speed of 68 words a minute and was a distinguished graduate. The corporal is a company clerk in the 508th Medical Co.

Missing a perfect record in Medical Leaders Course by only seven points, Cpl. Vickery achieved the highest score ever made in the Camp Pickett, Virginia, school. He is a medical aid man and the only Airborne medical company at Ft. Benning.

CTC Cross Fund To Top $2,000
—Col. Abernathy
The Red Cross fund for the 30th Regimental Combat Team expects the Combat Training Command to contribute approximately $2,000 to the Red Cross Drive now in progress.

The commanding officer of the 30th Third Battalion, who has been appointed a vice-chairman of the drive, said he believes many of the CTC units will achieve 100 per cent participation. Company I of the 30th is the first unit to notify the colonel that they had hit the 100 per cent mark.

The colonel said he based his prediction on the performance of the CTC during the March of Dimes drive. In that campaign the CTC raised $1,558. The second Battalion, with 338, was the high unit followed by the Third Battalion with 312 and the 188th Field Artillery Battalion with 312.

'Private Eye' In Jump School; Doesn't Match Mike Hammer

When one thinks of a private investigator for Pinkerton's—not to be confused with the "Mike Shayne" series—there comes to mind a slim, plain-faced fellow in a bowler hat.

Private Jack A. Majors of Company D of the Airborne Battalion shown in a very different light, however. He is short, stocky, and red-faced, and a professional soldier to his boots.

Majors is a Hungarian-born Magyar, he says, "to investigate the opening school of a parachute unit." At the age of 19 Majors joined the Canadian army and served with the armored section of the Fourth Commando Unit.

He was trained in England, served in the Middle East, took part in the invasion of Sicily, and fought all through Italy.

He also took part in the Dieppe and Marseilles invasions. Majors obviously didn't get enough of the world and didn't have enough action in World War II, so he came to the States from Canada in 1945 and started working for the Pinkerton's Detective Agency.

He got his American citizenship papers in 1948 and decided to join the United States Army in 1952.

He volunteered for Airborne training from Fort Knox, Ky., where he was designated as a sergeant for his basic training company.

Grizzard Cites Postal Sergeant For Great Record
Sgt. John H. Haddock, postal sergeant of First Officer Candidate Regiment, has been awarded a letter of commendation for "superior performance of duty" by Col. Harry M. Grizzard, regimental commander.

A seven-year veteran of the Army with service in Europe and Korea, Haddock has supervised the postal operations of the regiment since November 1951. In a recent postal inspection by the Third Army, the post office received a "superior" rating for security of the mail, efficiency of service, and compactness and accuracy of records.

"This reason could only have been obtained through professional knowledge and devoted supervision on the part of the postal sergeant and the cooperation of his assistants," the citation reads. "It is apparent that you, as postal sergeant, have been fully aware of your responsibility and have done your utmost to fulfill it."

Sgt. Haddock wears the Silver Star, the Bronze Star, an Army Combat Infantryman Badge, the Purple Heart, and the Parachutist Badge.

20 Earn Senior Jump Wings

The regimental commander and acting executive officer of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team headed a list of 20 officers and enlisted men who qualified for senior jump wings during February. The new senior qualification following approval of an A-107 review board.

To qualify for the senior badge, paratroopers must have completed thirty satisfactory jumps, of which two are night jumps. To qualify for the star above the jump badge, the jumper must have attended a course in jumpmaster training either at the Airborne School or at a regimental or divisional jumpmaster school.

Also 24 1st Lt. William Kelly, Claude Hartley, William Holnanski, Harry McDaniel, and Harry McDaniel.

Enlisted paratroopers who earned the badge are: Sdts. Harold Edmondson and Russell Steinkuehler; Sdcs. Vincent Cain, James White, and Sgt. Earl Gilman.

Sgt. Accumulates Fortune in Deposits
Sgt. Joseph Gaskins really made the army pay off after 23 years of duty.

Sgt. Gaskins retired from Army life last week after accumulating no less than $20,000 in savings with Soldiers' Deposits, an Army program for enlisted men. While stationed here, he was operations sergeant for the 3rd Battalion, the First Student Regiment.

60 Undertake Academy Exams

Sixty applicants from four states were expected to take the two-day U. S. Military Academy entrance examination which began here March 3.

The candidates came from Alabama, Mississippi, Georgia and parts of Florida, according to Col. E. G. Hardaway, director of the Infantry School's Automotive Department and president of the examining board.

The board will be composed of 12 officers supplemented by additional officers and enlisted men.

About 25 other Army and Air Force installations in the U.S. and overseas are conducting examinations simultaneously with those at the post.

The examining board only gives the tests and has no authority to issue appointments or to process applications for appointments to the academy.

Eighty-five per cent of the 550 new cadets admitted each year are nominated by U. S. senators and representatives. One-fourth of the cadets represent a senatorial and congressional district at any one time.

There are smaller quotas for enlisted men of deceased World War I and II veterans and for officers who are members of the various branches of service.

Anyone desiring additional information concerning West Point appointments should write to the registrar at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.

Brickles Named OC Exec Officer

Lt. Col. Franklin R. Brickles has been assigned as executive officer for administration to Headquarters First Infantry Regiment. He replaces Col. William J. McConnell who has been assigned to the Staff Department of the Infantry School.

Col. Brickles served with the U. S. Military Mission with the 1st Infantry in Tehran from August 1950 until September 1952. He reported here as a veteran of more than three years in the Pacific during World War II, he wears the Silver Star, Bronze Star with Oak Leaf, the Philippine Liberation Ribbon, and the Philippine Presidential Unit Citation.

Six officers in the First Officer Candidate Regiment have been promoted from first lieutenant to captain. They are Melvin D. Schil- ler, Julius P. Jekler, George E. Blum, V. Allen Jekler, Robert L. Nall, Jr., and Robert L. Oizer.

Capt. Jekler graduated from the United States Military Academy in 1947. He served with the 20th Infantry Regiment of the 1st In- fantry Division in Europe for 42 months. He is 3rd OC Battalion adjutant.

Capt. Blund, assistant adjutant in the evolution of the 3rd OC Regi- ment, has served 10 years in the Army. He was commissioned a second lieutenant from the United States Military Academy in 1947.

Capt. Aldrie, assistant regimental S-3, is a veteran of the Korean conflict. He served with the 2nd Airborne Division in Europe with "W" device, the Purple Heart, the Combat Infantryman Badge, the Combat Parachutist Ribbon, the United States Citation, and the Victory Medal.

Capt. Nall, a graduate of the United States Military Academy in 1947, is the assistant adjutant for the 1st OC Regiment. He has served seven years in the Army.

Capt. Oizer, commanding officer of 3rd OC Company, has served nine years in the Army. All members of them with the 18th Infantry in Europe. He is a graduate of the U. S. Military Academy.

CAPTAIN ALTY Lone Egyptian Army Captain Is In Airborne

Egypt's only representative from its armed forces presently in the United States began Airborne training with Company C, of the Airborne Battalion last week.

Capt. Mohammed Wafick Aly, who arrived in the United States on Feb. 26, is here to study the American method of packing and rigging parachutes for Port Lee, Va. after he completes the Basic Airborne course here.

Captain Aly, recipient of the Lib- eration Order, highest Egyptian military award, for his part in the recent change of government in Egypt, also has an impressive array of athletic awards—50 in all—for his prowess in sculling.

In addition to his aquatic feat he held second place in Egypt for fencing with the epee. In 1945 he captured, weighing 220 lbs., was heavyweight champion of the King's Guards.

He was pentathlon champion for the Egyptian Army in 1952 and would have completed in the Inter- national Army Championship in Brussels had Egypt's internal sit- uation not prevented him.

Captain Aly's home station is 1st Battalion, Fifth Brigade, Mustafa el-Faha Barracks, Asoof, Egypt.

The finest amateur fighters in Sand Hill and Main Post paired off last Thursday at Briant Wells Field House in the spectacular nine-bout Fort Benning Boxing Tournament. Finals with nine boxers, battered and arm weary, stepping into the center of the ring at the evening conclusion to be acclaimed as the 1933 champions.

Championships were decided in all weight divisions except the fly-weight. The bantamweights started the festivities and hard hitting heavyweights wound up the fast-moving, exciting card.

These seasoned sluggers automatically qualified to represent Fort Benning in the coming Third Army Boxing Tournament. This four day competition, pairing champion fighters from various sections of the Third Army command, opens at Fort Jackson, S. C., March 11 and concludes with the 34 championships decided on March 14.

The Champions
Starting at the bottom and working up through the classes, here are the 1933 Fort Benning Boxing Champions:

Heavyweight: Bobby Robinson
Light Heavyweight: Nori Kawasaki
Middleweight: Ray Kiley
Welterweight: Elvis Mathews
Light Welterweight: Adel Dukes
Light Middleweight: Elmer Blair
Light Heavyweight: Gordon Van Loos
Middleweight: Leona H. H. Clark
Light Heavyweight: Ben Robinson
Heavyweight: Ernest Fann

The Boxing Board, which is made up of the coaches from the

First SR & 508th Get 3 Titles Each; CTC, ASU Split Others

The active pugilistic teams, decided that Robinson, the light-heavyweight champion will not represent Fort Benning at the 3-A meet. Jack King, who has beaten the ASU boxer on three occasions, will represent us in that class.

Also, little Joe Clark of First SR, who bowed to Kawasaki in bantamweight scrapping, may be a viable competitor in that class because the 508th champion is due to be discharged within the very near future.

The coaches who will be in charge of the team and who will be the chief scorers in the boxing boxes corners are Jerry Parham of First SR, Harry Brezno of the 508th, and Billy Ferguson of CTC.

Top Fight
The top fight of the battle for the champions took place between a guy with a lot of heart, Jesse Flores of 508th Airborne and Elvis Mathews of ASU. Flores, a real scrapper out of Glendale, Calif., was driven into the canvas four times by Mathews power-punched left hook.

But even here, the Red Devil fighter came back up from the floor swinging Mathews, a ring-wise veteran from Greenville, Miss., three times in the right and left, right and left combinations, but Flores stood in there and absorbed the punishing blows which had him down four times.

Just before the bell ended the third round, Mathews opened a cut over Flores' left eye. The ASU champion assuredly won the fight, but Flores won the crowd with his gameness and willingness to fight and not quit.

Secondary honors for billing went to the middleweight fracas between last year's champion Leon Hall of CTC and Freeman Thatcher of ASU. The rangy Commander fighter, who has beaten Hall before during the regular campaign, got the nod by split decision from the judges.

Split Decision
Judge Adams voted 38 for Hall and 39 for Thatcher. Judge Cooper cast his points with Hall getting the 508th Airborne and winning the welterweight championship. Knowing that he once before beat the Red Devil, Blair got somewhat wild in his swinging and rushes at Stout, who ducked and evaded him.

Subs For King
With Jack King of First SR home on emergency leave, Ben Robinson of ASU was given the nod and the right to be called the post champion. He stepped in the First SR's light heavy's shoes and took on Tommy Miller of ISD.

King, who has beaten Robinson during the tournament and twice before, will be the Fort Benning champion. Miller has never appeared in the ring before the finals.

Geis Decision
Stalking Ray Kiley of the 508th set his right hand into the mid-point and was given the nod. ASU boxer went down early in the first round. Kiley, who scored the first SR light middleweight again in the second, Wright got a little bothered in the third, knowing that he was by behind, got the long count.

Cold Feet?
To many of the fans and to members of the press, it looked like Wilburn suddenly got cold feet in the third round. Frank Hartley of Wilburn's chief second, urged him to get back up and fight, but Wilburn still reposed on the canvas. The ASU boxer had the first round taken away from him by Referee Cecil Dickerson after the "third man in the ring" warned Wilburn for low blows on numerous occasions.

In the battle for the bantamweight crown, Nori Kawasaki got his slender left through his opponent's defense many a time, but Joe Clark of First SR did not seem to be bothered with them. He dropped the 508th bantam, who succeeded George Allen of ASU as champion, to the canvas in the second round for an eight count, but Kawasaki came back up and in turn dropped Clark for the same count.

After trading punches, Clark got a little cute and dropped his guard for an instant. Kawasaki came through with his left and down went the Blackshirt. The 508th boy then surged ahead in points and was given the nod.

Geis Decision
Stalking Ray Kiley of the 508th set his right hand into the mid-point and was given the nod. ASU boxer went down early in the first round. Kiley, who scored the first SR light middleweight again in the second, Wright got a little bothered in the third, knowing that he was by behind, got the long count.

Cold Feet?
To many of the fans and to members of the press, it looked like Wilburn suddenly got cold feet in the third round. Frank Hartley of Wilburn's chief second, urged him

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

By Lester Dinoff

Fort Benning's sports fans will get plenty of exercise tomorrow night at Briant Wells Field House when the Jack Kramer professional tennis troupe stops here for a one night stand. The troupe which is headed by Kramer, Ken McGregor, Frank Sedgman, and Pancho Segura, will play two singles matches and one doubles. And the fans will go home with sore necks from watching these fast men beat the ball around.

They say that baseball is the National Pastime, but tennis is at least in the neck's best sport. Net patrons, however, are subject to a spectator hazard not encountered by patrons of other sports—condition known familiarly in medical circles as Tennis Neck.

This is a spinal condition, the symptoms of which are similar to those found among greedy-eyed lightkeepers—technically known as tennis necks—but are not to be confused with those resulting from another sport reputedly played in smaller vehicles on country lanes. Net is it to be classed as teacher's pet, even though it employs love scores.

In comparison to the physical toll on the spectators, the baserats of the game to competitors are rather light. Chief of the ailments they encounter is Tennis Elbow, a condition which may be acquired more easily—and some believe more enjoyably—at any golf's 19th holes.

But up the neck again; Tennis Neck is rarely caused by a baseline duel, however spirited. With this pattern of play, the onlooker is able to indulge in the full pendulum swing, which exerts little strain on the muscles or vertebrae.

Beovide of the net-pusher and there is a minimum of two of them in every single match. Just when the fans' heads are swaying in happy rhythm, you will dash one of the racket man to cut off his foe's return. Now the spectator must jam the brakes on his neck and just as quickly throw the gears into reverse to catch the results of the volley or smash.

There have been many cases where these brakes, subjected to a severe strain, have snapped, allowing the head to revolve like a roulette wheel. Fortunately, in all cases reported in medical journals, nature has seen to it that the heads eventually come to rest in the same position they started.

Less alarming but quite annoying is the tendency of the head to continue the metronome effect for a considerable length of time after the matches have been concluded. It is suggested that 24 hours be allowed to elapse after the viewing of matches before hitting up hubby for a new fur or tackling the boss for a raise. Otherwise it might be impossible to determine whether the slow lateral motion of the head indicates a negative reply or is merely residual reflex action from the tennis match.

There is, of course, an easy way out of this dilemma. It is simply to choose a seat behind the baseline. But this location has its drawbacks, too. If you sit there, you'll never be able to see yourself in the newspapers and bear the audience's level at the swing-and-away antics of you and your neighbors.

Now just a few words on tennis decorum for the uninitiate. Although it is an inherent part of tennis viewing for heads to wag, it is considered de trop for tongues to follow suit. The accepted is supposed to be on the court exclusively. The conventional expression of praise—being the palms of the hands together at short intervals—is very much appreciated by the contestants, but only after a point has been decided. Similarly, vocal expressions of laudation are in order also on those occasions.

However, if you're not so well versed in the sport, it would be well to avoid an error similar to the one an American made while viewing an unfamiliar cricket match. After hearing a British commentator say, "Well, played, old boy," he said "and well fitted," etc. The visitor sought an opportunity to set into the act. Finally one of the players, attempting a catch, stepped into a hole, turned a somersault and hit the turf in a perfect, open-handed landing.

Up jumped our American hero to bellow "well fell, old boy!"

There is, incidentally, a marked similarity between the deportment of audiences in cricket and tennis, particularly in their attitude toward officials. The position of the tennis umpire—the man in the high chair—bears no resemblance to that of, say, a baseball umpire. It is considered the height of form to toss a ball, let alone a pop ball, at the noggin of the net writer, even though he may occasionally be best one, being a member of the fallible human race.

If you are a first-time tennis spectator, you have a lot to learn about one of the oldest and most exciting sports in the world. But this knowledge will come quickly if you apply yourself and are not confused by the literal meaning of tennis terms and jump to immediate conclusions.

Just for example, 15-love does not mean or indicate adolescent romance. Nor is the term baseline judge a reflection on the morals of the individual. The service line has no connection with the service line.

TENNIS CHAMPS . . . The International Championship Jack Kramer Tennis Troupe will play two singles and one doubles match at Briant Wells Field House tomorrow night. Admission is $1.50 with the matches due to get under way at 8 p.m. Left to right are Frank Sedgman, world amateur champion, Ken McGregor, Australian champion, Kramer, world's professional champion, and Pancho Segura, runner-up in professional tennis.

Kramer Tennis Troupe At Benning Tomorrow

Everyone likes to see the best players in any sports and Fort Benning tennis followers will get their chance tomorrow evening at Briant Wells Field House when the Big Four of International Tennis, the Jack Kramer troupe, put in an appearance at Fort Benning.

The two singles and one doubles match, with Kramer pitted against Frank Sedgman and Pancho Segura meeting Ken McGregor in singles, will get under way 8 p.m. Admission is $1.50.

In the doubles match, it will be Sedgman and McGregor, who have had a successful record together against Kramer and Segura in an Australia vs. America net duel.

The highlight of the match will be the head-on collision between Kramer, the ruler of the pros, and Sedgman, who just abdicated his world amateur crown to seek personal gain on the tennis junket with the troupe.

Top Player
Whichever star wins will have the unchallenged title of the world's greatest tennis player. Kramer, the "unbeatable" Cell-fornian, carried the world amateur title into professional competition in 1941 and quickly established his supremacy in the play-for-prize ranks. Now the Australian is endeavoring to try to follow in the footsteps of the 31-year-old youngster, who has made over a quarter of a million dollars and has exploits in pro tennis, has one of the favorite spots in the world.

He beat Bobby Riggs in 1947 for the pro title by winning 69 of 80 matches. Then during the next two years he beat Pancho Gonzales, the United States amateur champion, 26-21, and followed by beating the U.S. pro singles and doubles title in '48. He has played infrequently in tournaments since, but was defeated by Ken Inquirer Masters, beating Gonzales, 150 miles, a tie break out.

Robert Traversed the rest of the way by using his thumb, and with the aid of a sympathetic driver who charred his route of travel, he arrived at the team's hotel while the other players were taking the limo to his amateur career, he was wearing up exercise.

Among them are two Davis Cup players of this era. He has won two French, one U.S., two British, and two Down Under titles. The amateur champ is unbeaten in 44 of his Davis Cup seasons, six singles and three doubles, 1920-32.

McGregor is also a "rookie" in the play-for-prize ranks. As an amateur he won last year's Australian singles title by beating Sedgman. Many predict that the ransy, hand-some lad will eventually outstrip his fellow Aussie and their belief was strengthened by his great performance in Davis Cup matches.

Surprise Choice
In 1930, he was a surprise choice to play against the U.S. in the Davis Cup at Forest Hills. Just 21, McGregor came through on the opening day of the matches to upset veteran Ted Schroeder and start the Cup enroute to Australia. Where it has been ever since.

Segura, who garnered the U.S. Intercollegiate title for University of Miami in the early forties, turned pro in 1941 and four years later won the National Pro Rans-Rub-in tournament at Forest Hills. He beat out Gonzales, Riggs, Selye and Van Horn. Frank Parker for that time.

On successive tours he defeated Jimmy Falls and Pauline, but he bowed to Kramer, 64-28.

The 31-year-old tennis player is one of the most colorful in the game today. A master of the under-the-handled tennis racket, he is a great retriever. He does not possess the "home run" service or overhead of some of his foes, but the South American champ overcomes this lack by canny placing and sharp volleying.

How About A Trophy For Collins Of ISD?

Fort Benning acclaimed and honored its top fighters last week but as usual, one boxer was overlooked.

That was Robert Collins, ISD's first welterweight champion. He climbed through the ropes on four occasions during the first seven days of the Infantry Center Boxing Tournament.

When the boxing tournament's quarter-finals opened, the slender Philadelphian fought two bouts that evening, the first and the last being Walter Tounsett of ASU and Sam Smith of First SR. Then in an elimination bout to see who will box in the semi-finals, Collins scored another victory by beating William Rey of the 50th.

This earned him a shot at Adel Dukes of First SR, who drew a bye into the semis. The 20-year-old Collins gamely got into the ring with the fresh Duke. As the Blackshirts soon had him going and the Company A 120-pounder lost by the judges vote.

Making

That were runners flying about the Old Gym that Collins was skipping rope in his company's mess room, that is in between sorting letters, so that he may maintain his peak of top physical condition. But the man who has appeared in more bouts than any other fighter in Fort Benning during a single year, easily denied this.

Collins has fought ten times during the 1952-53 ring warfare and has only dropped two bouts, both by decisions. Byron Mortenson, Paul Gotten, Russell twice, 'KO'd Smith, and decisioned Ray. He lost to Samuel Martin and to Dukes, planning to join the same boxing club when they are discharged and enter the puncher-pay ranks.

With about a year-and-a-half still to serve in the Army, Collins plans to continue his excellent fighting record as an amateur and gather enough experience for the professional boxing career. He learned the rudiments of boxing from such fighters as Percy Bassett, Cortez Jackson and Jimmy Washington, all established Philadelphia professionals.

Even though he trained with the Golden Gloves, he never fought on a professional card as yet. He doesn't plan to either until his discharge.

ROBERT COLLINS
... Best ISD boxer

Whenever the slender Collins climbs into the ring, no one, excepting himself, will know what a style of fighting he will use. He was taught to box as a righty, but during most of his post booting he fought out of a left-handed stance.

A Switcheroo

There have been many occasions before and during the Fort Benning boxing campaign when Collins entered the ring as a righty, switched to the right handed style and fighting for the second round, and reversed back again to the southpaw stance for the third stanza.

His style of fighting depends on whom he boxes and what type of a bout it will be. He hasn't much power in his frame, but when he starts to swing and his punches thrown are too numerous to count, his opponent quickly goes on the defensive.

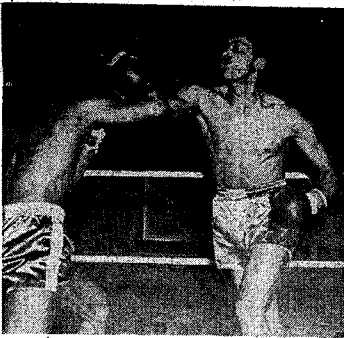

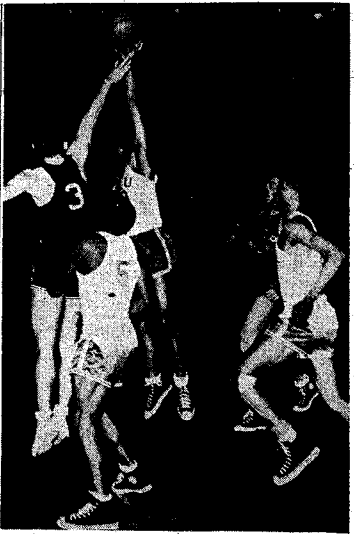

A quick one arose during the early days of this year's boxing tourney when Collins had to fight two in one with Collins had to fight long arms of the light weight, four times within seven days. A real workhorse's job.

Collins, who is also the coach of the ISD team, is held by the Boxing Board as a class three fighter. In order that he get a shot at the post championship, he had to box everyone in his class and above to his on the top man.

In this case it was Dukes, who drew a bye right into the semi-finals.

After his first two bouts in the quarter-finals, Collins pulling off an "iron-man" stunt, his arms fall like they were about to fall off. The long arms of the light weight were weary and for the next few days, until he tangled with Ray, he was getting daily heat treatments and massages during his afternoon workouts.

A lot of credit goes to Collins and some sort of a reward for his ability, as a sportsman and a boxer, should be given him.

Harry Ziegler, PMG guard who is no longer with the Medics because of his discharge, dropped in a field goal a few seconds before the period ended to give PMG a 33-31 lead and the lead which they never relinquished.

The First OC had an easy time in downing the ISD Professors in their quarter-final action. With the Generals filling the keyhole because of a technical foul called on the bench riders by Referee Tom Sparkman, the First OC gained the quarter-final contest, 78-42.

Since the OC's were victorious, the protest was nullified.

With Vern Coffey more or less controlling the backboards, the Generals ran up an early lead, 26 points in the second half, and coasted to the win. Coffey, who may be named to the All-Post team, scored 28 points while player-coach Garland Finnoister of ISD scored 13 markers.

The "iron-man" is returning to the college gridiron wars and the big coaching staffs demanded by the need for many defensive and offensive players. Further drastic de-emphasizing of the sport was in store for 1953.

The rules committee also outlawed the disputed "sucker shift" or "shift or movement which simulates a play or the beginning of a play," use of the "saucer shift" hose will cost a team a five-yard penalty.

The two-plateau system was substituted in 1941 when unlimited substitution was granted. Graduates of gridiron specialists bowled out. Growing out of the diverse formations of the early 40's and an increasing demand by fans for more specialized and systematic play, the two-plateau system, which brought disaster to many a college team will re-emerge as a full-around athlete.

20 Pistoleers Vying For Army Squad Berths

Twenty marksmen from military posts throughout the United States and overseas are vying at Fort Benning for berths in the 1953 Army Pistol Team which will participate in the Mid-Winter Pistol Matches at Tampa, Fla., next week.

Major Ellis Lea, team captain, will select the final 15 men to represent the Army in the annual matches in the Florida city. He has already eliminated eight of the original number who arrived here for tryouts early in February.

Working out at the Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club's range are M-Sgt. Huellet 'Joe' Benner, CWO

Robert E. Knight and CWO Oscar Weinmeister, mainstays of the 1952 squad which swept last season's tournament.

Benner, representing the Panama Canal Zone, is known through out the world as one of the best shooters in the business. He is a member of the 1948 Olympics, a member of the 1949 International Pistol Team, participated in the Pan-American Games and holds the world's pistol record which he set in the 1952 Olympics.

Top Winner

in last year's National Matches at Jacksonville, Fla., the National Mid-Winter, Southeastern Regional, Northeastern Regionals, Fort McPherson, and Tournament of the Seven Hills Meet in Atlanta.

He also won the American Pistol Championship last October and is one of four Fort Benning soldiers trying out for the team.

Weinmeister, a member of the Armed Forces' Weapons Department at Fort Knox, Ky., is a distinguished Pistol Shot and holds a master rating in NRA classification.

He won the Tennessee, Georgia and West Virginia, Page 21

First SR, PMG, First OC, CTC Meet In Cage Semis

The Infantry Center Basketball Tournament got under way last night at Briant Wells Field House with the First SR, PMG, First OC and CTC beating their opponents and moving into the second round, the semi-finals, on Tuesday.

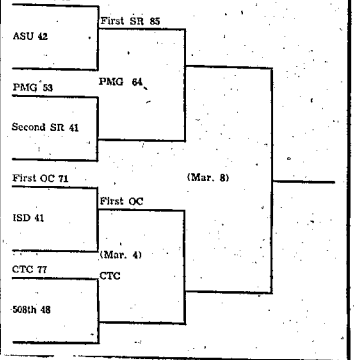

In the quarter-final action, First SR defeated ASU, 78-42; PMG upset Second SR, 33-41; First OC beat ISD, 71-41; and CTC defeated 500th Airborne, 74-48.

In the second round contests, the Blackshirts met the PMG Medics and the Generals tangled with the Commanders. The winners meet Sunday evening to decide the Fort Benning basketball championship. To see who will represent the post in the Third Army Basketball Tournament in late March.

The Blackshirts, paced by George Severs and Ronnie Richardson, had an easy time in beating ASU.

It's probably a little late to mention this winding up a dissertation on Tennis Neck, but we should tell you that there is now known medical cure. Some savants have recommended preventive treatment by conditioning one's upper trunk muscles, starting at the age of six and using a metronome daily during the off seasons.

The results of this, after a study of many case histories, is inclusive. But one thing is certain: tennis needs a neck more than any sports since the zuluine.

Little League Baseball Plans To Be Discussed

Plans for the 1953 Doughboy Little League Baseball will be discussed at a general meeting for all interested parents at P 2 1 Hall, inside the Infantry School building on Monday evening at 7:30 p.m.

The governing board for the Little League baseballers are C P 1 Robert J. Rogers, president; M Sgt. Curtis Dewitt, vice president; Lt. Col. John W. Britten, secretary; Lt. Arthur J. Rafferty, treasurer.

Little Leaguers To Be Honored By Gen. Meloy

Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., Infantry Center commander, will present jackets to Fort Benning's Little League Basketball champions at Briant Wallis Field House Sunday evening at 8 p.m.

Dat's Club, which is sponsored by the 18th Air Division, will present a record of 10 wins, no defeats. Lawson Field captured the Class B title, with a 9-0 record.

Each of the midge champions will play a 15-minute game before the presentation ceremony. Their opponents will be a team of All Stars composed of other players from the two divisions. The post-championship game will follow.

Mujica Wins Split Decision Over Sanchez

By JIM ROSENSTONE

Larry Mujica, formerly of Fort Benning, won a split decision over Jorge Sanchez of Cuba Monday evening in a fight in his mythical Georgia Waterweight Championship at the Columbus Arena.

According to the score cards, Judge Chick Laddell gave the nod to the Cuban, 51-49, while Judge Stafford Stokes and Referee Jack Sullivan awarded it to Mujica, 51-49.

Mujica, who is now fighting out of Miami, started off slow as the Cuban Sanchez danced in and shooting a fast left to the mid-section. The fourth round found the popular Larry coming to life and hitting into the ropes with both punches.

Both boys brought up the heavy artillery in the sixth. However, Mujica was able to connect with a combination of punches to the body and head just before the bell. Sanchez came right back in the next stanza with a solid right to Larripuz's head.

Sanchez, who had been bobbing and weaving, kept away from Mujica's right hook, began to show some of the ex-soldier's hand when he landed a right to the body. The final bout found both boys throwing leather in all directions.

The undercard proved to be a dull affair. Jimmie Jewel, who recently moved to Columbia, won a decision over Jimmy Smith of Birmingham to come under the managerial wing of Frank Beckley, who scored a second round TKO over Rocky Dixon of Atlanta in when Dixon hit the canvas for the third time.

In the two four-rounders, Jimmy Lolis of Columbus won a decision over Leroy Smith of Columbus and Armas Benvenuto of the 508th Airborne division, a comrade in arms. Jack Hogan also of the 508th

It's just a matter of time and they'll be running the indoor track in less than four minutes according to miler Fred Will.

The 23rd man made this disclosure at the recent 8th AAU National Indoor Track and Field Championships at Madison Square Garden, N. Y.

Although outperformed by Villano's Fred Dwyer for the mile crown, Will pressed the winner's slow time of 4:12.4. The field, however, was a bit crowded with 12 starters.

Will, who says he runs more than 25 miles per week in training, eventually believes that the mile will be done in 3:54 or 3:55 because of the increasing pressure and competition. This would be a quarter-mile, this would be the 8th AAU record of 4:03.3. It would even surpass the outdoor record of 4:04.4 set by Gunder Haeger, in 1942.

The 1953 AAU meet will probably one of the best ever held with an array of track and field stars setting two new meet records. Such names as Harrison Dillard, Mal Whitfield and Horace Ashenfelter again dominated the field, but newcomers Fred Dwyer, John Haines and Heinz Ushelmer also left their marks.

Whitfield, former all-around Olympian 800-meter champ, was hand pressed by Dillie Sax and Eugene Peerman but managed to win the 600-yard run in a record time of 1:04.4. Horace Ashenfelter paced the three-milers with a near record time of 13:47.5.

(By Armed Forces Press Service)
Caught between World Series schedules and crammed football schedules, the Boston Bruins and Montreal Canadiens hockey season recently. Although the Bruins have won five straight titles, the Montreal Red Wings have an excellent chance to achieve that goal. Last year's Stanley Cup winners line up with another banner team in Gordie Howe, Ted Lindsay, Al Ducechick, John Vezina, Terry R. Sawchuk, and Mike Toews. They are a doublet that the trade, sending defenseman Leo Riordan to the Rangers for Reggie Sinclair, has weakened the champs.

Sojourners Open Campaign For Little League Funds

The post chapter of the National Sojourners has begun a drive for funds to improve the Little League baseball diamond.

Lt. Col. James B. Holland, president of the Masonic organization for Army officers, said a 1953 Chevrolet sedan will be given away in connection with their suggested quota, according to Col. Holland. These tickets entitle the donor to participate in the contest to determine the winner of the car.

Chairman of the drive is Lt. Col. George Zalkin, assisted by Lt. William H. Dean.

Post officers assisting with the drive are Col. George O. Pearson, 2nd Lt. Col. Paul H. Meas, Capt. James H. Francis, Provisional, 1st Lt. Student Brigade, Capt. Harry Breakiron, Infantry School, Capt. Lloyd K. DeWaar, A. R. C. Co., 1st Provisional, Capt. Maj. Kermit B. Blaney, The Institute, School of Cadets, Lt. Col. William Sellars, Infantry Center, Headquarters, Army, Lt. Col. Herbert U. Goben, Airborne Transport and Lawton Air Force Base.

It was made clear by officials of the Comptroller's Office that the number of employees retained amount of funds authorized for the continued operation of each section. For example, when determining the number of employees to be retained, each section chief must consider in-prade promotions due employees before the end of those given termination notices. All over-time pay requirements expected before June 30.

These factors must be considered before the number of employees to be retained is determined, since in no case can any operating activity employing civilians exceed the funds allotted for that activity.

A representative from the Third Army Manpower Survey Team cut will bring budget in line with amount to be received in fiscal year 1953 beginning July 1, 1953. Although a proposed list of reductions for each activity was made public Monday, officials warned that it was to serve only as a guide. It did not include any civilians employed at the Infantry School, the U. S. Army Hospital or the Engineer Section. The published list of reductions showed 425 civilians will be terminated.

Word was received at Fort Benning Friday afternoon that the cut would have to be made, and officials of the Comptroller's Office, Col. G. C. and G. L. Offices met Sunday to recommend the percentage reduction in each activity. They said the percentage reduction was based on the amount of money spent by each activity in fiscal 1953.

Officer Candidate Regiment, the officer candidate program responded in February 1951 after a four-year lapse. Since then, 5,000 candidates have completed training and have been commissioned.

The Infantry OCS which started in 1941, trained more than 67,000 lieutenants before its deactivation in 1947. The outbreak of the Korean War brought the training of combat platoon leaders, and the reactivation of Infantry Officer Candidate Training. The first class contained 83 enlisted men who reported in February, executive of the 32-week course.

This first group bore the name of the First Officer Candidate Battalion, Second Student Regiment, increased so greatly that it became known as the Third Student Regiment, spreading out from what is now the Second Officer Candidate Battalion. The unit accelerated its program to the extent that classes graduated at the rate of one a week.

The First Infantry Officer Candidate Regiment is the name of the group received in April, 1952, and by which it is known today. Currently contained, the regiment at one time included as many as 29 companies.

The officer candidate course, designed as a simulated combat situation, includes instruction and practical work in Infantry weapons, tactics, logistics and administration.

There are three periods of the course: the plebe or first eight weeks, the intermediate stage of 10 weeks and the final four weeks. Each stage gives the candidate more responsibility and privilage, with senior candidates serving as assistant duty officers, assistant officers of the day and commanders of the guard.

Meloy

He took the Infantry School's advanced course in 1932.

A native of Maryland, Gen. Meloy graduated from the U. S. Military Academy and was commissioned a second lieutenant of Infantry June 14, 1927. His first assignment was with the 12th Infantry at Fort Washington, Md.

As a junior officer he entered the Infantry School as a student in September, 1934, and completed the regular course in June, 1935. He then attended the tank course at the Infantry School and followed his graduation in February, 1936, with assignment to the 6th Infantry (Light Tanks) at Fort Benning.

Gen. Meloy graduated from the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kans., in June, 1936, and was again assigned to Fort Benning, this time as a member of the First Infantry Division.

During World War II, he was a military observer in England just before the United States entered the war.

He also was an instructor in tactics and then executive officer of the Tank Destroyer School at Camp Hood, Texas, before he was appointed chief of staff of the Tank Destroyer Center.

Army Dental Corps Celebrates 42nd Year of Operation

The post's dentists observed the 42nd anniversary of the Army Dental Corps March 3 with a meeting at the Main Office at which 100 dental dentists were invited. Col. Frederick H. Bookhoven of Columbus, Ohio, Infantry Center dental surgeon, presided.

The Benjamin Franklin staff includes 42 officers, 22 enlisted men, one WAC and 20 civilians. Ten dentists are assigned to the U. S. Army Hospital's Dental Clinic, 10 to Dispensary A on the Main Office and 11 to the Staid Hill Dental Clinic and 11 to the Harmony Church Clinic.

The Army Dental Corps was established March 2, 1911, although 30 contract dentists had been appointed by the Army Feb. 2, 1907. During that 10-year period, Army surgeons had been accorded the privileges of officers, but held no rank. When the Dental Corps was established in 1911, Army dentists were established in 1911. Army dentists soon after World War I started. Dental Corps officers were given equal rights and privileges with those of the Army Medical Corps. At the time of the Armistice, there were 4,600 dental officers in the Army, a ratio of about two for every 4,000 soldiers in training and three for every 1,000 beds in military hospitals.

Peak Strength

The Army Dental Corps reached peak strength in 1944, when 15,252 officers were on duty.

The increased importance of research in the dental field led to the formation of several organizations for this purpose. Before 1946, a Research Section at the Army Medical Center, Washington, D. C., accomplished outstanding research, especially in the study of dental caries, of tooth decay. Col. Bookhoven said.

It was not until the initiation in 1945 of the Medical Research and Development Board in the Surgeon General's Office and the Dental Research and Advisory Committee in May, 1948, however, that a separate dental research program was organized.

Although rapid development is being made by these organizations, a large part of the research foundation was prepared by Army men working on their own time. Among those who achieved renown in the dental profession were Major Fernando Rodriguez, who pioneered in the study of dental caries, and Col. Joseph L. Bernier, who became interna-

Four Receive Captain Bars

Four first lieutenants, instructors in the Weapons Department, have been notified of their promotion to captain.

They are William A. Carpenter of Saltersville, Ill., John L. Hart of Carriers Mills, Ill., Charles A. Mumford of Bolton, Texas, and Harold L. Wheeler of Quincy, Ill.

Carpenter, a 1948 graduate of the United States Military Academy, served in Japan and Korea with the 21st and 24th Infantry Regiments of the 24th Division. He holds the Purple Heart and Combat Infantryman Badge.

A graduate of Western Michigan College and Drake University and with the Third Army Division at Fort Knox, Ky., from 1948 to 1950. He later was assigned to the 24th Infantry Division in Korea. He has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal.

350 Reservists At Contact Camp

Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., Infantry Center commander, officially welcomed the 350 Army Reserve officers who arrived Saturday for a two-day contact camp.

The contact camp, first to be held by the Infantry Center in 1950, is designed to bring non-active duty Army Reservists up to date on Army tactics and new weapons.

Gen. Meloy's welcome was followed Saturday by an orientation on the Infantry School and the Infantry Center, demonstration of the Infantry-tank team in attack, a rifle course in assault of a river line and engineer demolitions.

Lt. Gen. Alexander R. Bolling, Third Army commander, arrived to lead the Reserve officers' Sunday morning following a nine-warfare demonstration.

The Reservists, all from the Grand Army of the Republic, returned to their homes on Sunday afternoon.

Airborne Student Makes Big Jump From Lt. to Pvt.

Pvt. Vance S. Deak, formerly a 2nd lieutenant, is awaiting airborne training with Company A of the Airborne Battalion.

Pvt. Deak was not demoted by court martial.

He took his "bust" voluntarily and is enjoying every minute of his job as a private.

He served as a 2nd lieutenant with the Hungarian Army and in that capacity fought against the Russians along with the A-X's in the World War II.

After working in Belgium following his release from the army, Deak joined the U. S. Army and was sent to language school at Fort Davis, Mass. and volunteered for Airborne training from Fort Dix, N. J., where he took basic training.

GRADUATION SPEAKER
Col. George A. Millener, director of the Weapons Department, was the principal speaker at graduation exercises for the light and heavy weapons leaders' class No. 8. Approximately 100 men completed the 14-week course.

Combined OC Group Starts Class Friday

Officer Candidate Class No. 61, the first under the Army's new policy which reduces the number of officer candidate schools to three and combines nine branches at IDCS at Fort Benning, reported Monday to the 10th OC Company. The class, after five days of orientation, will begin its first academic week tomorrow.

More than 200 candidates seeking commissions in the Infantry, Armor, Ordnance, Medical Field Service, Signal, Quartermaster, Transportation, Chemical, and Provost Marshal branches reported for training.

The Army's new policy, announced two weeks ago by the Adjutant General, closes all other officer candidate schools except the Field Artillery, Amphibious and Guided Missiles OCS at Fort Sill, Okla.

All officer candidates assigned to the First Officer Candidate Regiment will undergo the regular 22-week training course. Upon graduation the newly commissioned second lieutenants will be assigned to troops of the various branches for their training. Infantry officers will be assigned directly to training units.

Army Puffs Bite On Officer Who Bit

It took the Army almost two years, but last week it finally collected 80 cents due on tax. Thanksgiving dinners served here back in 1951.

An officer who entertained a guest in the Third Student Regiment—now the 1st OC Regiment—was charged 35 cents for each meal. The 1st OC Regiment was discovered in an IG inspection last year that he was serving in 1951 was notified.

Last week he paid the difference. A letter mailed from Korea contained the 80 cents, but in Korea currency—$100 was.

Lowery Named Exec. of 508th

Lt. Col. Willis F. Lowery of Helena, Ark., has been named executive officer of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team. He replaced Lt. Col. Herbert Mansfield, who is enroute to the Far East.

Col. Lowery commanded the 508th's Second Battalion from September 1952 until its appointment this week to the combat team's staff.

A former commander of the 1st Infantry Regiment's Third Battalion in Korea, Col. Lowery was public information officer of the 1 Corps in Japan after World War II.

He was side-camp to Major Gen. R. B. Woodruff at First Army headquarters in New York before coming to Fort Benning.

General Davidson To Speak At West Point Day Dinner

Major Gen. Garrison H. Davidson will be the guest speaker at the West Point Founding Day Dinner to be held at the Main Officer's Mess March 17.

Gen. Davidson is the Senior Army Representative to the Weapons Evaluation Group, Washington, D. C.

The dinner will commemorate the 31st anniversary of the United States Military Academy. Refreshments will be served at 7 p.m. and will be followed by the traditional remarks by the oldest and youngest graduates present.

Individual announcements are being forwarded to all new graduates and former cadets in the area. If any personnel of that group do not receive this announcement, they should contact Col. Thomas Main.

Dads To Pick New Directors

The regular meeting of the Dad's Club will be held in the auditorium of Faith School at 7:30 p.m. tonight. All members are requested to attend, as election of new members to the board of directors will be held. Dads who are not present may attend and get acquainted with the program.

They are Harold A. Tipton (D-Ariz.), Clair Engle (D-Calif.), William H. Bates (R-Mass.), James P. Devereux (R-Md.), Olin E. Teague (D-Tex.), and Alfred D. Sieminski (D-N.J.).

430 Coming April 1 For JCOC No. 16

More than 430 officers of the Armed Forces will join approximately 80 prominent business and industrial leaders here April 1 to 4 for the Army phase of the 16th Joint Civilian Orientation Conference.

Armed Forces officers attending JCOC No. 16 will include 220 students in the Armed Forces School, Norfolk, Va.; 80 students in the Ordnance School, Aberdeen Proving Grounds; 75 students in the Quartermaster School, Fort Monmouth, N. J.; 75 students in the Judge Advocate School, University of Virginia; and 10 Army and Air Force instructors in the Air-Ground Operations School, Southern Pines, N. C.

The conference, designed to acquaint civilian leaders with the state of training of the Armed Forces, will begin March 29 in Washington, D. C., with a general orientation. The group then will visit the U. S. Marine Corps base at Quantico, Va.; United States Navy base at Pensacola, Fla.; U. S. Air Force base at Eglin Field, Fla.; and the Infantry Center.

Members of the JCOC No. 16 will be welcomed here by Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., Infantry Center commander, and will witness demonstrations April 23, including a fireover demonstration. Infantry-tank team in attack problem, types of field artillery fire, and night firing by a reinforced fire company in defense. This also will observe an airborne demonstration.

The visiting Congressmen, all former members of the armed services, have varied military backgrounds. Rep. Devereux, a retired Marine Corps brigadier general, is well known as the hero of the World Island during World War II.

Served in Military
Ariston Kop, Patton served 31 months with the Air Force in Africa and Italy during World War II and later was elected state commander of the American Legion.

Engle of California, former commander of the Air Force Reserve and visited Korea for several months last year.

Mr. Bates, son of the late Hon. George J. Bates, who served in the 75th, 78th, 79th, and 80th Congresses, was in the Naval service for more than nine years, resigning his commission as lieutenant commander when elected to the House.

508th Records Lowest AWOL Rate Last Year

The lowest AWOL rate among the major commands over a two-year span is the record of the 508th Airborne Regimental Central Postal Directory.

The Red Devil ACFT also holds the record for the greatest decrease in the number of AWOLs among major commands. At the time of publication, the unit had gone 25 days with all men present for duty.

This information was released following publication of the Infantry Center's Performance Report for 1952, a statistical review prepared by the Review and Analysis Branch of the Comptroller's Office.

A major reason for the low performance of the 508th, says the Comptroller's Office, is the great interest shown by the company commanders in checking the AWOLs.

Comptroller office figures show there were 19 AWOLs in 1950 over a thousand Red Devils in March 1950 compared to one per thousand at the same time this year.

The delinquency rate figures also show a favorable decrease of the 508th in Feb. of 1952. 40 out of every thousand men in the 508th committed minor delinquencies, a decrease of 24 men from every thousand in Jan. of 1951.

A contributing factor in the decreased delinquency rate is the country patrol program which the 508th participated in. Performance by one officer and ten enlisted men, the patrol operators, was commensurate with the program.

The program has continued to receive the full support of the local authorities.

Benning Park Sexauer Heads Quarters Open Dental Clinic

For the first time at Fort Benning, permanent living quarters have been made available to enlisted men below the rank of corporal.

Sixty dwellings in Benning Park Homes are now open to enlisted men and their families who desire them.

Asphalt tile will be installed in the ground-floor units in April, it was announced. Contractors will submit bids for the work on March 21.

BILLING OFFICE
The Infantry Center Annex handles arrangements for the letting of the quarters.

It has been announced also that quarters in Blocks 9 and 12, also on the main post, are being assigned to sergeant first class, post troops as there is a waiting list of 18 men.

13 Miles of Frankfurters Eaten Here Last Month

If all the frankfurters consumed on post during February were placed end to end, they would stretch 13 miles.

That's what WOTC Allen C. Mayer of Fresno, Calif., chief of the Central Meat Cutting Plant, said this week in reporting that post troops ate more than 450,000 pounds of meat last month.

Beef topped the meat consumption list with a whopping 300,000 pounds, followed by 58,000 pounds of pork, 25,000 pounds of frankfurters, 15,000 pounds of smoked ham and 14,000 pounds of frankfurters.

Other meats consumed by the men included 12,000 pounds of turkey, 12,000 pounds of cooked ham, 10,000 pounds of veal, 8,000 pounds of square ribs, 5,000 pounds of liver, 1,000 pounds of corned beef.

Today, Central Meat Cutting Plant, in that post's driven knives, save many pounds of meat from the waste pile and thousands of man hours, Mr. Mayer claims.

"There is almost no waste in the meat cutting process at Fort Benning," he pointed out. "The only thing that ever reaches the garbage can is an occasional trimmings of inedible skin," Mayer declared.

Georgia's Variable Weather Is No Problem to OC Brown

Georgia's hot and cold weather puzzle the average new arrival on post, but officer candidate of 14th OC Company has solved the problem with the aid of Candidate Charles Brown, a former weatherman.

Brown, who transferred to the Army to attend candidate school after nearly five years as an enlisted weather observer in the Air Force, answers dozens of weather questions a day. His specialty is an unofficial forecast made each night.

"Everybody wants to know when it will rain or rather, recently when it won't rain," Brown grins. Student company commanders, however, are proven to be remarkably accurate considering he uses no instruments.

"But you can carry weather predicting too far," he points out. He had a friend in the weather tower at Keesler Field, who took his predictions seriously.

"When rain was forecast, he'd wear his predictions as if the sun were shining. Some thing for cold weather or anything else. That fellow really 'looked strange at times'."

Besides Keesler Field, Brown was stationed at Air Force installations in Florida, Oklahoma, and the Marshall Islands. In 1948 he was chief of a special weather team observing the atom bomb tests at Shiwotok.

Dupuis Picks Jump School To 'Further' His Education

When Pvt. Francis Dupuis of the Airborne Battalion was asked why he volunteered for Airborne training, he replied: "Education first, pay last."

Everybody agreeing that this was a pretty good reason, the French national was asked for a translation.

"Education does not mean happiness, recipient of two degrees, feels that no education could be complete without including in the equation of jumping from an airplane in flight."

Everybody graduates from Airborne training he will have three diplomas to grace his wall, one from the Airborne school, one in Philosophy from the University of Paris, France, and one in History from Kookhurs College, Kansas City, Mo.

Working with Special Services offers many opportunities to meet celebrities of the entertainment world, says Officer Candidate Turner of 21st OC Company. But he adds that it also keeps a man jumping to get around the unexpected.

Candidate Turner served with the Special Services Company for more than four years in Germany. He has served as a mess steward for 10 years and has just returned from Korea where he served with Company F, 18th Infantry Regiment, 4th Infantry Division.

'08 Sergeant Finishes First In Chem Class

Sgt. Leo W. Von Duyke of Company C, 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, graduated first in his class in the Third Army Area Chemical, Biological, and Radiological Warfare course held here in February.

Sgt. Von Duyke headed a list of 33 officers who will be sent to a combined average of 97 per cent, which was only a fraction under the highest score ever recorded for the CBRL.

A veteran of the 508th, Von Duyke joined the Red Devils in Germany in 1949. He was assigned to the 30th Infantry Regiment. He stayed in Germany after the war was over, then transferred to Fort Benning to the 525th Airborne Infantry Regiment as a squad leader.

He rejoined the 508th upon its reactivation here in May 1951, and moved to his present position as platoon sergeant of the weapons platoon. Von Duyke holds the sergeant and chief's badges.

Privates Get A Break

For the first time in the history of Fort Benning, permanent-type family quarters have been made available to enlisted men above the rank of corporal.

Due to the large number of vacancies in Benning Park Homes, created by the recent departure of many noncommissioned officers, the housing policy has been relaxed to insure occupancy of these fine quarters.

A year ago housing at Fort Benning was classified as critical, and it was impossible for a private to be assigned family-type public quarters. In October 1952 temporary-type quarters in Block 2600 of the main post were made available to enlisted men of any grade.

Housing conditions have now improved to the extent that the briefing officer, Mrs. Mary A. Dinmore, has been able to assign Blocks 9 and 32 to sergeants first class, since the master ser-

What Is This Period Called Lent?

BY CHAPLAIN (COLONEL) LEXINGTON SHEFFIELD

A friend of mine said the other day "I heard you mentioned something about Lent. I know that Lent comes just before Easter, but what does it mean?" That was reasonable question; many people have only a vague conception of Lent because they are adherents of churches that do not observe Lent. This was true of my friend.

First, let me say that Lent is observed by some of our churches as a period of sacrifice and abstinence; a period of 40 days prior to Easter, not counting Sunday.

Quarters at Fort Benning are normally assigned by rank and date of rank. While a large number of vacancies now exist in Benning Park Homes, early assignment will have an excellent opportunity of selection without rank-and-date-of-rank restriction.

It is therefore urged that persons desiring these quarters make early application, because once the quarters are filled, future assignments will be made under the rank-and-date-of-rank rule.

Asphalt tile will be installed on the ground floors of Benning Park Homes next month. This improvement will make these quarters ideal for many happy extended families. Privates are getting a break!

Report From Washington

Committee O.K.'s Dependent's Aid Bill

The House Armed Services Committee has voted to extend provided a bill which will continue government assistance to service members' dependents until July 1, 1955. Payments under this provision—the family "Q" allotment—will be increased to $39.90 a month, according to pay grade and number of dependents.

The Navy has announced that the Bureau of Medicine and Surgery desires applications from medical officers, LCDR's and below, for a course in Submarine Medicine. Both Regular and Reserve medical officers are eligible and are urged to apply. Convening dates for the course are Apr. 15 and Oct. 15 of each year.

Two hundred and sixty-three Regular and Reserve Navy lieutenants, all of whom have been recommended for promotion to LCDR, the Navy announces.

One of the lieutenants, President Truman before leaving office was established a National Security Medal. The medal, which may be awarded only by the President or his designee, may be given to any person recognized of nationally, including a member of the Armed Forces, who, on or after July 26, 1947, has made an outstanding contribution to the national intelligence effort. This contribution may consist of either exceptional meritorious service performed in a position of high responsibility or an act of valor requiring personal courage of a high degree and complete disregard for personal safety.

Celebrations at Ft. Monmouth, N. J., and other parts of the country marked the 90th anniversary of the U. S. Army Signal Corps recently. Maj. Gen. George I. Back, the Chief Signal Officer in the Army, keyed the celebrations which marked the Corps' growth from a handful of wig-wag experts to an elaborately equipped corps of communication experts.

Gen. Hoyt S. Vandenberg, Chief of Staff, USAF, has announced the appointment of Lt. Gen. Laurence S. Kuter as commanding general of the Air University. Gen. Kuter will succeed Lt. Gen. Iwao H. Edwards, who retired after 30 years of service.

Department Store Dummy Sells Supply Economy to Airborne

Sgt. Gino A. Whitmore, supply sergeant of the 1st Airborne Division, is helping an airborne supply sergeant drive home the story of supply economy to the Airborne Service Company of the Airborne Battalion, using the mannequin dummy.

After clothing the dummy, Sgt. Whitmore tagged each item of clothing by name and cost. To further the Airborne students' comprehension they are scheduled to be present at monthly talks on the subject.

The only disadvantage of the dummy said Sergeant Whitmore, "having a body around that appeared to be ready for detail and then refused to obey orders."

Realistic Drill in Gas Chamber Makes Man and Mask Friends

Since the introduction of chemical gases by the Germans in World War I, many types of gas masks have been designed to save lives in the event of its use again.

And training in the use of the mask has changed. For instance, where the command to don gas masks was "Gas!", it is now "Mask."

But the one type of training that has changed little is, the training that gives a man confidence in the mask he is carrying.

This confidence is instilled in the soldier by having him put on his mask and enter a gas chamber filled with tear gas. This proves to him that in the event of an attack, he is relatively safe while wearing his mask properly.

The second step is to have the soldier enter the chamber with his mask on, take it off and give his name, rank and serial number to the instructor in charge while the gas works on him. This way, the soldier is willing to give a lot more than his name, rank and serial number.

believed by many to have been based on the fact that following his baptism Jesus departed into the wilderness where he himself fasted for 40 days.

Abstinence is good discipline for us and makes us more aware of the sacrifice made by Jesus. Perhaps we ought to go a little further, and during Lent, "see no evil, hear no evil, speak no evil." One of the greatest virtues I know is abstinence—especially when we are tempted to speak evil about some poor, defenseless individual whose cross—for all we know—is greater than our ourselves could bear.

Jump Students Equal Record Of 1947 Class

Members of Company C of the Airborne Battalion have equalized the record of the 1947 class by jumping 29 parachutes in a successful completion of the Airborne course.

More than 98 per cent of the original members of the class received their wings at graduation ceremonies.

No failures occurred in negotiating the 34 foot towers, the 230 foot towers, and the 3 parachute jumps from an aircraft in flight.

Capt. Jesse J. Branch, Student Company commander, expressed the attitude of the class when he said, "The class, at a meeting before training began, resolved that we try every one of us would complete the course. Every one of us did except those who were unable to write pictures and letters."

Capt. Robert W. Eikenberry, company commander of Company B, has initiated a letter of appreciation to the Student Company Branch for his leadership of the class.

Among the successful graduates were Lt. Col. Joseph E. Slopp, who is assigned to the 11th Airborne Division at Fort Campbell, Ky., and Maj. Mitchell J. Hazen, who is expected to be named assistant commander of the Army Field Forces Physical Training School.

The last group to achieve a comparable record in the Airborne course was Airborne class No. 4, in June 1947, an all-officer class.

2nd Army Officials Observe Training At Food School

The second Army's top service officials observed training facilities at the Third Army Food Service School.

Maj. Howard P. Graf, commander of the Second Army Food Service School at Fort Knox, Ky., and Capt. Robert P. Cliff, assistant commander of the Food Service School at Fort Meade, Md., are studying the training methods and programs used at the school. They also will inspect the school's field training area.

Their visit was prompted by the superior rating which the Third Army Food Service School received as a result of an inspection by Col. Patrick H. Buckley, first sergeant in Army Field Forces Quartermaster Office at Fort Monmouth, N. J.

NAMED SERGEANT MAJOR

M-51, Travis R. Brown of Minneapolis, Minn., has been named sergeant major of the Second Battalion of the 50th Regiment, Combat Team, 5th Army, in Korea with Company C, 15th Infantry Regiment, Third Infantry Division. He has completed Leadership School, Discussion Leaders School, and the Third Division NCO School in Pusan, Korea.

MILES OF SMOKE ... The 87th Chemical Smoke Generator Company recently staged one of the most extensive smoke operations ever put on by the company.

A total of six generators produced smoke simultaneously and blanketed an entire area. Capt. Harold Hollifield, 505th Chemical Maintenance Company, Fort Bragg, N. C., is shown operating one of the generators.

The First Officer Candidate Regiment will present its first regimental retreat parade of the year on March 15 at 4:45 p.m. on French Field. It will be the third regimental parade since the OCS program was reactivated here in February 1951.

More than 1500 officer candidates will pass in review before a party headed by Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, 1st Infantry Center commander, and Col. Harry M. Grizzard, commanding officer of the First Officer Candidate Regiment.

The 122d Army band will play for the parade, to which the public is invited.

Senior status will be conferred on 3rd Officer Candidate Company at the ceremony. Gen. Meloy will pin the blue streamer designating senior status on the company guidon.

Senior status, which is granted each company at the beginning of its 18th academic week, assures the company's status as a senior unit.

Col. Kerr Named Post Veterinarian

Lt. Col. George M. Kerr of Hyattsville, Md., has been named post veterinarian at the Third Army Veterinary Center, Washington, D. C., succeeding Major Edwin T. Brown, S. C., now at Camp Polk.

Lt. Col. Hayward G. Brown of Springfield, S. C., has been acting post veterinarian at Fort Benning, Ga., since the death of the late Col. Kerr came to Fort Benning from the Tokyo (Japan) Quartermaster Depot where he had been veterinarian since April, 1950. He has completed the Assistant Veterinarian at the Quartermaster Field Headquarters in Chicago, assistant veterinarian of Fifth Army at the Third Army Veterinary School, and the Third Division Post Inspection Service.

TRAFFIC VIOLATIONS

Six post personnel had their driver's licenses revoked during the week of Feb. 9 to 15 in 1953. Five of the convictions were for driving while intoxicated and the sixth was for the display of illegal post tags.

Those convicted for driving while intoxicated were: Capt. Francis E. Rainey, Seventh Company, First Student Regiment; Capt. Edward P. Vaughn, Third Student Brigade; Capt. Edmund A. Pickett, Fourth Company, First Student Regiment; Sgt. Fred A. Gowen, 53d Tank Company, and Sgt. Robert Gray, Third Army Food Service School.

Also convicted was Robert L. Baker, civilian worker at the U. S. Army Army Hospital, for illegal display of tags. Sgt. John J. Fennell, 882d Ordnance Company, had his license suspended for reckless driving.

Fourth National Opens Branch In 1st SR Area

In a move to expand its service at Fort Benning, the Fourth National Bank will make available additional banking facilities beginning Monday, March 23, Neil A. Stokes Jr., vice president, has announced.

The new facility will be located in the First Student Regiment Main Post Building No. 1450, in the Bigdewey area. Mr. Stokes said. Banking hours will be 3 to 7 p.m. Mondays and Tuesdays.

This will be in addition to the banking facilities located in the First Officer Candidate Regiment Building No. 545 in the Harmony Church area.

"Both offices will be open on Saturdays and Sundays and the day following, except Saturdays and Sundays," Mrs. Stokes stated. "These hours are designed to fit the convenience of military personnel who usually are on duty during normal banking hours."

Berlin Sent To Staff Dept.

Maj. Walter J. Berlin of Baltimore, Md., has returned from Korea where he served as the intelligence group of the Sixth Infantry Regiment.

Maj. Berlin attended the University of Maryland, and received his commission in 1942 following graduation from the OCS here. During World War II he served with the Third Armored Division in Europe. He was separated from the Army in 1945 and was recalled to active duty in March 1951. Since then he has served with the 14th Division at Indiantown Gap, Pa., and the 31st Infantry Regiment of the Seventh Division in Korea.

Integrity Stressed In Meloy's Speech To OC Graduates

American fighting men are the best in the world and they demand the best leadership in the world. Brig. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., told 31 graduates of the Infantry Officer Candidate class No. 48.

Meloy, Infantry Center commander, also urged the new officers to develop individual responsibility, maintain high standards for themselves and their men, and keep their personal integrity as a question.

The Infantry Center commander and personal integrity is of great importance to the individual officer and the Army as a whole since it is demanded by the American people.

His officer's oral or written statement that cannot be accepted with confidence will destroy the faith of the people in the officer and the Army as a whole.

Sky Rains 'Manna' On Army Pay Day

The soldiers' personal bank accounts in the Army Finance Corps—often the only source of money for them to deliver to their families—were replenished by the Army paymaster's travel by foot, truck, airplane, helicopter, and submarine and they even "let the silk" to get 'em the cash.

Red Standards Far Below Ours

Following is the fourth in a series of articles comparing a U. S. Army combat infantry division with the Infantry Division of the Soviet Russian Army.

The U. S. Army Infantry division is larger than the Russian Infantry division. It has approximately 18,000 men compared to 10,000 for the Russian unit. But this difference of about 7,000 men is the difference between a unit contained unit built on democratic humanism and one which is built on standards that border barbarism.

The largest single non-combat element of the U. S. Infantry division is its medical service, which totals about 1,000 men. The Russian medical service is limited to 200 men, and the U. S. Army places a much higher value on human life, and everything possible is done to maintain the U. S. soldier in good health and to protect him not only against his military foe but against his environment as well.

Min Efficiencies

With a traditional disregard for the lives and comfort of their men, Soviet Infantry divisions have only about one-fourth the medical personnel of their American counterparts. Consequently, Soviet units have no company aidmen but depend on designated riflemen in combat duties to aid their comrades.

Similarly, Soviet battalion aid stations have no physicians but only a few enlisted men with limited training. In contrast, the American medical system affords the finest field medical care the world ever has known. This includes not only effective methods for treatment but reduced deaths from disease and injured but also aggressive medicine which affords the American soldier the maximum assurance against disease.

Korea has demonstrated unquestionably the effectiveness of medical service. Deaths from unexplained causes have been reduced to 2.4 per cent of all those reaching medical care, as compared with 4.5 per cent in World War I and 8 per cent in World War II. In addition, 80 per cent of the wounded of the Korean conflict already have totaled about 85 per cent. Similarly, the Army's effective medical support has reduced deaths from disease in the Far East Command to only slightly more than one-tenth of one per cent.

A U. S. division can fight for long periods of time, re-supplying itself with food, ammunition, and equipment. But the Russian rifle division is capable of sustained action for a maximum of five days. This has been illustrated time and again, both in World War I when our Russian allies refused to halt every five days and again in Korea during the past two years.

Plans for Easter Nearing Completion

Plans are nearing completion for the annual Easter Sunrise Service to be held at 6:30 a. m. April 5 in Gowdy Field.

Infantry Center Chaplain (Col.) Lexington O. Sheffield said that the Rev. Dr. Robert R. McNeil of Columbus First Presbyterian Church will be guest speaker at the Protestant service.

The 50-voice Chapel Choir will sing, and the 12nd Army Band will play. Russian music both before and during the special religious observance.

78th Hunts In Mine Field

BY CPL. BILLY MCCORMACK

The hard-working combat engineers, heroes of song and fame, play a most important and dangerous role in combat that often goes unnoticed.

One of their chief tasks is detecting mines, a job comparable to hunting the proverbial needle in the haystack and quite a bit trickier.

Not even the atomic age has outdated the engineer when there is enough living ground hidden to cause serious injury and possibly death.

Here at Fort Benning, Infantry School students, both officers and noncommissioned officers, get instructions from experts of how to guard against the dangers of mines.

Mine demonstration crews of Company A of the 78th Engineer Combat Battalion, Combat Training Command show students every phase of mine warfare.

Classes start with a demonstration of the reputation establishing song by the "Rambling Wreckers from Georgia Tech" since their daily agenda reveals nothing rambling nor wrecking about them.

On the contrary, the engineers are builders and maintenance crews which take care of 5,600 buildings and 80 miles of major roads on the 182,000 acres of the reservation.

Their principal responsibility, according to Col. Wm. F. Ennis of Alamogordo, N. Mex., infantry engineer, is the maintenance and repair of buildings, utilities, roads and grounds on the reservation.

It's the Engineer Section which is called upon when any portion of the 1,500,000 lineal feet of wire of the demonstration crews use hollow aluminum probes that echo a warning sound when they strike metal.

Although discovering a mine is important, it is only the first step in neutralizing it. The mine may be known up where it is or it may be removed at another spot. Sometimes a mine crater in a strategic spot can delay an entire regiment.

The "needles" which these men hunt in combat are dangerous. But through their demonstration here at Fort Benning, they show school students that if the job is performed properly much of the danger can be avoided.

Roads, Wires, Water Pipes On Engineers' Daily Schedule

The post engineers don't exactly live up to the reputation establishing song by the "Rambling Wreckers from Georgia Tech" since their daily agenda reveals nothing rambling nor wrecking about them.

On the contrary, the engineers are builders and maintenance crews which take care of 5,600 buildings and 80 miles of major roads on the 182,000 acres of the reservation.

BY JIM ROSENSTONE
Ten Fort Benning boxers left Tuesday morning to represent the Infantry Center in the Third Army Boxing Tournament at Fort Jackson, S. C., March 11-14, accompanied by Coach Jerry Perlman of First SIF, Coach Harry Breeze of 58th Airborne and Coach Billy Ferguson of CTC.

Eight 1953 post champions and two men who were runners-up in the Benning pugilistic tournament make up the squad which Perlman is responsible for. Jack King of First SR is the light heavyweight representative and Joe Clark, another Blackshirt's boxer, is the bantamweight member of the team. King replaces Ben Robinson of ASU who was crowned champion by defeating Tommy Miller of JSJ in the finals.

King had decided Robinson in the semi-final round of the flatfoot tournament, before he was called home on emergency leave. Since this made the third consecutive victory over the ASU brawler, the Fort Benning boxing board voted (See BOXERS, Page 14)

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

by Lester Dinoff

Throughout the basketball world, many people claim that a referee can win or lose a ball game for a club. It has been claimed right here at Fort Benning and this situation came to a head during the First OC-IDS quarter-finals cage contest two weeks ago. A few days after the contest, I received this letter, which I am reprinting with the permission of the writer who wishes to remain anonymous.

Dear Les,
This might be called a "protest of a protest". I realize that the protest of last night's game was perfectly legal and reasonable. Had it occurred during the regular season, I'd say—"OK, it's a game lost." But in view of the score, and obvious lack of competency on the part of ISD, it would be absurd to allow them to continue in the tourney and host out one of the few teams which might possibly upset the Blackshirts.

The technical foul called against First OC, while it had no bearing on the outcome of the game, is worthy of mention. If the spectator against whom it was called had been sitting behind the ISD team, it could have been called the other way. A referee, to my mind, having been one, is much like an umpire. He must take a few "boos" and although he considers himself infallible, he is not. In the heat of the moment, any fan may pull a stupid trick, and I can recall not a few examples. Ever hear of a fan teckling a runner in a football game? I have.

To really point out the issue, a few weeks ago, Chris Duba, in my mind the only real expert among our referees, put a spectator out of the gym. But he didn't penalize the team (First SR) for the boorish actions of a fan. The fact alone indicates the reasonable point of view.

Umpires in baseball games have been called names which would put some of our best cussers to shame, but it's shrugged off as part (See SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS, Page 15)

First SR, CTC In Playoff For Benning Cage Title

LOOK CLOSELY . . . How many basketball players are in this picture? Ronnie Richardson (13) is scoring the field goal. Attempting to stop him is Dale Schultz (9) of PMG. Looking on are John Dull (4), George Swoyers (14), Dick Lynch (3). Who is missing? Between Richardson and Lynch you will see five feet and six hands. There is an unidentified player whose back of head is visible. First SR beat the PMG Medics, 85-64 in the semi-finals game.

The 1953 Fort Benning Basketball League is in a turmoil because of two teams, the First Student Regiment and the Combat Training Command, both claim the right to be called the post champions.

The Blackshirts, with Coach Terry Scott, at the helm, won through the regular season of play undefeated, CTC, under that south-

Cage Playoffs

The two-out-of-three game playoff for the 1953 Fort Benning Basketball League title is under way now. The first game between CTC and First SR took place last night at Briant Wells Field House and will be scheduled tonight and tomorrow evenings at 8 p.m. if necessary.

era gentleman Jim Guthrie, defeated the Blackshirts in the post tournament last week for that title.

Now, it seems, a two-out-of-three playoff will determine the Benning champion and the team that will be out representative in the Third Army Basketball Tournament, March 20-28, here at Briant Wells Field House.

The First SR, after having beaten ASU and PMG before the finals action, bowed 81-43, to the Commanders, who defeated the 58th and the First OC in quarter-finals and semi-finals contests.

With Dick Thompson and Art Greene doing the majority of the scoring, the Commanders came from behind during the third period and matched point for point with First SR. At halftime, the Blackshirts were ahead, 21-17, but when the buzzer ended the third period, CTC led in front by two markers, 35-33.

Victor All-Star Thompson, who has been alternating between the Bibb City Tournament and the Fort Benning tournament, played his seventh straight night of basketball. He dumped in 20 points with his famed hook shot, was ahead, 21-17, but when the buzzer ended the third period, CTC led in front by two markers, 35-33.

player, incidentally, was voted to the 1953 All-Star team along with Ray Steiner and Bob Clifton of Second SR. All three played for the Phantoms.

The Blackbirds, playing with out their stellar performer at forward, Georgia Swyers of West Virginia Tech, fell behind in the "Gold Dust" twins, John Hall, couldn't hit the bucket. Center Tommie Richardson of Clemson, who usually is pretty accurate from the free-throw line, also.

Swyers is out for at least three weeks with a few chipped bones in his left ankle. He suffered the injury in the LaGrange Basketball Tournament last week.

Richardson also suffered some strained ankles in that event.

However, guard Philip Phillip of the Blackbirds, who scored field goals while Nelson Obermayer, Swyers' replacement at forward, connected for 12 markers.

A Little League action prior to the tournament finals contest, Swyers' team defeated the Class B Bidly League All-Stars, 23-11, during an 18 minute contest.

The Medics high scorer was Dale Schantz with 12 markers while team mate Robert Griffin, as a whole set a new team scoring high.

In the other semi-final contest, First OC bowed to the Command and 25-44. Green and Thompson, with 17 and 12 points respectively, dominated the game for the Phantoms and Vern Coffey for the rebounds in what was one of the best games of the year.

to send King to Fort Jackson.

Joe Clark took his place of Nori Kawasaki of the 58th, and Ernest Pann, heavyweight, took his place of Ernest Pann, heavyweight, Van Loo, light middleweight; Ed Dukes, light welterweight; Evis Mathews, lightweight; Ray Kiley, featherweight; Bobby Rodriguez, flyweight.

The team has been training in the First Six gym during the last two weeks. Coach Pertman maintained a stiff training schedule right up to the time of departure for Fort Jackson; since they will only be able to have light workouts once they get to South Carolina.

The training schedule while the team has been following called for plenty of roadwork in the morning with love work in the afternoon. Each man boxed at least three rounds a day and some of the boys went five heats for their pre-tournament time-outs.

Pertman said that all of the boys seemed to be in good shape. Leon Hall started his training rather easy because he was bothered by a back ailment. But as the workouts progressed he did not seem to notice this too much.

The boxing coach is confident of coming back with at least four champions and maybe five. He stated that Pann, Dukes, Mathews, King, and maybe Blair all looked very sharp in their ring work during the last few days.

1953 PISTOL TEAM... This distinguished group of gentlemen will represent the United States Army this week in the Mid-Winter Pistol Matches at Tampa, Fla. Last year, the Army squad set a new national record in this tournament. Left to right, sitting, are CWO Oscar Weinmeister, M-Sgt. Huelet "Joe" Benner, Lt. Col. C. B. White, Major Ellis Lea, Joseph Gregory, M-Sgt. Paul Gritta, M-Sgt. Arthur Purser, Lt. Arthur Manchester. Standing are CWO Robert E. Knight, Major John Sanguinetti, Capt. Robert Davis, Capt. Ralph Anthony, M-Sgt. Robert McDonald, Sfc. M. E. Beisler, Lt. Benjamin Lumpkin.

Army Pistol Team Firing In Mid-Winter

With M-Sgt. Joe Benner of Fort Kobbe, C. Z., out for additional reconv, the 1953 Army Pistol Team is the defending champions this week in the National Mid-Winter Pistol Matches at Tampa, Fla.

Benner, during the 1952 competition, set a new mark in individual competition while the Army squad as a whole set a new team scoring high.

The Army squad, which is captained by Major Ellis Lea, is broken down into two four-man teams with two alternate shooters. They are accompanied by the team captain and the team coach.

The other top shooters who form the squad which is now firing for honors are: Sfc. M. E. Beisler, Lt. Joseph Gregory, Capt. Robert Davis, M. Sgt. Arthur Purser, Lt. Col. C. B. White, M-Sgt. Paul Gritta, Maj. John Sanguinetti, Capt. Ralph Anthony, CWO Oscar Weinmeister, CWO Robert E. Knight.

The squad, which has been working out at the Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club's range, started out with 28 aspirants for berths but after a month of workouts with the 22 caliber center fire and 45 caliber pistols, Lea eliminated all but 15, 12 of which are in Tampa.

Just what Benner will do in the mid-winter is vague, but during the workout sessions, he has been in the slow fire, timed five and rapid fire. Here's hoping that the Army squad retains its titles.

of a day's work. Sure, they get paid, but so do our over-sensitive refs.

On the whole, the refereeing was good, and I might say, as good as I have seen this year, but I can't say I might with over-sensitiveness and poor judgment penalizing a team. That one point might mean a ball game.

(Anonymous)

P. S. In case the referee is interested, he is pretty good. But that one decision of his still has a distinct aroma.

To bring everyone up to par on what this letter writer is talking about, Mr. Anonymous was sitting on the First OC bench during their quarter-finals basketball game with the ISD Professors last week. This hoop fan, after seeing plenty of basketball games here this year, suddenly let an opinion fly out and the referee called a technical foul on the Generals.

The foul was perfectly legal for the fans hadn't any business sitting on the First OC bench. If he was sitting behind them, or as Mr. Anonymous states, behind the ISD bench, most likely the technical foul would have never been called. The players that are squatting and cooling their heels on the bench during the contest would also have a technical called on them if they sounded off.

To correct Mr. Anonymous on his reference to Dubs and his actions during that First SR game, the whistle tooter did call technicals against the Blackbirds and Coach Terry Scott registered an official protest about it. Dubs called three fouls on the bench and a few minutes later ejected a fan, who was at the bottom of all the name-calling, out of Briant Wells Field.

On a par, most of the officiating here at the Fort Benning basketball games, during the regular season and during the tournament, were pretty good. Some of the men who wore the striped shirts made bad calls, anticipated fouls, and examined the wrath of the irate fans who turned out. We all must remember that service basketball is not college of high school basketball and that your referees did the best job the could during each game.

If any of the Fort Benning basketball followers have seen some of the high school games in town, they know that our post referees call a better ball game. Here, we have, no "homers" on the court and the coaches do not tell the officials what type ball game they want.

Special Services sports officers, Major Gene Meyers and Capt. Howard McCormick, have lined up a water safety program for late March. The Red Cross will conduct a life saving course at Briant Wells Field House. Maj. Meyers, incidentally, will be leaving here within a couple of months for Austria.

Schoolboy Sensation Now a 508th Plat. Sgt.

A former San Antonio, Tex., schoolboy star, Sgt. Samuel Mathis is planning on putting his athletic accomplishments to work for the Red Devils.

Mathis has quite a reputation in his home town after winning letters in four sports and being named All-District and All-City in two years.

After participating in basketball, football and baseball, in a junior high school system, he entered Fort Benning High School. In San Antonio's three year high school system, in his first year he participated in football and won All-City honors playing shortstop. He had previously lettered in both hoop sport, and in the winter where he could utilize his natural speed and agility. In the winter sport, Mathis was district champion in the 40-yard dash and also ran in the 220. He recorded a 4.9 in a relay during the season and that is fast on any man's track.

After a football knee injury sidelined him during the 1947 season, he developed a trick knee, which seriously curtailed his sports participation. In his senior year, the knee injury had been healed and Mathis again tried out for football. The shifty speedster showed his heels to all competition and gained an All-District berth. He was soon ready for baseball, where he again gathered to All-City honors as a shortstop for Phillips' Wheatley High.

In 1948, Mathis entered the Army and took his basic training at Fort Knox, Ky., and afterwards joined the 25th Infantry where he played baseball. When that unit came to Fort Benning, he participated in Army football and played on a squad that won six out-of-post games and a total of ten games. Mathis was a first-string halfback.

Mathis went to Korea in 1950 and returned to the states a year later. He attended jump school and eventually landed in the 508th Air Transport Squadron. Now he is a platoon sergeant and hopes to be here when football rolls around next fall.

But with baseball only a few short weeks away, do not be surprised to see Mathis working out around shortstop for the 508th nine.

Kuhn Breaks Own Record In OC 'Little Olympics'

Officer Candidate Robert J. Kuhn of 29th O.C. Company became the first triple repeater in the First Officer Candidate Regiment's "Olympiad" last week when he upped his push-up production to 117, breaking the record for the third time.

His previous marks stood at 103 and 107.

The only other record to be shattered at the sixth "Little Olympics" was the pentathlon, the Army Physical Proficiency test, which D. Clifton Kuhn's classmate, Eugene McCarthey, raised from 458 to 480 points.

More than 600 spectators watched the competition, the first to be held since last November. The tests consist of contests in the five events of the p.t. test and the pentathlon.

In the other meets, Charles A. Carroll of 9th O.C. scored out a win in the 200 yard run with a time of 43.0. Joseph R. Knudson of 29th O.C. won the girls event with 88 and Joel N. Tobej of 2nd O.C. 433.

Woman's Club To Hold Yearly Fashion Show

The Fort Benning Women's Club will present its annual Spring fashion show on Thursday at 8:30 p.m. at the Main Officers' Club. Highlight of this year's presentation will be the display of the Fort's jewelry designed especially for Mrs. J. Edgar Hoover and given for the industrial ball. The ensemble is one of three in existence and is the property of Fort Benning. One set was retained by Mrs. Eisenhower, and the other three remain permanently with the Smithsonian Institute in Washington.

Thirty-one models will parade fashions from ten of Columbus' leading shops, ranging from early morning wear to glamorous evening gowns and from bathing suits to bridal ensembles.

The shop centers are cordially invited to attend the show. Admission is $1.00 including tax. Objects are available at the Lawson Air Force Base Officers' Club, the Main Officers' Club Hotel desk and the beauty shop on the post, and the Custer Terrace Beauty Salon. Tickets may also be purchased at the club the night of the show.

DESIGNER DEMONSTRATES NEW PACKING DEVICE Lt. L. Landreth, Sgt. T. Schonhans Jr., Sfc. W. Lumpkin

Landreth Designs Machine To Speed Parachute Packing

Parachutes are speeding across the 19th Airborne Quartermaster detachment packing line thanks to the support arm of the 508th Airborne Regimental Co. m a t e r i a l s packing reserve chute almost twice as fast—increasing their maximum daily output from 90 to nearly 700 bundles.

The shop centers around an improved reserve parachute packing machine developed by Lt. Landreth and put on the assembly line for the first time this week.

Lt. Landreth's machine is made entirely of scrap metal welded at Fort Ordnance shop. Designed to eliminate the difficult hand method of closing the three main flaps of the packer reserve. It performs better three ways:

It saves some handling of reserve chutes, avoids man-handling switches and allows less chance of a malfunction when the packer is ready to orient.

Lt. Landreth can be reduced by more than half.

Here is what happens when a parachute gets to the machine: The packer is already spring-loaded when the bundle is wedged to the machine as the packer is ready to orient. A metal arm falls over the

'Old Soldier' Was Here When

One of the half-dozen of "old soldiers" in the First Student Regiment began his army life right here at Fort Benning back in the days when all to be seen were tents and sand and pine trees.

Three Company, has 25 years of Infantry memories, and 38 of those years were spent overseas. He still enjoys the army way of life as much as he means to remain for an indefinite term as long as his present enlistment expires.

Sergeant Lee joined up in 1922 and was assigned to Company D, 28th Infantry, which was detailed in tests on what is now the main post. In fact, the only brick building on this post at that time was the old signal building which is still standing right by the bowling alley.

He helped build Doughboy Stadium, Gowdy field, and several of the ranges. That was "back when mules were used to pull sign shows or delvers to dig foundations."

He then spent five years with the 3rd Infantry in the Panama Canal Zone and 12 years after that with the 7th Infantry on the West Coast. During World II he studied with the outfit through Mexico, Sicily, Italy, Southern France, Germany, and Austria. When the forces were committed in Korea, he returned to Fort Benning with the 5th Cavalry. Before and between these assignments, he always seemed to gravitate back to his old home at Fort Benning. And now he's back again.

USAH Curbs Health Care Of Children

Medical care for children of servicemen is being curtailed at the U. S. Army Hospital due to a shortage of pediatricians, Col. Mack M. Green, commanding officer of the hospital announced Tuesday.
 "Most pediatric care is for children under three years of age," Colonel Green stated "and at present we just do not have the personnel to handle the calls we have been getting. If parents of very young children will limit their calls strictly to important medical needs, we will still be able to take care of such cases."
 The colonel suggested that service parents make private civilian arrangements for all except emergency cases. This would result, he said, in a general alleviation of the workload now on the pediatricians.
 In addition to the decreased number of pediatric cases, there will also be a curtailment of elective operations for dependents during the shortage.
 It was pointed out that two months ago there were five pediatricians on duty. At present there are only two, and it is expected that one of these will depart next month.
 The local situation is part of the national service shortage of doctors. The March 14 issue of the American Medical Journal stated that during April, May, and June the armed forces will call up only 1,200 doctors rather than the 1,800 as first recommended.
 The reduction was strongly recommended by the Health Resources Advisory Committee of the Office of Defense Mobilization.

Post Jubilant At Promotion Of the Chief

The post commander is now a two-star general. Congress Monday authorized the promotion of Brig. General Guy S. Meloy Jr. to the temporary rank of major general.
 Gen. Meloy was nominated in March for the promotion by President Dwight D. Eisenhower together with 14 other Army officers.
Popular Figure
 Popular over the entire area and a familiar figure in the Chattahoochee Valley, the new major general was assistant commander of Fort Benning and was recently replaced by Maj. Gen. Robert N. Young, who is now the Army's assistant chief of staff for personnel.
 The 48-year-old general commanded the 19th Infantry Regiment of the 24th Infantry Division in Korea before he was wounded and hospitalized in July, 1952. He became a deputy to the assistant chief of staff for personnel of the Far East Command in Tokyo the following November.
 Returned 1951
 Gen. Meloy returned to the United States in February, 1951, to become a familiar figure in the Chief of the Office of the Chief of Information at Army headquarters in Washington, D. C.
 He was assigned to Fort Benning as assistant commander of The Infantry School in October, 1951, and held temporary command of prospective students in the ROK Department of Defense. The selection then is screened by General Matthew B. Ridgway, former Eighth Army commander, to train young Korean men as officers. and leaders of the ROK Army.

ROKs Graduate Saturday

The third class of 150 Republic of Korea Army officers is taking ROK Army, which is patterned after the U. S. Army. The Infantry School's special 22-week course graduate March 21 and leave the next day for their homeland.
 They have been here since last September, receiving intensive instruction in the latest doctrine and technique used by the U. S. Army. Their future assignments will range from platoon leaders to key staff duty in the constantly-growing Republic of Korea Army.
 The special course provided by the Infantry School was organized as a result of requests from Group and receives additional medical and physical examinations. Although a knowledge of the English language is not a prerequisite, it is desirable. (Infantry, Page 19)

Food School Enrolls 30

Thirty enlisted men were enrolled Monday in Baking class No. 22 at the Third Army Food Service School here.
 During their eight-week course of instruction the men will receive on-the-job training as bakers in the school's halls as well as classroom work.
 Graduation for the class is scheduled for May 4.

 The three officers will survey the utilization of specialists and assignments of key personnel and assist in other personnel problems during their 15-day visit to The Infantry Center.
 Headed by Capt. Dan Herby, the team includes Lt. Paul Bowles and Richard R. Retting.

Bayonet To Move

The Bayonet moves on Saturday.
 Thereafter it will have offices at headquarters, Troop Information and Education, the Airborne Battalion area, but will maintain headquarters at the branch of the Public Information Center.
 Beginning April 2 it will function under the supervision of the Troop Information and Education section.
 The phone number, effective Saturday, will be 3-3131.
 "My name is Randall James (Randall), but at this time the Airborne course is restricted to personnel already in the Army." He continued: "If at some time in the future, perhaps nine to ten years, you wish to attend the Airborne School, the subject matter is that at that time will undoubtedly cooperate to the fullest."
 With his letter Col. Sharrett enclosed a pictorial story depicting the different phases of Airborne training.

The Little Theater is in full swing again with rehearsals for 'The Man Who Came to Dinner' scheduled to begin on Monday at the Main Post Theater, May 7-8.

Mrs. Louis J. North, director, has announced 17 members of the cast, with a few minor roles yet to be filled.

L. Charles E. Thoman, charter member of the theatrical group, will portray Sheridan Whiteside, critic and lecturer, who slips on an icy doorknob at the home of the Ernest W. Stanleys, breaking Falstaffian Mr. Whiteside's back.

Mrs. Arlo W. Mitchell has been cast in the role of Maggie Center, secretary to the celebrated Whiteside. Playing opposite Mrs. Mitchell as the local newspaperman, Bert Jefferson, will be Captain A. White.

Pvt. and Mrs. Larry Deters will appear as Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Stanley while Mrs. Arch Summers and Pvt. David Fisher take the roles of Richard and June, the Stanley children. Harriet Stanley, slightly eccentric sister of Mr. Stanley, will be played by Miss Louise Hahn.

John Wilkinson, who portrayed the murderous Jonathan Brewster in 'Arsenic and Old Lace,' will appear in the new production as Beverly Carlton, British agent.

Dedicated to Service

From the time of its inception the Red Cross has been dedicated to the alleviation of death and suffering in disaster-stricken areas. Since that time its program has been broadened to include the greatest disaster of all—war. For this reason the Red Cross now numbers blood donors and aid to servicemen among its tasks. All of this is well-known, but it is necessary to know the municipal details involved in these various fields to appreciate the true value of the American Red Cross.

In addition to its cash loans the Red Cross also gives grants of money, food, clothing and shelter to the needy victims of disaster. These grants, unlike the loans, do not have to be repaid. The Red Cross also handles the routing of telegrams and phone calls which seek health and welfare from relatives and friends in disaster areas.

If the Red Cross did nothing but carry on its Blood Donor program, its existence would be justified. Additional emphasis is currently being applied to the program to increase collections. Combat zones always consume great quantities of blood and more blood is needed for overseas shipments. With an atomic attack always a possibility, it is also necessary to stockpile blood in the States. The Red Cross, by a recent Presidential order, is the official federal procurement agency for blood.

The Home Nursing Service and the First Aid course also are being stressed at this time. The goal of these programs is to have at least one qualified first aider in every home to take care of members of their own family. Also included in the safety

Report From Washington Douglas Assumes Air Force Position

By Armed Forces Press Service
The House Ways and Means Committee has unanimously approved a bill to extend the law which allows members of the Armed Forces, stationed overseas, to send gifts home duty free, for two years beyond the July 1 deadline.

James Henderson Douglas Jr. has been sworn in as Under Secretary of the Air Force. The oath was administered by Asst. Sec. of the Air Force E. Lee White.

The Committee on Department of Defense Organization, headed by Nelson Rockefeller, in concurrence with the Secretary of Defense has requested the following to serve as senior military liaisons and Gen. Carl Spaatz. Other military and civilian aides may be added as the work of studying the Defense Department progresses.

The Navy has announced that 633 Line officers have been recommended for promotion to LCDR. Of this number 401 are Regular Navy and 232 are Reserves who reported for duty before Jan. 1, 1933. Date of rank will be announced at a later date, the Navy said.

The House of Representatives has unanimously passed a bill extending the free mailing privileges for servicemen to Korea and servicemen wounded in Korea who are hospitalized in Japan, Hawaii, Okinawa or other places outside the U. S. The bill extends the privileges for two years. Senate action is expected soon, a present authority estimates June 30.

Approximately 11 million dollars in savings, over a one-year period, will result from suggestions made by military and civilian members of the Army. A total of 18,808 suggestions were submitted during the year.

3rd Army Announces ROTC Training Plans

HEADQUARTERS THIRD ARMY, Ft. McPherson, Georgia, March 18.—The Reserve Officers Training Camp plans for the Summer of 1933 are now complete, Lieutenant General A. R. Bolling, commanding general of the Third Army, announced today.

There will be six different camps in the Third Army Area this year. The Infantry ROTC camp and Medical Service Camps I and II will be at Ft. Benning, Ga., the Military Police and the Signal Corps ROTC camps will be at Camp Gordon, Ga., the Chemical Corps ROTC camp will be at Ft. McClellan, Ala., and other Medical Service encampments will take place at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

The following camp commanders and deputy camp commanders have been announced. At Ft. Benning, Brigadier General Guy Smith, Jr., will be overall camp commander. Colonel F. E. Cookson, professor of military science and tactics, Clemson College, will be deputy for the Infantry ROTC camp.

OC Describes Help RC Gave In Great Flood

"When conversation around the 'cracker barrel' drifts to hard times late, old timers still recall the Johnstown Flood of 1889 as the worst in the nation's history. That was when the South Fork dam burst, flooding the Pennsylvania valley town and killing thousands of its inhabitants. Officer Candidate Richard Lehman of 12th OC Company heard the 'cracker barrel' tales full of the hardships and draws a parallel with another Johnstown he experienced.

It was March 17, 1938, when the rain-and-snow-swollen Conemaugh and Stony Creek rivers overflowed their banks. The Lehman here, two blocks away, was destroyed and the family left without food or clothing.

"But this time Johnstown had the help of the Red Cross, and through it indirectly, the help of the whole nation," he says. "The food, clothing and shelter given us by the Red Cross were real lifesavers. I believe the Red Cross was instrumental in lessening the number of deaths."

Candidate Lehman says the Red Cross remained on the job after the flood had subsided, giving food and medical care to all who needed it. "The '33 flood could have been just as disastrous as the Flood of '80. But the Red Cross stepped in and kept down the toll," he declares.

Dad's Club Opens 'Seats' Again

The Fort Benning Dad's Club will sponsor luddy-seat rides for children of post military personnel and their guests between 9 a. m. and 3 p. m., Saturday, April 4.

Donations received by the club will be used for the many activities the club is sponsoring this year. Activities the club is backing include Little League basketball boxing and baseball games.

Traffic To Be Rerouted While Work Is Pushed

A temporary rerouting system for approximately 300 Columbus area motorists daily entering or leaving the Main Post, was announced today by The Infantry Center's Provost Marshal.

The Provost Marshal said the rerouting was necessary owing to construction activities at the approaches to the new bridge across the Upatoi and the widening to 32 feet of a section of Lumpkin Road.

The new system will go into effect at 7 a.m. Saturday, March 21, at which time Lumpkin Road from Vibbert Avenue to Outpost No. 1 will be closed to all traffic until further notice.

Officials wish to emphasize, that during normal traffic periods, Clark Road (Truck Route) will be one-way inbound, and Sigerfoos Street will be one-way outbound from Vibbert Avenue to Clark Street.

Detailed instructions regarding the new system are as follows:

Vehicles entering the post from Lumpkin Road between 7 a.m. and 8:15 a.m. daily except Sunday and holidays will utilize the right lane over the bridge and continue over Clark Road (Truck Route) to Vogel Avenue.

Traffic entering the post from Benning Blvd. will use the left lane from Benning Blvd. and Custer Road over Lumpkin Road and Sigerfoos Street to the intersection of Sigerfoos and Vibbert Avenues.

At this point traffic may go straight Sigerfoos Street or right on Vibbert to desired destination.

Outbound traffic between 4 p.m. and 8:45 p.m. and 12 noon and 12:30 p.m. on Saturday will use the following routes:

All motorists desiring the use Lumpkin Road to Columbus will leave the post via Clark Road (Truck Route). To enter Clark Road motorists will go north on Ingersoll Street to Clark Road (Truck Route) stay in the left lane on Clark Road to Lumpkin Road and Benning Blvd., turn left on to Lumpkin Road.

Benning Blvd. traffic leaving the post will use the right lane on Sigerfoos Street. Motorists will enter Sigerfoos Street and Vibbert or Sigerfoos and Vibbert continue in the right lane on Sigerfoos Street to destination.

Motorists other than outlined above will be routed as follows: Inbound traffic will enter the post using the right lane on Sigerfoos Street over Clark Road (Truck Route). Clark Road will be one-way inbound during normal traffic period.

Outbound traffic will leave the post by using the right lane on Sigerfoos Street will be one-way outbound from Vibbert Avenue, to Clark Street during normal traffic. From Clark Road traffic will move two ways.

It is requested that all traffic using Custer Road to enter or leave the post during the congested periods utilize First Division Road to alleviate further congestion and help expedite the movement of traffic during the period.

During the above period will use the super highway to First Division Road through Hermon Church to the Main Post.

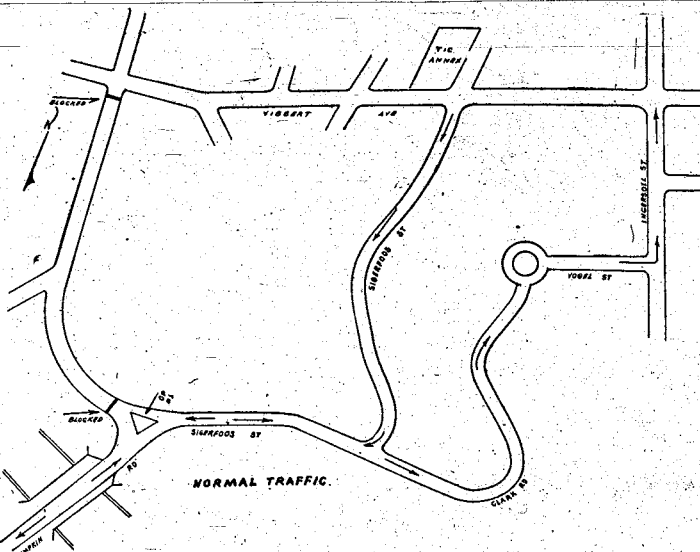

Traffic leaving the Main Post during the Inbound Traffic period will use First Division Road and the overpass and enter the super highway to Columbus.

2 Captains Given Letters of Citation

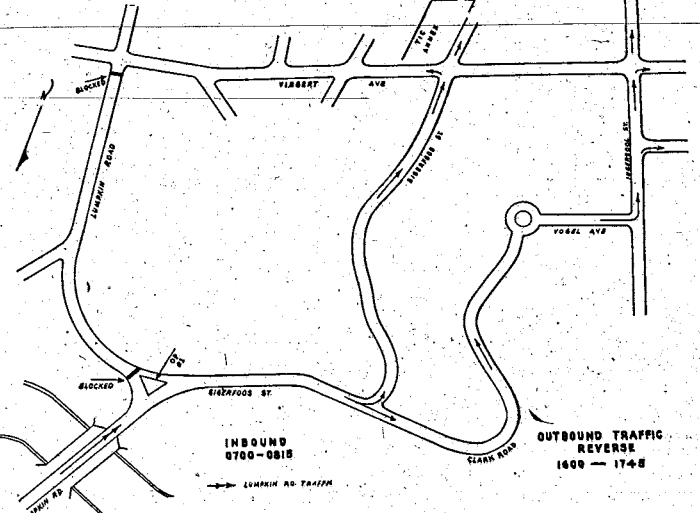

Capt. John B. Metz of Vicksburg, Miss., and DeWitt C. Smith, Jr., of Bethesda, Md., have received letters of commendation from The Infantry School Operations Office for "outstanding service."

The commendations, presented by Col. Robert G. Sherrard, operations officer, commanded Metz and Smith for their service in the Planning Corps and Ammunition Division of the office.

Capt. Smith is chief of the division and Capt. Metz is assistant division chief and ammunition controller.

NORMAL TRAFFIC . . . During normal traffic periods, Clark Road (Truck Route) will be one-way for all inbound traffic. Sigerfoos Street, which passes in front of The Infantry Center Annex, will be one-way outbound from Vibbert Avenue to Clark Road. The only times when the normal traffic pattern will not be followed are from 7-8:15 a.m. and 4-5:45 p.m. on all days except Sundays and holidays. The new system will go into effect at 7 a.m. Saturday, March 21, at which time Lumpkin Road from Vibbert Avenue to Outpost No. 1, will be closed until further notice.

INBOUND TRAFFIC . . . During the period of 7-8:15 a.m. inbound traffic from Lumpkin Road will utilize the right lane over the bridge and continue over Clark Road (Truck Route) to Vogel Avenue. Traffic entering the post from Benning Boulevard will use the left lane from Benning Boulevard and Custer Road over Lumpkin Road and Sigerfoos Street to the intersection of Sigerfoos and Vibbert Avenue. At this point traffic may go straight on Sigerfoos or turn left or right on Vibbert. Outbound traffic between 4 p.m. and 5:45 p.m. and 12-12:30 p.m. on Saturday will use the reverse of the incoming routes.

17 in 508th Are Promoted

Seventeen noncommissioned officers of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team have been promoted.

Lt. Chaltraw Given Silver Star During OC Parade

More than 1,500 officer candidates paraded last Sunday in the First Officer Candidate Regiment this year.

Approximately 1,000 spectators witnessed the retreat parade on French Field.

First Lt. William J. Chaltraw, currently assigned to the First Student Battalion, was decorated for heroism in action. He received the Silver Star from Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Infantry Center commander.

The candidates, meeting the eight officer candidate companies now in training, passed in review starting from a platoon-in-line formation.

Receives Streamer
Third OC Company was awarded the blue streamer, indicating senior status, by Gen. Meloy. A company is awarded a blue streamer, which is attached to the company's guidon, when it reaches its 18th academic week. At that time candidates are given additional responsibilities and privileges.

With Gen. Meloy on the reviewing stand were Col. George Bush, acting assistant commander of the Infantry School, and Col. Harry M. Grizzard, commanding officer of the 1st OC Regiment.

The regimental and battalion staffs for the parade were composed entirely of officer candidates. Third OC Company provided the awarded a Bronze Star Medal.

When the column was halted a second time by an enemy machine gun, Lt. Chaltraw, using only a carbine, succeeded in killing all members of the enemy gun crew. Chaltraw received a battlefield commission in Matuyang, Korea in January, 1951. He has also been awarded a Bronze Star Medal.

ROKS

try School, however, maintains a battery of 15 Korean Army instructors who are assigned to each Infantry platoon to travel with each platoon in the class.

The post tries to make the transition between the U.S. and Korean as smooth as possible. The third class which graduates March 21, is the first to be assigned to an Infantry post by the commanding general. Brig. Gen. Robert E. Kelly, Jr. A sign was erected over their orderly room which reads: "Through these Fortals Pass the ROK's Finest."

Next came questionnaires and forms to be filled out and assignment of billets. The new students were issued the clothing and equipment necessary for their training which would follow for the next 22 weeks. An orientation on The Infantry School and its mission of during their training completed their pre-school instruction.

Since weapons are an Infantry man's most important tool, the week course offers more than 300 hours of instruction in the use of rifle, machine guns, mortars, rockets, flame throwers, grenades, and pistols. The M-1, basic of the ground soldier, is the lion's share of attention with 60 hours of instruction.

Tactics get the next largest share of the schedule, with 294 hours devoted to all phases of Infantry offensive and defensive movements. Because of the concept of modern warfare call for close cooperation between all combat arms, the students study armor, anti-aircraft, artillery, and employment and deployment, field engineering, artillery disposition, chemical utilization and air-ground liaison.

The United Nations in Korea have the upper hand over the Communist in signal communication and automotive facilities, and the Infantry School intends to direct toward keeping it that way. Seven to five hours in the special course for ROK Army officers are devoted to these two subjects.

The remainder of the course, or 161 hours, is handled by the school's Staff Department. There are four hours of personnel management, 12 hours of leadership training, 12 hours of health, physical conditioning, more than 30 hours of bayonet and hand-to-hand combat training, 20 hours of combat intelligence and hand-drawn map and aerial photography, operations and training and logistics and medical subjects.

Get Field Training

In the field training, the student-officers are first taught the principles of individual scouting, patrolling and other movements. This is enlarged, gradually, to include the squad, platoon and finally the company. Then follows a series of group problems including river crossings under adverse conditions, attack of a village and the attack of snipers and platoons in the attack.

The students' day usually begins at 6 a.m. and ends about 5 p.m. This is not always the rule, however. Sometimes there is homework to prepare or a review of that day's class or field study. Despite the strenuous training schedule, the ROK officers still find time for recreational and social activities.

The class publishes a weekly newspaper in Korean. Baseball, basketball and other athletic teams have been organized, and some attend social events at the Officers Mess. Trips to nearby Columbus, Ga., to visit American friends, or attend religious services and social functions constitute their week ends.

Met Eisenhower

During the Christmas holidays, a group of the students visited Washington, D. C., for a tour of the Capitol. Several went on to New York where they met Mr. (then President-Elect) Eisenhower.

One Columbus matron invites a few of the students to her home every Sunday for a home-cooked dinner. She has learned to prepare Korean dishes from a Korean girl living in Columbus, and the ROKs claim they love it.

So far as the course itself is concerned, Col. Nam Kyu Pak says, "The facilities and method of instruction are wonderful. The demonstration teams used at The Infantry School help us grasp the situation to a greater degree than we have done before."

Infantry School officials speak highly of the ROKs, too. They say that they show a great interest in everything, that they are very conscientious and are excellent students.

Captain Spitz Wins Citation

Capt. Ellis E. Spitz of Associated Infantry officers, advanced the bronze star for heroic achievement in the 1952 defense of the "Jameson" line in Korea. Capt. Spitz was a member of the 3rd Infantry Division and served in Korea from January 1952 to November 1952.

The career of Capt. Spitz has been closely associated with the military services. Entering the Army in 1942 he took part in the Leyte and Okinawa campaigns in 1945 and was in the Pacific as a member of the 9th Infantry Division. He was out of service from 1947 to 1951.

Capt. Spitz's military career began in 1928 when he enlisted in the U.S. Army. Mr. Respass also provided engineer officials with technical aids on the maintenance of roads and railroads.

Personnel Shuffle In 320th Affects Eight Troopers

Personal changes of key battery level officers and non-commissioned officers in the 320th Airborne Assault Battalion have been announced. The 508th ARCT affected eight jumpers.

The shifts are in line with the normal battalion policy of rotating command and staff positions to give personal wide experience, according to Lt. Col. Edward Bourke, 320th commander, and the operations office of the 508th with primary duty as liaison officer.

Capt. William C. Kennedy, newly assigned to the 320th, is company commander of Service Company, 320th Airborne Assault Battalion.

Capt. John F. Houser moved from Service Battery to Headquarters Battery as assistant S3 and Capt. John E. Connelly shifts from Headquarters Battery to command Battery C.

508th Assigns Four Officers

Four company-grade officer assignments have been announced for the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

Captain Richard T. Pumphrey has been named operations officer of the First Battalion. He was formerly assistant operations officer, according to Lt. Col. Edward Bourke, 508th commander, and the operations office of the 508th with primary duty as liaison officer.

Capt. William C. Kennedy, newly assigned to the 508th, is company commander of Service Company, 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

First Lt. John B. Davis Jr. from Battery C to Headquarters Battery as assistant S4; and Lt. John L. Burns from Ho. Battery to Service Battery as commander and Lt. Arthur A. Rhoads from Battery C as executive officer; 2nd Lt. Pittard from Battery B to Battery C as executive officer; 2nd Lt. Harold C. Callen Jr. from Battery A unit administrator and SFC George R. Sanford from Headquarters Battery to Battery C as first sergeant.

'Trooper of 508th At Top of Class

Pfc. Richard B. Hawker, of Company 1, 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, a gunner in his 57mm recoilless rifle squad, aimed square through his sights at Field Wierman's school recently and ended the course as the honor student of his class.

Hawker earned a letter of commendation from the Communications School commandant for his efforts at the Fort Jackson, S. C., service school, and congratulations from his company commander, Captain Richard H. Boland, of the Milwaukee, Wisconsin "trooper" with primary duty as liaison officer.

Capt. William C. Kennedy, newly assigned to the 508th, is company commander of Service Company, 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

All-Post Hoopsters Named

Swyers Voted Unanimously To 1st Team

BY LESTER DINOFF

The champion Combat Training Command Commanders have won the first Bayonet basketball title and have placed one player on the 1933 All-Star team, but First Student Regiment, runner-up for the post crown, placed two men on the first team.

However, CTC's Art Green was named along with Vern Coffey of First OC as Best Sportsman besides securing a berth on the second All-Post team.

George Swyers of First SR was unanimous choice for first team. Besides garnering the top berth on the 1933 dream team, the former West Virginia Tech player who is the post's leading scorer, was voted in as the Most Valuable Player.

The other four members of the first team are Bob Karpinski, another Blackshirts' pick, Thompson of CTC, Larry Avin of the 568th Airborne, and Coffey. Swyers accumulated 24 points, all eight coaches in the league voting for him. Karpinski received 21 points, Coffey 19, Avin and Thompson 22 apiece.

The eight coaches turned in ballots that were representatives of the league. On the first and second teams, combined, the Blackshirts have four players. CTC has two, Second OC has two, 568th has one, First OC has one.

The voting was done by the coaches individually. Each player was given three points, second team, two points, and one point for honorable mention. Although most of the voting was close, there was only one tie and that occurred in the balloting for the Best Sportsman.

Both Green and Coffey received two first place votes and one second place vote apiece. It was decided by the Bayonet sports department, who had the task of tabulating all the ballots, that both hoopsters should be co-winners of the award.

Coach Honored
Coach of the Year honors were awarded to Fred Freeman of the Provisional Medical Group, Freeman, whose team was knocked out of the semi-finals of the tournament, did a wonderful job of coaching the team that he led on.

The surprise nomination went to Don Smith, who received one first place and two second place votes for Most Improved Player.

On the second team is Ray Steiner and Bob Clifton, both Second SR players, with 16 points apiece. (See ALL-POST, Page 16)

Fans As Usual Disagree With All-Post Team

BY MEVY MELTZER

Although the decision of the judges in this case the Fort Benning basketball mentors, is final, the fans have once again exercised their prerogative and disagreed with the verdict brought in on the selection of the 1933 All-Post Basketball Team.

A call for votes was sent out to all OC fan by The Bayonet and judging by the general apathy of the fans shown during the season, the results or more correctly the lack of results, were not too surprising.

ALL-POST BASKETBALL TEAM

Boxing Resumes With ASU In Lead

BY JIM ROSENSTONE

Following a two-week lull, Fort Benning boxers went back to work on Saturday night, outside the 568th Airborne. In his first bout, Craig Davis of First OC defeated a local opponent in a complete agreement with the coaches on the choice of a starting five. Like the mentors, he selected George Swyers and Bob Karpinski, Ivan Dick, Thompson of CTC and Vern Coffey of First OC.

Points are awarded on a 5-4-3 team basis. Nine bouts were scheduled by the Fort Benning Boxing Board for Saturday night at 8 p.m. in Bryant Wells gymnasium.

Probably the top bout of the evening will be a battle between Jim Adams of First SR and Ed Stuart of the 568th. Both boys are class two welterweights.

In the other welterweight scrap, ASU Provisional Group fighters lead the pack with 107 points, trailing by 15 points in the First Student Regiment with 92. Then 568th Airborne has 78, Combat Training Command 41 and Infantry School Detachment five points.

Robinson of CTC will clash with Sam Smith of First SR, and Connel Adams of ASU is pitted against Roland Lewis of CTC.

The only class one bout of the evening matches Bobby Rodriguez of the 568th against Bobby Bennett, Ashley of CTC. Henry (one, and on down to the raw novices in class five.)

In the light heavy weight division, Frank Love of CTC will meet Monroe Cornish of First SR in a class three bout.

Rounding out the card will be two class five heavy-weight bouts. Roosevelt Bellinger of the 568th will fight Bill Williams of CTC and Joe Kelly of ASU will meet Leo Doyle of ISD.

Probably the top bout of the evening will be a battle between Jim Adams of First SR and Ed Stuart of the 568th. Both boys are class two welterweights.

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

by Lester Dinoff

In 1933 in Williamsport, Pa., Carl E. Stolz, a native son, realized that boys 12-years-old and under desired more than anything else, competition in their own age groups. Little League Baseball was Stolz' brainchild and he adapted the National Pastime to their mental and physical capacities.

The idea was an immediate success, and the growth of Little League Baseball was phenomenal. The 1932 season showed 1,810 leagues composed of 7,858 teams with approximately 115,990 boys in that age group on the roster of regular "first" teams. In addition to this, well over 60,000 boys found places on "farm" teams.

It would be impossible to measure accurately and completely the benefits of Little League Baseball to the individual boy, the team on which he plays, the league to which he belongs, and the entire community which Little League Baseball operates. There are far too many intangibles.

The objective of baseball for youngsters is to provide clean, safe activities for them. It instills the fine principles of sportsmanship, tolerance and understanding in them. The boys take pride in wearing their uniforms, even if it only consists of a tee shirt and baseball cap or to the full dress regalia in the Chatham-Parishes Valley area.

Little League, baseball, basketball or any other sport in which youngsters participate, makes no pretense of being a "real" sport for juvenile delinquency. However, in communities where the program is established, the boys behave and make their towns better places in which to live.

Fort Benning has a Little League for its youngsters. For the kids, this year there will be a Little League Baseball program which will be called the Doughboy Little League and it will be comprised of four teams, who at the end of their season, will compete against other teams and leagues in the Chatham-Parishes Valley area.

The teams here on post will carry 15 boys in uniform per team. For the youngsters who can not gain a regular berth, there will be farm clubs. Saturday afternoon on French Field, the first workouts and tryouts take place at 2 p.m. There the club will be formed under the supervision of Dad's Club members.

Youngsters who are interested in getting into Little League Baseball here at Fort Benning should show up Saturday afternoon armed with a birth certificate.

A number of phone calls have been received at the ASU Provisional Group A & R Office as to why Coach Frank Hartley of the Builders Boxing team did not get along with the Fort Benning boxing team to the Third Army Boxing Tournament at Fort Jackson, N. Y. These callers, so I am old, feel that Hartley and ASU has been discriminated against.

So, I would like to say on behalf of the Special Services (See SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS, Page 16)

CTC Wins Title Beating First SR

It took a playoff to decide that the Commanders of the first period with a surge of points which cut down a First SR lead of 12 points to two. After playing almost ball throughout the first half, the fans went out for an intermission with the score 24-21.

But during the third period, Art Green regained some of his shooting skills and along with Dick Thompson, again cut down a First SR lead and the third ended with First SR in front by two.

After the buzzer opened the fourth, the Blackshirts jumped on a free three, but CTC guard Bill Toone dumped in a field goal and a see-saw scoring battle took place. CTC in front one minute, then the Blackshirts ahead the other.

Green connected for one of his famed jump shots during the last three minutes to give the Commanders a 47-46 lead. Jim Williams sank another two pointer bringing the score to 49-46. Thompson, who was off on his feet shooting, missed two free throws and the Blackshirts got possession of the ball on the rebound.

A penalty was called on Green CTC under the able coaching of Jim Guthrie did not fare too well during the regular season losing three ball games with winning records. They were with the 568th Medics for third place at the season's end.

Ft. Benning Boxers Win 3 Titles in 3-A Tourney

Ten Fort Benning boxers went to the Third Army Boxing Tournament and three out of nine they fought returned with championship. One boxer was disqualified for professionalism.

The titles that Fort Benning won were the featherweight, middleweight and super-middleweight titles. They were taken by Roy Kiley of the 568th Airborne, light middleweight which Gordon Van Loos of the light heavyweight, which was garnered by Jack King of First SR on a decision.

Fort Benning also squeezed out the team title by edging last year's winner, Fort Bragg, 31-30, on a decision. Elmer Ebit of CTC, Fort Benning's welterweight champion, was disqualified because evidence was lodged against him for badger professionalism. Ebit still maintains that he has never fought as a professional.

The big upset of the 3-A bout was First SR's Saturday evening came when heavyweight Willie Kenon of Fort Bragg took a decision over Elmer Fann of First SR. Benning's champion, Fann, who has raised the bounty on predatory animals and birds.

When a hunter brings in the carcass of a bobcat or a fox, the S&O office will pay him $5.00 and one Van Loos defeated Julius Reiser for a hawk.

Fort Bragg and King scored a decision over Poneda Cox of Fort Benning.

Other Benning fighters that fought, but lost on the finals card were Adel Duxon of First SR and Elvis Mathews of ASU. Duxon, who had turned his right hand in the semi-finals action, lost a decision to Sam Johnson of Fort Jackson. Mathews lost to Tommy Jackson, another Fort Jackson boxer.

In the semi-finals action, a Clark of First SR was a knockout victim that teams First looper. In 2:40 of the first round, the 568th Airborne of Fort Bragg edged the Blackshirts banishment with a straight KO.

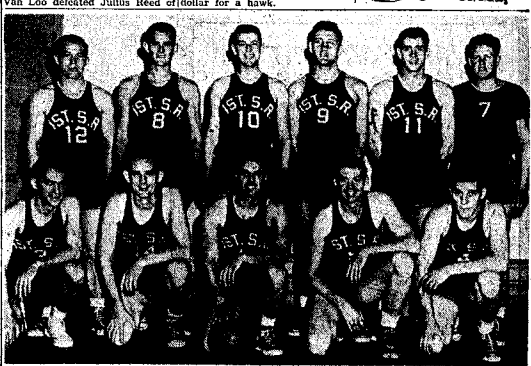

Leon Hall of CTC, the post's middleweight champion, was a KO victim. Bobby Rodriguez, the 568th flyweight, lost out by a decision.

Bounty on Varmints Raised by F and G Assn.

Due to the large number of varmints on the Fort Benning Mill, Roy Reservation, the Fish and Game Maintenance Association has raised the bounty on predatory animals and birds.

When a hunter brings in the carcass of a bobcat or a fox, the S&O office will pay him $5.00 and one Van Loos defeated Julius Reiser for a hawk.

IT'S BASKETBALL... Dick Thompson (12) of CTC goes into the air for one of his famed hook shots. Attempting to block the basket attempt is Nelson Ohlemacher (5-First SR). Other players are Jim Williams (5), Bob Karpinski (3), Dan Rhoades (10) and Roy Young (10-CTC). CTC defeated the Blackshirts, 75-48 in the second playoff for the post basketball title.

HOOK SHOT ARTIST... CTC's Dick Thompson is caught by the cameraman as he attempts his famed hook shot which was good. First SR players in on the action are Nelson Ohlemacher (5) and John Dull (4). CTC players are Art Green (4) and Roy Young (10). CTC won first playoff game 49-48.

Basketball Top Sport On Post in February

Basketball reigned as the top sport at Fort Benning during February with a total of 18,356 spectators and participants. Here are a breakdown of the statistics.

Sport	Participating	Spectators
Basketball	7,851	11,505
Bowling	1,827	3,401
Boxing	1,062	7,950
Volleyball	2,413	5,490

NAMED CAPTAIN... Officer Candidate Vern Coffey, who was named to the 1953 All-Post Basketball Team, was named captain of the First Officer Candidate Regiment basketball team at a dinner for the team last week. The Kansas City athlete won the honorary captaincy for his sportsmanship and playing ability in the past season.

16 Youngsters Sign Up For Ring Program

Sixteen boys between the age of six and 12 have registered for the Fort Benning Youth Activities boxing program. The program, sponsored by the Fort Benning Dad's Club, will be under the direction of Lt. Ruthie Trout, who is ably assisted by Capt. Harry Breeze, Sgt. Jesse Flores and Capt. Billy Ferguson. Trout and Ferguson are the coaches of the Combat Training Command, while Breeze is the guiding light of the 56th Airborne boxing team. Flores, a member of the Red Devils squad, took off in the recent Fort Benning Boxing Tournament in lightweight competition. Plans are to train the boys in the art of self defense and the use of their hands. The program is expected to continue for the next seven weeks.

Former West Point Grid Star in Airborne Bn.

followers were Thompson, Coffey, John Dull, First SR, Art Green, C. Ray Steiner and Bob Child, Second SR.

Sweepers, the only unanimous choice in the poll and the winner of the Most Valuable Player award received three votes for the MVP mantle. All the other ballots went to Ivan in that category.

The fans' choices for MVP are amongst Ivan, Dull, Ronnie Richardson of First SR, and Coffey. The Generals' star was co-winner of the award, with CTC's Art Green on the coaches slate.

Perhaps the most surprising twist in a comparison of the vote log is that none of the fans thought highly enough of the 56th's Don Smith. Ballots were cast for Coffey, Phil Phillips of First SR and Charley Stewart, another Blackshirt. John Fries of the 56th quiet gathered up the most votes for the 320th for the "Most Improved Player" award. The irony of the situation is that Smith, shut-out by the fans, was the coaches' choice.

Smith wasn't the only winner overlooked by the fans. Capt. J. H. Freeman, who looked as if he was using mirrors to keep his PMG Medal up during the regular season, was also blanked in the poll. Only five of the ballots even both named a coach of the year.

Terry Scott, First SR mentor, received four of them while Ed Gulvick of First GC took the other one.

GETTING READY... Volleyball practice is high on the athletic agenda among company units of the 56th Airborne with the past championship playoffs only two weeks away. Action above centers around Fox and George Companies. Sgt. Kenneth Riles, (left) of George waits to meet the spike of Lt. Harry Koehnlein, Lt. Waiworth Williams observes at right and M-Sgt. sports office and the Boxing Board, why Hartley did not go. According to the memorandum which defines the post-holding rules and regulations, the coach that had the most fighters on the Fort Benning team which is entered in the Third Army Tournament, heads the 10-man team. Then the two assistant coaches are chosen from the teams that have the next largest number of representatives.

The day after the finals of the Fort Benning Boxing Tournament, the Boxing Board named and appointed Jerry Peelman of First SR as the head coach of the Fort Benning boxing team. The Blackhearts have five men on the team. Harry Breese of the 58th and Rudy Ferguson of CTC were selected as assistant coaches because the Red Devils and Commanders have two men apiece on the team. ASU sent one man to Earl Jackson. That is why Hartley wasn't sent with the Benning boxers.

Lt. Dick Raber, ex-fulback of the CTC Commanders, is on FECOM orders. Lt. Jim Guthrie, coach of the championship basketball team, will take over as golf pro at the Sand Hill golf course when Raber leaves and as soon as his basketball duties are over.

Sic. Charlie Parker of the Infantry School Detachment's A & B Office is the proud papa of a bouncing boy. Spring is really here for an Infantry "dad" during the early evening, you could see track enthusiasts working out. The All-Army Track Championships will be held somewhere in the Third Army Area, June 12-13.

So far, there are 10 teams entered in the Third Army Basketball Tournament on March 25-28. They are Fort Benning, naturally, Redstone Arsenal, Camp Stewart, Fort Campbell, Atlanta General Depot, Fort Jackson, Camp Gordon, Fort Bragg, Camp Rucker, and Fort McPherson.

YOU'LL "GET HOME" FASTER

BY THE NUMBERS

It's always a treat to "get home"—whether by plane, train or telephone. And usually, the faster the better. That's why it's helpful to call by number when you make your visit by Long Distance telephone. When you give the operator the out-of-town number, she doesn't have to consult "Information" in the city you're calling and you'll "get home" faster.

You'll find out-of-town directories for frequently called cities at each telephone center. These centers are located at the Main Post, Sand Hill and Harmony Church area.

And remember, it's better for you to call the folks back home instead of their calling you, since you may be hard to locate. Charges can be reversed.

3-Army Boxing Trophy Given To OC Crook

Officers Candidate Edward Crook, Jr., of 21st O. C. Company, was presented a trophy on Feb. 25 for placing second in the 1952 Army Boxing Tournament in the light middleweight division in 1952.

Crook entered the boxing world at the age of 16, taking part in inter-city tournaments in his hometown of Detroit, Mich. His record stands at 24 fights with 22 of them in his favor — 18 by the knockout route.

The setbacks came at the hands of a professional, Eugene Lock, Jr., and the other in a college tournament held at West Virginia State where Crook was engaged prior to entering service in March, 1951.

Other boxing achievements include the Southern Negro Golden Gloves Championship which he won in 1952 in Charleston, W. Va. The victory won him a trip to Boston where he participated in the National O. C. but his Army duties interfered. However, Crook satisfied himself when he floored Charles Britz, Golden Gloves champion of 1951, in a sparring match at Fort Jackson, S. C.

Crook is one of those sports individuals who enter the sports world and give good performance in various athletic fields. An outstanding halfback on the West Virginia State College eleven, he played regularly for the Fort Jackson Golden Gloves under the name of many All-Army ballists in the annual service poll. The Quantico Marines named him on their first string All-Opponent eleven for the 1952 season.

While at Jackson, Crook played against the Philadelphia Eagles. He was not altogether satisfied with his past record breaking performance. "I did 100 of them about two years ago," he said.

Candidate Kuhn has entered the service, the Detachment is far from ball team was impressed by his performance and invited him to participate in when he completes his tour with the Armed Forces. He thinks he will drop in that talk with the pro football club or to the boxing arena.

WAC Hoopsters Say—'Wait'll Nex' Year'

"Ah, for the life of a girl's basketball coach! Some may say it's the greatest. But others equally may say it is not. Championing the cause for the WAC Hoopsters, Sgt. Emma Gori, said:

"As you should know for the sergeant is just completing her first year as coach of Fort Benning's entry in women's cage competition, the WAC 'Raiders'.

The team, a branch of the ASU Provisional Group A & B of 1952, first saw the light of day last October. They are the offspring of Sgt. Robert Ford, the WAC's dribbling legend. However, their dribbling ball to ease up as the season hit full swing and the more experienced Valley girls began to show some form.

The team chugged through three games, winning many a one, but Ford decided to wait until next year for him to begin dovetailing his attention to the newly organized WAC Hoopsters.

So, WAC Gori took over the reins. And the girls started anew. They quest for a victory, competing their play at games with the Columbus Student Nurses, High City, Fair Forest, and the 3rd West Service Station, along with the other units with the Fort McPherson girls, the Raiders soon realized their goal and won a game.

In fact, over their schedule of programs, the girls were able to pull in two victories, one over the 3rd West Service Station and the other over the McPherson WACS.

Even with the scarcity of victories, the Detachment is far from service—don't be shy, let us know of the Raymond, by either writing us or Public Information Office, CTC, or calling 3-6222.

Ranger Vows To Repay 23 Pints of Blood

A 23-year-old Ranger instructor has made a pledge to repay the Red Cross for the 23 pints of blood he received when wounded in Korea.

Cpl. George - Paul Redgate of New York City made his first donation last week at the Blood Donor Center here. It will take him 69 months to repay the 23 pints, but he's not worried about that because he re-enlisted last July for six years.

Redgate says he would have started to donate earlier but only recently became eligible. Former regulations prevented persons with a medical history malaria from participating in the blood donor program. These restrictions have been relaxed, and military sufferers may now donate provided medical authorities approve.

The young corporal, a member of the physical training committee in the Ranger Department, served in Korea from September 1950 to September 1951 with the Fourth Airborne Ranger Company. He was wounded July 28, 1951, the day before his 21st birthday, while his company was defending a position on the Injin River.

He received machine gun wounds in the left hip, leg and back, shrapnel wounds of the face, and a bayonet wound in the left hand.

Blood Center Gets 311 Pints

Three hundred and eleven pints of blood were collected last week at the Blood Donor Center.

Eighteen pints of blood were retained for use at the U. S. Army Hospital here and 293 were shipped to the U. S. processing plant at West Point, Pa.

The First Infantry Officer Candidate Regiment led the week's donations with 160 pints of blood. The 28th Airborne Ammunition Company Team was second with 51 pints.

Other unit donations include: Combat Training Company (2), First Student Brigade (36), Area Service Unit (Provisional Group), 16 Infantry School Detachment, 1 Army Field Forces Band No. 3, 4our Provisional Medical Group One, and civilians, six.

Van Fleet To Address Post Group Friday

BY PFC. JIM MORRISON
Gen. James A. Van Fleet, former Eighth Army commander in Korea, arrives tomorrow afternoon to address Infantry School classes and post officials at Theater No. 1.

He will be welcomed by a honor guard composed of troops of the Third Battalion, 58th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, and the 122nd Army Band.

Included in his theater audience will be students and the staff and faculty of The Infantry School, the Infantry Center staff, and representatives of major units on post.

The topic of his speech is not known, according to school officials.

In recent weeks, Gen. Van Fleet, who will retire from the Army March 31, has given his views on the Korean conflict to members of the Senate Armed Services Committee.

In testimony so far, Van Fleet has charged that U. N. forces in Korea were hampered by ammunition shortages during the time that he was there.

Van Fleet has also been critical of orders, issued in June 1951, which he stated prevented troops from pursuing the Communist armies. They were "on the run" at that time, he said.

"On The Run," He Avers
"In June 1951 we had the Communist armies on the run—they were hurting badly, out of supplies and completely out of hand or control. They were in panic. We were doing their best to fall as far back as possible and to stop them, but they did not pursue to finish the enemy."

When asked what would have been the result if he had been allowed to pursue the enemy, Van Fleet testified, "I believe we would have got all his heavy equipment and perhaps two or three hundred thousand prisoners."

Gen. Van Fleet will end his visit to The Infantry Center Saturday.

Dads Meet Friday; Plan Bicycle Club For Post Children

At its regular meeting tomorrow night to be held in the Old School gym, Baltzell at Lumpkin road, the Dads' Club will organize a bicycle club for children of military personnel. Age limits for these boys and girls will be 7 to 15.

Both Mothers and Dads of children desiring to participate in the new club are invited to attend, and may bring their children to the meeting.

Little Fellow Did Get Out of Ship, Mr. Mayor

BY LT. JAMES MALLER, Four Columns official, who toured the 588th Airborne Regimental Combat Team Friday, pressed keen interest and appreciation in the program of operating the Red Devil outfit.

The visiting officials were Mayor I. Lawrence Shields, City Commissioners Ralph A. Sayers, Jesse D. Binns, and City Attorney Stubbs.

They were the guests of Colonel George O. Pearson, ARCT commanding officer, and Major Adolph Shelton, commanding officer of the 320th Airborne Field Artillery Battalion. This field artillery unit of the 88th made a regular training jump that was observed by the Columbus leaders.

Mayor Shields and his officials were especially interested in meeting and talking with enlisted men and said the tour was one of the few opportunities afforded them to talk informally with these young men. All four officials were fornicity in the armed forces and the visit to the paratroopers recalled old memories of line soldiering.

The Columbusites were invited on the day of a regular tactical training jump as they could see the entire operation of the airborne operation, including before and after planning, and to discuss (See 588th, Page 13)

Drive Drags With Only 71 Per Cent In

With little more than a week to go in the 1953 Red Cross fund raising drive at Benning, overall membership by Infantry Center personnel reached 71 per cent according to Col. Max Gooler, drive chairman.

Col. Gooler pointed out that this figure, when compared with the 92.5 per cent achieved in the 1952 drive, indicates that many memberships must be received during the next week if the current drive is to approach its target of 100 per cent participation.

The total monetary contribution thus far for this year amounts to $17,849.38. This includes $222.00 received from the Red Cross at Fort Benning, representing 100 per cent participation by Red Cross employees on the post. The figure also includes $368.54 received from Special Services fund-raising activities and $377.00 from post chaplains.

A ranking of major units based on percentage of membership is published below.

The tale is told that Spring treading softly on a carpet of snow, sought entrance to Fort Benning at dawn last Thursday and was challenged by MP's on an Outpost No. 1. Reading her orders in the half-light of the morning, the MP's figured she wasn't due to arrive officially until 1201 hours the next day. Such procrastination was not in the interest of military discipline. It was decided, and Spring was made to stand aside.

While she waited, dejected, a car driver, Mrs. C. Jowers of the Public Information Office, Airborne Battalion, drove up and stopped. Just as a siffron sun rose out from behind Fort Benning, she insisted at first — the sun and Jowers — at Springs' dewy tears, they were nevertheless able to amend her orders to suit the MP's, and the befloored Lady was permitted to pass.

Everything that lived rejoiced as Spring greeted by a little dogwood Battalion, bent by the morning breeze, curtised as Spring appeared. Her floral garlands of shrubs and flowers — saluted in the fullness of her heart.

A Business of Blood
But Jowers was oblivious to the beauty of earth and sky, oblivious to the transformation that Spring had brought to the world. He had other business. The business of blood.

On Wednesday, the day before Jowers had heard that the post's blood donor center expected, within 24 hours, to process its 20,000th donor. This would make headlines, Jowers knew, and, being full of P.D. enterprise, he wanted the headlines for his own particular credit. He went to work on it at once, laying plans and drawing up pictures to go with the headlines. Then, therefore, he went to find him at Outpost No. 1 so early that Thursday morning he was wanted to be at Battalion Headquarters as soon as the men began to stir.

When the blood center opened and Mrs. Jowers was ready, the count stood at 19,951, which told him that the 20,000th donor was only 49 away. Jowers smiled confidently. He had 50,000 men lined up, ready to bare their throats.

Revelation Tale Told
Presently line started moving off, and as it grew slowly shorter, Jowers tallied them in hand, counted off the score — 19,960 — 19,970 — 19,980 — 19,990 — in 20 men of the goal. They 99 — only 10 to go.

Jowers jugged counting and looked at his remaining 12 men. Reflection had taken a toll of the original 66, and while he had started out with a surplus of 17 he now had only a surplus of 12. The picture of health he had of the picture of health he had of the 12 would make it, and among them would be the 20,000th donor.

The line moved up and Jowers took note of the count again—19,995, 19,996, 19,997. Jowers paled. He had three men left, and the prize was three away. One more rejection and he was lost. Two of the last 10 had failed! Jowers' face grew ashen and he looked at the three Jowers asked, "What did you have for breakfast?"

"Ham and fried eggs," the soldier said.

Jowers stared while his tally sheet fluttered to the floor. The center would not accept blood from a man who'd had fat for breakfast.

But perhaps there was still time, Jowers thought, and he hurried to call a canteen man to get a ham and eggs. "More men," he thought, "I've got to have more men!"

Jowers hung up and ran back and forth, looking for the man who'd had the ham and eggs. But all of the last 10 had

We Lead U.S. In Tree Value

Cyrus Webster of the Army Engineer's office in Washington arrived Monday to inspect forestry activities.

Mr. Webster said that at the present Fort Benning is the leading lumber-producing military installation in the United States. Last year 13,500,000 board feet were produced, but the post, along with about 5,000 cords of pulpwood.

At the present the post is able to produce grades No. 1 and 2 at a cost of $55 per 1,000 board feet. The same lumber on the open market is selling for about $85," Mr. Webster said.

Mr. Webster was accompanied by Weldon R. Baxton, Third Army forester, and A. R. Seitzer, South Atlantic Division forester.

Capt. Hightower Gets Commendation Ribbon

Capt. Robin F. Hightower of Ocala, Fla., has received the Commendation Ribbon with Metal Pendant for service in Korea.

Capt. Hightower, an instructor in The Infantry School's Airborne Department, received the decoration for "outstanding service" as commanding officer of the prisoner of war interrogator detachment attached to the 122d Signal of the Second Infantry Division in Korea.

Jumpmaster School Sees 53 Finish In Fine Style

Forty-nine noncommissioned officers and 13 company-grade officers parachuted safely to the ground this month and successfully completed the Jumpmaster School No. 2 in the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

The jumpmasters represented nearly all of the infantry and support company-size unit of the Red Devil combat team.

The second course differed with the addition of eight hours of instruction on various aids to assist large groups of parachutists to assemble rapidly once they hit the ground. Also covered in greater detail was the subject of preparing aerial delivery containers containing weapons, ammunition and general supplies needed for a normal combat operation.

The jumpmaster course was run by 1st Lt. Fred Parker, operations officer, and Lt. William Jones, communications officer.

Capt. Earl Hynes, assistant operations officer, and Lt. Raymond Ketcham, Support Company, participated actively in the conduct of the course.

1st Sgt. James A. Gorman and Law J. Guldry of Company B and Sgt. Bernard J. Geriowski of Company C, who are all experienced in aerial delivery problems, handled this phase of the jumpmaster course for Lt. Parker.

The jumpmaster course was conducted from March 9 through March 15.

Fame By Proxy

Sometimes more glory is won by accident than on purpose. Take, for example, the saga of Pfc. Joe Jowers of the Albatross Battalion. He did everything a good soldier could do to bring credit to the outfit he represented. The story is that he even had a hand in "getting Spring admitted" to the post when he "orders" were found defective. Not every soldier, and few officers, can lay claim to such distinction. Yet Jowers played the part purely by accident, never having intended to "get Spring admitted" to the post when the story goes, had a minor part in the drama. But it is doubtful that the men would have taken the word of a celestial body alone. It takes a uniform and military know-how to persuade and then convince MPs.

But all this happening last Thursday, was only incidental to

Efficiency Is Promised

THIRD ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Ft. McPherson, Ga., March 25 — Greater efficiency in the Third Army's widespread operations in the seven South-eastern States — from the training of soldier to the procurement and warehousing of supplies — is promised under a "Program Management" system of better direction and control for non-tactical operations now being established throughout the Third Army Area. Lt. Gen. Alexander R. Bolling, commanding general, Third Army, has made known.

The essence of program management is the establishment of specific "job" to be done within a given command, each of them direct concern of a designated number of the commanding

The Real Meaning of Easter

BY CHAPLAIN (LT. COL.) FRANK A. SPIEGEL

The sun rises in the east. And so this season, in which the Son of Righteousness rose from the dead, is called Easter. The real significance of Easter is not the mere fact that Jesus rose from the dead on the third day. But rather that in so doing He demonstrated to us and to the world that man will be resurrected and live again after death. "Because I live ye shall live also," He said.

The albatross and the agonistic hawk quite a bit to say about Easter. But I don't see how they can claim consistency here. Some of them claim, even yet, that Jesus did not rise from the dead but that His body was stolen. Yet they see vegetation, for instance, living and dying and then living again. They claim that we and they will not live again. But we know that a just God will not discriminate against a man in favor of inanimate things, such as vegetation. "Oh! consistency, thou art a jewel."

It is strange why did He remain in the tomb three days before rising? Why didn't He rise on the same day, as soon as He had been placed in the tomb? And then all would have believed! Well, there was a particularly good reason why Jesus did not rise on the third day. The Jews, in that day, did not count one really dead until the third day, and therefore, if He had risen sooner they would have said, no doubt, that He was not dead at all.

We live but a brief term of

Former Enlisted Wac Makes Regular MC

1st Lt. Fae M. Adams, MC, of San Jose, Calif., has been sworn in as the first woman to be given such training at an Army hospital. This educational privilege is extended only to Regular Army medical officers.

Lieutenant Adams served during World War II as an enlisted member of the WAC and later as a commissioned physical therapist. After graduation from the local high school in 1936, she entered the University of California at Berkeley in June 1937, and finished her pre-medical course there in 1940. Three years later, while working as a camp counselor at Lake Tahoe, Nevada, Lt. Adams enlisted in the Women's Army Corps "to do something to help out in the war." After basic training at Ft. Oglethorpe, Ga., Pvt. Adams was sent to Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., to be a technician in the ballistics research laboratory. David Leland, the following year, Pvt. Adams began training at Lawson Gen-

15,421 Reservists to Train This Summer

HEADQUARTERS THIRD ARMY, Ft. McPherson, Ga., March 25—Third Army announced today that approximately 15,421 Army reservists from about 329 units will participate in intensive 2-week field training exercises this year.

Thousands of combat veterans of World War II and of the fighting in Korea will take part in the mandatory training, which will be under the overall supervision of Lt. Gen. Alexander R. Bolling, commanding general, Third Army Reserve personnel, assisted by regularly assigned unit instructors, will direct actual training activities. This year's encampment, which will run generally from May through September, is now developing into a program to be fitted into the corresponding overall command programs.

April Deadline For Scribes In WC's Contest

Military personnel are reminded that April 1 is the deadline for submission of entries in the story and poetry contest sponsored by the book and play group of the Fort Benning Woman's Club. The contest is open to all military personnel and their dependents, whether amateur or professional writers.

Entries must be typewritten and submitted in single copy to Mrs. Earl C. Hardy, 211-A Christian Lane, Columbus. There is no restriction on the length of the entries.

Mrs. Hardy announced today that approximately 50 entries have been received. Interested persons are urged to get their manuscripts to Mrs. Hardy at the earliest possible date in order to give just possible opportunity to study their merits. Entries will be judged on the basis of writing ability, theme, and originality of style.

Judges for the contest are Miss Lorraine Weston of the Legion Auxiliary, John Bannister of the Bradley Memorial Library, and George Giggel of Radio Station WJHL.

First prize for the best poem will be a cash award of $25.00 from Mrs. T. Charlton Hudson of Columbus. An equal cash prize will be awarded by the Woman's Club for the best short story. Second prizes of $10.00 will be awarded in each category.

Mrs. Hardy said the winning manuscripts will be read at the next meeting which will be held at the group, which will be held at the Country Club April 21.

Prizes for winning entries will be awarded at the Woman's Club May breakfast.

Further information regarding the contest may be obtained from Mrs. Hardy, Columbus 2-5045.

Boy Scout Campore Scheduled for May

Brigade to Observe It's Second Birthday

Congratulations are in order for the 21st Infantry Brigade as it observes its second birthday on April 3. The brigade was reactivated in 1951, and its first official birthday party was held at Fort Benning on April 3, 1952.

With the constant flow of incoming and outgoing students and with the large volume of training programs open to them, the brigade's administrative problems are great. It is the responsibility of its cadre to make certain that classes are delivered on time, that academic standards are fulfilled, and that all problems of logistics are cared for.

The original Student Brigade was formed in 1952 with Colonel Tupper, present commanding officer, as its leader. The end of the war saw its deactivation. Main unit for housing students in the late 40s and early 50s was the 21st Infantry Brigade. With the beginning of hostilities in Korea in 1950 and the overall expansion of the Army that followed, the unit became known as the First and Second Student Regiment. In March 1951 a super-unit was called for, and the First Student Brigade was reactivated for the first time since the end of the second world war.

Lawson Field Using 'Tapes' To Aid Speech

The 46th Motor Vehicle Squadron has started another "first" school at Lawson Air Force Base with the opening of its speech course.

The course is mandatory for the first three grades of non-commissioned officers and is designed to help them in giving lectures, instructions, orders, reports, and to increase confidence when appearing before the troops. Sixteen students are enrolled.

Patterned after the speech course at Carlisle Barracks, the course requires 10 minutes of attendance. Lt. Thomas V. Daily, ground equipment maintenance officer, is instructor.

In addition to diction, voice control, and the essentials of speech making, the tape recorder is playing an important part in the course. At the beginning of each student makes a tape recording of his voice. It is played back and speech defects noted.

Although the course is mandatory for the first three grades, any other squadron personnel desiring to take advantage of the course may do so.

ASSIGNED TO JAPAN. Sfc. Dimas, first sergeant of the 8th Chemical Signal Generator Company, 30th Regimental Combat Team, has received an assignment to the Army's Chemical Center in Japan where he will serve as an instructor. He will be replaced by Sfc. Harry L. Jones.

1st OC Sgt. Knows His Stuff About Earth

BY CORP. H. B. STERN. Sgt. Heinrichs, 1st OC Sgt., is a school-trained and experienced soil technician in the Central Zone with the 80th Engineer Avn. Bn. After serving as the S3 clerk for the 3rd Squadron, 1st OC, at Albrook Air Force Base, he returned to his unit as a soil technician upon completion of the six-week course.

Heinrichs is a school-trained and experienced soil technician in the Central Zone with the 80th Engineer Avn. Bn. After serving as the S3 clerk for the 3rd Squadron, 1st OC, at Albrook Air Force Base, he returned to his unit as a soil technician upon completion of the six-week course.

For the unsuspecting, the 25 year old sergeant major says that soil is more varied than just sand, clay, and black earth. All soils vary in moisture content, elasticity, plasticity and in many other ways, all of which are factors which must be considered in construction, he points out.

"Clay Very Elastic. "Take, for instance, clay," he says. "Clay is highly elastic and plastic and, if found in too great abundance, is unsuitable for heavy construction."

"Loam (dark earth) is also unsuitable as a base for construction. It contains a great deal of water that will decay and cause voids in the soil. The voids result in uneven collapse of the ground and any heavy installation on top."

Sgt. Heinrichs, who is assigned to the 1st OC, enlisted in the Army in May 1948 after a year of teaching school in Alt. Carson, Calif. Following basic training at Fort Benning, he was assigned to the 1st OC.

Smith to Address OC Grads Friday

U. S. Rep. Frank Ellis Smith (Democrat, Miss.) will speak at graduation exercises tomorrow for the infantry officer candidate class No. 50. The 25-year-old Mississippi congressman arrives on the post today.

Rep. Smith entered the U. S. Army as a private in 1942 and was commissioned a second lieutenant following graduation from the Field Artillery Officer Candidate School. He served in Europe with the 24rd Field Artillery Battalion and earned the Bronze Star Medal.

He holds the rank of major in the field artillery Reserve. Tests are conducted in all kinds of weather found in the locale. Recruits For 8 Years. Heinrichs was transferred to March Air Force Base in November 1949 when the 80th was deactivated. He served as message center chief of the 824th Eng. Avn. Grp. until May 1950 when the unit was transferred to Westover Air Force Base, Mass.

Discharged from the Army in June 1949, he re-enlisted for six years in August and was sent to Fort Riley, Kans. Here he was promoted to sergeant first class. In August 1951 he was transferred to Korea, where he served with the 1st Infantry Division (Mechanized) Group. He returned to the States may bring it up to specifications and reported to Fort Benning in or the site may be abandoned September 1953.

My job was testing soils for building airfields, warehouses, and other construction projects. The importance of the work is indicated by his explanation, "Unless specifications are determined by the tests, are followed in the construction, sinkage, breakage, and other irregularities may result which will make the installation unusable."

He names more than a score of tests which are taken before soils can be classified. He cites 17 tests, the moisture content test and the California bearing ratio test, to indicate the exactness of the work.

The moisture content test involves scooping up a sample of soil from about 12 inches below the surface of the ground — the depth varying with the type of soil — and placing it in an airtight container. The sample is weighed in a laboratory, then baked to rid it of moisture, and re-weighed. The difference in weight is the moisture content.

California Ratio Test. "Then there is the California bearing ratio test, known as the CBR," he says. "Specimen soils which vary in moisture content and in types are first compacted. A fixed weight is then dropped on the specimen and the degree of penetration and crumbling of the soil is noted."

"These and the many other tests determine whether a specific site is suitable for the proposed construction," he declared. "Some tests are elapsed after a site has been chosen and while construction is going on. If the tests show that certain ground will not withstand the required pressure, a special mixture of soils and rocks may bring it up to specifications and reported to Fort Benning in or the site may be abandoned September 1953."

91 OCS Graduates Hear Bush Herald Infantry

Character, human understanding and know-how were heralded as the major ingredients of a good infantry officer by Col. George R. Bush who spoke Friday to graduates of Fort Benning's officer candidate class No. 49.

Speaking to the 91 new second lieutenants, the Infantry School's acting assistant commandant, asked the officers to apply the tactics and techniques learned in school when they assume duties as platoon leaders.

"You should know you have the knowledge so have confidence in yourself. There is a definite relationship between confidence and knowing your job," he added. Col. Bush, however, pointed out that tactical knowledge is meaningless without moral character and urged the new second lieutenants to build up a reputation of dependability and reliability. He also said a good officer must have an obligation of care for his men. "An infantry leader must be unselfish and needs a worth of human understanding," he declared.

"These three things plus positive thinking and a sense of job importance make up a true infantry officer. A weakened infantry officer is a waste. We must maintain a high standard of getting the job done," concluded Col. Bush, a veteran of the South Pacific campaigns during World War II and graduate of the National War College.

Honor and distinguished graduates of the class was Thomas A. Mayton of 704 Virginia Avenue, Marietta, Ga., son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Mayton. Mrs. Mayton was present to pin the gold buttons on her son's uniform. The 22-year-old honor student will be a tactical officer in the First Infantry Officer Candidate Regiment at Fort Benning.

Distinguished graduates were Robert J. Kuhn, son of Mrs. H. J. Tholen of 804 Main Street, Hays, Kansas; Andrew K. Leach, son of Mrs. Andrew Leach of 96 Beekman Street, Summit, N. J.; Bobby L. Melton, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Melton, 300 East 12th Street, Amarillo, Texas; and Alan A. Ross, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Ross of 504 Law Avenue, Marietta Springs, Ill.

Men of 508th In 'Grass Roots' Patrol Tactics

Selected officers and enlisted men from each of the three Infantry battalions of the 508th Airborne Reptional Combat Team have been learning patrol tactics "grass roots" fashion during the month of March.

The patrol problem is 44 hours long and is set up for 20 enlisted men, one officer, six aid men, and two qualified demotion specialists. Each battalion provides 10 men for one exercise during the month.

Major Louis Felder, ARCT S-2, whose department is responsible for the preparation and supervision of the exercises and conduct of the patrols, has outlined six tactical situations which will challenge the ingenuity of each patrol and insure realism in training. Each patrol will make a passage of friendly lines, infiltrate through enemy lines, perform operations behind enemy lines, occupy a clandestine bivouac, destroy an installation in the enemy rear and return to friendly lines.

Patrol leaders and key non-commissioned officers receive their plans ahead of the movement hour and are supplied with a light aircraft for a reconnaissance of the exercise area. Senior officers will critique each exercise.

During the exercises, the emphasis on realism will be supported with control personnel, an assigned section, full combat equipment, vehicles, and personnel from the 508th Airborne Engineers who will construct bridges in the exercise area.

The first patrol, from the First Battalion, completed the small unit exercise last week and reported favorably on their experience. Lieutenant Richard H. Williams was designated patrol leader, assisted by Sergeants B. Williams and W. A. Rice, all of Company A.

Nacci Conducts Tour of Laundry

Lt. Douglas M. Holmes and Pfc. Andrew C. Booney both of Headquarters Company 2d Battalion, 12th OC Regiment, conducted a tour of the Quartermaster Laundry to see how military laundry is processed. Capt. Nacci, officer in charge of the laundry, conducted the tour and explained the procedure from the time laundry is turned in until it is returned.

The laundry operates on a 5-day week. If you wear a laundry on Monday, Tuesday, or Wednesday it will be returned to you, but laundry turned in Thursday or Friday will not be returned until the middle of the following week. In the future, plans have been made for it to operate faster.

All profits made in the laundry go to a Quartermaster Laundry fund to support those laundries in the 3d Army Area that are operating at a profit. The average soldier can send his laundry in on the pay-roll deduction plan and save himself $150 a year, in addition to having free pickup and delivery service.

One of the new pieces of machinery in the laundry is the electric clothes press and folder, capable of handling 1,000 shirts a day. Captain Nacci said that changes will come in the near future and pressed.

Interested in taking this tour should see the first sergeant, Headquarters and Headquarters Company, and Battalion 30th RCT.

COMMENDED FOR WORK WITH SCOUTS M-Sgt. A. W. Deavors And Col. Kenneth D. Macomber

M-Sgt's. Work With Scouts Brings Commendation Letter

M-Sgt. A. W. Deavors, duty sergeant for Company A, Airborne Battalion, received a letter of appreciation from Col. Kenneth D. Macomber, commanding officer of the First Student Regiment, commending his interest in youth activities, particularly the Boy Scouts.

During his three years here Sgt. Deavors quickly became interested in the Boy Scouts, since he had a son, William, of Scout age. Soon he was regularly giving up his weekends to take a troupe of boys on hikes. Much to his surprise, he was not long before he and more than fifty young, eager Scouts scoured the hills of Benning by this time he became assistant Scout master under Capt. Robert A. Ryan.

Sgt. Deavors smiled with satisfaction as he mentioned that eight of his boys became Eagle Scouts during his three years here. And seven of them went up at least three ranks to attain the highest and most grade possible for boys. The Eagle Scout test consists of 11 requirements, including such things as first-aid, swimming and life-saving, pioneering and camping, personal and public health, schedules, civics, bird study and several others. Then there are 10 electives a boy can choose out of a series of 120 subjects ranging from astronomy to horsemanship and woodcarving.

He likes to recall the Summer of '51 when he took 40 boys to Florida on a camping trip. Twenty-five of the group went back during the holidays last Christmas.

Sgt. Deavors has been with airborne units for 12 years, making 65 jumps in that time. He was a captain in the 82nd Airborne Division during the last war, receiving a Purple Heart for a jump in Luzon in 1941, making his jump on Lawson Field. Now that

Meloy Lauds Infantry in Speech To 149 Korean Army Grads

The job of an infantry leader is one of the toughest a man can hold, Maj. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., Saturday told 149 Republic of Korea Army officers graduating from a course in U.S. Infantry tactics and techniques.

"As an infantry leader you must set high standards for yourself and you have become better acquainted with us. I believe that we understand each other better," Gen. Meloy declared. The invitation was given by Infantry Center Chaplain (Col.) Frank Daniel, chairman of the newly-formed ROK Infantry School. They had begun at the Infantry Center last September.

65 OC's Will Dance As Guests of Elks

Some 65 officer candidates will be entertained Saturday evening at a dance given by the Elks of Columbus. The candidates from the 2d, 12th, and 21st OC Companies were invited by Frank Daniel, chairman of the Elks' entertainment committee. This is the second time the club has invited candidates since February.

Dancing partners will be student nurses and girls from a business society. Col. Columbus, Mr. Daniel says.

The Elks sponsor dances for servicemen every week, inviting personnel from the various Fort Benning units to be guests.

By your attendance here the American soldier has gotten to know you and you have become better acquainted with us. I believe that we understand each other better," Gen. Meloy declared. The invitation was given by Infantry Center Chaplain (Col.) Frank Daniel, chairman of the newly-formed ROK Infantry School. They had begun at the Infantry Center last September.

Simulated Accident Teaches Safety to Red Devil Outfit

BY LT. FRANK KLESCHEN, Jr.

Safety emphasis took on a realistic look last week when instructor Lt. Frank Kleschen, Jr., took the 320th Airborne Field Artillery class through a simulated accident and required every troop member to fill in his version of the accident on a report form.

The project was observed by Mr. Andrew J. Baldwin, assistant Field Artillery Director, and was staged in the Sand Hill area.

Enlisted men of the 320th had to imagine themselves as passengers of a federal vehicle that collided with a civilian vehicle, in a simulated road accident, at the intersection of Move and Second Armored Division roads, in the 320th FA area.

They were then required to fill out an Operator's Report of Motor Vehicle accident. Instructors and cadre assisted the men in what to do and how to fill out the form quickly and correctly.

Lt. Kleschen, Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, was the driver of the civilian vehicle. Sgt. Lloyd A. Jenkins III, and Sgt. Joseph A. Jenkins, the one "casualty" of the accident, was in the role of the federal vehicle driver of a 2 1/2 ton truck. As passengers in the civilian vehicle, the student drivers had to make out the accident report since Sgt. Jenkins was seriously injured. Cpls. Almer Robinson and Charles Peterson took the role of ambulance bearers.

An ambulance from the 320th Airborne Medical Company, with Aidman Pfc. Billy Gless, was at the accident site to administer first aid and to take Sgt. Jenkins to the hospital.

This was all part of a 320th troop safety and road safety course. Last year there were six 320th accidents during a three-month period compared to only one accident for the three Winter months this year.

Speaking to the safety class after the accident site, Safety Director Baldwin said: "Making this report to be avoided but, like insurance, one can never tell when the report will be needed. This report is analyzed and only used by the Post Safety Office to determine ways and means to prevent accidents. It is not," he emphasized, "a legal document and cannot be used to fix liability or blame."

7 Decorations Presented At CTC Review Saturday

Two Silver Star Medals, four Bronze Medals and a Purple Heart were awarded Saturday to seven Korea veterans at a special review ceremony at the Combined Training Center, Camp Pendleton, Calif.

Receiving the awards were 1st Lt. Walter J. Clark, 4th Division, 25th Infantry, Third Division, near Taikyo.

According to the citation Lt. Clark led an attack against heavy enemy positions and though wounded in the attack continued to lead his men until the enemy had been dispersed.

Cpl. Harris earned the Silver Star for gallantry Oct. 6, 1952, while serving with Company I, 1st Infantry, Second Division, near Hwang-Ryong.

He was cited for his action in carrying an air parcel forward to the face of heavy enemy fire in order that Air Force pilots could detect enemy positions.

Helped Evacuate Wounded
 Cpl. Quiller received the Bronze Star Medal with V device for valor while serving with Medical Company, 7th Infantry, 4th Division, July 9, 1952, near Pokhok.

According to the citation Cpl. Quiller moved among wounded men during a heavy fire fight and by improvising litters from rifles, poles, coats and rags was able to evacuate many wounded men.

Meritorious Service
 Capt. Smith received the Bronze Star for meritorious service in Korea.

Lt. Beckwith of Athens, and Cpl. Faulkner of Brooklyn, also received Bronze Stars for meritorious service in Korea.

Cpl. Harris was awarded the Purple Heart for wounds received while serving in Korea.

3rd Army Settling Up Machinery To Help Balloting

HEADQUARTERS THIRD ARMY, Fort McPherson, Ga., March 25.—Plans are being set up at Third Army installations in order that all qualified personnel may cast their ballots in future elections.

Under orders of Lieutenant General A. R. Bolling, commanding general, 7th Infantry, all installations within the area are naming soldier-voting officers. These duty officers will be responsible for how to obtain an absentee ballot from their home town and state, and it will also be this officer's duty to encourage the soldier to vote.

The Department of the Army, acting under orders of the Secretary of the Army, is preparing a pamphlet that will give the current and correct absentee voting procedure.

"It is desired that all commanders implement existing directives on this subject in such a manner as to insure compliance at all times of the Department of the Army policy in regard to absentee voting by military personnel and certain attached civilians," a letter received by General Bolling said. The letter also directs the Army commander to insure that absentee ballots are provided with the forms so that they can apply for their absentee ballots.

Zalkon to Speak At Drug Club Meet

Lt. Col. George Zalkon of Dunedin, Fla., commander of 24th Evacuation Hospital, will speak on "Army Medical Advances in Korea" tonight at a meeting of the Columbus Drug Club.

Col. Zalkon, a medical doctor, was in Korea for almost two years as chief of surgical service in the 860th Evacuation Hospital. He has been here since May, 1952.

During World War II, Col. Zalkon was an Army and Air Force surgeon in the U.S. and England and later commanded the 250th Gen. Hospital and was orthopedist at Percy Weir General Hospital, Battle Creek, Mich.

He has been in the service since October, 1947, and holds the Bronze Star Medal.

Col. Zalkon received his medical degree in 1934 from Yale University.

13 From Airborne Get Extra Stripes

Thirteen men from the Airborne Battalion received promotions during the recent grade hike.

Sgt. James A. Kirton, supply sergeant for Company G was promoted to sergeant first class; Corporal stripes went to Pfc. Robert L. Letto, Pfc. William B. Bueglere, both of Company I, and Company C's Pfc. Harold V. Buschrick, Eugene E. Schwartz, Company C's two new Bronze Star recipients. Pfc. John S. May and James L. Eaton received promotions.

Headquarters and Service Company had six of the promotions with Pfc. Harold T. Hallowell and William P. Brassfield moving to private first class and Pfc. Granville P. Nance, Robert J. Welch, Carlos E. Grovite, Henry E. Galt, and George Burdett being promoted to corporal.

American Division Uses More Service Troops

(Editor's note: Following is the fifth in a series of six articles comprising a U. S. Army combat infantry division with the Infantry Center at Fort Benning, Ga.)

The basic difference between a democratic army and a Soviet-style army means that a U. S. service always will have more service troops than a Soviet division. American soldiers have a number of services provided them whether they are stationed at a post in the United States or overseas, or engaged in combat. Troops in the field, for example, have access to mobile showers, baths and laundries, and they are supplied with many sundries such as razors and blades, cigarettes, towels, toothbrushes and toothpaste.

Bathen Seldom The Russian idea of how often a soldier should bathe depends on how often he becomes covered with lice. Often water from a ditch or from a hole in the ice suffices for his bath. Seldom is a shower accessible to him. Neither are most of the other sundries, but the services which are considered essential to an American soldier are available to the Russian. All of these supplies and services require manpower to operate. Manpower would be saved by eliminating them, but to do so would result in a decrease in combat efficiency. The Americans generally have a high reverence for their dead. Since the time of the Civil War, the United States has maintained a policy of returning the remains of deceased military personnel in accordance with the wishes of the next of kin.

Register Graves Painstaking care is taken in locating the temporary graves of those who fall in battle. Teams of the American Graves Registration Service search battlefields for remains of American servicemen. The remains are carefully and scientifically identified. They are placed in metal caskets, and the caskets are placed in shipping crates for return to the United States or elsewhere as requested by the next of kin. Each deceased is accompanied to destination by a military escort for interment in a national cemetery if desired, or in a private cemetery. Military honors accompany the interment. This service, too, could be eliminated, but neither the U. S. soldier nor the U. S. public would permit it. The Soviet Army provides no proves a popular misconception that airborne units are loaded into planes and dropped for the sake of the jump alone. The visitors first observed the 508th troopers marching back from carbide instruction and saw them entuck wearing 508th SOP combat jump equipment and motor to the marshaling area at the far end of Lawson Field. Following lunch at Headquarters Battery of the 508th, Major Shalma invited the guests to sit in or a jumpmaster briefing with key officers and NCOs where he outlined the purpose of the 11 jump, named the drop area, checked on wind speed at the drop area and in the air, and described the tactical formation of the planes and the direction of flight to the Lee Field drop zone. Major Shalma also briefed his jumpmasters on their tactical road-march back to Sand Hill and procedure for moving of the drop zone and assembling in the nearby woods.

The Army's postal setup is as efficient as the nation's postal system. A division is authorized 27 persons—two officers and 25 enlisted men—to operate the main post office. A post office in a city the size of an Army division employs 40 full-time personnel—in addition to special delivery messengers and truck drivers. The Russian Army has no postal service worthy of the name. Moreover, these 27 postal clerks in a U. S. division are trained soldiers who can pitch into combat when the occasion demands it. The same is true of other service personnel of all categories except medical men and chaplains, who do not bear arms.

After a tour through Battery A's dayroom and orderly room, where they inspected the "TIG" facilities with the guidance of 1st Sgt. Chick Lind, Major Shalma and his officials were shown the facilities of the support arm of the 508th, the 13th Airborne Quartermaster Detachment, who services, repairs, and pack all parachutes used by the Red Devil RCT. They witnessed a demonstration on the method employed in "acking a parachute and inspected repair machines, storage shelves and large "heavy drop" parachutes. Lt. Laurens Landroth, RQM commander, conducted 11 guests through his area.

At the marshaling area, the guests inspected the airborne ar-

illerymen getting into their chutes and talked informally with the men as they waited for the C-46 planes to take them aloft.

The guests were surprised at the load carried by the troopers and there was some doubt expressed that one short trooper would ever get out of his plane. This trooper, who had to be lifted in carried a heavy bundle strapped between his legs. There was more to be seen of the parachute, rifle, and bundle than of the trooper, observed Major Shalma.

The four ended after a trip to Lee Field where the visitors were driven onto the field before the drop to inspect the safety precautions taken to insure a good drop. They observed the laying of white identification panels on the ground, listened to ground-to-plane radio communication, checked on final wind direction with the aid of ground personnel.

In addition to observing the cycle of a jump operation, Major Shalma, the city attorney and the communications officer inspected the infantry area and laored the Red Devil NCO mess. They commented favorably on the facilities of the club and its attractive interior. Officers who accompanied the Columbusites on the tour included Lt. Col. Willis Lowry, 508th executive officer, Major Angelo Nicotolo, operations officer, and Capt. Stanley Lindberg, 320th executive officer.

CHECKING RESULTS... M-Sgt. Huelot "Joe" Benner (right) of Fort Kobbe, C. Z., inspects the results of his fitting as checked by 1933 Army Pistol Team captain Major Ellis Lea of Fort Benning. Benner won his fourth straight Mid-Pistol Tournament championship with a sparkling 2614.

Pistol Team Dominates Mid-Winter Matches

The United States Army Pistol Team again dominated the 1933 Mid-Winter Pistol Tournament at Tampa, Fla., taking 122 prizes, one of them for first or second place, and won both team and individual in the 300-yard field.

M-Sgt. Huelot "Joe" Benner of Fort Kobbe, C. Z., won his fourth straight Mid-Winter championship with a sparkling 2614 while Army team captain Major Ellis Lea of Fort Benning placed fourth with 2554 and CWO Oscar K. Weimeler of Fort Knox, Ky., was seventh with a 2546.

The team squad, which came out on top over the 21 other teams in the competition was second in the 25 caliber National Match Course and first in the expert class in the center fire National Match Course. The Army pistol team was first in both events, except in the 45 caliber competition, the Fort Benning trained squad was first again. Their grand aggregate of 2074 beat out a Jacksonville Navy team by 61 points. They came out on top over the Marines, their traditional enemy on the firing line, 85 points.

12 Bouts On Tap For Next Thurs.

Twelve amateur bouts were scheduled by the Fort Benning Boxing Board last week for next Thursday's fights at Briant Wells Field House.

What looks like the top fight of the night matches Freeman Chute, Jr. of ASU against Leon Hall of CTC. Boxing fans will remember the close bout between these two boys when they battled it out down to the wire for the post's middleweight championship.

Hull won the Benning title by a photo-finish, and next week's bout figures to be an exact duplicate of their previous meeting.

Len James of First Sgt will take on Juan Jaramilla of the 58th in the top lightweight event. Both boys are well-known to boxing fans here, and a lot of fast action is anticipated.

Another class one battle which should be a crowd pleaser will see Jimmy Bivins of First Sgt test Roger Nicotro of CTC.

In the light middleweight division, Vince Marshall of the First Sgt will meet Nelson Ashley of CTC in a class three contest. A class two bout which many fans have been waiting for pits August Wolf of the 58th against Willie Wright of ASU.

Frank Love of CTC, who scored victory last Thursday night, will meet Monroe Curdish of First Sgt again in a light heavyweight class three bout. Roosevelt Hollinger of the 58th will battle Bill Williams of CTC in a class five heavyweight bout. Both boys will be making their first appearance at Briant Wells Field House.

Rounding out the card are two class five bouts and a class four contest. Pat Nonoff of the 58th will meet Conice Adams of ASU in a welterweight battle; Pat Tamburo of the 58th will battle Sam Smith of First Sgt in a lightweight bout; Watts Kelly of CTC will test William Coak of 58th in a middleweight go.

All-Star Wrestling Show Slated For Columbus Arena

An all-star wrestling show is scheduled for Columbus and Chattanooga wrestling fans to night at Promoter Fred Ward's Columbus Arena as two top wrestlers, Carl Corica and Rusty Booth, collide, tangle in the squared circle. Corica, 134 pounds of dynamite, has plenty on the ball. So has the 140-pounder from Bryan, Texas. The match will be for the best two-out-of-three falls with a 60-minute time limit. Henry Harrell, a 228-pound ruffian from Hiesburg, Miss., will wrestle in the feature bout against the popular Lucky Gilpin, 238-pounder from Chattanooga. "Tom" Tex Riley, 210-pounder from

Officers Bowling

The Infantry School Staff Department bowlers scored 847 pins to win the Officers Bowling League title. Members of the winning squad were C. Col. Doran, Lt. Maj. Brodbeck, and Maj. Christy. The team matches were scheduled for last night. The Officers' Bowling Tournament which is now underway and continues Saturday with the doubles. Lt. Volmer won the singles last week. The team matches were scheduled for last night. Amarillo, Tex., will open the card pinner from Chattanooga. Tom Good Car. from Matman from Argentina.

McCoy Stans For April 6 Arena Fight

Al "Kid" McCoy of Macon, the welterweight who earned a close decision over popular Ray Lee here nearly two months ago, was signed by Promoter Fred Ward this week to meet an unnamed opponent in the arena, April 6. Ward is not yet positive as to who the opponent will be, but said that McCoy will probably face a boy well-known in local circles. The blond bomber from Macon, who is now under the direction of Tony Canova in Tampa, holds wins over many men in the Columbus ring, including Lee, Jimmy Jewell, Kid Hatcher, Tito Martini, and others. Possible opponents for the Kid are Larry Mujica, Eddie Stout, and Steve Merritt. Merritt holds the best chance for the fight, mainly due to his TKO victory over Lee in Pensacola.

VOLLEYBALL
The Infantry School Detachment is now conducting an intracompany volleyball tournament in preparation for the Fort Benning competition.

Townsell Wins On 4-Bout Card

The advance publicity for last Thursday's amateur boxing bout advertised nine bouts, but when the fans and followers of Fort Benning's pugilistic doings filed into Briam Wolfe Field House, the program listed only four bouts on the card. Just what happened to the five other bouts is vague, but one reason was cancelled because of a broken professional, another because the coach was against it, and for other sundry reasons. The top bout was the Walter Townsell-Ashley go. Townsell was saved by the bell at the end of the second round. He got up and went on to score the decision over the CTC welterweight. The ASU fighter bleeding from the nose and his left eye rapidly closing, dropped Ashley twice during the first round melee which looked like a wrestling match, but in the last of the second round Ashley caught Townsell with a right to the head and sent him down for the count. Toll Stopped
Referee Bob Ford started the "death chant" but the bell stopped it and enabled Townsell to go on and gain the decision. First list Sam Smith helped the Blackshirt cause by winning two bouts when he knocked out Harry Robinson of CTC in 2:38 of the second round. In other bouts on the card, Frank Love of CTC scored a decision over Monroe Cornish of First SR; Roland Lewis of ASU, sectioned Conce Adams of CTC. The ASU Raiders now have a 10 point lead over the Blackshirts in the team boxing standings. Only two more amateur boxing shows scheduled before the end of the season. The Frank Hartley crew is likely to win the title in second place with 84 points in total. The 50th Airborne wing 78, CTC with 81, and ISD with five.

Second OC Wins Regimental Cage Laurels, 61-60

Overcoming an 11 point deficit at the half, the Second OC Company basketball team took a ten point lead in the last quarter and then held off a desperate rally by the 1st OC Company to win the championship of the First OC Regiment by a 61-60 score.

Playing sluggishly in the first half, the senior company combined control of the backboards and sharp shooting by Fred Karners and Gus Sanders after the half-time intermission. Strutting the lead to 10 points as the last quarter opened, Second OC began a freze which almost proved fatal.

The box score:

Team	1st	2nd	3rd	4th	Total
1st OC	10	12	18	12	52
2nd OC	12	10	15	24	61

The Fort Benning Fish and Game Maintenance Association has slated a Fish and Skish Tournament for its members on April 28-29 at Kings Pond. Besides the two day fishing meet, Hank Brunns, who has caught every known sport fish in America, will hold a fishing clinic. Brunns who has been writing for outdoors magazines for over 20 years and is Tackle Editor of the trade journal, the Sporting Goods Dealer, will show the F & G members how to catch more fish, how to hold and land them, and other important items that a fisherman is interested in. The F & G Assn. would like to have expert, professional, or amateur fishermen, to get the membership cards. The membership fee is $1.75.

Golden Gloves light heavy champion and is expected to be in on the North South Cup dual within the next few weeks. Van Loo, after drawing a bye into the finals of the Fort Benning Boxing Tournament, scored a victory over Clifford Wilburn of ASU for the post title and he went on to victory in the Third Army meet by defeating Julius Reed of Fort Bragg in their finals. Surprise Boxer
The First SR boxer was a surprise fighter in the finals when he suddenly switched to the final round of the Reed bout and dropped the Bragg fighter four times prior to the end of the bout. Kiley, who was not very impressive during his amateur boxing bouts at Fort Benning's Bragg Wells Field House, scored a split decision over Fort Jackson's Ray Hunter to win the Third Army featherweight title. The 198 lb. boxer defeated ASU's Willie Wright for the Benning Festival crown. According to the returning Fort Benning boxer who did not fare too well at Jackson, the runner-ups to the Third Army championship would make a better team than go to the Albany Boxing Show than the winners. In the heavyweight division alone Ernest Fann of First SR and Leon Hall of CTC should have won their bouts. Fann came out on the raw

You learn to fly by flying. The instructor demonstrates to you what to do. Fundamentals of flying are the glide; turn; climb; straight and level flight. To turn use side pressure on stick and rudder pedal at the same time in the same direction; then neutralize the stick, taking your foot off the rudder pedal at the same time. The airplane continues to turn. To return to level flight, use pressures in the opposite manner. To climb, increase the throttle and add a normal amount of back pressure on the stick. To lower the nose, gently add forward pressure. To glide, keep the nose below the level flight position with throttle closed. Fly straight and level by keeping stick and rudder neutral, wings and nose level with reference to the horizon. King's School of Aviation, Inc., Municipal Airport on Victory Drive, would like to have the opportunity to show you how easy it is to fly. The days are long and it's easy to take a lesson after dark. We are open 7 days weekly until dark. Call for Jack or Dean, telephone 2-4758. (Adv.)

Shutterbugs To Compete in OC Photo Contest

Amateur photographers will be focusing their attention and their cameras on subjects learned in the photography classes for the photography contest being sponsored by the First Officer Candidate Regiment.

Designed to develop interest in photography as a hobby, the contest will run through April 15. The Regimental Special Services Office is conducting the contest.

Subject for the shutter bugs is "reference points as used in direct fire commands." Only pictures snapped on the Fort Benning Reservation will be considered.

Three prizes, not yet announced, will be given to winners. Judges will be appointed at a later date.

No limit has been set on the number of entries a contestant may submit. However, no contestant can win more than one prize.

Official photographs will not be considered in the judging. However, developing, enlarging, and printing of pictures may be done commercially.

Boy Scouts Swim Meet Is Saturday

Four Units Near Quota In R.C. Drive

Forty-six years ago on a strip of land at the Presidio of Monterey, in California, the School of Musketry, forerunner of Ft. Benning Infantry School, came into being. Its champion was Arthur MacArthur, then a major general in command of the Pacific Coast, and since that 1st April, 1917, its vocative history in the service of the "Queen of Battles" has outdone a host of anything the doughty old soldier had in mind as he watched it take its first flogging steps.

Those were lean years for the school in California—only a few wooden buildings and a handful of men, but a definite start had been made. Gen. MacArthur had seen the need for an organization to train Infantrymen and the idea has been put through one event after another. Major General George Washington and the Prussian Baron Von Steuben, recognized it, and the good Baron did wonders in training Washington's ragged forces.

But Americans of the years that followed were not tractable to the idea of large standing Armies in times of peace, and so Infantry instruction lagged except for sporadic bursts in times of war, and even as recently as the 1920s there were times in the life of the school that saw her near collapse.

We're 46, Men, And Hale!

But the idea of the institution triumphed, and today Fort Benning Infantry School, headed by Major Gen. Guy S. MeLOY, Jr., is well-renewed and stands in memorial to the southeasted Infantrymen who founded her, fought to save her from demise, and served her through good times and bad.

MAJ. GEN. GUY S. MELOY, 1st School Commandant parted reorganized the school and tagged it The Infantry School of Arms.

Later a decision was made to decrease the congestion at Fort Sill, and U.S. agents went site hunting for a good location. Fayetteville, N.C., and Columbus, Ga., were considered for the honor. The Secretary of War approved the North Carolina site. It was a battle, far from being simulated, which met Army officials from 1916 to 21 as they sought to make some arrangement for the farmers and the owners who had to be encouraged to sell and there had to be a price settlement satisfactory to both the farmers and the government.

With the arrival of the Armistice and construction work was ordered stopped.

The permanence of the camp was not assured until an act of Congress in 1920, and it was not until 1922 that all the land cases had been settled and "Camp Benning" had legal possession.

During the first days of Benning on Mason road it was a site of pitfalls, shacks that leaked, and rain-water that ran down the gutters. It had dependents living in Columbus transportation from the post to the city was difficult, and even moved to the site of the site of the Plantation, where the Main Post is today.

Just when things were looking up and a permanent plan for the post was being formulated.

Montgomery Among VIPs Honoring Us

Fort Benning will demonstrate the might of the Infantry for more than 70 leading civilians arrive for the Army parade of the 5th Joint Civilian Conference.

Represented in the group will be businessmen, civic officials, and industrialists from all over the country. They arrive at the Infantry Center late April 1. The main phase of the conference opens the following day with a series of special demonstrations to be presented by the Infantry School.

They include 22 students from the Armed Forces will join the JCOOC members at a luncheon at the Norfolk, Va., 60 students from the Ordnance School, Aberdeen (Md.) Proving Grounds; 74 students from the Quartermaster School, Fort Lee; Judge Advocate School, University of Virginia, and 18 Army and Air Ground Operation School, Southern Military Institute, Columbia, S.C.

Col. Max Gooler, drive chairman, and his co-workers are hoping to push memberships to the 100 per cent participation goal before the 1953 campaign ends April 4.

Major units and organizations are: First Student Brigade, 34-11753 to 70 per cent; the Infantry School, 554-00 or 82 per cent; Army Field Forces Board No. 3. (See UNTKS, Page 28)

Brigade, ASU Get New Names

Two major units have been re-named effective April 1, as announced.

Gen. Guy S. MeLOY, Jr., has announced.

The Area Service Unit Provisional Group has been redesignated the Special Troop Command, and the First Student Brigade has been redesignated the 5e to 1st Brigade.

At the same time it was announced that the old First Student Brigade's Headquarters and Service Company will be known as the School Brigade's Headquarters Detachment.

Col. Courtland K. Krans will continue to command the Special Troop Command after the change-over, and Col. S. R. Tupper will remain as head of the newly-named School Brigade.

The School Brigade, which will include the Infantry School Detachment. (See BRIGADE, Page 29)

Rogers Circus Here April 6

The Rogers Brothers Circus, sponsored by the Slough-La Grate to of Columbus will present two performances in Columbus April 6.

The entire proceeds from this show will go to the cerebral palsies fund, according to Cecil Flowers, chairman.

The big three ring show will feature Jack Rogers and his trained wild animal act, a herd of elephants, a large band and many other outstanding acts.

The circus will also be at the Fairgrounds in Columbus, will present both a matinee and evening performance.

The matinee will be presented especially for undersprivileged children. The trotto is attempting to get people in the school and Fort Benning area to purchase tickets so that all underprivileged children in the Columbus area can attend the afternoon performance.

Admission is 25 for children and $3.95 for adults.

Tickets are now on sale at Flowers Brothers Clothing Store, 1022 Broadway; Lane's Dry Goods, 1511 Broadway; Bentley's Sport Shop, 124 Broadway; Pitt's Sport City; Booth's Dress Store; Johnston Pfg. Co.; and Reese Drug Co.

In 1913 the School of Musketry packed its old kit bags, rifles, revolvers, and machine guns and headed east from California to a new home at Fort Sill, Okla. More centrally located and living side by side with Fort Sill's Artillery School, the Infantrymen developed a system of field firing and experimented with tactical use and unit organization of the machine gun.

But Americans of the years that followed were not tractable to the idea of large standing Armies in times of peace, and so Infantry instruction lagged except for sporadic bursts in times of war, and even as recently as the 1920s there were times in the life of the school that saw her near collapse.

The conference, designed to accord with the NATO forces, will also be with the other elements of the conference. He arrives around noon April 2 and the conference will be in the state of training of the Armed Forces, began March 25 in Washington D.C. with a general orientation, followed by visits to the U.S. Marine Corps Base at Quantico, Va., United States Navy Base at Annapolis, Md., and the U.S. Army Base at Eglin Field, Fla. and The Infantry Center April 1.

The civilian group will confer April 2 with Maj. Gen. Guy S. MeLOY, Jr., Infantry Center commander, tour The Infantry School's Artillery Department where an airborne demonstration will be presented, observe a "counter-rocket" power demonstration at Hoke Range and his guests will attend an official reception at the Main Officers Mess.

An Infantry-tank team in attack demonstration is scheduled the morning of April 3, followed by an orientation on officer candidate training and lunch with rifle candidates.

During the afternoon, the visitors will witness an Infantry support weapons demonstration and also a special weapons display. A night power demonstration of a reinforced rifle company in defense is on in other buildings.

The conference ends early Saturday.

THEY KNOW STORY OF EASTER AND THE REASON CHRIST PLED. J. L. CARNEY, STANLEY G. RUSSELL, AND I. G. JOHNSON

3 OCs Help Easter Live in Men's Souls

By HENRY B. STEEN

The need for religion does not disappear when a man enters the Army, agree three soldiers who ought to know. They are Joseph L. Carney, Stanley G. Russell, and Leonard G. Johnson, who, as chaplain's assistants, spend considerable part of their off-duty hours helping others get back on the religious roads.

Carney is a Catholic from Emmetsburg, Iowa, Russell is an Episcopalian from West Medford, Mass., and Johnson is a Lutheran from Toledo, Ore. All are privates in the first class, assigned to Headquarters & Headquarters Company, First Class Regiment, at Headquarters No. 3, Harmony Church area, Benning routine, clerical work and helping the chaplain prepare the chapel for services, they are director on the bus that brings the bus' with off-duty religious projects for men of their faiths.

Leads Rosary Recitation

Carney, 22 years old, has been conducting weekly group devotional services, leading in the recitation of the Rosary during the 40 day period of Lent that ends Saturday at noon. He also gives instructions to soldiers who want to learn the fundamentals of Catholicism.

Russell, who is 21, has been conducting the Episcopalian Lay Readers' service each Sunday for men of his faith. He also coordinates activities with St. Michael's Mission on the Main Post and Trinity Episcopal Church in Columbus. Johnson, 21, teaches the Protestant Sunday School classes at Chapel Hill No. 5 for children of Fort Benning personnel, and acts as safety children to class and returns them home.

The three agree they couldn't have found more pleasant and useful duty in the Army. "The chaplain's assistant has a wonderful opportunity to help others and there's nothing more satisfying," says Pfc. Carney.

Other Faith

"There's something else about this work," points out Pfc. Russell. "We do work for chaplains of other faiths, and we really get to know and understand something about other religions."

The men have served under a chaplain of the Congregational Christian sect and are currently working with Chaplain (L. Col.) Warren B. Marshall of the Baptist faith. They are also in close association with Chaplain (Maj.)

Crump Hiked To Sergeant

Corp. Jerry K. Crump, Medal of Honor winner, now serving as a small arms sergeant, was promoted to sergeant.

Sgt. Crump has been in the Artillery since 1945, served in Korea with Company L, 3rd Infantry Regiment, 3rd Infantry Division. In Korea Crump was wounded twice and received the Medal of Honor for smothering an enemy gas mask by a hand grenade, an event which won him his buddies.

He joined the 8875th Ordnance Company at Camp Rucker, Ala., in April 1952 after being discharged from the Army in June 1952. Crump was promoted to sergeant in the morning and came to the Combat Post at Fort Benning. Crump was shifted from Rucker to Benning.

Necci Corrects Laundry Story

Capt. Vincent Necci, officer in charge of the Quartermaster Laundry here, has requested The Bayonet to correct certain statements made in a story that appeared in the Bayonet last week. The Bayonet is glad to set the record straight.

It was stated that "all profits made by the laundry go to a Quartermaster laundry fund to support those laundries in the Third Army area that are operating at a loss." The actual fact is, Capt. Necci said, that all profits in the Army operate fiscally on a "net profit and loss basis."

It was also stated in the story that "if you turn in laundry on Monday, Tuesday or Wednesday, it will be returned on Friday, but laundry turned in on Thursday and Friday will not be returned until the middle of the following week." Actually, Capt. Necci pointed out, the laundry is giving 3-working-day service, which means that laundry is finished and ready on the third working day after it actually reaches the plant.

We hope and will try to give 2-working-day service in the near future, Capt. Necci said. Illustrative of the growing popularity of the laundry among the post personnel who are entitled to take advantage of its services, Capt. Necci said is the fact that during March there was an increase in the number of "parol" deduction bundles handed compared with the number handed in February.

Major Ramirez Receives Boost To Lt. Colonel

Major Augustin A. Ramirez, executive officer, 2d Battalion, 30th Regimental Combat Team, has been promoted to the rank of lieutenant colonel.

Colonel Ramirez was the 5-4 for Combat Training Command until recently when he took over the post of executive officer for the 2d Battalion.

A native of Puerto Rico, he served in North Africa, France, and Germany with the 65th Infantry Regiment during World War II and later served in Korea with the 65th from August 1950 to October 1951 when he was rotated back to the States.

Before taking over the position as executive officer, Colonel Ramirez attended the graduate advanced officers course at the Infantry School, where he was an outstanding student and finished second in his class.

School of 'Fish-Out-of-Water' At Airborne Battalion Thrives
Airborne Battalion has a school of "fish-out-of-water" students presently taking training. The students, willing and perfectly capable of taking the specialized training, are nevertheless far removed from their past modes of living.

"Swabbing the decks" at 1200 feet in the air will be the order of the day when Lt. Gordon B. Tribble, U. S. Navy, enters his third week of Airborne training with Headquarters and Service Company of the Airborne Battalion. Lieutenant Tribble, wearing cap, tail's bars on his present uniform, the equivalent Army rank, will probably work with an Air Sea Recruit training unit in the Airborne Battalion.

Four students from Company D of the Airborne Battalion presently in the Ground Training phase in the training school at Fort Benning are participating in the moving of the Infantry School to the Chickamauga or Gordon coast, so they can partake in the spirit of the new school.

Pvt. David T. McGill, Edwin R. Treiberg, Ernest R. Wain, and Maurice C. Warwick undertook to explain to a puzzled PIO representative the intricacies of the new school.

"Skin-diving," explained McGill, "means just what it says. You swim down and look at a post on the bottom." He added, "you wear swimming trunks to comply with the law."

Equipment that the clubs use is simple and easy to use and a pair of goggles. With the spear the divers strike imple fish and pry balone off the ocean floor.

Three of the four skin-divers hail from Ventura, Cal. Pts. Wain, Treiberg, and Warwick went to the same high school and played football on the same team. Private McGill indulged in skin-diving exploits in Los Angeles.

Leaving skin-diving so deep and get the man who walks on the floor of the ocean and feels at home. He is Pvt. Paul E. Laffer, also of Company D of the Airborne Battalion and a qualified deep-sea diver. He picked up his certificate at the Sparling School for Deep Sea Diving in Wilmington, Cal.

80 Civic Leaders From Three States At 'Open House'
Some of the South's leading citizens saw Infantry training firsthand last Thursday when 80 civilians from Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina attended an open house here.

The Southern leaders, who were here at the invitation of Maj. Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., Infantry Center commander, toured the Main Post area and visited the Automotive Department and Weapons Pool following an orientation on the operating procedures of the Infantry Center. They had lunch with officer candidates, toured the "First Officer Candidate Regiment" area, and received an account of Ranger training.

Later in the afternoon the civilian visitors observed a demonstration of the rifle platoon in the attack at Sackett Hill.

The group, which included mayors, presidents of Chambers of Commerce, members of Military Advisory Committees, and newspapermen, returned to their homes Thursday evening.

Lt. Wilson Is Shifted
First Lt. Major R. Wilson has moved from the position of executive officer, Company G, Airborne Battalion to take command of Company D of the Battalion. Lieutenant Wilson returned from Korea in July 1951 where he served with the 4th Division and was awarded the Bronze Star and Purple Heart.

Montgomery Arrives Tomorrow; Will Spend Two Days on Post

Field Marshal Viscount Bernard Montgomery, who defeated Germany's famed Afrika Korps, will spend the remainder of April 3 visiting the Infantry School. He will receive an orientation on the school's operations, visit the Airborne Department and Army Field Forces Board No. 2.

Field Marshal Montgomery arrives at the Infantry Center around noon April 3 and will be on the post for two days a part of the time to be spent with members of the 19th Joint Civilian Orientation Conference.

He will be welcomed by an honor guard of Infantrymen from the 58th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, after which he will be guest of honor at an official luncheon at the Main Officers Mess. Maj. Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., Infantry Center commander, will be most.

Routed Afrika Korps
The British military leader, who first fame by routing Germany's famed Afrika Korps, will spend the remainder of April 3 visiting the Infantry School. He will receive an orientation on the school's operations, visit the Airborne Department and Army Field Forces Board No. 2.

Field Marshal Montgomery will be at Fort Benning for the Army about the 1953 ACCO, designed to show U. S. and Allied troops the modernization program the U. S. is training for national defense. He will address the ACCO members after the evening meal which follows two special Infantry school programs, a support weapons demonstration and a reinforced rifle company in defense.

Address Officer Classes
The British here is scheduled to speak to students in the Infantry School's advanced officers class at 10 a.m. April 4 at Fort Benning's Main Officers Mess.

Field Marshal Montgomery, now deputy to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, led the British Eighth Army which defeated Rommel at El Alamein in Europe during World War II. For that and his later success in Europe, King George VI elevated him to the rank of viscount. At the end of the war he was named chief of the Imperial Staff, British counterpart of U. S. Army chief of staff.

Monty, who will spend two days at Fort Benning, arrived in New York City on March 28. He met with Gen. J. Lawton Collins, U. S. Army chief of staff in Washington, D. C., the following day.

Other Stops
Other stops on his U. S. itinerary include First Army headquarters in New York; U. S. Marine Corps Base, Quantico, Va.; Army War College, Carlisle, Pa.; U. S. Naval Academy, Annapolis, Md.; U. S. Military Academy, West Point, N. Y.; New Orleans, La.; Air University, Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala.; Fort Knox, Ky.; Command and General Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kans.; Naval War College, Newport, R. ### Van Fleet Has 'No Comment' On Ammunition

General James A. Van Fleet, former Eighth Army commander in Korea, at his press conference here last week had a "no comment" answer to questions concerning the controversy in Korea and said he did not believe that the current Chinese news press presented a general Spring offensive.

As to the latter he said, "It is purely a guess, but I don't believe this is a Spring offensive. A major attack could end only in humiliation for the Chinese. However, there is always an advantage in an offensive, if it is nothing but to gain initiative."

The four-star general, himself a graduate of the Infantry School's advanced officers' course in 1929, was accompanied to the press conference by Benning by Mrs. Van Fleet and a group of aides. The party left the post Saturday morning. The general plans to visit New York and then return via Alaska before going home to Florida.

Asked what he thought of the Army regulation that makes it mandatory for soldiers to retire at 60 although physically fit, Gen. Van Fleet said he thought it was a good plan because it lets young blood in.

The 65-year-old general, who retired March 31, addressed a gathering of students, staff, and faculty of the Infantry Center, and representatives of Fort Benning's major units. Only such as were cleared for security heard his speech, and none of its details were made public.

Seeds For Democracy

The object of most charity drives experienced at Fort Benning as well as other places is the solicitation of funds. But this week the Bayonet has discovered a drive whose approach and objective are quite novel to say the least. It is called "Seeds for Democracy." The purpose of the drive is not to gather funds but seeds—about one million seeds. All contributions are collected at San Francisco for shipment to the Philippine Islands, where they are distributed to Filipino farmers, school children and families for planting in home vegetable gardens.

Seeds for Democracy can't be placed in the standard giveaway class which characterizes much of the American help to foreigners across the sea. In the first place, the program incorporates the idea of self-help. In this program the United States isn't a rich uncle helping the wondrous of the world at the feet of the poor Filipino, but rather a friendly neighbor giving a helping hand so that the Filipino can help himself. Through Seeds for Democracy we're not just giving; we're giving with it up to him.

Seeds for Democracy originated with Albert Ravenholt, Manila correspondent for the Chicago Daily News, and was tried as an experiment in 1950. In 1951 and 1952 the drive was sponsored by the Committee for Free Asia, a private non-profit organization which was established to develop cooperative programs with Asians in Asia. Programs designed to strengthen individual and national liberty. During 1952 nearly 900,000 packets of seeds were contributed by individuals and groups from all 48 states. This year the American Women's Voluntary Services had joined with the Committee for Free Asia in sponsoring the 1952 drive.

The program does fill a definite need. Because of the peculiar growing conditions of the Philippine Islands, most vegetable seeds do not reproduce well and therefore must be imported—a costly procedure for the average Filipino farmer.

The 1953 drive will be conducted from March 30 to May 2, 1953. The seeds wanted include: bush, pod and soy bean, cabbage, Chinese cabbage, tomato, mustard, egg plant, pea, onion, and watermelon. Seeds and seed packets may be contributed by individual and groups and may be mailed in any container which meets U. S. postal regulations for domestic mail.

Seeds for Democracy is a program which is a friendly neighbor giving a helping hand so that the Filipino can help himself. Through Seeds for Democracy we're not just giving; we're giving with it up to him.

A garden seed, at first glance, seems like an insignificant thing but when one remembers that within it is contained the miracle of life and growth, it takes on added meaning. And to the Filipino farmer who springs from the earth, the meaning is as significant as life itself.

A garden seed, at first glance, seems like an insignificant thing but when one remembers that within it is contained the miracle of life and growth, it takes on added meaning. And to the Filipino farmer who springs from the earth, the meaning is as significant as life itself.

IKE SIGNS ARMED FORCES DAY PROCLAMATION... At a White House ceremony, the President of the United States, Dwight D. Eisenhower, signs his name to the proclamation designating May 16 as Armed Forces Day. Shown in foreground at the proclamation ceremony are: Gen. Douglas MacArthur, U. S. Air Force; Gen. Omar Bradley, U. S. Army; Gen. Curtis LeMay, U. S. Air Force; Gen. William H. Tunner, U. S. Army; Gen. Robert K. Slemmon, U. S. Army; Gen. James H. Doolittle, U. S. Air Force; Gen. Joseph M. Stilwell, U. S. Army; Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U. S. Army; Gen. William H. Tunner, U. S. Army; Gen. Robert K. Slemmon, U. S. Army; Gen. James H. Doolittle, U. S. Air Force; Gen. Joseph M. Stilwell, U. S. Army; Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway, U. S. Army.

Despotism Flayed In Ike's Proclamation

President Dwight D. Eisenhower has issued the following proclamation in connection with Armed Forces Day, May 16:

"Whereas the men and women of the armed forces of the United States are constantly demonstrating their loyalty and devotion to the service of their country; and

Whereas these armed forces are now engaged in combat against ruthless aggression and despotism, which threaten to destroy the freedom that this Nation cherishes; and

Whereas it is fitting and proper that we devote one day each year to paying special tribute to those whose constancy and courage constitute one of the bulwarks guarding the freedom of this Nation and the peace of the free world;

Now, therefore, I, Dwight D. Eisenhower, President of the United States of America, do hereby proclaim Saturday, May 16, 1952, as Armed Forces Day, and I direct the Secretary of Defense and the Secretaries of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, as well as the Secretary of the Treasury, on behalf of the Coast Guard, to mark the designated day with appropriate ceremonies, and to cooperate with other public authorities in suitable observances.

Done at the city of Washington this seventeenth day of March, in the year of our Lord nineteen hundred and fifty-two, and of the Independence of the United States of America the one hundred and seventy-seventh.

'Cactus Hill' Gets Face-Lifting

One of the Infantry Center's oldest and toughest paratroop drop zones has been given a face-lifting.

The drop zone, known officially as "Lawson DZ" and nicknamed "Cactus Hill," is located at the south end of the Lawson Air Force Base runways and was one of the first used at Fort Benning. It was conveniently located so that the planes could take off, clear the entire task in 13 working hours.

During the last few years the drop zone has been used only occasionally for training jumps for visiting dignitaries and JCO's demonstrations.

Because the area was overgrown with cactus, mesquite bushes and small trees, some paratroopers sustained injuries and others lost equipment.

But last week The Infantry School and the 50th Airborne Regimental Combat Team joined in a cooperative movement to clear the area.

A platoon of men from the 508th Airborne Engineer Company under the command of 1st Lt. Karl F. Slink were given the job of clearing and grubbing the area.

The Slink was given seven weeks to clear over 1,000 square yards of the rolling landing area. They cleared the entire task in 13 working hours.

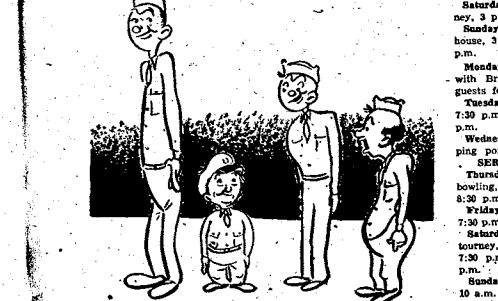

The Slink used two D-6 bulldozers and an H-30 grader to root out the heavy vegetation.

Because the area was overgrown with cactus, mesquite bushes and small trees, some paratroopers sustained injuries and others lost equipment.

Film Review

PONY EXPRESS... Charlton Heston, Barbara Fleming, Forrest Tucker, Jan Sterling, Tom Noon, etc. Indian - who buddies know as Buffalo Bill Cody and Wild Bill Hickok help to successfully complete the first trip across the newly spanned pony express. Family. Historical western.

WAR OF THE WORLDS... Dr. Barton Barry, Ann Robinson. The achievements of Peramout's special effects department result in a tremendous triumph of illusion over plausibility. Theatrical presents with comedy.

BY THE LIGHT OF THE SILVER MOON... Doris Day, Gordon MacRae. In a small Indiana town in 1919, Billy Gray, whose sister Doris Day is about to marry Gordon MacRae, precipitates wholesale family misunderstanding in his erroneous assumption that his father-in-law is carrying on a love affair with an actress. Family. Musical comedy.

The Unknown Quantity

IF YOU, THE UNKNOWN QUANTITY, ARE A MEMBER OF THE 508TH AIRBORNE ENGINEER COMPANY, YOU ARE A MEMBER OF THE 508TH AIRBORNE ENGINEER COMPANY.

FIRST SCHOOL BUILDING . . . The first Fort Benning Infantry School building of 1918 is a striking comparison to the modern palatial structure which today houses the administrative branches. The vine-covered first building is an indication of the type of construction which confronted the personnel who were stationed here during the early days.

CHUTE HANDLING . . . Students in The Infantry School's Airborne Department learn the technique of parachute handling after hitting the ground as a chute is inflated by the wind machine.

WORLD WAR I MORTAR CREW . . . During the final phases of World War I and soon after such scenes as this practice session with a 81 mm mortar (since modified) were familiar to Fort Benning visitors.

Women's Bowling
The Fort Benning Women's Bowling League elected new officers for the 1935-36 season. Herdette Seitz is president, with Juanita Goff, vice president. Alice Hackett, secretary; Lois Newell, treasurer; Ann Hazelrigg, publicity; Dale Hofstetter, Sgt.-at-Arms; Isabelle Hess. The Standings:

We Were 46 Yesterday

was drawn up, the Washington Headquarters of the Construction Division mixed Benning's plans with those of Fort Eban, Allen in Vermont. The cold weather housing came to sunny Georgia. A moderate weather housing went to Vermont. Benning officials made no fuss about the change, but it wasn't learned how Fort Eban Allen fared the following winter. The real construction boom came during the early 1930's with the CCC camps and the PWA. The present Infantry School building was completed in 1935 with part of the $5,332,000 that PWA allotted. In October, 1930, The Infantry School was separated from the post and made an exempted activity under direct supervision of the chief of the infantry.

Many Generals Here
As 1941 approached the student body at the Infantry School greatly increased. More infantry divisions were reactivated, anti-tank battalions and paratroopers arrived for training, and the first Infantry of Peace candidate course was initiated. Within three years 50,000 second lieutenants were commissioned upon graduation from the Infantry School.

Among the Army generals who have been connected with the Infantry School were Omar N. Bradley, who was commandant in 1941-42, and George C. Marshall and Mark W. Clark, who were assistant commandants. Graduates include Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway in 1937, of the School of Military Art and Science, and Gen. John H. Walker, and William F. Dean. Today the Fort Benning reservation consists of 182,000 acres, about 5,500 buildings and 350 miles of improved roads. In the Infantry School there are 15 classes now in session or to report during the remainder of fiscal year 1932 and during fiscal year 1933. These classes are authorized for officers and enlisted men, including the officer candidate course which is authorized now, and the airborne course which is authorized for 8,000 enrollment. There also are 27 Allied countries represented in the student body.

Component Parts of School
The Academic Department of The Infantry School today is composed of the First Infantry Officer Candidate Regiment, commanded by Col. H. M. Grizzard, Fort Worth, Texas; Training Publications Department, Col. W. F. Childs, Madison, Ga.; Director, Army Extension Course Department, Col. G. H. Childs, Belden, Neb.; Director, Airborne Department, Col. H. J. Seitz, Leavenworth, Kans.; and the Automotive Department, Col. E. G. Father-and-Son Team 'Chute Into Army Record
BY LT. JAMES A. MAILLER
Two camouflaged parachutes popped open in the field at midnight last Monday morning to record a new "first" in the short but dramatic history of American airborne soldiering. Suspended by nylon risers were the "Jumping Turners," the first father-and-son team ever to make a first parachute jump at the Airborne School.

One Turner pulled down hard on two of his four risers and slipped with the wind toward a spectator stand where an attractive mother and two teen-age boys sat spellbound at the sight. This was Sgt. Joseph E. Turner, assigned to Headquarters Battery, 320th Airborne Field Artillery Battalion of the 50th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

The other Turner clung tightly to his risers. His eyes fixed straight ahead as he crested the sand, he waited, knees flexed, to experience the climax of three weeks of airborne training—his first jump. This was Pvt. Philip Raymond Turner, 17-year-old son of the attractive woman in the bleachers.

Both Turners landed correctly. Four jumps more as good as this and Philip knew he could soldier with his dad as a Red Devil in the 808th AICT where his assignment was already cheerfully approved and waited.

Just a few days before, Sgt. Turner, a native of Columbus, S.C., now a resident of Columbus, called the Red Devil public information office and announced that his son was training at the Airborne school. Could he get help through channels to make the first jump with his father?

Through channels? Secure permission? Two commanders were informed of the situation. Colonel George O. Pearson, commander of the 808th Red Devils, and Lt. Colonel Richard Seitz, commander of the Airborne school, both fathers, recalled their first jump and cleared all obstacles. The Airborne school waived a rigid rule prohibiting experienced troopers from parachuting with novices. Sgt. Turner had logged 179 jumps, beginning in 1941, including two combat jumps in Africa and Europe.

Monday morning, father and son harnessed each other into their T-7 back and reserve parachutes in the "sawest shed" at Lawson Field. They were checked and double checked by enlisted safety inspectors shuffled outdoors to the grassy Collins Field, at the main gate. Sgt. Turner's head was held up to the propeller blades as they revolved and a crowd of mother comforted safety belts side by side through tears while a dad pined on the canvas seats at the far end of the paratrooper wings in his son.

Current Construction Work Surpasses $16 Million Mark
Construction projects totaling $16,000,000 are under way on post.
Contracts awarded by The Infantry Center and district engineer amount to $16,200,000. $11,027 is being spent for the construction of the Unkovich Creek Bridge and approaches near Outpost No. 1.
The bridge, 88.5 per cent completed will be ready for use by March 24. It is expected to ease the traffic situation during peak hours.
Up in the nose of the C-46 the pilot decided he was directly over the drop zone and flashed a green light located by the jump door. On second two seconds, and son followed in his dad's footsteps, keeping to a new airborne "first". And young Philip logged the 180th jump for the Turner family.
The night might have ended here except that the two colonels had cleared the way for another important event. Friday afternoon during formal graduation ceremonies on Collins Field, at the main gate, two colonels stood smartly at attention on a platform and comforted safety belts side by side through tears while a dad pined on the canvas seats at the far end of the paratrooper wings in his son.

We Top 3rd Army In Reenlistments During February
Fort Benning topped the Third Army reenlistment list for February, The Infantry Center Recruiting Section reported.
Eighty-two men reenlisted for active duty last month. This was 14.7 per cent of the total number of men eligible to reenlist.
Other Third Army reenlistments and the percentage figures include: Fort McPherson, Ga., 11, 3.22 per cent; Fort Jackson, S.C., 431, 9.90 per cent; Fort McClellan, Ala., 1, 0.40 per cent; Camp Gordon, Ga., 33, 5.74 per cent; Camp Rucker, Ala., 2, 4.00 per cent; Fort Bragg, N.C., 71, 1.25 per cent; Camp Stewart, Ga., 3, 2.24 per cent.

Herndon Assigned To Canal Zone
Chaplain (Maj.) Robert B. Herndon of Social Circle, Ga., leaves May 1 for duty at Fort Amador, Canal Zone.

Chaplain Herndon has been active in civic affairs at Fort Benning and in Columbus since coming to The Infantry Center in January, 1932. He has served on the Dads' Club board of directors and as a member of the board of directors of both the Travelers Aid and the Armed Services YMCA in Columbus.
Rehabilitation of floors and walls in five permanent barracks and replacement of water pipes in a permanent barracks, $236,035.80; alterations and additions to the Signal Corps Maintenance Shop, $23,753; restoration of fire damage to a Quartermaster warehouse, $14,384.46; and an interior paint job for a Fort Benning building, $1,547. Last of these projects is scheduled to be completed in April, 1934, and four are expected to be finished next month.

Meloy Praises Spirit of School
Major General Guy S. Meloy, Jr., Infantry School commandant, yesterday issued the following statement in connection with the 45th anniversary of the school:
"The 45th anniversary of the Infantry School was observed on April 1933. The intervening years have seen thousands of Infantry men graduate from the school into positions of battle leadership. The Infantry School has contributed to our country and the achievements of the Army."

Officers Inspect School Facilities
Thirteen Army Field Forces officers, headed by Maj. Gen. John M. Lentz, were here last week on an annual inspection of the Infantry School. The inspection team included: Gen. Lentz, chief of the combat arms advisory; and Col. R. C. Alee, chief of the Infantry Center. Other members of the team were: Lt. Col. D. M. MacWilliam, Lt. Col. G. H. H. H., Lt. Col. W. B. Waits, and Majors D. Bowen, H. R. Coates and H. V. Driskard.

Safety Awards Presented to 29

Safety awards were presented yesterday to Lewis F. Richards, Friday to 29 civilian employees of Columbus, the Main Post Motor Pool.

In order to be eligible for the awards drivers are required to drive 50 per cent of each month, attend a minimum of six safety meetings, not be involved in any preventable accident and have no traffic violations on their records. A certificate for eight years of safe driving was given to William Butts of Columbus, and a seven-

By OC ZANE ROBBINS When it comes to thrills—not to mention spills—Officer Candidate Zane Sorenson of 21st Company, will take stock car racing over any time.

"You get more thrills in one lap around the track than most people get in a lifetime," comments the former race driver, whose record with the Army is that the AIR program does not offer anything to the soldier who has completed but looks forward to returning to the track.

After entering the service in 1931 Sorenson was an engineering draftsman by trade and his other brother were the first to leave their home in Amsterdam, New York harbor on April 19, 1940. They all but one member of the family, five settled happily in Salt Lake City, Utah.

With an interest in mechanics and a friend who was a stock car driver, he couldn't resist the temptation. He was soon favored of eleven lived five savage and hungry years in the desert's rule. Many were the days, he recalls, when he would walk 60 miles to the nearest farm for few notables or carrots to sustain life his family. Then that glorious day when the 508th paratroopers jumped into Holland!

If you ask Pfc. Hille what amazed him most when he set foot on American soil, he'll reply, and in good English, too, that the number of automobiles were greater than he had expected ever to see. "To the driver his own car, just like the many in America who take much for granted when they drive theirs in complete freedom."

Hille was inducted into the service at Fort Lewis, Wash., in June 1941. He volunteered for Airborne after his basic training at Camp Roberts, Calif., and joined the 508th at once.

"I remember," he said, "the thousands of Hille while boxes marking the graves of those Americans who had died from the skies to free my homeland. People forget about wars, but I can't forget those crosses, but I guess I always know that I'd win an Airborne outfit if I had the opportunity."

Hille says that one day out of each year the Dutch people living near the graveyards pay tribute to the fallen paratroopers by journeying to the cemetery to lay flowers on their graves. "Some families," Hille said, "have special graves they care for year after year."

Hille learned the carpenter's trade early in life. The 508th is using his talents to full advantage, and new bulletin boards, mess equipment and garbage racks in the battalion attest his ability.

YMCA Will Hold Boys' Summer Camp At Lake Juniper

The Columbus YMCA has announced that it will operate two summer camp sessions for boys at the Camp Juniper this year.

The camp, which is located at Juniper, Ga., 28 miles from Columbus, is open to all boys 9 to 18 years of age.

Camp services in the morning and council fires in the evening are designed to bring "the camper closer to God through an appreciation of His handiwork in the great outdoors, handicrafts, athletic sports, singing, movies, nature, and worship service."

By a hair, and it gave me the biggest thrill since I've been driving. The midwest Texan in Officer Candidate Giles R. Thomas Jr. of Fort Worth, who packs a solid 150 pounds into his 5-foot-4-inch frame.

Texan With Varied Experiences Wants to Jump From Airplanes

When he arrived he found the family friends were gone. A note explained that the revolution in the Far East had caused the family to leave the country. He was advised to go to the United States.

He took the advice and made his way to Panama City, calling on the family friends who he had not seen for some time.

His yearns being back in 1941 when, as a gift on graduating from St. John's Military Academy, his cousin while a revolution had sent him to Costa Rica.

Canadian Veteran Assigned to 30th As First Sergeant

A former Canadian, who has served with the Canadian Army, Navy and Marines and who is decorated with the 1939-45 Star, Atlantic Star and Clasp for Russia, the Pacific Star and Clasp for Burma, the British Defense Medal, the Victory Medal, and the Canadian Volunteer Medal with Leaf, is now training with the 30th Regiment Combat Team.

He is M-Sgt. Elwin E. Bailey, the first sergeant of Company B, the first regiment of the 30th. Bailey, who enlisted when he was 16, received basic training in Aberystwyth, England. Although having enlisted in the Army, he also served with the Canadian Navy and with the Marine Commandos during the war. In the final days of the European action his unit was moved to Oldenburg, Germany, to help with the final clearing of the city. During the closing days of this action, Bailey was wounded and sent back to England.

In August, 1945, the sergeant entered the Navy, serving until December, 1946. Following his discharge, the sergeant reentered the service, this time enlisting in the Canadian Army. Then a lieutenant, he served with the Highland Light Infantry and later was promoted to sergeant. Later he was named assistant major of the 32nd Field Artillery, Self-Propelled Artillery.

Bolling Gives Blood Donors 4 Hours Off

Third Army personnel who donate blood will be relieved from duty for four hours immediately following such a donation, Lt. Gen. A. R. Bolling, commanding general, Third Army, has ordered.

The Army, in continuing with the American Red Cross, is conducting a continuous and vigorous campaign to collect whole blood for the Armed Forces' Gen. Bolling said in a circular letter to all Third Army installations.

Military personnel donating blood through the medium of the Army operated blood donation centers or the Red Cross blood drive, in addition to being relieved of duties for four hours, will not be required to engage in any strenuous activities for the next 12 hours.

Gen. Bolling pointed out that this policy will be applicable to all units, including training divisions and general Reserve units with replacement training mission.

COMPANY M GETS FIVE Five men have been promoted to Company M of the 20th Regimental Combat Team for distinguished service. They are Cpl. Greene Speed, Pfc. Talmadge Robinson and James E. Rogers, and Pvt. Charlie Greco and Samuel Henderson.

CREATIVE MIND . . . First Company of the First Student Regiment, rated a superior for an unusual L. & E. board in the Brigade Inspection. The creative mind of many unique ideas belongs to M-Sgt. E. M. Buck. This time he came up with this Soldier plus car, plus whiskey, equals wreck—the whole being portrayed in miniature. (See lower left box in picture).

Blood Center Gets 165 Pints

Blood donations last week total—Shelton Medical Group, two, and 165 pints at the Blood Donor Center.

Seventeen pints were retained for use at the U. S. Army Hospital, and 148 pints were shipped to the U. S. processing plant at West Point, Pa.

The Infantry School Detachment led the major unit donations with 40 pints, and the Combat Training Command was second with 34 pints.

Other unit donations included First Student Brigade, 24; Area Service Unit Provisional Group, 29; 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, 22; Army Field Forces Board No. 3, five; Provost Marshal Section, one.

RECEIVE CONDUCT MEDALS Sgt. Sidney Lebowitz, chief of records section, First Officer Candidate Regiment, has been awarded a Good Conduct Medal and Cpl. Robert A. Karch of the regiment's Headquarters and Headquarters Company has received the Good Conduct Medal.

NAMED TO FM SECTION

First Lt. Arthur D. Stroup has been appointed administrative officer in the Provost Marshal Section. Lieutenant Stroup previously was stationed at Camp Gordon, Ga.

Three Licenses Revoked by PM, Two Suspended

Three Fort Benning soldiers had their driver's licenses revoked and two others had theirs suspended for the period of March 23 to March 30 according to the Provost Marshal's office.

Two men had their licenses revoked for reckless driving. They are 2nd Lt. James K. Lowman of Headquarters and Service Company, Airborne Battalion and Pfc. Robert I. Anderson of Company D, 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

Officer Candidate Robert E. Silvoval of 14th OC Company, First OC Regiment, had his license revoked for driving while intoxicated.

A suspension of 60 days was given to Sgt. Boy R. Corlew of the Infantry Center Dental Detachment for reckless driving.

Kelly Of Kelly Hill Fame Now Convalescing Here

BY MERV MELTZER
Among the multitude of hills and ridges that mark the Korean battlefield is one called Kelly Hill. Like Heartbreak Ridge, White Horse, Bunker Hill, and the others, Kelly was the scene of one of the seemingly endless bloody battles of the war.

Captain Woodson W. Kelly of New Orleans, for whom the hill was named, is currently stationed at Fort Benning. In August 1951 the Third Division was engaged in the enemy in North Korea. Just northwest of the town of Cheonan, rising but feet above sea level, stood a hill.

Captain Kelly's company was given its mission. The unit would move out, take the hill, and establish a control base on it. Flotillas opened by Reds. Everything was running according to plan until the outfit got about half-way up the ridge. Suddenly the sky darkened and rain, the fiercest that part of the world, poured down. Within a few hours some eight inches of water had fallen. The Reds added to the trouble of the company by opening the floodgates of the United States behind them. The two forces of water were cutting off all the bridges in the rear of the American lines.

Urged on by Captain Kelly the unit continued its advance to the top of the peak. The Captain crawled ahead and, reaching the summit, came face to face with a Chinese soldier crawling up on the opposite side. The Red threw a grenade and Kelly tossed it back. That was the start of the battle.

For a while the Reds limited their attack to sporadic rifle and automatic weapon fire interspersed with a steady barrage of grenades. The American troops, caught in the open, started to dig in, but before they were firmly entrenched the Communies zeroed in their position with 120-mm mortar fire. Kicking back, the company was told that the enemy had overthrown the building of any type bridge across the river.

Explosives. Drop Supplies. The deadly fire of the enemy poured down on the men, but despite the ever rising casualty list, the little band of men fought five days and nights the battle went on. Despite the perilous surroundings, the morale was high—thanks to the constant flow of food and ammunition thrown in by helicopter. More than once during the engagement the company ran out of grenades and other supplies, but, like the movie hero, the warbirds were always there to come to the rescue in time. Three during the five days mail was flown in to the hard pressed group, lending invaluable aid to morale.

The Reds made several probing strikes into the unit's lines but each time the ever drinking band of men would attend school from Battery A 41st F. A. Bn. They are Capt. Deroy A. Henderson, who will attend unit supply school at Fort Jackson, and Sgt. Carlisle T. Bryson who has attended Desert Rock operation.

Relief Reached Unit. On the fifth day of the battle engineers succeeded in throwing a footbridge across the river and relieving the company. The men who had started out on the mission less than a week before, only a small group pulled out in the morning. On the blood-stained hill, having made the first ascent, was a lead soldier in the company. He was sent through the usual cycle from Battalion Aid station will be reached. While the battle continued, hospital here he learned that the hill his company had fought so dearly for was now in official communication.

LT. JOHN E. REED HOLDS YARD-LONG LETTER IT WAS SIGNED BY 125 WHOM HE AIDED

125 Ink Letter Of Thanks To Lt. John Reed

Administrative burden, he had only two care enlisted men to help him, and one was a mail order. The officers themselves had some troubles, too. Most of them were going overseas but had only three or four days to get to their ports of embarkation. Lt. Reed bled the situation by getting them extensions of eight days each. When asked if he had any idea of planning, developing and accomplishing such a mission involving a letter of appreciation from the students taking the field officers refresher course No. 3, which graduated this month.

One hundred men officers, including 18 colonels, signed the letter, expressing their gratitude to Lt. Reed for "his outstanding interest and supervision of the class. . . . They all agreed they intend to return the courtesy and consideration given so freely to them. The reason for this appreciation is due to the fact that Lt. Reed has attended Liaison Pilot School at one time. In addition to this

Army Basketball Tournament

Arrows Defeat Rucker, 85-65

Too Much Play Tires Rucker Rebels

by Lester Dinoff

That hardwood court with the keyholes on either end was rolled up and put away for another year last Saturday night at the conclusion of the Third Army Basketball Tournament.

Fort Benning has had its fill of basketball for the year with the round robin tournament, the post tourney and the 3d-Army meet last week. The field house will no longer echo to the cheers, boos, and catcalls of the crowd.

During the past three months of basketball at Fort Benning, there are some incidents about our games that stick in my mind. Remember when Larry Ivan of the 528th got hot against the Second SR Rocketts and dumped in 44 points. Then, two weeks later, George Swyers, the league's leading scorer, broke Ivan's record and set a new high for Briant Wells when he scored 47 points against the First OG Generals.

Or how about the first night of action in Briant Wells when the House of David took on the 528th Airborne. The press boat out the Red Devils by only two points. Or that other exhibition game when the First SR played host to the Arkansas Travelers, the top girl basketball team in the country.

Remember when Chris Dubia worked an "iron man" stunt by officiating in two ball games. That night there was a big squabble after Dubia gave a loud-mouth fan the heave-ho from the field house. There was plenty talk about his action, but the Kentuckian was within his right. Tom Sparkman, another whistle tooter, called technical fouls on the First OG team when an operator, who was sitting at their bench, started objecting and calling the referee incompetent.

Or remember when Merv Meltzer of First Student Brigade PIO dubbed the Swyers-John Dull combination the "Gold Dust" twins. Eventually they became the Swyer combo for Dull seemed to lose his scoring eye. Dick Thompson of 1TC started to get hot and show the fans his hook shot artistry. Then Thompson went out and got himself on the All-Bibb Turney Team and played seven straight nights of basketball alternating between the Bibb Meet and the Benning tournament.

How about the night when, the officials name escapes me, started calling technicals against the ISD Profs coach, Garland Plunkett. Fin was later ejected from the game. What about the raves that Coach J. B. Freeman was getting with his FMG Medics squad. Or the means that Bobby Devas was getting whenever his ASU Raiders took the floor for a contest. They tried to make it a ball game anyway.

A number of people did not like the way Ray Steiner of Second SR took over the running of the club during a game. They all objected, but what could a guy do when he and Bob Clifton are the team members that did only scoring. Many fans were disappointed in Bonnie Richardson of First SR who did not use his height very often in a game. Richardson, a 6'9" center, is the only person who could jump without taking his sneakers off the floor.

The Sixth and the Blackshirts were the only two teams in the club basketball to ever hit the century mark. First SR defeated the ASU Raiders, 101-60 on the first night of league basketball and the Red Devils also topped the Raiders, 100-58.

The First SR thought that they had an easy time in winning the league title, but without Swyers, they were an ordinary club. CTC dumped them in the tournament finals and twice in the playoffs to see who will be the Benning champion. Swyers chipped some bones in his ankle during an off-post tourney that the Blackshirts took part in.

Basketball for the last few months here was an exciting sport that was followed by many people. Many of them are sorry to see it go, but they know that it is a seasonal sport and that the hoop deluge will come back once again. The fans now are shifting their attention to another sport, base ball, which will be filling the sports pages of all newspapers with reams of copy within the next few days.

PFC Robert A. Collins of Company A, Infantry School Detachment, was presented a letter of commendation by Col. Donald of Washington, Detachment Commander, for outstanding sportsmanship and achievement as a member of the ISD boxing team. Collins won eight of his 10 bouts in the light welterweight class.

The South Georgia chapter of the National Association of Approved Basketball Officials has elected new officers for the coming year. J. E. Stacy is the new president, Jack Jeter, vice-president, Paul Morley, secretary-treasurer, Chris Dubia, interpreter. Any persons interested in joining the whistle tooters group, contact Major Stacy at 3-4252 or Capt. Jeter at 3-4264.

Sfc. Charlie Parker of the ISD A & R staff has been working on the baseball diamond in the second quarter. Last week Parker got himself a bulldozer to level off the infield and scrape out the batters.

The Golden Arrows from Fort Jackson, S. C., capped the Third Army Basketball Championship for the second straight year, by beating a tired but game Camp Rucker, Ala., 85-65, in the tournament final last Saturday night at Briant Wells Field House.

The Fort Jackson five undefeated throughout the double elimination tournament which ran four days at the Fort Benning field house will be the representatives of the Third Army in the All-Army Basketball Tournament at Fort Meade, Md., next week.

After a full day of rest, the Golden Arrows got off to a fast start in point scoring, but the Rucker team narrowed their lead down to two points by the end of the first period.

Led by Farice Woods, a 5'6" guard, the Rebels took over the lead in the second period for a short time, but the Third Army winners suddenly exploded when Hugh Shuttleworth came off the bench. The Jackson forward connected for 13 points in that period, with his steady shooting from around the keyhole. He totaled 24 points at the end of the game.

Best Benning Rucker, which suffered a defeat earlier in the first day of the tournament at the hands of the Fort Benning Doughboys, came up through the losers bracket to get into the finals. The Rebels played a rematch with the Doughboys Saturday morning and beat the host installation team, 76-61. This victory enabled them to meet the Arrows Saturday night. Fort Jackson was the team which beat the Arrows Saturday night.

Ft. Benning Boxers In All-Army Final Round

CAMP ATERDURY, Ind.—Two Fort Benning soldiers made 11e final round in the All-Army boxing championships. Gordon Van Lee defeated Genorace Armstrong of First Army in the 150-pound class. Chuck King lost a TKO to Warrnell Lester of Second Army. The technical knockout came 3:26 of the second round.

GOOD FOR TWO . . . Charlie Grigsby (23) of Camp Rucker goes into the Air for a basket which is good for two points.

Fort Benning's Art Green tries to block shot Rucker Rebels, beat the Doughboys, 79-61, in second meeting on last day of tournament.

First SR Has Chance For Post Ring Lead

The First Student Regiment has a good chance to cut down the AU Provisional Group boxing line length when five of their boxers step into the Briant Wells Field House ring.

ASU is on top of the ladder with 111 points and the Blackshirts are second with 94. Third is the 528th Airborne with 78. CTC is fourth with 51 and ISD is in the basement with five points.

The top bout of the evening pits middleweight champion Lou Bull against CTC again in a light heavyweight class of ASU. If the followers of post boxing will look back on the Post Benning Boxing Tournament, they will remember the close battle between both these boxers.

Full news of the photo finish, and tonight's 60 figures to be an exact duplicate of their previous meeting.

Len James of the First Pro boxing team, scheduled as the Post Benning lightweight champion by the ASU, will meet Sam Smith of the ASU in a light-weight battle. Another class one bout which pits Jimmy Blivins of First SR in a midweight against Roger Nocco of CTC in a welterweight battle.

In the light middleweight division, Vince Marshall of First SR takes on Nelson Ashley of CTC in a class three event. A class four welterweight fight which has many followers of fistful dough has been waiting for pits August Wright of the 528th Airborne against Willie Wright of ASU.

Frank Love of CTC who scored in victory in the last light card, will take on again Monroe Cormish of First SR in a light heavyweight class three bout.

Roosevelt Hollinger, who made a previous appearance once before, will meet Bill Williams of CTC in a class five heavyweight battle. Williams is making his debut as a post boxer.

Harper Fires A 74 to Win Pro Golf Meet

Charlie Harper, golf pro at the Fort Benning Country Club, fired a 74 in the final round to win the Great Southern Country Club, 49, 000 Invitational golf tournament. His 74-hole total was 281. The 30-year-old professional golfer, retaining Southeastern PGA champion, finished the medal play tourney three strokes in front of Ed Jake Fondren of Memphis, Tenn. Fondren posted a 76, one over par, on the final round. Present carded a 74. Both finished the tourney with 284. Harper never cut first in the (See MARPEN, Page 20)

Brigade Golf Teams Are Swarming Over Club Links

The "tee-men" are in action with the advent of spring. First Army Student Brigade's golf teams are swarming over the links in force. Eight teams are seeing action in the unit's round robin tournament currently under way.

One of the teams represents Brigade Headquarters. Teams Two through Four, First Student Regiment, Five and Six, the Second Regiment and Seven and Eight, represent the colors of the First Officer Candidate Regiment.

As this issue of the Bayonet goes to press a two way tie exists for first place between teams Five and Seven. Both clubs have perfect two and 0 records in the rough-and-tumble play.

The tourney is being played under a handicap system of scoring based on par 72 that is the standard of the Fort Benning Country Club, scene of all golf.

Although the round-robin is being played, the traditional silver cup trophies, weekly awards are being made to the two shooting men and teams. The prizes, appropriately enough, are new golf balls, two to the man and one to runner-up, and one new golf ball, two to the individual winners.

Low scores under the handicap system during the second week's play were: McGee, Charlie, Gunter, 69; of the Second Regiment's Team Five, with a 64; Runnels, 69; and Warren, 69. Warren, 69, a member of the Second Regiment's Team Seven, who turned in a 69 for his 18 hole play.

Team leader for the seven days play just ended was Team Seven.

Phillies Bonus Player Now An OCS Man

A star high school and college baseball player who was signed three years ago by the Philadelphia Phillies for a $2,000 contract is currently taking OCS training with 12th Air Force Company. He is Candidate Edward M. Jackson of Cocoa, Fla.

An infielder in high school baseball he was selected to the outfield when he played for the University of Florida. He was hitting at a .200 average when he joined the team and after two years was batting .350.

In 1950, he was observed by Philadelphia Scout Chuck Ward who signed such performers as Robin Roberts and Curt Simmons. Ward signed Jackson on a contract and he joined the Phillies at Clearwater, Fla. He was termed out to the Shenandoah team but before he could swing bat he found himself a member of the New York Giants farm system, playing with the Suffolk Club of the Florida State League.

A good season with a batting average of .310 earned him a boost to Class C ball. In 1951 he joined the Muscogee Club, club but played in the Class C league with a broken ankle benched him for the season.

Keifer And Anthony Win Pistol Shoot

Capt. Fred Keifer fired a 274 in the 45 caliber competition and a 204 in the .22 caliber shooting in two laurels in the Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club's monthly shoot which took place recently at the Club's range.

However, Capt. Ralph Anthony, member of the 1053 Army Dental Team, shot a 569 to win the aggregate honors.

The 22 caliber and 38 caliber matches were fired over the NRA short course while the 45 match will be held on April 12.

Former Music Maker Here In OCS School

Sugar Ray Robinson recently White Robinson was knocking off the stage career, but 12th OC Company didn't let William B. Pinckney, who has been touring the country with several name bands. He often helped her rehearse her numbers.

His only stint at playing in an organized band was while stationed at Oklawaha where he joined professionals and amateurs in playing for weekly dances.

Turning to boxing, the candidate sparred with such greats as Ike Williams, former lightweight champ, and Gil Turner, currently a welterweight contender. After winning several amateur bouts he was tempted to turn pro, but decided to enlist in the Army instead.

Enlisting in the Army in the Fall of 1948 he was sent overseas in 1949. He had 31 months of continuous service in 25000 before reporting to Fort Benning to attend Infantry Officer Candidate School. In Korea he served with the 25th and 3rd Infantry Divisions.

Olympiad Set For OC Regt. On Saturday

Six officer candidate companies will match some 30 contestants for the winners' pennants in the seventh Olympiad to be sponsored by the First Officer Candidate Regiment Saturday. The contest will start at 2 p.m. on Stroup "A" Field.

The Olympiad, originated last July by Col. Harry M. Grizzard, restricted commander, consists of contests in each event of the Army's Physical Proficiency Test and the Pentathlon, a combination of the five events.

The contestants, besides trying to win pennants for their units, will try to establish new records. No Olympiad has been run without at least one new mark being set.

The records stand at present: Pull-Ups, 30; Squat Jump, 47; Push-Ups, 117; Sit-Ups, 85; 200 Yard Run, 42.6 seconds; and Pentathlon, 469 points.

dropped the Doughboys into the losers bracket.
During the second half of the final game, Ruckers' fatigue could be plainly seen. Their field goal shooting was way off and Woods, who set the scoring pace for them, could not hit with his deadly set shots from outside.
However, Rucker managed to stay with Fort Jackson until the end of the third period which saw the Golden Arrows ahead, 58-47.
Shuttleworth exploded again in the fourth with a 12-foot jumper but Rucker forward Charlie Grigsby kept up with him in the point making department. Grigsby's 10 markers gave him a total of 21 for the game.
Awarded Trophies
At the end of the game, the finalists stepped up and were awarded jackets and trophies by Maj. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., The Infantry Center commander.
Also, an All-Tournament team, which was selected by Les Dineff, official timers Chris Dubis, and Dwight Awaits, official scorers Ed White and Jim Rosenstone, was announced. This celebrated jury, after watching the 18 games played in the tournament decided on Dick Thompson of Fort Benning, Van Manhis of Atlanta General Depot, Farice Woods and Ned Wexler of Camp Rucker, Don Lee of Redstone Arsenal, Royd Sandstrom and Jim Cooke of Fort Jackson, Jerry Canterbury of Camp Gordon, Jim Mulloy of Fort Bragg and Jim Trail of Fort Campbell.
Thompson gained three of the five votes for the Most Valuable Player of the meet. Woods received the other two.
The thing that beat out the Camp Rucker team was Jack-

IN TRAINING... Two simon-pure boxers who are fighting for a berth on the IX Corps boxing team which will swap leather in the coming Eight Army Boxing Tournament in Korea are Arthur Sarver (left) and Ernest Williamson. Though wrestling loads of supplies daily, they both manage to put in five hours a day skipping rope, running and punching the bag. Williamson, a husky light heavyweight, has fought at Fort Campbell, Ky., and Fort Benning teams. Sarver is a newcomer to the ring.

Rolf Fires 96 For Top Honors In Skeet Shoot

Capt. R. H. Rolf won top honors last week-end with a score of 96 in the Class AA division at the Fort Benning Skeet Club shoot. A very tricky wind caused the bird to bob up and down.
In the Class A division, four shooters tied with a 92 for first place. They are Col. R. J. Yetter, Lt. Col. G. S. Johns, Capt. R. W. Street and Sgt. P. A. Kunde.
Capt. H. Malone won the Class B Division with a 88 and Col. W. C. G. B. won the Class C division.
The Fort Benning club will hold a number of registered shoots this spring. Five club shoots and the post-spect championship shoot have been scheduled. The championship will be held on the following dates: April 19, June 20, July 12, August 15, and September 13.

Softball Begin For First OC Regiment

With Col. Henry M. Glisward throwing out the traditional first ball, the softball league of the First Officer Candidate Regiment opened last night under the lights at Stropf Field in Harnoy Church.
Seventeen games are currently scheduled for this month with at least one night game a week or two.
The team winning the series will be entered in The Infantry Center Softball League next fall.

Volleyball Victors

The Headquarters Wing team won the Lawson Air Base Volleyball Tournament and will represent the base in The Infantry Center Volleyball Tournament. A post All-Star team will wear the Lawson colors in the Southeastern Air Force League.

Randell Will Make 1st Pro Start Monday

Rocky Randell, the featherweight who won the 1952 Georgia Golden Gloves championship while representing Columbus, makes his first professional appearance here Monday night, when he tangles with Maroon's tough James "Beast" Elliott in a six-round preliminary to the Al McCoy-Dave Meredith main event.

Randell, known as Howard Glenn, his real name, when he won the amateur title, "knocked down" to featherweight size and scored seven knockdowns in two fights to take the crown.

Elliott is the boy who has thrilled fans with thudding decision over Atlanta's Jo Tunney here. The 140-pounder is a slugger all the way, and holds wins over several other top preliminary boys. Randell will weigh about 125.

Meanwhile, McCoy is reported in heavy training for his up-coming bout. The Micron boxer, now training in Tampa, has never met Meredith in the ring, and definitely shows respect for the Pensacola boy in his eagerness.

McCoy hit a winning streak several months ago, and hasn't dropped a fight since, turning back several of the top boys. The De-thing started with Kid Hather, who saved in the third round, and carried through Ralph Pearson, Jimmy Jewel, Ray Lee, and then to a semifinal bout with the Joey Maxim-Danny Nardico card in Miami recently.

Meredith, a ring-wise veteran, must cope with the "new" McCoy. The kid is now under the tutelage of Tony Caneles in Tampa, in the same stable with Nardico and Del Flanagan, among others. His left hook was always a sharp weapon, but he has now learned to counter-punch in the short-rite with-it, making it even more deadly.

Meredith himself has a pretty good left hand, a job that always fits the bottom. He has been boxing many of his 26 years, but set forth on a comeback a year ago and hasn't dropped a decision yet. Among his victims was the bond Ray Lee, who suffered a TKO in the ninth round in Pensacola. At least three other bouts will round out the card.

Sports Quiz

QUESTIONS
1. Joe Platak won what U.S. championship more times than any other athlete?
2. What baseball club has the most men in the Hall of Fame?
3. What was Joe Louis' largest gain?
4. Vic Seizas was the first American to win the Victorian tennis title? (True-False)
5. In sports terminology, what distance does a "hair's breath" represent?

ANSWERS
1. The U.S. handball championship. The four-wall softball title was taken by Platak seven years in a row (1925-1931). He also won in 1943 and 1945.
2. The Boston Braves, with 17. This number includes many, such as Rogers Hornsby, Babe Ruth and Al Simmons, who were with the club at the end of their careers.
3. The second Billy Conn fight (Yankee Stadium, June 19, 1946), which drew $1,925,564 and 42,566 fans.
4. False, when Seizas defeated Australia's Frank Sedgman to take the Victorian title last December, he became the second American to win it. Don Budge brought the championship to the U.S. in 1937.
5. 1/8th of an inch.

FRATCIE STARTS
The Pony League for boys, 13-14 years of age, will commence practice sessions behind the War Department Saturday at 9:30 a. m. The American Legion team will also meet then.

Werner Scores 475 On Unit PT Test
Cpl. John B. Werner of Company D of the Airborne Battalion scored 475 points on the current PT test by mixing two events, the push-ups and squat jumps. Werner did 24 push-ups and 75 squat jumps, and scored above 87 per cent in each of the other three events.

Other men who were above the 400 mark were Pvt. Norman Rapp with 451 points, Cpl. Robert Ellis with 437 points, Pvt. Monroe Conlisk with 431 points, Pvt. James Bivins with 418 points, Pfc. Ernest Hall and Cpl. Daniel Clark tied with 410. Pvt. Gero Tomesvary with 407 points, Pvt. Hersted Paulk with 405 points.

Bruns To Hold Clinic at F&G Fish & Skish

Hank Bruns, who has been writing for over 20 years, will conduct a clinic here April 25-26 when the Fort Benning Fish and Game Maintenance Association holds its Fish and Skish Tournament at Kings Point.

The Tackle Editor of the trade Journal, the Sporting Goods Dealer, will show the F & G members how to catch more fish, how to land and hold them, and other important items that fishermen are interested in.

The Fish and Game Association would like to have everyone, professional or amateur fisherman, take out membership cards in the organization. It only costs $1.75.

"Another phase I like about this assignment," says Pfc. Johnson, "is that I meet many people of different faiths and background, all of which has given me a better understanding of the importance of all religions to soldiers of the various faiths."

Russell has a background of religious work and says his previous assignment will benefit him when he returns to civilian life in June. After completing work as a sociology major at Tufts College he plans to enter an Episcopal ministry to study for the ministry.

Served as Church Secretary Prior to enlisting in June 1951, Pfc. Russell served as organist and choir director at St. James Episcopal Church in Somerville, Mass., and assistant organist and choir director at the Church of the Advent in Boston.

His duties as chaplain's assistant include playing the organ for the Protestant services at Chapel No. 5 every Sunday and at the Episcopal services at the hospital chapel. He will play the organ at the Easter Sunrise service to St. Barnabas Church next Sunday.

Pfc. Johnson was drafted into the Army in January 1952 while studying physics at Iowa State Teachers College. He plans to resume his studies after separation.

Pfc. Johnson was drafted into the Army in June 1951 and after completing basic training at Camp Roberts, Calif. he served nine months in the 86th AAA Detachment in Alaska. He was assigned to Fort Benning last August.

Post Cook Gets Valor Award

A Fort Benning cook has been awarded a certificate of valor won as a member of the first unit to fight the Communists in Korea in 1950.

Sgt. William W. Hambrick, Jr., of Macon, Ga., received the certificate for his part in the early stages of the Korean conflict. He was signed by former Army Secretary Frank Pace Jr., and was awarded to the 40th Infantry of Task Force Smith, first Army unit to fight in Korea.

Dated June 15, 1952, the certificate had already been presented to some of the Korean veterans at special ceremonies in Washington.

The citation was mailed to Sgt. Hambrick, now an instructor in the Third Army food service school here.

Brother Cooks Going to Korea

Pvt. Ben and Melvin Bowman, Company A of the Airborne Battalion, will be scrambling east of North Koreans on their next assignment.

Their preference for the scrambling process is the latter, they say.

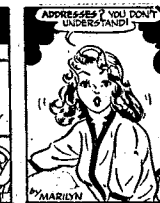

The Bowman brothers, hailing from Paint Rock, Tex., enlisted together last April and after taking basic training together attended the Cook's and Baker's School at Camp Roberts, Calif.

Since graduating from the basic Airborne course, the brothers have been cooking in Company A.

Cpl. Woods Re-Ups

Cpl. James A. Woods, Headquarters and Service Company of the Airborne Battalion, has been re-listed for a six year term.

General Woods, message center clerk for the Airborne Battalion, took his discharge, having served two years and nine months of his present three year enlistment.

508th's Belton Cited by Meloy

Col. Henry T. Belton of Able Company of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team finished "top man" in a recent Pathfinder course run by the 508th ARCT. The course lasted from February 16 through March 28 and had included 35 men from the battalion. Fully completed the course, with Col. Belton the honor graduate. For this accomplishment, Col. Belton, the only Ranger in his company, received a letter of commendation from Maj. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., the post commander.

Maj. Herina Transferred To Duty With SCARWAF

Major John Herina, Commanding Officer, 78th Engineer Battalion will leave this week for an assignment with SCARWAF, F A F East Air Force. Major Herina has been with the 78th Engineer Battalion since January 1952. He was the battalion executive officer until June 10, 1952, when he became the battalion commander. Major John Green, who is presently the executive officer of the battalion will take over as battalion commander when Major Herina departs.

CTC Discharge Section Has Excellent Record

WO2 John W. Allen, assistant personnel officer, 30th Regimental Combat Team, has quite a job on his hands by being in charge of the Discharge Section for the Personnel Office. WO2 Allen is assisted by Pfc. Harold Shepherd and takes care of the records of men being discharged and who desire to re-enlist. Mr. Allen said, "Whenever a man comes in and wants to re-enlist we have his papers ready for him in about 15 minutes." The figures of the discharge section show that since the first of the year there has been a total of 876 men discharged from the service and a total of 89 have re-enlisted.

New ROK Class Here For Study

One hundred and fifty Republic of Korea Army officers arrived at Fort Benning Sunday night to enroll in the Infantry School's fourth special class for South Koreans, which begins April 29. The group headed by Col. Son H. Sun, was met at the Fort Benning railway station by Major Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., Infantry Center commander, and other Army officials. The Allied officers will receive instruction similar to that offered in the associate company officer course. They will graduate May 1 from the 26-week special course. The Republic of Korea Army officers were selected for training at the Infantry School through a series of tests. They also received some training at Taegu in preparation for their instructions in the U. S.

The 150 officers including first lieutenants, captains, majors, and one colonel will return to Korea upon graduation for assignment as instructors in the Republic of Korea Army Infantry School or for duty with combat units. There have already been 150 Koreans to graduate from these special courses at the Infantry School. In addition to the 150 who arrived last night, five more Koreans will join the class when it begins April 19. They came to Fort Benning about a month ago and served as interpreters for the third class, which graduated March 22. Col. Son, ranking officer of the Allied group, expressed pleasure in learning that the majority of the instruction at the Infantry School will be conducted by U. S. Infantry veterans of Korea. "It is good to know that they have had actual experience on the front in Korea," he said. Escorting the Koreans from the station to Fort Benning was Major William F. Dahlstrom of Hamilton, Ga.

AMMO CAPT. LEAVES

Capt. Webster D. Hendry of Macdon, Ga., has assumed duties as Post Benning ammunition supply officer. He replaces Capt. Charles W. Milbut who has received orders for the Far East Command. Capt. Hendry entered the Army in February 1949 and received his commission that year at the Infantry Officer Candidate School here.

12th OCs Dedicate Classbook To The Men Behind The Scenes

Behind-the-scenes men, cadet candidates, will be recognized for their work in the classbook of the 12th OC Company, which will soon go to press. According to an announcement by David J. Olson, classbook editor, the book will be dedicated to "the men who have contributed toward each candidate's successful completion of the course." Each officer candidate class publishes a classbook which describes the 22-week training course of the Infantry Officer Candidate School. The book is prepared and edited by candidates. "We dedicate our classbook to some mythical group would not be keeping with the true feeling of the company," Candidate Olson said. "The company cadre, regimental administrative personnel, assistant instructors, and school troops—some we never see and never meet—deserve some recognition for their work in helping us become officers. The staff believes that without their generous and completion of the course would have been impossible." The classbook staff includes Editor Olson, Henry Simpson, business manager, Thomas Opsstad, photo editor, Russel Taylor, sports editor, and Francis Cune and James Ashcraft, layout and production editor. Initiative plans call for the book to be distributed to the class by May 15, one week before graduation.

The Bayonet Leaves Home

With this issue, The Bayonet, in a manner of speaking, leaves home. It severs its historic connection with the Public Information Office of Benning and becomes a part of the post's Troop Information and Education Section, where it rightfully belongs. Under PIO The Bayonet was free. It enjoyed complete freedom of expression. As a civilian enterprise published under what might best be termed the liaison of the Public Information Officer, The Bayonet was never censored. It might print or what it must print. And what it did print, was in his own estimation, in the best interests of the Army and the personnel of this post.

Under PIO The Bayonet won a secure and enviable place in the hearts and minds of its readers and contributors. It was an unusual paper in the service of men who live and die that their country may remain free. And it must remain that way.

Bolling's Easter Message

The following message was broadcast over leading radio stations in the Southeast by Lt. Gen. Alexander R. Bolling, commanding general of the Third Army, during the recent Easter season:

"As commanding general of the Third Army I am pleased to have the opportunity to address this Easter season to speak to the parents and relatives of many of our men in service. One of my important responsibilities is to insure that the spiritual needs of your husbands, sons, and daughters are provided for. We in the Army realize a soldier has temporarily been a great separated from home. This is a great frustration, and we attempt to compensate for it by emphasizing a Character Guidance Program, by encouraging our men and women to attend church services regularly, and by providing them with wholesome entertainment and recreational facilities. I know that you at home will be pleased to hear that the average church attendance in the various camps and stations throughout Third Army consistently compares favorably with the adjacent civilian communities. And during this Easter season—the chaplain's most important message—the increase in the number of service personnel attending church."

Wilson Sees No AF Pay Raise

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson revealed recently that he was contemplating a cut in draft calls by reducing the strength of units of the divisions now training in the United States.

Making his first official appearance before the House as secretary of defense, Mr. Wilson also said that he is trying to slash at least four to five billion dollars from the military production of the nation's defense strong despite cuts.

He said that defense spending has been held to the January level of $16 billion and every effort will be made to cut the monthly rate further.

Wilson is in sight for the Armed Forces, Mr. Wilson indicated. When asked about the per cent raise proposed by former Defense Secretary Robert Lovett and Asst. Secretary Mrs.

Chaplain's Corner Go Wash In Jordan'—II Kings 5:1-14

By CHAPLAIN F. J. HEINZ
One of the reasons that the power was so often in the hands of the little things of daily living.

There was a man named Naaman, a captain in the Syrian Army in the days of Elisha the prophet. We are told that Naaman "was a great man, with his master (the King of Syria) and household, because by him the Lord had given deliverance unto him; he also was a mighty man in valor, but he was a leper."

These and others had terrible handicaps to overcome — Naaman was a mighty man in valor, but he was a leper.

In Captain Naaman's house there was a little slave girl who suggested to Naaman's wife that directives we turn "away in rage." One of Naaman's servants had much better sense than his angry master. "Master," he said, "if the prophet had bid thee do some great thing, wouldst thou have loved his clothes either? He would undertake anything that required great courage. But the prophet's directives required obedience, not pride; and so the man 'mighty in valor' humbled his pride and did as he was told "and he was clean."

To many, religion is tame and unexciting. Many would be willing to do the exciting things—the things which call for valor—the things which draw praise and attention. But to "wash in Jordan," to obey God and His laws, to worship, to pray, to give our time and talents to worthwhile causes, to be loving in our dealing with others, to stand for the right, to love mercy, to deal justly with our neighbor, and to walk uprightly before our God—are willing to do these?

God will be effective in your life if you will cease directing Him and permit him to direct you.

Report From Washington

Army Acts to Recruit More Chaplains

Two histories, "The Campaign on New Britain" (priced at $3.75) and "Marines in the Central Solomons" ($2.75) prepared by the Historical Branch of Marine Reg. are now available free of charge to Purple Heart veterans of the respective campaigns. Holders of the Purple Heart awarded in the last two campaigns may obtain the books by writing Headquarters U. S. Marine Corps (Code 404), Washington 25, D. C. Other desired copies may be purchased there from the Superintendent of Documents, Gov. Printing Office, Washington 25, D. C.

Perishable and non-perishable substitute for the Armed Forces

In order to meet the critical need for chaplains, the Army has opened a new program under which clergymen holding commissions as army-grade chaplains in the Army Reserve or the National Guard may volunteer for a year of active duty. This program will make available to the Army the services of clergymen who can secure only limited leaves of absence from their churches.

A Letter To The Bayonet

I pray that our Heavenly Father may message the anguish of your bereavement and leave you only the cherished memory of the loved and lost and the solemn pride that must be yours to have laid so costly a sacrifice upon the altar of freedom."

To The Bayonet: Could you please send me a copy of your issue of Feb. 2, 1953, if that is the copy which had a write-up about my husband, W-O Alfred C. Felker, 306th Transportation (Hqtr) Company, who was killed on Feb. 10, 1953. I understand he was the first pilot to be assigned to a mission (helicopter) in the Infantry School, and flew Col. Greaves.

Was any mention made of his death in the next issue? If so, I would like a copy of that too. Please let me know what this will cost.—Mrs. Alfred C. Felker, Stuart, Fla.

Mr. Mrs. Felker, no mention was made in the Bayonet of your gallant husband's death. The check-out recorded only his burial hour.

Whodnits Up: She's Baffled

Mrs. Jacqueline Williams, lieutenant in the Air Force, has had the sudden popularity of the novel is unexplainable, citing 244 mysteries and Westerns were withdrawn as compared to 282 during February.

Film Review

NEVER LET ME GO... Clark Gable, Gene Kelly, Donald O'Connor, Debbie Reynolds. The action of this story takes place during the 1920s when pictures were changing from "alienists" to "talkies" and follows the troubles of one company, THE WILKS, first musical. Family, Musical, SPLT SECOND... Stephen McNally, Jan Sterling, Alec Smith. Three desperate men make their way through four hostages held out in a ghost town and then learn they are in the danger area of an atom bomb test. The dramatic impact of the situation holds one's interest from the opening scene to the spectacular finale. Mature. Melodrama.
CRY OF THE HUNTED... Vittorio Gassman, Perry Berger, Barry Sullivan. This vigorous story of the hunted and the hunter leads the fugitive and the law officer into Louisiana bayous where both men are nearly victims of the treacherous swamps. Family. Melodrama.

Two Colonels Are Slated For Far East Posts

Infantry School Col. Benjamin N. Davis of Freehold, Pa., and Oliver R. Dixon of Columbus, Ga., will leave Fort Benning in July for posts in the Far East.

Col. Davis is executive officer in the combat development section, and Col. Dixon is chief of the intelligence group in the staff department.

A 1931 graduate of Lehigh University, where he was awarded a degree in civil engineering, Col. Davis was assigned to the weapons department here during World War II and later served in Europe with the 8th Infantry Division.

He was a member of a military mission to China in 1946 and attended the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., in 1942.

Col. Dixon returned to Fort Benning the following year for duty with the Tactical Department until January 1951 when he attended the Armed Forces Staff College at Norfolk, Va.

Col. Dixon graduated in 1931 from Indiana University where he also received his Reserve commission. He has attended the Command and General Staff College, the Strategic Intelligence School in Washington, and the Army Forces Staff College at Norfolk, Va.

He commanded the 129th Infantry Regiment of the 32nd Infantry Division in New Guinea and the Philippines during World War II. He has been a military observer on the United Nations Good Offices Commission and chief of the Far East branch in the Army's Intelligence Division. He has been stationed here since January, 1952.

LITTLE FELLOW . . . The Bayonet, in its issue of March 26, 1953, quoted Mayor I. Lawrence Shields of Columbus as being dubious whether the "little fellow" they loaded into a jump plane would ever be able to get out. The story deluged the Bayonet office with calls from others who wondered who the "little fellow" was. And so here he is—Sgt. Melvin Weathered, Battery A, FA Bn, 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team complete with all the equipment he had strapped to him when he made the jump that caused all the commotion.

95 Men Re-Up During March

Ninety-five reenlistments were reported at Fort Benning during March. The Infantry Center reported that 41 men reenlisted for three years and 54 signed up for six years.

That reenlistments include 14 of the 508th Airborne Infantry School Detachment, 18 School Brigade, eight, Special Troops Command, 18, Combat Training Command, 31, U. S. Army Hospital, six, 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team, three, Provisional Medical Group, three, will receive a three-day pass as island Army Field Forces Board No. 8, two.

Low-Flying OC Talked, Got Job

An officer candidate who turned his flying hobby into a money-making proposition is currently talking to the OCs training with 12th OC Company, Ft. Valley, Ga.

The candidate was a student at Presbyterian College, S. C., and was running low on cash when he answered a newspaper ad for an experienced crop duster. Although his hobby was flying he had a hard time convincing the employer that he was the man for the job. But he finally talked his way into the job. His plane was of the World War II training craft vintage with the rear seat removed and a hopper in place for the chemicals.

The idea is to come in from about 400 feet in a steep slip and above the crop for best results. Of course, you have to keep your eyes open for small trees, keep the wings level, and tension wires at the same time. After three months of low-level flying he returned to school. He was enlisted in the Army after completing the second year of college and received basic training at Fort Jackson, S. C.

Quite appropriately enough are new turning in a fancy six-under-par 66. M-Sgt. Charles Gunderson of Team Five, Second Student Regiment, capped scoring honors for the second consecutive week in the School Brigade's annual golf tournament.

Season Closes With 6 Bouts Scheduled

The Fort Benning amateur boxing team championship will be decided tonight at Briant Wells Field House for this evening is the last boxing program of the 1952-53 season.

Our individual weight champions are already crowned, but under the army system of bouts, three points awarded for each bout. Tonight's six bout program don't decide whether the ASU Provisional Group or the First Student Regiment will get the trophy.

The way the standings look now, ASU is on top with 111 points, First SR second with 104, 508th Airborne 97.

ISD Wins Exhibition

A two-run rally in the bottom of the seventh inning gave ISD Prof's, winners of the 1952 Fort Benning baseball title, a 4-1 victory over the ASU Provisional in an exhibition game played last week in the second quarter.

Battle Royals

The light heavy are the battle royals and will be the deciding factor in the coming championship. First SR's Lang Davis, the leading champion, takes on Ben Robinson of ASU, this season's titholder, in what is termed a slugfest.

Lightweights Battle In CLO BOU! LAST WEEK

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

By Lester Dinoff
In response to my column of two weeks ago which referred to a one post team, the Fort Benning basketball team rolls around this fall, Coach Harold Manley of the ASU Green Wave has given me a copy of a recommendation which he made to Special Services at the conclusion of the 1952 football season.

Manley, who took over the coaching reins of the Greenties in mid-season, ended up with a 1-32 record. However, the former University of Alabama player is very earnest in his belief that Fort Benning could and should have better football.

The coach thinks that the referees should attend a school on football rules for at least 24 hours of instruction. The whistle blower should give prompt decisions and they should have a conference immediately following the game. They should be allowed to help the coaches pick the Best Sportsman and should select the team showing the most sportsmanlike conduct for the season.

Now a company officer in Fox Company, Infantry School Detachment, Manley says that all players should be put on football orders for the entire season. The members of the team should live in their own barracks because closer association will result in better teamwork. The gridders should have a ration and a half for chow and eat in a separate mess.

The equipment which is issued to the players should be the best available. Manley says that the shoes and practice pants were not good on the initial issue last season.

Fort Benning should be provided with a post team in addition to the other teams in the future. Some of the men are superior in ability and the lesser talented men are shut out of the competition before they have a chance to develop skill. A larger number of men could participate in actual game competition and overall attendance should be larger for the entire season.

Also a post team could be used to increase the morale of the men, players and fans, at Fort Benning.

In his recommendation, the coach summarizes that Special Services personnel were very cooperative, and that the equipment was good after the first half of the season. The football field was well-marked and the game decorations were good.

The food for the players before the games was very satisfactory and superior in some instances. Sportsmanship can always be improved by constant emphasis on clean playing and by rewarding a player that shows sportsmanlike conduct.

Manley, like other people, would like Fort Benning to have a one post team next season. He is due to enter the Associate Infantry Officers Course within the next few weeks and after that, well a "boat ride" for the coach.

A few weeks ago, Special Services started a "Ladies Night" at Briant Wells House. Every Monday evening the field house personnel allowed women to pass through its hallowed portals. Now, so I'm informed, this policy will continue for the fair sex have turned out on mass to use the gym's facilities.

Robert Collins, ISD boxer-coach, has gone on to greener pastures. The Philadelphia light welterweight has gone home for a leave before departing for RYCOM, and you know what.

The baseball fever has hit all of the major units on post and all PIO's report that there is big turnout during the tryout and workout sessions. The ISD Prof's are working out in the second workout every afternoon. ASU has already started to play intrasquad contests and now can claim that one of their scraps was rated out. The 508th have had over 20 men trying out for pitcher and catcher berths. So far they are definite that Sam Mathis will hold down the shortstop job. CTC has scheduled a contest for an off-post game so they must be sure of themselves.

The Fort Benning baseball season will open May 18 with night games scheduled for Gowdy Field and Sand Hill. The effort will play every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening. Hope that when the season starts, Gen. Meloy will throw out the first ball.

Elmer Blair, the Fort Benning welterweight champion who has his title taken away because of a so-called boxing professionalism charge against him, signed up for a fourth round bout with Fred Ward, promoter at the Columbus Arena.

My golfing partners, Jim Rosencorn, Ed Goman and Paul Hogan all concur when talking about the Sand Hill golf course. We all say that the fairways should be transplanted to where the fairways are at Fort Benning. The reason is that the woods are. Reason: we all look or else the covered pit.

Washington Bonus Baby Now in OCS

A top prospect of the Washington Senators is currently following the prospect leave series in his spare time from OCS training with the 21st Officer Candidate Company.

Officer Candidate Lyle D. Chambers last year was covering second base as captain of the Tar's baseball team of Rollins College which lost to Duke in the finals of the Southeastern NCAA at Knoxville, N. C.

RECEIVES TROPHY... Lloyd Sandstrom (3), left, captain of the Fort Jackson Golden Arrows, receives the Third Army Basketball trophy from Maj. Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., The Infantry Center commander.

AWARDS TROPHY... Maj. Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., The Infantry Center commander, awards the Third Army Basketball runner-up trophy to Charles Grigby, captain of the Cump Rucker Rebels.

SMALL STUFF BASKETBALL . . . The Fort Benning Little League All-Stars competed against the Augusta, Ga., Little League All-Stars, in a three game tournament at the Old Gym last week. The post hoopers came out on the short end, 63-59, 71-35, and 75-35.

Cards' Tilt Rained Out At Albany

Following a tough four game exhibition schedule, the Columbus Cardinals received a day of rest Tuesday when their scheduled intra-camp game with the Class B Lambeau team was rained out.

The Cards, after meeting the Birmingham Barons, Atlanta Crackers, Philadelphia Athletics and the Nashville Vols in that order, had their first day of rest since the Albany training camp opened.

Columbus resumes exhibition action in Golden Park when the Red Ebirds take on the Omaha club of the Class A Western League. The game will be played for the benefit of high school baseball and all proceeds will be divided between the four local schools to partly cover the expense of the game.

Ski Champion Now in OCS

From the ski run at Dartmouth College to the obstacle course at Harmony Church is more than a matter of miles. For Officer, Cecil Edie Wendell Cox of 14th OC Company it's a matter of sweat.

Cox, once a star member of the Dartmouth skiing team, makes no bones about it—Georgia's hills can't match New Hampshire's.

"This is the first winter in 10 years I missed skiing," he grins. "A little snow would be nice right now."

A third place winner in the Eastern Amateur meet last year at Berlin, N. H., Cox even owns his marriage to skiing. He met his wife on a ski during a blind date party at Dartmouth.

But the sport brought a few nervous moments too, plus a dislocated shoulder after one bad jump. Once when speeding down the Dartmouth ski run at more than 60 miles per hour, Cox became blinded when his goggles became fogged. But he escaped without injury although completing a 200 foot jump in the dark.

Fourteenth OC Company's soft ball team scored in each inning and overpowered 6th OC Company 10-8 in the opening game of the First OC Regiment's Softball League last week.

Taking the traditional opening ball, which was thrown out by Col. Harry M. Grizzard, regimental commander, the 14th OC's collected two runs on as many hits and a walk in the first inning. Sixth OC called its first run in the second, but the 14th's catcher, Lt. Roland J. Schorer, 14th OC's second baseman, led the hitting parade with three hits in four times at bat.

Winning pitcher was Kenneth L. Steben, Edroy G. Krueg was the losing pitcher.

GOING DOWN . . . Leon Hall's punches dropped handsome Freeman Thatcher of ASU to weight champion scored knockout victory over Thatcher. Referee Bob Ford is man in white.

MCCOY Defeats Meredith; Blair Scores TKO Victory

Al (Kid) McCoy, a far cry from the back-pedaling boxer who first appeared here a couple of years ago, turned tiger Monday night and belted Dave Meredith to the canvas for a knockout in 2:31 seconds of the first round in the main event at the Arena.

McCoy, one of the most improved fighters seen here in the last six years, stalked Meredith for the first minute of the round and then started landing rights and left to the canvas. A wicked right sent Meredith to the canvas for a nine count.

Meredith staggered to his feet at the count of nine and McCoy rushed in to add the coup de grace as he threw a hard right to the midsection that caved the nearly numbed Meredith in and then connected with a hard left hook and that was all as referee Jerry Forshaw waved the Kid to the corner and raised his hand in victory.

The win was a big step forward for the Kid from Mason as it was the first time in 62 professional fights that Meredith had been sent to the canvas. After the fight, Meredith said that McCoy had one of the hardest right hands he had ever been hit with.

In the under card, Rocky Randall scored a TKO in the third round of a scheduled six-rounder over Bob Ford. Ford looked great in the opening canto as he had Randall mistakingly in a tussle connecting with rights and lefts.

In the second round, Ford, with his back against the ropes, suffered selling blows to the head and body by Randall, and for a time it was doubtful if he'd finish the round. When the bell finally sounded, he staggered back to his corner and as the song score started the third round he refused to start the fight and Randall was awarded a TKO.

In another six-rounder, Frank Robinson, also of Tampa, won a decision over Rutas Kitchens of Columbus, but the scrap was closed all the way. Kitchens, giving away nearly 71 pounds, was the better boxer of the two, but the difference in the weight was too much of a handicap to overcome.

The opener, a four-rounder between Curtis of Columbus and Edmer Blair of Fort Benning, saw with a right in the second round striking the CTC's ropes into the ropes. Necero, using the boxing version of the flying mate, came back at Blivingst, but the Cleveland boxer ducked down low and Necero quailed on the canvas.

Necero concentrated most of his blows at Blivingst's body.

In the other class one bout of the seven bout card, Juan Jaramila of the 308th Airborne scored a close decision over Len James of First St. last year's lightweight champion.

Both fighters were pretty evenly matched and it was a hard bout to judge. However James was a little slow and missed some opportunities to land blows.

In the other bouts on the card, Wally Kelly of CTC decisively won William Costa of South in a middleweight scrap; Roosevelt Ballinger of 308th stopped Bill Williams of CTC in 1:30 of the first round in a flyweight clash.

Shockley Stresses Accident Causes In Safety Speech

M-Sgt. Joseph H. Shockley, safety instructor for the Post Motor Pool and Mr. A. Haley Jones, safety instructor for the J. A. Jones Construction Company, addressed 250 people at the latest safety meeting of the Post Motor Pool, held last week.

Sergeant Shockley confined his speech to the most common cause of accidents, namely, improper backing, speeding, and misjudging clearance, at the top 80 percent causes of all automotive accidents.

Mr. Jones emphasized the need for continued aggressive safety programs, pointing out that the cost of such programs is more than offset by the savings. He said further that the cost of accidents in one year would pay for the safety program for a long time.

The Leopard Hides Its Spots?

In his following the death of Joseph Stalin, the Bayonet expressed the belief that whether the Kremlin becomes an arena of sweetness and light or a hot bed of crime the name of Stalin would fit the plan. Aid now, with Yoz's remains hardly cold one reads in the press of the world that the overtures for peace being put out by his successor, Malenkov, were dreamed up by Stalin and outlined by him before he died.

Army Education

One of the primary functions of education in the United States is the development of its citizens. The United States can remain strong only as long as its citizens are well educated. The Army's role in this regard is to provide a broad education for its citizens. No longer do the three R's, reading, 'riting and 'rithmetic, suffice as they did in the days of our forefathers. In the "small" and complex world of today American citizens should first learn to exercise and defend their democratic rights and privileges and to assume their responsibilities as citizens; then they should learn to understand the overall mission of the Army. Not only does the Army benefit from having its men continue their education, but the individuals themselves derive benefits that they make themselves more eligible for promotion and are holds in judging his worth. True, a person's formal schooling should be an accurate measure of his education, but many times it is not. Actually, a person's education should not stop with formal schooling; rather one's formal schooling should give him a basic education upon which he can build for the rest of his life in this field of thought.

WMSM Is A Great Life, They Say!

HEADQUARTERS THIRD ARMY, Ft. McPherson, Ga., April 15.—What's for chow? That question is fast disappearing at army hospitals all over the South. Why? Because hospitalized soldiers are well prepared and equipped, even for those on special diets. They know the chow is going to be good. Army dietitians are responsible for the food service in army hospitals and they are doing one whole of a job. They are the unassuming heroes behind the scenes of the Medical Specialist Corps who make themselves more eligible for promotion and are holds in judging his worth. True, a person's formal schooling should be an accurate measure of his education, but many times it is not. ## Education For Widows of Korean Conflict

A bill introduced to congress by Representative Robert W. Kean (R-N.J.) would entitle widows of members of the Armed Forces who die during the period of Korean hostilities to use their husbands' entitlements to education and training under the Kean Bill of Rights. For the first eight months of fiscal year 1953, the Department of Defense obligated about approximately $3.3 billion, Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson has announced. Included in this amount were military pay and allowances, research and development and other activities, as well as procurement and construction funds. An "augmented" squadron of F-86 Sabrejets has been assigned to Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway's European command to help replace the loss of the slower F-84s the AF has announced. Both Houses of Congress slashed 1.2 billion dollars in Defense funds from a supplemental appropriations bill early this month. The House Appropriations Committee, which originated the drastic cut in a request made by ex-President Truman, said that Department of Defense would have to scrape up the money from other funds. Army officer selection boards are now meeting to screen re-

Blood Program To Feature AF Week

HEADQUARTERS THIRD ARMY, Ft. McPherson, Georgia. While being vivified shows the strength of the United States' fighting machine in parades, demonstrations and visits to installations throughout the country on Armed Forces Day, the American people, both military and civilian, will be asked to add to its effectiveness by contributing to the Armed Forces blood donor program. Designated as a united civilian-military drive, the campaign will be held throughout the South-east during Armed Forces Week, May 10-16. Goal for military personnel has been set at one pint per man, with the civilian project being handled by the Red Cross and other civic groups.

Report From Washington

Selection boards for Army warrant officers are now in session to consider VOs for temporary upgrading to W-3, W-3 and W-4. The AF has announced that it has a list of warrant officer applicants from 8100 to 1,600. There are only 6,000 vacancies in the AF.

Three hundred cadets from universities in the northeastern part of the country will receive indoctrination and training here from June 22 to July 19, Col. Charles D. Birdsell, commanding officer of the base group and camp commandant, announced.

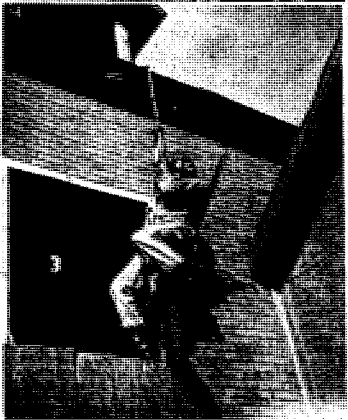

Along with other Air Force bases training ROTC students, Lawson plans to present a generalized program. Since an estimated 80 percent of new Air Force officers are expected to be drawn from ROTC ranks, officials believe the broad program will prove of greater value.

During their stay at Lawson the future officers will observe operations of the troop carrier and its role in the overall Air Force mission. The cadets will visit individual organizations, observe the daily workings of the Air Force, and fly in such troop carrier aircraft as the C-47, C-54 and C-119.

Highlight of their camp will be the Air Force demonstration at Eglin AF Base, Florida. Cadets will be allotted to Eglin by the 464th Air Base Group.

The camp will be climaxed by a formal review, graduation exercises, and a graduation dance.

Bolling Praises Guards of 508th

Paratrooper guards of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team have been commended by the commanding general of the Third Army and the post commander of Fort McPherson, for their exemplary behavior as prison guards at the Fort McPherson stockade.

Lt. Gen. Alexander Bolling, Third Army commander, expressed his appreciation for the efficient manner with which the Red Devil guard detachment are handling their assignment at the north Georgia post, a task begun by them the first week in February.

He also commended the original detachment commander, First Lt. Fred Parker, Headquarters and Headquarters Company, for his performance in setting up the prison training program. The commander of the 508th detachment performed in a timely and efficient manner, resulting in a great increase of worth and efficiency from the paratroopers," said General Bolling.

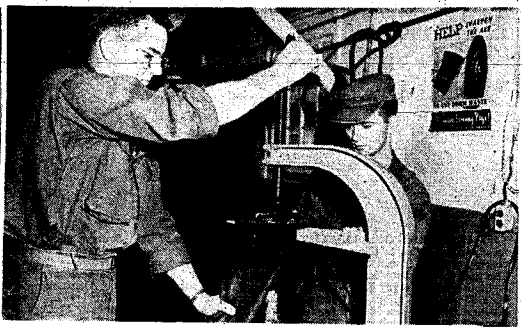

The commander of Fort McPherson, Lt. Colonel W. H. McNair, also praised the Red Devils. In a letter to Colonel George O. Pearson, 508th commander, Colonel McNair said, "I wish to express to you my appreciation for the outstanding manner in which members of the detachment from your unit performed while on temporary duty at Fort McPherson during the period February 5 to 21, 1953. Their conduct, soldierly bearing, adaptability, and esprit de corps while at this station was exemplary and in keeping with the highest traditions of the service. Such performance reflects an understanding and great credit upon yourself and your command."

PFC. WILLIAM E. SIMONS PUTS PATCHED AREA ON "HOT PLATE"

To Revolutionize Patches?

BY PVT. SHELDON VILENSKY
A few slices of rubber on hot innerbrims will be sent to Washington soon so that some of the Army's top brass may have a look at them. And out of it all may come an important weapon in one of the Army's battles to save the taxpayer's dollar.

Far from being secret weapons, these disks of rubber are examples of a new method of patching automobile and truck tires.

The new patching process was developed by Capt. August Gaeber, commanding officer of the 586th Ordnance Tire Repair Detachment, Special Troops Command, back in 1942 in Vancouver, Wash. And Capt. Gaeber has continued to use it on his assignments since that time.

Through Capt. Gaeber's process, the hot or cold patch that has become a familiar part of the conventional repaired inner tube may well become a thing of the past, he said.

Instead, a much smaller piece of patch rubber will be wedged right into the punctured area. Then the new rubber will be cured, or heated, right into the original tube.

By eliminating the cover patch, Capt. Gaeber claims that the possibility of leaking and blowouts from the original puncture will be decidedly reduced.

Men Of 773d Stress Safety

BY CAPT. A. M. LEONARD

The 773d Tank Battalion of Combat Training Command is taking an active interest in the Safety Program in attempting to reduce the number of accidents by reporting all traffic violations to the CTC Safety Officer.

Major Richard McCoy, Battalion Commander of the 773d, has issued instructions requesting that a city member of the Battalion who observes a person violating a traffic regulation get the number of the car and make a written report. This is in compliance with Post Training Manual, paragraph 10-1, article 72, dated 11 November 1951, which states: "All military personnel are required to report each traffic violation observed."

The most frequent violations in the Sand Hill Area occur on Custer Road and the Old Cassette Highway. Both roads are well marked with traffic signs giving the speed limit, but many seem to feel that because these roads pass through wooded areas that they can use those roads as a speedway.

The speed limit on Custer Road is 35 mph and 40 mph, while on the Old Cassette Highway the speed limit is 40 mph until you leave the post. Under this present safety drive to reduce accidents it is advisable to pass any vehicle that is traveling 40 mph in the 40 mph zone.

This program in the 773d has paid off, for since the last of the year there has not been an accident in the Battalion. It is hoped that more units will adopt a program such as this to reduce accidents everywhere.

508th Trooper Operates Own Private Railroad As Hobby

If you've heard a young trooper's own started with the innocent in the 508th area humming, "I've been working on the railroad building equipment. In a year or three years, it has grown to over 100 feet long, 12 feet wide, and four engines."

Of course it's only a miniature model railroad, but it's worth over $5,000.00. Careful attention to the details of the railroad engineering requires two weeks of telegrapher to build a box car and two-four for an engine. This model is mounted on a table 28 feet long, three levels high, and running the length of the Miller's club located in New Brunswick, N.J.

Infantry ROTC Camp Planned for June-July

Detailed work started this week on training schedules for the 1953 Infantry ROTC Camp which will be held here June 20 to July 31. Col. William J. McConnell, executive officer for the ROTC planning stage, stated that emphasis will be placed on leadership training at the summer camp which will attract approximately 2,700 cadets from U. S. colleges and universities.

"We are adopting several new methods of teaching leadership this year," Col. McConnell stated.

For the first time ROTC cadets will be required to rate the other members in their platoon or squad by appearance and military bearing. These rating reports will be similar to the "duddy reports" which cadets will be encouraged to consider how they believe the man being rated would conduct himself under combat conditions.

Cadets also will be given a leadership reaction test, a day-long problem-solving exercise, and a 10-day leadership course.

CTC Gets Three Certificates After 300,000 Safety Miles

Three units of Combat Training Command have received the Third Army Certificate of Achievement for safe driving from Maj. Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., Infantry Center Commander.

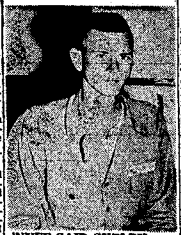

Gen. Meloy presented the certificates to Col. Frank L. Eider, CTC commander, who in turn presented them to Lt. Col. Augustin Ramirez, 2d Battalion, 30th NCR commander, Maj. John Herin, 7th Engineer Battalion commander, and Maj. Richard McCoy, 77th Tank Battalion commander.

The certificates presented to the Battalion commanders represent 100,000 miles of safe driving by each of the units.

The certificate presented to Col. Ramirez is the third his battalion has received. The award to the 7th Engineer Battalion is their first such award, and the Battalion has already completed 80,000 miles toward the sixth.

Maj. McCoy, 77th Tank Battalion commander, received the first Certificate of Achievement for safe driving for his Battalion.

TWO GET SILVER SINGLES

Special Troops Win Boxing Title

Raiders Win Over First SR 111 to 109

The Fort Benning boxing team championship was captured by Special Troops Command last Thursday night when the Boxing Board scheduled its final amateur bout card of 1952-53 season at Briant Wells Field House.

The Raiders, formerly the ASU Provisional Group, won 35 bouts throughout the year to finish up with 111 points. Not on their cards and losing by only two points was the First Student Regiment with 109 points for 46 bouts.

Third place in the post standings went to the 508th Airborne with 85 points for 37 bouts. Fourth is Combat Training Command with 57 points for 30 fights. Last is Infantry School Detachment with five points for nine bouts.

This is the second year in a row that Special Troops have won the post boxing team championship. At the conclusion of the 1951-52 season they clinched the title and it happened again this year.

The title, actually was awarded to Special Troops the week before the bouts. Of the six bouts that were scheduled, only three remained. Fighters were getting medically disqualified left and right. So Coach Jerry Fernandez and the First SR team congratulated Coach Jerry Hartley of Special Troops for winning. The Blackblights did not have a Chinaman's chance to win if all of the scheduled bouts could be fought.

To quote Coach Periman, "Special Troops may have won the team championship and the trophy, but have they not the fighters?"

Periman showed that at Hartley as the Raiders member led his 1952 Fort Benning light heavyweight champion, Ben Robinson, from the ring after losing a split decision to James Boyd of First SR, the 192 pounder.

Boyd, using an apparatus which has Robinson known as a starting tiger in the ring, Robinson, proved so that the lights reflected off his muscular frame, was a ducking and bobbing target.

The Raiders champion took a number of heavy punches from the Blackblights who wanted to see the first round. Robinson took a number of blows and head but when Boyd started to get in with his lefts to the mid section, Robinson felt those blows and clinched.

The first light heavy hasn't climbed through the ring ropes since Sept. 29 when Charles Chapman of ASU knocked him out of the class bout.

It was a squeaky three-rounder throughout and Judges Dickerson, Goff and Cooper scored it close. After the points were tallied up, Boyd got the split decision.

In the other bouts of the evening, Marion Naunoff of the 508th Airborne picked the winner. Another Special Troops Command in 2:38 of the first round.

The remainder of the boxing card was filled up with Dad's Club youngsters fighting in the clubber, Teja, mosquito and paper weight classes. The boys fought three one minute rounds and no decision bouts.

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

The eatalls, boos and cheers are, only echoes in the past today for amateur boxing has departed from Fort Benning and will hibernates in some dusty champion's desk draw until next September. After a visit, which some say was over extended, the House of Hassle where many a champion would be titubated vied for the fans recognition and possibly a trophy is stilled.

No longer will the followers of the pugilistic sport see the battles between light heavyweights Ben Robinson and Jack Nix. Gone are the scraps between Willie Wright and August Wolf. No longer will there be a battle of the bantamweights between George Allen and Nori Kawasaki. Boxing is stilled. It has run its gamut, crowned its champions in all 14 weight divisions and recognized as team champion.

When amateur boxing started up in August of 1952, no one thought that the Special Troops Command, formerly ASU Provisional Group, would win the post team boxing team championship for two years running. At the conclusion of the 1951-52 season, the Raiders captured the title on the final fight card boxing out First Student Regiment, 141-137. Last week, Special Troops repeated their team supremacy by beating the Blackblights out again, 111-109.

Last month, the Fort Benning Boxing Tournament ended with nine men fighting for their class titles. The tenth man, Bobby Rodriguez of the 508th was awarded the heavyweight crown by default. No one was around to fight him for it. Ernest Fann beat Gene White for the heavyweight crown. Ben Robinson defeated Tommy Miller for the light heavy laurels substituting for Jack Nix who was home on emergency leave.

Leon Hall racked up Freeman Thatcher for the middleweight championship while Gordon Van Lo stopped Clifford Wilbur for the light middleweight title and go on to Third Army and Air-Mary recognition. Elmer Rhior declination Ed Sout for the welterweight crown and now both are fighting in the professional ranks. Add Duke scored a knockout over Ray Leutz for the light welter title.

Elvis Matthews declination a same veteran, Jesse Flores for the lightweight championship. The fact that the Blackblights will be the lightest in the weight class is to Third Army fame and lost early in the Air-Mary Boxing Tournament. Nori Kawasaki beating Joe Clark for the bantamweight title, but allowing Clark to go to the Third Army because of his upcoming discharge.

It was a good time for everyone, fighters and fans. A number of people, however, were hurt, not in the ring, but outside it with manipulating of cuts during Boxing Board meetings. A number of these sessions were real explosive affairs. Especially the session which preceded the final fight card. But everything ended in Fort Benning boxing circles happily.

A number of recommendations are being written that will better next year's boxing program. Some of these, desire that fight night should highlight scraps between teams instead of individuals. Operate post boxing under the same setup that the AAU and Golden Gloves have. After a regular season of boxing, then run in your boxing tournament and fight for the individual class titles.

Whatever system is used next year, the Hawaiian program that prevailed during this past season, or some new set-up, it is recommended and approved by the Special Services council, boxing will again attract a huge following.

An informal chat in the Special Services sports office last week revealed that Fort Benning's swimming pools are due to open on April 17. Lifeguards have already been assigned to Youngs Pool, Ross Pool and the Sand Hill swimming establishments.

Fifteen life savers will be at Ross Pool. They are Eschole Rawlins, Franklin Thomas, Romain Stein, Norm Johnson, William Council, Vincent Morra, James Davis, Ronald Short, Eldon Lechner, Richard Yeaw, George Hoppe, Al Parson, Vincent Marston, and Papp Johnson. Watching Youngs Pool will be Bob Shell, and Roger Johnson. Watching Youngs Pool will be Bob Shell, and Roger Johnson. Watching Youngs Pool will be Bob Shell, and Roger Johnson.

Seventeen events are on tap for the Infantry Center Track Meet which will take place at Doughboy Stadium, May 21-22. The best hurdlers, sprinters, high jumpers, and what have you, will be there.

The Womens Bowling Tournament is now rolling at the Main Post Alley. The top three teams are Coca Cola with 270 pins, Youngblood No. 1 with 249 pins, and Monksy's with 247 pins. In doubles competition, Marge Olson and Lois Christiansen roled a 120. The top singles legler is Pat Simpson with 368 pins. Miss Simpson is also first in All-Events competition with 1665 pins.

Sand Hill Prepping For Golf Season

Lt. James B. Guthrie and his team of workers consisting of three enlisted men, Sfc. Lawrence Chapman, Cpl. Johnnie Browder, and Cpl. Urban Winkler are putting in long hours to get the Sand Hill Golf Course into good shape for the coming golf season.

The Sand Hill Golf Course located in the 508th Airborne area of Sand Hill is getting a big job these days. Guthrie reports that there are approximately 100 golfers on the course each day during the week and on week-ends he carries a loaded capacity crowd.

For the benefit of newcomers in Fort Benning, the Sand Hill Course is an Enlisted Golf Course that is operated by the Combat Training Command Special Services.

Clubs are furnished free for anyone desiring to come out and cut turf on his score. The course is a nine holes and as anyone who has played it will say that it is plenty tough. So come on out and give the course a whirl.

Riley Meets Harrell Here

Tex Riley, 210 pounder from Amarillo will wrestle in the feature bout against Jerry Harrell, 268 pounder from Vicksburg, Miss., tonight on the Arco program.

Riley issued an open challenge to Harrell for the title of National grappler readily accepted. The bout will be on a winter-tote-all basis and will be for the best two out of three falls with a one hour time limit.

Carlos Guzman, 220 pounder from Monterey, Mexico who made such a big hit with local fans in his initial match here last week, will fight in the semifinal bout. He will take on Aldo Bogert, 245 pounder from Argentina, who will be returning to the Columbus ring after an absence of several weeks.

Columbus own Jack Cofter, 216 pounder, will match holds with 140 lb. Lucy Gilpin, 220 pounder from Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Coach Says CTC Shooters Progressing

The Combat Training Command Rifle Team is making good progress according to reports from the team coach, Lt. David M. Levitt, Chief of the team.

"The team has had to work in several ways because of the rain, but at present this doesn't seem to have affected their scores."

Levitt has a men out for the team at present including himself. They are: Captain Ray O. Green, team captain, Capt. Ralph E. Edwards, Lt. Carl E. Cooper, Lt. Edwin R. Emrick, WOJG John L. Sinton, Sgt. W. Warren, Sfc. Robert Hubbs, Sgt. Bernis Faircloth, Sgt. William C. Yordy, Cpl. Charles W. Franklin, Cpl. Robert L. Strickland, Cpl. Arthur E. Metcalf, Cpl. Farris Schuler and Cpl. The Fort Benning championship basketball team of 1933, the CTC Commanders, were feted at a banquet last week in the CTC Officers' Mess.

Maj. Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., CTC Commander, thanked the team for the good job they did in the Third Army Basketball Tournament and later presented sweaters to each member of the team. Col. Frank L. Elder, CTC commander, accepted the post championship trophy in behalf of the team. Other guests includes Lt. Col. Kenneth Grimes, Major Gene Meyers, and CTC officers. Lt. William J. Mitchum of Company L was the master of ceremonies. ST. LOUIS — This is the darkest horse team that could go all the way in '33. Eddie Stanky, a fiery manager, has a well-balanced club with good rookie prospects. S. U. Jackson and Bob Ramazotti are the Cubs' an able group of fly chasers. CHICAGO — Sports writers watching the Reds this spring termed them "the most improved team in the N. L." The club has able pitchers in Ken Raffensberger, Pennell, Lawrence, Ernie Stauter, Stan Musial and Hal Rice.

Warmin' The Bench

Last year the Brooklyn Dodgers won the National League pennant because they were able to beat second division teams in 152 out of 186 games. Also the fourth place Phillies were only 54 games behind first place. This one-sidedness in the National League is no longer a thing of the past. The Cubs were 19th games behind. We know how much Long Distance calls mean to service men, and we want to give you the best possible service. Here are two ways you can help:

1. If you can give the operator the out-of-town telephone number, she won't have to consult "Information" in the city you're calling and your call will go through faster.
2. Since you may be hard to locate, it is generally better for you to call the folks back home, instead of their calling you. Charges can be reversed.

To help you get faster service, you'll find out-of-town directories for the larger cities at each telephone center.

Got In Thrice, Pushed Out Thrice; Never Came Down Inside Aircraft

BY MARJORIE COBB
Three times now, the quiet, silver-haired son of a Samoan chief, chief of Fort Benning, has watched the ground from away from his plane in flight, but he has never experienced an aircraft landing. Pvt. Fili M. Liufau of Tutuila Island, Samoa, claims no theory which might confuse Einstein. It was just a simple matter of jump training in the Airborne Department. "Every time I went up, they pushed me out the door long before the plane got down," said Pvt. Liufau with a good-natured smile. However, he made it quite plain that he thoroughly enjoyed his airborne training, which he has just completed. It reminds me of home where the coconut trees grow to 40 feet, and I'm used to high altitudes," he explained in very understandable English, which he learned in Samoan high schools. A member of Company 1 of the Airborne Battalion, Pvt. Liufau came to the United States after basic training at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. His father was the chief of Aua, a Samoan village of about 800 people. When his father died, his brother became chief and rules the village. Although Fili is the youngest of four brothers, he would succeed his father if the eldest should die. This right of succession is based on Fili's experience, intelligence, and education, making him well qualified to rule his elder brothers. Pvt. Liufau, who is 28, married, and has two daughters who are 5 and 3 years old. He plans to return to the teaching profession in his own country after serving his three-year enlisted Army Reserve service. For three years he was an elementary-grade teacher. He entered the service for the main purpose of learning. "I have learned much in two Airborne training and I believe I will be a better teacher for having been here," Pvt. Liufau said. "I also wanted to serve the American nation." Samoa is divided into two sections, one under the protection of the British and the other under American protection. Fili comes from the American section. For 33 years the United States has offered protection to Samoa of the South Pacific. Its government is patterned from the American senate and house of representatives. The senate is known as the Alii, or House of Chiefs, and the house of representatives is called Suia. The people of Samoa own their own land and by law have no right to sell any portion of it. In practice it is considered joint property of the entire family. Even with the family's consent, no sale can be made. Fili said his family owns about 100 acres of land on which are grown coconuts, bananas, ferns (a kind of potato) and sweet potatoes. He accredits his hunting wild boars and cows with his achieving such standings in his basic training as expert lifeman, marksmanship with the machine gun, and automatic rifle sharpshooter. On his trip from the West coast to Georgia, Fili remembers the name of only one city, Chicago. That can be traced in his first year in school when he used to see the U. S. Navy ship Chicago anchored in the harbor of his native country.

RED CROSS TRAINING HERE
Four Red Cross trainees are expected to report here this week to begin two weeks of basic training. Field Director John A. Cramer said Tuesday.

Upon completion of their training they will be assigned to other military installations as trainee assistant field directors for six months before being assigned as resident assistant field directors.

Mr. Cramer said he had not been informed who the four men are, but that they will report to Fort Benning following a week's orientation at the Southeastern branch of the American Red Cross in Atlanta.

Rains Snag Plan To Get Bridge Open
Saturday's rain storm caused another delay in opening of the new $300,000 Upatoi Creek bridge at Outpost No. 1 but engineers predict the span will be ready for traffic next week if good weather prevails.

Nelson Ball, construction engineer of the Savannah Engineer District, pointed out that the bridge, which was earlier expected to be opened to traffic this week, will be ready next week only if there is good weather.

He added that construction personnel have been working from before regular hours in the mornings until dark, trying to complete the job, but inclement weather has caused several delays.

The $300,000 construction job, begun April 14, 1952, was necessitated because of the heavy traffic during early morning and late afternoon rush periods but moves over the single span.

The approach to the new bridge will connect Lumpkin Road in West Avenue, but will ultimately be extended to the traffic circle on Victory Highway, according to Mr. Ball.

New traffic routes for entering and leaving the post have also been established.

Post Aids City Dig Itself Out Of Wind's Blast

ARMY ACTS WITHIN MINUTES AFTER GETTING STORM NEWS
By JIM ROSENSTONE

A sleepy little Rebel town of 35 years ago, since grown to maturity, was thanking its lucky stars today that it waged and won the Battle of Fort Benning.

Over the weekend Columbus, Ga., was in dire-need. A tornadoic storm had swung in upon it, devastating hundreds of its homes and injuring many of its people. Parts of the city looked like bombed had been dropped upon it, and its schools and churches were among the structures ripped and torn apart by the rain-driven winds.

Almost before the gust subsided, Fort Benning, younger in years but older and more experienced in meeting and fighting disaster, was alerted. Its soldiers left what they were doing and stood ready in rows of the disaster spread through their homes, their homes, and their social life.

Within 10 minutes many units were ready to roll. The First Transportation Battalion, led by Lt. Col. Charles B. Perseman, had 135 men standing by almost at once. They had 12 ambulances, 12 trucks and 27 ambulance-type buses.

One of the first units arriving in town was the Provisional Medical Group under Col. Mark Green. It had nine nurses and nine doctors. When they reached their destination, St. Francis Hospital, the place was dark and but three generalists were left to care for the 24th Evacuation Hospital, under Col. O. J. Edwards, and the hospital soon hummed to renewed activity.

Outside, rescue teams followed the ambulances as the debris was attacked by other trouble-shooters from the post.

Under the command of Lt. Col. Alton Wood, provost marshal, three officers and 30 enlisted military policemen moved into the area to help give first aid and direct traffic. The MP's also organized the routing of cars, trucks and business houses from looting. The downtown office of military police was used as a coordinating point.

All requests for Army help were relayed through this office. The MP's also escorted the movement of men and equipment into the area.

Major Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Infantry Center Commander, and his staff were on duty at the headquarters throughout most of Saturday night. Infantry Center officers working to coordinate the rescue work included Col. Charles Owens, chief of staff, Col. Glenn Perez, G-3, Lt. Col. J. D. Strand, G-4, and Major James E. Slacy, assistant G-4.

April is a memorable month in the life of Col. Tupper's command, for it was in 1951 that the command was redesignated the 78th Engineer Combat Brigade, the only command of Major John H. Areat, but more recently on April 10 of this year, the command was reorganized as the 78th Engineer Combat Brigade.

TSB To Hold Review For Col. Tupper
Blue and French Fields at Fort Benning will echo to the marching feet of men of the 78th Engineer Combat Team's Third Battalion on Saturday, April 23, when they are reviewing the review of the 1952-53 training year.

Col. Tupper will review his command before the review later more than 36 years Federal service.

Col. Tupper is a well known figure in the Army. He has been assigned here for the past 10 years to attend the Infantry Officers Advanced Course. He returned in 1941 to assume command of the Infantry School Brigade. At that time it was officially called the 1st Infantry Training Regiment. The command included three student training battalions, whose strength reached about 800 men each, for three years. Col. Tupper watched his command expand, and in 1943 it reached its wartime peak.

Col. Tupper's command, the 1st Infantry Training Regiment, was then redesignated the 78th Engineer Combat Brigade. At this point Col. Tupper went overseas to serve with the 34th Infantry Regiment in Europe.

He returned to Fort Benning in 1945 to take command of the 78th Engineer Combat Brigade. He stayed less than a year and was reassigned to Europe to serve as organizer and commander of the 78th Engineer Combat Brigade in Germany.

In 1949, however, Col. Tupper returned to Fort Benning and assumed command of the Student Training Regiment. He stayed in the post until 1951 when he was assigned to the 78th Engineer Combat Brigade. He stayed in the post until 1951 when he was assigned to the 78th Engineer Combat Brigade.

Toni Lenning Wins Hobby Show Award
Ten 12 awarded last week were presented to the 10 first place winners in each class. Major Gen. Guy S. Meloy, Jr., Infantry Center commander, presented the prizes.

The Hobby Show was sponsored by the Fort Benning Club. The club members and officers hope to make it an annual event.

VOTING DAY IN CTC . . . L. Col. Agustine Ramirez supervises voting for "Colonel for a Day" on the range last Saturday. Candidates, with their fathers standing behind them, are Larry H. Hoyle, son of Pvt. Kirby H. Hoyle, William F. Barbaro, son of M-Sgt. Joseph J. Barbaro, and David R. Young, son of M-Sgt. Hilmon E. Young. Dropping the ball, and waiting their turn are Sgt. Fred Koller, and waiting their turn are Sgt. Frank E. Smith, and Sgt. Wayne, Burke, all of Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion, 30th Regimental Combat Team.

Larry H. Hoyle Represents 2nd Bn. In CTC's "Colonel for A Day" Contest

BY BILLY J. MCCORMACK
Men of the 2nd Battalion of the Combat Training Command "took over" from firing the M-1 Rifle last Saturday to drop a ballot in a box to vote in young Larry H. Hoyle, as their representative for the "Colonel for a Day" competition currently being held by the CTC. Larry, son of Pvt. Kirby H. Hoyle, was elected over candidates William Frank Barbaro, son of M-Sgt. Joseph J. Barbaro, a

It is a rare occasion when one of the boys in the CTC is elected to an honorary member of his father's organization. The "Colonel for a Day" will feel that he is a vital part of an important organizational unit, and he will know practically nothing about his job, and probably less about the units that will come under his brief command.

But, and it is a big but, he realizes that he has been an "officer." It is something he can look back on with pride. Something he can tell to his relatives and friends in the years to come.

Mr. Evans Speaks To 508th on Safety

Col. George O. Pearson, regimental commander of the 508th Airborne Regimental Command at Ft. Benning, presided over a safety meeting of personnel of the 508th last Saturday in Theater No. 6. Mr. Pearson emphasized that safety is the most important factor in the success of the 508th, and that every man must be alert and careful at all times.

Using troops of the 508th as visual aids, he showed how the different types of accident could occur. He impressed upon the troops the fact that over $70,000 was paid out in fines in the local courts last year by Fort Benning soldiers. "Driving while intoxicated, driving with reckless speed, and driving while fatigued," were cited by Mr. Evans as the chief cause of automobile accidents.

No closing the lecture, Colonel Pearson cited the untimely death of General George S. Patton as a graphic example of a "brilliant career ended by an automobile accident."

Post Poupouri

WOIG Joseph G. Overbay Jr. who was promoted to chief warrant officer of the 30th RC Tank Company has been promoted to chief warrant officer of the 30th RC Tank Company.

Overbay has just returned from four days of duty in the 30th RC Tank Company. He was a member of Company K, 30th Regimental Combat Team.

The ranks of the 30th RC Tank Company have been increased by the arrival of three Korean veterans. Sgt. Robert L. Reihars has been assigned to the 30th RC Tank Company. Sgt. James S. C. Prior to this he served in Korea as a member of the 23d Infantry Regiment Tank Company.

Sgt. Byron R. Graham, 530th Tank Company is now attending his seventh Army service school. This time at Fort Knox, Ky. Mr. Graham has been in the Army 14 years, and when asked where he "loved the world," he said, "I just about right. He served in the Panama Canal Zone, in the Puerto Rico before and after World War II. During the last year he served in Europe with the Fifth Army Division. He has been in the service with the 73d Tank Battalion and wears five battle stars for campaign there.

Sgt. Graham, a native of Malverne, Ala., is no stranger to Fort Benning. He enlisted here in 1933 and received his basic training here.

The activities and operation of Fort Benning's Infantry School is being praised in a letter received by Col. George E. Bush, acting assistant commander of the school. The letter, written by Fred J. Driscoll, president of a large construction company in New York, particularly expressed appreciation to Major John C. Lane of the Tactical Department's committee B, who served as escort officer for Mr. Driscoll's group during the recent joint Civilian Orientation Conference.

Mr. Driscoll stated in his letter, "Somehow or other, a civilian's appreciation of the Infantry is not usually of the highest, but I can assure you, after seeing the quality of training and the morale and esprit of the young men who are being trained that my impression has changed tremendously. I am viewing my visit to each of the several training points. I feel that the Infantry School is in the top spot."

Saffitz, a melodrama in "Three Cheers for the 30th RC Tank Company," Macon, Ga., portrayed "Daring Deeds." Sgt. Paul E. H. Michaels, Jr., of Beckley, West Virginia, sang "The Ballad of Sarsotia, Fla." Sgt. Wm. Clark Armstrong of the 30th RC Tank Company, sang "The Ballad of Sarsotia, Fla." The melodrama was narrated by Pvt. Robin Calog of Booth Bay, Me. The melodrama was written by Lt. James Peery of Westfield, Mass. The melodrama was written by Lt. James Peery of Westfield, Mass.

The ranks of the 30th RC Tank Company have been increased by the arrival of three Korean veterans. Sgt. Robert L. Reihars has been assigned to the 30th RC Tank Company. Sgt. James S. C. Prior to this he served in Korea as a member of the 23d Infantry Regiment Tank Company.

Sgt. Byron R. Graham, 530th Tank Company is now attending his seventh Army service school. This time at Fort Knox, Ky. Mr. Graham has been in the Army 14 years, and when asked where he "loved the world," he said, "I just about right. He served in the Panama Canal Zone, in the Puerto Rico before and after World War II. During the last year he served in Europe with the Fifth Army Division. He has been in the service with the 73d Tank Battalion and wears five battle stars for campaign there.

Sgt. Graham, a native of Malverne, Ala., is no stranger to Fort Benning. He enlisted here in 1933 and received his basic training here.

The activities and operation of Fort Benning's Infantry School is being praised in a letter received by Col. George E. Bush, acting assistant commander of the school. The letter, written by Fred J. Driscoll, president of a large construction company in New York, particularly expressed appreciation to Major John C. Lane of the Tactical Department's committee B, who served as escort officer for Mr. Driscoll's group during the recent joint Civilian Orientation Conference.

Mr. Driscoll stated in his letter, "Somehow or other, a civilian's appreciation of the Infantry is not usually of the highest, but I can assure you, after seeing the quality of training and the morale and esprit of the young men who are being trained that my impression has changed tremendously. I am viewing my visit to each of the several training points. I feel that the Infantry School is in the top spot."

The Red Cross hospital recreation staff at the U. S. Army Hospital sponsored a variety show in the recreation hall of the hospital. The Master of ceremonies, Dr. Don Caldwell of Bangor, Me., said: "To get the program under way, Miss Hazel Currence, head of the recreation staff, led the audience in a program of community songs. Then Pvt. Harold Hodges of Bangor, Me., sang 'The Ballad of Sarsotia, Fla.' Sgt. Willie Hill

$10,000,000.00 AHEAD OF THEM ALL
For Allied, 1952 was a record breaking in sales, and this was accomplished by planned progress, our Sales were $10,000,000.00 greater than our nearest competitor and we point with pardonable pride to some of the reasons.
Allied is behind the movement for Better Packing, Storage & Hauling. A matter of close cooperation between carrier and shipper—of doing the right time at the right time—in the right way.
Allied has over 2,500 agent-owned and operated vans—the largest, most efficient fleet of Modern Moving Vans ever assembled.
Allied is self-insured—fast claim action—prompt tracing—careful loading and unloading.

The Hated Coffee Break

We have read recently, and at length, that there are some in the land who hate the coffee hour break, especially when it happens to be civilian employees of the government who raise the cup.

As far as The Bayonet is concerned, coffee is especially when piping hot, is to be preferred over other drinks — such as cocoa, chocolate, bourbon, and elderly wine. It is a drink that cheers and if more is drunk, it is consumed in the right places and at the right times. It is a safer, sinner world.

But the case against coffee, in this instance, is that our so-called lay, good-for-nothing civilian employees use law-bought time in which to gulp down rivers of the unholy stuff, bring about in taxpayer-forfeiture, restaurants, and offices doing likewise to the god of idleness and the goddess of chit-chat. The coffee break is a sinner, it critics allow, and there ought to be a law against helping good law with walloping good teeth in it.

And, while they're at it, they say there ought to be other walloping good laws. And these laws, they say, should take away those other walloping privileges that Civil Service employees enjoy. Take away their leave, they say; hint; make them work when sick; cut their pay. Show these loafers, they howl, that the law dollar is a blood dollar and make them sweat blood to get it.

Well, maybe so. Maybe there are some trifling people working for the government. Maybe some knowingly and willingly turn their work day into an eight-

Chaplain's Corner

New Chaplain Speaks Of Noah's Carpenters

BY CHAPLAIN (MAJOR) MILHAUD F. PFEFFERSON
 Dear Readers of the Bayonet: Being new 'er Georgia, I count it a privilege and a pleasure to speak to you through this medium on a very important subject which I hope may be a very important message, namely "Noah's Carpenters."

It was some years ago, one never to be forgotten night, out in the vast Atlantic, when suddenly sky rockets began to pierce the blackness of the midnight vault of heaven. One after another they carried their shining messages of distress to the skies. And one after another their screaming plumes for help faded out, leaving no hope.

It might have been some little vessel with a few bumble bees on board facing death in the darkening Bay waters. It was not some poor baratacote hulk of a tramp steamer that sent these rockets into the sky.

But it was a great ship, the finest, swiftest that ever came from the hand of man. It had made a thousand souls and millions of treasure aboard. It was the Titanic!

But one memorable day thousands of years ago, the finest steamer of the world was in some way to bring to itself the price of the ear one drives the food one eats, the clothes one wears, and the brew one drinks. Where, then, is the justification for condemning Civil Service employees for participating in an institution that is not condemned elsewhere? It is certain customs in government, business, and industry are to be condemned, we could point to greater, more vicious, and tremendously more expensive practices than we find in the councils of the highest placed men and are practicing in the lowest placed. We're not speaking of government.

As for those people who let their mortis set in on paid-for time, we have no justification for them. Their "trike" is old and if we are to believe the signs of the time, on the increase everywhere. The problem of the god-bribe is one for our schools and churches, and for our homes. For as the wages are the first to grow for the tree.

Report From Washington

Well, Every Little Bit Helps!

The Union of South Africa has given the Air Force a check for five million dollars to pay for planes and supplies that it has received for use in Korea. The South African government has furnished an air squadron since November 1950. It has been on missions of interdiction and has been successful in destroying previous payments amounting to over nine million dollars have already been made by South Africa.

Under the provisions of Army SR 615-130-22, continental army commanders are authorized to enlist or re-enlist qualified men for duty as guards and guard supervisors at U.S. Disciplinary Barracks. Terms of enlistment are for three-to-six years or for an unspecified period of time for Regular Army personnel as Regular Army Unassigned.

The Selective Service System has been asked to provide 600 physicians and 135 dentists for the month of May. The Army will receive 200 doctors and 150 dentists within the remainder of the year.

The Navy has announced that two of its sky giants, the RV Lockhead Constations, have been withdrawn from service. The difficulties of maintaining a spare parts program and special maintenance equipment for only two aircraft of any large type made it economically impracticable to operate them any longer.

Prostitute has been designated by the Army, in AR 35-1220, as an injury incurred in action. Hospitalization because of Prostitute, if suffered in action in Korea, will make the injured soldier eligible for combat pay for three calendar months following the month in which the injury occurs.

EM Will Tour 3d Army With Gen. Bolling

THIRD ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Ft. McPherson, Ga.—A two-week tour as enlisted aide to the commanding general of the Third Army is the honor to be given the man selected as "Outstanding Soldier" in a Third Army post competition just announced.

Chosen for excellence both as a soldier and an individual, the "Outstanding Soldier" will accompany Lt. Gen. A. R. Bolling on visits and inspections throughout the area. Among the requirements for selection are no court-martial during current enlistment, outstanding record of duty, and the completion of both the basic and advanced individual phases of training.

The competition will, on a rotation basis, with Fort Campbell, Ky., naming the first man, whose tour will be April 1955. From then on a new "Outstanding Soldier" will come to Fort McPherson every other week. He will live there in a private room with private bath.

After Fort Campbell will come Fort Bragg, N. C.; Fort Jackson, S. C.; Camp Gordon, Ga.; Camp Stewart, G.; Fort Benning, Ga.; Camp Rucker, Ala.

Cloak-and-Dagger Stuff

We of this generation will watch with no little interest if we have sometimes in wonderment and disbelief—the great drama of the Kremlin unfolds before our eyes. It will be a long show, we are persuaded, and a good one if you have a ken for cloak-and-dagger stuff and a purge or two.

For how else can it be? The new masters of that pile of brick in the middle of Moscow, and there are the masters of hundreds of millions in every part of the world, for all their power and puff, cannot be said to be masters of their own lives or destinies. They have lived by the sword, so to speak, and must always wonder when they will die by it.

They are top on the list—we, the free nations of the earth, the country that has given more of its substance to the poor and underprivileged of the world than any other country in the time began; we who are the first to hear the cry of distress in the world; we are the first to answer it with our bounty.

However, the death of Stalin has opened many new avenues for the masters of the Kremlin. Will they now walk down the street of light that leads to peace and good will on earth, as their latest acts and pronouncements would seem to indicate? Well, if they should take this course it will not be for the good of the world for the street will not be alone, with others going the same way. And, as always, we will be out in front.

Rangers Still Function Sans Movie Lights

Movie "stars" of the Ranger Department are having to get along without the bright lights, light meters, scurrying camera crews, and bustling production staff. The Signal Corpsmen, having completed their filming work on the Ranger training movie, have returned to their New York headquarters to get the film into shape for release. At present an NCO class and an officer class are taking the Ranger course, consisting of a three-week period at Fort Benning, two weeks in the Florida swamps and two weeks in the mountains of north-Georgia.

The curriculum, whether movie cameras are in the area or not, is designed to give the men a sound groundwork in all types of fighting.

Library Plans La Traviata

The program for the regular monthly evening concert at the Main Library, scheduled for April 23, will consist of a complete opera. La Traviata by Giuseppe Verdi is the selection. Arturo Toscanini conducts the NBC Symphony Orchestra. Albanese, soprano, Jan Peerce, tenor, and Robert Merrill, baritone, will sing the leading roles.

Adv. Class No. 1 Leads School Brigade Golf Go

With a low net team score of 70 the Advanced Class No. 1 golfing coterie led the field in the School Brigade Spring Golf Tournament which is now in its fifth week of play.

Eight teams are entered in the contest representing each of the regiment and the brigade headquarters in intra-brigade play. A number of teams entered included: Brigade Headquarters Cadre Officers, 1st Student Regiment cadre, Advanced Class No. 1, Advanced Class No. 2, 2nd Student Regiment (two teams), and the 1st Officer Candidate Regiment (two teams).

Former Catcher Mainstay Of '53 Raiders Squad

Mainstay of this year's Special Troops Command Raider's pitching staff is Corporal Clyde Britton, who began his baseball career as a catcher for the Florence, South Carolina, J. C. Lynch High School.

But one year behind the plate for "Britt" was enough. The next season he started pitching, and has been at it ever since.

Britton's only fling at professional ball came the year he finished high school. He spent the 1946 season pitching for Lake City, South Carolina a member of the Palmetto League.

The following year, he found himself wearing an Army uniform and wondering when he would play his next ball game. He didn't have to wait long. After a year of state-side duty he was shipped to Japan. Britton was stationed there for two years and put in two full seasons pitching for the 26th Infantry base ballers.

In 1950, the Korean business flared up, preventing Clyde from playing with any service team. But, it didn't stop the lad from getting in an occasional ball game. Why he even pitched several seasons with a Japanese team, "the Osaka Tigers."

In 1951, "Britt" played with the 22nd General Hospital team, in the All-Japan Tournament. And he pitched his gang right into the All-Japan championship.

Returning to the states in October of 1951, he was assigned to Fort Benning, where he pitched for last year's ASU Raiders in the Special Troops Command. Corporal Clyde Britton, the right-hander from Florence, South Carolina, looks toward a great season or maybe even a championship!

LL Youngsters Will Soon Have Baseball Field

The Fort Benning Chapter of the National Sojourners have collected 70 per cent of their pledged amount so that the Doughboy Little League will have a baseball diamond.

By selling raffle tickets everywhere on post, the Sojourners will present to the lucky ticket holder on May 2, a 1953 Deluxe Chevrolet.

The contract for the field will be awarded immediately and it is expected that the field will be completed before the end of the current baseball season.

There are still some opportunities to get the Chevy by purchasing a ticket from any of the following sellers: Maj. Henry Pray, Capt. William Wimmer, Lt. Col. Paul Mize, Col. George Peterson, Lt. # LL Youngsters Will Soon Have Baseball Field

The Fort Benning Chapter of the National Sojourners have collected 70 per cent of their pledged amount so that the Doughboy Little League will have a baseball diamond.

By selling raffle tickets everywhere on post, the Sojourners will present to the lucky ticket holder on May 2, a 1953 Deluxe Chevrolet.

The contract for the field will be awarded immediately and it is expected that the field will be completed before the end of the current baseball season.

There are still some opportunities to get the Chevy by purchasing a ticket from any of the following sellers: Maj. Henry Pray, Capt. William Wimmer, Lt. Col. Paul Mize, Col. George Peterson, Lt. Herman Zeswitz, Maj. O. B. Stewart, Maj. Ralph Hamilton, Lt. Col. James Francis, Col. W. W. Slocum, Capt. Lloyd B. Breckinridge, Sgt. Capt. Henry Breakiron, Capt. W. C. Holt, Capt. William H. # SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

The objective of the Army sports program is sports for all and in order to achieve this objective, the athletic program is divided into four phases: instructional, intramural, inter-organizational and self-organized programs. With proper emphasis placed on these various phases, a program stimulating maximum participation at all levels of skill can be conducted, and competition can be provided for all units of all commands.

It can be safely stated that each of these phases is in operational standing. This policy is in agreement with the regulations set forth by the Amateur Athletic Union.

Both agencies define an amateur sportsman as one who engages in sport solely for the pleasure and the physical, mental and social pleasures derived therefrom and he who competes in nothing more than a hobby. Under this definition, members of the Army ineligible for amateur competition are those who have competed in sports for money unless it can be shown to the satisfaction of their commanding officer that such acts were committed through ignorance, inadvertence or excusable error or were made obligatory by military authority.

The Army's policy in regard to amateur and professional programs is the Army's policy in regard to members of amateur and professional standing. This policy is in agreement with the regulations set forth by the Amateur Athletic Union.

Both agencies define an amateur sportsman as one who engages in sport solely for the pleasure and the physical, mental and social pleasures derived therefrom and he who competes in nothing more than a hobby. Under this definition, members of the Army ineligible for amateur competition are those who have competed in sports for money unless it can be shown to the satisfaction of their commanding officer that such acts were committed through ignorance, inadvertence or excusable error or were made obligatory by military authority.

"An amateur athlete will not lose his standing because he is a member of an Army team that consists of professionals or if his team may occasionally play against professionals."

"Army squads may compete against civilian professional teams without jeopardizing the amateur stand of competitors when the contest is sponsored by the Army or by a recognized charitable non-profit organization, provided special permission for such participation is granted by the Amateur Athletic Union through the Chief of Special Services."

"Any member of the Armed Forces who engages in professional games or contests as an individual or as a member of a team other than his service team is ineligible to compete as an amateur."

"Subject to the approval of his commanding officer, a military person who is a professional athlete may enter any professional competition he desires provided such activity does not interfere with his military duties."

A big and all important question that is continually a subject of discussion by sports-minded Army personnel is the subject of who is eligible to participate in the various events and on what levels. The Army has established policies relative to the proportion of officer and enlisted men on sports teams which represent units within their respective commands.

Some of these policies are: "All officers and E1M on active duty with the Army for periods of more than 90 days are eligible to participate in the All-Army sports program. Personnel ordered to duty for 90 days or less are ineligible."

"In basketball, football, baseball, ice-hockey, softball and volleyball, 50 per cent of the participants are required to be enlisted personnel, while in all other sports representative teams may consist of officer and enlisted personnel in any proportion." This is in reference to sports contests scheduled by the Department of the Army.

"The proportion of officer and enlisted personnel on teams participating in athletic contests in the form of two or more major commands or between major commands and teams of other services or civilian institutions, will be determined by mutual agreement between the commander of the major command and the commanding officer or representative of the service or institution concerned."

"To assure equal competitive opportunities to members of all military services wherever stationed, the following general principles are provided for the selection of individuals as major commanders in determining whether individual, unit or organizations of another service shall be permitted to participate in the Army sports program:

"Individuals, units or organizations of another service whose participation is desired for the two days of fishing and sking are available at $30 per day."

Officer's Mess Net Tourney Up Saturday

The 1953 Spring Tennis Tournament, an annual event at the Main Officers Mess court, starts Saturday with Lonnie Jordan, 1952 champion, out for his fourth straight singles title.

In his push for the Fort Benning crown, are DeWitt Smith, former University of Maryland player and runner-up in last year's tournament; Dewey Keebler, present Columbus mens singles champion, and former Davidson College tennis ace, Warren Drake, ex-West Point player; Clare Draper, former Clemson College net player.

There is no entry fee for the tournament. However, the losers in the Mens Singles, Mens Doubles, Mens Singles Consolation, Womens Singles, and Womens Singles Novice, will pay for the three new tennis balls that are used for every match.

The awards that will be presented to the winners are now on display in the Tennis Pro Shop. As a tennis aspirant signs up with Chuck Evert, pro, he gets a look at what he is liable to win.

Berths Open On Special Troops Baseball Team

BY SHELDON VILENSKY

By this time Bobby DeWes must be fairly certain that getting a baseball team together and whipping it into shape is a "big job."

Since spring training began, DeWes and his Special Troops Command staff have looked over some 185 candidates; some good, some bad, and some just.

Clyde Britton is just about the only member of last year's ASU-TC mound squad that has returned to the practice strictly and hardy. While pitchers Napoleon Fielder and Hearty Dundson, also from last season's team, score certain of regular berths.

Otherwise, position-wise, things look wide open for DeWes' Raiders. A good bet for one of the outfield spots is newcomer Tommie Thompson. While the catching department has also got "bright" spot, Ho's Ray "Big Stoop" Newton. Newton, a newcomer to Fort Benning, has shown some fine form in drills and granies to work out well during spring play.

A capable left hander in the person of former Long Island University baseballer, Herb Hartman is currently being held down by Mickey Standfield, while Bob Gilbert looks good to have.

According to DeWes, his team is currently being held down by a lot of young "green" leave quite a bit for experience.

parent service can provide appropriate sports competition will not be permitted to participate in the program of installations at which they are stationed.

In cases where personnel of another service qualify as members of an Army team for competition in events in which the regulatory organization is the level of competition, the number of such personnel shall not exceed 25 per cent of the total squad strength authorized for All-Army competition.

The following Army policies will be noted as having a bearing on any exhibition contest where an admission charge is asked:

"At the discretion of the commanding officer, nominal admission charges may be made to military and civilian personnel attending sports events at Army installations. The fact that admission charges are collected by the sponsoring organization or operating agency to defray expenses incurred in conducting an event will not prohibit participation of Army personnel."

Warmin' The Bench

One bright note in the opening of the baseball season will be the Boston Red Sox's starting rightfielder, Jim Pierall.

It's been a tough grind for the "upters" kid of a year ago, but he knows he has to make good and early indications show he will. His spectacular record in spring training this year has convinced Sox manager Yogi Berra that the 23-year-old outfielder is ready and eager for another year.

Pierall, regarded as a brilliant prospect last season, dismayed Red Sox officials and fans alike with his on-and-off-the-field antics. Following a clubhouse incident he was farmed out and it was later learned that he was suffering from emotional and nervous strain.

After a long rest the Red Sox again called him this spring and the talented Westbury, Conn., youth has showed his determination by leading the club at bat with a lofty .450 batting average.

There is no doubt that Pierall has the ability to become a Major Leaguer. During his days at Louisville, scouts watching him knew it would only be a matter of time.

Rio Grande basketball coach Newt Oliver is out to prove that his Boyo Francis is no scoring freak. The small-college coach has already booked 70 games for next season—all against senior colleges.

Boyo scored 155 points last year, but most of them were against smaller colleges. NCAA officials failed to recognize his scoring feat over coach Newt Oliver's protests.

If Boyo can match this past season's 50.1 points per game average in the next campaign, National Basketball Coaches Assn. will be on the spot.

Smith Invents New Rig for Lift

Using a simple rigging device, a section leader in the 19th Airborne Quartermaster Detachment aided in the success of the recent weapons lift staged by the 506th Transportation (helicopter) Company and the 320th Airborne Assault Helicopter Battalion of the 82nd Airborne Regimental Airborne Center.

Sgt. Chester A. Smith, a section leader in the 19th Detachment, rigged a sling for lifting the Artillery Battalion's 75-mm pack howitzer into place by the helicopter.

The sling is simple but it proved to be a time saver. It also reduces the danger of breaking the metal castings on the weapons.

Sgt. Smith and his section drew approximately 1,600 pounds each with a cluster of four cargo chutes. A fifth chute was used to open the other chutes and carried the load to the ground.

ALL-GIRL ORCHESTRA
 Capt. Dale Roby, special services officer, announced yesterday that Freddie Shafer and his All-Girl Orchestra will appear at Fort Benning Tuesday, May 5. They will present a concert at the Main Theatre from 8:30 to 7:30 p.m., then play for dancing at the Main Officers Club from 8:30 to 11:30. The Shafer orchestra made extensive tours of Army, Navy, and Marine Corps bases during World War II.

Col. Tupper Ends Career As Soldier

BY CAPT. EMERSON BIERE
 Today, Col. Sevier R. Tupper, commanding officer of The School Brigade, retires from active military service after more than 36 years in the Army. Born into a military family, much of his youth was spent on or near Army posts. Later he attended military schools and upon graduation chose the military service as his career. Upon graduation, he went to Europe to serve with the American Expeditionary Forces as a company commander and later as an intelligence officer.

He came back to the United States in 1919 and served with the 38th Infantry Division, then stationed at Fort Sam Houston as a Coach's Football.

In 1921 he was transferred to the 27th Infantry (Woolhound) Regiment stationed in Hawaii. By this time he had been promoted captain and given the assignment of battalion commander.

Being an active and ardent supporter of athletic activities he was chosen to coach the regimental football team. In 1924 he was promoted to major, though he was a battalion commander, he didn't see the unit for the entire football season. In his own words, "that was one of the most embarrassing things I have ever been assigned." Incidentally he had the championship football team.

He was recalled to the United States and transferred to Hawaii for a full three year tour in 1927. In 1928, he came to Fort Benning to attend the Infantry officers advanced course. When asked if the present course had changed much, he said, "basically the instruction is the same, with allowance of course, for modernization."

During this period, Fort Benning has been awarded first place in a Third Army publicity contest, topping all other post libraries in the Third Army which submitted scrapbooks illustrating its public relations campaigns.

Miss Barbara Bronson, post librarian, said the publicity contest was judged on originality, attractiveness, and general appeal to the library personnel for whom the libraries operate.

Col. Tupper, N. C., second three honors and Camp Gordon, Ga., third place.

A life magazine photographer, George Flynn, chief librarian at the Veterans Hospital in Atlanta, Miss Eunice Coston, group service consultant at the Atlanta Public Library.

The Fort Benning library will be first place. (See LIBRARY, Page 27)

Limits—
One More On, One Gets Off
 A newcomer to the off-limits list for military personnel was announced Monday by the Provost Marshal's office, and one establishment was taken off-limits in Peacetime. The new establishment is Peacetime Grill, 607 Eighth Street, Columbus, which now is off limits.

The establishment put back on-limits is the Bamboo Club, Highway 241, Phenix City.

Otherwise, the latest list given out by the Provost Marshal remains as published in The Bayonet last Thursday.

COMMENDED . . . Colonel Sevier R. Tupper made it one of his last duties to present Mrs. Lillian Lawson, chief of the student officer section of The School Brigade, with a letter of commendation.

Mortar Bn. Moves Here Next July

The 42 heavy mortar battalion course conducted at Fort McClellan, Ala., moves to Fort Benning early in July when a class of 50 students reports for training.

The five-week course will be open to graduates of officer candidate and associate company officer classes who expect assignments with Infantry heavy mortar units.

The mortar committee of the weapons department will have charge of the instruction, which is designed to train gunnery officers in the tactical aspects of the control of firing by heavy mortar companies and battalions, according to Lt. Col. W. O. Witherspoon, mortar committee chief.

It also will involve forward observance procedures and survey and operation of the gunnery section, said Col. Witherspoon.

Capt. Richard E. Schneider, chief of the committee's gunnery section, will be in charge of the instruction, which is scheduled to begin in July. He led the Infantry heavy mortar officers course. Each class will consist of 50 officers.

He added that the development of the recognition of the need of heavy mortar in the Infantry, said Col. Witherspoon. "During World War II, the Chemical Corps first heavy mortar, the 42nd, was developed. The results so well it put a heavy mortar company in each Infantry regiment."

He added that about the time of the Korean outbreak, the new 42nd mortar was adopted as a standard. (See MORTAR, Page 27)

Any More, Mac?
 As an McCluskey marched another marched — at least until the seventh month of his army career with an assignment to the 506th Company of the 82nd Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

He arrived in Love Company's company shortly after the 506th's arrival in the Pacific. Private John E. Drake, a troop or just turned nineteen, finally got his wish when he joined Mike McCluskey of the 506th A.C. He had patiently awaited graduation from the school to join the airborne.

Trooper Drake went to school in Switzerland for two years. While in Europe young Drake liked to be liked to Denmark from Germany.

Mrs. Lawson Is Commended

Mrs. Lillian Lawson, chief of the student officer section of The School Brigade was recently presented a letter of commendation by Colonel Sevier R. Tupper, commanding officer of The School Brigade who retires today.

Mrs. Lawson, a veteran of 11 years civil service here, began her service in 1941 when she was employed in the Adjutant General's section of The Infantry Center. She worked in this position until 1946 when she resigned. She was re-employed a month later in a clerical position in the School Brigade. It was consolidated with the Infantry School. In 1948 Mrs. Lawson transferred to the Student Training Regiment.

In 1951 the Student Training Regiment was reorganized and Mrs. Lawson was transferred to the 42nd mortar. She was recently the unit was redesignated The School Brigade.

The letter commended Mrs. Lawson for her excellent administrative and clerical qualities.

Lt. Frances M. Kirwin, S-3 of the Airborne Battalion, organized and supervised his last Airborne graduation parade last Friday.

He ships to Europe next month.

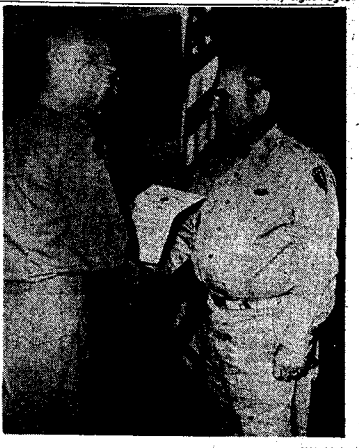

Lt. Kirwin, formerly company commander of Company 1 of the 42nd mortar, has filled the S-3 slot since October of last year.

He served in Korea, with the 1st PCT and participated in Airborne actions over Suchon and Munsan-in.

In his second jump the lieutenant, then M-Sgt. Kirwin, had the "misfortune," as he terms it, to

A Drake Joins The Airborne
 A traveling young Drake has a thin talk about a month, he got a ride whenever he could. He also ventured from Frankfurt, Germany and observed the some of the odities of the Russian soldiers who checked some passing through their zone. He noted that the Russian "always cocky and fully armed."

Drake's father, Captain Waldo Drake, is a staff sergeant in the 506th A.C. He was at one time attached to the 506th A.C. staff relations officer. Captain Drake maintains office in the Low A.C. He likes to Denmark from Germany.

ACHIEVEMENT RECOGNIZED . . . Col. Sevier R. Tupper, retiring commander of The School Brigade, is congratulated by Major Gen. Guy S. Meador, Jr., Infantry Center commander, after being presented a certificate of achievement from Lt. Gen. A. R. Bolling, Third Army commander. The certificate was presented to Col. Tupper as a token of appreciation for his more than 35 years of service. He retires today.

Benning Library Wins 1st Place In Third Army

The Main Library at Fort Benning has been awarded first place in a Third Army publicity contest, topping all other post libraries in the Third Army which submitted scrapbooks illustrating its public relations campaigns.

Miss Barbara Bronson, post librarian, said the publicity contest was judged on originality, attractiveness, and general appeal to the library personnel for whom the libraries operate.

Col. Tupper, N. C., second three honors and Camp Gordon, Ga., third place.

A life magazine photographer, George Flynn, chief librarian at the Veterans Hospital in Atlanta, Miss Eunice Coston, group service consultant at the Atlanta Public Library.

The Fort Benning library will be first place. (See LIBRARY, Page 27)

Maid Of Cotton On Post Visit

Miss Alice Carr of Selma, Ala., the 1633 Maid of Cotton was in a visit to the Infantry Center for a visit to the Main Post area, with a brief stop at the Third Army Food Service Shop at 11:15 a.m. The cotton queen visited the U. S. Army Hospital at 11:15 a.m. where she talked to patients in the wards and saw the Flood Dour Center.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Mark Carr of Selma, Ala., accompanied her tour manager, and Miss Amy Carr, her secretary, accompanied the cotton queen on her visit.

Miss Carr was chosen to represent the American cotton industry at Fort Benning throughout this country and abroad.

Col. E. L. Rowny Elected Head Of Post P-TA

Col. Edward L. Rowny has been elected president of the Fort Benning Parent-Teachers Association for the school year beginning in September.

He headed a slate of nominees elected by unanimous resolution at a P-TA meeting at Faith School Monday night.

Other newly elected officers include Mrs. E. O. Logan, first vice president, Sgt. Eugene P. DeLay, second vice president, Mrs. C. J. Parziale, secretary, and Guy C. H. Bray, treasurer. They will be installed in office at the May meeting.

Col. Rowny presented a report to the membership on the proceedings of the 50th annual convention of the Georgia Congress of Parent and Teachers. Col. and Mrs. Rowny represented Fort Benning at the convention in Atlanta April 17-18.

Guest speaker for the evening was Mrs. Luella Coppedge, visit nurse at the U. S. Army Hospital. Mrs. Coppedge presented hints on the preservation of children's health during the months of hot weather.

Little Theater Cancels 'Man'

Lt. Col. George C. Dallas, general chairman of the Fort Benning Little Theater, has announced the cancellation of the proposed May production of "The Man Who Came to Dinner."

In making the announcement, Colonel Dallas stated that numerous production difficulties had been encountered, chief among these was the lack of actors for the thirty-odd characters of the Kaufman and Hart comedy.

Dr. Roy indicates here that the restoration of several of the key personnel in the play, and re-casting had not been successful, Col. Dallas added.

The Little Theater will be inactive throughout the summer. Current plans call for resumption of activities in September or early October. Announcement of 1953-54 schedules will be made at a later date, according to Colonel Dallas.

JOYNER REPLACES HENRY
Sgt. James W. Joyner, chief mechanical smoke generator operator, has been assigned to the 57th Chemical Smoke Generator Company from Fort Bragg, N. C. Sgt. Joyner will become the company's operations NCO, replacing Sgt. U. S. Army Hospital. Mrs. Coppedge presented hints on the preservation of children's health during the months of hot weather.

TO SHAVE OR NOT TO SHAVE...
However, this is not a question with Chief John Chissay, a sergeant of the 508th ARCT. He has plenty of the stuff that makes a shave comfortable; but the chief, a full-blooded member of the Apache tribe that once roamed Arizona with the great Geronimo, read about Indians veterans of Korea who were on the "war path" because a Federal statute forbids sale of lotions containing a certain amount of alcohol.

Chissay, "Lucky me," said the chief, grinning and adding a few "Ug's."

Gross of 87th Smoke Gets Chem. Assignment
First Lt. James R. Gross, formerly commanding officer of the 87th Chemical Smoke Generator Company, who has been attending Associated Chemical Company School at Fort McClellan, Ala., has been transferred to post chemical section as assistant to Maj. Grant Brickell, post chemical officer.

The 87th Chemical Smoke Generator Company has been running problems for the Infantry School and has yet to receive a rating under "superior." Sgt. K. J. Henry, operations sergeant, said, "We, the 87th Smoke, will not settle for less than the best."

DR. ROY INDICATES HERE
Dr. Howard B. Roy of the Department of Army's Adjutant General Section was at Fort Benning April 27 for a two-day inspection. He was accompanied by a team to survey The Infantry School's Automotive Department.

Gen. J. Lawton Collins, left, Army chief of staff, is greeted by Lt. Gen. A. R. Bolling, center, Third Army commander, and Major Guy S. Meloy Jr., Infantry Center commander, upon his arrival at Fort Benning Monday afternoon. Gen. Collins stopped for a conference with staff before continuing his trip to Maxwell Air Force Base, Ala., Tuesday morning. Gen. Bolling, accompanied by his enlisted aide Sgt. Arthur Childs of Detroit, Mich., arrived a few hours before Gen. Collins.

Gets 249 Bull's Eyes Out Of 250
Officer Candidate Thomas H. Grimes of 13th OC Company set a new record for the M-1 Rifle on the Known Distance Range last week when he fired a score of 249 out of a possible 250. The new record was verified by First Lt. Edgar Haugan of the Small Arms Committee, Weapons Department, after consulting committee files. Candidate Grimes missed firing a perfect score on his 17th round. He had hit the bull's eye eight times from the 100 yard line and eight times from the 200 yard line. On his first shot from the 300 yard line he fired into the four ring. An adjustment of his sights brought him into the bull's eye again and he placed the remainder of his rounds in the center of the target.

Grimes has served almost five years in the Army and was a sergeant in the 97th Signal Operations Battalion in Germany before reporting to Fort Benning for Infantry Officer Candidate training.

Post Talent In N.Y. Try Five or more of Fort Benning's top entertainers will be given expense-paid trips to New York as prizes for winning out in a post talent show scheduled for May 21. The winners will appear on national television in "S. Tallent Patrol," a coast-to-coast book-up, according to Capt. Dale Roby, Infantry Center entertainment officer. Auditions will begin at 2 p.m. May 9 in the Soldier Show's building here and all military personnel are eligible. ## Wilson Tightens Security Defense Secretary Wilson cracked down on security violations and called attention to the necessity for improving security procedures within the Defense Department in two memoranda addressed to the secretaries of the military departments. The Joint Chiefs of Staff, assistant secretaries of defense, chairman of boards, councils and committees, assistants to the secretary of defense and directors of offices in the office of the secretary of defense.

In his security violations memorandum Mr. Wilson expressed himself as deeply concerned over the number of security violations occurring recently within the Department of Defense. This memorandum follows, in part: "Responsible military opinion has established that the nature of information so compromised has seriously affected the national security of the United States. Furthermore, I am informed that intelligence evaluation confirms that such information, both in the aggregate and in detail, has provided vital intelligence to countries hostile to the United States.

"In view of the general international situation and the continuing military operations in Korea, I am impressed with the clear necessity of affording the utmost protection to our scientific, technical, and military advantages. The expenditure of lives and of the wealth of our citizens in the present defense effort makes it mandatory to insure that our military secrets are not dissipated.

"It must be concluded, as to the reasons for this condition, that indoctrination in security regulations generally is being handled in a perfunctory and haphazard manner. Other indications exist that sensitive staffs and agencies lack the detailed working knowledge of security practices and procedures established for safeguarding classified information. Also having bearing upon the security situation is inter-service rivalry in the weapons development field and competition between defense contractors. Although competition as such is indispensable to the American system, it has been permitted to unduly influence decisions on the disclosure of technical developments of military application. Lastly, I believe that the debriefing of civilians leaving Department of Defense employment, or leaving the employment of Department of Defense contractors having classified contracts, must incorporate positive instructions against unlawful disclosure of classified information. Similar positive procedures are required in the case of military personnel returning and separating from the Service.

"As an immediate supplementary measure, I desire that you express in affirmative and unequivocal language to all personnel under your jurisdiction the consequences of unauthorized disclosure of classified security information and that such instructions specifically include key executives and military personnel in headquarters located at the seat of government. "Additionally, our instructions in this matter should provide for continuity of investigative jurisdiction and review to insure prompt and adequate disciplinary action, regardless of rank or position. Disciplinary action should include, in the case of military personnel, trial by court martial or in the case of civilians, prosecution under Title 18, U.S.C., as amended or other federal statutes, as appropriate. Offenses by civilian employees of the Department of Defense should also be reviewed for the applicability of Public Law 733, 81st Congress (64 Stat. 470), pertaining to security risks.

Chaplain's Corner Thou Thief of Ears And Time

BY CHAP. RUBEN T. BUSSEY
There is an old legend which tells of a powerful genius who promised a beautiful maiden a gift of rare value if she would go through a field of coals and select the largest and ripest ear. In doing this she was not to pause nor go backward nor wander hither and thither. She must make her choice as she went along the rows. The value of the gift was to be in proportion to the size and perfection of the ear. When the time came and the maiden finally went into the field, she passed by many fine ears. But so anxious was she to get the largest and most perfect that she kept on without picking any. When the time came and the maiden finally went into the field, she passed by many fine ears. But so anxious was she to get the largest and most perfect that she kept on without picking any.

Report From Washington Good Conduct Medal On 1-Yr. Basis Now

A return to the one-year Service requirement for a Good Conduct Medal has been announced by the Army and Air Force. Executive Order 10444, dated April 10, lists the change. Enlisted men with the necessary qualifications could receive the award after each year of honorable service during WWII, but after the war, the two services upped the required time to three years.

Make Armed Forces Day 'Memorable'

THIRD ARMY HEADQUARTERS, Fort McPherson, Ga. — With preparations for the celebration of Armed Forces Day—May 16—in full swing, Lt. Gen. A. R. Bolling, commanding general of the Third Army and commander of the VI Area Project Group, has called upon all concerned to make it a fitting tribute to the men and women of the Armed Forces. "The training program calls for attainment of the full authorized 85,000 strength by the end of 1956. Knutson Shipbuilding Corp., Balesite, L. T. N. Y., RADM Bureau N. Walton, USN, Chief of Honor of Ships, has announced. The vessel is being procured by the Navy for the AF under single service procurement. They will be used for air-sea rescue work in lakes of coastal waters. The Air National Guard will add 110 completely rebuilt T-60 training planes to its unit training program by fall, it has been revealed by the MG Bureau. Approximately 470 T-60s will then be used for instrument and tactical training of unit rated personnel. The training program calls for eventual equipping of the 27 ANG wings, composed principally of tactical squadrons, with jet planes and the latest type equipment in the shortest time consistent with military and personnel factors.

"The Approach to the Philippines," a volume describing the far-flung amphibious and ground operations which paved the way for the return of American troops to the Philippines in 1944, has been published, the Department of the Army announces. The work, written by Robert Ross Smith, is another in the series of historical books being published on the United States Army in WWII. The volume is available from the Superintendent of Documents, GPO, Washington 25, D. C., for $5.50.

too soiled to be worn another day. Economy was not to be entirely overlooked in his attire, yet he did not wish to wear an undignified neck-piece. His wife settled the question for him finally by remarking, "If it's doubtful, it's dirt." In practical considerations, one is usually safe when he avoids the doubtful. In the realm of eternal values, doubt must be dissolved by faith. Life and death, light and darkness, truth and error, are set before us. At every instant the cry comes for us to choose one or the other, and the choice of one involves the putting away of the other. We must choose. That is one of the certainties of life. "Choose you this day." (Josh 24: 15).

BY ST. J. A. WILLIAMS
The 198th Field Artillery Battalion has been called into Federal service six times since its first activation in 1882, and tomorrow will mark the 2nd anniversary of the sixth recall.

Originally organized in 1889 in Louisville, Ky., it was designated the Louisville Legion, a Kentucky State Guard unit. Seven years later, in 1896, the battalion was mustered into Federal service as the 1st Regiment of Foot, Kentucky Volunteers.

The regiment took part in the Mexican War, winning the first of ten battle streamers at the battle of Monterrey. The unit was mustered out of Federal service in 1847 at New Orleans, La., and reorganized as the Louisville Legion. The year 1869 found the unit being redesignated the 1st Artillery Battalion, 1st Infantry Regiment, Kentucky State Guards, and in 1861 was recalled into Federal service as the Third Kentucky Volunteer Infantry to participate in the Civil War.

During the Civil War it served with distinction with the Union forces, winning five battle streamers at the battles of Shiloh, Murfreesboro, Chickasaw, Chattanooga and Atlanta. The 198th was reorganized at the 1st Artillery, 1st Regiment of Infantry, Kentucky State Guards and was mustered back into Federal service in 1888 to participate in the Spanish American War. As the 1st Kentucky Infantry, the boys of the "Blue Grass State" saw action in Puerto Rico and won a battle streamer for their action there.

Again mustered out of federal service in 1899 the unit remained the 1st Kentucky Infantry until it was called to fourth duty in Federal duty in 1918. At this time it was designated as the 134th Field Artillery Regiment and served with the 88th Infantry Division in World War I. Prior to serving in Europe the Regiment was divided into General John Pershing in his pursuit of the Mexican bandit, Pancho Villa.

After the demobilization in 1919 a majority of Korean returns, but the unit did not see federal service until 1941. The old Artillery Regiment was broken up and the second battalion was designated the 198th Field Artillery Battalion. The 198th Field Artillery Battalion served in the Pacific Theater during World War II, winning three more battle streamers for its campaigns of Leyte, the Ryukus and Iwo Jima. The battalion has been at Fort Benning since January 5, 1952, and while serving as a separate battalion has been under the command of Lt. Col. William J. Takacs, a well-known artillery officer. The battalion was awarded the Philippine Presidential Unit Citation and later was awarded the Presidential Unit Citation for its actions in the Philippines. The 198th is the oldest field artillery unit in the Third Army Area. The battalion is scheduled for a battalion celebration on May 8 and 9, to which the wives and girlfriends of all personnel and their families will be invited. There will be a softball game between the officers and enlisted men, a basketball game, a dance, and a buffet lunch.

ation, and thereafter for the entire course. On days when horses were ridden to field problems, the student would bring the horse to the center, where the student would take over, and would keep the mount until the class returned to the company area that evening. Only three modes of transportation were available at this time. The horse, the narrow gauge railroad that ran to the Hartwood Church Area, and travel by foot.

In 1940, Colonel Tupper came to Fort Benning to assume command of the Student Training Regiment. To him fell the task of organizing the regiment into a smoothly operating school capable of turning out qualified infantry leaders.

There were three student training battalions with a combined strength of about 2,600 men. For three years his command grew and reached its wartime peak of 1943. The Student Training Regiment, as it was called at that time, had grown to two office candidate regiments and an Army Specialized Training Regiment, and the First Parachute Training Regiment.

In describing this growth, Colonel Tupper cited as an example, in July 1941, the office candidate program started with a nucleus company of hopeful arrivals each month. Soon, new classes reported each week, and at the next pep-piled in in the rate of 200 men for a class-day average.

In three years the command had grown from a single regiment of 2,600 men to a smoothly operating brigade of more than 24,000 men. Leaving the command in 1945, Col. Tupper went to Europe to assume command of the 24th Infantry Regiment. The most memorable part of this command was the capture of an entire German Corps surrendered to him. The columns of prisoners waiting to be passed established for screening purposes, he extended nearly 30 miles.

It was found that the prisoners carried ample rations, but lacked bread. This shortage was to be pleased when a storage grain mill located nearby. Grain was ground into flour, and baked into loaves baked enough bread for the entire Corps. All varieties of the Corps were surrendered with the bread, and gasoline had been poured into the best ones. Some of the loaves were so good that they were being taken over, and would keep the mount until the class returned to the company area that evening.

In 1945, Colonel Tupper returned to Fort Benning to assume command of the School Troops. He was again assigned to Europe in 1945, to assume command of the 1st Cavalry Division. He was again assigned to Europe in 1945, to assume command of the 1st Cavalry Division.

Frenchmen Laud Infantry Here

Infantry training at Fort Benning evoked praise last week from three French Army generals who were here for a round of orientation conferences and demonstrations here.

Major Gen. Michel Matagault, commander of the First Battalion of the French Fifth Armored Division, and Brig. Gen. H. P. Perrot, 2d Brigade commander of the French Armored and Cavalry School were the visitors.

They also witnessed a demonstration showing the employment of armor being made attending staff officers in their honor at the Main Officers' Mess.

During the afternoon they were scheduled to tour the Weapons Department, view rifle and weapon platoon in a simulated attack, and receive an orientation on army extension course.

Their agenda Wednesday included a visit to the Airborne Department and the First Officer Candidate Regiment. They were accompanied on their tour of military installations by U. S. Army Lt. Francis Church, tour director.

Woman's Club In Final Meeting Civilian Group Gives $900 to Aid Victims

The Fort Benning Woman's Club will hold its annual May Breakfast on Monday, May 4, at 12:30 in the Main Officers Mess, using an Hawaiian Aloha theme for this final general meeting for the 1952-53 season. Mrs. J. W. Mudgett will preside.

Private Macek received operative voice training at Brigham Young University in Salt Lake City prior to his entry into the service. While in Utah he appeared on numerous television shows. Later, he toured the states with George Nacars, Hawaiian band and orchestra in a musical concert staged at the Hollywood Bowl in Los Angeles.

Other members of the group are: Pte. Toshio Hirano, First Special Troops Battalion; Pte. William Kananele, Pte. Sefo Mallo, Pte. Clarence Gairanis and Pte. Raymond Yason, etc. of the First Student Regiment; Pte. Harry Haines, Pte. Herbert Desquaire, Pte. Peter Alsiche, and Pte. Herbert Schawy of the 508th Airborne Combat Team; and Pte. Mercedes Dango and Pte. Gladys Teu of the WAC Detachment.

Mrs. Daniel H. Hundley, president of the Woman's Club, welcomes members that they are welcome to bring guests. Reservations may be made by telephone to Mrs. John T. Volter, FPO 2-5118, or Mrs. William A. Warlick, FPO 2-4200.

Airborne Dogwood Smiled On Them!

BY VIC JOWERS

There is a little pink dogwood tree not far from Airborne Battalion Headquarters that appears and disappears at will, or so lines several weeks ago, and now is in the news again.

Legend has it that only those bent on some mission of mercy may see this little tree.

Sic. Edward F. Dombrowski saw it one morning just as the carrier was rising. The good sergeant, in checking his Airborne garden, an acre lot behind headquarters that grows various edibles, and—on occasion, the little dogwood tree—heard frantic yips assailing them.

He looked and listened, and to there were five, or so, bundles squealing and squirming and showing signs of their distress.

He formed the pups into a "formation," as any good sergeant should, and marched them over to battalion headquarters.

The fifth one in the formation made off, presumably preferring the company of the little dogwood tree, which was seen to smile again, but the other four were marched into headquarters and "reported" to the battalion sergeant major, M-Sgt. Henry P. Polers, a man noted for his quick decisions, who instantly "reordered" them to the operations section.

Operations, always having a need for extra "personnel," went into a huddle and discussed what should be done with this sudden influx of "men."

The problem was solved immediately.

Men in battalion headquarters scooped-up the pups and each was named after the man with the dogwood and the green thumb, Dombrowski.

The fifth Dombrowski, the one that made off, was the subject of a search party that afternoon and was recovered and given a name by Capt. Richard R. Laban, former Fort Benning heavy-weight boxing champion.

As the light faded that afternoon, the little dogwood tree, it's duty for the day completed, began to fade from view.

Now it is but a memory in the minds of the few whom it has seen fit to honor.

It will come to sight again, we are sure when again there is some urgent need to be fulfilled in the Airborne Battalion.

DOGWOOD "FRUIT" . . . Number five got away and fled through the Airborne garden. Sic. Edward F. Dombrowski studies his namesakes, Dombrowski One, Two, Three, and Four, for injury before "reporting" them to the battalion sergeant major.

Di Giglio Awarded Air Medal At Lawson For Korean Service

Capt. Nick Di Giglio has been awarded the Air Medal for meritorious service in Korea from September 1950 through March 1951 and the Commendation Ribbon for the period of April 1951 through September 1951.

Capt. Di Giglio, weather officer, 25th Squadron, was presented the awards at an informal ceremony at Lawson AF Base last Wednesday, Lt. Col. Doyne A. McManus, executive officer, 44th Troop Carrier Wing, made the presentation.

According to the citation, Capt. Di Giglio, as a result of his professional ability and initiative, contributed immeasurably to the overall operational effectiveness of the United Nations offensive in the air and the combat organizations he served. He was serving with the 25th Fighter Bomber Wing during the period the awards cover.

"To better understand the weather situation involved in lower level interdiction bombing and strafing, Capt. Di Giglio flew 15 weather reconnaissance missions in B-26 Invaders and unarmored C-47 and SA-16 type aircraft in order to verify the accuracy of his forecasts."

Ranger Work On The Ball

Capt. Walter P. Meyer, 39th Regimental Combat Team, has completed the officers' Ranger class for duty, highly pleased.

Capt. Meyer was an outstanding instructor, finishing second in the class, and being the oldest officer, he was referred to as "Pop" by the younger men.

Bayonet Reunites Vets

BY HENRY B. STERN

Three buddies who hadn't seen each other since they were separated almost a year ago in Korea were reunited here last week through an article published in The Bonnet.

The three noncoms, who met while serving with the 1st Infantry Advisory Group, had been stationed at Fort Benning for months but were not aware of their closeness until the article about one of them appeared. The story was about M-Sgt. (then Sfc.) Louis W. Heinrichs, the man who is currently assigned as sergeant major of Headquarters, 2d Battalion.

The day after the story was published Heinrichs received a phone call and heard, for the first time since May 1952, the familiar voice code he and Sfc. Mack N. Smith, supply sergeant of Easy Company, ISD, had used in Korea.

Shortly after they ended their conversation, Heinrichs received another call, this one from Sgt. Denver R. Powell, an aviator with 30th Infantry Regiment's Medical Company, who also served with him in Korea.

"Now that was as pleasant a way to start the day as any I can imagine," said Heinrichs, "and to think we were located in each other's back yards and didn't know it."

Last week the three met face to face for the first time since May 3, 1952, when Smith was rotated back to the States. Heinrichs and Powell followed in August, but on different ships.

"The 'Yehs' yelled Sgt. Powell on seeing Smith, using Smith's favorite remark. After that greeting the noncoms took over the pre-arranged meeting.

"Remember, Obiebs," asked Heinrichs, referring to a buddy they left behind in Korea, "what about Jones's?" and other questions.

"Then there was Raeford," started Smith by the remark was interrupted by Powell who informed his buddies "I'm dating a 14 cousin now." Powell is the only unmarried one of the three.

Later, when all noncoms had a martini and arranged to meet again their story was pieced together.

They met in November 1952 while serving with the Korean Military Advisory Group. Powell was the first of the three in Korea and met the others as he reported to States duty. As a dispensary technician he gave them their inoculation shot from which he received his nickname — "The antibiotic." Heinrichs was assigned as administrative NCO and Smith served as a medic.

"I had no idea the so-and-so was here too," Smith says, "or were in constant touch and coming in to the dispensary 3 or 4 times a week." "Yeah," chimed in Powell, "think of how much we have to tell each other. It's been a long time since we last shot the breeze."

VETS RE-UNITED . . . Sgt. Denver R. Powell, left, and Sfc. Mack N. Smith, show M-Sgt. Louis W. Heinrichs, the story in The Bonnet that reunited the three Korean vets, they were in KMAAG over a year ago.

and Heinrichs to the 2nd BOK Division. Their paths crossed infrequently until May when Smith was rotated. Heinrichs followed in August 11 and two days later Powell was returned to the States.

Each in turn was assigned to Fort Benning but they were unaware of the other's presence. That is until the Bonnet published the story of the old expert.

"I had no idea the so-and-so was here too," Smith says, "or were in constant touch and coming in to the dispensary 3 or 4 times a week." "Yeah," chimed in Powell, "think of how much we have to tell each other. It's been a long time since we last shot the breeze."

Arline Makes Unwanted Pests Disappear As Though By Magic

Although he is no magician, Marvin H. Arline of Columbus can make unwanted creatures disappear. . . In this section of the country there is only one breed of mosquito which carries disease: the Anopheles or malaria mosquito. . . Mr. Arline, the pest's entomologist, doesn't use any magic potions. . . Light traps placed in strategic locations near probable breeding sites, is the weapon the entomologist used to combat this enemy. . . Topping Mr. Arline's list of most unwanted is the termite which thrives on wood at the least dark, damp places. . . Holes are dug in the concrete floors of better rooms and other damp dark locations and an insecticide poured in. . . The second most troublesome villain on the pest is the cockroach, whose number is now at an unusually low tide. . . Rats are no problem, but a few field mice do slip through the reservation fence at times. . . Mr. Arline attended Atlantic City for one year and later went to Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn. He has a BS degree in agricultural science and BS and Master's degrees in agricultural education.

Mr. Arline, technical advisor to the Infantry Center Engineer Section's insect and rodent control branch, said that some of the small, annoying creatures have been shipped here in household goods returned from overseas. The wood beetle, which is almost microscopic, comes from Germany and the grain, while the culicid cricket usually makes its home in Japan. The beetle does a good job of ruining furniture by getting a meal, and the culicid cricket destroys the grain.

Mr. Arline attended Atlantic City for one year and later went to Alabama Polytechnic Institute at Auburn. He has a BS degree in agricultural science and BS and Master's degrees in agricultural education.

Troopers, Separated 9 Years, Meet in Orderly Room of 508th

A happy reunion took place recently in an orderly room of the 508th Airborne Regimental Command Team when two Sfc's, met after a nine year separation. In 1943 two privates, Daniel W. Gomez and Ralph Israel, reported for jump school and were both assigned to class No. 86. Five weeks later they received their parachute badges, were graduated, and went their separate ways. Nine years later the two, now sergeants first class, were again in the same airplane, this time leading a stick out of the door. The two sergeants, with 150 jumps between them, were in the 508th for more than a week, standing many parades and formations together, but never meeting. It took a transfer on Sergeant Israel's part to bring contact between the two. Sergeant Israel, transferring from the 19th Airborne Quartermaster Detachment to Service Battery of the 320th Field Artillery Battalion of the 508th, reported to the first sergeant of Service Battery, Sergeant Gomez.

St. George Chosen 508th's Patron

BY CHAPMAN (M. LT.) PHILLIP McCONNILLE
 Saint George, martyr of the third century and patron of half-a-dozen countries, has been selected as patron of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

The feast day of this saint was celebrated on the 23rd of April by the 508th because the team wears on its shoulder patch the dragon itself, a cross captured by St. George and now exhibited as the emblem of the combat team.

Considerable are the facts that the regimental commander also bears the name "George" and the life of the unit since its reactivation.

...almost two years ago was spent in Georgia. Then, too, the lance used by St. George surely must have been at three points, like the emblem of the 1st Battalion. The dragon's mouth darted forth forced light, which now adorns the equipment of the Second Battalion; and St. George leaped from his horse and pursued the dragon with the wings of the Third Battalion. And he wore on his shield the Cross, now part of the 508th Airborne Field Artillery Battalion crest.

About his life and death there have been many stories, but chief of the legends that surround the soldier-saint is that he delivered a white flag from the dragon that attacked its inhabitants, Caxton, stable, and the following account of that exploit:

The city of Selena in Libya was afflicted for a long time by a horrible dragon which dwelt in a lily swampland not far from the city walls. The breath of this monster was so sulphurous that it infected anyone with whom it came in contact.

"In order to appease the beast, the citizens of Selena gave it a sheep each day until the sheep in the city had been reduced to the point where they were obliged to draw lots from among themselves, and each drew one of their number was sent out of the city to await the dragon and satisfy his appetite. No one was spared if his name was drawn, and at length the beautiful daughter of the king was selected to be a victim.

"In vain did the king offer half of his kingdom in exchange for her release. No one would take her place for all the riches of the realm. Besides, the law stated, positively that each must submit if his name had been drawn. So the princess was dressed in her finest clothing and sent forth to the edge of the swamp to await the dragon. While the princess stood there weeping, St. George appeared on his charger and inquired what such a beautiful creature could be doing in such a terrible place, all alone. When he learned of the fate that awaited her, he leaped from his steed, seized his lance, and rushed into the dismal swamp in spite of the remonstrances of the princess. St. George slays the beast. When he came face to face with the dragon he revivified the poisonous fumes that spewed forth from his nostrils from doing him harm by making the Sign of the Cross over the dragon's head. Then, thrusting his lance into the side of the beast, he subdued him and made him prisoner. Taking day forward, Saint George refused to heap upon him and went on his way as a true knight until finally he was martyred for the Faith."

A special mass in honor of St. George was offered in the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team's Chapel.

The Army Nurse Corps has an authorized strength of 6,500. The Women's Medical Specialist Corps is authorized 285 dietitians, 275 physical therapists and 360 occupational therapists.

Magruder Wins Post Golf Title

Lt. Col. Lawson Magruder of Dallas, Tex., scored a 5 and 3-victory over Lt. Charles Cahoon of Jacksonville, Tenn., Sunday to win the Fort Benning Country Club golf championship in 1953, scored a 71 for his morning round. Cahoon, who has played in several amateur tournaments in the southeast, shot an 83 on his first eighteen. Magruder held a four-up advantage at the end of the morning round.

Commanders Take On Rams In LL Opener

Fort Benning's Doughboy Little League baseball season opens tonight at a specially set diamond just below Blue Polo Field as the Lloyd Plank's Commanders meet Bob Sharpe's Rams at 8 p.m. Col. Bruno Jastrzemski, president of the Dad's Club, will officiate at the opening ceremonies.

Tomorrow night the second game of the season will be played when Jim Graham's Flyers take on John Menehan's Raiders. The Little Leaguers will play every Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday.

HEAVING THE DISC... Sfc. Lionel Pinn, Coach of the CTC Commander track team, is giving Douglas Holmes some helpful pointers on how to heave the discus. CTC is preparing to sweep the TIC Track Meet once again. In 1952, the Commanders represented Fort Benning in Third Army track and field.

BOWLING WINNERS... The Infantry School Detachment won first place honors in the TIC Bowling League. With the team trophy and individual plaques are, left to right, Cpl. Don Stein, Pfc. Art Wuest, Pfc. Milton Daniels, and Cpl. Adolph Greigler.

RECEIVE AWARDS... The Lawson Field volleyball team, runner-ups in the Fort Benning Volleyball League, and the 508th Airborne, runner-ups in the Enlisted Men's Bowling League, pose with trophies and awards received at a Special Services presentation last week. Kneeling are 508th keepers Cpl. Smith, Cpl. Pacionero, Col. Ammerman, M-Sgt. Phillips, M-Sgt. Grysho, Sfc. Rhode, and Col. George Pearson, 508th commander. Standing are Lt. Charles Trotter with members of the volleyball squad. The team is composed of P. J. Madson, D. E. Shreve, H. J. Kingsberg, B. A. Harris, P. T. Still, C. W. Goff, B. J. Ratliff, R. W. Witzel, J. F. Turner, C. F. Tubb, J. R. Williams.

23 Matches Played In Net Tourny Despite Weather

In spite of last week's rain and high winds, 23 tennis matches were played in the 1953 Officers Open Mess Spring Tennis Tournament which saw all the seeded players advance without much difficulty.

Lonnie Jordan, the defending mens single champion and number one seeded player, defeated Ray Kampe, 6-1, 6-1, while second seeded Delton Smith, defeated Dan in last year's tournament, defeated Dr. Manuel Altamirano, 6-1, 6-2.

Dewey Keebler, seeded third in the net tourny, beat Jim Hanlan, 6-1 and 6-0 and Clara Draper, seeded fourth, defeated Stan King, 6-3, 6-3.

In the Women's Singles, Peggy and number one seeded player, beat Mary Daly, 6-0, 6-2.

Matches are to be played during this week and next week, and tennis pro, Chuck Evert, will be on hand to assist with players concerned.

Men's Singles

First Round: Bob Richmond defeated John Christinger, 6-0, 6-0.

Second Round: Peggy Kampe defeated Mary Daly, 6-0, 6-2; Virginia Mitchell defeated Joy Flint by default.

Men's Singles Novice

First Round: Oliver Shephard defeated Park Wortham, 6-1, 6-2.

Second Round: Oliver Shephard defeated Thurston Shell, 6-0, 6-2.

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

by Lester Dimoff

A couple of days ago we were munching doughnuts and sipping coffee at the Main Post lunch wagon a usual morning activity for the benefit of the Johnny-come-late breakfast men. Off in a corner with a number of doughnuts and buns stacked in front of us, were three horse-face characters each cussing the other with words that would have slymied Mr. Webster.

One bull-shaped soldier, if you will pardon the expression, had the floor and was offering his ideas about defensive baseball. It seems that the speaker is a member of one of the units same that was working out in preparation for the forthcoming TIC baseball season.

Inasmuch as the pitcher, definitely a defensive player, is first to hold the ball, it seems fitting that our first words, carefully screened yet staying as close as possible to those used by our would-be experts that morning, are about the pitcher.

The checker of today pitches with one arm. (Who knows what the story will be ten years from now.) In a hard game the arm tires and then he loses his effectiveness. Moreover, a one-armed pitcher is limited to three or four deliveries—a fast ball, slow ball, curve, and maybe some freak pitch.

If a pitcher would take the trouble to master ambidexterity, like Old Man Frisch or Mickey Mantle, who mastered hitting from both sides of the plate, not only would he double the contents of his bag of tricks, but would be twice as strong and also just as long—to say nothing of his effectiveness. How would a club like the Giants like to face a pitcher who was a Newcombe and Dean in one uniform?

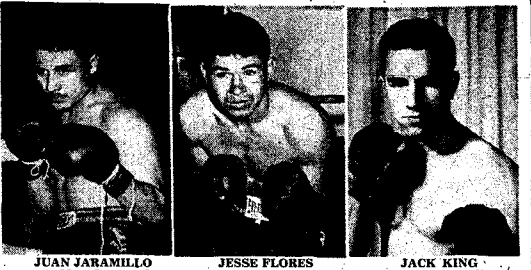

Well, we feel that it is nonsense to argue that a hurler, a full-grown man, would find it impossible to acquire this knack. But we have known people who eat with their left hand, write with their right, and spend money with both. And if you ever were in the Bronx, you will see drivers passing you on the left and right side. And personally, when we are obliged to carry a heavy suitcase we use one hand until it tires, then we shift.

Then, there's the catcher. They give you the excuse that the mask is there to protect the face. But we know very few catchers and no umpires whose faces would not be improved if a few foul tips would smack them right in the kisser. Another trouble with catchers is that in addition to thinking for themselves, they have to keep their pitcher's mind clear, especially, if he is a portlander.

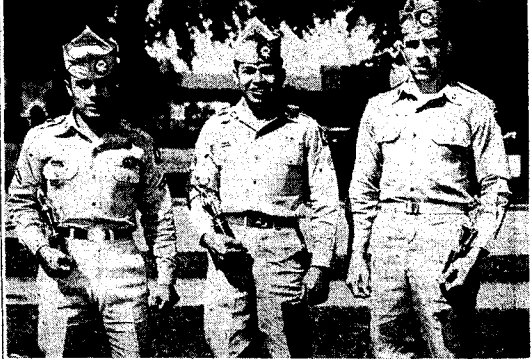

You often see a catcher call time, walk out, and chat with the hurler. The back-stop does all the talking and you wonder what he says. "You are pitcher for the Yankees. We got you in the draft from Piedmont. We are playing Boston-in-Boston. This Williams at bat is a sweet hitter. Don't give him nothing good. There's two out and a man on third. Don't give him nothing good. We're 12 runs behind, which is mild. If you're homeless for Piedmont, keep going the way you have been. If you ain't, don't pitch to him like you did the last time."

With all the gumming and mouth movements around the table, these characters seem used up the supply of doughnuts and coffee. They all vanished around home plate. Feeling the need to muster more energy if they were to continue on the HONORED... The First Student Regiment basketball team (kneeling), runner-ups in The Infantry Center Basketball League, and the 508th Airborne volleyball team, winners of The Fort Benning Volleyball League, pose with their respective commanding officers, Col. Kenneth Macomber, and Col. George Pearson, after receiving trophies and awards. The Black-shirts hoop team is composed of Charles Stewart, Roy Rhodes, Norm Rasp, George Swyers, Carl Proctor, Nelson Ohlemacher, Phil Phillips, Bob Karpinski, Ronnie Richardson, and Coach Terry Scott. The Red Devil volleyball champion team is composed of William Cross, William Lumpkin, James Donehoo, Ed Haste, Joseph Maharvey, William Luby, Franklin Desendorf, John Ritchie and Landrum Landreth. Other players are unidentified.

THROWING IT... Springtime brings out sportsman of all types, golfers, fishermen, baseball players, volleyball players, etc. but M-Sgt. Arthur Hancock, first sergeant of Headquarters Detachment, Combat Training Command, is one who enjoys a good game of horseshoes every day during his lunch hour.

Benning Dogs Victorious In Atlanta Meet

Members of the Fort Benning K-9 Club journeyed Sunday to enter and show their dogs in the "Atlanta Meets." Competition, which was conducted under the auspices of the American Kennel Club.

First place in the Novice Class "A" competition went to "Michael of Benning," a black cocker spaniel owned and handled by Lt. Col. Shuler E. Stone. The dog won the competition with a point score of 186 out of a possible 200.

Second place went to "Falcon," a German Shepherd owned and handled by Captain Henry E. Henderson with a score of 195, and the fourth place "ribbon went to "Wings Grey Rebel," a Weimaraner owned and handled by Major A. G. Wing, Jr., with a total score of 189.

"Kurt," a fawn and white boxer owned by Mrs. Richard R. Peabody, qualified in the Novice Class "A" for future competition.

The competition is primarily designed for the amateur owner and handler. The owner may handle his own entrant in the showing. The Novice Class "B" competition is much more difficult, for it is in this class that the dogs are allowed to be handled by professional trainers.

In the Novice Class "B" competition, a local entrant, "Hans K. Krieger," a German Shepherd owned by Mrs. Berendsen and handled by Captain Berendsen, placed fourth. "Hans K. Krieger" was owned by Richard W. F. Russ, and handled by Mrs. Russ, qualified in the Novice Class "B" competition with a score of 183 points.

"Rebel," the Weimaraner, owned by Major Wing placed second in the Conformation competition and placed first in the "puppies" competition.

The Fort Benning Canine Club boasts a roster of 25 members and meets every Friday evening in Blue Field at 6:30 p.m. All dog fanciers are invited to attend the meetings of the local group.

Benning Units Have Names For Teams

Most of the Fort Benning units have nicknames for their sports teams. First Officer Candidate Regiment teams are known as the Generals; Second Student Regiment as Redcoats; Special Troop as Rangers; Infantry School as Professors; and the 1st Squadron as the "Prof's" for short. Combat Training Command as Commanders; 888th Airborne as Redwings; Provisional Medical Group as Medicals; and First Student Regiment as Blackshirts.

discussion of defensive baseball, the "second guessers" headed back to the steam table for some more food, but the line was closed down. The girls were setting up the noon meal.

With that they turned tall, leaving with the words, "We'll see ya tomorrow — nice sharp."

Jim Rosenstone, Ed Gomom and myself played golf last week and using the facilities at Sand Hill Course, Tennis Anglen!

Any afternoon in the second or third court, you could see baseball teams working out and possibly catch an exhibition game between two different clubs. Since the season doesn't officially open until May 18, seven clubs are tentatively listed for action. Already the spectators are complaining about the umpiring.

The CTC Commanders played a contest with Special Troops last week and, so I am told, the first seven innings were o.k. Then the umpire got on the pitchers and things got hot.

Van Loo KO'd In Inter-Service Boxing Tourney

Gordon Van Loo, Fort Benning's light middleweight champion who rose to All-Army fame, suffered a knockout loss in the Inter-Service Boxing Tournament at Bainbridge.

Having gained the semi-finals of the tourney, Van Loo was knocked out in 1:49 of the first round in his bout with Greens of Burtonwood Air Force Base, England.

Curtiss Wins Women's Golf Title, 3 & 1

BY EVA ULRICH
The Fort Benning Women's Golf Association held its annual championship last week with Irene Curtiss, defending champion, taking the trophy for the second consecutive year.

Mrs. Curtiss defeated Wilmut Over three and one.

Mrs. Ann Magruder won the consolation, defeating Emily Kurtz, four and two while Billie Parr was defeated by Mrs. Baker in the semi-finals.

In the other flights, Rita Willis defeated Louis Biers, four and two, and Ruth Hafferty won the consolation round.

Mary Ann Magruder copied top honors in the nine hole group (second flight) with Eva Ulrich coming in second and Janet Jensen taking the consolation.

In the third flight (nine holes), Marie Madden defeated Evelyn Gallagher, and Nancy Curran took consolation.

After the finals on Friday, the lady golfers entertained at the Country Club, at which time Mrs. Roy Burns, president of the Georgia Women's Golf Association, presented the prizes to all the winners.

Three Teams In First Place In SB Golf

With eight teams vying for honors in the School Brigade Spring Golf Tournament, the pace has quickened as play entered its final week of play.

Three teams were tied for top spot as the weeks play began, however, one team must be eliminated since two of the top teams were tied against each other in match play this week.

Team honors were garnered last week by the Officers team of Brigade Headquarters. The team saved a net team score of 70.00 for low team winner of the week.

Low man for the week, Lt. John Roylin, was also a member of the Brigade team. He carded a net score of 67. Other low man winners for the week were Lt. Subbar, 68; Lt. Col. Madden and Major Williams, 70; Capt. Vance and Lt. Jones, 71; and Lt. Underwood, 73.

Handicaps are played on established on a 34 basis, and play is governed by PGA rules.

Team match winners last week were: "Brigade cadre over Officer Candidate Regiment," "B" team; Second Student Regiment cadre over First Student Regiment cadre; Second Student Regiment cadre over "A" team over Advanced Class No. 2; Advanced Class No. 1 over Officer Candidate Regiment fourth.

Post Athletes Acclaimed In Cup Ceremony

Team and individual trophies were handed out last week to Fort Benning and Lawson Field Air Force Base athletes in a presentation ceremony, held at Special Services.

Highlights of the ceremonies were that three Fort Benning boxers stepped up to Col. Charles Owens, Chief of Staff, and were acclaimed the Best Sportsman, Most Improved fighter, and the Most Outstanding Boxer on the post.

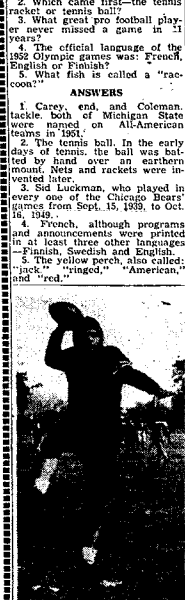

Juan Ramirez, Staff Airborne, lightweight, was given the Most Improved Boxer trophy. Jesse Jones, 8 a.m. runner-up, Best Sportsman trophy. Jack King, First Sgt. light heavyweight who won the Third Army title and rose to the All-Army finals, was presented with the Most Outstanding Fighter award.

The Infantry School Detachment stepped up and accepted the Fort Benning trophy for winning first place honors in the 1952-53 Enlisted Men's Bowling League. The 20th Airborne received the runner-up trophy.

The Red Devils capped first place honors in The Infantry Center Volleyball league and were presented with a gold trophy. Lawson Field accepted the runner-up award.

The First SR basketball team received a trophy for second place honors in the Fort Benning Basketball League. The players received a plaque.

Sports Quiz
QUESTIONS
1. Bob Carey shared what football honor with Michigan State teammate Don Coleman in 1951?
2. Which came first—the tennis racket or tennis ball?
3. What great pro football player never missed a game in 11 years?
ANSWERS
1. Carey and Coleman tackled both of Michigan State's quarterbacks on All-American teams in 1951.
2. The tennis ball. In the early days of tennis, the ball was bald and over an entire round. Nets and rackets were invented later.
3. Sid Luckman, who played in every one of the Chicago Bears' games from Sept. 15, 1952, to Oct. 16, 1949.
4. French, although programs and announcements were printed in at least three other languages—English, Swedish and English.
5. The yellow perch, also called "rock," "kinged," "American," and "red."

RELEASED . . . Lt. Al Buckles, quarterback of the Fort Benning Special Troops Rams and the league leading passer, was released from active duty last Sunday. Buckles, who started his grid career in Arizona, is heading for the west coast. A former service football player with the UCOM Munich, Germany, Broncos, Buckles was assigned to the First Officer Candidate Regiment before reverting to inactive duty.

PREPARING FOR OPENING . . . The Sand Hill swimming pool has just been repainted and looks like new. Scheduled to open some time this week, Special Services hopes that attendance will exceed that of last year. Lt. George Walker observes the final touches as Sgt. Harry B. Richardson and Sgt. William Williams repaint the pool sides and ledges.

Fort Benning has the red carpet ready to roll out to the event of the returned U. S. prisoners of the war in Korea are sent to the post for hospitalization.

Arrangements also have been made to make Fort Benning facilities available to families who desire to visit the returning veterans.

The U. S. Army Hospital will place each returnee in a private room, and after an examination by hospital doctors, the patient will be granted a 30-day convalescence leave if his condition permits, according to Col. Mack Green, surgeon.

Maj. Gen. Guy S. Meloy Jr., Infantry Center commander, or his representative will greet each Korea veteran as he arrives at Lawson Air Force Base. Members of the press and radio will be invited to the welcoming center. Pictures and personal interviews will not be allowed unless the man's condition permits.

Families of the veterans will be presented pamphlets describing post facilities to them, and bulleting will be available on the post. Normal visiting hours at the hospital dining room will be waived.

Relatives may eat in the hospital dining room with the patient.

A Fort Benning officer will be granted to assist each family or relative who visits one of the returnees.

He drunk stepped into an open elevator shaft and fell three stories. He picked himself up, brushed off his clothes, and indignantly shouted: "... I said up!"

Clothing For Stricken Folk

Members of the 198th Field Artillery Battalion are conducting a clothing drive to help the people in the storm-stricken area of the 4th Street School in Columbus, Ga. Mrs. F. A. McCarver of Headquarters Battery and his wife, Mrs. Lavern McCarver, a school teacher, and other teachers of the 4th Street School, organized the clothing drive for the stricken folk. Clothing of all types and sizes is being collected by Sgt. McCarver and distributed by the teachers of the school. The sergeant says he can well "realize how everyone feels, for I was in a tornado once in Tennessee that destroyed my home."

Huge 'Metal Pie' Operated By Ordnance

Everything from watch jewels to heavy tanks makes up the huge metallic "pie" in which the Ordnance Section has fingers. The pie, concocted to service the Infantry Center, contains 25,000 different items. Whether a unit is looking for a watch spring or a tank, the Ordnance Section is the place to find it.

Ordnance is one of the post's biggest functions. It issues supplies, inspects and maintains weapons, small arms, and artillery and serves as an experimental station for various training aids.

The Ordnance Section's Supply Department operates in a manner similar to a bank. When a unit deposits a piece of equipment to be repaired, it receives a check slip and another when the equipment is returned. Like every dollar in a bank, each piece of equipment has to be "balanced" on the books, and the department is accountable for each mil and bolt issued.

Ammunition also is a responsibility of the Ordnance Section and close tab is kept on this when it is issued, said Col. F. W. Rodman, Infantry Center ordnance officer.

The Ordnance Section's Maintenance division repairs all equipment which individual companies cannot handle. This division operates Armament and Fire Control, Automotive, and Tank Maintenance shops.

The Armament and Fire Control shop, whose superintendent is Cpl. Wolfe of Columbus, has facilities for repairing tank gunnery, binoculars, fire control equipment, heavy artillery, and watches.

The shop also is a testing ground for improvement to training equipment. These improvements may be attributed largely to the efforts of Ordnance Engineer Roy S. Miller of Columbus, who has saved the government thousands of dollars. As an example, Mr. Miller designed a sub-caliber device that allows the mortar to be fired with a 50 caliber ball cartridge costing 26 cents instead of the standard mortar which costs from $6 to $15.50.

Letters of commendation were sent to the men of Able company and 19th Airborne Quartermaster detachment this week by Colonel George O. Potpourri, 30th Airborne Regimental Combat Team commander.

The letters commended the men of the respective units for their acceptance in not receiving any delinquency reports for the month of March.

Captain L. E. Herriman commands Able company, and the 19th Airborne QM detachment is headed by 1st Lt. Landrum R. Langford.

Stated at attend Army Service Schools in the United States and Canada are two officers and four enlisted men from the 30th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

Captain Robert M. Kelly of Love Company will attend the Air-Ground School at Southern Pines, N. C., while Second Lt. Charles F. Ryan, Headquarters Company, Second Battalion, attends a course on Infantry communications at Fort Benning.

Courses on Infantry Operations (The Rights of Headquarters Company), Second Battalion, and Thompson's Second Battalion, and Thompson's L. Walls of Headquarters and Headquarters Company, First Battalion, Ernest W. Whistler, Headquarters Battery, 30th Field Artillery Battalion, is headed for Fort Jackson to study the Field Wire man's course.

Sgt. Douglas W. Eakin, Headquarters Company, Second Battalion will attend the Command and Training group at Rivers, Manitoba, Canada.

Paper 'War' Fought Here Last Week

Simulated warfare broke out at Fort Benning last week as 1300 Infantry School students, instructors, and supporting troops took to the field in the post's largest annual war games.

The only weapons used in this mock three-day battle, however, were pencils, maps, and sound Army tactics concerning modern Infantry warfare.

The simulated war, called a Command Post Exercise, was designed to give Infantry School students an opportunity to apply under field conditions the tactical principles and staff procedures they have learned in the classroom and field.

The Post Training CPX, which ended May 1, employed both enemy and friendly forces, according to Col. C. F. Meddock, Jr., maneuver director.

These forces, however, were on paper only, and were represented physically by their commanders and staffs.

During the three-day problem the Infantry School students, officers, officer candidates, and supporting troops represented the staff personnel of one reinforced enemy regiment and two friendly Infantry regiments.

Realism was obtained through the use of umpires who planned tactical situations which combat officers were to solve. In addition to creating simulated combat situations, the umpires also simulated the procedures, methods, and tactics used by the battalion and regimental staffs to defeat the opposing force.

During the problem, the staffs of all three simulated regiments practiced planning and executing offensive, defensive, and retrograde maneuvers.

Participating in the CPX were members of the two advanced officer classes now at The Infantry School and members of the Army Officer Candidate Company. Both groups held equipment and battalion staff positions.

The staff and faculty of the Infantry School acted as advisers during the problem, and elements from the Combat Training Command and 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team furnished supporting troops.

Others taking part in the exercise were 229 officers and cadets from the Provisional Communications Detachment, XVII Airborne Corps, Fort Bragg, N.C.; a psychological warfare team from the Second Loudspeaker and Leaflet Company, Fort Bragg, light aircraft from Fort Benning's Army Aviation Section, helicopters from the 566th Transportation Company, and tactical aircraft from the 388th Fighter Bomber Wing, Alexandria, Air Force Base, La.

Capt. Greene Appointed Aide

Capt. Byron D. Greene, Jr., officially assumed duties as aide-de-camp to Major Gen. Guy C. Meloy, Jr., Infantry Center commander on May 1.

Capt. Greene, formerly assigned to the comptroller's office, replaces Lt. Elmer E. Graham, who is returning to the Airborne Detachment for a tour of duty. The new aide-de-camp received his basic training here in 1946 and served with the 184th Infantry on occupation duty in Japan from 1947 to 1950. He was with the Ninth Infantry, Second Division, in Korea, 1950-51 before returning to the U. S. to take the officers' advanced course here in 1952.

Upon graduation he was assigned to the organization section of the comptroller's office.

BRIG. GENERAL CARL F. FRITZSCHE

New Asst. Commandant Welcomed To Benning

An 11-gun salute Monday boomed a welcome to The Infantry School's new assistant commandant, Brig. Gen. Carl F. Fritzsche, who arrived Sunday and was officially greeted at 8:15 a. m. Monday on Chapel Field where an honor guard of Infantrymen stood at attention and a battery of airborne artillerymen fired a salute.

Following the salute, Gen. Fritzsche, accompanied by Major Gen. F. Fritzsche, met press and radio representatives before reviewing the work of the school's Academic Department.

Gen. Fritzsche, a former instructor at the U. S. Military Academy at West Point and the Army War College at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., returned to the U. S. from Korea about a month ago from his assignment as assistant commander of the 25th Infantry Division. He went to Europe with the 122nd Airborne Band.

Fort Benning troops are making elaborate preparations for participation in the observance by civilian communities of Armed Services Week, May 10-18.

Col. Jefferson Cronk, project officer, reported that in addition to taking part in parades in area cities a number of Infantry Center units will furnish store-window and outdoor displays in Columbus, Miss., May 15, will include men and vehicles for the Combined Training Command, one battery of men with their vehicles and howitzers from the 28th Airborne Field Artillery Battalion, one Consolidate Regiment, the 122nd Airborne Band, about 50 Waco, a section of men and their vehicles from the Provisional Medical Group, engineer vehicles and personnel and a platoon of tanks.

In addition to the Army's part in the parade, Airmen from Lawson Air Force Base will fly 18 cargo planes over the parade route, and three squadrons of Lawrence airmen will be among the Twelve Columbus stores windows will be decorated with displays of Armed Forces equipment, six windows by Fort Benning, four by Lawson Air Force Base, one by

Norse General Praises Post's Training Aids

Our training aids got an admiring eye from Lt. Gen. Wilhelm von Tengen-Haasten, commander-in-chief of the Norwegian Army, as he toured The Infantry School.

"I have received a general briefing and visited your various departments, and I greatly admire the training aids you use," Gen. Haasten said.

As commander-in-chief of the Norwegian Army and commander of the Allied Land Forces in Norway, Gen. Haasten is basically an Infantryman and underwent such training in his own country early in his military career.

"There have been great improvements made in Infantry training since 'look it,' he declared.

Gen. Haasten was commander of Norwegian forces in England during World War II and helped plan the Allied invasion of Norway in 1940. He was in Norway from 1941 to 1945. For his part in the reconquest of his country early in his military career.

May 30 Memorial Day Post Holiday

National Memorial Day, May 30, has been declared a legal holiday for most personnel, according to a directive issued by Major Gen. Guy C. Meloy, Jr., Infantry Center commander.

Special services in memory of the heroes dead in World War II have been planned on the main grounds of the post cemetery.

The Garrison flag will be lowered to half-staff in the morning and will remain lowered until 11 a. m.

The 122nd Army Band, from a position near the flagpole will play the national anthem for 15 minutes, beginning at 11:45 a. m. At noon the national salute of 21 guns will be fired, and the flag will be hoisted to full mast as the band plays The National Anthem.

Boy and Girl Scouts will decorate graves in the memorial cemetery at 10 a. m. at the Post Cemetery, according to Chaplain (Col.) Lexington O. Sheffield.

There also will be a company of Infantrymen, firing squads, to fire three rounds of volleya and a bugler to sound "Taps."

These displays will include clothing, small arms, troop information and education equipment, and airborne equipment. The windows will be decorated May 11 and will be changed daily through May 15.

Stores whose windows will be decorated include Kivert's, Davison's, Sears-Roebuck, Montgomery Ward, Kayser-Lisenthal, Hoffman and Gentry, Chausseur Co., J. C. Penny, Moskaly, Rothschild's, Hailing Brothers.

Armed Forces equipment also placed on the parade route, parkway, and personnel will be on hand to answer questions.

Post units scheduled to parade in Armed Forces Day celebration nearby cities include one Infantry battalion, one field artillery battalion, and one air station from the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team which will appear in Atlanta, Hartsville, Marietta and LaGrange.

One Infantry company of the Combat Training Command will parade in Opelika, along with the 122nd Army Band, which also will appear in Birmingham along with one Infantry company and one field artillery battery from the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team and a package assembly also will be featured in the Alabama city. ## 508th Sgt. Wins Watch In Top Spot

A Red Devil mess sergeant, Robert D. Cash of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat is sporting a brand new wrist watch. It was awarded to him by the Third Army Food Service for taking top honors, in the contest on mess management.

Sgt. Robert D. Cash of the 15th Airborne Quartermaster Detachment, awarded the mess management course here which lasted from February 27 to April 24. There were 20 men in the class with the Red Devil mess steward graduating with a rating of "excellent." Back in 1946 Sergeant Cash attended the Cooks and Bakers school here and was graduated as the second highest in the class.

Cash reinstated last February for three years. He was with the first group to report when the 508th Airborne Infantry Regiment was reactivated.

Healing originally from Douglas, Arizona, Sergeant Cash calls Clayton, New Mexico, home base. But for the next "twenty years" he will call Benning home. He declared the sergeant.

Sgt. Hand Heads Red Devil NCO Club

BY J. N. MITCHELL
The "first soldier" of the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team was appointed president of the board of the newly-elected Red Devil NCO Club governors.
Master Sergeant Henry J. Hand, regimental sergeant major, has taken over the helm of the Red Devil NCO Club. Formerly this post was held by a custodian. However, the club is a custodian's primary concern now will be with running the club to meet the pleasure of its members. He will not be burdened with policy-making responsibility.
"The Red Devil NCO Club exists solely for the pleasure of its members and their friends," the new president said. "It is our policy to honor all membership cards from our own members and those of NCO Messes on the Post. Financially, the club is a communal concern, that is, the members share its full financial responsibility. A monthly bulletin is posted so that they may know at any time how their club is being run."
Aside from the variety of entertainment offered each night, dances, cards, televised fights, and other pastimes, the post is being remodeled so that the children of its members may use it during the day. Beginning this month a nursery will be operated on Saturday and Sunday nights.

The High Price of AWOL

During the Revolutionary War between our country and Great Britain, one of the major problems facing General George Washington was the fact that his troops would simply take their rifles and leave for home. Most of them had no real good ones to them. To some of the backwoodsmen itching for a fight, the war seemed dull. They were sitting out long days and doing nothing. So they went home, leaving the Army seriously in need of their help in moments of greatest crisis. Others went home to do the spring plowing, or to take care of their families, or for any of scores of reasons which seemed valid to them.

Time is A Sacred Trust

BY CHAPLAIN J. V. MEHENRY
Have you time for God? If not, why not? The minutes, hours, days, and years you have are a gift from God. Throughout the Scriptures God teaches us to hold this gift of time as a sacred trust. Jesus indicates the importance of time by admonishing his followers to "watch," "to wait," "to look," "to pray," "to be ready." Paul challenges the Ephesians to live wisely and carefully, redeeming the time for good and holy purposes.

MERITORIOUS SERVICE

Col. Cortland K. Krans, commanding officer of Special Troops command, left, awarded the Bronze Star to WOJG Durant G. Wadsworth, who distinguished himself by exceptionally meritorious service in Korea during the period from February 28, 1951, to April 28, 1952. WOJG Wadsworth is assigned to the 106th Transportation (Heptar) Cargo Company.

CTC, 508th Dental Clinic At Sand Hill Fulfills Need

The dental service which fulfills the dental requirements of Fort Benning is a widespread activity confined in the post. The Sand Hill Dental Clinic is that part of this service that satisfies the mental requirements of a routine, emergency, and restorative nature for the units stationed here. These troops include the 508th Airborne Command and the 508th Airborne Regimental Combat Team with its attached and supporting units.

PLANNING NEW MOLARS . . . Capt. T. H. Shipman plans New Teeth for Pfc. Otto Wittgen of the 508th ARCT, left, while Capt. Frank J. Huebner excavates a decayed tooth for Pfc. William Petty, of Co. F, 30th Regimental Combat Team.

Of course, the separation of personnel has reduced the dental clinic, but it has reduced the number of dental personnel too. As a result, the professional activities with only four soldiers have been between appointments. The dependents of our soldiers have also been able to receive dental treatment in the clinic which would not be possible with the requirements of the troops.

Little 'Colonel' 'Critical' Of Dad's Barracks

BY CAPT. A. M. LEONARD

The "Colonel for a Day" contest ended in a haze of glory for six little boys last Saturday. It was possible for them to have joined the Army, we would have standing around the area for an hour, and screaming to ride tanks.

Joseph Scott, Jr., the son of M. Sgt. and Mrs. Joseph Scott, representative of the 3d Battalion, who was elected "colonel" while the other three boys' mental headquarters complete in uniform, insignias and ribbons. Headquarters Detachment, CTC.

Next in line for the post, Wormack was in the process of being in- and Garcia was a trip to a mess-hall in the 188th FA. Bn. area where they were given milk and cake. This was followed by an inspection of the 198th Gun Park. The highlight for young Scott was the arrival in the 3d Battalion, 30th RRZ area, where he was greeted by Lt. Colonel Abernathy, the battalion commander, and where his father reported to him that his platoon barracks was ready for inspection. "Colonel" Scott was quite critical of his father's barracks. This was followed by an inspection of Company I's mess hall and topped off with ice cream. These boys are now completely sold on the Army and would like very much to get in, they said.

Hughie Wormack is the son of Sgt. and Mrs. Harold Wormack, Provisional Battalion; Larry H. Hoyle is the son of Pfc. and Mrs. Kirby H. Hoyle, Second Battalion, 30th RRZ; Cody Ray Wells is the son of Pfc. and Mrs. William S. Garcia, 188th Field Artillery Battalion; James W. Dalton, the son of Sgt. and Mrs. Theodore L. Dalton, 72d Tank Battalion; and Cody Ray Wells, the son of Sgt. and Mrs. Alfred R. Wells, 78th Engineer Combat Battalion.

The colonel-for-a-day program is sponsored jointly by Service Clubs No. 2 and Combat Training Command.

inspected by Colonel Frank L. Elder, the little colonel took part in the inspection.

Immediately after inspection Joseph was taken to the 30th Tank Company Motor Pool where he was joined by the members of his staff, all "lieutenant colonels," who were the other boys who were in the contest. They were Don Carlos Garcia, Hughie Wormack, Larry H. Hoyle, Cody Ray Wells and James W. Dalton.

The boys were treated to a ride in an M4 tank and the rain didn't dampen them one bit. After riding around the area for an hour, they were reluctant to go to their next place of inspection.

"Colonel" Scott, Wormack, and Garcia were then given a demonstration on the operation of searchlights by the 38th Searchlight Platoon, followed by the other three boys' mental headquarters complete in uniform, insignias and ribbons. Headquarters Detachment, CTC.

Next in line for the post, Wormack was in the process of being in- and Garcia was a trip to a mess-

Fun and Profit in Basement And A Fur Coat For Mrs. Brown

Maj. Brown Leaves For Korea; Mrs. Brown Tends Chinchillas

BY JOYCE FERNANDEZ

When Major L. A. Brown left for duty in Korea last week, he left his wife Colleen with a basement full of small, furry animals and a bright future.

But that's okay with Mrs. Brown.

These small, furry animals are chinchillas, luxurious fur-bearing animals that produce fur worth "more than their weight in gold."

Since early 1949 when they bought their first pair of chinchillas, the Browns have "partayed" their original investment into a herd of 21 of the little South American natives.

Chinchillas are extremely hardy and respond readily to attention. However, the human odor which clings to their fur when they are handled is distasteful to the fastidious chinchilla, hence little handling is involved. There are from 50 to 50 hairs in each hair root, making

Members of the Fort Benning (inland) Fritzsche, former assistant commander of the 25th Infantry Association will celebrate the 25th anniversary since the association was first chartered in New York in July of last year, and the national association chose the Fort Benning chapter as commandant, Brig. Gen. Fer-it impossible for vermin to live on their skins. They are also odorless. As a result, they are easy to care for, even in your own home, Mrs. Brown says.

Air conditioning is normally required for breeding chinchillas in this part of the country, but the Browns found the basement of their Muscogee Heights home ideal for their needs. Quiet is also important.

Their chinchillas are kept in pairs in cages. The animals are graded when they are six months old, with particular attention to the formation of animal and fur quality. The color of the fur ranges in various shades of steel blue-grey, but color actually plays a small part in the grading of the animal.

After grading, chinchillas are mated, and normally produce from one to four babies in each litter. Gestation period is 111 days. Pedigree cards are maintained on all the animals.

When Mrs. Brown learned that her husband had received orders for the Far East, she decided to put her chinchillas back into a full-time project.

"Anyone can buy chinchillas," she said, "anyone who has $175.00 to invest in a mated pair."

Two pioneer airlines
DELTA and CHICAGO & SOUTHERN

Merge
to serve you better

TWO PIONEER AIRLINES, each successful in neighboring territories, have now consolidated. Delta has served the South since 1925 and also links it with the Midwest. Chicago & Southern, founded in 1933, has been predominant in the Mississippi Valley and ties it to the Caribbean as well.

This merger is one of top management and line personnel, as well as routes, and the public will gain from the combination of talent and facilities. Approved by the Civil Aeronautics Board and the President of the United States, it has now been ratified by the stockholders of each line. Operation as one company, Delta-C & S Air Lines, is now in effect.

For the immediate present, flight schedules will remain the same on both divisions. Through-plane service will continue in cooperation with American and National Air Lines to the West Coast, and TWA to Detroit, Pittsburgh and New York. In the near future, however, additional through-flights will be offered, including expanded service between major cities of each division. Still other services are planned for development if authorized by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

The merged airline intends to maintain the reputations earned by the two individual companies for friendly, hospitable service with modern, luxurious equipment—all seats in pairs on all flights.

For information and reservations: Phone Ft. Benning 33219 • Ticket Office: Building 1760

The combined fleet will feature 300 mile-per-hour 56-passenger DC-6's and 37-passenger Constellations for non-stop, express and overcast service, with new 44-passenger Super Convair 340's and Douglas DC-3's on shorter flights. Additional 170 mile-per-hour Convair 340's will continue to be delivered until this fleet totals 20. Four 362 mile-per-hour DC-7's will be delivered early next year so that the combined fleet will total nearly 70 aircraft with 2,400 seats by mid-1954.

Based on current passenger-mile figures, the new company will be the fifth largest domestic airline, serving 25,000,000 people in 55 U. S. metropolitan areas and 20,000,000 more in 6 Caribbean countries.

Ample employee protective provisions have been made for personnel of both lines, and the contemplated increase in volume of service assures greater opportunity for all. Thus you will be seeing your same friends behind the ticket counters, the same charming stewardesses on all flights.

In all 61 cities of the new system this week you will see a new consolidated insignia on the counters and in the windows, an expanded map on the wall, a new joint time-table for your reference. You'll find all your old friends under a new banner, but as anxious as ever to please you and to serve you with the best in air transportation.

New PM Device
Spots Violators

A new method of identifying automobiles involved in criminal action has been adopted by the Provost Marshal's office.

The new car identification process, however, will be used only in connection with a major crime, declared Capt. Louis Tritton of the Traffic Section, who coordinated the new system.

This is the way it works: Addressograph and Multigraph machines will make metal plates for each vehicle registered at Fort Benning.

The plates then are placed in metal holders with four small tabs containing one to four holes each attached to the top of each plate.

When a description of a car is reported, the machine is set according to the information. A small bar containing a series of metal pins then is attached to the Addressograph machine.

These pins strike the tabs of the plates as they pass through the machine, and plates answering the description of the wanted vehicle are sorted out while the other plates drop into a file drawer.

As a plate is sorted it moves under the addressograph stamp, and information on that plate is stamped on a long roll of paper.

After all the plates have been processed, a list has been compiled of all registered cars answering the general description of the wanted car.

About 27,500 cars are registered on the post, because of Infantry School classes, however, the Provost Marshal's office reports a yearly turnover registration of about 40,000 vehicles.

Soldier Revue
Arrives Here
May 20-22

An all-soldier musical revue, featuring folk singer Yaron Young, will be at Fort Benning May 20-22.

Young is a guitarist and singer whose recent recording "Goin' Steady" is a nation-wide favorite.

Also in the show are George Rudolph, young piano virtuoso; Don Meahan, RCA recording artist; Dwight Matcain, "The King of the Marimba"; Bill Gaddy, who was featured on the "Honey" television show; comedian Bill Black, and "The Circle A Wranglers," western cowboys.

Capt. Dale Roby, post entertainment officer, announced the following itinerary: Club No. 1 at 8:30 p.m.; May 21 at Lawson Air Force Club and the Red Cross Recreation Hall at the U. S. Army Hospital; May 22, Main Theater at 7 p.m.

The all-soldier revue, billed as a package show, is sponsored by Third Army Special Services. The performances here is being arranged by Special Services Office.

Traffic Violations

Four post personnel had their licenses revoked and one his license suspended during the period April 24 to May 1.

Sgt. Leroy Moody, Medical Holding Detachment, U. S. Army Hospital, had his license revoked for failure to stop at a stop sign and speeding 15 miles an hour above the speed limit. His license was revoked for a period of four months, as he had a previous speeding charge.

When Pvt. Kenneth M. Murphy, Co. A, Airborne Battalion, First Student Regiment, appeared before the traffic enforcement officer to answer a speeding charge, his license was revoked for a period of four months. He was suspended from the limit in a fifteen mile zone.

Pvt. Charles V. Williford, Casual Co., 1st Student Regiment, was given a traffic violation summons for reckless driving. When he appeared before the traffic enforcement officer and his license was revoked for four months, as he had a previous traffic violation.

Sgt. James B. Daniels, 506th Trans. Company (Hq.), had his license revoked for allowing an unauthorized person to operate his vehicle.

This week's only suspension was for speeding. Cpl. Harold Davis, Headquarters and Headquarters Co., 1st Student Regiment, had his license suspended for 30 days on that charge.

TWO ASSIGNED SERVICE CO. Service Company, 30th Regimental Combat Team has received two replacements. They are Pfc. Robert Burkett and Ronald S. Larse.

Post Has Women's Golf Meet

Post's Curtiss Among Favorites In 135 Golfers

By PAUL HOGAN

With 135 entries entered, qualifying for the 1953 Georgia Women's Amateur golf championship tournament got underway Monday over the Fort Benning Country Club course.

Only two previous champions are listed among the lady linksters from Georgia, and the tournament will be missing defending champion Eileen Stubb. But the field is spotted with hard-hitting youngsters and sharp-playing veterans.

Driven from the host Columbus Country Club course by a vicious windstorm two weeks ago, the tournament will produce the state women's champion for the 24th time. It is the fourth time Columbus has been the host and the second time it has been played over the Benning layout.

Match play began on Tuesday morning with the 36-hole final round set to commence tomorrow.

Miss Martha Daniel of Rome has won the championship three times, in 1937, 1944, and 1949. The other previous winner is Mrs. Frank Kibler of Atlanta, the former Miss Caroline Dykes of Columbus. She won in 1931 at Atlanta's Capitol City course, and was runner-up to Martha Daniel at Thomasville at Benning in 1946.

Mrs. Irene Curtiss, of Fort Benning Women's Golf Association club champion, rates a favorite's perch because of her familiarity with the home course.

In Sunday's Scotch mixed four some play, Mrs. Given and Col. Fred Benning Country Club, turned in the low gross score of 76, but were tied by Mrs. Smith, of Columbus as Fred Mitchell, Col. Columbus and Benning, and Miss Lettie White were awarded the prize for best net of 68.

The lottery course was produced in good shape by all players. Sunday, it utilizes eight holes from the new portion. The Country Club superintendent in Lawrence, a veteran of 24 years at Fort Benning.

Tuesday afternoon, the contestants took part in a putting, driving, and approach contest.

All of the planned social functions for the players and guests will be held as scheduled in the unadorned Columbus Country Club.

Army Pistol Team Firers Get Letters

Three Fort Benning members of the 1953 Army Pistol Team, which participated in the National Mid-Winter Pistol Matches at Tampa, Fla., last March, have received congratulatory letters from Gen. John H. Hodge, chief of Army Field Forces.

Receiving letters were Major Ellis Lee, captain of the team; Capt. H. W. Anthony and Chief Warrant Officer R. C. Knight. The letters were endorsed by Lt. Gen. A. R. Bulfinch, Third Army commander, and Major Gen. S. M. Meador, Jr., Infantry Center commander.

The three officers were lauded for their efforts as members of the Army Pistol Team in the March matches where members won a number of individual medals and prizes and out of 18 competitors took six first places and one second place.

Doughboy Oval To Hold TIC Track & Field Meet

The 1953 Fort Benning Track and Field Championships will be held at huge Doughboy Stadium on May 21-22 with many post units represented in the 18 scheduled events.

All military personnel, male that is, are eligible to participate in the 100, 220, 440, 880, miles and three mile runs, 110 high hurdles, 200 low hurdles, 440 intermediate hurdles, 800 yard dash, javelin, hammer throw, high jump, running broad jump, hop step jump, pole vault, and the mile relay.

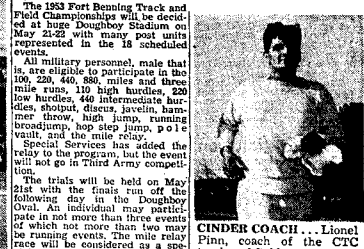

Special Services has added the mile relay to the program, but the event will not go in Third Army competition.

The trials will be held on May 21st with the 400m run at 8:00 a.m. following day in the Doughboy Oval. An individual may participate in not more than three events of which not more than two may be running events. The mile relay race will be considered as a special event and will not be judged against the quota of events in which an entrant may enter.

AXP Rules
The 1953 Official National Collegiate Athletic Association rules will apply. At least 24 hours prior to the competition, the Fort Benning, a meeting will be called by the Sports and Recreation Officer to determine the qualification for the final races will be based on place at the finish of each trial or best times in each race.

Four of this year's champions are still here at Fort Benning. Raul Collins, former University of Southern California field star, has thrown the javelin 194 feet, nine 58 inches with the post title. It is a member of Company F, Infantry School Detachment, the 22nd year old Doc Moines, Jr., has hurled the spear over 200 feet in the event. Coast relay several years ago. Alford Pina, a full-blooded Mexican Indian and a distant relative of the late Jim Thorpe, is coach.

CINDER COACH . . . Lionel Platt, coach of the CTC track and field squad, is getting into tip top shape for the TIC Meet on May 21-22.

ing the Combat Training Company's cinder squad. Platt, while on the cinder squad, defeated Von Burk So, the sensational South Korean runner, who in 1947 set a world record of two hours, 22 minutes and 33 seconds for 26 miles in the Boston Athletic Association Marathon.

Platt, running the two and five mile races, placed second in both events last year.

Two of Platt's track team that were actively participating a Truitt Williams who won the mile race and Carroll Dickson who won the 110 high hurdles. Platt, a former member of the CTC grid star, was the post's top broad jumper. He is now discharged from service. So are many other champions.

However, Cecil Dickerson, who coached the Fort Jackson squad in last year's Third Army Track and Field Meet, is not CTC Special Services member. The former Olympic football player, quarterback and coached the Commander and team.

SPOTLIGHTING SPORTS

by Lester Dineff

It happens every year. And Fort Benning is not one to disagree for it occurs here also. The 1953 baseball season opens on eleven days, May 18, at Gowdy Field and at Bullet Field in Sand Hill. The schedule calls for a triple round robin with night games slated every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings. At the conclusion of the regular season of play, there will be a Shagfest, Playoff.

At this moment, six hopped-up clubs will compose the 1953 Fort Benning Baseball League. During last week, the baseball coaches at a meeting allowed the PFCs to intermingle with Special Troops Command to form one club. The Special Troops Brigade team will be composed of all units in that command excepting the Infantry School Detachment, which is the defending champions and will field their own diamond team.

The other three clubs in the circuit will be the 580th Airborne, Combat Training Command, and the Lawson Air Force Base Flyers, who were invited to participate in The Infantry Center loop this year.

All the six clubs have at least one player with semi-pro or minor league baseball experience. However, the coach that most likely will do the most for his team will be Bobby Dewes of Special Troops Command, a former Kansas City (AAA) catcher who was on his way to the majors before World War II. Another interested player is the former major league pitcher, Charlie Trotter of Lawson, and Barney Haynes of Brigade are also well versed in baseball.

To me, Dewes has it all over the other managers and coaches because of his 17 years of playing, coaching and managing experience. Running the Flyers team last year gave him a definite idea of how a service ball club should be managed and the type of competition it could expect in an intramural league. He is as far as I know, Special Troops has all the needed material to win this year's flag. The other managers, who were coached by Dick Lynch, will be bringing added strength to their fielded team and to the bench reserves.

The coach coach, Abrithorn, has about four years of baseball coaching because of his 17 years of playing, coaching and managing experience. Running the Flyers team last year gave him a definite idea of how a service ball club should be managed and the type of competition it could expect in an intramural league. He is as far as I know, Special Troops has all the needed material to win this year's flag. The other managers, who were coached by Dick Lynch, will be bringing added strength to their fielded team and to the bench reserves.

Ken Watts, player-manager of CTC, is another old hand at baseball, service style that is. The Commander member has had 15 years of Army ball in his past and semi-pro experience on the west coast. He has the pick of the 9th Infantry and the CTC itself for players, and from my last report on the Fort Benning, the Commanders are definitely the team to watch. They are solid in all departments, hitting and fielding.

Yep, there should be plenty of excitement on the diamond this year. With two games going every Monday, Wednesday and Friday under the stars, the fans will be pretty well occupied in roofing their team home.

The winner of the regular season of play, will meet the winner of the Shagfest play-offs, provided that the same team does not win both. If there is to be a play-off, Special Services will determine the number of games to be played and the winner will be declared the post champion. Then they will represent Fort Benning in the Third Army competition.

The week of May 18 will be a big one in Fort Benning sports doings. On the 18th, TIC baseball opens. On the 21st, TIC track and field. Special Services has already completed refurbishing Doughboy Stadium and the running track is said to be in excellent shape. Just what last year's records are, is not known off hand, but new marks will be set on the cinder oval during that week.

ISD A&R MCO, Staff, Charlie Parker headed for the west coast before taking up his duties in a radio announcer in Panama. Another member of the Detachment, Lt. Chris Duba, is headed for the Far East this month. Duba has contributed a lot to the post sports scene and will be missed.

The First Student Regiment is honoring his boxing and basketball teams tonight with a dinner at the Polo Hunt Club. Even though the Blackbirds came out second best in both sports, they put out good teams that caused many headaches to the opponents.

Sgt. Alvin E. Buischell, supply sergeant for the Troop, Information and Education Office, is an ex-wrestler who is wondering why Fort Benning hasn't got an program for this "sport" at all. The 800-and-groner is looking around for a little work out and it is suggested that he try one of the workout rooms in the Plant, Wellis Field House or even boxing and he may come up with an opponent and a heavy sweat.

The Military Service Publishing Company is preparing an Armed Forces Sports Almanac and will be including a summary of Fort Benning athletic activities for the past three years. Many thanks to Dick Mayer of the Airborne Battalion for his sports news and cartoons. They will be appearing in the Baycuet within the near future.

Cadre Win SB Golf Tourney For 2nd Year

The Brigade Spring Golf Tournament has ended, and the Brigade cadre came through for a record performance of their 20 years of tournament play with a 5 and 2 record over the 20 teams. Going into the final week of play, three teams were tied for top spot honors. But, two of the top teams were pitted against each other in match play in the final week.

Low man for the week with a net score of 68 was W. Barney S. Haynes, a member of the Brigade team. Haynes received four game balls for capturing low man for week, low man for the week, low man for the week, low man for the week.

Provisional Bn. Wins CTC Shoot

The Provisional Battalion of the Combat Training Command, which is composed of Headquarters Detachment, CTC, 2657 Ordnance Company, won the CTC Rifle Tournament last week.

The members of the winning team are Lt. David M. Levitt, Lt. Carl E. Cooper, Lt. Edwin R. Emerick, Sgt. Dennis Faircloth, Sgt. Clarence W. Franklin, Pfc. James W. O'Neal, Pvt. Robert Paulin, Pvt. Raymond Decker, Pvt. Carl Christensen, and Pvt. Howard T. Jones.

The top scorers of the month were Franklin, Cooper, Paulin, Edith, and John Artym. Capt. Wilfred K. Smith, Lt. C. W. Silver, Lt. Edwin R. Emerick, Levitt, and Lt. Carl E. Cooper.

MONTHLY SHOOT

High Bowlers . . .

These four lovelies are the top bowlers in the Fort Benning Women's Bowling League. Left to right are Gretta Keene, who has a 143 average; Lois Christensen, who has a 140 average; Juanita Goy, who has a 139 average; Marge Olson, who has a 138 average.

Barney Haynes To Coach SB Baseball Team

The School Brigade "Rams" will field their nine under the able management of Lt. Barney S. Haynes of Spartanburg, South Carolina.

Haynes played two years of professional baseball with Clinton, N. C. of the Tobacco League and semi-pro ball with Lake City, S. C. in the Palmetto League. He also played college ball with Wake Forest and Army. Haynes will field the team of the Fourth Marine Division.

Haynes is a coach in civilian life both in basketball and baseball. He coached the 19th Regiment of the 44th Division in All-Japan basketball championship in 1950.

The Brigade will field a young ball club this season that has plenty of fire. There are however, no prominent players from last year's Fort Benning League. Possible standouts are still wide open for speculation, but much is expected from the "Rams" this season.

High Bowlers . . . These four lovelies are the top bowlers in the Fort Benning Women's Bowling League. Left to right are Gretta Keene, who has a 143 average; Lois Christensen, who has a 140 average; Juanita Goy, who has a 139 average; Marge Olson, who has a 138 average.

SLIDES INTO THIRD . . . Harry Jones, CTC's left fielder has just made a double steal and was forced to slide into third base during a practice game with Special Troops. Attempting the put-out is Bob Gilbert. CTC won contest 7-1.

CTC Baseball Team Ironing Out Kinks

Combat Training Command baseball team is coming right along and ironing out the kinks they had earlier this season. The team took a trip to Montgomery Ala., last week to play the Maxwell Field Bombers and were bombed to the tune of 9 to 7. Bill Paul pitched two and one-third innings giving up six runs and seven hits. He was relieved in the third by Ken Wais the team manager who gave up only five hits and three runs for the remainder of the game. The Commanders then played the Alabama All Stars at Phenix City and defeated them by a score of 4 to 1. Walter Scott pitched for CTC and gave up one hit and one run. Byron McCluney caught for both the Maxwell Field game and the Alabama All-Star game.

GET TROPHIES
A trophy to each member of the 50th Airborne bowling team, runners-up in the Enlisted Men's Bowling League, was awarded last week.

"E-i-e-e-i-o-u-e-e-r. Dwight Eisenhower," the Kansas replied.
The West Coast is gradually losing its spring baseball tenants. The Chicago White Sox and the St. Louis Browns recently announced that they will join 10 other Major League Clubs at their 1954 Florida spring training sites. This will leave only three clubs in the West and they: the New York Giants, Cleveland Indians and Chicago Cubs, train in Arizona. The Pirates trained in Cuba this year.

FIRST BALL... Col. Bruno Jastrzemski, president of the Dad's Club, tosses out the first ball to open the Little League baseball season last week. The Commanders defeated the Rams, 5-3, in the opener.

LL Baseball Highlighted By Good Pitching

Little League Baseball teams opened their 1953 season last week as the Commanders defeated the Rams, 5-3, and the Flyers won over the Raiders, 9-3. Saturday's double header was rained out and will be played at a later date.

Pitching in these first two games was exceptionally good and all the hurlers racked up an impressive number of strikeouts. In the Commanders' game, Babelek pitched the winning pitcher while Combes was charged with the loss. Woden was given the victory in the Flyers-Raiders game while Camp got the loss.

He took the Infantry School's company officers' course here and graduated in June 1932, when he was assigned to the 15th Infantry, the 4th Infantry Center, Ft. Benning, Ga. He became an instructor at the Infantry Center and later attended the Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth.

He was appointed assistant chief of staff for operations at Fort First Armored Division at Fort Knox, Ky., in August 1941, moving later to the European Theater. After serving as executive officer of the Department of Tactics at the Military Academy, Gen. Stutz returned to Europe in 1945 as intelligence staff officer with the 15th Army Group. In March 1947 he was named assistant deputy director of the Intelligence Division of the European Command.

Gen. Stutz received the National War College in 1948 and later served as an instructor at the Army War College in 1949. He was assigned to the 15th Infantry Center, Ft. Benning, Ga., in 1950. He wears the Legion of Merit and Bronze Star Medal. His foreign decorations include: Belgian Croix de Guerre with Palm, French Legion of Honor and Czechoslovakian War Cross.

773d Tankers Play Host To Brownies

The 773d Tank Battalion of Columbus, Ga., played host to the Brownie Scout Troop No. 77 of Fort Benning recently. The Brownies, under the leadership of Mrs. A. M. Leonard, and assisted by Mrs. P. T. Middleton, committee member, were invited to the mess hall by Major Richard L. McCoy, battalion commander.

There were 10 Brownies present for the tour. Kathleen Leonard, Eva Ulrich, Whitney Halladay, Sharon Minkley, Barre Mitchell, Karen Radford, Sallie Magruder and Susan Davies.

The troop was met in the battalion area by Lt. Richard W. Cashin and taken to the battalion command mess, where the Brownies enjoyed cake, cookies, and fruit juice. The highlights of the tour was a ride on an M-47 tank. Only one of the girls had ever ridden in a tank before and they were all quite excited at the prospect of having a ride on the tank and seeing the inside of the tank.

The Brownies is one of the many youth activities at Fort Benning that is sponsored by the Dad's Club.

THE MEDAL OF HONOR AWARDED TO...

WHEN RAKING ENEMY FIRE FORCED BACK HIS PLatoon IN ACTION NEAR CHANGONGNI, KOREA, HE CHARGED ALONE THREE TIMES... TWICE HE PUSHED THEM OUT, BUT EXHAUSTED HIS AMMUNITION AND HAD TO WITHDRAW... THEN HE DASHED THROUGH INTENSE FIRE AND DESTROYED THE GUN CREW.

STRICTLY FRESH

ROBBERED of her hens, an Illinois farm woman advertised for the thief to "come and get" the loose-rooster left behind. Seems he's been crowing in a minor key ever since.

A Windsor, Ontario, civil defense "raid" victim, realistically painted with "gruesome" wounds, was rushed to the operating room.

After 11 years a thief returned his wallet and $27 to a Washington man. Married all the way from Texas, it arrived in time to pass a medical bill. Money from a bad man for a good cause, eh?

BEAUTY AT THE POOL... Alluring Elizabeth Taylor is shown here at a pool of a luxurious Kentucky estate, locale for "The Girl Who Had Everything," new MGM drama that gives Fernando Lamas and William Powell a chance to teach Miss Taylor about love!

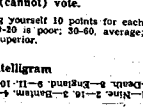

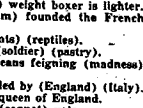

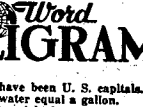

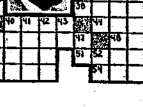

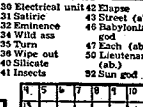

PARDON THE GLOVE... Pardon our look. Picnic lunch for two? Watch out for ants, Judy Jorrell of CBS radio.

PFC. CARL A. BLY CHECKS WATCH GIVEN HIM AS HONOR GRADUATE

Boils Watch; Gets Another As Honor Man

As a student at the Third Army Food Service School here Pfc. Carl Allan Bly dropped his wrist watch into a pot of boiling water, ruining it. Last week, as honor graduate of the eight-week course, he was rewarded with a new watch.

Pfc. Bly enrolled in the cooking school in February from Headquarters and Headquarters Company, First Officer Candidate Regiment. He completed the course April 24.

"That wrist watch was an ideal present," say Pfc. Bly. "I didn't know that I would be named honor graduate and I had no idea I would be given a watch; but I'm glad the instructors thought so highly of my work. You might say this was perfect timing."

He is now assigned as a cook with Headquarters and Headquarters Company. Bly was inducted into the army in March 1952. He received basic training at Indianapolis Gap Military Reservation, Penn., and was assigned to the First Officer Candidate Regiment last September.

Payday Aids Wired Words

Comes payday and talk really picks up.

Or so officials of the Southern Bell Telephone and Telegraph Co. say in announcing that Army personnel have placed more than 160,000 long-distance calls in the Fort Benning "stinked collets" since these centers were opened in August 1951.

Telephone officials inaugurated the centers for the convenience of military personnel here. Calls are being placed at the rate of 1,500 each week. Most of the calls are made on Saturday and Sunday.

Each of the centers located at the Main Post, Sand Hill, and two at Harmony Church is equipped with newspapers, magazines, writing paper, postal cards, checkers, and dominoes. There

In a long distance directory rack of the larger cities in the nation to aid calls in looking up a number. The centers also feature piped music.

Peak hours for long-distance calls are between 7 and 9 p.m. Centers are open from 4:30 to 11:00 p.m. daily, from noon to 11:00 p.m. Saturday, and all day Sunday.

Little 'Error' Sent 'Ex-Boy' Off To Korea

For a boy, ex-boy that is, Pvt. J. C. Smith, Company B, 20th Regimental Combat Team, will have traveled around considerably by the time he reaches his 17th birthday.

By making a little "error" in his age, Pvt. Smith left the restaurant where he was working with his father in Sylacauga, Ala., and joined the Army when he was a ripe 15. That was back in 1931.

The Army took the young soldier, gave him basic training, and turned him to Korea. That was quite a change, from the warm sun of Alabama to the cold hills of North Korea. There he became a member of Company B, 19th Infantry Regiment, 24th Infantry Division.

While a member of Company B, Smith was wounded and was sent back to a hospital. After recovering from his wounds he joined the 60th Infantry Division and was assigned to the 224th Medium Tank Company. From the Tank Company he was assigned to Company B, 24th Infantry Regiment of the 40th Division.

Smith remained in Korea until December 1952 when he was rotated back to the States. He was in Korea 15 months as a member of a combat unit. He has just celebrated his seventeenth birthday while still in the Army and with Company 30th RCT. For a man who has just had his seventeenth birthday this is a fine record, one that few people in the Army can boast of having.

OC Archeologist Dug in Arabia

As an infantryman, Officer Candidate Jack Simpson of 20th OC Company has often dug for holes, but he says they are nothing compared to some of his diggings as a civilian. Archeologist before enlisting in U.S. service, while working at the Carnegie Museum in Pittsburgh, he was invited to join an expedition sponsored by the American Foundation for the Study of Man, Inc. The expedition went to Timna, Arabia, the ancient city of Qataban.

Leaving the United States in November 1950, the party sailed through the Suez Canal and landed at Aden, Aden Protectorate. It traveled 500 more miles to Timna in a electric truck. Timna is one in a string of cities located along the ancient spice route to Palestine, Greece, and Rome. Scholars claim it was once ruled by the Queen of Sheba and known as Qataban, was destroyed by the Sabean tribe in about 50 B. C.

The expedition lasted until June 1951 when the party sailed for the United States.

From a 50-meter cut in the mound of Hajar-bin-Humaid, archeologists could distinguish strata of occupation and these gave a tentative date for Timna and South Arabian history, thus giving it in with the chronology of the Near East.

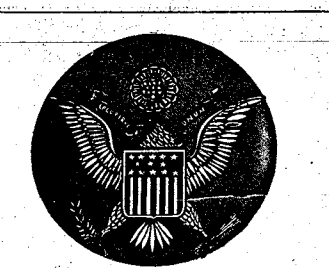

The expedition lasted until June 1951 when the party sailed for the United States.

A B-47 Stratojet bomber hitched onto high altitude jet air streams to log sustained ground speeds of 784 mph in a test program conducted for the Air Force, Boeing Airplane Co. announced recently.

The Stratojet held 794 mph ground speed for 30 minutes on a run east of Albuquerque toward Wichita, Kans., when it found strong tailwinds at 40,000 feet. On another occasion it covered the 252 miles from Chicago to New York in an hour and five minutes. The B-47 bomber flew only as "No. 2137" made 121 flights and traveled the distance equal to nearly 17 times round the world in 1,000 flying hours. White flights averaged eight and a half hours, many lasted as long as 12 and 13 hours.

Salvage Comes To Barracks; Barracks Looks Like "Home"

BY JAMES N. MITCHELL
He cast a crafty and retrieving eye on a salvage dump and a barracks became a little "like home." So it may rightly be said of Sfc. Arthur F. Wahner of the 58th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.
Wahner—during a tour of duty with the 48th Guided (Parachute) Regiment in Japan—designed a footlocker rack of salvaged lumber to save the innumerable floors. Transferred to the 2nd Infantry Regiment, his design became SOP in the 58th Airborne Regimental Combat Team since one month after its reactivation, his racks are a familiar sight.

High School Principle
Based on simple high school physics principles of proper leverage and point of balance, the lumber-saving racks may be built in less than five minutes. Simply insert two two-by-fours of equal length under a bunk and brace with a sturdy rack that not only saves wear and tear on the linoleum but lends overall neatness to the barracks, eliminates the zig zag dust under footlocker and gives the added utility of a desk and a table to the toplocker. A man with other ideas about salvage, Wahner didn't stop there. From the dump he salvaged enough damaged ammunition boxes to build six handsome clothes racks and display cases at a cost of only five cents for an eye ball.
From the paper dust found at each end of 35 ammunition containers, he replaced the wooden blocks commonly seen under bunk releases by using good two-by-fours that could be used more profitably elsewhere and once again eliminated a big "Dust don't have corners that can be kicked out of line."
Other Salvage Ideas
From rods which formerly held ammunition boxes secure, he made metal clothes racks, towel racks, and handles for "quaint outcrops" that hung neatly from posts like children's sand pails being displayed in a store. Most of his unique salvaging ideas have been so well received that he is now SOP in Headquarters and Headquarters Company of the 58th ARCT.

Three weeks ago a bevy of girls from the Business Women's Club of the Atlanta YWCA visited the post as guests of the soldiers of the Airborne Battalion and met the ISD. The trip was arranged by Service Club No. 1.
Last weekend a reciprocal visit was paid to the young ladies by the same group of men.
The young ladies were hostesses to the men and treated them to dinner at Mammy's Shanty in Atlanta, where they dined and danced until 1:30 midnight.
The men were billeted at Fort McPherson Saturday night, and attended divine service at the Atlanta First Methodist Church and the Holy Name Church.
At 1:30 p.m. the girls served a picnic lunch in Adams Park and then conducted the men on a tour of the Atlanta highlights, including the famous Cyclorama, Stone Mountain, and the home of the originator of the Beer Rabbit and the Uncle Remus legends.
At 6:30 the men were served a buffet supper at the home of Miss Frances North of Atlanta.
Visitors to Atlanta from the Airborne Battalion included: Cpl. Joseph Allen, Pvt. James Collins, and Cpl. Lloyd Hull, Pfc. Robert Rob-

Parachutists Celebrate 11th Year

First 250-Ft. Tower Used At New York World's Fair

For the past 11 years it has been a function of The Infantry School to train men to jump from airplanes. The Airborne School was officially activated on May 15, 1924.

Prior to that time an airborne school, as such, had been a dream of only a few progressive thinkers, the most prominent of whom was Brig. Gen. William Mitchell, who arranged an airborne drop on Kelly Field, Texas, in 1926, and invited Army heads and foreign visitors to observe the effectiveness of the operation.

Six American soldiers were dropped by parachute from a Martin bomber and in less than three minutes after leaving the plane they had assembled their weapons and were ready for action.

FOREIGNERS IMPRESSED

The Army officials that witnessed the drop dismissed the operation as a stunt and the feasibility of airborne units was considered impracticable.

The foreign officials saw possibilities in the operation. However, and took the idea to their native countries. Russian development of parachuting into a national sport and later developed it into a military machine. In August 1928 paratroopers appeared for the first time in war movements at Verkh, Russia, and proved so successful that a report was prepared which was given in Moscow one month later.

Germany followed Russia's example and by the outbreak of World War II had developed an airborne unit that was ready for battle.

The effectiveness of airborne warfare so astounded the world that plans were hastily developed in Washington to form an American airborne unit.

American soldiers were approached to volunteer for "hardcore duty."

The "hardcore duty" was a test to see if men would voluntarily jump for an airplane in flight.

M-Sgt. Leroy Miller, now first sergeant of Company A of the Airborne Battalion, was one of the early volunteers of the unit that was the forerunner of the American Airborne.

German-born Sergeant Leimer, volunteering from the 29th Infantry, then stationed in California, explained the procedure of this first jump quite simply when asked, "We took a stiff physical examination, signed a waiver, this four of the towers were built at Fort Benning.

After returning to Fort Benning and completing the course of instruction, the enlisted members of which they grew lots to see in the stack to follow the platoon leader, Lt. Byler, out of the plane.

KING FIRST EN TO JUMP

The honor fell to 24-year old Pvt. William N. King, who became the first enlisted man to make an official jump as a paratrooper in the United States Army. King, now a master sergeant, is presently with the Airborne Department's supply section.

Another member of the original Test Platoon still with the Airborne Department is M-Sgt. Louis D. Davis, who is with the department's Tower Group.

The test platoon officially became part of the Infantry School on July 16, 1924. This unit was transferred to Fort Bragg, N. C., April 21, 1924, and retained the Airborne Command, which became the Airborne Center in 1924.

The success of the Airborne units in the Normandy invasion resulted in the expansion of the Parachute School, which produced 4,000 qualified paratroopers each month during the first year of World War II.

In January 1946 the Parachute School was returned to the Infantry School, and glider training was instituted and was designated as the Infantry School's glider section. This organization became the Airborne Department in 1949.

The department gives the present and out airborne course with the selection of five stages for officers and the top three graduates while enlisted men below the top three graduates followed a three-week basic course.

CANADIANS TAKE JUMP TRAINING HERE

In August of 1942 Canada, in abandoned view of the success of the American paratrooper training sent 27 officers and enlisted men here to receive training as paratroopers and study the methods of the Parachute School for the purpose of starting a similar school in Canada.

The successful training instruction given to the Canadians that in March 1943 the Canadian officers and enlisted men arrived in the Test Platoon, made the qualification and constituted the entire paratrooper of the Canadian Parachute Battalion.

The first Canadian Paratrooper was the years to the school have included such personnel as the late Franklin D. Roosevelt, Lord Louis Mountbatten, chief of British Combined Operations, Anthony Eden, British diplomat and General Sir John S. Johnston, Chief of Staff of the Mexican Army.

In June 1945, Colonel James V. Collins began the task of cutting the injury rate of student jumpers from 12 per cent to an all-time permanent low of 1 per cent. This was accomplished in an eight-month period.

It was accomplished this by changing the type of landing taught to the students. Instead of landing with feet a hip's width apart and tumbling forward into a "rotor" fall, the students were taught to land with feet, ankles, and knees pressed tightly together, thereby eliminating a great number of fractured and broken bones.

THE OLD... Early Airborne students shown using old 25-foot tower in first days of Airborne training. Students were taught to leap out in a hurry in the old days. Now they are taught to leap and bring their legs close together, thus eliminating the worst effects of the "prop" blast.

Col. Courts also covered the landing pile in the training areas with sawdust. He also saw that the drop zones were ploughed and harrowed. In addition, he detailed record of all made a thereby making it possible to trace the injury to a specific instructor.

The eight-week training course offered by the Parachute School in the past entailed much more than that taken by airborne students of today.

The early training included parachute packing, acrobatic, close-in fighting, defense measures, instruction in the use of hand grenades, explosives, and demolition work, the course also included instruction in hasty entrenchments, and camouflage, communications and control, and various tactical exercises deemed necessary to the welfare of an airborne combat unit, in addition to the training given airborne students today.

Today's airborne course is confined to strenuous physical training, mock-up tower exercises, in which the students accustom themselves to jumping into space, and the 250 foot tower, which give the students the feeling of an actual parachute jump without the use of an airplane. In dropping from the 250 foot tower, students learn to manipulate their parachutes in the air, and practice correct parachute landing falls.

The shortness of the present airborne course can be explained by the development of specialists in certain fields. Paratrooper units that were given in the earlier airborne training are the 11th and 82nd Airborne Divisions and the 50th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

THE NEW... Modern 34-foot tower with 250-foot tower in background. Airborne students are making practice jumps with "Garand" bag, carrying dis-assembled rifle. Students jump in sticks of four at a time. Those on lower platform of tower are awaiting their turn to "stand in the door."

Lt. Perez Fell Through Ice, Was Shot At; Now Likes Sun

First Lt. Ruben Perez, 116th Company, 2nd Student Regiment, is a sun worshiper in the true sense of the word. Being cold to Lt. Perez is not only uncomfortable but often causes him to reflect on an incident of the 1951-52 winter offensive in Korea.

Lt. Perez headed an 18-man patrol made up of Puerto Ricans, Americans, and South Koreans. The mission was to cross a small river and headed for a bunker near the top of a hill. When only 35 yards away, a Chinese machine gun opened fire and scattered the patrol, killing two. Trying to cross the river again, Lt. Perez struck a soft spot in the ice and plunged in up to his neck. The noise of the breaking ice attracted the enemy and a machine gun opened up on the helpless officer. Fighting his way to solid ice, Lt. Perez reached the left side of the river and beat himself about the body to keep from freezing. The 20-below-zero temperature numbed his legs and he was near complete collapse.

Quick work on the part of the medics, and expert hospital treatment, saved his legs and returned him to combat duty. For heroic service during his 18 months in Korea, he was awarded the Silver Star. He also wears the Purple Heart and the Combat Infantryman's Badge.

Lt. Perez, a native of Puerto Rico, volunteered for Korean duty after being graduated by the University of Puerto Rico in 1949. He received his commission in the Infantry ROTC while in college and received his advanced training at Camp Breckinridge, Ky., and Fort Riley, Kan.

MAJ. HAWKINS HEADS T I & E

Major Hirschel H. Hawkins of Chicago, Ill., a combat Infantry officer in two wars, has been named the post's troop information and education officer.

Major Hawkins, who has been assistant public information officer of the Infantry Center for the past 18 months, replacing Major John J. Nazario. The latter, who has been fascinated with the circus business ever since he was a youngster, has now voluntarily standing wistfully outside the "big top" and wondering if he could get a job working under a flap.

War II. For almost a year he has been an assistant operations officer of the 21st Infantry Regiment of the 24th Infantry Division in Korea. He was the new troop information and education officer earned decorations in both Europe and Korea. He holds the Combat Infantryman's badge with Silver Star, Bronze Star Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, and the Purple Heart.

Major Hawkins has had wide experience as an Army public information officer, including as assistant PIO of General Headquarters in Tokyo, deputy PIO of Army Field Forces at Fort Monmouth, N. J., and command of the second Information Historical Section of the 58th Airborne Company during the 31-year-old officer is a graduate school top man in the leadership class of the Armed Forces Information School. His civilian education work course ended in April. He includes studies at the University of Illinois and Sophia University in Tokyo. He hails from Indianapolis, Ind.

Soldier Of Week Named For Co. B

Company's exemplary consciousness led to the selection of "Soldier of the Week" for a trooper in Baker Company of the 56th Airborne Regimental Combat Team.

Sergeant First Class Henry Rivera was selected because "the company was set the example for Supply Economy in Baker Company".

A water can picked up on a route march and carried many miles back to the company is an example of his work.

TO SERVICE CO. HCT

Captain William H. Windham has been assigned to Service Company, 30th Regimental Combat Team. Captain Windham was formerly with Headquarters Company 30th of the HCT.

Maj. Hawkins Heads T I & E

Major Hirschel H. Hawkins of Chicago, Ill., a combat Infantry officer in two wars, has been named the post's troop information and education officer.

Major Hawkins, who has been assistant public information officer of the Infantry Center for the past 18 months, replacing Major John J. Nazario. The latter, who has been fascinated with the circus business ever since he was a youngster, has now voluntarily standing wistfully outside the "big top" and wondering if he could get a job working under a flap.

War II. For almost a year he has been an assistant operations officer of the 21st Infantry Regiment of the 24th Infantry Division in Korea. He was the new troop information and education officer earned decorations in both Europe and Korea. He holds the Combat Infantryman's badge with Silver Star, Bronze Star Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters, and the Purple Heart.

Major Hawkins has had wide experience as an Army public information officer, including as assistant PIO of General Headquarters in Tokyo, deputy PIO of Army Field Forces at Fort Monmouth, N. J., and command of the second Information Historical Section of the 58th Airborne Company during the 31-year-old officer is a graduate school top man in the leadership class of the Armed Forces Information School. His civilian education work course ended in April. He includes studies at the University of Illinois and Sophia University in Tokyo. He hails from Indianapolis, Ind.

Brigade Pfc. Owns Real Circus

Pfc. Jerry Morris has realized a long-ago dream to own a real life-size circus with 19 tractors, 10 good-natured three ring circus with clowns, elephants, lions, peacocks and pink lamonaade.

Pfc. Jerry, acting operations sergeant for the School Brigade's 53rd Signal and training section, has been fascinated with the circus business ever since he was a youngster. He can remember standing wistfully outside the "big top" and wondering if he could get a job working under a flap.

At 21, he is the youngest circus owner in the United States, though, as president of E. R. "The Circus Enterprises," he tends to "look the other way" when kids use the tent flap entrance.

Jerry went home on furlough last January and came back to Fort Benning the better equipped with a two unit circus with 19 tractors. He purchased the circus from Dr. E. R. Bailey, retiring because of poor health.

The circus, according to Jerry, is made up of two units — one playing fair and the other playing the Shiraz circuit. The show carries some of the most famous names in the circus world, including George Hansford Fanning, Jarboe riders; the Shedd Skating Carters have performed for former President Harry S. Truman as well as the King and Queen of England.

Jerry hopes to bring his circus to Fort Benning on this year's schedule yet.

At present Jerry is marking time with the Army until his present term of enlistment expires in August 1954, at which time he plans to devote full time to expanding the circus into one of the largest mobile units in the country.
