800 Receive Certificates From Powell

Approximately 800 Infantry Center certificates of appreciation were delivered to military and dependent members of the post community Dec. 22.

The certificates bearing the personal signature of Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commander of The Infantry Center, were presented for community services rendered during the past year to the immediate military community of Ft. Benning.

Gen. Powell stated that through the certificates he wished to express his thanks and the appreciation of The Infantry Center to those who have actively participated in a program of community relations and activities.

The awarding of the certificates was planned as a surprise and work on them was kept secret during the six weeks of preparation. The holiday season was chosen as an appropriate time to recognize those who have given generously to the community effort. The certificates are dated Dec. 22, 1956.

Organizations and groups from which individuals were chosen for their representative work are the Parent-Teachers Association, the Sunday School Teachers, the Women's Club, American Red Cross volunteers of the Gray Ladies, Nurses Aides, and Staff Aides, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Cub Scouts, Electronics Club, Fish and Game Maintenance Association, Community Activities Association, Youth Activity Club, Rifle and Pistol Club, Benning Symphony Orchestra, Benning Little League, Daughters of the U. S. Treasury, Main Post Chapel Choir, Ft. Benning Choral Group, Children's Nursery Fund, Airborne Museum Association and the Chaplain's Fund.

Korean Student Spends Holidays At Ft. Benning With the Powells

BY MARJORIE COBB

The friendship between a Korean student and Benning's commander, his sponsor to the U.S., which began in a small village in Korea, was renewed during the holidays at the Infantry Center.

Sungwan Pak, a student at George Washington University in Washington, D. C., spent the holidays with Major Gen. and Mrs. Herbert B. Powell.

In the Powells' quarters, Pak, who returned to school Dec. 31, saw his first "real" American Christmas tree. "Oh, in Korea, I saw the G.I.'s decorate pine trees, but their decorations were old tin cans or anything they could find. This is the first real Christmas tree I've seen," Pak pointed out as he looked at the beautifully trimmed tree in the hall of the Powells' quarters.

Arrived Dec. 21

Pak arrived at The Infantry Center by bus Dec. 21 to participate in the Christmas activities.

"I always travel by bus so I can see the country," he explained.

Gen. Powell met Pak in a village about 60 miles

Infant West Wins Post Stork Derby

The apparent winner of The Bayonet's Ft. Benning Stork Derby is a five-pound, 14½-ounce baby girl, Shirley Yvette West, daughter of Sgt. Robert L. and Rosie Lee West.

Shirley Yvette arrived at the Post hospital at 1:17 a.m. on New Year's Day, a full 30 minutes before her nearest rival in the Stork Derby, a baby girl born to Mrs. Charles Dorris and Sfc. George J. Dorris.

The winner in the Stork Derby will receive a number of prizes donated by Columbus merchants to the first baby born each year at Fort Benning.

The Wests, who have four other children, live at 1527 Curtis Maddox, Columbus, Ga.

Six infants were born at the Ft. Benning Hospital between midnight and 5 a.m. on New Year's Day. The first boy checked in at 2:18 a.m. His parents are Sp3 Narvie Nowling and Mrs. Shirley Nowling.

Medical Unit Receives 97 Recruits to Train

Ninety-seven new Army recruits have been assigned to the 54th Medical Group to receive advanced medical basic training beginning Jan. 7.

The trainees, now on holiday leave, arrived at The Infantry Center Dec. 15 from Ft. Jackson, S. C., after completing their first eight weeks of basic training.

The training program usually given at the Army Medical Training Center at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex., will be the first of its kind undertaken by the 54th. Because of a shortage of medical courses the medical orientation will be given at The Infantry Center officials of the 54th.

During the eight-week course the students will be instructed in anatomy, physiology, employment of medical field units, field medical records, emergency medical treatment, chemical and mechanical sterilization, burns and treatment of burns.

Will Take Medical Courses Along with further Infantry training they will study control of hemorrhage, military sanitation, transportation of the sick and wounded, blood substitutes, causes, symptoms, prevention and treatment of shock, dressing and bandages and communication training.

Forty-four hours of class work will be given each week. The climax of the course will come in the eighth week with a four-day field efficiency test.

A fully qualified staff of instructors will be provided through the committee system. Instructors from the officers, non-commissioned officers and other personnel of the Group and the U. S. Army Hospital will conduct the classes.

Assigned as TDY, the trainees have been assigned on temporary duty to the 680th Medical Co. for their training period. On completion of the program they will be assigned to units of the 54th Group as qualified medical corporals.

In order to accommodate new troops some of the personnel of the 660th Co. have been moved to the 551st Medical Co. This will provide a central housing area within the group for the trainees.

Capt. John Payne, of Tamaqua, Pa., is the commanding officer of the 590th Medical Co. and will be in charge of the new group.

Commander of the 54th Medical Group is Col. Harry G. McClain of Saxon, Pa.

PROMOTIONS RECEIVED
 Orders recently published at the Band Center, SFC, brought promotions to three Army handsmen assigned there. Advanced to specialist third class were Robert B. Curry and Peter S. Moyer, both of the 28th Army Band. PFC stripes were awarded Dallas G. Harper of the 43rd Army Band.

Ranger Camp Played Host To 900 Visitors in 1956

Approximately 700 Boy Scouts and 200 Air Force Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets spent a day visiting the post's Ranger training camp at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., throughout 1956.

The various groups of Scouts and cadets spent a day visiting the training site for a first-hand orientation and demonstration of amphibious and jungle warfare technique. The camp is one of three training centers operated by the Ranger Department.

Commander of the camp is Lt. Col. Sumner Neilson, Charleston, S. C.

The visits included a general orientation film on the Ranger Department, a tour of the camp and lunch in the mess hall followed by field demonstrations.

In the afternoon the visitors were shown a demonstration of jungle survival techniques, movement in swamps and the building of shelter from the elements under conditions. They also were shown how to find edible vegetation and animal life in swamps.

Following the survival demonstrations the Scouts observed the Ranger and Air Force Reserve units and non-poisonous snakes and attended a class on the identification of various snakes.

Concluding the day's trip was a demonstration on methods used for crossing streams and first aid under jungle conditions. Member of Bill of Fame

Powell

Travis Air Force Base, Calif., Pak attended one year of schooling in Santa Barbara before enrolling in George Washington University. Prior to the Korean conflict, he was interested in engineering, but now is devoting his studies to international affairs.

"After working with the U. S. Army of occupation from 1945 to 1948 and later with the Economic Corporation Administration of the American Mission in Korea and with the U. S. Army again, I want to help the Korean and American people to understand each other better," explained Pak, who has now more years to study in this country.

Fled to Mountains

His work with American agencies resulted in some uneasy times for Pak, however. When the Communists marched into Seoul, Pak, who was on their "wanted" list, fled to the mountains. He stayed there three months before the Inchon landing.

Asked how he survived in the hills, the 28-year-old Korean said: "I had a small shack in a village out from Seoul. Whenever the Communists were in the village, my aunt would put a white sheet on the side of the house. By that sign, I knew it wasn't safe to go in for food."

Received Freedom Medal

For his work with the U. S. Army, Pak was presented the Medal of Freedom, given to Allied and U. S. civilians for outstanding service with the Army.

One of Pak's most impressive and rather embarrassing incidents in the U. S. was in Santa Barbara.

"Leopold Stokowski is one of our favorite musicians in Korea," Pak explained. "We get his records from Japan and really consider him a great man."

"Well, Stokowski was conducting when the Los Angeles Symphony came to Santa Barbara for a concert. Of course, I attended, being quite thrilled that I was going to see the great Stokowski in person."

"At the performance, I took my camera and moved nearer the stage and over to the side. Just about that time Stokowski saw me. With his hands poised in the air, he stopped conducting and pointed to me, shouting 'Get that man out of here!'"

Laughingly, Pak added that he left in a most embarrassing state. However, he still seemed to have the highest respect for the famous conductor.

As for Washington, the Korean student thinks it is the "best city I have ever been in." When he completes his studies at George Washington, he plans to return to Korea to put his new knowledge to use on his dream of increasing for the famous conductor between Koreans and Americans.

Two Assigned To Lawson Unit

The 1st Army Aviation Company has received a new automotive mechanic and an additional soldier who will take on the job training in aircraft maintenance. Assigned to the unit's motor pool was SP3 John W. Williams, while SP3 Robert A. McCormick has been assigned to the flight line to learn to service and maintain the unit's U-1A Otter aircraft. Both newcomers came from Ft. Jackson, S. C.

WRONG VICTIM

TURIN, Italy (APFS)—A 21-year-old housebreaker here was caught after a five-minute foot chase by his 89-year-old intended victim. The surprised thief had tried to loot the home of elderly Tommaso Alissa, a longtime long-distance running champion.

He plans to return to Korea to put his new knowledge to use on his dream of increasing for the famous conductor between Koreans and Americans.

Steel Work On Hospital Completed

The steel and concrete work of the new U. S. Army Hospital at Fort Benning is now under construction here and has been completed with the steel work.

Traditional in the building trade is the placing of a tree on top of the building when the outer construction is finished. Because of the holiday season, a 20-foot lighted Christmas tree was placed on top of the structure in observance of this ancient custom. The tree was reported to be the largest Christmas tree on a building south of Atlanta, Ga.

Officials stated that the outer portion of the hospital has been completed well within the established schedule. The new Premises, Jr., Third Army hospital is a six million dollar project of the Savannah District Engineers and is scheduled for completion in the fall of 1957.

Project officer for the new building is Lt. Col. Samuel C. Allison of Selma, N. C. The Jordan Contracting Company of Columbus, Ga., is the construction company banding the job.

Work of Post PIO Praised in Report

The operation of the Infantry Center-Public Information Office at Fort Benning is praised in a report written by the University of Florida. The report is titled "The Public Relations Program of the Infantry Center" and was written by Capt. Lonza J. Dukes following a trip to the post. He is the eighth Infantry Center graduate student from the University of Florida's School of Journalism and Public Relations to observe Infantry Center public information procedures in the last three years.

The author pointed out that the Public Information Office's activities are "well planned and well rounded," with a systematic approach to its public relations work. He is fortunate in that it deals with local civilians possessing a cooperative attitude. Another factor contributing to the PIO's successful operations is the strong support given the program by the present and past commanding generals. Finally, a powerful factor in this office's success is the fact that the present-day efforts of the personnel are to a large degree motivated by pride in the past record of achievement. The PIO's public relations program of the Infantry Center is an excellent example to the field whether viewed from a civilian or military viewpoint.

"Don't judge a book by its cover" is a worthwhile maxim that isn't always followed. But worthwhile maxims aren't always followed, and it isn't always possible to follow them. Many members of the civilian public, for instance, have little contact with servicemen.

Thus, one sloppily dressed serviceman passing through a train station can send many civilians home with the impression that most servicemen are sloppy. A loud or foul-mouthed serviceman in a bar or restaurant can give patrons the feeling that all men in uniform are bores.

Tom Wierzbicki Harlan Hill Good But Hutson Better

If, per chance, you were watching the professional football championship last Sunday between the New York Giants and the Chicago Bears your eyes undoubtedly fell upon a lanky end for the Chicago boys answers to the name of Harlan Hill.

Hill who covers the white markers on the gridiron like a gazelle racing through a dense forest is an All-Pro end in more ways than one.

Around the Windy City they're starting to mention the name of Hill in the same breath with Don Hutson the former great pass receiver of the Green Bay Packers.

Another Don Hutson

Another Hutson? For anyone who has followed pro football (and possibly hails from America's Dairyland) this is mighty hard to swallow. There'll never be another Hutson . . .

The lean, smooth striding Alabamian with built-in power steering and rocket take-off was unquestionably the most spectacular pass catcher of all time, and his deeds over an 11 year period with the Green Bay Packers, ending in 1945, surely cannot have grown so dim that others now are likened to him.

Sure, Hill is great. So are others—Billy Wilson of San Francisco, Frank Gifford of New York, Johnny Carson of Washington, Billy Howton of Green Bay. Others in Hutson's own day in the years since he called it quits were Elroy Hirsch.

But the master—there was only one.

No man in football ever disrupted defenses as Hutson did. No man ever reached single heights in pass catching as he did whatever the defense.

Teams did everything to stop Hutson. They held him on the line of scrimmage, tried to knock him down, ganged up on him, and still he went on to records that probably never will be broken.

Papa Bear Praises Hutson

"We just finally conceded two touchdowns to him," George Halas, one-time coach of the Chicago Bears and still owner, once said, "and then started from there."

Let's take a look at the agate type of the record books that reduces all football achievements to figures. 10 years after his last game, Hutson's name still fills half a page in the record book—seasonal and individual both.

He caught more passes in his career than anybody else, 469, and more touchdowns passes, 101. He gained more yards passing than anybody else, 8,010, and scored more points, 825. He scored more points in a season than anybody else, 138, and caught more touchdowns passes in a season, 17, although Elroy Hirsch (another Wisconsin end) in 1951 tied this record.

He led the league in pass receiving eight years, more than anybody else, and in scoring five years, a record 10. He scored more points in one quarter, 23, than anybody else and that was done against the Detroit Lions in Milwaukee. He was twice named the most valuable player in the league.

Cannot Weight the Two

There's more we could relate about the boy from the University of Alabama . . . records that will probably never be touched. However, I think we have proven our point that you can weigh Harlan Hill on the same scale with Don Hutson.

This corner would be one of the first to acclaim the Chicago end as one of the best of the last few years. But, to try to compare him with Hutson . . . never . . .

There was only one Hutson. There will never be anybody else like him.

Pete Extends Leave Time

1st Lt. Thomas "Pete" Rademacher, Olympic heavy weight boxing winner in the Olympic Games recently completed at Melbourne, Australia has been given a 10-day extension on his leave which was due to end Jan. 2.

Presently at his home in Yakima, Wash., Lt. Rademacher took a 15 day leave on completion of the Olympic Games Dec. 8. Due to a public appeal for his appearance in secondary schools in the Yakima-Spokane area, the Army has granted the Olympic winner the extension.

The Ft. Benning boxer is due to arrive at the Infantry Center around Jan. 12. His wife and two-year-old daughter will accompany him.

Heisman Winner

Notre Dame Backfield Ace Top College Player of '56

NEW YORK (APPS) — Notre Dame quarterback Paul Hornung, who looks more like a star from Hollywood than a gridiron luminary from Louisville, Ky., has been awarded the Heisman Memorial Trophy as the nation's outstanding college football player of 1956.

A year later, the noted coach John W. Heisman—then director of athletics at the clubbed and the trophy was named in his honor.

Key player of the University of Chicago was the first winner and last year's trophy went to Howard Canady, Ohio State half back.

Despite the fact that he was bothered with swollen thumbs most of the season Hornung led his team in playing time, seven statistical departments, and was second in two others.

He carried the ball 94 times for 620 yards, an average of 4.5 yards a carry, and completed 59 of 111 passes for 4,745 yards, three touchdowns and a 53.3 completion percentage. His total offense was 1,327 yards, a

Arkansas Travelers

Girl Basketeers Set Fast Winning Pace

How do the amazing Arkansas Travelers basketball team (all girls), who play more than 200 games during their season, stand such a grueling, hard-breaking pace? That seems to be the question every basketball fan asks after seeing this great team against the Regimental League All-Stars at the Briant Wells Field House Sunday night, Jan. 13. Game time is slated for 8 p.m.

Although they perform night after night and often in doubleheaders — Hazel Walker's talented girls never appear to be exhausted or weary. Every night they stage their dazzling whirlwind show with the same enthusiasm and skill from October through May in a different town each night.

How do they do it? During the season, they played a total of 220 games and set an amazing record winning 203 and losing only 17. This record was accomplished against many of the strongest male teams in the nation.

Miss Walker has the answer to the questions and it's one of the reasons for the Travelers' tremendous success as the Nation's No. 1 Girl's Basketball Team.

"Condition" says Miss Walker, who coaches and owns the Travelers. "The girls are in tip-top condition from the beginning of the season through the end over a six-month period."

Actually the girls are prime athletes who've had many seasons of basketball experience. They've learned the art of pacing themselves, going full steam during a drive and then backing up while executing particularly intricate pass patterns. They have also learned the art of resting under pressure, a test of true ability. Each girl, in her own right, is an outstanding athlete, not only possessed with a knack for basketball but with the ability to excel in other sports.

HAZEL WALKER

Hazel Walker Member of Hall of Fame To Perform With Cagers

The premier Woman Basketball player in the nation is the wife the sports world hails Hazel Walker who leads her Arkansas Travelers cage team against the Regimental League All-Stars here Sunday Jan. 13 at 8 p.m.

After years of trotting the boards as an All-American performer and a top-ranking professional, Miss Walker recently won a spot with Greats in the Hall of Fame (Basketball) in the nation's No. 1 Girl's Basketball Team.

Thus, Miss Walker takes her place with these female greats in the Hall of Fame (Basketball): Helen Willis, Pauline Dridrickson Zaharias, Golf's Fatty Berg and Marlene Bauer; Helon Willis, Pauline Bemis and Louise Brody of Tennis; Gertrude Ederle, who negotiated the English Channel in the 20's and Helen Stevens, the renowned track star.

She also joins the select company of these male stars who have been voted in Helms' Hall of Fame: Football's Don Hutson; Jack Dempsey; Willie Pep; John L. Sullivan of boxing; Baseball's Mel Ott; Charley Gehring; Lou Gehrig; Cy Young; Paul Wanner; Jo DiMaggio; Eddie Sledge, racing fame and golfer Ben Hogan — among the professionals and amateurs greats that include Doak Walker of football; All-American Chris J. Thompson; Babe Ruth, the Olympic Champion, Christian Cage, one-time Army football star.

Hazel Walker considers her selection to the Helms' Hall of Fame a singular honor. "My thanks go to sportswriters and radionomen everywhere for a being included in this great honor for me," Miss Walker says . . .

Bigelow Stars

52nd Co. Scores Win In Senior Field Day

Paced by the efforts of Candidate Dick Bigelow, 52nd Company increased its current winning streak to four straight, scoring a decisive win in the Senior Status Field Day held recently at Dougherty Stadium. 1st-Lt. Manuel A. Conde Jr., 52nd Company cindermen racked up a total of 71 points, trailed by 51st Company with 62, and 50th Company with a total of 36, in the tug-of-war event, was merely icing on the cake.

Final Results
100-yards: Bigelow, 52d; 220-yards: Bigelow, 52nd; 440-yards: Kiser, 51st; 880-yard Relay: 52nd Co. (Fontaine, Hodson, Beolio, Bigelow); Mile Relay: 50th Co. (Masola, Barber, McAleenan, Radcliff); Distance Run: Morris, 52nd; Gracade: Tarrow, Kesse, Stat; Horse & Rider: Stat (Kesse, South); Tug - of - War: 52nd (Donaldson, Michael, Nardini, Nelan, Payne, Seltzer, Ballinger, Votko, Miles, Galan); Drill Team: 52nd (Drillmaster: Davis).

Bigelow, who was awarded the most valuable trophy at the conclusion of the day's activities put on a terrific performance before a good-sized crowd. A former sprinter at Lansing (Michigan) High School, 200-meter first place in both the 100 and 200-yard dashes and anchored both the 880-yard and mile relay teams.

The 50th Company athletes took an early lead, mainly on the strength of Bigelow's performances in the sprints, and the precision of the unit's drill team, which was directed by Candidate Bobby Davis.

Long Grease Tug
However, 51st Co. in a 2 1/2 staged a terrific rally in the stretch, and managed to gain a slim lead with only two events to complete, chiefly through wins by Kiser in the 400-yard run and Kesse in the greasewood tug, the latter heaving the missile a hundred 97 yards.

But the 52nd Company team was far from finished. Bob Morris, running brilliantly, insured his team of another victory by a considerably distance. Another win by 52nd Company.

EAGLE SCOUT . . . Reaching the rank of Eagle Scout after three years of Scouting is Fred H. Carlo, second from right, son of Capt. and Mrs. John W. Carlo of Dayton, Ohio, and a member of Ft. Benning's Boy Scout Troop No. 27. Major Gen. Herbert B. Fowell, right, commander of

The Infantry Center, presented the award at a Scout Court of Honor last week. Left are Fred's parents, Capt. and Mrs. Carlo. As is a Scout custom Mrs. Carlo received a miniature of her son's Eagle pin.

Point Stresses Fire Prevention

"An Ounce of Prevention Is Worth Tons of Fire Equipment," may be the fire prevention slogan at Transfer Point, STC, where the fire prevention program, under the direction of MSgt. Ralph E. Meyer, has reached near perfection.

As part of the program, there is a fire prevention bulletin board near the TIE Office at the Point. The board contains all types of fire prevention news and publications, along with giving such information as the unit's attendance at the fire prevention of Detroit St. 21.

Holiday Means No News

BY M. SGT. CHARLES GRACE

Since the Dec. 6 issue of The Bayonet, each major unit on Post has been allocated a specific amount of space for brief news items.

This space is to be devoted to short, newsy items concerning arrivals, departures, promotions, etc. Special Troops Command's allocation of space is 14 column inches, or approximately 60 words.

Now comes the deadline for another issue of The Bayonet and that 14 column inches is waiting to be filled with 60 words of newsy items. During the Holiday hiatus, that's a fancy word for an opening, a gap, separation, interval) I have news items received at this office are not about arrivals, not about departures, not about births, not about promotions, not acroy. In fact, they're just not.

Maybe we can do like the filibustering Congressmen who reads cooking recipes, verses from the Bible, recites poetry or discusses customs and traditions of his particular part of the country, merely to consume time and possibly delay action to the assembly.

His words are all printed in the Congressional Record — maybe this will get in The Bayonet.

A list of members of the command who have taken Christmas leave and where they are spending that leave would probably amount to a couple hundred words, but the reader interest is doubtful since, after all, it's their leave, but do create where they spend it? Of course their immediate relatives are concerned, but do they need to read the Bayonet to find out where their boy is?

The main part of the holiday period at Benning is important to those who remain on post over the holidays, but why print it here? If you stay on post, you'll know what's on the menu.

So far, that's 499 words (give or take a few) and we haven't listed a transfer, a birth or even a promotion. This should be easy for the editor if he needs to shorten this. It won't matter what he reads the same.

So you've read this far, you are surely spending the holidays on post and certainly have run out of things to go.

Unit Makes Mercy Flight

SFC Robert W. Roller has been assigned to the 4th Helicopter Squadron, Transportation Co., Lawson Army Air Field Command. With the 4th, Sgt. Roller will take on-the-job training as a helicopter mechanic. He came to the unit following an assignment with Co. I, 25th Inf Regt., return of the Korean conflict. Roller also served in Europe during World War II and has a total of 30 months overseas duty. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph B. Roller of Clover, Va. At present, he has two children, Robert W., Jr., and Linda Ann, are residing at 1542 Twelfth Ave., Columbus, Ga.

Lawson Army Air Field Command's airborne ambulance crew performed a 6000 ft. mercy mission last Thursday when an H-19 helicopter ferried a serviceman from the Opelika, Ala., hospital to the post hospital.

The serviceman, PFC Albert Jenkins of Opelika, Ala., had been injured in an automobile accident near Opelika, enroute to Ft. Devens, Mass., where he was treated and fractured, he was transferred to the Opelika hospital until such time he could be transferred to a military hospital.

In less than two hours actual flying time, a pilot of the 37th Helicopter Ambulance Detachment departed the base, flew to Opelika, picked up the injured man and returned him to the hospital here.

The mercy craft, a Sikorsky H-19 helicopter, was piloted by

The first sergeant of the 37th Helicopter Ambulance Detachment, Lawson Army Air Field Command, Sgt. Allen and his wife are the parents of two other children, Cynthia Irene, 8, and Robert Clair, Jr., age 4. The Allens reside at 6872 Killgore St., S.E., Benning.

SFC Matthews is assigned to the 37th Helicopter Ambulance Detachment, Lawson Army Air Field Command, where he is the non-commissioned officer in charge of the unit's maintenance section.

In addition to his impressive scholastic achievement at Rucker, Sgt. Matthews received indirect superior leadership ability and exemplary devotion to duty.

VOL. 15 NO. 18 THURSDAY, JANUARY 10, 1957

Drive Begins To Tighten Purse Strings

A directive aimed at tightening the post's economy program has been issued by Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commander of the Infantry Center. This program will result in the curbing of the use of utilities, temporary duty travel and per diem, the use of telephone calls, use of aircraft, supplies and equipment, guest and graduation speaker programs and other activities. However, every effort will be made to continue the support of the Infantry School and insure its traditionally high standards and to facilitate the mission of the 3rd Div. The economy drive being stressed is the result of a routine mid-year review, a fund allocations now in progress in the Infantry Center, Comptroller's Office. This review indicates that unanticipated expenditures incurred in the first half of the fiscal year 1957 will require considerable retrenchment in expenses for the remaining months of the year. Among other steps necessary to be taken, it is projected that civilian employees whose positions are not essential to the fiscal year 1957. All possible economies are being made early in the fiscal year in order to protect the jobs of the lower bracket civilians and non-employees, according to officials. Other more stringent economies may become necessary, as indicated by the coming fiscal quarter, they added.

Post Notes Safe Vacation Period

STOCKS SHELVES . . . SP3 Lewis T. Loftin, 1st Supply Troops Bn., retilles the shelves of the new Self-Service Supply Store, which began full-scale operations Jan. 7. The Army super-market, which has 1,040 expendable items available, is open from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday.

1 Fatality, 9 Injuries Reported
BY NORMAN SOLTAN
In sharp contrast to the unprecedented mass slaughter on the nation's highways over the Christmas-New Year's vacation, Post personnel enjoyed the safest holiday period in recorded history. Only one fatality and nine serious injuries were reported from Dec. 25 to Jan. 6. These figures were far lower than the pre-holiday predictions. Estimates made by post officials, based on past figures, indicated that three soldiers would die and 25 become hospital patients as an aftermath of vacation activities.

Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, deputy Infantry Center commander, called the safety record a remarkable achievement by every individual he said. "Safety is an individual responsibility," Thompson said, "and each man can protect it nearly as well as the soldier can practice it." Warren Aguiar Lasker, Gen. Thompson, chairman of the Ft. Benning Safety Council which was organized to formulate an accident prevention program, warned against a let-down in safety consciousness.

Norman Evans, Infantry Center safety director, claims the increased awareness by Post soldiers of their responsibility behind the wheel was the prime reason for the excellent holiday record. He commended the commander of each unit for cooperating in the effort.

3rd Division Best
The outstanding improvement was made by the 3rd Div., whose safety record was best percentage-wise on post, with only three injuries reported. Last year the organization suffered six fatalities and had 15 soldiers hospitalized during the year.

Major units reporting just one serious accident included the 37th Helicopter Ambulance Team, the School Brigade, Special Troops Command and the 1st Infantry Group.

Three Units Given New Names Jan. 1
Three units were given new titles recently. The Infantry Center and the Infantry School have been redesignated the U.S. Army Infantry Center and U.S. Army Infantry School, respectively. The Third Army Area Food Service Army has been re-designated the Third U.S. Army Food Service Army.

The redesignation of the units is a general Army program to make units more readily identifiable as part of the U.S. Army.

Benning Opens New Type Supply Center

The post's new Self-Service Supply Center began full-scale operations Jan. 7 dispensing expendable supplies to Post units and organizations. Located on Indianwood Road, adjacent to the Airborne Gym, the store will be open from 9 a.m. to 3:30 p.m. Monday through Friday. The Infantry Center, Infantry School, Infantry Board and other Post activities will receive office supplies, housekeeping supplies, spare parts, hardware and general supplies at the center. Directed by Col. Lindley, The Army superintendent is under the direction of Lt. Col. Robert P. Lindley, Infantry Center Ordnance Section. It has been operating two and a half hours 3 days since its formal opening by the Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Dec. 31. The soldier shopper makes purchases from display shelves and bins using a metal "charge plate" similar to those used in department stores. At the checkout counter, his bill is charged against his unit's "bill balance" for the month. Reduces Paperwork The supply center reduces to a minimum the paper work in supply orders and the stocks people involved in the Post offices. It facilitates the availability of a large number of expendables in the amount desired, cutting the practice of hoarding and allowing the quantity of supplies required. Cost-conscious supply sergeants will shop carefully to stay within their unit's monthly budget, officials pointed out. A total of 1,040 items are available. These include 500 items of office supplies, 26 of housekeeping supplies, 244 labeled general supplies and 254 repair and spare parts.

Youth Returns to Army, Which Was First Home

Pvt. James Allynus Callahan of Alexandria, Va., talking basic training in the 3rd Inf. Div. is Irish by name, Oriental by birth, and American by choice and opportunity. Orphaned by the Sino-Japanese war at an age too early for him to remember, Callahan was found and adopted by an Irish-American pilot with the U.S. Air Corps in the Philippines. After a short stay in Alexandria, Va., Callahan enlisted in the Army and was assigned here.

The U. S. Army was the only home I ever knew," Callahan stated, "and I am extremely proud and grateful to be back again."

Louis Jordan Sets Appearance

Famed Louis Jordan and his " Tympany Five" will entertain on post with a concert the Main Theater on Jan. 7 at 8:30 p.m. Noted for his distinctive style of jazz, Jordan's music features the music he has made known throughout the world in the past 15 years. Special Services officials have announced that this will be one of the few live-in-theater to give a two-hour concert during the year.

The public is invited. No reserved seats will be sold. Tickets sell for 50 cents.

Post Adopts New Policy On Sick Call Treatment

The first two grades of non-commissioned officers and specialists on post will be given preferential consideration for sick call treatment in dispensary here effective Dec. 25. The new policy, which became effective Dec. 25, applies to enlisted grades of E-6 and E-7—master sergeants, sergeant first class, master specialists and specialists first class—throughout the Infantry Center. It was approved by Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell.

Gen. Dahlquist Speaks to Post Groups Jan. 6-9

Gen. Fred J. John E. Dahlquist of Harris, Upham and Company, Washington, D. C., spoke to various Post groups at the meeting of the Ft. Benning Woman's Club. He was accompanied by Mrs. Dahlquist. The luncheon meeting was held in the Main Theater. The retired officer also spoke to approximately 600 students attending the Infantry School in the Main Theater on Jan. 9 in the Main Theater.

The four-star general commanded Continental Army Command at Ft. Monroe, Va., before his retirement here last February. He is a veteran of 29 years' service.

Team Visits Post
A four man instructor service team visited the Infantry Center Headquarters arrived on post Tuesday for a two day visit. Headed by Capt. Clarence H. Fuller the group will visit Infantry Center personnel in various areas of the post. The system being effective provisionally in the dispensary Dec. 14, 1956, and proved thoroughly satisfactory according to officials. Valuable information will be saved by processing these men about their problems dealing with post-tenure and aircraft field maintenance. Other members of the group are 2nd Lt. Layton R. ## A Taste of Home GIs Eat Yule Dinner With Local Families

More than 75 soldiers who stayed on post over the holiday received a taste of home when they were served Christmas dinner by Columbus families.

This show of holiday spirit was made possible through the cooperation of the Armed Services YMCA in Columbus.

Special events, including a formal dance and gift filled stockings, were given by the 3rd Div. during the holidays to military personnel.

The Y's holiday program began the weekend before Christmas with a formal dance. Music for the occasion was furnished by the Gertrude Handley Trio of Columbus and vocalist, Mrs. Pauline Lamar.

One hundred and twenty-five Vietnamese Army officers, members of the first class to graduate from the Republic of Vietnam Military Academy, arrived on post Jan. 6 to attend the Infantry School.

The group will begin the 18-week Allied associate company officers class No. 2 today. This course includes instruction in tactics, weapons, communications, staff, automotive and airborne-Army aviation subjects.

In ceremonies at the 6th Co., TSB, 2nd Lt. Pham Phung, student company commander, presented the class to Lt. Col. Harold A. Cassell, commander of the School Brigade's 1st Bn.

Other speakers were Lt. Col. Clark W. Trainer, Infantry School Allied Liaison officer, and Capt. Paul R. Horne, 6th Co. commander.

The Vietnamese and U.S. cadets will be joined by a composite Infantry Center band.

DAR Hears Speech by Colonel Harris
Colonel William A. Harris, Division Artillery commander, was the speaker at the January meeting of the Oglethorpe Chapter, Daughters of the American Revolution.

He spoke on the "Contribution of great military leaders to our country." Colonel Harris assumed command of the Division Artillery in September. He came here from Europe where he served in the Supreme Headquarters Allied Powers in Europe as Assistant to the Chief of Staff.

3 Div. Receives Training Group
The 1st Inf. Bn. Monday began training the first group of men who will receive advanced individual training in the 3rd Div.

A total of approximately 600 men will receive this training from the battalion. The first group of 300 started their course Monday while two more groups consisting of 150 trainees each will begin instruction Jan. 21 and 28.

The new arrivals come from Army Training Centers at Ft. Jackson, S.C., Ft. Chaffee, Ark., Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo., Ft. Dix, N.J., Ft. Carson, Colo., and Ft. Bliss, Tex.

Upon completion of their eight weeks training, the men will be further assigned according to the needs of the Army.

OK Sought For Change In Divisions

The Department of the Army has recommended to the Secretary of Defense and the President that they approve the reorganization of the Infantry divisions to begin in the next calendar year.

According to the Army plan, the changes in the Armored divisions will be minor. The Infantry divisions will be reduced by approximately 3700 men, and the Airborne divisions by about 6600.

These divisions will be "pentagonal" in character. That is, pentagonal in structure, and geared to the anticipoatory requirements of combat in which atomic weapons may be used.

The numerical reduction in the divisions' strength does not result from an overall reduction in the requirements for military manpower but reflects a redistribution of strength throughout the combat zone.

It is felt by DA that this new division structure will raise the combat effectiveness of the Army by exploiting to the maximum modern technology for the improvement of firepower, mobility and control.

The transition to the new organization will be phased over a considerable period, according to plans which are being developed.

Chaplain Lovin, a Methodist, is retiring after 29 years of service and will return to his home in Atlanta. He has been assigned here since January, 1954.

He first entered the Army as an Infantry Reserve officer. During his Army career he received his bachelor of divinity degree from Emory University in Atlanta in 1937. He completed his undergraduate work at Wolford College, Spartanburg, S. C.

From 1940 to 1942 Chaplain Lovin served on post as chaplain of the 29th Infantry Regiment. Before his present assignment he was the chaplain of the Korean Base Section in the Far East.

Hypnotist to Appear At Theatre Tonight

Internationally famous hypnotist Frank Peterson will give his post audience a look at mass hypnotism tonight at the Main Theatre at 8:45 p.m.

This will begin the 1957 entertainment program for the Infantry Center Special Services Section and will be one of the top variety performances of the year, according to officials.

Compared to Peterson, the "Shadow" of radio and story fame is just a novice. Although the Shadow can make himself invisible, he cannot render his enemies powerless; nor can he make himself appear as a gorilla or some other creature.

A Born Hypnotist
For Peterson, such feats have become elementary. A born hypnotist, he has spent most of his life astounding his fellow beings with the power of the human mind.

The great hypnotist is a tall, erect man, most easily remembered for his strange piercing eyes. Although he became aware of his gift at an early age, he learned to adapt it scientifically through training under the best hypnotists in Europe.

In his shows, Peterson uses an advanced form of hypnosis, called the "Mistia Fire Sleep" by the audience who take part in the feat voluntarily will be affected.

Since Peterson never hypnotizes a person against his will, only those who take part in the feat voluntarily will be affected.

In another demonstration, the hypnotist causes the entire audience to become invisible through spectacular demonstration of mass hypnosis. Many of these feats have as yet never been duplicated.

The show is two hours in duration, packed full of mystery thrills and drama. Family civilians are invited to attend.

151st Engineers Carry On Proud Tradition Established By Corps During Last 181 Years

GROUP COMMANDER
... Col. Julian Soltohub

This year marks the 181st anniversary of the founding of the Corps of Engineers, represented at Ft. Benning by the 151st Engineer Group, commanded by Col. Julian V. Soltohub.

Since the time of its founding the tradition of devotion to duty and undertaking the impossible has been represented by the Corps' motto "Esaysans," meaning "Let Us Strive."

From the muddy ruts of the Argonne Forest to the frozen hills of Korea, the men of the Engineers Corps have written a brave and memorable history. Whether it was to provide a bridge for the Infantry or to blast ahead as foot soldiers, the Engineers have always proved themselves.

The Engineer is not only required to perform the many duties of a soldier, but he must also develop the necessary technical skills peculiar to his branch.

Divided concentration is in reality a "must for the Engineer. While the Infantry, Armor, and Artillery concentrate their attention fully on their own tasks, the Engineer must also look to the natural obstacles, terrain and weather, which must be overcome if victory is to be achieved.

While the Corp of Engineers' military works helps to protect American soil from aggression, its peace-time work helps make the nation more prosperous and more secure against natural disasters. It builds canals and roads; it clears and dredges rivers and harbors; it builds dams and levees; and it fights floods and droughts.

Activated April 1, 1955, at Ft. Benning, the 151st Engineer Group has the mission of executing tactical, technical, and administrative commands over assigned or attached units.

The component units of the group are: Hqs & Hqs Co., the 577th Engineer Bn., the 78th Engineer Bn., and the 586th Engineer Co.

Post Names Winners In Decoration Contest

Nine winners of the Christmas home decoration contest on post added to the community spirit and collected cash prizes for their holiday efforts.

First, second and third place awards were made for door, window and outside Christmas lighting in the contest sponsored by the Women's Club for quarters in the Main Post area.

The prizes were $12, $8 and $4 for first, second and third place respectively.

Winners for door decorations were: first place, Major Bernard K. Levin, U. S. Army Hospital; second place, Lt. Col. Rufus E. Hallmark, Technical Department; and Douglas L. Gilbert, The School Brigade, won the third place along with Major W. J. Jenkins, 6th Tank Battalion.

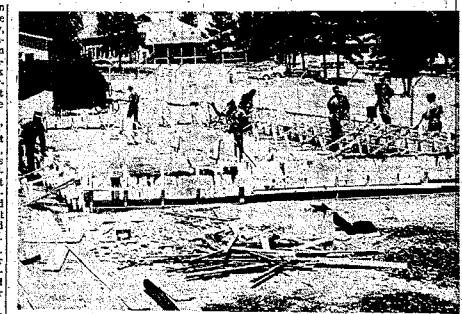

Outside lighting winners were: first place, Lt. Col. James W. Smith, G-3 Section, Infantry Center; Col. Rollin B. Durbin, director of The Infantry School's Communications Department; third place, Lt. Col. Gentry Wade, Book Department; The Infantry School.

Winners in the window decoration class were: first place, Col. and Mrs. Durbin; second place, Major W. B. Lovvorn, 25th Regimental Combat Team; third place, Lt. Col. Thomas S. Capers, adjutant general 3rd Div.

Judges were Mrs. Macon Hipp and Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Francisco of Columbus, Ga. Officials of the Women's Club noted that many homes were decorated but not entered in the contest.

RIVER CROSSING... Members of the 586th Engineer Co. are shown supporting a river crossing problem. This type of bridge is the aluminum foot bridge.

NO SUBSTITUTE FOR MUSCLES... The Engineers don't always work with power tools. Here men of the 78th Engineer Bn. use their muscles while building an Army recreation building.

The 78th's reorganization was completed on Dec. 15, 1947, but on Dec. 15, 1947, it was reduced to zero strength. During this period, the unit was attached to the Infantry Center, and conducted all Engineer demonstrations required by the Infantry School.

The battalion was reactivated May 2, 1949 as the 78th Engineer, Combat, Bn., and further attached to the 3d Inf. Div. with the responsibility of fulfilling various construction projects requirements and conducting engineering demonstrations.

The battalion's motto is "Sequitur," which means "By Diligence." The colors of the unit are the traditional Engineer colors, scarlet and white with authorized Pacific streamers. The Battalion was assigned to the 151st Engineer Group April 12, 1953. The 78th will go to Europe in February 1957, replacing the 498th Engineer Bn.

The 586th Engineer Co., located in the Harmony Church Area, and under the command of Capt. Lawrence Davis, was activated at Ft. Belvoir, Va., Jan. 28, 1952, and assigned to the Office, Chief of Engineers. The unit was later transferred to Benning where it is participating in all practical purposes, to the 78th Engineer Bn.

The 586th played a major role in the field exercises "Follow Me" and "Sagebrush." One of its typical accomplishments was the removal and replacement of the old foot bridge across the Chattahoochee River at Bradley's Landing with a completely assembled Class 60 Bridge in just a matter of nine hours.

The youngest member of the 151st, is the 577th Engineer Bn. located in the Lawson Field area.

Commanded by Major Nelson C. Baker, the 577th Engineers were activated only two years ago on Aug. 22, 1954, at Ft. Benning.

Since its initial assignment of rehabilitating its own living quarters, the battalion has counted and successfully completed extensive range construction and rehabilitation projects. Another mission of the unit is to provide assistance to the Post Engineers as directed through the Group by the Infantry Center.

Easy Way Out

A traveling salesman was telling about his experiences in the wild west: "There I was — Indians to the right, Indians to the left, Indians everywhere."

"Wow!" exclaimed a listener, "what did you do?"

"What could I do? I bought a blanket."

during the past six months has been the support rendered by the United States Army Reserve. The busy summer of 1956 was initiated by the arrival of the 3957th USAR Engineer School.

This school was wholly dependent on the services of the 151st Engineer Group for housing and messing facilities, training, a i d e s, equipment, transportation, and instructors.

Equally as great an undertaking was the support given to the 4th USAR Engineer Brigade, numbering nearly 3,000 men. The brigade, consisting of over 40 units divided into four group levels, was the largest USAR engineer outfit to be housed on post in quite some time.

Capt. Sells 2 Articles On Benning

Capt. Ross A. Sheldon, public information officer for The School Brigade, was recently notified that two articles authored by him and captioned to magazines will be published in January issues.

"Forest Under Fire", concerning the problems of carrying out a forestry program in the midst of military training on the reservation will be published in the January issue of "American Forests."

According to the editor it will be their lead article, pictures used on the cover.

"The Army Calls A Taxi", which is about the post taxi service, will be published in the January issue of "Taxi Industry and Auto Rental News", a trade magazine catering to taxi fleet owners and managers.

The story points out the peculiarities of military requirements which make the taxiing taxi service unique.

Capt. Sheldon has written articles for Pageant, Army Screen and various trade and technical magazines, as well as for military publications.

In a letter to Senor Pedro González, impresario of the Nogales Gales Bull Ring, Mary Lou stated she would like to learn more about bullfighting. And she did. Some of the best matadors in the world—one of them Luis

Georgia Begins Renewal Of Driver's Licenses

The only type of Georgia driver's licenses which do not have to be renewed are the veteran's licenses, according to a recent release from the State Department of Public Safety.

Any license which has an expiration date of March 21, 1957, including the special learner's license as well as the regular license, must be renewed before March 21.

Renewal of these licenses began Jan. 2 and a renewal schedule has been posted in the county courthouse.

Personnel from the Department of Public Safety are making periodic visits to all counties, cities and towns, patrol posts, and various other places during the renewal period as a convenience to the public so that a driver's license can be obtained and over-the-counter service rendered.

If a driver's license is lost, destroyed, or mutilated in any manner, it will be necessary that a proper application be completely filled out, mailed to P.O. Box 1741, Atlanta 1, Ga. 30 the number can be looked up, and the license returned to the applicant.

Effective Price List

The following prices will be in effect for regular operator's licenses:

- Regular operator's one-year license, one dollar;
- the wife can secure an operator's license for 50 cents; provided she has her husband's license in her hand when seeking a renewal.

Any minor, dependent child, from living at home, can secure a one-year license for 25 cents upon presenting the driver's license of the family head.

The fee for a one-year chauffeur's license will continue to be $2.00. The head of a family may secure a five-year license which will expire March 31, 1962, for $5.00. The wife, for $2.50; any minor dependent children for $1.25. The latter child for $1.25. The latter child for $1.25. The latter child for $1.25.

The fee for a five-year chauffeur's license will be $10.00. The learner's license will continue to expire on March 31st of each year. Any adult person's learner's license costs $1.00 with the exception of the wife's, which costs 50 cents, and minor children's, which cost 25 cents.

Age Limit: Same

Special learners' licenses and regular operators' licenses will continue to be issued at the present ages that now prevail. All persons must have licenses with expiration date as recent as March 21, 1951, to be renewed without examination. All other persons will be required to take the written, road sign recognition and eye tests before a valid license can be issued.

Operation hours for the local office, which is located at 122 10th Avenue, are from 9 to 5 Monday through Friday, and from 9 to 12 on Saturdays.

Unit Trains At Stewart

The 71st Tank Bn., soon to be replaced by the 82nd Tank Bn., departed Jan. 4 for Ft. Stewart, Ga. where the G-transport unit will take part in field exercises prior to its movement to Schweinfurt, Germany in March.

Minus its advanced party, which left for Europe last month, the 74th will have its members fire all tank gunnery tables for record.

Included in the training schedule will be company and platoon-tests with some battalion exercises.

Tentative date of return for the 74th is Feb. 13.

Around the first of March, the 74th commanded by Lt. Col. Garth Stevens, will prepare for debarkation to Germany. Personnel who will travel with their families will meet at the debarkation port, while the remainder of the troops will travel by troop train, get into the States.

Yes, they'll be residents of Columbus and Phenix City, beginning Sunday, January 20th, and their names are destined to become household words. These three office names—FAIRfax, CYpress and MURdock—will help you reach the Columbus and Phenix City telephones you want.

Except for some 2,500 customers in the southeastern section of the city whose numbers must be completely changed to MURdock followed by a 9 and four other numerals, you will find that most customers will keep the same five numerals they now have. The only difference will be the addition of a central office name as follows:

The present Phenix City telephone numbers will be changed and have the office designation of CYpress 8 followed by the four numerals. CYpress 7 numbers may be assigned to new telephones in the Alabama area after January 20th. In Columbus the four digit numbers will become FAIRfax 2, followed by the four numerals. Five digit numbers will become FAIRfax 2, 3, 4, or 7, followed by the four numerals. For example, an existing number such as 2-9999 would become FAIRfax 2-9999. To call this number you would dial FA 2-9999. Please remember that in all cases you must dial only the first two letters of the office name followed by the five numerals.

But please remember to use the old directory until 2:01 A.M. Sunday, January 20th, then use the new directory for all calls, dialing the first two letters (capital letters) of the proper office name, followed by the five numerals.

So meet and remember FAIRfax, CYpress and MURdock. Properly used, they will direct your calls to the right telephone.

Your cooperation in this change is greatly appreciated.

Many Dissatisfied With Bonus Rule

ED. NOTE: Tom Wierzbicki is currently on leave, and while he is gone his column is being written by SP2 Sam Procopio, of the 29th RCPT P10 Section.

There's something about sport's rules that bring out the pioneer instincts in the men that make them. Not only do they seem to be constantly seeking rule changes that they can make (which is good), but the more extreme the alteration can be, the better the rulemakers appear to like it. Football exploded with its limited substitution rule. Baseball stuck its neck out with the sacrifice fly rule whereby the batter is not credited with a time at bat if he advances a runner home on a fly ball. The loudest and more recent cry, which is being spread like DDT, comes from within the basketball circle.

Three years ago basketball rules makers decided to keep the widely criticized "one-and-one" free throw regulation for lack of an adequate substitute. Two years ago the National Basketball committee of the U. S. and Canada threw out the "one-and-one" rules and substituted for it a "bonus" rule. The latter is not a bad rule, but it's not a good one either.

MAKE ONE, GET ONE FREE

The bonus rule is in effect for the first 37 minutes of all 40 minute games. It provides that on a common foul, or one shot infraction, the player be given a bonus free throw if he makes his first shot. If he misses his first try, the ball goes in play.

For the last three minutes, however, the old rule remains unchanged, in that all fouls are worth two shots. The unpopular one-and-one rule provided an extra free throw if the first try on a common foul was missed. It was also a 37 minute rule.

The bonus rule, with the exception that it was carried out for the full 40 minutes, was first experimented with two years ago in the Southern California-Penn State consolation game in the NCAA finals. Some liked it. Some didn't. We think it's an improvement over the one-and-one rule, but it is not an adequate ruling. We believe that the original foul rule employed before the inception of the one-and-one rule was adequate.

IS GRADUALLY COMING BACK

In fact, it appears that the rules committee is gradually bringing it back. This "bonus" rule is the nearest thing to it. The original ruling called for a shot at the free throw line if a foul had been committed. If a player missed his first try, the ball was in play and he didn't get a second. If a player was fouled in the act of shooting, he obtained two free throws — the second being put in play if missed.

This aforementioned ruling was changed because coaches felt that it didn't stop intentional fouling. Well, what's stopping them now? Only a petty whistle employed by the officials. What almost two years' experience under the bonus rule, fouls are called as often — if not more.

Committed and called, however, are as different as night and day. Fouling during the regular basketball games on foot has left most of the fans up in the air. In fact, it seems to be the menu of the day.

The foul in basketball is very important. In a close contested game it will certainly mean the difference between a win and a defeat. This was well proven in the 29th RCPT-School Brigade tussle where 59 attempts were made at the foul stripe. More important, should the bonus rule be blameworthy in the eagerness of referees blowing the "quick" whistle on the slightest appearance of a foul for fear that they are being cheated as a participant?

Some critics say that the "bonus" rule will stress better shooting at the foul line. Really? Every rule has stressed shooting. We have always been under the impression that the object of the game is putting the ball in the basket from wherever the player may be taking a shot. Why not limit the game to 37 minutes and use the last three minutes for a foul shooting.

Arkansas Travelers to Appear Against Post All-Stars Sunday

The hardwoods will get a work-out Jan. 13 when Hazel Walker and her Arkansas Travelers meet an all-star aggregation from the post's Regimental Cage League at Briant Wells Field House. The Travelers, organized in 1949 under the leadership of the nation's top woman cage performance, all American Hazel Walker, has three main objectives: entertainment, showmanship, and top-notch basketball.

Undoubtedly, proof of this will be seen Sunday at 8 p.m. when they line up against the Regimental All-Stars, playing men's rules. Without question, the Hazel Walker combine rates as the No. 1 women's basketball team in the world today. Proof of that claim is the amazing record the team has compiled against men's teams only in its seven-year history.

The 1955-56 season was the best and biggest yet for the Travelers who played a 220 game schedule in 43 states, were the nation's top women cage team, and won the national championship. In addition, sports writers everywhere hailed the team as "the nation's most watchable basketball outfit."

The Travelers producing at its best and entertainment at its finest, appealing to the eyes of those who have only a nodding acquaintance with the game as well as to long-time fans of the sport—both men and women.

TRAVELER STAR... Francis Garzotto

The Club thrives on expert basketball but misses neighborhood and trickery to round out an entertaining night on the boards. Hazel Walker personally puts on a free-throw exhibition during half-time.

The 1957 29th RCPT boxing team, regarded as a better-than-average group, will be the main attraction of the charity exhibition tomorrow night at the Montgomery (Ala.) Police Athletic Club.

An 18-hour card is scheduled for 8 p.m. at the old Athletic Club gym in Montgomery. The pugilist hopefuls from the 29th will don uniforms and fight their skill, stamina and courage with eight others from the School Brigade and 38 Division title and in the quarter finals in the USAREUR tournament during 1957 and 1958.

Other members who will be seeking some ring experience are: Coach John J. Rivola's crew line-up, coached in the Eastern Whittington, a light middleweight. The classy 156-pounder punched his way to the 5th Division title and in the quarter finals in the USAREUR tournament during 1957 and 1958.

Since the opening practice sessions before the holidays, the 29th squad has been "roughing it" in training camps in the observation of the 1957 rules of the Amateur Athletic Union.

Many of the former AFPS All-Stars who are now playing pro football are Billy Wells, of the Washington Redskins; Olin Spencer, Detroit Lions; and Al Matson, Chicago Cardinals.

Rabbit Hunting Hosts New Year

This being the first column of the year, I guess some ideas for the coming months are in order. What would you say to the readers like to see, try, or learn what that's what I'm interested in.

When I first started this weekly venture I mentioned that any correspondence in connection with validity and pictures would be welcomed.

This deadline does not mean that if you have a story, or your latest hunting trip, that you can't send it in. I will be glad to pick it up from you.

Any correspondence should be addressed to: PFC Jerry Armstrong Public Information Officer, U. S. Army Activity, Center, Ft. Benning, Georgia.

Getting back to what I'm going to try and bring you during the next few weeks will be called "Rabbit Hunting Range Guards" is planned. This will include pictures of each of the 19 range guards, the chief range guard and range guard officer.

Also, if at all possible, I will like to give you some special recipes from some of the wives of soldiers on post.

As Result of Conservation Report Indicates Better Hunting In Store for Area Sportsmen

Thanks to the Army, more not only for soldiers in store, but also for civilians in near-by communities.

Post authorities have noted a definite increase in the number of small game caught and bagged during the disease and predatory control survey now in operation.

Many of the reservations, including Ft. Benning, in the Third Army area reveal bag limits rapidly increasing. Wildlife officials attributed this to most likely to the new conservation program.

As a result of this program, an excess amount of game will move into the adjoining hunting territories.

This is the reason Carolina and Phenix City hunters can look for a more bountiful hunting season this year.

RCT Loses to TSB In High Fouling Game

The most evolutionary change in basketball has been brought about by the bonus rule and the referee's is nothing.

However, the 29th RCT cagers found that the rule and being able to capitalize on it means the difference between winning and losing.

Although the loss drops to the defeated ranks, Coach Fred Byerly's squad from the undetected ranks, a three-way battle again by topping high-ranked Detroit.

The two teams will meet at 8:30 p.m. Friday at Briant Wells Field House.

Received 24 Free Ones In the wild and woolly affair last Monday, the 29th and School Brigade found their players at the foul stripe 32 times, scoring 36 goals.

Employing a zone defense against the high-scoring TSB School Brigade team, the 29th missed one of its best performances of the year in foul shooting (14 out of 23). The foul tally: 41 of the Commanders' ball, 14 fouls, 11 fouls, 11 fouls.

Nevertheless, the once-beating of a good back, the center was high scorer for the evening with 30 points.

Until the waning minutes of the final 30 minutes, leads up playing by Oliver Elders, Frank Lee, and John Bernard.

Possession of the ball—which is considered nine points—was instrumental in winning for the School Brigade in the final minutes. In this case, it was seven points, the Commanders' unlucky seven.

At 7 p.m. Jan. 7, the Commanders' team, playing a seven game win streak, during the regimental basketball league's seventh week of competition.

Lawson Command Consolidates Units Under Single Headquarters

An organizational change in the Lawson Army Air Field Command this week brought all units of the command, except the 3d Detachment, under the supervision of the 3d Transportation Detachment. Official designation of units effected are the 1st Army Aviation Co., the 4th Transportation Co., the 27th Medical Detachment and the 22nd week 1 Transportation Detachment.

All of the units are the General Reserve category and were merely attached to the command in the past. No change in the mission of the units will result from the change in attachment. Commanded by Lt. Col. Charles Ernest, the 3d Transportation Co. was activated here last September. Until this change in attachment, it had been organized and designated the 14th Aviation Co. at Ft. Riley, Kan. in June 1955, and redesignated the unit.

The "Fourth" was organized as the 50th Transportation Co. at Ft. Sill, Okla. in June, 1952. It was transferred here in November, 1952, and was redesignated the "Fourth" in May. The unit utilizes Sikorsky H-34 helicopters and is commanded by Major William A. Howell.

Basically a medical unit, the 27th utilizes the H19 helicopter in emergency medical evacuation throughout the Third Army area. The unit was activated here in July, 1956, as a part of the 54th Medical group and moved to LAFB in February, 1956. Capt. Glen W. Jones commands the unit.

Amateur Radio "What's An SWL?"

By Capt. ROSS A. SHELDON
"WHAT'S AN SWL?" "I QSL'd that SWL yesterday. So he QSL'd me back for the QSO. The SWL says he is on the landing complaining I'm giving her QRT too long. I've checked it. In the meantime, if you QSV you'll hear Jimmy WAGON calling CQ 75 looking for phone patch into your QTH. WYKZ is being checked around here but she's being QRT'd by a California Kilo-watt in Alabama and her mobile is rockbound and she can't slide around it. So WACFE this is RKKKD off and clear."
Does the above bother you? If it does, better brush up on ham procedure if you intend to listen in on ham conversations. Due to the length of time it takes to send a message in Morse Code, various abbreviations are in international use often used messages. Through habit, the hams usually use a lot of abbreviating even when conversing on phone (voice) as well as CW (code).
Take the following definitions and fit them into the above conversation and see if you can tell what this station was telling another.

QSL: A postcard receipt sent to acknowledge a QSO with another station.
SWL: Short Wave Listener. Also the postcard sent by one to a ham station giving time and frequency the station was heard. Most hams will send the SWL their own QSL card in return. Collecting each other cards as proof of communication is an old hobby among hams and shortwave listeners.
Either listen for the ham to identify himself and give his address (which he rarely will) or buy a copy of the Rodia multiples of its operating frequency. Use the frequency at the bookstore and at downtown wholesale radio houses.
Send him up. Send him a note and frequency heard.
To get a large number of calls up to tell us we had a

QRT: Location of station. Our QTH is 303D, 1st Div. Rd. Ft. Benning, Georgia for example. Frequently the QTH means only the town, not the complete address.
WYKZ: Another station call letters. United States call letters begin with either a W or a K followed by one to 10 numbers from 1 to 0 which denote the area of the United States. Reading down the Atlantic Coast its 1, 2 and 3 then west to 4 & 5. California is 6 west by itself. There are so many there, 7 is Pacific Northwest, then back through Kansas land again for 8, 9 and 0. The last three letters are the individual station.
Thus our call of RKKKD is readily identified as station in the southeastern United States. All hams purchase the quarterly "Callbook" which lists call signs and name and address of all hams throughout the world.
QRM: Interference from another station. This is the prime headache in amateur radio. There are so many they frequently pile up on top of each other.
"CALIFORNIA KILOWATT": Federal Communications Commission regulations limit the maximum power of a ham station to a thousand watts (1 kilowatt). However, California hams have a reputation for exceeding the legal limit, hence the expression for an unusually high powered station.
MOBILE: Automobile mounted. Due to battery drain, mobile rigs are low powered. They could pick up a nearby one but they have a bad time of the low frequencies (75 and 40 meters) where the SWLs hang out.

ROCKBOUND: Crystal controlled. Unable to QSV except by plugging in another crystal. A VFO (variable frequency oscillator) allows a station to move up or down just enough to "get out from under" heavy QRM. However, the VFO costs about $200.00, is added bulk and weight, and uses up power completely.
A Novice can't use one due to lack of proper training. He has to be crystal controlled. The call sign indicates this is not a Novice station however, as the letter N for Novice would be between the W and the . Novices can't use Phone voice either. Only CW (code).
THE SIGN: The station call sign is announced first, followed by the sign of the station calling. When an answer is expected the station usually signs only "WACFE this is RKKKD". Regulations require use of call signs at least once every ten minutes and at the beginning and end of the transmission.
"My boy," said the successful man to his son, "when I was your age I was carrying water for a gang of bricklayers."
"Gee, dad," said the boy, "I sure am proud of you. If it hadn't been for your pluck and perseverance I might not be good to do something like that myself."

ROCKBOUND: Crystal controlled. Unable to QSV except by plugging in another crystal. A VFO (variable frequency oscillator) allows a station to move up or down just enough to "get out from under" heavy QRM. However, the VFO costs about $200.00, is added bulk and weight, and uses up power completely.
A Novice can't use one due to lack of proper training. He has to be crystal controlled. The call sign indicates this is not a Novice station however, as the letter N for Novice would be between the W and the . Novices can't use Phone voice either. Only CW (code).
THE SIGN: The station call sign is announced first, followed by the sign of the station calling. When an answer is expected the station usually signs only "WACFE this is RKKKD". Regulations require use of call signs at least once every ten minutes and at the beginning and end of the transmission.
"My boy," said the successful man to his son, "when I was your age I was carrying water for a gang of bricklayers."
"Gee, dad," said the boy, "I sure am proud of you. If it hadn't been for your pluck and perseverance I might not be good to do something like that myself."

3d Div. Chaplain Has Compiled Fine Record With 10th Engineers

A member of the Navy during World War II, Francis O. Knight now serves his country as a chaplain for the 10th Engineer Bn. of the 3d Div.

Captain Knight served as a machinist mat 2nd class in the U. S. Navy until the conclusion of the war when he resumed his interrupted college career at Texas Wesleyan College in Fort Worth.

He followed this with attendance at the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary. He also attended the University of Deland, Fla.; Norman Junior College and Duke University.

After completing his education, he became pastor of the First Baptist Church of Caryville where he remained from 1948 through June of 1951.

At that time, aware of the need for chaplains in Korea, he joined the United States Army Chaplain Corps.

Spent Detachments in Germany. However, he spent the duration of the Korean Conflict in Germany on occupational duty. While serving in Europe, he received the Army Commendation Ribbon with Medal Pending.

Returning to the USA, he joined the 47th Inf. Div. which is now the 3rd Div. He assumed his present position as chaplain for the 10th Engineers in July 1955 and was immediately impressed with the unit's active religious spirit.

Chaplain Knight's record while with the division has been outstanding. The attendance at Protestant Services is higher at his chapel than at any other chapel in the division. He believes that this outstanding attendance record is built through family participation, Sunday School services, organized choir activities, fellowship outings and command support.

As a chaplain, Capt. Knight feels that three real challenges

Ordnance Unit Removes Duds

BY M-SGT. CHARLES GRACE
STC-FIO Section

"One man's meat is another man's poison," a saying reported all facts to Baker.

Proof of this old axiom comes regularly to personnel of the 3rd Ord. Detachment, STC. But from their point of view, the words of the saying are reversed.

Explosive, ordnance is poison to everyone, but the mission of the 3rd is explosive ordnance disposal, so from the "Another man's poison is their meat."

Last week, a phone call from the Platoon Tactics Committee, TIS, notified the detachment of a special range clearance problem. During the course of an exercise, several 4.2 mortar rounds had failed to explode when fired, and had penetrated deep into a range area just off Gurnsey Road.

Opportunity to Train

Seeing an opportunity for further training of his unit in the proper methods of locating and destroying buried "duds," Lt. Walter M. Baker III, CO of the 3rd, decided to use the entire unit for this particular operation.

The first step was to send a reconnaissance group to the danger area to locate the unexploded rounds. This group, consisting of SFC Fred L. Beesley, Sgt. Chester E. Fleming, and SP3 Richard R. Hill completed their reconnaissance and reported all facts to Baker.

The following morning, Lt. Baker briefed the men of the 3rd on the method to be used in the destruction of the duds, and the safety rules to be followed.

Clearance for access to the range was obtained from the Range Control Officer and the unit "moved into the area. The first operation was to probe for and determine the exact location and depth of the duds.

The first one was found six feet down, the second only three feet, the third eight and a half feet, and the fourth proved to be a piece of an exploded round and of no danger.

With the detachment divided into three teams the excavating began and after much toil and sweat, the round was exposed.

Serrano Small Items Found

During the operation, several items of small unexploded ordnance had been discovered and were prepared for detonation in the same manner as the 4.2 rounds.

Board News

9 Assigned Dec. 29

BY LT. HARRY GLIDDEN
The United States Army Infantry Board received a welcome Christmas present with the assignment of 9 soldiers men on the December 29. The nine men recently finished basic training with Heavy Mortar Co., 29th Inf. Regt., Ft. Carson, Colo. They are: Pvt. Billy S. Bovee, Garrison, Kan.; Marvin M. Bedure, McCook, Neb.; Floyd C. Hallett, Rush Center, Kan.; James D. Johnson, Okm Grove, Mo.; Norman B. Johnson, Cudaly, Wis.; Harley F. Luther, Bonner Springs, Kan.; Ernest A. Martinez, Denver, Colo.; James R. Perry, Memphis, Tenn.; and James E. Williams, Union City, Tenn. They have not yet been assigned to duties with the Board.

PFC Hugh B. Wilks, Jr., vice-director of the Detachment, U. S. Army Infantry Board, is expected to pass out his New Year presents on Dec. 29. He became the father of a 7 lb. 10 oz. boy named Hugh R. Wilks, Jr. at the Wilks' home at 25-C Victory Apts. in Columbus.

Thirty-seven years ago the Board was organized at Benning and named "The Infantry Board." It was the first change of name occurred, the supply officer had saved the signs, the Board could save some time and trouble now that the name had been changed. The Board will be right, the new name is the United States Army Infantry Board.

LT. Donald Kutich recently returned from spending his holidays in his home state, which is also his home town, Texas. The former 5th Cavalry Division Detachment, Iliam Barnes, is now on his way to a new assignment with the 1st Inf. Regt. at Ft. Meyer, Va.

LT. Donald H. assumed command of the 55th Med. Co. during the holidays in the absence of commanding officer, Capt. Thomas Stinger. Capt. Stinger spent his holidays in the "not so Christmas like" Florida sun.

PHYLIS McQueen, 19-year-old daughter of Fred UOLA, does a fetching impersonation of Santa Claus, bringer of gifts and good cheer, as she presents a new movie, "Written on the Wind."

Two Leave For Schools

Following their promotion to first lieutenant on Christmas Day, two members of the Lawson Army Air Field Command departed the post last week to take courses at Army service schools.

The two are 1st Lieutenants Nabun C. Green and Julius L. Jones, Jr.

Now assistant safety officer and legal officer of the command, Lt. Green has been shipped to Ft. Campbell, Ky., where for approximately two months he will attend Third Army's instrument flight training school.

LT. Jones, assistant maintenance officer of the command, has been sent to Ft. Easton, Va., where he will attend an eight week course in aircraft maintenance.

In addition to Lt. Green, 1st Lt. Malcolm L. Holmes, Jr., assistant aircraft scheduling officer is also at Ft. Campbell attending the instrument flight training school.

Elements of the 4th Transportation Co. once again departed Lawson Army Air Field Command last Thursday when they took off in their H-34 helicopters for Ft. Bragg, N.C. On temporary duty at Ft. Campbell, Ky., since October, supporting the 101st Airborne Division in Troop Test "Jung Light", personnel of the unit had returned here last month to spend the Christmas holidays with families and friends.

Off to Bragg on Thursday, the 4th will remain there for approximately one month, supporting the 82nd Airborne Division in the maneuvers. The unit will then be sent back to Ft. Campbell for the final phases of the exercises and scheduled to return here during mid-February.

Post Begins Cost-Cutting On Utilities

In keeping with a sweeping economy drive recently inaugurated on post, the cost-cutting objectives is focused on utilities.

Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell named the reduction of utilities bills in a directive which covered a number of items whose costs are to be reduced.

Repairs and painting are sharply curtailed by the inroads of excessive utilities costs on the maintenance fund, according to post G-4 (logistics) officers.

Under the new plan, the maximum temperature will be 65 degrees in all buildings other than family quarters and mess halls. The U. S. Army Hospital Family quarters will have a maximum temperature of 70 degrees.

In buildings such as student apartments, Infantry Center engineers will fix the outside temperature to be set above 70 degrees. In buildings where thermostats cannot be fixed, standards of temperature will be prohibited from tampering with the controls.

West added, "One thing which is important is that in quarters, offices and barracks lights are being burned unnecessarily, according to G-4 officials.

C-M Council Gets Citation From DA

Climaxes 10 Years Of Service
BY NORMAN SOLON

In recognition of its outstanding work in the promotion of Citizens Military Council of Columbus - Ft. Benning - Phoenicia City has received a Certificate of Achievement from the Department of Army and a citation from the Secretary of the Army, Wilbur B. Brockner.

The award was presented at the 10th anniversary reception and dinner meeting held last night at the Main Officers' Club.

The council was cited for its outstanding patriotic services from 1947 to the present time which have developed a better public understanding of the Army and the role of a member of the defense team, thus earning for it a considerable measure of public confidence and support.

During its ten years of existence, it has demonstrated its effectiveness as an instrument for rendering outstanding service to the United States Army and the civilian community.

Six members of the council were presented Infantry Center Certificates of Appreciation at the meeting, which featured Lt. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey, Army commander, as the main speaker.

Entertainers Take Note Talent Hunt Begins On Post February 9

The Ft. Benning post-West, Infantry Center entertainment competition for the All-Army Entertainment Contest will be held at the 29th headquarters, musical held in Service Clubs No. 1, 2 and 3 Feb. 9-10.

Competition will open in Service Club No. 1 on Feb. 9 at 8 p.m. The two final parties of the contest will be held in Service Club No. 3 at 8 p.m. and Feb. 10.

"Any soldier or WAC on post is eligible to enter one of the three stipulations except for persons who have had less than 90 days service," said Dean

PM Office Announces Change in Traffic Plan

The existing Ft. Benning morning peak hour traffic pattern will be altered Friday, Jan. 18. Infantry Center Post Marshal officials have announced.

The change was made necessary by the increased volume of traffic entering the post by way of outpost number 1 between 7 and 9 p.m., due to the repairs presently being made on the Santa Fe road bridge.

Outgoing vehicles from the reservation during this time will be required to leave by way of Warehouse Road to the visitors information center and then to Lumpkin Road beyond Richardson Circle.

Civilian Employees Celebrate Birthday

For Further Training Vietnam Academy Sends First Grads to Benning

The first graduates of the Republic of Vietnam's Military Academy began training at the Infantry School Jan. 10. Speaking at opening ceremonies for Allied Associate company officers class No. 2, Col. William H. Billings, deputy assistant commander of the school, welcomed the 125 Vietnamese officers.

He noted that since 1955, more than 200 Vietnamese officers have been graduated at the Infantry School.

Graduate Do Fine Job

"We are pleased to say that Gen. Williams, head of MAAG in Vietnam, reports from Saigon that these graduates are doing a fine job in the Vietnam Army," he added.

"You are ambassadors of your country here in the U.S.," official visitors at Ft. Benning said. "During the last year we had over 9,000 official visitors at Ft. Benning. They represent all 48 nations and leaders of science, industry and education in the U.S. All of these visitors have been favorably impressed by the behavior and appearance of our students, both U.S. and Allied," he went on.

Guest speaker for the evening will be Major Robert D. Glaser, Jr. He is a Leadership Committee instructor in the U. S. Army Infantry School's Staff Department. Major Glaser will talk to the group on "Leadership of Young People." Post representatives on the group include 141 adults and 30 Girl Scout troops with a membership of 581 girls.

The installation of officers and the presentation of "Leader of the Year" award will highlight the program.

Law and administer social security. Other services range from the operation of the atom smelter to the nation's highways and hundreds of other services required by the American people.

In 1935 for the first time in its history the competitive civil service became worldwide when 20,000 jobs held by American citizens in foreign countries and island possessions were brought under its coverage. Ten thousand jobs in Alaska were brought into the system in 1948.

"In the 74th anniversary of the Service it is still of vital concern that continued understanding and support be the part of all our citizens given in order to maintain the merit principle and make possible the necessary improvements from time to time in the Government personnel system," Mr. Barfoot stated.

President Theodore Roosevelt said in 1906, "I am believed more and more to feel that the observance in letter and spirit of the civil service law is the first requisite in obtaining clean, decent, efficient government, service in any branch of bureau of the government."

Dean West, Infantry Center entertainment director, has issued a special welcome to soldiers, civilian and dependents on post to become active in soldier shows activities during the new year.

This message in keeping with a directive from the Department of the Army (concerning the public announcement and encouragement of military personnel and their dependents to participate in soldier activities.

"Now that the new year has opened we need lots of our own talent of all types for our country shows. Experience is not as important as desire," said West.

He also commented that participation during the early nature will also give persons interested a chance to improve their talents before the post entertainment contest to be held in February.

An Amazing Dividend Record

In 1944 we introduced an unusual, unique idea in life insurance savings and protection. It was highly acceptable to the buying public. We then used this policy in the expansion of new territories.

The eleven years experience with this plan has shown an amazing dividend, giving a low net cost contract without parallel. It is one which you are entitled to compare with any policy you now own or contemplate buying from any company anywhere.

The only wholly acceptable statement about policy dividends is the actual past record—not a future estimate or illustration.

Council Notes Birthday

Association; and Frank Phillips, Jr., of the Muscogee County Commission. All of the above are outgoing members of the council.
Lt. Gen. (Ret.) Manton S. Eddy, former chairman of the Columbus Board of Public Safety, will remain on the council in an advisory capacity as a member-at-large.
For a decade this organization has provided top level liaison between the military reservation and its neighboring communities, not only to discuss mutual problems, but to take action in solving them. Through the consultation and advice of the organization's advisory nature, the commander of the council's membership makes its decisions actually executive in effect.
Permanent membership includes The U. S. Army Infantry Center and 3d Inf. Div. commanding generals, chairmen of Muscogee and Russell County Commissions, as well as the mayors of Columbus and Phenix City.
Formed by O'Daniel, the council was the first of its kind, largely through the initiative of Major Gen. Fay W. O'Daniel, Ret. John W. O'Daniel, then Infantry Center commander. He called a meeting of prominent citizens of Columbus and Phenix City to combat the natural jetdown in civilian military relationship that came with the conclusion of World War II. At this meeting the Citizens Military Council was born.

Perhaps the greatest achievement of the organization was its alleviating the housing shortage that resulted at the outbreak of hostilities in Korea. Through the post had facilities to accommodate all single personnel, family housing was inadequate due to the sudden wartime increase in population.
The council established both a long, short range program to solve the problem. The former consisted of a construction plan for additional housing units in the two cities.
Worked on Housing
To take care of the immediate need, however, the council established a billowing office in Columbus, in space donated by a local church and staffed by military personnel.
Citizens of Columbus and Phenix City were urged to register with the office all available rooms in their homes suitable for renting. In addition local businessmen sponsored newspaper and radio ads to publicize the campaign. The Boy Scouts canvassed the area to locate housing.
Certain major problems are handled by the council directly, but most of the bread and butter work of the organization is handled by five subcommittees.
Among the projects handled are the Recreational, Social and Cultural Activities Subcommittee is the encouraging of the assistance or invitations to Benning personnel to be guests of various civic clubs.

This resulted in the Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs having four military guests, both officers and enlisted men, at every meeting. It also has resulted in printing the monthly calendar outlining events in the great city of soldiers.
Has Religious Unit
The religious and education unit arranges for exchanges of local ministers and Army chaplains who exchange pulpits twice a month. The group also proved very successful in encouraging post personnel to attend religious services in the local community.
The Municipal Relations Subcommittee, composed of the local commanding generals, mayors and chairmen of the county boards, co-ordinates activities in maintaining the relationship between the civilian and military police.
The housing group not only deals with the problem of providing suitable housing for servicemen but works to obtain fair treatment for military tenants and landlords alike.
Protects Everyone
To protect both the merchant and the serviceman from unethical business practices and the excessive extension of credit is the project of the Social Problems and Promotion Subcommittee.
Actually, it is not the publicized activities of the council that make the organization so successful in maintaining a high state of community relations. Rather it is the unending work of the body which could be called the "invisible" community are resolved, and action is initiated to make the Chattahoochee Valley a better place for both the civilian and the soldier.
For example, the council helped to settle jurisdictional matters between county and military police over U.S. and state highways which traverse the reservation.
Through mutual cooperation a beautification program for U.S. Highway 27, which runs through the military reservation, was instituted and included the policing of the area.
Something for ERM
The enlisted man's off-duty time was made more enjoyable by council action. United Service Organization Clubs were kept open after the national funds were withdrawn, and hostesses from the Columbus area were urged to attend dances both at post and city service clubs.
The council is continually studying means of enlarging and improving recreational facilities for off-duty soldiers in Columbus and Phenix City. Through the efforts of the organization enlisted men can attend all high school sports games at a reduced price.
After complaints were made as to excessively high fares charged by a few unscrupulous taxi drivers, the council investigated the situation and established uniform fair rates.
Helps Ft. Benning
The council also has used its voice to speak for needs of the post and its neighbors. It worked for and approval was received from the federal government to allocate additional funds for educating dependent children in civilian schools.
It fought for plans for a four-lane highway connecting the reservation with the traffic circle, which is a short distance from the installation's boundary.

2 Weeks Left to Apply For Integration Into RA

Lt. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey, Third Army commander, this week issued a brief and important "eleventh hour" statement to Army officers and former officers in the Third Army Area.
"I would like to remind all Third Army officers and former officers that they have only three more weeks in which to make application for Regular Army appointments under provisions of the 1956 Armed Forces Regular Officer Augmentation Act," Gen. Hickey said.
January 31 is the deadline for accepting applications for Augmentation Act appointments," he said.
The closing date for applications before Oct. 1, 1956.
"Interested personnel are hereby urged to make application for Regular Army appointments now—before the time element becomes a serious factor in the acceptance or rejection of applications," Gen. Hickey concluded.
This act raises the statutory ceiling on the number of Regular Army officers from 20,500 to 48,500.
The additions will come from 1 Reserve Component officers now on active Army duty; 2 personnel with Reserve commissions who are now on active duty as warrant officers or enlisted men; 3 Reserve and National Guard officers set now on active duty; and 4 persons now holding commissions but who have served as activity officers since Dec. 7, 1944.
Department of the Army announced last week that three lengthy forms which formerly had to be filled out by applicants are no longer necessary—DD Form 288, DD Form 96 and FD Form 258.
It is estimated that elimination of these three forms reduces about half of the time needed for an applicant to complete his portion of the application filing.

Turkish General Receives 10 Day Post Briefing

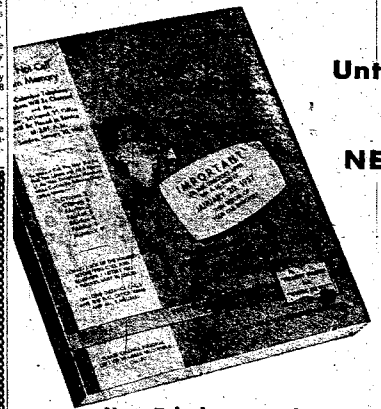

Major Gen. Kemal Akkurt, chief of the Infantry Department of the Turkish Army Ground Forces Command, began 10 days of observant training at the Infantry School Jan. 10.
He had a conference with Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, and was honored at an official luncheon Jan. 11.
Among the demonstrations the Allied visitor is viewing are the Infantry Tank team in an attack, river crossing techniques, M1 rifle marksmanship, field target firing, techniques of machine gun fire, 57 mm recoilless rifles, squad and platoon night demolitions employment of a regimental grenadier and bayonet instruction and Ranger and officer candidate training.

Gen. Akkurt toured the post by helicopter Jan. 18 and attended a reception for the Citizens Military Council at the evening event at 7 p.m. in the Main Officers' Mess.

3d to Gyro As 'Pentana' Unit in '58

Department of the Army announced last week that the 3rd Div. would gyroscope to Germany in March of 1958.
The division will change status with the 10th Inf. Div. which has Headquarters at Würzburg, Germany.
The announcement follows the recent announcement that the 2nd Div. would be one of the Infantry Divisions to be reorganized under the new "Pentana Concept."
The "pentana concept" is designed to exploit the Atomic weapon, the guided missile and Army aircraft. The word "pentana" was chosen to describe the five-sided organization structure ("PENT") and a merged capacity for Atomic (A), non-atomic (NA) operations.
This concept has served as the basis for the structure of the newly reorganized 1st Airborne Div. The Infantry elements are organized into five combat groups—larger than present Infantry battalions but smaller than present regiments. The division is given atomic capabilities with the addition of the "Honnet John" rocket to its artillery.
The proposed new reorganization structure in the Infantry Division will give primary consideration to its capabilities for sustained ground combat. Fire power and mobility will be greatly increased.
The 10th Inf. Div. which will replace the 3rd Div. here, was stationed at Ft. Riley, Kan., prior to their move to Germany. The 3rd Div. will have been at Benning for a period of over three years, when it departs in March, 1958.

PLEASE WAIT

Until January 20th to use the NEW TELEPHONE DIRECTORY

New Telephone Numbers With Office Names Become Effective Then...

All Columbus and Phenix City telephone numbers will be changed at 2:01 A.M. Sunday morning, January 20, to include an office name and five figures. The new directory that will be delivered within the next few days contains these new numbers. Please do not use the new directory until after 2:01 A.M. January 20. Destroy your old directory after that time.

HERE'S HOW THE CHANGE WILL WORK
While some numbers in Columbus will be completely changed, others will retain all or some of the present figures. All telephone numbers will consist of an office name and five numerals.
All 4 digit numbers will become FAirfax 2
Office 2 will be FAirfax 2
Office 3 will be FAirfax 3
Office 4 will be FAirfax 4
Office 7 will be FAirfax 7
Office 8 will be CYPRESS 8

CYPRESS 7 may be assigned to new telephones in the Alabama area.
All telephone number changes will be listed in the new directory.
Some 2,500 subscribers in the southeastern section of the city will have MURDOCK as their new office name.
If you have not received your new directory by January 17, please call our Business Office so we can send one to you.
Along with the directory you will receive a new Blue Book. Please use it to list local and out-of-town numbers that you frequently call.
All telephones have been equipped with dials that have letters as well as figures. Number cards showing the new numbers have been sent to each subscriber for placing on the telephone. If, by chance, you have not received your new number or your dial does not have letters as well as figures, please dial 114.

AAMU Gives Rifle Lessons

BY WILBUR PERRY

The U.S. Army's first Advanced Rifle Marksmanship Coaching Course began this week with 60 officers and enlisted men representing Army units throughout the United States attending the initial classes here.

The group was welcomed to the U.S. Army Infantry School by an orientation by Col. Charles F. Leonard, Director of Infantry School Weapons Dept.

The two week coaching course which encompasses all phases of rifle marksmanship is the first such advanced training offered by the Army, and according to Lt. Col. John H. Belles, officer-in-charge, "it is designed to improve the overall efficiency of Army marksmanship and provide Army units with more experienced rifle instructors."

Col. Belles is outlining the marksmanship school, which will be held at the Infantry School in Ft. Slocum, N.Y. This course provides a working knowledge of the duties and responsibilities of new chaplains as well as military training in tactics, drill, map reading, and similar basic exercises.

AT FT. SLOCUM

Chaplain Donald W. Kinney, assigned to the Infantry Center Chaplain's Section left Jan. 4 to attend the nine-week basic course for newly commissioned chaplains at the Chaplain's School in Ft. Slocum, N.Y. This course provides a working knowledge of the duties and responsibilities of new chaplains as well as military training in tactics, drill, map reading, and similar basic exercises.

Olympic Shooter Sums Up Games

The recent 1956 Olympics held in Melbourne, Australia, saw many interesting things occur. A feeling of tension underlined each sport. No one perhaps thought tempers would turn to violence, but the fear that Russia's big plan was designed to reach its summit was felt.

Holding true to belief, the early Red team moved from its domain behind the Iron Curtain to sweep the Games with an unofficial team score of 222 points.

A Competitor's Thoughts

What does a member of the American Olympic Rifle Team feel about this Olympiad? "What were his feelings before the trip, during the competition and after the shooting defeat by the Russians?"

Last week, I had the opportunity of asking these questions of Lt. Verle F. Wright, Jr., member of Ft. Benning's Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit, who represented the U. S. in the small bore rifle rifle competition.

Lt. Wright said, "our ship pulled into the harbor at Melbourne Nov. 11 and we got our first look at our smallest competitor. My first impression was one of utter fascination. It looked very similar to the bench we had just left in Hawaii."

"Several Russians were pointed out to me on various teams but it was several days before I actually got to speak to one. Using an interpreter, because as ourselves the Russians speak no English and I spoke no Russian, I conversed casually with Andrei Bogdanov, who was our top shot finishing in 11th place with a score of 1133. I pointed 4th with a 1131," commented Wright.

"Russia was favorable," Lt. Wright added that he thought the Games were very well organized and the spirit of the Olympics. The only flare-up was the one in the water polo match which was publicized between Hungary and Russia.

When asked about his plans for the future he remarked, "Well next is the International Rifle matches to be held in Moscow in task. That's the big one and then hope to compete in the 1960 Olympic Games to be held in Rome, Italy."

FOLLOW THE LEADER — Hazel Walker's Arkansas Travelers display one of the many antics they pulled off on the Regimental League All-Stars last Sunday's performance at the Briant Wells Field House.

RCT Chances Look Slim Since Byerly Injured

The high-scoring center left the game early in the second period. According to reports, the ankle was "severely sprained."

Although the Commanders were back on the winning side to begin the second half but the 30th 63-58, they will find its opponent Friday night just as tough they will meet the 7th ICC which they defeated by nine points earlier in the season.

Tabbed as the darkhorse during this second half competition, the 29th opened the scoring department from the foul line with Byerly losing the throw. A three-point lead by the Commanders was a helders taking the second position throughout the job and during the way in the scoring department.

It was during the second half that the Commanders, spearheaded by its six-foot guard, Oliver Elders, began to forge ahead.

Not only did the classy guard exhibit some of his finesse with one-hand pushups from outside the court and possess the highest individual score during the second half but he performed some fancy footwork and dribbling which had the opponents looking in when they should have been looking out.

The defeat marked the second handed the 30th by the Commanders. The 29th edged the losers 66-61, in its initial contest of regimental competition.

Bannard's 16 points were high for the Commanders with Elders, the Commanders was a helders taking the second position

1,000 See Travelers Beat 'Stars'

Approximately 1000 basketball fans were treated to another outstanding performance by Hazel Walker and her Arkansas Travelers last Sunday night at Briant Wells Field House.

Girl basketballers against a men's quint was the order of the day. Antics and clever ball handling was the means to the end.

If anyone is interested in the final outcome it was a 61-50 win for the girls from Arkansas, brought about by the regulation game ending in a 29-9 tie. A sudden death agreement by both teams was concurred and Miss Radball, as Hazel Walker is tabbed by press releases, proceeded to drop in a 29 foot set shot to bring victory to the girls.

A former star with a B team of the famed Harlem Globetrotters, the Harlem Magicians, Oliver Elders, of the 29th Infantry Regiment, almost stole the show from the Hazel Walker troupe with his tricky ball handling and dribbling, as Marquies Haynes for the Regimental All-Stars.

Though only scoring nine points while playing half the game, Elders kept the audience in hysterics with his bag of tricks. His performance received a rousing ovation as he left the game at the end of the third quarter.

Francis "Goose" Garroutte sparked the Travelers to victory as she led all players with 27 point spree. Playing the pivot, though only 5'11", Goose dropped in 17 field goals along with three free throws. Hazel Walker performing in the second half hit on six of her patented set shots to finish with 12 points.

Entry Blanks Available For Contest

Entry blanks for the post-level eliminations will be held in Service Club No. 1 on Feb. 9 at 8 p.m. The two final phases of the contest will be staged in Service Club No. 2 at 8 p.m. and Service Club No. 3 at 8 p.m.

All soldiers or WACs desiring to enter the contest must pick up one of the official entry blanks from either the Special Services Office, Soldiers Shows Office or any of the post service clubs in order to be eligible for the contest.

All acts during this post-level eliminations will be live and no recording will be accepted for this phase.

One new innovation this year in the past contest will be the use of costumes for acts designed by the individual performers.

West commented, "I think this is one of the best improvements on the post-level eliminations made in several years. For certain acts, such as costumes, this gives the act a much larger choice in the competition."

Lynch

Thank you for Continuing positions. He attended the National War College in August 1949.

In September 1955 he arrived at Benning and assumed command of the 3rd Div. He was the second of his family to hold a high ranking commission in the "Marine Division" since his father, Maj. General George A. Lynch (Ret.), had once commanded the division's 15th Inf. Regt. in 1927 when the unit was on duty in China.

Under his command the 3rd Div. has served as the Infantry test unit of division size for the Army's new doctrine warfare concept. In the fall of 1955 he commanded the division organized under the ATFA concept in exercises "Sage Brush", the largest field maneuver of combined Army-Air Force units since World War II.

Served in Dual Role

During the summer of 1956 General Lynch served in the dual capacity as commanding general, The Infantry Center and the 3rd Div. It was during this period that General Lynch was confronted with the sensitive problem of Capt. Robert H. ...

ing which had been requested by the post. He proceeded with a plan, with the assistance of a civilian committee which later brought about a complete understanding of differences of opinion over operational housing.

His active interest and participation in local civic organizations has brought about close ties between the 3rd Div., post, and local communities.

General Lynch, and his wife, Dorothy Ross Lynch, reside on post with their two daughters, Dorothy and Frances.

Contest

Thank you for Continuing musical director, for any personnel wishing it.

Officials have also announced to persons entering the contest to make sure on their official blank that they register their acts in the proper category. This is because the acts will be judged only with competition within the individual categories.

Prizes will be awarded the first, second and third place winners in each category plus the opportunity to attend the 3rd Army level of the All-Army Contest.

SIGN OF THE TIMES . . . Even the Post Thrift Shop has its ups and downs. Mrs. Margaret Claggett, wife of Lt. Col. C. T. Claggett, U.S. Army, location of the Ladies Bargain Basement. (Its on the second floor!)

Scouts Will Plant Trees

Ten Den's of the post's Cub Scout Pack 27 will convene at rate Arbor Day by planting trees in the Custer Terrace area on Jan. 28.

Arbor Day which is dedicated to the planting of trees is usually observed in the northern states in April or May. In the South because of the earlier planting season it is observed in January or February.

Each Den will plant a Holly tree in various sections of the Custer Terrace community. They will be the project and responsibility of the Den Family Group to plant and to give proper dedication ceremony.

For First Time Post Pilot Lays Wire With Copter

A new concept in aerial wire-laying has been developed and successfully tested by Capt. Edward Landry of Geyser, Mont., executive officer of the 4th Helicopter Transportation Co.

Capt. Landry, for what is believed to be the first time in aviation history, laid wire over an appreciable area from an aircraft. He used an H-4 helicopter for operation under simulated combat conditions, Jan. 12, as part of Operation Market II, an air-land maneuver at Ft. Bragg, N. C. in only 10 minutes, the post officer laid 23 miles of wire.

The new device consists of six galvanized steel tubes, each nine feet long, and carries 54 miles of wire. Each tube can hold nine miles of wire in 18 one-half mile containers. The device is suspended from the landing mechanism of helicopter, allowing as many as six lines of wire to be strung with no modification at all to the aircraft, according to officials.

Capt. Landry began work on his project last December at the request of Major William A. Howell, commander of the 4th Transportation Co.

A paper model made by Capt. Landry was used as the plan from which the first working model was built.

"The success and effectiveness of the wire-laying device was lauded by Percy Rankin, Siskorsky Aircraft, Inc., technical representative who accompanied the officer on the test flight."

OCs Slate Ceremony January 26

The School Brigade's 5th Bn. will hold an officer candidate senior status chapel, Jan. 26 at 11 a.m. on Chapel Field. The public is invited to attend. Officer candidate class No. 2 will be presented an Infantry blue streamer for its graduation, denoting completion of 18 weeks of the first working model was built.

"The success and effectiveness of the wire-laying device was lauded by Percy Rankin, Siskorsky Aircraft, Inc., technical representative who accompanied the officer on the test flight."

TEAM VISITS POST

A four-man instructor service team from 3rd Army headquarters, visited the post last week to confer with post officials. Headed by Capt. Clarence H. Fuller, the group discussed problems dealing with supply and aircraft field maintenance. Other members of the group are Sgt. Lt. Loyd R. Goney, Homer L. Greene and CPO Samuel F. Ellis.

With Magic Act 'Big Top' Features Ex-Benning Soldier

The Army has drafted two ducks, two doves and a rabbit. They reported to Ft. McPherson last week to join a new school of entertainment show which Third Army Special Services Section is organizing.

Well - the Army didn't really draft the five animals. But it did draft Pvt. Stuart A. Miller, a talented magician and illusionist, and Miller's pet had to come along with him since they are an integral part of his routine.

Pvt. Miller is a 23-year-old Corning, N. Y., native who has been a professional entertainer since the billing of "Miller, Magician and Illusionist Extraordinary," since he was 18 years old.

He travelled the entire North American continent from 1950-55 with several of America's top magicians, and developed in those five years a unique and highly-suzerain act.

A Featured Performer

Miller will be a featured performer in "Big Top," a new circus-theme soldier show which will begin a Third Army-wide tour in early February. The young magician, who came from Benning, made his professional basic training and also appeared with the Dean West Soldier Shows, using his ducks, doves and rabbit in several of his tricks.

For instance, in his "Vanishing Bird Cage" act, Miller holds a small cage, about eight inches square, in front of his body, in full view of his audience. The doves are inside the cage.

The doves are mystified. He quickly clips his hands together, the cage disappears, and the doves fly off the stage, leaving Miller completely bare-handed and the audience completely mystified as to what happened to the bird cage.

Another of Miller's unusual stunts is his "Vase of Plenty" effect. He pours a quantity of water into a completely-empty 18-inch high flower vase. He then turns the vase upside down and pulls out bottles, paper, silk streamers, handkerchiefs, banners, etc.

He then turns the vase upside down over an empty tub, the water pours from the bottom into the tub, and out of the tub, two ducks.

Miller also presents a "Doll House" illusion, in which the audience sees a six-inch "Alice in Wonderland" doll grow into a real-life doll inside a small doll-house.

To make his show even more appealing to Third Army soldiers, Miller will use two shapely WAC assistants, PFC Peggy Melton of Tarboro, N. C., and PFC Betty Lucas of Ponce, Mich. The WACs are also featured dancers in "Big Top."

Post Slates Overflow Jump Class

A special basic airborne course will be given by the Airborne School at the post during the week of 10-14, 15-17, 20-22, 23-25, 28-30, 31-1 February. Jan. 28 for 270 members of the 101st Airborne Division.

Arrangements were completed during a liaison visit to the post last week by the sergeant, Lt. Richmond of the 101st, which is assigned to Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Officials said the course was necessitated by the large backlog of trainees awaiting airborne instruction at the division's jump school, due to Christmas holidays.

Capt. Wisniewski also investigated the Airborne School's pathfinder course to decide the feasibility of instituting a similar instruction at Campbell.

Pathfinders, a vanguard for the dropping of airborne troops, are instructed in mine warfare, demolitions, radiological surge techniques, signal communication, map reading and aerial photograph reading at The Infantry School.

RECEIVE BRIEFING

Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell headed a group of three key post officers who received a briefing at Redstone Arsenal in Huntsville, Ala., Jan. 19. He was accompanied by Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commander of the Infantry School, and Col. Z. Taylor, Jr., chief of staff of the Infantry Center.

Library Concert

The record concert next Tuesday evening at the Main Post Library will feature the popular Rodgers and Hammerstein production of "Oklahoma!" in an original cast album.

Founded on a Theatre Guild Play Lynn Riggs' "Green Grow The Lilacs", Oklahoma is compounded of many engaging an absorbing story, smooth memorable lyrics, simple but unforgettable music, imaginative ballet, all blended into one magic unit. Dating from 1943 it has become an American classic of fabulous proportions.

The members of the original New York production are Alfred Drake, Joan Roberts, Celeste Holm, Edward G. Robinson, and Lee Dixon, with the orchestra and chorus directed by Roy E. Disney.

The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Ft. Bragg Holds Tests On New Division Concept

The first major test of the Army's "Pentagon" division concept took place here recently.

An assault force of 1,800 paratroopers of the 18th Airborne Div. from Ft. Campbell, Ky., took part in a tactical exercise dubbed Operation Market II.

Changes in the armored division are minor, but armored units in the infantry division are concentrated in one battalion, which will serve a "diversifier" function, similar to diversity. (AFPS) in contrast to the traditional, three-regiment division, the Pentagon division consists of five smaller, but heavily armed combat groups.

Under the Pentagon plan, the Infantry division has about 13,700 men, a reduction of 3,700, and the airborne division has some 11,300, a cut of 5,500.

Equipment-including howitzers and trucks--was brought in by parachute and assault aircraft in the first hour of the four-day exercise.

Massed artillery and honest John rockets, armed with conventional and atomic warheads, provided supporting firepower.

The exercise was planned as a test of the Army's concept of a smaller, more flexible division with superior firepower and rapid maneuverability.

Pentagon is a word coined to indicate the structure (pentagon or five-sided) and mission (atomic and non-atomic capability) of the new unit.

Colossal Describes Entertainment Seen at Ft. Benning During 1956

Colossal was the word for the 1956 array of entertainers including top named bands, horse, aerialists and glumors, presented during 1956 at Ft. Benning by Special Services.

"Playing to audiences of all sizes, talents and composition is quite a problem. To cope with this we tried to book shows to give a well-rounded program, including ones which would appeal to everyone and still give variety," said Sgt. Herbert Shipper, of Dothan, Ala., Special Services entertainer and recreation non-commissioned officer.

"From the swing of Billy May and fabulous Duke Ellington to the torrid pace of mile-a-minute world championship tennis to the practicing Bluejeans Horses to the country humor of the Grand Ole Opry's Cousin Jody and Odie, the year's parade of recreation opened and began with top personalities.

Audiences in Full Force During 1956, post audiences came out in full force to bring the year's total to one of the best in recent years, announced Special Services officials.

Second Lt. Don Brown, entertainment and recreation officer, added, "In 1956, Special Services presented 197 shows to over 85,000 people including performances in the Main Theater, Briant Wells Field House and Service Clubs."

The largest attendance at a single show during 1956 was shared by the burly Budweiser Horse Parade and the Ziegfeldian Aerialists on the U. S. Army Infantry School's airborne jump towers to crowds of more than 8,000.

Second in major attractions the year went to a string of seven of the nation's top orchestras from the field of music to the musical mode of an era dominated by a new sound—the Miller mood.

Flanagan Led Parade Opening the barnstorming of big bands was Ralph Flanagan, who brought his orchestra to the Main Theater in January.

February saw another top musical act, the swing of Alex Templeton which shared the spotlight with the flamy jumps of the famed Don Goswold chorus.

World Tennis, Inc., featuring its "hubbly guitar," brought the world's most biggest sports attraction and dazzled the crowd in the Briant Wells Field House in March.

Four August Shows Four headliners, "Downtown Local" by West's unit, Tony Foster with singer Nancy Lee, American Amateur Union's synchronized swimmers, and another Western production, "Flying Saucer," highlighted the shows in August.

Brought back by popular request, the Grand Ole Opry troupe with added stars, Smiley Wilson and Kitty Carson, turned in an entertaining encore.

Dean West, Infantry Center

guitar and Cousin Jody and Odie came back to the Main Theater for a finale in December which gave them the distinction of being the most popular variety unit of 1956.

Another unusual show entitled "Curves and Angles" by West's unit, was presented in the service club in the last of September.

The final performance for the month presented something new to the Benning public. A joint effort by a local dancing school of Mrs. Benton R. Duckworth of Greenfield, Ohio, and staged by Leo Kohn of Columbus, combined with scenes from West's new three-act production "The Milky Way" provided the show "Dramatic Expression From Outdoors to Professions."

A name synonymous with jazz as New Orleans Duke Ellington, moved into the Main Theater in October to thrill a packed house with his international classics—"Swingtime," "Lady" and "Mood Indigo."

Soldiers Show "The Milky Way" and Halloween talent show paced the entertainment for October.

"The Milky Way" was one of the top drawing single plays of the year. It told the humorous story of a New York milkman who through accident received credit for flooring the midweight champion and then continues to stage the match of the century.

A talented couple, Don and Mary Krull, took two of the top roles in the rendition of the play made famous by Ben Dupuy on the stage and Danny Kaye in the movies.

Les Brown with the "Band of Renown" and the "Band of Friends" presented their program card, with blues singer, Jo Ann Greer, giving out with the vocalists and another made a big hit with the post audience.

November brought some cold weather, but the hottest variety soldier show of the year, Department Army's "Riding Along for 1957" with 10 winners of the All-Army entertainment contest provided the talent.

Most of these performances had appeared on the Ed Sullivan television program and proved to Fort Benning that the Army holds some top personalities in the field of show business.

The band which made a nation stop and listen—Glenn Miller—appeared on the next in November with a new leader in drummer Ray McKinley. But the sound still started with a note of "Moonlight Serenade" and featured a blonde world star named Marilyn Mitchell.

A "String of Pearls" held the theme together and such recent numbers as Mitchell's version of "Ferry Cross the Border," "Hot Diggity, Dog Diggity" gave the crowd the feeling that Glenn and Ray McKinley should come onto the stage at any moment.

December highlighted two productions, Pee Wee Hunt and Third Army's New Holiday Revue featuring the top entertainers in the seven-state area.

The year was long entertaining and the Fort Benning audiences agreed it will be many years before having a better array of top shows.

TO SPEAK HERE Maj. Gen. Charles K. Gailey, Jr., the Army's chief of civil affairs and military government, will be on post today through Jan. 26 to address the associate company officers class No. 1. He will speak at graduation ceremonies for the 83-man class Jan. 26 at 11 a.m. in the Main Theater.

12,600 Patients Treated At Hospital During 1956

BY JULIA BRUNNKE

A 12,600-patient admission command changes, hospital accreditation and a professional education conference program highlighted events at the post hospital during 1956.

The number of patients treated in the last year was the highest since the years of the Korean conflict. Outstanding among patients were six generals and one British officer. Over 3,000 babies were delivered by the obstetrical section. The year was approximately five to eight babies per day.

In June, Col. Albert H. Robinson of Hope, Ark., assumed duties as hospital commander, a Lt. Col. Herman S. Anderson became the new executive officer in August.

The post hospital is operated by an authorized staff of 44 doctors, 73 nurses, 18 administrative officers, 12 officers of the Army Medical Specialist Corps, 577 enlisted personnel and 264 civilians.

Representatives of the Joint Commission on Accreditation of Hospitals visited the post in September. Their survey resulted in the accrediting of the hospital for another three years with a commendation for its standards and the constant effort to improve the quality of patient care.

To serve as a supervisory agency or an informal board of education, a hospital education committee was established and held its first meeting in January 1956. The committee meets monthly with each hospital service represented to discuss and formulate the educational and training program of professional personnel.

Under the new education program weekly conferences and clinics in the individual services are held. In addition, a professional staff conference is conducted jointly every month with doctors from the post and the surrounding Columbus area. Various doctors serve as speakers. The conferences have proved of considerable value and benefit to the civilian and medical officers, giving them training in the Army's Office of the Surgeon General selected the post hospital to give intern and resident training. This addition program for interns will become effective in July 1957, in addition to the 283 patients.

Know Your Tax Laws

Some Things Peculiar To Military Personnel

Ed. Note: This week, The Bayonet begins a series of articles on Federal Income Tax Filing. These articles were furnished by the Internal Revenue Service and the Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants.

In most respects, the Internal Revenue laws apply to military personnel in the same manner and to the same extent as other taxpayers. That is, the rules for determining liability for filing and computing income and deductions concern all taxpayers, whether they are service men or civilians.

However, there are certain items, particularly deductions, which are peculiar to members of the Armed Forces. Our purpose is to point up some of these items and discuss briefly their treatment from October to come tax purposes.

First, let's take the matter of uniforms. Regulations prescribe the specific type of uniform to be worn. If a service man is required to purchase this uniform to his own, it is a necessary expenditure. Yet it may be generally exempt from income tax duty. Therefore, it has long been held that Army uniforms are not taxable as income. Clothing and their cost is a personal, nondeductible expense.

As to all other expenses, which we cannot discuss individually, the general rule is: If they are deductible, an expenditure must be directly related to a trade or business (and for tax purposes a Serviceman is held to be engaged in a trade or business) and, in addition, it must be ordinary and necessary.

This rule should be applied to determine the deductibility of such items as military books or business and any other publications. Whether such expenses are ordinary and necessary and directly related to a trade or business are questions of fact to be decided in each case, but all the requirements must be satisfied.

Also of interest to military personnel, is the matter of how to handle the basic allowance for subsistence and quarters. Per diem allowances in lieu of subsistence and mileage allowances, and actual expenses incurred while in travel status on official business.

Allowances for subsistence and quarters allowance is excluded from gross income and should not be reported on a return. However, under a ruling in 1955, per diem allowances in lieu of subsistence as well as mileage allowances are reported as income. The actual deductible expenses incurred on official travel are deductible, whether they are more or less than the allowance received.

The effect of the 1955 ruling is to eliminate the basic subsistence allowance as a factor in determining the amount deductible for travel expenses. In other words, it is no longer necessary to offset the expenses, such as train fares, against the basic allowance.

Attache Duty Rewarding Gen. Thompson Tells ROA

The duties of a military attache while involving a tremendous degree of responsibility, are among the most rewarding assignments in the Army, Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, deputy Infantry Center commander said Jan. 11.

Gen. Thompson spoke at the monthly meeting of the Ft. Benning Reserve Officers' Association at the Main Officers' Mess.

He told the group that the basic job of an attache is to gather military information, formulate and maintain a good relationship with the military leaders of his assigned country, and to act as military advisor to the head of the U.S. diplomatic mission.

Gen. Thompson was introduced by Lt. Col. Louis W. Schropshire, president of the organization.

Class Hears Gen. Powell

The Infantry School's training to meet responsibilities on terrain and non-atomic battlefields was discussed by Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Jan. 9.

Speaking at opening ceremonies of the advanced officers class No. 2, Gen. Powell outlined the importance of developing leadership qualities.

Your leadership will be measured by your ability to cause subordinates, acting in concert, to win a battle with the fewest possible losses," he said.

The speaker noted the long history of the Infantry School, pointing out that "the Infantry remains as young and vigorous as the best of our services."

Gen. Powell told the 210-officer class would concentrate on tactics and techniques, with instruction in the combined arms in addition to Infantry doctrine.

OCs Hear Gen. Doleman

The young officer's future in an Army which is undergoing dynamic changes was outlined here Jan. 18 by Brig. Gen. Edgar C. Doleman, deputy commander of the Army War College, Carlisle Barracks, Pa. Gen. Doleman was principal speaker at graduation ceremonies for officer candidate class No. 1.

"We have a more demanding Army, requiring all the knowledge, intelligence, industry and attributes of leadership you have or can develop," he said. Commenting on the new Army concept of decentralized units, Gen. Doleman pointed out, "You will be given broad mission-type orders and it's up to you to exert intelligence, integrity and decisiveness in interpreting those orders."

Two commissioned second lieutenants at the program in the Main Theater.

The general urged the new officers to "sacrifice your ambition without sacrificing your integrity and loyalties to superiors and subordinates."

The speaker was introduced by Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commander of The Infantry School. Chaplain (Col.) Earl D. Compton, Infantry Center chaplain, delivered the invocation.

Honor Graduate Second Lt. James J. Barber, of Charles City, I., was honor graduate. He has been assigned to the 2nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N. C., on completion of the basic airborne course.

Runner-up for class honors was 2nd Lt. John J. Anderson, Jr., of Brooklyn, N. Y. Anderson also will attend the airborne course before a tour with the 82nd Airborne Div.

NO GRIPES... A crowded line, but no gripes. Some of the 411 men separated at the Transfer Point, STC, on Jan. 18, line up for their final pay call.

Separate 411 Soldiers
Jan. 18 Biggest Day
For Transfer Point

Friday, Jan. 18 was a big day at the Transfer Point, STC. This day marked the Point's biggest work day since it began operation in July, 1952. Normally the Point processes an average of 25 men per day, but on Jan. 18 411 men got their final papers.

To most of us, the Transfer Point is a vague organization where a man gets his discharge certificate at the expiration of his term of service.

There is nothing vague about the location of operations. Personnel sign in and are oriented on the program to be followed. During their stay, all men are thoroughly acquainted with the facts concerning reserve obligations, mustering out and travel pay, veterans benefits, recruitment privileges and the civilian employment situation.

A force of interviewers, counselors, clerks and typists check and compile all military records, from enlistment forms, to withholding statements to insure that everything is in order and up-to-date.

On the final day separation papers are assigned and the men's papers are issued and the men make their last formalization—the pay line and their big day is complete.

Major Henry C. Thach, Co. 1, stated that he believes a contributing factor to the Transfer Point's big day last week was the hundreds of replacements assigned to the 3d Division in June of 1955, prior to Exercise Sagebrush. These men, assigned from training centers through the country, had about the same length of service as Jan. 18, bringing them eligible for separation at approximately the same time.

Apparently, this same thing was Jan. 18, bringing Transfer Point its biggest day.

Soldier Receives BSM For Conduct During WW II

SP 2 James M. Whitaker, assigned to the U. S. Army Infantry Board, has been awarded the Bronze Star Medal for exemplary conduct in combat during WW II. The action which resulted in this citation took place on or about Sept. 1, 1944, while Whitaker was assigned as a sergeant with the 12th Infantry Regiment.

Whitaker was an assistant squad leader with the unit in the Battle of the Bulge and the Luxembourg campaign. In addition to the Bronze Star, he wears the Combat Infantryman's Badge and the Purple Heart.

During the Korean Conflict, Whitaker was a member of the 1st Cavalry Div., and was wounded in the fighting on the Pusan perimeter.

Prior to his assignment to the Infantry Board, he was a member of Co. G, ISD, Whitaker is currently in charge of buildings and grounds at the Sandy Patch Development and Test Area.

Preparation For Allied Class Begins

Sixteen Republic of Korea Army interpreters began preparation here this week for the arrival April 4 of Allied as a social advanced class No. 2, composed entirely of Korean officers.

Their job includes translation of instructional material for the 60-man class.

They are Majors Lim Jin Taek, Kim Ju Yong and Cho Sung Ho, Capt. Kwon Young Chan, Han Sang Kil, Cho Sung Il, No Suk Won, Lim Chi Su, Kang Duk Kil, Kim Yong Bae, Kim Yeon Shik, Lee Byung Hak, Shin Yong Seong, Chung Im Hwa and Kwon Tai Byung and 1st Lt. Cho Kyo Chul.

Among the 20 officers attending advanced class No. 2 are Majors Maximo Ruez and Jose Villalobos of Peru; Capt. Julio C. Gomez of Paraguay; Major Miguel Fuente-Alba of Chile; Major Juan Camacho Collano of Spain; Capt. Rene Aguiluz and Kjell Englund, erud of Guatemala; 1st Lt. Juan A. Martinez of Argentina; Capt. Pablo Zelaya of Honduras; and Capt. Marco Fajardo Lobato, Joaquin de Olaya Meza and Luis A. Gonzalez Mora of Venezuela.

Major Kawano Sa-Nu-Jit of Thailand is a student in the 40-man Infantry motor transport class No. 4.

AFF WEEKLY FEATURES
NOMINATIONS
"this and that in '56" are falling thick as snowflakes in a Etonlike winter right about now. Among the more authentic, and a possible guidepost to upcoming "Hwood" Academy selections, were the recent selections of the New York in Critics' Circle.

BEST PICTURE — "Around the World in 80 Days"; Best Actor — KIRK DOUGLAS, for his role as Vincent Van Gogh in MGM's "Lust For Life"; Best Actress — INGRID BERGMAN, for the title role in 20th Century Fox's "Anastasia"; her first American movie in seven years.

INSIDE JOB — For the world premiere of his new "RED SKELTON selected Greenhaven Prison at Stormville, N.Y. a prison for 30 days in the film was described as "the funniest" he had seen in a movie.

ZEPHEUS RETURNS
The new "Ziegfeld Follies" will open on Broadway in late February. Since the talented Ziegfeld died in 1923, there have been attempts to capture the spirit of his type revue for the Great White Way; the Shuberts' 1944 production was the last. REA LILLIE and BILLY DEWOLFE will front the new production, which has been in preparation for over a year.

THREE DOTS — In the CBS "Playhouse 90" production of "Massacre at Sand Creek" there were more horses than people in the cast. The SPCA had an official on hand to insure that the horses would not suffer regular hours. Another horsey note — it's true that many "Hwood" film stars have standing, yet we just found out that some trick horses in New York, N.Y., have TWO standing legs.

'57 Sports Program Formulated

The Ft. Benning sports program for the coming year was discussed at the regular Athletic and Recreation Representative meeting at the U.S. Army Infantry Center Sports Office last week.

According to the Infantry Center sport supervisor, Sam T. Roberts of West Covina, Calif., plans were set on a 10-week training program, along with confirming the dates on the Third Army and All-Army volleyball tournaments as well as a regimental bowling tourney.

Open discussion on this year's regimental baseball program was also on the agenda. The outcome showed a proposed 10-team league with games scheduled to be played at Gowdy field on Main Post and Bennett Field in the Third Division. Games will be played on Monday-Wednesday-Friday at 8 p.m. and Sundays at 1 p.m.

The date for the Third Army volleyball tourney is April 22-23 and the All-Army event, May 1-5. Both tournaments will be played at Ft. Benning.

A regimental level bowling tournament is scheduled to be held on the Main Post alleys, Feb. 23-28. Matches for those holding a 70 average and above, will be held March 5.

29th Cagers Beat STC, 151st by Narrow Margins

Unpredictable as night and day, the 29th RCT cagers continued to keep within range of first place in the regimental basketball league by winning from the 7th ICC and 151st Engineers GP, this week.

Minus their player-coach, Fred H. Dyerly, and star player, Oliver Elders, the 29th cagers were able to triumph over the more improved Engineers' team, the 29th were on the and of a breath-taking 61-60 triumph.

Although Elders was available for the 151st contest, the Commanders appeared to find themselves behind by 4 points at half time.

Attempting to close the gap, scoring well from the outside, Elders, John Barnard, Frank Lee and Joe Paulson combined their pin-point shooting to offset one of the biggest deficits the Commanders had all season.

Let, a newcomer since the fifth game of the season, who has performed better with each contest, depicted the narrowing and deciding moments.

Although Lee's final two points came at the full line and gave the Commanders a 61-58 lead, the determined Engineers quickly immediately brought the ball down court and scored.

The clock, however, gave away before anyone scoring could be registered for either side.

Champ Relates Victories

Lann, an All-Army boxer from Fort Polk, La., and myself dropped in on an Australian family we had met while in Melbourne. It seems that the Eric Sarau's were one-time neighbors of some friends of mine back in Washington. The Sarau family made us feel like part of the family rather than just strangers in another country.

After visiting with the Australian family we headed back to the Olympia Village where my initial bid to fame. Though I found him strong he was easy to hit. I dropped him twice in the first round with good left hooks. I shook him pretty good at the bell and the referee stepped in to stop it.

How I wished my family could have been there to share my victory like they had in San Francisco for the Olympic Tryouts.

The next morning the impact of my victory the next night finally hit home. The long years of hoping for just this thing had become a reality. I still get a lump in my throat when I talk about it. People ask me what was the toughest fight I had in Melbourne. At first I'm inclined to say they were all tough. Actually I would have to say that my second fight with Dan Bekker of South Africa was the toughest.

Bekker caught me in the first 15 seconds of the opening round with a left hook that dropped me. I was up at two, but had to take the mandatory eight count. After taking the count I moved in and connected with a combination of punches to drop him. I thought to myself, "now we're even buddy. Let's start from scratch."

In the second round, I found the South African a little more cautious. I dropped him two more times in that round, but he caught me with a new

Now I've been fighting for quite a few years now, but even so I must confess that this was probably the one fight in my life that I really wanted to see stopping.

I'll be the first to admit that you do have to be vicious and hard hitting in the ring if you expect to taste the fruit of success. In the ring it's you against the other man, no holds barred. The moment you spot an opening your punch should be on its way.

Don't think me soft-hearted when I say that there is a time when a fighter in a fight seeing his opponent helpless only has thoughts of sorrow and pity rather than those of finishing him off.

Maybe you can class me in that small group of pugilists who feel that it is morally wrong to stand in the ring and take a pounding that is to hit a hit on obviously helpless standing before you.

No Satisfaction
Certainly there is no satisfaction in this type of knowledge for it's like taking a college exam with the answers by your side.

Well anyway, that's the way I felt when the referee stepped in to continue fighting. What followed was without a doubt, the toughest punch I ever threw in my career. Not because so much weight on the outcome, but because of the circumstances. My right cross grazed Moukine's shoulder sending him reeling. I was following through with my left when the referee grabbed me in mid-air and halted the proceedings. The victory was mine.

That right hand punch is probably my best as a amateur. And it could be the final blow of my boxing career. I just don't know yet.

JERRY ARMSTRONG Guards Protect Benning Wildlife

This is the first in a series of columns which will feature 12 Post soldiers under the title of "Know Your Range Guards." The duties of the members of the post they patrol and short synopsis of their background will be depicted.

To tell about Ft. Benning's Range Guards, I think you should first know something of what their duties and responsibilities entail.

Their duties are quite extensive in scope, detailed in execution and essential for this military reservation to maintain a well rounded hunting and fishing program.

Safeguarding around 400,000 acres on the reservation is opened for hunting and fishing combined with other activities as outdoor outings offers quite a challenge.

Problems Facing Guards
It necessitates feasibility for maintenance of 75,000 acres available for hunting plus over 25 streams and ponds opened the year around for angling.

The maintenance of these areas for hunting and fishing includes such problems as stocking game and fish, keeping the areas suitable for habitats and enforcement of regulations.

Regulations on the reservation follow closely with the ones designated for the adjoining states of Georgia and Alabama.

Therefore, with this efficient and well equipped staff of rangers, military personnel, their dependents, disabled veterans and other authorized persons only some of the best hunting and fishing available in adjoining states.

Know Your Range Guard
This week's subject, Luther J. Rusk, of Albany, Ala., will be the featured Post Range Guard.

Sgt. Rusk is the guard for area number one on the reservation.

"My area is just one of the ten different sectors the post covers."

PARADE SLATED
The 29th RCT will conduct a retreat review on 5 p.m. Jan. 31, in honor of five retiring members of the command. Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, deputy post commanding general will be the reviewing officer at this post.

Thompson, a member of the Military Police Company, as are all of the range guards, he has served in many different jobs.

Sgt. Rusk has served in England, Italy, Africa and Korea, in such jobs as chief motor instructor at the First motor post, instructor in the automotive school and a member of the Post Tank Troop while in Europe and Africa.

He is married to the former Frances Ann Howard of Phenix City, Ala. They have three children, Ethel, B. Luther Jr., 17, and Joseph, 15.

The Rusk family makes their home on McCann Street in Phenix City, Ala.

Rangers Test New Training Problem Here

A new 26-hour field training problem, involving both paratrooper and helicopter support, was staged Jan. 16 and 17 by the Ranger Department.

The problem involved an attack by a company level student Ranger unit on an aggressor guerrilla force. Transported to the Sand Hill area by fixed-wing aircraft from Lawson Army Air Field, the unit had to overcome a number of obstacles before reaching the enemy encampment.

While the raid was in progress a paratrooper team from the Airborne Army Aviation Department parachuted in the area, and prepared a landing strip for 10 helicopters which were utilized for evacuation purposes. These aircraft were part of the 24th Helicopter Transportation Company, which was on duty here from Ft. Bragg, N. C.

The new policy will not affect any enlistee who joins the Army Reserve or National Guard prior to the April date, the Department of Defense said.

AER Receives Donation From FB Activities Fund

The Post Community Activities Association presented a check for $15,000 to the Army Emergency Relief on Jan. 14.

The check is the 1957 edition of the activities fund of the Washington headquarters of the Army Emergency Relief established in 1945 and is drawn on by AER at Benning as needed. Additional assistance beyond this amount comes from national funds of the AER.

Major Gen. (Ret.) Edward F. Wilson, director of AER, said in acknowledging the contribution, "I want to thank you personally for your cooperation and support in affording all members of your command an opportunity to contribute, resulting in this very generous response. It is hoped that you feel free to make the maximum use of AER funds immediately available as an effective instrument of morale and welfare, to the end that every emergency case is promptly and adequately assisted."

The statement was made in a letter to Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commander of the 2d Army Infantry Center at Fort Benning.

For the 26-35 age group, an enlistee signs up for a three year term active duty for training and the remainder in satisfactory participation in the ready reserve.

Under the new system, an enlistee or draftee in the regular six year program will serve two years active duty, two instead of three years ready reserve time, and two instead of one year standby reserve time.

MOTHER'S APPROVAL... Jim Boyd, Ft. Benning's light heavyweight Olympic boxing champion shows his Olympic Gold Medal and Olympic cap adorned with "swap medals" to his mother, Mrs. Oscar Boyd.

Army Plans Revision Of Reserve Program

month training program has been extended from the 1957-58 year group to include volunteers up to the age of 25. Army Secretary Wilbur M. Bruer said the moves are part of a continuing program to improve the effectiveness of the reserves.

Other changes, which were announced at a special press briefing, include new set ups on the length of service for persons entering the Army, Reserve or National Guard after the start of the Reserve Forces Act in August 1955.

Under the new system, an enlistee or draftee in the regular six year program will serve two years active duty, two instead of three years ready reserve time, and two instead of one year standby reserve time.

An enlistee for a period of three years active in the reserve force after only one instead of two years standby reserve time. A four-year man will spend two years in standby reserve and two in standby reserve time.

Eldest prior to age of 18 1/2 in the reserves of NG for an eight year obligation. Serve six months active duty for training "and after satisfactory participation" in the ready reserve or stand for five years, instead of 7 1/2 years, transfer to the standby group.

An enlistee in the 18 1/2 to 25 age bracket will meet his six year obligation with six months active duty for training and the remainder in satisfactory participation in the ready reserve.

For the 26-35 age group, an enlistee signs up for a three year term active duty for training and the remainder in satisfactory participation in the ready reserve.

Stand samples are also awarded from military pets on post to aid in the control survey now in progress on post.

How He Won Them

Boyd Explains Ring Strategy

BY TOM WERBACH Ft. Benning's Olympic light heavyweight Gold Medal winner Jim Boyd fought Romania's Gheorghe Negrea five times with a punch he wasn't supposed to have, according to Australian sports writers.

Relaxing in the dayroom of Hqs. and Bqs. Co., TSB, Boyd who has just returned from his hometown where he was honored with a "Jim Boyd Day" including a parade, banquet and official recognition of his Olympic achievement.

"I don't know why, but the sports writers over here (Australia) decided I didn't have a strong right. That was surprising because my right has always been my best punch. Anyway, they favored the Romanian to beat me."

Jim is convinced that the underdog role in his championship victory, which he threw in a downward motion. In throwing this punch he left himself open for a right hand shot. "I guess my timing was off and I got a little annoyed."

As the end of the round in Boyd's corner, Major Donald Miller, Special Services officer for the 40 Army, and Milton Holt, Idaho State College boxing coach, changed strategy and told Boyd to box his man Diaz of Argentina. And his sentiments were another decision over Romulo's Mozrasovskas of Russia.

Best Boxer Was Easiest "It might sound odd," Boyd said "but the best fighter I met in the Olympics was the easiest for me. That was the Argentine. He was real good, better than the other two boys I fought. But he was easiest for me because he fought a style I was familiar with."

As a result of a detailed investigation, by post officials, of the problem of military ammunition reaching unauthorized hands, strict adherence to Army regulations regarding being distributed to unauthorized authorities.

A stricter policing of areas following training problems during which automatic or pyrotechnics are used and a closer supervision of the drawing and burning of excess ammunition and residue has been ordered to assure that they are not illegally disposed of.

Also included in this program, aimed primarily at reducing injuries to both military personnel and civilians who might get hold of the ammunition, is a school safety program.

The program stresses the danger of handling "live" ammunition and points out what steps should be taken when ammunition is found abandoned. During the past week, the post has had a school on explosive ordnance disposal unit, has been conducting lectures in the children's school on post.

Lectures were given Jan. 15 and 17 in Faith, Main Post and Custer Terrace Schools by Lt. James W. Smith, executive officer of the detachment.

Marquette County school officials have been contacted by post authorities and an offer has been made to have members of the 24th Evac. Hospital on post.

Library Concert

The record concert next Tuesday evening at the Main Post Library will include the Second and Fourth Beethoven Symphonies.

These symphonies were composed before and after the great Festival of Fourth Symphonies. It almost seems that the grandeur and majesty of the Beethoven required the slight formalized music which came before and the gentle idyl which came after, as heroic effort is so often preceded and followed by calm.

Neither the Second nor the Fourth Symphonies make a pretense at subtlety. Both are powerful, gentle and lovable throughout. Among the finest passages of the Fourth are the extended introduction to the first movement, in which a dramatic atmosphere is built up, and the almost religious song changed by the first violins in the second movement.

Arturo Toscanini conducts the NBC Symphony.

The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m.

In Reorganization Zeller Named Hqs. Commandant

Col. Henry M. Zeller, of Dallas, Tex., commander of Special Troops Command since August, 1955, has assumed additional duties as headquarters commandant of the Infantry Center.

The Headquarters Commandant Office has been reorganized to include several activities previously directed by the Infantry Center G-1 Section, Adjutant General's Section and Special Services Section.

The consolidation was made to facilitate more efficient supervision and realign functions of the large operational headquarters in accordance with the latest regulations and best management principles. It is patterned on the organization of higher military headquarters overseas such as SNAFEP according to post officials.

Assumes More Duties

The headquarters commandant will now supervise Non-Appropriated Funds Supply for headquarters Offices, Open Mess, Non-Commissioned Officers' Open Mess and Billing Division.

The Funds Division consists of the Dependent Schools, Youth Activities and Non-Appropriated Funds Branches. The YAC fund formerly was administered by Special Services. The latter branch includes 44 non-appropriated funds previously handled by the C-1 Section.

Headquarters supply and bachelor officers quarters supply will be administered by the C-1 Section.

Youth Activities Offers Wholesome Atmosphere

Lately, many mischievous acts have been reported on post, causing officials here much concern. Unfortunately, the problem does not appear to be getting any better. The nature of these acts, such as breaking street lights with air rifles, indicates that it is probably done by teenagers.

It is hard to understand why, on a post where there are so many wholesome activities, these acts occur.

The Youth Activities Club of Ft. Benning conducts a program designed to fill the needs of children of all ages. Running YAC offers sports to scouting to dancing. YAC offers worthwhile activities, allowing less time to get in trouble.

It would seem, then, that the solution to this problem lies in arousing more interest both on the part of children and parents, particularly parents, in the many activities available to them.

Specifically, what does YAC offer kids on post? Here are a few of the activities sponsored and supervised and financed by the Youth Activities Club:

1. A scouting program for all type of Scout troops at the present time there are 30 Girl Scout troops and 9 Boy Scout troops at Ft. Benning. Over 1200 kids are engaged in the scouting program here.

2. A teen-age club, known as "Frat Barsacks." This club is open to all children from the age of 13 to 19. The club house is open every Friday and Saturday night and on Sunday afternoons for dancing. In addition a dance with an orchestra is held every month. All dances are chaperoned by parents of club members. A snack bar offers refreshment.

3. An extensive sports program. YAC sponsors three leagues which participate in all seasonal sports on a competitive basis. These are the Biddy League, for boys 8 to 10 years old; the Doughboys League for the age group 10-12; and the Pony League for youths 12 to 16 years old.

Other sports offered to post children are swimming, the Junior National Rifle Association, and a boxing program for boys 8 to 12 years old.

These are just a few of the many things which YAC does to provide recreation for the children of Ft. Benning.

The Youth Activities Club, however, needs the support of parents. The club would like to see all parents, who have children within the age limit, become members. With additional support, the club could continue the improvement of their program, and offer more and more activities.

If parents would join the organization, their children would become more interested in participating in the club's activities. Participation in a group of this nature will draw the family closer together; the parents and children would more likely share the same interests.

A family that plays together is a happier family, and the children of that family are not going to look for mischievous acts to express themselves. They will find that the athletic fields are just as effective.

Washington Report

Congress Tackles Service Legislation

Capitol Hill is buzzing with activity as the new 85th Congress tackles its legislative chores. A flood of new bills is already in the Congressional hopper. Many are of interest to servicemen and women. In his State of the Union message, the President touched briefly on military matters and declared our survival in a world of modern demands, adequate, dependable military strength.

He said a number of legislative recommendations would be mentioned specifically in his forthcoming budget message. Carder Committee. Meanwhile, Defense officials expect a report of the Carder Committee recommendations on technical and professional compensation to be ready next week.

EM Retirement. A bill give enlisted men similar retirement benefits as officers was introduced by Rep. J. T. Rutherford (D-Tex.).

Chaplain's Corner. BY CHAPLAIN (MAJOR) LESTER J. HUGGALING. Today I want to talk about "chiselers" and I hope some of you will be reading this. Now, we all know what a "chiseler" is... he is a man who takes what is not his.

He breathes the air which is free to all living creatures, and never stops to think where it comes from or how it sustains life. He enjoys the rest of us, the beauties of the world around us, a world of birds and flowers, a world of purple mountains and green valleys, a world of sunshine and shadow. All this and more to him is a matter of course.

New Books At Library. The following new books are now available at the Main Post Library: GROMBACE - Olympic Calendars of Sports (NF); HALPERN - Wagon Captain (W); WALTON - Cross And The Cation (F); The Hallowed Ground (NF); SLAUGHTER - The Warrior (F); STRONG - Adventures of Horne's Barnaby (F); BEISER - Physics For Everybody (NF); GEEK - Canton Cavalry (F); WHITMAN - Cavalry (F); FOXE - Man On A Rope (M).

Seven days after a death or critical illness and on verification by the Red Cross, a serviceman in the ZI should be given 14 days leave plus travel time chargeable to regular leave. Outside the ZI the serviceman would get the serviceman back to the ZI as "expeditiously as possible."

In the event of war, hostile or other events which make overseas leave impossible, the services would be able to turn down the request. Substantiated Housing. Carried over from the 86th Congress is a proposal to permit members of the Army, Navy, Marine Corps, Air Force, Coast Guard, Coast and Geodetic Survey, the Public Health Service and their dependents to occupy "inadequate" government housing on a rental basis without loss of quarters allowance.

This bill, part of the Defense program this year, has been approved by the President and the Navy has been designated to represent the services in shepherding the legislation to passage. More Measures. Other bills which should be considered would make adjustment for retirement pay of Navy and Marine Corps officers commissioned from enlisted ranks (HR 127); extend the death benefits of the Federal Employees Compensation Act to dependents of certain Air Force members; the Navy, Marine Corps and Coast Guard.

BOUNDRIE, PLEASE! - BONN, Germany (AFPS) - Officers objected to the mail route designation on a street which had been designated "Central Station." Officials changed it to the more popular: "Central Station, 1000 Commuter" - and back.

concerned about you today. I'm out for bigger game! I'm after the man who takes to God what he can get, and never give anything in return.

He enjoys the rest of us, the beauties of the world around us, a world of birds and flowers, a world of purple mountains and green valleys, a world of sunshine and shadow. The man who says he has no use for religion is simply confessing that he has no ability to appreciate the wonders of the visible world, and those noble qualities of mind and heart which prevail in the spiritual world.

Who believes that we humans live within the compasses of a love that transcends the physical, he may say he believes in the things of religion or else tell us where this capacity comes from.

I submit to you that the man who takes to God what he can get, and never give anything in return, is a chiseler. He is a man who takes to God what he can get, and never give anything in return.

JIM CLARK Glamour Added To Salesmanship

An article in the Milwaukee Journal the other day described a new "lambent" movie which the Ford Motor Co. has produced to show their salesmen.

The movie is a 65 minute dramatic color film produced at a cost of about $500,000 with the purpose of glamorizing truck selling. It is a real something. This young man meets girl; boy can't sell trucks and loses girl; boy sells trucks and gets girl.

According to the article, the film makes lavish use of music and girls—especially girls. As it presents a fantasy of a dopey office boy who dreams of becoming a truck salesman, but doesn't know enough about the product to sell it. Through the aid of a reformed young lady in a low cut dress, he becomes a success as a married man.

Here, it seems, we have the old Hollywood story with a new twist. Surely all of Ford's salesmen, after seeing this movie, will go out determined to sell more trucks than any other salesman, and in sure, via themselves one of these red-haired young ladies with a low cut dress.

This is the first article of this type that I have read which included fiction about jazz, and, to me, this section is the best in the book. All types of jazz, from the "old" to the "new," are included in the articles, and the book would be entertaining reading. The cover's few words which Mr. Caden felt obliged to write.

There's music too, in the agenda this weekend—your invited to listen to Benning Bandstand on Sunday at 12:15 p.m. over WGSA in Columbus. Specialize Bill Malindino of the Soldier Show Branch, Industry Center Special Services Section, will present a rhythmic program on Sunday at 12:15 p.m. designed to please all concertgoers.

Each Saturday evening at 8:15 p.m., WDAK in Columbus is presenting a preview of coming events at the post. On Sunday over WDAK at 9:15 p.m. the Third Infantry Division brings you "Pass in Review."

"Pass in Review" is also broadcast by WPXN in Phenix City each Sunday at 12:45 p.m.

HEADS COMMITTEE. Lt. Col. Raymond W. Hart has been named chief of the Doctrine Committee of the Infantry School's Air Mobility Group, arriving from Korea where he was a military adviser to the Third Republic of Korea Army Corps. Col. Hart succeeds Major Lawrence L. Mowery.

INSPECTS HOSPITAL. Col. James H. Forsee, chief surgical consultant of the Ochs of the Surgeon General's Department of Army, Washington, D. C., arrived on post Thursday, Feb. 1. He is in charge of inspection of medical activities at the U. S. Army Hospital.

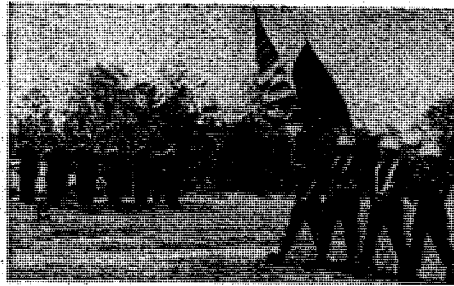

CONGRATULATIONS OFFERED... Major Nelson C. Baker, commanding officer of the 577th Engineer Bn. presents a baby cup to Lt. Billy R. Manning, who recently became the father of a baby boy. The new arrival is the best of the entire 577th Bn.

DISMISSED AHEAD . . . The 78th Engineers are sent early reports in the field of construction but are appearing only on parade grounds. Arriving at San Luis Obispo, Calif., on Feb. 1, 1957, the 78th Engineers are assigned to Benning, Ga., for the remainder of the year. The 78th Engineers are in Ft. Benning's assignment and have been "dismissed" ahead of the parade.

78th Engineers Gyro This Week

The 78th Engineer Bn. leaves Ft. Benning for Karlsruhe, Germany this week to replace the 49th Engineer Bn. which will be assigned to Benning sometime in February.

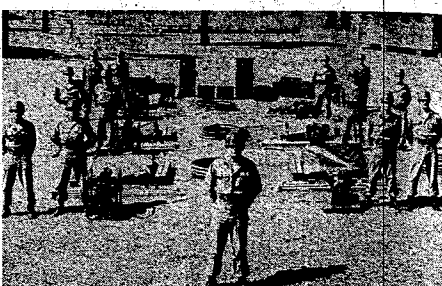

More than six hundred men of the 78th, which is commanded by Lt. Col. Norman D. Hall, will be involved in the move. The battalion will leave here in two groups: the first one on Feb. 2, and the second on Feb. 3, for Brooklyn Army Terminal.

The battalion will then board a steamer Feb. 4 and go directly to Germany. The primary duty of the unit in Germany will be the maintenance of several bridges along the Rhine river.

Has Freed History
The history of the 78th dates back to 1943 when it was activated by personnel of the 1st Bn., 78th Engineer Regt. at Camp O'Reilly, Puerto Rico. Soon after being organized, the unit moved to Henry Barracks, where it continued its missions of road and bridge maintenance and amphibious training. The tour at Henry Barracks was brief, and in July, 1944, the battalion moved to Camp Van Doren, Miss. and shortly thereafter, on to Camp San Luis Obispo, Calif. Remaining

WELL-TRAINED UNIT . . . When the 78th was brought up to strength, more than 400 troops who joined the battalion last September entered a rigid program of on-the-job training. The operator of the heavy equipment piece shown above can now operate it as well as his own automobile.

ALWAYS PREPARED . . . The two water supply teams of the 78th Engr. Bn. are always prepared for an alert in case of domestic emergencies such as tornadoes, floods, hurricanes, and forest fires. The two teams are capable of supplying 84,000 gallons of potable water for the drinking and cooking needs of individuals in a stricken area for an indefinite period.

78th Engineers Gyro This Week

at San Luis Obispo for eleven months. The 78th departed for the Far East June 8, 1945. Its first station in the Far East was Manila. Operations from there, the unit performed general engineer duty throughout the Philippine Islands during the Luzon Campaign. After Japan's surrender, the 78th was assigned to Japan, working as post engineers in the Yokohama area until deactivation April 10, 1946.

Prated by Truxma
On May 2, 1946, the battalion was again activated, and two years later was attached to the 3rd Div. at Benning Army Depot, May 13, 1950, instead, in reference to a parade here April 21, 1950 for the President. Truxma is concerned the 78th Engineer Bn. is Ft. Benning's smallest and best drilled unit.

The battalion assisted in Exercise "Follow Me," supporting the Infantry School by providing experts in demolitions and heavy equipment operators. Displays of engineer equipment and demonstration troops are also provided for Engineer subjects taught at TIS. The building and maintenance of gun emplacements and ranges for the school has also been accomplished in the past.

While supporting the post, the unit has also had additional missions such as support of the 3rd Div. in "Operation Fortrex" in the early part of 1950 at Vieques, Puerto Rico. Belief After Tornado
In '53 and '54 the battalion was given an additional mission to assist in cleaning debris from a tornado which raged rampant throughout the Ft. Benning and Columbus area. It was during this period that two water supply teams were placed on the alert. The two teams, still the pride of the 78th, are capable of supplying 84,000 gallons of water for drinking and cooking needs of individuals in a stricken area for an indefinite period, or by passing, of approximately 300 bridges.

Mounted on vehicles, the teams can move out, set up their water points and transport 4,800 gallons of potable water to distribution points within a short time. The battalion assisted in Exercise "Follow Me," supporting the Infantry School by providing experts in demolitions and heavy equipment operators. Displays of engineer equipment and demonstration troops are also provided for Engineer subjects taught at TIS. The building and maintenance of gun emplacements and ranges for the school has also been accomplished in the past.

INSTRUCTS STUDENTS . . . Members of the 78th Engineer Bn. instruct Reserve students in the erection of a "gin pole." Upon completion, the device will be used to unload trucks.

Unit Contributes To Build Fund For Fire Victim

Members of Lawson Army Air Field Command opened their hearts and their pocket-books this week to aid a fellow member of the unit and his family whose home was destroyed by fire last Sunday morning. SFC Alonzo L. Morris, a fixed wing aircraft mechanic, and his family were asleep in their quarters at 1900 Winston Road in Columbus when fire engulfed the structure. Although he is temporarily residing with another soldier, the 78th Engr. Bn. is contributing to the relief fund for the family. Morris' wife, Germaine, is in the same locality. Morris' wife, Germaine, and his wife, Germaine, are the parents of two children, Michael, age 3, and Daniel, age 8 months.

CONCERT COMING-UP . . . A sax, a smile, and Louis Jordan and the "Tympany Five" will be featured at a two-hour concert to be given in the Main Theater Feb. 7 at 8:30 p.m. Left to right are J. Kirkwood, B. Mitchell, B. Payne, C. Laine, Jordan, S. Jay and C. Hastings.

Lt. Col. Palmer to Retire Today

Lt. Col. Frank Palmer, of Midland, Ga. will terminate three decades of military service today, at retirement ceremonies here.

The 50-year-old officer who has served with the Military Police since 1942 is presently performing duty with the post provost marshal's section.

Entering service as an enlisted man in 1934, Col. Palmer was assigned here during most of his pre-World War II tours except for a break in service to attend Industrial High School in Memphis, Tenn.

In 1937, Col. Palmer earned the Distinguished Marksman badge, considered the highest military rifle decoration, for finishing in the top ten percent in numerous Department of the Army matches. He was also all-Industry assistant coach and firing member from 1955-1946.

With the outbreak of hostilities, Col. Palmer received a direct Military Police commission and served with the Western Defense Command's training mission at Ft. Custer.

Col. Palmer received his first overseas assignment in 1946 as operations officer for the China theater provost marshal in Peiping. He returned to the post the following year.

With the advent of the Korean conflict the Colonel saw combat with the IX Corps and the 25th Division earning the Bronze Star Medal and the Commendation Ribbon.

Returning to The U. S. Army Infantry Center in 1951, Col. Palmer was assigned to the post provost marshal section, his present assignment. Returning to his favorite sport of rifle marksmanship, he was coach of the 3rd Army team in 1953 and the All-Army squad in 1954-1956.

Retiring today, Col. Palmer was assigned to the post provost marshal section, his present assignment. Returning to his favorite sport of rifle marksmanship, he was coach of the 3rd Army team in 1953 and the All-Army squad in 1954-1956.

To Give Concert Here Louis Jordan Has Gained Fame With 'Tympany Five' Type Music

It was a bright summer in the small town of Brinkley, Ark. . . the kind that will frays everything in sight. A small errand boy making his way along the paraded streets, paused in front of a music store window to gaze longingly at a shiny saxophone gleaming in the sun.

By the end of the summer, Louis Jordan had his saxophone players. When Webb died in 1938, Jordan formed his own band.

For three long years, Jordan and his newly formed group later to become famous as the Tympany Five, suffered the usual growing pains of a new band, playing the small but popular bit spots in New York.

Then, the Jordan combo was booked into Chicago's loop Capitol Lounge as an alternate for several years. One day, he sat in a restaurant splurging his last dollar on a meal, she sent a nod in his direction in the form of an offer to join the late Chick Webb's orchestra.

With Webb's famous band, he achieved his first measure of success as one of the country's top ranking clarinet and saxophone players. When Webb died in 1938, Jordan formed his own band.

After graduation, Louis headed for New York, happy hunting ground for young hopefuls in the entertainment world.

Dame Fame turned a deaf ear during summer vacations in Arkansas Baptist College. He earned $15 a week doubling as clarinetist and entertainer, and then began travelling around the country.

Benning Consolidates Information Services

The U. S. Army Infantry Center Public Information Office at Fort Benning has been redesignated the Information Section with responsibility for both public and troop information activities, effective Feb. 1. Lt. Col. James R. Connor of Fairmont, W. Va., formerly the Infantry Center public information officer, will become chief of the Information Section.

The new organization is to have to bring all information activities together in one office to include both the civilian and military public.

The present Troop Information and Education Section will be discontinued with Troop Information redesignated as a division of the Information Section. The Education Section will be transferred to the Educational Development Section of The Infantry Center G-1 Section.

Successing Col. Connor as public information officer is David C. Bowen, Jr., of Columbus, formerly assistant public information officer.

Continuing as executive and administrative officer of the Information Section will be Capt. Ralph W. Sieglitz of Las Angeles, Calif.

First Lt. James H. Clark, of Berryville, Ark., assumes duties as the new troop information officer.

Miss Marjorie V. Cobb of Prattville, Ala., and William W. Bryant of Okmulgee, Okla., will continue in their present positions as chiefs of the Press and Radio Branches, respectively, of the Public Information Division.

Col. Connor has been public information officer since September, 1956. Before his assignment here he served as public information officer at Headquarters Allied Forces Southern Europe, international NATO headquarters in Naples, Italy.

Prior to his European service, he was chief of information for the National Guard Bureau in Washington, D. C. During this time the bureau received a Silver Anvil from the

INFORMATION AGENCIES REORGANIZED

and The Benning Herald, a monthly magazine.

Miss Cobb is a graduate of the University of Alabama in Tuscaloosa and came to the Public Information Office as a new writer in January, 1953. She became chief of the Press Division in April, 1955.

She has been a reporter for the Victory News (Miss.) Post-Led and the Shreveport (La.) Times. From 1950 to 1951 she was news director of Radio Station KCLJ in Shreveport.

Miss Cobb also served with the American Red Cross hospital recreation staff in Japan and France from May, 1951 to October, 1952.

Mr. Bryant came to the Public Information Office as radio officer in the Infantry Center's Special War II being served five years in the U. S. Navy. He attended the Public Information Office at Fort Benning, Ala., and was staff announcer for Radio Station KXIB in Okmulgee.

From news director of Radio Station KWHN in Ft. Smith, Ark., he went to Station KFRQ, Longview, Texas, as director of continuity and production. From 1951 to 1952, he was a member of the staff of Radio Station KWKH in Shreveport, La., in charge of writing and producing all studio productions. At Ft. Benning he has received an outstanding job performance rating and an award for sustained superior performance of duty.

Jump Grads Hear Speech By Lindquist

"You are joining that elite group of men who know the world over as the finest, toughest fighting men, second to none, the American airborne troopers," Brig. Gen. Roy E. Lindquist told airborne class No. 7 Jan. 24.

He spoke at graduation ceremonies on Chapel Field for the 300-man class, the largest to receive airborne instruction here this fiscal year.

Gen. Lindquist, who pioneered in the establishment of the 501st Parachute Inf. Bn. in 1940, is deputy chief director of Troop Test "Jump Light" at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

"He congratulated the group on 'completing three tough weeks of exacting training, conditioning and indoctrination.'"

"The paratroopers have established a reputation through those two essentials which are required for any good fighting unit, high morale and esprit de corps of the highest order," he pointed out.

The speaker was introduced by Col. William E. Ekman, director of The Infantry School's Airborne-Army Aviation Department.

Among the graduates was 2nd Lt. Roy E. Lindquist, Jr., the general's eldest son. A 1956 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., Lt. Lindquist has been assigned to the 2nd Airborne Div., Ft. Bragg, N. C.

He's in the Army Now Tourists, GIs Impressed Young Irish Bartender

BY PVT. TOM MAPLES

The friendly nature of the American tourists which he served as a bartender at the Central Hotel Pub in Kenmare, Ireland, was probably the main reason that James Harrington came to the United States and ended up in the Army at Benning.

A member of Co. G, 1st and an assistant instructor with the Tank-Battalions Committee of the Infantry School, Harrington has gotten around quite a bit during his 24 years.

From the Central Hotel, nestled in the Sharnock studded Irish hills, to the plush Dorchester Hotel on Park Lane in London, to the plush Dorchester Hotel on Park Lane in London, to the plush Dorchester Hotel on Park Lane in London, to the plush Dorchester Hotel on Park Lane in London.

Arrived in U. S. in '35

The friendly American tourists, the congenial American soldiers, and the pressure exerted by his brothers in New York, finally persuaded Harrington to visit the States.

When asked about his plans for the future, Harrington gets a far away look in his eye and says in his slight Irish accent, "I am delighted to be in America, this is the best place in the world to live, but I would like to visit Ireland again someday."

While they were waiting for their meal they had the opportunity to talk to the cheerful young man behind the bar. Harrington remembers those first associations with American tourists as being very pleasant and full of interest.

Most of all, however, he remembers the Irish Pub as a place where the local people would gather to have a bit of fun.

USO to Open O'ceas Clubs

The USO will operate off-station servicemen's clubs in overseas metropolitan areas, which may become leave and liberty centers for large numbers of military men.

A memorandum signed by Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson...

The new agreement with United Service Organizations president Emil Schram authorizes the USO to set up off-station clubs in the 21, the Panama Canal Zone, Alaska and Guam "as may be deemed necessary."

In addition, the Armed Forces are now allowed to supply the USO with limited overseas support such as extension of commissary stores and PX privileges.

Win 1st by 33 Points; Brigade Second With 17

BY TOM WIERZBICKI
Coach Johnny Rivolta's 29th RCT squad won the Infantry Center Boxing Tournament last Thursday night at Briant Wells Field House.

Before a capacity throng of cheering spectators the 29th won in winning style, placing five representatives on the post All-Star team which will defend its Third Army title Feb. 19-22 at Fort Campbell, Ky.

TSB Finishes Second
The team scoring saw the 29th well in front with 50 points. In second place was Coach Regis Blair's School Brigade team with 17, followed by Support Command, 11; 39th Infantry Combat Command, 7; 15th Infantry Combat Command, 7; 54th Medical Group, 4 and the 26th Infantry Combat Command, 3 points.

The outstanding bout of the evening saw the School Brigade's Willie Johnson outpoint Guillermo Lanzo in a welterweight contest. Johnson, wearing a quick left hand, boxed masterfully to decision the former Pan Am welterweight champ (1955-1956).

Johnson's height and reach advantage proved too much for Lanzo whose quick righthand leads fell short. Only in the final round did the former Flat Eds champ score enough good right hands.

The opening fight of the card a bantamweight contest between the 29th RCT's Willie Williams and Support Command's Percival Williams started and ended in whirlwind fashion.

In another game the 7th ICC defeated the 15th Engineers. Sgt. Bill Spencer paced Special Troops Command though in a losing cause with a total of 10 points.

Other games Monday night saw the 29th RCT quietest keep their hold on third place with a 28-45 win over Support Command. Tommy Lee lead the Special Troops Command, 33-67 with Bill Runge leading the RCT cagers with 18 points

BOXING COACH . . . M-Sgt. John J. Rivolta, above, is the proud coach of the winning regimental boxing team for The U.S. Infantry Center. The boxing mentor has coached the 11th Airborne-Infantry to titles and the 303d Airborne to second place in his Army coaching career. Well-versed in his work, he also owns a long list of titles he won while in the Army—including the Bantamweight title as a Golden Glove in Memphis, Tenn.

Jim Webber dropped in Divarty win came on a fourth sweep three victories this past week by on-sided scores.

Monday night's encounter with the 5th Medical group saw Lou Sawchik pace the Brigadiers with 18 points to garner a 36-27 victory and take over first place.

29th Gives Trophies For Bowling

29th RCT Commanding Officer Colonel Joseph W. Sisson presented bowling trophies to the first and champions of the 29th RCT enlisted men's and officer's bowling league at Lawson Field Aloys last Wednesday.

Hq. & Hq. Co., winners of the first round play in the enlisted men's league, had individual trophies awarded to: Sgt. Ken Dandebriak, Sgt. Richard Schenman, Sgt. Richard Morrison, Sgt. Roy Forsberg, Sgt. Dewey Morlag and PFC Roy Elhart.

Colonel Sisson, a first rate bowler in his own right for the Commanders, awarded the following members of the Tankers' Pinner team their trophies: Captain Leslie L. Miller, 1st Lt. Ralph C. Wuaera, 1st Lt. Ed. J. Gordon, 1st Lt. Parker H. Wells, 1st Graham E. Newshaver, 1st Lt. Edward E. Davis and 1st Lt. Elvin A. Krenlich Jr. who has already won for Germany.

Olympic Victors Due Recognition

The Infantry Center, as well as the United States Army, can well be proud of the fact that the only two Olympic boxing winners for our country are from "the Home of the Infantry".

The victories by Heavyweight Pete Rademacher and light heavyweight Jim Boyd were well received in their respective hometowns. Parades, banquets, recognition from city officials . . . the works.

But how about here on post, or for that matter in the city of Columbus? Though these boys are the favorite sons of their respective cities they surely can be considered adopted sons of Ft. Benning and Columbus.

It would be a real shame to see their Olympic achievements go unnoticed for you can be certain of one thing . . . it will be a long time before two Olympic winners are found on one Army post.

Let's not miss the boat, people!!!

While on the subject of boxing, the post boxing team comprised of winners and runners-up of the TIC tourney held here last week will leave today for Montgomery, Ala., to compete in the district and state Golden Gloves.

Accompanying the 25-man squad will be 1st Lt. Pete Rademacher, officer in charge; Sgt. Regis Blair, team coach; M-Sgt. Johnny Rivolta, trainer; and SP-2 Jim Boyd, trainer.

The Montgomery district finals will be held Friday and Saturday and the state finals Feb. 4-6. The winners in the Montgomery finals will be taken to Chicago to compete in the Golden Gloves there. Olympic gold medal winner, Pete Rademacher will be coach of the team.

Jim Boyd will take a number of fighters, not yet chosen, to Nashville, Tenn.; Feb. 11-13 to compete in the All-Southern Golden Gloves.

It looks like the post boxers will have a busy two weeks competing with the finest in amateur fighting. Aside from meeting top competition the fighters will be tuning up for the Third Army tourney slated for Ft. Campbell, Feb. 18-22.

The Infantry Center is the defending Third Army champion. It is going to be pretty tough to live up to last year's team . . . Only time will tell whether we have the material to do it.

A PAT ON THE BACK . . . goes to the post Youth Activity program which announced earlier in the week that a girl's basketball league is being formed here on post.

Parents can breathe more easily now for they know that their children are being provided for in the best way possible through the Yactivity group.

It's a great thing to see the young girls getting into the act. One can never tell, these may be future members of Hazel Walker's Arkansas Travelers!!!!

One of the finest compliments heard thru the grapevine by this reporter was paid to the Rocky Mount Flash, Jimmy Boyd after competing in the Olympics. Nat Fleischer, editor of Ring Magazine, the bible of boxing enthusiasts was quoted as crediting Boyd as "the hardest hitting fighter in the 1956 Olympic Games".

And if you don't believe Nat, check with Gheorghe Negea of Romania. Boyd knocked him down five times to win his Olympic gold medal.

YAC Forms Cage League For Girls

The Ft. Benning Youth Activity Group has announced the organization of a girls basketball league slated to get underway Feb. 8.

The league will be composed of four teams with some 63 girls participating. Games are scheduled for the Faith School gym on Saturday at ten and eleven o'clock in the morning.

Coordinator of the girls league is Mrs. Doris Hasty of Columbus, Ga., who at one time played professional basketball.

Coaches of the teams are Col. Edward Mayer, wife of Lt. Col. Edward Mayer of Heron Lake, Minn.; Mrs. Ray Ritchie, wife of Lt. Ray Ritchie of Ravenswood, West Virginia; and Mrs. Ellsworth Vassar, wife of Captain Ellsworth Vassar of Pittsburgh, N. Y.

Assisting Mrs. Hasty in operating the league are M-Sgt. Sam Prophet and Max Spurling, both of the Youth Activity Group program.

Play of the newly formed girls league will be according to Georgia high school rules.

Rolling along the same pace it did during the first half, the 29th RCT basketball quintet shouldn't find too much trouble from its opponent tomorrow evening — the 5th Medical Group.

The Medics, whom the Commanders topped by the widest margin — 25 points — all season, will skirmish Coach Fred H. Beverly's captain at 7 p.m. tomorrow at Briant Wells Field House.

In the meantime, the twelve-beaten Commanders take their adversaries in stride.

Lee Top Scorer . . . Cutting the cords for 15 points, 12 in the second half, pacesetter Frank Lee provided the 29th cagers with insurance points that edged a highly regarded Support Command team, 49-45.

The Monday evening contest with the Support Command defeated Coach Beverly's boys overcoming their foe's zone defense by scoring effectively from the outside.

John Barnard, who has counted in the double figures constantly since he replaced player-coach Beverly, also led in the scoring department with 11 tallies.

The team's highest scorer, Oliver Elders, failed to hit the double figures for the first time this season from his guard position. However, it wasn't due to an "off-night" but because he sat out most of the game.

On the other hand, the Harlem Magician hit for 27 points against Special Troops Command last Friday to spark the Commanders to an 82-77 triumph.

Hendricks Leads . . . Dick Hendricks, player-coach for STC, who is a former Indiana University cager, soon edged effectively against the 29th's man-for-man defense, hitting

Soldiers' Bowling

Keglers Open 2nd Half Play

The STC-BDS-LAAF Soldiers' Bowling League started its second half play on the 28th at CI Detachment Platoon Five won first place in the first half of play.

The Finance Keglers with the ever colorful George Van Wie took 4 points from ill-fated Board 3 Reds to take command of the league. Van Wie was the hot item for the Monday boys with a 219-355, and Clark for the Reds with a 54-62.

The Platoon Five, winners of the 1st half could only take 3 points from Transfer Point 3 teams and the Platoon Footers with a 205-200, a transfer to the 2nd team, and a 178-156.

Lawson AAF Detachment took 3 points from Co. C-1st STB in three close games. McClain pushed the Fly-boys with a 205-222, and Kaezenner for Co. C with a 188-438.

Co. A 1st STB captured three points from the 28th Signal Co. Keglers in a mixed up affair. Higgins led Co. C with a 211-816, while Falcover B five with a 214-502, while helped the Signal Boys with a 183-495.

Medical Holding Detachment proved too much for the Board 3 Blues as they took 3 points. McClain was the difference for the Medics with a 223-991, and a 225-530 for the Blues.

Food Service School and the 5th Medics split 4 points. The 5th Medics are new to the league, and this was their first night of rolling, as they posted scores that will in weeks to come show they are fine bowlers.

JERRY ARMSTRONG Coaching Course Proved Beneficial

A first in the Army ranks was inaugurated here Jan. 14-20 with the graduation of the 13th class from the advanced marksmanship rifle coaching course.

Marking the talents of the top in Army fiers today—members of the United States Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit—as coaches for students who are qualified in the expert class with the service rifle, this course could well prove to be the most beneficial given to the Army riflemen since the cartridge.

"This combination of instructor—student course," according to Lt. Col. John H. Belles, officer-in-charge, "is designed to provide the Army areas with a highly qualified coaching staff from which they may draw in building an improved marksmanship program."

"The coaching school not only utilizes the special abilities of the National Match competitor, but also employs the most modern and scientific developments in marksmanship which are made available by the United States Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit."

Benefits to the Student . . . To the student it means a greater understanding and insight into the problems of rifle shooting. Another benefit to the student in the techniques of instruction offered in the use of proper ammunition, range procedures, external ballistics and other factors which bear on rifle proficiency.

A great amount of this information cannot be obtained from the regular issue of pamphlets because of the technicality of the different subjects involved.

Fifty one enlisted men and nine officers graduated from this first course and many more are expected to take the course in the near future.

The school is open to all Army officers and enlisted men on active duty and reserves, thus insuring all Army components opportunity for this advanced training.

A Past on the Buck . . . Congratulations are being extended from this column to Capt. Francis B. Conway, Jr., better known to all as Lt. Col. "Benning as M-Sgt. Conway.

Gen. Denniston Speaks to Post QM Association . . . The role of the Quartermaster Corps in the Army of today and the future was discussed here Jan. 22 by Major Gen. Alfred B. Denniston, the Army's deputy quartermaster general.

Gen. Denniston spoke at the monthly meeting of the Post Chapter of the Quartermaster Association at the Main Officers Mess during a two-day inspection visit of post quartermaster facilities.

Looking toward the future, Gen. Denniston told the hearing officers that the dehydrated and irradiated foods developed by the Quartermaster Corps for U. S. fighting men of the 1950's will fit in perfectly with the streamlined Army of that period.

Eight in weight needing no refrigeration, and favorable as well as nutritious, the rations will provide hearty nourishment in the field as well as in garrison.

GETTING READY . . . Adjusting spotting scope, checking firing scores, darkening sight with carbide lamp and loading ammunition belts were routine items for students of the first Army advanced marksmanship rifle coaching course which concluded here last week, while waiting on the ready line. Left to right are 2nd Lt. Richard C. Erickson, Co. B, 6th Battalion, 30th ICC, Sgt. Charles L. Finney, unit above; 2nd Lt. William D. Dowd, 327th Airborne Inf. Combat Group at Ft. Campbell, Ky., and Major James Cosgrove, Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo.

He capped 19 individual matches in NEA registered tournaments, which landed him a spot on the All-Army Team. He has competed at Camp Perry ever year since that time.

Income Tax Information

Dollars Can Be Saved By Knowing Tax Laws

(ED NOTE: This is the second in a series of articles on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Between now and April 15 over sixty million Americans must file a tax return, reporting their 1956 income to the federal government. On the basis of past experience about 1 out of every 4 returns filed will contain an error of $2.00 or more. Last year these errors totaled over $100,000,000.

To help you prepare a correct return and avoid mistakes that cost you tax dollars, this newspaper is printing a series of eight articles, prepared with the help of the national and state organizations of certified public accountants.

This week's article deals with problems faced by almost everyone who has to make out a return. Later articles will give special hints on deductions you may make, particularly if you own a car, home or business. Use this series of articles as a guide to the Internal Revenue Service position on a list of types of deductions which should be omitted from your return.

Non-Taxable Income
It is important to remember that all income is not taxable. You should not include in your return any income which is listed in the official instruction book as exempt.

This includes interest on state and municipal bonds, most government payments made to veterans and their families; life insurance proceeds upon death, gifts and social security benefits.

The tax instructions from the Internal Revenue Service contain a list of types of deductions which should be omitted from your return.

If You Changed Jobs
Here is a special point to which if you worked for more than one employer during 1956, you may have overpaid your social security tax. Each employer is required to withhold social security amounting to 3 percent of the first $400 of your wages.

If you worked for only one employer, this would amount to $12. However, if you worked for several employers, more than $12 might have been withheld. Check your W-2 withholding slips and see whether the total $12 (Federal Insurance Contributions Act) is more than $12. If so, you can claim a credit for the excess in the "taxes withheld" column of your income tax form.

The instruction book which comes with your tax form contains further information. Help is also available by telephone or at offices of the Internal Revenue Service. The Revenue Service urges you to consult a properly qualified advisor if you decide to seek outside help.

Personnel Officer Named
CWO H. J. Sawyer, of Jacksonville, Fla. joined the Infantry Board Jan. 22 as personnel officer. Prior to his assignment to the Board, Sawyer was personnel officer for the Toul Engineer Depot in France.

Mr. Sawyer enlisted in the Army in 1936 and was assigned to the 28th Inf. at Ft. Howard, Md. He was first sergeant of the training center at Camp Cross, S. C. from February 1941 until April 1944 when he joined Co. K, 175th Inf. as first sergeant.

He fought with that unit through Normandy to the Ruhr River in Germany where he was wounded. Mr. Sawyer received the Bronze Star for this action as well as the Purple Heart.

Mr. Sawyer received his warrant in August 1949 as a unit administrator and changed to the personnel field when he was promoted to W3 in April 1953.

Pvt. Larry E. Shriver reported to the Board on Jan. 26 from Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. where he completed his basic training on Nov. 28, Shriver, who is the son of Mrs. Dulcie Shriver, Warsaw, Ind., attended Warsaw High School prior to enlisting in the army in July.

The Infantry Board's officers' volleyball league got underway last week after having been temporarily suspended.

Engineers Name Roberts to Honors
SFC Ernest Roberts of the 78th Engr. Bn. has been chosen as "NOO-of-the-month" for the 151st Engineer Co.

Sgt. Roberts received the award for his outstanding personality, sharpness as a soldier, and "know-how" that makes a good NOO, and his achievement in the promotion of better relations between Ft. Benning and the surrounding communities.

For several months before Christmas, SFC Roberts and volunteers of the 78th worked many of their free hours in repairing and making toys for distribution to underprivileged children so they could have a more enjoyable Christmas.

Sarasota, Fla. (APFS)—Proving the poet's point that there's beauty in a tree, Donna Thomson, leads enchantment to this southern scene. Donna, who recently became the first entrant in the Florida Citrus Queen contest, loves to take the sun against a backdrop of softly rolling sea and warm, limpid sky. But what poet would retire to a gloomy garret to scribble lame-footed sonnets when he could bask in the glow from Donna's gently waving blonde hair. The event Donna's competing in will be held Feb. 11 to 15 in Winter Haven, Fla., at the citrus exposition.

Resulting From Cordiner Proposals

New Army Pay System Planned

Armed Forces Press Service... Expanded officer and enlisted grades, rewards for productivity, and new pay scales preventing those junior to seniors in the same rank from drawing more money, are the basic recommendations of the Cordiner Committee.

Committee proposals, just released by the Defense Department, said the primary conclusion is that present compensation practices of the Armed Forces are "so clearly" out of step and inadequate that they can be called a "major impediment to national security."

Fundamentally, the recommendations have four objectives: (1) Believe the "tight" pay structures of both officers and enlisted men; (2) Revise the present compensation system to provide rewards for merit and performance instead of longevity; (3) Place career pay grades on a competitive basis with industry and (4) Establish "workable" procedures that will attract quality personnel for the Armed Forces.

The closing of the bridge has created a traffic problem since all incoming vehicles which normally use the bridge have been diverted to Outpost No. 1. Disabling a revision of the morning traffic pattern.

Col. Julian V. Solobov of Springfield Center, N.Y., 351st Engineer Group commander, stated that every effort is being made to finish repairs at the earliest possible date to reduce Outpost No. 1 traffic.

The 31st Group is repairing the bridge as part of its on-the-job training. Col. Solobov said.

Officials Expect Road Repairs Finished in Feb.

Post officials expect repairs on the Santa Fe Road Bridge to be completed in February, alleviating the traffic increase at Outpost No. 1.

The closing of the bridge has created a traffic problem since all incoming vehicles which normally use the bridge have been diverted to Outpost No. 1. Disabling a revision of the morning traffic pattern.

pay," equivalent to a one or two pay grades advance, would go to a relatively small percentage of enlisted personnel, probably no more than 15 per cent of total strength.

It would be possible for an E-4 to be advanced on a proficiency basis to the lowest pay for an E-6, and in a later step move up to the bottom of the E-7 pay bracket while retaining his original E-6 rank.

Plan Officer Revisions While this would apply only to selected technicians and leaders, similar provisions have been drafted for the officer pay structure.

The policy for proficiency advancement would be established by the Secretary of Defense and the allocation of each of the services would be included in their annual budgets.

Proficiency pay would be authorized only in areas where shortages of skilled personnel exist. One of the most significant proposals of the committee dealt with the dual problem of encouraging personnel to stay in the service on one hand and controlling it on the other hand to maintain a quality force.

Increased emphasis would be placed on MOS conversion and retaining in areas where high skills are needed and to insure against buildup of excesses in easy-to-learn jobs. No individuals now serving would receive a pay cut if the proposals are eventually approved through congressional action and new defense directives.

PRESENTED CA... Capt. Charles W. Zuppann, right, of Flatonia, Tex., is presented an Infantry Center Certificate of Achievement by Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commander of the Infantry School. Capt. Zuppann, who has been assigned to Korea, was cited for meritorious service with the Weapons Department since September 1954.

Class Hears Gen. Gailey

Military success can be jeopardized or lost by inability to cope with the inevitable presence of civilians in all areas of combat, the Army's chief of civil affairs and military government said here Jan. 25.

Major Gen. Charles K. Gailey, Jr., spoke on the combat aspects of civil affairs and military government to approximately 400 students attending a day and a night class, No. 1 and 2.

GI Flown To Hospital By Helicopter

Lawson Army Air Field Command's flying medical performed another mercy mission last week when an H-19 helicopter flew a wounded serviceman from Cuthbert, Ga., to the post hospital.

The soldier, SP2 Charles Stanford, Aviation Co., 4th Armored Div., Ft. Hood, Tex., had been wounded while on leave from his station. He suffered several gunshot wounds in both legs and was unable to walk.

Notification to evacuate the wounded man was received in the 27th Helicopter Ambulance Detachment by telephone. Capt. Glen W. Jones, commander of the unit, immediately took off for Cuthbert, stopping only long enough at the post hospital to pick up Maj. William N. Lindsay, air evacuation officer at the location. SP2 Wiley Wright accompanied the pilot as medical aidman.

Upon arriving in Cuthbert, the mercy craft landed on the football practice field at the rear of the Cuthbert High School where the injured man was transferred to the helicopter from an ambulance. In a minimum amount of time, the patient was flown back to Benning where he was admitted to the hospital. His condition has been reported as fair and steady improvement has been noted since his arrival here.

FROM JULY TO JUG DETROIT (AP)—A prospective juror wound up in jail instead. He was arrested and given a two-day sentence for not showing up drunk for jury duty.

General Ruggles Assigned to Post

Brig. Gen. John F. Ruggles, commander of the Yukon Command in Alaska since August, 1954, has been assigned to The Infantry Center.

He will be leaving his present command about March 12. Col Thomas H. Beck, deputy assistant commander for combat developments of the Infantry School, will leave the post Feb. 13 to replace Gen. Ruggles. Col. Beck has been nominated for promotion to brigadier general.

Commanded 4th Regt. Gen. Ruggles previously served 10 months as commander of the 4th Inf. Regt., 1st Div., at Ladd Air Force Base in Alaska.

A 1931 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., he attended The Infantry School's advanced officers course in 1938. During World War II, he commanded the 2nd Inf. Regt. of the 4th Inf. Div., participating in the Normandy, Northern France, Rhineland, Ardennes and Central Europe campaigns.

Plans Submitted For Fluoridation Officials See Early Completion

The post is currently making final plans for the fluoridation of its water supply, which is expected to be completed within the next few months.

The engineering and cost details of the proposed fluoridation plan have been worked out and submitted to the Army Corps of Engineers for approval, according to Col. Clyde D. Oatman Jr., Infantry Center central surgeon in charge.

Surveys of the natural fluoride content of water, and the number of children in different age groups who would benefit from fluoridation, have been made by dental surgeons of the post.

Drawings and plans of the water treatment equipment necessary for the present plant were submitted by the post Engineer Section. A combined report on the fluoridation plan from authorized sources will be sent to the Surgeon General of the Post. Please See PLANS, Page 3

Begins Feb. 9 Big Prizes in Store For Talent Winners

A world tour plus an appearance on Ed Sullivan's television show highlight the fabulous prizes in store for any post soldiers or WACS who win the 1957 All-Army Entertainment Contest.

The first step on the road to winning these coveted awards will begin here Saturday and Sunday with the post phase of the contest's preliminary eliminations.

Next will come the post finals in Feb. 17. Then another treat is in store for winners when they get a chance to compete before their home audience in the Third Army eliminations which will be staged at Ft. Benning April 13.

Service Club No. 1 will play host to the initial eliminations.

TSB Reups Most in '56

The School Brigade copped the post reenlistment honors for 1956 with a total of 579, according to figures released by the Infantry Center Reenlistment Office.

The grand total of reenlistment for the post during the year was 2629, the highest recorded since 1951.

Recording a percentage of 57.7, the School Brigade also led all the major commands on post in this department for the year.

Second in number, 492, and percentage at 47.9, Special Troops Command gained the runner-up spot for the post.

Rounding out the top three was the 151st Engineer Group with a total percentage of 44.8.

The Infantry Center has an overall yearly percentage of reenlistment of 41.4. Regular Army reenlistment rate soared to a high 63.9 per cent and reserve component to 60.9 per cent during the yearly statistics.

Construction Begins On Capehart Housing

Construction of $14 million worth of Capehart housing for the post began Feb. 1 with the turning of the first shovel of earth by Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Infantry Center commander.

Others wielding the gold-plated shovel at the construction site on Chester Road were Maj. Gen. George E. Lynch, 3rd Div. commander; Col. R. C. Bahr, district engineer of the U. S. Army Engineer District, Savannah, Ga., and C. Edwin Gates, president of Williams Construction Company, Columbus, Ga.

50 Officials Attended
Fifty key officials of the post, Columbus and Muscogee County attended the ground-breaking ceremonies.

Many generations of servicemen who are too young as yet to wear a uniform will live happily here," Gen. Powell predicted. "This is a good start. It is not the complete requirement, but it shows progress."

Col. O. Z. Tyler Jr., Infantry Center chief of staff, introduced Gen. Powell and Lt. Gen. (Ret.) Mansel S. Eddy. The latter spoke briefly on behalf of Williams Construction Company.

The invocation was by Chaplain (Col.) Earl D. Campbell, Infantry Center chaplain. The Infantry Center band and color guards of the Infantry Center and 3rd Div. also participated in the program.

Distinguished Guests
Among those seated on the speaker platform were James C. McCall, first vice-president of the Columbus Merchants Association; J. W. Feigenthal, president of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce; the Hon. Flournoy of the Real Estate Board; Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, deputy commanding general of the Infantry Center; Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commander of the U. S. Pay Aims To Improve Personnel

The Ordinance Committee's primary intent has been to provide a pay scale that would establish "quality" active duty officers with a retention campaign commensurate with responsibilities.

While due consideration has been given to retirement, the committee found it would be "extremely expensive" to re-late the entire pay structure to retirement.

As a consequence, the recommended "active duty supplemental" pay for grade 05 (Lt. Col.-Capt.) and above would not be computed for retirement, but would be included in grade pay increases on active duty.

Incentive-hazardous duty pay for officers continued to the proposed step-in-grade basic pay structure would give some officers more incentive pay immediately. Others would be protected by the "savings" clause.

The committee also supports medical incentive pay as a continuing means of attracting and retaining sufficient medical and dental officers for the Armed Forces. This special pay, however, would be realigned to conform with the new basic pay system.

Warrant officers pay also would be proportionately higher for all grades. The "saved pay" clause would protect all warrant and commissioned officers now providing more money as a result of longevity credit.

The proposals of the Ordinance Committee would in no way alter conditions of eligibility and methods of competing for retirement. The rate of pay on which retirement would be figured would be that which both officers and enlisted men would be drawing at the time of retirement.

In Answer to Complaints Army Claims New Benefits Act Far Better Than Old Set-up

WASHINGTON (APPS)—Over 60 per cent of the most cost-effective Survivor Benefits Act has been brought to service families as far outweighed by the new law under the new law, according to Defense officials.

In general, the three major complaints service men have voiced against the Act, which went into effect Jan. 1, are: (1) Termination of the 100 free indemnity means that members of the Armed Forces must now pay for their own insurance while those who entered the service after April 28, 1951, having no USGLI or NSLI rights are required to carry commercial policies at higher rates.

(2) There has been a pay cut through the social security tax deduction and, in effect, servicemen are bearing the cost of their own survivor benefits; and (3) The Survivor Benefits Act does nothing for unmarried members of the services.

The Act, Public Law 851, did not do the so-called $100 "free insurance" the first of the year. However, since this indemnity paid beneficiaries $20.90 a month for 10 years only. Defense officials believe that the overall benefits of the new law more than compensate for discontinuing the free coverage.

To Control Fruit Parasite Pilots Aid Agriculture Department

Capt. Robert MacKlannan, and CWO Bobbie Bruce, were sent to southern Florida to aid the U. S. Department of Agriculture in combating the fly.

The fruit fly breeds and thrives in citrus groves, some of which grow wild in uninhabited, uncharted swamp country, inaccessible except by helicopters.

Paul Double Joe, the fliers had a double job, first to chart the locations of citrus groves and secondly to test these groves for the possible presence of the fruit fly.

According to Capt. MacKlannan, who was on temporary duty in Florida from last June to September, the former assignment was completed by arduous slow speed and low altitude flying.

The survey was broken down on a county-to-county basis, the officer said. MacKlannan and all times by the agricultural representative of the county which was being checked in the morning and survey the area in a crisscross pattern, looking for citrus growth. To save time was arranged a rendezvous point with our gasoline truck to refuel near the area which we were surveying, he stated.

Established Second Part Mr. Bruce, who relieved Capt. MacKlannan in September and returned here in late December, explained the second part of their mission.

"When we spotted a citrus grove," would land the aircraft at the nearest clearing and then set a trap, which appeared to the insect's romantic nature, to test for their presence," Mr. Bruce stated.

The lure was a jar attached to citrus tree, containing a sweet poisonous substance.

which gave off an odor similar to that of a female fly. Lured by the smell, the insect kills upon touching the bait. When we check the traps at a later time, we can establish the presence of the parasites by the dead flies," Mr. Bruce said.

Once the presence of the insects is established, they are exterminated by a chemical sprayed from a B-17, the old World War II Flying Fortress.

Public Relations Experts . . . The use of this spray actually led us to a third assignment, that of Army public relations representatives to Florida housewives," Mr. Bruce said. "Although the spray is very effective against insects, it is not very conducive to clean laundry," he stated.

As a result, at first much of our free time was spent answering phone calls by ratee personnel. We finally solved this problem by releasing information as to the dates and hours of the scheduled spraying operation to the local press," he added.

Actually public relations was an extremely important segment of their operation. Help was needed from natives of isolated villages, especially in the everglades area where it is so locate citrus growth which the survey might have missed. To obtain this assistance, speeches and briefings on the helicopter for the villagers were a definite part of their program.

It took a little while for the citizens of Florida to get used to helicopters flying just above their roof tops, according to Capt. MacKlannan.

Captains From Tucker The H-23 helicopter used on the project came from the Army Aviation Center at Fort Rucker, Ala. A liaison officer from Ft. Rucker was in constant touch with them.

Mr. Bruce's regular duty assignment on post is as a pilot with the 4th Helicopter Transportation Co. Literally brought up with the Army's 22-year-old father is so active.

Big Program Completed By Red Cross During '56

Cases served, financial assistance, bloodmobile and water safety programs, volunteers and hospital activities were highlights of the American Red Cross program on post during 1956.

Service was rendered in 17,972 cases. Assistance on leave and leave extensions totaled 4,041. Health and welfare reports came to 10,047. There were 63 discharges and separations cases and 123 requests for aid on government benefits. Counseling was given to 3,780 personnel. 780 cases were given to 780 cases. Financial assistance in the amount of $85,477 was given in 1,773 cases. This aid was given to 1,773 cases. This aid was given to 1,773 cases.

The younger Bruce entered the Army after his graduation from the American high school in Sendai, Japan. He received his appointment as a warrant officer upon completing the helicopter pilot course at Ft. Rucker.

Capt. MacKlannan, pilot and executive officer of the 37th Medical Detachment, received a direct commission after earning a bachelor of art degree in physical education at Springfield (Mass.) College.

The Atlanta Center supplies most of the blood required by the post hospital and other Defense Department installations in this area.

Red Cross qualified instructors conducted 37 courses in swimming, with an enrollment of 647 persons, and four life-saving courses with an enrollment of 66.

In addition to the work of the professional case workers, a Red Cross staff of 100 personnel in an organized recreation program at the hospital. The staff, with the assistance of volunteers, conducted 2,266 activities for patients in the ward and in the recreation building.

Program Reorganized In the latter part of 1956, under the leadership of Miss Herbert B. Powell, the volunteer program was reorganized for more effective operation. A volunteer advisory board was formed with Mrs. James B. Call, as executive chairman. Gray Ladies, Nurses Aides and Staff Aides gave 9,033 hours of service during the year.

4 Offices Maintained To conduct these extensive operations the Red Cross has a staff of 17 professional and eight clerical workers headed by Field Director John A. Phelan. Offices are maintained at the hospital and on the Main Post, with sub-offices in the Sand Hill and Harmony Church areas. Service is given 24 hours a day throughout the year.

Deputy Chief Of Red Cross Visits Post

Mrs. Kester L. Hastings of Washington, D. C., deputy director of the American National Red Cross volunteers, arrived at Ft. Benning Tuesday for a two-day visit.

The wife of Major Gen. Hastings, quartermaster general of the Army, Mrs. Hastings met with Red Cross field directors and volunteers to discuss volunteer organization and services at Ft. Benning and new activities in the national program.

Red Cross volunteers from Columbus and Ft. Benning met with Mrs. Hastings for an informal discussion hour at the U. S. Army Hospital Red Cross recreational building Wednesday at 8 a.m.

Mrs. Hastings met last week at the Southeastern Red Cross Area Office in Atlanta, Ga., with volunteer chairmen and chapter directors from throughout the state in a two-day session.

While at Ft. Benning, she will be the guest of Mrs. Herbert B. Powell, wife of Major Gen. Powell, commander of the U. S. Army Infantry Center. Mrs. Powell is honorary chairman of Red Cross volunteer activities on the post.

P-TA Slates Fluoride Talk

The value of fluoride in the prevention of tooth decay and the fluoridation of the post's water supply will be discussed at the Ft. Benning Parent-Teacher Association meeting Feb. 12 at 8 p.m. in Faith School Auditorium.

Major Fred F. Fox, assigned to the Infantry Center's Dental Detachment, will give the talk on fluoridation. Members of the detachment will be present to discuss and answer questions following Maj. Fox's address.

A film, "A Drop in the Bucket," will be shown through the courtesy of the Georgia State Department of Health. A group of table displays prepared by the Dental Detachment will show what the post is doing to utilize fluoride in the control of dental decay.

Members of the committee in charge of the program are Lt. Col. E. L. Fenske, Lt. Col. Henry A. Goodall, Lt. Col. Van K. Frawley, Lt. Col. Ned Anderson, and Major Fred F. Fox.

HERE'S HOW . . . Fehmi Zeko (with ball) an All-American Volleyball player from Florida State University demonstrates how to keep the ball in the air. Assistant professor at FSU, William T. Odeneal, in white shirt, looks on approvingly. The play took place during the 3rd Army Volleyball Clinic just completed yesterday at Briant Wells Field House. The clinic was conducted by Odeneal and his assistants, all students at Florida State University.

Regimental Basketball TSB, DivArty Still Tied With One Week to Play

With two weeks to go in the Infantry Center Regimental Basketball League, The School Brigade and DivArty remain deadlocked for the front running position after early wins this past week.

A playoff game seems almost a certainty unless the 25th RCT cagers, can dump either of the leaders. The contestants that will decide the league crown will be Feb. 13th when the 3rd Divisions DivArty tangle with the RCT quintet in the season finale.

Two DivArty Wins

This past week DivArty garnered two wins at the expense of Support Command, 50-65, and 15th ICC, 75-58. Big Bill Ruge paced the Redmen in his Support Command game with 21 points.

The School Brigade's lone victory was against the 151st Engineers, 72-63. Center Lou Sawchik paced the brigaders with 23 points. TSB took an early lead and were never headed. They lead at halftime, 36-27.

The widest game margin ever amassed in this season's regimental league action was recorded by the third place 25th RCT cagers as they racked up the 54th Medical Group, 102-47.

The total point score marked the highest ever registered by the 15th ICC cagers.

SHOWING THEM HOW . . . Assistant professor of physical education at Florida State University, William T. Odeneal gives a chalk talk to Third Army Command representatives at the 3rd Army Volleyball Clinic which ended yesterday at Briant Wells Field House. Odeneal, along with three FSU students demonstrated through practical work and lectures how the game is played.

Volleyball Clinic Held

Spikes and digs were the order of the day earlier this week at Ft. Benning as Briant Wells Field House was the Third Army Volleyball Clinic was held.

Approximately 150 representatives of Third Army Commands, including the Post's regimental leaders attended the three-day clinic conducted by William T. Odeneal, assistant professor of physical education at Florida State University.

Odeneal was capably assisted by three Florida State University students. Two of the students, Eugene Lewis of Melbourne, Fla., and Fehmi Zeko of New York City are All-American volleyball players. Lewis was selected on the All-American squad two years running, 1955-1956, while Zeko made last year's team.

The clinic consisted of rules interpretation, coaching strategy, offensive patterns and techniques of using the spike, various types of passes and correct blocking skills.

Climaxing the clinic was a volleyball tournament among the representatives attending and a writing examination.

Outstanding point of the clinic was the practical demonstration of the various shots by the university students.

All-American Fehmi Zeko, rated as one of the outstanding players with the always popular spike shot, demonstrated the correct operation of the shot.

"The main factor in scoring on the spike shot," said Mr. Odeneal, "is the initial setup by a fellow teammate. Timing and correct response are obviously essential, but the ball has to be set up before even the best volleyball player can score effectively."

The clinic preceded the Third Army volleyball tournaments slated for Fort Benning, April 22-25 and May 15, respectively.

Benning Issues Wrestlers Call

Bowling Sharp Rolls 705 Series

The highest bowling series ever rolled in league competition at Ft. Benning, a 705 series, was recorded Feb. 4, by Lt. Benjamin J. Sharp, Jr., of San Antonio, Texas.

Lt. Sharp put together games of 195-220-285 to score his record total. The lieutenant's 299 game is second only to Captain John Coriese who rolled 300 last year at the Main Post alleys.

Sharp, who has been bowling for approximately eight years, missed a chance for a perfect game when after rolling ten strikes in a row he came in with a light knock leaving the five pin standing.

On duty with the 52nd Company, 2nd Student Bn., The School Brigade, Lt. Sharp's previous high game and high series was 278 and 637, respectively.

The young lieutenant was a member of the Fort Benning team as well as the Third Army team last year.

TOM WIERZBICKI Service Buddies Meet Thru Sports

A friendship which had its foundation in French Morocco and was renewed at Florida State University, was brought to light here at the Infantry Center during the Third Army Volleyball Clinic.

The parties involved are both All-American volleyball players at Florida State University who were assisting William T. Odeneal, assistant professor of physical education at Florida State University, who conducted the 3rd Army clinic at Briant Wells Field House, Feb. 4-6.

The story is brought to life because it could happen to any one of us in the service who is a friendlier nature once we don civilian garb permanently.

Gene Lewis of Melbourne, Fla., a twice named All-American (1955-1956) and Fehmi Zeko of New York City, a 1956 All-American met in French Morocco while both were in the Navy.

Volleyball was what brought the two together. Gene, who has been selected twice on the All-American team remarked, "before I entered the service I had never had the slightest interest in the game. Over in Morocco I found out just what I had been missing."

Zeko, the New York lad, interrupted to add, "Volleyball's a sport that you have to go out and play before you can really appreciate it as a spectator sport. Now I get just as big a kick out of watching it as playing it."

Reunited in College

After separation from the service, both boys went their own way. However, their keen interest in volleyball was so strong that it was only a matter of time before they ended up at Florida State University, the only school known to this writer's knowledge which give an athletic scholarship for volleyball.

Gene is a senior presently majoring in physical education while Fehmi is a sophomore studying journalism (I wonder if he knows what he's getting himself into).

Both are members of the school's volleyball team which last year traveled some 11,000 miles playing the school's Armed Forces, and YMCA teams in the nation.

In the national tournament last year in Seattle, Wash., they took third place.

"We could have won it," added Fehmi, "but the competition was so close that a few costly mistakes was the difference."

"Anyone who has any doubts as to volleyball as a competitive sport," added Gene, "should have watched the nationals!"

Is volleyball catching on as a full-fledged sport?

"But definitely," Fehmi quickly added, "Our team has played in six tournaments aside from the Nationals. We play between 75-80 different teams a season."

Clinics' Real Solution

Clinics have always been the solution to reach those ignorant of the fundamental rules of any game. The Florida State University boys agreed wholeheartedly.

"We have been going along with professor Odeneal on these clinics," said Gene, "and have found that there are always more interested in a sport, when they see it played properly."

"Once they learn how to execute the various shots correctly," he added, "they are anxious to indulge in as much as you can teach them."

Generally, high schools are the starring point in most clinics of this nature. For if you can instruct the students at that age they will invariably carry it with them into the Armed Forces.

"Many of the games we have scheduled," said Fehmi, "are against service teams. Surprisingly enough they are usually our toughest competition."

The attendance at the clinic just completed was wonderful as far as Post units were concerned. Let's hope that they can pass this expert information off to others. Volleyball is one sport that is just, too much fun to pass up.

29th Cagers in Loop Spotlight

BY SAM PROCTORO

Having something to fight over—that's the same as having something to live for.

There was a time in the Infantry Center regional basketball league when a loss could be overlooked with the idea that there'll be another opportunity.

Home stretch Here

Now it's different. It's the home stretch for the three contenders—the 25th RCT, DivArty and The School Brigade.

And everyone is going up the one way street the same way—victory-minded.

Without the drum-beating, born-trying and optimistic views for the remaining games, the goal of securing Ft. Benning's regimental champs is no longer "could be" but "will be" indeed.

Although the 25th RCT cagers have been beaten twice, the Commanders will share the spotlight more often simply because they are still labeled as the darlings. They have an opportunity to cap the title.

They remain as the team to beat. And they alone stand in the way of DivArty and the School Brigade.

Don't Mess It Up

Impressively winning without the services of play-coach First-time action of its own whiz and play-maker, Oliver Elders, the 25th doubled the 54th Medical Group last Friday, 102-47.

The score not only marked the highest ever registered by the Commanders but became the widest margin ever amassed this season.

Vietnamese Hear Talk By Herrick

Americans are deeply impressed by the fine fighting qualities of the men of the Vietnamese, Brig. Gen. Curtis J. Herrick told 18 Republic of Vietnam Army officers attending the Allied associate company officers class No. 1, Jan. 27-31.

Chief of staff of the XVIII Airborne Corps, at Ft. Bragg, N.C., Gen. Herrick spoke at graduation ceremonies for the class in the Main Theater. He was introduced by Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commandant of The Infantry School.

"Your Army is yours, created on an independent basis and functions under the outstanding leadership of General Te," Gen. Herrick said.

"When you return to Vietnam, your seniors and juniors alike will look to you for advice and guidance. Therefore, you must be sure that loyalty, integrity, service and duty are exemplified by your actions," he added.

Hq. & Hq. Reach Cage Semifinal

Hq. & Hq. Co. remained the only undefeated five as the 25th RCT Company Level Basketball Tournament entered the semi-final round.

Della Co. and Co. 1, each owning one loss in the double elimination event, clashed last Monday night for the right to meet Coach Norman Bickel's high-living Headquarters cagers in the final.

The results of the first ten games played is as follows:

Hq. & Hq. Co. 100-50 Team C-1
 Della Co. 75-50 Team C-1
 Co. 1 75-50 Team C-1
 Della Co. 75-50 Team C-1
 Co. 1 75-50 Team C-1
 Della Co. 75-50 Team C-1
 Co. 1 75-50 Team C-1
 Della Co. 75-50 Team C-1
 Co. 1 75-50 Team C-1

and smaller, opponent, the Commanders returned the ball down court with ease.

Although he lost the scoring honors for the evening to Don Whitehouse who tallied 25 points, Lee was able to garner 24 before the whistle put an end to the festivities.

Also hitting the double figure for the 25th were Robert Festa and John Barnard with 16 points and Elders with 10. Other scorers were Joe Faulson, 7; and Thomas Kierman, 4.

Controlled Boards

The 25th, employing a man-for-man defense and a fast break, took an early lead and gradually pulled away from the Medics. Controlling the boards was played at 7 p.m. in the Harmony Church Field House.

The Commanders are scheduled to meet the 15th quintet Monday at 7 p.m. in the Harmony Church Field House and will conclude the season against DivArty Wednesday.

The 25th-DivArty game will be played at 7 p.m. in the Harmony Church Field House.

CONARC Plans Changes To Aid Marksmanship

Four changes aimed at expanding and improving the standard of Army marksmanship have been introduced for the 1957 shooting season by Continental Army Command.

The four innovations announced by Gen. W. G. Wyman, CONARC commander, will be integrated into the Army's competitive marksmanship program and provided for:

- First — Installation of Small Arms Firing Schools in each Army area two weeks prior to their area matches.
  - Second — Inauguration of Army shooter classification system.
  - Third — Encourage the development of new shooters.
  - Four — Establish a central file of competitor marksmanship locator cards.
- The first phase will call for:

FROM TIGER TAIL CIRCULAR ARTS, LOUISIANA

"Know Anything About Plans, Dad?"

Each Zion Interior Army Commander to establish a Small Arms Firing School in the two-week period before their respective Army area matches are conducted.

This school will be staffed with graduates of the Advanced Marksmanship Coaching School which is conducted here with a limited supply of additional instructors available from the Advanced Marksmanship Unit, by application to Continental Army Command.

These Army level schools will stress advanced marksmanship coaching, techniques and range operations.

The second revision provides for an Army wide classification of shooters, in master, expert, sharpshooter and a third marksmanship classes based on progressive competitive shooting. Individuals will compete for awards only with competitors with their respective classifications.

Third, new shooters will be encouraged to compete by requiring at least 50 per cent of any team to include individuals who have never before fired on a team at that particular level.

Leicester Card File. Finally, a central file of competitive marksmanship locator cards will be maintained by the U. S. Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit on all Army personnel who have competed in the All-Army Matches.

Details of all four changes have been sent to commanders of all major Army commands in the United States and overseas to be put into action.

577th Snaps Lead In Company Play

The third week of the 151st Engineer Group Volleyball Tournament has been completed and the officers of the 577th Engineer Battalion still hold first place. Over the weeks of play they have compiled a record of 14 wins against 1 defeat.

The second place team is the officers of the Group headquarters, their record being 11 wins and 4 losses.

JERRY ARMSTRONG Benning Shooters Cop Big Prizes

This is the second in a series of columns which will feature 12 best shooters under the title of "Know Your Range Guards". Their duties, the areas of the post they patrol and a short synopsis of their background will be depicted. Patrolling the area of Ft. Benning shaped like a boot, Sgt. Avery D. Brown of Ft. Walton Beach, Fla., moves into the limelight this week.

A range guard with three of the larger ponds located on the reservation in his area, he has over four square miles of territory under his jurisdiction.

His area looks like a big boot situated in the extreme northeastern corner of the reservation. With the boot in an upside down position, the toe points to the eastern corner. The heel extends along the Muscogee County line to the intersection of the Moore Road, which forms the western boundary.

Sgt. Avery D. Brown

The Turrence Road snakes along creating the top of the "boot" curve. It is on this road that the U. S. Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit here, on a recent occasion, "who broke the old National Record for 10 shots at 1000 yards with any sights with a 50-BV score at the Old Alabama State Match in Clatsworthy, October 7, 1956".

The article reports to say that the highlight of the tournament was the breaking of the old record of 507V by Sgt. Hanks' score. Sgt. Hanks shot a 200 Mag. in Douglas 30-S action in a custom stock and his scope was a 2-inch 20X Remington factory cartridge, reweighed the powder to 67 grains and substituted Sierra 150 grain Boat Tail bullet.

Four other Ft. Benning members were also mentioned in the article. Major Ray Orton tied the old record during the match for second place and Sgt. Eugene F. Sardinia posting a 50-6V score for third place honors.

Another Copo Honor was SFC John Martin who wrote an article for the magazine in July 1956, called "Mental Discipline Is A Shooting Fundamental" and was one shooter who practices what he preaches. He won the 300-yard rapid fire with a 200 80-5V was runner-up at 200 yards rapid fire with a 49-V. He was third in the 600-yard rapid fire with 50-6V and his score. See ARMSTRONG, Page 14

For Rescue Work 6 Post Pilots Cited By Airline Officials

Six post aviators who participated in rescue operations following the collision of Trans-World and United Airlines planes over the Grand Canyon last July were presented awards by key airlines officials during honor guard ceremonies at Lawson Army Air Field Jan. 25.

They are Major Jerome B. Feldt, Capt. Kenneth E. McGaughey, and Warren A. Strong, 1st Lt. Kenneth R. Niederbrach, Roy A. Hudson, and John E. Algren.

Assigned to Bisbee Douglas Sub-Depot, Douglas Ariz., at the time of the tragedy, they are now stationed with the 1st Aviation Co. of Lawson Army Air Field Command.

Major Gen. Herbert B. Foyell, commander of the Infantry Center, commended the 175 Barflies of Trans-World Airlines, J. Klapp of United Airlines and J. P. Tallon of the Airlines Pilots Association, in presenting the awards, engraved silver pilot's wings and letters of appreciation to the honorees.

"You expended our work" in "trying to do an almost impossible job," Barflies told the award recipients on behalf of the three airlines groups. He commended that the assistance of Army aviators has restored the project by about 30 days.

Others in the reviewing party were Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, deputy commander-in-chief of the Infantry Center, Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commander of the Infantry School, and Col. G. Tyler Jr., Infantry Center chief of staff.

Nine-L-19's and three U-1A's of the 1st Aviation Co. performed a flight in honor guard flying in formation and streaming smoke. Lt. and Lt. Col. of the 20th Regt. two composite platoons from the 1st Aviation Co. and the Infantry Center band marched in the ceremony.

The Mediterranean fruit fly destroyer of Florida's multi-million dollar citrus industry has been largely controlled early through the aid of two post helicopter pilots.

Construction Projects Totalling 14 Million Dollars Begun Last Year

A modern hospital, fifteen 36-man billets and a million-dollar family housing project highlighted a record $14,943,421 post building program which moved rapidly toward completion during 1956.

This figure includes monthly contract work done under the supervision of the Savannah District Corps of Engineers. Post engineers usually only handle jobs of less than $50,000.

The largest construction project involved during the year was the modern, fully air-conditioned hospital.

It will be equipped with its own boiler system and a ramp-roof parking area to provide adequate space for all type vehicles at any hour.

A local firm, Jordan Construction Company of Columbus, received the job for a price of $2,189,877.

October Completion Date: The inner steel and concrete framework for the hospital was completed during the latter part of December. Final work is set for completion by October.

Elevators for the hospital were almost finished and will be completely in operation this March. Their cost will be $267,400.

Another big project which reached the midway point in construction was the modernization of Kelly Hill enlisted men barracks.

Seven of the light green barracks, which will house 2,222 soldiers, have already been occupied with the remaining ones to be ready for occupancy by February, 1958. The total cost of the units will be $4,345,317.

These barracks are part of the expansion program now in progress in the 3d Div with the addition of several thousand trainees who have joined the unit in recent months.

Final Year's Project: The final project of the year which ranked as a major construction job was the enlisted men company grade officer quarters which are being erected on the Main Post.

One hundred of these units are being built. Twenty will be for officers and the remainder for enlisted men's families.

This project was also given to the Jordan Construction Company for a price of $1,341,103-04. Completion date for this project is March, 1957.

In final stages of construction is the Main Post Exchange. Presently in operation on a limited scale, final completion is set for May 1957. Williams Construction Company of Columbus was awarded this contract for a price of $881,863.

Painting involving seven groups of miscellaneous post buildings cost $155,900 and was finished in May, 1956. Another extensive painting project completed in November re-finished 190 buildings.

Bituminous paved runways and taxiways at Lawson Field cost $100,000 and were completed in August, 1956, costing $50,000. This completed the major amount of projects by the post engineers with the remaining 17 jobs involving miscellaneous in construction.

Rounding out some of the jobs included air conditioning of the U. S. Army Infantry School book department, boiler trim on miscellaneous buildings, construction of a kennel for the 4th Scout Dog company in February, 1958, and motor park facilities on Youngs Swimming Pool.

Other projects presently under construction include a light aircraft hangar at Lawson Army Air Field and motor park facilities in the Kelly Hill area which are planned for completion in February or March.

New BQ Began: A new bachelor officers quarters and a miscellaneous quarters building consisting of 200 units were also started and will be completed this November.

Two other projects which are underway are $438,487 enlisted men's barracks in the southern area of the Main Post set for occupancy in February, 1958, and motor park facilities on Youngs Swimming Pool.

Unit Takes Pay to Men In Kentucky

Regardless of whatever else happens in the Army, troops must be paid. Consequently, payday is awaited with interest by the soldier and he looks forward to the last day of the month when he receives his monthly earnings.

But what happens when the soldier is away from his home station? That was the situation which arose for some members of the 4th Helicopter Transport Battalion Co. and the 37th Medical Detachment last week as they were away from Beaming on "Operation Jupiter," aiding flood victims in Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia.

However, the soldier must be paid. Therefore, last Thursday morning a UA "Otter" plane of the 1st Army Aviation Co. took off from Lawson Army Air Field bound for the disaster-stricken areas of Eastern Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia. Pvt. Karl Johnson, left, accompanied CWO Myers as a guard.

TAKES PAY TO MEN

The payroll safely concealed in the bag, CWO Eugene B. Myers, right, prepares to board a U-1A "Otter" plane for the first leg of a trip to pay Benning personnel in disaster relief in the flood-stricken areas of Eastern Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia. Pvt. Karl Johnson, left, accompanied CWO Myers as a guard.

Army to Separate Many Reserve Officers Early

The Department of the Army has announced that under an accelerated release schedule a number of Army reserve officers will be separated from the active duty in advance of the expiration of their current term categories unless they were selected for retention by the DA Active Duty Board.

The Board reviewed the files of more than 100 Reserve officers on active duty who are or will be eligible for release in the next few months. The release program is scheduled to begin in the fall of 1958, and those categories expire during the FY 1958. Files on officers serving on active duty under the "indefinite" program were also screened.

Of the 320 officers selected for further retention on active duty, 98 were picked on the basis of their outstanding records and the remaining 201 were chosen either as critical specialists to maintain branch grade structure, or as Regular Army Agrementment prospects.

Revised procedures (changes to para 22a, AR 135-178 and para 11, AR 135-215) schedule separation for officers at the end of the month following the month in which retirement qualification is earned. This system parallels the RA officers' system of mandatory retirement for length of service. Several Affects Immediately: Officers on active duty under the change of policy are officers who, by this April 30, will be qualified for retirement as well as those scheduled for release in May and June of this year and during the FY 1958. Under the accelerated program these officers will be separated in April and May.

Every officer concerned will receive individual notification of his newly-established separation date and a minimum warning period of 60 days (60 days).

Lt. Col. George M. Kerr, post veterinarian, is still urging all military personnel who live on post and own pets to be sure and have them given their vaccination for rabies if they haven't been vaccinated within the last 12 months.

He commented this week that the number of pets brought in so far during the first part of the year is quite low and that many people still have pets which should be immunized.

Any pets may receive vaccinations Monday thru Friday from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. and Saturdays from 8 a.m. till noon.

Lt. Col. Samuel C. Allison, Lt. Col. Frank Palmer, Major William S. Larkin, M-Sgt. Joseph T. Muller, Adolphus B. Seagle and Olin M. Ellerbe concluded their military careers. Brigadier General James V. Thompson, deputy post commanding general presented the awards.

Lt. Col. Allison and Lt. Col. Palmer were awarded USAIC Certificate of Achievement. Major Larkin, and M-Sgt. Muller, Seagle and Olin received 25th Inf. Regt. Certificate.

Lt. Col. Allison began his tour of duty with the Medical Service Corps in 1939. He served as a medical officer during most of his career. As liaison officer for the construction of the new hospital at Ft. Benning he coordinated efforts of the engineers and construction in the building of the hospital.

With 25th Inf. Regt. Lt. Col. Palmer has served as commander of the Military Police Co., confinement officer and later as coach of the U. S. Army Rifle and Pistol Team. He began his career with the 25th Inf. Regt. in 1924.

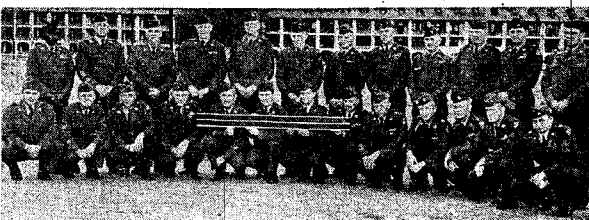

Major Larkin, winner of the Bronze Star and Combat Infantryman's Badge, served in both Europe and the Far East during his twenty years with the Army.

M-Sgt. Muller, holder of the Bronze Star with "V" for Valor was a member of the 25th Inf. Regt. when he began his tour in 1929. He served in Europe from 1942 to 1945 with the 67th Armored Regt. of the 2nd Army.

Served With NATO

M-Sgt. Seagle saw action with the 4th Inf. Div. in Europe from 1942 to 1945 with the 31st Army in Korea. He also served with the NATO forces in Europe.

Enlisting in the Army in 1931, M-Sgt. Ellerbe served first in Hawaii returning to the States with the 25th Inf. Regt. He was with the 78th and 86th Inf. Divs., accompanying the 8th to Europe in 1944.

29 retirements (not pictured) are: SFC Earl G. Davis, 25 years; M-Sgt. John L. Griffin, 21 years; M-Sgt. Roy G. Hendrickson, 20 years and M-Sgt. Seabie L. Jones, 20 years.

This Weekend 'Camp Out' Planned By Post Boy Scouts

BY JULIA BISHOPKE

Pt. Benning Boy Scouts of Honor at 7 p.m. Feb. 16. Fort America will hold a Scout "Camp-Out" on Blue Field on the Main Post Saturday and Sunday.

Approximately 100 boys will participate in the activity directed by Ft. Benning's observance of Boy Scout Week Feb. 6 to 16.

Highlight of the two-day program will be a Post Court of Honor at 7 p.m. Feb. 16.

Activities will begin at 10 a.m. Saturday morning at the home of M-Sgt. and Mrs. Edgar E. Guley and Duke Wheeler, son of Col. and Mrs. L. L. boys demonstrate their camp skills in setting up a camping area. Other activities include demonstrations and competitive sports and games.

Demonstrate Skills

In the afternoon the boys will demonstrate their abilities in such scouting skills as first aid, knot tying, fire building, basket weaving, map and compass reading and Morse signaling. A ballroom will be held for "Penderfest" only.

The organization acts as a centralized organizational and control agency for various units supporting the Infantry Center and thereby relieving the center of many time-consuming administrative functions.

Frederick Friday's retreat ceremony, a special birthday noon meal will be served in all STC mess halls and military personnel will have girlfriends and relatives as guests.

Officers, NCOs to Begin Carrying Swaggar Sticks

Will Help To Improve Post Esprit

Swaggar sticks will set the trend toward heightened esprit de corps on post.

Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, approved the carrying of swaggar sticks by officers and non-commissioned officers of the top three grades. It is to be used with the appropriate duty uniform in garrison.

Developed from the riding crop, the swaggar stick was widespread use in the Army prior to World War II. Carried under the left arm, the lanyard appendage complements the serviceman's smart military appearance.

Available Feb. 21

The Infantry School Book Department expects its first shipment of swaggar sticks to be available Feb. 22. Sold in pairs, the sticks at the post, the Book Department will have four varieties for sale.

All four types are approximately 20 inches long, 1 1/2 inches in color and bear a miniature Infantry School "Follow Me" crest.

The least expensive model is $2.75. Fashioned of pliable wood, it is bound with hand-stitched English cowhide.

Three other models are $4.85, $6.35 and $11.95. These three will be engraved with name initials at 50 cents per letter. Twenty-four hour service will be given an engraving.

The swaggar sticks are made of hickory with chrome cap and ferrule. At an additional charge of 50 cents per insignia, grade, branch and specialist's ratings such as Hanger tab and armor wings may be added to the sticks. (Please See STICKS, Page 19)

The new look . . . Examining some sample swaggar sticks at the Infantry School Book Department is M-Sgt. John J. Murphy, right, assigned to the Infantry School's Tactical Department. Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell has expressed the desire that all officers and non-commissioned officers carry a swaggar stick to enhance their military appearance. The saleslady is Mrs. Georgia Hagberg.

STC to Conduct 8th Anniversary Parade Feb. 15

In observance of its eighth anniversary, Special Troops Command will conduct an organizational day parade at 4:30 p.m. Feb. 15. The public is invited to attend the ceremony which will be held on Stillwell Field.

Special Troops Command will first organized as the Area Service Unit Provisional Group, Feb. 1, 1949 and was later redesignated Special Troops Command.

The organization acts as a centralized organizational and control agency for various units supporting the Infantry Center and thereby relieving the center of many time-consuming administrative functions.

Frederick Friday's retreat ceremony, a special birthday noon meal will be served in all STC mess halls and military personnel will have girlfriends and relatives as guests.

Dependents Invited To Demonstrations

Dependents of military personnel at Ft. Benning have been invited to view two demonstrations which will be held today. The "Supporting Fires" demonstration, or problem 3660, will be held this afternoon in the Area K portion of the reservation.

It will be followed by the night firing demonstration this evening, called the "Reinforced Rifle Company in Defense."

Chapels Slate Services Noting Brotherhood Week

Brotherhood Sunday will be observed with special prayers and services at all post chapels on Feb. 17.

The week of Feb. 17 to 24 has been designated by the Protestant Episcopal Church as Brotherhood Week, a time of resolution and renewal to sustain brotherhood throughout the year.

Chaplain (1st Lt.) Murray J. Lerner, Post Jewish chaplain, will give the address at 8:30 a.m. services at the Main Post Protestant Chapel, Chaplain Lerner will be the congregation on "One Increasing Purpose."

At the 11 a.m. Protestant services Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Robert L. Smith, Special Troops Command chaplain, will deliver the sermon using as his subject "The Samaritan Way."

A choir composed of Republic of Vietnam Army officers attending Ft. Infantry School will sing a High Mass at 8 a.m. in the Main Post Catholic Chapel, led in the choir by the Chaplain, led in the

Contest Finals to See 11 Acts Vie for Honors

An 11-act card will highlight the post finals of the 1957 All-Army Entertainment Contest to be staged in Service Club No. 1 Feb. 17 at 8:30 p.m.

This will feature the winners of the three preliminary eliminations held in Service Clubs No. 1, 2, and 3 Feb. 9 and 10.

The winners of the post contest will have an added reward for their victories this year when they get to perform before home audiences during the Third Army level of the contest which will be held in the Main Theater here April 1-8.

Judges to select the finalists for the post include George Gingsell, program director of WRBL-TV in Columbus; Bill Bowen, program director of Columbus Radio Station WGAR and CWO William R. Tremblay, commander of the post's Band Center.

Contestants for the finals include: Vocal Solists—SP2 organization and techniques recently adopted by the Army; Doeherty, Division Artillery, 3rd Inf. Div., and Pvt. Vincent command post exercises to be conducted in recent years.

Elements of the 2nd Div. will participate in "Exercise King Cole," which will be held in Louisiana during March and April. "King Cole" will be a command post and field training exercise conducted by Continental Army Command at Ft. Monroev, La. The exercise is designed to test the units in new tactical concepts, organization and techniques recently adopted by the Army. It will be one of the largest command post exercises to be conducted in recent years.

Most of the units going on "King Cole" will participate as a 3rd Army CXP at Ft. Gordon, Ga., March 5 and 6 and called "Lucky Bravo." A map maneuver will also be conducted by the staff of "King Cole."

Units to Go To Exercise

Most of the units going on "King Cole" will participate as a 3rd Army CXP at Ft. Gordon, Ga., March 5 and 6 and called "Lucky Bravo." A map maneuver will also be conducted by the staff of "King Cole."

Rademacher Sets 2 TV Appearances

1st Lt. Pete Rademacher, Ft. Benning's Olympic heavyweight winner, is presently in New York City where he is slated to appear on two network television shows.

Friday night he will be the guest of sports announcer Red Barber on "Red Barber's Corner" seen on WDAK-TV immediately following the Friday night fight (10 p.m.).

Rademacher will also appear Sunday on the "Ed Sullivan Show" seen locally at 8 p.m. over WRBL-TV.

Lawson Army Airfield Command

BY MILICENT SUDDER composed of members of the Soldiers Chorus will include Lt. Col. Gordon E. Sayre, Lt. Col. J. M. S. Zerkow, Capt. Gordon C. Conklin and Capt. Edward J. Collins.

Major "Dangerous Dan" O'Brien of the Canadian Army will be the sheriff. Helping him keep the peace will be the honorary marshal, Gen. Powell. Mrs. Rosalee Gilmore is co-chair of the main lineup. Major Harry L. Redder will act as banker.

Admission to the event is 50 cents per person. Proceeds from the occasion will be distributed to the Post Children's Nursery, Boy and Girl Scouts, W. H. Ruff, decorations; Mrs. Leonard, food; Col and Mrs. Hospital, 3rd Army Orthodontic Clinic, Youth Activities Club, Children's Socks and Post Welfare Nurses.

In granting permission for the affair, Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell told the Dusa group:

1956 Party Successful

"It was most enlightening to note the success of the 1956 party and the subsequent donation of money by the chapter. Please convey my compliments to the members of your splendid organization for the support they have rendered to community activities of this installation."

Mrs. Lester L. Wheeler and Mrs. Charles F. Leonard, Jr. are in charge of arrangements for the gala evening, according to Mrs. William V. Ochs, Jr., president of the Army Daughters' club at their Feb. 4 luncheon in the Main Officers' Mess.

The son of Col. and Mrs. Lloyd R. Salisbury, Tommy began playing the piano at the age of four and gave his first recital when he was eight. At the luncheon, the youthful virtuoso played Chopin's "Prelude, Op. 28, No. 17," "Nocturne in F Sharp Major, Op. 15, No. 2" and "Polonaise in C Sharp Major, Op. 26, No. 1" and Mendelssohn's "Rondo Capriccioso in E, Op. 14."

Accompanied by Lt. Col. Guizac and Major M. Canino of San Juan, Puerto Rico, the young local saw, Tommy also played "Liebestraume" by Liszt and "Roses of Picardy" by Wood.

Preceding the performance, Mrs. David Wilson, Woman's Club president, announced forthcoming activities of the group. The club's annual fashion show will be an event of March 29.

Mrs. James V. Thompson, wife of Brig. Gen. Thompson, deputy commanding general of the post, was named officers of the organization.

The committee head committee will be headed by Mrs. O. Z. Tyler, Jr. Her assistants will be Mrs. Frank Bell, Mrs. Edward Coffin, Mrs. Lester Wheeler and Mrs. Edward Cavanaugh.

Among the 250 ladies attending the event was Mrs. Herbert D. Powell, wife of Major Gen. Powell.

For the Valentine affair, the individual luncheon tables were centered with large pink paper and bracts festooned with red musical notes. Garlands of red ribbon were looped along the tables where the musical motif in heart's was repeated. The head table held a giant gold paper heart edged with red crepe paper. Five valentines and powder puff favors were laid at each place.

Mrs. J. B. Starker, Mrs. R. T. Heard, Mrs. Allen Franco, Mrs. R. H. Melwaine, Mrs. Douglas Pease, Mrs. Stephen W. Sisk and Mrs. P. J. Mueller were introduced as new members.

Accompanied by Lt. Col. Guizac and Major M. Canino of San Juan, Puerto Rico, the young local saw, Tommy also played "Liebestraume" by Liszt and "Roses of Picardy" by Wood.

Preceding the performance, Mrs. David Wilson, Woman's Club president, announced forthcoming activities of the group. The club's annual fashion show will be an event of March 29.

Mrs. James V. Thompson, wife of Brig. Gen. Thompson, deputy commanding general of the post, was named officers of the organization.

The committee head committee will be headed by Mrs. O. Z. Tyler, Jr. Her assistants will be Mrs. Frank Bell, Mrs. Edward Coffin, Mrs. Lester Wheeler and Mrs. Edward Cavanaugh.

Among the 250 ladies attending the event was Mrs. Herbert D. Powell, wife of Major Gen. Powell.

For the Valentine affair, the individual luncheon tables were centered with large pink paper and bracts festooned with red musical notes. Garlands of red ribbon were looped along the tables where the musical motif in heart's was repeated. The head table held a giant gold paper heart edged with red crepe paper. Five valentines and powder puff favors were laid at each place.

RC Volunteers Hear Mrs. Hastings Hear Feb. 6

Vision, imagination, know-how and the privilege of serving are the keystones to a growing volunteer program. Mrs. Kester L. Hastings, deputy director of American National Red Cross volunteers, said here Feb. 6.

During a visit with the Red Cross field directors here, Mrs. Hastings, wife of Major Gen. Hastings, quartermaster general of the Army, met with post volunteers and members of the Muscogee and Russell County chapters to prepare and un-der services and programs.

"Never lose sight of the privilege of serving," she told the group. The American Red Cross was founded on the principle of service, both to the community and to the individual, Mrs. Hastings pointed out.

Army wives with their broad experience have special opportunities to serve through

The District of Columbia Red Cross Chapter to help in its nutrition program.

Served During WW II

During World War II, she taught nutrition and canteen classes as a volunteer. Later she served as chairman of canteen service and then, as chairman of volunteer service in her home chapter in Montgomery County, Md., until 1949.

Joining her husband in Japan, Mrs. Hastings continued her Red Cross work, serving as chairman of volunteers in the Tokyo area until returning home in 1952. Mrs. Hastings pointed out the vastly rewarding and enriching experience of volunteer service in overseas communities as well as the contact with Red Cross operations of other countries.

Back in Washington, Mrs. Hastings was called from her own chapter activities in 1954 to Red Cross national headquarters in her present capacity.

Mrs. Hastings was introduced to the group by the post's honorary Red Cross chairman, Mrs. Herbert B. Powell, wife of Major Gen. Powell.

OCs to Play Host to Kids From City

For the first time, an officer candidate company will entertain members of the Columbus Boys Club during their "Olympic Big Brother" visit.

Members of the 2nd OC Co., 5th Student Bn., 25th Airborne Div., will play host to 50 youngsters at their Field Day this Saturday at Doughboy Stadium.

An exciting time is in store for the young fellows during their visit to the post. They will be picked up at the Boys' Club in Columbus and will meet their "Big Brother" on the bus while on their way to Doughboy Stadium for a Field Day.

After witnessing these "Little Olympics" they will be taken to dinner in the mess hall and will see how a candidate lives and be guests at a showing of the movie "This Is The Army."

After the movie it will be dinner in the mess hall and induction as "Honorable Members" of the 2nd OC Co. A grand finale to the big day for the Little Men, the members of the company have been assigned to buy baseball equipment for the Columbus Boys' Club.

In all, a big time is planned for the young visitors as an observance of National Brotherhood Week.

Positions Available In Schools Abroad

The Department of Army is currently accepting applications from persons who wish to secure teaching positions for the 1957-58 school year in a foreign country. Dependents of school teachers are eligible.

The deadline for applying is March 31, and in order for a person to be considered, they must file an application in person with an Army interview examiner. The closest one to this area is the Educational Placement Office, University of Florida, in Gainesville.

34 Men Promoted in Group

BY PVT. J. E. BRICE

The 54th Medical Group underwent the annual 2nd Army Inspection last week. Personnel of all companies put in many long, hard hours making the necessary preparations before the inspection teams began their tours.

Hq. Det. reports a new mechanic on their rosters. Pvt. John Clark, from New Orleans, La., has replaced SP3 Wager Davidson who is now on his way to Ft. Lewis for assignment to the Far East.

There is a new face in the 690th Med. Co. Lt. Adolphus Carter, from Savannah, Ga., has been assigned after returning from a tour of duty in Korea. SP3 Pablo Contreras and PFC Felix Bernardez-Vazquez departed the company for Ft. Dix for discharge and return to their homes.

The re-enlistment bug has bitten SP3s Raymond Sapp and Robert Lester, Frank Scobell and Robert Stafford. Promoted to PFC were Gaylen Tuttle and Jim Cornelius, Jr.

Several men of the 90th Med. Co. have received overseas shipment orders. SFC Carlo de Leonardis received orders to Germany. SFC John Sobich is also going to Germany, following a leave to Hollywood, Calif. On orders to the Far East is

Lt. Col. Wendell Dickerson has assumed duties as the S3 for the group, in addition to his duties as executive officer. He replaces Lt. Col. Anthony Mastrolia, who is on leave prior to leaving for Turkey.

The 54th Evacuation Hospital couldn't resist the opportunity to announce new promotions. New SP3s are Hartzel Bender, Harley Corlkin, Augustus Long, Norman Nelson, John Rosenblatt, Rodney Ferguson, James Fishmeb, Clifford Lynn, and William Moran. There are two new PFCs, Charles Collins and Rollie Collins.

151st Engineers

Co. C Gets New TI Man

Sgt. Charles E. James, of Framingham, Mass., was recently assigned as group information NCO with Co. B, 57th Signal Bn.

Prior to taking up his present duties, James was assigned to the 6th Engr. Bn. in Japan. Holder of the Purple Heart and Korean Campaign ribbon, he resides with his family at 421 First St. in Columbus.

Congratulations to SP3 and Mrs. Jack W. Tyndall on the birth of a five pound eleven ounce daughter at the post hospital this week. Tyndall works in the ration breakdown section of group headquarters.

2nd Lt. James N. Parrish has been assigned to Hq. 151st Engineer Group as assistant S-2. A native of Birmingham, Ala., Lt. Parrish entered the Army in September 1954 with an ROTC commission.

WO Lester R. Pickrell, of Phenix City, Ala., has been assigned as personnel officer of the 151st Engineer Group. Mr. Pickrell entered the Army in December 1952 and served in Europe during WWII. Prior to taking up his present duties, Mr. Pickrell was personnel officer of the 78th Engineer Bn. until they gypsocoped to Europe. His wife and child reside at 194 Green Drive, Phenix City, Ala.

Communications Section of the 151st Engineer Group lost one of its radio operators this week when SP3 Philip Mastromontana went to the transfer post.

SP3 Peter C. Corrales, message center clerk in the 151st Engineer Group, has been spending his spare time lately working with the little theatre group of Ft. Benning. After a year's inactivity, the group composed of both military and civilian workers on post, has already had one production, "The Happy Journey", and is working on another called "Pure As The Drive Snow." In its ongoing production Corrales will play a convict.

Boxing Coach Doubtful Of Tournament Chances

Hopes of regaining the 3rd Army Boxing Crown will be left in the hands of a 10-man Ft. Benning team which will leave for Ft. Campbell, Ky., Saturday.

Sgt. Regis Blair, coach of last year's winning 3d Army team as well as this year, seemed doubtful about his team's chances of repeating again. "Lack of sufficient time to get in shape and inexperienced may hurt our chances," said Blair. "It may be a little skeptical, but we're starting from the ground floor. Our six Third Army winners from last year are either all discharged or can't compete."

The 10-man squad selected through a post tournament include: Flyweight Jim Adams; bantamweight John Jaramillo; featherweight Chris DuBois; lightweight Gerry Owens; light welterweight Charyl Alba; light middleweight Joe Whittington; middleweight Dave Weaver; light heavyweight Joe Demore; and heavyweight Clarence Augustus.

One weight class is still undecided according to coach Blair. "The welterweight is right now a tossup between Willie Johnson and Guillermo," said Blair. "I may be a little skeptical, but we're starting from the ground floor. Our six Third Army winners from last year are either all discharged or can't compete."

Commanders Pull Upset Over TSB

BY TOM WIERZBICKI

Four charity tosses by Oliver Elders and a timely field goal by Fred Byerly proved to be enough for the 29th RCT cagers as they pulled the upset of the season, dropping front-running School Brigade, 71-66.

The loss dropped the Brigade quieted into a second place tie with the 29th team and left the Third Division's Divarty cagers in sole possession of first place with a 16 and 1 record.

The season finale played last night at the Harmony Church field house between Divarty and the 29th cagers will decide the outcome of the Regimental basketball loop.

Take Early Lead

Coach Fred Byerly's boys jumped off to an early, 8-6 lead in the early minutes of the game and held the lead until the last five minutes of the contest, 60-59.

The game was a nip and tuck affair all the way with the Commanders holding a 35-32 halftime margin. Four minutes into the second half, TSB's Sid Hatfield dropped in a push shot from 22 feet out to narrow the margin to 39-37.

At this point, player-coach Fred Byerly repaid Don Whitehouse who committed his fourth foul. Byerly immediately sparked the Commanders throwing in two quick buckets as they pulled out in front, 43-43. Byerly, who had been out for a month with an ankle injury, sparked the RCT quieting with outstanding rebounding prowess.

Take Big Lead

A hook shot by John Barand and another driving lay-up by the Harlem Magician, Ollie Elders increased the Commanders lead to a two point margin, 47-47, with a little over nine minutes remaining in the game.

But the Brigadiers valiantly fought back. Bassets by Hatfield, Tom Flynn and two successful push shots by Lou Sawchik again narrowed the margin, 60-58.

At this point, with exactly a bow in the game, Matthew's foot set shot tied up the contest. An exchange of baskets by Elders and Sawchik made it

The Harlem Magician calmly split the nets with both charity lay-ups to put the Commanders in front, 65-64.

3-Point Margin

Byerly's one handed push from the corner in the final two minutes increased the Commanders lead to 67-64. The Brigadiers tried one final shot which left short.

A full court press employed by the falling Brigade cagers resulted in another foul. Elders dropped in a pair of free throws to ice the win.

High scorer for the losing Brigade team was Lou Sawchik with 22 points. Forward Tom Flynn had 15 as the second highest scorer.

Rifle & Pistol Club Slates Match Sunday

The Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club will feature a 2700, one-day aggregate pistol event at its quarterly match to be held at the club's range Sunday at 9:30 a.m.

This is a National Rifle Association sanctioned match featuring firing with the .22, .38 and .45 caliber pistols.

Club officials announced that 45 entrants have been signed for the event and that around 80 are expected by match time.

Several of the top shooters in the club have entered and it is expected to be one of the most hotly contested matches of the season.

Some of the firms registered include Major Lloyd Hummert, Lt. David Miller and the U.S. Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit at Fort Benning and 1st Lt. David Carter of Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Merchandise prizes will be awarded to the first three winners in each match. Persons desiring information can call MSG. Kirkland at Ft. Benning 29117.

SP3 Rolls 602 Series

SP3 Bert Wierenga, bowling under the colors of Sig. & Hg. 1st, scored the high series and high individual string for the enlisted men's league of the 29th RCT last Wednesday at the Lawson Field House.

The chaplain's assistant bowled a 172, 224 and 206 series for a new high of 602. His 224 string was the high individual effort for the 29th RCT pin-toppers this year.

SP3 Wierenga learned to bowl in his home town, Grand Rapids, Mich. His previous high string at home was 306 and his high series was 677.

Merchandise prizes will be awarded to the first three winners in each match. Persons desiring information can call MSG. Kirkland at Ft. Benning 29117.

TOM WIERZBICKI Bickering Period Precedes Season

The embryo stage of America's favorite pastime, baseball, is presently underway and it is easy to understand why this is a period set aside for the front office big-wigs to start the hair pulling routine.

The reason hardly needs explanation. Contracts for the coming year have been mailed out to the players of the sixteen major league teams.

And, it goes without saying that many of the hired hands bounce the contracts back almost immediately, with sarcastic queries as to whether the big-wig thought he was hiring a baby.

Surprisingly enough the signing of Mickey Mantle by the New York Yankees for an 80 per cent increase in salary came as a real eye opener to the club owners getting soft-hearted? Maybe the bickering of the top players is paying off.

MANTLE WAS DESERVING

There's no doubt in our minds that Mantle deserved an increase. It just seems as though this is the unusual. Considering the fact that only two other players in Yankee history received a larger salary, namely, Joe DiMaggio and Babe Ruth, one stops to wonder about these things.

When you stop to analyze the facts you find that DiMaggio and Ruth received their big salaries when they were in their thirties. The kid from Commerce had just reached his 25th birthday and there's no telling to what heights his future salaries will climb to.

Did you ever stop to consider just what brings about this annual bickering period by the hired hands?

In the case of Babe Ruth, the torture of contract arguing got to be a national event. The Bambino did his hassling with Col. Jake Ruppert, an estimable brewer who owned the New York Yankees and, by extension, Babe Ruth during his working hours.

The arguing sessions went on once the season ended till the next season opened. But, once Ruth was in the fold, civilization was safe for another year, even if the fences weren't.

In 1932 the depression was at its lowest depth. Lines of gaunt men stood before soup kitchens. Spending money and sports crowd were scarce.

NO PAY CUT FOR THE BABE

The colonel wanted Ruth to take a cut in the $80,000 a year he was drawing. Ruth's pay, Ruppert pointed out plainly, was more than the president of the United States.

"Yeah," said the Babe. "But he didn't have a good season last year."

Sometimes—to a lesser extent now than in less business days—owners are called upon to put strange things in the hired hands contract. Ossee Schreckengost once refused to sign until patient Connie Mack included a clause that prohibited Schreckengost's roommate, Babe Waddell, from eating crackers in bed.

And then you have those like Rabbit Maraville who would delay signing to avoid the grind of spring training. It was his principle that he was hired out to play baseball, not to do push-ups.

REALLY A TOUGH ONE TO SIGN

One of the toughest of all time to sign was Edd Roush, who played major league outfield between 1913 and 1931 and finished with a lifetime batting average of .323. Also a hater of spring training, Roush signed late as a matter of custom. In 1919 he didn't report to Cincinnati until three days before the season opened. Nonetheless, he played in the opener and that season won the league batting championship and helped spark the Reds to the world series.

What does this all lead up to? Actually, nothing in particular. Maybe we're just getting to feel like an old-timer... The times are changing, the days go rolling by. But still, baseball is baseball and contract time will always precede that life opening of America's national pastime.

RCT Boxers Work-out For Meet

Five promising pugilists from the 29th RCT are conducting their work-outs at the School Brigade Gym in preparation for the 3rd Army Tournament to begin Monday at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Coch John J. Rivolta, who recently guided the 29th RCT team to impressive victory in the Post tournament, will enter Charles Alba, light welterweight; Juan Jaramillo, featherweight; Joseph Whittington, light middleweight; Gerald Owens, lightweight; and Dave Weaver, middleweight.

The aforementioned representatives recently gave a fine showing in city and state Golden Gloves tournament held in Montgomery, Ala.

Charles Alba won the city 150-pound title. The hard hitting welterweight went to the finals of the State Golden Gloves Tourney before being defeated.

Olympic Boxers Get 3rd Army Citations

Ft. Benning's two Olympic boxing champions have been cited by the Third U.S. Army commander for their skill and sportsmanship in winning the coveted awards in amateur sports.

First Lt. Thomas (Pete) Rademacher, and SP2 James Boyd, last week were presented Certificates of Achievement, signed by Lt. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey, Third Army commander, for winning the boxing weight and light heavyweight championships at the 1956 Olympic games in Melbourne, Australia.

The presentation was made by Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, U.S. Army Infantry Center commander.

Each citation read in part: "Through his skill, stamina, determination and exceptional sportsmanship which led to his winning one of the most coveted honors in amateur sports, (he) has shown himself to be outstanding in the possession of those qualities which typify the American soldier. His achievement has earned him the admiration of his fellow Americans and has reflected great credit not only on himself and his unit, but on the Third U.S. Army."

Rademacher and Boyd won their respective weight classes in the Third Army Boxing Tournament last September and each capped the All-Army Boxing Tournament two weeks later. They were berth on the U.S. Olympic team by winning the Regional Olympic Trials in San Francisco, Calif., last October.

A 1953 graduate of Washington State College in Pullman, Capt. Orville Folkerts and Mrs. Irene Curtis registered an 85 to cop low gross honors in a Mixed Scotch golf tourney last Sunday at the Ft. Benning Country Club.

The tournament, open to all club members, saw winners recorded in two flights.

Low net honors in the first flight saw Lt. Col. & Mrs. Carl Nelson win over Col. & Mrs. Sidney Sargent via a flip of the coin after both finished with identical scores of 72.

Third place winner in the first flight went to Major and Mrs. John Roush.

Low net honors in the second flight was decided in the same way as the earlier flight as Capt. & Mrs. James Kintz and Capt. & Mrs. Robert Ward tied for high honors. The flip of the coin gave Capt. & Mrs. Kintz high honors.

The third and fourth place winners were Mr. & Mrs. H. T. Williams and Major & Mrs. Samuel McCann.

JERRY ARMSTRONG Army Sends 36 To Florida Shoot

36 members, including 20 shooters and six coaches of the United States Army Pistol Squad which will participate in the 1957 National Mid-Winter Championships at Tampa, Fla. and the Flamingo Open Tournament at Coral Gables, Fla. continued practice firing this week.

After reporting into the U. S. Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit at Ft. Benning from Jan. 29-Feb. 3, the group took to the ranges starting last week and will continue to do so through March 1.

The first week the members of the squad went through administrative processing which included practice firing, eye examinations, checking out of equipment.

An orientation period was held from 8 a.m. till 11 a.m. Feb. 4, during which time all persons were briefed on the training schedule, goals to be achieved, policies of the squad and personal responsibilities of individuals to the team.

Following this was the issue of equipment and then the preliminary firing began on Feb. 6.

The schedule calls for the day to begin at 7:30 a.m. with roll call, 8:00-8:30 a.m. team meeting, briefing day's program. Then different types of firing from 8:30 a.m. till noon will consist of record firing of .22 caliber NMC (extra 10 shots, rapid fire), record firing of .38 caliber NMC (extra 10 shots rapid fire), record firing of the .22 caliber with 20 shots, .22 caliber (20 shots) (timed fire), .22 caliber (20 shots) and 10 shots (slow fire) and similar exercises with the .38 caliber pistol.

Afternoon Schedule During the afternoon sessions, record firing will be held with the .45 caliber pistol with Young Champion Starts Pugilistic Career

BY SEYMOUR REUBIN

He's not quite ready for Floyd Patterson, but little Boso Vozel, son of Sgt. John Vozel, 3rd Signal Bn. and newly crowned Georgia State Boy's Golden Gloves Champ may someday cause the fistic world to sit up and take notice.

The 11-year-old, 65 pound bundle of dynamite who began fighting in November 1956, but entered two opponents into submission on his way to the title.

Boso's entrance into the boxing world was brought about by his father who attended a Boys' Club speaker in Columbus and was so impressed with the athletic program that he immediately signed his son to a membership.

The youngster then began to work with South Columbus Boys' Club director, Dick Davis, a former Golden Glove and LAU champion, and a short time later he was a champion.

Davis calls his young protégé "a fine prospect. He's well above average for his age," said Davis.

The 14-year-old at the tournament in Marietta, Ga. praised the 5th grade student at Benning Hills School for his fine footwork and his real sharp reflexes.

The Columbus Quarterback Club sponsored the trip and provided the money for the event that has become an annual affair.

3d Div. Will Reorganize Under New Army Concept

The 3rd Inf Div will reorganize under the "ROCID" concept... administratively self-contained and capable of being transported by air.

In the new Infantry Division there are five subordinate units in the span control. This structure has eliminated one of the echelons of headquarters from the previous organization with a consequent economy in personnel overhead.

In the present Infantry Division there is approximately 17,500 men. It contains three Infantry regiments (each with two battalions and four battalions of field artillery).

Post Holds Special Mass For Children

A new program of special masses for children was instituted at the Main Post Catholic Chapel last week.

Four post soldiers who have received the nation's highest honor for gallantry were honored by the Columbus Civitan Club at a dinner Feb. 3.

Holders of the Medal of Honor, they were Majors Charles P. Minnie, Jr., and Slick L. Treadwell, Capt. Edward Bennett, and SFC Ronald E. Ross.

The new division will have several advantages over 11th Airborne. These advantages include increased front-line fighting strength, increased mobility through aviation and cross-country vehicles.

Noteworthy among other findings in the ROCID Division is the General Purpose Machine Gun which is designed to replace the light and heavy machine guns present in use.

German General Gets Oriented On TIS Activities

Lt. Gen. Hans Roettiger, Inspector General of the German Army, was greeted with an honor guard on his arrival here Feb. 11 for an orientation on Infantry School activities.

His position corresponds to that of the U. S. Army chief of staff. The honor guard held at Lawson Army Air Field, Ft. Huachuca, Ariz., by the 1st Inf. Regt. and a composite Infantry Center band participated.

Roettiger's schedule for conferences with Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell and Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, commander in chief, assistant commander of the Infantry School, and he was honored at an official luncheon in the Main Officers' Mess.

His itinerary includes a tour of the Infantry School's Automotive Department and a Main Post Weapons Pool and demonstrations of Ranger training and engineer support for river crossings.

3 CBR Graduates Make Highest Scores for Year

Three honor graduates of the commander's chemical - biological - radiological course at the P.O.S. Chemical Section last week attained the three highest scores of all classes for this school year.

Top students of class No. 3 were SFC George Wakefield, Co. 3, 97th Engineer Bn., with 97.56 per cent; SFC Coyus L. Carroll, 7th Inf. Bn., 3rd Div., with 97.2 per cent, and Sgt. M. Hansen, 3rd Reconnaissance Bn., 3rd Div., with 96.55 per cent.

From 200 graduates in this school year, the highest possible score was 100 points made by SFC Gordon Gould, 10th Engineer Bn., 3rd Div.

The intensive 84-hour course is planned for key unit personnel and is given alternately every two weeks to officers and non-commissioned officers.

In the classroom the students prepare lesson plans and conduct classes on some phases of the course in preparation for teaching in their individual units.

They receive practical training in the field, being indoctrinated in the gas chamber and checking areas for chemical, biological and radiological agents and identifying them.

Lawson, Brigade Win Jan. Honors

Lawson Army Air Field and the School Brigade shared post re-enlistment honors for January.

The School Brigade, which won the dual honors for 1956 in the number of men re-enlisting and re-enlistment percentage, had 37 men to re-enlist out of 71 eligible.

Best percentage wise with a 50 per cent average was Lawson Field.

Class Hears Gen. DeGavre At Graduation

Dispelling the conflict of command and popularity is a prime responsibility of leadership. Brig. Gen. Chester B. DeGavre, director of development of the Army's Office of Research and Development, said here last week.

A 1934 U. S. Military Academy graduate, Gen. DeGavre spoke at graduation exercises of The Infantry School's basic officers class No. 3 at 11 a.m. in the Main Theater.

"You, who have elected to be officers, must assume the responsibility which goes with your commission and exercise with firmness and fairness the authority vested in you," he told the graduates.

"Your commission is not a ticket to a popularity contest. It is the emblem of a solemn oath to carry greater responsibility. Gen. DeGavre said.

"By your own example of clean living, honest, straightforward dealing, fairness and care of your troops, you can gain the respect and admiration we all naturally aspire to have. The reward is the unyielding loyalty and support of your men and top level performance from them and their weapons," Gen. DeGavre said.

Honor graduate of the class was 2nd Lt. Rudy J. Stoll, who has been assigned to the 4th Inf. Div., Ft. Lewis, Wash.

Italian General Gets Briefing On Ft. Benning

A 17-gun salute welcomed the commander of Allied Land Forces Southern Europe when he arrived here Feb. 18 for a two-day visit.

Italian Gen. Clemente Priami, accompanied by Major Gen. Renato De Francesco, chief of staff of Allied Land Forces Southern Europe, Major Franco Boschi, aide-de-camp to Gen. De Francesco, and Capt. Lucien Rising, aide-de-camp to Gen. Priami, were greeted by an honor guard, composed of men from the 29th RCT, Battery C of the 22d F.A. Bn. fired the 17-gun salute. A composite Infantry Center band provided music.

After conferring with Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell and

Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, commandant and assistant commandant of The Infantry School, the Allied group was briefed on Infantry School activities.

STC Observes 8th Anniversary

With flying flags, field music, crisp commands and marching men, Special Troops Command topped off ceremonies marking its eighth birthday Feb. 15, with an organizational anniversary parade held at Stillwell Field at 4:30 p.m.

Preceding Friday's parade, a special birthday dinner was served in all STC mess halls with friends and relatives of military personnel as guests. The command was established Feb. 1, 1949 as the Area Service Unit Provisional Group and later redesignated Special Troops Command.

In an anniversary message to STC, published at Fort

Benning, Maj. Gen. Robert B. Powell, commanding general, the United States Army Infantry Center said:

"It gives me pleasure to extend heartfelt congratulations to the personnel of Special Troops Command on the occasion of its eighth anniversary.

"The mission of Special Troops Command in support of the Infantry Center and Infantry School is one with many varied aspects. Each assigned task has been tackled with the vigor and enthusiasm so desirable in military personnel. Without this fine spirit of cooperation and esprit de corps the enviable reputation now enjoyed by STC could not be maintained."

"During this especially trying period of personnel shortages these commendable individual attributes and cooperative team effort will materially assist in the successful completion of another fruitful year."

"I am happy to offer my best wishes to each member of Special Troops Command for continued success in the coming year."

As its General Agency Special Troops Command acts as a centralized organizational and control agency for the various units supporting the Infantry Center and thereby leaves the Center of many lines consuming administrative functions.

STC administers to and trains personnel assigned to the numerous staff sections, shops, offices and classrooms of TIC and also plays host to certain categories of transient officer and enlisted personnel arriving at Fort Benning.

Highlights of the past year for Special Troops Command include a reorganization program for the consolidation of troops; utilization of all available space in permanent type barracks, closing of temporary barracks, as well as conservation of heating and building maintenance.

The most significant troop changes were the move of Headquarters Company from temporary barracks into permanent quarters in the second quarter; redesignation of the 1st and 2nd Special Troops Detachments as battalions; deactivation of the 26th Transportation Bn. and 33 Transportation Co.; transfer of the 3d Ordnance Co. to Ft. Campbell, Ky.; the designation of Lawson Army Air Field as a major command of the Infantry Center and the organization of Special Troops Command's Drum and Bugle Corps.

Honored by General One of the year's "firsts" came when Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, CG, TIC picked 2nd Special Troops Bn. for his first official visit, after assuming command of the post.

STC scored a first with the establishment of the Liaison Advisory Committee. This committee, aimed at improving the status of enlisted personnel, is officered and staffed by personnel believed to be the first of its kind in the 3d Army Area. The year saw STC make its mark in athletic achievement, with Hq. Co. winning the post championship in both basketball and volleyball; Co. A, 1st Special Troops Bn. taking the 1956 softball championship and 1st Lt. Wallace M. (Tony) Baker, CO, 8th Ordnance Detachment, capturing the 1956 mens Open Officers' Mess golf championship.

Some of the first personnel to be inducted under the Reserve Forces Act completed their six months active duty at the 3d Army Food Service School.

First to Attain Quota. The command rated top notice in community relations by being the first major command to attain their quota in the Community Activities Association Fund Drive and for its outstanding blood contributions during visits of the American Red Cross Bloodmobile.

Col. Henry M. Zeller, commanding officer of STC, in his anniversary wishes published Feb. 15 said:

"On this, our eighth anniversary, I wish to congratulate every member of Special Troops Command for the contribution they have made in maintaining the splendid record we have established in our mission of support to the Infantry Center."

"You can be proud of your individual share in another year of successful operation. I thank you for your cooperation and the confidence that, in the future, you will continue to give the same splendid support to this Command to enable it to fulfill its mission to the United States Army Infantry Center as it has done in the past."

DA Adopts New Artillery Insignia

The Army has announced that it has adopted a new artillery insignia symbolizing the modernization of artillery weapons.

Scheduled for use beginning in 1958, the insignia, displaying the familiar crossed artillery canons with a composite missile inserted vertically at the center, will replace the present insignia which was adopted in 1907.

According to current plans, the new insignia will be worn by all Artillery officers as soon as it becomes available. The insignia will be issued initially to enlisted personnel assigned to missile units and later to EM in all other artillery units. Guidons and standards of Artillery units bearing the old insignia will be changed as they wear out.

Some of the first personnel to be inducted under the Reserve Forces Act completed their six months active duty at the 3d Army Food Service School.

Repaying Debt

GI Serves In Army With Pride

Pvt. Zenovij B. Stryl, a private recently assigned to Weapons Co., 2nd Inf. Bn. finds the United States truly a wonderful place to live. These feelings can well be understood since he originally came from the Ukraine area of Russia. The new trainee, now undergoing eight weeks of basic combat training, knows well of the hardships of his fellow people from bitter experience in his own life. Now 22 years of age, he left the Ukraine in 1944 with his parents when the Communists began their domination of the satellite countries following World War II. They were given political asylum in Austria until 1947, later moving to Bavaria where they remained until 1950.

It was at this time that the Stryl family came to the United States, settling in Bayonne, N. J. Zenovij entered high school in Bayonne, a new experience for him but a step in his goal toward gaining U. S. citizenship. He completed high school four years later, graduating second in his senior class. Having mastered the English language, he now could speak five languages, Ukrainian, Polish, Russian and German.

Pvt. Stryl is now a citizen of the United States. Even though he has only been a member of the Army a few short weeks, he is happy to have the chance to serve his country.

2 YAC Workers Get Citations Upon Departing

Two outgoing post Youth Activities YAC personnel have been presented Certificates of Appreciation by Col. Albert N. W. YAC president.

They were Nancy Greenwald, Ft. Benning Girl Scout leader, and James C. Blackford, YAC custodian.

Mrs. Greenwald and her husband, Major Howard A. Greenwald, leave for a new assignment in St. Andre, France.

Mr. Blackford will be assigned to Puerto Rico.

6 Classes Begin TIS Last Week

Six classes of approximately 275 students began classes at the Infantry School last week.

On Feb. 6, associate company officers class No. 2, with 184 members, advanced non-commissioned officers class No. 3, totaling 190 men, and Allied Infantry route officers class No. 1 got underway. The latter class is composed of 60 Republic of Vietnam Army officers.

The 30-man Allied rifle marksmanship instructor class No. 1, also composed of Vietnamese officers, began Feb. 7.

Advanced rifle marksmanship coaching class No. 1-A, with 65 students, and the 10-member Infantry officers refresher class No. 5 started Feb. 4.

Graduation ceremonies for 176 students in basic officers' class No. 3 were held Feb. 9 at 11 a.m. in the Main Theater.

S-3 Leaves For Turkey

BY SP3 DAVID PERLMAN
Lt. Col. Anthony C. Mastropietro, former S-3 of the 44th Medical Group, left for an assignment in Turkey recently. The captain was noted for outstanding performance of duty, resulting in their selection from the respective units.

Company A of the 57th Engineer Bn. lost a supply clerk this week, when SP3 Thomas Harris was transferred to overseas duty in Europe.

Congratulations to the runner-up for the title of Engineer of the Month in the 151st Engineer Group, PFC Gerald N. Tschurnperlin, 57th Engineer Bn. and SP3 Anthony J. LaPlante, were commended for outstanding performance of duty, resulting in their selection by their units.

Members of the 54th helped to set up the exhibit "Medical History of the 54th Medical Group" for the Chattanooga Valley Civil Defense Conference. The exhibit was set up by the Group last fall in connection with a course given on the handling and treatment of atomic casualties. It was borrowed from the Armed Forces Institute of Pathology in Washington, D. C.

Pvt. Charles Switgood, a trainee resident of the 88th Med. Co. has left for Ft. McPherson to try out for the 3rd Army baseball team. The men of the 54th Med. Co. are enjoying all types of amusements during the winter. A hi-fidelity set built by SP3 Henry Nusbaum. It took him three months to complete the set, most of the work being done at the Post Craft Shop.

The 24th managed to capture 11 of the 80 superior ratings given to major commands during the 3rd Army Inspection. The captain in this recording is Col. Harry C. McClain, CO of the 54th, stated that he was well pleased with the superior ratings received by Group.

Headquarters Detachment and the 551st Med. Co. will depart from Ft. Benning around March 13 to participate in Exercise "King Cole." The units will be located at Trondheim, La., and will return around April 21. This week, the units are participating in a CPX to accustom the men with duties and problems to be encountered on "King Cole."

M-Sgt. Richard Rossmagne, who is taking night school courses at Baker high school, has made the Dean's List.

3 Construction Jobs Near Completion Date

Construction of three motor repair shops which will provide more space, more efficiency and modernized stables and equipment within the 22d F.A. Bn. will be completed March 26.

That's the progress report presented by Horne B. Raley, job superintendent. The work is being accomplished by the Jordan Construction Co. of Columbus.

The buildings, which will cost approximately $86,840.10, are shop already in use. The shop will consist of concrete columns, beams, floor and block walls with steel window sashes and metal outside doors.

A structural steel framing unit with a gypsum roof under a built-up roof will enclose the one story repair shops. Underground utilities to the buildings, 40 by 143 feet, have been installed.

Included within the repair shops, which will be steam heated, will be an office, and a battery, tire and parts rooms. 2d Lt. Barton J. Conway Battalion motor officer, Ft. Btry., 23d F.A. Bn., expressed a great deal of enthusiasm because of the many advantages of the new buildings.

Centralized Exhaust Unit Perhaps the newest and most modernized installment will be the centralized exhaust unit.

"There'll be a centralized unit," stated the motor officer, "whereby flexible pipes coming into the truck will permit the men to run the trucks with closed doors. This will be a great advantage during the winter."

"There are the same number of boys as there were in the old buildings," the officer continued. "Now, however, the men can work with six vehicles — all 2 1/2 ton trucks, if necessary — at one time."

"Prior to the new construction, seven batteries were using two buildings," he pointed out. "Of course, twice as much working space will enable howitzers to be brought right into the shop and will give the men an opportunity to work on both the howitzer and truck."

"Facilitating steam and better lighting conditions will not only facilitate motors during the winter and at any other time."

BRAINS AND BEAUTY. . . . Something new in show biz entertainment would result if efforts of the fabulous Flamingo Hotel, Las Vegas, Nev., to sign 16 girls with no less than decorates for a stage production are successful. This brainy little troupe would be known as the Hi Phi Betas, and Flamingo, tub bumpers insist the group will not be an "ordinary" chorus gal line, all being in good taste. Add note:

gals with little old masters degrees are not acceptable.
FOREIGN ENTICEMENT. Broadway's "Li'l Abner" has a new cast member, and from Mexico at that, probably never heard of Dogpatch, Ky., until coming to New York. Producers announced the signing of Jose, a burro from Mexico City, to replace Julius, sidekick of "Mystery Sam" since opening night. Newspaper note said Julius was suffering from "nervous exhaustion."
CHANNEL CHAFF. . . . Renewed by the sponsor for its 11th year makes NBC's "Kraft TV Theater" the longest uninterrupted dramatic network series. It plays 52 weeks a year.
 . . . Ex-sailor Jack Insel, marimba player-dancer, has been signed as a regular performer on "Lawrence Welk's Top Tunes and New Talent" (ABC-TV). Jack made a guest spot on the show in early January while still in uniform and was signed soon after his hitch was up, five days later.

READY OR NOT! . . . Not only a playmaker and high scorer — highest for the team during the season with 255 points — Oliver Elders, left, prepares to exhibit his classy and agile antics against DivArty's Lonnie Jackson in Monday night's first basketball playoff tourney game. Although Elders was high scorer for the evening with 26 points, the 29th RCT cagers were on the short end of the score, 93-77. Observing the action is Frank Lee, 29th.

DivArty in Front In Cage Tourney

Despite Lou Sawchik's 40-point scoring spree, the Third Division's DivArty Redies secured a 74-70 win over the School Brigade last night at Briant Wells Field House.

The action took place during the second game of a double-elimination tournament at Ft. Benning to decide the Post Regimental cage champion. Davis Range Pace Attack Two free throws by the Redies player-coach George Davis, along with a field goal by center Bill Runge in the final 30 seconds of play, proved to be enough as they posted their second straight win in consecutive nights.

Center Lou Sawchik's 40-point total came on 17 field goals and six charity throws. Twenty-one of the points came in the second half as the Brigades overcame a 43-33 halftime deficit. With seven minutes remaining, three quick baskets by Sawchik narrowed the DivArty lead to 59-53.

Following two charity tosses by DivArty's Bill Hannan, guard Sid Hatfield, on a double foul shot attempt, dropped the first and Sawchik tipped in the second to make the score 59-57. The Brigades led the score with five minutes left.

Third Division's Div Arty Redies remain the only undefeated team in the double-elimination tourney presently underway at Briant Wells Field House to decide the Post cage champion.

Tomorrow night they will face the winner of the 29th RCT-School Brigade game played last night. If the Redies are defeated another game will be played Saturday evening at 7:30 p.m.

Ft. Benning's cinderella quietly the 29th RCT cagers, ran out of gas Monday night, dropping an uphill battle to the DivArty Redies, 80-77.

The National Mid-Winter Matches will be staged March 22 and closes March 16. Thirty-two players will qualify for the championship flight with the losing 16 forming the first flight. All other flights will go 36-holes.

The qualifying 18-holes of medal play gets underway Feb. 22 and closes March 16. It's divided into a gold medal and silver medal play.

Col. John D. Conroy, tournament committee chairman, announced the dates for the match play scratch tourney and stated that all matches would be played over the 18-hole route with the exception of the championship match which will go 36-holes.

GOLDEN PAST DAHLONOWA, Ga. (APFS) — Local historians rate the Ground Observer Corps post here as a most valuable spot. It's divided into a gold medal and silver medal play.

IT'S MINE! NO MINE . . . Don Whitman, left, 29th RCT forward, fails to out-jump DivArty's performer, Bill Hannan, but the Commanders won possession of the ball. DivArty, however, won the first play-off tilt, edging the Commanders 83-77 at Briant Wells Field House Monday night. Awaiting the deflection of the ball is John

TOM WIERZBICKI Baseball Movie Tells True Story

A stark gripping drama which carries a message of hope to those who fear they are on the verge of a mental crackup is slated for the post-movie marquee this weekend.

It is called "Fear Strikes Out" from the book of the same name by Jimmy Piersall, Boston Red Sox outfielder and Al Hersberg. It tells the poignant, and eventually triumphant, story of Piersall's complete breakdown and his battle back to health.

My reasons for taking the initiative of reviewing this film rather than leaving it to the columnist on page five is, (1). It's a story of a sports figure, and (2). It's a picture that should be a MUST on your list.

Looking at these two points singularly we find first-of-all that though this is the story of a sports figure, it is not primarily a baseball picture.

It is a story of a man's struggle against himself, with the emphasis on a mental turmoil which would not necessarily be confined to a ballplayer. The baseball is incidental. It just happened that Piersall is a ball-player, instead of a clerk, or plumber, or lawyer.

TRACES PIERSALL'S STORY The picture traces Jimmy's life from boyhood in Watertown, Conn., to his present status as star centerfielder for the Boston Red Sox. The fight to make good in the big leagues and reach the success his father had craved for him is Piersall's task.

rather uncomplimentary picture is painted of the father, who sought to offset his own athletic frustrations by driving his son toward a single goal — a place in the Red Sox lineup.

The part played by Peter Onorati, Anthony Perkins, who does a splendid job of portraying a man who is the victim of a growing instability that reaches a climax when he goes utterly berserk, and his gradual return to reason.

The 1957 U. S. Army pistol sport competition, held at Ft. Benning, has begun practicing at Ft. Benning for the National Mid-Winter Championships and Florida Open Tournament in Florida.

The National Mid-Winter Matches will be staged March 22 and closes March 16. Thirty-two players will qualify for the championship flight with the losing 16 forming the first flight. All other flights will go 36-holes.

CERTAIN LIBERTIES TAKEN Certain liberties were taken with the facts, but they might be excused as poetic license. Joe Cronin is pictured as the field manager of the Red Sox when Jimmy first came up, in 1950, whereas Cronin's last year in that capacity was 1947. Also, Piersall's first games with the Sox were as an outfielder, not as a shortstop.

But the average moviegoer will not be aware of these discrepancies, and will be intrigued by the story of a man's inner struggle and the manner in which it was restored to health.

Piersall, today is a personable, well-adjusted citizen with no memory of the dark days when he lived in a world of his own. Mercifully, they are blanked out, and all he knows about his antics is what he has been told.

MOVIE TELLS TRUTH If you've read the book or seen the television adaptation you surely won't want to miss the movie. For those who are not familiar with Piersall's or his striking story, let me clarify one point: The facts are the truth! Hollywood had no hand in making the usual "movie ending".

This is Piersall's story as it really happened. The movie will start on post this Saturday at theater 8 and at the late show. It will also be seen there Sunday and Monday. Theater 11 will have the next showing Tuesday and Wednesday. The movie will open on Main Post at theater 3 next Tuesday. The Main Post theater will show it next Friday and Saturday.

Mental illness is a dreaded thing. For Jimmy Piersall this period of his life was a nightmare. The illness can be cured, Jimmy Piersall's story "Fear Strikes Out" shows you how. Don't miss it!

Galen Gets Perfect Score With Carbine

Firing a perfect score of 200 is quite a feat in itself, but being the man behind the trigger who failed to qualify the first time with a M1, makes the honor even more deserving.

SP3 Alan R. Galen, Co. C, 1st Special Troops Bn, who falls from Philadelphia, Pa. is the man behind this unusual story. Galen was honored last Monday at the retreat ceremony of Special Troops Command.

He received a plaque from STC Commander Col. Henry M. Zeller for his perfect score with the carbine.

"I guess I was just as surprised as anyone else when the results were posted," said Galen. "The final event in qualifying, I added a Galen," was sustained fire from the 200-yard line. I knew I had a perfect score so I really had to sweat it out those few shots."

To make the feat even more exciting the stocky-bull specialist was asked to fire one last single round Galen smiling added "That was another bull-eye."

The perfect score on the carbine range was not the first time this has been done. But it certainly ranks among the minority in Special Troop Command's records.

Company Cage Tourney Starts

Ft. Benning's Regimental Basketball tournament got underway yesterday with eight teams entering the double-elimination tourney. Four games are on tap today for Briant Wells Field House. The tourney will end Monday.

Teams entered include: Special Troops Command, The School Brigade, 29th RCT, Lawton AAF, 34th Medical Gp., Infantry Support and the Third Division's Special Command and 15th ICC.

Hq. Co. Wins RCT Tourney

Hq. & Rq. cagers copped the RCT Company Level Basketball Tournament by scoring a 52-43 victory over Delta Co. last Tuesday night at the Old Post Gym.

Coach Norman Mckellen's squad, the Delta's attack with a full court press. The strategy was so effective that Delta could garner only 14 markers in the first half.

In an effort to halt Hq. & Rq.'s scoring, Delta shifted out of their zone into a man-to-man defense early in the game. The Hq. & Rq.'s winning effort.

Class Wins Cage Title

When the lieutenants of the 20th Co., TSB met their first formation last October, no one reckoned that from these ranks would spring a completely harmonious and well-balanced basketball team. But six wins and one loss later and BIOC No. 4 proved that the BIOC league basketball title.

The officer's readily combined the techniques of many coaches all over the country into a winning ball club. The hard driving of Jim Allenhaupt, the hook shots of Joe Lauletta, and the accurate outside work of Jim Brierley and Ronnie Rabbin made defense for the other BIOC's virtually impossible.

Spunky Harry Childress took the topping ingredient of spark to the team by his inspired play.

The single loss at the hands of a comparatively fresh BIOC No. 7 occurred at a time when the 20th team was beset by injuries and heavy field training, which seemed a deciding factor in victory.

Capt. A. B. Hill, commanding officer of the 20th Co., has commended the team on the title won and their sportsmanship throughout the season.

Former Boxer Believes Conditioning Invaluable

BY SP3 SAM PROCOPIO
29TH RCT PIO Section

Boxing is a "conditioning game", professes M-Sgt. John J. Rivolta, of Memphis, Tenn., a short, brassy pugilist who donned the gloves at the age of 14 and successfully matched stamina and wits as a fighter and coach.

"Nine-tenths of being in condition," explained Rivolta who entered the Army in 1940, "is back in the days before 1900, boxing was as it should be. Fighters trained all the time. They had to fight to get their titles," he continued. "They took the game more seriously. Of course, we had better fighters and they knew they had to be in shape."

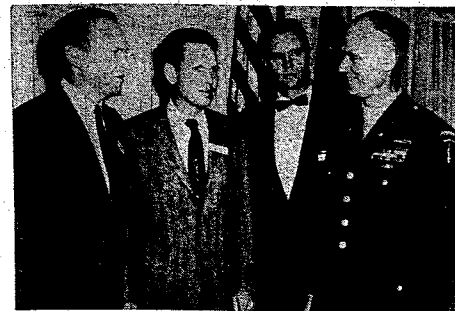

Two o'clock the next morning he was back in the ring, toe-to-toe, this time with his opponent of the day, whom he decided to win the Bantamweight Jr. NAAMU title. "A 'Lover's Game'!" "Today," compares the well-versed coach, "they think it's a lover's game. We don't have the love we used to have—good, great camps."

Rivolta, who began his staid career in 1923 when he joined a CYO branch in Memphis, winning the paper-weight championship, turned professional in 1947 as a welterweight. In less than two years he fought 33 bouts, losing only three. Once he became a canvas-back kid when a fighter from Cartersville, Ga. KO'd him. In a return match, however, Rivolta set the Cartersville fighter back for the ten count.

The highest ranking fighter the 29th RCT coach met and conditioned was Al Reed of Pennsylvania who ranked in the top ten at the time. In a war boot drive fight in 1951, Rivolta went to Australia where he met the lightweight champ (4 North Woodland, Holly Crane, Rivolta TKO'd the Australian in the 6th round.

Collection of Titles The youngest of five brothers—all fighters—Rivolta has his collection of titles the Panama Canal Zone Dept. Title and Atlantic and Pacific Ocean Title, and has coached the 11th Airborne and 51st Airborne Infantry to championships.

Post Classes Told Future Trends In Warfare by German General

Tactical substitution of the combat team for the division and a fading distinction between Armor and Infantry units were cited as trends in future warfare by German Army Gen. Von Senger und Esterlin Feb. 7.

Speaking to advanced officers classes No. 1 and 2, Gen. Von Senger discussed Germany's failure in 1918 to believe its 6th Army enveloped at Stalingrad. He followed the tactical story with views on the employment of conventional forces in atomic warfare.

During World War II the speaker commended the 17th Panzer Div. in Russia, the Siel-Saxinia - Cornica Military District and the 14th Tank Corps in Italy. He also served on the German General Staff and as chief of the German delegation to the Franco-British Armistice Commission.

"We have to face a new era in warfare for which we have no experience," he said. He pointed out that even a slight army with tanks except those at the "zero point" against blast, heat and radiation.

"We cannot take the responsibility of having important arms moving on the battlefield without the protection of high speed armor," Gen. Von Senger stressed. He added that moving the Infantry in half-tracks also allows greater deployment.

"The essence of future warfare will be deployment—much more extended deployment in depth and width. Flexibility will connote future tactics," he brought out.

"Once the Infantry division can move more quickly, more tanks can be given to the division than are allotted organically," he said.

Gen. Von Senger noted that in Russia, German concepts of the Panzer division changed, since the mass-attack tactics used in the French and Polish campaigns were no longer successful.

"Tanks no longer were leading the way, but going in after the Infantry. If tanks encountered strong resistance, they were halted, pulled out and ordered to attack elsewhere," he explained.

Gen. Von Senger pointed out the advantages enjoyed by Soviet Infantry divisions with full strength tank battalions. He suggested that divisions of the future not be distinct Armor or Infantry units but contain about even numbers of both these arms.

"The division level tactics will undergo a change. The division as such, will go," he predicted.

The speaker mentioned that the smaller, more complete combat team also fits into the U. S. program of major over-seas commitments.

"I don't think the combat team can swallow the direction of the atomic support group. It should be directed by a higher headquarters," he added.

GOIN' FISHTH'N'... M-Sgt. Seabie L. Jones, of Co. C, ISD, receives a Certificate of Achievement from Lt. Col. James L. McKenzis, ISD commander, on his last day in the Army. Asked what his plans are upon retiring from the Army after more than twenty years of service the sergeant said, "I guess I'm just goin' fishin'."

Old Soldier' Wins Last Rocker

BY CLARK BLACKBURN
A promotion to master sergeant these days makes for a big story, but in the case of George A. Lee, who was recently promoted to this grade, there is an ever more interesting story in his background.

Sgt. Lee, a member of High Student 8A, took to the sea when 12 years old, working as a stevedore, mess boy and general handyman until he was 21. He then quit the sailor's life, joined the Army, and was assigned to Co. D, 29th Inf. Reg. here.

His duties during these early years in the Army was that of horse orderly. He was on duty one night at the old polo field when he caught fire. Lee and several other soldiers managed to evacuate all the animals without a single loss.

The sergeant was then sent to Ft. Davis, Panama Canal Zone, where for almost three years he served as horse orderly for the commanding general. Following this tour he was assigned to the 7th Inf. at Waco, Texas, where again he worked as horse orderly, this time to Gen. George C. Marshall, until he became the Army's Chief of Staff.

With the disappearance of horses and mules in the early 40's, Lee became a supply sergeant, going overseas with Co. M, 7th Inf., where he saw action in North Africa, Sicily, Italy, Southern France, Germany, and Austria. During the Korean action he spent 27 months in the Far East.

When asked about retirement, he said, "I plan to retire when I have completed my 30 years here where I started. There have been a lot of changes here since I started out in the Army. I hoped I'd get a chance to help construct Doubtless Stadium, and also help construct McAndrews Field, where again I worked as horse orderly, besides the women who worked in the laundry. Back in those days, soldiers did all the work."

When asked about his plans upon retirement, he says "I plan to go to school under the GI Bill, and then I hope to put in my own sign painting shop in Columbus. I want to stay close to my family and soldiers. You see, I have four step sons, all of whom are in the service. Two are in the Air Force, one in the Army, and one in the Marines. I also have a daughter who is married to an Army soldier stationed in Germany."

VISITS POST

Lt. Col. Eugene A. Watts of the G-3 Section, 3rd Army headquarters, Ft. McPherson, visited Benning for three days recently. He conferred with officers of the 3rd Division's G-3 Section.

Income Tax Information

Claim Every Exemption To Save $$$ on Taxes

(This is one of a series of articles in the Bayonet on Federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Many people overpay their taxes because they cheat themselves on their personal exemptions.

Here is how to count your exemptions (each one takes $600 off your taxable income):

One exemption for yourself, two if you are 65 or over, two if you are blind, three if you are both 65 and blind. The same applies to your husband or wife.

If your husband or wife died during 1956 you can still file a joint return claiming the exemptions, including those for age or blindness, to which the deceased would have been entitled at the time of death.

One exemption of $600 can be taken for each person who fits the definition of a dependent. This $600 is not doubled for age or blindness, however, as in the case of your personal exemption.

To count for an exemption, the dependent must:

- (1) Have less than $600 gross income for 1956 (except that this does not apply to your child if he is under 19 or is a full-time student).
- (2) Have received more than half of his support from you, unless you file a Multiple Support Agreement (see below).
- (3) Not file a joint return.

(4) Be either a citizen of the U.S. or a resident of the U.S., Canada, Mexico, Canal Zone, Panama and in some cases, a serviceman's child living in the Philippines.

(5) Live with you (absentee while attending school does not are allowed to deduct expenses paid to someone other than a dependent for the care of a son, daughter, stepson or stepdaughter under the age limit.

This regulation also applies to any dependent of any age, whether he is mentally or physically incapacitated.

A working wife is entitled to this deduction if her husband is physically or mentally incapable of providing support. Where the husband is not disabled, the working wife may also take the child-care deduction only if a joint return is filed, and the $50 limit must be reduced by the amount the

Suggestion by Civilian Results in $65 Award

A civilian employee of the Infantry Center's Ordnance Section has been presented $65 for proposing that stenciled disposition forms be used in lieu of recurring weekly and monthly disposition forms. Her suggestion will save approximately $114.65 per year.

Outstanding job performance certificates were given to Otto J. W. Wolfe, Ordnance Section; Mrs. Junina Thomas and Miss Patsie V. Light, both of The Infantry Center Quartermaster Section; Mrs. Dorothy A. Wilkins, Infantry School Weapons Department; Mrs. Roberta K. Hittman, Office of the Secretary, The Infantry School; and Horace W. Humdall, Infantry School Publications and Visual Aids Office.

The Third Army award was made by Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, deputy commanding general of The Infantry Center, on behalf of Lt. Gen. Thomas F. Hicks, Third Army commander.

Twelve other incentive awards were given to post officials who tested the device.

A small arms instructor at the Kommando Kamp Benning, M-Sgt. Harold W. Hankins, now plenty of action during World War II as a member of the 1st Ranger Battalion. He also was captured by the Germans—four times during the war, and managed to escape three times.

He says "that was the signal for me to move out smartly—and four others moved with me—and we headed for the Elb River. The odd part of this move was that one of our German guards moved out with us—he wanted no part of the Russian."

"In our cross country track we were stopped by a German colonel who asked us where we were headed. When we told him, he whipped out a map and gave us careful directions to Camp 1-A on the Elb River where there were 100,000 POW's from all known armies."

"I hid in brush" Hankins said. "When we arrived at our destination, we saw so many German soldiers walking around that we were afraid to turn ourselves in. We stayed out for three days observing what took place, and then decided that if we were found hiding out in the brush, we would be only asking for death, so we marched into camp and gave ourselves up."

New Proposals Would Correct Inadequacies of Pay Structure

Army News Service
The Defense Advisory Committee on Professional and Technical Compensation (commonly called the Cordier Committee) has found that the Army's pay structure for professional and technical personnel is inadequate in many respects. The committee's report, which is being published in two volumes, states that the present pay plan is "not only inequitable but also does not provide for the retention of personnel in the Army."

Headed by Ralph J. Cordier, president of General Electric, the committee is composed of both civilian and military personnel. Its purpose is to conduct an impartial and unbiased inquiry into the lack of personnel stability in the Armed Services.

Retention of personnel is directly related to pay opportunities, the committee found. Generally, in regard to officers, second lieutenants received pay roughly equivalent to what they would receive on entering civilian occupations. As an officer progresses, however, his pay rates fall behind that received by a man with similar amounts of experience and capabilities in civilian life.

Proposed New System
To adjust to a limited extent, the difference between military and civilian schedules, the committee has proposed a new pay structure, necessarily increasing the salaries of high ranking officers more than lower ranks. For instance:
The base pay of second lieutenants would remain es-entially unchanged. As with all other ranks, "longevity" that is, grade pay raises—will be modified. Under the new plan a second lieutenant with 10 or more years service will receive less money than he would under the present pay plan. However, a "savings" clause in this proposed pay plan assures that no one on active duty when the new plan is enacted will suffer a cut in pay.

Paid for Inefficiency
Presently, the total pay of a second lieutenant with 14 or more years service is more than the base pay of a captain. The feeling is that a second lieutenant with 14 or 30 years service is being paid $522.10 (the amount of longevity pay) purely for being inefficient. An efficient officer would long since have been promoted to a higher rank. This is a generalization, and there are exceptions; i.e., individual enlisted men with many years service have been appointed second lieutenants and are not by any means considered inefficient.

ANNOUNCE SCHOLARSHIP
ANNAPOLIS (APFS) — An annual scholarship for daughters of Navy and Marine Corps officers has been announced by the Naval Academy Women's Club. The grant will amount to $500 a year for four years. Preference will be given to daughters of deceased officers.

The base pay of general officers is increased substantially. A study prepared by the committee shows that under the present law, general officers receive approximately one-third the salary of executives with similar responsibilities in civilian occupations.

The committee reported that junior officers were not particularly dissatisfied with their present pay, but were decidedly outspoken regarding the compensation they could expect to receive as senior officers. In effect, they said:

"To persuade me (and my wife) to undertake a military career with all the disadvantages and hardships of a military way of life, and the responsibility you will expect me to assume as I progress of the promotion ladder,"

"The committee's recommendations would increase general officers pay to approximately one-half what they would expect to receive in civilian life."

"The salaries of other ranks of officers, as well as enlisted men would be increased. Recommendations are enacted into law—also be adjusted so as to compare more favorably with those of men with similar skills and responsibilities in civilian life."
The committee believes such a pay scale revision will help keep trained personnel in the service for the security of the nation.

Kids Learn Safety At PM Bike Classes

Bicycle safety classes are currently being given by the Infantry Center Provost Marshal's Section on three successive Saturdays at 8:30 a.m. at Faith School.

The classes, which began Feb. 23, are mandatory for children between the ages of 6 and 14 who operate bicycles on the reservation. They were instituted to instill safe driving habits in children at an early age, according to 1st Lt. Billy G. Morris, officer in charge of the instruction.

The Feb. 23 class was held for children residing in the Main Post area who attend the Main Post School. On March 2, children who live in the Main Post area and are students at Faith School will attend the course. The final class will be offered March 9 for youngsters living in the Beating Park area, regardless of where they attend school.

A previous class held at Ouster Terrace School was attended by 107 children residing in the Sand Hill, Upland Terrace, Ouster Terrace, Bottle Park and Trailer Park.

The course is a three-hour one and consists of safe driving lectures, practical exercise and an operator's proficiency test. Upon successful completion of the examination, students are given a license to operate a bicycle on the reservation.

Sgt. Samuel B. Whitmore is chief instructor.

Man's Birthday Poses Problem

A Post officer doesn't know whether he is 10 years old or 41 years old.

Major William C. Koeb, executive officer of the Analysis and Control Department, Infantry Board, has a problem every year when this time.

He was born Feb. 28, 1916. Major Koeb said, "I'm not sure whether I'm 10 years old or 41 years of age. There could be advantages either way. One thing for sure, it is inconvenient when it comes to birthday gifts."

Recently Repaired

Old Railroad Gets New Resting Place on Post

The old Ft. Benning railroad, complete with new face and finish, has been placed in its new location on Vibbert Avenue. The two old pieces still attract attention from all ages on post.

After chugging around the post for over a quarter of a century, the train was retired to a spot in front of the Ft. Benning Fish and Game Maintenance Association. Office in 1948. It remained at this site until the latter part of last year, when it was moved to the post motor pool for repairs.

Almost 22 years ago when school is out, the new location of the railroad is the site of jubilant youngsters racing to get choice places in the engineer's seat.

Major James C. McDonald, Jr., of El Paso, Tex., former assistant Infantry Center transportation officer commented, "These final memories are part of a past era in post transportation."

Prizes will be awarded in three categories, oils, pencil or pen and ink drawings and water colors. The latter two must be matted. Entrants are urged to submit their work before noon March 3 at Service Club No. 1 or the home of Mrs. Harry L. Reeder, 302-A First Division Road, chairman of the project.

Entries will be displayed at the March luncheon of the Women's Club at 12:45 p.m. in the Main Officers' Mess in Service Club No. 1 on March 7.

'Big Top' to Appear At Benning in March

Featuring clowns, animals and his own menagerie, 13-year-old Third Army circus, "Big Top", will make two appearances at the Main Theater and Theater No. 7 March 2-3.

Both performances will begin at 6:30 p.m.

Twenty-two persons, and nine animals will be included in this colorful array of talented acts. Many of these performers are professional showmen and represent the tops in talent in the seven-star Third Army area.

PF3 Stuart Miller, formerly assigned here, will be one of the featured attractions with his mystifying magical bag of tricks. A native of Corning, N.Y., he amazed crowds at the post Service Clubs before taking his doves, guinea pigs, snakes, canaries and rabbits to Ft. McPherson, Ga.

A veteran of more than 20 years in civilian and Army show business, M-Sgt. Hal Tavel of Atlanta, Ga., will be the ruggasser for "Big Top". One of the most spine-tingling acts in the show will be the display of "Pouahistis Extraordinary" by PFC's Norbert Kretsch of Saratoga, Fla., and Kent Baker of Baltimore, Md.

Both Professionals Kretsch is a former member of Ringling Brothers Circus and Baker a professional rope-twirler in civilian life. Another featured act of the show will be "A Night in Bagdad" performed by five lovely "slave dancers". The dancers are PFC's Betty Lucas of work to include all 174 VA hospitals.

The volunteer group now does live work each week from ten to eight hospitals and sends script kits to more than 30 other centers.

Review Honors Lynch

Following the ceremony an informal reception will be given in the Main Officers Mess. Approximately 250 civilian and military guests will attend the affair.

In the receiving line will be Gen. and Mrs. Powell and Gen. and Mrs. Lynch. Capt. McCall will introduce the guests.

Will Leave March 1
Gen. Lynch and his family will leave the post at 8 a.m. March 1. General staff of 100 and major units command members of the 3rd Div. will assemble at Ft. Zierach, headquarters to bid farewell to the Lynchs. Division guidons will mark their departure route and planes of the division's Combat Aviation Co. will participate in a "fly-over" as the general's car leaves the reservation.

Gen. Zierach will coronate the division until Gen. Lynch's successor is announced.

A veteran of nearly 28 years of active service, Gen. Lynch has commanded the Third Army since September, 1955. He also served as commanding general of the Infantry Center from May to August of last year. The 49-year-old officer is retiring on his own application.

Gen. Lynch is the son of Major General (Ret.) and Mrs. George A. Lynch. A 1929 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N.Y., the Marine Division commander was born at the Military Academy.

First Assignment Here
His first Army assignment was with the 28th Infantry at Benning. In June, 1937, he transferred to the field artillery and the following month joined the 33rd Field Artillery stationed here.

After attending the Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kan., Gen. Lynch became commander of the 2nd Airborne Division at Camp Claiborne, La., in February, 1945. He moved with the division to Ft. Bragg. In April, 1949, he went to North Africa with the 2nd Division and served as its G-2 in September when he assumed command of the 142nd Inf. Regt. of the 96th Inf. Div. in Italy. He commanded the unit until November, 1945.

Gen. Lynch served 15 months as assistant G-3 of Army Ground Forces headquarters, Washington, D.C., before transferring to the Infantry in April, 1947.

Following two years as an instructor at the National War College, Gen. Lynch was named chief of the Military Personnel Branch of U. S. Army Europe headquarters in Heidelberg, Germany. He was appointed assistant commander of the 2nd Inf. Div. in Germany that November. Gen. Lynch became chief of staff of VII Corps in Europe.

Served in Pentagon
In August, 1955, he departed duties as deputy for international affairs in the Department of the Army's G-3 Office. He also served as Army delegate to the Inter-American Defense Board; Army member of the Permanent Joint Board on Defense, Canada-U.S.; chief of the Army Section, Joint Chiefs of Staff; Defense Commission, and Army member of the Joint Mexican-U.S. Defense Commission.

He came here in September, 1955, and was promoted to his present rank the following month.

Among Gen. Lynch's decorations are the Silver Star with Oak Leaf Cluster, Legion of Merit with Oak Leaf Cluster and Bronze Star Medal with three Oak Leaf Clusters.

King Cole Will Test New Idea

Army News Service

The Army plans to conduct certain tactical troop tests to further develop the "Pentomic" concept of organization, doctrine, and techniques during Exercise KING COLE, a command post and field training exercise that will be held in the Louisiana Maneuver Area from March 27 until April 12.

KING COLE will provide training for commanders and staffs in tactical, intelligence and logistical operations under assumed conditions of extensive atomic, chemical, biological, radiological and electronic warfare capabilities, the Army said.

Medical Support Center operations, Intelligence Doctrine, Special Demolitions, and new concepts of Ordnance Guided Missile and Special weapons supply will be tested during the maneuver.

More than 20,000 troops, including men from the 1st Armored, 1st and 3d Infantry, and 82d and 101st Airborne Divisions, as well as such units as III Corps, XVII Airborne Corps, 2d Logistical Command.

SAFETY AWARD . . . 1st Lt. Daniel P. Steinko, Co. I commander, receives the 3rd Bn. overall safety award from Major Elwood E. Fatsy, 3rd battalion commander. The award is based on the safety record from August to December, 1956.

and 2d Armored Cavalry Regiment, will participate.

In addition, Anti-aircraft units will be included, together with elements providing technical and administrative service and intelligence support.

The exercise will be conducted as a series of short problems each followed by critiques and corrective actions.

Group Hears General Mead

The future of the U. S. Infantry was discussed by Major Gen. Armstrong D. Mead, chief of the Infantry Section, Continental Army Command, here Feb. 27.

The speech highlighted the monthly meeting of the Columbus Chapter, Military Order of World Wars, at the Main Officers Mess.

The two star general described both the weapons and organization of tomorrow's Infantry and then answered questions from the audience on the subject.

The organization's nominating committee submitted a slate of candidates for election at next month's meeting. Major (Reserve) Charles B. Taylor was nominated as commander, while Lt. Col. (Reserve) J. R. Nelson and Major (Reserve) William J. Schulz and Leonard B. Hinson were selected as vice-commanders.

Other candidates chosen include Major (Reserve) Louis F. Ruzic, adjutant and historian; Brig. Gen. (Ret.) Marcus Bell, assistant adjutant; Lt. (Reserve) William C. Wilkerson, treasurer; Lt. Col. (Reserve) John Nilan, judge adjutant; and Lt. Col. (Reserve) Guy E. Snavely Jr., chaplain.

Commander Major W. Foster Mess, presided over the meeting and announced that Gen. (Ret.) Mark Clark would be guest speaker in April.

'Benefits' Act Increases Security for Dependents

The Servicemen's and Veterans' Survivor Benefits Act provides increased financial security for soldiers' widows, surviving children, and in certain instances for dependent parents.

Although the $10,000 Servicemen's Indemnity—popularly referred to as "Free Insurance"—has been eliminated, widows and children of active duty soldiers will in most cases benefit from the act's increased compensation.

Under the new law the compensation is 12 percent of the sponsor's base pay at the time of his death plus $12 per month. The payment continues during the widow's lifetime or until she remarries. In addition, surviving children will have an income from Social Security until they are out of school or longer for those incapable of self support.

These benefits are in addition to any government or civilian life insurance in force, except for those who have elected to continue NSLI or USGLI policies under waiver.

Additional benefits, which accrue from participation in the Social Security Program are: (1) A lump sum death payment of up to $25,000; (2) Retirement benefits to the sponsor at age 65; and (3) Eligibility of certain dependent parents for Social Security compensation.

Under this Act, Social Security benefits accrue to all personnel whether short-term or career, with or without dependents and are through civilian employment. These added security and retirement benefits are derived from relatively small monthly Social Security deductions from Service pay in the same manner and amount as from civilian employment pay.

It should be noted, however, that the Act's full benefits are granted only to those who have dependency responsibilities. Additional details will be available shortly through a revised DA pamphlet 21-5, "Personal Affairs of Military Personnel and Aid for their Dependents." (ANS)

Washington Report

Early Hearing Seen For Pay Proposals

Compiled from AFPS With estimated costs and gains from recommended pay revisions tallied by the services, the Committee will conclude its study with a report to Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson.

Proposed legislation now under consideration by Mr. Wilson covering major changes in the military pay system will be submitted by the Bureau of the Budget and the White House by early March.

Assuming Budget approval in coordination with President Eisenhower, the bill would pass on to Capitol Hill as an omnibus bill.

From here on the fate of the measure would be in the hands of the legislators. As a general practice, such bills are introduced in the House of Representatives by Chairman Carl Albert (D-Calif.) or other ranking members of the Committee on Armed Services, which first considers all legislation pertaining to military matters.

Representative Vinson then would assign the measure to one of the three Armed Services subcommittees for preliminary hearing in support of the bill by Defense officials.

Clearing the subcommittee, the bill, with any recommended amendments, would move to the full Armed Services Committee.

Here particularly in legislation of these dimensions, the hearings and testimony would be particularly important. The bill would be scheduled for presentation on the floor of the House in late March and vote by the 435 lawmakers at the end of the session.

Majority approval in the House will be necessary for the bill to go across the Hill to the upper chamber's Armed Services Committee.

At this point, the House would be expected to accept or reject the bill, with any amendments, and report it to the Senate for its modification according to the specific views of the Senate committee.

Any revisions by the Senate would require a joint House-Senate conference to resolve the differences.

Passing in both houses of both chambers, the bill would be ready for the President to sign into law.

Veterans proposing to sell homes bought on GI loans may be able to obtain releases from government liability as protection against new purchases, according to the Veterans Administration.

In 1956, a veteran has been released from mortgage liability when selling his home only by paying the entire GI loan himself or by having the bill passed.

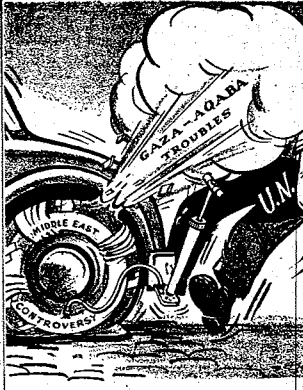

Under a 1956 law, if the new purchaser, who need not necessarily be a veteran, assumes the requirements and the VA may release the veteran from his liability.

The VA sold release from this liability to the government guarantee of a loan; the new purchaser merely covers the whole amount.

Release of a vet from the GI loan liability to the government guarantee of a loan; the new purchaser merely covers the whole amount.

If the Pump Only Holds Out

Chaplain's Corner Weak Memory

BY CHAPLAIN (CAPT) THOMAS D. McGRATH

A person can never develop a strong character unless he has the ability to forget past injuries. Of too many people fail, in a resolution introduced by Sen. George A. Smathers (D-Fla.).

Forgiveness Favored—Legislation to void an order to release single quarters allowances and dependent allowances in the Air Force married to airman has been forwarded with approval by the House Committee on Government Operations by a subcommittee headed by Representative William A. Dawson (D-Ill.).

The payments were made between 1951 and 1954 under different interpretations of the compensation act. A ruling directed the WAF's to stop making the allowance and ordered the money returned.

To Honor Heroes—An annual "Chaplain's Day" to memorialize the four Army chaplains who lost their lives in the sinking of the transport Dorchester during WWII has been proposed by Sen. James O. East (R-Md.).

The bill would set aside the first Sunday in February to commemorate the military deaths of four chaplains who went down with the transport in enemy action off the coast of Greenland on Feb. 3, 1943.

The Age of Prayer, by Robert Carter, (Rinehart, 1957). This is a history of piracy from its earliest days to its destruction. It is a thrilling, lyrical story of a wild life of forever vanished.

Also Against Human, edited by Charles Neider, (Warner, 1957).

An entertaining book on the Pacific of the 1950s, although it is a little out of its scope, it is not likely to settle many questions to the satisfaction of both parties. Die hard battle may have been over, but the fiercest spinsters may have confirmation of some of their worst suspicions; those in need of this may find some doubt.

The Great Chain of Life, by Joseph Kruskal, (Doubleday, 1957).

A book that covers all popular equipment available in the U.S. for home music systems. A book to entertain those who wish to know the world of music and also an interesting introduction to the giant mammals.

On the Bookshelf

The feasibility of parachute jumps from the B-19 bomber has been established through a series of tests conducted here by the Infantry School's Airborne-Air Mobility Department.

The experiments, concluded this month, were under the direction of Capt. Joseph E. Collins, who is in command of the operation's complete success.

The project was given to the post department after preliminary investigation by military officials, who are members of the Airborne-Electronic Board at Ft. Bragg, N. C., at the Infantry School.

With the feasibility of the operation proven on paper, it is now expected where jumps are imperative to land personnel with a minimum of noise.

Movie Time At Benning

Movie Highlights

Crime of Passion, a mature melodrama, starring Barbara Stanwyck, Sterling Hayden, and Raymond Burr. The unexpected arrival of a wife to advance her husband to a high position in the police department leads her to a murder which her own husband is accused to solve.

The incredible shrieking Maa, a family type science fiction drama, starring Robert Williams and Randy Stuart. A reversal in his growth process resulting from atomic exposure causes the victim to shrink gradually to a mere inch in height, turning normal incidents into terrifying ordeals.

Lasse, a mature melodrama, starring Eleanor Parker, Richard Boone, and Joan Blondell. Her maid twisted by a brutal teenage incident, she is returned to a normal healthy life through the efforts of an understanding policeman.

Last of the Bad Men, a family type western, starring George Montgomery, Robert Kennedy, and Keith Larsen. Montgomery plays an undercover agent in this story, an outlaw gang, which is captured by daring investigators, who save the hoodlum's wife to expose their operations.

The Tailored Dress, a mature melodrama, starring Jeff Chandler, Jeanne Crain, Jack Carson, and Elaine Stewart. Jeff Chandler exposes corruption and violence in character of a desert valley couple accused of homicide.

JIM CLARK War Pix More Real Than Most

Post theaters are offering this week a war picture which is a little of the ordinary as far as war pictures are concerned.

"Men in War" starring Robert Ryan and Aldo Ray deals more with the type of character which war creates than most pictures do. It attempts to portray the emotions and the best of soldiers.

To a certain extent, the movie is successful in portraying the characters of these men, and the portrayal of this fatigue is very well presented here.

Laurels should be handed out to Robert Keith, who played the shell-shocked colonel. A person who can evoke interest in him without speaking a single line is a real achievement. The movie has to be called a fine actor.

All kinds of characters. The movie is abundant with character parts, but then, it seems that the movie is always character actors' paradise. For instance, have you ever seen a movie in which a character actor has always character actors' paradise. For instance, have you ever seen a movie in which a character actor has always character actors' paradise.

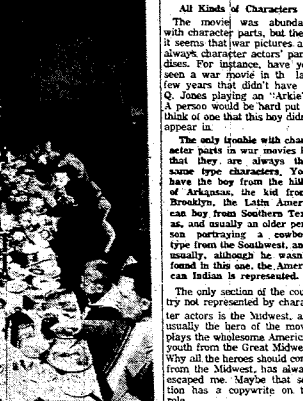

The only special of the country not represented by characters in the movie is the Canadian. Why all the heroes should come from the Midwest, has always been a mystery to me. The movie has a copywrite on the role.

Another thing which was very noticeable in "Men in War" was the way that all normal life sounds were amplified at the beginning of the movie adding frightful realism to the action. The movie was cut off from the main body of troops, and seeking to get back to their lines.

I was reminded while watching the movie of a similar one back during World War II days called "Walk in the Sun." It was a picture of the same "played down" quality to which I added immensely to it.

John Crosby, the syndicated columnist, whose column appears in the Columbus Evening Post, is planning to visit Arthur Godfrey the subject of this week's cover of the Air Force and Crawford for an African Safari with Gen. Curtis LeMay of the Strategic Air Command. It is known how the country could get along without these two men.

ANNUAL BLUE AND GOLD DINNER - Ft. Benning's G. Scouts and parents at the Blue and Gold banquet held at Biglierville Mess. The principal guest speaker was Brig. Gen. Frederick B. Zierath, assistant commander of the 2d Div. Col. A. C. Boatman, G. USAIC, represented General Powell at the Dinner, and commended the scout's for their year's achievement.

Benning Ends Tests On Copter Jumping

The feasibility of parachute jumps from the B-19 bomber has been established through a series of tests conducted here by the Infantry School's Airborne-Air Mobility Department.

The experiments, concluded this month, were under the direction of Capt. Joseph E. Collins, who is in command of the operation's complete success.

The project was given to the post department after preliminary investigation by military officials, who are members of the Airborne-Electronic Board at Ft. Bragg, N. C., at the Infantry School.

With the feasibility of the operation proven on paper, it is now expected where jumps are imperative to land personnel with a minimum of noise.

Concert Slates 2 Great Works

Next Tuesday evening at the Main Post Library the record concert will feature two great works by Beethoven and Mozart.

The concert is probably the best known of the composer's orchestral work and the symphony is an interesting composition in spirit, beautifully formed and effortlessly lyrical.

3d Division GI Familiar With World of Theatre

"Scene one, take one," is a familiar phrase to Pvt. Gilbert Gulbransen, a trainee with Battery "B", 10th and FA Bn. Pvt. Gulbransen, a native of Brooklyn, N. Y., is a professional actor by trade, and can be considered a "triple threat" appearing on stage, screen and TV.

Gulbransen, 24-years-old, attended Ft. Hamilton High School in Brooklyn, Upper graduating he enrolled in Long Island University, where he became familiar with the theatrical arts, majoring in theatre and speech.

He received his degree from L.I.U. in 1955. Feeling the need to further advance his knowledge of the theatre, he entered the School of Radio Technology in New York City, where he studied Radio and Television production.

To improve his acting ability he joined the famed Herbert Berghoff Studio and became familiar with the "naturalistic" school of acting.

Pvt. Gulbransen received his first break in 1951 when he entered summer stock. Up to the period of his induction into the Army, Gulbransen had the job of stage manager, actor and director for the past five summer stock seasons.

With the summer theatre as a stepping stone, Gulbransen was able to reach more important roles in the mediums of television and the screen.

As a television actor he has appeared on Omnibus, good-bye Playhouse, the K r a f l Theatre, the Red Skelton Show, Look Up and Live, and Walter Winchell.

As for his work on the "Silver Screen", Gulbransen has a part in the movie, "Face in the Crowd" directed by notable award winner Ellis Kazan, and will appear in "The Sweet Smell of Success" with Burt Lancaster, and Tony Curtis, which is soon to be released. Besides performing with the above named stars he has appeared with Dagmar, Jerry Colonna, Arthur Treacher, Al Smith, Victor Jory, Andy Griffith, Pat Neal, and Zachary Scott.

Major Gen. Nisret Aytek, commander of the Anti-Aircraft Artillery Division Command of the Turkish Army Ground Force Command, visited Benning Feb. 7 to 9 for a briefing on Infantry School operations.

He talked with Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell and Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cole and was honored at an official luncheon Feb. 8 in the Main Officers' Mess.

Gen. Aytek was oriented by officials of The Infantry School's Automatic and Communications Departments and toured the Main Post Weapons Pool. The Allied visitor also viewed demonstrations of an 81-mm mortar platoon conduct of fire and platoons of a heavy weapons company in attack.

Cap. Clarence T. Hewitt, assigned to the Infantry School's Airborne - Army Aviation Department, is the project officer.

City Boys Visit Post As Guests of OC Unit

BY OC CHARLES MCCLAIN
PFO, 52D CO.

In observance of National Brotherhood Week, members of the 52d Co., 5th Student Bn., TSB, played host to more than 50 members of the Columbus Boys' Club at a field day, and later in the company area.

This occasion marked the first time that an officer candidate company has taken part in such an activity.

The boys, as special guests of the OC's, were honored visitors at the field day event and later took a tour of the billeting hall dinner in the unit mess hall, and as a climax to the day, saw a movie in the day room. All the boys were made honorary members of the officer candidate company.

Highlight of the afternoon came when members of the unit presented the Boys' Club with baseball equipment for the coming season. Money to purchase the equipment was donated by the OC's.

1st Lt. Benjamin F. Sharp, Jr., senior tactical officer, made the presentation to the Club in behalf of the company. Mr. Jeff Garrett, director of the Boys' Club, was on hand for the festivities. Other distinguished guests at the field day event included Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cole, assistant commander of the Infantry School; Col. Earl F. Sittcock, commanding officer, TSB; and Lt. Col. Carl W. Nelson, commanding officer, 5th Student Bn.

Each boy was entertained throughout the day by a candidate who acted as his special "Big Brother".

Signing Wife's Allotment Check Is Criminal Act

If an entitled man signs his wife's name to a Class "Q" Allotment check and cashes it, he can be punished under the Code of Military Justice with a dishonorable discharge, forfeiture of all pay and allowances, and confinement at hard labor for ten years.

Post officials have announced that there have been several instances of this happening, and have reemphasized that it is a criminal act to do so.

Congress, in establishing Class "Q" Allotments, intended that the checks would be used only for the support of the entitled man's dependents. The law, and Army Regulations make it almost impossible for the person who makes the allotment to receive the checks payable to himself, officials stated.

The reason behind this is that the dependent is entitled to be supported, and another person's name to a check which he had stolen.

Class Attended by Commandant Of Philippine Infantry School

The commandant of the Philippine Army Infantry School and author of the only known complete military history of the Philippines, is currently attending The Infantry School.

Lt. Col. Odisario S. Baloglan is a student in associate officers' advanced class No. 1. Col. Baloglan was graduated from the Philippine Military Academy in 1940, and has had many interesting assignments which have brought him to the U. S. three times. During World War II, he was commander of a Philippine guerrilla regiment in the defense and liberation of his native islands, and G-2 of the First Military Area, Philippine Army.

Came to U. S. in 1954. In 1954 he came to the states for the first time to attend The Infantry School. Upon completion of the course, he returned to the Philippines and served as deputy chief of public affairs for the Philippine Army. He served in that capacity until 1956, when he returned here for an observation tour in preparation for his job as commandant of the Philippine Infantry School.

The school, located at Ft. William McKinley just outside Manila, is a small scale model of the one here. Col. Baloglan reports that they teach the same subjects there on a much more modest scale.

In 1947 Col. Baloglan, already a free lance writer who had had articles published in Manila newspapers and magazines, let his hobby take up all of his off-duty hours. After three years of intensive study and vigorous writing he presented The Philippine Campaigns to the publisher. The book is now used as a text book at the Philippine Military Academy and by ROTC units.

First Military History Col. Baloglan said, "Until that time nobody had undertaken the task of compiling a history of all the military campaigns in the Philippines. There was no compilation and history as in my hobby, so I wrote a book which I felt was needed. The colonel, whose wife and three children live at Ft. William McKinley, hopes his two sons will decide to follow a military career.

LT. COL. BALOGLAN

. . . Soldier and Author on the military service in that it gives one a chance to display his physical and moral courage. More than the ordinary civilian, a military man has the opportunity to show devotion to his country," Col. Baloglan said.

GOOD SHOOTING . . . SFC William O'Brien, of the 3d Inf. Bn., is presented the Bronze Medal of the National Board for promotion of Rifle Practice by Lt. Col. McLean Hampton, battalion commander. ## A Student Here Now

Shelby Cited Twice With DSC

By Major Clark Blackburn

A two-time winner of the Distinguished Service Cross, the nation's second highest award for heroism, is currently a student officer here.

Captain John D. Shelby, who is attending the Associate Advanced Course No. 4, is a member of the 5th Co., 1st Student Bn., 75d.

CAPT. SHELBY

. . . Holds 2 DSC's

extraordinary heroism in an attack upon a nearby town.

His citation reads that, on July 11, 1943, during the course of a savage counterattack by some 20 enemy tanks and infantry to drive through, 1st Lt. Shelby, with complete disregard for his personal safety, moved to an observation post in advance of his battalion.

Though subjected to intense artillery and small arms fire in his vulnerable position, he laid the fire of his mortar platoon on the enemy infantry with such devastating effect that their attacks were discouraged.

Though subjected to fierce tank fire he continued to call for his own fire until the shells from his own guns were falling within 150 yards of his position.

World's Quik Fighting He remained at his own post until it was physically overruled by the enemy armor. Escaping injury, he returned to his own unit and continued the fight until the enemy withdrew with heavy losses.

Capt. Shelby's second DSC was won in France, Landing with the initial assault waves, he immediately organized five men into an assault team and completely disregarding his own safety, led them in a 200 yard dash through devastating enemy fire and across a mine field to attack an anti-tank crew in a hand to hand battle, killing one man and taking six prisoners.

Leaving the defense of the gun and position to his men, he then took command of a group of troops who were advancing leadership up the hill and personally led them to the capture of a nearby town.

On the occasion of WW II, Captain Shelby commanded Co. B, 16th Inf. Reg. 1st Inf. Div. Other medals he holds include one Silver Star, two Bronze Stars, and one Purple Heart.

Shelby returned to civilian life after the war, and entered the business world as a saloon keeper and beer salesman in Chicago, Ill. He was recalled to active duty in May of '51 as a captain, and was assigned to the division faculty of the 5th Armored Div. at Camp Roberts, Calif. The Captain was redesignated to the 10th Inf. Regt. in Germany in '52, and in January of '57 was back with the "Big Red One" in the 6th G. A. Section.

Asked his future plans, he says, "upon completion of my course of study here at Fort Benning, I am to go to Korea for assignments there. I am making the Army my career, and hope to get an RA commission."

RECEIVE INSTRUCTION Officers and enlisted personnel of the 51st Chemical Co. (Smoke Generator), from Ft. McClellan, Ala., paid a three day visit to the post last week. The two officers and seven non-commissioned officers observed operations of the Infantry School in preparation for their unit's garrisoning to Karlsruhe, Germany, this summer, officials said.

Vietnam Class Graduates

The Republic of Vietnam has developed a military force capable of repulsing any attempt by the Communists to invade south of the 17th parallel, Major Gen. Earl G. Bergquist, deputy chief of the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group in Vietnam last year, told a post audience Feb. 20.

"The importance of the Republic of Vietnam in Southeast Asia," was discussed by the commander of the Infantry Training Center, Ft. Dix, N. J., Allied associate officers' advanced class No. 1.

Lt. Col. Nguyen-Ngoc Khoi of Washington, D. C., Vietnam Armed Forces attached to the U. S., also addressed the graduating class, which is composed of 46 Vietnamese Army officers. The speakers were introduced by Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell.

Former Assistant 3-Div CG, Gen. Bergquist was assistant commander of the 3d Inf. Div. from August, 1954, until going to Vietnam last February.

"Vietnam's determination to maintain an independent government has established your country as an important one in the eyes of all other freedom-loving nations.

You have demonstrated that you do not wish to come under Communist domination. Your government, founded on the principles of freedom, will not tolerate any system which will destroy these," Gen. Bergquist said.

He pointed out that Vietnam is a cultural and geographic center and possesses great physical and military potentials.

Saigon A Crossroads
 "Saigon is truly the crossroads of the area and influences commerce in all directions," Gen. Bergquist noted that most of the members of the class participated actively in

Officer Flies Mission for AF

Capt. Glen W. Jones, commanding officer of the 37th Med. Detachment, recently accompanied an Air Force pilot from Robbins Air Force Base, Georgia, to Obsted Air Force Base in Pennsylvania where they picked up an H-19 helicopter and ferried it back to Robbins.

Three enlisted men of Hq. and Hq. Detachment, LAAPC, received promotions last week. Bennie R. Garrett was promoted to specialist third class, and Thomas H. Harrison and Allan J. Rehder were promoted to private first class.

Hq. and Hq. Detachment of the 1st Aviation Co. received their first stripe Feb. 18. The new PFC is assigned as a driver for the unit. The 1st Aviation Co. also received a new executive officer with the assignment of Capt. William J. Cleveland. The captain replaces Maj. James Woods, who was reassigned to the 151st Engineer Group. Cleveland served in the unit as a fixed wing platoon leader before taking up his present duties.

Hq. and Hq. Detachment of the 1st Aviation Co. received seven new members this week. Sgt. Lawrence J. McGee was assigned from Co. 1, 29th Inf. Regt., Pzvt. Robert M. Barrett and James H. Hussey, and PFC James Capt. William J. Cleveland. The captain replaces Maj. James Woods, who was reassigned to the 151st Engineer Group. Cleveland served in the unit as a fixed wing platoon leader before taking up his present duties.

Four officers of the 1st Aviation Co. recently graduated from the Instrument course conducted by Lawson Army Airfield Command. They were Capt. Albert Knight, 1st Lt.

SP2 Donald A. Grescoe recently joined the 1st Aviation Co.

TSB HONORS . . . PFC Roger L. Baxley, left, assigned to the 44th Co., 4th Student Bn., TSB, received the unit's Soldier of the Month Plaque. PFC Baxley is from Cartledge, N. C.

Command Gets New NCO

SFC Douglas Smith reported for duty with the Infantry Board Feb. 18 and was assigned to the Shop Platoon as an Ordnance arm's repairman. SFC Smith recently completed a four-year tour in the Far East, where he was assigned to the Tokyo Ordnance Depot.

Smith joined the Army in 1940, serving in the European Theatre during World War II where he earned a Combat Infantry Badge and was awarded the Purple Heart.

tar Dept.; Glenn W. Olson, of Doer River, Minn., Rocket and Recoilless Dept.; Richard E. Olson of Eau Claire, Wis., Rocket and Recoilless Dept., Edward H. Osterloh Jr., Field of Hot Springs, Ark., Field Equipment and Special Projects Dept.; and James E. Swisher, of Rittman, Ohio, Rocket and Recoilless Dept.

The Infantry Board bid farewell to a couple of short-timers this week when PFCs Oscar W. Ehrman and Gilbert J. Mroz traded their OD's for civies. The pair joined the Board in December 1955 as RFA trainees and have now finished their six-month tour of active duty training.

The Board welcomed nine other new members this week, fresh from basic training with Co. H, 66th Inf. Regt., Ft. Carson, Colo.

The new arrivals and their assignments are: PFCs Oliver G. Jones, of Church Hill, Tenn., Rocket and Recoilless Dept.; Wayne A. Koch, of West Salem, Ohio, Rocket and Recoilless Dept.; Raymond D. McDonald of Martha, Tenn., Mortar Dept.; Theodore J. Munoz, of Brown, Calif., Field Equipment and Special Projects Dept.; Arden M. Munoz, of Portland, Ore., Mortar Dept.

Major Edward A. Carrigo Jr., returned from the four weeks of Arctic Instructional School at Ft. Greely, Alaska Feb. 28. While attending the course he was awarded a certificate for completing a hundred mile cross country ski trip. Major Carrigo's only comment was "It's cold up there."

Several Men Reassigned

BY PVT. DICK SPENCER
Enthusiasm is running high at Hq. & Hq. Co. as the company basketball team, under the guidance of M-Sgt. Norman Mikkelsen, continues to extend its winning streak. The cagers have won twelve games.

The personnel at Hq. & Hq. Co. have been faithful in their support of both the company and regimental teams.

SFC John P. Leonard has returned to the unit and will assume duties as first cook. Pvt. Donald E. Walchouse, star on the Commander's basketball team, has joined Hq. & Hq. Co. and will be the mailman.

George L. Allison, company armorer, was promoted to sergeant last week.

1ST BN: The Honor Guard greeted General Fremont, commander of the Southern NATO Armed Forces, with full honors at Lawson Field last Monday. They also performed at the departure ceremony for the visiting dignitary.

PFC Kenneth Ferguson was transferred to Hq. & Hq. Co., 29th RCT, last week. Col. Angel Hernandez was promoted to sergeant last Tuesday. Pvt. William Bennett and PFC William R. Pace were assigned from the 56th Tank Co. to Co. A.

Pvt. Willie Glenn was assigned from the USAIC to Co. D, PFC Rodero Cruz Restes and PFC Fernando Diaz-Torres received their specialist eagles last week.

Sgt. John D. Worthy of Co. A was promoted to the grade of sergeant first class. SP3 Warren J. Galloway was promoted to specialist second class last Tuesday.

1st Lt. Walter D. Turner has assumed command of Co. A, 29th RCT, SP3 Jonathan Harris

SPOKE TO STUDENTS
Lt. Col. Jesse D. Willoughby, of the Plans and Projects Division, DA Legislative Liaison Office, spoke on "Congressional Relations" here Feb. 26. Col. Willoughby spoke to approximately 700 students of officers advanced and associate officers advanced classes at 3:15 p.m. in the Main Theater.

BEST COOK... Pvt. King Clement was honor graduate of cooking class No. 23 at the Third Army Food Service School which graduates Feb. 15. Pvt. Clement, whose father is a chef, plans a career as a chef when his tour of duty is completed. He will return to his unit, Trans and Supply Co., Support Command, 3rd Div.

TOP STUDENT... WAC Pvt. Jacqueline E. Daughtrey was chosen honor graduate of cooking class No. 24, which was graduated from the 3rd Army Food Service School Feb. 21. Pvt. Daughtrey has been assigned to the WAC Detachment at Ft. Monroe, Va.

EM Can Reenlist For 3d Army Area

Under the provisions of AR 60-215, personnel can now reenlist for existing vacancies within the Third Army area. Application for these options must be submitted at least 30 days prior to the date on which a person expects to re-enlist.

Applicants may list three points of their choosing, in the order of preference. For additional information contact either your unit re-enlistment NCO or inquire at the Post Re-enlistment Office, which is located in the second courtel, phone 3-212.

54th Med. Gp.

Unit Loses Five Members

The 54th Evac Hosp. reports that two of their men have received orders for Transfer Point to be separated. They are Sgt. John Roscoe, and Sgt. James E. Blair, who will remain in Georgia as the executive director of this year's Cerebral Palsy Drive, and SP3 James Kestinger, who will return to his home in Maryland.

From the same unit we learn that Sgt. Donald Morris is departing for Ft. Lewis, Wash., and further assignment to the Far East. SP3 Bertel Bender and PFC Fernando Guadalupe are leaving for Ft. Dix, N. J., for assignment to Iceland.

The 50th Med. Co. extends a welcome to several newcomers. Pvt. Robert Imbrovizio recently joined the unit. He is 21-year-old from Baltimore, Md., attended the University of Maryland where he graduated as a pharmacist.

SP3 Chester Babineau is another new arrival. He is 23 and comes from Chicaburg, Mass. A graduate of Massachusetts College of Pharmacy he is also a registered pharmacist.

The 58th Med. Co. has welcomed back SFC. Freddie Thorson, who has been attending Dental Technicians school at Ft. Sam Houston, Tex.

The ringing of the pugilist's bell has rung for the last time for PFC Dale Burgett of the 52d Med. Co. For the past several weeks he has been on TDY with Co. B, 1st Special Troops Bn, while participating in the battle for the Alabama Golden Gloves championship in Montgomery.

"Killer" Burgett's only statement on returning from the boots was "Somebody up there hates me."

M-Sgt. Guy Byland, also of

The 54th Med. Co., completed their school recently. Several men from this same unit have received overseas orders. Sgts. James Johnson, and Howard Melchers, SP3 Floyd Riberson and SP3 John Kidd have all received orders for the Far East Command. Sgt. James Martin has gone to the land of beautiful women and red wine—Italy.

Sgt. Earl Easton has reenlisted for another six years.

Down in the 551st Med. Co. it is announced that they are in full swing with softball and ping pong tournaments. They are keeping the winners advancing toward the top of their day room lists to decide who will enter the 54th Med. Group championships, play-offs in both these activities.

Thanks to the aid of some priceless imported interior decorating advice, the 551st Med. Co.'s day room has become quite "homey". There is potted plants on the mantel, the fireplace rugs on the floor, a bouquet of flowers for every card table and reading table, the chairs, some nice white doilies. If you really get home sick, stop in for a restful cure.

BREEFS OFFICERS

Frontier Antics Slated March 2 With Army Daughters' Party

BY MILICENT SCUDDER

Rolling frontier antics will set the theme for the Army Daughters' "Meer Party," to be held in the Main Officers' Mess, March 2.

The students will play for the charity event, which will be staged from 8 p.m. to 2 a.m. Floorshows are planned for 10 p.m. and midnight and spot variety acts will be given throughout the evening. Prizes for the best and funniest costumes will be awarded following the first show.

Major Gen. and Mrs. Herbert B. Powell, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. James V. Thompson, Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Robert L. Cook and Brig. Gen. and Mrs. Frederick R. Zerkus have been invited to direct the costumes. The "Silver Dollar Saloon," "Mill Long Bar" and "Wheel of Fortune" will add to the forty-niner atmosphere. Assistant Lt. Col. and Mrs. John D. Coney in directing the arrangements for the gala evening.

Activities Club, Children's Schools and Post Welfare Nurses. Admission 50 cents per person. Guests are reminded to bring their Officers' Mess membership, dependent or guest cards. More than 200 persons have reserved their time and talents to insure the success of the "Meer" affair. Professional dancers and musicians are in charge of the cancan line. Mrs. Lester L. Wheeler and Mrs. Charles P. Leonard are in charge of the decorations for the gala evening.

Capt. and Mrs. Walter Root head the decorations committee. They are assisted by Capt. and Mrs. E. C. Moyer, Major and Mrs. Ochs, Mrs. Charles E. Davis and Mrs. W. A. Johnson.

Menus for Sale Lt. Col. Lawrence L. Larsen will operate the polaroid camera booth. At the JADA Booth, members of Junior Army Daughters will offer wares they have made during the year, including aprons, mugs and coasters. The White Elephant Booth will stock such items as an antique bird cage, collection of sea shells, crystal candelabra, pictures and miscellany.

Major Dan Osborne has resigned as sheriff to devote his full attention to entertainment at the event. Capt. George E. Yoster Jr. has assumed the duties of keeping the peace. Honorary Marching Band will assist him.

A dinner dance was given by the School Brigade's 4th Bn. in the Sheet Club Feb. 26. Among the 4th guests were Col. Earl F. Kluck, TSB commander, and Mrs. Kluck; Col. Max F. Schneider, deputy commander of the Brigade, and Mrs. Schneider; Lt. Col. James H. Cruckshank, 4th Bn. commander, and Mrs. Cruckshank; and Chaplain (Capt.) F. W. Wallace, Brigade chaplain.

Awards Baby Cups Col. Cruckshank awarded silver baby cups to Capt. and Mrs. Charles Fleming and Lt. and Mrs. James Blaine, Capt. Clifton DeVoe, who is retiring after 29 years' service.

At the 27th Annual Fete Approximately 275 guests attended the affair, which was under the direction of Lt. Col. Waldron W. Winter, chairman of the Weapons Department's Mortar Committee.

In the receiving line were the honorees, Lt. Col. and Mrs. B. Porter Jr. and Col. and Mrs. Winter.

A George Washington's Birthday luncheon was given by officers' wives of the Infantry Co. SOCIETY, Feb. 28.

DivArty Cops Regimental Crown

BANARD TO THE RESCUE . . . John Banard, center for the 29th RCT cagers, moves in to find out who has the ball in a pile up in last week's championship game of the Post cage crown at Briant Wells Field House. DivArty's Bill Runge seems to have the upper hand on the floor while the Commanders Bob Festa hugs the floor. There's another player sandwiched in between the twosome who seems to be taking the real beating!

Bill Hannan's 23 Points Gives Redlegs Easy Win

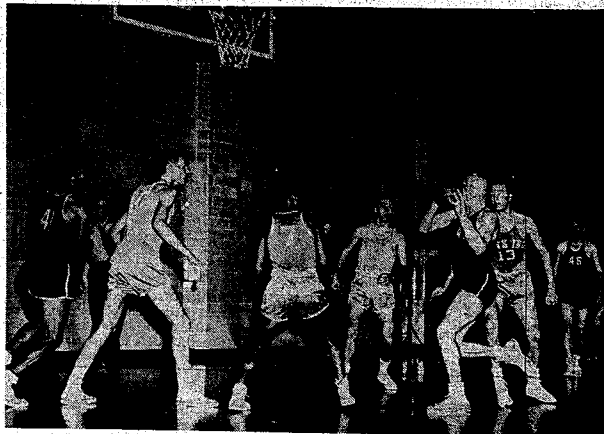

BY TOM WIERZBICKI

Third Division DivArty Redlegs won the Ft. Benning Regimental Basketball Championship Feb. 22 at Briant Wells Field House, handily defeating the 29th RCT quintet, 61-58.

Displaying a beautiful fast break, the Redlegs all ran the Commanders off the hardwood in the final game of a double elimination tourney which decided the Post cage champions.

Mere to Early Lead
The Redlegs started fast, moving out to a 10-4 lead on three quick baskets on fast breaks by speedy guards Don Close and George Davis.

With DivArty's Bill Runge controlling the backboards, the Redlegs increased their lead to a lopsided 28-8 score with five minutes remaining. Here DivArty's potent weapon, the fast break, paid off again at three quick baskets

RUNGE COMING THRU . . . DivArty's Bill Runge finds a host of 29th RCT players in his path as he attempts to score for the Third Division DivArty Redlegs in a game last Friday which decided the Post Regimental cage championship. Runge didn't score on this particular for the Commanders with 40 seconds to go, making 11 of 19 shots 69-58. A final basket by Sid Hall was not enough for the Brigaders as time ran out.

Four men hit double figures in the scoring column for the Commanders. Banard and Elders tied with 16, with the latter scoring 12 of his on charity tosses. Player-coach Fred Beverly and Don Whitehouse clipped in 10 apiece. High scorer for the evening was Sawchik, who managed to collect 21 points, nine baskets remaining on straight tallies to move the Redlegs out in front 63-54, with five minutes remaining.

Lead Narrowed
A driving layup by Joe Smith along with a free throw by Leon Holman, pushed the score to 66-56, before guard Frank Lee countered on a fast break play, but he did contribute 17 points as the Redlegs defeated the Commanders 61-58 to cop the crown. Other players in the photo include left to right, Bill Hannan (41), Fred Beverly (10), Oliver Elders (7), Bobby Festa (11), John Banard (13) and George Davis (45).

Clinic Slated For Umpires

The Post Sports Office has along with practical work and a written test, will comprise the agenda for the three-week clinic.

The clinic will be conducted by Capt. George E. Hutchings, M.Sgt. William T. Nixon and SFC Thomas E. Newby.

Primary purpose of the umpires' school is to instruct potential umpires for the Post Regimental Baseball League scheduled to get under way April 20.

Two of the three instructors are former graduates of George Barr's Umpire School in Florida.

Rules and interpretation, the food service staff.

WHERE'D THEY GO . . . DivArty's Bill Hannan looks for help to pass the ball off as Frank Lee, center, and Oliver Elders, right, of the Redlegs, helped DivArty to win the Regimental cage crown dropping the 29th, 61-58.

TOM WIERZBICKI Big League 'Push' West Has Begun

The recent purchase of the Los Angeles Baseball club, franchise and park by the Brooklyn Dodgers from the Chicago Cubs can be interpreted as only one way "westward ho, the major leagues go".

Definitely — The Dodgers will play no more baseball in Ebbets field when their lease on the Brooklyn park expires after the 1959 season. At least that is what President Walter O'Malley at the moment insists.

Probably — Los Angeles will have major league baseball, but not necessarily the Dodgers, by 1960.

Clarifying these two interpretations of the recent purchase we find Dodger President Walter O'Malley saying, "I'm not bluffing and I'm not holding this as a club over the head of Brooklyn's city fathers, either. We will play a full schedule of games in 1960 somewhere other than Ebbets field. Where it will be depends upon what happens soon."

POSSIBLY A PRODDING MEASURE
Many baseball observers feel that O'Malley is using the purchase of the Los Angeles franchise as a prodding measure against Brooklyn city officials, who have been slow in getting around to a proposed multi-million-dollar stadium for the club. But, a recent statement by Phil Wrigley, owner of the Chicago Cubs did not jive with this observation: "I would not agree to this deal unless I was confident it would bring big league baseball to Los Angeles."

Obviously, there is no other way to interpret this recent purchase. But what most people overlook is that the start of something like this is one thing. The culmination will be quite another.

There are two major obstacles to overcome. (1) Where will the club play in Los Angeles? (2) And will the seven clubs in the east be called upon to move to play in Los Angeles only and immediately head back home?

Located in a standard area, Wrigley field in Los Angeles is a modern little park. It seats 25,000 and could be enlarged, although only with difficulty, to seat 60,000 which would do. But Wrigley field has no parking facilities at all. The auto in LA is almost the sole means of convenient transportation. There must be extensive parking.

TWO CITIES, NOT ONE
The second obstacle stacks up as even a bigger problem. Baseball men feel that the most feasible way of opening up the west coast to major league baseball would be to operate two clubs, Los Angeles and San Francisco are the most logical sites.

However, the Boston Red Sox of the American league control the San Francisco franchise. They could be kicked out probably, but they would certainly fight it—the whole American league would fight it.

How does the west coast feel about talk of major league baseball being played there? The people, of course, will welcome it with open arms, but a consensus of present club owners polled of the Pacific Coast league finds that a major league team in Los Angeles would put their league out of business.

OPPOSES MAJOR LEAGUE TEAM
President Fred David of Sacramento declared: "If the Dodgers are buying the Los Angeles franchise to play an open classification team in Los Angeles, that's one thing. But if they plan to move to Los Angeles, we'll oppose it."

In Los Angeles, Kenneth Hamm, a member of the county board of supervisors and long league in effort to bring major league baseball there, said: "I am assured that the Dodgers will be here within a year or two at the most." He declined to say where this assurance came from.

So a start westward has been made all right, and Brooklyn holds a highly favored position. How long the trek will really take before big league baseball gets there is anybody's guess. The way over the continental divide was a hard one; for those who once drove over the trails. It's going to be just as hard for the baseball pioneers.

AAMU Pistol Squad to Leave Tomorrow for Florida Matches

to the U. S. Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit at Ft. Benning Feb. 1. Since that time, the squad has been trimmed to 20 fliers, comprising five four-man squads.

This group of select shooters will join forces with four coaches and three additional fliers for the matches. Officials of the squad have announced that the squad is expected to be a definite threat for both the individual and team titles at the Mid-Winter and Flamingo Matches.

Hearing the Army endorsement is Lt. Col. William A. Hancock, U. S. Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit, who will set as both the team's captain and head coach.

Aiding Col. Hancock will be Major Harrison Holland, Provost Marshal, Section of Ft. Gordon, Ga., who will be assistant team captain and instructor. Frank B. Graham, U. S. Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit, assistant head coach, and Col. Hancock and Sgt. Graham will enter the individual competition.

Former pistol champion, M.Sgt. Euel L. (Doc) Bonner of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, where he is coach of the Army Cadet Pistol Team, will have another hand this year to raise the caliber of the Army squad.

Sgt. Bonner, the major of last year's U. S. Olympic Pistol Team, is the defending champion of the Flamingo Open and a six-time winner of the Mid-Winter Championships.

With Sgt. Bonner as anchor man, the Army squad offers another pair of ranking pistol shooters who could easily take either of the two 2700 aggregate matches. These shooters are Major Charles C. Curtis of U. S. Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit, and Lt. Dan W. Miller of Ft. Benning, Ga., USAAMU.

Team officials have announced that several of the team members have three high aggregate scores during the week of practice beginning Feb. 4. Miller and Bonner are the most likely to place in the match.

Capt. Lawrence E. Eberkirk will set as team captain and officer-in-charge of the team. He will accompany the squad to both the matches.

Heading the shooters for the squad will be Capt. James O. Duke, assistant team captain, 2nd Airborne Division at Ft. Bragg, N.C. Major Leonard R. Robinson, Headquarters, Special Troops Command and Sgt. John H. Lingle of Fortson, Ga., 2nd Airborne Division.

Major Curtis and the Army's only two-time winner of the National Individual Pistol Trophy Championship while Lt. Miller, winner of the recent Ft. Benning Rifle and Pistol Club Championship Match, took second place in the National Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio, last year breaking the coveted 2000 mark. In last year's Flamingo Open, Lt. Miller was second to Sgt. Bonner's pistol.

of 4,000 watched as Ft. Campbell fighters dominated the final night's action, pounding out three first round knock-outs, three unanimous and one split decision. Only one Campbell finalist lost.

It was the first Third Army team victory in the history of the state-line post.

Four KO's, one split decision and five unanimous decisions were scored during the evening. There were no TKOs.

Increased Lead

Ft. Campbell went into the finals with a four-point lead over defending champion, Ft. Benning and extended that lead to 10 points. Campbell finished with 31 points; Ft. Benning was second with 15; Ft. Bragg (N. C.) placed third with 10; Ft. Jackson (S. C.) 4; and Ft. Stewart (Ga.) 1.

Ft. Campbell's flyweight Willie Barnes, finished the shortest bout of the tournament, knocking out Jim Adams of Ft. Benning in 38.0 seconds of the first round. It was Barnes' second KO of the tournament. He dropped Bill Stewart of Ft. Bragg in the second round of their semifinal go.

Lightweight Dave Harris of Campbell faced Benning's Jerry Owens and cut him down with driving, trip - hammer blows early in the round. The game Owens got back to his feet, but southpaw Harris connected with a dynamite-laden left hand and put him down an out in 2:29 of the first round.

Campbell's light - middleweight, Joel "Whip" Wilson, scored his second 1st round victory of the tournament.

"Whip," who went into the fight with a slightly injured right hand, jarred Lamar Hayes of Ft. Jackson with a left hook and dropped him for an eight-count with his right. Hayes got back on his feet and Wilson pressed the attack, forced Hayes into a corner, and knocked him with a flurry of blows to the head in 2:18 of the first round.

Ft. Bragg's only KO was in the heavyweight division, Allen Hudson outreached and outslugged Harold Gentry and dropped him with a smashing right in 2:07 second of the 2nd round.

FINAL RESULTS

Flyweight - Willie Barnes (Campbell) KO'd Jim Adams (Benning) in 38.0 seconds of the first round.

Lightweight - Dave Harris (Campbell) KO'd Lamar Hayes (Jackson) in 2:29 of the first round.

Middleweight - Joel "Whip" Wilson (Campbell) KO'd Jerry Owens (Benning) in 2:07 of the first round.

Welterweight - Guillermo Lanzo (Campbell) KO'd Jim Dixon (Benning) in 2:07 of the first round.

Light Heavyweight - Jim Matthews (Campbell) KO'd Bob Williams (Benning) in 2:29 of the first round.

Heavyweight - Allen Hudson (Bragg) KO'd Harold Gentry (Benning) in 2:07 of the second round.

ACHING OWENS . . . Dave Harris, Ft. Campbell's outstanding boxer, stands over Jerry Owens of Ft. Benning after dropping him with a series of trip-hammer blows early in the first round. Owens got up after an eight-count, and Harris connected with a dynamite-loaded left that scored a knock-out in 2:29 of the first round to gain the 3rd Army lightweight title. Ft. Campbell swept seven of the final bouts for a smashing team victory. Three of the Campbell wins were by first round knock-outs.

Cage Squad Selected For 3d Army Tourney

A 15-man Ft. Benning basketball squad began workouts this week for the Third Army basketball tournament slated for March 4-9, at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

Six of the 10 berths are filled with players from the Third Division's Divarty which topped the post Regimental Cage crown last week. They are Bill Runge, Don "Dodie" Lomie Jackson, James Atkins, Bill Hanan and Lloyd Black.

The other four berths have been filled by Oliver Eiders, 29th RCT; Leslie Robertson, Support Command; and John Banard and Fred Byerly, 20th RCT. These players were selected by Special Services Officer Lt. Col. Kenneth A. Grimes and 1st Lt. George Davis, Divarty coach. Davis will also coach the team.

Banard and Byerly were added to the team after it was found that the original choices, Lou Sawchik and Tom Flynn of The School Brigade, were not able to compete due to other commitments.

JERRY ARMSTRONG Gobblers Bagged By Post Soldiers

Col. Henry B. Kuniz, president of the Post Fish and Game Association, really had a big turkey hunt last Saturday.

Using his turkey call with expert skill, Col. Wheeler called out and partner, Col. Kuniz, killed two of the largest tom gobblers bagged during the 1956-57 season in less than three hours.

The largest bird tipped the scales at 23 pounds while the other weighed a hefty 18 pounds. With a total bill of almost 40 pounds of turkey in a day's hunt, this probably was the top turkey hunt for Ft. Benning during the year.

The hunters got an early start Saturday morning and were both well settled in Col. Wheeler's blind off Red Diamond base caught on the reservation during the 1957 season. Capt. Salucci, (left) and Capt. Joseph Clemens, of the Infantry School Detachment display two of the largest black bass caught on the reservation during the 1957 season. Capt. Salucci is holding the 9 lb., 11 oz. bass which he hopes will be tops in the Fish and Game Association for bass landed during February. The other bass netted by Capt. Clemens weighed over six pounds.

Net Fleischer, the globe-trotting Editor-in-Chief of the world's official boxing magazine, "The Ring," has accepted an invitation to attend the All-Army Boxing Tournament scheduled for March 4-9 at Ft. Campbell.

To Attend All Army Meet

Mr. Fleischer, a world-renowned boxing authority, is the author of numerous books among them "The Joe Louis Story," "Battling Le Sullivan, Champion of Champions," "The Heavyweight Championship," "The Michigan Assassin," "Gentleman Jim," "Rocky Lesdy," "Black Demsey, Ideal of Pistians," and many instruction books on boxing and wrestling.

Army fighters from every major Army command in the world will participate in the All-Army bouts.

Youthful Olympic Cyclist 'Pedals' Way Thru Basic

A young man who "pedaled" his way to a bit of personal glory, Pvt. James J. Rossi, represented the United States as a cyclist in the 1956 Olympic games at Melbourne, Australia. Pvt. Rossi first became interested in the exciting sport of cycling at the age of 18. He entered his first race soon after that and had the distinction of finishing second to last; but that didn't stop Rossi, as he came back in 1955 to take the Illinois State Championship, and has had in the winners circle ever since. During 1952 and 1953 Rossi had been chosen as a member of the United States Cycling Team. Finished Fifth in Olympics.

RCT Hq. Co. Victor In Company Tourney

Spearheaded by the scoring and board controlling of Bill Strueng, Hq. & Hq. Co. of the 29th Inf. Regt. reign as Ft. Benning's company level basketball champions.

Undefeated until the finals, Coach Meekeisen's enthusiastic squad found a spunky 15th RCT outfit uneasy to back Monday afternoon in Briant Wells Field House, losing to the 15th in two overtime periods: 41-42.

In the nightcap, however, 15th performance under the boards and 17 points were more than enough, to topple the 15th 100, 54-36, and to win the title.

During the first game between Hq. & Hq. Co. and 15th, the latter team was behind two points with less than one minute remaining. Hq. & Hq. Co. attempting to freeze the ball, lost it to the aggressive opponents who immediately sped down court to deadlock the score at 38-38.

While the seconds were ticking away, Hq. & Hq. Co. played the clock out a split-second past to Billy May who shot and scored. The buzzer ended the regulation game.

Both teams scored twice in the first overtime; however, 15th RCT scored once in the second overtime period and held the champions scoreless. The scores of games played during the double elimination tourney are as follows:

15th RCT vs. Hq. & Hq. Co.	100-54
15th RCT vs. 29th Inf. Regt.	100-54

Elders Displays 'Magician' Style

BY SAM PROCOPIO
 Oliver Elders, 29th RCT's outstanding guard, determined many years ago that he must have mobility differential over his opponents to play the game of basketball successfully.

So while only a junior at Marshall High School in Chicago he began working out with the famous Harlem Globetrotters who practiced in a nearby gym.

This ambition to play dribble ball with added features—good shooting and an occasional impressive style of dribbling, came long before he had the opportunity to play ball with the Harlem Magicians, known as the Globetrotters "B" Team.

The Globetrotters are not just one team but three—Eastern, Western and Southern. The "B" Team, which is separate and privately owned, was originated by two former Trotters—Gosco Tatum and Marquis Haynes.

Taught Crowing

During his "cooling" sessions with the Trotters, Boyd Bouie, a one-armed sensation, took Elders aside to teach him the art of crowing performed by the team.

"He must have liked something about me, I guess," explained the 28th classy cager. "Anyway, he taught me everything."

The big opportunity didn't arrive, however, until Haynes approached him as a member of the Arkansas Mechanical & Electrical College basketball team. Haynes was looking for a team to play his Magicians and asked Elders to gather some top-notch players for a game. Elders did.

Elders' team lost, but he guarded Marquis Haynes so well and close that after the game Haynes told the talented guard he could have a job with the Magicians anytime.

"Actually," Elders commented, "I didn't think I was that good."

When he graduated with a Bachelor of Science in Physical Education in 1953, Elders began thinking of the future as a "down basketball player." He visited Haynes and became one of the selected "seven" of the team, which won 146 out of 160 games.

"I was made home-away-from-home in a new field of endeavor," Elders found the Magician easy going.

"They immediately tried to make me feel at home. If they hadn't done that, I would have made out," he said.

The most embarrassing situation came during my first contest. I lost the ball 15 to 20 times. The crowd laughed. But I don't know if it was the fact that I threw the ball away unintentionally. After three games I was working fine," he added.

Performing a Pleasure

"I like to perform for the people. To put them in the best of things. They don't want to see two teams run up and down the court. There's no technique. No nothing. However," Elders stated, "a performer should learn how to play the game before he learns to clown."

The youngest member of the Magician team at 22, Elders' career was almost short-lived.

An automobile accident 16 miles north of Pine Bluff, Ark., not only almost ended the life of Elders but four other members of the team—Junius Kellogg, Boyd Bouie, Lucius Williams and Norm Smith.

"I was asleep in the back seat behind the driver. Being related Elders," Boyd was passing a truck when a tire blew and the car turned over in the ditch. Everyone but me was tossed some 40 feet into the air. I was the only one to remain conscious."

Kellogg, a 69 stalwart, who was with the original Globetrotters at the time but the team was out of season, was the only one seriously injured. His neck was broken and spinal cord cut.

"Today," reminded Elders, "he's playing the game on a wheelchair."

"That accident was the closest that I ever came to seeing the other world," he seriously remarked.

A Modest Record

It takes a great deal to take Elders out of a game—even regulation-wise. He has yet to be fouled out of a game.

"The closest I've come to sitting the remainder of the game on the bench because of fouls was against DivArty here. I had four fouls called on me in the first half," he said.

"Practice makes perfect. And that's just what the Magicians do. Their sessions emphasize not shooting, but conditioning and ball handling."

"We start the sessions off with the 'S' series. It's a circle, with the ball around with speed and accuracy," Elders began to explain.

"Drills include a great deal of dribbling. To develop good endurance," Elders found the Magician easy going.

"They immediately tried to make me feel at home. If they hadn't done that, I would have made out," he said.

College sports were not slighted, however, for he won 12 letters in three sports: football, basketball and baseball, and captained his basketball team his senior year. He broke the Vermont collegiate high score mark in basketball—a record that still stands—and was on Collier's All-New England basketball team in '53 and '54. During his freshman year he received the outstanding award both as an athlete and student.

Upon graduation from college in '55 Dennis was drafted by the Chicago Cardinals as an end. He played in all the exhibition games, but then tore ligaments in an ankle and was out for the balance of the season. It was at this time that he was drafted by another professional team—Uncle Sam's Army, but not as an end.

Former Pro Grid Star Here in OC Training

BY MSGT CLARK BLANKENHORN

A former professional football player who also did medical research is an officer candidate here at Ft. Benning. He is OC Alfred D. Dennis, a student in the 50th Co., 1st Student BN, TSB.

A former end for the Chicago Cardinals, Dennis has a long record of sports' participation in the gridiron. His football career began in his home town high school in Summit, N. J., where he played right halfback and ran on the football team, forward on the basketball team, and ran the 100 and 200 yard dash, the half mile and the mile runs on the track team which he captained his senior year.

All-State Athlete

Dennis made the all state football and basketball teams, and set a state record in the mile run that still stands.

"Athletes in high school were not his sole accomplishments, however. He sang in the choir, played the French lute in the band, was a member of the National Honor Society, and represented New Jersey at a National Youth Conference held at the White House in Washington in 1950.

Dennis enrolled in Middlebury College, Middlebury, Vt. where he was granted a National Boys Club Scholarship amounting to $400.00 per year for four years.

His intentions were to study medicine but he became more interested in other phases of education. He did satisfy his ambition for medicine in that he did extensive medical research while in college.

College sports were not slighted, however, for he won 12 letters in three sports: football, basketball and baseball, and captained his basketball team his senior year. He broke the Vermont collegiate high score mark in basketball—a record that still stands—and was on Collier's All-New England basketball team in '53 and '54. During his freshman year he received the outstanding award both as an athlete and student.

Upon graduation from college in '55 Dennis was drafted by the Chicago Cardinals as an end. He played in all the exhibition games, but then tore ligaments in an ankle and was out for the balance of the season. It was at this time that he was drafted by another professional team—Uncle Sam's Army, but not as an end.

Played Service Ball

Dennis was sent to Ft. Dix where he played for the Rutgers, and made honorable mention for the All-Army team in scoring and yards gained. He also played forward on the basketball team.

Asked his plans for the future, Dennis says "My one big plan is to satisfactorily complete OCS, then go to Air Corps School, and then, then make the Army my career." He says he plans to stay in the Army because "I like outdoor life, plus the fact I am using my college education to a great extent. The Army has all my interests combined into one package—believe me!"

Income Tax Facts

Personal Deductions May Reduce Tax Bill

(This is one of a series of articles in the Bayonet on Federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

MORE When you are sure that your personal deductions are less than the 10 percent standard deduction, there is no need to itemize them. If it is worth the effort of calculating your tax on both forms, there are some deductions you should be careful not to overlook:

Interest on Loans The interest you pay on loans is deductible. This includes mortgages, automobile loans, home improvement loans or personal loans you may have. The part of carrying charges representing interest on installment purchases is deductible. Evidence such as a statement from the seller should be obtained to show the amount of interest you paid during the year.

State and Local Taxes Most taxes other than federal taxes are deductible. These include state and local real estate, personal property, income, retail sales and taxes, and in all but a few states, gasoline taxes. You can also deduct auto licenses and registration fees, but not dog or hunting licenses.

Charitable Contributions Another type of deduction you can take if you itemize your deductions is your contributions to any "religious, charitable, educational, scientific or literary" organizations. These contributions are deductible up to 30 percent of your income, and up to 30 percent if at least 10 percent of your income was paid as gifts to religious organizations, schools or hospitals.

In adding up your contributions, don't forget that gifts of property can be deducted at their fair market value as of the time they were donated. Suppose, for example, you contributed to your church a share of stock which had doubled in value while you had it. You can deduct, as a contribution, the full value of the stock at the time of the gift, even though you only paid half that much for it. At the same time you escape paying the tax on the capital gain which would have been realized if you had sold the stock instead of contributing it.

An individual is not permitted to deduct contributions which he has pledged but not paid during the tax year. Contributions of services are not deductible, and blood donations are construed as a service.

Teasantry An employee is permitted to deduct, in determining adjusted gross income, all his transportation expenses incurred in connection with his employer's business if they are not reimbursed. These include fares, automobile expenses, and (if in connection with overnight travel) meals and lodging. Other expenses paid in accordance with an employer's allowance arrangement with the employer may also be deducted on his purpose.

An employee's expenses other than those can only be deducted if the standard deduction or tax table is not used. The expense of commuting between home and place of work is not deductible at all. An "outside salesman" (one who usually works away from his employer's business) can deduct all business expenses arriving at adjusted gross income, just as if he were in business for himself. He can deduct the expenses connected with his employment (other than travel or reimbursed expenses) which he can claim them as miscellaneous deductions. Examples would be books, uniforms, union dues and employment agency fees.

Other miscellaneous deductions include the fee for preparation of your tax return, some alimony and a share of interest on a loan which is paid by a cooperative apartment corporation of which you are a tenant stockholder.

VISITS INFANTRY SCHOOL Col. Thomas M. Lerner, assistant commander of the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Md., was at Fort Benning recently for a three-day visit. He conferred with Brig. Gen. Robert Cook and Col. William H. Billings, assistant commander and deputy assistant commander of the Infantry School, and with the school's administrative staff.

KEEPING UP WITH THE NEWS... PFC Donald C. Flynn is shown maintaining the troop information display for Co. C, of the 3d Recon. Bn. As mail clerk and dayroom orderly for the unit, Flynn is charged with the responsibility for keeping the daily news posted on the board, keeping the men of Co. C informed on what goes on throughout the world.

The instruction book which you come with your tax forms suit a properly qualified adviser further information. Help is also available by telephone or at offices of the Internal Revenue Service. (Next Article: Medical Deductions & Widow Benefits.)

Lindquist Named New 3d Div. CG

Brig. Gen. Roy E. Lindquist will assume command of the 3rd Div. on March 15. He was announced this week by Lt. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey, commanding general, 3rd Army. General Lindquist succeeds Maj. Gen. George E. Lynch, who retired Feb. 28, after more than 27 years of Army service. The new 3d Div. commander has served in the 3rd Army area since May 29, 1956, first as deputy commanding general and assistant to the commanding general of the Infantry Center, and later as deputy director for Troop Test Jump Light, where since July 2, 1956 he has been on duty at Ft. Campbell, Mo., and Ft. Bragg, N. C.

General Lindquist is a native of Newton, Mass. He has been in the service since graduating from the United States Military Academy at West Point on June 12, 1930. The new assignment will be General Lindquist's 10th tour of duty at Ft. Benning.

He graduated from the Infantry School in 1934 after a tour in Hawaii with the 3d Inf. Regt. He returned to Benning in 1941, remaining here until 1941 and rising to the post of executive officer of the Provisional Parachute Group there.

He returned to Benning in 1943 as a member of the 302d Parachute Inf. Regt. After a three year tour in Europe with the 20th, he general returned to the post again in 1946 as assistant commander of the Airborne School.

The 1957 U. S. Army Infantry Center Photography Contest will continue through June 25 for Benning soldier and WAC camera enthusiasts. The purpose of this contest is to stimulate maximum interest in photography as an off-duty hobby and to encourage utilization of the Special Services photographic laboratories.

All military personnel on post who have active duty exceeding 90 days or more are eligible to compete in the contest. Entries in this contest will be displayed on a special board in the Special Services' building until the final judging of the winning pictures on June 25.

Winners of the post contest will be submitted to Ft. MePherson, Ga. for entry into the Third Army contest. Finalists there will be sent to the Dept. of the Army for the All-Army and then finally the winners will go into the worldwide Inter-Service Photography Contest to be held in December.

His Two Classes The competition will be divided into two classes, professional and amateur. The professional class will be for persons who have completed civilian or military formalized courses of training in photography, worked as or are now assigned as photographers or photographic technicians.

Persons who have previous military or civilian photography experience are not covered in the other class. Both the classes of the contest will be divided into three categories. First category—black and white single photographs. Second category—black and white picture stories. These will consist of not less than three and not more than seven black and white glossy pictures. Third category—color transparencies of 35-mm in size. Transparencies will be in cardboard mounts with plastic-type

Lt. Col. Sample Receives Infantry Center Citation

Lt. Col. Charles W. Sample has been awarded a U. S. Army Infantry Center Certificate of Achievement for "exceedingly meritorious service as deputy chief of staff of the Infantry Center from October, 1953 through February, 1957."

The citation read in part: "In an assignment requiring unusual tact, initiative and executive ability, Col. Sample distinguished himself by the outstanding manner in which he coordinated the efforts of the general and special sections and contributed to the amount and effective operation of the Detachment of the Defense Department."

His calm and cheerful manner, together with a genuine and enthusiastic desire to work with the staff, inspired the confidence and loyalty of his associates.

In addition, as president of the Parent-Teachers Association, Col. Sample made a major contribution to the welfare and happiness of the entire garrison by his conscientious and untiring execution of his "truicrural assignment."

A 1958 graduate of Davidson College, he later served as an instructor at the Infantry School. He served in North Africa in 1942. He later served as assistant, Ninth Division, in 1942 and 1943.

After a two-year tour as an instructor at The Infantry School, he was assigned to the U. S. Army in the Caribbean in 1945. He later served as assistant professor of military science and tactics at Davidson College.

In 1952-1954, he was with the U. S. Navy Amphibious Forces in Europe. He later served as director of the Ft. Benning Staff with Oak Leaf Cluster.

Post Donates Equipment To Various Youth Groups

The Infantry Center Quartermaster Property Disposal Office has donated equipment valued at nearly $50,000 to youth organizations in Georgia and Alabama since Feb. 21. Representatives of local and regional Boy and Girl Scouts in Columbus and Spaldon County received the last of the property from the post Feb. 26. Being contributed more than $48,000 to the Georgia-Florida Boy Scout Council, $2,000 to the Phenix City, Columbus and South Columbus Boys' Clubs.

Approximately a million dollars a year in equipment is contributed to certified state and private organizations, such as tax supported hospitals, schools, youth activities, public health agencies, military academies, and civilian defense groups.

MacLennan Gets Youth Club Post

Capt. Robert J. MacLennan is the new custodian of the post's Youth Activities Club replacing Capt. James C. Blackford. Capt. Blackford has been reassigned to the U. S. Army in the Caribbean in Puerto Rico. He is not a resident in physical education from Springfield College, Mass.

USMA Group Slates Speech by Gen. Booth

Lt. Gen. Donald P. Booth, the Army's deputy chief of staff for personnel, will speak at the annual U. S. Military Academy Founder's Day dinner here March 15.

Graduates and former cadets of the Military Academy are invited to attend the event, which will be held at 7 p. m. in the Main Officers' Mess. Reservations may be made with Capt. Milton H. Hamilton of The Infantry School's Department of Non-Resident Instruction, FP-3-6155.

Gen. Booth is a 1926 graduate of the Academy. He received a civil engineering degree from Cornell University in Ithaca, N. Y., in 1928. From 1935 to 1939 he was a mathematics instructor at the Military Academy.

At the outbreak of World War II, Gen. Booth was serving with the Seattle (Wash.) Engineer District. He was, successively, director of ports, assistant chief of staff, chief of staff and commanding general of the Persian Gulf Service Command from October, 1942, to August, 1945. He was named to the office seven months later.

ed to the latter assignment seven months after his promotion to brigadier general in May, 1945.

Gen. Booth became special assistant to the Under Secretary of War in November, 1945, and was promoted to brigadier general in May, 1946. He was named to the office of the Under Secretary of War eight months later. In October, 1947, he became deputy director of the Joint Plans Group, Office of the Joint Chiefs of Staff.

In April, 1950, the 54-year-old officer was named assistant for planning coordination in the office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Plans.

Gen. Booth transferred from the engineers to Infantry in October, 1951, and in early 1952 was appointed assistant commander of the Fourth Infantry Division in Germany. He was assigned as commander of the 28th Inf. Div. in 1953. This unit was redesignated the 9th Inf. Div. the following year.

Assigned to the Army's Office of the Assistant Chief of Staff for Personnel in October, 1954, Gen. Booth was named to head the office seven months later. Among his decorations are the Distinguished Service Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster, Commendation Ribbon, Imperial Japanese Order of the Rising Sun (1st Class), Russian Order of Kutuzov. He also is an Honorary Commander of the Military Order of the British Empire.

Complex Two Million Dollar Telephone System Brings Lifeblood of Communication to Ft. Benning

BY NORMAN SOLON

The veins and arteries of Ft. Benning is the two million dollar telephone exchange, which brings the lifeblood of communication to all sections of the reservation. Under the direction of Col. Edward C. Coffin, Jr., Infantry Center signal officer, and James T. Young, wire officer, the system not only connects all units on post with each other and Columbus-Phenix City, Ala., but has 11 long distance trunk lines operating in conjunction with the Belle Telephone Company.

There are 88 employees, both civilian and military, to maintain operation of the 5,000 capacity line system, with 3,000 phones in use at present.

During the summer, this number swells to near capacity with Reserve training in the Harmony Church area. Presently there is a master switchboard on the Main Post and substations in the Sand Hill and Harmony Church areas to accommodate the load.

The line capacity and efficiency of the post exchange were doubled in 1952, when the system was renovated and the latest equipment installed. According to Mr. Young, it will be doubled again in the near future, when lines from the new Post hospital and Capehart Housing will be added to the exchange.

"The Ft. Benning system compares very favorably with that of a medium size city, Young stated. "Preventive maintenance is stressed to even a greater degree than in a commercial exchange in an effort to insure against breakdowns."

The Ft. Benning exchange utilizes three types of telephone connections on the reservation. The class A phone is used by headquarters and staff units that must have access to off-post calls. These phones are financed by a special government fund and can be used to dial Columbus-Phenix City direct and long distance; calls through the local operator.

Class B phones correspond to normal commercial telephones in any community.

Class C phones are used by personnel recruited from all sections of the country on the basis of technical skills. Personally, as well as mechanically deft, are considered by telephone officials before hiring an employee since most assignments are handled by teams instead of individuals, making cooperation imperative, Young said.

"One result of our highly selective hiring policy," Young stated, "is manifested in the period that elapses from the time we receive a repair request until it is completed is only one hour," he said.

At All-Time Peak the telephone system equipped with the latest products of technical advances, is at its all-time peak of operation. The previous high was during World War II, when a telephone line capacity of 4,000 serviced the 100,000 personnel population of the Post.

Before 1928 the capacity of the exchange was only 600 phones with no dialing system. To call, Young related, a person was required to contact one of the operators, who at that time were enlisted men. Just before World War II, a dialing system with a 2,000 line maximum was installed.

With the outbreak of hostilities, the operation of the system was handled by the Bell Company, which maintained control until 1946.

Today 22 operators work in around-the-clock shifts to link Ft. Benning in continuous communication with every corner of the U. S.

Gen. Gavin Visits Benning March 5

Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, the Army's chief of research and development, and Eugene Vidal, senior civilian aviation adviser to the Army's chief of staff, visited the Infantry School March 5.

They were briefed on Army aviation aspects of the reorganization of the combat infantry division and Infantry School helicopter demonstrations. The visitors watched a demonstration of helicopter-borne operations by the Infantry School's Technical Department at Amfiville Field and Detrow Hill and took a helicopter tour of the post.

They are subscribed by families or individuals for personal use.

Class C phones are used by organizations, which are required to make and receive intra-post calls. No off-post calls can be made or received on these phones.

In case of an emergency, such as an air raid or an enemy attack, a direct hit on any or all of the existing switchboards will not halt all telephone communication. An emergency switchboard can be established in the field to service class A telephones. In addition, multiple trunk lines are used to insure uninterrupted service.

Old Soldier Finds Real 'Angel of Mercy' Here

By M-Sgt. Clark Blackburn

Angel of Mercy bear many gifts of comfort. Some of them place a cool hand on the fevered brow of the sick. Another may offer a cold drink of water.

One Angel of Mercy here, however, performed nothing so ethereal. She came bearing a sock. Yes, a sock and overgarde sock that goes on the foot. Here is the pitch.

This beat up old soldier in presently wearing a cast on his left leg. Don't ask why, for he's told so many lies about how it happened that he doesn't remember just how it did happen.

One afternoon last week this old soldier was on official business at the hospital, and was waiting for an Army cab to pick him up. Because his spare toes protruded, his foot was blue from cold, none of his socks would fit over the cast.

Along came a Red Cross worker and suggested to this old soldier that if he'd go by her office she'd fix him up with a special type wool sock.

Told of the impending taxi's arrival, she said "hold him till I get back," and took off on the double down the walk.

In a matter of moments she was rounding a corner on her way back, still on the double. She laid 'old crit' to take a seat on the steps and she'd put the sock on for him. Imagine the tears of joy and thankfulness that came into the rheumy eyes of the old timer as warmth flowed soothingly over his frozen knarled toes.

The next time this beat up soldier has need of an Angel of Mercy, he'll send for the nearest Red Cross worker.

The name of this particular Angel of Mercy? Mrs. William Pyc, assistant field director at the USAAR Branch of the American Red Cross. Name of the beat up old soldier? He ain't tellin'.

Army's Best Seek Top Honors At All-Army Boxing Tourney

Special to Bayonet

FT. CAMPBELL, Ky. March 1—The best boxers now in Army green are presently assembled at Ft. Campbell, Ky., to vie for top honors in the 1957 All-Army Tournament.

Through their past ten crowns to be won, many more individual champions representing six states and three overseas commands have signed for the competition. The All-Army tourney got underway Monday and will continue through March 9. The matches promise to be filled with deft, decisive action as the soldier boxers strive one against the other to be top man in the Army's biggest tournament.

Hosting the annual affair is Ft. Campbell, Ky., whose untold honors under the banner of the 3rd Army Command. Many great and near-great Army boxers will enter the ring spotlight here this year. Some, of course, will be striving to maintain or recapture past glory. Others are making their debut for All-Army crowns. All will be slugging leather for team and individual honors. Only ten can emerge on top.

Included among the past winners striving toward continued glory is M-Sgt. Robert B. Randolph, 1948 All-Army Welterweight Champ. Randolph with 46 wins against ten losses on his card, is the current Welterweight Champ of the AFPE (Far East Command) Team. His fight history includes the 1956 Alabama District Golden Gloves Crown.

A bit older and a lot more experienced than he cares to admit, Randy has been on the Army boxing scene since his initial entry in 1944.

Another in the string of champions seeking to gain individual and team honors in the 1957 All-Army tourney is the Pacific Team's SP4 Francis M. Okuda. A young, aggressive flyweight, 112 pounds—Okuda hails from the Territory of Hawaii and has an imposing list of titles to his credit.

Young Okuda, a 1956 Olympic alternate, was his first title bout in 1951 during the Hawaii-Japan tournament held in Hawaii. In 1954 he was crowned Hawaii's AAU Champ, an honor which he took again in 1954, 1956 (and him taking USARPAC, Interservice, and a City Golden Gloves Crown for 1954 and the Maryland AAU State Championship in 1954).

Second Army flyweight, Sherwin Morgan, has won 109 of his 115 total fights to date. A Golden Gloves entry, he has carried the Michigan, Washington, Kentucky, and Oregon titles since 1948. In addition, he took the 1956 National AAU Crown in matches held at Boston, Mass.

Impressive is Morgan's list of titles. In 1955 he was crowned Pan-American Flyweight Champ; in 1956 he captured All-Army runner-up honors, the Northwestern AAU Crown, and the Northwestern Golden Gloves championship.

Morgan was Sixth Army's Flyweight Champ in 1955 and is current top man in his class from among Second Army hopefuls. The young boxer hails from Flint, Mich.

Colorful is the fight record of Second Army's SP4 George W. Davis. A Bantamweight, Davis has won 110 of 155 fights. He carried the Washington, D. C. and New York

Young Davis makes his home in Baltimore, and is stationed at nearby Ft. George G. Meade, Md.

Ft. Campbell's hopes for glory in the All-Army tourney hinge on five pugilists of the 101st Airborne Div., who swept their way to 3rd Army Championships here 2 weeks ago. Of course, there are many pinweight contenders into this year's tournament.

New Champions will doubt-thrashed, No one can accurately predict the outcome. However, that the five-day tournament which began Monday is action-packed from start to finish is a point on which all spectators agree.

Post Cage Team Loses Tourney Tilt to Rucker

Ft. Benning's capers were edged in a close battle by Ft. Rucker, Ala., 90-89, in the first game of the 3rd Army basketball tournament at Ft. Bragg, N. C., March 4.

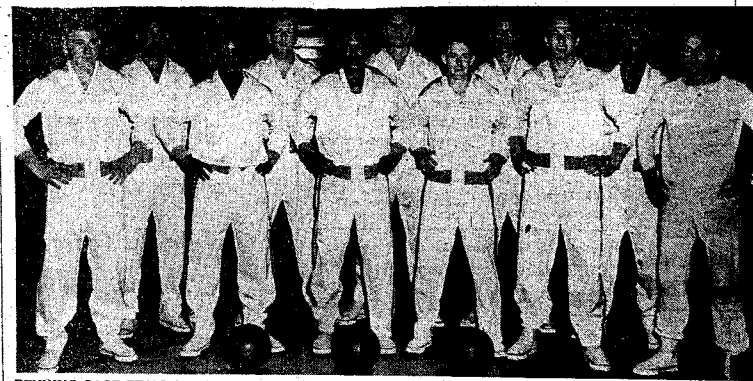

This is a two game elimination tournament and Ft. Benning will have to come from behind to catch early leaders, which include the tournament favorites from Ft. Jackson, S. C. who topped Red Stone Arsenal, Ala., 68-58.

Ft. Benning jumped into an early lead in the game with Ft. Rucker and held a lead going into the final period.

A desperation rally by several Rucker players pushed the score into their favor, overcoming a 15-point lead.

In the final moments, Benning came back with a final rally to close the gap but the final spread couldn't be overcome.

Bragg and Campbell, also two men's division contests in the first round of the big seven-state Third Army cage event.

TOM WIERZBICKI - Is Europe More Active in Sports?

"Contrary to public opinion, a first hand survey report of sports in Europe being about the startling revelation that we of the United States are not the world's most sports minded nation after all."

Seward Staley, director of health, physical education and recreation at the University of Illinois made this personal conclusion after traveling more than 7,200 miles in France, Spain, Italy, Switzerland, Holland Belgium and England.

"Most Americans are disposed to assume that the American people are more active in sports than any other nation group," he said in a report to the Athletic Institute of Chicago. "This does not conform to my observations at all. There is no accurate statistics to back up my estimates, but right or wrong I came home with the very definite impression that, percentage-wise, there is more active participation and more interest in sports in Europe than in the United States. Portugal, Spain, Italy and France are the possible exceptions."

Staley had interesting observations to make of sports in Europe.

Most Popular Sport's Events
"In active participation," he wrote, "the most popular sports today in the countries I visited are soccer, gymnastics, skiing, cycling, swimming and hiking. To this list must be added boomer and hiking (a form of bowling) target shooting in Switzerland and cricket and bows in England. In passive participation, the most popular spectator sports are soccer, cycle racing, automobile racing, boxing, track and horse racing."

Where do our top sports enter the picture in Europe? Surprisingly enough even though countless basketball and basketball tours are made in Europe the events are not really catching on.

Baseball is dead. Softball, introduced by United States troops during the war, is "dead" or still. Basketball, after a brief flurry of popularity, has reached what Staley calls a "plateau." It probably won't get much farther despite Abe Saperstein's hippodroming tours.

A great new interest has been born in skiing—and skiing always was a major sport in Europe. "New ski centers, slopes, lifts and jumps are in evidence everywhere," Staley added.

Handball has had a remarkable growth all over the continent. So have table tennis and volleyball—volley ball having been introduced by American soldiers.

Fishing and hunting are popular everywhere but due to the shortage of fish and game "there is a smaller number of participants than in this country."

Now, Seward Staley may be entirely correct in these impressions and conclusions. However, the fact that he admits this is only an impression, without statistics, raises a question at once. He himself concedes this. And here there must certainly be a question.

Must Consider External Factors
The measuring stick of how sports minded a nation really is hinges on more than the play instinct, the urge to compete or the desire to watch others compete. It hinges, too, on leisure time, income, educational systems and many other things. Actually and practically it hinges first on these things.

This sets the ground work for our questioning Mr. Staley's startling revelation . . . Where is leisure greater than here? Or average income. Where do educational systems so completely embrace competitive sports as here?

Seward Staley is not the first or the last to remark about the great new hold sports have taken in Europe or to suggest that Europeans today are even more sports minded than we. But, until there is statistical proof in this, most people won't believe it . . . do you????????

Post Kegler Team Named For 3-Army Tournament

A six-man post bowling team has been selected from 18 finalists in the post tournament in the Main Post Alleys March 23.

This squad of keglers will represent the post in the 2nd Army bowling tournament at Ft. McClellan, Ala., March 18-22.

First Lt. Ben Sharpe, 52nd Co. TSB, was chosen as one of the keglers when he rolled a 4,307.

24-game score of 4,328. He will act as playing captain and officer-in-charge of the team in the tourney.

Top bowler during the two-day tournament was Sgt. Harold Burns, Co. B, ISD, who rolled a score of 4,345.

Third highest bowler was SP4 Ralph Nicklin, 56 & 89 Co. 1st Sp. Trps. Bn. rolling a 4,307.

Roundup of the squad are: Pvt. Archie Pollock, 55th Med. Co., 54th Med. Grp., 4,270; SFC Stephen Levich, H & S Co., 3rd Bn., 3rd Div., 4,216, and 1st Sgt. George Mankian, 3rd Signal Bn., 7th AC, 3rd Div., 4,212.

These bowlers were selected on the basis of their scores during a series of 24 games with the finalists in the tourney.

TOUR POST
A Lumpkin (GA.) Cub Scout pack toured the Infantry School March 2. Twenty-five Cubs, Scout leaders and parents, headed by L. M. Moye, took a bus tour of sites of interest on the military reservation.

Income Tax Facts

Law Allows Deductions For Medical Expenses

(This is one of a series of articles in the Bayonet on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Uncle Sam realizes family doctor bills and dentist bills can add up; so he permits you to itemize and deduct all medical expenses beyond three per cent of your adjusted gross income.

Sick benefits are not counted as income. Here is what you can receive free of tax from your employer or his insurance company:

- (1) Payment for medical expenses.
- (2) Payment for permanent injury (not based on time absent from work).
- (3) Damages for injury or sickness.
- (4) Payments under Workmen's Compensation Act.
- (5) Payment up to $100 per week for loss of wages while you are absent due to injury or sickness, except that the first week's pay is taxable unless you are absent due to an injury or are hospitalized for at least one day.

Sick Pay Benefits
If "sick pay" payments from your employer are included in the wages shown on your withholding slips, you should subtract the proper amount from your income in the place provided on the first page of the tax return (Form 1040).

Attach an explanation as described in the instruction book. You are entitled to exclude this amount even if you do not itemize deductions.

You are allowed a deduction for medical expense beyond 3 percent of your adjusted gross income, but if you (or your husband or wife) are 65 or over, the 3 percent rule does not apply to your own medical expenses. It does apply, however, to any medical expenses you pay for your dependents.

Among the items to include in your list of medical expenses are fees of doctors, dentists, hospitals and nurses. You can also deduct premiums for a health, accident, hospitalization and medical insurance, but you must reduce your medical expenses by the amount of any benefits received from insurance.

Medicines Deductible
Your total deduction is limited to a maximum amount for the year, as explained in the instruction book, and medicines and drugs may be included in your medical expenses only to the extent they exceed 1 percent of your gross income.

Widows and Widowers
The federal tax code contains several provisions of special interest to widows and widowers:

- (1) You may file a joint return with a husband or wife who died during the tax year if no separate return is filed.
- (2) If you have not remarried and have in any household a dependent child or step-child, you are entitled for the next two years to use the same tax computation (with income-splitting privileges) as you have been entitled to on a joint return.
- (3) When life insurance proceeds are taken as an annuity or in installments, widows and widowers are allowed up to $100 per year of tax-free

NOTICE
Do you collect or save coins and money? Many people have some coins which may be very old and valuable & stored away some place, and are not aware of their value. Other people collect coins and would like to keep in touch with other coin collectors. # Benning Dentists Note Corps 46th Birthday

BY JERRY ARMSTRONG

A dream originated by Dr. Edward Maynard 77 years ago, was celebrated by the Post Dental Section March 3 on the 46th anniversary of the Army Dental Corps.

Dr. Maynard, father of the Army Dental Corps, saw the need for this organization when he introduced the idea to President Fillmore in 1860. The Benning Dental Section held a quarterly staff meeting at the Post Dental Officer's Club Feb. 28, playing host to the Western District of Georgia Dental Society in observing the anniversary of the corps.

Guest speaker for the meeting was Col. Robert B. Shirra, chief, Oral Surgery Section, Walter Reed U. S. Army Medical Center, Ft. Detrick, Md. Shirra gives much of his time to instructing purposes at the Dental Graduate School at Walter Reed U. S. Army Medical Center.

Col. Shirra spoke to the group, including distinguished guests, two of whom were Dr. Irwin T. Hyatt, former associate professor of oral surgery and anesthesiology at the University in Atlanta, Ga., and Lt. Col. Paul Miller, chief of Prosthetic Section, Valley Forge U. S. Army Hospital at Pheasantville, Pa., on the common problems in exodontia and oral surgery.

Today with the Army at its greatest peacetime strength in history, the need for a well trained and equipped dental corps is even more demanding, according to post dental authorities.

Need is Great

The post with over 60,000 persons inducted, is dependent to care for serves as a prime example of the present need for the latest in modern dental treatment and highly skilled professional personnel.

In 1956 alone, 273 Army dentists extracted 170,258 teeth in the seven-state area. The density of the area was reflected by 161,978 teeth with the average number being reduced by one for each tooth that was not placed in dentures.

Each month over 30,000 dental procedures are completed here," said Col. Clyde D. Gatman, Jr., post dental surgeon.

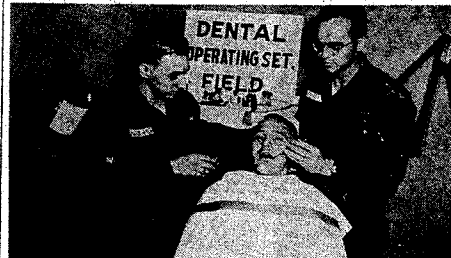

His Big Job

Col. Gatman has a large task to accomplish at Benning. He is responsible for the four dental clinics situated in vital sections of the post, the dental laboratory, the dental supply section and the 3rd Army Orthodontic Center.

Under the command to assist in this big job, he has 72 officers, 30 enlisted men and WACS, 30 civilian and one chief warrant officer.

One of his most unique duties is coordinator for the 3rd Army Orthodontic Section, which is the only one of its kind located in the states of Georgia, Alabama, Florida, Mississippi, North and South Carolina, Tennessee and Kentucky.

Col. Gatman has a large task to accomplish at Benning. He is responsible for the four dental clinics situated in vital sections of the post, the dental laboratory, the dental supply section and the 3rd Army Orthodontic Center.

DENTAL OPERATING SET FIELD

This Fort Benning scene looks similar to any dentist's office, but all the equipment belongs to the field operating set which is just as much a part of any battlefield as an M-1 rifle. Left to right are dental assistant SP3 (Specialist Third Class) Charles W. Calvert of (Route 14) Baltimore, Md., 1st Lt. Lou Sa wchik of Cleveland, Ohio, Eighth Company, The School Brigade, and Major James E. Cavision dental surgeon. The U. S. Army Dental Corps celebrates its 46th anniversary March 3.

Complex Organization

The Dental Corps has a highly complex organization today and many changes have been made since the late 1800s. Benning's dental section consists of six different sections, each an individual unit with a separate job.

The work load is particularly heavy in the section which handles examination, x-ray and radiology, since all patients must be seen here. Other integrated units are surgery, operative, crown and bridge, full and partial denture and oral hygiene.

Three sections further make up the post organization, fully equipped post laboratory. The sections include the field (field), investing, finishing and polishing.

Services Rendered

The overall service rendered by the lab is the fabrication and repair in part or in whole any type prosthetic appliance, including full and partial dentures, bridges, splints, crowns and inlays.

At the time Congress passed the bill to provide for dental surgeons in the Army, positions for 30 dentists were established and on March 3, 1911, the Army Dental Corps was formally established by law.

By the end of World War II, about 15,000 dentists were wearing the uniform of the U. S. Army.

Today, in the 3rd Army GREEK OFFICERS VISIT

Eight Greek Army officers were on post March 4 through 6 for briefings on the U. S. Army. The Allied group is being trained by Lt. Gen. Theodore Papadimitriou, Major Gen. Theodoros Broumidis, Col. Konstantinos Tsoloukas, Col. Vasilios Marantaris, Major Gen. Theodoros Katsaris, Col. Dimitrios Moustakopoulos, Lt. Col. Dimitrios Pappas, and Lt. Col. George Kotelonis.

Wings Awarded To Gen. Powell

Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, 1st Infantry Center commander, received his Wings March 11 marking the successful completion of helicopter pilot training at Lawson Army Air Field.

Brig. Gen. Carl I. Hutton, commander of the Army Aviation Center at Ft. Rucker, Ala., presented the wings to Powell at Lawson Field.

Post Hosts Gen. Wyman

The post's training activities, highlighted by a briefing on combat operations, were seen by the commander of the U. S. Continental Army, Gen. Willard G. Wyman, accompanied by Brig. Gen. Herbert B. Powell upon his arrival at 5 p.m. Sunday at Lawson Army Air Field from Ft. Monroeville, Va.

Also on hand to greet the four-star general was a representative of the post's command staff, Lt. Col. J. B. ...

The three-phase course Gen. Powell began the three-phase course of flight instruction last fall, utilizing afternoons for the training.

Gen. Sutherland Speaks To Local Reserve Group

The Reserve Officers Association is backing Secretary of Defense Charles Wilson's action in asking for six months active duty training for National Guard members. Major Gen. Carl B. Sutherland, commander of the 3rd Infantry Center, spoke to the group at the post March 11. The two-star general, who is a member of the Reserve Officers Association, is an effort to encourage pay personnel to remain in the service.

Gen. Powell at Lawson Field, Ala., after receiving his wings. The two-star general underwent 100 hours of flight instruction given by Capt. Robert A. Mitchell, commander of the 3rd Combat Aviation Squadron at Ft. Rucker.

The general has lauded the use of aircraft, especially the helicopter as an integral part of today's modern Army. In the Feb. 22 issue of The Army-Navy-Air Force Journal, "We believe," Gen. Powell will provide the necessary mobility, speed and flexibility that the Infantry needs for the movements of units and supplies in future combat operations. We are beginning to rely more and more on helicopters as a means of transportation," the general said.

Gen. Cook Receives European Assignment

Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commander of The Infantry School since July 1955, will leave the post about June 22 for duty in Heidelberg, Germany.

A 1929 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., Gen. Cook also attended the University of North Carolina in Chapel Hill 20 years ago. He is a native of Greensboro, N. C.

During World War II he served with the 5th Army in the European Theater of Operations in North Africa, and commanded the 96th Inf. Regt. of the 10th Army in Italy.

Shortly after assuming command of the 8th Regt. in 1945, Gen. Cook was wounded by an artillery shell while in combat near Lake Garda, Germany.

Milton Cites Army's Role

The crucial role of the ground soldier in maintaining U.S. national security was discussed by Hugh M. Milton, II, assistant secretary of the Post Dental Section, at the charter banquet of the Columbus Ft. Benning Chapter of the Association of the U.S. Army March 6.

Post Forms New Section Under SSO

A new section, the Activities Clearing Center, has been established to coordinate the major recreational, sports, and social events on the post.

The section officially began operation last month under the direction of the Special Services Officer, Capt. Deryle M. Mehtren.

Woman's Club Holds Luncheon; Ribbons Awarded in Art Contest

BY MILLENT SCUDDER
 Left: Bank set the theme for a "Continental" luncheon given by the post-Woman's Club March 6 in the Main Officers' Mess.

Highlighting the occasion was an exhibit of paintings and drawings in the Women's Club annual post-wide art contest. Also on the program were musical selections by the club's French group and a skit entitled "A Trip Through Fantasyland."

Twenty-two ribbons were awarded in the art competition. In the amateur division, they were presented to Sally Patch, first; Milton T. Stubbs, second; E. E. Clewett, third; and Norman H. Tannen and Stephen A. Sikora, III, honorable mention.

In the professional division awards went to Eric Jackson, first; Philip Andrews, second; and Rudolph Hentschel, honorable mention, in oils; James A. Longshore, first; Mr. Andrews, second; William B. Webb, third; and Mr. Hentschel, honorable mention, in water color; and S. Solomon, first, and Mr. Andrews, second, in drawings.

The musical interlude was presented by Mrs. James A. Barr and Mrs. Leon M. Miller, vocalists; Mrs. J. T. Sliger, pianist.

The "Fantasyland" drama was enacted by wives of students attending basic officers' classes. The skit was written and directed by Mrs. John V. Batista and narrated by Mrs. Kent H. Hayes.

Plans Made For Jewish Purim Rites

Post Jewish personnel will join the Shearith Israel Synagogue of Columbus in celebrating the Festival of Purim March 16 and 17.

A program conducted by Jewish Chaplain (2d Lt.) Murray I. Lerer will begin with the traditional reading of the Scroll of Esther at Congregation Shearith Israel 7 p. m. on March 16.

The Purim, or Lots, Festival, the Purim, or Lots, Festival, is commemorating Esther's heroism in persuading her husband, King Xerxes of Persia, to rescind the decree instigated by Haman, condemning Jews in the kingdom to death.

Following the Saturday evening service the United Synagogue Youth will present "Furim Nikah," a musical based on the holiday set to the music of Gilbert and Sullivan.

A Purim party, sponsored by the Jewish Sisterhood of the post, will be held at the Jewish Center at 3 p. m. March 17. The traditional cake, Hamantaschen, and other delicacies will be served.

Included in the program will be a radio play from script by Norman Corwin of Columbia Broadcasting System and a magician's act for the children.

Climax of the weekend program will be dancing to the music of a live band immediately following the party activities.

Basic Trainee Gets 486 on PT Exam

Pvt. Frank M. Monteeze, a trainee in the 7th Inf. Bn. recently topped all others in his unit in the physical proficiency test, scoring a total of 486 points out of a possible 500 points to record one of the highest scores in the command during the current training cycle.

According to the 7th Bn. commander, Lt. Col. Roy Sbert, Pvt. Monteeze has scored the highest number of points in a physical proficiency test of any trainee since the battalion began their basic combat training last year.

Pvt. Monteeze is assigned to Co. B, commanded by Capt. David M. Levitt.

approximately 25 other Army and Air Force installations in the U.S. and overseas. The local examinations are being conducted by a board of officers, of which Col. William M. Lindner is president.

Permission to take the examination is limited to duty on a post. Only those candidates who have been nominated from one of the sources provided by law and to whom letters of appointment have been issued by the Department of the Army, Washington, D. C.

Col. Lindner emphasized that the Post Examining Board does not have authority to issue appointments or to process applications for appointment.

750 Admitted Per Year
 The total authorized strength of the Corps of Cadets and all sources of appointment and admission are specified by law. About 750 new cadets are admitted each year. The largest quota, representing about 85 per cent of the total, is allotted to the various states and congressional districts, for which the nominations are made by Senators and representatives in Congress.

Each senatorial seat and each congressional district may be represented at the Military Academy by no more than four cadets at any one time and no more than two at any one time as vacancies occur.

Applicants seeking congressional appointment should apply directly to their senators or representatives. Col. Lindner advised that this be done a year in advance of the intended date of admission to West Point.

Special Quotas Provided
 Only one class is admitted each year, the date of admission being the first Tuesday in July. Smaller quotas, all of which are competitive, are provided for:

Income Tax Facts Not All Your Income Is Subject to Taxes

(This is one of a series of articles in the Bayonet on federal income tax filing. The articles are based on information provided by the American Institute of Accountants and the Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service.)

Taxpayers make more mistakes in listing their income than any other type of error, according to a survey made by the Internal Revenue Service. It is important to know what to include and what NOT to include. Look at this list and see if you can tell which should be listed on a tax return: Dividends from an insurance policy.

Social Security Benefits
Payments received under Workers' Compensation laws. The answer is that NONE of the above should be listed as taxable income. There are other forms of exempt income, too, which will find listed in the official instruction book.

Exclusion and Credit
Anyone who owns stock needs to know about the dividend exclusion and credit. This applies only to dividends from corporations who have not been subject to United States corporate income tax and does not include dividends from savings and loan associations, credit unions or foreign corporations.

How Prizes Are Taxed
If you win a prize, watch this fine distinction: the prize is taxable if you were required to exert even the slightest effort to earn it, or the remainder of scientific, literary or other achievement you would have performed anyway, the prize is considered a gift and you are not taxed on it.

Most scholarships and fellowships are exempt unless they are paid as compensation for services.

Two WACs Assigned March 5

Two new members were welcomed to the WAC Co. March 5 with the assignment of Pfc. Jean T. Kawabata and Nancy A. Woods.

Pvt. Kawabata comes from Faino, Hawaii and has been in the Army since July, 1956. Pvt. Woods, who received service in June 1956, comes from Agate Beach, Ore.

Both Kawabata and Woods reported here from Ft. Lawton, Wash., where they recently completed on-the-job training at an operating room technician.

Transfer Point announced promotion to specialist 131st class Feb. 23. Advanced in grade that date was Jerome D. Cummins of Philadelphia, Pa. The new specialist, who has been in the Army since January 31, 1955, is an interviewer at the Louisiana State Penitentiary, Shreveport, La.

SP3 George P. Donahue, Co. A, 2nd Special Troops Bn., has been selected as Special Troops Command's Soldier of the Month for February. SP3 Donahue, of Worcester, Mass., is presently assigned as a dispatcher at the Transportation Motor Pool.

Three men were added to the ranks of the 17th Ord. Co. last week. The new recruits who reported for duty with the company are M-Sgt. LaVern D. Sloan, of Sanford, N.C.; Pvt. Ricardo A. Fatigati, of Cicero, Ill.; and Pvt. Ronald J. Kenney, of Beaver Falls, Pa.

M-Sgt. Sloan is assigned as a wheel vehicle mechanic and Pvt. Fatigati and Kenney are parts specialists.

Pvt. Cosmo V. Volpe, of Providence, R. I., has been assigned to the 57th Engr. Bn. Volpe, who transferred from the 38th Air Band, here at Ft. Benning, will serve with the STC Drum and Bugle Corps while in Hq. Co.

Wedding bells rang out for SFC James E. Tyra March 2, when he and Miss Mary Jo Miller were united in matrimony at the home of Tyra's parents.

Those now wearing their first stripes are Jimmy W. Boling of Bluff City, Tenn., welder; Charles Pitts of Randolph, S. C., storage specialist; William G. Johnson of Pearl City, Oahu, Hawaii, copy specialist; and Donald R. Lieschke, of Chicago, Ill., wheel vehicle mechanic.

The 90th also reports the assignment and arrival of three graduates of the Wheel Vehicle Repair School at Ft. Leonard Wood. The new mechanics, who reported Feb. 25 are Pvt. Lawrence E. Hunsman of Chicago, Ill., wheel vehicle mechanic.

54th Medical Gp.

Unit Leaves for 'King Cole'

Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, along with the 54th Medical Gp., left for the group Monday March 11 for the motor march to Exercise King Cole in Louisiana.

After a three day convoy trip they will establish themselves with the rest of the medical groups there and engage in the CPX maneuvers.

With this exercise at hand, the activity of the group's S-3 office has been at a feverish pace. N-Sgt. William Craig has been tearing out the little hair he has left and Pvt. William Jackson and Donna Hillard have begun to think of themselves as typewriters.

Byrd Files the Coop After several weeks of full flaps in the group's S-3 office, the wise and gentle Rufus Byrd, has been placed on orders to Ft. Bliss, Texas.

Pvt. Norbert Tracy is presently sporting about a pair of what he fondly refers to, as "Brubaker's" glasses loaned to the laymen as glasses. No doubt they have something to do with the modern, progressive messages he's been handling. In spite of his Brubaker's, Tracy has been a most commendable job of holding down the message center since he landed.

We take pride in presenting the two detachments of two PFC's: Irwin M. Fochter and Ed Brice.

Transfers With the time rapidly running out for the 23rd Evac Hosp., there is a rash of new assignments. Sgt. Robert Cooper, former field first sergeant, has been moved to the USAH 2440.

Pvt. John Proctor has been re-assigned to Co. B, 1st Special Troops Bn.

SP3 James Gordon, who went to Co. F, 2nd Inf. Regt., is also among those re-assigning.

PFC Oscar Lewis was recently discharged and has plans for returning to France, and the girl he left behind.

Sgt. P. Brundage has returned from the Army after more than 20 years service.

We extend congratulations to Capt. and Mrs. Harry Stone on the birth of a baby girl.

There have been numerous re-enlistments in the 54th Evac. Hosp. SFC Woodrow Bush, SFC George Taylor, SFC Henry B. Newberry and SFC Earl Brown has returned to duty after a 10-day leave. He is the parachute maintenance NCO for the 1st Aviation Co.

The 1st Platoon, 1st Aviation Co. is currently on TDY at Ft. Bragg, N.C. Members of the unit are: Capt. Henry B. Bragg, 1st Lt. Gerald H. Hanson, Capt. and Mrs. Harry Stone, Capt. and Mrs. Harry Stone, Capt. and Mrs. Harry Stone, Capt. and Mrs. Harry Stone.

SP3 Dallas G. Boyette has been assigned to Hq. and Hq. Det. from the 1st Airborne Div. at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Hq. and Hq. Det. lost two enlisted men recently when SFC William L. Hammond was transferred to Ft. McPherson, and SFC William L. Hammond was discharged.

Promotions at Lawson Army Airfield were as follows: included James N. Brennan Jr. who was promoted to chief warrant officer (W.O.), and John R. Crisp who was promoted to Pfc.

151st Engineer Group

Men Return from Camp

2nd Lt. Ray R. Rithelie was 151st Engineer Group including recently assigned to Co. "C". SFC Paul E. Richmond, SFC 57th Engineer Bn. as leader of the second platoon. Prior to assuming his present duties, Rithelie was assigned to 57th Engineer Bn. as leader of the second platoon.

Reenlistments in the 151st Engineer Group increased by six as the following men in the Group reenlisted: SFC Joe Garcia, Hq. Co., 151st Engineer Group, SFC Huey Barfield, Co. B, 57th Engr. Bn.; SP3 Jesse Walker, Hq. Co.; SP3 Oscar Wright, Hq. Co.; SP3 Edgar A. Hampton were sent with two other members to the construction work at the camp.

Congratulations to Pvt. and Mrs. William E. Jordan on the birth of a son, William Jr., on Feb. 10, 1957. The baby weighed in at eight pounds ten and one half ounces.

Promotions in the 57th Engineer Battalion for this month include first stripes for Albert F. Farowski, Luis R. Rodriguez, John M. Schroek, and Clyde E. Sivermore. Enlisted were presented to Joe A. Hurl, James H. Simons, George A. Dunn, a two year draftee was promoted to the rank of sergeant.

LT Donald Ingram of the 57th Engineer Bn. was recently promoted to the rank of major on Feb. 15th TDY at the Post CREC School and is now executive officer of Hq. Co.

Fred Matney, Hq. Co., 151st Engineer Group has recently been promoted to the rank of specialist third class. Matney works as a mechanic in the company motor pool.

The 57th Engineer Battalion announced the recent assignment of new personnel to its units. New members of Hq. Co. include: Sgt. Manuel Font Jr., Pvt. Martin E. Guedz, SFC Gralinos O. Waley, Pvt. Alfred Fernandez, William L. Westphalen, and SFC Francis A. Milliken.

Additions to Co. A include: SFC Thomas V. Absher, SFC Roy L. Holloway, M-Sgt. Paul Guillen, and Sgt. Raul Maldonado-Pena.

In Co. B new names on the morning report include: SFC James Honez, Pvt. George Walker, SFC Michael Fargo and SFC Burdie Peters.

Five members of the 49th Engineer Bn. were promoted recently to the rank of specialist class. They include: John W. Martin, Emmett E. Mitchell, Ned J. Dursman, Charles H. Leitch, and Caesar S. Slack Jr.

M-Sgt. Daniel L. Dennis has been assigned to Hq., 49th Engineer Bn.

See ya later alligator! SP3 Grant, William, Co. B, 57th Engineer Bn. claims that he is nothing so relaxing as wrestling with alligators and snakes. Willmouth and other members of his unit recently returned from a construction project at Elgin Air Force Base, Florida. (See photo).

New names appearing on the morning report of Hq. Co.,

Colts' George Shaw At Benning in BIOC

BY M-SGT. CLARK BLACKBURN
A two time All-American quarterback for the University of Oregon and a two year veteran with the Baltimore Colts professional football team is a student here at the United States Army Infantry School.

He is Lt. George H. Shaw, presently attending the Basic Infantry Officer Course, 23rd Company, 2d Student Battalion, The School Brigade.

High School Star
Lt. Shaw started his athletic career in Grant High School, Portland, Oregon, where he lettered in four sports. He played guard on the basketball team, quarterback on the football team and captained the team his senior year, and ran the sprints on the track team.

Upon completion of high school, Lt. Shaw was granted a scholarship by the University of Oregon. He played college days he played four years each of football and baseball, and captained the baseball team his senior year.

His college athletic accomplishments include All-American All-American Quarterback for two years and All-American in junior and senior years. At baseball he was All-American outdoors his junior year.

Drafted by Colts
Upon completion of college, Shaw was drafted by the Baltimore Colts and played quarterback as a professional for two years—'55 and '56.

"Uncle Sam" stepped in at the end of the '56 season and called Lt. Shaw to active duty for six months. He had earned his reserve commission through the ROTC program at the University of Oregon.

Asked his plans when he returns to reserve status, he said: "I plan on returning to the Colts and professional football. When his playing days are over he hopes to be turned to professional football."

Lt. Shaw is the son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Shaw of Portland, Oregon. He and his wife, Patricia, are presently making their home in Columbus, Georgia.

Wildlife Expert Returns to Post

This is the fifth in a series of columns which will feature 12 Ft. Benning soldiers under the title of "Know Your Range Guards". Their duties, the areas of their patrol and a short synopsis of their backgrounds will be depicted.

A former wildlife conservationist and black bear hunter for many years, Sgt. Billy Clark Vesuvius, Va., will be the featured guard this week.

Sgt. Clark is now serving his second tour at Ft. Benning as a range guard and with his civilian experiences in the protecting field rate as one of the top qualified men of the post group.

"Before coming into the service on August 14, 1944, at Lynchburg, Va., I worked for the Virginia Department of Conservation and Development. I had one of the counties located in the heart of the Blue Ridge Mountains named Amherst," said Sgt. Clark.

"I have had many experiences with the crafty black bears of the Blue Ridge and really enjoy hunting them in this region, that there's few animals any smarter or harder to kill.

One funny thing about Sgt. Clark's years of hunting these sturdy animals, which can be one of the most dangerous in the mountains when wounded, is the fact that he's never killed one.

Sgt. Clark commented, "I have three or four bears in several different haunts but my luck is still bad—I can't kill one."

But to turn to another phase of his life, Sgt. Clark has been a member of two American units which have won magazine pages written in the annals of our fighting heroes.

He served with the Sixth Infantry Division in 1945 while the unit was stationed in the Philippine Islands of the South Pacific. After coming to this tour, he was assigned to the First Cavalry Division in Korea.

The Silver Star, Bronze Star, Combat Infantryman Badge, Purple Heart with cluster, National Defense and Good Conduct Medals tell the story of his actions in these two theaters.

Returned to Benning
He returned to this post in January, 1956, for his second assignment as a protector of the vast 160,000 acres on the reservation available for hunting and fishing.

Sgt. Clark is also a family man with two sons, who probably be hunters if their father has anything to do with it.

He is married to the former Martha E. Windsor of Dothan, Ala. His oldest son is Michael, 21, and his other son, Ronald, will be seven in December.

Correction
This column would like to correct the spelling of the last name of Col. Henry B. Kuzing, who was featured in this column highlighting his two large turkeys killed on the post.

A pat on the back would also like to be extended to Mrs. Ruth S. Strine, wife of M-Sgt. Paul E. Strine, for landing possibly the largest black bass ever caught by an angler from a post.

Her bass tipped the scales at 11 1/2 pounds and was caught

USAAMU Celebrates Birthday
The U. S. Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit at Ft. Benning celebrated its first anniversary recently by compiling and outstanding record for achievement during the year. The permanent unit of the U. S. Army and International rifle and pistol teams, the Marksmanship Unit gave definite instructions to the other Armed Forces that the unit would have to be reckoned with in all of the shooting matches held in the United States and world.

In the National rifle and pistol matches held annually at Camp Perry, Ohio, the unit had three members of the U. S. Army teams to gain berths on the 1956 Olympic squads.

Heading the pistoliers, M-Sgt. Huellet L. "Joe" Benner of Jonesboro, Ark. coach of the pistol team at the U. S. Army Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. and regarded as one of the world's best shooters, became a member of the top one straight time.

He was the world's top pistol shooter in the 1953 Olympics when he topped the field of the

Italians Pay Visit to Post

Major Gen. Francesco Gonella, a member of the Italian Army's Center of Higher Studies, and 31 other Italian officers visited the post March 11 to 13 for a briefing on the Infantry School.

Gen. Gonella's scheduled included a visit with Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commandant of the Infantry School, and Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commandant.

Following an orientation, the party toured the Main Post Weapons Pool, observed M-1 rifle firing on Simpson Range and visited the school's Automotive Department.

The Italian's itinerary also included a visit to the leaders' reaction course, Range and of five candidate orientation.

Lived to Tell Story

Airman Swallowed by Jet

BY A.S.O. FRED E. HUGENBUEHLER
As told to Lt. Byron Liggett
Condensed from The American Weekly
My job in the Air Force is refueling aircraft on Okinawa. On Nov. 14, 1956, my crew were all working fast. I was holding the static line cable and waiting for one of the jets to come to a halt.
Having three years' service behind me I wasn't unfamiliar with the terrific suction power around the nose of an operating jet engine. I also knew of the unfortunate airman who had been sucked into a Sabre and killed on Okinawa just three months previously.
Captain Ed Klosterman taxied his Sabre up near me. As soon as the wheels stopped moving I gave the static cable a yank and leaped to attach it to the nose gear.
Post flight procedure in a Sabre calls for advancing the throttle to 65 per cent power for a two-minute period. I was two or three feet from the right side of the air intake duct when the power was suddenly increased.

I felt fingers of air plucking at the back of my fatigue jacket as I wrestled with the cable. Then I felt my hat leave my head. Suddenly I was poised in mid-air, spread-eagled and totally helpless, and facing the yawning intake duct.
So far as I know, I went through that opening without touching the sides, sucked up like a wet noodle.
Suddenly something struck me in the side of the face and I felt a hard object pushing against my chest. There is a cone-shaped projection on the front center of a jet engine called a power takeoff case cover. I found myself sitting against its apex.
With knees, chest and hands I exerted all my strength against the cone to hold myself away from the whirling rotor blades of the air-compressing mechanism just six inches from my body. I felt the power of the engine decrease sharply, and saw the rotor blades beginning to slow. My strength was ebbing fast.
I learned later the pilot had felt a bump in the engine operation about 30 seconds after advancing the throttle. Then I saw Airman Loren D. Close, a mechanic who was nearby, frantically waving.
When the rotor blades had slowed enough to enable me to overcome the suction pressure, I started backing out the cone of the jet, but fast!
I owe my survival to so many factors that it now appears nothing short of a miracle I'm alive. When pulled from the jet I still had the static line cable clasped in my hand. There were four wraps of the cable around my body, two around my waist and two around my legs.

RIGHT UP FRONT Combat engineering is in direct support of, or an actual part of, battle operations. Typical examples are smashing enemy-placed obstacles or overcoming obstacles imposed by nature and devising and placing fortifications, mines, and other engineering works required by friendly forces.

Organizational Festivities Held By Benning's 27th AAA Battery

Neither snow, nor sleet, nor rain could dampen the spirits of the 27th AAA Btry, which held its Organization Day Observance March 8, marking the eleventh birthday of the unit. 1st Lt. Kie Q. Doty, 27th AAA commanding officer, was host to guests, including Col. Joseph W. Sisson Jr., 29th RCT commanding officer, and his wife, Major and Mrs. Keith E. Kopelke, 22d FA Bn. commanding officer, and Lt. Col. Edgar A. Parker, 29th RCT executive officer. Eleven years ago on March 1946, the 27th AAA Btry was activated at Ft. Monroe, Va. It remained there until June 3, 1946 and was then transferred to Ft. Winfield Scott, Calif. The 27th Antiaircraft Artillery Battery is a separate unit within the 3d Army Command. Their mission is to support the USAC and School in their training program. The unit is called on to demonstrate the firm and quadruple 50 cal. AAA weapons. The weapons are "self propelled" which means the guns are permanently mounted on a vehicle allowing them to move by their own power instead of being pulled by a vehicle. A variety of activities were arranged to entertain the visitors last week. Sgt. John Churchwell set up a display of a twin 40 mm. gun on an M-42 and a quad 60 cal. machine gun. SFC George Strickland was in charge of the pool and checker tournament. Sgt. Paul Crumrine was general chairman of the program.

Bids were opened in the Savannah District Office of Corps of Engineers in Savannah on that date. The apparent low bid was $44,374.81. The student officers' mess is in the Main Post area and the brick administrative building will be in the south area of the reservation between Indianhead and Sightseeing Roads.

See Spring's Newest Fashions

Following the dinner, the guests visited the display-stands set up by M-Sgt. Garland Bray and his platoon. The Soldiers-of-the-Month in the 27th AAA Btry had a full-field layout arranged for the visitors. 1st Lt. Wayland Larnar, 27th AAA Btry executive officer, conducted the guests on their tour. The visitors then viewed the exhibit set up by Sgt. Churchwell and his crew. A jeep and tank were waiting to give free rides but due to the windy weather, no one took advantage of the offer. SFC Troy T. Campbell was the pool tournament and M-Sgt. Leonard Anderson topped the checker championship.

Answers to Questions On Dependents Medicare

Here are some more answers to questions commonly asked by servicemen and their wives concerning civilian care under the new Medicare program.

Q—My wife has been sick in her life. However, her sister who is living near us and is very close to my wife, has been taking care of her for the past year. The doctor says she should have to go to a hospital for three days. I had to pay $25. Why would I have paid only $7.75 at an ship my wife wants to stay in her sister's care until she doesn't need it—Sgt. N.

A—No, the law specifies that a permit is required for a civilian to be treated for authorized care from civilian medical sources. You cannot arrange to have a friend, parent or relative use the facilities. Any attempt at this practice will be prosecuted by the government and will result in fine or imprisonment.

Q—The kids have been getting on my wife's nerves. She screams at them. I could I send her to a civilian psychiatrist who has been contacted by Mediacare—M. Sgt. B.

A—No, unless there is an actual medical disorder, the Dependents' Medical Care Act does not authorize treatment for nervous or mental disorders.

Q—What am I supposed to do when I visit my civilian doctor and I don't go to the hospital like I thought I'd have to—Mrs. J.

Washington Report Army Sets Program To Test Proficiency

The Army says it will launch a testing program to determine individual MOS proficiency in enlisted grades, according to a recent directive. The results of which will be employed in making promotions, reductions, reassignments, and selections for special training. The Army says that in some situations, voluntary in others, depending upon their purpose, MOS proficiency tests may be required in addition to the "fitness" tests now paper" is in certain tests. The MOS qualifications of NCOs also will include assignment of leadership ability.

The aim and aim of a scheduled test will be announced and a study guide of the occupation will be distributed several months in advance, the Army says.

In making final determination of grade or ability to do a job, the Army says, MOS factors will be considered. These include education, Army service, seniority, Army possibly, education and amount of training.

General Bunker Visits Benning

Brig. Gen. William B. Bunker, commander of the Transportation and Supply Maintenance Command, St. Louis, Mo., is visited here March 13 and 14 for a briefing on Infantry Center transportation activities.

During his visit, Gen. Bunker toured the Motor Transportation Operations, Motor Transportation Maintenance and Aircraft Maintenance Divisions and the Motor Transportation Regulating Branch and is expected to return to St. Louis.

He attended an official luncheon March 13 in the Main Officers' Mess. Mrs. Bunker was feted at a luncheon the same day by Mrs. Eugene M. Elliott, wife of Col. Elliott, Infantry Center transportation officer.

Up until the time he became an Officer Candidate, he was an instructor at an Army Photography school. He finds the change from the role of instructor o photography to officer candidate a big jump, but he further explains that at OCS one learns to take rapid changes in stride. "There is no need to separate the men from the boys; the men do that themselves."

"Whether or not Bermuda can be credited with the invention of the famous Bermuda Shorts, it can claim to be the birthplace of an outstanding soldier, Arthur I. Munsion.

'Point' Grads Hear Booth

The U. S. Military Academy program is making striking advances in the understanding of leadership. Lt. Gen. Donald P. Booth, the Army's deputy chief of staff for personnel, said here March 13.

Speaking to 375 West Point graduates at the Founder's Day dinner in the Main Officers' Mess, he stated, "The academy is a splendid background for leaders."

As commander of the Pacific Staff Service Command, Gen. Booth was the youngest theater commander of U.S. forces in the Korean War. He introduced at the dinner by Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Infantry Center commander.

Opportunities Await "The speaker pointed out that the opportunities for leadership in this era of combat readiness period of international stress and terrific scientific progress."

"Problems of today's Army can be met only by men of intelligence, integrity and complete dedication," he emphasized. "These traits are needed in working on fluid battlefields with dispersed units, coordinating with combined arms, and dealing with complex hardware," Gen. Booth added.

"Particular ability is demanded in dealing with the psychological problem of leading ground troops in battle areas where atom weapons are employed or even likely to be employed," he went on.

Gen. Booth compared the U. S. Army's problems during the cold war with "keeping a football team in top shape and never playing Saturday's big game."

Citing continuing broadening of military and academic program and tactics al training, he said, "It is happy circumstance that each year the graduates are better prepared."

The rotation of West Point personnel every three years at the academy is a responsive to the current Army. They provide a flexible and sound base education to graduates the ability to take on successfully many problems yet unthought of," Gen. Booth noted.

"Our U. S. Army battle success from the Mexican War including World War II and Korea can be traced back to successes of West Pointers of all grades who met their challenges and responsibilities superbly," he told the group.

Brig. Gen. (Ret.) James H. Crawford of Auburn, Ala., and Lt. John F. Sloan of Marquette, Mich., senior and junior graduates attending the affair, also spoke. They completed the military academy in 1911 and 1926, respectively.

Col. Rollin B. Durbin of St. Louis, Mo., director of the Infantry School's Communications Department, served as toastmaster. Capt. Ralph H. Dehner of Greensboro, N.C., directed a 45-voice choir of company-grade officers in singing "The Corps" and "Airmail Mater."

Greetings from Major Gen. Garrison H. Davidson, USMA superintendent, were played by transcription. Courtesy of the messages from a cademy groups at Ft. Clayton, Canal Zone, Ft. Monroe, Va.; Ramsey Air Force Base, Puerto Rico; Tucson, Ariz.; Ankara, Turkey; Okinawa; Berlin Germany; Miami, Fla.; Tokyo, Japan; Korea; Paris, France; and Alaska.

Following the dinner, the guests sang academy songs and viewed films entitled "The Making of a West Pointer" and "This Is West Point."

Post to See 'Personality Girl'

An 18-hole golf exhibition featuring two professional women from the Spaulding & Bros. golf advisory staff will be played at the Ft. Benning Country Club this Sunday at 1 p.m.

The exhibition will feature women pros, Fay Crocker, women's National Open champion and Marilyn Smith, golf's personality girl. Also included in the scheduled foursome will be the Ft. Benning golf pro, Harper, golf pro from Country Club.

The public is cordially welcome to come and watch the exhibition. Admission is free.

Marilyn Smith, the vivacious blonde member of A. G. Spaulding & Bros., famous Golf Advisory Staff, has completed an enviable record in American Women's golf competition during recent years.

Affectionally known throughout the length and breadth of the land as the personality girl of golf — and one of the greatest players, too — Marilyn once pitched, coached and managed a boys' basketball team in her native Wichita, Kansas.

Army Team Wins Flamingo Crown

BY JERRY ARMSTRONG

The U. S. Army blue squad topped the team event at the Flamingo Open Pistol Matches at Coral Gables, Fla., last week.

The shooting of Sgt. Benner, coach of the U. S. Military Academy Pistol Team, entered the final day of firing trail ing 1st Lt. William C. McMillen of the U. S. Marine Corps by four points.

New National Record His near perfect firing in the .45 caliber event, including a new national record of 2007 x's in the slow fire match, proved too much for Lt. McMillen.

Sgt. Benner finished with an aggregate score of 2,615-109 x's to lead Lt. McMillen by eight points.

The blue squad placed second by anchorman Sgt. Benner topped home with his second consecutive top score of less than a week. The team amassed a combined aggregate score of 3,869 x's, the best the U. S. Border Patrol with a 3,422-128 x's.

The squad took top team honors in the Mid-Winter Pistol Matches in Tampa, Fla., on the way to gaining its first second team title the Army blue squad set a new national record in the .22 caliber event by an aggregate score of 1,178-46 x's.

Members of the blue squad were: Sgt. William B. Blankenburgh, Jr., of Richmond, Va., 29th Army Band, Ft. Jay, N. Y., and Sgt. Benner.

Pete to Be Released From Duty Thursday

Ft. Benning's Olympic heavyweight boxing champion, 1st Lt. Pete Rademacher will be released from active duty with the Army to be effective March 28.

Rademacher, a reserve officer, has been in the Army since June 1954, entering from Washington State College where he had received his commission as a second lieutenant.

After serving the required two year obligation as a reserve officer, the 23-year-old lieutenant applied for an extension of his category. He has presently served nine months of this extension.

The Olympic gold medal winner's reason for applying for release from active duty is, in his own words: "I feel that I have accomplished what was expected of me as an officer in my four years of duty with the Army. I believe that I can serve my country better as a civilian in the capacity of a civilian."

Continuing the young lieutenant added, "I have enjoyed my experiences in the Army and will forever be grateful to them for giving me the opportunity not only to compete in the 1952 Olympic Games, but also for furthering my education."

In his future plans, 1st Lt. Rademacher gave no indication whether or not they included a professional boxing career.

The recent winner of the Sportswriters and Broadcasters Inland Empire Men of the Year award in Seattle, Wash., Rademacher expressed a desire to fully exploit all the possibilities of a new national youth organization.

TOM WIERZBICKI
Will Pete Turn Professional?

Being released from active duty is a big day in any man's life. But, if you are an Olympic boxing champion it's an even bigger day.

Word of Lt. Pete Rademacher's release from active duty next Thursday has this corner, as well as the sports world, wondering... will he turn professional???

Rademacher who recently won the Sportswriters and Broadcasters Inland Empire Man of the Year award in Seattle, Wash., has still made no announcement as to his professional pugilistic desires. But, on the other hand, he will not say he won't fight professionally.

What will it be, Pete?
Is Age A Factor?
Many boxing enthusiasts feel that Pete's age (he's 28) is a definite detrimental factor to be considered in fighting as a pro. This may be true in most cases, but anyone who knows the slugger from the Northwest or has seen him in action will go along with me in saying "age don't mean nothin' to Pete".

Rademacher is a boxer who loves to train. This unusual trait seldom found in today's crop of fighters, is to Pete's advantage. It will be cold day in Madison before you find Rademacher not in tip-top shape once he's in the ring.

Pete has just returned from a 30-day leave to New York, Seattle, Chicago and parts unknown. In New York, he conferred with such top men in boxing as Julius Helland, president of the New York boxing commission; Jim Farley, former boxing commissioner; Gene Tunney, former heavyweight champion; and Col. Eddie Egan, president of the International Sports Association. I wonder what they were talking about? Probably who is going to win the world series!

While in Seattle to receive the Inland Empire Men of the Year award, Rademacher talked shop with the legendary flight boxing manager on the West Coast.

Conferred With Al Weil
Even further still, it was no mere coincidence that Pete and Al Weil, former manager of Rocky Marciano, the retired and undefeated heavyweight champion, were in Seattle at the same time for the North-West Glove tournament. Weil is known to be very close to Jim Norris, the head of International Boxing Club which has a practical monopoly on boxing in America.

To add to the above speculation, Rademacher after being discharged, will fly to Washington, D. C., for a sports benefit for former heavyweight champion, Joe Louis, who is having his personal income tax difficulties. I wouldn't be the least surprised to find Pete back home in Spokane to referee the Northwest Golden Gloves.

The young lieutenant has just returned from the Interservice Boxing tournament at Newport, R. I. as the winner of the championship of the All-Army entry. He also was OIC for the Third Army boxing team in the All-Army tourney at Ft. Campbell, Ky. There he went into a huddle with Nat Fleischer, famed boxing expert and editor of Ring Magazine.

Fleischer presented the Frank Pace, Jr. trophy to Lt. Rademacher at the closing ceremonies of the All-Army tourney.

What does this all lead up to?? Your guess is as good as mine. My interpretation adds up to the same thing every time. I wouldn't be the least surprised to see Pete turn professional.

RCT Diamond Stars Begin Workouts

Shouts of "Ummmm, kid, throw me in there, hit the mat," were heard at Briant Wells Field House every afternoon as the 29th RCT baseball team limbers in preparation for Regimental League play.

Lt. William Cosidine of Cranston, R. I., M. Co., 29th RCT, is coaching the 29th RCT ball team this year. A graduate of the University of Rhode Island where he participated in baseball and football, Lt. Cosidine has had his battery candidates working out since March 4.

At a recent interview, Lt. Cosidine commented, "We show promise of having a good pitching staff. However, we are anxious to find two good left-handed hurlers."

Mt. Sgt. John Rivolta, Hq. & Hq. Co., 29th RCT, who led the 29th RCT ball team to the post championship, is the team trainer. M. Sgt. Tommie Mobley is the manager for the club.

Coach Cosidine has had four candidates for the post championship. He is working out at Briant Wells, in field and outfield candidate reported last Monday.

The Regimental League is scheduled to open its slate in May but the 29th RCT will have some exhibition games before the regular season opens. There is a tentative game arranged with the Dominican Republic Army baseball team sometime in April.

Headquarters and Headquarters Co. won the 29th RCT Volleyball Championship by registering two straight victories over Medical Co. last week at Briant Wells Field House.

Hq. & Hq. Co. led by the sparkling stars of team captain, SFC Enliquo Padilla, won the first game of the double elimination game in event time, 17-15. The proximity of the two finalists play is seen in the fact that Hq. & Hq. Co. served six times before they finally scored the winning point.

Hq. & Hq. Co. built up an early 8-3 lead in the second game and held on tenaciously for a 15-8 verdict. Using set-up passes to their advantage, SFC Padilla, Pvt. Earl Van Horn and Pvt. Don Whitehouse spiked the ball out of the reach of the stubborn Medics.

The setup by Lt. George F. Beckhardt, PFC Bob Connors and Pvt. Athanasios Andronikos added the champ's cause greatly.

Mt. Sgt. Norman Mekelson, Hq. & Hq. Co. coached by team winners, PFC Paul Lamb and SSG Bill Lardard provide Coach Beckhardt with strong reserve strength.

Pvt. Joe Paulson, 2nd Cml. Co., played a fine net game for the losers. Other members of the 29th RCT runner-ups are SFC Herb Crank, SFC George Back, Sgt. Baboykyte, Sgt. Eddie McIntosh, Sgt. Lee Howard, PFC John Bartoline and PFC Otto Redding.

POST WINNER... 1st Lt. David Cartes, right, a member of the U.S. Army Pistol Team competing in the 26th Annual National Mid-Winter Pistol Championships in Tampa, Fla., is congratulated by Lt. Col. William A. Hancock, USAAMU after Cartes won the .22 caliber championship with his score of 836 with 32 X's. Both Cartes and Hancock are stationed here.

Former Pro Fighter

Sgt. Scala Passes Time Producing World Champs

BY TOM WIERZBICKI

A veteran of professional pugilistic wars who has spent 32 years in boxing and has had a hand in producing two former world middleweight champions, has reverted to a desk soldier at Ft. Benning, Ga.

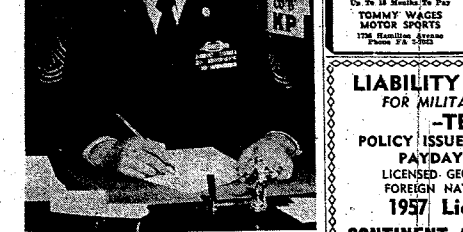

Starting as a carnival fighter, Sgt. Scala, presently the first sergeant of Co. B, 1st Special Troops Bn., has seen a successful career both as a fighter and coach, culminated when Marcel Cerdon and Karl Bobo Olson won world championship.

Two Promising Youngsters Presently, two of Sgt. Scala's military proteges who have turned pro since leaving the service, middleweight Joe Bagley and lightweight Mickey Dwyer, are enjoying successful pugilistic careers.

Facilities Better Today Facilities for fighters today are 100 per cent improved over past years. Training methods are a bright contrast to former years. But, even with these Scala contends that the fight scene of former years were in better condition once they stepped into the ring.

Why? "It's simple," the former fighter answered. "Lack of training facilities was the reason the boys had to get themselves in shape. And they stayed that way. One factor in rank where young Scala won those days that is not prevalent in today's crop of fighters."

At the age of 19, Tony turned pro. His first fight was with Bobby Mesa, a New Jersey fighter, who is presently a trainer at Harrison, N.J. Tony left via Mansfield, Ohio, was one of ten A TKO on the result of a severe concussion out over more than a year.

SCALA AT WORK... Former professional fighter, M-Sgt. Tony Scala, has reverted to a desk sergeant. He is presently the first sergeant of Co. B, 1st Special Troops Bn.

Marines Win Interservice Boxing Title

Only one Army victory was tallied in the Interservice Boxing Tournament held last week at Newport, R. I., which saw the Marine Corps walk off with team honors.

The Marines won four team championships in training camp honors. However, closely following was the Air Force team with three victories and the Navy with two.

The Army's sole winner was Heavyweight Allen Hudson of Ft. Campbell, Ky. Hudson won a unanimous decision from Dave Robinson of the Marines.

Other final results: 112 lbs. Don Adams (Air Force) vs. 112 lbs. Don Adams (Air Force) vs. 112 lbs. Don Adams (Air Force).

In discussing boxing, he is conditioning. "Conditioning is 50 per cent of the game," Scala says. "It is one thing that I have always had my service boxers do. It's in top physical condition. If they are ready physically, that's all they need. The 'boxes' in them will determine the final outcome."

In Bobo's Corner The night of the Young Fight, Tony was in Olson's corner as Bobo's better Buddy Young to gain the right to meet Turpin for the title. However, before this title fight met, Frank Scala was on his way to Germany.

In May of last year, Scala returned to the states. This time it was to Fort Benning. For a while he coached the post boxing team, but other commitments forced him to give it up.

Two years later the returned to the United States where he was assigned to Ft. J. M. Smith, N.J. He remained there as a boxing coach until the outbreak of the Korean War.

Meeting Held To Coordinate USAR Training

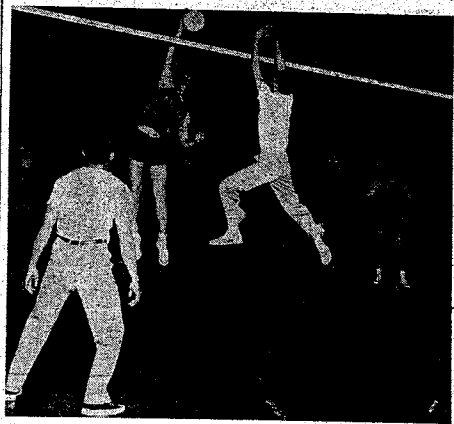

Approximately 40 Army Reserve officers, representing Engineer Corps units scheduled to undergo two weeks of training here this summer, met with 1st Army and Infantry Center officials at the post March 16.

The conference was held to coordinate plans and requirements for the program that begins July 7, when 178 officers and enlisted men of the Army Reserve Engineer School will undergo training with the 1st Engineer Group.

The senior officer at the meeting was Brig. Gen. (Reserve) George A. Morris, of Vicksburg, Miss., commander of the 14th Engineer Brigade which will begin its training here, Aug. 4.

Other U.S. Reserve Engineer organizations to train at the post this summer are the 41st Brigade, beginning Aug. 18, the 43rd Construction Bn. and the 92nd Bn., Aug. 25.

Two National Guard Engineer units also will train here from June 9 to 23. They are the 106th and 125th Engineer Co's.

JERRY ARMSTRONG Benning Anglers Net Big Catches

It seems that the balmy weather and Spring fever have taken their toll of veterans during the last week as the weather bug once again struck hundreds of Benning fishermen — not to exclude the female anglers who also get a big kick out of casting a hook and line in the old fishing hole.

SFC Albert Johnston, range guard in charge of Ft. Benning's ponds, said that the rush was really on him and his wife, who share the job of renting out the post fish and Game Association's 74 boats, to the hundreds of people wanting to rent them over the weekend.

It would estimate around 1500 anglers fished out 13 ponds on post open for fishing from Friday through Sunday. The greatest success is open longer for fishing, amount was done in King's Pond, said SFC Johnston.

Big catches of bass, bluegill broom and crappie were reported from King's, M. Sgt. Brown Nobles, 24th Evacuation Hospital, caught the largest bass with one upping the scales at seven pounds.

Crappies being the most abundant in large catches over the post with several nice strings of broom caught on the 13 ponds. Weeds and McMurtrie Ponds.

An unusual report for early in the Spring comes from several fishermen who fish the Alabama side of the reservation. They have reported several catches of striped or most commonly called in freshwater — rock bass.

The reports said they were moving up the Chattahoochee into the opening areas where the fish usually migrate to spawn. The first fish taken weighed over three pounds and was a terrific sport on light tackle.

These eager fighters may be taken readily with several different methods, when caught in schools traveling to the breeding areas. Live minnows, small flies and worms are the best baits for most clearwater streams.

Permits needed for fishing in the smaller, fished-in shallow waters. Trolling has also been effective when schools of game fish are found.

Film Crew At Benning

An eleven-man crew from Warner Brothers Studio in Hollywood, Calif., began shooting background scenes for the motion picture, "Dart's Range" starring Charlton Heston to stand Aldo-Ray here March 18.

The motion picture team is filming scenes at The Infantry School's Ranger Department training sites on the reservation and at Dalton, Ga.

The story is based on the exploits of the late Brig. Gen. William O. Darby's original 1st Ranger Bn. which engaged in commando-type warfare during World War II in Europe and Africa.

Two post officers were company commanders in Gen. Darby's first unit. They are Col. Roy A. Murray, director of The Infantry School's Staff Department, and Col. Max F. Schneider, deputy commander of the School Brigade.

Col. Joseph W. Sisson Jr., 24th RCT commanding officer, was reviewing officer and M. Sgt. Joseph Garner, 24th RCT sergeant-major, was commander of troops. M. Sgt. Paul W. Ragan, Tank Co., 24th Inf., was the provisional Battalion commanding officer for the review.

Col. Sisson presented the rifle championship trophy to the 2d Bn., 24th Inf. The runner-up rifle trophy went to the 1st Bn., 24th Inf.

SFC Shelly Sherfield, Co. M, SFC Rufus Tillis, Co. H, M. Sgt. Carl O'Neil Lewis, Co. M, won first, second and third place in the individual rifle competition.

The 2nd Tank Co. and 550th Tank Co. team accepted the pistol championship trophy. M. Sgt. Edgar M. Crowe, Co. F, received first, second and third place trophies respectively in the individual pistol matches.

2 Get Cash Awards

A soldier and civilian employee of the Transportation Section were presented cash awards March 14 for money saving suggestions in their jobs.

M. Sgt. John R. Young and Timothy J. Johnson were presented incentive awards by Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, Infantry Center deputy commanding officer.

Sgt. Young, motor maintenance non-commissioned officer, received $25 as first prize in the quarterly Third Army suggestion contest. It was the third honor that the soldier has earned for his proposal that a V-type towing bar can be utilized for moving disabled vehicles.

Previously Sgt. Young received an Infantry Center Certificate of Achievement, $25 as first prize in the post incentive award competition. Infantry Center officials estimate that the adoption of his "VCO-of-the-Month" for the 1st Engineer Group for the month of February, SFC Flanagan is a section leader (assault) in the 38th Engineer Co.

Flanagan entered the Army in December 1928 and received basic training at Ft. Bragg, N.C. Prior to taking up his present duties, he was a shop foreman at 1264th ASU, Ft. Dix, N.J.

Show Biz

TV Literally 'Goes to the Dogs'

Dog Story. . . . They have been saying it for some time, and now it has happened. Literally, TV has gone to the canines. . . Ken Murray, now an executive at NBC-TV, plans to film a series on the K-9 Corps of WWII for fall unveiling. Some sort of a canine computing record seems to be involved. Footage will be shot in George Ray, Labrador, and dogs from Ft. Carson, Colo. will be used.

You're an odd-timer in Our Town if you remember sidewalk crowds watching restaurant chefs lean flapjacks high in the air. Now you watch an even more spectacular show—pizza being made. . . The new champagne star of NBC-TV's "Today" is called Kokomo Jr., whose boss is Nick Carraway, an ex-Marine from Rome, N.Y. Unfinished business. . . If you watched the "Playhouse '57" production of "The Last Tycoon" and thought the ending a little about, don't worry about it. Authored by P. Scott Fitzgerald, the manuscript was unfinished when Fitzgerald died in 1940—and that's exactly the way it was presented on TV.

Just in case you didn't know or wondered. . . Mel and Joe Ferrer are not related. . . Also that MGM beauty Barbara Lang claims she does her best thinking in a tub. . . They said to Oscar-winning Ernest Borgnine, "You Ain't Nuthin' But a Hound Dog." In "They" we're CBS of San Diego Naval Station at a party honoring the "Marty" of movie fame, who is an ex-chief gunner's mate. Senior was Seaman Danny Turner, who has won considerable local fame as a folk music singer.

Six Caesar will soon be "discovered" by TV wise men. Three. Playish James Blaylock has asked to be released from her three-year contract. . . In the nominations for Academy Awards, Warner Bros. "Giant" came up with ten separate bids. "Look" magazine in their annual motion picture awards gave the nod in three categories — best actor, best director and most promising new actress — to the same re-nominated movie.

Jill Corey will be "Hit Parade" next fall. . . Warren Hall, m.c. of "Strike It Rich," was a visitor to the Purris Island Marine Recreant from Dept. see his son graduate from boot training there. . . Army recruiters will soon be armed with a one-reel cartoon entitled "Drafty, Don't Hit!" starring an animated character named Willie, N. List.

SMILES . . . The sun-warmed ocean sparkles up the beach here to be dimmed by the loveliness of Gloria Howard, a Cypress Gardens Aquanaut. This clear-eyed, dark-haired lass has a reason—if you really need one—for that broad smile that contrasts the sun in its brightness. She is showing her naturally sunny nature in honor of National Smile Week, something the life good reason to practice 52 weeks a year.

The home of the Infantry is approximately 3,500 students on-the-job training in various messes throughout the post un-annually in carrying out the mission. These courses are mess administration, mess management and the basic cook's course.

The old adage that an army travels on its stomach is one of the guiding principles of the structures at the Third Army Food Service School.

A staff of one officer, four warrant officers, 64 enlisted personnel and four civilians operate the School.

The teaching program is divided into two categories, the study and practice. Students study theory and cooking procedures used in Army mess halls and field kitchens and get on the job.

Church Holds Forty Hour Devotional

Past Catholics conducted a three-day religious observance of Forty Hours Adoration beginning at a High Mass at 10 a.m. March 17 in the Main Post Catholic Chapel.

A solemn ceremonial opening session highlighted the opening Mass as the Blessed Sacrament was carried through the church by the priest, Chaplain (Major) Thomas D. McGrath.

As the procession ended, the Sacrament was exposed on the altar for the 40-hour devotion period. Members of the parish kept a perpetual day and night watch through the closing ceremonies.

At 7:30 p.m. March 19 a Mass of Repetition was held. The Forty Hour program closed with the color and traditional procession, in which the Sacrament was carried again throughout the church and returned to the tabernacle.

Special indulgences may be obtained by participation in the Forty Hours Adoration. The regular 11 a.m. and 12 p.m.

717 Students Begin Training Here This Week

Six classes with 717 students are beginning at the Infantry School next week.

An airborne class with 300 members and a 94-man Ranger class began March 18. On March 20, 45 students entered an Infantry communications enlisted class and 49 men started motor transportation class instruction.

Today, 207 officers will start basic officers instruction. Approximately 100 men will be held for radio maintenance class No. 3 today at 2:15 p.m.

At Demonstrations Here M-Sgt. Has Performed For Many Dignitaries

President Eisenhower, ex-President Truman and the late ex-President F. D. Roosevelt are a few of the dignitaries whom M-Sgt. William Swindle has fired demonstrations on the 81 mortar.

The popular first sergeant of Heavy Mortar Co. cites these demonstrations as the biggest thrill in his twenty years in the Army. He commented, "When you're out in front of all these people you just can't make a mistake."

M-Sgt. Swindle has several letters of commendation to testify to his fine marksmanship. After completing a score of years in the Army, he chose to remain with the Heavy Mortar Co. because, as he says, "I think we're doing a wonderful job here."

On Weapons Committee M-Sgt. Swindle spent eight years on the Weapons Committee at Benning. In 1944 the mortar expert taught at an officer's candidate school at Fountainebleau, France.

From 1950 to 1953 he was stationed in Trieste where he spent the most enjoyable tour of his military career. While stationed at Trieste, the master sergeant took the opportunity to travel throughout Europe.

Italy Most Pleasant
In his opinion, Italy is the most pleasant place he visited. He explained that the Italians aren't shocked by inhibitions and added, "The Italians are fine people—they feel free to do as they please. They really know how to enjoy life."

He commented on the wonderful climate in Italy and the increased the delicious Italian cooking. In the summer months, M-Sgt. Swindle took advantage of the climate by indulging in one of his favorite sports, golf.

Served in Korea
In 1954, Swindle went to Korea to serve with the 24th Division. This assignment enabled him to visit Japan.

The first sergeant noted that the Army has shown improvement during his score of years in the service. He said, "We have better equipment and a higher caliber of men nowadays."

M-Sgt. Swindle is especially proud of Heavy Mortar Co. Referring to his men, he said, "Their fine performance is what makes this a good company."

and in the European-Middle Eastern Theaters and, after hostilities ceased, served with the American Forces in the Occupation of Germany.

In 1948 he was relieved from active duty as a captain and was assigned to the 3rd Division's Military Police Co. M-Sgt. Swindle was assigned to the U. S. Army Infantry Board at Fort Benning from July, 1950, to September, 1951. After attending Yale University at New Haven, Conn., two years, he received a master's degree in international relations in June, 1952.

He served in the Plans Division's International Branch of the Department of the Army G-3 Office six months before being named chief of the Plans Division's National Security Council Section in January, 1955.

McCroly Is Named To TIS Job

Col. Dorsey E. McCroly has been named assistant to the director of The Infantry School's Tactical Department.

He served with the U. S. Military Assistance Advisory Group in Korea from September, 1953, until coming here.

The special officer was promoted to his present rank in December, 1954. A 1939 Distinguished Military Graduate of Texas Agricultural and Mechanical College, he served in the European Theater 14 months during World War II.

Among his decorations are the Silver Star, Legion of Merit and Bronze Star Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster.

Col. McCroly was assigned to the U. S. Army Infantry Board at Fort Benning from July, 1950, to September, 1951. After attending Yale University at New Haven, Conn., two years, he received a master's degree in international relations in June, 1952.

DivArty CO Receives 1st Star At Post Ceremonies This Week

An honor guard at 9 a.m. March 26 on Chapel Field saluted the promotion of the 3rd Div's artillery command-er, William A. Harris, from colonel to brigadier general.

Gen. Harris is acting commander of the 3rd Div. during the temporary absence of Brig. Gen. Roy E. Lindquist, division commander, and Brig. Gen. Frederick H. Zerath, division assistant commander, to participate in Exercise King Cole at Ft. Polk, La.

An 18-gun salute was fired by the Infantry Center's honor guard battery, Battery C of the 3rd P.A. Bn., commanded by 1st Lt. Alfred J. Cunningham.

Other units in the ceremony were the Infantry Center's honor guard company, Co. C of the 29th Inf. Reg., commanded by Capt. John G. Dawson, and a composite Infantry Center Band.

In the reviewing line were key Infantry Center and U.S. Army Infantry School staff officers and 3rd Div. commanders.

These include Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commander, Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, deputy commander, Col. Z. Z. Tyler Jr., chief of staff, Col. Henry Koepcke Jr., G-1, Col. Alfred C. Boatman, G-2, Col. Claude M. Howard, G-3, Col. Kenneth W. Wallace, G-4, Col. James T. Gull, comptroller, and 1st Lt. G. C. Porter, aide-de-camp to Gen. Powell, all of the Infantry Center.

Representing the Infantry School were Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commander, and Col. William H. Billings, deputy assistant commander.

3rd Div. Officers included Haskett L. Conner Jr., chief of staff; Col. William M. Summers, Seventh Infantry Combat Command commander; Col. Samuel T. McDowell, 15th RCT commander; Lt. Col. Robert A. Roberts, Ninth Field Artillery Battalion commander;

Ceremonies Set For Anniversary

The Post will mark the golden anniversary of the Infantry School with a special review April 1.

The affair commemorating 50 years of service to the nation by the institution will be held in front of the Infantry School at 7:45 a.m.

The reading of a proclamation and a short address by Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Infantry School commander, will highlight the ceremony to be attended by both the officers' advanced and associate officers' advanced classes.

Gen. Powell's speech will be proceeded by flag raising ceremonies and the playing of the Star Spangled Banner by a U. S. Army Infantry Center band.

Bellefleurs from Lawson Army Air Field will fly in formation overhead.

Has Trained America's Greatest Fighting Men

For half a century, the Infantry School has fulfilled its vital mission of developing and training the leaders of the world's greatest fighting force, the American foot soldier.

The entire free world can pause April 1 to mark the golden anniversary of the Army's largest educational institution, whose success is manifested by the deeds and achievements of its alumni.

President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gen. George C. Marshall, Gen. Omar N. Bradley, Gen. James Van Fleet and Gen. Matthew B. Ridgway all have received at least part of their military education here.

Today the Infantry School, headed by Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, nears its operation towards the final objective of training the Infantryman to close with and destroy the enemy.

In the words of Gen. Powell, "Until a bomber can occupy a city or a submarine can capture a hull, our country will depend on the man with a rifle, the U. S. Army Infantryman."

Initial Attempts
The initial attempt to establish a school of arms by the government was the short-lived Infantry School of Instruction formed in 1826 at St. Louis, Mo.

GIs Can Get MP Jobs At Benning

Ever get the feeling as you pass a sharply dressed military policeman, there's a pair of highly shined boots you'd like to see?

With his attire of helmet liner, white pressed uniform, white gloves and a cap that bugs his hip, the MP has become a traditional landmark on the Army post.

How can you become a member of the military police? There are many vacancies for qualified personnel.

"First choice for men at present are for soldiers below the rank of sergeant first class, seven feet six inches, and have a GT (General Test) score of 90 or better," said Major Albert J. Widmer of Connelville, Pa., Infantry Center's deputy provost marshal.

Post to Change To Summer Garb Effective April 1

Infantry Center and 3d Infantry Division personnel will change to summer uniforms April 1.

All Third U.S. Army personnel at installations between the 32nd and 35th parallels will begin wearing the summer uniform that date and switch back to winter uniform Oct. 1.

Additionally, the white mess uniform and the evening dress uniform for officers and warrant officers are authorized for optional wear on appropriate occasions.

Posts, in addition to Ft. Benning, where personnel will don summer uniforms April 1 include Ft. Gordon and Ft. McPherson, Ga.; Ft. Jackson, S.C.; and Ft. McClellan and Redstone Arsenal, Ala.

Varied Acts Entered In 3-A Talent Contest

BY JERRY ARMSTRONG

Entertainers from Alabama, three categories each night in Kentucky will flood into Ft. Benning for the big, gala Third Army level of the All-Army Entertainment Contest which will be staged in the Main Theater April 19.

April 19 will feature the varied acts including both amateur and professional talent, doing everything from singing to the blues to standing on their heads during final rehearsal time.

The final four nights of the festive contest will see the elimination period for crowning the king or queen of the seven live categories. The first and second nights (April 6-7) will probably have two champions crowned each night, with the other category being taken care of April 13.

The colorful finale (April 9) will see the two finalists in each category competing for the coveted crowns. Each of the final eliminations will begin at 8 p.m.

Post to Show Cancer Film For Women

The Columbus Chapter of the American Cancer Society will show a film especially for women March 29 at 9:30 a.m. in the Main Theater. A doctor from the Post hospital will give a commentary with the film and hold a discussion period following the presentation. The 28-minute film, titled "Breast Self-Examination," was prepared on this special phase of cancer by the American Cancer Society and the National Cancer Institute.

Part of the Cancer Society's nation-wide education program, the film is designed to educate and inform women about a type of cancer which 29,000 women die yearly. Research and study have shown that 90 per cent of these fatalities are curable. The film points out methods of self-detection as well as instances when a doctor should be consulted.

Presenting the program to women of the post is part of the intensive effort of the society to reach the entire community in its educational and service activities. Representatives of the Columbus chapter pointed out the three-fold purpose of the American Cancer Society, education, research and patient service. Patient service for needy persons, whether civilian or military, is available on request at the society office, No. 100 Exchange Building, 13th Street in Columbus. Hospital visits, wheelchairs, bandages, crutches and similar care can be furnished without cost.

Post Kids To Study Citizenship

The second annual Americanism program sponsored by the post chapter No. 18, National Post Office School of Citizenship, is underway in the Main Theater. The program of competitive participation by the various grades of the school is being conducted from March 8 to April 6.

The purpose is to assist in emphasizing to the children the privileges and obligations of citizenship in America as they are expressed in everyday living.

Chairman of the project is Lt. Col. Morton S. Jaffe, legal instructor with the Personnel Group of The Infantry School's Staff Department. He is the school's chairman and superintendent.

In conducting the Americanism program each school has planned its own participation to be accommodated in the regular school hours. Children of the lower grades have selected projects such as posters, stories, flashcards, booklets, crayon drawings and murals to indicate their appreciation and its meaning to them.

The upper grade children are preparing papers on various Americanism subjects. The projects and papers will be judged and awarded at the close of the program in April. Parents and the public will be invited to see the outstanding work accomplished by students and faculty.

Officers Attend Dam Dedication

Five post officers were among the 5,000 visitors at the dedication ceremonies of the Jim Woodruff Dam near Chattahoochee, Fla., March 23. The post group included Col. Eugene M. Elliott Jr., Infantry Center transportation officer; Capt. Eugene M. Elliott, Jr., Infantry Center transportation officer; Capt. Eugene M. Elliott, Jr., Infantry Center transportation officer; Capt. Eugene M. Elliott, Jr., Infantry Center transportation officer; Capt. Eugene M. Elliott, Jr., Infantry Center transportation officer.

Two other post officers from the 88th Engineer Company, Sgt. Max Yarb and SFC M. L. Speed also attended the ceremonies on the chartered bus, which carried civilian and military persons under the sponsorship of the Columbus Chamber of Commerce.

Lindquist Welcomed To Post March 20

Honor guard ceremonies at 10:35 a.m. March 20 on Chapel Hill welcomed Brig. Gen. Roy E. Lindquist to the post as new commander of the 3d Div.

An 11-gun salute was fired by the honor guard battery, Battery C of the 2nd FA Bn, commanded by Lt. Alfred J. Ombroggi.

Other units participating in the ceremony were The Infantry Center's honor guard company, Co. C of the 28th Inf. Regt., commanded by Capt. John C. Dawson, and composite Infantry Center bands.

In the reviewing party were 11 key Infantry Center and Infantry School staff officers. They included Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commander; Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, deputy commander; Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commander; Col. O. Z. Tyler, chief of staff; Col. William H. Billings, deputy assistant commander; Col. A. C. Boatman, G-2; Col. Claude M. Howard, G-3; Col. James E. Gall, comptroller; Col. Kenneth W. Wallace, G-4; Col. Henry Koopke, Jr., G-1; and Capt. Leon McCall, Jr., aide-de-camp to Gen. Powell.

Gen. Lindquist was honored at an informal coffee in Gen. Powell's office following the honor guard. At 9 a.m. he was escorted to the 3d Div., where he was greeted by Brig. Gen. Frederick R. Zierach, assistant division commander, and a division honor guard.

The new 3d Army Division commander was assigned to the post last May as deputy commanding general of The Infantry Center. Since July 2, 1956, he has served as deputy chief of staff of the 1st Army. Gen. Lindquist was nominated for two-star rank last week.

He is expected to return to Benning March 30.

Brig. Gen. Frederick R. Zierach, assistant division commander, met Gen. Lindquist at the exercise site near Ft. Polk, La. Gen. Zierach is commanding the 3d Div. elements in the great command post exercise "Jump Light" at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Gen. Lindquist was nominated for two-star rank last week.

Record Concert Set Tuesday

The recorded concert at the Post Library on Tuesday evening will feature a program of very different compositions. The Slavonic Dances by Dvorak in Rhapsody in Blue by Gershwin.

The Slavonic Dances by Dvorak are written in a very intimate and personal style. The composer saturated with traditions by temperament and by experience was able to combine elements of popular style and of conventional art.

The Rhapsody in Blue is unquestionably Lisztian in style. The composer saturated with traditions by temperament and by experience was able to combine elements of popular style and of conventional art.

The concert will begin at 8:00 hours.

School Notes Birthday

 Men, that of testing and re- search organization. The school developed a system of field firing and experimented with tactical use and unit organization of the machine gun.
 Almost as soon as the school was settled in its new location, the Mexican border raids broke out, drawing practically the entire personnel of the school to field duty. As a result, the school remained dormant until just before the U. S. entry into World War I.
 With war clouds approaching the Fort Sill location proved inadequate for the entire program of the school and classes were held at Camp Perry, Ohio, and Camp Hancock, Ga. During the final days of the first world war, a committee was organized to recommend a site for a post to become the home of The Infantry School. Col. H. E. Eames, destined to become the first post commander, was in charge of this group that selected Columbus, Ga.
 In order to solidify relations between the city and the school, Col. Eames and several members of his staff conferred with prominent citizens of Columbus before recommending a name for the new post. They finally decided on Benning in memory of Major Gen. Henry L. Benning, a Confederate hero from this area during the War Between the States. Col. Eames did not consult Washington about the name until after the flag raising by Miss Anna Benning, daughter of the general, which officially opened the installation. Unanimous approval came immediately from Washington. Soon after the camp opened, however, the area to the east of Columbus proved to be too small to meet the needs of the school and Col. Eames was forced to look for another site. The present location was assured when the administrators of the Bussey Plantation sold the land to the government for about $400 and work on the new camp began.

Second Crisis
 The second crisis occurred at the termination of World War I, when an economy minded War Department abandoned the idea of an Infantry School and ordered construction abandoned and salvage work to start. The use of that terminology was actually the only thing that saved the post.
 Major John Paul Jones, in charge of the operation referred to the school "salvage" according to Webster's Dictionary. It states salvage means to save, and so he ordered the buildings painted instead of torn down.
 Col. Eames, in the meantime, was called to Washington for consultation. He convinced the authorities to allow the post to continue and expand as the peacetime Infantry School. Money was then appropriated and the future of The Infantry School was assured.

EARLY COMMUNICATIONS . . . Students from The U. S. Army Infantry School set up a front line communications on a field problem at Fort Benning in the early years after World War I.

ment to his memory was erected which stands today at the rear of The Infantry School. His epiphany reads, "Calculator, Born 7, Died August 28, 1923. He made better dogs of us all."
 In 1925, the structure that was to become the nerve center of the post was completed. The Infantry School, constructed of reinforced concrete and trimmed with Indiana limestone, the edifice today serves as school headquarters, and almost a personification of the mission to which the school is dedicated.
 Functions Enlarged
 With the threat of war approaching in 1933, the functions of the school became more complex and enlarged manifold.
 The airborne department was opened, providing three weeks of the most physically and mentally exhausting training a soldier can undergo. Today the parachute school, redesignated the Airborne-Air Mobility Department, does more than just train students to jump. It conducts research and tests on methods of utilizing aircraft for the transportation and support of ground troops.
 In July, 1941, the first officer candidate class was formed. More than 50,000 officers received commissions at The U. S. Infantry.

Instruction at the school is given by various academic departments in much the same manner as any college. The departments give staff, Ranger, tactical, airborne, (automotive) and weapons instruction. The Department of Non-Resident Instruction can be compared with an extension division, giving courses by correspondence to Infantry personnel unable to attend the school personally.
 On its 50th anniversary, The U. S. Army Infantry School continues its mission as the training ground for the organization that is still unexcelled as the Queen of Battle, the U. S. Infantry.

AIR MOBILITY . . . Army helicopters demonstrate air mobility in an artillery lift problem at The Infantry School's Airborne-Air Mobility Department. Modern concepts of air mobility show the coordination between air and ground forces as artillery pieces are dropped into simulated battle areas by helicopter.

TWO SHARP SOLDIERS . . . M-Sgt. George E. Allen, Co. B, 3d Sig Bn, seems to be standing inspection for his son, Cadet SFC George E. Allen, Jr., a student at Baker High School in Columbus. Young Allen was recently named "Outstanding Cadet in the Muscogee School District." Young Allen scored 278 out of a possible 300 points in the competition for the title which is sponsored by the Military Order of World Wars. He hopes to attend the United States Military Academy after graduating from high school.

Major John Paul Jones, in charge of the operation referred to the school "salvage" according to Webster's Dictionary. It states salvage means to save, and so he ordered the buildings painted instead of torn down.
 Col. Eames, in the meantime, was called to Washington for consultation. He convinced the authorities to allow the post to continue and expand as the peacetime Infantry School. Money was then appropriated and the future of The Infantry School was assured.

Like any civilian university, The Infantry School has been able to establish its own personality and traditions down through the years. For example, one of the landmarks of the school is a memorial to a dog named Calculator.
 The pup with a crippled front paw was a mascot to both students and instructors from general down to private. He was a constant companion to the soldiers both in the classroom and out in field problems. When he died in 1922, a monument to his memory was erected which stands today at the rear of The Infantry School.

PROMOTED . . . 1st Lt. Drury L. Keesler, center, was promoted to his present rank effective March 17. Keesler is S-2 and assistant adjutant for The School Brigade.

TRIMMED AND ATTACHED . . . From World War II students of The Infantry School are shown during gas attack demonstration. These pictures depict the many changes which have been innovated into the training of students of today. The Infantry School will celebrate its 50th Anniversary April 15, 1957.

M-Sgt. Wins CA for Suggesting Improved Cost Accounting Form

An astounding suggestion which will save the post about $4,000 annually has earned an award for M-Sgt. William S. Suggs, who is assigned to The Infantry School Operations Office. He proposed a simplified cost accounting form for use under the Army Command Management System. The idea was presented by Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, deputy commanding general of The Infantry Center.
 The review methods of controlling cost under the system proposed by M-Sgt. Suggs, proved overlapping and involved additional ledger work, according to the review committee.
 The card suggested by M-Sgt. Suggs is inclusive within itself, eliminating the need for a clerk whose primary duty is posting cost funded items.
 Mrs. Thompson also presented 21 other awards for money-saving suggestions and outstanding performance of duties. Two hundred dollars was given to Mrs. Mildred P. Davis, Infantry Center Provost Marshal's Section, for sustained superior performance of duties.
 Mrs. Karen L. Kobay, Infantry Center Signal Section, received $100 for sustained superior performance.
 Approximately $500 will be saved annually by the addition of a test plug to dial telephone test sets. This proposal by M-Sgt. Lester, of the Signal Section, won an award of $50.
 Twenty-five dollars was presented to Betty I. Kearney, Signal Section, for suggesting that window envelopes be used for mailing telephone bills. The idea will save $45.00 per year.
 A first-place prize of $25 in the monthly Infantry Center military suggestion contest went to Capt. Clarence M. McDonald, Infantry Center Adjutant General's Section. His suggestion that the Adjutant General and Accounting Department Message Centers be consolidated will result in annual savings of $1,000. He received a Suggestion Award Certificate for this idea last month.
 A $10 military suggestion contest prize was won by M-Sgt. William R. Thomas, Third Bn, Benning's Thrift Shop, for suggesting that used tin lids of 16 in. Food Service School administration. This elimination of excess paper work will save $182.50 annually. Sgt. Thomas also previously received a Suggestion Award Certificate.
 Ten-dollar incentive awards were presented to Joseph A. Jackson, post Hospital; John H. Henderson and Luther L. Braswell, Infantry Center Engineer Section; Mrs. Betty C.

NAMED CHAIRMAN . . . Lt. Col. Boyd L. Brown has been named chairman of the Machine Gun Committee of The Infantry School Weapons Department. He succeeds Lt. Col. Harold H. Houser, new executive officer of the department. Col. Brown served a 16-month tour with I Corps headquarters in Korea before coming to the post.

Monologist to Give Show at Ft. Benning

A one-woman show, starring Mary Hutchinson, mistress of comedy and dramatic sketches, comes to Benning April 3. Miss Hutchinson, whose programs cover a wide range of characters of famous and dramatic personalities, as well as those of her own creation, will highlight the monthly meeting of the post Women's Club at 4:30 p.m. in the Main Officers' Mess.

The club also will hold its annual election of officers at the April meeting.

Miss Hutchinson will bring to her audience a unique program in the field of dramatic monology. The entire Broadway way star is known as one of the most talented and versatile young actresses.

When she first began her monologues, Miss Hutchinson worked out the idea of a convertible dressing room in which she changed her costumes on stage, while she introduced her next skit. As originator of this idea, she eliminated the time-consuming change time changing, greatly improving monologue dramatics.

For six seasons she has toured from coast to coast, appearing in most of the states and in the Canadian provinces.

Miss Hutchinson, who sings and dances as well as acts, attended the School of the American Ballet and the New York School of the Theater.

After studying for a time at Barnard College to become a Latin teacher, Miss Hutchinson auditioned as a dancer for Earl Carroll's "Varieties" and got the job. From there she went into "Lady Be Good," starring Fred and Adele Astaire. She made her first real hit in a comedy sketch in "Castles in the Air."

Receiving a call from the Charles Coburns, she joined them in their Broadway revue, "The Yellow Jacket," her first Broadway role on Broadway. She toured across country to California with the Coburns, and has another program all hit on the West Coast in "Bliss in 'Flow Thru'."

Signed by Warner Brothers, Miss Hutchinson appeared in comedies and technical shorts. While on the West Coast, she also played "Amateur" in "Peer Gynt" at the Pasadena Playhouse.

Again with the Charles Coburns on Broadway, she was in "Lydia" after which she appeared in many lesser-known plays in New York and on tour.

Popular in the famous east, she was in "Lydia" after which she played Emily in "Our Town" with Frank Craven. Miller in "Lightnin'" with Fred Stone. Maria in "A School for Scandal," Lydia Langrish in "The Merry Wives of Windsor" and many others.

Her Shakespeare roles include Juliet in "Romeo and Juliet," "Midsummer Night's Dream" with the Coburns, her in "Much Ado About Nothing," Ann Page in

Mass Held By Allied Officers

Philippine Army officers at the Infantry School attended a special Requiem High Mass at the Main Post Catholic Chapel at 5:15 p.m. March 25.

The Mass was offered for the repose of the soul of the late Philippine resident, Ramon Magasaysay, who was killed in an airplane accident March 17. Interment of this president's body took place in the Philippines Friday.

Also attending the Mass were children of the Spanish-speaking catechism class on Post. Under the direction of Sgt. Herman S. Andersen, the Catholic choir sang a Gregorian Requiem.

Chaplain (Capt.) Francis X. Wallace, School Brigade chaplain, officiated at the Mass.

Philippine officers on the post are Lt. Col. Uldarico Bacalso and Alvarez Severat, both of Rizal, Alt. Friedlander of Manila, Majors Falcinello B. Garcia of Olanos City, Davao, V. de la Cruz of Manila, Eugenio M. Diaz of Quezon City, Capt. Cahares N. Aban of Cagayan Or, Nisarnis, 1st Lt. Angel C. Kanapi, Eduardo Perez and Benjamin Durque, all of Manila.

Major Garcia, who is attending The Infantry School's advanced officers class, was aide-de-camp to President Magasaysay from 1952 to 1955.

TO RETIRE... Maj. Henry S. Hartman, S-3 of the 57th Engineer Bn, will retire from the service March 31, after 23 years of active service. Before coming to Ft. Benning in 1936, he was assigned to the 7th Engineer Bn, Aviation Brigade, in England, France and Germany. After retiring, the major will make his home in Goshen, Ala.

High School Students Get Look At Post Dieticians on the Job

Students from Baker High School in Columbus, Ga., received a first-hand view of career women on the job at the Post hospital March 21.

Approximately 30 members of homemaking classes at Baker High School visited the hospital's Food Service Division on a "Career in Dietetics" tour and tea.

The career program was the second for Columbus in a series of tests sponsored throughout the state by the Georgia Dietetic Association.

Major Ruby Winslow, chief of the hospital's Food Service Division, is the association's project director to interest high school students in a career in dietetics.

Among guests were Dr. Mary Speirs, dean of the School of Home Economics, the University of Georgia at Athens. Dr. Speirs came especially to talk to members of the group individually and to discuss various phases of scholarship.

Other guests included Mrs. Nevella Snyder, dietitian at the Columbus Medical Center; Mrs. Catherine Cook, dietitian at Cobb Memorial Hospital in Phenic City, Ala.; Mrs. Mich-

Serving as advisers are Mrs. Robert L. Cook, Mrs. Frederick R. Zierath and Mrs. S. S. Sagar.

Mrs. Roy A. Murray is chairman of the models, who are being introduced by Mrs. William W. Roberts of the House of Charm in Columbus. The program is being headed by Mrs. James L. Low.

The Enlisted Men's Wives Club entertained with an organizational coffee to formulate plans for the forthcoming year March 20 in the Main Theater.

Talks by Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, U. S. Army Infantry Center commander, Mrs. Powell and Mrs. David G. Wilson, president of the Fort Benning Woman's Club, highlighted the occasion, which was attended by approximately 125 "first three graders" wives.

Mrs. Howard E. Coleman, president of the EM Wives Club, presided.

Cliding the address, "The NCO is the backbone of the Army," Gen. Powell said, "That is certainly true and getting more true all the time."

"You are even more valuable to the Army if you are Majors Robert K. Barber and Grace G. Thomas, Captains Floyd R. Mulvaney, Hampton Dieles and Eddi M. Carter and Lt. Raymond J. Emsiegl and Richard M. Traut.

Mrs. Roland M. Glezer is chairman of the affair. Her co-chairman is Mrs. C. C. Holcomb.

SPOKE AT COFFEE . . . The commanding general and the first lady of Ft. Benning, Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, left, and Mrs. Powell, right, spoke at a coffee given by the Enlisted Men's Wives Club March 20. At center is Mrs. Howard E. Coleman, president of the group. Approximately 125 "first three graders" wives attended the event in the Main Theater to formulate plans for the EM Wives Club for the forthcoming year.

ended with an arrangement of the Wives Club will be held April 1st and gold christenings at 1 p. m. in the Rocker Club. The place cards were checked. All enlisted men's wives are invited to attend.

The next meeting of the EM Club group also sponsors a games session each Monday at 8 p. m. in the Rocker Club.

She pointed out several service fields on the post, such as Girl Scouts and Youth Activities Club projects, in which volunteer workers are critically needed. She also mentioned the myriad opportunities in the special interests field.

"There are many opportunities here to do many things. Some have already been organized and many can be if we can find the people to do them. Your club is fortunate in being so well organized," Mrs. Powell brought out.

"We are interested in making this a good community and with your help I'm sure it will be," she stressed.

"There are unlimited things in which to find an interest if we take an interest in things outside the home we are better companions for our husbands," she added.

Mrs. Wilson noted the Women's Club's program of concentration on special interest groups and offered her organization's assistance in similar undertakings by the EM Wives Club.

SELECTS ENSEMBLE . . . Mrs. William G. Barrett, one of 25 models in the Woman's Club's gala fashion show March 28, selects an ensemble for the annual spring charity event. Proceeds from the affair will go to the post's Youth Activities Club. The "March of Fashion" will be staged in the Main Theater at 8:30 p. m. The public is invited.

Major Receives Citation For Work With Church

Maj. William R. Windham, assistant platoon and training officer, 23th IRET, receives a letter of appreciation from Maj. Gen. Herbert Powell, Infantry Center commander, for his work in the Central Baptist Church in Phenix City, Ala.

General Powell wrote, of the major's work, "It has impressed me as a deeply gratifying indication of your fine sense of religious and civic responsibility. It represents the most practical demonstration of the ideal of service and selflessness that traditionally play so large a part in the dedication of officers of the United States Army, to the eternal principles toward God and love of our country."

General Powell continued, "Please express my most sincere appreciation to Mrs. Windham and your son for their outstanding efforts in young people's activities. Their contribution toward maintaining and strengthening of relations between the military and civilian communities deserve like thanks."

Major Windham and his wife, both natives of Georgia, have been working with the young people's groups at Central Baptist Church for several months.

Pastor Tilford Jenkins praised them for an outstanding job. In working at Central Baptist nearly every weekend and four out of five nights a week, Maj. Windham has taught Sunday School, lectured to groups throughout Georgia and Alabama, conducted Bible study courses and helped in any other way in which he could.

The Bronze Star winner and his wife have devoted a great deal of their time to the Baptist Training Union. Thirteen-year-old Bobby Windham is a member of this group. Maj. Windham feels a great satisfaction in watching the Union develop worthwhile citizens.

In an interview last week, Maj. Windham expressed enthusiasm in the Royal Ambassadors, a group for boys aged thirteen to nineteen. They perform projects to help the needy in any way that they can.

PUTTING AWAY . . . Fay Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay, one of the two women professionals who gave an exhibition at the Ft. Benning Country Club last Sunday attempts to drop in a fairly long put. Watching Miss Crocker are, left to right, Paul Bumann, Post golfing pro; Charlie Harper, Columbus Country Club professional; and Marilyn Smith.

Pro Golfers Play Match

A steady downpour which soaked the Ft. Benning Country Club last Sunday failed to dampen the spirits of Fay Crocker and Marilyn Smith, two touring women professionals, who played a special nine-hole exhibition with local pros, Paul Bumann and Charlie Harper.

A gallery of more than 175 golfing enthusiasts saw Bumann and Miss Crocker set a blistering pace over the course's back nine to down Harper and Miss Smith, 1-up. Bumann, pro at Ft. Benning, and Harper, professional at the Columbus Country Club, covered the 54-hole layout with identical scores of 34, two under par.

Miss Crocker of Montevideo, Uruguay posted an even men's par of 34 while "Golf Personality Girl," Marilyn Smith registered a 38.

All four golfers parred the first hole at the Ft. Benning Pro, Paul Bumann, came through with a birdie on par's number two hole dropping in a long putt. Harper missed a birdie putt as he holed out with a par. Miss Crocker, however, duplicated the feat on number seven to gain back the advantage.

Miss Crocker saved the match on number eight when she holed the hole with Harper. Both posted birdies on the par four, 345-yard hole.

Harper evened the match on the short number four hole by hitting his tee shot in close for a birdie putt. Bumann, however, duplicated the feat on number seven to gain back the advantage.

Miss Crocker saved the match on number eight when she holed the hole with Harper. Both posted birdies on the par four, 345-yard hole.

Immediately following the exhibition the two women professionals conducted a short clinic.

Miss Smith, a native of Wichita, Kan., has won the Kansas Women's State, Army tour tournament on three occasions, won the national collegiate title in 1949, won the Mile High Open and Head of America Open in 1955, and finished in the money this year in the Titleholders at Augusta.

She was the nation's seventh leading money winner in 1952.

Miss Crocker has been champion of Uruguay 20 times, won the championship of Argentina 14 times, was U. S. Women's Amateur Open winner in 1953, won the Serbin Open and Wolterine Open in 1953, the Serbin and the St. Louis Open in 1954 and this year won the Serbin Open and finished high in the money winners at Augusta.

Tourney Set For Ladies

The annual women's club handicap tournament at Ft. Benning has been scheduled for the month of April.

All members will qualify before April 12. The first matches are scheduled to be played between the 12th and 13th regiments.

The second matches are to be played between the 18th and 19th regiments. Final matches will get under way April 23-24.

A coffee will be held at 8 a. m. on April 27 at the club house. Everyone is cordially invited to attend. Reservations may be made by contacting G. F. Ward at Col. MU 9-0774 or Mrs. J. G. Haranick at Ft. Benning 3419.

Company Level Tourney Support Command, STC Lead in Volleyball Play

Special Troops Command and Support Command took an early lead in the U.S. Army Infantry Center Company Volleyball tournament at Briant Wells Field House Monday sweeping to double wins.

Dick Hendricks, Headquarters Company of Special Troops Command gathered early victories in the first day's activity by beating U. S. Army Hospital, 15-12 and 11-9; and U. S. Army Infantry Board No. 3, 15-12 and 11-9.

Support Command duplicated STC's first day wins by narrowly trouncing 20th RCT, 15-0 and 15-2; and the 54th Medical Group, 16-14 and 15-2.

Twelve teams are entered in the tourney which is scheduled to close tomorrow afternoon.

A Regimental Volleyball Tourney is slated for April 8 and will be followed up by the Third Army event, April 22-23 and also the All-Army tournament, May 1-5.

Rain Curtails Baseball Play
Jupiter Pluvius is the most formidable opponent for coach William Cossidine and the 20th RCT Baseball Team.

Rain curtailed the practices at Gowdy Field last week where twenty infield and outfield candidates are vying for positions on the Commander Baseball Team.

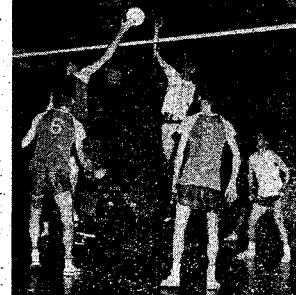

Pitching candidates are working on their handling and picking up the ball. Trainer John Rivolta has been training the men to work them in shape for the approaching campaign.

Thus far, the count on the RCT Commanders is no hits, no runs, no errors, and no left-handed batters. However, the candidates have displayed the necessary ingredients for a winner, hustle.

10th FA Battery Tourney Winner
On March 20, 1957, Delta Battery of the 10th Field Artillery Battalion won the Battalion Volleyball elimination Tourney and will represent the 10th Field in the Division Tournament.

Four Battery teams compete but "D" Battery dominated the opposition, winning their games by large margins. In the battalion finals they beat " Bravo " Battery by scores of 15-2 and 15-1.

Members of the team are as follows: 1st Lieutenant Cecil Anderson, M-Sgt. Robert Artburn, M-Sgt. James Barand, Sgt. Charles Dobbin, Sgt. James Simon, and Sp-3 Walter Dodson. Team alternates are: 2nd Lieutenant Mills Ripley, Sgt. Joseph Gobert, Sgt. James Picketon and Sp-3 Arthur Sebena.

TOM WIERZBICKI Fans Get Lesson On Golf in Rain

More than 175 die-hard golfing enthusiasts braved a torrential downpour last Sunday to watch a special nine-hole golfing exhibition at the Country Club, featuring two women professionals.

There are those who contend that anyone who would watch a golf match (and an exhibition yet) in the rain is either foolish or a real rabid fan.

Marilynn Smith, who is better known as "Golf's Personality Girl", best summed up the gallery as she exclaimed in approaching the first tee with her spalding red dot:

"Boy, I guess these people want to see a golf match, rain or no rain. They're really golf-crazy."

The Wheat State's gift to golfers along with Uruguay's Fay Crocker thrilled many a golf fan last Sunday. But probably the most enthusiastic group were the women fans who not only marveled at the women pro's, but even envied their uncanny ability.

Gals Are True Shooters
The gals who play for pay are not the most powerful drivers, but they are true shooters as far as accuracy is concerned. The true mark of a golfer, be it male or female, is putting the ball where they want it to go.

Watching these women pros play last Sunday was not the first time that this writer has seen the female golfers in action. Back in August, 1955 BA (before the Army) we watched the pros at their best in George May's Tam O'Shanter tourney in Chicago.

At the Tam O'Shanter the stakes are high and the pressure mounts to an even higher keel. They often call the tourney the one that "separates the men from the boys." And it's easy to see why this is so for golf's largest winning prize it paid out here and you have to be "on" to win it.

Exhibition A Great Show
But getting back to Sunday's exhibition. I was one of those golf-crazy fans who watched the match in the rain. We won't hesitate to admit that it was one of the most enjoyable exhibitions even though it was a bit damp.

Let's face it, golf is a sport that is played in all kinds of weather. If you think playing in rain is bad try it out when it's snowing! Anyone who plays golf has undoubtedly been caught on a golf course when it was raining. What do you do when the course gets soaked? How do you play your chip shot? How about the putting?

A golf pro can help you out with some of the answers, practical application will solve a few others, but the best way to learn is to watch the pros on a rainy day.

Sunday was that day for not only was it raining, it was mighty windy. Trying to play, say seven iron short pin high, presented many problems. The fact that it was raining meant roll was at a minimum so you had to play at the pin. Then the wind factor cropped in the picture. If you played the pin you would inevitably land way off to the left as the wind pulled your shot. Then the problem of shooting into the wind. . . do you sacrifice a short iron shot for a medium iron in order to keep the ball at a low trajectory? But won't you be inclined to overshoot the green?

These are just a few of the problems that will enter the picture when you play in inclement weather. There are those who will say that experience is the best teacher. You learn by correcting your mistakes. But isn't it easier to go to something knowing what you are up against and how to solve it? Sure, instruction is the solution, but even a great help is watching someone do it the correct way under these prevailing inclement conditions.

A good example of what we're getting at happened in Sunday's exhibition. Paul Bumann, the Country Club pro, dropped in a 15-foot putt on the second hole for a birdie. The gallery gave Paul a well deserved hand. The woman standing next to me turned to her companion and said, "Yes, but that isn't the way he told me to stand. He said you should keep your feet together!"

We can all learn. . . especially when it's raining.

READY FOR MATCH . . . Two touring women professionals stopped off at Ft. Benning Sunday to give a golf exhibition along with a golf clinic. The exhibition, a nine-hole event due to inclement weather, was played with two local pros. Left to right, Charlie Harper, Columbus Country Club professional; Marilyn Smith, Paul Bumann, Ft. Benning pro; and Fay Crocker.

4 Straight Wins Give Co. A Title

Company A of the 7th Infantry, roared to four straight victories in the finals of the round-robin volleyball playoffs to win the 20th ICC volleyball crown.

The winners averaging about six-foot, two-inches in man soundly trounced its eighth neighbors by identical 15-3 counts on the Harmony Church court to sew up the title.

The team is captained a n d coached by Pvt. James McCloy of Ocean City, N.J., and was under the general supervision of Lt. James Smith.

Composing the rest of the squad were PVTs. David Bartley, James Begles, John Grison, Richard Hammet, Wright Lassiter, Robert Owens, Bill B. Rowley, Alton Scott and Marvin Thornton.

All the men are in their fourth year of advanced infantry training in Lt. Col. Ray S. Sibert's 7th Infantry Battalion.

Alabama Nine Sets Far East Exhibitions

University of Alabama's base ball team will tour through the Far East this summer to play a series of exhibition games with military units in Japan, Okinawa and Korea.

However, in the Third Army matches the 22 and 30 caliber pistols were used for the infantry and team events.

The National Match Course, which consists of firing at different ranges with "standard" rifle, was used for the rifle matches.

Nine matches, including eight individual and one team, were fired during the three-day events.

Twenty shots strings at designated fire, from standing, sit-down and prone positions, were conducted by the 22 and 30 caliber of 200, 300 and 600 yards.

Prizes were awarded to the first three places in the first seven matches, with single trophies awarded to the aggregate winners of individual and team championships.

The pistol matches were fired in 10-shot strings at distances of 25 and 50 yards.

Eight-man rifle and pistol teams, which include six firemen, a captain and coach, were selected to represent the post in the Third Army matches on the last day of firing.

Teams entered were from Special Troops Command, 1st Signal Brigade, 20th Regimental Combat Team and 151st Engineer Group.

In the rifle competition at McAndrew Range March 25-27, 21 shooters fired for 100-190 six places on the post team.

The post pistol club range saw 24 pistoliers firing for five X's to become members of the squad March 28-29.

Weapons used were the standard Infantry M-1 rifle and .45 caliber pistol.

Three Pro Gridders Here Attending BIOC

MSGT. CLARK BLACKBURN

Three members of the Chicago Cardinal professional football team are student officers here at the U.S. Army Infantry School. They are 2d Lt. Max Boydston, Douglas Hogland, and Robert Konovsky, presently attending the Basic Infantry Officers Course No. 8, 25th Company, 2d Student Battalion, The School Brigade.

We've never had an ambition to play professional football, but after one look at these three pigskin stars, the very thought of such a thing has passed through our minds. The smallest of the three, Konovsky, looked down when he talks to us. To look at Boydston, we get a crick in our neck, but to get a look at Hogland's rugged features, we need stilts—and tall ones at that.

Lt. Max Boydston is a 1955 graduate of Oklahoma University at Norman, where he was an All-American end for two years. He plans on returning to the Cardinals for the next season of football.

Lt. Douglas Hogland is a graduate of Oregon State College, Corvallis, Oregon, where he was All-Pacific Coast tackle and played one year of basketball. He was drafted by the San Francisco 49ers upon graduation from college and was star guard and tackle for them for three years before joining the Chicago Cardinals. He also plans on returning to the Cardinals upon completion of BIOC.

Wrestling Champ
Lt. Robert E. Konovsky is a 1956 graduate of the University of Wisconsin at Madison, where he played tackle on the football team and was for three years a Big Ten football player and heavyweight wrestling champion. He plays guard for the Cardinals, and plans on turning professional as a wrestler when not playing football for the Cardinals.

4 Stars Give Spark To 29th Thinclads

BY FVT. DICK SPENKER

1st Lt. James M. Skaines, of forty-six, Sgt. Padilla was a member of the Puerto Rican Olympic Team in 1952, 1956 and 1964. Sgt. Padilla was the Puerto Rican Marathon Champion in 1940 and 1943.

He has been matching strides with opponents for twenty-nine years. The former barber won the 10,000 and 5,000 meters at his home in Puerto Rico in 1935, 1937, 1944 and 1947.

Sgt. Padilla also captured the Army Mile race in 1939, 1947, and 1952 and 1964. Sgt. Padilla is proving that old adage "Life begins at forty."

PFC Oliver Elders, a star on the Commanders basketball team last winter, is expected to run the 440 again this year.

PFC Elders won this event in the post meet last year.

PFC Bob Festa won the mile and three mile runs in the post meet last summer. The St. Johns University runner also placed in both of these events in the Third Army Finals in 1956.

Sgt. Richard Jordan, Heavy Mortar Co., 29th RCT, runs the 220. He's also been clocked at 49.2 sec. in the 440.

PFC John Strong, Co. C, 29th RCT, will handle the high and low jump events, each beginning at 8 a.m. in the Main Theater.

The Marine team included Col. Merrill M. Day, Col. W. Edwards, Lt. Col. R. L. Thomas, Lt. Col. D. S. Randall, Major S. A. Vele, 1st Lt. W. S. Leasaukas and 1st Lt. Frank Simolzak, off of the USMC, U.S. Army Camp, Edwards S. Burns and three enlisted men.

Gen. Paige conferred with Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Foyall, Infantry School commandant, and was honored at an official luncheon March 29 in the Main Officers' Mess. He also was briefed on the reorganization of the Infantry and armored divisions and Infantry School Tactical Department activities.

Unit Holds Try-outs For Squad

Last week, baseball tryouts for the Division Artillery Baseball squad began, and it was evident that Headquarters Battery of the 1st Field Artillery Battalion will again be strongly represented on the Diamond.

A season ago Headquarters Battery supplied two players and Sp3 Kenneth Campbell. These two "Redlegs" will once again be seeking a berth on the Division Artillery Baseball Team. Both Glosa and Campbell helped Div Artillery take the 3rd Division Baseball Championship last season.

Sp3 Glosa played above and hit for a .315 average. Glosa was also a member of the Division Artillery Artillery Basketball Team. Sp3 Campbell who played second base in the Division Artillery Basketball Team.

Marines Stage Demonstration For Post Classes

An amphibious operation based on atomic concepts was dramatized here March 29 and 31 by a 13-man Marine Corps unit headed by Maj. Gen. Henry R. Paige, director of the USMC Education Center of Quantico, Va.

Students in the Infantry School's advanced officers classes viewed the presentation in two four-hour phases, each beginning at 8 a.m. in the Main Theater.

The Marine team included Col. Merrill M. Day, Col. W. Edwards, Lt. Col. R. L. Thomas, Lt. Col. D. S. Randall, Major S. A. Vele, 1st Lt. W. S. Leasaukas and 1st Lt. Frank Simolzak, off of the USMC, U.S. Army Camp, Edwards S. Burns and three enlisted men.

Gen. Paige conferred with Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Foyall, Infantry School commandant, and was honored at an official luncheon March 29 in the Main Officers' Mess. He also was briefed on the reorganization of the Infantry and armored divisions and Infantry School Tactical Department activities.

TO THE WINNERS GO THE SPOILS... These five pin-toppers from the 87th Chemical Co., 29th RCT represented the 3d Battalion in the enlisted men's section of the RCT Bowling League. In addition to winning the second round play, they amassed several individual trophies, nineteen in all. The members of the winning team are (left to right) Sgt. Florian Kroll, Sgt. Case, SFC John F. Brogan, SFC Melvin Penley and M-Sgt. Francis Cillo.

Famed Boxer Wears Khaki

Harold Carter, ranked third among those seeking the world's heavyweight boxing crown, is wearing a "crow" of an Army garrison cap these days.

The Linden, N.J., blockbuster has been assigned to Ft. Dix, for basic infantry training. Carter's pro record shows he won 23 of 28 fights, losing two and fighting one to a draw. His first professional loss was to a heavy, but Carter then avenged the defeat.

His other loss was to Jersey Sumnerlin, and the Jersey heavy later gained revenge for that one too.

In 1952 Carter lost the New York City Golden Gloves to the

Scouts Plan Camp-Out This Week

The Post's Explorer Scout Post 27 has announced a hiking and camping expedition over the week end of March 29-31 along Upper Creek on the reservation. Highlights of the camp-out will be a Court of Honor around an open campfire.

Explorer Scouts to receive awards are: Spuz Smith, son of Col. and Mrs. Harold H. Smith; Jim Coffin, son of Col. and Mrs. Edward C. Coffin; Bruce and Melvin Brown, sons of Col. and Mrs. Melvin C. Brown; Dave Feldman, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Arnold H. Feldman; and Bruce Sinclair, son of Col. and Mrs. Duncan Sinclair.

Advanced awards presenting the awards will be Lieutenants Sam Mann and Bill Adams; SP5 George Knoblich, all of the School Brigade, and MacMcLain, son of Col. and Mrs. Harry C. McLain, senior crew leader.

Future activities planned by Post 27 include a trip to Panama City, Fla. over the Easter Holidays, and a "Co-Ed" trip to the Chickamauga National Battlefield at Chattahoochee, Tenn.

All boys between the ages of 14 and 18 who are interested in becoming Explorer Scouts are invited and urged to make inquiries.

Clinic Attended By Mrs. Scudder

Mrs. Hazel J. Scudder, superintendent of Ft. Benning Children's Schools, was a clinic leader at the conference of the National Education Association's Department of Elementary School Principals March 26 to 27 in Cincinnati, Ohio.

She was the leader of the clinic on "Ways to Challenge the Superior Reader." She attended a leaders meeting March 24 preceding the national conference to discuss procedures for conducting the clinics.

Mrs. Scudder will confer with College of Education officials at the University of Kentucky in Lexington before returning to the post March 31.

PHOTOGRAPHY

Pvt. John R. Hearst, a trainee with Co. A, 6th Inf. Bn., prepares to snap a photo of one of his buddies. Hearst was a staff photographer for the New York Daily Mirror prior to entering the service.

A Professional Photographer

W. R. Hearst's Grandson In Basic Training Here

BY ROY A. MORGAN

A young man from a distinguished newspaper background, Pvt. John R. Hearst, Jr., is currently a trainee with Co. A, 6th Inf. Bn., a grandson of the late William Randolph Hearst. He worked as a staff photographer for the New York Daily Mirror before entering the service.

Hearst, a native of New York City, began his photographic career by obtaining a job in the darkroom of the New York Daily Mirror. During the day he mixed chemicals, developed photos and performed other odd jobs. At night, on his own time, Hearst would ride the "night beat" with other photographers and when a chance presented itself would photograph the same scene that these top photographers snapped.

In this way he could learn what he was doing by comparing photos. In three months he had gained considerable experience in this position as one of the staff photographers.

Pvt. Hearst worked from six in the evening until two in the A.M. Up to his time of entry into the service, he was known as "the youngest photographer on the street," being only 19 years old.

During his three and a half years as a photographer Pvt. Hearst has won 12 Photographic awards. Among the outstanding awards are: New York Newspaper Guild Citation in 1955; Encyclopedia Britannica Award in 1954; and Associated Press Award for New York in 1952.

Pvt. Hearst has also done five interesting assignments as Photo Representative Agency.

Div. Makes 5 Command Assignments

Five new command assignments have been made in the Third Infantry Division at Ft. Benning.

Lt. Col. Robert J. Bigart, 1st Inf. Bn., is succeeding Lt. Col. Edward J. French as G-3 of the division. Lt. French received an assignment in Vietnam.

Lt. Col. Robert J. Bigart came to the division last May from the U.S. Military Assistance Advisory Group in Iran. He attended the U. S. Army Infantry School's advanced officers course in 1949-1950 and is a 1954 graduate of the Command and General Staff College, Ft. Leavenworth, Kans.

Lt. Col. Charles W. Sample, new 1st Inf. commander, previously served as deputy chief of staff of the U. S. Army Infantry Center.

New G-2 of the division is Major George E. Rogerson, who replaced Lt. G. A. Johnson, Jr. when the latter departed for duty in Hawaii at the end of this month. A new arrival in the division, Lt. Col. Willoughby B. Tyler succeeds Col. Zanich.

Lt. Col. Grville O. Munson of Westington, S. D., has assumed command of the 10th Engineer Battalion after replacing an Arlec inductee in a course in Alameda Inductee.

Lt. Col. John B. Zamin, executive officer of the 7th Infantry Company B Command, will assume command of the 4th Inf. Bn. from Lt. Col. L. Johnson, Jr. when the latter departs for duty in Hawaii at the end of this month. A new arrival in the division, Lt. Col. Willoughby B. Tyler succeeds Col. Zanich.

Tips on Purchasing Cameras For All Type Photographers

(Ed. Note: This week the Bayonet begins a series of articles on photography. This section will run monthly and will feature tips on shooting pictures as well as some of the best pictures taken by post amateur photographers who utilize the special Service Photo Club. The articles are written by Sgt. George Katsardes, NOC-1, Fort of the lab.)

BY SGT. GEORGE KATSARDES

Should one take the time and study, they would find in photographic magazines, periodicals, manuals, and papers, a complete digest series of articles on "How to buy a Camera" for the beginner, h. t. i. amateur and professional, and in such a manner that study is necessary to select the right camera.

This article is not intended as an expert recommendation but is rather confined to what a camera really is, and how it would affect you—the buyer.

Lets take this often difficult but practical question and break it down into two parts. First, a camera is a simple box probably made of plastic, or in some cases wood, fitted with an imitation leather covering. In some cases it is made completely of metal.

The camera is and must remain light proof when closed and locked. At the front of the camera are located the "Lenses," which are similar to the eye glasses you might wear.

The lens of a camera is as important to picture taking as your eyes are to seeing. The lens is the most important element in buying a camera. Directly behind the lens you will find the "Diaphragm," which consists of very thin metal plates which can be adjusted to any opening. It is just like the venetian blinds in your home, which can be adjusted to the amount of sunlight which you want.

The diaphragm controls the amount of light entering through the lens, and thus the depth of sharpness in the film areas. Directly behind the Diaphragm, the "Shutter" is located. This is made up of very thin metal blades, with a spring which makes them open and close with varying speeds. The "Shutter" controls the speed which is used to "stop" the action of the subject.

Steve Allen Pens Poetry Book

(AFPS WEEKLY FEATURE) PROFILE. — Each year Hollywood gives us a new blonde personality—the supply never seems to run out, thank goodness—and this year's blonde is saucy Barbara Nichols.

She's 25, her real name is Barbara Nickerson and she was born in Jamaica, Long Island. Barbara started getting more attention than anyone else around when she was cheerleader in high school.

You first saw her in the usual rash of cheesehead movies, brief exposures in TV, and as a bop-sounding dancer in Warner's "Miracle in The Rain."

The full treatment comes in "The Pejana Game," and you'll like what you see. She likes to wear tuxedo pants, and lives in a 17' wood apartment that's decorated Early American, tho' she's quite modern. She loves neatly raw steak and vodka. Enuff?

Channel Chaff. . . The industrious Steve Allen, since retiring from NBC-TV's "Tonight" in order to devote "full" time to his Sunday night TV show, has written a book of poetry good enough to be nominated for a Pulitzer prize and is currently writing three novels all at the same time. . .

Aldré Luss and Lynn Fontaine will make their TV debut in "The Great Sebastians" April 1; they have appeared in 25 plays in the 23 years they have been a husband and wife co-starring team.

Three Dots. . . Marine vet Bradford Dillman had a service job of teaching men with mouth wounds to speak again; after discharge he decided to do some talking himself and became a 3' way actor. . . TV quiz champ Charles Van Doren teaches at Columbia University, NYC. The day after a question on "kings" during a game she began studying King Henry IV. . .

Andy Devine, who vocalizes a humane frog, got that way at the age of five when he fell while running with a stick in his mouth.

Quote: "Before trying to be a pal to your son, make sure he isn't too close for you already." . . Tennessee Ernie Ford, NBC-TV.

Mass Held By Students

A solemn high mass was celebrated in thanksgiving by Catholic Vietnamese students attending the Infantry School at 9 a.m. in the Main School at Chapel March 17.

The mass was said in gratitude for the safety of Ngo Dinh Diem, president of Vietnam, on whose life an attempted assassination was made last week.

Masses were offered by the people of Vietnam throughout the country, joining their homeland in the thanksgiving. The students will express their gratitude at the special mass.

The expression of thanks is keeping with an old-Catholic tradition of offering mass for the preservation or salvation.

3-Army's Fire Museums Aimed At Stimulating Fire Prevention

By JERRY ARMSTRONG
Just an ordinary conversation in the post fire chief's office back in 1954 proved to be the origin of fire museums which are now found on every post within the Third Army area.

The basic idea for a museum of this type was originated by Gilbert A. Ward, Post fire chief.

"It occurred to me that day while discussing the fire prevention situation here, that some kind of display showing the common causes of fires was needed to give people, especially children, some knowledge of these facts," said Chief Ward.

With this in mind, it was only a few days before Ward took his idea to the commanding general. Given the consent and backing of post officials, he began to gather material for the museum.

First thing necessary was a building. This was quickly solved when he was given one of the vacant ones, No. 1919, on Loughman Road near the non-commissioned officers' Recruit Club.

Chief Ward commented, "Displays put in the museum were from a collection I have accumulated over a period of 16 years in the Ft. Benning Fire Department."

One unique thing associated with these displays is that all the items showing different causes, and results of fires came from actual fires which have occurred through the years on the military reservation.

The museum has grown from a small number of displays up to an exhibit which contains scores of actual post fire, displays of many types of fire fighting equipment, furniture, partially destroyed in fires, nearly all the common causes of household fires, and many other items depicting the small everyday things which are the danger spots of most fires.

It also has grown into one of the most widely seen shows in the post, utilizing two men to guide tours.

SFC's David M. Hood and Erwin C. Davis, assigned to Co. A, 1st Bn., Special Troops Command, are alternate guides for the hundreds of people who visit the museum monthly.

Last year, the museum was visited by more than 220 persons. Figures for the first two months of 1957 show the number of visitors has increased to more than 430 a month.

A new special feature of the museum was recently announced in the post fire regulation. The major units of the post now have a specified day each week for persons in their command to tour the museum.

Newly assigned personnel, officers and enlisted men are given priority during this designated time.

The main purpose of the unit visits is to aid in the orientation of personnel in fire prevention and protective measures, and to indoctrinate persons in the most common causes of fire.

Tours Set Up
Tours lasting 45 minutes each will be conducted for groups of not more than 20 persons daily, except Sundays and holidays, at 8 a.m., 10 a.m., 1 p.m., 3 p.m. and Saturday at 10 a.m. and 10 a.m.

The schedule for units is:

COMMON HAZARD . . . Benning's fire chief, Gilbert A. Ward, points to a cigarette, one of the most common causes of fire within the home. This smoking in bed display is one of several in the fire museum near the Post's Recruit Club.

DD Gives Green Light To Capehart Construction

A temporary suspension of contract negotiations for Capehart family housing at state-side installations will be lifted prior to April 1, the Defense Department has announced.

The order suspending contracts, issued last Feb. 23 by Deputy Secretary of Defense Robert B. Robertson, Jr., was designed to speed government housing construction at a cost of some $181 million.

With only $200 million in federal funds presently available for government financing of Capehart family housing projects, more money would have been exhausted by the end of March at the then current rate of commitment had not the temporary suspension been ordered.

Talent Prepares For Big Contest

High praise was extended by Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, deputy Post commander in chief, to contestants who will perform in the Third Army Entertainment Contest here April 8-9 during the welcome banquet held April 1 in Victory Lodge.

"You put a little bright spot in the day of the soldier," said Gen. Thompson in his welcoming address to the contestants, assembled for a seven states for the gala Third Army talent show to be staged in the Main Theater.

Female vocalists, jugglers, acrobats and acrobatic acts will all be featured during the four days of competition, starting nightly at 8 p.m. of the second plateau rise to the All-Army Entertainment Contest which will be held at Ft. Dix, N. J.

An appearance on Ed Sullivan's television show a trip around the installations of the United States and overseas these are the top prizes awaiting the lucky soldiers and WACs who become All-Army winners.

Many other opportunities can also be opened in different branches of the entertainment field for performers during these talent contests.

Broadway shows, nightclubs, and the movies talent keepers can get a close eye over the performers in the Army levels and All-Army finals.

Peter Palmer, now playing the male lead in Broadway show 'L'J Abern, was taken directly out of the All-Army Contest last year. A short span of a few months and he's up in lights as the results of this contest.

Many others have received night club jobs and a few have received movie contracts as a direct result of these contests.

The program of the Third Army phase of this contest will begin at 8 p.m. April 6 in the Main Theater with eliminations in two or three categories to be held.

A special portion of the first night's program will include the awarding of the plaques for the recorded winners in the contest.

These include such groups as the singing band, soldiers chorus and barbershop quartet. A first prize will be a furnished silver plate of cut links, which will be given to each member of the winning group in this division of the contest.

The finale (April 9) will be highlighted by the crowning of the winners in all categories. Staff Department representatives of the awarders will be present. (Please See PANEL, Page 2)

Post Visit Slated For Congressmen

43 Solons To Receive Briefing

Five U. S. senators and 38 congressmen have accepted invitations to visit Ft. Benning April 5 and 6. Infantry Center officials have announced.

According to Col. Roland M. Giesler, project officer, the purpose of the orientation visit is to keep Congress abreast of the advancements made by the streamlined Infantry of today.

Accompanying the lawmakers will be Wilbur M. Brucker, secretary of the Army, who will address the group along with Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Infantry Center commander, at the Main Theater Friday afternoon.

Two congressmen, Katherine St. George of New York, and Iris P. Blitch of Georgia, will be on the post April 5 and 6 and 43 of the nation's statesmen are briefed on the streamlined, combat ready Infantry.

Five U. S. Senators and 38 congressmen have accepted the invitation to visit the Infantry School.

After the welcoming address the group will receive an Infantry School Orientation tour of the streamlined, combat ready Infantry.

The visitors later will attend a demonstration of the Infantry's firepower and ground and air mobility.

The day's itinerary also includes a meeting with enlisted men contingents where the solons will witness displays and be given handy set rides, simulated parachute jumps, and helicopter tours together with home state soldiers.

On Saturday the congressmen will be given an atomic support commander's tour and then attend a reinforced company of a reorganized combat Infantry Division in action, and a reinforced company demonstrating the newly reorganized Infantry company in operation.

They will then depart from Ft. Benning on Saturday.

They will then depart from Ft. Benning on Saturday.

In August, 1952, he became commander of cadets at the U. S. Military Academy and two years later was assigned to the U. S. Army Element of Allied Forces Southern Europe.

3d Div. CG Receives Second Star

The Army has announced the promotion of Brig. Gen. Roy E. Lindquist, commanding general of the 3rd Infantry Division, to major general.

The promotion comes only a few days following his assignment to the rank of major general.

The Department of the Army announced that the general's adjusted date of rank will be July 1, 1952. His promotion in the two-star rank became effective April 1, 1957.

The 3rd Division will remain in the ROTC command of the 3rd Infantry Division under his command at a date to be announced by the Department of the Army.

It is familiar with the new "Pentomic" concept, having come to the aid of operations staff of the 101st Airborne Division and participated in the Battle of the Bulge.

Following assignments in the office of the Army's G-1 he was appointed senior aide to the general of the Army Dwight D. Eisenhower, then chief of staff.

At the outbreak of the Korean conflict, Gen. Michaelis assumed command of the 27th Infantry Regiment, which he commanded in Korea until the beginning of March. He was next assigned to the 25th Infantry Division as a lieutenant colonel when he joined the 27th Reg. Gen. Michaelis received two battlefield promotions and the Distinguished Service Cross.

In August, 1952, he became commander of cadets at the U. S. Military Academy and two years later was assigned to the U. S. Army Element of Allied Forces Southern Europe.

P-TA Panel To Discuss 'Delinquency'

A panel discussion on the "Problems of Juvenile Delinquency" and election of officers will highlight the April 9 meeting of the post Parent-Teacher Association.

The program will begin at 9 p.m. in Faith School auditorium.

Panelists will be Judge Aaron J. Land of City Court of Columbus, and from 1949 to 1956 Judge of the Juvenile Court of Columbus; Dr. Alex Noble, superintendent of the Muscogee County Juvenile Detention Home; Major Robert P. Bush, chief of the U. S. Army Hospital's Neuro-Psychiatric Clinic and chief of the post Mental Hygiene Service; and Lester R. Herman Jr., guidance director of the Ft. Benning Children's School and assistant principal of Faith School.

Lt. Col. Morton S. Jaffe, Staff Department representative of the awarders will be present. (Please See PANEL, Page 2)

Scientific Panel To Visit Benning for Conference

The Army Scientific Advisory Panel, composed of 15 leading American scientists and industrialists, will meet with top Department of the Army research and development personnel here April 8-11.

The panel accompanied by Wilbur M. Brucker, secretary of the Army is scheduled for two days of discussion and demonstrations of various phases of Army activity.

Arriving at Lawson Army Air Field the group will be welcomed to the post by Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Infantry Center commander, and will then hear addresses by Mr. Brucker and Dr. Frederick L. Hoyt, president of Purdue University and chairman of the panel.

Their itinerary includes, intelligence, Signal Corps, Air Force, Army Aviation and Human Research Unit No. 3 presentation. In addition there will be lectures and discussions on the progress made in the functional area of research and development.

The post meeting will conclude with a conference session at 8:30 p.m. April 10. The gathering will be addressed by IA, Gen. James M. Gavin, Chief of Research and Development and Mr. Brucker.

The department will depart Lawson Army Air Field April 11 for Redstone Arsenal, Ala.

Department of Army personnel attending the conference include Lt. Gen. E. T. Williams, deputy commander, Continental Army Command; Lt. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey, commander of the Third Army; Maj. Gen. J. D. O'Connell, chief signal officer; Dr. William H. Martin, director of the Office of Research and Development; Dr. Ellis Johnson, director of operations research; and Dr. Meredith Crowford, director of the Human Resources and Research and Resources

Gen. Stanley Larsen To Succeed Gen. Cook

Brig. Gen. Stanley R. Larsen, assistant commander of the 10th Inf. Div., is to succeed Gen. Robert L. Cook as assistant commander of the Infantry School in July.

Gen. Cook, who came to the post in July, 1955, will leave about June 25 for duty in Heidelberg, Germany.

Gen. Larsen was born in Honolulu, T. H., and now commands the 1st Battalion, 1st Infantry, at Fort Benning, Ga. He is a 1939 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y.

He served as an enlisted man from November, 1933, until entering the military academy in July, 1935.

Stationed in Hawaii at the outbreak of World War II, Gen. Larsen served successively as regimental commander of the 8th Inf. Regt., participating in the Guadalcanal campaign.

Among his decorations are the Distinguished Service Cross, Silver Star, Legion of Merit, Bronze Star Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster, Air Medal, Combat Infantry Badge and Parachute Badge.

Returning to the U. S. after World War II, Gen. Larsen served in Washington, D. C., as assistant secretary to the Chief of Staff of the Office of the Secretary before being named aide to Gen. J. Lawton Collins, then the Army's chief of staff.

In 1951 he commanded the 1st and chief of staff of the XVIII Airborne Corps at Ft. Bragg, N. C., followed by tours as deputy chief of staff and chief of staff of the XVIII Airborne Corps at Ft. Bragg, N. C.

A 1954 graduate of the Army Command College, Carlisle Barracks, Pa., he next was named assistant chief of staff of the Organization Division, Headquarters Allied Forces, Northern Europe, in Oslo, Norway.

He was promoted to his present rank last August.

Brig. Gen. Arthur L. Irons, Director of Dental Activities of Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D. C., visited the dental activities at the post dental activities April 25. He toured the dental sections on Main Post and in the 3rd Inf. Div. dental laboratory and supply sections. He attended an official luncheon given by Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Fowell, Infantry Center commander, in the Main Post Officers' Club at noon. During his stay, Gen. Irons will also attend the monthly combined meeting of the Ft. Benning-Western District of Georgia Dental Society in Custer Terrace Officers' Club April 4 at 7 p.m.

Div. Forms Board On Promotions

New members were appointed last week for the 3rd Div. Enlisted Promotion Board. The purpose of the board is to select recommended enlisted personnel primarily for the grades of E-6 and E-7, when more recommendations than vacancies for these grades exist. It is possible, too, for a candidate for these E-4 or E-5 to appear before the board. The Enlisted Promotion Board meets upon call by its president, and selects the best qualified enlisted man who has been recommended by his unit commander for promotion to E-6 or E-7.

Safety Display

"Safety" as defined by the dictionary is "Condition of being safe; freedom from danger or hazard." Capt. John R. Reitzel, safety officer for Special Troops Command, believes a graphic display is a better reminder than reference to the dictionary, and so, as a part of the continuing STTC safety program, keeps members of the command safely conscious with an outdoor display board located in the third curtail.

At Ceremony April 1 Tribute Paid to USAIS

Top civilian and military leaders of the tree world gathered at the Brant Wells Field House to commemorate the golden anniversary of the U. S. Army Infantry School. Speakers from the U. S. and Korea paid tribute to the military education institution which for half a century has been the Alma Mater of the foot soldier and whose teachings have been manifested in victories in three wars. A proclamation by Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Fowell, Infantry School commandant, read by Lt. Charles R. Payne, noted the history and achievement of the school. It stated that the Infantry School has successfully met every crisis since its founding 50 years ago and is geared today to meet the demands of modern warfare whether nuclear or non-nuclear battlefield.

Army to Discard Quota System; Promote EM on 'Proficiency'

A plan eventually placing enlisted promotions in the Army on a "Proficiency Qualification Score" basis, and discarding the quota system as such, has been announced by the Army.

Expected to make promotions competitive in the Army, age Army, opportunities for new stripes will depend strictly on individual qualification.

Shaped to the Cordier Committee recommendations for retaining proficiency, eligibility for advancement will be determined by a composite score based on new MOS Proficiency Tests.

To be introduced gradually as the proficiency tests are developed, promotions based on PQS's will first be made in MOS's requiring long technical training and in skills where re-enlistment rates are relatively low.

At present, promotions are made through Department of the Army quotas established on the existing grade vacancies.

When these vacancies are filled, commanders will be required to select the number of eligibles to be promoted on the basis of a composite score based on new MOS Proficiency Tests.

The test score, time in grade, ratings by commanders and other factors will be considered in making selections from a zone of consideration.

Repeat Periodically With the composite score entered in each man's unit record, commanders will report periodically to the Pentagon the number in each MOS by grade and the order in which they stand by PQS's.

Instead of quotas, the Army will announce "cut-off" qualification scores by grades.

This means that all in specific MOS's who have a PQS above a certain fixed figure, for instance 80, will have a chance for promotion.

This cut-off score will be set so that more men can be considered than can be selected. Thus, for example, if there are 150 E-7 vacancies in the Army in a certain MOS, commanders may be authorized to promote, say, 50 per cent of those above the cut-off score who are: 1. Recommended by immediate commanders; 2. Recommended by a board at regimental or comparable level; 3. Approved by major commanders.

The Army says this system will:

Fix promotion standards in all grades on an impartial Army-wide basis.

Put promotions on unit level, where performance can be best determined.

Allow local commanders more free-way in making selections from a zone of consideration.

HONOR GRAD... Capt. Randlett T. Lawrence, right, a member of the United States Marine Corps and a '49 graduate of the United States Naval Academy, has his parachutist wings pinned on by Col. William J. Boyle, left, deputy director of the Airborne Air Mobility Department. Capt. Lawrence was honor graduate of basic Airborne class No. 8.

City to Pick 'Fairest One' Next Week

Columbus girls are being offered an opportunity for fame and fortune, an education and proper guidance.

A successful career for them is assured through participation in the Miss Columbus Pageant, which will take place April 10, at the Cross Country Plaza Shopping Center.

The local contest, a preliminary elimination leading to the eventual selection of Miss Atlantic City and the competition for the title of Miss America, will be held at the Cross Country Plaza Shopping Center.

Each of the Miss Americas chosen in Atlantic City since 1921 has won the national beauty title in just such a home town contest as that which will be conducted here on April 10.

Rules for participation in the Miss Columbus Pageant are as follows:

1. Entrant must be resident of Muscogee County for the past six months.

2. Entrant must be single and never have been married, divorced, or had marriage annulled.

3. Entrant must be a high school graduate by September 1st of this year.

4. Entrant's age on September 1st shall not be less than eighteen nor more than twenty-eight years.

5. Entrant must be of good character and possess poise, personality, intelligence, charm and beauty of face and figure.

6. Entrant must possess and display in a three minute routine.

7. Entrant may be either amateur or professional.

Entrants, all residents of Columbus and Ft. Benning are also urged to nominate candidates by sending names of their selections in a letter or by filling out an entry blank which may be secured from Mrs. Alma Gordon, Pageant Chairman, at the Diana Shops at the Center.

Winner of the Miss Georgia contest will have all her expenses paid for the trip to Atlantic City and the competition for the title of Miss America in 1958 in September. In addition, she will receive a full wardrobe as part of her Miss Georgia prize — plus a coveted $500 dollar scholarship.

Gen. Powell to Give Americanism Awards

The Americanism program sponsored annually by the Ft. Benning School No. 8 of National Sojourners at the Post Children's Schools will be climaxed by an awards ceremony April 8 at 9:30 a. m. in Faith School auditorium.

Mal. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commander of The Infantry Center, will address the assembly and present the awards.

This year's winners of the contest will receive Americanism Certificates of Appreciation.

Seventh and eighth grade students will speak on "Land Freedom" and "Responsibilities of a Young Citizen in the U. S." in competition for the first four awards. The contestants were selected on the basis of 300-word papers submitted by all seventh and eighth graders.

First and second honors will go to fourth, fifth and sixth graders who wrote winning papers on "Why I Like to Live in America Today," "Why I am Glad to be an American in Today" and "Americanism in My Daily Living."

Chaplains of three faiths will participate in the ceremony. They are Chaplain (1st Lt.) Murray I. Lerner, Infantry Center; Jewish chaplain; Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Albert L. Smith, Protestant; Special Troop 1; Chaplain (Capt.) Thomas D. McGrath, Infantry Center Catholic.

Judges representing the Children's Schools are Miss Mae Craighhead, librarian; Mrs. Martha Day, Custer Terrace School; and Miss Saline Pickering, Main Post School.

Electronic Club to Stage Demonstration April 7

The post Electronics Club will stage a public demonstration on "ham radio" adjacent to the main Post Theater from 12 noon to 3 p.m. April 7. Two amateur fixed radio stations and one mobile (mounted in an automobile) will be on display and in operation by post radio amateurs. The stations will be in constant contact with other hams around the country and overseas. Visitors to the demonstration will see and hear the hams transmissions and may give operators personal messages to transmit through hams in other cities. A blackboard will be kept posted as to what cities the stations are in contact with, and hams with friends or relatives in that city may ask the distant ham to call them on the blackboard if the distant ham is equipped with a "phone patch" he can arrange for them to talk personally with their relatives by radio.

Local Alabama and Georgia radio amateurs operating "mobile" may also drive into the post to exhibit their mobile "rigs". Club members talking to them on the air during the past week have received promises that some would drive

Staff Dept. Has Spring Dance; NRI Fetes Departing Director

BY MILICENT SCUDDER
The staff of the Infantry School's Staff Department entertained with a spring dance at the Main Officers' Mess March 22.

Col. Roy A. Murray, Staff Department director, presided and Capt. W. H. Rood, Jr., Col. and Mrs. Robert E. Gouldman.

A variety show was presented by four of the contestants who will appear in the Third Army level of the All-Army Entertainment Contest April 1-8.

The performers included SP2 George Bryant, trombone soloist, Pvt. Frank Mistretta, singer, and SP4 Bill Malomaha, pianist, all of Benning, and PFC Stuart Miller, musician, of Ft. McPherson, Ga.

Other guests were Col. and Mrs. Claude M. Howard, Lt. Col. and Mrs. James L. Bryan and Lt. Col. and Mrs. Elmer Johnson.

A full calendar of events is planned for members of the Enlisted Men's Wives Club in April. All activities except the teenagers dance will be held in the Rocker Club.

The group will hold its monthly business session April 3 at 1 p.m. On April 9 at 7:30 p.m. a Max Factor representative will be present for demonstrations and consultations.

A coffee April 10 at 1 p.m. will honor departing members and welcome newcomers. A luncheon is scheduled for April 17 at 1 p.m. The nursery will be available for the latter two occasions.

An Easter egg hunt for children of members of the Rocker Club or EM Wives Club will be held April 20. The annual event will begin at 2:30 p.m. and will be limited to 200 eggs.

The "Basic Black Dress" held the spotlight at a coffee given by officers' wives of Lawson Army Air Field Command.

Hostesses for the occasion were wives of the 1st Army Aviation Co., headed by Mrs. Jerome Folds.

Each Monday at 8 p.m. the organization sponsors a games session in the Rocker Club. The affair will be held at Victory Lodge.

SP3 Bill Maldonado played the event.

Mrs. Henry Kelly was welcomed to the group. Among the 60 guests were Mrs. C. E. Bull, wife of the Lawson Field commander.

Each lady's name tag featured a miniature hat. The centerpiece for the serving table was composed of fabrics, tape, thread and decorations for making a variety of chapeaus.

Mrs. Paul and Mrs. Greenquist poured.

A "shipwreck" costume party was given by officers of the School Brigade's 2nd Bn. in the dayroom of Hqs. Co. March 20.

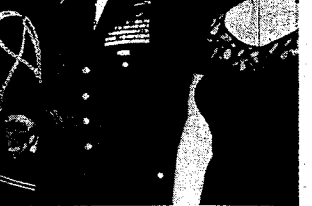

Farewells were bade to Lt. and Mrs. DeSaussure Bull and Lt. and Mrs. Cecil Currie. Lt. Bull has been assigned to the 4th Armored Div., Ft. Hood, Tex., and Lt. Currie will take flight training at Camp Gary, Tex.

Big League Age Bracket No Limit

The old saying "you're over the hill" when you reach the thirty-first major league baseball is slowly proving to be an erroneous statement these days.

From 42-year-old Ellis Kinder of the Chicago White Sox, an established big league pitcher, to 36-year-old rookie, Fernando Rodriguez of the Washington Nats, major league baseball training camps this spring are sprinkled with 35 players not only passed the 30 age bracket, but presently pushing 35.

Kinder, who has picked up 102 big league victories, is the major's oldest active player. The tall right-hander will qualify for the game's new pension plan in less than eight years. (Under the new pension plan, a player who has served in the majors five years is assured $38 a month when he reaches 50 years of age after retirement, $175 a month after 65. A 20 year man gets $275 monthly at 50 and $550 at 65).

Next in the age line are Enos Slaughter of the New York Yankees and Murry Dickson of the St. Louis Cardinals, both 40, and Sam Maglie of Brooklyn, 39. Slaughter played in 155 games last season plus six in the outfield in the world series. Dickson won 15 games and lost 11 in 1956. Maglie, of course, made one of the outstanding comebacks, winning 13 games, including a no-hitter.

Other big names who are over 35 and are still playing include: Ted Williams and Mickey Vernon, 38; Reese, Early Ryan and Frankie Baumholtz, 37; Andy Patko, Stan Musial, Bob Lemon, and Jim Hegan, 36; and Warren Spahn, Elmer Valo and Roy Campanella, 35. While on the subject of baseball, fans will be interested to know that several new changes have been innovated into the major league rules for the coming season:

1. A total of 477 appearances at the plate in 154 games would qualify a batter for the league batting championship. The total includes official times at bat, walks, hit-by-pitcher and sacrifices. (The old rule, counting only official times at bat deprived Ted Williams of winning 1955 batting title because of the many walks he drew which prevented him from obtaining the required 440-at-bats).

2. The pitcher must deliver his next pitch within 20 seconds after receiving the ball from the catcher. If the pitcher violates this rule a "ball" will be called. (The old rule required the pitcher to deliver the pitch 20 seconds after stepping on the rubber).

3. When the pitcher is ready to deliver or starts his windup the batter cannot step out of the box. If the batter steps out, the umpire will call the pitch legal. (The two above rules will prevent stalling and may help in speeding up the game).

4. If a batter is hit by a pitched ball thrown within the strike zone, a strike will be called against him and he will not go to first base as a hit batsman. (This will prevent batters who crouch over the plate from getting hit purposefully).

5. The umpires now have official power to thumb out any player, manager or substitute for any serious infraction of the rules. (Under previous rule the umpires had no specific authority to do this).

It will be interesting to see how these new rulings will fare with the baseball players come April 10 when the 1957 season gets underway. One of the new rules that will get a great going over before the season ends will be the one about a batter having a strike called even though he's hit if it's in the strike zone.

Just picture this—it's a warm July night at Comiskey park in Chicago. Minnie Minoso is up with the bases full, two out and the score tied in the last of the ninth. Don Larsen of the hated Yankees zips a fast ball through the strike zone and the plate crowding Minoso is nicked on the arm.

Imagine the fans' stormy reaction when the plate umpire gives the "strike three" sign and motions for a new supply of baseballs for the extra inning!!! That is the way it is going to be this summer...

BATTER UP... Batter up was a familiar cry during baseball season last year for Mc-Sgt. Glenn W. Blakely of Columbus, who acted as a coach for his two little league sons. Here he catches with his oldest son, Charles, 11, during one of the many practice sessions. This type of father-son relationship is one of the things the Youth Activities Club is stressing in its baseball program this season.

Baseball League YAC'tivity Program Plans Three Leagues

Spring... and the young boy's fancy turns to the cry of "Play Ball!" To boost the playing of the national sport, the Youth Activities Club this year has plans to form three baseball leagues.

This move was devised to give as many youngsters as possible, from families living on and off post, the opportunity to participating in organized baseball.

It has been said many times by leading individuals and organizations, that such baseball leagues as these are the backbone to the solution for keeping millions of kids from becoming juvenile delinquents.

Parents have a big role played for them in the success of these leagues, according to Youth Activities Club officials. Coaches and managers are urgently needed to guide the expected 25 to 30 teams in the three leagues.

Registration is another thing in which the officials need assistance from the parents. Boys from ages 8 to 17 years old are eligible to play in the leagues. Deadline for registration is April 15. Boys may register at the Youth Activities Club on post, at the YMCA near the U. S. Army Hospital between 8 a.m. and 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

RCT Wins Post Title

BY DICK SPENCER
The determined Hq. & Hq. Company, 25th RCT, volleyball team won the Post Company Level Volleyball championship by defeating the Infantry School Team 14-12, 15-5, and 15-5 at Briant Wells Field House last Friday night.

After losing to Special Troop Company earlier in the tourney, Hq. & Hq. fought back out of the loser's bracket to defeat last year's champions in convincing manner.

Led by the sizzling spike shots of Capt. Bill Mooneyham and Pvt. Earl Van Horn, the winners repeatedly overpowered the ISD club, SFC Emilio Padilla, Pic. Bob Gonzales, Pvt. Don Whitehouse, and Pvt. Richard Spencer played a fine floor game to set up the big men.

In the first game of the three out of five series, the Hq. & Hq. jumping jacks spurred to a five to one lead only to have the PT Committee team to tie the score. At the end of regulation time, the score was 11-10 in favor of Hq. & Hq. An 11 over time period ensued.

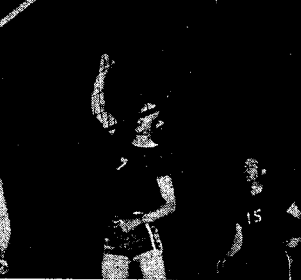

With the team knotted at 12-12, Sgt. Padilla set up Capt. Mooneyham for two spikes to win the contest.

The second and third games followed the same pattern. Displaying steady teamwork, Coach Norman Meckelsen's six methodically rolled up its points.

Relying on a placement game the PT Committee was unable to get rolling as they did in previous contests. The champs used a shifting offense to counteract the PT tactics.

After thirty-nine minutes of play, the score of the third game was 14-8 in favor of Hq. & Hq. Bob Gonzales stepped to the serving for the final volley requested to furnish gloves, shoes and other protective clothing for the safety of their children.

The U. S. Army Infantry School's Airborne-Air Mobility Department is sponsoring the Youth Activities Club baseball leagues this season.

SPARKLING SPIKE... Captain Bill Mooneyham, no. 7, of Hq. & Hq. team spikes a setup from teammate Bob Gonzales, no. 15, as Sgt. Ronald McPeak of the PT Committee team prepares to play the ball. Hq. & Hq. won the Post Company Level Volleyball Tournament in three straight games, 15-11, 15-5 and 15-5. Referee Sam Prophet is watching the action from the official's platform.

Canadian Pro Griddler Christensen Says Canadian Ball More Thrilling Than Our Brand

BY M-SGT. CLARK BLACKBURN
A former member of the Washington Redskins and the football team and captained the team his second year, playing professional football and center on the basketball team, and now the attending classes at the Infantry School, 2d Lt. Erik R. Christensen, Jr., of the 21st Co., 2d Signal Div., TSB, started his athletic career with Woodbridge High School, in Woodbridge, N. J., where he played end and tackle at football and forward and center on the basketball team. He made the All-Central New Jersey football team his senior year.

He entered Fort Union (Va.) Military Academy where he played end and tackle on the football team and captained the team his second year, playing professional football and center on the basketball team, and now the attending classes at the Infantry School.

After graduating from college, he was number seven on the draft list for the Washington Redskins and played eight games for them—six exhibitions and two league games. Upon being released by the Redskins, the Calgary Stampeder immediately put him under contract. He played defensive end and offensive tackle for them for four years until he was called to active duty in the Army.

Asked if there was much difference in the way football is played in Canada, he says: "There is a great deal of difference. The main thing is that the field is 110 yards long and is 15 yards wider than here in the States, and the end zones are 25 yards deep instead of the 10 yards here. 'Also', he continued, "they play 12 men on the team—instead of 11 as the backfield. Another thing that impressed the end and made for a better spectator sport was the fact that the backfield can be in motion at any time."

"Big Football" didn't mean anything but a brief future for Pvt. Robert A. Farr.

Major John D. Brokaw, former executive officer of the 64th Tank Bn., has assumed command of the battalion, succeeding Lt. Col. Charles J. McNeill who has been assigned head of the newly organized group at division headquarters. Before his assignment to the 6th Division in May 1955, Major Brokaw served as assistant G-3 for the U.S. Army V corps.

Farr covered over 20 points per game on his varsity college basketball five and batted over .385 for a four year baseball batting average.

Of the future, Farr says "I hope to become a professional athlete."

He shot a perfect score of 60 shots for 60 attempts.

However, Private Farr's talents are not restricted to the 15 foot charity marker on the basketball court. He had a remarkably well rounded athletic and social program while in high school and college.

Private Farr was captain for two years of the basketball and baseball teams at Westfield State Teachers College in Mass.

Future Plans
When his football days are over, Lt. Christensen hopes to have a "going" restaurant business in Richmond, Va. He says "as a matter of fact, I plan on getting the business started this year. I have two friends, one of whom is already well established in the business, that want me to go in with them on the venture."

TSB, 29th Cop Post Rifle, Pistol Crowns

BY JERRY ARMSTRONG

Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, U.S. Army Infantry Center commander, highlighted the finale of the Ft. Benning Rifle and Pistol Championships last week when he presented the individual and team awards in the Main Theater.

The School Brigade and 29th Regimental Combat Team No. 1, which has a score of 1246-647's, was the 1957 best rifle and pistol team matches. First place in the rifle aggregate event was won by SFC Maurice E. Bellie, Company E, 15th, when he shot an 835 out of possible 900.

Winning 29th RCT pistol squad included 1st Lt. O. C. Holman, team coach, and Arthur G. Dean, both of Owen D. Young Regiment; SFC Jordan; SFC James F. Neal and SFC Carl N. Prosser, both of 556th Tank Company.

A minimum of two rifle and pistol teams will be selected to represent Ft. Benning in the Third Army Rifle and Pistol Championships to be fired on post April 29-May 4.

Mr. Michael J. Landsberg, of the Quartermaster Research and Development Center, in Natick, Mass., arrived here to inspect the 29th Regimental Combat Team's rifle and pistol teams.

Army Chaplain Serves Triple Role Contends Maj. Gen. Ryan

The chief of Army chaplains all emphasized the vital relation of spiritual guidance to the military effectiveness of a unit in an address at Ft. Benning March 27.

Discussing "The Chaplain" with 60 members of The U. S. Army Infantry School's advanced classes in the Main Theater, Chaplain (Col.) Patrick J. Ryan pointed out that troops need spiritual support as well as material benefits to perform their jobs well.

"These elements can be neglected only at the peril of the failure of your mission. As a commander, you are responsible for the religious life and morale of your men just as you are responsible for their discipline, state of training and health, to maintain combat efficiency," Chaplain Ryan said.

The speaker was introduced by Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Infantry School commander.

Chaplain Ryan explained that chaplains assist commanders in a triple role as staff officer, counselor and co-ordinator of the character guidance program.

He noted that the character guidance program is an outgrowth of the service's concern for morality following World War II. The lectures deal with ethics and morals, not denominational religion, the speaker asserted.

"The goal is to create in each individual a sense of personal moral responsibility," Chaplain Ryan said. He urged commanders to integrate the principles of character guidance into the training of their troops wherever possible.

"Don't overlook your chaplain with extraneous duties," Chaplain Ryan advised, adding that the chaplain's great value is in the moral realm, in work with the sick, rehabilitation of prisoners, public information contacts and inductive feet for the way in which a given thing will affect the command.

"The mission of the chaplain is to promote religion and morality in the Army," he said. "Complete freedom of religion and civil liberties of all denominations is exemplified in the Army," he added.

He brought out that the chaplain functions under the authority of the Army and his denomination.

Major Wins Award For Work Suggestion

Approximately $6,000 will be saved annually from a training suggestion proposed by Major George A. Schwant.

Assigned to The Infantry School's Communications Department, Major Schwant received a Certificate of Achievement for proposing radio call signs and words and frequencies used for military communications training at service schools be issued on a permanent and unclassified basis.

Under present arrangements these radio symbols issued by Federal Communications Commission are changed periodically and cannot be reproduced since they are classified information.

Major Schwant's proposal will eliminate the costly reprinting of instructional materials caused when the lists are changed. If not issued as classified matter, the lists can be reproduced for student distribution in more efficient instruction.

Presented by Gen. Cook, The Infantry Center certificate was presented by Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commander of The Infantry School.

Seven other awards were presented by Gen. Cook at the ceremony.

M-Sgt. William S. Suggs, assigned to The School's Operations Office, received the 425 monthly first prize for January under the military suggestion contest. Sgt. Suggs devised a form to be used in cost accounting to keep records of supplies consumed in The Infantry School.

The form also will be used in preparing future budget estimates under the Army command management system. Approximately $1,200 will be saved in the use of the form.

Also Receives Certificate

Sgt. Suggs also has received The Infantry Center Certificate of Achievement.

M-Sgt. Charles W. Richards, Office of the Secretary of The Infantry School, received a Suggestion Award Certificate for proposing that class standing cards presented to officer classes on graduation be mimeographed. The suggestion will result in an estimated savings of $67 annually.

Alan C. Remsburg, Editorial and Pictorial Section, The Infantry School, received a cash award of $200 for sustained superior performance of duties.

Sustained Performance

For their sustained job performance, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Jones, Staff Department, and Mrs. Neil R. Barris, Ground Mobility Department, received $100 cash awards each.

Outstanding job ratings for Jan. 1, 1956, through Dec. 31, 1956, were presented at Charles O. Howard Communications Department and Mrs. Mary L. Kinney, Staff Department.

Saturday Morning Post Slates Welcome For General Ruggles

Brig. Gen. John F. Ruggles is scheduled to arrive at Ft. Benning today to assume the duties of deputy commanding general of the U. S. Army Infantry Center.

He is succeeding Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, who has been named assistant to the commanding general of The Infantry Center. Gen. Thompson has served as Infantry Center deputy commander since last October.

Gen. Ruggles will be officially welcomed at an honor guard Saturday at 8:15 a.m. on Chapel Field. A special reception Sunday at 4 p.m. in the Main Officers Mess will fetter Gen. and Mrs. Ruggles.

The commander of the Yukon Command in Alaska since August, 1955, Gen. Ruggles previously served 10 months as commander of the Fourth Infantry Regiment, 7th Division, at Laid Air Force Base in Alaska.

A 1931 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., he attended The Infantry School's advanced officers course in 1938. During World War II, he commanded the 22nd Infantry Regiment of the Fourth Infantry Division participating in the Normandy, Northern France, Rhineland, Ardennes and Central Europe campaigns.

The 45-year-old officer also has served in the Philippines and Panama. He was graduate of the Army War College at Carlisle, Pa., in 1951.

He was promoted to his present rank in August, 1956. Among his decorations are

Army Combat Ready Says Sec'y Brucker

"The Infantry's punch was shown at Ft. Benning today," Secretary of the Army Wilbur M. Brucker told 31 U. S. Senators and Congressmen at The U. S. Army Infantry School April 5.

The lawmakers, accompanied by high-level Army officials, viewed demonstrations April 3 and 4 of the mobility and flexibility of today's streamlined Army.

The Army Secretary emphasized the importance of mobility. "We've got to have troops that can move. Mobility is not just a word. Our job lays out yonder in the spirit of 'Follow Me' be a civilian."

Mr. Brucker also stressed the key role of flexibility in firepower. He pointed out that

GEN. JOHN E. LEARY ... assigned to post

Gen. Leary Transferred To 3rd Div.

Brigadier General John E. Leary has been assigned to the 3rd Infantry Division, and will report to Ft. Benning in about two weeks. He is currently serving in Korea as Chief of Staff, Korean Military Advisory Group (KMAAG).

At the same time, the Department of the Army announced the assignment of Brig. Gen. Frederick K. Zerach, Assistant Division Commander of the 3rd Infantry Division, to the United States Army Command and General Staff College at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas.

Educators

Thank You for Continuing speak to the group. The educators will tour various sections of the school including the Airborne-Air Mobile and Ground Mobility De- partments to study the methods of instruction utilized. In addition, they will attend a training aids demonstration and witness an officers candidate class in training.

Also on their agenda are several Infantry School problems presented by The Infantry School's Tactical Department to demonstrate to the educators the concepts and weapons of war studies and even developed in the classrooms and in the field of the institution.

Brucker Services

(Thank You For Continuing) atonic weapons have been entrusted to us for the greatest purpose of all time, to deter the scales—the conventional warfare of the right and the wrong punch of the left.

"We've got to be ready at the drop of a hat if necessary. The U.S. will not allow us to be recruited and keep with us, will do the job," he said.

The Secretary was presented an Infantry School "Follow Me" plaque by Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Fowler, Infantry School commandant.

"He has explained the Army to forms which reassure the dedicated little man who is serving the national defense," Gen. Fowler said.

Each visitor was awarded an Infantry School pin by the Fort Benning officer on his left.

Proceeding the dinner, which was held in the Main Officers' Mess, the visitors were feted at an official reception.

In the receiving line were Secretary Brucker and Gen. Powell, Capt. Leon McCall Jr., side-decamp to Gen. Powell, introduced the group.

The U.S. Army Infantry Center band played for the occasion. Following the dinner, the Soldiers Chorus, under the direction of Lt. Col. Gordon E. Sayre, sang several selections, including "The Army Song."

Among the visitors were Assistant Secretary of Defense Hugh M. Milton II and Dewey St. John, Deputy Assistant Secretary of the Army, Courtney Johnson, Senator John Stennis of Mississippi, Senator Stuart Symington of Missouri and all members of the House of Representatives; Gen. (Ret.) J. Lawton Collins; Lt. Gen. Donald P. Booth, the Army's deputy chief of staff for personnel; Major Gen. John B. Nichols, the Army's chief of legislative liaison, and Major Gen. D. A. Johnson, Chief U.S. Army officer of staff.

Personnel of Ord. Det. Teach Explosive Ordnance to Civilians

A course of instruction in Explosive Ordnance Reconnaissance for Civil Defense Officials of Muscogee County will be conducted at the Fairground in Columbus April 11 and 12.

In addition to Civil Defense personnel, representatives will be present from the Muscogee County Columbus Police, Phenix City Police and Fire Departments, Public Works Department, and water works, as well as employees of the Gas Light Company of Columbus, Southern Bell Telephone Company and Georgia Power Company.

Also, an invitation to individuals interested in receiving this instruction has been extended by the Muscogee County Civil Defense Office.

The 10-hour course, which is presented under the direction of 3rd Army Headquarters, is designed to guide Civil Defense workers in various situations which may be encountered in case of any enemy attack and to acquaint them with proper procedures in any case where unexploded ordnance is found.

The instruction will be given in two five-hour sessions, from 1 p.m. to 6 p.m. on Thursday and Friday, and will consist of lectures, practical work and practical work covering identification of unexploded ordnance, types of unexploded ordnance incidents, locating unexploded bombs; diagnosing and types of unexploded ordnance; protective measures; explosive ordnance reconnaissance for nuclear weapons and the reporting system to be used.

The classes at the Fairground will be conducted by 1st Lt. Walter A. Baker II, of Atlanta, who will address the Parent Teacher Association of Tillinghast School in the school auditorium at 7:30 p.m. April 11, to inform parents and teachers of the proper course of action to be taken when unexploded ordnance or questionable metal objects are found in the possession of children.

In this connection, Lt. Baker said that the message is vital interest to parents and that he and Lt. Morse are going out and actively finding unexploded ordnance, talking certain safety measures to protect life and property and reporting the item to the military so that they can dispose of some reason or other."

"Unexploded ordnance means any type of ammunition such as bombs, shells, grenades, etc., that have not exploded for some reason or other."

"Explosive Ordnance Reconnaissance means the act of action to be taken when unexploded ordnance or questionable metal objects are found in the possession of children."

Daughter Presented Father's Medals in DivArty Ceremony

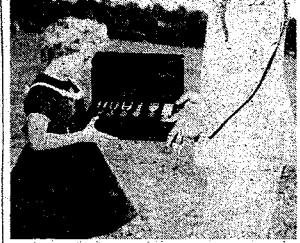

Readings of the 3rd Division Artillery participated in a review last Saturday morning, highlighted by the presentation of a soldier's medal to his beautiful little blonde-haired daughter by the Commanding General of Division Artillery, Brigadier General William A. Harris.

General Harris reviewed the officers and men of the 9th, 10th, 39th, and 41st Field Artillery Battalions and the Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, Division Artillery, during the review he presented the Commendation Ribbon with Medal Pendant to Captain Harry C. Wood, S-1 9th Field Artillery Battalion, for meritorious service from September 1, 1955, until March 30, 1957. Pvt. Claude M. Babcock, Battery C, 41st Field Artillery Battalion, was presented with a Certificate of Achievement for being the outstanding trainee during the recently completed Advanced Individual Training cycle.

Sports Awards Given

General Harris also presented Lt. George C. Davis a basketball trophy for leading the DivArty Basketball Team to the post championship, and awards to the winners in the Commanding General's Rifle and Pistol Matches, which were held March 25-28.

Special honors during the ceremonies went to little Patty Ann Jones. She stood next to General Harris and reviewed the men and the equipment of the 3rd Infantry Division Artillery as they passed in review at French Field in her honor.

DADDY'S MEDALS . . . were presented to little Patty Ann Jones by Brig. General William A. Harris, Commanding General, 3rd Division Artillery at a DivArty Review held last Saturday morning. The medals were awarded to SFC Earle Jones, Patty's father before he was killed in Korea in 1950. Patty lives with her mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Livingston in Columbus.

ber of Task Force 777 at the time of his death. He was assigned to Battery C, 7th Field Artillery Battalion, 1st Cavalry Division. An enemy force of 12 tanks came at the position in which Sgt. Jones was in charge. After all the ammunition had been expended, Sgt. Jones ordered his men back to safety and held the enemy at bay until his men had reached the safety of our own lines. The position was overrun, and Sgt. Jones paid the supreme sacrifice.

Patty lives in Columbus with her mother and step-father, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Livingston. The 3rd Division Band plays a Band Concert for guests attending the review prior to adjutant's call. Equipment displays were also set up at French Field, including communications equipment and M16 machine guns and other weapons.

Distinguished guests at the parade were Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Roy E. Lindquist, 3rd Division Commanding General; Mrs. Frederick R. Zierath, wife in unit supply.

New Pay Plan Adopted; Will Reduce Costs

A new officers' pay check procedure designed to reduce seasonal costs has been adopted by Ft. Benning's Finance and Accounting Office. Approximately 400 of the 1,800 officers paid monthly by the U. S. Army Infantry Center's Finance Office have their pay checks deposited in two Columbus banks as a service of the Finance Office. Under the former system approximately 200 separate checks were prepared for individual processing by each bank.

The new plan requires only two checks and two letters of transmittal listing two check numbers, finance officials stated. A list of names with the amount to be credited to each account and the date of each large check, officials added. It was pointed out that in the new operation, which became effective last February, that an estimated $775 annually will be saved in work-repudiation. At a cost of .021 per check with about 1,800 checks written yearly, a savings of $100.80 on checks alone will be effected.

HERE AND THERE

Sgt Paul Hupman, former Sgt. Clerk of the 3d Field Artillery is no longer a "Short-timer." He has been discharged and is now becoming one of the newest citizens of Hayward, Calif.

Fig. Dick Hellawell, attached to the 3d Field Artillery Det. of Group, has been transferred to Special Troops for work in the Post Finance Office.

The 3d Field gladly extends the welcome mat to Cpl Dan Onda, of Akron, Ohio. Dan recently joined Group from a boarding school at Ft. Rucker, Ala. At present he is assisting Mrs. Onda in unit supply.

Soldier Finds Home With 1st Avn. Co.

The 1st Avn Co. at Lawson Field, is at present the new home of a German immigrant, Pvt Hans J. Augustin.

Pvt Augustin was born in Kiel, Germany in 1934. He attended school there for 12 years, during which time he learned the trade of a tool and dye maker.

In November of 1954, at the urging of his aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Fretz, Hans left for America. Mrs. Postel made all the necessary arrangements and upon Hans' arrival took him into her home at Milwaukee, Wis.

The greatest problem Pvt Augustin had to combat was the language barrier. In his own words Hans said, "All the English I know was picked up from my family, American motion pictures and television." He attributes most of his "education in English" to the movies and TV.

"If you continue to go to movies you soon learn to associate words and names to various objects and actions," declares Augustin. This statement evidently true. Pvt Augustin speaks English with only a slight broken accent.

In September of 1956, Hans received his "Greetings" from the United States government. Three weeks later he was at Ft. Leonard Wood, Mo. for basic training.

Upon completion of basic, Pvt Augustin was assigned to the 1st Army Avn. Co. where he is at the present time, receiving on the job training as an airplane mechanic.

Even though Hans left his mother, father and two brothers behind in Germany, he is very enthusiastic about his new home. His feelings may be summed up in one of his first statements about the United States.

"Germany everybody here owns a car."

Brigade Staff Gets Inside Tornado Dope

BY CAPT. ROSS A. SHELDON
One of the School Brigade staff officers remembers a weather warning he received on the island of Kaje Do, the sprawling PW camp south of Pusan, 21 Logistical Command Weather Bureau called on the phone from Pusan to tell him "We have a report that a typhoon is heading your way. It is due to reach you about 4 PM." He thanked them and hung up.

There were two facts which occurred to him at the time. One — was already 8 PM. Two — he had had to hunt around in the wreckage of the CP to find the phone when he heard it ring while cleaning up after the hurricane, which had arrived about noon.

Since then he has taken a jaundiced view of weathermen in general and storm warnings in particular, and has added an additional source of weather information to the School Brigade headquarters. Sitting behind the desk of the Brigade PIO during the present tornado season is a shortwave receiver used on an amateur radio emergency net which operates throughout the state of Alabama from which a Ft. Benning bound tornado would come.

Amateur operators in every part of the state can be heard exchanging weather information, both from local observation and direct from their local weather bureaus. (Some of the "blams" are official weather observers).

When the wind begins to blow a bit at Benning, and a weather warning is issued, many of the Brigade staff drift by the Public Information Officers' desk to listen to the "blow-by-blow" account of the approaching storm. During last week's storm alert, when the post children's school was evacuated, the local blams could be heard giving pinpoint accounts of weather disturbances and it was soon apparent that through conditions looked bad outside, Ft. Benning was being bypassed by the storm center and was not in danger.

Cub Scouts to Hold Track Meet Sunday

Cub Scouts of Pack No. 27, Ft. Benning, Georgia will participate in a Track Meet to be held at Green Field at 1:30 on April 13, 1957.

Cub Scouts will be divided into three age groups for competition. An eight year old age group, a nine year old age group, and a ten year old age group. Prizes will be awarded for the winners of the first three places in each event. A trophy will be awarded to the champion of the Track Meet.

"BOARD THE BEAVER BUDDY" . . . Faces blackened, combat loaded, and wearing a parachute, the last Ranger scrambles aboard an Army Beaver at Lawson Field with the help of a buddy already in the door. A few minutes later they unloaded on blacked out Mervel airstrip and spread out to protect the field while the planes took off. Then they were on their own.

Night Combat Tactics Used By Rangers

Ranger students in the 4th Company, The School Brigade, received a realistic preview of night combat action against an enemy guerrilla camp when they loaded into light planes and made a night landing on a darkened "enemy" airstrip last week. Wading through chest deep swirling currents in Upper creek they crossed a 150 foot cliff with the use of ropes placed by an advance party. Arriving dropping west (from both the river and the perspiration from the climb) at the top of the cliff they regrouped and advanced silently on the "Aggressor" guerrilla camp. In a well-planned night attack they swept through the camp, and after a quick mop-up, arrived at the helicopter pickup point at three in the morning for the lift out of "enemy" territory. However, as frequently happens to combat the "choppers" did not arrive, due to "enemy" action, so they marched out after accomplishing their mission.

MEN AT WORK . . . An unusual team is formed by former military policeman, M-Sgt. Woodrow G. Longber, left, and Capt. Webster D. Hendry, former Fort Benning ammunition officer, who handled the job of running one of the most important companies within Special Troops Command. This company has vital personnel in almost every section of Main Post, from the four staff sections of U.S. Infantry Center to members of Main Officers' Mess.

A former Ft. Benning ammunition officer and military policeman form an unusual team, who have the big task of keeping one of the most important companies with Special Troops Command running smoothly.

Capt. Webster D. Hendry, an ordnance officer for many years, has taken the reins of his second company, which has the characteristics of being somewhat of a headquarters. Capt. Hendry is directly under the fact that a former MP was chosen to take over the number one non-commissioned officer post — the first sergeant.

M-Sgt. Woodrow G. Longber, chief sergeant and member of confinement staff, leads himself with one of the most vital jobs within Special Troops Command.

These two men have a company strength of 207 men. This doesn't sound like many, but try the task of coordinating and getting different orders to them when they are assigned duties in almost 29 different sections on post.

Company C personnel, which number over 138 non-commissioned officers, are scattered within the four staff sections: G-1 Personnel, G-2 (Intelligence), G-3 (Training) and G-4 (Supply). ## Virginia Mayo May Retire Soon Prettiest face in Hollywood belongs to Virginia Mayo, our Profile of the Week. St. Louis born on Nov. 30, 1920, she began acting (for pay) at the tender age of eight as an old timer in a production of the Stratford-on-Avon players there.

She retired with the name (Jones) when he headed for Broadway via vaudeville after high school. . . became a name when Billy Rose put her in a Diamond Horseshoe review. Sam Goldwyn brought her to H'wood. She made her movie debut in "Up in Arms," and romped through many musicals before becoming a dramatic actress. Virginia covers her blonde tresses with a black wig to portray Cleopatra in Warner's forthcoming "The Story of Mankind." Trade journals have quoted her as saying she is "reluctant" to spend more time with husband Michael O'Shea and three-year-old daughter.

Hair Restoring Business Fine, But Son Prefers Law Career

BY JOHN GIBBONS
2nd Lt. Martin C. Brandon, 41st of the 25th Co., The School Brigade, can still remember that day, nearly 10 years ago, when over one million letters, cards and telegrams cascaded into the Brandens' home. The reason for this correspondence? His father had discovered a treatment that would improve hair, and that could actually restore hair to a badly balding person.

Forced Into Business
Lt. Brandens' father, Mr. Carl Brandens, had no intention of marketing the treatment, but after the local St. Helens, Oregon newspaper brought wind of the new hair treatment things started to happen. Some shrewd wire service got a grip on the item, and saw novel possibilities for nationwide release. Novitly or not, when the nation read in the newspapers of the hair raising doings in St. Helens, Oregon, there was no stopping the hundreds of thousands of bald and near bald people from demanding that they be let in on this new cure for baldness. So, the man in St. Helens, Oregon, Mr. Carl Brandens, who scarcely had enough of the precious treatment to use for himself, was suddenly the new hope for an entire nation's literally forced into business. Plans on Law Career

Lt. Brandens is not planning to follow in his father's footsteps, in spite of this promise of success. He intends to become a lawyer at the termination of his Army service. He is a distinguished Military Graduate from the University of Oregon, where he studied law. In his senior year he was taken into the Senior Men's Honorary Society, The Friars, because of his high scholastic achievements.

When he is not busy with his military duties, he spends much of his time pursuing his main hobby, flying. With over 800 hours log time to his credit, and more piling up, it almost seems unnecessary to state that he is an accomplished pilot.

The 25th Co., TSB, has its own soldiers in Lt. Martin Brandens' hair growing ability like all BIOG's, he is required to keep his cut short.

2 More Army Divisions Reorganize as A-Units
WASHINGTON (AP)—This month the Army began to reorganize two more divisions, the 4th Armored at Ft. Hood, Texas, and the 4th Inf. at Ft. Lewis, Wash., as atomic combat units for nuclear warfare.

Other divisions which started regrouping earlier this year to meet conditions of atomic war are the 26th Inf. Div. in Hawaii; the 1st Armored Div. in Ft. Polk, La.; the 1st Inf. Div., Ft. Riley, Kan.; and the 11th Abn. Div. in Germany.

The first to reorganize was the 101st Abn. Div. at Ft. Campbell, Ky.

Within the next two years, the Army said, all of its divisions, infantry, armored and airborne, will be tailored to the pentomic concept of five self-contained units with tremendous firepower and high mobility on the battlefield.

The pentomic infantry division has 12,750 men; the airborne, 11,486 paratroopers. The total strength of the armored division will be 14,617, only slightly below the present 14,700.

Each battle group, about the size of a scaled-down regiment.

DENTAL WORK . . . Brig. Gen. Arthur L. Irons, right, director of dental activities at Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington, D. C., watches Lt. Col. W. H. Wilson, center, of Portland, Ore., chief of Ft. Benning's dental department, as he demonstrates how the gnathoscope crown and bridge department, as he demonstrates how the gnathoscope functions. This instrument is used to show how the jaw manipulates movement. Gen. Irons made a liaison visit of the post dental activities for three days, accompanied by Col. Clyde D. Ostman, Jr., left, post dental surgeon.

When he is not busy with his military duties, he spends much of his time pursuing his main hobby, flying. With over 800 hours log time to his credit, and more piling up, it almost seems unnecessary to state that he is an accomplished pilot.

The division also has a tank battalion, a battalion of 105 mm howitzers and a composite battalion, with a battery of 9-inch howitzers and Honest John mortars, as well as rifle companies and a 150 mm mortar battery.

RECEIVES CERTIFICATE . . . Capt. Charles W. Hassell, center, of Nashville, Tenn., receives a Certificate of Achievement from Col. Richard T. Jones, Infantry Center inspector general, for his duties as chief of special inspections from October, 1955, until March 31. Capt. Hassell left Ft. Benning last week to attend the U. S. Army Anti-Aircraft, Artillery and Guided Missile School at Ft. Bliss, Tex. At right is Mrs. Hassell.

LONG MEMORIES
It had been many years but the two women employees of self-service laundry thought they recognized the help man.

Mrs. Edith Dedmon and Miss Cora Nicken turned out to be right. Benjamin J. Plater, Jr., 29, charged with the robbery, was the fellow they had gone to Booker T. Washington Junior High School with about 15 years ago.

HOW TO CHEER DAD

Board News

3 Assigned To Far East

Someone must have sown seeds of Far East fever in the United States Army Infantry Board detachment because this week sees three more Boarders heading for AFPE and specifically Korea.

Sgt. Lewis White, who calls Knoxville, Tenn., his home, enlisted for six years and requested his Korean tour. White has been a test NCO with the Infantry Board's Small Arms Department since his assignment here in December 1952.

Accompanying Sgt. White is Sp4 Fred D. Brabson, of Grays Knob, Ky., who also reupped for six and volunteered for Korea. Brabson has been an assistant test gunner in the Small Arms Department since May 1952.

Another man who reupped for six and volunteered for Korea is Sp4 Raymond E. Moncrief of Pearson, Ga. Moncrief joined the Board in July 1956 and has been dispatcher in the Motor Pool.

The Fishers, PFC Charles and wife Sandra have extended their stroke of luck to include winning a free ticket to the Grand Theater. Mrs. Fischer named a song played on a local radio contest. The Fishers several weeks ago won a basket of fruit in a local grocery store drawing.

This might be captioned late news, but better late than never. Sp2 Durwin Owens, of the Board's Photo Lab section was all smiles when he received his promotion to his present grade March 28. Also receiving promotion stripes was Charles L. Mabry Small Arms Department, who donned the stars of Sp3.

The Officers Volleyball League reached the half-way mark of their Spring tournament this week. League standings show Rocket and Recorders Department's team on top with a record of 11 wins and 7 losses.

54th Medical Group Clerk Makes Soldier of Month

BY PFC J. E. BRICE
Sp3 Richard Shomper, company clerk for the 3d Field Hospital, was selected Soldier of the Month for March, Sp3 Shomper won over 100 commendations and is to be congratulated on this high honor. An electric razor will soon be presented to Richard for his achievement.

Pvt. John Taylor is now learning the duties of the company mail clerk position, and Pvt. Shelby Smith is taking training to become the company clerk following the release of Sp3 Harry Thompson to civilian life.

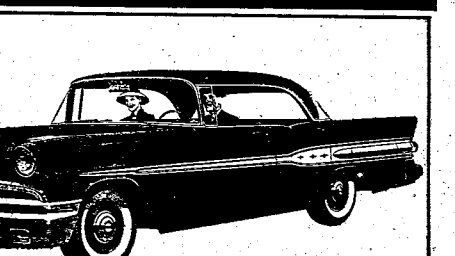

Sp3s Rudolf Sporebeck, Stamford, Conn., and Marvin Paiks of Utah, Kan., have finally started their journey home from the service. Thus ends the comradeship between them and their buddies of the 5402 Ambulance Company which started on the "Sagebrush War" back in '55.

Sgt Eugene Todd, also of the 5402 Amb Co., recently re-enlisted for Korea and will be lost from the company via the Ft. Lewis, Wash., route.

The 89th represented the 54th Medical Group in the Volleyball Tournament held in Pfc Robert Butler, also of the 3d Field Hosp., was likewise released from service and has returned to Pasco, Miss.

LOOK OUT... Joe Dubbery of Special Troops Command is ready to score on a spike shot against DivArty in the Regimental Volleyball tournament at Briant Wells Field House last Monday night. STC handily defeated DivArty, 15-3 and 15-6.

Action was fast and furious Monday night at Briant Wells Field House as the Ft. Benning Volleyball Tournament got underway. First night scores saw the post company level champions of the 29th RCT team romp home with an easy victory over the third division's Support Command, 15-0, 15-6. Two teams have already been eliminated in the double elimination tournament which will decide the post representative in the Third Army Volleyball tournament here at Ft. Benning April 22-25. The teams who have been eliminated are 151st Engineers and 54th Medical Group.

The United States Army Infantry School (formerly TSB) scored wins over 151st Engineers and the 54th Medical Group. They were the only team to take two first day wins. The tourney is slated to run through tomorrow. The winner will go forth representing the Field House as the Ft. Benning Volleyball Tournament got underway. ## ICC to Hold Boxing Cards

A program of boxing smokers is being initiated by the 29th ICC, scheduled for one per month. The smokers will be under the lights on the outdoor boxing ring located at the rear of the 29th ICC Headquarters Building in the Harmony Church area. The participants will consist primarily of basic trainees who have had little or no amateur experience. Anyone, however, will be eligible. Parings will be based upon extent of experience of the interested poolists. Of course, weight divisions will be a prime factor. The boxers will not go into the ring without some conditioning. Each duty evening, the 29th ICC Recreation Hall will be open for all interested. (Please See BOXING, Page 17)

29th RCT Schedules Field Day Saturday

Did you ever watch an dizzy relay? On a signal, a man runs fifty yards, picks up a hat, places it one end against his forehead and the other end against the ground, runs around the hat seven times and then returns to the starting line as quickly as his equilibrium will permit. These dizzy relays are part of the 29th RCT Unit Day which will be held this Saturday. Col. Joseph W. Sisson, Jr., 29th RCT commanding officer, has designated April 13 as Unit Day for the 29th Regimental Combat Team and attached units. All members and former members of the 29th RCT are invited to attend. A good morning of entertainment is in store for the visitors, including a parade, demonstrations, open houses, and displays. An RCT Unit Day Queen will be selected from among the enlisted men's wives and girl friends. The queen will be crowned during the review and will be presented a large bouquet of roses and a bracelet. The RCT crest mounted on a sign will rule as Queen for the day.

Campbell 9 To Be Here Next Week

Three Regimental baseball teams will provide the competition for Ft. Campbell's diamond stars who will play here next week in a three game series. Gowdy field will be the scene of action. Game time is 2 p.m. The first game is Wednesday with the 29th RCT nice playing the visiting Ft. Campbell team. ## Shaw, Ranoz'o Lead 9th Bn To Track Win

DAVE ROTHENBERG The recently formed 9th Infantry Battalion flexed its muscles, sufficiently in the short distance track events on Saturday morning at Doughboy Stadium to cop the 7th the first major sport event of the Third Infantry Division this spring. With four men coping first place honors, the 9th Battalion grandly built their point total to finish with 41. The 4th Infantry Battalion edged the 5th Battalion 38-28 to take second place honors. Finishing fourth, was the 3d Reconnaissance Battalion with 22 marks.

Double Winner Two men scored a pair of first places. The winning 9th Battalion's Pvt. Richard Shaw was awarded 10 points for taking the 200 yard dash and the broad jump. He did the 200 in 25 seconds and the broad jump in 17'8". The other double winner was Pvt. Robert Ranoz'o with the 3d Recon Battalion. Ranoz'o took both the shot put and the discus with throws of 40'3" and 107'8" respectively.

RCT Cindermen Daily Workouts Are Beneficial for 29th

Perhaps the finest single performance of the meet was turned in by Lt. Stanley Matzke, of the 5th Battalion, who topped the 6' mark in the high jump. Matzke, a former all-around athlete with the University of Nebraska, also tied for second spot in the pole vault. His impressive high jump mark was nearly matched by Pvt. Fred Powell with the 4th Battalion, who nicely cleared the 5'10" mark before being stopped at the 6' barrier. The 29th RCT track team has been working out daily at Doughboy Stadium under the watchful eye of Coach James Skaines. They've been working out as much as the weather will permit. April showers may bring flowers but they certainly are a detriment to the team's special Services Office at 3-2233. The squad lacks depth which means that the men will have to play the iron man's role, and compete in several events. Dick Jordan and Ollie Eiders are "coming along fine" according to Skaines. Both entered in the quarter mile, they have turned in good times for 192'10" was enough to win. Individual awards to first, second and third place winners were presented during the meet by the 7th ICC Executive Officer, Lt. Col. Willoughby Tyler. The winning team trophy was awarded by the Commanding Officer of the 7th ICC, Colonel William M. Summers. Major Charles L. Freedson, acting commander of the first place 9th Infantry Battalion, clocked in 29.7. Pole Vault Flyer Lt. Glenn Hoffman of the 4th Battalion took the top spot in the pole vault with 11' and a third place in the javelin. The javelin's first spot went to Pvt. William Manning of the 5th Battalion, whose toss of 117'8" was the longest.

TOM WIERZBICKI New Cutoff Rule Starts Squabble

AUGUSTA, Ga. — When you eliminate six former champions from an invitational golf tournament you're bound to be in for some severe criticism. Cliff Roberts, tournament committee chairman of one of golf's biggest attractions acknowledged that he is quite aware that the cutback rule in the Masters Tournament needs revision. The rule as it stood, cut the field of 102 of the country's top golfing stars to a mere 40 after two rounds were completed.

Hogan, Middlecoff Sidelined Two of the strongest sentimental favorites, Ben Hogan and Cary Middlecoff, and a host of other topflight players moved to the sidelines for the final rounds of this year's Masters tourney. Hogan missed making the "lucky" 40 by one stroke while Middlecoff was two strokes away from entering the charming circle. Other victims were Ted Kroll, last year's leading money winner; Julius Boros, former winner of the National Open and the Tom O'Shanter "world's" title; Mike Souchak, Tammy Bolt and Gene Little.

Golfers and gallery participants alike issued complaints at the new ruling. "And who would blame them?? It just doesn't seem like a golf tournament when you drop out Hogan, the greatest golfer of the era, and Middlecoff, the current National Open Champion who is generally recognized as the best current competitive player." Horton Smith, the winner of the first Masters Tournament in 1934 and the only man who had played in every round until he was eliminated by this year's cutoff ruling, commented: "It's like being invited to home for dinner and told to get up and get out before they serve dessert."

The Masters Tournament is not run like other tournaments throughout the country. For one thing, it's an invitational affair. The great names of the past and present are invited. Of the 102 golfers which started the tourney, among them, they have won no fewer than 93 of the world's major golf championships. Included in this field are the winners of 20 U. S. Opens, 19 Masters winners, 11 British Opens, 22 National PGA's, 14 U. S. Amateur and nine British Amateur titles. Jimmy Demaret who finished third this year and Ben Hogan have won nine titles.

Roberts said that this year's rule was put into effect after lengthy study of the tournament committee. "We don't intend to do anything to hurt the tournament. This year we were unlucky in Hogan's case. If one man had missed one putt, Hogan would have been in."

Opinion among participating golfers varied. A few agreed, but the majority disagreed with the drastic cut to a field of 40 players. Vic Ghezzi, veteran pro, felt that if a man can't make the top 40 he shouldn't want to hang around. Gene Sarazen, one of the game's grand old men, said, "I think the cutoff is too severe. This year's developments prove it."

The two big names of present day golf, Hogan and Middlecoff also voiced an opinion. Middlecoff agreed with the idea of a cutoff but felt that the number of golfers left to play the final two rounds should be 60 not 40. Hogan, when told that he had been chopped from the tournament, commented tersely: "I should have been."

I can't recall who said it, but one of the golfers commenting on the cutoff said, "Any tournament that goes into the final 18-holes with Sam Snead, Jackie Burke, and Jimmy Demaret fighting 1-2-3 is a pretty fair one."

Diamond Stars Tussle For Place on RCT Nine

BY DICK SPENCER
1st Lt. Bill Considine, coach of the 29th RCT tossers, knows that every position is still open. The starting nine will be comprised of some hustlers, boys who really want to play ball.

Wearing a smile on his well-tanned face, Considine added, "The team, as a whole, shows great promise as a contender to represent Ft. Benning in the Third Army Tournament."

"I'm still experimenting, switching men around to get the tightest defense and the best hitters in the line-up," he said.

Emphasize Hustle
The Canton, Rhode Island native stressed that, "no one player has nailed down any one position" and "we are emphasizing hustle."

There are eighteen candidates vying for a spot in the starting line-up. Several of them have impressed Coach Considine.

"The progress of right-handed hitting has impressed me as coaching staff," Considine commented. "He has displayed his good team effort and willingness to learn and I expect he will develop into a top-flight chucker."

Herb Crank is ready to fill in anywhere he is needed most. At present, he is stationed at third base but whether or not he will start at the hot-corner is still not definite. At an election held last week, Crank was chosen captain for the 1957 edition of the Commanders. The stocky baseball veteran has been hitting the ball hard according to Considine.

Cager to Compete
Frank Lee, a star on the Regimental Basketball team, traded in his sneakers for a pair of spikes and has become an aggressive pitcher. Coach Considine pointed out, "Lee has a good eye for the ball, waits for the pitcher well and may be used at a number of positions because of his versatility."

Howie Williams, a member of the mound crew, may be used in the outfield when he is not pitching. The 29th coach remarked, "A man with his all-around ability could play several different positions."

Five pitching candidates are working out with the squad. Williams, Hazelrig, Sam Carr, Joe Milja and John Barnard, Barnard pitched for the Post team last summer.

Tom Joiner, Larry Hallman and Roger Schmitt have been trying for the catching assignment. Considine said, "No one has the track on that job yet."

Outfield candidates include Joe Paulson, Ralph Mizell, Earl Van Horn, Gus Delesius and Frank Lee. Infielders include John Bartolone, Doug Walstad. Herb Crank is seeking infield berths.

JERRY ARMSTRONG Fishing Pockets Best for Season

Mr. Winter has moved back into the post community during the last few days of the bass, bream and crappie have moved into deep water. But to the experienced angler, deep water fishing can still be very profitable with the proper technique.

Another point in trying to land fish from deep water, especially the fisherman and lady fly casters, who like to keep their "lead legs" by casting a very fine line from the bank, there certain little tricks which will aid greatly.

This type of bass can be landed if the proper techniques are employed.

WOMAN FISHERMAN... Mrs. Ruth Striegn, one of the post's most successful anglers, displays the 11 1/2 pound bass she landed in Kings Pond.

"This type of bass can be landed if the proper techniques are employed."

ELKS ENTERTAIN
The Columbus, Ga., Elks Club entertained members of officer candidate class No. 1 at the Infantry School and their wives with a party at the chapter house March 29.

The Elks honored the candidates' attainment of senior status.

Other guests included cadre officers of the Second Brigade's 2nd Command Company, Capt. Edward A. Bennett, Lt. Ben F. Sharp, Jr., Lt. James P. Johnson, Lt. Charles Bartlett and Lt. John W. Fowler, and their wives.

"Thank fish" walk along the shore and fish in the deep holes which usually are found in the past of land and around stumps or fallen trees.

The bait is also important. When trying to catch bream, use the larger "pink worms" and hook them with a number six size hook. Just through the middle so as to give the bait all the room to set alive.

Flip the bait, without lead or only a small slip shot if the water is very rough, into the deep pockets and allow it sink gradually all the way to the bottom. If you don't feel a strike, then lift it slowly and be ready for the next fish just like people have a tendency to be cautious and will only venture into places they feel is absolutely safe.

So if you're planning to try your luck this weekend at some of the different ponds on post, try using some of these little tips and you may have enough to take home and even make the pan small fishy.

Kings Pond, even in rough weather, can still produce a good catch of bass and crappie if you use the right bait and method. The bream now have gone to the deeper waters of the post's ponds and likewise the crappie, so don't expect to fish in three feet of water and come out with the fish.

Beer Vats in Utica Lose Man to Stew Vats of OCS

Beer vats in Utica, N.Y., lost a "most adept" candidate for the OCS. Ask OCS Candidate Richard J. Getek of Utica, N.Y., ex-foreman at the West End Brewery, makes his bid at OCS. His PT scores, always in the 400 and plus range, will testify to that. Here is one man that being around thousands of gallons of beer every day didn't affect in the least.

When asked about his plans for the future, he was quick to reply that the army had much more to offer a young man than the brewery, so it looks like the Brewing Industry is going to be missing one manager, and the U. S. Army is going to be getting one new officer. When we questioned him about his personal feelings toward beer, he rendered the surprising reply: "I don't even like the stuff."

Reenlistments Take Jump In Division

Reenlistments within the Division took a decided jump during the month of March to reflect the highest reenlistment rate of the past six months. According to Lieutenant Gregory Bradley, Division Reenlistment Officer, 103 Marmenon, out of a total of 256 eligible for reenlistment, elected to remain in the service. Included in the figure were twelve initial reenlistments in the Regular Army.

The 3rd Support Command led the Division in reenlistments for March with a total of thirteen, followed closely by the 3rd Reconnaissance Battalion with ten reenlistments and an initial enlistment for a total of eleven.

The 38th Field Artillery Battalion and the 6th Tank Battalion both provided four new Regulars. All initial enlistees were processed under the authority granting Division Basic Trainees the privilege of enlisting during their basic training period for the purpose of GYROSCOPING with the Division to Germany next year.

Med Student Anticipates Cancer Cure

An advanced Infantry trainee who in civilian life did cancer research is now a member of the 3rd Division's 7th Infantry Battalion. He is Pvt. Russell H. Carrington of Company "A," who is in his fifth week of training.

Pvt. Carrington graduated in 1955 from Morgan State College in Baltimore, Maryland, his hometown. He entered the University of Maryland School of Medicine in the fall of that year.

He was drafted in December, 1956, while in the process of transferring to the University of Michigan Medical School. Carrington has two and a half years of formal medical school remaining before he earns his degree in medicine.

"I believe the ultimate cure for cancer lies in this form of chemical therapy," he said upon completion of his Army service. Carrington hopes to get a research grant from the Ford Foundation or other philanthropic organization to continue his studies into the causes of cancer.

Herbert Hoover is now undergoing Basic Combat Training with "A" Battery of the 30th Field Artillery Battalion. But this Hoover is Pvt. Herbert Charles Hoover, a cousin of the former President of the United States, Herbert C. Hoover, and also related to J. Edgar Hoover, Chief of the Federal Bureau of Investigation.

Private Hoover, 23, hails from Newburgh, New York, where he attended Newburgh Free Academy High School upon graduation in June of 1955. Pvt. Hoover attended Michigan State University where he studied Accounting and Economics. He graduated from Michigan State in June of 1956 with a Bachelor of Arts Degree.

Upon graduation he applied for Government Sponsored Internal Revenue School, and after passing a barrage of tests, security checks and interviews he entered the school in June of 1956. Pvt. Hoover taught tax law, revenue code and elements of fraud. The six-month course was tough and out of the original 23 students, only 11 were left.

Ex-Political Aide Throws Hat in the Ring for OCS

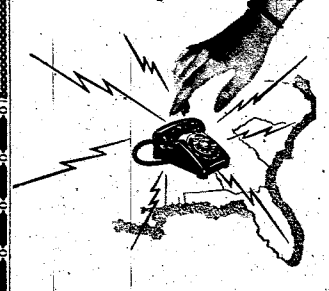

Hungarian born Bendeguz A. Viragh, 36th Co., 5th Student Bn. was a former public relations man for the Republican party before coming to Benning as an OCS, and here is one public relations man who really has done a lot of lookwork.

As a member of the crack University of Georgetown track team, he performed a feat in long distance record running that has not been equaled in modern times. He ran non-stop from Washington D. C. to Baltimore, Md., and back again, a total of 78 miles in 18 hours. He was followed by official observers (they, of course, had an automobile) who verified the run. Another athlete started the run with OC Viragh, but wasn't in on the finish.

Formerly employed as public relations man for Congressman Simpson of Pennsylvania, Bendeguz (known as "Bendy" to his friends at OCS) is now planning a career in the Army, but every now and then he feels that his career in politics, and Capitol Hill are waiting patiently for his return.

A big objective of the Bell System is to make it possible some day for people to dial their own Long Distance calls. An important step toward this objective is the changing of all telephone numbers to a uniform numbering system of a central office name and five figures. The program is moving rapidly in Southern Bell's nine-state area.

It's a big job, and it's in the interest of faster and better service for you. Right now, your Long Distance calls go through twice as fast as when you give the operator the out-of-town number.

Soldier Learns Costly Lesson the Hard Way

BY MSGT CLARK BLACKBURN

This beat up old soldier assigned to The School Brigade is not exactly known as a great humanitarian, but at times he is a soft touch — particularly if there is a pretty gal involved.

It seems that this old soldier was seated at his favorite beverage emporium sipping a cool drink when a very attractive young lady came in and makes the rounds showing some sort of card to each customer. When it came time for the old soldier to read the card, his curiosity was aroused — to say the least. A hasty look at the card revealed to him that the girl was a deaf mute and he was soliciting funds. Now this old soldier had picked up the art of sign language many years ago just for the "kicks." It's not known whether he "speaks" better English with his hands, but it is hoped that he does, for what he can't do to the "Kings English" with his vocal cords hasn't been invented yet.

There came a break in the conversation the old soldier was giving out with, and he sat there with an expectant look on his ugly old map as though he awaited an answer. There was none forthcoming, however, for the pretty young thing did an excellent job of face and started out the door. The beat up old soldier made one last effort, however, for he called out to her in his best drill field voice and said: "Just a minute there, girly, I have a coin for you!" The girl did

Medical Specialists

Observe Birthdays

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Army Medical Specialist Corps will observe its 10th anniversary April 16.

General Maxwell D. Taylor, Chief of Staff, said in a congratulatory message to Col. Harold S. Lee, chief of the corps:

"The high professional standards maintained by medical specialists in the fields of occupational therapy, physical therapy, and dietetics contribute to the rapid recovery of our soldier-patients and the general health of the Army."

11 Assigned To Company

The 26th Ord. Co. gained three new personnel last week with the assignment of SFC Eugene L. Frantz, SP2 David B. Eng and PFC Howard R. Breeden. SFC Frantz is from Jeffersonville, Ind., SP2 Eng from Anna, Ill., and PFC Breeden hails from Greensboro, N.C. All three are ammunition storage specialists and are serving on their first assignment since returning from overseas in February.

M-Sgt. Stephanie Klepel, of Sidney, N. Y., and Pvt. Barbara A. Spruck, of Mt. Vernon, N. Y., reported for duty with STC's WAC Co. last week. M-Sgt. Klepel, a dental technician, came to Manning from Valley Forge Army Hospital in Phoenixville, Pa., and Pvt. Spruck was assigned here after graduating from the Army Information School, Ft. Slocum, N. Y.

Co. A, 1st Special Troops Bn, added the name of SFC Ralph C. Seal, of Morristown, Tenn., and Pvt. Richard L. Morrison, of Bar Harbor Me., to its roster April 3. SFC Seal will work with Post Ordnance and Pvt. Morrison at the Post Photo Lab.

another about face, took half dollar from the "married fingers of the old soldier, and beat a hasty retreat. The last seen of the girl was her driving off in a 1937 Mercury hard top with twin antennae on the back fenders. The old soldier climbed to his third old feet, watched her disappear in the early twilight, then turned and got into his '34 Ford tin extras on it but a spare tire) and drove slowly but thoughtfully home. The next "deaf mute" may have a harder time getting a half back from his beat up soldier, for his expression was not exactly pleasant as he drove off home.

Ft. Benning Thrift Shop Bargain Hunter Paradise

BY MILLICENT SCUDDER
Ft. Benning's Thrift Shop is crowded each Tuesday and Thursday with personnel bringing in unneeded items for sale and carrying out useful bargains.
The project's shoppers and sellers profit doubly from transactions at the two-story wooden building across from the Commissary since the Thrift Shop is a charity undertaking of the Ft. Benning Women's Club.

Each major command shops a day at the Thrift Shop with 18 volunteers on duty during the 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. business hours.
"We handle anything," says Mrs. C. T. Clagett, Thrift Shop chairman.
Merchandise neither sold nor picked up by the owner after 90 days becomes the shop's property and is sold at a greatly reduced price. The shop further profits by selling articles, which are donated.

Baritone Opera Star Sings Cadence Count

To at least one Basic Trainee in the 3rd Infantry Division the order "Count Cadence Count," is an opportunity to combine rhythmic training. The rhythmic response to the order is rendered in a professional manner and in a deep voice by the 6th Infantry Battalion's baritone soloist, Pvt. Frank D. Cruz.

lost in Carnegie Hall and been featured in productions staged at the Brooklyn Museum. One of his most successful appearances was in LaBonne at the famed Shatham Square Music School and Opera Workshop in New York City.
Cruz prizes his friends in the opera and music world as much as he treasures his experiences. Among his acquaintances are such musical greats as Robert Merrill, Richard Tucker, Lisz Della Casch, Cesare Siepi and Maro De Monico, to mention only a few.

WHAT DO WE HAVE HERE... Mrs. E. P. Howard and daughters Lisa and Deidre examine a painted woodstove converted into a combination table lamp, and table and chair. Some weird things show up at the Thrift Shop, but they are in the minimum.

Parking Lot To Be Built At Post PX

The problem of inadequate parking facilities at the main Post PX will soon be a thing of the past.
The 37th Engineer Battalion (Construction) is now in the process of constructing a 180' by 175' parking lot to handle the large volume of vehicles exchanged daily at the exchange.
In constructing the lot, which is located between the base station and PX, the engineers removed the existing concrete curbing and asphalt to correct the grade. In a profile of this nature, drainage is one of the major problems encountered.

Located on the site is a huge tree which has become a landmark of the main post. Rather than detract from the appearance of the area, the lot will be built around the tree.
The lot will be asphalt paved and upon completion will be able to accommodate better than one hundred vehicles.

HOW ABOUT THAT... The first soldiers to venture out in newly authorized shorts at Ft. Benning rate an appreciative glance from WAC Pvt. Peanette, Masters, left, of Hull, Ill., clerk-typist in Special Troops Command's S-2 (Intelligence) Section. Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, U.S. Army Infantry Center commander, has authorized the wearing of the shorts outfit by officers, warrant officers and enlisted men on or off duty on the military reservation prior to retreat. Trying out the summer outfit are Pvt. Emerson Watson, center, and SP3 Thomas V. Walraven, both assigned to the 534th Signal Company.

3d Division Returns From King Cole Test

"Troops of the Third Infantry Division that participated in Exercise King Cole in Louisiana were returned to Ft. Benning this week. The troops were airlifted by C124 Air Force Globemaster planes to Lawson Army Air Field from the exercise site near Ft. Polk, La.
The first planes arrived Monday night and the bulk of the troops began arriving on Tuesday morning. Many of the smaller vehicles were returned by the airlift. The remainder of the vehicles are scheduled to arrive late this week.
"Marne men" taking part in the maneuver underwent experiences that closely simulated actual combat conditions. The "Marne men" were brought face to face with conditions that clearly impressed them in the nature and seriousness of combat warfare. They were put to the task of using all their acquired military knowledge, tactical and logistical know-how. They came to realize that though the ammunition was blank, every other facet of the maneuver took on a con-all, U. S. Army Infantry Center commander, granted permission for their wear by officers, warrant officers and enlisted men beginning April 1.

However, cool weather has prevented personnel from wearing them! Restricted to use on the military reservation, the outfit may be worn on or off duty prior to retreat.
Two sets of the uniform, including knee-length socks, will be issued to each soldier who entered the Army after last July 1. Officers, warrant officers and enlisted personnel may purchase the uniform at the Quartermaster Sales Store.
The shorts uniform is not authorized for female members of the service. However, post males can take solace in the fact that servicewomen "shorts" while participating in ball games and other recreational pursuits.

Gen. Ruggles Honored With Reception

Brig. Gen. and Mrs. John F. Ruggles were honored at an official reception in the Main Officers' Mess at Ft. Benning April 14.
Gen. Ruggles assumed the duties of deputy commanding general of the U. S. Army Infantry Center April 12. He succeeded Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, who was named assistant to the commanding general of the Infantry Center.

CMH Winner Serves With 3rd Division

Another of the nation's greatest hero's has become a member of the "Marine Division" assigned to an Anti-Aircraft Battalion at Ft. Stewart, Ga.
Congressional Medal of Honor winner, reported to the 3rd Infantry Division last Friday for duty. The Division now has two CMH winners in its ranks. The other Medal of Honor winner is Captain James L. Stone of the 2nd Infantry Battalion.

United States in April 1965. Since that time, he has been assigned to an Anti-Aircraft Battalion at Ft. Stewart, Ga.
In addition to the white star and blue ribbon indicating the Medal of Honor Award, Specialist Watson also wears the Purple Heart with two stars, the Asiatic Pacific Campaign Ribbon with three Battle Stars, the Marine Good Conduct Ribbon, the UN Ribbon and the Korean Service Ribbon.
Specialist Watson's wife, Vida, is remaining in Arkansas until her husband's assignment at Ft. Benning is completed.

DISCUSSION . . . Top Army officials met with 45 leading U. S. scientists and industrialists of the Army Scientific Advisory Panel at Ft. Benning April 9 to 11. Left to right at an official reception April 9 honoring the visitors are Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, the Army's chief of research and development; Undersecretary of the Army Charles C. Finucane and Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, U. S. Army Infantry School commandant. Panel members pooled their talents toward improving the U. S. Army's combat potential.

Under Secretary of Army Scientific Panel Hears Address by Finucane

"You are now at really the home of the U. S. Army, probably the great infantry center of the whole world," Undersecretary of the Army Charles C. Finucane told 45 members of the Army Scientific Advisory Panel at Ft. Benning April 9.

Each visitor received an honorarium of $100. Speaking at an official dinner honoring the group, Mr. Finucane said "It is a great history, so many human endeavors, so many tactics have been here. I am glad that a little bit of the infantry will rub off on you."

The undersecretary presented certificates of appointment and reintroduction of 17 panel members.

Panel members Reappointed to the panel are Dr. Ralph Bowen, consultant; Dr. Harry F. Bowler, professor of psychology, University of Wisconsin; Robert T. Hamilton, director, W. B. Grace and Company; Dr. George E. Kimball, science adviser, Arthur D. Little, Inc.; Dean W. Hill; and Pvt. John V. Kwiatkowski, Chicago, Ill.

Alvin C. Graves of Los Alamos Scientific Laboratory, was unable to attend the dinner due to illness.

Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Infantry School commandant, presided over the dinner. Other new officers of the group are Mrs. James Foley, secretary; Mrs. Robert G. Gaudin, social secretary; Mrs. Francis Murphy, treasurer; Mrs. Raymond O'Brien, assistant treasurer; and Mrs. Fred Hart, program chairman.

An official reception in the main dining hall followed the dinner. The Army guests at the affair included Lt. Gen. James M. Gavin, the Army's chief of research and development; Lt. Gen. E. T. Williams, deputy commander of the Infantry School; and Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, the Army's chief of staff.

Message

Thank You for Containing becoming a part of the new leaves of Spring! The wheat fields waving in the wind are possible only because of the less grains "die" in order to become a part of that new life. Who will say that grain is wheat in the barn are as beautiful as the golden grain waving in the wind? You see, the new life is so much more beautiful!

Two More Posts Combat Atomic.

The Department of the Army has announced the immediate assignment of two more posts to U. S. Army Divisions; the 4th Armored at Ft. Hood, Texas, and the 4th Infantry at Ft. Lewis, Wash., as atomic combat units.

These two divisions join the list of new "atomic" divisions which include the 45th Infantry in Hawaii, the 1st Armored at Ft. Polk, La.; the 1st Infantry at Ft. Riley, Kansas; and the 11th Airborne in Germany, that began reorganizing earlier this year to most possible atomic war conditions.

It is appropriate that Easter always comes in the spring. Just as Spring brings new life to the earth so He brings new life to our souls.

"O Glory of the lighted mind, How dumb I've been, How dumb, how blind! The flowing brook to my new eyes Was bubbling out of Paradise. The waters running from the rain Were saying: 'Christ is risen again!'"

Teaching Methods

School Chief Pleased With Army Program

"I've seen some of the best teaching here I've ever seen. I'm proud of the promise that faces every young man in the national defense."

Speaking at a dinner honoring 65 leading U. S. educators visiting the U. S. Army Infantry School April 11 to 15, Miss Velma Linford of Cheyenne, Wyo., added "I've seen that when motivation is there, aptitude is dispersed."

"Our problem as public school educators is the same as your problem as educators in the art of defense. We must have the courage to develop every human being to the greatest potential," she went on.

"You have a certain motivation, aside from the life-saving motivation, that we do not have in public education—the immediate application of the things learned," Miss Linford pointed out.

"Certainly if education and defense are as irrevocably tied together as we know they are, there is no way to improve the caliber of a recruit other than to improve the caliber of the teachers," she noted.

Following the dinner, the visiting education officials from 38 states and the District of Columbia were feted at an official reception in the Main Officers' Mess.

In the receiving line were Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Infantry School commander; Major General Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, Infantry School assistant commander, and Mrs. Hazel J. Scudder, superintendent of the Fort Benning Children's Schools.

RECEIVING LINE... Sixty-five leading U.S. educators from 38 states and the District of Columbia were honored at an official reception and dinner at Ft. Benning April 11 in the Main Officers' Mess at the beginning of a two-day orientation on today's streamlined Army. Right to left in the receiving line are Gen. Powell, U. S. Army Infantry School commander; Miss Velma Linford of Cheyenne, Wyo., state superintendent of public instruction; Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, Infantry School assistant commander; and Mrs. Hazel J. Scudder of Lexington, Ky., superintendent of the Fort Benning Children's Schools.

54th Medical Group CO Leaves Company

BY PVT. LEN GOLDINGER. The 50th Medical Company is unhappy to announce the loss of their CO, Capt. Almer W. Kilpatrick, who will leave for Saigon, Vietnam, on May 1.

Over at the 60th Med Co, Sgt. P. V. Canino, Training Sgt., Vietnam, is now on his own vacancy and is now on 30 day leave.

Sgt. Earl Miller took two big steps recently. On Monday April 8 he re-enlisted for six years. On Sunday April 14, he got married and started his 30 day leave.

The group mourns the death of a former member of the 50th Med Co, Sp5 Harold E. Alred was killed enroute to Ft. Dix, N.J., on 21 March, at Hatteras, Tenn.

About the 54th Med Co there is an air of activity as the men make ready for their first field exercise of the New Year.

Sgt. James Jackson and Pvt. Roger Clayton, the 54th's representatives on the Post Choir, are having a friendly musical

Camp Walters To Train 500

WASHINGTON—According to an Army Aviation official here, the Primary Helicopter School at Camp Walters, Tex., will train more than 500 future pilots this year in its 20-week course.

The course at Camp Walters, located in Mineral Springs, Texas, includes four weeks of pre-flight and 16 weeks of flight training. During the pre-flight or Phase I training, emphasis is placed on physical conditioning, courtesies and customs of the services, and school of the soldier.

Phase II or regular flight training, takes in ground school instruction in aeronautical subjects, military training, and primary and basic flight training in reconnaissance-type helicopters.

Individuals who complete the course at Walters are sent to Ft. Rucker, Ala., for 14 weeks of transition training in cargo helicopters. Personnel graduating from the course at Walters are appointed Warrant Officers.

TERNS W. Lee (Pleasant Face the Bicent, Peppy) O'Donnel for assistance in his fight against these cleaning establishments.

It might be noted that this old soldier was born and bred in a cleaning establishment.

We had to catch this old soldier in one of his cooler moments. He was in the vicinity of this vicinity. He had this to say:

"Master, I'm goin' on 45 years in this here cockeyed cleaning establishment. I've been in an everlastin' fair, several times to the great State Fair of Texas, and to the Denton County (Texas) Goat Show, but I ain't never seen anything like what the cleaners in this here part of the world are a doin'."

We told him we hadn't noted anything wrong with the cleaning establishment around here but the high prices, but he was not to be deterred in his fight for what he thought was right.

"You know", continued the old soldier, "every last one of these cleaners are putting stuff in the cleaning solvent that makes khaki pants, khaki pants, khaki pants, khaki pants, khaki pants."

"And here's another not so funny thing about this conspiracy, mister. This stuff they put in their solvent makes me shrink the pants in length—only around the waist. I put away my khaki clothes last fall all cleaned, starched, and ironed, ready to put on this spring. Well, when I went to put on my pants every last pair were shrunk a good inch around the waist!"

"Yes sir", he summed it up. I'm calling on all my khaki pants, and the 'Big Wheel' in both Washington and Texas to fight this horrible racket. I'll even call the Texas Rangers out if necessary. I'll see to it they stop making all us old timers' pants shrink in the waist if it's the last thing I do in this world."

Post Hospital Celebrates 10th Anniversary of Specialist Corps

BY JULIA BRUNNKE
Fort Benning's dietitians and physical and occupational therapists at the U. S. Army Hospital observed the 10th birthday of the Army Medical Specialist Corps April 16.

This date commemorates the signing by the President in 1947 of the public law that established the corps as part of the Regular Army Medical Services.

An anniversary tea was held in the Main Nurses Quarters April 16 from 4:30 p.m. to 6 p.m. under the direction of Major Ruby Winslow, senior member of the corps and chief of the hospital's Food Service Division.

Special Guests
Special guests invited to the tea included Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commander of The U. S. Army Infantry Center and Mrs. Powell; Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, assistant commanding general of the hospital; and Mrs. Thompson; Capt. Robert J. Cook, assistant commander of the U. S. Army Infantry School and Mrs. Cook; Major J. Craig and 2nd Lt. Loren E. Thompson.

Other guests included Lt. Col. Clara M. Kieley, chief nurse, members of the Army Nurses Corps and the hospital's American Red Cross staff. Dietitians staffing the Food Service Division, in addition to Major Winslow, are Capt. Virginia Woodside and Capt. Mary Charlesworth.

They operate two open messes and approximately 15 ward kitchens, serving about 1,900 meals a day to patients and hospital duty personnel. Also, they are staffed under a doctor's prescription and the work is closely coordinated with that of the physical therapy clinic.

The organization of the corps in 1947, first known as the Specialized Medical Service, was the nation's recognition of the outstanding service and vital roles of dietitians, physical and occupational therapists in the Army Medical Service.

The move was the culmination of many years of pioneering effort dating back to the Spanish-American War.

Marine Decides on Army Career

BY RAMON PADILLA
Twice a member of the Marine Corps and now an Officer Candidate in the 52d Company, 5th Student Battalion, The School Brigade, is the story of OC James E. Lybrand of York, S. C.

OC Lybrand served his first "which is the Marine as a Military Policeman at Key West, Florida. At the end of this term of service he felt the need of more "book learnin'" and enrolled in Belmont Abbey Seminary, Belmont, N.C. Education was coming along fine when someone started a "school" war in the Far East and he was recalled to duty with the 7th Marine Regiment of the 1st Marine Division. He served with this unit in Korea until wounded during the battle of the "Iron Triangle."

After hospitalization, he was discharged and returned college and thought OC Lybrand enlisted in the Army with the express purpose of applying for Officer Candidate School and a career as an Army Infantry Officer.

At the ripe old age of 27, this candidate has already proved himself to his fellow candidates. His one ambition now is to graduate as a second lieutenant and have his wife, Betty, and their two children sit on his gold bars.

Sergeant Sees Duty At 13 Installations
A Master Sergeant who has been stationed at 13 different Army camps in this country and abroad during the past 13 years, last week took over as operations sergeant in Lt. Col. Ray S. Sibert's 7th Infantry Battalion.

Sgt. Fetkenbauer's camp-hopping has taken him from Camp Robinson in Arkansas, where he took his basic training in 1944, to Camp Fuji in Japan.

GUARANTEE
Have you ever really read a watch guarantee? Some of them are printed on beautiful paper and look very much like official documents. But what do they really say?
After all is said and done, they only guarantee that you have purchased a watch and nothing more. Not so with a Zodiac guarantee! Zodiac bases its guarantee on the belief that "Your responsibility begins — not ends — with the sale of the watch to the customer."
Thus, for one year from date of purchase, we will repair or replace free of charge any Zodiac watch which fails to render proper service due to a mechanical or manufacturing defect. And we even protect the customer against his own negligence! Also within the year's guarantee we will repair such a watch at a nominal cost, the cost of which is equivalent to our own.
This guarantee is spelled out in clear language and is backed up by our unique, self-addressed Registry Card which you will find with the Guarantee and instruction booklet in each Zodiac watch box. Look for . . . ask for Zodiac fine watches at your Exchange. Take advantage of the low FX price of this world famous timepiece!

Gen. Thompson Speaks At Graduation Exercise

Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, assistant to the commanding general of The U. S. Army Infantry Center, spoke at graduation ceremonies for The U. S. Army Infantry School's basic officers class N. 5 at Ft. Benning April 13.

Approximately 200 students completed the 7½-week course at 11 a.m. in the Main Theater.

A 1927 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., Gen. Thompson is serving his fourth tour at Ft. Benning. In 1931, he was a classmate of Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Infantry School commandant in the school's company officers course.

JERRY ARMSTRONG Pesky Ant Hills Prove Dangerous

Jack Committee of The Infantry School's Technical Department from January to October, 1956, was assigned as assistant director of the school's Department of Non-Resident Instruction. Gen. Thompson, serving as director of the school's Staff Department from July 1952, to July, 1954.

Following 10 months as professor of military sciences and tactics at the University of Georgia, the 53-year-old officer, who served in the U.S. Army, has been assigned to Korea.

He came to Ft. Benning last October after serving as U.S. Army adviser to the II ROK Corps and the Korean Army Training Command.

like their relatives the bee and wasps, but still are the big brother of the common house ant.

These little insects have a secretion, which they inject in their victims in a very unusual manner. They bite their victims, holding onto the spot, they insert their stingers into the wound. This liquid injected contains mostly formic acid, plus several other chemicals.

The bite from one of these small ants is not very painful, but multiply it 75 to 100 times and for a small child or animal it could mean serious injury. It has even proved fatal in some incidences.

Detecting these ants, as something other than just little insects we have accepted for years, is something vital to the health of your entire family, especially our children.

Tip From Entomologist
Second Lt. Aulsey T. Olive, Ft. Benning's entomologist with the preventive medicine section of the post surgeon's activities, says that the way these little ants are increasing in numbers they are going to be a terrific problem by the middle of the summer months.

"Already in Custer Terrace, Reed Hill and Harmony Church areas these ant hills are appearing in tremendous numbers. A warning to the parents to be extremely careful in letting their children play near these mounds can't be emphasized too greatly," added Lt. Olive.

A good way to spot these ant hills usually will be rectangular in shape, along cement walks or other objects they can burrow under, and also they build escape tunnels two to three feet on all sides of the primary nest.

Secondly, by using a stick or something other than your hand or foot, scrape off the top of the hill. Immediately, if the hill belongs to "fire ants", hundreds of them will cover the surface of the mound. This is a defensive maneuver and is the time when a child could be seriously hurt by them.

Combating them can be accomplished by using some chemical that will penetrate deep in the hill, which sometimes goes down three feet under the surface. One common method is by thoroughly saturating the hill and surrounding areas to cover escape tunnels with kerosene.

With Easter egg hunting coming up all around your house this weekend, parents should be especially careful that your children don't end up in the hospital, suffering from the painful bites of "fire ants".

35 Receive Certificates

Thirty-five Fort Benning servicemen and civilian employees have been presented Work Simplification Certificates on completing management improvement instruction.

"Forty-three thousand dollars was saved by adopting the suggestions of last year's work simplification classes," Brig. Gen. James V. Thompson, deputy commanding general of The U. S. Army Infantry Center said in awarding the citations.

"These suggestions result in the elimination of safety hazards and allow more efficient operations. The savings will continue throughout the years," he added.

Gen. Thompson congratulated the class on being members of an improvement-conscious team. He urged the group to continue seeking areas for improvement and developing techniques learned in the course.

Unit Has Jobs Open

Openings for approximately 60 laundry workers at The U. S. Army Infantry Center at Ft. Benning are available, according to the Civilian Personnel Division officials.

The categories titles, grades and salaries are as follows:

Laundry workers, WB (Wage Board)—1, 60 cents per hour; laundry sorter, laundry packer and presser, all WB-3, 78 cents per hour, and washman helper, WB-4, 80 cents per hour.

The jobs are open for the 3 p.m. to 10:30 a.m. shift. They are under Civil Service rating and offer a six-month temporary appointment.

Applicants are required to have three months of progressively responsible experience for the WB-1 through WB-3 positions. Six months experience is required for the WB-4 position.

Civil Service officials stated that applications are urgently needed for the jobs because of the increased workload during the khaki uniform season.

Educator Developing Teaching Program for Retired Officers

BY MILICENT SCUDDER
At the Army in action at Ft. Benning April 11 to 13.

Dr. Harold Spears is one of the U. S. Army leaders who visited the U. S. Army Infantry School for an orientation on the April 15 issue of Life Magazine.

RECEIVES FLAG . . . Mrs. Hazel J. Scudder, superintendent of Ft. Benning Children's Schools, receives the American flag for the new school administration building at the Sojourners' Americanism Awards Program April 8.

Amateur radio operators in mimeographed handout was a demonstration of ham radio stations in front of the Main Post Theater last week. The purpose of the demonstration was to interest post personnel in joining the post electronics club and in amateur radio generally. The Army has a great need for electronics specialists and it was felt that such a demonstration would interest more soldiers in the electronics field.

Visitors to the demonstration listened to conversations between the demonstration stations and amateur radio operators around the country and examined the equipment.

on today's streamlined Army. Working with a $50,000 grant from the Ford Foundation, Dr. Spears is directing a five-year recruitment and training program to uncover new sources of teachers. He is currently recruiting U. S. Army Infantry School graduates. Gen. Ernest A. Barlow, deputy commanding general of the U. S. Army Infantry School, is in charge of the program. At Ft. Benning last May, he was one of 15 retired and Reserve officers participating in the program.

The experimental program is featured in the April 15 issue of Life Magazine. Thirty students are being trained in the course each year. The additional class of former service personnel concentrates on producing mathematics and science instructors. Gen. Barlow's group includes colonels, two Navy commanders and an Air Force captain and most are graduates of the U. S. Military or Naval Academies.

Practice Teaching
The program is based on direct experience in classrooms. Dr. Spears emphasizes, pointing out that each of his trainees does practice teaching at both secondary and junior college levels.

Trainers are paid $120 a month for a maximum of 12 months to help defray their expenses. A junior college with 6,000 students and seven high schools in San Francisco are available for their practice teaching.

Graduates of the program will be certified in California to teach at junior and senior high school and junior college levels. They satisfy course requirements by attending classes at San Francisco State College which has contracted with the city's public school system to assist with the program.

Dr. Spears went to San Francisco 18 years ago. Following a year's sabbatical leave as a director, he served seven years as assistant superintendent, before returning to his present position in July, 1955.

He has never served in the Armed Forces but declared that his dealings with the trainees who are retired from military service demonstrate the teaching potential in this field.

EASTER SERVICE . . . Standing before a gathering of approximately 2,000 persons at Easter sunrise services in Benning's Doughboy Stadium, is guest speaker, Rev. Colin P. Campbell, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church in Columbus (Ga.). The services opened at 6:03 a.m. as rays of the sun broke through the Easter dawn on a warm, clear, spring morning.

2,000 Attend Easter Services at Benning
Approximately 2,000 persons gathered in the early dawn for Easter sunrise services at Doughboy Stadium Sunday. A while after flanked with Easter lilies and centered with a large white cross of the lilies provided an inspiring setting on the stadium's field for the first of the Easter morning services at The Infantry Center. As the crowd gathered, a combined Infantry Center band gave a 20-minute sacred musical prelude to the services commemorating this joyful day of resurrection. Guest speaker for the sunrise service was the Rev. Colin P. Campbell, rector of Trinity Episcopal Church in Columbus, Ga. His topic was "He Goeth Before You".

Col. Kreidberg to Head ROTC Summer Training
Col. Marvin A. Kreidberg, professor of military science and tactics at the University of Florida, will serve as deputy commander for the Reserve Officer Training Corps summer camp at Ft. Benning this summer. Col. Kreidberg was assistant deputy commander in 1956. An estimated 1,488 cadets from 27 southeastern colleges and universities will attend six weeks of training from June 22 to Aug. 3 in the Harney Church area. These students, divided into eight companies, are scheduled to undergo 264 hours of instruction preparatory to receiving commissions in the U. S. Army.

Inventors Visit Post This Week

Dr. Charles F. Kettering, for 25 years vice-president in charge of research for General Motors Corp., was one of the distinguished U. S. scientists, industrialists and government leaders who visited Ft. Benning April 22-24 to attend the National Inventors' Council conference.

After a welcoming address April 23 by Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, U. S. Army Infantry School commander, the visitors received an Infantry School orientation and a Department of the Army briefing. Later they attended a U. S. Army Infantry Human Research Unit demonstration on device requirements for realistic training, and took a helicopter tour of the post.

The scientists also witnessed an airborne demonstration and took buddy seat rides, simulated parachute jumps, and one of The Infantry School's 250-hour training towers. The evening banquet dinner was held at the post. April 24 the visitors attended a U. S. Army Infantry Board presentation and witnessed an Infantry School demonstration of an Infantry-tank team in an attack.

They departed from Lawson Air Field Wednesday afternoon. Council members making the trip included Dr. William D. Calligro, former vice president of General Electric Corp.; Watson Davis, editor of Chemistry Magazine, Washington, D. C.; Hunter H. Ewing of the Du Pont development staff of Wilmington, Del.; Henry J. Rand, president of the Rand Development Company of Cleveland, Ohio; Robert C. Watson, a consultant officer of patents; James C. Zeder, vice-president of Chrysler Corp.; and Dr. James A. Hootman and Brooks Walker.

Post Halts Care Of Dependents In Dental Clinic

Gen. Clark Sets Visit
Gen. (Ret.) Mark W. Clark, president of The Citadel in Charleston, S. C., is scheduled to arrive here April 25 to speak at graduation exercises for The Infantry School's Advanced Officers Course, No. 1 Friday. The famous soldier-educator, whose 3d Army led the Allies to victory in Italy during World War II, will talk to 229 graduates at 11 a.m. in the Main Theater, as part of his two-day visit to the post. It was decided that area installations should see the winners before they participated in the All-Army show. ## 15th ICC to Celebrate 97th Anniversary Soon

More than 90 years of distinguished service to the nation will be in the spot light on May 3 when the 15th ICC celebrates its 97th Anniversary. A full day of festivities was planned for the "Can Do" Regiment's birthday. The day's activities will also honor the 15th ICC commander, Col. S. T. McDowell, who will leave command in the near future.

A colorful review will begin the event, led by Organization Sgt. To be held on French Field, it will be followed by the gala room meal at the ICC mess-halls. Members of the regiment are invited to bring their families and friends. The afternoon activities will feature competitive events. The men of the Regiment will vie for honors in a variety of events. Competitive gun drills and weapons displays are scheduled. Athletic events have been included in the program. Throughout the day the men of the 15th ICC and their guests will be able to satisfy their hunger at a snack bar on the ICC air strip, which will serve free refreshments.

To complete the day's events officers and non-commissioned officers of the Regiment will hold dinner dances. The NCO Open Mess in Sand Hill has been chosen as the site of the Non-commissioned officers' affair. The location of the Officer's dinner dance will be announced shortly.

The history which will be marked during the 15th ICC celebration is one unique in American military annals. From its organization on May 1862 the Regiment has been noted as one of the outstanding units in the American Army. Receiving its baptism of fire in the Battle of Shiloh in the Civil War, the 15th ICC has seen duty on the Western frontier, Cuba, the Philippines, China, North Africa, Europe, Korea and the United States. Its former members are on the roll call of Army immortals.

BRUCKER'S PLAQUE . . . This U.S. Army Infantry School plaque now hangs in the office of Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker, right, according to a letter received from the secretary by Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, left, Infantry School commandant. Gen. Powell presented the plaque to Mr. Brucker at an official dinner at Ft. Benning honoring top Army officials and 31 U.S. senators and representatives at the post April 5 and 6. The visitors were briefed on today's streamlined Infantry.

Sec'y Thanks Gen. Powell For Plaque

Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker expressed his appreciation in a letter to Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Infantry School commandant, for the Infantry School plaque, which was presented to him by the secretary April 5 visit to Ft. Benning.

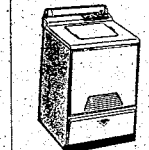

Mr. Brucker visited the post with 31 U.S. senators and representatives for a look at the streamlined Army of today.

Gen. Powell presented the plaque, engraved with the motto of the school "Follow Me," to the secretary at a formal dinner in the Main Officers' Mess.

Mr. Brucker stated in his letter: "The handsome 'Follow Me' plaque now occupies a prominent place in my office where all can see it. It was most thoughtful of you to present it to me, and I assure you it will long serve as a reminder of the home of the Infantry. I would indeed be remiss if I fail to mention how much I enjoyed the fine music presented by your chorus (Soldiers' Chorus)." The secretary of the Army also thanked Ft. Benning officials for arranging a comprehensive program for the visiting legislators.

He wrote: "The program arranged for the visiting Congressmen left nothing to be desired, and I am sure you will be pleased to know that they were all deeply impressed with everything they saw. The Army will certainly benefit from your efforts. At this time I want to commend you and the members of your command who made it possible to demonstrate the power of the Army to the members of Congress. Please convey my deep appreciation to all who worked on this project."

Post Hosts 250 ROTC Students

Advanced Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets from 25 Southern colleges and universities will attend the first section of the annual ROTC orientation on post today and Friday.

Approximately 250 students in their junior and senior years will be oriented on the role of the Infantry on the U. S. national defense team. Institutions represented are Georgia Institute of Technology and Georgia State College of Business Administration in Atlanta, Florida State University in Tallahassee and Alabama Polytechnic Institute in Auburn.

After arriving this evening, the cadets will be welcomed to the post by Infantry Center officials Friday morning. Later they will witness a re-orientation of service presentation and attend an orientation of the Ranger Department.

In addition the future officers will tour the Third Army Training Aids Sub-Station, Main Post Weapons Pool and the Communications and Ground Mobility Departments of the Infantry School.

The visitors also will attend an airborne demonstration and take buddy seat rides.

RETURN FROM KING COLE . . . Men and vehicles of the "Marme Division" return home after participating in Exercise King Cole in Louisiana from March 27 to April 15. The men and vehicles were airlifted from England Air Force Base to Lawson Army Air Field by C-124 Globemaster aircraft. SP3 Worley Stoen, Hq. and Hq. Co., 15th ICC, guides the first vehicle onto the ground as Capt. Henry S. Matthews, Support Command, observes the operation.

Gordon to Train Active Trainees

In order to meet additional requirements created by the response to the Army's six-month training program for Reserve Components, Secretary of the Army Wilber M. Brucker has announced that Ft. Gordon, Ga., will be used as a basic combat training center for active Army trainees.

The Secretary said that active Army trainees will be phased into Ft. Gordon beginning in May of this year. The program will continue to be conducted for six-month trainees at Fort Dix, N. J., Fort Kooz, Ky.; Fort Jackson, S. C.; Fort Leonard Wood, Mo.; Fort Chaffee, Ark.; and Fort Ord, Calif.

Unit Slates Birthday Fete

With only a week to go, personnel in the 15th ICC are making final preparations for observance of their Organization Day May 3.

A full schedule of events will commence with a Regimental Review to be held at French Field at 10 a.m. May 3. Present plans call for a reading of the Regimental History and a farewell message to the 15th from its departing commander, Col. S. T. McDowell. The parade will be climaxed by a flyover by a number of Flight B, 3rd Combat Aviation Co.

Relatives and friends of members of the 15th will be able to see just how members of the unit live, eat, work, and play. Displays of all types will be present in the battalion area, and guests are invited to share dinner with the men in the mess hall.

The afternoon will have competitive events of both a military and athletic nature scheduled from 1 to 4:30 p.m. at Custer Road Air Strip, and awards will be made both to individuals and teams. During these events, a guided tour will also be conducted of the 15th's famous trophy room where souvenirs of its 96 years of active, continuous service will be on display. Snack bars and refreshment stands will be available so that all may fully enjoy the activities.

The 3rd Div. Band will entertain from 1 to 5 p.m. After a pause for rest and cleaning up, festivities will be renewed at the Main Officers' Club and at the 3rd Div. NCO Club, where dinner dances will round out the day's activities. All former members of the Regiment are cordially invited to join in the celebration of Organization Day.

Germans Like Square Dance

VAIHINGEN, Germany. — American square dancing has German youths kicking up their heels.

They are learning to swing their rustic coturned partners through the "Virginia Red," "Texas Star," "Red River Valley," and many of the other popular squares.

Above and beyond the call of duty, Ryals is a square dance devotee. His enthusiasm has earned him plenty of backers who claim he is the best caller-instructor in Germany.

"I think square dancing is the greatest thing ever," says Ryals. "It's fun, it's democratic, it's clean, and it's good exercise." He also says the German youth are eager to learn.

He has developed four couples of the many who have attended his dance classes, as an expert. Appropriately dressed in "western" clothes designed by Ryal, they have given exhibitions at a number of the German Youth Activities Centers in the Southern Area Command of Germany.

Noting USO Month

USO-NCCS to Hold Open House Sunday

April has been designated as USO month by National USO Headquarters in New York. In keeping with the spirit of this occasion, and in commemoration of it, the USO-NCCS Club, located at 100 Hill Street will present an Open House Sunday, April 28, from 3 p.m. till 6 p.m.

The USO-NCCS Club was dedicated in April, 1942. Since this date, it has served, in conjunction with the community of Columbus, the religious, spiritual, social, welfare and educational needs of over 3 1/2 million service personnel and their dependents. It has been a veritable "Home Away From Home" for the men and women of the Armed Forces, and in particular, the service personnel of Benning.

Dignitaries of both Columbus and Ft. Benning have been formally invited to attend the festive occasion. These include: J. A. Willman, City Manager; Robert T. Davis, Jr., Mayor; W. F. Tuggle, County Police Chief; E. S. Moncrief, City Public Works Chief; Thomas G. Moore, Mayor, C. of G.

Representatives of the Open House will include: Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Ryan, Infantry Center commander; Maj. Gen. Roy E. Lindquist, 3rd Div. commander; and all major unit commanders. Along with the regular Sunday afternoon club activities, the program will include: Mrs. Thomas Higgs of WDAK-TV, playing the Hammond Organ, and songs by Miss Angel Adams, recently elected "Miss Columbus." Also at the organ and piano will be Mrs. Louise Thompson, Mr. Edgar White, and Msgr. Joseph Galbreath.

COLUMBUS USO-NCCS CLUB . . . In observance of USO Month, the Columbus USO-NCCS Club will hold an open house April 28 with special activities planned for the occasion. This club offers a "Home Away From Home" for the serviceman where he can enjoy wholesome recreation in a congenial atmosphere.

Preparations for refreshments to be served during the Open House are being made by the Ladies Auxiliary of the Knights of Columbus. They include: Mrs. Herbert Landon, Mrs. Herman Haggard, Mrs. James O'Shea, and Mrs. Justin Gomez. Also serving and preparing refreshments will be Mrs. Aggie Jackson, Mrs. Pat Moss, Mrs. H. L. Barron, and Mrs. Hubert Martin.

The Open House Planning Council of the Club has beautifully adorned the Club Lounge and Vestibule. Members of the Council include: SFC, Theophilus Riggs, Mrs. Pat Moss, SP3 Pat Moss, Mrs. Aggie Jackson, SP3 Warren Schwardt, Mrs. H. L. Barron, Miss Shirley Barron, and Miss Bobbie Stubbs.

Members of the Club's Operating Committee will be on hand to receive the honored guests: These include: Mrs. Vincent F. McCauley, chairman, Mrs. Frances A. Freeman, vice-chairman, Mrs. E. William Fuston, Mrs. Louis Kunze, Sr., Mr. Eben L. Reid, Mr. J. Lawrence Shields, Mr. Cecil Garrett, Mrs. Lillian Besser, Mr. Clarence Wilson, Mr. John Moon, Mrs. Anna Bridges, Mrs. Arthur McDaniel, Lt. Col. Laurence Ryan, 3d Div. Chaplain, Lt. Col. Kenneth Grimes, Special Services Officer, USAIG.

Planning Committee for the Open House Celebration includes Mr. George Gingell, chairman, Mr. Maurice Kravitz, Mr. J. M. Markert, Mr. T. R. Cartucci, Mrs. Lillian Bloch, and Mrs. Lillian Merith.

Exploring Scout Bill Hawkins, son of CWO and Mrs. William A. Hawkins of Newborn, Ga., said in his letter: "I wish to take this opportunity to thank you and the Ft. Benning Youth Activities Club for the donation of $50 toward my trip to the International Boy Scout Jubilee. I was to be held in Warwickshire, England this summer. "I consider myself fortunate to be chosen to represent the Ft. Benning Boy Scouts and I will try my best to fulfill this honor so that it will bring credit to the Scouts and our leaders here at Fort Benning."

Gen. Lindquist, Eddy Address Classes Graduating From BIOC

Major Gen. Roy E. Lindquist, commander of the Third Infantry Division, and Lt. Gen. (Ret.) Manton S. Eddy of Columbus, Ga., spoke at graduation exercises April 20 for the U. S. Army Infantry School's basic officers class No. 6 and associate officers advanced class No. 3 at Fort Benning. The ceremonies were held at 8 a. m. and 11 a. m., respectively, in the Main Theater.

Gen. Lindquist addressed the 183-man basic class. A 1939 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., he attended The Infantry School's company officers' course in 1934.

The 50-year-old officer headed the Infantry School's Airborne Department, then known as the Airborne Section, from November, 1946, to February, 1948, when he began a two-year tour with the Joint U. S. Military Mission to Greece. Gen. Lindquist qualified as a parachutist in early 1941, and was assigned to the 29th Infantry Regiment at Ft. Benning at the outbreak of World War II. He was then assigned to Parachute Group headquarters, which developed into the Airborne School.

He activated and trained the 56th Parachute Infantry Regiment at Ft. Benning before taking it overseas, where he participated in numerous combat operations, including parachute jumps into Normandy and Holland.

Gen. Lindquist came to Ft. Benning last July and served as deputy test director of "Troop Test 'Nightlight'" at Ft. Campbell, Ky., before assuming command of the 3rd Infantry Division in March, 1957.

Gen. Eddy spoke to the 156 members of the associate advanced class. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Regular Army in November, 1916. He sailed for France in April, 1918, and was assigned to the 88th Infantry Regiment in the Meuse-Argonne and Vesle River campaigns. He then commanded the First Battalion of the 88th Infantry Regiment during the Meuse-Argonne battle and remained with the Army of Occupation in Germany until March, 1919.

A 1921 graduate of The Infantry School's company officers' course, Gen. Eddy attended the school's advanced officers course in 1929. After being graduated from the Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kans., in 1932, he was a tactics instructor at that institution for four years.

During World War II, Gen. Eddy commanded the Ninth Infantry Division in North Africa, Sicily and France. He assumed command of XII Corps in the summer of 1944, after serving as commander of the Third Service Command, Baltimore, Md., and deputy commander of Second Army, Ft. Meade, Md. He was named the Army's chief of information in August, 1947.

Idea to Save Much Time, Aid Efficiency

A suggestion proposing the use of an extra voucher form at The U. S. Army Finance and Accounting Office at Ft. Benning will result in valuable intangible benefits of time, records safety and operational processes, according to an officer here.

Under the Department of Army incentive awards program, Matthew M. Byrnes, left, of Smith, Ala., cash accounting cashier at The U. S. Army Finance Office, receives a $10 presentation for his suggestion.

Brig. Gen. John F. Ruggles, new deputy commanding general of the Finance Office, received the award April 17 before a gathering of military and civilian personnel of the Finance Office.

Mr. Byrnes proposed that an extra voucher of Soldier deposit be made to use in completing withdrawal of funds. Previously, pay records and vouchers had to be sent through several processes. The use of the extra form eliminates the necessity of using original records repeatedly, thus saving time and money.

He came to Ft. Benning in November, 1946, and has been with the Finance Office since November, 1951.

INCENTIVE AWARD . . . Matthew M. Byrnes, left, of Smith, Ala., cash accounting cashier at The U. S. Army Finance and Accounting Office at Fort Benning, receives a $10 incentive award for proposing the use of an extra withdrawal voucher form in repayments of soldier's deposits. The additional voucher copy would eliminate sending the original voucher and pay records through several operational steps, reducing the risk of loss of valuable papers. Adoption of the suggestion will result in valuable intangible benefits. Presenting the award is Brig. Gen. John F. Ruggles, right, new deputy commanding general of The Infantry Center.

M-Sgt. Likes Alaskan Job

PORT RICHARDSON, Alaska—Even discarding all the odds and ends in round holes, perhaps the most "fitting" Army assignment of all was drawn by Master Sergeant Raymond H. Beam when he was put in charge of the Arctic Valley Ski Bowl here.

Beam's interest in outdoor sports developed when he was growing up in New York's Mohawk Valley, was given new fuel when he was serving in Germany during the late 40's.

A long-felt hankering to try skiing and other Alaska sports was fulfilled when he got his present assignment—an important one in a land where every soldier must ski.

When the 33-year-old sergeant retired four years hence he will settle in Alaska—be it as a homesteader and devote himself to full-time enjoyment of "Alaska's wonderful outdoor life."

While in Germany Beam objected to European employment of "trail skiing," and it seems likely that he will make an effort to introduce it in Alaska, and even stateside. Trail skiing through forested mountains, such as found in the Alps, "presents a challenge not met in this country," he says.

Otherwise the slopes of the ski bowl which he manages as a vocator and enjoys as a vacation at one and the same time are very similar to those he encountered on the Continent, he adds.

22d Co. offers heartfelt congratulations to 2d Lt. Ben K. Rector who was married in Columbus, Ga., Friday, April 5. Mrs. Rector was formerly from Marshalltown, Ia.

It seems that the 22d Co. has an officer of some prominence in their midst. He is 2d Lt. William E. Auld of Albany, Ga. On April 14, Lt. Auld was presented a citation by the Georgia Military District for great achievement in recruiting while serving on reserve duty. Lt. Auld recruited a total of 37 men in a two day period under the new RFA law for six months active duty. This group, representing the largest single detachment ever sent from this area, will train together and return to civilian life together.

They entered active duty April 7 and are known as the Athens Tanker Contingent No. 1. Lt. Auld is a member of Fig. 11 and S Co., 726 Tk. Bn. Auld is on active duty for six months and will attempt to complete his tour of duty in four and three running events, respectively.

The final tabulation of events was as follows: 100 yard dash, Bigelow in 10 seconds; Grenade throw, Cruger with 88 yards; 800 yard dash, Morris in 3 minutes and 18.4 seconds; 800 yard relay, 32d OC Co.; broad jump, Sobatka with over 18 feet; Mile walk, Nease; Tug of War, 32d OC Co., 22d yard dash, Bigelow in 25.18 seconds; 440 yard dash, Wright in 58.3 seconds; 2 mile distance run, Morris; Mile relay, 32d OC Co.

Units Return From Polk

BY PVT. LEN GOLDINGER

The event of major interest in the Group recently was the return of the 54th Med. Gp. and its Det. from Louisiana, where they participated in Exercise King Cole.

Arriving the afternoon of April 18 the men finished the necessary work of unloading the vehicles and then turned eagerly to the refreshment of showers, the greeting of old buddies who had stayed behind, and the comfort of clean, soft beds.

The majority of the men agreed that the experience they gained was invaluable, and in spite of the hard work and the weather they had managed to have a pretty good time. One thing is certain, they will have a lively topic of conversation for some time to come.

The mascot of the 54th was a little black mongrel, appropriately named "King Cole" by Pfc. McManara, who took him along from Benning on the assurance that he was both house broken and ambulance broken.

Lt. Russell E. Dieter told the story of bivouacking on a fair grounds in Winfield, La. The CP tent was actually pitched in a corral! This fact allowed some officers to have a little fun one day. As Capt. Thomas A. Stanger, CO of the 54th, stepped out of the CP, one of them shouted, "Here comes a Stanger out of corral No. 51!"

SP-3 Eldado Ramirez-Medina was whisked from Louisiana on orders that sent him to Europe.

TIS Song Premiered April 20

"Forward March, Follow Me," the proposed U. S. Army Infantry song, was sung for the first time April 20 at a formal guard mount on Chapel Field.

It was presented by the 50-voice Soldier's Chorus directed by Lt. Col. Gordon E. Sayre, Infantry School Staff, Department Instructor. The music was composed by Harold S. Gelman and the lyrics and choral arrangement by Col. Sayre.

Among the special guests attending the premier performance were Maj. Gen. Herbert F. Powell, Infantry School commander; Brig. Gen. Hobbs C. Cook, Infantry School assistant commander; Brig. Gen. John F. Ruggles, deputy commanding general of The Infantry Center; Col. William H. Billings, deputy assistant commander of the Infantry School, and key officers of the school and center.

The guard mount was staged by a composite company from the 3rd Bn., 29th Regimental Combat Team, commanded by Lt. Col. Richard H. Smoot, First Lt. Burton J. Walden, commander of Co. F, 3rd Bn., was the narrator. An Jose Angel Gomez Paz and Major Augusto N. Lopez, both of the Guatemalan Army.

700 Hear Lecture On Academy

Approximately 700 Enlisted Men were present at Sand Hill Theater No. 6 April 20 for an introductory lecture on the United States Military Academy at West Point. The lecture was conducted by Capt. Herbert F. Howwood, Information Section, USAAC.

Prior to the lecture, all major commands were directed to screen and select the men that were eligible for the United States Military Academy at West Point. These men were chosen to attend the lecture.

The basic qualifications necessary to compete for entrance to the USMA are as follows: Applicants must be 17 but not yet 23 years of age by July 1 of the year of admission, a citizen of the United States of good moral character, never been married, in good physical condition and a graduate from a secondary school.

One additional requirement that must be met by enlisted personnel making application for West Point is that they have completed at least one full year of active service. This service need not be continuous but they must be an active enlisted status at the time of admission.

The conference was highlighted by the showing of film, "Making of a West Pointer," which aptly showed what it takes to become a West Pointer. Officers of the 3rd Division who have graduated from the Academy also spoke to the group on the intricacies of the Point.

Allied Officer Gets Orientation

The assistant chief of staff of the Guatemalan Army, Col. Victor Y. Quilo, is receiving week's orientation on U. S. Army Infantry School methods of instruction at Ft. Benning.

He is accompanied by Col. Jose Angel Gomez Paz and Major Augusto N. Lopez, both of the Guatemalan Army.

Izenour Named Director Of TIS Tactical Dept.

Col. Frank M. Izenour has been named director of The Army Infantry School's Tactical Department at Ft. Benning.

He succeeds Col. Robert H. York, who has been assigned to The U. S. Army Infantry Center G-3 (Plans and Operations) Section.

A 1938 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., Col. Izenour previously was a member of the Ohio National Guard.

He served as commander of the Seventh Infantry Regiment in Korea from July 1956, until being assigned as chief of the Tactical Department's Associate Arms Group last month.

The 48-year-old officer was a company and battalion commander with the Third Infantry Division from December, 1941, to December, 1944. He served 27 months with the division in the North African, Sicilian and Italian campaigns.

Among his decorations are the Silver Star, Legion of Merit, Bronze Star Medal and Purple Heart with Oak Leaf Cluster.

After a tour in the G-3 (Personnel) Section of Army Ground Force, Washington, D. C., Col. Izenour was graduated from the Command and General Staff College at Ft. Leavenworth, Kans., in July, 1947. He then served two years as an instructor in tactics at that institution.

After being graduated from the Armed Forces Staff College at Norfolk, Va., in July, 1950, he went to Trieste for two years as G3 and deputy chief of staff of TRUST headquarters.

Col. Izenour was graduated from the Army War College, Carlisle Barracks, Pa., in 1953 and served in the Army's G-1 Section in Washington, D. C., until going to the Far East in August, 1953. He was G-3 of Eighth Army for six months before assuming command of the Seventh Regiment.

He is married to the former Billie Botcher, daughter of one of his best friends, Henry J. Botcher. The Izenours have four children, Janet, 17, Frank, 15, Jo Ann, 10, and Jennifer, 2.

300 Complete Basic Training

Some 300 men of Companies A and B, 7th Inf. Bn., held a graduation review parade on Todd Field April 17.

The highlight of the half-hour long ceremony came with the presentation of awards and certificates of achievement to Lt. Col. Ray S. Sibert, CO, 7th Bn., to the two outstanding trainees of the two graduating companies.

Pvt. Vernon M. Harleston, of Easley, Ga., picked a week ago as one of the three outstanding trainees in the 3rd Div., was also named as the top trainee in Company A. He was awarded a certificate of achievement along with Sgt. Harold D. Rutten, of Nashville, Tenn., who was chosen as the outstanding soldier of Company B.

Units Authorized To Wear Citation

All of the units in the "Marne Division" are authorized to wear the Distinguished Unit Citation for Combat Action.

Army's New Pentomic Concept A Result of Improved Weapons

ARMY NEWS SERVICE

The introduction of atomic weapons to the battlefield has caused the Army to begin re-designing its divisional structures into pentagonal dimensions, according to the May issue of the Army Information Digest.

In an article titled "New Divisional Organization," AID says new "pentomic" Infantry, Armored and Airborne Divisions with this five-sided structure are the result of studies and actual field exercises conducted by the Army in recent years.

"Pentomic" represents a division organization of five combat unit forces incorporating the maximum capabilities for sustained combat, air transportability, battlefield mobility, and control.

A unit force approximating a scaled-down regiment in size and termed a battle group is presently considered to be the smallest force capable of operating independently and able to defend in future battle areas. For the next several years at least, the Army expects the battle group to be required to fight basic tactical elements.

Readily Adaptable Under the pentomic concept, units within the division will be readily adaptable to requirements of the atomic battlefield. Elements not habitually required in the divisions will be pooled at higher echelons. This pooling will effect a economy of equipment which is required only intermittently in the division and will keep the division "lean." The new divisions will have with it organically those elements needed in any area in which it may recognizes the increased span of control possible through improved signal communications. Modern equipment permits a commander to control a large number of subordinate units than has hitherto been possible. It has become apparent that a large unit such as a division can directly control more than the conventional three major tactical units. In both the Infantry and Airborne Divisions, five battle groups will be brought under division control.

IT'S GOOD... Ft. Benning's Bill Mooneyham, center, goes high in the air to score the decisive point in a one-sided victory over Ft. McClellan in action seen Monday night at Briant Wells Field House during the Third Army Volleyball Tournament. The Benning contingent made short work of Ft. McClellan beating them in two quick sets, 15-1 and 15-0.

Commanders Defeat Campbell In Diamond Contest Here, 6-4

BY DICK SPENCER
The 29th RC Commanders defeated the 101st Airborne Division baseball team from Ft. Campbell, Ky. by a 6-4 count at Gowdy Field last Wednesday afternoon.

The 29th RC Commanders defeated the 101st Airborne Division baseball team from Ft. Campbell, Ky. by a 6-4 count at Gowdy Field last Wednesday afternoon.

Supplementing the fine hand of Williams, the Commanders banged out ten hits including three extra base knocks. Herb Crank led the attack with a triple and two singles.

The Sand Hill and Harmony Church pools will be opened on May 1 for all military personnel and their dependents.

3-A V-Ball Finals Slated Tonight

Action in the second day of the Third Army Volleyball Tournament at Briant Wells Field House Tuesday night found tournament host, Ft. Benning, and Ft. Gordon the only teams still unbeaten in the double elimination tourney.

Defending champions, Ft. Bragg suffered their first defeat Tuesday in a thrilling encounter with the Benning Doughboys.

Other action saw Redstone Arsenal winning two victories eliminating Ft. Campbell and Ft. McClellan from the tournament and Ft. Stewart eliminates Ft. McPherson.

In the final game of the evening Ft. Rucker defeated Ft. Stewart in two quick sets to eliminate the Alabama sextet.

Approximately 500 shooters from military installations within the seven-state area will participate in this phase of marksmanship training.

BANQUET... Ten Third Army installations entered the Third Army Volleyball Tournament at Ft. Benning April 22-25. A pre-tourney banquet was held Sunday April 21 at Victory Lodge. Pictured here are some of the teams at the banquet.

ONE OF MANY... Lt. Dick Hendricks of Ft. Benning scores here on a slashing spike shot against Ft. McClellan in action Monday night during the Third Army Volleyball Tournament at Briant Wells Field House.

McClellan, Ala., 15-1 and 15-0. Fort Jackson, last year's runner-up in Third Army play, Ala., both contests were the best of three games.

In other contests Monday, Ft. Bragg defeated a southern Ft. Campbell (Ky.) sextet and Ft. Gordon, Ga., won in two quick sets over Fort Stewart, Ga.

Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commander of The U. S. Army Infantry Center, officially opened the Third Army tournament in ceremonies yesterday at 2 p.m.

Golfers Cop Match From Maxwell AFB

The 16-member Ft. Benning officer golf team turned an impressive performance last week to oust the Maxwell Air Force Base (Ala.) squad 18-6 in the 101st of the Post Country Club course.

Reading the Air Force columners was Brig. Gen. James H. Wallace, vice-commander and deputy commander for education at Maxwell.

In two short weeks "play ball" will be heard here on post as the regimental baseball loop swings into action.

TOM WIERZBICKI Veteran Bowler Hits 300 Game

It takes quite a feat to over shadow the Third Army Volleyball Tournament presently in progress here at Briant Wells Field House.

Bevilacqua was assigned to the post after serving in the Far East where he was active in league play.

The closest the sergeant has come previous to Sunday night's thrilling moment of reaching the magical figure of 300 and perfection, was last year in Japan.

BY WILBUR PERRY
The US Army Pistol Team made their first attempt at indoor competition and impressive one, 13-14 April, as they broke the existing National Team Record and a pair of individual match records during the 1957 Indoor Pistol Sectional Matches at Laurel, Md.

There is a sad note to Sgt. Bevilacqua's performance. The game was rolled in open bowling not league action. Consequently, the score is not honored by the American Bowling Congress.

Even though the sergeant from Brooklyn is presently the talk of Ft. Benning we can't let the week go by without commenting on the Third Army Volleyball tournament.

Another likely winner on the strength of his new individual service aggregate record appears to be 1st Lt. David Carter, Ft. Campbell, Ky. First in the 22 caliber pistol over the four-match aggregate, the new team record posted an 888 total out of a possible 900 points, to better the old mark of 872 also set in March by Col. Leon J. Rouse, firing member of the Presidio team.

PERFECT GAME... M-Sgt. Vincent Bevilacqua, Co. C, 1st Special Troops Bn., confidently looks at the bowling bowl that rolled a perfect game of 300 last Sunday at the Main Post Bowling Alleys. The perfect score was rolled in the opening bowling. It occurred in the sergeant's first game of the night.

Pistol Team Sets Records

The US Army Pistol Team made their first attempt at indoor competition and impressive one, 13-14 April, as they broke the existing National Team Record and a pair of individual match records during the 1957 Indoor Pistol Sectional Matches at Laurel, Md.

No immediate winners at the Laurel Sectional are available at this time as the match is fired over a several day period, but the U.S. Army Blue team which shattered the existing National Record by 13 points should easily take their first indoor title.

Another likely winner on the strength of his new individual service aggregate record appears to be 1st Lt. David Carter, Ft. Campbell, Ky. First in the 22 caliber pistol over the four-match aggregate, the new team record posted an 888 total out of a possible 900 points, to better the old mark of 872 also set in March by Col. Leon J. ### M-Sgt. Rolls Perfect Game

A perfect game was rolled on the Main Post Bowling Alleys last Sunday evening by a veteran of 30 years kegling experience.

M-Sgt. Vincent Bevilacqua of Brooklyn, N. C., Co. C, 1st Special Troops Battalion, rolled the first perfect game of his long career on the bowling alleys.

The 300 score came on the first game of the evening for the sergeant who works in the Messing Center, Headquarters of the 1st Army Infantry Center.

Two Boxers Get Honors From Post

Fort Benning's Olympic boxing champions, Pete Rademacher and SP2 Jim Boyd were honored last week at Briant Wells Field House with an Olympic plaque unveiling ceremony.

Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commander of the U.S. Army Infantry Center, unveiled the plaque in the presence of the two winners of the 1956 Olympic Games and a host of sports dignitaries.

The plaque, which will be a permanent fixture in Ft. Benning's Briant Wells Field House, consists of a picture of each fighter and a detailed account of his Olympic victories and other fights leading up to their world titles. A brief synopsis of the final fight, which brought them Olympic fame, is also included.

Boyd won the light heavyweight title, winning three of his fights on decision. Rademacher, who was recently discharged from the Army, won the heavyweight title from Russia's Lev Moukhaie on a TKO in the first round.

In unveiling the plaque, Gen. Powell said: "Speaking in behalf of the Infantry Center, I would like to say to each of you, that we at Ft. Benning are extremely proud of your outstanding achievements." The general went on to say, "Fort Benning is known as the Home of Champions. But never in our history have we had an Olympic champion. Your outstanding victories have made Ft. Benning now, under the name of Champions. Not only are we here at Ft. Benning, very proud of our fighters," the general continued, "but so are the Army and of course, the U. S."

Stock Cars Open Season
The 1957 Stock Car Racing season opens this Saturday night in Columbus at the Supercar Speedway when the "green flag" will be dropped at 8:30 before a capacity number of stock cars.

The Speedway will feature a new electrical timing device this year for the time trials. A lot of other changes have also been made in the pits to handle the number of racing cars that are expected for this season.

Due to the large field of cars expected, Speedway promoter Jimmy Thomas, said that the starting lineup in the feature race will be limited to 30 cars maximum for safety precautions.

King's Pond Site Of Barbeque Fete

Have you ever been to an old Southern barbeque? If you haven't then you'll want to know all the details of the annual Ft. Benning Barbeque and Game Maintenance Association's Fish and Skink Barbeque to be held at King's Pond May 5.

Famous beef, pork and another Southern delicacy, Brunswick stew, will be served with all the trimmings for the small price of 50 cents per plate. The picnic feast will begin at 4:30 p.m.

In addition to the barbeque, a fish and skink meet will be sponsored prior to the barbeque. On May 4, from sunrise to sunset, members of the association will have the opportunity of participating in the fishing tournament.

Prizes for the three largest fish in the bass, bream and crappie classes will be awarded to lucky anglers. Also a prize will be given to the junior fisher who brings in the largest fish landed during the tournament.

Reels Are Prizes
The top anglers, who land the three largest fish in each of the three classes, will receive well known spinning reel. A noted bait casting reel will also be given to the winner in each class, with boat seats going to the three piece winners.

The skink tournament is trying to land an object within ring placed at different distances from the center, will be staged at 1 p.m. May 5. This event will be exclusively for members of the association. Anyone who joins the association before the event will be eligible to compete.

The purpose of this annual barbeque is to raise the necessary funds for buying fire extinguishers for the reservation, and to purchase new boats and keep the other ones in good condition.

Membership Fee $2.00
Only a small fee of $2.00 will place you among the many sportsmen who are already members of this post organization. You might say that you don't fish or hunt enough to pay this much money. Try making two or three trips to one of the private ponds, which

"We're coming along in pretty good shape," commented coach Jim Skaines of the 23rd RCT track team in an interview last week.

"We've achieved a pretty good edge on our conditioning and now we're working on the fine points of each event," he said.

"John Strong is one of our best bets to score well in the post meet in May," Skaines continued. "He'll participate in the broad jump, high jump, hop, step and jump and javelin. Strong is a big strong boy and should be a good bet to show well in the Third Army meet."

TV to Show Fairy Tales

APPS WEEKLY FEATURE
Underselling the success of "Cladarella," a major TV net effort each season will be made into the fantasies of fairyland. After turning a pretty but dead ear for years to many TV and movie offers, Shirley Temple has signed as hostess and narrator for a TV series of 21 live one-hour fairy tales.

Joe Lansing had the most unusual role in TV this year, with the streamlined beauty "on camera" for 20 minutes of a recent 90-minute spectacular and not a line to speak. Producers apparently figured anything to say would be superfluous.

Debra Paget is the fassie with the classy chassis, and was so named by the Hollis Foundation as "The Most Glamorous Chassis of 1957." Awardees normally goes to an automobile radio outlet in the U.S. and first in the South. . . You can't accuse Charlie McCarthy of a "swell head." Edna Berger's sidkick still has his original head, carved nearly 30 years ago by a Chicago whittler for $35. . .

Lt. Ambrose Gets Cited

First Lt. Thomas J. Ambrose instructor on the Technique of Rifle Fire Committee, Weapons Department, U. S. Army Infantry School of Ft. Benning, received a Fort Dix (N. J.) Certificate of Achievement last week.

Cited for "exceptionally meritorious and faithful service from Aug. 21, 1954, to Dec. 31, 1956", Lt. Ambrose was formerly S3 (training officer), Third Battalion, Second Training Regiment, U. S. Army Training Center at Ft. Dix. Col. William E. Harrison, Weapons Department director, made the presentation to Lt. Ambrose who was assigned to The Infantry School Dec. 5, 1956.

The certificate states, "During the entire period, Lt. Ambrose demonstrated outstanding qualities of leadership, planning abilities, loyalty, enthusiasm and devotion to duty. By his untiring efforts, his loyal, cheerful cooperation with both his superiors and subordinates, he has brought great credit to himself and to the military service."

The young officer, who attended Rutgers University, New Brunswick, N. J., entered the Army in August, 1951. He was graduated from Officers Candidate School at Ft. Benning and commissioned a second lieutenant in September, Breckenridge, Ky., he served 1953, to June, 1954. Returning with the Seventh Infantry Div. to the U. S., he was assigned after an assignment at Camp Lejeune in Korea from March, to Fort Dix.

Wada headed a party of five Japanese officials visiting Fort Benning for a day's orientation post April 17.

Army Starts New Policy For Reserve Components

The Army's "New Program" for its reserve components, required to fulfill their enlistment service obligations in the active Army and Reserve, went into effect April 1. A major revision provided reduction of the ready reserve obligation. Young men between 17 and 19 1/2 years of age enlisting for six months of active duty for training and who enter the active Army prior to attaining age 18 1/2 are now required to serve only three years in a ready reserve status following successful completion of their six months active duty training.

Under the old program, they are required to serve 7 1/2 years in the ready reserve after successfully completing their six months of training. The remainder of the enlistment must be served in a ready reserve unit. Men in this category are not required to take the six months of active duty training.

Both the National Guard and Army Reserve usually conduct 48 two-hour drill sessions during the year in local armories or training centers as their ready reserve training. Plus an additional 15 days in summer training camps.

ENLISTMENT SAME
They must complete their active duty training by Jan. 1, 1959. Enlistment conditions in the National Guard and Army Reserve will both be the same for the 17-19 1/2 age group after Jan. 1, 1958, requiring all to complete six months of active duty for training. The Army reported that high school enlistees in the 17-19 1/2 age group must delay entry on the six months active duty for up to one year to complete their high school education. However, volunteers aged 18 1/2 through 25 can sign up for either the National Guard or Army Reserve for six months' active duty for training. Men in this category, the men must serve an additional 5 1/2 years in the ready reserve. Service in the ready reserve up to 2 1/2 years, performed prior to the six months of active duty training, will count toward the 5 1/2 years.

TIS Wives Briefed On Husbands' Duties

Ft. Benning's Operations Office of the U. S. Army Infantry School holds the good-will of its wives in highest esteem considering their friendship of realistic importance in the preschool program.

The ladies were invited last week to attend an orientation on The Infantry School department and activities, one of the periodic briefings presented especially for their benefit.

Special guests welcomed to the meeting were Mrs. Herbert B. Powell, wife of Major Gen. Powell, commander of The U. S. Infantry School, and Mrs. John F. Ruggles, wife of Brig. Gen. Ruggles, deputy commanding general of The U. S. Army Infantry Center.

The special briefing was presented by Col. William F. Kernan, Infantry School operations officer. Mrs. Kernan inroduced Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Ruggles to the group.

The purpose of the orientation is to inform Infantry School wives of the activities, requirements and rigorous schedules their husbands must keep during the academic and instructional tour of duty at the school.

In explaining the vast operations conducted in the program of this educational institution, officials have found a resulting high level of understanding and sympathy and cooperation on the part of wives undeniably vital to their husbands' success.

Immediately following the orientation briefing, a program was held at the quarters of Mrs. Alfred A. Fetteiger, wife of Major Fetteiger, head of the Supply Section.

Special guests at the coffee with Mrs. Powell and Mrs. Ruggles, and wives of the staff of the Operations Section.

Present was said to Mrs. Raymond Baranouskas, wife of Major Baranouskas, head of the Planning Section. She presented a travel kit as a parting gift. Major Baranouskas is currently assigned as liaison officer to the Amphibious Training Command at San Diego, Calif.

Guests who attended the orientation were: Mrs. Julius Clark, Mrs. V. J. Walters, Mrs. R. E. Milnder, Mrs. John Tyler, Mrs. A. H. Morrison, Mrs. L. G. Moore, Mrs. H. E. Phillips, Mrs. William Kernan, Mrs. Ira Sliger, Mrs. Bobbie Lucas, Mrs. Daniel Porter.

Visit Slated For Group

Four leading experts in the field of human behavior will visit Ft. Benning April 25-29 to attend the third annual consultants conference at the U. S. Army Human Research Unit.

The group headed by Dr. Meredith B. Crawford, director of the Human Resources Research Office of George Washington University in Washington, D. C., will confer with officials of the Infantry unit to formulate optimum methods of research and development.

Accompanying Dr. Crawford will be Dr. John B. Wolfe, chairman of the Psychology Department at the University of Mississippi; Dr. Shirley B. Sprague of the University of Rochester (N. Y.); and Joseph S. Hammock, director of research of the U. S. Army Air Defense Human Research Unit at Ft. Bliss, Texas.

76 Will Attend JCOC May 8-11

Seventy-six leaders in the field of Army business, industry and labor are scheduled to visit Benning May 8-11 to attend the Army phase of the 34th semi-annual Civilian Orientation Conference.

The JCOC program is designed to familiarize the U. S. citizen with the latest advances made by the military and to hear from the top officials of the Army on the national defense scene.

Speakers include S. Bayard Rustin, chairman of the board of the Colgate-Palmolive Company of New York; William F. Schmitzer, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO and James Malton, leading tone of the Metropolitan Opera Company.

Also planning to attend are Charles G. Mortimer, Jr., president of General Foods Corp. and J. Wilson Newman, president of "Dun and Bradstreet."

Top Military People
The visitors will be accompanied by top military and government officials including Gen. Willard G. Wyman, commander of Continental Army Center, and Lt. Gen. William H. Arnold and Thomas W. Herren, command-

COMMAND CHANGE OCCURS ON POST Col. Schneider (L) Succeeds Col. Zeller (R) Replacing Col. Zeller

Schneider Is Named Commander of STC

Col. Mar F. Schneider, deputy commander of the School Brigade since last August, will be named commander of Special Troops Command and U. S. Army Infantry Center headquarters commandant May 1.

He succeeded Col. Henry M. Zeller, who has been named assistant to the deputy commanding general of the Infantry Center.

Col. Schneider entered active duty in February, 1941, after attending Iowa State College at Ames. He completed a three-year tour in Germany including duty as operations officer of the G-3 Section, Seventh Army headquarters, command of the 2nd Regt., and chief of plans and operations of the 26th Army Unit before coming here.

Plans Made For AF Day

Ft. Benning will join citizens of the Chattahoochee Valley in celebrating Armed Forces Day May 12-18 to stress the role of the Army in the national defense line.

The week long ceremonies will culminate in a parade in Columbus, Ga., May 17 and an open house on Post May 18, Armed Forces Day.

Troops of the Infantry Center and the 1st Div. will march down Broad Street alongside representatives of local civic and school organizations and Armed Forces Reserve units with both military and civilian bands providing the music.

Plans call for a formation parade to fly overhead. Last year the open house attracted more than 700 visitors. This year the parade will be a 20-foot display of today's modern Infantry weapons, the public will be invited to witness a guided tour presentation and attend a basic airborne graduation.

In addition, there will be given an opportunity to take a buddy seat ride, a simulated parachute jump from one of the 20-foot training towers.

The 4-year-old officer then served as executive officer of the 4th Ranger Bn. in North Africa, Sicily and Italy and of the 2nd Ranger Bn. in England before assuming command of the 8th Ranger Bn. in Normandy.

Policy Set For Gyro Volunteers

Policy procedures have been established for the acceptance of Gyro volunteers for the 3d Div., both from within and outside the command.

Gen. Frank E. Lindquist has stated that only high quality personnel are desired and personnel who are highly accepted must meet certain specified requirements.

Persons applying the following requirements will be accepted to volunteer for the Gyroscope move, which will begin next March. He must be favorably recommended by the commander at each echelon of command, have "Excellent" or "Very Good" performance ratings, have combat or combat support physical profile (I) and be in the program reference here April 25-27.

Post Hosts 5 Scientists

Dr. Meredith P. Crawford, director of the Human Resources Research Office of George Washington University, was among five leading specialists in the study of human behavior who attended the third annual consultants conference here April 25-29.

The group met with Dr. Francis E. Jones of "Holy Spirit" Miss. club of the U. S. Army Infantry Human Research unit, and members of his staff to discuss and evaluate the progress made on projects under study.

They also were to prepare a seminar on the program tentatively scheduled to be presented at a future meeting of the Southeastern Psychological Association.

The visitors were welcomed to the post by Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Infantry Center commanding general, and by the chairman of the Infantry School by Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commander of the division based upon projects under study.

Post Opens New Service Station On Marchant St.

The newest and largest of the post service stations was opened April 25 by Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, in a brief ceremony on the Main Post.

In a 1944 and 1945 Col. Zeller was G-2 of XX Corps in France and Germany, and then served a year as inspector general of the Section of the Air Division, headquarters of the U. S. Forces Austria.

The 51-year-old officer was assigned to the Department of Army Policy and Plans Planning Group in Washington, D.C., for three years before being assigned to the G-2 of Third Army headquarters at Ft. McPherson, Ga. Col. Zeller was inspector general of the U. S. Army Alaska for two years before coming to The Infantry Center.

The new station replaces the one on Wold Ave., which will remain open temporarily on a limited basis.

Clarence L. Wilkes, of Columbus, is the manager.

The service station is open from 7:30 a.m. to 7:30 p.m. Monday through Fridays, 7:30 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. on Saturdays, and from 9 a.m. until 5:30 p.m. on Sundays.

Gen. Clark Says 3d World War Unlikely

BY MILICENT SCUDDER
Gen. Clark stressed, "It has not been relegated to a secondary place on the field of battle," he explained.

"The Infantry will still be the Army Unit before coming here."

One of the top military officials of the U. S. Gen. (Ret.) Mark W. Clark, stated April 26 that he does not believe there will be a third world war.

"I don't think for a minute you can drag the enemy into a third world war. He knows well the right of America," Gen. Clark said.

Speaking to graduates of The Infantry School's advanced officer class No. 1, the president of the Citadel discussed the key role played by U. S. military forces as a deterrent to global conflict, and emphasizing importance of the Infantry as a combat arm.

Gen. Clark said in his dealings with the Communist enemy in Austria and Korea, "I found him to be unscrupulous and a total liar."

Most Show Force
Commenting on the dispatch of the U. S. Sixth Fleet to the troubled Middle East, Gen. Clark said, "I am delighted we are showing force and determination. When the Communist enemy sees weakness he has too much in the past, that is when he exploits." The speaker said in urging continuing preparedness.

"I'm positive that we should never fight another war like we did in Korea. We should have used the full might of America in order to have given a sound military defeat that first test of arms with that despised enemy we fought with our hands tied, so emphasize."

"Don't let any one tell you the Infantry is not important."

Decorations

Among his decorations are the Distinguished Service Cross, Silver Star and Purple Heart.

From 1946 to 1949 Col. Schneider was assigned to the Amphibious Training Command, Pacific in Coronado, Calif.

He is a 1923 graduate of the Armed Forces Staff College in Norfolk, Va.

Graduate of Staff

Col. Zeller was named commander of Special Troops Command in August, 1955, and assumed the additional duty of headquarters commandant last January. A 1927 graduate of the U. S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., he served overseas from May, 1945, to January, 1947.

Details Told On New Organization

The Department of the Army has officially released details in which "pentomic" structure will replace the orthodox regimental structure of infantry and airborne divisions, according to a recent announcement by Third Army Commander, Lt. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey.

This reorganization is part of a program to tailor all the Army's divisions — infantry, armored, and airborne — to fight wars in which atomic weapons are used. At the same time, the divisions are designed to resist the firepower and general effectiveness for successful non-atomic combat.

The reorganization is scheduled for completion within two years.

The most significant factor affecting the Army's future concepts is the introduction of atomic weapons to the battlefield — a battle-fied character of wide dispersal of units both in the offense and defense.

The "pentomic" infantry and airborne divisions is the result of studies and actual field exercises conducted by the Army in recent years. It is a division with a pentagonal structure, geared to fight under atomic conditions.

It represents a division made up of five combat unit forces. Each of these combat unit forces will have the maximum capabilities for sustained combat, air-transportability, battlefield mobility, and control.

Smallest Force A unit force approximating a scaled-down regiment in size and termed a battle group is the smallest force able to operate independently and to defend in future battle areas.

Consequently, for the first time the next several years Army expects the battle group to be its basic tactical element.

The principles on which the new divisional organization has been developed are these: 1. Ready adaptability of units to requirements of the atomic battlefield.

2. Pooling at higher echelons of elements not habitually required in the division.

Such pooling results in economy of equipment which is required only intermittently in the division. The same time, it keeps the division "lean," exercise conducted by the Army in recent years. It is a division with a pentagonal structure, geared to fight under atomic conditions.

in which it may be required to fight.

3. Recognition of the increased span of control possible through improved signal communications.

Modern signal equipment permits a commander to control a larger number of subordinate units than has hitherto been possible.

It has become apparent that a large unit such as a division can directly control more than the conventional three major tactical units. Accordingly, in reorganizing the infantry and airborne divisions, five battle groups will be brought under division control.

4. Adaptability to the integration of new and better equipment as it is developed. The capability of absorbing new weapons and equipment into the new Army divisions has been developed in their structure.

As this material becomes available it will become organic to the divisions without basic change in organization. The increasing availability of atomic weapons in a wide range of sizes will afford the Army the vital capability of applying firepower when and where needed.

craft and vehicles.

Personnel strength of the new infantry and airborne divisions has been significantly reduced. This will reflect smaller combat forces in the forward areas of the battle zone.

However, three offsetting factors will militate against a net saving in the theater of operations.

First, in making this division lean and taking out those elements which are not habitually needed, it will be necessary to include some of these extracted elements at corps and army levels. This means, in particular, antiaircraft and armor support.

The second factor is that the new weapons in the division and elsewhere in the theater of operations are more complicated and will create the need for new types of service units.

Therefore, something must be paid for the added strength derived from the new weapons in terms of support-type units which have not been required in the past.

Finally, reorganization of the logistical system consistent with the change in the atomic battlefield will require greater dispersion throughout the theater areas and thereby require additional personnel to operate these small, scattered supply installations.

Strength of the proposed infantry division is 33,788, as against 17,460 for the current division. It is organized as follows:

Division headquarters in addition to the commanding general and his staff, consists of the division military police and an alternate headquarters with a staff for the assistant division commander.

The assistant division commander will operate an alternate headquarters and, under combat operations, will command a segment of the division, consisting of two or more battle groups.

This capability is required under the fluid, mobile operations of great breadth and depth demanded by atomic warfare, which causes greater importance to be placed on an alternate division headquarters.

The division will contain five battle groups, each consisting of a strategically self-contained unit. Each battle group broadens the span of control by providing a suitable headquarters which has the necessary command and control units, an assault gun platoon of 90mm self-propelled guns and a reconnaissance element of light tanks, armored personnel carriers and mortars, as well as rifle companies and a 158mm mortar battery.

Task Battalies A task battalion will be maintained in the division to further enhance the division's offense capability. It will be organized to provide for attachment of the tanks to each of the battle groups. It can also be trained as an entity for operation under the division control.

A reconnaissance battalion will replace the current reconnaissance company. In addition to its normal mission, this battalion includes the division's new target acquisition function.

The signal unit also will be enlarged over the current signal company. This will provide for a broad, area-type communications system which is a requirement of the atomic battlefield.

The engineer battalion will permit the attachment of engineer elements to the battle groups.

In summary, while the division strength has been reduced by about 3,700, the infantry elements which directly engage the enemy have been increased by about 450. This is a result of the increased squad strength in the division. The number of aircraft has been increased. Please see DETAILS, Page 12.

groups when and if required.

Division artillery will be strengthened. Each division will contain one battalion of field artillery, plus a battery of supporting five 7.62 mm howitzers, a composite battery of 8-inch howitzers, "Honest John" rockets and two 155mm howitzer battalions.

The establishment of division trains to provide logistical support is a new concept for the infantry division. In the train will be found all normal logistical elements and such new units as the administrative services company, the aviation company and a transportation battalion.

The aviation company includes all the division aviation, which provides the reconnaissance battalion with necessary lift for the transport of large acquisition function. It also provides the artillery with aerial support for the transport of large acquisition function.

Ketterling Says Cold War Now Inherent Part of American Life

Stating that the people of the U.S. will "have to get used to" the cold war as an inherent part of our life, Dr. Charles F. Ketterling, famed atomic energy inventor, discussed the challenges of maintaining combat readiness at a dinner here last week.

Dr. Ketterling, vice-president and chief consultant for General Motors for 25 years and now research consultant for the corporation, keynoted the National Inventors' Council Conference held a post April 22 and 23.

The group of 16 distinguished scientists, industrialists and government leaders were meeting to keep the military informed of usable inventions and discoveries.

"We must not treat the cold war as living in an emergency. Things are going to change and we have to be continuous on the alert. We'll always have to be rearming," Dr. Ketterling emphasized.

A Part of Our Life "Preparation for war is as much a part of our life as eating and sleeping. We need to realize what we're doing today is an everyday affair," he explained.

"If we keep this up, we won't have to have a hot war," Dr. Ketterling added.

The speaker stressed the importance of continuous training of men in such fields as airborne instruction. "You are a soldier and what he is expected to do as an individual. It is to know that you can't win the struggle because each day those already trained are a day older," he brought out.

Need Difficulties Dr. Ketterling noted the difficulties to be faced in planning ahead. "The Army's trouble is that they can't plan the kind of war they're going to have. Something always intervenes."

He pointed out that Americans strive in all areas of endeavor for "academic freedom — being your own boss."

"I can prove in many instances that you couldn't get a looser boss, being a boss is one thing, but being a servant is often more difficult," he went on.

"If you set what you want to do too far ahead, you'll often be disappointed. If you know how to get from the road to the house chosen to another, then you'll accomplish something and have a good time at the same time," he advised.

Reception Held An informal reception preceded the official dinner honoring the co-workers in the Main Officers' Mess. In the receiving line were Dr. Ketterling, Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Fowler, Infantry School commandant, and Dr. William B. Coolidge, former vice-president of the search for General Electric and now GE research consultant.

The veterans of two wars, Col. Arthur E. Powell, president of Chrysler Corp., Detroit, Mich.; Henry J. King, president of Rand Development Company, Cleveland, Ohio; Watson Davis, Washington, D. C.; Lawrence H. Bush, vice president of the Dayton (Ohio) Bar Association; Wallace H. Martin of the law firm of Sims, Vardi and Martin, New York City; and James H. Ewing of the Dupont de Nemours developing staff, Wilmington, Del.; Dr. James A. Houston; Brooks Walker; Brig. Gen. T. J. Conway of the Army's Office of Research and Development; Col. Charles H. Roadman, chief of the Human Factors Division of the Air Force's Directorate of Research and Development.

The visitors were presented Infantry School "Follow Me" pins and certificates naming them "honorary draftees."

15th ICC Notes 159th Birthday

On Friday, May 3 the 15th Infantry "Combat Command" passes in its busy training schedule to commemorate with appropriate activities its 159th birthday. Having extended an invitation to all members of the division to join in their celebration, the men of the "can do" Regiment will participate in a full day of colorful events.

The official celebration of Organization Day, preparations for which have been made for weeks, begins at 10 a.m. when adjutant's call will be sounded for a colorful review on French Field, Main Post. Col. S. T. McDowell, 15th ICC commander, will be the reviewing officer. Maj. Gen. Roy E. Lindquist, division commander, will present. Commendation Ribbons (S&A, 1st Inf. Bn., and M&S&C) Elmer G. Green, regimental sergeant-major.

Following the review, the men of the regiment will return to the ICC area for a gallant noon meal to which their guests have been invited. In the afternoon, a variety of events will take place on the Custer Road Air Strip.

Competitions Set Beginning at 1 p.m. there will be competitions in the open assembly, gun drill, dismounted drill, P.T., and a variety of athletic events. The Col. S. T. McDowell, 15th ICC commander, will be the reviewing officer. Maj. Gen. Roy E. Lindquist, division commander, will pre-basis of battalion - conducted preliminary "contest" which have taken place in the past weeks.

Athletic events scheduled include the high jump, 100, 200, and 400 yard races, a legged race, sack races, a flag drill, and Volley Ball.

To satisfy the thirst and cooking hunger of the men of the regiment and their guests, a snack bar on the Custer Road Air Strip will be open throughout the afternoon. Refreshments will be served free of charge.

To complete the day's events, officers and non-commissioned officers of the regiment will hold dinner dances. The NCO Open Mess in Sand Hill has been chosen as the site of the non-commissioned officers' affair.

Numerous distinguished former 15th ICC members will be present during the day.

The 15th United States Inf. Regt. has been in the service of the United States for 159 years. During this time a fabulous record of heroism and gallantry has been established. The colors of the 15th reveal a history which reads like a roster of the great battles in which this nation has been engaged.

named "The Old China Regiment." Its mission was to guard American lives and property during the never-ending civil strife as well as in the Sino-Japanese incidents. During this period the 15th wrote a colorful chapter in American military history.

Ominous rumblings from the other side of the world summoned the 15th back to the United States shortly before the outbreak of War in Europe. Then came Pearl Harbor and all the Regiment's past achievements were to pale before its newest accomplishments. Fighting with the 1st Inf. Div. the regiment gave battle to the enemy in North Africa, Sicily, Italy, France and finally in Germany.

the most important element on the bases field in war," the speaker brought out. He pointed the decisive factor in military victory to be the "Doughboy" who has the guts to advance and fire that other shot and in the defense of his country."

"My heart is in the Infantry and I know the role and the accomplishments," he stated, adding he has seen the Infantry play the key role in the world wars and the Korean conflict. Gen. Clark, his father and son are Infantrymen.

The famed soldier and educator said he is often asked to compare the soldier of this decade with those of World War I and World War II.

"The fighter in Korea was just as good, but a more inquiring soldier. Today's soldier is more educated. He asks more questions and they are legitimate ones," Gen. Clark said.

He advised the members of the class to make an effort to help their men with their problems. "They'll soon find out you're in it with them and follow you anywhere," he declared.

The speaker advocated initiative, friendliness and a cooperative spirit as rewarding attitudes for the Army officer.

The officer who tries the hardest, seeks the opportunity to do an assignment and do it well" most often gains the confidence of his superiors, he pointed out.

"I'm impressed with the caliber of the officers. The Infantry School, their dedication to duty and their country, which I've seen on this visit," he added.

Other Considerations

Gen. Clark told the class, "There are political and economic considerations almost as important as the military ones. These often harass the commander, but they must be administered with the military considerations."

The speaker was introduced by Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, assistant commandant of The Infantry School.

Capl Robert M. Ward, was honor graduate of the class. Runner-up for scholastic honors and designated "distinguished graduate" was Capt. Robert C. Sanders.

Post Slates Marital Law Course for all Officers

The Army's role in civil that martial law, to be effective, must not breed unrest and distrust but fairness and justice to the individual citizen and public at large. Such a mission is never an end in itself and is only designed as a means of getting effective civil government back into operation, according to officials.

Officers in charge of the course is Lt. Col. Morton S. Jaffe, Philadelphia, Pa., legal instructor of the Personnel Group. He is one of the hundreds of legal specialists throughout the Army who conduct martial law instruction for units and commands.

Using methods and techniques of instruction such as films, tape recordings, lectures and practical exercises, the course also demonstrates the effectiveness of the Infantry School as a world-famed educational institution.

Sand Hill Area Has Been Home For Many Famous Combat Units

BY NORMAN SOLON
Born amid the rumblings of a German year year as a "Hell on Wheels" Second Armored Division, Ft. Benning's Sand Hill area for 16 years has been the training ground for some of America's most famous combat organizations. Today the area is home to the famed 3rd Div. When the U. S. government is currently conducting basic training while maintaining a combat ready status. The co-

SCOUT CAMP-OUT... During a weekend camp-out held by post J Scouts at their camp site, Hide Away, April 28 to 29, two Scouts demonstrate how to make and roll a bed roll to one of the Brownie guests. The Scouts invited the Brownies to an open house to see the camp, their activities and projects for which the J Scouts had been preparing in a six-week camp training period. Left to right are Glad, Scout Joy Heitman, daughter of Capt. and Mrs. Wallace H. Heitman, Brownie Susan Compton, daughter of Chaplain (Col.) and Mrs. Earl D. Compton, and Scout Ann Sample, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Charles W. Sample.

Construction began in 1940, the facilities on Post were greatly enlarged and construction was started on motor pools and permanent buildings in the Sand Hill area. The name borrowed from the railroad. Construction was completed the following year and the 2nd Div., commanded by Gen. Patton, became the area's first tenant. Utilizing the facilities of the area for a year's training, the division left Benning in February, 1942, to create a legend on the battlefields of North Africa and Europe. The 10th Armored Div. replaced the Second in July 1942. Under the command of Maj. Gen. Paul W. Newgarthen, the Tiger Division trained at Sand Hill until September, 1944, when it joined the Allied invasion forces in Europe.

Preparing for D-Day Also at Sand Hill during most of this period was the 7th Armored Div., commanded by Maj. Gen. Lindsay M. Silvestre. They arrived at the area in October, 1943, for six months combat training to prepare for the D-Day invasion. The 7th Inf. Div., under the command of Brig. Gen. Robert Hill as a light infantry Division in June, 1944, building up to full strength when they departed for overseas in November of that year. As hostilities drew to a close in 1945, Sand Hill was closed only to open again the following year as home of the 25th Regimental Combat Team. The unit arrived in the area in January, 1946, remaining there until the unit was deactivated in the spring of 1948.

Details of New Reorganization

largely to perform the target acquisition mission.
The number of tanks is slightly less than previously. But some other anti-tank capability has been offset by the increase in other anti-tank weapons.
The division artillery includes Honest John rockets with an atomic capability.
Medium and heavy mortars have been increased in number.

Wheeled vehicles have been reduced in number, but a sharp increase in armored personnel carriers will offset some of this reduction.
The Armored Division
Because of its separate battalion organization, armor protected mobility and a favorable manpower-to-manpower ratio, the armored division is particularly well suited for the fast-moving, dispersed type warfare envisioned for the future.

Studies and tests, however, indicate a need for modernization which will be effected under the sweeping reorganization of Army division.
Total strength of the new armored division will be 14,615, a slight reduction from the current division strength of 14,670.
A target acquisition capability will be added with necessary aircraft, flying personnel, and mechanics to support that operation.
The division signal unit will be increased in strength and equipment, and expanded into a battalion to achieve the control needed for atomic warfare.
Armored division artillery will have the same type support as the infantry division. It will include on battery of inch howitzers, and an Honest John rocket battery, while retaining its current light artillery formation and a small reduction in its medium artillery.

In the new armored division, the number of combat vehicles—both tanks and personnel carriers—will be increased.
An increase in the number of aircraft will be caused primarily by inclusion of the division's target acquisition function, and a slight increase in lift.
The number of rifles, Browning automatic rifles and machine guns will be increased. So will the supporting logistic capabilities of the division.
The reconnaissance troop has both an air and ground reconnaissance capability and contains the division's target acquisition unit.
The Alabama Division
Unlike the current airborne division, the new division is completely air-transportable, using approximately one-half the air lift required for all the air-transportable portion of the old division.
The new airborne division is completely reorganized and based on the personnel of five combat groups—structure strength of the airborne division will be 11,486. This compares with 17,065 in the existing divisions other than the 101st Airborne Division at Fort Campbell, Ky., which has a division made up of two battalions, organized as follows:
The division contains five battalions similar in organization to those of the new infantry division. Each group has a headquarters company.

Major reorganization of the division artillery provides it with an Honest John battery and five batteries of 105mm howitzers.
A new command and control battalion administers the division headquarters, company, administrative services company, the aviation company and the reconnaissance troop.
The reconnaissance troop has both an air and ground reconnaissance capability and contains the division's target acquisition unit.
The signal unit is expanded and its equipment will be modernized to support the increased dispersion and control of five combat groups through an incorporation of an area-type communications system.
In the engineer battalion, major changes are in the modernization of equipment to provide greater air-transportability without sacrificing engineering capability.
Support Command
Logistical support in the new airborne division is provided by a support command organized on a functional basis. It is composed of a headquarters company which has a main and security platoon, a maintenance battalion, medical battalion, supply and transportation company and a parachute supply company.
As an example of the functional organization, the support command contains:

RALPH MARTERIE ... to Appear Here

Post Slates Marterie For May 16

Ralph Marterie and his orchestra, selected best in the nation by Down Beat magazine in 1956, will appear in the Main Theater May 16 at 8:30 p.m.
Marterie is a member of the American Music Theater, Service Club No. 1 and Infantry Center Special Services.
Many years of radio work comprise the solid foundation of his career. Marterie was in Chicago radio studios, from his youth, his flaring trumpet being heard on the radio.
It was during his early radio work that he began to climb the success ladder, playing with such musical names as the American Music Theater, Frank Baker, Percy Faith and Roy Shields.
Following his discharge from the Navy after World War II, Marterie joined the American Broadcasting Company where Marterie, as the conductor of the orchestra, began his own network show, and then began his own show and solo work under the name of the "Caruso of the trumpet."
From this phase of his career, Mercury Records began to record his trumpet. Five records, which sold over the million mark, proved the popularity of his musical talents.
Such tunes as "Pretend," "Carnegie," "Tracy, Man, Crazy," "Skokiaan" and "Blue Bird" were featured parts of his show coming to the Main Theater.
Marterie's trumpet strength has been reduced slightly, but heavy mortars have been increased. Machine guns have been increased in numbers, particularly in frontline positions.
The number of vehicles has been greatly reduced. Aircraft have been increased numerically, primarily as a result of the new command and control battalion in the reconnaissance troop.
The weight and size of vehicles and equipment have been reduced to insure greater air transportability.

50 CAP Personnel Tour Fort Benning

Approximately 50 Civilian Air Patrol cadets from four Georgia cities toured the post May 15. The number of vehicles has been greatly reduced. Aircraft have been increased numerically, primarily as a result of the new command and control battalion in the reconnaissance troop.
The weight and size of vehicles and equipment have been reduced to insure greater air transportability.

Board News 4 Receives Transfers

Levias continue to hit the United States Army Infantry Board making everyone feel the loss of many friends. Among recent departures are Sgt. Walter E. Hendren, security NCO, who headed for Iceland this week. Joining Hendren in Iceland soon will be SFC Clyde Turner, and Sgt. Patricia C. Soles, of the Small Arms Department and SFC John B. Byrd of the Human Resources Unit. Members of the Infantry Detachment completed their annual rifle qualification firing on the range last Friday. High scores was SFC James "Turk" Orr of the Small Arms Department who fired a 31 on course.
The detachment's softball team got off to a good start, winning their first game in the Special Troops Command's 1st Bn. league play. Under the leadership of the team's captain, Darcow-well fabric in the traditional Marine Corps green color.

Unit Holds Open House April 26

A new 3d Div. feature, an "Open House" was held April 26 by the 10th FA Bn., commanded by Lt. Col. Vincent E. Osborne.
Parents, relatives and friends of the unit's advanced individual trainees were invited to attend the completion of the trainees' training cycle. Two batteries, A and C, held a luncheon ceremony on that date.
The visitors were given tours of the different batteries, where they viewed static displays. They also witnessed military and athletic competition, had lunch in the battery mess hall, and attended a Mounted Review, where outstanding trainees were presented Certificates of Achievements by Brig. Gen. William A. Harris, commanding general of Division Artillery.
The new "Open House" program will afford an opportunity for the families of trainees to become acquainted with the Army, and witness first hand the training which soldiers receive upon entering the Army.

PRECISION

Look behind the pretty face! Like a Swiss Miss America, a fine timepiece has to have more than a beautiful appearance.
After all a watch is a phenomenal engineering achievement, ticking off 18,000 times on hour, 432,000 times in a single day, 156,000,000 times in a year!
The wear, as a result of the tremendous friction of this remarkable machine, can render a mass-produced watch virtually useless, causing it to lose time or stop altogether. The rest is in the quality of the metal parts and the precision of their machining. For example, a balance screw is so fine that several thousand can fit into a hole!
For 75 years Zodiac has been custom-making fine watches and through these long years has established a reputation for precision watchmaking that has endeared it to thousands of people throughout the world.
Look for... look for Zodiac fine watches on your exchange. Take advantage of the low 72 price of this world-famous timepiece!

BY SGT. GEORGE KATSARIDES

Last month, we talked about cameras and what they really are, and how they function. We found that there are "ten basic types" of all the models made. This camera discussion is brief and basic as it was helpful to you.

Now when you see a rather expensive looking model camera you will know what to answer in. For you and how all those "extra knobs" and "gadgets" help in the making of a picture. A complicated looking camera too often impresses a layman with awe and dollar-consciousness. Often a person would shy off the field, because of this, who may have otherwise become a good photographer.

In concluding our discussion of the camera, I would like to say, "any camera" is complicated if you miss the basic understanding of its use. If you have purchased a camera recently, or intend to purchase one, I recommend to you strongly that you familiarize yourself with its operational functions. Much like the way in which you become familiar with the scattered control knobs of your automobile, or the arrangement of your personal belongings in a locker.

Get to know your camera well, let your camera work for you rather than you working for it.

Discussing the camera was our basic topic. This leads us to the exciting subject of "films."

Keep in mind that in the accomplishment of photography, one phase is related and referred to another constantly for the final results.

Judging from the questions which readers, hobbyists and users of the Hobby Shop Photo Lab ask, there is much concern with film. Questions are asked which lean toward an answer that the photographers can take and put to immediate use, i.e. "I want to shoot a party, what type color should I use?" "What is the difference between 'PLUS X' and 'SUPER XX'?" "Can I use the same film indoors as well as outdoors?" "What is a good film for my camera?"

In short, these questions would take chapters to answer and you only have a few minutes to answer in. For you and how all those "extra knobs" and "gadgets" help in the making of a picture. A complicated looking camera too often impresses a layman with awe and dollar-consciousness. Often a person would shy off the field, because of this, who may have otherwise become a good photographer.

2nd: You must select the proper film for your intended purpose.

3rd: You must have a source of light, the sun, a bright day without sunlight, or artificial light, such as a flash bulb, you have purchased a camera recently, or intend to purchase one, I recommend to you strongly that you familiarize yourself with its operational functions. Much like the way in which you become familiar with the scattered control knobs of your automobile, or the arrangement of your personal belongings in a locker.

4th: This is in abundance and the easiest thing to get, a "subject." A subject can be anything, or anyone at anytime.

I will not brand name all the films available on the market today, because of the great number, however the basic type of film you will want to know about is that called "Panochrome." This type of film is designed for normal black and white negative reproduction of the pictures you would likely make at home, on the beach, in school, or out on bivouac, etc.

Panchromatic films come in various "speed sensitivity ratings," thus leading to the manufacturer's brand names which you have seen: "Plus X," "Super XX," "Anso Supreme," "Verichrome," "Panatomic X" and many others. One film is a little faster in speed or a little less than the other, or it can be equal in speed value. (i.e. Plus X ASA rating is 80 for daylight shooting — while Super XX is rated at ASA of 100. Both these films are produced by Kodak.)

The basic fact is: Regardless of brand name "black and white films (for everyday use) is called Panatomic.

Another basic fact: Each roll, sheet pack, or cut film made has a sensitivity speed index by a number, for outdoor and indoor use, indoor rating being slightly less. This ASA rating is set and determined by the American Standards Association. The index number is the number which you should refer to for making exposure by use of the light meter.

Basic fact: All roll, cut or sheet pack films have a "dye" color base, the color will vary from green, yellow, red, blue and gray, depending on the manufacturer. This dye serves as an absorber of light waves which come through the lens. Without the dye, the light waves would bounce right back through the lens, creating an interesting, but certainly ruined effects on the film.

Basic fact: All film is made of a high-grade (Photo-pure) flexible acetate coated with a layer of light sensitive material called an "emulsion." This will explain why, when looking at a roll of film, you will see a "dull" surface on one side and a "glossy" surface on the other. The "dull" side is the "emulsion" side is the "backing" and "anti-curl" helps keep the film from curling-up.

Basic fact: Some films may be handled under certain "Safe-Light" conditions, but by no means, new "Panatomic" film to be handled under any light. "Only in total darkness!" Always handle your films by the edges, never in the center, and keep your hands dry. If you have a thumb print on the film, and it is processed that way, that thumb print cannot be removed. Pictures should be dusted, or cleaned, with film cleaning solutions and cotton only. You can use a "candle's hair brush" for dusting.

Film Selection

Now with these basic facts stated, we would ask for a slow-working, fine-grain film like "Plus X," or an equivalent film in speed when we have such pictures in mind as family portraits, life studies, botanical study, impressive country side scenes, or pictures taken in and about the house, where film speeds of higher indexes are not really necessary. The next fastest category of films we would ask for would be Super XX or an equivalent in speed, which is a fast film with medium grain, rated at ASA 100 outdoors. This film is best suited where your subjects are moving faster than walking speeds, such as "sports games" both indoors and outdoors.

For one step higher in the still picture class, we would ask for "Tri-X." This is best suited for extreme fast action or under very poor light conditions of film. Tri-X is rated at about 200. It is a very fast film, with medium to medium plus grain.

Basic Fact: "Grain" in film is the makeup of the emulsion. The faster the film speeds, the larger the grain size. Grain becomes noticeable.

Films Important in Photography

able as grains of sand evenly spread over the picture area, due directly to improper storage of the film, passing from one extreme temperature to another, as well as in the improper processing, in solutions over 700 F. In the case of color film, these sudden and severe temperature changes will cause the dye bases to run.

Color Films
Well exposed, well balanced color is beyond any doubt a delight to the eye. Its vivid, sparkling appearance on the screen is its own way of saying without your proper handling and thought, this true and beautiful color wouldn't look as good.

There isn't really any big secret about color, as a matter of fact, color is easy to work with.

Basic fact: Color films, when purchased, should be used as soon thereafter as possible. If long periods of delay are involved, store (with out changing) in a cool dry place. Color is really too "independent" to gamble unnecessarily.

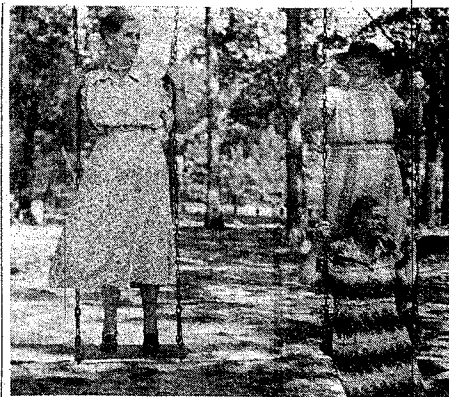

Basic fact: Color films are divided into two groups.

1. Positive (transparencies) color film

2. Negative color film.

Each group has a daylight and tungsten exposure number. For positive color film, you pre-process processing costs and it returned to you mounted in 2x2" cardboard brackets.

For negative color films, it is "color prints" per your desire. Like Panchromatic films, color has its index numbers for exposure by a light meter, and

YOUTHFUL LADIES . . . Here is a picture which illustrates the good, honey type shots available to everyone. The three graceful ladies, in laws of Sgt. George Katsarides, who took the picture, comprise a total of 237 years. The photo was taken with a 4x5 Speed Graphic at F/11 with a shutter speed of 1/200 second, on SPP film. The locale is North Carolina.

It also has a "Kévin Balance" color will be off-balance and in degrees of color temperature for the exposure indoors for indoor films and outdoors for daylight films. Be sure to use a manufacturer's number and the right one, otherwise your available from fresh stocks of films, store in equal temperatures and use as soon as possible.

Basic fact: Color films have "three" layers of light sensitized emulsion. One is red, the next is green and the last is blue. Thus an exposure made correctly will give the supplementary or secondary colors, as the light waves pass through each layer, color being absorbed or transmitted to the next layer, until it stops at the last layer.

Basic fact: Film is film, it is called film, until such time you have caused it to be photographically processed. It is then called a "negative" for black and white films, and "Positive transparency" for color negatives."

From a good negative or positive, "millions" of prints can be made.

From a badly handled negative, or from the complete loss of your negative or positive, not even the 1st print can be made. So take care, take good pictures. See you next month in the Camera Corner for a discussion of "Optics and Exposures."

WINNING TROPHY... Brig. Gen. John F. Ruggles, deputy commanding general of the U. S. Army Infantry Center presents the first place championship trophy to Capt. Marion Ross of Ft. Benning in recognition of winning the Third Army Volleyball Tournament last week.

Detrones Ft. Bragg In Thriller

Coming from behind an 11-0 deficit, Fort Benning erupted with a series of sparkling shots April 25 to detrone Ft. Bragg, N. C., 16-14 to win the Third U. S. Army Volleyball Tournament at Briant Wells Field House.

The Doughboys from the U. S. Army Infantry Center in beating Ft. Bragg in two straight sets, 16-12 and 16-14, will represent Third Army in the All-Army tourney at Ft. Benning May 15.

Ft. Benning's two victories in a best of three series left little to be desired. The home forces, after jumping off to a 7-1 lead in the first game, found the North Carolinians a stubborn foe. With less than a minute to go, Ft. Benning found its lead cut to a 12-12 count as Jim Zarko of Bragg scored on a hard spike shot. Two infractions in the final 20 seconds gave the Doughboys a 15-12 win.

The second game was a complete reversal of circumstances as Ft. Bragg, fighting to avenge an earlier defeat, jumped off to a one-sided 11-0 lead before Ft. Benning could manage to score a single point.

With the score 14-4, Ft. Benning came to life, scoring eight consecutive points to make it 14-12. Then with less than two minutes remaining, the Doughboys tied up the count 14-14. At this point Benning coach, Ralph Cooper, physical director of the YMCA in Columbus, Ga., substituted Bill Mooneyham. With Mooneyham serving Benning took the lead for the first time in the game via some stellar net play by Dick Hendricks and Marion Ross.

The winning point followed as Fort Bragg's Don Dorsey was called for an infraction, holding the ball and the victory was Ft. Benning's, 16-14.

The victory for Ft. Benning, clinched an earlier win over last year's champion Tuesday night 15-11, 15-10 and 11-5, and left the Doughboys undet-

Shooters End Firing School

More than 300 rifle and pistol marksmen from seven states received certificates in the Main Theater at 10 a.m. April 27 for completing the first Third U. S. Army Small Arms Firing School conducted at Ft. Benning.

The school was a result of a directive issued earlier this year by Continental Army Command headquarters at Ft. Monroe, Va., for expanding and improving the standard in tournament play.

Ft. Bragg won the right to meet Ft. Benning in the finals by defeating Ft. Gordon, Ga., April 24 afternoon in a semi-final contest, 15-7, 15-14 and 15-2.

THIRD ARMY VOLLEYBALL... A floor shot of the final game of the Third Army Volleyball Tournament here at Briant Wells Field House is given here by M-Sgt. Joseph Wolfe of Special Troops Command. Marion Ross of Ft. Benning is shown ready to send a high hard shot Ft. Bragg way.

TOM WIERZBICKI Dream Becomes Baseball Reality

What are baseball players made of? Robert Southey, the poet who enlightened us with his knowledge of what little girls and boys are made of in his poem "What All the World is Made of" fails to mention what the American baseball player is made of.

We've all heard the adage that great athletes are born not made. This statement could easily enough open a roundtable discussion so we won't bother to express any thoughts on the subject.

However, when you take the isolated cases of such star performers as Mickey Mantle, Bob Feller and Jimmy Piersall, who it seems were destined for baseball stardom, one steps to wonder exactly what it is, that makes a run-of-the-mill player one of the Game's great stars.

Most sports fans know the individual stories of the three men mentioned here. In Mantle's case, Mickey's dad and grandfather took turns pitching to the young fellow when he was just a lad. Their efforts produced one of baseball's finest smooth hitting hitters. Feller, who became known as the Strikeout King, had his initial start as a youngster on a farm in Van Meter, Iowa, pitching to his dad after finishing the farming chores. Piersall? Well, if you saw the movie "Fear Strikes Out" you found out exactly what a father's burning desire for major league fame can result in.

Sure, so now you're apt to say "These fellows can't be considered the average player, they're the exception to the rule."

This is where we vehemently disagree. Take any player in the major leagues and we'll wager with you that his rise to the big leagues followed a path similar to that of Mantle, Feller and Piersall.

To prove our point let's take the case of a rookie presently on a big league team who is trying to win a regular job.

The fellow we choose to talk about is not new to us. We heard of him before we ever donned khaki back in Milwaukee. His name is Anthony Kubek, Jr.

Tony is the highly touted 20-year-old rookie who is trying to break into the New York Yankees star-studded lineup. His outstanding play in spring training qualified him for the second annual James P. Dawson Award for the No. 1 rookie of the New York camp.

Looking at his background, you could easily say the Tony practically cut his baby teeth on a baseball. His dad, Tony, Sr., was an outfielder with Milwaukee in the American Association from 1932 to 1935.

His sisters and his two younger uncles were playing for his early start in baseball. He was responsible for his early start in baseball. He was playing cork ball with them out in the street almost as soon as he could walk.

Though Tony's favorite sport was baseball, he proved to be an all-around athlete participating in basketball, football and track. At Bay View high school in Milwaukee's south side, he made all-city at end in football and basketball. He was out for track just long enough to break his left arm practicing high jumping. In football he hurt his head and got whacked on the knee. In track he didn't have a baseball team so so many confined his play to sandlot where he was a pitcher!

Tony's dad considered the boy a natural athlete. "I taught him to bat left handed, but I never changed his style much. He had the kind of natural stance and swing that you don't fool around with."

But for young Tony, Jr., there was just one ambition; he wanted to be a big league baseball player from the time he was old enough to want anything.

He chooses the Yankees over the hometown team, the Braves, because he was a Yankee fan. He got no fancy bonus for signing with the Yankees. In 1954, he was sent to Owensboro, Ky., in the Class D Kitty league where he hit .344.

In 1955, he was with Quincy in the Class B Three-I league, where he batted .336. In 1956, he moved up the ladder to Denver, in the Triple-A American Association, where he batted .331.

This year it's the big leagues and the New York Yankees... quite a jump for a 20-year-old youngster.

Tony, Jr., is presently riding the bench for the world champions, but this can only be temporary for the Post boy from Milwaukee has one more ambition to fulfill; meeting the Milwaukee Braves in the 1957 world series!

CROWD REACTION... A shot of the spectators at the Third Army Volleyball Tournament last week at Briant Wells Field House is shown here. The enthusiastic looking official with the ball is Bennett Averera of Special Services.

3-A Rifle and Pistol Matches Underway

M-Sgt. Philip File of 3000th Service Unit at Fort McPherson, Ga., and SFC Specialist Third Class Richard Potts of Headquarters Company, Second Regiment at Fort Jackson, S.C., topped the first two rifle matches in the Third Army Rifle and Pistol Matches to be concluded at the post ranges tomorrow.

Outfiring a field of approximately 300 riflemen from seven states within Third Army, these two shooters took an early lead during becoming members of the Third Army team, which will compete in the All-Army matches at Fort Benning in June.

Specialist Potts fired a score of 96-10's in the Third Infantry Division Championship Rifle Match. This event was 20 shots, at 200 yards from standing position, slow fire, with time of one minute per shot.

Lt. Col. Robert Reber of 16th General Hospital, Georgia Military District, took runner-up honors in the match with a 96-8's total. Third Infantry Division, with place went to SFC Raymond George of Ninth Battalion, Third Infantry Division, with a score of 96-5's.

In the second event, XVIII Airborne Corps Championship Match, M-Sgt. Philip File shot a 99-9V's score. Edge out runner-up and Lt. Robert L. Graham of Company D, 32nd Airborne Infantry Regiment at Ft. Bragg, N.C., who totaled a 98-14's.

The third place shot went to SFC James C. Whittel, assigned to Co. C, Infantry School Detachment.

Final rifle matches to be fired tomorrow will be Infantry Troop 20 and 200 yards at rapid fire with 32 rounds and the Infantry School Troop by team match.

The final pistol match, to conclude the week of firing will be the Third U. S. Army Commander's Championship Pistol Team Match. This will be fired over the national match course with the 45 caliber pistol.

Major Gen. Crum Garcia, Third U. S. Army deputy commander, addressed approximately 300 shooters from seven states April 29 at the opening of the Third Army Rifle and Pistol Matches at Fort Benning.

Gen. Garcia told the 300 shooters from military installations, U. S. Reserve and Na-

The Bayonet, Columbus, Ga., May 2, 1957—Page 23 All-Army Volleyball Tourney Underway

Seven U. S. Army commands have entered teams in the All-Army Volleyball Tournament which got under way at Ft. Benning's Briant Wells Field House May 1.

A pre-tournament banquet officially opened the All-Army event, April 30 at 7 p.m. at Victory Lodge. Major Gen. Herbert B. Fowell, commanding general of The U. S. Army Infantry Center, welcomed the teams at the dinner.

Army commands, which have entered teams include First, Second, Third, Fourth, Fifth, Sixth, Seventh and Eighth Armies and Armed Forces Far East U. S. Eight Army.

Officials selected for the tourney and assigned to the Department of the Army are commander, William T. Odgers, and referee M. L. Walters, both of Florida State University, and Edmund Welch, Emory University, another referee.

A scratch meeting for officials and team catches was held Tuesday at 3 p.m. at Briant Wells Field House to discuss rules and regulations. Drawings for team berths also will take place.

The double elimination tourney and assigned to the Department of the Army are commander, William T. Odgers, and referee M. L. Walters, both of Florida State University, and Edmund Welch, Emory University, another referee.

Regimental Baseball Play To Open Monday Night

Five Third Division baseball teams will swing into action shortly in the Ft. Benning Post Regimental League. Home clubs will be fielded by the 15th ICC, 7th ICC, 30th ICC, Support Command and DivArty. All of the squads have narrowed down their player total to the number that they will maintain during the season. The five teams in the division have been holding spring exhibition games during the last few weeks, priming themselves for the circuit opening on May 6.

Opening game at the Division's Bennett Field will be with the 15th ICC hosting Special Troops Command on the Main Post. The contest is set for under the lights with the initial pitch to be tossed at 8 a.m. Gowdy Field will also have a game on that night between The School Brigade and DivArty's opening game will come two days later at Gowdy Field against the 20th RCT, with the latter as the home team. The 30th ICC will take the field for the first time on May 8 against the 15th Engineers. Two division clubs, the 7th ICC and Support Command will lock grips on May 6 at Bennett Field for their respective openers. The Cottonoblers will serve as the home team. The season will continue through August 5, with each team in the top club circuit facing the opposition twice throughout the season. Each club will then have played six games. It will be on a home and home basis with each team assuming the role of host and visitor against each other team in the circuit.

At the conclusion of the season, the winning team will be the post representatives in the Third Army tournament scheduled for September 27. In case of a tie in the regimental season, a two out of three playoff will determine Ft. Benning's representatives in the Third Army tourney. As was done in the basketball season, the winning team will be aided by a second squad of all star players from the remaining nine teams. Games are open to all persons on post without charge. Games scheduled for Sundays will commence at 1400 hours and most weekday games will be played under

The Infantry Center Sport Office has issued a call for the most outstanding of this group is Pvt. Walter J. Judd with C Company.

Judd enters the army after being affiliated with the Boston Red Sox organization, signed with San Francisco of the Pacific Coast league. During what was to be his first season of professional ball, Judd received his induction notice.

He was signed by the Red Sox upon his completion of college at Albion College, N. Y., where he established the NCAA strikeout record for a single game with 18. He performed this record breaking feat against Lafayette College in the NCAA eastern playoffs. In this amazing performance, Judd fanned the first twelve men he faced.

While hurling for the Scully Post American Legion club, in Albany, N. Y., he has the distinction of having pitched three consecutive no hit games within a two week period.

As a high school student he was chosen to play on the famous Heurdt all-stars, a team composed of the outstanding school players in the USA.

Dave Miller Wins Dixie Pistol Match

2,700 points, 1st Lt. David C. Miller of Denver, Colo., assigned to the U. S. Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit at Fort Benning, captured the "Holiday in Dixie Pistol Championships" in Shreveport, La., April 27-28. Competing with the U. S. Army Pistol Team, Lt. Miller dropped only 70 points during the three-gun, 22-38 and .45 caliber aggregate tournament. It was the second time Lt. Miller had reached the coveted 2,600 mark, held in eastern Tennessee like the four-minute mile is in track, during his career. His first time to break the mark came in last year's National Pistol Matches at Camp Perry, Ohio. The national civilian champion, Jim Clark of Shreveport, also posted a score over the 2,600 mark for second place. Lt. Col. William A. Hancock also a member of the U. S. Army Advanced Marksmanship Unit, topped third spot in the tournament. Col. Hancock, head coach and team captain of the U. S. Army pistol squad, fired an aggregate score of 2,586, just six points from the big mark. In the opening 22-caliber aggregate championship, he fired an 890 out of possible 900 points, with Lt. Miller's 985 holding for runner-up honors.

In common with most other Division managers, Lt. Billy Foster of the "Cottonbalers" has been involved in figures and estimates these days. Who to keep, who to let go—these are problems that furored the brow of the skipper and resulted in a great many rotations of the giant sheets of yellow paper in his clubhouse office. The pitching staff, for one, offers some intriguing problems on whom to retain and whom to dismiss. When the eliminations are completed there probably will be five on the staff. The manager plans on carrying three catchers, six infielders and outfielders. So far, such hurlers as Marvin Weisnicht, Hq. Co., 7th ICC;

Lt. Cartes New Hand Gun Champ

BY JERRY ARMSTRONG
First Lt. Dave Cartes of Philadelphia, Pa., 506th Airborne Infantry Combat Group from Fort Campbell, Ky., became the 1957 Ft. Benning Rifle and Pistol Club Spring Hand Gun champion April 28 over a field of 160 shooters. He compiled a score of 2,598-1100's to outclass his competitors. The River Hand Gun Club of Atlanta, Ga., took top honors in the civilian team awards to dominate their matches. Compiling a score of 1,042-24's for a second place in the 38 caliber, first expert in the 45 caliber with 1,031-22's, the club members fired a top score of 1,107-28's in the 22 caliber to become the outstanding civilian team in the matches. The seven members were David H. McFarland, Jr., Charles M. Yarbrough, Don Lenahan, O. Ryland Moore, John B. Pettigrew, Dr. and Ms. Guy C. Davis, all of Atlanta.

Action Fast At Opening Of Speedway

Jack Ferguson, of Columbus, driving a Ford coupe, took top money at the Super Speedway last Saturday night, winning one of the best races, and coming in first in the feature attraction. Ferguson, who placed second in the time trials to Eddy McDonald of Columbus, and his Car No. 12, bested a field of 22 cars in the feature race in an early attempt to recapture the Super Speedway Championship which he held in 1954. There competition was offered by Walt Kruger, of Columbus, the track champion in 1956. Charley Tidwell, of Macon, Ga., who was a big threat in the feature until he spun out after the first lap, and McBoo-aid. A total of 27 cars were on track, competing for an 1100 dollar purse, the largest ever offered by the Speedway. Approximately 1500 spectators crowded the stands for the opening night thriller. The Saturday's action should see more and faster cars enter, since Florida's Harvey Jones, "The Tallahassee Flash," has stated that he will be on hand with a new car. Officials include Murray Pittman, track announcer, Floyd Day, flagman, Norman Floyd, timer and Browne Redford, pit steward.

Thinclads Impress RCT Coach

The 20th RCT track team competed against Divarty and 15th IOC in a practice meet at Doughboy Stadium last Thursday and Friday.

Coach Jim Skaines of the thinclads was disappointed in a couple of events but was pleased with the overall showing of his men.

Ollie Elders looked very impressive in his victory in the quarter mile run. Leading right from the start, Elders ran easily in chalking up a decisive win. Skaines said that Elders is rounding into top form and should be tough to beat in the post meet.

Domingo Padilla, long distance runner, was unable to find any competition in the six mile run. Padilla ran against the clock and turned in his fastest time to date by clipping over three minutes off his previous log.

John Strong, competing for the first time in the javelin, looked exceptionally good. Coach Skaines expects Strong to score in this event if he keeps improving in his present pace.

DIVARTY ACE AND COACH... talking over the big Redleg track meet slated for Saturday, May 4 at Doughboy Stadium. Versatile Bill Hamman (right) who will compete in the high jump, broad jump, hop, step and jump and the 440 yard hurdle, and the DivArtv coach and middle distance runner, Lt. Andy James.

The Post meet will be coming up in three weeks so the men will try to reach their peak for that showing.

9 to Provide Competition

Support Command's baseball competition this season in the race for the post crown. Manager Greenwood, eyeing his opening night game on May 10 against the 7th IOC, has had his pitchers working out since early March and his infielders and outfielders since mid-March.

Under Greenwood's tutoring, the team has slowly molded into shape and has been impressive in taking five out of their six exhibition games to date.

Ron "Goose" Burbank, a White Six farm club fireballer, has proven himself to be a big headache to the other teams in practice contests. Equally strong is last year's all-post pitcher, Don Fosdick, with further strength in his mound from a hostful of others.

Singing responsibilities will be led by team captain Frank Gignino, a player with some professional experience, and Charles Hinton, who batted .70 for Phoenix, Arizona a year ago.

It's a well rounded club, and will be heard from at the post season get-together.

New Program Looks For Potential Leaders

Lt. Gen. Thomas F. Hickey, commanding general, 3d Army, has outlined a program within the Third Army area to insure qualified selected individuals the opportunity to compete for commissioning. The program follows the pattern established by Gen. W. G. Wyman, commanding general of Continental Army Command to encourage young men with the potential to become leaders.

With this thought in mind, the commanding general of the "Marris Division, Maj. Gen. Roy E. Lindquist, has initiated a division wide program designed to urge all potential leaders in the division to try for commissions.

The program, known as "Operation Crossroads," is designed to seek out the potential leaders in the enlisted ranks and to guide and assist them along the road to becoming commissioned leaders in the Army establishment whether it be in the Active Army or one of the reserve components. Many men now serving their obligated active duty time will return to civilian life and be integrated into the various reserve components in grades appropriate to their capabilities.

This, in particular, is the case with personnel who have an outstanding educational background or experience in the several critical scientific and sensitive military fields. Outstanding educational qualifications are not the only prerequisite, however, to commissioned service. All personnel will be carefully screened and men with the natural qualities of leadership will also be encouraged to participate in the program and win their commissions.

TOP COOK... Honor graduate of cooking class No. 32 at the Third U.S. Army Food Service School was SP2 Thomas L. Soles.

Personnel who take advantage of the program, and go on to win their commissions, will proceed by one of these routes: officer candidates school; Presidential appointment to the United States Military Academy; by competitive examinations; appointment to reserve and National Guard Commissions and by application for a direct commission to fill vacancies in technical and professional fields where a shortage of officer personnel exists.

Cockburn Gets Casey Award

Maj. Edward L. Cockburn, Co. B, 4th Inf Bn, 3rd Inf Div., has been cited as the "Soldier-of-the-Year" in the 7th Infantry Combat Command. He was presented with the Hugh B. Casey Award which is given annually to the outstanding soldier in the "Cottonblaster" Regiment.

The Award was established in 1952 by Maj. Gen. Hugh B. Casey, USA (Ret.) when his son, a former "Cottonblaster" was killed in action in Korea. Sgt. Cockburn was presented with an individual plaque and his name was inscribed on the perpetual Hugh B. Casey Memorial Award Plaque which is displayed in the 7th Regimental Trophy Room. He also received a shotgun as part of the honor.

Col. William M. Summers, commanding officer, 7th Infantry Combat Command, made the presentation and read a citation at a review of the 7th Regt. held in the Sergeant's Room.

Unit Takes Big Part In Exercise

Two U-1 Otters from the 1st Aviation Co. provided continuous battle field illumination for a period of three hours at Ft. Stewart, Ga., test site, while Armed units underwent tactical tests.

A major objective of the tests was to determine the most effective method of providing artificial illumination for night time operations. Searchlights, illumination ammunition and aviation supplied flares were employed.

These tests marked the first attempt to provide continuous illumination over a prolonged period by aviation. The Otters were guided by the largest area by ground control and then set up light patterns over the battle area so that they were able to keep one of the 52 lb. 800,000 candlepower flares over the area at all times during the three hour period. Each flare burned for 3 1/2 minutes.

A team of 22 evaluators, of whom four Third Army posts—Stewart, Bragg, Benning, and Campbell—observed the demonstration.

Benefit Slated For Post's Scout Program May 17

A special benefit performance for the post's Scouting program will be given May 17 at 8:30 p.m. at the Main Theater.

The benefit will be a variety show sponsored by The Masquers, Ft. Benning's little theater group. Proceeds from the evening's program will be donated to the Post's Scouting activities, which include Cub Scouts, Boy and Girl Scouts.

Approximately nine acts are being planned with talent from post personnel. One of the highlights will be an act planned and presented by the Scouts themselves.

Also included will be a ju-do exhibition and a scout dog demonstration.

Julian Has TV Interview

Major Amore Julian, commanding officer of the newly activated 21st Transportation Co., appeared over WRBL-TV, Channel 4, Thursday morning, April 25, at 9:30 a.m., where he was interviewed concerning his activities and the possibilities and possible civilian applications.

The discussion on the program "At Home with Rowell" was an introduction to a series called "Military-Spice" which is now appearing over WRBL each Sunday at 7 p.m.

During the interview, Maj. Julian explained the principal difference between a combat aviator and an aviator in transportation unit.

"Our transportation helicopters are principally concerned with supply and movement of troops and are not directly involved with any surveillance or direct combat support missions," the major explained.

When asked as to the advent of helicopters in the civilian field, he stated that in the past few years the helicopter would come to the fore as a narrow body aircraft.

He stated that in the same type uses it answers for the military. These are essential in the transport of vital cargo and transporting personnel on short hauls from restricted landing areas.

This last phase would be of most value in heavily populated areas where landing areas for fixed wing aircraft are limited.

Helicopters are performing exactly this type of service in some of the larger traffic hubs of New York, New York, and Chicago, now.

As airports move further and further from downtown areas because of increased traffic volume, the use of the helicopter should become even more frequent.

Scouts Set Leadership Instruction

A Girl Scout leadership orientation course will be conducted at Benning, May 2, 3, and 4.

Sessions will be held from 9:15 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. on each of the three days in the Fort Benning Girl Scout Mess, Building 493, located behind the old post gymnasium on the Main Post.

Sponsored by the post's Girl Scout District 1, the course will be taught by six professional staff of the Conchatchy Council of Girl Scouts in Columbus, Ga. It is being given especially for persons interested in assisting with the Girl Scout program.

Mr. Herbert B. Powell, wife of Major Gen. Powell, commander of The Infantry Center, is honorary chairman of District 1. Executive chairman is Mrs. Ed Mayer.

Volunteers will be welcome and are urged to join the Scouting program on the post. Scout officials said.

Turkish General Visits Benning

Major Gen. Cavit Cevik, chief of the Organization and Training Department of the Turkish Army General Staff, arrived at Benning April 24 for a first-hand look at Infantry School activities.

Gen. Cevik met with an Turkish Army officers attending The Infantry School on the post and was honored at an official luncheon April 25 in the Main Officers' Mess.

Post's School Brigade Boasts 7 DSC Winners, 1 Holder of DFC All in Same Officers' Course

BY M-SGT. CLARK

BLACKBURN The School Brigade has seven Distinguished Service Cross winners and the holder of one Distinguished Flying Cross in the same student officer class.

Capt. Jack L. Conn won his DSC for extraordinary heroism in action against his enemy in the vicinity of Sangsunmyong, Korea, when he was assigned to the 32d Inf. Regt.

Capt. Conn, then a lieutenant, led his unit over heavy enemy fire to occupy newly won positions which were being subjected to counter attack.

The only rifle to the position was being a narrow belt order enemy fire. The position held his personal safety, he led his men toward their objective.

When they became disorganized as a result of heavy concentrated fire, he moved forward, bolstering their morale and urging them forward.

Wounded Seriously While doing this, he was wounded in the face, back, and wrist. Despite the severity of his wounds, he refused evacuation and remained with his men until they were ordered to withdraw.

Despite the severity of his wounds, he refused evacuation and remained with his men until they were ordered to withdraw.

While as commanding officer, Capt. James F. Murphy, distinguished himself by his actions in action against his enemy in the vicinity of Su-hui-Ryong, Korea, Capt. Murphy, then a first lieutenant, was engaged in repelling a three-pronged attack by a large enemy force on his unit's position.

Realizing the unit's objective, he led his men into the hostile ranks, personally employing carbine fire, grenades and automatic rifle fire in breaking up the attack and pursuing the retreating enemy after the repulse.

Later, hearing cries for help from a valley in front of his position, he made his way, with two volunteers, down his icy slope to a point where he discovered a wounded American soldier, stripped of clothing by the enemy, abandoned, and in great danger of freezing to death.

Rescued Soldier Capt. Murphy worked under enemy observation for approximately three hours lifting a rope sling to carry the wounded man to safety.

Capt. Elmer J. Galko, as a member of the 32d Inf. Div., distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against an armed enemy on July 11, 1950 near Chemu, Korea.

Capt. Galko, then a second lieutenant, had persisted in his position deployed as a rifleman in a defensive position when he noted one of the enemy line platoons had been penetrating by superior enemy force.

He regrouped his platoon and launched a counter attack. The platoon had advanced approximately 20 yards when it was halted by extreme heavy machine gun fire directed at his flank. Without regard for his personal safety, he charged the enemy position with hand grenades and his rifle.

Saved Platoon His expert use of grenades and the accurate fire from his rifle killed or wounded many of the enemy and caused them to retreat to the rear, abandoning their weapons.

He then placed his platoon in the gap left by the retreating enemy thereby covering the company's lines before being overpowered by the enemy.

After capturing the objective, Puckett directed the action of defensive positions against an expected enemy counterattack. At 10:00 p.m. on November 25, while directing the defense of his position against a heavy counterattack, he was wounded in the right shoulder.

Refused Evacuation Refusing evacuation, he continued to direct his company through four more counterattacks by a numerically superior force who advanced to within hand grenade range before being driven back.

During these attacks, Capt. Puckett let the safety of his foe hold in order to observe movement of the enemy and to direct fire. In so doing, he repeatedly exposed himself to heavy small arms and mortar fire.

In the sixth counterattack at 3 a.m. November 26, he was wounded again in the leg, but he was unable to move. Detecting that his company was about to be overrun and forced to withdraw, Puckett ordered his men to leave him behind in order to continue their withdrawal. Despite this protest, he was dragged from the hill to a position of withdrawal with the captive soldier.

Capt. Rudolph M. Tamez, distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism in action during the Korean War in the vicinity of Kumbyung, Korea.

Through Heavy Fire On October 15, 1952, Capt. Tamez, a first lieutenant at the time, led his men through a heavy enemy barrage in the pursuit of a company of enemy features. As his troops opened company across 800 yards of open terrain under heavy enemy small arms fire, and captured the unit's objective.

In this operation, he deliberately exposed himself to enemy machine gun fire in order to move through the area, reorganizing his men and urging them forward. Through his brilliant leadership, the company was successful in forcing a section of the objective.

When the captain realized that the objective of an adjacent company had not been taken, he voluntarily led his men back across the valley floor, integrating remnants of the other unit with his own. He led his men in a spirited assault which resulted in the ultimate capture of that sector of the position.

After aiding in the evacuation of the wounded, Tamez returned to his original position on the hill and remained there, assisting his men in holding against enemy counterattacks.

Capt. Carl F. Bernard, a member of the 32d Inf. Div., distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism in action against the enemy near Chochiwon, Korea, on July 10, 1950.

When the company was attacked by a numerically superior enemy force supported by armor, Capt. Bernard, voluntarily and on his own initiative organized and led a small party forward and engaged the enemy tanks, personally destroying two tanks and dispersing two others with accurate 2.36 inch rocket fire.

The following morning when his unit was ordered to withdraw before an estimated enemy regiment which had approximately 200 tanks.

Sgt. Casper Finds 'Ham' Radio Interesting, Educational Hobby

BY M-SGT. CLARK BLACKBURN
Sgt. Casper, who has been in the Army for 10 years, has found a hobby that is both interesting and educational. He has taken up the hobby of "ham" radio, which is a form of amateur radio.

The "ham" is Sgt. Casper's call letters. He is a member of the American Radio Relay League, which is the national organization for amateur radio operators.

His next stop was in Paris, France, where he received his French amateur license and call letters FDZ. Sergeant Casper became interested in amateur radio when he was only 12 years old but didn't receive his Federal Communications Commission (FCC) license for almost 20 years.

This doesn't mean that he wasn't still interested or working as an amateur operator. For from it. He had his own short wave listening (SWL) radio that permitted him to listen in on short wave operators all over the world.

Applied for License
Prior to departing for an assignment in France in 1954, Sgt. Casper applied for his operators license, and in February of '54 he received it.

Prior to receipt of his license, however, Sgt. Casper was placed on temporary duty with stations MARS and DLAV at Permannens, Germany, where he was able to both send and receive messages, and for a period of 30 days was in contact with many countries throughout the world.

Sgt. Casper says that one of the most interesting aspects of his tour in Germany was his ability to make "phone patches" for the American soldiers from Germany to their folks at home through "ham" operators in the States.

Upon completion of TDY in Germany, Sgt. Casper returned to San Antonio, Texas, where he operated Station FCXZ on Feb. 23, 1954. He received his amateur license with call letters WQZPZ.

His next stop was in Paris, France, where he received his French amateur license and call letters FDZ. Sergeant Casper became interested in amateur radio when he was only 12 years old but didn't receive his Federal Communications Commission (FCC) license for almost 20 years.

Foreign stations he was able to raise include Spain, Denmark, Sweden, Ceylon, Lybia, Canal Zone, Kenya and many others.

When asked if there was such a thing as books or logs that might be kept in connection with his hobby, he said that all calls, tests, and transmissions are kept in a log by year, month, day, hour and almost to the exact minute of the beginning and end of conversations and must be kept for one year.

Radio His Life Work
When asked how intense he was in his hobby, the sergeant said: "I have made radio my life work. I'd rather work with radio than eat—almost. Amateur radio is a hobby comparable to photography, boat building, scale model train building, etc."

"Even women and children are going in for amateur radio as a hobby—even children as young as seven—are getting their amateur licenses. Another thing that very few people know is that radio has blind people in the ranks of the licensed amateurs, and includes people of all creeds, races, and nations. One minute you may be talking to a millionaire, the next a bum."

When asked if radio wasn't a very expensive hobby, he said as little as $100 could get you up in business, but that if you went all out for equipment, it would run around $3,000. The average cost, he said, runs between three and four hundred dollars.

Plans Trip to France
Asked his plans for the future, Casper says that his first priority is his trip to France, France for the sole purpose of returning with his two step children who are at present residing with their grandparents there.

He said "I leave for France around the May 10, and hope to be back with the children around the May 25."

As soon as we get back to the States, I'll file adoption papers, as for my future plans as far as radio is concerned, when I retire from the Army I'll go into the radio business in one form or another. Radio is the game one year or another."

PERSONALS

SFC Gregory, reenlistment NCO for the 28th RCT, is battling 318 so far this month on his Regular Army reenlistments.

Col. Abel Visits Post

Col. Bernard Abel, chief of the Army's Medical Service Corps, and Col. G. S. Max, chief, Medical Section, Third U.S. Army at Ft. Benning, U.S. Army Hospital April 17 and 18.

The chief Medical Service officer was at Ft. Benning to visit Col. Albert H. Robinson of Hope, Ark., hospital commander, and to address members of the corps.

In a talk to Medical Service officers, Col. Abel discussed the need for warrant officers in the program, the growth and development of the corps, increasing demands for Medical Service Corps officers on a world-wide basis, and personnel policies, needs and distribution.

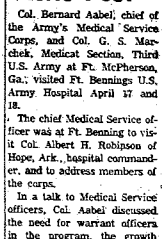

He also reserved a period for personal interviews to discuss assignment information and other individual problem of Medical Service activities.

An informal social hour featuring Col. Abel and Marchek was held at Ft. Benning's Country Club April 17.

The visitors left the post April 18.

Will Now Teach Others

16 Persons Finish Radio Course

A 16-member class was graduated last week from the first familiarization and maintenance course at Berming on a new Army radio set.

Group Urges Road Building

The Citizens-Military Council of Ft. Benning-Columbus-Phenix City at its meeting held April 23 recommended to Missouge County officials the construction of two additional lanes on Lumpkin Road and the 3rd and 3rd Int. Div. Returning crossover or cloverleaf at the junction of Lumpkin Road and Victory Highway.

Hosts for the meeting, which was held at Wynton Methodist Church of Columbus, were the Columbus-Phenix City Ministerial Alliance and Wynton Methodist Church.

The resolution reads: "Whereas, a long-range program has been formulated by Ft. Benning calling for the construction of a four-lane highway extending on Lumpkin Road to the military reservation boundary; and

"Whereas, present traffic conditions on Lumpkin Road require an interim measure to improve the flow of traffic in the vicinity of the junction of Lumpkin Road and Victory Highway; and

"That a crossover or cloverleaf be constructed at the Traffic Circle and at the junction of Lumpkin Road and Victory Highway to facilitate easy access to and from traffic on Victory Highway."

24th Semi-Annual JCOC To Get Look At New Concepts, Weapons

Here From Japan Post Hosts 29 Allied Newsmen

Twenty-nine newsmen from Japan viewed the modern Infantry in training May 6 when they visited the post. The Allied journalists' line-up included an airborne demoralization artillery school weapons display and tours of the Infantry School's Ground Mobility and Communications Departments. The visitors were greeted at Lawson Army Air Field by Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, Brig. Gen. John F. Ruggles, deputy post commanding general; Brig. Gen. Robert L. Cook, Infantry School assistant commander; and Col. O. Z. Tyler, Jr., Infantry Center chief of staff.

Conference Attended By Leading Civilians

Approximately 7,000 persons, both civilian and military are attending the presentations and rehearsals scheduled during the 24th semi-annual Joint Civilian Orientation Conference here May 8-11.

The JCOC program is designed to brief representatives of various segments of American business, industry, labor and government on the advances in military technology to meet the requirements of the streamlined battlefield of today and to illustrate the Army's role on the national defense team.

Edward S. Colgate of Orange N. J., chairman of the Board of the Colgate Palmolive Company; William F. Schindler, secretary-treasurer of the AFL-CIO; and Charles G. Mortimer, Jr., president of General Foods Corp., are among the distinguished Americans who are attending the conference.

MURRAY SNYDER . . . Visiting Brigadier

Post Visited By Dignitaries From Canada

Twenty-six distinguished Canadian industrial, government and military figures visited the post May 8 on route from Toronto to a firepower demonstration at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., May 6.

The party was welcomed by Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell and other key Infantry Center and Infantry School officials at Lawson Army Air Field.

The Infantry Center band played for the occasion and a ramp escort will be staged by the Infantry Center's honor guard unit, Co. C of the 50th Inf. Rgt.

FILL IT UP, PLEASE . . . Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commanding general of the Infantry Center, sets the first tank of gas at the new service station which was opened here April 25. At left is Lt. Col. Lawrence Larsen, Post Exchange officer. The new station, located on Marchant St. is equipped to offer all types of service to post patrons.

Open House Planned For AFD Celebration

A neighborhood open house, giving residents of the Columbus-Phenix City area a chance to see the streamlined weapons of the modern Army, will be staged here as part of the nationwide Armed Forces Day celebration May 31.

P-TA Sets Final Meet

Installation of officers and a layoff of public relations enlisted by faculty members of the post Children's Schools will be held at the May 14 meeting of the Parent-Teacher Association.

The 8 p.m. session in Faith School Auditorium will be the organization's final meeting for the school year, according to Lt. Col. Charles W. Sample, P-TA president.

The skit, "Swim Those Chameleons," will dramatize that public relations is a person-to-person job.

The cast includes Charles R. Goodrum, Jr., principal of Carter Terrace School, Lester R. Herman, Jr., guidance director of the school system, and assistant principal of Faith School, and 14 teachers. Mrs. Anne Young, Miss Colleen O'Brian, Rupert C. Nunally, Mrs. Evelyn Southwood, Mrs. Joseph J. Day, Jr., Mrs. Arden Carruthard, Mrs. Ruth Smith, Miss Betty Burgess, Miss Jamie Johnson, Miss Ann Spencer, W. J. Burt, Mrs. Mary Sherrick, and Mrs. Ariene Burkart.

New Quarters Help Build NCO Prestige

Bachelor quarters for top noncommissioned officers are no longer just a dream for men of Co. G, 1st ID, TSB.

The idea is the "brain child" of 1st Lt. Larry J. Puck who commands the company. Feeling that his single top three graders had need for such quarters, he started the ball rolling in December and occupied quarters in Jan. 1957 of this year, becoming the first to occupy such quarters.

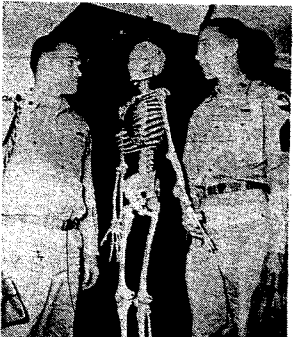

There is no shortage of workers on the project when Lt. Puck gave the green light for all the top NCO's jumped in and during off duty time rebuilt the barracks that was to become their home.

One entire barracks was turned over to them to retrofit, and the result was thirty cubicles 10' x 12' in size, each with a narrow floor lamp, bureau, desk chair, two wall lockers, and bed. There is a TV set on both floors.

Each NCO chips in six dollars a month to pay a civilian contractor to keep the place clean and to help with the painting. Lt. Puck, a dayroom for the company members is in the planning stage.

One bachelor top grader summed up the whole idea with the remark that "every man is not lacking among the occupants of the quarters, and that their morale and good will is high with the advent of this new quarters away from home."

He wrapped the article this way: "Please See Quarters, Page 6"

ROTC BRIEFING . . . Two advanced Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets find there is a skeleton in the locker at a training aids display during their visit to the post April 25-26. Here Florida State University Cadets Raymond McCoy, left, of Tampa, Fla., and Donald Pickett of Pahokee, Fla., check the first aid prop.

At 10 a.m. an hour demonstration of the use of Army aircraft will be held at Lawson Army Air Field.

tentatively planned for the following hour is presentation of the Nike and Corporal guided missile, the Honest John and the 155-mm self-propelled gun. Each weapon will be paraded by a team of the bladders with a demonstrator explaining its use.

From noon to 4 p.m. a static display will be maintained at Lawson Field providing an opportunity for picture taking. A soldier will be assigned to each display to answer any questions from the public.

Also from noon to 4 p.m. the post will maintain a shut-off post celebration, Page 6

Much of Nothing

By CHAPLAIN (CAPT.) HARRY G. CAMPBELL JR.

I can recall a boyhood practice placing children under our hands. What purpose the practice was meant to serve I really do not know particularly, but obviously it was meant in some way to "foot" the hen.

Whether the hen was "footed" or merely showed herself amenable to such pleasures could never really be determined any rate, she would squawk and gray in indignation. Nothing happened of the egg. Nothing happened of the egg. Nothing happened of the egg. Nothing happened of the egg.

Her intention was admirable, her posture excellent — but to result in "all you" just cannot expect much from eggs.

As an item reminded of those hens and the china eggs when I talk to people about their faith. They say they are Christians or Jews; they are in the best of religious traditions; they bring their children for the traditional religious rites and ceremonies; they see it that their children are talking with these people they attend church. But what of the great mysteries of life? Never in their lives do they penetrate, excruciatingly, setting their souls free; never in their lives was there a time of actual mental to God the Father; never in their lives was there a time of actual mental to God the Father; never in their lives was there a time of actual mental to God the Father.

"Lord, I believe, help my unbelief!"

Under the richness of God's love — a love which always gives — they take only a grain here, a little there. Like the china eggs, the substitute looks like the real thing. But nothing happens and that is the real test.

So if you feel an emptiness in your life, better take a grain of the real thing. Evaluate to see if you are sitting on a china egg.

Wilson Pessimistic About Cordiner Bill

Compiled from AFPS Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson says he does not intend to throw the Cordiner bill to the House. While establishment of an allotment cancels this waiver on term insurance, this does not hold true on a permanent plan. VA Form 9-5782 may be obtained at any unit personnel office.

Many ineligible dependents are bringing handups upon themselves in applying for Medicare treatment at civilian facilities, according to Maj. Gen. Paul J. Robinson, executive Director of Dependents' Medical Care Program.

"I want to re-emphasize that the only dependents eligible for care in civilian facilities are the wives, children and dependent husbands of uniformed personnel on active duty," said the Army head of the board monitoring the program.

The Medicare Act, which went into effect last Jan. 1, has caused a great deal of confusion for other than these dependent-only service hospitals. General Robinson explained that parents, parents-in-law and dependents of retired personnel are not eligible for the program.

The Director of the Budget made no recommendations in his report on new legislation. Mr. Wilson said his department, Mr. Wilbur's and the administrative burdens of the program," Gen. Robinson said.

Dependent parents and parents-in-law with a dependent reside with members of the service have been denied shared eligibility at service hospitals. The Department of Defense is studying the interpretation of the Dependent Medical Care Act, a dependent parent in your life. The household of the service sponsor to receive treatment under the new ruling, according to the Defense Department. A service member or a retired member of the Armed Forces provides or maintains a place of residence for his dependent father or mother, regardless of its location they may receive medical care at service facilities.

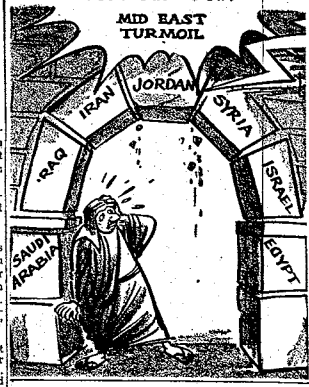

The Defense Department emphasizes, however, that these dependents do not qualify for treatment in civilian hospitals or by civilian physicians unaffiliated with the Department's Medical Care Program.

Some 20,000 premium holders failed to cancel premium waivers on permanent plan. Although according to the Defense Department, although the waiver of these policyholders in the Army and Air Force. The Department is making premium allotments, the waiver must be terminated to the New York State Department of Social Services. The Department is making premium allotments, the waiver must be terminated to the New York State Department of Social Services.

This waiver, through which the "Pure risk" portion of the premium on permanent plan insurance is being cancelled annually, must be cancelled voluntarily by the individual in VA Form 9-5782.

Under the act, Public Law 85-1, a service member dies after May 6, 1957, while he has any GI life insurance in force and is not covered by a permanent plan. The Department is making premium allotments, the waiver must be terminated to the New York State Department of Social Services.

Rustic Gal Comic Makes 'Big Time'

When I was a young man growing up in Northwest Arkansas, I was the only one of the many popular groups of entertainers on a radio station KFTO in Springfield, Mo., who did not know the entire Ozark area, was the Carter family.

The group was composed of a mother and three daughters, plus a little known guitar player named Chet Atkins. They of course specialized in country music and humor.

After a couple of years, they went on to Nashville, Tenn., and the Grand Ole Opry, where their popularity continued to grow.

While watching the Jackie Gleason Show last Saturday evening, I was pleased to see one of the members of this family again, this time on "big time" TV.

On Her Way . . . It was daughter June, the cornetist of the group, and it looks like perhaps she is now on her way.

June Carter gives out with the usual type of country country which seems to be the "country" type and that of course, she lacks the subtle and sophisticated of Tennessee's Grand Old Opry, but her's is basically the same earthy type of humor.

The new NCO quarters will be redecorated and furnished, and will have a bath for every two rooms.

The new plan calls for separate mess facilities to be provided within each of the NCO buildings, a r.e.s. and officer BOQ areas.

101st Seeds Troops Here

About 200 enlisted men and six officers of the 101st Airborne Division at Fort Camp, Ky., arrived on post May 7 to participate in the 24th semi-annual Joint Civilian Organization Conference.

The main body of 603 troops included at Lawson Army Air Field May 6.

Division units making the trip included the 1st Airborne Battle Group of the 501st Infantry, the 101st Reconnaissance Troop of the 17th Cavalry, troops as Sky Cav.

Group Sets Gala Show

Curtain time will be at 8:45 p.m. when the gala show for a variety show presented by the Messengers, Benning's first Airborne organization reorganized to fit the needs of the streamlined battlefield of today.

The Sky Cav presentation for May 9 will demonstrate to the 70 leaders of American business, industry and labor attending the conference, the variety of tactical uses for the Army helicopter. The copiers, during the demonstration, will have a television camera aboard, enabling the conferees to see the area in which they are seated as if looks from the air by means of closed circuit television set.

Under the command of Col. H. W. O. Kinar, the first parachute jump for the 101st Airborne will stage a parachute jump for the 101st Airborne on May 11. Surprise event of the evening will be an act planned and emceed by the Sky Cav. Music will be furnished by the 101st Airborne Center Combo, a group which played for the first time at Benning. Tickets are being sold by Boy Scouts and also will be available at the ticket office.

Quarters

Thank You for Continuing . . . When he said bid good-bye to his hometown with Co. G and remain a bachelor.

The 3d Inf. Div. this week also made known a plan to open bachelor noncommissioned officers' quarters for enlisted men in the top two grades.

The new quarters will occupy quarters now being lived in by bachelor officers who will be accommodated in BOGs in the area of the Patton House. The new NCO quarters will be redecorated and furnished, and will have a bath for every two rooms.

Woman's Club Donates $1,500 To Post Charity at May Meeting

More than $1,500 was donated to post charities of the women to the welfare of Fort May breakfast given by the Post Woman's Club the first day of the month in the Main Officers' Mess. The event climaxed the group's activities for the 1956-57 year.

A check for $1,500 was presented to Col. A. N. Ward, Jr., president of the post's Youth Activities Club.

The club also voted to donate $500 to the Benning Children's Schools in support of a Parent-Teacher Association project sponsoring a teacher for exceptional children. Daughters of the U.S. Army previously gave $1,000 toward providing specialized classroom facilities for the post's handicapped children.

Newly elected officers of the Woman's Club were installed by Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell. They are Mrs. Harry E. Hornecker, president; Mrs. Alfred E. Coffey, first vice-president; Mrs. Robert J. Bigart, second vice-president; Mrs. Robert L. Rhea, Jr., secretary; Mrs. Edward Duda, treasurer; Mrs. Harry L. Reedler, corresponding secretary; and Mrs. John J. Dalton, custodian.

Scouts Camp At Hide Away Last Weekend

Climaxing a six-week period, the post's Girl Scout Troop No. 26 and 92 held a weekend campout April 28 to 30.

An outdoor camp was established by the girls, all sixth graders, at Hide Away, the Girl Scout camp area on post. Highlights of the weekend were an open house for Brownie Scouts and a talent show.

On Saturday, from 2 p.m. to 3 p.m., members of Brownie Troops No. 104 and 97 attended an open house to see the projects of the older girls and to learn more about Girl Scout activities. The Scouts also conducted their young visitors on a tour of the camp, pointing out the various activities and projects prepared for the weekend program.

Displaying a number of skills, the Scouts set up their tents, cooked all meals, the open fires and slept in bag rolls which they had learned to make and roll during the six weeks of camping training. They constructed the necessary camp equipment from natural materials on hand. Each patrol made a Chipewee table, an Indian-style table, which was left at the camp site for other troops to use. Improving a carrying area and leaving it in better condition than it was found is one of the principles of Girl Scout camping.

On Saturday evening the Girl Scouts, as part of the entertainment program, presented another open camp fire. The girls broke camp Sunday morning.

In addition to being a recreational activity the campout also represents a learning and sharing experience. Benning's Girl Scout program is sponsored by the post's Youth Activities Club.

Special Guests

Special guests at the affair were six past presidents of the Woman's Club. These included Mrs. Charles A. Hunt (1931), Mrs. Irving C. Scudder (1939), Mrs. Charles W. Pence (1939), Mrs. Marcus B. Bell (1950), Mrs. Paul Serff (1933) and Mrs. Edwina C. Coffin, Jr. (1933).

Command Hosts Air Force Units

Hq. & Hq. Detachment . . . Lawson USA Air Field Command is host this week, during the 24th QOC, to three Troop Carrier units which are here in support of the 24th QOC program. The 31st Troop Carrier Grp (Medium) and the 63rd Troop Carrier Wing (Heavy) along with the 18th Troop Carrier Grp (ASLT) arrived May 6 and are now operating out of facilities in the Lawson Field area for the remainder of the week.

The aircraft of the Lawson Air Field Command are in themselves scheduled to fly 158 separate flights in support of the problems set up for the QOC now in progress. Photo and aircraft in the 31st Troop Carrier Co., the 4th Transportation Co., the 13th Transportation Co., and the 7th Medical Detachment will fly these missions over the period from May 11 until May 15.

Numerous other flights have been supplied by Army light aircraft (L-19) on various problems and exercises throughout the week. Other Army aircraft were brought in from surrounding posts to support the 24th QOC.

An H-25 was flown in from Ft. Bragg, the two L-20's arrived along with the helicopter. One H-27 (Army's largest helicopter) and two H-23's arrived from Fort Rucker. Four L-20's and P-51's were also flown in from Fort Campbell. Fort Bragg also supplied four H-19's and Fort Benning furnished one H-25.

Air Force units weren't the only new arrivals at Lawson USA Air Field facilities. The stork touched-down on April 30 at St. Francis Hospital and left Miss Carol Ann Powers with the wife of Lt. George P. Powers, Hq. & Hq. Detachment. Carol Ann, weighed 8 lbs 2 oz., and is the newest of three girls in the Powers family.

7th Medical Detachment . . . After a period of necessary care, cleaning and storage of organizational equipment, and an extensive aircraft inspection which included required maintenance, the 7th Med Detachment is again assuming normal operations, following operation King Cole in Louisiana. The unit has been reassigned evacuation and USAIC missions.

The 4th Transportation Co. . . . SP1 James Markopoulos has departed for Fort Rucker on 47 days TDY to attend the SingleRotor Helicopter Maintenance Course.

An Amazing Dividend Record

In 1944 we introduced an unusual, unique idea in life insurance savings and protection. It was highly acceptable to the buying public. We then used this policy in the expansion of new territories.

The twelve years experience with this plan has shown an amazing dividend, giving a low net cost contract without parallel. It is one which you are entitled to compare, with any policy you now own or contemplate buying from any company anywhere.

The only wholly acceptable statement about policy dividends is the actual past record—not a future estimate or illustration.

Post Gives Cielinski CA

Lt. Col. Edward Cielinski, assistant inspector general of the Infantry Center, was presented a Certificate of Achievement April 30.

Signed by Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell and presented by Col. Richard J. Jones, Infantry Center inspector general, the certificate reads:

"Through his aggressive initiative, diligent application, sound judgment, outstanding professional knowledge and his own sensibility, Col. Cielinski has made a marked contribution to the welfare of the individual soldier and to the overall mission of The Infantry Center."

Col. Cielinski, who will retire June 30 after more than 25 years of service, entered the Army in 1926. During World War II, he served with the 88th Inf. Div. in Italy and with the 3rd Inf. Div. during the Korean conflict. Before coming to the post in 1956, he was assigned to the Military Advisory Group in Saudi Arabia.

WELCOMES TEAMS . . . Major Gen. Herbert B. Powell, center, commanding general of The U.S. Army Infantry Center, welcomes participants from seven U.S. Army commands to the All-Army Volleyball Tournament at Fort Benning's Briant Wells Field House, defeating Fifth Army in two straight games, 15-3 and 15-4.

BY TOM WIERZBICKI

Defending champion Presidio of San Francisco, representing the Sixth U.S. Army Command, successfully regained the All-Army volleyball championship last Sunday night at Fort Benning's Briant Wells Field House, defeating Fifth Army in two straight games, 15-3 and 15-4.

Behind superb teamwork, Sixth Army started fast in the opening game, jumping off to a 13-0 lead before Fort Leavenworth (Kans.), representing the Fifth Army Command, could score a single point.

The second contest, though closer, saw Fifth Army come within a point, 10-9, of overtaking the victors with less than three minutes to play.

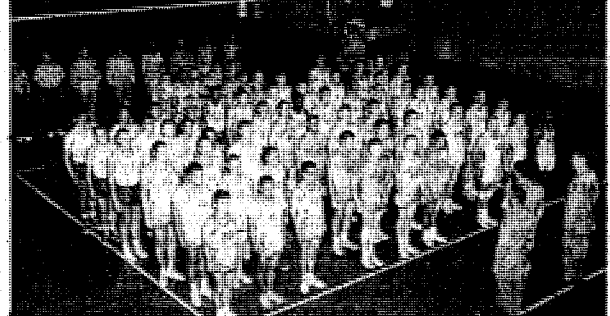

However, the San Francisco set, led by Burton Millard and Bob Jones, came back from the deficit to win 15-11.

Fifth Army thought its way into the finals by defeating Eighth Army, 15-11, and 15-7. Armed Forces (Fort Belvoir) and Army Medical Center (Fort Detrick) were also defeated by San Francisco.

above, 15-8. Eighth Army made the last desperate drive to overcome the 104th Infantry Center, but this game was lost in the 11th and 12th sets.

SPRINKLE CEREMONIES . . . Opening ceremonies of the All-Army Volleyball Tournament at Fort Benning's Briant Wells Field House were held Sunday afternoon. Maj. Gen. Powell presided, and Gen. Powell presided over the presentation of the trophy to the winning team.

WHEATFIELD FINALS . . . Maj. Gen. Powell presided over the final match of the U.S. Army Volleyball Tournament at Fort Benning's Briant Wells Field House, representing the Fifth Army, on the right, in the final last Sunday.

BURTON BANGING . . . Burton Millard, one of the outstanding players on the victorious Sixth Army team, displays his fine talent in a game with Third Army last Thursday at Briant Wells Field House. Fellow teammates from Presidio of San Francisco include Gordon Peak (5) and Philip Kilmer (10). Ft. Benning players ready to defend against the shot are Mattias Hill and Dick Gozino (11). Shots during game were in two quick sets, 15-11 and 15-7.

TOM WIERZBICKI Who Says V-Ball Is a Sissy Sport?

Fire-halter Bob Feller, in his heyday, possessed a fast ball that was reputed to have traveled at 100 mph. It was with one of the best buildups ever projected by a human being that the pitching mound to home plate.

There are very few who follow the sports pages that will not agree that Feller's tosses looked like "aspirin tablets" heading toward the batter's box.

Yet, on the other hand, there are a great majority of sports followers who profess the idea that volleyball should be classified in the category of a "sissy sport."

Before we go any further let us make two things clear. First, volleyball is not a sissy sport. Secondly, and even funnier, putting the horse before the cart, there is no such thing as a sissy sport.

The term "sissy sport" is a misnomer.

During the All-Army Volleyball tourney just completed this past week at Briant Wells Field House, we had the chance to sit down and talk to Mr. William T. Odenaal who was tournament commissioner of the All-Army event. Mr. Odenaal is an assistant professor of physical education at Florida State University. He also is the volleyball coach there.

Odenaal, when asked what his feelings were about volleyball being a "sissy sport," shook his head in dismay. He counted ten, then said, "How anyone can conceive of the idea that any sport is so-called 'sissy' is beyond me."

"For one thing," he continued, "if you take any sport, properly played, it requires its own respective skills."

We pressed the question further and took one sport, badminton. Mr. Odenaal smiled and said, "Badminton is a game which is played at a faster pace because of the fact that it is played indoors in a smaller space than an outdoor version of tennis played at closer quarters."

"Badminton is nothing more than an indoor version of tennis played at closer quarters," he commented. "If you consider tennis a fast, furious game, how can you deny badminton, a game which is played at a faster pace because of the fact that it is played indoors in a smaller space than an outdoor version of tennis played at closer quarters?"

CIVILIAN TEAM . . . The seven-member River Bend Gun Club of Atlanta, Ga., proved to be the outstanding civilian team as they copied three prize trophies in the Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club Spring Hand Gun Matches April 28 at the post club's range. More than 160 shooters from the southeastern states fired in the big matches, which saw the River Bend shooters win the 22 caliber, first expert in the .45 caliber and second place in the .38 caliber matches.

'Can Doers' Win Opener

Following an opening game ceremony which saw Maj. Gen. Herbert B. Powell, commanding general of The U.S. Army Infantry Center, throw the first pitch to Col. W. E. Erkman, the Can Doers defeated the Commanders, 6-3, in the opening game of the Fort Benning Longhough League at Ft. Benning.

Backed by an eight hit barrage, clever base running and good glove work, George Horvansky pitched his first win of the season allowing only four hits. Heath, Sullivan, Osborne and Townsend all hit well for the winners, while Bates and Nemoto hit well in a losing cause. E. Capp who was relieved by Metzger in the third inning, was the losing pitcher.

DivArty Track Meet Scheduled Tomorrow

DivArty's second day of track and field events will be continued tomorrow morning at 8 a.m. at Fort Benning's Dougherty Stadium, after last Saturday's torrential downpours postponed the scheduled activities.

After one day's events, the 10th Field Artillery has jumped into a slight lead over the 104th FA twenty points to thirteen. The 41st FA is in third spot with eight points and the 8th FA trails the pack with four markers to its credit. However, it must be noted that most of the events held during the first day were trial heats, with only five events being finals and counting in the point total. Tomorrow's schedule includes 13 finals, with the point total working on a five, three, one basis.

Three men from the 10th FA took first place in the military 500 yard freestyle swimming race at Bryant Wells Field House, a 45 caliber pistol competition and a two mile run.

Ceremonies will begin tomorrow morning at Dougherty Stadium at 6:00 hours and will be attended by DivArty commander, Brig. Gen. William A. Harris.

On the day's outstanding single event, the 30th Rifle Bobbie J. W. Ray impressively captured top spot in the marathon six mile run. Ray's time was a very smart 32 minutes 53.8 seconds, most of which was also run in a very heavy downpour. The runners, most of whom finished the difficult event, were covered with wet clothes at the conclusion of the event.

Ray ran most of the 24 lap event, neck and neck with teammate Louis Janel, but

Cartes, Vigoletti Capture Awards in 3-A Matches

BY JERRY ARMSTRONG
Top flight shooting was the order for the week during the Third Army Rifle and Pistol Matches fired at the post pistol club, Andrews and Fiske rifle ranges April 29-May 4 with outstanding scores being one rifle and five possible pistol scores being a 9-0 during the competition.

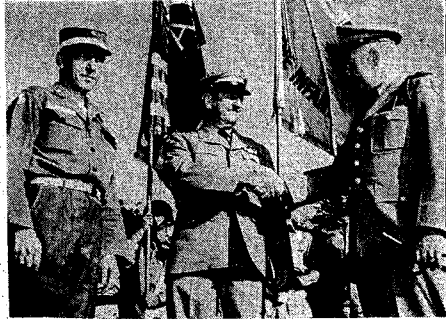

—First Lt. Dave Cartes, assigned to South Airborne and Combat Group at Fort Campbell, Ky., and SFC Patrick Vigoletti, HQ Co of 2nd Airborne Div. at Fort Bragg, N. C., topped top pistol and rifle awards during the final round of the 3rd Army Rifle and Pistol Matches May 3.

M-Sgt. Philip File, assigned to 300th Service Unit at Fort McPherson, Ga., shot his way to the grand aggregate rifle championship firing a score of 715-91's, out of possible 750. Capt. Earl D. Foster, Communications Dept. of Infantry School, fired the only possible score in the rifle matches with a 200 score in the 2nd Airborne Division Championship Match fired at 200 yards; with 20 shots a rapid fire. Lt. Cartes fired a score of 855, out of possible 900, in pistol. The 3rd U. S. Army Rifle and Pistol Championship Match, to edge SFC Maurice E. Bellis, Company E, U. S. Army Infantry School Detachment, who fired an 893. Third place went to Capt. Fredric Mill assigned to Command and Control Battalion at Fort Campbell, who shot an 843.

Rifle Match No. 8, Third U. S. Army Commanders' Championship, saw the 2nd Airborne Division Blue Team from Fort Bragg, cop first place with a score of 1411-199's, out of possible 1500. Runner-up was the 101st Airborne Division Black Squad from Fort Campbell, which totaled a score of 1,094-109's.

Members of the winning team were SFC's Leslie Drake and Vigoletti and SSGs, How and Greene and Jack Stevens and SP3 Norman Thompson, Donald H. Artman. All these men are assigned to HQ Co of the division.

THIRD ARMY MATCHES . . . Major Gen. Crump Garvin, center, deputy Third U. S. Army commander, is greeted at the opening ceremonies of the Third Army Rifle and Pistol Matches April 29 at Fort Benning's McAndrew Range by Brig. Gen. John F. Ruggles, deputy commanding general of The U. S. Army Infantry Center. Gen. Garvin gave the welcoming address to approximately 500 rifle marksmen and pistoliers from seven states, who are participating in the matches April 29-May 4. At left is Lt. Col. Carroll B. Smith, G-3 Section of the Infantry Center, executive officer for the tournament.

Highlights of the colorful Third Army Rifle and Pistol Matches fired last week at Fort Benning Pistol Club, Miss Andrew and Mike ran away saw many interesting records, 36 riflemen receive "legs" to ward their distinguished rifeman's badges, and the team's own "Annie Oakley".

Possible scores during the matches weren't plentiful, but one was shot during the rifle competition in the pistol competition.

Fort Benning gained the distinction of having the only rifle man to win a possible score during the 14 matches. Capt. Carl D. Foster, assigned to the 5th Army Infantry School's Communication Dept., accomplished the task by winning the 200-100-yards Division Championship Match with a score of 100-114.

This match consisted of 20 shots at 200 yards, from standing to sitting or kneeling at rapid fire, and 20 shots at 100 yards, well known to post shooters and this display of skill just backs up the facts already said of his ability.

Five Possibles Shot

First Lt. Dave Carter, assigned to the 26th Airborne Infantry Combat Group at Fort Campbell, Ky., shot two possible scores of 200 in the Alabama and Mississippi Championship Pistol Matches. Three other scores from dirt, grease, and covered mark were M-Sgt. James W. Kurtz, Company B, 1st Airborne, and Capt. Company A, both of 501st Airborne Fort Campbell and SFC Music Lee B. Beale of Company B, Infantry School Detachment, who shot also 200 scores in the Alabama.

M-Sgt. Philip FUE, assigned to the 3,000th Service Unit at Fort McPherson, Ga., and army for Third Army Rifle and Pistol Team, captured the grand aggregate in the rifle competition with total of 716-515, out of possible 750.

Major Oakley

WAC Major Katherine L. Sutherland, assigned to G-3 (Intelligence) Section at Fort McPherson, put a woman's touch into the matches by being the "hardware" when she took aim during the 16 pistol matches.

Entering all the individual matches, she didn't finish first for a long shot. One thing's true about her, Major Oakley, although she hasn't acquired the Annie yet, is the fact that, if the service pistol was .22 caliber instead of .45 which a veteran of only five months on the firing line, with her first competitive match being in the National Mid-Winter Championships in Tampa, Fla. earlier this year, she's learning fast to hit the target and keep up the good work, Major.

Coaches Certain Raiders Can Rewind Doughboy Title

The Raiders baseball team has looked good in practice. His strong arm and steady hitting may earn him a pitching assignment or an outfield post. Coach of the mound they captured for the last two years in a row.

The coaching staff is confident that this year's squad will repeat as winner of the title. They base this optimism on the fact that six veterans from last year's championship team will be in the lineup.

The battery "mates" this season will again be Dave Kirk pitching and Minsky Makhelen catching. Kirk may also fill in at shortstop when he isn't hurting. Both of these lads have been hitting the ball hard in practice sessions.

Tony Quinones will be in his old position at third base. Tony has impressed the coaches with his hustle and speed. Hard hitting John Radney is at short. One local high school coach has already expressed interest in young Radney.

Sony Justice will be stationed at second. Justice and Radney have been working the double play effectively. Tex Osborne may fill the hole in first base if an old football injury stops giving him trouble. Walter Divers is pressing hard in practice sessions. Jose Rivera, a newcomer,

Army Changes Command Name

The Army has changed the name of its major force engaged in defending cities and other vital installations in the United States against hostile air attacks. The former Army Antiaircraft Command (ARA-COM) is now the U.S. Army Air Defense Command (USAR-ADCOM).

The Army considers the name to be more descriptive of its operational mission in the air defense field since the Nike systems for defense against enemy missiles and aircraft have gradually replaced conventional anti-aircraft artillery.

Headquartered at Fort Air Force Base, Colorado Springs, Colo., USARADCOM is commanded by Lieutenant General Stanley R. Mickelsen. Five regional commands covering the United States and the Army component of the Continental Air Defense Command (CONAD).

Versatile Herb Crank to Lead RCT Commander on Diamond

Versatile Herb Crank, Medical Co. 2nd RCT, captain of the 2nd RCT Commanders, looks forward to a banner season for the team. This is Crank's eleventh season of service ball.

During his years in the service, Crank has participated in baseball, football, volleyball, softball, basketball and boxing.

The modest team captain has the reputation of the "Iron man of sports." While playing baseball in Austria Herb pitched and won both games of a doubleheader.

Crank has been hitting the ball hard for the Commanders this spring and Coach Bill Conside counts on Herb for adding power to the lineup. The portable swager will be a definite threat when he steps to the plate.

The sticky lefthander's first and foremost a team player.

Conside has him stationed on third base at present but Herb may find himself handling the catching duties if the necessity arises.

Big Herb is enthusiastic over the Commanders ball club. He definitely feels that they will win a ball in the Giant and Yankee farm systems respectively.

The former trainer for the Commander basketball team has his future all planned. "All I want to do is settle down and raise a few young ball players." He added, "maybe some of them will make the big time."

Main Post Pools Open

Fort Benning's Russ and Young outdoor swimming pools officially opened for the coming hot summer months May 1.

Monday through Friday, the pools will open at 1 p.m. and will close at 9 p.m.

The Saturday schedule is from noon to 9 p.m. On holidays they will open at 9 a.m. and close at 9 p.m.

Brian Wells Field House swimming pool, which is also open, has a regular schedule closed until May 6. Normal operations resumed May 6.

The indoor pool is open Mondays through Fridays from 8 p.m. until 9 p.m. Weekends and holidays it is open from 1 p.m. to 9 p.m.

The outdoor pools are open to military personnel, guests and dependents. Lifeguards are provided by the U.S. Army Special Services Office.

TOP PISTOLEERS . . . First Lt. Dave Cartes, left, and Capt. Ward S. Oakley, both assigned to the 506th Airborne Infantry Combat Group of Fort Campbell, Ky., were two of the top pistoleers during the Third U. S. Army Rifle and Pistol Matches at Fort Benning April 29-May 4. Lt. Cartes, who won both the 38 and 45 caliber aggregate matches, was the top shot during the pistol competition. Capt. Oakley placed in the open classification during the matches.

Matches

Think You For Continuing assigned to Company C, 506th AIGC.

Ran-up in this match was the Third Infantry Division's Blue team, which had a score of 1,093. Members of the team included 1st Lt. Rudolph Kyle, assigned to First Aviation Company; SFC Norman V. Johnson, assigned to Headquarters and Service Company, 15th IOC; SPT Ralph Talbot, Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 15th IOC, and SFC Herbert Brenstall, assigned to Company C, Seventh Battalion.

HAND GUN MATCH . . . The four-member 101st Airborne Division Black Pistol Team of Fort Campbell, Ky., swept all three team events to emerge the outstanding military squad in the Fort Benning Rifle and Pistol Club Spring Hand Gun Matches at the club's range April 28.

The squad also had the grand aggregate champion, 1st Lt. Dave Cartes, left, 506th Airborne Infantry Group, and runnerup champion, and Capt. Fredric Mills, second from left, Command and Control Battalion. Lt. Cartes' top score was 2,568-77X's, while Capt. Mills shot 2,569-77X's. Other members of the team are Capt. John Allis, second from right, 327th Airborne Infantry Group, and Ward S. Oakley, right, also of the 506th Group.

ICC Miler Prepares For Post Track Meet

A young athlete with the 3d, Relay's 2000 meter event in the Div 20th ICC at Fort Benning is quietly preparing himself for the upcoming all-post track and field meet scheduled for Doughboy Stadium.

And, if past performances are considered, this trackster may extend his talents beyond post competition.

FFC Henri Geller, of Biggs, Okla., is redefining himself for the mile run, two mile run, and the 800 yard event by working out in the pre-arrival hours and the after-duty hours in the evenings.

The former Oklahoma A&M chador ace spends these weekly training hours near his Baker Village residence, and utilizes the Doughboy Stadium track for his week-end practice sessions.

While attending Oklahoma A&M, Geller studied personnel management, which he hopes to put into use after his athletic days are over. The Biggs-Sooter attended Poly Prep, an Eastern school, prior to his entrance into Oklahoma A&M, which began in the fall of 1951.

He graduated from the Stillwater, Oklahoma institution in June 1955, and did some track work with the New York Athletic Club previous to his military induction in June 1956. He did his basic training here with the 9th Inf. Battalion.

The 30th ICC has high hopes for Geller in the mile run, which he does as the Marine Division.

SUPPORTS MATCH . . . Capt. Dornford Walker, left, pistol statistician for the Third U. S. Army Rifle and Pistol Matches at Fort Benning April 29-May 4, checks some scores with two of his assistants. Capt. Walker was among the 770 men from the Third Battalion of the 506th Regiment, 82nd Airborne Division from Fort Bragg, N.C., who supported the matches by keeping score for the fliers, co-ordinating action on the firing line and other jobs. More than 800 men are expected to be on hand to do similar jobs during the All-Army Matches at Fort Benning in June. Left to right are Capt. Walker, Sgt. George B. Bullock and Pvt. James Mason.

Concert Slates Beethoven Work

The record concert at the Main Post Library will be Beethoven's Piano Concerto.

Beethoven wrote his fifth and last piano concerto at the height of his powers as a creative artist. The composition of the Fifth or Emperor Concerto dates from the year 1809.

One of Beethoven's students, Karl Czerny gave the newly completed Concerto its first public hearing.

The story goes that a French officer in the audience claimed it "an Emperor among concertos". For better or for worse the name has stuck to this day.

The concert will begin at 7:30 p.m.

Commanders Work Hard For Opener

The Commanders' baseball team of the Doughboy League has been working hard in preparation for the campaign.

Runner-up in the 11-1 league last year, the Commanders are being coached by 1st Lt. Alfred McCaron, Hq., 29th RCT. McCaron played ball for Fort Jackson in 1948-49 and managed the 136th Inf. Regimental team at Fort Rucker in 1952.

Praising the hustle and spirit displayed by his club, Coach McCaron is optimistic over the Commanders' chances this year. He is being assisted by SFC James L. Gregory, recruitment NCO for the 29th RCT. Coach Gregory played regimental baseball for five seasons in the Army.

McCaron has a pitcher-catcher brother combination ready to handle the battery duties. The Gapp brothers, Eddy hurling and Billy catching, will draw the top assignments. Eddy is a year older than Billy. The Commanders may have another Cooper duo in the making according to the coaching staff.

Larry Nemoto, a holdover from last years nine, will be used for utility duty. Nemoto can catch, pitch and play the infield.

Frank Messar is battling Billy Gapp for the catchers job. Infield candidates are Gary Bates, Tommy Good, Frank Kaufman, Mike McCaron, Mike Lutz and Pat McGee.

Ft. Mac Finds Way To Utilize Prisoners

Prisoner rehabilitation and safety from fire are two big and constant concerns for military commanders. And to "kill two birds with one stone" is a big order.

But the toughest job is to reduce everybody happy while doing it. And Lt. Col. Joseph D. McNally, Fort McPherson commander, has done it.

In the past, "fire guard" has been a standard duty for enlisted men here. This entailed restriction to quarters for a number of men each night, in order that they might be on hand in case of fire on the post. It was just another duty, and the men had little incentive to become really effective firefighters.

Class Hears Gen. Harris

Brig. Gen. William A. Harris, 3rd Inf. Div., Artillery commander, spoke at graduation exercises May 3 for officer candidate class No. 3.

Approximately 77 candidates received the gold bars of a second lieutenant at the ceremony in the Main Theater.

Gen. Harris served as assistant to the chief of staff of SHAPE in Paris, France, before coming here last October. He is a 1933 graduate of the U.S. Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. Commissioned in the field artillery, the 46-year-old officer earned the Combat Infantryman Badge while serving as commander of the 7th Regt., 1st Cav. Div., during the Korean conflict.

Graduation ceremonies also were held May 3 for the 1st Infantry motor officers class at 11 a. m. in Ground Mobility Building E-1. Fifty-two Republic of Vietnam Army officers attended the 12-week course.

More than 300 students entered courses at the Infantry School last week. On May 1, 51 men began the automotive supervision class and 65 entered the communications enlisted class. Two hundred students entered airborne class April 28.

VISITS COLLEGE

The assistant commander of the 3rd Div., Brig. Gen. Frederick R. Zierath, inspected the military facilities of Gordon Military College at Barnesville, Ga., April 30. The general met with school officials, after which an inspection of the honor guard and a briefing and inspection of the facilities were made.

Pleased With Success

Officials here are delighted with the success of the program. And so are many other people.

Prisoner authorities are happy because of improved morale among parolees.

1. Parolees are happy with their own responsibility—and freedom.

2. And firemen and engineers—officials—and just about every body else—are happy because of the new dimension of fire safety and prisoner rehabilitation at Fort Mac.

GIs Answer Blood Call

More than 150 men of the 29th Regimental Combat Team offered to donate blood when they discovered that a World War II veteran undergoing a serious chest operation in the state hospital at Rome, Ga., needed the vital fluid to live.

According to Major Ernest C. Snyder, a member of the 29th, the call for blood donors came to the organization at 8:30 a. m. May 2 and in less than 15 minutes the quota of 20 was exceeded.

For the rest of the morning, the ROT headquarters was bombarded with phone calls from soldiers offering to help.

Volunteers were transported to the City Medical Center in Columbus, Ga., where their blood was taken and sent to Rome.

How many stocks should you own?

On the basis of the mail we've seen recently, a surprising number of investors need a good answer to that one.

Consider, for instance, the investor who asked us to review his portfolio consisting of 31 different stocks worth less than $20,000 all told.

He owned six shares of one stock, eight shares of another, fourteen of a third, and so on up to a maximum holding of forty-three shares in one issue.

How any individual can give all the attention he should to that many different companies—is beyond us.

Or why he might want to, when the same amount of money invested in half as many stocks might really increase his income, give him a much better chance of achieving his investment objectives, besides.

If you own stocks, or plan to buy them, we suggest that as a rough rule of thumb you accumulate at least $500 worth of one stock before buying a second. If you own a number of stocks, no one of them should represent much more than five per cent of your total investment—no one industry much more than ten.

As we said that's just a rough rule of thumb. But if you feel that you may be over-diversified yourself, it would like to know just how many stocks we think you should own — and which ones—simply ask.

Our Research Department will be happy to analyze your situation—do all that it can to help you consolidate your holdings to your best advantage.

There's no charge or obligation of any kind, but Research can do a much better job if you'll tell them something about your personal situation and investment objectives. Simply address your letter to—

An Editorial

'Those Who Serve' Provide for Peace

By Presidential Proclamation, the third Saturday in May has been designated Armed Forces Day, and this year, the third Saturday falls on the eighteenth. This is the day on which the men and women of the Army, the Navy, the Air Force, the Marines, and the Coast Guard will be host to the American public.

The theme of all the celebrations this year is "Power for the Preservation of Peace." Peace which was brought about by the youth of America in countless conflicts on the land, on the sea, and in the air, in wars which have been fought in our time.

It is characteristic of our American way of life that once our wars are ended, we forget the possibility of wars in the future and return to our peaceful pursuit of a livelihood behind the security of the oceans that separate us from those who would be our enemies.

Unfortunately, those oceans do not provide the security we once enjoyed, and we must now stand ready to defend ourselves with only hours in which to prepare instead of days, weeks, or months, as we have had in the past. The only means of maintaining our national security is with a strong unified Armed Services. One that has the confidence of the people.

That confidence can be created and maintained through harmonious associations and mutual support.

The men and women of the Armed Forces come from the cities, towns, and rural areas of all America. They are representative of all the American people and their job is to protect our homes and our way of life. They deserve to be honored and encouraged in that task.

During Armed Forces Week, and on Armed Forces Day, the civilian population and the men and women in uniform have their finest opportunity of any time of the year to get together for a mutual understanding of problems and for a rededication to the ideal that America can survive only if we have the will to defend it.

Let every community join this salute to the Armed Forces and let every individual citizen reflect upon the service the men and women making up our defense force are rendering. Without their collective support, the job of preserving the peace would not be possible.
