Savings Program Initiated

Public Law 89-538, appro ed Aug. 14, 1966, makes available to members of the Army, both officers and enoutside the United States or its possessions an attractive and highly desirable savings program.

The program is intended to provide an incentive for members of the uniformed services stationed overseas to save instead of spend, thereby reducing the balance of payments deficit of the United States and help to strengthen our economy.

Members overseas may deposit their current unallotted pay and allowances with their servicing Finance and Accounting officers and earn 10 per cent annual interest com-pounded quarterly on their Deposits will be made ing the same forms as were used under the Soldiers' Deposits program and will be processed in the same manner. After return to the United States, members may elect to receive their money immediately or they may wait and draw interest for 90 ditional days.

CG's Message For Labor Day

During the recent Independence Day holiday period, none of our personnel were involved in serious accidents. This excellent record could not have been attained without your individual support of the holiday safety effort your individual support of the holiday safety effort.

We will soon be celebrating Labor Day. Since it will involve a long weekend, and is the last holiday of the summer season, the accident bential will be at its highest, particularly on the highways. As you celebrate Labor Day avoid the hazards by taking advantage of the many recreational activities on post and in the local area. If you must travel, take precautionary measures to insure the safety of yourself and others.

I urge each of you to maintain our good record established during previous holiday periods by continuing to meet your responsi-

Each year brings an increase in swimming and boating facilities, with a corresponding increase in the number of persons who need to know water safety. To insure that water recreation will not end in tragedy, the ability to swim is impera-tive, and more and more people seek training in swimming and life saving.

The largest problem faced by the Red Cross at Fort Benning is the lack of qualified instructors available to teach each year.

There are many pools in the area, and a new group of children every year is ready, and eager, to learn to ready, and eager, to learn to swim. While John T. McKenzie brother of McKenzie and Marshall's legal guardian locked on, COL David G. Sherrard, deputy post commander, presented the med-al to Marshall.

The citation which accompanied the medal read, "The President of the United States of America has awarded the Legion of Merit, posthumously, to Colonel Walter B. McKenize for exceptionalmeritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding

"McKenzie distinguished himself by exceptionally me-ritorious service while serving in a position of responsi-bility as assistant chief of staff, G-3, U. S. Army Com-b at Developments Command, Experimentation Center, Fort Ord, Calif., from June 1964 to March 1965."

"His dynamic leadership professional competence, and administrative excellence sig-nificantly enhanced the experimental and operations standards of the command

"He was responsible for the initial planning of all experimentation programs to include personnel and equipment ment requirements, training and special activities pecu-liar to the mission of the center. His planning techni-ques resulted in a great increase in operational efficiency, shortened reaction times to meet the deadlines imposed, and improved coordination among the ele-ments of the command. With resourcefulness and objective ity, he devised training and unit testing programs which raised the operational readiness of the command's com-bat units, and which led to marked improvements in the validity of all experimental data collected."

"His broad knowledge and professional skill were also reflected in an outstanding maintenance program. By his diligence, professional acumen, and devotion to duty, combined with his compre-hensive briefings to dis-tinguished visitors, he con-sistently attained optimum ef-fections. fectiveness throughout the area of his responsibility and contributed materially to the successful accomplishmen of the command mission.

"McKenzie's distinguished performance of duty represents outstanding achievements in the most cherished traditions of the United States Army and reflects the utmost credit upon himself utmost credit upon himself and the military service."

Marshall has an older brother, Walter B. McKen-zie Jr., of Jacksonville, Fla., who was unable to attend the ceremony.

Marshall will be leaving Montezuma to stay with Rev. and Mrs. Lea Powell of Lexington, N. C., and attend Lexington High School

Public Relations

By SFC Dick Kemp

Given much thought late-ly to your role as a public relations man?

Every man in uniform is a public relations represen-tative of his branch of service and the public is well aware of it. The public, the people who see you on the street downtown or in your hometown, are evaluating the Army by the way you conduct yourself.

Ridiculous? Not so! Why should they? For good reason. The people of our nation have been supporting through their tax money a gigantic military force, with the exception of a few years in the 40s, since 1940.

That's 26 years without relief from the tax burden. They do it willingly be-cause they are intelligent people who understand that we have a new position in international relations. that of leadership, and that we must stand firm on our commitments abroad. However, they like to. know what they are getting for their money. What's more important, they have vices of the military forces and the reporting of civilian news media. They also get a great deal from their personal contacts and observa-

Army You have some basic rules to follow that will help you do your public relations job with ease.

First, personal conduct should be exactly what you would expect any law abiding citizen to demonstrate. More so, since your uni-form attracts attention more readily than the muf-ti of the civilian. You stand out and your actions stand out along with your uni-form.

In your associations with civilians, you should speak only with authority on the things of which you have personal knowledge. Your comments and criticisms should be labelled as your personal opinion and you should use them only to present factually both sides of Thirdly, pay your debts Nothing lowers the esteem of the military organization faster than the bad taste left with a local merchant who has had a soldier de-fault on a debt. True, he a right to know.

They get a great deal of their information strong their information seen the public information debts but he will always resent having to use this means.

It resolves itself into one simple fact. By donning a uniform, you did not diseard your obligations citizenship and good con-duct. If anything, you as-sumed more responsibilities in these areas. Give the public your best and they will see you get the hest Surgeon Says

Plants are hazardous to your health and life

By William L. Gutbrey, MSC

A vast potential source be completely overlooked by many parents is the more than 700 species of poisonous plants that grow in homes, in backyards and in fields across the length and breadth of the United States.

It is one thing to advise parents to lock up their prescription drugs, head-ache pills; and tincture of ache puls, and tincture of iodine in the medicine chest. But where can one hide a poinsettia plant? Yet, one leaf of this common house plant contains enough poison to kill a

Similarly, it is easy enough to educate the pub-lic to keep disinfectants, bleaches and rat poisons where children cannot get at them. But where does one lock up the rhododen-dron bush in the back yard. Here again, the leaves stems and other parts of this shrub can be fatal if hev are chewed.

AMA Warns Last November, the American Medical Association sent out a special re-lease about the dangers of eating wild mushrooms --after a New Jersey couple had died and several other people had become serious-ly ill from eating some that they had picked in the

The only first aid advice the Association offers for anyone who has consum-ed poisoned mushrooms is: "Get the patient to a doc-tor immediately. If the accident occurs in a remote spot, empty the stomach promptly by placing a fin-ger in the throat or by use of 2 tablespoons of salt in a glass of warm water."

According to the U.S. Public Health Service, about 12,000 children every year ingest potentially poi-sonous plants. Pharmacists, of course, are familiar with the possi-ble toxic effects of stra-monium, belladonna, foxglove and other plants whose extracts and alka-loids are used in medicine.

A vast potential source of poisoning that appears to ecompletely overlooked Safety Magazine of the National Safety Council, however, "Many poisonous plants are so common and innocuous that you don't suspect their tox-ic qualities.
"Who would guess that the beautiful oleander bush, grown indoors and outdoors all over the country, contains a deadly heart stime lant similar to digitalis? So powerful is this texin that a single leaf of the oleande can kill a child. People have died merely from eating steaks that had been speared on oleander twigs.

Poisonous Berries One of the most com-mon sources of plant poi-soning, says the National Safety Council, is the berry of various plants.

The berries of the mistletoe have proved deadly to adults who have used them to make a so-called "medicinal tea." Children are especially prone to poisoning from poisonous berries, notes the safety council. Deaths have been reported in children who have consumed the berries of the Daphne me-zereum plant, which is cul-tivated in backyards; the unripe berries of the red sage, which grows extensage, which grows exten-sively in the south: and the berries of jimson weed. the common thorn apple or stinkweed which grows almost everywhere in back-yards and wastelands and is responsible for more poi-sonings than any other sonings than any Certain parts of edible plants have also been re-sponsible for numerous poisonings. For example, rhu-barb leaves contain odalic acid and have been known to cause a number of fatalities when eaten — even though the stalks of the rhubarb plant are commonly used in baking and cooking and are not toxic.

Peach tree leaves contain hydrocyanic acid a n d can cause harmful effects when consumed. The twies of cherry trees release cyanide when eaten.

The 1965 disqualification rate of draftees was lower than in the preceding year. Forty-four per cent of the draftees were disqualified in 1965 compared with 53 per cent in 1964. The drop in th rate is due primarily to two factors: the mental standards were lowered in November 1965, and the draftees includ ed 18-year-old youths who processed under the spe-"Conservation of Manpower" program that began in July 1964.

An evaluation of the cor bined results of the examinations for both applicants for enlistment and draftee would indicate, as in pre vious years, that two of thre tary service, according to Dr. Bernard D. Karpinos. Medical Statistics Agency biometrician who prepared the study.

Not a stripe on his sleeve. He's not in the Air Force, Army, Marines, Navy. But what this United Air Lines chef doesn't know about preparing food hasn't been discovered yet.

His handiwork is one of the extras you get when you fly United. Another is extra seats. Still another, extra cities. Right now we may have as many as 124,000 seats flying to 115 U.S. cities. Any one of them could be yours.

For information and tickets, visit or call your. JAMTO office located at Bidg. 19, Tele. No. 545-3438.

So come see United Air Lines next time you've got a lot of ground to cover and very little time to do it.

P.S. Remember that men and women in U.S. uniform, with military leave authority, fly (stand-by) at 50% off regular Coach fare (this rate also applies within 7 days after discharge). You can sit anywhere the seats are, even in First Class when the other seats are filled.

Cassius Clay appeared to have a relatively easy time disposing of Karl Mildenberger in their recently televised 15 round championship fight. So you say easy time - it took him 12

But the fact remains that Clay emerged from the fight without a scratch. Mildenberger did not at any time hurt him.

Clay toyed with him for the 12 rounds that

In the 12th round I counted 12 solid punches Clay got through to him. It's a good thing for Mildenberger that the referee stopped the fight when he did. Mildenberger was really dazed.

Did you notice that last week the New York Yankees dropped into the cellar of the American League? Then during a series with the Beston Red Sox, who at the time were in ninth place, the Yankees came out on top and at the conclusion of the series the two teams had changed positions in the race.

Then a few days later the Red Sox fired their manager Billy Herman and named Pete Runnels interim manager until the finish of Another difference would have to he the improved hitting of Eddie Matthews.

Getting away from this topic for a minute, who should he the most valuable player in the National League?

For the answer to this you don't have to look any further than Atlanta Stadium. When the Braves are at home he's found usually on

His name of course is Felipe Alou. Look-ing at it from a negative point of view, where would the Braves be in the race without him?

He leads his team in hitting and for most He leads his team in hitting and for most of the season he has been one of the top hitters in the league. In addition, he leads the league in hits, he already has over 200, and he leads the league in runs scored. By the end of the season he will probably have hit at least 30 bomerums and should have close to 80 runs

There really isn't another player in the league who is having the great all around year that Felipe is. He's having the type of year that Frank Robinson is having in the American League. But of course Frank is with the pennant

What did Alexander the Great, Charlemagne, Oliver Cromwell, Sir, Isaac Newton and Theodore Roosevelt have in common? Their fame and the gout. As a matter of fact. so many famous people have had gout, many believe it is a disease of great distinction. And for years, science has not been able to prove nor disprove such

Now, as a result of a recent study by scientists at the University of Michigan, there seems to be some truth to the theory after all. Chemically, sufferers of gout have abnormal concentrations of a substance called uric acid in the blood-stream. Now it turns out this same uric acid has something to do with the chemistry of memory and learning and may act as a brain stimulant, helping to give some individuals drive, initiative, talent-and gout.

Where the action is

There is plenty of action just around the corner for the serviceman who wants to participate.

This particular action doesn't come very often, but it's as exciting as any Kentucky

This race, of course, pertains to the upcoming general elections in November. And when your ballot is finally cast, you have participated in one of the most exciting events in our democracy. To see the results of your action as an eligible voter do these simple things:

Learn who the candidates are; learn the issues at stake in your locality and make your choice; get your Federal Post Card Application form; mail it to your home state; and when you get your absentee ballot, fill it out accurately and mail without delay.

Generally, that's all there is to it. But the reasons you voted in the first place go much deeper.

For example, the history of the world has borne out the truth of the warning that "eternal vigilance is the price of liberty." Case after case can be cited in which people's individual liberties have been lost because the majority of the jority of the people neglected their responsi-

Outpatient treatment plays a big role in hospital service

Martin Army Hospital, like every other hospital, has a story to tell about its the basis of e services, its aims and its problems. The outpatient services play a major role

The outpatient department is becoming increasingly important in the Army Medical program. Improved methods of treatment, the use of new drugs to control infections and accessible paramedic services such as X-ray have made possible the treat-ment of many patients on an outpatient basis.

Treatment on an appointment system is encouraged. Treatment on the appointment system allows time to examine the patient thoroughly, to obtain laboratory tests, to evaluate each patient and to treat and follow the patient's course to recovery. A well-organized system helps to reduce the excessive waiting periods and the crowded conditions encountered in the hospital clinics. The appointment system also offers the pa-tient some choice of doctors and helps establish a better doctor-patient relationship.

One section unique to the outpatient department is the emergency room. emergency room is open 24-hours-a-day. This unit is primarily designed to handle all types of emergencies, medical, surgical and psychiatric. All of the doctors perform this 24hour duty in addition to tions will a their normal duties on the requested.

Treatment is given on the basis of emergency. True emergencies, such as heart attacks, allergic prob lems, hemorrhages, severe convulsions, cuts, broken bones, insect bites, dog bites, snake bites and poi sonings resulting from drug ingestions which require immediate and fast attention are treated first and the less serious ailments

The question sometimes arises, "Why is it necessary to see two or three doctors?" In these cores doctors?" In these cases, quires specialized attention or treatment. Therefore, the doctor on duty contacts the desired specialist on call, and be examines the patient and prescribes the necessary treatment cently received by the 72nd Engineer Company of the 197th Infantry Brigade: con-struction and destruction.

Its bulldozer blade and winch-boom equip the CEV with versatile construction capabilities.

For destructive purposes it carries a 165mm demolition gun, designed to breach and create obstacles, and 7.62mm and 50 caliber machine gui for added firepower.

Mounted on an M60 tank chassis and operated by four-man crew, the CEV is designed to replace the old M48 tank-dozer.

The 72nd's CEV is among the first of 85 to roll off pro duction lines this year. It has been integrated into the Engipeer Committee's instruc tion at the Infantry School.

According to LTC Wayn A. Blair, Engineer committee chairman, the CEV will be a welcome addition to tactical and firepower demonstra-tions at The Infantry School."

The third Field Training Exercise for the 199th Infantry Brigades 4th Battalion, 12th Infantry Regiment, got under way last week with a heli-lift to the training area.

Lieutenant Colonel James G. Boatner, the battalion commander, received the order for the exercise. Immediately after lunch, the called together his staff, company commanders and officers of attached units. The battalion intelligence officer, CPT David W. Wright open-ed the briefing with, "The enemy controls the area north

He told the listegers what intelligence had picked up on enemy sightings and where. The intelligence officer also briefed them on the type of terrain to be expected, and that "recent rains have swoll-en creeks and rivers, hut they should still be ford-able."

Boatner continued the fing with instructions on unit moves and attacking and blocking positions. "Our mission", he said, bringing

The new savings plan

Thrift has always been considered one of Thrift has always been considered one of the worthy virtues, but for servicemen over-seas, President Johnson has enhanced that worthiness more than two-fold.

With his signing of Public Law 89-538 and Executive Order 11298, servicemen overseas are afforded an opportunity to receive an un-precedented return on their investment dol-

The President authorized a 10 per cent in-terest rate on Uniformed Services Savings De-posits for all servicemen, including officers, who are stationed overseas.

Think of it! That's a return of 10 cents on every dollar for every year that you remain overseas. Few people, other than stock market speculators, have ever received such return on their money, and certainly no one has ever obtained it with such high degree of safety in their investment.

As an added bonus, you can be helping your country become stronger while fattening up your own pocketbook. Each dollar you save will be a dollar that won't be spent overseas, thereby lowering our nation's balance of pay-

So, you save and your country benefits well. Who could ask for a more pleasant prospect? Why not check into the Uniformed Services Deposits program today? Ask your finance office about it. (AFNB)

It has been discovered, through intensive research, that, in certain forms of animals, tooth decay is a transmissible disease, that it will not occur in a germ-free atmosphere and that in rodents at least it is caused by hacteria of the streptococcus family.

This is a major advance in understanding the ulti-mate mechanism of tooth decay, but the information cannot yet be interpreted in relation to man. Hundreds, perhaps thousands, of new studies will bave to be undertaken before scientists will know just what it is that makes human teeth decay. While dental redecay. Viet Nam in Pictures

Suddenly, a flight of helicopters skims over the pines and swoops to the pavement. Small groups of soldiers race from the craft into the brush.

This is Mississippi, 1966, and the men of Fort Benning's 199th Light Infantry Brigade will never forget it.

The little exercise on the roadway is a tiny part of seven weeks of intense advanced combat training. It is typical of what nearly 4,000 men of the 199th are going through.

A section of the highway running through Camp Shelby is blocked off, a pathfinder comes in, scouts the area and then, close be-hind him, lift after lift of "quick reaction for-es" land. Their purpose is to attack the aggres-sor in his own backyard.

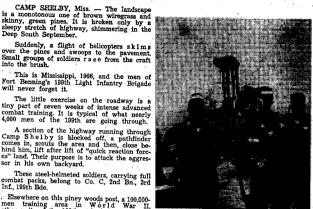

These steel-helmeted soldiers, carrying full combat packs, belong to Co. C, 2nd Bn., 3rd Int., 199th Bde.

Elsewhere on this piney woods post, a 100,000-men training area in World War II, other units of the 199th and of the 54th Gen-eral Support are also training under simulat-

A demolitions platoon of the 87th Engineer Company constructs "tibbon cutting charges" and blasts through steel beams for practice. A young private learns how to lay a control to a Claymore mine he has just armed and aimed, under the direction of Specialist 5, not much older than himself.

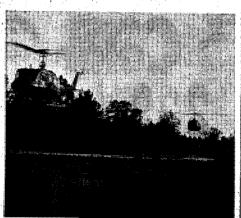

A half dozen officers cluster around a colonel for a last minute check at the conclusion of a briefing outside an operations van. They all wear, 45s strapped to their sides.

This is Mississippi, 1966. The 199th Light Infantry, activated in June, is in the serious business of combat training.

Switching MOS To Get Touah

WASHINGTON — A forth-coming Army circular will halt enlisted soldiers' switch-mg noth one MOS to another, willy-nilly.

It's expected there will be fewer reclassification actions as a result. But officials say they are confident the MOS switches permitted under the new rules will work out bot ter for the Army an for the ndividuals.

The vehicle for the new policy rules is an upcoming revision of DA Circular 611-4, the list of overstrength and shortage MOSs which is used in certain personnel actions, including reclassifica-tions and selection for at-tendance at service schools.

The Lat

oles will be facing the Dodgers in the World Series next week. The Pirates and the Giants just ran out of gas.

My pick to win the Series is the Dodgers. All of my reasons for this choice are based on Frank Robinson. So you say this is crazy.

Well, wait a minute. Before Frank came over to the American League he spent a good many years with the Cincinnati Reds. With his powerful bat in the lineup they won the pen-nant only once. And at that, the year that they did win the pennant the Yankees clobbered them in the World Series.

The Reds for many years were a hitting The Meds for many years were a hitting team, as a matter of fact, they still are. Along with Robinson's hat they had other good hitches like Vada Pinson, Gordy Coleman, Deron Johnson, Pete Rose and John Edwards. Prior to this they had Wally Post, Gus Bell, Ted Kluzowski and Johnny Temple. Suffice to say they won only one NL flag in all these years.

Why The Yankees Finished Last

Much has been said why the once proud New York Yankees finished last in this year's American League baseball race.

The main reason, in this writer's opinion, is that they just ran out of the top notch players that they have been famed for.

They have, and have had, great players such as Mickey Mantle, Yogi Berra, Whitey Ford, Bobby Richardson etc., but the few that are left just simply can't supply the punch that's

The Yankees have never been a Los Angeles Dodger team, one that is made up of pitching. They have had to rely on the strong hitting that has always been a trademark of the

The DiMaggio's and Mantle's don't come around very often

This year, with Mantle injured, Kubeck retired, Ford disabled and the many other injuries that faced the Yanks, they never got

They didn't have that "sparkplug" that is an annual part of the team. In years past, it was Mantle, Maris, Ford, Arroya, Larsen, etc.

The Yankee farm teams (for many years) have been suffering. The other American League teams began matching the healthy Yanks and started getting the "top notch" players, the great Yankees finally grew old. From the pen-nant in '64 to this, the bottom of the barrel.

For the first time in 54 years, the mights Yankees have finished last. Not since 1912 (with eight teams in the league) have the Bombers

The Yankee haters finally had their wishes come true. For years I have listened to the jealous fans denounce the Yankees. Now they are having their glory

But if you are a Yankee fan, as I am, you won't give up.

Just as the 1912 Yankees rebuilt a powerful dynasty, so can the Yankees of the 1960's, Not next year, of course, but give them a couple.

They'll be back on top, just as big and strong as ever

You can't keep a great team down!

THERE IS NOT but one Most Valuable Player in the American League. That's Frank

Even if the Baltimore Orioles had not won Even it the Dathimore Offores had not won the American League flag, this man could not have missed being the Junior circuit's MVP. Not since 1956 has anyone won the coveted Triple Crown. Mickey Mantle in that year led in RBI's, Home Runs and led the league in bat-ting. Now a National League "reject" has accomplished the great feat.

Whatever the Cincinnati Reds had in mind, it is almost impossible to say that they are not really sorry. Not since the old Boston Braves traded the great Bambino has a trade been such a great flop. And this gentleman has a good many years left to prove to the Redlegs that they made an awful mistake. And you can bet your life that Ohio fans will have a few words to say too.

JUST A FEW words of encouragement to Atlanta Falcon fans, Rome was not built in one day. Just ask the Dallas Cowboys,

WILL DON DRYSDALE receive a big salary slash this winter because of his poor record this season? I think not Just look at what he did for the Dodgers while they were making the stretch run, four straight victories and some of the best pitching he's ever done. A good se-

AUSA Group Returns Home From Confab

Local area delegates to the annual meeting of the Asso-ciation of the U. S. Army (AUSA) in Washington, D.C., returned yesterday with a few inches added to their chests because of the laurels in their pockets.

National attention was for cused on the Columbus-Phe-nix City-Fort Benning Chap-ter at the three-day event.

Over 4,000 representative of the 119 AUSA chapter throughout the U.S. and ov throughout the U.S. and ov-erseas commands, applauded the local contingent as it re-ceived top honors as the largest chapter in AUSA history, plus a number of other tion awards in other cate-

When the Veteran's Readjustment Benefits Act of 1966, more familiarly known as the Cold War GI Bill, was passed, much emphasis was given to the educational benefits it pro-

This emphasis is quite proper. The educational provisions of the bill are available to all servicemen with two years active duty and to veterans with service after Jan. 31, 1955. Hence these benefits are ones which probably will be enjoyed by the most people.

However, there are many other provisions in the bill - benefits that many servicemen could well use but might let slip by because they aren't aware of them.

One other benefit that is available, right now, to active duty personnel, is the home and farm loan provision—a mighty important bene-fit for servicemen seeking a home in this day of high mortgage rates and generally "tight"

Most of the other benefits are primarily aimed at veterans, but it will pay the serviceman on active duty to be checked out on them now. Then, when his time in service is over, he will be fully equipped to take advantage of all the benefits he has earned.

Among the other benefits are job counselling and job placement, federal employment preference, VA medical care, burial flags and important changes to the Soldier's and Sailor's Civil Relief Act.

Details on each of these benefits are avail-Details on each of these penellis are available through educational channels at your place of duty or through the VA. Find out about them now. (AFNB)

How important is your newspaper to you?

Do you depend upon the business and finance pages for buying and selling decisions? Do you need the complete weather reports and weather maps for planting and harvesting? Do you want to know who's getting married, who died, what "Dear Abby" has to say, what stands are being taken on the editorial pages, what Blondie said to Dagwood? Are you interested in new recipes and household hints? In short, do you want to know?

Without a newspaper, you'd be faced with a thousand questions and no answers.

"No newspaper" means no source for complete details and explanations on bond issues, politics, the world situation, taxes, things coming to a vote. No entertainment guide, no movie schedules. No tv and radio program listings, no comics, no features, no crossword puzzles. No ads for housewives to shop. No prices to compare. No coupons. No paper to take along to the store. No crime reports to aid you and the police in the protection of your family and the community.

People hunting jobs and jobs hunting people would have no classified section to help them. People buying and selling houses and other real estate would be without their most important guide. Sports enthusiasts would lose their major source of information on where the fish are biting, when the Columbus Yankees will be playing at home and how they stand in the league . . . everything in the sports world from bowling to bowl games.

There is no effective substitute for a newspaper when you want to be fully informed. A newspaper guarantees your right to know.

By SGT MIKE FREDERICK

All sports fans know that to be a good fan they must always expect the unexpected and then be able to accept it. This is what the Dodger fans have just done.

The experts picked the Dodgers to win the Series. I had a feeling that they would sweep the Orioles four straight games much in the same fashion that they swept the Yan-

Somewhere along the line the master plan did not call for such things to occur. The series did end in four games for the Dodgers but not the way anyone expected it to.

The Dodgers were favored mainly on the basis of their strong pitching. Koufax, Drys-dale and company could give up one run a game and their offense led by Maury Wills could score two.

But things didn't happen this way. Sure the Bums got the expected good pitching after the first game, but the six errors that they committed in the second game did not help Sandy very much.

The Orioles were the team that got the superh pitching. We all know of the records that were set by their fine pitching staff. Well that is not all true. Throughout the series we only got to see four of their pitchers. After first game their bullpen was filled with

On the other hand the Orioles offense was somewhat stopped by the Dodgers as attested to by their .200 team batting average. But they got the big hit when it was needed (home runs by Paul Blair and Frank Robinson).

I feel that a realignment of the current sentiment that feels that the National League is stronger than the American League is necessary. The earned run averages of the pitchthe AL were much lower than those Batting averages in the AL were also lower as evidenced by the fact that Frank Robinson and Tony Oliva were the only regulars to hit over 300. In the NL there were ten batters with better than a .300 average.

This evidence plus the fact that the Orioles stood the Dodgers on their ears in the Series makes such a thing possible. The NL might have the most outstanding players such as Koufax or Marichal or Mays or Aaron but the way things look now the AL bas much more depth.

Most of the AL clubs are a stronger 25-man contingent. Even though the Dodgers had to fight for the pennant up to the last day of the season and the Orioles breezed to the flag, the AL teams from top to bottom are more evenly matched. The conclusion drawn here is that the Yankees and Red Sox field a better ball club than the Cubs and Mets do

But back to the series. Sport magazine awarded the Corvette to Frank Robinson for being the outstanding player of the series. It was a tough decision as all four of the Oriole pitchers pitched one great game apiece. But Frank did hit two home runs, one of which won the fourth game for them.

Because of the pitching Baltimore received. Stu Miller and Eddie Fisher never got into a game. It would have been interesting to see how the Dodger hitters (a privation in this case) would have fared.

In the end though Willie Davis was sort of a hero because of the fine leaping catch he made of Boog Powell's bid for a homer.

The Dodgers played the series just as they played the entire season. They received good pitching but no hitting. The Orioles did just the opposite. For a team with supposedly poor pitching and great hitting they certainly fooled everybody.

The hope of the UN

Twenty-one years is a short span of life for a group of nations to make significant progress on a myriad of problems facing mankind. But this is what the 121 members of the United Nations -- the most influential international organization ever known - are achieving.

October 24 has been proclaimed United Nations Day MOST IMPORTANT, if to observe the date in 1945 when the U. N. Charter took you lose a credit card, re-port the loss immediately by phone or telegram to the Fifty nations were members of the United Nations at that time. It is eminent to note that the desire since then of 68 other nations to join the world body is a tribute not only to the principles of that charter, but to the ideals expressed by the Founding Fathers of the

At the core of the charter lies a passage resembling the language of our Declaration of Independence and the Bill of Rights. The United Nations resolves that its memhers will defend "life, liberty, independence and religious freedom, and preserve human rights and justiee." The charter's preamble includes principles embraced by America's objectives: to save succeeding generations from war, to respect international obligations and promote better standards of life for all peoples,

Behind the United Nations' peacekeeping efforts, which have acted to end international strife more than 50 times since 1945, are its day-to-day activities which rarely make headlines. The U.N. is attacking man's oldest enemies - hunger, disease and ignorance

The influence of the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization (UNESCO) is felt from its reclamation of arid lands in India to its teacher-training program in the United Arah Republic. The World Health Organization conducts a vigorous program everywhere to control illness, reduce water and air pol-

The Food and Agriculture Organization has played a major role in raising the per capita agricultural production of the world, except in the Communist portion of Asia, by 10 per cent since World War II. Another U.N. body, the International Court of Justice, rates special note. Although no nation is forced to submit an international dispute to the Court for arbitration, almost 50 nations, including the United States, have done so

The United Nations looks for a better world for everyone by issuing a formula of patience, prudence and diplomacy; providing a forum for statesmen to air their grievances; and expanding human rights and improv-ing human welfare. Then there is the man

We are most concerned about the patient who has no complaint other than a sore throat. He often complains that it is painful swallow, and he cannot eat or drink. This patient usually will bave a fever of 100 degrees or more. When we examine him, we find that his throat is red, and his tonsils, if they have not been removed are often enlarged. Frequently, we will see patches of pus on the tonsils or in the throat. Many times the glands in the neck are swollen and quite tender when they are touched. This is the pic-ture of the "strep" throat.

The organism that cause all this discomfort is a small bacteria known as the streptococcus. You will notice that the doctor often swabs your throat with a cotton - tipped applicator when you have a sore throat. This swab is then sent to the bacteriology lab-oratory where it is tested for the presence of the "strep" organism. It is not only the fact that "strep" is present that is import-ant, but the type of "strep" is of equal importance, Medically the most impor-tant type is known as Group A, Betahemolytic

When the doctor ex amines your throat, it is sometimes difficult to determine if your sore throat is due to "strep" or to a vi-rus. When "strep" is present as determined by labor ent as determined by labor-atory test, treatment is be-gun with an appropriate antibiotic. However, if it is determined that the sore throat is caused by a vi-

The World champion Boston Celtics started the season on a winning note for both their new coach, Bill Russell and for their new general manager. Red Averbach

The Celtics are still the team to beat. They came up with reinforcements for their bench during the off season when they talked Wayne Embry out of retirement and acquired Bailey Howell from the Baltimore Bullets for Counts. Both Embry and Howell are proven NBA stars and Counts had yet to establish himself in the league.

The Philadelphia 76ers won the divisional championship last year but the Celts were able to cool them off in the playoffs. As a result they fired Dolph Schayes and brought on Alex Hannum as their coach. They still don't measure up to the Celtics even though they have Mr. Offense, Wilt Chamberlain. They should finish a distant second in the

The Cincinnati Royals and the New York Knickerbockers along with the 76ers should be grouped real close together in the league standings. The Royals still have the great Os-car Robinson but not much more. With Wayne Embry gone they don't have an established

The Knicks look like they could have their first decent team in many years. Cazzie Rus-sell will really help them and Willis Reed and Dick Van Arsdale will start maturing. And don't forget Walt Bellamy.

Despite Don Ohl's offensive efforts, the Baltimore Bullets will finish last now that they are in the eastern division.

Once again this year it should be a tight race in the Western Division of the league.

The Los Angeles Lakers should win the division title but it should be harder for them to do. Elgin Baylor is getting older and Jerry West is hurting physically.

It will be a tossup for the next three posi-tions in the division. The St. Louis Hawks have Lenny Wilkens and Zelmo Beaty but not much more. The San Francisco Warriors traded Guy Rodgers one of the league's finest backcourtmen and got little in return. Rick Barry should have even a better season this year than he had as a rookie last year. Nate Thurmond is an adequate center. The Detroit Pistons will be improved most by the fact that Reggie Harding has rejoined the team after a one vear suspension.

The division has an expansion team this year, the Chicago Bulls. They will be lucky if they can win 20 games. Guy Rodgers will help get the team started.

ing trouble with any of the league. Even if a disaster happens such as an initial such as disaster happens such as an injury to a key player the Celts have enough bench strength to whip the rest of the league.

The Dodgers cannot with a clear conscience call Dick Stuart "stone-fingers" any-noore. He wasn't even playing in the world series game in which the Dodgers com-mitted six errors. One additional post mortem on the series. I wonder what the eventual outcome would have been if Sandy Koufax had started the first game of the series. I think that the Orioles received a big psychological lift when Don Drysdale started the first game. The lift was so hig that it just happen-ed to carry them through the series with an unblemished record.

The Atlanta Falcons suffered the worst defeat of their young life last Sunday at the hands of the San Francisco 49ers. In previous games they played decent ball for the first quarters and then proceeded to fall apart in the last quarter. Last week they were disorganized for the whole game.

The Story of RICHARD NOTT ANTRIM, Commander, U.S. Navy

"For conspicuous gallantry and intropidity at the risk of his life above and beyond the call of duty while interned as a prisoner of war of the enemy Japanese in the city of Makassar, Celebes, Netherlands, East Indies, in April 1942, Richard Nott Antrim was awarded the Congressional Medal of Honor.

"Acting instantly on behalf of a naval officer who was subjected to a vicious clubbing by fronzied Japanese goard venting his insune wrath upon the helpless prisoner, Commander (then Lieutenant) Antrim boldly intervened, attempting to quiet the goard and finally persuading him to discuss the charges against the officer. With the entire Japanese force assembled and moking extraordinary preparations for the threatened beating, and with the tension heightened by 2,700 affied prisoners closing in, Commander Autrina courageously appealed to the fanatic enemy, risking his own life in a desperate effort to mitigate the punishment.

"When the other had been beaten unconscious by 15 blows of a howser and was repeatedly kicked by three soldiers to a point beyond which he could not survive, Communder Antrim gallantly stepped forward and indicated to the perplexed guards that he would take the remainder of the punishment, throwing the Japanese completely off balance in their amazement and eliciting a roor of acclaim from the suddenly inspired Allied prisoners.

"By his fearless leadership and valiant concern for the welfare of another, he not only saved the life of a fellow officer and stunned the Japanese into sparing his own life, but also brought about a new respect for American officers and mee

Postage Brainstorms

Suggested designs for new postage stamps pour into the Postmaster General's office at a lively clip, about 1,500 a year. Here are some amusing gems; A 16-year old boy had an idea for ending poverty in Appalachia. He suggested printing a few thousand stamps with deliberate errors, thus making them quite valuable to philatelists. The stamps would them quite valuable to punateurs. The stamps would be sold for 5¢ each to people living in Appalachia, who in turn would resell them to wealthy stamp collectors for $1,000 to $10,000. This would cure

A woman suggested an upside-down-proof stamp a jumble of geometric patterns that would look the same rightside-up or upside-down. The woman contended that people waste priceious seconds plac-ing conventional stamps rightside-up on envelopes. Her stamp would save time.

Another person suggested a series of stamps fea-turing pictures of the ten men most wanted by the F.B.I. . . . as a crime deterrent.

Some intriguing ideas include a stamp to commemorate Subway Rush Hour in New York, Centenary of the First Chop Suey Dinner Served in San Francisco, 75th Anniversary of the First Hot Dog On Roll, Champion Hog Caller, and a stamp honoring the Hamburger Sandwich.

Finally, there's the man who suggested a postage stamp honoring the man who suggested a possage of the year—and since the stamp was his idea, obvi-ously he should be selected for the first "best idea" man to be so bonored.

Coughing in the body's named continue for graing below coughing saids appear. It tracks to fact a long unwanted selectances out of the throat and lungs, just as sneezing is the normal reaction for blowing irritants out of the nose. But it's important to be able to distinguish among various kinds of coughs, their causes and treatments.

One of the most frequent causes of persistent coughing is a chronic discharge of muons and pus from the back of the nose (post-nasal drip) which triggers off an irritating cough when you lie down.

Doctors use various treatments to clear up this con-

Coughs may also be due to allergies of various kinds. The rictim may be allergic to common house dust, some other inhalant, or to certain foods. If he comes in contact with the substance, the bronchial tubes contract or go into spasms and hreathing be-comes difficult. The body tries to get rid of obstructive mucus that forms, hence the cough.

In children, a stubhorn, recurrent cough may be the main, or even the only, manifestation of bronchial asthma. Croup, primarily a disease of very young children, is signaled by a harsh, hoarse, barking cough which usually comes on suddenly at night. Warm, moist air is the emergency treatment for this; an electric vaporizer may just do the trick. Or the child may be taken into a hathroom steamed up by turning on the hot water in the tub or shower.

Whooping cough today is often hard to recognize because immunization tends to make milder any cases it does not entirely prevent. It comes on slowly; the incubation period lasts from two to fourteen days time and exhaustion may be one of its dangers; another is the possible development of pneumonia. Early immunization against it is therefore desirable.

All too familiar to both children and adults is the An too sammar to non contaren and adults as the dry, hacking cough that frequently comes with the common cold. Often this type of cough is accompanied by hoarseness and difficult swallowing, as if the cold sufferer didn't already have enough trouble with his sneezing, stuffy nose and watery eyes!

How do you distinguish a "common garden vari-ety" cough from one that needs a doctor's attention? ety cough from one that needs a doctor's attention.

If you start coughing up rust-colored material, don't attempt to medicate your cough; call your doctor promptly. If a cough seems to hang on and on, don't just tolerate it and don't pin on a conventional label such as "cigarette cough." The safest rule is to investigate the source of any cough which persists.

Some coughs however, may have emotional rather than physical causes. Dr. Sydney Green, child analyst, says that coughs which don't stem from organic yet, says mat coughs which don't stem from organic problems may be attention getting mechanisms or an established habit which arises from the cougher's catalisated mann waren arises from the cougher's inability to handle some long-standing emotional conflict. But don't play psychiatrist and decide that your cough or your child's must be psychosomatic. Get a medical man's expert opinion.

Next time you develop a cough, don't hem and haw. Determine what's causing it and begin treatment immediately; the discomfort and inconvenience of a cough is something no sensible person should swallow

If you can trust us with your appendix, you can trust us with your beard.

The same people who make Personna stainless steel razor blades also make surgical blades.

More stainless steel surgical blades than anyone in the United States. And, oh, are those surgeons fussy.

The teeniest, weeniest imperfection in a blade and you can feel the ground shake from here to Kookamonga Medical School.

We formed the habit of making surgical blades one way, and one way only.

Flawlessly.

And we make our new super stainless razor blades the same way If you like the shave we give you, just chalk it up to our experience with your appendix.

Does a girl go with every can of New Improved Rapid Shave?

No, but girls certainly go for the men who use it. They notice how smooth and inviting it leaves a man's face. And no wonder. Rapid Shave has a great new formula which combines a really rich, creamy lather and 17 beard softeners—all working double-time to give those tough G.I. beards the closest, smoothest shaves, you've ever seen. Ask for new invproved Rapid Shave at your PX, now in three formulas: Regular, cooling Menthol, and exciting new Lime, the tangy fragrance that makes shaving a tropical breeze.

Continental Army Chief Plans Short Visit Here

General Paul L. Freeman Jr., commanding general of the U.S. Continental Army Command (CONARC), will arrive at Fort Benning Tuesday to follow a two-and-a-half

While here, the four-star commander will while here, the lour-star commander win review the installation's projects and pro-grams, status of training of the 194h Light Infantry Brigade and facilities and proce-dures at the Army Training Center.

General Freeman also will visit with the 10th Aviation Group for briefings and a demonstration of methods of moving artillery.

Before his departure Thursday, he will journey to Hook Range for orientation and ob-servation of factics and special weapons.

GEN. Freeman, who was Fort Benning commander and commandant of The Infantry School from May, 1958, until April, 1960, will be accorded ramp honors upon his arrival and departure at Lawson Army Airfield.

After leaving Fort Benning in April of 1960, he was assigned to CONARC at Fort Monroe, Va. and promoted to lieutenant general. He served as deputy commanding general for Reserve Forces. During part of this period he also commanded Joint Task Force Four, a joint planning headquarters under CINCLANT.

He returned to Europe in May, 1962, was promoted to general and became commander in chief of U.S. Army Europe, and concurrent-ly commander of NATO's Central Army

In April, 1965, General Freeman became commanding general of CONARC at Fort Monroe.

In a ceremony at the bat-tallon headquarters, COL Ned B. Mabry, commanding offi-cer of The Student Brigade, presented the 5 x 8-foot flag to LTC Martin J. Slominski, battalion commander.

The battalion qualified for the award in August after 964 of 1025 assigned officers, enlisted men and civilians were counted as having invested in Savings Bonds. The figure gave the 2nd Battalion a 94 per cent participa

There will be a change in the billing procedures this year. Calls will be initiated overseas and placed on a col-lect at home basis. The CWA will reimburse the families for the charges.

Servicemen overseas who are selected by the USO and the local military command-ers to make calls will be responsible for alerting their families in the U. S. of the approximate time and date when the call will be made. Stateside families alloted free calls by CWA local unions will be responsible for notifying their servicemen overseas when to place the col-lect calls. The servicemen will be responsible for noti fying his commander.

This Is War--Viet Nam 1966

By JULIAN MARBUT

A war has many faces.

The one in Viet Nam is no different. Hap-piness, grief, fear and anxiety.

There is no question as to why we are there. American soldiers know the answer and they are giving their lives daily for the pro-tection and defense of freedom.

Quoting a famous saying, "A Picture Is Worth A Thousand Words," on these two pages are scenes of the 173rd Airborne Brigade (Separate) during operations "Robin" and "Toledo", concluded recently.

The American soldere work is not only fighting the Viet Cong, but roceting friendly villagers and spreading the dom's sake. Men in all fields are fighting for sake. Men in all fields are fighting for the same goal, the protection of the fighting for correction of the fighting for what is right. Although it is a bard war, if it had to be done over again the American fighting man would not let the cause of freedom down. They would again volunteer to defend the rights of men.

From Valley Forge and the spirit of '76 to the rice paddies of Viet Nam and the spirit of '65, the theme hasn't changed and the courage of our fighting men remains the God bless the thousands of American servicemen that are willing to give their lives for the principles of freedom.

hit by a Viet Cong bullet while piloting a belicopter on a rescue mission?

An answer is given in a framatic story in the November issue of the U.S. ARMY AVIATION DIGEST. Major Red Raider (the author wishes to remain aconymous) tells his innermost thoughts as he looks down at his shattered arm. His thoughts will surprise you. In another story from Viet Nam "Smoky," (not the bear), "The Wrecker," "Loudmouth," and several "Doctors" gang up to help "Doctors" gang up to help ARVN troops rescue five U.S. Army advisors being held by the VC. For old "China Hands"

there is a story about BUF-Big Ugly Fellow. Igor's CH-37 was the first of its kind and proved that the beliconte recover cle the armed service had been waiting for. Now BUF is being put out to pas-ture, but it will never he forgotten by those who flew her. The AVIATION DIGEST says "Bye Bye Buf" in four languages. There are many other inter esting stories in the Novem-her issue of the U.S. ARMY AVIATION DIGEST. "Le-ber's Cigarette," "The Tacber's Cigarette," "The Ta-tical Instrument Ticket. 'Maintenance A Go - Go "Dats'a Good'a Pizza" the others make it a rounded issue.

Why Can't the South See NCAA's Best?

BY JULIAN MARBUT

Why can't the South see the best of the televised NCAA football games?

Now don't get me wrong. I'm an SEC fan all the way and would prefer anyday to see Tech play Bama or perhaps Tennessee against Florida. But look at what we get!

I'm not criticizing the caliber of play in, say, the Southwest Conference or the Atlantic Coast, but WHO wants to see Virginia Military Institute play the Cannon Ball Eight of

Taking a look at fact, let's journey back

The citizens of the Georgia - Alabama-Florida area were subjected to the Clemson-Duke game while the majority of the nation enjoyed nationally ranked Arkansas against also nationally ranked (at the time) Texas

The following week, October 22, brought to this area the unfortunate teams of Texas A&M and Baylor in a Southwest Conference struggle. To Westerners this was fine, but most other football fans were viewing the great battle of the Big Ten in the nationally ranked Michigan State Purdue contest. Why are Southern football enthusiasts subjected to these "inferior games when others (most) are not?

The people of the city of Atlanta (Ga.) didn't put up with it. The American Broadcasting Company in Atlanta shunned the less exciting Baylor - A&M game and televised the Spartans and Boilermakers.

Spartans and Boilermakers.
What is even a more upsetting problem is the ABC schedule for November 19. People up North will see the greatest football doubleheader in years as top ranked Notre Dame vies with second ranked Michigan State in probably THE legiate Championship. As an added extra, immediately after that game, most everyone will see third and fifth ranked Southern Cal and U.C.L.A.

Although ABC will beam an SEC contest (Kentucky versus Tennessee), who are they Sure we'd like to see the SEC game, but not when the greatest doubleheader in a decade will be shown at the same time!

One INTERESTED Southern citizen, Mr. S. Robert Tralins, has actually filed suit in U.S. Federal District Court against the Federal Communications Commission

Tralins asked the court to make the American Broadcasting System put on the "good" teams November 19

The Southern sports fan should rise up in protest, write the networks, television stations and anybody connected, and let them know where we stand. It POSSIBLY could be that the program directors are misinformed and think that we would rather see the "other" games. My letter is in the mail already!

RORROW FROM YOUR KIND OF PEOPLE

Starting a home...or replacing furniture worn threadbare by your ever-lovin' kids? We've been through it... we're your kind of people at frameful house?

Acuse!

Buy what you want... where you get the best huy, with financial house money. A local family used $530.09... and are paying sensible $50 payments for 24 months, including Credit Life Insurance.

Why put off things you want? Just call us...or come in ... otday!

You'll find your kind of people at Tinancial house A BIVISION OF INTERSTATE SECURITIES COM

MG Williamson also expressed two of the out-standing reasons for the standing reasons for the great success of the Ameri-can soldier in Viet Nam. First, he said, is the fact that they are better in-formed than ever before. The soldier knows better than ever what to expect.

Another important con-sideration, he thinks, is the obvious appreciation of the local people and the man-ner in which they receive the Americans. The results of their efforts can be seen quickly.

The crucial matter of attitude came up again when the general was questioned about his personal goals for himself in his new job at Fort Polk

Fort Polk.

"II I can just live up to one thing that I feel so strongly — and that's to give the man the proper attitude before he gaes over there to do his job — if I can just help them go over there with the real desire to do well, I think that will be a contribution to our young, people." young, people."

"small print" in contracts "small print" in contracts.
Not only do a majority of persons not bother to read the small print in a contract, but don't read even the large print. It appears that a good proportion of those who bother to read their contracts before signing them don't un-derstand what the contract says. Instead they rely solely on the oral promises and interpretations of the seller or his representatives. It's only after the con-tract is signed, when some-thing goes wrong, that Mr. Buyer finally awakens from his pleasant dreams that "the nice salesman guaranteed that the car is in A-1 condition" and comes to see a lawver. In most cases, at this stage of the game, it's too late to provide effective relief.

By far, the biggest prob-lem areas in the performance of contracts arise out of those provisions deal-ing with "warranties." Us-ually Private Jones, being the astute man of the world that he is asks the friend. signs on the dotted line for that "beautiful, clean cream-puff of a 1951 Bat-

"All warranties and guar-antees, express or implied, other than those expressly stated in this contract are hereby waived." Jones then goes to see his Sol-diers' Advocate to get him out of this mess. Much to his chargrin, Jones is told that, at this stage of the game, little can be done for him.

He's over 21 years of have understood the provi-sions of the contract. In the absence of out and out fraud, which is extremely difficult to prove, Jones is told that be's learned a very expensive lesson — and sometimes later events prove that even this unpleasant benefit hasn't

This week we have a very important amouncement to make about Army Community Service.

It is important because it means that ACS is become service of the committee. The club means that ACS is become service of the committee are open ped to provide guidance, in early other committees are open ped to provide guidance, in the army wire. If you formation and assistance to military plersonnel and their families.

Invitations have been is lettered to request Army wive in minuty Service is for YOU.

my Community Service ori-entation at 9:30 a.m. Wednesday in Building 5.

The purpose of the orientation is to give prospective volunteers overall knowledge of the services available at Fort Benning through the various staff sections, and to confirm committee assign-ments, training dates and hours of duty.

As you know, volunteers are engaged in office work on the administrative committee, on call as part of the emergency and transporta-tion committee, and hard at work on the public relations committee. In the process of being formed is the casualty assistance committee, whose duties will be so important. If you feel qualified in any of these areas, call 545-7813 so that you will be scheduled for the orientation.

President Has Praise For U.S. Servicemen

President Lyndon B. Johnson, during his recent visit to Cam Ranh Bay in the Republic of Viet Nam, awarded the Distinguished Service Medal to General W. C. Westmoreland, commanding general of the Allied Forces.

(Excerpts from the President's speech before U.S. servicemen:)

"I came here today for one good purpose, to tell you and through you to tell every soldier, sailor, airman and marine in Viet Nam how proud we are of what you are doing and how proud we are of the way you are doing it,

"I came here today with only one regret: that I could not begin to personally thank ev-ery man in Viet Nam for what he is doing.

"You know what you are fighting for: to give the Vietnamese people a chance to build a kind of nation that they want—free from terror, free from intimidation, free from fear.

"I do not have to tell you that this is a tough battle. But from the first day, you have shown that you are up to the job.

"I cannot decorate each of you, but I cannot visualize a better decoration for any of you to have than to know that this great solyou to have than to know that this great solder (General Westmoreland) thinks that you are the best prepared, that you are the best prepared, that you are the the prepared that you know what you are doing and why you are doing it. No American ican army in all our long history has ever been so compassionate.

"Make no mistake about it: the American people whom you serve are proud of you. I give you my pledge we shall never let you down . . . nor the hundreds of millions of Asians who are counting on us to show here in nor the hundreds of millions of Viet Nam that aggression does not pay and that aggression cannot succeed

'One day when (our Vietnamese friends) know peace, the whole world will acknowledge that what you have done here was worth the

"One of your number has been working longer than most and harder than most to speed that day along. In decorating him today we honor all the men in all the services. It gives me great pleasure to award your gallant commander, General Westmoreland, the Distinguished Service Medal for his courage, for his leadership, for his determination, and for his great ability as a soldier and as a

"American fighting men, I salute you. We know you are going to get the job done. "And soon, when peace can come to the world, we will receive you back in your homeland with open arms, with great pride and with great thanks." (ANF)

Spartans' Defense Too Much for Irish

BY SP5 JOE HUTTIE

With the annual collegiate gridiron war drawing ever closer to its New Year's Day finale the Tuesday (National Rating Day) arguments seem to grow in both ferociousness and accuracy as the weekday quarterbacks emerge with more and more ammunition each week.

However, most true football fans will have to agree that a great deal of the season - long bantering will close out on November 19 when the "Eighting Irish" of Notre Dame take on the "Spartans" of Michigan State in a brutal battle that some grid experts claim will be the greatest collegiate contest ever, Both Notre Dame and Michigan State should enter the game sporting undefeated records with Notre Dame clinging to its number one rating and Michigan State clawing close hehind in the number two slot. and tremendous speed for a big man 64", 205.

Michigan State's QB Jimmy Raye is more than adequate as a passer and seems to have a coolness under fire that his fellow players are quick to lean on. However, don't write State's Gene Washington, 6'3", 217 pounds, is ripping off the line of scrimmage. Washington destroys myth existing about big, slow Big Tenners as he is the current Big Ten hurdles champion.

Just as the edge must go to Notre Dame in passing it must go to Michigan State in rushing. All-Americans Clinton Jones, 6'2", 206 pounds, and Bob Apisa, 6'1", 215, are two of the best. Although Notre Dame's Nick Eddy and Larry Conjar also have the pro scouts drooling.

Even though most fans point to the offensive units of these two clubs as the keys to their attacks it will probably be the defense that decides the November 19 victor.

Notre Dame's defensive wall headed by 6'5"

Kevin Hardy (270 pounds) makes one wonder just how anyone can run against the Irish. Mobile, huge, with tremendous pursuit—that's the

However, the real surprise in this anxious-ly awaited contest could be the Michigan State defensive secondary. Jesse Phillips, Jim Summers and Jerry Jones give it blinding speed.
This could be the factor that leads to Notre Dame's downfall, for thus far this season no one has been able to contain the sprinter's speed of Seymour who is almost always wide open. Michigan State has the potential quickness to accomplish the task and that's why the slant in the Spartan's direction from this corner. But then we will just have to sit back and wait until November 19 when it will all be decided. Too bad we won't get to see the tilt first hand on tubesville but then I don't imagine all those radio sponsors will mind too much.

Army Gets More Chow Next July

By Army Times

WASHINGTON - Beginning next July, Army enlisted men will be getting bigger meals.

That's when both the Army and the Air Force are expect-ed to switch over to the ra-tion size used by the Navy.

The Navy man, for example, is supposed to get 20 ounces of meat a day while men in other services get only 18.

The Navy egg ration is higher too In fact, the rations are similar only in three items, coffee milk and flour. The change will come about by executive order. The No. vy ration is now fixed by law and the Army and Air Force rations are fixed by executive Officials-at Defense's new Directorate For Food Services hope to get the execu-tive order changed so that it will read the same as the Navy law. Their target date Navy law. is July 1.

COMING NOVEMBER 17. Buick's '67 OPEL Kadett ...

... the Big Surprise With A Little Price! If this year is anything like 1966, you're going to have to hurry to get your look at Buick's '67 Opel Kadetts. That's because Opel popularity has been sweeping America. This year twice as many Opel Kadetts were said in this country as the year before. And Opel is still General Motor's lowest-priced car. It still has more than 1200 Buick-Opel dealers ready to take care of it. (No other import car has as many parts and service facilities.) It's still downright fun to drive, and it still ... runs on peanuts. Check all of the Opel beauties ... a family sized station wagon, two 2-door sedans

"Your BUICK—CADILLAC—OPEL Dealer"

Lieutenant Wins Medal of Honor

The Medal of Honor, the nation's highest decoration for valor, was awarded Wednes-day to 1LT Walter J. Marm Jr., assigned to the Ranger Dept. of the Infantry School.

President Johnson signed his approval of the award in his hospital bed in Maryland.

The lieutenant, who will be 25-years-old November 20, is the fourth officer now at Fort Benning to receive the Medal of Honor.

He won the decoration for beroism in Viet Nam on Nov communist machinegun nes alone, and although wound-ed, destroyed it and killed a number of enemy soldiers. command.

Influenza is a debilitating disease that frequently leaves the affected individual vulnerable to serious secondary infection, usually

We are in the season in which influenza and pneumonia take their heaviest toll (November through March). Approximately 80 per cent of the influenza and pneumonia deaths usu-ally occur during this five month period. There is a great deal of evidence accumulated in sup-port of the statement that immunization against influenza can materially reduce the incidence of influenza cases and thereby reduce both influenza and pneumonia deaths.

In accordance with army regulation, poly-valent influenza vaccine will be administered during October to all military personnel on active duty with the exception of those who have had this immunization during the previous 11 months, or who have a well documented history of allergy to eggs or chickens. In addition the vaccine will be made available to all military dependents above the age of 6-years on a voluntary basis. All military personnel will receive their immunization through their regular dispensaries, Dependents may receive the vaccine at the Depedents' Immunization Clinic in Building 323 on Monday, Tuesday, Thursday and Friday from 8-11 a.m. and from 1-4 p.m.

It is important to note that the nature of the disease is such that immunization, if it is to be at all effective, must be received in advance of the control of the contro vance of any epidemic situation. Once an epi-demic is established the influenza vaccine will not be of significant value.

Therefore, in addition to reminding all military personniel on active duty of the requirement which they have to receive the influenza weether in them, they are to particularly harmful to ment which they have to receive the influenza international to deay. President Signs RVN Leave Reg

From Army Times

WASHINGTON - Libera Viet Nam leave regulations were put into effect by the Pentagon this week after the President signed into law a measure giving 30 days at home to any man who ex-tends his Viet Nam tour for at least six months.

The government will pick up the travel tab, and those taking the special leave can go anywhere in the free world. It makes no difference to the government if the man wants to live it up in Paris or visit the folks in Punssatawney, Pa.

It was one of several meas ures approved by the Presi-dent shortly before he left Washington for his Texas ranch prior to undergoing other measures signed by law to speed mail to and from all posts overseas, and tax breek to military officers on duty in Viet Nam.

Planted Question: Where is the center of football power in these United States?

Unequivocal Answer. Beyond reasonable doubt, it lies within that assembly of the mighty known as The Southeastern Conference.

There. That should make me buddy McNulcher and Market has been should make this, see, McNulty and the professional type of offense. There. That should make the buddy Markun-ty sure and mad. It's like this, see, McNulty and I, we've got a lot of things in common. We're I, we've got a lot of things in common. We're both boney Irishmen, newspapermen by trade helfore the draft made soldiers of us, and we suffered the rigors of basic in the same platoon. But, when it comes to football. I beg to discussion that the same platoon agree with McNulty, and he with me. Violent disagreement at times.

Which leads us now to the subject at hand:

McNulty, being a Clevelander, naturally does not subscribe to the belief that The Game attains its apex in Dixie. Since I'm a Georgiaborn Floridian, ah natcher'ly do. Regionalism rears its head rears its nead.

Because sectionalism figures so strongly here, perhaps some underhanded tactics are in order. So, I'll take the liberty to quote extensively from Time Magazine, that distinguished journal of Eastern, or if you will, Yankee, thought.

It's an admission I'll be quoting, an admission from a magazine that traditionally reserves its famous front for a football theme once a its famous front for a 100toni ineme once year, with the cover boy almost invariably clad in Notre Dame blue and gold, Michigan State rently in training with the unit is Jeff I. "SEC coaches admit that their athletic scholarship policies are the most liberal in the country. . Not that SEC schools pay more; country. . Not that SEC schools pay more; they offer the usual free ride: room, board, tuition and textbooks, plus $10 per month 'laundry money.' They just spend more. Alabama, for instance, awards 120 football scholarships a year, compared with a maximum of 35 for Notre Dame. SEC recruiting is also tremendously polished...

"With all that going on, chances are good that there is another Y. A. Tittle or Bart Starr somewhere down South this year. The pros al-ready think they have spotted one: Florida's Steve Spurrier.

To make a short story shorter, Time went on to discuss Great Gator's impending $500,000 pact with the New York Giants, and mentioned, in passing, another superSECman, Tennessee quarterback Dewey Warren.

Now, to close on a further note of partisan-

CLIP AND SAVE THESE CONVENIENT TV LOG PAGES . . . COMPLETE WEEKLY SCHEDULES FOR BOTH TV STATIONS!

We're running a half-price sale on Christmas greetings... in your home town.

If you can get away this Christmas, get on TWA. We'll cut the fare in half if you wear your uniform and show your orders when you buy you ticket and when you travel. You'll fly Jet Coach on a standby basis. It's only November now, so you have plenty of time to figure out how good a deal it is in saving time and money. It's like getting a longer leave-you'll be home in hours instead of days. This year, give yourself and your family the best gift of the season. You.

P.S. Don't forget this offer is good for New Year's travel too!

Contact your JAMTO or your nearest TWA office.

to the "Mary Celeste"?

A ghost ship floundering aimlessly in the mid-Atlantic. A sword lying under the captain's berth. The ship's log open in the mate's cabin. The compass and running rigging destroyed. The cargo of 1,700 harrels of alcohol—all except eight eaking barrels—still intact. More than three feet of water in the hold. The ship's small boat gone. And all eight crew mem-bers and two passengers - one the captain's two year-old daughter - missing.

This was the baffling discovery made some 400 miles off the Azores by the British vessel "Dei Gratia" on December 4.

The derelict ship, yawing and under very short canvas, was the ill-fated brigantine "Mary Celeste." Over the past nine decades, hundreds of conjectures, rumors and theories. have arisen concerning the fate of the Mary Celeste's crew. Yet to this date, the disappearance of the ten people remains one of history's classic mysteries.

The Mary Celeste left New York barbor on November 7. 1872, according to the famed "disaster books" of the Atlantic Mutual Insurance Company. The books also note that during the closing months of 1872, the Atlantic Ocean was unusually tempestuous. Very heavy seas and winds of gale force buffeted ships unmercifully.

Captained by Benjamin S. Briggs, the Mary Celeste's des-tination was Genoa, Italy. Aboard were the Captain's wife. Sarah Elizabeth, and their infant daughter, Sophia Matilda.

For almost a month the 282-ton Mary Celeste was out of touch with civilization when it was sighted apparently in distress by the "Dei Gratis."

Viewing the derelict ship through his spyglass, Captain-David Morchouse of the "Dei Gratia" saw only a deck de-serted of life. The "Dei Gratia" pulled near the drifting "Mary Celeste" and Morehouse "spoke" to her. When he received no response, Morehouse ordered two of his crew to hoard the

The boarding crew stepped into a bone-chilling mystery.

Not a soul was aboard. The captain's chronometer, sextant. havigation book, ship's register and other papers were missing.

Three-and-a-half feet of water was in the hold. The forward house was full of water and tons of water were between decks. Two was not on which and tons of water were network decks. Two of the Mary Science's sails bad been blown away along with some of the running rigging. But the men's clothing, boots and oil skins, even their pipes, had been left behind. All the captain's effects were on the ship. On the captain's bed, "there was the impression as of a child having lain there." A child's toys were also found in

On the log slate still lying on the cabin table, the following entry dated Monday, November 25, 1872, had been written ... "at 5 o'clock made the island of S. (Saint) Mary's bearing ESE. At 8 Eastern point hore SSW 6 milled distant."

These were the farewell words of the Mary Celeste. From November 25 to December 4, she had been a derelict, plaything of sea and wind and a hazard to ships at see. Curiously enough, despite her severe buffeting, the little brigantine was still quite seaworthy, "capable of sailing round the world." A six months supply of food and potable water

Eventually three Dei Gratia crewmen sailed the Mary Celeste to Gibraltar and Genoa.

Numerous theories have been advanced as to the late of the ten people aboard the Mary Celeste, theories ranging from mutiny and murder to the sudden appearance of an island from the Atlantic depths which lured the crew to their death.

More than nine decades have gone by since the crew and passengers of the Mary Celeste vanished into eternity, but the tragedy still grips the imagination. Scarcely a month goes by without new "evidence" concerning the fate of the unfortunate crew turning up. All data about the skip and in crew has been kept by the Atlantic Mutual, recearched and often reviewed. Yet to this day the inystery of the Mary Coleste remains as unfathomable as the see which swallowed up the ten victims.

Six bricks and a board in exchange for a bird cage. Did I come out on the short end at my Swap Party?

You probably have been guest or bostess at jewelry parties, plasticware parties, clothes parties, and so on, where the "guests" buy wares displayed by a visiting salesman or wom guests only wares unsprayed by a visuing satesman or wom-an. The hostess reaps a percentage or a gift for her part. A Swap Party, has no sponsoring company, or salesman. The guests excess or unwanted possessions, from abscuses to sithers, make up the merchandise. The initiative is supplied by an enthusiastic organizer, perhaps yourself.

The idea for such a party drifted into my thoughts as I sorted household furnishings for packing by the movers: Things To Move, Things To Throw Away, Things To Give Away. On several previous moves, the Things To Give Away bad gone by default to charitable organizations. But whoever said "Charity begins at home" is my boy. We may be living in an affluent society, but my budget at times has a non-affluent cast to it. The money going out exceeds the money coming in, and I look for practical, if selfish, solutions, I failed in my brief attempt to sell the Things To Give Away, so they moved with us at government expense to Washington, D.C.

When I eventually unpacked, this still unusable collection required several strenuous trips to the basement, where a small storage area was provided for each apartment tenant. I did not know my neighbors then, of course, but by inspect-ing their storage areas, bins enclosed on three sides by heavy chicken wire, I knew we were in the same boat-accumulating a multitude of items we rarely or never used.

To put my party plan into action, I invited the wives in my building to get-acquainted coffee, and inserted my Swap Party idea into the conversation.

In spite of a "Sounds great" and a "Let's give it a try" echoing in my ears, no one volunteered ber apartment so that we might view all the "unwanteds" in one location. I, at least, was too lazy to drag my property out into the yard, so I an-nounced that we would use the natural display areas prowided by the resident manager: our storage bins.

vided by the resident manager: our storage ours.

Each of us would fing (with red Christmas ribbon I donated) articles the would like to exchange, and would arrange them at the front of her him. During the next week, we would scout the bins, noting items we could use.

With lists of what we wanted to be rid of and mental notes on what we would like to own, we met a week later over second cups of coffee. Who would have the first chance to hid for items she liked? As members of this number-oriented society, we could do no less than draw-numbers. Low woman was first. Owners of the articles she sought could trade if they liked, or wait for a higher number who had something

Our neighborhood of transients declared the novel party a success, even though Fran's never-used casserole dish did end up unused in Gloria's bin. Gloria's lamp, however, has been revamped for Georgia's den, and Georgia's youngest has broken all but one of the tea cups from Martha's daughter's tea set. Best of all, the bricks and boards are now a stordy plant stand on my apartment balcony.

I do have mixed emotions about my hird cage, though, One emotion is envy. That Thing To Give Away became a Thing To Move, and left last week for Hawaii. THE PUZZLE CORNER Can you make these three triangles into a five-point star? It can be done! Just out out or trace the three figures along the heavy black lines and arrange them so that they make a perfect five-point star. Hint: The pieces can be placed on top

Why settle for less than a TRIPLE ACTION toothpaste?

Colgate with Gardol

- unsurpassed in reducing new cavities!
- tastes fresh and clean!
- helps stop bad breath!

Colgate is the largest selling anti-cavity toothpaste in the world. And for good reason. When dental scientists compared it with the well known fluoride brand, their published findings in the official Journal of the American Society of Dentistry for Children confirmed: Colgate unsurpassed in reducing new cavities!

And of course, everybody enjoys the Colgate taste. So fresh and clean, it encourages brushing as your dentist recommends. It helps stop bad breath too. So why settle for less. Get Colgate, the TRIPLE ACTION toothpaste. Colgate, the one that does it all!

Be a "one toothpaste family" with Colgate even if you are the whole family!

Presidential Message

President Johnson has issued a 1966 Thanksgiving Day proclamation stating, It behooves a grateful America to share its blessings with our brothers abroad, with those who have so little of the abundance that is

The proclamation states, "Never, in all the hundreds of Thanksgiving Days, has our nation possessed a greater abundance, not only of material things but of the precious intangibles that make life worth living."

tangibles that make life worth living."
Noting that we do not yet have peace in the world, President Johnson pointed out, "Our men are engaged to the world, have been on so many other Thankego inds, on a foreign field fighting for freedome to be thankful for their strength that has always kept our liberty secure. We can be thankful for our science and technology that helps to guard our America."

THANKSGIVING MESSAGE

For almost three and one-half centuries, Amerians have set aside a special day to give thanks to our country. This year, we again observe Thanks-giving in the traditional manner.

The occasion is a fitting one to rededicate our-selves to the preservation of those hard-earned free-doms which are our heritage. It is equally appropriate that we reaffirm our support for those who are defending these freedoms wherever they are in danger throughout the world.

On behalf of the Continental Army Command, I extend wishes for a happy Thanksgiving.

Defense Utilizes Civilian Colleges

WASHINGTON — Defense is going to make greater use — Roles and interrelation-ficer educational requireof civilian colleges and universities to give officers training in the hard sciences such as mathematics, phys-ics and engineering.

A review of education and training of officers conduct-ed by the office of the Assistant Secretary of Defense for Manpower showed that in the future the services are going to have a shortage officers trained in these sci-ences. The use of the civilian educational institutions will help plug the gap.

One thing the study dem-onstrated clearly was that the armed forces do much better in educating their ex-ecutives (officers than do business and industry. The 2nd Missile Bn. (Little John), 42nd Artillery, com-manded by LTC Herbert H. Martin, completed its final practice last week for the Army Training Test, sched uled for December 2-3.

Since this was the last or portunity prior to the real thing emphasis was concentrated on road movement all sections and defensimeasures enroute, effective communications between widely-spread firing sections and their support elements. and the firing of four Little John Rockets.

Performance of the Survey Communications, Meteorological, and Fire Direction Sections (FDC) of Headquarters Battery, commanded by CPT John A. Shiver, was well coordinated and functions smoothly, showing marked improvement over previous practices, great enthusiasm for this exercise and a readiness for the actual trial.

National ratings prove very little

I consider myself a football fan. . .tried and true. More than that I consider myself a red-necked, somewhat informed, argumentative, dedicated, sports fan.

I'm the kind of guy who will break into a cold sweat at the prospect of seeing the likes of Michigan State and Notre Dame on television. I have been known to lie awake nights replaying Green Bay's opening-day slaughter of the Baltimore Colts, while remembering an evening in which I saw, in person, the great Wilt Chamberlain in a no-holds-barred struggle with the Boston Celtics mammoth Bill Russell.

Thus, having made an honest attempt at proving my legitimacy as a sports fan, let me say that Tuesdays have just got to be the worst days of the month from September through January. For Tuesdays are rate the ratings days for football fans and huffons

The national ratings are older than most of Jack Benny's jokes and twice as bad. Last year Alabama graboff the national ratings championship by knocking off Nebraska while hungry UCLA embarrassed the mighty men of Michigan State.

This year Alabama once again has a shot at the mythical (I prefer to call it moronic) championship. Although there is little doubt that Bear Bryant churns ent good football teams with the same consistency that Volkswagen produces popular advertisements, there is also little question in the minds of most football fans that this has been one of Alabama's easier seasons. The likes of Louisiana Tech, and Southern Mississippi are just not in the same pot of football class that the "Bear" finds himself.

The Lit I

Jake

BY LARRY MAHONEY

Most people who like football have a favorite team and a favorite coach. Generally, the two go together: Those who love the Fighting Irish will tell you that Ara Parseghian is para-Irisn will tell you that Ara Farsegman is para-mount in his profession, while all Alabamians swear by the Beer — that is, excepting those Auburn partisans whose allegience lies with Shug Jordan.

In Arkansas it's Frank Broyles, to long suffering Texans it may still be Darryl Royal, and, undoubtedly, Duffy Daughertry is regarded as the best of the lot by the legions who fol-

In a little different, My man is Alonzo S. Gaither, but his school, Florida Agricultural and Mechanical University, does not finded my favorite football team. They call him Jake, and among people who know football he is regarded as something of a giant. Let me ex-

Jake Gaither has been head football coach and athletic director at A&M. Florida's state university for Negroes, since the late '40's. He has moulded a tradition of teams that exhe has morning a tradition of teams that ex-cell, an 8-2 has been regarded as a poor, re-building year for his Rattlers. His units, garbed in green and orange, are envoked into com-bat with Churchillian names: Blood, Sweat,

But more than a moulder of teams, this courtly, gray-haired man is a moulder of men. As an observor, I watched Gaither with two of his men, two whose magnificent athletic ahilities might never have come to the world's attention without his guidance. The heavy hand of tragedy was present with one, the beady air of triumph with the other,

With Willie Gallimore it was tragedy. The teletypes flashed the news from Illinois to Tal-lahassee: The Floridian who figured so big in the backfield of Chicago's Bears was dead. An automobile accident.

They brought willie Gallimore back to FAMU. Jake Gaither's grief was calm but deep. "Willie was the best, the best there ever was." The bond between the coach and the now dead young man was reflected in the stricken Gallimore family. They sought Gai-

With Bob Hayes it was triumph, Gaither shared the podium with the young man from Jacksonville, the world's fastest human, its most honored athlete at the moment. Perhaps I might not be exaggerating too much to say that it was difficult to determine which shone the hrightest, the Olympic Gold medals deng-ling about Hayes' neck, or Jake Gaither's face. From Tallahassee to Tokyo and back in

That beam and the pride that goes with it are, I'm sure, still with the coach each Sunday afternoon when the reports from Dallas and the NFL wars reach Tallahassee. That's his boy, Rapid Robert.

Willie Gallimore and Bob Hayes are not the only Rattlers sent to the pros by Gaither. The ranks and annals of both leagues are re-

There is something on a lower level of foot-ball that also speaks of Gaither and his influence. Throughout Florida, and across the South, hundreds of men who played under him are now coaching in the Negro high schools. They are developing young men whose athlet-ic prowess is carrying them not only to FAMU but to schools across the nation, and, in time, to the previously restricted universities of their home region.

Men like Jake Gaither know this is more than a game. It is an intregal part of society, and its impact may well be immeasureable.

ern California coach will still probably provide four or five pro prospects again this year. For you see rating fans, Southern California is third on the list of schools that have contributed men to the wars of professional football. At last count the NFL listed 15 Southern Cal alums in its ranks. But feel ashamed Trojan grads because this week you will be 15th.

Then of course there is lowly Syracuse with the Then of course there is lowly Syracuse with the likes of Floyd Little whom the professional scouts will undoubtedly assess as one of the nation's better backs will will work that he better backs will will work that he better backs will will work that he better backs will will work that he better backs will will work that he better backs will will work that he better backs will will work that he better backs will work that he will work that he better backs will will work that he will be will be will be with the work that he will be will be with the will work that he will be will be with the will be with the will be will be with the work that he will be with the will be with the work that he will be with the work that the will be with the work that he will be with the work that he will be with the work that the work that the will be with the work that the will be with the work that the will be with the work that the work that the work that the work that the work that the wi to bowl. But what kind of contest will, mat be with Tennessee having already lost three games. Forget trading fans that Tennessee dropped close decisions to two undefeated units, Georgia Tech and Alabama.

Their father is MAJ Rob-the YAC swim team a year. Their father is MAJ Rob-the YAC swim team a year. Their father is MAJ Rob-the YAC swim team a year.

Then look at poor Purdue. Rose Bowl bound for the first time ever. Ranked in the top ten but for only the third week since the season's start. After all, any team that ean't take the likes of Noire Dame or Michigan State should have to wait to be ranked. Rating fans forget that Purdue possesses one of the finest quarterbacks in the nation in Bob Griese and forget that this same Purdue club scored more points than anyone else against Notre Dame and Michigan State. Not a bad record at 8-2 either.

Then there is lowly Miami who could do no better than a tie with Tulane. "They dumped Southern California the week before how could they do what they did against Tulane," says the rating fan. Of course Miami also dropped Colorado when the Boulder school was ranked 10th and handed Georgia its first loss of the season in a real donnybrook. Then of course there is stroke as her specialty. Florida with the great Steve Spurrier, but forget them, they lost to Georgia.

So round and round the rating wheel spins and where it stops the real football fan doesn't care, For you see rating lans he does his sports watching on Saturday afternoons and not Tuesday mornings.

Two Area Golfers Earn Awards for Holes-in-one

For a golfer, the next best thing to getting a "hole-in-one" is getting a trophy for the rare event and Mrs. Leslie Wood, and Robert For ier, now have both.

The two, both members of the Fort Benning Country Club, were presented the trophies, an encased golf ball on a tee, with engraved brass plates, by MG (Ret) Robert Worden, vice presi-dent of a local bank during ceremonies last week.

Mrs. Wood made her ace with a five-iron on the 125-yard 16th hole of the Country Club and Fowler, a retired Army colonel, dropped his in during a tourney at Fort Gor don. He used a seven-iron or Sticking Waffles?

When a waffle iron starts to stick, it's past time to Best procedure to remedy the situation is to wash the grids thoroughly and retreat your iron, just as if it were new. (Before you do this, check directions in the instruction book that came with the appliance.

Some irons need a nonsalt fat for treating, others do not. Once you've heated waffle iron with the fat, be sure you use a recipe that has plenty of fat in it.

Be sure, also that the iron is thoroughly heated before you pour in the batter.

If you don't have an indi-cator light, sprinkle a few drops of water on the grids. They should bounce around the seconds before eva-

CAR Course Completed by Viet Captains

Five Vietnamese Army captains were graduated from the Associated Infantry Officer Career Court No. 1 in ceremonies held here last

The five-month course was completed by Captains Vu Hong, Dinh Quang Huy, Vo Huu Net, Lam Ky Sang, and Ha Van Thiet.

Brigadier General J. S. Timothy, assistant commandant of The Infantry School, addressed the graduating students and awarded the "Follow Me" pin to the Vietnamese officers

The allied officers received instruction in company tac-tics, communications, wea-pons handling, and in-thepons handling, and in-the-field problems, along with 73

Prior to their ACAR cours they were given a two-week orientation by the Allied Student Training Section which included English language tests, films on America and its way of life, and tours to local schools, businesses, and

Near the end of the ACAR course, they toured the New York and Washington areas. The five Vietname agreed the one memory of the United States they would take back with them was the friendliness and warmth of the American people. They also said they were impressed with the skyscrap-ers of New York, and the government buildings in Washington.

They are due in Viet Nam by Dec. 3, to await reassignment in their country.

LIGHTWEIGHT RADAR . . . A lightweight radar has just been tested by the supporting weap-ons test division, U.S. Army Infantry Board. The ons test division, U.S. Army Infantry Board. The system is proposed to be used by combat infantrymen to detect moving targets and direct small arms fire in any weather or visitly conditions. The radar was tested with a grenade aluncher and 90-mm recribless rifle. The target is indicated by an audible tone in conventional headset, making it unnecessary for the operator to divert his attention from normal surveil.

Flight Times Have Changed

Presidential approval has been given a change to Executive Order 11157, permitting aerial flight requirements for incentive pay be fulfilled through an accumulation of flight time over a five month period.

Applicable to Section 104(a)(1) of the executive order, the change is effective from Aug. 1, 1966.

It states specifically the four-hour monthly flight requirement may be satisfied by ap-plying any flight time accumulated during the immediately preceding five calendar months and which has not already been used to qualify for incentive pay.

Purpose of the executive order is to reduce the requirement for support aircraft that are justified and used solely for the purpose of qualifying for flight pay.

While this executive order applies to all members of the Army on flight status, it is intended the order be used primarily by the following categories:

. Aviators assigned to remote locations. b. Members of the Army on flight status who are attending civilian educational institutions or non-flying service school courses of less than five months duration.

c. Members of the Army on flight status who are assigned to duties requiring they be engaged in non-flying tasks where monthly maintenance of flying proficiency is not al-ways feasible.

Use of accrued flying hours does not constitute authorization for waiver of annual flight requirements as specified in AR 95-32. Examples of pay computations using accrued flying hours will he published in

AR 7-104.

Polls and Bowls

Observations on a fading football season: The critics have a case against the inequity and invalidity of the wire service rating system, but, brothers, never underestimate the power of the polls and their impact upon the American Institution of Football.

were packing up their shillelaghs after cud-geling Southern California, 51-0. Believe me, the spirit of the polls was there as Notre Dame's Parsechian, modesty rightly missing, talked: "This is by far the best college foot-ball team I've ever had and it's the best ball team five ever had and it's the best college team live ever seen. This is our most important victory. This is it for us. We shoot for the national championship. I think our team demonstrated it is No. 1."

team demonstrated it is NO. I.

Some 2,300 miles to the east, down in Mobile, the Bear was talking. His tide of Elephants (alluding to Alabama's nicknames, not its size) was still the nation's only unbeaten, untied major college team after throttling Southern Mississipi. 34-0

Southern Mississip, 34-U.

It was the polls again as the voice of the Bear was heard in the land, thusly: "I just wish the players and I knew what the people who vote (in the polls) wanted and we'd do it. Back in January when we were warded No. I our players charted meruaring voted No. 1, our players started preparing to win it again this year. Then in September we were voted No. 1 in the pre-season poll and we thought that meant they expected us to win. Well, we've heen winning."

Then the colorful clincher: "If the voters then the coloriul clinener: "If the voters want something besides winning, we'll try and do it. If they want, we'll try triple reverses, forward laterals, lateral forwards, dipsy doodles, or even run a quarterback sneak with third and Ab, the vanities and vagaries of power. The egoes of our politicians rely on the likes of Gallup and Lou Harris. Our foothall coaches, players and camp followers judge the worth of their teams by the Tues-day stackings of the AP and UPI.

Then again, it would be completely out of character for Bear Bryant, Ara Parseghian, Lyndon Johnson or Richard Nixon to declare, "We're No. 2, hut we try harder."

YOU'VE SEEN the signs. "This Is Blankety-Blank Country." From automobiles (Fords) to gubernatorial candidates (Lester), the saying is a common one today. Well, here it goes again: This Is Bowl Country. I refer to Florida and Georgia,

It has been a vintage year for football these Deep South sister states. Every one of their major college teams will participate in a post-season game.

Vince Dooley will take his Georgia boys down to Dallas for some Cotton Bowl picking, with Southwest titlist Southern Methodist cast years, with a long waiting list for both the military and their dependents Fully realizing this and the high value placed on good vision by both the in-dividual and our military leaders, great effort has been expended to provide the best possible visual care at Martin Army Hospital. This is one phase of the overall plan to provide the best health care possible at

As a result of consider-able planning and performing, an expanded Optomet-Service, which increases both the quality and quantity of vision care, is now available to the residents of Fort Benning.

Recently an additional Optometry Clinic has been added, located in Building 4035, Harmony Church. This clinic will service exclusively the military personnel located in that area.

Appointments for visual examinations will be made by military personnel through their respective dispensaries and by de-pendents and retired personnel through the central appointment desk located

With the increased staff and the expanded facilities we are able to reduce our backlogs and eventually within several months, to enlarge our services to a fuller range of optometric

They chose freedom and stuck to it

Thomas Paine and Patrick Henry came from very different backgrounds, but they shared one thing in common-a love of free-

To them, this freedom was worth as much as life itself. It is often worthwhile for Americans of this day and age to reflect on the contributions our forefathers made in order to preserve the ideals many of us now take for

Thomas Paine, an Englishman by birth and the son of a poor family, fled to America in 1774 to escape the tyranny of King George III. Early in 1776, Paine wrote a pamphlet, "Common Sense," which had a tremendous effect in crystallizing colonial opinion and bring-ing about the Declaration of Independence.

Throughout the war, Paine wrote inspiring newspaper pieces which he titled "The American Crisis" or simply the "Crisis" proper or simply the "Crisis" papers. These two were a potent force in the cause of freedom. Paine's writings sustained morale and created hope when American fortunes Patrick Henry, on the other hand, was a wealthy trial lawyer and land speculator just prior to the Revolution Largely self-educated, he quickly became a leader among the citizens of Virginia and spoke out for individual freedom on every occasion available.

As an orator, he had no equal. His words, "Give me liberty or give me death," are familjar to all Americans.

Today, we can learn much from these two men and the countless thousands like them. Our forefathers showed us the necessity of preserving our own freedom and sharing it with

As advocates of freedom, Thomas Paine and Patrick. Henry never faltered in the belief that their cause was just and their duty clear. Represented Nationally by the Branham Company and W. B. Bradbury Their choice was freedom, and they stuck to it.

FUTURE 'AIR COMMUTER' . Combining helicopter rotor blades and a fixed wing, this Lockheed-designed "air commuter" would ease future ground traffic strangulation in the mush-rooming Boston-New York-Philadelphia-Washington "megalopolis" and other expanding population areas. This vertical takeoff and landing air commuter, one of several configurations under study at the Lockheed-California Company in Burbank, could carry 60-70 passengers rapidly from outlying airports to midtown heliports and efficiently link nearby communities within a 250-mile radius. The compound (winged) helicopter transport was proposed at annual meeting of the American Institute of Aeronautics and Astronautics in Boston to help solve the fast-growing problem of high-way and other surface travel congestion. The pictured air commuter is approximately 100 feet long and has a gross weight of some 50,000

FORT MCPHERSON, Ga. - A special review honoring SGT Howard L. Bell, Third U.S. Army sergeant major, was held on Hedekin Field here at 4 p.m. yesterday. Bell is scheduled to retire from active duty at the end of December Reviewing officer for the ceremony was SGM William O. Wooldridge, sergeant ma-jor of the Army.

Bell trooped the line of massed Fort McPherson units, accompanied by SGMs Wooldridge, Robert L. Rate, post sergeant major, and An-drew H. Castele, U. S. Continental Army Command ser geant major. Noncommissioned officers conducted all phases of the parade with key noncoms filling the positions of staff officers during the review. The first sergeants of Fort McPherson's companies took unit commanders' places in front of the units during the Following the ceremonies a reception was held for Sergeant Major and Mrs. Bell at the Noncommissioned Officers Mess.

ANNIVERSARY MESSAGE

TO THE OFFICERS AND MEN OF ARMOR

On behalf of all members of the Army, I extend congratulations and best wishes to the officers and men of Armor on the occasion of its 190th anniversary.

As you approach the second full century of service in our mobile arm, you have new and greater opportunities to contribute to decision on the battlefield. Air mobility, new tanks, and new concepts of firepower, mobility, and shock action offer exciting dimensions for improving Armor's historic role as the maneuver force in combat. You may justly take pride in your part in our modern Army and in the significant contribution you are making to the security of the free world

All members of the Army join me in expressing pride and confidence in Armor as you complete another sted service to the Nation

Ask any boy why he joins the Scouts and "Camping!" will be his loud answer.

The Patrol Camporee, held by Fort Benning's Boy Scout District last week-end was boy's dream come true.

There was sleeping out-of-doors under shelters only a boy could put up, cooking that defied description over fires built with flint and steel or a minimum of two matches. contests of all types, compasses and maps, signaling, bridge building, campfire ceremonies and a kind of hap-piness that not even rain could dampen.

For some it was the first time to be on their own and for others the chance to show how experience pays off -especially in scoutcraft.

Scouls of Troop 51, recog-nizing the need for lots of hot water (upper left) used their blazing fire to barbe-que chickens in a manner only boys can really enjoy

Without a knife or axe a Scout would be lost so an old pro, in camping, Chesley Harris (upper right kneeling right) showed the right way to the novice and some found the art not easy to learn

Older campers, such as two from Troop 39, (lower left) were easily spotted by their small neat fires and brewing pots of coffee

And scouts from Troop 217 lower right) discovered building a fire with flint and steel or two matches, a job calling for plenty of lung power, and tears — especial-ly when the wood was a little

The Army does everything record.

The Army does everything it can to help softier: look after their personal affairs. It provides legal assistance, help in emergencies, and advice.

However, in the final instance, it is the soldier's responsibility to insure that his triancate and emergency plans are in order. It is especially important for soldiers ordered overseas to review their plans to insure that their families will be cared for while sponsors and dependents are separated.

Soldiers normally receive orders for PCS to an overseas area several weeks prior o actual travel

NCAA champion Texas Western while ealling Kentue ky, Duke and UCLA the most likely to succeed in wrestling the title from the defensive geniuses who have begun to make Texans forget that their first

However, already the experts have been forced into verbal retreat for mighty Duke bit the dust in a contest with little heralded Virginia Polytechnical Institute while Kentucky found Illinois too tall for its running jumpers.

So here basketball watchers stand two weeks or so into their time of year and the upsets are already knee deep. Just to add fuel to the season's upset fires Houston (fifth ranked in pre-season polls) journeyed to Ann Arbor, Michigan boping to humiliate once mighty but twice beaten Michigan.

The Big Ten school hadn't evidently looked at this week's wire services polls for although outrebounded 2-1 by the stronger Houston unit the midwesterners put the ball in the hoop more and took the victory.

So with the taste of caution still strong after almost a week of surprises for those who call themselve es experts we venture forth with the following opinions come what may and forgive us Adolph Rupp.

1. . .The Texas Western Miners refreshed by a national championship and a 28-1 record should repeat this year although regular season contests with Brigham Young, Kansas, New Mexico, Tulsa and Wichita State might make things a little trying. Back is one of the quickest, best-shooting ball hawks in Bobby Joe Hill who leads a parade of five returnees from last year's squad.

2, . . North Carolina's national field goal percentage leaders are back this year for an honest shot at the national crown. Not since the days of Frank McGnire have things looked so good at Chapel Hill. Rusty Clark at somewhere around ?' will be the core for the Tar Heels attack. Back from last year are All-American Bobby Lewis who blitzed the basket for 27 points a game, 6'4" Larry Miller who shot at 55 per cent while averaging 21 points a game, and cagy de-fender Tom Gauntlett who is famous for his defensive efforts against Duke's Bob Verga.

3. . .UCLA has everyone in the country wondering just how great they really are as their sophomore studded baliclub moves into what could be a great season, Lew Alcindor stunned even his biggest fans with a 56 point production effort in his first game against Southern California. Backing up Alcindor is 6'5" Lynn Shackelford who hit 62 per cent of his field goals as a member of the freshman team, Lucius Allen, a guard who averager 22.4 points per game as a freshman, and senior Mike Lynn, a 6'7" forward who led the team in last year. Packers Stop Tigers 27-12, Tie for First But with so many veterans spread across the country UCLA's sophomores may just be a little short on experience but look out

4. . New Mexico with a new field hoose and 6'9" Mel Daniels will be one of the best in a conference be the best. Backing Daniels is that may very well 6'3", 230 pound Ben Monroe who is not only big but can score. The Lobos will get an early test when they take on Texas Western on December 16.

5. . Michigan State will surprise someone this year Freshman sensation Lee Lafayette is ready to join a team which will probably be led by 6'7" Matthew Aitch who averaged 14 points per game as a sophomore.

6. . Brigham Young will finish high in the na-tional rankings but may never even make the NCAA playoffs since they must first beat New Mexico out for

CG Urges Holiday Safety

TO: All Fort Benning Personnel

The Christmas-New Year's holiday season has become a period in which the accident rate is higher than any other time of the year. Instead of great joy, the boliday season is filled with loneliness and despair for many, because of the accidental death or inju-

The tragedy of the accidents which occur is that most of them could be prevented. There is no excuse for death or injury resulting from a moment of earelessness, a rash decision, a flare-up of temper, laxiness, neglect or the disregard of obvious hazards.

I urge you to make Christmas a time of joy and to display a special gratitude for the abundance of life. Express your gratitude by cherishing your own life and the lives of others. Let each of us exercise increased care in walking and driving and use greater caution in all of our holiday activities. Each of us should be especially thoughtful of our responsibility toward our neighbor, to drive by the golden rule, to observe all traffic laws, and not to drive while under the infinence of alcohol. I further urge that these efforts be extended beyond the coming holidays and that they be made a part of our everyday life.

I wish each of you a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

Pe's the only one who flies more places than we do.

(We can help you beat him to your home and loved ones.)

The best way is to fly United Air Lines. We have more seats on more flights to more U.S. cities than anyone else. In U.S. uniform, with military leave authority, you can fly United as a military stand-by for just 50% of the regular Coach fare. This also applies within 7 days of discharge. You can sit wherever the seats are-even First Class when the other seats are filled.

For information and tickets, visit or call your JAMTO office located at Bldg. 19, Tele. No.

Most of the time it's easy getting home this way, but during December things can get a little tight. You might prefer making a reservation. just to be on the safe side.

But whichever way you choose, we hope you come to United first. There's no better way to get in the Christmas spirit than by flying home for the holidays in the friendly skies of United.

ing, their city, state or region essions of the big showdown. Often unathletic themselves, these men They wield considerable Often unathletic themselves, these men are devoted to sports. They wield considerable power over the games. A star athlete, like a star anybody, is often the product of images and are the makers of images, it is they who select the Top Texs, the All-Americas, the preseason favorites, the All-Stars, Coaches and Players of the Year, and the other illuminati.

It is a journalistic ideal to be impartial, but this does not apply to the sports pages, where a propagandist is more at home than a reporter. Partisanship is understandable there.

They are a strange lot, these writers, so let me tell you of a few of my favorites.

There is Fred Russell of The Nashville Banner, a Vanderbilt law graduate who must have found he couldn't shake the joys of journalism for the far more lucrative courtroom, Tennessee, like the rest of the South, is football domain, but Russell of The Banner is a basketball man. He does things like assigning a writer to watch no other part of the game than the backboards for a story on the rebounding ability of a court master.

There is Bill McGrotha of The Tallahass

Democrat, a disciple of Florida State football He has covered the Seminoles' 15-year rise to he has covered the seminous: 10-year rise to power since the first stirrings, way back when a victory over Tampa, Wofford or Furman was to be celebrated. I'll never forget this big, bespec-Fred Biletnikoff caught the long pass that signaled the start of FSU's first (and only) triumph over Florida

There is Bennie Marshall of The Birmingharren is Bennie marshall of the Burming-ham News. Only Bear Bryant enjoys more primacy in the Alabama Football Dynasty than this smiling fellow whose mug appears in his tales of the Tide. Bama without Bennie wouldn't be the same.

There is Edwin Pope of Miami's Herald, who is always in there trying to explain Muham-med Ali to the folks. There is Jimmy Burns of The Herald, an expert observer and commentat-or on Hialeah, Churchill Downs, Gulfstream and the other horse tracks.

It is hackneyed to refer to the World of Sports. But that is what it is, It is lived not only hy coaches, players and fans. Its impact only ny coaches, piayers and mais, its impacts felt by our educational institutions, our politics, our society. These chroniclers of this aspect of life do have an important beat.

LOOK CAREFULLY... The Sight You Save May Be Your Own

Seeing, the very thing you're doing at this moment, is possible because you possess nature's most sensitive and remarkable creation—the human ey-Your eyes bring you 33 per cent of all your knowledge and guide 90 per cent of your actions. Their value is beyond price, and they deserve the best and most intelligent care you can give them. you may see your way clear for a longer period of time, if you take proper care of them. Here are a few helpful suggestions:

Avoid glare: Too much light in a room or work paper can he as tiring as too much sunlight.

Rest your cyes: Because you use gese every minute you're awake, they deserve a little time off now and then. When doing close work over a long period of time, rest your eyes by glancing into the cistance for a moment at least once every half hour.

Never rub your eyes: When you get something in your eye, take care. You can do permanent damage if you scratch the cornea. Lift the upper lid and gently pull it down over the lower lid and let tears wash your eye clean.

Check your eyes: Be alert for the eye symptoms that mean trouble. Among the vision changes that should prompt immediate medical attention are seeing double, seeing blurred outlines, seeing halos or rainbows around lights, and seeing poorly in semi-darkness. Other signs of eye trouble are: pain. itching, fear of light, tearing to excess, drooping eyelids, red-rimmed eyes and constant headaches.

Eye examinations: Have your eyes examined at least every two years. Adults who are over 40 and children 6-16 should have their checked every year, Although eyes don't "wear out" with use (this is a popular myth) the ability to see clearly and comfortably does change throughout life.

Remember, there's no such thing as too much protection for your eyes. Take care of them, and

5. True. Even though there are millions of meteor oids 1/10th of an inch or larger zooming around up there, space is so vast, and a space craft so relatively minute, that the chances of it being struck are remote.

6. True. The gravitational pull of earth is approximately five times greater.

7. False. There is no speed beyond human endurance provided a space craft accelerates grad-ually enough, and fortunately so, for it will take phenomenal speeds to get man to his destinations without his dying of old age en route.

8. True. According to Einstein's Theory of Rela-tivity, strange things bappen in our curved universe. When objects move at very high speeds over long distances, they actually contract in the direction of their motion. So if you could see a space craft soaring through space, it would appear as if it were squeezed humper to bumper."

9. Falsc. Retro rockets powered by solid fuel are used to "brake" the space craft's spaced enabling it to come out of orbit and return to earth.

10. True. Before a space craft ever leaves his launch pad, it's already traveling in one direction at about 1,000 mph (due to earth's rote. tion) and about 40,000 mph in souther direction (due to earth's revolving around the

11. False. There is no place free of grashy. As a space craft moves away from earth, the force of the earth's attraction rapidly diminishes, but never disappears. The space craft is also subject to the gravitational pull of the sun and other planets, and if permitted to move aimlessly, it will eventually be attracted to one of them and either go into orbit around it or plunge into it.

12. True. Scientists still do not really know if lubrication will be a serious problem in space. Space craft require special lubricants, as well as hydraulic and cooling fluids.

13. True. A dream of scientists is to establish a lunar observatory equipped with a large telescope. Unhampered by atmospheric haze, like that which surrounds earth, astronomers for the first time would have a crystal-clear view of the stars and planets, and previously closed doors of scientific knowledge would be opened.

How well did you do? Now, consider the wastness of space, and realize that you are now an authority on one infinitesimal speck of it. However, that speck is important, because it will grow.

Asia today challenges America and the rest of the world in three vital fields: security from ag-gression; economic cooper-ation; and the definition of the moral and political basis upon which a new, more creative, more stable partnership could be built.

To the free Asian na-tions rightfully belong the primary responsibility for their own security and wellbeing. This is an inevitable and a welcome conse-quence of independence. However, China's power, blatantly militant and still unrestrained by firm com-mitments to international law, is developing during the dangerous interim pe-riod when the other Asian states, whether jointly or alone, cannot organize adequate defensive strength and before the United Na-

The price of peace

By SP5 Henry Halpern

"Peace on earth, good will among men."
"It is more blessed to give than to receive."

These two statements instantly remind one of the Christmas season. Both fall upon our ears repeatedly with each passing December. And both originate from the Bible. The sad thing about these two sentences is that they are used so often we sometimes fail to consider the meaning behind the words.

You and I as members of the Armed You and I as members of the Armed Forces of the United States during this Yule-tide season, 1966, should weigh these words carefully. Unfortunately, there is little peace on earth today. Unfortunately, there are too many people who would rather take than good and the peace of the words, there words, there would not need for you and I to wear these uniformers. uniforms, carry weapons, or register the graves of our battle dead.

The gift of "Peace on earth, good will among men" would be gladly received by any sensible man. But unfortunately it is not free for the taking. You and I and countless others must be prepared to purchase this gift with our sweat, tears, hard work, and, yes, maybe even our lives, so that we might be able to give the world this cherished gift. Most of us give the world this cheristical gitt. Most of we will be asked to pay this price by doing our military jobs as best we can to support those who must be prepared to pay the price with

War on Poverty. . . Home Front

Some will not be home for Christmas--1966

Christmas means different things to different people.

A lot depends on where we are. Many of us are fortunate this Christmastide to be with family and friends. Many of us are far away from home on this, the happiest of holidays. But there's one thing about Christmas—its spirit is so infectious no one except a modern-Scrooge can hide from it.

Under normal conditions we know Christmas as a day for carolers, holly, poinsettia and mistletoe. We know it as a family day of feasting and exchange of gifts.

More important, however, we know it as the day hearts are gladdened and spirits lifted the story of Christ's birth.

We need not be in the comfort of our home to be filled with the spirit of Christmas. It happens everywhere, to everyone.

Sure, it would be great if the Christmas spirit could engulf all men and change the world. No more envy, fighting, bickering for power. Just peace to all men.

Unfortunately, there are some nations, and men, in the world today who don't see it that way. They thirst for power. They would conquer all men—if they could. They would enslave free

That is why some of us cannot be home for Christmas — 1966. (AFNR)

Annual Christmas Messages

While the sacred Christmas season is a time of rejoicing, it is also a time to reflect on our purposes as voiced in the angelic proclamation ". on earth peace, good will toward men." Throughout the history of our Nation, we have worked toward a lasting peace in which men can live together in friendship and brotherhood.

This Christmas season finds many of you away from your homes and loved ones. Some will observe the birthday of the Christ Child at lonely and remote outposts. But all, and especially those of you in Viet Nam, can take pride in the knowledge that your service to the Nation is helping to preserve liberty and to restore or maintain neace.

Wherever you may be serving, as soldier or civilian, Mrs. Johnson and I bope that this holiday season will bring joy and satisfaction to you and your families and that through your efforts the new year will bring permanent peace and good will — the true gift of Christmas.

Harold K. Johnson General, United States Army Chief of Staff

By tradition, the holiday season in the United States is a period in which we review our ties with family and friends and take strength in all the blessings of our rich life. This year the growing presence of American fighting men in Viet Nam serves to sharpen our focus on the sacrifices which we all must make to preserve our American traditions and to perpetuate our concept of freedom.

The frontiers on which we must conduct the defense of freedom and tradition have not diminished in number or size. American soldiers continue to man these frontiers in many diverse areas of the world. In some areas, the emphasis is on vigilance and the soldiers there must be watchful for the encroachments of those who would destroy our way of life. Other areas demand the exercise of military skills in preparing friendly nations to develop and defend themselves. Here our soldiers must devote themselves to advice and friendly persuasion. In Viet Nam, the United States Army has been calision in Viet Nam, the United States Army has been calision of the property of the dupon to perform its basic mission—combat with an armed enemy. In every area, the job is being done with the spirit, courage, and devotion that are hallmarks of the American soldier.

To all members of the Army Family I send my best wishes for a Blessed Christmas and a rewarding New Year.

> Stanley R. Resor Secretary of the Army

My best wishes and season's greetings are extended to all members of the Third United States Army and and their families for the Christmas and New Year holidays.

During the holiday season, let us remember that our present sacrifices in defense of freedom have as their goal, the restoration of peace throughout the world.

May the blessings of this season follow all of you throughout the coming year.

> Louis W. Truman Lieutenant General, USA Commanding

To all members of the United States Continental Army Command, I extend warmest wishes for a happy and joyous Christmas Season.

At this time of year we are especially mindful of those who are fighting far from home in order that freedom-loving people everywhere may be sustained by the hope of eventual "peace on earth."

During the new year, let each member of this command renew his determination to protect and defend the provil heritage of our great Nation. By your strength and dedication, lasting peace — based upon buman freedom and the dignity of man—can become a reality.

May all of you and your loved ones enjoy a blessed Christmas, and find in the New Year the fullfillment of your fondest aspirations.

> Paul L. Freeman, Jr. General, United States Army Commanding

To all military and civilian personnel of Fort Benning, and their families, I extend my best wishes for the holiday season.

This year more than ever let us share our good fortune, and especially the love and warmth we enjoy within our family circle, with those less fortunate; families with loved ones facing danger in a distant land on a mission of mercy and aid for a belegarered people.

Let us be joyful in keeping with the season, but also be mindful of the true meaning of the Christmas message and pray that our sacrifices and those of our loved ones, and friends, will birng peace and good will to all men of all countries.

I sincerely hope the year 1967 will be one of happiness, prosperity and good health for each of you.

At this Christmastime and throughout the coming New Year, we would like to wish each and everyone of you the hest of everything and happiness in your daily lives. Also, we would like to ask you to remember our many servicemen who won't be home this Christmas or even the next, and to. ask God's hlessing on them.

We owe so very much to these men this Christmas, and it should be dedicated to the many brave men who have given their lives so that we could celebrate this holiday in peace and in the security of our homes with our loved ones around us. We must show these men that we, by not taking our many freedoms for granted, do care for our country, and the welfare of the world.

Have a very Happy Holiday and God bless you all.

Well, it's true that we haven't much of a fall down on the peninsula. And we do bave plenty of palms, miles of sunny sand and many maidens whose bathing suits are just barely there. Admissably, football hard-ly fits the picture, but believe me, the game reaches its zenith in Florida.

ches its zenith in Florida.

In the high schools, in the colleges, in the gree to Cumberland Law season extravaganzes and now profess. School in Birmingham while post-season extravaganzas and now professionally, Floridians see some of the finest football in the land. Take the preps in Miami, for example. Twice in recent years, a Miami high school has been proclaimed national for example. Twice in recent years, a Maini high school has been proclaimed national champion. The Stingarees of Miami Senior and their crosstown competitors at Coral Gables High play a brand of football that ranks, with the legendary likes of which we have been suffered to the wickedy swift back to the high the beautiful that the window of the windo

The rarity of crisp autumn evenings is no handicap. And the wickedly swift back-field that spurred the Stings to the national title in 1985 was composed largely of Cuban boys, exiles from a tropical island who have seen snow and frost only as portrayed on such things as Christmas cards.

Some 500 miles north of Miami is Talla-hassee, frigid by Florida standards but still subtropical. It is in this little capital city that America's best-small college football team resides. Florida A&M's Rattlers are Deep South-bred gentlemen of African descent who South-bred gentlemen of Arrican descent who have had no great difficulty in adjusting to the sometimes Arctic climate of Chicago, Cleveland, Green Bay and New York, where they play professionally.

Florida has, too, a triumvirate of big college football powers in the University of Florida, Florida State and the University of Miami. Only Texas in the South can match this number and quality of NCAA football

This season, Southern Califor-nia, Georgia and Florida were among the unfortunates to feel the 'Cane lash'.

Bowl games? Well, there's Miami's Orange Bowl, Jacksonville's Gator Bowl and Orlando's small college Tangerine Bowl. The popularity of post-season football in Florida is pointed out by the 132,000 requests for Orange Bowl tickets. Sadly, the stadium can seat only

Open House Introduces Benning Catholic Center

Catholic congregation to their new religious education facilities at Fort Renning an open house was held at the Catholic Religious Education Center last week

Sister Joan Thomas dire tor of the Center, and her as-sistant. PVT Fred Soto, welcomed guests visiting the newly decorated office, rec room and adjoining gy library, and the office for the superintendent of the Catholic grade school of re ligion, Mrs. Albert Muller. Interior work on the nev facilities, a project since Oc-tober, was done almost en tirely with volunteer help directed by CWO and Mrs

Ray Sovia. at a red-covered Christmas table in the recreation room. At the center of the room was an aluminum tree, the Christ tree, decorated with pictures of the Christ child made by Catholic kindergar-ten children.

The recreation room is used by Catholic teen-age groups and the Spanish Cath-olic Action group.

The rooms of the center were blessed in an earlier private ceremony hy Chap-lain LTC John R. Diez.

Award Established By Society in D.C.

WASHINGTON (ANF) The West Point Society of D.C. has established the an nual Benjamin F. Castle Me morial Award to be given to a U. S. Military Academy graduate who exemplified the scademy's ideals in military or civilian life.

The award will be presented at the D.C. chapter's Washington Founders' Day Dinner. The board of directors of the chapter specifies no age or length of service criteria for the recipient of

Aliens Advised to Report

WASHINGTON (ANF) - Army mem-WASHINGTUN (ANF) — Army mem-bers and their families are reminded that the Immigration and Nationality Act requires all aliens in the United States and its possessions to report their addresses to the Attorney Gen-to report their acuresses to the Atturney ten-eral during the month of January. Cards for this purpose are available at any United States Post Office or at the offices of the Immigration and Naturalization Serv-

The Act provides serious penalties for wilfful failure to submit this report. Com-pliance with the requirement is, therefore, of the utmost importance to aliens in the Armed Forces and their relatives who may not be citizens but are residents of this coun try as of Jan. 1, 1967.

BEST MESS AWARD . . . SSG Charles A. Edwards accepts the Center Troop Command Best Mess Award in HHC Mess Hall 43rd Eng. Bn... from LTC Robert Lyons. This was the third time HHC has won the award, and last Thursdays' was their second consecutive one. Edwards also won the CTC award for best Thanksgiving decorations.—Photo by SSG Betty Farmer.
