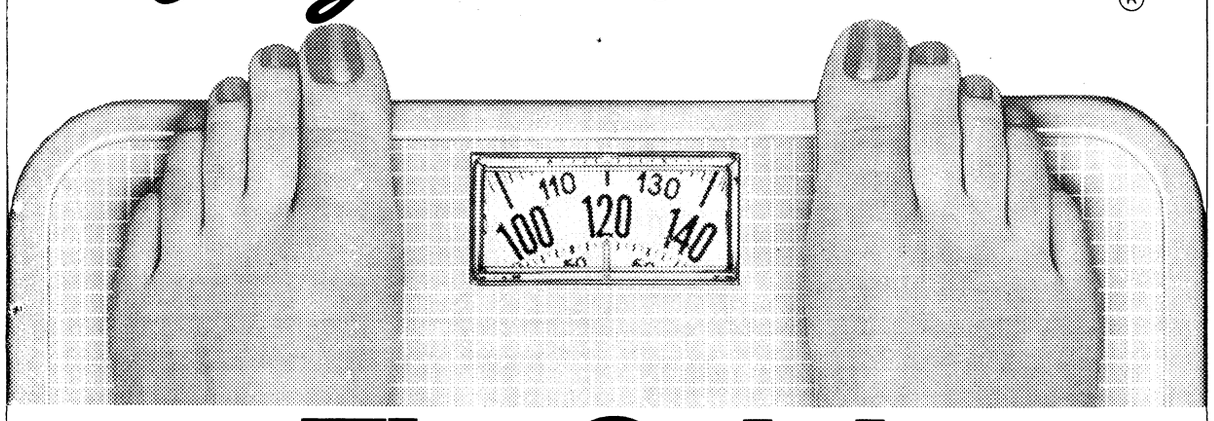
Pizza Inn Now Delivers to Fort Benning and Main Post—Sand Hill—Kelly Hill

Pizza inn®

Traffic Circle Pizza Inn Only
2151 Ft. Benning Rd., COLUMBUS, 687-0181



Party Special
Delivered to Your Door
4 Large Cheese Pizzas
$19.99
Extra Topping $1.29 Per Pizza
Call 687-0181
Not valid with any other coupon. Valid only at Traffic Circle Pizza Inn. Tax not included. Limit one coupon per customer, per visit

Lunch or Dinner Buffet
$2.99 each
Not valid with any other coupon. Valid only at Traffic Circle Pizza Inn. Tax not included
This coupon is good for entire party at 2.99 each
Offer Expires 4/10/89

Limited Time Offer With Coupon
Buy Any Large Pizza Get One Large Pizza Free
(Same Topping)
Call 687-0181
Not valid with any other coupon. Valid only at Traffic Circle Pizza Inn. Tax not included. Limit one coupon per customer, per visit.
Offer Expires 4/10/89

Monday Nite
All The Spaghetti You Can Eat
5PM-9PM
$2.69
Per Person
Children $2.00
Not valid with any other coupon. Valid only at Traffic Circle Pizza Inn. Tax not included. Limit one coupon per customer, per visit.

Weight Watchers®

The Quick And Easy Weigh.

Join for $15 Through April 17th.

- For 26 years, the most successful weight loss organization in the world.
- 1,000,000 members in 24 countries worldwide.
- Over 25,000 weekly meetings worldwide with over 450 meetings in Georgia.
- No special food, contracts or hidden costs.
- Opening now 30 new meetings.
- In Atlanta call 395-7820 or toll free in GA 800-282-4565 for meetings, locations and times. No reservations necessary.

MUSCOGEE COUNTY
COLUMBUS
WEIGHT WATCHERS CENTER
Harmony Place Shopping Center
2014 Airport Thruway
Mon- 9:00 am
Mon- 6:00 pm
Tue- 9:00 am
Tue- 4:00 pm
Tue- 6:00 pm
Wed-11:30 am
Wed- 5:00 pm
Thu- 4:00 pm
Thu- 6:00 pm*
Thu- 7:30 pm
Fri-10:00 am
BEGINS 4/7/89
Fri-12:30 pm
Sat-10:00 am

FT. BENNING
(Open To The Public)
OWC-Activity Center
Wed- 5:30 pm

WESLEY HEIGHTS
United Methodist Church
5603 Luna Drive
Thu- 5:30 pm

Inner Circle®
This premium pre-paid Weight Watchers service is a small group of 8 to 12 people using a personalized approach to losing weight. For further information in Atlanta call 394-8667 or toll free in GA 800-282-4565. MC/V accepted for Inner Circle and At Work Programs only.

Special Features
Mommy & Me Meetings
$6 $6 Matinee Specials
H Hearing Impaired Programs
F Free Speakers Bureau
Express Meetings
Y Youth Meetings (Ages 6-15)
B Braille Programs

The At Work Program®
You and 25 or more of your fellow employees can form a group and Weight Watchers will set up a pre-paid meeting where you work. For further information in Atlanta call 394-8909 or toll free in GA 800-282-4565. MC/V accepted for Inner Circle and At Work Programs only.

It's Quick, It's Safe, It Works.

Regular registration fee is $25 which includes your first meeting. Fee for subsequent weeks $8. Cannot be combined with other discounts or special rates. Offer good through April 17, 1989 at participating locations of Area #55 only. Weight Watchers Inner Circle and The At Work Program are registered trademarks of Weight Watchers International, Inc. © 1989, Weight Watchers International.

YOU'VE SERVED YOUR COUNTRY,

NOW IT'S TIME TO SEE IT.

From early morning fog on the coastline of Cape Cod to late evening sunsets on the cliffs of Big Sur. . .see your country in a career as a professional tractor-trailer driver with Schneider National Carriers.

As the largest truckload carrier group in the United States, Schneider National now offers men and women with military experience an exclusive free training program and job guarantee. After just three weeks training, you'll start an exciting career with:

- $25,000 or more first year income potential
- Family benefits and generous retirement plan
- Nationwide openings
- Top-of-the-line equipment, company owned and maintained

So if you're scheduled for release within the next six months, contact Schneider National today and secure a rewarding future on the open road!

Call 1-800-447-7433, ask for Millie.

We support the National Guard and Reserves

SCHNEIDER NATIONAL®

Assistant Fire Chief takes charge, rewarded

Directorate of Engineering and Housing

The Commander's Award for Civilian Service was presented to the Assistant Fire Chief recently for outstanding service as acting fire chief from June 1, 1988 to Jan. 30, 1989 at an awards ceremony in Marshall Auditorium.

George D. Perry, although selected for the position on short notice, took control of the Fire Department and established stability and continuity, according to Col. Robert W. Hatch, DEH. Perry participated in inspections of the new fire station presently under construction and made recommendations for improvements.

The Directorate of Engineering and Housing also announced Employee of the Quarter winners for first quarter, fiscal year 1989. Ben A. Smith and Jimmy W. Riles, both of the Facilities Maintenance and Operations Division, were each presented a certificate and an award of $250 by Hatch.

Smith, a GS-7 engineering technician with the Buildings and Structures Branch, has been with DEH since 1983, previously serving as a construction inspector in the Engineering Division. Since his assignment in July 1988 to the Buildings and Structure Branch, Smith assisted the branch chief in completing numerous engineering estimates and in obtaining needed materials to improve the productivity of the branch and reduce the service order backlog. In January, Smith was detailed to the position of Acting Chief of the Water Treatment Plant. He has already implemented changes in water procedures in order to improve services to all Fort Benning customers.

The Wage Grade winner, Jimmy W. Riles, has been an Air Conditioning Mechanic with DEH since 1978.

Hatch recognized several DEH employees who participated in the newly established leave transfer program. James M. Spence, Curtis L. Parker, Walter M. Wright, Eugene H. Gross, Mladjan Alexich, Edgar J. Reese, William A. Crawford, Ben A. Smith, Alton M. Baker, Elwood B. Neal, Ralph H. Powell, Etta J. Miller, Gerald J. Farr, Peggy P. Davis, James E. Jones, John E. Bloodworth, and Donald W. Brooks are employees who saw a need and did something about it.

U.S. behind Russia, Europe in fire prevention

By James E. Floyd
Fort Benning Fire Department

The United States and Russia compete in many fields, both technical and non-technical. There is one area in which Russia and most of Europe have taken the lead from the United States. They, in fact, have left us far behind. The area of concern is Fire Prevention and Fire Safety Education.

The following are some facts that illustrate the differences:

In 1981, the Leningrad Fire Department was responsible for six million people and responded to 800 alarms.

In 1981, the Madison, Wisc., Fire Department was responsible for 170,000 people and responded to 3,400 alarms.

Why is there such a difference?

Russian fire departments and many of the European fire departments are organized to be more involved with the entire community. More than two-thirds of their budgets are spent on Fire Prevention and Fire Safety Education. In the United States, the typical fire department spends only two to 10 percent of its budget on Fire Prevention and Fire Safety Education and 90 to 98 percent on learning how to put out fires.

In other words, the U.S. spends too much time and money on manpower and equipment waiting for fires to happen instead of spending the same money to educate and train the firefighters in fire prevention methods and developing and administering safety education programs for the public.

The money spent toward fire prevention is more cost effective than rebuilding homes, offices, shops and factories that have been destroyed by fire. One of the most difficult problems is trying to rebuild families that have lost a loved one and the task of teaching someone to cope with severe burns and deformities caused by fire.

Another major factor that contributes to the Russian's success is the people's attitude toward fire. The Russian people live so close together that a neighbor's fire becomes "your" fire. Also, Russia has no fire insurance. When someone in Russia becomes a victim of fire, they are not treated with sympathy, but rather with disdain. Why? Because people know most fires are preventable.

The point of this article is simple. Other countries have beat the U.S. in an area where it should be the world leader. U.S. fire departments could and should be the best in the world with the country's wealth, educational institutions, mass communication medias and huge technical and scientific community from which to draw.

Martin Luther King had a dream. Firefighters here have a dream too. A Fort Benning without a fire. The Fort Benning Fire Department is dedicated to eliminating fire from the community. With your help, its an attainable goal. But each resident's total support and dedication are needed.

Red Cross volunteers contribute total of 177 years

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Nine Fort Benning American Red Cross volunteers were recognized Feb. 23 for contributing 177 years of service to the Red Cross chapter here and other chapters around the Army.

Dotti Bouldin, station chairman for Fort Benning's chapter, recognized the volunteers, saying they gave life to the Red Cross theme, "Somewhere, Somebody Needs Help."

Last year more than 1 million adult volunteers in nearly 3,000 Red Cross chapters around the country responded to people in need.

The Red Cross provided emergency communications, leave verification assistance, counseling or financial help to 2.6 million active-duty military, veterans and their family members.

More than 24,000 manhours have been dedicated by post Red Cross volunteers here since the last awards luncheon in September.

Individuals recognized were:
Pauline Veaudry, 27 years
Mary Morgan, 25 years
Johnnie Dennis, 22 years
Jean Campbell, 22 years
Mary Callahan, 21 years
Angeline Cole, 20 years
Sue Strong, 20 years
Sara Kinard, 20 years
William Henessey, recipient of Patient Administration Division Award.

LEGAL after 5

Convenient Evening Hours

Dennis P. McPherson
Attorney-At-Law

DIVORCE	Uncontested	$100
BANKRUPTCY	No asset (Chapter 7)	$100
ADOPTION	Step-parent	$150
DUI	First DUI, first appearance in State Court	$250
SIMPLE WILLS		$ 35

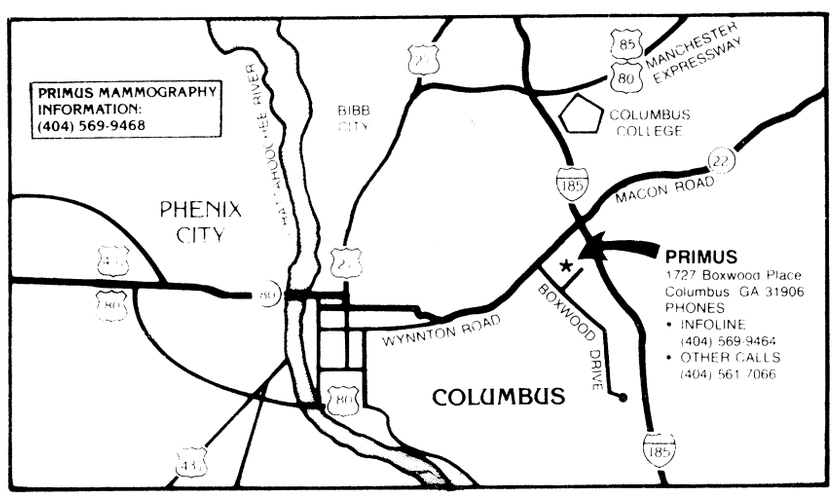
Other Fees Discussed On A Case By Case Basis.
$20.00 consultation fee paid in advance.
Payment terms arranged.
Quoted fees do not include court costs.

Mon. - Thurs. 5p.m. - 8p.m.
Sat. 9a.m. - 12p.m.
1224 Lockwood Avenue
(404) 596-1010
Located behind Wynnton Burger King

VISA MasterCard

PRIMUS

NEW ARMY PRIMUS CENTER PROVIDES WALK-IN MEDICAL CARE



PRIMUS Walk-In centers are a new approach to providing military beneficiaries access to primary health care. PRIMUS Columbus will be open 365 days each year—from 0700 to 2000 weekdays and from 0900 to 1600 Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays (Effective 10-1-88).

No appointment is necessary and there is no cost to patients for treatment and medication.

All military beneficiaries, including family members, entitled to care at military treatment facilities and enrolled in the DEERS are eligible for care. Basic laboratory and X-ray services are provided on site. Licensed and credentialed physicians and staff provide medical care.

PRIMUS Columbus is located at
1727 Boxwood Place
Columbus, GA 31906

Infoline: (404) 569-9464
Other Calls: (404) 561-7066

PRIMUS Mammography Information: (404) 569-9468

Critically ill or seriously injured patients should go to a hospital emergency room.
Services are provided by PHP Healthcare Corporation, Alexandria, Virginia, under contract to the US Army Health Services Command.

Anniversary

LAST WEEK

Heavy Duty Washer — Heavy Duty Automatic Dryer
$860.00 For the pair
$29.99 mo.* *Payment based on 30 mo. Revolving Account

COMPLETE FISHER STEREO SYSTEM
ONLY $799.00 or 100 Watt Complete Fisher System
ONLY $31.00 Per Month
COMPLETE 100% FINANCING NO MONEY DOWN
HURRY OFFER EXPIRES IN 30 DAYS

RECLINER $199.00
Other styles to choose from

FREE FLORIDA VACATION!*
Receive 4 Nights & 3 Days Lodging at Disney World & 2 Nights & 2 days ($420.00 Value) at Daytona or Miami Beach FREE with a Major Purchase of $1400.00 or more. Ask for details at Wahlert's.
*(excludes transportation & food)

37" PHILCO BIG SCREEN TV
$1599 $56 mo.*
No money down and receive FREE 5 yr. warranty on parts and labor. ($300.00 Value)

NO FINANCE CHARGES FOR 12 MONTHS AVAILABLE
NO BALLOON PAYMENTS
NO MONEY DOWN
0% INTEREST
INSTANT CREDIT

YOUR CHOICE HALL TREE OR MAGAZINE RACK
YOUR CHOICE $12.99

BAKER'S RACK $29.99

PURCHASE SOFA FOR $449.99 or $25.00 mo.
& RECEIVE LOVESEAT FREE

Complete WATERBEDS
Complete with headboard, frame, mattress, liner, decking and heater. Everything you need but the water. $199.99
● FREE Delivery & Normal Set Up (Most Items)
● Revolving Charge Accounts Available
● 30 Month Revolving Account at 21% APR

● NO DOWN PAYMENT
● 100 DAYS SAME AS CASH
● NO INTEREST OR PAYMENT TILL APRIL 89 (with approved credit)

WAHLER'S HOME CENTER
M-F 10-8, Sat. 10-6
687-0397
687-0396
TRAFFIC CIRCLE SHOPPING CENTER
VICTORY DRIVE
With one of these valid credit cards, you may qualify for $4000.00 "INSTANT CREDIT".

SFC charged with cocaine use

Staff Judge Advocate's Office

A sergeant first class, assigned to Headquarters and Headquarters Company, U.S. Army Infantry Training Center, was tried and convicted by a special court-martial for illegal use of cocaine March 13 when the results of a urinalysis determined that he had been using the drug.

The prosecution's evidence against SFC. Tommy E. Jackson, who was tried before a panel of officer and enlisted members, consisted of the unit's alcohol and drug coordinator, the test observer and a laboratory analyst for a testing company.

The witness's uncontradicted testimony showed that on Sept. 21, 1988, Jackson provided a urine sample to unit personnel authorized to collect the specimens. Those personnel followed proper procedures in the taking, observing, storing and transferring the specimen taken. The test observer specifically saw Jackson provide a sample. Both SFC Jackson and the observer placed their initials on the bottle holding the sample.

Dr. David Kuntz, associate director of Northwest Toxicology Inc., testified that his company received the bottle and performed scientific tests to determine if drug use was present. He told the court that Jackson's sample clearly established that he used cocaine.

After the government presentation, the defense argued that someone with Jackson's good, 16-year military record would not use drugs.

The panel found Jackson guilty of a violation of Article 112a, Uniform Code of Military Justice.

The military jury, in closed deliberations, voted to impose the sentence of reduction to the grade of E-4 and forfeiture of $500 for six months. This federal conviction will remain on Jackson's military and civilian records for the rest of his life.

197th soldier pleads guilty to AWOL charge

Staff Judge Advocate's Office

A soldier from 197th Infantry Brigade here pleaded guilty before a General Court-Martial to a charges of absence without leave, violation of a lawful order and distribution of marijuana, March 15.

Evidence showed that PFC Erik B. Reynolds, Company C, 1st Battalion, 58th Infantry, 197th Infantry Brigade (Mechanized) (Separate), distributed $300 worth of marijuana to undercover Military Police investigators.

Then, while deployed with his unit on a REFORGER exercise, Reynolds went AWOL for about 10 hours.

When he was returned to military control, he was in civilian clothes and had been drinking. Both of these actions violated orders given to the unit prior to the exercise.

Reynolds was sentenced to a dishonorable discharge, reduction to the grade of E-1, total forfeitures and confinement for 18 months.

ASK THE JUDGE

By Deborah B. Montgomery
Staff Judge Advocate's Office

Q. I have a problem, perhaps you can help. Last night, I had a few guests at my house. After they left, I discovered my automatic bank teller card was missing.

At first, I didn't worry about it, but then I remembered that my personal identification number was written on the back of the card.

The next morning I went to the bank to inquire about my balance. It appears that someone beat me to the bank and withdrew all of the money from my account. Will you explain the EFT system? Can I get any of my money back?

A: The EFT card you mentioned is short for Electronic Fund Transfer. The EFT card is inserted into an automated teller machine to get cash, to make deposits, to pay bills or to transfer funds from one account to another electronically.

To gain access to an account, one must use a personal identification number or "PIN." This means you should never keep your card and PIN together. Preferably, the PIN should be memorized and destroyed.

With an EFT card, your liability for unauthorized withdrawals is generally limited to $50. However, you must notify the financial institution that issued the card within two business days after you discover the loss or theft of your card.

If you follow this procedure, you will be responsible for only the first $50. If you do not follow this procedure, you could be responsible for up to $500, and if not reported with 60 days, you could have unlimited responsibility for all withdrawals.

In a situation where you don't realize unauthorized withdrawals have been made until it shows up on your monthly statement, you must report the error within 60 days after receiving the statement to limit your losses to $50.

If you wait until after 60 days to report the errors you will be responsible for all amounts of unauthorized withdrawals occurring after the 60 day period, plus $50.

Remember, keep your EFT card and PIN separately, report all lost or stolen cards or PINs to the financial institution immediately and never neglect to look carefully at your monthly statement.

HOUSING LIST

Family Housing List
as of March 27

Jr. NCO-2 BR ..... Jan. 23, 1988
Jr. NCO-3 BR ..... March 6, 1988
Jr. NCO-4 BR ... March 14, 1989
Jr. NCO-5 BR ..... May 21, 1987
Sr. NCO-3 BR ..... Nov. 19, 1988
Sr. NCO-4 BR ..... Feb. 3, 1989
Sr. NCO-5 BR ..... Dec. 8, 1988
CGr. Off-2 BR .. March 22, 1989
CGr. Off-3 BR .... March 9, 1989
CGr. Off-4 BR .. March 13, 1989
FG Off-3 BR ..... Jan. 15, 1988
FG Off-4 BR ..... Dec. 23, 1987
[illegible] Off-3 BR ..... Immediate
[illegible] Off-4 BR ..... Immediate

[illegible]using the following procedure, soldiers on the family housing waiting list can use this chart to estimate when they can expect quarters:

Locate your category of housing.

Note eligibility date located on the same line as your category.

Calculate the time difference between the eligibility date listed and your eligibility date. The difference is the approximate time you still have to wait for housing.

EXAMPLE: If the latest eligibility date of the person who last received housing in your category was May 15, 1988, and your date of eligibility is Sept. 15, 1988, you can expect housing in about four months. If you do not know your eligibility date, contact the Family Housing Office at building 399, 545-3107.

VA Q&A

Department of Veteran Affairs

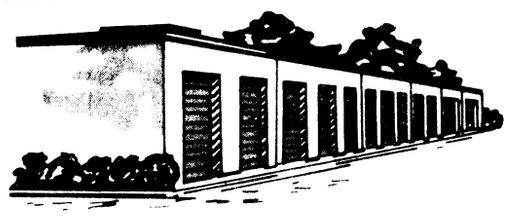
Q — Is there a toll-free number for the Department of Veterans Affairs Insurance Center?

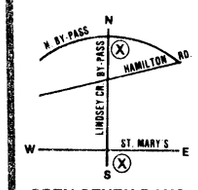
A — Yes. You can call the VA Insurance Center at 1-800-422-8079 if you have any questions regarding your insurance policy.

Q — Can I use my VA-guaranteed home loan to buy land on which I plan to build a house in the future?

A — A VA-guaranteed loan cannot be used to buy undeveloped land unless it is part of a package that includes the building of your home.

Q — I receive education benefits from VA. Can I set up a direct deposit of those checks?





A — No. Only compensation and pension benefits can be directly deposited to a personal bank account.

AIRBORNE QUARTERLY, A Voice of DUTY, HONOR, COUNTRY is a magazine of the United States airborne world: the spirit, the place in history of a service to a great nation, adventure and saga, the untold stories, hobbies, life styles, outlooks and community services. Read a page of memorable and inspiring history - this page could be yours.

AIRBORNE QUARTERLY is published 4 times a year.
PREMIERE ISSUE, SPRING 1988
SUBSCRIPTION RATE: 1 year $12.00, 2 years $20.00, 3 years $27.00 (USA)
Mail subscription to: Airborne Quarterly, P.O. Box 60702, Palo Alto, CA 94306.

AUTO STORAGE WAREHOUSE
• SPRINKLER
• BURGLAR ALARM
• INSULATED
by MONTH or YEAR
ALLIED BONDED WHSE.
4301 ALLIED DR.
COLUMBUS (404) 687-0222

DIVORCE..... $195 (simple uncontested)
BANKRUPTCY.. $295 Personal-No Assets-Chp. #7
ADOPTION..... $195 (all parties consent)
NAME CHANGE.. $125 (no contest)
WILL..... $45 (simple)
DUI..... $195 (first-Nolo Plea)
plus court cost
LAW OFFICES OF
GARY I. KLEPAK
563-9333
2953 Mimosa St.
(Across from Sears Auto Center—Cols. Sq. Mall)

WEATHERS SELF STORAGE
LOCALLY OWNED AND OPERATED
RESIDENTIAL COMMERCIAL

* YOU DEMAND TOP SECURITY
* YOU EXPECT PROFESSIONAL MANAGERS
* YOU REQUIRE CLEANLINESS
* YOU DESIRE COURTESY
* YOU WANT CONVENIENCE
* YOU NEED GOOD PRICES
ALL CONVENIENT SIZES AVAILABLE!

OPEN SEVEN DAYS A WEEK
8:00 AM — 10:00 PM
TWO LOCATIONS
322-7555
6165 HAMILTON RD.
689-8787
313 FORD DR.
LINDSEY CREEK BY-PASS @ ST. MARY'S RD.

Steve's Check Casher
Do you need a check cashed?
Come visit the Money Man.
WE CASH THEM ALL
$ INCOME TAX RETURN CHECKS
$ PERSONAL CHECKS
$ Payroll
$ Out of State
$ Two Party
$ Money Orders
$ Tax Checks
$ Insurance Checks
$ Insurance Drafts
$ Government Checks
$ Western Union
$ Cashier Checks

ALL TYPES
Let Us Handle All Your Check Cashing Needs!
3949 Victory Station Shopping Center
Suite 2 Next to Blimpie's
Come by and visit With Us Today or Call
689-8335
HOURS: M-F 10-7, Sat. 10-5

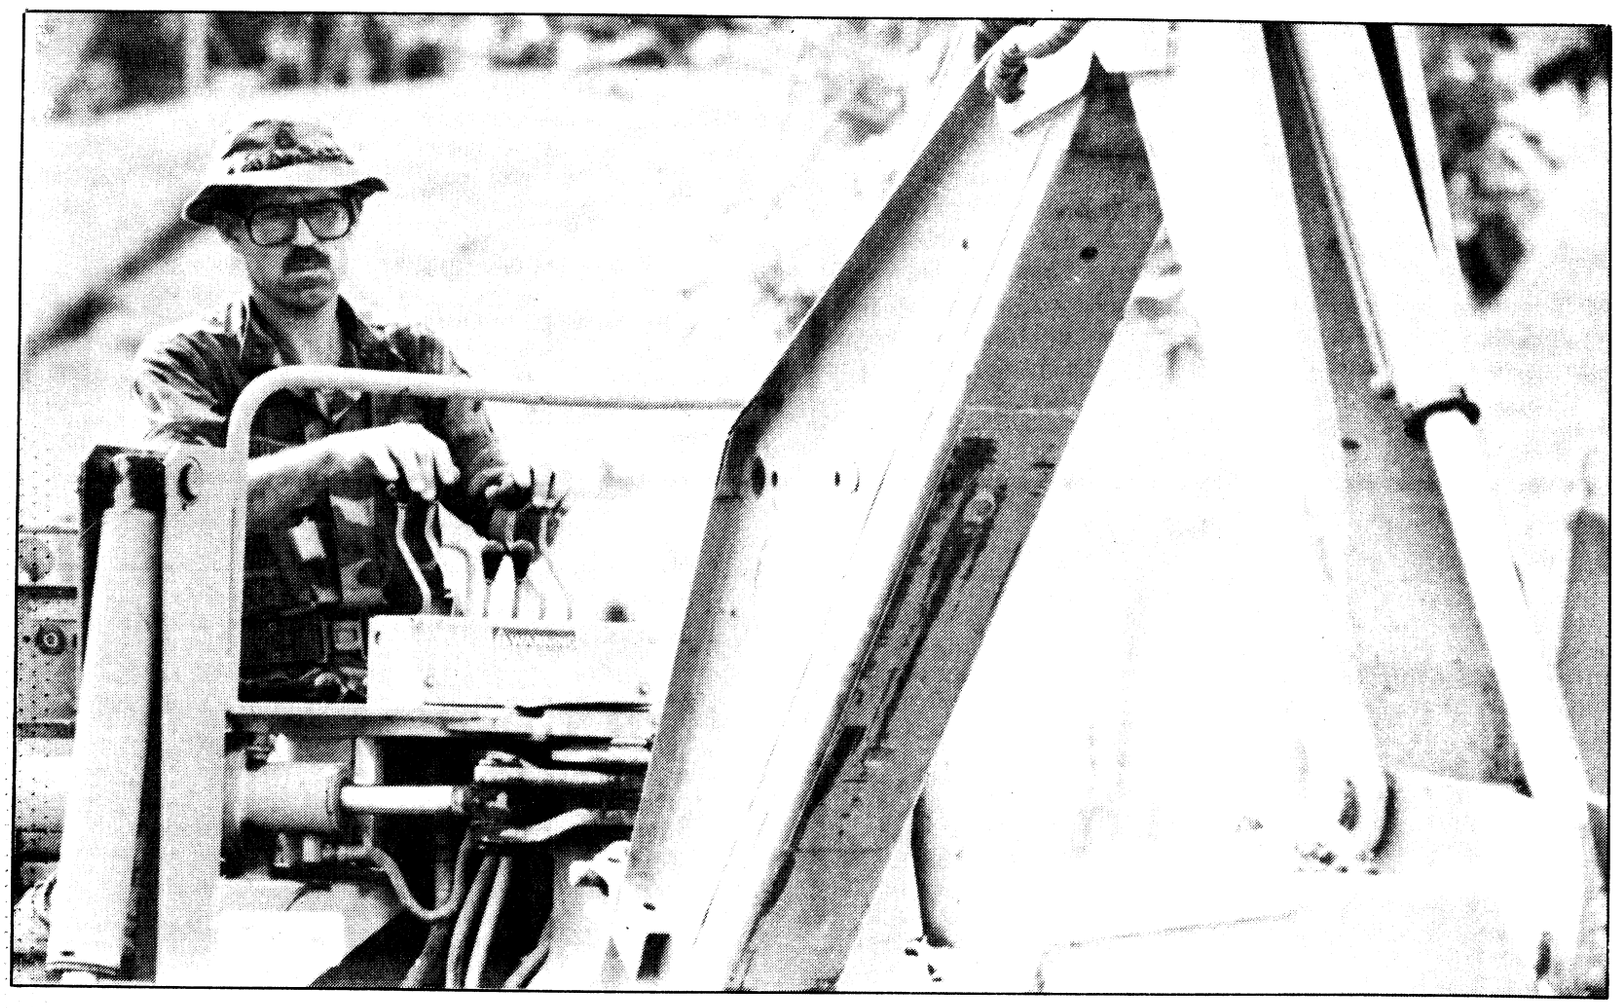
Airborne! Pack Some Class...!
Carry The FirstHonor℠ VISA® Credit Card!
Apply Today!

★ Up to $10,000 line of credit
★★ Worldwide acceptance at over 4 million locations
★ A unique design created specially to honor the Airborne.

FirstHonor℠ VISA® Card Application
Active duty applicants must provide most recent Leave & Earnings Statement.
Self-employed must provide evidence of income.
All applications subject to credit review and approval. Minimum household monthly income of $1,200.00 required.
(Check One) ☐ Navy ☐ Marines ☐ Airborne
Please Print or indicate N/A, as appropriate. This is to be: ☐ An individual account ☐ A joint account
Attach Leave & Earnings Statement Here

Applicant Information
BANK/TITLE (if desired on card) | FIRST NAME | MI | LAST NAME | SOCIAL SECURITY NO | TELEPHONE NO | BIRTHDATE | ETS
PRESENT ADDRESS | CITY | STATE | ZIP | ☐ OWN ☐ RENT ☐ BUYING ☐ BEQ BOU ☐ BARRACKS ☐ GOVT QTRS | PAY GRADE/POSITION | MONTHLY INCOME $
EMPLOYER | ADDRESS | CITY | STATE | ZIP | TELEPHONE NO | OTHER INCOME $ | SOURCE

Co-Applicant/Spouse/Former Spouse
FIRST NAME, MI, LAST NAME | PRESENT ADDRESS | CITY | STATE | ZIP | RELATIONSHIP | BIRTHDATE | SOCIAL SECURITY NO
PRESENT POSITION | PRESENT EMPLOYERS NAME AND ADDRESS | BUSINESS TELEPHONE NO | HOW LONG? | MONTHLY INCOME $



Applicant's Checking and Savings Accounts
BANK/SAVINGS AND LOAN | CITY AND STATE | CHECKING ACCOUNT NO | SAVINGS ACCOUNT NO | SAVINGS BONDS ☐ Yes ☐ No
IDENTIFY ALLOTMENT TO FINANCIAL INSTITUTION | NAME OF FINANCIAL INSTITUTION | ADDRESS | TYPE ACCOUNT | PAYMENT/BALANCE $ $

Signatures
For the purpose of obtaining credit from the bank issuing the FirstHonor VISA Card, the undersigned jointly and severally, represent that the above statements are true and complete, authorize the bank, or its agents to verify them and obtain additional information concerning our credit standing and furnish the same to others, and agree to the provisions of the bank's Credit Card Regulations which will be furnished to us.

CREDIT CARD DISCLOSURE: Annual Percentage Rate: 17.9 percent. Annual Membership Fee: $20.00. Grace Period: No finance charge on purchases if balance is paid in full by payment due date. If payment in full is not received by payment due date, finance charges accrue from posting date. Cash advances accrue interest from posting date. Transaction Charges: Cash Advances: $2.00 per each cash advance. Late Charges: $2.00 per each late payment. Copying: $10.00 per hour for research, $2.25 per copy of draft. Balance Calculation Method: Average daily balance.

APPLICANTS SIGNATURE DATE | CO-APPLICANTS SIGNATURE (Required for joint accounts) DATE
BANK USE ONLY | DATE | LIMIT | NO. CARDS | OFF. SIG | ACCT. NO
Mail to: Credit Card Dept., P.O. Box 7608, Macon, GA 31209 For Information, Call 1-800-777-2413.
BAYONET 4033

UNIT NEWS

Greg Markley

SFC Jeff Stone of Co. A., 43rd Eng. Bn., operates a backhoe at one of the bridge-building sites on Costa Rica's remote Osa Peninsula.

Engineers build bridges in Costa Rica

By Greg Markley
U.S. Army South PAO

CAMP RUGGED SEAHORSE, Costa Rica — Rome may not have been built in a day, but Camp Rugged Seahorse was turned from grazing ground into a military compound in less than three weeks.

During the bridge-building exercise, "Camino de la Paz '89," which is expected to end around May 15, the 43rd Engineers will build seven Bailey bridges on the isolated Osa Peninsula. (A Bailey is a durable metal structure put together like an erector set.)

Logistical, signal, medical and aviation support is being provided by a Logistical Support Detachment, composed of elements from U.S. Army South, Fort Clayton, Panama, and the 16th Field Service Company, Fort Lee, Va.

The focus of efforts is at the work sites outside the base camp, located on the Osa Peninsula between the communities of Barrigones and Puerto Jimenez.

This story is about a half dozen cogs in the big green machine — six soldiers who came together one day to finish the initial pile driving at the Rincon River where a 260-foot, double-span bridge will emerge over the next two months. The six are assigned to Headquarters Service Company, 43rd Engineer Battalion, 36th Engineer Group.

A sergeant who is a mechanic said that the first few weeks he was here were good in one sense, but that the new phase has its merits, too.

"Before the motor pools were established, we did it all — fixed brakes, repaired transmissions, etc. Now, we are helping with actual bridge work," he said.

Spec. William A. Biello is a motor transport operator, a "truck driver" in laymen's terms. His role includes driving 20-ton dump trucks to build buffers and a ramp, and he said he has learned a lot already.

"Driving here has been a challenge, but if you drive slowly and carefully, you will have no problems. Building the base camp was tiresome but still a good experience. We are on the bridge sites all day, and we are making a lot of progress."

Spec. Donald McNichol is a drafter/surveyor. He was part of the team that arrived in Costa Rica Jan. 9 to survey the seven bridge sites. He will almost certainly be on hand for the final surveys in May.

"The initial surveys were time-consuming," McNichol said. "We had to check out what was possible and why. Later, when the Baileys are laid in, we will have to supervise the piecing together of metal parts. The usual standard is plus or minus three inches, but on this project, the goal is within a quarter-inch of a perfect setting. We will do it right, of course, but we will have to be careful."

Another surveyor, Spec. Marvin Reed said, "Normally, when the piles go up at bridge sites, our job is done until the Bailey is set in place. Here, though, we are keeping busy with other aspects of bridge work."

Spec. Scott Davis noted that a lot of welding is involved in each pile. "When you have sixteen piles to put up, with four diamonds in each one, that's a lot of welding. It's good training, that's for sure."

Supervising, not welding, is what brought SFC Jose L. Candelario to the Rincon site — that, and his interpreting skills. Candelario, of Puerto Rico, is culminating more than 20 years in Army engineering with the project. "I'm retiring soon (in about nine months)," Candelario said. "We are putting piles in at a rate of one-half a bridge a day. The troops are receiving good training on the pile driving and carpentry. And the Costa Ricans were helpful because they have some good equipment, and they are smart."

Candelario said residents of the Osa Peninsula, who are often separated from the families and farms during the rainy season, "are crazy about us building the bridges, especially the big ones, Rincon and El Tigre. They can't wait for the bridges to be completed."

Costa Rican people welcome engineers

By Marco Valverde
U.S. Information Service

OSA PENINSULA, Costa Rica — "Those bridges that the North American engineers are going to build . . . it's incredible. It seems like I'm still dreaming, because nothing like this has ever happened in my life. This is the greatest thing that has ever happened to the town I live in."

This is the way a very emotional Santiago Overes, a resident of Puerto Jimenez, expresses himself about the bridges being constructed in this area of Costa Rica by engineers of the 36th Engineer Group from Fort Benning, Ga.

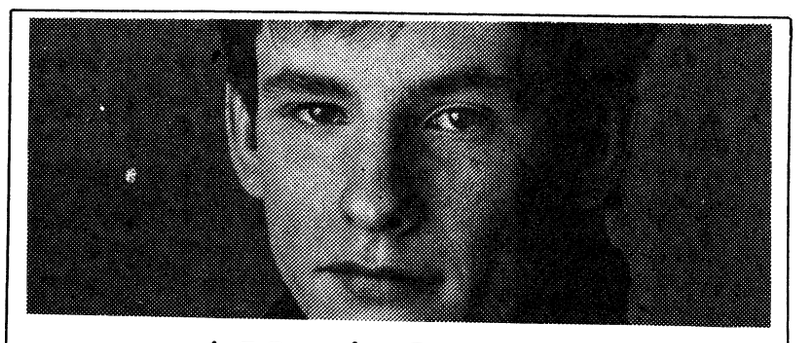
This year, as in three previous years, the Costa Rican government invited U.S. Army engineers to work with Costa Rican institutions to construct bridges and roads. Seven bridges and 3.2 kilometers of one-lane road will be built for the small communities located on the Osa Peninsula between the Rincon River and Puerto Jimenez.

The residents of these communities lack the economic resources to undertake a massive project such as the one the Army engineers are doing. "We feel proud to have the North American engineers here," said Ovares. "We would never in our lives have been able to build these bridges — not the government, nor us."

A road was built on the Osa Peninsula two decades ago, but it didn't solve all transportation problems for residents. During the rainy season, which lasts most of the year, the communities are frequently completely cut off from the rest of the country because of the flooding of area rivers.

"We have suffered a great deal," said Andres Murillo, president of the Osa Peninsula Development Association. "The rainy season has a negative effect on tourism, and the general commerce and development of our region have been stymied by the flooding rivers that have kept us from making regular trips to the urban commercial markets.

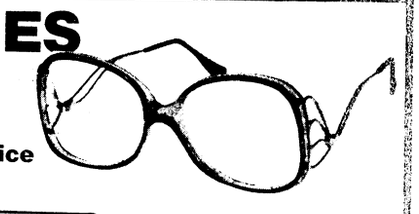
"Because of this we are very grateful to the U.S. government for having accepted our invitation to construct seven bridges in our region. When the engineers are gone, they will be remembered in the hearts of each and every citizen of the Osa Peninsula. We'll have very kind memories of them forever."



Greg Markley

A welder works on the base of a pile for one of seven bridges being built by the 43rd Eng. Bn. on Costa Rica's Osa Peninsula.

United Services Life Companies
Investments-Life Insurance-Financial Planning
Jim Cotty
4034 Windtree Lane
568-7280
Lawrence P. Fulton, CLU
LTC US ARMY (RET)
596-8033
United Services Life Companies
United Services Life Insurance Co.
United Services Equities, Inc.
Members of USLICO Corporation
The Professionals!
Investment products distributed by USLICO Securities Corp., Arlington, VA.



INCOME TAX
Open: M-F 8AM-8PM, Sat. 8AM-5PM, Sun. 1PM-5PM
Drop Off or One Stop Service Available
- All States Prepared (1982-1988)
- Open All Year
- Military Welcome
- Rates Starting at $15.00

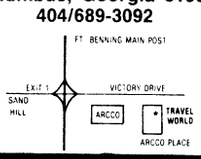
STEVE BROWN
NOW LOCATED IN
ARCCO PLACE
4393 Victory Dr. 689-7734

A Man's Gotta Do
What A Man's Gotta Do
All young men have one responsibility in common. They have to register with Selective Service within 30 days of their 18th birthday. It's quick. It's easy. And it's the law.
A public service message of this publication and Selective Service System.

EYE GLASSES
40% to 50% OFF
Buy One Pair At Regular Price
Get The 2nd Free

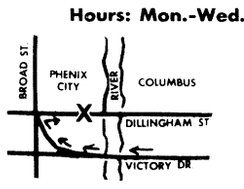
CONTACTS
TINTED EXTENDED
SOFT $39.95 with care kit
WEAR $89.95 with care kit
DURA SOFT 3 $149.95 with care kit
EYE EXAMS $20
324-2073
1140 13th Street
(Near Southern Bell)
eyewear UNLIMITED

NEW LOW AIRFARES
Atlanta Roundtrip To:



Frankfurt	Munich	Brussels	London
$560 Thru 30 Apr.	$580 Thru 30 Apr.	$449 27 Apr.-31 May	$358 2 Apr.-27 Apr.
$660 1 May-30 May	$695 1 May-30 May	$719 1 June-30 Sep.	$408 28 April-6 June
$759 1 June-14 June	$779 1 June-14 June

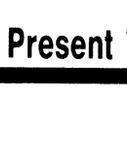
*Certain Restrictions/Taxes Apply to These Fares
*Some Blackout Dates Exist



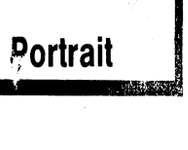
TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
3115 Mercury Drive
Columbus, GA 31906
404/563-8687

4393 Victory Dr.
ARCCO Place
Columbus, Georgia 31903
404/689-3092

NEW BONUSES NEED CASH TODAY? NEW BONUSES
Save lives and earn money by donating your time at one of the finest Plasma Facilities in the country.
New & Donors who have not donated in SIX MONTHS RECEIVE $7.00 BONUS with this ad.
Bring a Buddy & RECEIVE AN EXTRA $5.00
Additional Bonus on 6th & 8th Donations
EARN $10.00 AND ABOVE ON EACH VISIT
RIVERFRONT PLASMA CENTER
507 Dillingham St. - Phenix City
297-5711
Hours: Mon.-Wed.-Fri. 7-3:30 - Tues. & Thurs. 7-6:30



CONVENIENT EVENING HOURS FOR BENNING PERSONNEL
EARN OVER $100 PER MONTH



Steve's PHOTO UNLIMITED

FREE
"FILM FOR LIFE"*
(with purchase of program)
Guaranteed Financing
Call 689-8337 to receive details on our program which features Top of the Line Merchandise Supplies.
- Sharp & Chinon Cameras
- Magnavox VCR's
- Zoom Lens & Flash Attachments
- Stewart Kern Photo Albums
- Wholesale Developing

3949 Victory Station Shopping Center
Suite 2 - Next to Blimpies
Mon.-Sat. 12-9
689-8337
Present This Ad For a Free 8x10 Color Portrait

Ann McDonald

Sgt. Ronald Kristensen, a student at the TOW Trainer Course, 2nd Bn., 29th Inf. Regt., sights in on the target downrange at Carmouche Range.

29th Inf. Regiment's TOW training teaches soldiers about weapon system

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Another group of students recently graduated from 2nd Battalion, 29th Infantry Regiment's Tube-launched, Optically tracked, Wire command-guided training course and are going back to their units to apply the skills gained at the course.

In plain English, the soldiers just completed the TOW Trainer Course.

It's a four-week program designed to get company and junior grade officers and noncommissioned officers intimately familiar with the TOW system so they can show other soldiers how to use and train with it.

Nine instructors teach the course. It is broken down into two weeks of technical training; one week of maintenance and tactical operations and one week of multiple laser engagement system training and, of course, graduation — that is, if the students pass the final exams, said master trainer, SFC Charles Carde, Co. B, 2nd Bn., 29th Inf. He said they usually lose two at exam time.

During their final week of training, the group was at Carmouche Range, which is more than 15 miles from main post.

The men attached MILES equipment to improved TOW vehicles and high mobility multiple wheeled vehicles and prepared to fire the TOWs downrange.

> "The technical portion helped me brush up a lot."
> — Cpl. Eric Gay

The day began early for the principal instructor, SFC Larry Williams, who had been at the range since 6:45 a.m.

Prior to that, he had signed for and picked up more than $2 million in equipment.

"I have to be here an hour before the students arrive to make sure the range is ready," he said.

Carde said by the time the students reach the MILES phase of training, they have been trained to perform in each position in the ITV — squad leader, loader, driver and gunner and in the HMMWV — squad leader, driver/loader and gunner.

"They know these positions inside out," Carde said. "They are evaluated on each one."

Cpl. Eric Gay said that with the exception of the HMMWV and the technical portion, the rest of the classes were basically a refresher.

"The technical portion helped me brush up a lot. I'll be on top of everything when I get to my new unit," Gay said.

It was exactly the opposite for SFC Randy Griffiths who had only worked with HMMWVs and wasn't familiar with ITVs.

"I've always been in light infantry units, so I wasn't familiar with the ITV," Griffiths said.

"Now, if I ever get sent to a mech unit, I'll be prepared."

Sgt. Andre Bendimez found the MILES training most useful.

"I'll be able to conduct better training at my unit," Bendimez said, "because I'll be able to show everyone exactly how to use the MILES equipment."

Carde said Bendimez will get to take one more thing home with him, the Army skill identifier "Echo Niner."

32 soldiers earn Expert Infantryman's Badge

By By Cheryl K. Knott
29th Infantry Regiment correspondent

Thirty-two soldiers were awarded the Expert Infantryman's Badge by regimental commander, Col. John D. Fuller, at the Collins Training Center March 24.

"EIB training is the finest individual training a soldier can receive in a peace-time situation," said the 29th Infantry Regiment sergeant major, CSM Gary L. Cupit. "I didn't care if we gave one or fifty awards as long as the EIB standard was maintained."

Fuller presented a badge to each of the recipients then commended them for a job well done.

"The EIB test is difficult and demanding," he said. "It is mentally and physically taxing. These thirty-two soldiers have proved themselves as infantrymen."

PFC Bernie Fernandez, Company D, lst Battalion, 29th Inf. Regt., was the recipient with the least amount of time in service. At the time of the award, Fernandez had been in the Army just seven months.

"I wanted to prove to myself and my company that I could do it," Fernandez said.

At the other end of the spectrum was SFC Rocky Mitchell, BID, lst Bn., 29th Inf. Regt., with l4 years in the Army and two previous attempts for the EIB award.

"I was much more motivated this year," Mitchell said, "because I was trying to set the standard for my people."

He added, "The chain of command really supported the training, which enabled these soldiers to accomplish their goals of receiving this award."

"They deserved a badge of distinction as experts in their professions," Fuller said.

Cheryl Knott

Col. John D. Fuller pins on SSgt. Joseph Payne's Expert Infantryman's Badge.

◆ JVC ◆ KICKER ◆ PERCISION POWER

CREATIVE CAR STEREO

● SALES ● INSTALLATION
● SERVICE ● CUSTOM BUILT CABINETS

10% Off Any Purchase with this Ad. (Valid til 4-29-89)

3593 Victory Drive (across from Auto Shack) 689-3508

◆ PYLE ◆ BLAUPUNKT ◆ NIGHT STALKER ◆ SUNKYOUG

MEDICAL Careers

TO ADVERTISE IN THIS SECTION CALL: 1-800-344-2248

BECOME A PART OF A PROGRESSIVE TEAM COMMITTED TO

FAMILY PRACTICE

Midland Hospital Center, a 307-bed facility with a full range of specialty services, is seeking quality- and teamwork-oriented family physicians to join a dynamic health care system. This system consists of 12 subsidiaries including private practices, an urgent care center, and a Family Practice Residency Program which is one of the nation's oldest. The home of the world headquarters for the Dow Chemical Company and the Dow Corning Corporation, Midland offers a special quality of living for a city of 40,000, with excellent cultural, recreational, educational, and professional opportunities. Financial guarantees and benefit packages are outstanding. Send CV to Wilma Tysse, Physician Recruitment Coordinator, Midland Hospital Center, 4005 Orchard Drive, Midland, Michigan 48670 or call 1-800-444-6421.

MHC MIDLAND HOSPITAL CENTER

A Subsidiary of MID-MICHIGAN HEALTH CARE SYSTEMS, INC

MEDICAL CAREER OPTIONS
UNITED STATES

Hospital Recruiters, Inc., an international placement company has an exclusive contract with a consortium of 1,700 hospitals to recruit physicians, nurses, and technicians. We have orders throughout the U.S. and Hawaii, let us know your preference. Fees paid. To explore your options, send resumé in strict confidence to:

Hospital Recruiters, Inc.
"Exclusively Serving the Healthcare Industry"
Suite A • 17 Computer Drive East
Albany, New York 12205 • (518) 489-3844

The Johns Hopkins Hospital, situated on a campus-like setting amid the beautiful city of Baltimore, has opportunities for:

GENERAL DIAGNOSTIC RADIOLOGY TECHNOLOGISTS
- Newly Approved - Best Salaries in Area
- All shifts available - full & part - time
- Shift differentials - eves & weekends.

RADIATION THERAPY TECHNOLOGISTS
- Best Salary Range in Area
- Requires graduates of approved Radiation Therapy School & ARRT certification

Excellent salaries and outstanding benefits. Call Fred Geerken at (301) 955-5589, or send resume to: THE JOHNS HOPKINS HOSPITAL, 1830 East Monument Street, Room 241, Baltimore, MD 21205. An Equal Opportunity Employer

The Johns Hopkins Hospital
A Johns Hopkins Health System Member Institution

MEDICAL CAREER OPTIONS
SAUDI ARABIA

Physicians • Nurses • Technicians
Adventure, travel, high salaries, tax advantages and modern facilities await you in Saudi Arabia.
To explore these outstanding opportunities and receive complete information send resumé in strict confidence to:

Hospital Recruiters, Inc.
"Exclusively Serving the Healthcare Industry"
Suite C • 17 Computer Drive East
Albany, New York 12205
(518) 489-3844

Godfather's Pizza®

Airport Thruway at Whitesville Road
Near Family Mart
(404) 324-6240

Macon Road at I-185
Near Chickasaw Club
(404) 563-3088

UNDER NEW LOCAL OWNERSHIP!!

FREE DELIVERY

Limited Delivery Times and Areas
Drivers Carry Less Than $20
We Cater to Large Groups and Parties

DINNER BUFFET
Monday & Tuesday
6pm-8pm
$3.69 Per Person (Dine-in-only)
All The Pizza & Salad You Can Eat
Coupon good for up to 10 persons
Godfather's Pizza®
Present coupon when ordering
Not valid with any other coupon or offer.

LARGE COMBO PIZZA
$9.99 Reg. $12.95
New Golden Crust or Original
Our Most Mouth-Watering Pizza
(Pepperoni, Beef, Sausage, Onions, Mushrooms, Black Olives and Lots Of Cheese)
Godfather's Pizza®
Present coupon when ordering.
Not valid with any other coupon or offer.

TWO MEDIUM TWO TOPPINGS PIZZAS (Your Choice)
$9.99 Reg. $18.50
New Golden Crust or Original
Godfather's Pizza®
Present coupon when ordering
Not valid with any other coupon or offer.

BIG VALUE PARTY PACKAGE
6 Large 1 Topping PIZZAS
& 2 Six Packs Of Coke
$49.99
We Cater To Large Groups
Godfather's Pizza®
Present coupon when ordering.
Not valid with other coupon or offer

COMMUNITY

CLASSES

Nutrition — Army Community Service in conjunction with Martin Army Community Hospital is sponsoring nutrition classes the second and fourth Tuesday of each month from 2 to 3 p.m. in Soldiers' Plaza, building 2640. Participants will learn basic nutrition, including shopping for low-cost foods high in nutritional value. For more information, call 545-4043 or 545-HELP.

MISCELLANEOUS

Diabetes Treatment Program — The grand opening of the Diabetes Treatment Program, the first step in the development of the Life Style Center at Martin Army Community Hospital, is scheduled April 10 at 2 p.m. with a ribbon cutting ceremony on Ward 5B. The hospital commander, Col. Herb Segal, will preside at the ribbon cutting.

★

Job seeking workshop — The Family Member Employment Assistance Program will host a Job Seeking Strategies Workshop for youths, ages 12 and 21 April 19. The workshop will be held at the Youth Activities Center, building 1056 from 4 to 7 p.m. The workshop has been designed to assist Fort Benning youths in their job seeking efforts and to prepare them for the upcoming Youth Job Fair. Issues to be covered include seeking employment, interview techniques and proper dress for interviews and employment. Reservations to attend this free workshop can be made by calling the Family Member Employment Assistance Center at 545-5340/5176.

★

Kindergarten — If your child will be attending kindergarten at Fort Benning this fall, come to the Patch School Auditorium, corner of Baltzell Avenue and Lumpkin Road, Tuesday, 7 p.m., to find out more about it. This orientation is for parents only. For more information, call Gay Hitchcock, 687-2404.

★

Money management — Monetary matters in marriage, types of family financial crises, methods of financial management, money-stretching techniques and sources of additional revenue will be discussed at a seminar each Monday between Monday and April 24, 7 to 9 p.m., at the Pastoral Institute. The seminar will be led by Wayne Anthony, M. Div., M.B.A.

★

Immunization - The Pediatric Immunization Clinic has opened in the Well-Baby Clinic for children two years old or younger. The clinic is conducted and immunizations are given by appointment only every Tuesday, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., and Friday, 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. For more information, call the Well-Baby Clinic at 544-4777. For appointments, call 544-1086/1087/1088.

★

Free income tax preparation — The American Association of Retired Persons is offering free income tax preparation to people with low to moderate incomes. This service will be provided by trained tax counselors until April 14 at the following locations.

Brown Nicholson Terrace Apartments., 1313 14th Street each Thursday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

South Columbus Senior Center, 1441 Benning Drive each Tuesday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Edgewood Senior Center, 2630 Reese Road each Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The Old North Highlands Assembly of God Church, corner of 38th Street and 5th Avenue each Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Shut-ins will also be provided assistance. Call Margaret Whitehead, RSVP Office, 324-4347.

★

"Hell on Wheels" reunion — Veterans of the 2nd Armored Division and attached units are invited to a "Hell on Wheels" reunion May 24 through 27 at the Columbus Hilton Hotel. For more information, call Loren Guge at (904)596-6834.

★

Uchee Creek Recreation Area — The Uchee Creek Recreation Area is gearing up for spring. The campground has five fully self-contained Scotty campers on site and available for rental. These campers feature heating and air conditioning, a three-burner stove and a refrigerator. It will comfortably sleep four campers. A rental fee of $17 per night will include a campsite, propane, water and electricity. There are 30 campsites at the recreation area that feature water, electricity. They rent for $5 per night. The camping area has a centralized dump station. The following tents and campers may be rented from the Equipment Checkout Center:

* 9 by 12 foot tent, $5 per day
* Pop up camper (sink & stove/sleeps 4), $10 per day or $50 per week
* 14-foot Scotty camper (air conditioning/heater/ice box/stove/sleeps 4), $12 per day or $60 per week
* 17-foot, fully self-contained (air conditioning/heating/refrigerator/stove/shower/sleeps 6), $17 per day or $100 per week

The Uchee Creek Recreation Area can be contacted at 545-4053 Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. (MWR)

★

U-Haul — U-Haul trailers, vans and assorted equipment are available for rent at the Fort Benning Equipment Checkout Center. The following equipment is available: (10 percent off with a military identification card.

* 6 by 12 foot trailers
* 5 by 8 foot van trailers
* 4 by 6 foot van trailers
* Tow bars
* Bumper hitches
* Car dollies
* Auto transports
* Pet carriers
* Tow dollies
* Furniture pads

Retail items include:

* Packing boxes
* Packing tape
* Bubble pack
* Styrofoam pack
* Hitch balls
* Hitch ball covers
* Light hookups installed

Prices vary depending upon the time and distance for which the rental is required. Call the Equipment Checkout Center at 545-7978 or 545-3504 to reserve your rentals Monday, Wednesday Thursday. (MWR)

RECREATION CENTERS

Instrument rentals — The Kelley Hill Recreation Center has several instruments for rent, from amplifiers to trumpets and just about everything in between. We offer daily, weekly and monthly fees. For more information, call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. at 544-1721/3079.

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteer — The following volunteer opportunities are available at Fort Benning:

● ACS needs a volunteer to operate a computer for a four-hour shift. Training will be provided. The volunteer will help when ACS takes its services to the Commissary April 24 through 28 to help patrons plan nutritious, low-cost meals.

● Several volunteers are needed by PALS (a program for children ages 7 through 15 from single parent families) to provide friendship, companionship and guidance to the children. ● ACS needs a volunteer leader. This position would be a good reference for management positions as the volunteer would supervise about 80 people.

● A writer is needed to produce monthly or bimonthly articles for The Bayonet about ACS. Make your own hours. Free child care is provided.

● The Infantry Museum needs artistic volunteers to help change the display. For more information on these opportunities or a listing of others, call Karen Crowley at the Volunteer Resource Center, 545-5602.

WIVES' CLUBS

International Wives' Club

Citizenship classes — The International Wives' Club is sponsoring citizenship classes beginning Wednesday, 7 p.m. at Building 2642, Collins Loop. Participants may register and begin classes the same day. For more information, call Olga Kelly at 687-6471.

NCO Wives' Club

Annual membership drive — The NCO Wives' Club will have its annual membership drive today, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the main Post Exchange. Membership is open to wives of all enlisted ranks. For more information, call S. Turner, 689-4312.

★

Regional Day — The NCO Wives' Club is planning a Regional Day April 7 and 8. The theme for the event is Country and Western. For more information, call S. Turner, 689-4312.

Officers' Wives' Club

School of Dance — The Officers' Wives' Club School of Dance offers the following classes for all military families, active duty, retired, officer or enlisted:

Ballet — Jane Frenkel	563-0294
Gymnastics — Kelly Cargill	563-8176
Karate — John Touchton	1-582-3117
Heartbeat Aerobics — Kathy Greene	682-9854
Tap and Jazz — Becky Jose	682-4219
Performing Arts — Libbie Kurinec	322-6942
Piano — Diane Swiecicki	297-6524
Guitar — Lewis Finn	563-0099

For those interested in a specific class, please call the instructor. For general information, call Delaura Gallatin, 689-9937.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES

Talent Show — Pre-registration for the second annual Month of the Military Child Talent Show continues. Competition is open to family members ages 6 - 18 of active duty, retired military and DoD civilians. Entry forms may be picked up at Youth Activities facilities on main post and McGraw and Indianhead Terrace family housing areas. Rehearsals begin April 21. All entry forms must be submitted to Youth Activities, building 1056, no later than one week prior to rehearsals. For more information, call 545-3070 or 545-3913.

★

Ballet classes — The Youth Activities Center still has a few vacancies for ballet classes. These classes are taught by a professional dance instructor and limited spaces are available. Call 545-3070 for an appointment. (MWR)

★

Swim Team — Sign up for the Youth Activities Swim Team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Monday through Thursday. The swim team is a year-round organization. Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for more information. (MWR)

DISCOUNTED AIR LINE TICKETS
30%-70% OFF
DOMESTIC/INTERNATIONAL
*Subject to availability and restrictions imposed by airlines.
TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
4393 VICTORY DRIVE
ARCCO PLACE
COLUMBUS, GA.
689-3092
FT BENNING MAIN POST
EXIT 1
VICTORY DRIVE
SAND HILL
Arcco
Travel World
Arcco Place

INTRODUCING
The Southeast's only Indoor PAINTBALL War Games. Pure Excitement! Money Back Guarantee.
KILL-SHOT, INC.
Call 685-0002 OPEN 10AM-12 Midnight Everyday
SHOOT OR BE SHOT AT KILL-SHOT
Visitors Welcome
Regular Players Save $2.00 with this ad when you buy 40 rounds.
Team players save $3.00 every time their team is scheduled to play.
Victory Drive
Fort Benning Road
Traffic Circle
Victory Drive
I-185
To Downtown
Del Taco
To Ft. Benning
Turn off Victory Drive at The Trust Company Bank (Shelby Drive) and take the first left (Phillips Street). Only 5 Min. from Ft. Benning.
VISA MILITARY CHECKS MASTERCARD

MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
32 HOUR SALE!
Sale ENDS Apr. 4th 6PM
ZENITH
25" Diagonal Remote Control Color TV
SE 2503 G
ONLY $499.95
Live REMOTE BROADCAST 11:00 To 2:00 OVER Foxie—105 FM
ZENITH
ZENITH'S 3-HEAD CABLE COMPATIBLE VHS HQ RECORDER VRE150
ONLY $349.95
MOVIE RENTALS 99¢
FREE GIFT JUST FOR COMING IN
HURRY-IN FOR GREAT VALUES!
19" DIAGONAL REMOTE CONTROL COLOR TV
MODEL 8-1932
ONLY $299.95
10% DOWN PAYMENT QUICK 'N E-Z FINANCING
Friedrich ROOM AIR CONDITIONERS
STARTING AS LOW AS $25.00 Per Month
ZENITH VHS HQ Camcorder
Only $1095.00 WITH CASE
With auto focus & power zoom ● VM7050 ● Highly sensitive ½" CCD for superior color and sharper details.
matching home laundry pair
LARGE CAPACITY WASHER!
HOTPOINT SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR YOUR MONEY BACK!
WASHER Model WLW 1500B DRYER Model DLB 1550B
Save $111.00
ONLY $688.00
FREE DELIVERY& NORMAL INSTALLATION!
compact family-size refrigerator
$28.00 Per Month
● 13.9 cu. ft. refrigerator ● manual defrost control ● full-width vegetable bin ● butter compartment ● 2 easy release ice trays ● egg pockets on door ● deep door shelves for tall bottles.
Model SSD14CK
*90-day refund or exchange option direct from Hotpoint.
large capacity refrigerator
$53.00 Per Month With Icemaker
ON-THE-SPOT FINANCING!
E-Z TERMS
TRADE-INS TAKEN!
● 17.7 cu. ft. no-frost refrigerator ● adjustable shelves ● equipped for optional icemaker ● Six-pack door shelf ● energy-saver switch ● meat pan, twin vegetable/fruit pans ● textured steel doors show no fingerprints.
*90 day refund exchange option direct from Hotpoint. side-by-side icemaker refrigerator
$60.00 Per Month With Icemaker
● 19.6 cu. ft. side-by-side refrigerator-freezer ● rolls-out on wheels ● automatic energy saver system ● rugged Trilon II door liners ● textured doors.
Model CSX20LJ
*90-day refund or exchange option direct from Hotpoint.
WE MAKE IT QUICK 'N E-Z TO BUY
MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
BANK FINANCING
You Don't Need A Lot Of Money, Just A Little Bit A Month
INSTANT CREDIT
HRS: 9AM-6PM MON.-SAT.
2039 FT. BENNING ROAD
687-8249

Need Auto Insurance?
Call the Military Specialists
• Low down payment
• Money-saving deductibles
• Affordable payment plan
• 24-hour claim service
CALL TODAY
689-2787
2029 S. Lumpkin Road
Oakland Park Shopping Center
GET TO KNOW
GEICO

VISA CARDS ARE HERE!
VISA
COMPARE the terms of your Credit Union with the market and you'll make the switch.
$8.00 Annual Fee
15% Annual Percentage Rate
25 Day Grace Period
2786 Eckel Street
Fort Benning, GA 31905
682-0830
TIC FEDERAL CREDIT UNION
Offer to eligible members only.
4811 Bankers Blvd.
Columbus, GA 31904
324-5288

BIRTHS

Martin Army Community Hospital

GIRLS

Shelby Elouria Carter — Born Feb. 7 to CWO 3 Darrell R. and Sonja G. Carter.

Hillary Marie Shepard — Born Feb. 16 to 2nd Lt. Mark L. and Donna R. Shepard.

Katherine Jean Binder — Born Feb. 17 to 2nd Lt. Martin G. and Gaile S. Binder.

Emily Ross Taggart — Born Feb. 24 to Capt. David and Ronnie Taggart.

Rachel Jean Croy — Born Feb. 25 to Spec. David R. and Julie Croy.

Maria Elizabeth Hatcher — Born Feb. 26 to Sgt. Dennis L. and Rosa D. Hatcher.

Sarah Katalyn Reid — Born Feb. 28 to SFC John C. and Donna Reid.

Estella DeLonta Evelyn Square — Born Feb. 28 to Sgt. Olando and Vickie M. Square.

Jessica Lynn Mitchell — Born March 1 to SFC Rocky and Catherine Mitchell.

Chaunika Nashae Major — Born March 3 to Spec. Walter and Cheryl Major.

Robin Shenay Henson — Born March 5 to Spec. Sam Jr. and Diane L. Henson.

Brittany Kiara Daise — Born March 6 to Spec. Lamont and Teresa Daise.

Emily Arlene Jackson — Born March 6 to Sgt. David A. and Dawn M. Jackson.

Lindsay Dawn Mackert — Born March 6 to Spec. Eric L. and Diana D. Mackert.

Nateisha D. and Naeisha D. Dean — Born March 7 to MSgt. Herman D. and Alice J. Dean.

Kelly Diane Cain — Born March 9 to Capt. Ronald and Laurie Cain.

Amanda Renea Wagner — Born March 9 to Spec. George J. III and Addie B. Wagner.

Tywanda Angel Groce — Born March 11 to Sgt. Tyrone A. Sr. and Ruthie A. Groce.

Haley Elizabeth Harris — Born March 11 to Capt. Kevin D. and F. Elizabeth Harris.

Ashley Yvonne Twitty — Born March 11 to 1st Lt. Stephen M. and Lori Y. Twitty.

Christina Marie Peggins — Born March 12 to Spec. Christopher and Sheila M. Peggins.

Yaristsis Natalie Sepulueda — Born March 12 to Spec. Jose A. and Lourdes R. Sepulueda.

Roxanne Elisa Stehlik — Born March 13 to Capt. Mike J. and Martha Stehlik.

Jessica Lorraine Allen — Born March 16 to SSgt. Richard L. and Lila Allen.

Julie Rebecca Walters — Born March 17 to Sgt. Joseph and Mary Walters.

Amanda Yvonne Buck — Born March 18 to Cpl. Brian S. and PFC Annette Y. Buck.

Christina Elizabeth Jones — Born March 21 to Spec. Christopher and Carolyn Jones.

BOYS

Taylor Michael Phillips — Born Feb. 18 to SSgt. Henry M. and Rhonda A. Phillips.

Jeffrey Arnold Jr. — Born Feb. 21 to Spec. Jeffrey and Tonya M. Arnold.

Kevin Andrew Clark — Born Feb. 22 to 1st Lt. Brian M. and 2nd Lt. Lisa M. Clark.

Bryson Eric Gallegos — Born Feb. 23 to Spec. James E. and Janice Yvonne Gallegos.

Chris Allen Schulenberg — Born Feb. 23 to PFC Ronald A. and Tammy L. Schulenberg.

Zachary Taylor Park — Born Feb. 24 to 2nd Lt. Robert L. and Michelle R. Park

Michael D. Wilborn Jr. — Born Feb. 25 to Pvt. 2 Michael D. and Earline Wilborn.

Zachary Jon Simpson — Born Feb. 26 to PFC Dale R. and Laura L. Simpson.

Samontini Lanier Abbott — Born Feb. 27 to Sgt. Dwayne and Sheila Abbott.

Anthony Tirrell Ford — Born March 1 to Spec. Walter E. and Coetta Ford.

James Lee Lacy — Born March 1 to SSgt. Anthony S. and Yon O. Lacy.

David Michael Powell Jr. — Born March 1 to 1st Lt. David Michael and Eileen S. Powell.

Kevin Robert Benson Jr. — Born March 3 to Kevin R. and Sherry L. Benson.

Michael Alexander Rush — Born March 3 to Sgt. Stephen A. and Gabriele.

Andrew Anthony Jones — Born March 4 to 2nd Lt. Anthony R. and Lorna D. Jones.

Michael Edward Chavis — Born March 5 to SSgt. Mike E. Jr. and Maria L. Chavis.

Terry Lee Davis Jr. — Born March 5 to Sgt. Terry L. and Cheryl L. Davis.

Joshua Michael Justice — Born March 5 to Michael and SSgt. Diane Justice.

Robert Alexis Rivera — Born March 5 to Sgt. Juan R. and Ana J. Rivera.

Ryan Matthew Baker — Born March 6 to SSgt. Daniel and Susan L. Baker.

Andrew Lee Miner — Born March 6 to PFC Kerry L. and Libbie K. Miner.

Zachary Chase Leachman — Born March 8 to Spec. Christopher J. and Beth A. Leachman.

Carlos Marquel Cordero — Born March 10 to Spec. Lidel C. and Temeta C. Cordero.

Ian Robert Keith — Born March 11 to 1st Lt. John D. and Lee A. Keith.

Zachary David Lesser — Born March 11 to SSgt. David L. and Karen M. Lesser.

Kevin Thomas Peter Flowers — Born March 12 to Pvt. 2 William Jr. and Cynthia Flowers.

Austin Ross Roebuck — Born

See BIRTHS A-10

SPIRITUAL

More than 11,000 attend Easter services

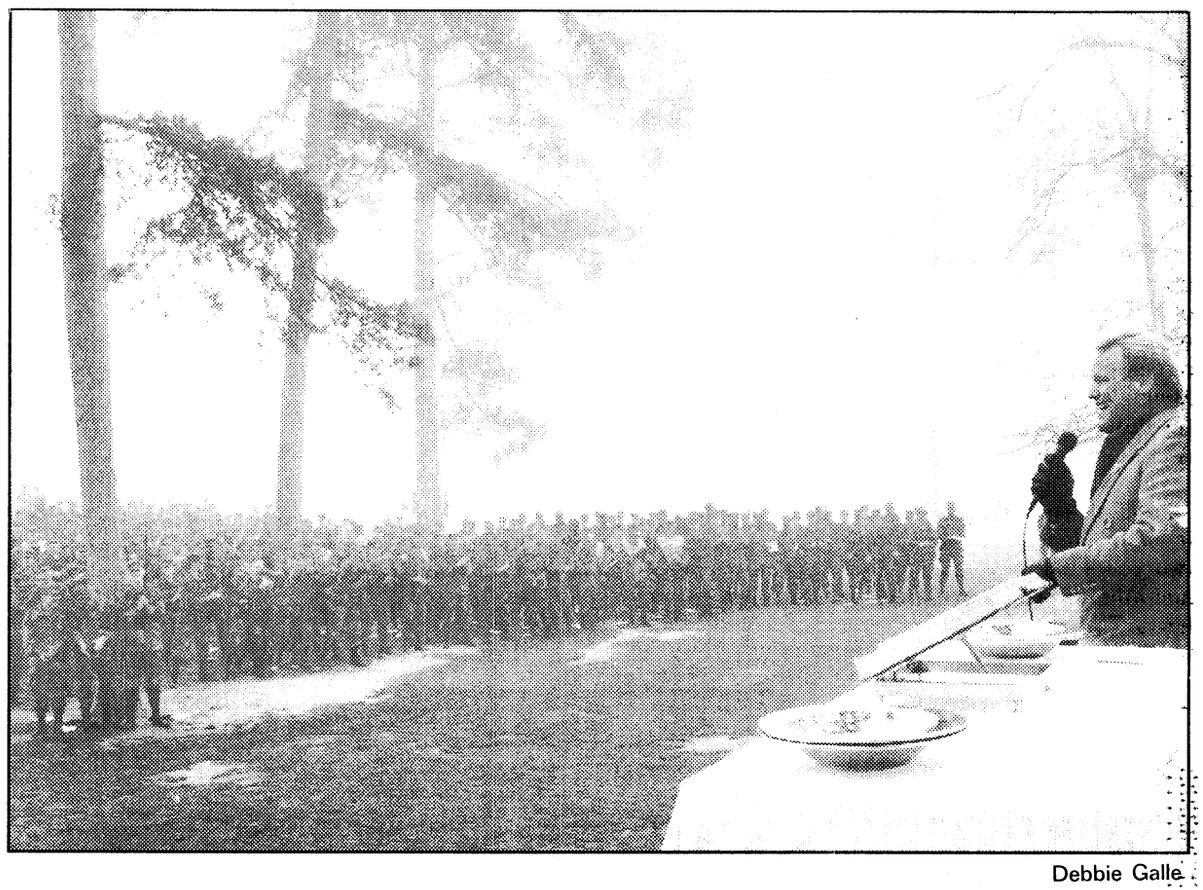
By Debbie Galle
USAIC Chaplain's Office

More than 11,000 people attended religious services, programs and concerts at Fort Benning during Holy Week and Easter.

Chap. Charles T. Clanton

Bobby Michaels, known for his contemporary gospel music, performed nine concerts during his four-day, Fort Benning tour. More than 4,500 soldiers and family members attended these concerts.

Annual Easter Sunrise services were held at the Field of Four Chaplains and at the Infantry Training Center Duckpond. Chap. (Col.) Charles T. Clanton, commandant of the U.S. Army Chaplain Center and School, Fort Monmouth, N.J., was the speaker and special guest at the services.



"I have spent Easter in many different places," Clanton said, "and I have always found it to be a day that speaks to us about our worth and God's love for us.

About 500 attended the postwide service Easter morning. More than 1,600 soldiers and family members gathered at the Duckpond for the ITC service.

"Was it a morning like this" when Jesus rose from the dead? The theme of the services was set to rhythm as Michaels greeted audiences with his songs.

"I have a hero," Michaels said with confidence in his faith. The word hero began an eruption of shouts and cheers from the troops.

"They were cheers of enthusiasm and admiration — cheers for Jesus, a hero worthy of praise," said Chap. (Maj.) Don Troyer, who accompanied Michaels throughout his visit.

Debbie Galle

Bobby Michaels sings gospel songs to troops attending the ITC Duckpond Easter service.

CHAPEL BRIEFS

Catholic

Authentic Korean dinner: A Korean dinner is being sponsored by the Military Council of Catholic Women Saturday, 6:30 p.m., at the Religious Education Center. Following the meal, a Korean dance will be performed in native costume. Reservations should be made in advance because seating is limited. Cost is $4 per person. Call Claudia Wolf, 682-2090 or Hae Suk Donohue, 689-7869.

Confirmation: Candidates will receive the sacrament of Confirmation at a special ceremony Sunday at 5 p.m. at Saint Anne's Catholic Church in Columbus.

Pre-Cana class: A class, open to anyone who wishes to be married in the Catholic Church, will be held Sunday at the Religious Education building. For registration and additional information, call Phil Reilly at 545-5508/2271.

Pre-Baptism class: The Religious Education Center will sponsor a pre-baptism class April 16. This class is a requirement for parents who wish to have their child baptized in the Catholic Church at Fort Benning, or for those who wish to take a letter to their home parish. Expectant parents are encouraged to attend. Call Phil Reilly at 545-2771 for more information and to register.

Ecumenical

English language classes: Those people for whom English is a second language, may attend English language classes Tuesdays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the Religious Education Center, building 229. Beginning, conversational and grammar classes are offered. There is no charge, and students may begin at any time. Free baby-sitting is provided for children of students and teachers. Call 545-4715 for further information.

Protestant

Protestant Women of the Chapel: PWOC meets each Thursday, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., at the Religious Education Center. Baby-sitting is provided. Contact Debby Godwin, 687-7157, or Annette Saul, 682-1157 for more information.

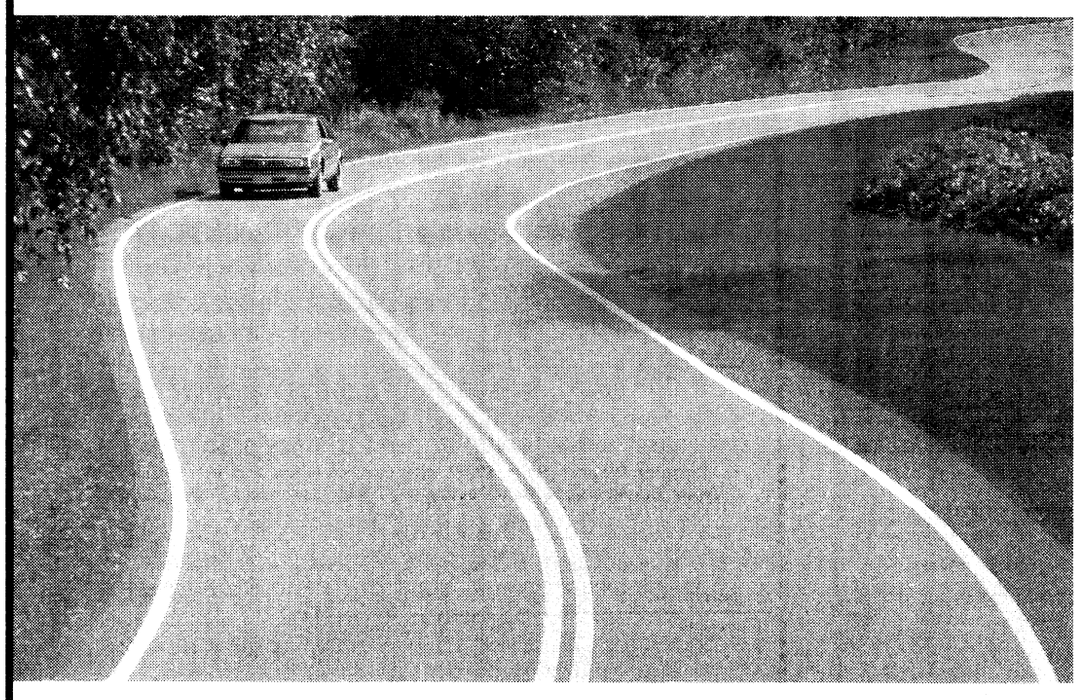
New Inquirers' Sunday School: Chap. (Col.) Roy N. Mathis will begin a six-week series of classes at the Main Post Protestant Sunday School April 16. The classes will be held during the regular Sunday School hour, 9:30 to 10:30 a.m. in the Religious Education Center. The course is open to grade 3 through adult. For more information, call the Religious Education Center at 545-4715.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)
2622 Macon Road
Douglas A. Garner, Pastor
Sunday School 9:45AM
Morning Worship 11:00 AM
EVERYONE WELCOME!

ROSE HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST
7479 Old Moon Road
DAVID G. SPIECE, MINISTER
● BIBLE STUDY 10:00 AM
● EVENING WORSHIP 6:30 PM
● WEDNESDAY MIDWEEK SERVICE 7:30 PM

OUR LADY OF LOURDES CATHOLIC CHURCH
Located near Ft. Benning at 1953 Torch Hill Rd.
Phone 689-5720
SATURDAY VIGIL MASS 5:30pm
SUNDAY MASSES 8:30am & 11:00am

SOUTH COLUMBUS UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
1213 Benning Drive
10 Minutes from Ft. Benning
Sunday School 9:45 am
Morining Worship 11:00 am
689-5094



First Assembly of God
1309 10th Ave. at 13th St.
Phenix City, Ala.
WELCOMES ALL
Military Personnel
to worship with us.
Sunday School 9:45
Service 10:45
Evening Service 6:00pm

SPANISH CHURCH OF GOD
3941 Victory Drive
"Come & Worship with us in your own language"
Worship Services
Sunday School 10AM
Worship 11am
Thurs. 7:30pm
For more information call Rev. Pedro Sanchez
568-7018

NORTHSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(A New Testament Church)
1442 Double Churches Road
Sunday School 9:45am
Morning Worship 10:45am
Evening Worship 6:00pm
Spencer Arnold, Minister
324-5220

NORTH HIGHLAND ASSEMBLY OF GOD
7300 Livingston Drive Columbus, Georgia 31909
Weekly Service Schedule
Sunday School 9:30am, Worship 10:30am & 6pm
Wednesday Evening, Family Night 7:00pm
(Children & Youth Activities-Adult Bible Study)
Security Parking Nursery
Jimmy R. Swilley, Sr. Pastor
For Information call (404) 561-7777

Need straight answers about car insurance?

Call your Fort Benning GEICO Representative.

Are you paying too much for car insurance? Can you save money with deductibles? What kind of car qualifies for the best rates? What about claim service? Your GEICO Representative can give you straight answers in minutes. After all, GEICO has provided quality car insurance to military and government personnel for over fifty years. GEICO is the key to being sure about your car insurance. Get a free, no-obligation rate quote today. And be sure to ask about these other GEICO extras:

- A low initial down-payment starts your coverage
- Fast-action, 24-hour claim service in the U.S. and Canada
- GEICO has offices near most major military installations
- Convenient payment plans make budgeting a breeze
- GEICO can arrange for your car insurance overseas
- Over a half century of GEICO dependability and experience

Insist on quality car insurance. Stop in or call your local GEICO Representative today for a free rate quote.

GET TO KNOW GEICO
Call: 689-2787
2029 S. Lumpkin Road
(In the Oakland Park Shopping center)

Serving those who serve the nation
Government Employees Insurance Co. • GEICO General Insurance Co. • GEICO Indemnity Co.

Skateboarding has become popular, dangerous

Infantry Branch Safety Office

"Shoot the duck," do the "space walk" and the "fate" aren't the latest dance crazes, but maneuvers in one of the most popular recreational activities of this decade — skateboarding.

Although the majority of skateboarders are between 10 and 17 years old (with 14 and 15-year-olds being primary users) kids of all ages and some adults, as well, are skateboarders.

Skateboards have evolved from simple planks equipped with wheels to sophisticated devices used in professional competition. They may be from 24 inches to 7 feet long, may be motorized or have sails, may have blades intended for use on ice or even bear a braking mechanism. You have a choice of wood, aluminum, plastic or fiberglass. And the cost is anywhere between $40 and $240 for most skateboards sold today.

Along with the popularity of skateboarding, deaths and injuries related to the sport have risen over the past few years. Victims either fell from the skateboard and struck their heads or were riding skateboards and were struck by automobiles.

The use of helmets should reduce the risk of fatalities. The number of deaths could be further reduced if skateboarding on public roadways were reduced.

Fractures to legs, arms and other body parts are the most common types of injury, occurring in about one-third of all accidents. About one-third of all victims had been skating for less than one week. One out of every three accidents occur when skateboarders strike irregularities in the riding surface.

Very few of the injuries are attributed to the product itself — that is, a wheel coming off, the board breaking or cracking, the board stopping suddenly, or some skateboard failure.

Injuries associated with skateboards would be greatly reduced if skateboards were used primarily in controlled environments specifically intended for skateboarding — not on public streets and sidewalks. In addition, if there were a uniform set of safety rules for use of skateboarding facilities, requiring preuse equipment checks and the wearing of full protective gear, and general safety construction guidelines to avoid "engineered-in" environmental hazards, there can be little doubt that a large proportion of injuries would be prevented, including the most severe type.

A reduction of injuries is also tied to a skateboarder's safety, knowledge and physical education teachers or skateboard facility personnel could be of great help.

Among the first things taught to any student of martial arts, to football players and to paratroopers is how to fall. In-depth investigations documented that, in case after case, victims who were falling extended their arms to break their falls — with fractured lower arms the result.

Adults, children can be victims of kiting accidents

Infantry Branch Safety Office

The history of kite flying goes back some 3,000 years.

Centuries ago they were used to launch military observers into the sky. Today kites are best known for the joy they bring to children each spring.

However, many children, with their eyes on their kites, have walked right into the path of a motor vehicle. Others have been burned from using a fine wire for a kite string and from trying to rescue kites tangled in high voltage electric wires. Even adults have fallen victim to kite flying accidents while teaching their children how to fly a kite.

The following safety recommendations are offered to anyone flying a kite:

- Fly your kite in a safe area. Select a level open space where the wind has a chance to level off and blow steadily.
- Keep away from electric wires and poles, buildings, street and highway traffic, ditches, electric signs, railroad tracks, construction sites, reservoirs and radio/television aerials.
- Fly your kite only in dry weather. A wet string can be a conductor of electricity; wet shoes on wet earth increases the danger by enabling a charge to be grounded more readily.
- Never climb a tree or pole to retreive a kite from an overhead wire or roof. It is better to lose a kite than to risk your life. Under no circumstances should anyone (other than an authorized lineman) attempt to remove a kite entangled in power lines.

Use a string that is considerably stronger than the kite's estimated pull. Do not use one made of wire or tinsel cord; in our crowded world, there is always the chance of touching a high tension wire.

Use reels and wear gloves when flying large kites. These help to avoid rope burns in case the string runs through your hands too fast.

It is recommended that parents supervise kite flying activities and help children learn to fly kites skillfully and safely. Balance, understanding of winds, proper adjustment of the various parts under varying conditions — all these come with practice and will increase the kite flyer's enjoyment, as well as safety.

Births

Continued from A-9

March 12 to Pvt. 2 Richard D. Jr. and Tyra L. Roebuck.

Jose O. Rodriguez Jr. — Born March 13 to Spec. Jose and Nelida Rodriguez.

John Kern Brown — Born March 14 to Michael R. Brown and Capt. Kathryn S. Howells.

Jon Eric Fish Jr. — Born March 14 to Spec. Jon E. and Tammy R. Fish.

Jon Walter Loving — Born March 14 to Spec. Joey W. and Elisabeth R. Loving.

Anthony Phillip Faronea — Born March 14 to Spec. Anthony and Jayla A. Faronea.

Anthony Jacob Escott — Born March 15 to 2nd Lt. Anthony and Michelle Escott.

Alexander Wayne Hohler — Born March 15 to Sgt. Michael and Donnal Hohler.

Dakota S. Erhardt — Born March 16 to Spec. Robert S. and Kym M. Erhardt.

Andrew David Wroblewski — Born March 16 to Sgt. David S. and Deborah J. Wroblewski.

Christopher Wayne Hinkle — Born March 17 to Spec. Dale L. and Melissa L. Hinkle.

Robert Lee Aikman — Born 2nd Lt. Larry P. and Grace Aikman.

Lucius Fred Gilbert IV — Born March 19 to SSgt. Lucius F. III and Norma J. Gilbert.

Andrew Wilson Neely — Born March 21 to Spec. Harold and Jill Neely.

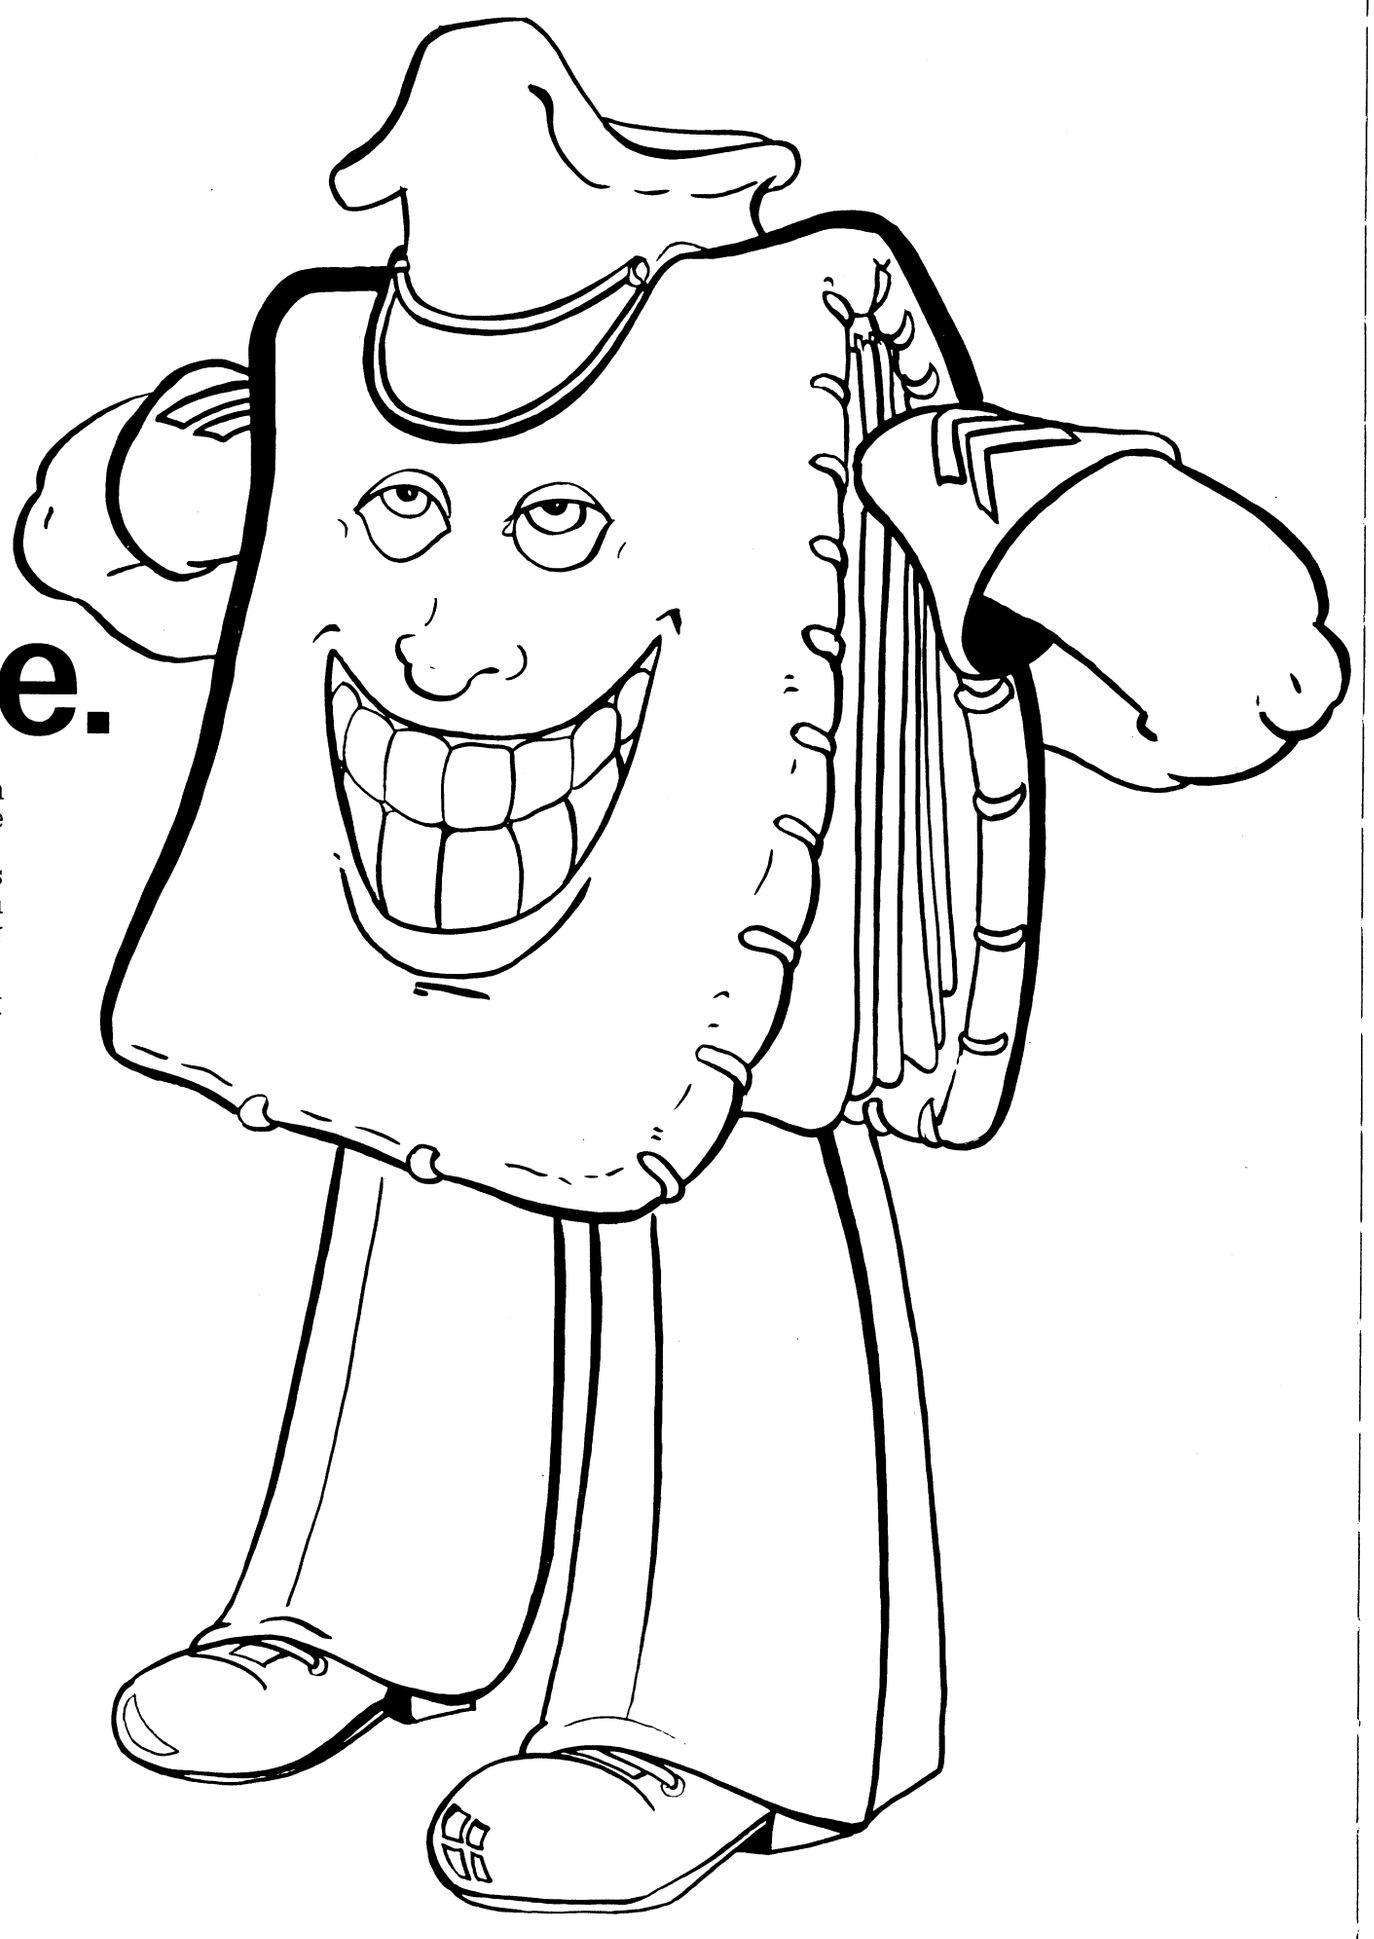
Ledger-Enquirer Classified
322-4500

Econo Self Storage
4483 Victory Drive
404-682-3803
FORT BENNING
Fort Benning Blvd. Econo Self-Storage By-Pass Victory Drive FORT BENNING
UNIT SIZES AVAILABLE
Lockers 5(W) x 5(D) x 4(H)
5x10 10x10 $20 up 5x5 10x20
FOR THE MILITARY
Storage while TDY
Foot locker storage
Motorcycles
Boats
Personal effects
Bivouac
Permanent party storage
Call Now to Reserve Your Space
For Your Business or Family Items—Short or Long Term

BANK CLOSED
THEN COME TO
PERSONAL CHECKS $
MILITARY CHECKS
ALLOTMENT CHECKS $
OUT OF TOWN CHECKS
MR CHECK CASHER
NEW LOCATION
3809 Victory Drive
Traffic Circle Shopping Center
687-8666
$ PAYROLL CHECKS
INCOME TAX CHECKS
$ INSURANCE CHECKS
ALMOST ANY CHECKS

NEED TRANSPORTATION TO ATLANTA???
SATO TRAVEL
A Full Service Travel Company
AIRLINK
BUS TICKETS AVAILABLE
For More Information
Call 682-0361
Or Stop By
Bld. 247, or Bldg. 2628 on Main Post

Put your wallet at ease.

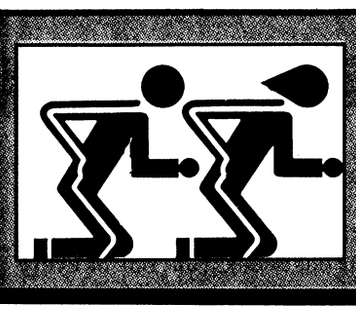


It could use the rest. Out-of-pocket medical expenses put a strain on your pocketbook. But a new CHAMPUS doctor care program eases your burden. CHAMPUS pays more of the bill.

With CHAMPUS Preferred, you avoid the hassles of claims filing while your cost shares are cut over 20 percent. That's on top of the lower fees the doctors have agreed to accept for their services.

You receive care from a quality network of carefully selected preferred providers. You never file a claim. The doctor files for you. And all preferred providers accept assignment. Always.

Your local preferred provider organization is the Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Georgia VIP program. It includes hundreds of doctors around the state. Finding one is easy. Just call the toll-free Health Care Finder line provided by CHAMPUS, 1-800-451-1485. Or contact your local Health Benefits Adviser.



Your wallet will thank you for it.

VIP
Voluntary Incentive Program
CHAMPUS
Preferred
The New CHAMPUS Doctor Care Program

Sports

MEDDAC sponsors biathlon for sports enthusiasts.
See B-2

Entertainment

Army Soldier Show presents "Excitement '89."
See B-3

ARMY NEWS

Army to develop kinetic energy weapon system

The Army has been designated lead service to research and develop a kinetic energy weapon, which will be used in deployment of a national anti-satellite system.

"The Army was selected because of the background they have in the development of systems of this nature," said Army Brig. Gen. J. Morgan Jellett, joint program manager for the ASAT mission.

The ASAT organization will be located at the Strategic Defense Command, Huntsville, Ala. Testing for the kinetic energy weapon system could begin as early as 1992, according to Jellett.

★ ★ ★

Military vital to the 1990 census count

Every military person on every military installation and every military vessel and their family members in the United States must fill out a census form by Census Day, April 1, 1990. Census Bureau and Department of Defense officials emphasize it's against the law not to comply.

Overseas military and civilian personnel and their dependents will have to complete a Military Census Report. However, they will not be a part of the official count for reapportionment purposes.

Conducted once each decade, the census is a snapshot of the population and housing units throughout the continental United States, Puerto Rico and outlying areas as of April 1, 1990. It's not a count of U. S. citizens, but a count of inhabitants — people eating and sleeping in a specific house in a specific area of the country on Census Day.

DoD personnel overseas will not be included in the official census report for congressional reapportionment or sub-state redistricting.

★ ★ ★

Service members vote in record numbers

Preliminary statistics indicate that service members voted in record numbers in 1988.

Some 63.2 percent of them cast their ballots in November's general election — at a time when the general population voted at the lowest percentage since 1924.

The percentage of voters grew in all services. The Navy had the highest — 76 percent. A total of 69.3 percent of Coast Guardsmen voted, with the Marine Corps at 67 percent.

Just over 60 percent of airmen voted, and the Army recorded 54.6 percent.

The total represents an 8 percent gain over the percentage of all service members voting in 1984.

★ ★ ★

Visitors center opens at Arlington cemetery

An $18 million visitors center has opened at Arlington National Cemetery for the more than 4 million visitors there each year.

The visitors center will have exhibits explaining the history of the cemetery and the routes to get to them and transportation for visitors who have special needs.

★ ★ ★

Guardsmen called on once a day last year

Army and Air National guardsmen were called on 365 times last year — or once a day — to help states cope with crises from natural disasters to civil disturbances to providing water for communities.

During 1988, guardsmen responded to one civil disturbance, 76 natural disasters and 288 "other" needs. "Other" is a catch-all category that covers anything from opening and running homeless shelters to providing electrical power.

-- from Army News Service reports.

Bush calls for defense spending freeze

By Jim Garamone
American Forces Information Service

President George Bush presented his fiscal 1990 and 1991 budget to Congress and asked that defense spending be limited to fiscal 1989 levels plus inflation.

This will mean a defense budget in fiscal 1990 of $299.3 billion, down from the $305.6-billion request made by the Reagan administration. The fiscal 1989 estimate of military spending is $289.8 billion.

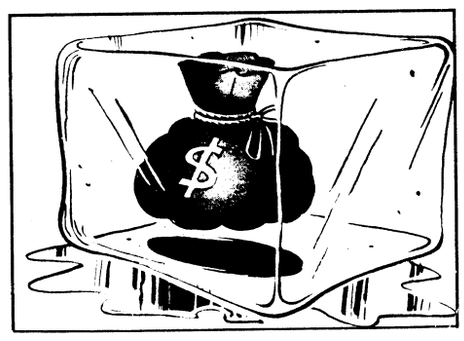
The proposed freeze will be for one year, with increases proposed in fiscal 1991, 1992 and 1993. Bush said that he will not sacrifice American preparedness or compromise strength.

"We have been fortunate in these last eight years," he told Congress. "America is a stronger nation than it was in 1980.

"Morale in our armed forces is restored. Our resolve has been shown. Our readiness has been improved. And, we are at peace.

"There can no longer be any doubt that peace has been made secure through strength," he continued. "When America is stronger, the world is safer."

Officials at the Pentagon said that within 60 days, the secretary of defense will provide details on specific programs to be cut to meet the fiscal 1990 and 1991 budget limits. A spokesman said the Department of Defense fully supports the president's budget request and will work to ensure the cuts are made without endangering America's defense posture.



In light of the defense freeze, Bush said he is asking the National Security Council staff to review defense policies "to ensure that our capabilities and resources meet our commitments and strategies."

Bush also asked Congress for multi-year procurement authority, a two-year budget cycle and legislation that will enable DoD to implement the Packard Commission recommendations.

Other proposals in the president's budget include:

■ A 2-percent pay raise for civilians and 3.8 percent for the military.

■ A one-year freeze in cost-of-living allowances for civil service and military retirees.

■ More money for cleanup at the Energy Department's nuclear weapons plants.

The proposed federal budget is $1.16 trillion. The changes proposed by Bush will enable his administration to meet deficit reduction targets.

George Mingee

Human tow

Spec. D. J. Hackworth representing Co. B, 1st Bn., 58th Infantry's contact team digs in as he pulls a high mobility, multi-purpose wheeled vehicle in the Iron Mechanics competition held recently at Kelley Hill.

Engineers recommend course

43rd Engineer Battalion

Second Platoon, Company B, 43rd Engineer Battalion, recently completed the Leaders' Reaction Course after a short field training exercise.

The LRC creates team-building spirit and increases enthusiasm and motivation, according to several platoon members. It also teaches the platoon the practical skill of quickly coming up with a plan.

Each squad faces 17 obstacles, 10 of which include water. By using whatever materials are available and whatever suggestions fellow squad members offer, a squad leader must come up with a plan to traverse a particular obstacle. While the squad attempts this, one member verbally and physically harasses them to slow their success.

For training that builds cohesion and is also fun, try the Leaders' Reaction Course. For more information, call 545-7694.

Ventilation helps cool home on sunny days

By Becky Ray
Energy Branch

During the transitional period from winter to summer, there are often periods when afternoons are hot but air conditioning isn't yet needed or authorized. These are times when the use of ventilation can keep people most comfortable. Circulating air can replace warm air with cooler air, and the breeze created has a cooling effect on the skin as it evaporates perspiration.

A breeze can be created through your house or building simply by opening a few windows. If you have two floors or more, the best way to ventilate is to open windows or doors on the bottom floor of the shaded side of the building. This will bring in air closer to the ground, where it's cooler. Then open windows on top floor to ventilate warmer air out as it rises.

Fans are also helpful in ventilating buildings. Attic or whole house fans are normally installed in hallway ceilings, where they are most effective.

These fans are especially beneficial when outside air is cooler than air indoors, such as evening and early morning hours. They draw the cool outside air into the building and force warm air out through the attic, cooling the attic as well.

To get the best results from an attic fan, close windows and drapes shortly after sunrise to keep the warming sunlight and warm air out of the building. This will significantly slow the warming of the interior of the building.

Don't use an attic fan in the hottest part of the day if the outside temperature is higher than the indoor temperature — you'll only be replacing the cooler air inside the building with hot outside air. Also, attic fans should never be used when air conditioners are on.

See VENTILATION B-3

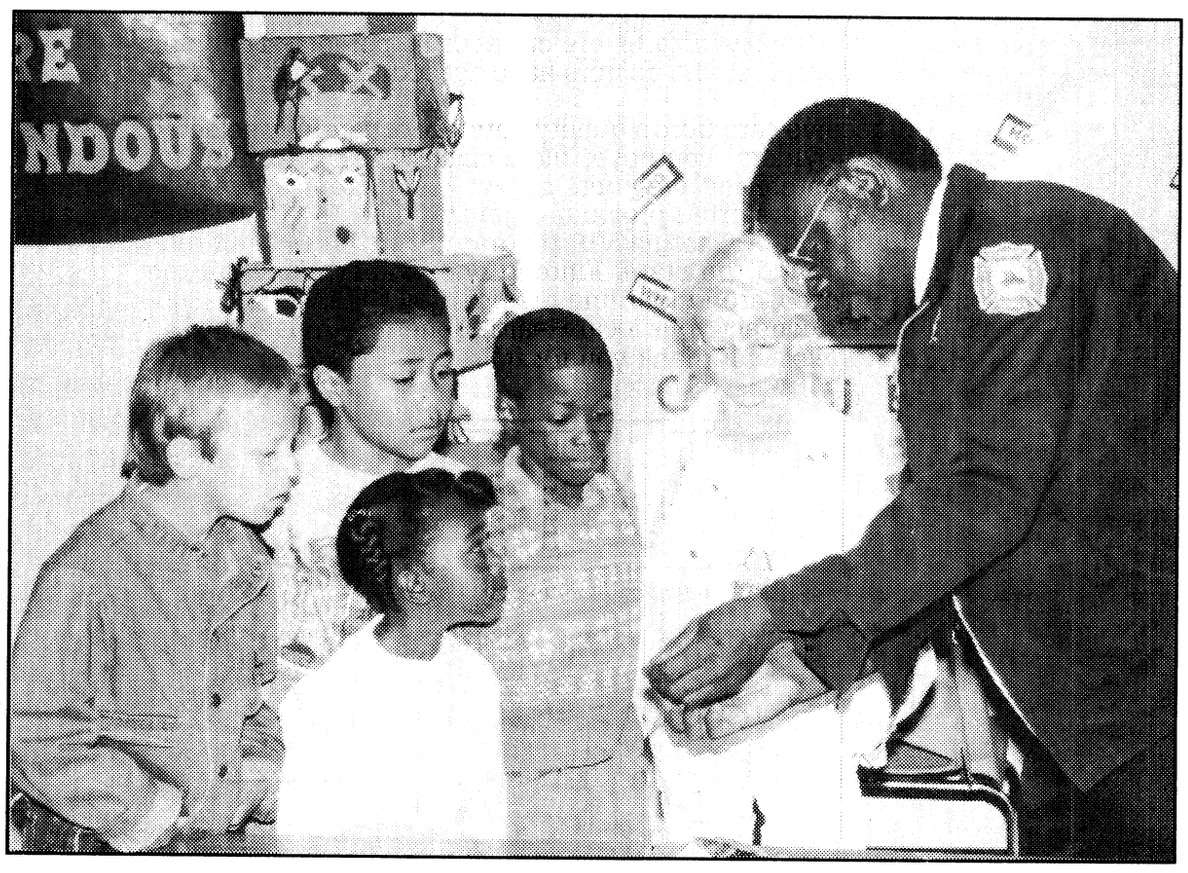
Best rangers to compete April 28

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The eighth annual David E. Grange Jr. "Best Ranger" competition will be conducted at Harmony Church in the vicinity of the Ranger Training Brigade headquarters, building 5024, April 28 through May 1.

Forty-eight units with Ranger positions from the active Army, National Guard and Army Reserve are invited to send two-man teams to compete in head-to-head competition for the title of "Best Ranger."



The three-day, non-stop event begins at 6:30 a.m. April 28, with a physical training test on Hall Field, and concludes nearly 60 hours later, at about 5 p.m., April 30, with a 2.7-mile buddy run from Victory Pond to the Ranger Training Brigade headquarters.

Other events testing the mettle of the two-man teams include: marksmanship, parachute spot jump, forced road march, the 60-foot prusik climb/rappel, canoe course, bayonet assault course, night land navigation, Darby Queen obstacle course, water confidence test and the helocast/swim.

Awards will be presented at 10:30 a.m., May 1 at Victory Pond, with members of the winning team receiving engraved 9mm pistols and the Meritorious Service Medal.

The public is invited to observe the competition and award ceremony. An information center will be set up at brigade headquarters to provide spectators a schedule of each day's events.

For more information, call 544-7212 or 544-6768.

Jacob Kaplan

Radon education

Ephraim Robinson, fire inspector, Directorate of Engineering and Housing, explains to Wilson School students (l), Douglas Lafotanoa, Veronica Thomas, Bjorn Westbrook, Paul Burch and Anita Tesch how the radon detector placed in their classroom works. Fire inspectors recently placed detectors in all Fort Benning schools.

SPORTS

Biathlon to be held April 8

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The Medical Department Activity and Dental Activity will sponsor the annual Fort Benning Biathlon and Five-Mile Run April 8.

The biathlon will begin at 8 a.m. at Building 4 with a five-mile run followed by a 30-mile bike ride.

A separate five-mile run begins 30 minutes after the biathlon.

T-shirts will be available to all participants, and all biathlon registrants will be eligible for a 12-speed bike to be given away.

Awards will be presented to the top three overall male and female biathlon and five-mile run finishers. Also, the top male, female and mixed biathlon teams will receive an award. The top three individual biathlon and five-mile run winners in each age group will receive awards.

The overall top three winners will be excluded from age group winners.

Entry fees for the biathlon are $10 for individuals, $24 for the relay and $38 per team.

The entry fee for the separate five-mile run is $10.

For more information, contact Maj. Robert Alexander at 544-4659 or Maj. Greg Smith at 544-3954.

Fort Benning Biathlon and Five-Mile Run

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
TELEPHONE NUMBER (home) _____ (work) _____ UNIT (military only) _____
AGE _____ SEX _____ CATEGORY (circle one) INDIVIDUAL RELAY TEAM
SHIRT SIZE: (circle one) SMALL MEDIUM LARGE X-LARGE

Waiver of Liability

NOTICE: By executing this document, you waive certain legal rights on behalf of yourself and your family. You should read this document carefully before your sign it.

In consideration for being permitted to participate in the Fort Benning Biathlon and Five-Mile Run held April 8, 1989 at Fort Benning, Ga., I, the undersigned, do hereby agree to waive and agree to hold harmless the United States Government, its officers and employees, and any of the organizations/sponsors associated with this events, from any and all claims, demands, actions, liability, judgments, costs and attorney fees arising out of it, claimed on account of , or in any manner predicated upon my participation in the Fort Benning Biathlon. I hereby certify that I am in good health, proper physical condition and suffer from no medical condition which will be aggravated or detrimentally affected by my participation in the stated event.

SIGNATURE _____ DATE _____
(Parent or guardian must sign if entrant under 18 years old.)

Mail entry to: Martin Army Community Hospital
ATTN: HSXB-TC (Biathlon)
Fort Benning, Ga. 31905-6100

Make checks payable to the MEDDAC/DENTAC Fitness Association.

Cruise-matics will host rugby championship

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The Fort Benning-Columbus Cruise-matics Rugby Club will host the Eastern Military Rugby Championship games Saturday and Sunday on Blue Field, Main Post, Fort Benning. Saturday's competition starts at 9 a.m. and Sunday's at 10 a.m. Finals are expected to start at 1 p.m.

Twenty-two teams will compete for the division title. The tournament will include representatives from the Navy, Air Force and Marines.

According to a team spokesman, the club asked to host the tournament so they could show off the tri-community area.

The tournament could prove to be a battle not to miss with powerhouses from different branches of the service going head to head.

Mountain ranger run to be held April 29 in Dahlonega

USAIC Public Affairs Office

WHAT: Mountain Ranger Run
WHEN: April 29. Ranger run starts at 10 a.m.; One-mile fun run begins at 10:30 a.m.
WHERE: North Georgia College campus, Dahlonega, Ga.
REGISTRATION: $6 for ranger run before April 15 ($8 after April 15). $3 for one-mile fun run.
POINT OF CONTACT: Capt. Billy M. Blackwell or Deborah Greaney (404) 864-3513/3711.

The Mountain Ranger Run, featuring a five-mile run and a one-mile fun run, will be held April 29 beginning at 10 a.m. at North Georgia College in Dahlonega, Ga.

The one-mile fun run will begin 30 minutes after the five-miler.

T-shirts will be presented to all registered finishers of the five-mile run.

Certificates will be awarded to runners in the one-mile fun run.

Trophies will be awarded to the first, second and third place overall winners in the five-mile run.

Age group trophies will be presented three deep in each category. Also, there will be a drawing for door prizes.

Registration fee before April 15 for the five-mile run is $6; after April 15, the fee increases to $8. The registration fee for the one-mile fun run is $3.

Entry forms are available from Capt. Billy M. Blackwell, race director, Company B, 5th Ranger Training Battalion, Dahlonega, Ga. 30533.

For information or directions, call (404) 864-3367, extension 37.

SPORTS SHORTS

ISTD to host soccer, volleyball games

The International Student Training Detachment will host soccer and volleyball games between the international military students of the U.S. Army Infantry School and the the School of the Americas Sunday at 1 p.m.

The games will be played on Norton Field, which is located directly behind Faith Middle School on Ingersoll Street.

Light refreshments will be served. For more information, call 545-4136.

Benning biathlon needs volunteers

Volunteers are needed to help with registration, participation and water points for the Fort Benning Biathlon. Anyone interested should contact Maj. Robert Alexander at 544-4659.

197th Inf. Brigade will play Foxie-105

The 197th Infantry Brigade will host a basketball game between the brigade's "Sledgehammer" team and players from Foxie-105 radio station. The game will be played Saturday at 7 p.m. at Kelley Hill physical fitness center.

Brigade soccer begins

Brigade-level soccer play is underway. Seven teams will play a double round robin schedule. Contact the sports director at 545-5777 for more information.

Female volleyball players needed

The Sports Office needs female volleyball players. Active duty military, dependents, Department of Army or Non-appropriated Fund civilians are eligible to play.

If interested, call the Sports Office at 545-5777 or 545-7519.

Register for Youth Activities baseball

Youth Activities Baseball/T-Ball registration is underway and continues through April 7. Sign-ups will be taken at Youth Activities Center, building 1056, on McIver Street.

Registration is open to children, ages 5 to 15, of active duty or retired military personnel. First-time participants to the Youth Sports Program must present a birth certificate, identification card or passport.

The Sports Office opens for registration at 8 a.m. and closes at 4:30 p.m., Monday through Friday.

Baseball/T-Ball coaches are also needed for the upcoming season. For information, call 545-3070 or 545-3913.

Post tennis tourney set to begin May 5

The 1989 U. S. Army Infantry Center's Tennis Championship will be held May 5 through 12 at the Community Recreation Division's hard surface tennis courts on Anderson Street behind Theatre #2.

Brigade and battalion teams will consist of two male players in the Open Division, two in the Junior Veterans Division, one in the Senior Division, and two female players in the Women's Division (team total of seven players).

Senior Division entrants must be 45 years of age or over and junior veteran entrants must be 35 to 44 years of age as of May 5.

All military personnel on active duty at Fort Benning are eligible to participate.

Entry forms are available at the Community Recreation Division gymnasiums and at the Physical Activities Office, building 394. Entry deadline is May 1.

Body builders will compete June 10

The sixth annual Mr. and Ms. Fort Benning body building contest will be held June 10 at Marshall Auditorium in Infantry Hall, building 4.

The Mr. Fort Benning contest is open to all active duty military men stationed at Fort Benning.

The Ms. Fort Benning competition is open to active duty military females, dependents of active duty, retirees, Department of Army , Non-appropriated Fund civilians and Army and Air Force Exchange Service employees.

Awards will be presented to first, second and third place winners as well as the best poser in both the men and women competition. Also, in the men's category, an award will be presented to the "Most Muscular" competitor.

For more information, call Speedy Austin at 545-4726 or 545-4388.

Follow Me Course plans tournaments

The following tournaments are available at Benning's Follow Me Golf Course:

- April 15 through 16 — Spring Handicap (full handicap, flighted)
- May 20 — Blind Partner Handicap (combined net score)
- May 28 through 29 — Dixie Memorial Tournament (four-man, two best balls)
- June 17 through 18 — Bi-City Golf Tournament

Golfers pay half-price greens fees Monday through Friday with cart rental from 1 p.m. until dark. Call 687-1940 for additional information.

Golden Knights to hold fall tryouts

The U.S. Army Parachute Team, the Golden Knights, will hold fall tryouts Oct. 2 through Nov. 30 at Fort Bragg, N.C.

Soldiers who wish to apply must be on active duty, eligible for permanent change of station, have excellent military and civilian records, be in excellent physical condition, have a minimum of 150 freefall jumps and, if not airborne-qualified, be willing to attend airborne training.

Application packets should be sent by July 15 to: Operations, USAPT, Box 70126, Fort Bragg, N.C., 28307. For information, call autovon 236-4800 or 236-4828.

YA needs swimmers

The Youth Activities Center is looking for swimmers for its swim team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Mondays through Thursdays.

The swim team is a year round organization.

Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for information.

Pot-O-Gold is $2,990

Fort Benning bowling centers' "Pot-O-Gold" cash prize has reached $2,990, officials said.

Bowlers must strike in certain frames to win the pot.

League and open bowlers who purchase a three-game ticket and pay a $1 entry fee prior to bowling are eligible to enter the tournament.

For more information, call 545-4272 or 544-1985.

— Compiled from staff reports.

STANDINGS

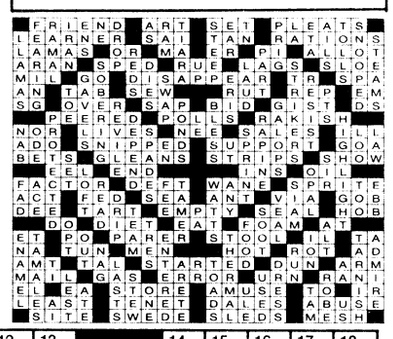
VOLLEYBALL

CONSOLIDATED LEAGUE

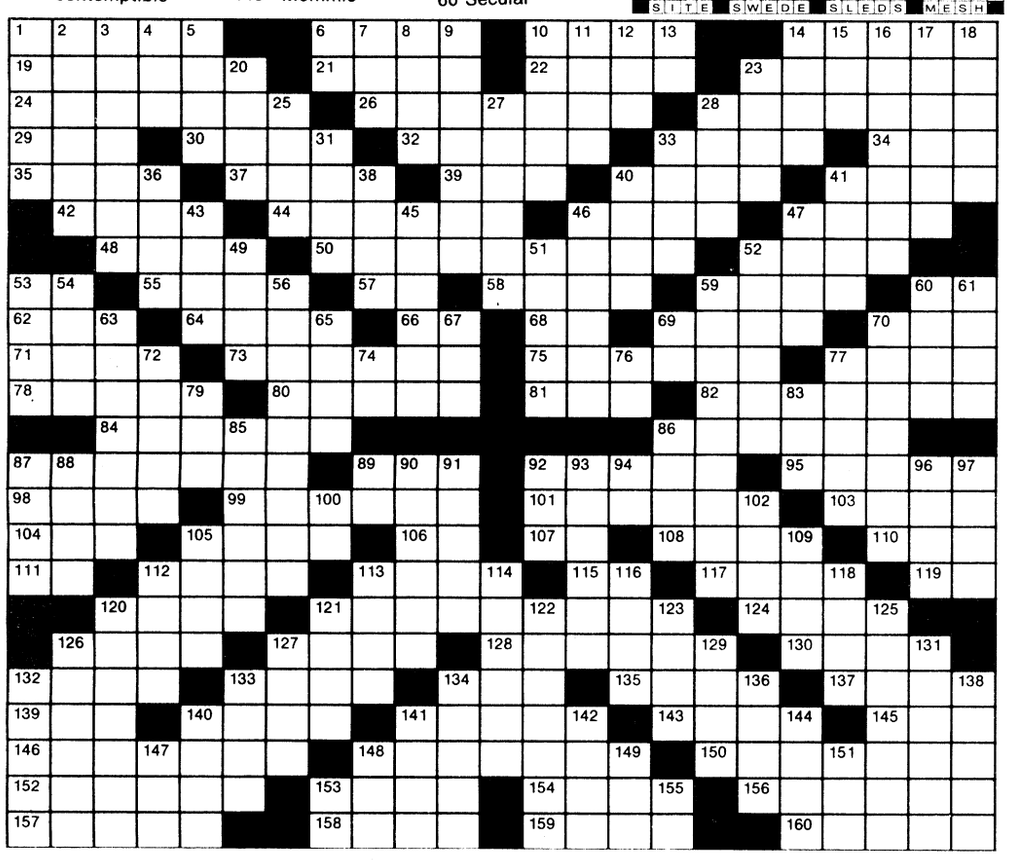
	W	L
HHC	6	0
498th Medical	4	2
MASH	2	3
MPA	2	2
Company B	2	2
HHD	0	3
690th Medical	0	4

THE SCHOOL BRIGADE

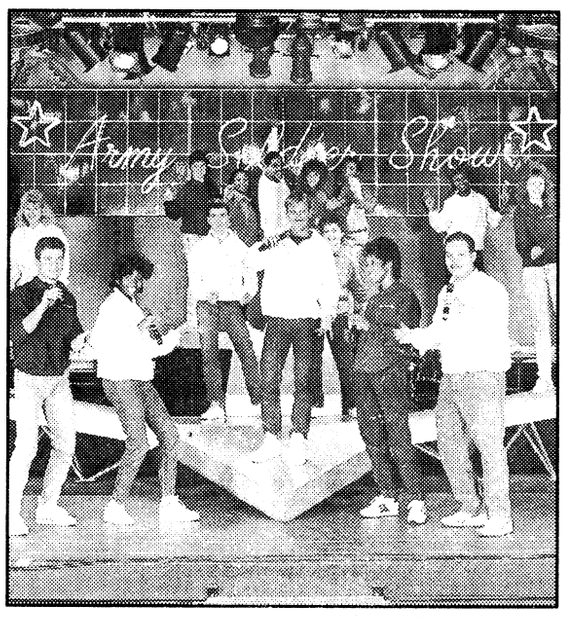
	W	L
Co. A, Team 2	6	0
Band	4	2
TSB	3	3
Co. B, 1/11th Inf.	1	5
Co. A, Team 1	1	5



ENTERTAINMENT



PUZZLE



ACROSS
1 Bar legally
6 Soapstone
10 Mine entrance
14 Bristlelike organs
19 Steps over a fence
21 Sea in Asia
22 Expired
23 Come back
24 Heelless footwear
26 Small pitcher for coffee additive
28 Chastised
29 Omelet ingredient
30 Carry
32 Ship's crane
33 Liberate
34 Individual
35 Secluded valley
37 "Gone With the Wind" plantation
39 Seine
40 Remunerated
41 Wire nail
42 Appear
44 More venturesome
46 Wedding band
47 Baker's products
48 Act
50 Causing sudden fear
52 "The — Pebbles"
53 Mother
55 Witnesses
57 Conjunction
58 Location
59 Fruit seeds
60 NBA's Bird ID
62 "Heidi" locale
64 Retained
66 As far as
68 Greek 40
69 "A Farewell to —"
70 Distant
71 Psyche
73 More contemptible
75 Treelike grass
77 Solo
78 Neckpiece
80 Tasteless
81 Crafty
82 Join
84 "The Bull"
86 Lawmaking body
87 "The —" (Redford film)
89 Simian
92 Complain: slang
95 Foot lever
98 Matured
99 "A — in the Sun"
101 "— Smith"
103 Settee
104 Equality
105 Permits
106 Anderson inits.
107 Above
108 Rockfish
110 Male
111 Teutonic deity
112 Argument
113 Small rugs
115 Irving ID
117 Performs
119 Concerning
120 Look sullen
121 Subordinate associate
124 Sandarac tree
126 Urge on
127 Mud
128 Eagles' nests
130 Is in debt
132 Body of water
133 Pitcher's faux pas
134 Actress Gardner
135 Killed
137 Blemish
139 In music, high
140 Fall short
141 European
143 Chair
145 Goddess of healing
146 Mottled
148 "Mommie —"
150 Make ready
152 Assent
153 Bellow
154 Foray
156 Writing tablets
157 Natives of Latvia
158 Flock
159 Petitions
160 Church parts

DOWN
1 Ancient chariot
2 Platforms
3 Stimulated
4 Ancient
5 Fuel
6 Tantalum symbol
7 Circle part
8 Fat of swine
9 Less soiled
10 Let in
11 Food program
12 Cash ending
13 Danson inits.
14 Withered
15 Sched. abbr.
16 Instructed
17 Stadiums
18 Finished
20 Narrow opening
23 Musical instrument
25 Pierce
27 Wards off
28 Ship's prison
31 God of love
33 Long tooth
36 Dregs
38 Choir voice
40 Evergreen tree
41 Storage compartments
43 Timid
45 Shot out rapidly
46 Ceremony
47 Strokes
49 Judge
51 Arms or legs
52 Hot desert wind
53 Church service
54 Fish sauce
56 Theorize
59 Went
60 Secular
61 Unruly child
63 Large flat dish
65 Sailors: colloq.
67 Unit of Norwegian currency
69 Hebrew month
70 "Cry —"
72 Trickery
74 Greek 50
76 "— One and Only"
77 Poker stakes
79 Animal coat
83 Short sleep
85 Most unusual
86 Mast
87 Back of neck
88 Seaweed substance
89 Equally
90 Procurator of Judea
91 Growing out of
92 African antelope
93 Mend
94 Caesar's four
96 At a distance
97 Path
100 Exists
102 Ox of Celebes
105 Praise
109 Danish island
112 Temperate
113 Olympian Spitz
114 Drool
116 Inflammation of: suffix
118 Proverbs
120 Guard
121 Window frame part
122 Chiefs
123 Lampreys
125 Iterates
126 "— Story"
127 Servant
129 Leak through
131 Evening party
132 Pertaining to the Pope
133 Bundle
134 Honor
136 "Star —"
138 Lock of hair
140 Novelties
141 Scorch
142 Brother of Jacob
144 Tissue
147 Wager
148 Female deer
149 Stalemate
151 Soft food
153 Rhodium symbol
155 Dysprosium symbol

LAST WEEK

U.S. Army photo
Army Soldier Show performers.

Soldier show here April 15 and 16

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The 1989 Army Soldier Show will present "Excitement '89" at Theatre No. 3 at Fort Benning April 15 at 8 p.m. and April 16 at 7:30 p.m.

Forty-one active duty soldiers, who are talented, variety-type entertainers, will perform "A Musical Variety Celebration of America."

The soldiers in the show represent 10 of the Army's major commands. On worldwide tour, the performers will tour military installations in the continental United States, Panama, Germany, Belgium and Italy.

This is the Army's premier touring variety show. Its motto is "entertainment for the soldier by the soldier."

The Army Soldier Show is one of the last true repertory companies in the United States.

Each soldier performs many duties in addition to singing, dancing or playing an instrument.

The troupe sets up and tears down the stage at each performance, loads and unloads the equipment and is responsible for the costumes, props, and so on.

The show is a 90-minute action-packed production spotlighting the Army's most talented soldiers, who were selected from hundreds of finalists.

The show includes current pop, country, gospel, soul and show tunes — something for everyone. Other features of the show are a laser show, a live band, state-of-the-art lighting and sound equipment.

The performance is free and open to the public.

For additional information, call Ed Hensley at 545-3909.

Ventilation

Continued from B-1

Window fans can also be used to ventilate buildings, and they work on the same principles. If possible, mount window fans on the more shaded or cooler side of the building to bring in the coolest air.

For the most effective results, close the space around the body of the fan so that air can move only through the fan — not through the window outside the fan housing.

Circulating fans, such as ceiling fans and floor fans, move air around in a room and make the air seem cooler simply because of the increased evaporation caused by the movement of air.

Small floor fans are particularly handy because they can easily be moved from room to room.

Box fans can double as window fans. Make sure they are securely installed, and seal the window around the fan to create the most ventilation.

Using fans to cool and ventilate a building consumes much less energy than using an air conditioner.

Attic fans use only about one-fourth to one-fifth the energy used by a central air conditioner in a given space, and other fans use even less.

During spring, when days are occasionally warm but air conditioners aren't yet on, they're a good way to maintain comfort.

Ceiling fans in family housing

Family housing residents at Fort Benning may install ceiling fans in family quarters in place of existing light fixtures.

Residents are responsible for proper fan installation and all maintenance and repairs to ceiling fans. Residents are also responsible for properly reinstalling the original light fixture prior to clearing quarters.

MOVIES

Today	Bat 21 - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	The Burbs - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	A Fish Called Wanda - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
Saturday	Working Girl - (R)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Cocoon: The Return - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Twins - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Beaches - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	The Blob - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
	Die Hard - (R)	Main Post 11 p.m.
Sunday	Beaches - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Beetlejuice - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Twins - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Working Girl - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Monday	Twins - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Beaches - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Deepstar Six - (R)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Tuesday	Gorillas in the Mist - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Working Girl - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Wednesday	Talk Radio - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Cocoon: The Return - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Physical Evidence - (R)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Thursday	Deepstar Six - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Parents - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.

MILITARY LAW
- Court Martials
- Physical Eval. Boards
- Civil Personnel Actions
- Military Hearings
- Administrative Eliminations
- Field Grade Art 15's
- DUI Defense
- ABCMR Appeals

DAVID L. ROBERTS, ATTORNEY
825 Second Avenue 324-7174

BAD MAN CONTEST
The Bad Men Are Coming Again!
April 7th & 8th, 1989 - Fight Time 8:00 P.M.
Columbus Municipal Auditorium
On April 7th & 8th, some of Columbus's toughest, meanest, and strongest guys will enter the ring and battle it out. That means feet and fists are going to fly as they fight to prove who is Columbus's "BADDEST MAN". Not just boxing - But knock-out karate rules
Advance Ticket Sales:
Nix's Printing, Armour Road; Lauderdale's, 3rd Ave.; Sound Shop, Columbus Sq. Mall; Wahlert's Home Ctr., Traffic Circle Shopping Center; Columbus Tape & Video, Auburn Road; Phenix Tape & Video, Phenix Square on 280 By-Pass
To Enter - Call 563-9551 Ticket Info: 563-9551
"BE THERE"

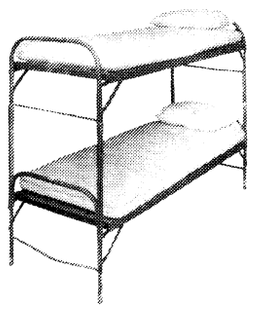
GOLDEN CHOPSTICKS
KOREAN RESTAURANT
AUTHENTIC KOREAN CUISINE
- KOREAN STYLE STEAKS & RIBS
- TEMPURA DISHES
- BARBECUE SWEET AND SOUR PORK
- SHISHKABOB
- KOREAN VEGETABLES

A Unique Dining Experience
LUNCHEON SPECIAL
SERVED FROM 11:30AM-2PM
Mon. thru Thur.
Includes: Bul-Koki, Sweet & Sour Pork, Chob-Chae, Yaki-Mandu, Kim-Chi (Hot Cabbage)
ALL FOR $3.50
HOLLY HILLS SHOPPING CENTER-3846 ST. MARY'S RD.
OFF I-185 EXIT 2—689-1644
- "ENJOY YOUR FAVORITE BEER OR WINE"
- OPEN MON.-SAT. 11AM-11PM CLOSED SUNDAY

ST. MARY'S RD. EXIT 2 I-185 GOLDEN CHOPSTICKS
CATERING
"SERVING COLUMBUS & FORT BENNING SINCE 1972"

Carmike Cinema 7
5301 Sidney Simons Blvd. 596-8244 CARMIKE
"FLETCH LIVES" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"RAINMAN" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"THE BURBS" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
DISCOUNT MATINEES MON.-FRI. ALL SEATS $2.50 till 5:30 P.M.
"THE RESCUERS" PG 2:30, 4:00, 5:30, 7:30
"DANGEROUS LIAISON" R 9:30
"CHANCES ARE" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"LAIR OF THE WHITE WORM" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"TROOP BEVERLY HILLS" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30

Columbus Square 8 563-4440 COLUMBUS SQUARE
"THE FLY II" R 7:00, 9:30
"MISSISSIPPI BURNING" R 7:00, 9:30
"DEAD BANG" R 7:00, 9:30
"LEAN ON ME" PG13 7:00, 9:30
"SING" PG13 7:10, 9:20
"POLICE ACADEMY SIX" PG 7:10, 9:20
"BILL & TED'S EXCELLENT ADV." PG 7:10, 9:20
"LEVIATHAN" R 7:10, 9:20



Peachtree Triple 322-7704 PEACHTREE MALL
"1969" R 7:10, 9:20
"SKIN DEEP" R 7:10, 9:20
"ACCIDENTAL TOURIST" PG 7:00, 9:30

Plaza Triple 99¢ any movie any time! 563-3737 CROSS COUNTRY PLAZA
"DREAM A LITTLE DREAM" PG13 7:00, 9:15
"WHO'S HARRY CRUMB" PG13 7:15, 9:30
"WATCHERS" R 7:15, 9:30

Phenix Twin 99¢ any movie any time! 297-3905 280 BYPASS
"DEEP STAR SIX" R 7:00, 9:15
"I'M GONNA GIT U SUCKA" R 7:15, 9:30

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Call 322-4500

R&R on a VOQ budget. No bunk.

At the Ramada Renaissance Hotel at the Airport, we're cutting military spending. By offering you lower-than-per-diem rates. With all the luxury you'd expect of our superb hotel. We'll even put a free pass to R&R Nite Club in your backpack just for fun. So the next time you need TDY to the real world, call Chris Adams at the Ramada Renaissance Hotel, 404-762-7676.
RAMADA RENAISSANCE HOTEL ATLANTA AIRPORT
Relocation rates available. Voted one of the top ten airport hotels in America.

Western Sizzlin®
STEAK HOUSE
•SPECIAL•
Friday and Saturday all day
Two U.S.D.A. choice 8 oz. Top Sirloins, two soup-salad-hot food bars, two potatoes, two servings of hot bread, and two drinks.
$10.99
SIRLOIN DINNER FOR TWO
Macon Rd. near I-185
& Victory Dr. near I-185
Also in Opelika & LaGrange
MasterCard, Visa, and checks accepted.

CLASSIFIED Excitement!

322-4500

CARDS OF THANKS 004

ST. JUDE'S NOVENA

May the Sacred Heart of Jesus be adored, glorified, loved and preserved troughout the world now and forever. Sacred heart of Jesus, pray for us. St. Jude, worker of miracles, pray for us. St. Jude, helper of hopeless, pray for us.

Say this prayer 9 times a day. By the 8th day your prayer will be answered. It has never been known to fail. Publication must be promised. My prayers have been answered.

E.P.

PUBLIC NOTICES 016

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

SGT'S CHICKEN HOUSE

4034 Cusseta Road. Spicy and Southern Fried Chicken. It's Good! Open 11-11. Light Lunch $1.60. All Military Welcome! Call 687-1944.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES 018

Childcare Service. Certified. A.M. Burgess, open 5am til 5:30 pm. Newborns, toddlers and up to 3 yrs. old. Will also accomodate people for all night duty or field time. For more information call 689-5300

PERSONALS 020

TROUBLED? Need to talk? Call CONTACT. We care. 24 hours. 327-3999

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

WORLD BOOK SALE Largest in the history of the company! Up to $200 off. Monthly budget plan available. For information call 561-4455 or 322-3594.

APPLIANCE SALES 040

SPRING SPECIALS
$65 & up. on refrig., ranges, W/D. Call 682-8717

WE REPAIR & Sell washers, dryers, refrig., & freezers. Good cond. 682-3384.

Whirlpool Washer & Dryer $375 st. 298-1473 aft 3 wkdays, anytime wkend.

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

HAND CARVED German made bar, $600; horse drawn beer wagon & 2 lamps, $100; bunkbeds, heavy wood, 1 yr. old, $175; 1 full/queen poster bed, $150; 1 full bed without headboard, $50. Call 568-7045.

Oak Jumbo Porch Rockers, antiques & used furniture at a great savings. 1038 1st Ave. 323-1478.

3 pc. Full Size BR group, chest of drawers & dresser, $250. 687-8074

3 PC SECTIONAL couch, living room suite, good cond. $150. 297-8083 aft 3PM

YARD SALES GA 060

FLEA MARKET
Saturday, April 1st, 8a.m.-2p.m. Corner of Lumpkin Rd. and Yeager Ave., Ft. Benning.
If you have a Military ID card, come set up with us. Call 687-4830 for details.

FT. BENNING RD. Flea Market is open & going strong. 6 days a week. Come & see Don & Linda. 1628 Ft. Benning Rd.

SUMMER THINGS!
Lots of good furniture & various items. Fri & Sat, 2012 6th Ave.

MISC. FOR SALE 076

DUAL EXHAUST for 550 Yamaha, $40; 2 wheel utility trailer, $200; white dresser & chest-of-drawers, $60. Call 682-2817

GOING TO GERMANY? 220 volt kitchen appliances, like new, matching set. Coffee pot, waffle iron, egg cooker, toaster, & mixer. $100 for all. Call 563-4672 after 6 p.m.

RAINBOW Vacuum cleaner w/all attach. $550. JVC digital CD player, $125/negot. 568-9859 anytime.

Sears Exercise Bike, good cond. Engagement ring & wedding band. Call 682-8113 anytime

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like for your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

PETS 122

AKC DOBERMAN PUPS
6 wks old, champion bloodline. 563-9565

AKC Golden Retriever, 6wks, had shots, $125. Call 563-3352 aft 5pm.

AKC Golden Retreiver Pups. Shots & wormed. $100. Call 205-749-7184

AKC MINIATURE SCHNAUZERS
3 males, 2 females, 4 weeks old, wormed. 323-7694

AKC MINIATURE SCHNAUZER
Salt & Pepper, shots & wormed. Call 561-2604.

AKC ROTTWEILER PUPS
Lg. boned, champ blood, shots & wormed. 561-2604

FREE COLUMN 130

FREE! Lhasa, F, nuetered, 1yr, house trained. Reddish. Call 297-2654 aft 3

Free To A Good home, 3 cats, 2 males, 1 female. Have had all their shots. 563-2675.

FREE COLUMN 130

ATTENTION Mark Cantrell lends portable buildings free of charge to any church, civic club, charity or non-profit organization for special events. Call Mark at 568-1985 for more information.

FREE female 1 year old mixed German Shepherd & Black Lab. 689-3497

FREE half Basset Hound puppies, 3 males & 1 female, long ears. 324-5699.

FREE! Lhasa, F, nuetered, 1yr, house trained. Reddish. Call 297-2654 aft 3

Free Mixed black female puppy. Housetrained, has had all shots, needs fenced yard. 563-5294 after 5

FREE Mixed Black Lab & Bulldog Puppies, 6 wks old. Call 689-3497.

Free part Chow Puppies, 6 weeks old to a good home. Call 298-6039.

FREE Solid black male cat, 9 mos. old. Call 297-3783.

Free To A Good home, 3 cats, 2 males, 1 female. Have had all their shots. 563-2675.

FREE TO A GOOD HOME 1 year old medium female, black dog, spayed & house trained, shots. Good w/kids & good watchdog. 298-6182

Free to good homes: mixed Peek-A-Poo Dachshund puppies; mixed Bulldog puppies; mixed Terrier puppies; mixed Labrador puppy; 9 month old mixed Border Collie, needs good home.

Adopt a Pet, Save a Life
Phenix Animal Hospital
1700 14th Street

FREE To Good Home, mixed Sherpherd puppies, mixed Bulldog puppies, mixed Terrier puppies, adorable black & grey kittens.
Adopt A Pet, Save A Life
Phenix Animal Hospital
1700 14th St.

FREE To good home, female puppy. Call 855-4016.

FREE TO GOOD HOME
1 large male cat, Morris, 1 small female grey cat. All shots, spayed & neutered. Must stay together. Call 689-7470.

Free to good home: must have fenced yard. Alaskan Spitz/Huskie puppies. Call 327-7236 after 6pm

FREE To good home, 3 beautiful half Shepherd puppies. Call 322-5196.

Free To good home, 2 Chows and 1 Doberman Pencher. Call 682-0863.

FREE 2 Australian Shepherds, 1 male & 1 female 13 mos. old. Call 563-1591.

FREE! 3 mth old black & white kitten, cat box & acc. Call 687-5072

FREE 4 kittens to good home. 7 weeks old. Call 687-2575

FREE 4 mo. old mixed male Beagle, shots & wormed, w/leash, collar & bowls. Good w/children. 687-8832

KITTENS, free to good homes. Various colors. Litter trained. 687-3430

FREE COLUMN 130

Free to good home: must have fenced yard. Alaskan Spitz/Huskie puppies. Call 327-7236 after 6pm

FREE! 3 mth old black & white kitten, cat box & acc. Call 687-5072

FREE 4 kittens to good home. 7 weeks old. Call 687-2575

IT'S HERE: the '89-'90 Military Pages. Call 682-7185 for your free copy.

KITTENS, free to good homes. Various colors. Litter trained. 687-3430

MALE, mixed black lab, 8wks, Call 561-5361 aft 6

1 Yr. Old Male neutered, declawed cat. Free to good home. Call 689-7835

1 Yr. Old Male neutered, declawed cat. Free to good home. Call 689-7835

2 YOUNG LAYING HENS
Just come pick them up. Call 298-0567.

Red Hound Dog Puppy., approx 6 months old. All shots. Good w/kids. Free to good home. 297-2426

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

SECURITY OFFICERS

Full & Part-Time needed in Columbus areas. SSN & retired persons welcome. Minimum age 21. Active duty welcome. Apply at the Corporate Center, Suite 620 on Saturday, April 1st from 8:30am to 1:30pm. No Phone Calls Please.

EOE

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

2 FEMALE OR MALE NCO's wanted for part-time rental work. Good earnings! Call Mr. Trest 689-4873.

Train for careers in
•AIRLINES
•CRUISE LINES
•TRAVEL AGENCIES
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
A.C.T. TRAVEL SCHOOL
Nat'l hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

STUDENTS or MILITARY
A rewarding opportunity awaits you. Good income, flexible hours. Set your own goals. For details, write Opportunity, 1050 Virginia Ave., Gainesville, GA, 30501.

HELP WANTED PART-TIME 218

PART TIME DISCHARGE PLANNER
20 hours per week. Bachelor's degree in a human service field required. In 300-bed private hospital. Supervision provided, excellent salary & benefit package. Send resume to: Executive Director, P.O. Box 1825, Columbus, GA 31902

SALES 226

2 YOUNG LAYING HENS
Just come pick them up. Call 298-0567.

SALESPEOPLE, male or female, military or civilian. Call 689-8337/8335, Photos Unlimited, Victory Drive next to Blimpie's.

SKILLS & TRADES 228

FREE TRAINING
Highway Marking Machine Operators

Do You Qualify???
No experience necessary, but MUST have a valid Georgia or Alabama driver's license with no record or DUI for 5 years. Be able to drive a 5sp vehicle larger than a pick-up truck & must be willing to travel (4-6 wks at a time). TRAVEL TIME PAID, $18,000 average annual salary. Call today for information. Personnel Concepts, 571-2424, ask for Kay. NO FEE. EOE

SPRING SPECIAL
1 MONTH LOT RENT FREE
CLOSE TO SHOPPPING
SCHOOLS, QUIET
SHADY LOTS
1050 FARR ROAD
687-4197

Train to be a Professional
•SECRETARY
•EXECUTIVE SEC.
•WORD PROCESSOR
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
THE HART SCHOOL
a Div. of A.C.T. Corp.
Nat'l hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

SKILLS & TRADES 228

PERSONNEL CONCEPTS, INC.
We Are Interviewing
For The Following Positions:

INDUSTRIAL WORKERS
Must be willing to work any shifts, steel-toed workboots required.
FORKLIFT OPERATORS
Minimum 1 year experience.
ALUMINUM MOLD OPERATORS
All shifts, long-term assignments, stee-toed workboots a must.

Apply in person 9-10AM or 2-3PM only. 105 West 10th St. (Courtyard Level). NO FEE.
EOE

CHILD CARE 229

CAPABLE, Reliable, Dependable Baysitter. Off Exit 3 on Buena Vista Rd. 568-4104.

RESUME SERVICES 232

A BETTER JOB WINNING
RESUME $9

up to executive presentations. Expert writing, typing, printing, updating.

...FREE CONSULTATION...
★ SAME DAY SERVICE ★

America's oldest & largest Professional Resume Svc.
327-2238
2520 Wynnton Rd. Ste. 4

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIY 410

Well Established florist founded in 1948 for sale by owner. Call 1-637-4669

UNFURNISHED HOUSES GA 526

Near Benning, 2 or 3BR, air, fenced, $335 to $350, 568-4725, 561-6367

NORTH CLEAN 2BR, stove, laundry, ceiling fans, heat & a/c, 327-0793

North Tanglewood, 3BR, 2BA, cent. a/h, fenced. Nice, $495 per mo. 324-3320

OAKLAND PARK
Large 3 Br house
Call 689-7759

2BR-Large kitchen, $300 dep. 4306 3rd Ave. Call 561-0905 after 5pm.

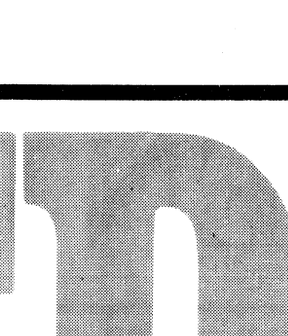
3 BR, 2 BA, LR, DR, breakfast area, dishwasher, cent. a/h. $450 mo. $200 dep. 568-9726.

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like for your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

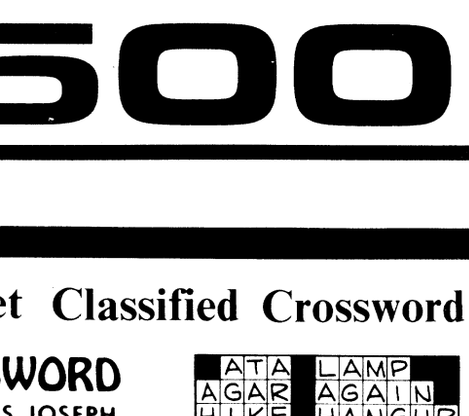
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer



CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

Bayonet Classified Crossword

CROSSWORD
by THOMAS JOSEPH



ACROSS
1 Role for Oland
5 Bosc
9 Nimbus
10 Actor Finney
13 English river
14 Director
15 Write
16 Hebrew letter
17 River in Scotland
18 Nullify
20 Wedding words
21 Yemen seaport
22 Restful room
23 Timid
25 For each
26 Haggard novel
27 Cartoonist Peter
30 — Aviv
31 Tar
34 Building wing
35 Identifier
36 Success
38 Equalize
40 Donated
41 Indicate
42 Region
43 Water jug
44 River's edge

DOWN
1 Fellow
2 Anchorage
3 Isolated
4 — sequitur
5 Taste
6 Football team
7 Desert robe
8 Poisonous water
11 Lector
12 Test a garment
16 Small boy
19 Joyous
23 Defer
24 A Greek
25 Whale group
26 Arabian horse, e.g.
27 Clever
28 Farm machine
29 Scold
32 Novelist, John —
33 Bestowed
37 Hard wood
39 "Apocalypse —"
40 Prattle

Yesterday's Answer

ATA LAMP
AGAR AGAIN
HIKE HANGUP
ELI MOS EDO
MENTOR OIL
GIVE ANTE
BARE PREY
SAGE CAEN
ERA ARAGON
ERN ARK LUI
REDACT FINN
LETHE ESCA
REEL RHE

THE DEAL MAKIN' MEN

ATTENTION

CHEVY/OLDS & GEO BUYERS

—Our Military Special—

We Will Beat Any Deal From Any Dealer... Or Any Ad In Any Newspaper or we will give you

$100 CA$H

& a full tank of Gas!!

"If Your Car Doesn't Say Lukken Chevy-Olds You Paid Too Much"

LUKKEN CHEVROLET OLDSMOBILE & GEO

Hwy. 27 North LaGrange Ga.

Just 30 Minutes Away-Open 8am-8pm

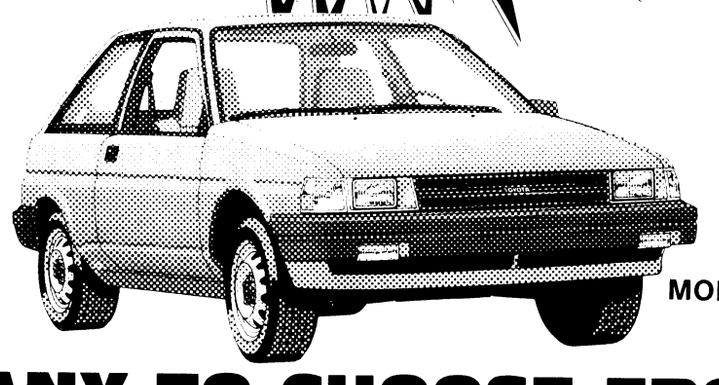
Call 324-7244

YOUR CHOICE At MALOOF TOYOTA

1989 TOYOTA P/U

STANDARD BED

MODEL 8200



OPEN THIS SUNDAY 1-5

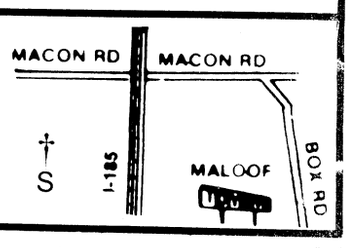
$495 Down

$189 Month

NOT A LEASE!

Or 1989 TERCEL

MODEL 1371

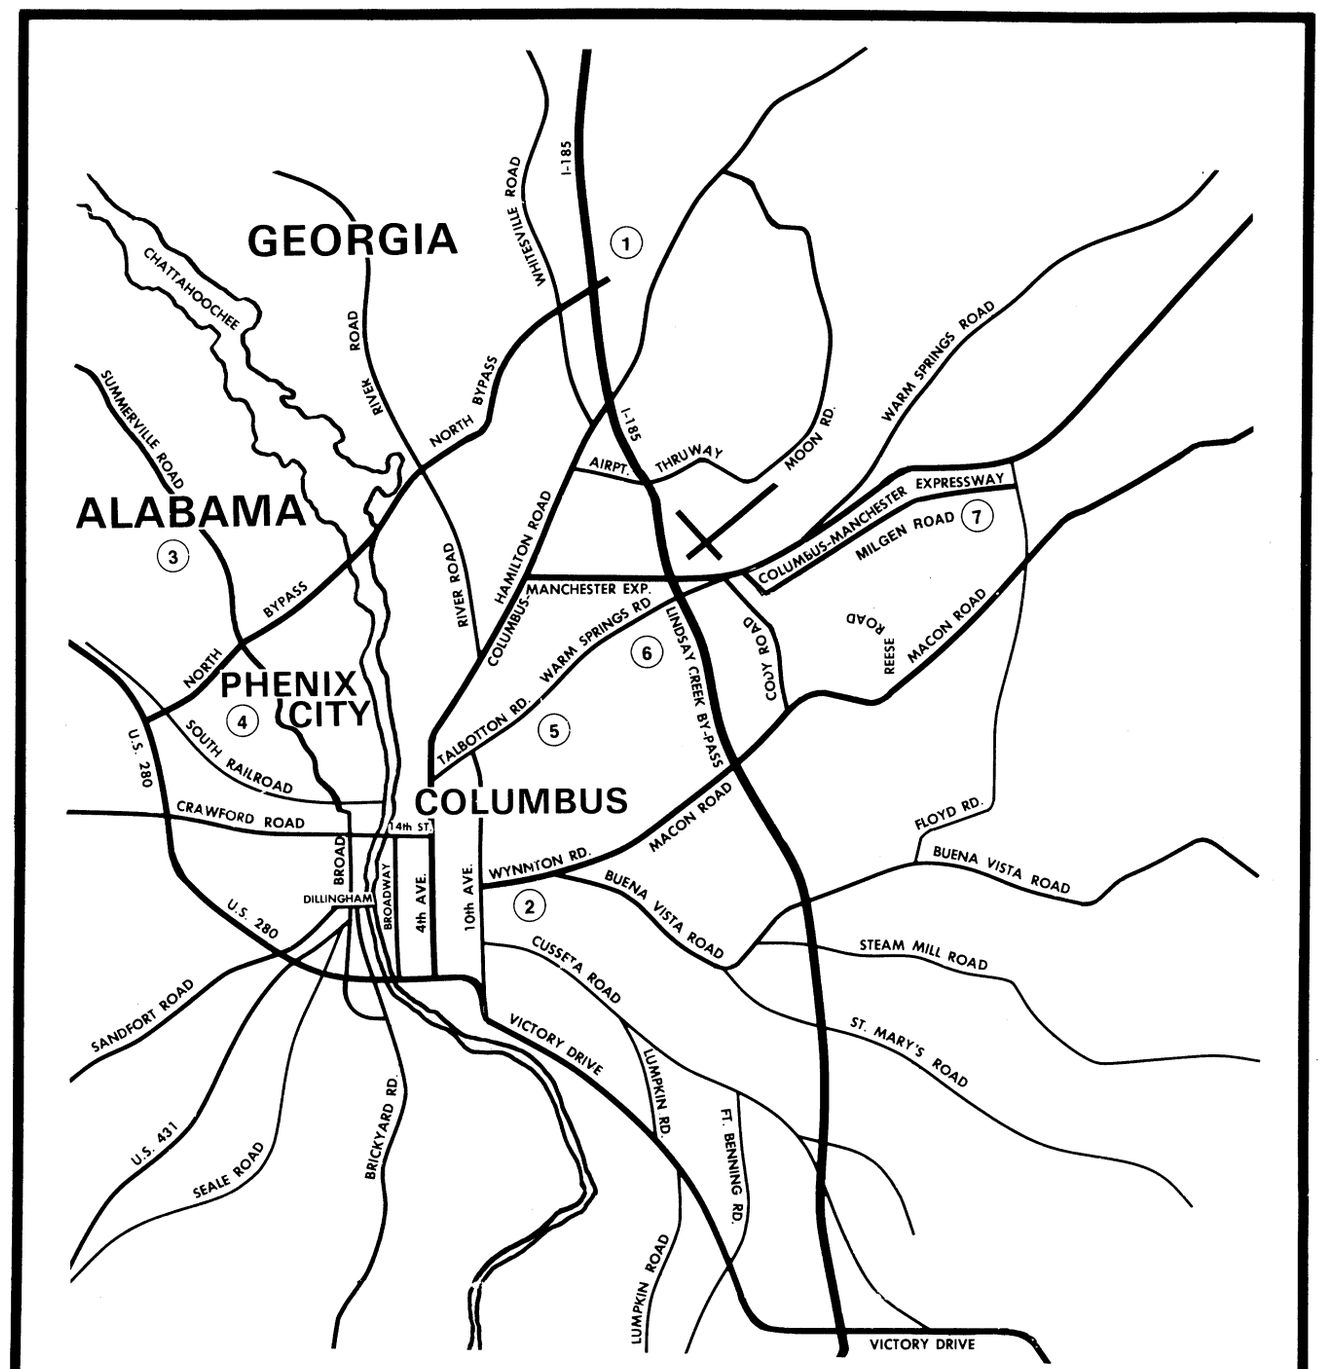


MANY TO CHOOSE FROM
NO GAMES NO GIMMICKS

60 mo. 12.9% A.P.R. + tax, tag, title, & doc. fee

WE'RE SELLIN' RIGHT

MALOOF TOYOTA
Exit 4 I-185, Macon Road



CALL DAVID OR SANDY FOR INSTANT CREDIT APPROVAL
563-7500
Sales Hours:
Sales Hours: Mon.-Fri. 9-8
Sat. 9-7, Sun. 1-5

BLOOD PLASMA SAVES LIVES
$10 ea. DONATION
New Donors/ Or Inactive For 6 Months/ $5 Bonus with This Ad/ Plus $5 2nd Time Bonus Plus $750 Cash Drawing Monthly
Community Plasma Center
825 4th Ave.
Columbus
322-6566

A·P·A·R·T·M·E·N·T

1. HAMILTON STATION
2. OVERLOOK CROSSING
3. CARRIAGE HILL
4. CANDLEWOOD
5. GARDENBROOK
6. CLUB HILL
7. HAMPTON PLACE

HAMILTON STATION

ALL ABOARD!

Hamilton Station . . . invites you HOME to . . . 1, 2 & 3 bedroom apartment homes. Come visit and you'll want to stay!

HAMILTON STATION
323-1800
Hamilton Road at Double Churches Road

Hours:
Mon.-Fri. 9-6, Sat. 10-4, Sun. 2-6

WE HAVE THE RIGHT PLACE FOR YOU...

1 Bedroom
2 Pools & Spa

Move in the month of April Spring Special!

For more details...

CALL 323-6722

Overlook Crossing

Carriage Hill

QUALITY at a Reasonable Price & convenient to Benning.

297-6426

1800 Lakewood Dr.
Phenix City, Ala.

Hours: M-F 9-6
Sat. 10-4

MILITARY SPECIAL

$100.00

Clip & Save Coupon

Candlewood
APARTMENTS

297-1072
STADIUM DRIVE, PHENIX CITY, ALA.

GARDENBROOK
APARTMENTS

An Affordable, Convenient Address to be Proud of . . .

2 Bedroom SPECIAL

With a long List of Amenties!

322-6006

3561 Hilton Avenue
Hours: M-F
9:00-6:00
Sat. & Sun.
by Appt.

You'll Know The Ducks by Name
Quiet Comfort & Serenity.
See what we call The Woodruff Difference.

APARTMENTS FROM $350

Club Hill

Hours:
M-F 9-6
Sat. 10-4
Sun. 1-5

2840
Warm Springs Road
327-4545

COME MEET OUR LEASING STAFF . . .

MARY WALL, LAURIE AIKEN, KATHY SNEED

HAMPTON PLACE Apartment Homes feature all the amenities necessary for a Fun Lifestyle with ongoing Social Activities. Come & Join the FRIENDLIEST Community in Columbus!

Hampton Place

563-2001
5850 Milgen Road

Office Hours:
Mon.-Thurs. 9-7
Fri. 9-6, Sat. 9-5, Sun. 1-5

"Your Personal Service Assured"

LET US PUT YOUR PROPERTY ON THE MAP! CALL 571-8548 LESLIE GRESHAM

Bayonet Classified Index

CALL TOLL-FREE IN GEORGIA

1-800-282-7859

CALL TOLL-FREE OUTSIDE GEORGIA

1-800-241-7894

HOURS:

MONDAY - THURSDAY

8:30AM - 7:00PM

FRIDAY

8:30AM - 5:30PM

If you would like for your ad to appear in the next day's edition, please call BEFORE 5:30pm.

LEDGER-ENQUIRER CLASSIFIEDS

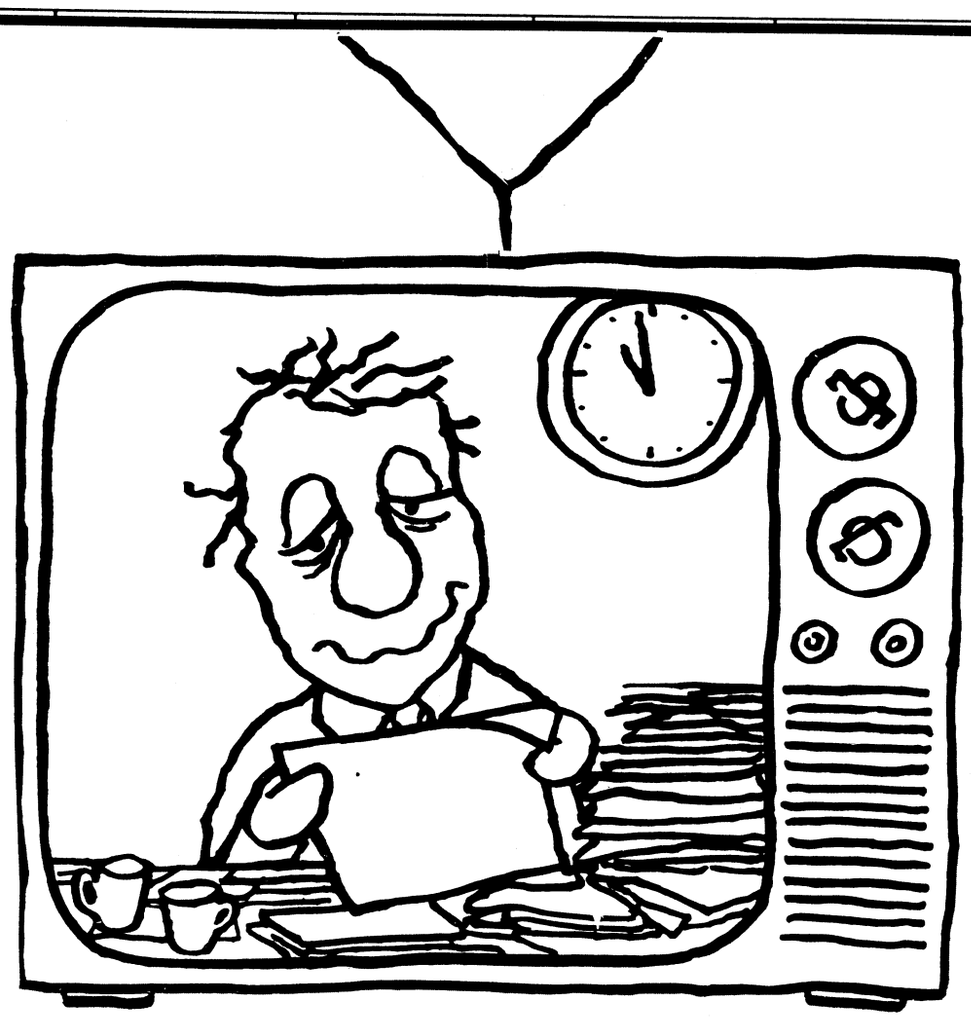
"There's something in it for you"

322-4500

Please check your advertisement the first day it appears in the newspaper. If you need to make corrections, simply call one of our Classified Advertising Representatives as soon as possible. Please call on the first day your ad appears, as the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer cannot be held responsible for errors beyond the first insertion date. We will be happy to see to it that your ad appears correctly in the next scheduled insertion in the Ledger-Enquirer.

Listed below are local telephone exchanges for the Columbus/Phenix City area. These do not require an area code if you live within the area. If the number is long distance, then the advertisement will list the area code.

ALABAMA
291 Phenix City
297 Phenix City
298 Phenix City
855 Phenix City/ Smiths/Seale



GEORGIA
322 Columbus
323 Columbus
324 Columbus
327 Columbus
561 Columbus
563 Columbus
568 Columbus
569 Columbus
571 Columbus
576 Columbus
596 Columbus
649 Columbus
682 Columbus
685 Columbus
687 Columbus
689 Columbus

INDEX OF CLASSIFICATIONS

A1 Air Cond., Heating
A2 Appliance Repair
A3 Architecture & Drafting
A4 Auto Care
B1 Brickwork, Masonry
B2 Buildings, Contractors
C1 Carpentry, General Repairs
C2 Catering, Food Service
C3 Cleaning Service
C4 Clock & Watch Repair
C5 Concrete, Driveways
C6 Carpet
C7 Child Care
E1 Electrical
E2 Energy Saving Products
F1 Fencing
F2 Floor Sanding
F3 Furniture
G1 Grading, Backhoe
G2 Gravel, Sand, Topsoil
G3 Gutters, Downspouts
H1 Handyman
H2 Hauling
H3 Home Improvement
I1 Insulation
L1 Lawn & Garden
L2 Lawn Mower Repair
M1 Misc. Services
P1 Painting, Wallpapering
P2 Plumbing
P3 Protection Services
P4 Photo Services
R1 TV, Stereo, Video Service
R2 Remodeling
R3 Roofing
S1 Screens, Storm Windows
S2 Sewing, Alterations
S3 Sheetrock, Drywall
S4 Signs
S5 Swimming Pools
S6 Sewing Machine Repairs
S7 Storage
S8 Small Engine Repair
T1 Tree Stump Removal
U1 Upholstery
V1 Vacuum Cleaner Service
V2 Video Taping
W1 Welding
Y1 Yardwork
Y2 Yard Equip. Rental

000 Legal Notices
001 Funeral Notices
002 Funeral Homes
003 Memorial Notices
004 Cards of Thanks
007 Cemeteries/ Monuments
010 Cemetery Lots
012 Lodge Notices
016 Public Notices
018 Professional Services
020 Personals
021 Only Hearts
022 Happy Ads
024 Items of Interest
028 Vacation & Tourist Information
034 Fishing & Hunting
036 Antiques
038 Air Cond./Heaters
040 Appliance Sales
042 Auctions
044 Building Materials
045 Bicycles
046 Camera/Photo
048 Camping Equipment
049 Christmas Trees
050 Clothing
052 Computers & Equip.
054 Firewood
056 Firearms
058 Furniture for Sale
059 Yard Sales - AL
060 Yard Sales - GA
061 Collectibles Buy/Sell
064 Sports Equip. & Supplies
066 Outdoor Equip.
068 Jewelry
070 Machinery, Tools
072 Heavy Equipment
074 Medical Supplies
076 Misc. for Sale
077 Lost & Found Items
078 Musical Instruments
080 Office & Store Equip.
081 Restaurant Equipment
082 Pawn Shops
084 Power Tools
086 Equipment Rental
088 Sewing Machines
092 Swimming Pools & Supplies
096 TV-Video-Stereo Sales
098 Merchandise Wanted
110 Livestock
112 Livestock Supplies
114 Poultry
116 Poultry Supplies
118 Hay-Feed-Grain
120 Farm Equipment
122 Pets
124 Pet Supplies & Services
126 Pet Boarding & Grooming
127 Pets-Lost & Found
128 Pets Wanted
130 Free Column
132 Fruits & Vegetables
134 Lawn & Garden
136 Lawn Mowers & Equip.
138 Plants, Shrubs, Trees
140 Landscaping, Nursery
142 Wanted to Buy
210 Management Employment
212 Restaurants & Clubs
214 Employment Agencies
215 Employment Information
216 Help Wanted General
218 Help Wanted Part-Time
219 Domestic Help Wanted
220 Medical/Dental
222 Office/Clerical
223 Data Entry
224 Professional Employment
225 Technical
226 Sales
228 Skills & Trades
229 Child Care
230 Job Wanted
232 Resume Services
234 Job Listings
310 Medical Training
312 Clerical Training
314 Beauty & Barber Schools
316 Dancing, Music, Drama
318 Modeling
320 Correspondence Schools
322 Real Estate Schools
324 Trade Schools
328 Misc. Instructions
330 Colleges
410 Business Opportunities
412 Investments
414 Money to Lend
415 Credit
416 Wanted to Borrow
510 Rentals
512 Rooms
514 Room & Board
516 Share Home
518 Furnished Apts. GA
519 Furnished Apts. AL
520 Unfurnished Apts. GA
521 Unfurnished Apts. AL
522 Cottages
524 Furnished Houses GA
525 Furnished Houses AL
526 Unfurnished. Houses GA
527 Unfurnished Houses AL
528 Business Rentals
529 Office Rentals
530 Wanted to Rent
532 Property for Rent
534 Resort Rentals
536 Storage Rentals
610 Property
612 Townhouses & Condos
614 Homes For Sale AL
616 Homes For Sale GA
618 Real Estate Wanted
620 Commercial Property
622 Income Property
624 Investment Property
626 Lots For Sale
628 Backwater Property GA
629 Backwater Property AL
630 Lake Front Lots
632 Resort & Vacation Property
634 Out of Town Realty
636 Farms & Acreage
638 Real Estate Auction
640 Wanted to Buy
710 Mobile Homes For Sale
714 Mobile Homes For Rent
716 Mobile Home Lots For Rent
718 Mobile Home Lots For Sale
720 Mobile Homes Wanted
724 Mobile Home Service
726 Mobile Units
810 Boats
812 Canoes & Sailboats
813 Personal Watercrafts
814 Marine Service & Supplies
816 Boats Wanted
818 Motor Homes For Sale
820 Campers & Trailers
824 Camping Supplies & Equipment
826 RV Supplies & Service
828 Motorcycles For Sale
830 Mini-Bikes
832 Dunebuggies For Sale
834 Scooters, Go-Carts
836 Wanted to Buy
910 Airplanes
912 Tractors & Trailers
914 Trucks
916 Truck Service, Parts, Acc.
918 Truck Rental, Leasing
920 Trucks Wanted
922 Buses/Vans For Sale
924 Jeeps For Sale
926 Auto Service Parts, Acc.
928 Auto Insurance / Financing
930 Autos For Sale
932 Sports Cars For Sale
934 Classic & Antique Autos
936 Imported Autos
938 Auto Rental/Leasing
940 Autos Wanted

If the 6:00 News Reported Everything We Report It would Last Until The 11:00 News

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY "DELIVERS"

E-1s & Up!!

No Previous CREDIT! "No Problem"

SAME DAY DELIVERY!

SLOW CREDIT? "No Problem"

Toll Free 1-800-544-8480

Only Requirements
1. L.E.S.
2. $99.00 Down
3. Ability To Buy Full Coverage Auto Insurance

Bring this Ad— We'll Pay Your Cab Fare

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
Hwy. 431 North
EUFAULA, ALABAMA

ALL PRICES SLASHED GIANT AUTO SALE

SALES TAX GOES UP APRIL 1ST BUY NOW AND SAVE

JAY'S TAX REVOLT -GIANT TENT SALE-
ON VICTORY DRIVE

NO TAX INCREASE FOR THIS SALE!

OVER 800 CARS, TRUCKS & VANS

NEW CARS FROM $5,992

NEW TRUCKS FROM $6,673

NEW VANS FROM $11,995

OVER 250 USED VEHICLES STARTING AT $895.00

SPECIAL HYUNDAI SALE PAYMENTS FROM $91.03 MONTHLY

SPECIAL AUDI SALE UP TO 75% OFF Original Sticker Price Starting At $4995*

CONVERSION VAN SALE FULL SIZE 89 MODELS FROM $14,995

PLUS GENERAL MOTORS & CHRYSLER CORPORATION SPECIAL SALE CARS

FINANCING AS LOW AS 4.9% APR ON SELECT MODELS

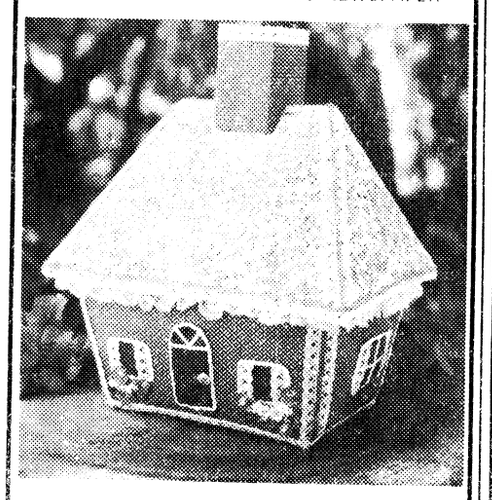
REBATES UP TO $2,000

GIANT DISCOUNTS AS MUCH AS $6,300

ON THE SPOT FINANCING AND DELIVERY

THURSDAY - FRIDAY - SATURDAY - SUNDAY AND MONDAY ONLY!

DON'T MISS THESE DEALS UNDER THE TENT!



*DEALER WILL PAY SALES TAX INCREASE, IF APPLICABLE. OFFER VALID FOR THIS SALE ONLY. PREVIOUS OFFERS EXCLUDED. AFTER REBATE, PLUS TAX, TAG, TITLE AND $69 DOC FEE. PLUS TAX, TAG, TITLE & $69 DOC FEE. PAYMENTS FIGURED AT 42 MONTHS AT 14.5% APR WITH $500 DOWN CASH OR TRADE VALUE. W.A.C.

Only at

1401 VICTORY DRIVE
NEXT TO DOLLY MADISON
OLD KINGS AIRPORT SITE ON VICTORY DRIVE
HOURS: 9:00 A.M. TIL LAST CUSTOMER SERVICE!!! SUNDAY 12:00 TIL . . .

DO-IT-YOURSELF IDEAS

A READER SERVICE OF THIS NEWSPAPER

BASKETS AND COTTAGES

You can create unique carry-alls with the aid of this 17-page all-color instructional guidebook. Step-by-step directions and photographs as well as full-size traceable patterns are included. Materials called for include fabric, muslin, ribbon, lace, batting, string, glue and cardboard. Remove the roof of this cottage and you'll have a perfect hideaway for hair ribbons, jewelry and sewing notions.

Send check to: CLE Pattern Dept. P.O. Box 2383 Van Nuys, CA 91409

☐ #G459 Fabric Baskets . . . $6.25
☐ 112-page catalog . . . $3.95 (Picturing 700 woodworking and handicraft projects)

Name .....
Address .....
City .....
State ..... Zip .....

Price Includes Postage & Prompt Handling

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

Mobile Home, 1yr old, dbl 2ba, big living room & kitchen, laundry room. $18,000. (912) 838-4887.

South Columbus-VA nothing down. Immaculate 3BR house. We have the keys. Call Ann Hart 682-1718 or Harris 687-9711/Agent.

THE HOME TEAM'S HIT PARADE

CORY & FRAZIER LOOMIS

- VA/FHA FINANCING ON THESE:
- 407 Henson Ave. 4BR/2BA $63,900
- 2419 Skylake Drive 3BR/2BA $61,900
- 545 Englewood Drive 3BR/2BA $65,000
- 3530 Howard Ave. 3BR/1BA $57,500

Call Cory or Frazer
566-0183/323-8371
KENNON-PARKER, REALTORS

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

COUNTRY PROPERTIES!

GOD'S 22 LITTLE GREEN ACRES Very nice home on this property is just what everyone is looking for today! Grow anything you want! Seller will pay up to 7% towards discount points & closing costs. CALL SAM 561-8312

COUNTRY IN THE CITY 4.89 wooded acres, 3BR 2BA, huge family room w/fireplace, living & dining rooms, screened porch, country kitchen. Pay equity & assume VA loan. CALL LLOYD FRENCH, 576-5933

The French Co.
(404) 324-4854

MOBILE HOMES FOR SALE 710

$199 MO. $500 down & assume, 2 br, 1 ba, owner finance, set-up. 855-3486.

'85 Fleetwood, 14x70 2BR 2BA, take over payments. 298-1472 aft 3 wkdays anytime wkends.

MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT 714

Clean 2BR, 12 wide, a/c, w/d, couple or small child. 5 mins Harmony Church. No pets 989-3354

NICE 2BR, washer/dryer, central heat. Furnished, a/c. 561-8684/689-8646

2,2 & 3br elec/gas on, near schools & post. 1314 Ft. Benning Rd. 9-5, 689-0453

2BR mobile home, large lot, nice carpet, ac, convenient to Kelly Hill Exit. $225 mo. 989-3270.

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE 322-4500

MOBILE HOME LOTS FOR SALE 718

Whispering Pines Campground on Lake Eufaula, swimming pool, tennis courts & clubhouse. 2 lots avail. $700 ea or $1,200 for both. 689-4027 aft 5pm.

BOATS 810

19' Bayliner, bow rider, immaculate condition, Volvo engine, electronics package, used in fresh water only, dry docked under cover. $6,000. 324-2544

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

Honda 550 '83, with helmet, runs great, 7,000 mi. $1,000. 689-3379 after 5pm.

HONDA '84 Gold Wing GL 1200, fully dressed, stereo, extras. $4000. 687-2874

TRUCKS 914

CHEVY '85 Custom 1/2 Ton, longbed, V-6, standard trans., 98,000 mi., clean. $5,700/Firm. 561-3346

CLEAN '83 Ford Ranger, swb, ac, 5 spd, power brakes, tool box, am-fm cass., $3495. 297-0902.

Mazda '88, 15,000 mi, air, all terrain TA tires. Day 322-4541, eve 596-9335

TOYOTA '88, 4x4 Pick Up, all extras, $10,800. Call 542-5575.

'84 F-150 FORD, 6 cyl, 4 sp., $3600. Call 327-5954

'88 CHEVROLET S-10, 5 sp, assume payments. Call 561-6363 anytime & leave message.

TRUCK SERVICE PARTS, ACC 916

'75 FORD F-150 Truck, good cab, locked up engine, bad bed. $250. 324-4602.

BUSES/VANS FOR SALE 922

TOYOTA VAN '86, 7 pass, dual air, am/fm cass, low miles. $7200. 291-1870

VW CAMPER '84 Sleeps 4, $5,200. After 4pm, 685-0673

1986 Chevrolet C-20 Customized Van, extended Hi-top, front & rear air, V-8, color TV, CB, am/fm stereo cass., built-in cooler, clothes rack, heavy duty air shocks, new tires, less than 39,000 mi, all hwy. Must sell $12,900/offer. 327-6467, leave message

'78 TRANS Van Dodge, 23 ft. self-contained, 36,000 mi. $6000 or trade. 297-5744

'83 E100 Van, ac, pb, ps, factory rebuilt engine, 4 spd, bay windows, Cpt. chairs. 1-628-4060 after 4 p.m.

'83 E100 Van, ac, pb, ps, factory rebuilt engine, 4 spd, bay windows, captain's chairs. $5,000. 1-628-4060 after 4 p.m.

'83 FORD VAN, auto/OD, air, cruise, tilt, custom quad red/gold paint, computer, escort RD, Sony-Alpine, full interior, 53K mi., showpiece, $5700. Call 322-3911 after 7pm.

'84 FORD E-150, Conversion Van, a/c, ps, pb, cruise, TV, CB, built-in cooler, clothes rack, 47,500 mi., $9,500. 682-4267 after 6pm.

'85 DODGE Conversion van, loaded, dual air, 23,000 mi. $9150. Call 298-2294

JEEPS FOR SALE 924

1980 4 Wheel Drive Jeep Wagoneer, good cond., asking $3,000. 297-3541

AUTO SERVICE PARTS, ACC 926

AMC GREMLIN '77, starts and runs, will sell for parts for only $125. Call now 561-1661 after 5pm.

AUTO INSURANCE FINANCING 928

Looking for more value for your car insurance dollar? State Farm's combination rates and service is hard to beat. Call State Farm Agent, Marvin Foster, 324-2064.

Military & civilians residing in Alabama. Call or see us for your insurance needs PITTS-DAVIS INS. 298-2500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

AMC CONCORD Station Wagon, '82, standard, $1600. Call 687-5338

CADILLAC ELDORADO '76, 36,000 actual miles, like new. 324-4266

CAMARO 76, needs motor, $650 neg. '72 Cutlass, wrecked, good 350 motor & transm. $350. 298-5606.

CAMARO '85, silver, V-6, ac, good condition, $5500. 298-2474

Chevrolet Celebrity Eurosport '88, exc. cond., $2,000 down, assume $317 pymts. Day, 568-4702; eve, 323-9806, ask for Pam

CHEVY CAMARO, '76, 2DR, 4SP, a/c, good shape, $1800. Call 322-7107

Cimarron, '85, 4DR, loaded, low miles, $600 dn, $188/mo. 689-7176, 687-4568.

Corvette Stingray, '74,454 engine, $6000. Call for appointment 1-637-4669.

CUTLASS Calais, '84, V-8, fully loaded, $5750. Call 568-7782

FIREBIRD '84, a/c, auto., new tires, local 1 owner, good cond. $4495. 563-3444

FIREBIRD '84, ps, pb, t-tops. In great condition! Call 561-8047 or 561-2840.

GRAND LE-MANS '81 Pontiac, loaded, auto, $3500. Really sharp!! 561-4516

MAZDA RX7 '81, white, all new tires, $2600 neg. 291-9548 or 298-8622.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

Mercury Grand Marquis '85, 2dr, 1 owner. Call 297-8418 anytime.

Nissan Maxima, '86,6 cyl, EQ,loaded, exc cond, combo locks,$9490.327-0326

NISSAN SENTRA GXE '88, 11,000 miles, factory warranty, $8300. 576-6765.

Nissan Sentra XE '87, ps, pb, 5 sp, a/c, am/fm cass. Hettie, 649-4088, 8:30-5:30

Olds Ciera, '82, $3000/offer; '83 Toyota Corolla SR5, $3500/offer. 687-3444

Olds Ciera '86, dk blue, 4 dr, perfect cond. 50,000 mi, 1 owner. $6,000. 689-2666

Pontiac Catalina, '73, 4dr, ac, ps, pb. Needs work. $250/offer. 561-6773.

SUZUKI Samurai '88, a/c, am/fm casset., CA rims, backseat, 2 tops, $9500. 576-6848 leave message.

T-BIRD 400 eng, '77, $1200. Fiat X1/9, '80, $1400. 298-1473 aft 3 wkday, anytime wkend.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

PONTIAC GRAND AM LE '86, 4dr, 51,000 mi. Pay off loan/warr., $6800. 569-0618

Pontiac 6000LE '85, fully loaded S/W. $2500 equity & assume pymts. 682-1602

'84 PONTIAC air, auto, tilt, cruise, stereo, brown & cream, excellent cond. Below book at $3995. 563-2214.

'85 Fierro; good condition. Fully loaded. Call 569-0864 After 5:00 p.m.

'85 GRAND PRIX, all power, sunroof, gages, 1 owner. $6600. Call 323-6625.

'86 FIERO Gold, 5 sp, sunroof. $500 down & assume payments $215 mo. Call 563-2791.

'86 RENAULT Alliance A/C, white, Must Sell Call 327-4378

'87 HONDA ACCORD LXi, auto., sunroof, am/fm cass., 4 door, $12,500. Call 576-5051 after 6 pm

'88 Olds Calais, Exceilent cond. low miles, must see. $8500. Call 563-8255.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

CAMARO Z28 '85, auto, air, t-tops, sharp, am/fm cass, $7000/offer. 297-9744

CAMARO '86 Iroc Z, exc. cond., 31,000 miles, many options. Make offer or trade. 291-0835 or 297-2804.

LASER XT, '86, turbo, t-tops, loaded, must sell. 571-1515 wk, (404) 663-4013 home

MG MIDGETS, buy 1, get 1 free. $1250 cash. 1-663-4025, Pine Mt.

PONTIAC FIERO GT, '85, silver, 4sp, all options, exc. cond. $5500. Call 561-8568.

IMPORTED AUTOS 936

BMW 535I, '85, 5sp, 1 owner, excellent condition, $17,500. Call 327-0556.

VOLVO 1980, Good cond. Exc. mechanical history. $3500. 327-3031

'86 AUDI 5000 White w/black trim, excellent cond. Must see! $9900. 327-3031

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

WE ACCEPT W-2s Down Payment
WE FINANCE EVERYBODY Good-Bad No Credit!!
Williams Motor Co. 687-8461
3125 Victory Dr.

CARS UNLIMITED

GOOD CREDIT BAD CREDIT NO CREDIT
We Finance Anyone!!! Use Your W-2 Form As A Down Pymt.
(over 100 cars to choose from)
RIDE TODAY!!!
3264 Victory Dr. "next to Shoney's"
687-7900

Spring Into Action Sale

BILL HEARD'S PHENIX CITY

1131 280 By-Pass, Phenix City, Ala.

OVER 100 PRE-OWNED CARS TO CHOOSE FROM!!!
SPECIAL MILITARY FINANCE PLAN!!!

Special Sale

88 CORSICAS equipped with automatic transmissions, air conditioning, power steering, stereos, and much more, this week only $6495

(3) 88 CAVALIERS 2 & 4 doors, automatic, air conditoned, power steering, stereo, yuour choice $5995

78 FORD RANGER XLT like new $2995

84 CUTLASS Calais T-Tops, loaded & nice $6850

85 BUICK REGAL 2-Door, loaded & very low miles $6995

88 FORD TAURUS GL 4-Dr., loaded, 15,000 miles, sold new for $14,200, OUR PRICE $8850

(2) 88 CHEVY SPECTRUM 4-Dr., automatic, air conditioned, power steering, low miles $4995

83 CAMARO automatic, air conditoned, power steering $3995

80 FORD PICKUP automatic, air conditioned, power steering, long bed, sharp $3995

83 CHEVY CELEBRITY automatic, air conditoned, power steering, stereo, sharp, sharp $3995

*plus freight, tax, title

CALL 298-3636
on the 280 By-Pass
In Phenix City, Alabama

$1.00 DOWN* DELIVERS

WITH 11 1/2 % APR on 86's-89's NEW & USED

THIS WEEKEND ONLY AT CHARLES LEVY MOTOR CO.

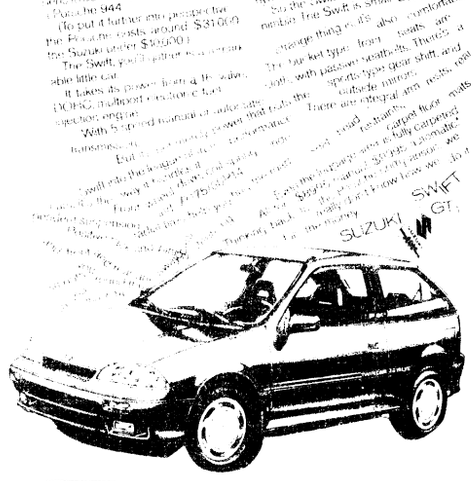
*1.00 Down Plus Tax, Tag, Title, & $99 Doc Fee on Variable Rate W/Approved Credit

$219.25 a MONTH
And all the wheels work.



The Suzuki Sidekick 4-wheel drive.

Selling Price	$9851	OPEN SUNDAY
Down Payment	1.00
Amount Financed	$9850.39

#90010 Selling Price $9851.39 plus tax, tag, title & doc fee. 60 months

Corner of 11th St. & 4th Ave. 576-3722

Everything you need to know about the Suzuki Swift GTi.

#90021 Selling Price $8233.75 plus tax, tag, title & doc fee. 60 months.

Corner of 11th St. & 4th Ave. 576-3722

Payments from $222.41 a Month and
Choose your favorite topping.

SUZUKI SAMURAI

Selling Price $9995, Plus tax, tag, title and doc fee, 60 mos.

Corner of 11th St. & 4th Ave. 576-3722

USED CARS

DOWNTOWN LOT 576-3722 4th Ave. & 11th St.
576-3700
MIDTOWN LOT 563-6469 MIDTOWN DR. BEHIND KMART

CARS

88 YUGO	$2995	48 @	$81.22
88 FORD FESTIVA	$4825	54 @	$117.68
87 PLY TURISMO	$5650	48 @	$150.91
87 CHEVY SPECTRUM	$4995	48 @	$134.02
87 PLY HORIZON	$5495	48 @	$147.17
86 VW GOLF	$4995	42 @	$149.00
86 FORD MUSTANG LX	$5495	42 @	$163.63
89 PONT LEMANS LE	$7495	60 @	$168.73
87 NISSAN SENTRA	$4995	54 @	$133.29
87 CHEVY CAVALIER	$6495	48 @	$173.58
87 NISSAN SENTRA GXE	$6995	48 @	$185.57
86 FORD MUSTANG	$5895	46 @	$156.87
87 PONT SUNBIRD	$6895	48 @	$179.95
88 BUICK SKYHAWK	$7495	54 @	$181.75
87 PONT. GRAND AM	$8995	54 @	$216.[illegible]
87 NISSAN MAX. GXE	$12,995	54 @	$312.76
86 CHEVY CAVALIER RS	$6495	42 @	$192.60
88 HONDA CRX	$9495	54 @	$228.00
87 CHEVY Z/24	$8150	54 @	$196.65
86 CHEV z/28	$9650	48 @	$254.84

TRUCKS & VANS

84 NISSAN EXT CAB P/U	ONLY $3995
84 CHEVY S/10 P/U	ONLY $5195
85 TOYOTA SR/5	ONLY $5875
84 CHEVY C/20	ONLY $9450
85 NISSAN 4x4 P/U	ONLY $5995
83 JEEP SCRAMBLER 4x4	ONLY $4995
85 FORD RANGER	ONLY $4995
86 CHEVY S/10 P/U	$5495	42 @	$162.37
86 FORD RANGER 4x4	$5995	42 @	$177.49
87 CHEVY C/10 P/U	$9250	54 @	$223.04
87 PLY VOYAGER LE	$10,500	54 @	$252.80
86 FORD BRONCO II 4x4	$9650	48 @	$254.84
88 CHEVY BLAZER	$12,450	60 @	$276.40
86 CHEV. AS. VAN	$11,995	54 @	$288.39
89 FORD RANGER XLT	$6995	48 @	$185.59
88 MITSUBISHI P/U 4x4	$8495	60 @	$189.92
88 CHEVY CONV.VAN	$13,750	60 @	$304.99
87 TOYOTA EXT CAB	$7450	48 @	$197.44
86 JEEP CJ/7 4x4	$7450	48 @	$197.44
87 TOYOTA 4x4	$10,500	54 @	$252.86

CARS

85 CHEVY CAVALIER	ONLY $4375
79 TOYOTA COROLLA	ONLY $2150
85 DODGE CONVERSION VAN	ONLY $8500
85 FORD EXP	ONLY $4425
83 NISSAN MAXIMA	ONLY $4750
85 CHEVY CAVALIER	ONLY $3995
88 YUGO GV	$3495	48 @	$94.26
87 PLY HORIZON	$3965	42 @	$118.55
87 PLY DUSTER	$4995	42 @	$148.45
88 CHEVY SPECTRUM	$6450	54 @	$156.37
86 NISSAN SENTRA	$5475	48 @	$145.92
86 CHEVY CAVALIER	$5495	48 @	$144.39
87 CHEVY SPECTRUM	$5995	48 @	$159.40
87 CHEVY CAVALIER	$6850	48 @	$181.79
87 DODGE OMNI	$5295	48 @	$141.22
87 CHEVY CAVALIER	$6450	48 @	$171.35
88 MAZDA 323 SE	$7150	54 @	$173.04
86 BUICK SUMERSET	$6655	48 @	$176.70
88 NISSAN SENTRA	$6995	54 @	$169.35
87 PONTIAC 6000	$7495	54 @	$181.25

TRUCKS & VANS

84 ISUZU P/U LS	ONLY $4500
85 DODGE CONVERSION VAN	ONLY $8500
86 TOYOTA	$6975	48 @	$185.05
88 NISSAN P/U	$8650	60 @	$192.83
87 CHEVY S/10	$8250	54 @	$199.33
86 CHEVY S/10 P/U	$6350	48 @	$168.74
87 TOYOTA	$6495	48 @	$172.53
87 FORD RANGER XLT	$6995	48 @	$185.57
88 MAZDA SE/5	$8450	60 @	$188.43
86 TOYOTA 4x4	$9,150	48 @	$241.79
86 PLY VOY LE VAN	$8995	48 @	$237.75
88 PLY VOYAGER SE	$12,750	60 @	$283
86 TOYOTA SR/5	$9995	48 @	$263.94
88 TOYOTA 4x4	$10,400	60 @	$231.32
87 CHEVY BLA 4x4	$10,995	48 @	$289.33
89 MAZDA Cab SE/5	$9975	60 @	$221.97
88 DODGE D-50	$8495	54 @	$100.00
87 CHEVY BLAZER	$11,995	54 @	$288.39
88 DODGE AS HI-TOP	$14,500	60 @	$321.49
88 DODGE HI-TOP	$16,500	60 @	$365.40

100% WRITTEN GUARANTEE... YOUR ONLY SAFE BUY!

MITSUBISHI

1101 4th Avenue 576-3700

1989 Mighty MAX Pick-Up $6725

5 spd., short bed

1989 PRECIS RS 2 dr., liftback, am/fm cassette, 5 speed, rear wiper

$6975/$153.38 month

CHECK THESE STANDARD FEATURES!!

PRECIS LS automatic, power windows, power steering am/fm cassette, rear wiper.

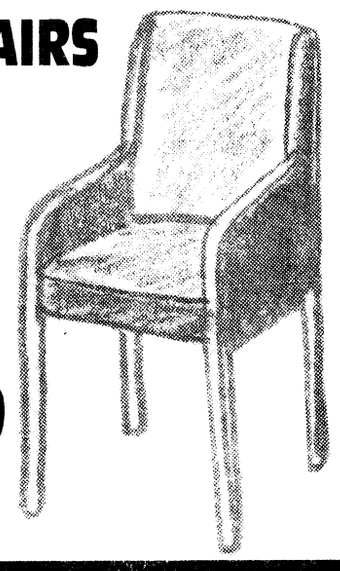
$7925/$174.27 per month

$149.42 mo. THESE PRICES GOOD UNTIL APRIL 2ND AT CLOSING

Bayonet Advertising Really Pays!

Spring Fling

3 DAYS ONLY



80,000 Square Feet

DON'T MISS OUR GIANT 3 DAY ANNUAL SPRING SALE!

OCCASIONAL CHAIRS

ONLY 60 TO SELL!

If perfect, these beautiful upholstered chairs would sell for $199 or more! Use as accent pieces, dining, game chairs! Hurry, first come, first sold!

ONLY 29.00

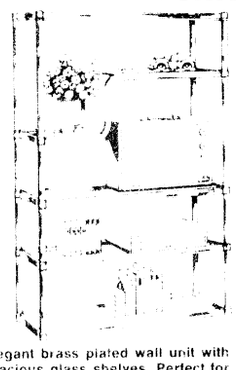
LOWBOY ENTERTAINMENT CENTER

From the Cambridge Collection

The perfect choice for home entertainment with style. Beautifully finished in Plymouth Oak with rounded edges and moldings, this center features a fixed TV shelf, one long and two short adjustable shelves. For closed storage, there's a drawer and a cabinet in the base. The base has a closed back. Comes ready to assemble.

Only $99.00

SAVE 50%

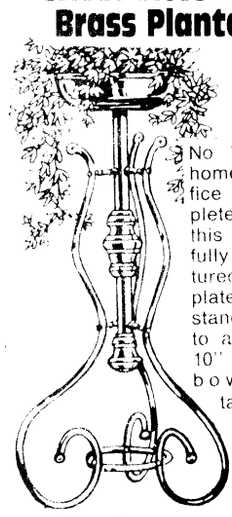


This beautiful wood and beveled glass table with 4 chairs can be yours at this unbelievable low price. A perfect addition for your dining needs.

$199

5 PIECE DINETTE

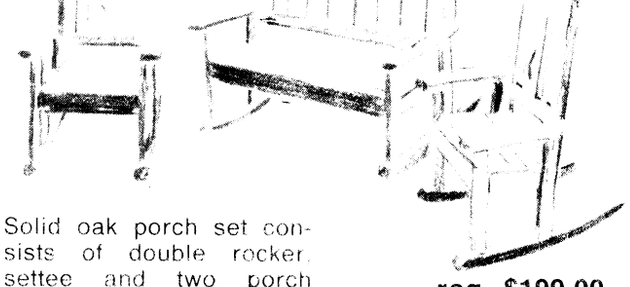
BRASS SALE!



BRASS WALL UNIT

Elegant brass plated wall unit with spacious glass shelves. Perfect for collectibles. Books, plants, and prized possessions. Great room divider. Easy to assemble 42" x 16¼" x 62¾" tall.

$189



SAVE! Victorian Brass Planter

No Victorian home or office is complete without this beautifully sculptured brass plated plant stand. Easy to assemble. 10" diameter bowl. 38" tall.

Only $18

SOLID OAK ROCKER SET

Solid oak porch set consists of double rocker, settee and two porch rockers. Beautifully lacquered durable oak. You would expect to pay up to $199.00 . . . but for a limited time only . . .

reg. $199.00

$49

AMERICAN BEDDING

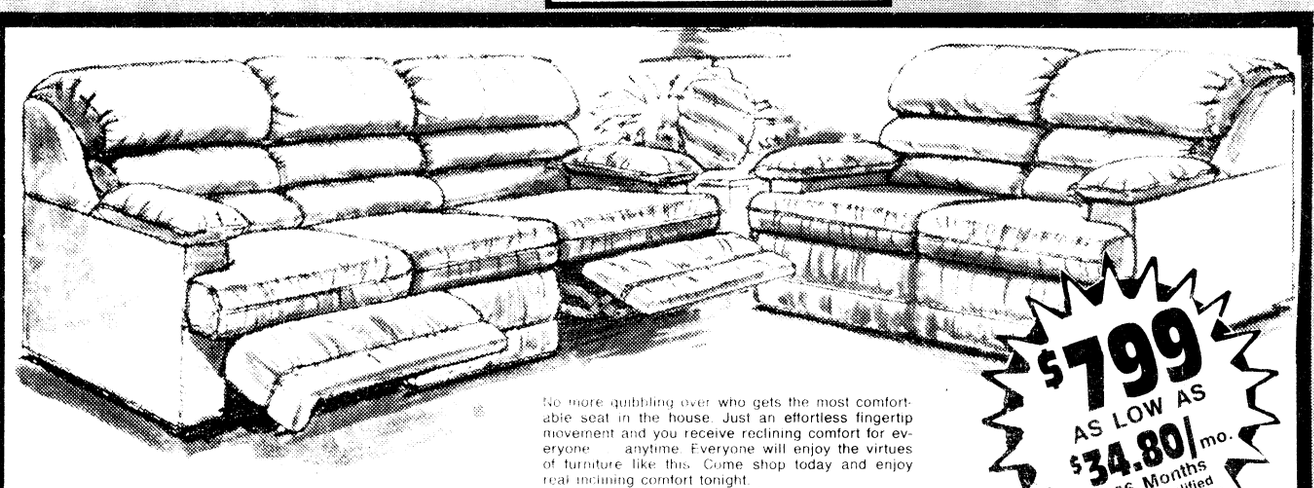
COUNTRY MORNING POSTURE SERIES SOLD IN SETS ONLY

Twin	NOW	$139.95
Full	NOW	$196.95
Queen	NOW	$222.95
King	NOW	$319.95

GOURMET RACK

NOW $88

From the foremost collection. Attractive sturdy construction. Attractive sturdy construction. Perfect to help fill that empty spot and to give you additional space at the same time.



This is an attractive and sturdy unit on which to store VCR, TV tapes, accessories and more. The center shelf conveniently pulls out for access to your VCR. The bottom shelf is just the right size to hold your favorite tapes, or books and magazines. Finished on all sides in Plymouth Oak with casters for mobility. Comes ready to assemble.

TV CART SPRING SALE ONLY 29.00

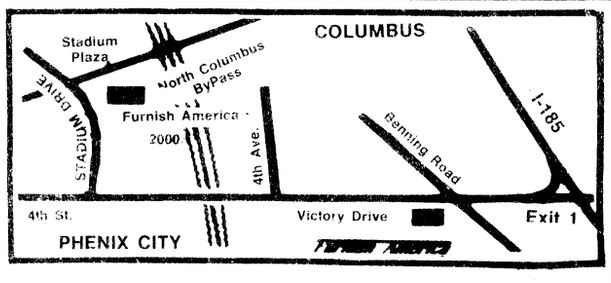
SHOP OUR 10th ANNIVERSARY SALE

No more quibbling over who gets the most comfortable seat in the house. Just an effortless fingertip movement and you receive reclining comfort for everyone . . . anytime. Everyone will enjoy the virtues of furniture like this. Come shop today and enjoy real inclining comfort tonight.

$799 AS LOW AS $34.80/mo. 36 Months With Qualified Credit

INCLINING SOFA AND LOVESEAT

PLAY LOTORIA™ FREE GIANT JACKPOT



GET YOUR FREE TICKETS
NO PURCHASE NECESSARY

REGISTER HERE FOR FURNISH AMERICA

$1000 Furniture GIVE Away

Furnish America

Yes, we still have credit terms. Even at these astounding prices we can offer convenient terms based upon needs including 100 days same as cash. Minimum purchase $400. Your charge cards welcome.

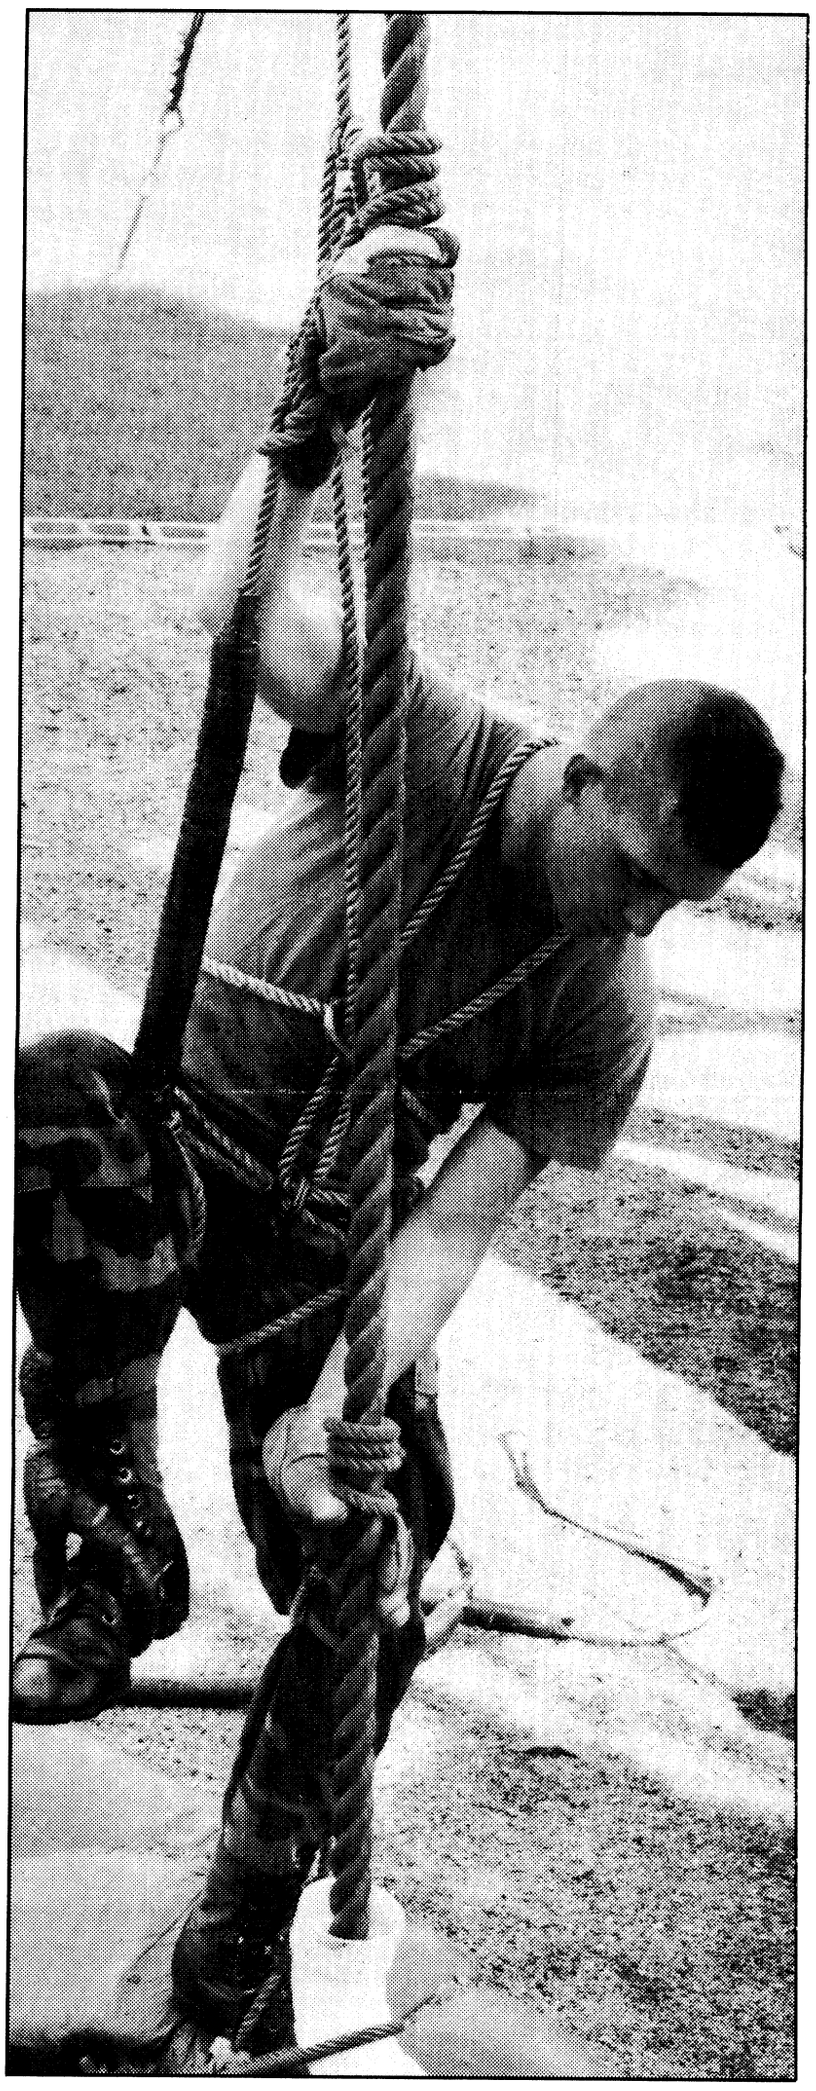
NOW TWO CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
BENNING ROAD AT VICTORY DRIVE 682-2350—STADIUM PLAZA 298-1121

Snively says he suspects a rotten apple.

See A-2

Twin scouts win all the prizes two years in a row.

See A-4



INDEX

Opinion A-2
Community A-6
Spiritual A-7
Unit A-2
Sports B-4
Movies B-5

THE BAYONET

Home of the Infantry

Vol. 47, No. 27 | Published in the interest of the Fort Benning, Ga. community. | April 7, 1989

Ann M. McDonald

Sgt. Brian Stahl, HQ, 75th Rgr. Regt., arranges the rope for a prusik climb on Todd Field. The climb was preparation for the 8th annual David E. Grange Best Ranger competition.

$100,000 worth of stolen military equipment recovered

Investigation continues

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

Stolen military equipment worth about $100,000 was recovered by members of the Columbus Police Department, the Fort Benning Criminal Investigation Division and the Federal Bureau of Investigation Tuesday night during raids at three locations in Columbus.

The raids, of a local residence, a business and a storage facility, stemmed from information developed as a result of raids Saturday at two other Columbus storage facilities and the raid of a mobile home park Monday, according to Capt. Ken Kroupa, CID executive officer.

Although no arrests were made in Tuesday's raids, three Fort Benning soldiers are being held in pre-trial confinement at the post stockade as a result of Saturday's raids.

Also behind bars are four civilians. Two of the four men, one the owner of a military surplus store in Florida, and the other an employee of the store, were apprehended Saturday along with two of the soldiers at the Econo Self Storage facility on Victory Drive. The two other civilians were arrested by the Columbus Police Department in yet another raid that occurred Monday at a Columbus mobile home park.

A third soldier, who was closely involved with the other soldiers, was apprehended Sunday. The names of the soldiers are being withheld pending official charges.

The items recovered in all the raids have been estimated to be worth between $250,000 and $500,000, according to Kroupa.

Confiscated were various types of ammunition, inert anti-tank missiles, non-military 9mm pistols, stinger missile trainers, cold weather gear, cots, duffel bags, an inflatable raft, parkas and uniforms.

The search of the first storage facility Saturday resulted when police agencies received a tip from a Benning training officer. The officer reported that while he was at his leased unit at the storage facility, he noticed some suspicious activity. He said he saw three men in possession of a lot of military equipment at one of the storage units.

An ongoing investigation will attempt to identify others involved in the crimes and determine the origin of the stolen property.

Federal retirees may get refund

By Sharon Reynolds
Bayonet editor

Retired federal employees, including military and civil service, who file state taxes in one of 15 states may be entitled to a refund because of a recent U.S. Supreme Court ruling that state and local government pensioners cannot be taxed more favorably than federal pensioners.

Georgia federal retirees who may be affected are urged to file Form 500x, an amendment to their 1985 state tax returns, before the April 17 tax filing deadline. Because the statute of limitations in Georgia is three years, after April 17, any attempts to amend 1985 state taxes will be nullified, explained Larry Foley, Retired Services Officer at Fort McPherson, Ga.

In addition to Georgia, Arizona, Colorado, Louisiana, Maryland, Michigan, Missouri, Montana, New York, North Carolina, South Carolina, Oregon, Virginia, West Virginia and Wisconsin have one set of rules for taxing retired state and local employees and another for retired federal employees.

The U.S. Supreme Court decision (Davis vs. Michigan Department of Treasury), which issued the March 28 ruling, forces other states with the same discriminatory tax rules to make a decision. These 15 states have two options, according to Georgia Society of Certified Public Accountants Inc. They may decide to extend a state income tax exemption to retired federal employees or eliminate the exemption for retired state and local government employees, according to Charles Hendry, president of the Georgia CPAs Inc.

If the states decide to extend the exemption to federal employees, refunds for the past three years or that state's statute of limitations could be forthcoming for thousands of federal retirees.

Margo Hicks, Civilian Personnel Office, said this ruling affects "loads and loads of people, not just Army retirees, but all federal retirees."

If the states decide to tax state and local retirees, federal retirees are not affected. Either way federal retirees cannot lose.

As of March 31, the Georgia Department of Revenue had not reached a decision regarding this matter. However, the deadline to amend 1985 returns expires April 17, and federal retirees are urged to file protective refund claims for 1985 returns of federal retirees before the deadline, according to Foley.

The Fort Benning Tax Office has amendment forms for Georgia and will provide assistance in filling those out, according to Capt. Bill Sutton, Fort Benning's installation tax officer. However, most other states' tax amendment forms will have to be requested from individual tax commissions, according Sutton.

"We have state forms for this year, but that won't do any good for amending previous year's tax statements," Sutton said.

Sutton suggests calling your state's Department of Revenue Office and asking the statute of limitations. Then request amendment forms for those years.

Following are the phone numbers or addresses of Departments of Revenue for the 15 states:

Arizona..... (602) 255-3381
Colorado..... (303) 534-1209
Georgia..... (404) 571-7451
Louisiana..... (504) 925-4611
Maryland..... (301) 225-1995
Michigan..... (313) 256-2538
Missouri..... (314) 968-4740
Montana..... (406) 444-2837
New York..... (518) 438-8581
Oregon..... (503) 371-2244
Virginia..... (804) 780-4252
W. Virginia..... (304) 238-1140
Wisconsin..... (608) 226-2486 or 226-2772
North Carolina: write to North Carolina Department of Revenue, P.O. Box 25000, Raleigh, N.C. 27640.
South Carolina: write to South Carolina Tax Commission, P.O. Box 125, Columbia, S.C. 29214.

Leaders gather for Infantry Conference

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Infantry commanders from around the world will return to Fort Benning for the 14th annual U.S. Army Infantry Center - Infantry School Infantry Conference Monday through Thursday at Infantry Hall.

"Infantry — Key to Combined Arms Victory," is the theme of this year's conference, and its intent is to provide a forum for a warfighting dialogue between field commanders and the Infantry School on issues and scenarios supportive of the conference theme.

Scenarios will be generated to provide realistic situations for discussion of operational considerations and related aspects of Infantry issues.

The main purpose of the conference is to provide updated information on training and provoke warfighting discussions on Training and Doctrine Command approved issues according to Capt. George Belsky, executive officer of the Infantry School Conference Planning Group.

TRADOC commander, Gen. Maxwell Thurman, will give the keynote address and Army chief of staff, Gen. Carl E. Vuono, will be the guest speaker during a dinner at the post Officers' Club.

Presentations will include: State of the Infantry; Training the Infantry Force in Europe; National Training Center Update; Alaska Regional Assessment; Special Operations Command; Southern Command Update; Joint Readiness Training Center Update; Battle Command Training Program and Training; Combat Developments; Training, Combat Developments and Proponency Issues.

Soldiers train for Best Ranger

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

He fussed over the ropes and stirrups until he had them exactly right. When they were set to his liking, he paused, took a deep breath, glanced up the rope, traced it to top of the 60-foot tower and prepared himself for the climb. Suddenly, he signaled his partner to start the clock and up he climbed.

"Faster, faster," cheered several men gathered at the bottom of the rope. Struggling with the last length of rope, the climber groaned, took inspiration from the voices and pulled himself the rest of the way up. Reaching the rope's end, he detached the gear he wore from the rope and climbed over the ledge onto to the top of the tower. Rushing to the far side, he hooked himself to another rope and rappelled down, landing with a thud in a sawdust pit.

"Fifty seconds!" exclaimed his partner, waving the stopwatch. "That's not bad, but you'll have to work on your transition at the

See BEST A-3

Watch for Bayonet survey mailout

USAIC Public Affairs Office

More than 7,000 questionnaires will be mailed out as part of a readership survey of The Bayonet later this month.

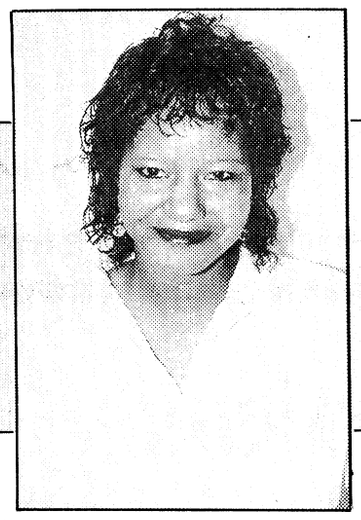
The survey, conducted every two years, will be mailed to a random sampling of soldiers, spouses of soldiers, Department of the Army civilians and retirees who live at Fort Benning, in Columbus or Phenix City.

"This survey will help us give our readers the types of stories they want to read," according to Maj. Tom Fix, Fort Benning command information officer.

Those filling out the questionnaire will also be asked to provide any suggestions they feel will help The Bayonet better serve the community, Fix said.

"Suggestions can deal with any topic." Fix said. "They do not just have to be about the types of stories we publish."

This is the first time computers will be used to select those receiving the questionnaire. It will also be the first time a computer will analyze the data.



Soldiers and DA civilians will receive their survey through distribution. Spouses and retirees will get their survey in the mail. Surveys should be returned to the Public Affairs Office within five days of receipt.

The success of the survey, Fix said, will depend upon a speedy return of the questionnaires. "People should fill it out the moment they receive it," Fix said. "No postage is needed.

Results of survey will be published in The Bayonet in May.

OPINION

VARIOUS VOICES: Why do you volunteer?

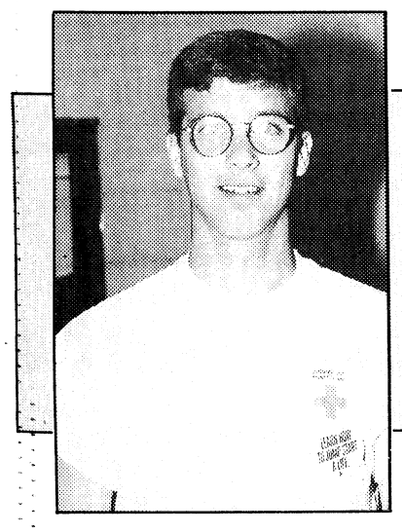
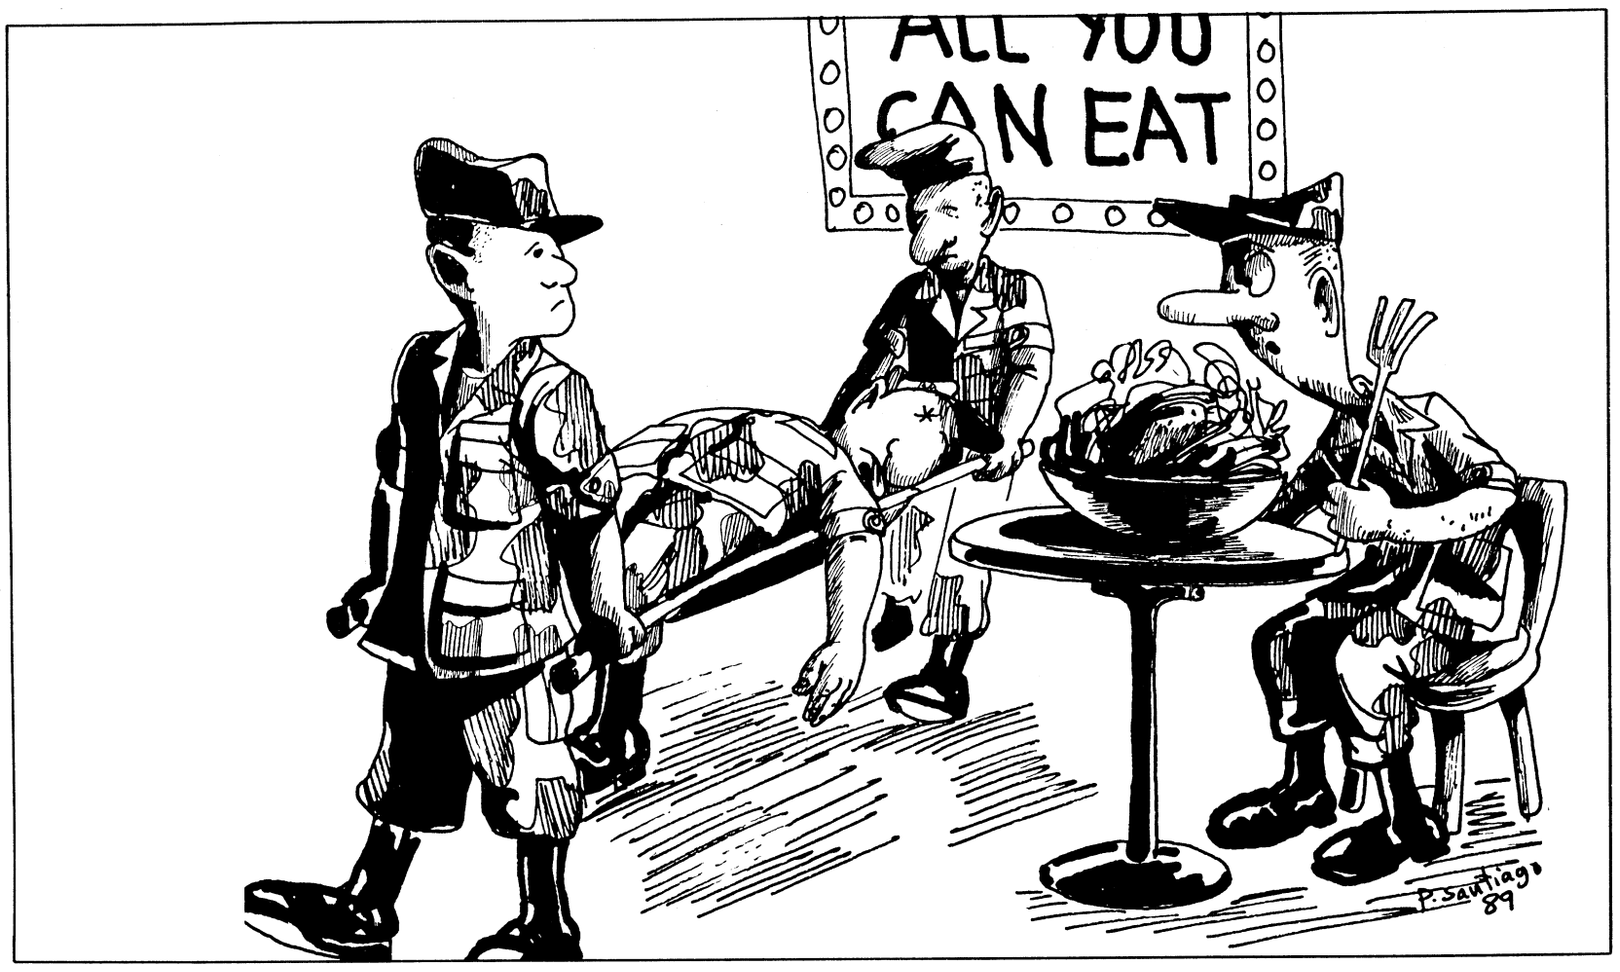
Beverly Jones, mayor-Bouton Heights-Davis Hill — "I like being around people and volunteering lets other people know there are still people around who care."



Retired Col. Christian Derbia, Retirement Services Office — "I want to help people, and by volunteering my time, I can give other retirees and widows the benefits of my experience."

Joetta Reeves, Retirement Services Office — "I volunteer because I have been out of the work force for a while, and this is a good way to get back in and help my community at the same time."



Robert Youngs, Red Cross — "I'm retired, and it gives me a sense of well being to help others. Volunteering is also a way to pay back others for what they've done for me in the past."

Ken Phillips, Red Cross — "I'm a water safety instructor, and I enjoy helping others become safe in the water."

Susan Brelsford, chairman of volunteers, Red Cross — "I volunteer to get out of the house and do something for myself as well as for other people."

Snively doubts FDA findings

By Clyde Snively
USAIC Public Affairs Office

For those of you who may have always considered yourselves a little higher up on the evolutionary plane, I've got some bad news.

According to the scientists at the Food and Drug Administration, we're on the same plateau as laboratory rats.

I mean, how else do you explain the fact that the FDA is always pulling products off the shelf because some crummy rat, bred to come down with cancer, does so.

Pet a rat long enough and it'll contract cancer of the epidermis. Feed it enough rat food and it'll come down with cancer of the esophagus.

So now, apples are being pulled off the cafeteria lines in the Georgia public school system because the FDA force-fed hapless rats with enough Alar to choke a cow and kept doing so until they came down with, voila, cancer.

As for me, I'd rather eat an Alar treated, red, Washington Delicious apple that sprays juice over everyone with each bite, than, some, soggy, limp apple that was supposed to be better for my health because it hadn't been treated with any chemicals.

Heck, I'm surprised the FDA hasn't banned breathing. Depending upon where you live (and Georgia ranks in the bottom 10), you are probably breathing in several pounds of pollutants a year.

Seems to me, if the FDA really was interested in our health, they'd peek into those cabinets under peoples' sinks.

Read the labels on some of those aerosol cans you use for cleaning. Chances are you'll see words you don't understand and can't pronounce, words such as potassium hydroxide, tetrachloroethylene, methylene chloride, mercury, paradichlorobenzene and lead arsenate.

At the very least, these products can cause eye strain and brain numbness from trying to decipher them. They can also cause dizziness, nausea, allergic reactions and eye, skin and respiratory tract irritation.

Mixing a few of these household cleaners together can even cause explosive reactions — as in bomb-like. One lady was fortunate. Her telephone rang just after she poured two common liquid cleaners into her toilet bowl (to speed the cleansing process). Just after she left to answer the phone, the toilet bowl exploded, sending pieces of porcelain through the bathroom walls.

If you live with someone who has asthma or emphysema or some other upper respiratory disease, you know you need to be especially careful with what you bring into your home — even pets and house plants can be dangerous to a person's health.

You'll also be aware that new furniture can cause eyes to water and result in difficulty in breathing as noxious fumes, such as formaldehyde spill out from the resins in particle board, fiberboard, plywood paneling, carpeting, upholstery and drapery fabrics.

For those of you who are loathe to polish your boots, the American Lung Association, which is especially concerned with what goes into peoples' lungs, has a message you might try out on your squad leader — shoe polish contains potentially hazardous chemicals.

The ALA lumps shoe polish right up there with paints, paint thinners, dry cleaning fluid, dyes, spray pesticides and moth balls.

So here we are, our lungs, our bodies, being bombarded constantly by poisons we aren't even aware of. So what do we do, ban apples because they may have been sprayed with Alar.

Are parents forcing their children to grow up too fast?

By Steven R. Zahi
Army News Service

"Grow up, kid." Have you ever said these words to your child? Have you ever really stopped and thought about what they mean? Did you mean you wanted your child to grow up, or did you really mean you wanted your child to stop acting in an inappropriate manner?

In his book entitled "The Hurried Child: Growing Up Too Fast Too Soon," professor David Elkind points out that the concept of childhood is changing rapidly.

Elkind states that today there is much more stress due to the rush of growing up and this stress is shown in more depression, more academic failure, increases in juvenile crime and in adolescent suicide. This doesn't mean that parents are consciously attempting to harm their children — maybe they mean just the opposite.

As a society, we have come to imagine that it is good for young children to mature rapidly. Yet we do harm our children when we rush them through their childhood. There is pressure to achieve intellectually. We feel that if we don't start our children when they are very young, then we have lost a golden opportunity.

Today, we see parents sending their children to kindergarten and nursery school earlier and earlier. Many parents feel that if a child brings home Cs on his report card in elementary school — actually, good grades — then he will probably have difficulties in the later school years. The pressures for academic achievement are only one of the many pressures to grow up quickly.

Many years ago, it was strange to see children wearing adult clothes. Today it seems like the norm. Even pre-schoolers wear miniature adult clothing. How about designer diapers? From overalls to designer fashions, a whole range of adult clothing is available for children. You can make a list of the famous name brands of jeans that make your children look "chic."

What about the pressure we parents place on our kids to mature rapidly when it comes to sports? Have any of you ever cried during a little league ball game if your child's team didn't win? I actually saw a mother break down and cry when her son's team lost a game and didn't win the top spot.

The media is also pressuring children to grow up. Look at the advertising in films, books, magazines, music and television programs. There is actually a movie, called "Little Darlings," which deals with two teen-aged girls who are in competition to see who could lose her virginity first. Some of the more negative aspects of rushing childhood as stated by Elkind are usually more evident during the adolescent years, when the pressures to grow up fast collide with institutional laws and prohibitions.

The rush to experiment is perhaps most noticeable in teenage sexual behavior. Researchers from Johns Hopkins University found that nearly 50 percent of the total population between the ages of 15 and 19 have had premarital sex. (Their finding is from a 1977 study.)

The number of teen-age pregnancies is growing at an alarming rate.

Nearly 10 percent of all teenage girls get pregnant each year.

About 600,000 teens give birth each year, and the sharpest increase is among girls under 14.

The pressure to grow up fast, to achieve early in the areas of academics, sports and social interactions are areas of great stress for American families today. There doesn't seem to be any room for the "late bloomers" in our society. Children have to achieve success early, or they're regarded as failures.

One of the most distressing ways children respond to pressure for premature growth is suicide. Currently, suicide is the third leading cause of death among 15- to 24-year-olds, and it jumps to second place for college students. There are many causes for suicide, but most professionals agree that hurrying a child to grow up is a predominant contributing factor.

Children need time to grow, to learn and to develop maturity. Don't rush your children into adulthood, allow them to be children. After all, they're only children for a very short time.

Think about it.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Zahl is the family support division chief for the Zweibrucken, Germany, Army community.)

The Bayonet

This newspaper is an authorized publication for members of the Army. Contents of THE BAYONET are not necessarily the official views of, or endorsed by the Department of the Army or any of its agencies. Everything in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, sex or national origin of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunity by an advertiser will result in the refusal of the publisher to print advertising from that souce. THE BAYONET is an unofficial publication authorized by Army Regulation 360-81. Editorial content is prepared, edited and provided by the Public Affairs Office of the U.S. Army Infantry Center. THE BAYONET is published each Friday by the R.W. Page Corporation, a private firm in no way connected with the Department of the Army, under exclusive written contract with Fort Benning. All photos are U.S. Army unless otherwise credited. Liaison between the publisher and the commanding general, USAIC, is maintained by the public affairs officer, through the command information officer, USAIC, Fort Benning.

Editorial

Commanding General ..... Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire
Public Affairs Officer ..... Lt. Col. McDonald Plummer Jr.
Command Information Officer ..... Maj. Thomas Fix
Command Information NCOIC ..... SSgt. Ron Allen
Administration NCOIC ..... SSgt. Luz Llanos
Editor ..... SSgt. Sharon Reynolds
Assistant Editor ..... Agatha Hudson James
Staff writers ..... Spec. Ann McDonald, Spec. Shawn Bryson
Editorial Office: Public Affairs Office, USAIC, Building 4, Room 601, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905, (404) 545-2201/2202; AUTOVON 835-2201.

Advertising

Retail/Display ..... (404) 324-5526
Classified ..... (404) 322-4500
Circulation ..... (404) 323-1234

For subscription information call (404)323-1234.

Circulation 21,000

Represented nationally by Knight Ridder Newspaper sales W.B. Bradbury and Military Media, Inc.

'Communities of Excellence' off, running here

By Kay O'Brien
DRM Management Division

Reorienting an organization the size of Fort Benning toward service excellence is "a lot like teaching an elephant to dance," according to Karl Albrecht and Ron Zemke in their book "Service America."

"Many of the same challenges are involved. At least two things have to happen in order for an elephant to dance or for a large organization to change its ways. First, somebody has to show that it's possible to do so. Second, there must be a motivating factor sufficiently powerful to enlist commitment."

Fort Benning's Army Communities of Excellence Program has shown change is possible and is working to motivate Benning residents. This program is dedicated to making life at Fort Benning better for everyone — soldiers of all ranks, their families, civilians who work on the post and retired personnel and their families.

There are two components to the ACOE Program — facilities and services. Its aim is to achieve excellence in both. Fort Benning units and organizations are in the midst of developing plans to implement ACOE programs in their own areas. It won't be long before Benning personnel see some changes and improvements resulting from implementation of ACOE plans at Fort Benning.

The idea behind the Army Communities of Excellence Program is that when the physical and attitudinal environments where people work, live and play are pleasant, there is a feeling of satisfaction and contentment. Such positive feelings spill over into the work environment. Happy people work better, and this fact facilitates mission accomplishment. Productivity increases. Quality improves. Recruitment and retention rates go up. Many other good things happen.

By pulling together to achieve the goals of the program, Fort Benning can make its vision of community excellence a reality in the day-to-day operations of Fort Benning.

The motivation for the people who live and work at Fort Benning should be to make Fort Benning the best place in the United States Army to live. The ACOE Program is committed to that effort. The commanding general and the chief of staff are committed to the success of this program.

Vuono: Pride is the fuel of human accomplishment

An Army community is a combination of people, facilities, and services working in concert to achieve a mission. Army communities are vital forces in shaping individual performance. Excellent communities enhance pride, and, in the words of Gen. Carl E. Vuono, Army chief of staff, "Pride is the fuel of human accomplishment." It is "the force that emboldens individuals to reach beyond their tested limits."

The Army Communities of Excellence Program is based on the principle that Army communities support people by combining excellent services with excellent facilities and that these two facets of community excellence cannot be separated. The ACOE replaces and expands the Installation of Excellence Program by adding services as a major component. The ACOE strengthens our commitment to excellence and contributes to Army readiness. I am dedicated to the principles embodied by the ACOE Program, and I am committed to its success.

The ACOE Program requires the enthusiastic involvement of every commander and principal staff officer on this installation. Each of you will be responsible for developing and implementing an ACOE plan for your organization. Guidance to assist you in this effort has been developed and was disseminated on March 1.

I endorse the aims and objectives of the ACOE Program and pledge my full support to it. I expect Fort Benning to pull together to achieve the goals of the program and to make Fort Benning the best installation in the U.S. Army on which to live, work and play.

Michael F. Spigelmire
Major General, USA
Commanding

Guest speakers discuss Soviet forces at USARSA

By Keith F. Johnson
U.S. Army School of the Americas

Lt. Gen. Sidney P. Weinstein and Brig. Gen. William A. Navas Jr., were guest speakers of the U.S. Army School of the Americas' Command and General Staff College Course March 14 through 15.

Weinstein, U.S. Army deputy chief of staff for intelligence, discussed Soviet forces and their global intentions, specifically in Latin America, with the students. He addressed questions ranging from the scale down of Russian nuclear weapons to the role of the U.S. military and government in combating drug-trafficking in Latin America.

Navas, deputy director of the U.S. Army National Guard, spoke to the class about the role of the National Guard in the U.S. and its importance to the defense of the country.

The fact that Weinstein and Navas were guest speakers of the C&GSC course, the most prestigious at the school, indicates the increased support from Gen. Maxwell R. Thurman, Training and Doctrine Command commander, to maintain the course at USARSA at the level of the C&GSC course at Fort Leavenworth, Kan. The USARSA C&GSC course is a military education level-four proficiency school for U.S. officers, according to Lt. Col. Julio C. Campos, Department of Command and Staff director.

Guest speakers present a different dimension to the course," Campos said. "They give the students the opportunity to listen to experts in a particular field and ask questions about a particular point of interest."

Campos said, because of increased funding, more than 20 guest speakers have been scheduled this year including Senator Sam Nunn of Georgia, the Honorable William Richardson, the congressman from New Mexico, a terrorism expert Robert Kupperman and Bryant Jenkins from the Rand Corporation as well as Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire, USAIC and Fort Benning commander, Gen. Fred F. Woerner, SOUTHCOM commander, Maj. Gen. Bernard Loeffke, USARSO commander, Brig. Gen. William A. Stofft, Center of Military History chief.

Negotiations are also currently in progress to invite former President Jimmy Carter as well as Vice-President Dan Quayle, Campos said.

The USARSA C&GSC course, which lasts 47 weeks and is a post-graduate level course, is designed to prepare U.S. and Latin American field grade officers in all services for duty as commanders and general staff officers in their respective armed forces; to provide an understanding of the functions of the U.S. Army General Staff and of joint and combined operations; to familiarize students with personnel, logistics and other functional resource management programs; to provide instruction in Internal Development, Security Assistance; and to develop student intellectual depth and analytical ability.

Best

Continued from A-1

top."

A group of 11 soldiers were at Todd Field, practicing the Prusik Climb for the 8th Annual David E. Grange Best Ranger competition slated April 28 through May 1.

Three of the men are assigned to Headquarters, 75th Ranger Regiment, and the other eight are assigned to Company A, 3rd Battalion, 75th Ranger Regiment.

Although it's unusual for separate units to train together, the men decided to do it out of necessity.

"They (HQ, 75th Rgr. Regt.) had the rope," Sgt. Misel Chacon of 3rd Bn. said. "And, we had the rest of the equipment, so, we decided to train for some of the events together."

Chacon, along with Sgt. Guy I. Fichtelman and Sgt. Mike M. Sonnenschein, also from 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., competed last year.

Sonnenschein and Fichtelman said they are giving the other soldiers the benefit of their experience, "but we're not letting them know all of our secrets."

The two men finished third last year and feel they have a good chance to win this year.

"We've been training on our own for months now," they said. "Now, we are just fine tuning ourselves so we are fully prepared for the competition."

According to the group, fine tuning includes: 15-mile road marches; many laps in the pool; extra-long, basic physical training sessions and a lot of concentration on basic infantryman skills: marksmanship, first aid, knot tying, grenades and claymore mines.

They do this training Monday through Saturday.

Although the men have been doing all this fine tuning to strengthen their bodies, there is still room for injury. Sgt. Thomas Dixon of the 75th Rgr. Regt. is presently waiting for another partner. His original partner, Sgt. Mike McCann, broke his leg when he landed in the trees while making a parachute jump.

Dixon is without a partner until the rest of the teams from 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt. are selected. When they are selected, Dixon will be appointed another partner.

Even though Dixon has encountered problems, he won't give up. "I want to see this through," he said, "because, I won't ever know how well I can do until I do it."

The loss of his partner is not the only disadvantage Dixon will encounter. Dixon and Sgt. Brian Stahl of the same unit are not infantrymen. Dixon is a medic, and Stahl is a legal clerk.

Stahl holds the distinction of being the first legal clerk ever to earn the ranger tab.

So, what made a legal clerk want to compete in the Best Ranger Competition?

"For the same reason as anyone else," he said. "To see if I can do it."

Stahl said he doesn't expect to win, but he hopes he will do fairly well in the competition.

"Even though I'm not an 11B, I've been in ranger units my entire career. I'm experienced in all phases of the competition," he said.

Stahl added that he enjoys it so much, he plans to become an infantryman.

SSgt. Richard Schuck of 75th Ranger Regiment will be Stahl's partner for the competition.

Rounding off the list of prospective competitors from 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt. is Sgt. Gordon May, Spec. Darren Griffin, Spec. Daniel Leone, Spec. Roy Trumble and the group's trainer SSgt. Kelley Prince.

They have put a lot of blood, sweat and tears into their training, but they all agree it will be worth it because compared to the training, the competition will be easy.

That is except for the road march, Chacon said.

"We're all putting in everything we've got for this competition. But, when it comes right down to it, there can only be one team called the Best Rangers, Chacon said. "Deep down inside we all want to win, but, I think that anyone who can finish is a winner."

April 9-15, 1989

VOLUNTEERS Make the Difference

It's never too late to become a volunteer.
545-5602

Ledger-Enquirer Classified
571-8545
It Makes A Lasting Impression

EYE GLASSES
40% to 50% OFF
Buy One Pair At Regular Price
Get The 2nd Free

CONTACTS
TINTED EXTENDED
SOFT $39.95 with care kit
WEAR $89.95 with care kit
DURA SOFT 3 $149.95 with care kit

EYE EXAMS $20

324-2073
1140 13th Street
(Near Southern Bell)
eyewear UNLIMITED

Down Right Fantastic Suzuki Deal.
Intruder 700
SALE PRICE $2,995.00
Excludes tax, title, license, freight and assembly.
Right on, Suzuki
SUZUKI
HONDA - SUZUKI OF OPELIKA
1110 Frederick Road Opelika AL
745-6357

ASIA
ORIENTAL RESTAURANT
FEATURING KOREAN, JAPANESE & CHINESE FOOD
LUNCHEON BUFFET
ONLY $3.95 per person
MONDAY-FRIDAY 11AM-2PM
PARTY ROOM AVAILABLE-CALL TODAY!
2009 Lumpkin Road 682-1225

Steve's PHOTO UNLIMITED
FREE
"FILM FOR LIFE"*
(with purchase of program)
Guaranteed Financing
Call 689-8337 to receive details on our program which features Top of the Line Merchandise Supplies.
- Sharp & Chinon Cameras
- Magnavox VCR's
- Zoom Lens & Flash Attachments
- Stewart Kern Photo Albums
- Wholesale Developing

3949 Victory Station Shopping Center
Suite 2 - Next to Blimpies
Mon.-Sat. 12-9
689-8337
Present This Ad For a Free 8x10 Color Portrait

EAST ALABAMA NATIONAL TRUCK & TRACTOR PULL
PHENIX CITY, AL
REAL COMPETITION
9200 lb. MODIFIED 7 MOTOR TRACTORS
9500 lb. SUPER STOCK TRACTORS
6200 lb. 2WD TRUCKS
WORLD CHAMPION TIM ENGLER
APRIL 15th & 16th, 1989
SUPER STARS OF TRUCK & TRACTOR PULLING RETURN
EAST ALABAMA MOTOR SPEEDWAY
Phenix City, AL 205-297-2588
8 Miles West of Phenix City on US Hwy. 80
April 15-8:00 p.m. E.D.T.
April 16-2:00 p.m. E.D.T.
WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP PULLING SERIES
GENERAL ADMISSION
Ticket On Sale Day Of Show
Adults $10.00-Children $6.00 (6-12)
Children Under 6 FREE
WLTZ TV-38
MONSTER TRUCK SHOWDOWN - MAD DOG & WILDHAIR

Fort Benning libraries automate card catalogs

Sayers Memorial Library

The Sayers Memorial Library, School of Americas Library, and the Learning Resources Division Library plan to automate their card catalogs and circulation systems this year. Automation will make browsing and searching for books faster than using the old card file system.

Typing only a few keys will bring up complete lists of possibilities from which to choose. Books located in all libraries will be shown. Library users at Fort Benning will have easier access to information than at any time in history.

After this computer system is established smaller libraries and book collections all over post will add their holdings to the established database at very low cost.

To see how easy automated systems are to use, come to the Sayers Memorial Library and use the Readers Guide to Periodical Literature on CD-ROM. Many people are using this system with only five minutes instruction.

The Sayers Memorial Library, building 93, is a general (public) library with more than 80,000 books and special collections supporting graduate programs in Business Management and Criminal Justice.

This library has more than 400 magazines and newspapers reporting sports, business and worldwide news. All formats of media are available for loan: books, records, video, and compact discs.

Sayers Library is open from Saturday through Thursday noon to 8:50 p.m.

The branch library at Kelley Hill Recreation Center will reopen in June.

The USAIS Donovan Technical Library, located in Infantry Hall, building 4, room 101, is one of two elements that comprises the Learning Resources Division of the Infantry School. The other is the Individual Learning Center.

The Donovan Library has more than 160,000 books, periodicals, after action reports, staff studies and other documents specializing on Infantry topics in support of the Infantry School mission. The Donovan Library is open Monday through Friday 7 a.m. to 7 p.m. and Saturday from 9 a.m. to 6 p.m.

The USARSA Library is a Spanish Language library located in building 35, Room 309, which supports of the School of the Americas mission. The library has 32,000 books, periodicals, English language tapes, Spanish language videos and Latin American Daily Reports. About 90 percent of the books are in Spanish and address political and historical aspects of Latin American countries.

A unique service at the library is C2 MUG — "A Catalog of Public Domain Programs."

The general public is welcome to use the library for research, but circulation of materials is restricted to USARSA personnel and their family members.

The library is open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 5 p.m.

Join in a celebration of "The Library of the Future Is Here Today" during National Library Week, April 9-15.

Twins double their pleasure

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

SFC Donald and Anni Waters are seeing double. Their 12-year-old twins, Donald and Daniel, for two consecutive years, have won every prize available to Boy Scouts who sell tickets for admission to the Boy Scouts of America's "Scout-A-Rama.

Working as a team, the twins sold 1,003 tickets ($2,006 worth) in support of this year's event, which was held March 11 at the Columbus Municipal Auditorium. "Scout-A-Rama" is a nationwide, annual event designed to give scouts a chance to show off their skills and equipment.

The two scouts also claimed every prize available last year at Mainz, Germany, where their father was stationed.

As 1st Class Scouts of Troop 51 of the Fort Benning District, the boys' efforts will benefit their troop significantly since 30 percent of the sales goes back to the troop, according to SSgt. Richard Baird, Troop 51 leader.

The boys didn't fare too badly, either. Each was awarded a new bicycle for selling at least 500 tickets, and other items such as sleeping bags, telescopes, back packs and flashlights.

Donald and Daniel explained they sold the majority of the tickets after school and on weekends, primarily at the Main Post Exchange.

Shawn Bryson

Donald and Daniel Waters sit on dirt bikes they won for selling a combined total of 1,003 tickets for admission to the 1989 "Scout-A-Rama."

They've been scouts for two years, but Donald and Daniel say they love it. "Going camping," he said, "is the most enjoyable part of scouting."

"They're pretty young to have reached the rank of 1st Class Scouts. They are outgoing, friendly, sharp dressers and full of energy," Baird said.

Donald and Daniel said they plan to continue scouting with hopes of making Eagle Scout, the highest rank of the Boy Scouts, within two or three years.

"Since they have plenty of time, I'm sure they will make Eagle Scout," Baird said.

17th Secretary of Defense pledges to support armed forces

Army News Service

Richard B. Cheney took the formal oath of office as the nation's 17th secretary of defense in a Pentagon ceremony recently.

Pledging to support those who are serving in America's armed forces, Cheney declared that he would "provide quality equipment and the support you must have to survive and excel."

Cheney acknowledged his taking office comes at a time of significant change. The new secretary added that he envisions a more peaceful and prosperous world in the years ahead.

"In part this change is attributable to more realistic leadership inside the Soviet Union. But it is also due in part to the success of the strategy of the United States and our allies," he said. "Containment has worked. Deterrence has held. Principle has paid off."

Cheney had served in the House of Representatives from Wyoming since 1978. He also has had experience in the executive branch of government when he served as special assistant to the director of the Office of Economic Opportunity from May 1969 to December 1970.

He later served as deputy to the White House presidential counselor until September 1971, when he was assistant director for operations of the Cost of Living Council. He left public service in March 1973.

He returned to government in August 1974 as deputy assistant to President Gerald R. Ford. In November 1975, he was named assistant to the president and White House chief of staff. He held that post through the Ford administration, leaving in January 1977.

While in Congress he has served in several leadership positions within the Republican House delegation. In 1981, he was elected chairman of the House Republican Policy Committee. He served in this position through the 100th Congress.

In June 1987, Cheney was elected chairman of the House Republican Conference, the third-ranking GOP leader. In December 1988, he was elected as House republican whip for the 101st Congress, the second-ranking GOP position.

In the Congress he served on the House Select Committee on Intelligence and served as the ranking republican on the House Select Committee to investigate covert arms deals with Iran.

Cheney was born Jan. 30, 1941, in Lincoln, Neb. At a young age, he moved with his family to Casper, Wyo. He attended schools in Wyoming and received both his undergraduate and graduate degrees from the University of Wyoming.

He is married to the former Lynne Ann Vincent, and they have two daughters, Elizabeth and Mary.

EFMB testing April 18-28

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Testing for the U.S. Army Infantry Center Expert Field Medical Badge will be conducted here April 18 through 28 by the 34th Medical Battalion.

The EFMB is a prestigious badge awarded in recognition of exceptional field medical skills, after completion of a series of grueling physical and mental tasks. It corresponds to the infantry's Expert Infantryman Badge, and is an evaluation of the Army Medical Department's general military training and medical proficiency.

In the past, some 150 soldiers have been trained and tested annually for the EFMB by the 34th.

In addition to a comprehensive written examination and the Army Physical Fitness Test, there are a number of tasks that must be satisfactorily completed. They include land navigation, weapons qualification, nuclear-biological-chemical operations, communications, survival tasks, a forced road march, emergency medical treatment, evacuation of the sick and wounded, litter obstacle course and cardiopulmonary resuscitation.

Those soldiers successfully completing the test will be awarded the EFMB by Fort Benning commander, Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire, during an 11 a.m. ceremony, April 28, on the parade field near the intersection of Sightseeing Road and 1st Infantry Brigade Loop.

HEART ATTACK

Signals
- Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of the chest, lasting two minutes or more.
- Pain may spread to shoulders, neck or arms.
- Severe pain, dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur.

Actions
- Recognize the heart attack "signals".
- Stop activity and sit or lie down.
- Act at once if pain lasts for two minutes or more. Call the emergency medical service, or have someone take you to the nearest hospital emergency room.

American Heart Association WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

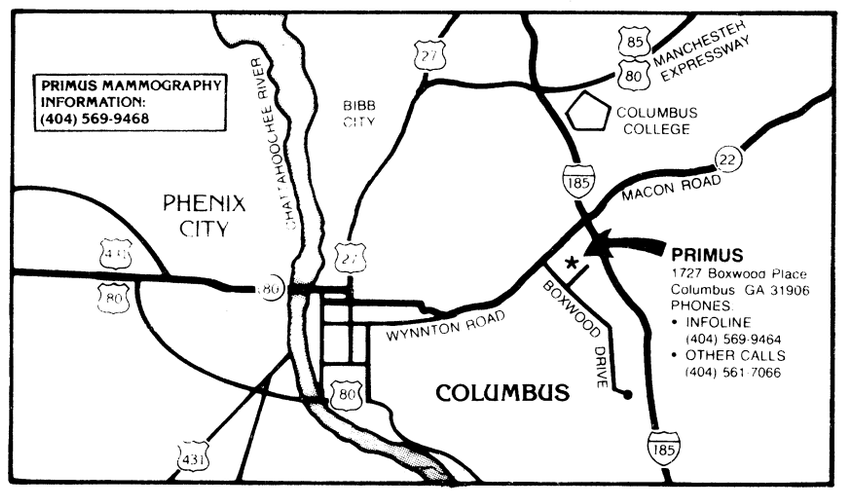
Arrange OVERSEAS CAR INSURANCE
GEICO before you leave GEICO
2029 SOUTH LUMPKIN RD.
Oakland Park Shopping Center
Columbus, GA. 689-2787
15% down 9 monthly payments
GEICO
IIU - International Insurance Underwriters, Inc

In The Mood For Oriental Food? Try
CHINA BELL
Luncheon Buffet
20 Items & FREE Salad Bar
$3.99
Luncheon Special
Soup of the Day
Fried Rice & Egg Rolls
Main Course
$2.95
VISIT OUR LOUNGE
Open 7 Days a Week
LUNCH 11am-3pm
DINNER 5pm-11pm
DINNER BUFFET & Salad Bar
Friday & Saturday
6 P.M.-10 P.M.
All You Can Eat Including Shrimp
$6.50
Dinner Special
$4.50 and up
Served Nightly
Banquet Room & Carry-Out Available
687-1692
15% Off With Copy Of Ad
(Only one meal per coupon)
3040 Victory Drive (Beside Motel 6)

ARCCO
A World Class Military Supply Store
ONE STOP SHOPPING
Monday-Friday 9-7:30, Saturday 9-6, Sunday 11:30-4:30
682-0547—4411 Victory Drive (at I-185)
682-0547
Complete Merchandise Selection and Service
FOR THE
SOLDIER-CAMPER-HUNTER
★ Field and Camping Equipment ★
Dry Cleaning and Laundry ★
Dress Greens and Blues ★
Dog Tags and Insignia ★
Knives and Patches ★
Sweats and T-Shirts ★
Boots and BDUs

PRIMUS
NEW ARMY PRIMUS CENTER PROVIDES WALK-IN MEDICAL CARE

PRIMUS Walk-In centers are a new approach to providing military beneficiaries access to primary health care. PRIMUS Columbus will be open 365 days each year—from 0700 to 2000 weekdays and from 0900 to 1600 Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays (Effective 10-1-88).



No appointment is necessary and there is no cost to patients for treatment and medication.

All military beneficiaries, including family members, entitled to care at military treatment facilities and enrolled in the DEERS are eligible for care. Basic laboratory and X-ray services are provided on site. Licensed and credentialed physicians and staff provide medical care.

PRIMUS Columbus is located at
1727 Boxwood Place
Columbus, GA 31906

Infoline: (404) 569-9464
Other Calls: (404) 561-7066

PRIMUS Mammography Information: (404) 569-9468

Critically ill or seriously injured patients should go to a hospital emergency room.
Services are provided by PHP Healthcare Corporation, Alexandria, Virginia, under contract to the US Army Health Services Command.

ASK THE JUDGE

By Dennis E. Brower
Staff Judge Advocate's Office

Q: I'm about to buy a new car, but all the ad, offer and trade-in talk really confuses me. How do I buy a car and know that I'm getting a good deal?

A: Many people have the same problem, and the question, that you have. Unfortunately, no one really has the right answer. There are, however, some things you can do to help yourself make the best possible deal. There are three basic rules to car buying: First, don't impulse shop or "fall in love" with any one car. Second, learn what the car costs the dealer. Third, keep the deal simple.

These three rules are basic guidelines to car buying. To get the best possible deal, you must prepare for the purchase in several ways.

Shop around to see what kind of cars interest you. Select several cars, with the options you want, that meet your price range, have a good repair record and meet your needs.

Don't let salespeople talk you into a contract until you are fully ready to make a deal and have done all your research. Impulse buying on "final value days" or "year end close-outs" usually costs you more money.

After you have selected the cars you might like, and options, find out what each car actually costs the dealer.

Several consumer magazines, credit unions and automobile insurance companies offer this service. Merely tell them the precise model and the options you want, pay a small fee, and they will send you a print-out of exactly what the dealer pays for the car and those options.

Remember, the sticker price tells you nothing about the cars actual costs. You could pay thousands less than the dealers cost.

After you obtain the true cost of the car, you can negotiate. Go to the dealers and tell them what you are looking for and ask them for their best price over actual dealer cost. Let them know that you have the true figures.

Many salespeople will try to tell you that your prices are wrong. Don't let them fool you: the prices will be accurate. Salespeople try to confuse you and make more money for themselves and the dealer.

A good price may be as low as $150 to $200 over actual dealer cost. Larger, fancier cars or cars that are in high demand, may result in prices $400 over the dealer cost. Of course, these costs are just guides, and you will have to judge what is the best deal you can get.

After getting the best price, it is time to make the deal. Don't discuss trade-ins, rebates or special interest deals until negotiating the best price.

Trade-ins are especially troublesome. A contract with a trade-in is usually so confusing that unless you know the true cost of the new car, you will never really know what type of deal you received. That is exactly what the salespeople want, as they rely on trade-ins to make more money.

If a trade-in must be discussed, do it only after agreeing on the price of the car. That way, there will be no confusion as to the actual costs of the new car, or of the amount allowed for the trade-in.

During the price negotiations be very careful of hidden "dealer money makers," such as extra shipping preparation costs, document charges, "quota taxes," paint sealants, undercoating and rust protection. These are all gimmicks that make money for the dealers, and which are usually not necessary.

Salespeople will attempt to tell you that you must take these items. This is not true. You can make any deal you want, and these items do not have to be passed on as extra costs. If the dealer won't negotiate, leave.

After making the deal, read the contract carefully before signing it. It is a valid contract binding both sides. Make sure the contract allows you to void the contract and get your deposit back if something goes wrong with the deal, such as credit terms not being acceptable with the finance company or the inability to deliver the car in a certain time.

Remember, salespeople are not your friends. They are not there to make you a great deal. They are there to make as much money as they can for themselves and their boss. Most salespeople do not like the fact that you are prepared and know what you are doing. This lessens their advantage over you.

Knowledge is power and salespeople may not like it, but they will negotiate because they have to sell cars to make a living. Prepare yourself well and get the best deal you can.

Congress limits CHAMPUS for former spouses

Army News Service

Congressional limitations have reduced the number of divorced former military spouses entitled to benefits under the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Uniformed Services.

A former husband or wife of a servicemember or ex-servicemember is now eligible for CHAMPUS benefits if:

☐ He or she has not remarried.

☐ He or she is not covered by an employer-sponsored health plan.

☐ He or she was married to a servicemember of ex-servicemember who performed at least 20 years of active duty that is credited in determining retirement pay.

☐ He or she falls into one of the categories listed below (but not necessarily both).

Category 1 former spouses must have been married to the same servicemember or ex-servicemember for at least 20 years, and at least 20 of those years must have been credited in determining retirement pay.

If the final decree of divorce or annulment was on or after Feb. 1, 1983, the former spouse is eligible for CHAMPUS coverage of health care received after that date. If the date of decree is before Feb. 1, 1983, the former spouse is eligible for CHAMPUS coverage of only health care received on or after Jan. 1, 1985.

Category 2 former spouses must have been married to the same servicemember or ex-servicemember for at least 20 years, and between 15 and 20 of those years were creditable toward determine the member's retirement pay.

If the date of the final decree of divorce is before April 1, 1985, the former spouse is eligible for CHAMPUS coverage of only care received on or after Jan. 1, 1985.

Under the new limitation, Category 2 former spouses whose final decree date is on or after April 1, 1985, but before Sept. 29, 1988, are eligible for CHAMPUS from the decree date through Dec. 31, 1988 or two years after the decree date — whichever is later.

In addition, former spouses in Category 2 whose date of divorce or annulment falls after Sept. 28, 1988, are not eligible for CHAMPUS benefits.

Former spouse rules apply to single marriages only. For example, a former spouse whose marriages to two servicemembers (each less than 20 years) totaled more than 20 years is ineligible for CHAMPUS.

Eligible former spouses must pay the first $50 of what CHAMPUS determines are "reasonable charges" for covered outpatient services and supplies received from an authorized civilian health care provider in any one fiscal year; they must also pay 25 percent of the remaining charges. No deductible is required for inpatient care.

Former spouses who may receive CHAMPUS benefits are only eligible for the basic program; they are not eligible for benefits under the Program for the Handicapped.

In addition, formers spouses who are dependents of NATO members are not eligible for CHAMPUS. CHAMPUS former spouse eligibility rules don't apply to the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Veterans Administration.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This article is from a CHAMPUS Public Affairs Office news release.)

Commissary offers Passover meal items

Army News Service

This year Passover begins at sundown April 20. Devout Jews around the world will celebrate the event with a traditional seder, which consists of turkey or chicken, borscht, egg noodles and matzoh.

In observance of the holiday, U.S. Army Troop Support Agency commissaries have stocked numerous Kosher items, including matzoh,thin tea matzoh, egg matzoh, matzoh meal, matzoh ferfel, matzoh cake meal, borscht, sesame crunch, egg noodles, potato starch, old-fashioned gefilte fish, whitefish and pike gefilte fish, chicken and turkey.

Passover's beginnings date back to the time of Moses. According to the Old Testament book of Exodus, Moses was sent by God to demand that the Egyptian pharoah free the Children of Israel. Pharoah refused despite a succession of plagues upon Egypt.

The scourge that changed Pharaoh's mind occurred when death visited Egyptian homes to claim each of Egypt's oldest sons, but miraculously "passed over" Jewish dwellings, which had been marked with lamb's blood.

The Passover seder meal focuses on the meaning of the first Passover: to recall the bitterness of bondage and the joy of a new beginning, and to symbolize the communion between a people and their God.

Carmike Cinema 7
5301 Sidney Simons Blvd. 596-8244 CARMIKE
"FLETCH LIVES" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"RAIN MAN" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"DEAD CALM" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
DISCOUNT MATINEES MON. - FRI. ALL SEATS $2.50 till 5:30 P.M.
"RESCUERS" G 2:30, 4:00, 5:30, 7:30 "DANGEROUS LIAISON" R 9:30
"THE DREAM TEAM" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"BURNING SECRET" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"TROOP BEVERLY HILLS" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
Columbus Square 8 / 563-4440 COLUMBUS SQUARE
"SING" PG13 7:00, 9:30
"MISSISSIPPI BURNING" R 7:00 9:30
"LEAN ON ME" R 7:00, 9:30
"DEAD BANG" R 7:00, 9:30
"LEVIATHAN" R 7:10, 9:20
"POLICE ACADEMY 6" PG 7:10, 9:20
"BILL & TED'S EXCELLENT ADV." PG 7:10, 9:20
"MAJOR LEAGUE" R 7:10, 9:20
Peachtree Triple / 322-7704 PEACHTREE MALL
"CYBORG" R 7:10, 9:20
"SKIN DEEP" R 7:10, 9:20
"BEACHES" PG13 7:00, 9:30
Plaza Triple 99¢ / 563-3737 CROSS COUNTRY PLAZA
"DEEPSTAR SIX" R 7:10, 9:20
"THE FLY II" R 7:00, 9:30
"HER ALIBI" PG 7:00, 9:30
Phenix Twin 99¢ / 297-3905 280 BYPASS
"WHO'S HARRY CRUMB" PG13 7:00,9:15
"I'M GONNA GIT U SUCKA" R 7:15, 9:30

NEW LOW AIRFARES
Atlanta Roundtrip To:

Frankfurt	Munich	Brussels	London
$560 Thru 30 Apr.	$580 Thru 30 Apr.	$449 27 Apr.-31 May	$358 2 Apr.-27 Apr.
$660 1 May-30 May	$695 1 May-30 May	$719 1 June-30 Sep.	$408 28 April-6 June
$759 1 June-14 June	$779 1 June-14 June

*Certain Restrictions/Taxes Apply to These Fares
*Some Blackout Dates Exist
TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
3115 Mercury Drive
Columbus, GA 31906
404/563-8687
4393 Victory Dr.
ARCCO Place
Columbus, Georgia 31903
404/689-3092

Steve's Check Casher
Do you need a check cashed?
Come visit the Money Man.
WE CASH THEM ALL
$ INCOME TAX RETURN CHECKS
$ PERSONAL CHECKS
$ Payroll
$ Out of State
$ Two Party
$ Money Orders
$ Western Union
$ Tax Checks
$ Insurance Checks
$ Insurance Drafts
$ Government Checks
$ Cashier Checks
ALL TYPES
Let Us Handle All Your Check Cashing Needs!
3949 Victory Station Shopping Center
Suite 2 Next to Blimpie's
Come by and visit With Us Today or Call 689-8335
HOURS: M-F 10-7, Sat. 10-5

Weight Watchers®
FINAL WEEK!
The Quick And Easy Weigh.
Join for $15 Through April 17th.
- For 26 years, the most successful weight loss organization in the world.
- 1,000,000 members in 24 countries worldwide.
- Over 25,000 weekly meetings worldwide with over 450 meetings in Georgia.
- No special food, contracts or hidden costs.
- Opening now 30 new meetings.
- In Atlanta call 395-7820 or toll free in GA 800-282-4565 for meetings, locations and times. No reservations necessary.

MUSCOGEE COUNTY
COLUMBUS
WEIGHT WATCHERS CENTER
Harmony Place Shopping Center
2014 Airport Thruway
Mon- 9:00 am
Mon- 6:00 pm
Tue- 9:00 am
Tue- 4:00 pm
Tue- 6:00 pm
Wed-11:30 am*
Wed- 5:00 pm
Thu- 4:00 pm
Thu- 6:00 pm*
Thu- 7:30 pm
Fri-10:00 am
BEGINS 4/7/89
Fri-12:30 pm
Sat-10:00 am
FT. BENNING
(Open To The Public)
OWC-Activity Center
Wed- 5:30 pm
WESLEY HEIGHTS
United Methodist Church
5603 Luna Drive
Thu- 5:30 pm
Inner Circle®
This premium pre-paid Weight Watchers service is a small group of 8 to 12 people using a personalized approach to losing weight. For further information in Atlanta call 394-8667 or toll free in GA 800-282-4565. MC/V accepted for Inner Circle and At Work Programs only.
Special Features
Mommy & Me Meetings
$6 $6 Matinee Specials
H Hearing Impaired Programs
F Free Speakers Bureau
Express Meetings
Y Youth Meetings (Ages 6-15)
B Braille Programs
The At Work Program®
You and 25 or more of your fellow employees can form a group and Weight Watchers will set up a pre-paid meeting where you work. For further information in Atlanta call 394-8909 or toll free in GA 800-282-4565. MC/V accepted for Inner Circle and At Work Programs only.
It's Quick, It's Safe, It Works.
Regular registration fee is $25 which includes your first meeting. Fee for subsequent weeks $8. Cannot be combined with other discounts or special rates. Offer good through April 17, 1989 at participating locations of Area #55 only. Weight Watchers Inner Circle and The At Work Program are registered trademarks of Weight Watchers International, Inc. © 1989, Weight Watchers International.

Bayonet Advertising
Really Pays!

COMMUNITY

CLASSES

Funnel cake class — Learn to make Funnel Cake at the Kelley Hill Recreation Center, April 14, 7 to 8 p.m. Come on in and enjoy this free class. For more information, call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m., at 544-1721/3079.

★

Paper earring class — Spring is here, and with it comes the biggest fad in America — paper earrings. According to a Kelley Hill Recreation Center spokesman, the last class was such a big success that it is being brought back by popular demand. This class will be held April 26 at 6 p.m. For $10, you will be able to make and take home a pair of earrings. Space is limited, so pre-registration is a must. For more information, call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m., at 544-1721/3079.

★

Nutrition — Army Community Service in conjunction with Martin Army Community Hospital is sponsoring nutrition classes the second and fourth Tuesday of each month from 2 to 3 p.m. in Soldiers' Plaza, building 2640. Participants will learn basic nutrition, including shopping for low-cost foods high in nutritional value. For more information, call 545-4043 or 545-HELP.

MEETINGS

American Society of Military Comptrollers — The Fort Benning Chapter of the American Society of Military Comptrollers will hold its monthly luncheon meeting Thursday in the Benning Room at the Fort Benning Officers' Club. Buffet service will begin at 11:30 a.m.. The guest speaker will be Kay O'Brien, chief, Productivity Branch, Management Analysis Division of DRM. O'Brien will address the chapter on the Army Communities of Excellence Program. Reservations must be placed by noon on Tuesday with Hazel Lumsden, 545-1213 or Kathy Corizzo, 545-4770. Cost of the luncheon is $4.50.

★

Management Association — The Fort Benning Management Association will conduct a meeting April 20, 11:30 a.m., at the Main Post NCO Club. The speaker will be Dr. Sidney Levine who will address "Managing Job Stress." The cost of the lunch is $4.65 for stir-fried beef or $4.10 for chef salad. Call in reservations by April 17 to Carol Harris, 545-5580/5656.

★

"Breast Cancer: What Next?" — Bosom Buddies, a support group for women who have had breast cancer, meets Tuesday, 7 p.m., in the Doctors Hospital Classroom. Sue Vail Trego will present a program entitled "Breast Cancer: What Next?" For more information, call the American Cancer Society.

★

Video Camcorder Users Group — The Video Camcorder Users Group, sponsored by the Kelley Hill Recreation Center, is on its way to really being something big. If you would like to share in this great opportunity, come by and join us April 19 at 7 p.m. There is no charge but lots of fun and very informative. For further information, give us a call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m. at 544-1721/3070.

★

Job seeking workshop — The Family Member Employment Assistance Program will host a Job Seeking Strategies Workshop for military youths, ages 12 and 21 April 19. The workshop will be held at the Youth Activities Center, building 1056 from 4 to 7 p.m. The workshop has been designed to assist Fort Benning youths in their job seeking efforts and to prepare them for the upcoming Youth Job Fair. Issues to be covered include seeking employment, interview techniques and proper dress for interviews and employment. Reservations to attend this free workshop can be made by calling the Family Member Employment Assistance Center at 545-5340/5176.

MISCELLANEOUS

Family cookout — The Army Community Service Family Members with Special Needs Program is sponsoring a family cookout for those enrolled in the Exceptional Family Member Program April 22 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Youth Activities Center, building 1056. Families are asked to bring a side dish or dessert. Activities are planned for the entire family. RSVP by April 14. For more information, call Lydia Brunk, 545-3605.

★

Summer Camp volunteers needed — Volunteers are needed for Army Community Service's Special Needs Program summer camp. Prospective volunteers must be 16 years old or older, have a genuine interest in children, be patient and a caring individual and have lots of energy and enthusiasm for sports, games and crafts. A week of training will be provided prior to the camp, which runs from June 19 to Aug. 11 in four two-week sessions. Commitments to at least one full session are required. To volunteer, call Lydia Brunk at 545-3605.

★

Exceptional family members — Do you have family members enrolled in the Exceptional Family Member Program? Are you interested in getting them involved in recreational/leisure activities adapted to their needs? If you answered yes to these questions, call Lydia Brunk, recreation specialist with ACS Family Members with Special Needs Program at 545-3605 or visit building 1056, the Youth Activities Center.

★

"Women's Health Night — The OB/GYN and Family Practice Department at Martin Army Community Hospital announces "Women's Health Night," a monthly lecture series for women about women's health issues.

All women, active duty, retired and family members are invited to attend April 20, 7 to 8:30 p.m., on the second floor — Baugh Conference Room, MACH. This week's lecture will be "Your Body After 40 — Things You Should Know."

For more information, contact Maj. Mary Jo King-Pugh, head nurse, OB/GYN Clinic, 544-1209.

★

Diabetes Treatment program — The grand opening of the Diabetes Treatment Program, the first step in the development of the Life Style Center at Martin Army Community Hospital, is scheduled Monday at 2 p.m. with a ribbon-cutting ceremony on Ward 5B. The hospital commander, Col. Herb Segal, will preside at the ribbon cutting.

★

Tax preparation — Free assistance with preparing federal and state income tax forms will be available at the Main Post Exchange Saturday from 10 a.m. to 1 p.m. For assistance, be sure to bring your W-2 form and any tax forms that you may have received in the mail.

★

Immunizations — Pediatric Immunization Clinic has opened in the Well-Baby Clinic for children two years old or younger. The clinic is conducted and immunizations are given by appointment only every Tuesday, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., and Friday, 2:30 to 4:30 p.m. For more information, call the Well-Baby Clinic at 544-4777. For appointments, call 544-1086/1087/1088.

★

Kindergarten — If your child will be attending kindergarten at Fort Benning this fall, come to the Patch School Auditorium, corner of Baltzell Avenue and Lumpkin Road, Tuesday, 7 p.m., to find out more about it. This orientation is for parents only. For more information, call Gay Hitchcock, 687-2404.

★

Preschool — There are a few openings for 4-year-olds at the Fort Benning Early Childhood Development Center, Inc., (Patch Preschool) for this school year. Children must have been 4 years old on or before Sept. 1, 1988, to be eligible. Call 687-2404 for more information.

★

Buffalo Rangers — An article on A-1 of the Feb. 27 Bayonet concerning the Buffalo Rangers did not list a contact for veterans of that organization. The unit has formed a non-profit veterans organization under the umbrella of the 555th Parachute Infantry, the first Black parachute unit that activated at Fort Benning in 1943.

Membership to both veterans associations is open to all qualified airborne-qualified active duty, retired or reserve member. Airborn qualification may include parachute, glider or air-assault. The local contact is Lawrence Estell, 5428 Kennedy Street, Columbus, Ga. 31907, telephone: (404) 689-0149. The national contact is Samuel McKinney, 1891 Cascade Street, Fayetteville, N.C. 28301, telephone: (919) 488-4496.

★

Money management — Monetary matters in marriage, types of family financial crises, methods of financial management, money-stretching techniques and sources of additional revenue will be discussed at a seminar each Monday between Monday and April 24, 7 to 9 p.m., at the Pastoral Institute. The seminar will be led by Wayne Anthony, M. Div., M.B.A.

★

Free income tax preparation — The American Association of Retired Persons is offering free income tax preparation to people with low to moderate incomes. This service will be provided by trained tax counselors until April 14 at the following locations.

Brown Nicholson Terrace Apartments., 1313 14th Street each Thursday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

South Columbus Senior Center, 1441 Benning Drive each Tuesday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Edgewood Senior Center, 2630 Reese Road each Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The Old North Highlands Assembly of God Church, corner of 38th Street and 5th Avenue each Wednesday, 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m.

Shut-ins will also be provided assistance. Call Margaret Whitehead, RSVP Office, 324-4347.

★

"Hell on Wheels" reunion — Veterans of the 2nd Armored Division and attached units are invited to a "Hell on Wheels" reunion May 24 through 27 at the Columbus Hilton Hotel. For more information, call Loren Guge at (904)596-6834.

RECREATION CENTER

Instrument rentals — The Kelley Hill Recreation Center has several instruments for rent, from amplifiers to trumpets and just about everything in between. We offer daily, weekly and monthly fees. For more information, call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. at 544-1721/3079.

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteer — The following volunteer opportunities are available at Fort Benning:

- A Boy Scout Explorers chairman is needed. The volunteer will be responsible for coordination and development of the program.
- Army Community Service needs a volunteer to man a computer that will be set up at the commissary to help consumers plan nutritious, low-cost meals. Training will be provided, and shifts will be four hours.
- A volunteer experienced in Library Science is needed for the Infantry Museum.
- Volunteer training is scheduled to begin for the program aid to mothers of newborns.
- Volunteers are needed to work with family members with special needs. Weekend volunteer work is available.

For more information on these opportunities or a listing of others, call Karen Crowley at the Volunteer Resource Center, 545-5602.

WIVES' CLUBS

International Wives' Club

Citizenship classes — The International Wives' Club is sponsoring citizenship classes beginning Wednesday, 7 p.m. at Building 2642, Collins Loop. Participants may register and begin classes the same day. For more information, call Olga Kelly at 687-6471.

NCO Wives' Club

Annual membership drive — The NCO Wives' Club will have its annual membership drive today, 9 a.m. to 6 p.m. at the Main Post Exchange. Membership is open to wives of all enlisted ranks. For more information, call S. Turner, 689-4312.

★

Officers' Wives' Club

OWC picnic — The annual OWC picnic will held April 19 at 11 a.m. at Riverside, home of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Michael F. Spigelmire.

Admission will be $1, which will cover drinks and dessert. Attendees should bring their own food.

The picnic is open to the public. In case of foul weather, the picnic will be held in the Youth Activities Center, building 1056.

For more information call Dickie Newton at 689-8414.

School of Dance — The Officers' Wives' Club School of Dance offers the following classes for all military families, active duty, retired, officer or enlisted:

Ballet — Jane Frenkel 563-0294
Gymnastics — Kelly Cargill 563-8176
Karate — John Touchton 1-582-3117
Heartbeat Aerobics — Kathy Greene 682-9854
Tap and Jazz — Becky Jose 682-4219
Performing Arts — Libbie Kurinec 322-6942
Piano — Diane Swiecicki 297-6524
Guitar — Lewis Finn 563-0099

For those interested in a specific class, please call the instructor. For general information, call Delaura Gallatin, 689-9937.

For those interested in a specific class, please call the instructor. For general information, call Delaura Gallatin, 689-9937.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES

Talent Show — Pre-registration for the second annual Month of the Military Child Talent Show continues. Competition is open to family members ages 6 - 18 of active duty, retired military and DoD civilians. Entry forms may be picked up at Youth Activities facilities on main post and McGraw and Indianhead Terrace family housing areas. Rehearsals begin April 21. All entry forms must be submitted to Youth Activities, building 1056, no later than one week prior to rehearsals. For more information, call 545-3070 or 545-3913.

★

Ballet classes — The Youth Activities Center still has a few vacancies for ballet classes. These classes are taught by a professional dance instructor and limited spaces are available. Call 545-3070 for an appointment. (MWR)

★

Swim Team — Sign up for the Youth Activities Swim Team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Monday through Thursday. The swim team is a year-round organization. Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for more information. (MWR)

AUTO STORAGE WAREHOUSE
• SPRINKLER
• BURGLAR ALARM
• INSULATED
by MONTH or YEAR
ALLIED BONDED WHSE.
4301 ALLIED DR.
COLUMBUS (404) 687-0222

DIVORCE..... $195 (simple uncontested)
BANKRUPTCY.. $295 Personal-No Assets-Chp. #7
ADOPTION..... $195 (all parties consent)
NAME CHANGE. $125 (no contest)
WILL..... $45 (simple)
DUI..... $195 (first-Nolo Plea)
plus court cost
LAW OFFICES OF
GARY I. KLEPAK
563-9333
2953 Mimosa St.
(Across from Sears Auto Center—Cols. Sq. Mall)

GRAND OPENING
7th-9th APRIL
MOVIE RENTALS
ALL 99¢ EACH
MSA BUILDING
4525 VICTORY DRIVE
689-8929

Number of bankruptcies increasing at alarming rate

Army Community Service

Bankruptcy increased by an alarming 16 percent among soldiers in 1988.

In a recent memorandum from Brig. Gen. R.L. Dilworth, the deputy chief of staff for Personnel, Administration and Logistics to all Training and Doctrine Command installations, he expressed the concern of the Army's leadership over this increase.

He points out, "The long-term effects of bankruptcy on Army members can be devastating." The loss of a good credit rating greatly reduces the soldier's consumer options and can last for seven or more years.

Prior to filing bankruptcy, soldiers should seek assistance from the Staff Judge Advocate. Although SJA can not handle the actual filing, it can provide advice on the legal responsibilities and consequences of bankruptcy.

While bankruptcy can be made to sound like an easy quick fix to a stressful financial problem, it often ends up causing more long lasting grief and pain than was anticipated.

The Consumer Affairs and Financial Counseling Program at Army Community Services may be able to provide alternatives to bankruptcy. Training and counseling is provided in the areas of credit and money management. Appointments can be made with a financial counselor by calling 545-5516 or stopping by building 2640 in Soldiers' Plaza.

Meetings to acquaint parents with curriculum

Fort Benning Schools

Curriculum meetings will be held in April to acquaint parents with new instructional programs in Fort Benning Schools.

Program topics will include sex education, the new language arts program and computer education.

Meetings will be conducted by Dr. Suzanne Williams, deputy superintendent and the Fort Benning Schools coordinators, Vicki Rogers and Jerry Christy.

The schedule for these meetings is as follows:

For parents of students attending:	Date	Time	Location
Dexter, Patch, White	April 13	7 p.m.	Dexter
Wilson	April 18	7 p.m.	Wilson
Faith	April 19	7 p.m.	Faith
Loyd, McBride, Wilbur	April 20	7 p.m.	McBride

SPIRITUAL

Victory over fear possible through Christ

By Chap. Jerry Leverett
Clinical Pastoral Education

Fear is a powerful emotion that respects no one. Riches do not cast our fear, nor do certain accomplishments or even the badges we wear on our chest.

Fear is that feeling we get when we are threatened or when we know we are about to lose something or when we become aware of danger.

For most people, the greatest fear of all is the fear of life and of death. In the book "The Denial of Death," the author says that the core tendency of the personality is to maximize the fear of death while minimizing the fear of life. But many of us deny we will ever die.

Fear of life is threat for many individuals. Some people so fear life that they withdraw to avoid relationships with other human beings, and in avoiding life, they actually are dying until they die, instead of living until they die.

Fear of life and fear of death can be very depressing. However, we do not have to search far to find hope in the middle of this fear.

The 23d Psalm says, "Yea though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I will fear no evil; for thou art with me. . ." The presence of God was a source of comfort in the face of overwhelming fear for the faithful Jew because God was present with His people.

Again in the 27th Psalm the writer says, "The Lord is my light and my salvation: I will fear no one."

However, it is ultimately through Christ, His death, burial and resurrection, that we actually have victory over the fear of life and death. Because through Christ Jesus, we are set free, not only from the fear of death, but we derive courage from the victory of Christ, which overcomes the world to live the abundant life.

Fear is a powerful and legitimate emotion that can be overwhelming if carried alone. But when we share our fear with those we trust, and put our faith in Christ then fear need not be so paralyzing, because the perfect love that God has for us casts out all fear (1 John 4:18).

Muslims to celebrate Islamic Holy month

USAIC Chaplain's Office

For Muslims around the world, Ramadan is the Islamic Holy month. Ramadan 1409 begins this week and ends the first week in May, and is observed by abstaining from food and drink from first light to sundown.

According to 1st Lt. Richard S. Voss, 4th Battalion, 41st Field Artillery, Muslims realize that when they observe Ramadan correctly, God out of His infinite mercy erases past failings and gives the faithful a chance to be reborn in faith.

Ross said the Ramadan prayer services will be held at the Masjid al-Jannah on Forrest Road. These include night-time Tarawih prayers during the high holy days of Ramadan, which begin April 26 and last through the end of the holy month.

"It (Ramadan) is a time of intense prayer," said Ross, "especially during the last ten days of the holy month when prayers can last for hours.

At Fort Benning, Muslim services are conducted each Friday at noon in a Muslim Prayer Room on the third floor of Olson Hall.

For more information, call Chap. (Lt. Col.) James B. Lonergan at the USAIC Chaplain's Office, 545-2288.

The Imam of the Columbus Muslim community, Yahya Islam, can be reach at 689-6922, for more information on Islamic practices and holidays.

Fort Benning Catholics gather for sacrament

By Debra Galle
USAIC Chaplain's Office

Fort Benning Catholics, committed to spiritual growth, community service and personal introspect, joined together at Saint Anne's Catholic Church in Columbus, April 2, to receive the sacrament of confirmation.

Young adults from the military and civilian communities were incorporated into the church as mature Catholics. The combination of the groups symbolized the universiality of the Catholic church.

Father Barry Lonergan, senior priest at Fort Benning, describes the preparation for the sacrament as a "comprehensive program that combines education, community service and worship. It is a transition period that brings young adults into fully active community participation."

"Today, the confirmation program is a transition process," explains Father Lonergan. "I was impressed by the sincerity of the individuals and how much they have grown during the program. Their readiness for the sacrament was amazing."

Claudia Wolf and Eugenia Bakely taught the Fort Benning Program during the past year. The Bakelys transferred to Maryland in January. Claudia and her husband, John, have continued to keep the tightly structured program together.

"This is the beginning, not the end of the education process for these students," Claudia said. "The program begins with the candidate writing a letter to the Bishop requesting confirmation. A type of contract is then drawn up with the candidate to show he will accept the responsibilities of the sacrament."

The contract includes meeting standard requirements for confirmation as required by Catholic doctrine. It stresses community service, which exposes the candidate to the "adult" responsibilities in the community through supervised assignments. These included baby-sitting during Mass, assisting as Religious Education aides, lectors, ushers and altar ministers.

CHAPEL BRIEFS

Catholic

Pre-Baptism class: The Religious Education center will sponsor a pre-baptism class April 16. This class is a requirement for parents who wish to have their child baptized in the Catholic Church at Fort Benning, or for those who wish to take a letter to their home parish. Expectant parents are encouraged to attend. Call Phil Reilly at 545-2771 for more information and to register.

First Friday: The Military Council of Catholic Women will have their First Friday meeting today at the Religious Education Center at 9:30 a.m. A rosary will be followed by fellowship and nominations for the next board. Mass will follow.

Ecumenical

English language classes: Those people for whom English is a second language, may attend English language classes Tuesdays from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. in the Religious Education Center, building 229. Beginning, conversational and grammar classes are offered. There is no charge, and students may begin at any time. Free baby-sitting is provided for children of students and teachers. Call 545-4715 for further information.

Protestant

The Protestant Women of the Chapel: PWOC meets each Thursday, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m., at the Religious Education Center. Baby-sitting is provided. Contact Debby Godwin, 687-7157, or Annette Saul, 682-1157 for more information.

SOUTH COLUMBUS UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
1213 Benning Drive
10 Minutes from Ft. Benning
Sunday School 9:45 am
Morining Worship 11:00 am
689-5094

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)
2622 Macon Road
Douglas A. Garner, Pastor
Sunday School 9:45AM
Morning Worship 11:00 AM
EVERYONE WELCOME!

First Assembly of God
1309 10th Ave. at 13th St.
Phenix City, Ala.
WELCOMES ALL
Military Personnel
to worship with us.
Sunday School 9:45
Service 10:45
Evening Service 6:00pm

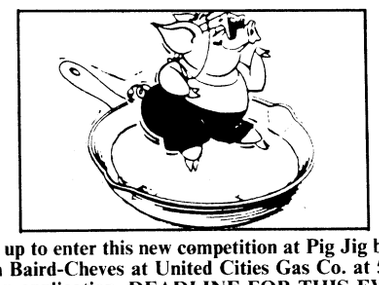
ROSE HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST
7479 Old Moon Road
DAVID G. SPIECE, MINISTER
● BIBLE STUDY 10:00 AM
● EVENING WORSHIP 6:30 PM
● WEDNESDAY MIDWEEK SERVICE 7:30 PM

OUR LADY OF LOURDES CATHOLIC CHURCH
Located near Ft. Benning
at 1953 Torch Hill Rd.
Phone 689-5720
SATURDAY VIGIL
MASS 5:30pm
SUNDAY MASSES
8:30am & 11:00am

NORTHSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(A New Testament Church)
1442 Double Churches Road
Sunday School 9:45am
Morning Worship 10:45am
Evening Worship 6:00pm
Spencer Arnold, Minister
324-5220

NORTH HIGHLAND ASSEMBLY OF GOD
7300 Livingston Drive Columbus, Georgia 31909
Weekly Service Schedule
Sunday School 9:30am, Worship 10:30am & 6pm
Wednesday Evening, Family Night 7:00pm
(Children & Youth Activities-Adult Bible Study)
Security Parking Nursery
Jimmy R. Swilley, Sr. Pastor
For Information call (404) 561-7777

Uncle Ham Wants You!



HOG-CALLIN' ALL TEAMS!

The Ledger-Enquirer's Greater Columbus
PIG JIG!
SOUTHWEST GA'S BBQ COOKING CHAMPIONSHIPS PRELIMINARY EVENT TO GA'S BBQ CHAMPIONSHIP IN VIENNA.

Win Cash! Trophies!
Set-up Fri., April 28;
Contest Sat., April 29
Iron Works Convention & Trade Center

Businesses, clubs, organizations and other amateur groups are invited to compete. Call Lyle Endsley at 324-5526, ext. 359 to have an application mailed. Or go by the Ledger-Enquirer office at 17 W. 12th St., or by the Historic Columbus office at 700 Broad.
DEADLINE IS APRIL 14.

Now joining PIG JIG at Riverfest
CORNBREAD COOKOFF

Sign up to enter this new competition at Pig Jig by calling Joan Baird-Cheves at United Cities Gas Co. at 576-2964 for an application. DEADLINE FOR THIS EVENT IS APRIL 7. First place winners in three categories win $100. "Best of Show" cornbread maker receives a W.C. Bradley Patio Gas Grill.

Sponsored by United Cities Gas Company feel right at home
TO BENEFIT HISTORIC COLUMBUS FOUNDATION

These events are just part of a weekend of art, crafts, antiques, collectibles, exhibitions, games, music and good food at the annual Salisbury Fair at Riverfest Weekend.

April 28, 29, 30
RIVERFEST WEEKEND

Test your knowledge on auto accidents

Infantry Branch Safety Office

1. True or False — About 80 percent of all automobile accidents occur at speeds of less than 40 mph.

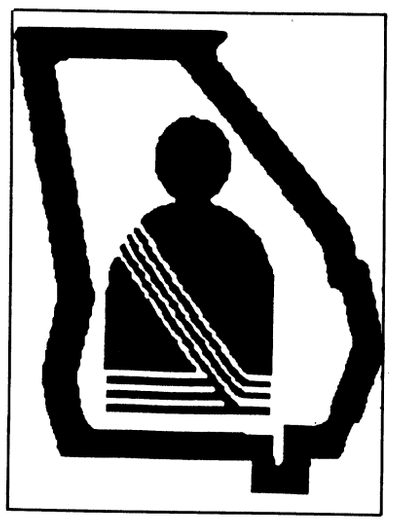
2. True or False — The longer the trip, the more likely it is that people will use safety belts.

3. True or False — One in 10 injury producing crashes involves fire or submersion in water.

4. True or False — In a crash, it's almost always safer to be thrown out of the car.

5. True or False — Lap belts should be fastened just above the hip bones (pelvis).

6. True or False — If people wear lap belts, they don't need shoulder belts, too.



7. True or False — If you have an adjustable shoulder belt, it should be kept very loose for the best protection.

8. True or False — Pregnant women should not wear lap and shoulder belts.

9. True or False — Regular seat belts never should be worn by children under five years of age.

10. True or False — A common cause of death and injury to children in automobiles is being crushed by adults who are not wearing safety belts.

11. Safety belts cut your chance of being killed or seriously injured by (select one) 10 percent, 30 percent, 60 percent or more.

12. Safety constructed child restraints can reduce the probability of death in the event of a crash by about (select one) 10 percent, 25 percent, 50 percent or more.

Answers

1. TRUE

Nearly eight out of 10 crashes happen at speeds less than 40 mph. That's largely because most driving is done at low speeds and in urban areas.

However, driving at low speeds is no guarantee that you won't be hurt in a crash. People not wearing safety belts have been fatally injured at speeds as low as 12 mph. That's about the speed you would drive in a parking lot.

2. TRUE

People are more likely to use safety belts on long trips. They seem to think there is greater risk of having an accident when driving far from home on unfamiliar roads. But the reverse is really true.

Long trips, especially on interstate highways, tend to be safer. Everyone should wear belts on all trips, short or long.

3. FALSE

On television, cars explode and drop into rivers all the time. But in real life, less than one out of every 200 injury-producing crashes involves fire or submersion in water.

4. FALSE

The fact is that your chances of being fatally injured are almost 25 times greater if you're thrown from the car than if you're safely buckled to your seat.

5. FALSE

A lap belt is designed to be worn as low as possible across the hip bones, so these strong bones can safely absorb the forces of a crash. If the belt is fastened above the hop bones — across the abdomen — this could cause injury to soft tissue and organs in a severe crash.

6. FALSE

The purpose of a shoulder belt is to keep the upper torso from jackknifing forward in a collision and hitting the dashboard or the steering wheel with the chest and face.

A lap belt will hold you in your seat and save your life, but the shoulder belt can prevent some very painful and disfiguring injuries to your face. Never wear a shoulder belt by itself. You can slide under it in a crash causing more serious injury.

7. FALSE

The more snug the belt fits, the better. If you have an older model vehicle, you may have to adjust your shoulder belt separately from your lap belt. It should be only slightly loose, allowing you to put your clenched fist between the belt and your chest. This will give you some freedom of movement in the car, yet will be snug enough to prevent your upper body from hitting the steering wheel or the dashboard.

8. FALSE

The greatest cause of fetal death in auto accidents is death of the pregnant mother. A lap belt worn below the "bulge" and a shoulder belt above, to prevent jackknifing, will give mother and fetus the best chance of surviving a serious accident.

9. FALSE

Young children always are safer if they can ride in a special child restraint device that will spread the forces of the crash over a wide body area. But if such a restraint device is not available, then a seat belt is much better than going unrestrained. Just make certain the lap belt is as snug as possible and is positioned low on the hip bones.

10. TRUE

When most people visualize a crash, they see a car hit something head-on and the people lurch forward. In reality cars collide at angles and the passengers are thrown in every conceivable direction — unless they are safely buckled up and anchored to the vehicle seat.

One out of every four serious injuries occurring to passengers of motor vehicles is caused by people being thrown into each other.

The most common causes of death and injury to children in automobile accidents are being thrown into the windshield, dashboard or some other part of the vehicle; being crushed by adults who are not wearing safety belts; and being thrown out of the car.

11. 60 PERCENT OR MORE

This is a very conservative estimate. Some studies have shown the effectiveness of safety belts to be well beyond 80 percent. Naturally, the lap-shoulder combination gives better protection than just a lap belt.

12. 50 PERCENT OR MORE

When the Highway Safety Research Institute at the University of Michigan investigated all crashes involving young children who were riding in child restraint devices in the southeast Michigan area, not a single child who was restrained was fatally injured.

Give to the Heart Fund

MILITARY WELCOME

NEW LOTTERY PICK UP SERVICE

PERSONAL CHECKS
MILITARY CHECKS
PAYROLL CHECKS
OUT OF STATE CHECKS
INCOME TAX CHECKS
ALLOTMENT CHECKS
INSURANCE CHECKS
ALMOST ANY CHECK

MR CHECK CASHER
$ NEW LOCATION $
3809 Victory Drive
Traffic Circle Shopping Center
687-8666

VISA CARDS ARE HERE!

VISA

COMPARE the terms of your Credit Union with the market and you'll make the switch.

$8.00 Annual Fee
15% Annual Percentage Rate

25 Day Grace Period

2786 Eckel Street
Fort Benning, GA 31905
682-0830

TIC FEDERAL CREDIT UNION
Offer to eligible members only.

4811 Bankers Blvd.
Columbus, GA 31904
324-5288

NEW BONUSES NEED CASH TODAY? NEW BONUSES

Save lives and earn money by donating your time at one of the finest Plasma Facilities in the country.

New & Donors who have not donated in SIX MONTHS RECEIVE $7.00 BONUS with this ad.

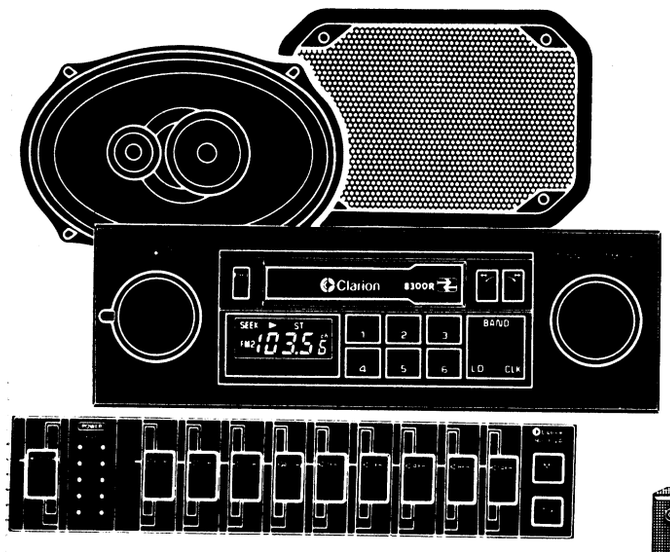
Bring a Buddy & RECEIVE AN EXTRA $5.00
Additional Bonus on 6th & 8th Donations

EARN $10.00 AND ABOVE ON EACH VISIT

RIVERFRONT PLASMA CENTER
507 Dillingham St. - Phenix City
297-5711
Hours: Mon.-Wed.-Fri. 7-3:30 - Tues. & Thurs. 7-6:30

BROAD ST. PHENIX CITY RIVER COLUMBUS DILLINGHAM ST. VICTORY DR.

CONVENIENT EVENING HOURS FOR BENNING PERSONNEL



EARN OVER $100 PER MONTH

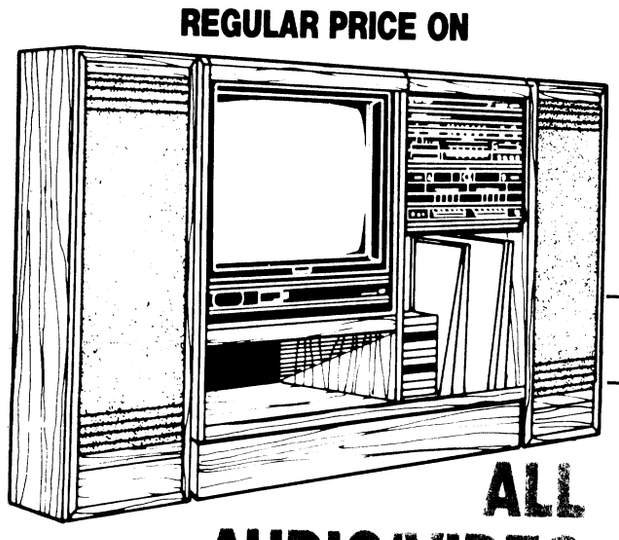
★ ELECTRONICS ★ JEWELRY

DEVON Home Center Stores

★ FURNITURE ★ APPLIANCES

ELECTRONIC SPECIALS for your HOME & CAR

15%OFF
REGULAR PRICE ON
ALL AUDIO/VIDEO SYSTEMS in STOCK



25%OFF
REGULAR PRICE ON
ALL CLARION CAR COMPONENTS in STOCK

SALE ENDS APRIL 12th, 1989

Serving the Military & Civil Service with ★ CONVENIENT CREDIT
★ NO DOWN PAYMENT
★ TAKE IT HOME TODAY

15%OFF
REGULAR PRICE ON
ALL JVC & KENWOOD RACK SYSTEMS in STOCK

FREE FINANCING
If contract is paid within twelve (12) months of 1st contract due date, we will refund finance charges on that purchase.

COLUMBUS
(404) 689-1210

Mon.-Fri. 10am to 8pm;
Sat. 10am to 6pm;
Sun. 1pm to 5pm

Unit

2nd Battalion, 18th Infantry, soldiers learn lifesaving skills. See B-2.

Sports

Columbus Mud Cats open season tonight. See B-4.

Entertainment

"Mississippi Burning" is the Saturday evening feature at Main Post Theatre. Show time is 7 p.m. See complete movie listing on B-5.

ARMY NEWS

Promotable soldiers may stay without PLDC

Promotable specialists and corporals who have not graduated from the Primary Leadership Development Course will not lose their recommended status when PLDC becomes a prerequisite for promotion to sergeant Oct. 1.

Under modified rules announced March 28, soldiers may continue to be recommended for promotion to sergeant even though they have not completed PLDC.

Previously announced rules scheduled to take effect Oct. 1 would have required that soldiers complete PLDC before being recommended for promotion; it also would have removed promotable corporals and specialists from recommended lists if they had not graduated from PLDC by Oct. 1.

★ ★ ★

Army releases SFC promotion list

The 5,977-name list of NCOs tabbed for promotion to sergeant first class was released March 23.

Army personnel officials say that 53,622 staff sergeants were considered by the selection board, which met in October and November, 1988. That puts the overall selection rate of those eligible at 11.2 percent.

Almost half the soldiers selected — 2,952 — had previously been considered. Another 36 percent — 2,161 — were picked from among those in the primary zone for the first time. The remaining selectees were from the secondary zone.

Primary zone NCOs were those whose dates of rank for staff sergeant were June 30, 1985 or earlier. NCOs with dates of rank between July 1, 1985 and July 31, 1986 were in the secondary zone. The breakdown of selection rates, by category:

Primary zone

Previously Considered	Promoted	Percent
27,963	2,952	10.6
First time Considered	Promoted	Percent
12,677	2,161	17.0

Secondary zone

Considered	Promoted	Percent
12,982	844	6.8

★ ★ ★

605 lieutenant colonels selected for promotion

A recently adjourned selection board recommended 605 Army lieutenant colonels for promotion.

Results of the fiscal 1989 Colonel, Army Competitive Category, promotion selection board that adjourned March 20 should be released in early July, say Department of the Army personnel officials.

The board report is currently awaiting approval from the Office of the Secretary of Defense.

★ ★ ★

Captain promotion board convenes

The fiscal 1989-B captain, Army, promotion board and conditional voluntary indefinite status selection board recently convened.

Over the next three weeks, the board will consider 3,544 first lieutenants in and above the promotion zone. The board will also consider other than Regular Army officers for selection to continue service in a "conditional voluntary indefinite" status.

Officers on voluntary indefinite status may normally serve up to eight years as OTRA officers. Some officers in overage branches must accept reclassification into shortage branches in conjunction with accepting CVI status, in order to remain on active duty.

The board is scheduled to adjourn on April 21, and the results should be released in early August.

-- from Army News Service reports.

Army plans no evacuations for women

By J. C. Mathews
Army News Service

Many soldiers — including women — think women soldiers in their units will be evacuated during combat. They're wrong, say officials from the Army's Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel.

"The Army does not plan, and has never planned, to evacuate women soldiers during combat," said MSgt. Kathleen Harvey of the ODCSPER Soldier Policy Branch. "But we hear from leaders that soldiers, including many women, don't know that."

Reports to ODCSPER officials from the field indicate that misconceptions about the role of women soldiers in combat are widespread. Harvey said the Army's position is that women and men will perform the duties of their assigned specialties, whether in war or peace.

"We have women everywhere, just as we have men everywhere," Harvey said. "The reality is that, during war, all soldiers — men and women alike — may come under fire. Women have necessary missions to perform in their units, and they can't arbitrarily be pulled out when the shooting starts. They're needed in their jobs."

Army policy prohibits assigning women to positions involving the "highest probability of direct combat," Harvey said. The Army defines direct combat as "engaging with individual or crew-served weapons while being exposed to direct enemy fire" with "a high probability of physical contact with the enemy and substantial risk of capture."

The Army assigns a "direct combat probability code" to every duty position in each of its units, with "P1" indicating the highest probability of direct combat and "P7" the lowest. Women may not be assigned to positions coded P1 but can be assigned to all others.

"Four things – the military occupational specialty, the mission of the unit, location of the unit and Army tactical doctrine — determine what probability code is assigned to a duty position," Harvey said.

She emphasized that, once assigned to a position, a woman soldier will continue to serve in that position in wartime. That, she said, is what many soldiers don't understand.

"Some of the men have asked, 'How come PFC Suzie Smith gets pulled out of the unit when war breaks out?'" Harvey said. "The answer, of course, is that PFC Suzie Smith doesn't leave; she stays in the unit and does her job, just like everybody else."

Without regard to duty location, women may serve in 87 percent of the Army's enlisted MOSs, 91 percent of warrant officer specialties, and 96 percent of officer specialties. In addition, some 11,000 new duty positions in the active and reserve components were opened to women in November 1988. More than half the duty assignments in the Total Army are now open to women.

Company Inactivation

On March 30, Co. E, 1st Bn., 38th Inf., 2nd ITB, ITC, was inactivated as a result of a reduction in authorized forces. The company's last group of graduates marked the occasion with a demonstration at Dickman Field.

Left, squad members display their weapons as they are introduced to the ceremony's attendees. Below, an infantry squad dismounts a UH-60 Blackhawk.

After the squad demonstrated tactical capabilities, the unit's colors were covered signifying inactivation. Photos by Shawn Bryson.

Benning balances energy resources, budget

By Becky Ray
Energy Branch

The Training and Doctrine Command criteria for heating system shutdown was met March 13, when the average temperature rose above 60 degrees for the third day in a row.

TRADOC Regulation 420-11 states that heating systems will be turned off when the average daytime temperature is above 60 degrees Fahrenheit for three consecutive days. The average temperatures for March 11, 12 and 13 were 66, 66 and 71 degrees, with highs on all three days reaching the mid 80s.

TRADOC regulations give specific criteria for heating and air conditioning start up and shut down. However, this year Fort Benning has been able to provide heating and air conditioning outside these criteria because of its ability to manage energy resources well.

Good energy goal performance allows the post to be much more flexible in energy management and to respond more reasonably to weather changes.

The early warm weather gives Fort Benning an opportunity to make headway in meeting energy goals.

We can take advantage of the warmer weather by shutting down central heating plants and large heating systems.

All heating units not controlled by FM receivers should be turned off by the building occupants as well.

This will aid in meeting goals and, more importantly, will mean more energy will be available for other needs, such as air conditioning, later in the year.

Fort Benning has been able to work within its energy budget through DEH initiatives, aggressive energy management, and post-wide emphasis on energy conservation.

The Energy Monitoring and Control System makes it possible for us to turn on and off heating and cooling systems easily and quickly in response to the weather.

This saves energy for the post and makes it easier to provide heating and air conditioning as building occupants need it.

If the Fort Benning community continues to use energy wisely and takes every opportunity to avoid energy waste, the Directorate of Engineering and Housing can continue to meet the post's heating and cooling needs.

UNIT NEWS

Greg Markley

43rd Eng. Bn. soldiers install the retaining wall at one of the bridge sites in Costa Rica.

36th Engineers erect bridges of friendship

By David R. Penland
Task Force Chaplain

There was a bridge of friendship erected between Costa Rica and the United States March 12, just as surely as 36th Engineer Group soldiers from Fort Benning are building seven bridges on the OSA Peninsula in Costa Rica.

The soldiers in Task Force 36 housed in a tent city of more than 600 personnel known as base camp "Rugged Seahorse" hosted more than 980 Costa Rican neighbors, who came to the base camp to meet soldiers, examine the base and look over engineering equipment used on the bridge building, road development mission, known as "Camino De La Paz '89," or "Road to Peace '89."

Costa Ricans of all ages sat in helicopters, watched North-American softball, toured the platformed tent city and devoured a truck load of watermelon at the dining facility.

"Building a bridge of trust and friendship is significant," said Col. Douglas R. Church, commander of Task Force 36. "Our presence here in Costa Rica is not a military one, but a humanitarian gesture; it is an open hand to our friends here".

Anna Rosa Garcia and her two children were among the visitors at base camp Rugged Seahorse. Garcia said, "Our peninsula has been a forgotten part of Costa Rica; we thank you for remembering our community with your kindness. The bridges you build will mean a better life for us. We will be able to get to medical care and to bring jobs to our peninsula. We are grateful to the North American soldiers."

The Costa Ricans call themselves Americans with pride, distinguishing U.S. citizens by calling them North Americans. This is just a further indicator of the bond that's formed.

The seven bridges currently under construction by the 43rd Engineer Battalion of the 36th Eng. Grp. include two bridges in excess of 200 feet, one 290 feet over the El Tigre River, and one 260 feet over the Rincon River and five other bridges of 150 feet or less. We are also developing 3.6 kilometers of road.

At the end of the open house at base camp Rugged Seahorse, a bridge had been built — a bridge between two peoples. Long may it stand.

Soldiers learn lifesaving skills

By D.L. Bridges
Company D, 2nd Battalion, 18th Inf.

The medical skills and the ability to use them to save casualties on future battlefields were the focus of a Combat Lifesaver Course recently conducted by physician assistant CW0 3 Harold High of the 2nd Battalion, 18th Infantry.

The 40 hours of instruction given over five days emphasized intense study in cardiopulmonary resuscitation, triage, dressing and splinting wounds, intravenous medical applications and evacuation procedures.

"Every combat military occupational specialty should take the course because in combat, there aren't enough medics to go around," said High, who has taught the course since 1980.

"Soldiers need the course to provide life sustainability for fellow soldiers when there's no medic around," he said.

Written and hands-on tests were given daily and a comprehensive test was given on the final day.

"It was hard remembering everything, and they didn't give you a diploma for showing up," said Spec. Thomas Cook, Co. D, 2nd Bn., 18th Inf. "If you didn't take notes and study, you wouldn't pass."

"This course is a good tool for my infantry MOS, and the instruction was outstanding," said Spec. Timothy McGrath, Co. A. "I'd like to see the training be longer though so we could absorb more of what we studied."

> "Putting an IV needle in somebody's arm was the hardest thing for me to do."
>
> — Sgt. Richard Safar

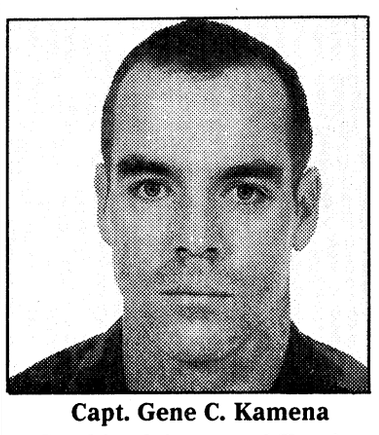
High noted that IVs have traditionally been the hardest thing for students to become proficient in, and CPR has been the easiest because soldiers have a background in it from civilian life and basic training.

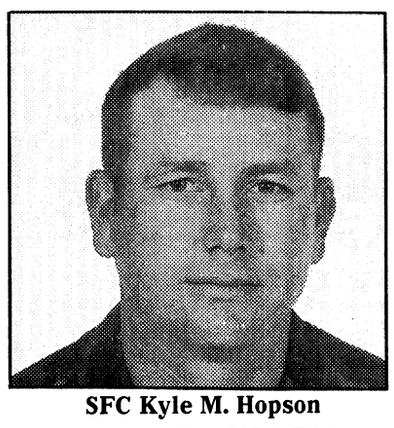
"Putting an IV needle in somebody's arm was the hardest thing for me to do," said Sgt. Richard Safar, Co. A, a view shared by many of the students. "Once I did it, though, it wasn't as bad as I made it out to be. The whole course is a continuation of what you learn in basic training, and I think it'll make a difference in saving casualties because you have to remember, medics get sho too."

In addition to the medical proficiency gained, the students are also awarded eight promotion points on their military education. Graduates also attend refresher courses every six months.



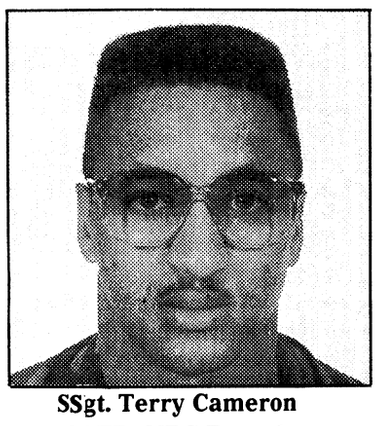
"It's important for company commanders o realize what an asset the soldier is who graduates from this course and that the soldier needs to use the skills to maintain their proficiency," High said. "A combat lifesaver can take the place of a medic on ranges."

USARSA schedules Organizational Day



The U.S Army School of the Americas' fourth annual Organizational Day will be held April 15 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at Olive and Stewart-Watson Fields.

All USARSA personnel, faculty, students and their families are invited to participate in the activities, which will include a picnic and games.



USAIS Instructors of the Month

Capt. Gene C. Kamena
Combined Arms and Tactics

SFC Kyle M. Hopson
HHC, 1st Bn., 507th PIR

SSgt. Terry Cameron
CATD, NBC Branch

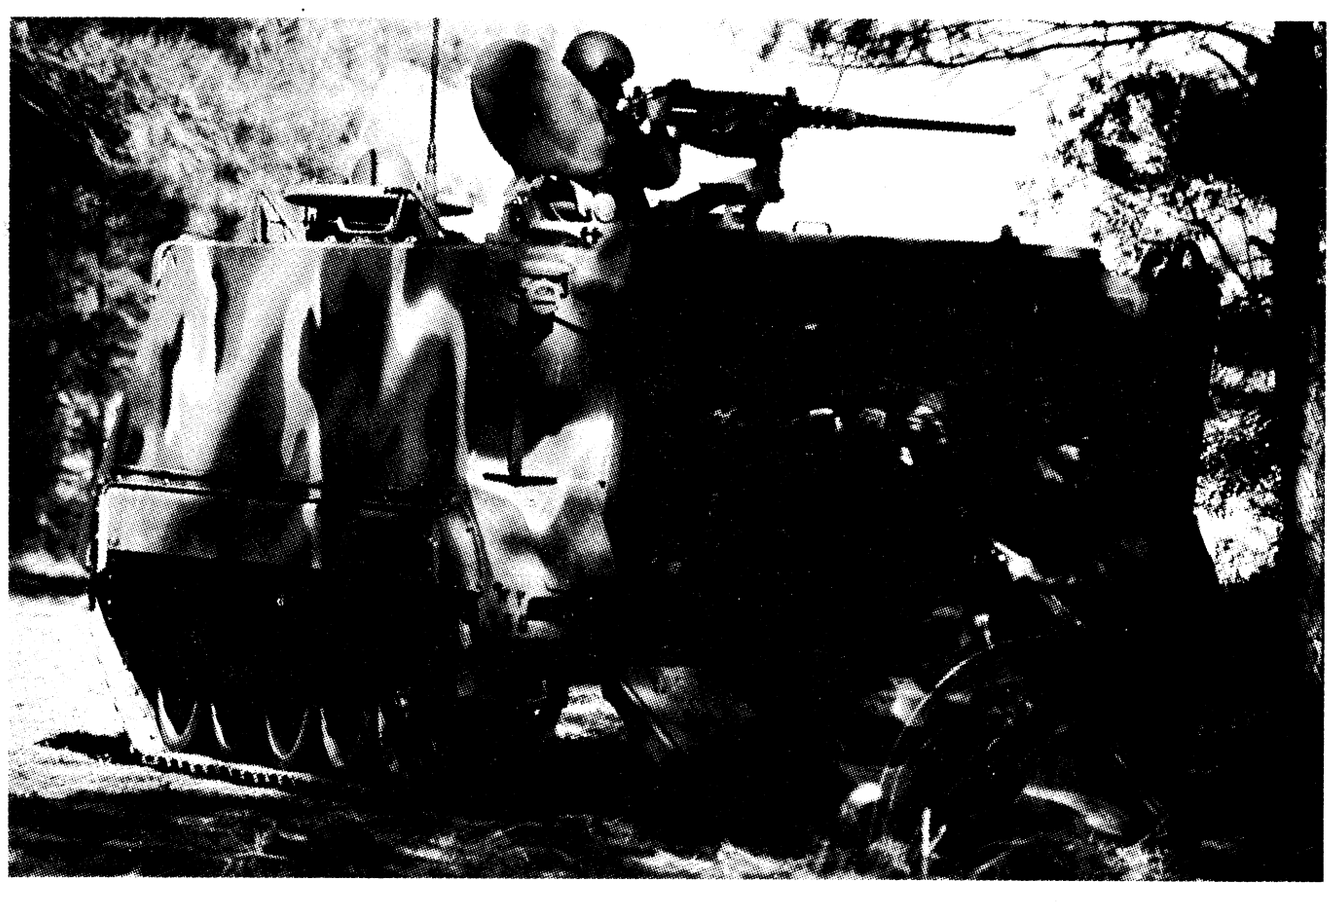
The Linen Outlet
FIRST QUALITY DRAPES
REG. $20.99-$106.99
Now 15% Off
OFFER ENDS 4-15-89
Open Mon.-Sat.10-6
2211 Wynnton Rd.
323-9211

United Services Life Companies
Investments-Life Insurance-Financial Planning
Jim Cotty
4034 Windtree Lane
568-7280
Lawrence P. Fulton, CLU
LTC US ARMY (RET)
596-8033
The Professionals!
United Services Life Companies
United Services Life Insurance Co.
United Services Equities, Inc.
Members of USLICO Corporation
Investment products distributed by USLICO Securities Corp., Arlington, VA.

DISCOUNTED AIR LINE TICKETS
30%-70% OFF
DOMESTIC/INTERNATIONAL
*Subject to availability and restrictions imposed by airlines.
TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
4393 VICTORY DRIVE
ARCCO PLACE
COLUMBUS, GA.
689-3092
FT. BENNING MAIN POST
EXIT 1
VICTORY DRIVE
SAND HILL
Arcco
Travel World
Arcco Place

Econo Self Storage
4483 Victory Drive
404-682-3803
FORT BENNING
Econo Self-Storage
Fort Benning Blvd.
By-Pass
Victory Drive
FORT BENNING
UNIT SIZES AVAILABLE
Lockers 5(W) x 5(D) x 4(H)
5x10 10x10 $20 up 5x5 10x20
FOR THE MILITARY
Storage while TDY
Foot locker storage
Motorcycles
Boats
Personal effects
Bivouac
Permanent party storage
Call Now to Reserve Your Space
For Your Business or Family Items—Short or Long Term

INCOME TAX
Open: M-F 8AM-8PM, Sat. 8AM-5PM, Sun. 1PM-5PM
Drop Off or One Stop Service Available
All States Prepared (1982-1988)
Open Al Year
Military Welcome
Rates Starting at $15.00
STEVE BROWN
NOW LOCATED IN
ARCCO PLACE
4393 Victory Dr.
689-7734



SAVE MODERN TV & APPLIANCE SAVE
GE 25" CONSOLE
COLOR CONSOLE
LOW DOWN PAYMENT
Model 8-2503
• Automatic Fine Tuning
• 110° COTY Picture Tube
• Automatic Color Tracking
QUIK CREDIT
ZENITH
20" diagonal Color TV
SAVE
Model SS2023W
• With Remote Control
• Vertical space-saving design
• Eastern Walnut color finish
E Z TERMS
QUIK N' E-Z
QUIK CREDIT
E-Z TERMS
MOVIES
AS LOW AS 99¢ Per Day
Over 800 Titles to Choose From
No Membership Fee
matching
home laundry pair
LARGE CAPACITY WASHER!
PERMANENT PRESS CYCLES
HOTPOINT SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR YOUR MONEY BACK!
WASHER Model WLW 1500B
DRYER Model DLB 1550B
SAVE ON THE PAIR
FREE DELIVERY
large capacity
refrigerator
Hotpoint
17.7 Cu. ft. no-frost refrigerator Adjustable split-level shelves Equipped for optional icemaker
Model CTX18E
FREE SERVICE
BANK FINANCING
HRS: 9AM-6PM MON-SAT
MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
You Don't Need A Lot Of Money, Just A Little Bit A Month
2039 FT BENNING ROAD
INSTANT CREDIT
687-8249 /682-1341

Don't waste your military experience.

Guard it.

It took you years of study and hard work to master a military skill. So, why throw that experience away?

Instead, lend your know-how to your hometown Army National Guard. Spend one weekend a month and two weeks a year protecting your community and country.

And in return, you'll get a good paycheck, plus many of the military benefits you've enjoyed as a full-time soldier.

For more information, see your local in-service recruiter or unit re-enlistment NCO.

And find out how your military experience will pay off in your hometown Army Guard.

© 1985 UNITED STATES GOVERNMENT AS REPRESENTED BY THE SECRETARY OF DEFENSE ALL RIGHTS RESERVED

ARMY
National Guard

A1BNGIO3049PS

Army National Guard

Americans At Their Best.

SPORTS

Mountain Ranger Run to be held April 29 in Dahlonega

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The annual Mountain Ranger Run will be held at North Georgia College, Dahlonega, April 29.

The course follows a scenic and hilly loop through the college campus and surrounding community.

The event, which is open to both civilians and servicemembers, starts at 10 a.m. for a 1-mile fun run and 10:30 a.m. for a 5-mile run.

A pre-registration fee of $3 for the 1-mile run and $6 for the 5-mile run must be received no later than April 15.

Late registration for the 5-mile run will cost $8.

All registered finishers in the 5-mile run will receive a T-shirt. Certificates will be awarded to all runners in the 1-mile fun run.

Trophies will be awarded to the first three overall men and the first three women to finish the 5-mile run.

The run will be held rain or shine.

For more information, call Capt. Billy M. Blackwell, (404) 864-3367, extension 37.

WHAT: Mountain Ranger Run
WHEN: April 29. 1-mile Fun Run begins at 10 a.m.; 5-mile Ranger Run starts at 10:30 a.m.
WHERE: North Georgia College campus, Dahlonega, Ga.
REGISTRATION: $6 for ranger run before April 15 ($8 after April 15). $3 for one-mile fun run.
POINT OF CONTACT: Capt. Billy M. Blackwell at (404) 864-3367, ext. 37.

Golfers square off at night

Ann M. McDonald
Frank Smith putts on the practice green.

By Ron Allen
USAIC Public Affairs Office

Golfers squared off in a unique nighttime golf tournament Thursday at the Follow Me Golf Course.

According to Greg Dougherty, co-coordinator for the tournament, the event was a first of its type held in the Columbus area.

Starting times were 7:30 p.m. and 9 p.m. for the four-man Lauderdale, nine hole competition.

In order for the golfers to play, glow-in-the-dark golf balls were used.

Sonny Stephens, Tom Duckworth, Milton Sanders and Mike Sanders teamed up for first with a 6 under par. They were trailed closely by two teams at 5 under.

Following a tie-breaker formula, John Shinkle, John Walden, Wade Buford and Fred Miller took second and Phil Cook, Leon Cook, Rusty Rustin and Neil Dougherty placed third.

"The tournament was held to benefit the Area 10 Georgia Special Olympics," Dougherty said. "Sixty-eight golfers played in the tournament that netted $2,600 for the Special Olympics."

According to Susan Cureton, the publicity chairman for Area 10, plans are already being made to hold the tournament again next year.

USAMU shooters score victories

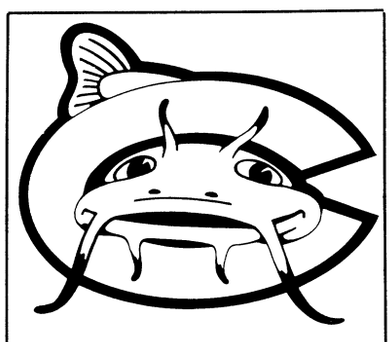
U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit

Soldiers from the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit scored both individual and team victories in rifle and pistol competition recently.

Spec. Timothy Jackson defeated more than 100 participants in high-power rifle matches held recently at Camp Lejune, N.C.

Jackson scored a total of 786 out of 800 points and finished eight points ahead of teammate and runner-up, Sgt. Eric Uptagrafft, who had a score of 778.

Placing third in the individual championships was SFC Bruce Gilbreath with 777 points.

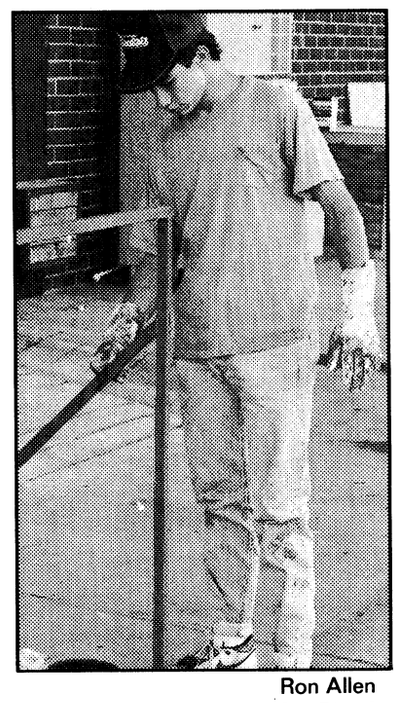


The U.S. Army "Blue" squad swept all team events and members included SFC Gilbreath, SFC Terry Duling, SSgt. Lewis Silvis and Spec. Vincent Greiner. The winning coach of the Army team was SFC Richard Wyckstandt.

In pistol action, USAMU's MSgt. Roger Willis scored a near personal high to capture the individual honors during this year's championships held in Pensacola, Fla.

Willis posted a total of 2,659 out of 2,700 points to finish well ahead of the second-place finisher, SFC Ronald Hale, who had a total of 2,621.

Rounding out the top three places was SSgt. Gary Marsh, who finished with 2,618.



In team events, the U.S. Army squad dominated the competition by winning all three matches. Winning team members included Willis, Hale, Marsh and SSgt. Charles Croley.

Columbus Mud Cats April schedule

7	Memphis
8	Memphis
9	Memphis
10	Memphis
11	Huntsville
12	Huntsville
13	Huntsville
14	Huntsville
15	Memphis
16	Memphis (DH)
17	Memphis
18	Off
19	Huntsville
20	Huntsville
21	Huntsville
22	Huntsville
23	Charlotte
24	Charlotte
25	Charlotte
26	Charlotte
27	Knoxville
28	Knoxville
29	Knoxville
30	Knoxville

Home games in bold
DH - doubleheader

Ron Allen
Bill Moran paints the Mud Cats' batting cage.

Mud Cats offer pro baseball in Columbus

By Ron Allen
USAIC Public Affairs Office

No one in this office ever goes anywhere. Well, I did once, but that was for the Advanced Noncommissioned Officer Course in Indiana. On my way there while passing through Columbus, I had this idea that maybe soldiers would like to read about things to do off post.

The editor wasn't sure that was such a great idea but reluctantly went along. It took a while to gather information on Columbus and the many activities in and around the area. Then I had to decide what to cover first.

My choice — the "Mud Cats."

Why cover fish? You may ask. Well, it's not really fish but a professional baseball team.

That's right, professional baseball right here in Columbus.

The Cats will open the season tonight against the Memphis Chicks and play them again on Saturday. Gates open at 6 p.m., and play begins at 7:30 p.m.

Also, Saturday is "Pennant Night." The first 2,000 fans through the gate will get a free pennant, and the Fort Benning Silver Wings will jump in with the game ball.

The military can even get a break on tickets from the Mud Cat organization. It's $1.50 for general admission and $3 for box seats — that's with a military identification card.

Soldiers can also get a break on souvenirs at the souvenir stand located in front of the main PX until April 17.

For those of you who already knew there was a professional baseball team in Columbus, the Mud Cats are not a new team. The Columbus Astros changed their name.

Well, maybe that's not entirely true. According to Marty Steele, the marketing and promotional director of the Mud Cats, not only does the team have a new name but they are "new and improved."

First off, the team has a host of new pitchers, including right-hand hurlers Sam August, Ryan Bowen, and Rich Simon along with left-handers Guy Normand, Joel Estes and Jim Van Houten. These players are all coming from Class A Osceola to help give the Mud Cats a strong pitching staff.

Returning players include first baseman, Jose Tolentino. His timely hitting helped lead Columbus to a 43-29 second half record last season. Also returning are Todd Credeur and Tom Funk, providing strong left-handed pitching.

Two more holdovers who could add depth to a potentially strong pitching staff are Dave Potts and Jose Vargas.

Mike Simms, who slammed 16 home runs and drove in 73 RBIs last season at Osceola and 39 home runs and 100 RBIs at Asheville in 1987, should see action at first base, and Eric Anthony, who led the Gulf Coast League with 10 home runs in 1987 and nailed 29 home runs last year in Class A Asheville, should be in right field.

The real Mud Cat threat may be several speedsters they are likely to add from the 1988 Osceola team that led the Florida State League with over 350 stolen bases. Second baseman Lou Fraziere and outfielder Karl Rhodes finished first and second in that league with 87 and 64 steals respectively.

This year, Columbus may gain an Olympic flavor as the 1988 number one draftee Dave Silvestri and Scott Servais, both members of the gold-winning 1988 U.S. Olympic baseball team progress through the farm system.

The park where the team plays its home games, Golden Park, is getting a face lift. The general admission seats are getting fresh paint, grounds work is being done, the rest rooms are being redone and the stands are receiving an extensive cleaning.

The concession and souvenir stands have also been upgraded and renamed. The concession stand is named "The Bait Shop" and the souvenir stand is the "Tackle Box."

"The park is actually owned by the city," Steele said. "They've been extremely helpful in getting it ready."

Tonight will decide who gets the "President's Trophy." This trophy is given by the league president for most attendance on opening night. So, show up early for all the action.

Go Cats go!

SPORTS SHORTS

Benning Biathlon Saturday at 8 a.m.

The Fort Benning Biathlon gets underway Saturday at 8 a.m. in front of Building 4. A separate 5-mile run begins at 8:30 a.m.

For information, contact Robert Alexander at 544-4659 or Greg Smith 544-3954.

Cruise-A-Matics crush Pensacola

The Fort Benning-Columbus Cruise-A-Matics crushed Pensacola Naval Base 21-7 in the championship game at the U.S.A. Rugby East Military Championships played on Blue Field April 1 through 2.

The win guarantees the team a spot in the National Military Tournament in May at Wright-Patterson Air Force Base in Dayton, Ohio.

"The team played fantastic this weekend," said Meiron Isaac, team coach.

"Our most valuable player, Mark Irwin, played exceptionally well, and he scored all twenty-one points in the final game."

USAIC track & field meet April 20-21

The 1989 Spring Track and Field Meet will be conducted April 20 through 21 at Doughboy Stadium. Active duty military personnel assigned or attached to Fort Benning are eligible to participate.

Track events for males include: 120-yard high hurdles, 440-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 440-yard relay, 1-mile run, 880-yard run and the 1-mile relay. Track events for females are the 440-yard dash, the 100-yard dash, the 180-yard low hurdle, the 1-mile run, and the 880-yard run.

Field events for men are the pole vault; shot put; long, high and triple jumps. Field events for women are the shot put and long, high and triple jumps.

Each major command may enter one team in each relay. An individual may not enter more than three events exclusive of the relays.

Applications are available at the Sports Office or at any gym on post and should be submitted to the Physical Activities Sports Branch, building 394 (Doughboy Stadium), no later than 3 p.m., April 11.

For more information, call the Sports Office at 545-5777.

Register for Youth Activities baseball

Youth Activities Baseball/T-Ball registration ends today at the Youth Activities Center, building 1056, on McIver Street.

Registration is open to children, ages 5 to 15, of active duty or retired military personnel. First-time participants to the Youth Sports Program must present a birth certificate, identification card or passport.

The Sports Office opens for registration at 8 a.m. and closes at 4:30 p.m.

Baseball/T-Ball coaches are also needed.

Post tennis tourney set to begin May 5

The 1989 U. S. Army Infantry Center's Tennis Championship will be held May 5 through 12 at the Community Recreation Division's tennis courts on Anderson Street behind Theatre #2.

Brigade and battalion teams will consist of two male players in the Open Division, two in the Junior Veterans Division, one in the Senior Division, and two female players in the Women's Division (team total of seven).

Senior Division entrants must be 45 years of age or over and junior veteran entrants must be 35 to 44 years of age as of May 5.

All military personnel on active duty at Fort Benning are eligible to participate.

Entry forms are available at the Community Recreation Division gymnasiums and at the Physical Activities Office, building 394. Entry deadline is May 1.

Body builders will compete June 10

The sixth annual Mr. and Ms. Fort Benning body building contest will be held June 10 at Marshall Auditorium in Infantry Hall, building 4.

The Mr. Fort Benning contest is open to all active duty military men stationed at Fort Benning.

The Ms. Fort Benning competition is open to active duty military females, dependents of active duty, retirees, Department of Army , Non-appropriated Fund civilians and Army and Air Force Exchange Service employees.

Awards will be presented to first, second and third place winners as well as the best poser in both the men and women competition. Also, in the men's category, an award will be presented to the "Most Muscular" competitor.

For more information, call Speedy Austin at 545-4726.

Hash House Harriers plan April 15 run

Fort Benning-Columbus Hash House Harriers are planning a hash run April 15, at 6 p.m. The starting point is the parking lot at McBride Elementry School located on Custer Road.

Bring $4 and your own meat to barbecue. For more information call Ann McDonald or Betty Brandt at 689-3142.

Follow Me Course plans tournaments

The following tournaments are available at Benning's Follow Me Golf Course:

- April 15 through 16 — Spring Handicap (full handicap, flighted)
- May 20 — Blind Partner Handicap (combined net score)
- May 28 through 29 — Dixie Memorial Tournament (four-man, two best balls)
- June 17 through 18 — Bi-City Golf Tournament (gross event, flighted)

Golfers pay half-price greens fees Monday through Friday with cart rental from 1 p.m. until dark. Call 687-1940 for additional information.

Pot-O-Gold is $3,110

Fort Benning bowling centers' "Pot-O-Gold" cash bowling prize has reached $3,110. Bowlers must strike in certain frames to win the pot.

Call 545-4272 or 545-1949 for more information.

— Compiled from staff reports.

STANDINGS

VOLLEYBALL

CONSOLIDATED LEAGUE

1st Season Finals	W	L
HHC	7	0
498th Medical	5	3
MPA	3	2
MASH	4	3
Company B	2	4
690th Medical	1	5
HHD	0	5

THE SCHOOL BRIGADE

1st Season Finals	W	L
Co. A, Team 2	6	0
Band	4	2
TSB	3	3
Co. B, 1/11th Inf.	1	5
Co. A, Team 1	1	5

36th ENGINEERS

	W	L
598th #1	9	1
608th	8	2
586th	6	4
43rd Engineers	4	6
598th #2	3	7
215th	1	10

ATTENTION ALL
FORD & LINCOLN— MERCURY OWNERS

Ford MERCURY LINCOLN

Clip This Ad For Free Safety Check!!!

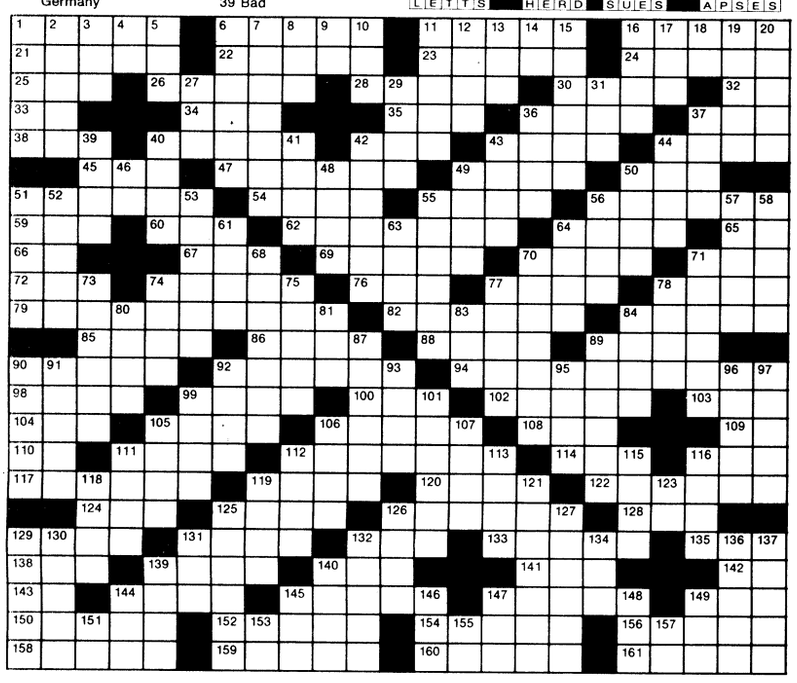
We Are Your Factory Authorized Dealer For All Ford Cars & Trucks!! Parts & Service!!!

GATEWAY
LINCOLN— MERCURY
Corner 3rd Ave. & 13th St.
Downtown 322-5575
SERVICE OPEN
Mon.-Fri. 7:30am-6pm

ENTERTAINMENT

PUZZLE

ACROSS



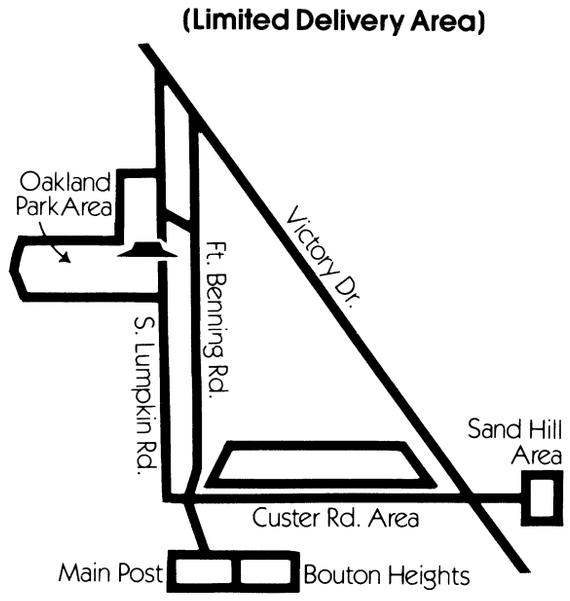
1 Shy
6 Freshet
11 Best Actress for "Two Women"
16 Attempts to overcome
21 Angry
22 Walks with measured steps
23 Gladden
24 Stadium
25 Lad
26 Space of time
28 Unadorned
30 Strong wind
32 Nickel symbol
33 — garde
34 Sched. abbr.
35 Military add.
36 Fifty per cent
37 Vandal
38 Grain
40 Intertwines
42 Three-toed sloths
43 Partner
44 Garment
45 Contend
47 Assuage
49 Peel
50 That woman
51 Steeples
54 Prophet
55 Ms. Winningham
56 Warmed
59 "Barney Miller" star
60 Church bench
62 Draws out
64 Damage
65 French article
66 Running
67 Uncooked
69 Narrates
70 Pitch
71 Edge
72 "Cheers" star
74 Doctrine
76 Command to dog
77 "— Radio"
78 Mother of Apollo
79 Rudimentary
82 "— Woman"
84 Blackbird
85 Not one
86 Abound
88 Tidy
89 Surfeit
90 Group of three
92 Composition
94 Victorious
98 Warmth
99 Insects
100 Haggard heroine
102 Apportion
103 Falsehood
104 Cloth measure
105 District in Germany
106 Make amends
108 Lamprey
109 Calcium symbol
110 Sun god
111 Mix
112 Make ready
114 Pigpen
116 Footlike part
117 Small embroidery hole
119 Couple
120 Ill-humor
122 Sarcasm
124 Short swim
125 Auction word
126 Folds
128 Fall behind
129 Merry
131 Army meal
132 — Wee Herman
133 Mother of pearl
135 Declare
138 Male sheep
139 Church part
140 Mothers
141 Extinct flightless bird
142 Concerning
143 Hebrew month
144 Mine vein
145 Henry of baseball
147 "— Dancing"
149 Be ill
150 Famed
152 Forgive
154 Pointless
156 "— Heart"
158 Evaporates
159 Questionable
160 Heavy volumes
161 Repasts

DOWN

1 Italian river
2 Lampoon
3 Producer Elaine
4 That thing
5 Condensed moisture
6 Enthusiasm
7 Mouth parts
8 High card
9 Tellurium symbol
10 "The sixth sense"
11 Jumps
12 Mixture
13 Kurosawa film
14 Spielberg alien
15 Nullify
16 Leg part
17 Native metal
18 Hebrew letter
19 Boredom
20 Susan — James
27 Chicken
29 Den
31 Tavern stock
36 Rabbit
37 William of "Body Heat"
39 Bad
40 Retain
41 Pintail duck
42 Eagles' nests
43 Planet
44 Juncture
46 Negative prefix
48 Animal coat
49 Strokes
50 At this place
51 Young hog
52 Jury list
53 Calm
55 Berle of comedy
56 Skein of wool
57 Type style
58 Monster
61 Need
63 Cut short
64 Pit
68 "Stormy —"
70 Perceptible by the touch
71 Disclose
73 Negation
74 Care for
75 Woody plants
77 Crown
78 Narrow strip of wood
80 Protective ditch
81 Affirmative
83 Permit
84 Transported with delight
87 Title of respect
89 Two-year-old salmons
90 At that place
91 Kind of foot race
92 Rend
93 "Little — of Horrors"
95 Rubber trees
96 Keener
97 Plague
99 Badger
101 Empower
105 Walk
106 Dry
107 Great Lake
111 Skidded
112 Cronies: colloq.
113 Verve
115 Ivy League university
116 "The Three Little —"
118 Kind of cheese
119 Attitude
121 Loosely woven cotton
123 Tantalum symbol
125 Cuts
126 Mexican currency
127 Tallies
129 — Ole Opry
130 — Day
131 Insane
132 Social gathering
134 Rodent
136 Fairy in "The Tempest"
137 Shouts
139 Bows
140 Servant
144 Remick of film
145 Drs. org.
146 Insect egg
147 Obstruct
148 Sweet potato
149 Mohammedan leader
151 Agave plant
153 Humperdinck ID
155 Negative
157 Neon symbol

LAST WEEK

E	S	T	O	P	■	T	A	L	C	■	A	D	I	T	■	S	E	T	A	E
S	T	I	L	E	S	■	A	R	A	L	■	D	I	E	D	■	R	E	T	U	R	N
S	A	N	D	A	L	S	■	C	R	E	A	M	E	R	■	B	E	R	A	T	E	D
E	G	G	■	T	O	T	E	■	D	A	V	I	T	■	F	R	E	E	■	O	N	E
D	E	L	L	■	T	A	R	A	■	N	E	T	■	P	A	I	D	■	B	R	A	D
■	S	E	E	M	■	B	O	L	D	E	R	■	R	I	N	G	■	P	I	E	S	■
■	■	D	E	E	D	■	S	T	A	R	T	L	I	N	G	■	S	A	N	D	■	■
M	A	■	S	E	E	S	■	O	R	■	S	I	T	E	■	P	I	T	S	■	L	B
A	L	P	■	K	E	P	T	■	T	O	■	M	U	■	A	R	M	S	■	F	A	R
S	E	L	F	■	M	E	A	N	E	R	■	B	A	M	B	O	O	■	A	R	I	A
S	C	A	R	F	■	C	R	U	D	E	■	S	L	Y	■	C	O	N	N	E	C	T
■	■	T	A	U	R	U	S	■	■	■	■	■	■	■	■	S	E	N	A	T	E	■
N	A	T	U	R	A	L	■	A	P	E	■	G	R	I	P	E	■	P	E	D	A	L
A	G	E	D	■	R	A	I	S	I	N	■	N	E	V	A	D	A	■	S	O	F	A
P	A	R	■	L	E	T	S	■	L	A	■	U	P	■	R	E	N	A	■	M	A	N
E	R	■	C	A	S	E	■	M	A	T	S	■	A	I	■	D	O	E	S	■	R	E
■	■	P	O	U	T	■	S	A	T	E	L	L	I	T	E	■	A	R	A	R	■	■
■	P	R	O	D	■	M	I	R	E	■	A	E	R	I	E	S	■	O	W	E	S	■
P	O	O	L	■	B	A	L	K	■	A	V	A	■	S	L	E	W	■	S	P	O	T
A	L	T	■	F	A	I	L	■	S	W	E	D	E	■	S	E	A	T	■	E	I	R
P	I	E	B	A	L	D	■	D	E	A	R	E	S	T	■	P	R	E	P	A	R	E
A	C	C	E	D	E	■	R	O	A	R	■	R	A	I	D	■	S	L	A	T	E	S
L	E	T	T	S	■	■	H	E	R	D	■	S	U	E	S	■	■	A	P	S	E	S



MOVIES

Today	Deepstar Six - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Beaches - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Nightmare on Elm Street - (R)	Main Post 9:30 p.m.
Saturday	True Believer - (R)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	My Stepmother is an Alien - (PG-13)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Who Framed Roger Rabbit? - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Mississippi Burning - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	The Lost Boys - (R)	Main Post 9:30 p.m.
	The Dead Pool - (R)	Main Post 11:30 p.m.
Sunday	Mississippi Burning - (R)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Hot To Trot - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Physical Evidence - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	True Believer - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Monday	Physical Evidence - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Mississippi Burning - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Gleaming the Cube - (PG-13)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Tuesday	Alien Nation - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	The Accused - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Wednesday	Crossing Delancey - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Mississippi Burning - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	The Accidental Tourist - (PG)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Thursday	Gleaming the Cube - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	My Stepmother is an Alien - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.

When It's Gotta Be Hot, It's Just Gotta Be

Pizza Hut®

Expanded Delivery Service
In The S. Lumpkin Rd. Area,
Call 689-0202
(Limited Delivery Area)

CO9

Pizza Hut Delivers Pairs™
Everyday price. No coupon required.

	Medium	Large
Two Cheese Pizzas	$10.99	$13.99
Additional toppings cover both pizzas	$ 1.39	$ 1.79
Two Specialty Pizzas (Supreme, Meat Lover's®, Cheese Lover's™ or Bar-B-Q)	$13.99	$17.99
Two Super Supreme Pizzas	$14.99	$18.99

® and TM designate registered trademarks and trademarks of Pizza Hut, Inc.

Delivery also available in these areas:
(Limited Delivery Area)

Columbus Manchester Expressway/ Hamilton Rd. Area	322-5561
Macon Rd./I-85 Area	563-3171
Buena Vista Rd./Floyd Rd. Area	563-3486
Phenix City Area	297-1266
Americus Area	924-3997

Delivery Available:
Monday through Friday beginning at 4:00 P.M.
Saturday and Sunday beginning at 11:00 A.M.

Medium Cheese Pan Pairs™
Save $1.00 off everyday low Pairs™ price.
Offer good through 5/21/89. Good at participating Pizza Hut® outlets. Not valid in combination with any other Pizza Hut® offer. Pairs is a trademark of Pizza Hut, Inc. 1/20th cent cash redemption value. Limited delivery area. ©1989 Pizza Hut, Inc.
34

Medium Supreme Pan Pairs™
Save $1.00 off everyday low Pairs™ price.
Offer good through 5/21/89. Good at participating Pizza Hut® outlets. Not valid in combination with any other Pizza Hut® offer. Pairs is a trademark of Pizza Hut, Inc. 1/20th cent cash redemption value. Limited delivery area. ©1989 Pizza Hut, Inc.
32

Any Large Three or More Topping Pizza
$2.00 OFF
Offer good through 5/21/89. Good at participating Pizza Hut® outlets. Not valid in combination with any other Pizza Hut® offer including Pizza Hut® Pairs™. Pairs is a trademark of Pizza Hut, Inc. 1/20th cent cash redemption value. Limited delivery area. ©1989 Pizza Hut, Inc.
10
Carryout, Dine-In

Jilly's
THE PLACE FOR RIBS
RESTAURANT & LOUNGE
● MONDAY NIGHT SPECIAL
Full Rib Dinner Reg. $8.95
ONLY $7.89
● THURSDAY NIGHT SPECIAL
Two 8 Oz. Prime Roast Dinners Complete
ONLY $14.95
● HAPPY HOUR DAILY 4PM-7PM
● ENTERTAINMENT IN OUR LOUNGE
Featuring Chuck E. Leonard at the Piano Bar
Wednesday thru Saturday
● LATE NIGHT DINING TIL 11PM
FRIDAY AND SATURDAY
3747 Macon Rd. (½ mi. East of I-185 Exit 4) 563-7427

Western Sizzlin®
STEAK HOUSE
·SPECIAL·
Friday and Saturday all day
Two U.S.D.A. choice 8 oz. Top Sirloins, two soup-salad-hot food bars, two potatoes, two servings of hot bread, and two drinks.
$10.99
SIRLOIN DINNER FOR TWO
Macon Rd. near I-185
& Victory Dr. near I-185
Also in Opelika & LaGrange
MasterCard, Visa, and checks accepted.

CLASSIFIED Excitement!

322-4500

PUBLIC NOTICES 016

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

SGT'S CHICKEN HOUSE
4034 Cusseta Road. Spicy and Southern Fried Chicken. It's Good! Open 11-11. Light Lunch $1.60. All Military Welcome! Call 687-1944.

★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★ ★

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES 018

Childcare Service. Certified. A.M. Burgess, open 5am til 5:30 pm. Newborns, toddlers and up to 3 yrs. old. Will also accomodate people for all night duty or field time. For more information call 689-5300

PERSONALS 020

TROUBLED? Need to talk? Call CONTACT. We care. 24 hours. 327-3999

FISHING & HUNTING 034

LAND FOR LEASE Prime Deer Hunting in Webster County. 1400 +- acres or will divide. Call 912-828-7765 after 7pm.

APPLIANCE SALES 040

REFRIGERATOR, 22 cubic ft., $350. Call 568-7800.

SPRING SPECIALS
$65 & up. on refrig., ranges, W/D. Call 682-8717

CLOTHING 050

PROM DRESS, purple, w/cracked ice, size 5, also slip, $100. Call 297-6876

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

KING SIZED water bed, pedestal w/drawers, $250. Call 689-0415

3 PIECE Pit group sofa, tan color, $200. Call 687-3932.

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

5 PIECE Dinette set, $75; complete queen size bedroom suite, $550. 682-4512.

YARD SALES GA 060

FT. BENNING RD. Flea Market is open & going strong. 6 days a week. Come & see Don & Linda. 1628 Ft. Benning Rd.

HUGE Yard Sale, Sat, April 8th, 14232 Farmington Road, Ridgewood Estates. 563-4166/directions

YARD SALES GA 060

PCS Yard Sale, Saturday, 7-5. 516 Harris Cir, Ft. Benning. Carpet, furn., a/c

YARD SALE, Sat & Sun, 9-5, 3B Maryland Ct, off Arkansas

YARD SALE, 41 years of treasures 7 trash for you. tools (garden & hand), small applicances, fabrics, buttons, zippers, dishes, glasses, wonem's clothes, much misc. A sale for everyone, 1566 Dixon Dr, April 7 & 8, 8AM-5PM

MISC. FOR SALE 076

CAMPER shell, white, fits Ford Ranger 6ft bed, like new, $150. 596-8176 aft 6

Chest Freezer, $65; baby bed & matt, $70; golf clubs & bag, $35; couch, $30; 2 wood bed frames, $40ea. kero. heater, $35. 568-1950

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like for your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

CRAFTSMAN, electric weed eater, only 2 years old, excellent cond. Call 563-5331.

Kerosene heater $85, easy chair, $20 adding machine $20. $100 takes all. 687-4170

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS 078

TENOR SAX, good cond., $200. Call 568-7848 aft 6PM

PETS 122

AKC DOBERMAN PUPS 6 wks old, champion bloodline. 563-9565

AKC Golden Retriever pups, 7wks, $175 to $250. Call 628-5667 (Hamilton).

AKC Golden Retreiver Pups. Shots & wormed. $100. Call 205-749-7184

AKC ROTTWEILER PUPS Lg. boned, champ blood, shots & wormed. 561-2604

GREAT DANE puppies, AKC, gentle giants, 10 weeks. Call 322-1711.

8 WEEK OLD female beagle, no papers, $50. Call 687-4121

PETS-LOST & FOUND 127

FOUND domestic short-haired black & brown Tabby cat, male, young. Hit by car on Owsley Ave. 563-6101

HAVE YOU LOST YOUR PET? Please contact the Muscogee County Humane Society at 7133 Sacerdote Lane, off Schatulga Road.

YOU CAN HELP SAVE A PET
Call our 24-hour hotline for lost & found pets. 571-2060.

BLOOD PLASMA SAVES LIVES
$10 ea. DONATION
New Donors/ Or Inactive For 6 Months/ $5 Bonus with This Ad/ Plus $5 2nd Time Bonus Plus $750 Cash Drawing Monthly
Community Plasma Center 825 4th Ave. Columbus 322-6566

Train for careers in
•AIRLINES
•CRUISE LINES
•TRAVEL AGENCIES
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
A.C.T. TRAVEL SCHOOL
Nat'l hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

Train to be a Professional
•SECRETARY
•EXECUTIVE SEC.
•WORD PROCESSOR
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
THE HART SCHOOL
a Div. of A.C.T. Corp.
Nat'l hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

FREE COLUMN 130

FREE! Black chow mix & all white Husky mixed, & all mixed puppies. 989-3859

FREE! Female cat, 1 yr, spayed, to loving home. Chocolate, Savanah Brwn, 298-6602 aft 5PM

FREE MANURE & shavings for gardens. C Bar F Stables. 297-8032

FREE mixed breed puppy to a good home. Call 689-7575.

Free Pine Straw for the raking. Please call day, 563-8666; eve, 596-1266

FREE!! SIMMONS king sized water bed, free to anyone that can pick it up. Good cond. 327-3288

FREE to a country home or lg. yard. 3yr old part lab F, spayed. No small dogs or small children. 682-8749

GARDEN STAKES, short ones, 12 per person, 13th ST & 13 Ave, The Mattress Factory.

IT'S HERE: the '89-'90 Military Pages. Call 682-7185 for your free copy.

EMPLOYMENT INFORMATION 215

ATTENTION-HIRING! Directory of Government jobs-your area. $17,840-$69,485. Small refundable fee of $29.95 if not satisfied within 1 year. 1-602-838-8885. Ext. R2081

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

TRACTOR TRAILER DRIVERS

Needed for long distance operation. Must be at least 25 years old, with 1 year exp. & clean MVR. Man & wife teams welcome. Call 297-3505 or 1-800-999-2153 between 8AM & 5PM.

2 FEMALE OR MALE NCO's wanted for part-time rental work. Good earnings! Call Mr. Trest 689-4873.

SALES 226

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

SALESPEOPLE, male or female, military or civilian. Call 689-8337/8335, Photos Unlimited, Victory Drive next to Blimpie's.

SKILLS & TRADES 228

PERSONNEL CONCEPTS, INC.
Accepting Applications For
Labor, Packing, Assembly, Aluminum Mold Operators, and Screen Printing
For LONG & SHORT ASSIGNMENTS
Apply in person 9-10AM or 2-3PM only. 105 West 10th St. (Courtyard Level). NO FEE.
EOE

CHILD CARE 229

STATE Reg. child care in my home. Openings for 2 yrs. & older. 569-9376.

JOB WANTED 230

MATURE Reliable person will babysit & do light housekeeping in your home. Mon.-Fri., Call Merry 989-3680 (local).

THE HOME TEAM'S HIT PARADE

CORY & FRAZIER LOOMIS
568-0183/323-8371
MILITARY? Let your BAQ buy your home.
MOVING? Call about our moving allowance.
FIRST TIME BUYER? Get our info packet.
CALL US! WE WANT TO EARN YOUR BUSINESS.
- VA/FHA FINANCING ON THESE:
- 407 Henson Ave. 4BR/2BA $63,900
- 2419 Skylake Drive 3BR/2BA $61,900
- 545 Englewood Drive 3BR/2BA $65,000
- 3530 Howard Ave. 3BR/1BA $57,500

568-0183/323-8371
KENNON-PARKER, REALTORS

RESUME SERVICES 232

A BETTER JOB WINNING RESUME $9
up to executive presentations. Expert writing, typing, printing, updating.
...FREE CONSULTATION...
★ SAME DAY SERVICE ★
America's oldest & largest Professional Resume Svc.
327-2238
2520 Wynnton Rd. Ste. 4

UNFURNISHED APTS. GA 520

Edgewood area, 3BR triplex, cent h/a, carpet, appliances. Nice quiet area. $395 mo. 569-9460 lve. msge.

UNFURNISHED APTS. AL 521

FENCED Backyard 2BR 2BA, ground floor, quadplex, stove, ice, dishwasher, $395. 298-9857/298-6405

UNFURNISHED HOUSES GA 526

South Cols, 2BR, stove, frig, a/c, $295 mo - $225 dep. 2351 York Ave. 561-3571.

UNFURNISHED HOUSES AL 527

TWO BEDROOMS 1 bath, brick, central H&A, large lot, Smiths, AL. Close to school, post office and shopping center. $375/mo - sec. dep. 298-0140.

HOMES FOR SALE AL 614

QUIET COUNTRY home on 28 acres of beautiful rolling meadows and pines. In Ft. Mitchell just 17 min. from Columbus. Well-insulated 3 br home w/ central air. Also barn, mobile home, greenhouse, fruit trees and garden on property. Call 855-2498. Elbow room!

HOMES FOR SALE AL 614

★ ★ ★

AMERICAN HOME WEEK Feature Edition

In support of the Real Estate industry, the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Newspaper will publish an American Home Week Feature Edition on Sunday, April 30, 1989.

Included in this special section will be tips on service provided by REALTORS, as well as information on Home Improvements and Real Estate Financing.

The American Home Week Edition is an excellent opportunity for REALTORS, HOME BUILDERS, BANKS and any HOME RELATED SERVICES to advertise. Ad deadline is April 17, 1989.

For more information, call your Sales Representative today at 324-5526

★ ★ ★

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

★ ★ ★

AMERICAN HOME WEEK Feature Edition

In support of the Real Estate industry, the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Newspaper will publish an American Home Week Feature Edition on Sunday, April 30, 1989.

Included in this special section will be tips on service provided by REALTORS, as well as information on Home Improvements and Real Estate Financing.

The American Home Week Edition is an excellent opportunity for REALTORS, HOME BUILDERS, BANKS and any HOME RELATED SERVICES to advertise. Ad deadline is April 17, 1989.

For more information, call your Sales Representative today at 324-5526

★ ★ ★

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

AT CENTURY 21 576-5544 NEW HOMES LOW INTEREST RATES
$51,900 to $69,900, all homes 3BR, 2BA brick, greatrooms, fireplaces, separate dining rooms. Eat-in kitchens, separate laundry rm, landscaped, many, many extras.
ALLAN, 576-5544/576-4040
C-21, American Heritage

Best Buy In Neighborhood
At $49,995, 3 Br, 1 Ba, large den w/fireplace, garage, wired/vented/plumbing or easy conversion to 4 Br, 2 Ba, level/fenced yard, garden area, workshop & more. Call Mary V. Blackmon, 561-5909 or 322-6611.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like for your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

Farmington-Macon Rd. Area Reese Rd.-Hardaway High Schools
3 yr old, custom built, energy eff, 3BR 3BA home, 2700 sq. ft. lg master bath, lg fam. rm w/fp, separate LR, DR, kitchen, breakfast rm, laundry, beaut. landscaped yard, private cedar-fenced back yard, greenhouse, 2 car garage, storage rm, many extras. $122,000. Call 568-6353

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

FOX CHAPEL SUPER SPACE B-LO MARKET
2600 sq.ft. heated. 4BR, 3 full BA; Dining, Sunken Living Rm, Den w/custom F.P., Bulit-In & Deck access; Lg. Family Rm., full-appliance Kitch. w/Bfst area; Laundry Rm, Lg. Closets, Pantry, Linen; Attic w/fl; 2 Garages. Approx 3500 sq.ft usable space under one roof. New A/C in 1987. ½+ acre lot. Sound, 15yr. home. Needs some cosmetic attention. Owner ensures all systems. $5k to $19K below market at $102,500. Low A.R.M. assumable w/fix. rate option. No yard sign. Call to see:
323-8580

Publisher's Notice

All real estate advertised in this newspaper is subject to the Federal Fair, Housing Act which makes it illegal to advertise "any preference, limitation, or discrimination based on race, color, religion, handicap, family status, or national origin or an intention to make any such preference, limitation or discrimination.

This newspaper will not knowingly accept any advertising for real estate which is in violation of the law. Our readers are hereby informed that all dwellings advertised in this newspaper are available on an equal opportunity basis.

To complain of discrimination, call HUD toll free at 1-800-424-8590.

Don't Spend Hours Shopping The Aisles For Bargains Shop Our Pages First It Pays!
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

Bayonet Classified Index

CALL TOLL-FREE IN GEORGIA
1-800-282-7859

CALL TOLL-FREE OUTSIDE GEORGIA
1-800-241-7894

HOURS:
MONDAY - THURSDAY
8:30AM - 7:00PM
FRIDAY
8:30AM - 5:30PM

If you would like for your ad to appear in the next day's edition, please call BEFORE 5:30pm.

LEDGER-ENQUIRER CLASSIFIEDS
"There's something in it for you"
322-4500

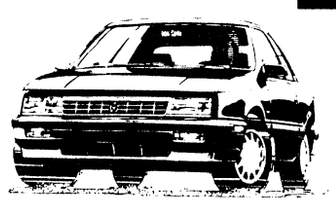
Please check your advertisement the first day it appears in the newspaper. If you need to make corrections, simply call one of our Classified Advertising Representatives as soon as possible. Please call on the first day your ad appears, as the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer cannot be held responsible for errors beyond the first insertion date. We will be happy to see to it that your ad appears correctly in the next scheduled insertion in the Ledger-Enquirer.

Listed below are local telephone exchanges for the Columbus/Phenix City area. These do not require an area code if you live within the area. If the number is long distance, then the advertisement will list the area code.

ALABAMA
291 Phenix City
297 Phenix City
298 Phenix City
855 Phenix City/ Smiths/Seale
GEORGIA
322 Columbus
323 Columbus
324 Columbus
327 Columbus
561 Columbus
563 Columbus
568 Columbus
569 Columbus
571 Columbus
576 Columbus
596 Columbus
649 Columbus
682 Columbus
685 Columbus
687 Columbus
689 Columbus

INDEX OF CLASSIFICATIONS

A1 Air Cond., Heating
A2 Appliance Repair
A3 Architecture & Drafting
A4 Auto Care
B1 Brickwork, Masonry
B2 Buildings, Contractors
C1 Carpentry, General Repairs
C2 Catering, Food Service
C3 Cleaning Service
C4 Clock & Watch Repair
C5 Concrete, Driveways
C6 Carpet
C7 Child Care
E1 Electrical
E2 Energy Saving Products
F1 Fencing
F2 Floor Sanding
F3 Furniture
G1 Grading, Backhoe
G2 Gravel, Sand, Topsoil
G3 Gutters, Downspouts
H1 Handyman
H2 Hauling
H3 Home Improvement
I1 Insulation
L1 Lawn & Garden
L2 Lawn Mower Repair
M1 Misc. Services
P1 Painting, Wallpapering
P2 Plumbing
P3 Protection Services
P4 Photo Services
R1 TV, Stereo, Video Service
R2 Remodeling
R3 Roofing
S1 Screens, Storm Windows
S2 Sewing, Alterations
S3 Sheetrock, Drywall
S4 Signs
S5 Swimming Pools
S6 Sewing Machine Repairs
S7 Storage
S8 Small Engine Repair
T1 Tree Stump Removal
U1 Upholstery
V1 Vacuum Cleaner Service
V2 Video Taping
W1 Welding
Y1 Yardwork
Y2 Yard Equip. Rental



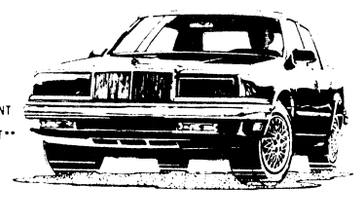
000 Legal Notices
001 Funeral Notices
002 Funeral Homes
003 Memorial Notices
004 Cards of Thanks
007 Cemeteries/ Monuments
010 Cemetery Lots
012 Lodge Notices
016 Public Notices
018 Professional Services
020 Personals
021 Only Hearts
022 Happy Ads
024 Items of Interest
028 Vacation & Tourist Information
034 Fishing & Hunting
036 Antiques
038 Air Cond./Heaters
040 Appliance Sales
042 Auctions
044 Building Materials
045 Bicycles
046 Camera/Photo
048 Camping Equipment
049 Christmas Trees
050 Clothing
052 Computers & Equip.
054 Firewood
056 Firearms
058 Furniture for Sale
059 Yard Sales - AL
060 Yard Sales - GA
061 Collectibles Buy/Sell
064 Sports Equip. & Supplies
066 Outdoor Equip.
068 Jewelry
070 Machinery, Tools
072 Heavy Equipment
074 Medical Supplies
076 Misc. for Sale
077 Lost & Found Items
078 Musical Instruments
080 Office & Store Equip.
081 Restaurant Equipment
082 Pawn Shops
084 Power Tools
086 Equipment Rental
088 Sewing Machines
092 Swimming Pools & Supplies
096 TV-Video-Stereo Sales
098 Merchandise Wanted
110 Livestock
112 Livestock Supplies
114 Poultry
116 Poultry Supplies
118 Hay-Feed-Grain
120 Farm Equipment
122 Pets
124 Pet Supplies & Services
126 Pet Boarding & Grooming
127 Pets-Lost & Found
128 Pets Wanted
130 Free Column
132 Fruits & Vegetables
134 Lawn & Garden
136 Lawn Mowers & Equip.
138 Plants, Shrubs, Trees
140 Landscaping, Nursery
142 Wanted to Buy
210 Management Employment
212 Restaurants & Clubs
214 Employment Agencies
215 Employment Information
216 Help Wanted General
218 Help Wanted Part-Time
219 Domestic Help Wanted
220 Medical/Dental
222 Office/Clerical
223 Data Entry
224 Professional Employment
225 Technical
226 Sales
228 Skills & Trades
229 Child Care
230 Job Wanted
232 Resume Services
234 Job Listings
310 Medical Training
312 Clerical Training
314 Beauty & Barber Schools
316 Dancing, Music, Drama
318 Modeling
320 Correspondence Schools
322 Real Estate Schools
324 Trade Schools
328 Misc. Instructions
330 Colleges
410 Business Opportunities
412 Investments
414 Money to Lend
415 Credit
416 Wanted to Borrow
510 Rentals
512 Rooms
514 Room & Board
516 Share Home
518 Furnished Apts. GA
519 Furnished Apts. AL
520 Unfurnished Apts. GA
521 Unfurnished Apts. AL
522 Cottages
524 Furnished Houses GA
525 Furnished Houses AL
526 Unfurnished. Houses GA
527 Unfurnished Houses AL
528 Business Rentals
529 Office Rentals
530 Wanted to Rent
532 Property for Rent
534 Resort Rentals
536 Storage Rentals
610 Property
612 Townhouses & Condos
614 Homes For Sale AL
616 Homes For Sale GA
618 Real Estate Wanted
620 Commercial Property
622 Income Property
624 Investment Property
626 Lots For Sale
628 Backwater Property GA
629 Backwater Property AL
630 Lake Front Lots
632 Resort & Vacation Property
634 Out of Town Realty
636 Farms & Acreage
638 Real Estate Auction
640 Wanted to Buy
710 Mobile Homes For Sale
714 Mobile Homes For Rent
716 Mobile Home Lots For Rent
718 Mobile Home Lots For Sale
720 Mobile Homes Wanted
724 Mobile Home Service
726 Mobile Units
810 Boats
812 Canoes & Sailboats
813 Personal Watercrafts
814 Marine Service & Supplies
816 Boats Wanted
818 Motor Homes For Sale
820 Campers & Trailers
824 Camping Supplies & Equipment
826 RV Supplies & Service
828 Motorcycles For Sale
830 Mini-Bikes
832 Dunebuggies For Sale
834 Scooters, Go-Carts
836 Wanted to Buy
910 Airplanes
912 Tractors & Trailers
914 Trucks
916 Truck Service, Parts, Acc.
918 Truck Rental, Leasing
920 Trucks Wanted
922 Buses/Vans For Sale
924 Jeeps For Sale
926 Auto Service Parts, Acc.
928 Auto Insurance / Financing
930 Autos For Sale
932 Sports Cars For Sale
934 Classic & Antique Autos
936 Imported Autos
938 Auto Rental/Leasing
940 Autos Wanted

GREAT DEALS ONE TIME.

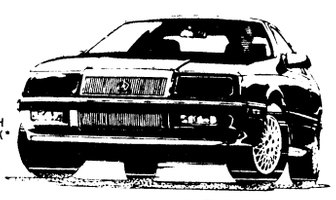
At Carl Gregory Chrysler-Plymouth

0% A.P.R. ★★★ or up to $2000 FACTORY CASH BACK!!

PLYMOUTH SUNDANCE
$8,395† -750 CASH BACK* = $7645



PLYMOUTH HORIZON AMERICA
$6,595† -500 CASH BACK* = $6095



Plus

CHRYSLER NEW YORKER
$1000 CASH BACK* + $850 EQUIPMENT PACKAGE DISCOUNT = $1850 TOTAL SAVINGS

CHRYSLER LeBARON COUPE
$11,495† -750 CASH BACK* = $10,745

COLT IMPORTED FOR PLYMOUTH
$6,678† -500 FACTORY CASH BACK* = $6,178

PLYMOUTH VOYAGER
$11,312†
PLUS SAVE $340 ON TURBO ENGINE DISCOUNT

One time is all you need to get up to $2000 cash back or 0% interest plus special discounts on hot option packages.

*Choose your new car from stock at your local Chrysler-Plymouth dealer and get these big cash back savings. The savings on Horizon and Sundance from new dealer stock. The equipment packages are based on the sticker prices of the options, if they were purchased separately. Annual Percentage Rate financing for qualified buyers through Chrysler Credit Corp. Other rates offered as contract length varies. †The prices shown above are base sticker prices, excluding title, taxes, destination charges and optional equipment packages.

ONE TIME IS ALL WE NEED TO DO YOU RIGHT.
CHRYSLER Plymouth

"Try Us—You'll Like Us"
CARL GREGORY
CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH-SAAB
1800 Box Road Columbus
568-4900
Exit 4 I-185

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

By Owner, Peppertree, 3 br, 2 ba, greatrm w/ FP, DR, kitchen w/ bay window, garage, very nice, conv. to Benning. Open House, 2-5 Sunday. 322-3717

GREAT STARTER HOME NEAR BENNING
3BR, 1BA, large fenced yard, front/back. Walking distance to elementary, Jr. and high schools, $39,000 VA. Call Mary V. Blackmon 561-5909 or 322-6611/Agent.

South Columbus-VA nothing down. Immaculate 3BR house. We have the keys. Call Ann Hart 682-1718 or Harris 687-9711/Agent.

MOBILE HOMES FOR SALE 710

$499 down, fast closing, owner finance, $260/mo. '86, 3BR 2BA, set up, 855-3486.

MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT 714

NICE 2BR, washer/dryer, central heat, Furnished, a/c. 561-8684/689-8646

1,2 & 3br elec/gas on, near schools & post. 1314 Ft. Benning Rd. 9-5, 689-0453

2BR mobile home, furnished, nice carpet, ac, convenient to Kelly Hill Exit. $225 mo. 989-3270.

BOATS 810

CARVELLE 1989, 15ft, 165hp Merc., custom trailor, all safety/ski equip. included. $10,600 neg. 576-4126

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

EMERGENCY SALE
We Have To Move Over 200 Motorcycles At Once!

UP TO $1000 REBATES ON SELECTED MODELS

No Reasonable Offer Will Be Refused!

1988 Honda Interceptor $494.39 Dn $104.19 Mo.
All Hondas on sale at super discount prices! We finance E-1s & up and civilians with a job. Bank rate financing on all loans.
Honda Come Ride With Us
Open Mon-Fri, 9-6PM
Saturday, 9-3PM
TOMMY WAGES HONDA
Corner 18th St & 4th Ave
322-7328

HONDA Shadow 500 '85, 3,000 miles, $1200. Call 568-7419.

'81 HONDA Goldwing, Lots of extras, garaged, $2000. Call 561-3005 or see today inside Cols. Square Mall.

'82 HUSQUVARNA
6 sp, 430 XC. $500
Call 576-4141

'82 Yamaha 750cc Seca, full dressed, $700. Day, 298-8709; eve, 297-1330

'88 NINJA 600R
Excellent condition. $3,000 or best offer. 689-6407

TRUCKS 914

TOYOTA Pick Up '78, with camper shell, $1,000. Call 568-7800.

Toyota 4x4 '88, 22,000 mi, ps, a/c, am/fm cass., good cond. 682-7326 8am-5pm

'78 DODGE, SB, HD, auto., $1100. '70 Ranchero, $800. Call 324-0069.

'84 F-150 FORD, 6 cyl., 4 sp., $3600. Call 327-5954

BUSES/VANS FOR SALE 922

CHEVY Conversion Van, '85, 1 owner, loaded, like new, 35,000 mi. Will trade 298-5114, aft 7, 596-0987.

TOYOTA VAN '86, 7 pass, dual air, am/fm cass, low miles, $7200. 291-1870

Volkswagon 7 passenger Vanegan, '82, 92,000 mi, good cond, $2100. Call 297-1183.

'85 DODGE Conversion van, loaded, dual air, 23,000 mi. $9150. Call 298-2294

JEEPS FOR SALE 924

'88 JEEP Cherokee limited, 4x4, power everything, leather int., remote door opener, 13,000 mi., $19,000. 568-4565.

AUTO SERVICE PARTS, ACC 926

PONTIAC Grand Prix, '77, w/t-tops, will sell for parts $200; also Chevy 350 auto trans, w/tc, $150. 685-0925

AUTO INSURANCE FINANCING 928

Military & civilians residing in Alabama. Call or see us for your insurance needs. Serving area since 1960.
PITTS-DAVIS INS.
298-2500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

Beretta GT '88, warranty transferable. Make offer. Call 563-9389

CADILLAC ELDORADO '76, 36,000 actual miles, like new. 324-4266

Celica GT-S, '84, power pak; Graduation, must see! $5395. 322-6926, Joe or 563-6497 leave mess.

CHEVETTE '83 white, air, 4 door, good cond., $1200. Call 687-0935 after 4pm.

CHEVY CAMARO, '76, 2DR, 4SP, a/c, good shape, $1800. Call 322-7107

CHEVY Nova '70, 2 dr, fresh built 350 4 bolt main engine, Muncie 4 sp. transmission. Good interior. Primer paint. Rally sport rims. $1950. 576-4145.

Cimarron, '85, 4DR, loaded, low miles, $600 dn, $188/mo. 689-7176, 687-4568.

CUTLASS Calais '84, fully loaded, V8, $5750. Call 568-7782.

Cutlass Supreme Brougham '86, V/8, all pwr options, pwr sunroof $7900. 576-4367

FIREBIRD '84, ps, pb, t-tops. In great condition! Call 561-8047 or 561-2840.

FORD FAIRMONT '80, 4dr, 6-cyl. Runs - $500/neg. Call 568-3089 after 4:30pm.

FORD FAIRMONT Wagon '78, 1 owner, new engine, runs well, $1000. 297-4206

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like for your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

FOR SALE '81 Crown Victoria, 1 owner, clean, $2500. Call 563-2118.

GRAND LE-MANS '81 Pontiac, loaded, auto, $3500. Really sharp!! 561-4516

LIKE NEW 1 owner, '82 Mustang, 6 cylinder., all options. Lady driven. 11,000 mi., $4995. 297-1025.

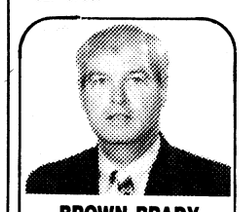
LIKE NEW! 87 Turbo Conquest, low miles, $21,000 new, must sell $12,000, or best offer. 327-4829

MAZDA RX7 '80, a/c, am/fm cassette, 5 sp., 70,000m, $3100. 561-4914 after 5pm.

MAZDA RX 7, '80, sunroof, air, 5 sp, silver w/black trim. $3500/offer. 1-846-8330 after 6 p.m.

MONTE CARLO, '84, V-6, a/c, ps, orig. owner, $3995. Call 322-2699 AFT 3PM

NISSAN STANZA '86, in and out like new, exc. cond. Sacrifice for just $4250. Call 404-991-1450.



Nova, '73, needs paint job, reasonable price. Call 568-7850 anytime.

No Fault or Full Coverage
Call us for free quote before you pay too much. Mike Streetman Insurance, 322-7272. Open 9am-7pm

Olds Ciera, '82, $2800/offer; '83 Toyota Corolla SR5, $2600/offer. 687-3444

PONTIAC Fiero '88, fully loaded, low mileage, $8900. Call 596-0176.

Pontiac Grand AM, '86. Nice. Auto, ac, only $6500. Call 327-5766.

BROWN BRADY
Invites all his friends & previous customers to see him for the BEST BUY on a NEW OR USED CAR OR TRUCK! 322-8888.
$AVE $$$
BILL HEARD CHEVROLET
Manchester Expwy.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

PONTIAC GRAND AM LE '86, 4dr, 51,000 mi. Pay off loan/warr., $6800. 569-0618

TOYOTA MR2 '87, red/charcoal. No equity, assume pymts. $260 mo. 568-1476

TOYOTA '83 Celica GT, hatchback, new tires, a/c, am/fm tape, white w/blue interior, cruise control, 90K, Priced below mkt. at $3950, make offer. 569-9630

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

Can't Afford, must sell '88 black/gray Pontiac Grand Am, exc. cond., assume pymts or payoff. After 5, 1-883-8790/882-0421

PORSCHE 911 Targa, '78, cream colored, exc. cond, $14,500. Call 687-4284

'72 Ford Mustang, good condtion. $700 or best offer. Call 323-3389.

'76 CAMARO, rally sport, auto., $1400. '68 Torino, $1800. Call 324-0069.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

1964 PONTIAC LeMans Coupe, exc. cond., 2DR, factory a/c, bucket, seats, am/fm/cass, almost restored, everything works. $4500 neg. Call 687-2435

'82 DELTA 88 BRO, all power, exc. cond., 2nd owner, $3200. Call 689-8745

'83 CHEVROLET CITATION
$1500 or best offer.
Call 682-4512

'84 300ZX Turbo
Auto., exc. cond., 1 owner
Call 323-5831

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

'84 TOYOTA Corolla, red, 2 dr, a/c, ps, pb, am/fm stereo, mint cond., 51K, $4300/offer. Call 569-0918 after 4 p.m.

'85 GRAND PRIX, all power, sunroof, gages, 1 owner. $6600. Call 323-6625.

'87 Buick LeSabre Custom, 4dr, V6, beige w/navy top & interior; pl, pw, tilt, cruise, am/fm w/tape. Good cond. $8900. Call 323-5447, leave mess.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

'87 HONDA Accord LXI, 5 sp, 4 dr, 29,000 mi, $12,000. Call 561-1376 lv. msg.

'88 VW Jetta, auto, a/c, stereo, $800 & take low payments. Call Kim 327-2876.

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

CAMARO Z28 '85, auto, air, t-tops, sharp, am/fm cass. Best Offer. 297-9744

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

CORVETTE '77, white/red interior, t-tops, new engine & trans., body in excellent cond. Call (404) 648-6571.

LASER XT, '86, turbo, t-tops, loaded, must sell. 571-1515 wk, (404) 663-4013 home

Mazda RX7 '79, ac, cc, at, $2,000 or swap for small Ford/Mazda P/U. 682-3248

PONTIAC Firebird 1984, V8, auto., t-tops, A/C, cruise & tilt, am/fm cass., excellent. $4995. Call 568-2150 (d) 563-1817 (n) ask for Gary

CLASSIC & ANTIQUE AUTOS 934

RAMBLER '60, 2 dr station wagon, low milage, extra clean, $700. 687-4985.

'64 CHRYSLER IMPERIAL Crown Coupe, perfect condition. Call 322-4102.

'69 MACH I, 351-C, 4 speed, excellent condition. $3,900. 327-6720

IMPORTED AUTOS 936

Company Car, '87 Audi 5000CS Turbo, black, fully loaded, car phone. $12,950. M-F, 8-5, Jim, 324-3562

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

'86 AUDI 5000 White w/black trim, excellent cond. Must see! $9900. 327-3031

NOW! $1000 Cash back on every new Yugo in stock.

#40482—GV w/air	#40473—GVL w/air	#40452—GVX Red
List Price.....$6032.40	List Price.....$7759.50	List Price.....$7287.50
Cash Back....$1000.00	Cash Back....$1000.00	Cash Back....$1000.00
Discount.....$337.40	Discount.....$1106.45	Discount.....$363.30
Your Price....$4695.00	Your Price....$5653.05	Your Price....$5924.20
48 @.. $126.18*	48 @.. $151.28*	48 @.. $158.39*
Deferred paymt. $6056.64	Deferred paymt. $7261.44	Deferred paymt. $7602.72
#40464—GVX Silver	#40467—GVX Blue-w/air	#40471—GVL Maroon
List Price.....$7436.50	List Price.....$7570.50	List Price.....$7819.50
Cash Back....$1000.00	Cash Back....$1000.00	Cash Back....$1000.00
Discount.....$394.20	Discount.....$349.34	Discount.....$1694.78
Your Price....$6042.30	Your Price....$6221.16	Your Price....$5124.72
48 @.. $161.50*	48 @.. $166.18*	48 @.. $137.45*
Deferred paymt. $7752	Deferred paymt. $7976.64	Deferred paymt. $6597.60
#40466—GVX White	#40455—GVX Silver	#40400—GVL Silver—a/c
List Price.....$7287.50	List Price.....$7436.50	List Price.....$7580.50
Cash Back....$1000.00	Cash Back....$1000.00	Cash Back....$1000.00
Discount.....$369.70	Discount.....$394.20	Discount.....$416.84
Your Price....$5917.80	Your Price....$6042.30	Your Price....$6163.66
48 @.. $158.23*	48 @.. $161.50*	48 @.. $164.68*
Deferred paymt. $7595.04	Deferred paymt. $7752	Deferred paymt. $7904.64
#40453—GVX Red—a/c	#40426—GVL White	#40463—GVX Red
List Price.....$8681.50	List Price.....$6471.50	List Price.....$7287.50
Cash Back....$1000.00	Cash Back....$1000.00	Cash Back....$1000.00
Discount.....$601.70	Discount.....$145.34	Discount.....$370.25
Your Price....$7079.80	Your Price....$5326.16	Your Price....$5917.25
48 @.. $188.69*	48 @.. $142.73*	48 @.. $158.39*
Deferred paymt. $9057.12	Deferred paymt. $6851.04	Deferred paymt. $7602.72
#40456—GVX Silver	#40374—GVX White	#40465—GVX Silver—a/c
List Price.....$7436.50	List Price.....$7801.20	List Price.....$8870.54
Cash Back....$1000.00	Cash Back....$1000.00	Cash Back....$1000.00
Discount.....$394.20	Discount.....$586.20	Discount.....$659.94
Your Price....$6042.30	Your Price....$6215.00	Your Price....$7210.60
48 @.. $161.50*	48 @.. $166.02*	48 @.. $192.12
Deferred paymt. $7752	Defererd paymt. $7968.96	Deferred paymt. $9221.76

*PAYMENT DOES NOT INCLUDE SALES TAX, TAG, TITLE OR $99 DOCUMENT FEE FOR 48 MONTHS AT 11.75% ON VARIABLE RATE WITH APPROVED CREDIT.

YUGO 4/40 CARE-FREE/COST-FREE COVERAGE
Every new '88 Yugo now comes with the BEST NEW CAR PROTECTION of any subcompact sold in America. See Dealer for details.

YUGO
CHARLES LEVY MOTOR CO.
1101 4th AVE. 576-3700
OPEN SUNDAY

BY SPECIAL ARRANGEMENTS WITH AUDI OF AMERICA AND VCI

HURRY — LIMITED OFFER

FINAL CLEARANCE —ON ALL AUDI'S—
OVER 25 TO CHOOSE FROM . . .

UP TO 75% OFF original manufacturer's suggested retail price

EXAMPLE: AUDI 5000 SEDAN
#V2644
ORIGINAL RETAIL: $23,959
SPECIAL SALE PRICE: $5,995*

BUY A LUXURIOUS AUDI FOR THE PRICE OF AN ECONOMY CAR

*Add tax, tag, title, if applicable OFF LEASE AUDI'S

ONLY AT DODGE CITY-AUDI
2201 VICTORY DRIVE
— COME SEE WHY —
CALL 324-4161

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY "DELIVERS"

E-1s & Up!!

No Previous CREDIT! "No Problem"

SAME DAY DELIVERY!

SLOW CREDIT? "No Problem"

Toll Free 1-800-544-8480

Only Requirements
1. L.E.S.
2. $99.00 Down
3. Ability To Buy Full Coverage Auto Insurance

Bring this Ad— We'll Pay Your Cab Fare

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
Hwy. 431 North
EUFAULA, ALABAMA

JUST ANNOUNCED FROM DODGE

UNBEATABLE

0% ANNUAL PERCENTAGE RATE FINANCING
IN 24 MONTHS AT 0%

BUY A NEW CAR FOR $250.73* Deferred Pymt. Price $6017.52 #911112

BUY A NEW TRUCK FOR $271.29* Deferred Pymt. Price $6510.96 #935117

YOU OWN IT!!!

24 MONTHS SAME AS CASH-NOT ONE PENNY INTEREST

*10% DOWN CASH OR TRADE PLUS TAX, TAG, TITLE, IF APPLICABLE. *PAYMENTS FIGURED FOR 24 MONTHS AT 0% APR, W.A.C.

PLUS

89 CONVERSION VAN
$2000 REBATE

- Automatic
- Tilt
- Air
- Cruise
- TV
- Custom Wheels And Paint
- Much, Much More

PLUS

LOWEST PRICES IN HISTORY

STARTING AT $13,995 OR JUST $283.56 PER MONTH

AFTER $2000 REBATE Deferred Pymt. Price $17,013.60

LIMITED TIME ONLY

10% DOWN CASH OR TRADE PLUS TAX, TAG, TITLE, IF APPLICABLE. PAYMENTS FIGURED FOR 60 MONTHS AT 13% INTEREST, W.A.C. REBATE INCLUDED

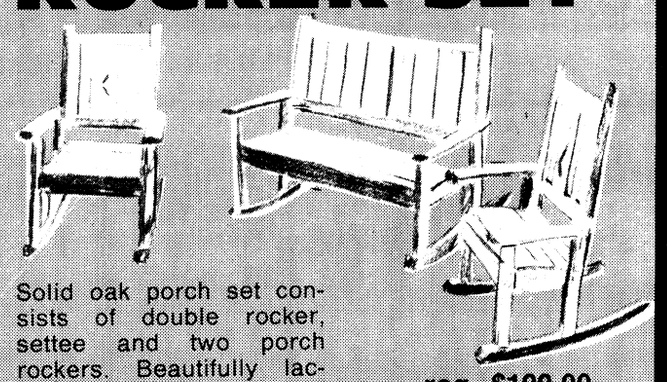
DODGE CITY 2201 VICTORY DRIVE CALL 324-4161

SALE Clearance

IMMEDIATE DELIVERY

NO PAYMENTS TIL JULY! FOR QUALIFIED CREDIT

TIL JULY! 80,000 SQ. FT. OF FURNITURE BARGAINS



WHILE THEY LAST!

If perfect, these beautiful upholstered chairs would sell for $199 or more! Use as accent pieces, dining, game chairs! Hurry, first come, first sold!

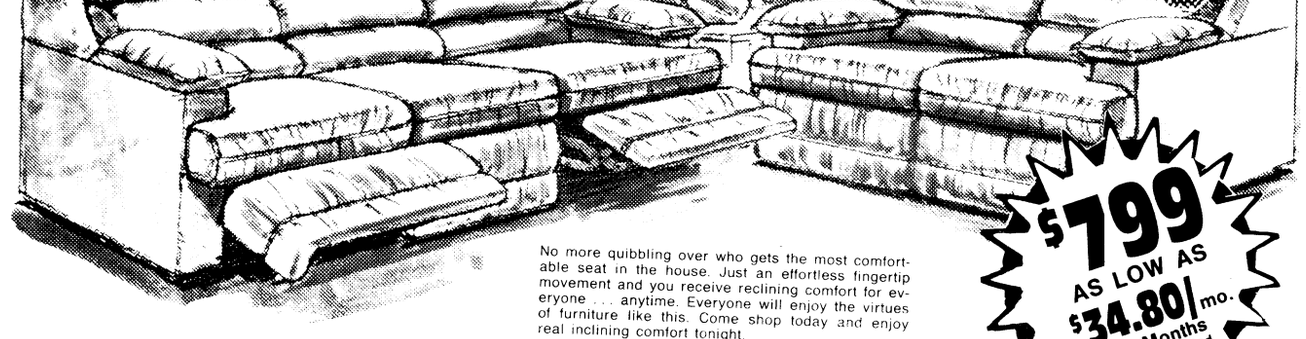
ONLY $29.00 EACH

SOLID OAK ROCKER SET

Solid oak porch set consists of double rocker, settee and two porch rockers. Beautifully lacquered durable oak. You would expect to pay up to $199.00 . . . but for a limited time only . . .

reg. $199.00

$49



PLAY LOTORIA℠

FREE GIANT JACKPOT

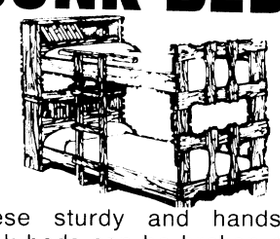
GET YOUR FREE TICKETS

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY

No more quibbling over who gets the most comfortable seat in the house. Just an effortless fingertip movement and you receive reclining comfort for everyone . . . anytime. Everyone will enjoy the virtues of furniture like this. Come shop today and enjoy real inclining comfort tonight.

$799 AS LOW AS $34.80/mo. 36 Months With Qualified Credit

INCLINING SOFA AND LOVESEAT



AMERICAN BEDDING

COUNTRY MORNING POSTURE SERIES
SOLD IN SETS ONLY

Twin .....NOW $139.95
Full.....NOW $196.95
Queen. NOW $222.95
King .....NOW $319.95

BUNK BEDS

These sturdy and handsome bunk beds can be broken down into twin beds if desired. Includes all rails, bunkies and ladders.

NOW $222

Similar to Illustration

TV CART SPRING SALE

ONLY $29.00

This is an attractive and sturdy unit on which to store VCR, TV, tapes, accessories and more. The center shelf conveniently pulls out for access to your VCR. The bottom shelf just the right size to hold your favorite tapes, or books and magazines. Finished on all sides in Plymouth Oak, wich casters for mobility. Comes ready to assemble.

WIN 10,000 IN FINE FURNITURE

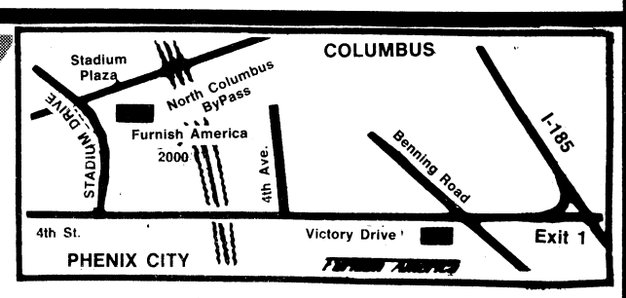
COME AND GET YOUR TICKET!

Fill Out And Bring This Coupon In To Register

FURNISH AMERICA

OFFICIAL TICKET

Furnish America $10,000 FURNITURE GIVEAWAY

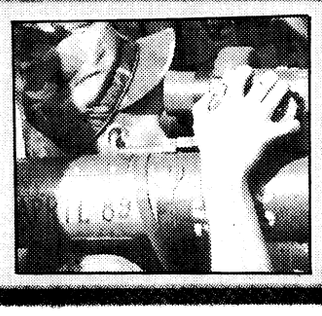


NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

PHONE _____

Furnish America



Yes, we still have credit terms. Even at these astounding prices we can offer convenient terms based upon needs including 100 days same as cash. Minimum purchase $400. Your charge cards welcome.

NOW TWO CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
BENNING ROAD AT VICTORY DRIVE 682-2350—STADIUM PLAZA 298-1121

Infantry Officer Basic Course students breath fire into the Dragon.

See A-4

Rangers train for the upcoming "Best Ranger" competition.

See A-6

INDEX

Opinion A-2
Community A-10
Spiritual A-11
Unit B-2
Sports B-3
Movies B-4

THE BAYONET

Home of the Infantry

Vol. 47, No. 28 | Published in the interest of the Fort Benning, Ga. community. | April 14, 1989

Tax filing deadline Monday

By Sharon Reynolds
Bayonet editor

If you're putting off filing taxes until the last minute, Legal Assistance and the Main Post Office personnel will be available to provide assistance.

Since April 15 falls on a Saturday this year, April 17 at midnight will be the deadline for filing taxes. As in years past, the Main Post Office will keep its doors open until midnight Monday to postmark last-minute returns and extension requests. Legal Assistance personnel will be at the Main Post Office from 6 p.m. until midnight "to help people in the eleventh hour," said Jane Winand, Legal Assistance attorney here.

There will be at least three and possibly five attorneys available to answer legal questions and help fill out tax forms, according to Capt. Bill Sutton, Fort Benning's installation tax officer.

Legal Assistance will have the necessary forms available for filing federal income tax, including the usual 1040, 1040A and 1040EZ and state forms for Georgia and Alabama only, Winand said.

There are just too many state forms to have them all there, according to Winand. "For instance," she said, "New York has six different forms for filing that state's taxes." She recommends bringing your own forms if you are filing state taxes for states other than Georgia and Alabama.

Filers are reminded to bring their W-2 Forms and any other tax forms they may have received in the mail.

Federal retirees who wish to file an amendment to their 1985 state taxes can get help at the Main Post Office, too, according to Winand. She said they will have Form 500X available and will provide assistance with "as many as we have as long as they last."

If at the deadline you need additional time, Winand recommends requesting an extension. Legal Assistance will have forms for filing extensions and will assist in filling them out, Winand said.

"Even if you want an extension, you should file by April 17," Winand said.

People who don't file by the deadline, Winand said, are still responsible for their taxes. If they don't file and owe taxes, penalties and interest will be applied to the amount they owe, according to the attorney.

POST BRIEFS

Army Soldier Show Sunday

Sand Hill Theatre — The 1989 Army Soldier Show will be presented Sunday at Sand Hill Theatre at 7:30 p.m.

Forty-one active duty soldiers, who are variety-type entertainers, will perform "A Musical Variety Celebration of America."

The show is a 90-minute production spotlighting some the Army's most talented soldiers. The show includes current pop, country, gospel, soul and show tunes — something for everyone. Other features of the show are a laser show, a live band, state-of-the-art lighting and sound equipment.

The performance is free and open to the military, their families and the public.

For more information, call Ed Hensley at 545-3909.

Narcotics unit seeks help

Information — The Metro Narcotics Task Force is now in full operation. The unit is requesting any information from the public concerning persons in Georgia and Alabama who may be dealing in large quantities of Narcotics and dangerous drugs.

The phone numbers of the Metro Narcotics Task Force are 571-5826 or 571-5827. Information received will be kept confidential. Persons with information may also call Columbus Crime Stoppers at 571-5858.

Academy changes numbers

Building 880 — The Henry Caro NCO Academy, previously called the NCO Academy, has relocated to building 880 (Old Faith School) on NCO Drive. The academy is now under the direction of the post command sergeant major and USAIC. The new office symbol is ATZB-NC. Use the following numbers when contacting the academy:

S-1 545-3352
S-3 545-4296
S-4 545-2960
ANCOC 545-5941
BNCOC 545-3361
PLDC 545-5310
DSS 545-5524

Retail sale slated here

Monday — The Fort Benning Defense Reutilization and Marketing Office will conduct a retail sale Monday at noon in Building 315 on 10th Mountain Division Road, Fort Benning. No pre-inspection will be allowed. The sale is open to the public and will include such items as home and office furniture, washers, office machines, lamps and trousers. Items will be sold with a fixed price on a first-come, first-served basis. Payments must be in cash, and all property will be removed on the day of the sale. Individuals wishing to purchase property must be 18 years old or older. For more information, call 545-7214/3497.

AER spells relief

Campaign continues — How do you spell relief? For many soldiers and their families, it's spelled AER.

However, Army Emergency Relief is a source of support for Fort Benning soldiers and their families that many do not know exists. The program can provide food for the hungry, transportation home during a crisis, pay initial electric bills and rent and tide you over when your pay check comes up short.

Since 1942, whenever Army families were in need, AER answered. AER at Fort Benning reached more than 1,700 active duty and retired military families in need last year. AER provided $514,951 in support.

In 1987, AER assisted 1,302 individuals with loans amounting to more than $374,000 and provided $63,793.56 in grants to 150 individuals. In 1988, AER increased its support and assisted 1,344 individuals with more than $414,951 in loans and assisted 234 individuals with more than $100,000 in grants. This year, soldiers and their families deserve no less.

AER needs your help. Contact your unit project officer for more information on contributing to the AER Fund Campaign.

Suggestions merit awards

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

They say the third time is a charm. However, so were the first and second times for a Fort Benning employee with the Directorate of Logistics.

Edward Spidle, Benning's petroleum manager, received a check for $1,034 Monday for his latest in a string of Army savings suggestions.

Spidle's most recent suggestion saved the Army $24,187.82 and earned him a third consecutive cash award of more than $1,000.

Dealing with determining the quantities of bulk petroleum delivered to Fort Benning, Spidle's suggestion will not only save the government money, but it will also save a lot of time for many of the post's units.

Spidle explained that when commercial trucks delivered petroleum to Benning in the past, an accurate count of the fuel was not known until the individual units had used the fuel and returned their statistics to the petroleum lab. Now, all contractor truck drivers are required to provide a certified capacity table when making a delivery to Benning, Spidle said. This enables the lab and the contractor to determine the quantity of petroleum at each delivery without the use of the unit's statistics.

Although the latest suggestion was submitted last June, Spidle said he got his award a lot faster than his first cash award in 1987, which took three years to become a reality. That award was for his suggestion that Fort Benning get its jet fuel from Columbus instead Atlanta and Macon. It saved the government $48,000 annually.

Spidle's second cash award came in 1988 when he suggested Fort Benning certify its lab to test the petroleum instead of sending it to Pennsylvania for testing. That saved $23,000.

"We're not finished yet," Spidle said after the award ceremony. He said he is currently working on two more projects; one, a suggestion to construct a new bulk terminal, which would make the totally manual system used here now into a computerized electronic system that would cut down on a lot of paperwork and make the distribution of petroleum products more efficient. The other ongoing project is a suggestion to run the jet fuel pipeline, which stops in Columbus, to Fort Benning.

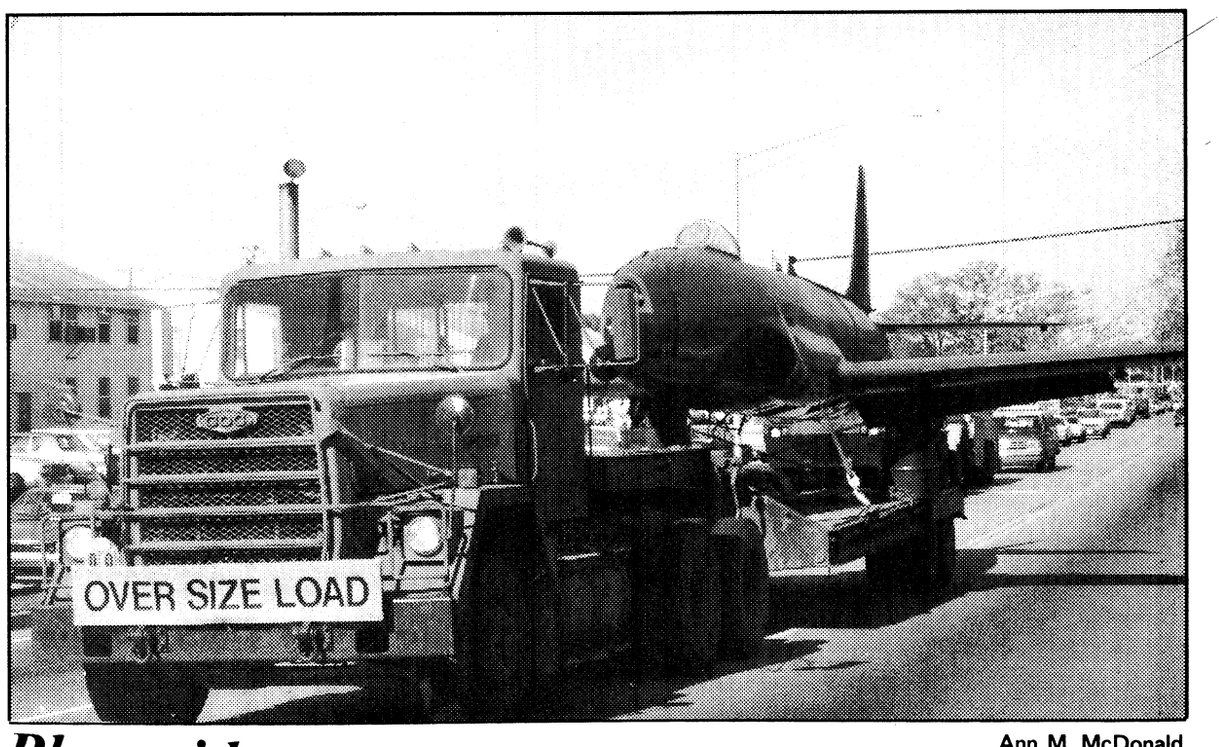
Hartzog to assume position in Panama

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The assistant commandant of the U.S. Army Infantry School and deputy commanding general, Brig. Gen. William W. Hartzog, will be leaving Fort Benning to become the director of operations, U.S. Southern Command at Quarry Heights, Panama.

Succeeding Hartzog, who has been in this position since December, 1987, is Col. William M. Steele. Steele will assume the position in a ceremony April 25 at 2 p.m. on York Field.

Hartzog will attend language classes at the U.S. Army School of the Americas until his departure. He will report to his new assignment July 1.



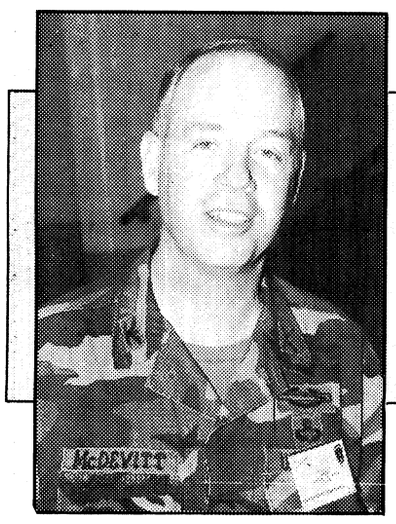
Steele is currently the executive officer to the commanding general of the U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command at its headquarters in Fort Monroe, Va.

Hartzog, 47, was born in Wilmington, N.C., and was commissioned a second lieutenant upon graduating from The Citadel in Charleston, S.C., in 1963. His decorations include the Legion of Merit (with two oak leaf clusters), the Soldier's Medal, the Bronze Star with "V" Device and oak leaf cluster and the Purple Heart. In addition, he holds the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the Expert Infantryman's Badge and Senior Parachutist Wings.

He is married to the former Roberta Anita Fitton of Mount Clemens, Mich. They have two children, Robyn and Will.

Steele, 43, born in Atlanta, Ga., was commissioned a second lieutenant in Infantry upon graduating from The Citadel in 1967. He holds a master's degree in management. His decorations include the Silver Star, the Legion of Merit, the Bronze Star, the Combat Infantryman's Badge, the Master Parachutist Badge and Ranger Tab.

He is married to the former Pamela Thompson of Laramie, Wyoming. They have two daughters, Lara and Cari.



Ann M. McDonald

Plane ride

A truck hauls an airplane that is to be used as a training aid for Fort Benning's fire department down Dixie Road.

OPINION

VARIOUS VOICES: What is the most important job an infantry squad leader has today?

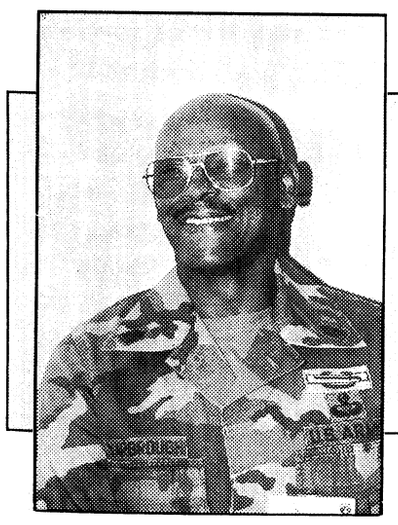
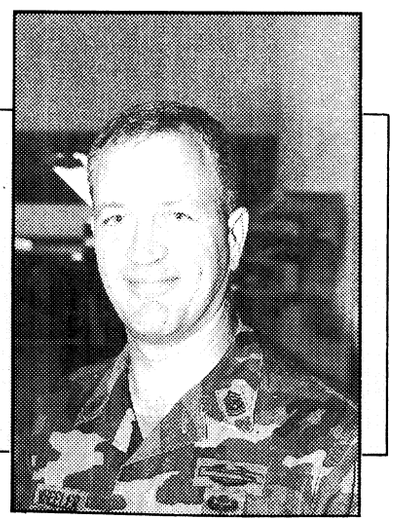
Col. James J. McDevitt, 1st Bde., 6th Inf. Div., Fort Richardson, Alaska — "The squad leader is the lynch pin for everything we do in the infantry. The infantry squad leader knows and applies all the standards for tactical performance. He is the key to battlefield success."

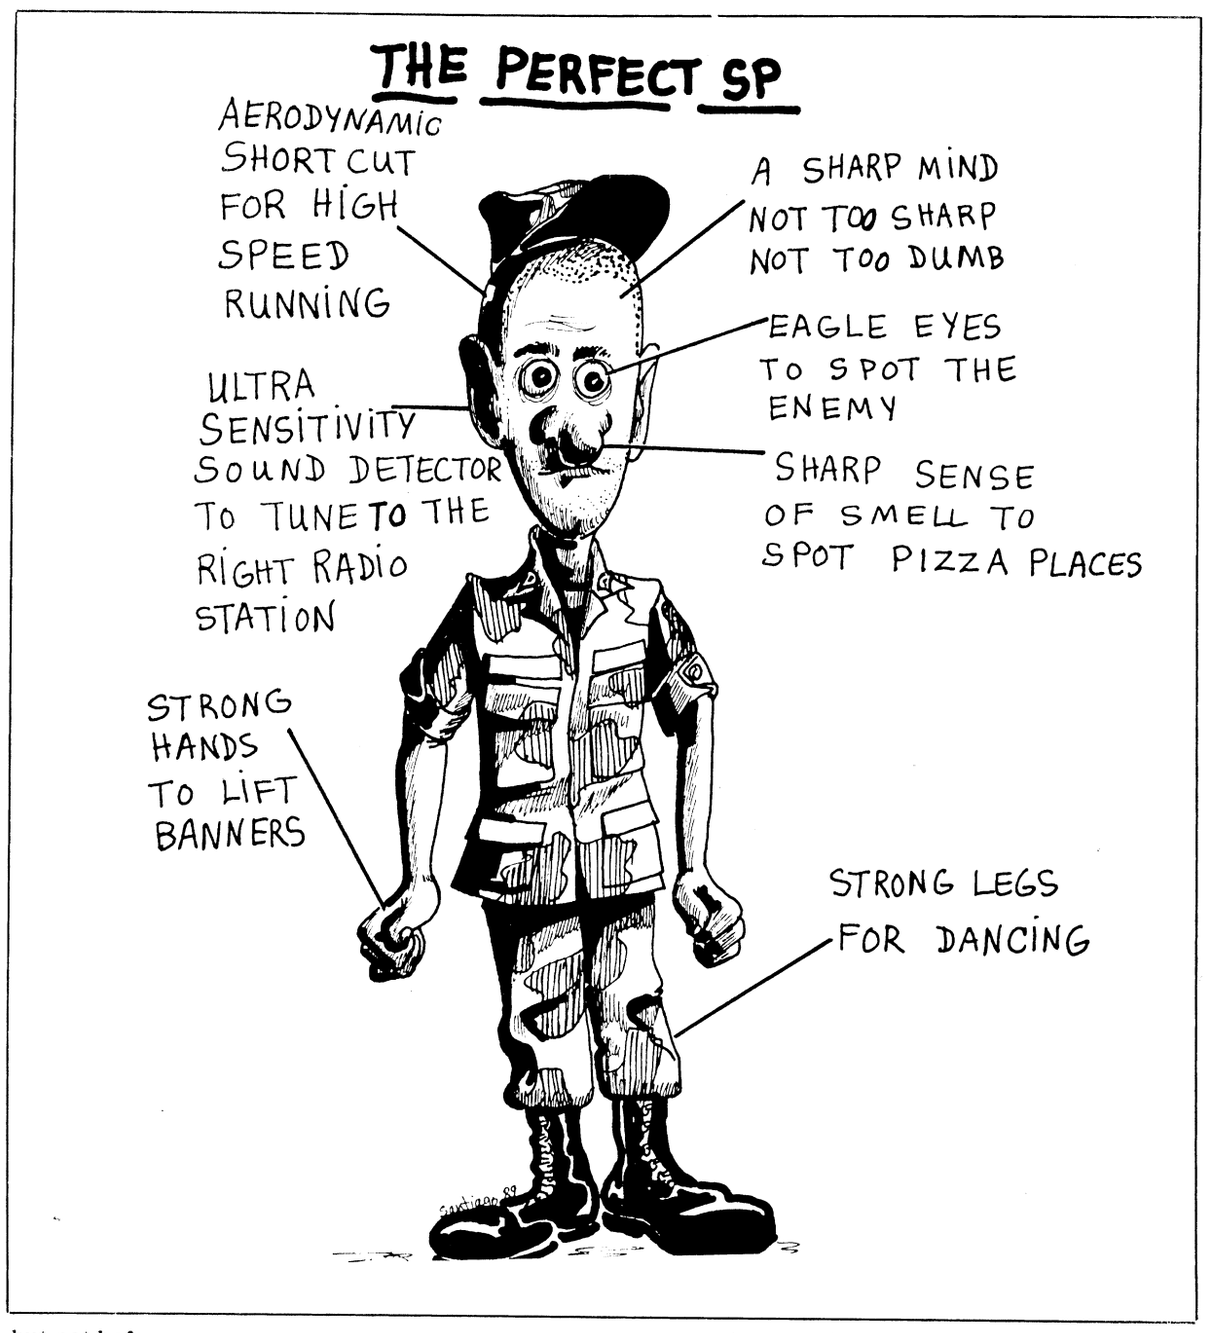


Col. Ron Robinson, director, CATD, USAIS — "I think his most important job is training soldiers on individual skills and as a unit."



Maj. Gen. Teddy Allen, commanding general, 101st Airborne (Air Assault) Div. — "Keeping one step ahead of the soldiers in his squad is most important. Soldiers have gotten smarter, which means the squad leader has to be smarter, or else, they'll run all over him."

Col. Michael Sierra, Army War College — "Squad leaders are responsible for the training and motivation of the most of the soldiers in the Army. A weak squad leader will have more impact then a weak general." general."



CSM Jeffrey Yarbrough, USAIS — "Controlling the soldiers is his most important job. If a squad leader doesn't control his soldiers, he can't train them properly."

CSM Herman Wheeler, 101st Airborne (Air Assault) Div. — "Training the soldiers in his squad is most important. He needs to do that, so he can ensure his soldiers will be able to accomplish the mission."

Specialist Day declared

By Clyde Snively
USAIC Public Affairs Office

NCOs and officers hate it when they see enlisted people with their heads together. They always think we are plotting something, like forming a union or getting together on a work slowdown.

This was not the case when Airborne Annie, Shawn and I got together the other day.

I started it by asking, "have you ever stopped and counted all the special days, weeks and months dedicated to a group of persons?"

"You mean like Asian-Pacific Islanders, Hispanics, Blacks, women? Or perhaps you mean, the days for secretaries, mothers, fathers and grandparents?" Shawn asked.

"Yeah, and don't forget, this is the 'Year of the NCO.'" Airborne said.

"So, what of it?" Shawn asked.

"Well," I said, "all that's wonderful, to a degree. It's wonderful if you make the list, but if you don't, you begin to wonder if perhaps there's something wrong with you and this is THEIR way of telling you."

"I hadn't thought of it," Airborne said, "but now that you bring it up, I think you might have something there."

"I do," I said. "And what gripes me, is there is no day or even a minute set aside for the most important group in the Army."

"Which is," Shawn wanted to know.

"Shawn! You're putting me on! You don't know what group of people is the most important, most valuable, most meaningful group in the U.S. Army!"

"Stop shouting Clyde, if I did, I'd have said so. So, who is it, the generals, the secretaries? Who?"

"Yeah, just who is it," Airborne piped in.

"Come on," I said, "we all know. It's us, the unsung heroes, the people who make things happen — specialists.

"We are the guys and gals who make this Army go. Let me see an order get carried out if a specialist isn't there to make it happen. Sure, the general will tell the colonel, who'll tell the major, who'll pass it on to the captain. Eventually, it'll reach the NCO ranks and then, finally, down to where the rubber meets the road, specialist level. That's when the order gets executed, but not before.

"Have you ever seen a general change track tread? Have you ever seen a colonel hump a field radio through the boonies? When's the last time you saw a sergeant erect a TOC? Sure they're good at giving orders and telling us how to do it, but if it's going to get done, then we specialists are the ones who do it," I said, pausing for breath.

"But that's the natural pecking order, the law of the jungle. You know, RHIP, rank has its privileges," Airborne philosophized.

"Don't get me wrong now," I said. "I'm not complaining about this. I'll go on police call to pick up other people's litter. I'll carry my typewriter into battle and keep my bullet launcher clean.

"That's the way it should be. Not everyone can be an NCO or an officer. You have to have chiefs to tell the Indians what to do.

"I don't even mind being referred to as 'Snuffy,' or 'Ground- Pounder' or 'Specialist Tent-peg,' because I know NCOs and officers will have their jokes.

"But I think we need to remind them not to take us for granted," I said.

"I agree," Shawn said, agreeing, "and now that you mention it, when's the last time you saw an officer take a specialist to the Officers' Club for right-hand person night?"

This time it was my turn to agree, "It doesn't happen," I said. "The officer grabs his NCO, or perhaps another officer, secretary or deputy. Or the NCO club might have bosses' night. That's when the NCO takes the officer to his club. It's not fair."

"Yeah, and there isn't much we can do about it," Airborne said. "We can't even get involved because we have no way to repay the boss. After all, how many bosses' nights do you remember that were held at the Hidden Door Club?"

"None," I said. "Yep, all we need is a little recognition. The rest of the Army needs to tell us it appreciates us. After all, we are the largest mass of people in the Army."

"So what do you plan to do about it, Clyde?" Airborne asked.

"I propose we have a day," I said. "Hallmark, needn't go to any trouble to make a special greeting card for us. Proclamation writers, needn't write a special proclamation for us. And bumper sticker composers, need not produce anything like 'I heart my specialist,' or 'Have you hugged your specialist today.'

"Nope, I, myself, do hereby declare April 14 as Specialist Day. Bosses, tell your specialists you appreciate them. By the way, if anyone wants to do anything special for me, I'll be in Room 601 most of the day," I announced to the world and climbed down from Shawn's desk.

"Atta way to go Clyde," Airborne said, hurriedly departing with her camera to do 'Various Voices,' while Shawn gathered a paper towel to wipe my boot prints off his desk top.

Recruits reveal what's needed of leaders

By J.C. Mathews
Army News Service

Two recently unearthed Army recruiting statistics speak volumes about what's needed from enlisted leaders during the "Year of the NCO."

Statistic one: Aptitude tests show a recent drop in the quality of recruits.

Statistic two: Soldiers recently left the Army in numbers that have prompted a 10-percent increase in recruiting missions and a further increase in recruiting goals for soldiers in lower aptitude categories.

It would be laughably premature to start painting grim pictures of the Army's future based these recent findings. The shadow of the beginning of a trend is not yet visible under the most careful scrutiny, and officials predict a rise in recruit quality a few months down the line. However, one conclusion can be safely drawn: "The NCO" of 1989 must fully practice what was preached during 1988's "Year of Training."

The best efforts of today's high-caliber NCOs will be called upon to ensure the continued excellence of the enlisted force. Of itself, that's nothing new — training soldiers has always been more than just a responsibility to NCOs; it was the primary reason for establishing NCO ranks in the first place. And, of course, "The NCO" of 1989 is the best-qualified soldier the Army has ever had to carry out that responsibility.

Being the best this year, though, always adds to next year's burden.

Ask any Super Bowl champion since 1980 how difficult staying on top can be; none of them could repeat their performance the following year. Where they failed, though, the NCO corps has no choice but to succeed.

The outstanding enlisted leaders of today must build the enlisted leaders of tomorrow in their own image; and they must do it during changing times, while meeting fluctuating requirements and using materials of unpredictable quality. It is no small burden NCOs must carry during "their" year, but the load can be lightened.

The Army in recent years has become a veritable treasure house of professional development programs and resources. A proliferation of manuals and lessons designed to teach everything from firing a weapon to filing a letter, coupled with increased availability of off-duty education, provides the tools. Awards, increased responsibilities and promotions provide the incentive. All NCOs have to provide is the motivation, instruction and supervision to see that the job gets done right.

A small, temporary dip in recruit quality needn't trouble the Army if NCOs care enough to make the future as bright as the present. But the job of developing raw recruits into soldiers — and later into leaders — can't be taken for granted. It must be tackled with the same zeal and vigor today's NCOs displayed during their rise through the ranks.

Success during 1989's "Year of the NCO" will depend how we apply the successes of 1988's "Year of Training," and it will determine whether we succeed in 1990, and 1995, and 2000, and from now on.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Mathews is a staff writer for ARNEWS.)

The Bayonet

This newspaper is an authorized publication for members of the Army. Contents of THE BAYONET are not necessarily the official views of, or endorsed by the Department of the Army or any of its agencies. Everything in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, sex or national origin of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunity by an advertiser will result in the refusal of the publisher to print-advertising from that souce. THE BAYONET is an unofficial publication authorized by Army Regulation 360-81. Editorial content is prepared, edited and provided by the Public Affairs Office of the U.S. Army Infantry Center. THE BAYONET is published each Friday by the R.W. Page Corporation, a private firm in no way connected with the Department of the Army, under exclusive written contract with Fort Benning. All photos are U.S. Army unless otherwise credited. Liaison between the publisher and the commanding general, USAIC, is maintained by the public affairs officer, through the command information officer, USAIC, Fort Benning.

Editorial

Commanding General ..... Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire
Public Affairs Officer ..... Lt. Col. McDonald Plummer Jr.
Command Information Officer ..... Maj. Thomas Fix
Command Information NCOIC ..... SSgt. Ron Allen
Administration NCOIC ..... SSgt. Luz Llanos
Editor ..... SSgt. Sharon Reynolds
Assistant Editor ..... Agatha Hudson James
Staff writers ..... Spec. Ann McDonald, Spec. Shawn Bryson
Editorial Office: Public Affairs Office, USAIC, Building 4, Room 601, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905, (404) 545-2201/2202; AUTOVON 835-2201.

Advertising

Retail/Display ..... (404) 324-5526
Classified ..... (404) 322-4500
Circulation ..... (404) 323-1234

For subscription information call (404)323-1234.

Circulation 21,000

Represented nationally by Knight Ridder Newspaper sales W.B. Bradbury and Military Media, Inc.

Celebrating America's proudest tradition

Every week, hundreds of people contribute their time and talents to causes in which they believe strongly. The post volunteer resource center conservatively estimates the 1988 value of volunteer service here at Fort Benning to be more than $2.5 million.

Volunteers are involved in addressing every type of problem and need in our community, from working with children in schools to teaching citizenship to foreign-born spouses. Volunteers serve the needs of all.

Today's volunteer also is making a difference in the tough issue of our community, such as rape crisis and child abuse. They're not afraid of a challenge, as seen in their efforts to establish a toy bank for needy children and a shelter for abused spouses.

Fort Benning's volunteers are people like you and me. They are nearly one out of every three family members. You'll find volunteers in our religious education programs, in our youth activities programs and in our human service agencies, such as Army Community Service and Red Cross.

Each year, national volunteer week is celebrated to recognize our more than 2,800 neighbors who make Fort Benning a better place in which to live and work through their time, effort and talents.

National volunteer week continues through to April 15. Let's use this week to honor our volunteers and organizations that support them. From the volunteer center that recruits and places volunteers, to the many post organizations and associations that support community service, let's say thanks and keep up the good work.

After all, volunteers need support just as much as the community needs volunteers. And we all need a time to celebrate what's good in our community.

Michael F. Spigelmire
Major General, USA
Commanding

ROA offers scholarship

Retired Officers Association

The Chattahoochee Valley Chapter, The Retired Officers Association, is seeking applications for one scholarship and one interest-free educational loan for the 1989-90 academic year. All active duty, retired military personnel or disabled veterans and their family members, residing within a 50-mile radius of Fort Benning are eligible for either program.

One scholarship is available at Troy State University, Fort Benning Branch. This scholarship includes full tuition for one year and $50 per quarter for books or supplies.

A $500 interest-free loan for study at any accredited postsecondary school, college or vocational institution is also available.

Application procedures can be obtained by writing a letter requesting information about the program in which you are interested, scholarship or loan, to: Educational Assistance Committee, The Retired Officers Association, P.O. Box 6613, Columbus, Ga. 31907-0450.

Applications must be received by May 31.

For more information, call Malvin F. Glass, 561-8886.

Yard of the Quarter

Ann M. McDonald

CWO 2 Alan D. Smigiel and his wife, Julia, accept the award for "Yard of the Quarter" from DPCA Sgt. Maj. James McClurg.

Shawn Bryson

Diabetes ward opens

Col. Herb Segal, MACH commander, and Maj. Eileen Munn, director of the Diabetes ward, cut the ribbon at the grand opening of the Diabetes Treatment Program on the 5th floor at MACH. The program is the first step in the development of the Life Style Center at the hospital. Assisting are SSgt. Davey Parker, ward master, (l) and Capt. Larry Guyton, head nurse of the Diabetes ward.

Career Day at MACH highlights Nurses' Week

Martin Army Community Hospital

In recognition of Nurses' Week, Career Day will be held at Fort Benning's Martin Army Community Hospital May 6.

This first-time event is designed to promote careers in both military and civilian nursing. Jointly sponsored by the Civilian Personnel Office, Army Nurse Corps Recruiting Command and the Department of Nursing, Career Day will begin at 9 a.m. in the dining facility.

Information booths and displays will be set up, and tours of the hospital will start from the dining facility every half hour. Key personnel will be on hand to speak about nursing opportunities for professional nursing in the federal service.

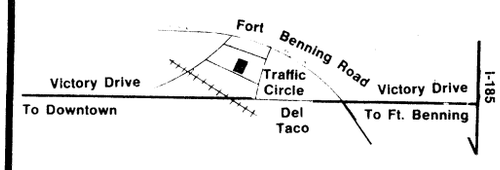
That same day, a Martin Army "first" begins at 1 p.m. in the operating room. The operating room and anesthesia staff are having an open house.

Visitors will learn about the operating room, surgical procedures and anesthesia. The staff will be available to share information about career opportunities in operating room specialties.

Children must be accompanied by an adult.

For more information, call the Department of Nursing at 544-4458/2218/3270.

MILITARY WELCOME

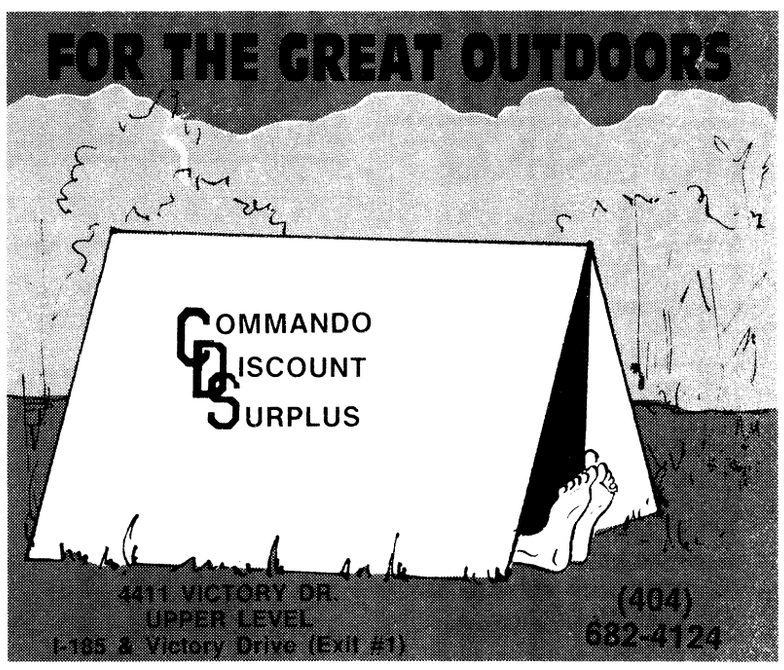


NEW LOTTERY PICK UP SERVICE

PERSONAL CHECKS
MILITARY CHECKS
PAYROLL CHECKS
OUT OF STATE CHECKS

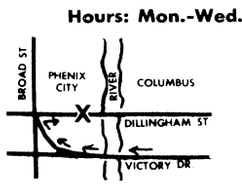
MR CHECK CASHER
$ NEW LOCATION $
3809 Victory Drive
Traffic Circle Shopping Center
687-8666

INCOME TAX CHECKS
ALLOTMENT CHECKS
INSURANCE CHECKS
ALMOST ANY CHECK



INTRODUCING
The Southeast's only Indoor PAINTBALL War Games. Pure Excitement! Money Back Guarantee.
KILL-SHOT, INC.
Call 685-0002 OPEN 10AM-12 Midnight Everyday
SHOOT OR BE SHOT AT KILL-SHOT
Visitors Welcome
Regular Players Save $2.00 with this ad when you buy 40 rounds.
Registered teams save $18.00 on Tues., Weds., & Thurs.

Turn off Victory Drive at The Trust Company Bank (Shelby Street) and take the first left (Phillips Street). Only 5 Min. from Ft. Benning.



VISA MILITARY CHECKS MASTERCARD

FOR THE GREAT OUTDOORS

4411 VICTORY DR.
UPPER LEVEL
I-185 & Victory Drive (Exit #1)
(404) 682-4124

NEW BONUSES NEED CASH TODAY? NEW BONUSES
Save lives and earn money by donating your time at one of the finest Plasma Facilities in the country.
New & Donors who have not donated in SIX MONTHS RECEIVE $7.00 BONUS with this ad.
Bring a Buddy & RECEIVE AN EXTRA $5.00
Additional Bonus on 6th & 8th Donations
EARN $10.00 AND ABOVE ON EACH VISIT
RIVERFRONT PLASMA CENTER
507 Dillingham St. - Phenix City
297-5711
Hours: Mon.-Wed.-Fri. 7-3:30 - Tues. & Thurs. 7-6:30

CONVENIENT EVENING HOURS FOR BENNING PERSONNEL
EARN OVER $100 PER MONTH

Window Works™
569-0290
— SALE OF SALES —
EVERYTING IS ON SALE DURING THIS BIG EVENT FOR SAVINGS UP TO
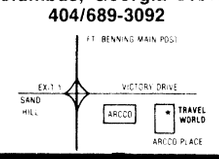
50% OFF
Bedspreads Drapes
Mini Blinds Shades
Headboard Covers Shutters
Verosals Verticles
For FREE ESTIMATE Call 569-0290 and a Decorator will come to your home or office to help you choose the colors and materials you need.
We offer FREE INSTALLATION Within 50 Mi.
*100 Days Same As Cash *Financing Available
3709 Gentian Blvd Columbus, GA

NEW LOW AIRFARES
Atlanta Roundtrip To:



Frankfurt	Munich	Brussels	London
$560 Thru 30 Apr.	$580 Thru 30 Apr.	$449 27 Apr.-31 May	$358 2 Apr.-27 Apr.
$660 1 May-30 May	$695 1 May-30 May	$719 1 June-30 Sep.	$408 28 April-6 June
$759 1 June-14 June	$779 1 June-14 June

*Certain Restrictions/Taxes Apply to These Fares
*Some Blackout Dates Exist

TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
3115 Mercury Drive
Columbus, GA 31906
404/563-8687

4393 Victory Dr.
ARCCO Place
Columbus, Georgia 31903
404/689-3092

Students breath fire into Dragon

Soon-to-be leaders get the basics

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

When a soldier talks about an Army Dragon, he's not referring to a legendary fire-breathing monster. He's talking about the M-47 Dragon, a medium, anti-armor weapon system that is integrated into almost every infantry platoon.

This portable weapon is designed to destroy targets and fortified positions at 65 to 1,000 meters.

Seven noncommissioned officers from Company B, 2nd Battalion, 29th Infantry Regiment present a two-day Dragon Training Course to Infantry Officer Basic Course students at South Galloway Range. The soon-to-be platoon leaders are taught the basics of setting up effective Dragon training programs in their prospective units.

Of course, in two days the NCOs can't teach the lieutenants to be experts, but they've got enough to start on, according Michael Goldstein, an instructor for the course.

"When the students come here, most of them don't know anything about the Dragon," Goldsmith said. "We lay the foundation, and it's up to them to build on that."

The foundation consists of hands-on training in firing positions, immediate-action exercises, returning the Dragon to carrying configuration, proper preparation of an anti-armor range card, technical data and employment of ammunition used for the weapon, combat tasks, setting up and conducting a tracking exercise and setting up a Dragon gunner's training program.

Goldsmith said although the lieutenants aren't officially graded for this course, "they are very anxious to learn about the Dragon," he said. "They need to be because the majority of these young officers know the Dragon will be the primary weapon in their units."

1st Lt. Douglas Stubbe, Company A, 2nd Battalion, 11th Infantry Regiment, IOBC agreed with Goldsmith's comment.

"As a platoon leader in an infantry unit, I will have Dragon gunners," Stubbe said, "and if I'm not familiar with the system, I won't be as effective."

"I can't ask my people to be experts if I'm not familiar with the equipment," he said.

Ann M. McDonald

1st. Lt. Douglas Stubbe, Co. A, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf. Regt., aims the Dragon Training Device downrange.

HOUSING LIST

Family Housing List
as of April 10

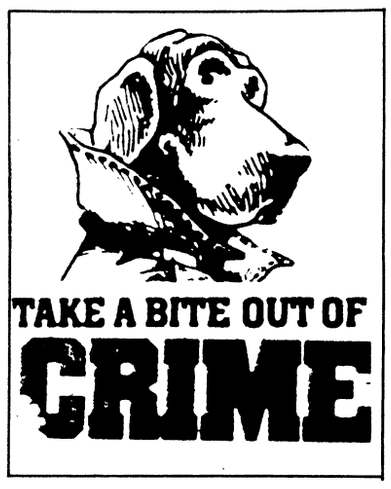
Jr. NCO-2 BR	Feb. 5, 1988
Jr. NCO-3 BR	Nov. 6, 1987
Jr. NCO-4 BR	April 3, 1989
Jr. NCO-5 BR	May 21, 1987
Sr. NCO-3 BR	Nov. 9, 1988
Sr. NCO-4 BR	Feb. 3, 1989
Sr. NCO-5 BR	Dec. 8, 1988
CGr. Off-2 BR	March 22, 1989
CGr. Off-3 BR	March 9, 1989
CGr. Off-4 BR	March 13, 1989
FG Off-3 BR	March 4, 1988
FG Off-4 BR	Dec. 23, 1987
Sr. Off-3 BR	Immediate
Sr. Off-4 BR	Immediate

By using the following procedure, soldiers on the family housing waiting list can use this chart to estimate when they can expect quarters:

Locate your category of housing.

Note eligibility date located on the same line as your category.

Calculate the time difference between the eligibility date listed and your eligibility date. The difference is the approximate time you still have to wait for housing.



EXAMPLE: If the latest eligibility date of the person who last received housing in your category was May 15, 1988, and your date of eligibility is Sept. 15, 1988, you can expect housing in about four months. If you do not know your eligibility date, contact the Family Housing Office at building 399, 545-3107.

Steve's Check Casher
Do you need a check cashed?
Come visit the Money Man.
WE CASH THEM ALL
$ INCOME TAX RETURN CHECKS
$ PERSONAL CHECKS
$ Payroll
$ Out of State
$ Two Party
$ Money Orders
$ Western Union
$ Tax Checks
$ Insurance Checks
$ Insurance Drafts
$ Government Checks
$ Cashier Checks
ALL TYPES
Let Us Handle All Your Check Cashing Needs!
3949 Victory Station Shopping Center
Suite 2 Next to Blimpie's
Come by and visit With Us Today or Call
689-8335
HOURS: M-F 10-7, Sat. 10-5

EAST ALABAMA NATIONAL TRUCK & TRACTOR PULL
PHENIX CITY, AL
REAL COMPETITION
9200 lb. MODIFIED 7 MOTOR TRACTORS
9500 lb. SUPER STOCK TRACTORS
6200 lb. 2WD TRUCKS
WORLD CHAMPION TIM ENGLER
APRIL 15th & 16th, 1989
SUPER STARS OF TRUCK & TRACTOR PULLING RETURN
EAST ALABAMA MOTOR SPEEDWAY
Phenix City, AL 205-297-2588
8 Miles West of Phenix City on US Hwy. 80
April 15-8:00 p.m. E.D.T.
April 16-2:00 p.m. E.D.T.
GENERAL ADMISSION
Ticket On Sale Day Of Show
Adults $10.00-Children $6.00 (6-12)
Children Under 6 FREE
WORLD CHAMPIONSHIP PULLING SERIES
WLTZ TV-38
MONSTER TRUCK SHOWDOWN - MAD DOG & WILDHAIR

"WE STYLE AMERICA"
Shears at Sears
EXPRESS HAIR SALON
Operated by The Glemby Co., Inc.
1989 The Glemby Co., Inc.
PERM WAVE Haircut & Style included $18
RELAXER Haircut & Blow Curl included $25
HAIRCUT & STYLE $10
Haircut Only $9
Style Blow Dry or Set $7
Reconditioning Treatment $3
NO APPOINTMENTS.
• Complimentary shampoo & light treatment with every service.
• All services guaranteed.
• Use your SearsCharge or Discover Card.
Columbus Square Mall
2nd Floor 561-6534
SEARS Your money's worth and a whole lot more.

PRIMUS
NEW ARMY PRIMUS CENTER PROVIDES WALK-IN MEDICAL CARE
PRIMUS Walk-In centers are a new approach to providing military beneficiaries access to primary health care. PRIMUS Columbus will be open 365 days each year—from 0700 to 2000 weekdays and from 0900 to 1600 Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays (Effective 10-1-88).
No appointment is necessary and there is no cost to patients for treatment and medication.
All military beneficiaries, including family members, entitled to care at military treatment facilities and enrolled in the DEERS are eligible for care. Basic laboratory and X-ray services are provided on site. Licensed and credentialed physicians and staff provide medical care.
PRIMUS Columbus is located at
1727 Boxwood Place
Columbus, GA 31906
Infoline: (404) 569-9464
Other Calls: (404) 561-7066
PRIMUS Mammography Information: (404) 569-9468
PRIMUS MAMMOGRAPHY INFORMATION: (404) 569-9468
PHENIX CITY
CHATTAHOOCHEE RIVER
BIBB CITY
COLUMBUS COLLEGE
MANCHESTER EXPRESSWAY
MACON ROAD
WYNNTON ROAD
BOXWOOD DRIVE
COLUMBUS
PRIMUS
1727 Boxwood Place
Columbus, GA 31906
PHONES
• INFOLINE (404) 569-9464
• OTHER CALLS (404) 561-7066
Critically ill or seriously injured patients should go to a hospital emergency room.
Services are provided by PHP Healthcare Corporation, Alexandria, Virginia, under contract to the US Army Health Services Command.

How to deal with obscene calls

By Barry Price
Provost Marshal's Office

Members of the Fort Benning community have been experiencing obscene or harassing phone calls.

One common ploy is a caller identifies himself as a person with some kind of "need to know" information of a personal nature. He explains that the spouse took a series of medical tests and information concerning certain personal habits is required.

Another ploy is a caller identifies himself as a relative or friend and says he is being held hostage at gunpoint and will be raped or killed if you don't comply. Often a man's voice is heard asking the person to do things of a "sexual nature."

In some instances, the caller even knows the name of the head of the household.

The following are techniques to discourage harassing or obscene phone calls:

- Never give out information of a personal nature to an unknown caller. If he says he is a relative or a friend, hang-up and call that relative/friend to verify his status.
- Don't talk or listen. It doesn't help to ask "Who is this?" or "Why are you calling me?"
- Write down the time and date. This information will be useful for investigators if the calls continue.
- If the problem persists, call your telephone service representative and explain the problem.
- As a last resort in self-defense, discourage recurring obscene phone calls by blowing a whistle into the telephone mouthpiece.
- If you receive calls that threaten your life, call the Military Police immediately at 545-2222.

Using these techniques will discourage the caller, and you can help the Military Police TAKE A BITE OUT OF CRIME.

Fraud games claim victims

Army Community Service

Soldiers and their family members often fall victim to what the Fort Benning Military and Columbus police call "personal confidence," "con" or "fraud games."

The purpose of these games is to get money or property from victims by some trick, device or swindle, that takes advantage of the confidence the victims place in the perpetrator.

Sgt. Jack McCoy of the Columbus Police Department's Crime Prevention Division says there are a wide variety of "con" operations The more frequently referred to "con games" or "personal confidence schemes" are short-range, hit-and-run operations, designed to "fleece" the victim and disappear before to being discovered.

Sometimes fraud games take on the form of legitimate businesses. Not long ago, the Fort Stewart Provost Marshal's Office informed the Fort Benning Military Police Activity a business known as "Ms Money" may be relocating to the Fort Benning area. Its method of operation is as follows:

A soldier or family member needing cash post dates a check ($50 for example).

Ms Money cashes the check for a $10 administrative fee and agrees not to cash the check prior to the date of the check.

Ms Money goes to the bank to cash the check that same day knowing the check will bounce.

The bank charges the soldier $15 for the bad check.

Ms Money charges the soldier $30 for the bad check.

Ms Money gives the soldier two hours to redeem the check. If not redeemed, a $6 warrant is sworn out for the soldier's arrest.

The soldier is arrested, goes to court, is found guilty by the judge and pays for the check and court costs The total expenses to the soldier is about $150.

Local police, at Fort Benning and Columbus need help in combating these and other unethical business practices.

Swindlers use many methods. There are all sorts of selling frauds, installment plans and gimmicks that range from door-to-door peddlers to huge computer-controlled, seemingly legitimate businesses that sell worthless insurance, stock, land and merchandise. It's all fraud. It's all designed to get your money and give you nothing.

McCoy, recommends the following steps in combating fraud:

- Learn about fraud, be informed.
- Check on businesses through the Better Business Bureau or the police.
- Shop around, check references and compare prices.
- Understand contracts and estimates. Have one of the lawyers at the Staff Judge Advocate's Office go over a contract with you before you sign it.
- Deal with local, well-established firms.
- Never do business over the telephone unless you initiate the call.
- Never do business with anyone at the door unless you requested the service.
- Have all repair people identify themselves and their companies before talking with them.
- Never pay until work has been performed to your satisfaction, and then, pay by check since you can stop payment.
- Report suspected fraud.

Following these steps will help save you money It can also save the smart consumer a great deal of grief and embarrassment.

Need Auto Insurance?
Call the Military Specialists
- Low down payment
- Money-saving deductibles
- Affordable payment plan
- 24-hour claim service

CALL TODAY
689-2787
2029 S. Lumpkin Road
Oakland Park Shopping Center
GET TO KNOW
GEICO

VISA CARDS ARE HERE!
VISA
COMPARE the terms of your Credit Union with the market and you'll make the switch.
$8.00 Annual Fee
15% Annual Percentage Rate
25 Day Grace Period
2786 Eckel Street
Fort Benning, GA 31905
682-0830
TIC FEDERAL CREDIT UNION
4811 Bankers Blvd.
Columbus, GA 31904
324-5288
Offer to eligible members only.

DOING WELL IN YOUR MILITARY TOWN?
EXPAND YOUR BUSINESS OR START
A NEW ONE NEAR FORT STEWART
THE SHOPPES OF HINESVILLE
HINESVILLE, GEORGIA
Join
FOOD LION
and
LIBERTY TV & STEREO
SHOE CITY
THE PARTY SHOP
ONE PRICE CLOTHING
CLASS OF N.Y. FASHIONS
DINO'S CRUSTY PIZZA
In-Line Stores and Outparcels Available
FOR LEASING INFORMATION,
CALL RDC TODAY!
(800) 221-7622

How Your Whole Troop Can Fly For Half Fare.

Many airlines offer discount fares for military personnel. But USAir and Piedmont give military dependents equal treatment.

On USAir and Piedmont, your dependents get the same discount you do—50% off the regular coach fare. And there are virtually no restrictions*.

Our military fares are good on every USAir, Piedmont or Allegheny Commuter flight, every day, to any U.S. destination.

Better still, your dependents fly 1/2 fare whether they're traveling with you or not.

So next time you're taking off on civilian maneuvers, contact your base leisure travel office. Or call USAir toll-free at 1 (800) 428-4322. Or Piedmont toll-free at 1 (800) 251-5720.

And fly the airline that gives special treatment to the people most special to you.

USAIR PIEDMONT
Subsidiaries of USAir Group, Inc.

*You must present your green active-duty military I.D., or your dependent I.D. marked "active." Discount does not apply to official military travel. Military Fare seating may be limited due to capacity control.

Rangers train hard to be 'best'

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The soldiers just finished a 10-mile road march with 50-pound ruck sacks, and later today, they plan to do it again. They're not on a mission for the Army but for themselves.

The soldiers, 13 members from the Ranger Training Brigade are preparing for the eighth, annual David E. Grange Best Ranger competition.

Best Ranger competitor, SFC Harvey Moore, and SSgt. William Ulibarri, the group's coach, both assigned to Company C, 2nd Battalion, have previously won the coveted title.

Moore won in 1985 and placed second in 1988. Ulibarri won in 1987.

Although the other competitors have yet to win, this will be the second competition for SFC John Reid of Co. C, 2nd Bn.; SSgt. Frank Hall, Co. D, 4th Bn.; SSgt. William Filipkoski, Co. C, 7th Bn.; SSgt. Jerome Ciciora, 6th Bn.; and SSgt. William Thetford, 5th Bn.

The oldest competitor is 1st Sgt. Roger Jutras, 45, and the youngest is Sgt. Allen Camp, 22. Both are from Co. C, 4th Bn.

There could be some rivalry among them, but there isn't. Actually, it's the opposite.

"Sergeant Moore tells me what I'm doing wrong even before I ask him," said Sgt. Allen Malaise, Co. D, 4th Bn. "Both he and Sergeant Ulibarri have been very helpful."

"We want to tell the guys about the problems we encountered and how we handled them," Ulibarri said, "so that when the chips are down, they can deal with it better."

Moore said it's not as though he's giving away any secrets.

"It all boils down to two things, no matter how you look at it — endurance and technique," he said.

Moore explained that everyone has a physical and mental base from which they build, but because they are different, they are limited to how far they can build.

A soldier can give his all and have good technique and still be unable to do something as fast as the other guy, Ulibarri said.

As the coach, he said he doesn't expect the competitors to become supermen, just do their best.

"It's not beating the other teams that matters," he said. "It's doing the best for yourself; if you happen to win, that's even better."

Ulibarri said the men competing are already achievers and competitors. "They like a physical and mental challenge," he said. "That's what draws them here. That's why I competed."

"If it's here and I'm here, I'm going to do it," Moore said. "That's just how I am. I think you have to test yourself everyday."

Moore and Ulibarri's attitudes seem to be the consensus of the group.

"I enjoy the competition and associating with a group of courageous warriors," Reid said.

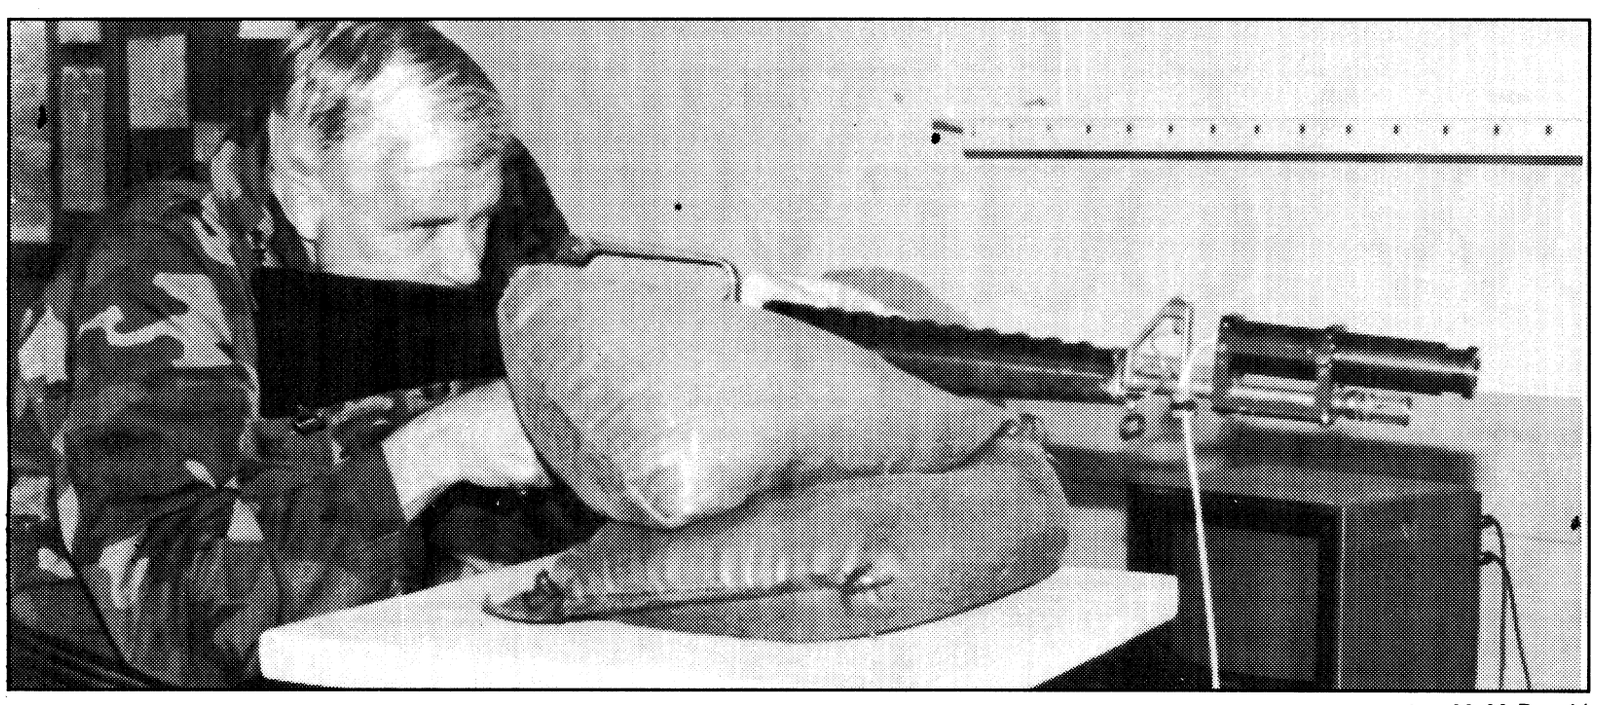
Members of the Ranger Training Brigade set out on a road march.

Ann M. McDonald

He said he's working hard, but he's not going at it with a vengeance.

"I find the humor in it," Reid said. "I believe you have to, or you'll get burned-out."

He added that burnout can happen quickly with the schedule they're keeping. Every day, except for Sunday, they're doing something — distance running, weight training, Darby Queen Obstacle Course and prusik climb training, swimming or road marching or honing basic ranger skills.



Those ranger skills (ranger stakes), are what they are concentrating on now.

"The stakes are worth the most points," Moore said, "but it's also the easiest place to trip up."

By concentrating on the stakes now, the men hope they won't trip up during the competition.

They along with SSgt. Bob Beiswanger, Co. A, 4th Bn.; SSgt. Wayne Hall, Co. C, 7th Bn.; Sgt. Bryan Kolodetsky, 6th Bn. and SSgt. Scott Wingate, 5th Bn. are honing and fine tuning themselves for the competition.

The rangers summed up their feelings saying, "We're going to give it our best shot. We've had fun training for the Best Ranger competition, and we'll have the memory of competing."

Ann M. McDonald

Weapon technology

Gen. Robert Russ, tactical air commander, tests his marksmanship skill on the Multipurpose Arcade Combat Simulator at the Infantry Conference.

◆ JVC ◆ KICKER ◆ PERCISION POWER

CREATIVE CAR STEREO

● SALES ● INSTALLATION
● SERVICE ● CUSTOM BUILT CABINETS

10% Off Any Purchase with this Ad. (Valid til 4-29-89)

3593 Victory Drive (across from Auto Shack) 689-3508

◆ PYLE ◆ BLAUPUNKT ◆ NIGHT STALKER ◆ SUNKYOUG

NEW MANAGEMENT

Nintendo Decks and Cartridges for Rent

$24.00 DAY

$5.75 DAY

THOUSANDS OF GREAT TITLES & MIDWEEK SPECIALS
UNBEATABLE RATES ON VCR, & VCR CAMERA RENTALS!

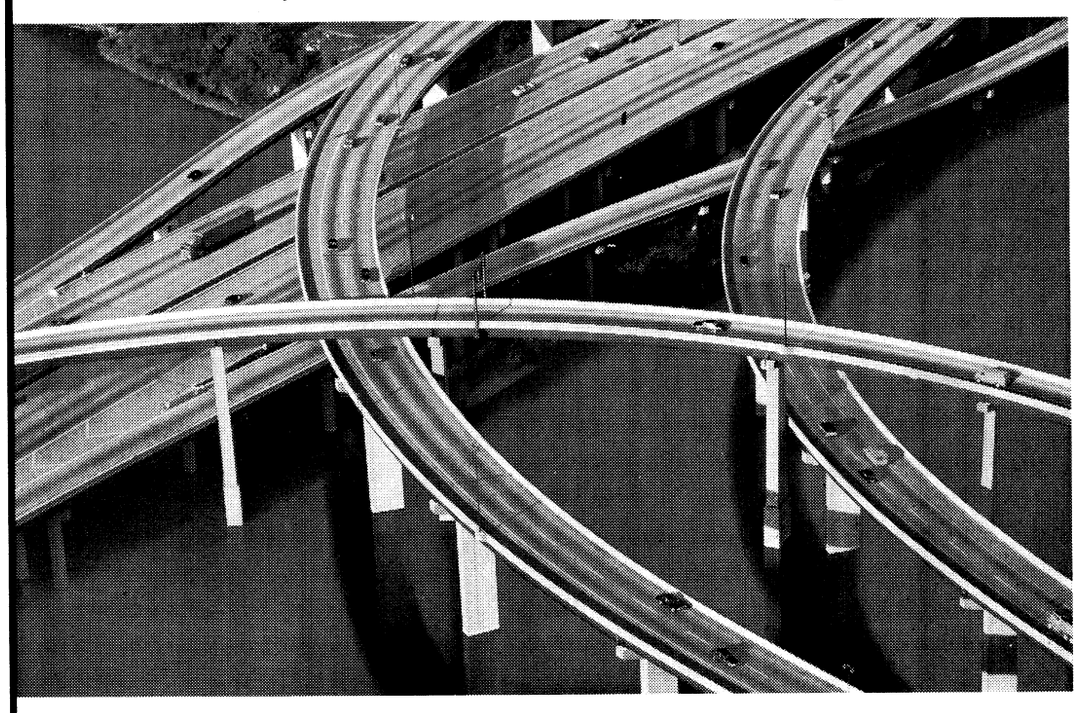
● APRIL RELEASES ●

COCKTAIL
BAT 21
CHILDS PLAY

TUCKER
MYSTIC PIZZA
EIGHT MEN OUT
GORILLA'S IN THE MIST

WATCHER
GROUND ZERO
STEALING HOME

AT YOUR NEW VIDEO HOME



MILITARY RENT-ALL

★ Bring This Ad In For 1 Free Movie Rental
One Free Movie Per Family Offer Expires 4/20/89

Main Exchange Building 9230
Mini Mall Building 1713
Fort Benning, GA 31905
(404) 689-8114 & (404) 682-2126

EXCHANGE SERVICE CONCESSIONAIRE

Protect yourself in this theater of operations...

Be sure about your car insurance.

You're an ace driver. But it's a jungle out there on the road. You need heavy backup. Are you sure about your present coverage? Is the company dependable? What about claims? Can they save you money with deductibles? Are you paying too much? Answers to these questions are as close as your phone. Call your GEICO Representative before you drive another mile. You can get a free, no-obligation rate quote in minutes. And be sure to ask about these other GEICO extras:

- A low initial down-payment starts your coverage
- Fast-action, 24-hour claim service in the U.S. and Canada
- GEICO has offices near most major military installations
- Convenient payment plans make budgeting a breeze
- GEICO can arrange overseas car insurance for you
- Over a half century of GEICO dependability and experience

Insist on quality car insurance. Stop in or call your local GEICO Representative today for a free rate quote.

GET TO KNOW GEICO

Call: 689-2787
2029 S. Lumpkin Road
(In the Oakland Park Shopping center)

Serving those who serve the nation
Government Employees Insurance Co. • GEICO General Insurance Co. • GEICO Indemnity Co.

88 19 alC 043

Ann M. McDonald

The antiquated rail system at Fort Benning is being dismantled.

Rail era ends here

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The railroad tracks on main post, built in 1943, are being removed.

Once used to transport soldiers, equipment and supplies, the tracks have been declared unnecessary and are being dismantled. The era of the railroad on Main Post has ended.

Maintaining the unused track was a waste of time and money, according to Charles Orr, chief of Facilities, Operation and Maintenance Division, Directorate of Engineering and Housing.

Orr said DEH put the track up for auction as scrap iron and sold to the highest bidder at the last Defense Reutilization and Marketing Office auction.

"The firm that bought the seven-point-two-miles of track is also responsible for removing it," Orr said. "Fort Benning doesn't have to pay a cent."

As a matter of fact, the post gained $64,272, which will be put in the recycle fund.

There are other benefits that come with the removal of the tracks, Orr said.

"DEH is going to fill in all the railroad crossings and make them smooth," he said. "That should make many drivers happy because, in the past, there have been complaints."

Orr said they will also be able to use the gravel from the tracks for various DEH projects.

ACS promotes buyer awareness

Army Community Service

In observance of National Consumers Week, April 23 to 29, Army Community Service is providing programs on food costs, money management and educational information to help soldiers and their families become more knowledgeable in the marketplace.

April 24 — The Good Day Show features Linda Smith, Consumer Credit Counseling Service, speaker at noon.

ACS will have an open house from 2 to 5 p.m. in building 2640.

The Georgia Extension Service plans an open house, noon to 5 p.m., at the Government Center building on the ground floor.

April 25 — ACS staff and volunteers will present a computer demonstration for consumers on weekly or monthly food costs at the Main Post Exchange from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Money management counselor training will be given for staff and volunteers, 10 a.m. to noon, by Linda Smith, Consumer Credit Counseling Service.

U-Bag-It for $2 — 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Thrift Shop, building 1230.

A panel discussion "Consumer Open Markets" is scheduled 7 to 9 p.m. at the Government Center. A guest speaker from the governor's office on Consumer Affairs will be there.

April 26 — Planning and cooking low-cost, nutritious meals will be discussed from 9 a.m. to noon at the Religious Education Center, building 229 by a Georgia Extension Service representative. Reservations are required. For more information, call ACS at 545-5516/7517.

Money management and debt management will be discussed from 1 to 2 p.m. at the Religious Education Center, building 229, by Linda Smith, Consumer Credit Counseling Service.

The Gallop Center for Senior Citizens features a speaker from Richard Ray's office to address current bills in legislature from 9 a.m. to noon. The topic is "Consumer Concerns of Senior Citizens."

ACS computer demonstration for consumers on weekly or monthly food costs at the Main Post Exchange from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

April 27 — Planning your purchases is the topic of a discussion at the Government Center Tower building on the ground floor by Joanne Cavis, Georgia Extension Service from 10 to 11 a.m.

ACS computer demonstration for consumers on weekly or monthly food costs at the Main Post Exchange from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

U-Bag-It for $2 — 10 a.m. to 2 p.m. at Thrift Shop, building 1230.

Family Member Employment Assistance Program presents, "Job Seeking Strategies Workshop for Adults," for military families only. It costs $4 per person (includes lunch), and will be at Youth Activities Center, building 1056.

April 28 — Student Consumer Night at the Main Post Exchange for grades kindergarten through 12.

ACS computer demonstration for consumers on weekly or monthly food costs at the Main Post Exchange from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

April 29 — ACS computer demonstration for consumers on weekly or monthly food costs at the Main Post Exchange from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m.

Additional activities: Consumer Affairs will provide post schools with booklets entitled, "My First Savings Account."

The Fort Benning Officer's Club will offer a 10 percent discount on lunches from April 24 to 28, 11:30 a.m. to 1:30 p.m.

WEATHER PROOF!

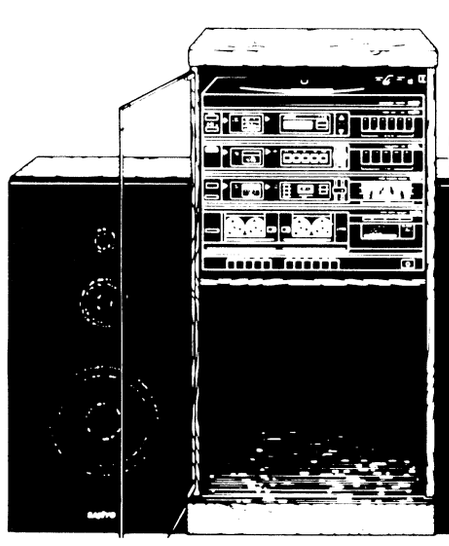
Whether it's a blizzard or a flood ... a good classified ad gets results. Call our Ad-visor today and get professional help to write a good classified ad.

Ledger-Enquirer Classified

322-4500

It Makes A Lasting Impression

INCOME TAX
Open: M-F 8AM-8PM, Sat. 8AM-5PM, Sun. 1PM-5PM
Drop Off or One Stop Service Available
● All States Prepared (1982-1988)
● Open All Year
● Military Welcome
● Rates Starting at $15.00
STEVE BROWN
NOW LOCATED IN
ARCCO PLACE
4393 Victory Dr. 689-7734

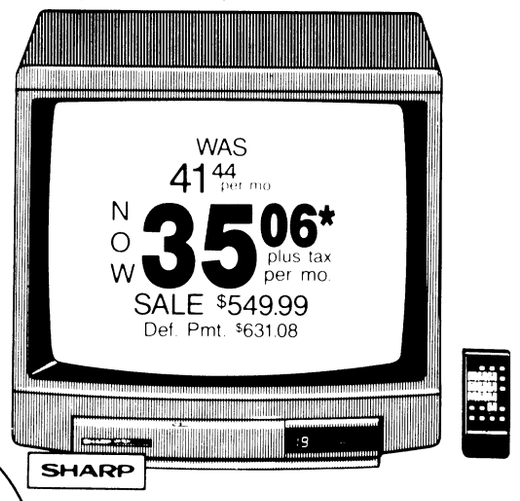


DISCOUNTED AIR LINE TICKETS
30%-70% OFF
DOMESTIC/INTERNATIONAL
*Subject to availability and restrictions imposed by airlines.
TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
4393 VICTORY DRIVE
ARCCO PLACE
COLUMBUS, GA.
689-3092
FT. BENNING MAIN POST
EXIT 1
SAND HILL
VICTORY DRIVE
Arcco
Travel World
Arcco Place

★ ATTENTION ★
Ladies and gentlemen!
NOVA Technologies, founder of the XR 5000 Stun Gun has their "Safety Tips - Personal Protection" video available for your viewing at
NO CHARGE
For more information contact:
MARK HOGENCAMP
MARK MARKETING
416½ BROADWAY
COLUMBUS, GA 31901
(404) 576-5125
GUARANTEE YOUR RIGHT
to feel confident, safe and secure!

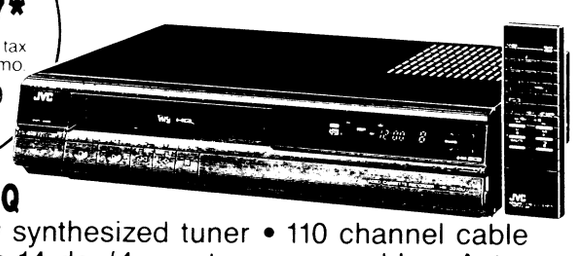
★ ELECTRONICS ★ JEWELRY
DEVON
Home Center Stores
★ FURNITURE ★ APPLIANCES

APRIL COUPON SALE!



Serving the Military & Civil Service with ★ CONVENIENT CREDIT
★ NO DOWN PAYMENT ★ TAKE IT HOME TODAY
★ FREE FINANCING If contract is paid within twelve (12) months of 1st contract due date, we will refund finance charges on that purchase.

WAS 54.19 per mo
NOW 44.63* plus tax per mo.
SALE $699.99
Def. Pmt. $803.34



SANYO 100 WATT RACK SYSTEM
• 5 band graphic equalizer • AM/FM stereo synthesized tuner with 18 memory presets • Dual transport stereo cassette deck with high speed dubbing, continuous playback, synchronous dubbing • Semi automatic turntable • 3-way speaker system

SHARP 19" REMOTE TV
• 22 function random access remote control • 140 channel Phase Locked Loop (PLL) quartz synthesized electronic tuning • Sleep timer

WAS 41.44 per mo
NOW 35.06* plus tax per mo.
SALE $549.99
Def. Pmt. $631.08

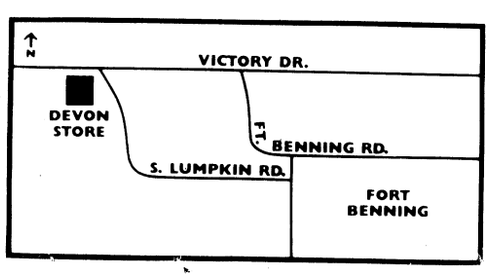
WAS 38.25 per mo
NOW 31.87* plus tax per mo.
SALE $499.99
Def. Pmt. $573.66

JVC VCR W/HQ
• Frequency synthesized tuner • 110 channel cable compatible • 14 day/4 event programmable • Auto power on/playback/rewind • Index search

COUPONS GOOD THRU APRIL 26, 1989

BASF 4 PACK T-120 BLANK VHS TAPES $19.99 SUPER BUY!

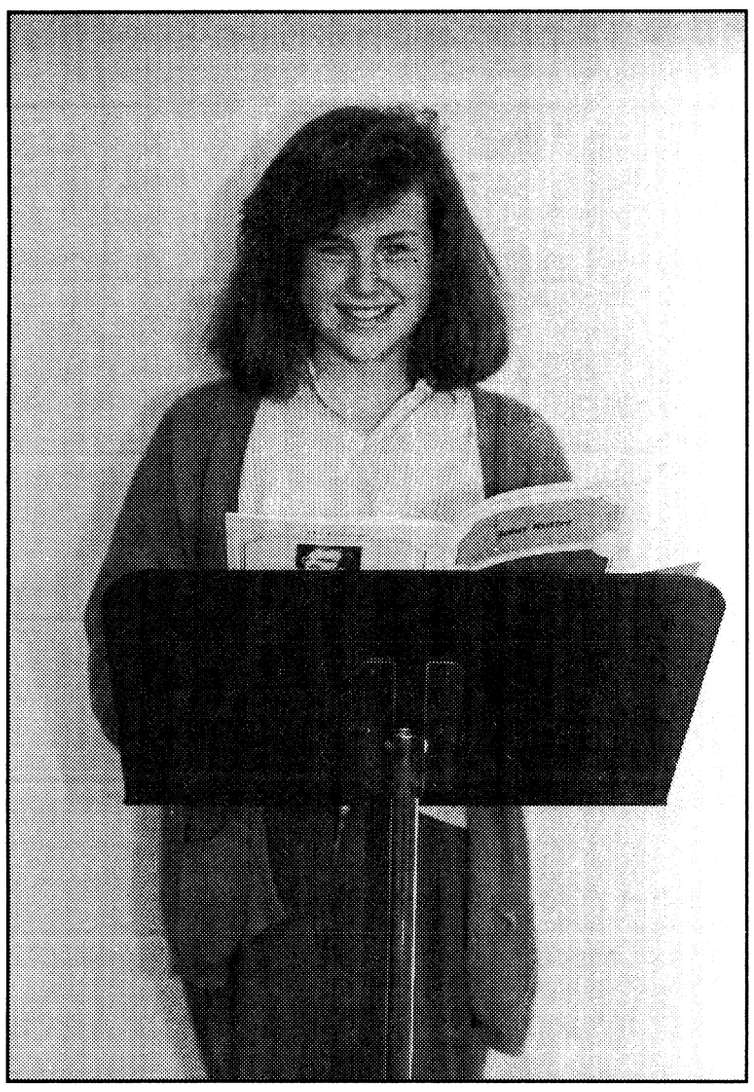
20% OFF REGULAR PRICE ON ALL PORTABLE RADIOS IN STOCK
Shown is just one example



FREE 3 AVANTI 90 MINUTE CASSETTE TAPES W/THE PURCHASE OF ANY ELECTRONIC ITEM CONTAINING A CASSETTE PLAYER
Any other Store Specials not valid with these advertised items.

SEE STORE MANAGER FOR EVEN MORE SAVINGS TOO NUMEROUS TO MENTION

HOME ENTERTAINMENT, STEREOS, TV'S, VCR'S, JEWELRY, APPLIANCES, FURNITURE



SALE ENDS APRIL 26, 1989

COLUMBUS #270
3296 Victory Drive
(404) 689-1210

Mon.-Fri. 10am to 8pm;
Sat. 10am to 6pm;
Sun. 1pm to 5pm

WE FINANCE ALL QUALIFIED MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE
*Per month pricing based on no down payment with 17.9% annual percentage for 18 months. Multiply monthly payments by 18 months for total cost. Price may vary depending on local sales tax, insurance or warranty.

Cindy Givens

Juli Broussard practices for the Georgia All-State Chorus to be held in Savannah.

Faith student goes to All-State Chorus

Fort Benning Schools

A Faith Middle School eighth-grader will represent the Fort Benning Schools at the Georgia All-State Chorus in Savannah April 26-29.

For Juli Broussard to qualify for one of the limited slots available to students throughout Georgia, she was required to audition. She sang a solo, performed the major, minor and chromatic scales and demonstrated sightreading and tonal memory.

Juli's teacher, Lorri Blanchard, said she is particularly proud of Juli's accomplishment because Juli chose to perform her solo in French.

School board elections upcoming

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

School board elections will be held May 16. Board seats up for election for two-year terms are the representatives from the Dexter, Faith, Loyd, Patch, White and Wilbur Schools.

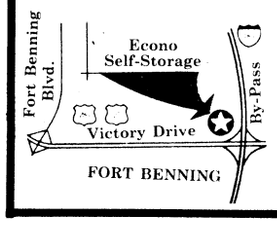
To be eligible to run, individuals must be the parent or guardian of a child enrolled in the school at the time they are elected to the board and must not be an employee or related to any school system employee. Since there are no "at large seats" available at Wilson or McBride schools, there will be no election held for those schools.

Parents of the children attending Fort Benning Schools set the direction for the schools their children attend through an elected school board.

A 10-member board, elected by parents of children attending the schools, meets monthly to set district policy and provide general direction to the system. Members are elected for two-year terms with each of the eight schools having a representative on the board. In addition to the eight school representatives, the board includes an elected president and chaplain.

Member's terms are staggered so that the board will include experienced board members each year.

Those interested in running for election should contact the school principal of the school for which they wish to run or the assistant superintendent for logistics, Richard Skinner, 545-2915.

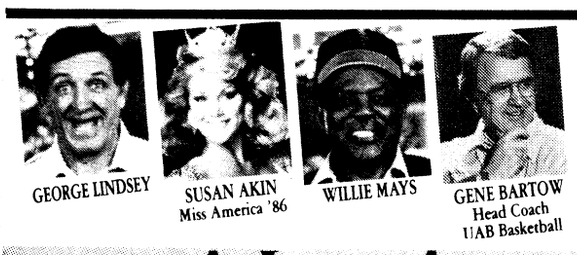


The board meets the last Monday of each month at 11 a.m. in the administrative conference room of the School Administrative Building on NCO Drive. The board considers school policies, approves the budget, approves curriculum changes and functions in much the same way as do school boards in civilian communities.

Current elected board members are: Col. Herbert Segal, president; Lt. Col. Donald McSwain, chaplain; Elizabeth Orloff, Dexter School representative; Joan Hutchins, Faith School representative; Charene Shaw, Loyd School representative; SSgt. Richard Patrick, McBride School representative; Vicki Ciccolella, Patch School representative; Lt. Col. Carolyn Bulliner, White School representative; and Melissa Hawkins, Wilbur School representative.

SATISFIED PEOPLE
make classified advertising work
Why don't you try the classifieds!
Ledger-Enquirer Classified
322-4500

Econo Self Storage
4483 Victory Drive
404-682-3803
FORT BENNING



UNIT SIZES AVAILABLE
Lockers 5(W) x 5(D) x 4(H)
5x10 10x10 $20 up 5x5 10x20

FOR THE MILITARY
Storage while TDY
Foot locker storage
Motorcycles
Boats
Personal effects
Bivouac
Permanent party storage

Call Now to Reserve Your Space
For Your Business or Family Items—Short or Long Term

DIVORCE..... $195 (simple uncontested)
BANKRUPTCY.. $295 Personal-No Assets-Chp. #7
ADOPTION..... $195 (all parties consent)
NAME CHANGE. $125 (no contest)
WILL..... $45 (simple)
DUI..... $195 (first-Nolo Plea)
plus court cost
LAW OFFICES OF
GARY I. KLEPAK
563-9333
2953 Mimosa St.
(Across from Sears Auto Center—Cols. Sq. Mall)

"With 60-store buying power, LORCH saves us money on Diamonds, Watches, and 14 Kt. Gold"

AT LORCH, APRIL IS
DIAMOND MONTH SALE!
Mother's Day Is Sunday, May 14 Remember Mother With A Gift From Lorch!
DIAMONDS 50%-40%-20% OFF!
"Super Sizzler"
7-DIAMOND CLUSTER RING
PREVIOUS SALE PRICE $69.95
$39.95
Illustration Enlarged To Show Exquisite Detail
Slight Additional Cost For Ring Sizing If Needed

60%-50% OFF! Entire Stock 14 KT. GOLD CHAINS & BRACELETS

	Reg.	Sale
7" Rope Bracelet	$139.95	$59.95
18" Rope Chain	$329.95	$139.95
7" Herringbone Bracelet	$55.95	$19.95
18" Herringbone Neckchain	$139.95	$49.95
18" Heavier Herringbone Neckchain	$219.95	$79.95

14 KT. SOLID GOLD FILIGREE RING Reg. $149.95 $79.95
14 KT. SOLID GOLD FILIGREE RING Reg. $79.95 $39.95
14 KT. SOLID GOLD FILIGREE RING Reg. $149.95 $79.95

SAPPHIRE AND DIAMOND or RUBY AND DIAMOND BRACELETS 1½ CT. T.W. Your Choice $599.00
HEART PENDANT w/CHAIN, SOLID GOLD Reg. $399.95 $229.95
Illustrations enlarged to show exquisite detail

UP TO $10,000 INSTANT CREDIT!
LORCH DIAMOND CENTERS
LORCH INSTANT CREDIT OR MAJOR CREDIT CARD
10% OFF ON ALL MERCHANDISE (Except Advertised Specials)
For Active Duty or Retired Armed Services Personnel.
COLUMBUS SQUARE MALL COLUMBUS, GA. ADJACENT TO JCPENNEY Phone: 404-563-9404
OTHER NEARBY STORES:
● Auburn, AL
● Sylacauga, AL
● Birmingham, AL
● Alexander City, AL

Some Problems Seem To Have No Solution. Illiteracy Does.

Volunteer tutors are part of the solution. The Muscogee Area Literacy Association's tutoring program is individualized and confidential. If you know someone who needs help learning to read, tell them about us. If you'd like to help, there's a way. JOIN US! BECOME A LITERACY TUTOR. Solve some problems. Make friends. You can make a difference.

NEXT TUTOR-TRAINING WORKSHOP
APRIL 25, 27, 29
April 25 & 27 are Tuesday and Thursday evenings, 6 PM-9PM.
April 29 is a Saturday, 9AM-4PM

Workshop will be held at the Columbus College Continuing Education Center.

TO REGISTER: Call Columbus College at 568-2023

FOR MORE INFORMATION ABOUT THE PROGRAM: Call the Muscogee Area Literacy Association (MALA) at 323-5678. An affiliate of Laubach Literacy Action.

PRESS to READ
A public service message sponsored by the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer.

YOUR NEXT ENLISTMENT SHOULD BE AS WELL PLANNED AS YOUR FIRST.

You didn't decide to join the Army until you were well armed with information. If you're considering reenlisting, make sure you get all the facts you need from an Army Career Counselor. Once you know about all of the options, benefits and bonuses for which you are eligible, you'll have all the information you'll need to make the right decision about your future.

USAIC REENLISTMENT
SGM Verray Caldwell, Command Retention NCO
Ph: 545-5649, Bldg. 1827,
MSG Lawrence Powell, Operations NCO
Career Counselor, Ph: 545-7387, Bldg. 1827
SFC William Hlebak, Career Counselor, Separate Units
Ph: 545-1982, Bldg. 1827
197th INFANTRY BRIGADE (SEPARATE)
SFC Robert Jones, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 544-2718, Bldg. 9058
MSG David Larson, USAR/NG Counselor
Ph: 544-2718, Bldg. 9058
SFC David Bell, Career Counselor, Separate Units
Ph: 544-2718, Bldg. 9058
SFC Delbert Miller, Career Counselor, 197th Support Bn
Ph: 544-2746, Bldg. 9058
SFC William Terrance, Career Counselor,
2nd Bn, 18th Inf
Ph: 544-1390, Bldg. 9075
SFC Emilio Gonzalez, Career Counselor,
2d Bn, 69th Armor,
Ph: 544-1457, Bldg. 9058
SSG Michael A. Baker, Career Counselor,
1st Bn, 58th Inf
Ph: 544-1634, Bldg 9046
SFC Willie Reynolds, Career Counselor,
4th Bn, 41st FA
Ph; 544-1612, Bldg. 9021
34th MEDICAL BATTALION
SSG Kermy Leon, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 545-4337, Bldg. 2832
36TH ENGINEER GROUP
SFC Mariano Campos, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 545-7388, Bldg. 2821
SSG Angela Watson, Career Counselor,
67th Maint Bn
Ph: 545-7388, Bldg. 2821
SSG Michael Lowe, Career Counselor, 43d Eng Bn
Ph: 545-7388, Bldg. 2821
THE SCHOOL BRIGADE
MSG William Lee, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 545-5006, Bldg. 2512
U.S. ARMY INFANTRY TRAINING CENTER
SFC Andrea Huntsberger, Career Counselor
Supervisor
Ph: 544-3853, Bldg. 3082
29TH INFANTRY REGIMENT
SFC Lonza Douglas, Career Counselor Supervisor,
29th IN Regt
Ph: 544-7447, Bldg. 4669
SFC Yvonne R. McMillian, Career Counselor,
1/29th IN Regt
Ph: 544-7447, Bldg 4669
SFC Donald L. Floyd, Career Counselor,
1/29th IN Regt
Ph: 544-7447, Bldg 4669
SSG Jeffery Dreitzler, Reenl NCO, 2d Bn, 29th Inf
Ph: 544-7447, Bldg. 4669
RANGER TRAINING BRIGADE
SSG William Wascisin, Reenlistment
NCO Supervisor
Ph: 544-6911/Ext 222, Bldg. 5024
75TH RANGER REGIMENT
SSG Gary Oryszak, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 545-1290/EXT 264, Bldg. 5010
SSG Steven Pietrowicz, Reenl NCO Supervisor
Ph: 545-1290 Ext 264, Bldg. 5010
UNITED STATES ARMY INFANTRY BOARD
SSG Charles E. Lewis, Reenl NCO
Ph: 545-5545, Bldg. 2850
MILITARY POLICE ACTIVITY
SSG William Hicks, Reenl NCO Supervisor
Ph: 545-1257, Bldg. 2814
U.S. ARMY MARKSMANSHIP UNIT
SFC Robert Stroman, Reenl NCO Supervisor
Ph: 545-7174, Bldg. 243
MEDDAC/DENTAC
SFC Robert Bailey Jr., Career Counselor
Supervisor (Temp)
Ph: 544-3362, Bldg. 9200
U.S. ARMY INFORMATION SYSTEMS COMMAND
SGT Wayne A. Fogle, Reenl NCO, Ph: 545-4311
US ARMY SCHOOL OF THE AMERICAS
SSG Gerard Roman, Reenl NCO
Ph: 545-1625, Bldg. 2816
IN-SERVICE RECRUITER (USAR/NG)
SGM Francis Murtha, In-Service
Recruiter Supervisor
SGM Claude L.Brown Jr., In-Service Recruiter
Ph:' 545-4132/544-4759, Bldg. 2617 Soldiers Plaza
SFC Marion E. Wallace, In-Service Recruiter
Bldg. 2617 Soldiers Plaza, Ph: 545-4132/544-4759

REENLIST.
BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

Keeping good soldiers in the Army is part of every leader's job. Whether you're an NCO or an officer, your leadership can have a powerful influence on your soldiers, especially on their decisions to reenlist.

Nobody knows better than you that when soldiers are treated fairly, with respect, and with a true concern for their goals and accomplishments, they're more likely to find their Army experience a positive one. And more likely to want to continue that experience.

As you know, it takes a lot to develop a good soldier. Time, patience, and effort. But the end result is worth it. Not just for a proud soldier, or the Army, but as a credit to your ability as a leader.

Next time you stand in front of your troops, remember that they're not just in the Army, they are the Army. And they're yours to keep.

ARMY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

THEY'RE YOURS TO KEEP.

COMMUNITY

CLASSES

Funnel cake class — Learn to make Funnel Cake at the Kelley Hill Recreation Center, today, 7 to 8 p.m. The class is free. For more information, call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m., 544-1721/3079.

★

Paper earring class — The Kelley Hill Recreation Center will sponsor a paper earring class April 26 at 6 p.m. For $10, you will be able to make and take home a pair of earrings. Space is limited, so pre-registration is a must. For more information, call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m., at 544-1721/3079.

★

Nutrition — Nutrition classes are being sponsored by Army Community Service in conjunction with Martin Army Community Hospital the second and fourth Tuesday of each month from 2 to 3 p.m. in Soldiers' Plaza, building 2640. Participants will learn basic nutrition, including shopping for low-cost foods high in nutritional value. For more information, call 545-4043 or 545-HELP.

MEETINGS

Military Engineers — The Society of American Military Engineers will meet Thursday at the Fort Benning Officers' Club at 11:30 a.m. Col. Charles T. Myers III, commander, Huntsville Division, U.S. Army Corps of Engineers, Huntsville, Ala., will speak on "The Mission and Current Programs of the Huntsville Division." Myers graduated from Rice Institute with a bachelor of science in physics and received his master's degree in engineering management from the University of Missouri at Rolla, Mo. He is also a graduate of the Armed Forces Staff College and the Army War College. He has held numerous command and staff assignments in the United States and overseas.

★

Management Association — The Fort Benning Management Association will meet Thursday, 11:30 a.m., at the Main Post NCO Club. The speaker will be Dr. Sidney Levine who will address "Managing Job Stress." The cost of the lunch is $4.65 for stir-fried beef or $4.10 for chef salad. Call in reservations by Monday to Carol Harris, 545-5580/5656.

★

4-H — There will be a 4-H meeting Wednesday at 4 p.m. at the Youth Activities Center for children 8 years old through high school age. For more information, contact Barb Barela, 689-0943 or Cheryl Forehand at the Georgia Extension Service, 571-4792.

★

Video Camcorder Users Group — The Video Camcorder Users Group, sponsored by the Kelley Hill Recreation Center, will meet Wednesday at 7 p.m. There is no charge. For further information, call 544-1721/3070 Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m.

★

Job seeking workshop — The Family Member Employment Assistance Program will host a Job Seeking Strategies Workshop for military youths, ages 12 through 21 at the Youth Activities Center, building 1056 Wednesday from 4 to 7 p.m. Issues to be covered include seeking employment, interview techniques and proper dress for interviews and employment. Reservations to attend this free workshop can be made by calling the Family Member Employment Assistance Center at 545-5340/5176.

MISCELLANEOUS

Family cookout — The Army Community Service Family Members with Special Needs Program is sponsoring a family cookout for those enrolled in the Exceptional Family Member Program April 22 from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Youth Activities Center, building 1056. Families are asked to bring a side dish or dessert. Activities are planned for the entire family. RSVP by today. For more information, call Lydia Brunk, 545-3605.

★

Summer Camp — Registration for Youth Activities summer day camp will begin May 1 and continue until May 30.

Summer Camp is open to children ages 6 through 11 of active duty and retired military personnel. Registration will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

Camp will consist of four two-week sessions. Participants are limited to one session each. Sign-ups will be taken Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. at Youth Services, building 1056, on McIver Street. The first session of camp will begin June 19. For more information, call 545-3070.

★

Summer Camp volunteers needed — Volunteers are needed for Army Community Service's Special Needs Program summer camp. Prospective volunteers must be 16 years old or older, have a genuine interest in children, be patient and a caring individual and have lots of energy and enthusiasm for sports, games and crafts. A week of training will be provided prior to the camp, which runs from June 19 to Aug. 11 in four two-week sessions. Commitments to at least one full session are required. To volunteer, call Lydia Brunk at 545-3605.

★

Exceptional family members — If you have family members enrolled in the Exceptional Family Member Program and are interested in getting them involved in recreational/leisure activities adapted to their needs, call Lydia Brunk, recreation specialist with ACS Family Members with Special Needs Program at 545-3605 or visit building 1056, the Youth Activities Center.

★

"Women's Health Night — The OB/GYN and Family Practice Department at Martin Army Community Hospital announces "Women's Health Night," a monthly lecture series for women about women's health issues Thursday, 7 to 8:30 p.m., on the second floor — Baugh Conference Room, MACH. The lecture will be "Your Body After 40 — Things You Should Know." For more information, contact Maj. Mary Jo King-Pugh, head nurse, OB/GYN Clinic, 544-1209.

★

Lifeguards needed — Applications for Recreation Aid (lifeguard) are still being accepted for the Nonappropriated Fund Summer Employment Program between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the Directorate of Civilian Personnel, building 35, Room 100. To qualify, applicants must present current certificates for cardiopulmonary resuscitation, Advanced Lifesaving and First Aid. Anyone age 14 and above may apply.

★

Preschool — There are a few openings for 4-year-olds at the Fort Benning Early Childhood Development Center, Inc., (Patch Preschool) for this school year. Children must have been 4 years old on or before Sept. 1, 1988, to be eligible. Call 687-2404 for more information.

★

Money management — Monetary matters in marriage, types of family financial crises, methods of financial management, money-stretching techniques and sources of additional revenue will be discussed at a seminar each Monday between Monday and April 24, 7 to 9 p.m., at the Pastoral Institute. The seminar will be led by Wayne Anthony, M. Div., M.B.A.

★

"Hell on Wheels" reunion — Veterans of the 2nd Armored Division and attached units are invited to a "Hell on Wheels" reunion May 24 through 27 at the Columbus Hilton Hotel. For more information, call Loren Guge at (904)596-6834.

★

Uchee Creek Recreation Area — The Uchee Creek Recreation Area is gearing up for spring. The campground has five fully self-contained Scotty campers on site and available for rental. These campers feature heating and air conditioning, a three-burner stove and a refrigerator. It will comfortably sleep four campers. A rental fee of $17 per night will include a campsite, propane, water and electricity. There are 30 campsites at the recreation area that feature water, electricity. They rent for $5 per night. The camping area has a centralized dump station. The following tents and campers may be rented from the Equipment Checkout Center:

* 9 by 12 foot tent, $5 per day
* Pop up camper (sink & stove/sleeps 4), $10 per day or $50 per week
* 14-foot Scotty camper (air conditioning/heater/ice box/stove/sleeps 4), $12 per day or $60 per week
* 17-foot, fully self-contained (air conditioning/heating/refrigerator/stove/shower/sleeps 6), $17 per day or $100 per week

The Uchee Creek Recreation Area can be contacted at 545-4053 Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. (MWR)

★

U-Haul — U-Haul trailers, vans and assorted equipment are available for rent at the Fort Benning Equipment Checkout Center. The following equipment is available: (10 percent off with a military identification card.

* 6 by 12 foot trailers
* 5 by 8 foot van trailers
* 4 by 6 foot van trailers
* Auto transports
* Tow dollies
* Tow bars
* Bumper hitches
* Car dollies
* Pet carriers
* Furniture pads

Retail items include:

* Packing boxes
* Bubble pack
* Hitch balls
* Light hookups installed
* Packing tape
* Styrofoam pack
* Hitch ball covers

Prices vary depending upon the time and distance for which the rental is required. Call the Equipment Checkout Center at 545-7978 or 545-3504 to reserve your rentals Monday, Wednesday Thursday. (MWR)

★

Instrument rentals — The Kelley Hill Recreation Center has several instruments for rent, from amplifiers to trumpets and just about everything in between. We offer daily, weekly and monthly fees. For more information, call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. at 544-1721/3079.

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteer — The following volunteer opportunities are available at Fort Benning:

● Volunteers are needed to man a computer ACS will have at the Commissary April 24 through 28, to help patrons plan nutritious, low-cost meals. Training will be provided. Volunteers are needed for four-hour shifts. Training on site will be provided.

● A typist is needed at the Religious Education Center. Make your own hours.

● ACS needs a volunteer leader to supervise nearly 80 people.

● A writer is needed to produce monthly or bi-monthly articles for ACS, to be printed in The Bayonet. Make your own hours. Free child care is available.

● Boy and Girl Scouts needs volunteers for various positions requiring four hours a month to three hours per day. Pick your own job.

For more information on these opportunities or a listing of others, call Karen Crowley at the Volunteer Resource Center, 545-5602.

WIVES' CLUBS

NCO Wives' Club

Brunch — The NCO Wives' Club will have a brunch April 26, 9:30 a.m. at the NCO Club.

★

Scholarships — The NCO Wives' Club is taking applications for scholarships. Applications are available at the Main Post Exchange and Commissary. The deadline is April 30. For more information, call J. Boryl at 323-6202.

★

Walk America — The NCO Wives' Club is participating in Walk America for March of Dimes April 22 at 9 a.m. To make donations or to participate, call Michelle Green at 682-9733.

Officers' Wives' Club

OWC picnic — The annual OWC picnic will held Wednesday at 11 a.m. at Riverside, home of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Michael F. Spigelmire.

Admission will be $1, which will cover drinks and dessert. Attendees should bring their own food. The picnic is open to the public. In case of foul weather, the picnic will be held in the Youth Activities Center, building 1056. For more information, call Dickie Newton at 689-8414.

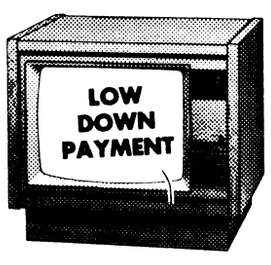
★

School of Dance — The Officers' Wives' Club School of Dance offers the following classes for all military families, active duty, retired, officer or enlisted:

Ballet — Jane Frenkel	563-0294
Gymnastics — Kelly Cargill	563-8176
Karate — John Touchton	1-582-3117
Heartbeat Aerobics — Kathy Greene	682-9854
Tap and Jazz — Becky Jose	682-4219
Performing Arts — Libbie Kurinec	322-6942
Piano — Diane Swiecicki	297-6524
Guitar — Lewis Finn	563-0099

For those interested in a specific class, please call the instructor. For general information, call Delaura Gallatin, 689-9937.

Read the Classified Pages Everyday For Bargains
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
Call 322-4500



AUTO STORAGE WAREHOUSE
● SPRINKLER
● BURGLAR ALARM
● INSULATED
by MONTH or YEAR
ALLIED BONDED WHSE.
4301 ALLIED DR.
COLUMBUS (404) 687-0222

(512) 595-5011
TEJANO-PARTY-MUSIC
Orchestra - Conjunto - Grupos
Latest records and tapes
Call or write for catalog
Mail order
Manny Salazar
819 S. 19th St.
Kingsville, Tx 78363

United Services Life Companies
Investments-Life Insurance-Financial Planning
Jim Cotty
4034 Windtree Lane
568-7280
Lawrence P. Fulton, CLU
LTC US ARMY (RET)
596-8033
United Services Life Companies
United Services Life Insurance Co.
United Services Equities, Inc.
Members of USLICO Corporation
The Professionals!
Investment products distributed by USLICO Securities Corp., Arlington, VA.

SAVE MODERN TV & APPLIANCE SAVE

GE 25" CONSOLE
COLOR CONSOLE

Model 8-2503
● Automatic Fine Tuning
● 110° COTY Picture Tube
● Automatic Color Tracking
ONLY $449.95

ZENITH
19" diagonal Color TV

Model SS8915W
● With Remote Control
● Vertical Space-Saving Design
● Eastern Walnut Color Finish
ONLY $369.95

QUIK N' E-Z
QUIK CREDIT
E-Z TERMS

MOVIES
AS Low As 99¢ Per Day
Over 800 Titles to Choose From
No Membership Fee

matching
home laundry pair

WASHER Model WLW 1500B
DRYER Model DLB 1550B
SAVE ON THE PAIR
ONLY $688.00 for the pair

large capacity
refrigerator

Hotpoint
17.7 Cu. ft. no-frost refrigerator ▨ Adjustable split-level shelves ▨ Equipped for optional icemaker
Model CTX18E
ONLY $729.95
With Icemaker

FREE DELIVERY
HRS: 9AM-6PM MON-SAT
MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
You Don't Need A Lot Of Money, Just A Little Bit A Month
2039 FT BENNING ROAD
SERVICE AFTER THE SALE
687-8249 /682-1341

BIRTHS

Martin Army Community Hospital

GIRLS

Nadia Iris Rodriguez — Born March 22 to Spec. Hermen and Iris Rodriguez.

Daniela Elisabeth-Lynn Thompson — Born March 23 to 1st Sgt. Jeffrey A. and Christa Thompson.

Tiffany LeeAnn Aikens — Born March 23 to Sgt. John and Deborah Aikens.

Andrea Marie Hamilton — Born March 25 to Pvt. 2 Keith and LaRinda J. Hamilton.

Nakela Jeree Jackson — Born March 26 to Sgt. Robert B. and Ruby L. Jackson.

Tikayla LaSummer James — Born March 27 to Sgt. Herman and Patricia A. James.

Kiersten Michelle Young — Born March 28 to Sgt. Scott E. and Christina M. Young.

Amanda Kealani Alcantara — Born March 29 to SSgt. Arturo and Grace M. P. Alcantara.

Braylee Alayne Pinson — Born March 30 to PFC David and Amy Pinson.

Karen Samantha Bumpus — Born March 31 to Spec. William and Mi Son Bumpus.

Lisa Marie Hewitt — Born March 31 to Spec. James R. and Kyong Son Hewitt.

Erin Lynne Hinkes — Born April 1 to 2nd Lt. David and Jennifer Hinkes.

BOYS

Angel Raul Torres — Born March 16 to Cpl. Edwin and Maribel Torres.

LeSean Jordan Mannings — Born March 21 to Spec. Donald and Dorothy Mannings.

Donald Joshua Watson — Born March 21 to SSgt. Sean T. and Karen S. Watson.

Timothy Calvin Jenkins — Born March 22 to Spec. Ricky and Jennifer Jenkins.

Frank Roy Barton — Born March 25 to SSgt. John and Juanita J. Barton.

Dennis Wayne Jones Jr. — Born March 25 to LCpl. Dennis W. and Monique C. Jones.

Joshua Miguel Merritt — Born March 25 to Spec. Miguel and Toni R. Merritt.

Timothy Aaron Davis — Born March 29 to SSgt. Alvin G. and Debra S. Davis.

Jason Alexander Getz — Born March 31 to Sgt. Gordon M. and Trudy C. Getz.

Colton David Brewton — Born April 1 to SSgt. Kim D. and Daffany R. Brewton.

Andrew Lewis Clark Parman — Born April 1 to Spec. Terre D. Lynette M. Parman.

David Alan Walker — Born April 4 to Spec. Cary A. and Sheila D. Walker.

John David Wygle Jr. — Born April 4 to PFC John D. and Nita Wygle.

Trinton Pierre Burney — Born April 2 to Spec. Pierre S. and Priscilla A. Burney.

Andrew Anthony Jones — Born March 4 to 2nd Lt. Anthony R. and Lorna D. Jones.

SPIRITUAL

Passover commemorates God's deliverance of Jews

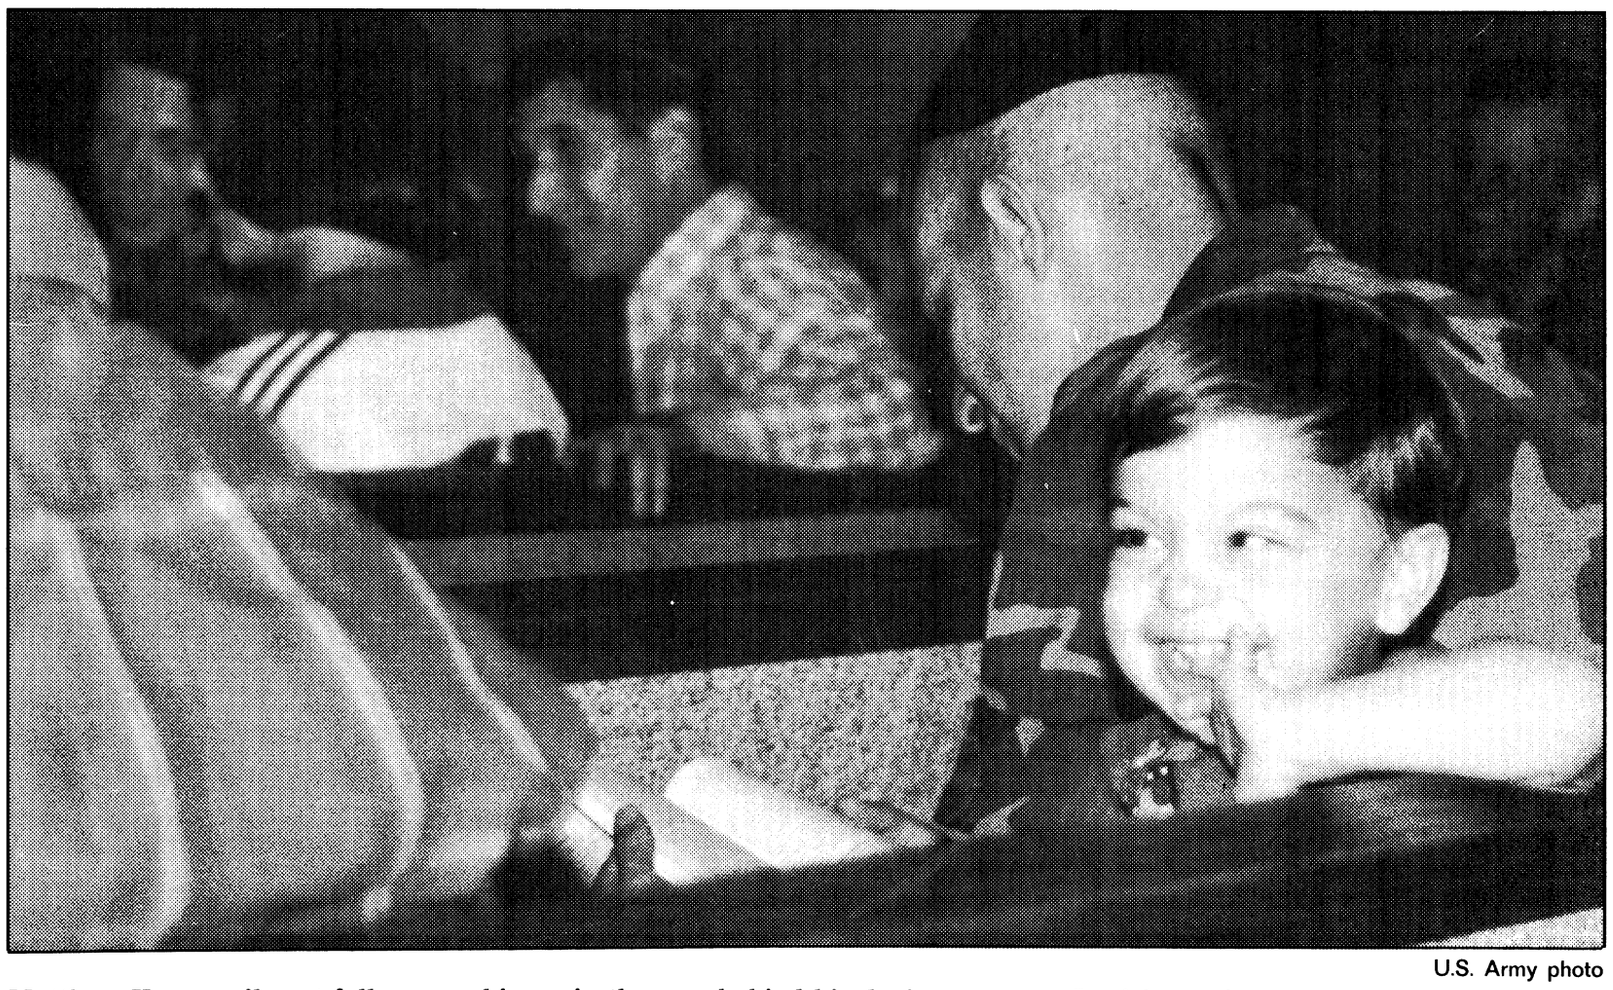
By Chap. Barry R. Baron
2nd ITB Chaplain

What is freedom for? Are people supposed to be free only so they can do whatever they want, or is freedom for people to fulfill a higher purpose?

Passover, the Jewish Festival of Freedom, provides answers to these questions.

Passover commemorates God's miraculous deliverance of the Jewish people from Egyptian slavery. According to the Biblical account, God brought 10 plagues to convince Egypt's king to free his Israelite slaves.

The 10th plague was the death of all Egyptian first-born children and animals. While the Egyptian first-born died, the Israelite first-born were spared. As this was about to occur, God commanded the Jews observe an annual festival in memory of their liberation. The festival was named "Passover" because God "passed over" the houses of the Israelites when he slew the Egyptian first-born.



This year, the eight-day festival of Passover begins Wednesday evening. On the first two evenings, Jews participate in a Seder, a communal meal at which the story of Passover is told and the meaning of freedom discussed.

Throughout the eight days, Jews refrain from eating bread or other leavened products. This abstinence commemorates the haste of Israel's exodus from Egypt. Since, in the haste of departure, unrisen dough was snatched from the oven, the Israelites ate unleavened bread.

The message of Passover is one of freedom for a purpose. In the Bible, the Israelites are reminded continually they were freed from slavery to do God's work in the world. Jews are directed to remember their origins and respond appropriately.

"You shall not oppress a stranger, for you know the feelings of the stranger, having yourselves been strangers in the land of Egypt (Exodus 23:9)."

Freedom has a purpose. As free people, Americans have an obligation to remember the conditions of suffering that accompany servitude and to work to further God's plan for humanity by alleviating those conditions.

U.S. Army photo

Matthew Kane smiles at fellow worshipers in the pew behind his during a recent Jewish service.

CHAPEL BRIEFS

USAIC Chaplain's Office

Ecumenical

Vacation Bible School — Vacation Bible School classes will be held from 10 a.m. through noon June 18 through 23 at Dexter, McBride and Wilson schools. Classes will include Bible study, music, crafts, recreation and refreshments.

Adult volunteers are needed. Call 545-2050 for more information.

Catholic

Pre-Baptism class — The Religious Education Center will sponsor a pre-baptism class Sunday. The class is a requirement for parents who wish to have their child baptized in the Catholic Church at Fort Benning or to take a letter to their home parish. Expectant parents are encouraged to attend. Call Phil Reilly, 545-2771, for more information and registration.

Protestant

PWOC — The Protestant Women of the Chapel meet each Thursday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Religious Education Center. Baby-sitting is provided. Contact Debby Godwin, 687-7157, or Annette Saul, 682-1157 for more information.

New Inquirers' Sunday School — Chap. (Col.) Roy N. Mathis will begin a six-week series of classes Sunday at the Main Post Chapel during the regular Sunday School hour, 9:30 to 10:30 a.m., in the Religious Education Center. The course is open to grades 3 through adult. Students will have the opportunity to select a denominational preference for additional training, baptism or confirmation. Call the Religious Education Center at 545-4715 for more information.

Junior High Youth Group — "Teen-agers in the Army Families Today" will be presented by the Protestant Junior High Youth Group Sunday from 6:30 to 8 p.m. in the TIC Chapel Annex. The program concludes April 23 when the students will prepare dinner for their parents. Contact the TIC Chapel at 545-2050 for more information.

Chapel spring clean-up — Volunteers are invited to the Infantry Center Chapel to help with the annual spring clean-up and to plant flowers April 22.

Jewish

Passover Seder — The Passover Seder communal meal will be Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the ITC Chapel at Sand Hill.

Services — First Day Passover Service will be Thursday at 10 a.m. Seventh Day Service will be April 25 at 7:30 p.m. and April 26, 10 a.m. All services will be at the ITC Chapel at Sand Hill.

Muslim

Friday services — Muslim services are conducted each Friday at noon in Olson Hall, Room E-303. For more information, call the Allied Liaison Student Detachment at 545-4212.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)
2622 Macon Road
Douglas A. Garner, Pastor
Sunday School 9:45AM
Morning Worship 11:00 AM
EVERYONE WELCOME!

SOUTH COLUMBUS UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
1213 Benning Drive
10 Minutes from Ft. Benning
Sunday School 9:45 am
Morining Worship 11:00 am
689-5094

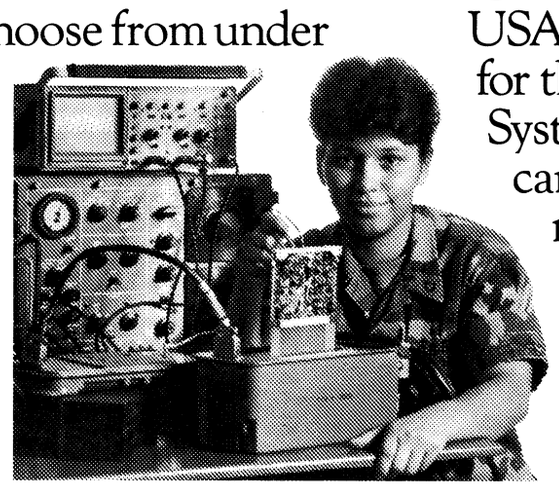
To Advertise In
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
Classified
Call 322-4500

ROSE HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST
7479 Old Moon Road
DAVID G. SPIECE, MINISTER
- BIBLE STUDY 10:00 AM
- EVENING WORSHIP 6:30 PM
- WEDNESDAY MIDWEEK SERVICE 7:30 PM

First Assembly of God
1309 10th Ave. at 13th St.
Phenix City, Ala.
WELCOMES ALL
Military Personnel
to worship with us.
Sunday School 9:45
Service 10:45
Evening Service 6:00pm

OUR LADY OF LOURDES CATHOLIC CHURCH
Located near Ft. Benning
at 1953 Torch Hill Rd.
Phone 689-5720
SATURDAY VIGIL
MASS 5:30pm
SUNDAY MASSES
8:30am & 11:00am

NORTHSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(A New Testament Church)
1442 Double Churches Road
Sunday School 9:45am
Morning Worship 10:45am
Evening Worship 6:00pm
Spencer Arnold, Minister
324-5220

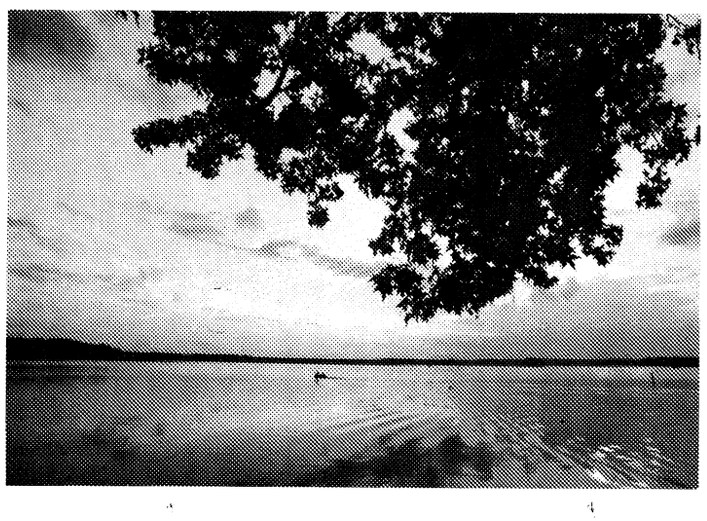


VICTORY DRIVE CHURCH OF GOD
3941 Victory Drive 689-3359
Service Times
Sunday School 10 am, Worship 11 am
Childrens Church 11 am, Evening Worship 6 pm
Wed. 7 pm Family Training Hr., Fri. 7 pm Youth Night
Senior Pastor M. H. Avera III 682-4664
SPANISH MINISTRY
Sunday School 10 am, Worship 11 am
Thursday 7:30 pm 568-7018
Spanish Pastor Pedro Sanchez

NORTH HIGHLAND ASSEMBLY OF GOD
7300 Livingston Drive Columbus, Georgia 31909
Weekly Service Schedule
Sunday School 9:30am, Worship 10:30am & 6pm
Wednesday Evening, Family Night 7:00pm
(Children & Youth Activities-Adult Bible Study)
Security Parking Nursery
Jimmy R. Swilley, Sr. Pastor
For Information call (404) 561-7777

NOW'S YOUR CHANCE TO LET THE ARMY KNOW WHAT YOU WANT TO DO.

1 YOU CAN CHANGE YOUR MOS. There are hundreds of new MOS's to choose from under the Army Training Reenlistment Option. Or, you may be able to reenlist with the same MOS, for airborne training.

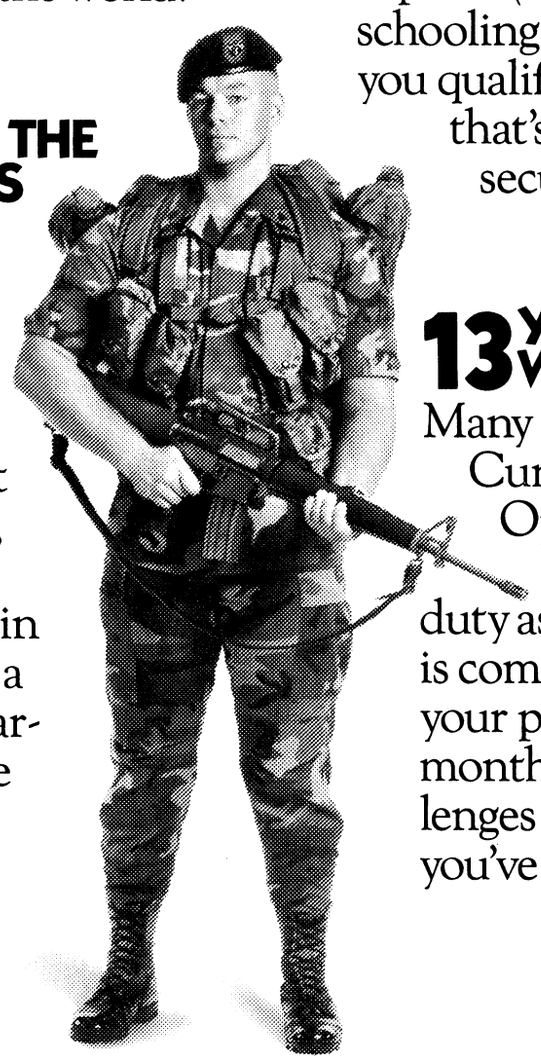


2 YOU CAN STAY WITH YOUR PRESENT REGIMENT.
Under the Regiment of Choice Option, you can reenlist and stay with your present regiment, or try a different one. If you're not presently in a regiment, you may be able to get into one. This option lets you make long-range plans, because you'll know where your regiment will be located.

3 YOU CAN GO TO BERLIN.
If you want to be on the front line of freedom, you may be able to reenlist under the Berlin Brigade Option. It isn't an easy duty, but it is an important one. The Berlin Brigade symbolizes our country's commitment to peace in Europe.

4 YOU CAN JOIN THE "BIG RED ONE."
Under the Combat Arms Unit of Choice Option, you could reenlist to become part of the "Big Red One," or any one of a number of the Army's best units. You don't have to be in a combat unit now, and most of these units have vacancies in almost every MOS.

5 YOU CAN SEE MORE OF AMERICA.
With the CONUS to CONUS Option, you can reenlist to relocate in a different part of the United States. Naturally, it all depends on whether your MOS is needed at your desired location.



6 YOU CAN LEARN A HIGH-TECH SKILL. Under the USAISC Option, you may qualify for the U.S. Army Information Systems Command. There, you can learn high-tech skills like radio teletype operation or satellite communications repair. There are over 140 MOS's, and you can serve in CONUS or overseas.

7 YOU CAN COME BACK TO THE STATES.
If you're overseas and want to come home, the CONUS Station Option can make it happen. Of course, a lot depends on what your MOS is, and where you want to go, but the Army will make every effort to relocate you, upon completion of your overseas tour, at a location of your choice.

8 YOU CAN GO OVERSEAS.
The Overseas Reenlistment Option makes it possible for you to spend a minimum of 12 months in Germany, Korea, or some other exciting part of the world.

9 YOU CAN JOIN THE SPECIAL FORCES OR RANGERS.
If you're special, the Special Forces or Ranger Regiment Option may be just right for you. You must be Airborne qualified, have an MOS that's needed (or agree to train in one) and qualify for a SECRET Security clearance. The demands are great, but so are the rewards.

10 YOU CAN JOIN THE OLD GUARD. If you'd like to march with one of the Army's oldest and most prestigious outfits, then reenlist for the Old Guard Option. If you make it, you're guaranteed assignment in Washington, D.C., for up to 3 years.

11 YOU CAN LEARN A NEW LANGUAGE.
Under the Language School Option, you could learn a second language of your own choosing, provided the Army's need matches your choice. Once you've completed your training, you could serve in a foreign country. And, of course, there's great satisfaction in being bilingual.

12 YOU CAN JOIN AN INSCOM UNIT.
Under the Intelligence and Security Command and Electronic Warfare/Cryptologic Units and Training Option (INSCOM/EW), your schooling will be intensive. But if you qualify, you'll be part of a group that's essential to our nation's security efforts.

13 YOU CAN STAY RIGHT WHERE YOU ARE.
Many soldiers do. Under the Current Station Stabilization Option, you can reenlist to stay at your present duty assignment after your tour is completed. You're guaranteed your present duty for 12 to 14 months. You can find new challenges and rewards at a place you've come to know.

As you can see, reenlisting opens up a world of opportunities for you. Of course, qualifications are different for each option. But if you qualify, you'll be well on your way to expanding your Army, and your life, experience.

To find out more details about each reenlistment option, talk to your Retention NCO. They are there to make sure you know what your choices are, and to help you chart the best course for your future.

REENLIST. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.®

Unit

197th Infantry Bridgade prepares for desert deployment. See B-2.

Sports

Post biathlon and 5-mile run attract 300 runners and bikers. See B-3.

Entertainment

Comedian Gallagher goes "On the Warpath" at the Three Arts Theatre April 21. See B-4 for more information.

ARMY NEWS

Outlook hopeful for specialists, corporals

Projected increases in promotions to sergeant may provide a measure of hope to promotable specialists and corporals — even those in MOSs without promotions for more than a year.

Army personnel officials say that almost 3,200 monthly promotions to sergeant will be authorized for the rest of fiscal 1989 in an effort to increase retention and offset recruiting shortages.

"We've been predicting for years that recruiting is going to get harder because of the reducing youth population," said Sgt. Maj. Dennis Smith, senior staff NCO in the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel's enlisted personnel division. "Our recruiters are having a more difficult time of getting the quality people we need. So, the more first-termers we can keep in the Army, the fewer we need to bring in the front door."

Promotions to sergeant have risen steadily since fiscal 1989 began. In October, 2,160 specialists and corporals were promoted; 3,020 soldiers will pin on new sergeants' stripes in April.

Smith said promotions to sergeant should reach almost 3,200 for May and remain there for the rest of fiscal 1989.

★ ★ ★

Commissaries to use new labeling system

A new labeling system detailing the nutritional value of meat is going into effect in Army commissaries shortly, the U.S. Army Troop Support Agency announced.

Called "Nutri-Care," the program will provide commissary customers a comprehensive picture of meat's nutritional value to promote it as a valued and important part of health and diet. It is effective Saturday, in Korean commissaries; and on or about May 15, in other commissaries.

Special labels will be placed on packages that have 200 to 250 calories, based on a 3-ounce cut of meat, well trimmed.

Signs which nutritionally explain beef, pork and lamb cuts will be displayed across commissary meat counters.

Additionally, four informative pamphlets titled, New Nutrition Facts About Meat-Cooking Tips, Basic Cookery Instructions, How to Cut Calories in Cooking and Meat Storage and Handling Guide — are being made a part of the Nutri-Care program. The pamphlets will be available at no cost to commissary customers.

★ ★ ★

Class Six stores take credit Armywide

If you've found it convenient to use your credit card at various outlets of the Army and Air Force Exchange Service, AAFES officials want you to know that your major credit card is now acceptable at their lastest acquisition: the various "Class Six" stores at military installations.

"We're pleased to expand this customer service to all Class Six locations. It's the same convenience we offer in our retail stores," said AAFES commander Brig. Gen. Jeffery Kahla.

He pointed out that the acceptance of the major credit cards — Mastercard and Visa — has not been common to all Class Six stores on Army and Air Force bases. None, he added, have taken the now-available Discover.

According to AAFES comptroller Martin R. Handel, accepting the commercial credit cards is a customer convenience that costs AAFES a percentage of each sale. "we pay just as other retailers do," Handel said. "Our goal in taking on the Class Six stores is to reduce costs so we can contribute more to morale, welfare and recreation funds at installations," Handed explained.

— from Army News Service reports.

Job seekers target of NCOA workshops

Two seminars to assist separating or retiring servicemembers

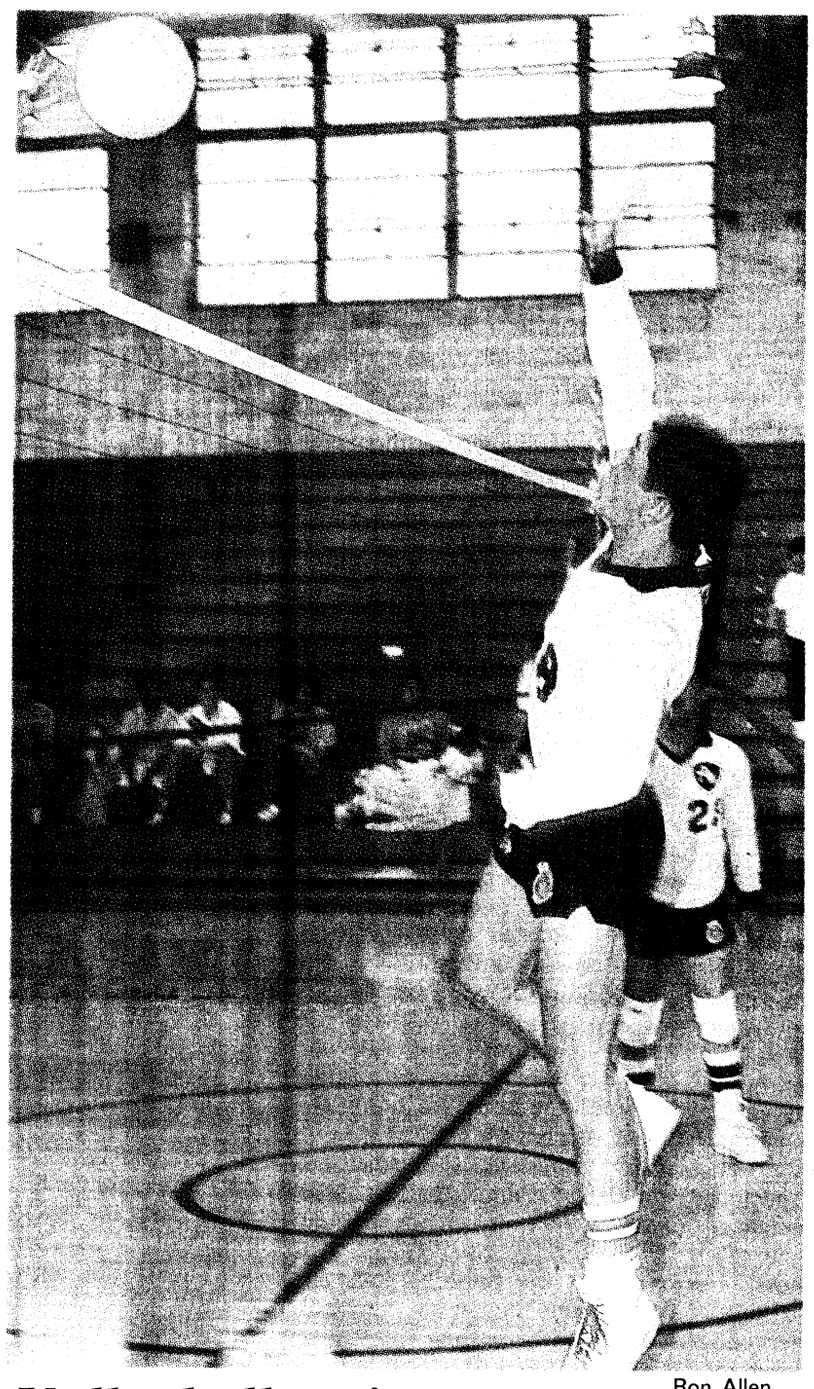
Noncommissioned Officers Association

Military personnel who plan to enter the civilian job market after separating or retiring from federal service will benefit from two workshops to be conducted at Fort Benning Thursday.

Conducted by the Noncommissioned Officers Association, the Job Seekers Workshops are free and will be held in Building 4, Classroom 20. The first session will be held from 8 a.m. until 11:30 a.m.; the second from 1 p.m. to 4:30 p.m.

The workshops will focus on all aspects of the job search for separating or retiring servicemembers. The seminars will include tips on goal setting, salary negotiation, resume writing and preparation and interview techniques.

Also, participants will be given assistance in completing an NCOA "mini resume," which is a summary of an individual's professional qualifications.



The information provided on the mini resume will be entered into a data base of job seekers maintained by Employment Transition Services, an NCOA-sponsored service made available to companies looking for separating military personnel.

The NCOA's Veterans Employment Assistance Program began 15 years ago after the federal government stopped funding out-placement programs for military personnel. Since that time, the NCOA estimates close to one million people have used the VEA program.

Today, the VEA sponsors Job Seekers Workshops on most major military installations throughout the United States.

Job Seekers Workshops are free of charge to both NCOA members and non-members.

Military personnel of all ranks who have decided to leave active service and separated or retired veterans are invited to attend. In addition, workshops are open to family members.

Ron Allen

Volleyball action

Leonard Duenas, Co. B, 2nd Bn., 29th Inf., goes up for the ball in USAIC volleyball championship action. More on B-5.

Seminars help military prepare for 2nd career

Army News Service

Should the military assist retiring officers in preparing for a second career? "Absolutely," says Doug Carter, a retired Air Force colonel who gives free lectures at military installations around the country to retiring NCO's and officers.

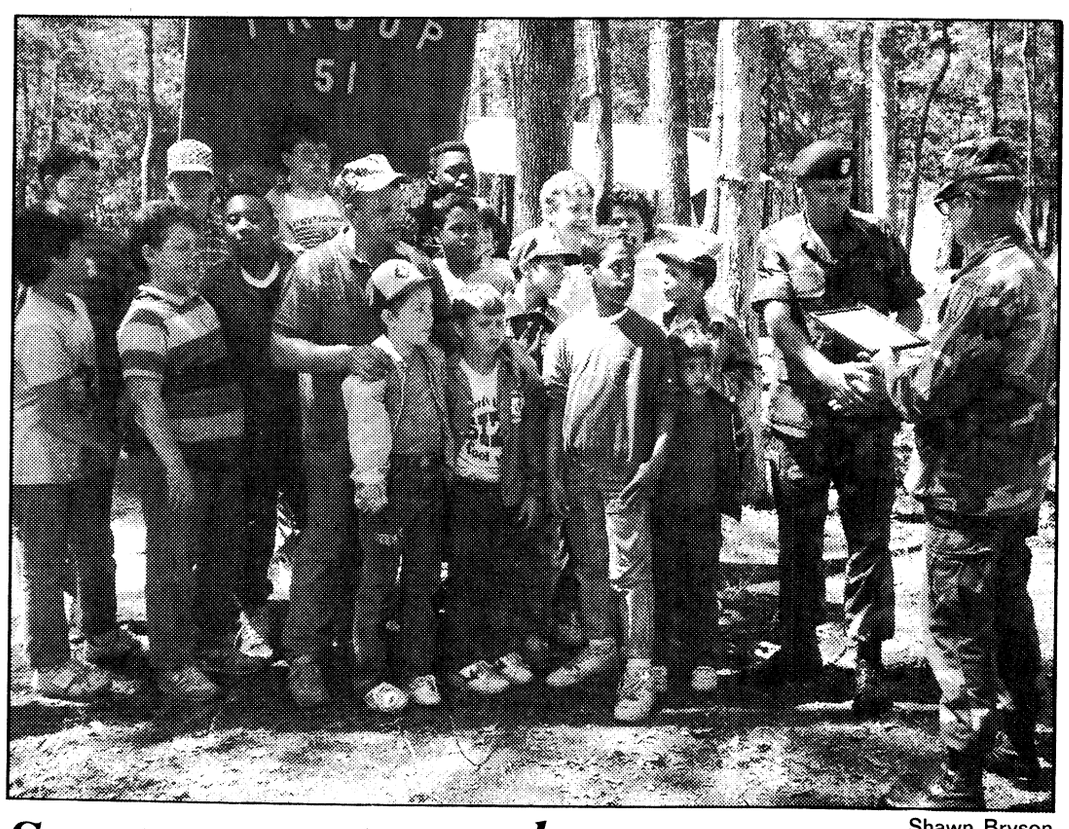
"After the sacrifices you people have made for your country for 20 years or more, it's the least the country can do for you," Carter said. "It's tough in the private sector. You must know the conditions there."

Carter points out that there are 116 million workers in the U.S. job market, but 5 million are part-time workers, and one in 25 is aggressively looking for a better job.

He also stresses that the job market is always changing. "Sixty thousand Americans lost electronics jobs in 1987," he says. "But if retiring military members prepare properly for a career change — and ahead of time — they can penetrate the job market. They can find good jobs in three to six months — not the six to nine months it takes the average retiree to find work now.

But, Carter advises retiring servicemembers to "start early. And," he says, "two to five years before retirement is not too early."

Carter says military retirees don't find work as soon as they would like because they don't start soon enough doing the reading and researching to penetrate the job market. Many retirees don't go to work for defense contractors, he says.



Carter's free lecture is open to anyone, including soldiers not considering re-enlisting — a move Carter strongly discourages. "It's not smart to throw away a military retirement," he emphasizes. "The U.S. military has one of the best retirements in the country," he declares. "Ask someone who's retired from the private sector. Job security there is practically non-existent."

Carter's lecture is sponsored by the Retired Officers Association, but he doesn't solicit membership during his talk. In fact, he carefully avoids the subject.

"We give this talk for one reason — to assist military people nearing retirement to prepare for a career change," he said.

Carter's basic advice for preparing for a career change:

- Make a plan for reading about beginning a second career and researching organizations and set milestones.
- Schedule time for implementing your plan — 60 to 80 hours a week after you retire isn't too much for implementing your plan.
- Know what you want to do.
- Know the geographical area where you want to work.
- Prepare a competitive resume.
- Know the basic techniques of interviewing.

Shawn Bryson

Scouts present award

Troop 51 scouts and MSgt. David Wideman, Benning's scouting coordinator, present the charter certification recognition award to CSM Edmund Thompson, 1st Abn. Bn., 507th PIR, for the battalion's 29 years of continuous support.

Guardsmen can now shop Class Six stores

Army and Air Force Exchange Service

Members of the National Guard and the Army or Air Force Reserve can now shop in Army and Air Force Exchange Service Class Six stores.

Guards and reservists can use their privilege when shopping their local exchange, according to policy staffers at AAFES' Dallas headquarters. Once verified to shop in the main store or shoppette, they may also shop from the mail order catalog and visit the Class Six party shop; the day's authorization applies to all AAFES facilities for a full day.

Credit cards are now accepted in all Class Six stores in the continental United States. Local open mess ("club") cards will be accepted if the club cards are in fact either MasterCard or Visa.

Now's the time to prune, trim shrubbery

By Becky Ray
Energy Branch

Well maintained lawns are an asset to any military installation, reflecting high standards and pride and providing a more pleasant atmosphere for family life.

Yard maintenance is the responsibility of housing residents. Pruning and trimming shrubbery are also housing residents' responsibility.

The Family Housing Division has set standards for trimming and pruning shrubbery to keep a neat and uniform appearance in all housing areas. Proper trimming also encourages lush, healthy plant growth.

Trim tall shrubs so that the top of the shrub is at least a foot below the eaves of the house. Shrubs in front of windows must be even with or below the window sill. Shrubs around privacy fences and trash bin screens can be no higher than one foot below the top of the fence and must clear the fence by at least a foot.

Trim dead or diseased branches, and trim shrubs for a natural appearance. Avoid trimming shrubs flat on top, because the thicker new growth from the top will tend to be unattractive. In shaping the shrub, round the top and slant sides outward to help the plant get more sunlight.

Different varieties of flowering shrubs need to be pruned at different times of the year. Carlton Kirby of the Columbus Extension Service says that a general rule of thumb is to prune flowering shrubs, such as azaleas and camellias, just after the blooms fade. It is a little late to trim your non-flowering shrubs; this should be done a few weeks before new growth begins, usually in late February or early March. Pruning holly bushes in the summer, however, will prevent berries from forming. Minor pruning jobs to remove stray or dead limbs can be done at any time.

Kirby also recommends pruning rose bushes in March, just after new growth begins to form. Cut each branch one-quarter inch above a bud, making the cut at an angle. Cutting too close to the bud will damage it. Pruning rose bushes promotes fuller plants and also prevents disease.

Running roses, however, should be pruned after the first blooming of the season. Take out the less attractive canes and leave the more vigorous growth.

Now is the time to fertilize shrubs. Kirby recommends one tablespoon of triple 10 fertilizer or equivalent per one inch of the plant's height. Spread the fertilizer evenly to prevent burning the roots. Only one application is needed to maintain a healthy plant, but to encourage rapid growth, fertilize plants again in May and July.

Fertilize trees when the leaves are fully opened. Apply one cup of fertilizer for each inch of the tree trunk's diameter at the chest-high level. Make sure the fertilizer is spread evenly to prevent root burns. If you've fertilized the grass around the tree, that application will be enough for the tree also.

The Unit and Housing Support Branch has pruning shears and hedge clippers for issue to family housing residents. They also have fertilizer spreaders available for 48-hour loan. Fertilizer and a variety of shrubs should be arriving soon, as well. The Unit and Housing Support Branch is located in Building 385 on Vibbert Avenue, and the hours of operation are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Saturday. Point of contact for is Mr. DeCarlo, 545-1121.

UNIT NEWS

197th Inf. Brigade prepares for desert

By Terrence E. Shaughnessy
197th Infantry Brigade correspondent

Nearly 1,000 vehicles and tons of equipment were recently loaded at the Sand Hill Rail Head at Fort Benning. The Sledgehammer soldiers of the 197th Infantry Brigade are, once again, preparing to deploy for desert warfare at the National Training Center (NTC), in Fort Irwin, California.

Moving machinery and equipment is a very important operation when the brigade deploys to another location, but it can also be a slow and dangerous process because of the challenge of loading the rail trains with safety in mind.

"Everyone, especially the drivers of the vehicles, must go through a safety briefing before loading any equipment on the train because safety is a big issue." said SSgt. Leslie Ferrel, a load team leader.

According to Capt. Eric Grasman, the brigade plans officer, over 300 rail cars transported this tonnage of cargo across country within six days, with the entire operation costing more than $700,000.

With the precautionary procedures of the 197th in mind, the Rail Head Operation was still completed in five days and their first load of equipment arrived in California on time.

U.S. Army photo

Sgt. Tim Daniels (l) and Pvt. 2 Robert Clendenen secure a vehicle bound for the National Training Center at Fort Irwin, Calif.

Reenlistment office set up in Costa Rica

By J. Alan Warner
U.S. Army South PAO

CAMP RUGGED SEAHORSE, Costa Rica — Hidden among the tents at Camp Rugged Seahorse, Costa Rica, is one small tent that might easily be passed by. It looks just like the rest. It could be sleeping quarters or just another company headquarters.

What sets this tent apart from the rest is a big red sign with gold letters that reads, "Show me the way to San Jose."

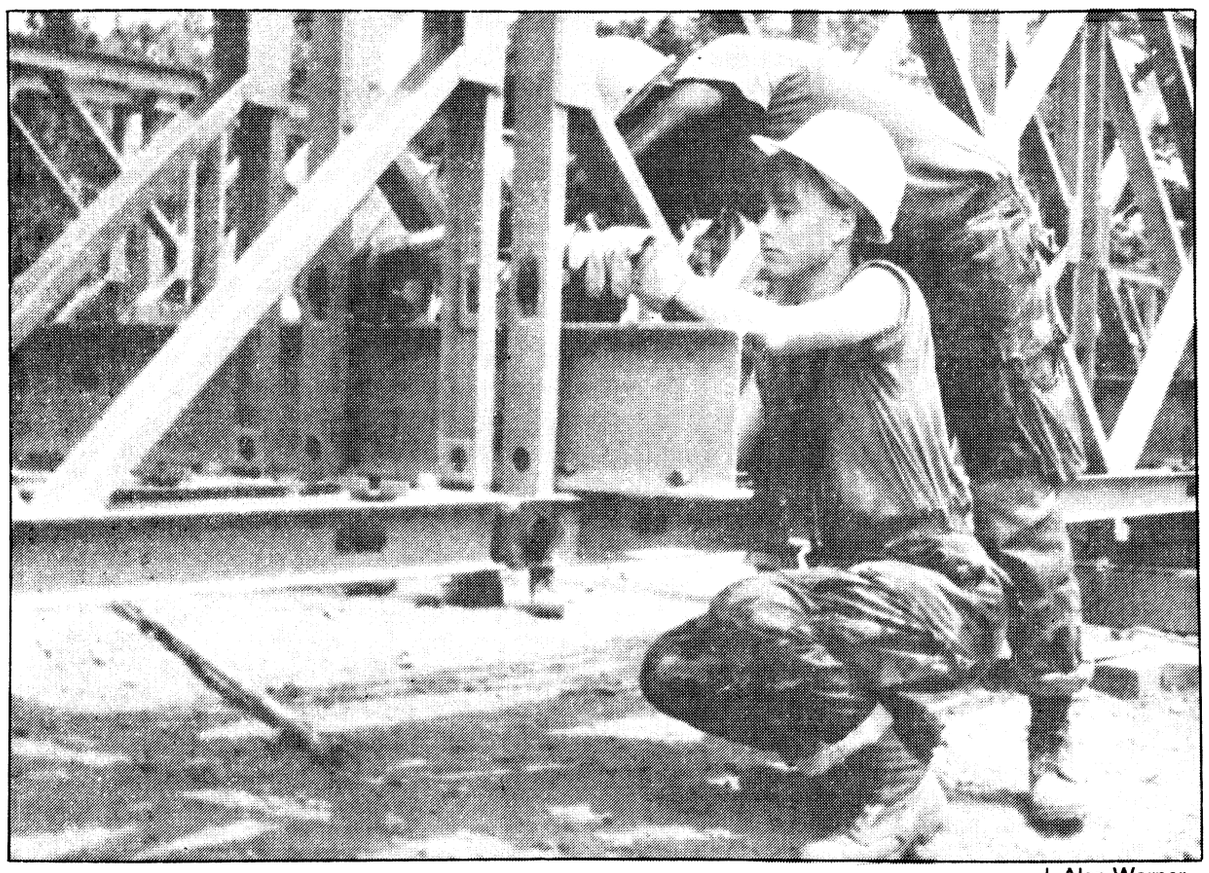
While it may not be the busiest place in the camp, it does its fair share of keeping the soldiers involved in Camino de la Paz '89 happy.

Stepping inside, you are greeted by inviting, full-color posters showing the tropical beaches and night life of Costa Rica. Among these posters you will see the smiling face of Staff Sgt. Michael J. Lowe, retention NCO for the 43rd Engineer Battalion, Fort Benning, Ga.

The last thing soldiers expect to see in the field is a reenlistment office. But life goes on even when you're in the field.

"We'll be down here for approximately four months," Lowe explained. "There are always people who want to reenlist."

Five people have already reenlisted while in the field, Lowe said. And they have found the way to San Jose.



"When you reenlist, you get a pass, the day of reenlistment off and either the day before or the day after you reenlistment off," Lowe said.

Since there is not much to do for three days in base camp, people who reenlist get a three-day pass to San Jose. "We take them up to San Jose on a helicopter, in conjunction with necessary task force logistical and coordination flights, and bring them back," Lowe said.

Having a reenlistment office in the field is no easy task, Lowe said. He has no 201 files on hand to check, and there's no way to find out what a soldier's options are. "I have to do all of that through coordination on the telephone with Fort Benning," he said. "It's harder on the guys back at Benning, because they have to screen the 201 and find out if the soldier is qualified to reenlist. Then I find out what the soldier wants, relay it back to Benning, and they run it through the computer. If the soldier's choice comes up, he gets it."

If everything is a go for the soldier, Low gets a control number from Fort Benning and he types up the soldier's contract. All that's left for the soldier to do is raise his right hand and enjoy his visit in San Jose.

Lowe went on to explain his job is to keep soldiers in the Army. "I try to get them what they want," he said. "I know I can't do it every time, but it makes me feel good when I can get someone what they really want."

J. Alan Warner

Spec. Beverly D. Soto, an administrative specialist with HHC, 36th Eng. Bn., applies a transom clamp to the Conte River bridge in Costa Rica.

Bridge construction begins

By J. Alan Warner
U.S. Army South PAO

CAMP RUGGED SEAHORSE, Costa Rica — After months of prepping sites and making sure all the small details had been taken care of, construction got under way in late March on the first bridge to be built during exercise Camino de la Paz (Road of Peace).

The first Bailey bridge, spanning 260 feet, was built across the Rio Rincon, and two days later, construction began on another bridge spanning 150 feet across the Rio Conte.

Before the engineer exercise ends in mid-May, Task Force 36, out of Fort Benning, Ga., will construct seven Bailey bridges and 3.2 kilometers of one-lane road on the Osa Peninsula of Costa Rica.

What makes the bridge building unusual in Costa Rica is the fact that men and women from all military occupational skills are taking part in the construction.

Cooks, administration specialists, communications specialists and others work alongside the engineers at the bridge sites.

"Since we are here to build the bridges, I think everyone should have an opportunity to have some hands-on training," said Spec. Valerie Jones, administration specialist, HHC, 36th Engineer Group, Fort Benning, Ga. "Its the first time I've ever done anything like it, so it was really great."

Enthusiasm was extremely high for this was the moment that each soldier had been working toward. To finally see a bridge being built reinforced the mission of Camino de la Paz.

The soldiers are divided into teams, each having an important mission in the construction of the bridge.

A six-person team carries the 10-foot-long, 5-foot-1-inch-high, 557-pound side panels to be pinned on the bridge. The six-pound side panel pins are pounded into holes on the panels. Sway braces are added to the bottom of each panel, and a transom is laid in place. The 618-pound transoms, carried by a team of eight soldiers, are used to support the floor system of the bridge. Next, bracing frames, clamps, bolts and stringers are put in place to complete each 10-foot section of the bridge.

The bridge is built on rollers on one riverbank, and as it grows, the soldiers push it out over the river. When the bridge becomes too heavy, a bulldozer is used to shove it across.

For two days, the men and women of Camp Rugged Seahorse sweated it out to complete the first bridge. As soon as it was ready for the finishing touches, construction began on the second bridge, across the Rio Conte.

Although a Bailey bridge is easier to build than other types of bridges, its construction is by no means a task to be taken lightly. The soldiers worked late into the evenings and then were up and at it again early the next morning.

"It will improve transportation for these people," said Spec. Samuel Allen, Company A, 43rd Eng. Bn., Fort Benning. "They won't have to go 20 miles out of their way just to cross a river. It's hard work, and you really get tired, but the positive side is that we are helping people who really need help."

The hard work and motivation these soldiers put into building the bridges could be seen on their faces as the days wore on. And, as the bridges were finished, each soldier knew that he or she had played an important role in helping build it.

"Everyone worked as a team. It didn't matter if you were male or female. You just worked to your limit and, if you couldn't do anymore, someone else started where you left off." said Spec. Beverly Solo, administration specialist, HHC, 36th Eng. Bn. "That's how we got it done. Everyone had a job, and it was essential. You had to do your job, or the bridge wouldn't get finished."

All the soldiers who have helped build the bridges in Costa Rica will remember the part they played. But perhaps the one who will most remember helping to build the bridge across the Rio Conte will be Solo's husband, Spec. Homero Soto, who is in the same unit.

"The satisfaction for me as a draftsman is that I drew up the blueprints. So, I started from the beginning." Homero said. "I started the drawings in August and finished in November. This is the first thing I have drawn up and then actually helped build."

Repair crew maintains vehicles

By J. Alan Warner
U.S. Army South PAO

CAMP RUGGED SEAHORSE, Costa Rica — "If it ain't broke, don't fix it." That's a common phrase heard in the military. But the maintenance crews from Fort Benning who are involved in the Camino de la Paz bridge building exercise in Costa Rica believe in fixing something before it breaks.

The maintenance teams from Fort Benning work on everything from pickup trucks to 20-ton dump trucks.

"We are responsible for the maintenance of the vehicles," said Spec. Jim A. Retzer, Company C, 43rd Engineer Battalion, Fort Benning. "For example, the bearings on vehicles will wear out if you don't watch them. If they wear out, the result can be serious damage to the hub."

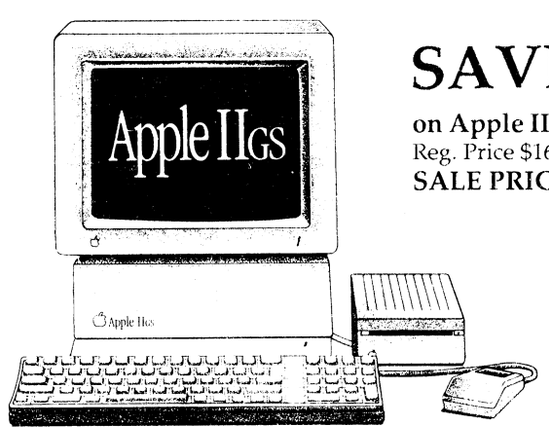
Part of Retzer's job is to take the bearings off, clean them and make sure they are greased. "It's all part of the annual maintenance we do on the vehicles. You have to make sure you change the oil, check the shocks — all that little stuff that keeps the vehicle running smoothly," Retzer said.

Since arriving at Base Camp Rugged Seahorse, Costa Rica, in February, Retzer said, the road conditions haven't been too kind to the vehicles.

"The worse thing for these trucks in Costa Rica is the rough roads," Retzer said. "A starter on a truck almost fell apart because the bolts were so loosened."

Camino de la Paz is the first major deployment Retzer has been on and he has been really impressed with what Camp Rugged Seahorse has to offer.

"It's different. You really miss all the luxuries back home, but they have a lot more here than I expected,"he said. "I didn't expect the showers to be like they are. I thought they would be field showers." In fact, the shower facility is a huge tent set up off the ground on a wooden floor, with running, hot water.



"And the latrines are outstanding because the collection drums are filled with a sanitation chemical," Retzer said. "At least they don't smell as bad as a usual field latrine."

Like most of the soldiers at the camp, Retzer has no complaints about the chow hall. "They come up with some really good food," he said. "I've even had a steak and shrimp dinner at the chow hall since I've been here. This chow hall is almost better than the one back at Benning."

Apple Gives You The Power of Choice

With Great Savings On Apple IIGS and Macintosh SE Computers

For Four Days in April, the Power is Yours.

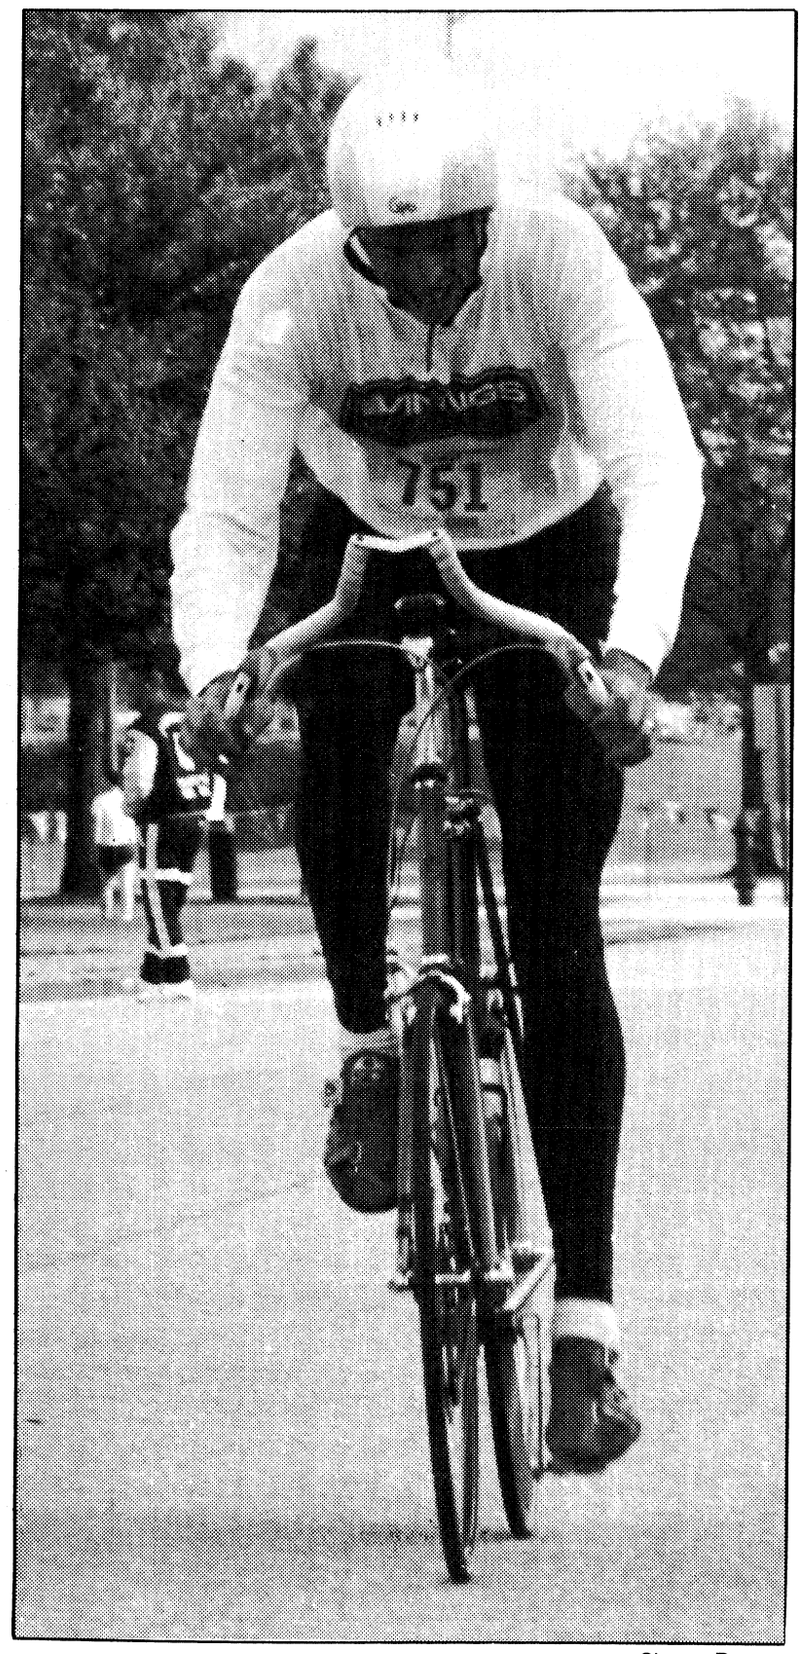
SAVE $170
on Apple IIGS® Color System
Reg. Price $1699.00
SALE PRICE $1529.00

System includes: Apple IIGS 512K CPU, 12" Apple Color RGB Monitor, 3.5" Disk Drive, detachable keyboard with numeric keypad and mouse.

SAVE $255
on Macintosh® SE 2-Floppy System
Reg. Price $2549.00
SALE PRICE $2294.00

System includes: Macintosh SE with built-in 9" monitor, two internal 3.5" 800K floppy disk drives, detachable keyboard with numeric keypad and mouse. HyperCard and MultiFinder.

AAFES Electronics and More Sale
April 20 - 23



Authorized Apple Military Exchange Reseller

Apple, the Apple logo, Apple IIGS and Macintosh are registered trademarks of Apple Computer, Inc. HyperCard and MultiFinder are trademarks of Apple Computer Inc.

This advertisement was not paid for in whole or part, by the departments of the Army, Air Force or AAFES Exchanges. This advertisement does not constitute endorsement by AAFES exchanges, the Departments of the Army, Air Force, or the U.S. Government of the products or services advertised.

SPORTS

300 compete in biathlon

Shawn Bryson

Craig R. Pate, who finished second overall, heads down the first stretch of the 30-mile bike ride.

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

About 300 bikers and runners showed up at Building 4 Saturday to compete in the 9th Annual Fort Benning Biathlon and the newly added 5-Mile Run.

A near-perfect, 60-degree, sunny morning greeted the athletes, most from the Fort Benning-Columbus area. But, some came from as far away as Oklahoma, Mississippi and North Carolina.

First to cross the finish line of the biathlon, 35 miles later (5 running and 30 biking) was Roy G. Edwards, 35, who finished in 1 hour, 48 minutes, 52 seconds.

Not far behind was the number two male competitor, Craig R. Pate, 31, finishing at 1:49:14.

Third place in the men's overall went to William F. Thetford, 26, from Murrayville, Ga., with a final time of 1:53:58.

Deborah L. Finco-Kent, 29, from Athens, Ga., was first among the ladies overall with a 2:07:56 finish.

Second in the female overall was Diane M. Benoit, 36, 2:11:09, just ahead of third place Francoise O. Gamble, 26, of Auburn, Al., with a 2:11:34 finish.

Fort Benning's Lloyd McDonald Jr., 34, took honors in the 5-Mile Run (a separate race), dusting the field by more than a minute and a half, finishing at 25:28.

David Millet, 26, took second in the 5-Mile Run with 27:06, and Douglas L. Davis, 22, took third with 27:36.

Overall female winners of the 5-Mile Run were:

— Penny T. Dillion, 24, first place at 32:22

— Chris N. McKay, 22, second with a 35:22

— Molly McKenzie, 21, took third with a 40:05 finish.

Proceeds from the the biathlon and 5-Mile Run will go to the Army Medical Department Museum Foundation at Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

USARSA defeats ISTD, 3-0

By Keith F. Johnson
U.S. Army School of the Americas

Norton Field was the site of an "International" soccer game April 2 as students from the U.S. Army School of the Americas and the Infantry School's International Student Training Detachment played under warm, sunny skies.

USARSA's Combat Arms Officer Advanced Course team represented the school in the 3-0 win over ISTD. More than 200 students, guest instructors, sponsors and family members attended.

Both teams began the game strong defensively until USARSA broke open the scoring on a header goal by Jorge A. Durante from El Salvador, about 25 minutes into the contest.

Although both teams had many scoring opportunities, only USARSA was able to ripple the net as Julio C. Dominguez and Ramon A. Monge, both from El Salvador, scored late goals to seal the win for USARSA.

"It wasn't easy because there were good players from many countries," said Hector Pavon, course manager.

Pavon said the game was a good beginning to developing relations among the players, and he plans on organizing more of the same type of activities in the future between the two schools.

After the game, the players and spectators picnicked with hot dogs, chips and soda pops.

"This was a unique way for the students to get together, interact and enjoy a sunny Sunday afternoon together," said Maj. Richard N. Hawkins, ISTD commander.

AUSA golf tourney April 27

Association of the U.S. Army

An annual golf tournament sponsored by the Association of the United States Army is slated April 27 at Follow Me Golf Course. The shotgun start begins at 12:30 p.m.

The entry fee is $25 for non-golf club members and $20 for members. Play is limited to the first 120 paid entries. The fee includes: riding carts, green fees, refreshments and an opportunity to win prizes.

The format is 18 holes, four-ball scramble. Each team will consist of four players. There will be an A, B, C and D player on each team. The A player will be the designated team captain.

AUSA corporate and regular members, active duty military and members of the Follow Me Golf Course are eligible.

Prior to Thursday, applications will be accepted only for AUSA members (corporate-military-civilian) and active duty personnel.

AUSA Golf Tournament

NAME _____
HANDICAP _____
(You must provide handicap, even if approximate.)
MILITARY _____ CIVILIAN _____

Note: No preference can be given to individual pairings.
Return entry along with entry fee to: George Cliff's Golf Shop, no later than 6 p.m. April 23. Make checks payable to George Cliff.

Benning's Edmondson among tournament's winning shooters

National Rifle Association

David Edmondson of Fort Benning was one of the members of the winning U.S. National Running Target Shooting Team that took first place honors at the Championship of the Americas recently in Guatemala in which five countries competed. John Roff of Colorado Springs, Co., and Mike Moore of Columbus, Ga., were other members of the U.S. team that scored 1,586 of a possible 1,800 points to win the international title. Each received a gold medal.

The U.S. team was followed by Cuba in second with 1,541 and Guatemala in third with 1,510.

In individual matches, U.S. shooters maintained their winning streak and took top honors, placing first, second and third. Edmondson won the championship title, scoring 633 of 700 points, after nudging out second place finisher Erik Hatlestad of Colorado Springs, Co., who scored 630. Roff took third place with 621, but because championship rules state that only two of the three medals can go to one country, the bronze medal was presented to the fourth place shooter from Cuba.

SPORTS SHORTS

2/69th Armor defeats 197th Inf. Bde.

The 2nd Battalion, 69th Armor recently defeated the 197th Infantry Brigade in volleyball action before the playoffs. The game was played at Kelley Hill Physical Fitness Center.

The win places 2nd Bn., 69th Armor into the playoffs, with a record of 2-0.

Sports Office needs boxers and trainers

Any military personnel interested in boxing for the Fort Benning boxing program should meet at Briant Wells field house, building 933, Monday through Friday at 5:30 p.m. Trainers are needed, also.

For further information, contact Speedy Austin at 545-4726/4388.

Women's league needs softball players

The Women Intramural Softball League needs players. Season play begins May 18 and continues through June 17. The Sports Office will sign up interested players until the season begins.

Interested players should contact the Sports Office at 545-5777 or Alber McGruder at 544-1595.

Two-Lady Best Ball golf tourney held

The Two-Lady Best Ball member/guest tournament was recently held at Follow Me Golf Course. Thirty-eight women competed in play that was limited to nine holes due to inclement weather. The field was divided into three flights.

The winners were: 1st Flight — Margie Cook and Rocky Wilson, Marj Tidmarsh and Anita Oelrich; 2nd Flight — Lee Regnier and Jean McGlamry, Myrtle Hardgrove and Irene Newell; 3rd Flight — Lydia Langdon and Virginia Watson, Helen Harper and Juanita Ritch.

Prizes were awarded to first and second place in each flight.

Couples golf tourney winners announced

The first couples golf tournament of the year held at the Follow-Me Golf Course April 2 featured a four-ball scramble format. The winning teams were:

1st Place — Bob Kelley and Glenice Myers, Bill and Loraine Hixon; 2nd Place — Tom and Shirley Mull, Steve and Patty Norman; 3rd Place — Bill Conners and Diane Benton, Jim Matthews and Peg Matthews.

The next couples tournament will be held April 29.

Hash House Harriers run Saturday 6 p.m.

Fort Benning-Columbus Hash House Harriers will have a run Saturday at 6 p.m. The starting point is the parking lot at McBride Elementry School located on Custer Road.

Bring $4 and your own meat to barbecue.

For more information call Ann McDonald or Betty Brandt at 689-3142.

Destroyers edge Golden Rockets

The Destroyers edged past the Golden Rockets, 3-2, in recent Youth Activities soccer action. Six-year-old Stephen Murray scored the first goal early in the game. His 8-year-old brother, Jamie Murray, followed with the second goal. Brian Wilkinson scored the Destroyers' third goal.

In the second half, the Rockets scored twice, but failed to overcome the Destroyers' defense. Travis Simmons, Nichols Guerra and Joey Donahue made outstanding defensive plays.

USAIC track & field meet April 20-21

The 1989 Spring Track and Field Meet will be conducted April 20 through 21 at Doughboy Stadium. Active duty military personnel assigned or attached to Fort Benning are eligible to participate.

Track events for males include: 120-yard high hurdles, 440-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 440-yard relay, 1-mile run, 880-yard run and the 1-mile relay. Track events for females are the 440-yard dash, the 100-yard dash, the 180-yard low hurdle, the 1-mile run, and the 880-yard run.

Field events for men are the pole vault; shot put; long, high and triple jumps. Field events for women are the shot put and long, high and triple jumps.

Each major command may enter one team in each relay. An individual may not enter more than three events exclusive of the relays.

Applications are available at the Sports Office or at any gym on post and should be submitted to the Physical Activities Sports Branch, building 394 (Doughboy Stadium), no later than 3 p.m., April 11.

For more information, call the Sports Office at 545-5777.

Post tennis tourney set to begin May 5

The 1989 U. S. Army Infantry Center's Tennis Championship will be held May 5 through 12 at the Community Recreation Division's tennis courts on Anderson Street behind Theatre #2.

Brigade and battalion teams will consist of two male players in the Open Division, two in the Junior Veterans Division, one in the Senior Division, and two female players in the Women's Division (team total of seven).

Senior Division entrants must be 45 years of age or over and junior veteran entrants must be 35 to 44 years of age as of May 5.

All military personnel on active duty at Fort Benning are eligible to participate.

Entry forms are available at the Community Recreation Division gymnasiums and at the Physical Activities Office, building 394. Entry deadline is May 1.

Body builders will compete June 10

The sixth annual Mr. and Ms. Fort Benning body building contest will be held June 10 at Marshall Auditorium in Infantry Hall, building 4.

The Mr. Fort Benning contest is open to all active duty military men stationed at Fort Benning.

The Ms. Fort Benning competition is open to active duty military females, dependents of active duty, retirees, Department of Army , Non-appropriated Fund and Army and Air Force Exchange Service employees.

Awards will be presented to first, second and third place winners as well as the best poser in both the men and women competition. Also, in the men's category, an award will be presented to the "Most Muscular" competitor.

For more information, call Speedy Austin at 545-4726.

Follow Me Course plans tournaments

The following tournaments are available at Benning's Follow Me Golf Course:

● Saturday and Sunday — Spring Handicap (full handicap, flighted)

● May 20 — Blind Partner Handicap (combined net score)

● May 28 through 29 — Dixie Memorial Tournament (four-man, two best balls)

● June 17 through 18 — Bi-City Golf Tournament (gross event, flighted)

Golfers pay half-price greens fees Monday through Friday with cart rental from 1 p.m. until dark. Call 687-1940 for additional information.

Pot-O-Gold is $3,209

Fort Benning bowling centers' "Pot-O-Gold" cash prize has reached $3,209, officials said.

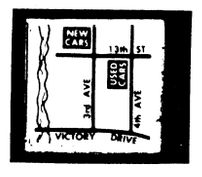
Bowlers must strike in certain frames to win the pot.

League and open bowlers who purchase a three-game ticket and pay a $1 entry fee prior to bowling are eligible to enter the tournament. For information, call 545-4272 or 545-1949.

197th Inf. Bde plays exhibition game

The 197th Infantry Brigade recently played an exhibition game against the "Basketeers" from FOXIE-105 radio station. The game featured outstanding plays from both teams, including a number of three point baskets and slam dunks.

More than 100 spirited fans watched the game, which was played at Kelley Hill Physical Fitness Center. The game was coordinated by the brigade's representative for Queen of the Fort Benning chapter of the Association of the U.S. Army.



— Compiled from staff reports.

ATTENTION ALL
FORD & LINCOLN— MERCURY OWNERS

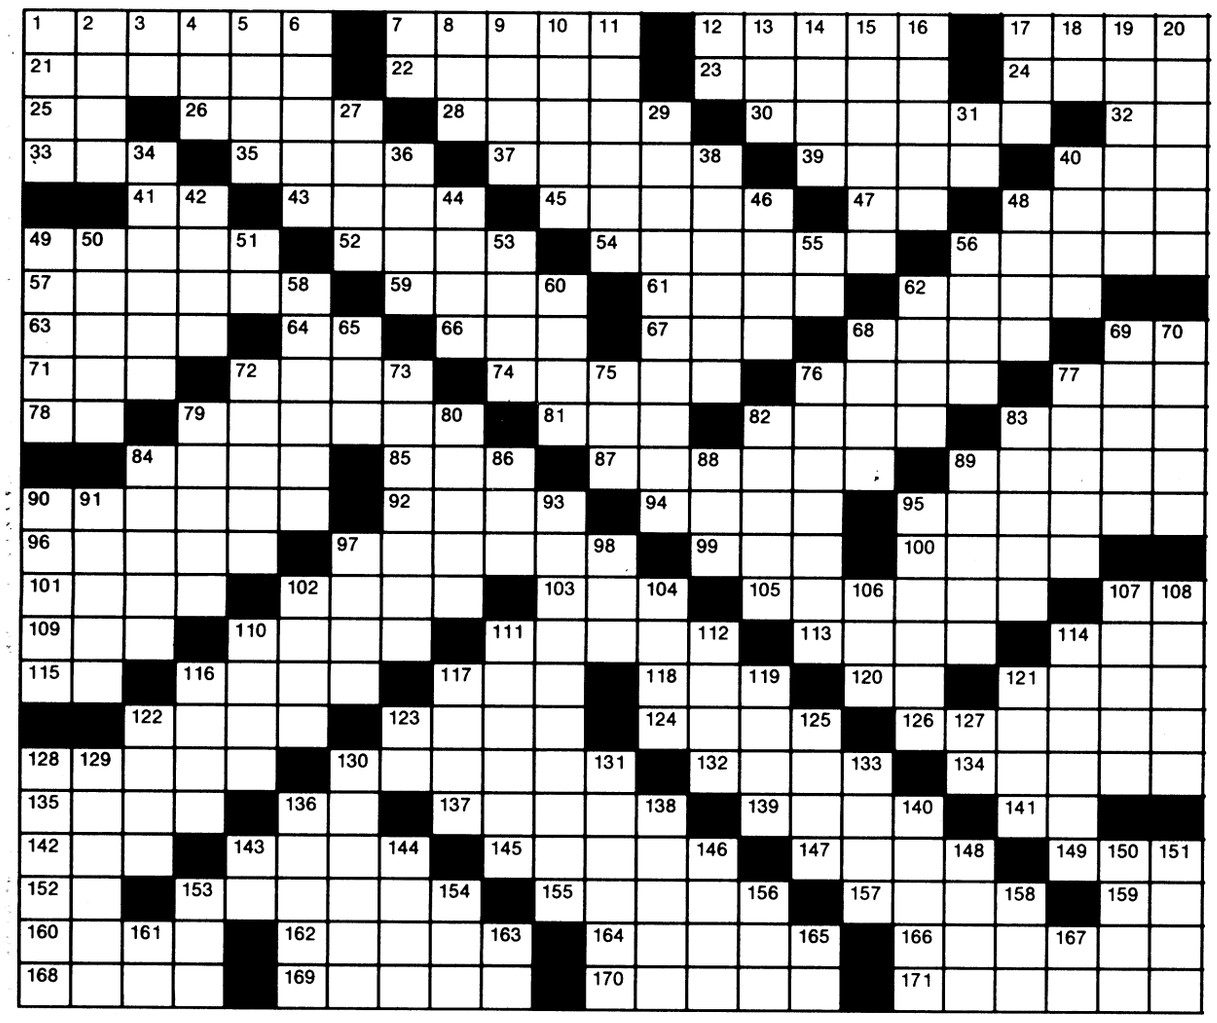
Ford MERCURY LINCOLN

Clip This Ad For Free Safety Check!!!

We Are Your Factory Authorized Dealer For All Ford Cars & Trucks!! Parts & Service!!!

GATEWAY
LINCOLN— MERCURY
Corner 3rd Ave. & 13th St.
Downtown 322-5575
SERVICE OPEN
Mon.-Fri. 7:30am-6pm

ENTERTAINMENT



PUZZLE

ACROSS

1 Congregation
7 Cooking aids
12 Babylonian hero
17 Portend
21 Withdraw
22 Macaw
23 Street show
24 Notion
25 Inits. for Grammy winner Baker
26 Liquefy
28 Barracudas
30 Looked intently
32 Equally
33 Precious stone
35 Arabian chieftain
37 Fruit cakes
39 Mine entrance
40 Skill
41 "— Mice and Men"
43 Sluggish
45 Arrows
47 French article
48 Abrasive tool
49 Performed
52 Diving bird
54 Pittsburgh baseballer
56 Sylvan deity
57 Stick to
59 "— Here to Eternity"
61 Cushions
62 Mongrels
63 Regretted
64 Negative
66 Before
67 Falsehood
68 Damage
69 Thallium symbol
71 Go astray
72 Stitches
74 Morning prayer
76 Was borne
77 Pronoun
78 "— Elsewhere"
79 Alluring women
81 "— Little Indians"
82 Sinks in middle
83 Woody plant
84 Loud noise
85 Solemn wonder
87 Representatives
89 "Meet the —"
90 Certificate of insurance
92 Animal coat
94 Let it stand
95 Balances
96 Make amends
97 Lances
99 Entire
100 Lease
101 "A — in the Dark"
102 Borscht ingredient
103 Dawn goddess
105 Ambassador
107 As far as
109 Danson or Koppel
110 Prophet
111 Easy gait
113 Deposits
114 Baby's napkin
115 12 mos.
116 Locate
117 Before: prefix
118 Morsel
120 Myself
121 Ruth or Didrikson
122 Pulverized rock
123 Fe is its symbol
124 Weary
126 Glistens
128 Collect
130 Masses of fog
132 Become sullen
134 Related on mother's side
135 — au Prince
136 Roosevelt inits.
137 Hair net
139 Ireland
141 Printer's measure
142 — Beta Kappa
143 Spoken
145 Sand hills
147 Ventilates
149 Fruit drink
152 Babylonian deity
153 Judged
155 Surfeits
157 Float in air
159 Negative prefix
160 "Death on the —"
162 Choir voice
164 Fluff the hair
166 Extras
168 Let fall
169 Ancient chariot
170 Having weapons
171 Landed property

DOWN

1 Steep, rugged rock
2 Goddess of youth
3 Guido's low note
4 Edge
5 Summer of "A Different World"
6 Tillers
7 Laughter
8 Bitter vetch
9 Transported
10 Baker's product
11 Petty ruler
12 Teutonic deity
13 Gregory Hines film
14 Sector
15 Tease
16 Eagle's nest
17 Proposition
18 Hypothetical force
19 Affectionately
20 Christian festival
27 Cash drawer
29 Lads
31 "— tu, Brute"
34 — nature
36 Top of house
38 Stretch
40 River islands
42 Give food to
44 Had on one's person
46 "Sweetest Taboo" singer
48 Tilled land
49 "Green —"
50 Woo
51 Physician: abbr.
53 "Cheers" character
55 Selleck ID
56 Certain
58 Power exerted
60 Flesh
62 Uncouth persons
65 Be in debt
68 Pigs
69 The ones here
70 Clayey earth
72 Subsequently to
73 Food fish
75 Oolong
76 Baby's playthings
77 Take from
79 Susan — James
80 Pleasing in general
82 Part of fishing line
83 Threefold
84 "In Cold —"
86 Guido's high note
88 Sched. abbr.
89 Bards
90 Meat pie
91 Additional
93 Monstrous
95 Talks idly
97 Sow
98 Cry
102 Twist
104 Narrow opening
106 Precious stone
107 Country of Asia
108 Fat
110 Transgresses
111 About
112 Goddess of discord
114 — split
116 Swift
117 Those in favor
119 Exact
121 Climbing stem
122 Hindu garment
123 Negative prefix
125 Lamb's pen name
127 That man
128 Affix
129 Kind of cloth
130 Transient infatuations
131 Composition for two instruments
133 Malay dagger
136 Commonplace
138 Hinder
140 Worn away
143 Conjunction
144 Camera part
146 Juncture
148 Weakens
150 Food program
151 Otherwise
153 Vigor: colloq.
154 Female deer
156 Compass point
158 Rodent
161 Behold!
163 Duvall ID
165 "Mister —"
167 Sun god

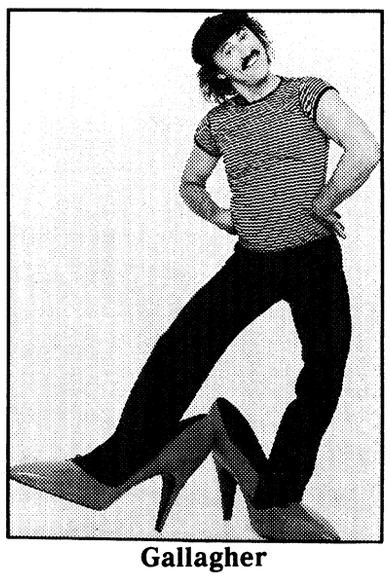
Gallagher has style

By Sharon Reynolds
Bayonet editor

You gotta have style. It's the American way.

A man can look at life through a child's eyes, get lost in the 60s and even go on the warpath and maintain dignity as long as he does it with style.

I once saw a drill sergeant trip and fall during a road march. When he got up, he had a spreading, muddy wet spot on his behind, but not a single soldier laughed. He stopped the march, dropped us all for 20 sit-ups. Then satisfied that all our behinds had spreading, muddy wet spots, he marched the platoon on down the road. Everyone had smiles on their faces because we knew 25 wet behinds switching in the spring breeze had to be hilarious. Yet, no one laughed at the straight-backed pride of the drill sergeant because he had style — his own special kind of style.



That's what the comedian Gallagher is bringing to Columbus. Style. A style of comedy unlike any other comedian I've ever seen.

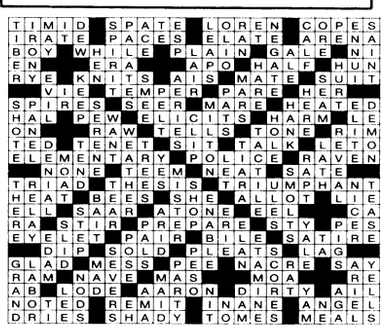
He can "bounce" from doing back flips on a giant couch, mimicking his 2-year-old daughter, to explaining a sure cure for the skyrocketing federal deficit. Now that's style.

April 21, Gallagher is going "On the Warpath" at the Three Arts Theatre. Tickets for the 8 p.m. show are on sale at Flip Side in the Traffic Circle, The Sound Shop in Columbus Square Mall, Put Us On at the County Market Plaza, Lauderdale on 6th Street and the Sound Shop in Auburn for a stylish $12.50, $17.50 and $20.

I guess a $20 ticket will get you a seat right up front. Those are the best seats in the house until Gallagher's style turns from satire to the human "Vegematic." "It's not a slicer. It's not a dicer." It's a revolutionary new kitchen appliance known as the Sledge-O-Matic. While watermelons, lettuce and just about everything but the kitchen sink are "no problem" for the Sledge-O-Matic, the flying juice and rind and debris give the front four or five rows of the audience a chance to test their dodging styles.

Each of his concerts is a parable. Gallagher looks at life from a common sense point of view that makes each of us look at our own lives and wonder why we hadn't seen the irony of it all before. He makes you stop and say to yourself, "I never thought of it quite like that before." He calls it being Gallagherized.

Gallagher



If you decide to go. Go in style. Sit up front.

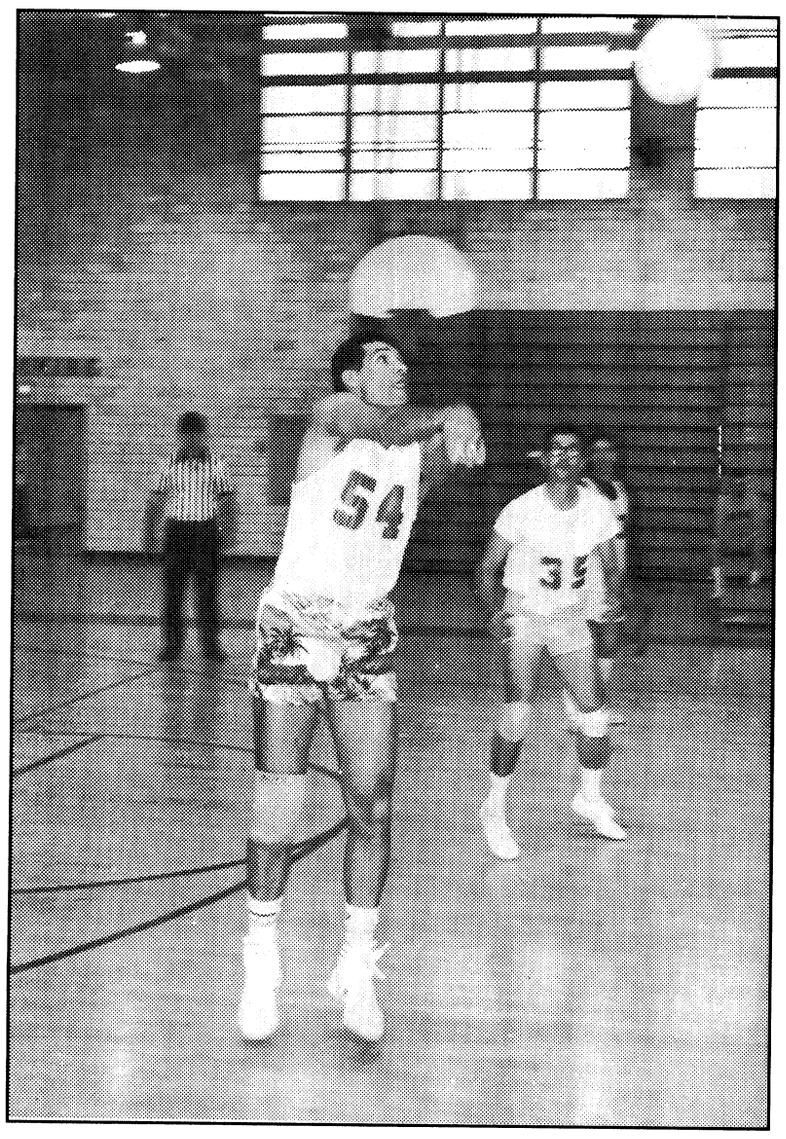
If you decide not to go, well, I guess it's just a matter of style — or lack thereof.

MOVIES

Today	CLOSED	Sand Hill
	True Believer - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Action Jackson - (R)	Main Post 9:10 p.m.
Saturday	CLOSED	Sand Hill
	Tap - (PG-13)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Three Fugitives - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Betrayed - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
	Coming to America - (R)	Main Post 11:30 p.m.
Sunday	CLOSED	Sand Hill
	Cocoon: The Return - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Tap - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Monday	The Accidental Tourist - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Three Fugitives - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Her Alibi - (PG)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Tuesday	Full Moon in Blue Water - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	I'm Gonna Git You Sucka - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Wednesday	Iron Eagle II - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Three Fugitives - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	The Burbs - (PG)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Thursday	Her Alibi - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	They Live - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.

LAST WEEK

The Cottage Kitchen
PICK-UP MEALS



10% DISCOUNT*
TO ALL ACTIVE MILITARY
MILITARY RETIREES & CIVIL SERVICE
(WITH I.D.)
HOURS: M-F 11:30-2:00 & 4:30-8:00 AND
SAT. 11:30-2:00 & 5:00-7:00
*Not Valid With Any Other Offer
Discount on All Dinners Including Daily Specials
VICTORY DRIVE STORE ONLY!
3119 Victory Drive (Next to Payless Shoe Store) 687-2775

BE WISE... DON'T WASTE

Arby's
SPECIAL OFFER!
ROAST BEEF DELUXE
ONLY 99¢
• Lean Roast Beef
• Crisp Lettuce
• Red Ripe Tomatoes
• Creamy Mayonnaise
• On a Toasted Sesame Seed Roll
FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY!

Carmike Cinema 7
5301 Sidney Simons Blvd. 596-8244
"DISORGANIZED CRIME" R 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
"FLETCH LIVES" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"RAINMAN" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
DISCOUNT MATINEES MON.-FRI. ALL SEATS $2.50 till 5:30 P.M.
"THE RESCUERS" PG 2:30, 4:00, 5:30, 7:30
"DANGEROUS LIAISON" R 9:30
"THE DREAM TEAM" PG13 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
"DEAD CALM" R 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
"WINGS OF DESIRE" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
Columbus Square 8 / 563-4440 COLUMBUS SQUARE
"DEAD BANG" R 7:00, 9:30
"MISSISSIPPI BURNING" R 7:00, 9:30
"LEAN ON ME" PG13 7:00, 9:30
"SHE'S OUT OF CONTROL" PG 7:00 9:30
"MAJOR LEAGUE" R 7:10 9:20
"SAY ANYTHING" PG13 7:10 9:20
"BILL & TED'S EXCELLENT ADV." PG 7:10, 9:20
"LEVIATHAN" R 7:10, 9:20
Peachtree Triple / 322-7704 PEACHTREE MALL
"BEACHES" PG13 7:00 9:30
"CYBORG" R 7:10 9:20
"976 - EVIL" R 7:10 9:20
Plaza Triple 99¢ / 563-3737 CROSS COUNTRY PLAZA
"SING" PG13 7:10, 9:20
any Movie 99¢ anytime!
"THE FLY II" R 7:00, 9:30
"TAP" PG13 7:00 9:30
Phenix Twin 99¢ / 297-3905 280 BYPASS
"TWINS" PG 7:10 9:15
any Movie 99¢ anytime!
"I'M GONNA GIT U SUCKA" R 7:15, 9:30

NOW HIRING
A MODEST ANNOUNCEMENT:
NEW DOMINO'S PAN PIZZA!™
Fantastic news for pan pizza lovers! Now you can enjoy the great taste of oven fresh pan pizza without leaving the comfort of your home.
Thanks to Domino's Pizza®, you can have your pan pizza delivered in 30 minutes or less, guaranteed. No traffic hassles. No waiting in restaurants.
New Domino's Pan Pizza™ has a thick, chewy crust, smothered with tangy sauce and lots of thick, gooey real cheese. And it's topped off with generous portions of your favorite toppings. All baked to delicious perfection!
So for great pan pizza, call Domino's Pizza.
Nobody Delivers Better℠.
Coca-Cola® Classic in 12oz. cans for $.60 (tax included)
DOMINO'S PIZZA MENU
All Pizzas Include Our Special Blend of Sauce and 100% Real Cheese.
Our Superb Cheese Pizza
Original
12" cheese $6.38 16" cheese $8.66
Domino's Pan Pizza™
12" cheese $7.29
ExtravaganZZa®
Limited portions of nine toppings for the price of five: Pepperoni, Mushrooms, Ham, Green Peppers, Onions, Ground Beef, Black Olives, Double Cheese and Sausage
12" ExtravaganZZa® $11.48
16" ExtravaganZZa® $15.91
12" Pan Pizza ExtravaganZZa® $12.39
Deluxe
Five generous toppings for the price of four: Pepperoni, Onions, Sausage, Mushrooms, Green Peppers
12" Deluxe $10.46 16" Deluxe $14.46
12" Pan Pizza Deluxe $11.37
Additional Toppings
Pepperoni, Mushrooms, Ham, Onions, Green Peppers, Black and Green Olives, Sausage, Ground Beef, Hot Pepper Rings, Double Cheese.
12" pizza $1.02 per topping
16" pizza $1.45 per topping
(Prices do not include applicable sales tax.)
DOMINO'S PIZZA GUARANTEE*
Service: We guarantee your pizza will arrive in 30 minutes or less from the time you order, or the driver will refund $3.00 off your order.
Product: We guarantee satisfaction with your pizza, or call the store manager within 30 minutes after delivery for a new pizza or for a full refund.
Pizza Take-Out: We guarantee your pizza take-out order will be ready in 15 minutes or you'll receive $3.00 off.
*Certain restrictions apply. Call store for details.
CALL US!
Serving Ft. Benning & Surrounding Area:
689-7676
127 Farr Road
Serving Main Post & S. Columbus:
689-5533
1919 South Lumpkin Drive
Domino's Pizza® Nobody Delivers Better℠
PAN & COKE® $8.29!
Just call and order ONE Medium 12" cheese Domino's Pan Pizza™ for only $7.29 and receive FOUR 12 oz. cans of Coca-Cola® Classic for only $1.00! Each additional topping only $1.02.
(Tax not included on pizza)
Good thru 4/27/89
Domino's Pizza® Pan Pizza
Our drivers carry less than $20. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offer. Limited delivery areas. ©1989 Domino's Pizza, Inc. BPC-4/14
$2.00 OFF!
Just call and order ONE large 16" pizza with TWO or more toppings and receive $2.00 OFF!
Good thru 4/27/89
Domino's Pizza® Nobody Delivers Better℠
Our drivers carry less than $20. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offer. Limited delivery areas. ©1989 Domino's Pizza, Inc. B2-4/14
Late Nite Special only $5.00
(Mon-Thurs after 9:00 p.m.)
Just call and order ONE original 12" one topping pizza for only $5.00.
Tax included.
Good thru 4/27/89
Domino's Pizza® Nobody Delivers Better℠
Our drivers carry less than $20. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offer. Limited delivery areas. ©1989 Domino's Pizza, Inc. BLN-4/14

Ron Allen

USARSA's Noack Otto delivers a two-handed return.

USARSA wins volleyball championship

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The U.S. Army School of the Americas sliced through all the competition to land in the U.S. Army Infantry Center's Volleyball Championship only to be pitted against Company B, 1st Battalion, 29th Infantry, who also played havoc with all opponents.

USARSA took an early lead in the 3-game series by dumping the 29th, 15-8. The 29th fought back in the second game taking a narrow victory, 16-14, tying up the match with one game all. In the final game, the 29th saw an early 7-7 tie fade away as USARSA won the game and the championship, 15-7.

USARSA waded through 2nd Battalion, 58th Infantry, 608th Ordinance, and 1st Battalion, 29th Inf. on their way to the championship. Co. B, 2nd Bn., 29th Inf. knocked off 1st Battalion, 11th Infantry, 598th Maintenance and Separate Units to make the final game.

In the third place battle, 1st Bn., 29th Inf. ambushed Separate Units for the trophy.

The second half season will begin Monday and will continue through May 10. The second half season championship will be played May 16-19.

STANDINGS

Fort Benning Biathlon and 5-Mile Run

Men's Overall

1st — Roy G. Edwards, 1:48:52. 2nd — Craig R. Pate, 1:49:14. 3rd — William F. Thetford, 1:53:58.

Women's Overall

1st — Deborah L. Finco-Kent, 2:07:56. 2nd — Diane M. Benoit, 2:11:09. 3rd — Francoise O. Gamble, 2:11:34.

Combined Team

Mark A. Mayoras, Robert E. Trible and Charles M. Elliot

Male Age Groups

15-19 — 1st, Arthur J. V. Siemon, 2:21:15. 2nd, Mark R. Huber, 2:34:23. 3rd, Michael T. Connoll, 2:56:28.

20-24 — 1st, Steve W. Elton, 1:57:17. 2nd, Carl A. Franzon, 2:01:26. 3rd, Darrah P. Griffin, 2:08:08.

25-29 — 1st, Charlie A. Kinnucan, 1:56:09. 2nd, Marion G. Binder, 1:56:18. 3rd, Dean N. Jordan, 2:01:13.

30-34 — 1st, Paul K. Martin, 1:59:37. 2nd, Gregg B. Hardwick, 2:00:06. 3rd, Mike Smith, 2:00:58.

35-39 — 1st, Bill Horn, 2:05:17. 2nd, Mike L. Guilmette, 2:06:01. 3rd, Charlie Crawford, 2:06:04.

40-44 — 1st, Bob M. Kirk, 2:04:36. 2nd, Charles W. Wakefield, 2:06:04. 3rd, Burch Nolan, 2:10:53.

45-49 — 1st, Roger A. Jutras, 2:05:13. 2nd, Jack Grosko, 2:08:01. 3rd, Gene Withrow, 2:13:01.

50 and Over — 1st, Bob Keller, 2:26:17. 2nd, Joe Petroline, 2:49:42.

Female Age Groups

20-24 — 1st, Heidi M. Ballenback, 2:24:08. 2nd, Kathleen D. Myers, 2:24:28. 3rd, Cythnia L. Straight, 2:37:57.

25-29 —1st, Arlean Tarantino, 2:17:11. 2nd, Carrie L. Kelly, 2:17:24. 3rd, Julia E. Harrell, 2:42:16.

30-34 — 1st, Anita S. Clark, 2:14:46. 2nd, Mellanie A. Cromwel, 2:44:16. 3rd, Eugenia M. Ulman, 3:08:26.

35-39 — 1st, Susan B. Giganti, 2:46:42. 2nd, Lois E. Guilmette, 2:49:55.

45-49 — 1st, Jeri I. Graham, 4:01:48.

5-MILE RUN

Men's Overall

1st — Lloyd McDonald, Jr., 25:28. 2nd — David Millet, 27:06. 3rd — Douglas L. Davis, 27:36.

Women's Overall

1st — Penny T. Dillon, 32:22. 2nd — Chris N. McKay, 35:22. 3rd — Molly McKenzie, 40:05.

Male Age Groups

15-19 — 1st, Steven G. Mammaro, 30:02. 2nd, Scott A. Berry, 40:58.

20-24 — 1st, Yunis Tejada, 27:47. 2nd, Francisco Bloise, 28:27. 3rd, Pascual Conzalez, 29:09.

25-29 — 1st, Felix Cruz, 29:41. 2nd, Timothy R. Baxter, 31:14. 3rd, Juan Solano, 31:23.

30-34 — 1st, Daniel R. McGlashin, 29:28. 2nd, Carlos O. Deleon, 30:58. 3rd, Kimm A. Rowe, 32:00.

35-39 — 1st, Steven T. Wonderlic, 39:29. 2nd, Robert J. Loushine, 41:54. 3rd, S. Richard Scott, 42:12.

40-44 — 1st, John W. Davis, 33:04. 2nd, Philip Tack, 35:48. 3rd, John H. Salary, 36:29.

45-49 — 1st, Al Chasen, 34:12. 2nd, William G. Newton, 37:31. 3rd, Fred W. Liebe, 39:06.

50 and Over — 1st, Milas W. Lebedovych, 36:39. 2nd, Axel A. Johnson, III, 36:54. 3rd, Ralph Bellizzi, 40:03.

Female Age Groups

20-24 — 1st, Lisa L. Alonzo, 55:25.

25-29 — 1st, Von R. Carey, 41:43. 2nd, Judith A. Cannon, 47:26. 3rd, Renee D. Gallaway, 55:10.

30-34 — 1st, Sharon E. Roberts, 45:16. 2nd, Martha I. Greathouse, 55:27.

35-39 — 1st, Carolyn R. Bulliner, 46:20. 2nd, Kristin Foerster, 47:51.

40-44 — 1st, Joyce G. Silver, 54:48.

50 and Over — 1st, Eva Petroline, 52:38.

CLASSIFIED

Excitement!

322-4500

PUBLIC NOTICES 016

Public Auction of used US Government Vehicles
A vehicle sell will be conducted beginning 9am, April 25, 1989 by General Services Administration, (GSA). It will be conducted at the Main Post Transportation Motor Pool, near Bldg 1697 just off Wold Avenue, Ft. Benning, GA. Property may be inspected April 24, 1989 from 9am to 3pm and April 25, 1989 from 8am-9am. POB parking will be available in the parking lot in front of bldg 1697 and 1698. Bidders must register with GSA at the sell site and receive a registration number. Both serviceable and non-serviceable vehicles will be offered. Vehicle condition is not warranted. So bidders are cautioned to inspect them before bidding. For further information, call Vivian Jones, 545-7040.

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES 018

Childcare Service. Certified. A.M. Burgess, open 5am til 5:30 pm. Newborns, toddlers and up to 3 yrs. old. Will also accomodate people for all night duty or field time. For more information call 689-5300

PERSONALS 020

TROUBLED? Need to talk? Call CONTACT. We care. 24 hours. 327-3999

AIR COND/ HEATERS 038

12,800 BTU, 110 Volt, $250. Call 568-7800.

APPLIANCE SALES 040

REFRIGERATOR, 22 cubic ft., $350. Call 568-7800.

CLOTHING 050

BEAUTIFUL white prom dress, $75, sized 3/4. Call 327-6679

PROM GOWN, floral design, pastel colors, very good cond, $70. 689-6598

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

COMPUTER DESK, $30. Call aft 3 PM 561-1223

FULL SIZED bed complete w/mattress & box springs. $100. Call 682-2173

OFF WHITE French Provincial dbl bed, canopy, night stand, pink canopy cover, bedspread, priscilla curtains, $175/offer. 323-3389

5 PIECE Dinette set, $75; complete queen size bedroom suite, $550. 682-4512.

5 PIECE sectional w/ sofa queeen size sleeper, $1250 neg. Call 297-9443 after 5.

YARD SALES GA 060

YARD SALE, Sat, 8-3, April 15th, Hot Dog & Bake sale also. 4026 Macon Rd.

THE HART SCHOOL
Train to be a Professional
•SECRETARY
•EXECUTIVE SEC.
•WORD PROCESSOR
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
THE HART SCHOOL
a Div. of A.C.T. Corp.
Nat'l Hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

Train for careers in
•AIRLINES
•CRUISE LINES
•TRAVEL AGENCIES
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
A.C.T. TRAVEL SCHOOL
Nat'l Hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

BLOOD PLASMA SAVES LIVES
$10 ea. DONATION
New Donors/ Or Inactive For 6 Months/ $5 Bonus with This Ad/ Plus $5 2nd Time Bonus Plus $750 Cash Drawing Monthly
Community Plasma Center
825 4th Ave.
Columbus
322-6566

YARD SALES GA 060

FT. BENNING RD. Flea Market is open & going strong. 6 days a week. Come & see Don & Linda. 1628 Ft. Benning Rd.

YARD Sale and inside living room sale. 574 A Warren Cirle, Davis Hill, Ft. Benning this Sat. & Sun.

COLLECTIBLES BUY/SELL 061

BOOK MARK
Collector Comics
4125 Hamilton Rd.
322-5449
New & Used
Books & Comics

SPORTS EQUIP. & SUPPLIES 064

MULTI-ACTION Gym, never used, pd $200, sell for $100. Call 561-4320

COME SEE Come save, 50% off stereo, 20% off brass, something for everyone. Waters Junk Store, 2342 Diane Ave, Oakland Pk.

Kerosene heater $85, easy chair, $20 adding machine $20. $100 takes all. 687-4170

SELF PROPELLED, lawn mower, $50. Collector doll, $35; Call 298-9047 aft 5PM

TV-VIDEO STEREO SALES 096

FISHER CD PLAYER, brand new, $200/best offer. Call 298-5721

19 INCH color TV, $200 neg. Call 297-9443 after 5.

PETS 122

Adorable Afghan Puppies
Call 682-3795

AKC GERMAN Shepherd puppies, Champion Bloodline, superior trainability. Call 569-9207.

AKC Golden Retreiver Pups. Shots & wormed. $100. Call 205-749-7184

PETS 122

AKC ROTTWEILER PUPS
Lg. boned, champ blood, shots & wormed. 561-2604

AKC yellow, lab, M, 1 year, trained, family dog, must sell, $200. 689-3777 aft 5

LABRADOR Retreivers, 7 wks., buff & black, shots & dewormed. $75. 568-7681.

PETS-LOST & FOUND 127

HAVE YOU LOST YOUR PET? Please contact the Muscogee County Humane Society at 7133 Sacerdote Lane, off Schatulga Road.

YOU CAN HELP SAVE A PET
Call our 24-hour hotline for lost & found pets. 571-2060.

FREE COLUMN 130

Brown Male Puppy, free to good home. Call after 6pm, 297-9622

FREE!! to good home Fox Terrier, 5mths, house trained, good w/children. 682-2975

FREE white female puppy, half pit bull, half Lab, to good home w/out children. 297-4714

IT'S HERE: the '89-'90 Military Pages. Call 682-7185 for your free copy.

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

SECURITY OFFICERS

Full & Part-Time needed in Columbus, GA & Opelika, AL areas. SSN & retired persons welcome. Minimum age 35. Apply at the Corporate Center, Suite 620 on Saturday, April 15th, from 8:30am to 1:30pm. No Phone Calls Please.

EOE

PUBLIC AUCTION

U.S. GOVERNMENT PERSONAL PROPERTY

2—1978 Dodge Pickup w/Lift Gate
1—1982 Dodge Van
1— 1979 Mobile Snack Truck
1— 1982 Refrigerated Ice Truck

Miscellaneous Shop Equipment
Cafeteria/Kitchen Equipment

DATE: April 25, 1989
TIME: 9:00 AM - Until
LOCATION: U.S. ARMY AND AIR FORCE EXCHANGE SERVICE
Main PX Exchange - Bldg. 210
Fort Gillem Army Depot
Forest Park, GA 30050

INSPECTION DATES AND TIMES
April 24, 1989 - 9:00 AM-3:00 PM
April 25, 1989 - 9:00 AM-10:00 AM

CONTACT LARRY SMITH
(404) 363-5949

SALES 226

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL
322-4500

SALESPEOPLE, male or female, military or civilian. Call 689-8337/8335, Photos Unlimited, Victory Drive next to Blimpie's.

Ledger-Enquirer
Classified Ads
Call 322-4500

SKILLS & TRADES 228

PERSONNEL CONCEPTS, INC.
Accepting Applications For
Labor, Packing, Assembly, Aluminum Mold Operators, and Screen Printing
For
LONG & SHORT ASSIGNMENTS
Apply in person 9-10AM or 2-3PM only. 105 West 10th St. (Courtyard Level). NO FEE.
EOE

JOB WANTED 230

MATURE Reliable person will babysit & do light housekeeping in your home. Mon.-Fri., Call Merry 989-3680 (local).

Publisher's Notice

All real estate advertised in this newspaper is subject to the Federal Fair Housing Act which makes it illegal to advertise "any preference, limitation, or discrimination based on race, color, religion, handicap, family status, or national origin or an intention to make any such preference, limitation or discrimination.

This newspaper will not knowingly accept any advertising for real estate which is in violation of the law. Our readers are hereby informed that all dwellings advertised in this newspaper are available on an equal opportunity basis.

To complain of discrimination, call HUD toll free at 1-800-424-8590.

RESUME SERVICES 232

A BETTER JOB WINNING RESUME $9
up to executive presentations. Expert writing, typing, printing, updating.
...FREE CONSULTATION...
★ SAME DAY SERVICE ★
America's oldest & largest Professional Resume Svc.
327-2238
2520 Wynnton Rd. Ste. 4

UNFURNISHED HOUSES GA 526

2444 Bond, 3 br, 1 ba, fenced. Near Post. $325 mo. - dep. 563-9820.

3 BR, 2 ba, near shopping & Ft. Benning. Call 687-0108.

RESORT RENTALS 534

Near Callaway Gardens, beautifully restored 6 room '1854' Log Cabin, 2br, c/h/a, very secluded. Night or week. (912) 986-3438, (404) 628-4900

HOMES FOR SALE AL 614

QUIET COUNTRY home on 28 acres of beautiful rolling meadows and pines. In Ft. Mitchell just 17 min. from Columbus. Well-insulated 3 br home w/ central air. Also barn, mobile home, greenhouse, fruit trees and garden on property. Call 855-2498. Elbow room!

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

THE HOME TEAM'S HIT PARADE

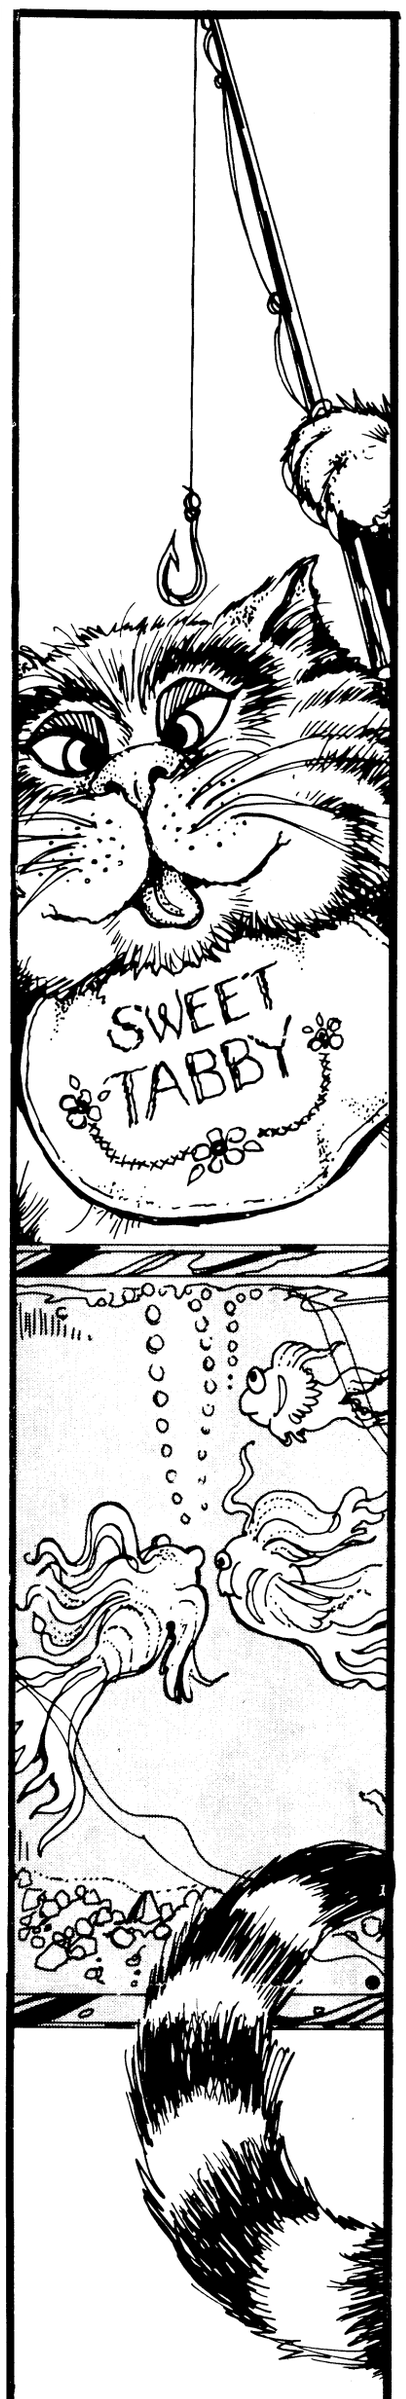
CORY & FRAZER LOOMIS
568-0183/323-8371
MILITARY? Let your BAQ buy your home.
MOVING? Call about our moving allowance.
FIRST TIME BUYER? Get our info packet.
CALL US! WE WANT TO EARN YOUR BUSINESS.
VA/FHA FINANCING ON THESE:
407 Henson Ave.
$63,900
4BR/2BA
2419 Skylake Dr.
$61,900
3BR/2BA
545 Englewood Dr.
$65,000
3BR/2BA
3530 Howard Ave.
$57,500
3BR/1BA
568-0183/323-8371
KENNON-PARKER, REALTORS

NURSING AT SAINT FRANCIS HOSPITAL

"Working at St. Francis Hospital has made a terrific difference in my attitude about work and about Nursing. I work with people who provide quality, concerned patient care, but who also provide me with an opportunity for personal and professional growth. Work is different now. I'm having fun!"
Renee Younger RN

COME JOIN THE BEST NURSING TEAM IN TOWN!!!!
Positions available:

CRITICAL CARE— New, expanded units, flexible hours and training available.



OPERATING ROOM— RN'S and ORT'S The Columbus area open heart surgery facilities.

MED/SURG— Flexible hours and shifts with opportunity for advancement into nursing management.

TELEMETRY 8 and 12 hour shifts.

We offer good working conditions, competitive salary, specialty differentials, good fringe benefits and a professional working atmosphere.

Call or contact Personnel Department
St. Francis Hospital SF
2122 Manchester Expressway
Columbus, Georgia 31995
404 322-8281
EOE M/F

How to drop a line in Classified

Take Ad-Vantage of Sell-ma Ads
3 LINES-5 DAYS-$5
to sell items for up to $300
3 LINES-3 DAYS-$11.70
to sell big ticket items

CALL CLASSIFIED 322-4500

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

★★★

AMERICAN HOME WEEK
Feature Edition

In support of the Real Estate industry, the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Newspaper will publish an American Home Week Feature Edition on Sunday, April 30, 1989.

Included in this special section will be tips on service provided by REALTORS, as well as information on Home Improvements and Real Estate Financing.

The American Home Week Edition is an excellent opportunity for REALTORS, HOME BUILDERS, BANKS and any HOME RELATED SERVICES to advertise. Ad deadline is April 17, 1989.

For more information, call your Sales Representative today at 324-5526

★★★

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

★★★

AMERICAN HOME WEEK
Feature Edition

In support of the Real Estate industry, the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Newspaper will publish an American Home Week Feature Edition on Sunday, April 30, 1989.

Included in this special section will be tips on service provided by REALTORS, as well as information on Home Improvements and Real Estate Financing.

The American Home Week Edition is an excellent opportunity for REALTORS, HOME BUILDERS, BANKS and any HOME RELATED SERVICES to advertise. Ad deadline is April 17, 1989.

For more information, call your Sales Representative today at 324-5526

★★★

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

AT CENTURY 21 576-5544 NEW HOMES LOW INTEREST RATES $51,900 to $69,900, all homes 3BR, 2BA brick, greatrooms, fireplaces, separate dining rooms. Eat-in kitchens, separate laundry rm, landscaped, many, many extras. ALLAN, 576-5544/576-4040 C-21, American Heritage

BY OWNER: Beautiful home in North Columbus on large landscaped lot. 3BR, 2BA, 2 fireplaces, hidden wet bar, cathedral ceilings in greatroom with exposed beams. House located in Cul-De-Sac, $84,900. Seller pays closing cost. 323-6207.

BY OWNER 4 br, 3 ba, greatroom w/ fireplace, den, DR, approx 3000 sq. ft., pool, on lake, dock, Beaver Run, 4 yrs old. 561-5703. No Agents.

CASTLEWOOD... Unbelievable! $3,300 & your in! VA nonqual. assumable 9½% reseaseable loan. 3 br, 2 ba, GR, stone FP, ceiling fans, 4' skylight, dbl. garage, fenced, security alarm, sprinklers inground, designer decorated, beautifully landscaped, wooded bkyd. 4008 Pickering Dr. (Appts. 569-1987 p.m., 323-0467 day mess/Chaplain Don & Nancy Troyer, 563-9200.)

MOBILE HOMES FOR SALE 710

$499 down, fast closing, owner finance, $260/mo. '86, 3BR 2BA, set up, 855-3486.

12x60, $2,000; 10x60, $1500; 12x50 (storage/shop) 900; 10x55 junker, $200. 689-0453

MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT 714

NICE 2BR, washer/dryer, central heat, Furnished, a/c. 561-8684/689-8646

2BR mobile home, furnished, nice carpet, ac, convenient to Kelly Hill Exit. $225 mo. 989-3270.

MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT 714

1,2 & 3br elec/gas on, near schools & post. 1314 Ft. Benning Rd. 9-5, 689-0453

BOATS 810

Bayliner Contessa Cruiser '85 28.5', 10' beam, new custom canvas, radar arch, 260 hp Volvo, 583 hrs, A/C, scanning VHF radio, color video depth finder, clear bottom paint, custom 6 wh. trailer w/brakes, many other extras. Perfect cond. West Pt. Lake, 1-884-3036, ask for Thomas Wardlaw, 884-3666 after 7pm. $36K. Serious inquiries only

CAMPERS & TRAILERS 820

Town & Country Camper Sales, Wholesale Outlet, 205-291-0550. Hail damaged tops, cost & below; New location sale May 6

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

EMERGENCY SALE
We Have To Move Over 200 Motorcycles At Once!

UP TO $1000 REBATES ON SELECTED MODELS

No Reasonable Offer Will Be Refused!

1988 Honda Interceptor $494.39 Dn $104.19 Mo.
All Hondas on sale at super discount prices! We finance E-1s & up and civilians with a job. Bank rate financing on all loans.
Honda Come Ride With Us
Open Mon-Fri, 9-6PM
Saturday, 9-3PM
TOMMY WAGES HONDA
Corner 18th St & 4th Ave
322-7328

HONDA '84 Gold Wing GL 1200, fully dressed, stereo, extras. $4400. 687-2874

SUZUKI GS 850, 4,000 mi., $2000 or best offer. Call 569-9691.

MINI-BIKES 830

HONDA ATC 70, '83, $275. Call 323-6231

TRUCKS 914

'78 DODGE, SB, HD, auto., $1100. '70 Ranchero, $800. Call 324-0069.

'85 TOYOTA 4 wheel dr, blue, ps, pb, am/fm cass. $4500 neg. 298-7573

BUSES/VANS FOR SALE 922

CHEVY Conversion Van, '85, 1 owner, loaded, like new, 35,000 mi. Will trade 298-5114, aft 7, 596-0987.

JEEPS FOR SALE 924

CJ7 RENEGADE, '83, hard top, 38K, mint, 6cyl, am/fm/cass. 682-3423

AUTO SERVICE PARTS, ACC 926

'28 MODEL A Back-End, suitable to build trailer, $25. Call 297-4489.

440 motor & trans, runs good, $250/best offer. Call 322-5036

AUTO INSURANCE FINANCING 928

Military & civilians residing in Alabama. Call or see us for your insurance needs. Serving area since 1960. PITTS-DAVIS INS. 298-2500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

CADILLAC ELDORADO '76, 36,000 actual miles, like new. 324-4266

CAMARO '87, 5 sp, t-tops, exc. cond. Best offer. Call 561-4728 after 6 p.m.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like for your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

CHEVY NOVA good running condition, $450. Call 327-2105.

DELTA 88, Olds, loaded, '84, exc. cond., $4700; Coupe DeVille Cadillac, '86, like new, loaded, $11,000. Call 563-1647

FORD Granada '78, $600; '76 Chevy Nova $350. Call 563-4198 after 5p.m.

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE
FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL
322-4500

HONDA CIVIC '85 5 sp, 4 dr, air, low miles, large engine. $5650. Call 568-3445.

MAZDA'S '88 MX6 Turbo & '86 RX7. Both loaded, 1 has to go. Days-649-2266, eves. & wknds (404) 582-3813.

Mustang '84 Auto., hatchback, sunroff, & mags. $2895. Sconiers Auto Center, 322-0016.

No Fault or Full Coverage Call us for free quote before you pay too much. Mike Streetman Insurance, 322-7272. Open 9am-7pm

OLDS DELTA 88 '85, loaded, perfect condition, $6600. After 6pm call 323-2919.

PLYMOUTH Fury '78, auto, ps, pb, runs good, body fair cond. $600. 563-6922.

RENAULT ALLIANCE '83 1.4 liter engine, $850 324-6072

TOYOTA '83 Celica GT, hatchback, new tires, a/c, am/fm tape, white w/blue interior, cruise control, 90K, Priced below mkt. at $3950, make offer. 569-9630

TOYOTA '85 Camary, auto., air, am/fm cass. w/eq. $4995. Sconier's Auto Center, 322-0016.

VOLKSWAGEN '74 Super Beetle, good cond., $1800. Call 298-7216.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

'65 GTO (clone) good cond, new paint, dual exhaust, $1500. 297-6781.

'76 CAMARO, rally sport, auto., $1400. '68 Torino, $1800. Call 324-0069.

'76 VOLVO Station Wagon, good car, $1500. Call 323-1871 after 6.

'78 280 Z, Rebuilt engine, auto., air. $2500 or best offer. 297-4400 & leave message.

'83 VOLVO 244 GL, auto., black, sunroof, 48,000 mi., $7200. 855-3714, 7-9 p.m.

'84 BUICK Century, auto, V-6, fully loaded, exc cond, $4700. Call 682-3795

'84 MERCURY TOPAZE GS, 5spd, 4dr, ps/pb, ac, am/fm stereo, $3000, 682-3553.

'88 IROC Z-28, flame red, t-tops, make offer. Must sell. Call (404) 628-5212, between 5-10 p.m., 324-4792, ext. 378 days.

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

PONTIAC Fiero 87, black, $500 & take over payments of $237.05 a mo. 298-4307

'77 TRANS AM, t-tops, air, pw, ps, exc. cond. $4200. Must see to appreciate. Call 323-5079.

'86 CORVETTE Convertible, 5 sp, triple black, like new. $25,750. 561-8789.

CLASSIC & ANTIQUE AUTOS 934

IMPALA '69 2 door, 350, all original. See at Torch Hill Shell, $700. 689-0071

IMPORTED AUTOS 936

Mercedes 280CE '81 Silver/Gray, $13,000. Call 563-4961.

MERCEDES 300D '78, yellow, excellent cond., best offer. Call 323-2396

'81 SAAB 900S, 4 dr, 5 sp, am/fm cass. stereo, sunroof, low mi., 1 owner. Military. Call 563-4914.

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
"DELIVERS"

E-2s & Up!!

No Previous CREDIT! "No Problem"

SAME DAY DELIVERY!

SLOW CREDIT? "No Problem"

Toll Free 1-800-544-8480

Only Requirements
1. L.E.S.
2. $99.00 Down
3. Ability To Buy Full Coverage Auto Insurance

Bring this Ad—

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
Hwy. 431 North
EUFAULA, ALABAMA

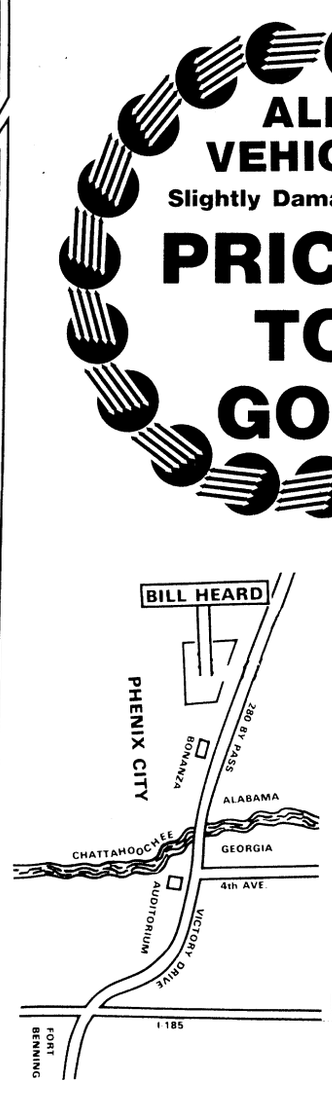
MALOOF TOYOTA BMW

YOUR COMPLETE AUTO COLLISION REPAIR FACILITY
Be sure that you use genuine Toyota parts to maintain your warranty protection!

OUR COMPLETE BODY SHOP IS EQUIPPED TO PROVIDE EXPERT WORK ON IMPORTS AND DOMESTICS TOO!

MALOOF TOYOTA BMW
(Exit 4 Off I-185, Macon Rd.)
Hours: Mon.-Fri. 7:30-6pm
1801 Box Rd.
Columbus, GA
563-7500
We accept most credit cards

BILL HEARD'S



PHENIX CITY LOCATION

1131 280 By-Pass
Phenix City, Ala.

HAIL DAMAGE SALE

OVER 100 DAMAGED VEHICLES MUST GO!!!

ALL VEHICLES Slightly Damaged But PRICED TO GO!!!

CARS, TRUCKS, VANS
All Makes & Models!!!
Our Loss is Your Gain!!!
Come Early For Best Selection . . .

CALL 298-3636
on the 280 By-Pass
In Phenix City, Alabama

COMPLIMENTARY DISNEY WORLD - ORLANDO VACATION!

3 BIG DAYS
2 FUN NIGHTS
HILTON
Rosemont Golf & Country Club

With Each New Car Sold or Each Used Car Priced Over $4000.

This Offer Absolutely Expires April 17--Quantities are Limited.

Includes Three Days and Two Night of ● Deluxe Accomodations at the Hilton Inn Florida Center. The Hilton Inn Galaway or the Altamonte Springs Hilton for Two Adults ● Welcome Split of Champagne ● Finest Morning Continental Breakfast for Two ● Discount Coupons for Shows, Restaurants and Attractions ● Two All-Day Adult Walt Disney World Passports (Choice of Magic Kingdom or EPCOT Center ● Children Occuping Same Room w/Parents stay Free ● Complimentary Green Fee w/cart rental at Orlando's Rosemont Country Club. America's Vacation Paradise, Orlando is home of World Famous Walt Disney World and EPCOT Center as well as being conveniently located near Seal World, Cypress Gardens, Circus World, Silver Sprints, Cape Carnaval and of course Florida's shimmering white beaches.

PLYMOUTH SUNDANCE/ DODGE SHADOW
stk# 89C139
3 dr. lft. bk autom. trans, air, pop pkg, deluxe Conv. Pkg, stereo cass.
Sugg. Retail $11,233
Factory Rebate 750
Crown Disc. 750
0% APR available
SALE PRICE $9,733

1989 DODGE D100
stk# 89C178
6 cyl., autom. trans., air, NICELY EQUIPPED (not stripped).
Sugg. Retail $12,845
Factory Rebate 1,000
Crown Disc. 1,850
0% APR available
SALE PRICE $9,995

PLYMOUTH VOYAGER DODGE CARAVAN
stk# 89C149 (more to choose from)
All vans are 7 passenger autom., trans., air, tilt, 2.5 eng.
Sugg. Retail $17,327
Crown Disc. 2,000
SALE PRICE $15,327

1989 CHRYSLER 5th AVE.
8 to choose from
Fully loaded.
Sugg. Retail $21,170
Factory Rebate 1,000
Crown Disc. 1,000
0% APR available
SALE PRICE $19,170

FULL SIZE HIGHTOP CONVERSION VANS
stk# 89C107/89C110
TV, pwr. windows, loaded.
Sugg. Retail $22,585
Factory Rebate 2,000
Crown Disc. 2,000
or 0% APR available
SALE PRICE $18,585

1989 DODGE COLT 3 dr. Hatchbk
stk# 89C117
4 spd., 4 cyl., super economy.
Sugg. Retail $8,227
Factory Rebate 300
Crown Disc. 1,200
0% APR available
SALE PRICE $6,727

NISSANS
1989 NISSAN SENTRA
2 door, 4 speed
$6,999*
*plus opts., tax, tag, & title

THE ALL NEW 1990 NISSAN AXXESS
Autom. trans., air, am/fm cassette, two tone, reg. price $16,307.
INTRODUCTORY SPECIAL
$15,307

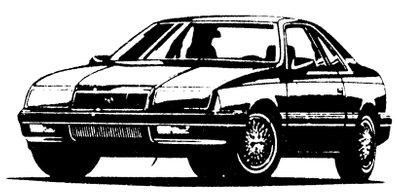
TRADE-IN SPECIALS

1988 CHEVY BERETTA Loaded, 13,000 miles. SALE PRICE $8495	1988 TOYOTA P.U. like New! SALE PRICE $6995	1988 OLD FIRENZA 4 dr., x-nice. SALE PRICE $7995	1987 OLDS BOUGHAM Full loaded SALE PRICE $10,495	1987 PONT. SUNBIRD 2 dr., autom., air, am/fm SALE PRICE $7995	1987 FORD BRONCO II Loaded 4x2 SALE PRICE $10,495	1987 PATHFINDER 4x4, 5 speed, air NICE TRUCK SALE PRICE $12,995	1987 DODGE DAKOTA P/U 5 spd, air, am/fm cass SALE PRICE $6995	1986 CHEVY Z-28 5 speed, red NICE SALE PRICE $8995	1986 FORD MUSTANG LX 3 dr., htchbk, autom. trans., air, 38,000 mi SALE PRICE $5995
1986 NISSAN KING CAB 5 spd, air, good cond. SALE PRICE $5995	1985 VW VANAGAN X-cellent cond., 5 spd, air (frt & rear) SALE PRICE $7995	1985 PONTIAC FIERO 5 spd, air, am/fm, x-clean SALE PRICE $6995	1985 VW SCIROCCO 5 spd, am/fm cass SOLD SALE PRICE $3995	1984 CHEVY CONV. Van, nice hairs, SOLD SALE PRICE $7995	1983 DODGE RAM CHARGER Roll SOLD SALE PRICE $5995	1986 PLYMOUTH VOYAGER SE 2.6 eng. autom. trans., air, am/fm, GOOD CONDITION! SALE PRICE $8995	1986 CHRYSLER LEBARON 4 dr., autom., trans., air, am/fm SALE PRICE $4995	1980 NISSAN 280 ZX 5 spd., air, like new SALE PRICE $4995	1982 PLYMOUTH RELAINT S/W Autom., trans., one owner SALE PRICE $2995

427 New Frankling Rd.
LaGrange GA 30240
(404) 884-1744

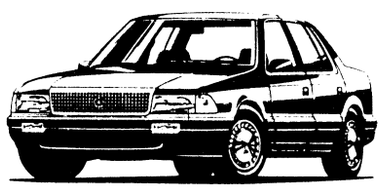
Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8
Sat. 8:30-6:00

Chrysler Plymouth
CROWN NISSAN
Dodge Truck



CHRYSLER PLYMOUTH DODGE

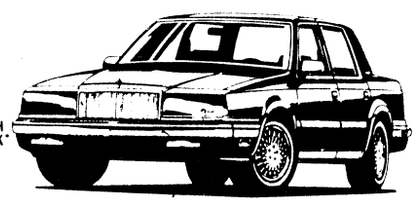
HERE'S TO YOU COLUMBUS, ONE TIME.



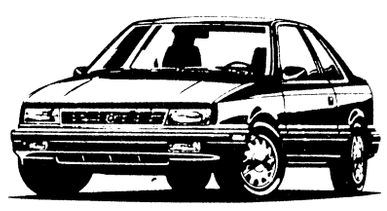
'Cause one time is all it takes to get 0% financing††

$300 or $2000 to cash back on every new 1989 car!*

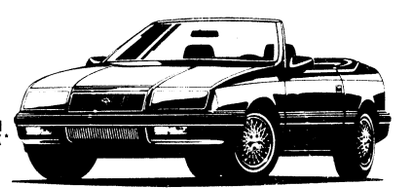
CHRYSLER LeBARON COUPE
$11,495†
−1000 CASH BACK*
$10,495



PLYMOUTH ACCLAIM
$9,920†
−500 CASH BACK*
$9,420



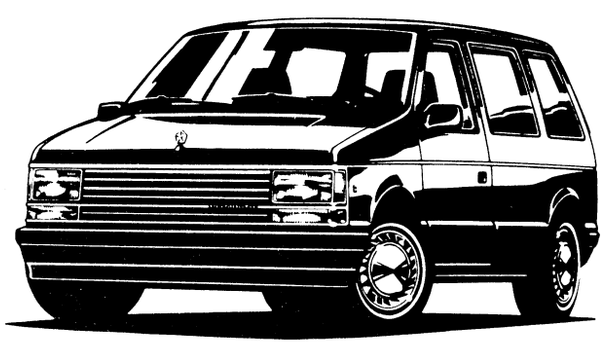
PLYMOUTH HORIZON AMERICA
$6,595†
−500 CASH BACK*
$6,095



CHRYSLER NEW YORKER
$17,416†
−1000 CASH BACK*
$16,416

PLYMOUTH SUNDANCE
$8,395†
−750 CASH BACK*
$7,645

CHRYSLER LeBARON CONVERTIBLE
$13,995†
−300 CASH BACK*
$13,695



COLT, IMPORTED FOR PLYMOUTH
$6,678†
−300 CASH BACK*
$6,378

CONQUEST TSi, IMPORTED FOR CHRYSLER
$2,000 CASH BACK*

PLYMOUTH VOYAGER
$11,312†
PLUS SAVE $340 ON TURBO ENGINE

CARL GREGORY CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH

ONE TIME IS ALL WE NEED TO DO YOU RIGHT.

CHRYSLER
Plymouth

CREDIT DOC SAYS:

1800 BOX RD. Columbus 568-4900

†Manufacturer's suggested retail prices. Title and taxes extra. ††0% Annual Percentage Rate short term financing for qualified buyers through Chrysler Credit. Other rates for longer contracts. *Cash back and financing on new dealer stock. Excludes minivans.

Protects engine, powertrain for 7 years or 70,000 miles and against outer body rust-through for 7 years or 100,000 miles. See limited warranty at dealer. Some restrictions apply. Excludes imports. 7/70

Spring Clearance SALE

IMMEDIATE DELIVERY

NO PAYMENTS TIL JULY!
FOR QUALIFIED CREDIT

TIL JULY!
80,000 SQ. FT. OF FURNITURE BARGAINS

MASSIVE INCLINING SLEEPING COMFORT

Four Piece Sectional with 2 Incliners & Sleeper - One Low Price.

The heart of comfort in your home can be this decorator delight. It's massive yet beautiful, covered in high quality easy-to-care-for herculon velvet. What's more, inside all this soft billowy comfort are two incliners for "put your feet up" relaxation. Plus a queen size sleeper with TV headrest making this a fantastic value. Truly, this living room furniture covers all the bases when it comes to home seating convenience. Come shop today!

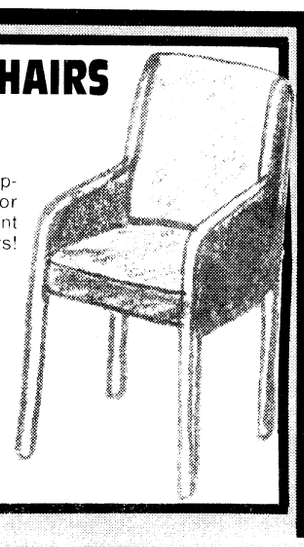
Reg. $1899

SALE PRICE $1299

AS LOW AS $50 PER MONTH

SOLID OAK ROCKER SET

Solid oak porch set consists of double rocker, settee and two porch rockers. Beautifully lacquered durable oak. You would expect to pay up to $199.00 . . . but for a limited time only . . .



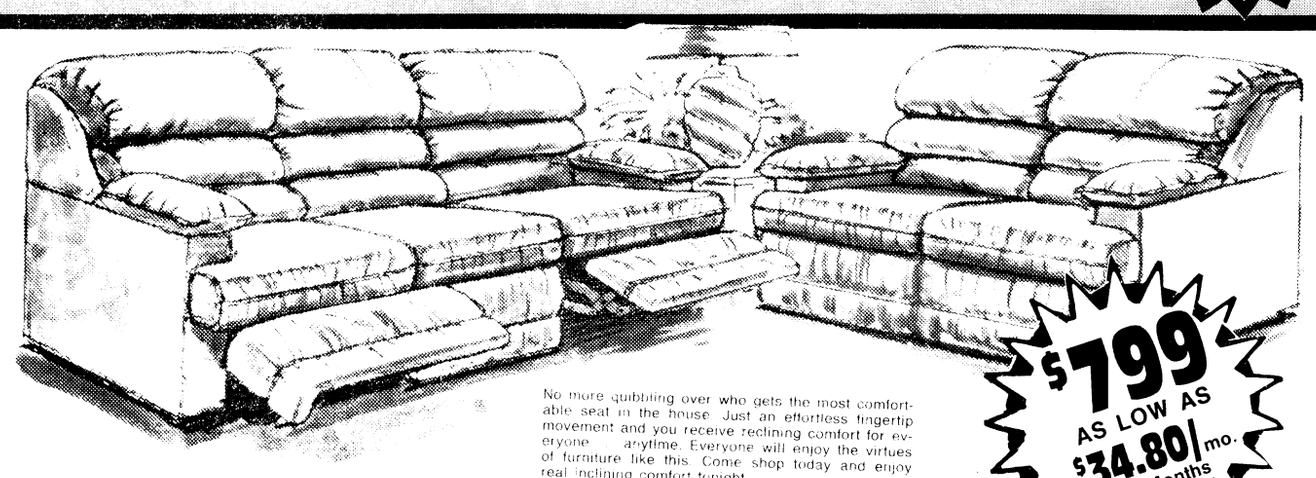
reg. $199.00

$49

OCCASIONAL CHAIRS

ONLY 60 TO SELL!

If perfect, these beautiful upholstered chairs would sell for $199 or more! Use as accent pieces, dining, game chairs! Hurry, first come, first sold!



ONLY $29.00

PLAY LOTORIA™

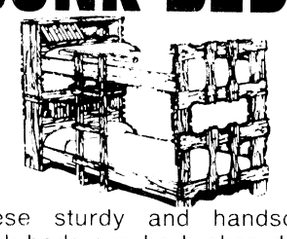
FREE GIANT JACKPOT

GET YOUR FREE TICKETS
NO PURCHASE NECESSARY

No more quibbling over who gets the most comfortable seat in the house. Just an effortless fingertip movement and you receive reclining comfort for everyone anytime. Everyone will enjoy the virtues of furniture like this. Come shop today and enjoy real inclining comfort tonight.

$799 AS LOW AS $34.80/mo. 36 Months With Qualified Credit

INCLINING SOFA AND LOVESEAT



AMERICAN BEDDING

COUNTRY MORNING POSTURE SERIES
SOLD IN SETS ONLY

Twin .....NOW	$139.95
Full.....NOW	$196.95
Queen. NOW	$222.95
King .....NOW	$319.95

BUNK BEDS

These sturdy and handsome bunk beds can be broken down into twin beds if desired. Includes all rails, bunkies and ladders.

NOW $222

Similar to Illustration

TV CART SPRING SALE

ONLY $29.00

This is an attractive and sturdy unit on which to store VCR, TV, tapes, accessories and more. The center shelf conveniently pulls out for access to your VCR. The bottom shelf just the right size to hold your favorite tapes, or books and magazines. Finished on all sides in Plymouth Oak, wich casters for mobility. Comes ready to assemble.

WIN 10,000 IN FINE FURNITURE

COME AND GET YOUR TICKET!

Fill Out And Bring This Coupon In To Register

FURNISH AMERICA

OFFICIAL TICKET

Furnish America $10,000 FURNITURE GIVEAWAY

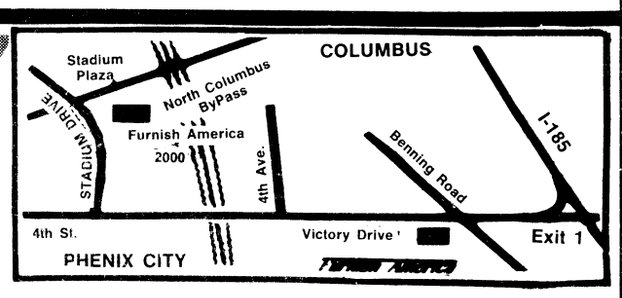
NAME _____



ADDRESS _____

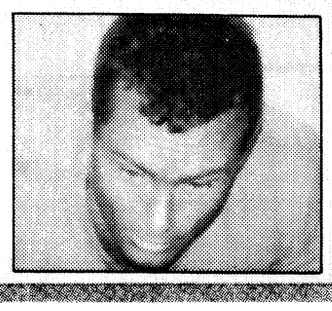
PHONE _____

Furnish America

Yes, we still have credit terms. Even at these astounding prices we can offer convenient terms based upon needs including 100 days same as cash. Minimum purchase $400. Your charge cards welcome.

American Express Card · DISCOVER · MasterCard · VISA

NOW TWO CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
BENNING ROAD AT VICTORY DRIVE 682-2350—STADIUM PLAZA 298-1121



Intense treatment program helps patients deal with diabetes.

See A-4

Training continues for upcoming "Best Ranger" competition.

See A-5

INDEX

Opinion A-2
Community A-8
Spiritual A-9
Unit B-2
Sports B-4
Movies B-5

THE BAYONET

Home of the Infantry

Vol. 47, No. 29 | Published in the interest of the Fort Benning, Ga. community. | April 21, 1989

Vuono tours new NCO Academy

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

When Army Chief of Staff Gen. Carl E. Vuono came to Fort Benning last week for the Infantry Conference, he toured the Henry Caro Noncommissioned Officers Academy.

He explained why at the Officer's Club where he was the guest speaker for the conference attendees.

"I went to the academy because a couple years back when I was the TRADOC commander, Command Sergeant Major Roy C. Owens (previous post sergeant major) let me in on a dream of his," Vuono said. "His dream was to turn what was then a school yard for children into an NCO academy, and he asked me for the money to do it."

When Vuono was shown the school yard, the new Faith School was already under construction, and the old school, which is now the academy, would be vacated.

Vuono said he allotted the funds for the project and thinks they did a terrific job.

"The NCOs have a great responsibility, which is one of the reasons 1989 has been designated 'Year of the NCO,'" he said.

He said that NCOs and officers are responsible for training and readying soldiers for battle. It's not just a requirement, he continued, it's completely necessary.

Vuono stated the Army is trained and ready now, but we need to maintain the momentum.

"We have a quality force and quality youngsters," he said. "The fact that we have gone from fifty-four percent to ninety-three percent high school graduates shows that."

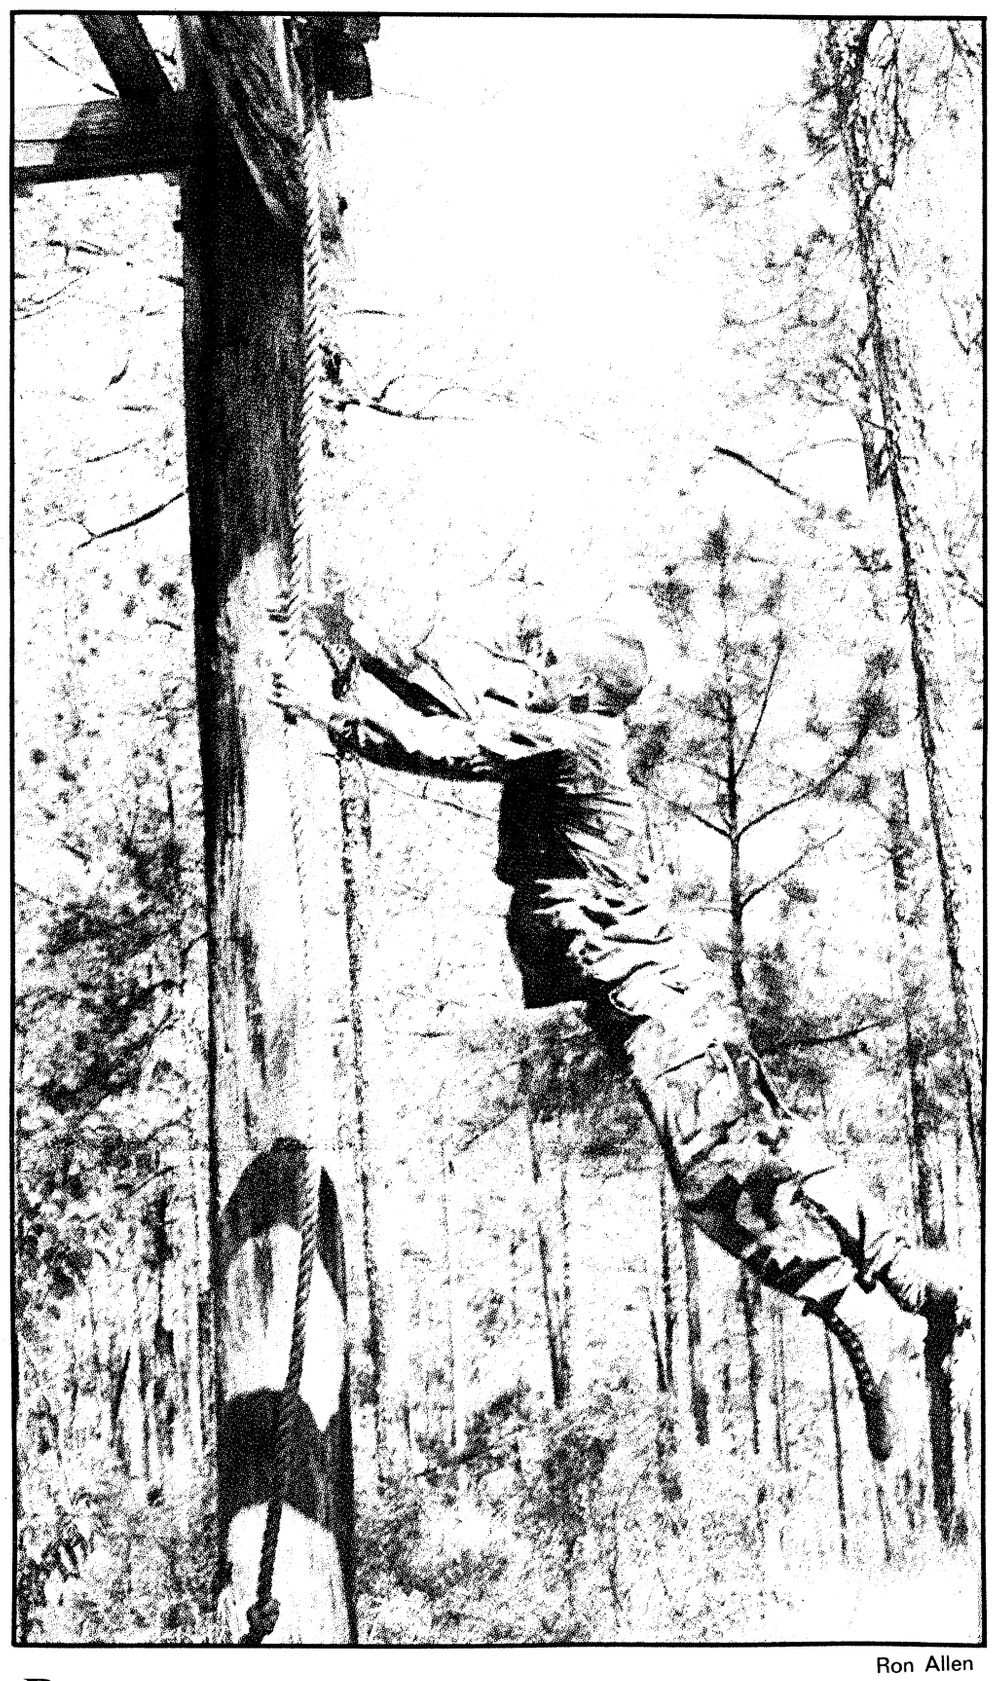
He added that the Army has also gone from 58 percent category fours to four percent, which translates to a ready, flexible Army.

"To keep those soldiers in the Army, we have to create an environment kids are excited about," he said. "That's why I'm committed to something called the Army Communities of Excellence."

Vuono said it's not very fancy. It's just providing the best facilities possible for soldiers.

"It doesn't have to be new, but I want it looking good," he said. "I want good service in the PXs, snack bars and medical facilities."

Vuono urged commanders and sergeant majors to go by and make sure they are good. If they aren't good, he said to correct them on the spot.



"This will make families feel good, and we will retain quality soldiers," he said.

The quality soldiers we keep in the Army will help us work right into the future. The help them in that future, he said there is a new manual, FM 25-100, which is the Bible for training that force.

He said he expects leaders to understand 25-100 and to use everything available to make training exciting, challenging and meaningful.

Vuono said there are three pillars in the development of leaders, the first — institution training, second — operational sites and third — self development.

"I expect infantry leaders to be competent in their business, to know their jobs and to be tactically and technically competent," Vuono said.

Ron Allen

Ranger on a rope

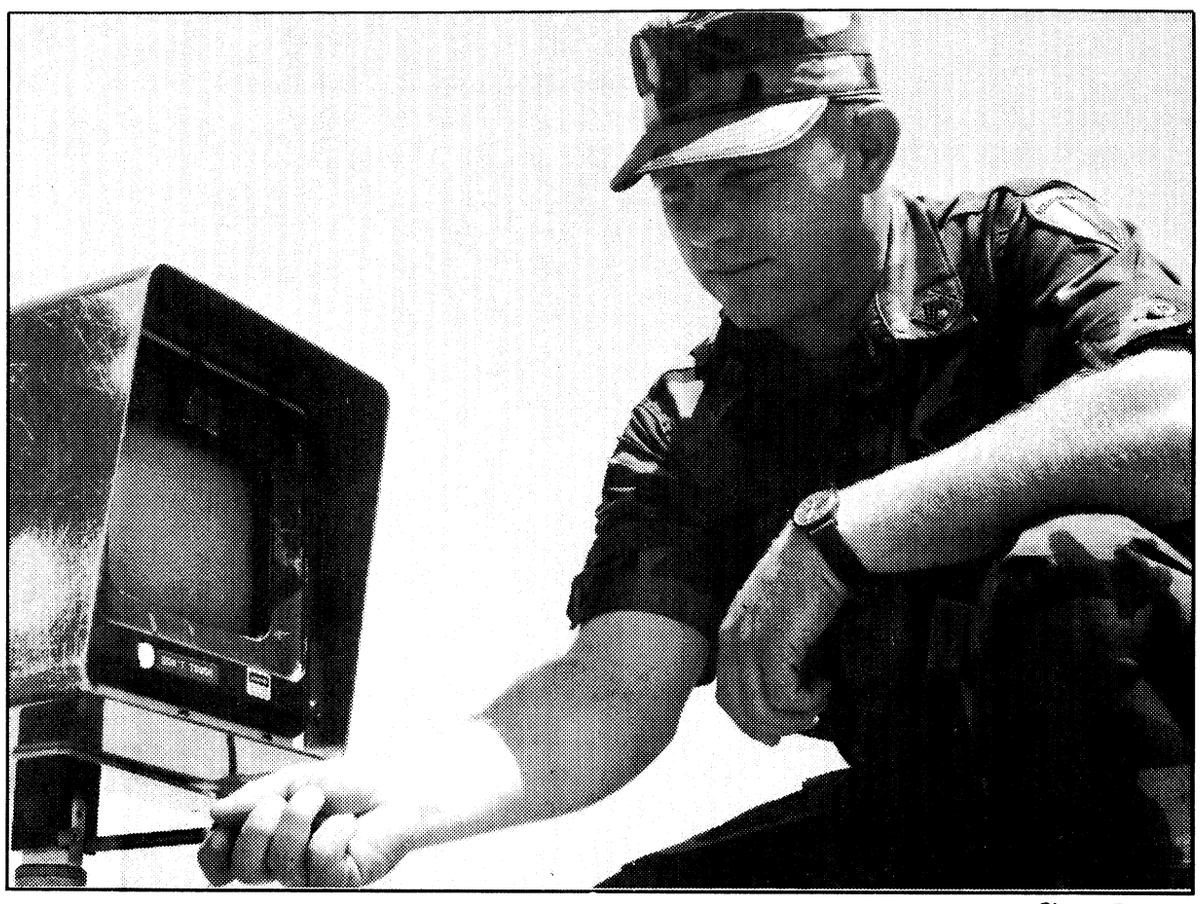
Sgt. Guy I. Fichtelman, 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., dives for the rope during training for the "Best Ranger" competition. Fichtelman, along with his partner, Sgt. Mike M. Sonnenschein, finished third last year and said he feels they have a good chance to win again.

Soldier's discovery has Armywide impact

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

A soldier from Company C, 2nd Battalion, 29th Infantry Regiment, was recently honored for a discovery that will not only affect training at Fort Benning, but throughout the Army.

SFC Stanley Wisner is the noncommissioned officer in charge of range 13 on the Malone complex. Malone 13 is the only "Localization of Miss and Hit" range at Benning. The LOMAH system provides downrange feedback about where a round is hitting or missing after each bullet is fired. In addition, the system provides the speed of each round.



Wisner, with help from LOMAH, recognized a problem with M-16 ammunition more than a year ago and accepted an Army Achievement Medal earlier this week for his discovery.

Initially, Wisner noticed the M-16A2 rounds were hitting targets at the same distance, but at different speeds. His curiosity got the best of him. He began to research the cause of the discrepancy.

Wisner, who has been stationed at Benning since 1984, discovered some of the bullets were set in their casings differently; "there seemed to be variations in a lot of the rounds," he said. "Some were set in deeper than others."

After taking his findings through his chain of command, the Lake City Ammunition Plant (manufacturer of the ammunition) was notified.

Tests are currently being conducted to check the quality of the rounds.

Shawn Bryson

SFC Stanley Wisner inspects a monitor of the LOMAH system, which enabled him to discover a discrepancy in M-16A2 ammunition.

POST BRIEFS

Survey on the way

Return by May 1 — The Bayonet Readership Surveys are in the mail. More than 7,000 surveys have been mailed to a random sample from of more than 45,000 residents at Fort Benning and in Columbus and Phenix City.

Recipients of the survey should return the questionnaire by May 1.

Results will be published in the future.

Benning medical soldiers deploy to Alaska

Temporary duty — Twenty-six personnel and three UH-60A Blackhawk helicopters of the 498th Medical Company, 34th Medical Battalion have been sent to Alaska on temporary duty to provide aeromedical evacuation support to the Alaska Oil Spill Cleanup Operation.

They are expected to remain in Alaska through September.

They will be stationed at Bryant Army Airfield at Fort Richardson near Anchorage.

The soldiers departed Fort Benning Wednesday.

Be part of the solution

Family Symposium — The 1989 Fort Benning Community Family Symposium will take place May 4 and 5. Volunteer delegates are needed. Child care and lunch will be provided. The theme this year is "Be part of the solution." This is an opportunity to make your voice heard and improve the quality of life at Fort Benning. Registration must be done by May 1. Call 545-5602/544-4811 to volunteer.

OCS selection boards tentatively set for June, Aug.

Prepare now — The next OCS selection boards have been scheduled tentatively for June 13 through 16 and Aug. 8 through 11 a recent message from PERSCOM announced. Cutoff dates for applications to arrive at PERSCOM are June 1 and Aug. 1, respectively. No exceptions.

Applications must arrive in AG, Personnel Actions Office, building 2608, no later than May 1, for June's board and June 30 for August's board to allow sufficient time for each applicant to appear before a local board.

OCS applicants to be considered for aviation must have an approved flight physical by the Aeromedical Center, Fort Rucker, Ala., and a FAST test score sheet attached to their applications and can be no more than 30 years old to be considered for aviation. This requirement cannot be waived.

All OCS applicants must have a secret security clearance before applying for OCS. Applicants will not be considered by the OCS selection board if a security clearance is not indicated in their applications.

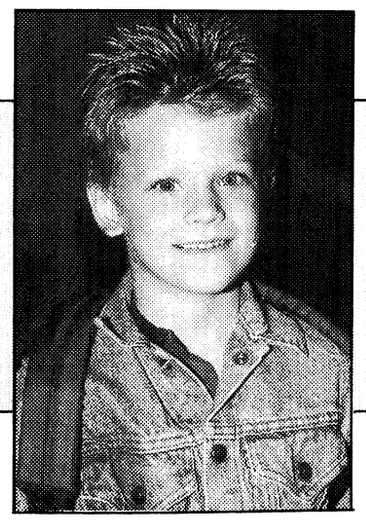
Soldiers who will have more than 10 years of active federal service by Jan. 24 are ineligible to apply for OCS. This requirement cannot be waived.

Soldiers who will be 33 years old before Jan. 24, 1990 are ineligible to apply for OCS. This requirement cannot be waived.

For more information and application forms, call Mrs. Lee or Ms. Evans, AG, Personnel Actions, 545-3341/4702.

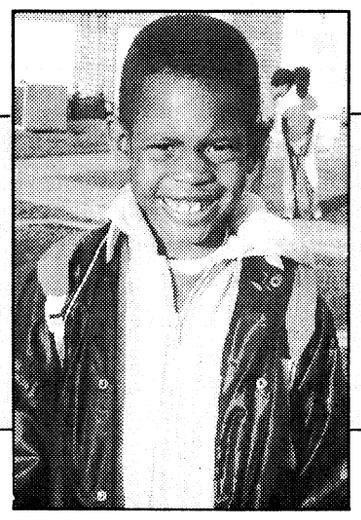
Auction slated Thursday

Surplus property — The Defense Reutilization and Marketing Office at Fort Benning will conduct an auction of government surplus property at Thursday 9 a.m. in Building 326 on 10th Mountain Division Road, Fort Benning.



The auction is open to the public and will include such items as military clothing, household furniture and appliances, office machines, office furniture and vehicles.

A three-day inspection period will be held 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. from Monday until the day of the sale at 9 a.m..



Individuals wishing to purchase property must be 18 years old or older. For more information, call 545-7214/3497.

OPINION

VARIOUS VOICES: What do you like best about being a military child?

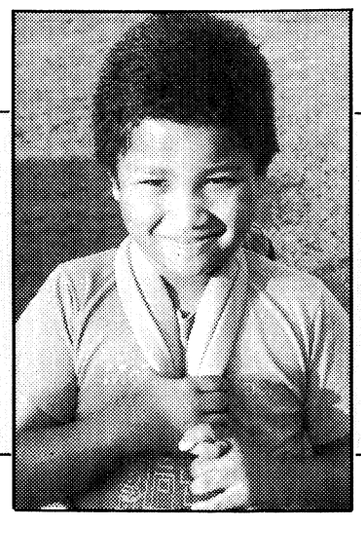
Brian McDonald, age 6, family member — "I like seeing the rangers because they do all kinds of neat things like jumping out of airplanes. I also like meeting new friends."

Dominique Alexander, age 7, family member — "I like watching people jump out of airplanes and shoot their guns."



Daniel Crawford, age 11, family member — "I like all the things I can do on post that I couldn't do anywhere else, like going to the Youth Activities Center."

Jarod Jenkins, age 5, family member — "I like watching the tanks drive around."

Donnie Reynolds, age 6, family member — "I like riding on airplanes when we travel. I like seeing the tanks, too."

Jason Lacy, age 5, family member — "I like being able to travel and meet people."

Snively says rangers best

By Clyde Snively
USAIC Public Affairs Office

Rangers are cranking up again to see who's the best of the best.

Some folks may feel slighted at such a statement, but the fact of the matter is — when it comes to being the best in the U.S. Army, there ain't none better'n a ranger.

If I were Davy Crockett at the Alamo, I'd want a platoon of rangers there with me.

If I was assaulting a South Pacific island, I'd want to be behind a wave of rangers.

And if I wanted to spend a night in the Bronx, I'd ask for a squad of rangers to stand guard.

It's a simple fact. Rangers are trained to the Nth degree. But not only are they highly skilled in their profession of arms, but they are superbly conditioned and their morale is sky high.

Now this is not to say rangers are perfect in every way. I can probably out-type every last one of them, and I'm sure my friend at Redstone knows more about nuclear fission than 90 percent of them.

But when it comes to trained soldiers, there's none better.

I don't care if you're talking Force Recon, SEALs, or any of those units that only identify themselves with numbers and fly in sneaky little helicopters.

Rangers are simply the best.

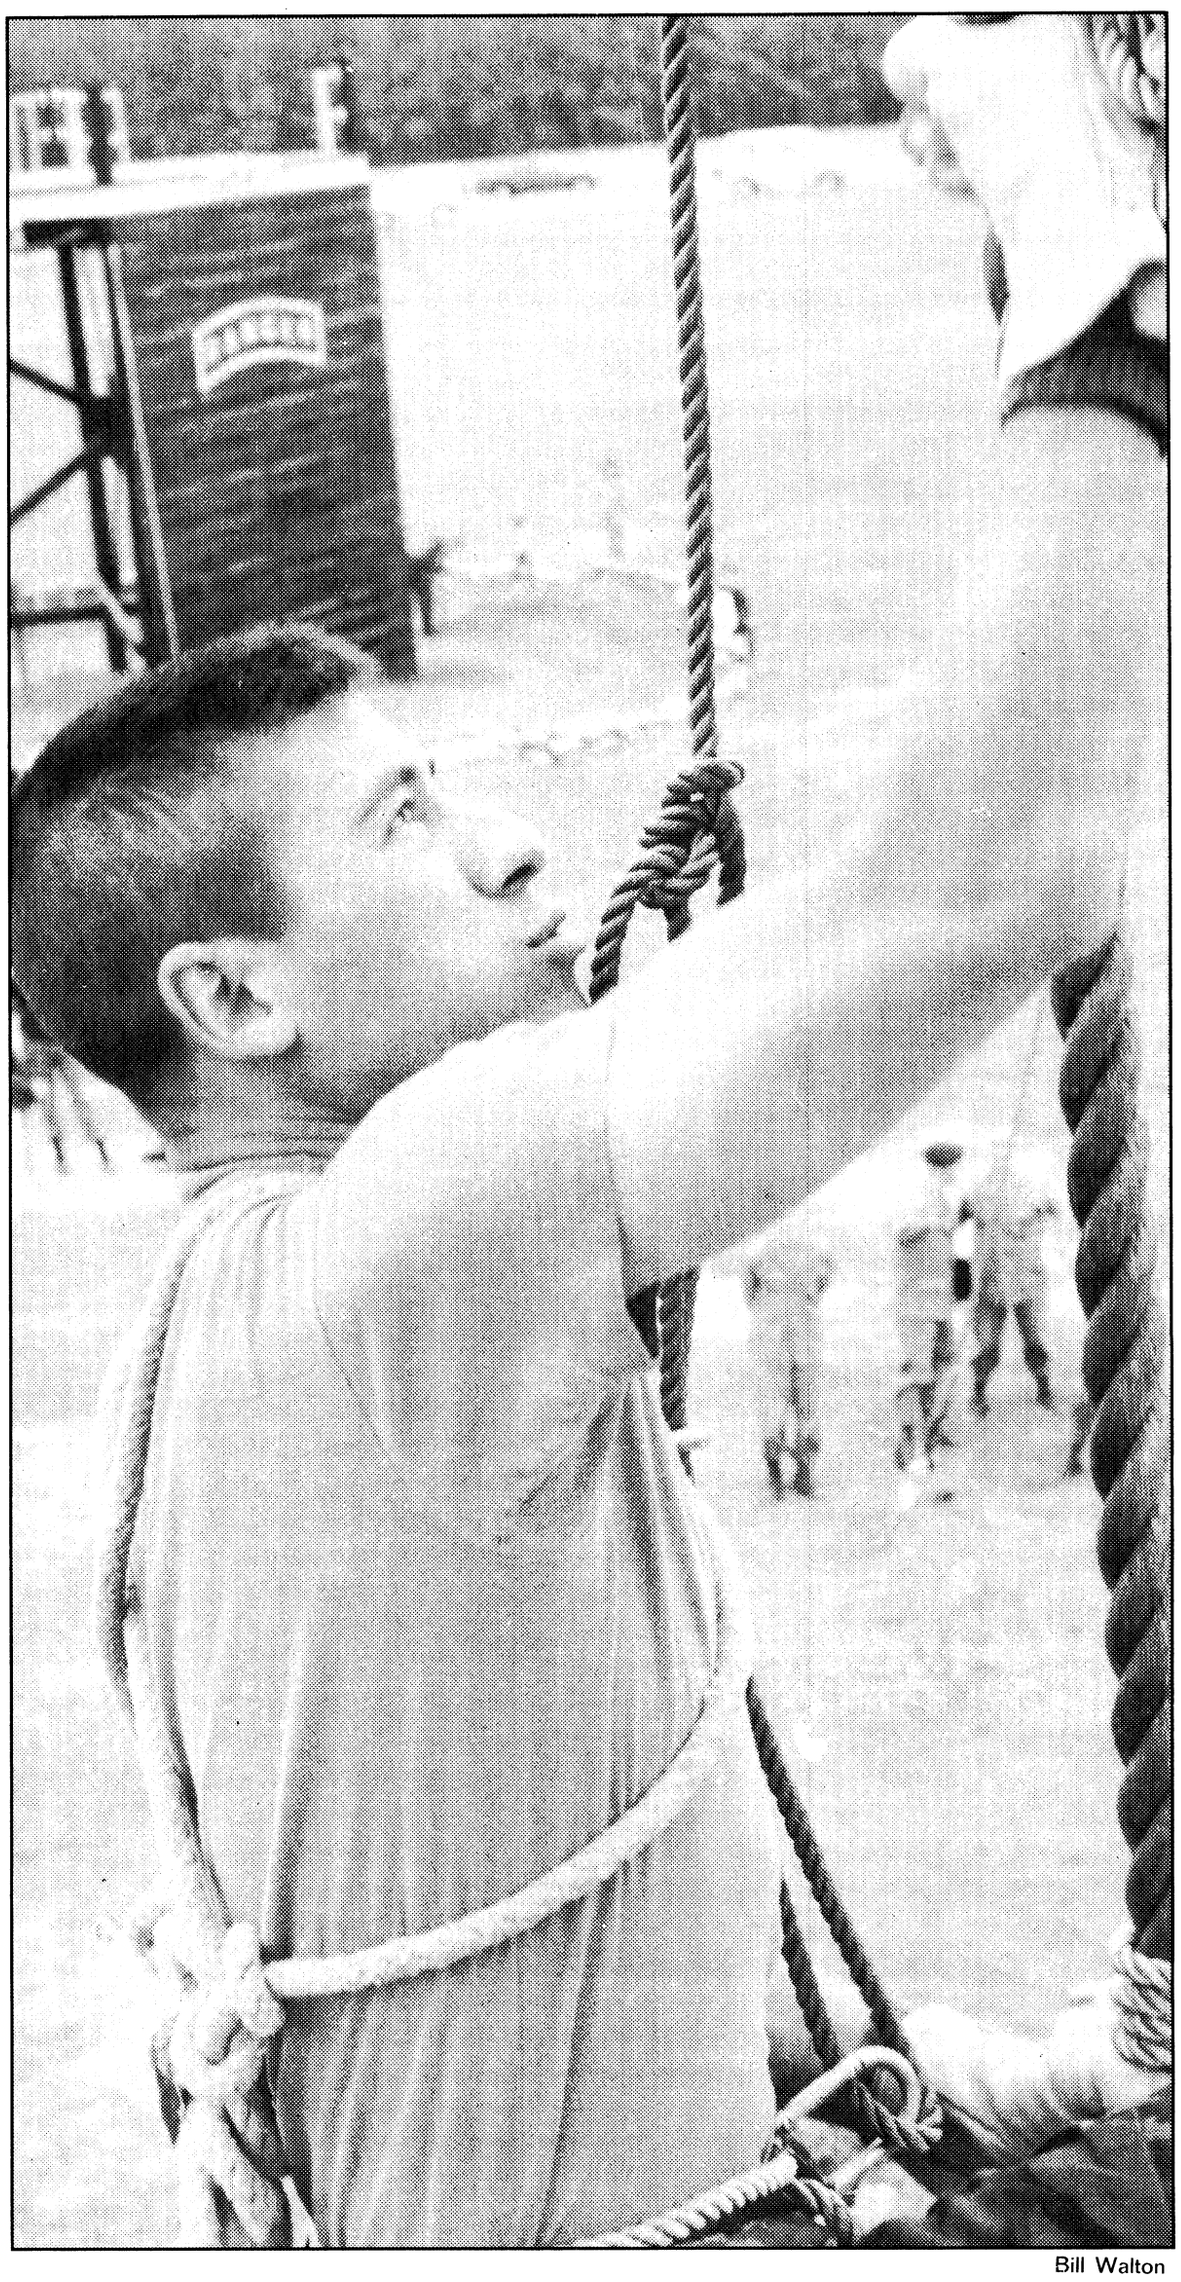
Next week, they set out to prove who's the best of the best. These rangers spend more time training for this three-day event than some of us spend on our military careers.

It's easy to see why a ranger's neck is bigger than my waist, why his biceps make my thighs look puny.

These guys gotta be strong to put up with the torture they run their bodies through.

I come back from a day slashing at vines on the golf course and I need to sit back with a beer with my feet up.

These rangers tromp through swamps day and night following a luminous dial on a compass, then they have a forced march with full ruck from here to kingdom come (the distance is always classified — mind games you know).



On top of that is the prusik climb, which takes them so high, normal people would need oxygen. You'll also see them leaping boldly from helicopters into Victory Pond, without nose plugs, and a bunch of other weird stuff that normal folks like you and me avoid like the plague unless it's televised.

But through it all, you never see one beer appear, and if their feet are in the air, it's to lance blisters or patch holes in the soles.

Am I in awe of rangers? You damn well better believe it. Can they call themselves the best in the Army in my presence? Heck yes.

If there are any doubters about how good they are — come by and check them out next week.

By the way, feeling old? One of the rangers competing is 45 years old. He's got my vote.

Bill Walton

A ranger competing in last year's "Best Ranger" competition struggles up the rope during the prusik climb.

The following events may be attended by the public:

April 28

7:30 to 8:30 a.m. — PT test at Todd Field

9:30 a.m. to 2:30 p.m. — Zero and Live Fire M-16A2, location to be announced

2:30 to 7 p.m. — Spot Jump and Canoe Event, location to be announced

April 29

2:30 to 7:30 a.m. — Ranger Stakes (Phase 1) at Todd Field

8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. — Ranger Stakes (Phase 2) — Prusik Climb at Todd Field

Third Day, April 30

9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m. — Darby Queen at Camp Darby

Noon to 4:30 p.m. — Water Confidence Test, Helocast Swim at Victory Pond

5 to 5:30 p.m. — 2.7-Mile Buddy Team Run at Victory Pond

May 1

10:30 to 11 a.m. — Awards Ceremony at Victory Pond

CG: Inf Conference a success

Last week, Fort Benning hosted the 1989 Infantry Conference, and from the comments of those who attended, it was a tremendous success.

We had more than 88 general officers participating — including the U.S. Army Chief of Staff and the FORSCOM, TRADOC and Tactical Air Command commanders — and more than 220 other participants from all over the world.

These distinguished visitors all commented not only on how well the conference was conducted, but also on how great Fort Benning looked and how attentive the staff and others supporting the conference were.

I want to thank each and every on of you who contributed to this year's Infantry Conference. The number of people involved is enormous, from the staff duty drivers who were always on time and who sometimes spent long hours waiting for our guests, the ever-present and attentive escort officers, and the many Officers' Club workers who provided such great service and entertainment.

Behind the scenes were the concerned billeting staff, the terrific DEH folks who made made the buildings and grounds sparkle, and the Infantry School and center staff who put so much work into the presentation and discussions for the attendees.

Once again, all of you in the Fort Benning community pulled together to make these distinguished Infantrymen and guests feel at home as they arrived from various parts of the world. This spirit of cooperation makes Fort Benning a great place to serve and makes me proud to be part of it all.

Again, my sincerest thanks for all your many efforts.

Michael F. Spigelmire
Major General, U.S. Army
Commanding

The Bayonet

This newspaper is an authorized publication for members of the Army. Contents of THE BAYONET are not necessarily the official views of, or endorsed by the Department of the Army or any of its agencies. Everything in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, sex or national origin of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunity by an advertiser will result in the refusal of the publisher to print advertising from that souce. THE BAYONET is an unofficial publication authorized by Army Regulation 360-81. Editorial content is prepared, edited and provided by the Public Affairs Office of the U.S. Army Infantry Center. THE BAYONET is published each Friday by the R.W. Page Corporation, a private firm in no way connected with the Department of the Army, under exclusive written contract with Fort Benning. All photos are U.S. Army unless otherwise credited. Liaison between the publisher and the commanding general, USAIC, is maintained by the public affairs officer, through the command information officer, USAIC, Fort Benning.

Editorial

Commanding General ..... Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire
Public Affairs Officer ..... Lt. Col. McDonald Plummer Jr.
Command Information Officer ..... Maj. Thomas Fix
Command Information NCOIC ..... SSgt. Ron Allen
Administration NCOIC ..... SSgt. Luz Llanos
Editor ..... SSgt. Sharon Reynolds
Assistant Editor ..... Agatha Hudson James
Staff writers ..... Spec. Ann McDonald, Spec. Shawn Bryson
Editorial Office: Public Affairs Office, USAIC, Building 4, Room 601, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905, (404) 545-2201/2202; AUTOVON 835-2201.

Advertising

Retail/Display ..... (404) 324-5526
Classified ..... (404) 322-4500
Circulation ..... (404) 323-1234

For subscription information call (404)323-1234.

Circulation 21,000

Represented nationally by Knight Ridder Newspaper sales W.B. Bradbury and Military Media, Inc.

Hartzog reminisces Fort Benning tour

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The assistant commandant of the U.S. Army Infantry School said none of his other assignments compare to his tour at Fort Benning because here he's been able to do the things he enjoys most — commanding and teaching soldiers.

Starting his present tour as the commander of the 197th Infantry Brigade, Brig. Gen. William W. Hartzog says he's seen a lot of changes since his arrival here in November 1985.

He attributed some of those changes to the post working toward being an "Installation of Excellence."

He said the most visible changes are in the Harmony Church area where most of the basic training once took place. Now, most of the troops have been moved to a centralized location at Sand Hill.

Also the 3rd Battalion, 75th Ranger Regiment has moved to main post to be nearer Lawson Army Airfield. Once the battalion moved, the Ranger Training Brigade took over the facilities, and the World War II barracks that once housed the unit were destroyed.

"All of those changes are pretty important," Hartzog said, "because centralizing units is the key to standardization."

He also noted that main post has also taken many steps toward a true state of excellence.

He said he believes the new Army Communities of Excellence program is a step in the evolution toward excellence. "In ACOE, the same emphasis that is put on physical changes with IOE, is switched to soldier support services," Hartzog said.

In the Infantry School, Hartzog said internal and external changes have occurred.

He said the most dramatic internal change is the move to small-group instruction; in which an instructor teaches no more than 20 students.

"This ensures a considerable amount of training transfer we didn't always know was occurring when there were two hundred students in a classroom," Hartzog said.

Another change is the movement toward training in the field.

"In spite of all the modernization and the importance of the technology, soldiers still have to learn their skills and practice them in an environment as similar to a battlefield as possible," Hartzog said.

> "In spite of all the modernization and the importance of the technology, soldiers still have to learn their skills and practice them in an environment as similar to a battlefield as possible.
>
> — William W. Hartzog

In support of this philosophy, about 60 percent of the Infantry Officers Basic Course is conducted in the field. Most courses also emphasize live-fire exercises.

"The fact is, infantrymen should be trained in a high-stress environment as close to battlefield conditions as possible. The tactical confidence gained from training in that type of environment is one of the ingredients of successful infantry leaders," he said.

"By and large," Hartzog said, "the ingredients of a successful leader are just the same as when Hannibal drove his elephants over the Alps.

"A leader has to be confident," he said, "and the best way to gain confidence is by being technically and tactically proficient with all the weapons and systems with which one must fight."

"That personal confidence, or the lack thereof, will be the first thing a soldier will notice and dislike if a leader doesn't have it," Hartzog said.

He added that a leader today has to be unafraid of change. They also have to be motivated and creative, so they can motivate the troops.

"We try to generate all of these ingredients in our courses at the Infantry School," Hartzog said.

Externally, the Infantry School is the proponent for all future developments in equipment, organization and doctrine.

New literature on those subjects is what Hartzog said he thinks has been one of the great accomplishments of USAIS during his tenure.

"The only thing I did was pick the right folks and put them where they could do their best," Hartzog said. "I've been very fortunate in the quality of leadership and instructors in the Infantry School."

"Colonel Harkins, Colonel McCamy, Colonel Robinson, Colonel Kaufman, Colonel White, Colonel Burdette and Colonel Reid have busted their butts to get things done," he said, "and that's why there is so much literature out in the field today."

He said he believes everyone wants to do their jobs well and leaders can allow that to happen if they create a sense of integrity.

Hartzog will carry that same leadership style with him to his new assignment as director of operations, U.S. Southern Command at Quarry Heights, Panama.

"It's a great opportunity for me," he said, "and it's a logical one, as I have served in Panama before.

But, what about Benning? Would he like to come back and become the Chief of Infantry someday?

"You betcha," Hartzog said. "There's nothing better than serving at the Home of the Infantry."

TRADOC commander details Army's future

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The 14th annual Infantry Conference opened here last week with a presentation by Gen. Maxwell R. Thurman, commander, Training and Doctrine Command, detailing the future direction of the Army to a audience of infantry commanders from around the world and Infantry Officer Advanced Course students.

Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire, followed the opening ceremony with a presentation to infantry commanders on the "State of the Infantry."

Gen. Maxwell R. Thurman took a broad view of the Army and spoke about where the Army is going and what needs to be done for it to get there. Spigelmire addressed issues that deal with the Infantry now and in the future.

Thurman hinted at the difficulties ahead.

"It's tough times for recruiting, according to the new president and defense secretary," Thurman said, "Challenges must be considered as the Army revises and fine-tunes its training and tactics."

On the tactical side, Thurman gave examples of the progress of modern weapons and training systems. In particular, he praised simulation technology. "We just had a SIMNET exercise where a battle was conducted between several units without one person leaving the room," he said.

According to Thurman, simulators are very valuable in today's Army because there isn't enough available land to fire all the weapons in the Army's arsenal.

"We also have to rely on dynamite leadership," he said, "because that's what soldiers are looking for."

Following the video, Spigelmire explained what is happening in the infantry.

He concentrated on where the Infantry is going in the next five years.

Training strategies and input from the field ranked top on his list of topics he addressed to the conference attendees.

Other presentations during the conference included: Training The Infantry Force in Europe; National Training Center Update; Alaska Regional Assessment; Special Operations Command; Southern Command Update; Joint Readiness Training Center Update; Battle Command Training Program and Training; Combat Development; Training, Combat Developments and Proponency Issues.

ACOE works for quality service

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

"Happy people work better, and that is what the Army Communities of Excellence program is all about," said the deputy management division officer of the Directorate of Resource Management during a speech at last week's American Society of Military Comptrollers luncheon.

Kathleen O'Brian is considered the post expert on ACOE.

During her speech, she covered the philosophy and background of the program.

"The philosophy is the most important part of the program," she said. "An Army community is a planned combination of people, facilities and services to achieve the mission."

O'Brian quoted Army Chief of Staff Carl E. Vuono in saying, "Community excellence engenders pride — the fuel of human accomplishment. Pride is the combat multiplier — the force that emboldens man to reach beyond his tested limits."

The background, stems from the Installation of Excellence Program, she said.

"In that program, there were a lot of improvements to post facilities," O'Brian said. "But, without good service, the beauty of the building doesn't mean anything."

She said the guidelines are to improve courtesy and service to all customers and upgrade attitudes, effort and concerns.

"It's the SER principle," O'Brian said. "Set high standards, Evaluate against those standards and Reward for excellence."

She added this will do a lot for community relations and hopefully become a way of life on military installations.

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS

SELLING OUT!

10K 7 DIAMOND CLUSTER RINGS SIZES 6-9 S/R 80 $19.95

14 kt NUGGET EARRINGS Reg.$100.00 $29.95

ALL WATCHES CITIZEN, SHARP, SEIKO 40% OFF

EVERYTHING IN THE STORES

TO THE BARE WALLS!

30% 40% OR MORE OFF

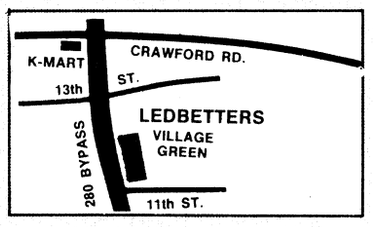
LADIES DIAMOND & ONYX RING Reg. $200 $69.95

IT'S ALL GOTTA GO!

ASSORTED 14 kt GOLD EARRINGS AS LOW AS $4.95

EXTRA SPECIALS

18 Inch Herringbone CHAIN Reg. $200 $49.95



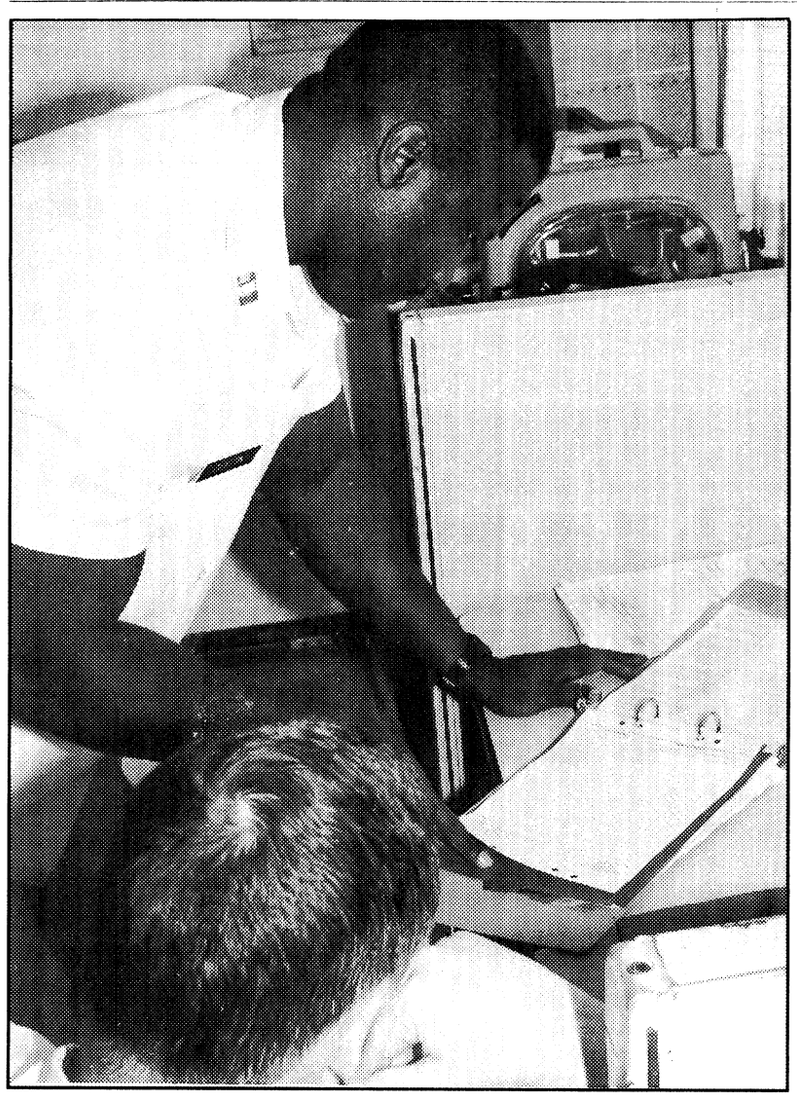
Jumbo, Wide Band 7 DIAMOND CLUSTER RING Reg. $250 $99.95

14 Kt. Gold 7mm BALL EARRINGS Reg. $40 $9.95

10 Kt. Gold, Diamond Cut "DOME or SHRIMP" RINGS Reg. $80 $19.95

ACT NOW!

Ledbetter's Jewelers



MasterCard VISA AMERICAN EXPRESS

Prices Good At Columbus Store

VILLAGE GREEN SHOPPING CENTER OFF 280 PHENIX CITY

HOURS Mon.-Thurs. 10-6 Fri.-Sat. 10-7

Shawn Bryson

Capt. Larry Guyton, head nurse of the new Diabetes Treatment Center looks over paperwork with another staff member.

MACH offers special help for diabetics

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

The Diabetes Treatment Program, which opened April 10, is the first of several programs to open at Martin Army Community Hospital's new Life Style Center.

The purpose of the diabetes program is to help individuals with the disease learn more about it, according to Maj. Eileen Munn, program coordinator.

Munn said while MACH has always had a program especially for diabetics, it has never been as intense as the new program.

"The program is for people who have just found out they have diabetes or for diabetics who are not in control of the disease," Munn said.

Patients who enroll in the diabetes treatment program are scheduled for a three-day stay at the diabetes ward located on MACH's fifth floor.

Upon arrival, diabetics are given an intensive physical examination after which they move into the education process where "we teach the patients how to take charge of their diabetes," Munn explained.

Shawn Bryson

Adeana Hardin (r) and Scott Miller, both diabetics, learn more about the disease during a nutrition class.

She said an important part of the program is family involvement. "We strongly encourage family members to attend with the patients," she said. Because the disease requires a strict diet and self-treatment, family members need to be just as knowledgeable about diabetes as their relative, Munn said.

Patients of the diabetes program are also encouraged to stay at the hospital overnight, but they may return home each night if they wish.

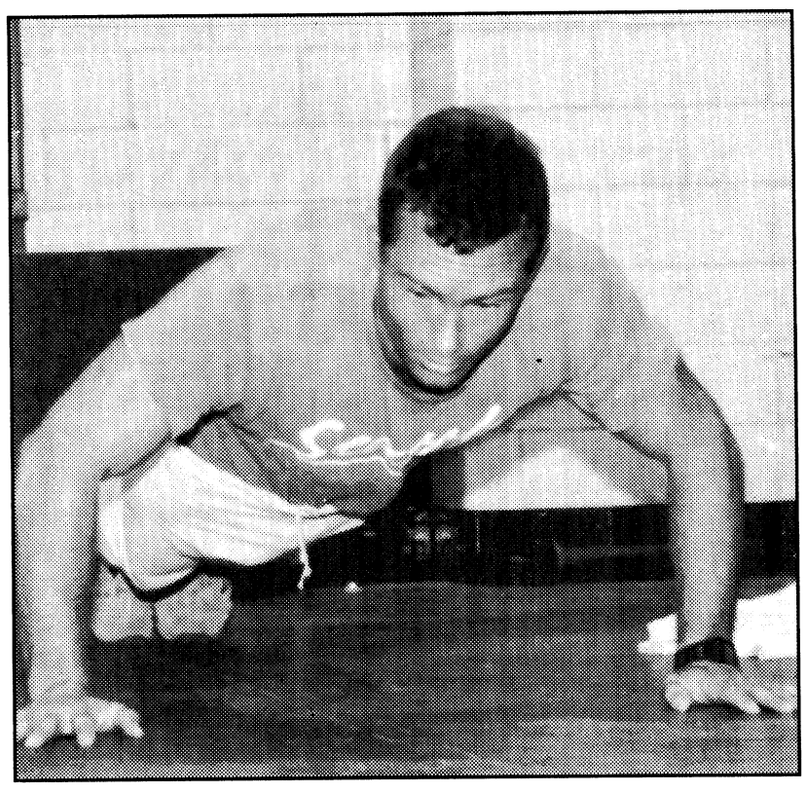
Meal planning, medication, physical activities, community resources, high and low blood sugar, self-monitoring of blood glucose, life style and many other diabetes health-care topics are covered during the three days of classes.

Aside from the diabetes ward staff, an internal medicine doctor, a dietitian, physical therapist, social work counselor, occupational therapist, ophthalmologist, nurse practitioners and practical nurses from MACH are all involved in the education of the diabetics, Munn explained.

Although the diabetes treatment program is a pilot program, Munn said calls are coming in, and there should be no problem filling the 10 openings of each weekly session.

"Patients tend to believe they are the only ones with diabetes. I think many will deal with it better when they get here and realize they're not alone," Munn said.

Munn said the success of the program will lead to further development of the Life Style Center.



For more information about the Diabetes Treatment Program, call Munn at 544-1275/1797.

SATO TRAVEL
A Full Service Travel Company
Along with
Walt Disney World®
Salutes military/government personnel during ARMED FORCES DAYS
1 DAY TICKET $21.10
2 DAY TICKET $40.10
Tickets good May 1-31, 1989 only. Tickets are non-refundable, non-transferrable. Cash only. Limited number of tickets available at Bldg. 247. Come early to avoid disappointment.
For more information concerning other discounts in the Orlando area,
Call 682-0361 Bldg. 247 Main Post

INTRODUCING
The Southeast's only Indoor PAINTBALL War Games. Pure Excitement! Money Back Guarantee.
KILL-SHOT, INC.
Call 685-0002 OPEN 10AM-12 Midnight Everyday
SHOOT OR BE SHOT AT KILL-SHOT
Visitors Welcome
Regular Players Save $2.00 with this ad when you buy 40 rounds.
Registered teams save $18.00 on Tues., Weds., & Thurs.
Fort Benning Road
Victory Drive
Traffic Circle
Victory Drive
To Downtown
Del Taco
To Ft. Benning
I-185
Turn off Victory Drive at The Trust Company Bank (Shelby Street) and take the first left (Phillips Street). Only 5 Min. from Ft. Benning.
VISA MILITARY CHECKS MASTERCARD

Arrange OVERSEAS CAR INSURANCE
GEICO before you leave GEICO
2029 SOUTH LUMPKIN RD.
Oakland Park Shopping Center
Columbus, GA. 689-2787
15% down 9 monthly payments
GEICO
IIU - International Insurance Underwriters, Inc

R&R
Rich Taste, Right Price
A good value just got better.
Look for special coupons on cartons in your commissary and exchange.
Richland
KING SIZE
20 CIGARETTES
LIGHTS 100's
20 CIGARETTES
QUALITY TOBACCOS • SATISFYING TASTE
Richland, USA
Taste the richness of America.
SURGEON GENERAL'S WARNING: Smoking By Pregnant Women May Result in Fetal Injury, Premature Birth, And Low Birth Weight.
Lights 100's, 12 mg. "tar", 0.9 mg. nicotine; Kings, 17 mg. "tar", 1.2 mg. nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC method.
© 1989 B&WTC

Ann M. McDonald

SSgt. Scott Bertacini, 25th Inf. Div., Scofield Barracks, Hawaii, does push-ups to prepare for the Best Ranger competition.

'Best Ranger' training ongoing

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

As the eighth annual David E. Grange — Best Ranger competition draws near, teams from units throughout military are coming to Fort Benning to get familiar with the area before the competition begins.

They are allowed to do this to acclimate themselves before the event.

One group hails from the 25th Infantry Division, Scofield Barrackes, Hawaii.

They have flown thousands of miles to compete in what has been referred to as the Ranger Olympics. There are three teams here from the 25th Inf. Div.

SSgt. Scott Bertacini, Company C, 4th Battalion, 22nd Infantry; SSgt. Rick Zigler, Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 4th Battalion, 87th Infantry and SSgt. Jeff Anderson, Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion, 21st Infantry have come to test their ranger skills again. While 2nd Lt. John Corino, Company C, 4th Battalion, 22nd Infantry; SFC Michael Barnes, Company C, 4th Battalion, 22nd Infantry and SSgt. Mark McCoy, Company B, 4th Battalion, 27th Infantry are here for their first try at the title.

The competition has drawn some competitors back for various reasons.

"I'm still trying to win," Bertacini said. "Plus, I want to prove that people over thirty still have some kick."

Zigler came back to see if he could make it all the way through.

"When I competed last year my partner hurt his ankle halfway through, so we had to drop out," he said. "I feel like I have to complete the course and meet the challenge."

They both agreed they not only came for the competition but for the comaraderie.

Although the men are as physically strong as the other competitors, they feel they have some disadvantages.

They explained they don't have access to all the equipment used in the competition at they're units.

"For instance we don't have a tower as high as the one used for the prusik climb or an obstacle course the caliber of the Darby Queen," Zigler said.

In spite of that, the men feel there is a positive side to their units' location.

"The weather in Hawaii is perfect for training," Bertacini said. "We've been swimming and canoeing in the ocean since January."

"We've also been rucking through the mountains above Scofield Barracks," Zigler said.

Additionally, the men had to win several competitions, which qualified them to come here.

Now that they are here, they're thinking tactics. "You have to know when to explode your energy and when to hold back," Bertacini said. "Also, you have to decide how to attack each event."

"I think we're ready, and I'm sure everyone else is just as prepared," he said. "The bottom line is, who has the intestinal fortitude to win it."

'Be part of solution'

Volunteer Resource Center

"Be part of the solution" is the theme of the 1989 Family Action Plan Seminar to be held on May 4 and 5 at the Officers' Club at Fort Benning.

Participants include personnel from all facets of life at Fort Benning, giving a true cross-section of problems facing those living and working here.

Subject areas to be considered are: AAFES, the commissary, recreation and youth programs, family health and medicine, housing and environment, helping agencies, schools and child care, personal development and unit issues for the young, single soldier

Persons involved in the seminar will present their own and others' concerns; the subject area groups will brainstorm ideas and possible solutions to these problems.

May 5 agency representatives will be present to answer questions and offer solutions to the delegates. The Armywide concerns and problems that are relevant to the members of Fort Benning Families will be forwarded to TRADOC and then to the Department of the Army for consideration and implementation in the DA Army Family Action Plan.

In the past, this program has brought family concerns and problems to the attention of commanders and thereby facilitated solutions to problems relevant to the members of the Army family as a whole.

One example of such a solution is the Family Member Employment Program and the increase in PCS weight and allowance.

The symposium is an important opportunity for individuals to provide dates to improve the Army way of life; involvement is needed from individuals who care about the betterment of the Army family.

Persons interested in registering for the 1989 Army Family Action Plan Seminar should call the Volunteer Resource Center at 545-5602. Please call for additional information concerning child care, dress and work release forms.

Airborne Awards Festival Thursday

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Fort Benning will host the 12th annual Airborne Awards Festival Thursday.

Activities begin with an airborne memorial service at Airborne Walk on Eubanks Field at 9:30 a.m. commemorating airborne traditions and spirit. Guest speaker, retired Lt. Gen. John J. Tolson, former commanding general,18th Airborne Corps, Fort Bragg, NC., will reflect on the airborne's past. Mildred King, widow of the first enlisted paratrooper, MSgt. William "Red" King, will lay a wreath at the memorial.

Other distinguished guests attending include members of the original Airborne Test Platoon who first jumped in 1940. Among those in attendance will be present and former airborne soldiers who are attending the annual Airborne Association's Award Festival in Atlanta.

An Airborne-in-Action demonstration follows at 10:30 a.m., and airborne students will conduct their fifth parachute jump prior to a graduation ceremony at 3:30 p.m. at Fryar Field.

United Services Life Companies
Investments-Life Insurance-Financial Planning

Jim Cotty
4034 Windtree Lane
568-7280

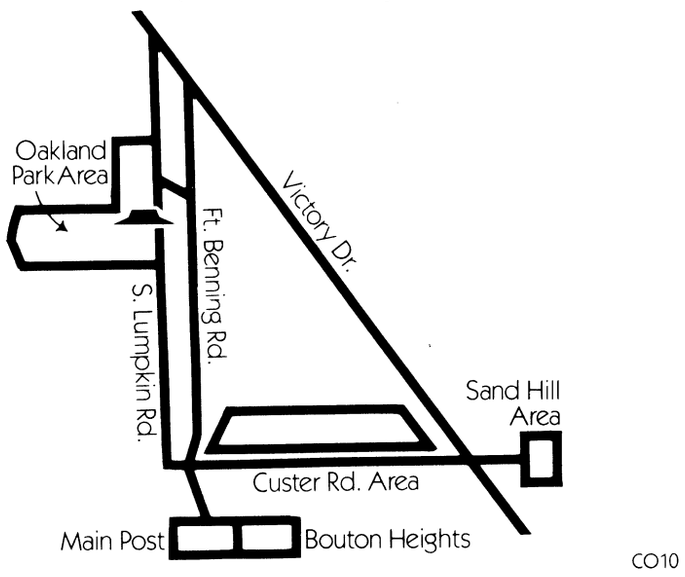
Lawrence P. Fulton, CLU
LTC US ARMY (RET)
596-8033

United Services Life Companies
United Services Life Insurance Co.
United Services Equities, Inc.
Members of USLICO Corporation

The Professionals!

Investment products distributed by USLICO Securities Corp., Arlington, VA.

DIVORCE..... $195 (simple uncontested)
NAME CHANGE.. $125 (no contest)
BANKRUPTCY.. $295 Personal-No Assets-Chp. #7
WILL..... $45 (simple)
ADOPTION..... $195 (all parties consent)
DUI..... $195 (first-Nolo Plea)
plus court cost



LAW OFFICES OF
GARY I. KLEPAK
563-9333
2953 Mimosa St.
(Across from Sears Auto Center—Cols. Sq. Mall)

When It's Gotta Be Hot, It's Just Gotta Be

Pizza Hut®

DELIVERY

Expanded Delivery Service
In The S. Lumpkin Rd. Area, Call 689-0202
(Limited Delivery Area)

CO10

Pizza Hut Delivers Pairs™ Everyday price. No coupon required.

	Medium	Large
Two Cheese Pizzas	$10.99	$13.99
Additional toppings cover both pizzas	$ 1.39	$ 1.79
Two Specialty Pizzas (Supreme, Meat Lover's®, Cheese Lover's™ or Bar-B-Q)	$13.99	$17.99
Two Super Supreme Pizzas	$14.99	$18.99

® and TM designate registered trademarks and trademarks of Pizza Hut, Inc.

Delivery also available in these areas:
(Limited Delivery Area)

Columbus Manchester Expressway/ Hamilton Rd. Area	322-5561
Macon Rd./I-85 Area	563-3171
Buena Vista Rd./Floyd Rd. Area	563-3486
Phenix City Area	297-1266
Americus Area	924-3997

Delivery Available:
Monday through Friday beginning at 4:00 P.M.
Saturday and Sunday beginning at 11:00 A.M.

Medium Cheese Pan Pairs™

Save $1.00 off everyday low Pairs™ price.

Offer good through 5/21/89. Good at participating Pizza Hut® outlets. Not valid in combination with any other Pizza Hut® offer. Pairs is a trademark of Pizza Hut, Inc. 1/20th cent cash redemption value. Limited delivery area. ©1989 Pizza Hut, Inc.

34

Medium Specialty Pan Pairs™

Save $1.00 off everyday low Pairs™ price.

Offer good through 5/21/89. Good at participating Pizza Hut® outlets. Not valid in combination with any other Pizza Hut® offer. Pairs is a trademark of Pizza Hut, Inc. 1/20th cent cash redemption value. Limited delivery area. ©1989 Pizza Hut, Inc.

32

Any Large Three or More Topping Pizza

Offer good through 5/21/89. Good at participating Pizza Hut® outlets. Not valid in combination with any other Pizza Hut® offer including Pizza Hut® Pairs™. Pairs is a trademark of Pizza Hut, Inc. 1/20th cent cash redemption value. Limited delivery area. ©1989 Pizza Hut, Inc.

10

Call 323-1234 For Home Delivery of
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

Faith teams take 1st at state Odyssey of Mind competition

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

Don C. Faith Middle School's two Odyssey of the Mind teams won first place at the state competition April 8 in Macon. They will represent Georgia at the World Finals in Boulder, Colo., in May.

This is the third year two teams from Faith School have competed in this problem-solving competition. It is the third year both teams have participated in the World Finals. Last year, one of the Faith teams won first place.

Gina Barlotta, Ben Engel, Sterling Harris, Troy Hutchins, Chris Moore, Tara Norton and Jason Rivest are the "Ye Gods" team. Their problem required them to select one or more mythical characters and to write, produce and perform a skit that would familiarize their audience with the myth. The skit had to include an advertising campaign for a product, service or political candidate that related to the myth.

The "Fables" teams — Juli Broussard, Allison Davis, Juan Escobar, Tracy George, Robyn Hartzog, Bart Hensler and Ahmad Herandez — had to create a fable and perform the team's interpretation of how the moral of the fable came to be.

Libbie Kurinec is the teacher-coach, and Joan Hutchins is the parent-coach of the two Odyssey of the Mind teams.

"We are delighted that both teams have won the state competition," said Faith School principal, Olin Harp.

Volunteer firefighters needed here

Volunteer Firefighting Program

The Fort Benning Fire Department is soliciting the military community for personnel to serve as members of a newly established Volunteer Firefighting Program.

All applicants selected must have at least 18 months remaining at Fort Benning, be self motivated and have a real desire to contribute to the community.

People selected will receive a minimum of six hours training per month. This training will be intensive, realistic and cover all phases of basic firefighting and fire prevention. There will be a balanced mixture of classroom and fire ground instruction.

All selections will be coordinated and approved by each soldier's command. All training will be coordinated so as not to interfere with military duty.

This program is designed to provide the Fort Benning Fire Department a much-needed augmentation force to support firefighters in the event of a major emergency or natural disaster that could require all available resources and not leave room to handle any other emergency that might arise.

Normally, a fire department relies on mutual aid from outside agencies; however, during a region-wide natural disaster, mutual aid cannot be relied upon and that's when trained volunteers are extremely valuable.

Anyone who is looking for a new challenge and would like to be a part of this program may call one of the following Fire Department coordinators:

Lt. Paul Leonard — 544-3848
Lt. Lamar Fussell — 545-4123

International students need host families

International Education Forum

American families are needed to host international students while they attend school here.

International Education Forum, a nonprofit organization, has a number of teen-age, English-speaking students from Europe and Asia, (German, Finish, Spanish, Japanese and 10 other nationalities) who will arrive in the U.S. soon to attend an American high school for five or 10 months.

Each will live with an American host family in the Fort Benning and Muscogee County area. You could be one of these families. Learn another culture and share yours.

For more information, contact Steven Morris, 1913 18th Ave., Columbus, Ga. 31901, (404) 327-7967; or Johnny Neal Jr., 6326 Fitzgerald Drive, Columbus, Ga. 31907, (404) 568-6546, or 1-800-346-2826.

These students, ages 15 to 18, will arrive in the United States in August, attend the local high school and return to their homes in late June 1990. The students all speak some English, have been screened by their local school representative and have their own pocket money and medical and liability insurance.

American families with small children, grown children, teenagers and even those with no children at all, single parents and single persons, are welcome to participate in this program.

ASK THE JUDGE

By Deborah B. Montgomery
Staff Judge Advocate's Office

Q. Nine months ago, I purchased a used car from a car dealer. The dealer was willing to finance the car if my mother co-signed the loan. After failing to make three consecutive payments, the car dealer took the car without consulting me.

A couple of days later, I received a letter from the car dealer informing me he was going to sell the car and obtain a deficiency judgment.

Last weekend, a collector from the "I Will Find You Collection Agency," contacted me and informed me I owed them a lot of money. I found out they also want to hold my mother responsible for the debt. Was the car dealer right to take my car without my permission? Will I have to pay the deficiency? Is my mother obligated to pay the debt?

A. Because you failed to make timely payments, the car could be taken without your permission and without a court order, unless your contract provided otherwise.

Your failure to pay as the contract states makes you in "default." Since you are in default, a secured party has the right to take possession of the vehicle if he can do so without a breach of the peace (violence or damage to property).

It appears the letter the car dealer sent you was a notice advising you of your rights concerning the vehicle. After a motor vehicle has been repossessed by a secured creditor, the creditor is required to send, by registered or certified mail, his intention to obtain a deficiency judgment.

A proper notice must inform the debtor that: the creditor intends to pursue a deficiency claim; the debtor may redeem the car and the debtor has a right to demand a public sale.

If the notice is sufficient, the creditor may obtain a deficiency judgment. The difference between the amount owed when the car was repossessed and the resale price constitutes the deficiency, assuming the resale price was less than the among owed at the time of repossession.

In addition, you may be liable for any necessary and reasonable expenses incurred in reselling the vehicle. This repossession is almost always put on your credit record and remains there for up to seven years.

Since your mother agreed to co-sign, she became obligated to pay the debt. Accordingly, your mother may have to pay if you don't make arrangements to settle this deficiency. Even if you try to settle this, the creditor can collect the debt from your mother without first trying to collect from you. This involuntary repossession may also be included in your mother's credit history.

You must be very careful when making any purchase where you borrow money. If you don't pay the money back exactly as the contract says, you may get yourself, and others, in big financial trouble. Understand your rights and obligations before you sign.

If you have any questions, call Legal Assistance at 545-3281, before you sign.

YOUR NEXT ENLISTMENT SHOULD BE AS WELL PLANNED AS YOUR FIRST.

You didn't decide to join the Army until you were well armed with information. If you're considering reenlisting, make sure you get all the facts you need from an Army Career Counselor. Once you know about all of the options, benefits and bonuses for which you are eligible, you'll have all the information you'll need to make the right decision about your future.

USAIC REENLISTMENT
SGM Verray Caldwell, Command Retention NCO
Ph: 545-5649, Bldg. 1827,
MSG Lawrence Powell, Operations NCO
Career Counselor, Ph: 545-7387, Bldg. 1827
SFC William Hlebak, Career Counselor, Separate Units
Ph: 545-1982, Bldg. 1827
197th INFANTRY BRIGADE (SEPARATE)
SFC Robert Jones, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 544-2718, Bldg. 9058
MSG David Larson, USAR/NG Counselor
Ph: 544-2718, Bldg. 9058
SFC David Bell, Career Counselor, Separate Units
Ph: 544-2718, Bldg. 9058
SFC Delbert Miller, Career Counselor, 197th Support Bn
Ph: 544-2746, Bldg. 9058
SFC William Terrance, Career Counselor,
2nd Bn, 18th Inf
Ph: 544-1390, Bldg. 9075
SFC Emilio Gonzalez, Career Counselor,
2d Bn, 69th Armor,
Ph: 544-1457, Bldg. 9058
SSG Michael A. Baker, Career Counselor,
1st Bn, 58th Inf
Ph: 544-1634, Bldg 9046
SFC Willie Reynolds, Career Counselor,
4th Bn, 41st FA
Ph: 544-1612, Bldg. 9021
34th MEDICAL BATTALION
SSG Kermy Leon, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 545-4337, Bldg. 2832
36TH ENGINEER GROUP
SFC Mariano Campos, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 545-7388, Bldg. 2821
SSG Angela Watson, Career Counselor,
67th Maint Bn
Ph: 545-7388, Bldg. 2821
SSG Michael Lowe, Career Counselor, 43d Eng Bn
Ph: 545-7388, Bldg. 2821
THE SCHOOL BRIGADE
MSG William Lee, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 545-5006, Bldg. 2512
U.S. ARMY INFANTRY TRAINING CENTER
SFC Ahdrea Huntsberger, Career Counselor
Supervisor
Ph: 544-3853, Bldg. 3082
29TH INFANTRY REGIMENT
SFC Lonza Douglas, Career Counselor Supervisor,
29th IN Regt
Ph: 544-7447, Bldg. 4669
SFC Yvonne R. McMillian, Career Counselor,
1/29th IN Regt
Ph: 544-7447, Bldg 4669
SFC Donald L. Floyd, Career Counselor,
1/29th IN Regt
Ph: 544-7447, Bldg 4669
SSG Jeffery Dreitzler, Reenl NCO, 2d Bn, 29th Inf
Ph: 544-7447, Bldg. 4669
RANGER TRAINING BRIGADE
SSG William Wascisin, Reenlistment
NCO Supervisor
Ph: 544-6911/Ext 222, Bldg. 5024
75TH RANGER REGIMENT
SSG Gary Oryszak, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 545-1290/EXT 264, Bldg. 5010
SSG Steven Pietrowicz, Reenl NCO Supervisor
Ph: 545-1290 Ext 264, Bldg. 5010
UNITED STATES ARMY INFANTRY BOARD
SSG Charles E. Lewis, Reenl NCO
Ph: 545-5545, Bldg. 2850
MILITARY POLICE ACTIVITY
SSG William Hicks, Reenl NCO Supervisor
Ph: 545-1257, Bldg. 2814
U.S. ARMY MARKSMANSHIP UNIT
SFC Robert Stroman, Reenl NCO Supervisor
Ph: 545-7174, Bldg. 243
MEDDAC/DENTAC
SFC Robert Bailey Jr., Career Counselor
Supervisor (Temp)
Ph: 544-3362, Bldg. 9200
U.S. ARMY INFORMATION SYSTEMS COMMAND
SGT Wayne A. Fogle, Reenl NCO, Ph: 545-4311
US ARMY SCHOOL OF THE AMERICAS
SSG Gerard Roman, Reenl NCO
Ph: 545-1625, Bldg. 2816
IN-SERVICE RECRUITER (USAR/NG)
SGM Francis Murtha, In-Service
Recruiter Supervisor
SGM Claude L.Brown Jr., In-Service Recruiter
Ph: 545-4132/544-4759, Bldg. 2617 Soldiers Plaza
SFC Marion E. Wallace, In-Service Recruiter
Bldg. 2617 Soldiers Plaza, Ph: 545-4132/544-4759

REENLIST.
BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

MILITARY WELCOME

NEW LOTTERY PICK UP SERVICE

PERSONAL CHECKS
MILITARY CHECKS
PAYROLL CHECKS
OUT OF STATE CHECKS

MR CHECK CASHER
$ NEW LOCATION $
3809 Victory Drive
Traffic Circle Shopping Center
687-8666

INCOME TAX CHECKS
ALLOTMENT CHECKS
INSURANCE CHECKS
ALMOST ANY CHECK

VISA CARDS ARE HERE!

VISA

COMPARE the terms of your Credit Union with the market and you'll make the switch.

$8.00 Annual Fee
15% Annual Percentage Rate

25 Day Grace Period

2786 Eckel Street
Fort Benning, GA 31905
682-0830

TIC FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

4811 Bankers Blvd.
Columbus, GA 31904
324-5288

Offer to eligible members only.

GRAND OPENING

Weight Loss That Works

* Medical staffed outpatient clinic
* Written Guaranteed Lose 3½ to 8 lbs. per week
* Enjoy beef, chicken, lobster vegetables even Double Chocolate Cheesecake
* Special programs for special medical conditions (high blood pressure, diabetes, cholesterol, etc.)
* For Men, Women & Teenagers
* Free Consultation
* Insurance Approved

Compare price, courtesy, and results!

COUPON
8 weeks $69.00
Expires 4-28-89 Medical & Supplement Excluded
COUPON

COUPON
All the weight you want to lose!
Expires 4-28-89
$99.00
Medical & Supplement excluded
COUPON

DOCTORS WEIGHT LOSS
Macon Road at 185
569-7706

IF YOU'RE NOT BORED WITH ORD...

IF THINGS ARE STILL GOOD AT HOOD...

IF YOU'D MISS THE FOLK AT POLK...

We've got the reenlistment option for you. If you like where you are, and what you're doing, you should check out the Current Station Stabilization Option.

You can reenlist for two, three, four, five, or six years. If you qualify, this option guarantees you'll be assigned to your present duty, at your present location, for up to 12 months CONUS, or overseas for 24 months. You can meet new challenges and find excitement at a place you know and with people you enjoy.

For many people, sometimes the best move is to stay right where they are. For more information on the Current Station Stabilization Option, speak to your Retention NCO.

REENLIST ARMY.
BE ALL YOU CAN BE.®

COMMUNITY

CLASSES

Paper earring class — The Kelley Hill Recreation Center will sponsor a paper earring class Wednesday at 6 p.m. For $10, make and take home a pair of earrings. Space is limited, so pre-registration is a must. For more information, call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m., at 544-1721/3079. (MWR)

EQUIPMENT CHECKOUT

ECC — The Equipment Checkout Center can satisfy and simplify your summertime, leisure needs with a wide assortment of outdoor equipment. Additionally, the ECC can save you money and offer you convenience with moving requirements. The ECC has a fully-stocked assortment of U-Haul trucks, trailers and resale items.

RENTAL	FEE
Camper, self-contained	$17 daily; $100 7 days.
Travel trailer	$12 daily; $60 7 days.
Pop-up camper, fishing boat/ with V-hull	$5 daily
Outboard motor w/tank	$5 daily
Boat trailer	$5 daily
Boat, trailer and motor	$10 daily
Jon boat	$5 daily
Canoe	$5 daily
Canoe trailer	$5 daily
Smoker/cooker trailer	$9 daily
Utility trailer	$2 daily
Motorcycle trailer	$3 daily
Horse trailer	$9 daily
Portable generator	$5 daily
Tent, 8 feet x 10 feet	$5 daily

U-Haul rentals and equipment

*trailers *tow bars
*tow dollies *auto transports
*pet carriers *furniture pads
Resale items
*packing boxes *packing tape
*bubble packing *hitch balls
*light hookups.
*trucks — various sizes available (call ECC for specific information)

The ECC facility is open Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday and holidays, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

For information, call 545-7978. (MWR)

ITT

Summertime specials — The Fort Benning ITT Office is offering the following summertime specials: Six Flags tickets, White Water tickets, Disney packets, discount movie tickets, military lodging rates and Airlink Bus tickets to and from Atlanta.

Call 545-7535/545-4155 for additional information. (MWR)

MISCELLANEOUS

Project Discovery — Columbus Tech's Project Discovery for the Displaced Homemaker/Single Parent will offer a free, two-week workshop May 8 through May 19, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The workshop focuses on self-awareness, career-planning, job-seeking skills, rebuilding self confidence, coping skills, referrals to training programs and support services. Call Columbus Tech's Project Discovery office at 571-1818 for more information and enrollment for the workshop.

★

Family cookout — The Army Community Service Family Members with Special Needs Program is sponsoring a family cookout for those enrolled in the Exceptional Family Member Program Saturday from 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. at the Youth Activities Center, building 1056. Families are asked to bring a side dish or dessert. Activities are planned for the entire family. RSVP by today. For more information, call Lydia Brunk, 545-3605.

★

Summer Camp — Registration for Youth Activities summer day camp will begin May 1 and continue until May 30.

Summer Camp is open to children ages 6 through 11 of active duty and retired military personnel. Registration will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

Camp will consist of four two-week sessions. Participants are limited to one session each. Sign-ups will be taken Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. at Youth Services, building 1056, on McIver Street. The first session of camp will begin June 19. For more information, call 545-3070.

★

Summer Camp volunteers needed — Volunteers are needed for Army Community Service's Special Needs Program summer camp. Prospective volunteers must be 16 years old or older, have a genuine interest in children, be patient and a caring individual and have lots of energy and enthusiasm for sports, games and crafts. A week of training will be provided prior to the camp, which runs from June 19 to Aug. 11 in four two-week sessions. Commitments to at least one full session are required. To volunteer, call Lydia Brunk at 545-3605.

★

Exceptional family members — If you have family members enrolled in the Exceptional Family Member Program and are interested in getting them involved in recreational/leisure activities adapted to their needs, call Lydia Brunk, recreation specialist with ACS Family Members with Special Needs Program at 545-3605 or visit building 1056, the Youth Activities Center.

★

Lifeguards needed — Applications for Recreation Aid (lifeguard) are still being accepted for the Nonappropriated Fund Summer Employment Program between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the Directorate of Civilian Personnel, building 35, Room 100. To qualify, applicants must present current certificates for cardiopulmonary resuscitation, Advanced Lifesaving and First Aid. Anyone age 14 and above may apply.

★

Preschool — There are a few openings for 4-year-olds at the Fort Benning Early Childhood Development Center, Inc., (Patch Preschool) for this school year. Children must have been 4 years old on or before Sept. 1, 1988, to be eligible. Call 687-2404 for more information.

★

Money management — Monetary matters in marriage, types of family financial crises, methods of financial management, money-stretching techniques and sources of additional revenue will be discussed at a seminar Monday, 7 to 9 p.m., at the Pastoral Institute. The seminar will be led by Wayne Anthony, M. Div., M.B.A.

★

"Hell on Wheels" reunion — Veterans of the 2nd Armored Division and attached units are invited to a "Hell on Wheels" reunion May 24 through 27 at the Columbus Hilton Hotel. For more information, call Loren Guge at (904)596-6834.

★

Uchee Creek Recreation Area — The Uchee Creek Recreation Area has five fully self-contained Scotty campers on site and available for rental. These campers feature heating and air conditioning, a three-burner stove and a refrigerator. It will comfortably sleep four campers. A rental fee of $17 per night will include a campsite, propane, water and electricity. There are 30 campsites at the recreation area that feature water and electricity. They rent for $5 per night. The camping area has a centralized dump station. The following tents and campers may be rented from the Equipment Checkout Center:

* 9x12-foot tent, $5 per day
* Pop-up camper (sink & stove/sleeps 4), $10 per day or $50 per week
* 14-foot Scotty camper (air conditioning/heater/ice box/stove/sleeps 4), $12 per day or $60 per week
* 17-foot, fully self-contained (air conditioning/heating/refrigerator/stove/shower/sleeps 6), $17 per day or $100 per week

The Uchee Creek Recreation Area can be contacted at 545-4053 Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. (MWR)

RECREATION CENTER

Instrument rentals — The Kelley Hill Recreation Center has several instruments for rent, from amplifiers to trumpets and just about everything in between. We offer daily, weekly and monthly fees. For more information, call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. at 544-1721/3079.

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteer — The following volunteer opportunities are available at Fort Benning:

A librarian is needed for the Infantry Museum. A Library Science Degree is preferred, but library experience will suffice. Make your own hours.

Volunteers are needed to attend the Family Member Community Family Symposium. Register by May 1.

Twenty leaders are needed for 200 young boys who want to be Cub Scouts.

ACS needs volunteers in all positions.

NCO Wives' Club and Officers' Wives' Club boards need members.

For more information on these opportunities or a listing of others, call Karen Crowley at the Volunteer Resource Center, 545-5602.

WIVES' CLUBS

NCO Wives' Club

Brunch — The NCO Wives' Club will have a brunch Wednesday, 9:30 a.m., at the NCO Club.

★

Scholarships — The NCO Wives' Club is taking applications for scholarships. Applications are available at the Main Post Exchange and Commissary. The deadline is April 30. For more information, call J. Boryl at 323-6202.

★

Walk America — The NCO Wives' Club is participating in Walk America for March of Dimes Saturday at 9 a.m. To make donations or to participate, call Michelle Green at 682-9733.

Officers' Wives' Club

School of Dance — The Officers' Wives' Club School of Dance offers the following classes for all military families, active duty, retired, officer or enlisted:

Ballet — Jane Frenkel	563-0294
Gymnastics — Kelly Cargill	563-8176
Karate — John Touchton	1-582-3117
Heartbeat Aerobics — Kathy Greene	682-9854
Tap and Jazz — Rae Lavingne	687-1784
Performing Arts — Libbie Kurinec	322-6942
Piano — Diane Swiecicki	297-6524
Guitar — Lewis Finn	563-0099

For those interested in a specific class, please call the instructor. For general information, call Bonnie Burton, 689-6284.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES

★

Ballet classes — The Youth Activities Center has vacancies for ballet classes. These classes are taught by a professional dance instructor and spaces are limited. Call 545-3070 for an appointment. (MWR)

★

Swim Team — Sign up for the Youth Activities Swim Team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Monday through Thursday. The swim team is a year-round organization. Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for more information. (MWR)

Month of the Military Child activities

DPCA

The following activities will take place at Fort Benning during the Month of the Military Child:

April 28

Student Consumer Night for ages K-12 will be held 6-9 p.m. at the Main PX. It is sponsored by Consumer Affairs and Financial Assistance Program.

Additional activities

Consumer Affairs will provide post schools with booklets entitled, "My First Savings Account."

The Army Family Advocacy Program will make presentations on Child Abuse Prevention in post schools.

Fort Benning Schools

Dexter School — Parents are invited for lunch and a visit to the classroom:

Kindergarten, Monday
1st grade, Tuesday
2nd grade, Wednesday
3rd grade, Thursday
4th grade, April 28
5th grade, April 28.

Patch School — Soldiers who are Patch School parents may come for lunch with their child throughout the month.

Patch School 1st-graders — With the theme "The World is Our Home," several community members from other countries are coming to first-grade classes to compare Patch 1st-graders with 1st-graders in their countries. These activities will culminate with an international buffet. The date for this event has not been finalized.

White School — 5th-graders will write an autobiography or a research paper on their birthplaces.

4th-graders will develop a mural depicting their birthplaces.

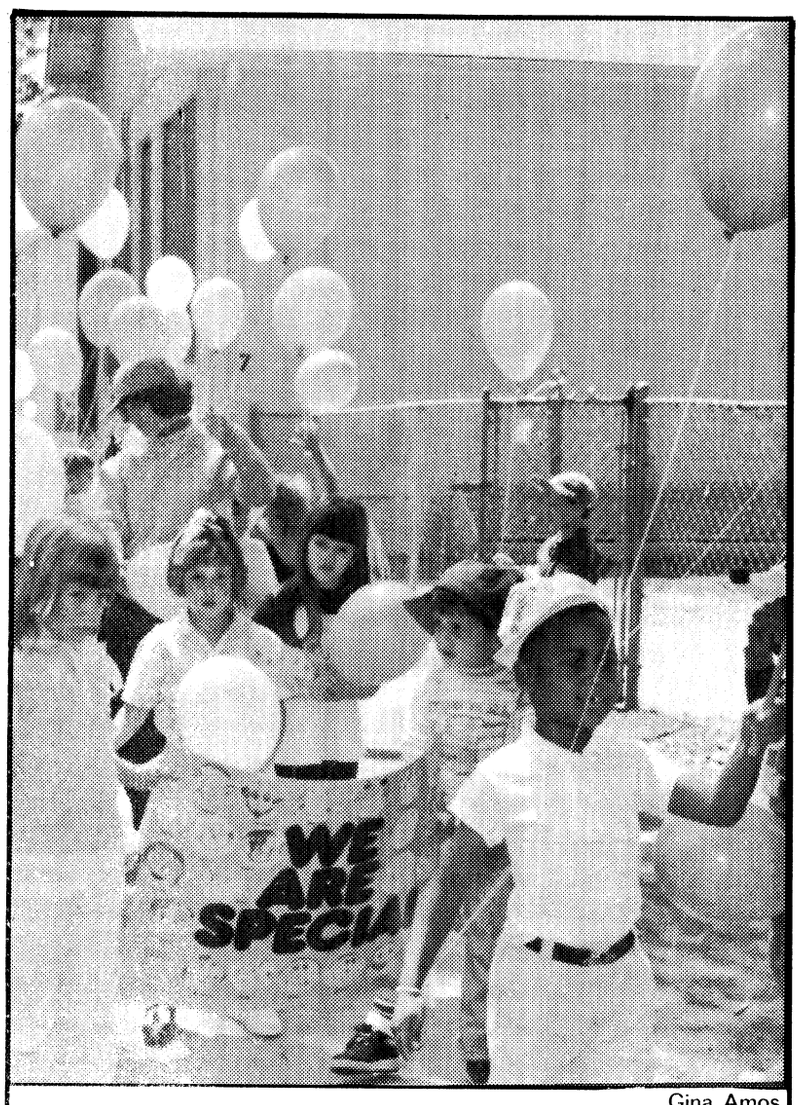
3rd-graders will write autobiographical sketches to be included in a class scrapbook.

2nd-graders will have a culture fair showing food, clothing and artifacts from places they have lived.

A school bulletin board will be set up in the hallway with a world map and a U.S. map. Students will place a pin on their birthplaces.

The Linen Outlet
Accessories for the Home
90 Day LayAway
Open Mon.-Sat.10-6
2211 Wynnton Rd.
323-9211

NEW LOW AIRFARES
Atlanta Roundtrip To:



Frankfurt	Munich	Brussels	London
$560 Thru 30 Apr.	$580 Thru 30 Apr.	$449 27 Apr.-31 May	$358 2 Apr.-27 Apr.
$660 1 May-30 May	$695 1 May-30 May	$719 1 June-30 Sep.	$408 28 April-6 June
$759 1 June-14 June	$779 1 June-14 June

*Certain Restrictions/Taxes Apply to These Fares
*Some Blackout Dates Exist
TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
3115 Mercury Drive
Columbus, GA 31906
404/563-8687
4393 Victory Dr.
ARCCO Place
Columbus, Georgia 31903
404/689-3092

Steve's Check Casher
Do You need a check cashed?
Come visit the Money Man.
WE CASH THEM ALL
$ INCOME TAX RETURN CHECKS
$ PERSONAL CHECKS
$ Payroll
$ Out of State
$ Two Party
$ Money Orders
$ Western Union
$ Tax Checks
$ Insurance Checks
$ Insurance Drafts
$ Government Checks
$ Cashier Checks
ALL TYPES
Let Us Handle All Your Check Cashing Needs!
3949 Victory Station Shopping Center
Suite 2 Next to Blempie's
Come by and Visit With Us Today or Call 689-8335
HOURS: M-F 10-7, Sat. 10-5

ARCCO
A World Class Military Supply Store
ONE STOP SHOPPING
Monday-Friday 9-7:30, Saturday 9-6, Sunday 11:30-4:30
682-0547—4411 Victory Drive (at I-185)
682-0547
Complete Merchandise Selection and Service
FOR THE
SOLDIER-CAMPER-HUNTER
★ Field and Camping Equipment
★ Dry Cleaning and Laundry
★ Dress Greens and Blues
★ Dog Tags and Insignia
★ Knives and Patches
★ Sweats and T-Shirts
★ Boots and BDUs

Call 323-1234 For Home Delivery of
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

Gina Amos

Military children

Patch School students head for the street to begin their Month of the Military Child parade around Miller Loop.

Concert pianist presents 'informances'

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

A concert pianist, presented two "informances" for Fort Benning students April 3 as part of the Xerox Concert Series.

The events by William Koehler are called "informances" rather than "performances" because the students not only listened to the pianist perform, they were also provided time to talk with him and to question him about his music, his preparation for a career in music and his life as a musician.

The informances were part of Koehler's March 27 through April 7 piano residency with the Columbus Symphony. During that period he performed with the symphony, conducted several informances and presented a solo recital and a piano master class at Columbus College.

The Xerox Pianists Program is sponsored by the Xerox Corporation with support from the National Endowment for the Arts and participating orchestras. It provides opportunities for young pianists who are exceptionally talented to perform with leading American symphony orchestras.

Koehler was the highest ranked, American winner in the 1985 Paloma O'Shea International Competition in Spain. He won first prize in the 1984 San Antonio Keyboard competition. He has also won other prizes for performances of contemporary works.

Koehler has been a piano soloist with the symphony orchestras of Houston, Saint Louis, Baltimore and Oklahoma. He is currently serving on the piano faculty at Northern Illinois University and holds a Doctor of Musical Arts degree from the University of Texas at Austin.

"This Xerox Concert Series made it possible for the students to interact with an accomplished musician as well as to watch and listen to him perform," said Melaine Bast, instrumental music teacher at Faith School. "It allowed our students to see Mr. Koehler as a real person.

Beth Middlemiss

Tina Diaz (l), April Mims, Lamont Hale and Lee Williams watch while William Koehler plays the piano.

SPIRITUAL

FORSCOM chaplain visits here

USAIC Chaplain's Office

Chap. (Col.) Matthew A. Zimmerman Jr., U.S. Forces Command staff chaplain, will visit Fort Benning Monday - his first official visit after his selection for promotion to brigadier general.

He will succeed Chap. (Brig. Gen.) Charles McDonnell, deputy chief of Chaplains of the Army in September.

Chap. Zimmerman will be the first Black chaplain in the history to achieve star rank. He is ordained by the National Baptist Convention and served in the military service since 1967.

He will be briefed on training and readiness of the Fort Benning United Ministry Team.

Families send greetings via video tape

By Debra Galle
USAIC Chaplain's Office

Taping sessions were held here recently for family members to send greetings to the soldiers in Costa Rica. Warm smiles and blown kisses from children can do a lot for the morale of the soldiers at the Osa Peninsula.

Likewise, the chaplains in Costa Rica have prepared tapes from the soldiers there to send greetings back home.

Soldiers from the 36th Engineer Group and 43rd Engineer Battalion are in Costa Rica building bridges. "These are bridges of steel and wood, and bridges of peace and cooperation, and a better way of life for the people here," said Chap. (Maj.) David Penland, 36th Engr. Grp. chaplain, who recently returned from Costa Rica.

As the soldiers in Costa Rica toil with their daily tasks, their families and fellow engineers continue with life back here. The chaplains saw a need to build a third bridge, not of steel and wood or peace and cooperation, but one of of communication and fellowship.

Chaplains Krumlauf and Penland began the program to send video tapes back and forth from Costa Rica to help morale and to give all concerned a much needed feeling of linking the many miles that separate them.

Chaplain Penland relates a poem by Will Allen Dromgoole when he describes the bridge builders.

An old man, going a lone highway, came at the evening, cold and gray,
to a chasm, vast and deep and wide,
through which was flowing a sullen tide.
The old man crossed in the twilight dim that sullen stream had no fears for him,
But he turned, when he reached the other side,
and built a bridge to span the tide.

"Old man", said a fellow pilgrim near,
"You are wasting strength in building here.
Your journey will end with the fading day;
you never again must pass this way.
You have crossed the chasm, deep and wide,
why build you the Bridge at the evening tide?"

The Builder lifted his old gray head,
"Good Friend, in the path I have come," he said,
a youth whose feet must pass the way.
This chasm that has been naught to me to that fair haired youth may a pitfall be.
He too, must cross in the twilight dim,
Good friend, I am building the bridge for him"!

Maintaining 'I', 'we' relationship important

By Chap. Robert White
Family Life Center

A big problem for couples is maintaining a healthy balance between the "I" and the "we." Too much of the "I" leads to a relationship where the issue of who is superior or who is right comes into question.

Examples of this kind of relationship are those of teacher-student, employer-employee and officer-NCO. These examples are allowed in our society. But will this type of relationship work with couples today?

The "we" relationship is a symmetrical one. The key word is equal.

It's like two scientists working on a project together. One uses his skills in physics and the other uses his skills in engineer. They resolve to use their skills together to complete a project.

Couples should define their relationships early in marriage. Left unresolved, relationships may become a contest over who will "have the last word." The Bible challenges couples to include wisdom as an important ingredient in their quest for a balance.

"Be subject to one another in the fear of Christ." This is a concept from the New Testament. What does "subject" mean in the couple relationship? It implies intimacy, that is a unique relationship between a husband and wife. One is not subject to any other. Loyalty is to one's partner.

To learn more about this balanced relationship, read from the New Testament, Ephesians chapters five and six.

CHAPEL BRIEFS

Ecumenical

Vacation Bible School — Vacation Bible School classes will be held from 10 a.m. through noon, June 18 through 23 at Dexter, McBride and Wilson schools. Classes will include Bible study, music, crafts, recreation and refreshments.

Adult volunteers are needed. Call 545-2050 for more information.

Protestant

PWOC — The Protestant Women of the Chapel meet each Thursday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Religious Education Center. Baby-sitting is provided. Contact Debby Godwin, 687-7157, or Annette Saul, 682-1157 for more information.

Chapel spring clean-up — Volunteers are invited to the Infantry Center Chapel to help with the annual spring clean-up and to plant flowers Sunday.

Jewish

Services — Passover Services will be Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. and Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the Infantry Training Center Chapel at Sand Hill.

Muslim

Friday services — Muslim services are conducted each Friday at noon in Olson Hall, Room E-303. For more information, call the Allied Liaison Student Detachment at 545-4212.

SOUTH COLUMBUS UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
1213 Benning Drive
10 Minutes from Ft. Benning
Sunday School 9:45 am
Morning Worship 11:00 am
689-5094

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)
2622 Macon Road
Douglas A. Garner, Pastor
Sunday School 9:45AM
Morning Worship 11:00AM
EVERYONE WELCOME!

ROSE HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST
7479 Old Moon Road
DAVID G. SPIECE, MINISTER
• BIBLE STUDY 10:00 AM
• EVENING WORSHIP 6:30 PM
• WEDNESDAY MIDWEEK SERVICE 7:30 PM

First Assembly of God
1309 10th Ave. at 13th St.
Phenix City, Ala.
WELCOMES ALL
Military Personnel
to worship with us.
Sunday School 9:45
Services 10:45
Evening Service 6:00pm

OUR LADY OF LOURDES CATHOLIC CHURCH
Located near Ft. Benning
at 1953 Torch Hill Rd.
Phone 689-5720
SATURDAY VIGIL
MASS 5:30pm
SUNDAY MASSES
8:30am & 11:00am

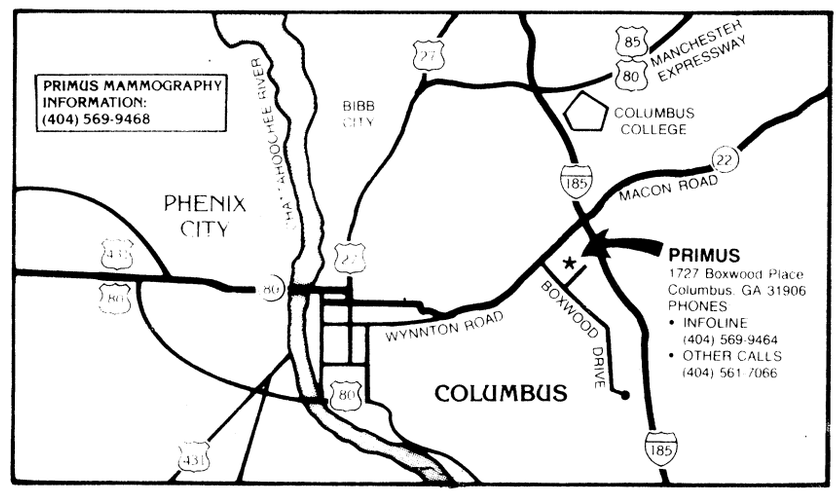
NORTHSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(A New Testament Church)
1442 Double Churches Road
Sunday School 9:45am
Morning Worship 10:45am
Evening Worship 6:00pm
Spencer Arnold, Minister
324-5220

NORTH HIGHLAND ASSEMBLY OF GOD
7300 Livingston Drive Columbus, Georgia 31909
Weekly Service Schedule
Sunday School 9:30am, Worship 10:30am & 6pm
Wednesday Evening, Family Night 7:00pm
(Children & Youth Activities—Adult Bible Study)
Security Parking Nursery
Jimmy R. Swilley, Sr. Pastor For Information call (404) 561-7777

PRIMUS

NEW ARMY PRIMUS CENTER PROVIDES WALK-IN MEDICAL CARE

PRIMUS Walk-In centers are a new approach to providing military beneficiaries access to primary health care. PRIMUS Columbus will be open 365 days each year—from 0700 to 2000 weekdays and from 0900 to 1600 Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays (Effective 10-1-88).



No appointment is necessary and there is no cost to patients for treatment and medication.

All military beneficiaries, including family members, entitled to care at military treatment facilities and enrolled in the DEERS are eligible for care. Basic laboratory and X-ray services are provided on site. Licensed and credentialed physicians and staff provide medical care.

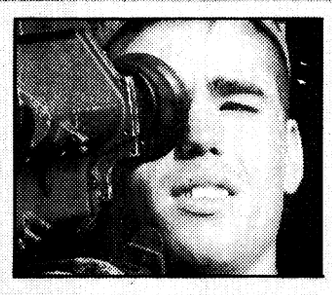
PRIMUS Columbus is located at
1727 Boxwood Place
Columbus, GA 31906

Infoline: (404) 569-9464
Other Calls: (404) 561-7066

PRIMUS Mammography Information: (404) 569-9468

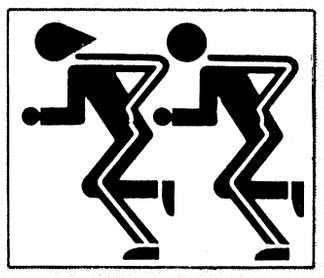
Critically ill or seriously injured patients should go to a hospital emergency room.
Services are provided by PHP Healthcare Corporation, Alexandria, Virginia, under contract to the US Army Health Services Command.

Marlboro



SURGEON GENERAL'S WARNING: Quitting Smoking Now Greatly Reduces Serious Risks to Your Health.

© Philip Morris Inc. 1989



17 mg "tar," 1.1 mg nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC method.

Unit

Michigan soldiers focus on TOW training. See B-2.

Sports

USAIC track & field meet continues today. See B-4.

Entertainment

The Springer Opera House extends show dates and offers half-price tickets to its musical "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum." See B-4 for more information.

ARMY NEWS

1st Bn., 507th PIR needs volunteers

The Infantry Branch is looking for staff sergeants and sergeants first class who are airborne-qualified and want to be assigned with the 1st Battalion, 507th Parachute Infantry Regiment — the Infantry School's airborne training battalion.

Soldiers stationed overseas may apply 10 months prior to their date of estimated return from overseas. However, applications must be received no later than eight months prior to DEROS.

Soldiers stationed in the continental United States must have at least 48 months time-on-station to qualify for CONUS permanent change of station.

For more information, contact SFC Daniels, autovon 221-8055 or 221-9399.

★ ★ ★

Special Forces wants soldiers

The Special Forces Branch is currently interested in recruiting prior-service Special Forces soldiers for reenlistment into active duty.

Former Special Forces soldiers who held ranks of sergeant through sergeant first class are eligible for this program. Army regulations allow them to return to active duty within 36 months of separation without loss of rank.

Former soldiers interested in this program should contact the Special Forces recruiting team at the Special Warfare Center and School at Fort Bragg, N.C. Qualified applicants may call collect at (919) 432-1818.

★ ★ ★

Musicians needed

The Army Bands Program needs soldiers with an interest in music to join its ranks.

In particular, soldiers in the specialist and sergeant ranks are needed in five understrength band military occupational specialities: 02D, french horn player; 02H, oboe player; 02J, clarinet player; 02K, bassoon player; and 02N, piano player.

Active duty soldiers who play one of these instruments and who pass an Army band audition may request training, reclassification and subsequent reassignment to an Army band.

Soldiers currently serving in non-band MOS's must audition for the nearest active duty bandmaster. Soldiers who pass the audition must then initiate a DA Form 4187, Request for Personnel Action, to request service school attendance. DA Form 1633-R, Report of Audition; DA Form 2A, Personnel Qualification Record, Part I; and DA Form 2-1, Personnel Qualification Record, Part II, along with the soldier's request, must be sent through command channels to the soldier's branch at: PERSCOM (TAPC-EPM-A); 2461 Eisenhower Avenue;Alexandria, Va. 22331-0312.

Army band soldiers in balanced or over-strength MOS's who want to reclassify must audition with their bandmaster. DA Forms 2A, 2-1, 1633-R, and 4187 must be submitted through command channels to the soldier's branch at PERSCOM.

For further information, contact Sgt. Maj. Lou Hurvitz at AV 221-5092 or Master Sgt. Melinda Whitman at AV 221-5856.

-- from Army News Service reports.

Quote

"Nearly all men can stand adversity, but if you want to test a man's character, give him power."

-- Abraham Lincoln

Army sets household goods weight limits

Army News Service

Transportation offices around the Army are now armed with rules for the transition to this summer's new household goods weight limits, say officials in the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel.

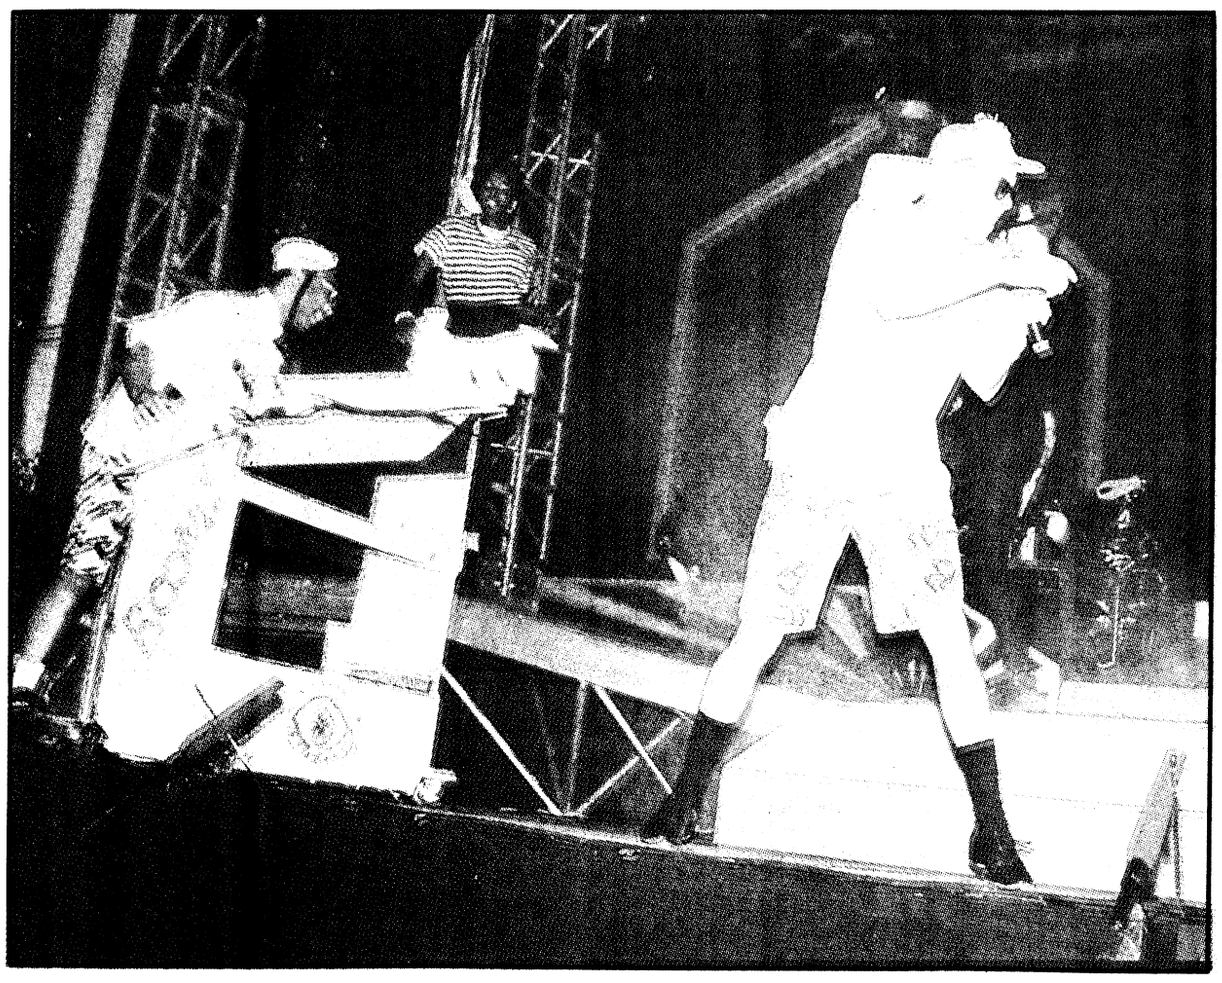
To qualify for the new weight limits, soldiers' change-of-station orders must have an effective date after June 30, and at least part of their household goods transportation must take place after June 30.

Soldiers must meet both criteria to qualify for the new allowances, which are substantially higher at some pay grades. The new weight limits are shown in the chart.

Soldiers may be restricted to smaller amounts in some areas, officials added.

According to instructions issued to the field in an April 4 message, transportation offices can use the following formula to determine if a soldier qualifies for the increase.

— If the soldier's effective date of orders is June 30 or earlier, he does not qualify.



— If the soldier's effective date of orders is July 1 or later, he qualifies only if part of his household goods' transportation takes place after June 30.

Any portion of the household goods transportation process — packing, pick-up, storage, or delivery — that occurs after June 30 satisfies the transportation date requirement, ODCSPER officials say.

The same rules apply for retiring and separating soldiers, they add. Since the effective date of orders for a soldier retiring or separating is the soldier's last day of active duty, those retiring or separating on July 1 would have June 30 as their effective date of orders; they would not qualify for the new weight limits.

The Army is precluded from considering exceptions to these criteria to allow soldiers whose effective date of orders is June 30 or earlier to qualify for the new allowances, ODCSPER officials said.

Rank	Without Dependents	With Dependents
O-6 to O-10	18,000 pounds	18,000 pounds
O-5	16,000 pounds	17,500 pounds
O-4, W-4	14,000 pounds	17,000 pounds
O-3, W-3	13,000 pounds	14,500 pounds
O-2, W-2	12,500 pounds	13,500 pounds
O-1, W-1	10,000 pounds	12,000 pounds
E-9	12,000 pounds	14,500 pounds
E-8	11,000 pounds	13,500 pounds
E-7	10,500 pounds	12,500 pounds
E-6	8,000 pounds	11,000 pounds
E-5	7,000 pounds	9,000 pounds
E-4 over 2 years	7,000 pounds	8,000 pounds
E-4 under 2 years	3,500 pounds	7,000 pounds
E-3	2,000 pounds	5,000 pounds
E-2	1,500 pounds	5,000 pounds
E-1	1,500 pounds	5,000 pounds

Ann McDonald

Soldier Show performance

Members of the Army Soldier Show perform a modern pop number during Sunday's performance at Sand Hill Theatre. During this number, the black lights were turned on to get the full effect of the fluorescent colors of the performers' costumes and props. Story and more photos on B-6.

Army studies ways to 'lighten the load' with PT

Army News Service

Army researchers are working with Alaska 'light fighters' to study the relationship between physical fitness programs and soldiers' ability to lug rucksacks and weapons to the battlefield.

Using soldiers from the 2nd Battalion, 17th Infantry Regiment, 6th Infantry Division (Light), the Army's 'Lighten the Soldier Load' research team began a 12-week study at Fort Richardson, Alaska, with a series of physiological tests at the post's Battle Simulation Center.

The researchers are evaluating several physical fitness training programs designed specifically to improve road march performance. They also hope to determine the frequency and types of injuries incurred with varying amounts of road marching, said Dr. Michael Bahrke of the U.S. Army Physical Fitness School at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind. As the lead agency in the study, the Fitness School developed the training programs that the 2nd Battalion will follow.

Experts from the U.S. Army Research Institute of Environmental Medicine at Natick, Mass., are conducting the physiological tests.

"A lot of people don't realize the value of research and the impact it could have on the infantry (and its PT programs)," said Maj. Tim Corey of the Fitness School.

"Logically, you would think the the more road marching a soldier does, the better he'll be at it," added Bahrke. "But we may find out that road marching four times a month is too much, and maybe twice a month is better. We won't know that, though, until the study is complete."

Four study groups, each with 50 soldiers, are being used by the researchers. All four groups will do an initial 12.4-mile road march with 110-pound rucksacks.

In addition to conventional Army PT, the first group will then road march once a week, with progressive increases in distances and the amount of weight carried by each soldier. Soldiers will begin with 66 pounds of equipment and march five miles during the first week of the study.

By the end of the study, they will be marching 12.4 miles with 110 pounds of gear. The second group will road march every other week, the third group once a month, and the fourth group not at all.

"Since soldiers today are carrying heavier loads, we want to help them carry the loads easier and with less effort — and be more effective fighters once they get to the front lines," said Bahrke. "Our objective is to find out what impact road marching has on a soldier's effectiveness.

Infantrymen at Fort Richardson routinely carry rucksacks weighing anywhere from 45 to 80 pounds, said Capt. James Nelson of the 1st Brigade training section. "The average soldier's ruck would probably be about 60 pounds. Then add another 15 to 20 pounds for the soldier's weapon and the rest of his equipment," Nelson said.

Some soldiers carry more, though. 60-millimeter mortarmen carry up to 30 more pounds, while Dragon and M-60 gunners lug an additional 20 pounds. T During the physiological tests, soldiers are working on treadmills and in underwater tanks to help measure their strength, aerobic capacities and body composition. The research also included pre- and post-study PT tests and road marches.

The research will end June 30. Corey said it could take "several weeks or months" before the study findings are determined.

Hot, humid weather can be physically stressful

By Becky Ray
Energy Branch

Hot weather can be physically stressful on people. In hot weather, we often stay thirsty, have more frequent headaches and tire more easily. Our blood pressure drops, and we often feel lethargic.

Luckily, many of these symptoms can be controlled or eliminated by taking some simple precautions.

The human body cools itself by perspiring. It's effective because heat radiates through moisture 20 times faster than through air.

But bodies can't perspire properly unless they are fully hydrated. That's why it's important to drink plenty of water during warm weather, especially if performing physical work or exercise.

Beverages containing caffeine are not recommended for replacing body fluids because caffeine is a diuretic. It causes increased urination, leaving less water in the body for proper perspiration.

Caffeine also constricts blood vessels, causing the body to retain heat and increasing blood pressure.

Alcohol and sugary foods draw water to the stomach and away from other areas of the body. They can cause or accelerate dehydration.

Air circulation is important in feeling cool, because moving air helps evaporate perspiration. Fans and natural ventilation from open windows can help air circulate.

Keeping skin clean helps bodies perspire. Dried perspiration contains mineral salts that can slow evaporation or perspiration. Heavy lotions and oils can block pores and prevent sweating.

Accumulations of oil on the scalp can also prevent heat loss through the head.

Certain people may be more prone to heat-related symptoms. The obese, the elderly and those on certain types of medications should exercise more care in hot weather.

Also, those with skin conditions such as sunburn, burns and prickly heat should allow for slower perspiration.

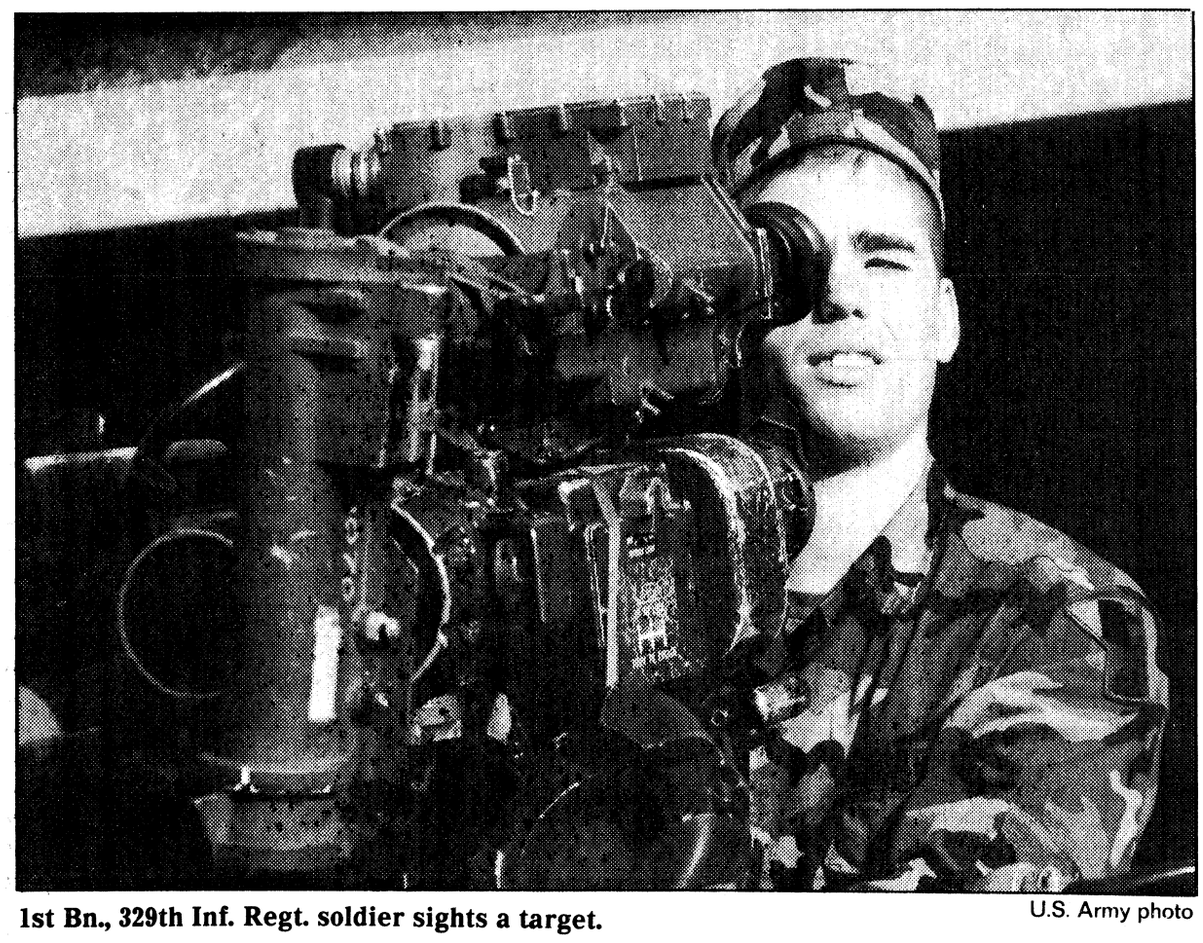
A balanced diet and plenty of rest help bodies cope with heat. Healthy, physically fit bodies handle heat better.

Another factor that makes a big impact during hot weather is clothing. Lighter natural fabrics allow skin to breathe.

Heavy, synthetic fabrics and those that have been treated with stain guards, starch or too much fabric softener inhibit air circulation next to the skin. Lighter colored clothing reflects light; darker colors absorb it.

Humidity also affects comfort. Excess humidity on hot days slows evaporation of perspiration, making the skin feel clammy.

Cooking, showering and washing and drying clothes can add significant amounts of moisture to the air in a house. Indoor humidity can be reduced by doing these chores in the cooler morning or evening hours.



During the summer, physical activity should be planned to take advantage of the cooler times of the day.

Physical exertion will be more comfortable in cooler hours, and the risk of heat stroke and heat exhaustion will be lessened, as well.

Pets suffer in hot weather just as people do. It's especially important to provide a cool, shady place for them on hot days and to give them access to plenty of fresh water.

Many factors can influence the degree of comfort people feel in hot weather. By taking advantage of the factors we can control, you can help ensure the hot days of the Georgia summers are more comfortable and enjoyable.

UNIT NEWS

1st Bn., 329th Inf. Regt. soldier sights a target.

U.S. Army photo

Michigan soldiers focus in on TOW training

By Katherine Stokes
1st Battalion, 329th Infantry

Soldiers from 1st Battalion, 329th Infantry Regiment put aside their civilian clothes in Flint, Mich., and donned Battle Dress Uniforms here for two weeks of annual training.

While here, the 105 soldiers from 329th created a company; they assigned their own company commander, first sergeant and platoon sergeants, and for two weeks, received instructions from members of the 29th Infantry Regiment on the gunner position of the Tube Launched Optically Tracked, Wire Command-Guided Antitank Missile System.

After their Phase V training ends, 329th soldiers will return to Michigan, fully qualified on the TOW. Next year, when they return, they will become the instructors. Their task will be to train One Station Unit Training, split-option soldiers to become TOW gunners.

This is Pvt. 2 Duane Petty's first time at Fort Benning since he's been in 1st Bn., 329th Inf. less than a year. He said, "I've learned a lot about the TOW. The range instructor from 29th really helped me."

Eighteen-year-old PFC Dmitry Samoylon, attached to 329th from Co. A, 2nd Bn., 333rd Inf., Pontiac, Mich., has done exceptionally well at this year's training by earning the title "Top Gunner." Soldiers who are experts on the TOW are given distinctive names such as "Second Gunner," "First Gunner" and the expert of experts,"Top Gunner."

This is the first time Fort Benning has been tasked with providing Phase V mobilization training for a Reserve division. This training will give 329th soldiers an additional skill identifier so that next year they will be fully qualified to become the drill sergeants for OSUT soldiers.

NCO's bridge-building skills asset in Costa Rica

By Greg Markley
U.S. Army South PAO

CAMP RUGGED SEAHORSE, Costa Rica — When people at the 43rd Engineer Battalion, 36th Engineer Group talk about making a "strong" bridge, they are not referring to the bridge's durability alone.

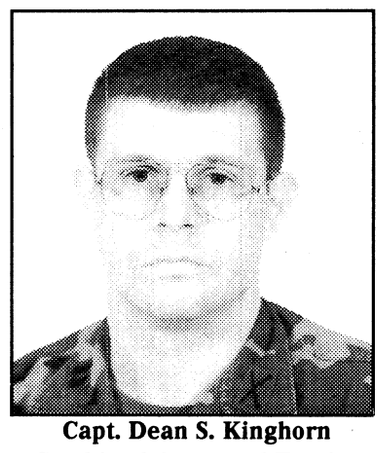
In the parlance of the 43rd, they are talking also about the unit's senior bridge sergeant and construction NCO, SFC Stephen Strong. He has been building bridges of all sorts for 22 years. For those who know him, his name has become synonymous with Bailey bridges.

"He's one of the best I've ever seen with the Bailey bridge. He knows that type of bridge as well as anybody in the Army," said Maj. Jasper Lewis, S-3, 43rd Eng. Bn. "As commander of an engineering unit in Germany a few years back (at the 516th Engineer Battalion, circa 1981), Sergeant First Class Strong was one of my platoon sergeants. We did these bridges in every possible configuration, and his knowledge was impressive."

During exercise Camino de La Paz '89, the engineers are constructing seven Bailey bridges on the Osa Peninsula between the communities of Rincon and Puerto Jimenez. In conjunction with the bridge building, they are also constructing 3.2 kilometers of single-lane, unpaved road. The engineers and support personnel are expected to leave Costa Rica by mid-May.

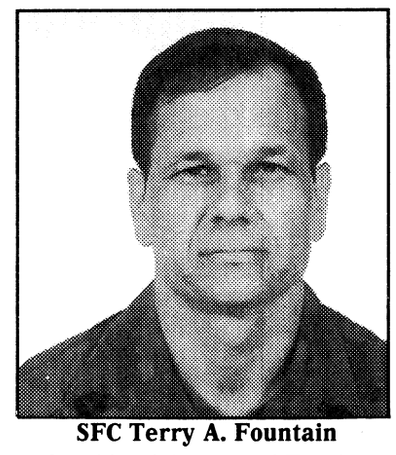
Strong has built Bailey bridges in Germany, Korea, Tunisia and Vietnam, where he spent 22 months in a bridge company that was attached to an infantry battalion. He spent three years as the senior instructor in the Bridge Department, teaching lieutenants, at Fort Belvoir, Va.

1st Lt. David Powell, group construction officer, 36th Eng. Grp., recalls Strong as his instructor in bridge-building at the Officer Basic Course in the fall of 1985. "He was very knowledgeable then, and he's still teaching many of us today," he said.



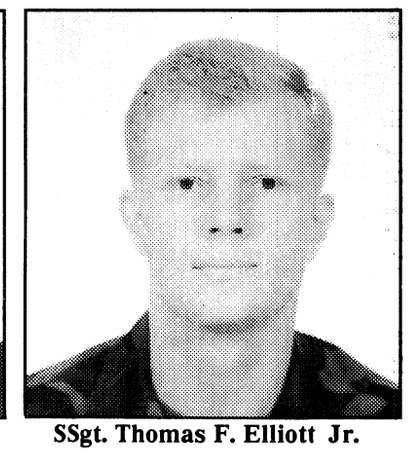
The Bailey bridge was invented by Donald Coleman Bailey, a British civil engineer, to meet the allies' needs during World War II. In 1941, Bailey gave his first sketch of the bridge to the British War office, which paid him the equivalent of $48,000 in 1985 American currency.

Bailey bridges are built by manpower alone, entirely with prefabricated parts, the most notable of which are its light steel panels linked by pinned joints. Its composition has been likened to "a giant erector set."



The Bailey bridge was originally designed to be moved, rebuilt or replaced in several hours, even under enemy fire. It was used widely and well by allied armies in Italy and elsewhere in Europe, 1943-45. British Field Marshall Bernard Law Montgomery said: "Without the

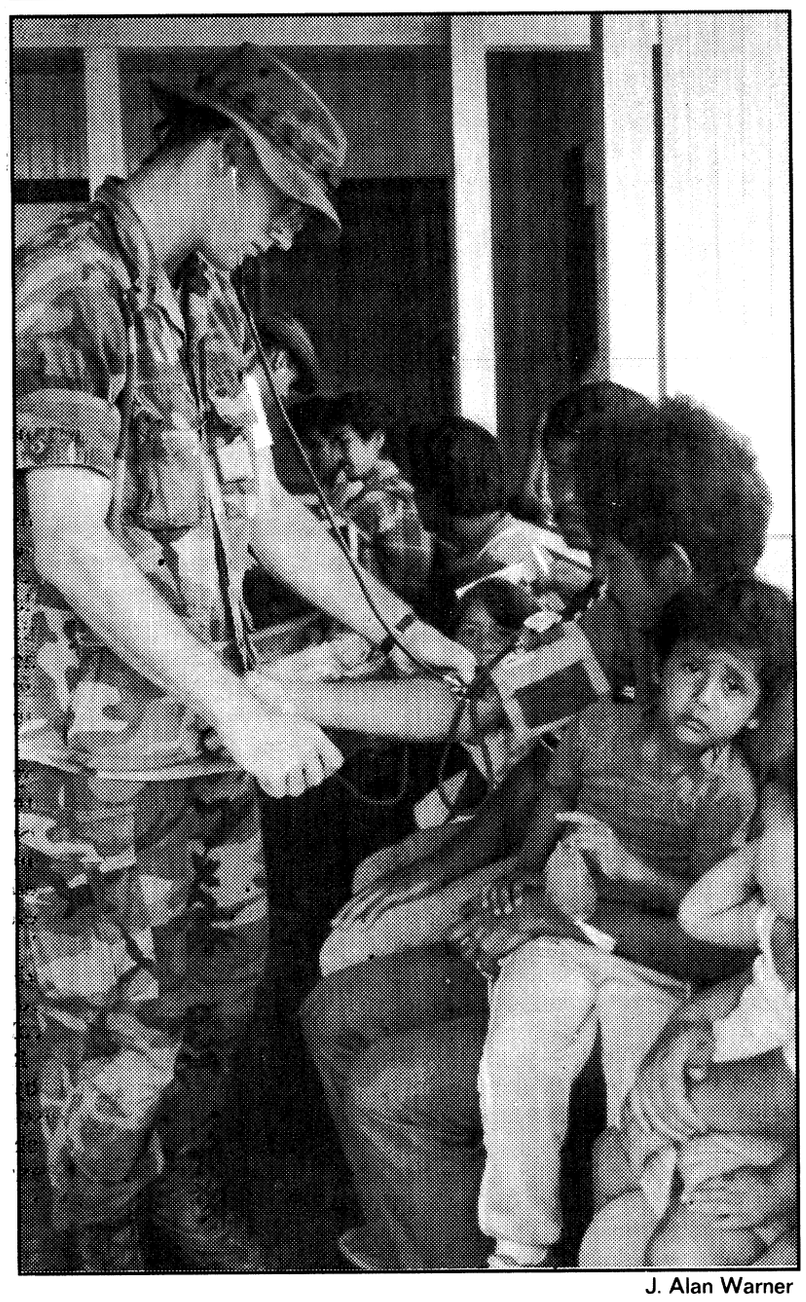
See NCO B-3



USAIS Instructors of the Month

Capt. Dean S. Kinghorn
Combined Arms and Tactics

SFC Terry A. Fountain
Combined Arms and Tactics



SSgt. Thomas F. Elliott Jr.
1st Bn., 507th PIR

DISCOUNTED
AIR LINE TICKETS
30%-70% OFF
DOMESTIC/INTERNATIONAL
*Subject to availability and restrictions imposed by airlines.
TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
4393 VICTORY DRIVE
ARCCO PLACE
COLUMBUS, GA.
689-3092
FT. BENNING MAIN POST
EXIT 1
VICTORY DRIVE
SAND HILL
Arcco
Travel World
Arcco Place

EYE GLASSES
40% to 50% OFF
Buy One Pair At Regular Price
Get The 2nd Free
CONTACTS
SOFT $39.95 with care kit
EXTENDED WEAR $59.95 with care kit
DURA SOFT 3 $149.95 with care kit
324-2073
1140 13th Street
(Near Southern Bell)
eyewear UNLIMITED

NEW BONUSES NEED CASH TODAY? NEW BONUSES
Save lives and earn money by donating your time at one of the finest Plasma Facilities in the country
New & Donors who have not donated in SIX MONTHS RECEIVE $7.00 BONUS with this ad.
Bring a Buddy & RECEIVE AN EXTRA $5.00
Additional Bonus on 6th & 8th Donations
EARN $10.00 AND ABOVE ON EACH VISIT
RIVERFRONT PLASMA CENTER
507 Dillingham St.—Phenix City
297-5711
Hours: Mon.-Wed.-Fri. 7-3:30—Tues. & Thurs. 7-6:30
CONVENIENT EVENING HOURS FOR BENNING PERSONNEL
EARN OVER $100 PER MONTH

PLAN TO COME!
We're Talking Proud COLUMBUS GEORGIA
RIVERFEST WEEKEND
APRIL 28 - 30
COLUMBUS IRON WORKS
Featuring:
The Ledger-Enquirer's Greater Columbus PIG JIG!
SALISBURY FAIR
•ARTS• ENTERTAINMENT
• CRAFTS• EXHIBITS•
• CHILDREN'S RIDES & GAMES•
• ANTIQUES• FOOD•
PLUS
United Cities Gas Company's CORNBREAD COOKOFF!
American Institute of Architect's SAND CASTLE—BUILDING CONTEST!
Southwest Georgia's BBQ Cooking Championships. Over 20 teams competing!
PLUS
ROBINSON'S RACING PIGS!
Brought to you by the Historic Columbus Foundation
Non-stop music, food & fun - Friday, 6 - 10PM; Saturday, 10-10; Sunday, Noon-6PM.
Sponsored with "WHOLE HOG" support by the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer, W.C. Bradley Co., AFLAC, and the Columbus Steeplechase at Callaway Gardens.
Published in the spirit of fun and community support by the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer.

J. Alan Warner

Medical specialist Pvt. 2 Arnold J. Baca checks a patient's blood pressure.

142nd Med. Bn. doctors provide medical care to Costa Ricans

By J. Alan Warner
U.S. Army South PAO

CAMP RUGGED SEAHORSE, Costa Rica — Medical care is one of the advantages of being in the U.S. military. Soldiers who become sick, know they can go to the clinic and be well again in no time. But for other countries with small villages located far from a hospital or doctor's office, medical care is something the people sometimes must do without.

Members of the 142nd Medical Battalion, Fort Clayton, Panama, recently deployed to Costa Rica to perform a joint exercise in humanitarian aid, more commonly called MEDRETE. The MEDRETE was in conjunction with the ongoing Camino de la Paz bridge-building exercise.

"A MEDRETE falls under civic actions during major engineering exercises, and that's how the 142nd got involved," said 1st Lt. Hamilton Plaza, MEDRETE officer in charge. "This is a joint effort between the U.S. Army and Costa Rica. Our doctors are working hand in hand with Costa Rican doctors, and both sides are gaining knowledge."

For a MEDRETE to take place, a country must make an initial request. "The country will ask for medical care in a specific area or region," Plaza said. In this case, the lower half of Costa Rica needed the care most."

After the request is approved, the 142nd goes into action.

"We go to the country and talk to the government officials — in this case, it was the Minister of Health for Costa Rica — and ask them where they need medical care," Plaza said. After the general location has been decided, we travel to the area and talk with the people who live there."

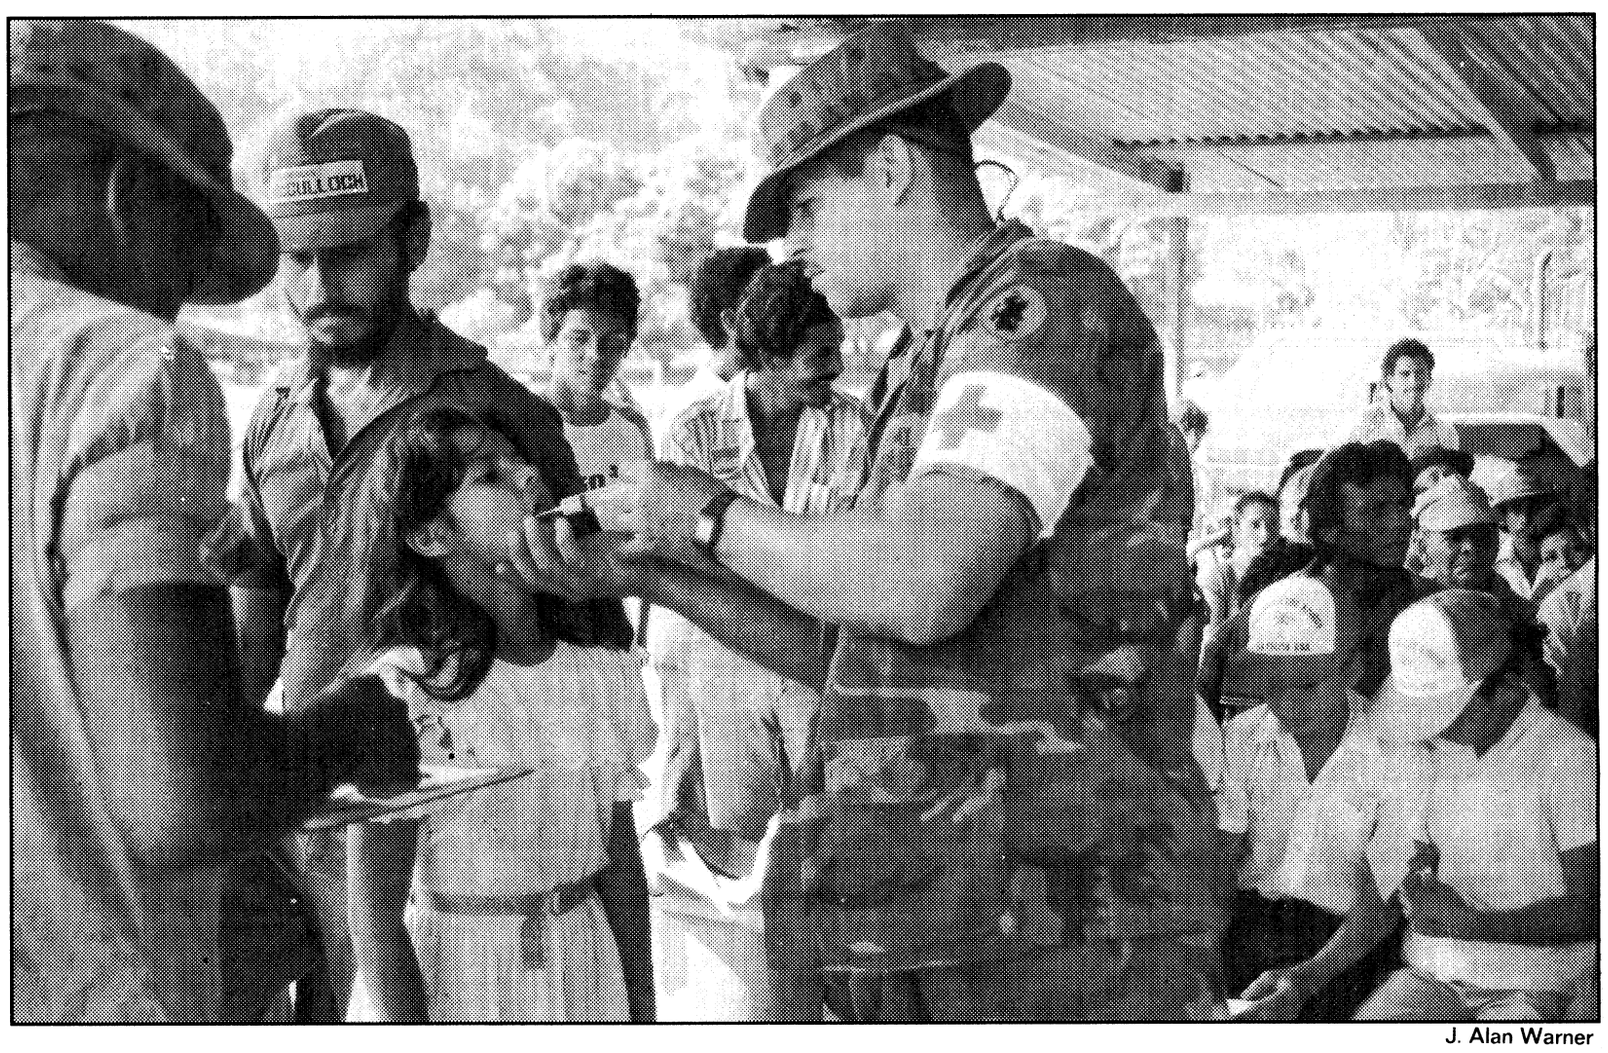
Then, the final planning stage of the MEDRETE begins.

"We decide where the actual 'clinic' will be located and how many days will be spent in that location," Plaza said. The four sites picked for this operation were the towns of Rincon, Rio de Oro, Rancho Quemado and Canazas. All are located on the Osa Peninsula, where members of Fort Benning's 36th Engineer Group are building seven Bailey bridges and 3.2 kilometers of one-lane road.

"My theory is this: We provide one-third of the operation in the form of equipment, personnel and sometimes medicine," Plaza said. "Costa Rica provides the locations, transportation, a guide and some personnel. We have seven Costa Rican doctors working with our personnel on this MEDRETE.

"The last third is provided by the community itself. They advertise the MEDRETE, provide the building to work in and sometimes even provide refreshments."

After arriving in Costa Rica for the MEDRETE, the 142nd was kept busy seeing patients for both medical and dental problems.



"We provide general medical and dental care, nothing fancy," Plaza said. "On the average, we see 200 to 275 people per day. That keeps the doctors busy from 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. That's working without a lunch break."

For cases requiring more extensive treatment, the doctors may refer patients to the hospital in Golfito, across the Golfo Dulce from the Osa Peninsula, Plaza added.

The 142nd is also trying to inform the Costa Rican people about how to care for themselves for a healthier life.

"We are treating people, but we are also teaching them preventive medicine," Plaza said. "We teach the people how to do things to take better care of themselves because that is the root of most (medical) problems."

"What is really nice about this exercise is the doctors from Costa Rica and the U.S. Army are working together," Plaza added. "And, at the same time, the medics are learning from the doctors. This is real field medicine; you're not in a hospital environment. It's great to see the smiles on the faces of the people we treat. These people are very grateful that their government and our government are working together to provide them the opportunity to receive medical care. You can see it in their smiles."

J. Alan Warner

Sgt. Justo R. DeJesus, a medical specialist with the 142nd Med. Bn., administers to a Costa Rican child a dose of Pyrante Pamoate — a medicine to rid the body of parasites.

NCO

Continued from B-2

Bailey Bridge, we should not have won the war. It was the best thing in that line we ever had." Donald Bailey was knighted in 1946 for his contributions to the allied war effort.

Strong notes that the American Army has replaced the Bailey bridge, as the combat assault bridge, with the medium girder bridge, but that the Bailey has been retained in war stocks for maintaining the main supply routes.

"Now, the responsibility for constructing Bailey Bridges belongs to the combat heavy units in the Army; the bridge companies work with the assault bridges, medium girder and ribbon bridges," Strong said.

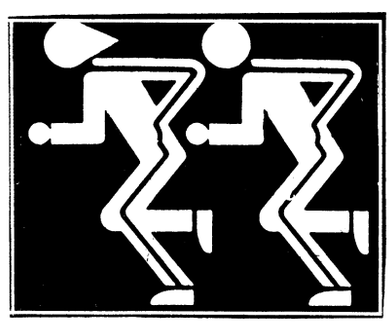
"Since 1976, the Army has mainly used medium girders. A medium girder takes half as many people, and can be built twice as fast. It's made out of an alloy of aluminum, magnesium and zinc."

In Costa Rica, he said, it is more cost effective to build the traditional Bailey, not the newer medium girder, bridge. "You simply couldn't afford to build a medium girder bridge down here. It costs a million dollars for 103 feet of the medium girder, and all seven of the Baileys for this exercise cost less than $900,000."

For Camino de La Paz '89, there were two criteria for determining the bridge structure type (there are seven basic Baileys). "One was the flood plan. We had to build a bridge long enough to meet the requirement of the 50-year flood plan, the high-water mark in the last 50 years. The other criterion was we had to be able to cross the Class 40 traffic, or the Costa Rican equivalent to this category, about the size of a dump truck."

Econo Self Storage
4483 Victory Drive 404-682-3803
FORT BENNING
FOR THE MILITARY
Storage while TDY
Foot locker storage
Motorcycles
Boats
Personal effects
Bivouac
Permanent party storage
UNIT SIZES AVAILABLE
Lockers 5(W) x 5(D) x 4(H)
5x10 10x10 $20 up 5x5 10x20
Call Now to Reserve Your Space
For Your Business or Family Items—Short or Long Term

Low Cost Term Life Insurance
Consolidated Insurance Services
Albany, GA
Dealing with A+ or A Rated Companies.
1-800-289-8766
For a complete proposal
Annual Premiums (Male, Non-Smoker)



Age	$100,000	$250,000	$500,000	$1,000,000
35	122	203	300	550
40	130	225	345	640
45	155	233	455	860
50	205	388	545	1040
55	273	543	790	1530
60	383	875	1405	2760
65	643	1525	2545	5040

Anthony's Pizza the world's greatest
687-8051
Home Delivery on Post 5 pm till closing
16" PEPPERONI PIZZA $2.00 off with coupon
Exp. 5/5/89
Not valid with any other coupon
Limit one per order
please mention coupon when ordering
Good at Fort Benning Mini Mall Location Only

SAVE MODERN TV & APPLIANCE SAVE
GE 25" CONSOLE COLOR CONSOLE
LOW DOWN PAYMENT
Model 8-2503
• Automatic Fine Tuning
• 110° COTY Picture Tube
• Automatic Color Tracking
ONLY $449.95
ZENITH
19" diagonal Color TV
SAVE
Model SS8915W
• With Remote Control
• Vertical Space-Saving Design
• Eastern Walnut Color Finish
ONLY $369.95
QUIK N' E-Z
QUIK CREDIT
E-Z TERMS
MOVIES
AS Low As 99¢ Per Day
Over 800 Titles to Choose From
No Membership Fee
matching home laundry pair
FREE DELIVERY
HOTPOINT SATISFACTION GUARANTEED* OR YOUR MONEY BACK!
PERMANENT PRESS CYCLES
WASHER Model WLW 1500B
DRYER Model DLB 1550B
SAVE ON THE PAIR
ONLY $688.00 for the pair
large capacity refrigerator
Hotpoint
17.7 Cu. ft. no-frost refrigerator • Adjustable split-level shelves • Equipped for optional icemaker Model CTX18E
ONLY $729.95 With Icemaker
FREE DELIVERY
HRS: 9AM-6PM MON-SAT
MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
You Don't Need A Lot Of Money, Just A Little Bit A Month
2039 FT BENNING ROAD
SERVICE AFTER THE SALE
687-8249 /682-1341

SPORTS

USAIC track and field meet resumes today

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The 1989 Spring Track and Field Meet continues today at Doughboy Stadium.

Active duty military personnel assigned or attached to Fort Benning are eligible to participate.

Track events for males include the 120-yard high hurdles, 440-yard dash, 100-yard dash, 440-yard relay, one-mile run, 880-yard run and the one-mile relay.

Track events for females are the 440-yard dash, the 100-yard dash, the 180-yard low hurdle, the one-mile run, and the 880-yard run.

Field events for men are the pole vault; shot put; long, high and triple jumps.

Field events for women are the shot put and long, high and triple jumps.

Call the Sports Office at 545-5777 for more information on events and times.

CAFB schedules Great American Road Race May 6

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Charleston Air Force Base's 1989 Great American Road Race will be held May 6. All military personnel are invited to participate.

The event features a 5K race that begins at 8:15 a.m., followed by a one and one-half mile fun run. An 8K race begins at 9:45 a.m.

The entry fee for the 5K and 8K races is $9 with long-sleeved T-shirt; $6 without T-shirts. For the one and one-half mile fun run, the entry fee is $6 with T-shirt and $3 without T-shirts.

Awards will be presented to first, second and third places in the 5K and 8K events in each age group. Trophies will be presented to the military team winners in the 5K race.

The military team category is for groups of four individuals from a military installation or unit. Each installation/unit may enter as many four-person teams as desired, as long as each team is designated prior to the race.

Teams will compete for the award in the 5,000 meter event only. All personnel must be active duty military, reservist or Department of Defense civilian and they can only compete for the installation or unit to which they are assigned. Team members will also be eligible for individual awards in their respective age groups. The winning team is determined by the fastest total time of the four team members' times.

Entry forms must be postmarked by April 27.

For more information, call Timothy Moriarty at autovon 583-3546 or 2658.

Great American Road Race 1989

NAME _____

CIRCLE EVENT: 5,000M 8,000M 1.5-Mile Fun Run

CIRCLE MEN'S T-SHIRT SIZE: S M L XL

AGE ON RACE DAY _____ SEX _____

ENTER AMOUNT ENCLOSED _____

ADDRESS _____

HOME TELEPHONE _____ OFFICE TELEPHONE _____

If competing for special award(s), circle appropriate response(s) below:
Military Team Award School Participation Award CAFB Squadron Participation Award

Specify name of military, school and/or CAFB Squadron: _____

In consideration of acceptance of this entry, I hereby release the Charleston AFB organizations, commercial sponsors and officials of the 1989 Great American Road Race from all claims of injury or damage resulting from my participation in this race. I hereby declare that I am in proper physical condition to participate in the event I have selected to enter. I understand and agree that any Charleston AFB organization may subsequently use for publicity and promotional purposes my name and/or pictures of my participating in this event without any obligation or liability to me. I further understand and agree that my entry fee is non-refundable.

SIGNATURE _____ DATE _____
(Parent or guardian must sign if entrant is 17 or younger.)
In case of emergency, contact _____ telephone number _____

Mail entry and fee to: Airlift Comptrollers
CAFB P. O. Box 0348
Charleston, SC 29404

Make checks payable to Airlift Comptrollers.

U.S. shooters bring home gold in international matches

By Sally Roberts
U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit

The U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit's Running Target section shooters continue to "Bring home the Gold" from national and international matches.

Troy Lawton took first place in the 50-meter (30 + 30) event at the 1989 Gran Prix International Shooting Championship, held recently at Chino, Calif. Lawton shot a personal best score of 589 out of 600 in this event. In the 50-meter, mixed run, Lawton was edged into second place by Randy Stewart, a former member of the USAMU Running Target Section, who took first.

"The 50-meter, mixed run is my favorite," Lawton said, "because it is more like the hunt."

In the 30 + 30 event, the shooter fires at 30 slow-moving targets and then at 30 fast-moving targets. In the mixed run, the shooter doesn't know if the target will come out slow or fast.

Lawton still hold the national record of 394 in the mixed run, which he shot in January 1988.

Martin Edmondson and Michael Moore also returned triumphant from the Fifth Championship of the Americas and World Cup, held in Guatemala City, Guatemala.

Edmondson, who began shooting with Fort Benning's Junior Rifle Club in 1978 while his father was assigned to USAMU, took the gold in the 10-meter, air rifle event of the CAT Championships. He was also a member of the first-place U.S. team in the same event.

In the 50-meter mixed run of the World Cup match, Edmondson edged into a third-place finish following a shoot off with a current world champion, Jean Luc Tricore of France. Edmondson was also a U.S. team member in the World Cup, 50-meter, mixed run (gold) and the 10-meter, air rifle (silver).

Moore earned two gold medals in the CAT Championships as a member of the U.S. Team in the 10-meter, air gun and in the 50-meter, mixed run. The team took second place to Cuba in the 50-meter (30 + 30) run. In the World Cup, Moore was a team member in three events, earning a gold, silver and bronze medal.

"I feel proud when I stand behind the U.S. flag (during international matches)," Moore said. "That gives me a great sense of accomplishment. I've made sacrifices, and they've paid off."

By "bringing home the gold" in these events, Moore and Edmondson earned the U.S. Distinguished International Shooter's Badge awarded by the National Board for the Promotion of Rifle Practice for outstanding achievement as a representative of the United States in International shooting events.

Teams from eight nations participated in the CAT Championships/World Cup including Cuba, Colombia, Guatemala, El Salvador, Hungary, Italy and France.

Mountain Ranger Run to be held April 29 in Dahlonega

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The annual Mountain Ranger Run will be held at North Georgia College, Dahlonega, April 29.

The course follows a scenic and hilly loop through the college campus and surrounding community.

The event, which is open to both civilians and servicemembers, starts at 10 a.m. for a 1-mile fun run and 10:30 a.m. for a 5-mile run.

A pre-registration fee of $3 for the 1-mile run and $6 for the 5-mile run must be received no later than April 15.

Late registration for the 5-mile run will cost $8.

All registered finishers in the 5-mile run will receive a T-shirt. Certificates will be awarded to all runners in the 1-mile fun run.

Trophies will be awarded to the first three overall men and the first three women to finish the 5-mile run.

The run will be held rain or shine.

For more information, call Capt. Billy M. Blackwell, (404) 864-3367, extension 37.

AUSA tourney April 27

Association of the U.S. Army

An annual golf tournament sponsored by the Association of the U.S. Army is slated April 27 at Follow Me Golf Course. The shotgun start begins at 12:30 p.m.

The entry fee is $25 for non-golf club members and $20 for members. Play is limited to the first 120 paid entries. The fee includes: riding carts, green fees, refreshments and an opportunity to win prizes.

The format is 18 holes, four-ball scramble. Each team will consist of four players. There will be an A, B, C and D player on each team. The A player will be the designated team captain.

AUSA corporate and regular members, active duty military and members of the Follow Me Golf Course are eligible.

STANDINGS

VOLLEYBALL

197TH INFANTRY BRIGADE

2nd Bn., 18th Inf.	W	L
Company C	3	0
HHC	3	1
Company A	3	1
Company B	3	2
Company D	2	1
519th PSC	0	4
Company F	0	5

CONSOLIDATED LEAGUE

	W	L
2nd MASH	2	0
MPA	1	0
498th Medical	1	1
MEDDAC	0	1
690th Medical	0	2
USARSA, HHC	--	--
USARSA, Co. A	--	--

THE SCHOOL BRIGADE

	W	L
Company B	2	0
Team #2	1	0
Team #1	0	1
Band	0	2

SATISFIED PEOPLE
make classified advertising work
Why don't you try the classifieds!
Ledger-Enquirer Classified
322-4500

SPORTS SHORTS

Women's league needs softball players

The Women's Intramural Softball League needs players. Season play begins May 18 and continues through June 17. The Sports Office will sign up interested players until the season begins.

Interested players should contact the Sports Office at 545-5777 or Alber McGruder at 544-1595 or 544-2486.

Small games competition set

The Small Games Championship will be held Tuesday through April 28 at Santiago Fitness Center. Games for the competition are badminton, table tennis, handball, squash and horseshoes.

For further information, call Santiago Fitness Center, 544-1595.

Post tennis tourney set to begin May 5

The 1989 U. S. Army Infantry Center's Tennis Championship will be held May 5 through 12 at the Community Recreation Division's tennis courts on Anderson Street behind Theatre #2.

Brigade and battalion teams will consist of two male players in the Open Division, two in the Junior Veterans Division, one in the Senior Division, and two female players in the Women's Division (team total of seven).

Senior Division entrants must be 45 years of age or over and junior veteran entrants must be 35 to 44 years of age as of May 5.

All military personnel on active duty at Fort Benning are eligible to participate.

Entry forms are available at the Community Recreation Division gymnasiums and at the Physical Activities Office, building 394. Entry deadline is May 1.

Body builders will compete June 10

The sixth annual Mr. and Ms. Fort Benning body building contest will be held June 10 at Marshall Auditorium in Infantry Hall, building 4.

The Mr. Fort Benning contest is open to all active duty military men stationed at Fort Benning.

The Ms. Fort Benning competition is open to active duty military females, dependents of active duty, retirees, Department of Army , Non-appropriated Fund and Army and Air Force Exchange Service employees.

Awards will be presented to first, second and third place winners as well as the best poser in both the men and women competition. Also, in the men's category, an award will be presented to the "Most Muscular" competitor.

For more information, call Speedy Austin at 545-4726.

Sports Office needs boxers and trainers

Any military personnel interested in boxing for the Fort Benning boxing program should meet at Briant Wells field house, building 933, Monday through Friday at 5:30 p.m. Trainers are needed, also.

For further information, contact Speedy Austin at 545-4726/4388.

Follow Me Course holds tournaments

The following tournaments are available at Benning's Follow Me Golf Course:

- Saturday and Sunday — Spring Handicap (full handicap, flighted)
- May 20 — Blind Partner Handicap (combined net score)
- May 28 through 29 — Dixie Memorial Tournament (four-man, two best balls)
- June 17 through 18 — Bi-City Golf Tournament (gross event, flighted)

Golfers pay half-price greens fees Monday through Friday with cart rental from 1 p.m. until dark. Call 687-1940 for additional information.

Hospice fishing tourney April 29

The 5th annual Chattahoochee Hospice Buddy Tournament will be held April 29 at West Point Landing, Lake West Point, Ga. The tournament attracts hundreds of fishermen each year and the proceeds go to Chattahoochee Hospice.

The first place prize is $2,000; other cash prizes will be awarded through 10th place. The amount of each prize depends upon the number of entries.

The entry fee is $50 per boat. Participants may pre-register or register the morning of the tournament. Checks should be made payable to Chattahoochee Hospice, Inc.

For more information, call (205) 756-1274.

Pot-O-Gold is $3,302

Fort Benning bowling centers' "Pot-O-Gold" cash prize has reached $3,302.

Bowlers must strike in certain frames to win the pot.

League and open bowlers who purchase a three-game ticket and pay a $1 entry fee prior to bowling are eligible to enter the tournament. For information, call 545-4272 or 545-1949.

Female volleyball players needed

The Sports Office needs female volleyball players. Active duty military, dependents, Department of Army or Non-appropriated Fund civilians are eligible to play.

If interested, call the Sports Office at 545-5777 or 545-7519.

YA needs swimmers

The Youth Activities Center is looking for swimmers for its swim team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Mondays through Thursdays.

The swim team is a year round organization.

Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for information.

— Compiled from staff reports.

STOP!
Read the Classified Pages Everyday!
Ledger-Enquirer Classified
322-4500
It Makes A Lasting Impression

FREE
ALL TUNE and LUBE
Oil change, lube & filter
with the purchase of an engine tune up.
COMPLETE ENGINE TUNE
$39.90*
Includes all parts and labor for most cars
Some Vans & Pick-ups Add'l.
12 MONTH/12,000 MILE WARRANTY
Your Total Car Care Center
WITH COUPON ● WHILE YOU WAIT Exp. 5-4-89

ALL TUNE and LUBE
● Oil Change, Lube & Filter $9.90 reg. $19.90
● Transmission Tune-up $24.90 reg. $29.90
● Air Conditioning Service $24.90 reg. $29.90
● Fuel Injector Service $39.90 reg. $49.90
● Brake Special (Most Vehicles) $34.90 reg. $63.90
FREE BRAKE INSPECTION CB

COLUMBUS
6028 MILLER ROAD
569-TUNE
Hours M-F
8 AM-7 PM
Sat. 8 AM-4 PM
OVER 70 LOCATIONS NATIONWIDE!

ENTERTAINMENT

PUZZLE

ACROSS

1 Gain
7 Animal coat
10 Cut
13 Fatigue
19 Drives onward
20 Consumed
21 Vigoda of "Fish"
22 Raise
24 Ran easily
25 Hebrew month
27 Printer's measure
28 Roman 51
29 That man
30 Louganis events
31 So be it!
32 Supplicate
34 Mountain on Crete
36 Foam
38 Lairs
39 Bow
40 Physician: abbr.
41 Seesawing
44 Negative prefix

46 Fem. holy person
47 Latin conjunction
48 — tse-tung
49 Chapeau
50 Shoe front
51 Insane
53 Hypothetical force
54 Compass point
55 Priests' vestments
57 Lowe or Reiner
59 Church bench

60 Certain
61 Stack inits.
62 Chair parts
64 At no time
66 Depends on
68 Zodiac sign
70 Encourages
72 Roman bronze
73 Pie variety
74 Tai —
77 The eye: poetic
78 Woody Allen film
80 Encomium
82 Vandal
83 "Star —"
85 Commission
86 Surgical stitch
87 Sly look
88 Electrified particle
90 Deposit
91 Brooklyn ending

92 Free of
93 Alcholic beverage
96 Trade for money
99 Observes
101 — to sender
104 Large bird
105 Julie Andrews film
107 Ocean
108 Cushion
109 Place
110 Hawaiian wreath

111 Imitate
112 Lamb's pen name
114 Characteristic
116 Goddess of youth
117 Lamprey
118 As far as
120 Intertwine
122 Sloe — fizz
123 Absolute
124 Equally
125 Barbot inits.
127 Behold!

129 Judgment
131 Begin
133 Greek letter
134 Yes, in Madrid
136 Concerning
137 Obstruct
139 Pigpen
140 Sin
141 Asian ox
142 At home
143 Common street name
145 "Magnum, P.I." star
147 Firth
151 Shea Stadium player
152 Pismire
153 Shadow
155 Soft food
157 Choir voice
158 Emerge victorious
159 Color, red in hue
160 River in Siberia
161 Babylonian deity

163 More domesticated
165 Williams of comedy
167 Diphthong
168 Teutonic deity
169 Famed
171 English streetcars
172 Barter
173 Chicago players
175 Unusual

176 Expunge
177 Showy flower
178 Egyptian singing girl

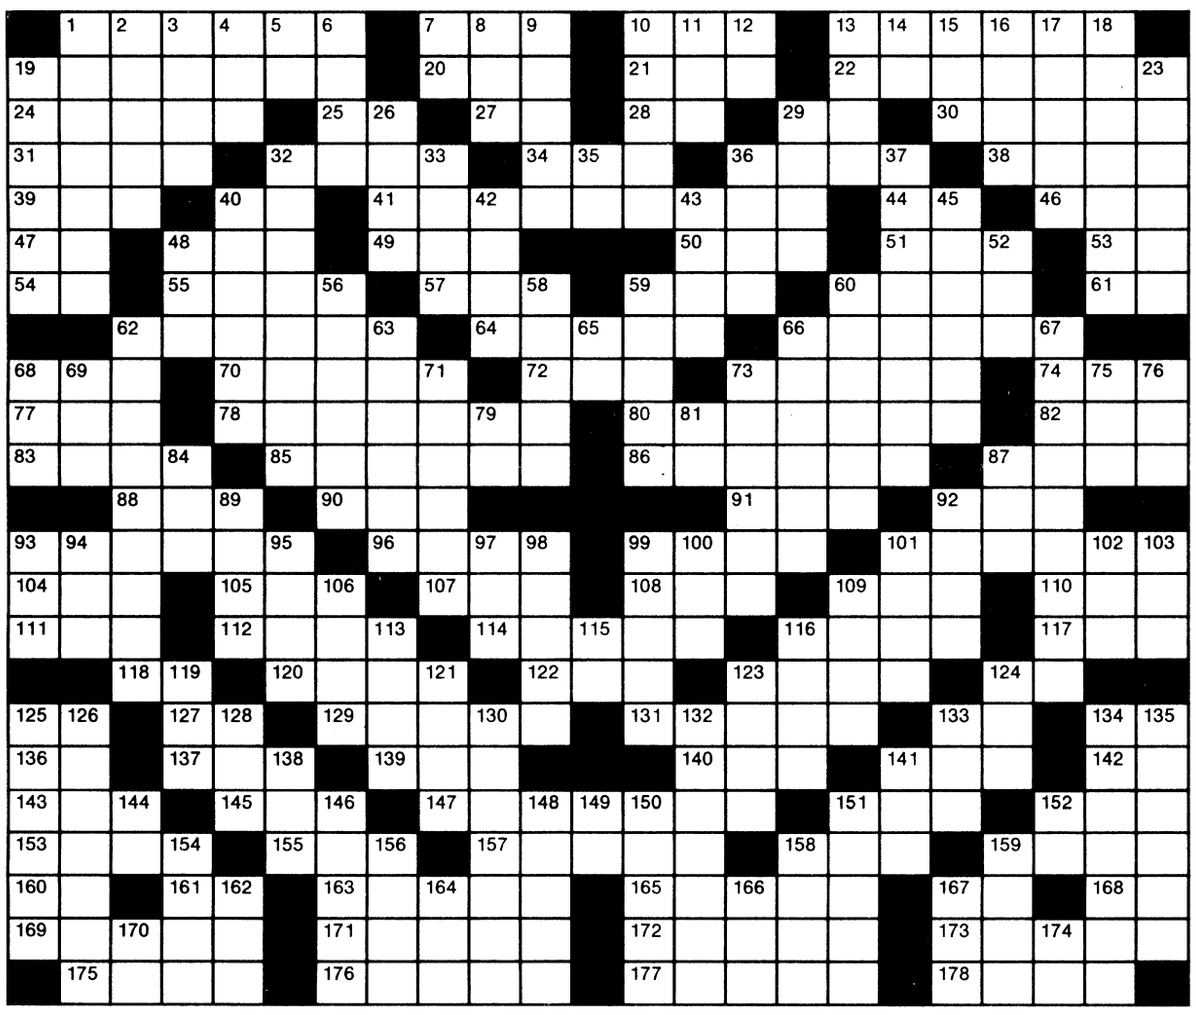
DOWN

1 Patronize
2 Lassoed
3 Unlock
4 Gave food to
5 Negative prefix
6 Former Russian ruler

7 Note of scale
8 Shoshonean Indian
9 Forgive
10 Pertaining to the cheek
11 Kimono sash
12 Pronoun
13 Pay attention
14 Pacino of film
15 — Buttons
16 Enthusiastic
17 Rescues
18 Person having a loud voice
19 Woodworker's tools
23 Ancient chariots
26 A washing
29 Massive
32 Likely
33 "A — in the Life"
35 Down: prefix
36 Winter precipitation

37 Feign
40 Hagman/Duffy series
42 Kind of collar
43 Roman road
45 Sea soldier

48 Chart
52 Billy — Williams
56 Guides
58 Whiskers
59 Nuisances
60 Safe
62 Nickname
63 Cubic meters



65 "Ben Casey" star: inits.
66 Sharp replies
67 Timetables
68 Base
69 Epoch
71 Freshets
73 Showed compassion

75 Tint
76 Writing fluid
79 — garde
81 Urich ID
84 Old French coin
87 Hole
89 Face part
92 Nerve network
93 Meadow
94 Demon
95 Cylinder
97 Permit
98 Big
99 Washing cycles
100 Dine
101 July birthstone
102 Female ruff
103 Nothing
106 Predilection
109 Saucy

113 High cards
115 Three-toed sloth
116 German title
119 Ancient
121 Grafted: heraldry
123 Diversify
124 Diving bird
125 Native of Brittany
126 Beat soundly
128 Grain
130 Methods of classification
132 Frights
133 Small rug

134 Wholehearted
135 Buries
138 L, —, N, —, —
141 Money, in Tokyo
144 Mile: abbr.
146 Having dull finish
148 Brief

149 World org.
150 Chief artery
151 Underground worker
152 Gold symbol
154 Condescending look
156 Young salmon
158 Broad
159 Fruit skin
162 Fruit drink
164 Cry of goat
166 Cudgel
167 Arabian garment
170 Tantalum symbol
174 Part of "to be"

1/2 price tickets available for Springer production

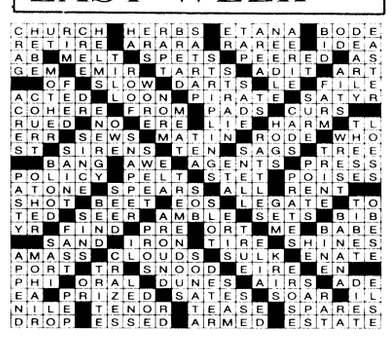
Springer Theatre

The Springer Opera House is extending the run of its current production, "A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum," and is offering a special half-price discount to the military and their dependents. (A military identification card is required at the door.)

The musical, which was scheduled to close April 15, will now run through Saturday. The military half-price offer is good for tonight's show and Saturday's show, both at 8 p.m.

"We simply have to run this show longer," explained the Springer managing artistic director, Paul R. Pierce. "It's a big, extravagant production and audiences are really loving it. When you are able to mount a rare event like "Forum," you've just got to let people have a greater opportunity to see it. The crowds are enthusiastic and the box office phones are busy, so what's the point in closing the show now?"

Pierce is attempting to cut down on the number of nights the Springer is dark and to attract new audiences to theatre productions. He has already added an extra week to the season finale, "The New Odd Couple," and announced a special summer main-stage musical, "The Best Little Whorehouse in Texas," scheduled to open Aug. 2, to draw greater numbers to the theatre.



"We can't build audiences at the Springer if we're sitting here in the dark. The lights have got to be on, the curtain has to be up and if we've got a hot show like "Forum" on stage, I say, let's open the doors and run it."

"A Funny Thing Happened on the Way to the Forum" is a vaudevillian-style, slapstick musical comedy set in 200 B.C. Rome. It centers around a Roman slave named Pseudolous who tries to win his freedom by playing matchmaker on behalf of his young, innocent master, Hero.

It's a colorful, quick-paced family show with music by Stephen Sondheim. The musical was directed by the popular Springer guest director, Robert Putnam, from New York with music direction under the baton of Paul Vander Gheynst, Chairman of Arts and Letters at Columbus College. Scenic designer, William Evans, Professor of Drama and Theatre at Columbus College, has provided the elaborate, multi-leveled set complimented by Dona Pierce's colorful and varied costume design.

For reservations or information, call the Springer box office at (404) 327-3688.

LAST WEEK

MOVIES

Today	Her Alibi - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Tap - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Platoon Leader - (R)	Main Post 9:10 p.m.
Saturday	Kinjoite: Forbidden Subject - (R)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	High Spirit - (PG-13)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	The Land Before Time - (G)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	The Fly II - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Bat 21 - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
	Hanna's War - (PG-13)	Main Post 11 p.m.
Sunday	The Fly II - (R)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Moon Over Parador - (PG-13)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	The Burbs - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Kinjoite: Forbidden Subject - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Monday	The Burbs - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	The Fly II - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Who's Harry Crumb? - (PG-13)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Tuesday	The Burbs - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	High Spirits - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Wednesday	Big - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	The Fly II - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Working Girl - (R)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Thursday	Who's Harry Crumb? - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Child's Play - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.

Call 323-1234 For Home Delivery of Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

AUTO STORAGE WAREHOUSE
• SPRINKLER
• BURGLAR ALARM
• INSULATED
by MONTH or YEAR
ALLIED BONDED WHSE.
4301 ALLIED DR.
COLUMBUS (404) 687-0222

Carmike Cinema 7
5301 Sidney Simons Blvd. 596-8244
"DISORGANIZED CRIME" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"FLETCH LIVES" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"RAIN MAN" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
DISCOUNT MATINEES MON.-FRI. ALL SEATS $2.50 till 5:30 P.M.
"THE DREAM TEAM" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"DEAD CALM" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"THE THIN BLUELINE" UNRATED 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"RESCUERS" G 2:30, 4:00, 5:30, 7:30 "DANGEROUS LIAISON" R 9:30
Columbus Square 8 / 563-4440 COLUMBUS SQUARE
"SPEED ZONE FEVER" PG 7:00, 9:30
"SHE'S OUT OF CONTROL" PG 7:00, 9:30
"LEAN ON ME" R 7:00, 9:30
"PET SEMATARY" R 7:00, 9:30 NO TUES. BARGAINS
"RED SCORPION" R 7:10, 9:20
"MAJOR LEAGUE" R 7:10, 9:20 NO TUES BARGAIN
"SAY ANYTHING" PG13 7:10, 9:20
"LEVIATHAN" R 7:10, 9:20
Peachtree Triple / 322-7704 PEACHTREE MALL
"976-EVIL" R 7:10, 9:20
"CYBORG" R 7:10, 9:20
"SEE YOU IN THE MORNING" PG13 7:00, 9:30
Plaza Triple 99¢ / 563-3737 CROSS COUNTRY PLAZA
"THREE FUGITIVES" PG13 7:10, 9:20
any Movie 99¢ anytime!
"THE FLY II" R 7:00, 9:30
"TRUE BELIEVERS" R 7:00, 9:30
Phenix Twin 99¢ / 297-3905 280 BYPASS
any Movie 99¢ anytime!
"TWINS" PG 7:00, 9:15
"I'M GONNA GIT U SUCKA" R 7:15, 9:30

Arby's
SPECIAL OFFER!
ROAST BEEF DELUXE
ONLY 99¢
• Lean Roast Beef
• Crisp Lettuce
• Red Ripe Tomatoes
• Creamy Mayonnaise
• On a Toasted Sesame Seed Roll
FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY!

SOUTH 106 WELCOMES

ALABAMA
With Special Guest Holly Dunn
Saturday, May 13, 7:30 PM
Columbus Municipal Auditorium
$16.50
All Seats Reserved
Tickets on Sale Monday, April 17, at the Auditorium Box Office, 9:30-5; Flip Side, Traffic Circle; Sound Shop, Columbus Sq.; Put-Us On!, County Market Plaza; Lauderdale's, 310 6th St.; and Sound Shop, Auburn, AL.
For Mail Orders Send Cashier's Check or Money Order Only to Alabama, Box 7181, Columbus, GA 31908. Enclose self-addressed, stamped envelope for return of tickets.
For Reservations, Call 404-571-5891
A KEITH FOWLER PROMOTION

'Pig Jig' highlights Riverfest Weekend

Dear entertainment editor,

"Okay, (oink) we've had it. We're going to take a stand against the trite editorials (oink, oink) that make fun of us and are printed every year at this time.

As the president of SWINE (Swine with Information, News and Events), I have written a news release about the events for this year's Pig (oink) Jig and Salisbury Fair. It shows no (gruuuuuunt) prejudice. We demand you use it.

At this very (oink) moment, we are delivering our list of (oink, oink) demands to all the local newspapers. If those demands are not met, (oink, squeal) my brother and sister Swine and I will boycott this year's Pig Jig."

"Here is our list, (oink, oink, squeal):

Stop (squeal, oink) the Swine jokes. One more and we walk.

Stop the Pig, Hog and Shoat jokes (snuck, oink). They're not funny.

When writing about us, capitalize our names.

Write about us with dignity (oink, oink) and respect.

Run the following information (oink, snuck) about the Pig Jig. Add n'thing cute, or (snuck, squeal, oink) we'll disappoint a lot of people April 28 through 30."

Sincerely,

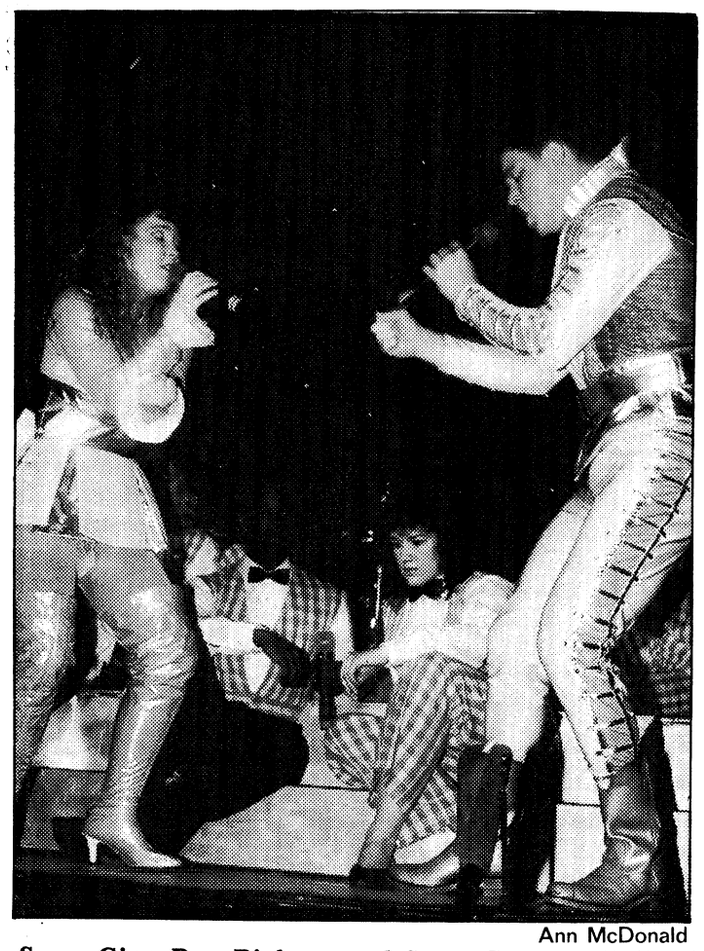
Edward P. Shoat III,
President,
Swine With Information, News and Events

Official Pig Jig Information

It's time again for the third annual Ledger-Enquirer Pig Jig and Historic Columbus Foundation's Salisbury Fair.

The fair and Pig Jig are the two main events of Riverfest Weekend held at the Columbus Iron Works & Trade Center April 28-30. The Pig Jig will be held outside the Trade Center and the fair goes on inside. The rest of the Riverfest activities go on inside and out.

Barbecue teams from around Georgia will compete at the Pig Jig in three divisions; whole hog, ribs and shoulder. There will also be a category for best sauce. The winning team gets a trip to Vienna, Ga, for the state championship in October. A trophy, depicting a pig wearing a chef's hat, (see we have a sense of humor) will also be awarded.



This year for the first time, a cornbread cook-off will be held.

The Pig Jig's main attraction, the Hog Waddle Handicap, will be held for the third year. Robinson's Racing Pigs will be blazing around a 150-foot oval track.

The 1989 Pig Jig will headline a variety of musical entertainment throughout the weekend. Friday "Bad Fun" from Carrollton, Ga., will begin with rock 'n' roll. The evening's entertainment will be turned over to "The Out Of Hand Band" with blues.

Saturday and Sunday's lineup includes nostalgic rock 'n' roll, contemporary jazz, big band, bluegrass and gospel. There will be an evening performance Saturday by James Calvin and the Ultimates, an R&B band.

In conjunction with the fair, the Columbus Artists' Guild will hold its annual spring art show at the center. Local and regional artists will have original work displayed outdoors on the main entrance walkway all day Saturday and Sunday. Watercolors, oils and acrylic painings as well as pottery, basketry and jewelry will be shown and sold at the event. For more information on the art show, call 297-3714 or 322-4829.

Ann McDonald

Spec. Gina Rae Pickens and Spec. Gregory Holland perform a duet during the Army Soldier Show.

Soldier Show presents Excitement '89

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The Army Soldier Show performers presented "Excitement 89" during two performances last weekend at Sand Hill Theatre.

The show featured 41 active duty soldiers in a "Musical Variety Celebration of America."

The soldiers in the show represent 10 of the Army's major commands. On a worldwide tour the troops will tour military installations in the continental United States, Panama, Germany, Belgium and Italy.

This is the Army's premier touring variety show. Its motto is "entertainment for the soldier by the soldier."

The Army Soldier Show is one of the last true repertory companies in the United States.

Each soldier performs many duties in addition to singing, dancing or playing an instrument.

The troupe sets up and tears down the stage at each performance, loads and unloads equipment and is responsible for the costumes and props so on.

The show was a 90-minute action-packed production spotlighting the Army's most talented soldiers, who were selected from hundreds of finalists.

The show included current pop, country, gospel, soul and show tunes - there was something for everyone. Other features of the show was a laser show, a live band, state-of-the-art lighting and sound equipment.

So with all this work, do they get paid any extra? No.

According to Phyllis A. Slaughter, a member of the show, they get paid a per diem and that's it.

"The only bonuses they get are the satisfaction of performing and a chance to make it big," she said.

One soldier in the cast has made it big. Sgt. Victor Hurtado, from Fort Hood, Texas has been offered a part with a Broadway touring company.

Hurtado said he hadn't planned on making singing a career. As a matter of fact, he was going to stay in the Army.

Although Hurtado didn't plan on a singing career, many of the other members of the cast have.

Spec. Sharon Hampton has big plans for herself. They including getting an education in dance and perhaps more singing.

"You're going to see me on Star Search 1990," she said.

Even if she doesn't appear on Star Search, she and all the other performers in the show are already stars in the military community.

Ann McDonald

Sgt. Sharon Beverly of the Army Soldier Show leads the chorus in a mining number at the beginning of the show.

CLASSIFIED Excitement!

322-4500

PUBLIC NOTICES 016

Public Auction of used US Government Vehicles
A vehicle sell will be conducted beginning 9am, April 25, 1989 by General Services Administration, (GSA). It will be conducted at the Main Post Transportation Motor Pool, near Bldg 1697 just off Wold Avenue, Ft. Benning, GA. Property may be inspected April 24, 1989 from 9am to 3pm and April 25, 1989 from 8am-9am. POB parking will be available in the parking lot in front of bldg 1697 and 1698. Bidders must register with GSA at the sell site and receive a registration number. Both serviceable and non-serviceable vehicles will be offered. Vehicle condition is not warranted. So bidders are cautioned to inspect them before bidding. For further information, call Vivian Jones, 545-7040.

Ledger-Enquirer Classified Ads Call 322-4500

★★★★★★★★★★★★★
SGT'S CHICKEN HOUSE
4034 Cusseta Road. Spicy and Southern Fried Chicken. It's Good! Open 11-11. Light Lunch $1.60. All Military Welcome! Call 687-1944.
★★★★★★★★★★★★★

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES 018

Childcare Service. Certified. A.M. Burgess, open 5am til 5:30 pm. Newborns, toddlers and up to 3 yrs. old. Will also accomodate people for all night duty or field time. For more information call 689-5300

Ledger-Enquirer Classified Ads Call 322-4500

PERSONALS 020

COLUMBUS DATING SERVICE
Meet That Special Person!
Call Mon-Fri, 9-5PM, 689-0072.

TROUBLED? Need to talk? Call CONTACT. We care. 24 hours. 327-3999

THE HART SCHOOL
Train to be a Professional
•SECRETARY
•EXECUTIVE SEC.
•WORD PROCESSOR
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
THE HART SCHOOL
a Div. of A.C.T. Corp.
Nat'l hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

RUTLEDGE CI will sponsor a Turkey Shoot, Sat. April 22, 10am-5pm at Rutledge Range, Shatulga & Manor Rds. 12 GA. & 32in Max. barrel

ANTIQUES 036

1958 RC SODA machine, org. paint, good condition. $150. Call 682-3606 aft 6

APPLIANCE SALES 040

GENERAL Electric refr., 19.7 cu. ft., like new, white, asking $350. 327-3961

KENMORE heavy duty washer, $200; GE electric dryer, $225. 689-4533

A.C.T. TRAVEL SCHOOL
Train for careers in
•AIRLINES
•CRUISE LINES
•TRAVEL AGENCIES
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
A.C.T. TRAVEL SCHOOL
Nat'l hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

APPLIANCE SALES 040

Whirlpool 18.5 cu.ft. upright freezer & 19 cu.ft. refrigerator & misc items. 568-1691

Ledger-Enquirer Classified Ads Call 322-4500

16 X 25 Awning, $300/offer; upright freezer, $75. Call 596-8125

COMPUTERS & EQUIP. 052

XT/512K, 2 dr, mono/color, card, $749; disk, 30¢ ea.; Call 561-7856

$$ APPLE COMPUTER SALES $$

Immediate opening for part-time sales rep 7 to 15 hours a week to sell Apple computer products and accessories at your local military exchange. Must have hands-on experience with Apple or similar personal computers. Sales experience a plus. Duties will include order and inventories. CALL for additional details at: (214) 245-3600 ask for Daniel James.

The M. J. Daniel Company
1000 Beltline Road
Carrollton, TX 75006

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

SOFA, tweed, earthtone; swivel rocking chair, burgandy. $100. 689-1811 aft 4

2 KINGSIZE waterbeds, $300 for both. Please call 687-8337 after 6p.m.

6 PIECE sectional sofa w/ tables, $500. Call 687-8640 after 6:30

YARD SALES AL 059

3 FAMILY yard sale, Sat., April 22, 7am-?, baby items, furn, clothes, misc. 1104 11th St. 298-9463

YARD SALES GA 060

A MOVING SALE Everything must go! Twin stroller, high chairs, baby items, toys, prom dress, dining room set, misc. 6850 Buckeye Way. Sat. 8am.

COME SEE Come save, 50% off stereo, 20% off brass, something for everyone. Waters Junk Store, 2342 Diane Ave, Oakland Pk.

FT. BENNING RD. Flea Market is open & going strong. 6 days a week. Come & see Don & Linda. 1628 Ft. Benning Rd.

GIGANTIC yard sale, 3808 Gentian Blvd, 8-3, some antiques.

GREEN ISLAND yard sale, furn., linens, drapes, spreads, household items, clothes, Sat only, 7-2, 6758 Standing Boy Rd.

YARD SALE, Fri. & Sat., household goods, clothes, 3400 St. Mary's Rd. Lot 413

MISC. FOR SALE 076

LANDA pressure washer & steam cleaner, new $4800, ask $2500. 297-9524, 561-6395 after 5

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE
FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL
322-4500

KING SIZE Waterbed, $350/offer. Call 682-2467 after 5pm.

OAK TABLE, 6 chairs, 2 leafs, $250. Call 687-4480

MISC. FOR SALE 076

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS
322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like for your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

BLOOD PLASMA SAVES LIVES
$10 ea. DONATION
New Donors/ Or Inactive For 6 Months/ $5 Bonus with This Ad/ Plus $5 2nd Time Bonus Plus $750 Cash Drawing Monthly

Community Plasma Center
825 4th Ave.
Columbus
322-6566

PUBLIC AUCTION

U.S. GOVERNMENT PERSONAL PROPERTY

2—1978 Dodge Pickup w/Lift Gate
1—1982 Dodge Van
1— 1979 Mobile Snack Truck
1— 1982 Refrigerated Ice Truck
Miscellaneous Shop Equipment
Cafeteria/Kitchen Equipment

DATE: April 25, 1989
TIME: 9:00 AM - Until
LOCATION: U.S. ARMY AND AIR FORCE EXCHANGE SERVICE
Main PX Exchange - Bldg. 210
Fort Gillem Army Depot
Forest Park, GA 30050

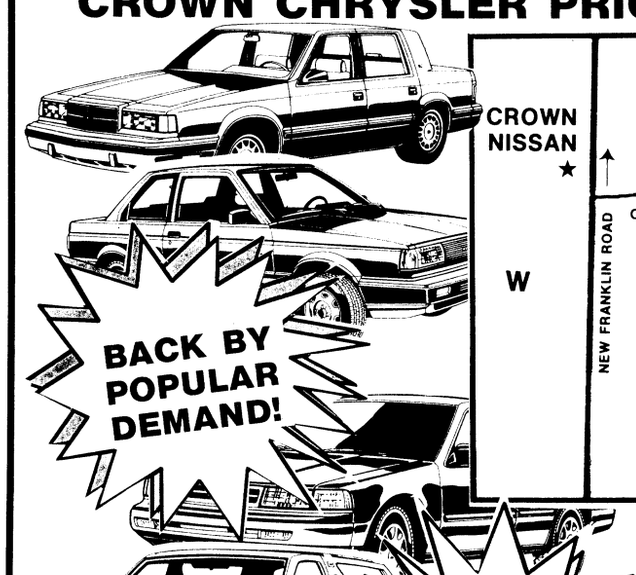
INSPECTION DATES AND TIMES
April 24, 1989 - 9:00 AM-3:00 PM
April 25, 1989 - 9:00 AM-10:00 AM

CONTACT LARRY SMITH
(404) 363-5949

ALL INVENTORIES CLEARLY MARKED WITH TENT SALE PRICES!

CROWN
TENT EVENT
SALE
3 BIG DAYS!

THOUSANDS THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS IN FACTORY INCENTIVES TO BE GIVEN AWAY!



THURSDAY, APRIL 20
11 a.m. until 9 p.m.

FRIDAY, APRIL 21
11 a.m. until 9 p.m.

SATURDAY, APRIL 22
11 a.m. until 9 p.m.

FACTORY-FRESH FROM CHRYSLER PLYMOUTH DODGE!
CROWN CHRYSLER PRICES

DEALER-AUTHORIZED SPECIAL NISSAN SELECTION!
CROWN NISSAN SAVINGS!

BACK BY POPULAR DEMAND!

PRICES HAVE NEVER BEEN LOWER!

$2000 REBATES ON VANS!

IMMEDIATE FINANCING! IMMEDIATE DELIVERY!

ZERO DOWN PAYMENT DELIVERS! With Approved Credit.

BANK OFFICERS ON SITE FOR IMMEDIATE APPROVAL

427 New Frankling Rd.
LaGrange GA 30240
(404) 884-1744

Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8
Sat. 8:30-6:00

CROWN NISSAN
Chrysler Plymouth
Dodge Truck

CHRYSLER PLYMOUTH DODGE

MISC. FOR SALE 076

COUCH $50 and outdoor dog kennel $100. Please call 687-8337 after 6p.m.

Kerosene heater $85, easy chair, $20 adding machine $20. $100 takes all. 687-4170

RADIO SHACK CT-100 cellular phone, hands free, 6 mo old, $350. Call 297-7943

Soft Serve non dairy low calorie, 14th yr., dairy freeze, Forrest & Morris Rd.

LIVESTOCK 110

GOATS for sale, $25 ea. Call 291-0687 evenings.

PETS 122

AKC Doberman puppies, dewormed, shots. Parents on premises. 568-7732 after 6

AKC GERMAN Shepherd puppy, Champion Bloodline, superior trainability. Call 569-9207.

AKC Golden Retriever pups, 8wks, $175 to $250. Call 628-5667 (Hamilton).

AKC Reg. Stud Chow for sale. $150 cash or best offer. Call 682-0705.

AKC ROTTWEILER PUPS Lg. boned, champ blood, shots & wormed. 561-2604

BEAUTIFUL AKC Cocker Spaniel puppies, wormed & shots, $175. Call 327-6999.

PETS-LOST & FOUND 127

HAVE YOU LOST YOUR PET? Please contact the Muscogee County Humane Society at 7133 Sacerdote Lane, off Schatulga Road.

YOU CAN HELP SAVE A PET
Call our 24-hour hotline for lost & found pets. 571-2060.

FREE COLUMN 130

ADORABLE mixed dachsund puppies, black, will be small. Call 297-7363.

Beautiful, affectionalte 11 mth male Spitz/Collie mix, free on approval to good home with fence. Perfect for homemaker. Anytime, 561-7113

FEMALE, Tender Wolf/Shepherd, needs home w/no children. 561-3256

FREE TO GOOD home, 2 adult male dogs, part Lab, Call 324-3188.

Half Siamese female cat, 1 yr. old, blue eyes; 6 wk. old female gray striped kitten. 682-1807

HELP! Male country kitty in apartment. Call 297-7503

IT'S HERE: the '89-'90 Military Pages. Call 682-7185 for your free copy.

Labrador/Irish Setter dogs, one 6 mths, one 9 mths old, good w/kids. Both females. Free to good homes. 568-1297

Part German Shepherd/Chow puppies, males & females. Free to good homes. 298-0413

4 German Shepherd puppies; also 4 great kittens. Free to good homes. Call 571-0803

5 MONTH OLD, Male, dog, to country home, great w/kids. Call 561-0591

6 WK OLD mixed black Lab puppies to good home. Call 561-7349

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like for your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

- 3 bd., 2 ba., central h/a, formal 1/r & d/r with mini blinds & drapes, 2 car garage, fenced b/y with heated work shed. Autumridge Subdivision. $700 mo. 500 dep.
- 3 bd., 2ba., central h/a, carpet, stove, 5033. Montego Dr. $475 mo. 400 dep.
- 1414 41st St. Jordan/Johnson 1BR, 1BA, T/Elec. 235 mo., 150 dep.
- 1127 16th Ave., 2BR, 1BA, new carpet, mini blinds. $325 mo., $250 dep.
- 3 bd. central h//a, st., freshly painted inside. 1206 Bedford $325 mo. 275 dep.

JEFFERSON BROTHERS, INC.
324-4424

Publisher's Notice

All real estate advertised in this newspaper is subject to the Federal Fair, Housing Act which makes it illegal to advertise "any preference, limitation, or discrimination based on race, color, religion, handicap, family status, or national origin or an intention to make any such preference, limitation or discrimination.

This newspaper will not knowingly accept any advertising for real estate which is in violation of the law. Our readers are hereby informed that all dwellings advertised in this newspaper are available on an equal opportunity basis.

To complain of discrimination, call HUD toll free at 1-800-424-8590.

RESTAURANTS & CLUBS 212

COOK WANTED, 10 mi from back gate of Ft. Benning, Bluff Creek. Call 855-4945

HELP WANTED PART-TIME 218

EARN UP TO $500 A MONTH IN YOUR SPARE TIME

AS A COLUMBUS LEDGER-ENQUIRER CARRIER YOU CAN EARN UP TO $500 A MONTH. ALL YOU NEED IS DEPENDABLE, INSURED TRANSPORTATION & A FEW HOURS EACH DAY. (APPROX. 3AM TO 6AM). TO APPLY, YOU MAY PICK UP AN APPLICATION IN OUR PERSONNEL DEPT., 17 WEST 12TH STREET, MONDAY - FRIDAY, 8:30AM TO 5:30PM.

A/A E/O/E

DOMESTIC HELP WANTED 219

WANTED responsible lady to care for toddler, my home, light housekeeping, non-smoker. 682-0946 after 5.

MEDICAL DENTAL 220

RN SUPERVISOR
With nationwide company. Excellent working conditions. Salary based on experience. We will pay ½ fee to obtain Georgia license. Send resume to: Director of Clinical Services, 1930 8th Ave., Cols., GA 31901

SALES 226

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

SALESPEOPLE, male or female, military or civilian. Call 689-8337/8335, Photos Unlimited, Victory Drive next to Blimpie's.

JOB WANTED 230

MATURE Reliable person will babysit & do light housekeeping in your home. Mon.-Fri., Call Merry 989-3680 (local).

RESUME SERVICES 232

A BETTER JOB WINNING RESUME $9
up to executive presentations. Expert writing, typing, printing, updating.
...FREE CONSULTATION...
★ SAME DAY SERVICE ★
America's oldest & largest Professional Resume Svc.
327-2238
2520 Wynnton Rd. Ste. 4

FURNISHED APTS. GA 518

DOWNTOWN Cols, effeciency, util paid, $215 mo + dep. Call 298-7053.

UNFURNISHED APTS. GA 520

LAKEBOTTOM Duplex, 1 br, 1 ba, cent h/a, w/d conn, wall-wall carpet, $225 mo. 563-7960 aft 6pm

POOLSIDE, 1 & 2 BR's, Quiet very nice, resonable w/on site security. Dinglewood Apts. 1500 12th St. 322-0239

UNFURNISHED HOUSES GA 526

OAKLAND PK
Use your VA. 3BR home, 3045 Grenada Dr. See anytime. Mr. Harris, 687-9711. Mrs. Hart, 682-1718, Agents.

2BR, 1BA, cent. heat & air, near Country Club, as of 5/01. $385 mo. 323-1658

RESORT RENTALS 534

Near Callaway Gardens, beautifully restored 6 room '1854' Log Cabin, 2br, c/h/a, very secluded. Night or week. (912) 986-3438, (404) 628-4900

HOMES FOR SALE AL 614

ENJOY the privacy of country living in this nice older home with large front porch plus modern conveniences. Double wide carport, heat, county water, and on 2 acres. Close to Ft. Benning. Priced in low $40's. Call Evelyn Lamb 297-3547 or 297-4000. MLS#16B-2588. Crane-Walters Realtors

OLDER 7 room home, 13½ acres, Lee Co., 8 mi So. of Opelika, Hwy 51, $39,000 firm. 205-745-3060

QUIET COUNTRY home on 28 acres of beautiful rolling meadows and pines. In Ft. Mitchell just 17 min. from Columbus. Well-insulated 3 br home w/ central air. Also barn, mobile home, greenhouse, fruit trees and garden on property. Call 855-2498. Elbow room!

2BR, 1BA, dbl garage, exc cond, 12th St, asking $25,000. Aft 5pm, 291-1822

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

BY OWNER-BEAVER RUN 4 BR, 3 BA, DR, GR, den, large screen/glassed porch, deck overlooking pool, arbor, lake, dock, 3,000 sq.ft. approx. Call 561-5703. No agents.

BY OWNER: Beautiful home in North Columbus on large landscaped lot. 3BR, 2BA, 2 fireplaces, hidden wet bar, cathedral ceilings in greatroom with exposed beams. House located in Cul-De-Sac, $84,900. Closing cost negot. 323-6207.

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

AT CENTURY 21 576-5544
NEW HOMES
LOW INTEREST RATES
$51,900 to $69,900, all homes 3BR, 2BA brick, greatrooms, fireplaces, separate dining rooms. Eat-in kitchens, separate laundry rm, landscaped, many, many extras.
ALLAN, 576-5544/576-4040
C-21, American Heritage

BY OWNER-Conv. to Benning, 3BR 2BA, LR, DR, den w/fireplace, built-in bookcases, mini blinds, built-in microwave, carport, privacy fence. $70's. Call 563-2576

BY OWNER, N. in country, low equity, 1.6 acres, 3 br, 2 ba, hardwood floors, workshop w/ power, 24 ft. above ground pool, many extras, $79,500. 327-4941.

HOLLY HILLS Corner lot, 3BR 1½BA, LR, DR, kitchen, den w/fireplace, inground pool, 3 car parking, 2 storage houses. 689-8246

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

LARGE FAMILY?
Great price on this large 4BR, 2BA home located only a few minutes from Ft. Benning. Ceiling fans in every bedroom and living room. Basement with 2 extra rooms. Only $59,900.
Call Patty Rexrode 663-2023
Ed Bunn Realty 628-4258.

RESORT & VACATION PROPERTY 632

PANAMA CITY BEACH
Caladium Village Motel, located on the Strip, Pool & clean rooms. Prices starting at $35, 10% discount w/this ad. 904-235-3437.

MOBILE HOMES FOR SALE 710

P.C., 2br, screened porches, fenced lot, quiet neighborhood, fruit trees. Mid $20's. 298-1298, 297-1276

$500 down, Assume $240/mo. No bank Qual, '86 2 & 3BR 1BA. By Owner. 855-3486

12x60, $2,000; 10x60, $1500; 12x50 (storage/shop) 900; 10x55 junker, $200. 689-0453

MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT 714

MUST SEE, 2BR 2BA, a/c, greatroom, club pool. Call Barb 561-1204

1,2 & 3br elec/gas on, near schools & post. 1314 Ft. Benning Rd. 9-5, 689-0453

2BR Furnished, a/c. $230 mo. + dep. No pets. 561-8684,

2 BR, partially furnished, $200 mo. Call 297-2083

BOATS 810

BASS BOAT, Motor & Trailer, like new, $4200. Call 291-9747 after 4pm.

BAYLINER, '88, 15 ft. 50 hp. Runabout. Many extras, $5400. 298-8021.

15' Walkthrough w/ top & cover, 50 HP Merc, only $2200/offer. 568-0391

16FT FIBERGLASS, V hull, 60 Evinrude, tilt trailor, runs good, $1600. 323-1325

BOATS 810

'88 HERITAGE Pontoon boat, nicest on Lake Eufaula, 100 h.p. Merc, hardtop, am/fm cass., many extras, like new. $12,500. (205)-687-3943.

CAMPERS & TRAILERS 820

TERRY TAURUS, '84, 17ft, a/c, awning, antenna, full bath, many extras, exc. cond., $5000. (205) 576-8431

Town & Country Camper Sales, Wholesale Outlet, 205-291-0550. Hail damaged tops, cost & below; New location sale May 6

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

HONDA '84 Gold Wing GL 1200, fully dressed, stereo, extras. $4400. 687-2874

NEW HARLEY DAVIDSON MOTORCYCLES $4195 Archie's Harley Davidson 324-4294

NINJA 600R, 1988, like new w/helmet, lock and custom cover. Must sell, $3750. Call 912-937-2269 after 6.

RACE BIKE '85 Yamaha FZ750, track & street ready, lots of extras! $3200 or trade. 689-0907

TWO TRIUMPH Motorcycles, Best offer. Call 327-8261

'83 HONDA V-65 Magna, less than 6,000 mi, exc cond, $2200. Call 628-4707

'88 600R NINJA, $2500. Call 689-6540

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

APRIL SPRING SALE!

HONDA 250 REBEL STREET CRUISER
Electric start, 5sp, 80 mph. No dn pymt, $95.37 mth. incl. tax, tag, title & insurance. In-house financing avail.
Honda-Come Ride With Us
TOMMY WAGES HONDA
Corner 18th St. & 4th Ave
322-7328

TRUCKS 914

Dodge '86 Ram Charger, towing pkg., air, tilt, ps, new Michelin tires, low miles, new cond. 561-9606.

FORD '76 ½ ton, good condition, 2nd owner, $1,995. Call 323-8910.

F150 P/U, '84, 6 cyl, am/fm, spotless, new brakes, must see. $5200. 561-6231 aft 5

NISSAN P/U '87, black, loaded, 16,000 mi. Will trade. 298-5114, 596-0987 aft 7.

'87 F-350 4x4, 6.9 diesel, low mi, 1 owner, 4 sp, extra set tires, camper shell, $13,500. 322-7644, 324-2314

BUSES/VANS FOR SALE 922

FORD VAN 1974, V/8, automatic, 302 engine. Call 596-8134

AUTO SERVICE PARTS, ACC 926

CHEVY 400 SMALL BLOCK, '71, asking $400. 298-6658, 563-1743

AUTO INSURANCE FINANCING 928

Military & civilians residing in Alabama. Call or see us for your insurance needs. Serving area since 1960.
PITTS-DAVIS INS.
298-2500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

AMC CONCORD '82 S/W 5 speed, low mileage, $1400. Call 687-5338

BONNEVILLE Brougham, '84, 1 owner, 42K mi, all extras, 305 V-8, $7995/best offer. 298-8315 aft 6

BUCK TOWNSEND
'85 Camaro, loaded, easy financing; '85 Dodge Charger, like new, $2995; '80 Olds Cutlass, new engine, easy financing; '82 Datsun, 2 dr GX, loaded, special.
Ask for Don.
Buck Townsend Used Cars
2005 Crawford Road
297-3491

CADILLAC ELDORADO '76, 36,000 actual miles, like new. 324-4266

CAMARO '87, 5 sp, t-tops, exc. cond. Best offer. Call 561-4728 after 6 p.m.

CAPRICE CLASSIC, '77, good condition, $1200. Call 298-9778

CELICA GT '85, loaded, very low mileage, $6200. Call 322-6503 after 6p.m.

'84 Chrysler 5th Ave., loaded, looks & runs great, asking $5750/offer. 327-3961

CUTLASS Calais, '84, V8, fully loaded. $5250. Call 568-7782 aft 6pm.

Cutlass Supreme, '86, 1 owner, like new, V8, auto, air, $7600. 576-4643, 563-4481

ELDORADO '80, body exc., $1500. '64 CHEVY 2dr hardtop, $900. 912-828-7885

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

'82 Chevy Classic Wagon, 305 motor w/overdr, good tires, new brakes, battery, alternator. $2500. 682-4482

FORD Escort '83, air, 1 owner, nice car, $2,250. Call 323-8910.

FORD Escort '85½, new engine, air, stereo, ps, pb, 1 owner, 5sp, $3800. 323-7398.

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

HONDA ACCORD LX, '83, 2DR, needs work, Best offer. Call 291-0248 lv. msg.

Honda Accord LXI '88, 26,000 mi. Assume pymts./payoff + $800 neg. 327-8853

I-Mark '88, red, 4 dr, stand., a/c, am/fm, low mi. $9,000. Under warranty. 576-4721

LINCOLN Town Car '80, excellent condition, $4200 or best offer. Call 687-3142.

MAZDA RX7, '85, GFL, sunroof, wheels, loaded, super clean. Call 563-0559

1982 Mazda GLC, 4 dr, very good cond., am/fm, a/c, $2700 negotiable. 561-3255

MERCURY Marq. LS '85, 4 dr., loaded, will trade. 298-5114, aft. 7p.m. 596-0987

NICE little Buick for the money, '80, $1000. Call 563-2735

No Fault or Full Coverage
Call us for free quote before you pay too much. Mike Streetman Insurance, 322-7272. Open 9am-7pm

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

MAZDA'S '88 MX6 Turbo & '86 RX7. Both loaded, 1 has to go. Days-649-2266, eves. & wknds (404) 582-3813.

OLDS Cutlass Supreme '77, rebuilt transmission, good cond., $600. 682-3324

OLDS CUTLASS, '65, F-85 series, needs motor, good cond., $500; also '54 Ford Victoria, good for restoring or spare parts, asking $350. 298-6658, 563-1743

OLDS DELTA 88 '85, loaded, perfect condition, $6600. After 6pm call 323-2919.

OLDS 442, '69, restorable cond, $950. Call 576-4643, 563-4481

PLYMOUTH Fury '78, auto, ps, pb, runs good, body fair cond. $600. 563-6922.

PONTIAC GL '76, 1 owner, $700. See at 1905 Lynn Drive. 297-5432

PONTIAC T-1000 '85, at, air, am/fm, good cond., $3500. Must sell. Call 576-4523.

VW FASTBACK '72. Excellent condition, AM/FM cassette. Call 687-4991.

VW '72, 2nd owner, good condition, air, $1,275. Call 323-8910.

'71 GALAXY 500, $450. Call 298-2894 or 298-2899.

'78 PONTIAC Ventura, runs good, $800 or best offer. Call 568-4755

'79 GRAND PRIX, looks good, runs good, $1650. Call 563-7902.

'79 MAZDA RX-7, 4sp, new paint, good tires, $2295/O-BO. 327-5347 or 324-4047.

'80 PONTIAC Phenix, runs, $500 or best offer. Call 322-3859 evenings.

'81 TOYOTA Corolla, 4 dr, auto, air, good cond, $2195/offer. 596-8912

'85 CHEVETTE air, 54,000 mi, exc cond. $2500. Call 689-2415 or 687-6556

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

Taurus LX '86, all options, leather, pwr seats, ps, pb, at/o, exc. cond. ESP - warranty good to 60,000, undercoated, rust proof, deluxe stereo system, 6 spkrs, one-of-a-kind in Cols. $8,000. Chaplain Don & Nancy Troyer, 569-1987 pm, 323-0467 msg only

'88 IROC Z-28, flame red, t-tops, make offer. Must sell. Call (404) 628-5212, between 5-10 p.m., 324-4792, ext. 378 days.

'88 ISUZU I Mark, blue, grey int, 4 dr, a/c, am/fm, must sell. 855-4290

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

CLASSIC MGB 1977, needs a little work, great bargain at $1200. 571-0671.

1981 CORVETTE
39,000 mi, dark blue
(205) 687-0624

PEUGEOT 505 STI, '84, 5 Speed, gas, low milage, loaded, $5000. Call 568-4883

'77 TRANS AM, t-tops, air, pw, ps, exc. cond. $4200. Must see to appreciate. Call 323-5079.

'84 300ZX Turbo
Auto., exc. cond., t-tops, $8300. Call 323-5831

CLASSIC & ANTIQUE AUTOS 934

CAMARO '67, 4 sp., runs good, needs refurb. $3250. 561-8572 leave message.

IMPORTED AUTOS 936

BMW 2002, '74, bronze, am/fm cass, air, exc cond. $4800. 323-9443 after 6pm

$500.00* Just DOWN • CHARLES LEVY MOTOR CO. • TOTAL

PUTS YOU RIDING NOW THRU APRIL 30 INCLUDING TAX-TAG-TITLE & DOC FEES

and ONLY $199.00* for 59 Months

Choose your favorite topping.

SUZUKI SAMURAI

Only 13 coming for April

ONLY 8 LEFT!

Pop-off hardtop. Soft top. Bikini top. Canvas top with sunroof. And last, but not least, the popular Tonneau cover. Those are the six choices you get when you buy a Suzuki Samurai 4x4. What's more, it's America's least expensive soft top. The best deal under the sun. So come see us today. Or sooner. We've got plenty of 4x4's. Not to mention, the choices are tops.

def. price $13,741

And all the wheels work.

NEW SHIPMENT JUST ARRIVED!

Get a Suzuki Sidekick and you'll get more for the price than you'd expect.

Besides 4-wheel drive versatility, you'll get a handy 5-speed stick. A roomy and comfy interior. A 1.3 liter engine. If you want more power, no problem. There's a 1.6 liter too.

And sporty options to boot. From pop-off hardtop to power windows to automatic transmission to cruise control.

Come see us today. We have a wheel of a deal for you.

The Suzuki Sidekick 4-wheel drive.

Hurry in for best selection!

def. price $13,741

● Corner of 11th St. & 4th Ave. ● CALL 576-3722 For Free credit check

CHARLES LEVY USED CAR CLEARANCE

Corner 4th Ave. and 11th Street
CALL 576-3700 or 576-3722

84 Ford Mustang Loaded a/t only $3,695.....36 at $127.41
def. price $5087

84 Ford Tempo GLX Loaded a/t only $4,295.....36 at $150.24
def. price $5909

87 Mazda P/U A/C, stereo only $6,150.....54 at $155.75
def. price $8411

87 Ford Ranger P/U XLT loaded only $6,495.....54 at $165.01
def. price $9411

88 Chevy Cavalier 4 dr., fully equipped only $7,495.....60 at $176.30
def. price $11,078

87 Pontiac Grand Am LE Loaded only $8,395.....54 at $216.00
def. price $12,164

89 Chevy Cavalier R5 cpe, 5,000 miles only $9,495.....60 at $223.12
def. price $13,887

85 Jeep Cherokee Pioneer 4 Dr., 4x4, Loaded
def. price $11,453 SELLING PRICE $7,950 - PMTS. 48 @ $228.19

86 Ford Ranger 4x4 Short bed - 5 sp., air
def. price $8636 SELLING PRICE $5,995 - PMTS. 48 @ $169.51

86 VW Golf 4 dr., auto, air, p/s, stereo
def. price $10,694 SELLING PRICE $4995 - PMTS. 60 @ $169.90

89 Pontiac Lemans LE 2 dr., 5 sp., air, 3,000 miles
def. price $10,694 SELLING PRICE $7,295 - PMTS. 60 @ $169.90

87 Dodge Omni 4 dr., auto., air, p/s stereo
def. price $7160 SELLING PRICE $4,950 - PMTS. 48 @ $138.75

86 Isuzu IMark 4 dr., 5 sp., air, stereo
def. price $6734 SELLING PRICE $4,695 - PMTS. 48 @ $129.88

87 Chevrolet Spectrum 4 dr., 5 sp., air, stereo
def. price $7160 SELLING PRICE $4,695 - PMTS. 48 @ $138.75

87 Yugo 4 speed, stereo (2) to choose from
def. price $3678 SELLING PRICE $2,750 - PMTS. 36 @ $88.29

85 Ford Ranger P/U Auto., air, p/s, V6
def. price $6351 SELLING PRICE $4,450 - PMTS. 42 @ $139.32

85 Plymouth Caravelle 4 dr., auto, air, loaded
def. price $6972 SELLING PRICE $4,850 - PMTS. 42 @ $154.10

MIDTOWN DR./BEHIND K-MART
CALL FOR FREE CREDIT CHECK 563-6469

85 Cavalier 2 Door J-Sp. A/C only $4,750.....36 at $167.55
def. price $6532

86 Dodge Aries 4 Door clean only $5,375.....42 at $167.89
def. price $7551

87 Plymouth Duster 4 speed A/C only $4,995.....48 at $138.37
def. price $7142

84 Toyota Tercell Wagon auto nice only $4,495.....36 at $160.06
def. price $6262

88 Chevy. Spectrum 2 Door only $5,995.....54 at $153.12
def. price $8768

88 Mazda 323 2-Door 5-Sp, air only $6,995.....54 at $180.24
def. price $10,233

87 Pont. Fiero Cpe. Loaded only $5995.....54 at $153.12
def. price $8768

89 Hyundai GL 4-Door, auto like new only $7,995.....60 at $190.74
def. price $11,944

Local Trade Ins

80 V.W. Vanagon Must see & drive .....only $3,475

82 Plymouth Champ 4-Sp, air .....only $1,995

81 Ford Covere P/U 1 owner .....only $2,460

83 Mazda P/U 1 owner .....only $2,460

79 Datsun B-210 Wagon Auto, clean .....only $1,925

Trucks

88 Dodge Ram Extra Kab, Like new only $8,495.....54 at $220.91
def. price $12,429

87 Toyota 5-Speed, air, must see only $7,350.....48 at $210.37
def. price $10,598

86 Toyota Extra Kab extra clean only $6,750.....42 at $213.80
def. price $9480

88 Nissan P/U Auto, air, 12,000 miles only $8,995.....54 at $234.46
def. price $13,161

87 Chev. S10 Extra Kab, V-6 only $8,450.....48 at $241.22
def. price $12,079

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY "DELIVERS"

E-2s & Up!!

No Previous CREDIT! "No Problem"

SAME DAY DELIVERY!

SLOW CREDIT? "No Problem"

Toll Free 1-800-544-8480

Only Requirements
1. L.E.S.
2. $99.00 Down
3. Ability To Buy Full Coverage Auto Insurance

Bring this Ad—

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
Hwy. 431 North
EUFAULA, ALABAMA

YUGO

CORNER OF 4th & 11th STREET CALL 576-3700

YUGO 4/40 CARE-FREE/COST-FREE COVERAGE

Every new Yugo now comes with the BEST NEW CAR PROTECTION of any subcompact sold in America. See Dealer for details.

STILL THE LOWEST PRICED CAR SOLD IN AMERICA TODAY!

New Yugo GVX A/C, cassette, red. was $7870.50 is $6,129.40 48 @ $165.18 #55764 def. price $8429

New GVL Dark blue, a/c, cassette. was $7,470.50 is $6,021.50 48 @ $162.11 #40467 def. price $8281

New GVX White, 5 spd. was $7,801.20 is $5,805.50 48 @ $155.92 #40466 def. price $7984

New GVX Silver, a/c, cassette. was $8,870.54 is $7,030.50 48 @ $190.94 #40465 def. price $9665

New GVX Red, 5 spd. was $7,436.50 is $5,835.50 48 @ $156.88 #40463 def. price $8030

New GVL White, 5 sp. was $6,489.50 is $5,126.50 48 @ $136.54 #40426 def. price $7054

*All Payments include everything (tax-tag-title & Doc Fee's) APR 12.75%-18.75% with approved credit. Suzuki Payments are with $1500 a Balloon Payment for the 60th Payment.

CHARLES LEVY MOTOR CO.

ALL LOTS OPEN
Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8:00 Sat. 9:00-6:00
and Sun. 12:00-5:30

Spring Clearance SALE

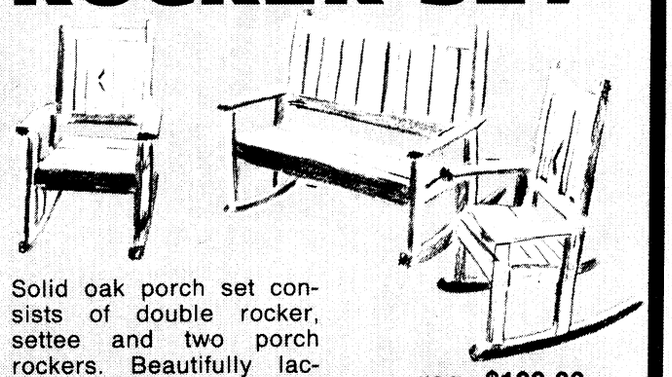
IMMEDIATE DELIVERY

NO PAYMENTS TIL JULY!
FOR QUALIFIED CREDIT

TIL JULY!
80,000 SQ. FT. OF FURNITURE BARGAINS

MASSIVE INCLINING SLEEPING COMFORT

Four Piece Sectional with 2 Incliners & Sleeper - One Low Price.



The heart of comfort in your home can be this decorator delight. It's massive yet beautiful, covered in high quality easy-to-care-for culon velvet. What's more, inside all this soft billowy comfort are two incliners for "put your feet up" relaxation. Plus a queen size sleeper with TV headrest making this a fantastic value. Truly, this living room furniture covers all the bases when it comes to home seating convenience. Come shop today!

Reg. $1899

SALE PRICE $1299

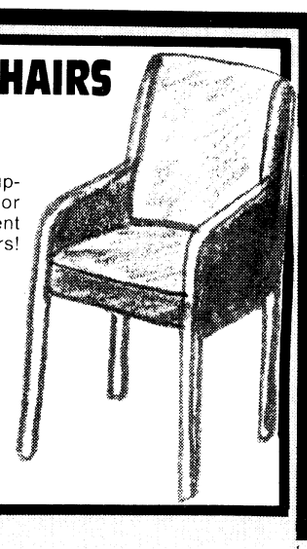
AS LOW AS $50 PER MONTH

SOLID OAK ROCKER SET



Solid oak porch set consists of double rocker, settee and two porch rockers. Beautifully lacquered durable oak. You would expect to pay up to $199.00 . . . but for a limited time only . . .

reg. $199.00

$49

OCCASIONAL CHAIRS

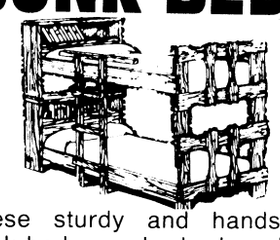
ONLY 60 TO SELL!
If perfect, these beautiful upholstered chairs would sell for $199 or more! Use as accent pieces, dining, game chairs! Hurry, first come, first sold!

ONLY $29.00

PLAY LOTORIA℠
FREE GIANT JACKPOT
GET YOUR FREE TICKETS
NO PURCHASE NECESSARY

Look for Hundreds of items tagged SPRING CLEARANCE

FREE to the first 50 CUSTOMERS this weekend A Beautiful POTTED PLANT!!



AMERICAN BEDDING

COUNTRY MORNING POSTURE SERIES
SOLD IN SETS ONLY

Twin	NOW	$139.95
Full	NOW	$196.95
Queen.	NOW	$222.95
King	NOW	$319.95

BUNK BEDS

These sturdy and handsome bunk beds can be broken down into twin beds if desired. Includes all rails, bunkies and ladders.

NOW $222

Similar to Illustration

TV CART SPRING SALE

ONLY $29.00

This is an attractive and sturdy unit on which to store VCR, TV, tapes, accessories and more. The center shelf conveniently pulls out for access to your VCR. The bottom shelf just the right size to hold your favorite tapes, or books and magazines. Finished on all sides in Plymouth Oak, wich casters for mobility. Comes ready to assemble.

WIN 10,000 IN FINE FURNITURE

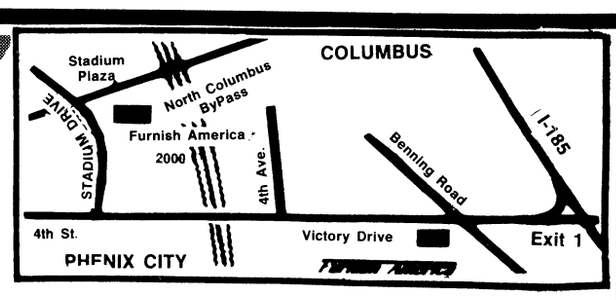
COME AND GET YOUR TICKET!

Fill Out And Bring This Coupon In To Register

FURNISH AMERICA

OFFICIAL TICKET

Furnish America $10,000 FURNITURE GIVEAWAY



NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

PHONE _____

Furnish America

Yes, we still have credit terms. Even at these astounding prices we can offer convenient terms based upon needs including 100 days same as cash. Minimum purchase $400. Your charge cards welcome.

NOW TWO CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
BENNING ROAD AT VICTORY DRIVE 682-2350—STADIUM PLAZA 298-1121

The deadline for signing up to participate in the Montgomery GI Bill is June 30.

See A-3

Buchenwald concentration camp survivor, Alex Gross, will speak at a memorial service remembering holocaust victims.

See A-9

INDEX

Opinion A-2
Community A-8
Spiritual A-9
Unit B-2
Sports B-3
Movies B-4

THE BAYONET

Home of the Infantry

Vol. 47, No. 30 | Published in the interest of the Fort Benning, Ga. community. | April 28, 1989

William M. Steele

Steele takes reins from Hartzog

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

Brig. Gen. William M. Steele took the reins from Brig. Gen. William W. Hartzog Tuesday afternoon in front of Building 4 to assume the position of Fort Benning's assistant commandant of the U.S. Army Infantry School and deputy commanding general.

Steele, 43, comes to Fort Benning from Fort Monroe, Va., where he served as the executive officer to the commanding general of the U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command.

Quarry Heights, Panama is Hartzog's destination as he is to take over as the director of operations, U.S. Southern Command.

The departure and arrival ceremony included representatives from every unit on post and dignitaries such as Columbus mayor, James Jernigan, and Phenix City mayor, Jane Gullatt, as well as post commander, Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire.

"After 25 years (in the Army), I really truly understand the preciousness of the infantry, and I understand the importance of Fort Benning and the lives of every person who comes through here," Hartzog said at the ceremony.

"You are privileged indeed to have the Steeles here because they are very simply, the best the Army has to offer," Hartzog continued. "But I can tell you personally, you are privileged to be a part of the best post the Army has to offer," Hartzog said to the Steeles.

Steele was last at Fort Benning in 1973 as an instructor at the U.S. Army Infantry School. "I'll assure you that at every reassignment opportunity in the 16 years, we asked to return to Fort Benning," Steele said.

He said he and his family wanted to come back to Benning because they love the Army community here. "But I also wanted to come back to rejoin my branch team," Steele said.

Hartzog, who has held the assistant commandant position since December of 1987, was presented a Legion of Merit by Spigelmire for all he has done for Benning.

Hartzog's wife, Roberta, received the Outstanding Civilian Award for all her contributions to Fort Benning.

Accompanying Steele to Fort Benning is his wife, Pamela, and their two daughters, Lara and Cari.

FY '90 budget retains funds for key programs

Army News Service

Key Army personnel and quality of life programs were among those preserved in the amended fiscal year 1990 Army budget submitted to Congress by the Secretary of Defense April 25.

Among the programs successfully retained at current funding levels by the Army leadership during interservice negotiations were military pay, direct medical care, recruiting and retention, training, and modernization of key combat systems.

"With the amended budget, the Army will remain a well-trained strategic force fully capable of carrying out its worldwide missions if deterrence fails," said Maj. Gen. Merle Freitag, director of the Army budget.

In developing the fiscal year '90 budget initially submitted to Congress in February, the Army set four priorities: retention of essential readiness, retention of essential sustainability, a slower-paced modernization program, and minimum force structure cuts.

"We believe we met these objectives in February and again in April," Freitag declared.

Military pay raises of 3.6 percent for fiscal year '90 and 3.2 percent for fiscal year '91 were part of the amended budget.

Considerable effort was made by the Army to retain training funds.

"OPTEMPO" — the intensity at which major Army combat systems are operated throughout the year and a key training indicator — will be funded at a sufficient level to ensure a high state of readiness.

So, too, will be key equipment modernization programs.

Programs funded at the same levels in both the February and April budgets are recruiting and retention, Abrams tank, Bradley Fighting Vehicle, Patriot missile, improved howitzer program and rockets for the "Multiple Launch Rocket System."

Programs receiving more funds in the April budget than in the February budget are the Anti-Armor Weapons System-Medium, (the replacement for the Dragon), MLRS launchers, ground-based laser technology, "Firefinder II" artillery radar and "Anti-Satellite" kinetic energy research.

Other highlights of the amended fiscal year '90 budget:

- The amended budget will be $1.7 billion, or 2.1 percent, less than the budget of $80.5 billion initially submitted in February.
- A reduction of 7,929 positions from the active force will require the elimination of one active duty brigade from the 4th Infantry Division at Fort Carson, Colo., by Dec. 31, 1989. Currently, the 4th Division is the only "heavy" division in the U.S. with three active brigades. After Dec. 31, 1989, the division will be rounded-out with a reserve component brigade like other U.S. heavy divisions.
- Most of the remaining cuts will come from the inactivation of Pershing missile units being eliminated as a result of the INF treaty with the Soviet Union.
- To continue funding for its LHX helicopter program, the Army will eliminate two active and five reserve component AH-64 Apache battalions from its current or planned force structure.
- Army civilian personnel strength for fiscal year '90 will be 404,225 a reduction of 645 from the original fiscal year '90 budget submitted in February.
- For fiscal year '91, Army civilian strength will be 403,985.

Ann M. McDonald

Medical expert? Maybe

PFC Ismael Penedo, HHC, 2nd Bn., 18th Inf., 197 Inf. Bde., administers first aid to Pvt. Richard Curry, Co. E, 1st Bn., 50th Inf., ITC. Curry's wound is a moulage created by SSgt. John McNatt, 34th Med. Bn., for the test for the Expert Field Medical Badge. See related story and photos on A-5.

Fort Benning wins $1 million again this year

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

Fort Benning has done it again.

For the second consecutive year, Fort Benning has won $1 million in the Training and Doctrine Command SPIRIT competition.

Benning's chief of staff, Col. James I. Daily, was notified by TRADOC Wednesday about the win for fiscal year 1988, according to installation SPIRIT coordinator, Sarah McLaney.

The win makes Benning the only post in TRADOC to ever win the million two years in a row, McLaney said.

"We submitted $198.8 million in savings to TRADOC, and they validated $189.7," McLaney said.

Of the 880 suggestions submitted, $107.2 million came as hard-dollar, budget savings while the rest fell into the cost-avoidance category, according to McLaney.

> "The win makes Benning the only post in TRADOC to ever win the million two years in a row."
>
> — Sarah McLaney

This year's total savings figure quadrupled the fiscal year '87 total of $40.8 million. McLaney credited the savings leap not only to better participation, but also to the SPIRIT points of contact and command emphasis.

McLaney also said that a change in the competition's categories had much to do with the high participation.

The competition was divided into three categories, large unit, directorate and small staff, allowing competitors in each category to compete against organizations of comparable size.

Benning has now won the SPIRIT competition three times since it started in 1983.

Last year's million dollars went "into the pot," McLaney said, for the benefit of the whole post. She said plans are currently being made for the submitting of suggestions for the use of this year's million.

A date has not yet been set for the million-dollar award ceremony, according to McLaney.

29th welcomes new commander

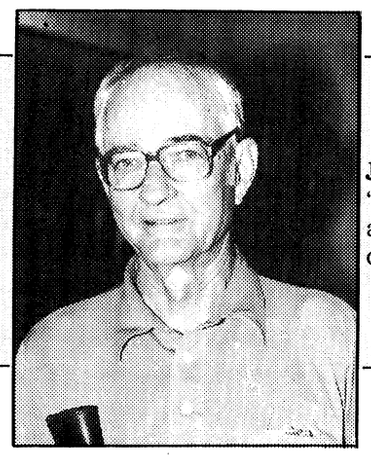
USAIC Public Affairs Office

Col. Richard L. St. John will assume command of the 29th Infantry Regiment from Col. John D. Fuller, Monday at 2 p.m. on Dickman Field.

Col. Fuller has been at Fort Benning since April 1987. He will be departing for Fort Ord, Calif., where he will become the Chief of Staff, 7th Infantry Division (Light).

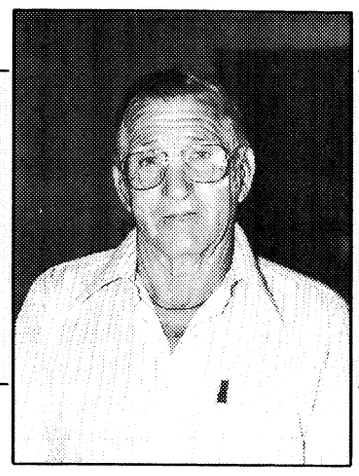
St. John has been the director, Intelligence and Security, at Fort Benning since Sept. 1988. He was commissioned a second lieutenant in the Infantry in 1966 from the United States Military Academy.

His assignments included rifle company commander, 2nd battalion/506th Infantry (Airborne), 101st Airborne Division, Vietnam; S-3, 6th infantry, Berlin Brigade; secretary of the general staff, U.S. Command, Berlin; commander, 2nd Battalion, 9th Infantry Regiment (MANCHU), 7th Infantry Division (Light), Fort Ord, Calif.; and chief of staff, 1st Infantry Division Forward, U.S. Army Europe.



St. John is a graduate of the Airborne School, Ranger School, U.S. Naval Command and General Staff College, U.S. Army Command and General Staff College and the U.S. Army War College. He also has a masters degree in industrial engineering from the University of Arizona.

His awards include the Silver Star, Bronze Star with "V" Device and Oak Leaf Cluster, Purple Heart, Meritorious Service Medal with Oak Leaf Cluster and Combat Infantryman's Badge.



In the event of inclement weather, the ceremony will be held in the Harmony Church Field House.

OPINION

VARIOUS VOICES: As veterans of World War II, what advice would you give soldiers in the Infantry today? See related story on A-6

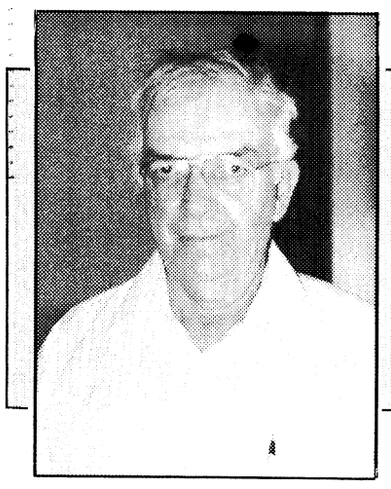
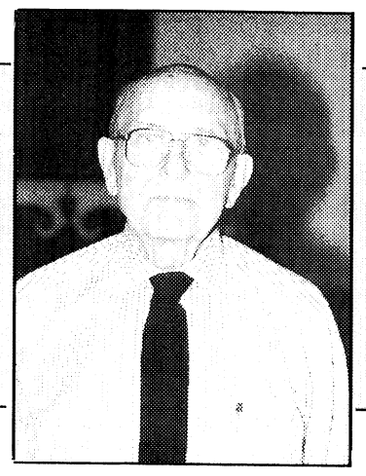
James G. Clower, Troy, Ala. — "Believe in your mission and feel an obligation to defend your country."



Cecil Greathouse, Thomaston, Ga. — "Defend this country and tear away from drugs. There are so many drugs around today it's pitiful."



Retired SFC Hubert L. Brady, Augusta, Ga. — "Get in there and fight for this country and be proud to do it. There is no other country better than this one. Be thankful you've got this country."

Retired Col. John Walter, Montgomery, Ala. — "Love and protect your country and your unit and be loyal to it."

Joe Forrester, Athens, Ga. — "Have an attentive ear, a positive attitude and be dedicated because you can't serve a better country than the U.S."

Bart Engram, Enterprise, Ala. — "Keep the loyalty you have for your leaders and build on that and continue to give your best for the mission."

For safety's sake, there's no choice

By Robyn McCowan
Army News Service

Accidents from operating privately owned vehicles represent the number one cause of fatalities among soldiers.

More than half of the 391 soldiers listed as accident victims for fiscal year 1988 died as a result of POV accidents. Two out of three of them probably would be alive today if they had been wearing safety belts.

While safety belt laws vary from state to state, soldiers have no choice to make when it comes to buckling up — no matter what state they're in. Army regulations clearly state the policy on seat belt use: soldiers are required to use safety belts at all times while driving or riding in any motor vehicle (whether government owned or privately owned) on and off post, on and off duty. It is disturbing that the soldier fatality record reflects a low level of compliance.

Noncommissioned officers can change this. They can enforce the regulation, and they can set the example for their soldiers. Because they know their soldiers so well, NCOs probably have a good idea which soldiers are most likely to be involved in a POV accident. They know which soldiers are rule-breakers; they should know which ones have poor driving records. These factors can indicate that a soldier is heading for an accident.

The new Army Driver Improvement Program, to be fielded Army-wide during the second quarter of fiscal year 1989, is designed to change driver behavior. It can help soldiers develop positive, responsible attitudes toward such safety-related aspects of driving as safety belts, speed limits and drinking-and-driving.

The program offers progressive training in behavior modification, stressing POV safety from soldiers' first day in the Army. A series of 12 short films takes them through basic training and advanced individual training to their first permanent duty station. Unlike commercially-procured driving-safety films the Army has used in the past, these films feature real soldiers dealing with the real consequences of unsafe driving practices.

Remember, soldiers have no choice about buckling up. NCOs must make sure they know it.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: McCowan serves on the staff of the U.S. Army Safety Center at Fort Rucker, Ala.)

People make a difference

By Clyde Snively
USAIC Public Affairs Office

Machines and I don't get along. There's no reasoning with them, and if they take a mind to either do something or doing nothing, there's not much you can do about it.

Take soda machines for instance. What are you going to do if the machine decides to keep your money and not give you a soda? Attack it?

Soldiers have been killed and seriously injured by these huge machines tipping over on them.

Or take computers. They send you bills, they send you merchandise. But if there's an error, you gotta be another machine to talk to them.

At Fort Benning, there's an animal called PROFs. I've never personally worked with PROFs, but I've been in rooms where people have.

Tsk, tsk, the language people use. Apparently if you don't do something just right, the little byte handling your case decides to take a break. It flashes a sign on your screen that says things like "running," or "more" and then forgets about you while you wonder if you'll ever be able to communicate again.

This is a long about way to tell you I enjoy dealing with people. And I especially enjoy the people at Fort Benning.

They're definately in a "service" mode.

What this means to me is the post should win the Army Communities of Excellence program hands down.

This is the Installation of Excellence program with a new twist — emphasis is being placed on "service."

In other words, the Golden Rule applies — "Do unto others as you'd have them do unto you." If you want to be treated good when you go to the widget shop to get your widgets, then treat the people who come to your place to have their proboblasts processed, politely, professionally and proficiently.

Some installations do this better than others, just as some sections on installations do this better than others.

What frosts me is to come into a room full of people sitting at desks on the far side of a counter only to have them do an immediate nose dive into paperwork as you walk in, never to surface as long as you are there.

So what do you do? You start by trying "Ahem, ahem," a couple of times. When that gets no results, you begin drumming on the counter top.

Still no answer. You try, "excuse me, anybody home," despite the fact you can see 20 people in the room.

Finally, after you try yelling "fire!" some person saunters in from a break and asks if he can help you. See, all those people on the other side of the counter knew it wasn't in their job description to speak to you and tell you the person in charge of greeting you was on break and to just relax until that person shows up. So they didn't. They let you get all steamed up and no matter how friendly they act now, you are in no mood to be friendly back.

Something else that gets my goat is to go into a room and all you see are customers. There might be a number to be taken, but there's no one who works there to greet you and at least let you know if you're in the right place and it's worth it to take a number.

But since you have no other recourse, you sit down among all the other customers and hope there's a living soul on the other side of the wall.

After about five minutes of waiting, no one moving, no sounds coming from the other room, you think, "what a magnificent trick, someone's opened this office to see how many people could be caught. Nothing at all really happens here. Momentarily, someone's going to put a padlock on the door and announce we're being held captive for ransom."

It's amazing what an unoccupied mind can dream up.

It's like being placed in a doctor's treatment room and wondering if you've been forgotten if no one comes by and checks on you every once-in-awhile.

Again, you get visions of everyone going home for the day and leaving you locked in the treatment room wearing that silly gown with the slit up the back. How embarrassing if someone were to decide to come by and rob the place that night.

Because I know how I feel when this happens to me, I try to be cordial and helpful when people come by The Bayonet to see someone there.

I also know when I get sassy or rude, I'll get slapped down rather quickly.

So, you guys and gals out there, put on your best smiles. Be friendly and help us win yet another award for the post. But more importantly, do this to make Fort Benning a better place to live and work for all.

The Bayonet

This newspaper is an authorized publication for members of the Army. Contents of THE BAYONET are not necessarily the official views of, or endorsed by the Department of the Army or any of its agencies. Everything in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, sex or national origin of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunity by an advertiser will result in the refusal of the publisher to print advertising from that souce. THE BAYONET is an unofficial publication authorized by Army Regulation 360-81. Editorial content is prepared, edited and provided by the Public Affairs Office of the U.S. Army Infantry Center. THE BAYONET is published each Friday by the R.W. Page Corporation, a private firm in no way connected with the Department of the Army, under exclusive written contract with Fort Benning. All photos are U.S. Army unless otherwise credited. Liaison between the publisher and the commanding general, USAIC, is maintained by the public affairs officer, through the command information officer, USAIC, Fort Benning.

Editorial

Commanding General ..... Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire
Public Affairs Officer ..... Lt. Col. McDonald Plummer Jr.
Command Information Officer ..... Maj. Thomas Fix
Command Information NCOIC ..... SSgt. Ron Allen
Administration NCOIC ..... SSgt. Luz Llanos
Editor ..... SSgt. Sharon Reynolds
Assistant Editor ..... Agatha Hudson James
Staff writers ..... Spec. Ann McDonald, Spec. Shawn Bryson
Editorial Office: Public Affairs Office, USAIC, Building 4, Room 601, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905, (404) 545-2201/2202; AUTOVON 835-2201.

Advertising

Retail/Display ..... (404) 324-5526
Classified ..... (404) 322-4500
Circulation ..... (404) 323-1234

For subscription information call (404)323-1234.

Circulation 21,000

Represented nationally by Knight Ridder Newspaper sales W.B. Bradbury and Military Media, Inc.

June 30 last day to sign up for new GI Bill

By Donna Miles
American Forces Information

The clock's running out for soldiers who want to reverse their decision not to participate in the Montgomery GI Bill. June 30 is the last day of a seven-month extension granted by Congress to make sure all eligible non-enrolled soldiers get a shot at the Army's latest educational assistance program.

The Montgomery GI Bill provides education benefits for veterans. Active-duty soldiers have $1,200 withheld from their basic pay, generally at the rate of $100 a month for a year. In turn, the government pays up to $9,000 in education benefits for a two-year term of service and as much as $10,800 for a term of service of three years or more. Educational benefits are paid monthly by the Veterans Administration.

"It won't and isn't intended to pay all college expenses, but it might just make the difference for some soldiers who'd like to continue their education but who think they can't afford it," said Lt. Col. Bob Jaynes, program manager for enlistment incentives at the Pentagon.

Soldiers appear to agree that the Montgomery GI Bill is a good deal. Since the program began in 1985, 83 percent of new recruits have chosen to enroll. And for more than a year and a half, more than 90 percent of new recruits have chosen to participate.

The soldiers getting the Army's "second-chance" deal are the 10 to 17 percent who initially declined participation when they reported for basic training. "We want to offer all eligible soldiers the chance to take advantage of this program before they leave the service," Jaynes said.

To sign up before the June 30 deadline, non-participating soldiers should contact their personnel offices.

This year's Best Ranger draws more competitors

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The eighth annual David E. Grange Best Ranger competition has drawn more competitors this year than in past years.

Forty teams started the competition this morning and will finish Sunday afternoon.

Competing for the first time is a team from the Marine Corps and a team from the Canadian army, according to Harry Ikner, Ranger Training Brigade.

Ikner said there are a couple of Army teams here from units that have not competed before.

"We have a team from both the Third Armor Division and the First Armor Division," Ikner said.

He added that out of all those teams starting, 23 will finish.

The public is invited to view the competition.

A schedule of the events and the locations follow:

Today:

Spot Jump/ Canoe Race — 2:30 to 7 p.m., Eelbeck Drop Zone/Hourglass Road Bridge.

Saturday:

Ranger stakes/prusik climb/rappel — 8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m., Todd Field

Sunday:

Darby Queen obstacle course — 9 to 11:30 a.m., Camp Darby

Water confidence test — noon to 2:30 p.m., Victory Pond

Helocast swim — 2:30 to 4:30 p.m., Victory Pond

2.7-mile buddy run — 5 to 5:30 p.m., Victory Pond

Monday:

Awards ceremony — 10:30 to 11 a.m., Victory Pond

1st Sgt. course students complete 'pilot' class

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Thirteen Fort Benning noncommissioned officers just completed Henry Caro NCO Academy's latest course addition, the First Sergeant Orientation Course.

Initiated by the post commander, Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire, the course kicked off April 10 and continued through Thursday, according to 1st Sgt. Jim L. Jackson, 1SGOC Branch Chief.

Jackson explained the course consists of more than 70 hours of classroom training packed into a two-week period, using the small-group-training concept.

All soldiers who were enrolled in the course are sergeants first class, master sergeants or first sergeants, and each volunteered to attend.

The goal of the course is to better educate Fort Benning first sergeants and build a better cohesion between the tenant units here and the various agencies around post.

Jackson said the course is sort of a stepping stone for NCOs who are likely to become first sergeants in the near future and newly arrived first sergeants to Fort Benning.

The NCOs learned, for example, about procedures in the unit such as suicide awareness and prevention, promotions and reductions, personnel utilization and duty rosters.

Also, the course is intended to better educate NCOs about agencies such as the Army Continuing Education System, Army Community Services, Equal Opportunity Program and the Army Drug and Alcohol Control and Prevention Program.

These blocks of instruction are taught by the responsible agencies and will prepare NCOs for the various situations they are likely to face as first sergeants.

The next course will be held from May 30 to June 10 and is limited to 20 students. Although the course is open to all E-7s, priority will go to those first sergeants just arriving at Fort Benning or currently holding or expected to hold first sergeant positions.

For more information, call SFC Hewson at 545-7287.

CRIME STOPPERS

Columbus Crime Stoppers

Columbus Crime Stoppers and Fort Benning CID are looking for the unknown person or persons responsible for the shooting death of a Fort Benning soldier.

SSgt. Enrique Flores was shot at Fort Benning April 14 between 5:15 and 5:28 p.m. seven times in the back with a small caliber weapon as he was parking his 1989 Black Kawasaki 750 motorcycle in the parking lot across from the Airborne Snack Bar located on Marchant Street.

Flores was found by a coworker lying next to his motorcycle still wearing his black helmet.

It is believed there may have been several joggers in the vicinity around the time of the shooting. Columbus Crime Stoppers and the Fort Benning CID are asking that anyone who may have been in the general area contact either agency.

Flores is described as a Puerto Rican male, 28 years old. He was wearing gray coveralls and a black motorcycle helmet at the time of his death.

He was an instructor at the Airborne School and had been stationed at Fort Benning since 1987. He had arrived the morning of his death for physical training.

Anyone who has any information concerning this case should call Columbus Crime Stoppers at 571-5858. If your information leads to the arrest and indictment of this person or persons, you could receive up to a $1,000 reward.

Additionally, Fort Benning CID is offering an additional $10,000 reward to anyone giving information that leads to apprehension and conviction of the responsible person or persons. CID's number is 545-7052.

Bayonet Advertising Really Pays!

Need Auto Insurance?
Call the Military Specialists
- Low down payment
- Money-saving deductibles
- Affordable payment plan
- 24-hour claim service

CALL TODAY
689-2787
2029 S. Lumpkin Road
Oakland Park Shopping Center
GET TO KNOW GEICO

DIVORCE..... $195 (simple uncontested)
BANKRUPTCY.. $295 Personal-No Assets-Chp. #7
ADOPTION..... $195 (all parties consent)
NAME CHANGE. $125 (no contest)
WILL..... $45 (simple)
DUI..... $195 (first-Nolo Plea)
plus court cost
LAW OFFICES OF GARY I. KLEPAK
563-9333
2953 Mimosa St.
(Across from Sears Auto Center—Cols. Sq. Mall)

Econo Self Storage
4483 Victory Drive 404-682-3803
FORT BENNING
FOR THE MILITARY
Storage while TDY
Foot locker storage
Motorcycles
Boats
Personal effects
Bivouac
Permanent party storage
UNIT SIZES AVAILABLE
Lockers 5(W) x 5(D) x 4(H)
5x10 10x10 $20 up 5x5 10x20
Call Now to Reserve Your Space
For Your Business or Family Items—Short or Long Term

AUTO STORAGE WAREHOUSE
• SPRINKLER
• BURGLAR ALARM
• INSULATED
by MONTH or YEAR
ALLIED BONDED WHSE.
4301 ALLIED DR.
COLUMBUS (404) 687-0222

Low Cost Term Life Insurance
Consolidated Insurance Services
Albany, GA
Dealing with A+ or A Rated Companies.
1-800-289-8766
For a complete proposal
Annual Premiums (Male, Non-Smoker)

Age	$100,000	$250,000	$500,000	$1,000,000
35	122	203	300	550
40	130	225	345	640
45	155	233	455	860
50	205	388	545	1040
55	273	543	790	1530
60	383	875	1405	2760
65	643	1525	2545	5040

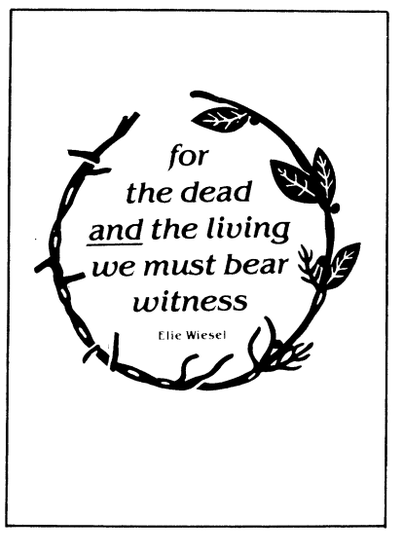
CHATTAHOOCHEE COMMUNITY DAY SCHOOL
KING STREET & MCNAUGHTON
P.O. Box 420
CUSSETA, GA31805
989-3243
7:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m.
Renate Lewis, Director

This is the program that parents of preschool children have been asking for in the Columbus-Fort Benning-Cusseta area!
- small sized classes
- developed learning centers in each classroom
- positive self-image is the center of all program
- hands-on learning
- beautiful and fun equipment for learning
- music, movement, social skills, pre-math and reading readiness, open-ended art, cooking, special events

This unique school was planned, designed and sponsored by Chattahoochee County to meet the needs of preschool children of this community. The school is governed by a board consisting of county officials, parents, and the school staff and is non-profit.
The school is located about 10 minutes from 185 at exit 1 S in Cusseta, Georgia.

Spend a few minutes and come to visit just to see what is possible in this new approach to child care, the answer to the day care delima.
Cost: $45.00 per week

◆ JVC ◆ KICKER ◆ PERCISION POWER
CREATIVE CAR STEREO
● SALES ● INSTALLATION
● SERVICE ● CUSTOM BUILT CABINETS
10% Off Any Purchase with this Ad. (Valid til 4-29-89)
3593 Victory Drive (across from Auto Shack) 689-3508
◆ PYLE ◆ BLAUPUNKT ◆ NIGHT STALKER ◆ SUNKYOUG



MEDICAL Careers
TO ADVERTISE IN THIS SECTION CALL: 1-800-344-2248
Medical/Health Personnel
Saudi Arabia
The Vinnell Corporation is the major contractor to the U.S. Army Materiel Command on a contract to support the Saudi Arabian National Guard Modernization Program (SANGMP). In order to establish a training facility in Riyadh, Saudi Arabia, we are currently seeking the following professionals in the health and medical fields:
- Nurse Practitioner (GP)
- Physician's Assistant (EMT INSTR CERT)
- Medical Logisticians
- LPNs (91C)
- Medical Records Specialist
- EMTs (Military experience desired)
- Medical Supply Specialists
- RN (ER/ATLS CERT, EMT INSTR CERT)
- Medical Records Technologist
- Anatomy/Physiology Instructor (BS required)
- Field Medical Operations Personnel
- Repair Technician MLB

As part of this program, you will instruct enlisted men and officers of the Saudi Arabian National Guard Medical Services in both field and classroom settings. Military experience is desirable, but not necessary. Most positions are UNACCOMPANIED STATUS.

Vinnell offers excellent salaries and liberal compensation packages including a generous tour-completion bonus. For immediate consideration please send a detailed resume with copies of current professional certification to: VINNELL CORPORATION/DSO, 10530 Rosehaven Street, Suite 100, Attn: RCTMAR, Fairfax, VA 22030.
Vinnell is an equal opportunity employer.
VINNELL CORPORATION

HOOK UP TO SAVINGS
CDS . . . Your Direct Connection to Greater Savings!
COMMANDO DISCOUNT SURPLUS
● BERETS ● BDU'S (New & Used) ● JUMP BOOTS
● JUNGLE BOOTS ● OUTDOOR GEAR
● TA-50 ● ARMY SURPLUS EQUIPMENT
682-4124
4411 VICTORY DRIVE UPPER LEVEL

Holocaust victim keeps memories alive

By Rudi Williams
American Forces Information Service

Lithuanian-born Holocaust survivor Nesse Galperin Godin, 61, of Silver Spring, Md., tries to teach people to be better human beings to make the world a better place to live. "I lived through hell — Nazi ghettos, concentration camps, four labor camps and death marches," she said with a cracking voice. "We Jews were tortured, abused and experimented on. We have to make this a better world — no more Holocaust."

A retired seamstress, Godin spends three to four days a week, sometimes twice a day, sharing her eyewitness memories of the terrible atrocities committed by the Nazis. She tells her story to anyone who will listen — at churches, synagogues, civic groups and schools.

Godin's audiences include those at military installations, too. She was, for example, the keynote speaker for the U.S. Naval Academy's 1988 Days of Remembrance observance.

Godin and about a dozen other members of the Jewish Holocaust Survivors and Friends of Greater Washington, D.C., share their experiences with hundreds of people each year, as do members of survivors groups in other cities around the nation.

"I speak about my terrible experiences so young people won't have to go through it again; so they can learn about the horrors of the Holocaust and learn how to be good human beings," said Godin, who was 13 when the Nazis took her and her family — mother, father and two brothers — to a ghetto prison at Siauliai, Lithuania. "When they (youngsters and adults) look at someone, they should see a human being, not a color, not their religion but a human being. This is a lesson from the Holocaust."

She said she was a lucky girl, because she, her mother and two brothers survived the Holocaust.

Godin, president of the Jewish Holocaust Survivors and Friends of Greater Washington, likens the Holocaust to a dreaded disease. She tells audiences, "It was like a disease, like polio; until they found a vaccine for it, the disease was still here. We, the survivors, are the vaccine for that terrible Holocaust disease. Through our memories, we have to study every survivor's story and maybe we can find out what happened that the world was so silent for so long."

She tells her audiences that before they were put in the ghetto, Jews were forced to wear the Star of David on the front and back of their clothes so the Nazis could identify them. "Some students and some adults say to me, 'You didn't have to put it on, you could pass for non-Jewish,' " said Godin, whose husband, Jack, survived a concentration camp in Poland. "I said, 'Yes, but if you were caught, the punishment was death. So you wore the Star of David, two, three days or a week and you hoped the war will be over and I'll live.' "

But the war wasn't over so quickly and Godin was imprisoned for about four years, going from the ghetto to one concentration camp after another. From the age of 13 until she was liberated in 1945 at 17, Godin survived a Nazi ghetto, concentration camp, four labor camps and a death march. "I saw hunger, pain, death — hangings, shootings — and the destruction of many, many people," said Godin. Now, I've dedicated myself, not just to remember the destruction, but to teach people to be better human beings."

Children are special to Godin, because she remembers what it was like in a place with no children. "When I was 15, they took away all of the children up to the age of 14," said Godin, showing a picture of her father that was sent to an aunt in Washington, D.C., before the war. "They also took my father that day — Nov. 5, 1943 — and we never saw them again.

"It was just terrible times," Godin said. "No children. Quiet. No laughter. Many times teachers tell the students they have to be quiet because I'm going to talk about serious things. I say, don't tell them to be quiet. I like a little noise. It means we're alive. We have children. I was in a place where there was no children."

She sorted and counted shoes from dead people in the concentration camp. "Every time I touched a shoe, I wondered, 'Is this my father's shoe...my grandmother's shoe...my cousin's shoe...a baby bootie from my family?'" said Godin. "Many of us had to carry bodies from the gas chamber to the crematoria.

It's still difficult for her to talk about her wartime experiences, but she feels it her duty to do so. "When we were liberated, there were about 200 women in terrible condition with physical wounds and mental wounds, about 900 of us started out on the death march," said Godin, who spent more than five years in a displaced-persons camp before getting documents to come to America. "But physical wounds heal — you see I have a scar on my face and many more on my body. Mental wounds we'll carry to our grave."

Retired nurses asked to join medical tribute

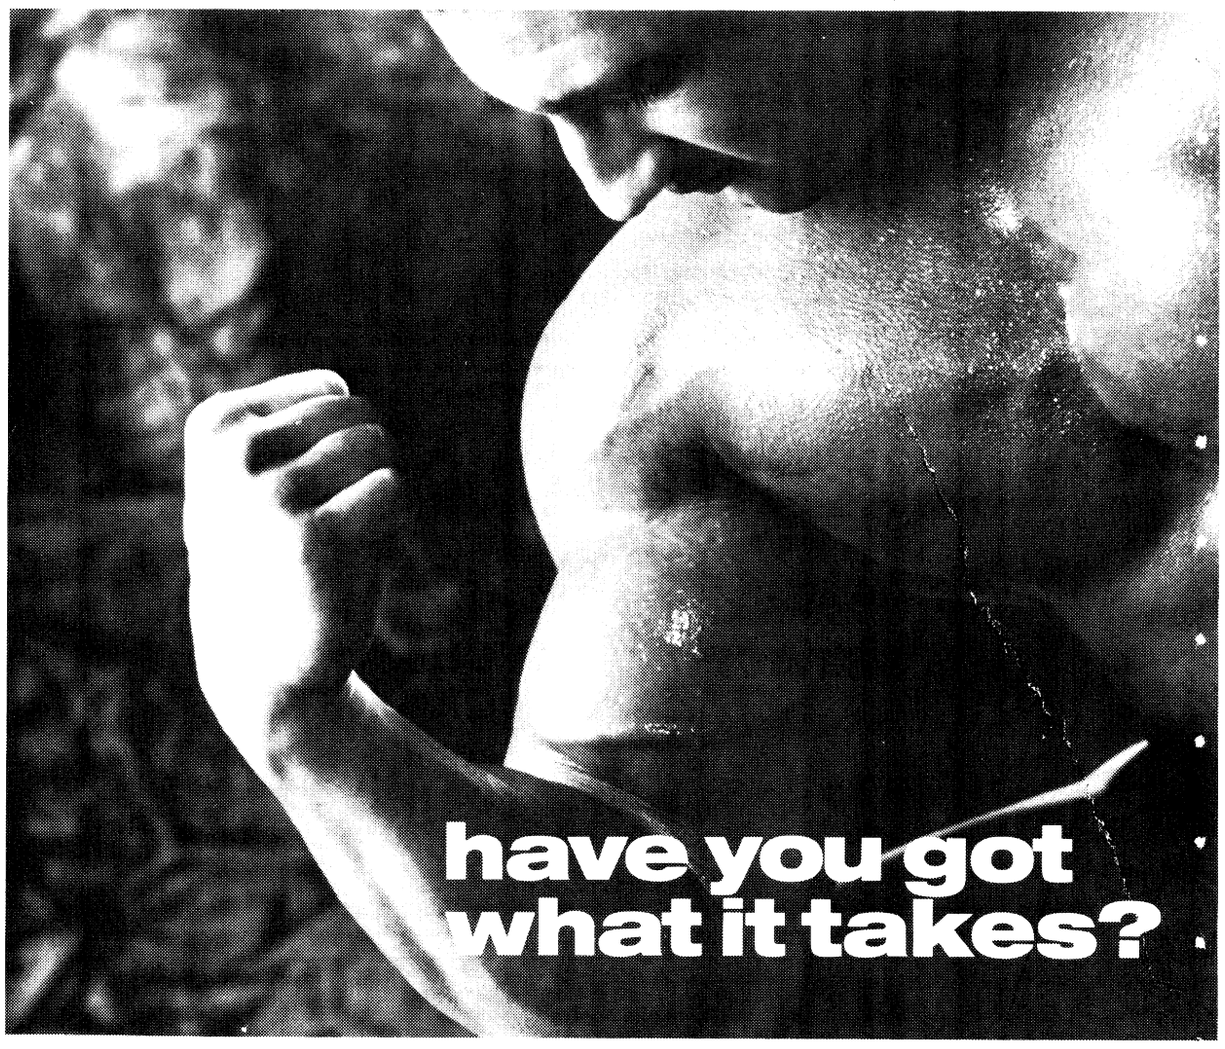
Martin Army Community Hospital

Retired military and civilian nursing employees are asked to join in paying tribute to the military nursing staff in celebration of "Nurses' Day" at Martin Army Community Hospital between 2 and 4 p.m. Thursday in the MACH dining facility.

The contributions of the country's two billion or more nurses and their abilities to change patients' lives will be recognized Thursday in the nationwide celebration of the National Nurses Day.

"Nurses Change Lives" is the 1989 theme designated by the American Nurses' Association and its 53 constituent state nurses associations on behalf of the nursing profession. Nurses' employers, families and friends are urged to recognize nurses for enhancing the well-being of patients and their families during what are often the most vulnerable times of patients' lives.

"The demand for nursing services has never been greater," said ANA president, Lucille A. Joel, Ed.D., R.N., FAAN." As our responsibilities and expertise have grown, so has our capacity for caring for those in need. Today nurses are enhancing people's comfort and recovery, improving their health status and saving lives in settings that range from hospitals, clinics, schools and corporations to homes — and even our nation's streets.

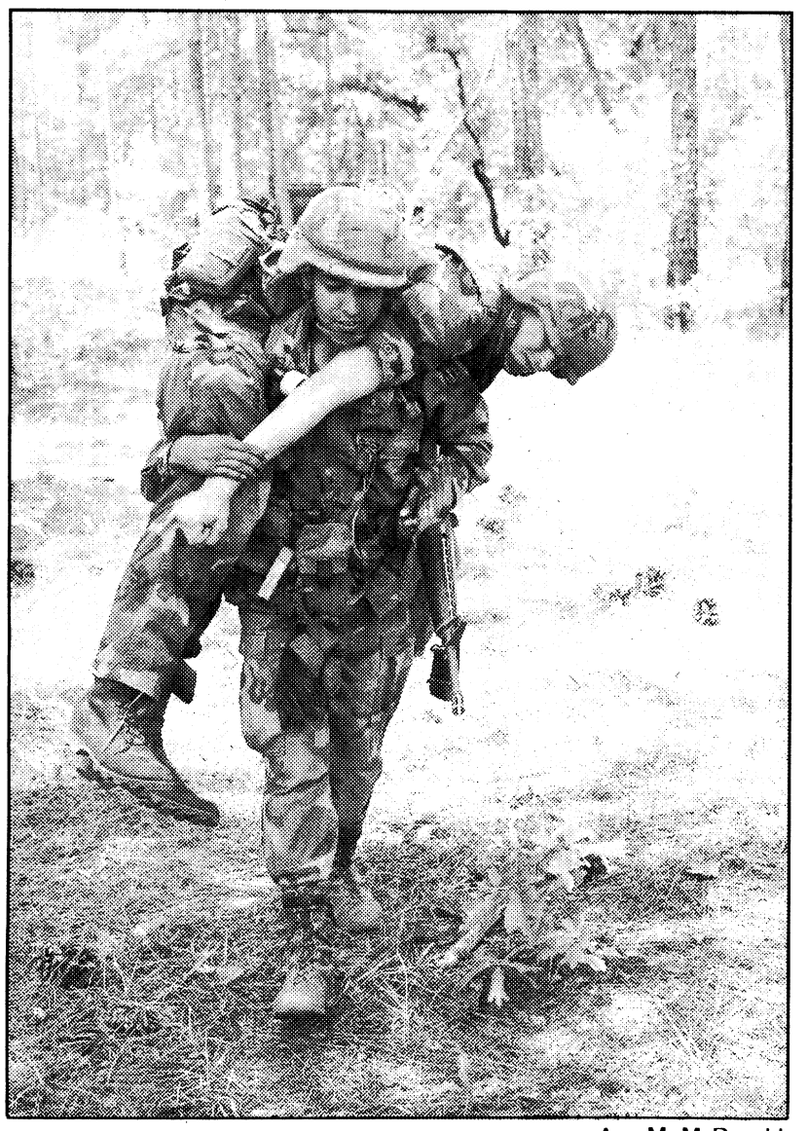


The Martin Army Community Hospital nurses, along with ANA, are active in the profession's efforts to end the current shortage. ANA and its constituent state nurses associations have been leaders in identifying solutions to resolving the shortage, which include increasing the time nurses spend caring for patients by relieving them of non-nursing tasks, improving nurses' salaries and working conditions and providing a greater role for nurses in patient care decision-making.

"It is the expertise and dedication of nurses that patients require; anything less is dangerous," Joel said. "What nurses bring to health care changes millions of patients' lives each day. Nurses educate patients on how they can improve or maintain their health. They provide counseling and ongoing care to the chronically ill in highly technological environments. They are the human link between patients and what is often a very complex health care system.

CPI photo finish®
one hour photo
Save 40%
on color processing & 4x6 prints
Each picture is the best it can be or we reprint it free...now!
NO LIMIT ON ROLLS!
4x6 Color Prints in One Hour
40% off reg. price
No limit on number of rolls discounted with this coupon. Print length varies with film size. C41 in lab process only, not combinable with other processing and print offers.
Coupon good through July 22, 1989
CPI photo finish®
1020203
CPI Film Sale
Stock up now and save!
Example prices:
2 rolls for $5.75 24-exp. 35mm 400 ASA (reg. $6.78)
3 rolls for $7.69 24-exp. 35mm - 200 ASA (reg. $9.27)
4 rolls for $8.61 24-exp. 35mm - 100 ASA or 24-exp. 110 (reg. $10.76)
CPI color print film only. Sale prices are not combinable with other film offers.
Sale ends June 10, 1989
one hour services: photo finishing • enlargements • reprints • double prints
also available: wallet photos • instant color passport photos • video transfer • copies from prints • cameras and accessories • film
Columbus Square Mall
inside main entrance

LEGAL after 5
Convenient Evening Hours
Dennis P. McPherson
Attorney-At-Law
DIVORCE..... Uncontested..... $100
BANKRUPTCY.. No asset (Chapter 7)..... $100
ADOPTION..... Step-parent..... $150
DUI..... First DUI, first appearance in State Court..... $250
SIMPLE WILLS..... $ 35
Other Fees Discussed On A Case By Case Basis.
$20.00 consultation fee paid in advance.
Payment terms arranged.
Quoted fees do not include court costs.
Mon. - Thurs. 5p.m. - 8p.m.
Sat. 9a.m. - 12p.m.
1224 Lockwood Avenue
(404) 596-1010
Located behind Wynnton Burger King
VISA
MasterCard



Steve's Check Casher
Do You need a check cashed?
Come visit the Money Man.
WE CASH THEM ALL
$ INCOME TAX RETURN CHECKS
$ PERSONAL CHECKS
$ Payroll
$ Out of State
$ Two Party
$ Money Orders
$ Western Union
$ Tax Checks
$ Insurance Checks
$ Insurance Drafts
$ Government Checks
$ Cashier Checks
ALL TYPES
Let Us Handle All Your Check Cashing Needs!
3949 Victory Station Shopping Center
Suite 2 Next to Blempie's
Come by and Visit With Us Today or Call
689-8335
HOURS: M-F 10-7, Sat. 10-5

Any serious athlete knows you won't find the special kind of nutrition you need in a fast food hamburger or grocery store freezer. Where you'll find it is at General Nutrition Center. GNC has the best and largest selection of sports nutrition anywhere. Including names like Weider, TwinLab, Mega Pro and Universal, to name a few. Plus our own PRO Performance and Challenge products. So when you're looking for amino acids, weight gain powders, energy drinks and vitamins paks, look to GNC. We have what you need, when you want it. For the best prices in town!
PRO Performance™ Amino 1000
In easy-to-swallow soft gel capsules. 60 caps.
$2.00 OFF
Nature's Way Golden Seal Root
Formulated to help rid your body of unhealthy toxins. 100 caps.
$2.00 OFF
PRO Performance™ Weight Gain Powder
Delicious chocolate and vanilla flavors. 32 oz
$2.00 OFF
GENERAL NUTRITION CENTERS
PEACHTREE MALL
COLUMBUS SQUARE MALL

GOT A GOOD DRIVING RECORD?
Schneider National Carriers can steer you into a great paying job with a real future. No experience is required.
As the leading trucking company in the U.S., Schneider National has nationwide openings for professional tractor-trailer drivers. We now offer men and women with recent military experience and drilling members of the Guard and Reserve an exclusive employment program with free training and a job guarantee. You'll begin earning after only three weeks.
• $25,000 or more first year income potential.
• Excellent benefits, generous retirement, top equipment.
Steer yourself to a rewarding career. Call Schneider National today!
1-800-447-7433, ask for Millie.
If stationed overseas, write: Schneider National Carriers, P. O. Box 2417, Green Bay, WI 54306.
We support the National Guard and Reserves.
Experienced diesel mechanics also needed in several cities. Call or write today.
SCHNEIDER® NATIONAL

How's your First Aid?
Conoce usted los Primeros Auxilios?
American Red Cross
Ad Council

Ann M. McDonald

PFC Ismael Penedo, HHC, 2nd Bn., 18th Inf., 197th Inf. Bde., uses the fireman's carry to move Pvt. William Smith, Co. E, 1st Bn., 50th Inf., ITC, to medical transport.

Medics practice for real thing

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

A grenade just exploded in the jungle injuring four soldiers. A medic rushes to the site to find men sprawled helter skelter on the ground, each suffering from a different injury.

What is the medic supposed to do?

It's up to him. But, if he doesn't do it right, he can't continue on with testing for the Expert Field Medical Badge — a badge coveted by anyone in the medical field.

The scenario is part of the testing for the EFMB. It is the Emergency Medical Treatment task, and the medic is supposed to treat the wounds according to the seriousness of the injury, said 1st Lt. Kelly R. Thomson, assistant S-3, 34th Medical Battalion, the unit in charge of testing.

Thomson said the other tasks the soldiers are tested on are: weapon qualification, physical training, communications, evacuation both ground and air, the litter obstacle course, day and night land navigation, survival skills, cardiopulmonary resuscitation, a 12-mile road march and a 100-question written test.

He said the tests are not easy. Eighty-eight soldiers from installations all over the southeast began the test April 24, only 57 are left.

Ann M. McDonald

Fort Benning soldiers, testing for the EFMB, transport a patient through an obstacle course.

"There is about a twenty percent attrition rate per day," Thomson said, "When the testing is finished, there will probably be less than twenty left."

Even though the odds are tough, that hasn't stopped soldiers from seeking the badge.

Sgt. Antonio Diggins, Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion, 18th Infantry, 197th Infantry Brigade, has been there three times.

"I think I'm going to get it this time," he said. "I passed land navigation this time, and that is what tripped me up the last two times."

The winners of the EFMB will be announced today.

NEW BONUSES NEED CASH TODAY? NEW BONUSES

Save lives and earn money by donating your time at one of the finest Plasma Facilities in the country

New & Donors who have not donated in SIX MONTHS RECEIVE $7.00 BONUS with this ad.

Bring a Buddy & RECEIVE AN EXTRA $5.00
Additional Bonus on 6th & 8th Donations

EARN $10.00 AND ABOVE ON EACH VISIT

RIVERFRONT PLASMA CENTER
507 Dillingham St.—Phenix City
297-5711
Hours: Mon.-Wed.-Fri. 7-3:30—Tues. & Thurs. 7-6:30

CONVENIENT EVENING HOURS FOR BENNING PERSONNEL

EARN OVER $100 PER MONTH

GOODYEAR

TIEMPO & G-METRIC

$29 AS LOW AS $29

P155/80R 13 WHITEWALL — 155 SR 12 BLACK

TIEMPO RADIAL TIRE SIZES	Manufacturer SUG. RETAIL PRICE	SPECIAL EXCHANGE PRICES
WHITE
P155/80R 13	42.60	29.00
P165/80R 13	47.30	35.00
P185/80R 13	52.40	38.00
P185/75R 14	56.80	43.00
P195/75R 14	59.85	44.00
P205/75R 14	62.95	48.00
P205/75R 15	66.30	49.00
P215/75R 15	69.80	52.00
P225/75R 15	73.50	55.00
P235/75R 15	77.35	57.00

Now At All Three
Ft. Benning Car Care Locations!!

Check All Goodyear Tire Lines For Your Special Driving Needs:
Passenger, High Performance, and Light Truck..
All Specially Priced at your Exchange Service Station!!

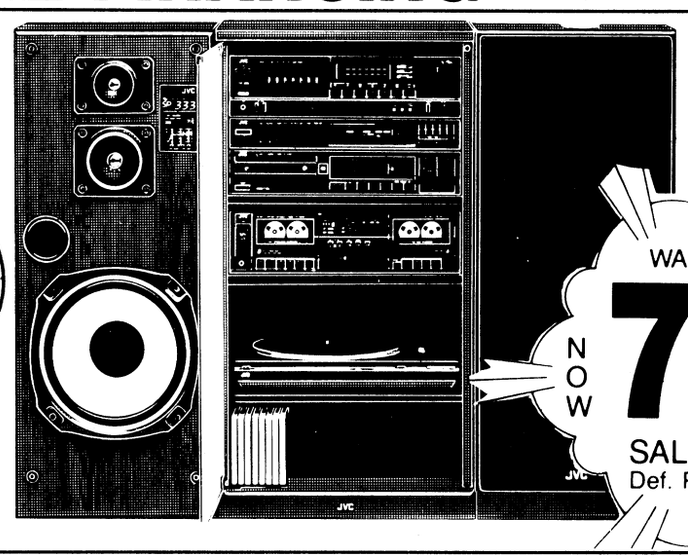
682-0261 Merchant St.
682-3467 Edwards St.
687-6519 Santa Fe Rd.

Road Hazard Warranty Available at additional low cost. Ask for Details.

G-METRIC RADIAL TIRE SIZES	Manufacturer SUG. RETAIL PRICE	SPECIAL EXCHANGE PRICES
BLACK
155 SR 12	40.10	29.00
155 SR 13	42.00	30.00
165 SR 13	44.25	33.00
175 SR 13	46.65	36.00
185 SR 14	51.40	39.00
165 SR 15	49.20	38.00
BLACK 70 SERIES
175/70SR 13	49.55	38.00
185/70SR 13	52.00	40.00
185/70SR 14	54.65	42.00

Ad neither paid for nor sponsored by any branch of the U.S. Government

★ ELECTRONICS ★ JEWELRY

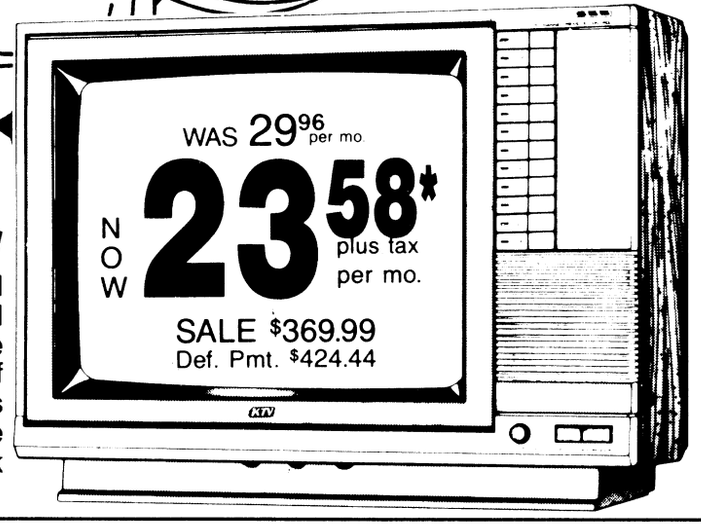


DEVON Home Center Stores

★ FURNITURE ★ APPLIANCES

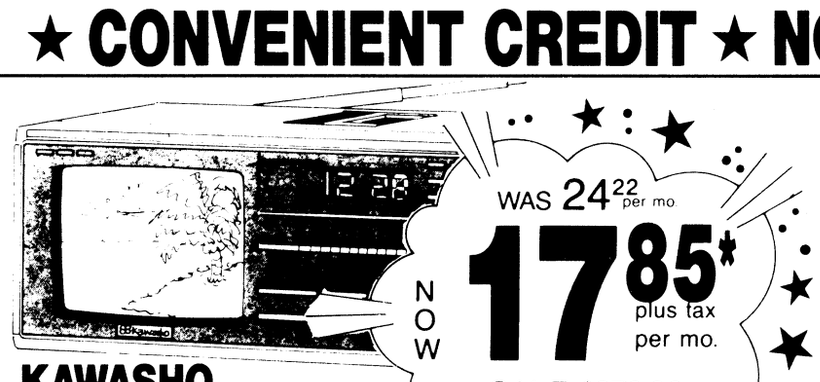
Serving the Military & Civil Service

FREE FINANCING If contract is paid within twelve (12) months of 1st contract due date, we will refund finance charges on that purchase.



A BUNCH OF BARGAINS

JVC 100 WATT RACK W/REMOTE CONTROL
• 7 band S.E.A. graphic equalizer • Unified A/V full remote • Digital synthesized tuner w/40 FM/AM presets • Dual cassette w/ high speed editing & synchro dubbing • 3-way 12" tower speakers

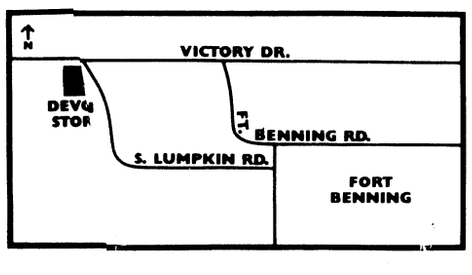


WAS 89.26 per mo
NOW 70.13* plus tax per mo.
SALE $1,099.99
Def. Pmt. $1,262.34

★ CONVENIENT CREDIT ★ NO DOWN PAYMENT

KTV 13" REMOTE COLOR TV
• 105 channel cable ready • Full function remote • Direct call of 2 preset channels from tv & remote • Earphone jack

WAS 29.96 per mo
NOW 23.58* plus tax per mo.
SALE $369.99
Def. Pmt. $424.44



KAWASHO 5½" COLOR TV/RADIO/CLOCK
• Digital alarm clock w/battery back-up • AM/FM radio • 3-way power operation

WAS 24.22 per mo
NOW 17.85* plus tax per mo.
SALE $279.99
Def. Pmt. $321.30

See Store Manager for other Specials too numerous to mention

TAKE A FAMOUS NAME BRAND HOME TODAY . . .

COLUMBUS #270
3296 Victory Drive
(404) 689-1210

Mon.-Fri. 10am to 8pm;
Sat. 10am to 5pm;
Sun. 1pm to 5pm

WE FINANCE ALL QUALIFIED MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE
*Per month pricing based on no down payment with 17.9% annual percentage for 18 months. Multiply monthly payments by 18 months for total cost. Price may vary depending on local sales tax, insurance or warranty.

SALE ENDS MAY 10th

WWII veterans take rightful place in Infantry Museum

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Members of the World War II unit, the 99th Infantry Division, presented a stained glass likeness of their unit insignia to the U.S. Army Infantry Museum April 24, so the division could take its rightful place among the other units that participated in the war.

According to 99th Infantry Division Association representative, Joe Forrester, his group had been wanting to do something of this nature for quite a while and finally decided the museum was the ideal place.

Twenty-one members of the association toured a rifle range, the Collins Training Center and the Infantry Museum and watched an airborne demonstration.

Forrester said he really enjoyed the tour of the post.

The 99th Infantry Division was activated Nov. 15, 1942, at Camp Van Dorn, Miss. The leaders, the cadre and basic training soldiers assembled at the camp and trained there before leaving to fight in the war.

On Dec. 16, 1944, the division was struck by the main attack of the 6th Panzer army while defending a 20-mile front during the Battle of the Bulge. One 18-man platoon held off an entire German battalion for 18 hours and became the most highly decorated U.S. platoon in the war for a single action.

The unit has since been deactivated, but it's roots are still alive at Fort Benning. Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 197th Infantry Brigade traces it's history to the 99th Reconnaissance Troop, an element of the 99th Infantry Divison.

MILITARY LAW

- Court Martials
- Physical Eval. Boards
- Civil Personnel Actions
- Military Hearings
- Administrative Eliminations
- Field Grade Art 15's
- DUI Defense
- ABCMR Appeals

DAVID L. ROBERTS, ATTORNEY
825 Second Avenue 324-7174

AUTO INSURANCE

Capparelle's INSURANCE AGENCY

Military Personnel Stationed in Georgia, Alabama, and Overseas Germany. "If You Buy Before You Call Us, You May Pay Too Much." Call Us Today For A Quick Quote.

3617 Hilton Avenue Suite #214 322-6178

UNTIL THERE IS NO LONELINESS,
NO DESTITUTION,
NO SICKNESS,
NO WAR...

Please join.

American Red Cross

GRAND OPENING

- Medical staffed outpatient clinic
- Written Guaranteed Lose 3½ to 8 lbs. per week
- Enjoy beef, chicken, lobster vegetables even Double Chocolate Cheesecake
- Special programs for special medical conditions (high blood pressure, diabetes, cholesterol, etc.)
- For Men, Women & Teenagers
- Free Consultation
- Insurance Approved

Compare price, courtesy, and results!

COUPON — LOSE 34 LBS. IN 30 DAYS — $69* — 4 WEEKS FREE — *Medical and supplements excluded Exp.5-5-89 — COUPON

COUPON — ALL THE WEIGHT YOU WANT TO LOSE — $99* — FREE PHYSCIAL — *supplements excluded Exp. 5-5-89 — COUPON

DOCTORS WEIGHT LOSS
Macon Road at 185 569-7706

YOUR NEXT ENLISTMENT SHOULD BE AS WELL PLANNED AS YOUR FIRST.

You didn't decide to join the Army until you were well armed with information. If you're considering reenlisting, make sure you get all the facts you need from an Army Career Counselor. Once you know about all of the options, benefits and bonuses for which you are eligible, you'll have all the information you'll need to make the right decision about your future.

USAIC REENLISTMENT
SGM Verray Caldwell, Command Retention NCO
Ph: 545-5649, Bldg. 1827,
MSG Lawrence Powell, Operations NCO
Career Counselor, Ph: 545-7387, Bldg. 1827
SFC William Hlebak, Career Counselor, Separate Units
Ph: 545-1982, Bldg. 1827

197th INFANTRY BRIGADE (SEPARATE)
SFC Robert Jones, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 544-2718, Bldg. 9058
MSG David Larson, USAR/NG Counselor
Ph: 544-2718, Bldg. 9058
SFC David Bell, Career Counselor, Separate Units
Ph: 544-2718, Bldg. 9058
SFC Delbert Miller, Career Counselor, 197th Support Bn
Ph: 544-2746, Bldg. 9058
SFC William Terrance, Career Counselor,
2nd Bn, 18th Inf
Ph: 544-1390, Bldg. 9075
SFC Emilio Gonzalez, Career Counselor,
2d Bn, 69th Armor,
Ph: 544-1457, Bldg. 9058
SSG Michael A. Baker, Career Counselor,
1st Bn, 58th Inf
Ph: 544-1634, Bldg 9046
SFC Willie Reynolds, Career Counselor,
4th Bn, 41st FA
Ph: 544-1612, Bldg. 9021

34th MEDICAL BATTALION
SSG Kermy Leon, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 545-4337, Bldg. 2832

36TH ENGINEER GROUP
SFC Mariano Campos, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 545-7388, Bldg. 2821
SSG Angela Watson, Career Counselor,
67th Maint Bn
Ph: 545-7388, Bldg. 2821
SSG Michael Lowe, Career Counselor, 43d Eng Bn
Ph: 545-7388, Bldg. 2821

THE SCHOOL BRIGADE
MSG William Lee, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 545-5006, Bldg. 2512

U.S. ARMY INFANTRY TRAINING CENTER
SFC Andrea Huntsberger, Career Counselor
Supervisor
Ph: 544-3853, Bldg. 3082

29TH INFANTRY REGIMENT
SFC Lonza Douglas, Career Counselor Supervisor,
29th IN Regt
Ph: 544-7447, Bldg. 4669
SFC Yvonne R. McMillian, Career Counselor,
1/29th IN Regt
Ph: 544-7447, Bldg 4669
SFC Donald L. Floyd, Career Counselor,
1/29th IN Regt
Ph: 544-7447, Bldg 4669
SSG Jeffery Dreitzler, Reenl NCO, 2d Bn, 29th Inf
Ph: 544-7447, Bldg. 4669

RANGER TRAINING BRIGADE
SSG William Wascisin, Reenlistment
NCO Supervisor
Ph: 544-6911/Ext 222, Bldg. 5024

75TH RANGER REGIMENT
SSG Gary Oryszak, Career Counselor Supervisor
Ph: 545-1290/EXT 264, Bldg. 5010
SSG Steven Pietrowicz, Reenl NCO Supervisor
Ph: 545-1290 Ext 264, Bldg. 5010

UNITED STATES ARMY INFANTRY BOARD
SSG Charles E. Lewis, Reenl NCO
Ph: 545-5545, Bldg. 2850

MILITARY POLICE ACTIVITY
SSG William Hicks, Reenl NCO Supervisor
Ph: 545-1257, Bldg. 2814

U.S. ARMY MARKSMANSHIP UNIT
SFC Robert Stroman, Reenl NCO Supervisor
Ph: 545-7174, Bldg. 243

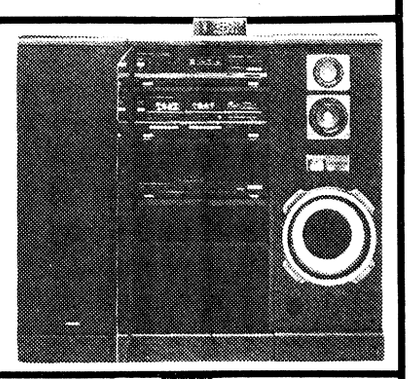
MEDDAC/DENTAC
SFC Robert Bailey Jr., Career Counselor
Supervisor (Temp)
Ph: 544-3362, Bldg. 9200

U.S. ARMY INFORMATION SYSTEMS COMMAND
SGT Wayne A. Fogle, Reenl NCO, Ph: 545-4311

US ARMY SCHOOL OF THE AMERICAS
SSG Gerard Roman, Reenl NCO
Ph: 545-1625, Bldg. 2816

IN-SERVICE RECRUITER (USAR/NG)
SGM Francis Murtha, In-Service
Recruiter Supervisor
SGM Claude L.Brown Jr., In-Service Recruiter
Ph: 545-4132/544-4759, Bldg. 2617 Soldiers Plaza
SFC Marion E. Wallace, In-Service Recruiter
Bldg. 2617 Soldiers Plaza, Ph: 545-4132/544-4759

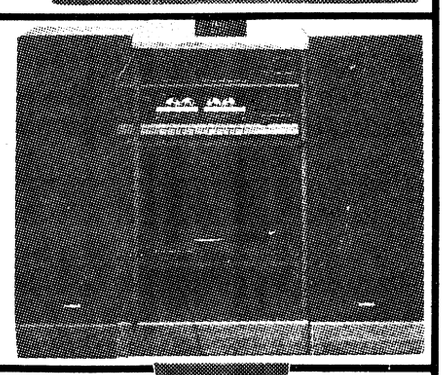
REENLIST. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.



Stereo Blowout

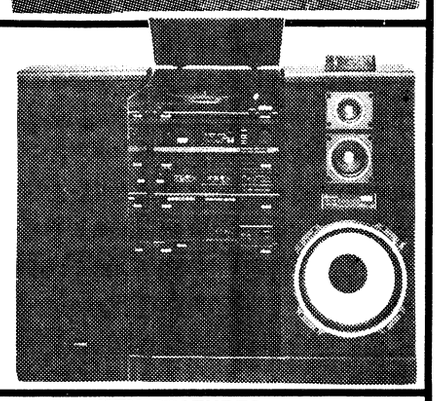
FISHER

SYSTEM 8806
AUDIO COMPONENT SYSTEM
KEY FEATURES
- 50 WATTS PER CHANNEL
- 15-FUNCTION WIRELESS REMOTE CONTROL
- DOUBLE CASSETTE DECK WITH HIGH-SPEED DUBBING
- MAGNETIC FIELD COMPENSATED SPEAKERS



STEREO RECEIVER-RS-881RB
- 50 Watts per channel min. RMS power into 8 ohms, 20Hz to 20kHz with no more than 0.5% T.H.D.

DOUBLE CASSETTE DECK-CR-W8881RB
SEMI-AUTOMATIC TURNTABLE-MT 881RB



Reg. $999.99 Sale $699.99 $24.99 month

SYSTEM 8816
AUDIO COMPONENT SYSTEM
KEY FEATURES
- SEPARATE POWER SUPPLIES ON ALL COMPONENTS
- 100 WATTS PER CHANNEL
- 27-FUNCTION WIRELESS REMOTE CONTROL
- 10" 3-WAY MAGNETIC FIELD COMPENSATED SPEAKERS

Reg. $1199.99
SALE $849.99
or $29.99 month

SYSTEM 8846D
AUDIO COMPONENT SYSTEM
KEY FEATURES
- SEPARATE POWER SUPPLIES ON ALL COMPONENTS
- 120 WATTS PER CHANNEL
- AUTO REVERSE PLAYBACK (DECK 1)
- 5-DISC AUTOMATIC COMPACT DISC CHANGER

Reg. $1699.99
Sale $1299.99
or $41.99 a mth.

FVH-6200
VIDEO CASSETTE RECORDER

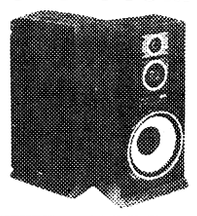
KEY FEATURES
- INSTANT ACTION FULL LOADING SYSTEM
- REMOTE ON-SCREEN 21-DAY/6-EVENT PROGRAMMABLE TIMER
- PLL FREQUENCY SYNTHESIZER TUNER

Reg. $499.99 Sale $399.95 $19.99 a month

FVH-6600
VHS HI-FI VIDEO CASSETTE RECORDER

KEY FEATURES
- VHS HI-FI STEREO RECORD/PLAYBACK
- 4 DOUBLE AZIMUTH VIDEO HEAD SYSTEM + 2 AFM HI-FI AUDIO HEADS
- MTS (Multichannel TV Sound)
- INSTANT ACTION FULL LOADING SYSTEM FOR QUICK PLAYBACK

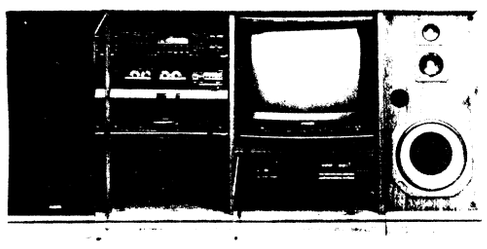
Reg. $749 Sale $599 $24.99 a month



STV-430M

3-WAY SPEAKER SYSTEM
- 15" WOOFER, 4" MIDRANGE FERRO-FLUID DAMPED, 3" TWEETER FERRO-FLUID DAMPED
- MAGNETIC STRAY-FIELD COMPENSATED
- AUTOMATIC-RESET CIRCUIT BREAKER
- 100 WATTS RMS POWER HANDLING
- SENSITIVITY: 92DB SPL 1W/1M
- 17.8"WX36.9"HX13.5"D
- BALDWIN OAK VINYL VENEER FINISH

Reg. $399.99 Sale $249.99 Per Pair



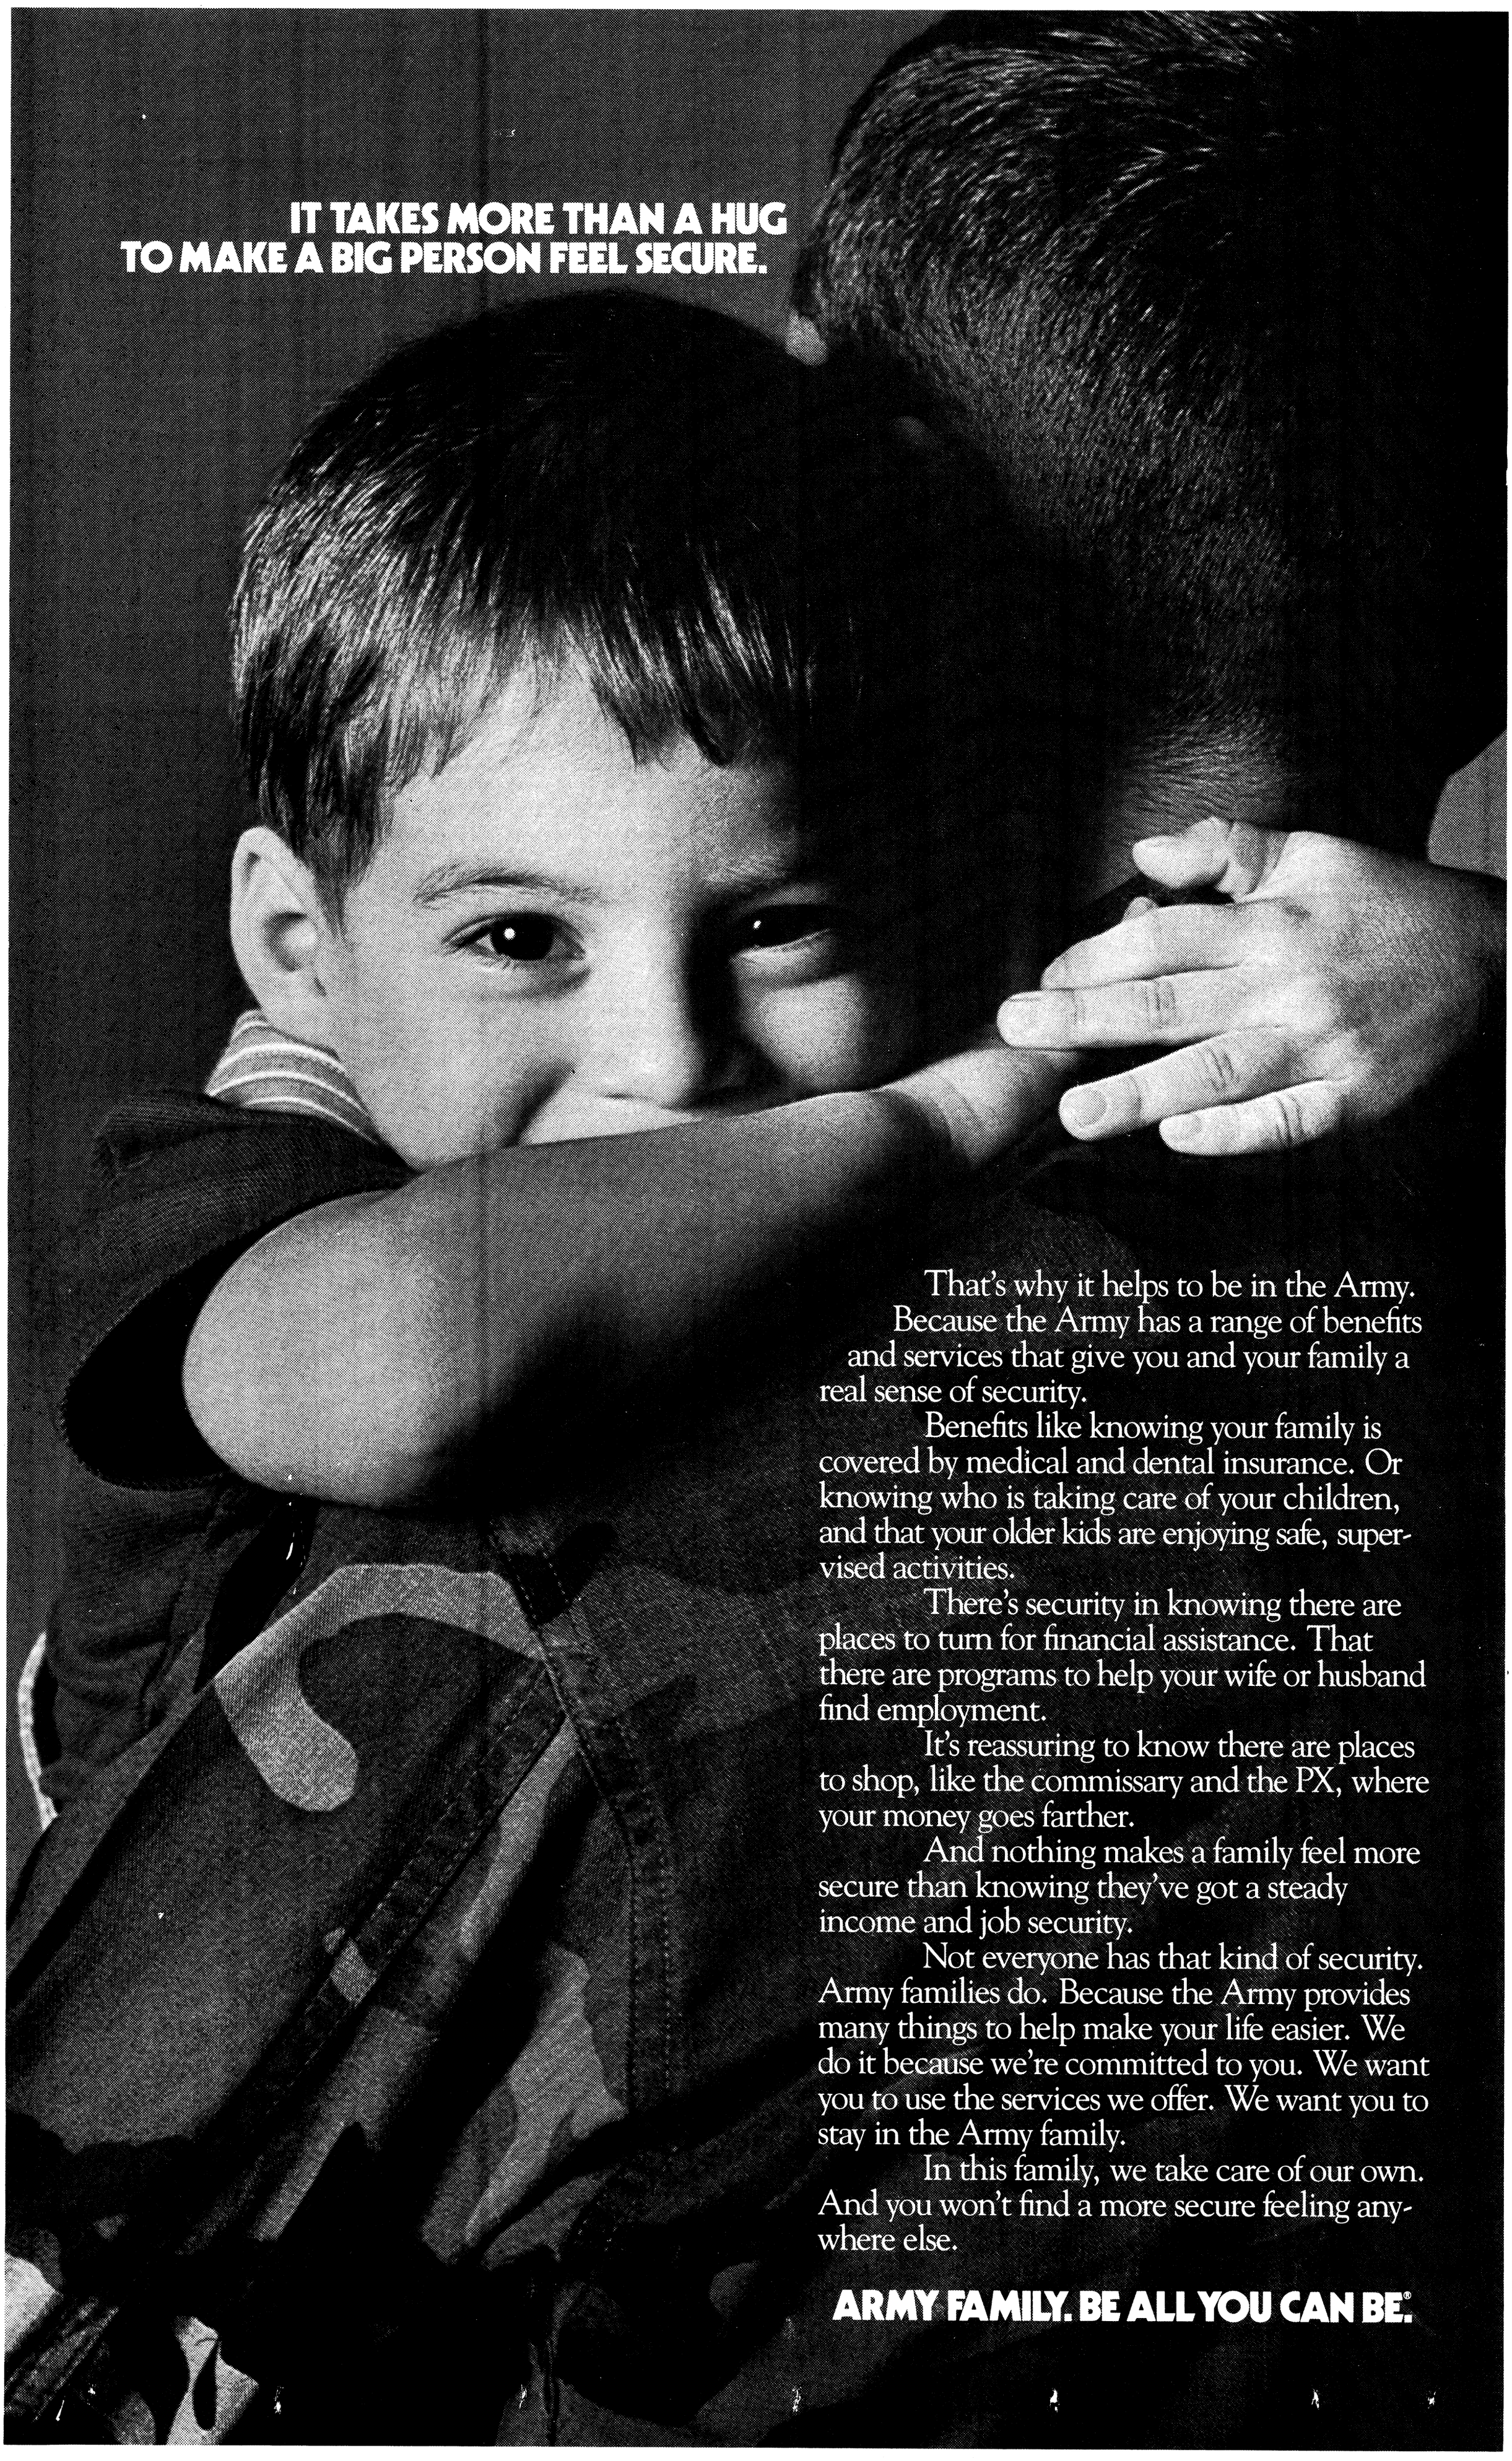
STV-440M

3-WAY SPEAKER SYSTEM
- 15" WOOFER, 5" FERRO-FLUID DAMPED MIDRANGE, 3" FERRO-FLUID DAMPED TWEETER
- MAGNETIC STRAY-FIELD COMPENSATED
- AUTOMATIC-RESET CIRCUIT BREAKER
- 150 WATTS RMS POWER HANDLING
- SENSITIVITY: 93DB SPL 1W/1M
- 17.8"WX38.75"X13.5"D
- BALDWIN OAK VINYL VENEER FINISH

Reg. $499.99 Sale $349.99 Per Pair

UNIFIED SERIES AUDIO/VIDEO SYSTEMS

AUDIO SYSTEM-8806DV
Reg. $2199.99
Sale $1699.99
$59.99 A mth.
Base on 30 mth Revolving



- RECEIVER RS-881AB-50 WATTS PER CHANNEL, 5-BAND EQUALIZER,QUARTZ PLL, 24 PRESETS (18FM + 6AM)
- CASSETTE DECK CR-W881AB-DOUBLE DECK, DOLBY NOISE REDUCTION, HIGH SPEED DUBBING
- TURNTABLE MT-881AB-SEMI-AUTOMATIC, FRONT PANEL CUEING
- SPEAKERS STV-655B-12" 3-WAY, MAGNETIC FIELD COMPENSATED

MONITOR/TV PANASONIC
- 20" (DIAGONAL), MTS STEREO

FISHER VCR-FVH 6200
- VHS ON-SCREEN PROGRAMMING, 1 YEAR/6 EVENT, 122-CHANNEL QUARTZ TURNER, 2 VIDEO HEADS
- STEREO TV-PC-228W
- (OPTIONAL) CD-PLAYER-AD-724A
- (OPTIONAL) VCR-FVH 5550
- (OPTIONAL) SURROUND SOUND SYSTEM ASR-875

- FREE DELIVERY & NORMAL SET UP (MOST ITEMS)
- REVOVLING CHARGE ACCOUNTS AVAILABLE
- 30 MONTH REVOLVING ACCOUNT AT 21% APR
- INSTANT CREDIT
- NO DOWN PAYMENT
- 100 DAYS SAME AS CASH
- NO INTEREST OR PAYMENT TILL AUG 89 (WITH APPROVED CREDIT)

WAHLERT'S HOME CENTER
TRAFFIC CIRCLE SHOPPING CENTER
VICTORY DRIVE
M-F 10-8, Sat. 10-6
687-0897
687-0396
with one these valid credit cards, you may quality for $4000.00 "INSTANT CREDIT"

That's why it helps to be in the Army.

Because the Army has a range of benefits and services that give you and your family a real sense of security.

Benefits like knowing your family is covered by medical and dental insurance. Or knowing who is taking care of your children, and that your older kids are enjoying safe, supervised activities.

There's security in knowing there are places to turn for financial assistance. That there are programs to help your wife or husband find employment.

It's reassuring to know there are places to shop, like the commissary and the PX, where your money goes farther.

And nothing makes a family feel more secure than knowing they've got a steady income and job security.

Not everyone has that kind of security. Army families do. Because the Army provides many things to help make your life easier. We do it because we're committed to you. We want you to use the services we offer. We want you to stay in the Army family.

In this family, we take care of our own. And you won't find a more secure feeling anywhere else.

ARMY FAMILY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.®

COMMUNITY

ITT

Summertime specials — The Fort Benning ITT Office is offering the following summertime specials: Six Flags tickets, White Water tickets, Disney packets, discount movie tickets, military lodging rates and Airlink Bus tickets to and from Atlanta.

Call 545-7535/545-4155 for additional information. (MWR)

MEETINGS

Transportation Association — The Fort Benning/Tri-City Chapter of the National Defense Transportation Association will hold its monthly luncheon/meeting Thursday at 11:30 a.m. in the Textile Room at the Ramada Inn. A guest speaker will be provided, and visitors are welcome. Call Mary Fountain, 324-1818, for information.

MISCELLANEOUS

Career Day — In recognition of Nurses' Week, Career Day will be held at Martin Army Community Hospital at Fort Benning May 6. This first-time event is designed to promote careers in both military and civilian nursing. Jointly sponsored by the Civilian Personnel Office, Army Nurse Corps Recruiting Command, and the Department of Nursing, Career Day will begin at 9 a.m. in the dining facility. Information booths and displays will be set up, and tours of the hospital will start from the dining facility every half hour. Key personnel will be on hand to speak about nursing opportunities for professional nursing in the Federal Service.

★

Marriage fulfillment — A series for newly wed couples designed to help them develop positive patterns of interaction and find fulfillment in their marriage will be held Thursdays, May 4 through June 8, 7-10 p.m. The series is led by Edwin Chase. Call 576-6350 for more information or to register.

★

Operating Room open house — A Martin Army Community Hospital first starts at 1 p.m. in the operating room. The operating room and anesthesia staff is sponsoring an open house. Visitors will have an opportunity to learn about the operating room, surgical procedures and anesthesia. The staff will be available to share information about career opportunities in the operating room specialties. Children must be accompanied by a responsible adult. For more information, call the Department of Nursing at 544-4459/2218/3270.

Tour of Homes — Eleven Columbus homes will take part in the Second Annual Girl Scouts Tour of Homes. The Tour will be held May 9. Homes will be open for viewing at various times between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. Tickets cost $25 per person, including map and brochure and may be purchased at the Concharty Council of Girl Scouts' office located at 1344 13th Avenue, Columbus, Ga. 31901. The proceeds from the tour will go toward the purchase of the Girl Scouts' new Education and Service Center. For more information, call 327-2646.

★

Project Discovery — Columbus Tech's Project Discovery for the Displaced Homemaker/Single Parent will offer a free, two-week workshop May 8 through May 19, Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. The workshop focuses on self-awareness, career-planning, job-seeking skills, rebuilding self confidence, coping skills, referrals to training programs and support services. Call Columbus Tech's Project Discovery office at 571-1818 for more information and enrollment for the workshop.

★

Summer Camp — Registration for Youth Activities summer day camp will begin Monday and continue until May 30.

Summer Camp is open to children ages 6 through 11 of active duty and retired military personnel. Registration will be on a first-come, first-served basis.

Camp will consist of four two-week sessions. Participants are limited to one session each. Sign-ups will be taken Monday through Friday from 8 a.m. until 4:30 p.m. at Youth Services, building 1056, on McIver Street. The first session of camp will begin June 19. For more information, call 545-3070.

★

Armed Forces Day activities — The following events will take place during the Fort Benning Armed Forces Day open house and Association of the United States Army picnic May 20:

7-8:30 a.m. — 10k and two-mile Fun Run at York/Stewart Field.

10-11:30 a.m. — Parade, Airborne Demonstration and crowning of the AUSA queen at York Field.

Noon-5 p.m. — Interunit games at Stewart-Watson Field.

Noon-5 p.m. — Booths, equipment displays, recreational and entertainment activities at all fields.

9 a.m.-5 p.m. — AUSA food and beverages at Stewart-Watson Field.

noon-5 p.m. — Entertainment and displays at the bleacher site at Stewart-Watson Field.

Lifeguards needed — Applications for Recreation Aid (lifeguard) are still being accepted for the Nonappropriated Fund Summer Employment Program between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the Directorate of Civilian Personnel, building 35, Room 100. To qualify, applicants must present current certificates for cardiopulmonary resuscitation, Advanced Lifesaving and First Aid. Anyone age 14 and above may apply.

★

Preschool — There are a few openings for 4-year-olds at the Fort Benning Early Childhood Development Center, Inc., (Patch Preschool) for this school year. Children must have been 4 years old on or before Sept. 1, 1988, to be eligible. Call 687-2404 for more information.

★

"Hell on Wheels" reunion — Veterans of the 2nd Armored Division and attached units are invited to a "Hell on Wheels" reunion May 24 through 27 at the Columbus Hilton Hotel. For more information, call Loren Guge at (904)596-6834.

★

Uchee Creek Recreation Area — The Uchee Creek Recreation Area has five fully self-contained Scotty campers on site and available for rental. These campers feature heating and air conditioning, a three-burner stove and a refrigerator. It will comfortably sleep four campers. A rental fee of $17 per night will include a campsite, propane, water and electricity. There are 30 campsites at the recreation area that feature water and electricity. They rent for $5 per night. The camping area has a centralized dump station. The following tents and campers may be rented from the Equipment Checkout Center:

* 9x12-foot tent, $5 per day
* Pop-up camper (sink & stove/sleeps 4), $10 per day or $50 per week
* 14-foot Scotty camper (air conditioning/heater/ice box/stove/sleeps 4), $12 per day or $60 per week
* 17-foot, fully self-contained (air conditioning/heating/refrigerator/stove/shower/sleeps 6), $17 per day or $100 per week

The Uchee Creek Recreation Area can be contacted at 545-4053 Monday, Wednesday and Thursday. (MWR)

RECREATION CENTERS

Instrument rentals — The Kelley Hill Recreation Center has several instruments for rent, from amplifiers to trumpets and just about everything in between. We offer daily, weekly and monthly fees. For more information, call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m. and Sunday 10 a.m. to 7 p.m. at 544-1721/3079.

WIVES' CLUBS

NCO Wives' Club

Brunch — The NCO Wives' Club will have a brunch Wednesday, 9:30 a.m., at the NCO Club.

★

Scholarships — The NCO Wives' Club is taking applications for scholarships. Applications are available at the Main Post Exchange and Commissary. The deadline is Sunday. For more information, call J. Boryl at 323-6202.

Officers' Wives' Club

School of Dance — The Officers' Wives' Club School of Dance offers the following classes for all military families, active duty, retired, officer or enlisted:

Ballet — Jane Frenkel	563-0294
Gymnastics — Kelly Cargill	563-8176
Karate — John Touchton	1-582-3117
Heartbeat Aerobics — Kathy Greene	682-9854
Tap and Jazz — Rae Lavingne	687-1784
Performing Arts — Libbie Kurinec	322-6942
Piano — Diane Swiecicki	297-6524
Guitar — Lewis Finn	563-0099

For those interested in a specific class, please call the instructor. For general information, call Bonnie Burton, 689-6284.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES

Ballet classes — The Youth Activities Center has vacancies for ballet classes. These classes are taught by a professional dance instructor and spaces are limited. Call 545-3070 for an appointment. (MWR)

★

Swim Team — Sign up for the Youth Activities Swim Team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Monday through Thursday. The swim team is a year-round organization. Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for more information. (MWR)

Call 323-1234 For Home Delivery of Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

Use L-E Want Ads

VISA CARDS ARE HERE!

VISA

COMPARE the terms of your Credit Union with the market and you'll make the switch.

$8.00 Annual Fee
15% Annual Percentage Rate

25 Day Grace Period

2786 Eckel Street
Fort Benning, GA 31905
682-0830

TIC FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

Offer to eligible members only.

4811 Bankers Blvd.
Columbus, GA 31904
324-5288

Anthony's the world's greatest Pizza

FORT BENNING MINI MALL LOCATION
PECOMROW ST. 687-8051

FEATURES:

- PASTA SANDWICHES
- FULL SALAD BAR
- WORLD'S GREATEST PIZZA

CALL 687-8051
FOR HOME DELIVERY
AFTER 5 PM TIL CLOSING

NEW LOW AIRFARES

Atlanta Roundtrip To:

Frankfurt	Munich	Brussels	London
$560 Thru 30 Apr.	$580 Thru 30 Apr.	$449 27 Apr.-31 May	$358 2 Apr.-27 Apr.
$660 1 May-30 May	$695 1 May-30 May	$719 1 June-30 Sep.	$408 28 April-6 June
$759 1 June-14 June	$779 1 June-14 June

*Certain Restrictions/Taxes Apply to These Fares
*Some Blackout Dates Exist

TRAVEL WORLD, INC.

3115 Mercury Drive
Columbus, GA 31906
404/563-8687

4393 Victory Dr.
ARCCO Place
Columbus, Georgia 31903
404/689-3092

SAVE MODERN TV & APPLIANCE SAVE

Friedrich® ROOM AIR CONDITIONERS

6000 BTU

AS LOW AS $299.00

ZENITH

19" diagonal Color TV

SAVE

Model SS8915W
- With Remote Control
- Vertical Space-Saving Design
- Eastern Walnut Color Finish

ONLY $369.95

QUIK N' E-Z
QUIK CREDIT
E-Z TERMS

MOVIES

AS Low As 99¢ Per Day
Over 800 Titles to Choose From
No Membership Fee

matching home laundry pair

FREE DELIVERY

HOTPOINT SATISFACTION GUARANTEED* OR YOUR MONEY BACK!

WASHER Model WLW 1500B
DRYER Model DLB 1550B

SAVE ON THE PAIR
ONLY $688.00 for the pair

HOTPOINT FREEZERS

- 5.2 cu. ft. of storage space
- adjustable temperature control
- counter-balanced lid
- just 23½" wide
- textured lid
- defrost drain.

Model FH5CL

ONLY $299.00

FREE DELIVERY
HRS: 9AM-6PM MON-SAT

MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
You Don't Need A Lot Of Money, Just A Little Bit A Month
2039 FT BENNING ROAD

SERVICE AFTER THE SALE
687-8249 /682-1341

U.S. help needed to complete museum

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Support is needed from people in the United States to complete a new museum in the southern part of Luxembourg at Differdange, which will depict the liberation of Luxembourg and "The Battle of the Bulge" and honor the veterans and units that served in those campaigns.

Needed for the museum are WWII films, historical documents, photos, technical manuals and anything else participating units might provide for display.

Guy Retter, who owns the property, gathered many U.S. Army vehicles, communication equipment, weapons and technical manuals as well as WWII uniforms, photos and historical documents that will be displayed. Included in his findings are a 1942 U.S. Army jeep, two Dodge Command Cars, an armored scout car, half-track, ambulances, amphibious vehicles (DKW) and several 2-1/2-ton GMC trucks, which have been restored.

According to retired Lt. Col. Theodore R. Lowman, Retter's U.S. liaison, the museum is intended to highlight the sacrifices and valor of units and individuals during WWII.

Recognition and credit will be given to those who give support to this museum.

The main museum building, which is about 60 feet wide and 180 feet long is about half complete. The second story of the building will serve as a snack bar and rest area. One side of the second story is open with a view of the entrance and display area downstairs.

Retter is trying to honor as many units and veterans as possible by allowing unit organizations and veterans of those campaigns to have direct input into the arrangement of displays. Suggestions are to have outposts, camouflaged artillery positions, command posts and whatever participants desire with available space and material outside the museum building, according to Lowman.

This museum is located in the southern part of Luxembourg where there are no such museums. "Cut aways" and vehicle and equipment displays will be make this museum different and of a more technical nature, according to Lowman.

The success of the museum depends on outside help. Anyone interested in this project should call (804) 464-0829 or write to:

Theodore R. Lowman, Lt. Col.
U.S. Army Retired
5012 Mosby Road
Virginia Beach, Va. 23455

SPIRITUAL

Alexander Gross

Holocaust ceremony set for May 5

By Debra Galle
USAIC Chaplain's Office

A Holocaust Memorial Ceremony intended to honor the 11 million non-combat victims of the Nazi Holocaust will be held May 5 at 4 p.m. in Marshall Auditorium, Building 4.

Congress established a week for national remembrance of the Holocaust in 1984. This will be the fourth year Fort Benning has offered such a ceremony.

The guest speaker will be Alexander Gross, a survivor of Auschwitz and Buchenwald. Gross is the president of the Atlanta-based organization of Holocaust survivors, Hemshech. He also speaks nationally about the tragedy of the holocaust. His message is strong and undeniable: The Holocaust must never be repeated!

"There are less than 100 of us (survivors) in Atlanta today. The future belongs to you. We, as survivors, are looking to you to save our children and their children," Gross told a crowd of several hundred people last year. "When the tanks came in and the turret door was thrown open and a helmet appeared — I didn't see a helmet, I saw God. I saw everything that was right and wonderful...You are the ones who freed us, who got us out of hell."

The inscription on the walls of a cellar in Cologne, Germany, read "I believe in the sun even when it is not shining, I believe in love even when feeling it not. I believe in God even when He is silent."

These beliefs are what kept hope alive for the millions of prisoners during the horrifying time between Hitler's invasion of Poland in 1939 and the end of the war. More than 35 million people (more than half of them civilians) were killed. Eleven million were non-combat fatalities, 6 million of whom were Jews.

Music for this year's ceremony will be provided by the 283rd Army Band and soloist Cy Dietrich. Special ceremonies, reflections and readings will be included in the tribute. The Fort Benning community is invited to attend.

Americans urged to observe National Day of Prayer

USAIC Chaplain's Office

May 4, 1989 marks the 37th consecutive observance of the National Day of Prayer. Though days of prayer are found throughout our history and the National Day of Prayer has been in existance since 1952, this is the Day's first year as a specific calendar date. Following unanimous action of both houses of congress, President Reagan signed the bill on May 5, 1988 making the National Day of Prayer the first Thursday of every May.

The National Day of Prayer Task Force and its parent, the National Prayer Committee, urge all Americans to become personally involved in the observance. "Now that the National Day of Prayer is a specific day that can be anticipated and found on our calendars, we trust many more Americans will join in thanking God for His many blessings upon this land and in praying for the future of our nation," said Vonette Bright, co-chairman with entertainer/author, Pat Boone, of the National Day of Prayer Task Force.

Senator Mervyn Dymally is quoted in the Congressional Record on the day of the Senate vote as having said, "The National Day of Prayer is a celebration of the 'free exercise' clause of the first amendment. Let us join in spirit with the Founding Fathers to acknowledge God's role in our lives and to turn to Him for personal and national guidance."

The National Day of Prayer Task Force is responsible for coordinating and distributing information and materials to interested individuals around the country.

Its goal is to help make citizens aware of their right, privilege and responsibility to pray for our nation, its leaders and its people on this historic day.

Feast of Ascension gives believing Christians hope

USAIC Chaplain's Office

The feast of the Ascension gives every believing Christian hope. The trials of this life are often weighing heavily on one's shoulders, but St. Paul reminds us that "we are heirs of God, heirs of Christ, if only we suffer with him so as to be glorified with him." (Rom 8:17)

A very remarkable resemblance to Christ is the figure of Joseph of Egypt whose life is described by the Holy Spirit in the book of Genesis in such a way as to refigure in striking details the life of Jesus.

Joseph was also the beloved of his father. He was sent on a mission to his brothers and rejected by them. He was sold for 20 pieces of silver, falsely accused and thrown into prison.

He was later proclaimed innocent and was raised to the highest position in Egypt under the Pharaoh. In the years of famine he became the savior of the people and of his own brothers, whom he forgave and cared for with great solicitude. It is easy to see the resemblance in all these details with Jesus who was similarly treated, rejected by his own and then raised to share the throne of the most high in heaven.

The Ascension of the Lord is his exaltation at the Father's Right hand. He was rejected by his own people and raised to the throne of the Father. Now all mankind acknowledges that he whom they crucified has become the cornerstone of God's true spiritual temple. Now all people come to him asking for pardon and forgiveness of their sins and look to him as their shepherd who nourishes them with the food that sustains. "He was manifested in the flesh, vindicated in the Spirit: seen by the angels; preached among the nations; believed in throughout the world; taken up into glory." (1 Tim. 3:16)

Today we look up to God with new vigor and courage, because we see what lies ahead of the valley of tears. God does not give man suffering for suffering sake. Suffering is the paved road to exaltation and glory, provided one suffers with Christ the Savior.

CHAPEL BRIEFS

USAIC Chaplain's Office

Ecumenical

Vacation Bible School — Vacation Bible School classes will be held from 10 a.m. through noon June 18 through 23 at Dexter, McBride and Wilson schools. Classes will include Bible study, music, crafts, recreation and refreshments.

Adult volunteers are needed. Call 545-2050 for more information.

Catholic

Military Council of Catholic Women — The next meeting of the MCCW will be the first Friday of May at 9:30 a.m. in the Religious Education Center. Rosary will be followed by a Mass and induction of the new board. A pot-luck lunch will follow. Baby-sitting is provided. Call Bobbie Pearce, 687-6145, for more information.

Protestant

PWOC — The Protestant Women of the Chapel meet each Thursday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Religious Education Center. Baby-sitting is provided. Contact Debby Godwin, 687-7157, or Annette Saul, 682-1157 for more information.

Muslim

Friday services — Muslim services are conducted each Friday at noon in Olson Hall, Room E-303. For more information, call the Allied Liaison Student Detachment at 545-4212.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)
2622 Macon Road
Douglas A. Garner, Pastor
Sunday School 9:45AM
Morning Worship 11:00AM
EVERYONE WELCOME!

ROSE HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST
7479 Old Moon Road
DAVID G. SPIECE, MINISTER
• BIBLE STUDY 10:00 AM
• EVENING WORSHIP 6:30 PM
• WEDNESDAY MIDWEEK SERVICE 7:30 PM

First Assembly of God
1309 10th Ave. at 13th St.
Phenix City, Ala.
WELCOMES ALL
Military Personnel
to worship with us.
Sunday School 9:45
Services 10:45
Evening Service 6:00pm

SOUTH COLUMBUS UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
1213 Benning Drive
10 Minutes from Ft. Benning
Sunday School 9:45 am
Morning Worship 11:00 am
689-5094

OUR LADY OF LOURDES CATHOLIC CHURCH
Located near Ft. Benning
at 1953 Torch Hill Rd.
Phone 689-5720
SATURDAY VIGIL
MASS 5:30pm
SUNDAY MASSES
8:30am & 11:00am

NORTHSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(A New Testament Church)
1442 Double Churches Road
Sunday School 9:45am
Morning Worship 10:45am
Evening Worship 6:00pm
Spencer Arnold, Minister
324-5220

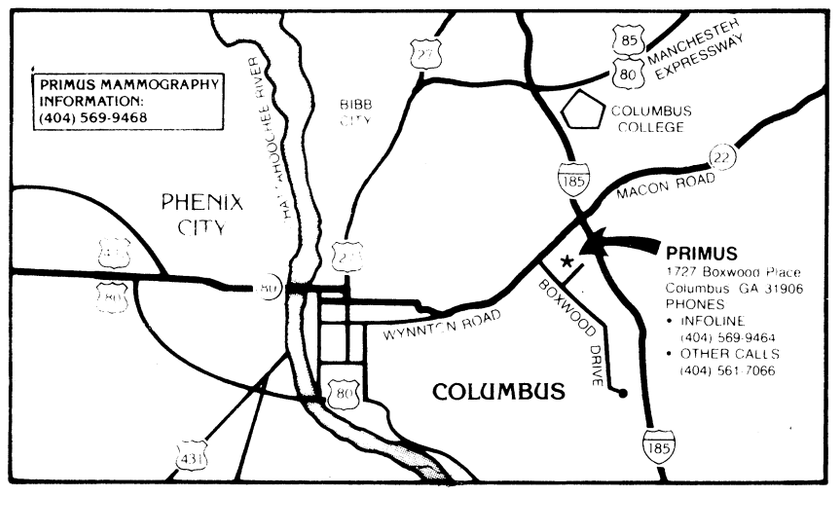
Attend the Church of Your Choice

VICTORY DRIVE CHURCH OF GOD
3941 Victory Drive 689-3359
Service Times
Sunday School 10 am, Worship 11 am
Childrens Church 11 am, Evening Worship 6 pm
Wed. 7 pm Family Training Hr., Fri. 7 pm Youth Night
Senior Pastor M. H. Avera III 682-4664
SPANISH MINISTRY
Sunday School 10am, Worship 11 am
Thursday 7:30 pm 568-7018
Spanish Pastor Pedro Sanchez

NORTH HIGHLAND ASSEMBLY OF GOD
7300 Livingston Drive Columbus, Georgia 31909
Weekly Service Schedule
Sunday School 9:30am, Worship 10:30am & 6pm
Wednesday Evening, Family Night 7:00pm
(Children & Youth Activities—Adult Bible Study)
Security Parking Nursery
Jimmy R. Swilley, Sr. Pastor For Information call (404) 561-7777

PRIMUS

NEW ARMY PRIMUS CENTER PROVIDES WALK-IN MEDICAL CARE



PRIMUS Walk-In centers are a new approach to providing military beneficiaries access to primary health care. PRIMUS Columbus will be open 365 days each year—from 0700 to 2000 weekdays and from 0900 to 1600 Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays (Effective 10-1-88).

No appointment is necessary and there is no cost to patients for treatment and medication.

All military beneficiaries, including family members, entitled to care at military treatment facilities and enrolled in the DEERS are eligible for care. Basic laboratory and X-ray services are provided on site. Licensed and credentialed physicians and staff provide medical care.

PRIMUS Columbus is located at
1727 Boxwood Place
Columbus, GA 31906

Infoline: (404) 569-9464
Other Calls: (404) 561-7066

PRIMUS Mammography Information: (404) 569-9468

Critically ill or seriously injured patients should go to a hospital emergency room.
Services are provided by PHP Healthcare Corporation, Alexandria, Virginia, under contract to the US Army Health Services Command.

Ann M. McDonald

Proud winners of Officers' Wives' Club scholarships.

Officers' Wives' Club presents scholarships

Officers' Wives' Club

The Officers' Wives' Club Scholarship Committee announced the recipients of the 1989 Merit Scholarships recently.

Jill Cairns, daughter of Lt. Col and Mrs. Robert B. Cairnes is the recipient of the $2,000 OWC Merit Scholarship. She is a National Merit Scholar and will graduate in June from Brookstone where she has maintained an A average and started a Girls' Cross Country Track Team.

Melissa Segal, also graduating from Brookstone where she was the Debating Club president, is a recipient of a $1,500 OWC Scholarship. She is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Herbert Segal. Melissa plans to attend Duke University.

Jennifer Pavlick, daughter of Maj. and Mrs. Charles Pavlick is a recipient of a $1,500 OWC Scholarship. She is a National Merit Scholar and will be graduating from Brookstone where she lead her Mock Trial Team to the National Finals.

Katherine Crowley is the daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. James Crowley and is the recipient of a $1,000 OWC Scholarship. She will graduate from Pacelli High School and plans to attend Johns Hopkin University where she will pursue an Air Force career in chemical engineering.

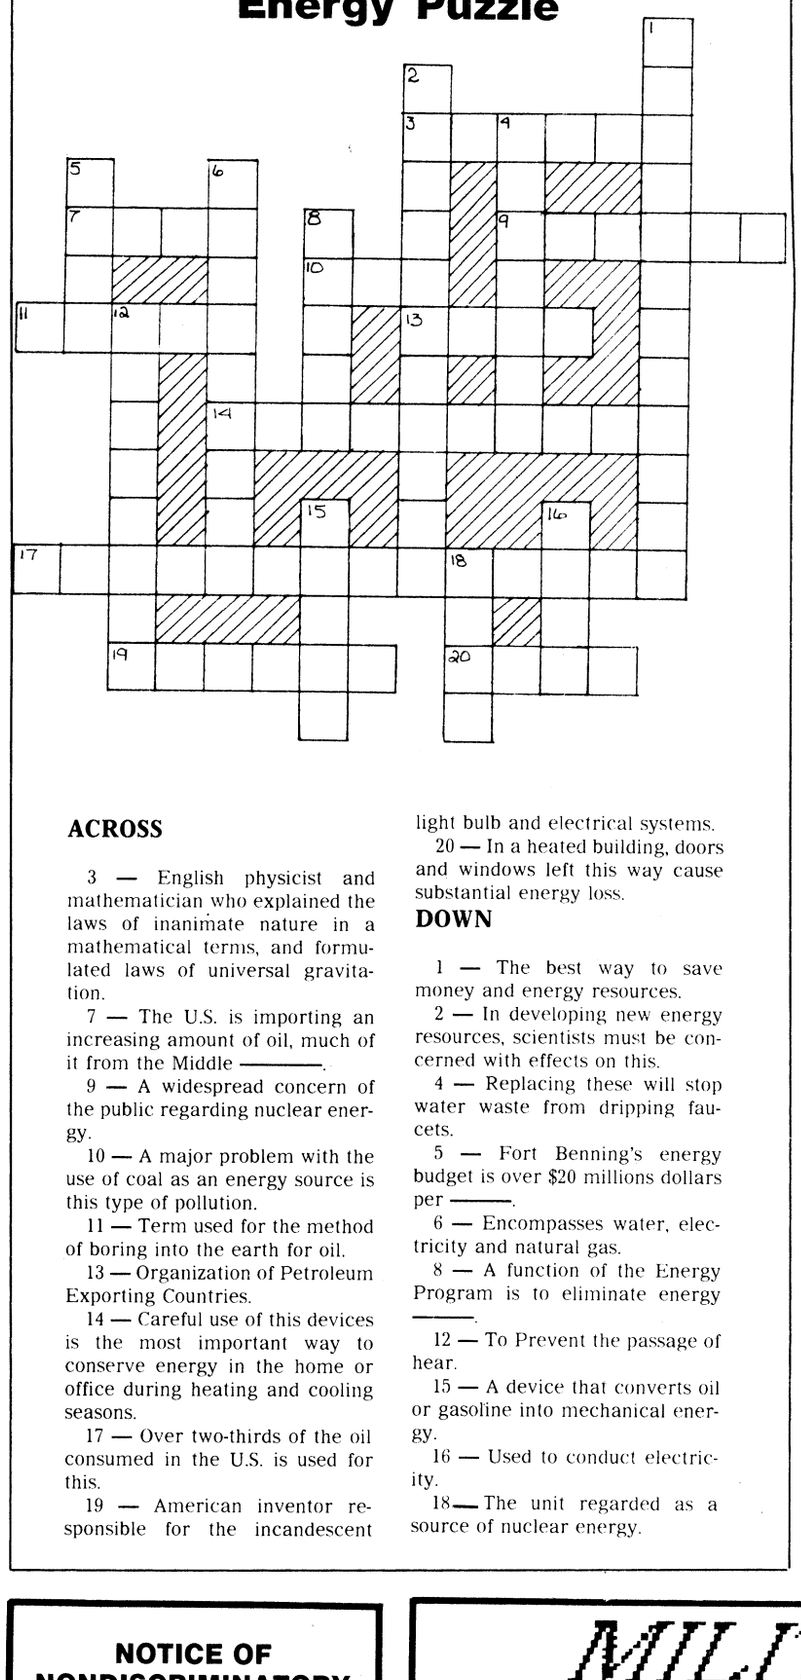
Clay Davis, son of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Clay Davis III, is the recipient of a $1,000 OWC Scholarship. While a senior at Spencer High School, Clay has been taking advance mathematics courses at Columbus College. He plans to attend Georgia Tech and major in engineering.

Gil Gomez, son of retired SFC and Mrs. Gumersindo Gomez, is the recipient of a $1,000 OWC Scholarship. Gil will graduate from Spencer High School and plans to attend school in Georgia and major in journalism. This past year he served as editor for the Ledger-Enquirer Teen Page.

Greg Harkins, son of Col. and Mrs. Gerald Harkins, is the recipient of a $1,000 OWC Scholarship. He will graduate of Spencer High School this June and plans to continue his studies majoring in aerospace engineering at the United States Military Academy.

Robin Hewitt, daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Roger Hewitt is a recipient of a $1,000 OWC Scholarship. She will graduate from Columbus High School where she was president of the Model U.N. Club. Robin plans to major in business and political science at Wake Forest University.

The OWC Continuing Education Scholarships have been awarded on the basis of academic and community involvement to the following members:



Marsha Orr, wife of 1st Lt. James Orr, is attending Columbus College working on a Graduate Degree Certification in early childhood education. She is the recipient of the Columbus College Continuing Education Scholarship and a $500 OWC Scholarship.

Linda Lavigne, wife of Lt. Col. John Lavigne, is the recipient of the Troy State full-year scholarship. She is currently working on an Undergraduate Degree in social services.

Carmen Conneran, wife of Capt. Thomas Conneran is the recipient of a $500 OWC Scholarship. She is attending Troy State University where she is majoring in management.

Donna Ziegler, wife of 1st Lt. Charles Ziegler and a current OWC board member, is the recipient of a $500 OWC Scholarship. She is attending Troy State where she is majoring in social studies.

Energy Puzzle

ACROSS

3 — English physicist and mathematician who explained the laws of inanimate nature in a mathematical terms, and formulated laws of universal gravitation.

7 — The U.S. is importing an increasing amount of oil, much of it from the Middle ———.

9 — A widespread concern of the public regarding nuclear energy.

10 — A major problem with the use of coal as an energy source is this type of pollution.

11 — Term used for the method of boring into the earth for oil.

13 — Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

14 — Careful use of this devices is the most important way to conserve energy in the home or office during heating and cooling seasons.

17 — Over two-thirds of the oil consumed in the U.S. is used for this.

19 — American inventor responsible for the incandescent light bulb and electrical systems.

20 — In a heated building, doors and windows left this way cause substantial energy loss.

DOWN

1 — The best way to save money and energy resources.

2 — In developing new energy resources, scientists must be concerned with effects on this.

4 — Replacing these will stop water waste from dripping faucets.

5 — Fort Benning's energy budget is over $20 millions dollars per ———.

6 — Encompasses water, electricity and natural gas.

8 — A function of the Energy Program is to eliminate energy ———.

12 — To Prevent the passage of hear.

15 — A device that converts oil or gasoline into mechanical energy.

16 — Used to conduct electricity.

18 — The unit regarded as a source of nuclear energy.

Win a weekend in Florida

By Becky Ray
Energy Branch

Test your knowledge of energy and win a chance at a weekend in Destin. All correctly completed puzzles will go into a drawing for a weekend's lodging in Florida.

Just send in your completed crossword puzzle by May 10. Everyone entering gets a sun shade or a can insulator. All correct entries win an official "Captain Conservo" T-shirt. The grand-prize winner gets lodging for a family of four at the Destin Recreation Center Hotel in Destin, Fla. Complete the energy crossword puzzle and mail it to:

U.S. Army Infantry Center, DEH, Energy Branch, attention: ATZB-EH-FM, Fort Benning, Ga. 31905-5122, or deliver your puzzle to the Energy Branch office in building 262 on Edwards Street.

All entries must be received before 4 p.m. May 10. All active duty military family members, retired military and civil service employees of Fort Benning (except those in FMO Division, DEH) are eligible to enter.

The winner's name will be drawn from all correct entries May 11. Entries must be legible, and a name, address and daytime telephone number must be included on the entry. One entry per person.

The grand-prize winner will be notified by telephone after the drawing.

T-shirts and other prizes can be picked up at building 262 May 15 through 19. Hotel reservation dates are for the nights of June 9 and 10. For more information, call Becky Ray at 545-4652.

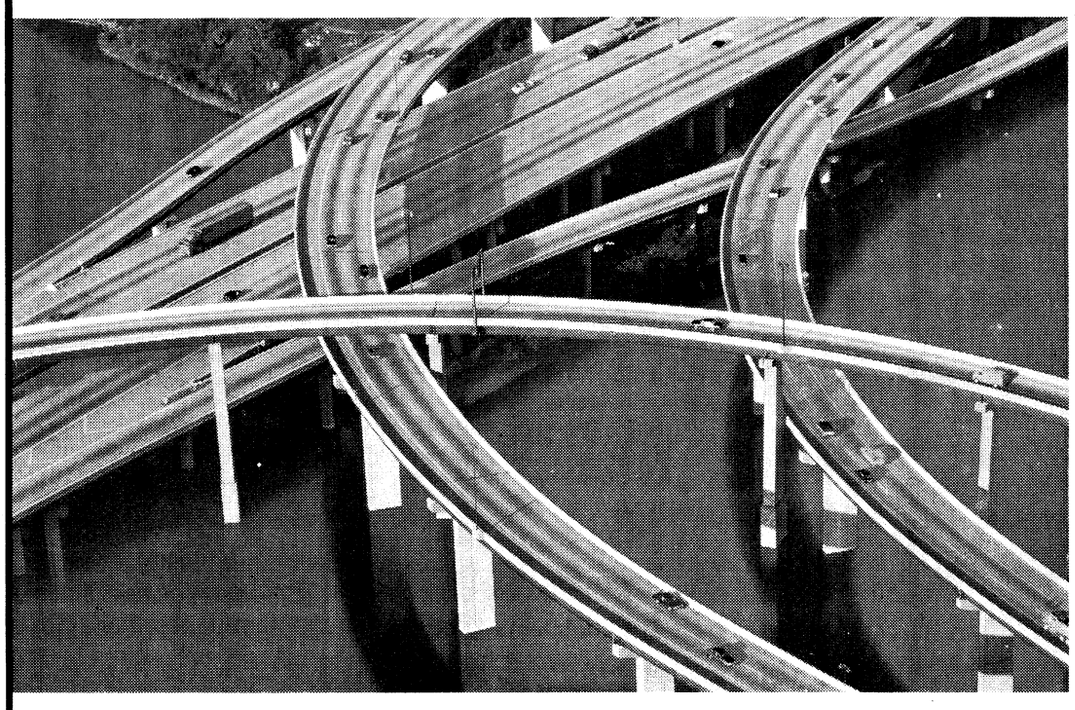
NOTICE OF NONDISCRIMINATORY POLICY AS TO STUDENTS

The Fort Benning Early Childhood Development Center, Inc. 102 Baltzell Ave., Ft. Benning, Ga., admits students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all the rights, privileges, programs, and activities generally accorded or made available to students at the school. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and ethnic origin in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship and loan programs, and athletic and other school-administered programs.

MILITARY WELCOME

NEW LOTTERY PICK UP SERVICE

PERSONAL CHECKS
MILITARY CHECKS
PAYROLL CHECKS
OUT OF STATE CHECKS
INCOME TAX CHECKS
ALLOTMENT CHECKS
INSURANCE CHECKS
ALMOST ANY CHECK



MR. CHECK CASHER
$ NEW LOCATION $
3809 Victory Drive
Traffic Circle Shopping Center
687-8666

The Linen Outlet
Accessories for the Home
90 Day LayAway
Open Mon.-Sat.10-6
2211 Wynnton Rd.
323-9211

DISCOUNTED AIR LINE TICKETS
30%-70% OFF
DOMESTIC/INTERNATIONAL
*Subject to availability and restrictions imposed by airlines.
TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
4393 VICTORY DRIVE
ARCCO PLACE
COLUMBUS, GA.
689-3092
FT. BENNING MAIN POST
EXIT 1
SAND HILL
VICTORY DRIVE
Arcco
Travel World
Arcco Place

ONE HOUR PHOTO™
Exchange Service Concessionaire
ANNOUNCES A NAME CHANGE TO
FOUR STAR PHOTO INC.
1 Hour Photo Service
at Main PX Mall Bldg. 9230
682-9787
24 HOUR DROP OFF & PICK UP SERVICES AVAILABLE AT
● Bldg. 10800 Custer Terrace Shoppette
● Bldg. 3218 Sand Hill PX Mall
● Bldg. 4 Infantry Hall PX
● Bldg. 1711 Main Post Mini Mall
● Bldg. 9002 Kelley Hill PX

Protect yourself in this theater of operations...

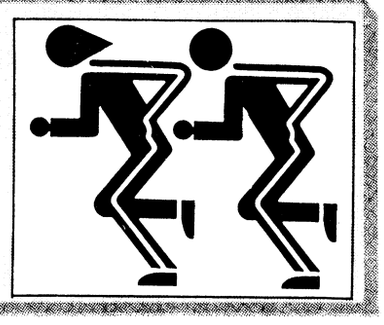
Be sure about your car insurance.

You're an ace driver. But it's a jungle out there on the road. You need heavy backup. Are you sure about your present coverage? Is the company dependable? What about claims? Can they save you money with deductibles? Are you paying too much? Answers to these questions are as close as your phone. Call your GEICO Representative before you drive another mile. You can get a free, no-obligation rate quote in minutes. And be sure to ask about these other GEICO extras:

● A low initial down-payment starts your coverage
● Fast-action, 24-hour claim service in the U.S. and Canada
● GEICO has offices near most major military installations
● Convenient payment plans make budgeting a breeze
● GEICO can arrange overseas car insurance for you
● Over a half century of GEICO dependability and experience

Insist on quality car insurance. Stop in or call your local GEICO Representative today for a free rate quote.

GET TO KNOW GEICO
Call: 689-2787
2029 S. Lumpkin Road
(In the Oakland Park Shopping center)



Serving those who serve the nation
Government Employees Insurance Co. • GEICO General Insurance Co. • GEICO Indemnity Co.
88 19 alC 043

Unit

USARSA selects distinguished instructor, soldiers of the quarter. See B-2.

Sports

The Mountain Ranger Run is Saturday in Dahlonega. See B-3.

Entertainment

"Colors" is the Saturday evening feature at Main Post Theatre. Show time is 9 p.m. See complete moving listing on B-4.

ARMY NEWS

Retention allows recruiting decrease

Armywide retention efforts have been so successful that the Army's fiscal 1989 recruiting mission has been lowered by 1,000, according to Lt. Gen. Allen K. Ono, deputy chief of staff for personnel.

The reduction will be entirely in Category IV, or those who achieve the minimum acceptable scores on the armed forces aptitude tests. The Army in the last quarter of fiscal 1988 had experienced a slight upturn in the number of Category IV recruits it accepted, in order to meet its overall mission.

★ ★ ★

CSC board considers majors and captains

Some 7,000 majors and promotable captains will be considered by the 1989 Command and Staff College selection board that convened Tuesday.

Officers eligible for considerations are majors in year groups 1976-1979 (inclusive) and promotable captains in year group 1989.

Officials from the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnnel emphasized the importance of this year's selection board, saying it will complete several Army chief of staff-directed actions resulting from a recent leadership development study.

Featured during this year's board are:

- Equity among the year groups and branches. ODCSPER officials say the Army will target on a 50-percent selection opportunity (within 4 percent) for each year group over their total period of eligibility (four years).
- The establishment of "branch bands," in which the best-qualified officers will be selected to meet proponent-generated Army requirements.
- A gradual reduction in the deferred pool.
- Earlier selection for below-the-zone officers.

★ ★ ★

Ordnance branch seek soldiers

The Explosive Ordnance Disposal branch needs qualified soldiers to join the EOD team.

Soldiers from private first class to specialist (promotable) may apply for reclassification to the EOD military occupational specialty 55D.

EOD technicians have a high-visibility job. Working with local civilian law enforcement agencies, soldiers give VIP and joint-service mission support worldwide.

The EOD branch has one of the highest promotion rates in the Army. Promotion to sergeant is almost guaranteed with the recommendation of the local promotion board.

Soldiers selected for the EOD branch will train extensively for 30 weeks at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., and Indianhead Naval Air Station, Md. In addition to this training, soldiers will experience a full range of professional development courses.

If you are interested in reclassifying, see your local career counselor or visit your local personnel service center.

-- from Army News Service reports.

Quote

"The deterrence of war is the primary objective of the armed forces."

-- Gen. Maxwell D. Taylor

Services pitch in clean-up efforts

Army News Service

With support that ranges from seagoing vessels and helicopters to two soldiers aboard a dredge from the Soviet Union, the Army and its Defense Department sister services are pitching in to help clean up the oil spill in Prince William Sound, Alaska.

Under the oversight of Coast Guard Commandant Adm. Paul Yost, a joint task force headed by Air Force Lt. Gen. Thomas McInerney, commander of the Alaska Air Command, is providing Army, Army and Air National Guard, Navy, Air Force and Marine Corps assistance in manpower and equipment.

Coast Guard officials estimate that 10.5 million gallons of oil were released in Prince William Sound when the Exxon Corporation tanker Valdez ran aground in Valdez, Alaska.

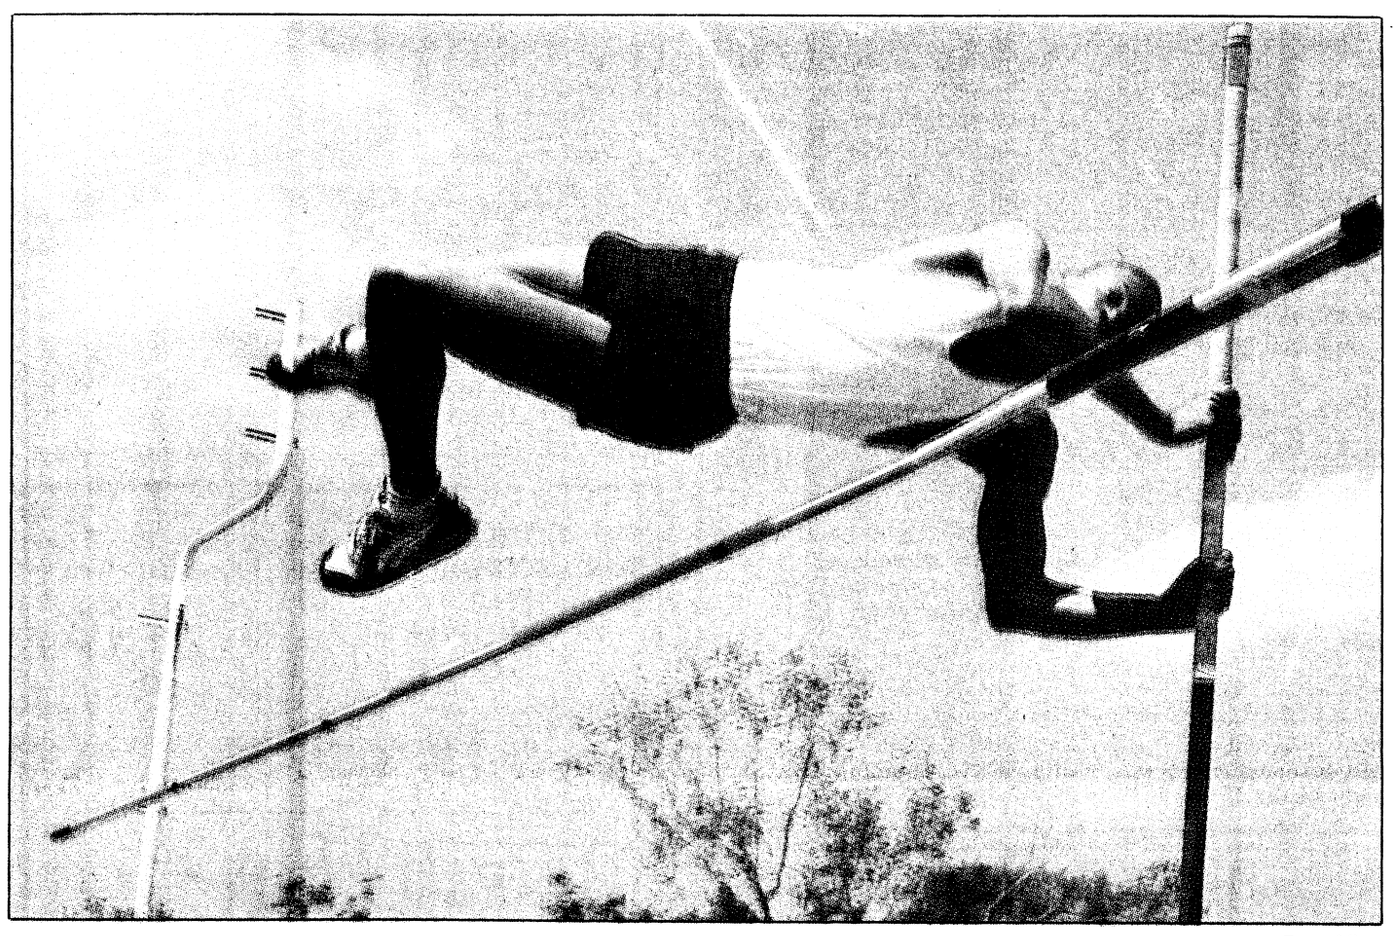
Army Lt. Col. Roy Turgeon, a member of the DoD operations team, noted the importance of the Army's participation in the clean-up operation.

"The Army is doing its part, in conjunction with the other services, to support the DoD portion of the clean-up," Turgeon said. "The soldiers involved are contributing significantly to an extremely important effort."

Two Army Corps of Engineers dredges — the Yaquina and the Essayons — are on the scene to assist in skimming oil from the water and to provide logistical support to the effort; the dredges are manned by 50 crew members.

A Soviet skimmer under contract to Exxon, the Vaydagursky, is assisting U.S. private and Navy skimmers in the clean-up operation. Two Army Russian linguists are aboard the Soviet vessel to act as interpreters.

Eight Forces Command helicopters manned by 36 crew members from Fort Richardson, Alaska, and Fort Benning are also involved in the clean-up.



Three UH-1H "Iroquois" and two CH-47 "Chinook" helicopters from the 6th Infantry Division (Light), as well as three UH-60 "Blackhawks" from the 498th Medical Company (Air Ambulance) at Benning will provide medical evacuations to clean-up personnel.

The U.S.S. Juneau, an "Austin" class amphibious transport dock, is on its way to Prince William Sound from its home port in San Diego. The Juneau will provide communications, medical, laundry, housing, and dining facilities to clean-up workers.

In addition to the Juneau, Navy participation in the Valdez operation includes 20 skimmers, 10 tow boats, and a wide variety of specialized equipment. More than 90 Navy contract workers are committed to the operation.

In 42 sorties, Air Force C-5, C-141, C-130, and C-12 aircraft had airlifted more than 1,000 tons of equipment for use in the operation by April 21.

Army and Air National Guard and Naval militia personnel and equipment are also involved in the clean-up. Twenty-seven guardsmen and militia personnel are participating in the operation; reserve component equipment being used in the clean-up include two CH-54 helicopters, a C-12, and various utility vehicles.

Ron Allen

Over the top

Ken Turner of 2nd Bn., 11th Inf. goes over the top in the pole vault event during the 1989 USAIC Track and Field Meet. See B-3 for story and results.

Re-ups made easier for non-unit Reserve soldiers

Army News Service

With help from Army recruiters, non-unit Reserve soldiers now have an easier time re-enlisting, according to retention officials at the Army Reserve Personnel Center in St. Louis.

A recent agreement between ARPERCEN and the U.S. Army Recruiting Command put the new effort into place.

ARPERCEN officials say there are nearly 250,000 Reserve soldiers who aren't unit members. They include members of the Individual Ready Reserve and the Individual Mobilization Augmentation program.

Maj. Jennie Henry, ARPERCEN's re-enlistment officer, says IRR and IMA soldiers who want to re-enlist first deal with their ARPERCEN personnel management noncommissioned officer, who starts the action and forwards the documents and instructions to the soldiers.

Once they have their re-enlistment documents, IRR and IMA soldiers can now call upon Army recruiters. They will help the soldiers complete the paperwork and schedule a commissioned officer to administer the oath.

"It's crucial that IRR and IMA soldiers wanting to re-enlist contact their ARPERCEN personnel management NCO first," Henry stresses. "Only when they've received the re-enlistment forms and information from ARPERCEN should they contact recruiters."

ARPERCEN personnel managers are available through toll-free telephone lines. IRR and IMA soldiers who don't know which number to call may call (314) 263-7828 for information, or write for a listing of the toll-free numbers to Commander, ARPERCEN, ATTN: DARP-ZPA, 9700 Page Blvd., St. Louis, Mo. 63132-5200.

ACS helps youth find summer employment, part-time work

Army News Service

Teens looking for a summer job or part-time work should start with the Army Community Service office, comes word from the U.S. Army Community and Family Support Center.

"Frequent relocation and diverse experiences enable Army youth to acquire many talents that may be desirable to perspective employees," said Wilett Bunton. She serves as a program analyst for Army Community Service at the center.

As with military spouses, Family Member Employment Assistance Program coordinators encourage Army youth looking for a job to visit their ACS FMEAP office before they make a permanent change of station. This enables them to identify employment and training opportunities at the next duty station.

"Keep in mind, however," Bunton said, "work age requirements may vary depending upon state laws. Installation ACS centers maintain listings of federal and private-sector summer and part-time employment opportunities.

"We also help local civilian personnel offices publicize their installation summer-hire programs," said Bunton. "Other services may include workshops and self-initiated learning activities to teach youth job-seeking skills, such as interviewing and dressing for success."

Fort Benning Job Fair

Fort Benning's Family Member Employment Assistance Center will sponsor a "Job Fair" at the Youth Activities Center May 17 from 3 to 5 p.m.

Local companies and several post agencies will take applications for summer work. Military recruiters and several college counselors will be available to answer questions.

The Job Fair is aimed at youths ages 12 to 21. For more information, call FMEAC at 545-5340.

DEERS enrollment required for dental plan use

Army News Service

Many active duty family members still don't realize that they must be enrolled in the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System in order to get claims paid under the Active Duty Dependents Dental Plan.

Information on all persons eligible for the dental plan who are listed on DEERS is provided to DDP-Delta, the contractor that administers the dental plan. Delta uses this information to determine eligibility for claims payment.

The dental plan is not part of CHAMPUS, the Civilian Health and Medical Plan for the Uniformed Services. It's only available to the eligible family members of active duty servicemembers.

To enroll in the dental plan, active duty sponsors must complete appropriate forms at their military personnel office.

After enrolling, a monthly premium is withheld from the sponsor's pay.

Sponsors also enroll their eligible family members in DEERS at the personnel office. Until eligible family members are signed up with DEERS, they can't get claims paid under the dental plan.

Denied claims will be returned with instructions for the sponsor to contact the personnel office, finance, or DEERS to correct enrollment errors.

More information may be obtained by calling the DEERS telephone center Monday through Friday between 6 a.m. and 3:30 p.m. Pacific time at 1-800-538-9552.

DO YOU KNOW

DoD's annual bill for energy?

about $7 billion

The world's three leading petroleum producers?

Soviet Union, Saudi Arabia and the United States

The world's three leading consumers of petroleum products?

United States, Soviet Union and Japan

Number of states that have some oil or gas production?

31

UNIT NEWS

USARSA selects distinguished instructor

By Keith F. Johnson
U.S. Army School of Americas

"The role of the officer and NCO as leaders in today's Army is to teach and prepare younger soldiers to successfully complete their mission," says Capt. Heriberto Garcia, a field artillery instructor at the U.S. Army School of the Americas.

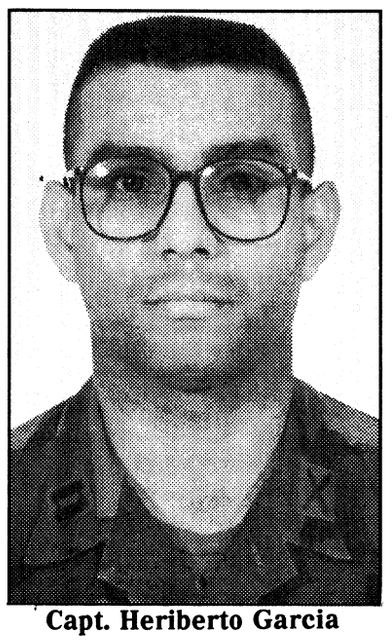
Garcia added, "Training is the most important part of the Army. Without it, things are not going to happen."

Garcia, who has been an instructor with the school's Department of Combat Operations since June 1988, recently won USARSA's Distinguished Instructor award for the second quarter of fiscal year 1989.

"A good instructor always knows his audience and their capabilities and sets the standard while pushing his students to meet it," Garcia said.

Garcia, who has worked as a fire support officer from company to brigade level, has adapted easily to his role as an instructor because of what he calls a "family tradition."

"I come from a family of teachers," Garcia said. "My mother, brother and sister are all teachers; and I enjoy teaching."



Garcia, born in San Juan, Puerto Rico, came to the United States at age 18 to attend Boston University on a Reserved Officer Training Corps scholarship. While there, he quickly learned the English language while completing his degree in International Relations in Latin American Affairs in 1981. He considers his assignment at the school a continuation in the field of study.

"The school is an important instrument in shaping diplomatic relations between the Americans and bringing countries together in Latin America," Garcia said.

Part of Garcia's job as an instructor is to ensure the students are receiving the most current Army doctrine.

"I have to ensure that what we are teaching at the school, in relation to field artillery, is the same as what is being taught at Fort Sill, Oklahoma," Garcia said.

"Then, I adapt the instruction to the needs of individual students and country so they will have a practical use for what they've learned," he said.

Capt. Heriberto Garcia

The Distinguished Instructor award program, which began in fiscal year 1988, recognizes an instructor for his outstanding work each quarter.

During the fourth quarter, the Instructor of the Year is chosen from among the year's quarterly winners. The winner is then eligible to compete for the U.S. Army Training and Doctrine Command national Instructor of the Year award.

Cheryl M. Watters, Staff and Faculty Development Division chief, says the program is important because "it recognizes those instructors who are doing an outstanding job and shows them how much they are appreciated."

USARSA names Soldiers of Qtr

By Keith F. Johnson
U.S. Army School of Americas

"The soldier has the opportunity to show his peers and superiors his professionalism and dedication to the service," said the U.S. Army School of the Americas' Sgt. Maj. Victor Montanez, describing what it means to be chosen as a Soldier of the Quarter.

The Soldiers of the Quarter at USARSA for the second quarter of fiscal year 1989 were SFC Elias Ramos and Spec. Latricia Washington.

Ramos, a senior instructor of leadership, and Washington, an administrative specialist for the school's dining facility, both agreed the many hours spent preparing for the board were the reason for their success.

"I spent many hours after work preparing for the competition," Ramos said. "Now I'm going to continue to study and give the Soldier of the Year competition a try."

Washington, competing for the first time, received some guidance from her husband, Spec. Brian D. Washington, an administrative specialist at the NCO Academy.

"The most difficult part of preparing for the board was building my confidence to go through with it," Washington said. "But my husband, who has appeared before a board before, convinced me and helped boost my confidence."

"I think the board members noticed how confident I was and because of that felt I was a squared-away soldier."

Washington was nominated for the board by SFC Lemesio R. Smith, USARSA dining facility' noncommissioned officer in charge, because "she has plenty of initiative and takes pride in her work."

Ramos, who has been in the service for 11 years and received training in airborne, sniper, jungle, northern winter and operations and intelligence, said he would like to go to drill sergeant and/or recruiting school after leaving USARSA.

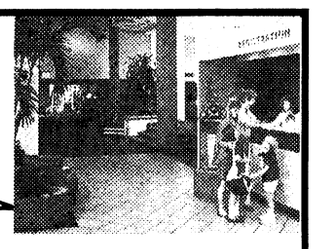
He said his duty as an instructor at the school has been important because of the school's international makeup.

"The U.S. and Latin American instructors at the school have the opportunity to share military skills and knowledge," Ramos said.

Both Ramos and Washington encourage other soldiers to keep up with their common skills training tasks and current events and make it a goal to become a soldier of the quarter.

Just Say No To Drugs!

Bayonet Advertising Really Pays!



United Services Life Companies
Investments-Life Insurance-Financial Planning
Jim Cotty
4034 Windtree Lane
568-7280
Lawrence P. Fulton, CLU
LTC US ARMY (RET)
596-8033
The Professionals!
United Services Life Companies
United Services Life Insurance Co.
United Services Equities, Inc.
Members of USLICO Corporation
Investment products distributed by USLICO Securities Corp., Arlington, VA.

R&R on a VOQ budget. No bunk.

At the Ramada Renaissance Hotel at the Airport, we're cutting military spending. By offering you lower-than-per-diem rates. With all the luxury you'd expect of our superb hotel. We'll even put a free pass to R&R Nite Club in your backpack just for fun. So the next time you need TDY to the real world, call Chris Adams at the Ramada Renaissance Hotel, 404-762-7676.
RAMADA RENAISSANCE HOTEL ATLANTA AIRPORT
Relocation rates available. Voted one of the top ten airport hotels in America.

EXCLUSIVE HOTEL RATES NEAR DISNEY!!!!!
SATO TRAVEL
A Full Service Travel Company

$23.00 Per night single or double. Children under 17 free in room with parent. Rates VALID UNTIL June 16, 1989

To Make reservations simply call 682-0361 or stop by BLDG. 247, Main Post.

WEATHERS SELF STORAGE
LOCALLY OWNED AND OPERATED
RESIDENTIAL COMMERCIAL

* YOU DEMAND TOP SECURITY
* YOU EXPECT PROFESSIONAL MANAGERS
* YOU REQUIRE CLEANLINESS
* YOU DESIRE COURTESY
* YOU WANT CONVENIENCE
* YOU NEED GOOD PRICES

ALL CONVENIENT SIZES AVAILABLE!

OPEN SEVEN DAYS A WEEK
8:00 AM — 10:00 PM

TWO LOCATIONS
322-7555 — 6165 HAMILTON RD.
689-8787 — 313 FORD DR. LINDSEY CREEK BY-PASS @ ST. MARY'S RD.

FREE
ALL TUNE and LUBE
Oil change, lube & filter with the purchase of an engine tune up.
COMPLETE ENGINE TUNE
$39.90*
Includes all parts and labor for most cars
Some Vans & Pick-ups Add'l.
12 MONTH/12,000 MILE WARRANTY
WITH COUPON ● WHILE YOU WAIT Exp. 5-12-89
Your Total Car Care Center

ALL TUNE and LUBE
● Oil Change, Lube & Filter $9.90 reg. $19.90
● Transmission Tune-up $24.90 reg. $29.90
● Air Conditioning Service $24.90 reg. $29.90
● Fuel Injector Service $39.90 reg. $49.90
● Brake Special (Most Vehicles) $34.90 reg. $63.90
FREE BRAKE INSPECTION CB

COLUMBUS
6028 MILLER ROAD
569-TUNE
Hours M-F 8 AM-7 PM
Sat. 8 AM-4 PM
OVER 70 LOCATIONS NATIONWIDE!

EXTRA! Pan Pizza News EXTRA!

NEW DOMINO'S PAN PIZZA™!

THE NOID® CRUSHED BY THE NEWS

(DP) The NOID panicked, (bonking himself on the head with a pan!) when he heard that Domino's now delivers pan pizza.

New Domino's Pan Pizza™, has thick, chewy crust, generous toppings, and lots of thick, gooey cheese. And it's delivered in 30 minutes or less, guaranteed. All of which creates pandemonium for the NOID.

DOMINO'S PIZZA GUARANTEE*
Service: We guarantee your pizza will arrive in 30 minutes or less from the time you order, or the driver will refund $3.00 off your order.
Product: We guarantee satisfaction with your pizza, or call the store manager within 30 minutes after delivery for a new pizza or for a full refund.
Pizza Take-Out: We guarantee your pizza take-out order will be ready in 15 minutes or you'll receive $3.00 off your order.
*Certain restrictions apply. Call store for details.

CALL US!
Serving Ft. Benning & Surrounding Area: 689-7676 127 Farr Road
Serving Main Post & S. Columbus: 689-5533 1919 South Lumpkin Dr.
DOMINO'S PIZZA® Nobody Delivers Better℠
Coca Cola* Classic in 12 oz. cans for $.60 (tax included)

PAN PIZZA & FREE COKE®
Try our new medium 12" cheese Domino's Pan Pizza™ for only $7.29 and receive TWO 12 oz. cans of Coke® FREE! Each additional topping only $1.02. (Tax not included on pizza)
Good thru 5/11/89
Our drivers carry less than $20. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offer. Limited delivery areas. ©1989 Domino's Pizza, Inc. BPC-4/28

$2.00 OFF!
Just call and order ONE large 16" pizza with TWO or more toppings and receive $2.00 OFF!
Good thru 5/11/89
Our drivers carry less than $20. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offer. Limited delivery areas. ©1989 Domino's Pizza, Inc. B2-4/28

Late Nite Special only $5.00
(Mon-Thurs after 9:00 p.m.) (Original Pizza Only)
Just call and order ONE original medium 12" one topping pizza for only $5.00. Tax included.
Good thru 5/11/89
Our drivers carry less than $20. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offer. Limited delivery areas. ©1989 Domino's Pizza, Inc. BLN-4/28

SPORTS

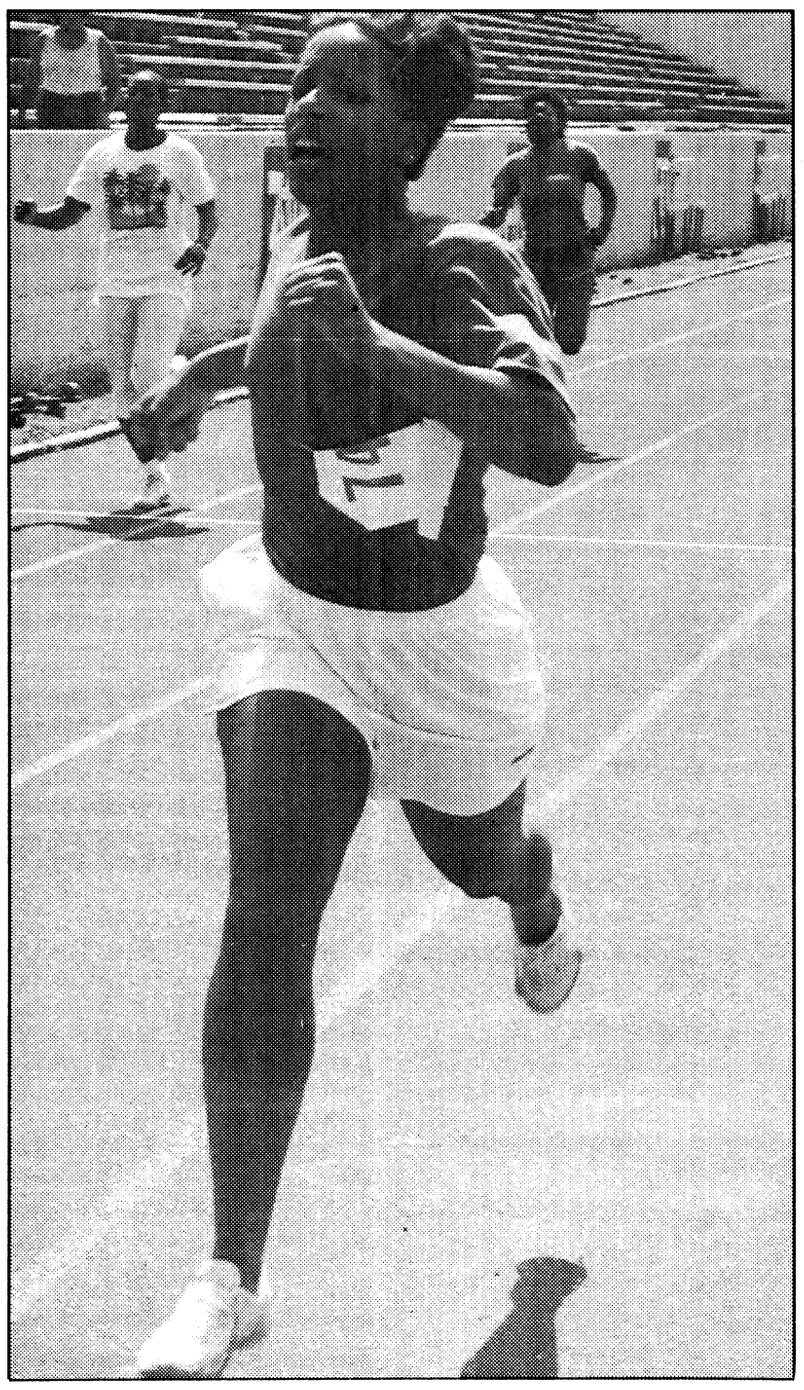
TSB, 29th Inf. grab track and field victories

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The School Brigade's 2nd Battalion, 11th Infantry racked up 91 points to win the 1989 Battalion Level Spring Track and Field Meet Friday.

The battalion had nine first-place finishes, seven second and six third.

Richard Armour grabbed first in both the Shot Put and the Discus events for 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.



Other first-place finishers for 2nd Bn. were King Simmons, 120-yard High Hurdles; Michael Woll, 1-Mile Run; Peter Fleming, Pole Vault; Calvin Moore, 440-yard Dash; Kevin Walruff, High Jump and Amos Winn, 100-yard Dash. The battalion's 440-Yard Relay team also placed first.

1st Battalion, 29th Infantry scored 66 points for a second-place team finish. The battalion had three first-place, seven second and four third

Elizabeth Dorsey led the team with a first in the Triple Jump, second in the 100-yard Dash and 880-yard run and third in the 220-yard dash.

The team's other first-place finishes came when Shane Anthony took the 880-yard run and its mile relay team won.

The third-place team was 1st Battalion, 11th Inf., with 41 points followed by the Medical Department Activity in fourth with 23.

Ron Allen

Sheila Carter, 1st Bn., 11th Inf., finishes first in the women's 220-yard dash.

1989 SPRING TRACK AND FIELD RESULTS

MEN'S DIVISION

120-Yard High Hurdles
King Simmons, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
Darick Bradley, 1st Bn., 11th Inf.
Jeffery Buczkowski, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.

1-Mile Run
Michael Woll, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
Douglas Davis, 43rd Eng. Bn.
Scott Gress, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.

880-Yard Run
Shane Anthony, 1st Bn., 29th Inf.
Scott Gress, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
James White, 1st Bn., 11th Inf.

Pole Vault
Peter Fleming, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
Kenneth Turner, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
Steven Austin, 197th Inf. Bde. Spt.

Shot Put
Richard Armour, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
Jerome Cohen, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
Curtis Allen, 1st Bn., 29th Inf.

Long Jump
Darick Bradley, 1st Bn., 11th Inf.
Chris Clark, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
David Cairo, MEDDAC

See TRACK B-5

Mountain Ranger Run to be held Saturday in Dahlonega

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The annual Mountain Ranger Run will be held on the North Georgia College campus in Dahlonega Saturday.

The run is sponsored by the Camp Frank D. Merrill Officer Association of the 5th Ranger Training Battalion.

The course follows a scenic and hilly loop through the college campus and surrounding community.

The event, which is open to both civilians and servicemembers, starts at 10 a.m. for a 1-mile fun run and 10:30 a.m. for a 5-mile run.

Late registration for the 5-mile run will cost $8.

All registered finishers in the 5-mile run will receive a T-shirt.

Certificates will be awarded to all runners in the 1-mile fun run.

Trophies will be awarded to the first, second and third place overall winners in the male and female categories in 5-mile run. Also, trophies will be awarded in the age group competition three deep.

Race packet may be picked up during registration from 8 a.m. until 10 a.m. at the North Georgia College gym.

There will be an awards ceremony and door prize drawing immediately following the run.

The run will be held rain or shine.

Proceeds from the event will benefit the Save A Youth Program.

For information and directions, call Capt. Billy M. Blackwell, Race Director, (404) 864-3367, extension 37.

Armed Forces Day Run May 20

Armed Forces Day Run

PLEASE PRINT CIRCLE ONE: 6.2 MILE 2.2 MILE
NAME _____ AGE _____ SEX _____
ADDRESS _____ CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____
EMERGENCY CONTACT _____ PHONE _____
SHIRT SIZE: (circle one) XL L M S

I hereby release all sponsors and officials of the Armed Forces Run from all claims of injury or damage resulting from my participation in this race. I further state that I am in proper physical condition to participate in a race of 2.2 miles and 6.2 miles (10,000 meters).

SIGNATURE _____ DATE _____
(Parent or guardian must sign if entrant under age 18.)

Mail or bring entry to: Physical Activities Branch
Doughboy Stadium, Building 394
Fort Benning, Ga. 31905-5226
Make checks payable to the MWR Fund, c/o CRD.

PRIVACY ACT STATEMENT

AUTHORITY: 10 USC 3012
PRINCIPAL PURPOSE AND ROUTINE USES: To determine eligibility for participation in CRD'S Armed Forces Day Run. Address and telephone number are used for individual notifications and forwarding of information regarding the run, certificates, etc.
DISCLOSURE: Voluntary. Failure to provide information may preclude participation in the run.

Group Entry

UNIT _____ NO. OF PERSONNEL _____
POC _____ PHONE _____
GROUP LEADER _____

NAME	SHIRT SIZE	NAME	SHIRT SIZE
1.		14.
2.		15.
3.		16.
4.		17.
5.		18.
6.		19.
7.		20.
8.		21.
9.		22.
10.		23.
11.		24.
12.		25.
13.

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The Armed Forces Day "Shape Up For Life" Run will be held May 20 in front of Infantry Hall, building 4.

The event features a 2.2-mile run and a 6.2-mile run, both starting at 7 a.m.

Individuals and 25-member teams are invited. Teams may compete in the 6.2-mile event only.

Pre-registration is $5 for individuals and must be postmarked no later than May 16. Pre-registration in person will be accepted at building 394, Doughboy Stadium, until 4:30 p.m. May 16.

Late registration for individuals is $7 and will be accepted at the stadium until 4:30 p.m. May 19 and at the race site from 6 a.m. until 6:45 a.m.

Team entry fee is $90. First, second and third place team trophies will be awarded.

Make checks payable to MWR Fund, c/o CRD, Physical Activities Branch, building 394, Fort Benning, Ga. 31905-5226. The individual's military unit and social security number must be included on checks.

Give to the Heart Fund

SPORTS SHORTS

USAIC battalion golf begins June 1

The USAIC battalion golf season begins June 1. Four separate seasons will be held.

The first season gets underway June 1 through July 7; the second season is July 17 through Aug. 4; the third season is Aug. 11 through Aug. 29 and the fourth season is Aug. 29 through Sep. 19. Championships will be held for each season.

All active duty personnel assigned or attached to a battalion-size unit at Fort Benning are eligible to participate.

Entry forms are available at Audie Murphy gym, Harmony Church field house, Santiago gym, Briant Wells field house, Kelley Hill gym or the post Sports Office.

For more information, call the sports director at 545-5777 or drop by the Sports Office, building 394.

USAIC softball season set

The USAIC softball season and championships have been set. The first season will be held May 18 through June 17. The second season is June 27 through Aug. 11.

Twenty teams will be compete for the post championship trophy. A scratch meeting for all coaches and A & R's will be held at Briant Wells field house at 10 a.m. May 11. A & R representatives should attend the meeting to receive information on upcoming changes to the 1989 softball season.

Doughboy team wants players

The Sports Office is looking for players for the 1989 Doughboy Softball team. Active duty military men and women only are eligible.

Tryouts will be held May 8 through May 12 at Gowdy Field from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Coaches are also needed. Applications for coaching positions are available at the Sports Office, building 394.

Call the sports director at 545-5777 or 545-7519 for more information.

USO giving away Braves' tickets

The USO is giving away Atlanta Braves baseball tickets by means of a drawing. Only active duty military personnel are eligible. To enter, put your name, rank, duty station, duty and work phone numbers on a postcard (DoD postcards are illegal) and mail to USO/Atlanta Braves Tickets, P. O. Box 20963, Atlanta, GA 30320. One one entry per person please.

A drawing will be held weekly on Tuesday. Each winner will receive two tickets to a Thursday or Sunday home game. Tickets should be picked up before the game at the press box office. Military identification must be shown when picking up tickets.

Women's league needs softball players

The Women's Intramural Softball League needs players. Season play begins May 18 and continues through June 17. The Sports Office will sign up interested players until the season begins.

Interested players should contact the Sports Office at 545-5777 or Alber McGruder at 544-1595 or 544-2486.

Small games tourney at Santiago gym

The Small Games Championship continues today at Santiago Fitness Center. Games for the competition are badminton, table tennis, handball, squash and horseshoes.

For games and times, call Santiago Fitness Center, 544-1595.

Sports Office needs boxers and trainers

Any military personnel interested in boxing for the Fort Benning boxing program should meet at Briant Wells field house, building 933, Monday through Friday at 5:30 p.m. Trainers are needed, also.

For further information, contact Speedy Austin at 545-4726/4388.

Post tennis tourney set to begin May 5

The 1989 U. S. Army Infantry Center's Tennis Championship will be held May 5 through 12 at the Community Recreation Division's tennis courts on Anderson Street behind Theatre #2.

Brigade and battalion teams will consist of two male players in the Open Division, two in the Junior Veterans Division, one in the Senior Division, and two female players in the Women's Division (team total of seven).

Senior Division entrants must be 45 years of age or over and junior veteran entrants must be 35 to 44 years of age as of May 5.

All military personnel on active duty at Fort Benning are eligible to participate.

Entry forms are available at the Community Recreation Division gymnasiums and at the Physical Activities Office, building 394. Entry deadline is May 1.

Body builders will compete June 10

The sixth annual Mr. and Ms. Fort Benning body building contest will be held June 10 at Marshall Auditorium in Infantry Hall, building 4.

The Mr. Fort Benning contest is open to all active duty military men stationed at Fort Benning.

The Ms. Fort Benning competition is open to active duty military females, dependents of active duty, retirees, Department of Army , Non-appropriated Fund and Army and Air Force Exchange Service employees.

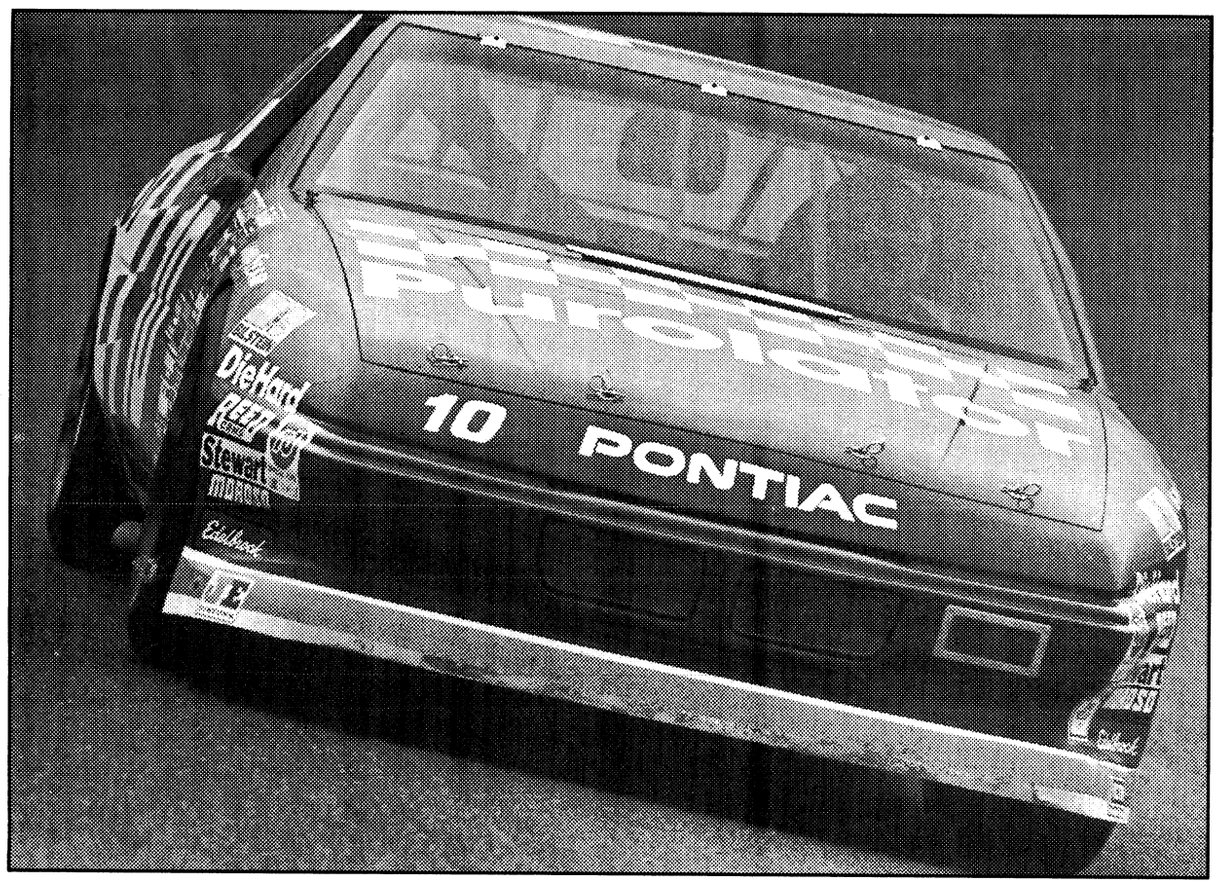
Awards will be presented to first, second and third place winners as well as the best poser in both the men and women competition. Also, in the men's category, an award will be presented to the "Most Muscular" competitor.

For more information, call Speedy Austin at 545-4726.

Follow Me Course holds tournaments

The following tournaments are available at Benning's Follow Me Golf Course:

- May 20 — Blind Partner Handicap (combined net score)
- May 28 through 29 — Dixie Memorial Tournament (four-man, two best balls)
- June 17 through 18 — Bi-City Golf Tournament (gross event, flighted)



Golfers pay half-price greens fees Monday through Friday with cart rental from 1 p.m. until dark. Call 687-1940 for additional information.

See SHORTS B-5

● BRAKE AMERICA ●
3914 BUENA VISTA ROAD
—BRAKE WORK—
Front & Rear End Repair
10% DISCOUNT WITH COPY OF THIS AD!
CALL 561-7221

ENTERTAINMENT

World's fastest 500-mile race at Talladega

The No.10 Whitcomb Racing Pontiac in the Winston 500 at Talladega will be driven by Derrike Cope and sponsored by Purolator.

By Ron Allen
USAIC Public Affairs Office

The fastest 500-mile race in the world will be at the Talladega Superspeedway in Talladega, Alabama May 7 for the 20th running of the annual Winston 500 NASCAR/FIA Stock Car Race.

Most people are under the impression that Indy cars are the fastest — but that just isn't so. A little research reveals NASCAR, indeed, has the fastest 500-milers around.

In 1985, at the Winston 500, Bill Elliot set the 500-mile record as he blazed around the 2.66-mile oval track in Talladega with an average speed of 186.288 miles per hour.

Where do the Indy cars place? They're sitting in 10th on the speed list with 170.722 miles per hour. Bobby Rahal set that Indy record in 1986 at the Indy 500.

But, for sheer speed, Talladega holds four of the top 10 places. During a race at Talladega, speeds can reach 210 miles per hour and more. In 1987, Elliot qualified for the pole position with a speed of 212.809.

Last year, Phil Parsons took the checkered flag at the Winston 500 with an average speed of 156.547.

Parsons was one of the first to enter this year's race, and Elliot is expected to run. Bobby Allison, who finished second last year, and Geoff Bodine, who took third, will also be on hand.

After the 1988 Winston 500 finish, Bodine went on the finish second in the DieHard 500. "That's third, then second, then ...it looks to me like I'm supposed to win the Winston 500," Bodine declared. "I can't remember when I haven't run well at Talladega. A couple of times we had tires go down and hit the wall, but we had been strong until then."

The "Greenest Rookie" this year, by his own definition, will be Ben Hess. He is one of nine strong contenders for the Champion/Sears Rookie of the Year honors for the 1989 season.

"This has got to be the strongest field of rookies ever," Hess said.

Another highlight of this year's race is the highly-publicized Chevrolet Lumina Coupe, the first model in NASCAR history to gain mid-season eligibility. It passed its first tests at Talladega Superspeedway over the past few weeks and will replace the Monte Carlo.

How does it compare? "It's the most comfortable race car I've ever driven," said Darrell Waltrip, who drove a Monte Carlo to victory in the Daytona 500 this year. "It is a much more stable car than the Monte Carlo."

The Winston 500 will be preceded by the Bumper to Bumper 500K Permatex Series Race May 6. This is no slouch of a race either. Bill Venturini clocked a qualifying time of 205.432 in 1987, and Patty Simko sped in at 199.604 that same year. Reo Farmer was last year's winner and will be back for a crack at it again May 6.

"That (last year's win) gives me bragging rights around the garage area this time," Farmer said. "Of course, I don't want to brag too loud, though. Grant (Adcox), Ben (Hess) or Tracy (Leslie) might hear me.

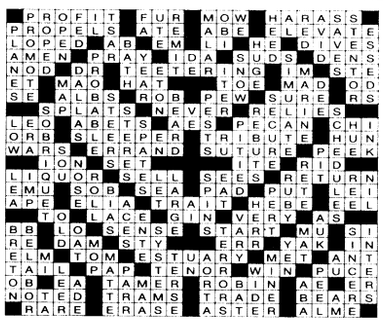
"All of those guys are strong as are several other teams. If Patty Moise enters, she'll be tough. She's gotten better and better each time she's run at Talladega," noted Farmer.

The speedway is located on Speedway Boulevard, which runs next to I-20, west of Atlanta at Exit 173 and 168 just outside Talladega, Ala.

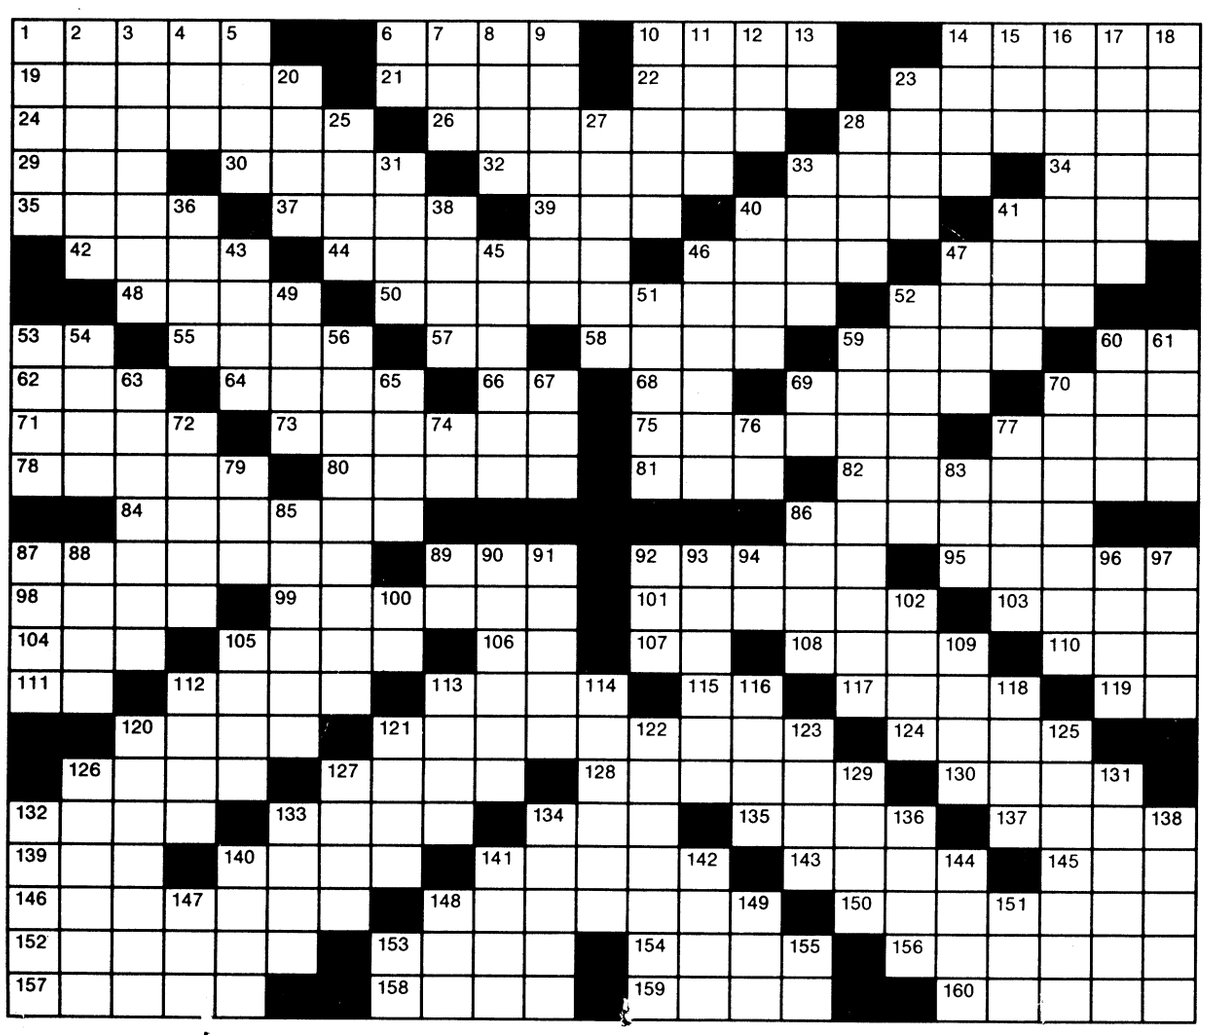
An expansion of some 7,000 seats on the backstretch has prompted speedway officials to announce that a selected portion of those seats will be sold on a reserved basis for the May 7 Winston 500. Tickets are on sale now and may be purchased by calling (205) 362-9064.

EDITOR'S NOTE: This article was written using news releases and information packets produced by the Talladega Superspeedway Press Department.

PUZZLE



ACROSS



1 Church parts
6 Mohammedan magistrate
10 Developed
14 Brimless cap
19 — to the core
21 Presently
22 "— of Angels"
23 Calm
24 Built
26 Hint
28 Wall coating
29 — sequitur
30 Pack away
32 "— Away"
33 Falsifier
34 Vase
35 Vehicle: colloq.
37 Portico
39 Arden or Plumb
40 Shut up
41 Units of energy
42 Auction word
44 Colonize
46 Saturate
47 Danza of TV
48 Disturbance
50 Types of daggers
52 Studies closely
53 Father
55 "Yours, Mine and —"
57 Above
58 Prophet
59 "— to Riches"
60 Olivier ID
62 Priest's vestment
64 Repetition
66 Tellurium symbol
68 Sodium symbol
69 Danish island
70 Farm animal
71 Pickle variety
73 Earthquake
75 Stain
77 Rescue
78 Metal
80 More ancient
81 Between R and T
82 Dwells
84 Beer mugs
86 Mock
87 Experiencing
89 Suitable
92 Item of property
95 Temporary shelters
98 High cards
99 Seesaw
101 Cyclindrical
103 Highlander
104 Free of
105 Remainder
106 Sun god
107 Printer's measure
108 Lucre
110 Guido's high note
111 Hypothetical force
112 Soil
113 Ten cents
115 Negative prefix
117 Expired
119 Hebrew month
120 Edible seeds
121 Airplane part
124 Fish sauce
126 Narrate
127 Remunerated
128 Short heavy coat
130 Fat of swine
132 Withered
133 Beatles film
134 Strike
135 New Mexico village and resort
137 Falsehoods
139 Type of cross
140 Clench with teeth
141 Food programs
143 Extinct flightless birds
145 Animal's foot
146 Confirms
148 Containers
150 Tread underfoot
152 Walked unsteadily
153 Female horse
154 Mature
156 Manipulated a telephone
157 Ancient chariot
158 Put on years
159 Mast
160 Cubic meter

DOWN

1 Place for combat
2 Permeable by liquids
3 Person having a loud voice
4 And so forth: abbr.
5 Deposits
6 Calcium symbol
7 Southern blackbird
8 Johnson and Rickles
9 Container for writing liquid
10 Complain: slang
11 Rave
12 Urge on
13 Pronoun
14 Chicago footballer
15 Bitter vetch
16 Comes back
17 Power
18 Gull-like birds
20 N.J. team
23 Narrow, flat board
25 Specks
27 River banks
28 "Pretty in —"
31 Sorrows
33 Meadows
36 Mixture
38 Aleutian island
40 Indigent
41 Vast ages
43 Sullen in aspect
45 Cautious; stealthy
46 Emits vapor
47 Delivery words
49 Jog
51 Taut
52 Calling
53 Cushions
54 Landed
56 Sturdiest
59 Rued
60 Affection
61 Is in debt
63 Consecrated
65 Lampreys
67 Go astray
69 Paid notice
70 Rhythm
72 Natives of Latvia
74 Physician: abbr.
76 "The Two of —"
77 Takes one part
79 Hawaiian wreath
83 Pose for portrait
85 Buries
86 Profound
87 Hawaiian rootstock
88 Sour
89 Near
90 Punctuation mark
91 Travel about on foot
92 Consumed
93 Pertaining to old age
94 Grad. to be
96 Indian weight
97 Pierce
100 Latin conjunction
102 Lamb's pen name
105 Unit of Iranian currency
109 Norman of TV
112 Erase: printing
113 Fall in drops
114 More uncanny
116 Direction
118 Transaction
120 Reads
121 Wan
122 Missives
123 Paper measure
125 Lame person
126 Plagues
127 Fondles
129 — beer
131 Merchant
132 Look fixedly
133 Hurried
134 Leased
136 Variety of chalcedony
138 European
140 Raised
141 Challenge
142 Undergarment
144 Capuchin monkeys
147 Rubber tree
148 Container
149 Health resort
151 Small rug
153 Mother
155 Teutonic deity

LAST WEEK

MOVIES

Today	Who's Harry Crumb? - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Kinjite: Forbidden Subject - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Nightmare on Elm Street 4 - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
Saturday	Cousins - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Dirty Rotten Scoundrels - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Working Girl - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Policy Academy 6 - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Colors - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
	Cocktail - (R)	Main Post 11:20 p.m.
Sunday	Police Academy 6 - (PG)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Tucker - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Working Girl - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Cousins - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Monday	Working Girl - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Police Academy 6 - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Beaches - (PG-13)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Tuesday	Cocoon: The Return - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Wicked Stepmother - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Wednesday	Parents - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Police Academy 6 - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Mississippi Burning - (R)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Thursday	Beaches - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Dirty Rotten Scoundrels - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.

Bayonet Advertising Really Pays

Carmike Cinema 7
5301 Sidney Simons Blvd. 596-8244
"DISORGANIZED CRIME" R 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
"FLETCH LIVES" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"RAINMAN" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"K-9" PG13 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
"THE DREAM TEAM" PG13 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
"A MONTH IN THE COUNTRY" PG 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
"LOVERBOY" PG13 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30

Columbus Square 8 / 563-4440 COLUMBUS SQUARE
"SPEED ZONE FEVER" PG 7:00 9:30
"SHE'S OUT OF CONTROL" PG 7:00 9:30
"LEAN ON ME" PG13 7:00, 9:30
"PET SEMATARY" R 7:00 9:30 NO TUES. BARGAIN
"CRIMINAL LAW" R 7:00 9:30
"MAJOR LEAGUE" R 7:10 9:20 NO TUES. BARGAIN
"SAY ANYTHING" PG13 7:10 9:20
"RED SCORPION" R 7:10 9:20

Peachtree Triple / 322-7704 PEACHTREE MALL
"CYBORG" R 7:10 9:20
"FAST FOOD" PG13 7:10 9:20
"SEE YOU IN THE MORNING" PG13 7:00 9:30

Plaza Triple 99¢ / 563-3737 CROSS COUNTRY PLAZA
"MISSISSIPPI BURNING" R 7:00, 9:30
Any Movie 99¢ anytime!
"I'M GONNA GIT U SUCKA" R 7:15, 9:30
"BEACHES" PG13 7:00 9:30

Phenix Twin 99¢ / 297-3905 280 BYPASS
Any Movie 99¢ anytime!
"TWINS" PG 7:00, 9:15
"THREE FUGITIVES" PG13 7:15 9:30

The Cottage Kitchen PICK-UP MEALS
10% DISCOUNT*
TO ALL ACTIVE MILITARY
MILITARY RETIREES & CIVIL SERVICE
(WITH I.D.)
HOURS: M-F 11:30-2:00 & 4:30-8:00 AND SAT. 11:30-2:00 & 5:00-7:00
*Not Valid With Any Other Offer
Discount on All Dinners Including Daily Specials
VICTORY DRIVE STORE ONLY!
3119 Victory Drive (Next to Payless Shoe Store) 687-2775

VISA
master charge
GOLDEN CHOPSTICKS
KOREAN RESTAURANT
AUTHENTIC KOREAN CUISINE
• KOREAN STYLE STEAKS & RIBS
• TEMPURA DISHES
• BARBECUE SWEET AND SOUR PORK
• SHISHKABOB
• KOREAN VEGETABLES
A Unique Dining Experience
LUNCHEON SPECIAL
SERVED FROM 11:30AM-2PM
Mon. thru Thur.
Includes: Bul-Koki, Sweet & Sour Pork, Chob-Chae, Yaki-Mandu, Kim-Chi (Hot Cabbage)
ALL FOR $3.50
HOLLY HILLS SHOPPING CENTER-3846 ST. MARY'S RD.
OFF I-185 EXIT 2—689-1644
• "ENJOY YOUR FAVORITE BEER OR WINE"
• OPEN MON.-SAT. 11AM-11PM CLOSED SUNDAY
ST. MARY'S RD. EXIT 2 I-185 GOLDEN CHOPSTICKS
CATERING "SERVING COLUMBUS & FORT BENNING SINCE 1972"

Arby's
SPECIAL OFFER!
ROAST BEEF DELUXE
• Lean Roast Beef
• Crisp Lettuce
• Red Ripe Tomatoes
• Creamy Mayonnaise
• On a Toasted Sesame Seed Roll
ONLY 99¢
FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY!

Shorts

Continued from B-3

Pot-O-Gold is $3,388

Fort Benning bowling centers' "Pot-O-Gold" cash prize has reached $3,388.

Bowlers must strike in certain frames to win the pot.

League and open bowlers who purchase a three-game ticket and pay a $1 entry fee prior to bowling are eligible to enter the tournament. For information, call 545-4272 or 545-1949.

Female volleyball players needed

The Sports Office needs female volleyball players. Active duty military, dependents, Department of Army or Non-appropriated Fund civilians are eligible to play.

If interested, call the Sports Office at 545-5777 or 545-7519.

Hospice fishing tourney Saturday

The 5th annual Chattahoochee Hospice Buddy Tournament will be held Saturday at West Point Landing, Lake West Point, Ga. The tournament attracts hundreds of fishermen each year and the proceeds go to Chattahoochee Hospice.

The first place prize is $2,000; other cash prizes will be awarded through 10th place. The amount of each prize depends upon the number of entries.

The entry fee is $50 per boat. Participants may pre-register or register the morning of the tournament. Checks should be made payable to Chattahoochee Hospice, Inc.

For more information, call (205) 756-1274.

Bike Ride May 6

The Columbus chapter of the American Diabetes Association will hold its 2nd annual Bike Ride Plus May 6 with $2,000 in cash prizes for licensed bikers.

This spring event covering 66 miles over a United States Cycling Federation-approved course will be coupled with a six-mile, bike trail ride for enjoyment bikers, walkers and joggers.

This year's event will be held at Callaway Gardens, near Pine Mountain and Columbus, Ga. Riders will be admitted to the Gardens free of charge. Pick-up registration brochures at Doctors Hospital Diabetes Treatment Center, 616 19th Street or call 571-4161.

YA needs swimmers

The Youth Activities Center is looking for swimmers for its swim team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Mondays through Thursdays.

— Compiled from staff reports.

Track

Continued from B-3

440-Yard Dash
Calvin Moore, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
Chris Clark, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
Emmett Burke, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.

Long Jump
Kevin Walruff, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
Robert Boham, 34th Med. Bn.
Hugh Wade, MEDDAC

440-Yard Relay
2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
MEDDAC
1st Bn., 29th Inf.

220-Yard Dash
Gregory Coleman, 4th Bn., 41st FA
Charles Berry, 2nd Bn., 29th Inf.
Calvin Moore 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.

Triple Jump
David Cairo, MEDDAC
Mario Rodriguez, 1st Bn., 29th Inf.
Scott Hampton, 1st Bn., 50th Inf.

100-Yard Dash
Amos Winn, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
Charles Berry, 2nd Bn., 29th Inf.
Hugh Wade, MEDDAC

Discus
Richard Armour, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
Jerome Cohen, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
Robert Little, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.

Mile Relay
1st Bn., 29th Inf.
2nd Bn., 11th Inf.
2nd Bn., 11th Inf.

WOMEN'S DIVISION

1-Mile Run
Frances Abbott, MEDDAC
Tenna Hillema, 1st Bn., 29th Inf.

880-Yard Run
Frances Abbott, MEDDAC
Elizabeth Dorsey, 1st Bn., 29th Inf.

Triple Jump
Elizabeth Dorsey, 1st Bn., 29th Inf.
Shelia Carter, 1st Bn., 11th Inf.
Dea Ann Dearman, 1st Bn., 11th Inf.

100-Yard Dash
Shelia Carter, 1st Bn., 11th Inf.
Elizabeth Dorsey, 1st Bn., 29th Inf.
Myrna Briscoe, 690th Med.

Discus
Dea Ann Dearman, 1st Bn., 11th Inf.
Cantrice Montgomery, 1st Bn., 29th Inf.
Tenna Hilleman, 1st Bn., 29th Inf.

Shot Put
Dea Ann Dearman, 1st Bn., 11th Inf.
Cantrice Montgomery, 1st Bn., 29th Inf.
Tenna Hilleman, 1st Bn., 29th Inf.

220-Yard Dash
Shelia Carter, 1st Bn., 11th Inf.
Myrna Briscoe, 690th Med.
Elizabeth Dorsey, 1st Bn., 29th Inf.

STANDINGS

VOLLEYBALL

197TH INFANTRY BRIGADE

2nd Bn., 18th Inf.	W	L
Company C	5	1
Company B	4	2
Company A	4	3
HHC	3	4
Company D	2	4
Company E	0	3
519th PSC	0	3

CONSOLIDATED LEAGUE

	W	L
2nd MASH	3	0
MPA	2	0
USARSA, HHC	2	0
MEDDAC	2	1
498th Medical	1	4
690th Medical	0	5
USARSA, Co. A	--	--

THE SCHOOL BRIGADE

	W	L
Company B	3	0
Team #2	2	0
Team #1	0	1
Band	0	4

USAIC SOCCER LEAGUE

	W	L
197th Inf. Bde.	6	1
34th Med. Bn.	4	4
MEDDAC	4	2
USARSA	3	3
29th Inf. Regt.	3	3
75th Ranger Regt.	2	4
36th Eng. Group	1	6

Columbus Mudcats May schedule

1	Charlotte
2	Charlotte
3	Charlotte
4	Charlotte
5	Knoxville
6	Knoxville
7	Knoxville
8	Knoxville
9	Jacksonville
10	Jacksonville
11	Jacksonville
12	Jacksonville
13	Chattanooga
14	Chattanooga
15	Chattanooga
16	Greenville
17	Greenville
18	Greenville
19	Greenville
20	Chattanooga
21	Chattanooga
22	Chattanooga
23	Greenville
24	Greenville
25	Greenville
26	Greenville
27	Birmingham
28	Birmingham
29	Birmingham
30	Birmingham
31	All Star Break

Home games in bold

RACE CALENDAR

MAY

6 NORFOLK, VA - 11th Annual Military-Civilian Elizabeth River Run, 10K, 9 a.m. Start at Armed Forces Staff College. $12. Teams invited. Call Al Whitley, (804)444-5231 or 444-5431.

6 AMERICUS - 2nd Sumter County Agricultural Festival 5K and Youth Fun Run, $4/$5.50. 8:15 a.m. Start at Sumter County Fairgrounds. 912-924-4914, evenings.

6 ROME - 3rd Roman Rumble 5K (9 a.m.), 1 mile (9:30 a.m.) $5/$7. Floyd College Campus. 404-234-9970.

6 WARNER ROBINS - Race for Health 5K/10K, 8 a.m.; 1 mile 7:30 a.m. Start at Houston Medical Center Fit-Trail behind the Emergency Room. $7/$8. Scrub tops to entrants. (912) 922-5281, extension 360.

6 DOTHAN, AL - Nightingale 5K/1-mile Fun Run. 6 p.m. Southeast Alabama Medical Center Park. Certified course. Information: (205)792-2529, evenings.

6 PENSACOLA, FL - 15th Annual Fiesta Run 10K/1 Mile Grand Prix race. No race day registration. Call (904) 433-6512.

6 ATLANTA - One Atlantic Center Tower Climb 50 stories, 9:30 a.m. Information: 266-2866.

7 ATLANTA - Chattahoochee Road Race, 10K, 8 a.m. Information: 427-4471.

13 COLUMBUS - 12th Historic District/Ben Gay Active America Day, 5 mile, 1.5 mile at 9 a.m.; 1.5 mile health walk, aerobics warm up and fitness fair, 8-10:30 a.m. $7/$8. Information: 324-3380 or 322-8218.

13 HARTWELL - Lake Hartwell Dam Run, 5K/10K, 8:30 a.m. Information: 376-4554.

13 AUSTELL - Cobb General 5K, 8:30 a.m.; 1 mile, 9:15 a.m.; wheelchair competition, 8:20 a.m. $10/$12. Information: 944-5110 (8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.)

13 COLUMBIA, S.C. - Palmetto State Triathlon, 1.5K swim, 40K bike, 10K run. 8 a.m. Weston Lake Recreation Area, Fort Jackson, S.C. $30. No entries after May 8. Information: American Lung Association at (803) 779-5864.

20 MACON - Southern Lady 5K run/walk, 8 a.m. Wesleyan College on Forsyth Road. $6/$8. (474-0000 or 746-3807.)

20 PLAINS - Plains Country Days 5-Mile Run (9 a.m.), 1-Mile Fun Run (8:30 a.m.), $7/$9. (912) 824-3418.

20 STONE MOUNTAIN - Lookin' Good Feelin' Good 5K, 8:30 a.m. Information: 493-3625.

20 NORCROSS - Corner's Canter 8K, 8 a.m. Peachtree Corners. Information: 252-6497.

20 UNION POINT - Sock Trot 5K/10K, 8 a.m. Information: 486-2112 or 4267.

21 ATLANTA - Hardee's Run for the Torch 8K, 8 a.m. Buckhead Plaza. Information: 261-1899.

27 MONTGOMERY - 11th Jubilee Run 8K (7:30 a.m.); Lightning 2 mile (8:45 a.m.). $9/$11. Civic Center - Commerce Street. Information: Montgomery Track & Running Club, P. O. Box 6350, Montgomery, AL 36106.

27 ALBANY - 6th Darton Alumni P.M. Run. 5K, 8 p.m./ 1 mile, 7 p.m. Darton College Campus, 2400 Gillionville Road. $7/$8.

27 ROBERTA - Peach Blossom Trail 10K (8 a.m.) and 1 mile Fun Run. $7/$8. Information: Peach Blossom Trail Run, P. O. Box 8, Roberta, GA 31078.

27 FITZGERALD - Colony City Chase 5K (9 a.m.), 1 mile (8:30 a.m.). $7/$8. Cash awards. $100 for course record (15:34 set in 1988). 800-642-5820.

29 HUNTSVILLE, AL - Cotton Row 10K, 8 a.m. Starts at Von Braun Civic Center. $10. No race day registration.

Bayonet Classified 322-4500

QUALITY

NOW OPEN Ford

3126 VICTORY DRIVE

Stop By And See Our "New" Used Car Lot

ALL INVENTORY AT BLACK BOOK PRICES

STOP IN TODAY . . .

ON THE SPOT FINANCING

QUALITY FORD

1541 First Avenue and 3126 Victory Drive

RIVERFEST WEEKEND

Proceeds benefit the Historic Columbus Foundation

TODAY 6 PM-10PM
SATURDAY, APRIL 29, 10AM-10PM
SUNDAY, APRIL 30, NOON-6PM

Columbus Iron Works, Convention & Trade Center-801 Front Avenue
Salisbury Fair and Cornbread Cookoff inside
BBQ and Pig Jiggin' outside

SALISBURY FAIR

Fun at the Fair!

FOOD • RIDES & GAMES • LIVE ENTERTAINMENT • ANTIQUES & COLLECTIBLES • EXHIBITS • CRAFTS • ARTIST GUILD'S SHOW & SALE • MORE!

PLUS:

The Ledger-Enquirer's Greater Columbus PIG JIG!

Who can cook up the best BBQ? Watch the Pig Jig cooks and judges. Teams will be cooking Friday night and Saturday morning. Judging begins 12:30 Saturday. Prizes awarded at 5 PM.

WATCH 23 TEAMS COMPETE THIS YEAR!

Sponsored with "WHOLE HOG" support by the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer, W. C. Bradley Co., AFLAC, Columbus Bank & Trust, and the Steeplechase at Callaway Gardens.

Published in the spirit of fun and community support by the Ledger-Enquirer.

BAYONET CLASSIFIED 322-4500

CLEANING SERVICES C3

TOTALLY Domestic Cleaning Services, specializing in residences. Reasonable rates. Call 563-5073 after5pm.

PUBLIC NOTICES 016

★★★★★★★★★★★★

SGT'S CHICKEN HOUSE
4034 Cusseta Road. Spicy and Southern Fried Chicken. It's Good! Open 11-11. Light Lunch $1.60. All Military Welcome! Call 687-1944.

★★★★★★★★★★★★

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES 018

Childcare Service. Certified. A.M. Burgess, open 5am til 5:30 pm. Newborns, toddlers and up to 3 yrs. old. Will also accomodate people for all night duty or field time. For more information call 689-5300

PERSONALS 020

TROUBLED? Need to talk? Call CONTACT. We care. 24 hours. 327-3999

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

LOSE WEIGHT The Natural Way! Dick Gregory's Behamian Diet. Call 298-9079 or 1-800-346-5188.

ANTIQUES 036

ANTIQUE OAK DRESSER w/beveled mirror. $425. (404) 674-2827

APPLIANCE SALES 040

CLEAN guaranteed refrig, ranges, W/D's and more. Low prices. 682-8717

WHIRLPOOL 18.5 cu. ft. upright freezer, 1 yr. old, $350. 561-1691.

FIREWOOD 054

PISTOL CABINET, slightly damaged, $50. Call 682-4381 afternoons

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

FOR SALE, older style couch & matching chair. Very good cond. $50 or best offer. 685-0730.

KING SIZED WATERBED, w/bookcase head board, $250. 323-7251 after 6p.m.

KING sized water bed, bookcase headboard, mirror, 6 drawer pedestal. Call 689-0415 aft 6PM

New Oak Table & Chairs List $800, must sell $399. Williams Furniture Shop, next to Pritchett's, Hamilton Rd., 322-1889

SOFA & CHAIR, best offer; king size waterbed w/accesssories $250. Call 687-4874 anytime.

UNFINISHED FURNITURE SALE

Save money & do it yourself or let our expert staff do it. Free assembly! VISA/MC accepted. Williams Furniture Shop, next to Pritchett's, Hamilton Rd., 322-1889

2 KINGSIZE waterbeds, $300 for both. Please call 687-8337 after 6p.m.

YARD SALES GA 060

FT. BENNING YARD SALE Sat Only, 8AM-4PM. 75-A Dunn Ct., Boutin Heights.

GREENISLANDHILLS moving sale, 6060 Round Hill Rd., 25 yrs. accumulation of collectors items & wonderful junk, Fri, 9-5, Sat, 9-2.

Multi-Family Sale in Custer Terrace, Sat. 4/29, 8-2, on Ray Ct., off Kessler Ct.

YARD SALE 3 families, 8 D Nash Ct. Sat. & Sun. 8-5. Children's clothing, toys & furn.

YARD SALE, 6915 Treetop Lane, Springlake, Sat. & Sun., 8-?.

JEWELRY 068

LADIES ROLEX Oyster Watch, '84, 1 year warranty included. Call 568-7442

LADIES 7 diamond white gold wedding set, sz. 10, $300. Call 855-9001

MISC. FOR SALE 076

COUCH $50 and outdoor dog kennel $100. Please call 687-8337 after 6p.m.

HOME WATER FILTER SYSTEMS
5 Day Free Trial
Call 687-5155

RUGS, beige, 9x12, $80; brown 9x6, $25; brown 3½x12, $20; red 3¾x12, $20; 3 beige 2¼x4½, $8 ea. Drapes, 90widex87long & 80widex87long, $75 for both. Child's bike w/training wheels, $20. Call 687-4180 aft 4pm.

UPRIGHT PIANO
Excellent cond. $475.
Call 682-8821

YAMAHA guitar, FG 335, $145; Bundy trumpet, $160; Zenith solid state stereo w/turntable & speakers, $125; Oster kitchen center, $95. Call 682-2514.

100,000 BOOKS, hardback & paper, reduced 50%-80%, romances, science fiction, military, mysteries, westerns, classics, comics. 4130 St. Mary's Rd. Call 682-2899, 1300-1900.

MISC. FOR SALE 076

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like for your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

LOST & FOUND ITEMS 077

FOUND! ladies Ring at Rosehill in the Parking Lot. Call to identify 324-4253

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS 078

Baldwin Console Piano, 2 yrs. old, beautiful, sounds great, won't last. 322-1889

KING 3-B concert Trombone F-valve, like new 324-4211 ext 167 (Fri only),327-8773

PETS 122

CHOW, Male, Cinnimon, 20mths, w/papers, $200/neg. Call 682-4371

PETS-LOST & FOUND 127

BOXER, F, w/collar, Found in Rosewood Dr area, behind CVCC. Call 297-6027

HAVE YOU LOST YOUR PET? Please contact the Muscogee County Humane Society at 7133 Sacerdote Lane, off Schatulga Road.

YOU CAN HELP SAVE A PET
Call our 24-hour hotline for lost & found pets. 571-2060.

FREE COLUMN 130

CHUTE & Butler Co., upright piano, just needs a little work! Plays fine. U-haul it you have, 297-3968 aft 6

FREE KITTENS
855-2901

FREE PUPPIES, 6wks old, mother 100% golden lab. Call 297-6864

FREE TO good home w/ fenced yard, Lab/Spitz male dog, 1½ yrs. old. 291-9977

FREE TO Good Home ONLY, 6MTHS old German Shepherd Pup, 689-0657

ADOPTABLE to good homes: 4 kittens-3 solid white, long haired & 1 grey Tabby. 563-2476

CHUTE & Butler Co., upright piano, just needs a little work! Plays fine. U-haul it you have, 297-3968 aft 6

COCKER Spaniel/hound/Lab mix puppies, 2 mo old. 544-3289/3584, 682-8306 after 6

FOUR Cute kittens, free to good home. 6 wks. old. Call 297-2412.

FREE IVY, small leaves, free to pick up. 7425 17th Ave. 327-4484

FREE mixed breed 4 mo old female puppy. Call 298-6399

FREE mixed female Bulldog 2o loving home. Call 682-2708.

Free to good home: gentle black & white male cat. 6 months, shots. 297-2520

FREE TO good home w/ fenced yard, Lab/Spitz male dog, 1½ yrs. old. 291-9977

Free to good homes: Mixed Labrador puppies, mixed Shepherd puppies, mixed Bulldog puppy; mixed Terrier puppy, 1 yr old; mixed Labrador puppy, has all shots; 3 yr old mixed Shepherd, has all shots; adorable kittens.
Adopt a Pet, Save a Life
1700 14th Street
(Veterinarian)
Small fee- shots/worming
(Kittens, $15; Cats, Free)
(Puppies, $20; Dogs, Free)

FREE TO good home, grey long-haired kitten, 7 wks old. Call 291-0671

FREE To good home 5 mo. female Lab with all shots. Call 596-1600 after 6.

FREE TO good home, part Lab puppy, 5 mo old, all shots. Call 687-4272

FREE TO Good Home ONLY, 6MTHS old German Shepherd Pup, 689-0657

MALE BEAGLE free to a good home. Call 561-4942 after 5:00 p.m.

MALE Irish Setter, Free to a good home. Call 298-9422 anytime.

MALE mixed breed puppies, 6-8wks old. Free to caring people. Small mom & pop. 298-1125 aft 7pm.

PART Shepherd & Terrier puppy, male, 5 mos. old, has all shots. Free to a good home. 687-0966

IT'S HERE: the '89-'90 Military Pages. Call 682-7185 for your free copy.

Part Cocker-Spaniel, 8-10 wks old, good with children. Call 568-0743

PERSIAN mixed cats, smoke-gray neutered male & chocolate spayed female. Both very loving. Free to right home. 297-1387

WHITE F, 2 month old, puppy, 561-6622, 561-3341 ask for Sara bet 4-6

11 WEEK OLD, Cocker Spaniel, shots up-to-date. Call 327-0431

BLOOD PLASMA SAVES LIVES
$10 ea. DONATION
New Donors/ Or Inactive For 6 Months/ $5 Bonus with This Ad/ Plus $5 2nd Time Bonus Plus $750 Cash Drawing Monthly
Community Plasma Center
825 4th Ave.
Columbus
322-6566

RESTAURANTS & CLUBS 212

CALLAWAY GARDENS

Has Positions Available In The Following Areas

LODGING DIVISION
- Housekeeping
- Front Office
- Bellman
- Transportation

FOOD & BEVERAGE
- Food Servers
- Stewards
- Cooks
- Bus Boys

Flexible Hours Available! Transportation Provided! To Apply Contact:

FT. BENNING FAMILY MEMBER EMPLOYMENT OFFICE
545-5176

COOK WANTED, 10 mi from back gate of Ft. Benning, Bluff Creek. Call 855-4945

MEDICAL DENTAL 220

HUGHSTON ORTHOPAEDIC CLINIC P.C.

Immediate Opening
Registered
Radiology Technologist

Call 324-6661

HUGHSTON ORTHOPAEDIC CLINIC

POSITION OPENINGS
- Cast Tech
- Medical Transcriptionist

Must have experience. All others need not apply.

Call 324-6661

RN SUPERVISOR
With nationwide company. Excellent working conditions. Salary based on experience. We will pay ½ fee to obtain Georgia license. Send resume to: Director of Clinical Services, 1930 8th Ave., Cols., GA 31901

R.N.'s

Georgia Licensed. Part-Time Weekends, Days & Nights. Needed Immediately.
The Bradley Center Inc.
2000 16th Avenue
Columbus, GA 31993
(404) 576-9800

E.O.E.

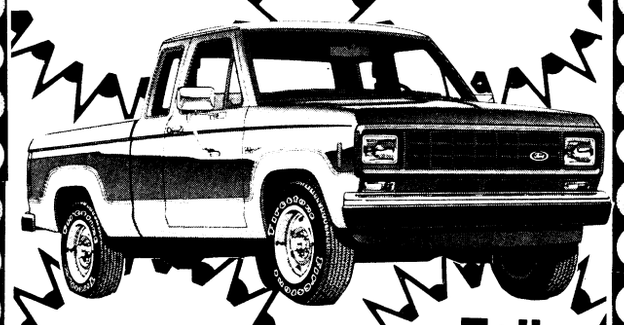
Train for careers in
•AIRLINES
•CRUISE LINES
•TRAVEL AGENCIES
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
A.C.T. TRAVEL SCHOOL
Nat'l Hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

Train to be a Professional
•SECRETARY
•EXECUTIVE SEC.
•WORD PROCESSOR
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
THE HART SCHOOL
a Div. of A.C.T. Corp
Nat'l Hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

Publisher's Notice

All real estate advertised in this newspaper is subject to the Federal Fair, Housing Act which makes it illegal to advertise "any preference, limitation, or discrimination based on race, color, religion, handicap, family status, or national origin or an intention to make any such preference, limitation or discrimination.

This newspaper will not knowingly accept any advertising for real estate which is in violation of the law. Our readers are hereby informed that all dwellings advertised in this newspaper are available on an equal opportunity basis.



To complain of discrimination, call HUD toll free at 1-800-424-8590.

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY "DELIVERS"

E-2s & Up!!

No Previous CREDIT! "No Problem"

SAME DAY DELIVERY!

SLOW CREDIT? "No Problem"

Toll Free 1-800-544-8480

Only Requirements
1. L.E.S.
2. $99.00 Down
3. Ability To Buy Full Coverage Auto Insurance

Bring this Ad—

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
Hwy. 431 North
EUFAULA, ALABAMA

THIS WEEKEND ONLY!!!

$ SAVE $

0% Annual Percentage Rate Financing Available!!!

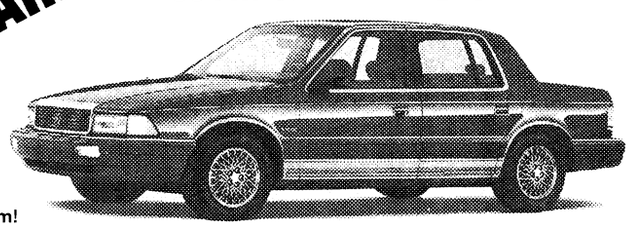
OR

UP TO $750 UNDER CERTIFIED FACTORY INVOICE

NEW 89 PLYMOUTH SUNDANCE

Factory Invoice..... $8211.30
Minus $750.00

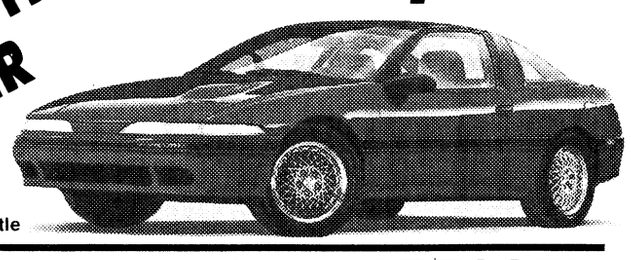
YOU PAY ONLY $7462.30



#912144
Over 30
To Choose From!!!

NEW '89 PLYMOUTH ACCLAIM

Factory Invoice..... $9431.60
Minus..... -$500.00



YOU PAY ONLY $8931.60

#915107*
(18) To Choose From!

Introducing 1990 PLYMOUTH LASER

FROM $12,895

#011106*
*Add Only Tag, Tax, Title

Sales Mon.-Fri. 8:30am-9pm
Sat. 8:30am-6pm

Service Dept.
Mon.-Fri. 7:30am-6pm
Sat. 8am-1pm

CARL GREGORY
CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH-SAAB
1800 BOX ROAD
568-4900 I-185 Exit 4

Thanks to our TENT EVENT '89, CROWN is closing in on an all-time sales record! So we're combining CRUSHED PRICES with BIG CASH REBATES to sell 75 more cars this weekend!

CROWN'S RUN FOR THE RECORD

CROWN NISSAN

CASH BACK up to $3000 on selected NISSANS!

3 BIG DAYS!
THURSDAY, FRIDAY & SATURDAY, APRIL 27-29
(dealership hours)

CASH BACK up to $4000 ON NEW CONVERSION VANS!

0% Financing Available!

NISSAN: Time is Running Out on Nissan's "SPRING '89 INCENTIVES". Hurry on Down and Make Your Selection While the Selection is Great. Program Ends May 2, 1989
REBATES! REBATES! REBATES!
$3000 on 88 300 ZX, $2000 on STANZAS, $750 on PULSARS AND HARDBODY PICKUPS up to $1000 on SENTRAS

1989 SENTRAS
$6499
2 Door 4-speed
$500 REBATE
36/36 BUMPER TO BUMPER WARRANTY
CHOICE OF COLORS

Full Size Hightop
CONVERSION VANS
with TV, VCR, full power eq. V8 318 eng.
$18,980.
net rebte

ANYFULL SIZE DODGE TRUCK IN STOCK. YOUR CHOICE $1.00 OVER DEALER INVOICE PLUS GET A $1000 REBATE FROM DODGE. THAT MEANS YOU GET ANY FULL SIZE DODGE TRUCK IN STOCK AT $999 UNDER INVOICE!! LET'S GO TRUCKING. 17 UNITS IN STOCK!

1989 NISSAN
PATHFINDER XE
Stk #89084
SPECIAL OFFER
$13,264

1989 All New Maximas
Many Models and Colors to Choose From. Prices Starting at $15,553

1989 DODGE DAKOTA
11 to CHOOSE FROM. Equipped with 2.5 EFI engine, air, am/fm cassette. Pwr Steering, deluxe ext. pkg. PRICES start as low as
$8787. Net rebate

1989 DODGE LONG RANGE VAN
stk #89C40
High Back Bucket Seats, auto. trans., 318 V8 Eng., Window Combinations, bright low mt. mirrors, air cond., 30 Gal. Tank. FREE FACTORY 7/70 WARRANTY! SPECIAL SALE PRICE
$11,999. Net rebate

MILLION DOLLAR TRADE IN SELECTION

1988 CHEVY BERETTA loaded one owner, 13,000 miles $7999	1988 TOYOTA pick up only $6995	1987 OLDS DELTA 88 BRM loaded! NICE NICE CAR $9888	1987 HONDA ACCORD LXi X-Clean $10,495	1987 DODGE DAKOTA p/u LWB air am/fm cass. Pwr Steering $6995	1987 NISSAN PATHFINDER 4x4 Air am/fm $11,999
1987 NISSAN MAXIMA Auto. Trans. Loaded $11,999	1987 PONT. FIERO Auto. Trans., Loaded $5995	1987DODGE OMNI auto. trans., air, am/fm $4995	1986 DODGE LANCER nicely equipped $5995	1987 PONT. SUNBIRD auto. trans., air, am/fm $5995	1986 NISSAN SENTRA 4 dr., air, am/fm $3495
1986 PONT. 6000 LE nice car $5995	1985 VW VANAGON X-clean one owner $7995	1986 CHEVY S-10 BLAZER $7995	1986 FORD MUSTANG LX 38,000 mi. one owner $5995	1986 VW Cabroilet Conv. WOW $8995	81 VW RABBIT Extra Clean $1995

427 New Frankling Rd.
LaGrange GA 30240
(404) 884-1744

Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8
Sat. 8:30-6:00

CROWN NISSAN

CHRYSLER PLYMOUTH DODGE

OFFICE CLERICAL 222

PCI

WE ARE CURRENTLY RECRUITING FOR
- Receptionist
- Secretaries
- Clerk Typist
- Word Processors
- Data Entry Operators

If you have Clerical/On The Job Experience...
Call PCI Today For Appt
571-2400
105 W. 10th St.
Corner of 10th & Front Ave
(In The Courtyard)

SALES 226

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL
322-4500

SALES MGR. TRAINEES Exp. helpful but not a must. Will train. Flex. hours. Apply at Steve's Check Cashiers, 3905 Victory Dr. Suite 2, next to Blimpie's, M-W, 11-5. No phone calls please.

CHILD CARE 229

Need Reliable Sitter in my home. Light cleaning, own transp. Ref. req. 682-3484

JOB WANTED 230

MATURE Reliable person will babysit & do light housekeeping in your home. Mon.-Fri., Call Merry 989-3680 (local).

RESUME SERVICES 232

A BETTER JOB WINNING
RESUME $9
up to executive presentations. Expert writing, typing, printing, updating.
...FREE CONSULTATION...
★ SAME DAY SERVICE ★
America's oldest & largest Professional Resume Svc.
327-2238
2520 Wynnton Rd. Ste. 4

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIY 410

MAKING A CAREER CHANGE?
Don't go it alone!
Most of our successful franchises have never owned a business before Servpro. Servpro showed them how to make money in insurance restoration and residential/commercial cleaning. For free brochure and information call 1-800-826-9586 or Bob Sappington, 568-1847.

UNFURNISHED HOUSES GA 526

For Rent or Sale, 2BR, 2BA, den, pool, decks, appl., extra nice home in Battle Forest. $550 mo. to dependable person or family. 682-0346, 291-7840

OAKLAND PK Use your VA. 3BR home, 3045 Grenada Dr. See anytime. Mr. Harris, 687-9711. Mrs. Hart, 682-1718, Agents.

3 BR, Brick near post, school & shopping. 49 Patch Dr. Call 323-4891.

3 BR, 2 ba, cent air, DW, garbage disposal, near Benning. Call 687-0108.

RESORT RENTALS 534

Near Callaway Gardens, beautifully restored 6 room '1854' Log Cabin, 2br, c/h/a, very secluded. Night or week. (912) 986-3438, (404) 628-4900

HOMES FOR SALE AL 614

EASY LIVING! HURTSBORO! SMALL TIME PRICE! BIG CITY HOME!
Only 35 minutes from city - 2300+ sqft. home has everything - from the beautiful landscaping to the exceptional greatroom w/built-in bookcases. 20x20 master bedroom suite, custom kitchen & breakfast area, dining room w/parquet floor and 3 baths. Only $79,950. Call today! ROSALYN BOTTS/DONDUKE, 298-3827/291-0011.

DON DUKE REALTY AND ASSOCIATES 291-0011

QUIET COUNTRY home on 28 acres of beautiful rolling meadows and pines. In Ft. Mitchell just 17 min. from Columbus. Well-insulated 3 br home w/ central air. Also barn, mobile home, greenhouse, fruit trees and garden on property. Call 855-2498. Elbow room!

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

Assumable Loan, by owner, Beautiful home in N. Cols on large landscaped lot. 3BR, 2BA, 2 fireplaces, hidden wet bar, cathedral ceilings in greatroom with exposed beams. House located in Cul-De-Sac, $84,900. 323-6207.

BY OWNER, E. Cols, 3 br, 1½ ba, LR, den, lg. screened den patio, $53,900. 568-7049

CENTURY-21 JOHN WINE REALTY
In conjunction with Barney Fletcher Schools
Classes now starting
REAL ESTATE PRE-LICENSING
For more information, call Artie Shaw: 323-2778

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

AT CENTURY 21 576-5544
NEW HOMES
LOW INTEREST RATES
$51,900 to $69,900, all homes 3BR, 2BA brick, greatrooms, fireplaces, separate dining rooms. Eat-in kitchens, separate laundry rm, landscaped, many, many extras.
ALLAN, 576-5544/576-4040
C-21, American Heritage

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like for your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

MILITARY PERFECT!
If you have a large family this one's for your. 4BR, 2BA with extra rooms in basement. Only minutes to Ft. Benning. $59,950.
Call Patty Rexrode 663-2023
Ed Bunn Realty 628-4258

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

OAKLAND PARK
Swim In Your Own Pool
Big house for sale by owner. 3BR, LR, DR, den, Florida Room, 1½ BA. 687-4141

RESORT & VACATION PROPERTY 632

PANAMA CITY BEACH
Caladium Village Motel, located on the Strip, Pool & clean rooms. Prices starting at $35, 10% discount w/this ad. 904-235-3437.

FARMS & ACREAGE 636

Beautiful setting for home nestled in 1.278 acres of mixed hardwoods. 210'road frontage in prestigious No. Cols. neighborhood. Must sacrifice our selection of best homesite in Muscogee. $23,900. 569-7429

MOBILE HOMES FOR SALE 710

$500 down, Assume $240/mo. No bank Qual, '86 2 & 3BR 1BA. By Owner. 855-3486

14x74 Mobile Home, clean 3BR 2BA, cen air, pool, shed, 576-5837 or 855-2480 local.

2BR 2BA Doublewide, 3yrs old, ceiling fan & FP; $500, take over payments of $222 mo. Call 687-4440.

MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT 714

EXC. COND., 2BR, 12ft wide, a/c, w/d, New Harmony Church. No pets 989-3354

1,2 & 3br elec/gas on, near schools & post. 1314 Ft. Benning Rd. 9-5, 689-0453

BOATS 810

ARISTO Craft 19' Cruiser. Merc 165 IO. Tandem wheels, galvanized trailer. $1850. Call 297-5222.

BOATS 810

FORD Escort '88, new, all extras, $6250. Call 297-5222 anytime.

WELLCRAFT pleasure boat, '89, 17'; Equity & take over payments. 1-663-2443.

15½ FT. SEACHARMER, 70HP Evenrude, $1500. Call after 7pm, 568-7371.

17½' PRO CRAFT bass boat, 150 XP motor, trailer, good cond. 687-4503, 561-8503

22 ft. Southcoast sailboat, w/4 sails, 7½ h.p. motor w/trailer. $5500 cash or trade. 297-2326.

'87 Checkmate, 18½', Pro-V 150 Yamaha, 70 mph, tandem trlr, like new, 1 owner. $10,500. 298-0660

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

APRIL
SPRING SALE!

HONDA 250 REBEL STREET CRUISER
Electric start, 5sp, 80 mph. No dn pymt, $95.37 mth. incl. tax, tag, title & insurance. In-house financing avail.
Honda-Come Ride With Us
TOMMY WAGES HONDA
Corner 18th St. & 4th Ave
322-7328

HONDA '84 Gold Wing GL 1200, fully dressed, stereo, extras. $4400. 687-2874

KAWASAKI '82 650, like new, only 3,000 miles, $1050. 323-3507 or 322-5923.

NEW
HARLEY DAVIDSON
MOTORCYCLES
$4195
Archie's Harley Davidson
324-4294

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

Honda 550 '83, with helmet, runs great, 7,000 mi, $850. 689-8379 after 5pm

TRUCKS 914

Dodge '86 Ram Charger, towing pkg., air, tilt, ps, new Michelin tires, low miles, new cond. 561-9606.

DODGE '88 Ram truck, 5 sp, long bed with camper shell. $7500. 568-3855.

NISSAN P/U '87, black, loaded, 16,000 mi. Will trade. 298-5114, 596-0987 aft 7.

BUSES/VANS FOR SALE 922

DODGE VAN '76, 318, runs good, needs paint. Call 576-4178

'88 PLYMOUTH Voyager extended van, 20k mi, $12,400 firm. 689-8649 wkend only

JEEPS FOR SALE 924

'83 CJ-7 Renegade, 37K miles, hard top, 5 sp, exc. cond. Must sell. $6500/offer. 682-3423.

AUTO SERVICE PARTS, ACC 926

CHEVY engs. 350 stroker, short blk. Forged pistons-396 short blk., 350 Chevy blk., cleaned & bored, 30 over & misc. heads & blks. 561-4558.

Rebuilt '78, C4 trans. w/less than 1000 mi. $250. Call Terry aft 5 (404) 663-4084

AUTO INSURANCE FINANCING 928

Military & civilians residing in Alabama. Call or see us for your insurance needs. Serving area since 1960.
PITTS-DAVIS INS.
298-2500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

BONNEVILLE '85, low mileage, $3995 or best offer. 298-7982 from 8am-5pm.

BUICK Century LTD '87, 4 dr, V-6, grey w/black vinyl top, 21,000 mi., extra clean, extended warranty, fully loaded, leather seats, etc. $10,200. 327-8439.

CADILLAC ELDORADO '76, 36,000 actual miles, like new. 324-4266

Camaro Z-28 '84, 305 HO, clean, T-tops, a/c, am/fm tape, 5 sp. $6950. 327-3551

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like for your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

Caprice Estate Wgn '81, moving, must sell. $1900/neg. 687-6134 after 5:30

Cimarron, '85,all power,sunroof,$595 dn,$188/mo.Interested callers only. 687-4568,689-7176

Cutlass Supreme Brougham '84, 4dr, loaded, only $3950. Call 298-3686 or after 6pm, 298-3333.

ELDORADO '80, body exc., $1500. '64 CHEVY 2dr hardtop, $900. 912-828-7885

FORD '87 Taurus, loaded, exc. cond. Take over payments. Call 327-4846.

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL
322-4500

Mercury Sable '87, loaded, 23,000 miles. $10,700. 569-7429

No Fault or Full Coverage
Call us for free quote before you pay too much. Mike Streetman Insurance, 322-7272. Open 9am-7pm

TOYOTA Camry DLX '89, pwr. wind., pwr. locks, cruise, tilt, cass. Qualify & assume lease. $231.46 tax. 569-7741 or 563-8551.

Toyota Corolla '81, H/B, ps, pb, 5 sp, sunroof, am/fm stereo. $2500. 563-0821

'68 MUSTANG, auto, 6 cyl, $900; $850. 326-2033, 323-3862

'72 Buick Astro, rebuilt trans, new muffler, recent tune, $400/offer. 322-7299

'80 PLYMOUTH Sunbird, $700 or best offer. Call 687-1187

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

'75 PLYMOUTH, runs good, $425. Call 912-838-4950

'83 RENAULT Alliance, 4 dr, 1.4 liter 4 cyl, $750. Call 324-6072.

'84 Cutlass Sierra Brougham, burgandy, all options, leather int, $5200. 323-2939

'84 MONTE Carlo, V8, 2 dr, black/burgandy, exc cond, $4995 neg. 561-8762

'86 SUBARU GL, 5 sp, fully loaded. $5800. Call 989-3143 or 989-3697 (local).

'88 IROC Z-28, flame red, t-tops, make offer. Must sell. Call (404) 628-5212, between 5-10 p.m., 324-4792, ext. 378 days.

'88 ISUZU I Mark, blue, grey int, 4 dr, a/c, am/fm, must sell. 855-4290

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

'88 YUGO, radio, a/c, burgandy, take over pmnts. 855-3086 aft 6 wkdays.

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

PEUGEOT 505 STI, '84, 5 Speed, gas, low milage, loaded, $5000. Call 568-4883

280 ZX-TURBO, '81, T-top, every option. Exc. cond. $5100. 563-2523.

CLASSIC & ANTIQUE AUTOS 934

CAMARO '67, 4 sp., runs good, needs refurb. $3250. 561-8572 leave message.

IMPORTED AUTOS 936

BMW 325e, '85, 2 dr, auto, 49k mi, blk w/blk leather int, perfect cond, $14,500. 855-2379, Janet

Engines: Honda, Toyota, Nissan, Mitsubishi, Mazda, Isuzu, Subaru. Guaranteed & ready to install. Lowest prices; shipped anywhere USA. Techna-Car 214-484-1258.

GOT A MERCEDES! So selling our Volvos, '89 740-GL & '86 240-GL, 1 owner, all records. 569-1069

MERCEDES '68, 280 SE, clean. Price negotiable. Call 322-0118

CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

MALOOF TOYOTA BMW

YOUR COMPLETE AUTO COLLISION REPAIR FACILITY
Be sure that you use genuine Toyota parts to maintain your warranty protection!

OUR COMPLETE BODY SHOP IS EQUIPPED TO PROVIDE EXPERT WORK ON IMPORTS AND DOMESTICS TOO!

MALOOF TOYOTA BMW
(Exit 4 Off I-185, Macon Rd.)
Hours: Mon.-Fri. 7:30-6pm
1801 Box Rd.
Columbus, GA
563-7500
We accept most credit cards

BILL HEARD'S

PHENIX CITY LOCATION

1131 280 By-Pass
Phenix City, Ala.

HAIL DAMAGE

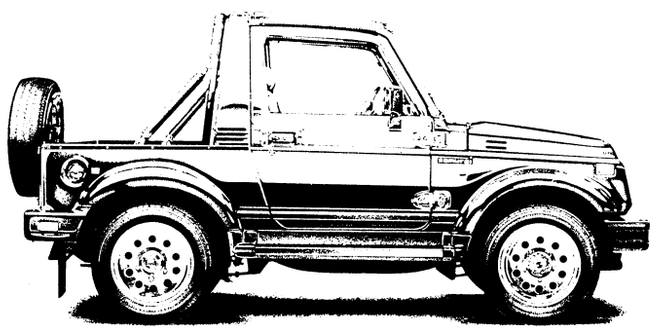
SALE

ONLY (50) DAMAGED VEHICLES REMAINING!!! ALL PRICED TO GO!!!

For Example . . .

87 FIREBIRD loaded, Was $8950, NOW	$6950
84 MARK VII LINCOLN Like New, Was $9450, NOW	$6950
86 OLDS Delta Royale Was $8995, NOW	$6995
86 BONNEVILLE V/8, 4-Dr., Was $8995, NOW	$6995
85 FORD TEMPO loaded, Was $5995, NOW	$3995
85 S10 4X4 Was $8495, NOW	$5995
85 CADILLAC Seville Was $11,900, NOW	$9995

CARS, TRUCKS, VANS
All Makes & Models!!!
Our Loss Is Your Gain!!!
Come Early For Best Selection . . .



CALL 298-3636
on the 280 By-Pass
In Phenix City, Alabama

$500.00* Just DOWN • CHARLES LEVY • MOTOR CO. TOTAL

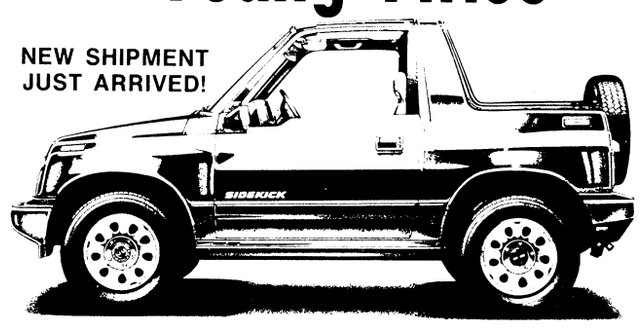
PUTS YOU RIDING NOW THRU APRIL 30 INCLUDING TAX-TAG-TITLE & DOC FEES

ONLY $199.00* @ month

Get bronze in nine different colors.

Get your 4x4 tanning booth in red, white, blue or light blue. Silver or grey. Maybe teal. How about black? And let's not forget bronze. These are the spiffy color selections on our Suzuki Samurai 4x4's.

Then, bronze with your top off. Another fun added feature you can get with America's least expensive soft tops. Just ask anyone who's been tanning in one.



Better yet, come see us today. Or sooner. We've got a great color selection. And, we've got it made in your shade.

SUZUKI

def. pr. $13.741

You're Only Young Twice

NEW SHIPMENT JUST ARRIVED!

Get a Suzuki Sidekick and you'll get more for the price than you'd expect.

Besides 4-wheel drive versatility, you'll get a handy 5 speed stick. A roomy and comfy interior. A 1.3 liter engine. If you want more power, no problem. There's a 1.6 liter too.

And sporty options to boot. From pop-off hardtop to power windows to automatic transmission to cruise control.

Come see us today. We have a wheel of a deal for you.

SUZUKI

The Suzuki Sidekick 4-wheel drive.
Hurry in for best selection!

Charles Levy Suzuki Where Your Fun Begins
● Corner of 11th St. & 4th Ave. ● CALL 576-3722 For Free credit check

CHARLES LEVY USED CAR CLEARANCE

Corner 4th Ave. and 11th Street
CALL 576-3700 or 576-3722

86 VW GOLF 4 Dr., Auto., Air Only $4450.....42 @ $135.78
def pr. $6203
89 PONT. LEMANS LE 2 Dr., 5 spd., Air Only $7250....60 @ $174.07
def pr. $10,944
87 DODGE OMNI 4 Dr., Auto., Air Only $4950.....48 @ $138.14
def pr. $7131
86 ISUZU I MARK 4 Dr., Spd., Air Only $4450.....42 @ $135.78
def pr. $6203
87 YUGO GV 2 Dr., 4 Spd. Only $2750.....36 @ $93.36
def pr. $3861
88 BUICK SHYHAWK 2 Dr., 5 Spd., Air Only $6995.....54 @ $180.24
def pr. $10,233
88 CHEV. SPECTRUM 4 Dr., 5 Spd. Only $5950.....54 @ $151.89
def pr. $8702
87 MERC. TOPAZ GS 4 Dr., Loaded Only $6950.....48 @ $198.17
def pr. $10,012
87 CHEV. CAVALIER 2 Dr., Cpe, Auto, Air Only $5950..48 @ $168.16
def pr. $8564
87 HONDA CIVIC 4 Dr., Spd., Air Only $6950.....48 @ $198.17
def pr. $10,012
87 PLYMOUTH TURISIMO Auto., Air Only $5950.....48 @ $168.16
def pr. $8572
87 Nissan Sentra 2 door cassette only $4,795.....54 at $119.38
def pr. $6947
84 Ford Tempo GLX Loaded a/t only $4,295.....36 at $150.24
def pr. $6938
84 VW SCIROCCO 5 Spd., Air Only $4950.....36 @ $178.84
def pr. $5909
85 CHEVY CAVALIER 4 Dr. Only $3995.....36 @ $141.74
def pr. $5603
88 MUSTANG GT Loaded Only $12,500.....60 @ $299
def pr. $18,440
86 Z28 CAMARO T-Tops Only $9450.....48 @ $275.88
def. pr. $13,741
83 CHEV. CONV. VAN Loaded Only $6995.....36 @ $258.50
def pr. $10,056
88 DODGE GNV VAN Loaded Only $15,900.....60 @ $385.94
def pr. $18,242

MIDTOWN DR./BEHIND K-MART
CALL FOR FREE CREDIT CHECK 563-6469

87 YUGO GV Must See Only $2950.....30 @ $110.19
def pr. $3806
85 CAVALIER 2-Door, Air Only $4395.....36 @ $151.91
def pr. $5969
88 SUBARU GL Low Miles Only $6996.....54 @ $176.62
def pr. $10,037
89 CHEVY SPECTRUM Like New Only $8420.....60 @ $195.80
def pr. $12,248
88 MAZDA 323 Auto., Must See Only $7995.....54 @ $203.19
def pr. $11,472
89 MAZDA 626 LX Save Only $13,750.....60 @ $325.07
def pr. $20,000
89 HYUNDAI 4-Door, Like New Only $7995.....60 @ $185.49
def pr. $11,629
87 MAZDA 626 DX 4-Door Only $7995.....48 @ $223.57
def pr. $11,231
88 MAZDA RX-7 Auto, Like New Only $13,995.....54 @ $362.60
def pr. $20,080
85 MAZDA RX-7 Auto., Must See Only $8995.....48 @ $262.14
def pr. $13,083
88 MERCURY TRACER S/W Like New Only $7995...54 @ $203.19
def pr. $11,472
88 MITSUBISHI STARION Only $12,740.....54 @ $329.26
def pr. $18,280
87 PONT. SUNBIRD 2 Dr. Only $6950.....48 @ $198.17
def pr. $10,012
87 CHEVY Z24 Red Only $7995.....48 @ $223.57
def pr. $10,731
85 MAZDA RX & GSL Only $7995.....48 @ $223.57
def pr. $10,731
82 PLYMOUTH CHAMP Air, Low Miles Only $1895....12 @ $152.38
def pr. $2328
86 CAVALIER 4-Door, Auto., Air Only $5695.....48 @ $159.20
def pr. $8142

YUGO

CORNER OF 4th & 11th STREET CALL 576-3700

YUGO 4/40
CARE-FREE/COST-FREE COVERAGE

Every new Yugo now comes with the BEST NEW CAR PROTECTION of any subcompact sold in America. See Dealer for details.

STILL THE LOWEST PRICED CAR SOLD IN AMERICA TODAY!

New Yugo GVX A/C, cassette, red. was $7870.50 is $6,129.40 48 @ $165.18 #55764 def.pr. $8429

New GVL Dark blue, a/c, cassette. was $7,470.50 is $6,021.50 48 @ $162.11 #40467 def.pr. $8281

New GVX White, 5 spd. was $7,801.20 is $5,805.50 48 @ $155.92 #40466 def.pr. $7984

New GVX Silver, a/c, cassette. was $8,870.54 is $7,030.50 48 @ $190.94 #40465 def.pr. $9665

New GVX Red, 5 spd. was $7,436.50 is $5,835.50 48 @ $156.88 #40463 def.pr. $8030

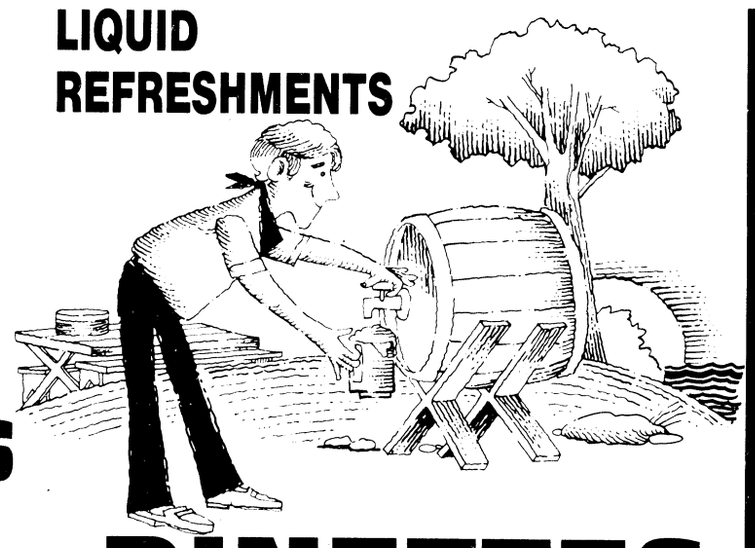
New GVL White, 5 sp. was $6,489.50 is $5,126.50 48 @ $136.54 #40426 def.pr. $7054

*All Payments include everything (tax-tag-title & Doc Fee's) APR 12.75%-18.75% with approved credit. Suzuki Payments are with $1500 a Balloon Payment for the 60th Payment.

CHARLES LEVY MOTOR CO.

ALL LOTS OPEN
Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8:00 Sat. 9:00-6:00
and Sun. 12:00-5:30

FURNISH AMERICA'S OLD-FASHIONED Sidewalk Sale AND COOKOUT!



JOIN US FOR FREE HOT DOGS AND BARBECUE

HUGE 3 DAY EVENT!

FRIDAY NOON-8PM / SATURDAY NOON-8PM / SUNDAY 1PM-6PM

WE AT FURNISH AMERICA ARE UNABLE TO ATTEND THE SALISBURY FAIR AND PIG JIG SO WE ARE HAVING OUR OWN FESTIVE EVENT! YES WE WILL BE COOKING UP BBQ AND HOT DOGS AND YOUR CHOICE OF LIQUID REFRESHMENTS. OUR WAREHOUSE CREWS ARE WORKING OVER TIME REMARKING AND RETAGGING SPRING CLEARANCE ITEMS WHICH WILL BE DISPLAYED ON OUR SIDEWALK IN OUR SHOPPING CENTER. FANTASTIC BARGAINS, GOOD FOOD, BALLOONS FOR THE KIDS, IT WILL BE A GOOD TIME FOR ALL. DON'T MISS IT!

LIQUID REFRESHMENTS

LAST WEEK AT THIS PRICE!

SOLID OAK ROCKER SET

Solid oak porch set consists of double rocker, settee and two porch rockers. Beautifully lacquered durable oak. You would expect to pay up to $199.00 . . . but for a limited time only . . .

reg. $199.00

$49

SOFA AND LOVESEAT COMBOS AS LOW AS $299

DINETTES AS LOW AS $169

4 DRAWER CHEST $59

BEDROOM GROUPS AS LOW AS $299

SECTIONAL GROUPS WITH INCLINERS AS LOW AS $599

PIT GROUPS AS LOW AS $199

BAR STOOLS STARTING AT $29

Fill Out And Bring This Coupon In To Register

FURNISH AMERICA

OFFICIAL TICKET

Furnish America $10,000 FURNITURE GIVEAWAY

NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

PHONE _____

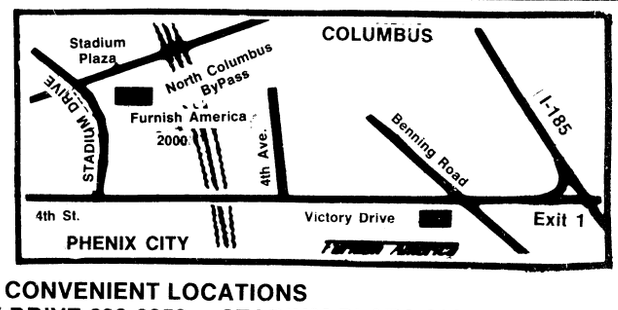
PLAY LOTORIA℠ FREE GIANT JACKPOT

GET YOUR FREE TICKETS

NO PURCHASE NECESSARY

OUTDOOR FURNITURE 50% OFF

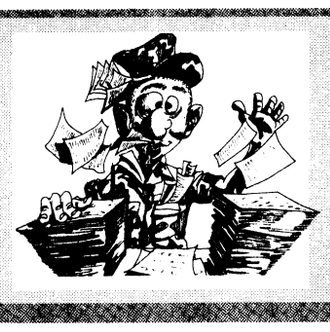
HUNDRED AND HUNDREDS OF ITEMS



WE'RE BURSTING WITH VALUES!

NO PAYMENTS TIL AUG. '89

Furnish America



Yes, we still have credit terms. Even at these astounding prices we can offer convenient terms based upon needs including 100 days same as cash. Minimum purchase $400. Your charge cards welcome.

NOW TWO CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
BENNING ROAD AT VICTORY DRIVE 682-2350— STADIUM PLAZA 298-1121

Surveys are coming in. Snively gives a preview of some of the readers' suggestions.

See A-2

Grueling Best Ranger competition is over, and winners claim their prizes. Also, see B-6 for standings.

See A-4

INDEX

Opinion A-2
Community A-6
Spiritual A-7
Sports B-3
Movies B-5

THE BAYONET

Home of the Infantry

Vol. 47, No. 31 | Published in the interest of the Fort Benning, Ga. community. | May 5, 1989

POST BRIEFS

Asian/Pacific celebration set

May 6-14 — As part of a national awareness observance, Fort Benning will celebrate Asian/Pacific American Heritage Week from May 6 through 14. The theme for this year is "Asian/Pacific Americans: Participation-Partnership-Progress."

This annual ethnic observance recognizes the significant achievements and contributions made by Asian/Pacific Americans to the American way of life. Today, there are nearly 50,000 Asian/Pacific Americans serving in the U.S. military.

As a tribute, Fort Benning's Infantry Museum will display a collection of 60 Japanese block prints from the turn of the 20th century. This is a rare and unique collection of military art, highlighting the artistic culture of the Asian-Oriental people. This special exhibit also features a large piece of oriental porcelain, which belonged to General of the Army Omar Nelson Bradley. The public is invited to visit the museum. Several battalions around post will recognize Asian/Pacific American Heritage Week with educational awareness programs in the units.

★ ★ ★

Ceremony commemorates victims of Holocaust

Holocaust memorial — A special Holocaust Memorial Ceremony will be held today at 4 p.m. in Marshall Auditorium in Building 4. Alexander Gross, survivor of Auschwitz and Buchenwald, will be the guest speaker. The ceremony will include music and a candlelighting memorial tribute. The public is invited to attend.

★ ★ ★

FMEAP assists summer hire

Youth Job Fair — The Family Member Employment Assistance Program in conjunction with Youth Activities, will sponsor a Youth Job Fair May 17. The Job Fair will be held at the Youth Activities Center, building 1056, from 3 to 5 p.m.

The purpose of the Youth Job Fair is to promote and help military family member youths gain summer employment and employment experience through volunteering.

Represented at the Job Fair will be many local businesses, Fort Benning volunteer organizations, opportunities for educational benefits and the sign up list for the Odd Jobs.

The Odd Jobs List coordinates military families with military family member youths who wish to work doing odd jobs such as lawn mowing, baby-sitting, pet walking and so on.

Family members are invited to attend the Job Fair to add their names to the Odd Jobs List.

For more information about the Job Fair, call the Family Member Employment Assistance Office at 545-5430/5176.

★ ★ ★

Sayers Library presents drug awareness clinic

Wednesday — Sayers Memorial Library, located in building 93, is presenting a drug awareness clinic for parents and children Wednesday at 7 p.m. This clinic, conducted by Yvonne Linsenbigler of the Civilian Counseling Services of Fort Benning, is the second of a series of monthly programs presented by the library for adult education. The library staff invites everyone to attend the clinic and become more aware of local drug problems and how to protect their family. For more information, call Barbara M. Jordan, Sayers Memorial Library at 545-1769.

★ ★ ★

GI Bill sign-up ends June 30

Last chance — June 30 is the last day soldiers will have to take advantage of a "second opportunity" to reverse their original decision not to participate in the Montgomery GI Bill program. A seven-month extension granted by congress to ensure all eligible nonenrolled soldiers who entered active duty for the first time between July 1, 1985, and June 30, 1988 have a chance to enroll, will end June 30.

Two rangers prove who's best

One more mile

Capt. Robert Vasta and CW0 2 Shaun Driscoll, both of 10th SFG, Fort Devens, Mass., run to the finish line in the 2.7-mile Buddy Run. The run was the final event of the David E. Grange Best Ranger competition.

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

"You have to have the physical ability of an Olympic athlete to compete in the Best Ranger competition, but, you can't finish if you don't have discipline and mental toughness," said the commander and chief of the U.S. Special Operations Command during the David E. Grange Best Ranger competition awards ceremony May 1.

SOCOM commander, Gen. James J. Lindsay, continued, "Rangers have that mental toughness, and that's why they lead the way."

This year's Best Ranger winners, 24-year-old Sgt. Mike M. Sonnenschein and 25-year-old Sgt. Guy Fichtelman, both of Company A, 3rd Battalion, 75th Ranger Regiment, led the way throughout the entire competition.

They won the first event, the PT test, which began at 6:30 a.m. on April 28, and kept that lead throughout the three-day competition.

Sonnenschein did 113 push-ups, 98 sit-ups and 21 pull-ups. Fichtelman did 132 push-ups, 103 sit-ups and 20 pull-ups. They both ran the two-mile run in 11:02.

The equal time on the run was not an accident. Sonnenschein and Fichtelman say they are equal in almost everything. Although Sonnenschein has got 3 inches on Fitchtelman's height, they both weigh-in at 160 pounds. They have also been on the same training program for several months.

The men say the fact that they are so equal gave them an edge in the competition.

See BEST A-4

Medical team arrives in Alaska

By SFC Greg Allen
66th Infantry Division (Light)
Fort Richardson, Alaska

A Fort Benning medical evacuation team arrived at Fort Richardson, Alaska, April 20, ready to provide assistance if needed during the oil spill cleanup.

Three UH-60 Blackhawk helicopters and 26 pilots, crew members and support personnel from the 498th Medical Company arrived at Bryant Army Airfield after flying in to nearby Elmendorf Air Force Base on a C5-A Galaxy. The helicopters were off-loaded, reassembled and then flown to the Army airfield about five minutes away.

"It was 75 degrees when we left Georgia," said Capt. Kenneth L. Quaglio as he surveyed the snow-covered Chugach Mountains. Quaglio is the commanding officer of the team. He said they would be in Alaska between 90 and 120 days.

After a day of familiarization flights through the various air corridors, the team will be on status to provide medical evacuations.

"Because there are a great number of people involved with the cleanup, there is always the possibility an accident can happen. We can be at Valdez in about an hour," said Quaglio. Valdez is about 300 road miles from Anchorage.

The team is part of the largest medical evacuation helicopter unit in the continental United States and one of only five medical evacuation companies in CONUS. The other units are headquartered at Forts Bragg, Campbell, Polk and Irwin.

Last year, this unit supported the 6th Infantry Division (Light) at the Joint Readiness Training Center at Fort Chaffee, Ark., and also deployed to Yellowstone to assist Army firefighters last summer.

The team was sent as part of the Army's response to President Bush's order on April 7 for the military to assist in the cleanup of the massive oil spill off the coast of Alaska.

More than 10 million gallons of crude oil were spilled from the tanker, Exxon Valdez, March 24 — the largest spill in U.S. history.

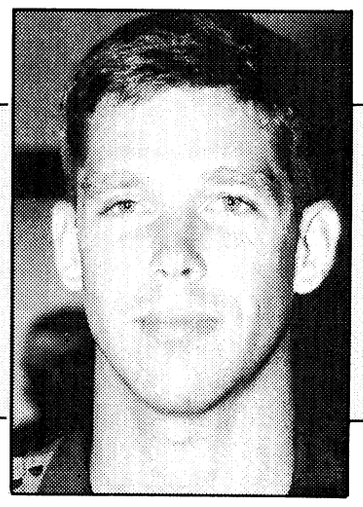
So far, 66 soldiers are involved in the operation under Air Force Lt. Gen. Thomas McInerney, the commander of the Alaska Joint Task Force.

Army support has been mostly in the form of air traffic control assistance, Army augmentation of the Joint Task Force Alaska staff and medical aviation personnel ready to provide aid if necessary.

Army equipment supplied includes helicopters, computers and a van.

Additionally, the Army Corps of Engineers has supplied two dredge vessels whose holds will be used to collect oil sucked up by the skimmers.

U.S. Army photo



Army helicopters fly over the Alaskan landscape.

OPINION

VARIOUS VOICES: What was your most difficult moment during the Best Ranger competition?

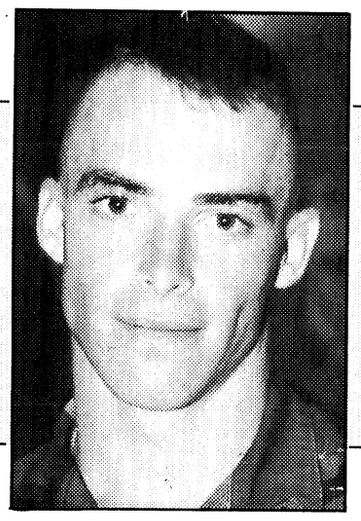
SSgt. Scott Bertacini, Co. C, 4th Bn., 22nd Inf., 25th Inf. Div., Schofield Barracks, Hawaii — "The night land navigation course was my most difficult moment. The course really tore my feet up. It took me eight hours to go twelve miles."

SSgt. Mark McCoy, Co. B, 4th Bn., 27th Inf., 25th Inf. Div., Schofield Barracks, Hawaii — "The canoe event is where I had my most difficult moment. We got stuck in the rocks, and the other competitors from the Twenty-fifth Infantry Division just zipped right by us. We couldn't do a thing about it."



SFC Ward Brown, Canadian Army, Calgary, Alberta, Canada — "The last two miles on the road march were the most difficult for me. It was a gravel road, and my feet were already tender. Those last miles really hurt."

SSgt.Jerry Scheidl, Canadian Army, Calgary, Alberta, Canada — "I had my most difficult moment during the two-point-seven-mile buddy run. It was the last event, and by that time, the heat really got to me."

Sgt.Guy Fichtelman, Co. A, 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt. — "My most difficult moment was when we got out of the water after doing the helocast. The poncho raft was waterlogged, which made it really heavy. We were already worn out, so it was pretty hard to get the raft to shore.

Sgt. Mike Sonnenschein, Co. A, 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt. — "My most difficult moment was during the night land navigation event. We were already tired from the road march the night before, and knowing we were going to have to carry our rucksacks for another ten hours really smoked us. It was really draining."

Survey reveals good, bad

By Clyde Snively
USAIC Public Affairs Office

The major back here in command information is positively beaming.

At first, we thought it was because he was getting ready to PCS. But he said it's because of the overwhelming reader response to The Bayonet survey.

"I can't believe it's been so good," he said.

All the results will eventually be tabulated and published in The Bayonet so you can see what other readers like or dislike about the paper and what changes they think we should make.

In the meantime, I was assigned to do an "interim report."

But before I begin: "Sorry, sorry, sorry." We at The Bayonet apologize to the lieutenant colonel who hasn't been a major since 1984, to the man we addressed as Ms., to the staff sergeant we addressed as PFC and to all the others whose names and ranks we screwed up — a thousand apologies.

We are not, however, apologizing to the staff sergeant we referred to as a first sergeant. He said we "made his day."

How did this happen? You got me. We got the alpha roster from AG and had it printed. Don't know if the master roster is messed up, or it happened when we transferred it to labels.

That out of the way, let's get to issues.

Most comments dealt with content. Special interest groups wanted to see more things about their particular areas. And of course unit coverage was questioned. One person observed that the 197th gets a lot of coverage, "Is that because they have their own PAO?" he asked.

Yes it is. The Bayonet staff, while mighty, is also small. We rely on the units to get news to us. That's why each unit is supposed to have what we call a stringer, to feed us stories and photos. Some do, others don't. While Madame editor doesn't use everything she gets, she can't use stuff she doesn't get.

We've duly noted that many of you want more information about what's going on in the surrounding communities. One person suggested a column titled, "have you visited," which would feature restaurants, museums, picnic areas and so on.

We realize our shortcomings here. We'll try harder to get out and cover this. By the way, if there's anyone out there in readership land who'd like to take on this task, please let us know. Happy to have you on board. We'll even provide film if you want to take pictures.

Others of you said you wanted hard-hitting news, others wanted controversy and still others wanted good news. One person told us we couldn't be all things to all people so we should decide what we want to be and be it.

We do try to run hard news. We've run stories on murders and other crimes on post. But being a weekly, it's tough to compete with the local media — by the time we come out, we need to determine if the incident is still newsworthy. A major story like a murder still will be, and we'll cover it.

The person wanting more controversy suggested politics. We are forbidden by Army regulation to cover politics. Can't even run political cartoons.

Also, under the guise of controversy, he asked why visiting general officers stay at the Marshall House. Where should we put them, in a shelter-half out back? Even privates get a roof over their heads.

Additionally, we don't run controversy just for the sake of controversy, but when there's a story that has a lot of emotional impact and is news worthy, we'll run it.

I'll admit, our First Amendment rights might not be the same as the downtown media, again those regs and command policies, but we're pretty free to publish what our readers need as long as it's in good taste.

Several people wanted us to run a letters column. We'd love to run a letters column, but no one's writing, and we don't intend to write letters to ourselves.

When I said no one's writing, that's a slight exaggeration. We do receive an occasional letter. We try to run them if they're in good taste, accurate and don't attack someone or some institution. When the letter calls command policy into question, we'll normally staff it to get both sides of the issue, just as the downtown papers do.

People wanted more information on post regulations and brought up a slew of ideas that we'll be addressing in future editions. These include what to do about speeders in the housing areas, kids who seem to roam at night without adult supervision and DUIs to name just a few.

One person complained we list NCOs who are convicted of driving under the influence, but not officers. This isn't true. Presently we don't run a list of DUIs. However, we plan to in the near future. We agree that "what's good for one, is good for all. If you get caught and are found guilty, your name will appear on the DUI list whether you're enlisted or officer.

We were pleased so many people complained because they couldn't get The Bayonet delivered to their homes. On post, those who subscribe to the Ledger-Enquirer either daily, or on the weekend, will get it with Friday's paper.

In Columbus, only southsiders are getting it because of the preponderance of soldier families and retirees living there, and this made the publisher, the Ledger-Enquirer, decide it was sound economics to distribute in that area with the regular Friday edition of the L-E.

Yes, we know soldiers and retirees also live east and north, but that's an issue you'll need to take up with the folks at the L-E.

We noted one reader said he and three others take turns coming to post to pick up Bayonets each week. Bless you.

As for those of you on post who don't get Bayonets, please let us know. We'll find out where the breakdown is occurring and get it straightened out. Also, be looking for Bayonets at gathering places like the PX and the clubs.

Some of you think we are a waste of paper, time, money and people. Yes, the government is paying the wages of the people on The Bayonet staff. Their Army mission is to keep the Army family informed so they can be better soldiers, civilians and more informed family members. This is important.

As for the cost of printing and distributing the paper, it's borne by the L-E. They make their money by selling (too many for some, not enough for others) ads.

As for you spellers and grammarians out there, we appreciate your input, too. All I can say is we try.

Finally, I want to thank my loyal readers, such as the soldier who said he'd rather have rusty barbed wire pulled through his nostrils than read this column, or the person who needs a gun pointed at his head before he'll read.

At least they didn't say I should stop writing like a couple of others did. Ah, the price of fame.

Keep the surveys coming in and look for our survey report in a later (much later) edition.

Reader disputes date railroad built

Dear Editor,

Your story in the April 14 edition of The Bayonet concerning the removal of rail tracks on post is somewhat in error.

You stated that it was built in 1943. As a young boy, I lived in the then new noncommissioned officers' quarters above the tracks. I used to play in the woods and on the tracks during a period up to 1935 when my father was transferred to Panama.

I have a scar on my chin from a fall on the same tracks!

At that time, the road didn't exist — the woods extended from the tracks to the Upatoi.

The post and units were supplied almost totally by rail at that time.

C.O. Bell
Retired Colonel

Dear Mr. Bell,

After some investigation into your claim, I found that the files containing the actual date the rails were laid were kept in a building that burned in 1943. Since all the files were destroyed, no one is sure when the tracks were put here. It seems that your scar is somewhat more accurate than our source. Thank you for your input.

Sharon Reynolds, editor

The Bayonet

This newspaper is an authorized publication for members of the Army. Contents of THE BAYONET are not necessarily the official views of, or endorsed by the Department of the Army or any of its agencies. Everything in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, sex or national origin of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunity by an advertiser will result in the refusal of the publisher to print advertising from that souce. THE BAYONET is an unofficial publication authorized by Army Regulation 360-81. Editorial content is prepared, edited and provided by the Public Affairs Office of the U.S. Army Infantry Center. THE BAYONET is published each Friday by the R.W. Page Corporation, a private firm in no way connected with the Department of the Army, under exclusive written contract with Fort Benning. All photos are U.S. Army unless otherwise credited. Liaison between the publisher and the commanding general, USAIC, is maintained by the public affairs officer, through the command information officer, USAIC, Fort Benning.

Editorial

Commanding General ..... Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire
Public Affairs Officer ..... Lt. Col. McDonald Plummer Jr.
Command Information Officer ..... Maj. Thomas Fix
Command Information NCOIC ..... SSgt. Ron Allen
Administration NCOIC ..... SSgt. Luz Llanos
Editor ..... SSgt. Sharon Reynolds
Assistant Editor ..... Agatha Hudson James
Staff writers ..... Spec. Ann McDonald, Spec. Shawn Bryson
Editorial Office: Public Affairs Office, USAIC, Building 4, Room 601, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905, (404) 545-2201/2202; AUTOVON 835-2201.

Advertising

Retail/Display ..... (404) 324-5526
Classified ..... (404) 322-4500
Circulation ..... (404) 323-1234

For subscription information call (404)323-1234.

Circulation 21,000

Represented nationally by Knight Ridder Newspaper sales W.B. Bradbury and Military Media, Inc.

29th Inf Regt bustles with activity

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The 29th Infantry Regiment has been bustling with activity this past week. Now, they not only have two colonels at the helm, but both of them are brand new.

The first of the new colonel's was assigned to the unit in a special induction ceremony April 29 at Dickman Field. An honorary colonel, retired Lt. Gen. Johnny J. Johnston of the regiment, and sergeant major, retired Sgt. Maj. Frank C. Plass of the regiment, were inducted into the unit.

Then on May 1 Col. Richard L. St. John stepped aboard as commander of the regiment.

The regiment has a long and proud history, which came back in the form of Johnston and Plass, who were inducted before the change of command so they could be part of the future of the regiment.

Johnston and Plass served with the 29th while on active duty. As a matter of fact, both served at the same time as battalion commander and battalion sergeant major in what was then 1st Battalion, 29th Infantry, 197th Infantry Brigade.

They said they were honored to be bestowed their positions.

During his induction speech, Johnston said even though he is no longer on active duty, his concern for the military is still as great as it was then.

"There are no soldiers like Infantry soldiers," Johnston said, "and you (soldiers in audience) are responsible for training the future Queens of Battle."

He added he would do all he was asked for the regiment.

Col. John Fuller said he wishes he could do more for the regiment, but he handed over the reins May 1.

"Saying goodbye is not easy," he said. "You (soldiers of the regiment) have been my family for the past two years."

He said there are great people in the regiment, and no one has done more for the Department of Defense than they have.

"I owe you soldiers and NCOs a great debt," Fuller said, "and I am going to miss you all."

In closing, he gave some advice to the new commander of the 29th Inf. Regt. "Colonel St. John, give the soldiers the mission, and they will take it from there. They are the best."

Savings bond campaign kicks off

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

The 1989 U.S. Savings Bond Campaign is under way at Fort Benning after a kick-off breakfast April 20 at the Follow Me dining facility here with commanders and representatives from nearly every major command or directorate attending.

David L. Heinrich, Atlanta district director, U.S. Savings Bond Division, commended Fort Benning as being one of the stars of past campaigns.

Last year, Benning placed second overall in the Department of the Army with 7,312 new or increased savings bond customers.

"This year, we should shoot for a 50 percent increase," said Benning chief of staff, Col. James I. Daily. Daily also accepted an award from Heinrich for Fort Benning's success in last year's campaign.

"If you buy a bond and hold it for at least five years, we guarantee a very competitive rate," Heinrich said. He explained that buying savings bonds is not only a patriotic thing to do, but also a smart investment with great potential.

The current rate of interest on savings bonds is 7.35 percent and will vary every six months. However, since 1982, the rate of interest on bonds has averaged 8.32, percent, and there is a guaranteed floor rate of 6 percent.

People looking for tax breaks will be attracted to savings bonds, Heinrich said. "Bonds are exempt from state and local taxes and the federal tax can be deferred until the bonds' maturity," Heinrich said.

Savings bonds are also a good way to save for education and retirement, Heinrich said. The chart below shows an education savings example through the payroll savings plan. The chart shows allotments of $50 and $100 per month. However, military personnel may buy a savings bond with allotments as low as $6.25 per month.

Value at age 18 based on monthly allotments of $50 and $100 **:

Child's Age Now *	$50	$100
1	17,356.08	34,712.16
6	10,328.96	20,657.92
10	6,025.72	12,051.44
12	4,226.88	8,453.76

* — Current tax law requires children ages 5 and above to have a Social Security Number.

 — Assumes on annual interest rate of 6 percent — current minimum rate — and a 10-year interest extension. Ratescould be higher.

Each major unit or directorate on post has been assigned a project officer for the campaign. Project officers have also been assigned to the smaller levels of each organization. Those people interested in buying savings bonds should contact their project officer.

Post celebrates Law Day USA

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

In celebration of the 32nd annual Law Day USA, hundreds of people turned out for the luncheon Monday at the Officers' Club.

Law Day USA, recognizing the importance of our justice system and celebrated nationally since 1958, drew lawyers, judges and legal personnel from Georgia and Alabama, as well as Fort Benning.

The luncheon, sponsored by the office of the Staff Judge Advocate and the Columbus Lawyers Club, also payed tribute to children and adults who have contributed to the spirit of this year's theme, "Access to Justice."

Guest speaker at the luncheon was the Honorable C. C. "Bo" Torbert, the immediate past chief justice of the Alabama Supreme Court.

The "Liberty Bell Award" went to Judge Aaron Cohn of Columbus, who was unable to attend the luncheon. Cohn has served as a judge at the Muscogee County Juvenile Court since January 1965. Other achievements of Cohn's include serving as president of the Georgia and National Councils of Juvenile Court Judges, chairman of the National Conference of Christians and Jews and former chairman of the March of Dimes. He is currently on the board of the Columbus College's Educational Foundation. His son, Leslie, accepted the award for Cohn.

On behalf of the students and faculty Benning's Frank R. Loyd Elementary School, Del Karr accepted the U.S. Constitution Bicentennial Award for all of the school's Law Day activities. Some of those activities included mock trials and theme posters, displays and essays.

Poster and essay contests were also held at Fort Benning and Columbus schools in observance of Law Day. Winners off the contests had their work displayed at the luncheon. Winners of the contests were awarded leather bookmarks and framed certificates. Individuall essay winners received savings bonds, which were presented at the luncheon.

For more on Law Day USA activities, see related articles on A-5.

Kindergarten roundup begins Tuesday here

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

Fort Benning Schools will sponsor Kindergarten Roundup Tuesday for the 1989-90 school year from 1:30 to 3:30 p.m. at Dexter, Loyd, McBride, Patch, Wilbur and Wilson schools.

Children who will be 5 years of age on or before Sept. 1, 1989, are eligible to enter kindergarten this fall. Parents are asked to bring their child to the assigned school to comp ete registration forms and to receive an information packet.

Parents are urged to bring the child's birth certificate to the roundup.

Roundup is a time for parents and children to become acquainted with the school principal and teachers and to see the school building.

While children still must be registered in the fall, the roundup is a time for parents to learn about necessary forms for registration and to ask questions about the coming school year.

VISA CARDS ARE HERE!

VISA

COMPARE the terms of your Credit Union with the market and you'll make the switch.

$8.00 Annual Fee
15% Annual Percentage Rate

25 Day Grace Period

TIC FEDERAL CREDIT UNION
Offer to eligible members only.

2786 Eckel Street
Fort Benning, GA 31905
682-0830

4811 Bankers Blvd.
Columbus, GA 31904
324-5288

FREE

ALL TUNE and LUBE

Oil change, lube & filter
with the purchase of an engine tune up.

COMPLETE ENGINE TUNE
$39.90*
Includes all parts and labor for most cars
Some Vans & Pick-ups Add'l.
12 MONTH/12,000 MILE WARRANTY
WITH COUPON ● WHILE YOU WAIT Exp. 5-19-89

Your Total Car Care Center

ALL TUNE and LUBE

● Oil Change, Lube & Filter $9.90 reg. $19.90
● Transmission Tune-up $24.90 reg. $29.90
● Air Conditioning Service $24.90 reg. $29.90
● Fuel Injector Service $39.90 reg. $49.90
● Brake Special (Most Vehicles) $34.90 reg. $63.90

FREE BRAKE INSPECTION CB

COLUMBUS
6028 MILLER ROAD
569-TUNE
OVER 70 LOCATIONS NATIONWIDE!

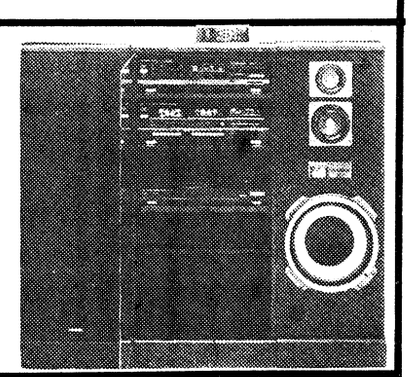
Hours M-F
8 AM-7 PM
Sat. 8 AM-4 PM

GRAND OPENING

Weight Loss That Works

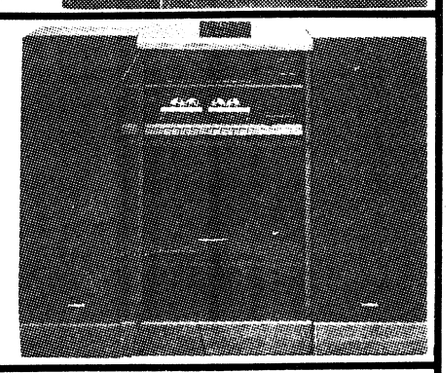
* Medical staffed outpatient clinic
* Written Guaranteel Lose 3½ to 8 lbs. per week
* Enjoy beef, chicken, lobster vegetables even Double Chocolate Cheesecake
* Special programs for special medical conditions (high blood pressure, diabetes, cholesterol, etc.)
* For Men, Women & Teenagers
* Free Consultation
* Insurance Approved

Compare price, courtesy, and results!



COUPON
LOSE 34 LBS. IN 30 DAYS
$69*
4 WEEKS FREE
*Medical and supplements excluded
Exp. 5-12-89
COUPON

COUPON
ALL THE WEIGHT YOU WANT TO LOSE
$99*
FREE PHYSCIAL
*supplements excluded
Exp. 5-12-89
COUPON



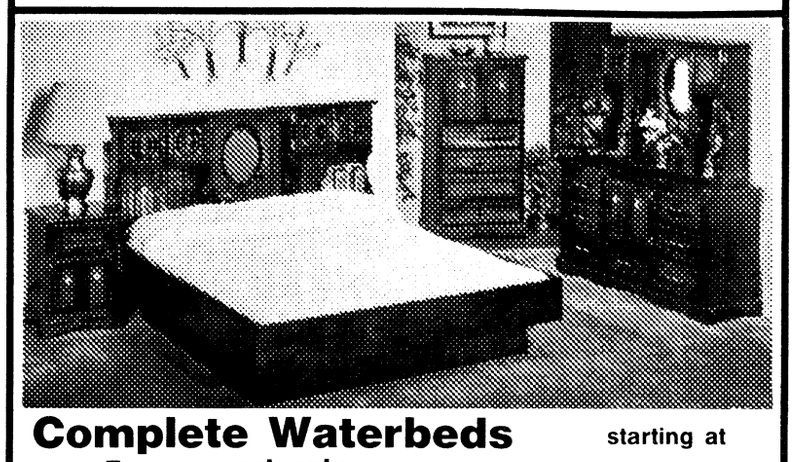
DOCTORS WEIGHT LOSS
Macon Road at 185
569-7706

FISHER

SYSTEM 8806
AUDIO COMPONENT SYSTEM
KEY FEATURES
● 50 WATTS PER CHANNEL
● 15-FUNCTION WIRELESS REMOTE CONTROL
● DOUBLE CASSETTE DECK WITH HIGH-SPEED DUBBING
● MAGNETIC FIELD COMPENSATED SPEAKERS
STEREO RECEIVER-RS-881RB
● 50 Watts per channel min. RMS power into 8 ohms, 20Hz to 20kHz with no more than 0.5% T.H.D.
DOUBLE CASSETTE DECK-CR-W8881RB
SEMI-AUTOMATIC TURNTABLE-MT 881RB
Sale $699.99
Reg. $999.99 $24.99 month

SYSTEM 8816
AUDIO COMPONENT SYSTEM
KEY FEATURES
● SEPARATE POWER SUPPLIES ON ALL COMPONENTS
● 100 WATTS PER CHANNEL
● 27-FUNCTION WIRELESS REMOTE CONTROL
● 10" 3-WAY MAGNETIC FIELD COMPENSATED SPEAKERS
Reg. $1199.99
SALE $849.99
or $29.99 month

UNIFIED SERIES AUDIO/VIDEO SYSTEMS

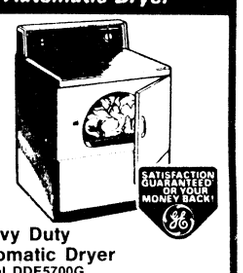


AUDIO SYSTEM-8806DV
Reg. $2199.99
Sale
$1699.99
$59.99 A mth.
Base on 30 mth Revolving

● RECEIVER RS-881AB-50 WATTS PER CHANNEL, 5-BAND EQUALIZER,QUARTZ PLL, 24 PRESETS (18FM + 6AM)
● CASSETTE DECK CR-W881AB-DOUBLE DECK, DOLBY NOISE REDUCTION, HIGH SPEED DUBBING
● TURNTABLE MT-881AB-SEMI-AUTOMATIC, FRONT PANEL CUEING
● SPEAKERS STV-655B-12" 3-WAY, MAGNETIC FIELD COMPENSATED

MONITOR/TV PANASONIC
● 20" (DIAGONAL)

FISHER VCR-FVH 6200
● VHS ON-SCREEN PROGRAMMING, 1 YEAR/6 EVENT, 122-CHANNEL QUARTZ TURNER, 2 VIDEO HEADS
● STEREO TV-PC-228W
● (OPTIONAL) CD-PLAYER-AD-724A
● (OPTIONAL) SURROUND SOUND SYSTEM - ASR-875



Complete Waterbeds
For one week only
Complete with headboard, frame, mattress liner, decking and heater. Everything you need but the water.
starting at $299.99
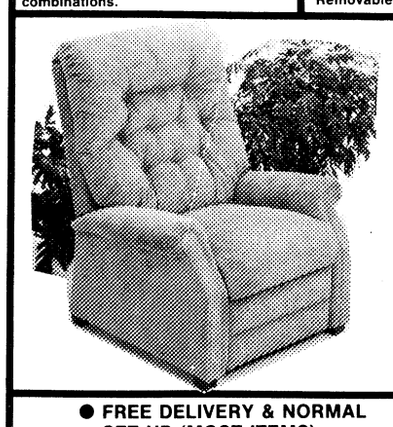
or $18.99 mo.*
Based on 30 mo. acct.

GE Heavy Duty Washer
GE Heavy Duty Automatic Dryer



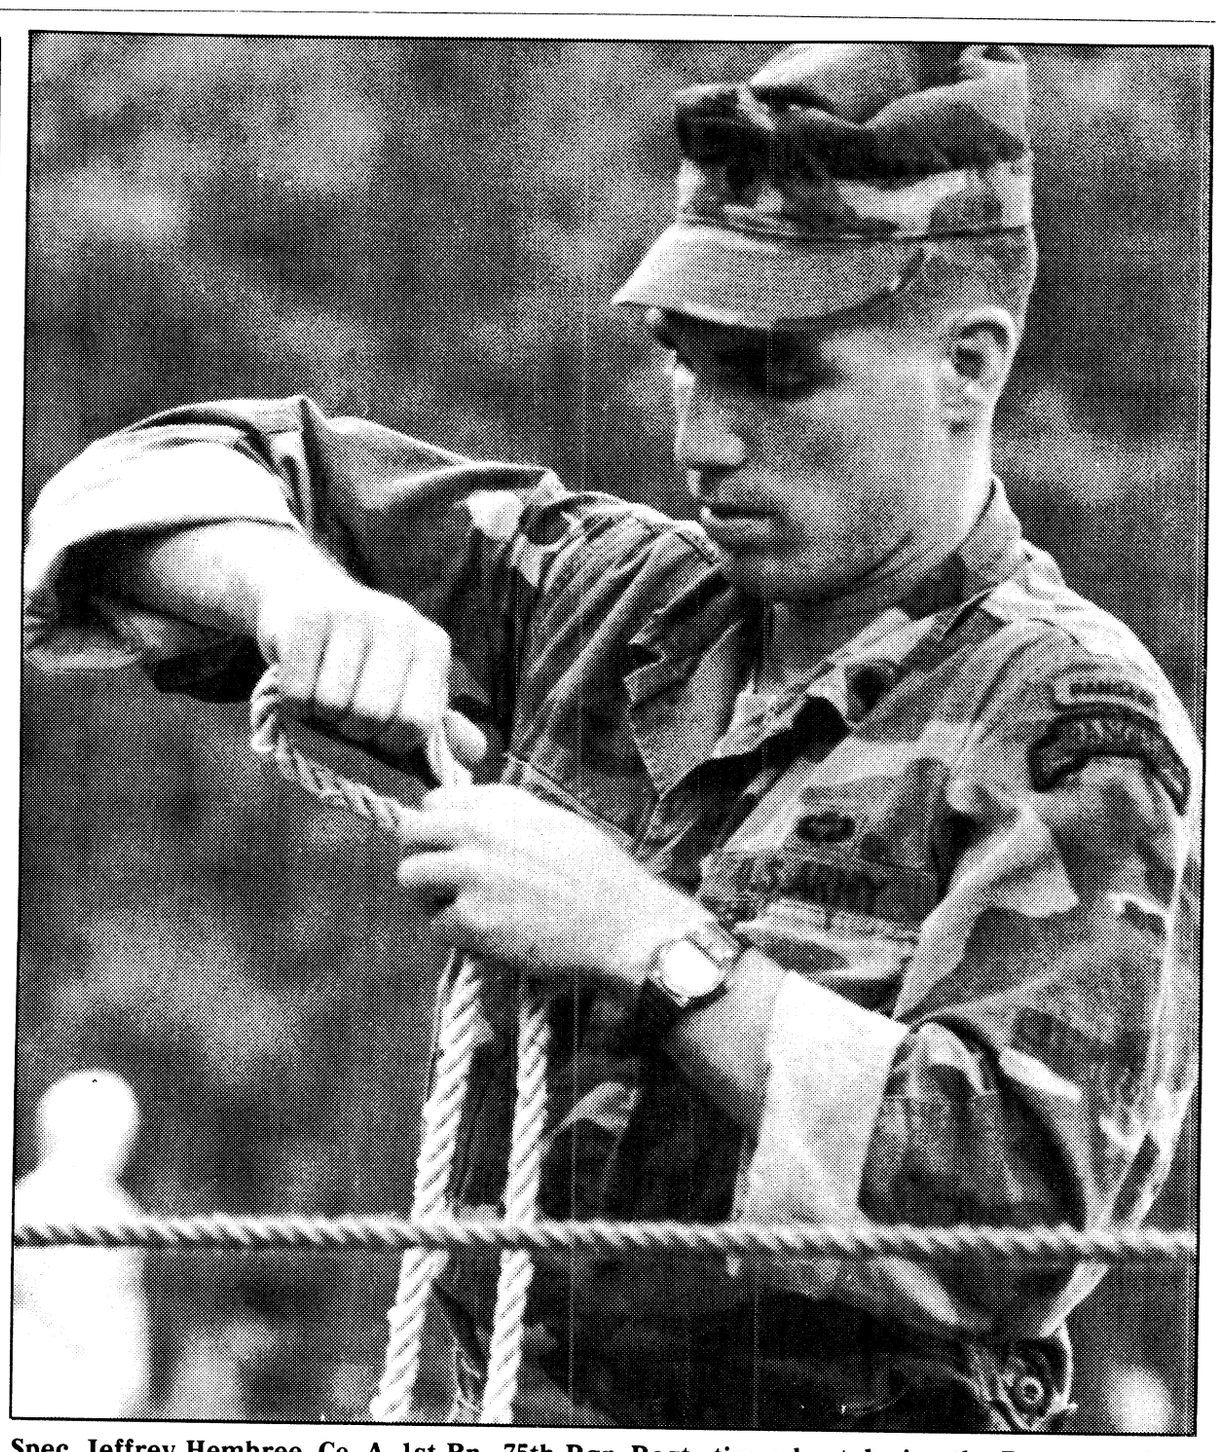
● 90 Day Money-back or Exchange Option from GE on retail purchases.

Heavy Duty Washer
Model WWA5800G
Large capacity, Mini-Basket tub. 2 cycle selections, regular and permanent press. 4 water level options. 3 wash/rinse temperature combinations.

Heavy Duty Automatic Dryer
Model DDE5700G
4 cylces including permanent press/knits. 3 drying selections. Durable porcelain enamel drum. Removable up-front filter.

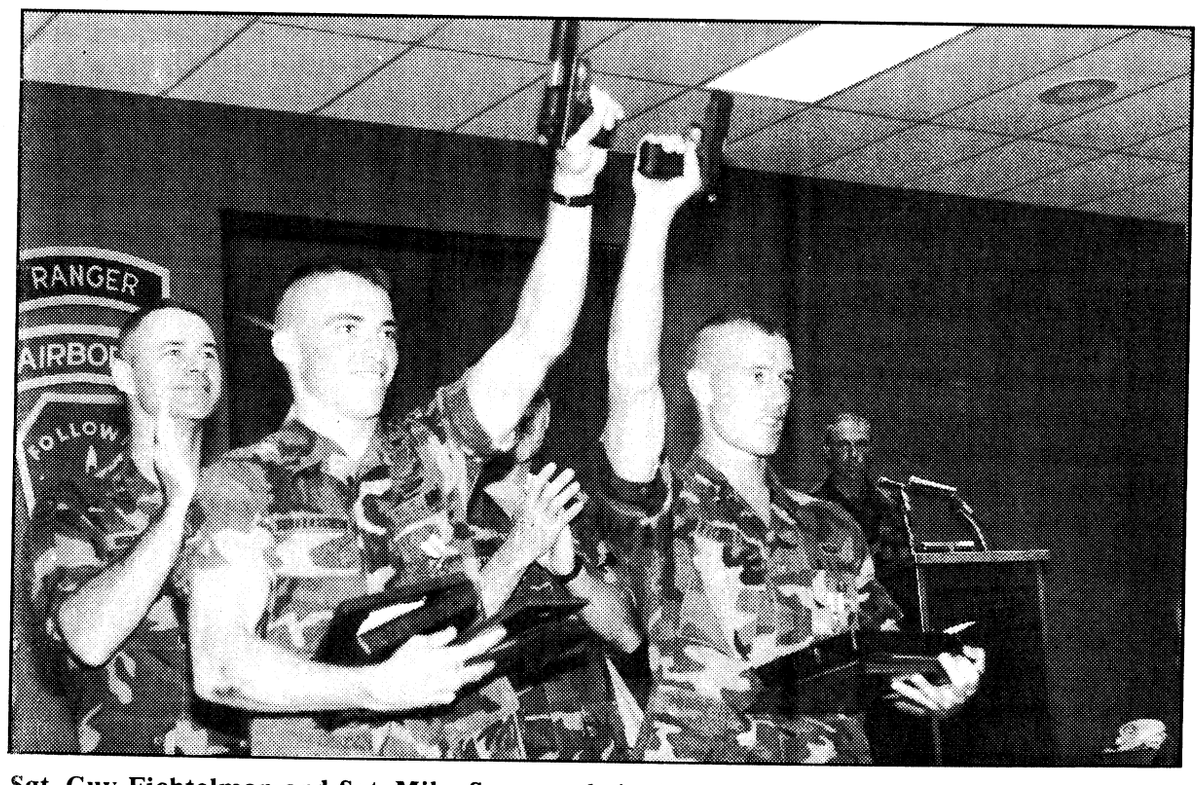
$860.00
For the pair
$29.99 mo.*
● Payment based on 30 mo. Revolving Account

RECLINER
$199.00
Other styles to choose from



● FREE DELIVERY & NORMAL SET UP (MOST ITEMS)
● REVOVLING CHARGE ACCOUNTS AVAILABLE
● 30 MONTH REVOLVING ACCOUNT AT 21% APR
● INSTANT CREDIT
● NO DOWN PAYMENT
● 100 DAYS SAME AS CASH
● NO INTEREST OR PAYMENT TILL AUG 89 (WITH APPROVED CREDIT)

WAHLERT'S
HOME CENTER
TRAFFIC CIRCLE SHOPPING CENTER
VICTORY DRIVE
M-F 10-8,
Sat. 10-6
687-0397
687-0396
with one these valid credit cards, you may quality for $4000.00 "INSTANT CREDIT"



Photos by Ann M. McDonald

Sgt. Robert Prosser and Sgt. Mark Mayoras, 3rd Bde, 7th Inf. Div., Fort Ord, Calif., set up their canoe for the race down Upatoi Creek.

Spec. Jeffrey Hembree, Co. A, 1st Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., ties a knot during the Ranger Stakes portion of the competition.

Sgt. Guy Fichtelman and Sgt. Mike Sonnenschein, both from Co. A, 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., raise the pistols awarded to them for winning the David E. Grange Best Ranger Competition.

Capt. Robert Vasta, HHC, 10th SFG, Fort Devens, Mass., snakes his way through the weaver. The weaver is one of the obstacles on the Darby Queen Obstacle Course.

Best

Continued from A-1

"If you're well rounded and and equal in strength, you'll win," Sonnenschein said.

The Best Ranger consists of weapon qualification, pathfinder/airborne operation, a canoe race down Upatoi Creek, a 20-mile road march, tests of ranger skills, a 12-mile land navigation course, a 2,000-meter obstacle course containing 25 obstacles, a water confidence test; and finally, the soldiers must jump out of a hovering helicopter, swim to shore and run 2.7 miles with full-combat gear to the finish line.

Rangers who don't finish in the allotted time are out. The entire competition takes place in 60 hours, which doesn't leave much time for anything else, including eating and sleeping.

Fichtelman and Sonnenschein competed last year (they placed third) and said they thought they had shot at winning the competition this year.

They knew their past experience in the competition and a lot of preparation would pay off. It did, but not without a price.

"Our heels and our backs were rubbed completely raw from the road march the night before," Fichtelman said. "When we put those rucks back on to do the land nav and we got into to the woods, it was really difficult to go on. But, we knew we had to finish with a good time so we did whatever it took to get there."

Sonnenschein and Fichtelman prepared for and met the challenge that took them all the way to the top, and they say they're relieved it's over.

"We've been fine tuning and practicing for months, which amounted to quite a bit of stress," they said. "Now it's over, and it's just a relief."

It's not over for some of the other competitors. It's just beginning for teams such as the Canadian team, which was the first international team to ever enter, compete and finish the event.

"We saw the competition last year when we were going through Ranger School," said SFC Ward Brown, a member of the Canadian team. "We decided we wanted to enter so we approached our commanders, and they let us compete."

"Now we know what it's like, and we're going to be back next year," he said.

The Canadians and many other teams will be back next year, ripe for the challenge of the grueling event.

"It's the survival of the human race," said Col. Keith M. Nightingale, commander of the Ranger Training Brigade. "Getting there is a task in itself, finishing it is extraordinary and the winners are in a class by themselves."

Hinson furniture Galleries interiors

DREXEL HERITAGE
Because it's home.

There's a place where you can sink into a soft chair, turn on the answering machine and the rest of the world doesn't have to exist.

Come in and let our professional design staff help you create a beautiful environment, avoiding costly mistakes!

● Nancy Abernathy ● Suzanne Goddard
● Carolyn Coile ● Nancy Lynn Lalka

Tradition for Today

1208 - 24 13th Ave. 327-3671

© 1989 Drexel Heritage Furnishings Inc.

In The Mood For Oriental Food? Try
CHINA BELL

Luncheon Buffet
20 Items &
FREE Salad Bar
$3.99

Luncheon Special
Soup of the Day
Fried Rice & Egg Rolls
Main Course
$2.95

VISIT OUR LOUNGE

Open 7 Days a Week
LUNCH 11am-3pm
DINNER 5pm-11pm

DINNER BUFFET
& Salad Bar
Friday & Saturday
6 P.M.-10 P.M.
All You Can Eat
Including Shrimp
$6.50

Dinner Special
$4.50 and up
Served Nightly

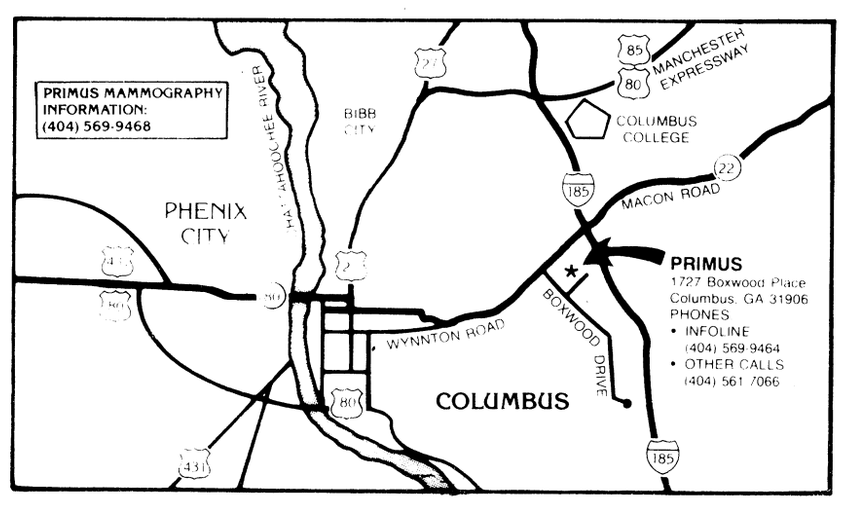
Banquet Room
& Carry-Out Available

15% Off With Copy Of Ad
(Only one meal per coupon)
3040 Victory Drive (Beside Motel 6)
687-1692

PRIMUS

NEW ARMY PRIMUS CENTER PROVIDES WALK-IN MEDICAL CARE

PRIMUS Walk-In centers are a new approach to providing military beneficiaries access to primary health care. PRIMUS Columbus will be open 365 days each year—from 0700 to 2000 weekdays and from 0900 to 1600 Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays (Effective 10-1-88).



No appointment is necessary and there is no cost to patients for treatment and medication.

All military beneficiaries, including family members, entitled to care at military treatment facilities and enrolled in the DEERS are eligible for care. Basic laboratory and X-ray services are provided on site. Licensed and credentialed physicians and staff provide medical care.

PRIMUS Columbus is located at
1727 Boxwood Place
Columbus, GA 31906

Infoline: (404) 569-9464
Other Calls: (404) 561-7066

PRIMUS
Mammography
Information:
(404) 569-9468

Critically ill or seriously injured patients should go to a hospital emergency room.
Services are provided by PHP Healthcare Corporation, Alexandria, Virginia, under contract to the US Army Health Services Command.

Law Day brings justice to schools

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

For years, Law Day, May 1, has been an integral part of the Fort Benning Schools programs. That day is the final celebration of the efforts of students, teachers and members of the Staff Judge Advocate's Office.

This year's theme, "Access to Justice," came alive in classrooms as students, with help from their teachers and from officers from the Staff Judge Advocate's office examined the concept.

Mock trials were conducted in several schools as teachers and students took to the witness stands in classrooms to "seek justice" on issues that were important to the students. Not even Goldilocks escaped the attention of these student barristers; she went on trial at Loyd School.

JAG representatives also visited several classrooms to discuss ways in which laws affect the daily lives of students. Gearing their presentations to the ages of their audiences, JAG officials presented programs with real-life examples that made the types of courts and legal procedures meaningful.

Posters, door displays and posted student essays reflected the Law Day theme in classrooms and hallways throughout Fort Benning. "Access to Justice" was a theme that allowed kindergartners through 8th-graders the opportunity to examine issues on a level meaningful to their particular age and grade level.

Col. Michael J. Nardotti Jr., Staff Judge Advocate, visited each school to judge the Overall School Competition. Loyd School won the traveling plaque for the second year in a row. Dawn Sweder's 1st-grade class at Wilbur School won special recognition for the life-size courtroom display class members had created in their classroom.

In addition to the overall school competition, individual poster and essay contests with the "Access to Justice" theme took place.

The poster contest was open to students in kindergarten through 5th grade. Winners received a framed certificate and a leather American Bar Association bookmark.

The essay contest was open to students in the 6th through the 8th grade. In addition to certificates and leather bookmarks, the winners received savings bonds; the first place winner received $250, the second place winner received $150 and the third place winner received $100.

Individual winners were:
Poster Contest (Grades Kindergarten - 2) First place — Lisa Rosario — 2nd grade, Dexter School; Linda Henderson, teacher.

Second place — Ruth Pagan — 2nd grade, McBride School; Caroline Myers, teacher.

Third place — Valerie Liermann — Kindergarten, Patch School; Carolyn Phillips, teacher.

Poster Contest (Grades 3-5)
First place — Patrick J. Newey — 3rd grade, Dexter School; Lucretia Burton, teacher.

Second place — Lee Bunyea — 5th grade, Dexter School; Carroll Thebaud, teacher.

Third place — Amanda Alvarado — 5th grade, White School; Evelyn Braman, teacher.

Essay Contest (Grades 6-8)
First place — Elisabeth Moore — 6th grade, Faith School; Ruby Rumley, teacher.

Second place — Frank Wayne Moneymaker — 8th grade, Faith School; Robin Hughey, teacher.

Third place — Kevin Vogel — 6th grade, Lisa Galloway, teacher.

Students' essays explain 'Access to Justice'

The following essays won first second and third places in the "Law Day" competition at the Fort Benning Schools.

FIRST PLACE
Elisabeth Moore
6th grade, Faith Middle School

Whenever people live together in communities, arguments are bound to come up. Among animals, conflicts result in victory for the stronger or quicker. But human beings believe that in an argument the one who is right should win. Sometimes an argument can be settled quickly. But sometimes the problem is more complicated and must be settled in court.

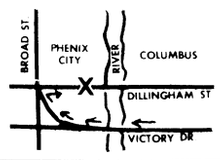
A court is a forum, or meeting place, established by the government for the just settlement of disputes and the enforcement of laws. Courts and methods of carrying out justice have changed as society has changed. Over the centuries the changes have been enormous.

Europeans in the Middle Ages often settled disputes in ways that seem extremely crude and unfair to us today. One method was called trial by ordeal. There were four forms of ordeal — "cold water," "hot water," "hot iron" and the "morsel." In the cold water ordeal, the accused person was tied and lowered into water. If he sank, he was declared innocent. If he floated, he was considered guilty and was punished.

In ordeal by hot water, the accused plunged his hand into boiling water and pulled out a stone. If his hands showed no injury in three days, he was considered innocent.

In the hot iron, the accused had to carry a red-hot bar nine feet. As in the boiling water ordeal, his hands were inspected three days later to determine guilt or innocence.

The morsel ordeal, although not as painful, was as hard to pass as the other three. The accused had to swallow a big piece of food without choking on it.



Today access to justice has changed greatly. We have courts to ensure fairness. If a person feels an injustice has been committed against him, then he may take his case to a judge or maybe a judge and jury. A jury is a group of 12 citizens who listen to the facts and vote to decide who is right or wrong.

A person may hire a lawyer. A lawyer is someone who has studied the law. He helps people present their cases. Also, if someone has been accused of a crime, the court system protects him. He is allowed to tell his story to the judge and jury and have a lawyer help him.

Our access to justice ensures fairness to all in our court system.

See ESSAY A-7

ASIA
ORIENTAL RESTAURANT
FEATURING KOREAN, JAPANESE & CHINESE FOOD
LUNCHEON BUFFET
ONLY $3.95 per person
MONDAY-FRIDAY 11AM-2PM
PARTY ROOM AVAILABLE-CALL TODAY!
2009 Lumpkin Road 682-1225

NEW BONUSES NEED CASH TODAY? NEW BONUSES
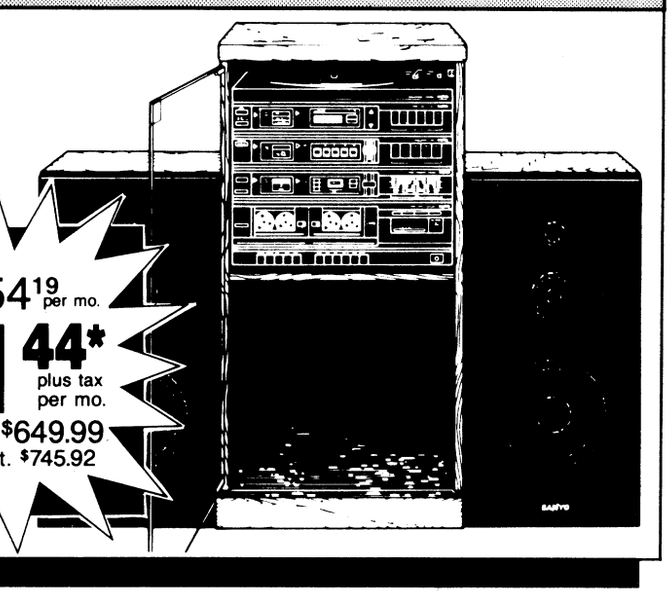
Save lives and earn money by donating your time at one of the finest Plasma Facilities in the country
New & Donors who have not donated in SIX MONTHS RECEIVE $7.00 BONUS with this ad.
Bring a Buddy & RECEIVE AN EXTRA $5.00
Additional Bonus on 6th & 8th Donations
EARN $10.00 AND ABOVE ON EACH VISIT
RIVERFRONT PLASMA CENTER
507 Dillingham St.—Phenix City
297-5711
Hours: Mon.-Wed.-Fri. 7-3:30—Tues. & Thurs. 7-6:30

CONVENIENT EVENING HOURS FOR BENNING PERSONNEL
EARN OVER $100 PER MONTH



Military Insurance Sales
If you are an insurance agent and want to increase your sales in the military market, give us a call.
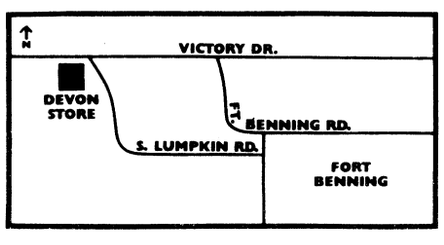
We are looking for experienced agents to sell diversified insurance products to military personnel. We offer competitively priced term products and a CHAMPUS Supplement which is one of the least expensive in the industry.
We are the marketing arm for a major non-profit military association of active and retired service people. Federal employees are also eligible to purchase our products. Our underwriter is rated A+ by A.M. Best.
There are sales opportunities at home and abroad.
For more information, call John Battin, CLU
1-800-458-3087.

★ ELECTRONICS ★ JEWELRY
DEVON
Home Center Stores
★ FURNITURE ★ APPLIANCES
Serving the Military & Civil Service with ★ CONVENIENT CREDIT ★ NO DOWN PAYMENT ★ TAKE IT HOME TODAY



50%OFF
REGULAR PRICE ON
ALL LIVING ROOM FURNITURE in stock

NO RAINCHECKS — Selections may vary by store

50%OFF
REGULAR PRICE ON
SELECTED CLARION CAR STEREOS & COMPONENTS in stock

FREE FINANCING If contract is paid within twelve (12) months of 1st contract due date, we will refund finance charges on that purchase.

SANYO 100 WATT RACK SYSTEM
• 5 band graphic equalizer • AM/FM stereo synthesized tuner w/ 18 memory presets • Dual transport stereo cassette w/ high speed dubbing, continuous playback, synchronous dubbing • Semi auto turntable • 3-way speaker system

WAS 54.19 per mo.
NOW 41.44* plus tax per mo.
SALE $649.99
Def. Pmt. $745.92

SALE ENDS MAY 10th, 1989

COLUMBUS #270
3296 Victory Drive
(404) 689-1210

Mon.-Fri. 10am to 8pm;
Sat. 10am to 5pm;
Sun. 1pm to 5pm

WE FINANCE ALL QUALIFIED MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE
Per month pricing based on no down payment with 17.9% annual percentage for 18 months. Mutiply monthly payments by 18 months for total cost. Price may vary depending on local sales tax, insurance or warranty.

COMMUNITY

CLASSES

Typing Classes — The Family Member Employment Assistance Center will conduct Beginning and Intermediate Typing Classes beginning Wednesday. The typing classes will provide participants with opportunities to better their clerical skills, making them more competitive in the work environment.

The typing classes will be held at Army Community Service, building 2640. Reservations can be made by calling the Family Member Employment Assistance Office at 545-5340 or 545-5176.

EQUIPMENT CHECKOUT

ECC — The Equipment Checkout Center can satisfy and simplify your summertime, leisure needs with a wide assortment of outdoor equipment. Additionally, the ECC can save you money and offer you convenience with moving requirements. The ECC has a fully-stocked assortment of U-Haul trucks, trailers and resale items.

RENTALS	FEES
Camper, self-contained	$17 daily; $100 7 days.
Travel trailer	$12 daily; $60 7 days.
Pop-up camper, fishing boat/ with V-hull	$5 daily
Outboard motor w/tank	$5 daily
Boat trailer	$5 daily
Boat, trailer and motor	$10 daily
Jon boat	$5 daily
Canoe	$5 daily
Canoe trailer	$5 daily
Smoker/cooker trailer	$9 daily
Utility trailer	$2 daily
Motorcycle trailer	$3 daily
Horse trailer	$9 daily
Portable generator	$5 daily
Tent, 8 feet x 10 feet	$5 daily

U-Haul rentals and equipment

*trailers *tow bars
*tow dollies *auto transports
*pet carriers *furniture pads
Resale items
*packing boxes *packing tape
*bubble packing *hitch balls
*light hookups.
*trucks — various sizes available (call ECC for specific information)

The ECC facility is open Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday and holidays, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

For information, call 545-7978. (MWR)

MEETINGS

Fleet Reserve Association — The Fleet Reserve Association will have an organizational meeting Thursday at 7 p.m. at the American Legion Post #35 located at 1808 Victory Drive in Columbus. All active duty, retired and reserve personnel from the U.S. Navy, Marine Corps or Coast Guard are invited. For more information, call Ed Colley at 298-7095.

★

American Society of Military Comptrollers — The Fort Benning Chapter of the American Society of Military Comptrollers will hold its monthly luncheon meeting May 16 in the Benning Room at the Fort Benning Officers' Club. Buffet service will begin at 11:30 a.m. The guest speaker will be Lt. Col. Glen Link, acting director of Information Management. Link will address the chapter on automation at Fort Benning. Reservations must be placed by noon Thursday with Ms. Lumsden, 545-1213 or Ms. Corizzo, 545-4770. Cost of the luncheon is $4.50.

MISCELLANEOUS

Infantry Ball — The 197th Infantry Brigade (M) (S) is sponsoring this year's Infantry Ball, which will be held June 10, 6 to midnight, at the Fort Benning Officers' Club. Tickets are available on a limited basis and cost $24 per person. RSVP to your unit point of contact by May 26.

★

Yard sale — Listening Eyes School will have a yard sale from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. at 3617 Macon Road. Free hearing test screenings will be provided by the Sertoma Club. All proceeds from the yard sale will benefit the Listening Eyes School.

★

Ask the Judge night — Ask the Judge night will be held May 18 from 8 to 9:30 p.m. at the Main Post Chapel Center, building 101. The Chapel Center is located on the corner of Lauber and Brockman streets across from Doughboy Stadium. Ask the Judge night is a review of personal legal rights presented by the Fort Benning Legal Assistance Division. Legal rights concerning marriage, divorce, contracts, wills, consumer rights and other areas will be discussed.

★

Martial arts — A martial arts demonstration with the purpose of providing a powerful Christian witness will be given at 6:30 p.m. Saturday at the 1st Infantry Training Brigade Duck Pond. In the event of inclement weather, the demonstration will take place in Santiago Gym. The Edward Sell family from Lakeland, Fla., will perform a variety of martial arts demonstrations, including tae kwon do. The public is invited to attend the free performance. For more information, call 544-2287/1017.

★

Career Day — In recognition of Nurses' Week, Career Day will be held at Martin Army Community Hospital at Fort Benning Saturday. This first-time event is designed to promote careers in both military and civilian nursing. Jointly sponsored by the Civilian Personnel Office, Army Nurse Corps Recruiting Command, and the Department of Nursing, Career Day will begin at 9 a.m. in the dining facility. Information booths and displays will be set up, and tours of the hospital will start from the dining facility every half hour. Key personnel will be on hand to speak about nursing opportunities for professional nursing in the Federal Service.

★

Operating Room open house — A Martin Army Community Hospital first starts at 1 p.m. Saturday in the operating room. The operating room and anesthesia staff is sponsoring an open house. Visitors will have an opportunity to learn about the operating room, surgical procedures and anesthesia. The staff will be available to share information about career opportunities in the operating room specialties. Children must be accompanied by a responsible adult. For more information, call the Department of Nursing at 544-4459/2218/3270.

★

Cellar sale — Saint Paul United Methodist Church will hold its first annual Celestial Cellar Sale at 2101 Wildwood Ave. Sunday from 9 am. to 3 p.m. Items for sale include luggage, collectibles, jewelry, artwork, toys, furniture, clothes for all ages, books and many other interesting items. Proceeds are to benefit the Open Door Community House and Wynnton Neighborhood Network.

Saint Paul's Youth Group will have various food items for sale.

★

Exceptional family members — If you have family members enrolled in the Exceptional Family Member Program and are interested in getting them involved in recreational/leisure activities adapted to their needs, call Lydia Brunk, recreation specialist with ACS Family Members with Special Needs Program at 545-3605 or visit building 1056, the Youth Activities Center.

★

Lifeguards needed — Applications for Recreation Aid (lifeguard) are still being accepted for the Nonappropriated Fund Summer Employment Program between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the Directorate of Civilian Personnel, building 35, Room 100.

★

Tour of Homes — Eleven Columbus homes will take part in the second annual Girl Scouts Tour of Homes. The Tour will be held Tuesday. Homes will be open for viewing at various times between 10 a.m. and 6 p.m. Tickets cost $25 per person, including map and brochure and may be purchased at the Concharty Council of Girl Scouts' office located at 1344 13th Avenue, Columbus, Ga. 31901. One of the homes featured on the tour is the penthouse of John Amos. The proceeds from the tour will benefit the purchase of the Girl Scouts' new Education and Service Center. For more information, call 327-2646.

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteer — The following volunteer opportunities are available at Fort Benning:

ACS needs a volunteer supervisor to supervise nearly 80 people.

Family Members with Special Needs will train volunteers to help with Summer Day Camp.

Red Cross has openings for volunteers on weekends and evenings. This is just right for the working volunteer who wants to meet people.

Girl Scouts Summer Camp needs helpers. Training begins in May.

Literacy tutors are needed. Training and materials are provided.

For more information on these opportunities or a listing of others, call Karen Crowley at the Volunteer Resource Center, 545-5602.

WIVES' CLUBS

NCO Wives' Club

Wives' Club election meeting — The NCO Wives' Club is having their business meeting Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the NCO Wives' Club House by Lawson Army Airfield, building 2422. Every member is encouraged to attend since elections will be held. For more information, call Michelle Greene at 682-9733

Officers' Wives' Club

OWC luncheon — The Officers' Wives' Club will have its monthly luncheon May 17 at the Officers' Club. Sherry hour begins at 11 a.m. and lunch at 11:30. Cost of the luncheon is $5. The hostess unit is 29th Infantry Regiment. The guest speaker will be Joyce Ward, creator of the Vidalia Onion doll. Entertainment will be provided by the Benning Bells. Reservations are required. For more information, call Dickie Newton at 689-8414.

★

School of Dance — The Officers' Wives' Club School of Dance offers the following classes for all military families, active duty, retired, officer or enlisted:

Ballet — Jane Frenkel	563-0294
Gymnastics — Kelly Cargill	563-8176
Karate — John Touchton	1-582-3117
Heartbeat Aerobics — Kathy Greene	682-9854
Tap and Jazz — Rae Lavingne	687-1784
Performing Arts — Libbie Kurinec	322-6942
Piano — Diane Swiecicki	297-6524
Guitar — Lewis Finn	563-0099

For those interested in a specific class, please call the instructor. For general information, call Bonnie Burton, 689-6284.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES

Ballet classes — The Youth Activities Center has vacancies for ballet classes. These classes are taught by a professional dance instructor and spaces are limited. Call 545-3070 for an appointment. (MWR)

★

Swim Team — Sign up for the Youth Activities Swim Team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Monday through Thursday. The swim team is a year-round organization. Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for more information. (MWR)

Arrange OVERSEAS CAR INSURANCE
GEICO before you leave GEICO
2029 SOUTH LUMPKIN RD.
Oakland Park Shopping Center
Columbus, GA. 689-2787
15% down 9 monthly payments
GEICO
IIU - International Insurance Underwriters, Inc

MILITARY WELCOME
NEW LOTTERY PICK UP SERVICE
PERSONAL CHECKS
MILITARY CHECKS
PAYROLL CHECKS
OUT OF STATE CHECKS
INCOME TAX CHECKS
ALLOTMENT CHECKS
INSURANCE CHECKS
ALMOST ANY CHECK
MR CHECK CASHER
$ NEW LOCATION $
3809 Victory Drive
Traffic Circle Shopping Center
687-8666

SAIL AWAY WITH US
SATO TRAVEL
A Full Service Travel Company
CARIBBEAN CRUISE FROM MIAMI
August 11-19, 1989
VISIT
OCHO RIOS COZUMEL
GRAND CAYMAN PLAYA DEL CARMEN
Exclusive Sato rates are now available. Choose from air from Atlanta, bus from Columbus or cruise only. Discounts available for every category. We have limited space, make your reservations now to avoid disappointment. For more information:
Call: 682-0361 And ask for Sherrell or Vicky

SAVE MODERN TV & APPLIANCE SAVE
Friedrich® ROOM AIR CONDITIONERS
6000 BTU
AS LOW AS $299.00
ZENITH
19" diagonal Color TV
SAVE
Model SS8915W
● With Remote Control
● Vertical Space-Saving Design
● Eastern Walnut Color Finish
ONLY $369.95
QUIK N' E-Z
QUIK CREDIT
E-Z TERMS
MOVIES
AS Low As 99¢ Per Day
Over 800 Titles to Choose From
No Membership Fee
matching home laundry pair
FREE DELIVERY
HOTPOINT SATISFACTION GUARANTEED* OR YOUR MONEY BACK!
WASHER Model WLW 1500B
DRYER Model DLB 1550B
SAVE ON THE PAIR
ONLY $728.00 for the pair
HOTPOINT FREEZERS
■ 5.2 cu. ft. of storage space ■ adjustable temperature control ■ counter-balanced lid ■ just 23½" wide ■ textured lid ■ defrost drain.
Model FH5CL
ONLY $299.00
FREE DELIVERY
HRS: 9AM-6PM MON-SAT
MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
You Don't Need A Lot Of Money, Just A Little Bit A Month
2039 FT BENNING ROAD
SERVICE AFTER THE SALE
687-8249 /682-1341

Essay

Continued from A-5

SECOND PLACE
Frank Wayne Moneymaker
8th grade, Faith Middle School

The topic of this paper is to communicate what the criminal justice system is and what its functions are. I chose to write about a more positive topic instead of the dark side of the law. I am not about to go off and say that because someone is of a different race or has more money than another citizen, that person has more rights. I can't prove that, and, therefore, I am relating what I know are facts.

Criminal laws define what sort of conduct is criminal, and they set proper penalties for the appropriate crimes. The United States government allows both the government itself and states to decide on their own criminal statutes. But these statutes must follow the guidelines set by the U.S. Constitution.

There are about 17,000 state and local courts and an estimated 90 federal courts. Approximately 90 percent of all criminal cases are held in the minor or local courts. These courts generally decide on misdemeanor cases.

Let's now get on to the "Access to Justice," arrest and bail proceedings. Police officers who have probable cause to believe someone has committed a crime are authorized to make an arrest. After an arrest, the suspect is usually held in custody until arraignment.

At the arraignment, the charges against the suspect are formally filed with the court system and read to the defendant. "The latter is informed of his or her rights (Miranda vs. Arizona) and furnished with counsel if he or she does not already have it (Gideon vs. Wainwright; Legal Aid)."

During the arraignment proceedings, the court hears the defendant's plea. If a defendant pleads guilty, he gives up all right to a trial and may be sentenced on the spot (sentencing will be talked about later on). If the defendant pleads not guilty, a trial date will be set. The defendant then becomes eligible for bail. The defendant can pay the bond himself or get help from family, friends or a bail-bond company. A bail-bond company usually charges a nonrefundable fee that is usually 10 percent of the bail price.

Now on to the trial and appeal. The Constitution guarantees the right to trial by jury, but only in cases that are punishable by six or more months imprisonment. The defendant may decide to have a trial by judge. If the defendant is found guilty and the judge's gavel slams down, the case isn't over, the defendant may appeal to a higher court. In most court systems, a defendant has the right to at least one appeal. The result of an appeal may uphold the last verdict or proclaim the defendant not guilty.

Let's say the defendant was found guilty. Now what? The sentencing. The indeterminate sentence has been very popular in the United States for the last century. Minimum and maximum penalties for every different crime category have been set by each state. The judge is given the power by his state to decide what degree of punishment best suits the case at hand and the many different circumstances involved.

Now you have a simple run down of the American criminal justice system. You can gain access to this system by 1) becoming a defense or prosecuting attorney, 2) becoming a judge or 3) becoming a defendant. I personally prefer 1 and 2!

THIRD PLACE
Kevin Vogel
6th grade, Faith Middle School

"You have the right to remain silent, anything you say can and will be held against you. You have the right to the advice of an attorney either retained or appointed. If you cannot afford one, one will be appointed to you." Felons also have the right to a trial by jury in a felony case. This is called the Miranda Warning.

It is the right of every American citizen to have fair and just representation in a court of law. When being accused of a crime, they have a right to a trial by a jury of their peers. They are entitled to an attorney appointed by the state if they cannot afford one. They are presumed innocent until the courts can prove otherwise.

This is not common practice in all the other countries of the world. We are fortunate because we are a free nation and have the right to defend ourselves. It is because of our Constitution that these rights are available to us.

The Constitution was signed more than 200 years ago. Many wise men such as Thomas Jefferson and Benjamin Franklin are in may ways responsible for the fair and just legislative system that we have today.

We are so fortunate to be the free nation that we are. In many places of the world, people accused of crimes are executed without having the chance to prove their innocence.

For centuries, immigrants from other countries have come to the United States to enjoy the liberties and freedom we were lucky enough to be born with.

Our Constitution not only provides us with the availability of a fair justice system, but no matter what a person's race, creed or religion, we all have the same rights. We are not only a free, but equal nation, as well.

For hundreds of years, Americans have fought to keep the freedom we were blessed with and to ensure that generations to come will have the same rights and equality we have now. It is the privilege and duty of every American citizen to preserve what God has given us.

SPIRITUAL

Pastoral education provides community ministry

By Debra Galle
USAIC Chaplain's Office

Fort Benning's Center for Clinical Pastoral Education, located at Custer Terrace Chapel, provides professional training for selected active duty Army chaplains at the mid-point of their careers. It is considered one of the best methods for enhancing the pastoral aspects of ministry.

Chap. (Lt. Col.) Richard Goldsmith, chief of CPE Training since 1987, said he has respect and high hopes for the program.

"The program provides an excellent opportunity for chaplains," Chap. Goldsmith said.

"The experiences gained by the chaplains help them grow as persons and professionals and provide them with a deeper understanding of themselves and others.

When these chaplains are assigned elsewhere throughout their careers, they will take with them a special confidence from this training, which will result in an ever-increasing competence in ministry."

Phases of the CPE program include ministry training opportunities at the Installation Detention Facility, Martin Army Community Hospital, The Family Life Center, the Counseling Center for Alcohol and Drug Abuse and Custer Terrace Chapel. Each chaplain chooses four areas of study and spends one quarter with each.

Of the three CPE programs presently in operation in the Army, the Fort Benning model is the only installation model program with emphasis on ministry to the total community.

The other two programs exist at Walter Reed Medical Center in Washington, D.C., and at Brooke Army Medical Center, which specializes in burn treatment, in San Antonio, Texas.

Chap. (Maj.) Jim Phelps, MACH staff chaplain, is a recent graduate of the program at Brooke AMC and brings with him a variety of experience in hospital ministry.

"The whole intent of the programs are for chaplains to become part of an interdisciplinary team that deals with all aspects of human care," Chap. Phelps explained.

CPE student, Chap. (Capt.) Lyn Brannon, ministers to the prisoners and cadre at the Fort Benning Detention Facility.

The prison chapel is a place of refuge and reflection. Spiritually inspired paintings done by inmates line the walls of the tiny chapel. It can only be reached by passing through many locks and doors.

"I try to have a ministry of presence with the inmates as well as being a pastoral counselor, just as any chaplain would in a unit," said Chap. Brannon. She spends time with inmates during meals, on the cell block or their work areas.

Other students of the program, Chap. (Maj.) Paul W. Gardner, and Chap. (Maj.) William Akridge completed the phases of pastoral education at the detention facility prior to Chap. Brannon. Chap. Gardner is now assigned to the Family Life Center.

"The counseling experience I received at the prison is in some ways similar to other counseling environments." Chap. Gardner explained that the inmates have many of the same concerns and needs as other soldiers, most often those concerns are about their families.

Chap. Akridge is presently assigned to Martin Army Community Hospital and said he will most likely remain in some type of hospital ministry program.

"We are given the opportunity to discover our strengths in different areas, and that helps us to see where we can be the most effective with our ministries as Army chaplains." Akridge said he found the time he spent at the detention facility enhanced his awareness and will be of future value in his chosen direction of hospital ministry.

The Fort Benning CPE program is designed to fulfill the needs of the community and chaplaincy alike. Chaplains learn to listen and respond to people as caring human beings. The community benefits from the availability of additional ministry.

Holocaust tragedy remembered

By Chap. Donald E. Troyer
2nd ITB Brigade Chaplain

The Holocaust is remembered with both grief and hope. It was best summed up by Commander Arnold E. Resnicoff, Chaplain, U.S. Navy, during his closing prayer at the National Civic Commemoration 1987.

"So from the Holocaust, we learn: When we deny humanity in others, we destroy humanity within ourselves. When we reject the human and the holy in any neighbor's soul, then we unleash the beast and the barbaric in our own heart.

And, since the Holocaust, we pray: if the time has not yet dawned when we can all proclaim our faith in God, then let us say at least that we admit we are not gods ourselves. If we cannot yet see the face of God in others, then let us see, at least, a face as human as our own.

So long ago, the Bible taught that life might be a blessing or a curse: the choice is in our hands. Today we vow: the curse will be remembered. But our prayer must also be: to fight despair; to find the strength, the courage and the faith, to keep the dream alive that through us and through our children, the blessing still might be."

CHAPEL BRIEFS

USAIC Chaplain's Office

Ecumenical

Vacation Bible School — Plan now for Vacation Bible School. Classes will be held from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. June 19 to 23 at Dexter, McBride and Wilson schools. Classes will include Bible study, music, crafts, recreation and refreshments. Adult volunteers are needed. Call 545-2050 for more information.

Catholic

The Military Council of Catholic Women — The First Friday meeting of the MCCW is today at 9:30 a.m. in the Religious Education Center. Rosary will be followed by a Mass and induction of the new board. A pot-luck luncheon will follow. Baby-sitting is provided. Call Bobbie Pearce, 687-6145 for more information.

Protestant

The Protestant Women of the Chapel — PWOC meets each Thursday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Religious Education Center. Baby-sitting is provided. Contact Debby Godwin, 687-7157, or Annette Saul, 682-1157 for more information.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)
2622 Macon Road
Douglas A. Garner, Pastor
Sunday School 9:45AM
Morning Worship 11:00AM
EVERYONE WELCOME!

SOUTH COLUMBUS UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
1213 Benning Drive
10 Minutes from Ft. Benning
Sunday School 9:45 am
Morning Worship 11:00 am
689-5094

ROSE HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST
7479 Old Moon Road
DAVID G. SPIECE, MINISTER
• BIBLE STUDY 10:00 AM
• EVENING WORSHIP 6:30 PM
• WEDNESDAY MIDWEEK SERVICE 7:30 PM

First Assembly of God
1309 10th Ave. at 13th St.
Phenix City, Ala.
WELCOMES ALL
Military Personnel
to worship with us.
Sunday School 9:45
Services 10:45
Evening Service 6:00pm

OUR LADY OF LOURDES CATHOLIC CHURCH
Located near Ft. Benning
at 1953 Torch Hill Rd.
Phone 689-5720
SATURDAY VIGIL
MASS 5:30pm
SUNDAY MASSES
8:30am & 11:00am

NORTHSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(A New Testament Church)
1442 Double Churches Road
Sunday School 9:45am
Morning Worship 10:45am
Evening Worship 6:00pm
Spencer Arnold, Minister
324-5220

VICTORY DRIVE CHURCH OF GOD
3941 Victory Drive 689-3359
Service Times
Sunday School 10 am, Worship 11 am
Childrens Church 11 am, Evening Worship 6 pm
Wed. 7 pm Family Training Hr., Fri. 7 pm Youth Night
Senior Pastor M. H. Avera III 682-4664
SPANISH MINISTRY
Sunday School 10am, Worship 11 am
Thursday 7:30 pm 568-7018
Spanish Pastor Pedro Sanchez

NORTH HIGHLAND ASSEMBLY OF GOD
7300 Livingston Drive Columbus, Georgia 31909
Weekly Service Schedule
Sunday School 9:30am, Worship 10:30am & 6pm
Wednesday Evening, Family Night 7:00pm
(Children & Youth Activities—Adult Bible Study)
Security Parking Nursery
Jimmy R. Swilley, Sr. Pastor For Information call (404) 561-7777

If you've been transferred, make your first move the right one.

Call 800-521-9977.

When you get the order to move, you've got to act fast. That's why we've developed the CENTURY 21 STAR™ Program. It's designed to meet the real estate, mortgage and relocation needs of military personnel.

Our specially trained military relocation coordinators can offer you a range of benefits, including a 1/2% reduction in loan origination fees. No appraisal or credit report fee. Nationwide service. Financing through Century 21 Mortgage Corporation. And a free "Newcomer" packet containing important information about the area.

For complete details, call us today, between 6:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. Pacific Standard Time. In the U.S., 800-521-9977. In Germany, call toll-free 0130-8108-46.

It's one move you'll be glad you made.

CENTURY 21 MILITARY RELOCATION NETWORK™

Century 21®
Put your trust in Number One.™

© 1989 Century 21 Real Estate Corporation.
® and ™—trademarks of Century 21 Real Estate Corporation.
Equal Housing Opportunity
EACH OFFICE IS INDEPENDENTLY OWNED AND OPERATED.

ASK THE JUDGE

By Dennis E. Brower
Staff Judge Advocate's Office

Q. I bought a new car several years ago and had a lot of problems with the brakes. While the car was still under warranty, the dealer fixed the problem at no cost.

Recently, the same brake problem occurred. However, since the car was no longer under warranty, I had to pay for the cost of repairs.

After I paid my bill, I was talking to one of the other customers. He had the exact same problem, and his warranty had also expired. He told me he did not pay for his repairs. He had seen a notice in a consumer magazine about the brake problem.

The auto maker had quietly notified all the service departments to correct the problem, at no cost, for all those who asked for the special service.

This isn't fair. What are my rights, and how can I learn more about these repair notices from the auto makers?

A. What you have discovered is what many people call "secret warranties" of auto makers. In your situation, the auto maker received many complaints about brake problems in your model car.

Because of the complaints, and their own service departments, the auto maker discovered many of these brakes had a defect or wore out quickly. The auto maker choose to handle the problem quietly and not to inform the public it would repair the defects.

Auto makers do not want to damage their reputations with safety recalls or advertised paid-repair programs.

Under federal law, any repair bulletin sent to a dealer, by an auto maker, must be reported to the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration. If this were done, the bulletin would be made public. Auto makers do not want this to happen, so they use a loophole in the law.

They only report the defect, or repair offer, to the customer-service departments and not the dealers. Thus, the bulletin does not have to be reported to the government or the public.

How do you find out about these bulletins? Of course, you could ask the dealer, but you may not always find they know everything or are willing to tell you everything. Another method is to constantly complain about the defects. Contact the dealer, owner, auto maker representatives, Better Business Bureau, consumer complaint offices and arbitration. You can also find out about many of these "secret warranties" by sending a self-addressed, business-sized envelope with 45 cents postage to: Center for Auto Safety, 2001 South Street, N.W., Suite 410, Washington, D.C. 20009. List the make, model and year of your car and describe the specific problem (allow several weeks for delivery).

The Center keeps track of the safety record of auto makers. The center also publishes a newsletter, "Lemon Times," which informs the public about consumer problems with cars. This newsletter is available for a membership fee of $15.

Be aware that auto makers and dealers may fix defects for free.

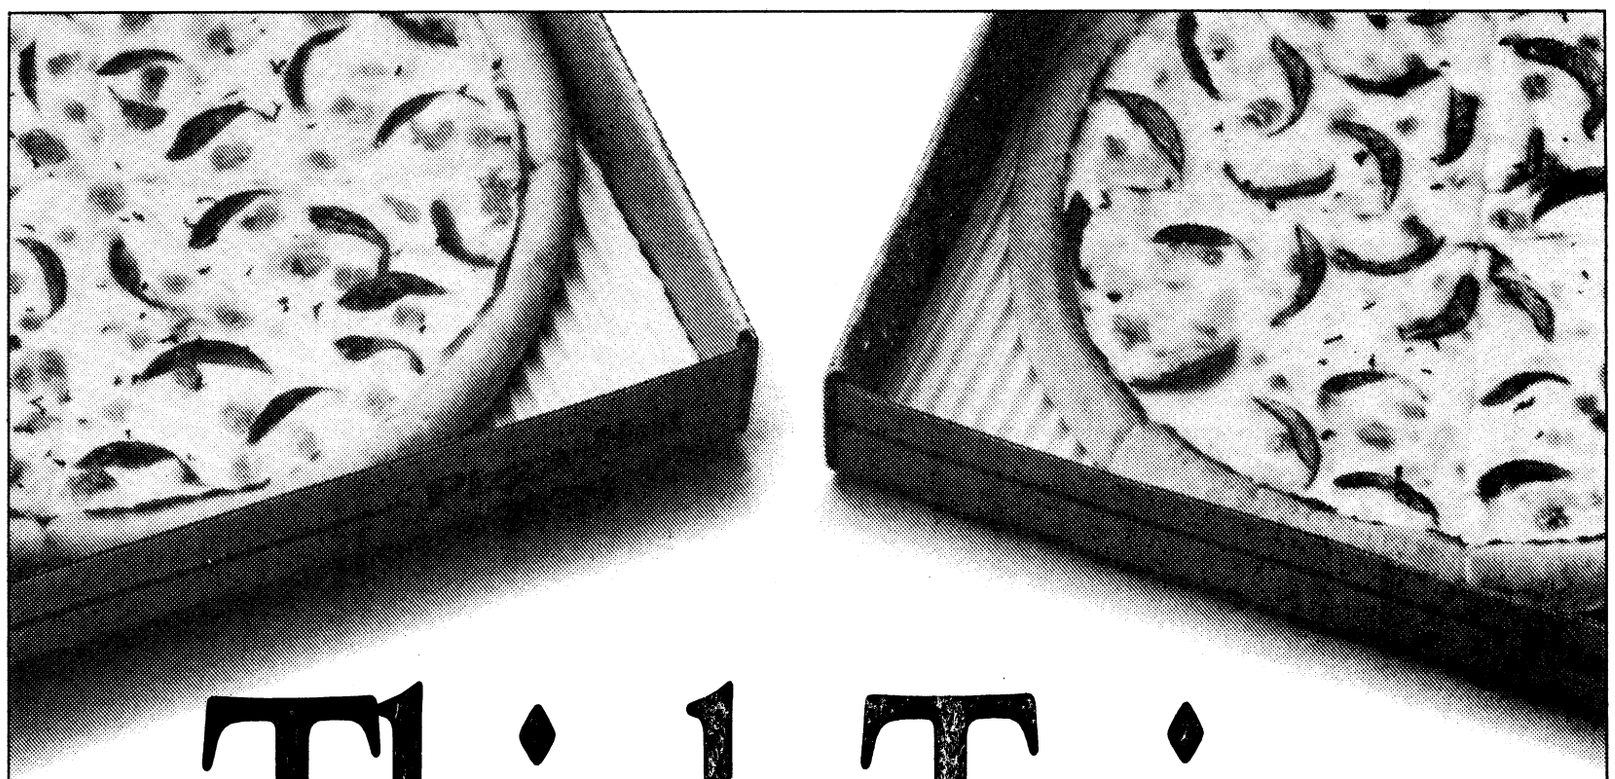
If you need further information, contact the organizations above or the legal assistance office at 545-3282.

AUTO STORAGE WAREHOUSE
• SPRINKLER
• BURGLAR ALARM
• INSULATED
by MONTH or YEAR
ALLIED BONDED WHSE.
4301 ALLIED DR.
COLUMBUS (404) 687-0222

Low Cost Term Life Insurance
Consolidated Insurance Services
Albany, GA
Dealing with A+ or A Rated Companies.
1-800-289-8766
For a complete proposal

Annual Premiums (Male, Non-Smoker)

Age	$100,000	$250,000	$500,000	$1,000,000
35	122	203	300	550
40	130	225	345	640
45	155	233	455	860
50	205	388	545	1040
55	273	543	790	1530
60	383	875	1405	2760
65	643	1525	2545	5040



NEW LOW AIRFARES
Atlanta Roundtrip To:

Frankfurt	Munich	Brussels	London
$758 1 June-30 Sept.	$778 1 June-30 Sept.	$872 1 June-30 Sept.	$1149 1 June-31 Aug.
$660 1 Oct.-31 Oct.	$694 1 Oct.-31 Oct.	$609 1 Oct.-31 Oct.	$1199 1 Sept.-1 Dec.

*Certain Restrictions/Taxes Apply to These Fares
*Some Blackout Dates Exist
TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
3115 Mercury Drive
Columbus, GA 31906
404/563-8687
4393 Victory Dr.
ARCCO Place
Columbus, Georgia 31903
404/689-3092

Steve's Check Casher
Do You need a check cashed?
Come visit the Money Man.
WE CASH THEM ALL
$ INCOME TAX RETURN CHECKS
$ PERSONAL CHECKS
$ Payroll
$ Out of State
$ Two Party
$ Money Orders
$ Western Union
$ Tax Checks
$ Insurance Checks
$ Insurance Drafts
$ Government Checks
$ Cashier Checks
ALL TYPES
Let Us Handle All Your Check Cashing Needs!
3949 Victory Station Shopping Center
Suite 2 Next to Blempie's
Come by and Visit With Us Today or Call 689-8335
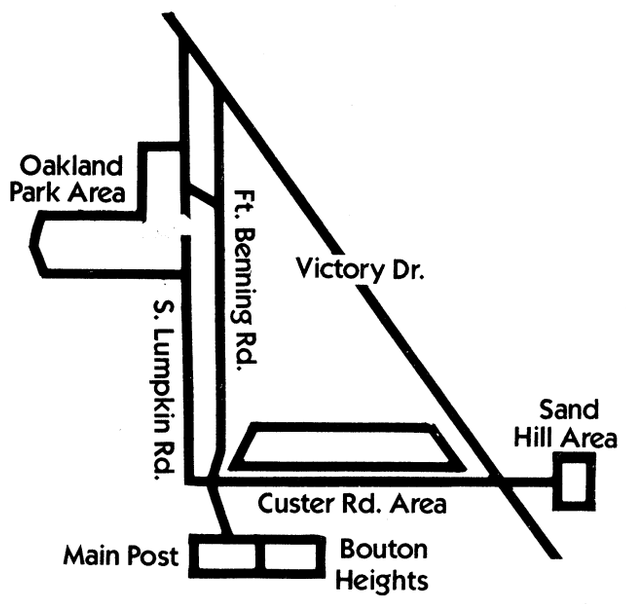
HOURS: M-F 10-7, Sat. 10-5

ARCCO
A World Class Military Supply Store
ONE STOP SHOPPING
Monday-Friday 9-7:30, Saturday 9-6, Sunday 11:30-4:30
682-0547—4411 Victory Drive (at I-185)
682-0547
Complete Merchandise Selection and Service
FOR THE
SOLDIER-CAMPER-HUNTER
Field and Camping Equipment
Dry Cleaning and Laundry
Dress Greens and Blues
Dog Tags and Insignia
Knives and Patches
Sweats and T-Shirts
Boots and BDUs



Think Twice Before Leaving Home.

If you're thinking of going out for dinner, think again. Because Pizza Hut® can deliver the pizza voted the Best of Columbus (Columbus Ledger-Enquirer), piping hot right to your door from 6 locations.

And for the best deal in town, order Pizza Hut® Pairs.™ Get two delicious Pizza Hut® pizzas with your choice of toppings for one great price, all day every day. So for fast, free delivery, think twice, Columbus. Call Pizza Hut® Delivery.

Expanded Delivery Service

Delivery also available in these areas:
(Limited Delivery Area)

Columbus Manchester Expressway/ Hamilton Rd. Area	322-5561
Macon Rd./I-85 Area	563-3171
Buena Vista Rd./Floyd Rd. Area	563-3486
Phenix City Area	297-1266
Americus Area	924-3997

Delivery Available:
Monday through Friday beginning at 4:00 P.M.
Saturday and Sunday beginning at 11:00 A.M.

Medium Cheese Pan Pizza
Offer good through 7/30/89. Good at participating Pizza Hut® outlets. Not valid in combination with any other Pizza Hut® offer. 1/20th cent cash redemption value. Limited delivery area. © 1989 Pizza Hut, Inc.
16 36
Pizza Hut
TM

CO11

Sports

Golfers scramble in AUSA tourney.

See B-3

Entertainment

Complete the energy puzzle, and you may win a weekend in Florida.

See B-5

ARMY NEWS

APFT failures to be flagged

Soldiers who fail a record Army Physical Fitness Test or fail to take the test within the required period will be flagged, according to officials at the U.S. Total Army Personnel Command.

Flags for APFT failures will block promotion, re-enlistment and extensions only.

Officials say commanders who want to use APFT failure as a basis for other unfavorable action such as elimination should include failure of the APFT and a retest that are three months apart.

The primary directive concerning flag actions is AR 600-8-2, Suspension of Favorable Personnel Actions. Officials say the next update of AR 350-15, The Army Physical Fitness Program, will be modified to eliminate confusion about flags for APFT failures.

★ ★ ★

Golden Knights need fixed-wing pilots

The U.S. Army Parachute Team, the "Golden Knights," needs active duty flight warrant officers who are rated to fly fixed-wing aircraft.

The aviation section supports the Golden Knights' two demonstration and two competition teams with two U21 and two F27 Fokker aircraft. Team pilots fly approximately 700 hours each year and travel up to 230 days a year.

To qualify, pilots must meet the following prerequisites:

- Be an active duty military, fixed-wing rated pilot
- Have acquired a minimum of 1,500 hours flying time, with at least 500 hours of that time in fixed-wing aircraft
- Meet Army height and weight standards
- Have a minimum of 18 months on station at their current location, or be eligible for reassignment
- Have at least 10, but less than 18 years in the service.

Interested pilots should send their application to the Commander, U.S. Army Parachute Team, ATTN: Executive Officer, P.O. Box 70126, Fort Bragg, N.C. 28307. Applications should include a copy of the pilot's officer record brief, a current official photograph and a letter detailing additional skills or other information.

The deadline for applications is May 30.

★ ★ ★

CWO promotion board meets

The fiscal year 1989 Army of the United States chief warrant officer promotion board is meeting now through May 12, according to Army personnel officials.

The board is considering 2,428 CWO2s for promotion to CWO3. Of those, 1,081 are "below the zone," with dates of rank from Sept. 1, 1984 to June 30, 1985. The remaining 1,347 are in or above the zone, with dates of rank of Aug. 31, 1984 and earlier.

Also, 922 CWO3s are under consideration for promotion to CWO4. Of those, 481 are below the zone, with dates of rank from Dec. 1, 1983 to Nov. 30, 1984. The other 441 are in or above the zone, with dates of rank of Nov. 30, 1983 and before.

-- from Army News Service reports.

Armed Forces Day open house May 20

Event features a full day of activities

USAIC Public Affairs Office

"Keeping America Strong" is the theme for this year's Armed Forces Day open house May 20 at Fort Benning.

A full day of activities is scheduled, including a 7 a.m. 10K and 2-mile "fun run" at York and Stewart Fields, followed at 10 a.m. by a parade, Airborne and Ranger demonstrations and the crowning of the Chattahoochee Valley-Fort Benning Chapter, Association of the United States Army queen.

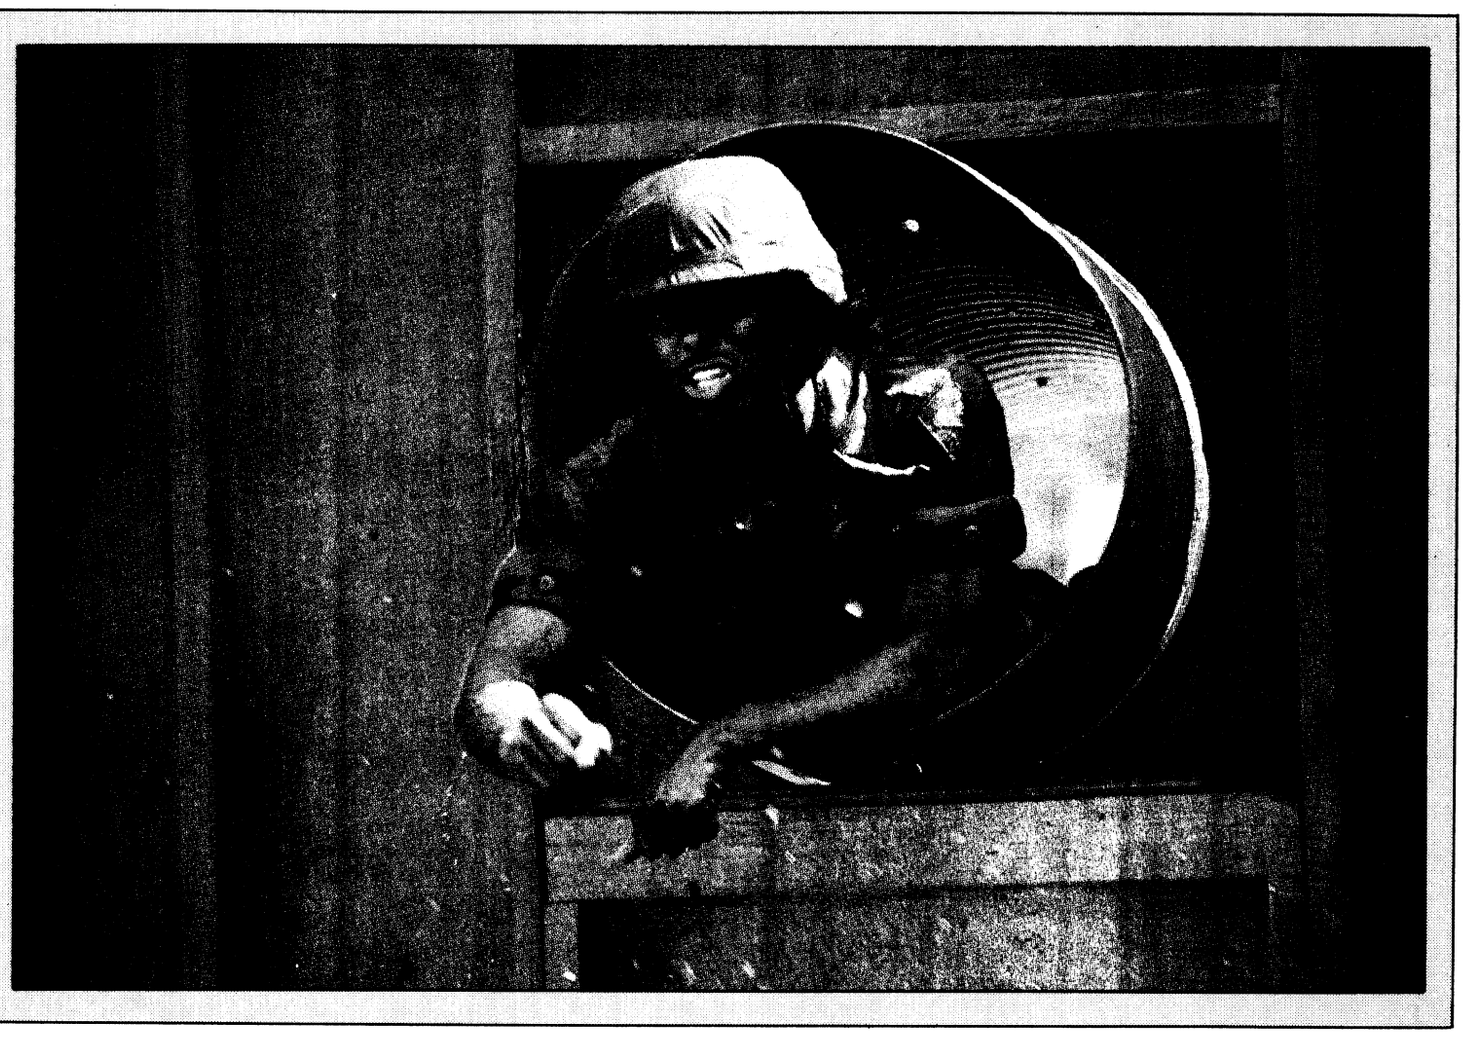
From noon till 5 p.m., Stewart-Watson Field will take on a carnival atmosphere with activities for all ages, including rides for children, interunit games, game booths, military equipment displays, recreation and entertainment.

A nominal fee will be charged for participation in selected entertainment and recreational activities.

In conjunction with Armed Forces Day, the local AUSA Chapter will sponsor its annual picnic. Food and beverages will be on sale at booths on Stewart-Watson from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The public is invited to attend.

WHAT: Armed Forces Day Open House



ACTIVITIES: 7 a.m. — 10K run and 2-mile fun run.

10 a.m. — Parade, Airborne and Ranger demonstrations, crowning of AUSA queen.

Noon till 5 p.m. — Carnival, including rides, games and displays.

Watching and waiting

An ROTC cadet watches and waits impatiently for the right moment to move in one of the obstacles at Fort Benning's Leader's Reaction Course. Cadets from Alabama and Georgia universities were on post recently for a weekend of training. Photo by Shawn Bryson. See story and more photos on page B-2.

Benning couple goes beyond the call of duty in service to community

Jeffery and Sonja Prouty

Raise $3,000 for post preschool

By Agatha H. James
Bayonet staff writer

A Fort Benning couple received a certificate of achievement for exceptional community service recently.

Sgt. Jeffery Prouty, an instructor with Company C, 2nd Battalion, 29th Infantry, and his wife, Sonja, were awarded a Department of Army Certificate of Achievement by chief of staff, Col. James I. Daily, April 28 for their efforts relating to Small World Preschool.

After a Training and Doctrine Command evaluation team decided that the school was inadequate and should be closed, Sonja, president of the Small World Preschool Board, spearheaded an effort to raise $3,000 to cover expenses owed by the preschool. Through approximately 15 bake sales and Santa Claus photo sales during Christmas, she and other volunteers raised funds to cover back taxes, salaries and other expenses owed by the facility.

The TRADOC evaluation team decided in November 1988 to close the facility, which is located near McGraw Manor. Sonja, who had just been elected president of the school's board, was handed the responsibility of raising funds to cover the school's debt.

Daily said the Proutys' involvement helped the post to liquidate the expenses and close the facility properly. "Without you (the Proutys), we could not have done it," he said.

"A lot of people on this post cause problems," he continued. "But, when we get people like the Proutys who work hard to support this post, it's very gratifying."

The school officially closed December 15, 1988. Sonja solicited help from the post's Child Development Service office in placing the children in other facilities.

Prouty said she could not have raised the money alone. "My co-chairman, Adrian Walters, helped tremendously, as well as a lot of other parents. They all deserve credit for this."

Daily added that a new $500,000 facility along with a new playground will be built to replace Small World. Construction of the new facility is expected to begin soon.

Post begins aluminum recycling program

By Alice Howard
Environmental Office

Fort Benning will begin recycling aluminum cans, in addition to the existing recycle program involving paper, scrap metal, cardboard and brass.

The program, proposed by the Recycle Committee and approved by the chief of staff, will be administered through the Non-appropriated Activities Fund.

The Recycle Committee estimates Fort Benning will recycle up to 54 tons of aluminum products per year, based on a 50 percent recovery rate.

According to John Bush, NAF, the program will start out small by collecting cans from the Main NCO Club, the Officers' Club and the Sand Hill EM Club. All funds derived from the sales will be returned to NAF.

If the program proves successful, collections will be expanded to the individual unit areas and family housing areas.

Proceeds will be credited to the units' Morale Support Fund and the community activities associations based on the amount collected from each area.

Collection containers will be clearly marked for aluminum products only. Scavenging of aluminum products in containers is prohibited by USAIC Regulation 200-1 and Army Regulation 420-47.

Fort Benning's current recycle program generated over $1 million in 1988, and the expansion of the program to aluminum products will return significant additional dollars.

The installation recycled more than 47,000 pounds of office paper alone in four months from November 1988 to February 1989.

All funds generated are returned directly to Fort Benning through the Defense Reutilization and Marketing Office, and are utilized for safety, pollution abatement, energy and Morale Support projects.

Anyone interested in Fort Benning's recycle program can contact the Directorate of Engineering and Housing, Environmental Management Branch at 545-4766 for more information.

Quote

"A well-conducted battle is a decisive attack successfully carried out."

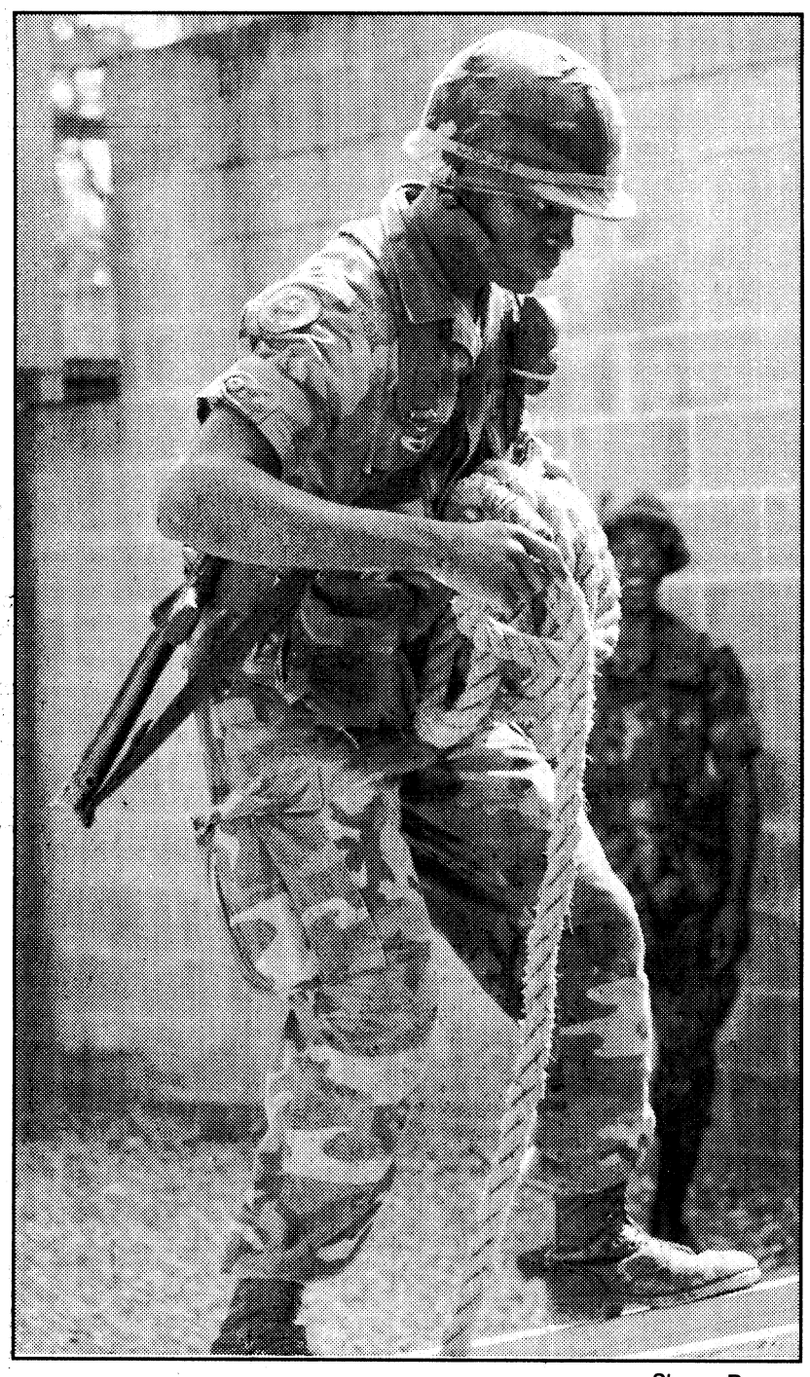
-- Marshal Ferdinand Foch

CG asks support in meeting summer energy goals

Last summer the United States experienced one of the longest, hottest summers in history. Some parts of the nation suffered brown-outs because of the unprecedented electrical demand caused by air conditioner loads.

Although Fort Benning also suffered record-breaking temperatures, the post was able to operate within energy goals and for the most part, residents and occupants remained comfortable. I ask your support again this summer in repeating last year's success.

Air conditioning can make or break Fort Benning's performance in meeting energy goals. Energy managers negotiate contractual agreements with energy suppliers, and engineers design energy-saving projects when funds are available. However, the bulk of our success in meeting goals and living within our energy budget depends upon how well individuals use energy, especially during air conditioning season.



If we can limit our electrical use to an absolute minimum, we will be able to enjoy air conditioning on hot fall days. If we exceed our goals early in the year, we may not have this option.

I know that everyone living and working on Fort Benning will play a positive role in our effort to conserve energy.

If we are successful, the entire community will benefit through dollar savings resulting in dollars returned to Fort Benning for community projects.

Michael F. Spigelmire
Major General, USA
Commanding

Cadets tackle leader course

Shawn Bryson

An ROTC cadet eases up a narrow board on one of the obstacles at the Leader's Reaction Course.

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

"Hey you! You can't do it! Watch it, you're gonna fall," roar five cadets as they vigorously splash water at another cadet, who, in full gear, tip-toes across a wet, narrow board positioned about five feet above a pool of water.

Trying his best to ignore the taunting soldiers below, the cadet crosses the board, turns around to get another board from a fellow squad member to continue his squad's quest across the water obstacle when he loses his footing and plunges into the chilly water below. "You're dead! Outta there," shout the aggressors.

This was just one of the many battles that took place for four hours April 23 as more than 200 Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets tackled the Leader's Reaction Course to finish a demanding weekend of training at Fort Benning.

During training at the LRC, the cadets were introduced to at least 20 obstacles, many involving water, and tested on their ability to accomplish each within 12 minutes.

To make each of the already difficult obstacles more challenging, opposing forces (aggressors) were engaged to distract the squad members. The LRC is designed to test not only the ability of a squad to work as a team, but also to test a leader's ability to react to the actions of his squad.

The cadets were from a variety of area universities including Auburn, Tuskegee, Mercer, Fort Valley and Auburn of Montgomery, according to Maj. Jerry Duncan, from Auburn University of Montgomery ROTC.

Duncan said the cadets arrived at Fort Benning April 21 and began the three-day "Operation Bold Leader" in Harmony Church where they drew their equipment and in-processed.

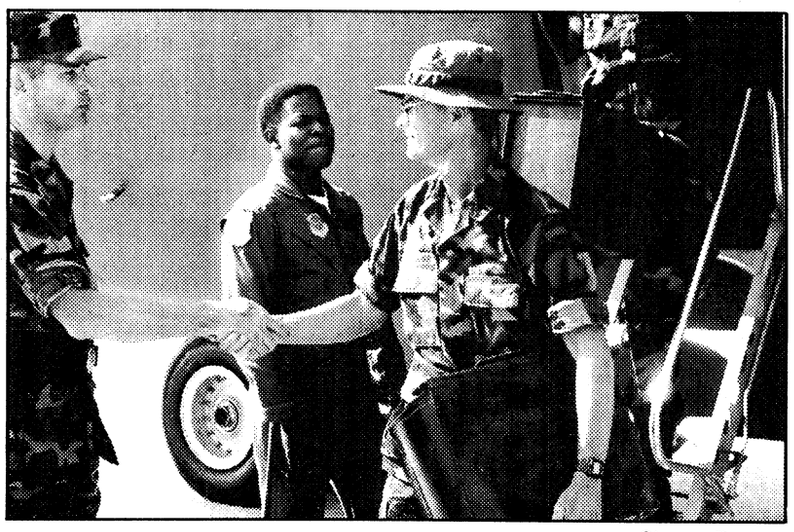
Training began early Saturday morning when both Company A and Company B headed to their training sites. Co. A's first training exercise was at the Yankee Road land navigation site. Co. B started the day at a training area near Harmony Church where tactical application exercises were conducted. The two companies traded training areas at midday.

Night land navigation was also conducted for three hours Saturday night by both companies.

Duncan said all the cadets are juniors at their universities and training at Benning was in preparation for Camp Warrior, six weeks of advanced training at Fort Riley, Kan.

The cadets will finish ROTC next year and are expected to be commissioned after their graduation from college.

Shawn Bryson



Two ROTC cadets try to "thread the needle" to further their squad's efforts at the LRC.

43rd Engineer soldiers return from Costa Rica

USAIC Public Affairs Office

After more than four months, some Fort Benning soldiers from Task Force 36 in Costa Rica, have returned to Fort Benning.

Eighty-four soldiers from Company B, 43rd Engineer Battalion and Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 36th Engineer Group arrived at Lawson Army Airfield April 26. Another group of the engineers (58) from the 43rd's Headquarters and Service Company, got home Monday. A third flight is expected to bring home the soldiers from Company A sometime today.

Shawn Bryson

Brig. Gen. William M. Steele, Fort Benning's deputy post commander, welcomes Chap. (Maj.) David Penland, 36th Eng. Gp. and other engineer soldiers who returned from Task Force 36 in Costa Rica.

Two more flights are scheduled to bring the rest of the 43rd's soldiers home, the last of which is scheduled to arrive May 17.

As the engineers arrive home, they leave behind seven bridges, seven schools of one or two rooms each, 3.2 kilometers of unpaved road and two community centers, all for the people of Costa Rica's Osa Peninsula.

The largest of the bridges spans 290 feet across the Tigre River outside of the town of Puerto Jimenez. The bridges were built on the isolated peninsula to prevent the local residents from being cut off by floods during the rainy season there.

Soldiers still remaining in Costa Rica are preparing the battalion's heavy combat construction equipment for return.

26 soldiers earn EFMB

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The Expert Field Medical Badge testing is finished and 26 soldiers are now the proud owners of an EFMB. They were presented their badges April 28 on the 34th Medical Battalion Parade Field by the post commanding general.

Standing before the winners, Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire said, "I'm proud to be here today. This is where I like to be — among winners. And, all of you are winners."

Maj. John W. Bryson of DENTAC, one of those proud recipients, said, "The work was definitely well worth it. But, the land navigation was pretty tough because I don't do it on a regular basis."

Other tests included in the EFMB testing were weapon qualification, physical training, communications, evacuation both ground and air, the litter obstacle course, survival skills cardiopulmonary resuscitation, a 12-mile road march and a 100-question written test.

Other EFMB badge winners are:

2nd Lt. Charles K. Tanner, Air Medical Evacuation, Fort Rucker, Ala.

PFC Donald A. Adams, 3rd Battalion, 75th Ranger Regiment.

PFC Ivica Jerak, 690th Medical Company, 34th Med. Bn.

PFC Dennis J. Kyne Jr., 690th Med. Co., 34th Med. Bn.

Capt. Andrew W. Torrance, Martin Army Community Hospital.

2nd Lt. Phillip S. Davidson, 690th Med. Co., 34th Med. Bn.

2nd Lt. Jeffery L. Harre, 2nd MASH, 34th Med. Bn.

2nd Lt. Steven T. Rumbaugh, Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, 34th Med. Bn.

Sgt. Daryl W. Harris, 690th Med. Co., 34th Med. Bn.

PFC Jeffrey A. Fikes, 690th Med. Co., 34th Med. Bn.

PFC Brian W. Moran, 3rd Battalion, 75th Ranger Regiment.

Maj. Richard R. Bloom, MEDDAC, Redstone Arsenal, Ala.

Maj. Marshall V.C. Dressel, USA Health Clinic, Fort McPherson, Ga.

Capt. Todd A. Chambers, 2nd MASH, 34th Med. Bn.

Capt. Phillip B. Thornton, HHD, 34th Med. Bn.

2nd Lt. Steven G. Millward, 498th Med. Co., 34th Med. Bn.

Spec. Kenneth D. Gaines, MEDDAC, Redstone Arsenal, Ala.

PFC Brian D. Blumhagen, MEDDAC, Fort McClellan, Ala.

PFC Richard C. Fulgium, 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt.

1st Lt. Saul Ford Jr., 690th Med. Co., 34th Med. Bn.

2nd Lt. John W. Dargle Jr., 690th Med. Co., 34th Med. Bn.

Sgt. Byron K. Toney, 2nd MASH, 34th Med. Bn.

Spec. James E. Murphy, 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt.

Spec. Cynthia L. Wright, MEDDAC, Fort Rucker, Ala.

PFC Eugene E. Baker, 690th Med. Co., 34th Med. Bn.

SHOP HERE & SAVE $ $ $!

NEW SOFA SETS & RECLINERS

HOTEL FURNITURE LIQUIDATION SALE

$85 4-DR. CHEST/$118 W/2 NITE STANDS
$15 GOLD FRAMED ORIENTAL BIRD PICTURES
$25 GOLD FRAMED ARCHED MIRROR
$155 MATCHING LOVE SEAT & CHAIR
$20 BED BENCHES

NEW & USED SURPLUS FURNITURE

WOW ONLY AT VINEBROOK

$5 PICTURES
ALL CARPET $35 12X14
19" COLOR TV'S $95
FLEA MKT. TABLES $25
FULL SIZE BOX SPRING & MATTRESS $50 per set

$ 5 CARPET SCRAPS	$25 KING BEDSPREADS
$ 5 WALL LAMPS	$15 MIRRORS
$ 5 DRAPE PANELS	$15 PICTURES
$ 5 CORRIDOR CARPET	$45 DRESSERS
$15 CHAIRS	$55 STEREO CABINETS
$15 NITE STANDS	$85 CHEST
$15 TABLES	$95 SLEEP SOFA
$15 FULL BEDSPREADS	$145 ARMORIE

BOX SPRING & MATTRESS SETS

TWIN SIZE	$60	KING SIZE	$95
FULL SIZE	$50	BED FRAMES	$15-$30
QUEEN SIZE	$95	HEADBOARDS	$10-$60

Many More Items

VINEBROOK LIQUIDATORS

DELIVERY SERVICE IS AVAILABLE

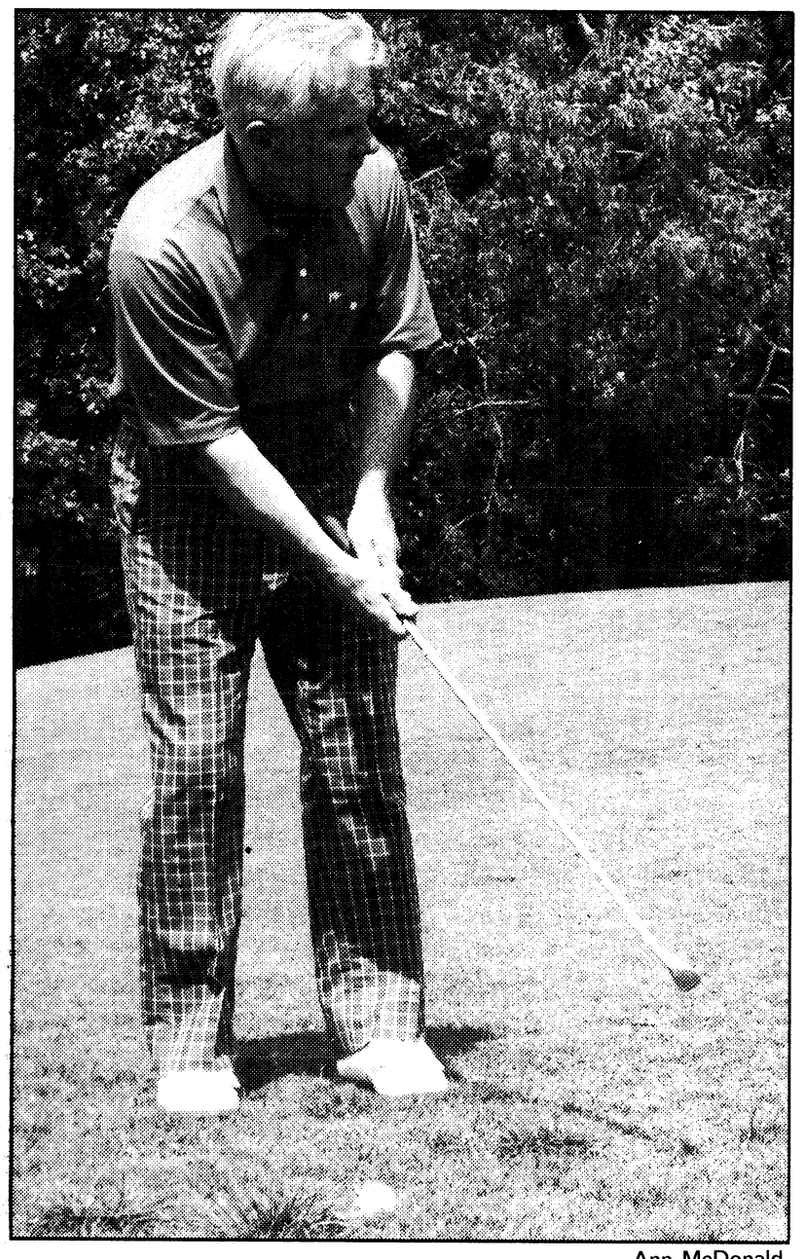
DELIVERY SERVICE AVAILABLE
CASH • CHECKS • VISA • MASTERCARD • DISCOVER
AMERICAN EXPRESS
30 DAY LAY-A-WAY
OPEN 7 DAYS
MON.-SAT. 10-6, SUNDAY 12-6

DELIVERY SERVICE IS AVAILABLE

WE HAVE 5 STORES in ATLANTA
THIS IS #1 FOR COLUMBUS!
MANY MORE ITEMS!
3404 BUENA VISTA ROAD
(ST. MARY'S HILLS SHOPPING CENTER)
682-0998

ONE HOUR PHOTO™
Exchange Service Concessionaire

ANNOUNCES A NAME CHANGE TO



COAST PHOTO

1 Hour Photo Service
at Main PX Mall Bldg. 9230
682-9787

24 HOUR DROP OFF & PICK UP SERVICES AVAILABLE AT

● Bldg. 10800 Custer Terrace Shoppette
● Bldg. 3218 Sand Hill PX Mall
● Bldg. 4 Infantry Hall PX
● Bldg. 1711 Main Post Mini Mall
● Bldg. 9002 Kelley Hill PX

SPORTS

Robert Sullivan displays his golf prowess.

Ann McDonald

Hackers scramble in AUSA's four-ball golf tournament

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Fort Benning's Association of the U.S. Army Corporate Member four-ball scramble golf tournament went off without a hitch April 27 said a post golf course resident pro.

Golf Pro George Cliff coordinated the tournament for the AUSA members.

"Everyone really had a good time out there on the course," Cliff said, "and it went fast because we used the four-ball-scramble-type game."

He explained that in a four-ball scramble each of the four players tee off. Then they hit the next ball from the spot where the best ball was hit at tee off. This continues throughout the entire 18 holes.

The winners are:

1st Place: James Jernigan, Michael Spigelmire, Robert Sullivan, Dick Meriaux

2nd Place: Pete Bush, Jim Cook, Earl Lasseter, Jim Matthews

3rd Place: Bob Knight, Brian Plemmons, Jim Smith, Pete Crutchfield

4th Place: Donald Conner, James Meucci, Johnny Jones, Bobbie Keirsey

5th Place: Billy Cumbie, Tommy Brown, John Chambers, Al Stevens

6th Place: Phil Sparks, Harry Lewis, Johnny B. Grimes, Jack Tomlin

7th Place: Frank Emanuel, Bill Braxton, Al Riesenburger, Frances Rentz

8th Place: McDonald Plummer, Ed Sills, Marion Beck, Lowell Phillips.

Players awarded prizes for designated holes are Mavis Hill at hole number four, C.D. Morgan at hole number seven, Charles Berry at hole number 14 and Bill Harper at hole number 16.

USAIC Tennis Championship today through May 12

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The 1989 U. S. Army Infantry Center's Tennis Championship gets underway today through May 12 at the Community Recreation Division's tennis courts on Anderson Street behind the post's Theatre #2.

Brigade and battalion teams of seven will compete. Each team will have two male players to compete in the Open Division, two players in the Junior Veterans Division, one in the Senior Division, and two female players in the Women's Division.

Senior Division entrants over 45 years of age will also compete. Entrants 35 to 44 years of age will compete in the Junior Veterans category.

For information, contact the post's Physical Activities Office at 545-5777 or 545-7519.

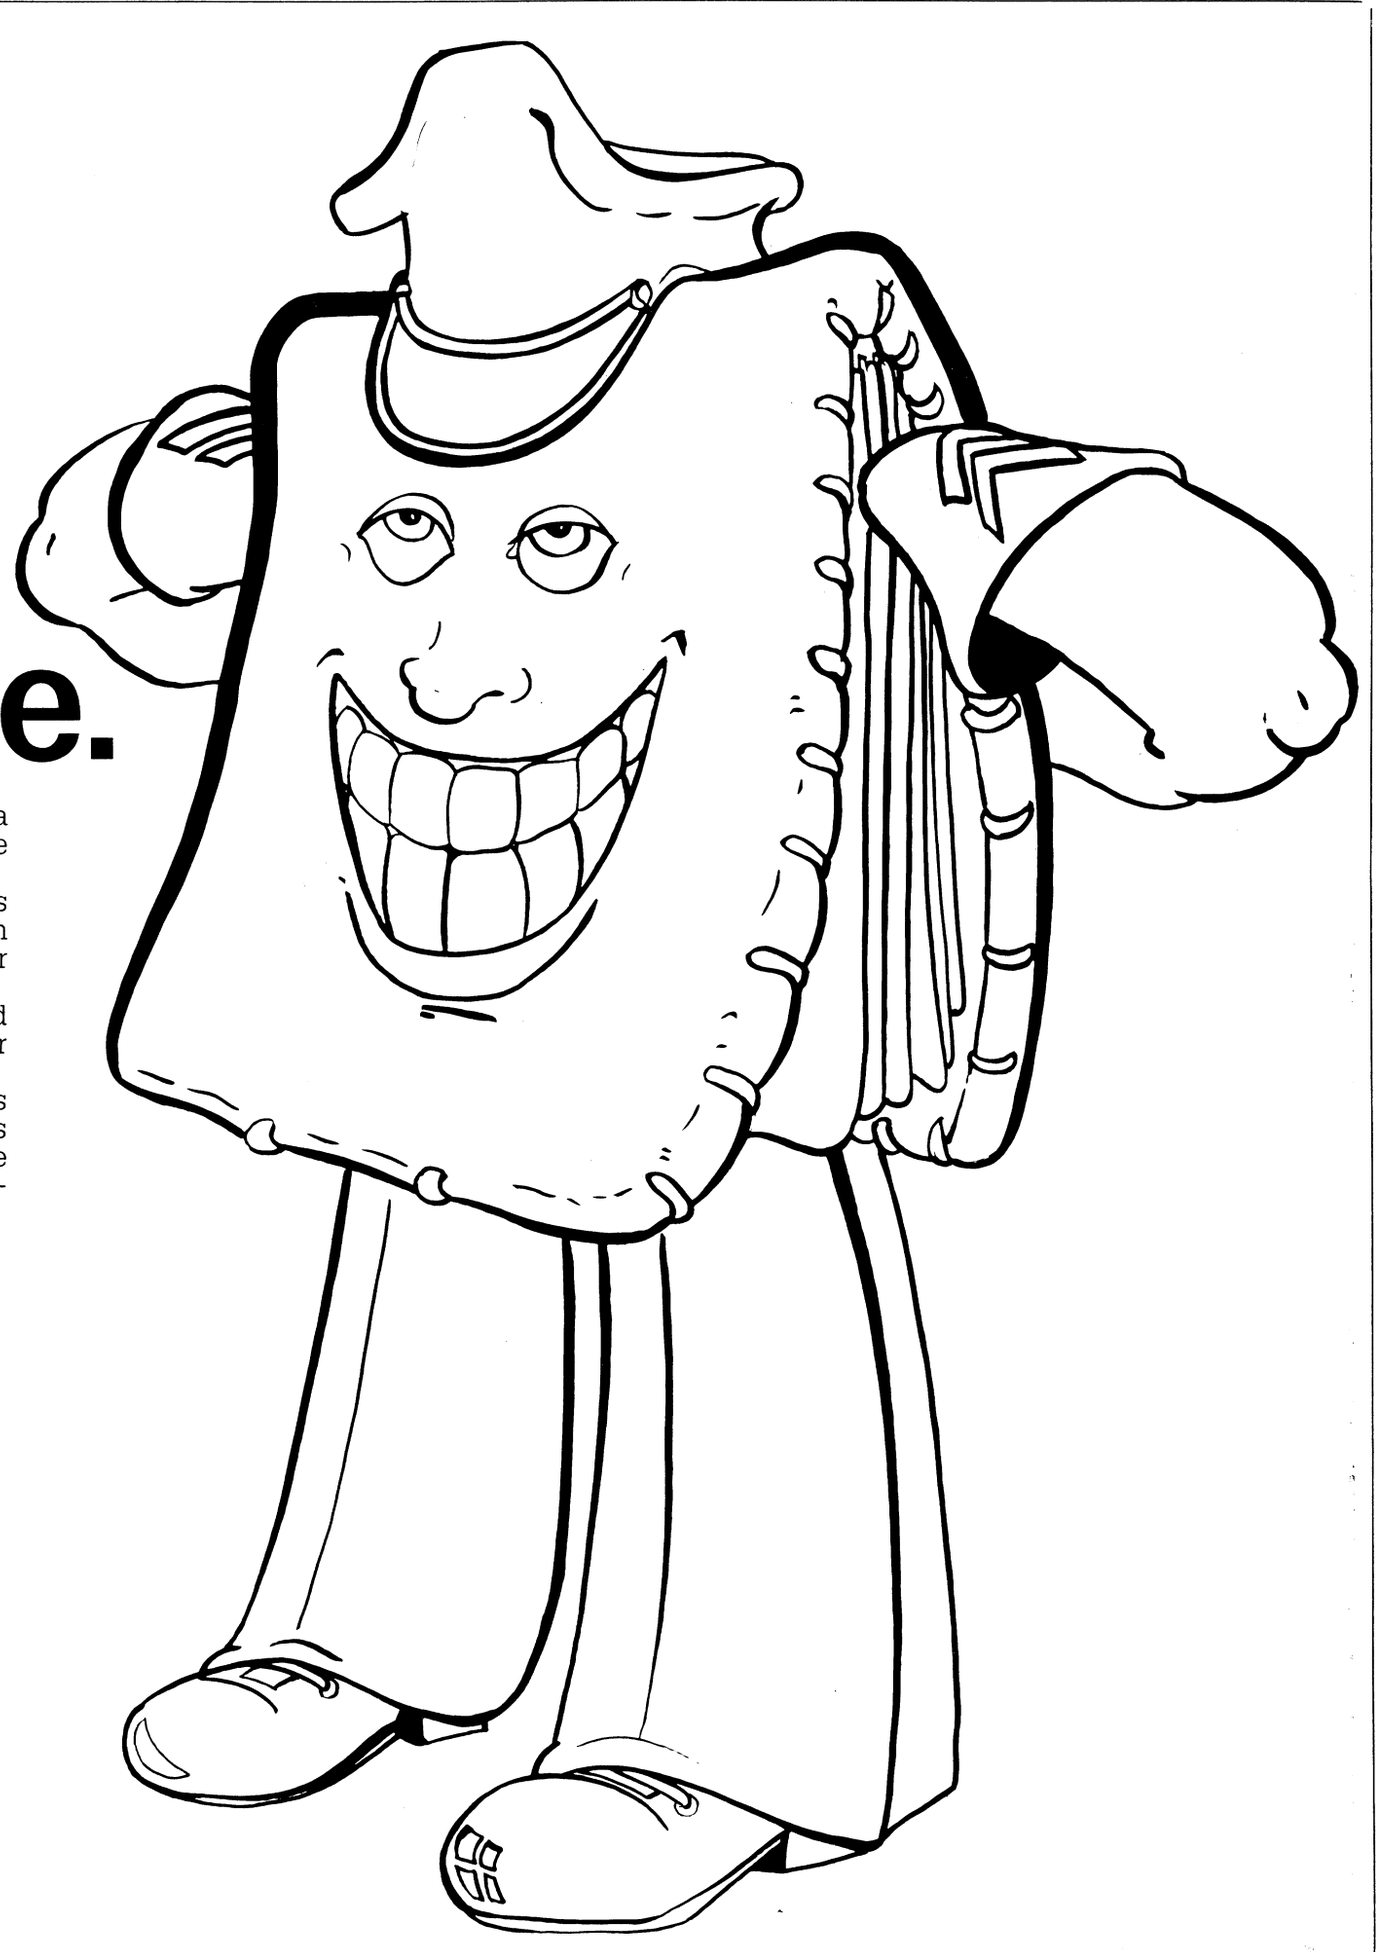
DIVORCE..... $195 (simple uncontested)
BANKRUPTCY.. $295 Personal-No Assets-Chp. #7
ADOPTION..... $195 (all parties consent)
NAME CHANGE. $125 (no contest)
WILL..... $45 (simple)
DUI..... $195 (first-Nolo Plea)
plus court cost
LAW OFFICES OF
GARY I. KLEPAK
563-9333
2953 Mimosa St.
(Across from Sears Auto Center—Cols. Sq. Mall)

Econo Self Storage
4483 Victory Drive
404-682-3803
FORT BENNING
FOR THE MILITARY
Storage while TDY
Foot locker storage
Motorcycles
Boats
Personal effects
Bivouac
Permanent party storage
UNIT SIZES AVAILABLE
Lockers 5(W) x 5(D) x 4(H)
5x10 10x10 $20 up 5x5 10x20
Call Now to Reserve Your Space
For Your Business or Family Items—Short or Long Term

DISCOUNTED AIR LINE TICKETS
30%-70% OFF
DOMESTIC/INTERNATIONAL
*Subject to availability and restrictions imposed by airlines.
TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
4393 VICTORY DRIVE
ARCCO PLACE
COLUMBUS, GA.
689-3092
FT. BENNING MAIN POST
EXIT 1
VICTORY DRIVE
SAND HILL
Arcco
Travel World
Arcco Place

Use Bayonet Want Ads

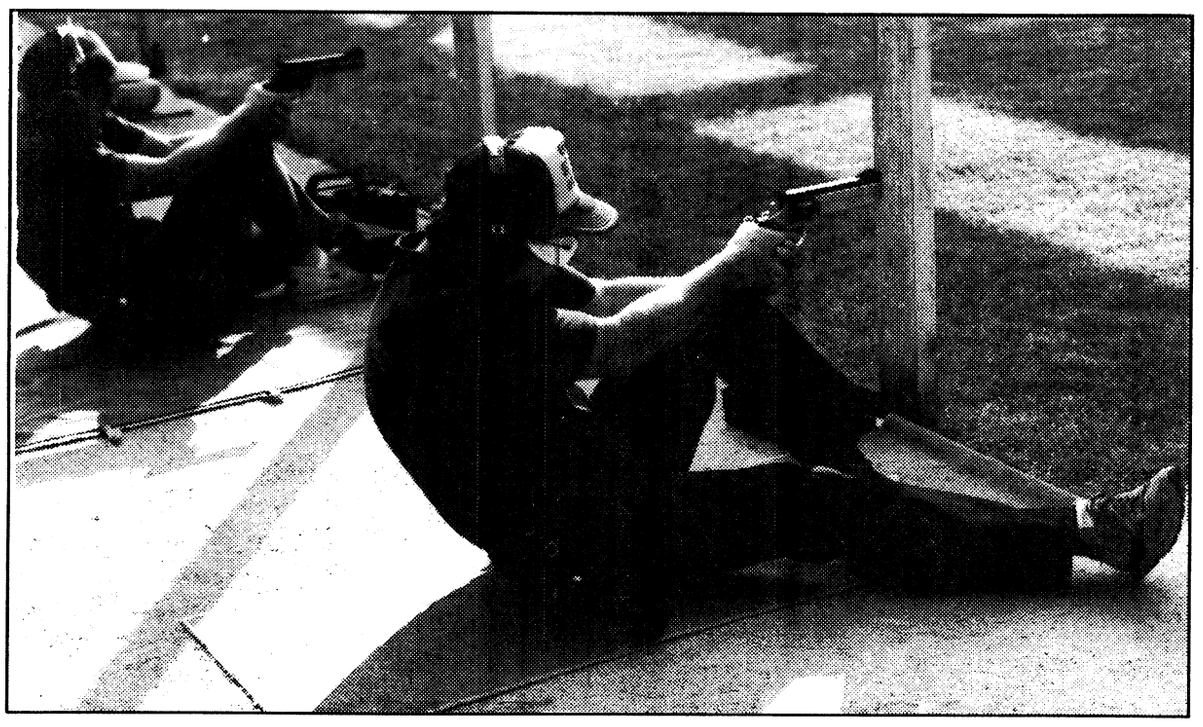
Put your wallet at ease.



It could use the rest. Out-of-pocket medical expenses put a strain on your pocketbook. But a new CHAMPUS doctor care program eases your burden. CHAMPUS pays more of the bill.

With CHAMPUS Preferred, you avoid the hassles of claims filing while your cost shares are cut over 20 percent. That's on top of the lower fees the doctors have agreed to accept for their services.

You receive care from a quality network of carefully selected preferred providers. You never file a claim. The doctor files for you. And all preferred providers accept assignment. Always.



Your local preferred provider organization is the Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Georgia VIP program. It includes hundreds of doctors around the state. Finding one is easy. Just call the toll-free Health Care Finder line provided by CHAMPUS, 1-800-451-1485. Or contact your local Health Benefits Adviser.

Your wallet will thank you for it.

VIP
Voluntary Incentive Program
CHAMPUS
—Preferred—
The New CHAMPUS Doctor Care Program

Benning shooters to represent Customs Service

Shawn Bryson

Myles Knight, a U.S. Customs Service senior special agent, fires at a target.

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

Three Fort Benning personnel will soon be on their way around the country again, thanks to their steady hands, undefiable aims and cool composures.

J. Edward Parker, Myles Knight and Ralph Pendleton will represent the U.S. Customs Service pistol team this year at regional police revolver matches across the U.S. due to their performances at the team trials and the U.S. Customs Commissioner's 20 Match held last week at the Columbus Police Department's firing range.

Eighteen U.S. Customs personnel competed in the week-long trials and the 20 match, which was held the last day of the trials. The trials and 20 match are held annually to determine the nine shooters who will make up the customs shooting team for the coming season.

Although making the team was a significant accomplishment for the three men, it was also nothing new. Parker and Knight have been team members since the team was started in 1982, according to Richard M. Conger, supervisory special agent and deputy director of the firearms staff. Pendleton is also no stranger to the team as the latest trials put him on the team for a fourth consecutive year, Conger said. Conger explained that anyone who makes the team remains a member until bumped.

Parker, director of the U.S. Customs Service's National Firearms Program Staff at Fort Benning, won the 20 match with a total score of 1,486 out of 1,500 possible points.

Knight and Pendleton are both senior special agents with the firearms staff at Benning. Knight's five-day score put him above the rest and won him the High Aggregate Award.

The national U.S. Customs commissioner, William von Raab, was on hand for the match, Conger said.

The five-day shoot-off drew shooters from as far away as Maine, Texas and California, Conger said. Each competitor had already placed in their regional match and then advanced to the trials in Columbus.

The competitors' skills were pushed to the limit as they fired their ".38 Specials" from distances of 7, 15, 25 and 50 yards in positions such as sitting, standing without support, prone and barricade supported. To make the competition even harder, each shooter was required to shoot left and right handed.

Conger said that the team will compete in 25 different National Rifle Association matches.

SPORTS SHORTS

USAIC battalion golf begins June 1

The USAIC battalion golf season begins June 1. Four separate seasons will be held.

The first season gets underway June 1 through July 7; the second season is July 17 through Aug. 4; the third season is Aug. 11 through Aug. 29 and the fourth season is Aug. 29 through Sep. 19. Championships will be held for each season.

Entry forms are available at Audie Murphy gym, Harmony Church field house, Santiago gym, Briant Wells field house, Kelley Hill gym or the post Sports Office.

For more information, call the sports director at 545-5777 or drop by the Sports Office, building 394.

DEH reminds hunters to return permits

To avoid the loss of hunting privileges, turkey hunters are reminded to return the Fort Benning Turkey Permit and Hunter Report, FB (ENG) Form 10, within 15 days of the close of turkey season. Permits may be placed in drop boxes located at the Outdoor Recreation Office, building 247, or Natural Resources Management Office, building 5883, Harmony Church. Individuals desiring receipt for turn in may mail the permits by certified mail, return receipt requested, directly to the Natural Resources Management Division, DEH, Fort Benning, Ga. 31905-5122, or personally return the permit to building 247 and obtain acknowledgment of turn in.

All permits not received by close of business May 20, 1989 will be considered delinquent. Hunters who fail to return their permits will be denied privileges as required by USAIC Regulation 210-2, Installation Hunting and Fishing Regulation, dated July 8, 1988. (544-6120)

USO giving away Braves tickets

The USO is giving away Atlanta Braves baseball tickets by means of a drawing. Only active duty military personnel are eligible. To enter, put your name, rank, duty station, duty and work phone numbers on a postcard (DoD postcards are illegal) and mail to USO/Atlanta Braves Tickets, P. O. Box 20963, Atlanta, GA 30320. One one entry per person please.

A drawing will be held weekly on Tuesday. Each winner will receive two tickets to a Thursday or Sunday home game. Tickets should be picked up before the game at the press box office. Military identification must be shown when picking up

Pot-O-Gold is $3,518

Fort Benning bowling centers' "Pot-O-Gold" cash prize has reached $3,518.

Bowlers must strike in certain frames to win the pot.

League and open bowlers who purchase a three-game ticket and pay a $1 entry fee prior to bowling are eligible to enter the tournament. For information, call 545-4272 or 545-1949.

USAMU soldiers score shooting victories

By Tom Pool
U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit

Soldiers from the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit, scored major shooting victories recently in competition held both in the United States and abroad.

In International World Cup matches held in Mexico City, James Graves dominated the competition by setting a new world record in trap shooting.

Graves scored a total of 220 out of 225 targets to set the record using the new one ounce shot weight restriction for international competition, instead of the old one and one-eighth ounce limit.

His victory in the matches earned him his first World Cup championship and will automatically qualify him to tryout for this year's U.S. team that will compete in the Championship of the Americas this July in Puerto Rico.

Richard Schrode scored 194 to tie for third in the regulation event, while PFC William Roberts finished in sixth place at 192.

A week earlier, Graves also won the U.S. Grand Prix held at Prado Dam, Calif., site of the 1984 Olympic shooting events.

Graves fired a score of 195 out of 200 targets to outdistance the field by two targets.

Claiming High Lady honors in the event, was USAMU's PFC Cindy Raahauge, scoring a total of 191 out of 200.

In team events, the U.S. Army "Blue" squad of Graves and Mark Hobbs and Bret Erickson won the overall trap team championship with 427 out of 450 targets.

USAMU members also competed in the Texas State High-Power Rifle championships held at San Antonio, Texas, from April 21-23.

In individual competition, Lance Hopper came from behind to win the individual Texas state title.

Hopper scored a total of 789 out of 900 points, to finish two points ahead of the current national champion, David Tubb at 787.

Timothy Jackson of USAMU finished in third place, also at 787 and was followed by Terry Duling in fourth position at 786.

Individual match winners during the championships included Hopper in the 200 yard standing event (196-10x), Jackson at 300 yards rapid fire (200-10x) and Duling in the 600 yard slow fire event (198-5x).

Armed Forces Day Run May 20

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The Armed Forces Day "Shape Up For Life" Run will be held May 20 in front of Infantry Hall, building 4.

The event features a 2.2-mile run and a 6.2-mile run, both starting at 7 a.m.

Individuals and 25-member teams are invited. Teams may compete in the 6.2-mile event only.

Pre-registration is $5 for individuals and must be postmarked no later than May 16. Pre-registration in person will be accepted at building 394, Doughboy Stadium, until 4:30 p.m. May 16.

Late registration for individuals is $7 and will be accepted at the stadium until 4:30 p.m. May 19 and at the race site from 6 a.m. until 6:45 a.m.

Team entry fee is $90. First, second and third place team trophies will be awarded.

Make checks payable to MWR Fund, c/o CRD, Physical Activities Branch, building 394, Fort Benning, Ga. 31905-5226. The individual's military unit and social security number must be included on checks.

Armed Forces Day Run

PLEASE PRINT CIRCLE ONE: 6.2 MILE 2.2 MILE
NAME _____ AGE _____ SEX _____
ADDRESS _____ CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____
EMERGENCY CONTACT _____ PHONE _____
SHIRT SIZE: (circle one) XL L M S

I hereby release all sponsors and officials of the Armed Forces Run from all claims of injury or damage resulting from my participation in this race. I further state that I am in proper physical condition to participate in a race of 2.2 miles and 6.2 miles (10,000 meters).

SIGNATURE _____ DATE _____
(Parent or guardian must sign if entrant under age 18.)

Mail or bring entry to: Physical Activities Branch
Doughboy Stadium, Building 394
Fort Benning, Ga. 31905-5226
Make checks payable to the MWR Fund, c/o CRD.

PRIVACY ACT STATEMENT
AUTHORITY: 10 USC 3012
PRINCIPAL PURPOSE AND ROUTINE USES: To determine eligibility for participation in CRD'S Armed Forces Day Run. Address and telephone number are used for individual notifications and forwarding of information regarding the run, certificates, etc.
DISCLOSURE: Voluntary. Failure to provide information may preclude participation in the run.

Group Entry

UNIT _____ NO. OF PERSONNEL _____
POC _____ PHONE _____
GROUP LEADER _____

NAME	SHIRT SIZE	NAME	SHIRT SIZE
1.		14.
2.		15.
3.		16.
4.		17.
5.		18.
6.		19.
7.		20.
8.		21.
9.		22.
10.		23.
11.		24.
12.		25.
13.

Benning to host U.S. Army Small Arms Championship

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Fort Benning will host this year's U.S. Army Small Arms Championship, May 15 through May 26.

A record turnout of competitors from various military units across the United States is expected, including shooters from the active Army, Army Reserve and National Guard.

Last year more than 800 participated in these championships.

Here is the firing schedule:

May 15-18, Light Machinegun, Easley Range

May 15-18, Combat Pistol, Phillips Range

May 15-18, Combat Rifle, McAndrew Range

May 21-26, National Match Pistol, Phillips Range

May 21-26, National Match Rifle, McAndrew Range

For more information, contact Bill Walton or Griff Godwin at the Public Affairs Office at 545-2236, or Tommy Pool at the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit at 545-1410.

Spectators may attend the competition, however, they should drop by USAMU, building 2601, to get directions and times.

SOFTBALL !!!
AT HISTORIC GOLDEN PARK

The COLUMBUS MUDCATS are bringing
STEELE'S* SILVER BULLETS
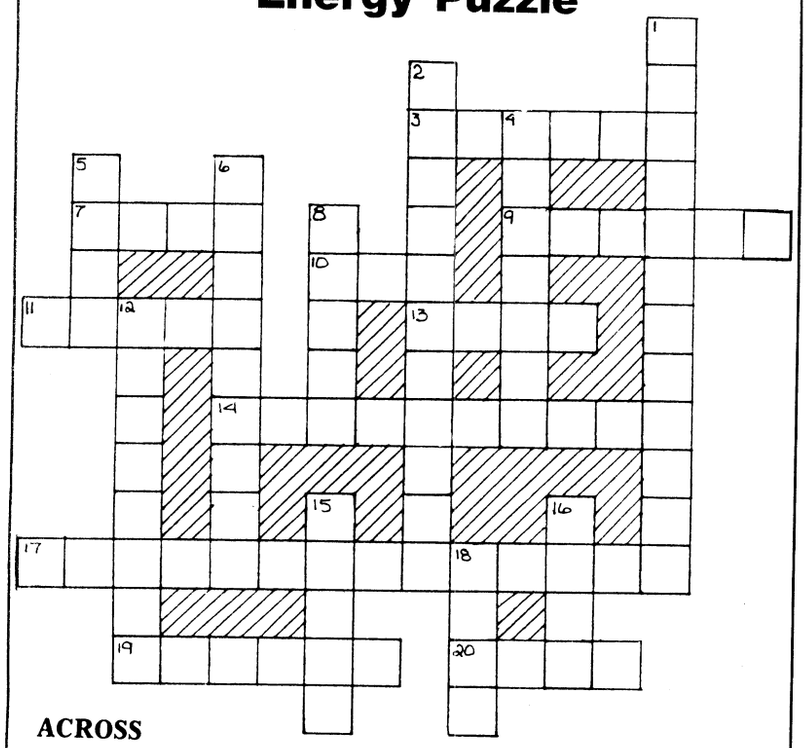
1988 USSSA World Championship Softball Team
To Golden Park on May 11, 1989

The MEN OF STEELE will play a team of local softball all-stars.

Silver Bullets 1988 stats:
365-19-2 !!
6,331 HRs !!
13,907 Hits !!
.682 Team Batting Avg. !!

DON'T MISS IT!



The Home Team will need all the help they can get.

Date: May 11, Thur.
Place: Golden Park
Gates Open: 6:00 p.m.
Game Starts: 7:00 p.m.

ENTERTAINMENT

Energy Puzzle

ACROSS

3 — English physicist and mathematician who explained the laws of inanimate nature in mathematical terms and formulated laws of universal gravitation.

7 — The United States is importing an increasing amount of oil, much of it from the Middle _____.

9 — A widespread concern of the public regarding nuclear energy.

10 — A major problem with the use of coal as an energy source is this type of pollution.

11 — Term used for the method of boring into the earth for oil.

13 — Organization of Petroleum Exporting Countries.

14 — Careful use of this device is the most important way to conserve energy in the home or office during heating and cooling seasons.

17 — More than two-thirds of the oil consumed in the United States is used for this.

19 American inventor responsible for the incandescent light bulb and electrical systems.

20 — In a heated building, doors and windows left this way cause substantial energy loss.

DOWN

1 — The best way to save money and energy resources.

2 — In developing new energy resources, scientists must be concerned with effects on this.

4 — Replacing these will stop water waste from dripping faucets.

5 — Fort Benning's energy budget is more than $20 million per _____.

6 — Encompasses water, electricity and natural gas.

8 — A function of the Energy Program is to eliminate energy _____.

12 — To prevent the passage of heat.

15 — A device that converts oil or gasoline into mechanical energy.

16 — Used to conduct electricity.

18 — The unit regarded as a source of nuclear energy.

Win a weekend in Florida

By Becky Ray
Energy Branch

Test your knowledge of energy and win a chance at a weekend in Destin, Fla. All correctly completed puzzles will go into a drawing for a weekend's lodging in Florida.

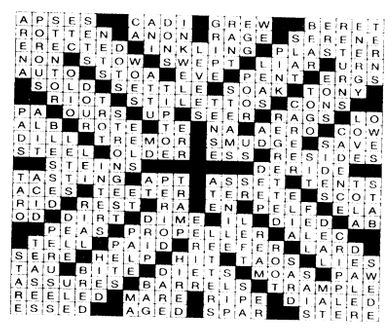
Just send in your completed crossword puzzle by Wednesday. Everyone entering gets a sun shade or a can insulator. All correct entries win an official "Captain Conservo" T-shirt. The grand-prize winner gets lodging for a family of four at the Destin Recreation Center Hotel in Destin, Fla. Complete the energy crossword puzzle and mail it to:

U.S. Army Infantry Center, DEH, Energy Branch, Attention: ATZB-EH-FM, Fort Benning, Ga. 31905-5122, or deliver your puzzle to the Energy Branch office in building 262 on Edwards Street.

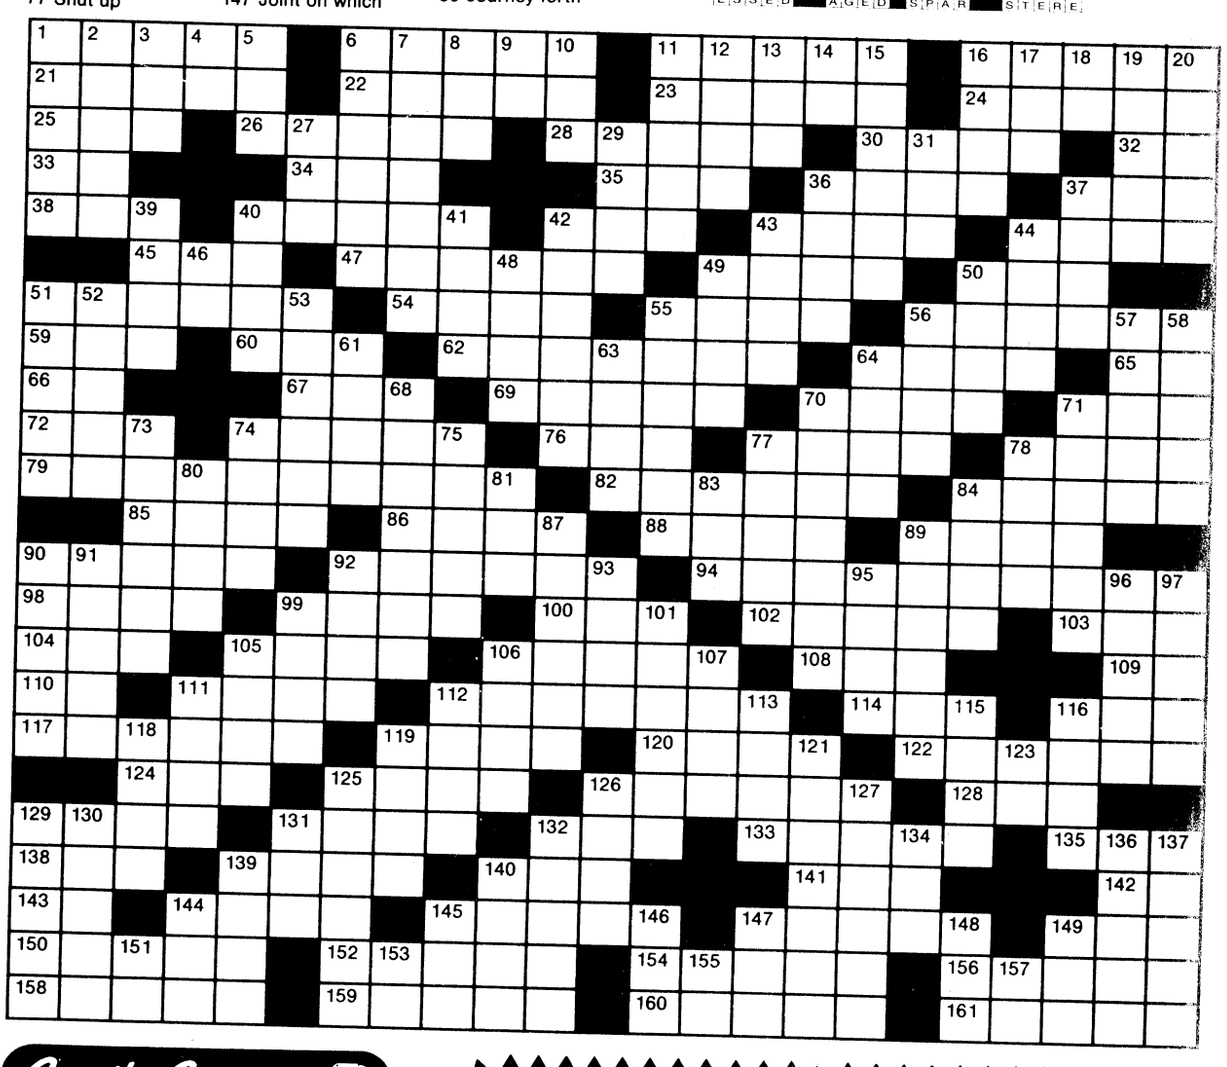
All entries must be received before 4 p.m. Wednesday. All active duty military family members, retired military and civil service employees of Fort Benning (except those in FMO Division, DEH) are eligible to enter.

The winner's name will be drawn from all correct entries Thursday. Entries must be legible, and a name, address and daytime telephone number must be included on the entry. One entry per person.

The grand-prize winner will be notified by telephone after the drawing.



T-shirts and other prizes can be picked up at building 262 May 15 through 19. Hotel reservation dates are for June 9 and 10. For more information, call Becky Ray at 545-4652.



PUZZLE

ACROSS
1 Knight combat
6 Discourse
11 "— on the Nile"
16 Pares
21 Mistake
22 Tantrums
23 Wireless set
24 Uncanny
25 Go astray
26 Loretta or Robert
28 The ones there
30 Fee
32 Tellurium symbol
33 As far as
34 Wooden pin
35 Be in debt
36 Leather strap
37 Crimson
38 Vessel's curved planking
40 Attempt
42 Press for payment
43 Hairless
44 Planet
45 Shoemaker's tool
47 Earthquake
49 Marshes
50 Cooling device
51 Beg
54 Go by water
55 Deposits
56 Howie of "St. Elsewhere"
59 Distress signal
60 Teachers' org.
62 Tells
64 Weary
65 Behold!
66 Yes, in Barcelona
67 Limb
69 Pertaining to birth
70 Evaluate
71 Mire
72 The sixth sense
74 Groups of threes
76 Decay
77 Shut up
78 Ancient Persian
79 Ends
82 Earns
84 Apportions
85 Helps
86 Adored one
88 South Pacific islander
89 Row
90 Name
92 Avoids
94 Commercial
98 War god
99 Beasts of burden
100 Frolic
102 Trap
103 Study
104 Evil
105 — Kristofferson
106 Evergreen trees
108 Drink slowly
109 Calcium symbol
110 Running
111 Whip
112 Gross National —
114 At present
116 Grain
117 Ceremony
119 Blessing
120 Vehicle
122 Sewing implement
124 "Holiday —"
125 "In — Blood"
126 Negated
128 The self
129 Vandals
131 Solicitude
132 Dance step
133 Peeled
135 Tattered cloth
138 Employ
139 Animal enclosure
140 Preposition
141 Title of respect
142 Negative
143 Greek letter
144 Sleeveless cloak
145 Expels
147 Joint on which door swings
149 Time gone by
150 Claw
152 Wash lightly
154 Elephant's proboscis
156 Reveals
158 Skid
159 Spirited horse
160 Burglars: slang
161 Proclaim loudly

DOWN
1 Jokes
2 Constellation
3 Vase
4 Conjunction
5 Attempt
6 Most faithful
7 Airplane "garages"
8 Omelet ingredient
9 Myself
10 N.Y. time
11 Submerge in water
12 Comfort
13 Fruit drink
14 Agave plant
15 Hostelries
16 Animal coat
17 Lamprey
18 Teutonic deity
19 Liquid measure
20 Sows
27 Harvest goddess
29 60 minutes
31 Ancient
36 Prohibits
37 Ayn or Sally
39 Barks
40 Verve
41 "My Favorite —"
42 100 pennies
43 Wagers
44 Horse's neck hair
46 Pronoun
48 Attitude
49 Perceive by touch
50 Journey forth
51 Item of property
52 Balance
53 Becomes aware of
55 Declares
56 Baseball glove
57 Evade
58 Mine veins
61 Solo
63 Tiny particle
64 Makes into leather
68 Impulses
70 Comes back
71 Relating to measurement
73 Talked idly
74 Rise and fall of ocean
75 Automobile style
77 Heaps
78 Encounter
80 Wire measures
81 Turf
83 Alcoholic beverage
84 Underground excavation
87 Vast throng
89 Game fish
90 Kettledrum
91 Citizen of Tehrar
92 Way out
93 "The — Pebbles
95 Son of Adam
96 Restricted
97 Related on mother's side
99 Spoken
101 Certain playing cards
105 New Jersey Governor
106 Urge on
107 Peruse
111 Baker's products
112 North or South
113 Journey
115 Unwanted plant
116 Aroma
118 Fork prong
119 Weary by dullness
121 Plaguing
123 Actor Marshall
125 Provides, cooks, serves food
126 Arrow
127 Quaffs
129 Searches for
130 Commonplace
131 "Beverly Hills —"
132 Sat for portrait
134 Unit of energy
136 Ire
137 Web-footed bird
139 Walking stick
140 Electrical safety device
144 Food fish
145 Number
146 Pigpen
147 Embrace
148 Recede
149 Macaw
151 XVII x III
153 That thing
155 Concerning
157 Hirt of music

LAST WEEK

Georgia Renaissance Festival each weekend

USAIC Public Affairs Office

What's new at the Georgia Renaissance Festival? This year, the fourth festival offers new talents, new sites, and a new pub.

Now, in its fourth year, more and more visitors become addicted to the Georgia Renaissance Festival for that very reason — the faire provides a unique, total escape from the 20th century.

The Georgia Renaissance Festival provides a full day of entertainment with hundreds of costumed characters, Olde English customs, and crafts in a rollicking, playful atmosphere.

Musicians, singers, dancers, jugglers, story tellers — everywhere you turn is another of the many actors and actresses roaming the wooded knoll in character, offering another enchanting diversion. But you won't just watch. Test your skill at ancient games like archery and jousting; many games are participatory.

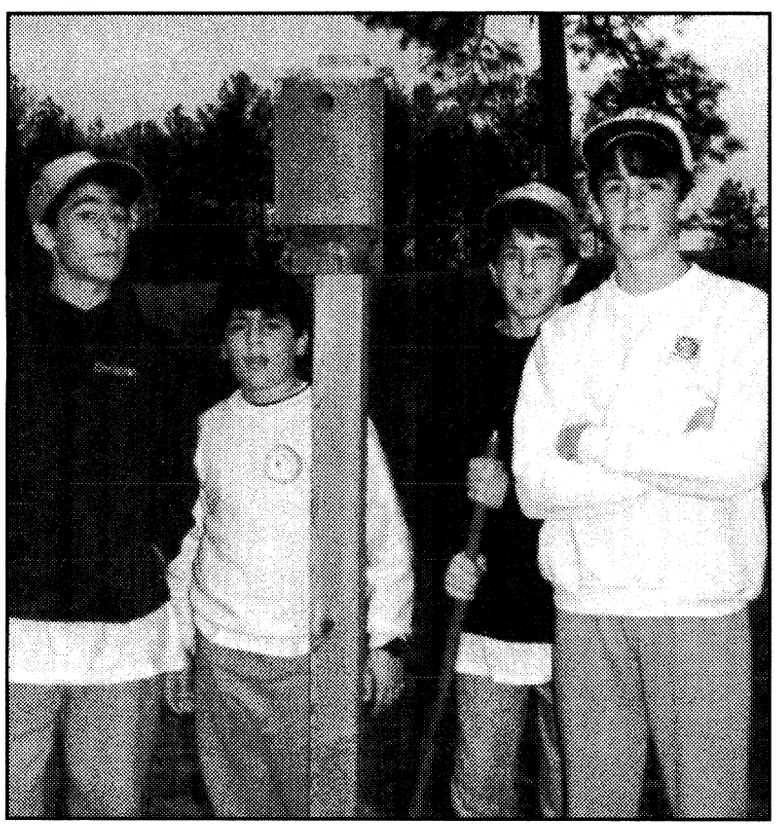
You won't want to miss watching gallant knights on horseback, and clad in full armor, joust in a heart-stopping battle "to the death." On the lighter side, the Bedlam Mudbeggars will have you crying with laughter and shouting in support of your favorite beggar. And Idiot Theater returns with its wild fairy tales.

The festival will open at 10:30 a.m. and close at 6 p.m. every Saturday and Sunday each weekend from now until June 4, including Memorial Day, May 29.

The Georgia Renaissance festival grounds are located 10 minutes south of Hartsfield International Airport, off Interstate 85, at Exit 12 (Fairburn/Peachtree City). Tickets are available at the gate and cost $8.95 for adults, $4 for children ages 5 to 12, and kids under 5 are admitted free.

For more information, call (404) 964-8575.

MOVIES



Today	Beaches - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Cousins - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Married to the Mob - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
Saturday	Lean On Me - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Dangerous Liaison - (R)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Mississippi Burning - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Troop Beverly Hills - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Red Heat - (R)	Main Post 9:10 p.m.
	Young Guns - (R)	Main Post 11 p.m.
Sunday	Troop Beverly Hills - (PG)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Beetlejuice - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Mississippi Burning - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Lean On Me - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Monday	Mississippi Burning - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Troop Beverly Hills - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	True Believer - (R)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Tuesday	The Accused - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Lean On Me - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Wednesday	My Stepmother is an Alien - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Dangerous Liaison - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Three Fugitives - (PG-13)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Thursday	True Believer - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Troop Beverly Hills - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.

Carmike Cinema 7
5301 Sidney Simons Blvd. 596-8244
"FIELD OF DREAMS" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"FLETCH LIVES" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"RAIN MAN" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"K-9" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"THE DREAM TEAM" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"WOMEN ON THE VERGE OF A NERVOUS BREAKDOWN" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"LOVERBOY" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
Columbus Square 8 | 563-4440 COLUMBUS SQUARE
"CRIMINAL LAW" R 7:00, 9:30
"SHE'S OUT OF CONTROL" PG 7:00, 9:30
"LEAN ON ME" R 7:00, 9:30
"PET SEMATARY" R 7:00, 9:30 NO TUES. BARGAINS
"SUMMER JOB" R 7:10, 9:20
"MAJOR LEAGUE" R 7:10, 9:20 NO TUES BARGAIN
"SAY ANYTHING" PG13 7:10 "SPEED ZONE FEVER" PG 9:20
"RED SCORPION" R 7:10, 9:20
Peachtree Triple | 322-7704 PEACHTREE MALL
"CYBORG" R 7:10, 9:20
"LISTEN TO ME" PG13 7:10, 9:20
"SEE YOU IN THE MORNING" PG13 7:00, 9:30
Plaza Triple 99¢ | 563-3737 CROSS COUNTRY PLAZA
"MISSISSIPPI BURNING" R 7:00, 9:30
"TROOP BEVERLY HILLS" PG 7:10, 9:20
"BEACHES" PG13 7:00, 9:30
Phenix Twin 99¢ | 297-3905 280 BYPASS
"TWINS" PG 7:15, 9:30
"LEVIATHAN" R 7:00, 9:15

Anthony's Pizza the world's greatest
FORT BENNING MINI MALL LOCATION
PECOMROW ST. 687-8051
FEATURES:
● PASTA SANDWICHES
● FULL SALAD BAR
● WORLD'S GREATEST PIZZA
CALL 687-8051 FOR HOME DELIVERY AFTER 5PM TIL CLOSING
$3.00 OFF ANY 16" PIZZA with this coupon

Western Sizzlin® STEAK HOUSE
•SPECIAL•
Friday and Saturday all day
Two U.S.D.A. choice 8 oz. Top Sirloins, two soup-salad-hot food bars, two potatoes, two servings of hot bread, and two drinks.
$10.99
SIRLOIN DINNER FOR TWO
Macon Rd. near I-185 & Victory Dr. near I-185
Also in Opelika & LaGrange
MasterCard, Visa, and checks accepted.

Jilly's THE PLACE FOR RIBS
Restaurant & Lounge
● Monday Night Special
Full Rib Dinner Reg. $8.95
ONLY $7.89
● Thursday Night Special
Two 8 oz Prime Roast Dinners
ONLY $14.95
● Entertainment In Our Lounge
Featuring Kelley & Kelley Wed. - Sat.
OPEN MOTHERS DAY - MAY 14th
Lunch, Dinner, Cocktails and an evening of entertainment
Call for Reservations 563-7427
3747 Macon Rd. 1/2 Mile East of I-85 Exit 4

U.S. Army photo

Christian (l) and Matthew Nahas and Mark and Matt Zais show off one of the birdhouses they constructed for Follow Me Golf Course.

Scouts build birdhouses for post golf course

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Fort Benning Scouts recently built some birdhouses for the post golf course.

Matt Zais, and other Fort Benning Troop 27 scouts, constructed 20 bluebird houses on 8-foot poles and placed them on the Follow Me Golf Course. Zais undertook the project to earn the rank of eagle scout.

The project was suggested by Deck Major, a post fish and wildlife specialist. Major said the golf course was an ideal place to put the houses because bluebirds prefer open fields, free from underbrush and the course's short grass for feeding.

According to Major, the project was needed on post because of the decline in the bluebird population in the area during the last decade. Some factors that contributed to the decline were unreasonable cold winters, a lack of nesting habitats and competition for available nest cavities from aggressive non-native species such as the English sparrow and starling, Major said.

Zais' project involved 31 hours of work by Troop 27 scouts. For his efforts, he earned the rank of Eagle Scout, the highest rank in scouting.

Bluebird population on the decline, birdhouses can help

By Deck Major
Fish and Wildlife Specialist

In the Academy-award winning Walt Disney movie "Song of the South," the song "Zip-A-Dee-Do-Dah" immortalized a wondrous, small bird with a beautiful song.

The year was 1947 and bluebirds were numerous, especially in the south.

With time, things change and unfortunately the bluebird has come upon hard times.

Some experts estimate that since the early 1940s, the overall eastern bluebird population has declined nearly 90 percent.

What has been the main cause of this bird's decline?

As usual, man has played a major role.

The bluebird nests in tree cavities made in dead trees by woodpeckers.

As man came to look upon dead trees as unsightly and in the way of clearing land or the cutting of firewood, the extra cavities have disappeared.

In past times bluebird nests were common in old wooden pasture fence posts.

Unfortunately, the old wooden posts have been replaced by metal ones.

The introduction of English sparrows and European starlings to the United States proved to be a disaster because they have become the bluebirds' worst avian competition for nest sites.

In addition, increased pesticide use, while destroying unwanted insects, has also inadvertently reduced the number of bluebirds whose main food is, of course, insects.

Although man has strained the small thread that holds small critters like the bluebird in the complex ecological web of life, ornithological experts (those who study birds) have provided some answers to help secure the bluebird in his particular environmental niche.

The answer is nest boxes! How many? The more, the merrier.

To those interested in helping, the focal point of bluebird conservation is the bluebird trail.

A bluebird trail consists of a number of nesting boxes spaced a hundred yards or more apart in suitable habitat.

The longest trail presently covers 2,500 miles of Canadian countryside and supports over 7,000 nest boxes.

Bluebird nesting habitat consists of nearly open land, free from underbrush, but near bushy woodlands where the bird can perch on a tree limb or telephone wire and observe the open grassy areas where they prefer to pick up insects.

Examples of these areas are pastures, county roadways, garden spots, golf courses or any other similar area where grassy open land meets the woodland edge.

If placed in this type of habitat, construction of nest boxes for bluebirds provides amateur birders an opportunity to physically help a species increase its population and reverse its steady decline.

For more information, contact the local Audubon Society chapter or the North American Bluebird Society in Silver Springs, Md.

STANDINGS

VOLLEYBALL

197TH INFANTRY BRIGADE

2nd Bn., 18th Inf.	W	L
Company C	5	2
HHC	5	4
Company B	4	2
Company A	4	3
Company D	2	5
Company E	0	3
519th PSC	0	3

8th Annual David E. Grange, Jr. Best Ranger Competition Final Standings

1st — Sgt. Guy I. Fichtelman, Co. A, 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., Fort Benning,; Sgt. Mike M. Sonnenschein, Co. A, 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., Fort Benning — 1,065 points.

2nd — SSgt. William F. Thetford, Co. A, 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., Dahlonega, Ga.; SSgt. Scott R. Wingate, Co. C, 5th Rgr. Trng. Bn., Fort Benning — 994 points.

3rd — SFC Harvey L. Moore, Co. C, 4th Rgr. Trng. Bn., Fort Benning; SSgt. Franklin J. Hall, Co D, 4th Rgr. Trng. Bn., Fort Benning — 977 points.

4th — SSgt. Jeffery S. Anderson, HHC, 1st Bn., 21st Inf., 25th Inf. Div., Schofield Barracks, Hawaii; 2nd Lt. John R. Crino, Co C, 4th Bn., 22nd Inf., 25th Inf. Div., Schofield Barracks, Hawaii — 976 points.

5th — SSgt. Donald T. Thompson, Co C, 2nd Bn., 10th SFG (A), Fort Devens, Mass.; Capt. Michael J. Hagan, Co A, 2nd Bn., 10th SFG (A), Fort Huachuca, Ariz. — 972 points.

6th — SSgt. Scott R. Bertacini, Co C, 4th Bn., 22nd Inf., 25th Inf. Div., Schofield Barracks, Hawaii; SSgt. Rich R. Zigler, HHC, 4th Bn., 87th Inf. Bn., 25th Inf. Div., Schofield Barracks, Hawaii — 897 points.

7th — Sgt. Charles M. Elliott, HHC, 4th Bn., 17th Inf., 7th Inf. Div., Fort Ord, Calif.; SSgt. Robert E. Trible, Co. B, 3rd Bn., 27th Inf., 25th Inf. Div., Schofield Barracks, Hawaii — 839 points.

8th — SFC Michael R. Barnes, Co C, 5th Bn., 14th Inf., 25th Inf. Div., Schofield Barracks, Hawaii; SSgt. Mark C. McCoy, Co. B, 4th Bn., 27th Inf., 25th Inf. Div., Schofield Barracks, Hawaii — 793 points.

9th — Sgt. Charles W. Webb, HHC, 5th Rgr. Trng. Bn., Dahlonega, Ga.; Sgt. John T. Hislop, HHC, 6th Rgr. Trng. Bn., Eglin AFB, Fla. — 760 points.

10th — Sgt. Peter W. Harbect, Co. B, 1st Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., Fort Stewart, Ga.; Spec. Jeffrey Hembree, Co. A, 1st Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., Fort Stewart, Ga. — 757 points.

11th — Spec. Daniel J. Leone, Co. A, 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., Fort Benning, Ga.; Spec. Darrin P. Griffin, Co. A, 3rd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., Fort Benning, Ga. — 739 points.

12th — 1st Lt. Paul J. Sabin, Co. C, 6th Bn., 507th Inf., Berlin Brigade, Germany; 1st Lt. William E. Walpole II, 287th Military Police Co., Berlin Brigade, Germany — 736 points.

13th — SSgt. Mark V. Helton, Co. B, 1st Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., Fort Stewart, Ga.; Sgt. Richard A. Newby, Co. C, 1st Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., Fort Stewart, Ga. — 690 points.

14th — Sgt. Dale P. Retzlaff, Co. A, 2nd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., Fort Lewis, Wash.; Spec. Arthur R. Gamboa, Co. B, 2nd Bn., 75th Rgr. Regt., Fort Lewis, Wash. — 671 points.

15th — 1st Lt. Dean C. Dunham, Co. D, 2nd Bn., 502nd Inf. Regt., 101st, Abn. Div. (AASLT), Fort Campbell, Ky; 1st Lt. Mark E. Utke, HHC, 2nd Bn., 502nd Inf. Regt., 101st Abn. Div. (AASLT), Fort Campbell, Ky. — 650 points.

16th — 1st Lt. Michael A. Haydak, CSC Co., 4th Bn., 502nd Inf., Berlin Brigade, Germany; 1st Lt. Lewis F. Long III, CSC Co., 6th Bn., 502nd Inf.., Berlin Brigade, Germany — 643 points.

17th — Capt. Robert L. Vasta, HHC, 10th SFG (A), Fort Devens, Mass.; CWO2 Shaun P. Driscoll, Co. B, 3rd Bn., 10th SFG (A), Fort Devens, Mass. — 605 points.

18th — SSgt. Derrek J. Gerdes, Co. C, 2nd Bn., 10th SFG (A), Fort Devens, Mass; SSgt. Keith A. Kessinger, Sig. Co., 10th SFG (A), Fort Devens, Mass. — 599 points.

19th — SFC Ward D. Brown, Co. A, 1PPCL1, Calgary, Alberta, Canada; SSgt. Jerry L. Schieidl, 2nd Commando Canadian Airborne Regt., Calgary, Alberta, Canada — 546 points.

RACE CALENDAR

MAY

6 NORFOLK, VA - 11th Annual Military-Civilian Elizabeth River Run, 10K, 9 a.m. Start at Armed Forces Staff College. $12. Teams invited. Call Al Whitley, (804)444-5231 or 444-5431.

6 AMERICUS - 2nd Sumter County Agricultural Festival 5K and Youth Fun Run, $4/$5.50. 8:15 a.m. Start at Sumter County Fairgrounds. 912-924-4914, evenings.

6 ROME - 3rd Roman Rumble 5K (9 a.m.), 1 mile (9:30 a.m.) $5/$7. Floyd College Campus. 404-234-9970.

6 WARNER ROBINS - Race for Health 5K/10K, 8 a.m.; 1 mile 7:30 a.m. Start at Houston Medical Center Fit-Trail behind the Emergency Room. $7/$8. Scrub tops to entrants. (912) 922-5281, extension 360.

6 DOTHAN, AL - Nightingale 5K/1-mile Fun Run. 6 p.m. Southeast Alabama Medical Center Park. Certified course. Information: (205)792-2529, evenings.

6 PENSACOLA, FL - 15th Annual Fiesta Run 10K/1 Mile Grand Prix race. No race day registration. Call (904) 433-6512.

6 ATLANTA - One Atlantic Center Tower Climb 50 stories, 9:30 a.m. Information: 266-2866.

7 ATLANTA - Chattahoochee Road Race, 10K, 8 a.m. Information: 427-4471.

13 COLUMBUS - 12th Historic District/Ben Gay Active America Day, 5 mile, 1.5 mile at 9 a.m.; 1.5 mile health walk, aerobics warm up and fitness fair, 8-10:30 a.m. $7/$8. Information: 324-3380 or 322-8218.

13 HARTWELL - Lake Hartwell Dam Run, 5K/10K, 8:30 a.m. Information: 376-4554.

13 AUSTELL - Cobb General 5K, 8:30 a.m.; 1 mile, 9:15 a.m.; wheelchair competition, 8:20 a.m. $10/$12. Information: 944-5110 (8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.)

13 COLUMBIA, S.C. - Palmetto State Triathlon, 1.5K swim, 40K bike, 10K run. 8 a.m. Weston Lake Recreation Area, Fort Jackson, S.C. $30. No entries after May 8. Information: American Lung Association at (803) 779-5864.

20 MACON - Southern Lady 5K run/walk, 8 a.m. Wesleyan College on Forsyth Road. $6/$8. (474-0000 or 746-3807.)

20 PLAINS - Plains Country Days 5-Mile Run (9 a.m.), 1-Mile Fun Run (8:30 a.m.), $7/$9. (912) 824-3418.

20 STONE MOUNTAIN - Lookin' Good Feelin' Good 5K, 8:30 a.m. Information: 493-3625.

20 NORCROSS - Corner's Canter 8K, 8 a.m. Peachtree Corners. Information: 252-6497.

20 UNION POINT - Sock Trot 5K/10K, 8 a.m. Information: 486-2112 or 4267.

21 ATLANTA - Hardee's Run for the Torch 8K, 8 a.m. Buckhead Plaza. Information: 261-1899.

27 MONTGOMERY - 11th Jubilee Run 8K (7:30 a.m.); Lightning 2 mile (8:45 a.m.). $9/$11. Civic Center - Commerce Street. Information: Montgomery Track & Running Club, P. O. Box 6350, Montgomery, AL 36106.

27 ALBANY - 6th Darton Alumni P.M. Run. 5K, 8 p.m./ 1 mile, 7 p.m. Darton College Campus, 2400 Gillionville Road. $7/$8.

27 ROBERTA - Peach Blossom Trail 10K (8 a.m.) and 1 mile Fun Run. $7/$8. Information: Peach Blossom Trail Run, P. O. Box 8, Roberta, GA 31078.

27 FITZGERALD - Colony City Chase 5K (9 a.m.), 1 mile (8:30 a.m.). $7/$8. Cash awards. $100 for course record (15:34 set in 1988). 800-642-5820.

29 HUNTSVILLE, AL - Cotton Row 10K, 8 a.m. Starts at Von Braun Civic Center. $10. No race day registration.

BAYONET CLASSIFIED 322-4500

CLEANING SERVICES C3

TOTALLY Domestic Cleaning Services, specializing in residences. Reasonable rates. Call 563-5073 after5pm.

T & J MAID SERVICE. Domestic & Commercial, Lowest rates bonded & insured. 571-3469

PUBLIC NOTICES 016

★★★★★★★★★★★★★
SGT'S CHICKEN HOUSE
4034 Cusseta Road. Spicy and Southern Fried Chicken. It's Good! Open 11-11. Light Lunch $1.60. All Military Welcome! Call 687-1944.
★★★★★★★★★★★★★

PERSONALS 020

COLUMBUS DATING SERVICE Meet That Special Person! Call Mon-Fri, 9-5PM, 689-0072.

TROUBLED? Need to talk? Call CONTACT. We care. 24 hours. 327-3999

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

LOSE WEIGHT The Natural Way! Dick Gregory's Behamian Diet. Call 298-9079 or 1-800-346-5188.

ANTIQUES 036

Take Time To Visit Things Grandma Had Antiques. Youll be glad you did! 3400 14th St, PC, Ala, W on Crawford Rd, turn L after 1st traffic lt past K-Mart

APPLIANCE SALES 040

REFG. Admiral, 22 cu.ft., side by side, good cond., $125. 561-1482

WASHERS Dryers, $100 up. Excellent cond. guaranteed. Call 687-5330.

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

YARD SALES GA 060

AUSTIN LOOP, Ft Ben, 7 sales at: 219, 221, 225, 226, 227, 229 & 230. Sat only, May 6, 8am.

FLEA MARKET Sat, May 6, 8a.m.-2p.m., corner of Lumpkin Rd & Yeager Ave, Ft. Benning.

FT. BENNING YARD SALE Sat. 8-3, 11-A Storey Ct. BOUTIN HEIGHTS

GARAGE SALE Furn., small appliances, clothing, lawn mowers, bicycles. 563 A Hartsock Loop, Ft. Benning, Sat. & Sun. 8-5.

MOVING SALE Sat. & Sun, 8-5, Furn., clothing, much more. 4629 Gregory Dr. Northgate area. 568-7432.

MOVING YARD SALE 347 B Port St. Sat & Sun. 8-5, Lower Davis Hills.

YARD Sale Sat. only, 10-3, Clothes, household items in exc. cond. 302 A Lumpkin Road, Ft. Benning.

MACHINERY TOOLS 070

BEAM SALVAGE CO.
CAR PRESS
3 FORKLIFTS
1986 ROLLBACK
HEAVY DUTY ROLLBACK
D-6 CAT DOZIER
LOG LOADER
1964 INT. DUMP
ALL EQUIPMENT AND INVENTORY TO BE SOLD WITHIN 30 DAYS. ALL MOTORS, TRANSMISSIONS AND PARTS HALF PRICE OR LESS.
682-2073

MISC. FOR SALE 076

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

BLOOD PLASMA SAVES LIVES
$10 ea. DONATION
New Donors/ Or Inactive For 6 Months/ $5 Bonus with This Ad/ Plus $5 2nd Time Bonus Plus $750 Cash Drawing Monthly
Community Plasma Center 825 4th Ave. Columbus 322-6566

$$ APPLE COMPUTER SALES $$

Immediate opening for part-time sales rep 7 to 15 hours a week to sell Apple computer products and accessories at your local military exchange. Must have hands-on experience with Apple or similar personal computers. Sales experience a plus. Duties will include order and inventories. CALL for additional details at: (214) 245-3600 ask for Daniel James.

The M. J. Daniel Company
1000 Beltline Road
Carrollton, TX 75006

Bayonet Classified Index

CALL TOLL-FREE IN GEORGIA
1-800-282-7859

CALL TOLL-FREE OUTSIDE GEORGIA
1-800-241-7894

HOURS:
MONDAY - THURSDAY
8:30AM - 7:00PM
FRIDAY
8:30AM - 5:30PM

If you would like for your ad to appear in the next day's edition, please call BEFORE 5:30pm.

LEDGER-ENQUIRER CLASSIFIEDS

"There's something in it for you"

322-4500

Please check your advertisement the first day it appears in the newspaper. If you need to make corrections, simply call one of our Classified Advertising Representatives as soon as possible. Please call on the first day your ad appears, as the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer cannot be held responsible for errors beyond the first insertion date. We will be happy to see to it that your ad appears correctly in the next scheduled insertion in the Ledger-Enquirer.

Listed below are local telephone exchanges for the Columbus/Phenix City area. These do not require an area code if you live within the area. If the number is long distance, then the advertisement will list the area code.

ALABAMA
291 Phenix City
297 Phenix City
298 Phenix City
855 Phenix City/ Smiths/Seale
GEORGIA
322 Columbus
323 Columbus
324 Columbus
327 Columbus
561 Columbus
563 Columbus
568 Columbus
569 Columbus
571 Columbus
576 Columbus
596 Columbus
649 Columbus
682 Columbus
685 Columbus
687 Columbus
689 Columbus

INDEX OF CLASSIFICATIONS

A1 Air Cond., Heating
A2 Appliance Repair
A3 Architecture & Drafting
A4 Auto Care
B1 Brickwork, Masonry
B2 Buildings, Contractors
C1 Carpentry, General Repairs
C2 Catering, Food Service
C3 Cleaning Service
C4 Clock & Watch Repair
C5 Concrete, Driveways
C6 Carpet
C7 Child Care
E1 Electrical
E2 Energy Saving Products
F1 Fencing
F2 Floor Sanding
F3 Furniture
G1 Grading, Backhoe
G2 Gravel, Sand, Topsoil
G3 Gutters, Downspouts
H1 Handyman
H2 Hauling
H3 Home Improvement
I1 Insulation
L1 Lawn & Garden
L2 Lawn Mower Repair
M1 Misc. Services
P1 Painting, Wallpapering
P2 Plumbing
P3 Protection Services
P4 Photo Services
R1 TV, Stereo, Video Service
R2 Remodeling
R3 Roofing
S1 Screens, Storm Windows
S2 Sewing, Alterations
S3 Sheetrock, Drywall
S4 Signs
S5 Swimming Pools
S6 Sewing Machine Repairs
S7 Storage
S8 Small Engine Repair
T1 Tree Stump Removal
U1 Upholstery
V1 Vacuum Cleaner Service
V2 Video Taping
W1 Welding
Y1 Yardwork
Y2 Yard Equip. Rental

000 Legal Notices
001 Funeral Notices
002 Funeral Homes
003 Memorial Notices
004 Cards of Thanks
007 Cemeteries/ Monuments
010 Cemetery Lots
012 Lodge Notices
016 Public Notices
018 Professional Services
020 Personals
021 Only Hearts
022 Happy Ads
024 Items of Interest
028 Vacation & Tourist Information
034 Fishing & Hunting
036 Antiques
038 Air Cond./Heaters
040 Appliance Sales
042 Auctions
044 Building Materials
045 Bicycles
046 Camera/Photo
048 Camping Equipment
049 Christmas Trees
050 Clothing
052 Computers & Equip.
054 Firewood
056 Firearms
058 Furniture for Sale
059 Yard Sales - AL
060 Yard Sales - GA
061 Collectibles Buy/Sell
064 Sports Equip. & Supplies
066 Outdoor Equip.
068 Jewelry
070 Machinery, Tools
072 Heavy Equipment
074 Medical Supplies
076 Misc. for Sale
077 Lost & Found Items
078 Musical Instruments
080 Office & Store Equip.
081 Restaurant Equipment
082 Pawn Shops
084 Power Tools
086 Equipment Rental
088 Sewing Machines
092 Swimming Pools & Supplies
096 TV-Video-Stereo Sales
098 Merchandise Wanted
110 Livestock
112 Livestock Supplies
114 Poultry
116 Poultry Supplies
118 Hay-Feed-Grain
120 Farm Equipment
122 Pets
124 Pet Supplies & Services
126 Pet Boarding & Grooming
127 Pets-Lost & Found
128 Pets Wanted
130 Free Column
132 Fruits & Vegetables
134 Lawn & Garden
136 Lawn Mowers & Equip.
138 Plants, Shrubs, Trees
140 Landscaping, Nursery
142 Wanted to Buy
210 Management Employment
212 Restaurants & Clubs
214 Employment Agencies
215 Employment Information
216 Help Wanted General
218 Help Wanted Part-Time
219 Domestic Help Wanted
220 Medical/Dental
222 Office/Clerical
223 Data Entry
224 Professional Employment
225 Technical
226 Sales
228 Skills & Trades
229 Child Care
230 Job Wanted
232 Resume Services
234 Job Listings
310 Medical Training
312 Clerical Training
314 Beauty & Barber Schools
316 Dancing, Music, Drama
318 Modeling
320 Correspondence Schools
322 Real Estate Schools
324 Trade Schools
328 Misc. Instructions
330 Colleges
410 Business Opportunities
412 Investments
414 Money to Lend
415 Credit
416 Wanted to Borrow
510 Rentals
512 Rooms
514 Room & Board
516 Share Home
518 Furnished Apts. GA
519 Furnished Apts. AL
520 Unfurnished Apts. GA
521 Unfurnished Apts. AL
522 Cottages
524 Furnished Houses GA
525 Furnished Houses AL
526 Unfurnished. Houses GA
527 Unfurnished Houses AL
528 Business Rentals
529 Office Rentals
530 Wanted to Rent
532 Property for Rent
534 Resort Rentals
536 Storage Rentals
610 Property
612 Townhouses & Condos
614 Homes For Sale AL
616 Homes For Sale GA
618 Real Estate Wanted
620 Commercial Property
622 Income Property
624 Investment Property
626 Lots For Sale
628 Backwater Property GA
629 Backwater Property AL
630 Lake Front Lots
632 Resort & Vacation Property
634 Out of Town Realty
636 Farms & Acreage
638 Real Estate Auction
640 Wanted to Buy
710 Mobile Homes For Sale
714 Mobile Homes For Rent
716 Mobile Home Lots For Rent
718 Mobile Home Lots For Sale
720 Mobile Homes Wanted
724 Mobile Home Service
726 Mobile Units
810 Boats
812 Canoes & Sailboats
813 Personal Watercrafts
814 Marine Service & Supplies
816 Boats Wanted
818 Motor Homes For Sale
820 Campers & Trailers
824 Camping Supplies & Equipment
826 RV Supplies & Service
828 Motorcycles For Sale
830 Mini-Bikes
832 Dunebuggies For Sale
834 Scooters, Go-Carts
836 Wanted to Buy
910 Airplanes
912 Tractors & Trailers
914 Trucks
916 Truck Service, Parts, Acc.
918 Truck Rental, Leasing
920 Trucks Wanted
922 Buses/Vans For Sale
924 Jeeps For Sale
926 Auto Service Parts, Acc.
928 Auto Insurance / Financing
930 Autos For Sale
932 Sports Cars For Sale
934 Classic & Antique Autos
936 Imported Autos
938 Auto Rental/Leasing
940 Autos Wanted

MISC. FOR SALE 076

UPRIGHT PIANO
Excellent cond. $475.
Call 682-8821

YAMAHA guitar, FG 335, $145; Bundy trumpet, $160; Zenith solid state stereo w/turntable & speakers, $125; Oster kitchen center, $95. Call 682-2514.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS 078

PIANO FOR SALE
Good condition. $850.
Call 324-3364

OFFICE & STORE EQUIP. 080

PHONE SYSTEM-AT&T electronic model 206, equipped for 2 lines and 4 phones. Cost $1700/Sell for $550. Call 324-7000.

TV-VIDEO STEREO SALES 096

MOVING TO GERMANY? Panasonic VCR-PAL-NTSC-SESCAM. UHF German reception, $100. 561-4460.

PANASONIC 60 watt amp, turntable, tuner, dual cass, Magnavox CD; GE Camcorder (EXC. Cond). All $1200. Call 687-2238

QUASAR Color T.V., 19 in. w/deluxe stand. Exc. cond. $200. Call 323-6418.

PETS 122

AKC GERMAN Shepherd, 13 mos old, $75. Has papers. Call 689-7407 anytime.

AKC German Shepherd puppy, champ. bloodline, superior trainabilty. 569-9207.

AKC ROTTWEILER PUPS Lg. boned, champ blood, $450 & up. 561-2604

AKC Siberian Huskey pups, born March 15, 4 males, 1 female. Black & White. $250. Call Chris, 682-9707.

BEAUTIFUL AKC Cocker Spaniel puppies, wormed & shots, $150. Call 327-6999, only 3 males left.

CHOW, Male, Cinnimon, 20mths, w/papers, $200/neg. Call 682-4371

PETS-LOST & FOUND 127

Black & White female Terrier, lost near Battle Pk & Main Post. 682-4692

HAVE YOU LOST YOUR PET? Please contact the Muscogee County Humane Society at 7133 Sacerdote Lane, off Schatulga Road.

YOU CAN HELP SAVE A PET
Call our 24-hour hotline for lost & found pets. 571-2060.

FREE COLUMN 130

ADORABLE bunnies, free to good home, 2 cages. Call 569-9376

A DOG named Mouse free to good home. Call 297-7398

CUTE Mixed bred puppies. Free to good home. Call 298-6628.

FOUND!! Male Collie, tri-colored, 1½-2yrs old, no collar. 7th Ave P/C, 297-6373

FREE!! Kittens to good homes. Call 323-4779, 323-6030

FREE! Puppies, 5 week old, lab puppies, Call 855-2139 after 5PM

FREE Semi-long haired black kittens, dewormed, litter box trained, will del. 323-2257

FREE TO dog lovers only! Shepherd/Bull/Cocker mix. Male pups, 687-7753

FREE To good home 1 Black Persian cat with 1 kitten, Call 298-7650 after 3 p.m.

FREE To good home, 8 mo. old female part Lab puppy. Call 596-8027 after 6 p.m.

FREE 6 wk old part Chow puppies; 2 kittens. Call 563-7088

IT'S HERE: the '89-'90 Military Pages. Call 682-7185 for your free copy.

KITTENS Free, asst. colors & markings. Bridlewood. Call 561-5211.

KITTENS free to good home. Call Lisa days 569-1959 or nights 322-8533

PART Doberman male puppy, neutered, black & brown, free to good home. 628-5746

PEACHTREES free for the digging, waist high; free monkey grass. 1127 Sturkie Ave.

6 FRISKY kittens, 5 males, 1 female! Georgous markings. Call 563-2219

FREE COLUMN 130

ATTENTION Mark Cantrell lends portable buildings free of charge to any church, civic club, charity or non-profit organization for special events. Call Mark at 568-1985 for more information.

A DOG named Mouse free to good home. Call 297-7398

THE HART SCHOOL
Train to be a Professional
•SECRETARY
•EXECUTIVE SEC.
•WORD PROCESSOR
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
THE HART SCHOOL
a Div. of A.C.T. Corp.
Nat'l Hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

AS SEEN ON TV
INSTRUCTION
LEARN TO DRIVE TRACTOR-TRAILER
• No experience needed! 45
• DOT Certification.
• Full or part-time training.
• Placement Dept.
• Financial Aid Available.
ALLIANCE TRACTOR-TRAILER TRAINING CENTERS
McDONOUGH, GA
Call Toll Free
1-800-334-1203

FREE COLUMN 130

FREE long haired, black kitten. Call 568-0580 after 4p.m.

FREE to a good home, 6 mo. old German Police puppy. Call 563-4496 after 7p.m.

FREE TO A good home, Beautiful male, red & white cat, 9 mos. Call 291-1867.

FREE TO dog lovers only! Shepherd/Bull/Cocker mix. Male pups, 687-7753

Free to good homes: Adorable mixed Beagle puppies, mixed Dachshund Sheltie puppies, mixed Labrador puppies, mixed Cocker Spaniel puppies, long haired Powder Puff kittens.
Adopt a Pet, Save a Life
1700 14th Street
Phenix City, AL
(Veterinarian)
Small fee- shots/worming
(Kittens, $15; Cats, Free)
(Puppies, $20; Dogs, Free)

FREE TO GOOD home, 2 adult male dogs, part Labs, w/ 2 dog houses. 324-3188, lv. msg.

FREE TO GOOD home in country w/fenced yard, 6 mo old mixed breed female puppy. Call 682-2793.

FREE TO GOOD home, moma cat, w/3 4 wk old kittens, (2) are twins! 2 males, 1 female. Call 689-7046.

FREE To good home, 8 mo. old female part Lab puppy. Call 596-8027 after 6 p.m.

FREE to good home, 6 months female, puppy, bull dog mix. 327-2579.

FREE TO GOOD home, abandoned female part-German Shepherd 4 month old puppy. Call 323-8991 after 4pm.

FREE 1 miniature mixed Collie, & 5 fuzzy puppies. Free to a good home. Call 298-1793.

FREE 6 wk old part Chow puppies; 2 kittens. Call 563-7088

KITTENS Free, asst. colors & markings. Bridlewood. Call 561-5211.

KITTENS free to good home. Call Lisa days 569-1959 or nights 322-8533

Part Collie female, free to good home, preferably w/fenced yard. 687-1505

PART Doberman male puppy, neutered, black & brown, free to good home. 628-5746

PEACHTREES free for the digging, waist high; free monkey grass. 1127 Sturkie Ave.

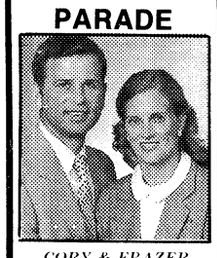
SWEETMIXED breed, young male dog. Loving companion. Free. Call 568-4908.

RESTAURANTS & CLUBS 212

COOKS helper wanted, 10 mi from back gate of Ft. Benning. Call 855-4132

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

ETHICAL & PRESTIGIUS JOB. Working with one of the 20th most successful people in the U.S. today. You set your own hours, 1-40hrs. Male or female. For appointment call Mondays 9AM-6PM, 298-6124.



Leaders
For the Finest Jr. Officers seeking the Finest Career opportunities and service. Palm Quinn, USMA '79, 250 Teri Lane, Prattville, AL. 36067. (205) 361-9152.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

THE HOME TEAM'S HIT PARADE

CORY & FRAZER LOOMIS
568-0183/323-8371
MILITARY? Let your BAQ buy your home.
MOVING? Call about our moving allowance.
FIRST TIME BUYER? Get our info packet.
CALL US! WE WANT TO EARN YOUR BUSINESS.
VA/FHA FINANCING ON THESE:
407 Henson Ave.
$63,900
4BR/2BA
2419 Skylake Dr.
$61,900
3BR/2BA
545 Englewood Dr.
$65,000
3BR/2BA
3530 Howard Ave.
$57,500
3BR/1BA
568-0183/323-8371
KENNON-PARKER, REALTORS

Spring
is here at . . .
GARDENBROOK
An Affordable, Convenient Address to be Proud of . . . 1 & 2 Bedroom SPECIAL With a long list of AMENITES!
322-6006
3561 Hilton Ave.
Hours: M-F 9-6 Sat. & Sun. by Appt.

DOMESTIC HELP WANTED 219

SITTER needed to care for 2 children, 6:30am-1:00pm, M-F. Ft. Benning, light housekeeping, own trans, refr. 682-3484

OFFICE CLERICAL 222

PCI
We Want to Check Your Best Reference- ★ YOU ★
Call Today To Apply, Test & Interview With Us. The Right Job For The Person And The Right Person For The Job.
We Have Permanent, Temporary, Full-time, Part-time, Short-term & Long-term Assignments Available.
WE ARE CURRENTLY RECRUITING FOR
● Receptionist
● Secretaries
● Clerk Typist
● Word Processors
● Data Entry Operators
If You Have Clerical/On The Job Experience...
Call PCI Today For Appt
571-2400
105 W. 10th St.
Corner of 10th & Front Ave
(In The Courtyard)

SALES 226

GREAT HOURS

Do you need extra money to pay those extra bills, or do you need just to get out of the house? Come work with a great company! We're the nation's #1 studio. Make $60 to $150 weekly. Part time 9 til 12, Monday thru Friday. Call 561-7432.

SALES MGR. TRAINEES Exp. helpful but not a must. Will train. Flex. hours. Apply at Steve's Check Cashiers, 3905 Victory Dr. Suite 2, next to Blimpie's, M-W, 11-5. No phone calls please.

CHILD CARE 229

I AM A nanny student who work with all age groups. Will be available any hours. Military welcomed. Call 689-9521 anytime.

JOB WANTED 230

MATURE Reliable person will babysit & do light housekeeping in your home. Mon.-Fri., Call Merry 989-3680 (local).

RESUME SERVICES 232

A BETTER JOB WINNING
RESUME $9
up to executive presentations. Expert writing, typing, printing, updating.
...FREE CONSULTATION...
★ SAME DAY SERVICE ★
America's oldest & largest Professional Resume Svc.
327-2238
2520 Wynnton Rd. Ste. 4

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIY 410

MAKING A CAREER CHANGE?
Don't go it alone!
Most of our successful franchises have never owned a business before Servpro. Servpro showed them how to make money in insurance restoration and residential/commercial cleaning. For free brochure and information call 1-800-826-9586 or Bob Sappington, 568-1847.

UNFURNISHED APTS. GA 520

NICE 1BR, Historic District, $175 dep. Call 323-4619, 327-1920 eve & wkeds

2 Br duplex between Medical Ctr. & Lakebottom. Call 327-1894 or 327-1927.

FURNISHED HOUSES GA 524

Oakland Pk, 3BR, near Post & schools. $375 dep. 689-0226, 10am-6pm

UNFURNISHED HOUSES GA 526

3 br, 1 ba, kitchen & LR. E. Columbus area. $380. Call 561-5140 for more info.

RESORT RENTALS 534

Near Callaway Gardens, beautifully restored 6 room '1854' Log Cabin, 2br, c/h/a, very secluded. Night or week. (912) 986-3438, (404) 628-4900

TOWNHOUSES & CONDOS 612

2 BR, N. & S., refr, stove, air, $275-$335, fenced yard. 568-4725, 561-6367

HOMES FOR SALE AL 614

OPEN HOUSE SUNDAY
Come tour this Southern Mansion from 2-5 PM. Over 3,000 sq. ft., has 5BR, 2BA, front & side porches balconey. Ideal location for home or business. Excellent condition. Price reduced to $90,000. Directions: corner of 9th Ave. & 20th St., at the foot of Summerville Rd. Hostess: PATSY GRIMES, 297-8662. MLS #14-1193.
Bowden Realty, 297-7777

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

CASTLEWOOD...
Unbelievable!
$3,300 & your in! VA assumable 9½% loan. 3BR, 2BA, GR, stone FP, ceiling fans, dbl. garage, fenced, security alarm, sprinklers inground. 4008 Pickering Dr. Appts. 569-1987PM, 323-0467 msg/Chaplain Don & Nancy Troyer, 563-9200.

LARGE 4BR home near Ft. Benning. Only $59,950.
Patty Rexrode 663-2023
ED BUNN REALTY
628-4258

S.O.S.
Singles or Seniors, put your rent money to work on this 3BR brick. Only $28,000. 100% VA. Call Nan Morelock, 323-6013, 689-2018
Town & Country Realty

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE
FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL
322-4500

MOBILE HOMES FOR SALE 710

12x52, $1800; 10x55, $1500; 10x55 Junker, $400; 689-0453, 9am-6pm

MOBILE HOMES FOR SALE 710

14x74 Mobile Home, clean 3BR 2BA, cen air, pool, shed, 576-5837 or 855-2480 local.

MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT 714

NICE 2BR, washer/dryer, central heat, Furn, a/c. $230 mo. 561-8684/689-8646

1,2 & 3br elec/gas on, near schools & post. 1314 Ft. Benning Rd. 9-5, 689-0453

BOATS 810

EAGLE BASS BOAT '85, 40HP Mariner, incl. trailer, like new. Call 291-9747.

14' Fiberglass, w/windshield, fishing or pleasure, motor & heavy duty trailer. $850. 561-6612

14' RUN-A-BOUT w/35HP Merc, fully rigged & ready. New trailer & trolling Motor. 682-2855.

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

HONDA '86, 500 Interceptor, exc cond, $2200/offer. Call 568-4151

'82 YAMAHA 550 MAXIM, $875. Call 689-7407 anytime.

TRUCKS 914

DODGE '88 Ram truck, 5 sp, long bed with camper sheil. $7500. 568-3855.

FORD RANGER, '70, V-8, 3SP, runs good, $600. Call 323-8678

TOYOTA P/U, '87, 5sp, air, ps, pb, excellent cond. Call 324-7951 after 7pm.

TRUCKS 914

NISSAN P/U '86, low mileage, 5 spd., mag wheels & bed cover, $3995 firm. Call 297-1584 after 5p.m.

'86 DODGE Ram D50 P/U, 5 sp, air, am/fm, low mileage, extra clean. $5400. Call 205-687-6374.

BUSES/VANS FOR SALE 922

'82 DODGE Ram 150 conversion van, CB radio, am/fm cass, all power, almost new tires. Call 323-9909

AUTO INSURANCE FINANCING 928

Military & civilians residing in Alabama. Call or see us for your insurance needs. Serving area since 1960.
PITTS-DAVIS INS.
298-2500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

DODGE '85 Caravan, extra clean. $4950. Call 563-2478 or 563-0386.

FORD '87 Taurus, loaded, exc. cond. Take over payments. Call 327-4846.

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE
FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL
322-4500

Lincoln Town Car '78, $1995. Very nice. 1729 Elvan Ave. 689-0226, 10am-6pm

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

Cutlass Supreme Brougham '84, 4dr, loaded, only $3950. Call 298-3686 or after 6pm, 298-3333.

TOYOTA Camry DLX '89, pwr. wind., pwr. locks, cruise, tilt, cass. Qualify & assume lease. $231.46 tax. 569-7741 or 563-8551.

TOYOTA GT '77, 5 sp, lift back, $1100 negot. Call 324-0069.

VOLKSWAGEN '65, Cragar protech mags, 100 mi. on rebuilt eng. $1000. 682-3984.

VW SUPER BEETLE, '72, extra clean, $1250. Call 561-0198

(2) VOLKSWAGENS: '67, $450; '71, $650; both for $1000. Extra engine, $175. '70 Ford Truck, $800. Call 324-2728.

'71 CHEVELLE, $1400; '72 El Camino, $500. Call 327-9465

'85 PONTIAC Sunbird, $3,000. Call 561-5169 or 563-6912

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

CORVETTE '86 Black. Grey leather, glass top, Bose, auto, 45K mi. First $16,800. Chuck, 561-5914.

CLASSIC & ANTIQUE AUTOS 934

DODGE CORNET, '51, Club-Coupe. Completely orig, runs perfect, fluid drive. 30,000 mi. 322-2744.

MUSTANG '66, 6 cyl, 3SP, exc cond., $2900/reasonable offer. Call 687-4464

IMPORTED AUTOS 936

BMW 325e, '85, 2 dr, auto, 49k mi, blk w/blk leather int, perfect cond, $14,200. 855-2379, Janet

Engines: Honda, Toyota, Nissan, Mitsubishi, Mazda, Isuzu, Subaru. Guaranteed & ready to install. Lowest prices; shipped anywhere USA. Techna-Car 1-800-344-1015.

GOT A MERCEDES! So selling our Volvos, '89 740-GL & '86 240-GL, 1 owner, all records. 569-1069

'74 VOLKSWAGON Thing, 4 dr, convertible, orange w/tan roof. Exc. cond. $4500. 327-5829 or 322-3264.

'82 SUBARU 4x4 wagon, 5 spd, air, clean, will trade. 298-5114, or 596-0987 aft 7

'87 BMW 325e, 4 dr, black in & out, 5 spd, 16,000 mi, $17,000/offer. 324-6016, 689-9510

MAY MARK DOWNS!

1990 300 ZX
5 speed or autom.
ALL NEW DESIGN
From Bumper to Bumper
Come By and See!!
Pick out yours TODAY

1989 MAXIMA GXE
Stk# 89019, Fully Loaded
Sugg. Retail $18,553
Crown Disc. $2,000
SALE PRICE $16,553

1989 240 SX
Stk# 89016
Sugg. Retail $15,638
Crown Disc. $2000
SALE PRICE $13,638

1988 NISSAN 200 SX
Stk# 88D12
5 speed, air, am
Sugg. Retail $14,628
Crown Disc. $2500
CLOSE OUT SALE PRICE $12,128

MILLION DOLLAR TRADE-IN SELECTION

1987 NISSAN 200 SX p.windows, p.sunrf., p.door locks, am/fm cass. SALE PRICE $8995
1987 DODGE OMNI 4 dr., a.trns., air SALE PRICE $4995
1987 PLYM. SUNDANCE 2 dr. sedan, a. trans., air, am/fm SALE PRICE $6995
1981 VW Rabbit 4 dr., X-clean SALE PRICE $1995
1985 PONT. TRANS AM 31,000 miles, one owner, T-Tops & ALL! SALE PRICE $7995
1984 PONT. BONNEVILLE 4 dr., a.trans., air SALE PRICE $4995
1986 VW Convertible a. trans, air, 38,000 mi. SALE PRICE $7995
1986 CHEVY Z-24 LIKE NEW! SALE PRICE $6995
1986 NISSAN SENTRA 4 dr., 5 speed, air, am/fm SALE PRICE $2995
1980 NISSAN 280 ZX 5 speed, air, am/fm cass. SALE PRICE $5995
1985 VW VANAGAN 5 speed, air, am/fm X-clean SALE PRICE $7995
1987 BRONCO II 4x2 Eddie Bauer Edition LOADED SALE PRICE $10,495

427 New Franklin Rd.
LaGrange, GA
(404) 884-1744
Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8
Sat. 8:30-6:00
CROWN NISSAN
CHRYSLER PLYMOUTH DODGE

HOLIDAY PARK SUBDIVISION
BRAND NEW HOMES
3 BR, 2 BA, Fireplsce, Garden Tub.
PRICED FROM $56,900
Open This Weekend
2-5 PM
Come by or call
NORTH
FLOYD RD.
FOREST RD.
HOLIDAY PARK
SHOWCASE REALTY
Starmount Office
561-0004
Bill Inman
568-6676
Vera McInnis
561-1145

QUALITY
NOW OPEN Ford
3126 VICTORY DRIVE
Stop By And See Our "New" Used Car Lot
ALL INVENTORY AT BLACK BOOK PRICES
STOP IN TODAY . . .
ON THE SPOT FINANCING
QUALITY FORD
1541 First Avenue and 3126 Victory Drive

A MESSAGE FROM YOUR NEIGHBOR

I am happy to have been a part of the Columbus Community for the past 35 years. To be successful in any business endeavor for so many years, one must adhere to certain principles to which I try to follow each day.

At Maloof Toyota/BMW, we have always believed in conducting our business with a personal touch. I try to be available everyday to discuss any sales or service needs or problems that may arise.
Some customers, especially females, sometimes tend to feel intimidated when dealing with auto dealerships. This has never been a concern because, at Maloof, we believe in treating everyone with the same courtesy.

The integrity of a dealership is only as good as the person who owns and operates it. Maloof Toyota/BMW always provides expert, guaranteed service after the sale. Service is performed by certified factory trained personnel, and we use only genuine factory parts to protect your warranty protection.

We are happy to be a part of the Columbus-Phenix City-Ft. Benning community. Maloof Toyota/BMW has always been proud of our relationship with military personnel . . . male or female, regardless of rank.

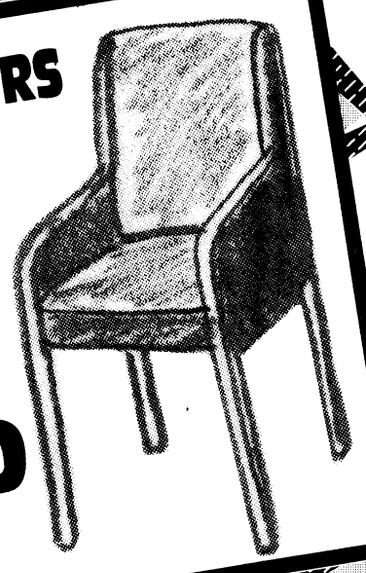
Our friends and neighbors are always welcome to visit our dealership. we believe in complete customer satisfaction, and we are especially proud of our year-to-date customer satisfaction index (97%) which is the highest in the Southeast. Come visit us, and you'll know why we have earned this outstanding rating.

MALOOF TOYOTA/BMW
HOURS:
SALES 9am-9pm Mon.-Fri.
9 a.m.-7pm Sat.
SERVICE/PARTS 7:30am-6pm Mon.-Fri.
8:30am-1pm Sat.
BODY SHOP 7:30am-6pm Mon.-Fri.
1801 Box Road - Exit 4 (Macon Rd., Off I-185)
Sales - Service - Leasing - Parts- Body Shop

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY "DELIVERS"
E-2s & Up!!
No Previous CREDIT! "No Problem"
SAME DAY DELIVERY!

SLOW CREDIT? "No Problem"
Toll Free 1-800-544-8480
Only Requirements
1. L.E.S.
2. $99.00 Down
3. Ability To Buy Full Coverage Auto Insurance
Bring this Ad—
We'll Pay Your Cab Fare
RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
Hwy. 431 North
EUFAULA, ALABAMA

WELCOME BACK 197th!
AND SUPPORT TROOPS



All you hard working troops that are just getting back home; WELCOME!
Furnish America has just what you need for the relaxation that you deserve. The largest selection of incliner, incliner sectional, recliners, and sleep products to be found within 100 miles., Shop the largest furniture operation within 100 miles, find out just what service really is!

LAST WEEK!

OCCASIONAL CHAIRS

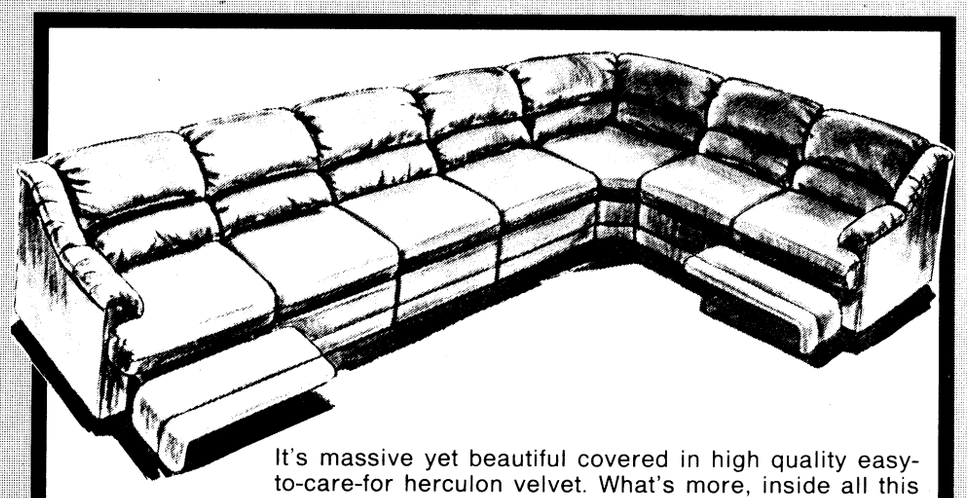
ONLY 60 TO SELL!
If perfect, these beautiful upholstered chairs would sell for $199 or more! Use as accent pieces, dining, game chairs! Hurry, first come, first sold!

ONLY 29.00

SAVE 27% to 55% ON SELECT CLOSEOUTS

SOLID OAK ROCKER SET

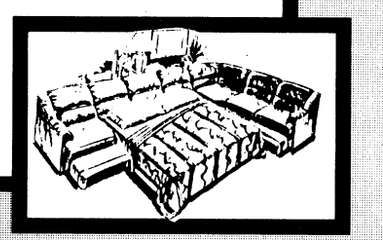
Solid oak porch set consists of double rocker, settee and two porch rockers. Beautifully lacquered durable oak. You would expect to pay up to $199.00 . . . but for a limited time only . . .



reg. $199.00
$49

Shop 80,000 sq. ft., over 2 acres of fine furniture values.

LARGEST SELECTION OF SECTIONALS SLEEPERS AND INCLINERS!

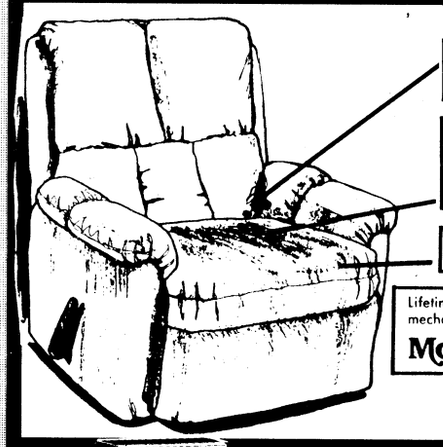


No payments till August '89 with qualified credit.

SUPER VALUE!

It's massive yet beautiful covered in high quality easy-to-care-for herculon velvet. What's more, inside all this soft billowy comfort are two incliners for "put your feet up" relaxation. Plus a queen size sleeper with headrest making this a fantastic value.

Reg. $2499
NOW $1299



LAST 2 WEEKS TO ENTER

Fill Out And Bring This Coupon In To Register

FURNISH AMERICA
OFFICIAL TICKET

Furnish America $10,000 FURNITURE GIVEAWAY

NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
PHONE _____

Hickory dowels and corner blocks in all stress joints.
Each seat has drop in coil unit or five non-sagging sinuous springs with two sixten gauge tie wires.
High density urethane foam.
Lifetime warranty on all mechanical features.
McKeehan

MANY STYLES TO CHOOSE FROM SAVE 33%

THE "BETTER BOY"

Come in today and check out the large recliner section at Furnish America. Let Dad, Grandad or your husband know just how much you love them. Buy one of these fine recliners and we'll keep the secret so only you know how little you paid.
- Select hardwood frame construction
- Hickory dowels and corner blocks in all stress joints
- Each seat has drop in coil unit or five non-sagging sinuous springs with two sixteen gauge tie wires
- High density urethane foam

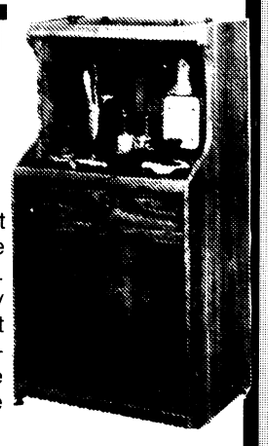
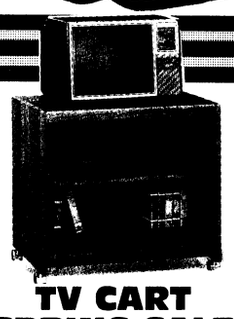
AMERICAN BEDDING



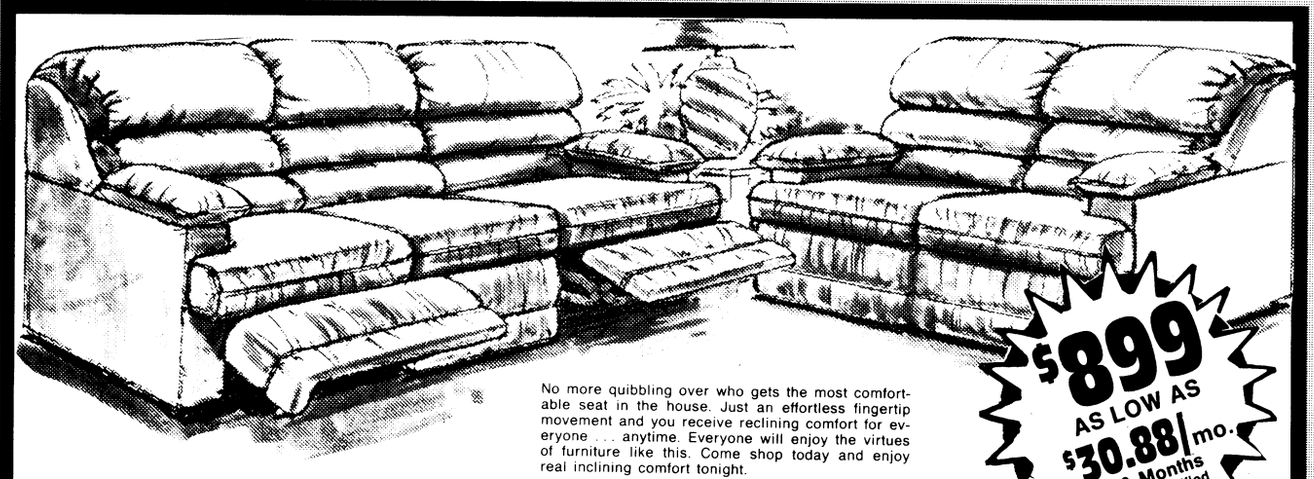
COUNTRY MORNING POSTURE SERIES SOLD IN SETS ONLY



Twin .....NOW $139.95
Full.....NOW $196.95
Queen. NOW $222.95
King .....NOW $319.95

GOURMET RACK
NOW $88

From the foremost collection. Attractive sturdy construction. Attractive sturdy construction. Perfect to help fill that empty spot and to give you additional space at the same time.



TV CART SPRING SALE

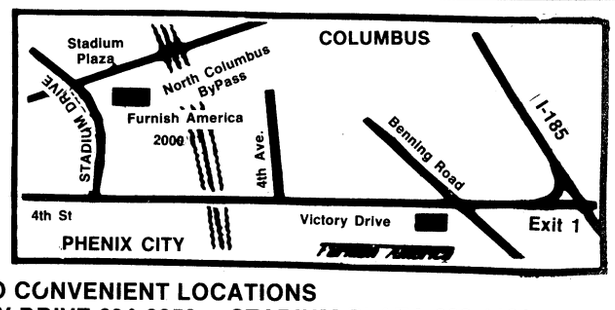
This is an attractive and sturdy unit on which to store VCR, TV, tapes, accessories and more. The center shelf conveniently pulls out for access to your VCR. The bottom shelf just the right size to hold your favorite tapes, or books and magazines. Finished on all sides in Plymouth Oak, with casters for mobility. Comes ready to assemble.

ONLY $29.00

SHOP OUR 10th ANNIVERSARY SALE

No more quibbling over who gets the most comfortable seat in the house. Just an effortless fingertip movement and you receive reclining comfort for everyone .... anytime. Everyone will enjoy the virtues of furniture like this. Come shop today and enjoy real inclining comfort tonight.

$899 AS LOW AS $30.88/mo. 36 Months With Qualified Credit



INCLINING SOFA AND LOVESEAT

PLAY FLORIA℠
FREE GIANT JACKPOT
GET YOUR FREE TICKETS
NO PURCHASE NECESSARY

REGISTER HERE FOR FURNISH AMERICA
$1000
Furniture GIVE Away

Furnish America

Yes, we still have credit terms. Even at these astounding prices we can offer convenient terms based upon needs including 100 days same as cash. Minimum purchase $400. Your charge cards welcome.

NOW TWO CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
BENNING ROAD AT VICTORY DRIVE 682-2350— STADIUM PLAZA 298-1121

The commander of TAPA visits Fort Benning to see his son graduate basic training here.

See A-3

A former Fort Benning employee get a Bronze Star 44 years after the heroic act that earned it.

See A-4

INDEX

Opinion A-2
Community A-10
Spiritual A-11
Sports B-5
Movies B-6

THE BAYONET

Home of the Infantry

Vol. 47, No. 32 | Published in the interest of the Fort Benning, Ga. community. | May 12, 1989

POST BRIEFS

Asian/Pacific celebration set

Ask the Judge night — Ask the Judge night will be held Thursday from 8 to 9:30 p.m. at the Main Post Chapel Center, building 101, located at the corner of Lauber and Brockman streets across from Doughboy Stadium. Ask the Judge night is a review of personal legal rights presented by the Fort Benning Legal Assistance Division. Legal rights concerning marriage, divorce, contracts, wills, consumer rights and other areas will be discussed.

★ ★ ★

173rd Airborne Brigade plans Memorial Day Service

Coat and tie — The Society of the 173rd Airborne Brigade Columbus-Fort Benning Chapter, will have a wreath-laying ceremony and Memorial Day service at 12:45 at Fort Benning's Main Post Cemetery. Anyone who served with the 173rd Airborne Brigade is welcome. Uniform will be class "A" or coat and tie.

★ ★ ★

FMEAP assists summer hire

Youth Job Fair — The Family Member Employment Assistance Program in conjunction with Youth Activities, will sponsor a Youth Job Fair Wednesday at the Youth Activities Center, building 1056, from 3 to 5 p.m.

The purpose of the Youth Job Fair is to help military family member youths gain summer employment and employment experience through volunteering.

Represented at the Job Fair will be many local businesses and Fort Benning volunteer organizations. At the Job Fair will be information on educational benefits, and family members may add their names to the sign-up list for Odd Jobs.

The Odd Jobs List coordinates military families with family member youths who wish to work this summer doing odd jobs such as lawn mowing, baby-sitting, pet walking and so on.

For more information about the Job Fair, call the Family Member Employment Assistance Office at 545-5430/5176.

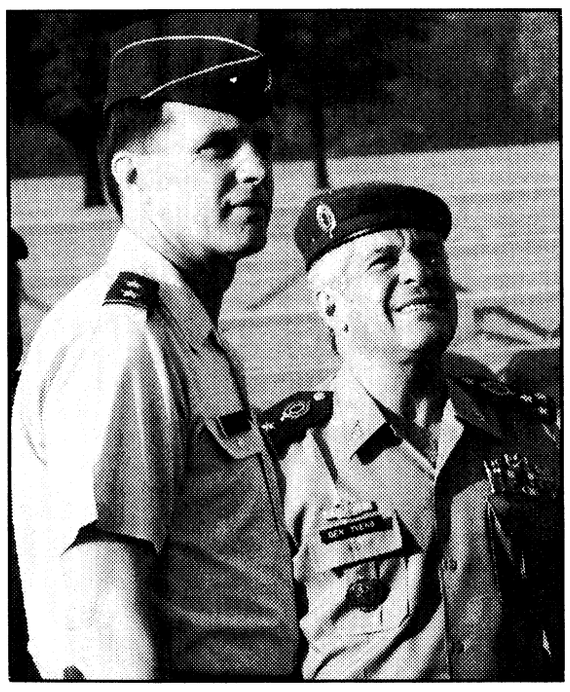
★ ★ ★

DRMO conducts sale

May 16 — The Fort Benning Defense Reutilization and Marketing Office will conduct a retail sale at 9 a.m. through noon, Tuesday, in building 315 on 10th Mountain Division Road, Fort Benning. No preinspection will be allowed.

The retail sale is open to the public and will include such items as home and office furniture and lanterns.

Items will be sold with a fixed price on a first-come, first-served basis. Payments must be in cash, and all property will be removed on day of sale. Individuals wishing to purchase property must be 18 years old or older. For more information, call 545-7214/3497.



★ ★ ★

Slogan contest begins

Army Communities of Excellence — A slogan is needed for the Army Communities of Excellence Program. The program presently has a logo, but, so far, no one has been unable to come up with a short "catchy" slogan that will capture in a few words what ACOE is all about.

The ACOE Program is about people, soldiers, their families and civilians. It's about providing excellent services and facilities for all people who live, work and play at Fort Benning.

Thanks to the generosity of some private organizations of the post — AUSA, FBMA and ASMA — funds have been made available to award the winner of the slogan contest a $500 bond. May 31 is the deadline. Send slogans to Management Division, DRM, building 2604, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905. For more information, call 545-5382/2311.

Shawn Bryson

Maj. Gen. Rudolph Ostovich III (l), deputy chief of staff for Doctrine at TRADOC, and Maj. Gen. Yvens Ely Monteiro Marcondes from Brazil, gaze at the "Infantryman" statue in front of Building 4.

Brazilian delegates meet with post leaders

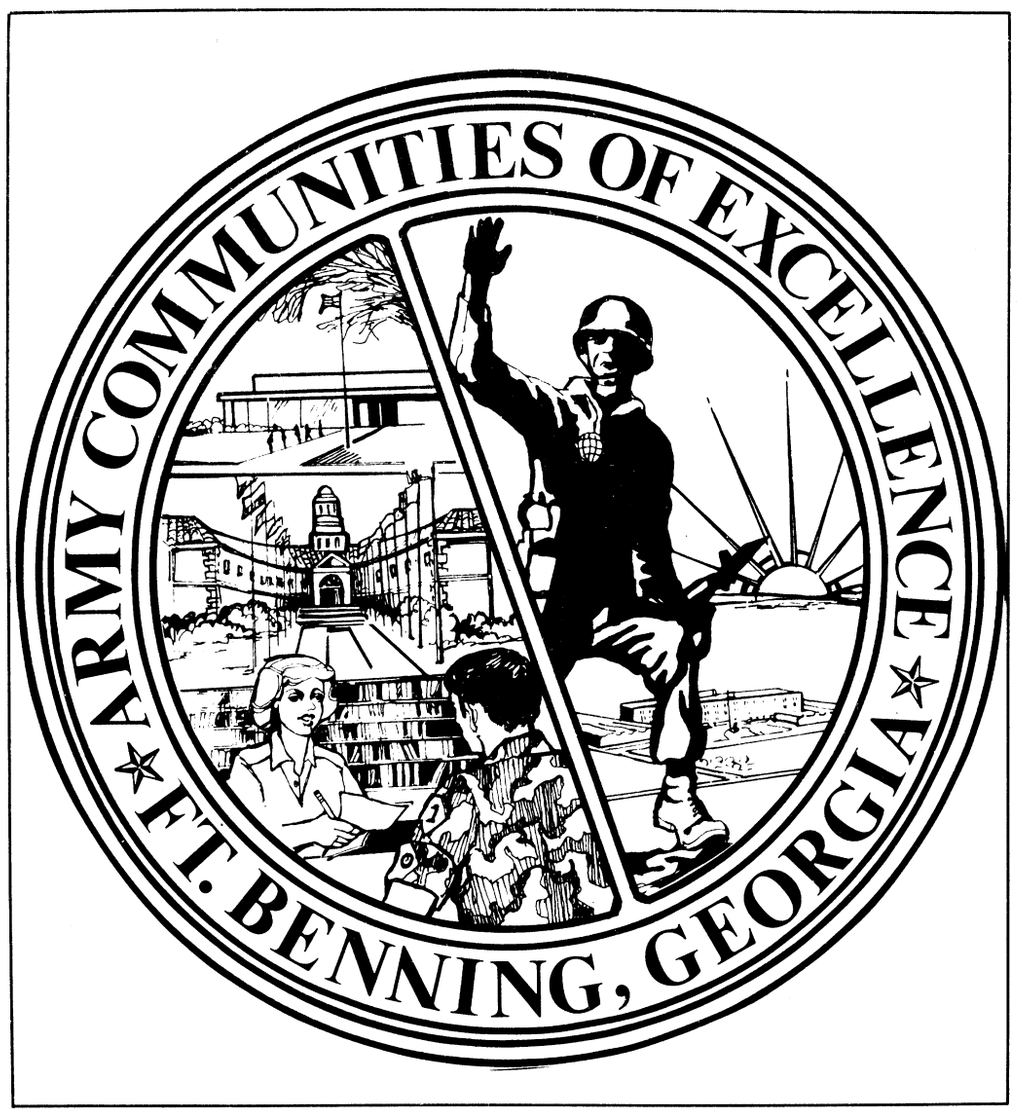
USAIC Public Affairs Office

Seven Brazilian delegates, along with about 20 senior U.S. Army leaders met at Fort Benning last week for the 6th annual Brazilian/United States Army staff talks.

This is the first time the talks, which ran from May 1 to 6, have been held at Fort Benning, according to Maj. James M. Branham, chief of the Americas Division and Brazilian Program Manager in the International Army Programs Directorate at Training and Doctrine Command headquarters.

The talks are held to increase the exchange of information on operations, training and doctrine. The conference focused on U.S and Brazilian cooperative efforts toward Army modernization and small unit operations.

Both countries prepare for the talks throughout the year by choosing five subjects of concern.



The Brazilians, headed by Gen. Yvens Ely Monteiro Marcondes, updated the U.S. on their aviation units, electronic warfare school and communications support of jungle operations. They also gave briefings on military-controlled engineers in support of civil affairs in Brazil, and project "Calha Norte," a modernization and development project in northwest Brazil.

The U.S. delegates, led by Maj. Gen. Rudolph Ostovich III, deputy chief of staff for doctrine at the Training and Doctrine Command, presented briefings on electronic warfare operations, river crossings, division air space management, mobilization and target acquisition.

After each briefing, delegates from both countries divided into expert work groups to develop further understandings of each subject, according to Branham.

While at Fort Benning, the Brazilians were treated to a number of demonstrations and tours. They spent half a day at a One-Station-Unit- Training complex and visited the U.S Army School of the Americas. They also observed marksmanship and Leaders· Reaction Course training, as well as activities at the Collins Training Center where they viewed Bradley Infantry Fighting Vehicle simulators.

Logo represents excellence

By Kay O'Brien
Communities of Excellence Program

The logo selected to for the Army Communities of Excellence Program at Fort Benning was designed to represent the facets of an Army community that support soldiers, families, tenant units and civilian employees.

ACOE, as many people already know, seeks excellence in both services and facilities.

The logo will soon become familiar to everyone at Fort Benning. You'll see it in future issues of The Bayonet and the Benning Bulletin. It will be displayed on posters and laser-etched onto plaques. It will soon be seen on most correspondence and on various memorabilia used to promote the program.

It was chosen because the logo symbolizes what ACOE is all about — it's about the soldier. It's about making sure everything we do contributes to the soldier's well-being; that means taking care of the soldier's family, too. When we provide excellent services and excellent facilities, we enhance the soldier's sense of well-being and increase his ability to fight. When we do that, we improve the Army's readiness.

An infantryman dominates the logo. He is in the "follow me" position, leading his troops into combat. He represents scores of infantrymen who are the reason Fort Benning exists.

The remainder of the logo depicts facilities and services that support soldiers. The Infantry School is shown in the right foreground. This is where the soldier polishes his fighting skills and learns leadership. On the bottom, left foreground, a civilian employee completes documentation required by the soldier — a positive experience for the soldier judging by the expression on the civilian's face. Building 35, the U.S. Army School of the Americas, is depicted in the middle. This is where Fort Benning trains its Latin American allies.

On the upper, left side of the logo is one of Fort Benning's dependent schools. The quality of children's education is one of most parents' primary concerns, and soldiers are no exception. This is an area of the Fort Benning community that consistently receives "high marks."

The logo should remind everyone at Fort Benning of our commitment to excellence in everything we do.

Benning concerns addressed at symposium

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

Concerns about life at Fort Benning was the topic discussed by about 100 people at the 1989 Fort Benning Army Community Symposium May 4 and 5, at the Officers' Club here.

The delegates, representing nearly all facets of life at Fort Benning, included officer and enlisted soldiers, wives, family members, DA civilians, single-parent soldiers, retirees, volunteers and reservists, according to Karen Crowley, post volunteer coordinator.

"Be A Part of the Solution" was the theme of this year's symposium, in which the delegates presented their concerns, complaints and suggestions about life at Fort Benning.

Crowley said Benning didn't have a seminar last year, and not much was made of the seminar in 1987. This year, according to Crowley, the seminar was overhauled.

"We (the symposium committee) decided to break into topic work groups rather than have nine or ten groups all working on the same issues," Crowley explained.

Nine work groups were organized the first day of the seminar, Crowley said. Each group was given a subject about which to raise questions and suggest solutions. The work groups covered subjects such as post exchange facilities, recreational activities, Martin Army Community Hospital, housing, child care, helping agencies (such as Army Emergency Relief), barracks life for single soldiers and youth and teen activities.

Day two of the seminar gave representatives from some of the larger activities on post a chance to address many of the concerns brought out by the delegates of the seminar.

The following are some of the suggestions for improvements:

Post Exchange

- Expand the hours remote AAFES sites are open.
- Return the Mini-Mall to a 24-hour schedule.
- Provide a larger variety of individual products.
- Provide better maintenance of existing facilities.
- Offer more competitive prices.

Commissary

- Stock generic products.
- Put a bakery in the commissary.
- Offer more health and diet items.
- Maintain higher standards of quality control of meat products.
- Require daily checks of product expiration dates.

Postwide recreation.

- Create a quarterly recreation catalog.
- Clean up playgrounds and recreational areas around post.
- Provide family rates for bowling, movies and horseback riding.
- Create a unit sponsorship program for youth sports and scouting.
- Give safety classes to young fishermen.

Medical Care

- Expand CHAMPUS and DELTA

See CONCERN A-3

OPINION

VARIOUS VOICES: What makes military spouses unique?

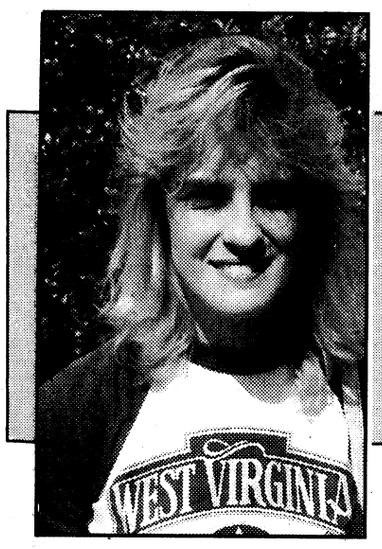
Chris Wascisin, family member — "Military spouses put up with a lot. They have to learn to be flexible and to like where ever they are sent."



Rose Tarver, family member — "It's a hard life. In my case, my husband is doing a two-year tour in Europe, and I am staying here maintaining our home. The separations and the long hours make it hard, but it's worth it. I think it is the toughest job in the Army."

Andrea Lawrence, family member — "Having the ability to cope with different people, places and situations is what makes military spouses unique. It's an ability you learn; you're not born with it."

Marie Echols, family member — "Military spouses have to get used to the traveling and loneliness, and we have to stick with it through it all."

Aymie Dolson, family member — "I don't feel I'm unique. My husband is a special person, and I'm just glad to be there for him. I think he's special for serving his country."

Jan Gano, family member — "Being married to a man in the military isn't always easy. But, having the husband I have, we work through those problems. This is the career he has chosen, and I am here to support him."

Never again — reflections on man's inhumanity to man

By Joseph L. Allred
Army News Service

I walked into one of the main corridors of the Pentagon this morning and was greeted with a display of words and pictures depicting the horrible events of the Jewish holocaust of 1933 through 1944.

The pictures portray more than the words and give those of us who did not experience the times a distinctive history lesson. The sunken eyes, emaciated bodies, forlorn looks on the faces of these people who have been caught in time literally cry out to those of us today. Their cry is that the atrocities played out on their lives, families and culture should never, must never, happen again.

The thin, skeletal frames covered by rags of clothing stand in stark contrast to the egotistical images of their tormentors who wielded such power of life and death over these people.

For those of us born after World War II, these images are played back to us from the pages of our history books. Often it is difficult to image that man can be so cruel to his fellow creatures on this earth — but he is.

A few years ago our family had the opportunity to be in Munich. During our stay we were impressed to take the train to the village of Dachau and visit the site of one of the many concentrations camps used to inflict such insults upon the lives of the Jewish people.

As we walked among the rows where once stood barracks that housed the people who waited for their deaths in the ovens, the enormity of this horrendous experience was brought into our view.

Peacefully and quietly the grounds now lay, but you could imagine the human struggles and voices that filled the air less than 50 years ago. The pain, the grief, the anguish of mothers being separated from their children, fathers torn from the arms of their families — how unbearable it must have been.

Inside the Dachau museum were displays of daily life in the camp, a living memorial to those who had been so violently taken from this earth. That day we gained a great appreciation for our own freedom.

Today we live in a land that has rarely seen such terrible events. Through the more than 200 years of our national history, we have attempted to promote the ideals first expressed in the Declaration of Independence, that all men our created equal and that the pursuit of happiness is a major force for good.

The lesson being taught to us all is that such events as the Jewish holocaust must remain bright in our mind's eye so that we, as a people who live in a country where freedom is not just enjoyed, but is part of our very life blood, must do everything in our power to prevent injustice from taking place.

When the rights of one person are trampled upon, the rights of all suffer. Likewise, the protection of the one strengthens the protection of the many.

Our lives are inseparably connected, as a nation, a people, a world. As I look upon these pictures of the victims of hate, animosity and evil, it is my resolve to never let the image fade, for to allow the image to fade may result in the tragedy being repeated. No. Never again. Not in my lifetime or the lifetime of my children must man's inhumanity to man be allowed.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Allred is chief, print media branch, Office of the Chief of Public Affairs.)

Everyone can save energy

By Clyde Snively
USAIC Public Affairs Office

Energy conservation was the big push this past week. I knew this because I saw the billboards proclaiming it as I drove about post in my dinosaur and an article in The Bayonet.

"What," I wondered, "can a lone specialist do to help a big old post like Fort Benning cut down on energy conservation?"

I made a few calls to energy experts. "Awareness," was a word they used over and over. In other words, if we are thinking about energy consumption, then each of us will probably be more conscious about expending energy was their line of reasoning.

For instance, I asked them about turning off lights when leaving a room, "I understand it takes more energy to turn them back on than to leave them burning," I said.

"Depends on the light," my energy source explained.

"Well take my major," I said, "when he goes to the men's room, he always turns on the light in the little entrance way, then in the men's room itself. When he leaves, he leaves the lights on. Shouldn't he be punished for high treason or something?"

The source told me that while the death penalty was a little extreme, perhaps breaking the knuckle on the finger he uses to turn lights on might serve a purpose. "Those lights might not be using that much energy," the energy expert said, "but his leaving them on, tells us he isn't thinking 'energy conservation.' In other words, he lacks awareness."

I could hardly wait to get back to tell the major that.

Leaving doors and windows open while running heaters and air conditioners was a common gripe of the energy people. "I can drive though the quarters areas, hear the compressors pumping out cold air, and what do I see? I see quarters with their front doors wide open. What do these people want to do? Cool the entire state?" one energy person said.

"I bet if they paid their own electric bills, they'd conserve more," I said.

"It may come to that," he said.

I live on the economy and have a heart attack each time I hear my daughter rev up her V8, 220-volt electric hair dryer with three power buttons — high, higher and highest. I can just picture the electric meter spinning madly while Georgia Power officials rub their hands gleefully and dollar signs dance before their eyes.

"Don't feel too badly," our deputy told me one day while I was telling him how I planned on knocking off a bank to pay my electric bill. "You think you've got it bad. My wife and daughter live with a hair dryer in their hands. But now my son thinks he needs to blow dry his hair, too.

"I got on him for that, and he told me the wet look is out. I suggested he drive with his head out the window. That would blow it dry for him. He looked at me like I was nuts."

"I see your point," I said.

I agreed with him when he said perhaps a Bert and Ernie haircut for his son, made famous by the rangers, would be a partial solution to his energy woes.

As I study booklets on weather stripping and insulation, calculate the cost of insulating my water heater, and compare it to savings and stock up on filters for my air-conditioner, all I can think of are my buddies on post and wonder about their energy awareness quotients. Do they care?

The Bayonet

This newspaper is an authorized publication for members of the Army. Contents of THE BAYONET are not necessarily the official views of, or endorsed by the Department of the Army or any of its agencies. Everything in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, sex or national origin of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunity by an advertiser will result in the refusal of the publisher to print advertising from that souce. THE BAYONET is an unofficial publication authorized by Army Regulation 360-81. Editorial content is prepared, edited and provided by the Public Affairs Office of the U.S. Army Infantry Center. THE BAYONET is published each Friday by the R.W. Page Corporation, a private firm in no way connected with the Department of the Army, under exclusive written contract with Fort Benning. All photos are U.S. Army unless otherwise credited. Liaison between the publisher and the commanding general, USAIC, is maintained by the public affairs officer, through the command information officer, USAIC, Fort Benning.

Editorial

Commanding General ..... Maj. Gen Michael F. Spigelmire
Public Affairs Officer ..... Lt. Col. McDonald Plummer Jr.
Command Information Officer ..... Maj. Thomas Fix
Command Information NCOIC ..... SSgt. Ron Allen
Administration NCOIC ..... SSgt. Luz Llanos
Editor ..... SSgt. Sharon Reynolds
Assistant Editor ..... Agatha Hudson James
Staff writers ..... Spec. Ann McDonald, Spec. Shawn Bryson
Editorial Office: Public Affairs Office, USAIC, Building 4, Room 601, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905, (404) 545-2201/2202; AUTOVON 835-2201.

Advertising

Retail/Display ..... (404) 324-5526
Classified ..... (404) 322-4500
Circulation ..... (404) 323-1234

For subscription information call (404)323-1234.

Circulation 21,000

Represented nationally by Knight Ridder Newspaper sales W.B. Bradbury and Military Media, Inc.

Miss Alabama to perform on Armed Forces Day

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The 1989 AUSA Armed Forces Day will feature Miss Alabama 1989, Jenny Jackson who will crown the new AUSA Queen immediately following the Armed Forces Day NCO Parade on York Field May 20.

Miss Alabama 1989, Jenny Jackson

Miss Alabama, a talented pianist, will entertain and sign autographs throughout the afternoon on the midway stage.

Picnic planners said they are hoping for a large turnout and will have food and refreshments and several ticket points to reduce long lines. The main food fare will include, hamburgers, cheeseburgers, hotdogs, chili dogs, corn dogs and chicken. Soft drinks, ice cream, cotton candy and cookies will be available to satisfy those with a sweet tooth.

As usual, the dunk machine should draw a crowd, and other midway games will provide an opportunity for testing skills and winning prizes.

In addition to Miss Alabama, Miss Columbus and Miss Phenix City will make appearances throughout the afternoon. Additionally, the Georgia Dancing Machine will make a special appearance. Returning by popular demand and the center of the afternoon's entertainment will be Rebecca Wright and the Rock'n'Roll-South Dillingham Station Band.

Once again this year, children will get to ride on the Kiddie Jump Tower.

This year, AUSA Picnic souvenir items will be on sale, and AUSA will draw for door prizes, including a cruise for two.

Armed Forces Day military equipment displays will give picnic-goers an opportunity to see the latest military hardware.

Army spouses share feelings about military

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Being a spouse isn't always easy, but being an Army spouse can often be more difficult because of the nature of a soldier's job.

Both Diane Spigelmire, wife of the post commander, and Alice Cobb, wife of the post fsergeant major, have been through difficult times. The most difficult , according to the women, was watching their husbands go off to war and fearing they would never come back to see the young child each had left behind.

Spigelmire and Cobb have been Army wives for more than 20 years and have traveled with their husbands to many parts of the globe. When they first came in, the adage was, "If the Army wanted you to have a wife, they would have issued you one."

Things have changed since then. The Army no longer considers spouses a nuisance but are now thought of as an asset. To show that, the Army has designated today Army Spouse Day. In honor of that day, Spigelmire and Cobb shared their personal views of the evolution of the Army spouse.

Spigelmire and Cobb said the basic role of the Army spouse has not changed.

However, Spigelmire said the Army has changed. It has realized the importance of families. "All of the programs at ACS are examples of that," she said. "The Army realizes families are important. And, if family members are happy and well taken care of, soldiers will be a lot more productive."

Support groups are also 100 percent better, Spigelmire said. "I think the transition of a soldier going off to war now would be a whole lot easier."

Spigelmire said she hasn't changed as her husband's rank progressed. She said she does the same things now that she did when he was a lieutenant.

"I've always volunteered in the community," she said, "and I still do."

The advice she offers to new Army spouses is to do what she did during her husband's career.

"Where ever you are, get involved with and be a part of the community," she said.

"Being an Army spouse is special, and I think it's good for the children, too. I wouldn't trade it for anything in the world," she said.

According to Cobb, being an Army spouse isn't always travel and excitement.

"A new Army spouse should be prepared to be patient and have a lot of guts," Cobb said. "Sometimes your husband is going to come home and be a grouch, and you're going to have to let him work through it."

She added, that doesn't mean you shouldn't talk because the lines of communication should always be open.

"You have to be strong," Cobb said, "especially when your husband has to work late or you have to move again.

"It takes a special kind of woman to stay, but it's worth it," she said.

A new Army spouse, Denise Barton, who married 2nd Lt. Chad Barton four months ago, said she's discovered that an Army spouse has to be exuberant and outgoing and must form support groups.

"A long distance telephone call just can't replace someone who is right there," Barton said, "especially when your husband is in the field."

Barton said she knows there will be longer separations than a normal stay in the field. She said she has accepted that and tries to look at the positive aspects of Army life.

"I am looking forward to all the moves and the culture changes," she said. "I can't imagine a better environment in which to raise children because all those changes will make them more independent and receptive adults."

She said a spouse also has to be a best friend.

"He becomes the bridge between your past and present," Barton said. "You are constantly moving, and when you get to a new place, it will be just you and him until you become involved with the community."

She said she's realized the importance of the community and is presently a post volunteer.

"Each post will be your new home, and if you have a positive attitude about each one, you can't go wrong.

Spigelmire and Cobb are veterans, while Barton is just preparing for the battle. But, each of them are winners because they all have a common denominator — a sense of family and community.

Concern

Continued from A-1

plans.

- Improve the courtesy of some employees at MACH.
- Broaden DELTA dental insurance to include braces, dentures, crowns, etc.

The above are just some of the many topics discussed at the seminar.

Crowley said the issues brought up at the seminar will be forwarded to the organization or office of concern. She said most of the concerns have been voiced previously, and many can only be changed by major commands such as TRADOC or the Department of the Army or Defense.

Crowley said bringing up concerns is necessary, but people have to be willing to help bring about the changes. She said the seminar is a good example of how people can pull together to makes things happen.

The seminar was a "great success" and the committee will continue to follow up on the concerns of the organizations, Crowley said.

In cooperation with the seminar committee, The Bayonet will publish responses about the concerns as they come in.

Bayonet Advertising
Really Pays!

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS
SALE
1 Ct. 7 DIAMOND CLUSTER RINGS Reg. $1,200
500.95 409.95
$399.95 Limited Quantities
1/7 Ct. DIAMOND EARRINGS Reg. $150 $49.95 While They Last
1/3 Ct. DIAMOND TENNIS BRACELET Reg. $800 $199.20
EVERYTHING IN THE STORE 50% OR MORE OFF
MOTHER'S DAY SPECIAL ALL 14 Kt GOLD CROSSES 70% OFF
ALL DIAMONDS 50% OFF
IT'S ALL GOTTA GO!
EXTRA SPECIALS
Braided Tri-Color STERLING SILVER NECKLACES Reg.$80 $19.95
LADIES WATCHES 50% OFF
Jumbo, Wide Band 7 DIAMOND CLUSTER RINGS Reg. $250 $99.95
18 Inch Herringbone CHAIN Reg. $400 $99.95
SELLING OUT TO THE BARE WALLS! ACT NOW!
Ledbetter's Jewelers
K-MART CRAWFORD RD. 13th ST. LEDBETTERS VILLAGE GREEN 280 BYPASS 11th ST.
HOURS
Mon.-Thurs. 10-6
Fri.-Sat. 10-7
VILLAGE GREEN SHOPPING CENTER
OFF 280
PHENIX CITY

Two star father sees son graduate

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Most people join the Army to get away from it all. However, that's not true for a soldier who recently graduated from Company E, 3rd Battalion, 32nd Infantry, 2nd Infantry Training Brigade, Infantry Training Center.

Pvt. 2 James Crysel has been around the Army all of his life. The 22-year-old attended college for a change of pace, but after a while, he said he decided to follow in his father's footsteps and enlist in the Army.

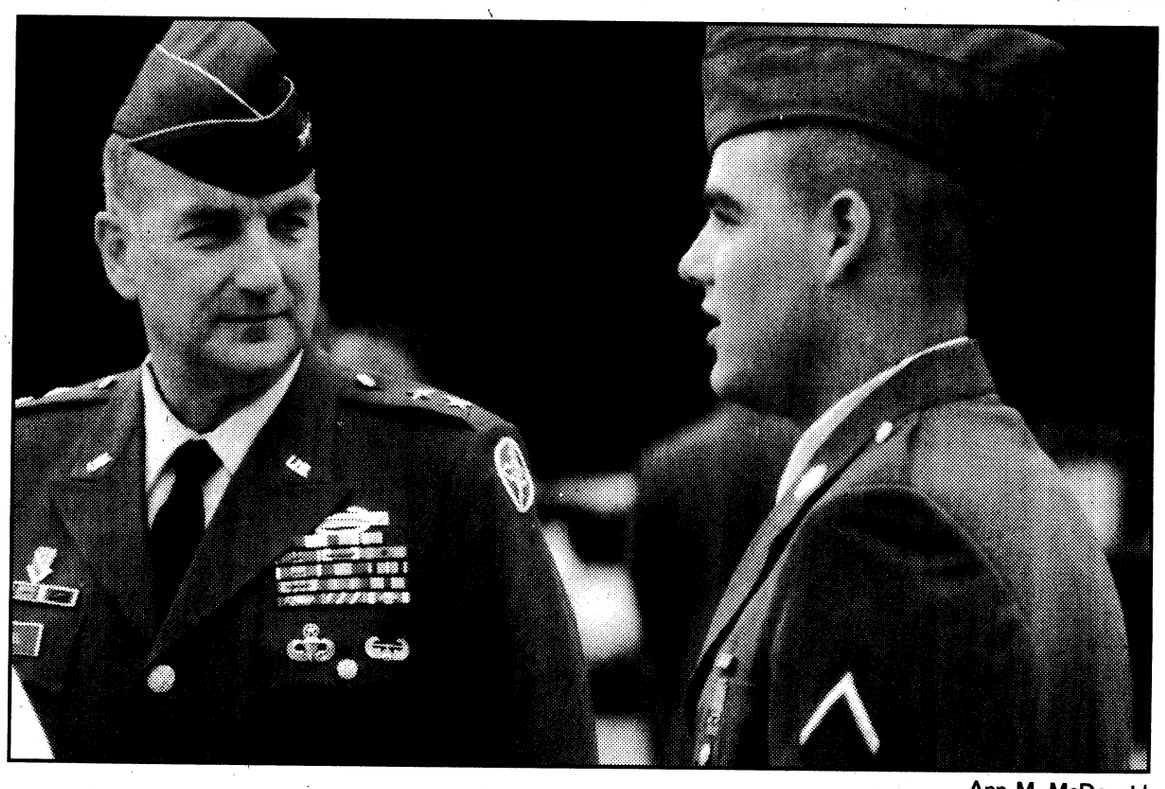
His dad is Maj. Gen. James W. Crysel, commander of the U.S. Total Army Personnel Agency, Alexandria, Va.

The elder Crysel came to Fort Benning for his son's graduation and was the guest speaker at the ceremony.

Crysel told the unit their graduation officially makes them full-fledged members of an elite and proud force.

"These men are part of a force that will keep this country free," he said to the audience. "No one wants war, but if you're not trained like these men, the cost of war could be much greater."

After his speech, the eldest Crysel said some of the people in the audience came all the way from California to see family and friends graduate.



"That's a good reflection of the public's attitude about the training in the Army today."

He said the quality of soldiers is good and added he is very proud to have his son among those soldiers.

"I think it's good to have two men from one family serving in the Army at the same time." Crysel said.

The younger Crysel said he thinks it's special, too. He said he feels privileged to have his dad speak in front of his company and battalion.

It's on to more training for the younger Crysel. He's going to airborne school and then to Italy for his first assignment.

Ann M. McDonald

Maj. Gen. James W. Crysel and his son Pvt. 2 James Crysel share a moment after the younger Crysel's graduation ceremony.

Former Benning worker gets WWII award

By Ron Patrizio
Orlando Sentinel staff writer

During the almost eight years John Donnelly worked at the Training Support Division here, he had no idea an award for bravery was trying to find him. Forty-four years ago last month, John Donnelly and four other soldiers risked their lives to save a wounded buddy during the American invasion of Okinawa.

A letter that would have been the first step in obtaining a Bronze Star for the five men was stored inside a dusty trunk for more than four decades.

The letter, written to Donnelly's commanding officer, mistakenly was forwarded to the officer's parents in Vermont, where it was stored with other personal effects from the war.

Donnelly, who moved to Orlando last June, remembers it was raining April 10, 1945, when his company attacked the Japanese at Ouki Village. After the attack, the soldiers withdrew into an area behind several tanks that protected them from incoming artillery and small arms fire.

Crawling through mud and rice fields while dodging machine gun fire was an average day for Sgt. Donnelly during his tour of duty in the Pacific. That day, the commanding officer, Capt. Albert Trepanier, saw that one of his men was shot while crossing the open field. He asked for volunteers to bring him to safety.

"We found an old wooden door and used it as a stretcher," said Donnelly, who in 1973 returned to visit some of the sites of battles he fought during the war.

Donnelly never knew the name of the soldier or the extent of his wounds, but he said he believe the man recovered.

Trepanier promised the five men they would receive the Bronze Star for their bravery, but Donnelly said he didn't think much about it afterward.

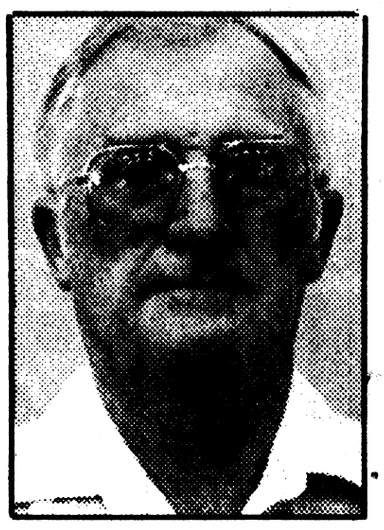
"I just did what I had to do," said Donnelly who retired from the Army as a command sergeant major after serving more than 30 years. "You didn't do it expecting a medal. When it came around, you just did it."

Trepanier's promise would have been a simple one to keep, but the officer was wounded during a battle the day after the rescue and was hospitalized in Okinawa for a year. The lieutenant, who took command of Company C of the 32nd Regiment, 7th Infantry Division, heard of the captain's promise and wrote him Jan. 24, 1946, asking for help to get the medals.

That letter somehow bypassed Trepanier at the hospital and was forwarded to his parents.

Then in December 1988, Trepanier found the letter. He began trying to find the five men and keep the promise he made in 1945.

After writing several letters to the Veterans Administration and the National Personal Records Center in St. Louis, Trepanier found Donnelly here. He and Verle Minks of Brunswick, Mo., were the only one's out of the five still living.



Donnelly was honored in February at a special ceremony by the 164th Air Defense Brigade of the Florida National Guard in Orlando.

The other three medals were awarded posthumously to the families of John M. Foster, Frank R. Haskell and Gordon R. Nelson.

Donnelly, 63, received two other Bronze Star awards during the war for similar acts of heroism.

He said his only regret about getting the medal late was he could not share the honor with Foster, one of the volunteers who helped carry the wounded soldier during the rescue mission.

"He was my best friend," Donnelly said, his face flushed with emotion. "He was killed during the war."

John Donnelly

Why do we celebrate Mother's Day?

Armed Forces Information Service

Mothers around the nation should appreciate the contribution of Anna M. Jarvis. Without Jarvis' inspiration, Mother's Day, which is celebrated May 14 this year, might never have existed.

As it happened, Jarvis first arranged for a special mother's service in her Grafton, W. Va., church on May 10, 1908. The service was in honor of her late mother. A simultaneous service was held in what had been her mother's Philadelphia church.

Although never a mother herself, Jarvis believed that sons and daughters should pay tribute to their mothers at least once a year. The mother's services spread to more churches the following year.

In 1912, a Mother's Day International Association was founded to encourage greater observance of a special day. This led Congress in 1914 to designate the second Sunday in May as Mother's Day.

In the same year, President Woodrow Wilson issued a proclamation urging people to display the American flag on that day as "a public expression of our love and reverence for the mothers of the country."

Use Bayonet Want Ads

NEW BONUSES NEED CASH TODAY? NEW BONUSES

Save lives and earn money by donating your time at one of the finest Plasma Facilities in the country

New & Donors who have not donated in SIX MONTHS RECEIVE $7.00 BONUS with this ad.

Bring a Buddy & RECEIVE AN EXTRA $5.00
Additional Bonus on 6th & 8th Donations

EARN $10.00 AND ABOVE ON EACH VISIT
RIVERFRONT PLASMA CENTER
507 Dillingham St.—Phenix City
297-5711
Hours: Mon.-Wed.-Fri. 7-3:30—Tues. & Thurs. 7-6:30

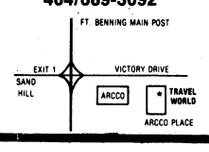
CONVENIENT EVENING HOURS FOR BENNING PERSONNEL

EARN OVER $100 PER MONTH

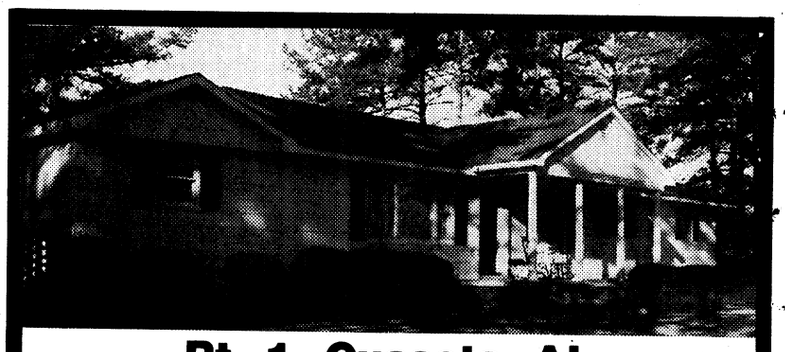
NEW LOW AIRFARES

Atlanta Roundtrip To:

Frankfurt	Munich	Brussels	Seoul
$758 1 June-30 Sept.	$778 1 June-30 Sept.	$872 1 June-30 Sept.	$1149 1 June-31 Aug.
$660 1 Oct.-31 Oct.	$694 1 Oct.-31 Oct.	$609 1 Oct.-31 Oct.	$1199 1 Sept.-1 Dec.



*Certain Restrictions/Taxes Apply to These Fares
*Some Blackout Dates Exist



TRAVEL WORLD, INC.

3115 Mercury Drive
Columbus, GA 31906
404/563-8687

4393 Victory Dr.
ARCCO Place
Columbus, Georgia 31903
404/689-3092

Rt. 1, Cusseta, AL
3 bedrooms, 2 baths, formal living room, dining room, den with fireplace, and study. New appliances in kitchen, new roof, new heating and cooling systems. 17 acres, fenced and barn on property. 1 mile from Perlis Truck Stop. Call Opelika Realty 749-8343, Ask for Ellen 745-3692.

Opelika Realty, Inc.
602 South 7th Street
Opelika, AL 36801
745-3692

Steve's Check Casher
Do You need a check cashed?
Come visit the Money Man.
WE CASH THEM ALL
$ INCOME TAX RETURN CHECKS
$ PERSONAL CHECKS

$ Payroll	$ Tax Checks
$ Out of State	$ Insurance Checks
$ Two Party	$ Insurance Drafts
$ Money Orders	$ Government Checks
$ Western Union	$ Cashier Checks

ALL TYPES
Let Us Handle All Your Check Cashing Needs!
3949 Victory Station Shopping Center
Suite 2 Next to Blempie's
Come by and Visit With Us Today or Call 689-8335
HOURS: M-F 10-7, Sat. 10-5

FREE
ALL TUNE and LUBE
Your Total Car Care Center
Oil change, lube & filter with the purchase of an engine tune up.
COMPLETE ENGINE TUNE
$39.90*
Includes all parts and labor for most cars
Some Vans & Pick-ups Add'l.
12 MONTH/12,000 MILE WARRANTY
WITH COUPON ● WHILE YOU WAIT CB

ALL TUNE and LUBE

● Oil Change, Lube & Filter		$14.90 reg. $19.90
● Transmission Tune-up		$24.90 reg. $29.90
● Air Conditioning Service		$24.90 reg. $29.90
● Fuel Injector Service		$39.90 reg. $49.90
● Brake Special	(Most Vehicles)	$34.90 reg. $63.90

FREE BRAKE INSPECTION 5-26-89

COLUMBUS
6028 MILLER ROAD
569-TUNE
Hours M-F 8 AM-7 PM
Sat. 8 AM-4 PM
OVER 70 LOCATIONS NATIONWIDE!

Celebrate May NATIONAL PHOTO MONTH™
FREE Pocket Photo Album with Every Color Film Processing Order

A Perfect Way to Show-Off & Share Your Favorite Pictures
Bring your film today and ask for KODALUX Processing Services—you'll receive a Memory Collection pocket photo album FREE with your processed order.
Applies to (C-41 process) original color print film orders from 110, 126, 35mm & disc—Standard and MAGNAPRINT35 services.
Offer good May 1-25, 1989
Ask for Details at Your Local Exchange
Kodalux Processing Services
TM: KODALUX, MAGNAPRINT35
This advertisement was neither paid for, nor sponsored, in whole or in part, by the Exchange Service.

Officials compile simple cues to help detect drunk drivers

By George Smock
I don't know

Military police have joined other law enforcement officials in the use of simple cues for drunk driver detection at night. The cues resulted from a 1980 study funded by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

After interviewing hundreds of law enforcement officers and studying more than a thousand arrest reports throughout the United States, researchers came up with a list of 113 driving behaviors related to driving under the influence. They matched those driving behaviors with the drivers' blood alcohol test results and found they could reduce the list to 20 behaviors and still account for 90 percent of the nighttime DUIs.

The next step was to develop probabilities of drunk driving linked to each behavior. For example, the weaving-across-lanes behavior often observed by police indicates the driver's BAC is greater than 0.10 percent 60 times out of 100. Other behaviors and the probabilities the driver is drunk include:

- Turning with a wider radius than normal; straddling the center-of-lane marker (65 percent)
- Appearing drunk, looking sleepy or nodding over the wheel; almost striking an object or another vehicle (60 percent)
- Swerving, driving on other than the designated roadway, driving with one wheel on the shoulder (55 percent)
- Driving 10 mph or more under the speed limit, stopping without cause, tailgating, drifting (50 percent)
- Braking erratically, driving with tires on the center line or the lane marker, driving into opposing traffic (45 percent)
- Signaling inconsistently, slow response to traffic signals (40 percent)
- Stopping inappropriately, turning abruptly or illegally. For instance crossing two lanes when making a turn (35 percent)
- Accelerating or decelerating rapidly. Driving at night with headlights off (30 percent)

If two or more behaviors are seen together, 10 points are added to the highest value cue to determine the probability that the driver's BAC is greater than 0.10 percent.

Hundreds of police officers field tested this detection system (figure 1) and proved it normally correct after four thousand stops.

Law enforcement officials have suggested that drivers themselves may find the list helpful in avoiding a possibly drunk driver on the road. Drivers who see another driver exhibiting several of these behaviors are encouraged to phone the information in to be checked by police. The call can be made anonymously.

Drunk Driver Detection Guide
Chances in 100 of nighttime drivers with BAC equal or greater than .10

Turning with wide radius..... 65
Straddling center or lane marker 65
Appearing to be drunk..... 60
Almost striking object or vehicle. 60
Weaving..... 60
Driving on other than designated roadway..... 55
Swerving..... 55
Slow speed (more than 10 mph below limit)..... 50
Stopping (without cause) in traffic lane..... 50
Following too closely..... 50
Drifting..... 50
Tires on center or lane marker.... 45
Braking erratically..... 45
Driving into opposing or crossing traffic..... 45
Signaling inconsistent with driving actions..... 40
Slow response to traffic signals.... 40
Stopping inappropriately (other than in lane)..... 35
Turning abruptly or illegally... 35
Accelerating or decelerating rapidly..... 30
Headlights off when dark..... 30

Fort Benning Seat Belt Survey

Location	Feb. 89	March 89
Marchant & Edwards	68 percent	81 percent
Dixie & Way	70 percent	74 percent
Yeager & Ingersoll	78 percent	74 percent
Ivey, near Weapons Pool	35 percent	74 percent
Dental Clinic No. 1	53 percent	70 percent
Lumpkin & 1st Division	63 percent	69 percent
ITC HQ Parking Lot	56 percent	68 percent
Main Mall	59 percent	68 percent
Dixie near Soldiers' Plaza	54 percent	68 percent
Anderson & Marchant	53 percent	67 percent
Engineer & Custer	62 percent	66 percent
Baltzell & Stonewall	59 percent	66 percent
Marchant near Finance	64 percent	64 percent
Eddy Bridge	54 percent	63 percent
Main Mall	91 percent	61 percent
Bradshaw & Prussman	44 percent	59 percent
Yeager & Ingersoll	62 percent	57 percent
Wold & Pecomcrow	67 percent	55 percent
Sightseeing & Lavoie	48 percent	54 percent
Hall & Vibbert	59 percent	54 percent
Carpenter & Edwards	63 percent	52 percent
Eckel & Sightseeing	58 percent	49 percent
Kelley Hill Autocraft Shop	46 percent	49 percent
Sand Hill PX	48 percent	45 percent
Harvey & Watkins, Kelley Hill	39 percent	45 percent
Transportation & Edwards	49 percent	41 percent
Marne & Ivey, Kelley Hill	52 percent	39 percent
Custer & Highway 27	44 percent	39 percent
Wildcat & Moye	49 percent	35 percent
Estimated Fort Benning Seat Belt Use	57 percent	59 percent

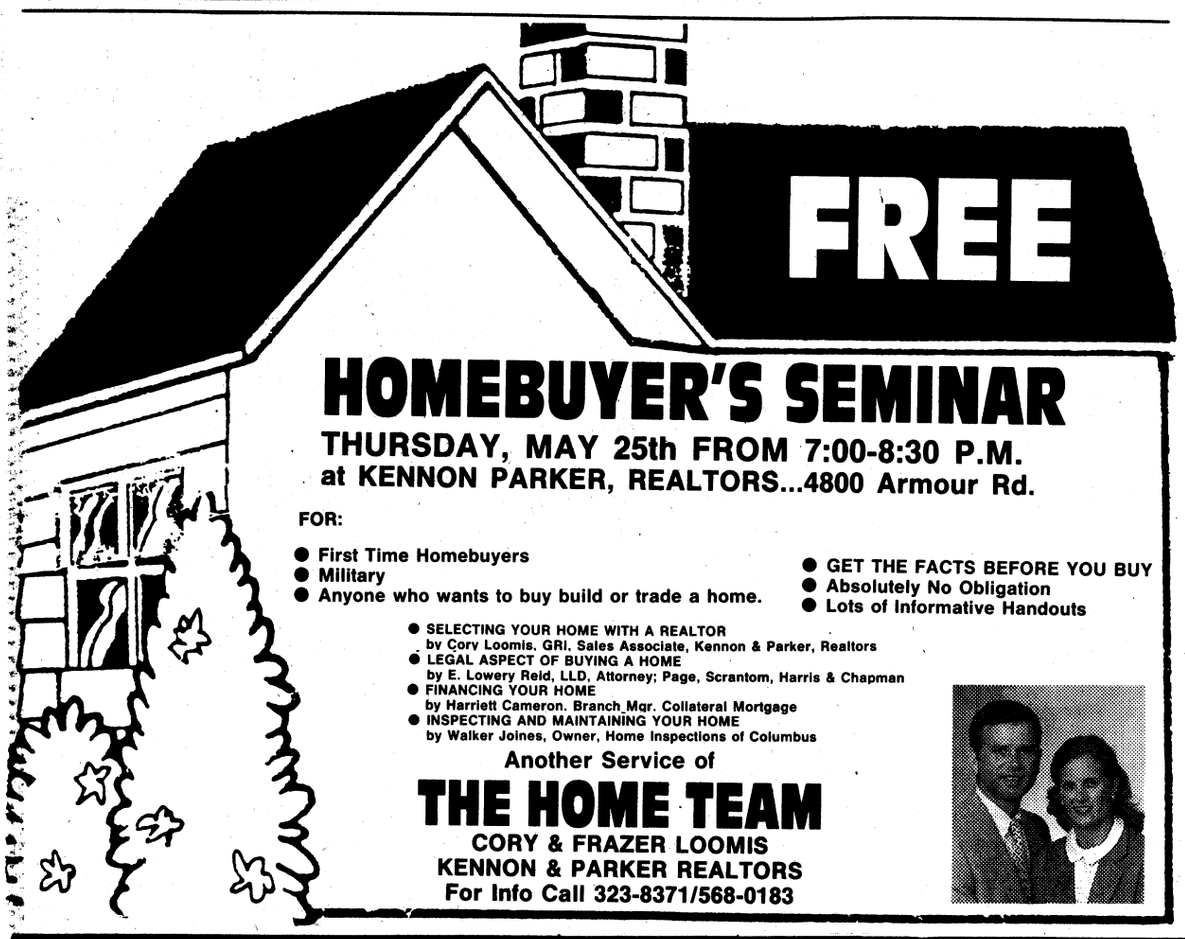
Public drinking prohibited here

By Barry Price
Provost Marshal's Office

There has been a significant rise in the number of military personnel being apprehended off-post by the Columbus Police Department for drinking in public.

Columbus City Ordinance 14-5.1 prohibits the consumption of alcohol in a variety of public areas within the Columbus city limits. These areas include parking lots of both public and private businesses, public parks, playgrounds and other recreational areas.

City ordinance 3-5L further specifically addresses possession of alcoholic beverages in public parks. Under no circumstances will alcohol be permitted on these premises.



Additionally, City Ordinance 4-41.1 prohibits being in public parks after dark.

The maximum penalties for drinking in a public area are up to 60 days in jail and a $350 fine. Violation of these ordinances are misdemeanors and may require a court appearance. Even so, these offenses are reportable through military police and military command channels.

The laws concerning public drinking have been, and will continue to be, enforced by the Columbus Police Department.

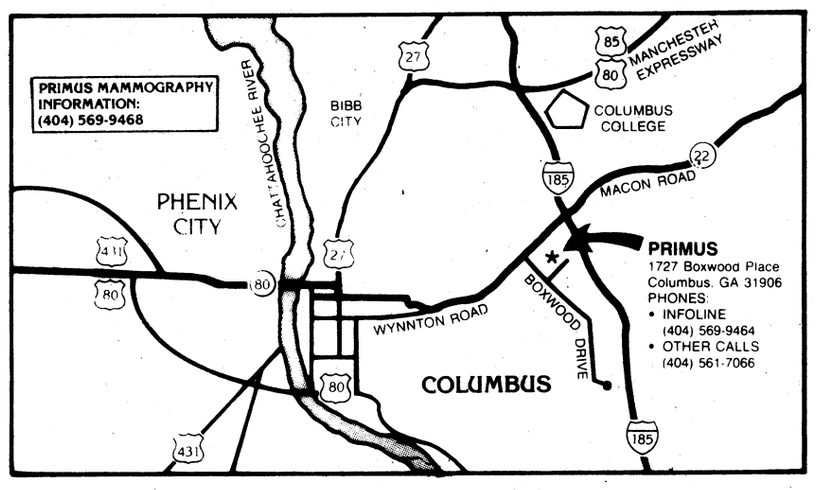
Obey the laws of both Fort Benning and Columbus, and Help Take A Bite Out Of Crime.

DRIVERS WHO HAVE ONE FOR THE ROAD HAVE A POLICE CAR FOR A CHASER

PRIMUS

NEW ARMY PRIMUS CENTER PROVIDES WALK-IN MEDICAL CARE

PRIMUS Walk-In centers are a new approach to providing military beneficiaries access to primary health care. PRIMUS Columbus will be open 365 days each year—from 0700 to 2000 weekdays and from 0900 to 1600 Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays (Effective 10-1-88).

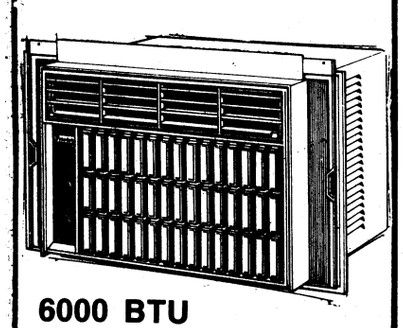


No appointment is necessary and there is no cost to patients for treatment and medication.

All military beneficiaries, including family members, entitled to care at military treatment facilities and enrolled in the DEERS are eligible for care. Basic laboratory and X-ray services are provided on site. Licensed and credentialed physicians and staff provide medical care.

PRIMUS Columbus is located at
1727 Boxwood Place
Columbus, GA 31906

Infoline: (404) 569-9464
Other Calls: (404) 561-7066



PRIMUS Mammography Information: (404) 569-9468

Critically ill or seriously injured patients should go to a hospital emergency room.
Services are provided by PHP Healthcare Corporation, Alexandria, Virginia, under contract to the US Army Health Services Command.

SAVE MODERN TV & APPLIANCE SAVE

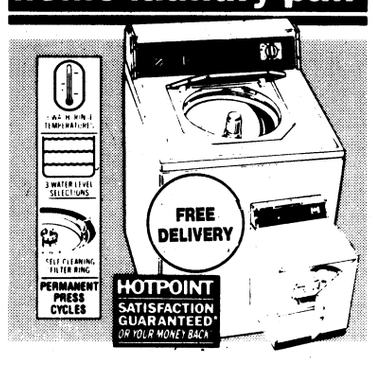
Friedrich®
ROOM AIR CONDITIONERS

6000 BTU

AS LOW AS $299.00

ZENITH

19" diagonal Color TV

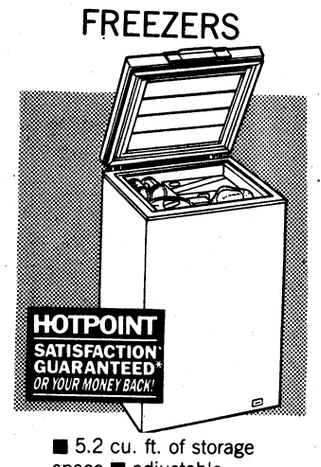


Model SS8915W
● With Remote Control
● Vertical Space-Saving Design
● Eastern Walnut Color Finish

ONLY $369.95

QUIK N' E-Z
QUIK CREDIT
E-Z TERMS

MOVIES
AS Low As 99¢ Per Day
Over 800 Titles to Choose From
No Membership Fee



matching home laundry pair

WASHER Model WLW 1500B
DRYER Model DLB 1550B

SAVE ON THE PAIR
ONLY $728.00 for the pair

HOTPOINT
FREEZERS

■ 5.2 cu. ft. of storage space ■ adjustable temperature control ■ counter-balanced lid ■ just 23½" wide ■ textured lid ■ defrost drain.

Model FH5CL

ONLY $299.00

FREE DELIVERY
HRS: 9AM-6PM MON-SAT

MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
You Don't Need A Lot Of Money, Just A Little Bit A Month
2039 FT BENNING ROAD

SERVICE AFTER THE SALE
687-8249 /682-1341

Commissary vendors share profits with post

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Two post agencies have some extra money because of the generosity of some commissary vendors.

The Fort Benning Boy Scouts received a check for $1,000 from Tom's Foods, Inc., and Army Emergency Relief Campaign got a $1,197.75 check from C. Lloyd Johnson Company, Inc.

According to James A. Puccio, National Military Sales Manager for Tom's Foods, the check was the result of a promotion of their snacks.

"A dime per unit sold was donated to the Boy Scouts," he said, "and we sold ten thousand units, which gave us the total of one thousand dollars."

C. Lloyd Johnson, who is a distributor for a variety of products, gave the money to AER for their products also promoted at the commissary.

The money will come in handy for the people at AER, said Army Community Services director, Carla Cary.

"The funds will be used for soldiers and family members in need of emergency financial assistance," she said.

Cary added that a postwide campaign for AER is going on and will continue until July 15. Those who wish to donate should see their unit representative.

Donations by companies, such as the ones by Tom's Foods and C. Lloyd Johnson, are not unusual. Companies often have these types of promotions and are coordinated through the Morale Welfare and Recreation Division.

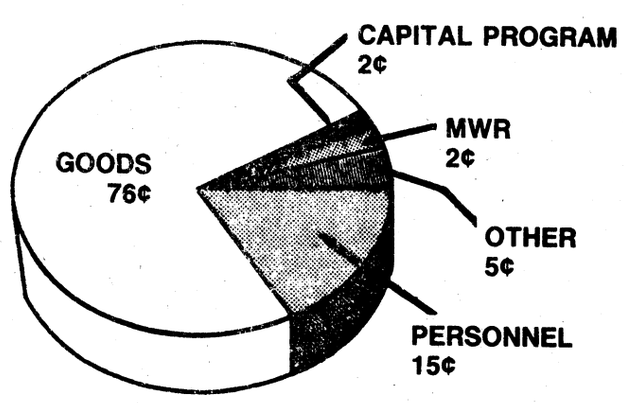
AAFES returns portion of earnings to posts

AAFES

Myth:

The Army & Air Force Exchange Service does not return earnings to the Army and Air Force.

Fact:



Part of the AAFES mission is to generate earnings to support the morale, welfare and recreation programs of the Army and Air Force. These earnings come from our four major sources of AAFES sales:

- Total annual retail sales
- Telephone operations
- Food operations such as Burger King and beer, wine and distilled spirits sales in Class Six stores
- Other AAFES facilities such as shoppettes

In 1988, total AAFES payments to the Army and Air Force MWR programs were $137.7 million. Over the past 10 years, AAFES has contributed more than $1 billion to these programs.

Here's how AAFES spends a typical dollar taken in at the PX/BX cash register:

- Seventy-six cents goes to buy the goods that go on the store shelves.
- Fifteen cents is for the AAFES civilian payroll. AAFES employees are non-appropriated fund employees paid from AAFES funds.
- Five cents pays for such miscellaneous expenses as utilities, transportation and expendable supplies.
- Four cents represent the profit — half goes to the annual Army and Air Force MWR dividend to support child care centers, golf courses, hobby shops, etc., and half goes into the AAFES capital program for new construction, store renovations, new equipment and vehicles.

DIVORCE..... $195 (simple uncontested)
BANKRUPTCY.. $295 Personal-No Assets-Chp. #7
ADOPTION..... $195 (all parties consent)
NAME CHANGE. $125 (no contest)
WILL..... $45 (simple)
DUI..... $195 (first-Nolo Plea)
plus court cost
LAW OFFICES OF
GARY I. KLEPAK
563-9333
2953 Mimosa St.
(Across from Sears Auto Center—Cols. Sq. Mall)

SAIL AWAY WITH US
SATO TRAVEL
A Full Service Travel Company
CARIBBEAN CRUISE FROM MIAMI
August 11-19, 1989
VISIT
OCHO RIOS
GRAND CAYMAN
COZUMEL
PLAYA DEL CARMEN
Exclusive Sato rates are now available. Choose from air from Atlanta, bus from Columbus or cruise only. Discounts available for every category. We have limited space, make your reservations now to avoid disappointment. For more information:
Call: 682-0361 And ask for Sherrell or Vicky

BE WISE... DON'T WASTE

CPI photo finish
one hour photo
Save 40%
on color processing & 4x6 prints
Each picture is the best it can be or we reprint it free... now!
NO LIMIT ON ROLLS!
4x6 Color Prints in One Hour
40% off reg. price
No limit on number of rolls discounted with this coupon. Print length varies with film size. C41 in lab process only, not combinable with other processing and print offers.
Coupon good through July 22, 1989
CPI photo finish
one hour photo
1020203
CPI Film Sale
Example prices:
2 rolls for $5.75 24-exp. 35mm 400 ASA (reg. $6.78)
3 rolls for $7.69 24-exp. 35mm - 200 ASA (reg. $9.27)
4 rolls for $8.61 24-exp. 35mm - 100 ASA or 24-exp. 110 (reg. $10.76)
CPI color print film only.
Sale prices are not combinable with other film offers.
Sale ends June 10, 1989
Stock up now and save!
one hour services: photo finishing • enlargements • reprints • double prints
also available: wallet photos • instant color passport photos • video transfer • copies from prints • cameras and accessories • film
Columbus Square Mall
inside main entrance

VISA CARDS ARE HERE!
VISA
COMPARE the terms of your Credit Union with the market and you'll make the switch.
$8.00 Annual Fee
15% Annual Percentage Rate
25 Day Grace Period
TIC FEDERAL CREDIT UNION
2786 Eckel Street
Fort Benning, GA 31905
682-0830
4811 Bankers Blvd.
Columbus, GA 31904
324-5288
Offer to eligible members only.

FOR THE GREAT OUTDOORS
COMMANDO DISCOUNT SURPLUS

GEORGE LINDSEY
SUSAN AKIN Miss America '86
WILLIE MAYS
GENE BARTOW Head Coach UAB Basketball
"With 60-store buying power, LORCH saves us money on Diamonds, Watches, and 14 Kt. Gold"

FANTASTIC CHOICES

PERM PLUS
• Shampoo
• Precision Cut
• Quality Perm
• Complete Style Finish
$19.95
ADULT STYLE CUT & FINISH
• Shampoo
• Conditioning Rinse
• Precision Cut
• Complete Style Finish
$7.95
KID'S STYLE CUT & FINISH
• Shampoo
• Conditioning Rinse
• Precision Cut
• Complete Style Finish
$4.95
Fantastic Sam's
the Original Family Haircutters®
VISA
Simons Plaza Shopping Center
2499 Airport Thruway
327-2578

A SALE-ON-A-SALE—IN CELEBRATION OF MOTHER'S DAY
MOTHER'S DAY SPECIAL SALE
ENTIRE STOCK DIAMONDS 50%-40%-20% OFF!
PLUS AN ADDITIONAL 10% OFF AND EVEN MORE!
Pretty, 7-DIAMOND CLUSTER RING "Super Sizzler"
Previous Sale Price $69.95
Mother's Day Price $39.95
Illustration Enlarged To Show Exquisite Detail
Slight Additional Cost For Ring Sizing If Needed
60%-50% OFF! Entire Stock 14 KT. GOLD CHAINS & BRACELTS
7" Rope Bracelet ..... Ticketed Price $139.95
MOTHER'S DAY Price $53.95
18" Rope Chain ..... Ticketed Price $329.95
MOTHER'S DAY Price $125.95
7" Herringbone Bracelet ..... Ticketed Price $59.95
MOTHER'S DAY Price $17.95
18" Herringbone Neckchain ..... Ticketed Price $139.95
MOTHER'S DAY Price $44.95
18" Heavier Herringbone Neckchain Ticketed Price $219.95
MOTHER'S DAY Price $71.95
UP TO $10,000 INSTANT CREDIT!
LORCH DIAMOND CENTERS
LORCH INSTANT CREDIT OR MAJOR CREDIT CARD
10% OFF ON ALL MERCHANDISE
(Except Advertised Specials)
For Active Duty or Retired Armed Services Personnel.
COLUMBUS SQUARE MALL
COLUMBUS, GA
ADJACENT TO JC PENNY
PHONE: 404-563-9409
OTHER NEARBY STORES:
*Auburn, AL
*Sylacauga, AL
*Birmingham, AL
*Alexander City, AL

You're Invited
GRAND OPENING
Weight Loss That Works
FREE CONSULTATION
Losing weight's not easy when you're doing it alone. But you can do it... w help from the DOCTOR'S WEIGHT LOSS, Medically staffed, out-patient cl ic.
YOU HAVE EVERYTHING TO GAIN EXCEPT POUNDS!
* Medical staffed outpatient clinic
* Written Guarantee! Lose 3½ to 8 lbs. per week
* Enjoy beef, chicken, lobster vegetables even Double Chocolate Cheesecake
* Special programs for special medical conditions (high blood pressure, diabetes, cholesterol, etc.)
* For Men, Women & Teens
* Free Consultation
* Insurance Approved
LOSE 14 LBS. IN 14 DAYS $29 exp. 5-19-89
LOSE ALL THE WEIGHT YOU WANT $99 *medical & supplements excluded exp. 5-19-89
DOCTORS WEIGHT LOSS
"Weight Loss That Works"
Macon Rd. at I-185
569-7706

Chattahoochee River takes its toll in lives

Infantry Branch Safety Office

Twenty-four servicemembers have lost their lives in the Chattahoochee River during the past 35 years. In addition, many local civilians have drowned. All of the deaths could have been avoided if safety precautions had been employed.

Several people have drowned because they underestimated the width of the river and thought they could easily swim across. Distance is hard to estimate when looking across water, and judgment may be further impaired by alcohol. A servicemember drowned at Rotary Park while attempting to swim across the river. It is almost a certainty the person did not realize that the river was well over 400 feet wide at that point.

There are locks and dams the entire length from Columbus to Apalachicola, Fla. The current can increase tremendously on the immediate downstream side of dams when a gate is opened. The law does not require any warning to fishermen or swimmers when a gate is opened; there is no siren, light, horn or any other signal. The water depth also increases when a gate is opened, and the combination of increased stream velocity and depth can be deadly.

The river banks are undercut by the current and by the wake of boats. Frequently a bluff 20 feet or higher will slough off and fall into the water. This occurrence is dangerous for fishermen on the banks as well as those in boats close to the bank.

There are frequent instances of boaters striking a stump or some other partially submerged obstacle. The contact generally results in only a broken shear pin, but boaters traveling at high speeds have been thrown from their boats. A person thrown from a boat could easily drown if not wearing a life preserver. Water skiers have also been injured by striking underwater floating objects.

Everyone who uses the river for recreation should wear a life jacket, especially water skiers. They are considered boat occupants by the Coast Guard.

The river is a great recreational asset, but it must be respected as an inherently dangerous area.

ASK THE JUDGE

Staff Judge Advocate's Office

Q: I think my landlord is trying to give me a raw deal.

I signed a one-year lease for an apartment in October because there wasn't any on-post housing immediately available when I PCSd here.

The housing people told me I would be on the list for housing for at least six months.

I just got quarters last Friday, and I had to take them immediately or go to the end of the list. I told my landlord I got quarters and would be moving out by the end of April. The landlord said my lease requires me to give him a written notice I'm leaving 60 days before the day I'm actually moving out, and I will have to pay rent for those 60 days. The lease does say that, but I thought I could move onto post as soon as I got quarters because the law protects the military. Do I really have to pay 60 days of rent to my landlord when I have already moved out?

A: Any obligations involving rental property depend heavily on what the lease contract states. Consequently, my comments will concern what the law generally says, but will vary depending on the provisions in the lease each individual signed.

Thee is no provision in the Georgia or federal law for a military exception to the termination notice provisions of a lease.

Soldiers, like everyone else, must comply with the termination notice requirements specified in their individual leases. Soldiers are only protected when the lease they sign contains a specific provision that states they, as the tenants, may terminate the lease with a shorter written notice period, or no notice at all, if they receive orders transferring them to another military installation, or if they obtain on-post housing.

It is not common that leases automatically contain such clauses. It is the responsibility of the soldier to negotiate to have such a clause included in the lease if one is not already there.

If the landlord wants to rent to you, he should be willing to compromise and include a military clause. If not, you will be well advised to look for an apartment elsewhere.

Remember, you do not receive orders to move on post, so make sure that provision is clearly included in your lease.

The following clause is recommended as a military clause:

Should the tenant, pursuant to permanent change of station orders issued by proper military authority, be required to relocate to an area more than 50 miles from Fort Benning, or should the tenant, pursuant to notification from the Fort Benning Housing Office that he has received on-post housing, be required to occupy such housing immediately or lose his priority on the housing list, the tenant may terminate this lease upon 15 days written notice to the landlord.

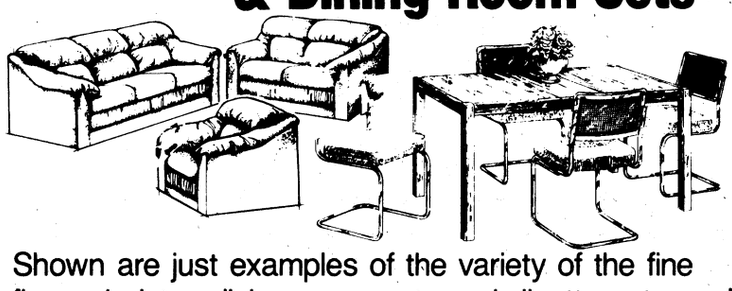
If the lease you have signed does not have a military clause in it, all may not be lost. Although the lease may provide that the tenant has to pay rent for the full period of the written notice, usually 60 days, the landlord has a legal obligation to mitigate the damages he suffers because you moved out early.

In plain terms, the landlord can't just sit back and collect the 60 days of rent and do nothing. The landlord has the obligation to try to rent the place to someone else.

If he does find another tenant, he cannot collect rent from you as well as the new tenant. Consequently, that part of the rent payable during the termination notice period that covers the time that the new tenants were occupying the premises would be refundable to you.

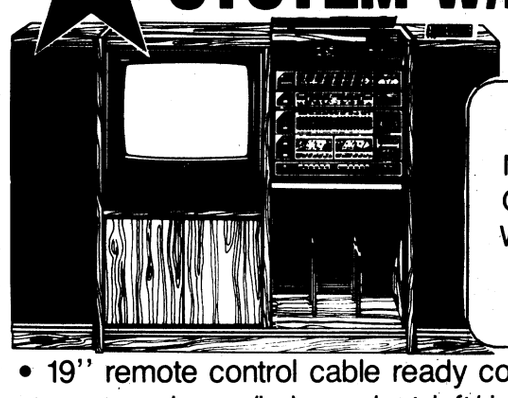
However, if the landlord tries to rent the premises and can't find another tenant, he is suffering because you decided to leave before the lease was over. Therefore, you would probably not be refunded the rent paid during that termination notice period.

As with any contract you are thinking of signing, it is a good idea to bring the lease into the Legal Assistance Office for one of the attorneys to review it before you sign it. Then you will know exactly what you are agreeing to. Once you've signed the lease, you have lost the one major bargaining chip that you had — the fact that the landlord wants your business.



Read the Classified Pages Everyday For Bargains
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
Call 322-4500

AUTO STORAGE WAREHOUSE
• SPRINKLER
• BURGLAR ALARM
• INSULATED
by MONTH or YEAR
ALLIED BONDED WHSE.
4301 ALLIED DR.
COLUMBUS (404) 687-0222



OPENING SOON!!!
long distance phone center
687-8666
MR CHECK CASHER
3809 VICTORY DRIVE
COLUMBUS GA
(TRAFFIC CIRCLE)

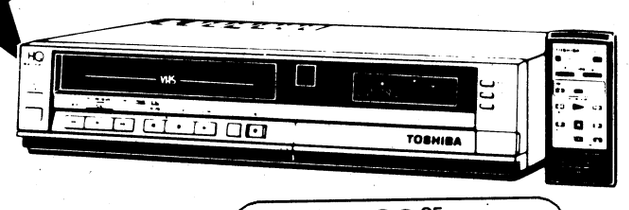
◆ JVC ◆ KICKER ◆ PERCISION POWER
CREATIVE CAR STEREO
● SALES
● SERVICE
● INSTALLATION
● CUSTOM BUILT CABINETS
10 IN. PYLE WOOFERS $59.95 PR.
10% Off Any Purchase with this Ad. (Valid til 6-1-89)
3593 Victory Drive (across from Auto Shack) 689-3508
◆ PYLE ◆ TOSHIBA ◆ NIGHT STALKER ◆ SUNKYOUG

★ ELECTRONICS ★ JEWELRY
DEVON
Home Center Stores
★ FURNITURE ★ APPLIANCES

★ 25% OFF
REGULAR PRICE ON
Selected Living Room & Dining Room Sets

Shown are just examples of the variety of the fine fine upholstery living room sets and dinette sets you'll have to choose from. (Selections may vary by store)

5 STAR SALE
Serving the Military & Civil Service with...
★ CONVENIENT CREDIT
★ NO DOWN PAYMENT
★ TAKE IT HOME TODAY
★ FREE FINANCING
If contract is paid within twelve (12) months of 1st contract due date, we will refund finance charges on that purchase.



★ SOUNDESIGN A/V SYSTEM W/REMOTE

WAS 76.50 per month
NOW 63.75 plus tax per month
SALE $999.99
Def. Pmt. $1,147.50
• 19" remote control cable ready color TV • AM/FM stereo receiver w/independent left/right channel 5 band graphic EQ • Dual cassette w/synchro-start,high speed dubbing & continuous play • Semi auto turntable

★ 25% OFF
REGULAR PRICE ON Selected Bedroom Sets

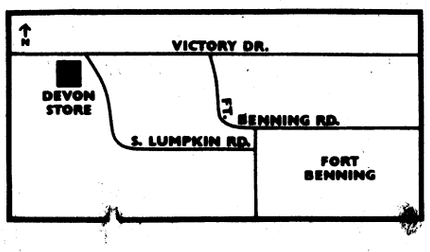
Choose from Contemporary, Traditional and Early American styles. Sets include dressers, mirrors, headboards, chests, nightstands and more.
(Selections may vary by store)
REMEMBER MOTHER'S DAY MAY 14TH WITH A GIFT FROM DEVON



★ SANYO AM/FM DUAL CASSETTE STEREO

WAS 179.99 NOW 149.99 plus tax
• 5 band graphic equalizer • High speed dubbing, continuous playback & synchronous dubbing • AC/DC operation • Line-In/CD jacks • Detachable 2-way, 4 speaker system

★ TOSHIBA VCR/HQ

WAS 38.25 per month
NOW 31.87 plus tax per month
SALE $499.99
Def. Pmt. $573.66
• 122 channel cable compatible • 14 day/4 event programmable • 19 function wireless remote • One touch timer • 2 speed picture search & slow motion

HOME ENTERTAINMENT, STEREOS, TV'S, VCR'S, JEWELRY, APPLIANCES, FURNITURE
SALE ENDS MAY 17, 1989

COLUMBUS #270
3296 Victory Drive
(404) 689-1210

Mon.-Fri. 10am to 8pm;
Sat. 10am to 5pm;
Sun. 1pm to 5pm

WE FINANCE ALL QUALIFIED MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE
Per month pricing based on no down payment with 17.9% annual percentage for 18 months. Mutiply monthly payments by 18 months for total cost. Price may vary depending on local sales tax, insurance or warranty.

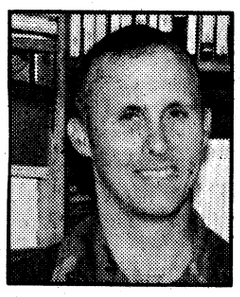
School board elections Tuesday

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

Fort Benning parents will head for the polls Tuesday, from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. to elect school board representatives for Dexter, Faith, Loyd, Patch, White and Wilbur schools.

Patch and Wilbur candidates will be elected for two-year terms.

Wilson and McBride School representatives have one more year remaining in their two-year terms of office. Since there are no "at large" seats being filled during this election, there will be no election in these two schools.



Parents or guardians who live in the student's immediate household are eligible to vote in each election for the school representative where they have a child in attendance.

Absentee ballots for eligible voters who are unable to vote on election day can be obtained if the parent has a legitimate and prior commitment preventing voting from 8 a.m. to 4 p.m. on election day. Applications for absentee ballots can be obtained by visiting the school's office until close of business Monday.

Voting will take place at each school, where a sealed box will be placed in a centralized location. When the ballots are counted, no fewer than three eligible voters will be present.

There are eight candidates running in the upcoming election. Four of these candidates will run on uncontested ballots.

The candidates were asked to provide background information and thoughts pertinent to their candidacy for the school board. Their replies, as submitted, are included.

Nathan A. Godwin

The candidate for representative from Dexter School.

I am a Georgia native that attended Georgia public schools until my attendance and graduation from the U.S. Military Academy in 1976. I am a soldier and family man very interested in the education of our children. I am an avid supporter of public schools over private schools. However, I am extremely concerned with the erosion of "parents rights" in the education of our children. I feel parents should be actively involved and included in the selection of education material, philosophies and control of our schools. I pledge to work hard at keeping parents informed and involved. I will work earnestly to ensure our teachers and educators work for us, the parents — who pay their salaries.

Beth Orloff

The candidate for representative from Dexter school.

Since arriving at Fort Benning in 1986, I have taken a keen interest in the educational opportunities and services provided for the community. As Dexter School Parent-Teacher Action Committee chairman in 1988, I helped organize and conduct the activities and programs with which Dexter families have become very familiar. Serving as the Dexter representative to the school board since December 1988, I have gained experience and insight into the needs many of the students at Dexter and their parents share. As the Dexter School Board member, I will continue to solicit ideas, comments and suggestions for improvement and excellence in education for our sons and daughters.

Kathleen Meade

The candidate for representative from Faith School.

I have always taken an active role in the education of my children. I have served on the boards of two PTAs — one in San Antonio in the public school system and one in Kaiserslautern, Germany, in the DODDS system. I have also worked as a parent volunteer in the classroom.

I would like the opportunity to continue this service as a member of the Fort Benning School Board, working with the teachers, students and parents to maintain the highest of educational standards of Faith Middle School.

Joan Cole

The candidate for representative from Loyd School.

With two children who will be attending Loyd School this year, I am interested in the overall quality of our children's education. I am also concerned about safety in our schools.

Claudia Moore

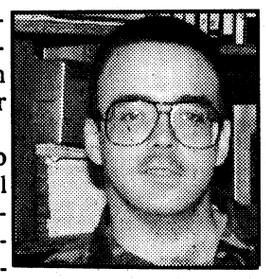
The candidate for representative from Patch School.

I have been actively involved in education as an elementary teacher, a volunteer and a parent. I served as an elected member of the DODD Schools Advisory Council in Seoul, Korea. During our last assignment, I served on the Child Development Center Advisory Board at the Fort Hood, Texas.

As a parent of three children in the Fort Benning School system, I have a sincere interest in maintaining the high standards that currently exist.

Carolyn Bulliner

The candidate for representative from Wilbur School.



As an active duty parent of two daughters, I am very interested in ensuring quality education for the military child. I feel this can be best accomplished by actively serving my community as a member of the school board.

Gerhea W. Chuber

The candidate for representative from White School.

I have made children and education my life's work. I have a bachelors degree in English from UNC-Charlotte. I have taught at high school and junior college levels. I am the mother of two sons and have always taken an active role in their education, including teaching at the preschool my sons attended. In the years since, I have been a volunteer at my son's schools, believing strongly in the idea that parents and educators, together, play a vital role in the development of our children. I realize some parents do not have enough time to work as closely with their children's schools as they might wish. I intend to bridge that gap by being a liaison between the school administration and the parents.

James Bradshaw

The representative from Wilbur School.

The job of school board representative is important because the elected members ensure quality, professional education to our children at Fort Benning.

I feel because I am a service member, I can and will ensure the educational needs of the children here are met.

June 30 deadline nears for Montgomery GI Bill

By Donna Miles
American Forces Information

The clock's running out for soldiers who want to reverse their decision not to participate in the Montgomery GI Bill. June 30 is the last day of a seven-month extension granted by Congress to make sure all eligible non-enrolled soldiers get a shot at the Army's latest educational assistance program.

The Montgomery GI Bill, named for its chief sponsor, Rep. G.V. "Sonny" Montgomery, provides education benefits for veterans. Active-duty soldiers have $1,200 withheld from their basic pay, generally at the rate of $100 a month for a year. In turn, the government pays up to $9,000 in education benefits for a two-year term of service and as much as $10,800 for a term of service of three years or more. Educational benefits are paid monthly by the Veterans Administration.

"It won't and isn't intended to pay all college expenses, but it might just make the difference for some soldiers who'd like to continue their education but who think they can't afford it," said Lt. Col. Bob Jaynes, program manager for enlistment incentives at the Pentagon.

Soldiers appear to agree that the Montgomery GI Bill is a good deal. Since the program began in 1985, 83 percent of new recruits have chosen to enroll. And for more than a year and a half, more than 90 percent of new recruits have chosen to participate.

The soldiers getting the Army's "second-chance" deal are the 10 to 17 percent who initially declined participation when they reported for basic training. "We want to offer all eligible soldiers the chance to take advantage of this program before they leave the service," Jaynes said.

The extension applies to all active-duty soldiers who first entered duty between July 1, 1985, and June 30, 1988, and who have served continuously on active duty.

To sign up before the June 30 deadline, non-participating soldiers should contact their personnel offices.

In addition to a one-time enrollment open period, Congress also approved several other changes to the Montgomery GI Bill that make it an even better deal for soldiers. Among these new benefits are:

- A one-time opportunity to withdraw from up to six semester hours or the equivalent of course-work without showing mitigating circumstances. This provision takes effect June 1.
- Continued educational benefits for soldiers who are involuntarily discharged for the convenience of the government during a reduction in force before they are able to complete the minimum service requirement for benefit eligibility. This is retroactive to Oct. 1, 1987, and affects soldiers who received early-outs during the Army's latest force reductions.
- Payment of benefits for participants discharged early due to a pre-existing, but undetected, medical condition. Soldiers in this category are now eligible to receive one month of educational assistance for each month of continuous active duty served after July 1, 1985.
- Payment of benefits under the MGIB as well as the Veterans' Educational Assistance Program, of VEAP, for refresher or deficiency courses needed to enable the veteran to pursue an approved course of study. This provision will take effect Aug. 15.

The Linen Outlet

MAY DAY SALE
SAVE AN ADDITIONAL 10% on already markdown Merchandise (up to 50% off)
all Sales Final
No Layaways
Open M-S 10-6

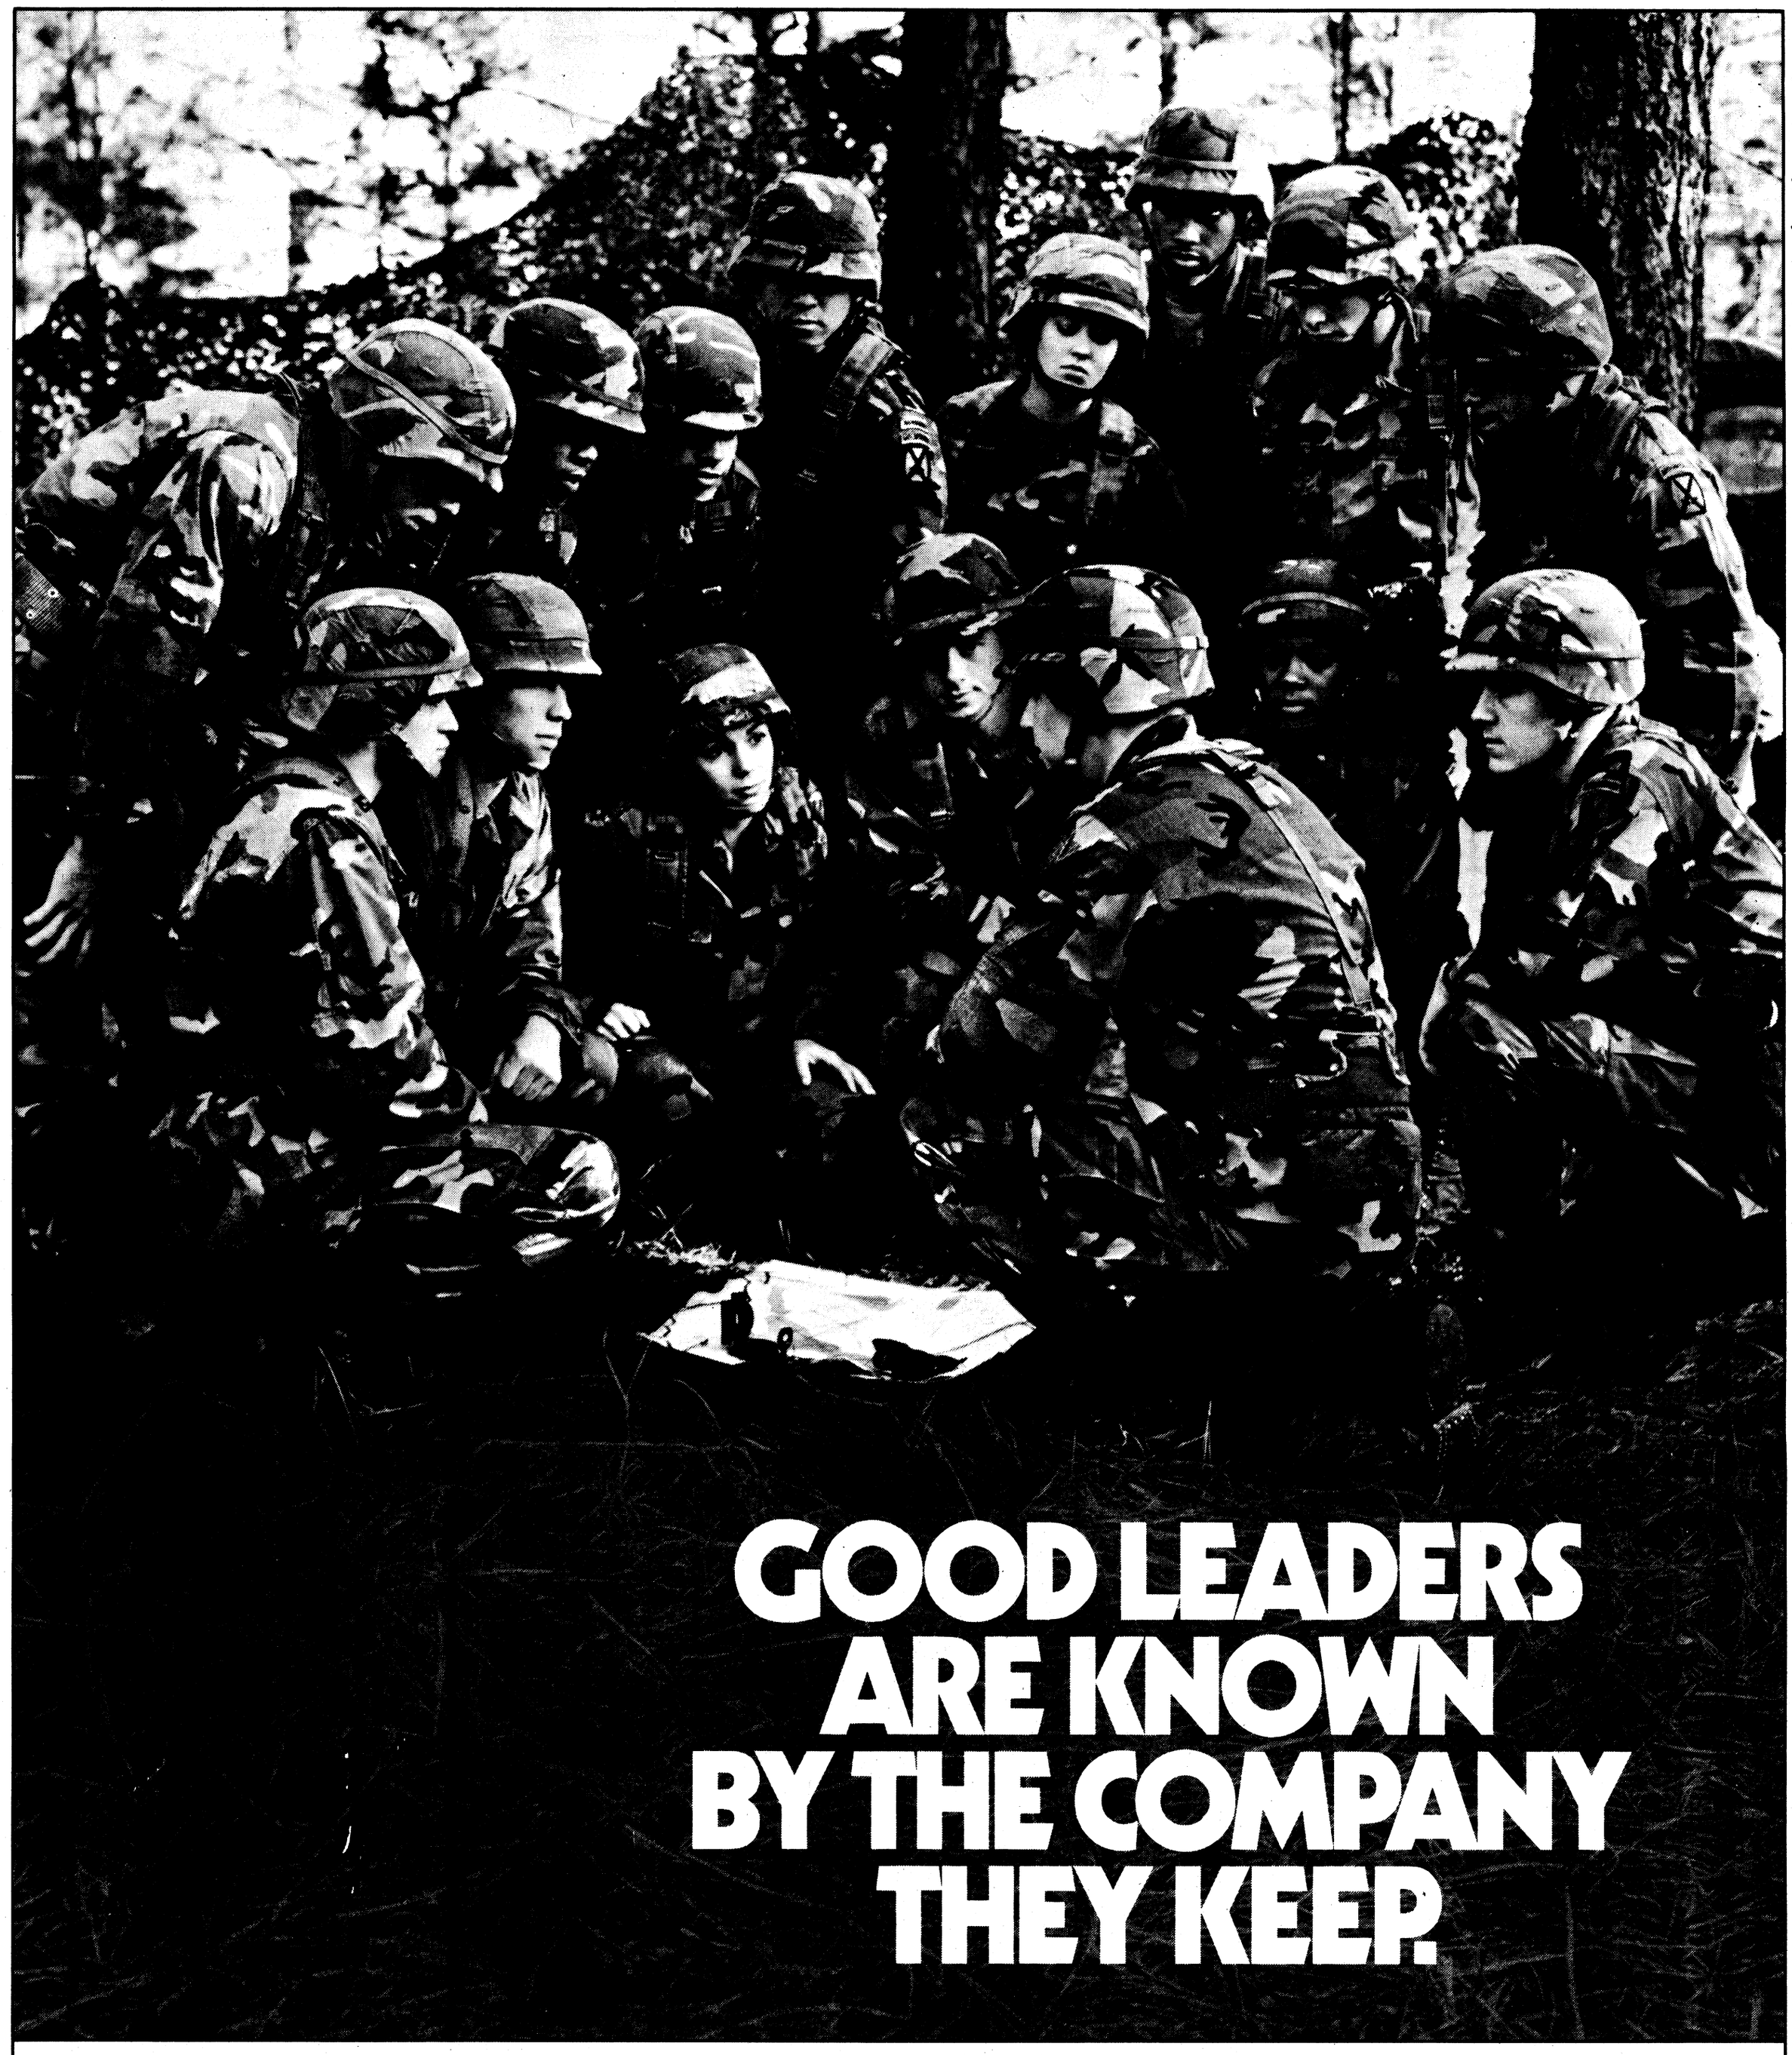
2211 Wynnton Rd.
323-9211

Need Auto Insurance?
Call the Military Specialists
- Low down payment
- Money-saving deductibles
- Affordable payment plan
- 24-hour claim service

CALL TODAY
689-2787
2029 S. Lumpkin Road
Oakland Park Shopping Center
GET TO KNOW GEICO

U.S. Savings Bonds
The Great American Investment
1-800-US-BONDS

GOLD'S GYM®
"A Gym for Every Body"
PRE-SALE SPECIAL
NO ENROLMENT FEE*
30 DAY GUARANTEE*
* First 250 Members
- EXTENDED HOURS
- CIRCUIT LINES
- FREEWEIGHT EQUIPMENT
- CARDIOVASCULAR EQUIPMENT
- BEACH VOLLEYBALL
- AEROBICS
- WOLFF TANNING SYSTEM
- PROSHOP
- FULL SPA FACILITY
- INDOOR TRACK



OPEN MAY 1st
-PRESALE ONLY-
WINDSOR VILLAGE SHOPPING CENTER
(1 mile east of airport)
569-7753 569-7754
A Licensee of Gold's Gym Ent. Inc.

REENLIST
UNITED STATES ARMY
Fort Benning
HOME SWEET HOME.
If you're happy where you are and like what you're doing you can reenlist under the Current Station Stabilization Option and stay in place without disruption of personal or family life.
You have the choice of filling any vacancy you're qualified for, or continuing to do what you've been doing.
And if you have a family, this means they'll continue to enjoy the friends and surrounding environment that make this the right place to work and live.
If you're approaching reenlistment and this idea appeals to you, you owe it to yourself and your family to come in and talk about the possibilities, and bring your spouse with you.

SFC Andrea Huntsberger
Reenlistment NCO Supervisor
USAITC
PH: 544-3853 Bldg. 3082

ARMY.
BE ALL YOU CAN BE.®
REENLIST.

Whether you lead a squad or command a battalion, your ability to help keep good soldiers in the Army is a strong reflection of your effectiveness as a leader.

From the day a young person begins Basic Training, to the last day of his or her enlistment, you make a critical difference. Because the way you lead your soldiers has a lot to do with their decision to reenlist.

Aside from teaching and training, as well as instilling in your people Army values to make them better soldiers, one of the most important things you do is to be a good listener. It lets your soldiers know you care. You make them feel needed. Respected. Appreciated. And, in turn, more likely to want to continue their Army experience.

You can give your soldiers dozens of great reasons to stay in the Army. But the greatest reason of all is the one staring back at you in the mirror: your soldiers are yours to keep.

ARMY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

COMMUNITY

CLASSES

Cake Decorating — Kelley Hill Recreation Center will offer Course II, Fancy Flowers, for advanced cake decorators beginning Thursday. The class will meet for four Thursdays at 6:30 p.m. A fee of $20 will be charged and must be paid by today at the Recreation Center. The instructor, Lisa Garner, is a certified Wilton representative. Learn the art and turn it into a lucrative business. For more information, call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m., 544-1721/3079. (MWR)

CLUBS

Officers' Club

Fifty-five Plus Plan: The Officers' Club now has available a plan that allows a 10-percent discount on all regular lunches and any dinners purchased in the Lexington Room if you are a member of the Officers Club' and 55 years of age or older. Check with the membership cashier and receive your special discount card today, 687-0640.

★

Mother's Day brunch: The Officers' Club will host a Mother's Day brunch Sunday, 10 a.m. until 1:30 p.m. in the Supper Club. Free corsages will be given to mothers who come early. Cost is $7.50 for members and $9.50 for non-members. Call 687-0640 for additional information.

NCO Club

Barbecue feast — Buy all you can eat for $6.95 at the Main NCO Club. Bar-B-Qued ribs and chicken served with baked beans, potato salad, cole slaw, and tossed salad will be available every Wednesday from 6 to 11 p.m. Call 545-2402 for additional information.

EQUIPMENT CHECKOUT

ECC — The Equipment Checkout Center can satisfy and simplify your summertime, leisure needs with a wide assortment of outdoor equipment. Additionally, the ECC can save you money and offer you convenience with moving requirements. The ECC has a fully-stocked assortment of U-Haul trucks, trailers and resale items.

RENTALS	FEES
Camper, self-contained	$17 daily; $100 7 days.
Travel trailer	$12 daily; $60 7 days.
Pop-up camper, fishing boat/ with V-hull	$5 daily
Outboard motor w/tank	$5 daily
Boat trailer	$5 daily
Boat, trailer and motor	$10 daily
Jon boat	$5 daily
Canoe	$5 daily
Canoe trailer	$5 daily
Smoker/cooker trailer	$9 daily
Utility trailer	$2 daily
Motorcycle trailer	$3 daily
Horse trailer	$9 daily
Portable generator	$5 daily
Tent, 8 feet x 10 feet	$5 daily

U-Haul rentals and equipment

*trailers *tow bars
*tow dollies *auto transports
*pet carriers *furniture pads
Resale items
*packing boxes *packing tape
*bubble packing *hitch balls
*light hookups.
*trucks — various sizes available (call ECC for specific information)

The ECC facility is open Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturday and holidays, 8 a.m. to 6 p.m.

For information, call 545-7978. (MWR)

ITT

New hours — Information, Tours & Travel announces the following new hours:
8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday
8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday
9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.

Call 545-7535 for additional information. (MWR)

★

Summertime specials — The Fort Benning ITT Office is offering the following summertime specials: Six Flags tickets, White Water tickets, Disney packets, discount movie tickets, military lodging rates and Airlink Bus tickets to and from Atlanta.

Call 545-7535/545-4155 for additional information. (MWR)

MEETINGS

The Society of American Military Comptrollers — The Fort Benning Chapter of the American Society of Military Comptrollers will hold a meeting Thursday at the Fort Benning Officers' Club at 11:30 a.m. The guest speaker will be Alexander A. Scarborough from La Grange, Ga., speaking on "Putting Petroleum and Fossil Fuels in Proper Perspective." Scarborough is a graduate of the University of Georgia and Georgia Institute of Technology with degrees in Chemistry and Chemical Engineering. He has developed a new scientific theory of the formation of oil, coal and gas — one that contradicts the fossil fuels theory. Scarborough said, "We must forsake such beliefs that the Earth is flat, that its core is iron and rock, that fuels were made from fossils, that energy is finite and that planets are created from dust and gases. Such concepts have too long misled scientists down blind alleys."

★

Fort Benning Management Association — The Fort Benning Management Association will conduct its May meeting Thursday at 11:30 a.m. at the Main Post NCO Club. The speaker will be Bernard Pfeiffer, chief, Administrative Law Division, Staff Judge Advocate, who will present a program entitled, "The Ethical Crisis in Government." Pfeiffer will discuss common ethical problems faced by government employees, supervisors and managers. The discussion is directed toward "installation" problems — it is a must for all government employees. The cost of the lunch is $4.55 for salisbury steak and $3.75 for chef salad. Call in reservations by Monday to Carol Harris at 545-5580/5656.

★

Camcorder Club meeting — The next meeting of the Kelley Hill Camcorder Club will be at 7 p.m., May 24. If you already own or are planning to buy a camcorder, join the group. Bring something you have filmed and meet with people who share the same interests. For more information, call Wednesday through Saturday, noon to 9 p.m., 544-1721/3079.

WIVES' CLUBS

Officers' Wives' Club

OWC luncheon — The Officers' Wives' Club will have its monthly luncheon Wednesday at the Officers' Club. Sherry hour begins at 11 a.m. and lunch at 11:30. Cost of the luncheon is $5. The hostess unit is 29th Infantry Regiment. The guest speaker will be Joyce Ward, creator of the Vidalia Onion doll. Entertainment will be provided by the Benning Bells. Reservations are required. For more information, call Dickie Newton at 689-8414.

★

School of Dance — The Officers' Wives' Club School of Dance offers the following classes for all military families, active duty, retired, officer or enlisted:

Ballet — Jane Frenkel 563-0294
Gymnastics — Kelly Cargill 563-8176
Karate — John Touchton 1-582-3117
Heartbeat Aerobics — Kathy Greene 682-9854
Tap and Jazz — Rae Lavingne 687-1784
Performing Arts — Libbie Kurinec 322-6942
Piano — Diane Swiecicki 297-6524
Guitar — Lewis Finn 563-0099

For those interested in a specific class, please call the instructor. For general information, call Bonnie Burton, 689-6284.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES

Pools — Youth Services pools will open for the 1989 swim season June 10. The pool is located on McIver Street and is open to children of active duty and retired military personnel.

★

Ballet classes — The Youth Activities Center has vacancies for ballet classes. These classes are taught by a professional dance instructor and spaces are limited. Call 545-3070 for an appointment. (MWR)

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteer — The following volunteer opportunities are available at Fort Benning:

Red Cross is taking applications from individuals between the ages of 12 and 18 for the Youth Volunteer Program. Applicants who are 12 years old must currently be in the 7th grade to qualify. Positions are available in Martin Army Community Hospital, the Veterinary Clinic and Sayers Memorial Library to name a few. Applications must be completed and retired to the main Red Cross Office, building 1699, no later than 4 p.m. May 31. Orientation will be held June 3 from 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. in the Baugh Conference Room at MACH. For more information, call the American Red Cross at 545-5194.

Red Cross has an opening for chairman of the Veterinary Clinic. Duties are administrative and supervisory. This summer teens may volunteer to work in the Veterinary Clinic. If you have a teen and would like to work side by side, this is the position for you.

If your background includes teen-agers, consider working with the Red Cross Youth Program. This is your chance to help direct the future volunteers of America. The program runs from the end of May to late August.

Volunteers are needed for Vacation Bible School, which will be held from June 19 to 23. This is an opportunity to volunteer without committing to a long-term project and still do something worthwhile.

Volunteer positions will be available for youth at the Job Fair Wednesday from 3-5 p.m. at the Youth Activities Center.

For more information on these opportunities or a listing of others, call Karen Crowley at the Volunteer Resource Center, 545-5602.

YES!

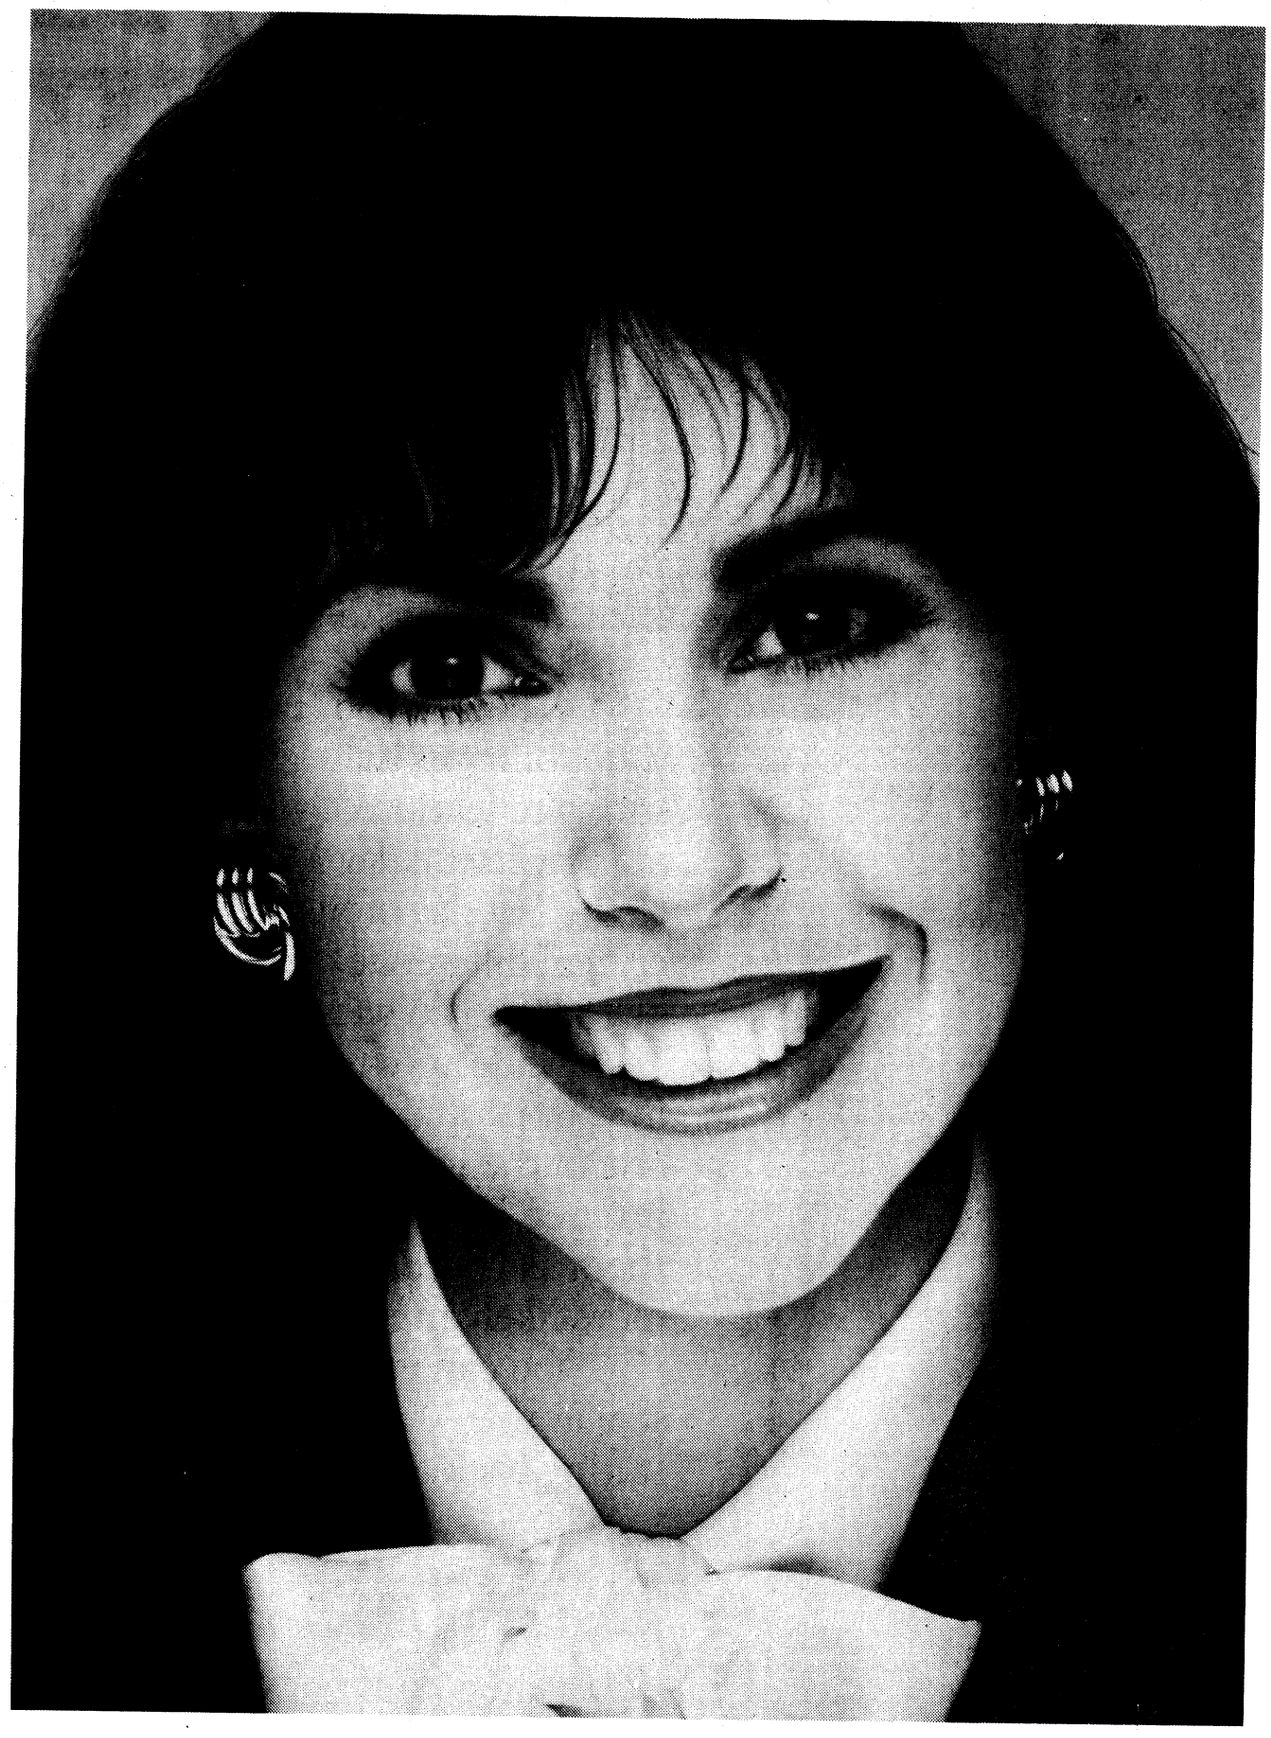
WE CAN HELP YOU TAKE COMMAND OF YOUR FINANCES

Whenever you need cash, just call or drop by your nearest Avco office. We'll do everything we can to say "Yes!" right then and there.

Yes! We can give you the cash you need when it's time to go on leave.

Yes! We can help you furnish your home.

Yes! We can help you buy a motorcycle, a stereo... or anything else you need.



And, yes! We can even show you how to pay off all your bills and replace them with one, affordable monthly payment.

Just imagine. No more car payments. No furniture installments, or charge account balances.

At Avco, we make loans to military personnel every day. We've been doing it for years.

We give you the credit you deserve... because we think you've earned it...and we like to say "Yes!"

All loans subject to credit approval.

5300 Sidney Simmons Blvd. #3
Columbus
Janelle Vidal, Manager
(404) 576-5229

Avco Financial Services®

Delta Force seeks Benning recruits

JSAIC Public Affairs Office

A Delta Force recruiting team will visit Fort Benning Monday through May 26 to recruit interested soldiers for the elite unit.

Soldiers who meet prerequisites and would like to find out more about qualifying for Delta Force are encouraged to attend one of the following briefings in Building 4, Classroom 9.

Monday — 1 p.m.
Tuesday — 9 a.m. through 1 p.m.
Wednesday — 9 a.m. through 1 p.m.
Thursday — 9 a.m.

In addition, the Delta Team will visit the 5th Ranger Training Battalion at Dahlonega, Ga., May 22 and the 6th Ranger Training Battalion at Eglin Air Force Base, Fla., May 24.

Physical Fitness Qualification Tests will be administered at 7:30 a.m. May 19 on Stewart Field located in front of Building 4. A make-up PFQT will be conducted at the same time and location May 25. Immediately following the PFQT, a 100-meter swim test will be administered at Briant Wells Pool, building 933. The uniform for the PFQT and swim test is BDUs and combat boots.

Members of the Delta Force Team will conduct personal follow-up interviews with previously selected applicants from Fort Benning and answer questions from commanders May Tuesday through Thursday. Between 1 a.m. and 5 p.m. May 19, the team will complete administrative testing. On May 26, the team will complete applications and personal interviews.

To meet criteria for selection/assignment, soldiers must:

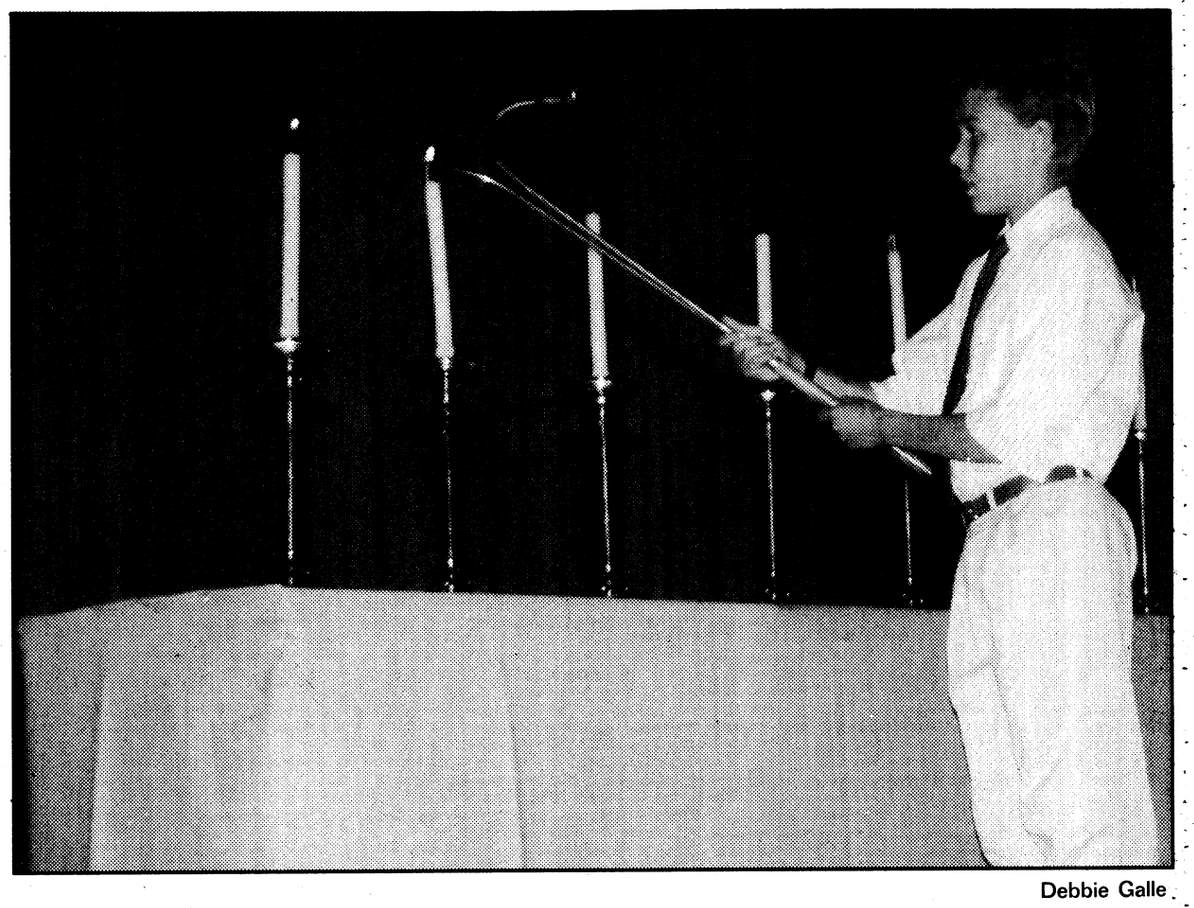
- Be male
- Be a U.S citizen
- Be able to pass a background security investigation
- Be able to pass the physical fitness qualification test, which includes:
  - 40 pushups in one minute
  - 40 situps in one minute
  - Run, dodge and jump
  - Inverted crawl
  - 2-mile run in 16 minutes
  - 100-meter swim event while wearing BDUs and combat boots
- Pass a Class II physical examination
- Have no permanent limiting physical profile
- Be airborne qualified or volunteer for airborne duty after selection
- Have no history of continuing disciplinary actions
- Pass formal assessment and selection course conducted by Delta

Additional criteria for officers

- Combat Arms branch
- Hold rank of captain or major and be on active duty
- Be a graduate of the Advanced Course
- Possess a BS or BA degree
- Have completed 12 months successful company, battery, troop, aviation platoon, Special Forces detachment command time.

Additional criteria for enlisted soldiers

- Be qualified in present military occupational specialty
- Hold a rank of sergeant through sergeant first class with a minimum of four years time in service
- Have two years active service remaining after assignment. Soldiers may extend or reenlist to meet this requirement after the selection course.
- Have a GT score of 110 or above (may be retested)
- Be no younger than 22 years old.



SPIRITUAL

Debbie Galle

Words of wisdom

Brig. Gen. William M. Steele, post assistant commandant of USAIS (I) speaks to Alex Gross, holocaust survivor, after his speech on the atrocities of the holocaust during Fort Benning's fourth annual Holocaust Memorial Ceremony. Gross spoke to more than 500 people about his experiences in two concentration camps during World War II.

Debbie Galle

Flames of hope

Ben Engel lights candles to symbolize the 11 concentration camps in which millions of Jews died during World War II. Engel, with a group of 7th-graders from Faith Middle School, participated in a candle-lighting ceremony during the Holocaust Memorial Ceremony May 5.

CHAPEL BRIEFS

USAIC Chaplain's Office

Ecumenical

Vacation Bible School — Plan now for Vacation Bible School. Classes will be held from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. June 19 to 23 at Dexter, McBride and Wilson schools. Classes will include Bible study, music, crafts, recreation and refreshments. Adult volunteers are needed. Call 545-2050 for more information.

Catholic

The Military Council of Catholic Women — The First Friday meeting of the MCCW is today at 9:30 a.m. in the Religious Education Center. Rosary will be followed by a Mass and induction of the new board. A pot-luck luncheon will follow. Baby-sitting is provided. Call Bobbie Pearce, 687-6145, for more information.

Protestant

The Protestant Women of the Chapel — PWOC meets each Thursday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Religious Education Center. Baby-sitting is provided. Contact Debby Godwin, 687-7157, or Annette Saul, 682-1157, for more information.

Youth Alive — Two non-denominational junior high youth groups meet each Sunday from 6:30 to 8:30 p.m. at the Infantry Center Chapel annex, and the Senior High Group meets in the Religious Educaiton Center. Youths are encouraged to attend for fun and Christian fellowship.

Prayer Breakfast — The monthly Prayer Breakfast for May will be at 6:30 a.m., Tuesday at the TIC Chapel annex. All interested personnel are invited. Please make reservations at the chapel office or call 545-2971/2359.

Chaplain tells story of Biblical mother

By Chap. Richard L. Pace
1st Infantry Training Brigade Chaplain

(This story is based on the gospel according to Matthew and Mark)

I am a mother who loves her daughter more than anything and when she became ill, was determined to get help at any cost.

I approached a group of men cautiously, it was not the accepted practice for a woman to approach a group of men.

"Will they help me, or will they harm me?" Confused thoughts filled my head. The men were of an ethnic group that did not believe in socializing with outsiders.

I was afraid, but I could only think of my daughter's condition. Most of the time she was normal, but then, without warning she would act strange and go into a frightening frenzy. My neighbors said she must be filled with an evil spirit.

My hope for a cure was renewed when I heard about a man who was a prophet or preacher. If anyone could help my daughter, I was convinced this man could.

As I drew closer to the men, my searching eyes fell on the face of the one I knew was the special person. With all the courage I could muster, I ran into the middle of the group, fell at his feet and pleaded with him to help my daughter.

One of the men said, "Jesus, should we send her away?" But the one called Jesus gestured with his hand, and the men became quiet. He spoke to me in a parable.

"First let the children eat all they want, for it is not right to take the children's bread and toss it to their dog."

As a mother, I knew what he was saying to me. Just as I feed my children before I feed my pet dog, he must first minister to his own people before he ministers to foreigners.

"Yes Lord, but even the dogs under the table eat the children's crumbs!" In my heart I new Jesus could heal my child, and I was not leaving until he did.

I then heard the most exciting words of my life. Jesus answered, "Woman, you have great faith! Your request is granted."

Years later, when my daughter gave birth to her own child, I reminded her again, as I had often done, of my first contact with Jesus. Then I gave her this advice. "Be a mother who loves her child and has faith in Jesus to help her child in every situation, no matter how desperate the need. And finally, be a mother who is determined to not give up "

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)
2622 Macon Road
Douglas A. Garner, Pastor
Sunday School 9:45AM
Morning Worship 11:00AM
EVERYONE WELCOME!

SOUTH COLUMBUS UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
1213 Benning Drive
10 Minutes from Ft. Benning
Sunday School 9:45 am
Morning Worship 11:00 am
689-5094

ROSE HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST
7479 Old Moon Road
DAVID G. SPIECE, MINISTER
• BIBLE STUDY 10:00 AM
• EVENING WORSHIP 6:30 PM
• WEDNESDAY MIDWEEK SERVICE 7:30 PM

First Assembly of God
1309 10th Ave. at 13th St.
Phenix City, Ala.
WELCOMES ALL
Military Personnel
to worship with us.
Sunday School 9:45
Services 10:45
Evening Service 6:00pm

OUR LADY OF LOURDES CATHOLIC CHURCH
Located near Ft. Benning
at 1953 Torch Hill Rd.
Phone 689-5720
SATURDAY VIGIL
MASS 5:30pm
SUNDAY MASSES
8:30am & 11:00am

NORTHSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(A New Testament Church)
1442 Double Churches Road
Sunday School 9:45am
Morning Worship 10:45am
Evening Worship 6:00pm
Spencer Arnold, Minister
324-5220

NORTH HIGHLAND ASSEMBLY OF GOD
7300 Livingston Drive Columbus, Georgia 31909
Weekly Service Schedule
Sunday School 9:30am, Worship 10:30am & 6pm
Wednesday Evening, Family Night 7:00pm
(Children & Youth Activities—Adult Bible Study)
Security Parking Nursery
Jimmy R. Swilley, Sr. Pastor For Information call (404) 561-7777

ONE HOUR PHOTO™
Exchange Service Concessionaire
ANNOUNCES A NAME CHANGE TO
FOUR STAR PHOTO INC.
1 Hour Photo Service
at Main PX Mall Bldg. 9230
682-9787
24 HOUR DROP OFF & PICK UP SERVICES AVAILABLE AT
● Bldg. 10800 Custer Terrace Shoppette
● Bldg. 4 Infantry Hall PX
● Bldg. 3218 Sand Hill PX Mall
● Bldg. 1711 Main Post Mini Mall
● Bldg. 9002 Kelley Hill PX

Q: WHAT'S THE MOST IMPORTANT JOB IN THE ARMY?

A: EVERYONE'S.

That's right. Even though it may seem tedious or insignificant, we know the job you're doing is important. More important than you even realize.

Because it's part of a much larger picture.

For the Army to run smoothly and efficiently, it needs the efforts of all its soldiers. From the generals to the privates in basic training, the Army needs bright, skilled, dedicated soldiers. Soldiers who really care. Soldiers who try to do their best, in whatever they're asked to do.

Because when soldiers do their part, they keep the Army running strong. And that's what helps keep America strong.

REENLIST ARMY.
BE ALL YOU CAN BE.

Sports

Small Arms Championships begin Monday.
See B-5

Entertainment

Cypress Gardens salutes Armed Forces Memorial Day weekend.
See B-6

Employment restrictions coming for some procurement officers, civilians

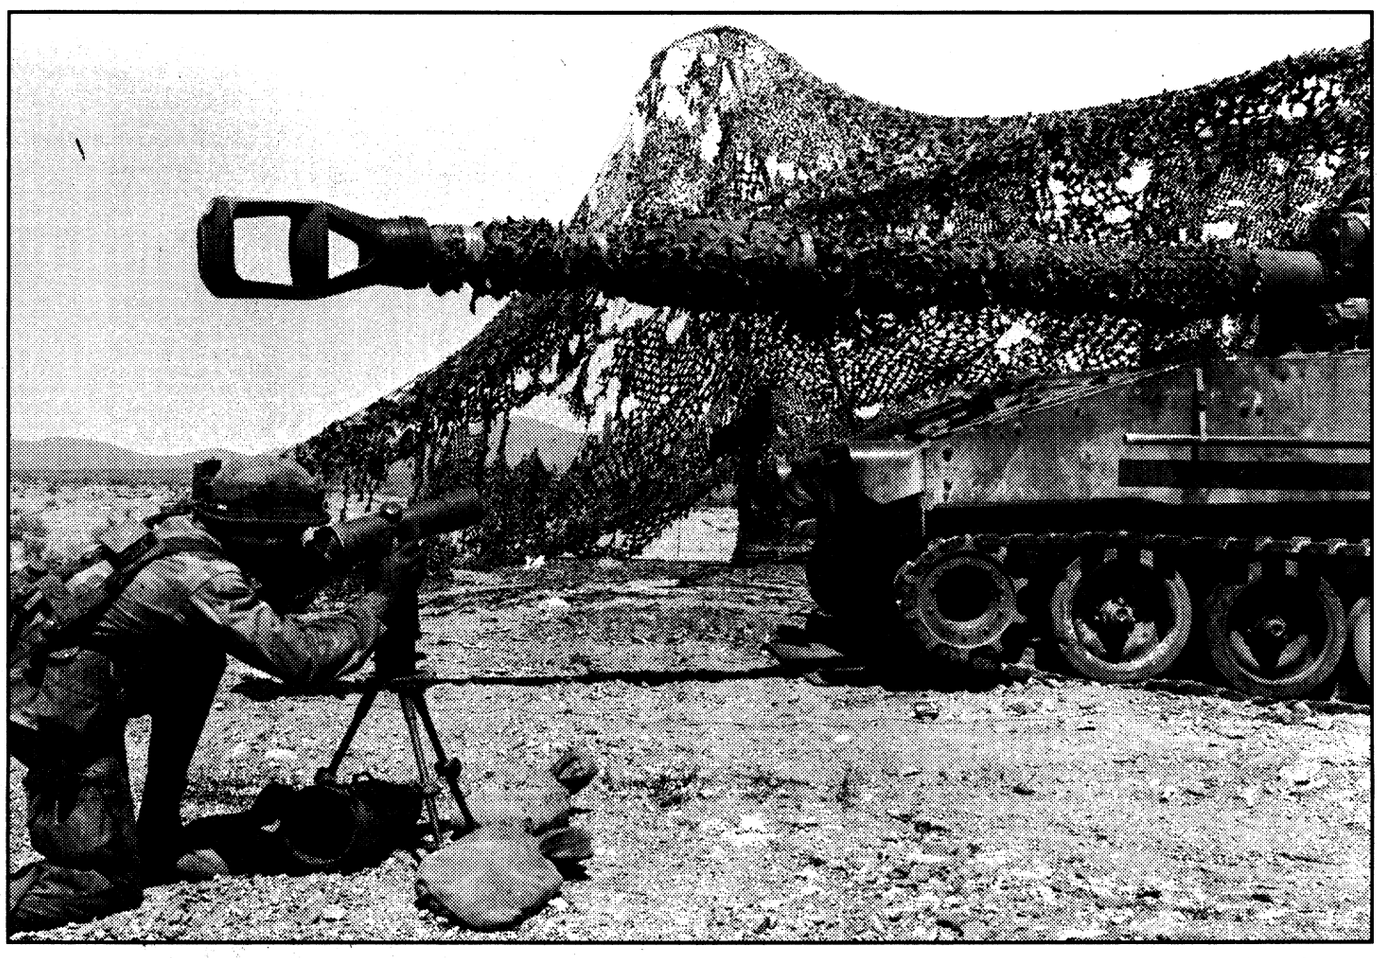
Army News Service

New post-employment restrictions for some Army officers and employees are scheduled to become effective Tuesday, according to officials in the Office of the General Counsel.

The new restrictions are part of the "Procurement Integrity" amendments to the Office of Federal Procurement Policy Act.

Officials say that the new restrictions will only apply to officers or employees still in government service after Monday.

Even for them, the restrictions will be triggered only by actions taken on a contract after that date.



After Monday, Army officers and government employees in procurement positions will be restricted from certain employment activities for two years after the last date of their participation in procurement-related activities.

The restrictions apply under the following circumstances:

- If the officer or employee was "personally and substantially" involved in the conduct of a particular Army procurement.
- If the officer or employee personally reviewed and approved the award, modification or extension of any contract for that procurement.

The new restrictions bar affected officers and employees from participating in any activity on behalf of a competing contractor in any negotiations for the award, modification or extension of a contract for that particular procurement.

Officers and employees will also be barred from participating personally and substantially on behalf of a competing contractor in the performance of such a contract.

Terrence Shaughnessy

Desert warfare

Spec. Robert Perry, C Btry., 4th Bn., 41st Fld. Arty., aligns elevation on an M-901 self-propelled howitzer during the 197th Inf. Bde. desert training at the National Training Center in Fort. Irwin, Calif. Story and more photos on B-2 and B-3.

CHAMPVA members to be enrolled in DEERS

Army News Service

Family members eligible for health care under the Civilian Health and Medical Program of the Veterans Administration began being enrolled in the Defense Enrollment Eligibility Reporting System on April 1.

The Department of Defense and the Department of Veterans Affairs, formerly known as the Veterans Administration, have arranged to enroll in DEERS all those CHAMPVA beneficiaries who have applied for benefits and have been found eligible for civilian health care.

CHAMPVA beneficiaries don't need to complete any new forms or applications for DEERS enrollment.

The DVA has furnished DEERS with an automated listing of CHAMPVA-eligible beneficiaries by Social Security number.

Contractors who process health care claims will use only DEERS to verify eligibility for CHAMPVA benefits before paying claims.

If a CHAMPVA beneficiary's claim is denied and he or she believes an error was made in determining eligibility, the beneficiary should write to CHAMPVA Center, 1055 Clermont Street, Denver, Colo. 80220.

Fitness chief tells Army leaders to rethink PT philosophy

Army News Service

There are major problems with the way some Army units do physical fitness training, and leaders at all levels need to rethink their PT philosophies, says Col. Robert Tetu, commander of the Army Physical Fitness School at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

Tetu made his remarks to senior leaders attending the Army Chief of Staff's training conference and Army theme general officer steering committee meeting at the Pentagon April 17.

Tetu based his conclusion on visits to more than 70 installations in CONUS and overseas, and on a study of the Army Physical Fitness Test that involved several thousand soldiers at 14 different locations.

The visits and the study revealed an "unacceptable" percentage of soldiers between 18 and 26 can't pass the two-mile run on the APFT, and Tetu blames this on persistence of what he calls "the daily dozen and unit run mentality."

Tetu says these PT programs may look good, but they don't provide the kind of training soldiers need to be truly fit.

"To improve stamina, soldiers' heart rates must be elevated to 75-80 percent of maximum during exercise, and kept there for at least 20 minutes," Tetu explained, "and this needs to be done three to five times a week."

Unit runs don't accomplish this across the board, because they don't accommodate differing fitness levels among soldiers.

One soldier could elevate his heart rate to 85 percent and still fall out of a nine-minute-mile-paced run, while a soldier in better shape barely gets his heart rate up to 50 percent while easily running at the same pace.

> "Units should set higher fitness test goals or relate PT standards to their mission."
>
> — Col. Robert Tetu
> Army Physical Fitness School Commander

Thus, neither soldier is training at a level that will allow them to even pass the APFT's two-mile run test.

The same reasoning applies to push-ups and sit-ups done in cadence, which doesn't allow most soldiers to get the "overload" effect needed.

Tetu says it's better to do timed sets with each soldier doing as many repetitions as possible during the timed block.

"It's much more effective, even though it doesn't look as neat," he said.

Unit runs do have their place, according to Tetu.

They foster cohesion, teamwork and add variety, but he wants them recognized for what they are — morale, esprit drills only.

He adds that, when PT sessions are limited already, unit runs further take away opportunities to do good, intense PT.

Using running times as standards is a mistake, too, but Tetu says many times that single requirement drives a whole PT program.

Instead, units should set higher fitness test goals or relate PT standards to their mission.

As examples he cites periodic and demanding road marches with heavy loads for light infantry soldiers, strength and endurance exercises — such as pull-ups or sit-ups — for soldiers whose jobs demand it. Unit runs alone won't get you to any of those standards, Tetu says.

Leaders looking for new directions for their PT programs need look no further than the new FM 25-100, which according to Tetu "says it all:"

☐ "Train as you fight" — Relate PT to the combat mission.

☐ "Use doctrine" — FM 21-20: circuit training, strength training and samples of unit programs.

☐ "Train to challenge" — Don't hold anyone back. . .fitness levels vary.

☐ "Train to maintain" — The body needs just as much attention as a tank or howitzer.

Finally, Tetu says, leaders need to take advantage of the more than 7,500 master fitness trainers in the field.

"Don't ignore their training initiatives," he said.

"If we persist in outdated modes of PT, we're doing a disservice to soldiers, wasting valuable training resources and adversely affecting combat readiness."

Please don't pick the flowers

By Becky Ray
Energy Branch

Although Fort Benning is commonly associated with formally planned and carefully tended landscapes, the post also has three wild flower fields, which are unstructured but no less beautiful. These fields are located on Baltzell Avenue at Church Field, 1st Division Road at Green Field and on the corner of 82nd Airborne Division Road and Dixie Road.

Originally planted as an experiment, the flowers have flourished and multiplied each year.

Their return each spring depends upon the seeds left from the season before, so it is important that the flowers aren't taken from the fields.

Picking the flowers could thin out or even destroy the fields.

If left unpicked, the flowers will bloom throughout the summer for all to enjoy.

ARMY NEWS

Army issues advisory on rappelling rope

One of the Army's climbing and rappelling ropes has failed in use, prompting the Army Safety Center at Fort Rucker, Ala. to issue an advisory to units.

The rope, identified as nylon climbing/rappelling rope NSN 4020-00-231-2537, is not to be used, according to an April 20 Safety Center message.

The message asks units to examine their stocks of climbing and rappelling ropes for:

- Any rope marked NSN 4020-00-231-2537.
- Any rope showing evidence of having been remarked from NSN 4020-00-231-2537, or erroneous markings.
- Any ropes traceable to "DSA" contracts.
- Any rope identifiable with "International Cord and Thread Corporation."

A new climbing and rappelling rope, NSN 4020-00-931-8793, has superseded the rope that failed.

★ ★ ★

Officials foresee no 2nd captain board

Although no decision has been made yet about how to make required additional officer strength cuts in fiscal year 1990, Army personnel officials don't foresee a need to continue conducting semi-annual captain and Conditional Voluntary Indefinite status boards for FY 90 and beyond.

Current plans call for returning to an annual board to consider a complete year group of first lieutenants for promotion and CVI status selection. Under this plan, the next captain promotion and CVI selection board will be held during the second quarter of FY 90 — probably in March, officials say.

The return to an annual board will mostly affect certain other-than-Regular Army officers. Those who complete their active duty service obligations before July 1990 will either be offered short-term extensions in order to be considered for promotion and CVI selection, or they must leave the service and give up the opportunity for promotion.

★ ★ ★

Re-enlistment stats 'breaking records'

Army re-enlistments are on a "record-breaking path" for fiscal 1989, say personnel officials.

Through the middle of March, the Army was averaging 112.9 percent of its established re-enlistment goals across the board.

The greatest re-up jump in March was among first-term soldiers. First-term re-enlistments were running at 111.8 percent of the Army's goal in March, compared with 103.1 percent for February.

Re-enlistments for mid-termers — soldiers with between six and 10 years of service — increased almost as much as those for first-termers. Mid-term re-enlistments were at 119.5 percent, compared with 110.5 percent in February.

Career soldiers were re-enlisting at a 108.5 percent rate in March, an increase of 5.7 percent over February's 102.8 percent career re-up rate.

-- from Army News Service reports.

Quote

"The battle is not to the strong alone; it is to the vigilant, the active, the brave."

-- Patrick Henry

197th Infantry Brigade trains in desert

By Clarence Pittman III
197th Infantry Brigade

More than 5,300 soldiers from the 197th Infantry Brigade recently returned from participating in the largest rotational training ever held at Fort Irwin, Calif., according to Fort Irwin officials.

"This also may be the largest heavy-light rotation ever to conduct combined arms operations at the National Training Center," said Col. Harvey D. Watson, 197th Infantry Brigade commander. "It was good because we needed to take advantage of the best training facility in the world."

NTC, which has had thousands of soldiers trained there since 1981, had about 1,800 Screaming Eagles there from the 101st Airborne Division (Air Assault), Fort Campbell, Ky. They were joined by about 3,050 brigade soldiers. Other soldiers from units at Fort Bliss, Texas, Fort Bragg, N.C.; and a National Guard unit in Huntsville, Ala.; rounded out the large force.

"Working with the 197th has been outstanding," said Lt. Col. Thomas D. Kreger, 2nd Battalion, 197th Infantry Regiment, 101st Abn. Div. (Assault), commander. "My soldiers and officers have gained immeasurable experience."

"It's excellent training at NTC because of the open terrain," said PFC Daniel P. Conley, Company B, 311th Military Intelligence, 101st Abn. Div. (Assault). "The wide-open desert allowed our surveillance equipment to detect the enemy out to almost 10,000 meters. At Fort Campbell surveillance distance is limited because of trees and other ground clutter.

The skills and talents of soldiers definitely had an opportunity for improvement, especially against the likes of the opposing forces. Thoroughly trained as a Soviet, motorized rifle regiment, about 1,500 U.S. Army soldiers fight these tactics about 250 days a year, according to Fort Irwin officials.

"When you're training against this OPFOR, you learn how important it is to work together as a unit," said Spec. Tom Kincade, 2nd Battalion, 69th Armor, a Highly Mobile Multipurpose Wheeled Vehicle driver. "The longer we were at NTC, the better we worked together in the realistic scenario, resulting in making the OPFOR look like a less tough opponent."

"As the exercise progressed, we definitely fine tuned many of our skills," said Spec. Kiel Williams, 2nd Bn, 69th Armor, a M-60A3 tank driver. "For example, you have to be patient while working in the heat, and drink a lot of water."

Not only were commanders and first-time leaders of combat arms units tested to the maximum, but combat support and combat service support sections and staff experienced similar tests.

"Learning faster methods of how to breach mine fields and obstacles was a new experience," said PFC Bryan Denning of the 72nd Engineers Company (Combat). "Also, my crew made tremendous improvements in concealing our vehicles out in the open terrain."

"In addition to dealing with the realistic tactical scenario, we had to adjust to the dust and heat. Combining this environment with the necessity to don our chemical protective suits at times really tested our morale," said Spec. Gilbert Newman, a demolition expert with the 72nd Eng. Co. (Combat). "However, because we wanted to complete our mission, we would drive on."

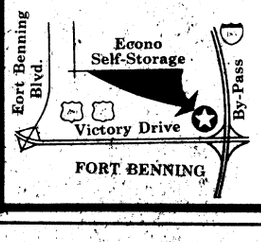
One of the most important factors that affected the performance of everyone was the logistical emphasis on maintaining the supply route. Ammunition, food, water, wheel and track vehicle parts and other supplies had to be maintained to fight the battles.

"We had to properly use the logistical system to obtain the correct types and weights of food, water, ice and ammo," said PFC. Gary Bodiford, Co. C, 197th Spt. Bn., transportation driver. "These types of items become a real priority out in the desert to keep the 197th going."

Added to the overall training taxation was the task of molding new soldiers into a unit's plans.

"About half my platoon is composed of new soldiers," said SFC Luiz Diaz, Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 1st Battalion, 58th Infantry. "We've only had about a month of training prior to NTC, however, I feel we'll greatly benefit from this experience in the long run."

In agreement with his assessment was PFC Mark MacDonald, Co. E, 1st Bn., 58th Inf. who said, "We quickly improved on tactical movement techniques and other forms of tactics when we experienced more than 100 OPFOR vehicles charging at our position."



This great feeling of self-improvement appears to be a shared by many soldiers during this rotation. The overall objective is to allow units to fully stretch out and examine their capabilities over 1,000 square miles of desert.

Soldiers have learned to better analyze terrain, to estimate weapons ranges, and they have increased their self-confidence under simulated combat pressures.

Undoubtedly, this heavy-light rotation has been of tremendous benefit to all soldiers whether working in combat arms, combat support or combat service support units.

A 197th Inf. Bde. soldier perches atop a 2-1/2 ton truck as he scans the terrain for the enemy. Andrew P. Wiese

Econo Self Storage
4483 Victory Drive 404-682-3803
FORT BENNING

UNIT SIZES AVAILABLE
Lockers 5(W) x 5(D) x 4(H)
5x10 10x10 $20 up 5x5 10x20
FOR THE MILITARY
Storage while TDY
Foot locker storage
Motorcycles
Boats
Personal effects
Bivouac
Permanent party storage
Call Now to Reserve Your Space
For Your Business or Family Items—Short or Long Term

AUTO INSURANCE
Capparelle's INSURANCE AGENCY
Military Personnel Stationed in Georgia, Alabama, and Overseas Germany. "If You Buy Before You Call Us, You May Pay Too Much." Call Us Today For A Quick Quote.
3617 Hilton Avenue Suite #214 322-6178

H:\APR\n1376900.epb

When It Comes To The Military, We Have A Uniform Policy.

50% Off. Every Flight. Every Day.

Every Dependent. Every Package.

On USAir and Piedmont, active-duty military personnel and their dependents fly throughout the U.S. for 50% off the regular coach fare. With virtually no restrictions.*

Even personal packages shipped PDQ or PEP fly for half price.

Call your base leisure travel office. Or call USAir toll-free at 1 (800) 428-4322; or Piedmont toll-free 1 (800) 251-5720. And make a big cut in your military spending.

USAIR PIEDMONT
Subsidiaries of USAir Group, Inc.

*You must present your green active-duty military I.D. or your dependent I.D. marked "active." Discount does not apply to official military travel. Military Fare seating may be limited due to capacity control.

SPORTS

Marksmen set 3 team records

By Tommy G. Pool
U.S. Army Marksmenship Unit

Soldiers from the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit set three new team records and won two individual championships during this year's Interservice Running Target matches held at Fort Benning from May 1 through 5.

The USAMU "Gold" squad of Troy Lawton, Michael Moore and Martin Edmondson, combined their scores to set new Interservice records during the Olympic Runs, Mixed Runs and 10-meter Air Rifle events.

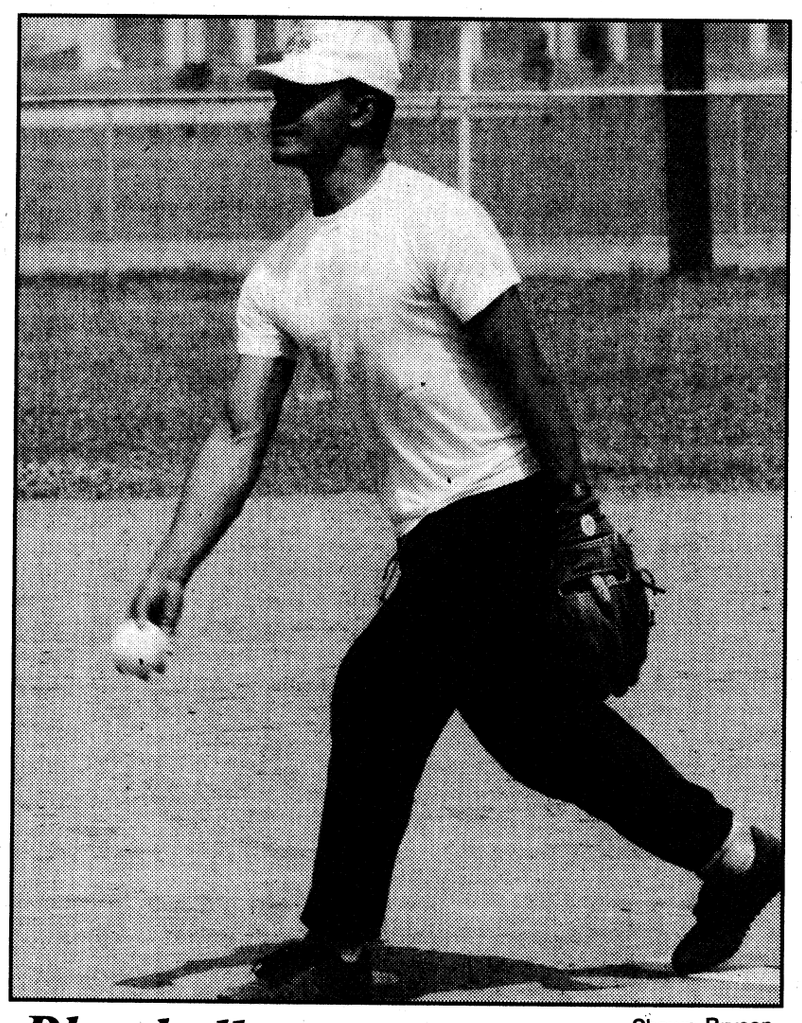
In the individual events, Lawton posted winning totals in both the Olympic and Mixed-Run events, scoring 1,159 out of 1,200 points in the Olympic phase and 771 out of 800 points in the Mixed Runs.

Teammates Edmondson and Moore finished in second and third place respectively during the Olympic event, while Marine competitors, Robert Partridge and Leander Miller, placed second and third in Mixed Runs.

The final 10-meter Air Rifle championship was won by Army reservist, Michael Maloney, with a total of 1,271. Second place went to Miller, USMC, while Edmondson finished in third position.

The final individual and team results from this year's Interservice Running Target events are:

Olympic Runs
1st — Troy Lawton, USAMU, 1,159
2nd — Martin Edmondson, USAMU, 1,155
3rd — Michael Moore, USAMU, 1,148



Teams
1st — U.S. Army "Gold," 1,728
2nd — U.S. Army Reserve, 1,687
3rd — U.S. Marine Corps, 1,671

Mixed Runs
1st — Troy Lawton, USAMU, 771
2nd — Robert Partridge, USMC, 765
3rd — Leander Miller, USMC, 764

Teams
1st — U.S. Army "Gold," 1,150
2nd — U.S. Army Reserve, 1,120
3rd — U.S. Marine Corps, 1,119

10-Meter Air Rifle
1st — Michael Maloney, USAR, 1,271
2nd — Leander Miller, USMC, 1,268
3rd — Martin Edmondson, USAMU, 1,266

Teams
1st — U.S. Army "Gold," 1,611
2nd — U.S. Marine Corps, 1,564
3rd — U.S. Army Reserve, 1,531

Play ball Shawn Bryson

Numera Talanoa, B Co., 4th Rgr. Trng. Bn, pitches to a batter from A Co., 4th RTB, in the final game of the battalion's spring softball tournament. A Co. won the tournament, narrowly defeating B Co., 8-6. Eight teams competed in the tourney, which was a warm up for the upcoming USAIC softball season.

Small Arms Championships begin Monday

By Tommy G. Pool
U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit

The annual U.S. Army Small Arms Championships will begin at Fort Benning firing ranges next week with the matches scheduled to run from Monday through May 26.

More than 800 of the top marksmen, representing units from the Army, Army Reserve and National Guard, will be on hand to compete for the title of "All Army Champions," in both team and individual small arms competition.

Teams will begin reporting in this weekend for the initial combat championship phase that will include events for the M-16 rifle, 9mm pistol and M-60 light machine gun.

The commanding general of the U.S. Army Infantry Center is the host for the yearly championships, with range operation of the matches conducted by members of the U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit.

Support for this year's matches is also being provided by elements from the 2nd Battalion, 69th Armor, 197th Infantry Brigade, 89th Explosive Ordnance Division, 36th Engineer Group, as well as units from the Army Reserve and Army National Guard.

Designed to determine the Army's best marksmen with individual small arms, the championships will include the traditional, known distance competition, as well as combat matches using silhouette-type targets to simulate battlefield conditions.

Weapons used in the combat championships include the M-16A2 rifle, M-60 machine gun and the 9mm pistol.

A mandatory physical fitness phase is also included as part of the match and consists of a two-mile run carrying weapons and field equipment prior to record firing. In addition, a two-man sniper rifle event will be held.

The sniper rifle event will consist of three field craft events and three firing exercises, with the winning team based on the combined scores of both individuals.

The required field crafts will consist of exercises such as movement techniques, target observation and detection and range estimation. Firing exercises will require both team members to engage targets at ranges from 200-850 meters and will be limited to a maximum of two rounds per target.

A score of 100 points is given to snipers who successfully engage targets with a first-round hit, and 50 points for a second-round hit. No points are received if both shots are misses.

Representatives from the various units competing in the 1989 All Army Small Arms Championships were selected from installation matches held earlier throughout the Army.

Stiff competition is expected again this year in all of the shooting events between the top battalion teams and individual marksmen representing more than 40 active Army and Reserve Component units.

The All Army Championships have been conducted at Fort Benning for more than 60 years, and are the largest shooting events next to the National Rifle & Pistol matches held annually at Camp Perry, Ohio.

From the early 1920s until World War II, it was called the U.S. Infantry Championships, and was also used to select the best shooters to represent the Army at the national matches.

Many of our nation's most famous marksmen began their career with victories during the Army championships. Two of the top pistol shooters of all time, Joe Benner and William Blanskenship, went on to win six national titles and two world championships.

More recently, in 1987, Greg Storm of USAMU, became the first individual in history to win the All Army, Interservice and National Rifle Championships in the same year.

Competing in the small arms matches is also the soldier's first step toward receiving the Army's most coveted shooting award, the Distinguished Marksman Badge.

Awarded since 1884 for rifle and 1891 for pistol, fewer than 4,000 of the 10-karat-gold badges have been won by Army personnel. Some notable recipients of the distinguished badge have included General's John J. Pershing and Lyman L. Lemnitzer.

All Fort Benning personnel and the general public are invited to attend this year's All Army Championships and observe the Army's best marksmen in action.

U.S. Army
Small Arms Championships

Firing will begin around 8 a.m. daily and conclude at approximately 4 p.m.

May 15 through 18 — All Army Combat Rifle, McAndrew Range.
May 15 through 18 — All Army Combat Pistol, Phillips Range.
May 15 through 18 — All Army M-60 Machine Gun, Easley Range.
May 19 through 22 — All Army Sniper Rifle, N. Galloway Range.
May 21 through 26 — All Army National Match Rifle, McAndrew Range.
May 21 through 26 — All Army National Match Pistol, Phillips Range.

SPORTS SHORTS

Post tennis tourney rescheduled

The 1989 U. S. Army Infantry Center's Tennis Championship has been rescheduled to May 22 through May 26 at the Community Recreation Division's tennis courts on Anderson Street behind the post's Theatre #2.

Brigade and battalion teams of seven will compete. Each team will have two male players to compete in the Open Division, two players in the Junior Veterans Division, one in the Senior Division and two female players in the Women's Division.

Senior Division entrants over 45 years of age will also compete. Entrants 35 to 44 years of age will compete in the Junior Veterans category.

For information, contact the post's Physical Activities Office at 545-5777 or 545-7519.

Post powerlifting meet June 24

The 2nd Annual Fort Benning Powerlifting Competition will be held June 24 at Briant Wells Gym. Lifters will squat, bench press and dead lift. Current U.S. Powerlifting Federation rules will be in effect, and regulation one-piece suits are mandatory. There is no entry fee.

Competition is open to all Fort Benning male and female active duty military, military dependents, retirees, Department of Army and Department of Defense civilians and Non-appropriated Fund civilians.

Awards will be presented to the top male finishers in each weight category. Women awards will be determined by formula.

For the first time at Fort Benning, a team powerlifting competition will be held. Lifters may compete in the team competition as well as individually. The top three teams will receive awards.

Weigh-ins will be held at Briant Wells Gym June 23 from 4 to 7 p.m. and on June 24 from 8 to 9:15 a.m. A meeting will be held for all lifters on June 24 at 9 a.m.

Lifters may sign up at any post gym or show up for the weigh-in and lifters meeting. For more information, contact Speedy Austin at 545-4726/4388.

Chess tournament May 20

Attention all chess players! The next USCF Chess Tournament will be held May 20 with sign in at noon at the Kelley Hill Recreation Center.

If you are not a member of the USCF, you may purchase a membership the day of the tournament. One-day membership is $4.50, and annual membership is $26. The tournament fee for all players is $2. The tournament is open to both military and civilian players.

Kelley Hill Recreation Center sponsors this tournament each month at building 9079 on Marne Road at Kelley Hill. For more information, call 544-3079 Wednesday through Sunday after noon.

Pirates wipe out Cardinals, 13-4

The Youth Activities Pirates baseball team recently beat the Cardinals in five innings, 13-4.

The outstanding defensive play was made by Joe Bulung and Robbie Pearce added batting power with two home runs in two at bats.

Small games May 24 at Santiago Gym

A Small Games championship will be conducted May 24 through May 26 at Santiago Gym. Games for the competition are badminton, table tennis, handball, squash and horseshoe pitching.

Entry applications will be accepted until May 19. Contact Mr. McGruder at 544-2486 for more information.

USO giving away Braves' tickets

The USO is giving away Atlanta Braves baseball tickets by means of a drawing. Only active duty military personnel are eligible. To enter, put your name, rank, duty station, duty and work phone numbers on a postcard (DoD postcards are illegal) and mail to USO/Atlanta Braves Tickets, P. O. Box 20963, Atlanta, GA 30320. One one entry per person please.

A drawing will be held weekly on Tuesday. Each winner will receive two tickets to a Thursday or Sunday home game. Tickets should be picked up before the game at the press box office. Military identification must be shown when picking up tickets.

USAIC softball season set

The USAIC softball season and championships have been set. The first season will be held May 18 through June 17. The second season is June 27 through Aug. 11.

Twenty teams will be compete for the post championship trophy. A scratch meeting for all coaches and A & R's will be held at Briant Wells Field House at 10 a.m. May 11. A & R representatives should attend the meeting to receive information on upcoming changes to the 1989 softball season.

Doughboy team wants players

The Sports Office is looking for players for the 1989 Doughboy Softball team. Active duty military men and women only are eligible.

Tryouts will be held today at Gowdy Field from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Armed Forces Day Run May 20

The Armed Forces Day "Shape Up For Life" Run will be held May 20 in front of Infantry Hall, building 4. The event features a 2.2-mile and a 6.2-mile run, both starting at 7 a.m.

Individuals and 25-member teams are invited. Teams may compete in the 6.2-mile event only.

Pre-registration is $5 for individuals and must be postmarked no later than Tuesday. Pre-registration in person will be accepted at Doughboy Stadium until 4:30 p.m. Tuesday.

Late registration for individuals is $7 and will be accepted at the stadium until 4:30 p.m. May 19 and at the race site on race day from 6 a.m. until 6:45 a.m.

Team entry fee is $90. First, second and third place team trophies will be awarded.

Make checks payable to MWR Fund, c/o CRD, Physical Activities Branch. The individual's military unit and social security number must be on the check.

Women's league needs softball players

The Women's Intramural Softball League needs players. Season play begins May 18 and continues through June 17. The Sports Office will sign up interested players until the season begins.

Interested players should contact the Sports Office at 545-5777 or Alber McGruder at 544-1595 or 544-2486.

Hunters should return permits

To avoid the loss of hunting privileges, turkey hunters are reminded to return the Fort Benning Turkey Permit and Hunter Report, FB (ENG) Form 10, within 15 days of the close of turkey season.

Permits may be placed in drop boxes located at the Outdoor Recreation Office, building 247, or Natural Resources Management Office, building 5883, Harmony Church. Individuals desiring a receipt may mail the permits by certified mail, return receipt requested, directly to the Natural Resources Management Division, DEH, Fort Benning, Ga. 31905-5122, or personally return the permit to building 247 and obtain acknowledgment.

All permits not received by close of business May 20 will be delinquent. Hunters who fail to return their permits will be denied privileges as required by USAIC Regulation 210-2. For information, call 544-6120.

Body builders will compete June 10

The sixth annual Mr. and Ms. Fort Benning body building contest will be held June 10 at Marshall Auditorium in Infantry Hall, building 4.

The Mr. Fort Benning contest is open to all active duty military men stationed at Fort Benning.

The Ms. Fort Benning competition is open to active duty military females, dependents of active duty, retirees, Department of Army , Non-appropriated Fund and Army and Air Force Exchange Service

See SHORTS B-7

Low Cost Term Life Insurance

Consolidated Insurance Services
Albany, GA
Dealing with A+ or A Rated Companies.
1-800-289-8766
For a complete proposal

Annual Premiums (Male, Non-Smoker)

Age	$100,000	$250,000	$500,000	$1,000,000
35	122	203	300	550
40	130	225	345	640
45	155	233	455	860
50	205	388	545	1040
55	273	543	790	1530
60	383	875	1405	2760
65	643	1525	2545	5040

FISHIN' FUN!
NATIONAL FISHING WEEK
JUNE 5-11, 1989

ENTERTAINMENT

Cypress Gardens salutes Armed Forces Memorial Day weekend

Cypress Gardens

For the seventh consecutive year, Cypress Gardens kicks off a summer-long salute to the Armed Forces during Memorial Day Weekend, May 27 through May 29.

During Memorial Day Weekend, all active military will receive complimentary admission to the park by showing a military identification. Their guests will receive 15 percent off admission during the weekend.

Winn Dixie stores in the Tampa/Polk County area, in conjunction with Cypress Gardens, is offering a special discount coupon at their stores. For every Winn Dixie coupon redeemed at Cypress Gardens beginning May 1 through September 30, 25 cents of each admission will go to the Morgan S. Tyler Scholarship Fund Inc., compliments of Winn Dixie.

Special activities during the three-day weekend will include demonstrations by the U.S. Army Parachute Team, "The Golden Knights," who will perform twice daily, subject to weather conditions. The "Knights," based at Fort Bragg (home of the 82nd Airborne), will execute team and individual free falls from 12,500 feet (two miles high), tracking the skies with red smoke as they create diamond and stack formations.

The U.S. Marine Drum and Bugle Corps, based at Albany, Georgia will perform throughout the weekend.

Other activities will include exhibitions on the water by the 4th Assault Amphibian Battalion — 4th Marine Division, out of Tampa, Florida. This U.S. Marine Corps unit will demonstrate the mobility of assault amphibious vehicles. In combat situations, these vehicles, which carry up to 25 men, are used to deploy troops from ship to shore.

In addition, there will be Air Force K-9 demonstrations; demonstrations by the National Air Force Drill Team, Washington, D.C.; performances by the "Maxwell Airs" Air Force Band on May 29 only; and static helicopter displays.

A memorial service will be held at 12 noon on Sunday, May 28, at the ski show area, honoring all branches of the armed forces. The service will include a joint-service color guard, a musical salute performed by the Drum and Bugle Corps and a fly-over, and demonstration featuring F-16s (Fighting Falcons) from the Air National Guard 125th Fighter Interceptor Group.

Through Labor Day, active military personnel may receive a 50 percent discount on admission to Cypress Gardens by showing their military identification at ticket windows. Regular admission prices at $16.95 for adults, and $11.50 for children (ages 3-11), under age three admitted free.

Cypress Gardens, Florida's Original Showplace, is located just 30 minutes southwest of Walt Disney World, off U.S. 27, near Winter Haven. The park is open daily 9 a.m.to 6 p.m.

Springer Opera House presents female version of "Odd Couple"

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The Springer Opera House wraps up the 1988-89 season with a potent dose of comedy. The new, updated female version of Neil Simon's smash hit, "The Odd Couple," opened Thursday and will continue for three weeks.

"The New Odd Couple" features Florence and Olive, two mismatched roommates who drive each other crazy and drive audiences into fits of uncontrollable laughter.

After 964 performances of the initial Broadway production, the 1968 movie and the five-year run and infinite reruns of the TV edition, one might think that the comedy of mismatched roommates has just about exhausted itself.

It hasn't. Simon's jazzed-up, '80's version is gloriously funny. The plot, basic characters and streamlined structure are the same, but Mr. Simon has re-written 80 percent of the dialogue to accommodate the change in gender.

With "The New Odd Couple," Paul R. Pierce takes up his first directing project as the Springer's new Artistic Director. Ethelyn Riley, the energetic, polished area actress who has demonstrated versatility in dramatic, comic and musical roles, plays Olive, the sloppy, earthy news producer who invites her Trivial Pursuit partner to move in to her unkempt Westside apartment.

Elberta McKnight, popular news anchor for WTVM-TV Channel 9 in Columbus and an experienced stage comedienne, portrays Florence, the fastidious neurotic that becomes Olive's roommate.

Tickets are $9 for adults, $7 for seniors and $5 for students. Call 327-3688 for reservations.

WHAT: "The Odd Couple"
WHEN: Evening performances at 8 p.m. through May 27. Sunday Matinee, 2:30 p.m. (No performance Mondays or Tuesdays.)
WHERE: Springer Opera House, 103 - 10th Street, Downtown Columbus.
TICKETS: Available at the box office are $9 for adults, $7 for senior citizens and $5 for students. Box office hours are: 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.
RESERVATIONS: Call 327-3688 or 327-3689.

MOVIES

Today	True Believer - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Lean On Me - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Midnight Run - (R)	Main Post 9:10 p.m.
Saturday	Fletch Lives - (PG)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	The Rescuers - (G)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Three Fugitives - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Dead Bang - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Alien Nation - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
	Last Rites - (R)	Main Post 11 p.m.
Sunday	Dead Bang - (R)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Big - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Three Fugitives - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Fletch Lives - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Monday	Three Fugitives - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Dead Bang - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Tap - (PG-13)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Tuesday	I'm Gonna Git You, Sucka - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Fletch Lives - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Wednesday	They Live - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Dead Bang - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	The Fly - (PG-13)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Thursday	Tap - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Fletch Lives - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.

Western Sizzlin® STEAK HOUSE
•SPECIAL•
Friday and Saturday all day
Two U.S.D.A. choice 8 oz. Top Sirloins, two soup-salad-hot food bars, two potatoes, two servings of hot bread, and two drinks.
$10.99
SIRLOIN DINNER FOR TWO
Macon Rd. near I-185
& Victory Dr. near I-185
Also in Opelika & LaGrange
MasterCard, Visa, and checks accepted.

Arby's®
SAVE OVER $1.00!
MEAL DEAL!
Only $1.59 For A Limited Time
• Arby's Original Roast Beef Sandwich
• Reg. Order of French Fries
• Creamy Cole Slaw
A Complete Meal

Spanish Music & Flags
Novedades
Food Products from all Latin America
Your Friendly Store
2221 So. Lumpkin Road 687-6075

Buffalo Cafe
Buffalo Style Chicken Wings
Subs ★ Ice Cream
Oakland Park Shopping Center
Bring this coupon for a free beverage with order
Expires 5-31-89 Take out available 689-1492

MAZZIO'S PIZZA®
FAMILY BUFFET
$3.79 Plus Tax For Lunch Mon.-Fri.
$4.39 plus tax Dinner Saturday Sunday
For Families of All Sizes
Kids 12 and Under–$1.99. Kids Under 5 Eat FREE!
It's Pizza. It's Pasta. It's Garlic Bread, Hot Soup and Muffins. It's Macaroni and Cheese, Chicken Wings, Corn on the Cob and Baked Potatoes with Fixin's. It's a 25-Item Garden Fresh Salad Bar. It's more than anyone can eat and it's waiting for you!
So, bring your family in today!
Family Buffet 4263 Macon Rd. Fountain Park Shopping Center
$1 OFF Family Buffet
Evenings & Weekends
Redeem this coupon for $1 OFF Evening or Weekend Mazzio's Family Buffet.
Void with other promotions or coupons. Good for dine-in only. One coupon good for every person in your group.
Offer valid at 4263 Macon Rd.
Offer not valid on childs buffets
50¢ OFF Family Buffet
Weekday Lunches
Redeem this coupon for 50¢ OFF a Family Lunch Buffet.
Void with other promotions or coupons. Good for dine-in only. One coupon good for every person in your group. Valid for Family Lunch Buffet Mon.-Fri. at 4263 Macon Rd.
Mon.-Thurs. 11:00 to 2:00 & 5:30-8:00. Fri. 11:00-2:00 & 5:30 to 9:00. Sat. & Sun. 12:00-9:00

Mom
May 14, 1989 - 11:30-4:00 p.m.
Fresh Tossed Garden Salad
Carrot Raisin Salad
Three Bean Salad
Waldorf Salad
Heavenly Hash
Fruit Salad
Potato Salad
Assorted Dressing
Cranberry Sauce
Cornbread and Rolls
Carved Roast Steamship of Beef
Turkey with Cornbread Dressing
Smoked Ham
Squash Casserole
Green Beans
Sweet Potatoes
Buttered Corn
Field Peas
Mash Potatoes w/Gravy
Assorted Dessert Bar
Coffee, Hot or Iced Tea, Decaffeinated Coffee
$8.95 Adults
$4.25 Children (under 13)
Tax and Gratuity not included
Reservations Requested
Free Carnations For All Mother's Holiday Inn®
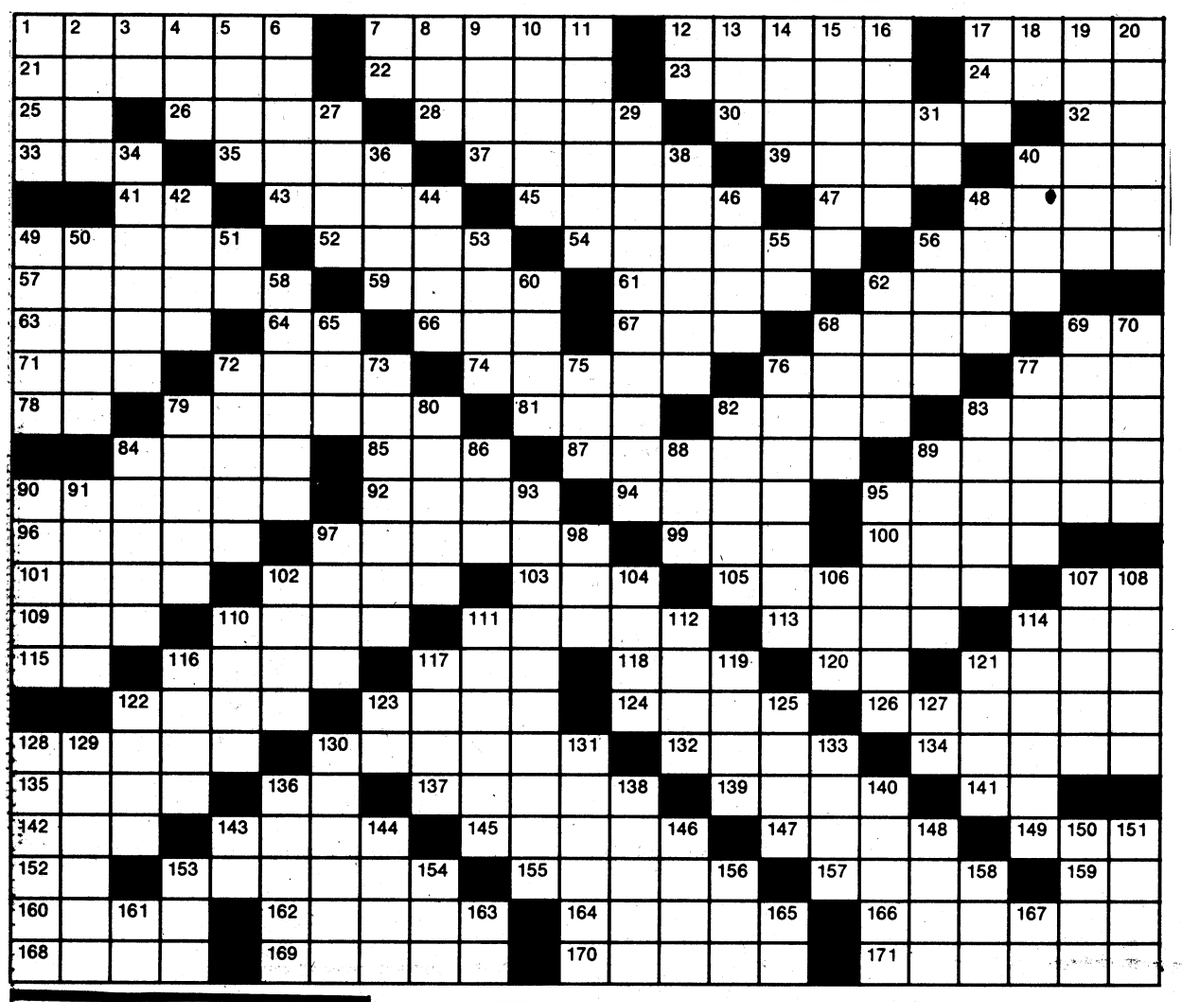
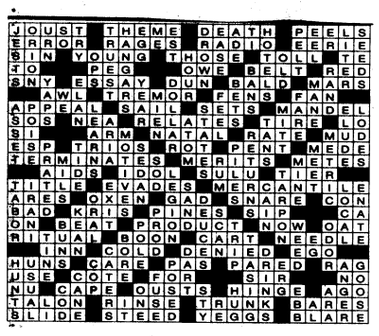
AT THE AIRPORT
2800 MANCHESTER EXPRESSWAY 324-0231

Spend Mother's Day with a Legend
The best place to honor your Mother on her special day is at Steak and Ale, the Legend in Steak.
American Express® and Steak and Ale invite you to join family and friends for a Mother's Day to remember.
For over 20 years, we've been preparing steaks just the way you like them—tender, juicy and grilled to perfection. Like our Chateau for One, tender Filet and famous Prime Rib. Or perhaps you would prefer one of our other delicious entrées like Stuffed Flounder or Hawaiian Chicken.
So make your reservations today. And, of course, bring along the Card that's known for its convenience. The American Express® Card. Don't leave home without it.®
Membership Has Its Privileges.SM
STEAK and ALE®
The Legend in Steak℠
4130 E. Lindsey Drive 324-4935
Open at 12:00 Noon
©1989 S&A Restaurant Corp.



PUZZLE

ACROSS



1 Indulge
7 Motion pictures, collectively
12 Varnish ingredient
17 Flaccid
21 Supplied abundantly
22 Williams of film
23 Save wedding expenses
24 Sandarac tree
25 "— Golden Pond"
26 Platform
28 Dinner course
30 Banish
32 Anderson inits.
33 Pee — Herman
35 Mix
37 Having less color
39 "M*A*S*H" fixture
40 In music, high
41 French article
43 Winter vehicle
45 Repulse
47 Diphthong
48 — club
49 "— Smith and Jones"
52 Fat of swine
54 Mend
56 Jackets
57 Church underofficer
59 Post
61 — polish
62 Row
63 Capuchin monkeys
64 Spanish article
66 Spelling contest
67 Performed
68 Horse's food
69 Father
71 Sin
72 Nourish
74 Took one's part
76 Tomlin of comedy
77 "Peter —"
78 Thoron symbol
79 Cushioned
81 Go astray
82 Cash drawer
83 Nuisance
84 Bucket
85 Hole
87 Disdains
89 Brief
90 Three-base hit
92 Dillseed
94 Periods of time
95 Small horses
96 Play parts
97 Gloomy
99 Hurricane center
100 White House office
101 Above
102 Vessels
103 Cash ending
105 Continued story
107 With: prefix
109 Footlike part
110 Church service
111 Later
113 Sarah of song
114 Rotating piece of machinery
115 Teutonic deity
116 Sagacious
117 Fuss
118 "— Day Afternoon"
120 Myself
121 Identical
122 Lease
123 Sea in Asia
124 Cook slowly
126 Less interesting
128 Incline
130 Pellucid
132 Arabian chieftain
134 Becomes satiated
135 Sound a horn
136 "Magnum, —"
137 Sedate
139 Let it stand
141 Earth goddess
142 Decay
143 Grate
145 Denude
147 Courageous person
149 Bone of body
152 Exists
153 Baby's plaything
155 Uncanny
157 Diminish
159 Charles' Princess
160 Money, in Tijuana
162 Shoe parts
164 Coins
166 Joseph of film
168 Emerald isle
169 Viper
170 Corners
171 Spoors

DOWN

1 "Speed the —"
2 "The — Ranger"
3 Asner ID
4 Total
5 Baltic and Caspian
6 Prepares for print
7 12 in.
8 Fed. agcy.
9 — Year
10 Pertaining to the cheek
11 More vapid
12 "Dirty Harry" star: init.
13 Ancient
14 Bard
15 Come on the scene
16 Sierra —
17 Unit of Latvian currency
18 Negative prefix
19 Kind of hammer
20 Talks idly
27 Window frame part
29 Reliance
31 "Waltons" star: init.
34 Cure-all
36 Paper measure
38 Recompensed
40 Winglike
42 Dines
44 Dull; monotonous
46 Deposited
48 "Anything —"
49 Item of property
50 Become aware of
51 Therefore
53 — Irae
55 Negative prefix
56 Municipality
58 Sewing implement
60 Hawaiian wreaths
62 High
65 Conducted
68 Lubricates
69 Out of date
70 Poker stakes
72 Goes bankrupt
73 Leaves
75 Underworld god
76 Flaxseed
77 Danger
79 "— Moon"
80 Eats
82 Servers
83 Pertaining to punishment
84 Heaps
86 Oolong
88 Native metal
89 Actress Feldshuh
90 Figure of speech
91 Wanderer
93 Having three leaves
95 Balanced
97 Medicine portion
98 Still
102 Time gone by
104 Cincinnati team
106 Male sheep
107 "Ship of the desert"
108 Hebrew
110 "Enemy —"
111 Makes suitable
112 Repetition
114 "Midnight —"
116 Cried
117 "A Farewell to —"
119 Precious stones
121 Waste metal
122 — beer
123 Three-toed sloth
125 "Married ... — Children"
127 Above
128 Band of color
129 Less restrained
130 Pay heed
131 Lead
133 Sand bar
136 Lanes
138 More terrible
140 Pamphlet
143 Sun god
144 Entreaty
146 Evergreen tree
148 Aroma
150 Object of devotion
151 Storage compartments
153 Darling of the Mets
154 Antlered animal
156 Summer: Fr.
158 Sched. abbr.
161 Yes, in Spain
163 Selenium symbol
165 Struthers ID
167 Agave plant

LAST WEEK

Shorts

Continued from B-5

employees.

Awards will be presented to first, second and third place winners as well as the best poser in both the men and women competition. Also, in the men's category, an award will be presented to the "Most Muscular" competitor.

For more information, call Speedy Austin at 545-4726.

USAIC battalion golf begins June 1

The USAIC battalion golf season begins June 1. Four separate seasons will be held.

The first season gets underway June 1 through July 7; the second season is July 17 through Aug. 4; the third season is Aug. 11 through Aug. 29 and the fourth season is Aug. 29 through Sep. 19. Championships will be held for each season.

All active duty personnel assigned or attached to a battalion-size unit at Fort Benning are eligible to participate.

Entry forms are available at Audie Murphy gym, Harmony Church field house, Santiago gym, Briant Wells field house, Kelley Hill gym or the post Sports Office.

For more information, call the sports director at 545-5777 or drop by the Sports Office, building 394.

Follow Me Course holds tournaments

The following tournaments are available at Benning's Follow Me Golf Course:

● May 20 — Blind Partner Handicap (combined net score)

● May 28 through 29 — Dixie Memorial Tournament (four-man, two best balls)

● June 17 through 18 — Bi-City Golf Tournament (gross event, flighted)

Golfers pay half-price greens fees Monday through Friday with cart rental from 1 p.m. until dark. Call 687-1940 for additional information.

Pot-O-Gold is $3,658

Fort Benning bowling centers' "Pot-O-Gold" cash prize has reached $3,658.

Bowlers must strike in certain frames to win the pot.

League and open bowlers who purchase a three-game ticket and pay a $1 entry fee prior to bowling are eligible to enter the tournament.

For more information, call the Main Post Bowling Center at 545-4272 or 545-1949.

Women's volleyball tourney set

A women's volleyball tournament will be held Tuesday through May 19 at Briant Wells Field House. League competition has been cancelled for the season.

If interested, call the Sports Office at 545-5777 or 545-7519.

YA needs swimmers

The Youth Activities Center is looking for swimmers for its swim team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Mondays through Thursdays.

The swim team is a year-round organization.

Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for information.

Sports Office needs boxers and trainers

Any military personnel interested in boxing for the Fort Benning boxing program should meet at Briant Wells field house, building 933, Monday through Friday at 5:30 p.m. Trainers are needed, also.

For further information, contact Speedy Austin at 545-4726/4388.

— Compiled from staff reports.

Medics

Continued from B-3

said PFC Kimberly Reidler, a X-ray technician for Bravo Support. "This enables us to treat the injury more quickly than in the past."

Heat, undoubtedly, is the biggest health problem in the desert. Heat casualties come in at least three times a day at the BAS, according to Pvt. 2 Kim Stewart, a BAS medic.

"The heat causes many problems with the soldiers in the desert, but when they come to the BAS, it becomes my job to take care of them," said Stewart. "It makes me feel good, taking care of our soldiers and doing my job."

Technicians in a laboratory set up at the BAS determine the illness and what possibly caused it, by conducting a urinalysis. Another aspect of the lab is they have two autoclaves to sterilize instruments for minor surgery.

"We sterilize instruments daily. It is hard to keep them sterile in any kind of field exercise, but it is even harder in the desert," said Spec. Bobby Miller, a laboratory technician for Bravo Support.

When all the treatment is done, the casualty is taken to one of the two wards located at the BAS. Here the casualty is monitored to make sure his condition doesn't deteriorate until he is well enough to fight again.

"Right now, we have two wards with the capacity to accommodate 20 casualties each; but if necessary, we have the ability to accommodate as many casualties as there is open space to lay them down," Unda said.

During battle exercises soldiers may become casualties, but with all the medical facilities out in the field, our soldiers are in good hands if they are injured.

Carmike Cinema 7
5301 Sidney Simons Blvd. 596-8244 CARMIKE
"FIELD OF DREAMS" PG 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
"FLETCH LIVES" PG 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
"RAINMAN" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"K-9" PG13 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
"THE DREAM TEAM" PG13 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
"NEW YORK STORIES" PG 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
"WHO FRAMED ROGER RABBIT" PG 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:30
Columbus Square 8 / 563-4440 COLUMBUS SQUARE
"CRIMINAL LAW/SEASON OF FEAR" R 7:00 R 9:30
"SHE'S OUT OF CONTROL" PG 7:00 9:30
"LEAN ON ME" PG13 7:00, 9:30
"PET SEMATARY" R 7:00 9:30
"SEE NO EVIL HEAR NO EVIL" R 7:10 R 9:20
"MAJOR LEAGUE" R 7:10 9:20
"FOOD OF THE GODS PT. II" R 7:10 9:20
"RED SCORPION" R 7:10 9:20
Peachtree Triple / 322-7704 PEACHTREE MALL
"CYBORG" R 7:10 9:20
"LISTEN TO ME" PG13 7:10 9:20
"MISS FIRECRACKER" PG 7:00 9:30
Plaza Triple 99¢ / 563-3737 CROSS COUNTRY PLAZA
"TWINS" PG 7:00 9:30
2nd Movie 99¢ 2nd time only
"CHANCES ARE" PG 7:10 9:20
"THE BURBS" PG 7:00 9:30
Phenix Twin 99¢ / 297-3905
"MISSISSIPPI BURNING" R 7:15 9:30
2nd Movie 99¢ 2nd time only
"BEACHES" PG13 7:00 9:15

EXTRA! Pan Pizza News EXTRA!

NEW DOMINO'S PAN PIZZA™!

THE NOID® CRUSHED BY THE NEWS

(DP) The NOID panicked, (bonking himself on the head with a pan!) when he heard that Domino's now delivers pan pizza.

New Domino's Pan Pizza™, has thick, chewy crust, generous toppings, and lots of thick, gooey cheese. And it's delivered in 30 minutes or less, guaranteed. All of which creates pandemonium for the NOID.

DOMINO'S PIZZA GUARANTEE*

Service: We guarantee your pizza will arrive in 30 minutes or less from the time you order, or the driver will refund $3.00 off your order.

Product: We guarantee satisfaction with your pizza, or call the store manager within 30 minutes after delivery for a new pizza or for a full refund.

Pizza Take-Out: We guarantee your pizza take-out order will be ready in 15 minutes or you'll receive $3.00 off your order.

*Certain restrictions apply. Call store for details.

CALL US!

Serving Ft. Benning & Surrounding Area 689-7676 127 Farr Road

Serving Main Post & S. Columnus 689-5533 1919 South Llumpkin Drive

DOMINO'S PIZZA® Nobody Delivers Better℠

Coca Cola® Classic in 12 oz. cans for $.60 (tax included)

PAN PIZZA & FREE COKES®
Try our new medium 12" cheese Domino's Pan Pizza™ for only $7.29 and receive TWO 12 oz. cans of Coca Cola® Classic FREE! Each additional topping only $1.02. (Tax not included on pizza)
Good thru 6/1/89
Our drivers carry less than $20. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offer. Limited delivery areas. ©1989 Domino's Pizza, Inc. BPFC-5/12

$2.00 OFF!
Just call and order ONE large 16" pizza with TWO or more toppings and receive $2.00 OFF!
Good thru 6/1/89
Our drivers carry less than $20. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offer. Limited delivery areas. ©1989 Domino's Pizza, Inc. B2-5/12

DOUBLE COMBO $10.88!
Just call and order one original medium 12" cheese pizza and one 12" Domino's Pan Pizza™ for only $10.88. Each additional topping just $1.28 covers both pizzas.(Tax not included)
Good thru 6/1/89
Our drivers carry less than $20. Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offer. Limited delivery areas. ©1989 Domino's Pizza, Inc. BDC-5/12

CANADIAN ENTERTAINMENT INVESTORS NO. 1 AND COMPANY LIMITED PARTNERSHIP PRESENTS A ROSE & RUBY PRODUCTION
FOOD OF THE GODS II PAUL COUFOS LISA SCHRAGE
Music by PARSONS / HAINES Visual Effects by TED RAE Edited by DAVID MITCHELL
Director of Photography CURTIS PETERSEN Executive Producers ANDRAS HAMORI and ROBERT MISIOROWSKI
Story by RICHARD BENNETT Screenplay by RICHARD BENNETT and E. KIM BREWSTER
Produced by DAVID MITCHELL and DAMIAN LEE Directed by DAMIAN LEE
R RESTRICTED © 1988 CAROLCO INTERNATIONAL N.V. ALL RIGHTS RESERVED A CONCORDE/CENTAUR FILMS INC. RELEASE CAROLCO

STARTS TODAY!

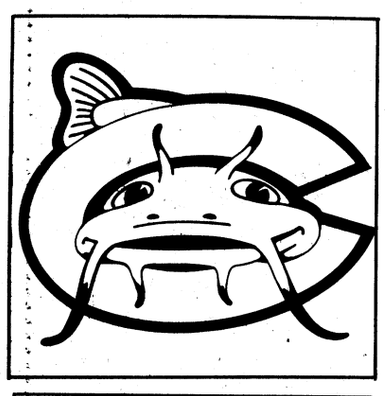
Columbus Square 8 / 563-4440 COLUMBUS SQUARE

Soldiers become pals for a day

By Jimmy R. Duhaime,
2nd Battalion, 11th Infantry

2nd Battalion, 11th Infantry soldiers provided labor, volunteer sponsors and entertainment at a picnic for children April 30 at Bland Creek Park off I-185. The picnic was sponsored by PALS (People Able to Love and Share), a "Big Brother-Big Sister" type organization affiliated with the Family Counseling Center of Columbus.

Infantry Officer Basic Course students from Headquarters and Headquarters Company and Companies A and C volunteered to be pals as part of the battalion's PALS-For-A-Day program.



Soldiers served hotdogs and hamburgers and coordinated and played games with children.

Lt. Alan Dunbar, a recent IOBC graduate, provided entertainment as the Great Dunbar, a magician. His magic act included slight of hand as well as swords through a volunteer's neck.

PALS is a local organization under the Family Counseling Center of Columbus. It is supported by the United Way and local contributions. The organization's goal is to provide a pal for each child enrolled. Children enrolled must be between the ages of 7 and 15 and from a one-parent or no-parent family. Most of the children are from families with only a mother. There are male and female children, so male and female pals are needed.

The battalion established the Pals-For-A-Day program after a suggestion by a platoon trainer SFC Justino Lopez. Lopez contacted PALS coordinator, Clay Kull and the director of the Family Counseling Center, Larry Shaw. Thanks to the battalion volunteers, children on the program's waiting list (at least 50) can receive an outing with a pal every other month.

For information about how to become a PAL, contact Mary Blackmon, Ann Allison or Larry Shaw at the Family Counseling Center at 327-3238. Or, drop by the center's office on the corner of First Avenue and Seventh Street in downtown Columbus.

Columbus Mudcats May schedule

12	Jacksonville
13	Chattanooga
14	Chattanooga
15	Chattanooga
16	Greenville
17	Greenville
18	Greenville
19	Greenville
20	Chattanooga
21	Chattanooga
22	Chattanooga
23	Greenville
24	Greenville
25	Greenville
26	Greenville
27	Birmingham
28	Birmingham
29	Birmingham
30	Birmingham
31	All Star Break

Home games in bold

Ticket Prices

Box seats $4, general admission $2.50. Senior, military and children 12 and under receive a $1 discount off the above prices.

RACE CALENDAR

MAY

13 COLUMBUS - 12th Historic District/Ben Gay Active America Day, 5 mile, 1.5 mile at 9 a.m.; 1.5 mile health walk, aerobics warm up and fitness fair, 8-10:30 a.m. $7/$8. Information: 324-3380 or 322-8218.

13 HARTWELL - Lake Hartwell Dam Run, 5K/10K, 8:30 a.m. Information: (404) 376-4554.

13 AUSTELL - Cobb General 5K, 8:30 a.m.; 1 mile, 9:15 a.m.; wheelchair competition, 8:20 a.m. $10/$12. Information: (404) 944-5110 (8:30 a.m. until 5 p.m.)

13 COLUMBIA, S.C. - Palmetto State Triathlon, 1.5K swim, 40K bike, 10K run. 8 a.m. Weston Lake Recreation Area, Fort Jackson, S.C. $30. No entries after May 8. Information: American Lung Association at (803) 779-5864.

20 FORT BENNING - Armed Forces Day Run "Shape Up For Life" Run. 2.2-mile and 6.2-mile, 7 a.m. Teams invited. $5/$7 individuals, $90 team entry. 1st, 2nd, 3rd place trophies.

20 MACON - Southern Lady 5K run/walk, 8 a.m. Wesleyan College on Forsyth Road. $6/$8. (912) 474-0000 or (912) 746-3807.

20 PLAINS - Plains Country Days 5-Mile Run (9 a.m.), 1-Mile Fun Run (8:30 a.m.), $7/$9. (912) 824-3418.

20 STONE MOUNTAIN - Lookin' Good Feelin' Good 5K, 8:30 a.m. Information: (404) 493-3625.

20 NORCROSS - Corner's Canter 8K, 8 a.m. Peachtree Corners. Information: (404) 252-6497.

20 UNION POINT - Sock Trot 5K/10K, 8 a.m. Information: (404) 486-2112 or 4267.

21 ATLANTA - Hardee's Run for the Torch 8K, 8 a.m. Buckhead Plaza. Information: (404) 261-1899.

27 MONTGOMERY - 11th Jubilee Run 8K (7:30 a.m.); Lightning 2 mile (8:45 a.m.). $9/$11. Civic Center - Commerce Street. Information: Montgomery Track & Running Club, P. O. Box 6350, Montgomery, AL 36106.

27 ALBANY - 6th Darton Alumni P.M. Run. 5K, 8 p.m./ 1 mile, 7 p.m. Darton College Campus, 2400 Gillionville Road. $7/$8.

27 ROBERTA - Peach Blossom Trail 10K (8 a.m.) and 1 mile Fun Run. $7/$8. Information: Peach Blossom Trail Run, P. O. Box 8, Roberta, GA 31078.

27 FITZGERALD - Colony City Chase 5K (9 a.m.), 1 mile (8:30 a.m.). $7/$8. Cash awards. $100 for course record (15:34 set in 1988). 800-642-5820.

29 HUNTSVILLE, AL - Cotton Row 10K, 8 a.m. Starts at Von Braun Civic Center. $10. No race day registration.

JUNE

10 COLUMBUS - "Just Say No To Drugs" 12.5-mile Bicycle Marathon, Benning Hills Park, 10 a.m. Race ends at Carver Park. No entry fee. Teens 14 to 18 years old. Grand prize scholarship to attend Drug Prevention Conference, St. Simons Island, Ga. Other prizes are bicycle and trophies. Each participant receives a free personalized T-shirt. Information: 687-5172.

BAYONET CLASSIFIED 322-4500

CLEANING SERVICES C3

TOTALLY Domestic Cleaning Services, specializing in residences. Reasonable rates. Call 563-5073 after5pm.

T & J MAID SERVICE. Domestic & Commercial, Lowest rates bonded & insured. 571-3469

PUBLIC NOTICES 016

* * * * * * * * * * * * *
SGT'S CHICKEN HOUSE
4034 Cusseta Road. Spicy and Southern Fried Chicken. It's Good! Open 11-11. Light Lunch $1.60. All Military Welcome! Call 687-1944.
* * * * * * * * * * * * *

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES 018

Childcare Service. Certified. A.M. Burgess, open 5am til 5:30 pm. Newborns, toddlers and up to 3 yrs. old. Will also accomodate people for all night duty or field time. For more information call 689-5300

PERSONALS 020

COLUMBUS DATING SERVICE Meet That Special Person! Call Mon-Fri, 9-5PM, 689-0072.

TROUBLED? Need to talk? Call CONTACT. We care. 24 hours. 327-3999

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

LOSE WEIGHT The Natural Way! Dick Gregory's Bahamian Diet. Call 298-9079 or 1-800-346-5188.

AIR COND/ HEATERS 038

AIR CONDITIONER, 25,000 BTU, 220 Volt, $200. Call 687-9848

APPLIANCE SALES 040

WASHERS Dryers, $100 up. Excellent cond. guaranteed. Call 687-5330.

WHIRLPOOL washer & dryer, excellent condition, $175/pair. Call 687-6956.

COMPUTERS & EQUIP. 052

APPLE IIE Computer, w/screen, printer & appleworks. $1500. Call 563-2187

COMMODORE 64K computer & disk dr. w/ 40 games, $120 firm. Call 298-4364 after 4, ask for Chris.

For Sale, Commodore PC10-2 IBM XT Clone, 640K Ram, DTK BIOS, 2 360K Drives, CGA, 5 Slots, clock, joystick, MS-DOS 3.2, basic, sidekick, all books/boxes, mint. $599. Orig software for sale. Call 682-4355

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

UNFINISHED FURNITURE SALE

Save money & do it yourself or let our expert staff do it. Free assembly! VISA/MC accepted. Williams Furniture Shop, next to Pritchett's, Hamilton Rd., 322-1889

8 PIECE White French Provincial bedroom furn. $600. Call 563-9403.

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

YARD SALES AL 059

YARD SALE, Sat, 8-4, 1705 46th St. Lg stereo, port. dishwasher, lot more.

YARD SALES GA 060

Baseball Cards, models, household goods, books & furn. Sat., 5/13, 10-4, 7909 Crawford Dr., off Williams Rd. (Exit 8). 323-9413

MULTIPLE Yard Sale, Sat & Sun, 8-3, baby & children items, misc household goods, 129-A Kessler Dr.

YARD SALE Furn, knick knacks & much more. Sat. & Sun. 9-? 478 Craig Dr. Custer Terrace, Ft. Benning.

YARD SALE, May 13, 8-2, 1428 Arrowhead, Custer Terrace, multi family, furn., appl, baby & children items.

YARD SALE, 2064 Shelby St., Sat & Sun, 10-6pm. Baby items, clothes, furn, dishwasher, dishes & more.

MISC. FOR SALE 076

DP Adjustable incline weight bench & weights, $100. 568-3049; Brad 563-3660

MISC. FOR SALE 076

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

MISC. FOR SALE 076

YAMAHA ELECTONE C-2 organ for home, church or hall, with 49 key manuals, mandolin, virato, sustain, birlliance attack features, and more. A tone cabinet for increased volume. $4500. Whirlpool freezer, 25 cu ft upright. $500. Dinnette set w/white formica top and wrought iron legs. Four orange and white leather covered swivel chairs, $300. Packing trunk, footlocker and two (2) hugh pieces of canvas luggage, $150. 327-1803.

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

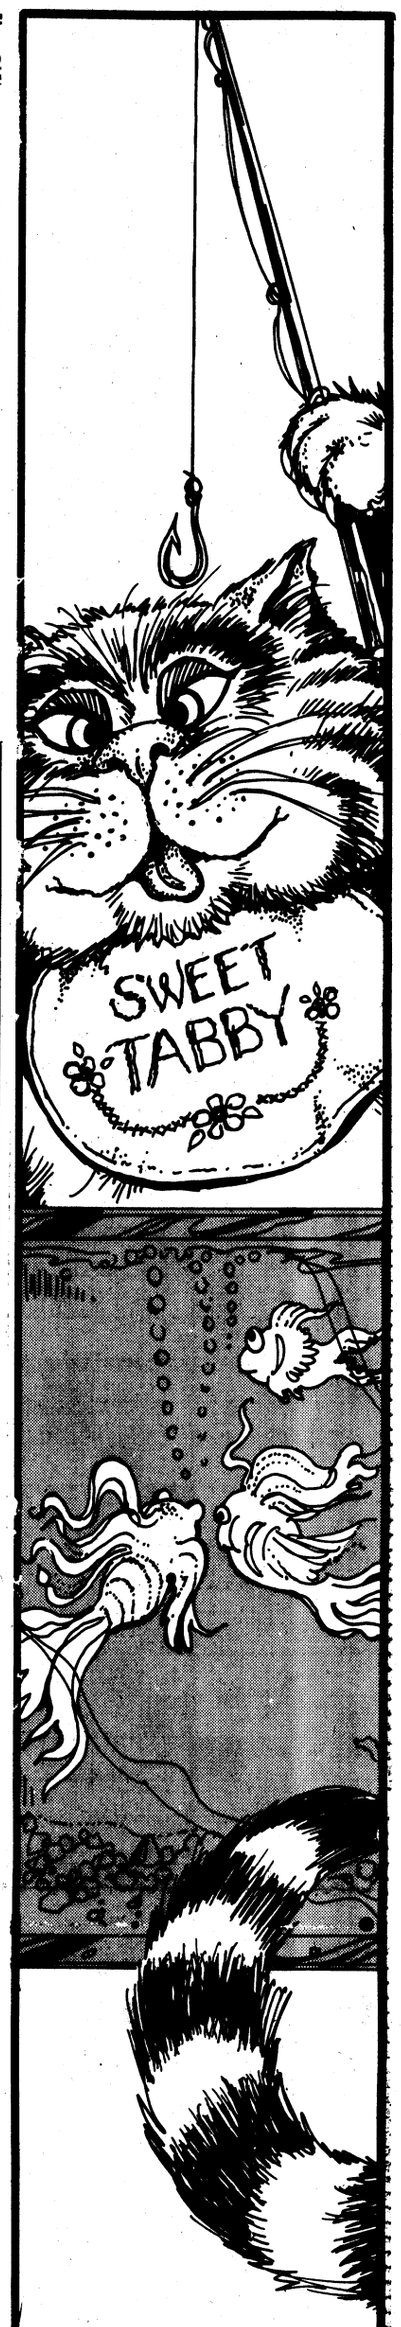
$$ APPLE COMPUTER SALES $$

Immediate opening for part-time sales rep 7 to 15 hours a week to sell Apple computer products and accessories at your local military exchange. Must have hands-on experience with Apple or similar personal computers. Sales experience a plus. Duties will include order and inventories. CALL for additional details at: (214) 245-3600 ask for Daniel James.

The M. J. Daniel Company
1000 Beltline Road
Carrollton, TX 75006

BLOOD PLASMA SAVES LIVES
$10 ea. DONATION
New Donors/ Or Inactive For 6 Months/ $5 Bonus with This Ad/ Plus $5 2nd Time Bonus Plus $750 Cash Drawing Monthly
Community Plasma Center
825 4th Ave.
Columbus
322-6566

WEATHER PROOF!



Whether it's a blizzard or a flood ... a good classified ad gets results. Call our Ad-visor today and get professional help to write a good classified ad.

Ledger-Enquirer Classified

322-4500

It Makes A Lasting Impression

SUPER SUPRA SALE!

STOCK	LIST PRICE	REBATE	YOUR PRICE
#2678	$28,263	$2500	$25,763
#2675	$29,202	$3500	$25,702
#2662	$25,845	$2500	$23,345
#2665	$27,432	$3500	$23,932

and

THERE'S MORE...

Model #2511 $2000 REBATE

Model #2522 $1000 REBATE

Model #8200 Pick-Up $1400 REBATE

USE REBATE AS DOWN PAYMENT OR CASH BACK TO YOU

MALOOF TOYOTA
Exit 4 I-185, Macon Road

CALL DAVID OR SANDY FOR INSTANT CREDIT APPROVAL
563-7500
Sales Hours: Mon.-Fri. 9-9
Sat. 9-7

How to drop a line in Classified

Take Ad-Vantage of Sell-ma Ads

3 LINES-5 DAYS-$5
to sell items for up to $300

3 LINES-3 DAYS-$11.70
to sell big ticket items

CALL CLASSIFIED 322-4500

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

LOST & FOUND ITEMS 077

FOUND set of keys, Allendale, Morningside area. Call to identify. 323-7735.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS 078

RARE Fender Telecaster custom deluxe guitar & Peavey Heritage Series 130 watt amp, both $600 firm, access incl. 689-1737

MERCHANDISE WANTED 098

GERMAN slats and box springs needed for German bed. 568-3255 after 6p.m.

PET SUPPLIES & SERVICES 124

ROTTWEILER puppies, 6 wks old. Shots & wormed, $300. Call Hamilton, 628-4647.

PETS-LOST & FOUND 127

BLACK puppy w/ brown feet found at Lakebottom. Call 576-4613 after 6pm.

HAVE YOU LOST YOUR PET? Please contact the Muscogee County Humane Society at 7133 Sacerdote Lane, off Schatulga Road.

Ledger-Enquirer Classified Ads Call 322-4500

YOU CAN HELP SAVE A PET
Call our 24-hour hotline for lost & found pets. 571-2060.

FREE COLUMN 130

Adorable Black Lab mixed puppies, 8 weeks old, Free to good home. 322-7164

BLACK Chow to good home w/fence, male. Call 561-6584 before 1PM.

CALICO & Tabby kittens, fuffy & adorable, best litter of the year. 323-0959.

FREE adult female cat, spayed; also male puppy. Call 297-4770.

FREE KITTENS to good home, white, black & white, & greay, aft 6PM 324-2660

FREE KITTENS
6wks old 298-3238

FREE KITTENS
6wks old 298-3238

FREE to good home, 2 adult male dogs, part Labs, w/2 dog houses. 324-3188 lv msg.

FREE COLUMN 130

FREE!! Laborador, 1yr old, beautiful, to good home only. Call 687-8584

FREE to good home, female Chow, 2 mo old. Call 298-8049

FREE to good home, 4 yr old female mutt. Call 687-3993

FREE! 6wk old kittens. For good home only. Call 568-4277

IT'S HERE: the '89-'90 Military Pages. Call 682-7185 for your free copy.

KITTENS Free, 2 males, 1 female, tabby & white, Bridlewood. Call 561-5211.

PART Doberman male puppy, neutered, black & brown, free to good home. 628-5746

PEACHTREES free for the digging, waist high; free monkey grass. 1127 Sturkie Ave.

SPECIAL kitten need special home. 8 MTH old black & white w/long hair. Neutered & declawed. All shots. Only has 3 legs. Call 561-3341 bet 8-6:30

2 MALE, 1 Female mixed bull dogs. Call 327-2216

7TH MO old, Golden Ret., Irish setter mixed, Blond male, good w/kids, good country dog. Aft. 3 687-5901

RESTAURANTS & CLUBS 212

PART-TIME HELP. No experience necessary. Apply between 3pm & 5pm at Tavern On The Square, #14 11th St., & Speakeasy, 3123 Mercury Dr.

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

ATTENTION:
Federal Civil Servants
Counselors needed to advise Federal Civil Servants on survivor benefits & money matters. Excellent part time work for active civil servants. We train. Company benefits include group, life & health insurance, co. paid trips. Only stable, self-motivated persons with sound work record need apply. For interview appt., send brief outline of work history w/current telephone number to: MSA, P.O. Box 3188, Cols, GA 31903

ATTENTION football players, 18 & up. Phenix Professional Sports Inc. proudly announces tryouts for the Phenix City Colonels football team of the Southern Football League. For further information & details contact, Rick Edwards, General Manager or Steve Cole, Head Coach at the Colonels front office, 205-291-9393.

I GOT THE JOB!
IF YOU WERE HIRED USING THE
COLUMBUS LEDGER-ENQUIRER CLASSIFIEDS
We want to hear from you! Please call Mr. Gill at 324-5526, ext. 382

Leaders
For the Finest Jr. Officers seeking the Finest Career opportunities and service. Palm Quinn, USMA '79, 250 Teri Lane, Prattville, AL 36067. (205) 361-9152.

Multimillion dollar co. seeking full or part time distributors to work from their home, promoting nutritional and weight loss products. Excellent income potential, training available. For interview call 561-0289.

DOMESTIC HELP WANTED 219

FULL TIME babysitter & housekeeper. Previous ref. required. Must provide own transportation. Call 297-1242, 563-2773 Jill

MEDICAL DENTAL 220

HUGHSTON ORTHOPAEDIC CLINIC P.C.
Immediate Opening
Registered Radiology Technologist
Call 324-6661

OFFICE CLERICAL 222

We Want to Check Your Best Reference- ★ YOU ★

Call Today To Apply, Test & Interview With Us. The Right Job For The Person And The Right Person For The Job.

We Have Permanent, Temporary, Full-time, Part-time, Short-term & Long-term Assignments Available.

WE ARE CURRENTLY RECRUITING FOR
- Receptionist
- Secretaries
- Clerk Typist
- Word Processors
- Data Entry Operators

If You Have Clerical/On The Job Experience...
Call PCI Today For Appt
571-2400
105 W. 10th St.
Corner of 10th & Front Ave (In The Courtyard)

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500
The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

SALES 226

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

SALES MGR. TRAINEES Exp. helpful but not a must. Will train. Flex. hours. Apply at Steve's Check Cashiers, 3905 Victory Dr. Suite 2, next to Blimpie's, M-W, 11-5. No phone calls please.

RESUME SERVICES 232

A BETTER JOB WINNING RESUME $9
up to executive presentations. Expert writing, typing, printing, updating.
...FREE CONSULTATION...
★ SAME DAY SERVICE ★
America's oldest & largest Professional Resume Svc.
327-2238
2520 Wynnton Rd. Ste. 4

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIY 410

MAKING A CAREER CHANGE?
Don't go it alone!
Most of our successful franchises have never owned a business before Servpro. Servpro showed them how to make money in insurance restoration and residential/commercial cleaning. For free brochure and information call 1-800-826-9586 or Bob Sappington, 568-1847.

UNFURNISHED APTS. GA 520

2 Br duplex between Medical Ctr. & Lakebottom. Call 327-1894 or 327-1927.

FURNISHED HOUSES GA 524

Oakland Pk, 3BR, near Post & schools. $375 - dep. 689-0226, 10am-6pm

UNFURNISHED HOUSES GA 526

BRICK home, furn, 2BR w/den, W/D, cen h/a, So Cols. $265. 561-8684.

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

AAA cond. 3 BR brick, 1 BA, $500 dn, qualify & assume $416.92 PITI. 323-3480.

A CHILD'S PARADISE
Back yard pool. Quiet street-walk to school, ball park & fitness trail. 3BR 2BA, big greatroom w/fireplace, DR, kitchen w/lots of cabinets! North, $70's. Betty Quinn 569-9817
Jefferson Brothers, Inc.
324-4424

BEAT THE RENT RACE!
Make an offer on this nice 3BR home near Benning & let your housing dollars start working for you. House is carpeted & has many extras. Asking $26,600. For particulars & to see the property,
Call BILL SWEEDEN:
568-1440 or 576-5393
SHOWCASE REALTY, Inc

Beaver Run, By Owner, 4BR 3BA, DR, GR, DN, hardwood floors, sunroom, deck, pool, own lake w/dock, time sprinkler, appr 4 yrs old. 561-5703.

BY OWNER, North, 2,885 sq ft, walk to pool, 3 BR, 2 BA, lg. den w/ FP, built -in bookcase, wet bar, formal LR/DR, lg. kitchen, extra study, game room, VA, mid $80's. 563-5433

LARGE 4BR home near Ft. Benning. Only $59,950.
Patty Rexrode 663-2023
ED BUNN REALTY
628-4258

321 NEW Home, close to Benning, wooded, ½ acre lot, 1200 sq.ft, many extras, VA/FHA, Hwy 26, Cusseta, GA, low $50's. Call 298-5486, 989-3057.

WANTED TO BUY 640

CASH
For used major appliances. Refrig, washers, dryers, microwave ovens & air conditioners. 327-0190 anytime.

MOBILE HOMES FOR SALE 710

Quiet country living,2 & 3BR, $500 dn,starting at $240/mo. Owner fin. 855-3486

'87 SHULTZ 14x72, 3BR 2BA, garden tub, cent. h/a, exc. cond., $14,500. 291-1396

MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT 714

NICE 2BR, washer/dryer, central heat, Furn, a/c. $230 mo. 561-8684/689-8646

1,2 & 3br elec/gas on, near schools & post. 1314 Ft. Benning Rd. 9-5, 689-0453

2 BDRM, 1 bath, w/d, c-a, deck, on ½ acre. $275. 1-536-7938.

MOBILE HOME LOTS FOR RENT 716

LARGE LOT in the country, not in a park. Ladonia area. $75.Call 297-9727.

BOATS 810

EAGLE BASS BOAT '85, 40HP Mariner, incl. trailer, like new. Call 291-9747.

'73 GLASTRON bass boat trihull, 50 Merc, fully rigged, $1500. 323-4934, 327-4568

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

'84 Honda XR-500 Dirt Bike, exc. cond., very fast. $1200. 327-9442

SPRING SALE!
We Have To Move Over 200 Motorcycles At Once. No Reasonable Offer Refused!

HONDA 600 HURRICANE
$765 down-$163.33 per mth includes tax, tag, title & insurance. First Time Buyer Plan available.
Honda-Come Ride With Us
TOMMY WAGES HONDA
Corner 18th St. & 4th Ave
322-7328

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

1981 Yamaha SR-250, looks & runs perfect. $350/offer. 568-3049; Brad, 563-3660

TRUCKS 914

Dodge '89 D50, warranty. low mi., $6300/offer. 298-6399 days or 298-2970 nights.

TOYOTA P/U, '87, 5sp, air, ps, pb, excellent cond. Call 324-7951 after 7pm.

Toyota 4X4,'85, ps, pb, a/c, 62,000 mi, long wheel base, $5800. 855-4290 lv. msg.

'86 Dodge Ram Charger, 360 eng, towing pkg, air, tilt, all power, new Michelin tires, low mi, new cond. $11,800 firm. 561-9606.

'88 CHEVY Blazer, fully loaded, like new, $12,500/offer. 689-2271 anytime

AUTO INSURANCE FINANCING 928

Military & civilians residing in Alabama. Call or see us for your insurance needs. Serving area since 1960.
PITTS-DAVIS INS.
298-2500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

DODGE '85 Caravan, extra clean. $4950. Call 563-2478 or 563-0386.

DODGE '87 Ram Charger, 360 V8, HD towing pkg., all options, exc. cond. 563-7765 days or 323-4727 nights.

ESCORT '87 GL, 2 dr, 5 sp, am/fm casset. Great gift for your graduate. $4550. Call 682-2020.

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

CHEVETTE '85, 4 sp, a/c, good cond. $2500. Call 687-6556.

CHEVY '76 Impala, loaded V8, w/spare 350 eng. $400/offer. Call 298-5193.

CITATION X11 '80, runs good, $800. Call 327-2759 or 569-1438.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500
The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

MAZDA 626 '81, excellent condition. $1800 or best offer. Call 298-2924

OLDSMOBILE Delta Royale, '83, excellent cond., 2nd owner, $4700. Must see! 2000 Crawford Rd. PC.

TOYOTA Corolla LE '88, warranty, $7850. 298-6399 days or 298-2970 nights.

TOYOTA GT '77, 5 sp, lift back, $1100 negot. Call 324-0069.

'74 FORD Mustang II, excellent condition. $1395. Call 561-4516

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

'79 MAZDA RX7, silver, 88k mi, a/c, am/fm, sunroof, asking $2500. 682-4103

'84 CAMARO, 6 cyl, good cond, $3200. Call 596-0282 after 5pm

'84 Pontiac Fiero, silver, very clean, never wrecked, $3200/offer. Steve, 563-3531

'86 PONTIAC Firebird, V8, all options, t-tops, clean, $8500. 568-3296

'87 IROC, met blue, t-tops, 305, TPI, auto, loaded, exc cond, $12,000 firm. 563-2296

'88 TOYOTA Celica ST, ps, pb, OD, air, am/fm cass, low mi, $11,900 firm. 561-9606.

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

Corvette '84, loaded, silver & gray, 31K mi., garage kept. $13,500. 322-1583.

CORVETTE '87 Convertible, red, black top, 20,000 mi. $27,500. 563-2986.

'84 300ZX Turbo
Auto., exc. cond., t-tops, $8300. Call 323-5831

'86 IROC, like new, 8000 mi, $11,500. Call 687-2588

CLASSIC & ANTIQUE AUTOS 934

CADILLAC '71, rare white Fleetwood formal limo. Reasonable offer. 568-7522.

'52 CHEVROLET exc cond, $2000. Call 687-2588

IMPORTED AUTOS 936

Engines: Honda, Toyota, Nissan, Mitsubishi, Mazda, Isuzu, Subaru. Guaranteed & ready to install. Lowest prices; shipped anywhere USA. Techna-Car 1-800-344-1015.

MERCEDES '68, 280 SE, clean. Price negotiable. Call 322-0118.

Mom's Agree...

Crown Sells for Less!

THE ALL NEW! 1989 DODGE SPIRIT L.E. STK # 3045 Nicely Equipped
Regular Price $15,401.00
Crown Discount -2,000.00
Factory Rebate -500.00
You Pay Only! $12,901.00*

1990 AXXESS STK #102 ALL NEW DESIGN FOR AN ALL NEW YEAR 5 spd., AM/FM Cassette, Air
Regular Price $16,703.00
Crown Discount -1,500.00
You Pay Only! $15,203.00*

1989 NISSAN HARD BODY P.U. STK #153 A. Trans, AM/ FM Cassette, Air
Regular Price $10,077.00
Crown Discount -500.00
Factory Rebate -500.00
You Pay Only! $9,077.00*

1989 NISSAN SENTRAS STK #101 2 DR., 4 spd. True Economy Car!
Regular Price $6,999.00
Factory Rebate -500.00
You Pay Only! $6,499.00*

THE ALL NEW NISSAN 300ZX Fully Loaded!
Rebates Up to $3,000!

1989 NISSAN STANZA'S The Affordabel Luxury Car! Now! Your Choice
$2,000.00 REBATE
We Have 8 1988's left with Rebates up to $750.00. Come make us an offer and get the rebate as well!!

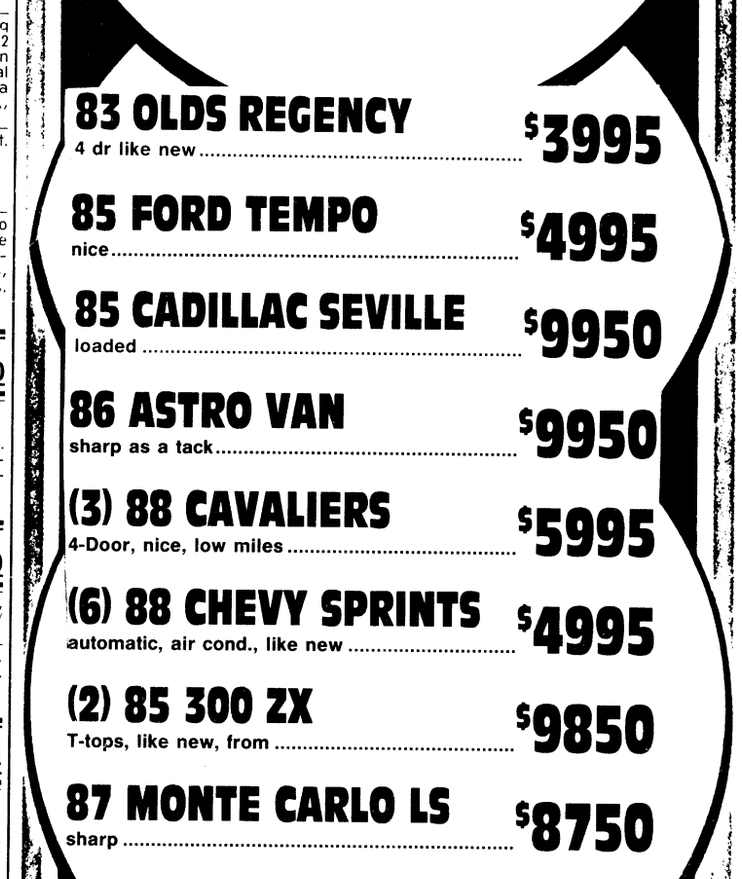
*Plus tax, tag, title

CROWN USED CARS

1988 CHEVY BERETTA Loaded!! $7995.00	1987 DODGE DAKOTA L.W.B., 5spd., Air, AM/FM Tape $6995.00	1987 OLDS DELTA 88 BRM Loaded! $9995	1987 NISSAN 200SX XE Power Sunroof, All Power Equip, One Owner, X-Clean $8995.00
1987 PONTIAC FIERO S.E. A. Trans, Air, AM/FM $6995.00	1986 FORD MUSTANG LX 2DR., H-Back, A. Trans, Air, AM/FM, 39,000 miles $5495.00	1985 OLDS CIERA BRM Nice Car!! $5995.00	1986 NISSAN KING CAB P.U., P. Steering, AM/FM Cassette $5795.00

427 New Franklin Rd.
LaGrange, GA
(404) 884-1744
Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8
Sat. 8:30-6:00

CROWN NISSAN
CHRYSLER PLYMOUTH DODGE



Train to be a Professional
•SECRETARY
•EXECUTIVE SEC.
•WORD PROCESSOR
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
THE HART SCHOOL
a Div. of A.C.T. Corp.
Nat'l hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

Train for careers in
•AIRLINES
•CRUISE LINES
•TRAVEL AGENCIES
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
A.C.T. TRAVEL SCHOOL
Nat'l hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

Spring
is here at . . .
GARDENBROOK
An Affordable, Convenient Address to be Proud of . . . 1 & 2 Bedroom SPECIAL With a long list of AMENITES!
322-6006
3561 Hilton Ave.
Hours: M-F 9-6 Sat. & Sun. by Appt.

OPPORTUNITY SALE
Here's your chance.
Own A Like-New Used Car for less...
BILL HEARD'S PHENIX CITY
1131 280 By-Pass Phenix City, Ala.
Over 100 Pre-Owned Cars To Choose From!!

83 OLDS REGENCY 4 dr like new	$3995
85 FORD TEMPO nice	$4995
85 CADILLAC SEVILLE loaded	$9950
86 ASTRO VAN sharp as a tack	$9950
(3) 88 CAVALIERS 4-Door, nice, low miles	$5995
(6) 88 CHEVY SPRINTS automatic, air cond., like new	$4995
(2) 85 300 ZX T-tops, like new, from	$9850
87 MONTE CARLO LS sharp	$8750
(2) 87 CHEVY CAPRICES loaded, low miles	$8995
86 CHEVY CELEBRITY CL auto., air condition, power steering	$5995
87 MONTE CARLO SS only one in town like this	$12,750
83 ELDORADO BARRITZ one owner	$7995

CALL 298-3636
on the 280 By-Pass
In Phenix City, Alabama

THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY DODGE CITY'S THURSDAY, FRIDAY, SATURDAY

CONVERSION VAN EXTRAVAGANZA WITH THE LOWEST PRICES IN OUR HISTORY

46 VANS IN STOCK

FOR IMMEDIATE DELIVERY

89 CONVERSION
BY KUSTOM KRAFT

QUAD CAPTAIN'S CHAIRS, FOLD OUT BED, FULL INTERIOR ILLUMINATION, FACTORY AIR CONDITIONING, STEREO SOUND SYSTEM AND MUCH MORE!

STARTING AT $13,495

89 HI-TOP
BY KUSTOM KRAFT

FRONT AND REAR AIR CONDITIONING, COLOR TV, QUAD CAPTAIN'S CHAIRS, FOLD OUT BED, CUSTOM WHEELS, FULL INTERIOR ILLUMINATION, CUSTOM MINI BLINDS AND MUCH MORE!

STARTING AT $15,895

AS LOW AS 0% APR FINANCING OR UP TO $2,000 REBATES

89 CONVERSION
BY CUSTOM COACH

QUAD CAPTAIN'S CHAIRS, FOLD OUT BED, V-8 ENGINE, FACTORY AIR CONDITIONING, COLOR TV, FULL INTERIOR ILLUMINATION, CUSTOM WHEELS, STEREO SOUND SYSTEM, CUSTOM MINI BLINDS AND MUCH MORE!

STARTING AT $14,295

89 HIGH TOP
BY IDEAL VANS

PREMIER PACKAGE. COLOR TV WIRED FOR VIDEO CASSETTE PLAYER. QUAD CAPTAIN'S CHAIRS. FRONT AND REAR AIR COND., FOLD OUT BED, OAK TRIM PACKAGE, POWER WINDOWS AND DOOR LOCKS, TILTWHEEL, CRUISE CONTROL. CUSTOM MINI BLINDS AND DRAPES, FULL INTERIOR ILLUMINATION.

STARTING AT $16,695

0% FOR 24 MONTHS, WAC. ALL PRICES AFTER REBATE

TOP QUALITY USED CARS, TRUCKS AND VANS

86 JEEP CHEROKEE 4 DOOR, AC, 4X4, LOW MILES $7,195	85 FORD ESCORT 2 DOOR, GAS SAVER $2,495	87 DODGE CHARGER AT, AC, SPORTY $5,595	86 FORD MUSTANG AT, AC, ONE OWNER $6,495	85 NISSAN CENTURY GOOD 1ST CAR $3,995	85 CHRYSLER NEW YORKER TURBO $6,495	85 DODGE CARAVAN AT, AC, 7 PASSENGER, ONE OWNER $7,495	88 FORD F150 XLT LARIAT V8, AT, AC, LOADED $10,995	86 CHEVY CHEVETTE AUTO., AIR $4,295	87 YUGO GV GOOD WORK CAR, GAS SAVER $1,595	84 TOYOTA CAMRY 4 DOOR, AT, AC, LOW MILES $5,495
88 TOYOTA PICK UP $6,995	85 OLDS FIRENZA AUTO., AC $4,995	88 DODGE RAM CHARGER 4X4, V8, AT, AC $13,995	88 DODGE RAM 250 ¾ TON PICK UP, V8, AT, AC $12,995	84 GMC ZIMMER PACKAGE RAISETOP CONVERSION VAN $7,995	87 CHEVY SPECTRUM LOW PAYMENTS $3,995	88 CHRYSLER LEBARON CONVERTIBLE, AT, AC, TURBO $12,995	85 AUDI 4000 AT, AC, 4 DOOR, FAMILY CAR $5,995	84 VOLVO 4 DOOR, STATION WAGON, ONE OWNER $5,695	89 DODGE SHADOW ONE OWNER, AT, AC, STEREO $8,495	87 DODGE OMNI AUTO., AC $4,695

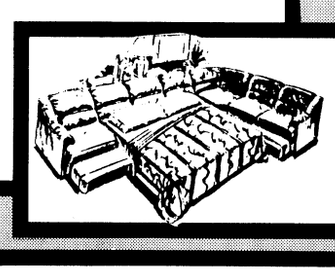
DODGE CITY AUDI
2201 VICTORY DRIVE
324-4161

LAST 3 DAYS!

80,000 Square Feet

Spring Fling

SAVE 27% to 55% ON SELECT CLOSEOUTS



No payments till August '89 with qualified credit.

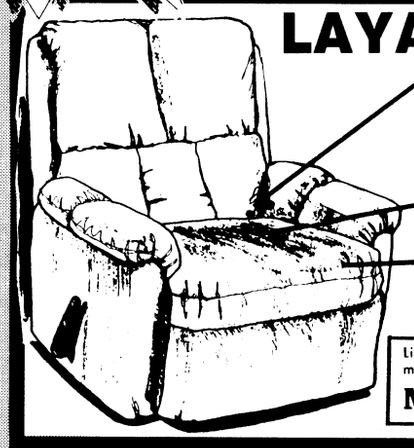
SUPER VALUE!

It's massive yet beautiful covered in high quality easy-to-care-for herculon velvet. What's more, inside all this soft billowy comfort are two incliners for "put your feet up" relaxation. Plus a queen size sleeper with headrest making this a fantastic value.

Reg. $2499
NOW $1299

DON'T MISS THIS HUGE SALE!

LAST WEEK!



Fill Out And Bring This Coupon In To Register

FURNISH AMERICA
OFFICIAL TICKET

Furnish America $10,000 FURNITURE GIVEAWAY

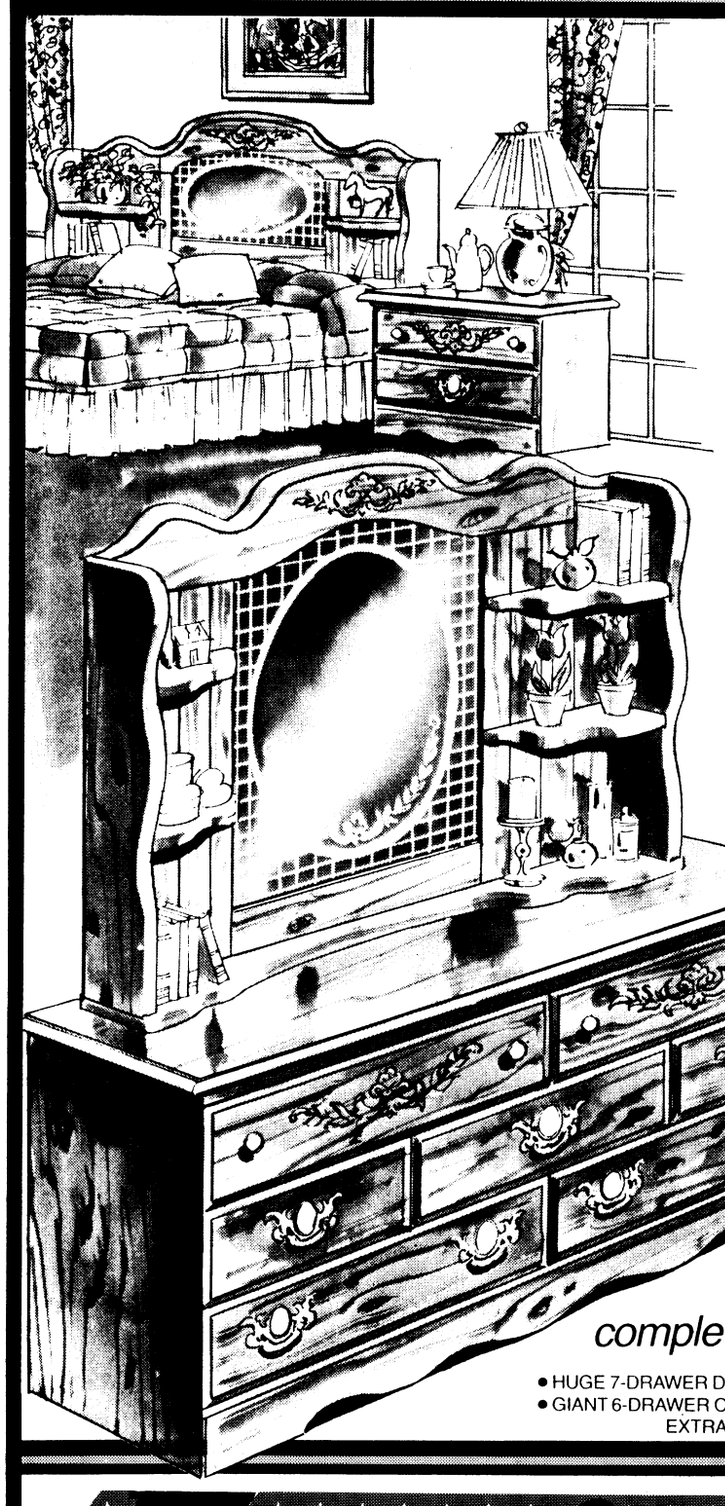
NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
PHONE _____

LAYAWAY FOR FATHER'S DAY!

Hickory dowels and corner blocks in all stress joints.

Each seat has drop in coil unit or five non-sagging sinuous springs with two sixten gauge tie wires.

High density urethane foam.



Lifetime warranty on all mechanical features.
McKeehan

MANY STYLES TO CHOOSE FROM SAVE 33%

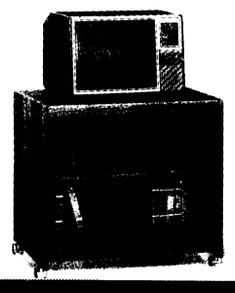
THE "BETTER BOY"

Come in today and check out the large recliner section at Furnish America. Let Dad, Grandad or your husband know just how much you love them. Buy one of these fine recliners and we'll keep the secret so only you know how little you paid.

- Select hardwood frame construction
- Hickory dowels and corner blocks in all stress joints
- Each seat has drop in coil unit or five non-sagging sinuous springs with two sixteen gauge tie wires
- High density urethane foam

'Classic Pine' offers more look, more space, LESS price

Our new "Classic Pine" grouping offers more delightful design features, more spaciousness than anything else at anywhere near the price.



Authentic porcelain inlaid brass hardware and deeply embossed floral designs accent these outstanding case pieces which include an open curio display dresser hutch with oval decorated etched mirror over the sweeping triple dresser and a shaped, hutch headboard with decorator etched mirror.

You get the complete 4-pc. suite $599

- HUGE 7-DRAWER DRESSER
- EXPANSIVE DRESSER HUTCH MIRROR
- GIANT 6-DRAWER CHEST
- FULL/QUEEN SIZE HUTCH HEADBOARD

EXTRA SPACIOUS 2-DRAWER BEDSIDE CHEST ONLY $99

TV CART SPRING SALE

This is an attractive and sturdy unit on which to store VCR, TV, tapes, accessories and more. The center shelf conveniently pulls out for access to your VCR. The bottom shelf just the right size to hold your favorite tapes, or books and magazines. Finished on all sides in Plymouth Oak, with caster for mobility. Comes ready to assemble.

ONLY $29.00

GOURMET RACK

NOW $88

From the foremost collection. Attractive sturdy construction. Attractive sturdy construction. Perfect to help fill that empty spot and to give you additional space at the same time.

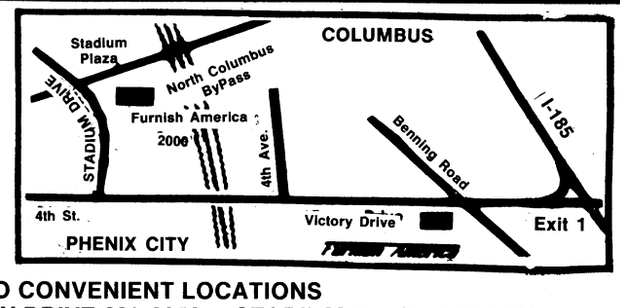
AMERICAN BEDDING

COUNTRY MORNING POSTURE SERIES
SOLD IN SETS ONLY

Twin .....NOW $139.95
Full.....NOW $196.95
Queen. NOW $222.95
King .....NOW $319.95

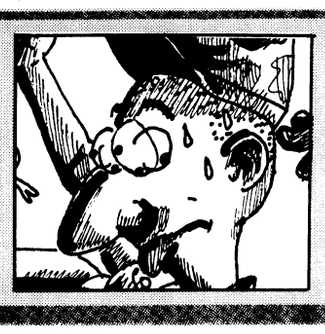
PLAY LOTORIA℠
FREE GIANT JACKPOT

GET YOUR FREE TICKETS
NO PURCHASE NECESSARY



REGISTER HERE FOR FURNISH AMERICA

$1000 Furniture GIVE Away

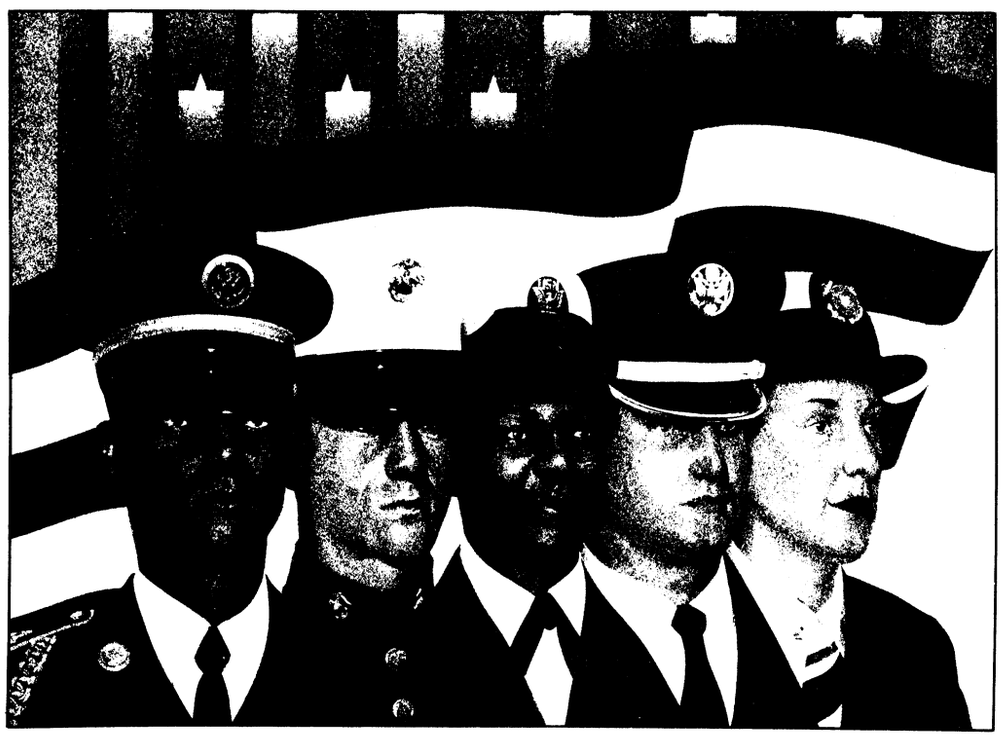


Furnish America

Yes, we still have credit terms. Even at these astounding prices we can offer convenient terms based upon needs including 100 days same as cash. Minimum purchase $400. Your charge cards welcome.

NOW TWO CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
BENNING ROAD AT VICTORY DRIVE 682-2350— STADIUM PLAZA 298-1121

Snivley learns how to avoid catching VDT.
See A-2



Chief legal assistance officer advises not to join camera clubs.
See A-7

INDEX

Opinion A-2
Community ... A-8
Spiritual A-9
Sports B-4
Movies B-5

THE BAYONET
Home of the Infantry
Vol. 47, No. 33 | Published in the interest of the Fort Benning, Ga. community. | May 19, 1989

Armed Forces Day Saturday

USAIC Public Affairs Office

"Keeping America Strong" is the theme for this year's Armed Forces Day open house May 20 at Fort Benning.

A full day of activities is scheduled, including a 7 a.m. 10K and 2-mile "Fun Run" at York and Stewart Fields, followed at 10 a.m. by a parade, Airborne and Ranger demonstrations and the crowning of the Chattahoochee Valley-Fort Benning Chapter, Association of the United States Army queen.

From noon till 5 p.m., Stewart-Watson Field will take on a carnival atmosphere with activities for all ages, including rides for children, inter-unit games, game booths, military equipment displays, recreation and entertainment.

A nominal fee will be charged for participation in selected entertainment and recreational activities.

In conjunction with Armed Forces Day, the local AUSA Chapter will sponsor its annual picnic. Food and beverages will be on sale at booths on Stewart-Watson from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

The public is invited to attend.

WHAT: Armed Forces Day Open House

ACTIVITIES: 7 a.m. — 10K run and 2-mile fun run.

10 a.m. — Parade, Airborne and Ranger demonstrations, crowning of AUSA queen.

Noon till 5 p.m. — Carnival, including rides, games and displays.

Sons of the American Revolution will pay tribute to Revolutionary War soldier

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

It's not likely that Samuel Cooper ever dreamed that 148 years after his death, a U.S. paratrooper would jump from an airplane and parachute onto his grave as a part of a memorial service in his honor.

However, a Fort Benning soldier will parachute onto the corner of Warm Springs and Miller roads Saturday at 9 a.m., carrying an American Flag sent from Washington D.C. to be flown over the graves of Cooper and his two children.

The memorial service is the grand finale of extensive efforts toward restoring dignity to the grave of a Cooper, who fought with the South Carolina Militia during the Revolutionary War.

Cooper came to Georgia in 18 — and died here in 1841. He was buried in a quarter-acre family cemetery on what used to be his 405 acre-estate.

Until recently, all that remained of his estate were three graves stones soiled and choked by weeds. Now, thanks to the Coweta Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution, Cooper's family cemetery has regained its dignity, though it has dwindled from its original size to a 29x29-foot plot.

Work on restoring the grave site began when it was discovered several years ago by members of the chapter, according to H.C. Harden, coordinator of the restoration project.

Harden said restoring the grave was time consuming for several reasons. A dispute with a local businessman, claiming cemetery as his property, finally ended recently when land deeds still showed the Cooper family as the owners of the land. A second problem was the lack of funds needed to restore the grave site. Harden said the chapter stills needs about $3,000 to pay for the restoration.

Despite the problems, Harden said, the site has been restored and Saturday's ceremony will put an end to a lot of hard work. The memorial service will include appearances by the Shaw High School band, a junior Reserve Officer Training Corps drill team, Fort Benning color guard and honor guard, according to Harden. The service will also include a Spirit of George Washington special tribute Harden said.

The public is welcome to attend the service Harden said, and bleachers will be provided.

Shawn Bryson

May Day Relay

Soldiers from B Co., 1st Bn., 14th Avn. run in formation in front of Building 4 during the last leg of the 1st annual May Day Relay from Fort Rucker to Fort Benning. The runners took turns running 5-mile legs of a 125-mile journey, which they completed in about 16 hours. See story on page B-1 for more on the relay.

ACOE top priority at DCP

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The Army Community of Excellence program has got some Directorate of Civilian Personnel employees rolling up their sleeves and arming themselves with paint brushes and other tools to create a better working atmosphere for the staff and other civilian employees.

Training Division employees are sprucing their office up with items acquired through the Directorate of Engineering as a part of a U-Do-It project, according to Employee Development Specialist, Alex VanHeuvel.

VanHeuvel said that a face lift is not the only thing being done in his division.

"In addition to making this place better looking, we've gone from zero to three classrooms," he said, "and we've got several new education programs in the works."

One of the programs is a satellite link-up with Fort Lee, Va.

Van Heuvel said that Fort Lee

See ACOE A-8

ACOE slogan contest underway

USAIC Public Affairs Office

A slogan is needed for the Army Communities of Excellence Program. The program presently has a logo, but, so far, no one has been able to come up with a short "catchy" slogan that will capture in a few words what ACOE is all about.

The ACOE Program is about soldiers, their families and civilians. It's about providing excellent services and facilities for all people who live, work and play at Fort Benning.

Thanks to the generosity of some private organizations on the post — AUSA, FBMA and ASMA — funds have been made available to award the winner of the slogan contest a $500 bond. May 31 is the deadline.

Send slogans to Management Division, DRM, building 2604, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905. For more information, call 545-5382/2311.

POST BRIEFS

Commanding General's Armed Forces Day message

The theme for Armed Forces Day 1989 is "Keeping America Strong."

Thomas Paine wrote, "Those who expect to reap the blessings of freedom must, like men, undergo the fatigue of supporting it."

We, at Fort Benning, like Thomas Paine, realize freedom isn't cheap. We know we must sweat and sacrifice and insist on high standards of training if we are to keep America strong.

We take pride in the role we play in defending our constitution, and we are pleased to share our pride with our civilian neighbors.

Michael F. Spigelmire
Major General, USA
Commanding

★ ★ ★

TRADOC Commander sends congratulations

I congratulate you and the members of your command as the Training and Doctrine Command installation first-place winner in the FY 88 Project SPIRIT competition. Your initiatives reflect positive management and provide significant savings for TRADOC and the Army. I see such support as the key to improving the TRADOC resource posture — particularly in light of diminishing resources and our tasks to increase productivity.

Overall, TRADOC did extremely well in the FY 88 Project SPIRIT. As a command, we had savings in excess of $449.4 million in budget and $744.4 million in cost avoidance. Fort Benning continues to be a winner, as evidenced by your fourth-time placement in the winners' circle and your significant contribution of $107.2 million in budget savings and $82.5 million in cost avoidances.

Gen. Maxwell R. Thurman
TRADOC Commander

★ ★ ★

Ex-POWs will sell daisies

The Valley Chapter of the American Ex-Prisoners of War will conduct a Daisy Drive on May 26 and 27 beginning at 9:30 a.m. at the main and mini-mall post exchanges.

At the opening, former POWs will present a daisy to Fort Benning commanding general Michael F. Spigelmire.

The daisy has been chosen as the national flower of POWs. All donations will be used to help former POWs.

★ ★ ★

May 22-29 is 'Buckle-Up America' week

May 22 through 29 has been proclaimed "Buckle-Up America" week by the National Highway Safety Administration, and Secretary of Defense Dick Cheney has added his own message for the military.

Private auto and motorcycle accidents are the leading cause of death and injury to servicemembers — 243 active duty soldiers died in highway accidents last fiscal year. According to Army Safety Center figures, about two-thirds of those soldiers weren't wearing seat belts in their accidents.

Cheney says those losses can be reduced by buckling up in cars and wearing helmets when riding motorcycles.

Army regulations require soldiers to wear seat belts both on- and off-post, and many states have laws mandating seat belt use.

Support materials may be obtained from the NHTSA in Washington by calling 202-366-2700.

OPINION

VARIOUS VOICES: What are your major concerns as the mayor of your community?

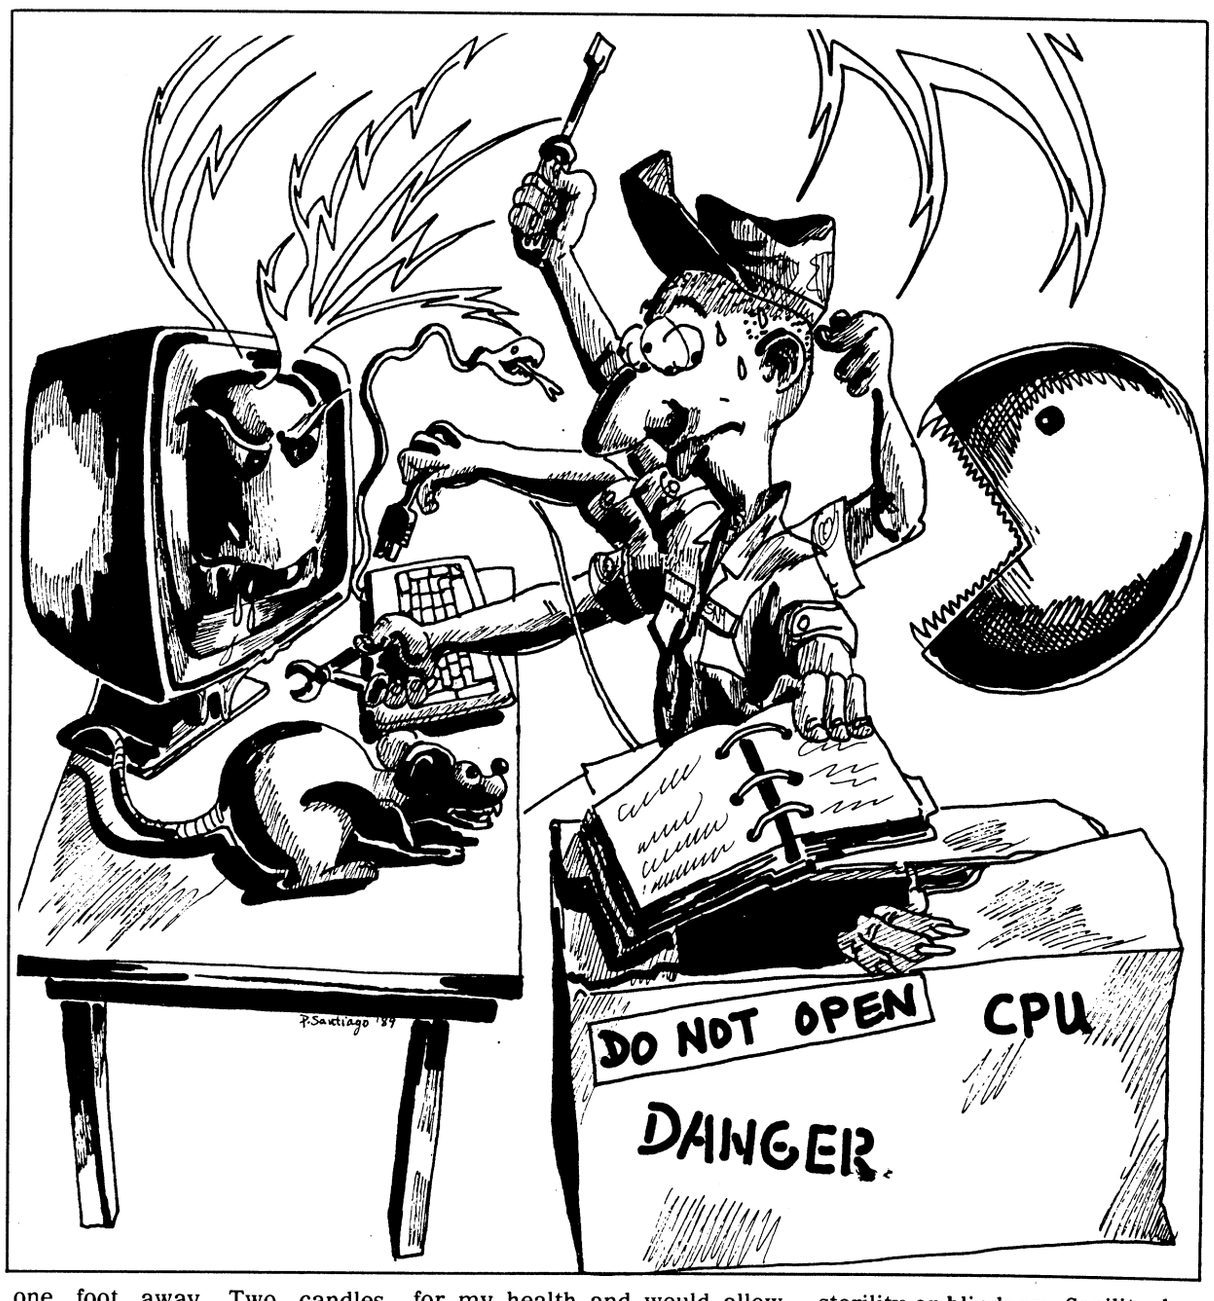
Janey Pryor, Mayor, South Main Post — "To make South Main Post a better place for everybody to live. I hope I can do as good of a job as my predecessor."

Karen Goff, Mayor, North Main Post — "To help the community and the families and make it a safer, happier place to live."

Gloria Edwards, Mayor, Indianhead Terrace — "I want to do something for the youth in our area. I'd like to find them jobs or some sort of activity to keep them occupied this summer."



Dixie Hawkinson, Mayor, Bouton Heights - Davis Hill — "I'd like to get the community more involved. I'd like them to develop a sense of pride instead of just co-existing with one another. I'd also like to find something for the kids to do and to open communication lines in the entire community."

Dorothy Robertson, Mayor, McGraw Manor — "To make sure the people in the community are happy. My main project is to get better facilities for the children in this area."

Snively learns how to avoid catching VDT

By Clyde Snively
USAIC Public Affairs Office

This column contains material which may not be suitable for the faint of heart. We're going to discuss a common social disease ravaging the work place.

It's known as VDT (Video Display Terminitis) and is a major health risk for office workers. (Infantrymen, you can go back to digging your foxholes and assaulting your hills; do not concern yourself with this.)

Symptoms include nagging backaches, headaches, eye strain, and a grouchy work force.

Recognizing this, the post has mobilized its forces and is presenting classes that not only confirm the existence of this loathsome disease, but tell you what steps you can take to keep from getting this disease, or, if already diseased, how you can cure yourself.

Part of the preventive steps and path to being cured, include the proper office set up. To learn how to cope with VDT, the instructor uses a high speed, cloth measuring tape to take micro measurements of the distance between your nose and your computer screen, your nose and the key board, your nose and your document holder and your nose and the top of your computer screen.

Next you look at a bunch of broken circles in a viewing device and tell them which circles aren't broken.

You're then told you need glasses. The phrase is, "intermediate glasses," although Large Sarge, here in our office got reading glasses and distant glasses.

One of the remedies for VDT disease is proper office furniture and lighting. So guess what the first thing I did when I returned to the Bayonet office. I called the phone number for those in charge of measuring light.

We learned all about foot candles in class and I was looking forward to the measurement guy coming out so I could impress him with my knowledge: "One candle foot of power means, if there is no other light source, you can see your foot, one foot away. Two candles means, two feet, two feet away." I rehearsed for the visit.

I was also anxious to talk to our penny-pinching budget officer about some new furniture. Like I think a footlocker is a little low for my screen and keyboard to rest on, and now that the instructor mentioned it, I do notice a loss of feeling in my legs because the gray, metal chairs have forward slope instead of reverse slope.

Grabbing all my document numbers, Army Regs and Health Pamphlets I was given in class, I shyly approached the budget keepers temple. 'Uhm, er, ah,' I began, asserting my rights to get equipment that would be good for my health and would allow me to knock out Bayonet stories in comfort.

She proved very sympathetic to my plight. "I don't care what documents you have, or what you were told you needed, we don't have any money now, never have had any money and will probably never get any money for what you want."

"Does that mean I still use the footlocker?" I asked.

I was also pleased to learn in the class that although these screens are called cathode ray tubes (as in Buck Rogers zapping the bad guys with his cathode ray gun), we need not worry.

It has yet to be proven that these screens cause pregnancy, sterility or blindness. Senility, by the way, was not ruled out.

We were also given exercises to perform, such as cracking our knuckles as we danced about the classroom, singing, "Don't worry, be happy."

In all, it was a most revealing class. And as I wait for a computer table to replace my foot locker, an adjustable chair to replace this metal monster, I'll use the words of our instructor each day, reminding the computer that I'm the boss and I expect us to get along just great.

After all, as the instructor said, it's all a matter of the right frame of mind. "Don't worry, be happy."

'Labor' or 'management' — the NCO identity crisis

By J. C. Mathews
Army News Service

Disorientation. Paranoia. Fear of failure. Social displacement. Loss of support network. Paralysis. Sometimes, panic.

The symptoms vary, but the identity crisis that accompanies promotion to sergeant is unavoidable, immediate, and in many cases, permanent.

With the simple sewing of a stripe, soldiers are stripped of their peers, given new responsibilities and new standards, and told, "You're an NCO now — a leader." They become part of a network that they had only previously seen from below, and armed with personal priorities, values and opinions, they do what they think is best. Whether new sergeants succeed or fail as NCOs, though, largely depends on how they resolve that initial identity crisis, which can be summed up in one question.

Is an NCO part of "labor" or "management?"

The easy answer is that, as an enlisted soldier, an NCO is part of "labor;" officers are "management." However, within the context of the Army's drive to produce improved NCO leaders, and within the framework of individual unit and section hierarchies, NCOs also act in a "management" capacity. They give orders, establish policy, set standards, make decisions, and perform all the other tasks traditionally regarded as "functions of management." So, there is no easy answer.

With whom do NCOs usually identify — superiors or subordinates? An NCO who considers himself part of "management" likely identifies with his superiors. He feels his primary responsibility is to them, and his goals are to meet their requirements, perhaps becoming one of them someday.

On the other hand, a "labor" NCO more likely identifies with his subordinates and feels a special responsibility to them. He remembers all too well what it was like to be a junior enlisted soldier, and tries to live by a statement he made some time back: "When they put me in charge, things are going to be different."

So which is the better NCO? Is there an ideal "self-image" that an NCO should have?

The fact is, there's really no body of evidence to support either position over the other, and there's every indication that the question can't be answered.

NCOs are leaders of soldiers — that's indisputable. The best NCO leaders are those who delegate responsibilities but who also pitch in to get the job done when needed. The best NCO leaders are those who fight back when their soldiers' interests are unnecessarily jeopardized, and then turn around and push their soldiers to capacity to accomplish the mission.

The best NCO leaders are those who know where they're going but also remember where they came from. They try to balance what "management" wants with what "labor" can do, acting as both and as neither.

The bottom line seems to be that NCOs must be all things to all people, acting in accordance with the needs of the unit and of the day. By definition, then, an NCO is neither "labor"' nor "management," and NCOs who think of themselves as one or the other are simply limiting themselves. The NCO identity crisis is necessarily unresolvable.

Properly weathered, the initial vertigo associated with promotion to sergeant will arm a new NCO with the flexibility necessary for success in any role. Flexibility allows NCOs to bend to the Army's needs, an important attribute considering the alternative.

Things that don't bend usually break.

The Bayonet

This newspaper is an authorized publication for members of the Army. Contents of THE BAYONET are not necessarily the official views of, or endorsed by the Department of the Army or any of its agencies. Everything in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, sex or national origin of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunity by an advertiser will result in the refusal of the publisher to print advertising from that souce. THE BAYONET is an unofficial publication authorized by Army Regulation 360-81. Editorial content is prepared, edited and provided by the Public Affairs Office of the U.S. Army Infantry Center. THE BAYONET is published each Friday by the R.W. Page Corporation, a private firm in no way connected with the Department of the Army, under exclusive written contract with Fort Benning. All photos are U.S. Army unless otherwise credited. Liaison between the publisher and the commanding general, USAIC, is maintained by the public affairs officer, through the command information officer, USAIC, Fort Benning.

Editorial

Commanding General ..... Maj. Gen.Michael F. Spigelmire
Public Affairs Officer ..... Lt. Col. McDonald Plummer Jr.
Command Information Officer ..... Maj. Thomas Fix
Command Information NCOIC ..... SSgt. Ron Allen
Administration NCOIC ..... SSgt. Luz Llanos
Editor ..... Agatha Hudson James
Assistant Editor ..... Spec. Shawn Bryson
Staff writer ..... Spec. Ann McDonald
Editorial Office: Public Affairs Office, USAIC, Building 4, Room 601, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905, (404) 545-2201/2202; AUTOVON 835-2201.

Advertising

Retail/Display ..... (404) 324-5526
Classified ..... (404) 322-4500
Circulation ..... (404) 323-1234

For subscription information call (404)323-1234.

Circulation 21,000

Represented nationally by Knight Ridder Newspaper sales W.B. Bradbury and Military Media, Inc.

Post recognizes Project SPIRIT competitors

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Fort Benning recently honored second-quarter, 1989 Project SPIRIT competitors who, together, documented 74 actions resulting in $8.6 million in savings to the post.

Heading up the list of competitors at an award ceremony in Building 4 on May 9 was the U.S. Army Infantry Training Center. The ITC won the Command/Major Unit competition by implementing ten management improvement initiatives. These actions will save $2.0 million dollars annually.

Two suggestions and the implementation of 22 management improvements won the Directorate of Engineering family the Spirit Award for the Directorate Staff competition. Their actions will save $2.9 million dollars annually.

The Personal and Special Staff competition was won by the USAIC Chaplains Office. The implementation of one capital investment project and one management improvement netted them a savings of $119,000 annually.

Fort Benning also recognized individuals who contributed significantly toward attaining the SPIRIT objective of maximizing Army resources.

Maj. Purl Keen, Chief, Plans and Operation Division, Directorate of Plans, Training and Mobilization, United States Army Infantry Center, received an award for his participation in the management decision to discontinue "on request" Combined Arms Live Fire Exercises.

The decision resulted in an annual savings of over $2.3 million.

ITC soldier Lt. Col. Don P. Dickinson was recognized for presenting his analysis of lighting in Building 3240.

His decision to convert 40 watt bulbs to 34 watt bulbs and to remove selected bulbs and ballasts not required resulted in a savings of $14,907 annually.

In addition, reutilization of the bulbs resulted in additional savings of $1,374 annually. The total annual savings is $16,281.

Other individual award recipients were:

Mark Fincher	DEH
Ken Hankins	DEH
Alice Howard	DEH
Glenice Myers	DEH
Charles Orr	DEH
Frank Willoughby	DEH

The School Brigade honors EIB winners

Ann McDonald

TSB commander Col. Kenneth Teel awards a soldier from 1st Bn., 507th PIR the Expert Infantryman's Badge during Monday's ceremony in front of Building 4.

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Members of The School Brigade gathered in front of Building 4 Monday for a ceremony to honor soldiers in the unit who earned the Expert Infantryman Badge.

To earn the badge the men were tested on a variety of infantry and soldier skills. Only those gaining a go at each station were awarded the badge.

During the remarks, unit commander Col. Kenneth Teel said these men have worked after duty hours and on weekends to get this badge.

"It is a fantastic achievement. When I earned mine as a lieutenant, I was filled with pride, and I am sure you feel the same way," he told the recipients.

Teel added that as a holder of the coveted badge, the men will now be role models for the new soldiers in their units, and he urged them to help those troops meet the same standards.

In addition to the individual awards, companies that had more than 65 percent of their soldiers qualify were awarded the EIB streamer to be placed on the guidon.

Each company in the 1st Battalion, 507th Parachute Infantry Regiment was awarded the streamer.

Individuals awarded:

Capt. Ronald Jorgenson, 1st Bn., 11th Inf.

1st Lt. James Reynolds, 1st Bn., 11th Inf.

Capt. John Davis, Infantry Board.

1st Lt. Jeffrey Grover, Co. D, 3rd Bn., 32nd Inf., ITC.

Capt. James Pence, 2nd Bn., 11th Inf.

Capt. Troy Foote, HHC, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

1st Lt. David Ritter, Co. A, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

1st Lt. Brent Johnson, Co. B, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

SFC Leslie Bland, Co. D, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

SFC Frank Finan, Jr., Co. A, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

SSgt. Joseph Guenther, HHC, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

SSgt. Jerry Herring, Co. D, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

SSgt. William Huffman, Co. C, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

SSgt. Jessie McCarthy, Co. B, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

SSgt. Henry McEachern, Co. D, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

SSgt. Paul Pettaway, Co. D, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

SSgt. Joseph J. Singer, Co. C, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

Sgt. Mark Laroque, Co. D, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

Sgt. Michael McCarty, Co. A, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

Sgt. James McMillon, Co. A, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

SSgt. Thomas J. Vajentic, HHC, 1st Bn., 507th PIR.

ACS develops Outreach Program to help families

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Army Community Service is developing an Outreach Program to help families develop a stronger sense of self-reliance and belonging to the military community.

This program is to enhance readiness and retention according to Outreach Coordinator, Debra Howell.

"It is designed to link family support programs to soldiers and family members," Howell said, "The focus will be on junior enlisted families residing in the surrounding communities."

In addition, this program will be extended to families living off post, she said.

Phase one of activities planned for the program will involve linking existing service in the community. The planned classes and workshops will include: parent education through Systematic Training of Effective Parenting, Nutrition, job seeking skills, basic grammar, consumer education and prescheduled counseling through Social Work Services.

Phase two will involve community action to identify and develop services to meet special needs not already available.

Howell said they are also planning to offer General Education Diploma preparation classes.

Open Houses will mark the opening of both centers. McGraw Manor will have its open house June 5 from 10 a.m. until noon at the McGraw Manor Lodge. Custer Terrace will conduct its open house June 6 from 10 a.m. until noon at the Custer Terrace Community Life Office.

Balloons for the children, door prizes and refreshments will be available.

Upon opening, McGraw Manor will operate Mondays from 1 to 5 p.m. Custer Terrace will operate Tuesdays from 8 a.m. to noon.

The June calender for McGraw Manor:

June 12 — STEP 3 to 5 p.m.

June 19 — Family Member Employment Assistance Program, 1 to 2 p.m., STEP 3 to 5 p.m.

June 26 — STEP 3 to 5 p.m., Consumer Affairs 1 to 2 p.m.

The June calender for Custer Terrace:

June 13 — Nutrition, 11 a.m. to noon

June 20 — Family Member Employment Assistance Program, 10 to 11 a.m.

June 27 — Nutrition, 11 a.m. to noon.

JOIN THE HUGHES TRAINING SYSTEMS TEAM

ughes Training Systems, a wholly-owned subsidiary of Hughes Aircraft Company, is looking for consultants to serve as subject matter experts for the development of interactive courseware in the area of Combat Vehicle Identification for MOS 118/C/H/M CMF. Applicants must be skilled in CVI, infantry weapons systems, and optical/sighting systems.

A minimum of 3 years experience at the journeyman level is required. Experience in the development and delivery of training and the application of the SAT/ISD is highly desirable. Work to be performed in the area of Fort Benning, GA and Hughes' Arlington, TX offices.

Send a resume and fee requirements to: Hughes Training Systems, 2200 Arlington Downs Rd., Arlington, TX 76011. Attn: EIDSSO.

Hughes Training Systems is an equal opportunity employer.

OPENING SOON!!!

long distance phone center

687-8666

MR CHECK CASHER

3809 VICTORY DRIVE COLUMBUS GA (TRAFFIC CIRCLE)

Arrange OVERSEAS CAR INSURANCE

GEICO before you leave GEICO

2029 SOUTH LUMPKIN RD.

Oakland Park Shopping Center

Columbus, GA. 689-2787

15% down 9 monthly payments

GEICO

IIU - International Insurance Underwriters, Inc

SAVE MODERN TV & APPLIANCE SAVE

Friedrich®
ROOM AIR CONDITIONERS

6000 BTU

AS LOW AS $299.00

ZENITH

19" diagonal Color TV

Model SS8915W
- With Remote Control
- Vertical Space-Saving Design
- Eastern Walnut Color Finish

ONLY $369.95

QUIK N' E-Z
QUIK CREDIT
E-Z TERMS

MOVIES

AS Low As 99¢ Per Day

Over 800 Titles to Choose From
No Membership Fee

matching home laundry pair

WASHER Model WLW 1500B DRYER Model DLB 1550B

SAVE ON THE PAIR

ONLY $688.00 for the pair

large capacity refrigerator

Hotpoint

▩ 17.7 Cu. ft. no-frost refrigerator ▩ Adjustable split-level shelves ▩ Equipped for optional icemaker Model CTX18E

ONLY $729.95 With Icemaker

FREE DELIVERY

HRS: 9AM-6PM MON-SAT

MODERN TV & APPLIANCE

You Don't Need A Lot Of Money, Just A Little Bit A Month

2039 FT BENNING ROAD

SERVICE AFTER THE SALE

687-8249 /682-1341

Volunteers recognized for community service

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

"Strike Up the Band for Volunteers" was the theme at the annual Volunteer Recognition Ceremony April 14 at which more than 20 people received individual or organization awards for their volunteer efforts at Fort Benning.

Among the awardees was Fort Benning's Volunteer of the Quarter, Irmgard Cordell. Cordell received a certificate recognizing her achievements from Linda D. Spigelmire, wife of Fort Benning's commanding general, Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire.

Three individual volunteers and three post volunteer organizations were also honored as Governor's Nominees by the Georgia Department of Community Affairs, according to Karen T. Crowley, installation volunteer coordinator.

Individual Governor's Nominees were Patricia Barnett, for her devotion to the Hospice program for handicapped patients at Martin Army Community Hospital; Olga Kelly, who has been the president of the International Wives' Club since 1973 and volunteered much time to other organizations and JoAnn Broyles, Army Community Services, who has volunteered her time to ACS activities for more than 20 years.

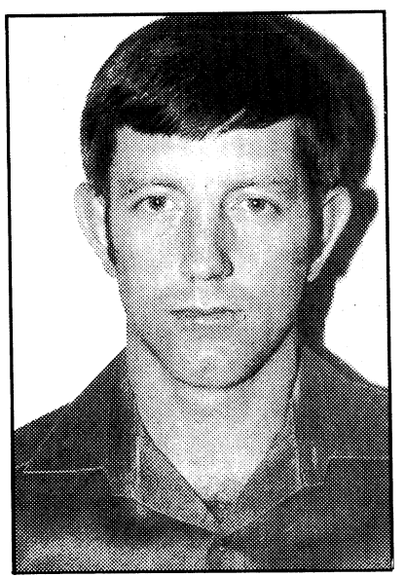
Benning honors 'Instructors of the Year'

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Three soldiers at Fort Benning were recently honored at Building 4 for being selected as the "Instructors of the Year" for fiscal year 1988.

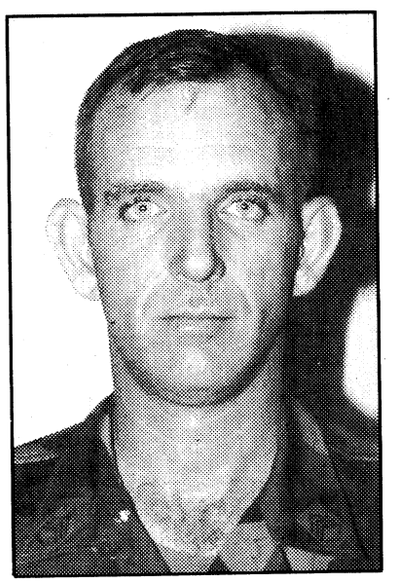
Capt. Lawrence H. Saul, Australian SGM Noel E. Reid and SSgt. Douglas E. Nay received their new titles at an awards ceremony May – headed by post commander, Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire.

The three soldiers each competed against other instructors in the three categories of the competition, commissioned officer, senior enlisted and junior enlisted, before being chosen as Benning's top instructors.



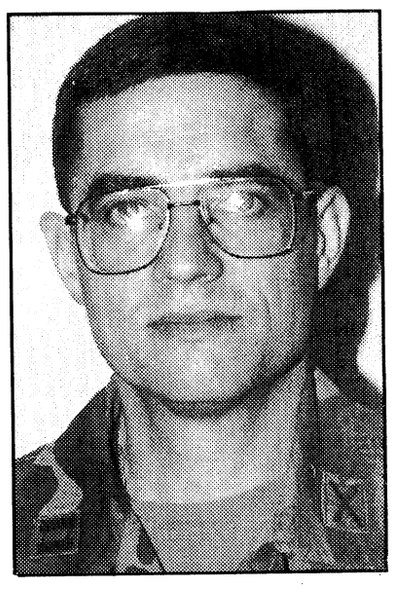
Saul, who has 14 years of service, is an instructor with the Combined Arms and Tactics Department, Fire Support Branch, of the United States Army Infantry School. He has held this position since August 1986 and teaches fire support field artillery tactics.

Among Saul's accomplishments is the upgrading of instruction given to Officer Candidate School candidates and the institution of a sponsorship program for candidates who be commissioned in Field Artillery.



Reid is also assigned to the Combined Arms and Tactics Department where he is a senior instructor for the tactics committee for Tactics Team 4. He has been an instructor there for about a year and a half. He specializes in teaching Infantry Officer Basic Course, OCS and Advanced Noncommissioned Officer Course students air-land battle, offense and defense and "estimate," which teaches soldiers how to make estimates of different combat situations.

Nay has been an instructor with the Tactical Leadership Branch, 2nd Battalion, 11th Infantry Regiment, The School Brigade since November of 1985. His specialty is linkup operations.



Each of the instructors received various awards and certificates from Spigelmire, the Noncommissioned Officer Academy and the Association of the United States Army.

SGM Noel E. Reid

SSgt. Douglas E. Nay

Capt. Lawrence H. Saul

General speaks to ROTC graduates at Tuskegee

By Charles J. Winn
U.S. Army ROTC Cadet Command

The nation's ranking black army officer spoke to newly commissioned officers and received an honorary degree at Tuskegee University May 15.

Gen. Colin Powell, who was recently promoted to the rank of four-star general, addressed 20 newly commissioned second lieutenants.

Former National Security Advisor in the Reagan administration, Powell commands the U.S. Army Forces Command at Fort MacPherson, Ga. As the commanding general of FORSCOM, Powell commands all active and reserve army units stationed in the continental United States and exercises operational control over Army National Guard units.

The graduates on hand for Powell's address included: Melvin Alexander, Bennie Braswell, Travis Birts, Wanda Brown, Veda Cleaves, James Daniel, Alphonso Gamble, Brian Griffin, Arthur L. Holmes III, Robert A. Jeter, Gregory Lee, Joyce Powe, Frederick L. Rivers, Ronovan R. Spencer, Claretha Whittaker, Edward D. Willis, and Julius Williams.

MPA utilizes police dogs in housing surveillance

By Barry Price
Provost Marshal Office

The Military Police Activity is utilizing working dogs to ensure the security of personnel and property within the Fort Benning housing areas. The effort is being made to reduce housebreaking and burglary incidents.

For protection, it is recommended that all members of the household be informed that the dogs will be under the firm control of trained Military Police dog handlers.

All personnel are subject to be challenged by the MPs for proper identification. Remember! Do not try to run if challenged by the MPs.

The patrol dogs will be employed on a leash and will only be turned loose for the purpose of capturing a known felon.

It is recommended that personal pets be walked on a leash.

The MP dog handler has been instructed to take positive measures to ensure that personal pets do not interfere with the patrol dogs.

Thank you for assisting your Military Police in making your community a safer place for you and your dependents to live and play.

Benning will observe Safety Awareness Day May 26

Infantry Branch Safety Office

Fort Benning will observe May 26 as Safety Awareness Day. This will kick off the beginning of the 101 most hazardous days of the year. The importance we place on the lives and well-being of soldiers, civilian employees and family members is exemplified by efforts to provide a safe and healthful working and living environment for all.

On this day most military operations will be curtailed to permit commanders, NCOs and soldiers to take time out to focus on safety via program reviews, training and special activities. Directorates and other staff organizations will conduct similar activities but will not be required to curtail normal activities.

Each individual should take advantage of available activities within the organization and should take time to reflect on safety both on and off the job. This is a day for everyone to start some new safety habits. Only by working together can we truly reduce accidents and injuries at Fort Benning.

CHATTAHOOCHEE COMMUNITY DAY SCHOOL
KING STREET & MCNAUGHTON
P.O. Box 420
CUSSETA, GA31805

989-3243
7:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m.

Renate Lewis, Director

This is the program that parents of preschool children have been asking for in the Columbus-Fort Benning-Cusseta area!

- small sized classes
- developed learning centers in each classroom
- positive self-image is the center of all program
- hands-on learning
- beautiful and fun equipment for learning
- music, movement, social skills, pre-math and reading readiness, open-ended art, cooking, special events

This unique school was planned, designed and sponsored by Chattahoochee County to meet the needs of preschool children of this community. The school is governed by a board consisting of county officials, parents, and the school staff and is non-profit.
The school is located about 10 minutes from 185 at exit 1 S in Cusseta, Georgia.

Spend a few minutes and come to visit just to see what is possible in this new approach to child care, the answer to the day care delima.
Cost: $45.00 per week

AUTO STORAGE WAREHOUSE
• SPRINKLER
• BURGLAR ALARM
• INSULATED
by MONTH or YEAR
ALLIED BONDED WHSE.
4301 ALLIED DR.
COLUMBUS (404) 687-0222

Call 323-1234 For Home Delivery of
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

Down Right Fantastic Suzuki Deal.

Intruder 700
SALE PRICE $2,995.00
Excludes tax, title, license, freight and assembly.
Right on, Suzuki
SUZUKI
HONDA - SUZUKI OF OPELIKA
1110 Frederick Road Opelika AL
745-6357

Invest in Yourself.
Invest in Your Future.
Learn How To "Make A Successful Career Change" In A New One-Day Seminar

YOU WILL LEARN
- How to write a meaningful resume.
- How to dress appropriately for the interview and after you are hired.
- How to get an interview and what to say.
- How to establish a network and get the most out of it.
- How to get the best salary and benefit package available.

SUCCESSFUL CAREER CHANGE SEMINAR
DATE: June 10, 1989
LOCTION: FT. BENNING OFFICERS' CLUB
Time: 8:30 AM
Investment: $295.00 (includes continental breakfast, lunch & workbook
CLASS SIZE STRICTLY LIMITED CALL TODAY

For Reservations Please Call
(404) 266-3377

Your Abilities + The Right Opportunities = Success

ENTER THE QUAKER STATE "LIFETIME OF QUALITY" SWEEPSTAKES

WIN "A NEW CAR FOR LIFE"
$20,000 for a new car every 5 years for 30 years

OIL CHANGE
$20.95
SEE DISPLAY IN STORE FOR DETAILS

PLUS EVERYONE GETS A $3.00 CERTIFICATE BACK BY MAIL, GOOD TOWARDS YOUR NEXT QUAKER STATE OIL CHANGE AT OUR SERVICE LOCATION.

HURRY!
Offer valid
May 19—June 25, 1989

Quaker State®
King Lube®

No Appointments Are Necessary. Come In At Your Convenience!
Open Monday-Friday 8 AM-6 PM, Saturday 8 AM-4 PM

In Columbus:
Hamilton Road • Buena Vista Road • North Expressway

In Phenix City:
280 ByPass

Sell Unwanted Items in the Bayonet Classified--322-4500

Who will be Miss AUSA?

Miss AUSA will be selected from among the following contestants Saturday during Armed Forces Day.

SSgt. Wanda Carter, HHC, 197th Inf. Bde.

Sgt. Antoinette Flowers, 30th AG Rec. Bn., ITC.

Spec. Barbara Holloway, HQ, 2nd Bn., 58th Inf, 1st ITB, ITC.

Valencia Jones, HSC, ITC.

Sgt. Jennifer Pearson, HHD, Rgr. Trng. Bn.

Sgt Dantha Stallings, 533rd Trans. Co., 67th Maint. Bn., 36th Eng. Grp.

Cpl. Lorraine Taylor, Co. D., 2nd Bn., 54th Inf., ITC.

Cpl. Dovie Wilson, HHD, Rgr. Trng. Bn.

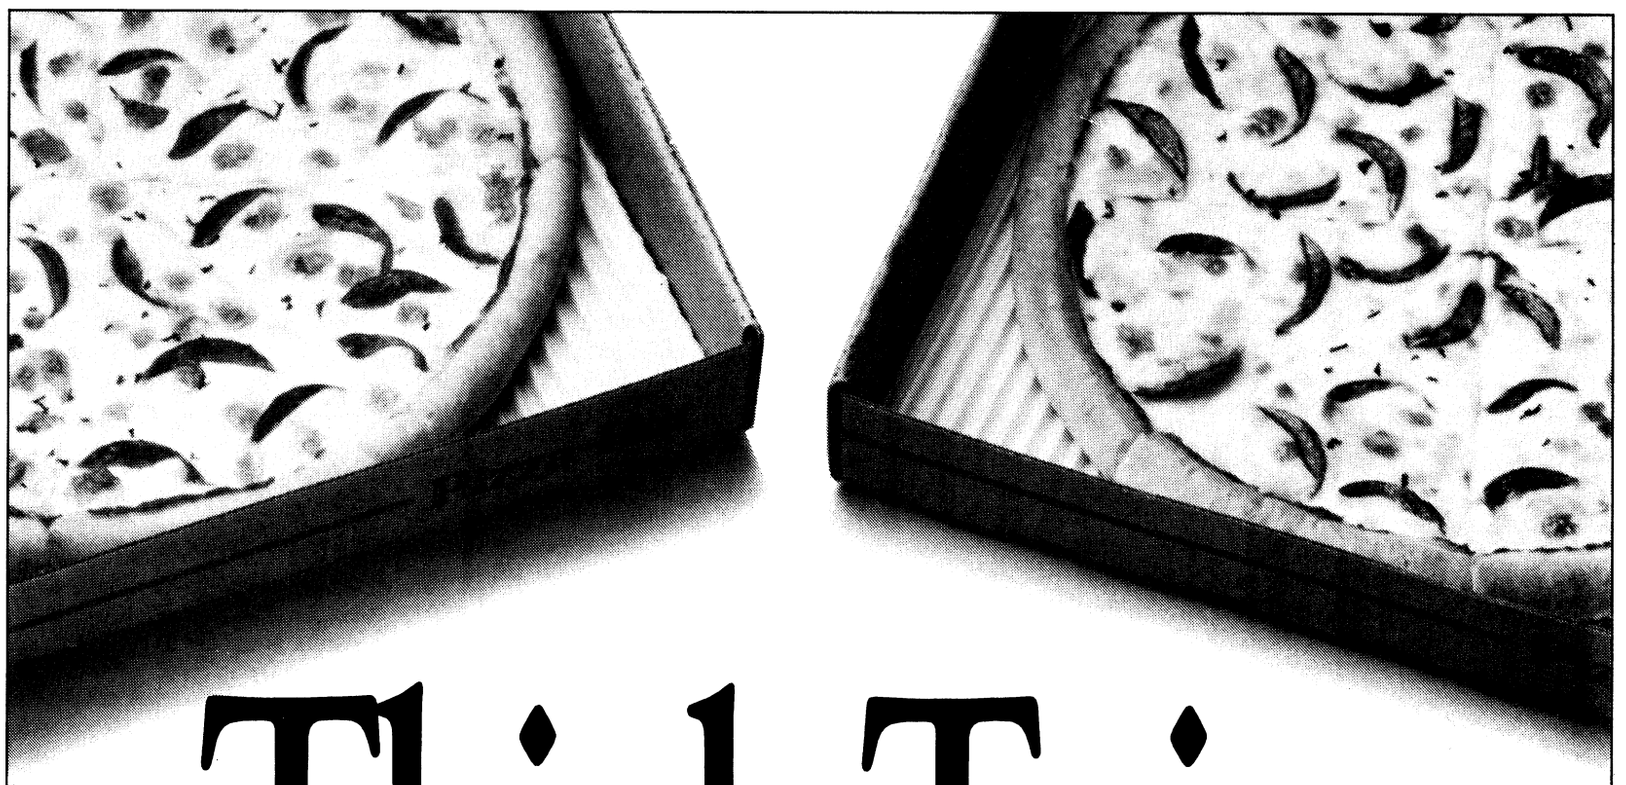
Low Cost Term Life Insurance

Consolidated Insurance Services
Albany, GA

Dealing with A+ or A Rated Companies.

1-800-289-8766
For a complete proposal

Annual Premiums (Male, Non-Smoker)



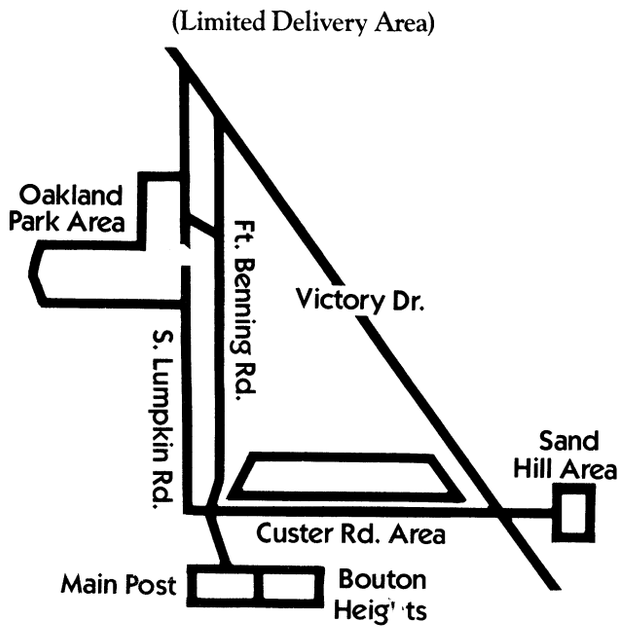
Age	$100,000	$250,000	$500,000	$1,000,000
35	122	203	300	550
40	130	225	345	640
45	155	233	455	860
50	205	388	545	1040
55	273	543	790	1530
60	383	875	1405	2760
65	643	1525	2545	5040

ANDERSONVILLE ANTIQUES FAIR
and
GEORGIA FOLK FESTIVAL
at
ANDERSONVILLE, GEORGIA
Memorial Day Weekend
May 27-28, 1989
9:00 a.m. to 6:00 p.m.

Admission
$3 Adult
$1 Youth

Antiques and Household Auction
May 27 • 6:00 p.m.

Bayonet Advertising Really Pays!



Think Twice Before Leaving Home.

If you're thinking of going out for dinner, think again. Because Pizza Hut® can deliver the pizza voted the Best of Columbus (Columbus Ledger-Enquirer), piping hot right to your door from 6 locations.

And for the best deal in town, order Pizza Hut® Pairs.™ Get two delicious Pizza Hut® pizzas with your choice of toppings for one great price, all day every day. So for fast, free delivery, think twice, Columbus. Call Pizza Hut® Delivery.

Expanded Delivery Service

Delivery also available in these areas:
(Limited Delivery Area)

Columbus Manchester Expressway/ Hamilton Rd. Area	322-5561
Macon Rd./I-85 Area	563-3171
Buena Vista Rd./Floyd Rd. Area	563-3486
Phenix City Area	297-1266
Americus Area	924-3997

Delivery Available:
Monday through Friday beginning at 4:00 P.M.
Saturday and Sunday beginning at 11:00 A.M.

Students paint energy posters, write essays

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

"How Energy Conservation Helps Our Environment" was the theme of this spring's Energy Awareness Campaign. Students in the Fort Benning Schools participated in poster and essay contests sponsored by the DEH Energy Section. As in years past, these contests have encouraged Fort Benning youngsters to consider the importance of energy resources and ways in which those resources affect their lives.

The Energy Awareness Campaign ended in a ceremony at Don C. Faith Middle School on May 12 in which winners of the essay and poster contests were presented their awards by Col. James Daily and Col. Robert Hatch.

Kindergarten through third-grade students were eligible to participate in the poster contest. Fourth through eighth- grade students were eligible to participate in the essay contest. First-place winners in each grade level, kindergarten through eighth grade, received a bicycle. Runners-up from each grade level each received a $50 savings bond. Winners and runners-up also received a certificate of achievement signed by the commanding general.

All students who participated in the energy contests will receive an energy T-shirt.

Judges for the energy contests were Kathy Corizzo, Directorate of Resources Management; Debbie Dresser, Directorate of Plans, Training and Mobilization; Mark Fincher, Directorate of Engineering and Housing; Mary Hewson, Equal Employment Opportunity Office; Jenny McRea, Directorate of Engineering and Housing; Terri Mason, Directorate of Engineering and Housing; Laura Wise, Directorate of Engineering and Housing and Annette Withrow, U.S. Army Infantry School.

In addition to the contests, the Energy Branch provided a variety of videotapes for use with classes. Field trips were also available. Two student groups toured the utilities on post, and a special "pedal-power" show was conducted for students at Loyd School.

Energy awareness is an important topic for all who live and work at Fort Benning. The yearly contests and activities sponsored by the Energy Section help Fort Benning educators to make the important energy issues involved more relevant to students' everyday lives.

Energy Awareness Winners

Kindergarten
1st — Rosalia Davis, Dexter
2nd — Chiquita Green, Patch

First grade
1st — Jimmy Chavez, Dexter
2nd — Jamesia Bennett, Dexter

Second grade
1st — Jernel Escober, Loyd
2nd — Marjorie Fortin, White

Third grade
1st — Kristen Bailey, McBride
2nd — Patrick Newey, Dexter

Fourth grade
1st — Heather Davis, Dexter
2nd — Daniel Godwin, Dexter

Fifth grade
1st — Marcus Capps, Wilbur
2nd — Solonge Gullaume, Dexter

Sixth grade
1st — Christina Archer, Faith
2nd — Kimberly Brannon, Faith

Faith teams win history contest

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

Two of Faith Middle School's three district winning teams have gone on to win first place in the state History Day competition.

The two teams will represent the State of Georgia in the National History Day competition at the University of Maryland on June 11 through 16. This is the second year in which Faith School will represent Georgia in the national competition.

All three Faith teams, under the sponsorship of teachers Mary Barnette and Pam Tate, did extensive research, which took them on a quest involving trips to conduct interviews with National Aeronautics and Space Administration personnel as well as with individuals who knew Christa McAuliffe personally.

One winning group Roberto Bryan, Tanja McIntosh, Jose Miranda, and Sher'ee Peters — developed a videotape, "She Dared To Dream." Team members used raw NASA footage showing Christa McAuliffe going through training as well as footage of interviews that the students had conducted.

In order to produce the videotape, students had to learn to use the machinery involved in the production. They were required to do all the technical work themselves, so Spec. Richard Davis served as their technical adviser.

Juli Broussard, Jennifer Campbell, and Luis Negron wrote and performed a play, "I Touch The Future." The play depicts the life of Christa McAuliffe's daughter, Caroline, at a future time when she has a child of her own. This group also won first place and will compete in the national competition.

A third group from Faith represented this district but did not place in the state competition. This group — Ty Poe, Christine Powell, and Ken Winfrey — developed a wooden backboard that displayed photographs and documents. It even included McAuliffe's Teacher in Space application.

"I'm proud of all three groups," said teacher, Mary Barnette. "Preparation for the History Day competition has provided us all with learning experiences that we will always remember."

ASK THE JUDGE

By William F. Sutton Jr.
Office of the Staff Judge Advocate

Q. I recently took my car to a local transmission shop. My automatic transmission was leaking a bit and I thought a quick check by a mechanic would help. When I got to the shop, the first thing the mechanic did was look in the bottom of the transmission case, where he discovered some "metal shavings." He told me that this was a sign of a serious problem, and that he could fix it for about $800. After I told him that I didn't have the money at the moment, he gave me some loan papers from Army Emergency Relief (AER). He suggested the AER would "take care of me" while he began the repair work. Does all this sound legitimate?

A. There are few auto repair problems more frustrating than automatic transmission repairs. Adding to this problem is the unethical mechanic seeking to take advantage of an uneducated consumer. To fully understand your problem, a little background is necessary.

An automatic transmission is a relatively complicated system of gears which serves as a connecting device between the engine and the car's wheels. When the driver places the transmission selector in "drive," the torque converter in the transmission provides power from the engine to the gears. This power is transferred to the wheels, which makes the car move. Symptoms of automatic transmission problems include fluid leaks, "slipping" (when the gear changes are drawn out), and harsh or rough shifting.

If you need to take your car to an auto mechanic for a transmission check, there are certain procedures a reliable mechanic will follow. These include: (1) the mechanic carefully questions you about the problem and writes down the problem exactly as you describe it; (2) the transmission fluid is checked; (3) the condition of the motor mounts is checked; (4) the car is given a road test (you should accompany the mechanic, if possible) and (5) the car is carefully checked (put on a lift if necessary) for all possible external causes of difficulty. All this should be done before any decision is made to take apart the transmission, which can be very expensive.

In your situation, there appears to be several problems. First, the mechanic did not appear to inspect the transmission carefully enough. The cause of your leak could be a defective front or rear seal, which is relatively inexpensive to replace. Second, it appears that the mechanic is trying to pull the old "metal shavings" trick on you. During normal operation, tiny specks of metal will wear off the transmission's gears and collect on the bottom of the transmission case. Over a long period of time, they appear as "shimmery" sediment. Much of this sediment is normal and is not the sign of a worn-out or damaged transmission. If these metal shavings are found, this in itself does not mean that an entire transmission replacement is needed.

Finally, there appears to be a problem with this mechanic furnishing you loan papers from AER. The only people who should advise you on obtaining a loan from AER are military personnel, not a business. Never authorize a mechanic to start work on your car after he tells you that AER "will take care of you" by merely filling out these papers. Any business employing this practice should make you suspicious.

Whenever you need your transmission repaired, remember these tips: (1) don't be misled by incredible low-price "adjustment" advertising; (2) make sure that you clearly understand whether the estimate price includes parts and labor, and that it is put in writing; (3) have the mechanic put in writing that he must notify you before doing any repair work not mentioned in the original estimate; (4) ask about any guarantee or warranty that is included with the work, and make sure you understand what is and is not covered; (5) ensure that the problem is written exactly as you describe it and that "preliminary road test requested" is written on the repair order (if they won't do it, LEAVE!) and (6) ask if the business employs transmission mechanics certified under the National Institute for Automotive Service Excellence (NIASE). Remember, only after a good external check is performed should the transmission be disassembled.

If you need help with a problem involving an unethical repairman, call the Legal Assistance Office at 545-3281.

SUCCESSFUL CAREER CHANGE SEMINAR

CAREER SEMINAR - A new one-day seminar on "Making a Successful Career Change" will be held at the Ft. Benning Officers' Club on June 10 at 8:30 a.m. Topics to be covered will include resume writing, how to dress for the civilian workforce, techniques of interviewing, how to establish a network, and negotiating the best salary and compensation package. An investment of $295 per person includes seminar materials, a continental breakfast, lunch and refreshments. Class size will be strictly limited to ensure optimun interaction among the participants and instructors.

For Further Information Call
(404) 266-3377

Give to the Heart Fund

VISA CARDS ARE HERE!

VISA

COMPARE the terms of your Credit Union with the market and you'll make the switch.

$8.00 Annual Fee
15% Annual Percentage Rate

25 Day Grace Period

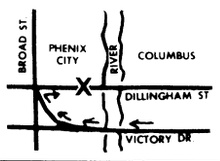
TIC FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

2786 Eckel Street
Fort Benning, GA 31905
682-0830

4811 Bankers Blvd.
Columbus, GA 31904
324-5288

Offer to eligible members only.

NEW BONUSES NEED CASH TODAY? NEW BONUSES



Save lives and earn money by donating your time at one of the finest Plasma Facilities in the country

New & Donors who have not donated in SIX MONTHS RECEIVE $7.00 BONUS with this ad.

Bring a Buddy & RECEIVE AN EXTRA $5.00
Additional Bonus on 6th & 8th Donations

EARN $10.00 AND ABOVE ON EACH VISIT

RIVERFRONT PLASMA CENTER
507 Dillingham St.—Phenix City
297-5711
Hours: Mon.-Wed.-Fri. 7-3:30—Tues. & Thurs. 7-6:30

CONVENIENT EVENING HOURS FOR BENNING PERSONNEL

EARN OVER $100 PER MONTH

FREE family breakfast buffet and weeklong weekend rate.

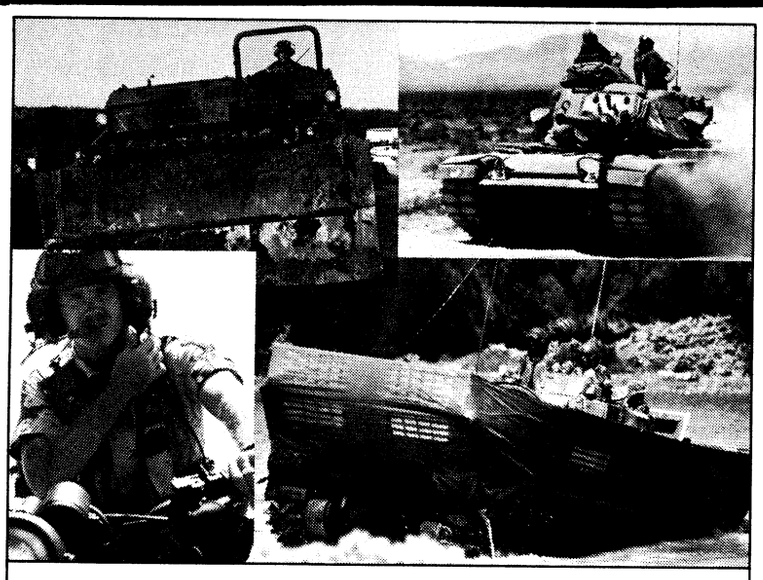
CERTIFICATE

Present this certificate at check-in and stay any night of the week for our low weekend rate and enjoy a Free family breakfast in the morning!
You must present this certificate at check-in.

At Hyatt, overnight guests receive more value per travel dollar.

Our beautifully appointed guest rooms, delicious restaurants, recreational facilities and warm hospitality are all part of The Hyatt Touch. And now, our FREE all-you-can-eat family breakfast and weeklong weekend rate certificate* makes getting to your destination not only fun, but affordable. Which leads to an important point of interest. When you stay with us on your way to a dream vacation, you'll most likely discover that you've already arrived.

THE HYATT TOUCH®



HYATT® HOTELS & RESORTS®

Offer valid only at these participating Hyatt Hotels*

Hyatt Regency Greenville	$49
Hyatt Atlanta Airport	$59
Hyatt Regency Knoxville	$59
Hyatt Regency Nashville	$59
Hyatt Regency Ravinia (Atlanta)	$59
Hyatt Winston-Salem	$59
Hyatt Regency Atlanta	$69
Hyatt Regency New Orleans	$69
Hyatt Regency Savannah	$79

For reservations, call your travel planner or toll free
1-800-233-1234

* Offer valid seven days a week, based on space availability. Not applicable to groups, conventions or business travel. Offer valid 5-15-89-9-18-89. No charge for children under 18 when sharing room with parents, using existing bed space. Room taxes not included. Offer includes all food items on either the Hotel's breakfast buffet or breakfast menu as directed by the Hotel in specified restaurants, including tax and gratuity. Certificate may be used for multiple night stay. This offer may not be combined with any other promotion.

GOT A GOOD DRIVING RECORD?

Schneider National Carriers can steer you into a great paying job with a real future. No experience is required.

As the leading trucking company in the U.S., Schneider National has nationwide openings for professional tractor-trailer drivers. We now offer men and women with recent military experience and drilling members of the Guard and Reserve an exclusive employment program with free training and a job guarantee. You'll begin earning after only three weeks.

- $25,000 or more first year income potential.
- Excellent benefits, generous retirement, top equipment.

Steer yourself to a rewarding career. Call Schneider National today!
1-800-447-7433, ask for Millie.

If stationed overseas, write: Schneider National Carriers, P. O. Box 2417, Green Bay, WI 54306.
We support the National Guard and Reserves.
Experienced diesel mechanics also needed in several cities. Call or write today.

SCHNEIDER® NATIONAL

ARCCO

A World Class Military Supply Store

ONE STOP SHOPPING
for Soldiers, Hunters, Campers

Monday-Friday 9-7:30, Saturday 9-6, Sunday 11:30-4:30
682-0547 - 4411 Victory Drive (at I-185) 682-0547

Complete Merchandise Selection and Service
★
Field and Camping Equipment
★
Dress Greens and Blues
★
Knives and Patches
★
Sweats and T-Shirts
★
Boots and BDUs

Lawyer's advice: Don't join camera clubs

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Legal advice about camera club contracts from the post's chief legal assistance officer is "Don't."

Maj. Dennis D. Brower, chief of the post's Legal Assistance Office, said several companies have been offering camera club contracts to customers over the past several years. But, recently, his office has had several complaints about these companies.

"Lately, we've been deluged with soldiers and their dependents who are unsatisfied," he said. "The complaints are varied, but usually revolved around the fact that the company is not providing all of the merchandise promised, and the soldiers are realizing they can't afford such a high-priced deal."

Brower said the companies use hard-sale tactics. "Usually, they leave flyers on apartment doors or on parked cars, telling the owners that if they call a certain number, by a certain time, they will win a free prize. To receive the prize, the person must go the company's location and listen to a sales presentation about the product. The product is usually a camera, or videocassette recorder, film processing products, print enlargements, colorizations and restorations. The contract is normally for 10 years and usually costs approximately $1,200 to $1,500," he said.

> "Camera clubs may look attractive, but almost always are greatly over priced."
>
> — Maj. Dennis Brower

Legal assistance is available through the Legal Assistance Office, Brower said, but it is extremely difficult to get out of a contract once it has been signed. "We've been able to help some people, but only because the companies are inefficient or don't deliver all the things called for in the contract," he said. "Based on our research, these type companies and the contracts they offer are a poor choice financially."

Brower advises soldiers thinking about a camera club contract to consider the following:

- Do you really need to spend over $1,000 on a camera club? Remember, the contract is for 10 years. Is it likely that this type of company will even be in business in 10 years?
- The contract calls for a payment with an "open-ended, revolving charge account." This is the same as a credit card. Although the company and the contract state that the cost of the club is a set price, you may pay two or three times that amount in credit charges. The company entices customers with payments as low as $50. However, almost all of that payment will go to finance charges. The cost is usually much higher than advertised.
- The free gift is usually of little value. Remember, under Georgia law, you can demand the free gift when they appear at the place of business. You do not have to listen to the sales presentation.
- The three-day "cooling off period" rule does not apply to these contracts because the customer goes to the company's place of business. The customer has no "cooling off period" in which to cancel the contract. Once signed, the contract is binding to all parties.
- Are there hidden costs? These contracts often call for additional handling fees with each coupon redemption.

Brower said Legal Assistance is available to help, but odds are against the customer once they have put their name on the dotted line. He said before signing, the customer should ask to take a copy of the contract to Legal Assistance lawyers for review. "Chances are, the company officials will not be willing to let a customer do this, and this should alert the customer that something is wrong.

"Remember, these camera clubs may look attractive, but almost always are greatly over priced," he said. "The customer rarely receives what they have bargained for. Sometimes people are able to get out of the contract, but it is not easily. The customer's credit history will be affected if they don't pay and they could get sued."

For more information or legal advice, contact the post's Legal Assistance Office at 545-3281.

Mayors selected

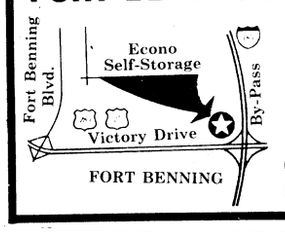
By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The ballots are in. The new Fort Benning Community Mayors have been selected and have taken over their respective offices.

The mayors were officially put into office May 12 in a ceremony at the Main Post NCO Club. As mayor, they will represent their housing area in matters concerning the community.

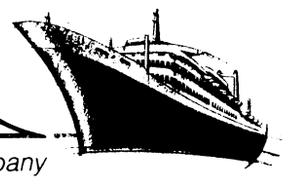
The new mayors are:

Dixie R. Hawkinson - Bouton Heights - Davis Hill



Karen M. Goff - North Main Post

Janey L. Pryor - South Main Post



Janet J. Bamford - Custer Terrace

Dorothy L. Robertson - McGraw Manor

Gloria Edwards - Indianhead Terrace

Econo Self Storage
4483 Victory Drive 404-682-3803
FORT BENNING

UNIT SIZES AVAILABLE
Lockers 5(W) x 5(D) x 4(H)
5x10 10x10 $20 up 5x5 10x20
FOR THE MILITARY
Storage while TDY
Foot locker storage
Motorcycles
Boats
Personal effects
Bivouac
Permanent party storage
Call Now to Reserve Your Space
For Your Business or Family Items—Short or Long Term

SAIL AWAY WITH US
SATO TRAVEL®

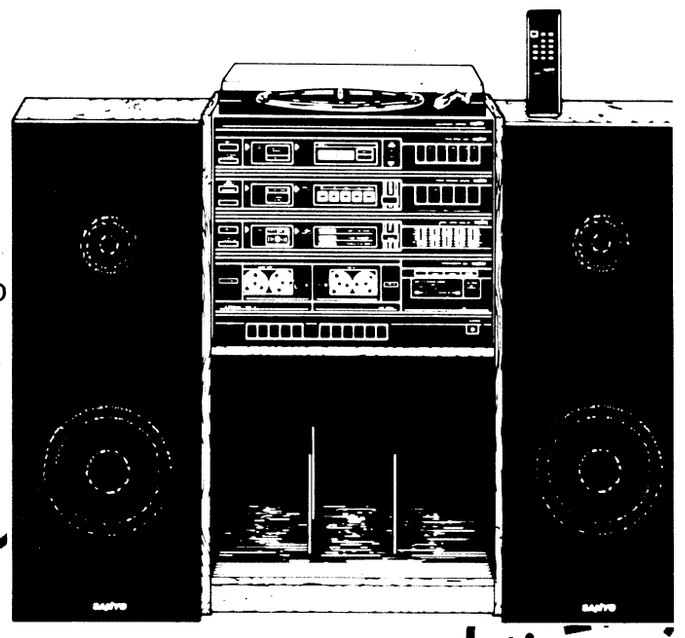
A Full Service Travel Company
CARIBBEAN CRUISE FROM MIAMI
August 11-19, 1989
VISIT
OCHO RIOS COZUMEL
GRAND CAYMAN PLAYA DEL CARMEN
Exclusive Sato rates are now available. Choose from air from Atlanta, bus from Columbus or cruise only. Discounts available for every category. We have limited space, make your reservations now to avoid disappointment. For more information:
Call: 682-0361 And ask for Sherrell or Vicky

FREE HOMEBUYER'S SEMINAR
THURSDAY, MAY 25th FROM 7:00-8:30 P.M.
at KENNON PARKER, REALTORS...4800 Armour Rd.
FOR
- First Time Homebuyers
- Military
- Anyone who wants to buy, build or trade a home.

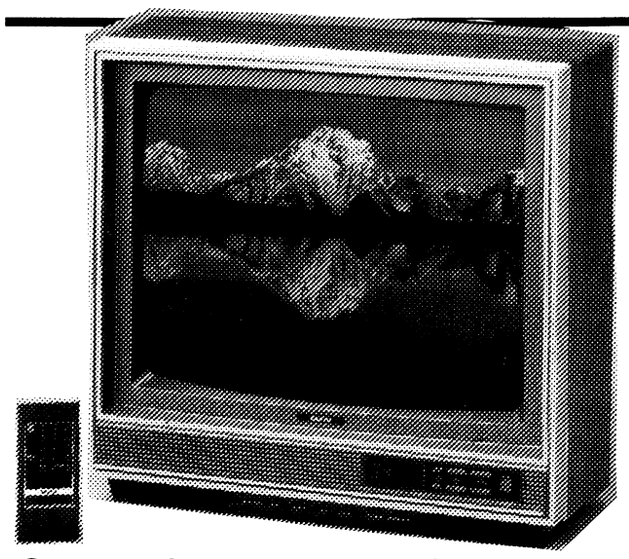
- GET THE FACTS BEFORE YOU BUY
- Absolutely No Obligation
- Lots of Informative Handouts

- SELECTING YOUR HOME WITH A REALTOR by Cory Loomis, GRI. Sales Associate, Kennon & Parker, Realtors
- LEGAL ASPECT OF BUYING A HOME by E. Lowery Reid, LLD, Attorney; Page, Scrantom, Harris & Chapman
- FINANCING YOUR HOME by Harriett Cameron, Branch Mgr. Collateral Mortgage*
- INSPECTING AND MAINTAINING YOUR HOME by Walker Joines, Owner, Home Inspections of Columbus

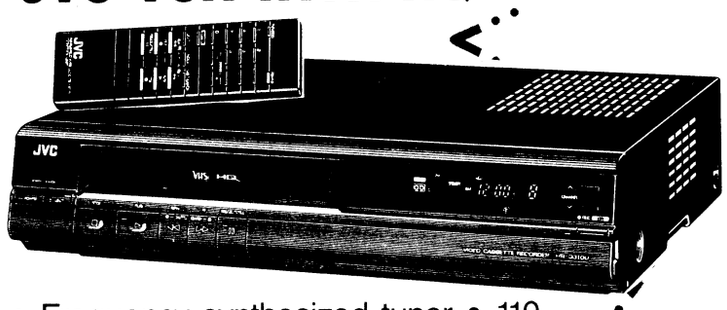
* Drawing For Free Loan Origination from Collateral Mortgage



Another Service of
THE HOME TEAM
CORY & FRAZER LOOMIS
KENNON & PARKER REALTORS
For Info Call 323-8371/568-0183



Steve's Check Casher
Do You need a check cashed?
Come visit the Money Man.
WE CASH THEM ALL
$ INCOME TAX RETURN CHECKS
$ PERSONAL CHECKS
$ Payroll $ Tax Checks
$ Out of State $ Insurance Checks
$ Two Party $ Insurance Drafts
$ Money Orders $ Government Checks
$ Western Union $ Cashier Checks



ALL TYPES
Let Us Handle All Your Check Cashing Needs!
3949 Victory Station Shopping Center
Suite 2 Next to Blempie's
Come by and Visit With Us Today or Call 689-8335
HOURS: M-F 10-7, Sat. 10-5

DEVON
Home Center Stores
★ ELECTRONICS ★ JEWELRY
★ FURNITURE ★ APPLIANCES

MEMORIAL DAY SALE-A-THON
Serving the Military & Civil Service with... ★ NO DOWN PAYMENT ★ CONVENIENT CREDIT ★ TAKE IT HOME TODAY

SANYO STEREO WITH REMOTE
• AM/FM stereo synthesized tuner w/18 memory presets • 5 band graphic EQ • Dual transport stereo cassette deck Semi auto turntable • Tower speakers

SANYO 19" REMOTE TV
• 17 button remote control • 119 channel cable compatible • One button auto color control • Auto fine tuning • Monitor styling

JVC VCR WITH HQ

• Frequency synthesized tuner • 110 channel cable compatible • 14 day/4 event programmable

YOUR CHOICE
31.87* plus tax per month
SALE $499.99
Def. Pmt. $573.66
SALE ENDS MAY 31, 1989

FREE FINANCING If contract is paid within twelve (12) months of 1st contract due date, we will refund finance charges on that purchase.

COLUMBUS #270
3296 Victory Drive
(404) 689-1210
Mon.-Fri. 10am to 8pm;
Sat. 10am to 5pm;
Sun. 1pm to 5pm
WE FINANCE ALL QUALIFIED MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE
*Per month pricing based on no down payment with 17.9% annual percentage for 18 months. Multiply monthly payments by 18 months for total cost. Price may vary depending on local sales tax, insurance or warranty.

COMMUNITY

CLASSES

Columbus Museum — The Columbus Museum Education Department will offer more than 25 classes this summer, covering subjects as diverse as printmaking, chair caning, photography, and basketry to drawing and painting.

Young children can explore the magic of printmaking, the mysteries of nature, and take a trip back in time to learn about inventions.

Teens will have the opportunity to discover drawing, painting, and photography.

Adults will select from a multitude of classes: painting, drawing, photography, puppetry, Indian beading, papermaking, basketry, and feathercraft.

Registration for these classes will be held May 12-26. For a complete listing of classes and registration information, please contact Sunnee Spencer in the Museum Education Department at 322-0400.

★ ★ ★

Computer classes — The Family Member Employment Assistance Program will sponsor computer classes starting May 30 and lasting 10 days to provide skill development for military family members of active duty, retirees, reserve components and civil service employees. These classes will be free of charge and will be instructed by Troy State University, Fort Benning. Classes offered are: Lotus, Word Processing, and Data Base. Make reservations by calling the Family Member Employment Assistance office at 545-5340 or 545-5176.

CLUBS

Officers' Club

Fifty-five Plus Plan: The Officers' Club now has available a plan that allows a 10-percent discount on all regular lunches and any dinners purchased in the Lexington Room if you are a member of the Officers Club' and 55 years of age or older. Check with the membership cashier and receive your special discount card today, 687-0640.

★ ★ ★

NCO Club

Barbecue feast — Buy all you can eat for $6.95 at the Main NCO Club. Barbecued ribs and chicken served with baked beans, potato salad, cole slaw, and tossed salad will be available every Wednesday from 6 to 11 p.m. Call 545-2402.

MISCELLANEOUS

Scholarship — Applications are available for a $1,500 scholarship to be awarded by the Columbus Area Network for Professional and Executive Women.

Offered as a incentive to promote the professional development of women in the area, the scholarship will be awarded to a woman admitted to upper division baccalaureate or graduate degree programs. Applications must be residents of the Chattahoochee Valley area.

June 15 is the deadline for applications, which may be obtained from area school financial aid offices or by writing the Network, P.O. Box 5826, Columbus, 31906 or by calling the scholarship chairman, Lynn Phillips at 571-5421.

★ ★ ★

Patch Preschool — The Fort Benning Early Childhood Development Center (Patch Preschool) has begun registration for the first session of the Summer Fun Program. The program will be from June 5 to 16, 9 a.m. to noon. Children must be 3, 4 or 5 on or before Sept. 1, 1989. Cost is $55; $10 of the amount is due, check or money order, at the time of registration. Also, bring shot record and birth certificate. For more information, call 687-2404.

★ ★ ★

China-Burma-India World War II Veterans — The Atlanta Basha CBI VA will hold a dinner meeting at the Main NCO Club Saturday. Guest speaker will be Col. Keith Nightingale, Commander of the Ranger Training Brigade.

For reservations, call George Ward at 322-4087.

★ ★ ★

The Tri-County Officials Association — is looking for a few good men and women to officiate military/civilian softball/baseball, football, basketball and volleyball games. If you are interested, contact Benjamin Burford at 682-0535, Albert Gruder at 544-2486 or SSG. Lyndon Mayfield at 545-2037, for an application for memebership.

★ ★ ★

Listening Eye School — The Listening Eye School, 3617 Macon Road, Columbus, is celebrating its 20th birthday today at 11:30 a.m. at the school.

★ ★ ★

Infantry Ball — The 197th Infantry Brigade (M) (S) is sponsoring this year's Infantry Ball, which will be held June 10, 6 to midnight, at the Fort Benning Officers' Club. Tickets are available on a limited basis and cost $24 per person. RSVP to your unit point of contact by May 26.

★ ★ ★

Summer Camp volunteers needed — Volunteers are needed for Army Community Service's Special Needs Program summer camp. Prospective volunteers must be 16 years old or older, have a genuine interest in children, be patient and a caring individual and have lots of energy and enthusiasm for sports, games and crafts. A week of training will be provided prior to the camp, which runs from June 19 to Aug. 11 in four two-week sessions. Commitments to at least one full session are required. To volunteer, call Lydia Brunk at 545-3605.

★ ★ ★

Exceptional family members — If you have family members enrolled in the Exceptional Family Member Program and are interested in getting them involved in recreational/leisure activities adapted to their needs, call Lydia Brunk, recreation specialist with ACS Family Members with Special Needs Program at 545-3605 or visit building 1056, the Youth Activities Center.

★ ★ ★

Lifeguards needed — Applications for Recreation Aid (lifeguard) are still being accepted for the Nonappropriated Fund Summer Employment Program between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the Directorate of Civilian Personnel, building 35, Room 100. To qualify, applicants must present current certificates for cardiopulmonary resuscitation, Advanced Lifesaving and First Aid. Anyone age 14 and above may apply.

★ ★ ★

"Hell on Wheels" reunion — Veterans of the 2nd Armored Division and attached units are invited to a "Hell on Wheels" reunion Wednesday through May 27 at the Columbus Hilton Hotel. For more information, call Loren Guge at (904)596-6834.

BOWLING

Summertime bowling specials — The Fort Benning Bowling Centers has available several summertime bowling specials:

Youth Special (18 years and below) — Three games $1.50, including shoes, available Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Adult Special (19 years and above) — Three games $2.25 plus shoes, available Monday through Friday from 9 a.m. until 5 p.m.

Night-time Special — Three games $3 plus shoes, available Monday through Thursday, 5 p.m. until close.

Call the Main Post Bowling Center at 545-4272 or the Mall Bowling Center at 544-1985.

ITR

New hours — The Information, Tours & Recreation Office, building 247, announces the following new hours:

8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday
8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday
9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.

Call 545-7535 for additional information. (MWR)

★ ★ s

Summertime specials — The Fort Benning ITR Office has available a variety of discount tickets. White Water, Six Flags, Disney packets, military lodging rates and Airlink Bus tickets to and from Atlanta are a few of the specials offered to the military community. For information, call 545-7535 or visit the ITR Office, building 247. (MWR)

4-H CLUB

June 7 Meeting — A 4-H meeting will be held June 7 at the Youth Activities Center.

★ ★ ★

Night Madness Rally — On May 26 from 6 p.m. to 12 midnight, there will be a "Night Madness Rally." The $12 cost includes Water Wiz, Show Biz Pizza, and other fun activities. Registration and money due by Monday at the 4-H Office at the Government Center, located downtown Columbus.

★ ★ ★

Summer Fun schedule — The 4-H summer fun schedule is now available at the 4-H Office. For information about all the events, call Cheryl Forehand at the Georgia 4-H office, 571-4792.

RED CROSS

Blood Drive — Blood Drive will be conducted on Fort Benning Wednesday to provide civilian employees and soldiers an opportunity to participate in this worthwhile program. All civilian employees and soldiers are urged and encouraged to donate. The drive is scheduled for 8 a.m. to 3 p.m. Wednesday in classroom 6, Building 4 (Infantry Hall).

See COMMUNITY A-9

ACOE

Continued from A-1

broadcasts several classes for personnel at no cost.

"This benefits the employees at Fort Benning in that they are gaining extra knowledge at no cost." he added.

A similar program currently on the drawing board is a satellite link-up which will enable CPO to allow employees to attend classes conducted by major universities and associations, Van Heuvel said.

He said the cost of each class would be $400 dollars,and it wouldn't matter if one or fifty attended the program.

Van Heuvel explained that classes such as those will enable an office who couldn't afford the $400 dollars required to send an employee to the class an opportunity to send one.

All this hard work done by the members of the division has resulted in a greater range of topics available to employees of Fort Benning and a learning atmosphere that is more conducive to them retaining the information.

C. F. Taylor & Associates, Inc.

Insurance & Financial services

Military - All Ranks - Welcome
Driving Record - No Problem
Free Auto Quote

ALL TYPES OF INSURANCE 322-6430

1308 Wynnton Court - Suite B - Columbus, Georgia 31906

FREE

ALL TUNE and LUBE

Oil change, lube & filter with the purchase of an engine tune up.

COMPLETE ENGINE TUNE
$39.90*
Includes all parts and labor for most cars
Some Vans & Pick-ups Add'l.
12 MONTH/12,000 MILE WARRANTY
WITH COUPON ● WHILE YOU WAIT CB

Your Total Car Care Center

ALL TUNE and LUBE

● Oil Change, Lube & Filter $9.90 reg. $19.90
● Transmission Tune-up $24.90 reg. $29.90
● Air Conditioning Service $24.90 reg. $29.90
● Fuel Injector Service $39.90 reg. $49.90
● Brake Special (Most Vehicles) $34.90 reg. $63.90

FREE BRAKE INSPECTION 6-2-89

COLUMBUS
6028 MILLER ROAD
569-TUNE
Hours M-F 8 AM-7 PM
Sat. 8 AM-4 PM
OVER 70 LOCATIONS NATIONWIDE!

CAREER TRANSITION COUNSELING FOR MILITARY MEN & WOMEN

mckenna, myers & black, inc.
Career Transition Consultants
chicago • washington, d.c. • milwaukee

OVERVIEW

McKenna, Myers & Black, Inc., a human resources consulting firm specializing in Career Transition offers a career transition program for military men and women leaving the service. The purpose of the program is to provide participants with knowledge of the employment market and the capability to move successfully from military to civilian career opportunities.

PURPOSE

The primary purpose of the program is to give participants a competitive edge in the employment market.

PROGRAM

Military men and women are invited to participate in a one-day career transition program which focuses on career planning, resume preparation, and interview management.

WHO SHOULD ATTEND?

Senior Officers and N.C.O.'s retiring from active duty. Junior Officers and N.C.O,'s enlisted personnel with technical skills leaving the service.

WHERE & WHEN

The Columbus Iron Works Convention and Trade Center, 801 Front Ave., Columbus, Georgia. The program commences Friday, June 9, at 5 p.m. and concludes Saturday, June 10 at 5 p.m.

TOPICS

CAREER PLANNING
● Effective networking
● Hidden vs. Open market opportunities

RESUME PREPARATION
● Accomplishments and processes-essential elements
● Summarizing knowledge, experience, skill, and ability

INTERVIEW MANAGEMENT
● Information sharing
● Developing personal presentation skills
● Evaluating the opportunity and the offer

The program is conducted by human resources professionals. To ensure comprehensive instruction, participants are divided into groups not to exceed twenty.

PARTICIPANTS RECEIVE

● Resume writing assistance
● Individual counseling
● Group videotaped interview training

COST

The cost of the program is $125.00 per participant. We reserve the right to cancel the program for inadequate attendance (i.e. minimum enrollment 20 participants) in which case the enrollment fee will be refunded immediately.

TO REGISTER

Call 1-800-962-2511 Monday-Thursday between 7:30 p.m. & 9:30 p.m. Saturdays between 9 a.m. & noon.

Community

Continued from A-8

RECREATION CENTER

Kelley Hill Recreation Center — The following events will be offered by the Kelley Hill Recreation Center:

Wednesday — Camcorder Club will meet at 7 p.m. Interested parties are encouraged to attend. The purpose of this class professionals who will discuss topics of interest.

Wednesday — Chess instruction will be offered at 7 p.m. Learn from the experts.

May 27 — A spades tournament will take place at the Center at 2 p.m. Interested parties should call 544-1721/3079 for additional information regarding these and other events.

GOLF COURSE

Follow Me Golf Course — Golf lessons are available at the Follow Me Course for beginners and more advanced players as well. Lessons may be private or group. Call the golf course at 687-1940 for scheduling and pricing information.

GIRL SCOUTS

Concharty Council of Girl Scouts — Girls, 6 through 17 years of age are invited to participate in the Concharty Council of Girl Scouts' Summer Camp.

The resident camp is located in the woodlands of Pine Mountain near Shiloh, Ga. Camp begins June 11 and runs until August 11.

A variety of programs is offered. Campers may sign up for four days, one, two or three-week sessions or all summer. Programs are repeated throughout the summer to fit everyone's schedule. Rates are based on length of stay and specialty of the program. Camp Concharty is owned and operated by Concharty Council of Girl Scouts. The camp is open to both Girl Scouts and non-Girl Scouts.

Recommended for young campers, entering 1st grade this fall and up, is Woodland Whimsey Shortie (4 days at $45) or Woodland Whimsey Week (7 days at $90).

Horse lovers can indulge themselves in the progressive horseback riding programs. Girls entering the 3rd grade and up are introduced to basic-riding skills through Something Horsey (1 week at $140). Experienced riders can enjoy more advanced two-week programs at $230.

A popular two-week ($160) or three-week ($230) weight-reduction program, See You Lighter, is offered to girls entering 5th grade and up. The program is designed to motivate weight loss, proper nutrition and to build a girl's self esteem.

Teens, 8th grade and up, can shoot the rapids of rivers in North Carolina and Tennessee in a five-day, off-site adventure, White Water Rafter ($130). Thriller ($175) offers two weeks of spine tingling outdoor activities for girls.

For a brochure with a complete listing of all programs, visit the Concharty Council of Girl Scouts at 1344 13th Ave., Columbus, or call 327-2646.

SPIRITUAL

Chaplains minister on the battlefield

By Chap. Terry A. Dempsey
197th Infantry Brigade Chaplain

Ten members of the 197th Unit Ministry Team deployed to the National Training Center at Fort Irwin, Calif., with the 197th Infantry Brigade.

Half of those deployed were chaplains, the others were chaplain assistants. Three Battalion UMT members joined the chaplains in the desert from the 101st, Fort Campbell, Ky.

Although this combined UMT came to provide real world ministry to our soldiers in the field, the primary goal was to learn to provide effective ministry in a lethal combat environment.

Even though some of the UMT were killed (and, thankfully resurrected shortly thereafter), it was a blessed experience for us, and our soldiers. I feel we have increased our skills and awareness.

The view of the desert is spectacular and difficult to describe to someone who has not experienced it.

Once, as I sat on a ridge with a signal unit, I understood why so many spiritual leaders from all religious backgrounds, (to include Jesus and the prophets), retreated to the desert for spiritual reflection.

One cannot help but be awe-struck with the creative power of God as we are forced to think seriously about our own spiritual journey.

Life and death hangs in delicate balance here and the importance of realistic training is easy to understand.

I remember looking through the window of our vehicle at a flash from an enemy's .50-caliber machine-gun. Our equipment indicated we were hit. As we stood beside the road we looked at our enemy.

We were surrounded by burned out hulls of former fighting machines that simulated the ultimate tragedy of a battlefield.

It was easy to consider the consequences and end result had this been real combat.

Soldiers at every level must be the best they can be.

To be truly effective, we must understand and be sensitive to the spiritual needs of the soldier.

Terry Dempsey

Chap. Orlando Sunga celebrates mass for soldiers at NTC.

Only when we are at peace with ourselves spiritually are we really ready for combat.

Our leaders must know this, and they do. The Brigade UMT is here to help prepare its members and the soldiers to be combat ready — physically, mentally, and spiritually.

We pray that the desert training exercise and separation from family and friends included a time for reflection and spiritual growth for the soldier.

Before the exercise began, Christians enjoyed the Holy Week of Easter.

During the exercise, Jewish soldiers celebrated Passover and Muslin soldiers celebrated Ramadan. Our spiritual journey continues in spite of our circumstances.

Armed Forces Day is time to reflect on role of services

By Chap. Roger C. Welsh
U.S. Army Infantry School Chaplain

Armed Forces Day is a day to stop and reflect upon the vital role that our armed services have played in defending heritage of freedom. It also commemorates the establishment of the Department of Defense in 1947.

General Omar N. Bradley first suggested combining "Army Day," "Navy Day," "Marine Day," and "Air Force Day" which at that time were being celebrated on separate days. Part of the reason for this was to eliminate some of the unhealthy tensions that existed between the services. In a speech at the Jewish War Veterans banquet in New York in 1950 General Bradley said:

"Although tomorrow will mark the 22nd year of an Army Day observance, I would happily propose we end it. For in ridding ourselves of Army, Navy, and Air Force days, we could also rid ourselves of the competition they tent to kindle. (The Army-Navy-Air Force Register, "Armed Forces Day," Army and Navy Pub. Co., April 9, 1989.)

The theme of the first Armed Forces Day was "Power for Peace." The United States had learned that being prepeared for was helps prevent war. Counter-offensive strength means striking back, instantly and forcefully. Today the concept of "peace through strength" has not changed.

Armed Forces Day gives family members and the civilian community a chance to have fun, observe parades, see new military equipment, watch parachuting demonstrations, and a host of other activities. However, underneath the fun and activities is the quiet assurance that, if America is ever called pon to defend itself against any unjust aggressor, the Armed Services will be ready to preserve the peace.

As we celebrate this Armed Forces Day, let us reflect upon the blessings of our freedom and the determination to safeguard the peace for future generations.

CHAPEL BRIEFS

USAIC Chaplain's Office

Ecumenical

Vacation Bible School — Plan Plan now for Vacation Bible School. Classes will be held from 10 to 12:30 p.m. from June 19 to 23 at Dexter, McBride and Wilson schools. Classes will include Bible study, music, crafts, recreation and refreshments. Adult volunteers are needed. Call 545-2050 for more information.

Religious Education Center Library — Several thousands volumes of Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish material are available at the Religious Education Center Library. There are commentaries, Bible dictionaries, Bible handbooks, and many other reference books and other religious material.

The library, located in the Religious Education Center, building 229, Crain Hall, is open during duty hours, Monday through Friday. Everyone is invited to use the library for inspiration, study and research.

Protestant

The Protestant Women of the Chapel — Meet each Thursday, 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Religious Education Center. Baby-sitting is provided. Contact Debby Godwin at 687-7157 or Annette Saul at 682-1157 for more information.

Youth Alive! — Two non-denominational youth groups meet each Sunday from 6:30 to 8 p.m. The Junior High group meets in the Infantry Center Chapel Annex, and the Senior High Group meets in the Religious Education Center. Youths are encouraged to attend for fun and Christian fellowship.

Sunday School Bus — A bus is available to transport individuals who live in McGraw Manor, and Davis Hill/Bouton Heights to Sunday School at the Main Post Sunday School.

The route begins in McGraw Manor at approximately 8:55 a.m. and proceeds through Davis Hill, Bouton Heights and on to the Religious Education Center where Sunday School is held at approximately 10:35 a.m. The bus departs the REC and passengers are returned to their pick-up points.

For more information, call 545-2366.

SOUTH COLUMBUS UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
1213 Benning Drive
10 Minutes from Ft. Benning
Sunday School 9:45 am
Morning Worship 11:00 am
689-5094

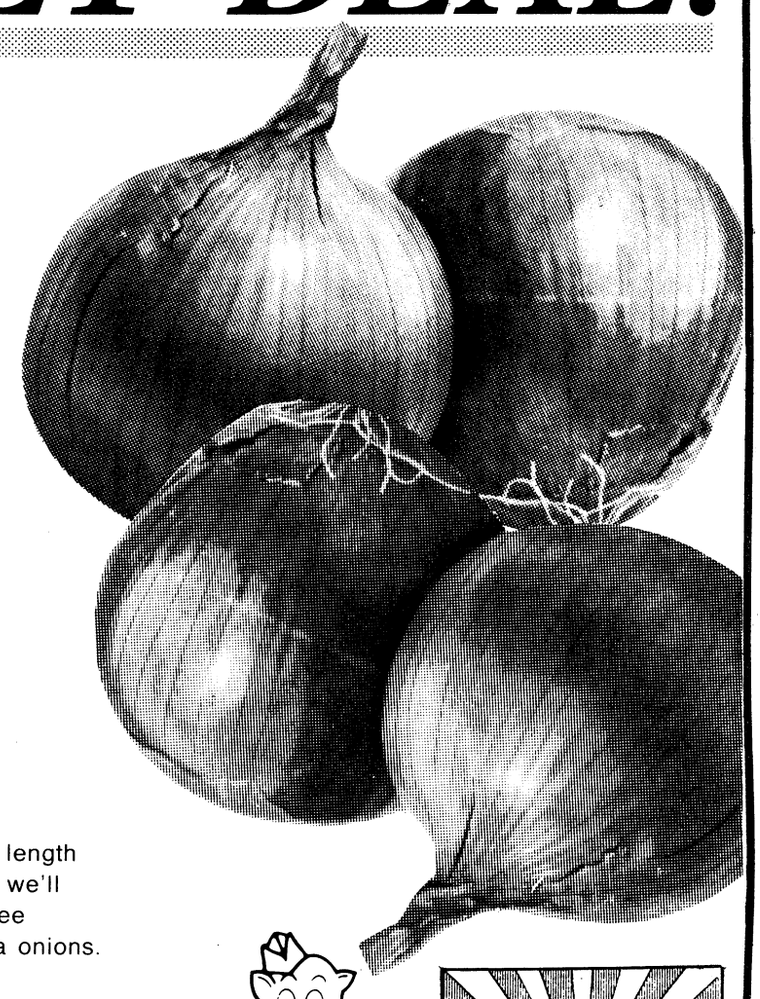
CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)
2622 Macon Road
Douglas A. Garner, Pastor
Sunday School 9:45AM
Morning Worship 11:00AM
EVERYONE WELCOME!

ROSE HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST
7479 Old Moon Road
DAVID G. SPIECE, MINISTER
• BIBLE STUDY 10:00 AM
• EVENING WORSHIP 6:30 PM
• WEDNESDAY MIDWEEK SERVICE 7:30 PM

First Assembly of God
1309 10th Ave. at 13th St.
Phenix City, Ala.
WELCOMES ALL
Military Personnel
to worship with us.
Sunday School 9:45
Services 10:45
Evening Service 6:00pm

NORTHSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(A New Testament Church)
1442 Double Churches Road
Sunday School 9:45am
Morning Worship 10:45am
Evening Worship 6:00pm
Spencer Arnold, Minister
324-5220

OUR LADY OF LOURDES CATHOLIC CHURCH
Located near Ft. Benning
at 1953 Torch Hill Rd.
Phone 689-5720
SATURDAY VIGIL
MASS 5:30pm
SUNDAY MASSES
8:30am & 11:00am



VICTORY DRIVE CHURCH OF GOD
3941 Victory Drive 689-3359
Service Times
Sunday School 10 am, Worship 11 am
Childrens Church 11 am, Evening Worship 6 pm
Wed. 7 pm Family Training Hr., Fri. 7 pm Youth Night
Senior Pastor M. H. Avera III 682-4664
SPANISH MINISTRY
Sunday School 10am, Worship 11 am
Thursday 7:30 pm 568-7018
Spanish Pastor Pedro Sanchez

NORTH HIGHLAND ASSEMBLY OF GOD
7300 Livingston Drive Columbus, Georgia 31909
Weekly Service Schedule
Sunday School 9:30am, Worship 10:30am & 6pm
Wednesday Evening, Family Night 7:00pm
(Children & Youth Activities—Adult Bible Study)
Security Parking Nursery
Jimmy R. Swilley, Sr. Pastor For Information call (404) 561-7777

SWEET DEAL!

FREE VIDALIA ONIONS

when you subscribe, or renew for a longer period.

Start an 8-week or longer subscription to the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer, or increase the length of your current subscription, and we'll send you a coupon good for a free five-pound bag of genuine Vidalia onions.

Redeem it at any area Piggly Wiggly store.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

Use this coupon to start or renew your subscription.

PLEASE ENTER MY SUBSCRIPTION
☐ New subscription ☐ Renewal
My check or money order is enclosed ☐
Charge to my: ☐ VISA ☐ MASTERCARD
Card #_____ Exp. Date_____
Signature_____
(Credit card customer will be rebilled at the rate in existence at the time of renewal)
Name_____
Address_____
City_____ State_____
Zip_____ Phone_____
Must use coupon for this offer. Payment must be enclosed or charged for offer to be valid. Offer expires June 31, 1989.
Mail to: Columbus Ledger-Enquirer, Circulation Sweet Deal P.O. Box 711, Columbus, GA 31994

Check Appropriate Box
New Subscriber
(Anyone who has not subscribed in the past 60 days)
☐ $19.20 for 8 weeks (Receive one 5-lb bag)
☐ $31.20 for 13 weeks (Receive two 5-lb bags)
Renewals Only
(You must increase the length of your current subscription to the next higher billing level. Minimum billing period of 13 weeks) receive one 5-lb bag of onions.
☐ 13 weeks --$31.20
☐ 26 weeks --$62.40
☐ 52 weeks--$124.80
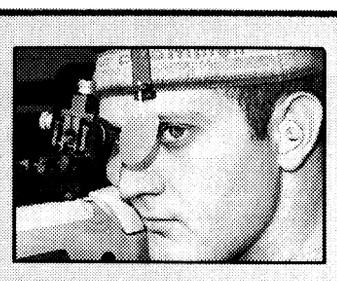
all renewals receive one 5-lb bag of onions. Mail rates slightly higher.

Bayonet Advertising Really Pays!

Marlboro

SURGEON GENERAL'S WARNING: Quitting Smoking Now Greatly Reduces Serious Risks to Your Health.



17 mg "tar," 1.1 mg nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC method.

© Philip Morris Inc. 1989

Sports

Marksmanship unit takes five of six events at Interservice Shooting Championships.

See B-4

Entertainment

Nationally noted guitarist and singer will perform at the Columbus Museum.

See B-5

ARMY NEWS

Kentucky offers Vietnam service bonus

Soldiers who served on active duty during the Vietnam years may be eligible to receive up to $500 under a recently enacted Kentucky law.

According to officials in the Army's Office of the Judge Advocate General, active duty soldiers, veterans and retirees — as well as their surviving family members — could qualify to receive a Kentucky Vietnam Veterans Bonus in one of two categories:

- Vietnam service, which is regarded under the Kentucky law as at least 30 days' service in Vietnam, Thailand, Laos, Cambodia, the Dominican Republic and the Congo from July 1, 1958,to May 15, 1975. Servicemembers who participated in aerial missions over these areas from July 3, 1965, to May 15, 1975 also qualify in this category.

- Vietnam-era service, or 90 days military service anywhere in the world from Aug. 5, 1964, to May 15, 1975.

Information and forms are available from Kentucky National Guard units, Department of Employment Services offices or local veterans service organizations. In Kentucky, information is available by telephone at 1-800-223-0713; callers outside Kentucky should phone(502) 564-8514.

★ ★ ★

Management Staff College board meets

The Army Management Staff College board met May 10 to 11 to select 80 students for its July through October 1989 course.

Army personnel officials say they expect the board's results Thursday.

The AMSC is designed to provide advanced professional development in management of acquisitions, resources, personnel, logistics and installations. It covers table of distribution and allowances organizations — installations, major command headquarters, depots, research and development centers and medical centers both in the continental United States and overseas.

The course was developed for managers and leaders from civilian career fields and military functional areas who will fill key leadership positions at both the operations and staff levels of TDA organizations.

★ ★ ★

Exchange sales set record in 1988

Post exchanges around the world set a record in 1988, ringing up $6.2 billion in sales, according to Army and Air Forces Exchange Service officials.

Out of that, AAFES operations contributed $137.7 million to Army and Air Force morale, welfare and recreation programs last year.

AAFES officials say post exchange operations have paid more than $1 billion in dividends and other funds to the two services' MWR programs. The 1988 payments equal about $89.26 for each active duty Army and Air Force member.

-- from Army News Service reports.

Quote

"You hear politics until you wish both parties were smothered in their own gas."

-- Woodrow Wilson

Rucker unit runs to Benning

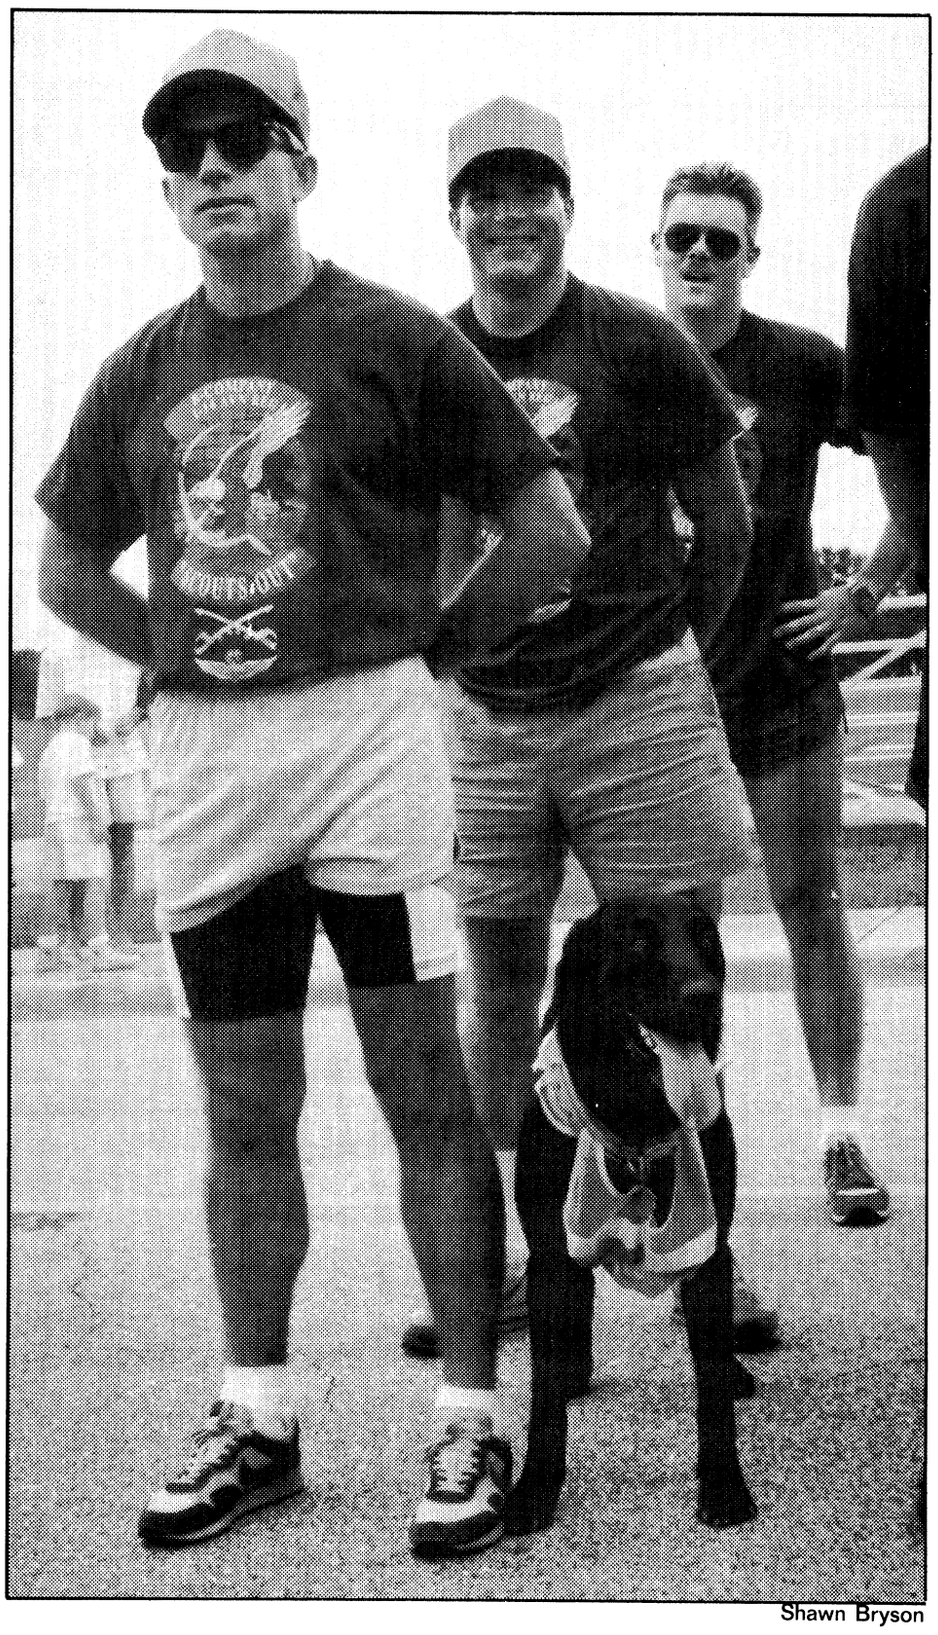
By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

Imagine running 125 miles straight at a pace of about 7:30 minutes per mile. Throw in several large hills, darkness and an occasional passing 18-wheeler, and you have a real challenge. This may be next to impossible for a lone man, but a reality for a group of soldiers from Fort Rucker, Ala.

Thirty-three runners, mostly from B Company, 1st Battalion, 14th Aviation, sprinted in to Fort Benning Saturday afternoon, finishing the 1st annual May Day Relay just 16 hours after leaving Shell Army Airfield at Fort Rucker.

Why did this group of soldiers spend their weekend running through the hills of the south? To raise money for the Army Emergency Relief fund, and to challenge Fort Benning to do the same.

The group of runners began their quest May 12, at 6 p.m., according to Capt. Gregory L. Henry, company commander of the unit. Henry said the relay was divided into 5-mile legs, with two runners per leg throughout the journey. The rest of the runners rode behind in two motor homes, resting and waiting for their turns to carry the baton, Henry explained.



Most of the runners ran two legs, or about 10 miles during the relay, including the oldest runner Jim Bias, 50, a Department of the Army employee. "I really only ran about 9 miles. We old men can't run as fast or as far as the younger ones," Bias said jokingly.

Joyce Faust was the only female runner of the group. She too ran about 10 miles, and she's not a soldier. "I'm a runner and just decided to run with these guys," said Faust, wife of one of the soldiers.

"It was definitely a challenge," said Lt. Col. Daniel J. Boccolucci, 1st Bn., 14th Avn. commander. Boccolucci ran nearly 33 miles of the relay.

The run had a third purpose, according to Henry. "The relay was also intended to build esprit de corps," he said. That it did. "Morale was high, and everyone was running in peak form. We finished about three and a half hours earlier than we had planned."

Upon arrival at Building 4, the unit presented a plaque to Benning's command information officer, Maj. Tom Fix. Henry said the plaque represents Fort Rucker's challenge to Fort Benning to hold a similar event in support of AER. "We hope we've started a tradition with this relay," Henry said. He said more than $1,000 was raised through relay pledges and that the number should increase as the event becomes better known and more of a tradition.

Shawn Bryson

Capt. Glenn Rizzi (l) and his dog, Vader, stand at parade rest after running the last leg of the relay.

Energy campaign successful

By Becky Ray
Energy Branch

Fort Benning's annual Spring Energy Awareness Campaign was held last week, and many post workers and residents were rewarded for "thinking energy" with incentives ranging from sun visors to a trip to Florida.

A crossword puzzle contest, printed in the April 28 and May 5 editions of the Bayonet, drew 192 responses. Each entrant received a sun visor, and those with correct entries received an official Captain Conservo T-shirt. Kelly Diviney, daughter of Maj. John and April Diviney, was the grand prize winner. She received lodging for a weekend at the Destin Recreation Center.

Many Fort Benning workers also received road atlases for participating in carpools.

A major area of emphasis for the campaign was in Fort Benning dependent schools. Students studied energy and later participated in poster and essay contests. An awards ceremony was held Friday, May 12 at Faith School.

Awareness campaigns are held in the spring and fall each year to remind the community of the important role energy plays in our lifestyles, economy, environment and national defense.

See page B-5 for answers to the energy crossword puzzle.

MPA to carry Olympic torch

Georgia Special Olympics

Fort Benning's Military Police Activity will join law enforcement officers from all across Georgia and take part in a 1,100-mile, Georgia Special Olympics fund-raising torch run, May 20 through 26.

The MPA's runners will run in the southwest route, one of eight routes to be run throughout the state in support of the event.

The southwest route begins Sunday in Valdosta. The route will continue through the cities of Thomasville, Moultrie, Tifton, Albany, Americus, Ellaville and Buena Vista before arriving at Benning. Benning's runners will depart the Main Post Exchange carrying the torch Thursday at 9 a.m. The military police are expected to arrive at the Government Center in Columbus where a hand off will be made to members of the Columbus Police Department at about 10 a.m.

The southwest route will continue through LaGrange and Franklin before ending at the Emory University campus in Atlanta May 26 as 26 runners carry the "Flame of Hope" into the Opening Ceremonies of the Georgia Special Olympics.

Special Olympics is the world's largest program of sports training and competition for children and adults with mental retardation. More than 12,000 Special Olympians participate in the Georgia programs, which are aided by volunteer efforts such as those of law enforcement officers.

Anyone wishing to sponsor an MPA runner should call 545-1133.

Soldiers PCSing to Germany can soon ship more household goods

Army News Service

A new travel policy approved by Congress will allow soldiers on orders for accompanied tours in Germany to ship up to their full household goods weight allowance to their new duty station.

According to a May 10 message to the field from the Office of the Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel, soldiers whose effective date of orders is June 1 or later will qualify for the new entitlement.

Under the current policy, in effect since 1987, accompanied soldiers' household goods shipments to Germany are limited to 2,000 pounds or 25 percent of their weight allowance. Under the new policy, called Elective Joint Federal Travel Regulations, soldiers may ship or store any combination of their full weight entitlement to or from Germany.

The policy is designed to give soldiers on orders for accompanied tours in Germany the option to use more of their own furnishings in their quarters, said Capt. Doug Reynolds, a program budget officer for the Army permanent change-of-station budget account.

"Soldiers will be able to elect to use their own living room furniture, bedroom furniture, or other personal items at their new duty station," said Reynolds. "Also, because of a recent shortage in government furniture in Germany, soldiers have been averaging about 750 pounds in additional weight allowances in past months. The EJFTR should eliminate shortages and help to make sure that all our people have the things they need."

> "Soldiers will be able to elect to use their own living room furniture, bedroom furniture, or other personal items at their new duty station.
>
> — Capt. Doug Reynolds

The ODCSPER message cautioned soldiers against shipping more household goods to Germany than they can use in their new quarters, since both on-post and off-post housing in Germany is generally smaller than in the United States. Reynolds added that, since household goods may not be stored in Germany at government expense, soldiers should seek the advice of their sponsors and community housing officials before deciding what portion of their household goods should be shipped or stored.

"That's really the key to making the new policy work," Reynolds said. "A lot of our people have already been to Germany, and they'll know about what they need to take. But we're concerned that some of our soldiers who haven't yet been to Germany might try to take more (of their household goods) than they'll be able to use or store in their quarters. Close contact with sponsors in Germany will help soldiers on orders decide what they really need to take."

Some items, such as washers, dryers, refrigerators, kitchen cabinets and wardrobes, cannot be shipped to Germany because they are provided by installation housing offices, the message said.

Only those soldiers whose effective date of orders is June 1 or later will qualify for the new entitlement. ODCSPER officials say a soldier's effective date of orders is the day the soldier signs into a new duty station, minus authorized travel time, plus one day. They add that leave or temporary duty enroute to a new assignment is not considered in determining effective date of orders.

The effective date of orders for soldiers separating or retiring is their last day of active duty.

The message said that administrative weight limitations will remain in effect for soldiers assigned to Berlin, as they are provided with complete government furnishings. It added that soldiers who are now on temporary duty or leave enroute to assignments in Germany, but who may qualify for EJFTR based on their effective date of orders, should contact their servicing personnel office for assistance in having their orders amended.

Goodwill horse show June 10

Goodwill Industries

Goodwill industries will hold its 13th annual Greater Columbus Horse Show June 10 from 12 noon and lasting well into the night at the Columbus Fairgrounds next to the Municipal Auditorium.

There will be plenty of food including the world famous Dinglewood scrambled dog.

Tickets are $2 for adults, $1 for children. Individuals with a military identification card, and their family members, receive free admission.

All proceeds benefit Goodwill Industries in helping the handicapped.

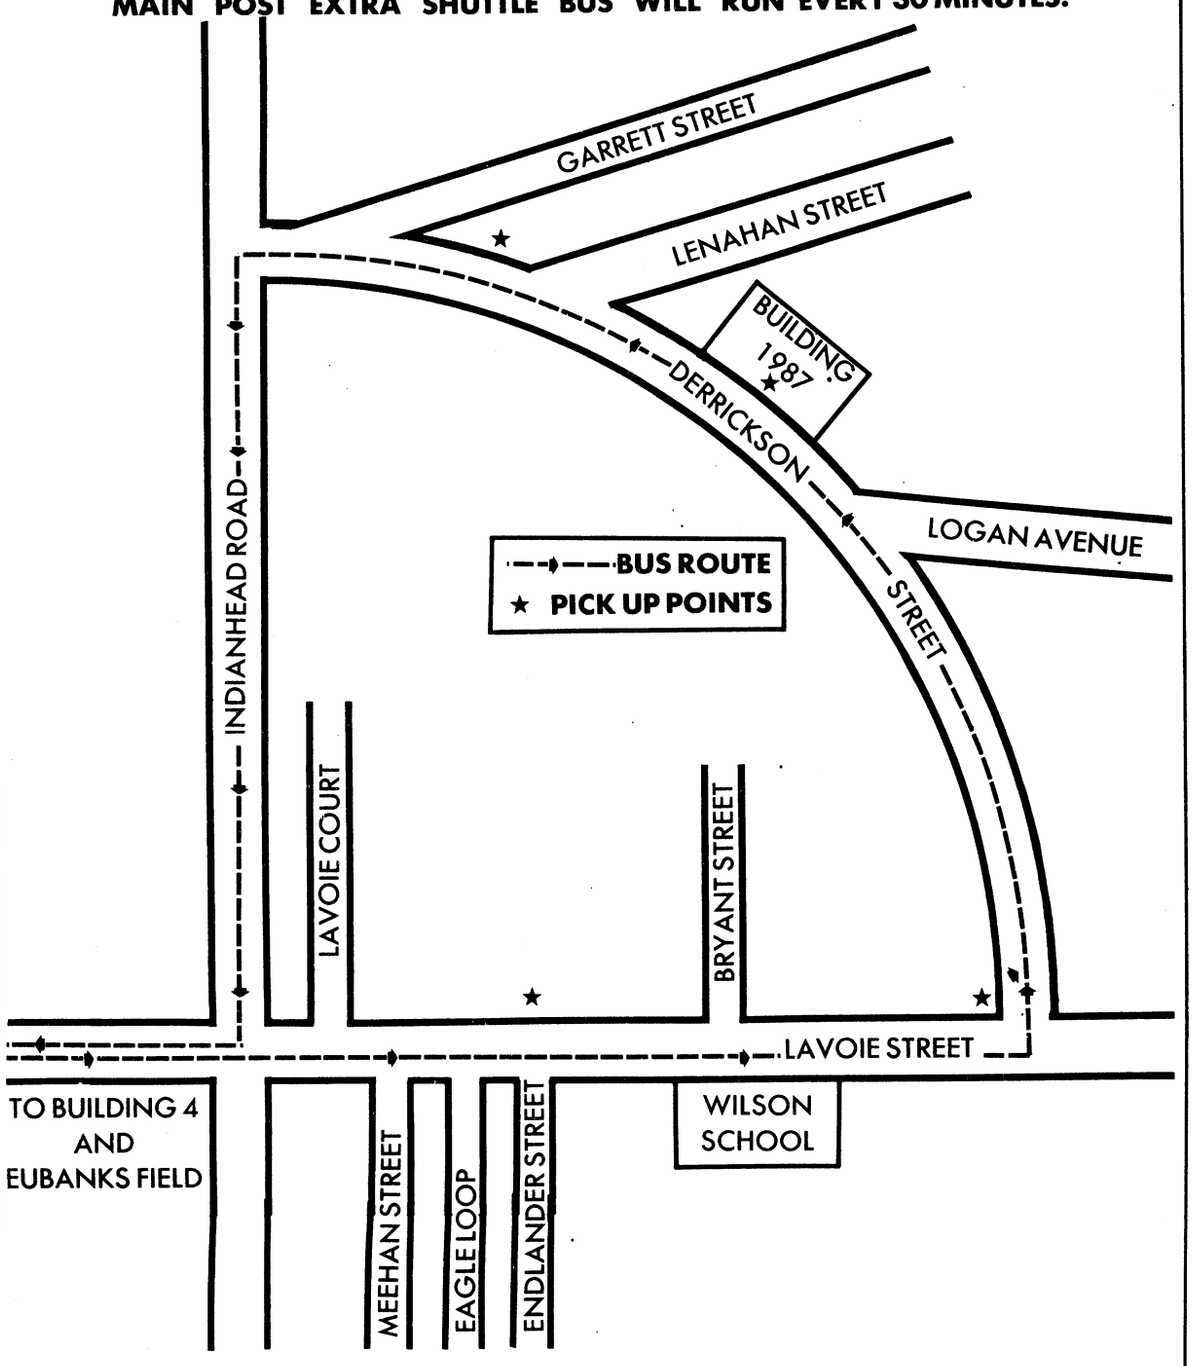
Armed Forces Day shuttle buses scheduled

DEH

A military bus service will be provided in the housing areas for Armed Forces Day activities on May 20 beginning at 9 a.m. and ending at 6 p.m.

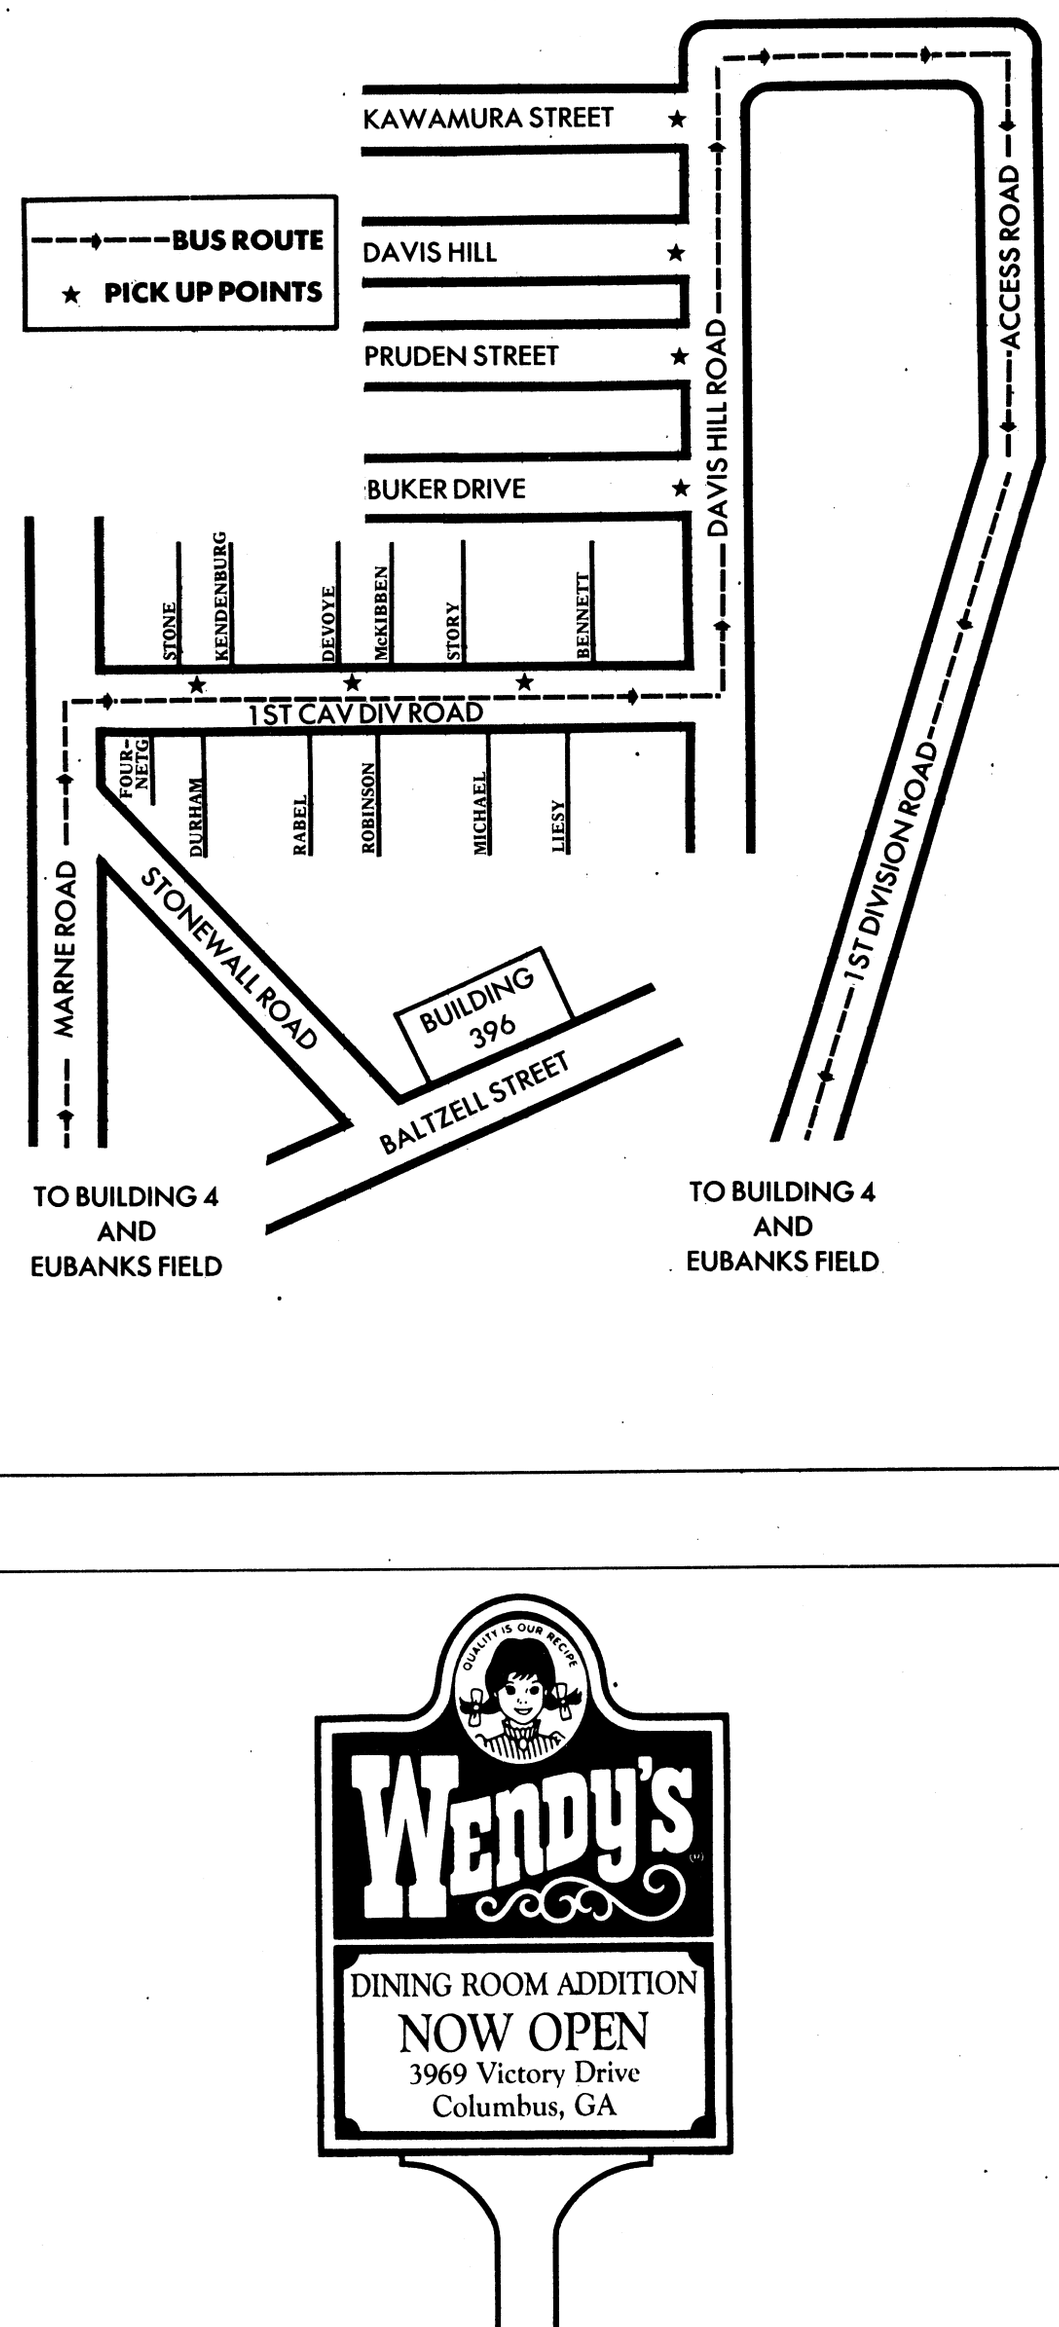
The buses will run at one hour intervals in all post housing areas. The buses traveling shuttle routes in Sand Hill/Harmony Church will run every hour direct to the activities.

Starting at 9 a.m., the buses will travel the perimeter of activities picking up passengers at the following parking areas:



- Way Street
- Main Post Bowling Center
- Main NCO Club
- West parking lot at Building 4
- East parking lot at Building 4
- Intersection of Edward and Eckel streets

One bus will run for each housing area: Custer/Upatoi Terrace, Indianhead Terrace, McGraw Manor and Davis Hill/Bouton Heights.



Route sheets for housing areas will be delivered to each community center.

See BUSES B-3

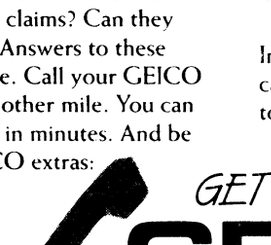
LAVOIE MANOR

DAVIS HILL AND BOUTON HEIGHTS

Your flanks are exposed...



So you better be sure about your car insurance.

You're an ace driver. But it's a jungle out there on the road. You need heavy backup. Are you sure about your present coverage? Are you paying too much? Is the company dependable? What about claims? Can they save you money with deductibles? Answers to these questions are as close as your phone. Call your GEICO Representative before you drive another mile. You can get a free, no-obligation rate quote in minutes. And be sure to ask about these other GEICO extras:

- A low initial down-payment starts your coverage
- Fast-action, 24-hour claim service in the U.S. and Canada
- GEICO has offices near most major military installations
- Convenient payment plans make budgeting a breeze
- GEICO can arrange overseas car insurance for you
- Over a half century of GEICO dependability and experience

Insist on quality car insurance. Stop in or call your local GEICO Representative today for a free rate quote.

GET TO KNOW GEICO

Call: 689-2787

2029 S. Lumpkin Road

(In the Oakland Park Shopping center)

At Wendy's, we keep busy building all kinds of good things. Like our all you can eat SuperBar. Or Wendy's big juicy Single Hamburgers, fresh breast of chicken filet sandwiches and other wonderful menu items.

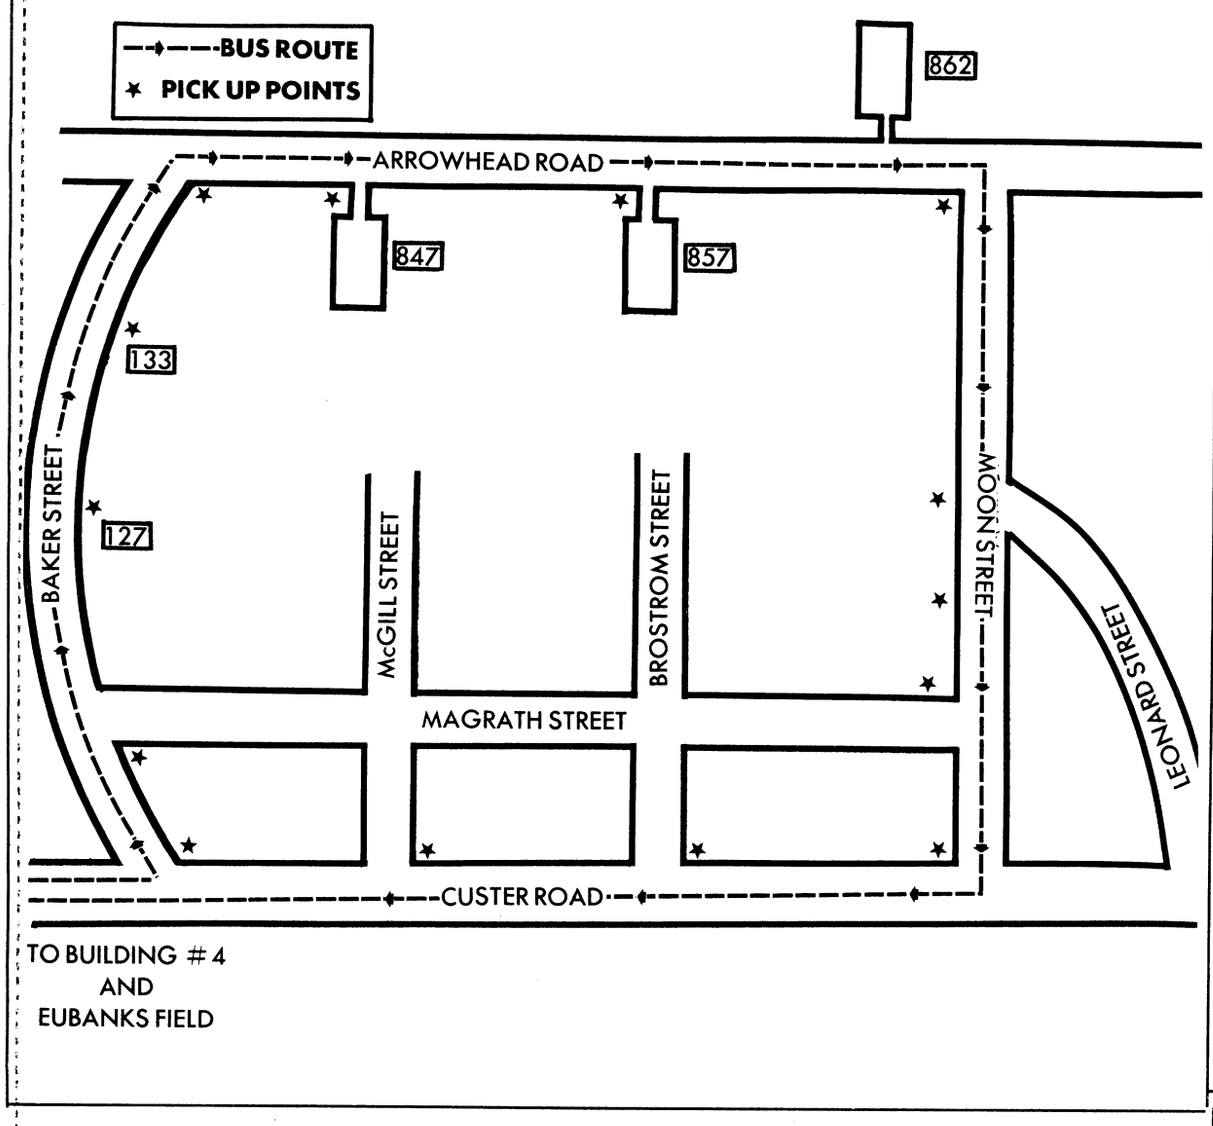
And now we've built a brand new dining room addition where you can relax and enjoy your favorites.

Now, we invite you to try the SuperBar and receive a FREE medium drink with this coupon. Also, you can enjoy the all you can eat SuperBar for only $3.09 after 4 p.m. So come see what we've built just for you.

SUPERBAR

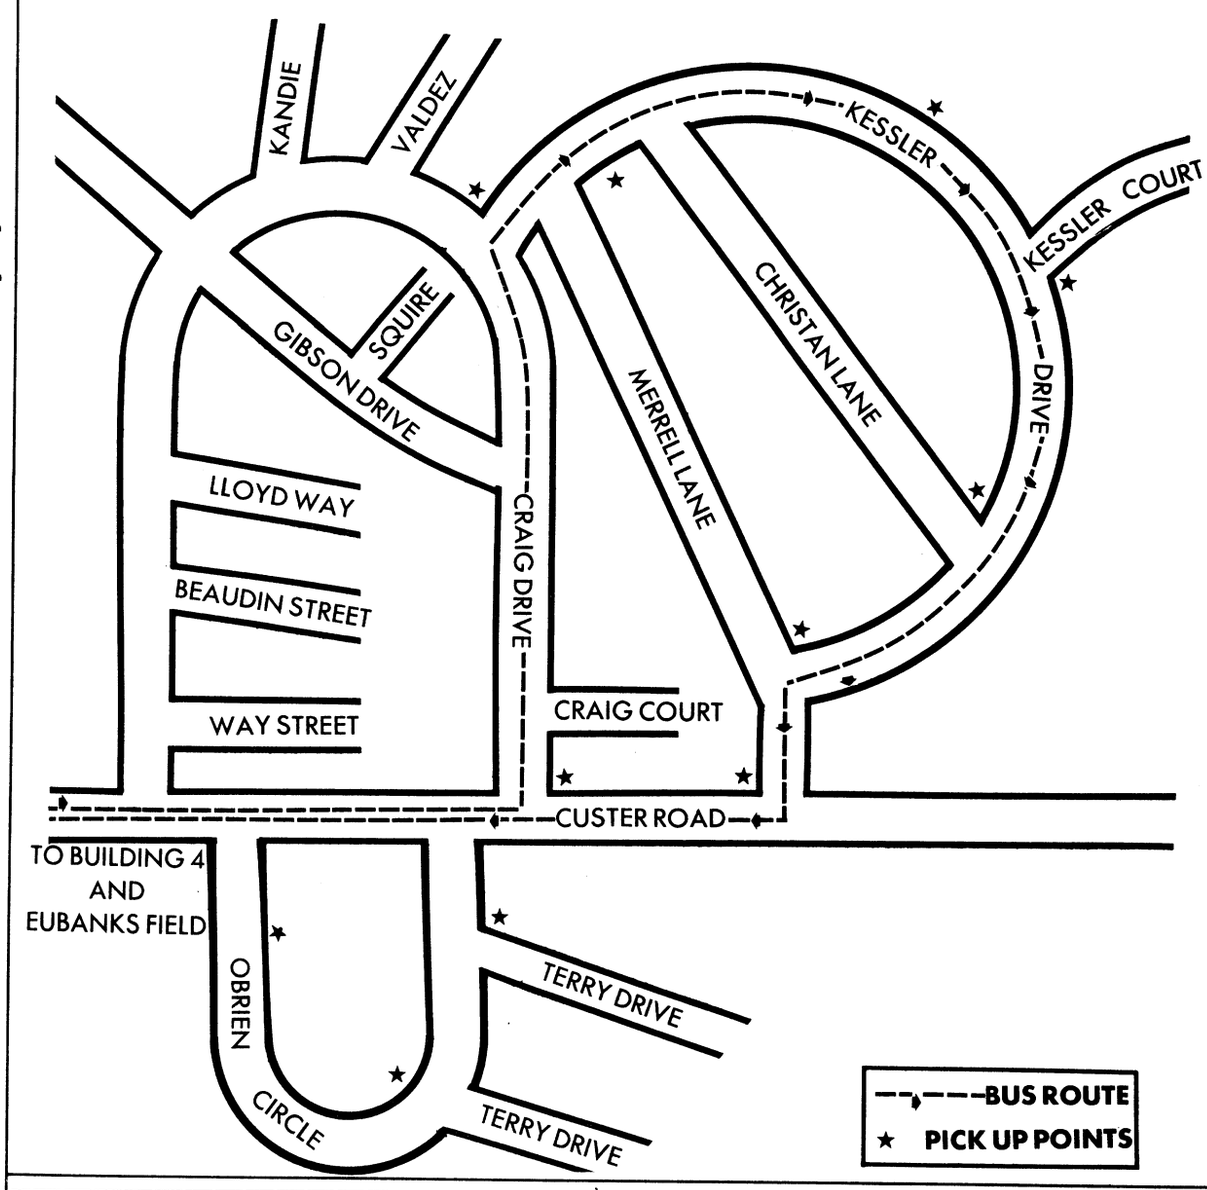
FREE MEDIUM DRINK WITH EACH SUPERBAR PURCHASE

Please present coupon when ordering.
Not valid with any other offer.
One coupon per customer, per visit.
Valid only at Wendy's, 3969 Victory Drive.
Tax Extra.



Wendy's OLD FASHIONED HAMBURGERS

The best burgers in the business ...and a whole lot more™



Buses

Continued from B-2

McGRAW MANOR

CUSTER AND UPATOI TERRACE

SHOP HERE & SAVE $ $ $!

REMOTE STEREO & SPEAKERS $135

HOTEL FURNITURE LIQUIDATION SALE

$5 PICTURES

ALL CARPET 12X14 $35

19" COLOR TV'S $125

FLEA MKT. TABLES $25

FULL SIZE BOX SPRING & MATTRESS $50 per set

$85 4-DR. CHEST/$118 W/2 NITE STANDS
$15 GOLD FRAMED ORIENTAL BIRD PICTURES
$25 GOLD FRAMED ARCHED MIRROR
$155 MATCHING LOVE SEAT & CHAIR
$20 BED BENCHES

NEW & USED SURPLUS FURNITURE

WOW ONLY AT VINEBROOK

$ 5 CARPET SCRAPS	$25 KING BEDSPREADS
$ 5 WALL LAMPS	$15 MIRRORS
$ 5 DRAPE PANELS	$15 PICTURES
$ 5 CORRIDOR CARPET	$45 DRESSERS
$15 CHAIRS	$55 STEREO CABINETS
$15 NITE STANDS	$85 CHEST
$15 TABLES	$95 SLEEP SOFA
$15 FULL BEDSPREADS	$145 ARMORIE

BOX SPRING & MATTRESS SETS

TWIN SIZE	$60	KING SIZE	$95
FULL SIZE	$50	BED FRAMES	$15-$30
QUEEN SIZE	$95	HEADBOARDS	$10-$60

Many More Items

VINEBROOK LIQUIDATORS

DELIVERY SERVICE IS AVAILABLE

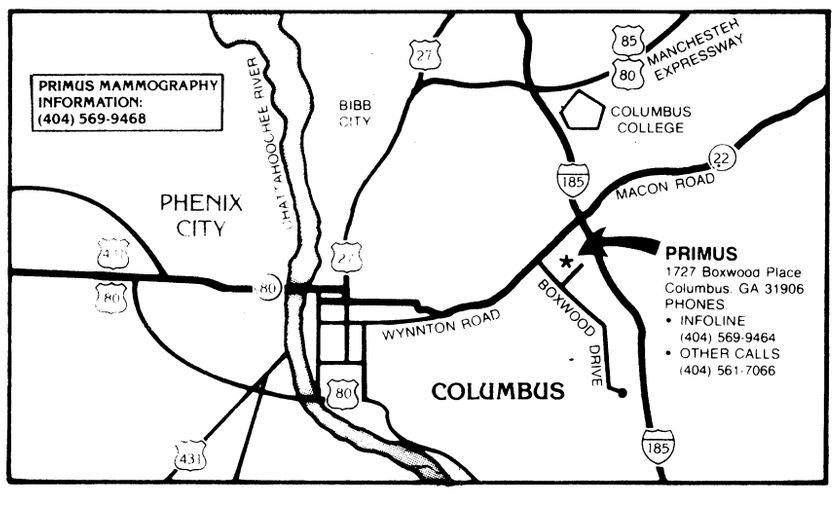
DELIVERY SERVICE AVAILABLE
CASH • CHECKS • VISA • MASTERCARD • DISCOVER
AMERICAN EXPRESS
30 DAY LAY-A-WAY
OPEN 7 DAYS
MON.-SAT. 10-6, SUNDAY 12-6

DELIVERY SERVICE IS AVAILABLE

WE HAVE 5 STORES in ATLANTA
THIS IS #1 FOR COLUMBUS!
MANY MORE ITEMS!
3404 BUENA VISTA ROAD
(ST. MARY'S HILLS SHOPPING CENTER)
682-0998

PRIMUS

NEW ARMY PRIMUS CENTER PROVIDES WALK-IN MEDICAL CARE



PRIMUS Walk-In centers are a new approach to providing military beneficiaries access to primary health care. PRIMUS Columbus will be open 365 days each year—from 0700 to 2000 weekdays and from 0900 to 1600 Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays (Effective 10-1-88).

No appointment is necessary and there is no cost to patients for treatment and medication.

All military beneficiaries, including family members, entitled to care at military treatment facilities and enrolled in the DEERS are eligible for care. Basic laboratory and X-ray services are provided on site. Licensed and credentialed physicians and staff provide medical care.

PRIMUS Columbus is located at
1727 Boxwood Place
Columbus, GA 31906

Infoline: (404) 569-9464
Other Calls: (404) 561-7066

PRIMUS Mammography Information: (404) 569-9468

Critically ill or seriously injured patients should go to a hospital emergency room.
Services are provided by PHP Healthcare Corporation, Alexandria, Virginia, under contract to the US Army Health Services Command.

DYAS DELIVERS!

GRAND ★SLAM★ USED CAR CLEARANCE!

Dyas had an extraordinary new car selling month! As a result, we are over loaded with excellent used cars. To clear them out, we are taking less and you'll save more. Don't miss out!

FRIDAY, MAY 19TH AND SATURDAY, MAY 20TH
ONE LOCATION IN OPELIKA:
HIGHWAY 280 AT THE BIG LOT ACROSS FROM WAL-MART NEXT TO DYAS TOYOTA AT THE TENT!

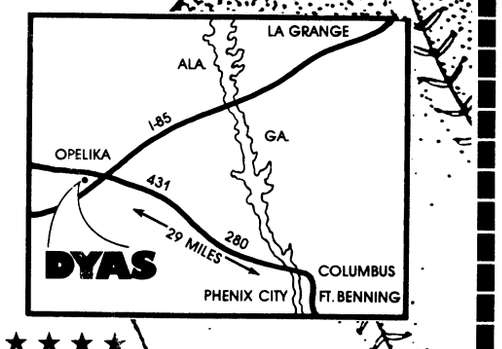
1989 Models Discounted Thousands!

Used Cars Starting at $1,995

All Makes! All Models!

- Over 125 one owner cars!
- Largest used car sale in Lee County history!
- No money down! (qualified buyers)
- Huge savings! Big discounts! An unprecedented opportunity to save!
- Clean cars! Late model cars! One owner cars! Clearance priced! Discount priced!

Here are a few examples:



89 Buick Century	List over $15,000 Power windows, power locks, tilt, cruise, AM/FM cassette, wire wheels, 2,900 miles.	$11,995
89 Cutlass Ciera SL	List over $17,000 Power windows, power locks, tilt, cruise, power seats, wire wheels, AM/FM cassette, power trunk release, 3,300 miles.	$12,995
89 Olds Trofeo	List over $27,000 Power windows, power locks, power sun roof, power seats both sides, 3,400 miles.	$19,995
88 Pontiac Le Mans	Automatic, air conditioning, AM/FM stereo, power steering, power brakes.	$6,995
88 Nissan Sentra XE Coupe	5-speed, gold wheels, AM/FM cassette, sun roof, air conditioning, power steering, power brakes, low miles.	$8,495
89 Chevy Cavalier	Automatic, air conditioning, power steering, power brakes, AM/FM stereo, 10,000 miles.	$8,295
89 Nissan Sentra	Automatic, air conditioning, power steering, power brakes, 11,000 miles.	$8,195
88 Chevy Corsica	Automatic, air conditioning, power steering, power brakes, AM/FM stereo.	$7,995

*Above prices do not include tax and title.

Used Car Rates as low as 10.99 annual percentage rate to qualified buyers

On-The Spot Financing to qualified buyers

DYAS DELIVERS

SPORTS

Army dominates 1989 Interservice Shooting Championships held here

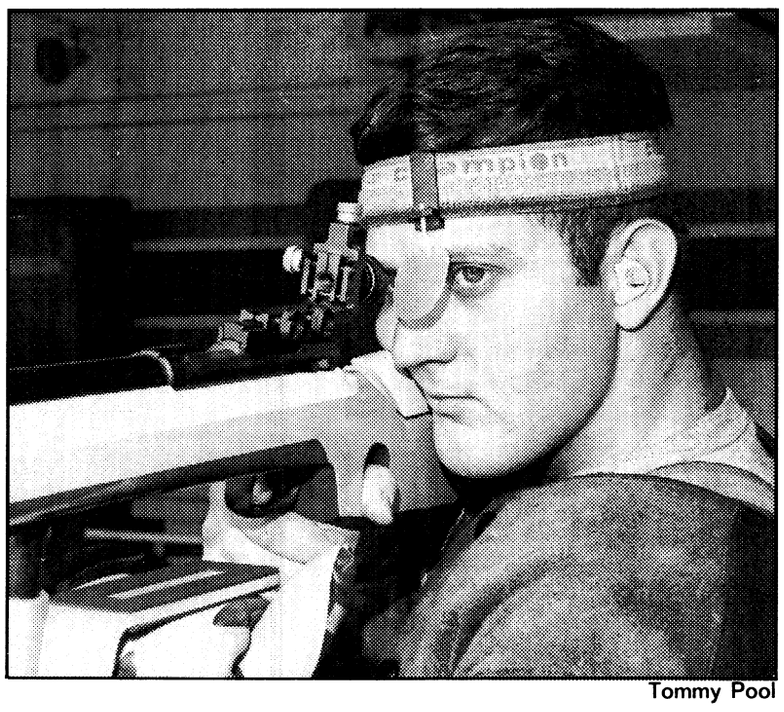
By Tommy G. Pool
U.S. Army Marksmenship Unit

Members of the U.S. Army dominated both individual and team events during this years Interservice Shooting Championships held at Fort Benning, May 11 through 14.

More than 80 of the top competitors from the different services were on hand for the matches including several former national champions and Olympic and world championship medal winners.

Double award winners in the championships included Glenn Dubis and Boyd Goldsby in 50-meter and 300-meter rifle competition.

Dubis tied one Interservice record in the 300-meter prone event with 598 out of 600, and came within one point of another in the three position event.



His total of 1,163 out of 1,200 was one point short of his own record of 1,164 set in 1987.

Other individual winners included James Meredith and Wanda Jewell in 50-meter rifle events.

Meredith won the 50-meter three position title by five points scoring 1,255 out of 1,300 while Jewell led from start to finish in the Ladies Standard rifle championship.

Jewell finished 11 points ahead of team mate Rhonda Barush, with a total of 576 out of 600 points.

On the shotgun ranges, Bret Erickson came from behind to capture the Interservice Trap championship by one target.

Tommy Pool

USAMU's Glenn Dubis won both 300-meter Interservice Rifle championships in matches held at Fort Benning last weekend.

Erickson scored a total of 285 out of 300 targets to edge U.S. Marine Corps competitor, Ray Ycong, at 284. Third place went to Terry Howard, U.S. Air Force, at 2880.

In team events, the Army squad won five of the seven team championships, while the Army Reserve and U.S. Marine Corps captured the remaining two events.

Complete results and scores from this years interservice rifle and trap championships are as follows:

50-Meter Rifle Prone
Boyd Goldsby, USA — 693
David Kimes, USAR — 692
Dennis Ghiselli, USMC— 692

Teams
U.S. Army "Blue" — 1,762
U.S. Army Reserve — 1,760
U.S. Marine Corps — 1,756

50-Meter Rifle Three Position
James Meredith, USAMU — 1,255
Troy Baker, USAMU — 1,250
David Cramer, USAR — 1,249

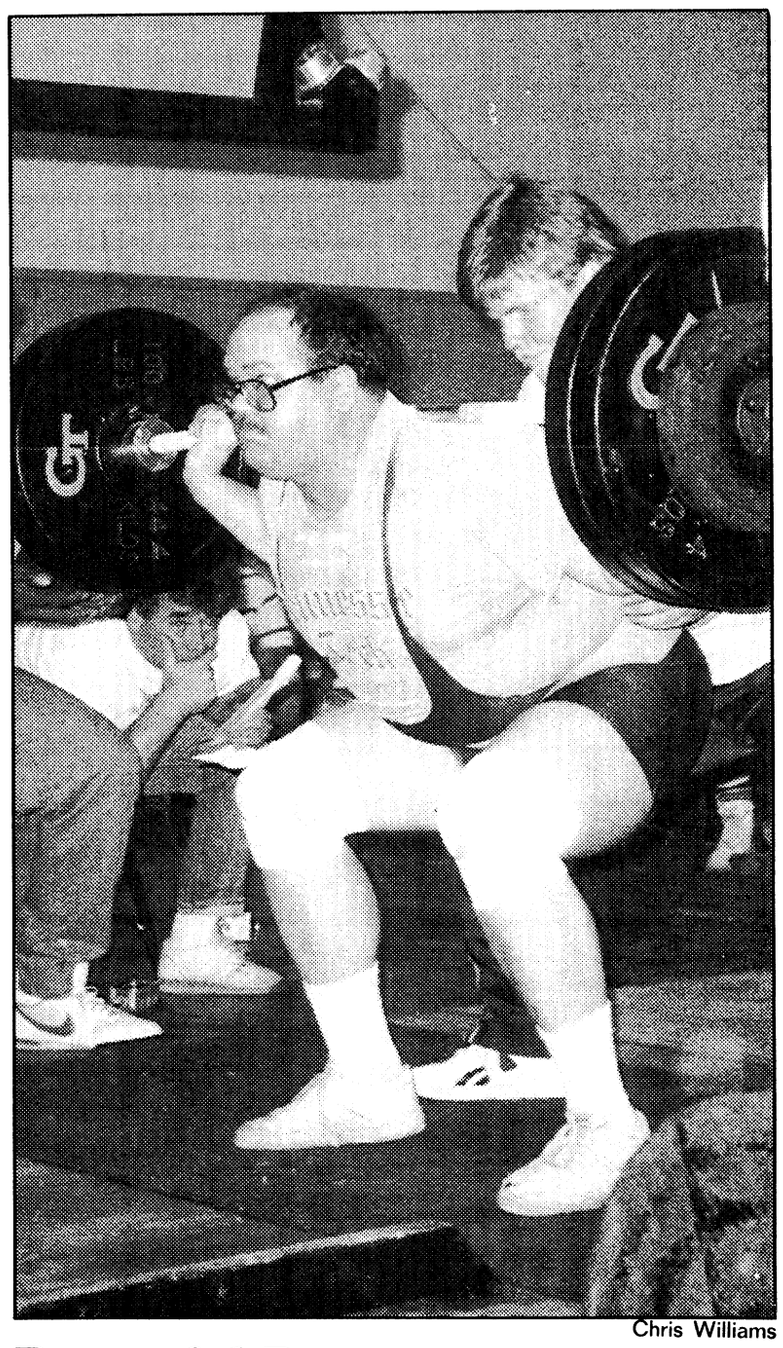
Teams
U.S. Army "Blue" — 3,457
U.S. Army Reserve — 3,436
U.S. Army "Gold" — 3,435

Ladies 50-Meter Standard Rifle
Wanda Jewell, USAMU — 576
Rhonda Barush, USAMU — 565
Karen Monez, USAR — 563

300-Meter Rifle Prone
Glenn Dubis, USAMU — 598
Dennis Ghiselli, USMC— 597
Thomas Tamas, USAMU — 596

Teams
U.S. Marine Corps — 1,785
U.S. Army "Blue" — 1,780
U.S. Army Reserve — 1,770

300-Meter Rifle Three Position
Glen Dubis, USAMU — 1,163
David Erickson, USAMU — 1,160
Bradley Carnes, USAMU — 1,158



Teams
U.S. Army "Blue" — 3,469
U.S. Army "Gold" — 3,458
U.S. Army Reserve — 3,448

300-Meter Standard Rifle
Boyd Goldsby, USA — 573
Ray Carter, USAR — 572
Lance Peters, ARNG — 571

Teams
U.S. Army "Gold" — 1,712
U.S. Army Reserve — 1,711
U.S. Army "Blue" — 1,703

Interservice Trap
Brett Erickson, USAMU — 285
Ray Ycong, USMC — 284
Terry Howard, USAF — 280

Teams
U.S. Army "Blue" — 423
U.S. Air Force — 413
U.S. Army Reserve — 408

Chris Williams

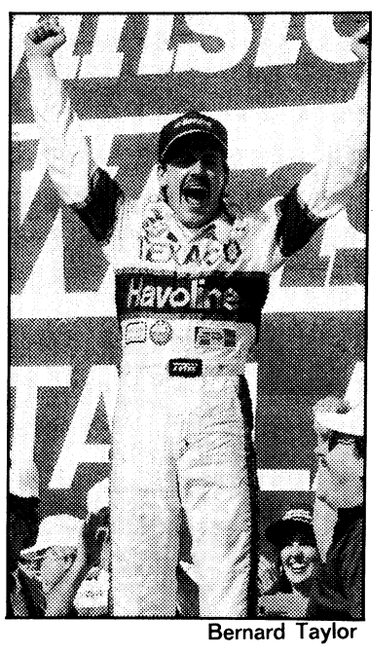
Powerful Rose

Dean Rose, operations research analyst, DOTD, USAIC, squats 525 lbs. at the first event of the Georiga State Powerlifting Meet. The meet was held May 6 at Heisman Gymnasium on the campus of Georgia Technological University. Rose won the 275-lb. novice class and placed 2nd in the open division. Another competitor, Roger Benjamin Wansley, husband of DEH's Sandra Wansley, won the 198-lb. class.

Allison captures Winston 500 at Talladega

Ron Allen
USAIC Public Affairs Office

The world's fastest 500-mile race came down to a .22 of a second win for Davey Allison May at the 20th running of the Winston 500 NASCAR Stock Car Race in Talladega, Ala.



This was the second Winston 500 victory for Allison in the past three years and the sixth of his career at Talladega.

"This is my home track. My family and friends all come to watch us race here, and we really wanted to do well," the Hueytown, Alabama native said after the race.

"We came to Talladega with the idea of turning our season around. I think we have. I really believe we have the strongest car on the circuit right now."

Allison's Texaco Havoline Ford lead for 94 of the 188 laps of the race in front of a estimated crowd of 140,000 fans.

Terry Labonte in the Budweiser Ford and Mark Martin in the Stroh Lite Ford were right on Allison's bumper as he crossed the finish line. Morgan Shepherd in the Valvoline Pontiac and Darrell Waltip driving the Tide Chevrolet, one of the new Chevrolet Lumina's, were fourth and fifth, respectively.

Bernard Taylor

Allison celebrates win.

"I don't believe I looked out my windshield for a single foot of the last lap," Allison said. "Labonte was right on my bumper the whole last part of the race."

"I know the track pretty well, so I can drive around it without looking out the windshield. I was looking out the side, going wherever they (Labonte and Martin) went to block them."

"I didn't know for sure if I could hold them off but I knew I was going to fight like heck to hold the lead. I made sure my car was where they wanted to be."

"Davy was just too strong for us," Labonte said. "Mark (Martin) and I were going to make a run at him, but we just couldn't get close enough to do anything with him."

"The way he was running, nobody was going to beat him," Martin said. "In the end, Terry and I were trying to get something going (giving hand signals), but we couldn't even catch him."

This was the first victory for new car owner and crew chief Robert Yates. "I just can't believe it," he said. "This is the greatest place in the world to turn it around."

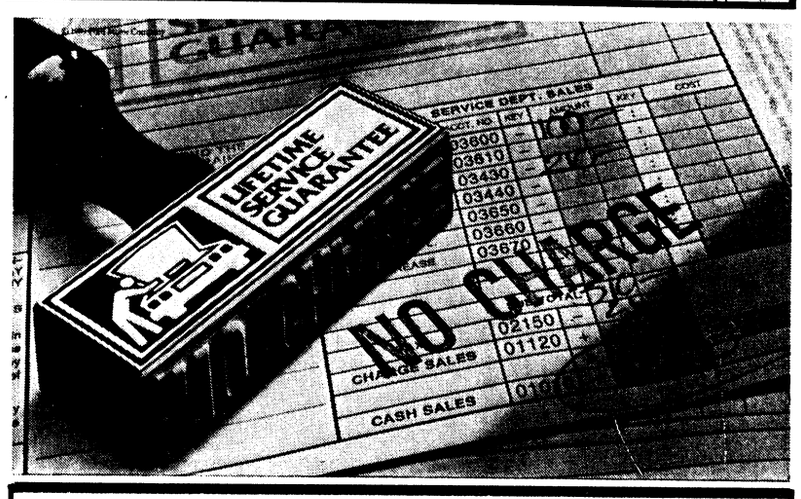
This victory ended a 14-race slump for Allison who walked away with a $98,675 purse, a record at the Talladega Superspeedway.

"I can hardly wait to talk to my dad,' Allison said. 'He's been to several races since his accident, but this is the first one we've won that he has attended.' MAllison's father, Bobby, was in a accident at an early race this year and has not yet returned to NASCAR racing.

The average speed of the race was 155.869 miles per hour. There were 27 lead changes among nine drivers and 17 laps were run under the caution flag. MThe first six cautions were all for single-car accidents but the seventh came on a 12-car pileup. Larry Pearson, Ricky Rudd and Derrick Cope got into the turn-four wall triggering the crash. No one was seriously injured, but Pearson's and Rudd's cars caught fire briefly.

The Bumper to Bumper 500K ARCA Super Car Series stock car race held the day prior was won by Tracy Leslie of Mt. Clemens, Maine.

He was driving the Ruehles Towing Pontiac.Leslie finished three quarters of a car length ahead of Richie Bickle Jr.'s Racing Chevrolet.



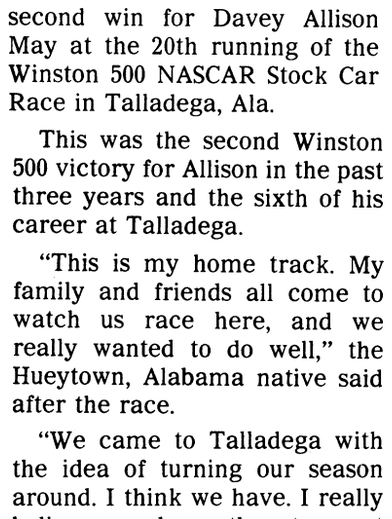
Rounding out the top five were Ben Hess, Citgo Oldsmobile; Bill Venturini, Amoco Ultimate/Pronto Chevrolet and David Simco in the Mound Steel/Tom Co. Pontiac.

The next race weekend at Talladega Superspeedway will be July 29 through 30 for the ARCA 500K on Saturday and the DieHard 500 on Sunday.

The speedway is located just outside Talledega, Ala. on Speedway Boulevard at exits 173 and 168 off I-20, west of Atlanta.

For ticket information, call (205) 362-9064.

Come see our 12 lovely ladies 6 nights a week!
Featuring
Takite, Cougar, La'Esha, Tina, Desiree, Sharle, Savanna, Champane, Crystal, Blondie, Silve, Sylina
at the No. I Exotic Night Club
THE PILLOW TALK LOUNGE
1207 1st Ave. 324-5806
Special Tuesday, May 23rd
DRAFT BEER NIGHT



Ford maintains that the first time you pay for a repair should also be the last.

The Lifetime Service Guarantee means you'll never pay twice for a covered repair-parts or labor-for as long as you own your car.

No ifs, ands or buts.
Only participating Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers can offer this kind of Peace of Mind. And only Ford, Lincoln, or Mercury owners can get it.
Once your dealer makes a covered repair on your car, he guarantees that if the same repair is needed again, he'll do it free. For as long as you own your vehicle, whether it's new or used.
The lifetime Service Guarantee covers thousands of repairs. And it's backed by certified technicians and quality Ford Motorcraft parts.
Developed by Ford Motorcraft parts.
Developed by Ford Motor Company, this limited warranty is another example of the Quality Care programs offered by Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers.
Nobody guarantees car repairs longer. Or better. Quite simply, it's America's best car repair guarantee.
Come in and ask for a copy. It's the quality guarantee that can help stamp out your car repair bills forever.
QUALITY CARE FOR QUALITY CARS
FORD MERCURY LINCOLN

"Jerk baits" difficult to use, but effective

By Earl Bentz & Steve Price
Outboard Marine Corporation

Bass fishermen have given nicknames to many of the types of lures they use, including such designations as "slush baits," "stick baits," and "jerk baits."

Of these, the "jerk baits" — the long, thin, minnow-immitation plugs that float at rest but dive when pulled or "jerked" — can be among the most effective lures to use for spring and early summer bass.

"The lures are hard to use," explains Evinrude Pro Staff member Denny Brauer, "and I believe that's why more anglers don't use them.

"The lures have to be worked with a hard, constant jerk of the rod at the same time you turn the reel handle. It's the same way you work certain topwater lures, and after a while, fatigue sets it."

When jerked, says Brauer, the lures dart forward erratically like injured minnows. They are particularly effective when fishing for suspended bass, although the Evinrude pro has used them successfully along the edges of grasslines, around points, and on the ends of deep bluffs.

See BASS B-5

Attention All
FORD CAR & TRUCK OWNERS
We Are Your Factory Authorized Dealer For All Ford Cars & Trucks! Parts & Service--Including Any Warranty Work!!
Clip This Ad For Free Safety Check!!!
GATEWAY
LINCOLN-MERCURY
Corner 3rd Ave. & 13th St.
Downtown 322-5575
Service Open Mon.-Fri. 7:30am-6pm

Golfers use azaleas for tournament fee

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The folks out at the Follow Me Golf Course recently held the first ever Azalea Tournament.

On May 6, 40 golfers turned out to compete in the tournament, but instead of bringing money for the entry fee, many brought azalea bushes.

While that may seem like a strange entree fee, according to Fort Benning golf pro, George Cliff, it was for a good cause.

Cliff explained that he thought up the idea for the tournament about a year ago. The whole reason behind the tournament was to beautify the golf course, and at the same time give people a good time.

The entree fee for those golfers who didn't bring the azaleas was $10, Cliff said. But, every bit of the money went to buying more azalea bushes.

Cliff said the golf course now has about 170 new azalea bushes thanks to those who competed in the tournament, as well as a few people who simply donated money to the cause.

Winners are as follows:

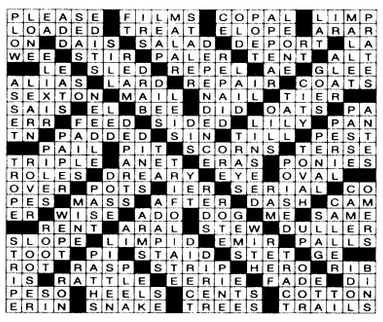
Team competition 1st – Steve Dodds, Diane Benton, Robert Hicks and Jean Sharp.

Closest to the hole #16

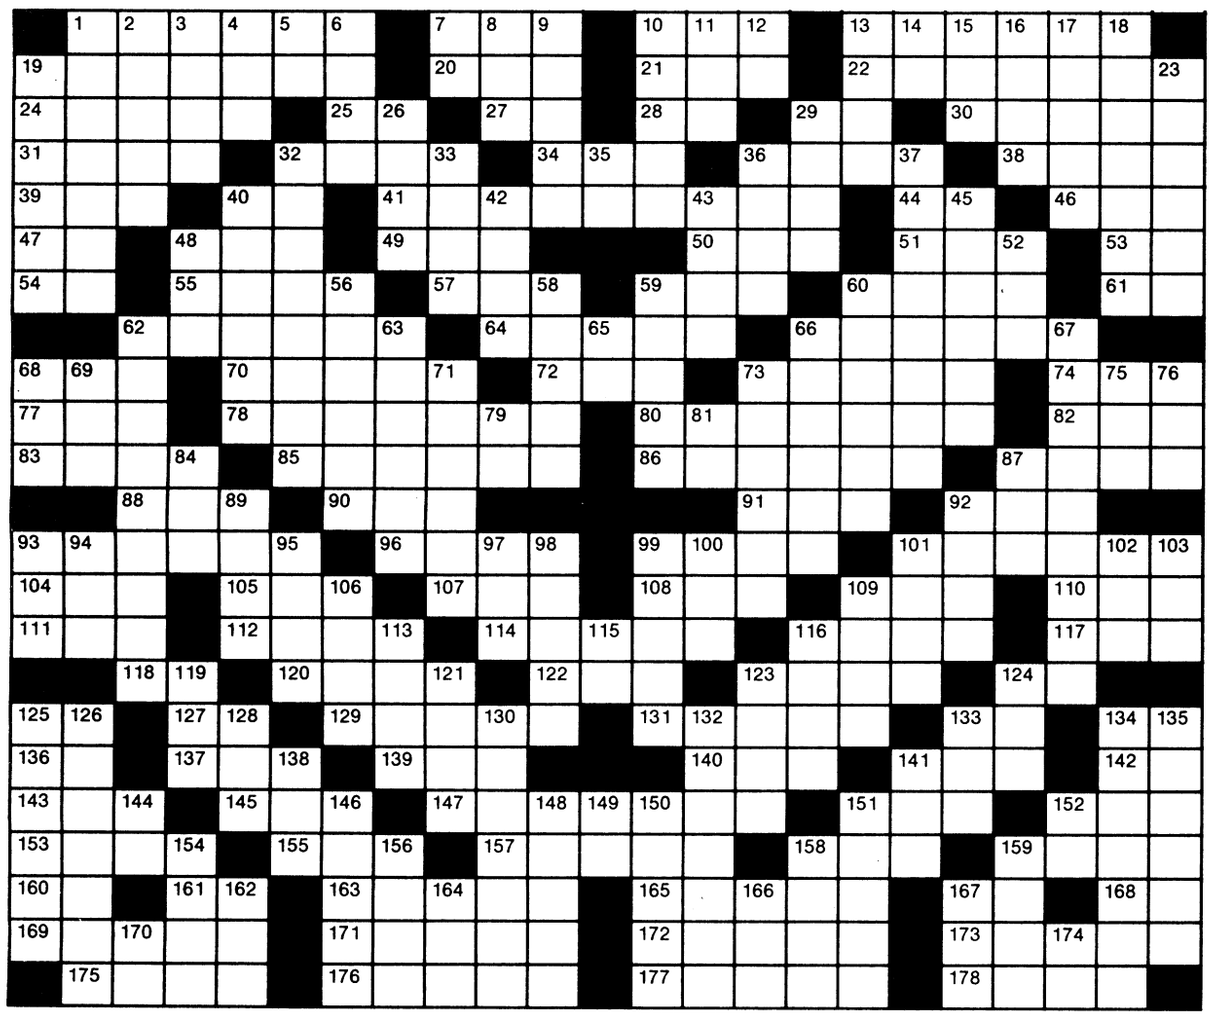
Male – Richard Brown
Female – Marion Rock

ENTERTAINMENT

PUZZLE



ACROSS



1 Priest in charge of parish
7 — Wednesday
10 Metric measure
13 Deputies
19 Make ready
20 Afternoon social
21 Mountain pass
22 Comes back
24 More unusual
25 Newley ID
27 Hebrew month
28 Guido's low note
29 Concerning
30 Negative ion
31 Landed
32 Merganser
34 Adherent of: suffix
36 "— Window"
38 Antitoxin
39 Father's Day gift
40 "Let It —"
41 Smashed
44 Teutonic deity
46 "To — With Love"
47 — garde
48 Make lace
49 Selleck of TV
50 Those holding office
51 Circuit
53 Neon symbol
54 Selenium symbol
55 River islands
57 Cut
59 Michael Jackson album
60 Nerve network
61 Oscar winner for "The Accidental Tourist": inits.
62 Clark Gable role
64 Spinnakers
66 Depression worn out by water
68 Macaw
70 Uncanny
72 Anger
73 Daughter of King Lear
74 "L.A. —"
77 Drunkard
78 Morgan/Webb TV series
80 Declaring
82 Mature
83 Fondles
85 Ejects in a jet
86 Occupant
87 Musical instrument
88 Diving bird
90 Sin
91 Excavate
92 Couple
93 Aided
96 Trade for money
99 Simpleton
101 Looked intently
104 Swiss canton
105 Corrode
107 Capuchin monkey
108 Limb
109 Deface
110 Solemn wonder
111 — Tse tung
112 Malay canoe
114 — of the Union
116 — Sunday
117 Perfect number
118 Bond nemesis
120 Baked clay
122 Guido's high note
123 Broadcasts
124 "— Are the World"
125 Hypothetical force
127 Down: prefix
129 Nocturnal animal
131 Household gods
133 Perform
134 Father
136 Hebrew letter
137 Obstruct
139 Sever
140 Danson or Koppel
141 Sloe — fizz
142 Osmium symbol
143 The result of: suffix
145 Music variety
147 Long steps
151 Bishopric
152 — poetica
153 "Planet of the —"
155 Footlike part
157 Artist's stand
158 Play part
159 Surfeit
160 Agave plant
161 Early morn
163 Ascertain
165 Zeus changed her into stone
167 News-gathering org.
168 Rachins ID
169 Babylonian hero
171 Doctrine
172 Automobile style
173 Erected
175 Icelandic writing
176 Slides
177 Expunge
178 Sea eagles

DOWN

1 Confection of nut kernels
2 Eagle's nest
3 Barracuda
4 Sailor: colloq.
5 Alternative word
6 Paper measure
7 Near
8 Caspian or Baltic
9 Custom
10 Crucial
11 Decay
12 "— Cid"
13 — code
14 Evigan ID
15 Greek letter
16 Sisters
17 Attempts
18 Breathing loudly in sleep
19 Talks idly
23 Trapped
26 "Empty —"
29 Pete Rose manages them
32 Colonizers
33 "For — the Bell Tolls"
35 "— Elsewhere"
36 Tear
37 Pertinent
40 Badgered
42 Book of Old Testament
43 Inlets
45 Evaluating
48 Type of cross
52 Writing implement
56 Mexican shawl
58 Lingers
59 Consecrated
60 Ranting
62 Military unit
63 Difficulties
65 Negative prefix
66 Sell to consumer
67 Painstaking
68 Viper
69 Fish eggs
71 Habituates
73 Haphazard
75 Time gone by
76 Tiny
79 Spielberg alien
81 Tellurium symbol
84 Eat
87 Be in debt
89 Retain
92 Fixed period of time
93 Drone; buzz
94 Baseball stat.
95 Arrow
97 — Vegas
98 Liquid measure
99 "— Attraction"
100 Unit of Norwegian currency
101 Cronies: colloq.
102 Female sheep
103 Lair
106 Labor
109 Red planet
113 Fish sauce
115 Pacino of film
116 Variegated
119 "The — Couple"
121 Large birds
123 War god
124 Emerged
125 Narcotic
126 Highhanded abuse
128 Hearing organ
130 Divulged
132 Studio
133 Expire
134 Entrances
135 Signify
138 Chart
141 "— Smart"
144 Myself
146 Hurls missiles
148 Rages
149 Exists
150 Thick
151 Play part
152 Cooled lava
154 Pulverized rock
156 Search for
158 Arabian garments
159 Goad to action
162 Goat cry
164 Southern blackbird
166 Harem room
167 Lincoln nickname
170 Sponsor's word
174 At home

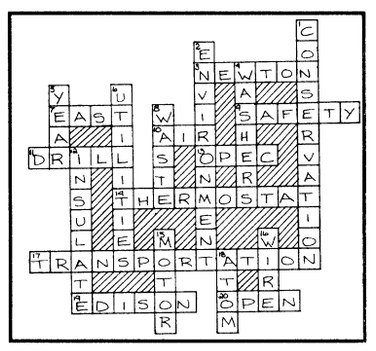
LAST WEEK

Guitarist, singer to perform at Columbus Museum

Columbus Museum

Nationally noted performer Bill Harley will entertain old and young alike with his unique blend of song and story June 4, at the Columbus Museum.

Using guitar and voice, Harley creates a landscape of American life filled with baseball players, lumberjacks, first loves, and coyotes. Whether he is telling a folktale, doing a hambone to "Fifty Ways to Fool Your Mother," or singing about the strange creatures in bathroom plumbing, his show is both humorous and meaningful.



In 1987, Harley won a Parent's Choice Gold Award for his album "Fifty Ways to Fool Your Mother," and in 1988 received awards for two recordings of stories, "Dinosaurs Never Say Please" and "Cool in School."

Harley will give performances in the Patrick Theatre of the museum at 2 p.m. and 4 p.m. Admission is $2 for children and $3 for adults. For additional information, please contact the Museum Education Department at 322-0400.

MOVIES

Today	Tap - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Scrooged - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	World Gone Wild - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
Saturday	Dead Calm - (R)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Bill and Ted's Excellent - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	The Fly II - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Bill and Ted's Excellent - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Full Metal Jacket - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
	Crime Zone - (R)	Main Post 11 p.m.
Sunday	Bill and Ted's Excellent - (PG)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Gorillas in the Mist - (PG-13)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	The Fly II - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Dead Calm - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Monday	The Fly II - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Farewell to the King - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Kinjite: Forbidden Subjects- (R)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Tuesday	High Spirits - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Bill and Ted's Excellent - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Wednesday	Child's Play - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	The Naked Gun - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Police Academy 6 - (PG)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Thursday	Kinjite: Forbidden Subjects - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Farewell to the King - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.

Energy Puzzle Answers

Bass

——Continued from B-4——

"Throughout the spring months we use these lures as we follow bass in from deeper water to the spawning areas," he explains. "Then, after the spawn, we follow the fish back out.

Brauer's favorite fishing technique with jerk baits is to make a long cast and reel the lure down to its working depth. Then he uses a two-step cadence to work the lure. He snaps his rod tip twice in rapid succession to make the lure jump forward twice. His favorite depth is between five and eight feet.

"The best thing a fishermen can do when learning to use these lures is practice working them in a swimming pool so he sees what the lure does," says the Evinrude pro. "The jerk baits are just like any other types of lures in that they can be retrieved a number of different ways."

Another technique Brauer uses, especially around isolated cover, is to keep the lure working in basically the same spot over and over. This is done by snapping the rod once to jerk the lure forward, then giving back slack line so the lure actually floats backward.

"At other times you'll see bass actually stalking a jerk bait," adds Brauer. "They'll follow and watch the lure right up to the surface. When that happens, a quick jerk that makes the lure look like it's trying to escape often triggers a strike."

Spanish Music & Flags
Novedades
Food Products from all Latin America
Your Friendly Store
2221 So. Lumpkin Road 687-6075

Buffalo Cafe
Buffalo Style Chicken Wings
Subs ★ Ice Cream
Oakland Park Shopping Center
Bring this coupon for a free beverage with order
Expires 5-31-89 Take out available 689-1492

Arby's
SAVE OVER $1.00!
MEAL DEAL! Only $1.59 For A Limited Time
• Arby's Original Roast Beef Sandwich
• Reg. Order of French Fries
• Creamy Cole Slaw
A Complete Meal

NEW LOW AIRFARES
Atlanta Roundtrip To:

Frankfurt	Munich	Brussels	Seoul
$758 1 June-30 Sept.	$778 1 June-30 Sept.	$872 1 June-30 Sept.	$1149 1 June-31 Aug.
$660 1 Oct.-31 Oct.	$694 1 Oct.-31 Oct.	$609 1 Oct.-31 Oct.	$1199 1 Sept.-1 Dec.

*Certain Restrictions/Taxes Apply to These Fares
*Some Blackout Dates Exist
TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
3115 Mercury Drive
Columbus, GA 31906
404/563-8687
4393 Victory Dr.
ARCCO Place
Columbus, Georgia 31903
404/689-3092

THE $57 ATLANTA BED & BREAKFAST

Enjoy a fun-filled weekend in Atlanta, complete with a spacious room at the fabulous Renaissance Hotel and full breakfast for two–for only $57* per night! And the kids stay free. There's exciting new Underground Atlanta and delightful Zoo Atlanta. Reserved seating for the Braves. Plus discount tickets to White Water, Six Flags and Stone Mountain, prepurchased so there's no line. For reservations, call collect (404) 761-7790 and ask for the $57 Atlanta Bed & Breakfast.
*Plus tax, subject to change and availability. Not valid for groups or conventions. Offer good through 9/30/89.
FOUR DIAMOND AWARD 1989
RAMADA RENAISSANCE HOTEL ATLANTA AIRPORT

Anthony's the world's greatest Pizza
Ft. Benning Mini Mall Location
Pecomrow Street
Features:
● Pasta Sandwiches
● Full Salad Bar
● World's Greatest Pizza
BUY ONE LARGE PIZZA AT REGULAR PRICE
2ND 1/2 PRICE
(Home Delivery Only)
Expires 5-31-89
687-8051

Carmike Cinema 7
5301 Sidney Simons Blvd. 596-8244
"FIELD OF DREAMS" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"FLETCH LIVES" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"RAIN MAN" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"K-9" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"THE DREAM TEAM" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"CRUSOE" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"ROGER ME" 7:00, 9:30 "IT" PG 2:00, 4:30
Columbus Square 8 563-4440 COLUMBUS SQUARE
"MAJOR LEAGUE" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"NOWHERE TO RUN" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"LEAN ON ME" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"ROAD HOUSE" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"PET SEMATARY" R 2:20, 4:40, 7:10, 9:20
"SEE NO EVIL, HEAR NO EVIL" R 2:20, 4:40, 7:10, 9:20
"FOOD OF GODS II" R 2:20, 4:40, 7:10, 9:20
"RED SCORPION" R 2:20, 4:40, 7:10, 9:20
Peachtree Triple 322-7704 PEACHTREE MALL
"CYBORG" R 2:20, 4:40, 7:10, 9:20
"FAREWELL TO THE KING" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"MISS FIRECRACKER" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
Plaza Triple 99¢ 563-3737 CROSS COUNTRY PLAZA
"TWINS" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"THE RESCUERS" G 2:00, 3:30, 5:00, 7:00, 8:45
"THE BURBS" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
Phenix Twin 99¢ 297-3905 280 BYPASS
"MISSISSIPPI BURNING" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:30
"POLICE ACAD. 6" PG 2:20, 4:40, 7:10, 9:20
any Movie 99¢ anytime!

SPORTS SHORTS

Post tennis tourney rescheduled

The 1989 U. S. Army Infantry Center's Tennis Championship has been rescheduled to May 22 through May 26 at the Community Recreation Division's tennis courts on Anderson Street behind the post's Theatre #2.

Brigade and battalion teams of seven will compete. Each team will have two male players to compete in the Open Division, two players in the Junior Veterans Division, one in the Senior Division and two female players in the Women's Division.

Senior Division entrants over 45 years of age will also compete. Entrants 35 to 44 years of age will compete in the Junior Veterans category.

For information, contact the post's Physical Activities Office at 545-5777 or 545-7519.

Post powerlifting meet June 24

The 2nd Annual Fort Benning Powerlifting Competition will be held June 24 at Briant Wells Gym. Lifters will squat, bench press and dead lift. Current U.S. Powerlifting Federation rules will be in effect, and regulation one-piece suits are mandatory. There is no entry fee.

Competition is open to all Fort Benning male and female active duty military, military dependents, retirees, Department of Army and Department of Defense civilians and Non-appropriated Fund civilians.

Awards will be presented to the top male finishers in each weight category. Women awards will be determined by formula.

For the first time at Fort Benning, a team powerlifting competition will be held. Lifters may compete in the team competition as well as individually. The top three teams will receive awards.

Weigh-ins will be held at Briant Wells Gym June 23 from 4 to 7 p.m. and on June 24 from 8 to 9:15 a.m. A meeting will be held for all lifters on June 24 at 9 a.m.

Lifters may sign up at any post gym or show up for the weigh-in and lifters meeting. For more information, contact Speedy Austin at 545-4726/4388.

Chess tournament May 20

Attention all chess players! The next USCF Chess Tournament will be held May 20 with sign in at noon at the Kelley Hill Recreation Center.

If you are not a member of the USCF, you may purchase a membership the day of the tournament. One-day membership is $4.50, and annual membership is $26. The tournament fee for all players is $2. The tournament is open to both military and civilian players.

Kelley Hill Recreation Center sponsors this tournament each month at building 9079 on Marne Road at Kelley Hill. For more information, call 544-3079 Wednesday through Sunday after noon.

Chess tournament set for June 17

The 1989 preliminary Army Chess Tournament will be held at Kelley Hill Community Recreation Center June 17 at 10 a.m. This tournament will determine nominations for attendance at the Army Chess Tournament to be held at Fort Belvoir, Va. September 10 through 16.

Only active duty military personnel are eligible to compete. The tournament will be U.S. Chess Federation sanctioned and membership is required. Memberships may be purchased at the time of registration.

Contact Kelley Hill Community Recreation Center for details at 544-3079 Wednesday through Saturday after 12 noon.

Small games May 24 at Santiago Gym

A Small Games championship will be conducted May 24 through May 26 at Santiago Gym. Games for the competition are badminton, table tennis, handball, squash and horseshoe pitching.

Entry applications will be accepted until May 19. Contact Mr. McGruder at 544-2486 for more information.

USAIC battalion golf begins June 1

The USAIC battalion golf season begins June 1. Four separate seasons will be held.

The first season gets underway June 1 through July 7; the second season is July 17 through Aug. 4; the third season is Aug. 11 through Aug. 29 and the fourth season is Aug. 29 through Sep. 19. Championships will be held for each season.

All active duty personnel assigned or attached to a battalion-size unit at Fort Benning are eligible to participate.

Entry forms are available at Audie Murphy gym, Harmony Church field house, Santiago gym, Briant Wells field house, Kelley Hill gym or the post Sports Office.

For more information, call the sports director at 545-5777 or drop by the Sports Office, building 394.

USAIC softball season set

The USAIC softball season and championships have been set. The first season will be held May 18 through June 17. The second season is June 27 through Aug. 11.

Twenty teams will be compete for the post championship trophy. A scratch meeting for all coaches and A & R's will be held at Briant Wells Field House at 10 a.m. May 11. A & R representatives should attend the meeting to receive information on upcoming changes to the 1989 softball season.

Doughboy team wants players

The Sports Office is looking for players for the 1989 Doughboy Softball team. Active duty military men and women only are eligible.

Tryouts will be held today at Gowdy Field from 4:30 to 6:30 p.m.

Coaches are also needed. Applications for coaching positions are available at the Sports Office, building 394.

Call the Sports Director at 545-5777 or 545-7519 for more information.

USO giving away Braves' tickets

The USO is giving away Atlanta Braves baseball tickets by means of a drawing. Only active duty military personnel are eligible. To enter, put your name, rank, duty station, duty and work phone numbers on a postcard (DoD postcards are illegal) and mail to USO/Atlanta Braves Tickets, P. O. Box 20963, Atlanta, GA 30320. One one entry per person please.

A drawing will be held weekly on Tuesday. Each winner will receive two tickets to a Thursday or Sunday home game. Tickets should be picked up before the game at the press box office. Military identification must be shown when picking up tickets.

Women's league needs softball players

The Women's Intramural Softball League needs players. Season play begins May 18 and continues through June 17. The Sports Office will sign up interested players until the season begins.

Interested players should contact the Sports Office at 545-5777 or Alber McGruder at 544-1595 or 544-2486.

Hunters should return permits

To avoid the loss of hunting privileges, turkey hunters are reminded to return the Fort Benning Turkey Permit and Hunter Report, FB (ENG) Form 10, within 15 days of the close of turkey season.

Permits may be placed in drop boxes located at the Outdoor Recreation Office, building 247, or Natural Resources Management Office, building 5883, Harmony Church. Individuals desiring a receipt may mail the permits by certified mail, return receipt requested, directly to the Natural Resources Management Division, DEH, Fort Benning, Ga. 31905-5122, or personally return the permit to building 247 and obtain acknowledgment.

All permits not received by close of business May 20 will be delinquent. Hunters who fail to return their permits will be denied privileges as required by USAIC Regulation 210-2. For information, call 544-6120.

Sports Office needs boxers and trainers

Any military personnel interested in boxing for the Fort Benning boxing program should meet at Briant Wells field house, building 933, Monday through Friday at 5:30 p.m. Trainers are needed, also.

For further information, contact Speedy Austin at 545-4726/4388.

Body builders will compete June 10

The sixth annual Mr. and Ms. Fort Benning body building contest will be held June 10 at Marshall Auditorium in Infantry Hall, building 4.

The Mr. Fort Benning contest is open to all active duty military men stationed at Fort Benning.

The Ms. Fort Benning competition is open to active duty military females, dependents of active duty, retirees, Department of Army , Non-appropriated Fund and Army and Air Force Exchange Service employees.

Awards will be presented to first, second and third place winners as well as the best poser in both the men and women competition. Also, in the men's category, an award will be presented to the "Most Muscular" competitor.

For more information, call Speedy Austin at 545-4726.

Follow Me Course holds tournaments

The following tournaments are available at Benning's Follow Me Golf Course:

- May 20 — Blind Partner Handicap (combined net score)
- May 28 through 29 — Dixie Memorial Tournament (four-man, two best balls)
- June 17 through 18 — Bi-City Golf Tournament (gross event, flighted)

Golfers pay half-price greens fees Monday through Friday with cart rental from 1 p.m. until dark. Call 687-1940 for additional information.

Pot-O-Gold is $3,814

Fort Benning bowling centers' "Pot-O-Gold" cash prize has reached $3,814.

Bowlers must strike in certain frames to win the pot.

League and open bowlers who purchase a three-game ticket and pay a $1 entry fee prior to bowling are eligible to enter the tournament.

For more information, call the Main Post Bowling Center at 545-4272 or 545-1949.

Women's volleyball tourney set

A women's volleyball tournament will be held Tuesday through May 19 at Briant Wells Field House. League competition has been cancelled for the season.

If interested, call the Sports Office at 545-5777 or 545-7519.

YA needs swimmers

The Youth Activities Center is looking for swimmers for its swim team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Mondays through Thursdays.

The swim team is a year-round organization.

Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for information.

— Compiled from staff reports.

CLASSIFIED Excitement!

322-4500

APPLIANCE REPAIR A2
Commercial or domestic appl. repaired. J & S Appliance now hiring. 682-8717

CLEANING SERVICES C3
NEED someone to do your housework? Reasonable rates. Call 687-5715, 689-4294 eve.
TOTALLY Domestic Cleaning Services, specializing in residences. Reasonable rates. Call 563-5073 after5pm.

SMALL ENGINE REPAIR S8
S & S SMALL ENGINES Buy, Sell or Trade. Lawn mowers, go-carts, tillers, edgers, weed eaters. Repairs of all types. 291-1688

PUBLIC NOTICES 016
FLEET RESERVE ASSN. ORGANIZATIONAL MEETING Time 7:00 P.M. May 25, 1989 American Legion Post #35 1808 Victory Dr. Columbus, GA USN, USMC, USCG ACTIVE, RETIRED, RESERVE

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES 018
Childcare Service. Certified. A.M. Burgess, open 5am til 5:30 pm. Newborns, toddlers and up to 3 yrs. old. Will also accomodate people for all night duty or field time. For more information call 689-5300

PERSONALS 020
COLUMBUS DATING SERVICE Meet That Special Person! Call Mon-Fri, 9-5PM, 689-0072.
TROUBLED? Need to talk? Call CONTACT. We care. 24 hours. 327-3999

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024
FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500
LOSE WEIGHT The Natural Way! Dick Gregory's Behamian Diet. Call 298-9079 or 1-800-346-5188.
SOUTHERN CHARM BEAUTY PAGEANT. Ages 0 and up. A preliminary to the national pageant where (2) $10,000 savings bonds will be given away. Age groups are limited to 10. For more info. Call Felecia Sarratt , 205-498-3483.
'WILL FORMS' Make your own Will easily! Simple to fill in. Anyone can. Only $4.25 (2 for $6.95). Forms, Box 3609, New Haven, CT 06525.

APPLIANCE SALES 040
WASHERS Dryers, $100 up. Excellent cond. guaranteed. Call 687-5330.

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058
FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500
LIVING ROOM suit and corner unit, $100. Call 682-3718.
8 PIECE White French Provincial bedroom furn. $600. Call 563-9403.

YARD SALES GA 060
BEFORE THE MOVE Yard Sale, 211 Austin Loop, Ft. Benning, Sat., 8-12
FABRIC-raw silk, linen & wool, furn., children-teen-adult clothes, household items & refrigerator, Sat. only, 8-3, Green Island, 7151 Lullwater Rd.

FLEA MARKET
Sat, May 20th, 8AM-2PM, corner of Lumpkin Rd. & Yeager Ave, Ft. Benning.
MOVING Windsor Park. Furniture, housewares, children's & adult's clothes, miscellaneous. SAT & SUN 8AM. 5951 St. Leonards Ct.
YARD Sale Sat. only, 9-? 135 B Kessler Dr., Ft. Benning. Toys & misc. items.

MISC. FOR SALE 076
CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500
The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer CLASSIFIEDS 'There's something in it for you'
GIRLS BIKE, 20in, $40; girls clothing sized 10, VARIOUS prices. Call 687-2850
SOFT Serve, low fat, low calorie cones, Sundaes, shakes, splits, slushes, dogs, etc. Dairy Freeze, Forrest & Morris Roads.

LOST & FOUND ITEMS 077
Lost Sun, May 14, women's Gold & stainless steel Gucchi watch. 682-3315

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS 078
UPRIGHT piano with mirror and bench, excellent condition, $350. 327-6080

TV-VIDEO STEREO SALES 096
KENWOOD rack system, 100 watt amp, cassette player, am/fm rec., 1 turntable, 1 Pionerr 12 band equalizer, 2 150 watt speakers, 1 lg Kenwood stereo cabinate. $300. 569-0924 aft 6PM
SEVERAL used Satellite systems, prices beginning at $495 & up. Call 298-6524

MERCHANDISE WANTED 098
GERMAN slats and box springs needed for German bed. 568-3255 after 6p.m.

PETS 122
AKC CHINESE PUG puppies for sale. Call 298-6886 anytime.
AKC ROTTWEILER PUPS Lg. boned, champ blood, $450 & up. 561-2604
AKC ROTTWEILER PUPS 3 generations on site. Show quality. 561-6493 eves.
BEAUTIFUL AKC Cocker Spaniel puppies, wormed & shots, $150. Call 327-6999, only 2 males left.
PURE bred Cocker pups. Mother & father can be seen. 576-6569 after 4p.m.

PET SUPPLIES & SERVICES 124
Obedience Training, 5 yrs. exp. Free demo. Anmars Kennels, 687-7055

PETS-LOST & FOUND 127
FOUND! Small rabbit in Brooklet Dr. Area. Call 563-5058, 322-1041
HAVE YOU LOST YOUR PET? Please contact the Muscogee County Humane Society at 7133 Sacerdote Lane, off Schatulga Road.
YOU CAN HELP SAVE A PET Call our 24-hour hotline for lost & found pets. 571-2060.

FREE COLUMN 130
ABANDONED BY Scrooge! Beautiful kittens & mother cat. Please adopt! 297-8139 before 6PM
AKC REG. Cocker Spaniel, male, black, free to good family w/fenced yard. Call 563-6034 after 5PM
CATS & KITTENS Free To Good Homes Call 297-1657
ELVIRA NEEDS HOME 3yrs old, spayed, solid black. Call 596-9061
FREE adorable 6 wk old kittens to good homes, litter box trained, 3 males, 1 female. 687-6326 after 5.
FREE, dog, 1yr old, white, ½German Shepherd, good guard dog. 689-7844
FREE kittens Call 298-7102
FREE KITTENS, Call aft 6PM, Monday - Friday, anytime Saturday or Sunday. 685-0690
FREE kittens, 1 male, 1 female, to good homes only. Call 298-8559

FREE COLUMN 130
FREE KITTENS, 2 left call after 5PM 689-7340
FREE Kittens, 6 wks old, calico, very cute. Call 569-1929
FREE part cocker, F, 1 year Great with children. Ellerslie area. 561-8686.
FREE PUPPIES Call 298-2090
FREE puppies, part Chihuahua. Call before 3pm, 298-7457
FREE to good home, 3 medium to long hair kittens. Call 563-9694 after 5pm
Free to Good Home: female Calico kitten, 8 wks old, litterbox trained. 327-8894
FREE TO good home, 3 adorable kittens, 2 male, 1 female, 7 wks old. 324-0601 after 5.
FREE TO GOOD HOME, 2yr old mini poodle. Call 568-3415
FREE to good home, female dog, 1 yr old, needs lots of room to roam. 855-4016
FREE! 5 kittens, 5 wks old, Call 563-5554
GERMAN Shepherd, 10mo old, very playful, M, free to good home. 682-4368
IT'S HERE: the '89-'90 Military Pages. Call 682-7185 for your free copy.
KITTENS (5), 6 wks. old. Males and females. Free to a good home. 323-3053.
PEACHTREES free for the digging, waist high; free monkey grass. 1127 Sturkie Ave.
PINESTRAW, all you could possibly want. Call 561-4185 after 5.
Tan & white german shepherd, 1½yrs old. Free to good home w/fenced yard. 689-7706 after 6PM
Terrier Puppies and also part Bird Dog/Lab puppies. Free to good homes. 291-1502
3 SIX weeks old black & grey kittens. Free to good home. Aft 4 327-8061
5 PUPPIES, will be small dogs, to good homes. Call 297-6146 after 7.
FREE to a good home, pure bred Beagle, 1½ yrs. old, with dog house. 327-7653
FREE to good home, 3 medium to long hair kittens. Call 563-9694 after 5pm
Free to good home, 3 small Terrier type puppies. 291-1411 before 3 p.m.
FREE TO good home, 3 adorable kittens, 2 male, 1 female, 7 wks old. 324-0601 after 5.
FREE to good home, female Shepherd mixed, spayed, 1 yr. old; also, black male Lab, 1 yr. old. 298-5177
FREE to good home, female dog, 1 yr old, needs lots of room to roam. 855-4016
FREE 10 Puppies & Mother. Part Lab & part Shepherd. She's Lab. Call 298-3559.
FREE 2 small female dogs, 1 black & white and 1 tan & white, 1 yr. old. Part Peek-a-Poo & Parana. 298-1143
FREE 3 kittens. Free to good home. Can be seen at 4730 Harbin St.
FREE 3 pretty kittens. 2 males & 1 female. Mother part Persian. Call 332-8416.
FREE 4 kittens, 1 female & 1 male adult cats. Free to good home. 682-8587
FREE 7 wk. old kittens, full of spirt & affection. Mother long haired Tortoise Shell. 563-0228.
FREE 9 Beautiful fluffy puppies. Give one a good home. Call 297-2158.
HELP!! We are three cute little kittens found in an old store. Please come & take us home. 298-3238 LEAVE MSG

RESTAURANTS & CLUBS 212
PART-TIME HELP. No experience necessary. Apply between 3pm & 5pm at Tavern On The Square, #14 11th St., & Speakeasy, 3123 Mercury Dr.

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216
Leaders For the Finest Jr. Officers seeking the Finest Career opportunities and service. Palm Quinn, USMA '79, 250 Teri Lane, Prattville, AL 36067. (205) 361-9152.

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216
BLOOD PLASMA SAVES LIVES
$10 ea. DONATION New Donors/ Or Inactive For 6 Months/ $5 Bonus with This Ad/ Plus $5 2nd Time Bonus Plus $750 Cash Drawing Monthly
Community Plasma Center 825 4th Ave. Columbus 322-6566

DOMESTIC HELP WANTED 219
NEED LADY to clean house 1 day/week. Good pay for good work. 298-6524

PROFESSIONAL EMPLOYMENT 224
SUBJECT MATTER EXPERTS (SME'S) WANTED
The team of Allen Corp of America, J-DL, Inc. and Regency Assistant Inc., leaders in military training development are seeking qualified individuals with 3 yrs. Include 2 yrs teaching in developing training materials. Army Subject Matter experience to develop Video Disc courseware material in one of more of the following MOS's: 19E-K-D, 44A-56A, 67R, 68FHR, 73C, 73D, 95B, 95D. SME's are also needed for Comebat Vehicles Idenfication in MOS 11-B, C, H, M and SC-11. Contingent hiring agreements will be made to qualified individuals. Final hiring will be based upon contract award to the above team. For immediate consideration send resume and salary requirements to: J-DL, 7800 Stemmons Freeway, Attn: Bonnie, Suite 300, Dallas, TX 75247.

SALES 226
FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500
SALES MGR. TRAINEES Exp. helpful but not a must. Will train. Flex. hours. Apply at Steve's Check Cashiers, 3905 Victory Dr. Suite 2, next to Blimpie's, M-W, 11-5. No phone calls please.

SKILLS & TRADES 228
FREE TRAINING Highway Marking Machine Operators
No experience necessary, but MUST have a valid driver's license with no DUI for 3 years. Must be able to drive a 5sp vehicle larger than a pick-up truck & must be willing to travel 3-4 wks at a time. TRAVEL TIME PAID, $18,000 ave. annual salary. Call today for info. PERSONNEL CONCEPTS, 571-2424.
NO FEE EOE

CHILD CARE 229
ACS CERTIFIED No. Main Post area. 1 full time vacancy avail. Reasonable rates. 687-0104.

RESUME SERVICES 232
A BETTER JOB WINNING RESUME $9
up to executive presentations. Expert writing, typing, printing, updating.
...FREE CONSULTATION...
★ SAME DAY SERVICE ★
America's oldest & largest Professional Resume Svc.
327-2238
2520 Wynnton Rd. Ste. 4

TRADE SCHOOLS 324
THE HART SCHOOL
Train to be a Professional
•SECRETARY •EXECUTIVE SEC. •WORD PROCESSOR
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL. •JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
THE HART SCHOOL a Div. of A.C.T. Corp. Nat'l hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL
Train for careers in
•AIRLINES •CRUISE LINES •TRAVEL AGENCIES
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL. •JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
A.C.T. TRAVEL SCHOOL Nat'l hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. GL

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIY 410
MAKING A CAREER CHANGE? Don't go it alone! Most of our successful franchises have never owned a business before Servpro. Servpro showed them how to make money in insurance restoration and residential/commercial cleaning. For free brochure and information call 1-800-826-9586 or Bob Sappington, 568-1847.

ROOMS 512
Five min to post, private entrance, refr, cable, cheap. 682-0690 Ms. James.

SHARE HOME 516
Female roommate wanted to share home & ½ utilities. 689-2345 after 10 p.m.

UNFURNISHED APTS. GA 520
2 Br duplex between Medical Ctr. & Lakebottom. Call 327-1894 or 327-1927.

HOMES FOR SALE AL 614
FOR sale or rent, 3 br, 2 ba, fenced, 1711 22nd Ave. Phenix City. Sale price $43,500, rental $395 mo., $250 dep. 205-687-5003 after 5, 615-344-5559 after 6.

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616
MARION COUNTY 2BR 2BA, brick home, built-in range, oven, dishwasher, & disposer. Greatroom w/fp, dbl carport, lg. back yard, completely fenced. 20X40 in-ground pool. 20X20 guest house, w/8X10 full bath. Green house, workshop, BBQ pit, ½MILE North Buena Vista City limits. Call (912) 649-7325 aft 5PM
3 BR, 2 Ba, den, fireplace, LR, DR, shop, Yorktown, $67,000. 687-4347.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500
The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer CLASSIFIEDS 'There's something in it for you'

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIY 410
MASTER CRAFTSMAN 25 YEARS EXPERIENCE CITY UPHOLSTERY 418 14TH STREET UPTOWN COLUMBUS 576-5813

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

BEST KEPT SECRET In Jordon/Johnson Area!

By Owner, 16X33 in-ground pool w/7ft privacy fence, 2 screened porches, decks, & landscaping accomp. this 1600 sq.ft. + home in excellent school area. 3BR 1½BA, LR w/fireplace, DR, breakfast room & den. New carpet & wallpaper through out. Many extras. $71,900. 322-7037, 322-1472.

JUST LIKE NEW
Nice 2BR home on large lot. Front & back porch, glass sliding door, vacant. Mid $30's. Call
JUVELLE FROST: 561-8022 or 568-1440 SHOWCASE REALTY, Inc

LOTS FOR SALE 626

ONE ACRE LOT for sale $6,000. Call between 7 and 2. 297-5689

BACKWATER PROPERTY AL 629

DEEDED LAND, 103FT WATERFRONTAGE. Only waterfront lot avail in area. 1 acre +. Dock, part fenced, out buildings, well + "city water", 3BR 2BA, cen h/a. Immaculate. Perfect for Meade workers, retirees or weekend home. Local 855-4840.

MOBILE HOMES FOR SALE 710

Quiet country living,2 & 3BR, $500 dn,starting at $240/mo. Owner fin. 855-3486

'87 SCHULT 14x72, 3BR 2BA, garden tub, cent. h/a, exc. cond., $14,500. 291-1396

MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT 714

NICE 2BR, washer/dryer, central heat, Furn, a/c. $230 mo. 561-8684/689-8646

1,2 & 3br elec/gas on, near schools & post. 1314 Ft. Benning Rd. 9-5, 689-0453

BOATS 810

13'10in boat on trailer, 15 hp Mercury (new), 9 sp trolling motor, other items. $2500. 297-9710

24' Pontoon, 60 HP Evinrude, 1 yr fact. warr., skis & access. $5,795. 404-882-8499

BOATS 810

50HP JOHNSON outboard motor, $300. Call 297-9939 after 4PM

'86 BAYLINER w/cuddy cabinet. 19' long. 125HP outboard, $5800. 1-628-5034

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

Honda Shadow 500 '83, low miles, exc. cond. $1,000 or best offer. 687-0709

HONDA '82 Motorcycle, CB 450 SC, Nighthawk. Maroon color, exc. cond. 297-1734.

SPRING SALE!
We Have To Move Over 200 Motorcycles At Once. No Reasonable Offer Refused!

HONDA 600 HURRICANE $765 down-$163.33 per mth includes tax, tag, title & insurance. First Time Buyer Plan available.
Honda-Come Ride With Us
TOMMY WAGES HONDA
Corner 18th St. & 4th Ave 322-7328

Yamaha XS400K '83, low mi, 1 owner, $750. 322-5770; after 7, 327-0937

YAMAHA '83 Venture Royale, 31,000 mi., exc. cond., am/fm. 687-1942.

'79 KAWASAKI 650, great cond. 23,000 mi., loaded, $500 firm. Call 324-3759.

'84 HONDA Interceptor 750, exc cond, great price. Call 324-2266

'88 600 SUZUKI Catana, very fast. $700 dn. assume pay. $148.80 or $3500. 682-1496.

TRUCKS 914

BLAZER S10, '87, 5 spd, ac, ps, pb, blk/silver, excellent cond, $9800. 327-7534

CHEVY 4X4, '75, need body work. $1500. Call 297-5121

CHEVY '76, new paint, new interior, '84 motor, $2,000. Call 297-4515.

Dodge '89 D50, warranty. low mi., $6100/offer. 298-6399 days or 298-2970 nights.

FORD '78 F-100, SBP/U, 3 sp, 6 cyl., new tires, great cond. $2000 firm. 323-3884 after 7 p.m.

TRUCKS 914

Toyota 4X4,'85, ps, pb, a/c, 62,000 mi, long wheel base, $5300. 855-4290 lv. msg.

WANTED: blue jump seats for Nissan Extended Cab P/U. In good cond. 682-9908 wkdys after 6pm

'83 DODGE RAM D-50 AM/FM cass, CB, 4 spd, 65,000 mi, exc cond. 9-5, 323-3330, after 6, 569-9396

'85 RAM 6 cyl, 39,500 mi, cold air, $3850; '70 C-10, $850. 297-4405

BUSES/VANS FOR SALE 922

'85 TOYO Mini Van LE, great cond.-low miles, auto-air-cruise-warranty. Call 689-1377 after 6p.m.

AUTO SERVICE PARTS, ACC 926

Camaro '76, vortex rims, louvers, needs motor, dual exhaust. $450 298-0674

4 KEYSTONE Mag wheels, 4 lug pattern, $100. Call 689-3986

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

AUTO INSURANCE FINANCING 928

Military & civilians residing in Alabama. Call or see us for your insurance needs. Serving area since 1960.
PITTS-DAVIS INS. 298-2500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

BLUE '86 T-Bird, like new, take over payments. Call 205-749-0669

BUICK Electra '79, 2 door, vinyl top, $1600 or best offer. 561-1196

Datsun 310 GX 1980, needs some repairs. $1100. Call 298-0978

DODGE '84 Charger, very good cond. Asking $2350. 689-0067, ext. 2532., after 7 p.m. weekdays.

FIERO '85 GT, silver with gray, $5300 cash or take over payments. 561-8568

FORD ESCORT, '85½, a/c, ps, pb, stereo, 5spd, 1 owner, $3500. Call 687-5332.

FORD LTD, '76, 74,000 mi. One owner, 2 dr, air, auto, am/fm radio, good cond. $1695. 561-3571.

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE
FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL 322-4500

GRAD. SPECIAL '79 Mustang, Best offer. Call 568-0574, 6-9 p.m.

Honda Accord '83, 4 dr, red, am/fm, 5 sp, air, $3950. 322-5770; after 7, 327-0937

HONDA CIVIC '87, Air, 5 sp, 4 dr, cass., 23,000 mi., perfect, $6675. 324-3759.

Mazda GLC '82, 4 dr, a/c, am/fm stereo, tilt, very good cond. $2700. 561-3255

MAZDA 626 LX '87. 1 owner, low miles, all extras. $9,800. 561-3834

OLDS '84 Cutlass Supreme, 2dr hardtop, 6-cyl, auto, excellent cond., $4200. 327-7621, M-F before 5pm

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

MERCURY Capri '83, t-tops, h/b, tilt, cruise, 5sp, sound system, $2300. 687-2575.

1969 MGB GT, 4 speed w/overdrive trans. $2,000. Capt. Davis, 689-9933

NISSAN Sentra '83, 4 dr., 5 speed, ps, pb, ac, $2500. 563-6962 or 687-5146

OLDS '86 Cutlass Calais, 2dr hdtop, 4-cyl, 5sp, low mi. Below market, $4700. 327-7621, M-F before 5pm

PLYMOUTH Reliant SE '86, 1 owner, loaded, new tires, exc. cond., $4800. 568-0627

RENAULT '83 Fuego 1.6 liter turbo, 5 sp, clean, runs great, 1 owner, complete records. $1500. Call 323-3884 after 7 p.m.

Toyota Celica ST '87, red, take over pymts. $311.78, clean, extras. 596-0043

Volkswagon '73, Super Beetle, new paint, runs great, Must sell. $1300. 561-7512.

VOLVO, 740GLE S/W, '86,loaded. (All records). Must sell. $13,000. 561-7512.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

Nice '81 VW Rabbit Convertible, runs great. $3900. After 3pm, 322-2631

6 pc. Sectional Couch, excellent cond., rust velour. Asking $600. 561-3834

'85 Lincoln Towne Car, cream puff, loaded, $50 deduct. extended warr. 1 Nov. $9995 firm. 561-8830

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

Corvette '84, loaded, silver & gray, 31K mi., garage kept. $13,500. 322-1583.

1986 Red IROC, auto., great cond. 34,000 mi. (404) 643-8911

MUSTANG GT, '86, 5.0, 18,000 miles, t-top, pw, door locks, cruise, tilt, am/fm stereo, $9,000. 327-7621,M-F, before 5pm.

PORSCHE '84, 928s, US car, metallic blue, all power, cruise, a/c, sunroof, 49,000 mi, exc cond, $24,500. day 687-4710, eve 327-3194.

CLASSIC & ANTIQUE AUTOS 934

CADILLAC '71, rare white Fleetwood formal limo. Reasonable offer. 568-7522.

FORD GALAXY, '67, conv, burgandy, black top & inter, 289 eng, $2400/offer. Call 689-7036 aft 6pm.

'68 OLDS Cutlass 442, 2 dr, hdtp, needs restoring, $1800obo. Chuck 561-5914.

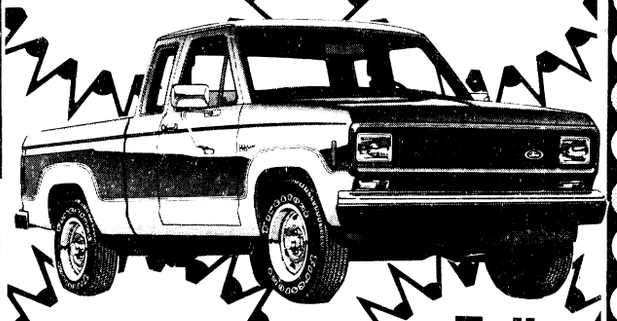
IMPORTED AUTOS 936

Alfa Romeo Spider Veloce-Roadster, bought new by me in Italy, 1983. $5,000. 327-1898

Engines: Honda, Toyota, Nissan, Mitsubishi, Mazda, Isuzu, Subaru. Guaranteed & ready to install. Lowest prices; shipped anywhere USA. Techna-Car 1-800-344-1015.

Mom Wants To Stay Home! Selling Volvos, '89 740-GL & '86 240-GL, 1 owner, all records. 569-1069

AUTOS FOR SALE 930



AUTOS FOR SALE 930
AUTOS FOR SALE 930
AUTOS FOR SALE 930

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY "DELIVERS"

E-2s & Up!!

No Previous CREDIT! "No Problem"

SAME DAY DELIVERY!

SLOW CREDIT? "No Problem"

Toll Free 1-800-544-8480

Only Requirements
1. L.E.S.
2. $99.00 Down
3. Ability To Buy Full Coverage Auto Insurance

Bring this Ad— We'll Pay Your Cab Fare

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
Hwy. 431 North EUFAULA, ALABAMA

INTRODUCING... BUTLER

NISSAN

$0.00 DOWN DELIVERS W.A.C.*

ON THE SPOT DELIVERY Make Your Selection TAKE IT HOME!

- BRING YOUR TITLE!
- YOUR PAYMENT BOOK!
- YOUR CHECKBOOK!
- LET'S TRADE!

1989 NISSAN SENTRA
2 DR $6999 Reg. Price
4 Spd 500 Fact. Rebate
4 Cyl Engine
$6499 This Week
Stk #88d227

1988 300 ZX
2 + 2 $28,225 Reg. Price
A. Trans. 5,000 Butler Disc.
Electronic Eq. Pkg. 3,000 Fact. Rebate
Leather Int.
$20,225 This Week
Digital Instruments Stk #89d14

1989 PLYMOUTH HORIZON
A Real Gas Miser $8237 Reg. Price
5 Spd. Trans. 1500 Butler Disc.
2.2 Liter Engine 500 Fact. Rebate
Recliner Seats
$6237 This Week

1989 PLYMOUTH SUNDANCE
Spring Special $12,284 Reg. Price
2.5 Efi. Engine 1,600 Butler Disc.
Auto. Trans. 750 Fact. Rebate
Air, AM/FM 60/40 Seats
$9,934 This Week

1989 DODGE DAKOTA "S"
5 Spd. $11,287 Reg. Price
2.5 EFI 1,500 Butler Disc.
Deluxe Est. Pkg. 300 Fact. Rebate
Air AM/FM Cassette ETR, P. Steering. 4170 GVW. Stk. #89C14
$9,487 This Week

1989 DODGE DYNASTY
V-6 Engine $16,779 Reg. Price
Air 2,000 Butler Disc.
Tilt, Cruise 500 Fact. Rebate
AM/FM, Wire Wheel Covers
$14,279 This Week

BUTLER'S MILLION $ TRADE-INS

1988 CHEVY BERETTA Loaded!! One owner $7999	1988 HONDA CRX si 11,000 miles -x-clean $8995	1987 NISSAN 200 SX Power S/R, P/ W $9995	1986 CHEVY Z28 Super Clean! $8995	1985 PONTIAC TRANS AM 31,000 Miles, T. Tops $7495
1988 TOYOTA P.U. 4 Cyl., P. Steering, AM/FM Cassette $7995	1986 NISSAN KING CAB 5 Spd., Air, AM/FM $5995	1986 NISSAN KING CAB 5 Spd., Air, AM/FM $5995	1987 PONTIAC FIERO S.E. A. Trans., Air, AM/ FM $6995	1985 PONTIAC FIERO S.E. 5 Spd., Air, AM/ FM $4995

BUTLER NISSAN-CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH DODGE
427 New Franklin Rd.
LaGrange, GA (404) 884-1744
Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8:00- Sat. 8:30-6:00

L-E Advertising Really Pays!

LEDGER-ENQUIRER
CLASSIFIED
"There's something in it for you"

CALL TOLL-FREE IN GEORGIA 1-800-282-7859
CALL TOLL-FREE OUTSIDE GEORGIA 1-800-241-7894
322-4500
HOURS: MONDAY - THURSDAY 8:30AM - 7:00PM FRIDAY 8:30AM - 5:30PM

If you would like your ad to appear in the next day's edition, please call BEFORE 5:30pm.

Listed below are local telephone exchanges for the Columbus/Phenix City area. These do not require an area code if you live within the area. If the number is long distance, then the advertisement will list the area code.

ALABAMA	GEORGIA
291 Phenix City	322 Columbus	568 Columbus	682 Columbus
297 Phenix City	323 Columbus	569 Columbus	685 Columbus
298 Phenix City	324 Columbus	571 Columbus	687 Columbus
855 Phenix City	327 Columbus	576 Columbus	689 Columbus
Smiths/Seale	561 Columbus	596 Columbus	989 Cusseta
	563 Columbus	649 Columbus

Please check your advertisement the first day it appears in the newspaper. If you need to make corrections, simply call one of our Classified Advertising Representatives as soon as possible. Please call on the first day your ad appears, as the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer cannot be held responsible for errors beyond the first insertion date. We will be happy to see to it that your ad appears correctly in the next scheduled insertion in the Ledger-Enquirer.

INDEX OF CLASSIFICATIONS

A1 Air Cond., Heating
A2 Appliance Repair
A3 Architecture & Drafting
A4 Auto Care
B1 Brickwork, Masonry
B2 Buildings, Contractors
C1 Carpentry, General Repairs
C2 Catering, Food Service
C3 Cleaning Service
C4 Clock & Watch Repair
C5 Concrete, Driveways
C6 Carpet
C7 Child Care
E1 Electrical
E2 Energy Saving Products
F1 Fencing
F2 Floor Sanding
F3 Furniture
G1 Grading, Backhoe
G2 Gravel, Sand, Topsoil
G3 Gutters, Downspouts
H1 Handyman
H2 Hauling
H3 Home Improvement
I1 Insulation
L1 Lawn & Garden
L2 Lawn Mower Repair
M1 Misc. Services
P1 Painting, Wallpapering
P2 Plumbing
P3 Protection Services
P4 Photo Services
R1 TV, Stereo, Video Service
R2 Remodeling
R3 Roofing
S1 Screens, Storm Windows
S2 Sewing, Alterations
S3 Sheetrock, Drywall
S4 Signs
S5 Swimming Pools
S6 Sewing Machine Repairs
S7 Storage
S8 Small Engine Repair
T1 Tree Stump Removal
U1 Upholstery
V1 Vacuum Cleaner Service
V2 Video Taping
W1 Welding
Y1 Yardwork
Y2 Yard Equip. Rental
000 Legal Notices
001 Funeral Notices
002 Funeral Homes
003 Memorial Notices
004 Cards of Thanks
007 Cemeteries/ Monuments
010 Cemetery Lots
012 Lodge Notices
016 Public Notices
018 Professional Services
020 Personals
021 Only Hearts
022 Happy Ads
024 Items of Interest
028 Vacation & Tourist Information
034 Fishing & Hunting
036 Antiques
038 Air Cond./Heaters
040 Appliance Sales
042 Auctions
044 Building Materials
045 Bicycles
046 Camera/Photo
048 Camping Equipment
049 Christmas Trees
050 Clothing
052 Computers & Equip.
054 Firewood
056 Firearms
058 Furniture for Sale
059 Yard Sales - AL
060 Yard Sales - GA
061 Collectibles Buy/Sell
064 Sports Equip. & Supplies
066 Outdoor Equip.
068 Jewelry
070 Machinery, Tools
072 Heavy Equipment
074 Medical Supplies
076 Misc. for Sale
077 Lost & Found Items
078 Musical Instruments
080 Office & Store Equip.
081 Restaurant Equipment
082 Pawn Shops
084 Power Tools
086 Equipment Rental
088 Sewing Machines
092 Swimming Pools & Supplies
096 TV-Video-Stereo Sales
098 Merchandise Wanted
110 Livestock
112 Livestock Supplies
114 Poultry
116 Poultry Supplies
118 Hay-Feed-Grain
120 Farm Equipment
122 Pets
124 Pet Supplies & Services
126 Pet Boarding & Grooming
127 Pets-Lost & Found
128 Pets Wanted
130 Free Column
132 Fruits & Vegetables
134 Lawn & Garden
136 Lawn Mowers & Equip.
138 Plants, Shrubs, Trees
140 Landscaping, Nursery
142 Wanted to Buy
210 Management Employment
212 Restaurants & Clubs
214 Employment Agencies
215 Employment Information
216 Help Wanted General
218 Help Wanted Part-Time
219 Domestic Help Wanted
220 Medical/Dental
222 Office/Clerical
223 Data Entry
224 Professional Employment
225 Technical
226 Sales
228 Skills & Trades
229 Child Care
230 Job Wanted
232 Resume Services
234 Job Listings
310 Medical Training
312 Clerical Training
314 Beauty & Barber Schools
316 Dancing, Music, Drama
318 Modeling
320 Correspondence Schools
322 Real Estate Schools
324 Trade Schools
328 Misc. Instructions
330 Colleges
410 Business Opportunities
412 Investments
414 Money to Lend
415 Credit
416 Wanted to Borrow
510 Rentals
512 Rooms
514 Room & Board
516 Share Home
518 Furnished Apts. GA
519 Furnished Apts. AL
520 Unfurnished Apts. GA
521 Unfurnished Apts. AL
522 Cottages
524 Furnished Houses GA
525 Furnished Houses AL
526 Unfurnished. Houses
527 Unfurnished Houses AL
528 Business Rentals
529 Office Rentals
530 Wanted to Rent
532 Property for Rent
534 Resort Rentals
536 Storage Rentals
610 Property
612 Townhouses & Condos
614 Homes For Sale AL
616 Homes For Sale GA
618 Real Estate Wanted
620 Commercial Property
622 Income Property
624 Investment Property
626 Lots For Sale
628 Backwater Property GA
629 Backwater Property AL
630 Lake Front Lots
632 Resort & Vacation Property
634 Out of Town Realty
636 Farms & Acreage
638 Real Estate Auction
640 Wanted to Buy
710 Mobile Homes For Sale
714 Mobile Homes For Rent
716 Mobile Home Lots For Rent
718 Mobile Home Lots For Sale
720 Mobile Homes Wanted
724 Mobile Home Service
726 Mobile Units
810 Boats
812 Canoes & Sailboats
813 Personal Watercrafts
814 Marine Service & Supplies
816 Boats Wanted
818 Motor Homes For Sale
820 Campers & Trailers
824 Camping Supplies & Equipment
826 RV Supplies & Service
828 Motorcycles For Sale
830 Mini-Bikes
832 Dunebuggies For Sale
834 Scooters, Go-Carts
836 Wanted to Buy
910 Airplanes
912 Tractors & Trailers
914 Trucks
916 Truck Service, Parts, Acc.
918 Truck Rental, Leasing
920 Trucks Wanted
922 Buses/Vans For Sale
924 Jeeps For Sale
926 Auto Service Parts, Acc.
928 Auto Insurance / Financing
930 Autos For Sale
932 Sports Cars For Sale
934 Classic & Antique Autos
936 Imported Autos
938 Auto Rental/Leasing
940 Autos Wanted

BY ARRANGEMENTS WITH VCI-AUDI CREDIT

JAY AUDI

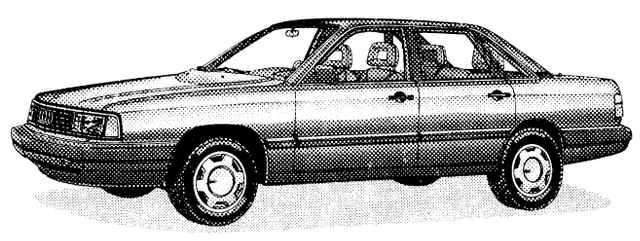
HAS ACQUIRED (29) OFF LEASE AUDI AUTOMOBILES

SAVE UP TO 70%

AUDI 5000S

SOME VEHICLES STILL UNDER ORIGINAL FACTORY WARRANTY

#V2601



SPECIAL BANK AND/OR VCI-AUDI CREDIT FINANCING AVAILABLE FOR THIS SALE ONLY.

ORIGINAL NEW MANUFACTURER'S SUGGESTED RETAIL PRICE
$21,875
SACRIFICED AT
$5,995

PLUS

1989 AUDI 200 TURBO
FACTORY EVALUATION UNIT

ALL CARS SOLD ON FIRST COME FIRST SERVE

SAVE THOUSANDS

SAVE
$11,000 OFF ORIGINAL PRICE

THIS SALE WILL BE HELD RAIN OR SHINE AT 2201 VICTORY DRIVE, COLUMBUS
324-4161

BY ARRANGEMENTS WITH VIC-AUDI CREDIT CORPORATION WE ARE AUTHORIZED TO DISPOSE OF THESE VEHICLE REGARDLESS OF LOSS THEY HAVE INCURRED.

NO

FURNISH AMERICA WANTS TO EXPAND ITS UNIQUE $$$ RETAIL OPERATION! WE PULL NO PUNCHES $$$ $$$$$$ WE MUST HAVE CASH! $$$$$$

3

CASH-RAISING SALE!

CASH DISCOUNTS

90 DAYS SAME AS CASH

SELECT INVENTORY

MAKE US AN OFFER!

FINANCING AVAILABLE FOR EVERYONE 90 DAYS TO 60 MONTHS

NOTHING HELD BACK!!

BEDROOMS, DINING ROOMS, LAMPS, MATTRESS SETS, DAYBEDS, BUNKBEDS, SOFAS, LOVESEATS, CHAIRS, RECLINERS, BOOKCASES, TV'S, WATER BEDS, MOTION FURNITURE AND MUCH, MUCH MORE!!

EXAMPLE: OF SUPER SAVINGS

Our new "Classic Pine" grouping offers more delightful design features, more spaciousness than anything else at anywhere near the price.

Authentic porcelain inlaid brass hardware and deeply embossed floral designs accent these outstanding case pieces which include an open curio display dresser hutch with oval decorated etched mirror over the sweeping triple dresser and a shaped, hutch headboard with decorator etched mirror.

You get the complete 4-pc. suite

- HUGE 7-DRAWER DRESSER
- EXPANSIVE DRESSER HUTCH MIRROR
- GIANT 6-DRAWER CHEST
- FULL/QUEEN SIZE HUTCH HEADBOARD

EXTRA SPACIOUS 2-DRAWER BEDSIDE CHEST ONLY $99

NOTICE!

IN FURNITURE

TO BE GIVEN AWAY THIS SUNDAY

SHOP THIS HUGE SELL-OFF OF INVENTORY and SAVE -SAVE AND WIN $10,000 IN FURNITURE!

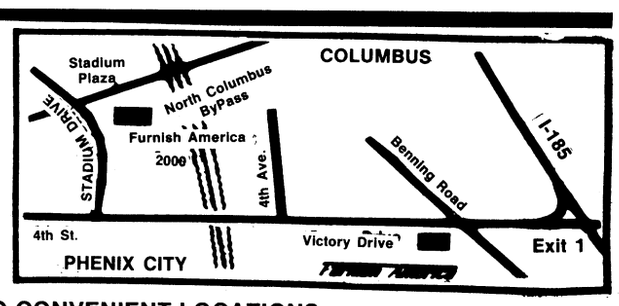
LAST THREE DAYS

Fill Out And Bring This Coupon In To Register

FURNISH AMERICA

OFFICIAL TICKET

Furnish America

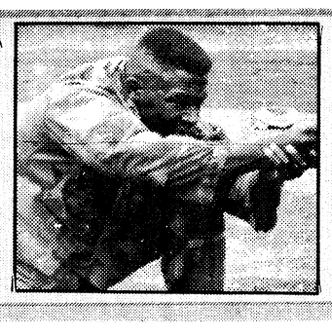


NAME _____

ADDRESS _____

PHONE _____

Furnish America



Yes, we still have credit terms. Even at these astounding prices we can offer convenient terms based upon needs including 100 days same as cash. Minimum purchase $400. Your charge cards welcome.

NOW TWO CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
BENNING ROAD AT VICTORY DRIVE 322-2350— STADIUM PLAZA 298-1121

Rangers learn martial arts techniques.

See A-7

A 197th Inf. Bde. military policeman is FORSCOM's "Soldier of the Year."

See A-3

INDEX

Opinion A-2
Community . A-8
Spiritual A-9
Sports B-4
Movies B-5

THE BAYONET

Home of the Infantry

Carrier Route Presort
BULK RATE
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
Permit No. 175
Columbus, GA 31994

Vol. 47, No. 34 | Published in the interest of the Fort Benning, Ga. community. | May 26, 1989

POST BRIEFS

Today is Safety Awareness Day

Today — Fort Benning will observe today as Safety Awareness Day. All military operations scheduled for this day will be rescheduled except for operational necessities and critical training events, such as field exercises and gunnery/weapons live fire. As a minimum, commanders will stress vehicle safety, water safety and heat injury prevention.

The Infantry Branch Safety Office at 545-3267 is ready to assist commanders in planning safety awareness activities.

This will kick off the beginning of the 101 most hazardous days of the year. The importance we place on the lives and well-being of our soldiers, civilian employees and family members is exemplified by our efforts to provide a safe and healthful working and living environment.

This is an excellent opportunity for commanders to assess their safety programs. It is a day for everyone to start new safety habits.

Follow me, safely!

Michael F. Spigelmire
Major General, U.S. Army
Commanding

★ ★ ★

Memorial Day ceremony 9 a.m. Monday

Post-Wide Memorial Day Ceremony — A special Memorial Day ceremony will be held 9 a.m. Monday at Main Post Cemetery. The ceremony will include remarks by Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire. Music will be provided by the 283rd Army Band. Everyone is invited to attend.

★ ★ ★

State Department issues travel advisory

Travel advisory — The State Department has issued a travel advisory for Panama. U.S. citizens are advised not to travel to Panama until further notice. U.S. citizens already there are being advised to arrange for family members to leave Panama.

Dependents of U.S. military personnel are being moved onto U.S. military reservations in the Panama Canal area.

★ ★ ★

Ex-POWs will sell daisies

Today and Saturday — The Valley Chapter of the American Ex-Prisoners of War will conduct a Daisy Drive today and Saturday beginning at 9:30 a.m. at the main and mini-mall post exchanges.

The daisy has been chosen as the national flower of POWs. All donations will be used to help former POWs.

★ ★ ★

Surplus property to be auctioned

Thursday — The Defense Reutilization and Marketing Office will conduct an auction of government surplus property Thursday at 9 a.m. at Building 326 on 10th Mountain Division Road.

The auction is open to the public and will include such items as military clothing, household furniture and appliances, office machines, office furniture and vehicles.

A three-day inspection period begins today, 8 a.m. until 3 p.m. daily until 9 a.m. the day of the sale. Individuals who wish to purchase property must be at least 18 years old. For more information, call 545-7214/3497.

★ ★ ★

Military admitted free to Goodwill Horse Show

June 10 — Active duty and retired military and their family members with a military identification card will be admitted free to the 13th annual Greater Columbus Horse Show sponsored by Goodwill Industries June 10. The event begins at 12 noon and will be held at the fairgrounds next to the city auditorium.

Armed Forces Day competition

29th Infantry Regiment soldiers guide their chariot to the finish line in the Armed Forces Day chariot race competition. Their finish gave the team enough points to win the entire competition. See story and more photos on A-4.

Ann McDonald

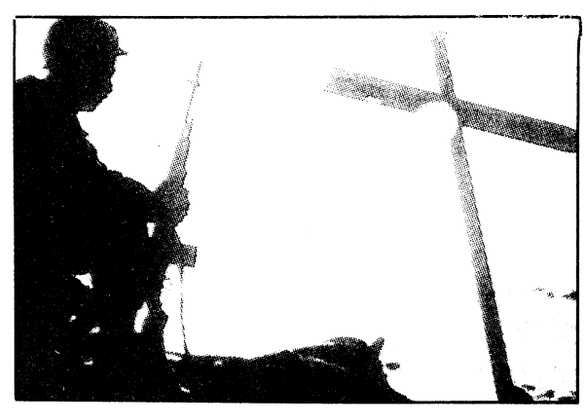
Memorial Day honors military heroes

Fort Benning is a post of many heroes, both living and dead.

Our dead heroes are buried beneath the boughs of the somber oaks at the post's cemetery.

Our living heroes are the men and women who come to work each day, prepared to defend the Constitution and secure the blessings of liberty, just as our ancestors did in their time.

As we commemorate Memorial Day, I ask each of you to reflect on those who have gone before and join me in rededicating our lives to continuing to serve this great country of ours.



This Memorial Day we will once again proudly display the Stars and Stripes, visit cemeteries and monuments and attend special events recognizing the sacrifices of our military dead.

We do these things each year to remind ourselves that the freedom we enjoy was not secured without great cost. The price was steep. The expense was a heavy burden. The payment was made with the lives of men and women of our Armed Forces.

Memorial Day also means the start of the summer season. It means traveling to see friends and relatives and participating in various outdoor activities such as swimming, boating and fishing.

Summer is a great and joyous time. It can also be a dangerous time if we aren't prepared or if we act foolishly.

I want all of you to enjoy the three-day Memorial Day weekend and the coming summer months. But, I also want you to plan your activities carefully — think safety, act smartly and live to enjoy another day.

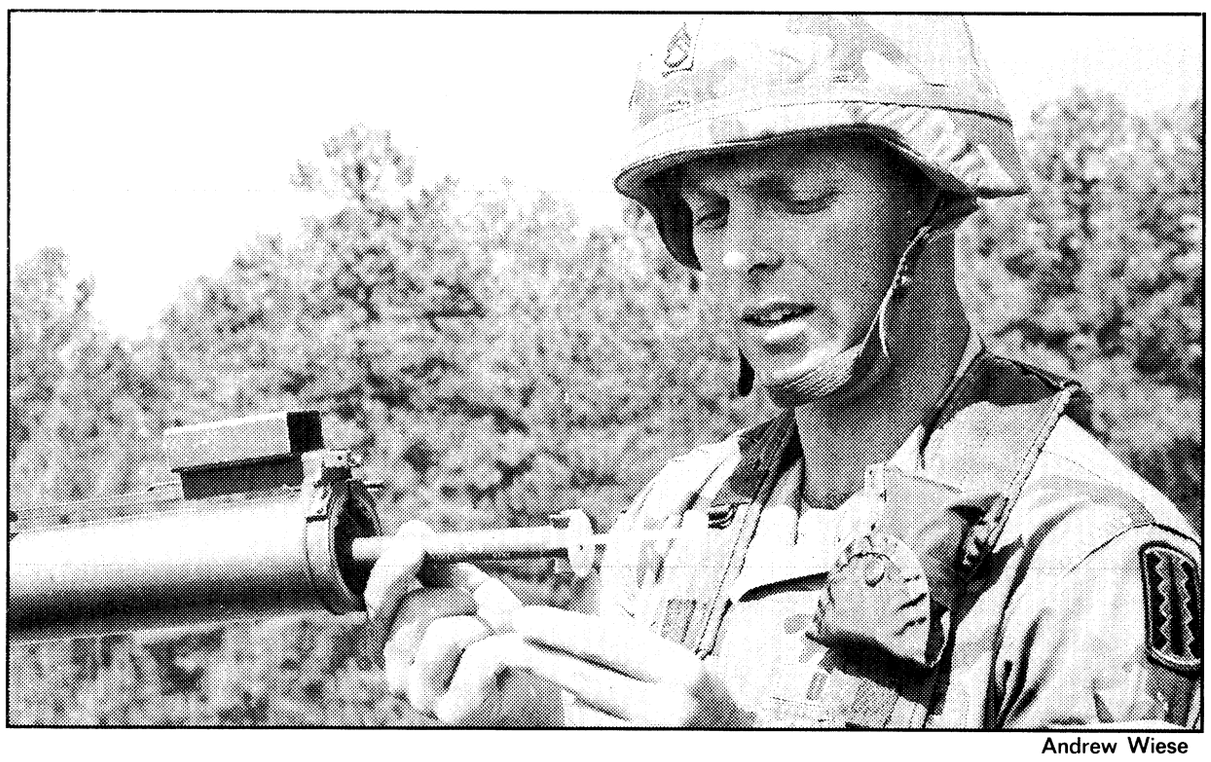
Michael F. Spigelmire
Major General, U.S. Army
Commanding

Win $500 bond for ACOE slogan

USAIC Public Affairs Office



A slogan is needed for the Army Communities of Excellence Program. The program presently has a logo, but, so far, no one has been able to come up with a short "catchy" slogan that will capture in a few words what ACOE is all about.

The ACOE Program is about soldiers, their families and civilians. It's about providing excellent services and facilities for all people who live, work and play at Fort Benning.

The winner of the slogan contest will receive a $500 bond. May 31 is the deadline.

Send slogans to Management Division, DRM, building 2604, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905. For more information, call 545-5382/2311.

Andrew Wiese

FORSCOM's "Noncommissioned Officer of the Year," SSgt. Michael T. Delaney, loads a training missile into a light anti-tank weapon during recent training.

Fort Benning soldier is FORSCOM 'NCO of Year'

By Andrew Wiese
197th Infantry Brigade

A Fort Benning soldier is the Forces Command "Noncommissioned Officer of the Year." SSgt. Michael T. Delaney, a platoon sergeant with the 197th Infantry Brigade, was recently selected for the honor.

The 27-year-old native of Pennsville, N.J. was one of five noncommissioned officers who competed in the two-day event, which included a physical fitness test, a six-plot land navigation course, a 50-question written test, 10 common tasks and an oral board consisting of mostly senior noncommissioned officers.

In discussing his career, Delaney revealed that personal development and a commitment toward achieving goals are two priorities for him. "At first, I

See NCO A-3

OPINION

VARIOUS VOICES: Why is it important to have an Armed Forces Day Open House?

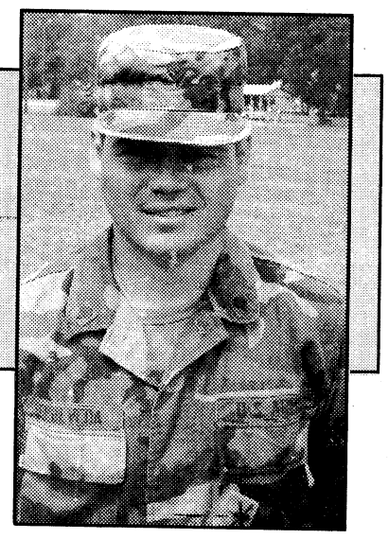
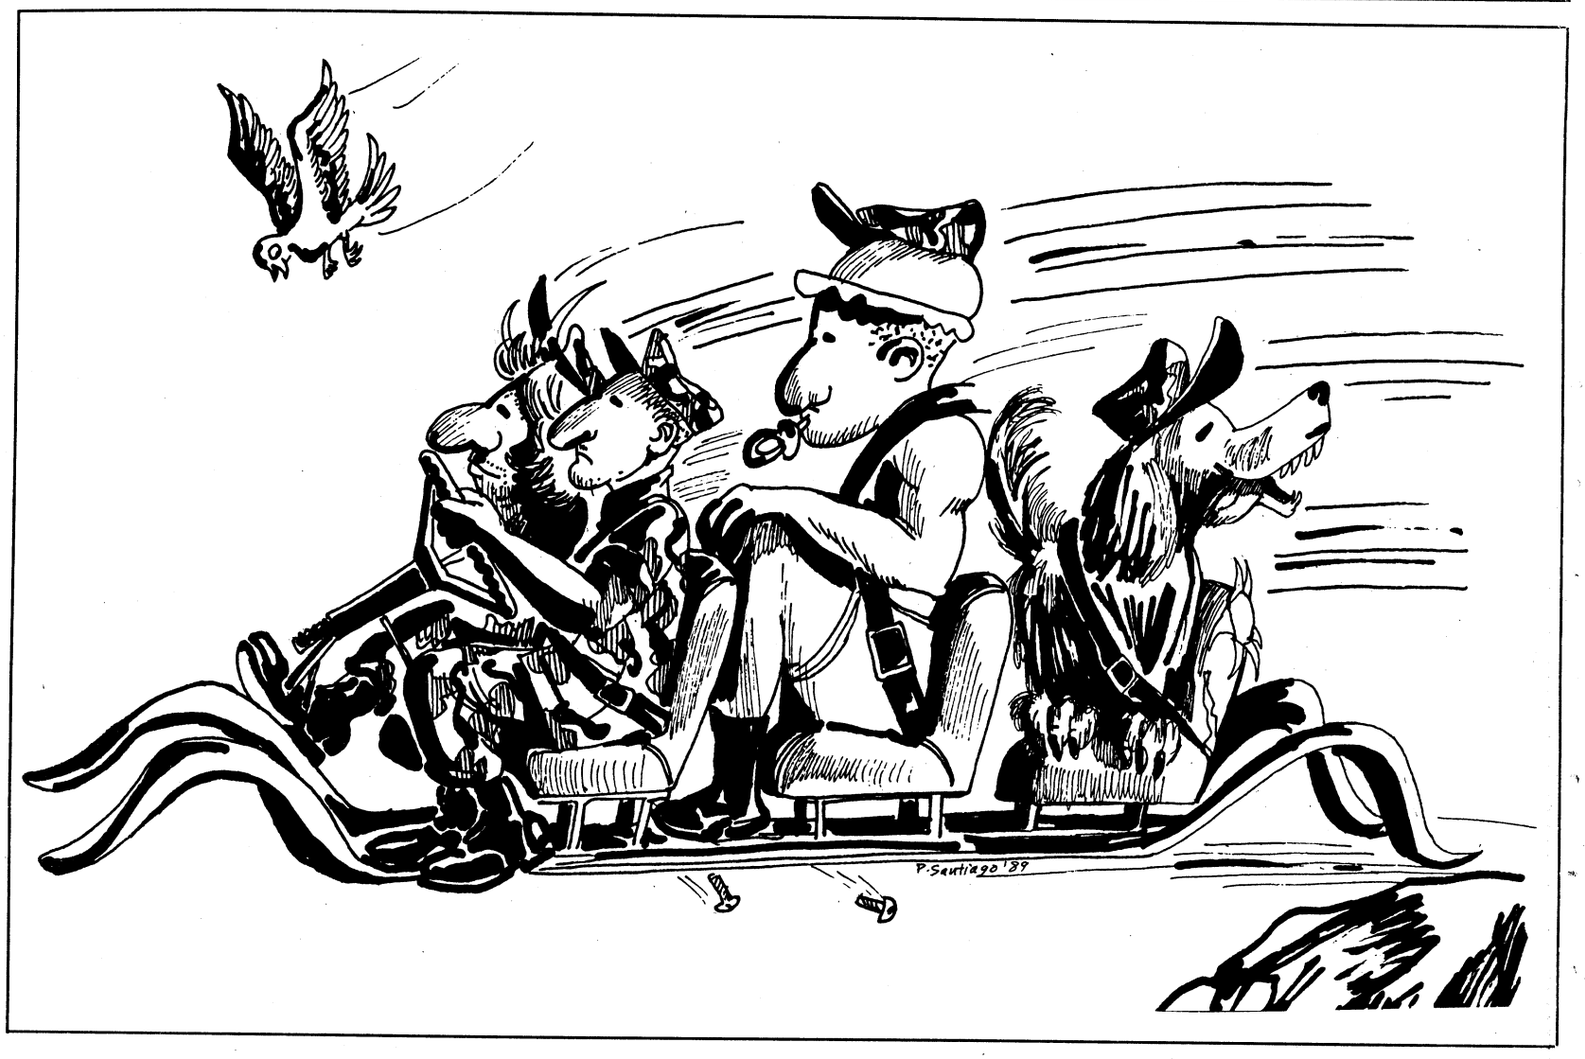
SFC Julian Kellman, 1st Bn., 58th Inf., 197th Inf. Bde. — "An open house allows soldiers as well as civilians to see a lot of the new weapons. It also lets the retirees catch up on what is going on in the Army today."



PFC Darrell Francis, MEDDAC — "I think an open house is important because it includes the dependents and members of the community in something that is happening on post. It allows them to see what is really going on and become more familiar with some of the things the Army is doing."



Spec. Billy Nipper, 30th AG Rec. Bn., ITC — "An open house lets the community and family members know that their tax money is not just going towards training. They get to see quality weapons that are being used to defend our country."

Spec. Flobert Stan, HQ, 2nd Bn., 69th Armor, 197th Inf. Bde. — "I think an open house is good because families can see Army vehicles and have a good time with the other activities that are going on."

Spec. Jose Sepulveda, HHC, 197th Inf. Bde. — "I think open houses are great. It gives people a chance to see our equipment and how it operates."

Snively urges drivers to wear their seat belts

By Clyde Snively
USAIC Public Affairs Office

Seat belt awareness week concludes today. From the statistics I've seen, we ain't too aware.

Here on post we're running at about 60 percent compliance, off post it's worse — about 40 percent. I know people want to exercise their God-given right to be killed and maimed, but I look on them collectively as morons.

The leaders of this state must have fallen for the "it's a free country, and I'll do as I like," argument since they took all the teeth out of the seat belt law when they reduced the fine to $15.

That's not much of a penalty should you get caught. Make the fine $50 and people might think about it more. But $15, ha, why bother.

I can think of several reasons to bother. In fact every time I get on the local roads, I see several reasons to be wearing seat belts. Ride with me as I commute to and from post.

First my route starts on Macon Road where I'm immediately passed on a double line by a pickup truck whose wheels are as high as a Georgia pine and as wide as a Bradley Fighting Vehicle. The truck is being pursued by a red sports car, much like a mocking bird pursuing a crow.

I watch as the two continue to pass other cars, be it on hills, curves, or even at intersections where lights are red.

I make it to I-185 without coming across any carnage. Pulling onto the ramp I next come across a cautious driver who thinks it's prudent to stop to check for oncoming traffic even though the acceleration lane is a quarter mile long.

I sigh in relief when the squealing of brakes and tires stop and all four vehicles behind me come to a safe stop.

Just as I get up to speed, I find myself in heavy traffic. "Now what," I think. "An accident?" But no, it's some woman tooling along in the left lane — her speed control set at 55 mph. Eventually other drivers become impatient and begin to cut in and out of the traffic, a couple even passing on the shoulder.

"I wonder if this self-righteous soul knows she can be ticketed for impeding traffic even if she is going 55 mph," I muse.

Once on post, sanity seems to prevail, and I make it to Infantry Hall — my nerves a little jangled, but all in one piece, nonetheless.

That night I head for home. Just short of St. Mary's Road, the traffic in the northbound lane is at a near standstill.

"Damn, another accident," I mutter, trying to figure out how to ease over to the right so I can get off at St. Mary's.

There's an accident alright. Only it's in the southbound lane. The traffic tie-up is the result of rubber-necking ghouls who want to see blood and guts.

Don't tell me people go to car races for the sport. They go because they want to see cars in flames and body parts spread across the race track.

I'm still fussing about this when a car suddenly veers in front of me without warning. I excuse his failure to signal because he's busy smoking a cigarette with his left hand, and not being able to do two things at once, he skips the signal.

Most people, I've found, don't signal lane changes because they don't want to warn other drivers of their intentions. You see, if they do signal, the drivers they want to pull in front of will speed up so they can't make their lane change.

I'm still working on why they don't use turn signals to signal turns.

But anyway, what with all these accidents waiting to happen, I just can't see myself tempting fate. And if the safety people tell me people have been killed going 12 mph without a seat belt but none have been killed at speeds under 60 mph who wore seat belts, then I think I have a better chance of surviving with a seat belt, should I get involved in a traffic accident.

So you can bet I'll continue to wear mine — law or no law.

Buyers beware of "deals"

By Jerry Shiles
Army News Service

I'm no expert on saving money, but I'm great at spending it.

I've compiled a checklist to protect myself from my impulsive urges. I'll throw my list out to you, and you can either take it or chuck it. The decision is yours.

First, don't sign any contract "right now." If the seller insists that the deal can't wait, let it. It may not look so good in the morning.

Second, don't take anyone's word for anything. No matter how much you trust the person you're dealing with, if money is involved, "believability" goes right out the window. Let's look at an example.

A client of mine decided she needed some money right away and came up with the perfect solution — she'd re-enlist and receive a bonus. Her retention NCO said "no problem," she signed on the dotted line, and everyone was happy.

Happy for a while, that is, until someone discovered that the re-enlistment bonus no longer existed. The big problem for the soldier wasn't the re-enlistment, but all the purchases she made based on the expected bonus. She put her trust in the wrong person.

Rule Three: Check around to make sure you're getting the best possible deal. Let me give you an example.

I decided I had to have a new car and went to an AAFES automotive concessionaire to get the best price for the car with all the options I wanted. Just as I was about to sign the contract, I remembered Rule One and called my brother in the States to check on the price with a local dealer there. The result was I bought the car from the Stateside dealer at a savings of more than $1,000 off the price the concessionaire had quoted.

Rule Four: Consider all the consequences of your action and the benefits you may have to forego.

For example, a client bought a new van from an AAFES concessionaire. (Honest, I'm not picking on AAFES or its car dealers; this just happens to be a good example.) He ordered it a year in advance and paid extra to "lock in" the price against any future price increases. He also paid for it in full before his actual departure date to ensure it would be waiting for him when he got back to the States.

When he arrived to to delivery, he discovered his van had the wrong paint, wrong seats, wrong tires, wrong wheel covers AND a price tag in excess of the so-called "lock-in" price.

When he complained to the dealer, he was told, "Pay up and take this van, or cancel your order and wait eight to 10 weeks for a refund." There he sat with his family, hundreds of miles from his destination, without sufficient funds to arrange another means of transportation. He had no choice but to take the van.

Now, seven months later, he's written to AAFES, the dealer who delivered the van, even the president of the U.S. car company. No one has answered his letters, let alone tried to fix his problems.

Rule Five: When in doubt, check with legal assistance. You're entitled to free legal service, and while we can't fix every problem, we can sure squeak a lot of wheels.

Editor's note: Shiles is a legal assistance attorney with the 21st Theater Army Area Command.

The Bayonet

This newspaper is an authorized publication for members of the Army. Contents of THE BAYONET are not necessarily the official views of, or endorsed by the Department of the Army or any of its agencies. Everything in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, sex or national origin of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunity by an advertiser will result in the refusal of the publisher to print advertising from that souce. THE BAYONET is an unofficial publication authorized by Army Regulation 360-81. Editorial content is prepared, edited and provided by the Public Affairs Office of the U.S. Army Infantry Center. THE BAYONET is published each Friday by the R.W. Page Corporation, a private firm in no way connected with the Department of the Army, under exclusive written contract with Fort Benning. All photos are U.S. Army unless otherwise credited. Liaison between the publisher and the commanding general, USAIC, is maintained by the public affairs officer, through the command information officer, USAIC, Fort Benning.

Editorial

Commanding General ..... Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire
Public Affairs Officer ..... Lt. Col. McDonald Plummer Jr.
Command Information Officer ..... Maj. Thomas Fix
Command Information NCOIC ..... SSgt. Ron Allen
Administration NCOIC ..... SSgt. Luz Llanos
Editor ..... Agatha Hudson James
Assistant Editor ..... Spec. Shawn Bryson
Staff writer ..... Spec. Ann McDonald
Editorial Office: Public Affairs Office, USAIC, Building 4, Room 601, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905, (404) 545-2201/2202; AUTOVON 835-2201.

Advertising

Retail/Display ..... (404) 324-5526
Classified ..... (404) 322-4500
Circulation ..... (404) 323-1234

For subscription information call (404)323-1234.

Circulation 21,000

Represented nationally by Knight Ridder Newspaper sales W.B. Bradbury and Military Media, Inc.

Holiday schedule

The following are the operating hours of on-post facilities during the Memorial Day holiday Monday:

CLUBS & PACKAGE STORES

Club 22-100	4:30-11 p.m.
NCO Club	closed
Officers' Club	closed
Officers' Club Pool (Memorial Day Pool Party)	11 a.m.-7 p.m.
Class VI (Main Post)	11 a.m.-9 p.m.
Class VI (Mall)	closed
Sand Hill NCO Club	4:30-midnight
Hidden Door Club	5-11p.m.

FOOD SERVICE & PXs

Airborne PX	closed
Electronic Unlimited	closed
Infantry Hall PX	closed
Main PX	9 a.m.-9 p.m.
MACH PX	closed
Mini Mall PX	7 a.m.-11 p.m.
Reception Center PX	closed
Sand Hill PX	11 a.m.-9 p.m.
Sightseeing Road PX	closed
Commissary	closed
Custer Terrace Shoppette	9 a.m.-9 p.m.
Burger King	8 a.m.-10 p.m.
Airborne Snack Bar	10 a.m.-11 p.m.
Dixie Road Snack Bar	closed
Harmony Church Snack Bar	closed
Infantry Hall Snack Bar	closed
Kelley Hill Snack Bar	9 a.m.-5 p.m.
Main Post Bowling Alley Snack Bar	noon-11 p.m.
Mall Bowling Alley Snack Bar	noon-11 p.m.
Anthony's Pizza - Mini Mall	11 a.m.-10 p.m.
Sand Hill Pizza/Sub Shop	11:30 a.m.-6 p.m.
8th Division Road Snack Bar	closed
Kelley Hill Troop Store	11 a.m.-5 p.m.
Sand Hill Troop Store	closed
3rd Ranger Troop Store	closed
Mobile Unit	closed
Military Clothing Sales	closed

RECREATION CENTERS AND CRAFT SHOPS

Arts & Crafts	Feb. 20-22, closed
Harmony Church Recreation Center	closed
Kelley Hill Recreation Center	10 a.m.-7 p.m.
Outdoor Recreation/ITR	closed
Multi-Craft Center	closed

SERVICE STATIONS & AUTO MAINTENANCE

Harmony Church Service Station	closed
Kelley Hill Service Station	closed
Kelley Hill Auto Shop	10,a.m.-6 p.m.
Main Post Service Station	8 a.m.-4 p.m.
Main Post Auto Shop	closed
Mall Service Station	closed
Sand Hill Filling Station	closed
Car Care Center	8 a.m.-4 p.m.
Main Post Car Wash	24 hours
Mall Car Wash	24 hours

FITNESS & SPORTS

Audie Murphy Gymnasium	11 a.m.-7 p.m.
Briant Wells Field House	11 a.m.-7 p.m.
Building 4 Fitness Center	9 a.m.-6 p.m.
Follow Me Golf Course Pro Shop	7 a.m.-6 p.m.
Follow Me Golf Course Snack Bar	7 a.m.-5 p.m.
Harmony Church Field House	11 a.m.-7 p.m.
Kelley Hill Gymnasium	9 a.m.-4 p.m.
Main Post Bowling Center	noon-11 p.m.
Mall Bowling Center	11 a.m.-11 p.m.
Santiago Gymnasium	11 a.m.-7 p.m.
Briant Wells Indoor Pool	closed
Custer Terrace Pool	1 p.m.-8 p.m.
Harmony Church Pool	1 p.m.-8 p.m.
Kelley Hill Pool	1 p.m.-8 p.m.
Sand Hill Pool	1 p.m.-8 p.m.
Carey Pool	1 p.m.-8 p.m.
Physical Activities Administrative Office	closed

MISCELLANEOUS

Army Community Service	closed
Equipment Check Out Center	8 a.m.-noon
Child Development Service	closed
Laundromat	9 a.m.-11 p.m.
Sayers Memorial Library	noon-8:50 p.m.
Uchee Creek Bait Shop	7 a.m.-7 p.m.
Youth Activities	closed

TRASH COLLECTION

There will be no trash pick-up in family housing areas on the Monday, Memorial Day holiday. Trash pick-up in areas normally scheduled for Monday, will be picked up Tuesday. Areas scheduled for pick-up on Tuesday will be picked up on Wednesday. For more information, call 545-4749.

197th infantryman is FORSCOM 'Soldier of Year'

By Andrew Wiese
197th Infantry Brigade

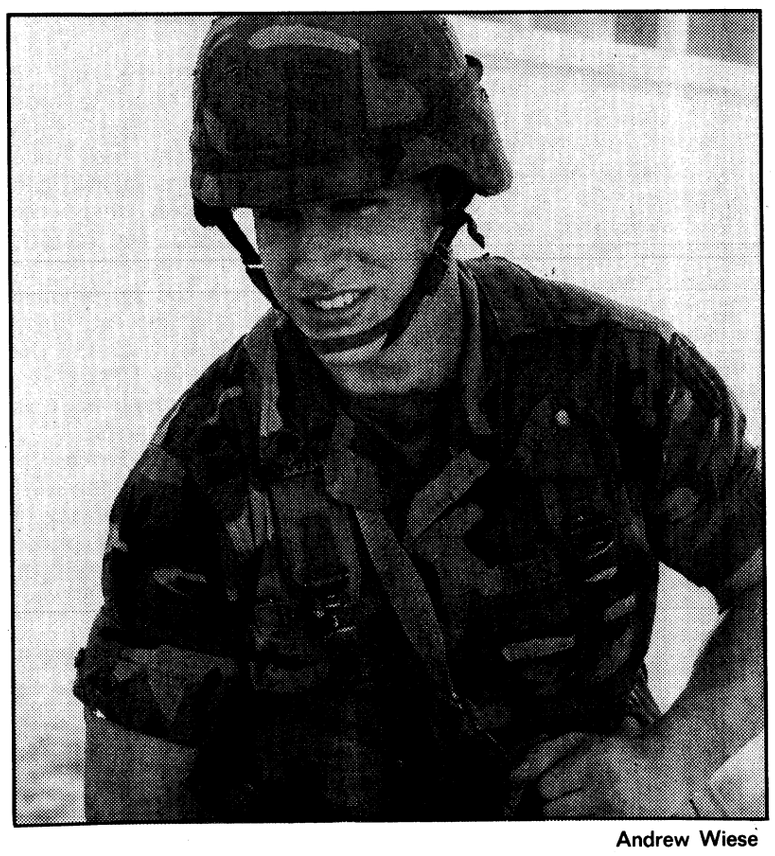
A 197th military policeman is the Forces Command "Soldier of the Year." Spec. Douglas O. Bailey, who is assigned to Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 197th Infantry Brigade, Military Police platoon, was chosen by a FORSCOM selection board.

Bailey competed in a two-day event that included a physical fitness test, a six-plot land navigation course, a 50-question written test, 10 common tasks and an oral board made up of senior noncommissioned officers.

"I studied for the board the hardest because I figured that would cover just about everything," he said.

A native of Indiana, Bailey took basic training and advanced individual training at Fort McClellan, Ala. After AIT graduation, he attended the Defense Language Institute at the Presidio of Monterey in California to learn the Russian language.

Bailey graduated with honors in March 1988. Then, he was assigned to the 197th.



One month later, he was on the move again as he entered Airborne School. Following graduation, he returned to the MP platoon and became a team leader.

An avid sportsman, Bailey was on his high school wrestling team. "I enjoy all sports," he said. "While in high school, I enjoyed wrestling most. I still hold two high school record for 'reversals,' and I was the sectional champion for two seasons.

After high school, he studied at Indiana State for two years before applying to become a military policeman.

Recently he received orders for Korea.

"When I first got orders for Korea, I wanted to find a way out of it," he said. "But, after my wife and I talked about it, we decided it would be an easy way to save some money. Besides, one year won't last forever."

Andrew Wiese

Spec. Douglas O. Bailey
FORSCOM's Soldier of the Year

NCO

Continued from A-1

didn't even want to be in the competition," he said. "But, the more I thought about it, the more I liked the idea of good competition. Plus, I thought it would be a good career move, considering that the excellent ratings received by the competition would stand out in my records."

Delaney joined the Army right after high school. Upon completion of basic training and advanced individual training at Fort Bliss, Tex., he said he joined the fast-paced training of the 82nd Airborne Division at Fort Bragg, N.C.

He recalled some of his memories of the 82nd, in particular, his jumps which involved Panama and Germany.

"I will always remember jumping into Panama because the first pass that jumped during my flight landed in the trees or in Lake Gutun," he said. "I also have fond memories of Germany because we landed only seven kilometers from the East German border."

While assigned to the 82nd for the next six years, he gradually rose from the rank of E-1 to E-6. Additionally, according to Delaney, he participated in many training exercises in different parts of the world, including Sudan, Panama and Germany. Also, he was involved in the conflict in Grenada.

In addition to his various tours of duty, Delaney has attended numerous military schools such as Airborne, Air Movement Operations, Pathfinder, Jumpmaster, Training and Doctrine Instructor and Equal Opportunity. His civilian education includes an associate's degree in business.

"I go to school as much as I can because I love to challenge myself," he said.

In 1985 as a staff sergeant, Delaney became a "blackhat" instructor at the 1st Battalion (Airborne), 507th Parachute Infantry Regiment.

"When I went through jump school, I dreamed of becoming a 'blackhat,'" he said. "I fulfilled that dream with three and a half years as an instructor."

Two other dreams that Delaney aspires to turn into reality are earning the coveted Ranger Tab and continuing his service to become a command sergeant major. After retirement he said he wants to open his own bait and tackle shop in Florida.

AUTO INSURANCE
YOUR Independent Insurance AGENT SERVES YOU FIRST
Capparelle's INSURANCE AGENCY
PROFESSIONAL INSURANCE AGENT
Military Personnel Stationed in Georgia, Alabama, and Overseas Germany. "If You Buy Before You Call Us, You May Pay Too Much." Call Us Today For A Quick Quote.
3617 Hilton Avenue Suite #214 322-6178

MILITARY WELCOME
NEW LOTTERY PICK UP SERVICE
PERSONAL CHECKS · MILITARY CHECKS · PAYROLL CHECKS · OUT OF STATE CHECKS · INCOME TAX CHECKS · ALLOTMENT CHECKS · INSURANCE CHECKS · ALMOST ANY CHECK
MR CHECK CASHER
$ NEW LOCATION $
3809 Victory Drive
Traffic Circle Shopping Center
687-8666

EYE GLASSES
40% to 50% OFF
Buy One Pair At Regular Price
Get The 2nd Free
CONTACTS
SOFT $39.95 with care kit
EXTENDED WEAR $59.95 with care kit
DURA SOFT 3 $149.95 with care kit
324-2073
1140 13th Street
(Near Southern Bell)
eyewear UNLIMITED

SHIPPING YOUR CAR!
Pickup & Delivery To Port
POV delivered to Ft. Benning
from Charleston Port Terminal
Car Processing for personnel going Overseas
Exchange Concessionaire
Hours: Wed.-Fri. 12:00-6:00
Sat. 9:00-4:00
CAROLINA AUTO PROCESSING CENTER
Located at Bldg. 1624
Ft. Benning • (404) 682-1668

FOR THE GREAT OUTDOORS
COMMANDO DISCOUNT SURPLUS

MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
VHS HQ TABLE MODEL VCR
MODEL VG-7515
• On-screen Remote Programming
• Auto Program Frequency Synthesized Tuning
Only $319.95
E-Z PAYMENT PLAN
20" Diagonal REMOTE CONTROL TABLETOP COLOR TV
MODEL 20GT420
ONLY $379.95
ZENITH
ONLY $299.95
SE1315W
REMOTE CONTROL
13" DIAGONAL 157 CHANNEL CABLE READY CAPABILITY
ZENITH
VHS HQ Camcorder
$1095.00
With auto focus & power zoom. ● VM7050 ● highly sensitive ½" CCD for superior color and sharper details.
QUICK 'N E-Z FINANCING
Friedrich
ROOM AIR CONDITIONERS
6000 BTU AS LOW AS $299.00
MOVIE RENTALS AS LOW AS 99¢ Per Day
Hoover Vacuums
As Low As $79.95
* Based on 18 monthly payments. 22.87 APR.
10% DOWN PAYMENT
matching home laundry pair
FREE DELIVERY
HOTPOINT SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR YOUR MONEY BACK
WASHER Model WLW 1500B
DRYER Model DLB 1550B
SAVE ON THE PAIR
ONLY $688.00 for the pair
large capacity refrigerator
Hotpoint
17.7 Cu. ft. no-frost refrigerator ▩ Adjustable split-level shelves ▩ Equipped for optional icemaker Model CTX18E
ONLY $729.95
WE MAKE IT QUICK 'N EASY TO BUY
MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
You Don't Need A Lot Of Money, Just A Little Bit A Month
2039 Ft. Benning Rd.
BANK FINANCING
Hours: 9AM-6PM Mon.-Sat.
INSTANT CREDIT
687-8249

Benning celebrates Armed Forces Day

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Last week's Armed Forces Day celebration drew more than 10,000 soldiers and civilians to Fort Benning for a day of fun and games.

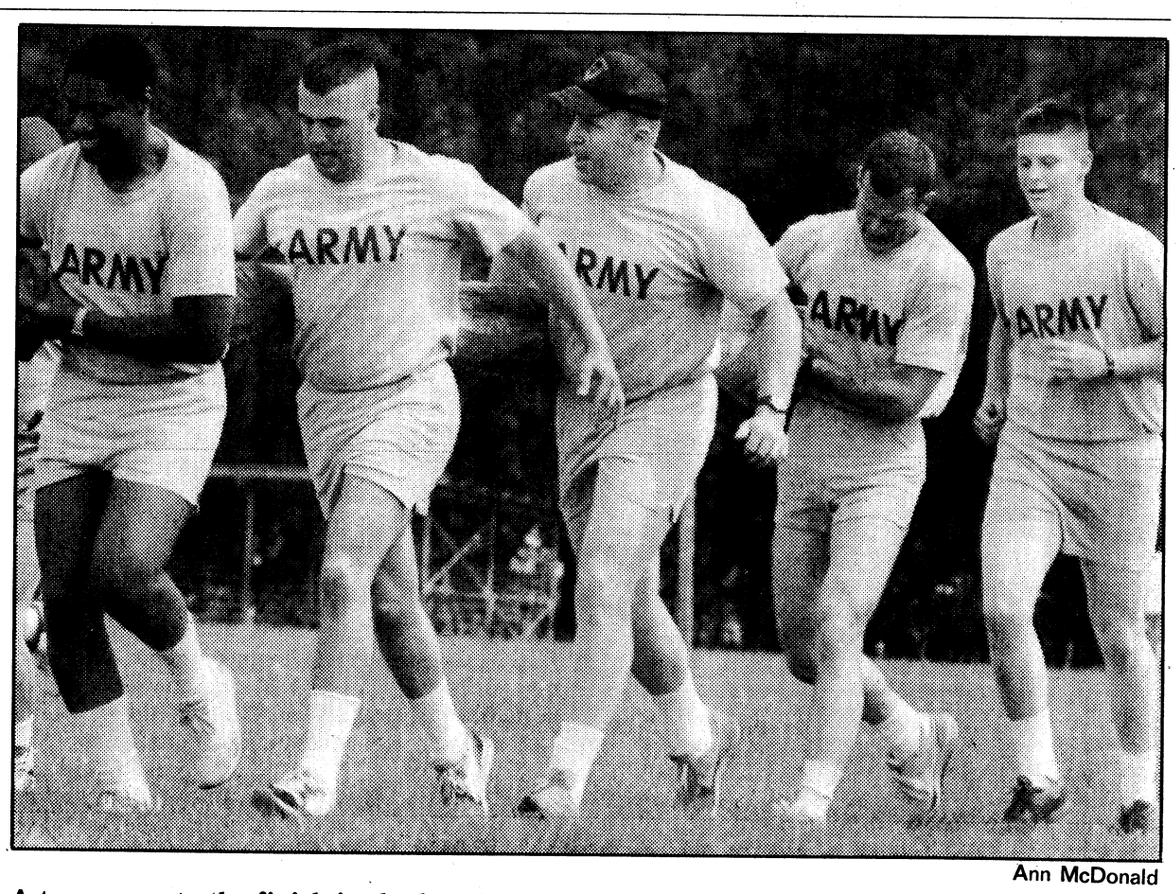
The celebration started at 7 a.m. with a 10-kilometer run and a 2-mile "fun run" at York and Stewart Fields.

After the races, the event moved to York Field for a noncommissioned officer review, honoring all who serve in the Armed Forces.

Immediately following the review, Spec. Barbara Holloway from Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion, 58th Infantry, 1st Infantry Training Brigade, Infantry Training Center was crowned the 1989 Queen of the Chattahoochee Valley-Fort Benning Chapter of the Association of the U.S. Army.

After the review and the coronation, the crowd moved to Stewart and Watson Fields where the event took on a county fair atmosphere complete with cotton candy, corn dogs, soda pop and carnival games.

Along with the refreshments and carnival games, the theme of this year's Army Forces Day, "Keeping America Strong," was demonstrated through static displays of Army equipment.



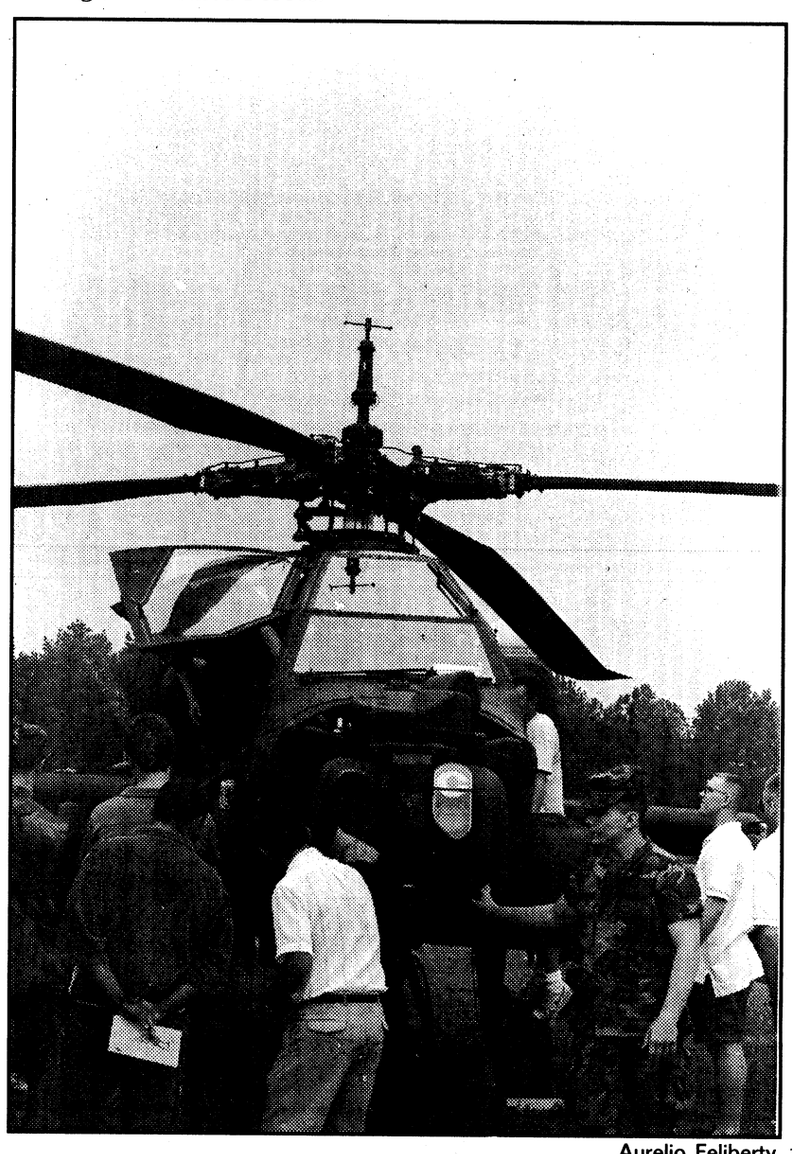
While the Armed Forces Day visitors were enjoying the carnival atmosphere and viewing the weapons, post soldiers participated in some friendly competition which consisted of eight events.

Teams competed in the eight-man, 2-mile relay; 100- and 200-meter dashes; tug-o-war; push-ups; litter carry; log shuttle and chariot race.

The 29th Infantry Regiment came out on top in this year's competition after losing to the 197th last year.

"That loss was a big motivator," said 29th Inf. Regt. Coach 1st Lt. Franklin Roach. "The teams practiced hard for this. Not only did the win show off the regiment's athletic ability, but it was a good demonstration of how well the two battalions work together."

Although everyone couldn't finish first in the day's events — whether it be the queen competition, the inter-unit competition or the carnival games — young and old alike were able to enjoy a day celebrating the freedom of the United States made possible through our Armed Forces.



Ann McDonald

A team runs to the finish in the log shuttle event.

Ann McDonald

Barbara Holloway, the newly crowned Miss AUSA 1989, waves as Barbara Arredondo, last year's queen, adjusts her sash.

Aurelio Feliberty

Spectators gather around to inspect an Apache helicopter.

Aurelio Feliberty

A soldier gives instructions as a child gets ready to take off on the mock airborne tower trainer.

Bayonet Classified--322-4500

NEW LOW AIRFARES

Atlanta Roundtrip To:

Frankfurt	Munich	Brussels	Seoul
$758 1 June-30 Sept.	$778 1 June-30 Sept.	$872 1 June-30 Sept.	$1149 1 June-31 Aug.
$660 1 Oct.-31 Oct.	$694 1 Oct.-31 Oct.	$6[illegible]9 1 Oct.-31 Oct.	$1199 1 Sept.-1 Dec.

*Certain Restrictions/Taxes Apply to These Fares
*Some Blackout Dates Exist

TRAVEL WORLD, INC.

3115 Mercury Drive
Columbus, GA 31906
404/563-8687

4393 Victory Dr.
ARCCO Place
Columbus, Georgia 31903
404/689-3092

NEW BONUSES NEED CASH TODAY? NEW BONUSES

Save lives and earn money by donating your time at one of the finest Plasma Facilities in the country

New & Donors who have not donated in SIX MONTHS RECEIVE $7.00 BONUS with this ad.

Bring a Buddy & RECEIVE AN EXTRA $5.00
Additional Bonus on 6th & 8th Donations

EARN $10.00 AND ABOVE ON EACH VISIT

RIVERFRONT PLASMA CENTER
507 Dillingham St.—Phenix City
297-5711
Hours: Mon.-Wed.-Fri. 7-3:30—Tues. & Thurs. 7-6:30

CONVENIENT EVENING HOURS FOR BENNING PERSONNEL

EARN OVER $100 PER MONTH

VISA CARDS ARE HERE!

VISA

COMPARE the terms of your Credit Union with the market and you'll make the switch.

$8.00 Annual Fee
15% Annual Percentage Rate

25 Day Grace Period

2786 Eckel Street
Fort Benning, GA 31905
682-0830

TIC FEDERAL CREDIT UNION

4811 Bankers Blvd.
Columbus, GA 31904
324-5288

Offer to eligible members only.

WEATHERS SELF STORAGE

LOCALLY OWNED AND OPERATED

RESIDENTIAL COMMERCIAL

* YOU DEMAND TOP SECURITY
* YOU EXPECT PROFESSIONAL MANAGERS
* YOU REQUIRE CLEANLINESS
* YOU DESIRE COURTESY
* YOU WANT CONVENIENCE
* YOU NEED GOOD PRICES

ALL CONVENIENT SIZES AVAILABLE!

TWO LOCATIONS

322-7555
6165 HAMILTON RD.

689-8787
313 FORD DR.
LINDSEY CREEK BY-PASS @ ST. MARY'S RD.

OPEN SEVEN DAYS A WEEK
8:00 AM — 10:00 PM

Steve's Check Casher

Do You need a check cashed?
Come visit the Money Man.

WE CASH THEM ALL

$ INCOME TAX RETURN CHECKS
$ PERSONAL CHECKS

$ Payroll
$ Out of State
$ Two Party
$ Money Orders
$ Western Union
$ Tax Checks
$ Insurance Checks
$ Insurance Drafts
$ Government Checks
$ Cashier Checks

ALL TYPES

Let Us Handle All Your Check Cashing Needs!

3949 Victory Station Shopping Center
Suite 2 Next to Blempie's

Come by and Visit With Us Today or Call

689-8335

HOURS: M-F 10-7, Sat. 10-5

FREE

ALL TUNE and LUBE

Oil change, lube & filter with the purchase of an engine tune up.

COMPLETE ENGINE TUNE

$39.90*

Includes all parts and labor for most cars
Some Vans & Pick-ups Add'l.
12 MONTH/12,000 MILE WARRANTY
WITH COUPON ● WHILE YOU WAIT CB

Your Total Car Care Center

ALL TUNE and LUBE

● Oil Change, Lube & Filter $9.90 reg. $19.90
● Transmission Tune-up $24.90 reg. $29.90
● Air Conditioning Service $24.90 reg. $29.90
● Fuel Injector Service $39.90 reg. $49.90
● Brake Special (Most Vehicles) $34.90 reg. $63.90

FREE BRAKE INSPECTION

6-9-89

COLUMBUS
6028 MILLER ROAD
569-TUNE

Hours M-F
8 AM-7 PM
Sat. 8 AM-4 PM

OVER 70 LOCATIONS NATIONWIDE!

U.S. Army photo

Noted surgeon, Cullin Richard, performs pelvic reconstructive surgery at MACH.

Surgeon visits MACH

Martin Army Community Hospital

A noted surgeon in the gynecological field recently visited Martin Army Community Hospital. Cullin Richardson, a specialist in pelvic reconstructive surgery visited the hospital recently.

While there, Richardson worked with a team of Army gynecologic surgeons in performing a pelvic relaxation procedure.

Richardson, of Atlanta, is a participant in the recently formed Physician Partnership program. Through the program, regional specialists can perform surgical procedures at the hospital, thereby allowing active duty soldiers, retirees and dependents access to the latest surgical techniques.

Richardson also lectured to several MACH staff members about alterations in pelvic anatomy and the factors which lead to pelvic relaxation and urinary incontinence.

Richardson is vice president of the American College of Obstetrics and Gynecologists and a pioneer in the field of pelvic reconstructive surgery.

OCS candidates graduate

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Four OCS candidates were commissioned into Army Aviation at ceremonies here May 19.

The officers are: 2nd Lts. Terry P. Key, Bruce D. Moses, Craig D. Schwab and Donald R. Winningham.

Col. Ernest F. Estes, Deputy Assistant Commandant, U.S. Army Aviation Center, spoke at the graduation and presented aviation brass.

Each officer was presented an Aviation Branch letter of welcome from Maj. Gen. Ellis D. Parker, the Commanding General of the Aviation Center, Fort Rucker, Ala.

VA will not appeal ruling requiring rewrite of regs

Department of Veterans Affairs

Secretary of Veterans Affairs Edward J. Derwinski recently announced that the Veterans Administration will not appeal a Federal District Court ruling that orders the agency to rewrite regulations governing claims for disability compensation relating to Agent Orange exposure.

Derwinski said the VA would immediately begin to prepare revised rules that apply to criteria used by its advisory committee and VA claims personnel in making determinations concerning the possible health effects of veterans' contact with the herbicide Agent Orange in Vietnam.

Earlier this week, U.S. District Court Judge Thelton E. Henderson held that VA had not properly interpreted provisions of the 1984 Veterans' Dioxin and Radiation Exposure Compensation Standards Act. Henderson's opinion voided VA's denial of disability claims made by Vietnam veterans who were seeking benefits based on health problems they believed were caused by Agent Orange exposure.

In the opinion, Henderson also concluded that while the Veterans' Advisory Committee on Environmental Hazards had properly reviewed available scientific studies, its conclusions were affected by what the court viewed as Va's imposition of an "impermissibly demanding test" for connecting Agent Orange with health problems.

Derwinski said the revised regulations will be published as soon as possible.

MACH kicks off Nurses' Week

Martin Army Community Hospital

Martin Army Community Hospital kicked off Nurses' Week recently with a ceremony in the hospital's dining facility.

The ceremony included honors and recognition by civilian nurses to military nurses.

Hospital commander Col. Herbert Segal officially proclaimed it Nurses' Week, and 2nd Lt. Jacqueline DiGiovanni, administrative officer, read the proclamation. Segal gave a brief speech and told the audience that he was proud to work with such an outstanding staff of both military and civilian nurses.

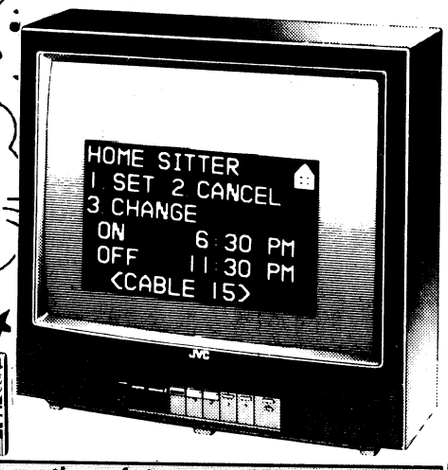
Col. Susie Sherrod, chief of the nursing staff, and Lt. Col. Jeri Graham, assistant nursing chief, received certificates of appreciation. In her remarks, Sherrod challenged nurses to continue to strive for excellence.

To wrap up the event, all Army nurses, officers and enlisted, were given tributes and tokens.

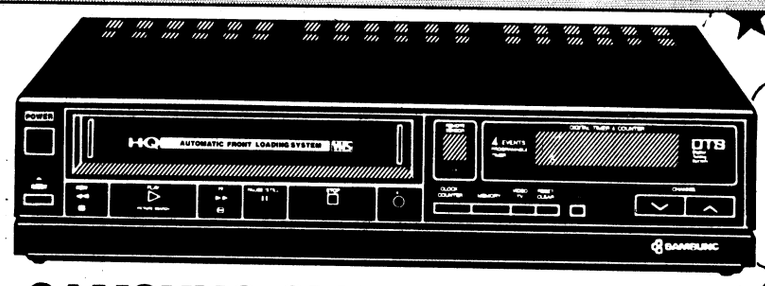
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

AUTO STORAGE WAREHOUSE
• SPRINKLER
• BURGLAR ALARM
• INSULATED
by MONTH or YEAR
ALLIED BONDED WHSE.
4301 ALLIED DR.
COLUMBUS (404) 687-0222

The Linen Outlet
Drastic Reductions
* Curtains * Sheers
* Shams * Table Cloths
* Rugs * Bedspreads
All Sales Final
No Layaways
Open M-S 10-6
2211 Wynnton Rd.
323-9211



Need Auto Insurance?
Call the Military Specialists
• Low down payment
• Money-saving deductibles
• Affordable payment plan
• 24-hour claim service
CALL TODAY
689-2787
2029 S. Lumpkin Road
Oakland Park
Shopping Center
GET TO KNOW
GEICO



NEW BABY PRODUCTS
Columbus 1 Stop Baby Store
SALE!
Qualified Sales People
*Discount Prices
Over 5,000 Sq. Ft. of Baby Merchandise
OVER 40 CRIBS ON DISPLAY
Starting At $79.95
Chest & Dressers To Match
Play Pens, Strollers, Clothes, Bedding & Accessories. Much, Much More.
Welsh Maple Jenny Lind Crib.....Only 99.95
The Hill
CROSS COUNTRY PLAZA
561-1377

★ ELECTRONICS ★ JEWELRY
DEVON
Home Center Stores
★ FURNITURE ★ APPLIANCES

MEMORIAL DAY SALE-A-BRATION
Serving the Military & Civil Service with... CONVENIENT CREDIT ★ NO DOWN PAYMENT ★ TAKE IT HOME TODAY

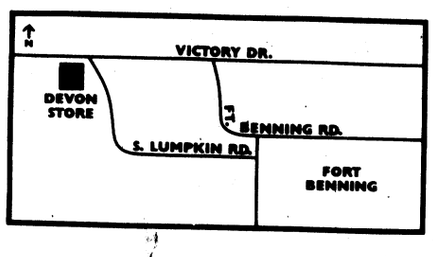
JVC 20" REMOTE CONTROL TV
• Multi-color on screen display • Master Command II remote control operates: tint, color, picture, brightness and detail • 125 channel frequency synthesizer tuner • Built-in clock w/switch off timer • 3-way tuning option: choice, return and auto channel scan
Special SALE $549.99
35.06* plus tax per month
Def. Pmt. $631.08

Special SALE $449.99
28.69* plus tax per month
Def. Pmt. $516.42

SAMSUNG SLIM-LINE HQ VCR
• 110 channel cable compatible frequency synthesized tuner • 14 day/4 event programmer • 20 key/23 function wireless remote • Audio/video input/output jacks

FREE FINANCING If contract is paid within twelve months of 1st contract due date, we well refund finance charges on that purchase.

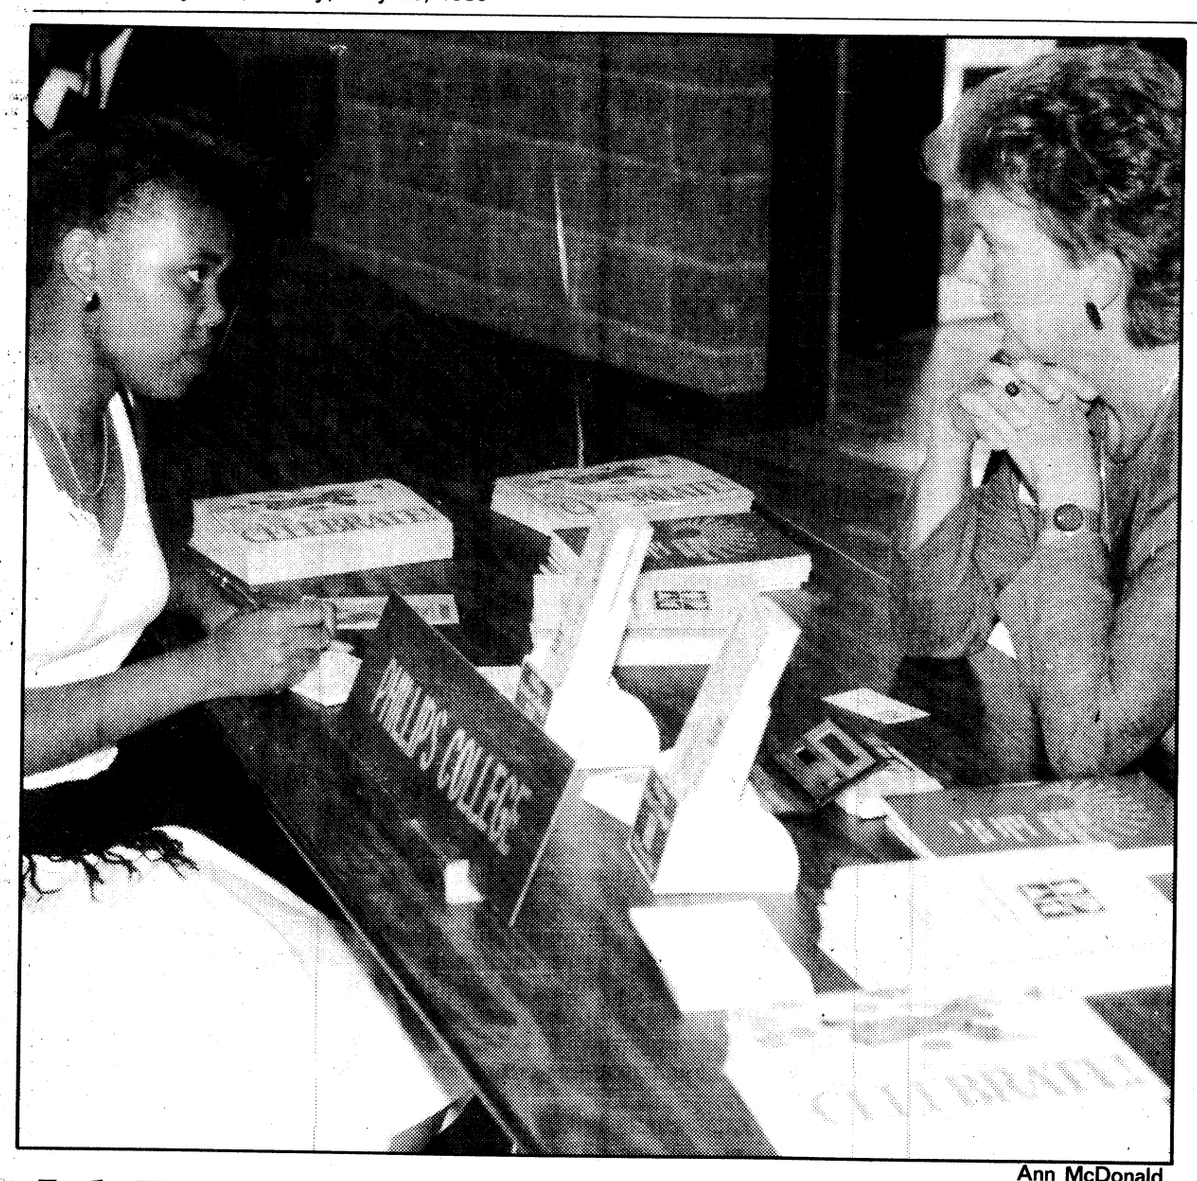
40% OFF
REGULAR PRICE
SELECTED CLARION CAR STEREO COMPONENTS



✓STORE STOCK ONLY ✓NO RAINCHECKS
✓ALL MODELS NOT IN ALL STORES
SALE ENDS MAY 31, 1989

25% OFF REG. PRICE
SELECTED BEDROOM, DINETTE & UPHOLSTERY LIVING ROOM SETS
Choose from a wide variety of quality selections.

(Selection may vary by store)



HOME ENTERTAINMENT, STEREOS, TV'S, VCR'S, JEWELRY, APPLIANCES, FURNITURE

COLUMBUS #270
3296 Victory Drive
(404) 689-1210

Mon.-Fri. 10am to 8pm;
Sat. 10am to 5pm;
Sun. 1pm to 5pm

WE FINANCE ALL QUALIFIED MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE
*Per month pricing based on no down payment with 17.9% annual percentage for 18 months. Multiply monthly payments by 18 months for total cost. Price may vary depending on local sales tax, insurance or warranty.

Ann McDonald

Job Fair

A representative from Phillips Junior College gives a Fort Benning teen some advice about career planning. The Job Fair, sponsored by the Family Member Employment Assistance Program, provided post youths a chance to talk to college counselors and find out about summer jobs. Youth interested in obtaining a job should call 545-5176.

Soldiers help honor a Revolutionary soldier

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

Several Fort Benning soldiers took part in "The Spirit of America," a memorial service held in the honor of a revolutionary soldier at the corner of Miller and Warm Springs roads May 20.

Among the soldiers was SFC Jim Walker of the "Silver Wings" parachute demonstration team. Walker delivered an American flag sent from Washington D.C. to be flown over the graves of Samuel Cooper, a revolutionary soldier, and his two children.

Walker was supposed to have jumped from a helicopter and parachuted to the grave site with the flag. However, due to low cloud cover, the helicopter landed in a nearby field and the flag was walked to the ceremony. To make up for the lost jump, the chopper made a low fly by.

Fifteen soldiers from Company A, 2nd Battalion, 69th Armor, 197th Infantry Brigade, also participated in ceremony as the color guard and honor guard.

The 283rd Army Band's Sgt. Keith Williams played taps and a Junior Rerserve Officer Training Corps drill team from Kendrick High School displayed their skills at the service.

The ceremony was the culmination of 11 years of efforts by the Coweta Falls Chapter of the Sons of the American Revolution to restore Coopers family cemetery. Cooper fought with the South Carolina Militia during the Revolution and later moved to Georgia where he died in 1841.

Shawn Bryson

An ROTC drill team from Kendrick High School gives a demonstration at the memorial service.

ASK THE JUDGE

By Deborah B. Montgomery
Office of the Staff Judge Advocate

Q. I plan to open a joint checking and savings account with my "friend." My friend has a lot of bad debts and has been sued several times by her creditors. Even though I will probably be the only one to put money in the accounts, is it possible that her creditors might be able to take the money for her debts?

A. One who has obtained a money judgment against a debtor may enforce the court order and seize property that is owned by the debtor. Whether or not funds in a jointly held savings account may be taken by a creditor of a single co-depositor is governed by the law of the state in which the accounts are held.

Some states allow joint accounts to be seized by the creditor of a single co-depositor. In other words, being joint owners may not prevent a judgment creditor from seizing funds that are being held in a joint account.

It is not unusual for someone to list another person jointly on a bank account even though only one of them actually makes any significant deposits.

In some relationships, this convenient arrangement may appear to be a great idea. But, it can, and often does, create many problems when the non-depositor has bad debts and his or her creditors acquire a judgment.

Once it has been determined that the funds in the joint account can be seized, the next question to decide is how much can be garnished (taken by court order and paid to the creditor).

In determining how much can be garnished, certain factors have to be considered. The first factor that should be considered is the agreement between the banking institution and the depositors. The agreement may provide that both of the depositors have an equal right to withdraw any funds that are deposited. If that is so, then it may mean that all of the funds that are deposited are subject to being garnished, irrespective of what each depositor's interest is in the account. If this is the policy of the banking institution, then one should proceed with caution when opening a joint account.

Another factor to consider is each depositor's contribution to the account. If this method is used it requires that you determine the contributions and the withdrawals made by each party. This procedure seems to be fair and provides some protection for the non-debtor, even though the non-debtor may have to prove what his or her contribution was.

Having a joint account may be convenient, but it can also be risky. Before you decide to open a joint account, carefully consider that person's credit worthiness, and more importantly, inquire about the policy of the particular banking institution in your area and know what the law is of your particular state.

Remember, know the facts and the law before opening a joint account.

Bayonet Advertising

U.S. Savings Bonds
The Great American Investment
1-800-US-BONDS

Low Cost Term Life Insurance
Consolidated Insurance Services
Albany, GA
Dealing with A+ or A Rated Companies.
1-800-289-8766
For a complete proposal

Annual Premiums (Male, Non-Smoker)

Age	$100,000	$250,000	$500,000	$1,000,000
35	122	203	300	550
40	130	225	345	640
45	155	233	455	860
50	205	388	545	1040
55	273	543	790	1530
60	383	875	1405	2760
65	643	1525	2545	5040

CHARTER A CAB
to Atlanta Airport
$25 per person
(minimum of 4 people)
20% discount for pre-payment
Other out of town charters available
Local charters $15 an hour (min. 3 hours)
Fully Licensed & Insured
989-3874 (Local) Chip Chappell

SUCCESSFUL CAREER CHANGE SEMINAR
CAREER SEMINAR - A new one-day seminar on "Making a Successful Career Change" will be held at the Ft. Benning Officers' Club on June 10 at 8:30 a.m. Topics to be covered will include resume writing, how to dress for the civilian workforce, techniques of interviewing, how to establish a network, and negotiating the best salary and compensation package. An investment of $295 per person includes seminar materials, a continental breakfast, lunch and refreshments. Class size will be strictly limited to ensure optimun interaction among the participants and instructors.
For Further Information Call
(404) 266-3377

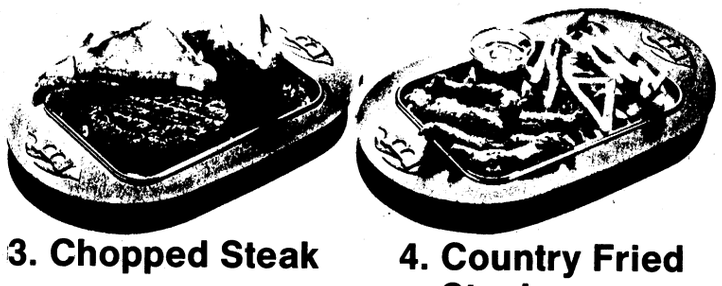
THE $57 ATLANTA BED & BREAKFAST

Enjoy a fun-filled weekend in Atlanta, complete with a spacious room at the fabulous Renaissance Hotel and full breakfast for two–for only $57* per night! And the kids stay free. There's exciting new Underground Atlanta and delightful Zoo Atlanta. Reserved seating for the Braves. Plus discount tickets to White Water, Six Flags and Stone Mountain, prepurchased so there's no line. For reservations, call collect (404) 761-7790 and ask for the $57 Atlanta Bed & Breakfast.

*Plus tax, subject to change and availability. Not valid for groups or conventions. Offer good through 9/30/89.

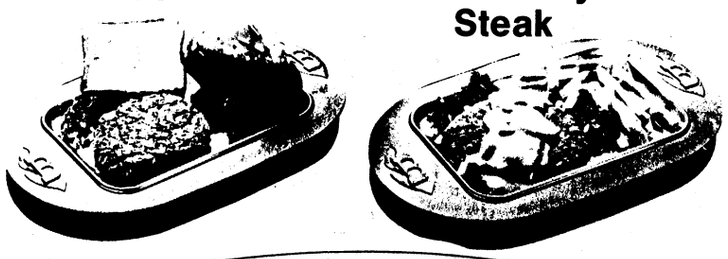
FOUR DIAMOND AWARD 1989

RAMADA RENAISSANCE HOTEL
ATLANTA AIRPORT



No Frills Lunches

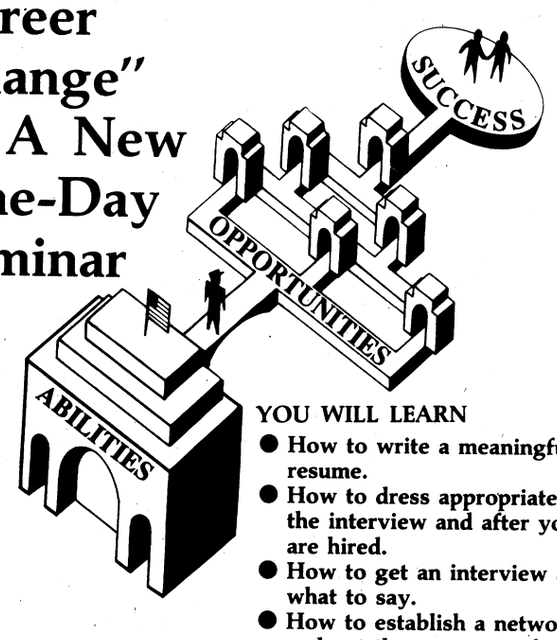
- Entree
- Baked Potato or French Fries
- Texas Toast
- Drink



$3.25 Including Tax

Entree Choices

1. Rib Eye
2. Chicken Fingers

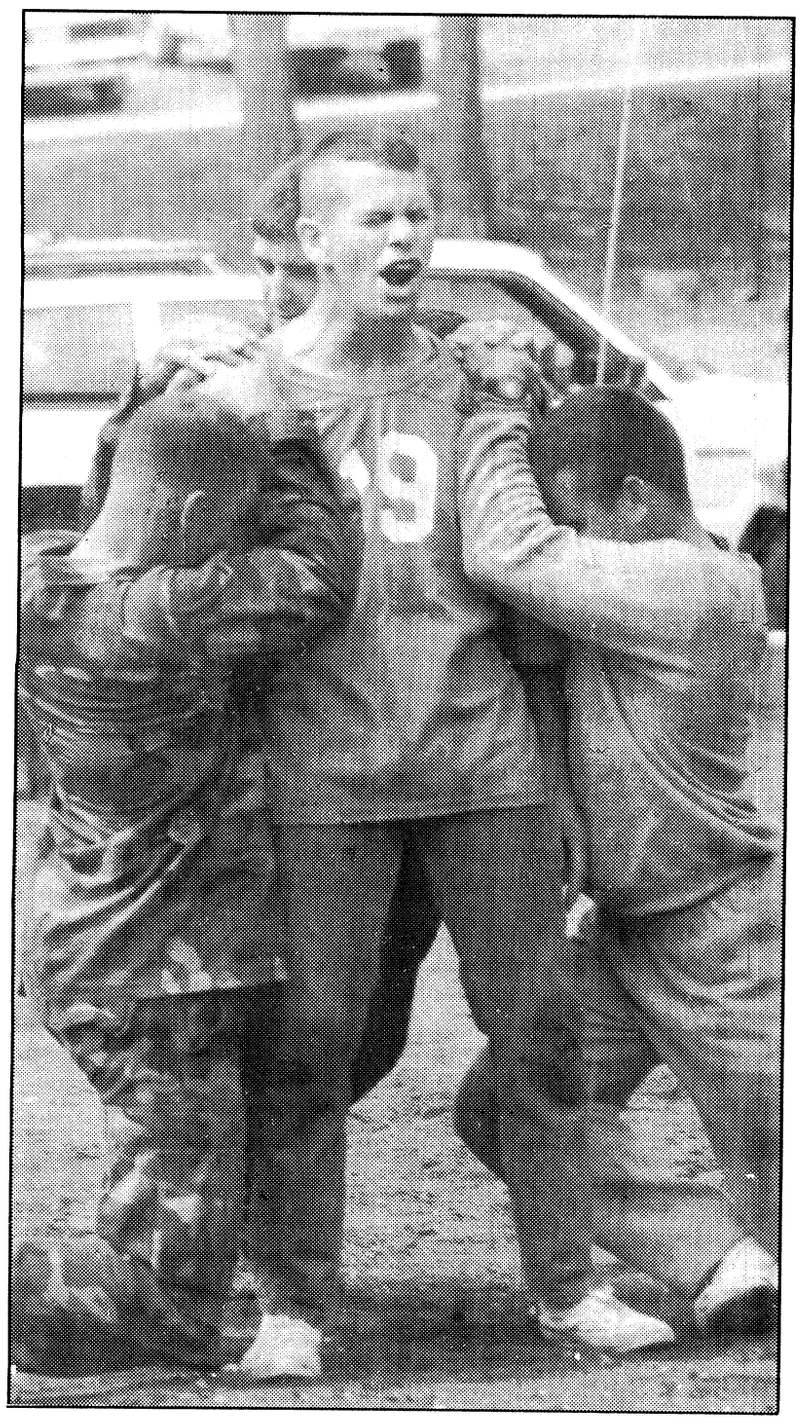


3. Chopped Steak
4. Country Fried Steak

BONANZA

Victory Drive
Manchester Expressway
5061 Macon Road
280 Bypass, Phenix City

Invest in Yourself. Invest in Your Future. Learn How To "Make A Successful Career Change" In A New One-Day Seminar



YOU WILL LEARN
- How to write a meaningful resume.
- How to dress appropriately for the interview and after you are hired.
- How to get an interview and what to say.
- How to establish a network and get the most out of it.
- How to get the best salary and benefit package available.

SUCCESSFUL CAREER CHANGE SEMINAR
DATE: June 10, 1989
LOCTION: FT. BENNING OFFICERS' CLUB
Time: 8:30 AM
Investment: $295.00 (includes continental breakfast, lunch & workbook
CLASS SIZE STRICTLY LIMITED CALL TODAY

For Reservations Please Call
(404) 266-3377
Your Abilities + The Right Opportunities = Success

Rangers learn martial arts, weapon skills

SSgt. Barry Todd, Co. B., 4th Bn., RTB, applies a balance and strength technique learned during the seminar. The men pushing down on his shoulders proved to the students that the technique works.

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Some Ranger Training Brigade "light infantry" trainers are going above and beyond the call of duty to ensure they are qualified to train future warriors.

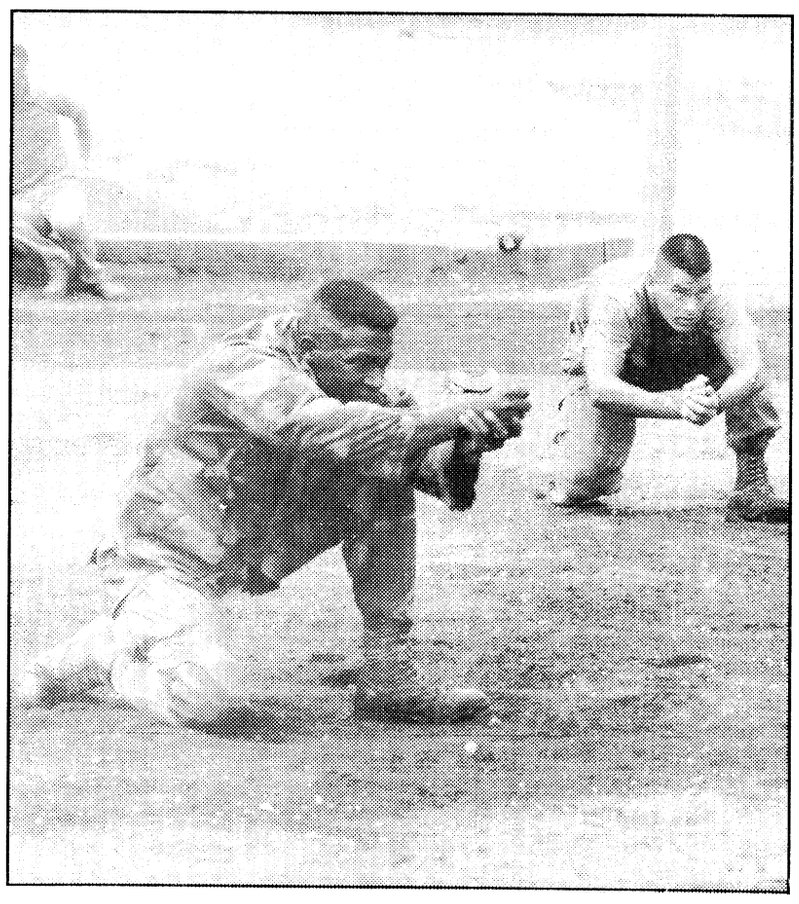
Recently members of 5th Ranger Training Battalion, Dahlonega, Ga. which located 30 miles North of Atlanta, rose at 3 a.m. to come Fort Benning to qualify on their weapons. Soldiers from the 4th Ranger Training Battalion gave up their Sunday so they could learn new martial arts techniques for the hand to hand combat phase of training for ranger students.

The men could have qualified at a small 25-meter range located at the camp but they opted to come to Benning and use a regular range to better evaluate their marksmanship skills, according to Maj. Kevin DiCassio, S-3, 5th Rgr. Tng. Bn.

"About eighty of us made the trip here to qualify," he said, "We weren't required to do this, but for training purposes, this is ideal."

Soldiers from the 4th Rgr. Tng. Bn. found themselves an ideal training situation. In exchange for some training they gave for some students from Emory University, they received a martial arts seminar from The Francis Fong Martial Arts Academy in Atlanta, Ga.

The seminar was made possible by research done by SFC Max Mullen, Company C, 4th Rgr. Tng. Bn.



"I felt the instructors needed to be updated in techniques of hand to hand combat so I sought some help," Mullen said.

Along with members of the Fong Academy was Dr. Ed Thomas of Emory University. He, along with Fong, evaluated the present instruction given by the rangers and discussed ways to improve it.

"We've learned some things as well," Thomas said, "so this seminar is valuable to all of us."

SSgt. William Drew also of Co. C said he's always been interested in martial arts and was really happy with the instruction.

"I could have been out on a boat fishing, but I came here instead because this will really benefit me both professionally and personally," Drew added.

SFC Max Mullen (l), Co. C, 4th Bn., RTB, and SSgt. William Ulibarri, Co. C, RTB, practice techniques learned in the seminar.

Photos by Ann McDonald

SFC T. C. White, Co. B, 5th Bn., RTB, takes aim at a target downrange.

President salutes Armed Forces

On Memorial Day, the citizens of the United States pause to reflect upon the courage and selflessness of the men and women who have given their lives in defense of our Nation. These heroes paid the ultimate price to ensure that their fellow Americans could continue to live in "freedom's holy light." We owe them our eternal gratitude.

As we honor those Americans who have made the supreme sacrifice in service to our country, we also salute you, the current members of our Armed Forces. By protecting our Nation's hard-won liberty, you help to ensure that the sacrifices of those who have gone before us were not made in vain. Your sense of purpose, professionalism, personal courage, and loyalty are an inspiration to us all.

As Commander in Chief, I proudly salute the past and present members of our Armed Forces who have so faithfully defended freedom — the only sure foundation for peace — around the world. Thank you, God bless you, and God bless America.

George Bush
President

ACOE program inspires logistics employee

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

By cleaning up an eyesore and safety hazard, a Directorate of Logistics employee will earn some extra cash as well make his working environment in line with the Army Communities of Excellence Program.

James Lawrence of the Maintenance Division, Directorate of Logistics, sent in an idea to clean up the area to the Army Suggestion Program.

"Scrap metal was stockpiled in the maintenance yard with pieces sticking out," Lawrence said, "If people were not paying attention, they could have easily hurt themselves."

Lawrence found out new containers were available at the Defense Reutilization and Marketing Office at no cost to the government and procured four containers.

Now the shop segregates the metal into appropriate containers when it is first discarded instead of waiting until it is disposed at DRMO.

According to a DOL official, the idea saves $2,134.80 annually in manhours that are normally expended cleaning up the area and preparing the scrap metal to be carried to DRMO for disposal.

Secretary of Defense pays tribute to military this Memorial Day

On Memorial Day, we again decorate the graves of Americans who died to defend and preserve the precious heritage of freedom bequeathed to us by our forefathers.

Memorial Day began as an occasion for placing flowers on the graves of those who gave their lives in the Civil War.

It has since become a time to remember the contributions of all Americans who have died for their country in conflicts from the time of the Revolutionary War to the present.

As America pays tribute to its defenders of the past, we also salute you, the vigilant men and women of today's Armed Forces who safeguard our freedom of the present and the future. Military service — your honored profession — is public service in the highest sense.

Today we honor the memory of those who have gone before us with the promise that America will always remember the dedicated sacrifices of her sons and daughters and their contribution to our security and the continued freedom we enjoy.

Our ultimate hope is for an enduring peace that will make the freedoms protected by that sacrifice secure for all time.

Richard B. Cheney
Secretary of Defense

May-June Infantry Magazine features 3 letters to NCOs

USAIC Public Affairs Office

In recognition of the Year of the Noncommissioned Officer, Infantry Magazine's May-June 1989 issue features "Open Letters to Three NCOs," by 1st Sgt. Jeffrey J. Millinger.

In the letters, Millinger offers advice to a team leader, a squad leader, and platoon leader about how each might better do his job. Millinger is assigned to Company C, 4th Battalion, 9th Infantry, at Fort Wainwright, Alaska.

In addition, Chief of the Infantry Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire, in his Commandant's Note, discusses the way the Infantry School is preparing noncommissioned officers to meet their training responsibilities. This effort includes changes in the infantry-focused NCOES courses, revision in training literature, new training devices and trainer certification procedures.

Other main articles in the issue are "Rifle Fighting: High Payoff Training," by Col. William O. Vowell, commander of the U. S. Army Marksmanship Unit and "The Alamo Scouts: Lessons for LRSUs," by Maj. Billy E. Wells of the Infantry School's Combined Arms and Tactics Department.

Vowell says that marksmanship should rank higher than it does in most training priority lists, and he discusses specific ways unit training can be improved.

Wells relates the experiences of the Alamo Scouts who served in the Pacific Theater in World War II, and he suggests ways in which the lessons they learned can be applied to today's long range surveillance units.

Other articles in the issue include: "Staff Leadership," by Capt. Stephen W. Jarrard; "U.S. Army Sniper School," by Capt. Mark L. Rozycki and "Training During an Alert," by Capt. Stephen J. Townsend.

Information about Infantry Magazine, including subscription rates, is available from the editor, P.O. Box 2005, Fort Benning, Ga. 31905-0605, autovon 835-2350 or commercial (404) 545-2350.

CHATTAHOOCHEE COMMUNITY DAY SCHOOL

KING STREET & MCNAUGHTON
P.O. Box 420
CUSSETA, GA31805

989-3243
7:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m.

Renate Lewis, Director

This is the program that parents of preschool children have been asking for in the Columbus-Fort Benning-Cusseta area!

- small sized classes
- developed learning centers in each classroom
- positive self-image is the center of all program
- hands-on learning
- beautiful and fun equipment for learning
- music, movement, social skills, pre-math and reading readiness, open-ended art, cooking, special events

This unique school was planned, designed and sponsored by Chattahoochee County to meet the needs of preschool children of this community. The school is governed by a board consisting of county officials, parents, and the school staff and is non-profit.
The school is located about 10 minutes from 185 at exit 1 S in Cusseta, Georgia.

Spend a few minutes and come to visit just to see what is possible in this new approach to child care, the answer to the day care delima.
Cost: $45.00 per week

◆ JVC ◆ KICKER ◆ PERCISION POWER

CREATIVE CAR STEREO

- SALES
- SERVICE
- INSTALLATION
- CUSTOM BUILT CABINETS

10 IN. PYLE WOOFERS
$59.95 PR.

10% Off Any Purchase with this Ad. (Valid til 6-1-89)
3593 Victory Drive (across from Auto Shack) 689-3508

◆ PYLE ◆ TOSHIBA ◆ NIGHT STALKER ◆ SUNKYUNG

COMMUNITY

CLASSES

Computer classes — The Family MemberEmployment Assistance Program will sponsor computer classes starting Tuesday and lasting 10 days to provide skill development for military family members of active duty, retirees, reserve components and civil service employees. These classes will be free of charge and will be instructed by Troy State University, Fort Benning. Classes offered are: Lotus, Word Processing, and Data Base. Make reservations by calling the Family Member Employment Assistance office at 545-5340 or 545-5176.

CLUBS

Officers' Club

Fifty-five Plus Plan: The Officers' Club now has available a plan that allows a 10-percent discount on all regular lunches and any dinners purchased in the Lexington Room if you are a member of the Officers Club' and 55 years of age or older. Check with the membership cashier and receive your special discount card today, 682-0640.

Mongolian Barbecue: Dinner available Wednesday from 6 to 9 p.m., $8.95 for club members and bona fide guests and $10.95 for non-members. Customers can select from a wide variety of oriental items. Call the Officers' Club at 682-0640 for more information.

★ ★ ★

NCO Club

Barbecue feast — Buy all you can eat for $6.95 at the Main NCO Club. Barbecued ribs and chicken served with baked beans, potato salad, cole slaw, and tossed salad will be available every Wednesday from 6 to 11 p.m. Call 545-2402.

MISCELLANEOUS

Scholarship — Applications are available for a $1,500 scholarship to be awarded by the Columbus Area Network for Professional and Executive Women.

Offered as a incentive to promote the professional development of women in the area, the scholarship will be awarded to a woman admitted to upper division baccalaureate or graduate degree programs. Applicants must be residents of the Chattahoochee Valley area.

June 15 is the deadline for applications, which may be obtained from area school financial aid offices or by writing the Network, P.O. Box 5826, Columbus, 31906 or by calling the scholarship chairman, Lynn Phillips at 571-5421.

★ ★ ★

Patch Preschool registration — The Fort Benning Early Childhood Development Center (Patch Preschool) will hold registration for the 1989-90 school year on June 2 from 7:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. The preschool admits students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all programs. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national and educational policies. Children must be 3 or 4 on or before Sept. 1 to be eligible. The preschool is located at the corner of Lumpkin and Baltzell Avenue. Bring shot record, birth certificate, and a check or money order for the non-refundable activity fee of $20. For more information, call 687-2404.

Preschool Summer Fun Program — The Fort Benning Early Childhood Development Center (Patch Preschool) has begun registration for the first session of the Summer Fun Program. The program will be from June 5 to 16, 9 a.m. to noon. Children must be 3, 4 or 5 on or before Sept. 1. Cost is $55; a $10 check or money order is due at the time of registration. Also, bring shot record and birth certificate. For more information, call 687-2404.

★ ★ ★

The Tri-County Officials Association — is looking for a few good men and women to officiate military/civilian softball/baseball, football, basketball and volleyball games. If you are interested, contact Benjamin Burford at 682-0535, Albert Gruder at 544-2486 or SSgt. Lyndon Mayfield at 545-2037, for an application for membership.

★ ★ ★

Infantry Ball — The 197th Infantry Brigade (M) (S) is sponsoring this year's Infantry Ball, which will be held June 10, 6 to midnight, at the Fort Benning Officers' Club. Tickets are available on a limited basis and cost $21 per person. RSVP to your unit point of contact. Deadline is today.

★ ★ ★

Summer Camp volunteers needed — Volunteers are needed for Army Community Service's Special Needs Program summer camp. Prospective volunteers must be 16 years old or older, have a genuine interest in children and be patient and caring individual. To volunteer, call Lydia Brunk at 545-3605.

★ ★ ★

Exceptional family members — If you have family members enrolled in the Exceptional Family Member Program and are interested in getting them involved in recreational/leisure activities adapted to their needs, call Lydia Brunk, recreation specialist with ACS Family Members with Special Needs Program at 545-3605 or visit building 1056, the Youth Activities Center.

★ ★ ★

Lifeguards needed — Applications for Recreation Aid (lifeguard) are still being accepted for the Nonappropriated Fund Summer Employment Program between 8 a.m. and 4:30 p.m. at the Directorate of Civilian Personnel, building 35, Room 100. To qualify, applicants must present current certificates for cardiopulmonary resuscitation, advanced lifesaving and first aid. Anyone age 14 and above may apply.

★ ★ ★

"Hell on Wheels" reunion — Veterans of the 2nd Armored Division and attached units are invited to a "Hell on Wheels" reunion Wednesday through Saturday at the Columbus Hilton Hotel. For more information, call Loren Guge at (904)596-6834.

★ ★ ★

Summer Day Camp — Custer Terrace Child Development Center has extended its services to include a summer day camp for 6 to 9 year olds. Activities will include bowling, swimming, cookouts, movies and field trips. A limited number of spaces are available. Call 689-8527 or come by the center, building 2682, for more information.

ITR

New hours — The Information, Tours & Recreation Office, building 247, announces the following new hours:
8:30 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Thursday
8:30 a.m. to 6 p.m. Friday
9 a.m. to 1 p.m. Saturday.
Call 545-7535 for additional information. (MWR)

★ ★ ★

Summertime specials — The Fort Benning ITR Office has available a variety of discount tickets. White Water, Six Flags, Disney packets, military lodging rates and Airlink Bus tickets to and from Atlanta are a few of the specials offered to the military community. For information, call 545-7535 or visit the ITR Office, building 247. (MWR)

4-H CLUB

June 7 Meeting — A 4-H meeting will be held June 7 at the Youth Activities Center.

Summer Fun schedule — The 4-H summer fun schedule is now available at the 4-H Office. For information about all the events, call Cheryl Forehand at the Georgia 4-H office, 571-4792.

MEETINGS

Military Engineers — The Society of American Military Engineers will hold their monthly meeting Thursday at the Fort Benning Officers' Club at 11:30 a.m. William G. Turner Jr., Commissioner of Public Works and Chief Engineer for the City of Wilmington, Delaware, will speak about "Personalities of the Old 36th Regiment." Turner is a civil engineer graduate of Drexel Institute of Technology and a registered professional engineer and land surveyor.

GIRL SCOUTS

Concharty Council of Girl Scouts — Girls, 6 through 17 years of age are invited to participate in the Concharty Council of Girl Scouts' Summer Camp.

The resident camp is located in the woodlands of Pine Mountain near Shiloh, Ga. Camp begins June 11 and runs until August 11.

A variety of programs is offered. Campers may sign up for four days, one-, two- or three-week sessions or all summer. Programs are repeated throughout the summer to fit everyone's schedule. Rates are based on length of stay and specialty of the program. Camp Concharty is owned and operated by Concharty Council of Girl Scouts. The camp is open to both Girl Scout members and non-members.

RECREATION

Uchee Recreation Areas — This is the perfect time to enjoy the Fort Benning outdoor recreation areas. Uchee Creek is located on the Alabama side of the Fort Benning reservation and offers camping, picnicking, fishing, canoeing and boating. There is a lodge on the premises for use by eligible patrons and a country store as well. To get to the Uchee Recreation area, cross Eddy Bridge and turn left. Look for the Uchee Creek sign and turn left. Call 545-4053/7238 for additional information.

★ ★ ★

Destin — The Destin Recreation Area is located on the water in Destin, Fla. There is a deep-sea fishing vessel available on-site, as well as cabins, a motel and several duplex cottages. Additionally, you may rent a pontoon boat, fishing boats, swim at the freshwater swimming pool, or enjoy your own private beach with lifeguards available. Call 545-7535 for additional information.

RECREATION CENTER

Kelley Hill Recreation Center — Saturday, a spades tournament will take place at the center at 2 p.m. Interested parties should call 544-1721/3079 for additional information.

GOLF COURSE

Follow Me Golf Course — Golf lessons are available at the Follow Me Course for beginners and more advanced players as well. Lessons may be private or group. Call the golf course at 687-1940 for scheduling and pricing information.

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteer — The following volunteer opportunities are available at Fort Benning:

Publicity Coordinator — The Army Community Service has a publicity coordinator position available. Individual will edit a newsletter and a newspaper. Position will require approximately 10 hours per month, and the individual can make their own hours.

Summer day camp volunteers are needed daily and occasionally for family members with special needs. ACS will train volunteers. Free child care is available.

The Red Cross needs a blood drive chairman. The SOP and job description for this important committee is very detailed and organized. The position requires about 12 hours per month.

Girl Scouts will be training summer camp volunteers during early summer. If you want to be with your children in a rewarding experience, day camp is the place.

Literacy tutors are wanted. Tutors work one on one. Training is provided, and this is an off-post program. Interested individuals should be willing to make a six-month commitment.

For more information, call Karen Crowley at the Volunteer Resource Center, 545-5602.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES

Coaches needed — Coaches are needed for all youth sports. Interested parties should contact the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for additional information.

It is time to register children for the Youth Activities summer day camp program. Call 545-3079.

★ ★ ★

Pools — Youth Services pools will open for the 1989 swim season June 10. The pool is located on McIver Street and is open to children of active duty and retired military personnel.

★ ★ ★

Day Camp registration — Youth Services day camp registration is in process now. Children ages 6-11 years are eligible to register for day care. Cost is $28 for eight weeks/two four-week sessions. The first day camp session begins June 19.

★ ★ ★

Ballet classes — The Youth Activities Center has vacancies for ballet classes. These classes are taught by a professional dance instructor and spaces are limited. Call 545-3070 for an appointment. (MWR)

★ ★ ★

Swim Team — Sign up for the Youth Activities Swim Team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Monday through Thursday. The swim team is a year-round organization. Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for more information. (MWR)

BLOOD DRIVE

May 31 — A blood drive will be held at the 197th Infantry Brigade May 31.

OCS alumni plan meeting here

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The U.S. Army Officer Candidate Alumni Association is planning a general membership meeting at Fort Benning August 30 through September 1.

Activities will include a business meeting, military demonstration, a visit with officer candidates in their battalion area, a "Turning Blue" Senior Status Review, a chance to talk with the candidates and a banquet.

There is still time to join the association and attend the general membership meeting. There are three types of membership available with all members having equal participation and benefits of the association.

Active memberships are for person of any branch of the Army who graduated from the Officer Candidate School (OCS) at Fort Benning, Ga., or the Ground General School at Fort Riley, Kan., and subscribe to the purposes for which the association was formed.

Associate membership are for officers who did not graduate from OCS but who served as cadre at the OCS at Fort Benning or Fort Riley, and subscribe to the purposes for which the association was formed.

Current dues for active or associate members are $10.00 a year or $100.00 for a lifetime membership.

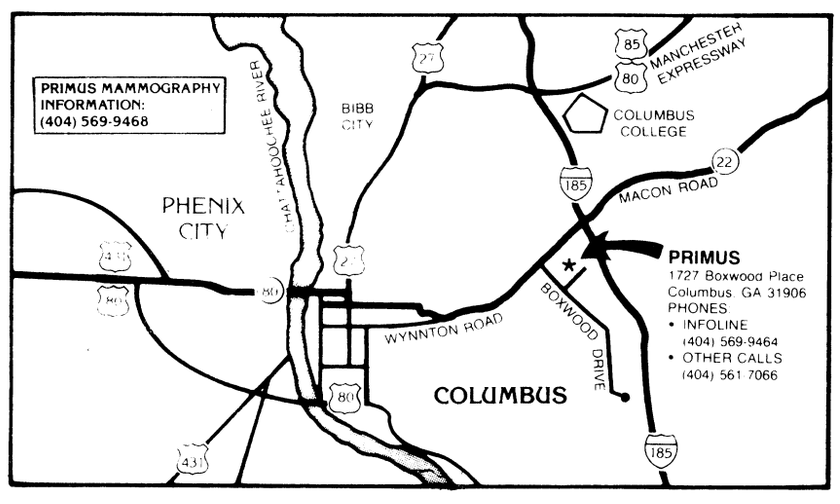
Information concerning application for membership and the general membership meeting can be obtained from the Secretary, U.S. Army Officer Candidate Alumni Association, P.O. Box 2192, Fort Benning, GA 31905 or by contacting retired 1st Lt. Chester F. Alderfer, Secretary, USAOCAA, 2311 Devonshire Drive, Columbus, Ga. 31904, telephone (404) 322-4622.

VERY BEST SHOES
Traffic Circle Shopping Center
Name Brand Shoes At A Discount Price
Babies & Childrens Shoes $5.00 up
Ladies Shoes $6.00 & up
Mens Shoes $6.00 & up
682-3567

SHOP AT HOME
Make Classified Advertising the best way to save time and gas.
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
Call 322-4500

PRIMUS

NEW ARMY PRIMUS CENTER PROVIDES WALK-IN MEDICAL CARE



PRIMUS Walk-In centers are a new approach to providing military beneficiaries access to primary health care. PRIMUS Columbus will be open 365 days each year—from 0700 to 2000 weekdays and from 0900 to 1600 Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays (Effective 10-1-88).

No appointment is necessary and there is no cost to patients for treatment and medication.

All military beneficiaries, including family members, entitled to care at military treatment facilities and enrolled in the DEERS are eligible for care. Basic laboratory and X-ray services are provided on site. Licensed and credentialed physicians and staff provide medical care.

PRIMUS Columbus is located at
1727 Boxwood Place
Columbus, GA 31906

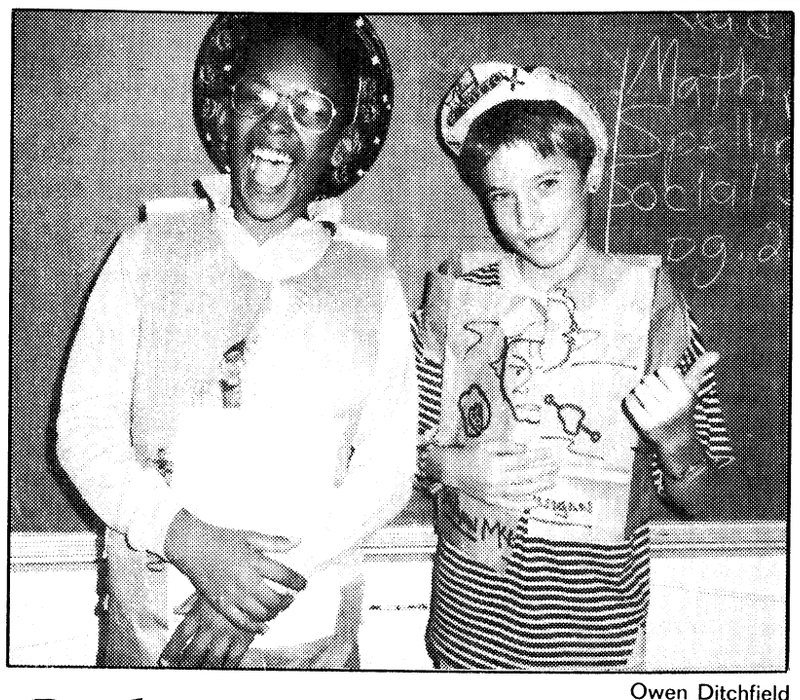
Infoline: (404) 569-9464
Other Calls: (404) 561-7066

PRIMUS Mammography Information: (404) 569-9468

Critically ill or seriously injured patients should go to a hospital emergency room.
Services are provided by PHP Healthcare Corporation, Alexandria, Virginia, under contract to the US Army Health Services Command.

Dexter 4th graders produce radio play, win merit award

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools



Dexter School fourth graders produced a radio play, "Eddie's Nightmare", which won a merit award at the Georgia Student Media Festival in Alpharetta, Georgia.

Their production was one of 10 entries from the Fort Benning Schools which advanced to state level competition; seven of those projects received outstanding or merit awards.

The purpose of the Georgia Student Media Festival is to stimulate student interest and involvement in media making. This happens as students are provided opportunities to show their work to an interested audience, to have the work critiqued by a panel of judges, and to be stimulated by the work of other students.

Students choose from categories in which they must write, produce, direct, film, tape and edit their productions.

The entries that went on to the state competition had previously been judged as winners in the local school competition, the school system competition and the district level competition which was held this year at Brookstone School.

Owen Ditchfield

Book report

These White School fifth graders in Barbara Morgan's class shows there's more than one way to make a book report. They made T-shirts which they wore as they told classmates about the books they had read.

School board elected

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

Fort Benning Schools held school board elections May 16.

The following parents were elected for two-year terms: Beth Orloff (Dexter School's representative), Kathleen Meade (Faith School's representative), Joan Cole (Loyd School's representative), and Gerhea Chuber (White School's representative).

Parents elected for one year to fill unexpired terms were: Claudia Moore (Patch School's representative) and Sgt. James Bradshaw (Wilbur School's representative).

Wilson School and McBride School representatives have one more year remaining in their two-year terms of office.

The Fort Benning School Board is a 10-member board elected by parents of children attending the schools; it meets monthly to set school district policy and provide general direction to the system.

School board members are elected for two-year terms, with each of the eight schools having a representative on the board. In addition to the eight school representatives, the board includes an elected president and chaplain. Members' terms are staggered so that the board will include experienced board members each year.

Newly elected board members will assume office on July 1. They will join the following elected board members who have one year remaining on their two-year terms. Col. Herbert Segal, president; Lt. Col. Donald McSwain, chaplain; SSgt. Richard Patrick, McBride School representative; and Jacqueline Brown, Wilson School representative.

SPIRITUAL

Memorial Day brings memories of heroic WWII chaplains

USAIC Chaplain's Office

The North Atlantic sky and a lonely, angry ocean framed the scene of four men linking arms as the S.S. Dorchester sank. It was February 3, 1943, and the world was filled with fear and death. It was World War II. The 900 men aboard the old ship were on their way to the dangerous waters of Greenland. Soon, 600 of them would be dead.

Minutes before a Nazi shell ripped through the ship, men were asleep in the ship's belly. It was hot in the cramped quarters so most of them slept in their underwear with their life jackets out of reach. The men who could not sleep played cards or conversed nervously. Four chaplains of three faiths were aboard. One was asked to bless a hand in a poker game.

"What? Me bless a lousy pair of deuces?" The chaplains all added humor whenever possible to the bleak circumstances that they all faced in the war-colored darkness.

When the deafening crash of the shell shook the ship, water poured with an incredible force. Soldiers and sailors rushed to the deck screaming. Four men did not panic. The chaplains began to distribute life jackets and direct the confused and frightened men to lifeboats.

They handed out jackets until there were no more, then they gave away their own. One survivor remembers the rabbi stopping him as he was racing back for a pair of gloves. "Here, I have two pair", said the rabbi. Of course, later the sailor realized that a man doesn't grab an extra pair of gloves when his ship is sinking beneath him.

The legend and the story has been told many times. The Chapel of Four Chaplains in Philadelphia, Pa., was dedicated in 1951 by President Harry S. Truman. People of all faiths are invited to worship there as "one there as "one nation, under God". The need for denominational preference does not exist there.

The Field of Four Chaplains at Fort Benning is located beside the Infantry Center Chapel. The chaplains are remembered as extraordinary men of God and extraordinary brothers to mankind.

This Memorial Day, the Unit Ministry Team of Fort Benning salutes:

- George L. Fox - Methodist Minister
- John P. Washington - Roman Catholic Priest
- Alexander D. Goode - Jewish Rabbi
- Clark V. Poling - Dutch Reformed Minister

Chaplains provide special service in difficult time

By Debra Galle
USAIC Chaplain's Office

The news is final. There is nothing anyone can do to change it. The soldier has died. Family members left behind must be notified. A special task group, composed of a death notification officer and a chaplain wearing dress green uniforms, is sent to the door of the family. The chaplain is present to offer comfort and support at a critical, difficult time for the family of the soldier.

The soldier may have died during peacetime or in war — nevertheless, in service to his country. It is for these soldiers Memorial Day is observed. Prayers are offered in gratitude for the great sacrifice of these soldiers.

Most of us find it difficult to comfort a friend or family member when they grieve for a lost loved one. Chaplains must learn to be flexible and supportive to many people in grief and shock throughout their entire ministry.

One of the most paradoxical roles of a chaplain is the message of life and death.

Chap. (Lt. Col.) Richard Goldsmith, Clinical Pastoral Education Director, says that in many ways, chaplains are viewed as messengers of death and of life.

"One might suspect that a death notification is due when an officer and a chaplain in dress greens show up at the door. In this context, the chaplain is viewed as a messenger of death," Chaplain Goldsmith explains.

"Yet, in the same manner, a Christian chaplain is also a messenger of life and hope through the gospel. This may seem a contradiction, but it is this contradiction that provides the productive tension upon which chaplains perform their ministry."

"In 22 years of service as a chaplain," confides Chap. (Col.) Roy N. Mathis, Installation Staff Chaplain, "The most difficult times I remember were when death notifications were made." Chaplain Mathis feels that the way to overcome this is to remain completely honest and unwavering in support. Oftentimes, the family is in shock or in a stage of denial, and the barriers to comfort may seem overwhelming.

Support of the grieving family is of the utmost importance to the chaplain. The chaplain is there to pray for and with the family. Memorial Day is filled with memories of the soldiers who died in the service of our nation.

Memorial Day is day to honor military

By James Leston
USAIC Chaplain's Office

Memorial Day is a day in which we give honor to those who died in war — those who protected our freedom, land and families. The recognition and honor given to the soldier calls out through time from every mother and father, spouse or child, who lost a loved one.

During the Civil War, southern women placed flowers on the graves of fallen Confederate and Union soldiers. This was only a small token for the lives lost in service to God and country. This principle and belief of honor and defense gives a sense of peace in the midst of tragedy.

Some may celebrate Memorial Day as a day off from work. Others may see it as a day to reflect on their personal role in protecting our freedom.

Many soldiers have received medals for bravery. Napoleon once gave all his soldiers a simple medal which read, "I was there." Everyone, regardless of rank, received the same recognition. Money could not buy these veterans the memorial which honored them.

Many civilians were also caught in the turmoil of war. In the Chapel of St. George, Westminster Abbey, is a memorial of World War II. It consists of four bound volumes containing the names of 60,000 civilians who were killed in London by enemy action. One volume lies open and a light shines down upon the names on the opened page.

To all the soldiers and civilians who paid for freedom with their lives, we give you this Memorial Day the medal of our prayers and rememberance.

CHAPEL BRIEFS

Ecumenical

Vacation Bible School — Plan now for Vacation Bible School. Classes will be held from 10 a.m. until 12:30 p.m. from June 19 to 23 at Dexter, McBride and Wilson schools. Classes will include Bible study, music, crafts, recreation and refreshments. Adult volunteers are needed. Call 545-2050 for more information.

Religious Education Center Library — Several thousand volumes of Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish material are available at the Religious Education Center Library. There are commentaries, Bible dictionaries, Bible handbooks, and many other reference books and religious material.

The library, located in the Religious Education Center, building 229, Crain Hall, is open during duty hours, Monday through Friday, and may be used for inspiration, study and research.

Protestant

The Protestant Women of the Chapel General Meeting — The General Meeting of the Protestant Women of the Chapel will be 9:30 a.m. Thursday at the Religious Education Center. New officers will be installed. Deena Toon will make a drama presentation, and Brenda Pace will provide special music. A potluck lunch will follow. Baby-sitting will be provided. For further information, contact Debra Godwin, 687-7157.

Youth Alive! — Two non-denominational youth groups meet each Sunday from 6:30 to 8 p.m. The Junior High group meets in the Infantry Center Chapel Annex, and the Senior High Group meets in the Religious Education Center. Youths are encouraged to attend for fun and Christian fellowship.

Sunday School Bus — A bus is available to transport individuals who live in McGraw Manor and Davis Hill/Bouton Heights to Sunday School at the Main Post Sunday School.

The bus begins in McGraw Manor at approximately 8:55 a.m. and proceeds through Davis Hill, Bouton Heights and on to the Religious Education Center where Sunday School is held. At approximately 10:35 a.m., the bus departs the REC and passengers are returned to pick-up points.

For more information, call 545-2366.

Catholic

Military Council of Catholic Women — The first Friday meeting for the MCCW will be held June 2 at 9:30 a.m. at the Religious Education Center. A Rosary will be followed by fellowship and a rosary-making workshop to make rosaries for our Fort Benning soldiers. Mass will be at noon at Main Post Catholic Chapel. For more information, contact Bobbie Pearce at 687-6145 or Debbie Galle at 687-2175.

SOUTH COLUMBUS UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
1213 Benning Drive
10 Minutes from Ft. Benning
Sunday School 9:45 am
Morning Worship 11:00 am
689-5094

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)
2622 Macon Road
Douglas A. Garner, Pastor
Sunday School 9:45AM
Morning Worship 11:00AM
EVERYONE WELCOME!

First Assembly of God
1309 10th Ave. at 13th St.
Phenix City, Ala.
WELCOMES ALL
Military Personnel
to worship with us.
Sunday School 9:45
Services 10:45
Evening Service 6:00pm

ROSE HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST
7479 Old Moon Road
DAVID G. SPIECE, MINISTER
• BIBLE STUDY 10:00 AM
• EVENING WORSHIP 6:30 PM
• WEDNESDAY MIDWEEK SERVICE 7:30 PM

OUR LADY OF LOURDES CATHOLIC CHURCH
Located near Ft. Benning
at 1953 Torch Hill Rd.
Phone 689-5720
SATURDAY VIGIL
MASS 5:30pm
SUNDAY MASSES
8:30am & 11:00am

NORTHSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(A New Testament Church)
1442 Double Churches Road
Sunday School 9:45am
Morning Worship 10:45am
Evening Worship 6:00pm
Spencer Arnold, Minister
324-5220

NORTH HIGHLAND ASSEMBLY OF GOD
7300 Livingston Drive Columbus, Georgia 31909
Weekly Service Schedule
Sunday School 9:30am, Worship 10:30am & 6pm
Wednesday Evening, Family Night 7:00pm
(Children & Youth Activities—Adult Bible Study)
Security Parking Nursery
Jimmy R. Swilley, Sr. Pastor For Information call (404) 561-7777

FOUR STAR PHOTO INC.
MEMORIAL DAY SPECIAL
10% Off All Purchases
1 Hour Photo Service
at Main PX Mall Bldg. 9230
682-9787
24 Hour Drop Off & Pick Up Services Available At:
• Bldg. 10800 Custer Terrace Shopette
• Bldg. 3218 Sand Hill PX Mall
• Bldg. 4 Infantry Hall PX
• Bldg. 1711 Main Post Mini Mall
• Bldg. 9002 Kelly Hill PX

Experts: safety belts may prevent 50% of car fatalities

Infantry Branch Safety Office

Imagine a vaccine which would prevent one-half of all cancer fatalities in the United States every year; yet are ignored by many Americans because it was "too much trouble" to take.

Imagine a national epidemic responsible for 50,000 deaths and millions of injuries, killing more people under age 45 than cancer or heart disease, at $500 billion costs to our economy.

Imagine that a vaccine was available to prevent many of the epidemic's casualties. It was within arm's reach, free, at our fingertips; yet 50 percent of Americans did not use it.

The epidemic is auto accidents. The vaccine is the safety belt.

Safety belts have been required in all cars since 1968. When properly used by all vehicle occupants, safety experts estimate they would prevent more than 50 percent of occupant deaths 320,000 injuries in automobile collisions. That's more than 17,000 lives and 175,000 injuries preventable every year. Yet, studies conducted for NHTSA reveal that only 50 percent of the American public uses them. Why the resistance?

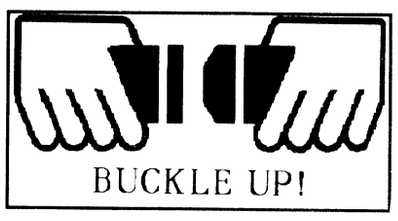
A National Safety Belt Study, commissioned by NHTSA, identified two main reasons for their nonuse; first, people do not recognize the risks inherent in occupying an automobile. They take their car rides for granted, finding excuses like "I don't think of it," or "I don't have the time," or "I'm too lazy."

Second, those who do recognize the risks have created some powerful myths to justify their nonuse. Most powerful of the myths is the "I don't want to be trapped in my car" syndrome.

Consider John Fitness. He jogs everyday, watches his weight and doesn't smoke. Yet, his safety belt lies buried beneath his seat, unused, gathering dust. He clearly does not perceive his automobile as posing the same health threats as cigarettes, poor diet, or lack of exercise. He does not understand that the force on his body of a 10 mile per hour collision is equivalent to a 200 pound bag of cement dropped from a one-story window. Would he volunteer to catch that bag?

Those Americans who do recognize the risks have developed some powerful excuses for not wearing their belts. The myths are strong. They have permitted the epidemic to continue unbated for many years.

Consider myth Number One: "I don't want to be trapped in my car by my safety belt if the car becomes submerged or catches fire." According to government statistics, only one-half of one percent of all accidents involve submersion or fire. Such violent accidents make good television and movie drama, but are grossly misleading. In those few cases when it does occur, occupants secured in their seats are 25 times more likely to remain conscious after the accident, able to take necessary action to set themselves free.



Or myth Number Two: "I can lean forward and touch my head to the dashboard when I'm wearing my safety belt, so there is no way it can help me in a car accident." Safety belts are designed to allow occupants to move freely inside the car. A latching device within the belt mechanism locks the belt in place only when the car decelerates suddenly. The device keeps the occupants from hitting the car's interior or being ejected. It is there when it is needed.

Or myth Number Three: "I just do not believe it will happen to me" — the "Other guy" syndrome. NHTSA statistics show that each of us can expect to be in a crash once every 10 years. For one out of 20 of us, it will be a serious crash. For one out of 60, it will be fatal.

Or myth Number Four: "I only need to wear them for long trips, or high speed driving." The fact is 75 percent of deaths and injuries occur less than 26 miles from our homes, at speeds under 40 miles per hour.

Statistically, 172 persons will be saved annually for every one percentage point increase in belt usage. Only the lack of risk perception and a series of unfounded myths stand in the way. Imagine that.

Buckle up! It's the law

By Barry Price
Provost Marshal Office

We worry and wonder about the "atomic age"; we anticipate the glamour and convenience of the "space age."

But in a very practical sense, we're still living in the "motor vehicle age."

The good, old automobile, which has been with us since the early part of the century, is now the most important form of day-to-day travel for most people.

According to the Federal Highway Administration, there are 139 million motor vehicles in this country, and the number is still growing.

Unfortunately, more cars means more drivers which in turn means more traffic accidents.

How many of you have said, "I don't need a safety belt when I'm traveling at low speeds or going a short distance?"

You can't believe every story flying around these days.

The truth is that all driving can be dangerous. More than 80 percent of all accidents occur at speeds less than 40 mph. Fatalities involving nonbelted occupants of cars have been recorded at as low as 12 MPH.

That's about the speed you'd be driving in a parking lot.

Three out of four accidents causing death occur within 25 miles of your home.

Buckle up every time you enter your automobile.

How many of you have said, "It takes too much time and trouble to fasten a safety belt?"

In reality, fastening your safety belt may take some time and trouble — but not too much. It all depends on:

- How well you know how to use your belt.
- How difficult it is to find the belt ends.

When you remember to buckle up, you make a great contribution to highway safety every time you drive or ride in a car.

Remember only fairy tales live forever. You won't.

So do all you can to live longer.

Make it a habit, "buckle up."

"Buckle-Up America" week stresses use of safety belt

Infantry Branch Safety Office

The Department of Transportation and the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration has designated this week as "Buckle-Up America" Week.

This annual campaign is endorsed by the president of the United States and the Secretary of Defense. The Army joins in this concerted effort to save lives through the use of safety belts and child restraints.

Since the beginning of FY 88, 108 soldiers have died in privately owned vehicle accidents. Two out of three may still be alive if they had worn safety belts.

Army Regulation 385-55 requires soldiers to use safety belts at all times while driving or riding in any motor vehicle. It is also the law in 32 states and the District of Columbia.

The U.S. Army Safety Center has available updated educational and promotional materials in the Army Family Accident Prevention Program packet and a kit entitled "Tools to Promote POV Safety."

To obtain a copy, contact Robyn McCown, autovon 558-3075.

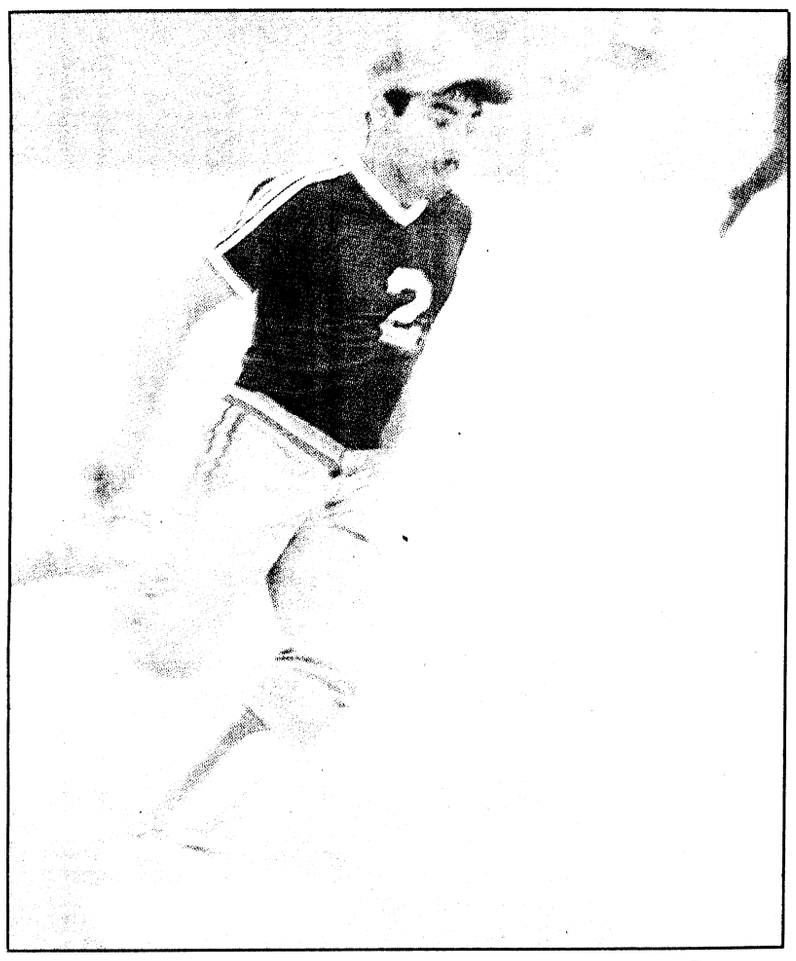
CROWDS AND CROWDS OF READY BUYERS
Ledger-Enquirer Classified
322-4500
It Makes A Lasting Impression

Econo Self Storage
4483 Victory Drive
404-682-3803
FORT BENNING
FOR THE MILITARY
Storage while TDY
Foot locker storage
Motorcycles
Boats
Personal effects
Bivouac
Permanent party storage
UNIT SIZES AVAILABLE
Lockers 5(W) x 5(D) x 4(H)
5x10 10x10 $20 up 5x5 10x20
Call Now to Reserve Your Space
For Your Business or Family Items—Short or Long Term

R&R
Rich Taste, Right Price
A good value just got better.
Look for special coupons on cartons
in your commissary and exchange.
Richland
KING SIZE
20 CIGARETTES
LIGHTS 100's
Richland, USA
Taste the richness of America.
SURGEON GENERAL'S WARNING: Smoking By Pregnant Women May Result in Fetal Injury, Premature Birth, And Low Birth Weight.

Sports

Post soccer champions of last four years finally defeated in tight championship game.



See B-4

Entertainment

Amusement park offers a variety of activities including swimming, miniature golf, canoeing, paddle boating and circuses.

See B-5

Ron Allen

Rounding the bases

Leslie Baez, from the 598th Maint. Co., rounds third on his way home. The 598th won this opening game of the post softball season.

DA program combats compensation costs

Army News Service

The continued rise in civilian injuries and illness compensation costs has become a matter of growing concern throughout Training and Doctrine Command and the Army.

Under the Federal Employees Compensation Act employees incurring job-related injuries or illnesses may receive compensation while unable to work. However, injuries and compensation costs have risen to the point where the Army can no longer afford to ignore these rising costs and corresponding loss of productivity.

According to Bob Browne, FECA program manager at Headquarters TRADOC, the Army's fiscal year 1988 compensation bill from the Department of Labor is $120.4 million, a 6.8 percent increase over FY 87. TRADOC's portion of the bill is $10.2 million.

To combat this problem, on Oct. 1, 1988, Department of the Army launched a five-year program titled "Conservation of Civilian Resources (FY 89-93)," designed to reduce FECA rolls and compensation costs in all categories by two percent per year. The TRADOC program goals exceed the percentage goals established by DA. TRADOC wants to achieve a 5 percent reduction in FECA claims in FY 89. It also wants a 2.5 percent reduction in FECA claims each succeeding four years, or a total of 15 percent reduction in four areas:

- Total compensation.
- Long-term injury cases.
- Number of days of continuation of pay.
- New lost time injury rate.

Browne said several incentives exist for installations to meet FECA reduction goals.

- Money saved by DA will be passed down to installations.
- Worker turnover at the installations should decrease.
- Continuation of pay will be reduced.
- DA penalties will not be invoked in FY 89. After FY 89, money lost because of high FECA claims will be taken from the major command/installations' budgets.

Reducing injuries to employees and costs of civilian FECA-compensation are primary goals of DA and TRADOC. Experience indicates that accident prevention and early supervisory intervention are two ways of achieving cost reduction, said Raymond Michael, TRADOC Civilian Personnel director.

"Supervisory enforcement of safe working practices and conditions is essential for success," Michael said. "Supervisory involvement, both immediately after and shortly following an accident or injury, is critical to reducing days of continuation of pay and days of lost wages."

Chuck Welcher, of the TRADOC Safety Office, said that safety's role in reducing FECA claims focuses on preventing

See FECA B-2

ARNG dominates combat phase of small arms championships

By Sally Roberts
U.S. Army Marksmanship Unit

Members of the Army National Guard dominated the majority of the shooting events during the combat phase of this year's U.S. Army Small Arms Championships held at Fort Benning from May 15 through 21.

The combat matches began last Monday with Brig. Gen. William M. Steele, Deputy Commander of Fort Benning, officially opening the matches and firing the first shot ceremony.

More than 300 of the top military marksmen representing the Army, Army Reserve and National Guard competed in the championships.

On the M60 machine gun range, former All Army champion, Sgt. Norman Plaat, Michigan Army National Guard, outdistanced the field to win the individual championship for the second time in his career.

His two-day total of 1,386 points was more than 80 points ahead of another National Guardsman, Sgt. Grant Hysell, California ARNG.

In the M60 team event, last year's winner from the California ARNG came back to win their second straight team championship.

Second place went to the Michigan ARNG, while the Alabama ARNG came in third.

This year's individual combat pistol champion, Sgt. David Kaigle from the Vermont ARNG, is also a former all-Army winner.

His score of 2,669 was six points ahead of SSgt. Millard Butler, who finished with 2,653. One point back at 2,652 was the third-place finisher, SSgt. Addison Clark, Montana ARNG.

The combat pistol team winner with a total of 753 points, was the team from HHC, 4th Bn, 325th Abn. Inf. Regt., Fort Bragg, N.C.

Winning team members were Spec. Jonathan Stoner and Spec. Phillip Quade.

Finishing in second place, was last year's winning team from the U.S. Army Sniper School at Fort Benning. Team members included SSgt. Teddy Anderson and Sgt. Scott Raitt, with a score of 720 points.

Third place also went to the U.S. Army Sniper School. Its team was composed of SSgt. James Harris and Capt. David Annis, at 670 points.

This year's all-Army Championships will continue with National Match Rifle and Pistol events to be held through today. More than 400 competitors are expected at Phillips Range for pistol events and McAndrew Range for rifle matches.

Complete scores and final results for the combat phase of the all-Army matches are as follows:

Combat Pistol

Sgt. David Kaigle, Vt. ARNG 2,659

SSgt. Millard Butler, Vt. ARNG 2,653

SSgt. Addison Clark, Mont. ARNG 2,652

Patton Pistol Team

186th Forward Spt. Bn., Vt. ARNG 1,687

2nd Bn, 163rd Cav., Mont. ARNG 1,640

194th Armd. Bde., Fort Knox, Ky. 1,596

Combat Pistol Team

194th Armd Bde, Fort Knox, Ky. 1,166

2nd Bn., 163rd Cav., Mont. ARNG 1,159

186th Forward Spt. Bn., Vt. ARNG 1,144

M60 Machinegun

Sgt. Norman Plaat, Mich. ARNG 1,386

Sgt. Grant Hysell, Calif. ARNG 1,298

Sgt. David Binford, Tenn. ARNG 1,287

M60 Team

Co. B, 340th Spt. Bn., Calif. ARNG 4,075

3rd Bn., 126th Inf., Mich. ARNG 3,809

Co. B, 31st Spt. Bn., Ala ARNG 3,256

Combat Rifle (M16)

SSgt. David Kerin, Pa. ARNG 712

SSgt. Howard Hawley, Wis. ARNG 691

Spec. William Walls, 1st Bn., 504th PIR 689

Combat Infantry Rifle Team

1st Bn., 504th PIR, 82nd Abn. Div. 1,127

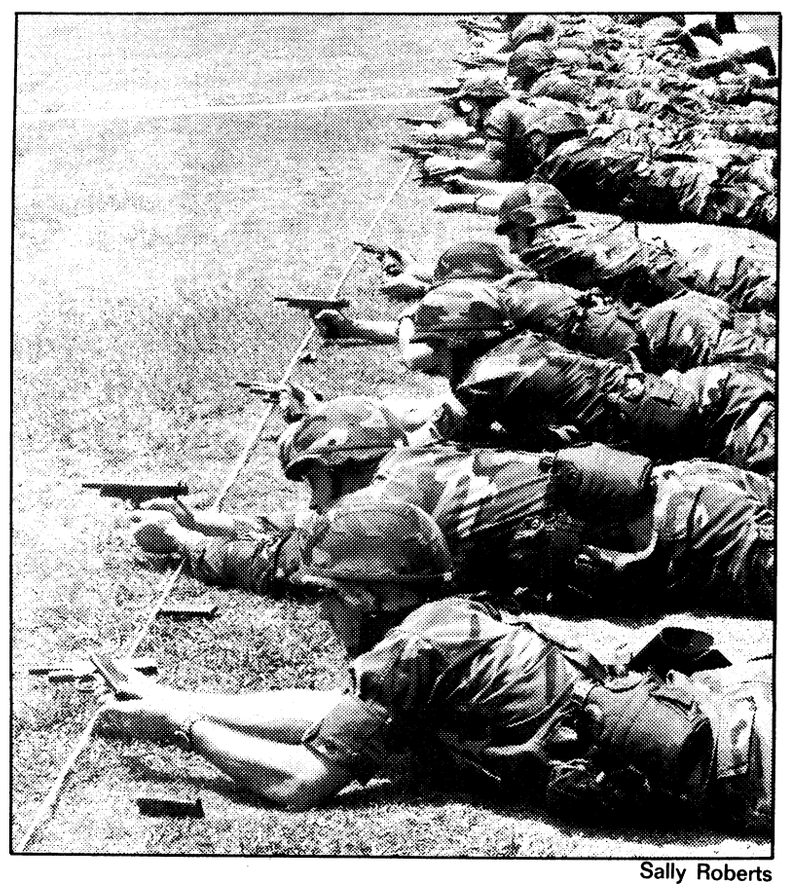
186th Forward Spt. Bn., Vt. ARNG 1,087

28th Sig. Bn., Pa. ARNG 1,061

Precision Combat Rifle Team

Co. B, 132nd Spt. Bn., Wis. ARNG 1,344

1st Bn., 504th PIR, 82nd Abn. Div. 1,331



186th Forward Spt. Bn., Vt. ARNG 1,325

Sniper Rifle 2-Man Team

HHC, 4th Bn., 325th Abn. Inf. Regt. 753

Team #2, U.S. Army Sniper School 720

Team #1, U.S. Army Sniper School 670

Sally Roberts

Pistol competitors prepare to fire from the prone position.

Sally Roberts

A soldier removes a hot barrel from an M60 machine gun.

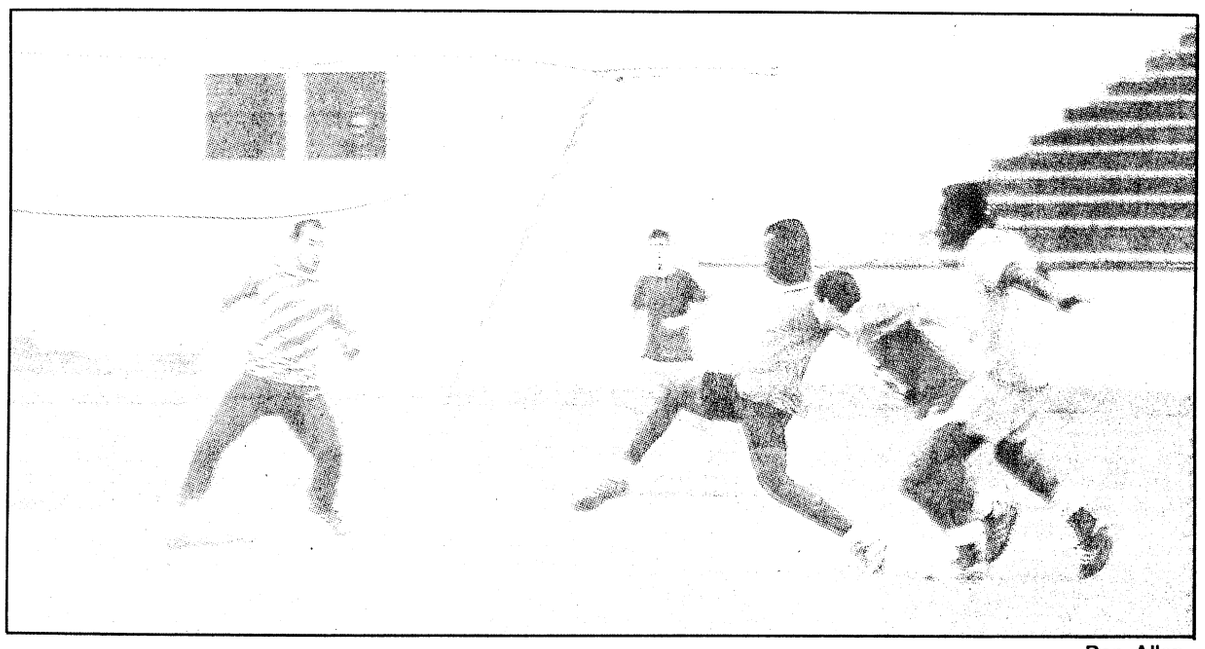
Sally Roberts

A competitor takes aim at targets from 25 yards during the Combat Pistol Match of the U.S. Army Small Arms Championships.

Taking electricity for granted can be physically harmful

By Becky Ray
Energy Branch

Because electricity is used so extensively in our homes and work places, we often take it for granted, forgetting the dangers of working with it carelessly. Electricity, when used improperly or when safety precautions aren't taken, can cause damage to the body ranging from burns to respiratory arrest, nerve damage, cardiac arrest and death. Electricity is, after all, raw power.



Electric shock will occur if a person becomes a part of an electrical circuit, either by touching two wires in a closed circuit, touching one wire of an energized circuit and a ground, or touching a metal piece of equipment that has become energized ("hot") and a ground.

Many factors can influence the degree to which a person is injured from an electrical shock, but the amount of electrical current and the length of time the body is exposed to it are major factors. A shock of only five milliamperes can be felt but is usually not painful. At six to 30 milliamperes, the body experiences a painful shock, and loses control of muscles, although muscle contractions may cause the person to be thrown from the current. At a level of current higher than 30 milliamperes, the victim can't let go of the live wire. A shock of one or more ampere can cause cardiac arrest, nerve damage and death.

Even small household appliances can deliver shocks much more intense than this. For example, hair dryers commonly use about five amperes, which means they can deliver a shock five times greater than one which can kill.

Other bodily damage can result from electrical shocks as well. Internal hemorrhages and

See ENERGY B-2

Ron Allen

Winning goal

Dominick Chouloute, from the 197th Inf. Bde., blasts in the winning goal of the post soccer championship. See B-4 for the story and more photos.

1/29th's new commander arrives from Fort Monroe

Ann McDonald

Lt. Col. John A. Spears accepts the 1st Bn., 29th Inf. colors and to take command of the unit.

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Members of the 1st Battalion, 29th Infantry Regiment have a new pioneer in their midst to lead them to new frontiers in training.

Lt. Col. John A. Spears was handed the reins by Lt. Col. Robert Tesdahl in a ceremony conducted on Artillery Field May 19.

During Spears' inaugural speech, he said, "I am honored to have been given the opportunity to be the temporary steward of this great organization and you fine soldiers."

He added that as he sees it, soldiers are not "in" a battalion. They are the battalion, and he hoped he would be able to earn the soldiers' trust and respect."

Spears said Tesdahl was going to be a tough act to follow.

"I hope to be able to continue to achieve our goal of excellence," he said, "with well established priorities as our road map and standards and caring leadership as our trademark."

Spears comes to Benning with he wife, Susan, and sons, Shane and Ryan. His last position was with the Commanders Planning Group, Headquarters, Training and Doctrine Command, Fort Monroe, Va.

Army names TRADOC soldier as 'Retention NCO of the Year'

Army News Service

A Training and Doctrine Command soldier has been named the Army's top retention NCO for 1988.

Sgt. 1st Class Robert J. Green, 61st Ordnance Brigade, Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., will receive the Secretary of the Army's Retention NCO of the Year award at a Pentagon ceremony June 22.

The 36-year-old Boston native was nominated based on performance that "surpassed his peers in every respect. He knows the mission and goes about accomplishing it in a manner unequaled by any other noncommissioned officer in his field," according to the letter of nomination.

That letter only scratched the surface of Green's performance, according to Sgt. Maj. Donnell Watkins, a member of the three-man team that selected Green as TRADOC's 1988 active component retention NCO of the year. "He's a fast burner, obviously dedicated to soldiers and his own professionalism," Watkins said.

Watkins said Green is in touch with the good soldiers of the brigade long before they are scheduled to make their reenlistment or termination-of-service decisions. "He's there to advise them about their career choices and guide them along routes that will qualify them for jobs or duty stations that might convince them to stay in the Army," Watkins explained.

He added that soldiers often lack knowledge of the proper courses to take to improve their various test scores, which might make them eligible for their chosen service schools. It is in this area that Green readily lends his expertise.

"Green tries to get commanders and NCOs at all levels involved in the retention process, and that is just what we want to see in the TRADOC program. As a career counselor, he's not just giving lip service. He looks out for the soldiers' welfare; he makes it work."

Energy

Continued from B-1

severe burns to skin or internal tissues and bones may occur. Electrical current passing through internal tissue and bone cause the most serious type of burn. Involuntary muscle reactions can result in collisions or falls which may lead to bone fractures, bruises, cuts and even death.

Shock isn't the only hazard of electricity. Damaged or incorrect wiring can cause arcing, resulting in fires or explosions. High voltage arcs can cause even relatively heavy pieces of equipment to explode, throwing shards of metal in all directions.

The best protection we have against an electrical accident is the use of safety precautions and good work practices.

Make a habit of checking the equipment and tool wiring insulation, especially on flexible cords. Temperature, moisture and corrosive chemicals or fumes can damage insulation. Be certain all electrical equipment is in good working order, and practice good judgment in working with it. When making repairs to equipment, make sure the equipment is de-energized.

Never alter or try to intentionally bypass circuit breakers and fuses. They are used to monitor the amount of electricity flowing through a circuit. If too much current passed through the circuit breaker, it will trip, stopping the current. In the same way, fuses will melt through, interrupting the flow of electricity.

Grounding of equipment can substantially reduce the danger of electrical shock. A service or system ground (with which the system is protected at the service entrance) protects equipment, but the equipment ground (with which the individual piece of equipment is grounded) protects the person using the equipment. Generally, grounding wires are green or green with yellow stripes, and grounded conductors are insulted in white or gray. Never disconnect green ground wires or break ground prongs off plugs.

Stay away from fallen power lines. Report them immediately to the DEH Work Order Section, 545-2135 (if on Fort Benning).

When operating ladders or cranes, keep clear of power lines. Unless you are qualified, keep a distance of at least 10 feet from overhead.

Kites should be flown as far away from power lines as possible and never on rainy days (a wet kite string is an excellent conductor). If the kite string becomes entangled in a power line, leave it there, and report it to DEH.

Keep small children away from electrical outlets and appliances and use outlet protectors in exposed outlets. Keep pets away from electrical cords — puppies and kittens can chew through wire insulation.

Never use electrical appliances in or near water unless the appliance was designed specifically for use in water.

Emergency aid for electrical burns or electrical shock include first shutting off the current. If necessary, get the victim away from the electrical source, using dry wood or another non-conductive material. Check the pulse and make sure the victim is breathing, using cardio pulmanary recesitation if necessary. Keep the victim warm and seek immediate medical attention.

Electricity plays an essential role in our daily lives at home and at work. It's a resource that, by nature, is powerful and potentially dangerous. Individuals have the responsibility to ensure, through common sense and practicing safety, that it is used to our benefit and doesn't become a hazard.

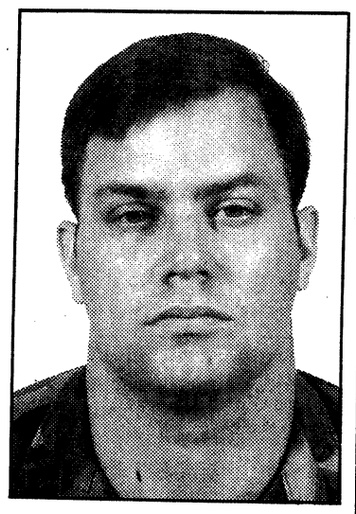
FECA

Continued from B-1

new claims, which is a very important part of reducing future costs associated with FECA. One method of doing this is to analyze current claims and identify adverse trends.

For example, safety would identify location, types of injuries, where, when and how the injuries occurred. The training and safety programs will be geared toward reducing and minimizing accidents and injuries in those areas.

"We can induce safe behavior and safe performance by recognizing organizations and individuals who actively support safety on a day-to-day basis," Welcher said. Examples of innovative programs to do this are awards, commanders' personal recognition, savings bonds, etc.

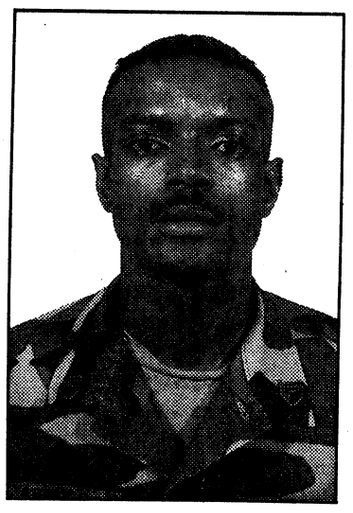


"Our goal is to reduce the number of new lost time claims, and eventually zero them out completely," Welcher said.

TRADOC is currently focusing on safety program evaluation atthe installation level. The evaluation includes:

- Annually evaluating each organization.
- Conducting on-site inspections.
- Reviewing FECA claims.
- Assembling trend analysis statistics.

"The five percent reduction goals must be achieved with a concerted effort by all. Together we can win this one," Browne said.



USAIS Instructors of the Month

Capt. Ronald J. Pulignani Jr.
Combined Arms and Tactics

SFC Clarence Dumas III
Co. A, 2nd Bn., 29th Inf. Regt.

SSgt. Calvin L. Barnes
CATD, Leadership Div.

DON'T

Spend Hours Shopping The Aisles For Bargains

SHOP OUR PAGES FIRST

It pays!

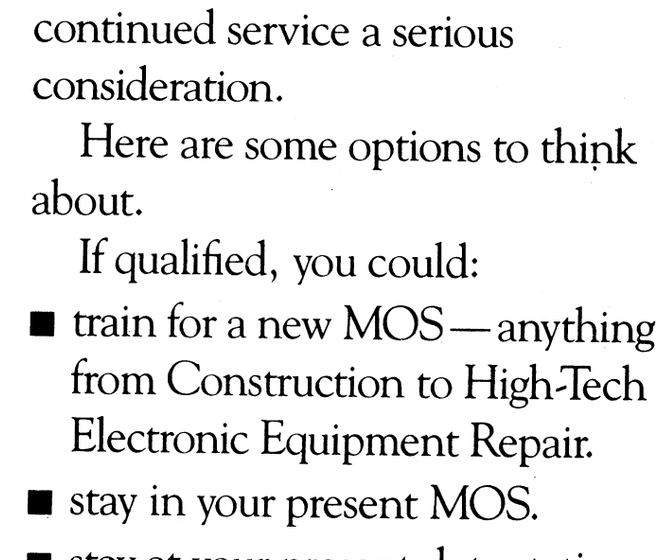
Ledger-Enquirer Ads

REENLIST
UNITED STATES ARMY

Fort Benning

THE ARMY OFFERS MORE OPTIONS THAN YOU'RE AWARE OF.

When planning for the future, it's always best to know what your options are. This is especially true if your present enlistment time is growing short.



The Army, like any large organization, wants to keep its good people. To do this, we offer a variety of opportunities that make continued service a serious consideration.

Here are some options to think about.

If qualified, you could:

- train for a new MOS — anything from Construction to High-Tech Electronic Equipment Repair.
- stay in your present MOS.
- stay at your present duty station.
- change to a new duty station.
- be eligible for a reenlistment bonus.

It is worthwhile to investigate your reenlistment options. Come talk to us. And bring your spouse, too.

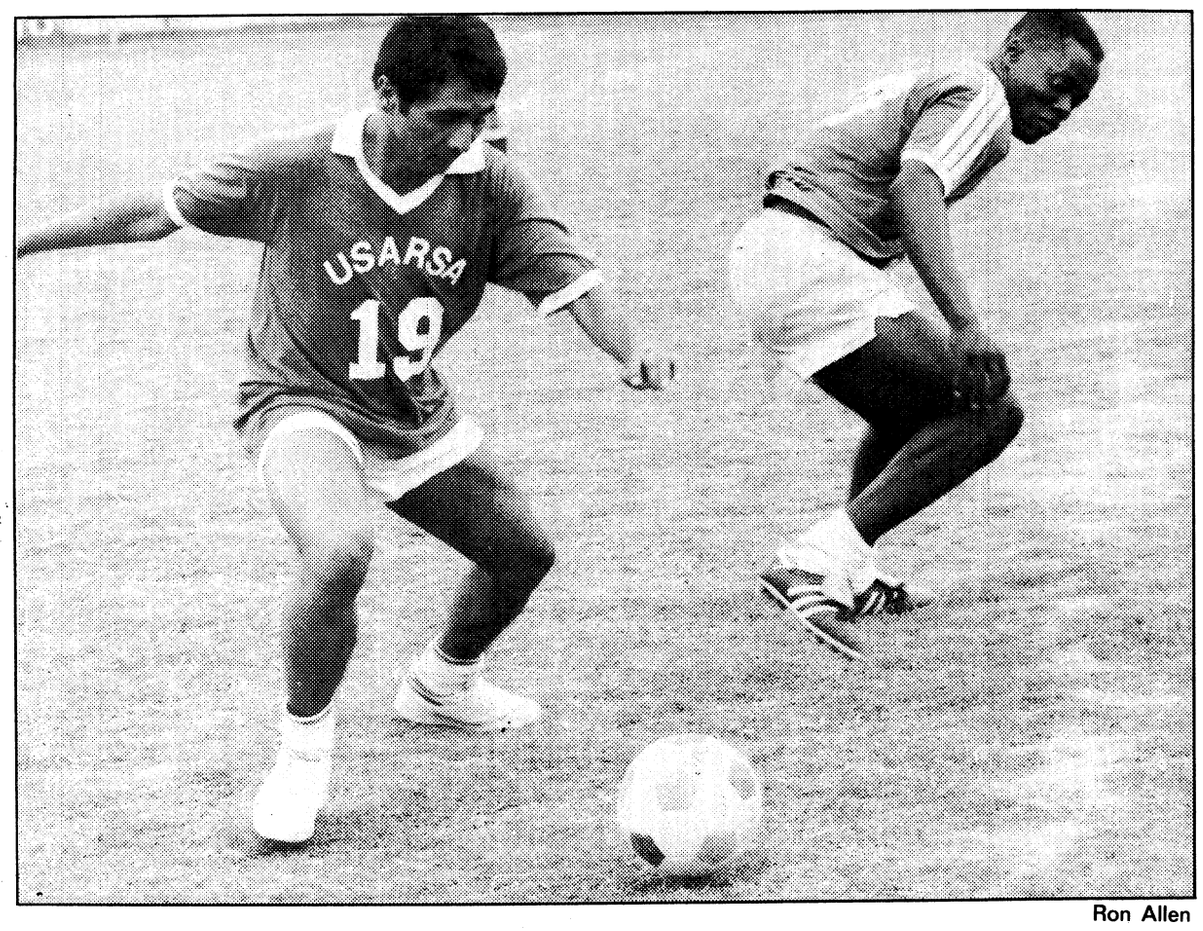
SSG Angela Watson, Career Counselor
36th Engineer Gp., 67th Maint Bn
PH: 545-7388 Bldg 2821

ARMY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.® REENLIST.

IF YOU'RE NOT BORED WITH ORD...

IF THINGS ARE STILL GOOD AT HOOD...

IF YOU'D MISS THE FOLK AT POLK...



We've got the reenlistment option for you. If you like where you are, and what you're doing, you should check out the Current Station Stabilization Option.

You can reenlist for two, three, four, five, or six years. If you qualify, this option guarantees you'll be assigned to your present duty, at your present location, for up to 12 months CONUS, or overseas for 24 months. You can meet new challenges and find excitement at a place you know and with people you enjoy.

For many people, sometimes the best move is to stay right where they are. For more information on the Current Station Stabilization Option, speak to your Retention NCO.

REENLIST ARMY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.®

SPORTS

Ron Allen

Rudy Diaz, #19 of USARSA, and Dominick Chouloute, from the 197th Inf. Bde., prepare to pounce on the ball during the post championship game.

197th dumps USARSA

By Aurelio Feliberty
197th Infantry Brigade

The 197th Infantry Brigade soccer team recently took the post championship title away from the U.S. Army School of Americas by a close score of 2-1.

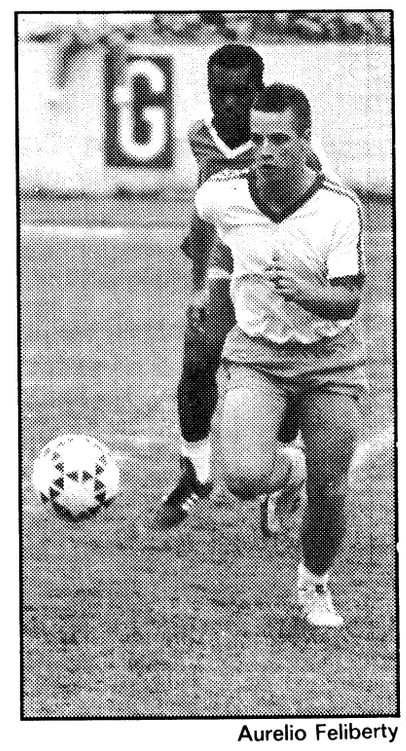
USARSA had been the reigning, unchallenged champion for the last four years at Fort Benning.

"We played a beautiful game; we were very confident out there, and we felt we could beat anyone," said Amos Remy of the 197th.

This confident attitude was reflective of both teams, as the pregame fee ing was that this game was going to be a challenging matchup because of the impressive seasonal records.

USARSA went into the championship game undefeated while the 197th lost only one game during the season. Although the game started out fast and furious, the first goal, scored by USARSA, didn't come until 40 minutes in.

USARSA's lead held up until the 197th's Toby Bush hit a headshot into the net to knot the score at 1-1.



The scored remained tied until the 197th kicked the winning goal with 10 minutes left in the game.

Janmichael Graine, coach of the 197th was confident of his team winning the finals when they won the semi-finals, held the day prior to the finals.

"The semi-finals, between us and the Medical Detachment, was the keystone to our approach to the finals," said Graine. "Because of our pounding of MEDDAC by a score of 7-2, we were geared for the championship style play of USARSA."

Jeff Wood of the 197th said, "We practiced everday and we felt confident that we would beat both teams."

"We played MEDDAC well, however, we knew we needed to play better against USARSA in the finals," said Steve Charlot of the 197th.

Aurelio Feliberty

Mike Tatum, MEDDAC, chases the ball during the semi-final game against the 197th.

Maintenance downs transportation, 12-8, in softball season opener

By Ron Allen
USAIC Public Affairs

598th Maintenance Company outmanuvered 533rd Transportation Company, 12-8, in their 1989 softball season opener May 18 on Engineer Field.

"We made a few mistakes but we came back from them," said Larry T. Garner, the 598th coach. "We're going to get better as the season progresses, I guarantee it."

"I've been running them to death during afternoon batting practice," Garner said. "I think we could go all the way this season."

Garner will be leaving for Fort Ord, Calif. soon and Jimmy Harris will be taking over as coach. Harris was the winning pitcher during the battle with the 533rd.

"I wanted to keep the ball high and inside to choke the batters," Harris said, "That would keep them popping it up for the easy outs. If you put the ball in the center that's when they start getting hits."

"The umpires sure had a tough time out here today," Harris said. "They kept me guessing on every pitch what the call was going to be."

"With Harris's pitching and the way the wind was blowing in, there wasn't going to be too many batters hitting out that far," Garner said. "We kept our people in close for that reason."

The 533rd did stage a final inning rally with three runs but were held by the 598th defense. "We'll get better as the season progresses," said Bobby Coleman, the 533rd coach. "We just didn't have the time to prepare for this game. We just got back from NTC (National Training Center)."

Youth fishing rodeo June 10 at Russ Pond

Youth Services

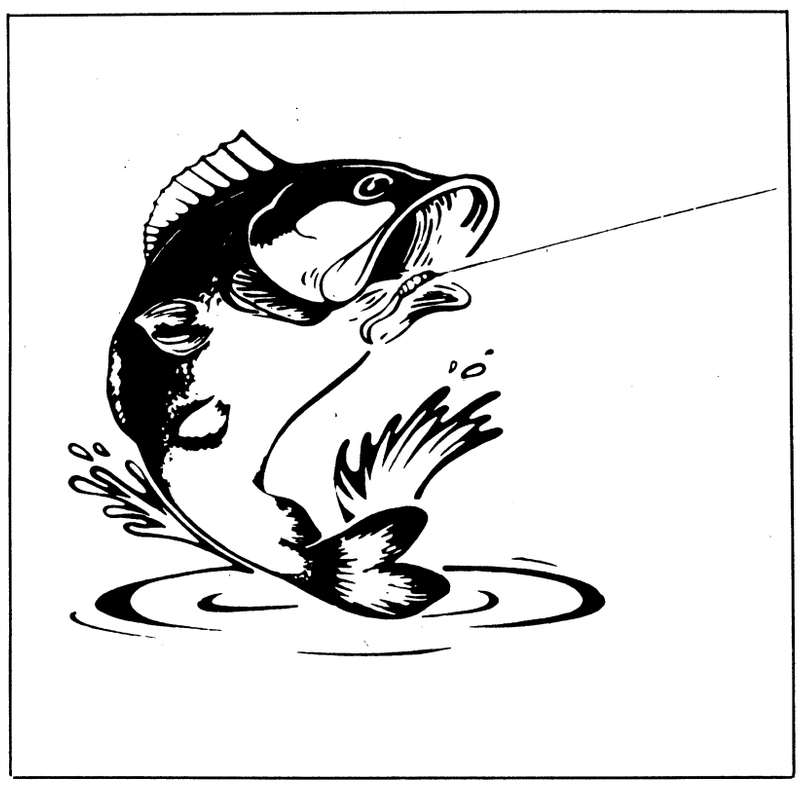
The 1989 Youth Fishing Rodeo will be held June 10 at Russ Pond in celebration of National Fishing Week which is June 5 through 11.

The rodeo, which will run from 9 to 11:30 a.m., is free and open to children ages 5 through 15 of active duty, retired and Department of Defense civilians.

Participants are required to register for the rodeo and may do so Monday through Friday, at Youth Services, building 105, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m, prior to June 10. A late registration will be held the day of the rodeo.

In order to help make the rodeo a success, the Georgia Department of Natural Resources, by contract, has stocked the pond with 2,000 cat fish.

Drawings will be held throughout the day for prizes such as camping and fishing equipment.



Prizes will also be awarded for winners in three catagories. largest single bream by weight, largest string by number and largest catfish by weight.

All participants will be required to check in with the Fort Benning Bass Club before leaving the rodeo to get a accurate count of participants and fish caught during the rodeo.

For more information, call 545-3070/3913.

Crank baits not just for deep-water fishing

By Earl Bentz & Steve Price
Outboard Marine Corporation

Crankbaits — those big-billed bass lures that look for bass at depths down to 20 feet — aren't just for deep water. They're effective in shallow water, too, and even in hook-grabbing vegetation.

"Of course, you have to be careful how you use a crankbait in shallow vegetation," explains Johnson Outboards Pro Staff member Fredda Lee. "But with a few adjustments in your fishing style you can bring a crankbait right through heavy cover.

"One of my favorite places to fish crankbaits is in fields of lily pads where fish hide around the stalks."

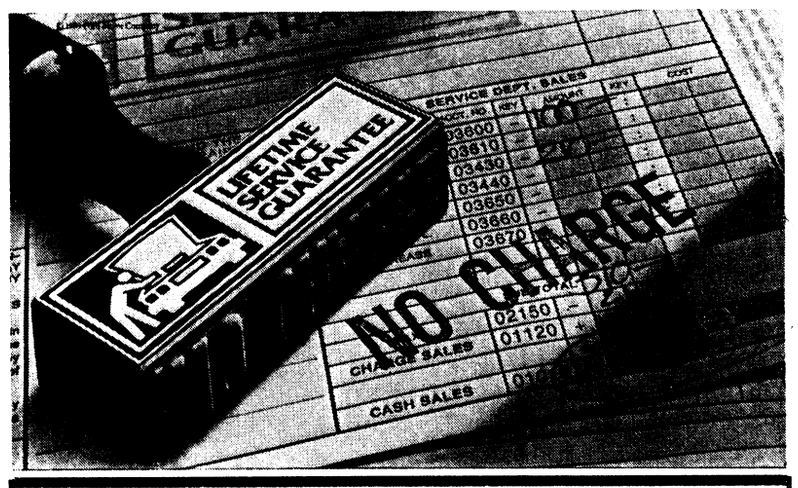
Crankbaiting lily pads requires a certain style of lure, says Lee, as well as the ability to "read" the cover.

"By reading the cover," the popular angler explains, "I mean learning to look for smaller patches of lily pads, little avenues or runways through those pads, and points along the edges of the pads.

"Basically, you read lily pad fields just like you read grasslines or standing timber," the Johnson pro continues. "Look for something a little different rather than trying to fish the entire field of pads. Pay attention to the bottom, too, and look for a depth change."

Lee's crankbait choice in a lily pad field is a smaller model, usually one with a short, squared bill. She doesn't want a deep-running lure because she believes most lily pad bass are suspended only a foot or two below the surface.

"The key to fishing crankbait through pads," she says, "is a very slow, deliberate retrieve. Use your rod tip to help guide the plug through the cover, and stop reeling periodically just to lake the lure appear more like a baitfish stopping to rest.



"If the lure snags, give some slack line, then jerk your rod sharply upward. The lure's hooks, rather than digging deeper into the lily pad stalk, will split the stalk and pull free."

For this type of fishing, Lee uses 12 to 17-pound test line and a fairly stiff rod. The heavier line also helps her bring big bass out when she hooks them.

"The slow retrieve is really important," she emphasizes. "It not only gives you better control of the lure with your rod, it also lets the lure stay in front of fish longer.

"One of the best times to fish lily pad fields like this is during unsettled weather when the bass are not really active."

DISCOUNT AUTO GLASS
2315 - 2nd Ave.
323-4604
10% Military Discount
We Install Glass In Both Domestic And Foreign Cars

Ford maintains that the first time you pay for a repair should also be the last.

The Lifetime Service Guarantee means you'll never pay twice for a covered repair-parts or labor-for as long as you own your car.

No ifs, ands or buts.

Only participating Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers can offer this kind of Peace of Mind. And only Ford, Lincoln, or Mercury owners can get it.

Once your dealer makes a covered repair on your car, he guarantees that if the same repair is needed again, he'll do it free. For as long as you own your vehicle, whether it's new or used.

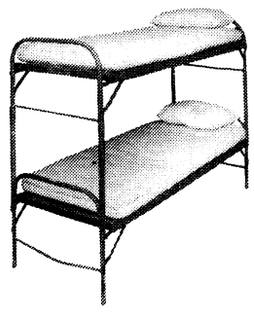
The lifetime Service Guarantee covers thousands of repairs. And it's backed by certified technicians and quality Ford Motorcraft parts.

Developed by Ford Motorcraft parts.

Developed by Ford Motor Company, this limited warranty is another example of the Quality Care programs offered by Ford and Lincoln-Mercury dealers.

Nobody guarantees car repairs longer. Or better. Quite simply, it's America's best car repair guarantee.

Come in and ask for a copy. It's the quality guarantee that can help stamp out your car repair bills forever.

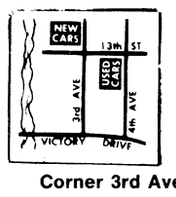


QUALITY CARE FOR QUALITY CARS — FORD MERCURY LINCOLN

For more on SPORTS see page B-6

Don't Spend Hours
Shopping The Aisles
For Bargains
Shop Our Pages First
It Pays!
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

R&R on a VOQ budget. No bunk.



At the Ramada Renaissance Hotel at the Airport, we're cutting military spending. By offering you lower-than-per-diem rates. With all the luxury you'd expect of our superb hotel. We'll even put a free pass to R&R Nite Club in your backpack just for fun. So the next time you need TDY to the real world, call Chris Adams at the Ramada Renaissance Hotel, 404-762-7676.

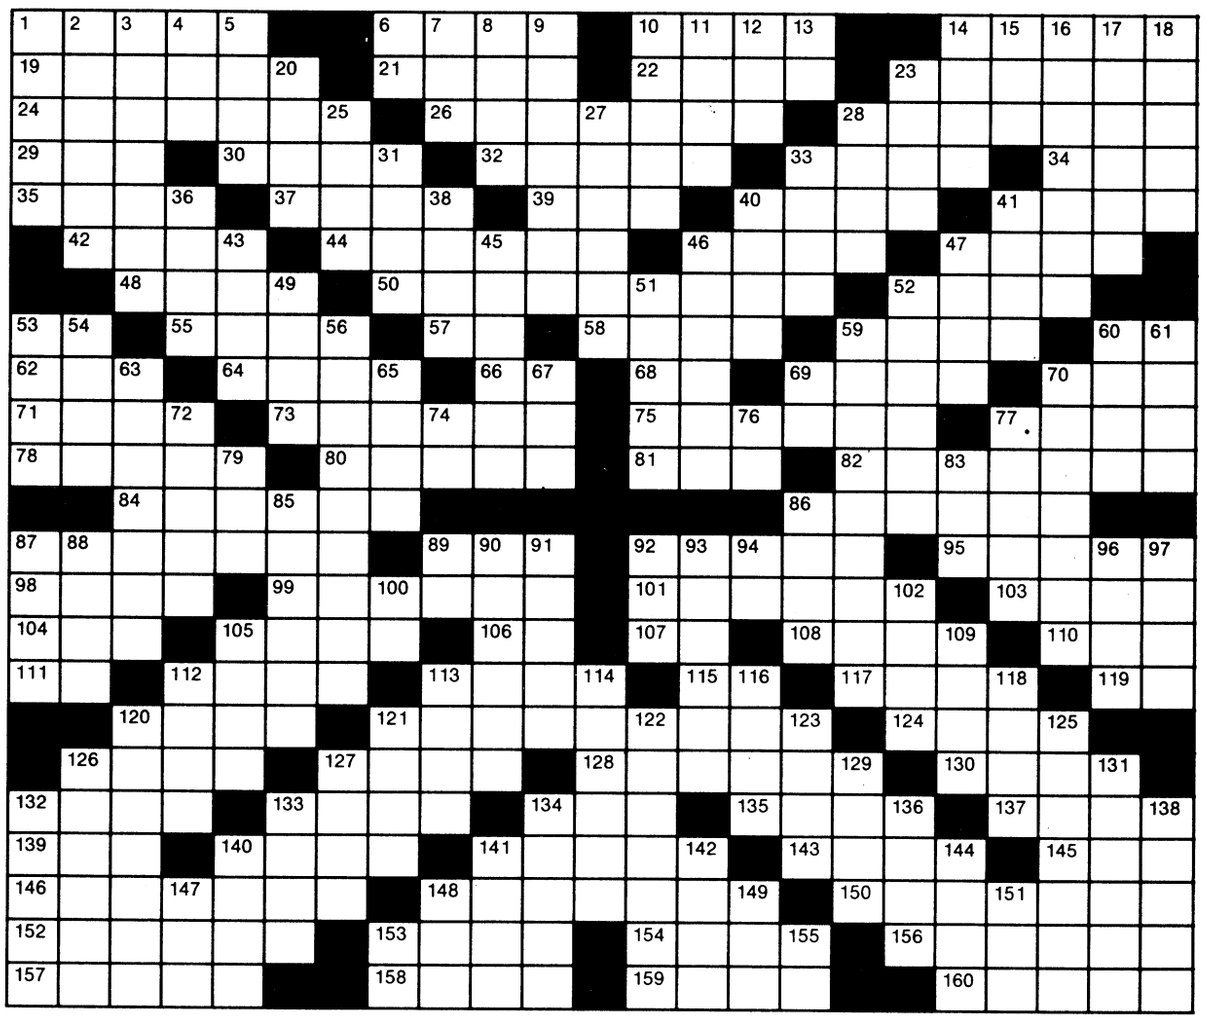
RAMADA RENAISSANCE HOTEL
ATLANTA AIRPORT

Relocation rates available. Voted one of the top ten airport hotels in America.

Attention All
FORD CAR & TRUCK OWNERS
We Are Your Factory Authorized Dealer For All Ford Cars & Trucks! Parts & Service--Including Any Warranty Work!!
Clip This Ad For Free Safety Check!!!

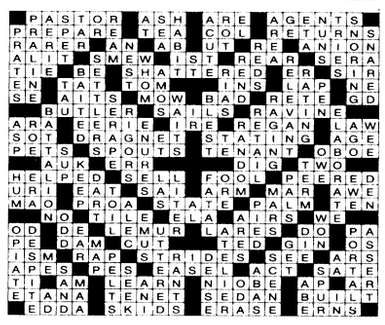
GATEWAY
LINCOLN-MERCURY
Corner 3rd Ave. & 13th St. Downtown 322-5575
Service Open Mon.-Fri. 7:30am-6pm

ENTERTAINMENT



PUZZLE

ACROSS



1 Perfume attained from flowers
6 "Aladdin and His —"
10 Lower; moderate
14 Kettledrum
19 Australian parrots
21 "Dona — and Her Two Husbands"
22 Libra's birthstone
23 Pretentious home
24 Studio
26 Succeed
28 Strikes out
29 Kin to a beret
30 Sow
32 Former Russian rulers
33 "Fortune —"
34 Chapeau
35 River in Germany
37 Peruse
39 Abstract being
40 Stupid fellow
41 Chickens
42 Thick slice
44 Intimate
46 Wander
47 Sailors: colloq.
48 Emerald isle
50 Tease
52 Part of RBI
53 College deg.
55 Pack away
57 Uggams ID
58 Run easily
59 Dispatch
60 "— 109"
62 Eye: poetic
64 Smoke and fog
66 Concerning
68 Down: prefix
69 Church part
70 Pee — Herman
71 Flesh
73 Wipes out
75 Empower
77 Give food to
78 Vermont city
80 Fine pottery
81 Fast-flying plane
82 Cleveland Stadium
84 Stoves
86 Penetrates
87 Make happy
89 Native metal
92 European herring
95 Cries
98 "A — to Live"
99 Five cents
101 Stirs up
103 Wild plum
104 Individual
105 Underground excavation
106 Macon's st.
107 Alternative word
108 Stumble
110 Sun. talk
111 "— are the World"
112 Wampum
113 Need
115 Tantalum symbol
117 Undergarment
119 Tellurium symbol
120 "The — Jar"
121 Busch Memorial Stadium players
124 Producer Norman
126 Narrow, flat board
127 "— on Entebbe"
128 Courteous
130 Winter vehicle
132 Belabor
133 "William — Overture"
134 Choose
135 Youngsters
137 Wash cycle
139 Priest's vestment
140 River in Russia
141 Rent
143 Tavern stock
145 Macaw
146 Generous
148 Despoiled
150 More in want
152 Power
153 Devastation
154 Goddess of discord
156 He was Remington Steele
157 Kind of fabric
158 "A Farewell to —"
159 Pintail duck
160 Birds' homes

DOWN

1 Winged
2 Sums
3 Shake with fear
4 Be ill
5 Former Portuguese money of account
6 Falana ID
7 High mountain
8 "Beetle Bailey" creator
9 Roll-call response
10 Wild hogs
11 Egyptian sacred bull
12 Hindu cymbal
13 "— Cid"
14 "A — of Two Cities"
15 Sudsy brew
16 Swimmers
17 "— Eleven"
18 Remains at ease
20 Prophet
23 Shut up
25 Sand bar
27 One who mars property
28 Roy Rogers' wife
31 Arrow
33 "Lonesome —"
36 Hearing organs
38 Watch face
40 Sleep lightly
41 Workman
43 Small amounts
45 Habituated
46 Matures
47 Tommy of Broadway
49 Alaskan city
51 Mine veins
52 Feel indignant at
53 Explosive
54 Region
56 Becoming more evil
59 Slivers
60 Point of hammer
61 Danson and Koppel
63 Heavy bombardment
65 Openings
67 Japan ending
69 Hebrew month
70 Minklike animals
72 Barter
74 Therefore
76 Near
77 Conflagrations
79 Goal
83 Condensed moisture
85 Kindly
86 "— of Eden"
87 Develop
88 Path
89 Stamp of approval
90 Esteem
91 African antelope
92 Full-house: abbr.
93 Door
94 Urich ID
96 Bard
97 Withered
100 Cerium symbol
102 Window frame part
105 Liquefy
109 Baker's products
112 Toll
113 Lament
114 Drink habitually
116 Landed
118 Cronies
120 Fat of whales
121 Hail
122 Public announcements
123 Take a — at (attempt)
125 Mends
126 Salty
127 Actual
129 Paradise
131 Lead
132 Men
133 Salver
134 Unlocks
136 Leak through
138 The nostrils
140 Force onward
141 Slender
142 Fixed period of time
144 Check
147 Unit of energy
148 Animal coat
149 Expire
151 Scottish river
153 Sun god
155 Selenium symbol

LAST WEEK

Callaway Gardens' beach opens daily

Callaway Gardens

Summer doesn't officially arrive until late June, but you'd think it was already in full swing at Callaway Gardens' Robin Lake Beach. The Beach has been open on weekends during May and will begin daily operation this Memorial Day Weekend.

Visitors to the beach will find a variety of amusements available for their enjoyment including the Robin E. Lee Riverboat, the Whistlin' Dixie Miniature Train, paddleboats, canoes, ping pong, shuffleboard, miniature golf, and swimming. These are all included in the cost of beach admission during the pre-season, which is $7 for adults and $3 for children 6-11. Beach admission also includes access to the Gardens where visitors may explore the Sibley Horticultural Center, the Pioneer Log Cabin, Mr. Cason's Vegetable Garden or the new Bike Trail. Bikes are available for rental at the Mountain Creek Lake Boathouse or the Bike Barn at the Beach.

Memorial Day Weekend officially begins the summer season at Robin Lake Beach ushered in by the 31st annual Masters Water Ski Tournament. Admission on each tournament day, May 27 and 28, will be $17 for adults and $5 for children 6-11. Annual memberships will not be honored during the two-day tournament. The action begins at 9:30 a.m. both days.

Sunday, Callaway Gardens welcomes back the Florida State University "Flying High" Circus. These circus performers not only thrill visitors with their incredible aerial stunts and acrobatic skills, they also serve as counselors in Callaway's Summer Recreation Program. The first circus performances of the 1989 season will be at 1:30 and 4 p.m. on Sunday. These performances are included in the cost of beach admission. The circus performs daily during the summer, except Wednesdays.

The following day the Callaway Gardens Water Ski Team makes its 1989 debut. The 1989 Water Ski Spectacular features the return of Sparky the Clown, barefooting, trick skiing plus the amazing 12-person pyramid. The ski team performs weeknights except Fridays at 7 p.m. with two performances on Saturday and Sunday at 3 and 5 p.m.

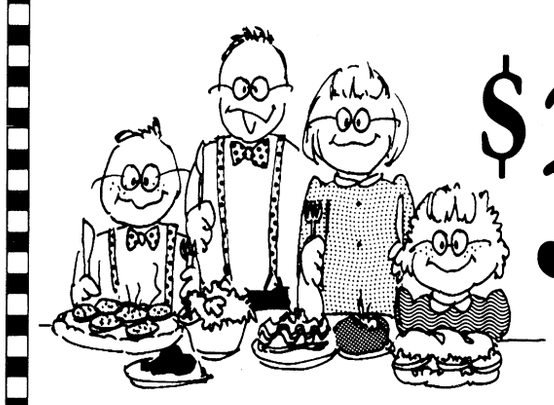
Beginning Memorial Day, May 29, the daily Beach admission will be $10 for adults and $5 for children. Children under six and annual membership holders are admitted free.

For more information about summer activities at Callaway Gardens, call (404) 663-2281.

MOVIES

Today	Kinjite: Forbidden Subjects - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Dead Calm - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Seventh Sign - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
Saturday	Skin Deep - (R)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Chances Are - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Police Academy 6 - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	American Ninja III - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Rambo III - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
	Midnight Run - (R)	Main Post 11 p.m.
Sunday	American Ninja III - (R)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Iron Eagle II: Battle Beyond the Flag - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Police Academy 6 - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Skin Deep - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Monday	Police Academy 6 - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	American Ninja III - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Cousins - (PG-13)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Tuesday	Wicked Stepmother - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Skin Deep - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Wednesday	Dirty Rotten Scoundrels - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Chances Are - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Lean On Me - (PG-13)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Thursday	Cousins - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	American Ninja III - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.

SATISFIED PEOPLE
make classified advertising work
Why don't you try the classifieds!
Ledger-Enquirer Classified
322-4500



Arby's
SAVE OVER $1.00!
MEAL DEAL!
Only $1.59 For A Limited Time
• Arby's Original Roast Beef Sandwich
• Reg. Order of French Fries
• Creamy Cole Slaw
A Complete Meal

STOP!
Read the Classified Pages Everyday!
Ledger-Enquirer Classified
322-4500
It Makes A Lasting Impression

Carmike Cinema 7
5301 Sidney Simons Blvd. 596-8244
DISCOUNT MATINEES MON.-FRI. ALL SEATS $2.50 till 5:30 PM
"INDIANA JONES AND THE LAST CRUSADE" PG13 1:00, 4:00, 7:00, 9:45
"RAIN MAN" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:45
"PINK CADILLAC" PG13 1:00, 4:00, 7:00, 9:45
"K-9" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:45
"DANGEROUS LIAISONS" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:45
"FIELD OF DREAMS" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:45
Columbus Square 8 / 563-4440 COLUMBUS SQUARE
"MAJOR LEAGUE" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:45
"LEAN ME" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:45
"ROAD HOUSE" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:45
"INDIANA JONES AND THE LAST CURSADE" PG13 1:00, 4:00, 7:010, 9:45
"PINK CADILLAC" PG13 1:00, 4:00, 7:00, 9:45
"SEE NO EVIL, HEAR NO EVIL" R 2:20, 4:40, 7:10, 9:30
"FOOD OF THE GODS II" R 2:20, 4:40, 7:10, 9:30
"PET SEMATARY" R 2:20, 4:40, 7:10, 9:30
Peachtree Triple / 322-7704 PEACHTREE MALL
"CYBORG" R 7:10, 9:30
"WINTER PEOPLE" PG13 7:00, 9:30
"FLETCH LIVES" PG 7:00, 9:30
Plaza Triple 99¢ / 563-3737 CROSS COUNTRY PLAZA
"TWINS" PG 7:00, 9:30
Any Movie 99¢ Anytime
"THE RESCUERS" G 7:00, 8:45
"THE BURBS" PG 7:00, 9:30
Phenix Twin 99¢ / 297-3905 280 BYPASS
"DEAD BANG" R 7:00, 9:30
Any Movie 99¢ Anytime
"POLICE ACAD. 6" PG 7:10, 9:20

MAZZIO'S PIZZA
FAMILY BUFFET

$3.79 Plus Tax For Lunch Mon.-Fri.
$4.39 plus tax Dinner Saturday Sunday
For Families of All Sizes
Kids 12 and Under–$1.99. Kids Under 5 Eat FREE!
It's Pizza. It's Pasta. It's Garlic Bread, Hot Soup and Muffins. It's Macaroni and Cheese, Chicken Wings, Corn on the Cob and Baked Potatoes with Fixin's. It's a 25-Item Garden Fresh Salad Bar. It's more than anyone can eat and it's waiting for you!
So, bring your family in today!
Family Buffet 4263 Macon Rd. Fountain Park Shopping Center
$1 OFF Family Buffet Evenings & Weekends
Redeem this coupon for $1 OFF Evening or Weekend Mazzio's Family Buffet.
Void with other promotions or coupons. Good for dine-in only. One coupon good for every person in your group.
Offer valid at 4263 Macon Rd.
Offer not valid on childs buffets
MAZZIO'S PIZZA
50¢ OFF Family Buffet Weekday Lunches
Redeem this coupon for 50¢ OFF a Family Lunch Buffet.
Void with other promotions or coupons. Good for dine-in only. One coupon good for every person in your group. Valid for Family Lunch Buffet Mon.-Fri. at 4263 Macon Rd.
MAZZIO'S PIZZA
© 1989 Mazzio's Corporation
Mon.-Thurs. 11:00 to 2:00 & 5:30-8:00, Fri. 11:00-2:00 & 5:30 to 9:00, Sat. & Sun. 12:00-9:00

Anthony's the world's greatest
Pizza
Ft. Benning
Mini Mall Location
Pecomrow Street
Features:
• Pasta Sandwiches
• Full Salad Bar
• World's Greatest Pizza
BUY ONE LARGE PIZZA AT REGULAR PRICE
2ND 1/2 PRICE
(Home Delivery Only)
Expires 5-31-89
687-8051

Spanish Music & Flags
Novedades
Food Products from all Latin America
Your Friendly Store
2221 So. Lumpkin Road
687-6075

VISA
master charge
GOLDEN CHOPSTICKS
KOREAN RESTAURANT
AUTHENTIC KOREAN CUISINE
• KOREAN STYLE STEAKS & RIBS
• TEMPURA DISHES
• BARBECUE SWEET AND SOUR PORK
• SHISHKABOB
• KOREAN VEGETABLES
A Unique Dining Experience
LUNCHEON SPECIAL
SERVED FROM 11:30AM-2PM
Mon. thru Thur.
Includes: Bul-Koki, Sweet & Sour Pork, Chob-Chae, Yaki-Mandu, Kim-Chi (Hot Cabbage)
ALL FOR $3.50
HOLLY HILLS SHOPPING CENTER-3846 ST. MARY'S RD.
OFF I-185 EXIT 2—689-1644
• "ENJOY YOUR FAVORITE BEER OR WINE"
• OPEN MON.-SAT. 11AM-11PM CLOSED SUNDAY
ST. MARY'S RD. EXIT 2 I-185 GOLDEN CHOPSTICKS
CATERING
"SERVING COLUMBUS & FORT BENNING SINCE 1972"

Teens to ride in 'Just Say No to Drugs' bike marathon

Sparks Enterprise

The Black Entrepreneurs of Columbus will sponsor a "Just Say No To Drugs" 12.5-mile bicycle marathon June 10 at Benning Hills Park.

The purpose of the marathon is to help teens get involved in healthy and fun activities and to raise community consciousness about drug abuse. The marathon is for teens 14 to 18 years old. Adults are encouraged to show their support.

Warm-up begins at Benning Hills Park at 9 a.m. The race begins at 10 a.m. at Benning Hills Park and ends at Carver Park. There is no cost to enter. Local businesses are acting as sponsors for the teens.

Teens participating in the marathon are eligible to win scholarships to attend a Drug Prevention Conference at St. Simons Island in July, a bicycle, trophy and other prizes. Each teen participant will receive a T-shirt with the name of their sponsor on the back.

Persons not riding in the marathon are invited to stand along the route and cheer for the cyclists or to man information and food booths. There will be many activities going on at Carver Park between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. Families are encouraged to come out and enjoy the fun.

Teens and other interested persons can sign up at the Fort Benning Post Exchange Saturday from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. Application deadline is May 31.

The goal of the bicycle marathon is to make this a community event and to involve organizations and businesses. If an organization or business would like to sponsor a teen, the cost is $15. Corporate sponsors are also needed. Businesses and organizations wishing to sponsor a teen, volunteer or become a corporate sponsor should call Ronzell Buckner at 687-5172.

Contributions for sponsorship can be mailed to Black Entrepreneurs of Columbus, P.O. Box 12274, Columbus, Ga., 31907-0924. All contributions are tax deductible.

SPORTS SHORTS

Post powerlifting meet June 24

The 2nd Annual Fort Benning Powerlifting Competition will be held June 24 at Briant Wells Gym. Lifters will squat, bench press and dead lift. Current U.S. Powerlifting Federation rules will be in effect, and regulation one-piece suits are mandatory. There is no entry fee.

Competition is open to all Fort Benning male and female active duty military, military dependents, retirees, Department of Army and Department of Defense civilians and Non-appropriated Fund civilians.

Awards will be presented to the top male finishers in each weight category. Women awards will be determined by formula.

For the first time at Fort Benning, a team powerlifting competition will be held. Lifters may compete in the team competition as well as individually. The top three teams will receive awards.

Weigh-ins will be held at Briant Wells Gym June 23 from 4 to 7 p.m. and on June 24 from 8 to 9:15 a.m. A meeting will be held for all lifters on June 24 at 9 a.m.

Lifters may sign up at any post gym or show up for the weigh-in and lifters meeting. For more information, contact Speedy Austin at 545-4726/4388.

USO giving away Braves' tickets

The USO is giving away Atlanta Braves baseball tickets by means of a drawing. Only active duty military personnel are eligible. To enter, put your name, rank, duty station, duty and work phone numbers on a postcard (DoD postcards are illegal) and mail to USO/Atlanta Braves Tickets, P. O. Box 20963, Atlanta, GA 30320. One entry per person please.

A drawing will be held weekly on Tuesday. Each winner will receive two tickets to a Thursday or Sunday home game. Tickets should be picked up before the game at the press box office. Military identification must be shown when picking up tickets.

Chess tournament set for June 17

The 1989 preliminary Army Chess Tournament will be held at Kelley Hill Community Recreation Center June 17 at 10 a.m. This tournament will determine nominations for attendance at the Army Chess Tournament to be held at Fort Belvoir, Va. September 10 through 16.

Only active duty military personnel are eligible to compete. The tournament will be U.S. Chess Federation sanctioned and membership is required. Memberships may be purchased at the time of registration.

Contact Kelley Hill Community Recreation Center for details at 544-3079 Wednesday through Saturday after 12 noon.

USAIC battalion golf begins June 1

The USAIC battalion golf season begins June 1. Four separate seasons will be held.

The first season gets underway June 1 through July 7; the second season is July 17 through Aug. 4; the third season is Aug. 11 through Aug. 29 and the fourth season is Aug. 29 through Sep. 19. Championships will be held for each season.

All active duty personnel assigned or attached to a battalion-size unit at Fort Benning are eligible to participate.

Entry forms are available at Audie Murphy gym, Harmony Church field house, Santiago gym, Briant Wells field house, Kelley Hill gym or the post Sports Office.

For more information, call the sports director at 545-5777 or drop by the Sports Office, building 394.

Body builders will compete June 10

The sixth annual Mr. and Ms. Fort Benning body building contest will be held June 10 at Marshall Auditorium in Infantry Hall, building 4.

The Mr. Fort Benning contest is open to all active duty military men stationed at Fort Benning.

The Ms. Fort Benning competition is open to active duty military females, dependents of active duty, retirees, Department of Army , Non-appropriated Fund and Army and Air Force Exchange Service employees.

Awards will be presented to first, second and third place winners as well as the best poser in both the men and women competition. Also, in the men's category, an award will be presented to the "Most Muscular" competitor.

For more information, call Speedy Austin at 545-4726.

Follow Me Course holds tournaments

The following tournaments are available at Benning's Follow Me Golf Course:

● May 28 through 29 — Dixie Memorial Tournament (four-man, two best balls)

● June 17 through 18 — Bi-City Golf Tournament (gross event, flighted)

Golfers pay half-price greens fees Monday through Friday with cart rental from 1 p.m. until dark. Call 687-1940 for additional information.

Pot-O-Gold is $3,889

Fort Benning bowling centers' "Pot-O-Gold" cash prize has reached $3,889.

Bowlers must strike in certain frames to win the pot.

League and open bowlers who purchase a three-game ticket and pay a $1 entry fee prior to bowling are eligible to enter the tournament.

For more information, call the Main Post Bowling Center at 545-4272 or 545-1949.

YA needs swimmers

The Youth Activities Center is looking for swimmers for its swim team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Mondays through Thursdays.

The swim team is a year-round organization.

Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for information.

— Compiled from staff reports.

Army teams finish second in racquetball tourney

Army News Service

Army racquetballers tallied three gold medals enroute to second-place team finishes in the men's and women's divisions of the 1989 Armed Forces Racquetball Championships May 1-5 at Chanute Air Force Base, Ill.

Air Force men's and women's teams took the tourney honors, with Navy and Marine Corps squads taking third and fourth places, respectively, in both divisions.

Daniel Fowler of Fort Devens, Mass., came out of the tourney's loser's bracket to top defending Air Force champion Duane Stevens for the gold in the men's open division. Stevens had sent Fowler to the loser's bracket with a 15-12, 9-15, 11-4 win in the quarterfinals. Fowler came back to top Stevens 15-14 and 15-4 in the finals and won the gold with 15-12 and 11-0 wins in the 'if necessary' match.

Oscar Gonzales of Ansbach, West Germany, captured the men's open bronze. Fowler and Gonzales also combined for a silver medal in the men's open doubles competition.

Bruce Shafer of the New York Army National Guard struck gold in the men's Masters singles division with a 15-5, 14-15 and 11-6 finals victory over the Air Force's Willie Minor. Timothy Frerichs of Fort Bliss, Texas, took the men's Masters bronze.

Shafer and Frerichs combined for a silver medal in the men's Master's doubles division.

The only other Army gold in the tourney came in the women's 30-and-over doubles division. Vivian Brown of Fort Monroe, Va., and Lynda Jones of Kaiserslautern, West Germany, topped the Air Force team of Karen Fiedor and Mary Qualls 15-11, 14-15 and 11-8 in the division finals.

Brown also captured an individual silver medal in the women's 30-and-over singles competition.

Charles Stevens and Joe Lee won silver in the men's senior doubles division. Stevens is from Fort Myer, Va.; Lee is assigned to Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

In the women's open doubles division, Darlene Adams of Heilbronn, West Germany, and Kristine Zucconi of Fort Hood, Texas, combined for third place to round out Army medal winners.

RACE CALENDAR

MAY

27 MONTGOMERY - 11th Jubilee Run 8K (7:30 a.m.); Lightning 2 mile (8:45 a.m.). $9/$11. Civic Center - Commerce Street. Information: Montgomery Track & Running Club, P. O. Box 6350, Montgomery, AL 36106.

27 ALBANY - 6th Darton Alumni P.M. Run. 5K, 8 p.m./ 1 mile, 7 p.m. Darton College Campus, 2400 Gillionville Road. $7/$8. (912)-888-8725.

27 ROBERTA - Peach Blossom Trail 10K (8 a.m.) and 1 mile Fun Run. $7/$8. Information: Peach Blossom Trail Run, P. O. Box 8, Roberta, GA 31078.

27 FITZGERALD - Colony City Chase 5K (9 a.m.), 1 mile (8:30 a.m.). $7/$8. Cash awards. $100 for course record (15:34 set in 1988). 800-642-5820.

28 JEKYLL ISLAND - 5th Annual Memorial Day 5K Beach Run, 10 a.m. Information: (912) 635-2232.

29 HUNTSVILLE, AL - Cotton Row 10K, 8 a.m. Starts at Von Braun Civic Center. $10. No race day registration.

JUNE

10 COLUMBUS - "Just Say No To Drugs" 12.5-mile Bicycle Marathon, Benning Hills Park, 10 a.m. Race ends at Carver Park. No entry fee. Teens 14 to 18 years old. Grand prize scholarship to attend Drug Prevention Conference, St. Simons Island, Ga. Other prizes are bicycle and trophies. Each participant receives a free personalized T-shirt. Information: 687-5172.

KEEP A PROUD TRADITION ALIVE

You have a long, proud history of helping the Arthritis Foundation through the Combined Federal Campaign. Today we are making progress against pain. With your support more and better answers are possible. Please keep this important tradition alive by giving to the Arthritis Foundation through the Combined Federal Campaign.

GIVE FOR SOMEONE YOU LOVE

Harry Morgan

ARTHRITIS FOUNDATION®

CFC

BAYONET CLASSIFIED 322-4500

CLEANING SERVICES C3

TAKE a day off! Let me do your chores! My name is Lynn. Reasonable rates. Call 687-0130.

TOTALLY Domestic Cleaning Services, specializing in residences. Reasonable rates. Call 563-5073 after5pm.

TURMAN CLEANING Team, 1-day service, call 687-8544 anytime.

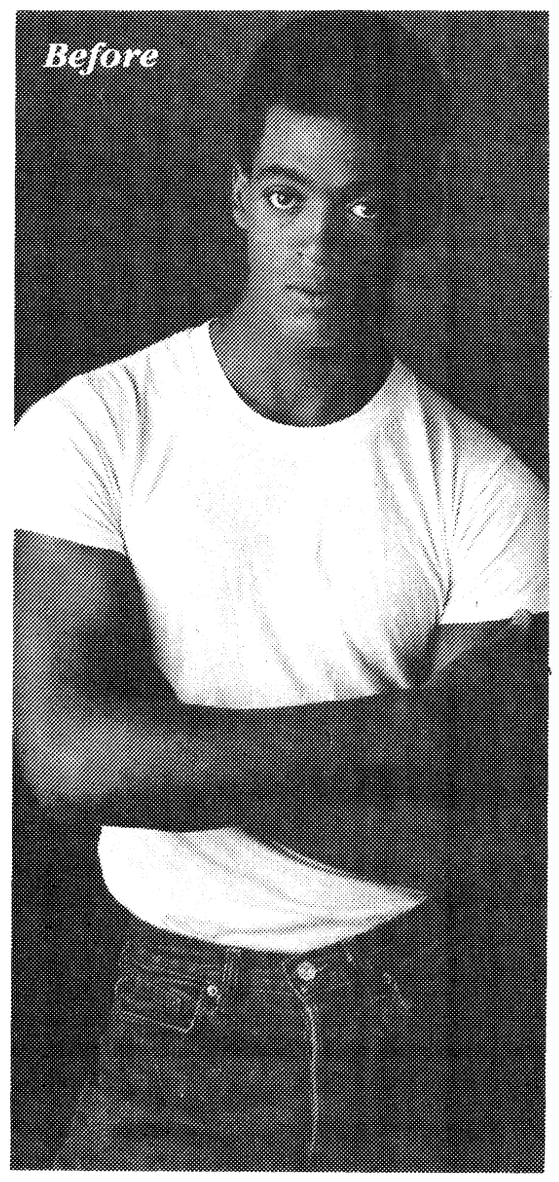
SMALL ENGINE REPAIR S8

S & S SMALL ENGINES Buy, Sell or Trade. Lawn mowers, go-carts, tillers, edgers, weed eaters. Repairs of all types. 291-1688

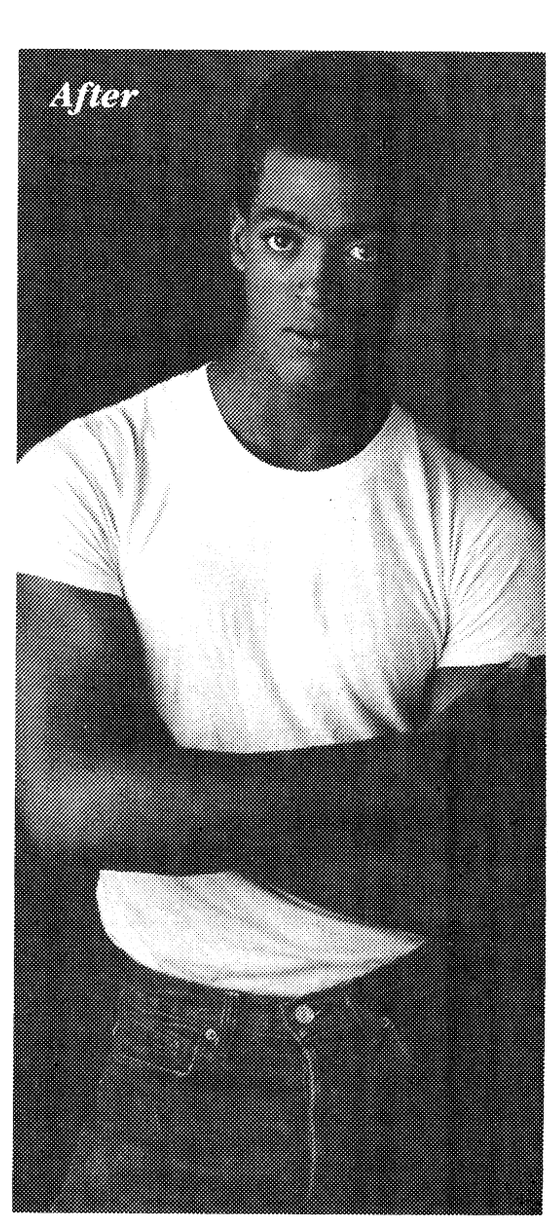
PROFESSIONAL SERVICES 018

Childcare Service. Certified. A.M. Burgess, open 5am til 5:30 pm. Newborns, toddlers and up to 3 yrs. old. Will also accomodate people for all night duty or field time. For more information call 689-5300

PERSONALS 020



COLUMBUS DATING SERVICE Meet That Special Person! Call Mon-Fri, 9-5PM, 689-0072.



TROUBLED? Need to talk? Call CONTACT. We care. 24 hours. 327-3999

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

Andersonville Antiques Fair and Georgia Folk Festival May 27 and 28, Andersonville, Ga. 9 a.m.-6 p.m. 50 antiques dealers, 35 Civil War Artifacts dealers, 50 top-knotch artists and craftsmen. Reenactment of 28th Georgia Cavalry, Wagon train with 60-horse-drawn vehicles. Saturday night, May 27-6p.m. Antiques and household auction. (912) 924-2558.

'WILL FORMS' Make your own Will easily! Simple to fill in. Anyone can. Only $4.25 (2 for $6.95). Forms, Box 3609, New Haven, CT 06525.

You won't notice any difference, but your country will.

The five minutes you spend registering with Selective Service at the post office won't change you. You won't be enlisting in the military. In fact, registration won't make you any different.

But it will make a difference to your country. Having an accurate list of names could save six weeks in responding to a national emergency.

When you turn 18, register with Selective Service. It's quick. It's easy. And it's the law.

A public service message of this publication and Selective Service System.

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

LOSE WEIGHT The Natural Way! Dick Gregory's Behamian Diet. Call 298-9079 or 1-800-346-5188.

APPLIANCE SALES 040

AUTO Washers & dryers. Exc. cond., $100. Call 687-9976

GE ELECTRIC dryer, exc. cond., $135. Guarenteed. Call 561-3200

Kenmore washer, GE heavy duty dryer, both green, $125 ea.; new Hoover vacuum, $50. 563-3686

WASHERS Dryers, $100 up. Excellent cond. guaranteed. Call 687-5330.

WHIRLPOOL Washer/dryer, good shape, $300. Call 682-2663

15 CU.FT., frost free, cold spot refg., $250. Call to see 298-8312

CLOTHING 050

6 AFTER 5 Cocktail dresses. Some never worn. Sized 6-8. $35 ea. Call 561-8427

BLOOD PLASMA SAVES LIVES

$10 ea. DONATION

New Donors/ Or Inactive For 6 Months/ $5 Bonus with This Ad/ Plus $5 2nd Time Bonus Plus $750 Cash Drawing Monthly

Community Plasma Center
825 4th Ave.
Columbus
322-6566

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

COUCH, Earthtone & burnt orange swivel rocker, $100 neg. 689-1811 after 4 p.m.

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE
FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL
322-4500

LIKE NEW Sofa & chair, 2 end tables, coffee table, will sacrifice, $250. 563-7990 after 6.

Modern DR set, oak rattan china cabinet, oak table w/leaf & 6 chairs. Like new. $500. 297-2873

QUEEN size waterbed w/11 drawers & mirrored canopy. Price neg. 569-7948

3 PC. LR suit, $175; table/chairs, $85; coffe & 2 end tables, $55; oak entertainment stand, $85. 323-8871

YARD SALES GA 060

MOVING & ESTATE SALE!
2130 PRESTON DR.
(AVERETT WOODS)
9-5PM SUN & MON
New washer & dryer, freezer, lg oriental rug, riding mower, Lazy-boy chair, jukebox, brass, china, crystal, silver, luggage, BR furn., secretary, books, plants, clothes & more!

MOVING SALE, 4420 Miller Rd. Intersection Miller Rd.and Warm Springs Rd

Neighborhood Sale. Sofa, Tandy computer, oriental nic nacs, air conditioners, sewing machine & cabinet, much more. 605 Baltzell Ave. Ft. Benning, Sat. 9-2.

YARD SALES GA 060

ANTIQUES, cast iron stoves, Honda 3-wheel, nice kid's clothes. Fri & Sat. Tanglewood-3048 Apache Dr.

305-A Kawamura St, (Davis Hill) Ft Benning, Sat, Sun & Mon, 8-6pm. Baby items/etc, etc!

COLLECTIBLES BUY/SELL 061

1917 Infield rifle, exc. cond., $150; 1840 Ames Calvary Saber, $300. Call 687-6205

MISC. FOR SALE 076

Air Cleaner (electronic), new: over $650, sacrifice $300. Call 323-9365 anytime.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

THE HART SCHOOL
Train to be a Professional
•SECRETARY
•EXECUTIVE SEC.
•WORD PROCESSOR
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
THE HART SCHOOL
a Div. of A.C.T. Corp.
Nat'l hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. Fl.

Train for careers in
•AIRLINES
•CRUISE LINES
•TRAVEL AGENCIES
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
A.C.T. TRAVEL SCHOOL
Nat'l hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. GL

MISC. FOR SALE 076

BEER COOLERS, one 4dr, $750; one 2dr, $450. Call 323-1524

UTILITY TRAILER 7x8, good cond. $400 or best offer. Call 682-8085.

1987 Quad 4 Yamaha 4-wheeler, runs like new, $2,000. After 6pm, (912) 649-9279

1987 350 Yamaha 4-wheeler, runs like new, $2,000. After 6pm, (912) 649-9279

TV-VIDEO STEREO SALES 096

PILOT Stereo, am/fm/cass, equalizer, w/phonograph, cabinate stereo, good cond., $200. Call 297-3807

Stereo digital am/fm/cass/8 Trk, lg speakers. $100 firm. 324-3022 aft 6PM

PETS 122

AKC DOBERMAN puppies, 6 weeks, shots, tails, dewormed. Females $125 each, males $150 each. Call 687-7226.

AKC ROTTWEILER PUPS 3 generations on site. Show quality. 561-6493

AKC Siberian Husky pup, male, black & white, 9 wks., $250 neg. 682-9707

AKC SPRINGER SPANIEL pups, shots & wormed. Call 297-5604

BEAUTIFUL AKC Cocker Spaniel puppies, wormed & shots, $150. Call 327-6999, only 2 males left.

BLACK Cocker Spaniel puppies, 7 wks old, shots, dewormed, $100. 689-1220

PETS-LOST & FOUND 127

HAVE YOU LOST YOUR PET? Please contact the Muscogee County Humane Society at 7133 Sacerdote Lane, off Schatulga Road.

LOST!! Black male, puppy, found in Wynnton Rd & Overlook area. Call 327-0328, 322-4416

YOU CAN HELP SAVE A PET
Call our 24-hour hotline for lost & found pets. 571-2060.

FREE COLUMN 130

Absolutely Adorable 3 male kittens, 6 weeks old. Free to good homes. 568-6843

Adorable Kitten, gray & white Tabby, to good home only. 576-4607

ADORABLE 1 month old kittens, free to a good home. Call 561-9771 aft 5PM

BEAUTIFUL light brown, full bred, loving border collie, male, 1 yr. old, needs plenty of room, free to good home. 568-7809

COUNTRY kittens, will make good mousers, also solid black mother cat, ½ Siamese. 324-5525.

FEMALE Boxer, 3 yrs. old, good watchdog, gentle, needs fenced yard, free to good home. 297-6027 lv. msg.

Female Shepherd Mix, blond, approx. 8 mths. old. Up-to-date on vaccinations. 689-6240

FREE adorable 7 wk old kittens to good homes, litter box trained, 3 males, 1 female. 687-6326 after 5.

FREE!!
Baby kittens to good home. Call 291-9603

FREE!! Brown rabbit, small, w/pen. Call 322-5992

FREE! Kittens to good home. Call 323-2378

FREE TO good home, adult male dog, exc w/ children, good watchdog. 323-7221 before 6, 628-4537 after 6.

FREE to good home! 4 6wks old kittens, blue eyes, litter boxed trained. 682-4621

FREE to good home! 7 6wks old kittens, blue eyes, litter boxed trained. 682-4621

FREE 10 wk old female Bird Dog. Call 563-6453

IT'S HERE: the '89-'90 Military Pages. Call 682-7185 for your free copy.

KITTENS (5), 7 wks. old. Male & female. Litter Trained. Free to good home. 323-3053.

MIXED CHOW puppies, 6 wks old. Call 297-7091

ONE WHITE siamese & one grey alley cat, free to good home. Prefer both in same home. Call 563-6164

SAVE A LIFE! 2 Tri-color kittens. To good homes only. Call 297-1526 after 4PM.

Small female house dog, approx. 1 yr. old, free to good home. Call 682-8181

Three Pretty 6 week old kittens, free to good homes. Call 568-6402

THREE 5wk old kittens, 5 wks old. Free to good home. Call 689-3964

TWO Male pure bred chow, needs fenced back yard. Call 327-6777 z

2 CUTE Kittens & 1 ugly kitten, free to good home. Call 327-2729

2 MOTHER CATS, 5 kittens, free to good home. Call 563-8591

2 Tabby kittens, 1 M, 1F, free to good home. Call 682-2173

3 FEMALE cats, spayed, all shots, free to good home. Call 291-1709

MANAGEMENT EMPLOYMENT 210

BORED WITH RETIREMENT?
Need a 'couple who cares' to manage my motel. Honesty a must. Prefer non-smoker & drinker. If you think you're the ones I'm looking for give me a call at 687-0203. Ask for Buddy.

RESTAURANTS & CLUBS 212

COOKS & Servers wanted. 10 miles from back gate of Ft. Benning. Call 855-4132.

PART-TIME HELP. No experience necessary. Apply between 3pm & 5pm at Tavern On The Square, #14 11th St., & Speakeasy, 3123 Mercury Dr.

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

AMAS de CASA!
Aburridas? Cansadas de estar en la casa? Permitanos cambiar esto! Rhodes busca representantes de venta ambiciosas y agresivas interesadas en la oportunidad de hacer $50,000 al año. Posiciones a tiempo completo y permanentes solamente. Aplique al 3166 Macon Rd.

HOUSEWIFES?
Are you bored? Tired of being at home? Let us change that for you!Rhodes is looking for ambitious aggressive salespeople who would like the opportunity to make $50,000 a year. Full time permanent positions. Apply at: 3166 Macon Rd.

SKILLS & TRADES 228

ARE YOU SEEKING FULL-TIME EMPLOYMENT?
TAKE A LOOK AT OUR BATTING AVERAGE!!

Our Placement Specialists Assisted Over 400 Individuals In Seeking Full-Time Employment Opportunities In The Last 12 Months!

OUR BASES ARE LOADED WITH THE FOLLOWING POSITIONS:
- Packers
- Laborers
- Assembly
- Lifeguard
- Production
- Landscaping
- Forklift Operators
- Machine Operators
- DOT Cert. Truck Drivers
- Sewing Machine Operators

PCI
The Temporary Help Company That REALLY Helps!
105 W. 10th Street
(Courtyard Level)
APPLY TODAY!
8:30-9:30AM
2:30-3:30PM
No Appointment Necessary

FREE TRAINING
Highway Marking
Machine Operators

No experience necessary, but MUST have a valid driver's license with no DUI for 3 years. Must be able to drive a 5sp vehicle larger than a pick-up truck & must be willing to travel 3-4 wks at a time. TRAVEL TIME PAID, $18,000 ave. annual salary. Call today for info. PERSONNEL CONCEPTS, 571-2424.

NO FEE EOE

CHILD CARE 229

NEED SOMEONE to care for 2 small boys in-home, 3 full days; 2 half days, (4yr old & 2 yr old) no housekeeping. References req. 596-1138.

RESUME SERVICES 232

A BETTER JOB WINNING RESUME $9
up to executive presentations. Expert writing, typing, printing, updating.
...FREE CONSULTATION...
★ SAME DAY SERVICE ★
America's oldest & largest Professional Resume Svc.
327-2238
2520 Wynnton Rd. Ste. 4

MISC. INSTRUCTIONS 328

Improve Your Child's Reading & Math Scores
Certified teacher specialized in working w/ students with specific learning problems. Reasonable rates. 689-6597

Improve Your Childs Reading & Math Scores
Certified teacher specialized in working w/ students with specific learning problems. Reasonable rates. 689-6597

ROOMS 512

Five min to post, private entrance, refr, cable, cheap. 682-0690 Ms. James.

SHARE HOME 516

Female roommate wanted to share home & ½ utilities. 689-2345 after 10 p.m.

FURNISHED APTS. GA 518

Nice 1 br Duplex, S Cols, comp. furn, Cnt h/a, $200 mo, single pref. 561-8684

UNFURNISHED APTS. GA 520

APTS $150-$175. 760 Illges Rd. Across from Carver High. 323-3480.

2 Br duplex between Medical Ctr. & Lakebottom. Call 327-1894 or 327-1927.

FURNISHED HOUSES GA 524

EAST- 4 Bd, 2 Ba, fenced yard, dishwasher, disposal, $395 mo, call 323-5227

NEAR POST 3 br & basement. $295 mo.; 3 room apt. $185. 323-6155.

UNFURNISHED HOUSES GA 526

Lake Crystal-2BR, 2BA-Cent. H + A, heat pump, very, very energy effic., garden tub in master BR suite. No money down, take over payments. 689-0931 24 hrs.

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

A CUTE 2BR 2BA, great condition, near school & By-Pass. $23,000/FHA $700 dn. 297-3104 or 297-2789

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

IMMACULATE 3 bd, 1 ba, house. North Columbus, stove, deck, A/C, many extra's $48,500. call 576-5460

NEW HOME, 3-2-1, wooded lot, near Ft. Benning, lower $50's. Call 298-5486, 989-3057.

USE Your VA, large (1700 sq ft) home, near Benning & schools, see anytime. Mr. Harris 687-9711. (Agent)

FARMS & ACREAGE 636

186 ACRES On Corridor Z, 32 mi to Columbus, 40 mi. Albany. 114 acres cropland, 2 ac. pond, 70 acres large sawtimber. 2,900 sq. ft. brick house 10 yrs. old. $225,000. Call Joel Robertson 912-838-4462, Frontier, Land Co., Rt. 1, Box 167 Lumpkin, GA

MOBILE HOMES FOR SALE 710

For Sale, Redmond, 14x70, 2BR 2BA, cen h/a, on rented lot in the Ft Mitchel area. Assume loan. Bachelor lived-in. Don't miss this deal. 855-2949 local.

Quiet country living,2 & 3BR, $500 dn,starting at $240/ mo. Owner fin. 855-3486

MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT 714

NICE 2BR, washer/dryer, central heat, Furn, a/c. $230 mo. 561-8684/689-8646

1,2 & 3br elec/gas on, near schools & post. 1314 Ft. Benning Rd. 9-5, 689-0453

MOBILE HOME LOTS FOR SALE 718

½ ACRE Lot, septic tank, pole & co. water. Russell Co. $7950. 297-6449 Owner/Agent

BOATS 810

24' Sweetwater Pontoon Boat w/trailer, water ready, $6750 or best offer. 563-2351

'86 BAYLINER w/cuddy cabinet. 19' long. 125HP outboard, $5800. 1-628-5034

'87 Customcraft, 15½', Johnson 50 HP, SS prop, T & T, VRO, extras. $3900 firm. Call 682-3363

MOTOR HOMES FOR SALE 818

1984 Winnebago, self contained, 20', exc. cond. $15,000. 563-5365

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

BMW R90-6 '75, fairing, bags. In college, first offer near $1000 takes European legend home. 563-2008

HONDA CR250, Motorcross, exc. cond., fresh engine and tires, $675. 576-4145

KAWASAKI '82 CSR305, belt driven, very low mileage. Call 569-0747 anytime.

KAWASAKI '88, EX500 Sport Bike, white w/racing faring. $400 and assume $101.00 payment. 576-4145

SPRING SALE!
We Have To Move Over 200 Motorcycles At Once. No Reasonable Offer Refused!

HONDA 600 HURRICANE
$765 down-$163.33 per mth includes tax, tag, title & insurance. First Time Buyer Plan available.
Honda-Come Ride With Us
TOMMY WAGES HONDA
Corner 18th St. & 4th Ave
322-7328

YAMAHA '83 Venture Royale, 31,000 mi., exc. cond., am/fm. 687-1942.

'82 YAMAHA 550 MAXIM, $875, best offer. Call 689-7407 anytime.

TRUCKS 914

BLAZER S10, '87, 5 spd, ac, ps, pb, blk/silver, excellent cond, $9800. 327-7534

1987 S-10 Blazer, exc. cond., assume pymts. or refinance. 682-4096 after 5:30

CHEVY PU, '77, longbed, 250 eng, auto. Ps, pb. $1200 or best offer. 689-3826

CHEVY '74, shortbed, fleetside, 350 eng, $1850. Call 561-4916 after 5pm

Dodge Ram Charger,'86, 360, tow pkg, air, tilt, all power, new Michelin tires, low mi, new cond. 561-9606.

FORD p/u, '76, full size,3 spd. manual, $1200. Call 568-9694

BUSES/VANS FOR SALE 922

CHEVY '77, C-20, Nomad Sportvan. 350, auto, ps, pb, tint glass, tow pack, cruise, sport wheels. $2000. Chuck, 561-5914

JEEPS FOR SALE 924

JEEP Wrangler '88, excellent cond. Must sell, payoff only $10,200. 855-3940

1983 CJ-5 Jeep, 4 WD, 6 cyl, black, chrome wh, low mi, exc. cond. $4,200. 561-6939

AUTO SERVICE PARTS, ACC 926

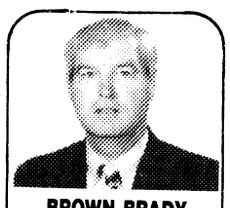
ONE CHEVROLET 350 Turbo Transmission, $150. Call 297-7119 leave message.

AUTO INSURANCE FINANCING 928

Military & civilians residing in Alabama. Call or see us for your insurance needs. Serving area since 1960.
PITTS-DAVIS INS.
298-2500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

Bereita GT, '89, 1300 mi. Lded/pwr, wht/brgdy int, pymts or pyoff. 561-8033.



BUICK Regal '79, clean car, must sell, $1200. Call 689-3667.

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE
FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL
322-4500

BROWN BRADY
Invites all his friends & previous customers to see him for the BEST BUY on a NEW OR USED CAR OR TRUCK! 322-8888.
$AVE $$$
BILL HEARD CHEVROLET
Manchester Expwy.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

DODGE Aspen '80, good cond., 77,000 miles. Asking $1500 or best offer. 297-0563

Firebird '84, V/8, T-tops, low mi., runs good. New paint. $3500neg. 291-1660/298-3756

FORD ESCORT, '83, must sell due to PCS, $1100 or best offer. Call 687-2659

GRAD. SPECIAL '79 Mustang, Best offer. Call 568-0574, 6-9 p.m.

MERCURY Capri '83, t-tops, h/b, tilt, cruise, 5sp, sound system, $2300. 687-2575.

Monte Carlo, '79, 305 eng, $800 or best offer. Call 689-3826 anytime.

MUSTANG II '76, loaded, ni-performance eng., must see! $2500. 3100 3rd Ave.

Olds Omega, '81, exc shape, $1495. '85 Honda Accord, low mi, $5500. 297-2605

PLYMOUTH Fury '78, auto, ps, pb, runs good, body fair cond. $450. 563-6922.

Plymouth Volare '76, runs good, $600; '74 Datsun P/U, $500. 291-7885 after 5

PONTIAC T1000, '81, auto, 4 dr, am/fm, very good eng. cond., clean & good looking, leaving must sell. $800. 689-0067 ext. 2110 after 6pm

SAAB, '84, 900 turbo, exce cond. $5500. Call 322-7148 after 7p.m.

SPECTRUM '87
42 mpg, low miles. $5240. Call 689-7041

SUBARU GL '86, 5sp, fully loaded, excellent cond., $5500. 989-3143 (local).

TOYOTA Celica ST, '88, ps, pb, OD, air, am/fm cass, low mi. 561-9606.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

TOYOTA Tercel Coupe, '88, 5spd, air, good cond, $7500. Call 563-4116 aft 6pm.

VW bug, '73, mag wheels, needs paint, new performance motor, $3000 neg. 563-4235 leave msg

YUGO '88, like new, must sell immediately. Take up payments $176. Call 561-8665 & lv. message.

Yugo '88, $300 & take over payments. Under 5,000 mi. 571-0946, lv msg

'85 VW Jetta, 1 owner, 41,000 mi, 4 dr, 32 mpg, exc cond, $5000. 912-436-1797

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

Corvette '87, black w/red leather, both tops, 9,000 mi, like new. $21,250. 323-1328

CLASSIC & ANTIQUE AUTOS 934

MUSTANG '66, good shape, everything original, $3500. Call 324-3020.

'46 4 dr. Ford, needs restoring, $1500. Call 561-5594

IMPORTED AUTOS 936

Engines: Honda, Toyota, Nissan, Mitsubishi, Mazda, Isuzu, Subaru. Guaranteed & ready to install. Lowest prices; shipped anywhere USA. Techna-Car 1-800-344-1015.

MEMORIAL WEEKEND BLOW-OUT CONSOLIDATION TENT SALE

VICTORY DRIVE INVENTORY & PERSONNEL MOVED TO N. COLUMBUS LOCATION FOR THE BIGGEST SALE IN OUR HISTORY!!

- 150 QUALITY AUTOS
- 100% WRITTEN WARRANTY
- E-Z FINANCING

SUN BELT

Manchester Expwy./Beallwood Conn.
327-5756 OPEN SUN 1-5pm

HAIRSTYLIST/ DISTRICT MANAGER

MAKE YOUR MOVE INTO DISTRICT MANAGEMENT WITH A LARGE NATIONAL COMPANY. YOU MUST BE PROFESSIONAL, AGGRESSIVE AND A LOCAL RESIDENT FOR 2 OR MORE YEARS AS AN ACTIVE STYLIST OR MANAGER. WE OFFER FULL BENEFITS AND THE OPPORTUNITY TO GROW QUICKLY BASED ON YOUR PERFORMANCE.

CALL THE MONTGOMERY WARDS STYLING SALON AT 322-6761, ASK FOR THE SUPERVISOR ON MONDAY OR TUESDAY ONLY BEWEEEN 12 AND 5 P.M.

$$ AUDIO/VIDEO SALES $$

Immediate opening for part-time sales rep 4 to 7 hours per week to sell Audio/ Video products at your local military exchange. Must have hands-on experience with audio/video products Sales experience a plus.
Call Susan James for additional details at:

(214)245-3600

The M. J. Daniel Company
1000 Beltline Road
Carrollton, TX 75006

Bayonet Classified Index

CALL TOLL-FREE IN GEORGIA
1-800-282-7859

CALL TOLL-FREE OUTSIDE GEORGIA
1-800-241-7894

HOURS:
MONDAY - THURSDAY
8:30AM - 7:00PM
FRIDAY
8:30AM - 5:30PM

If you would like for your ad to appear in the next day's sedition, please call BEFORE 5:30pm.

LEDGER-ENQUIRER CLASSIFIEDS
"There's something in it for you"
322-4500

Please check your advertisement the first day it appears in the newspaper. If you need to make corrections, simply call one of our Classified Advertising Representatives as soon as possible. Please call on the first day your ad appears, as the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer cannot be held responsible for errors beyond the first insertion date. We will be happy to see to it that your ad appears correctly in the next scheduled insertion in the Ledger-Enquirer.

Listed below are local telephone exchanges for the Columbus/Phenix City area. These do not require an area code if you live within the area. If the number is long distance, then the advertisement will list the area code.

ALABAMA
291 Phenix City
297 Phenix City
298 Phenix City
855 Phenix City/ Smiths/Seale
GEORGIA
322 Columbus
323 Columbus
324 Columbus
327 Columbus
561 Columbus
563 Columbus
568 Columbus
569 Columbus
571 Columbus
576 Columbus
596 Columbus
649 Columbus
682 Columbus
685 Columbus
687 Columbus
689 Columbus

INDEX OF CLASSIFICATIONS

A1 Air Cond., Heating
A2 Appliance Repair
A3 Architecture & Drafting
A4 Auto Care
B1 Brickwork, Masonry
B2 Buildings, Contractors
C1 Carpentry, General Repairs
C2 Catering, Food Service
C3 Cleaning Service
C4 Clock & Watch Repair
C5 Concrete, Driveways
C6 Carpet
C7 Child Care
E1 Electrical
E2 Energy Saving Products
F1 Fencing
F2 Floor Sanding
F3 Furniture
G1 Grading, Backhoe
G2 Gravel, Sand, Topsoil
G3 Gutters, Downspouts
H1 Handyman
H2 Hauling
H3 Home Improvement
I1 Insulation
L1 Lawn & Garden
L2 Lawn Mower Repair
M1 Misc. Services
P1 Painting, Wallpapering
P2 Plumbing
P3 Protection Services
P4 Photo Services
R1 TV, Stereo, Video Service
R2 Remodeling
R3 Roofing
S1 Screens, Storm Windows
S2 Sewing, Alterations
S3 Sheetrock, Drywall
S4 Signs
S5 Swimming Pools
S6 Sewing Machine Repairs
S7 Storage
S8 Small Engine Repair
T1 Tree Stump Removal
U1 Upholstery
V1 Vacuum Cleaner Service
V2 Video Taping
W1 Welding
Y1 Yardwork
Y2 Yard Equip. Rental

000 Legal Notices
001 Funeral Notices
002 Funeral Homes
003 Memorial Notices
004 Cards of Thanks
007 Cemeteries/ Monuments
010 Cemetery Lots
012 Lodge Notices
016 Public Notices
018 Professional Services
020 Personals
021 Only Hearts
022 Happy Ads
024 Items of Interest
028 Vacation & Tourist Information
034 Fishing & Hunting
036 Antiques
038 Air Cond./Heaters
040 Appliance Sales
042 Auctions
044 Building Materials
045 Bicycles
046 Camera/Photo
048 Camping Equipment
049 Christmas Trees
050 Clothing
052 Computers & Equip.
054 Firewood
056 Firearms
058 Furniture for Sale
059 Yard Sales - AL
060 Yard Sales - GA
061 Collectibles Buy/Sell
064 Sports Equip. & Supplies
066 Outdoor Equip.
068 Jewelry
070 Machinery, Tools
072 Heavy Equipment
074 Medical Supplies
076 Misc. for Sale
077 Lost & Found Items
078 Musical Instruments
080 Office & Store Equip.
081 Restaurant Equipment
082 Pawn Shops
084 Power Tools
086 Equipment Rental
088 Sewing Machines
092 Swimming Pools & Supplies
096 TV-Video-Stereo Sales
098 Merchandise Wanted
110 Livestock
112 Livestock Supplies
114 Poultry
116 Poultry Supplies
118 Hay-Feed-Grain
120 Farm Equipment
122 Pets
124 Pet Supplies & Services
126 Pet Boarding & Grooming
127 Pets-Lost & Found
128 Pets Wanted
130 Free Column
132 Fruits & Vegetables
134 Lawn & Garden
136 Lawn Mowers & Equip.
138 Plants, Shrubs, Trees
140 Landscaping, Nursery
142 Wanted to Buy
210 Management Employment
212 Restaurants & Clubs
214 Employment Agencies
215 Employment Information
216 Help Wanted General
218 Help Wanted Part-Time
219 Domestic Help Wanted
220 Medical/Dental
222 Office/Clerical
223 Data Entry
224 Professional Employment
225 Technical
226 Sales
228 Skills & Trades
229 Child Care
230 Job Wanted
232 Resume Services
234 Job Listings
310 Medical Training
312 Clerical Training
314 Beauty & Barber Schools
316 Dancing, Music, Drama
318 Modeling
320 Correspondence Schools
322 Real Estate Schools
324 Trade Schools
328 Misc. Instructions
330 Colleges
410 Business Opportunities
412 Investments
414 Money to Lend
415 Credit
416 Wanted to Borrow
510 Rentals
512 Rooms
514 Room & Board
516 Share Home
518 Furnished Apts. GA
519 Furnished Apts. AL
520 Unfurnished Apts. GA
521 Unfurnished Apts. AL
522 Cottages
524 Furnished Houses GA
525 Furnished Houses AL
526 Unfurnished. Houses GA
527 Unfurnished Houses AL
528 Business Rentals
529 Office Rentals
530 Wanted to Rent
532 Property for Rent
534 Resort Rentals
536 Storage Rentals
610 Property
612 Townhouses & Condos
614 Homes For Sale AL
616 Homes For Sale GA
618 Real Estate Wanted
620 Commercial Property
622 Income Property
624 Investment Property
626 Lots For Sale
628 Backwater Property GA
629 Backwater Property AL
630 Lake Front Lots
632 Resort & Vacation Property
634 Out of Town Realty
636 Farms & Acreage
638 Real Estate Auction
640 Wanted to Buy
710 Mobile Homes For Sale
714 Mobile Homes For Rent
716 Mobile Home Lots For Rent
718 Mobile Home Lots For Sale
720 Mobile Homes Wanted
724 Mobile Home Service
726 Mobile Units
810 Boats
812 Canoes & Sailboats
813 Personal Watercrafts
814 Marine Service & Supplies
816 Boats Wanted
818 Motor Homes For Sale
820 Campers & Trailers
824 Camping Supplies & Equipment
826 RV Supplies & Service
828 Motorcycles For Sale
830 Mini-Bikes
832 Dunebuggies For Sale
834 Scooters, Go-Carts
836 Wanted to Buy
910 Airplanes
912 Tractors & Trailers
914 Trucks
916 Truck Service, Parts, Acc.
918 Truck Rental, Leasing
920 Trucks Wanted
922 Buses/Vans For Sale
924 Jeeps For Sale
926 Auto Service Parts, Acc.
928 Auto Insurance / Financing
930 Autos For Sale
932 Sports Cars For Sale
934 Classic & Antique Autos
936 Imported Autos
938 Auto Rental/Leasing
940 Autos Wanted

Leaders
For the Finest Jr. Officers seeking the Finest Career opportunities and service. Palm Quinn, USMA '79, 250 Teri Lane, Prattville, AL 36067. (205) 361-9157

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE
FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL
322-4500

Butler's Memorial Weekend
FRIDAY, SATURDAY, & MONDAY!!!
CASH MATCH
FACTORY REBATES UP TO $3000!!!
DISCOUNTS UP TO $5000!!!
WIN $100 INSTANT CASH!
Just match the last four digits of your Social Security number to the last four digits of the serial number of any car on our lot--new or used!
Plus, receive a minimum reduction of $500 to $2000 on any vehicle in stock!
No purchase necessary, but you must be at least 18 years old with a valid driver's license to participate. Only one winner per household, please.
*LIMITS & ODDS LIMITED TO THE 1st 50 MATCHES AT EACH LOCATION, DIVIDED BY THE NUMBER OF PARTICIPATING READERS WITH MATCHING NUMBERS.

1989 NISSAN SENTRA
2 DR $6999 Reg. Price
4 Spd 500 Fact. Rebate
4 Cyl Engine
$6499 This Week
plus tag, tax
Stk #88d227

1989 DODGE D 100 PICK UP
auto. $13,900 Reg. Price trans, 1,500 Butler Disc.
air 1,000 Fact. Rebate
$11,400 This Week
plus tag, tax stk #89C178

1989 PLYMOUTH HORIZON
A Real Gas Miser $8237 Reg. Price
5 Spd. Trans. 1500 Butler Disc.
2.2 Liter Engine 500 Fact. Rebate
Recliner Seats
$6237 This Week
plus tag, tax

1989 PLYMOUTH SUNDANCE
Spring Special $12,284 Reg. Price
2.5 Efi. Engine 1,600 Butler Disc.
Auto. Trans. 750 Fact. Rebate
Air, AM/FM 60/40 Seats
$9,934 This Week
plus tag, tax

1989 DODGE DAKOTA "S"
5 Spd. $11,287 Reg. Price
2.5 EFI 1,500 Butler Disc.
Deluxe Est. Pkg. 300 Fact. Rebate
Air AM/FM Cassette ETR, P. Steering. 4170 GVW, Stk. #89C14
$9,487 This Week
plus tag, tax

1989 DODGE DYNASTY
V-6 Engine $16,779 Reg. Price
Air 2,000 Butler Disc.
Tilt, Cruise 500 Fact. Rebate
AM/FM, Wire Wheel Covers
$14,279 This Week
plus tag, tax

OLDIES BUT GOODIES

1981 BUICK CENTURY A. Trans, Air, AM/FM $1695	1983 TOYOTA CELICA G.T. A. Trans, Air, AM/FM $2995	1981 V.W. RABBITT 5 Spd., Air, AM/FM, Like New $1995	1980 280 ZX $5995	1988 MAZDA 626 LX TURBO 4-Dr., A. Trans, Loaded! One Owner! $12,995
1987 BUICK PARK AVE. Low Miles, Loaded! One Owner $13,995	1986 BUICK RIVERIA LANDAU P. Sunroof, Digital Pkg. $10,995	1988 CHEVY Z-24 Like New! $9995	1986 V.W. CONVERTIBLE $8995	1987 CHEVY IROC-Z28 Like New $11,995

BUTLER
NISSAN-CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH DODGE
427 New Franklin Rd.
LaGrange, GA (404) 884-1744
Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8:00- Sat. 8:30-6:00

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY "DELIVERS"

E-2s & Up!!

No Previous CREDIT! "No Problem"

SAME DAY DELIVERY!

SLOW CREDIT? "No Problem"

Toll Free 1-800-544-8480

Only Requirements
1. L.E.S.
2. $99.00 Down
3. Ability To Buy Full Coverage Auto Insurance

Bring this Ad—
We'll Pay Your Cab Fare

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
Hwy. 431 North
EUFAULA, ALABAMA

MEMORIAL DAY SELL-A-THON

4 HUGE DAYS
FRI-SAT-SUN-MON
10-8

DURING THIS SUPER 4 DAY EVENT . . .
FURNISH AMERICA MUST SELL
$200,000 IN BRAND NAME FURNITURE!

WE MUST RAISE CASH!

We want to expand our operation to better serve our customers!

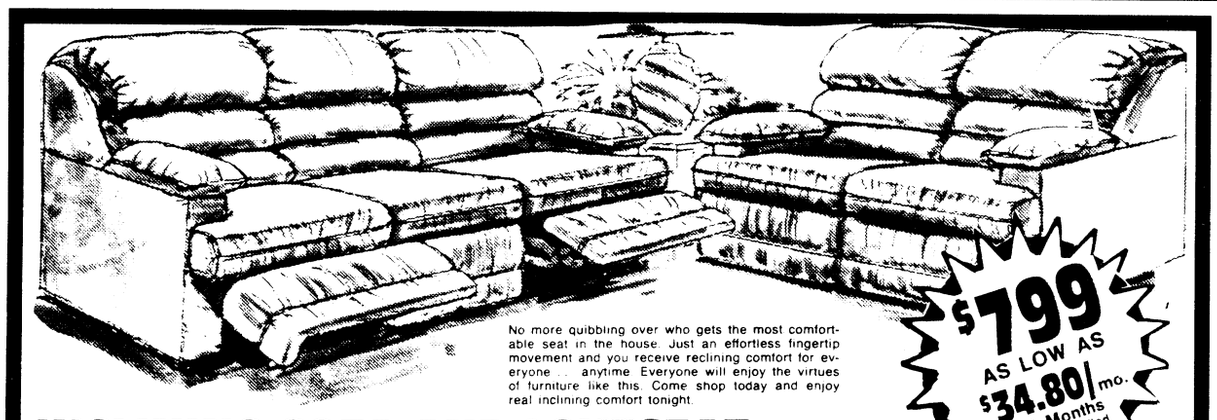
SAVE 20% 30% 40%
. . . EVEN 80%

COMPUTER WORK STATION

This versatile 4-piece set is our way of helping you bring high-tech home. Components include a desk, hutch, printer stand and corner unit. Desk features a roomy box drawer and shelf. Hutch offers an adjustable shelf and handy closed door storage.

Printer stand has two shelves, one adjustable, and a slot in back for paper feed. Corner unit can be attached to either side. A must for serious computer enthusiasts. All components finished in Plymouth Oak. Ready to assemble.

REG. $190.00
TODAY ONLY
$99



ENJOY THE SUMMER!!!

PORCH SWINGS
ONLY $29
CASH AND CARRY

Solid Oak Swing with all Hardware
COMPARE AT $99

IT MUST BE SOLD REGARDLESS OF COST OR LOSS!

No more quibbling over who gets the most comfortable seat in the house. Just an effortless fingertip movement and you receive reclining comfort for everyone . . . anytime. Everyone will enjoy the virtues of furniture like this. Come shop today and enjoy real inclining comfort tonight.

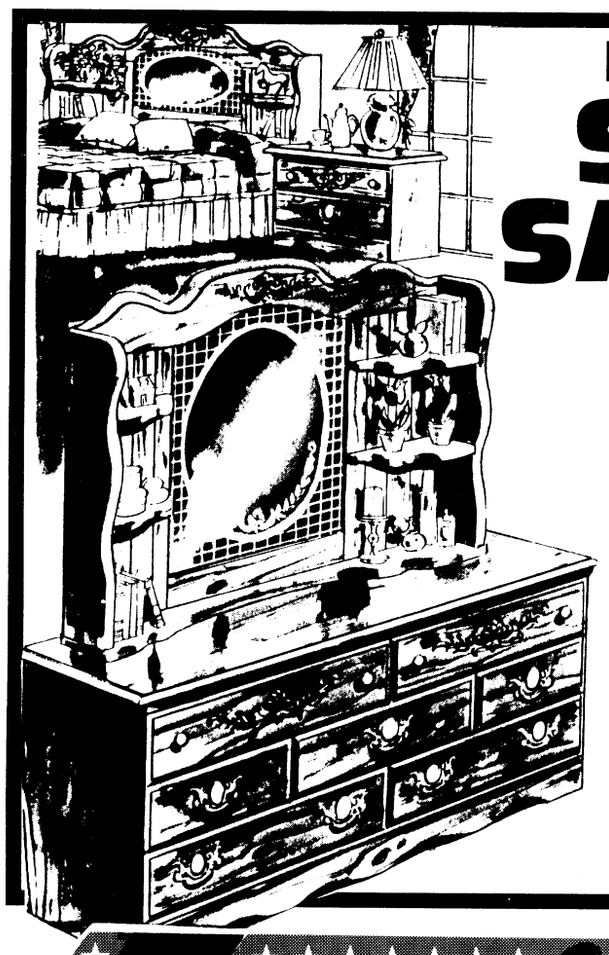
$799
AS LOW AS
$34.80/mo.
36 Months
With Qualified Credit

INCLINING SOFA AND LOVESEAT

CASH DISCOUNTS

90 DAYS SAME AS CASH

NO PAYMENTS 'TIL AUG. '89



AMERICAN BEDDING

COUNTRY MORNING POSTURE SERIES
SOLD IN SETS ONLY

Twin .....NOW $139.95
Full.....NOW $199.95
Queen. NOW $239.95
King .....NOW $299.95

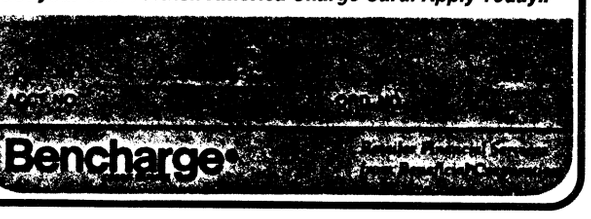
EXAMPLE OF
SUPER SAVINGS

Our new "Classic Pine" grouping offers more delightful design features, more spaciousness than anything else at anywhere near the price.

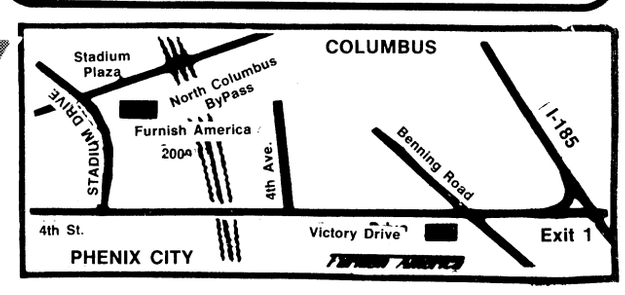
Authentic porcelain inlaid brass hardware and deeply embossed floral designs accent these outstanding case pieces which include an open curio display dresser hutch with oval decorated etched mirror over the sweeping triple dresser and a shaped, hutch headboard with decorator etched mirror.

YOU GET THE COMPLETE 4-PC. SUITE $599



• HUGE 7-DRAWER DRESSER • EXPANSIVE DRESSER HUTCH MIRROR
• GIANT 6-DRAWER CHEST • FULL/QUEEN SIZE HUTCH HEADBOARD
EXTRA SPACIOUS 2-DRAWER BEDSIDE CHEST ONLY $99

BEDROOM WARDROBE
ONLY $99

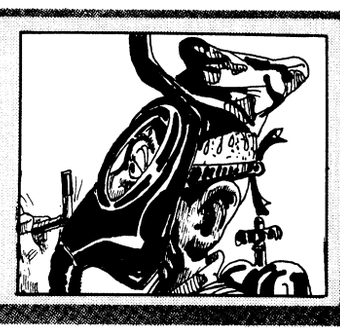


Furnish America

Get your own Furnish America Charge Card. Apply Today!!

Furnish America

Yes, we still have credit terms. Even at these astounding prices we can offer convenient terms based upon needs including 100 days same as cash. Minimum purchase $400. Your charge cards welcome.



NOW TWO CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
BENNING ROAD AT VICTORY DRIVE 221-2252 • STADIUM PLAZA

Infant car seat company issues consumer alert.

See A-5

Snively takes his annual common task training.

See A-2

INDEX

Opinion A-2
Community . A-8
Spiritual A-9
Sports B-4
Movies B-5

THE BAYONET

Home of the Infantry

Carrier Route Presort
BULK RATE
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
Permit No. 175
Columbus, GA 31994

Vol. 47, No. 35 | Published in the interest of the Fort Benning, Ga. community. | June 2, 1989

POST BRIEFS

Post establishes lawn watering times

Effective immediately — Fort Benning has established authorized lawn watering times on a staggered schedule to assist in water conservation during dry weather. Categories of buildings and their respective watering times are:

Family Housing Areas (except Custer Terrace Housing Area), Sunday, 6 to 10 a.m.and 5 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Custer Terrace Housing Area, Wednesday and Friday, 5 p.m. to 12 midnight.

Custer Terrace Housing Area, Saturday: 6 to 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. to 12 midnight.

All others — administrative-type buildings, troop barracks and commercial facilities, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 5 to 9 a.m.

★ ★ ★

36th Engineers to hold change of command

Today — Col. Henry S. Miller Jr. will assume command from Col. Douglas R. Church at the 36th Engineer Group change of command today at 9 a.m. on York Field. The public is invited.

★ ★ ★

Fort Benning youth ready and willing to work

More than 100 youth are ready and willing to perform odd jobs for anyone who needs assistance.

The May 17 youth job fair, sponsored by the Family Member Employment Assistance Office, produced about 125 youth workers who want to work, but are too young to hold a regular job.

Their skills range from yard work and maintenance, to cleaning, house sitting, pet sitting, tutoring and helping with family moves.

Some youngsters have already found work around post, but many still need jobs. Wages are negotiable between worker and employer.

To hire a youth or for more information, call the FMEAP office at 545-5176/5340.

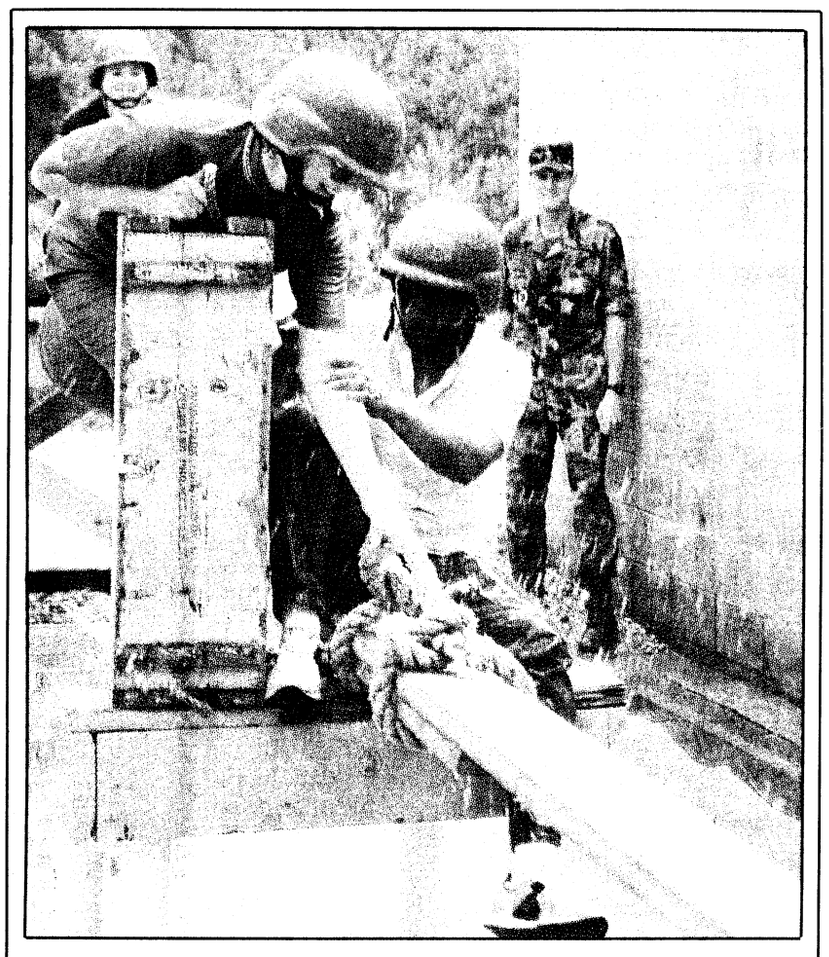
★ ★ ★

Radon detectors going up in housing areas

Monday — Radon detectors will be placed in the following housing areas beginning Monday: Lavoie/Indianhead Terrace - Areas 26, 27 and 28; McGraw Manor - Areas 1, 2, 3, and 4; McDaniel Manor - Area 25; Main Post - Areas 20, 21, and 22; White Elephants - Areas 16 and 17; Bouton Heights - Areas 12 and 13; Davis Hill - Areas 10 and 11; Upatoi Terrace - Area 9 and Iron Triangle - Area 14.

Residents are reminded to not disturb the detectors during the minimum 90-day testing period. Detectors will also be placed in all barracks. Questions regarding the radon survey should be directed to the Environmental Management Branch, Directorate of Engineering and Housing, at 545-4766 or 545-4957.

★ ★ ★



Blood drive scheduled at 197th Infantry Brigade

Wednesday — the Army Blood Program will have a blood drive at the 197th Infantry Brigade Wednesday. Fifty donors will be drawn to ensure that the hospital maintains a maximum blood inventory and a supply of short shelf-life products, such as platelets. For more information, call 544-1711 or 544-4565.

★ ★ ★

Patch Preschool registration today

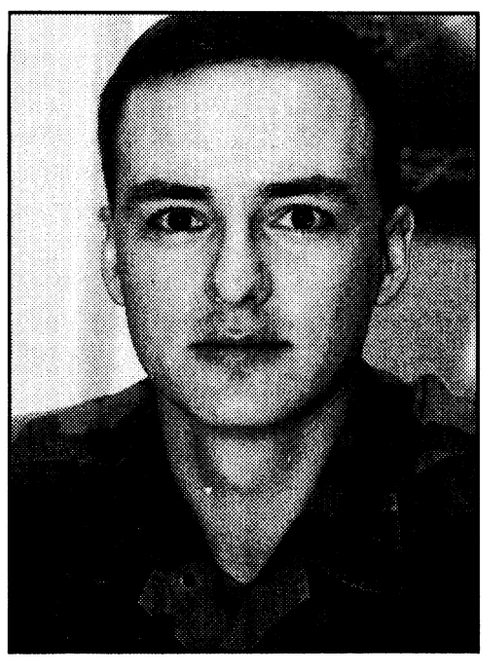
Today — The Fort Benning Early Childhood Development Center (Patch Preschool) will hold registration for the 1989-90 school year today from 7:30 a.m. - 11:30 a.m. The preschool admits students of any race, color, national and ethnic origin to all programs. Children must be 3 or 4 on or before Sept. 1 to be eligible. The preschool is located at the corner of Lumpkin and Baltzell Avenue. Bring shot record, birth certificate, and a check or money order for the non-refundable activity fee of $20. For more information, call 687-2404.

Ann McDonald

Leader's reaction

A Department of Defense civilian grimaces as water splashes on her face during the water obstacle portion of the Leaders Reaction Course. Fifty civilian executives recently toured Benning and took part in various training exercises. See Various Voices, A-2, and related story and photos, B-1.

Officer awarded Soldier's Medal



By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

"I don't think I went above and beyond the call of duty." said the officer who was recently awarded the Soldier's Medal for Heroism.

"There was no choice; the soldier was going to die if we didn't take action. Unfortunately, he died anyway,"said Capt. Earl B. Wardell Jr., who was awarded the medal for his attempt to save the life of a Lebanese Army officer, after an M113 troop carrier overturned here April 25, 1987.

Wardell is currently commanding Company A, 1st Battalion, 38th Infantry, 2nd Infantry Training Brigade. During the time of the accident, he was a Platoon Trainer with Company C, 2nd Battalion, 11th Infantry, Infantry Officer Basic Course. The accident occurred near the intersection of Red Diamond and Plymouth Roads and Helmet Trail, during an IOBC exercise.

According to the narrative, as soon as the vehicle overturned Wardell immediately moved to the overturned vehicle even before it had completely stopped moving. He quickly assisted in extracting the disoriented and panicky, non-injured personnel from the troop compartment, forcing them to slow down and instructing them to be calm so as not to risk further injury.

Capt. Earl B. Wardell Jr.

Wardell then extracted the driver of the vehicle and climbed underneath the vehicle to the other officer. The vehicle was precariously balanced in loose sand and could have fallen on top of both men at any time.

As Wardell was climbing underneath, he said he realized that it might possibly

See SOLDIER A-3

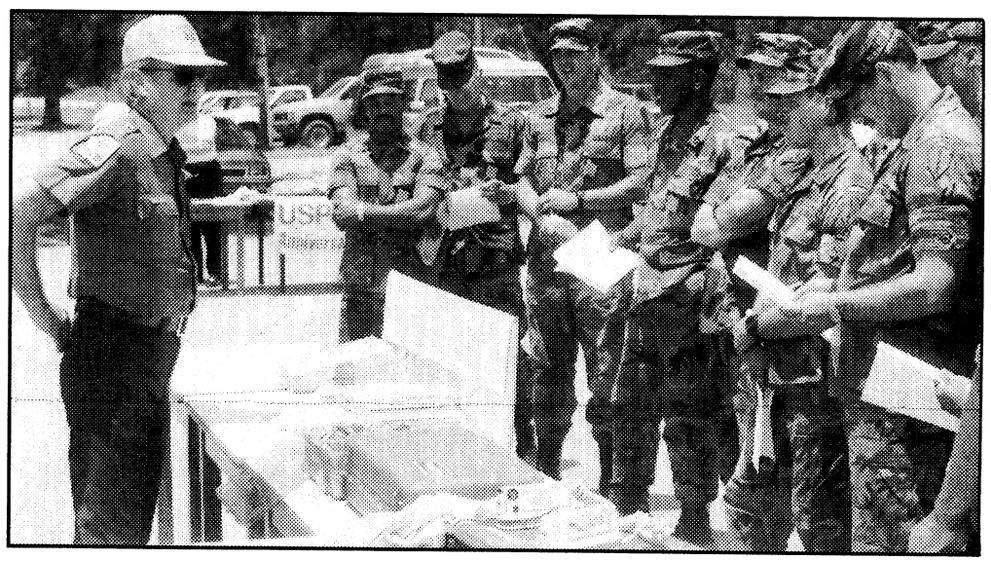
13 officers selected for command

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Thirteen Fort Benning officers have been selected for command, according to the May 23 promotion list.



The lieutenant colonels and promotable majors were selected for slots in combat arms.

The primary list selectees are:

Majors Samuel J. Barlotta, Lee R. Barnes Jr., Paul J. Burton, Daniel R. Fake, Eric T. Olson, Kenneth W. Stauss, Thomas W. Suitt and Thomas R. Turner.

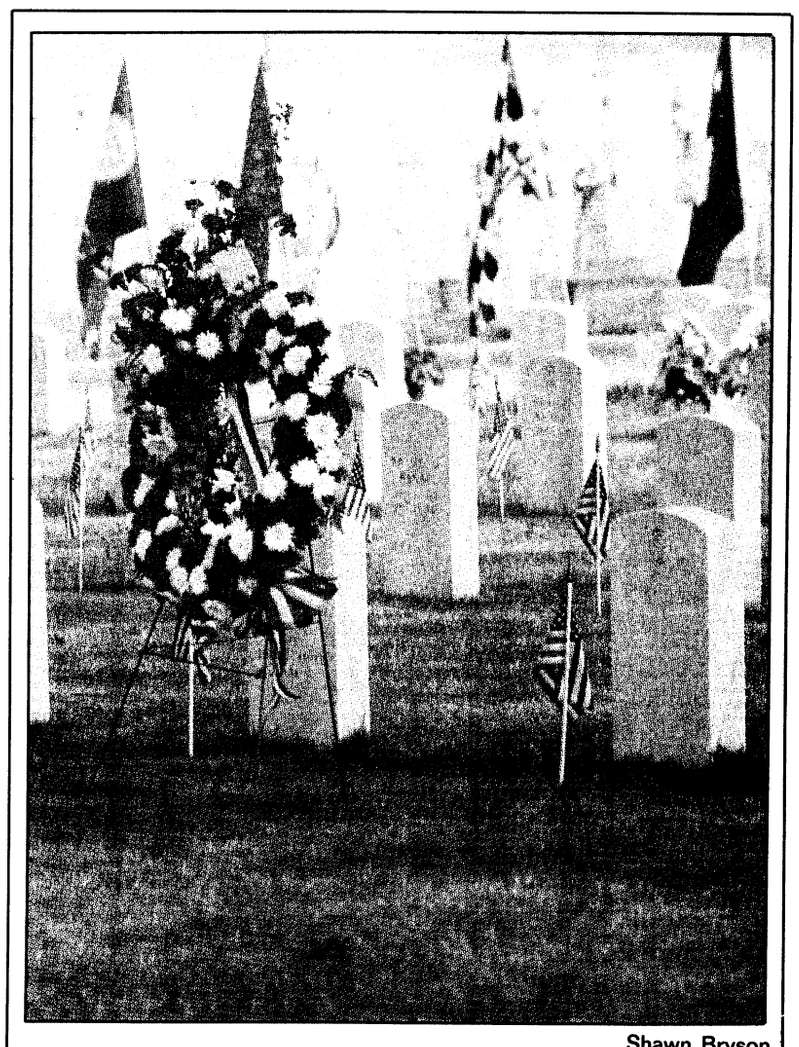
The alternate list selectees are:

Lt. Col. Byron D. Greene III, Maj. William M. McDaniel, Lt. Col. Steven E. Roy, Lt. Col. Henry J. Salice Jr. and Maj. Robert E. Watson III.

Ron Allen

George Williams gives soldiers of Co. B, 2nd Bn., 29th Inf., instructions about emergency medical care provided by the Emergency Medical Services of Columbus during Safety Awareness Day.

Benning observes Safety Awareness Day



By Ron Allen
USAIC Public Affairs Office

Instead of the usual three-day weekend safety briefing May 26, 1st Lt. Shawn O. Cupp had a different idea for Company B, 1st Battalion, 29th Infantry.

Cupp, who is the company executive officer, invited local military and civilian agencies to come to the company for briefings and displays. "This was done in conjunction with the company safety briefing and POV inspections prior to the start of the Memorial Day Weekend and in observance of Safety Awareness Day," he said.

Displays were set up by the Muscogee Power Squadron, Columbus Fire Department, DUI Task Force of the Columbus Police Department and the Columbus Emergency Medical Services. Internally, the unit set up motorcycle and lawn mower safety displays, and Troop Medical Clinic 6 set up a heat injury

See SAFETY A-4

Shawn Bryson

Remembrance

This wreath was placed by the headstone of the Unknown Soldier's grave in Main Post Cemetery on Memorial Day by Fort Benning Commanding General, Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire. It reminds us of the great sacrifices made by men and women who fought for our freedom.

OPINION

VARIOUS VOICES: What is the most memorable training you received at Fort Benning?

■ See related story, B-1.

Neomae Kruse, U.S. Army Troop Support Agency, St. Louis, Mo. — "The helicopter ride, crossing the ribbon bridge and eating in the field kitchen. These are all things managed by my organization so it was a great experience to see these things in operation."

Ray Glew, Defense Mapping, Washington, D.C. — "The leadership reaction course was the most memorable. Towards the end, we had a lot of team spirit, and I think that's important."

Alan Springer, Headquarters FORSCOM, Fort McPherson, Ga. — "Firing the twenty-five millimeter pistol. I felt such a tremendous sense of power when I was firing that weapon. But, I also have one other memory — meeting and talking to all the soldiers on Fort Benning."

Teresa Coady, Headquarters Army Material Command, Alexandria, Va. — "Jumping out of the thirty-four foot tower because you have to make the decision to jump all by yourself."

Patti Bias, Assistant Secretary of Army Research, Development and Acquistion, Pentagon, Washington, D.C. — "Firing the weapons and seeing the Rangers in Action demonstration. I also learned how very professional the officers and NCOs are on Fort Benning."

Denise Droneburg, Defense Mapping Agency, Washington, D.C. — "The maps we do are for the M-113's so I didn't know what the Bradley could do. However, I saw what it could do during the Bradley capabilities exercise, and it made me realize how important it is for soldiers to have good weapons."

Good leaders not afraid of risk

By Luke Bairan
Army News Service

Ownership is a problem. It means doing the things leaders do; things that scare managers.

Ownership means trusting your subordinates and taking the hits for their mistakes. It means not giving in to pressure from above.

It means giving up a lot of the power without giving up the responsibility.

The commander who asks, "You're on top of this, aren't you?" implies soldiers aren't competent to do a task unless they're micromanaged.

The NCO whose favorite story is the one about the soldier who, given the opportunity, painted his room black — implying that soldiers, although well-meaning, lack judgement.

A paperwork chain of responsibility is so complicated that it takes a lawyer to understand, and is very intimidating to mere mortals.

For the leader who is willing to fight this anti-ownership system, the rewards are great.

You'll find out which of your people are dependable when unsupervised.

You'll learn what each subordinate is good at, so you can assign the right person to each task.

Your incompetent people won't be able to hide. You can correct their problems and start training them before they become serious work and morale problems.

You'll have more time for things which really require your personal attention.

When your people start to excel regularly, you'll look good despite the bumpy ride getting this far.

Getting ownership started is easy. Keeping it up is a full-time job; the pressure is often against you. Setting the ownership example is all-important.

Example: Gen. Moemdown just walked in and asked for a driver and truck right now. There are three other licensed drivers sitting in the office. What do you do?

The easiest thing would be to give the keys to one of the other drivers and make the general instantly happy. But if you do toss the keys to someone else, remember that from then on all your trucks will receive only the bare minimum of care required — unless you're out there riding the troops.

If you're setting the ownership example, you'll call Smith and ask him, if hasn't got an absolute life-and-death crisis, could he please give Gen. Moemdown "his" truck for the day?

Unless Smith has leadership problems or has really lost touch with reality, he'll say yes. Then he's going to announce to everyone how you asked his permission to use "his" truck.

How well do you think Smith is going to take care of "his" truck from then on? How about the other soldiers under you, who will all hear about the incident? How will they respond?

About a year and a half ago, I saw a letter to the editor in a military magazine. The writers told how they'd been impressed by something they'd seen on the flight line of an air base, while watching a jet about to take off.

The mechanic who'd been working on the jet came to attention and saluted the pilots as they started the engines. Then she walked over and pressed her hand against the wing of the plane before it began to roll.

That's pride in your work; that's the feeling of ownership.

Nothing works quite like it.

Editor's Note: Bairan writes for the Fort Hood "Sentinel."

Snively takes his annual common task training

By Clyde Snively
USAIC Public Affairs Office

Soldiers in the 11th Infantry just finished taking their annual CTT.

I'm not really sure what that stands for, Common Task Training or Testing, or something, but I know what it consists of.

It consists of 17 stations where you get to show how smart you are and feel like an infantryman at the end.

They tell me the name "common" means that no matter what our MOS, we should know how to do such things as talk on the radio, find our way in the woods armed with nothing but map and compass and be able to apply a field dressing should we ever get hurt while trying to find our way in the woods.

We should also be able to recognize symptoms of people suffering heat injuries, which around here, is very important. Airborne Annie of course breezed through all 17 stations without one NO GO.

"You'd have to try in order to fail," she chortled.

That might be easy for her to say, but some of us have difficulty lacing our boots and being able to differentiate between our left hand and our right hand.

For my part, all that NBC stuff did me in again. Any time you start dealing with material that has names that need an entire page in the dictionary, you lose me.

So things like BZ and BW and those little syringes that are supposed to be jabbed into your thigh at certain intervals really unnerve me and cause me to suffer shortness of breath. When that happens, I get dizzy, start to wheeze and sweat profusely.

If that's not bad enough, they also insist on putting you into those suits you usually see mechanics wearing, except they're 10 times hotter (they should do CTT in the winter).

After that, it's the protective mask. I really hate protective masks. You can't talk in them, much less breathe. The rubber constricts around your face and neck, sucking out the bodily juices.

Just as I'm about to pass out, the grader, who must be related to Boris Karloff or a KGB interrogator tells me to rinse my eyes while I'm in the dadburn mask. He expects this of someone who needs to be totally knocked out just for eye drops. I tried to put murine in my eyes once. Every time I'd see that drop heading for my eyeball, I'd start blinking and spray everyone around me with little droplets of murine.

And now, with the temperature at the 200-degree mark, while I'm wearing gloves which quite nicely restrict all sense of feel, plus that protective mask, I'm supposed to flush me eyes? hah.

"I'll drown," I tell the NCO.

"Try it anyway," he says, totally void of compassion.

I very nearly do, getting water in my ear, up my nose, but none in my eyes.

The NCO writes something down. "Okay, specialist, let's try this one; take a drink of water from you canteen."

"At last, something I can do," I think to myself as I thank him and begin to unscrew my canteen cap and take off my mask.

"I mean drink as though you were in a contaminated environment," he quickly admonishes me. And here I always thought I was in a contaminated environment. Certainly is an alien one.

I'm given an UNSAT and sent to the next station. On the way over, I try to figure out if my enlistment will be up before I have to go through all this again.

And to think, someone told me infantry soldiers do stuff like this nearly everyday — and LOVE IT.

The Bayonet

This newspaper is an authorized publication for members of the Army. Contents of THE BAYONET are not necessarily the official views of, or endorsed by the Department of the Army or any of its agencies. Everything in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, sex or national origin of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunity by an advertiser will result in the refusal of the publisher to print advertising from that souce. THE BAYONET is an unofficial publication authorized by Army Regulation 360-81. Editorial content is prepared, edited and provided by the Public Affairs Office of the U.S. Army Infantry Center. THE BAYONET is published each Friday by the R.W. Page Corporation, a private firm in no way connected with the Department of the Army, under exclusive written contract with Fort Benning. All photos are U.S. Army unless otherwise credited. Liaison between the publisher and the commanding general, USAIC, is maintained by the public affairs officer, through the command information officer, USAIC, Fort Benning.

Editorial

Commanding General ..... Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire
Public Affairs Officer ..... Lt. Col. McDonald Plummer Jr.
Command Information Officer ..... Maj. Thomas Fix
Command Information NCOIC ..... SSgt. Ron Allen
Administration NCOIC ..... SSgt. Luz Llanos
Editor ..... Agatha Hudson James
Assistant Editor ..... Spec. Shawn Bryson
Staff writer ..... Spec. Ann McDonald
Editorial Office: Public Affairs Office, USAIC, Building 4, Room 601, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905, (404) 545-2201/2202; AUTOVON 835-2201.

Advertising

Retail/Display ..... (404) 324-5526
Classified ..... (404) 322-4500
Circulation ..... (404) 323-1234

For subscription information call (404)323-1234.

Circulation 21,000

Represented nationally by Knight Ridder Newspaper sales W.B. Bradbury and Military Media, Inc.

Chosin Reservoir vets meet at Fort Benning

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

They call themselves the Army Chapter of the "Chosin Few." The men recently came to Fort Benning for a chapter outing and gave a seminar explaining exactly what they represent.

The "Chosin Few," are men who served in or around the Chosin Reservoir in Northern Korea during the Korean War.

According to a book by retired Lt. Col. Roy E. Appleman, in November, 1950, Gen. Douglas MacArthur planned the last major offensive of what was to be a brief "conflict" — the drive that would push the North Koreans across the Yalu River into Manchuria.

He said the 31st Regimental Combat Team, a 3,000-man composite unit of the Army's 7th Infantry Division, was ordered to Chosin's East side.

Appleman describes the tragic fate of those troops and presented a thorough analysis of the physical condition, attitudes and command decisions that doomed the men of the 31st.

What happened was the 31st RCT forces were still being assembled east of the reservoir when a Chinese communist army launched a surprise attack during the night. The battle lasted four days and five nights.

The American troops were surrounded and cut off, with only limited aerial support and no communications with their headquarters. Despite many heroic efforts, hundreds of dead and wounded soldiers remained where they lay when they were attacked.

The highest ranking officer killed in Korea was the unit commander. The only survivors were those who were able to trudge or crawl the three or four miles across the frozen reservoir to the American line or those who were rescued from the reservoir by efforts from the Marine perimeter at Hagaru-ri.

Members of the "Chosin Few" told their story to members of the Infantry School as well and toured many of the units on post.

Although the men already have a kinship with Benning since they were fighters in a past war, they also have another thread which ties them here. Don C. Faith, the person for whom the Don C. Faith Middle School was named, was killed in action at the Chosin Reservoir. Faith was posthumously awarded the Medal of Honor "for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action."

Ann McDonald

Grover C. West, commander of the Valley Chapter of the American Ex-Prisoners of War, presents their official flower, the daisy, to Deputy Post Commander Lt. Col. Barry Mahek.

POWs conduct daisy drive

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The Valley Chapter of The American Ex-Prisoners of War presented the deputy post commander with the first daisy of their daisy drive last week in a ceremony marking the event.

The donations will go to help former POWs, reflecting our motto, "We help those who cannot help themselves." according to commander of the chapter Grover C. West.

On hand at the kickoff were POWs from Korea, WWII and Vietnam. They were just a small representation of the more than 142,000 soldiers held prisoner since WWI.

The two-day sale of the flowers is over, but the proceeds will be with us for a long time, West said.

Soldier

—Continued from A-1—

fall on him, but he felt the soldier was more important.

He took all the necessary steps to make sure the soldier was removed safely and expediently from beneath the carrier.

As soon as the young troop was removed from underneath the vehicle, he was taken to Martin Army Community Hospital where he was pronounced dead.

Wardell, tattered and torn from the battery acid dripping from the overturned vehicle, stayed at the scene and rendered first aid to another soldier who was a victim of the accident.

Although he realized he placed himself in great danger, Wardell said he would do it again.

"I don't think I could live with myself if I didn't," he added.

As a commander of an infantry training company, the potential for such an accident still exists. But, Wardell said he doesn't think he is anymore cautious because of that.

"I'm trained to watch for potential hazards so I'm not doing anything different," he said. "It's my job to watch out for soldiers."

Freewheelin' III Custom Vehicle Show N Shine

3 June 1989

Automotive Extravaganza!!!

Ft. Benning Main Exchange Parking Lot

• Thump Contest! • Custom Accessories!

Commodity Concessions: Custom license plates, hat pins, etc...

• Entertainment! • Food Booths!

• Door Prizes!

CUSTOM VEHICLE SHOW: 1000 - 1700 • 3 JUNE 1989

AAFES

BE WISE... DON'T WASTE

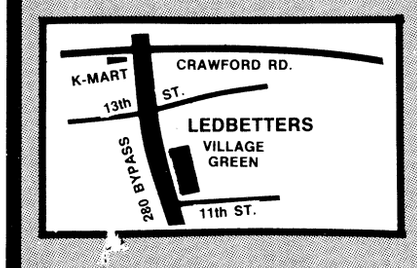
Going Out Of Business SALE

All Watches (Citizen, Seiko, Pulsar) NOW 60% OFF

Ladies One Diamond Princess Ring NOW 49.95 Reg. 125.00 10K

Cubic Zirconia Tennis Bracelet NOW 49.95 Reg. 200.00

Ladies Diamond and Amethyst Waterfall Ring NOW 69.95 Reg. 250.00 10K



EVERYTHING IN STORE 30 35 40 45 50 60% OFF OR MORE

All 14K Gold chains NOW 75% OFF

EXTRA SPECIALS!
- Ladies 7 Diamond 2 ct. T.D.W. Cluster Ring Reg. $5,000.00 NOW $1,995.00
- Ladies 1.00 ct. T.W. Ballering Ring Reg. $4,000.00 NOW $1,495.00
- Ladies 5.00 ct. T.D.W. Anniversary Band Reg. $9,000.00 NOW $3,495.00

TOTAL INVENTORY LIQUIDATION

Ledbetter's Jewelers

HOURS
Mon.-Thurs. 10-6
Fri.-Sat. 10-7

VILLAGE GREEN SHOPPING CENTER
OFF 280
PHENIX CITY

Safety Day

Continued from A-1

prevention display.

At each display site, the different agencies gave class and lectures concerning safety.

The Muscogee Power Squadron had Albert Basley, Tom Whipple, Charles Murphy and Fred Norris on hand to instruct and answer questions on safe boating. The Squadron is a national organization with a membership approaching 70,000 dedicated to safe boating.

Mary Perry, a fire education specialist, and Robert Walker, a fire inspector, showed up from the Columbus Fire Department to give instructions and pass out pamphlets for preventing and surviving during fires.

The Emergency Medical Services sent George Williams to explain medical procedures used by emergency medical teams.

Officer Eric B. Hess from the DUI Task Force in Columbus was on hand with the message "Don't Drink and Drive" and also a warning against speeding.

"As we enter the most dangerous days of the year," Cupp said, "This was an excellent time to get these safety messages out."

Ron Allen

PFC Tim W. Junghans of Co. B, 2nd Bn., 29th Inf., gives SFC William R. Oxenrider pointers on the safe operation of a motorcycle at his company's Safety Awareness Day observance.

DEH shows high-tech vehicles on Safety Day

Directorate of Engineering & Housing

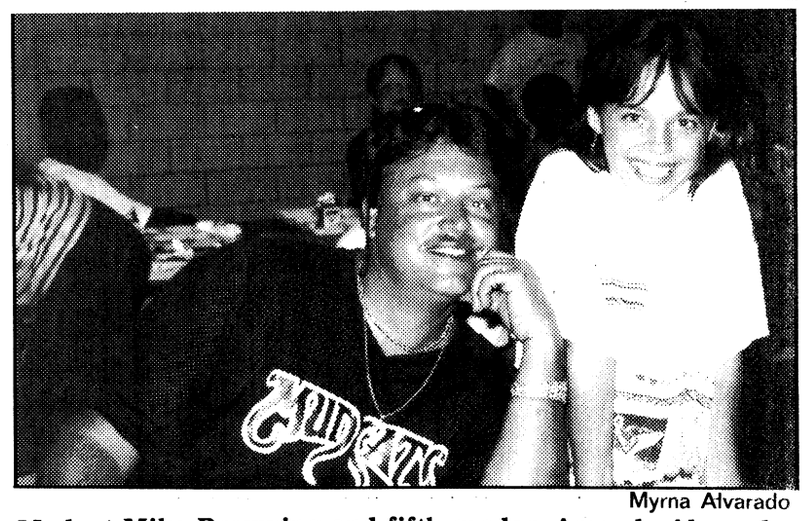
Did you notice the people in white hats or the white streamers tied to some POVs and government vehicles recently?

If you noticed that and other activities going on at the Directorate of Engineering and Housing and you were wondering why, it was for Safety Awareness Day.

DEH displayed the newest in high-tech safety vehicles and equipment on Stillwell Field and in Building 35.

This gave the employees and opportunity to display equipment and vehicles used on a daily basis to support Fort Benning.

According to a DEH spokesperson, employees are the number one asset, and the safety of these men and women is in the forefront of the daily activities.



DEH prides itself in purchasing equipment with the latest in safety technology to ensure employees the safest means to keep this post functioning.

The display on Stillwell Field included a three-wheeler used to track problem drainage lines in remote areas and the massive 85-foot ladder, snorkel fire truck. The truck demonstrated its ability to safely pump a 100-foot barrage of water across the field. The newest street sweepers, dump trucks, and the swamp buggy were also displayed. The latest high voltage bucket trucks demonstrated the ability to reach 60-feet vertically with precision to put a man between power lines and obstacles into the correct postition to work on the high voltage lines feeding post.

A static display in Building 35 by the Engineer Division included many safety items used daily. Protective suits and masks used for asbestos removal were on display alongside environmental accident control and other items. Safety films were shown during the day's activities.

DEH shops and offices took time from their busy schedule to review and discuss safety, safety SOPs and perform job safety analysis.

All vehicles used by DEH employees, including POVs, were inspected. Those employees who passed had a white ribbon tied to their vehicle. An inspection of the work place was conducted by all supervisors to eliminate hazards in their respective work areas.

Myrna Alvarado

Mudcat Mike Browning and fifth grader, Amanda Alvarado.

Mudcats visit Loyd School

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

"Take me out to the Mudcats" has become a familiar refrain at Loyd School since four of the Mudcats were special visitors there.

At a time when educators and community leaders look for ways to reinforce strong adult images for children, the Mudcats are seeking to reward student scholarship and citizenship. Loyd School is taking full advantage of the Mudcat program and adding to it by bringing the Mudcats to talk informally with students about sports and about their personal beliefs about scholarship and behavior.

"How long have you wanted to play baseball?" "Do you chew tobacco?" "Do your wives get jealous when women ask for your autograph?" "How does it feel to lose?" "How many home runs have you hit?" "Who is the best pitcher?"

These were just a few of the questions posed to the Mudcats as they sat with students at Loyd. The day included two formal question and answer sessions chaired by Loyd physical education teacher, Martha Slaughter. The Mudcats also visited classrooms and talked with students as they came to eat their lunch in the school cafeteria.

Students had prepared for the Mudcat visit by writing the lyrics for "Take Me Out To The Mudcats" to the tune of "Take Me Out To The Ball Game." Prior to the visit, they had also talked about the game of baseball and thought about the kinds of questions that they would ask the Mudcats when they came to Loyd.

"It is clear to me why former

See MUDCATS A-8

Follow these safety tips on swimming

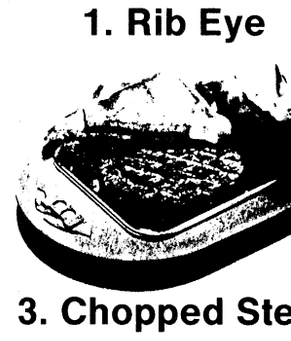
Infantry Branch Safety Office

With the opening of the swimming season, here are 10 good rules:

- Learn to swim. If you can swim, learn to swim better.
- Always swim with a buddy — never alone.
- Swim where there are lifeguards on duty.
- Recognize your limitations. Your endurance is not as great now as it will be after a summer in the water.
- Don't depend on inflated tires, tubes and other flotation devices if you can't swim.
- For distance swimming in open water, take along a companion in a boat.
- Don't swim immediately after eating, when overtired, or when overheated.
- Stay from under diving boards when in the water.
- Stay out of water during electrical storms.
- Before diving, check to see if water is deep enough and there are no hidden objects.

NEW LOW AIRFARES

Atlanta Roundtrip To:



Frankfurt	Munich	Brussels	Seoul
$758 1 June-30 Sept.	$778 1 June-30 Sept.	$872 1 June-30 Sept.	$1199 1 June-31 Aug.
$560 1 NOV.-8 DEC.	$725 1 NOV.-7 DEC.	$519 1 NOV.-19 DEC.	$1249 1 Sept.-1 Dec.

*Certain Restrictions/Taxes Apply to These Fares
*Some Blackout Dates Exist

TRAVEL WORLD, INC.

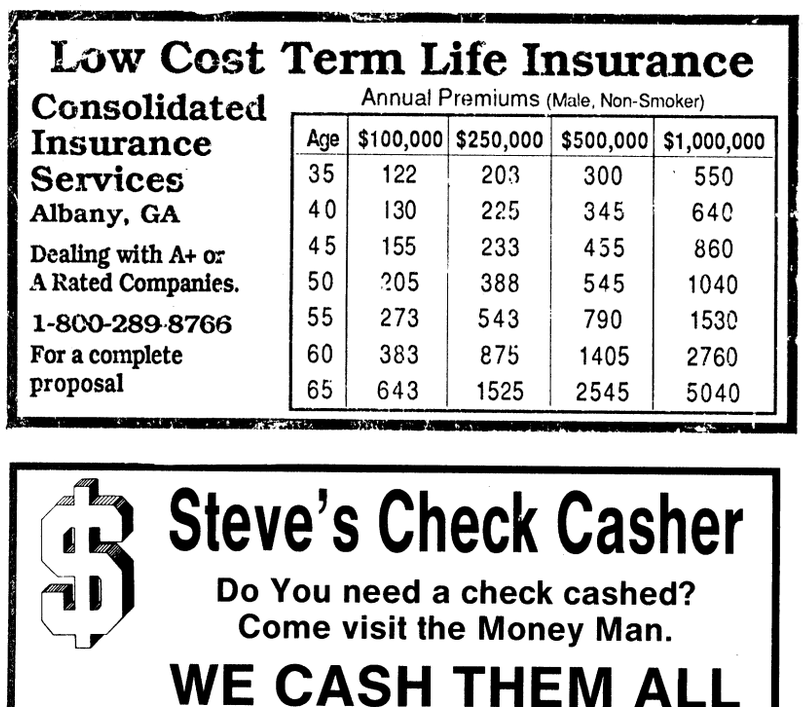
3115 Mercury Drive
Columbus, GA 31906
404/563-8687

4393 Victory Dr.
ARCCO Place
Columbus, Georgia 31903
404/689-3092

NEW BONUSES NEED CASH TODAY? NEW BONUSES

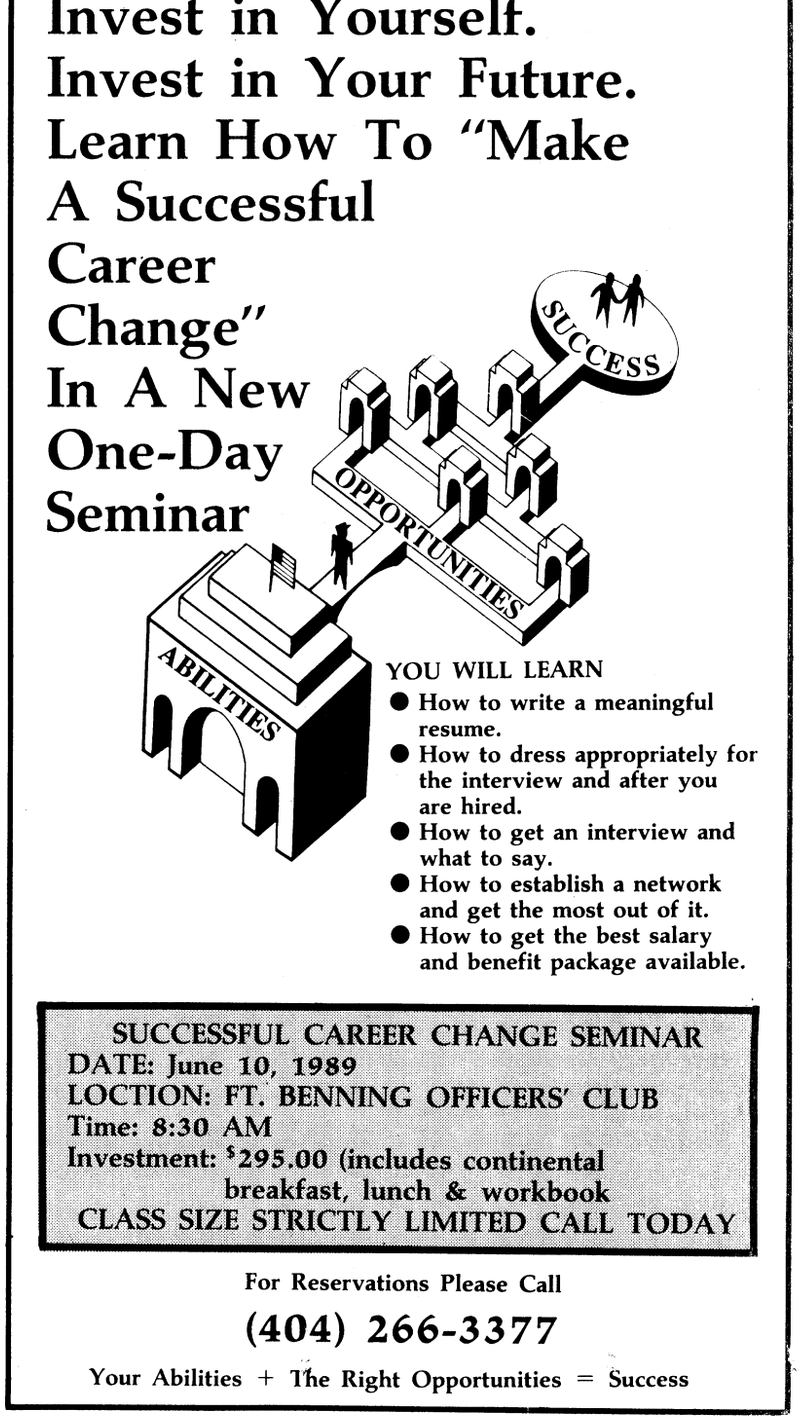
Save lives and earn money by donating your time at one of the finest Plasma Facilities in the country

New & Donors who have not donated in SIX MONTHS RECEIVE $7.00 BONUS with this ad.



Bring a Buddy & RECEIVE AN EXTRA $5.00
Additional Bonus on 6th & 8th Donations

EARN $10.00 AND ABOVE ON EACH VISIT



RIVERFRONT PLASMA CENTER
507 Dillingham St.—Phenix City
297-5711
Hours: Mon.-Wed.-Fri. 7-3:30—Tues. & Thurs. 7-6:30

CONVENIENT EVENING HOURS FOR BENNING PERSONNEL

EARN OVER $100 PER MONTH

Alert issued on infant car seat

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Evenflo Juvenile Furniture Company is in the process of notifying all customers who purchased their Evenflo or Dyn-O-Mite Infant Car Seats, manufactured prior to February 1989, of a possible safety problem.

The problem only exists when the car seat is in its lowest recline position using only the automobile's lap seat belt. The only unit involved in this alert, which was sold through AAFES, is the Dyn-O-Mite Infant Car Seat Model 443.

Instructions concerning the safe use of the Dyn-O-Mite Infant Car Seat applies to the following models manufactured by Evenflo Juvenile Furniture Company: Model Numbers 441, 443, 444, 445, 446, and 448 with tublar steel frames, manufactured from 1985 up to and including January 1989.

These models should not be used in the fourth most reclined position when using only the automobile's lap seat belt.

The Evenflow Infant Car Seat Models 456 and 458, with a molded pedestal base, should not be used in position two.

The date of manufacture for all model numbers can be found stamped on a label on either the side or the back of the unit.

Although there have been no reports of injury as a result of using the most reclined positions, it has been found in some cases that the seat back can exceed the 70-degree maximum angle allowed by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration.

All the above models can be used in the most reclined position if your automobile also has a shoulder seat belt and the shoulder seat belt is threaded through the built-in plastic clip on the back side of the infant car seat.

A warning label is available for you to attach to your car seat concerning this change in instructions with respect to the use of the most reclined position.

If you would like to receive a warning label to attach to your product, then please call and request it using the toll-free number listed below.

There have been 1,397,898 units produced in the time period which this notice addresses. If you have any questions concerning your Dyn-O-Mite or Evenflo Infant Car Seat/Carrier, you may call Evenflo Juvenile Furniture Company at 1-800-233-5921.

Bath ring poses hazard for small children

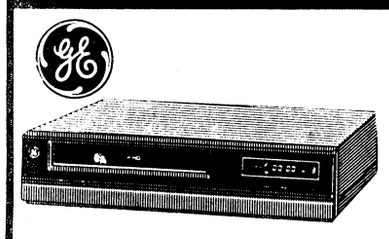
USAIC Public Affairs Office

Century Products Company has initiated a neck-pin and push-nut retrofit program for all "Seamore," the Seahorse bath rings.

The company has found that the push-nuts holding the neck in place could be removed posing a hazard for small children. Bath rings model 2772 manufactured before January 1989, are affected.

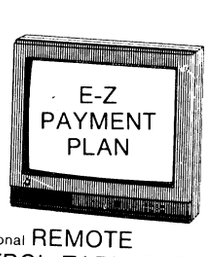
The manufacture date appears on both the carton and the underside of the ring. On the right, the model number can be seen through the three holes located on the rear base.

Century Products has not received any notice of injuries, or problems from this neck-pin/push-nut design, but warn exchange patrons to discontinue use.



To obtain a free repair unit, customers should call the company toll free at 1-800-392-6500.

SUCCESSFUL CAREER CHANGE SEMINAR

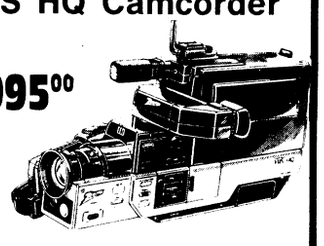


CAREER SEMINAR - A new one-day seminar on "Making a Successful Career Change" will be held at the Ft. Benning Officers' Club on June 10 at 8:30 a.m. Topics to be covered will include resume writing, how to dress for the civilian workforce, techniques of interviewing, how to establish a network, and negotiating the best salary and compensation package. An investment of $295 per person includes seminar materials, a continental breakfast, lunch and refreshments. Class size will be strictly limited to ensure optimun interaction among the participants and instructors.

For Further Information Call
(404) 266-3377

MODERN TV & APPLIANCE

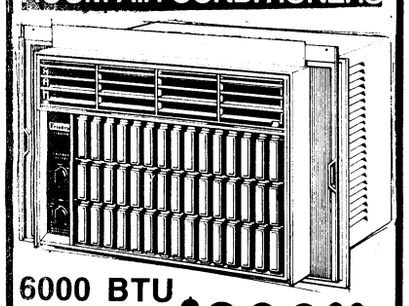
VHS HQ TABLE MODEL VCR
MODEL VG-7515
• On-screen Remote Programming
• Auto Program Frequency Synthesized Tuning
Only $319.95



20" Diagonal REMOTE CONTROL TABLETOP COLOR TV
MODEL 20GT420
ONLY $379.95

ZENITH

SE1315W
REMOTE CONTROL
13" DIAGONAL 157 CHANNEL CABLE READY CAPABILITY



ZENITH
VHS HQ Camcorder
$1095.00

With auto focus & power zoom. ● VM7050 ● highly sensitive ½" CCD for superior color and sharper details.

QUICK 'N E-Z FINANCING

Friedrich®
ROOM AIR CONDITIONERS

6000 BTU AS LOW AS $299.00

MOVIE RENTALS AS LOW AS 99¢ Per Day

Hoover Vacuums
As Low As $79.95

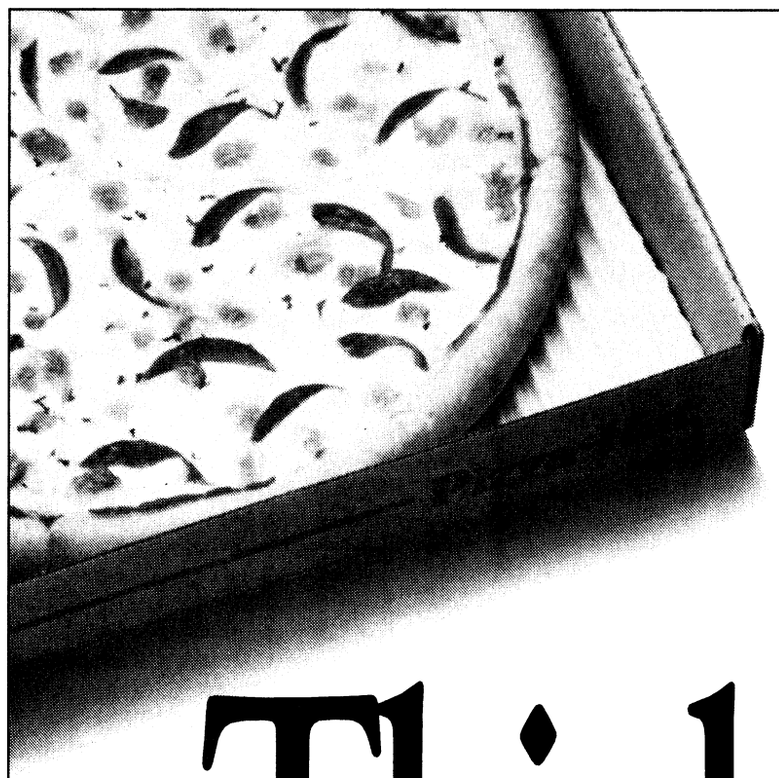
* Based on 18 monthly payments. 22.87 APR.

10% DOWN PAYMENT

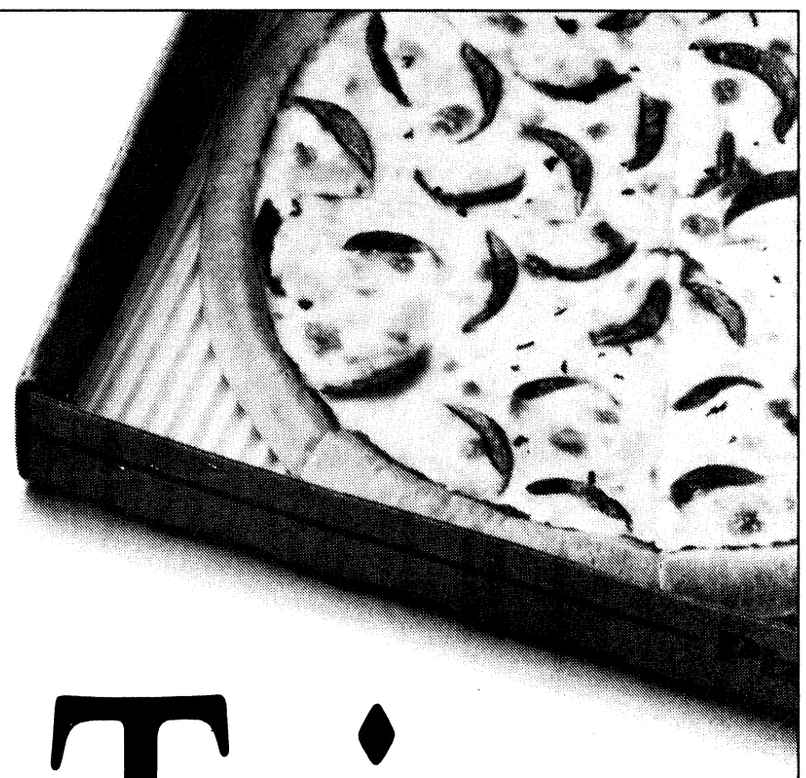
matching home laundry pair

WASHER Model WLW 1500B
DRYER Model DLB 1550B

SAVE ON THE PAIR
ONLY $688.00 for the pair



large capacity refrigerator



Hotpoint
▨ 17.7 Cu. ft. no-frost refrigerator ▨ Adjustable split-level shelves ▨ Equipped for optional icemaker
Model CTX18E

ONLY $729.95

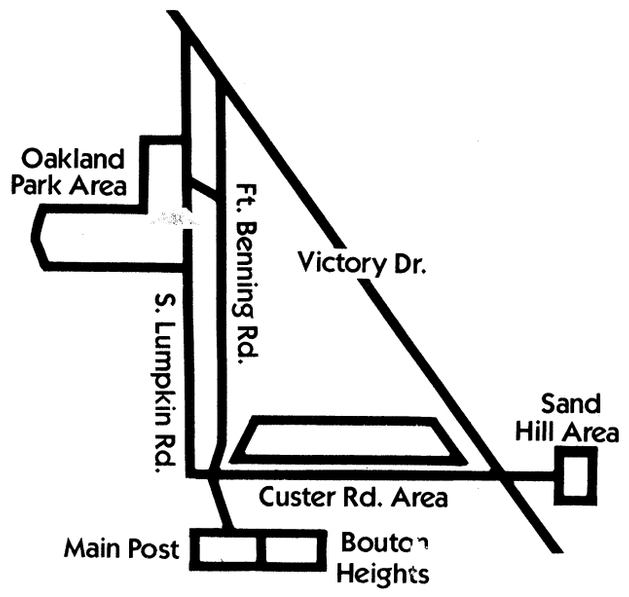
WE MAKE IT QUICK 'N EASY TO BUY
MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
You Don't Need A Lot Of Money, Just A Little Bit A Month
2039 Ft. Benning Rd.
BANK FINANCING
Hours: 9AM-6PM Mon.-Sat.
INSTANT CREDIT
687-8249

Think Twice Before Leaving Home.

If you're thinking of going out for dinner, think again. Because Pizza Hut® can deliver the pizza voted the Best of Columbus (Columbus Ledger-Enquirer), piping hot right to your door from 6 locations.

And for the best deal in town, order Pizza Hut® Pairs.™ Get two delicious Pizza Hut® pizzas with your choice of toppings for one great price, all day every day. So for fast, free delivery, think twice, Columbus. Call Pizza Hut® Delivery.

Pizza Hut Delivers Columbus' Best Pizza



Medium Cheese Pan Pizza
$6.99 for One
$9.99 for Two

Offer good through 7/30/89. Good at participating Pizza Hut® outlets. Not valid in combination with any other Pizza Hut® offer. 1/20th cent cash redemption value. Limited delivery area. ©1989 Pizza Hut, Inc.

Expanded Delivery Service

(Limited Delivery Area)

CO11

Delivery also available in these areas:
(Limited Delivery Area)

Columbus Manchester Expressway/ Hamilton Rd. Area	322-5561
Macon Rd./I-85 Area	563-3171
Buena Vista Rd./Floyd Rd. Area	563-3486
Phenix City Area	297-1266
Americus Area	924-3997

Delivery Available:
Monday through Friday beginning at 4:00 P.M.
Saturday and Sunday beginning at 11:00 A.M.

Lawn mowers cause more than 50,000 injuries yearly

Infantry Branch Safety Office

Every year, more than 50,000 adults and children are treated in hospital emergency rooms for injuries associated with power lawn mowers. Probably three times that many people are injured, but fortunately not seriously enough to require professional medical attention.

What's the cause? Serious lawn mower accidents are caused by objects picked up and thrown by mowers; riding type mowers tipping over when used on steep slopes; garden tractors or riding mowers used in reverse and running over or into innocent victims and contact with the lawn mower blade when clearing grass from the discharge chute or adjusting the machine before the blades have fully stopped.

Victims of hedge trimmer accidents are most often hurt while changing hand position with the trimmer still running, operating the trimmer with only one hand, or trying to hold the cord away from the blade.

Follow these safety rules:

Lawn Mowers

- When buying a power mower, make sure it has a rear guard and a downward-aimed discharge chute so debris is less likely to hit anyone nearby.
- Before mowing, rake up wires, cans, rocks, twigs or other litter cluttering the lawn.
- Don't ever cut a wet lawn.
- Always turn off the mower and disconnect the spark plug wire or electric plug before unclogging or adjusting the machine. Even a slight rotation of the blade could start the engine.
- Never refuel a mower while it is running or the engine is hot.
- Mow across slopes if using a walk behind mower. With a riding type mower, drive up and down slopes for stability.
- If using an electric mower, take care not to run over the cord.
- Push, don't pull, a hand mower.
- Don't smoke near a power mower or near gasoline.
- Keep children and others out of the area being mowed.
- Wear safety glasses or goggles when mowing.
- The use of ear plugs is recommended for nearly all gasoline powered mowers.
- Don't store either the lawn mower or gasoline in a heater or utility room, or other confined area.

Hedge Trimmers

- Buy a trimmer with cutting teeth and guards close enough together so your finger can't fit between them.
- Be sure the trimmer has two handles, including a wide forward handle high above the cutting blades.
- Make sure the trimmer is a light weight machine which you can handle easily.
- While cutting bushes, don't stand on a chair or ladder.
- Keep your hands away from the blade.

Christmas spirit lives all year at Santa's Castle

Santa's Castle

How can you catch the Christmas spirit in June? Donate a load of toys to Santa's Castle.

Most households experience a frenzy of activity this time of year: spring housecleaning, reorganizing closets, and preparing for a move to a new post. It's a convenient time to bag up those items your kids have outgrown and donate them to Santa's Castle.

For the busy elves at Santa's Castle, the Christmas season started in January. Work will continue throughout the summer and fall as volunteers prepare for Christmas 1989.

Santa's Castle provides toys for children ages newborn to 18. Last year they made Christmas a lot merrier for 644 Fort Benning Children.

All kinds of toys are needed: dolls, stuffed animals, books, games, and bicycles. Gifts for teens are in short supply yet are common household items: cassette tapes, unopened make-up and nail polish, jewelry, wallets, belts and other items. Santa's Castle also welcomes donations of doll clothes, sewing materials and cleaning supplies.

Donations should be taken to the box at the post exchange, Army Community Service office or directly to Santa's Castle in Soldiers Plaza.

For more information, call Janet Gibson at 689-7505.

BIRTHS

Martin Army Community Hospital

GIRLS

Kiara Mystique Spurlock — Born April 20 to 2nd Lt. Dwayne T. and Cheryl Spurlock.

Marilyn Rae Banach — Born April 14 to Capt. Stefan J. and Margaret Rae Banach.

Lakeisha Shontel Taylor — Born April 3 to retired SSgt. Milton and Beverly Taylor.

Jessica Eileen Samot — Born April 21 to SSgt. Wilson and Edna Samot.

Kristin Elizabeth Rodriguez — Born April 21 to Capt. Gamaliel and Ann Marie Rodriguez.

Ashlen Dawn Guthrie — Born April 24 to 1st Lt. Kent R. and Cynthia L. Guthrie.

Jessica Catherine Faronea — Born April 24 to Spec. Frank and Catherine L. Faronea.

Gabrielle Kim McMillin — Born April 25 to CW4 Murray L. and Juone K. McMillin.

Kayla Nichole Giles — Born April 24 to SSgt. Richard and Suzanne W. Giles

Rhiannon Nicole Patterson — Born April 24 to Spec. Ronald and Jean Patterson.

Shaunette Marie Hamilton — Born April 27 to PFC James W. and Antoinette A. Hamilton.

Destinee Ann Rochelle Loupe — Born April 29 to Spec. Kenneth P. and Melinda A. Loupe.

Jennifer Susan Odom — Born April 28 to SSgt. William T. and Diana Odom.

LeAnna Kathrine Gervacio Poole — Born April 29 to SSgt. Anthony L. and Olivia G. Poole.

Sebrina Ashley Baggett — Born April 28 to SSgt. John M. and Spec. Donna M. Baggett.

Samantha Lyn Weier — Born April 29 to SSgt. Dean R. and Judy L. Weier.

Ellen Kay Graham — Born April 30 to 1st Lt. Ronnie L. and Angela K. Graham.

Katera Elise Brannon — Born April 28 to Sgt. Willie R. and Cynthia E. Brannon.

Sarah James Vinson — Born April 26 to Capt. Richard P. and Sue Vinson.

Lily Ann Pemberton — Born April 29 to Sgt. Dean W. and Yong O. Pemberton.

Katie Rebekah Belcher — Born May 8 to Charlie L. and PFC Yeshiva D. Belcher.

Ashlie Nicole Corbin — Born May 8 to PFC Brandon and Shannon Corbin.

Melissa Marie Elder — Born May 4 to 2nd Lt. Wayne P. and Carmen B. Elder.

Roxanne Lea Baroldy — Born May 9 to OCS cadet Lee and Roberta Baroldy.

Aleese Lyn Great — Born April 25 to SSgt. William D. and Karen L. Great.

Candice Nikeia Weatherspoon — Born May 3 to 1st Lt. Bruce L. and Cathy D. Weatherspoon.

Alicia Marie Dietz — Born May 4 to Capt. Donald E. and Rebecca S. Dietz.

Emily Alexandra Good — Born May 4 to Sgt. James A. and Joko Good.

Jennifer Maureen Elizabeth Stewart — Born May 2 to Sgt. Steven and LeAnn Stewart.

Jenna Marie Mousaw — Born April 28 to SSgt. John A. and Marie L. Mousaw.

Clarissa Mae Belisle — Born May 6 to PFC Phil and Danielle Belisle.

Bianca Lynette Hervey — Born May 12 to SFC Otis and Angela N. Hervey.

Kelsey Lauren Styron — Born May 12 to Spec. Michael A. and Sandra N. Styron.

Lajaunda Antwonette Rockmore — Born May 14 to Spec. Anthony L. and LaDoris Rockmore.

Megan C. Rank — Born May 15 to SFC Michael J. and Corlene P. Rank.

Samantha Marie Robert — Born May 12 to SSgt. Van and Micaela K. Robert.

Jessica Diann Scott — Born May 10 to Sgt. Randolph and Jane Scott.

BOYS

Michael James Mauro — Born April 20 to Sgt. Brian J. and Susan D. Mauro.

Daniel Travis Rice — Born April 19 to SSgt. Earl and Theresa Rice.

Anthony Michael Collazos — Born April 20 to Sgt. Mark A. and Deva L. Collazos.

DeMarcus Tyrone Hall — Born April 20 to Sgt. Tyrone and Chrispian Hall.

Louis Andrew Bastone — Born April 22 to Maj. John J. and Jeanne Bastone.

Shawn David Hendricks — Born April 21 to Sgt. David A. and Anja Hendricks.

Joshua Michael Carmack — Born April 22 to Sgt. Michael and Barbara Carmack.

Patrick Marcell Satterfield — Born April 26 to SSgt. Tommy and Sabine Satterfield.

Bennie Joseph Canales — Born April 30 to Spec. Steven J. and Kathaleen A. Canales.

Melvin Cedric Foreman — Born April 28 to Sgt. Melvin L. and Felecia Foreman.

Van Edward Clemmons Jr. — Born April 28 to Sgt. Van Edward and Yolanda E. Clemmons.

Garret Andrew-Wade Kerschner — Born May 2 to Spec. John W. and Cinnamon C. Kerschner.

David Wayne Carruthers III — Born April 27 to Sgt. David W. and Spec. Patricia A. Carruthers.

Fred Wilson Evans III — Born April 26 to Sgt. Fred W. and Chang S. Evans.

John William Holloway Jr. — Born April 28 to MSgt. John W. and Andrea L. Holloway.

Jacob Christopher Bachmann — Born May 2 to SFC Ken and Jill Bachmann.

Kenneth Wayne Lewis Jr. — Born May 1 to Sgt. Kenneth W. and Sandra Lewis.

Brian Anthony Baker — Born May 10 to Spec. Brian L. and April L. Baker.

Michael Joseph Nelson — Born May 10 to Sgt. Michael J. and Diane Nelson.

Joshua Heath Miles — Born May 9 to Capt. Jeffrey and Pamela Miles.

Mathew J. Walters — Born May 8 to Sgt. Rex W. and Anna W. Walters.

Daniel Orion Caver — Born May 6 to Sgt. Eddie and Joyce Caver.

Andrew William Green — Born May 7 to Sgt. Gregory and Mary K. Green.

Jaemes Robert Bermudez — Born April 25 to Spec. Robert and Wanda Bermudez.

Jeffery G. Babb III — Born May 4 to 1st Lt. Jeffery G. and Chinmi N. Babb.

Brandon A. Mallory — Born May 4 to Spec. Brian G. and Spec. Michele J. Mallory.

Larry Ashten Thomas Pierce II — Born May 4 to Spec. Larry Pierce and Spec. Brenda Brown.

Albert York Jones — Born May 3 to Spec. Albert E. and Kendra L. Jones.

Brandon K. Webster Jr. — Born May 15 to Sgt. Brandon K. and Jennifer Webster.

Johnny Lee Coates Jr. — Born May 13 to Spec. Johnny L. and Leslie S. Coates.

Vidal Emilio Rivera — Born May 14 to SSgt. Vidal E. Rivera Colon and Robin G. Rivera.

Wendell Williams Jr. — Born May 14 to PFC Wendell and Barbara Williams.

Patrick Michael Van Dyke — Born May 14 to Maj. John M. and Rona Van Dyke.

Jeffery Allen Price II — Born May 12 to Spec. Jeffery A. and Belinda A. Price.

L-E
Advertising
Really Pays!

Need Help In Planning Your Vacation????
SATO TRAVEL
A Full Service Travel Company
Qualified, friendly staff trained to accommodate your every travel need at a discount price.
TOUR PACKAGES To Include
● Air ● Hotel
● Transfers & More
Lowest Available Air Fare
Hotel, Motel & Condo Reservations
Rental Car Reservations
Cruises
YOUR ONE STOP TRAVEL SERVICE
For Leisure Travel Call 682-0361 Bldg. 247-Main Post
For TDY Travel Call 687-4900 Bldg. 2627

Congratulations to MANDARIN HOUSE
on your 5th Anniversary
Keep Serving the Good Food
From Your Friends at Ft. Benning

CHATTAHOOCHEE COMMUNITY DAY SCHOOL
KING STREET & MCNAUGHTON
P.O. Box 420
CUSSETA, GA31805
989-3243
7:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m.
Renate Lewis, Director
This is the program that parents of preschool children have been asking for in the Columbus-Fort Benning-Cusseta area!
- small sized classes
- developed learning centers in each classroom
- positive self-image is the center of all program
- hands-on learning
- beautiful and fun equipment for learning
- music, movement, social skills, pre-math and reading readiness, open-ended art, cooking, special events

This unique school was planned, designed and sponsored by Chattahoochee County to meet the needs of preschool children of this community. The school is governed by a board consisting of county officials, parents, and the school staff and is non-profit.
The school is located about 10 minutes from 185 at exit 1 S in Cusseta, Georgia.
Spend a few minutes and come to visit just to see what is possible in this new approach to child care, the answer to the day care delima.
Cost: $45.00 per week

In The Mood For Oriental Food? Try
CHINA BELL
Luncheon Buffet
20 Items & FREE Salad Bar
$3.99
Luncheon Special
Soup of the Day
Fried Rice & Egg Rolls
Main Course
$2.95
VISIT OUR LOUNGE
Open 7 Days a Week
LUNCH 11am-3pm
DINNER 5pm-11pm
DINNER BUFFET & Salad Bar
Friday & Saturday
6 P.M.-10 P.M.
All You Can Eat
Including Shrimp
$6.50
Dinner Special
$4.50 and up
Served Nightly
Banquet Room & Carry-Out Available
687-1692
15% Off With Copy Of Ad
(Only one meal per coupon)
3040 Victory Drive (Beside Motel 6)

◆ JVC ◆ KICKER ◆ PERCISION POWER
CREATIVE CAR STEREO
● SALES
● SERVICE
● INSTALLATION
● CUSTOM BUILT CABINETS
10 IN. PYLE WOOFERS
$59.95 PR.

SHOP HERE & SAVE $ $ $!
REMOTE STEREO & SPEAKERS $135
HOTEL FURNITURE LIQUIDATION SALE
$5 PICTURES
ALL CARPET $35 12X14
19" COLOR TV'S $125
FLEA MKT. TABLES $25
FULL SIZE BOX SPRING & MATTRESS $50 per set
$85 4-DR. CHEST/$118 W/2 NITE STANDS
$15 GOLD FRAMED ORIENTAL BIRD PICTURES
$25 GOLD FRAMED ARCHED MIRROR
$155 MATCHING LOVE SEAT & CHAIR
$20 BED BENCHES
NEW & USED SURPLUS FURNITURE
WOW ONLY AT VINEBROOK
$ 5 CARPET SCRAPS
$ 5 WALL LAMPS
$ 5 DRAPE PANELS
$ 5 CORRIDOR CARPET
$15 CHAIRS
$15 NITE STANDS
$15 TABLES
$15 FULL BEDSPREADS
$25 KING BEDSPREADS
$15 MIRRORS
$15 PICTURES
$45 DRESSERS
$55 STEREO CABINETS
$85 CHEST
$95 SLEEP SOFA
$145 ARMORIE
BOX SPRING & MATTRESS SETS
TWIN SIZE.....$60 KING SIZE.....$95
FULL SIZE.....$50 BED FRAMES....$15-$30
QUEEN SIZE.....$95 HEADBOARDS...$10-$60
Many More Items
VINEBROOK LIQUIDATORS
DELIVERY SERVICE IS AVAILABLE
DELIVERY SERVICE IS AVAILABLE
DELIVERY SERVICE AVAILABLE
CASH ● CHECKS ● VISA ● MASTERCARD ● DISCOVERY AMERICAN EXPRESS
WE HAVE 5 STORES in ATLANTA
THIS IS #1 FOR COLUMBUS!

VA, GAO agree to study issues

Department of Veterans Affairs

The Department of Veterans Affairs and the General Accounting Office have signed a unique joint agreement that opens the way for an intense study of major management issues in the newly created Cabinet-level department.

VA Secretary Edward J. Derwinski initiated the project following discussions early this year with Comptroller General Charles A. Bowsher, who head the GAO, the audit arm of Congress.

Derwinski said, "It is critical that VA approach its elevation to the Cabinet by taking a fresh look at everything we do. We will have a no-holds-barred working relationship with GAO that I expect will have a very positive effect on making department wide improvements."

Most GAO reviews of executive branch activities focus on specific programs and are conducted at the direction of Congress. In recent years, the GAO has started doing much broader general management reviews with a long-range goal of improving overall management of federal agency operations.

The VA study will involve in-depth review of both field and headquarters management policy and procedures, and will focus on three main areas of VA activity: strategic planning, information resources management and financial management.

The strategic planning component of the study will examine how VA currently uses long-range projections to prepare for future demands on department services and programs. The review of information resources management will cover both departmental information needs and overall system effectiveness. The financial management component will most likely focus on budgeting as well as major programs such as home loans and life insurance programs, each of which involved a variety of disbursement and collection activities.

VA is the government's second largest department and operates a nationwide system of medical facilities, benefits offices and national cemeteries formerly under the jurisdiction of the Veterans Administration. Its programs and services extend to some 27.2 million living veterans.

VA Q&A

Department of Veteran Affairs

Q. I am a Vietnam veteran and I am concerned about the possibility that I may have been exposed to Agent Orange. What does the Department of Veterans Affairs offer in the way of examinations and health care?

A. Since 1978, the VA has operated the Agent Orange Registry Program for Vietnam veterans who are concerned about the possible health effects of Agent Orange. Veterans who participate in this program will receive a comprehensive physical examination and be asked to complete a questionnaire about their service in Vietnam. The examination could help to detect any illness or injury the veteran may have, regardless of origin, and may provide a basis for follow-up. Vietnam veterans are encouraged to request an Agent Orange examination at their nearest VA health-care facility.

Q. Is there a time limit for applying for service-connected disability compensation from the Department of Veterans Affairs?

A. There is no time limit, however, the date of application is a factor in establishing the effective date of payment. It may also be more difficult to establish entitlement if a claim is filed long after the disability was incurred.

ASK THE JUDGE

By Jane M. Winand
Office of the Staff Judge Advocate

Q. I have a stepdaughter, Christa, who lives with me that is the apple of my eye. I've been married to Christa's mother for two years now and we really make a nice family. Lately, though, I've been thinking about making Chrissie legally my daughter — you know, adopting her. How can I go about this? What will it cost me?

A. Adoption of a stepchild can be a fabulous idea for you, the child, and the child's mother. The child will feel more legally secure having been adopted because he or she would then have the same legal rights and responsibilities as a child born to you. An added bonus is that stepparent adoptions are usually easy to arrange and the legal costs are much lower than with other kinds of adoptions involving adoption agencies or non-stepchildren. The icing on the cake is that, depending on your rank and ability to pay, the Fort Benning Legal Assistance Office may be able to give you free legal representation in the Superior Court for your stepparent adoption. Thus, all that you may have to pay are the court costs.

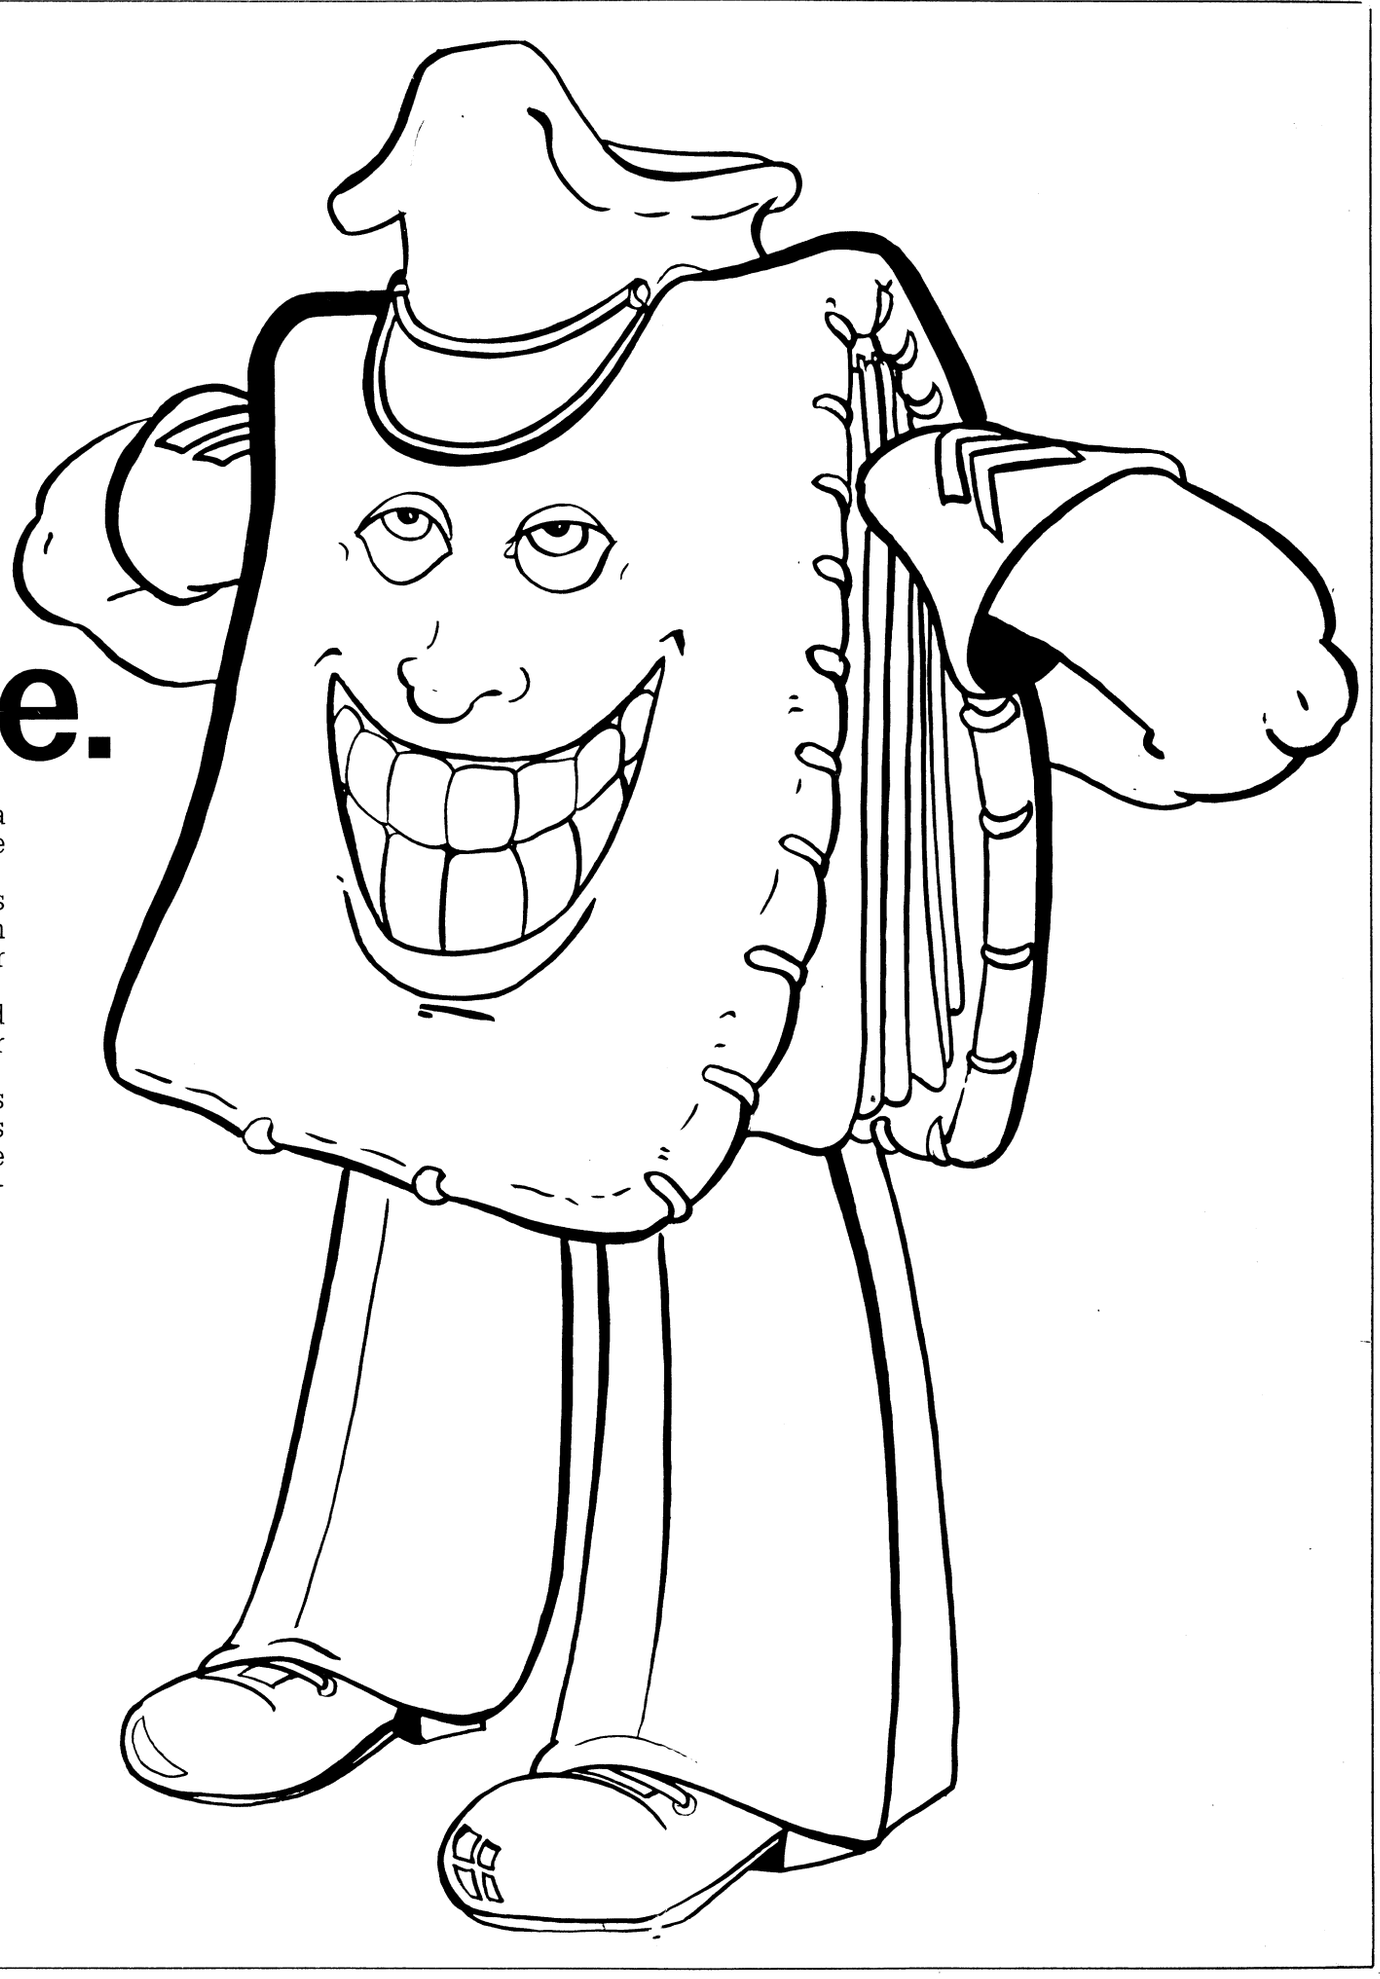
The requirements to be met before you may be entitled to free legal representation in court on a stepparent adoption are as follows:

- You, as the petitioner/stepparent, must be adopting your stepchild, the natural born or adopted child of your current spouse,
- You must have resided in either Muscogee or Chattahoochee counties for at least six months before the petition for adoption is filed,
- You must be of the rank of E-4 or below, or be able to demonstrate on a financial questionnaire available at the Legal Assistance Office that you would be unable to afford legal representation (the final decision as to whether free legal representation will be given to E-5s and above for stepparent adoptions will be made by the Office of the Staff Judge Advocate),
- The natural parent of the child to be adopted who is giving up his/her parental rights (the parent other than your spouse) must have those parental rights terminated by one of the following two methods:

(a) The natural parent can voluntarily terminate his/her rights by signing some special forms, or

(b) The natural parent's rights can be involuntarily terminated by action of the court provided that the natural parent has not provided support to the child for at least the past 12 months or has not communicated with the child in the past 12 months,

- The petitioner/stepparent must pay the court costs at the time that the petition is filed. The costs can vary depending on whether publication in the newspaper of the petition to adopt is required. The costs usually range from $59 to $78.50. Failure to have the money to pay the court costs at the time of filing will mean that the petition will not be filed.



For more information, call Legal Assistance at 545-3281.

OPENING SOON!!!
long distance phone center
687-8666
MR CHECK CASHER
3809 VICTORY DRIVE
COLUMBUS GA
(TRAFFIC CIRCLE)

ASIA
ORIENTAL RESTAURANT
FEATURING KOREAN, JAPANESE & CHINESE FOOD
LUNCHEON BUFFET
ONLY $3.95 per person
MONDAY-FRIDAY 11AM-2PM
PARTY ROOM AVAILABLE-CALL TODAY!
2009 Lumpkin Road 682-1225

VISA CARDS ARE HERE!
VISA
COMPARE the terms of your Credit Union with the market and you'll make the switch.
$8.00 Annual Fee
15% Annual Percentage Rate
25 Day Grace Period
2786 Eckel Street
Fort Benning, GA 31905
682-0830
TIC FEDERAL CREDIT UNION
Offer to eligible members only.
4811 Bankers Blvd.
Columbus, GA 31904
324-5288

Put your wallet at ease.

It could use the rest. Out-of-pocket medical expenses put a strain on your pocketbook. But a new CHAMPUS doctor care program eases your burden. CHAMPUS pays more of the bill.

With CHAMPUS Preferred, you avoid the hassles of claims filing while your cost shares are cut over 20 percent. That's on top of the lower fees the doctors have agreed to accept for their services.

You receive care from a quality network of carefully selected preferred providers. You never file a claim. The doctor files for you. And all preferred providers accept assignment. Always.

Your local preferred provider organization is the Blue Cross and Blue Shield of Georgia VIP program. It includes hundreds of doctors around the state. Finding one is easy. Just call the toll-free Health Care Finder line provided by CHAMPUS, 1-800-451-1485. Or contact your local Health Benefits Adviser.

Your wallet will thank you for it.

VIP
Voluntary Incentive Program
CHAMPUS
Preferred
The New CHAMPUS Doctor Care Program

COMMUNITY

CLASSES

Disaster Classes — The American Red Cross is sponsoring two classes — Introduction to Disaster Services and Shelter Management — June 19 to 20 at Building 4, classroom 52. Classes will last from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. each day. Contact the Disaster Chairman at 545-5117/5118 for more information.

★ ★ ★

Arts and Crafts — Special arts and crafts classes offered this week are: Ceramic Stain Workshop, Saturday, 11 a.m. to 2 p.m. ($3 plus supplies); Antiques on Underglaze — Sunday, 12 noon to 2 p.m. ($3 plus supplies); Black and White film developing — Wednesday, 6 to 8 p.m. ($3); Black and white printing — Thursday, 6 to 8 p.m. ($3 plus paper); Free Demo: "Transparent Glazes" — June 9, 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.; Greenware Cleaning Workshop — June 10, 1 to 3 p.m. For more information, call 545-3677 or stop by the Arts and Crafts Center for a calendar.

MISCELLANEOUS

Operation Safe Summer — begins in the Custer Terrace/Upatoi/Battle Park communities June 10. Fingerprinting of children will be done at the Community Life Center, building 10800 (behind the post office), beginning at 10 a.m. and will continue until all children attending have been fingerprinted. The Provost Marshall's office and the Community Life Center strongly encourage 100 percent participation from the community. You could be saving your child's life.

For further information, contact SSgt. Price at 545-7115 or the Community Life office at 544-1332.

★ ★ ★

Preschool Summer Fun Program — The Fort Benning Early Childhood Development Center (Patch Preschool) has begun registration for the first session of the Summer Fun Program. The program begins Monday and continues until June 16, 9 a.m. to noon. Children must be 3, 4 or 5 years old on or before Sept. 1. Cost is $55; a $10 check or money order is due at the time of registration. Also, bring shot record and birth certificate. For more information, call 687-2404.

★ ★ ★

Summer Day Camp — Custer Terrace Child Development Center has extended its services to include a summer day camp for 6 to 9 year olds. Activities will include bowling, swimming, cookouts, movies and field trips. A limited number of spaces are available. Call 689-8527 or come by the center, building 2682, for more information.

4-H CLUB

Wednesday — A 4-H meeting will be held Wednesday at the Youth Activities Center.

Summer Fun schedule — The 4-H summer fun schedule is now available at the 4-H Office. For information about all the events, call Cheryl Forehand at the Georgia 4-H office, 571-4792.

MEETINGS

Town meeting — The Custer Terrace/Upatoi/Battle Park communities will be holding a town meeting Wednesday at 7 p.m. at the Community Life Center, building 10800, located behind the post office, in the Custer Terrace Shoppette Plaza.

The guest speaker will be Debra Howell of the Army Community Service. Howell is organizing an outreach program in communities off Main Post. Ideas on how to use the "Outreach" program in the Community Life Center are welcome.

Mark your calendar and come meet your new mayor and vice-mayor, and help the Custer Terrace/Upatoi/Battle Park communities grow. For more information, call 544-1332 or 682-8670.

★ ★ ★

NDTA meeting — The Fort Benning/Tri-City Chapter of the National Defense Transportation Association will hold its June luncheon meeting Thursday at 11:30 a.m. in the Textile Room at the Ramada Inn. Visitors are invited. Call Mrs. Fountain at 324-1818 for more information.

GIRL SCOUTS

Concharty Council of Girl Scouts — Girls, 6 through 17 years of age are invited to participate in the Concharty Council of Girl Scouts' Summer Camp.

The resident camp is located in the woodlands of Pine Mountain near Shiloh, Ga. Camp begins June 11 and runs until August 11. The camp is open to both Girl Scout members and non-members.

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteer — The following volunteer opportunities are available at Fort Benning:

Dieticians — Health majors are wanted to volunteer in the Nutrition Clinic at Martin Army Community Hospital.

Boy Scout Leaders — Do you remember that special person who helped you develop your leadership skills. Boy scouts need you to fill that role now. How about giving back something to the program that helped you.

Librarian — The National Infantry Museum needs a librarian. Hours are flexible, and child care is provided.

Soccer, basketball and football coaches — The post's youth sports program needs coaches. Would you or your unit like to sponsor a team? Great opportunity for your unit to have fun together and become a great role model for our youth.

Adopt-a-Clinic — Join other retirees in making a difference at MACH.

For more information, call Karen Crowley at the Volunteer Resource Center at 545-5602, or come by the center in room 210, building 241, Miller Hall, Directorate of Personnel and Community Activity headquarters.

WIVES' CLUBS

NCO Wives' Club

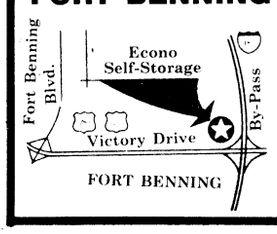
Installation — NCO wives will have an installation June 10 at 7 p.m. at the Main NCO club. RSVP to M. Greene at 682-9733 by Monday.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES

Pools — Youth Services pools will open for the 1989 swim season June 10. The pool is located on McIver Street and is open to children of active duty and retired military personnel.

★ ★ ★

Day Camp registration — Youth Services day camp registration is in process now. Children ages 6 to 11 years are eligible to register for day care. Cost is $28 for eight weeks/two four-week sessions. The first day camp session begins June 19.



★ ★ ★

DPCA seeks Vietnam memorabilia

The Directorate of Personnel and Community Activity is looking for pictures or any items of interest from the Vietnam War era. The items will be used in a unique interior design for a new club, which will be opening in the future. Memorabilia of all type is needed.

Individuals with items for donation should contact the DPCA marketing manager at 545-3328. (MWR)

AUTO STORAGE WAREHOUSE
• SPRINKLER
• BURGLAR ALARM
• INSULATED
by MONTH or YEAR
ALLIED BONDED WHSE.
4301 ALLIED DR.
COLUMBUS (404) 687-0222

Econo Self Storage
4483 Victory Drive 404-682-3803
FORT BENNING

UNIT SIZES AVAILABLE
Lockers 5(W) x 5(D) x 4(H)
5x10 10x10 $20 up 5x5 10x20
FOR THE MILITARY
Storage while TDY
Foot locker storage
Motorcycles
Boats
Personal effects
Bivouac
Permanent party storage
Call Now to Reserve Your Space
For Your Business or Family Items—Short or Long Term

Arrange OVERSEAS CAR INSURANCE
GEICO before you leave GEICO
2029 SOUTH LUMPKIN RD.
Oakland Park Shopping Center
Columbus, GA. 689-2787
15% down 9 monthly payments
GEICO
IIU - International Insurance Underwriters, Inc

Give to the Heart Fund

HOUSING LIST

Family Housing List
as of May 30

Jr. NCO-2 BR	Feb. 18, 1988
Jr. NCO-3 BR	May 18, 1989
Jr. NCO-4 BR	April 25, 1989
Jr. NCO-5 BR	April 13, 1989
Sr. NCO-3 BR	March 28, 1989
Sr. NCO-4 BR	Feb. 1, 1987
Sr. NCO-5 BR	Dec. 10, 1988
CGr. Off-2 BR	April 3, 1989
CGr. Off-3 BR	Feb. 28, 1988
CGr. Off-4 BR	Feb. 3, 1989
FG Off-3 BR	June 25, 1988
FG Off-4 BR	Dec. 23, 1987
Sr. Off-3 BR	June 23, 1988
Sr. Off-4 BR	Immediate

By using the following procedure, soldiers on the Family Housing Waiting List can use this chart to estimate when they can expect quarters:

Locate your category of housing.

Note eligibility date located on the same line as your category.

Calculate the time difference between the eligibility date listed and your eligibility date. The difference is the approximate time you still have to wait for housing.

EXAMPLE: If the latest eligibility date of the person who last received housing in your category was May 15, 1988, and your date of eligibility is Sept. 15, 1988, you can expect housing in about four months.

Mudcats

—Continued from A-4—

Secretary of Education William Bennett urges the involvement of professional athletes in the drug war," said Loyd School principal, Dell Karr. "Loyd students listened to every word as these players spoke out against the use of drugs and tobacco."

Several Loyd students were at the stadium the evening of the Mudcats visit to Loyd to see the Mudcats defeat the Greenville Braves, 3-2. They were especially pleased because one of their new heroes, Joel Estes, was the winning pitcher.

ONE STOP SHOPPING FOR YOUR MILITARY SUPPLY NEEDS

THE LARGEST & MOST COMPLETE MILITARY SUPPLY STORE IN THE SOUTHEAST

ARCCO
4411 Victory Dr. 682-0547
Mon-Fri 9-7:30 Sat 9-6 Sun 11:30-4:30

A World Class Military Supply Store

10% OFF SALE

SHORTS
Airborne
Army
Ranger
UDT
Walking

T-SHIRTS
Variety Of Colors
Printed And Unprinted

SWEATS
Airborne
Army
Ranger

JOIN US IN OUR 3RD YEAR CELEBRATION
June 3
AT ARCCO PLACE

T-Shirts, Sweat Shirts and Pants With Transfers or Screen Prints

10% off does not apply on already discounted items

BAR-B-Q FROM COUNTRY'S CAR WASH SIDEWALK SALE

JUNE 3

JUNE 3

This coupon good for 50¢ off any Bar-B-Q Sandwich or 75¢ off any Bar-B-Q Plate
Please complete the following information

(Name)
(Address) (Unit)
(City) (State) (Zip)
(Rank, if Military)

Coupon only good at Country's Bar-B-Q on Arcco Place Parking Lot on June 1989.

Vacationers can minimize chances of burglary

By Barry Price
Provost Marshal's Office

Summer is here, school will soon be out and vacation spots are opening for our enjoyment. Most of us will be taking vacations away from home during the coming months. While some of us are enjoying our vacation, the burglar will be hard at work taking items of value from our homes, apartments, and barracks rooms.

There are some steps that vacationers can take to minimize the chances of being burglarized.

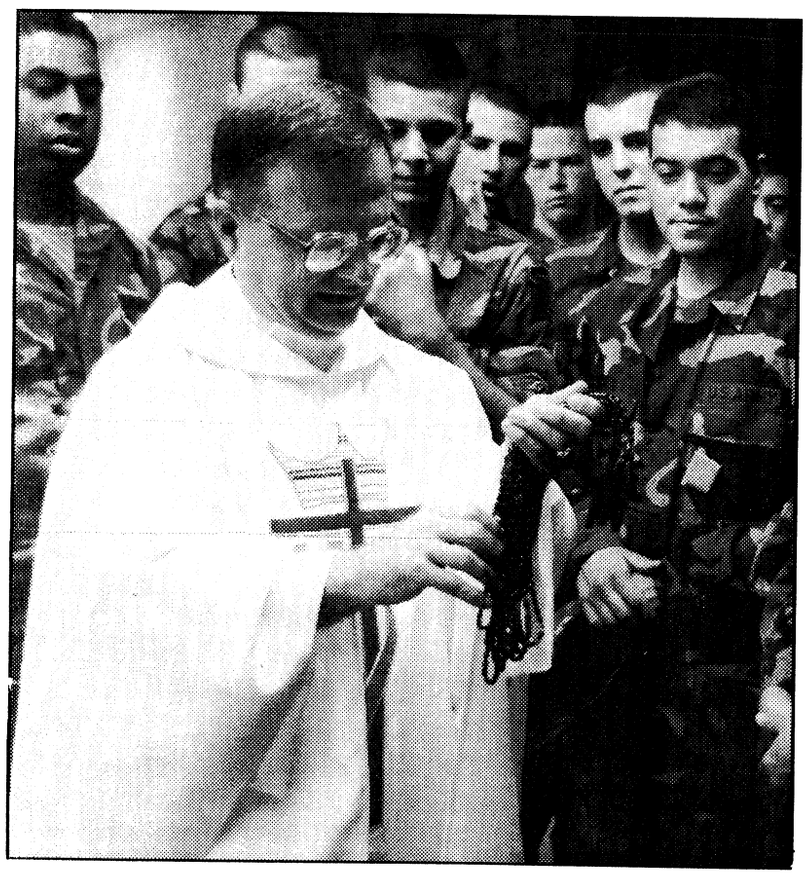
●Notify the Military Police of your absence and request them make periodic checks of your quarters while you are away. If you live on Fort Benning, you may come by the Military Police station and request that your quarters be checked by MP patrols.

●Stop all deliveries or have someone pick up your deliveries daily. Use a clock-timer or photo electric relay to turn lights on and off, giving the house an occupied look.

●Don't discuss your absence in public and don't give details about your vacation to other than close and trusted friends or neighbors.

●Have lawns moved and yard work kept up while you are away. This adds to the occupied look of your quarters.

●Don't close blinds or pull shades down; doing so might advertise that the house is empty.



●Arrange for periodic inspections of the quarters by a trusted friend. If they should notice any suspicious activity during the day, have them notify the Military Police.

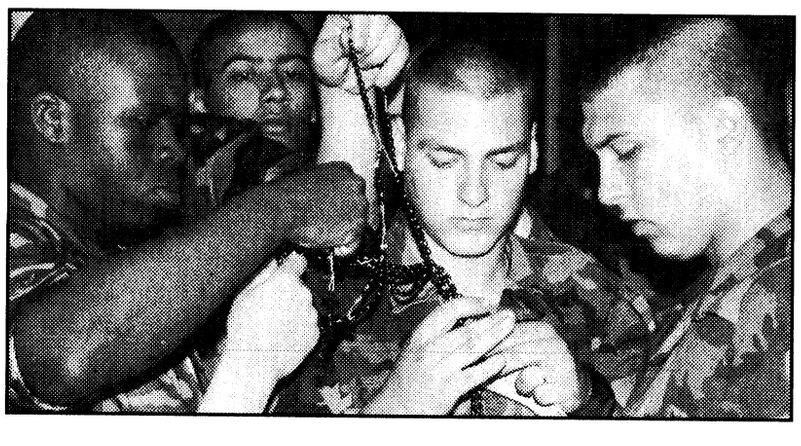
●And last, but not least, make sure your quarters are adequately secured at all possible points of entry.

Don't spoil your vacation by failing to take these few simple, but practical, burglary prevention tips. Have a safe and happy vacation.

SPIRITUAL

Rosaries help trainees keep spirituality alive

Debra Galle
Chap. (Lt. Col.) Barry Lonergan distributes hundreds of rosaries to soldiers at ITC chapel.



By Debra Galle
USAIC Chaplain's Office

Young men with shiny, shaven heads fill the pews of the Infantry Training Center Chapel in an odd, nearly perfect order. Their bodies are draped in deep green and brown shades of camouflage. They watch attentively as the priest steps down from the altar and speaks to them. The priest is among them and somehow, one of them.

After the Mass, Chaplain (Lt. Col.) J. Barry Lonergan, Fort Benning Senior priest, walks to the rear of the chapel and opens plastic bags filled with scores of handmade prayer beads (rosaries). They are designed especially for the soldiers.

"Father, I need one!" says one recruit with surprising fervor.

The priest looks as though he is giving out candy to a group of eager children. As each batch of 10 rosaries is unfastened, a dozen rugged hands reach out for one.

Debra Galle
Trainees untangle rosaries after mass at ITC chapel.

"Are there enough to go around Father?" Spec. Mike Chestnut tries to keep the priest's supply intact. Chestnut is assigned to the Infantry Training Center as a chaplain's assistant.

Father Barry shakes his head emphatically. "They are almost gone," he says quietly. As he watches one young man after another grasp a tiny strand of prayer beads, he marvels at the never-ending demand. He knows that approximately 30,000 trainees pass through Fort Benning each year. Nearly one-third of those troops are Catholic.

An hour later, another priest hands out rosaries to more soldiers at Theatre No. 3 on Sand Hill. Chaplain (Maj.) Frank Lane, Reception Battalion Chaplain, experiences the same warmth and eagerness of the young soldiers as they reach for a rosary and a "bit of home."

"They are happy to get these rosaries, especially while in basic training." Father Lane explains when asked why he was distributing them. "They don't have much to remind them of home here, and the need for spirituality seems greater in difficult times."

One young man watched as his fellow soldiers received a rosary. When asked why he accepted one he replied, "This helps me keep my spirituality alive; it keeps me going when I don't think I can go anymore." He added that he likes to carry his on guard duty.

The distribution of rosaries ends. The troops are lined up once again in perfect order. The doors of the chapel are opened and hundreds of black boots parade out into the Sunday morning light. They are the same men who walked in, but now they carry something extra. An olive drab cord strung with black plastic beads rests safely in their pockets next to their hearts — and spirits.

Editor's Note: This is part one of a two-part series. Next week's article will be about the women who make the rosaries.

CHAPEL BRIEFS

Ecumenical

Vacation Bible School — Plan now for Vacation Bible School! Classes will be held from 10 a.m. to 12:30 p.m., from June 19 to 23 at Dexter, McBride and Wilson schools. Classes will include Bible study, music, crafts, recreation and refreshments. Adult volunteers are needed. Call 545-4715 for more information.

Religious Education Center Library — Several thousands volumes of Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish material are available at the Religious Education Center Library. There are commentaries, Bible dictionaries, Bible Handbooks, and many other reference books and other religious material.

The library, located in the Religious Education Center, Building 229, Crain Hall, is open during duty hours, Monday through Friday. Everyone is invited to use the library for inspiration, study and research.

English Speaking Classes — English speaking classes taught at the Religious Education Center to people for whom English is a second language closed for the summer on May 23. The occasion was marked with a covered dish luncheon in which each person brought food native to their own country. Classes will resume on Sept. 5.

Protestant

Protestant Women of the Chapel — PWOC meets each Thursday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Religious Education Center. Baby-sitting is provided. Contact Debby Godwin at 687-7157 for more information.

Youth Alive — Two non-denominational youth groups meet each Sunday from 6:30 to 8 p.m. The junior high group meets in the Infantry Center Chapel Annex, and the senior high group meets in the Religious Education Center. Youths are encouraged to attend for fun and Christian fellowship.

Sunday School Bus — A bus is available to transport individuals who live in McGraw Manor and Davis Hill/Bouton Heights to Sunday School at the Main Post Sunday School.

The route begins in McGraw Manor at approximately 8:55 a.m. and proceeds through Davis Hill, Bouton Heights and on to the Religious Education Center where Sunday School is held. At approximately 10:35 a.m., the bus departs the REC and passengers are returned.

For more information, call 545-2366.

Catholic

Military Council of Catholic Women — The First Friday meeting for the MCCW will be held today at 9:30 a.m. at the Religious Education Center. A Rosary will be followed by fellowship and a rosary-making workshop to make rosaries for our Fort Benning soldiers. Mass will be at noon at Main Post Catholic Chapel. For more information, contact Bobbie Pearce at 687-6145 or Debbie Galle at 687-2175.

Pre-Cana Classes — A class, open to anyone who wishes to be married in the Catholic Church, will be held June 25 at the Religious Education Center. For registration and additional information, call Phil Reilly at 545-5508/2271.

Pre-Baptism Class: The Religious Education Center will sponsor a pre-baptism class June 25. The class is a requirement for parents who wish to have their child baptized in the Catholic Church at Fort Benning or to take a letter to their home parish. Expectant parents are encouraged to attend. Call Phil Reilly at 545-2771 for more information and registration.

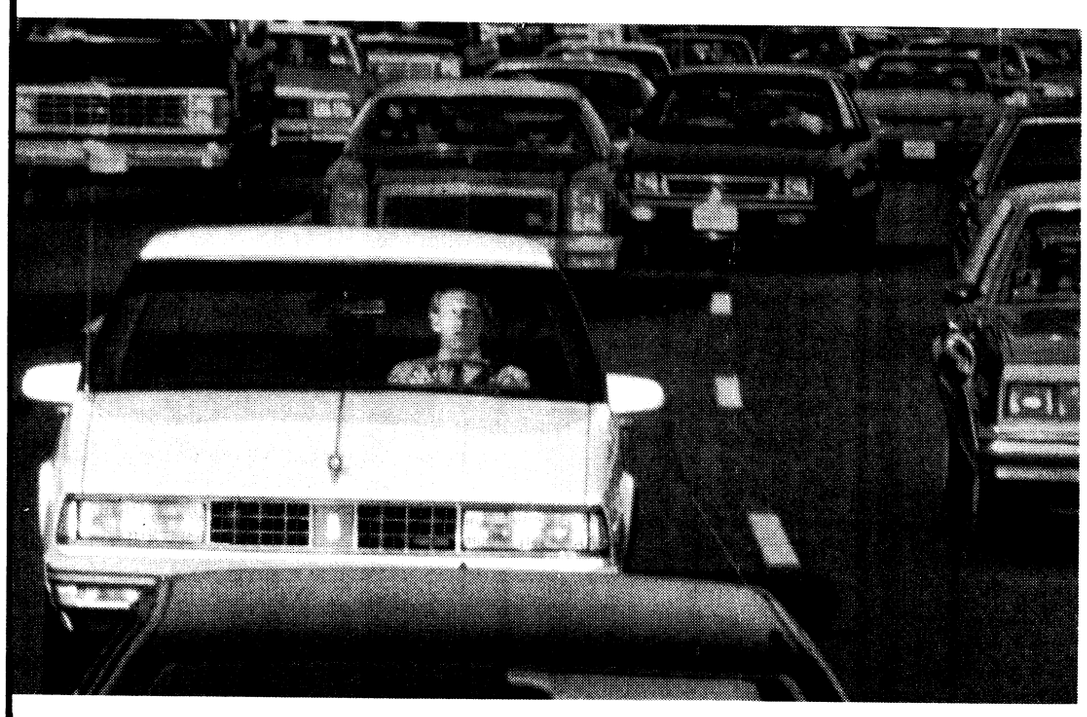
SOUTH COLUMBUS UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
1213 Benning Drive
10 Minutes from Ft. Benning
Sunday School 9:45 am
Morning Worship 11:00 am
689-5094

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)
2622 Macon Road
Douglas A. Garner, Pastor
Sunday School 9:45AM
Morning Worship 11:00AM
EVERYONE WELCOME!

First Assembly of God
1309 10th Ave. at 13th St.
Phenix City, Ala.
WELCOMES ALL
Military Personnel
to worship with us.
Sunday School 9:45
Services 10:45
Evening Service 6:00pm

ROSE HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST
7479 Old Moon Road
DAVID G. SPIECE, MINISTER
• BIBLE STUDY 10:00 AM
• EVENING WORSHIP 6:30 PM
• WEDNESDAY MIDWEEK SERVICE 7:30 PM

OUR LADY OF LOURDES CATHOLIC CHURCH
Located near Ft. Benning
at 1953 Torch Hill Rd.
Phone 689-5720
SATURDAY VIGIL
MASS 5:30pm
SUNDAY MASSES
8:30am & 11:00am



NORTHSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(A New Testament Church)
1442 Double Churches Road
Sunday School 9:45am
Morning Worship 10:45am
Evening Worship 6:00pm
Spencer Arnold, Minister
324-5220

VICTORY DRIVE CHURCH OF GOD
3941 Victory Drive 689-3359
Service Times
Sunday School 10 am, Worship 11 am
Childrens Church 11 am, Evening Worship 6 pm
Wed. 7 pm Family Training Hr., Fri. 7 pm Youth Night
Senior Pastor M. H. Avera III 682-4664
SPANISH MINISTRY
Sunday School 10am, Worship 11 am
Thursday 7:30 pm 568-7018
Spanish Pastor Pedro Sanchez

NORTH HIGHLAND ASSEMBLY OF GOD
7300 Livingston Drive Columbus, Georgia 31909
Weekly Service Schedule
Sunday School 9:30am, Worship 10:30am & 6pm
Wednesday Evening, Family Night 7:00pm
(Children & Youth Activities—Adult Bible Study)
Security Parking Nursery
Jimmy R. Swilley, Sr. Pastor For Information call (404) 561-7777

CHURCH OF GOD BY FAITH
3022 Clarabelle St.
Invites you to Worship
with them at 12 noon
Take Victory Dr. to 30th Ave,
turn right on Clarabelle St.

Your flanks are exposed...

So you better be sure about your car insurance.

You're an ace driver. But it's a jungle out there on the road. You need heavy backup. Are you sure about your present coverage? Are you paying too much? Is the company dependable? What about claims? Can they save you money with deductibles? Answers to these questions are as close as your phone. Call your GEICO Representative before you drive another mile. You can get a free, no-obligation rate quote in minutes. And be sure to ask about these other GEICO extras:

- A low initial down-payment starts your coverage
- Fast-action, 24-hour claim service in the U.S. and Canada
- GEICO has offices near most major military installations
- Convenient payment plans make budgeting a breeze
- GEICO can arrange overseas car insurance for you
- Over a half century of GEICO dependability and experience

Insist on quality car insurance. Stop in or call your local GEICO Representative today for a free rate quote.

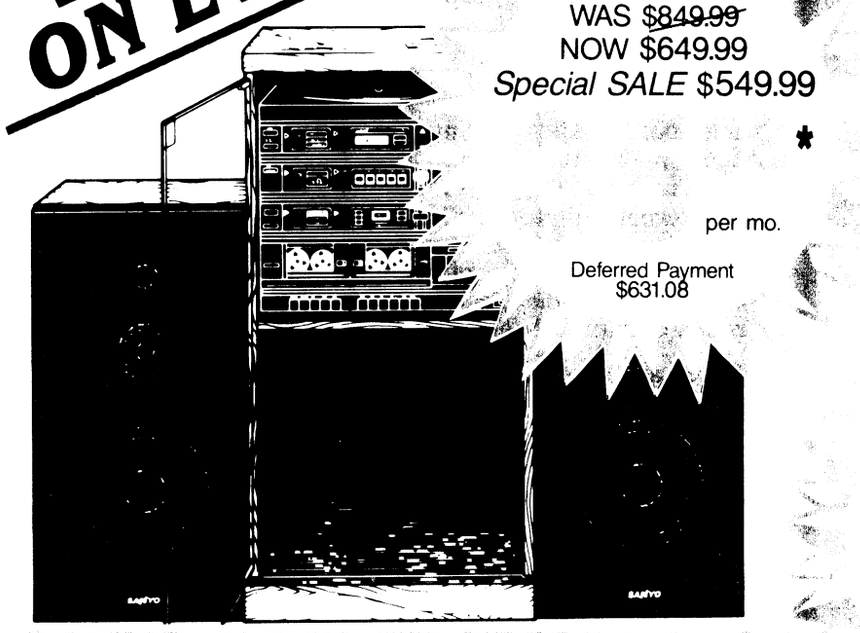
GET TO KNOW GEICO

Call: 689-2787
2029 S. Lumpkin Road
(In the Oakland Park Shopping center)

Serving those who serve the nation
Government Employees Insurance Co. • GEICO General Insurance Co. • GEICO Indemnity Co.

88 17 B 3

THE DEVON



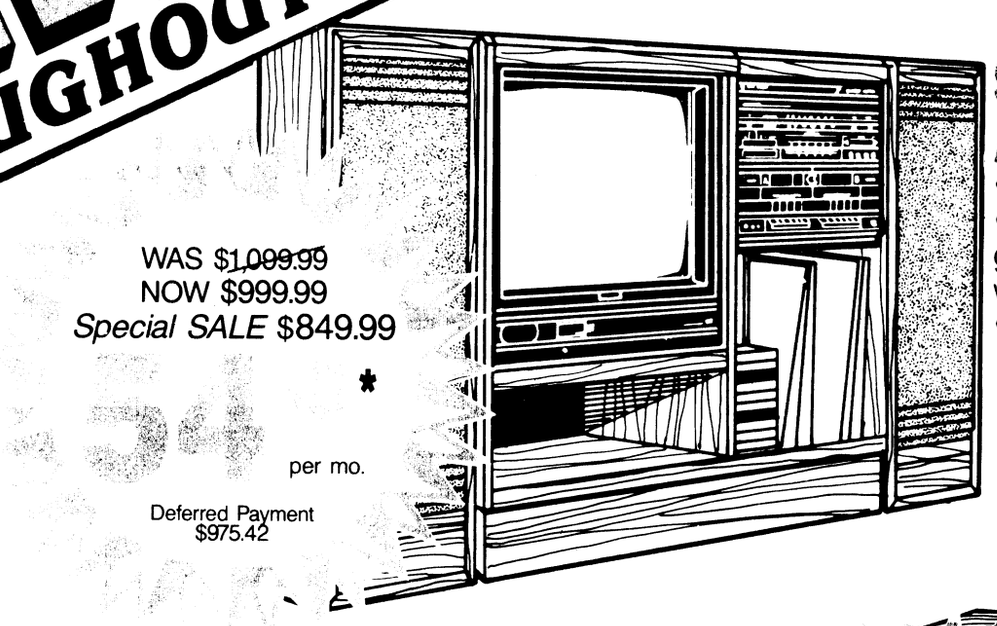
• ELECTRONICS • FURNITURE • APPLIANCES

Serving the Military & Civil Service Employees with...

★ CONVENIENT CREDIT
★ NO DOWN PAYMENT
★ TAKE IT HOME TODAY
★ FREE FINANCING

If contract is paid within 12 months of 1st contract due date, we will refund finance charges on that purchase.

Announcing PERMANENT PRICE REDUCTIONS ON EVERY ITEM THROUGHOUT THE STORE



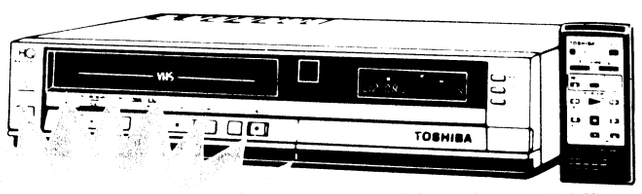
WAS $849.99
NOW $649.99
Special SALE $549.99 *

per mo.

Deferred Payment $631.08

SANYO 100 WATT STEREO RACK

•AM/FM stereo synthesized tuner w/18 memory presets •Dual transport cassette w/high speed & synchronous dubbing, continuous playback & stereo headphone jack •5 band graphic EQ •Semi auto turntable •3-way speaker system



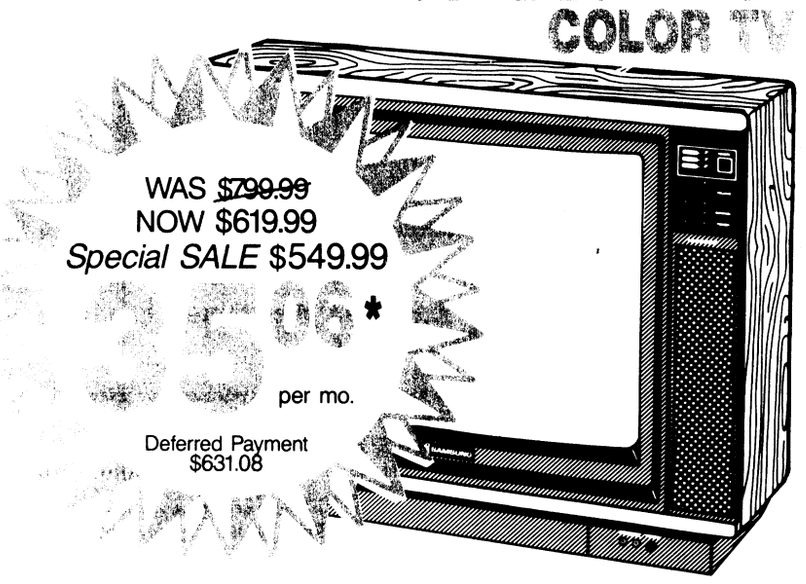
SOUNDESIGN 19" AUDIO/VIDEO SYSTEM

WAS $1,099.99
NOW $999.99
Special SALE $849.99 *

per mo.

Deferred Payment $975.42

•19'' remote control cable ready tv •AM/FM stereo receiver w/3 band graphic equalizer •Dual cassette w/synchro start & continuous play • Semi auto turntable



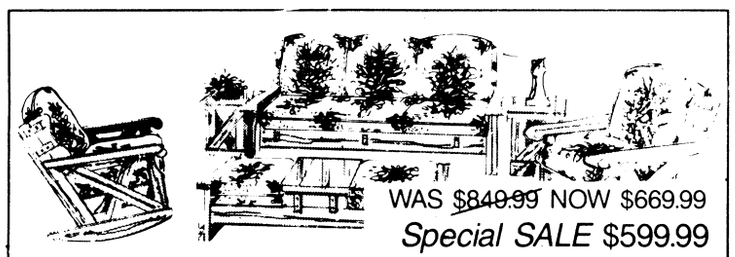
WAS $599.99
NOW $519.99
Special SALE $449.99 *

per mo.

Deferred Payment $516.42

•122 channel cable compatible •14 day/4 event programmable •19 function wireless remote •2 speed picture search & slow motion

SAMSUNG 20" MTS COLOR TV

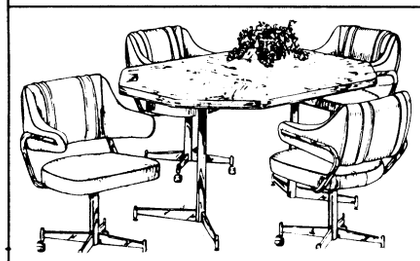


WAS $799.99
NOW $619.99
Special SALE $549.99 *

per mo.

Deferred Payment $631.08

•139 channels •High contrast CRT •Square corner screen tube •Dual speakers •Built-in MTS decoder & stereo amplifier •On-screen channel & time display •2 A/V inputs, 1 A/V output, 1 output jack



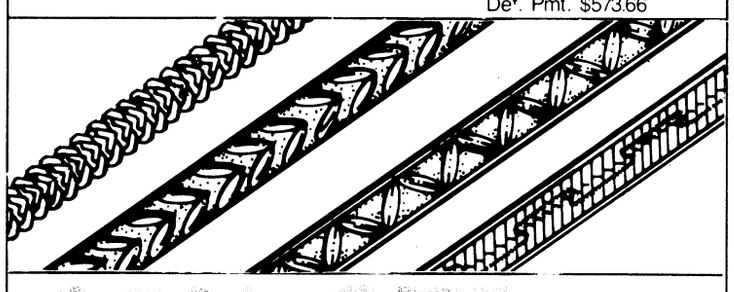
5 PC. DELUXE WOOD GROUP

WAS $849.99 NOW $669.99
Special SALE $599.99

38.25 * per mo.

Def. Pmt. $688.50

•Includes sofa, rocker, party ottoman & two end tables



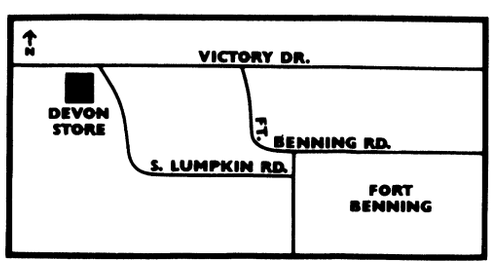
5 PC. DINETTE SET

•Many more to choose from

WAS $649.99 NOW $549.99
Special SALE $499.99

31.67 * per mo.

Def. Pmt. $573.66



35% OFF REGULAR PRICE

HERE ARE JUST SOME EXAMPLES OF GREAT LOW PRICING!

DESCRIPTION	MODEL #	WAS	NOW
SANYO PORTABLE RADIO/CASSETTE	MW227/232	$ 179.99	$ 159.99
KENWOOD DUAL CASSETTE W/AUTO REVERSE	KX77CW	449.99	379.99
KENWOOD 3-WAY SPEAKER SYSTEM	LSK502/503	PAIR 299.99	PAIR 249.99
CLARION AM/FM CAR CASSETTE	8300/8301	299.99	269.99
CLARION 60 WATT CAR AMPLIFIER	1000A	399.99	359.99
SOUNDESIGN RACK SYSTREM W/REMOTE	5998P88	639.99	549.99
JVC 100 WATT RACK SYSTEM W/REMOTE	GX-333	1,399.99	1,149.99
KENWOOD 125 WATT RACK SYSTEM W/REMOTE	68B	1,499.99	1,299.99
SCOTT 50 WATT RACK SYSTEM W/REMOTE	RX-1501	949.99	749.99
KAWASHO 5 1/2'' COLOR TV/RADIO/CLOCK	3706	379.99	369.99
TOSHIBA 13'' REMOTE CONTROL TV	317	549.99	479.99
JVC 20'' REMOTE CONTROL TV	2018/2019	749.99	599.99
SHARP 20'' MTS W/REMOTE CONTROL	20LP86/MP87	799.99	649.99
ZENITH 20'' MTS MONITOR/RECEIVER	2027	849.99	649.99
SAMSUNG 25'' MTS TABLETOP TV	TC-2540	999.99	819.99
JVC 2 HEAD VCR	310/3050	599.99	529.99
SHARP 4 HEAD VCR W/ON SCREEN DISPLAY	VCA-607	649.99	579.99
SHARP VHS-C CAMCORDER W/CASE	VLC-73	1,799.99	1,599.99
TOSHIBA 4 HEAD VCR	7850/7855	719.99	649.99

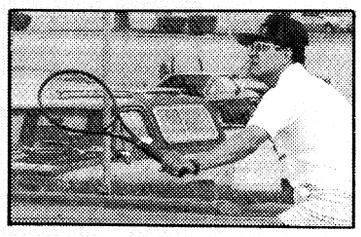
WE HAVE JUST THE RIGHT PRICE TO FIT ANY BUDGET

COLUMBUS #270
3296 Victory Drive
(404) 689-1210

Mon.-Fri. 10am to 8pm;
Sat. 10am to 5pm;
Sun. 1pm to 5pm

WE FINANCE ALL QUALIFIED MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE



*Per month pricing based on no down payment with 17.9% annual percentage for 18 months. Multiply monthly payments by 18 months for total cost. Price may vary depending on local sales tax, insurance or warranty.

SALE ENDS JUNE 7, 1989

Sports

Fort Benning holds USAIC Junior Veterans Division Tennis Championship.

See B-4

Entertainment

Roof Tops and School Daze are tonight's feature movies at the Main Post Theatre. Check the "Movies" listing.

See B-5

ARMY NEWS

Department of Defense sticks with the Beretta

Beretta U.S.A. beat out two other handgun manufacturers in a congressionally mandated repeat competition for the Defense Department's 9mm service pistol contract, Army officials announced May 22.

The company has manufactured the Army's M-9 service pistol since 1985, when it was awarded a contract to replace the previously used Colt .45 pistol.

A prepared Army statement said the Beretta U.S.A. pistols used in the competition were randomly selected from the company's most recent production cycle, and added that the Berettas performed "significantly better than either of the competing weapons." In addition, it said the candidate weapons submitted by the other competitors for the contract — Smith and Wesson, and Sturm, Ruger and Company — failed some of the DoD mandatory requirements.

Officials say the Army will exercise its option to purchase almost 57,000 additional M-9's from Beretta U.S.A. at a cost of about $9.9 million, bringing to almost 378,000 the number of M-9 pistols in the DoD inventory.

★ ★ ★

U.S. Military Academy gets new athletic director

Carl F. Ullrich, director of intercollegiate athletics at the U.S. Military Academy, will become executive director of the Colonial League on July 1.

Ullrich will serve in a dual capacity as West Point's director of athletics and the Colonial League's executive director during the 1989-90 academic year. He will retire from his West Point position next June to take the Colonial League position full time, according to a USMA sports information office spokeswoman.

Ullrich will succeed Alan W. Childs, dean of academic services at Lafayette College, who has served as the league's executive director for the past three years.

The Colonial League, founded in 1984 as a football conference, will expand to seven schools next year when Army and Fordham join charter members Bucknell, Colgate, Holy Cross, Lafayette and Lehigh.

The USMA spokeswoman said that entrance into the Colonial League will not affect Army's NCAA Division 1-A independent football status.

★ ★ ★

Education department offers free AIDS booklet

Educating children about AIDS poses special problems for parents, teachers and other adults responsible for children.

Because AIDS usually involves sex or drugs, it's not easy to talk about.

But Army personnel officials stress that young people, particularly teenagers, should know the facts about the AIDS virus, how it's contracted and what precautions can be taken to reduce the risk.

To help educate your children about AIDS and its causes, the U.S. Department of Education offers a free booklet. It's called "AIDS and the Education of Our Children: A Guide for Parents and Teachers."

The booklet discusses how the AIDS virus is transmitted, describes methods of protection and presents tips on the best way to approach the subject with your child.

For a free copy, send your name and address to the Consumer Information Center, Dept. 587T, Pueblo, CO 81009.

-- from Army News Service reports.

Quote

"Wisdom is greater than knowledge, for wisdom includes knowledge and the due use of it."

-- Joseph Capponi
educator

DoD employees experience training during five-day tour of Fort Benning

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Fifty mid-level Department of Defense employees from all over the United States came to Benning last week for a five-day tour of the training conducted here.

This tour was designed to help civil service workers see where they fit into the overall picture of the Army.

However, these civilians not only saw how they fit into the overall picture, they experienced it.

During the past week they jumped from a 34-foot mock training tower, observed ranger capabilities and training techniques demonstration, crossed a ribbon bridge, went through a gas chamber, observed Bradleys and fired many different weapons and did some training at the Leadership Reaction Course.

Along with the hands-on exercises, they toured many other post facilities.

The Office Assistant Secretary of Defense (Force Management and Personnel) believes that this tour to Benning has the potential of becoming the premier training experience for Department of Defense civilian personnel.

Executive Leadership Demonstration Program representative Joe Snow said there are two things that left a big impression on the group. One, was the professionalism of the noncommissioned officers and the other was the combination Bradley CAPEX where afterwards they were given the chance to fire weapons currently used in the Army.

"They wanted to experience, hands-on what the soldiers are experiencing," he said. "Because, most make decisions higher up, they didn't know exactly how those decisions affected the soldiers, and now they do."

Lt. Col. Robert Hoffman, 4th Ranger Training Battalion, Ranger Training Brigade acted as an escort officer during the groups' visit.

"They have been enormously impressed with Benning," Hoffman said. "And, they have been overwhelmed with the reception they have received."

He added that they did a lot of things during their tour and haven't been afraid to try anything.

Jonas Jordan

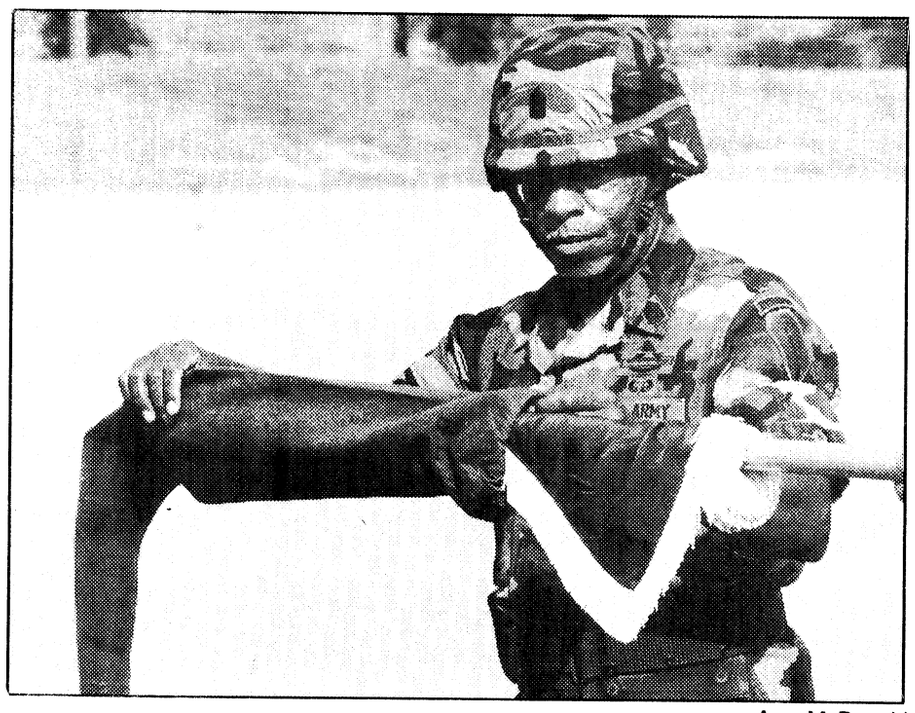
A Department of the Army civilian participating in the Executive Leadership Demonstration Program, grimaces as she jumps from a 34-foot mock training tower.

Post misses energy targets in March and April

By Becky Ray
Energy Branch

Fort Benning's energy use exceeded targets in March and April, and consumption in May is projected to be over target as well. Based on historic patterns, and our current projections as of this date, the post will exceed its target set for the year unless immediate efforts to significantly decrease consumption and increased conservation are made.

Several factors have contributed to a poorer performance this year than last. One challenge this year has been the significant rise in unauthorized use of air conditioning. Recent inspections revealed cases of vandalized (bypassing) Energy Monitoring and Control Systems equipment allowing unauthorized use of air conditioners. These cases are being corrected, but the energy abuse involved has already severely damaged goal performance.



Although TRADOC criteria for air conditioning start up have not been met, air conditioning has been allowed for the comfort of residents during brief periods of high heat and humidity. We hope to continue this policy for the remainder of the year even though it may have a negative impact on our drive to meet our goal.

Fort Benning uses such a large amount of energy each year that exceeding the annual target can mean extra utility bills of more than $200,000 for every one percent the target is exceeded. For example, if we miss our target by 2.5 percent (which is a possibility if we don't all pull together), our energy bill would be $500,000 more this year alone. This is because TRADOC funds the installation's energy use only to the level of the TRADOC goal. Energy use in excess of the budgeted amount comes out of other installation accounts and will force cuts in other areas.

Conservation efforts throughout the community are essential to meeting this goal. Energy waste and abuse by a few means that others must work harder to see that goals are met. In addition, more energy used earlier in the year means that less energy for air conditioning will be available in the hot fall months. Smart energy use will ensure that Fort Benning stays within its energy budget.

Our program calls for a pro-active partnership involving commanders, our non-TOE military and civilian work force and their soldiers, dependent schools, family housing, and the DEH. We need to "re-energize" all members of this partnership to collectively renew their efforts to reduce energy consumption at Fort Benning. The full participation of every individual living or working here is vital to the success of our program. We all share in the benefits of a successful program so we each need to make it our responsibility to help. Let's really focus on saving energy during the upcoming months, and we will be able to make a good run at making our goal.

ITC brigade inactivates after 13 years of training

Ann McDonald

1st Inf. Tng. Bde. CSM William N. Roland covers up the colors of the brigade for the last time signifying, the inactivation of the brigade.

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The 1st Infantry Training Brigade, Infantry Training Center furled up its colors for the last time last week in a ceremony which marked both the inactivation of the brigade and the last review for the outgoing commander.

"It was really a sad moment for me when I saw those colors furled," said the former 1st ITB commander, Col. Jose Feliciano during his farewell speech.

He added it was a moment he won't soon forget and that he was proud to command a brigade that was responsible for turning out more than 200,000 infantryman during it's activation.

The brigade was activated on January 7, 1976 with five battalions consisting of 24 training companies and a headquarters company. It was located at Harmony Church.

The brigade expanded, so on June 16, 1981, it was split into two brigades and thus, the activation of the 2nd Infantry Training Brigade.

Although the unit was divided, the mission remained the same – to produce highly disciplined, proud, physically fit and proficient infantrymen.

The initial mission of the brigade was to conduct infantry advanced individual training for initial entry soldiers. It has since changed to 13-week one station unit training.

Together, along with the 29th Infantry Regiment, the Infantry Training Center trains riflemen, mortarmen, and antitank gunners for infantry units worldwide. During its activation the brigade trained approximately 15,000 infantrymen a year.

It's motto was, "Relentless in Training, Unyielding in Battle." Principles that received daily emphasis were willingness to defend one's country, infantry skills, a never quit attitude, never fail your team, endurance, rugged attitude and spiritual strength.

The battalions in the unit will now fall directly under the ITC. The 2nd ITB will also soon be inactivated and fall under the ITC.

Field artillery soldiers help train student officers

Aurelio Feliberty

Spec. Brooks Cunningham of Btry. A, 4th Bn., 41st FA, throws an expended shell to the ground during a recent fire mission exercise at Fort Benning.

By Aurelio Feliberty
197th Infantry Brigade

With the assistance of four M101 towed Howitzers, and two M109 Self Propelled Howitzers, Alpha section of the 4th Battalion, 41st Field Artillery provided hands-on training for the officers of a recent Pre-Command Course at Fort Benning.

This training exercise was designed to provide officers from the rank of lieutenant to captain with the necessary knowledge for calling artillery, adjusting fire, and preparing an after action review once the fire mission is completed.

"The men of 4-41 FA were called to fire rounds as far as 6000 meters, said SFC Eddie B. Smith of Alpha Battery.

The information given to the gun crews is vital, because the crews depend on the person calling for artillery to provide them with the correct grid coordinate. There is no room for error, according to Smith.

"This exercise is going well. The last two days have been practice days which have given the men of Btry. A the time to practice their Skills Qualification Training," said Sgt. Curtiss Jenkins a section chief of Btry. A. "The practice days fine tune everything for the last day which is when everything counts."

"The training is good, and I feel more confident at my job through the training I received at the National Training Center in Fort Irwin, Calif.," said Pvt. Luis Altamirano of Alpha Battery, a fairly new cannon crewman to the unit.

The speed and expertise of these men are among the finest the Army can produce. This is obvious by the coordination and cohesion demonstrated within the section, as they worked collectively performing the fire missions for the Pre-Command Course, according to Jenkins.

Young, old invited to compete in nearby fishing tournament

Fish World Inc.

One of the largest youth fishing events ever produced in the outdoors field will be held June 30 across from Tom Mann's Fish World on U.S. Highway 431 North in Eufaula, Ala. The event will be held in conjunction with Tom Mann's Research Angler Rally.

Youngsters, from toddlers through 15 years of age, will test their outdoor skills with Tom Mann and his friends in the industry.

Over 500 youngsters from 25 states are expected to participate in three major events — fishing, casting and airgun competition. Children will be classified in four age divisions: toddlers through 5, 6 to 8, 9 to 12 and 13 to 15 years of age.

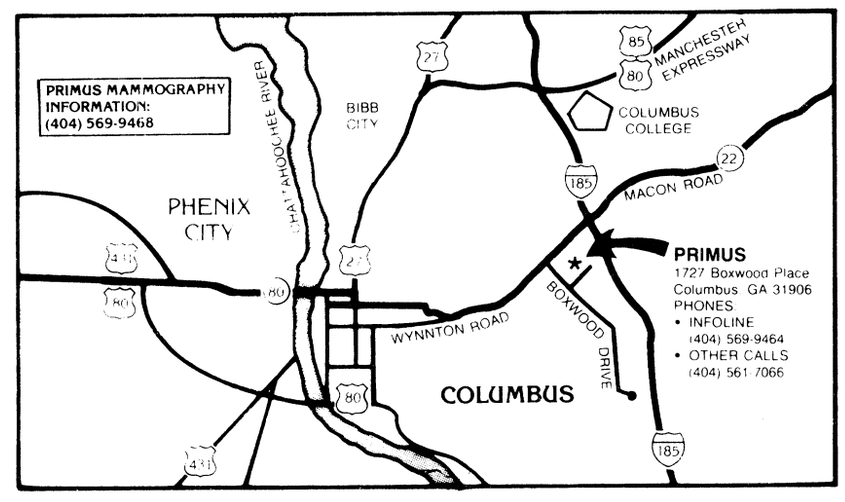
The Research Angler Rally Adult Tournament will be held the following day, July 1, on Lake Eufaula. This is for ages 16 and up. Over 300 entries will be expected from all over the country. The weigh-in will be held at Lakepoint Resort. Cash prizes and trophies will be awarded. In addition, a ladies tournament will be held at Fish World on July 1.

Anyone interested in participating in these events should contact Fish World, Route 2, Box 84-C, Eufaula, Ala. 36027, or call (205) 687-7044.

PRIMUS

NEW ARMY PRIMUS CENTER PROVIDES WALK-IN MEDICAL CARE

PRIMUS Walk-In centers are a new approach to providing military beneficiaries access to primary health care. PRIMUS Columbus will be open 365 days each year—from 0700 to 2000 weekdays and from 0900 to 1600 Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays (Effective 10-1-88).



No appointment is necessary and there is no cost to patients for treatment and medication.

All military beneficiaries, including family members, entitled to care at military treatment facilities and enrolled in the DEERS are eligible for care. Basic laboratory and X-ray services are provided on site. Licensed and credentialed physicians and staff provide medical care.

PRIMUS Columbus is located at 1727 Boxwood Place Columbus, GA 31906

Infoline: (404) 569-9464
Other Calls: (404) 561-7066

PRIMUS Mammography Information: (404) 569-9468

Critically ill or seriously injured patients should go to a hospital emergency room.
Services are provided by PHP Healthcare Corporation, Alexandria, Virginia, under contract to the US Army Health Services Command.

Boating safety council offers life-saving tips

By Evelyn D. Harris
American Forces Information Services

June 4 through 10 will be the 31st annual National Safe Boating Week. Since 1958, when the week was first proclaimed, the number of recreational boats nationwide has grown from 5 million to 17 million.

According to the National Transportation Safety Board, some 1,036 people died in 1987 while boating — more than the combined annual fatalities from airline accidents, commercial shipping and rail accidents.

The National Safe Boating Council hopes to reduce the number of boating fatalities by educating the public on safe boating practices. Hunt Anderson, who heads the Coast Guard's Boating Education Branch and is the council's secretary, said the council is giving special attention this year to "nontraditional boaters" — people who use a boat for sport fishing, water skiing or hunting. Such users probably make up as much as 90 percent of the boating population, but do not think of themselves as boaters.

Because they don't think of themselves as boaters, they're unlikely to take a safe boating course.

"Know Before You Go," is the theme for the safety week. According to Anderson, boat users need to know their craft and safety equipment, weather and water conditions, the boating "rules of the road," and their personal limitations.

To help people with this, the Coast Guard has a consumer hotline (1-800-368-5647) to answer questions relating to safety and product recalls.

For information about a safe boating course, contact your installation safety office or call 1-800-336-BOAT.

Some points covered in the courses are as follows:

● Always wear a Coast Guard approved personal flotation device — and make sure everyone in the boat is wearing one. Of the 1,036 people who died in boating accidents in 1987, 89 percent were not wearing life jackets.

● Respect the water, even if it's a small lake. The two major causes of fatal accidents are capsizings and falls overboard. Most happen in small boats on small inland bodies of water.

● Be alert to weather conditions. Out on the water a thunderstorm can be more than an inconvenience. It can capsize a boat and threaten the lives of the occupants. The National Safe Boating Council advises boaters to listen to weather reports before going out and while they are on the water.

● Don't overload your boat. The small utility boats people use for fishing, hunting and day cruising tend to be unstable and can easily swamp or capsize. A modern outboard boat has a plate indicating the maximum outboard horsepower and carrying capacity of the boat. The number of seats in a boat isn't a measure of its capacity. Overloaded boats overturn.

● Load your boat properly. A person sitting on the gunwale, seat back or bow of a small boat not only puts the boat out of trim, making it harder to maneuver, but is in danger of falling overboard. (Last summer, a young man was sitting on the bow of a runabout on a New Hampshire lake. When the operator cut the throttle, the bow dropped suddenly, throwing the man into the water. The boat passed over him, and the propeller cut off his leg at the hip. The man died on his way to the hospital.)

● Alcohol and boats don't mix. Alcohol reduces muscle coordination and balance, which increases the chances of falling overboard or capsizing a boat. In addition, marine conditions — the motion and noise of the boat combined with sun, wind and glare — compound the effects of alcohol. If you want to serve alcohol on your boat, use the designated driver concept. But remember, intoxicated passengers are also a risk on the water.

RHODES Memorial ENCORE

If You Were Out Of Town And Missed Our Big Memorial Day 1/2 Off Sale...You Can Still Take Advantage Of Our Low Prices! For One Day Only, Save 1/2 On Fine Quality Home Furnishings And Accessories For Your Home...Don't Miss It!

1/2 OFF SALE

No Down Payment* Or No Payments 'til September!*

1/2 OFF! SELECTION OF BEDROOMS

1/2 OFF! ASSORTED SOFAS AND LOVESEAT

1/2 OFF! HUGE SELECTION OF RECLINERS

1/2 OFF! VARIETY OF ACCESSORIES

THIS CHARMING BEDROOM IS STYLED WITH AUTHENTIC EMBOSSED CARVINGS AND ORNATE BRASS FINISH HARDWARE

ALL 5 PIECES $799

DRESSER, HUTCH MIRROR CHEST HEADBOARD FOOTBOARD

CHEST INCLUDED

NIGHTSTAND $149.97

LEHIGH

1/2 PRICE

1/2 WARM AND INVITING COUNTRY BEDROOM SUITE PRICE ON ALL SIMMONS AND RESTONIC BEDDING

FREE GIFT FOR MILITARY AND GOVERNMENT EMPLOYEES
FRIDAY, SATURDAY 10-8 SUN 1-5.

3166 MACON RD
561-7707

RHODES
THE FURNITURE STORE SINCE 187

• ASK ABOUT OUR 6 MONTHSAMEAS CASH PAYMENT PLAN.
• CONVENTIONAL FINANCING UP TO 36 MONTHS
• SPECIALCREDIT PLANS FOR YOUNG ADULTS.

Don't be taken by profit education organizations

By Vivian Graham
ACES Office

Are you being taken advantage of by the "United States Council on Education?"

This organization is targeting soldiers who do not have a high school diploma or those who have a high school equivalency certificate for their newest product, "high school portfolio kits."

These cleverly conceived "marketing kits" are accompanied by an official looking cover letter, and contain an order form for either a military portfolio kit ($12.95), civilian portfolio kit ($12.95) or a combination portfolio kit ($25.90). An additional $35 fee is required if the portfolio produces a high school diploma.

If you do not have a high school diploma or equivalency certificate, the high school GED test is available free of charge to soldiers (active duty, National Guard, and selected Reserves) through Defense Activity for Non-Traditional Education Support (DANTES) test centers (except in a few states). Upon successful completion of the GED test, a high school equivalency certificate is issued.

This equivalency certificate is recognized by all states. There are several officially authorized test centers with no-charge high school GED testing located at Fort Benning. These test centers are under the auspices of the Army Continuing Education System (ACES), Directorate of Community Activities.

Your Education Counselor will help you get the facts about obtaining a high school equivalency credential. Branch Education Centers near you are as follows:

- Main Post — 545-3093, Bldg. 2602.
- Kelley Hill — 544-1716, Bldg. 9027.
- Sightseeing Road — 545-5338, Bldg. 2823.
- Sand Hill — 544-1146, Bldg. 3006.
- Harmony Church — 544-6311, Bldg. 4635.

18th Infantry veterans honored

By D.L. Bridges
197th Infantry Brigade

The 2nd Battalion, 18th Infantry Regiment recently observed its regimental organization with a ceremonial parade, sports events and a family day picnic on Kelley Hill.

The parade and an awards induction kicked off the festivities honoring past and present regimental members. Brig. Gen. William C. Steele, deputy commanding general, presented certificates to 20 attending veterans designating them and 96 others as distinguished members of the regiment. Each was appointed to supplement the ceremonial duties of the Honorary Colonel of the Regiment, Colonel (Ret) Edward W. McGregor. The members' list includes nine Medal of Honor and four Distinguished Service Cross (DSC) recipients from World War II, and seven DSC awardees from Vietnam.

The 18th Infantry Regiment was constituted on May 3, 1861 at Camp Thomas, Ohio, and served in the Army of the West during the Civil War. The Regiment has since served in every United States conflict through Vietnam. The 2nd Battalion has been honored with 51 battle streamers for its distinguished service.

Athletic and military stakes events included company team competitions in a 5K run, the annual physical fitness test, tug-of-war, horseshoe pitch, chariot race, log carry, weapons assemble and disassembly, drill and ceremony, a softball tournament, litter carry, tent erection and the grenade toss.

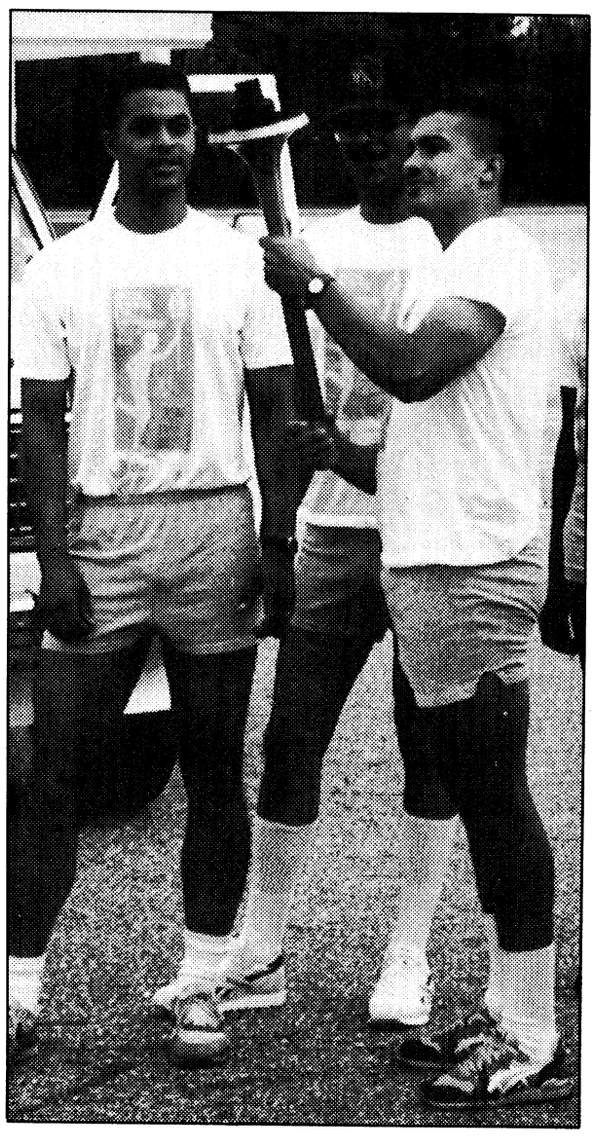
Family day events included a picnic, a slide for life for the children, egg spoon race, egg toss, sack race and three-legged race. Soldiers and families took time out to enjoy these events, including being exposed to a vehicle and weapons static display, and a train ride and HMMWV rides.

The 2nd Battalion Vanguards look forward to the redesignation of the 1st Battalion, 58th Infantry to the 1-18 Infantry on July 13, 1989.

The great traditions of the 18th Infantry will continue within the 197th Infantry Brigade (Mechanized) (Separate).

Horse show free to military

Goodwill Industries



Goodwill Industries will hold its 13th annual Greater Columbus Horse Show June 10 from 12 noon and lasting well into the night at the Columbus Fairgrounds next to the Municipal Auditorium.

Active duty and retired military and thier family members with a military identification card will be admitted free.

There will be plenty of food including the world famous Dinglewood scrambled dog.

Tickets for non-military people are $2 for adults and $1 for children.

All proceeds benefit Goodwill Industries in helping the handicapped.

Sgt. Roland Rivera and SSgt. Johnnie Jones of MPA make sure the torch is lit before they start the run.

MPA runners help Special Olympians

USAIC Public Affairs Office

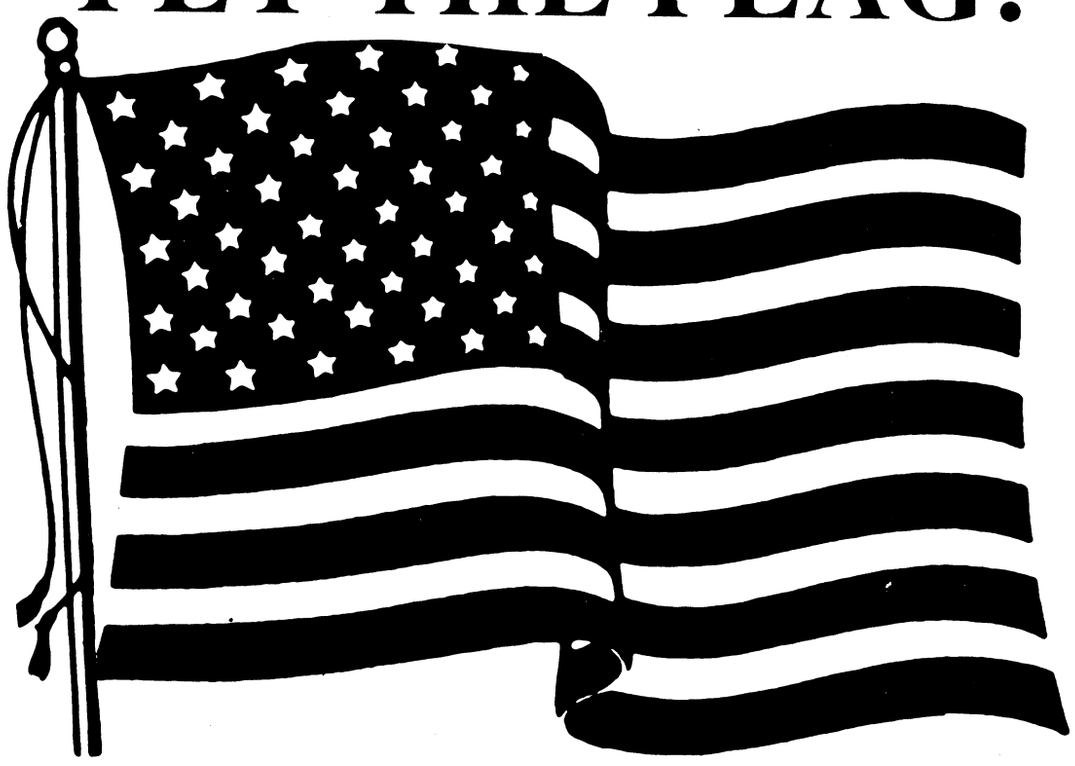
Fort Benning's Military Police Activity joined law enforcement officers from across Georgia and took part in a 1,100-mile, Georgia Special Olympics fund-raising torch run, May 20 through 26.

Several runners from the MPA ran a relay May 25 from the Main Post Exchange to the Columbus Government Center carrying the torch which began its journey May 20 in Valdosta.

Upon arrival at the Government Center, the MPA runners handed the torch over to members of the Columbus Police Department.

The torch carried by the MPA was just one of eight torches from around the state of Georgia. Each was carried into the opening ceremonies of the Georgia Special Olympics at Emory University in Atlanta, May 26.

Special Olympics is the world's largest program of sports training and competition for mentally retarded children and adults.



More than 12,000 Special Olympians participate in Georgia programs, which are aided by volunteer efforts such as those of law enforcement officers.

Photos by Ann McDonald

Sgt. Roland Rivera and SSgt. Johnnie Jones of MPA move out behind the Georgia State Patrol car on during their trek for the Georgia Special Olympics.

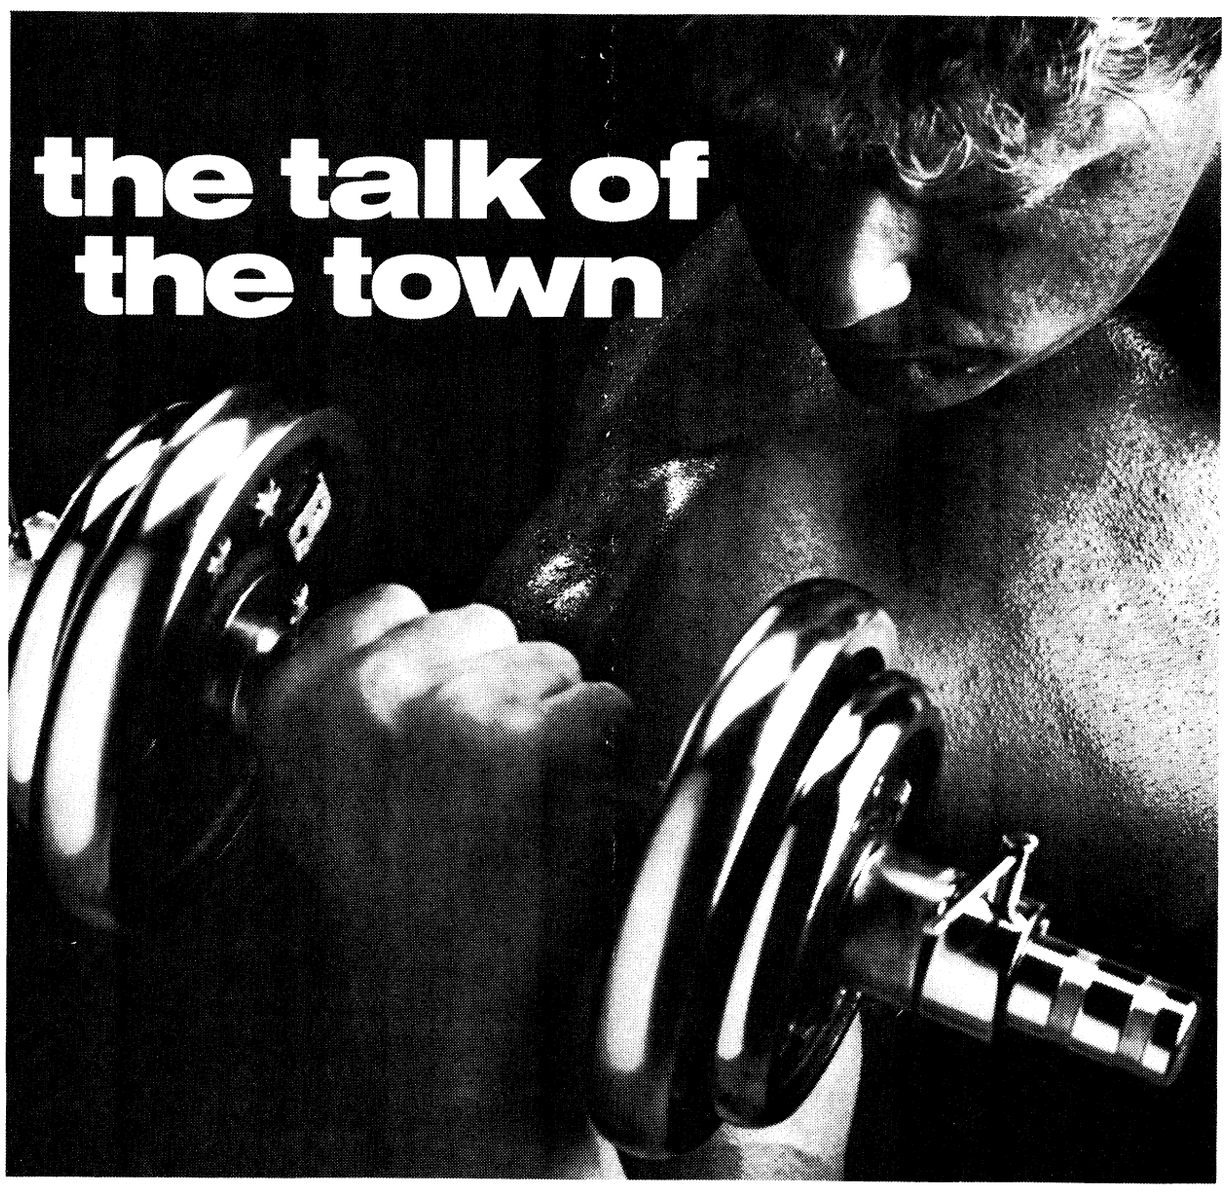
FLY THE FLAG!

BUY A FLAG AND SHOW YOUR COLORS EVERY DAY, ESPECIALLY ON:
Independence Day—July 4

$10.99
Plus $1.75 postage if ordered by mail.

- 3x5-Foot Fine Cotton Flag with Canvas Heading and Brass Grommets
- 6-Foot, 2-Piece Staff, Cord Halyard
- Golden Eagle Top Ornament
- Heavy Stamped Steel Rust Resist Mounting Bracket, Screws, Instructions

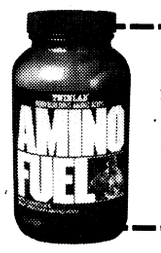
MAIL OR BRING COUPON TO:
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
Cashier
17 W. 12th Street
Columbus, GA 31902



Please send me_____flag kit(s) at $10.99 plus $1.75 postage for each kit. My check or money order is enclosed. Make checks payable to Columbus Ledger-Enquirer, please.

NAME_____

ADDRESS_____



CITY_____ STATE_____ ZIP_____

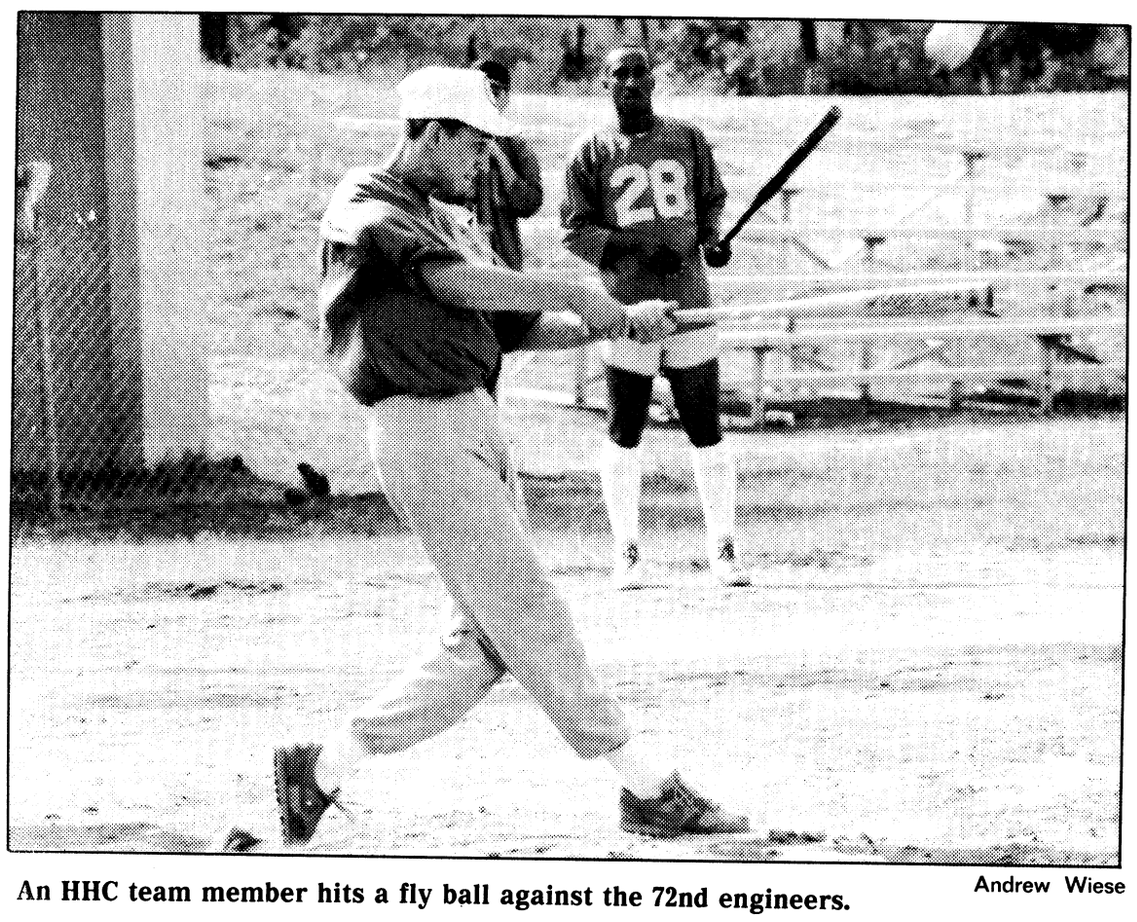
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
Where You'll Find Out

If you're out to become the center of attention, first make a stop at your nutrition headquarters. General Nutrition Centers. Serious athletes know it takes more than just intense exercise to get really big. You need fitness supplements, too. And speaking of sports nutrition, you'll find the best and largest selection at GNC! With names like Weider, TwinLab, MegaPro, and Universal to name a few. Plus our own PRO Performance and Challenge products.

So for amino acids, weight gain powders, energy drinks and vitamin paks, come to the place everyone is talking about. GNC. For the best prices around!

TWINLAB Amino Fuel
The potent amino formula!
250 tabs #876411
$2.00 OFF

Weider Fat Burners
For the maximum physique.
180 tabs #776611
$2.00 OFF



PRO Performance™ Weight Gain Powder
Delicious chocolate and vanilla flavors.
32 oz.
$2.00 OFF

GENERAL NUTRITION CENTERS

PEACHTREE MALL
COLUMBUS SQUARE MALL

SPORTS

An HHC team member hits a fly ball against the 72nd engineers.

Andrew Wiese

72nd engineers demolish 197th headquarters, 12-7

By Andrew Wiese
197th Infantry Brigade

Softball season is here and it's in full swing on Kelley Hill.

Recently, the 72nd Engineer Company (Combat) defeated Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 197th Infantry Brigade by a score of 12-7 in the second game of the season for both teams.

"It's too early in the season to know how the other teams play, however I feel our team is coming along well and we should be able to win this game," said Rodney Grant of HHC.

HHC jumped out to a quick start in the first inning, scoring two runs due to sloppy 72nd fielding. Both teams then settled down as the next few innings were scoreless with no errors committed.

The 72nd team started a rally in the fourth by opening up the inning with two base hits. Charles Moore, 72nd team captain, stepped into the batter's box and patiently took a couple of pitches before knocking a three run homer.

"When I hit that ball, I could tell it was going out of the park," said Moore.

This home run appeared to fire up the entire 72nd team, as was evident the fifth inning, when the team again exploded, batting around the bases and putting on a hitting clinic as nine runs crossed the plate.

The sixth inning proved to be very crucial for HHC who was in no way giving up. They began a promising rally of their own and knocked in four runs. However, HHC's rally came up short, and 72nd's team had the game in their control once again, ending with a final score of 12-7.

"The fifth inning hurt us real bad because we had so many errors," said John Montalvo, captain of the HHC team, who aded "The game should have been much closer."

"Our team is settling down very much," said Morre who added, "We are beginning to work very well together."

It's clear to see that both of these teams have potential and will improve by their mistakes, according to the coaches.

29th Inf. soldier takes USAIC tennis championship, 6-2, 7-5

By Ron Allen
USAIC Public Affairs Office

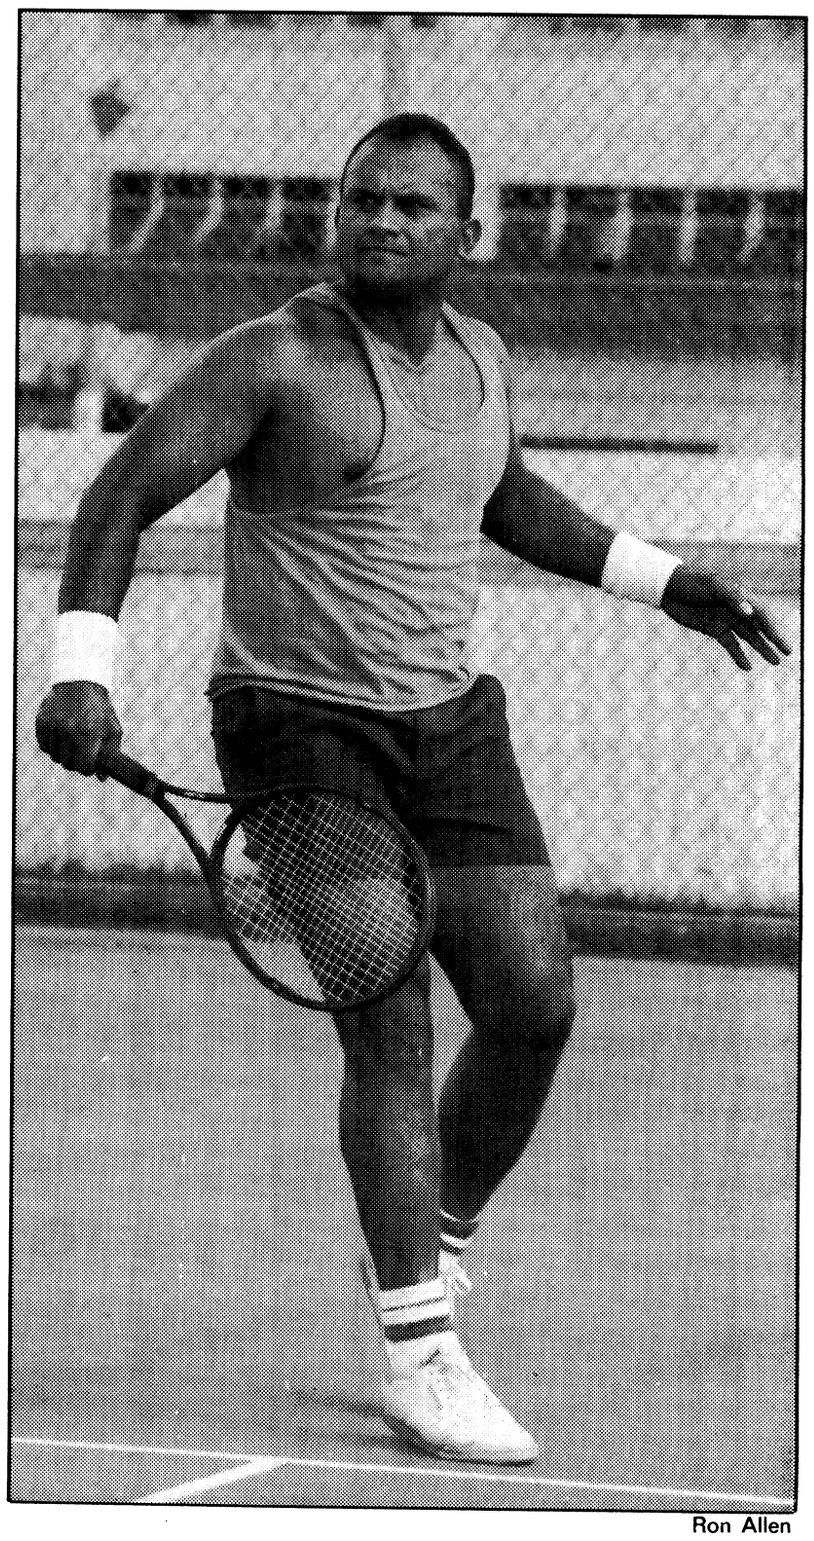
Semisi V. Niva of Co. D, 2nd Bn., 29th Inf. beat Felipe A. Mojica of USASSD in straight sets 6-2, 7-5 May 26 to win the USAIC Jr. Veterans Division Tennis Championships.

Mojica was the reining champion and Niva had placed second last year.

"Niva has improved a lot since last year," Mojica said. "He's playing with a lot more consistency."

"We were pretty evenly matched," Niva said. "But, I played a remarkably error free game."

"I hurt my knee earlier this year," Niva continued, "and I've been playing in Columbus to get it back up to 100 percent. It's in good shape now."



"I was ahead 4-1 in the final set," Mojica said. "But Niva fought back for the win."

Also in straight sets, Frank DaSilva of Co. B, 1st Bn., 50th Inf. slipped by Caroline Moore of Co. B, 43rd Eng. Bn. 6-4, 7-5 to win the USAIC Open Division Tennis Championship.

"I'll be the first to admit that Moore is actually a better player than I am," DaSilva said after the match. "I'm just lucky that it turned out the way it did. Most games went to Deuce and back and forth with each of us getting the advantage. It was a tough match with a lot of the games that could have gone either way."

"He (DaSilva) played a smart match although I think both of us could have been a lot more consistent," Moore said. "I'm just glad I got the opportunity to play some tournament tennis."

"The best thing about the whole tournament, though, was the fact that now I have a hitting partner," Moore said. "We've already gone out and played since the tournament."

Ron Allen

Semisi V. Niva shows his winning form in USAIC Post Tennis Championship action. Niva placed first in the USAIC Junior Veteran Division.

SPORTS SHORTS

Fishing rodeo June 10

The 1989 Youth Fishing Rodeo will be held June 10 at Russ Pond in celebration of National Fishing Week which is June 5 through 11.

The rodeo, which will run from 9 to 11:30 a.m., is free and open to children ages 5 through 15 of active duty, retired and Department of Defense civilians.

Participants are required to register for the rodeo and may do so Monday through Friday, at Youth Services, building 105, 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m, prior to June 10. A late registration will be held the day of the rodeo.

In order to help make the rodeo a success, the Georgia Department of Natural Resources, by contract, has stocked the pond with 2,000 cat fish.

Drawings will be held throughout the day for prizes such as camping and fishing equipment.

Prizes will also be awarded for winners in three catagories: largest single bream by weight,largest string by number and largest catfish by wieght.

All participants will be required to check-in with the Fort Benning Bass Club before leaving the rodeo to get a accurate count of participants and fish caught during the rodeo.

For more information, call 545-3070/3913.

Post powerlifting meet June 24

The 2nd Annual Fort Benning Powerlifting competition will be held June 24 at Briant Wells Gym. Lifters will squat, bench press and dead lift. Current U.S. Powerlifting Federation rules will be in effect, and regulation one-piece suits are mandatory. There is no entry fee.

Competition is open to all Fort Benning male and female active duty military, military dependents retirees, Department of Army and Department of Defense civilians and Non-appropriated Fund civilians.

Awards will be presented to the top male finishers in each weight category. Women awards will be determined by formula.

For the first time at Fort Benning, a team powerlifting competition will be held. Lifters may compete in the team competition as well as individually. The top three teams will receive awards.

Weigh-ins will be held at Briant Wells Gym June 23 from 4 to 7 p.m. and on June 24 from 8 to 9:15 a.m. A meeting will be held for all lifters on June 24 at 9 a.m.

Lifters may sign up at any post gym or show up for the weigh-in and lifters meeting. For more information, contact Speedy Austin at 545-4726/4388.

Chess tournament set for June 17

The 1989 preliminary Army Chess Tournament will be held at Kelley Hill Community Recreation Center June 17 at 10 a.m. This tournament will determine nominations for attendance at the Army Chess Tournament to be held at Fort Belvoir, Va. September 10 through 16.

Only active duty military personnel are eligible to compete. The tournament will be U.S. Chess Federation sanctioned and membership is required. Memberships may be purchased at the time of registration.

Contact Kelley Hill Community Recreation Center for details at 544-3079 Wednesday through Saturday after 12 noon.

USO giving away Braves' tickets

The USO is giving away Atlanta Braves baseball tickets by means of a drawing. Only active duty military personnel are eligible. To enter, put your name, rank, duty station, duty and work phone numbers on a postcard (DoD postcards are illegal) and mail to USO/Atlanta Braves Tickets, P. O. Box 20963, Atlanta, GA 30320. One entry per person please.

A drawing will be held weekly on Tuesday. Each winner will receive two tickets to a Thursday or Sunday home game. Tickets should be picked up before the game at the press box office. Military identification must be shown when picking up tickets.

Body builders will compete June 10

The sixth annual Mr. and Ms. Fort Benning body building contest will be held June 10 at Marshall Auditorium in Infantry Hall, building 4.

This is the final week (June 5-9) to sign up for the contest.

The Mr. Fort Benning contest is open to all active duty military men stationed at Fort Benning.

The Ms. Fort Benning competition is open to active duty military females, dependents of active duty, retirees, Department of Army , Non-appropriated Fund and Army and Air Force Exchange Service employees.

Awards will be presented to first, second and third place winners as well as the best poser in both the men and women competition. Also, in the men's category, an award will be presented to the "Most Muscular" competitor.

For more information, call Speedy Austin at 545-4726.

Follow Me Course holds tournament

The Follow Me golf course will hold the Bi-City Golf Tournament (gross event, flighted) June 17 through 18.

Golfers pay half-price greens fees Monday through Friday with cart rental from 1 p.m. until dark. Call 687-1940 for additional information.

Pot-O-Gold is $3,965

Fort Benning bowling centers' "Pot-O-Gold" cash prize has reached $3,965.

Bowlers must strike in certain frames to win the pot.

League and open bowlers who purchase a three-game ticket and pay a $1 entry fee prior to bowling are eligible to enter the tournament.

For more information, call the Main Post Bowling Center at 545-4272 or 545-1949.

YA needs swimmers

The Youth Activities Center is looking for swimmers for its swim team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Mondays through Thursdays.

The swim team is a year-round organization.

Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for information.

Bowling centers offer specials

The Fort Benning bowling centers are offer the following specials:

Youth Special 18 years old and younger, three games, $1.50 including shoes, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Adult special, 19-years-old and older, three games, $2.25 plus shoes.

Evening Special, 5 p.m. to closing, Monday through Friday, three games, $3 plus shoes.

Holidays not included.

Call 545-4272 or 544-1985 for additional information regarding these and other special bowling discounts.

— Compiled from staff reports.

STANDINGS

SOFTBALL

197th INF. BDE.
1st Bn., 58th Inf.	W	L
HHC	4	0
B Co.	3	1
C Co.	2	2
A Co.	1	3
D Co.	1	3
E Co.	1	3
2/69th Armor
HHC	1	0
15th Cav.	1	0
B Co.	0	2
4th Bn., 41st F.A.
HHB	4	1
Svc. Btry.	3	1
B Btry.	3	2
HHC 197th	3	2
A Btry.	1	2
C Btry.	0	3
197th Spt. Bn.
519th PSC	2	0
B Co.	1	1
C Co.	1	1
D Co.	1	1
72nd Eng. Co.	1	1
HHC	0	2

36th ENGR. GP.
East League
598th Maint. Co.	3	0
533rd Trans. Co.	2	2
608th Ord. Co.	2	2
215th FSU	0	1
HHD	0	2
West League (43rd Eng. Bn.)
A Co.	3	0
HSC	3	1
C Co.	2	1
43rd Officers	1	2
B Co.	1	3
586th AFB	0	3
COMBINED LEAGUE
498th Med. Co.	3	0
2nd MASH	3	0
MPA	2	1
Nav. Rsv.	2	1
MEDDAC	2	1
34th Med. Bn.	2	1
Inf. Board	1	1
CID	1	1
75th Rngr.	1	2
NCOA	1	2
USAF	0	2
690th Med. Co.	0	3
USARSA	0	3

"All he needs is a good swift kick in the pants."

How many times have we thought this about a loved one who isn't performing up to our expectations?

But sometimes inappropriate behavior can be a warning sign of something serious. A mental illness.

Mental illness is a medical illness—not a personal weakness. And learning to recognize its warning signs can be the first step to healing the sickness.

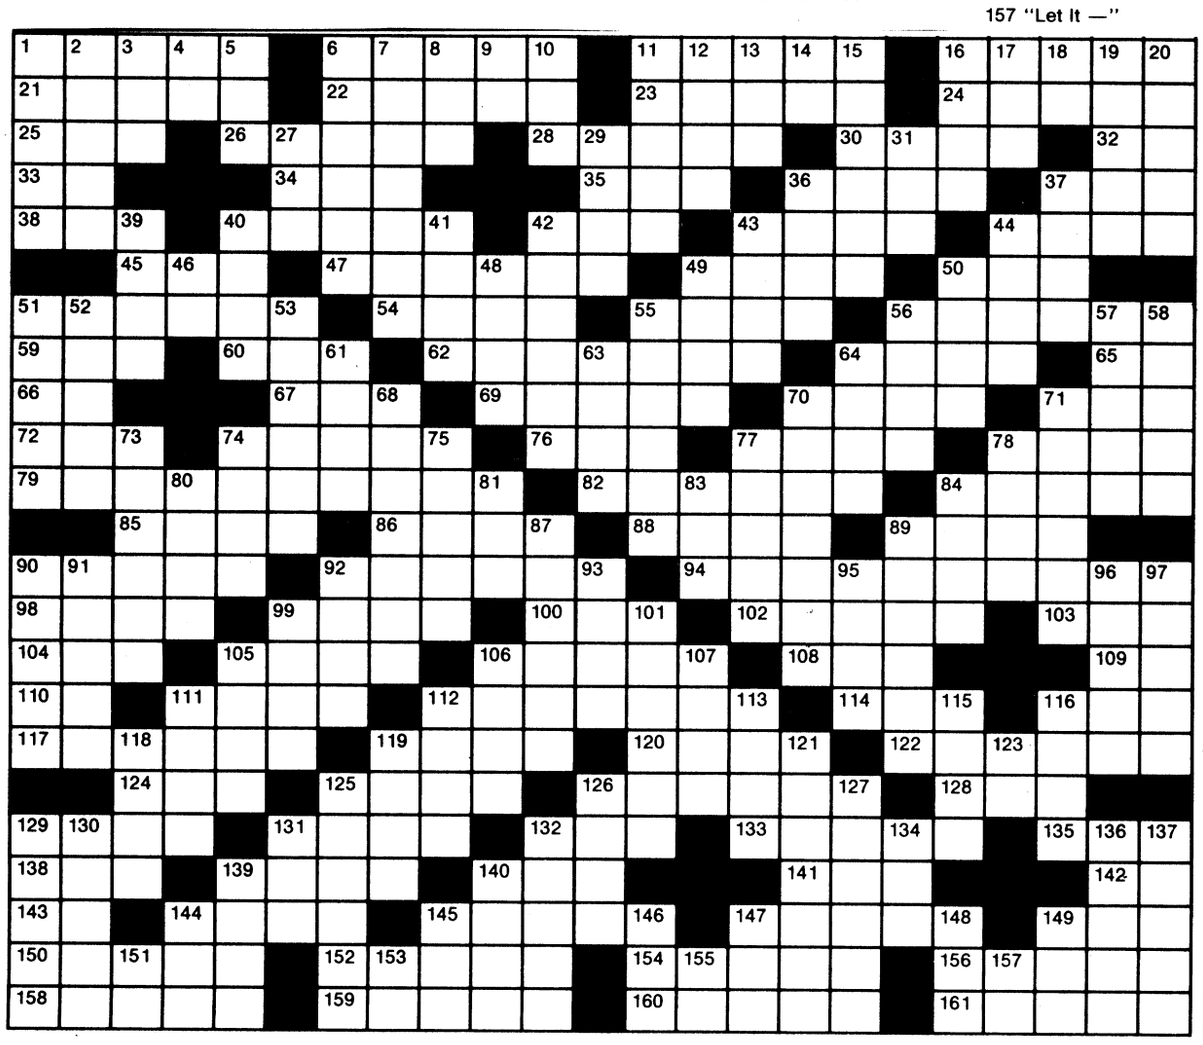
Learn more. For an informative booklet, write: The American Mental Health Fund, P.O. Box 17700, Washington, D.C. 20041. Or call toll free: 1-800-433-5959. In Illinois, call: 1-800-826-2336.

Learn to see the sickness. Learning is the key to healing.

THE AMERICAN MENTAL HEALTH FUND

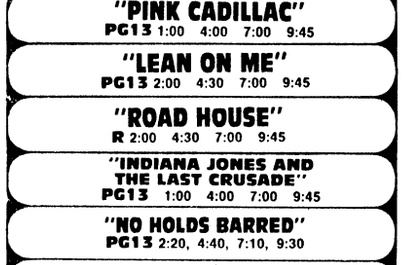
Ad Council

ENTERTAINMENT



PUZZLE

CROSS



1 Butt; stub
6 Plant louse
11 Beer mug
16 Bullwinkle, e.g.
21 Uncanny
22 Showery
23 Commonplace
24 "Look Back in —"
25 Hostelry
26 "— Did Our Love Go?"
28 Mistake
30 Weather indicator
32 As far as
33 Bond nemesis
34 Abstract being
35 Grain
36 Leaf of book
37 Food fish
38 Sea eagle
40 Imbibed
42 Music variety
43 Secret writing
44 Sheet of glass
45 Wrath
47 "The Jazz —"
49 North American rail
50 Burst
51 Lately created
54 Liquid measure
55 Barracuda
56 Soften in temper
59 Hail!
60 The urial
62 Sullied
64 Resound
65 Alternative word
66 Evigan inits.
67 Those holding office
69 Walk on
70 Float in air
71 Depot: abbr.
72 Conclusion
74 Small repast
76 Hearing organ
77 River in Asia
78 Mimics
79 Make stronger
82 Bank employee
84 Religious sect
85 Goddess of discord
86 Unlock
88 Window frame part
89 Sandarac tree
90 Keen
92 Lag behind
94 South Pacific islander
98 Scottish caps
99 Cronies
100 Dawn goddess
102 Trials
103 Golf mound
104 Paid notices
105 Shallow vessels
106 Objects of affection
108 Dolores — Rio
109 Sun god
110 French article
111 Gentle in nature
112 Sham
114 Hebrew title
116 Ventilate
117 Regard
119 Conduct
120 James — Jones
122 Washes lightly
124 Possesses
125 Mend with cotton
126 Come on the scene
128 Pinch
129 "— to Bali"
131 Jargon
132 One, no matter which
133 Sinful; immoral
135 "Cheers" bartender
138 Carney of "The Honeymooners"
139 Domicile
140 In music, high
141 The Dynamic — (Batman & Robin)
142 Brother of Odin
143 Exists
144 Phi — Kappa
145 Eyelashes
147 Temporary shelters
149 Make lace
150 Giver of gift
152 Open space in forest
154 Whiskers
156 Demean
158 Ignores
159 Consumed
160 Collect
161 Amounts owed

DOWN

1 Paris's river
2 Choir voice
3 Vase
4 Do, re, —
5 Church bench
6 Stadiums
7 Vegetable
8 Hasten
9 At home
10 Change color of
11 Leather belt
12 Jog
13 Goddess of healing
14 That thing
15 "— Smith"
16 Horse's neck hair
17 Individual
18 King of Bashan
19 Surgical thread
20 Wear away
27 Part of HMS
29 Bellow
31 Mature
36 — au Prince
37 Sleeveless cloak
39 French resort
40 Lairs
41 Intertwine
42 Retreat
43 Female student
44 Take a vote
46 Concerning
48 Insect
49 Hurried
50 Bosc, e.g.
51 Rants
52 Occurrence
53 Objects
55 Looks fixedly
56 "— Window"
57 Memoranda
58 Rubbish
61 Med. sch. subj.
63 Tidy
64 Decant
68 Trains
70 Detected an odor
71 Enthusiasm
73 Visions
74 Cut
75 Military caps
77 Apportion
78 Wine cups
80 Sins
81 Openwork fabric
83 Brim
84 War god
87 Wanted
89 Deer's horn
90 Vapid
91 Underworld
92 Alight
93 Origin
95 River in Belgium
96 Eagle's nest
97 Approaches
99 Tropical tree
101 Drowsy
105 Baker's products
106 Tehran's country
107 Break suddenly
111 Fermented drink
112 Saucy
113 Attracted
115 Bob Hope's 'Road' partner
116 Vipers
118 "— Girl"
119 "Superman" character
121 Pantries
123 Nickel symbol
125 Harm
126 One opposed
127 Boxing event divisions
129 Forays
130 Welles or Bean
131 Temporary bed
132 Steve or Debbie
134 Negative
136 Nautical: cease!
137 Apportions
139 Possessive pronoun
140 Assistant
144 TV's Newhart
145 Household pet
146 Arabian garment
147 Chinese pagoda
148 Mournful
149 Flap
151 Greek letter
153 "— Law"
155 Printer's measure
157 "Let It —"

LAST WEEK

MOVIES

Today	Cousins - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Roof Tops - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	School Daze - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
Saturday	Rain Man - (R)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Sing - (PG-13)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Lean On Me - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Leviathan - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Everybody's All American - (R)	Main Post 9 p.m.
	Phantasm II - (R)	Main Post 11 p.m.
Sunday	Leviathan - (R)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Cocoon: The Return - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Lean On Me - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Rain Man - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Monday	Lean On Me - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Leviathan - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Troop Beverly Hills - (PG)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Tuesday	Dangerous Liaisons - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Rain Man - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Wednesday	Dangerous Liaisons - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Sing - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Fletch Lives - (PG)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Thursday	Troop Beverly Hills - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	The Mighty Quinn - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.

THE $57 ATLANTA BED & BREAKFAST

Enjoy a fun-filled weekend in Atlanta, complete with a spacious room at the fabulous Renaissance Hotel and full breakfast for two–for only $57* per night! And the kids stay free. There's exciting new Underground Atlanta and delightful Zoo Atlanta. Reserved seating for the Braves. Plus discount tickets to White Water, Six Flags and Stone Mountain, prepurchased so there's no line. For reservations, call collect (404) 761-7790 and ask for the $57 Atlanta Bed & Breakfast.

*Plus tax, subject to change and availability. Not valid for groups or conventions. Offer good through 9/30/89.

FOUR DIAMOND AWARD 1989

RAMADA RENAISSANCE® HOTEL ATLANTA AIRPORT

Carmike Cinema 7 — 5301 Sidney Simons Blvd. 596-8244 — CARMIKE

DISCOUNT MATINEES MON.-FRI. ALL SEATS $2.50 till 5:30 pm

"INDIANA JONES AND THE LAST CRUSADE" PG13 1:00 4:00 7:00 9:45
"PINK CADILLAC" PG13 1:00 4:00 7:00 9:45
"RENEGADES" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:45
"K-9" 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:45
"GRIEVOUS BODILY HARM" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:45
"FIELD OF DREAMS" PG 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:45

Columbus Square 8 / 563-4440 COLUMBUS SQUARE

"PINK CADILLAC" PG13 1:00 4:00 7:00 9:45
"LEAN ON ME" PG13 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:45
"ROAD HOUSE" R 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:45
"INDIANA JONES AND THE LAST CRUSADE" PG13 1:00 4:00 7:00 9:45
"NO HOLDS BARRED" PG13 2:20, 4:40, 7:10, 9:30
"SEE NO EVIL, HEAR NO EVIL" R 2:20 4:40 7:10 9:30
"MAJOR LEAGUE" R 2:20 4:40 7:10 9:30
"PET SEMATARY" R 2:20 4:40 7:10 9:30

Peachtree Triple / 322-7704 PEACHTREE MALL

"RAIN MAN" R 7:00 9:30
"FIST FIGHTER" R 7:00, 9:30
"TIME TRACKER" PG 7:10, 9:20

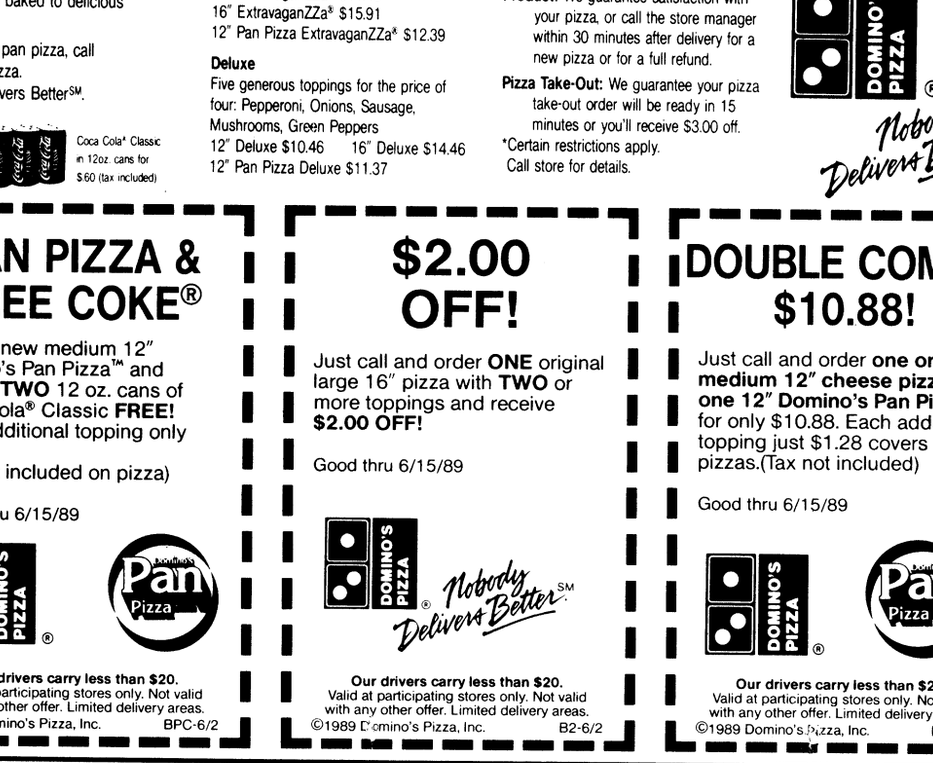
Plaza Triple 99¢ / 563-3737 CROSS COUNTRY PLAZA

"TWINS" PG 7:00 9:30
any Movie 99¢ anytime! "BILL & TED'S EXCELLENT ADV." PG 7:10, 9:20
"DANGEROUS LIAISONS" R 7:00 9:30

Phenix Twin 99¢ / 297-3905 280 BYPASS

any Movie 99¢ anytime! "THE BURBS" PG 7:00 9:30
"THE RESCUERS" G 7:00 8:45

STOP!



Read the Classified Pages Everyday For Bargains

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

Call 327-4500

DOMINO'S PIZZA PUTS PAN PIZZA IN ITS PLACE.

NOW HIRING

Your place.

Now you can get the great taste of oven fresh pan pizza delivered right to your home. Just call for new Domino's Pan Pizza.™ Enjoy your favorite taste in the best place in town—your place

Thanks to Domino's Pizza®, you can have your pan pizza delivered in 30 minutes or less, guaranteed. No traffic hassles. No waiting in restaurants.

New Domino's Pan Pizza™ has a thick, chewy crust, smothered with tangy sauce and lots of thick, gooey real cheese. And it's topped off with generous portions of your favorite toppings. All baked to delicious perfection!

So for great pan pizza, call Domino's Pizza.
Nobody Delivers Better℠.

Coca Cola® Classic in 12oz. cans for $.60 (tax included)

DOMINO'S PIZZA MENU
All Pizzas Include Our Special Blend of Sauce and 100% Real Cheese.

Our Superb Cheese Pizza
Original
12" cheese $6.38 16" cheese $8.66

Domino's Pan Pizza™
12" cheese $7.29

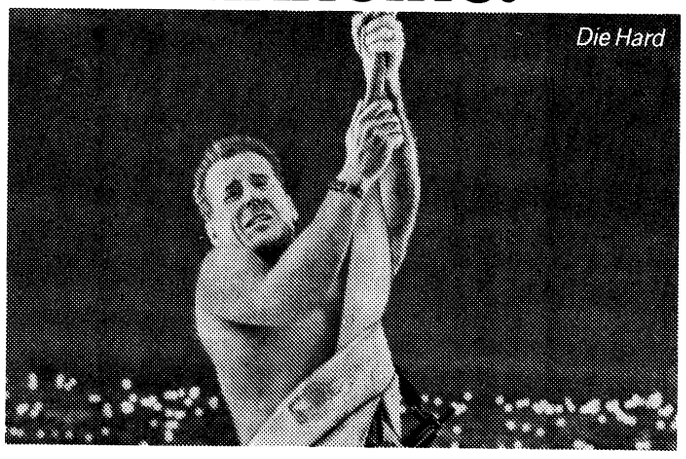
ExtravaganZZa®
Limited portions of nine toppings for the price of five: Pepperoni, Mushrooms, Ham, Green Peppers, Onions, Ground Beef, Black Olives, Double Cheese and Sausage
12" ExtravaganZZa® $11.48
16" ExtravaganZZa® $15.91
12" Pan Pizza ExtravaganZZa® $12.39

Deluxe
Five generous toppings for the price of four: Pepperoni, Onions, Sausage, Mushrooms, Green Peppers
12" Deluxe $10.46 16" Deluxe $14.46
12" Pan Pizza Deluxe $11.37

Additional Toppings
Pepperoni, Mushrooms, Ham, Onions, Green Peppers, Black and Green Olives, Sausage, Ground Beef, Hot Pepper Rings, Double Cheese.
12" pizza $1.02 per topping
16" pizza $1.45 per topping
(Prices do not include applicable sales tax.)

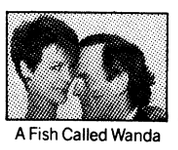
DOMINO'S PIZZA GUARANTEE*
Service: We guarantee your pizza will arrive in 30 minutes or less from the time you order, or the driver will refund $3.00 off your order.
Product: We guarantee satisfaction with your pizza, or call the store manager within 30 minutes after delivery for a new pizza or for a full refund.
Pizza Take-Out: We guarantee your pizza take-out order will be ready in 15 minutes or you'll receive $3.00 off.
*Certain restrictions apply.
Call store for details.

CALL US!
Serving Ft. Benning & Surrounding Area
689-7676
127 Farr Road
Serving Main Post & S. Columbus
689-5533
1919 South Lumpkin Drive



DOMINO'S PIZZA® Nobody Delivers Better℠

PAN PIZZA & FREE COKE®
Try any new medium 12" Domino's Pan Pizza™ and receive TWO 12 oz. cans of Coca Cola® Classic FREE! Each additional topping only $1.02.
(Tax not included on pizza)
Good thru 6/15/89
DOMINO'S PIZZA® Pan Pizza
Our drivers carry less than $20.
Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offer. Limited delivery areas.
©1989 Domino's Pizza, Inc. BPC-6/2



$2.00 OFF!
Just call and order ONE original large 16" pizza with TWO or more toppings and receive $2.00 OFF!
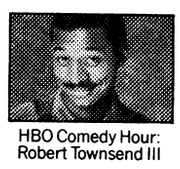
Good thru 6/15/89
DOMINO'S PIZZA® Nobody Delivers Better℠
Our drivers carry less than $20.
Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offer. Limited delivery areas.
©1989 Domino's Pizza, Inc. B2-6/2



DOUBLE COMBO $10.88!
Just call and order one original medium 12" cheese pizza and one 12" Domino's Pan Pizza™ for only $10.88. Each additional topping just $1.28 covers both pizzas.(Tax not included)
Good thru 6/15/89
DOMINO'S PIZZA® Pan Pizza
Our drivers carry less than $20.
Valid at participating stores only. Not valid with any other offer. Limited delivery areas.
©1989 Domino's Pizza, Inc. BDC-6/2

THIS SUMMER, HBO WON'T LEAVE YOU HANGING.

Gone are the dog days of summer when you had to settle for reruns on broadcast TV. On HBO,® we show you top movies and original programming. You'll also see critically-acclaimed coverage of sports. And we'll bring you the hottest comedians and concerts of the year. So, for entertainment that won't let you down, get cable and HBO.

A Fish Called Wanda

HBO Comedy Hour: Robert Townsend III

Wimbledon '89

HBO AND THE POWER OF CABLE

© 1989 Home Box Office, Inc. All rights reserved. HBO is a registered service mark and trademark of Home Box Office, Inc.

$10 Standard Installation

$4.95 per month for 3 months Offer Expires 6-16-89

ALERT CABLE OF FT. BENNING
687-6109

Limited time only.

CLASSIFIED Excitement!

322-4500

CLEANING SERVICES C3

GERMAN CLEANING Team, 1-day service, call 687-8544 anytime.

TAKE a day off! Let me do your chores! My name is Lynn. Reasonable rates. Call 687-0130.

TOTALLY Domestic Cleaning Services, specializing in residences. Reasonable rates. Call 563-5073 after5pm.

SMALL ENGINE REPAIR S8

S & S SMALL ENGINES Buy, Sell or Trade. Lawn mowers, go-carts, tillers, edgers, weed eaters. Repairs of all types. 291-1688

PROFESSIONAL SERVICES 018

Childcare Service. Certified. A.M. Burgess, open 5am til 5:30 pm. Newborns, toddlers and up to 3 yrs. old. Will also accomodate people for all night duty or field time. For more information call 689-5300

PERSONALS 020

COLUMBUS DATING SERVICE Meet That Special Person! Call Mon-Fri, 9-5PM, 689-0072.

TROUBLED? Need to talk? Call CONTACT. We care. 24 hours. 327-3999

HAPPY ADS 022

DO YOU KNOW SOMEONE GRADUATING FROM HIGH SCHOOL OR COLLEGE THIS MONTH?

If so, send them a special greeting in the Classified Advertising section for only 50¢ per line.

You can add this Graduation artwork for an additional $3.50. Call a Classified Sales Representative today.

322-4500

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

Airport Road Furniture & Flee Market, 228 New Airport Rd, Lagrange, GA. Call (404) 884-2952, openned daily, 10-6; Sun, 12-6. Antiques, Collectibles, Furniture.

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE

FORT BENNING BAYONET

PLEASE CALL 322-4500

VISA MasterCard

AIR COND/ HEATERS 038

5000 BTU, a/c, brand new. $150. Call 569-9461

APPLIANCE SALES 040

AUTOMATIC washers w/one year warranty. $38 down. Call 322-1339 or come by 1222 Broadway. D & H FURNITURE

DRYERS, $95 & up; refrig, $50 & up; ranges $85; washers etc. Call 682-8717

FROST FREE Freezer, upright. $125. Call 689-2795

KENMORE washer & dryer $175. Call 561-0765 after 5 pm.

BICYCLES 045

LADIES 10 spd road bike, like new, barely used, $85/offer. 568-7339, eves.

FIREARMS 056

KG-99, 9mm semi automatic, 3 clips, 32 rounds ea. $500 firm. Days, 568-4101

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

CEDAR CHEST, like new, $150; girls white twin bed, $125. Call 689-4135

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE

FORT BENNING BAYONET

PLEASE CALL 322-4500

VISA MasterCard

QUEEN Mattress & box springs, exc. cond., $100. Call 322-2179

YARD SALES AL 059

FURNITURE, TVs, stereos, dishwasher, bar, etc. White Rock Rd. Fri & Sat, 8am till. 297-2159

YARD SALE (inside). Sat. June 3rd, 2200 10th Ct. Phenix City. All Day. Appliances and odds and ends.

YARD SALES GA 060

AUSTIN LOOP, Fort Benning. Several families, Saturday only, 8 a.m.

ESTATE SALE 2 Bedroom Suites, microwave, RCA Console TV & more. Entire household must go! 1310 31st Street. SAT, 8-4PM & SUN, 10-2PM.

FLEA MARKET

Corner of Lumpkin Rd. & Yeager Ave., Ft. Benning, 8am-2pm, Sat., June 3.

FT. BENNING yard sale, 73-B Dunn Ct., off Doane Loop, Sat., 8-2.

Neighborhood Yard Sale McDaniel Manor, Ft. Benning, Sat. 8-6, Sun. 12-4.

YARD SALES GA 060

YARD SALE/FOXFIRE 6401 Villastone Drive SAT, June 3, 8AM-7PM

YARD SALE Sat Only, 8-5pm, household items, tools, misc. Corner Dimon St. & Eberhart.

MISC. FOR SALE 076

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

CLASSIFIEDS

'There's something in it for you'

VISA MasterCard

OCTAGONAL TRAMPOLINE $150 or best offer Call 324-5358

QUILT, Lonestar, $200; doll, Raggedy Ann sets, $18 & $30. Call 561-3154

5 PIECE Queen sized BR suite; Bookcase, Credenza, twin headboard, pair of bucket seats, guitar & amplifier, van table, toaster oven & more. 563-6953.

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS 078

UPRIGHT PIANO, older model, good sound, 689-9943/297-4035

OFFICE & STORE EQUIP. 080

FLUORESCENT store sign, 4ft.x 6ft., $400. Call 689-0009.

PETS 122

AKC doberman pups, 7 wks, shots, tails, dewormed. To see call 687-7226.

AKC Labrador Puppies, black, chocolate & yellow. 7 wks. Wormed & shots. F-$125, M-$150. 298-6360

AKC ROTTWEILER PUPS Bred to preserve heritage. Top U.S.A. lines. 561-6493

AKC ROTTWEILER pup, massive size, champ blood, $450 neg. 561-2604

BEAGLE Smaller sz female, fully trained rabbit dog, 2 yrs old, $75. 563-0334

DOBERMAN puppies, AKC, 7wks old, red & tan. $100 M, $75 F. 568-7147 aft. 12

LABRADOR RETRIEVER, black female, 3 mo, all shots, $50. 568-7681

PETS-LOST & FOUND 127

FOUND! McDonalds exit, N bypass Phenix City. Tan & white Hound mixed, Male. Apprx. 3-4 yrs old.561-1906

HAVE YOU LOST YOUR PET? Please contact the Muscogee County Humane Society at 7133 Sacerdote Lane, off Schatulga Road.

YOU CAN HELP SAVE A PET

Call our 24-hour hotline for lost & found pets. 571-2060.

FREE COLUMN 130

CUTE KITTENS Free to good homes. Call 682-4210

FREE adorable, healthy, ½ Persian kittens, litter box trained, will deliver, free food. 687-6326 after 5.

FREE! Doberman Pincher, red, tail clipped. 297-2899 after 6PM

FREE KITTENS, Call aft 6PM, Monday - Friday, anytime Saturday or Sunday. 685-0690

FREE Lab/pointer puppies, 5wks old, wormed. Call 568-1548

FREE mint plants used in iced tea. 3425 17th Ave. 327-4484.

FREE! Puppies, part huskies, 6wks old. Call 298-7371

FREE puppy, ¾ Chow, to good home w/ fence, 11 wks old, loves children. 298-2982

FREE small female dog, part Husky, 8 wks old. Call 298-1143

MEDICAL DENTAL 220

FREE COLUMN 130

FREE! Three adorable kittens. 1 yellow, 1 black, 1 black & white, 297-0366

FREE TO experienced pet lovers only, 1 mixed pup, 2 kittens, 1 Cocker Spaniel mix. Call 687-7753

FREE to good home, 5 black kittens, litter box trained, male & female avail. Call 12noon-6pm, 298-4134

FREE TO GOOD HOME: 1 cat & 3 cute kittens, 8 weeks old. Call after 5:30pm, 298-0153

FREE to good home, beautiful 8 mo old, purebred, female Dalmation, all shots, loyal & loving. Would be great for children. For more info. call 298-3527

FREE To good home, 4 adorable kittens, 6 wks. old. Call 298-5514

FREE TO GOOD home, beautiful 6 & 7wk. old kittens. Call 298-4574

FREE! To loving homes. 2 male puppies, shepherd mixed. Need fenced yards. 568-4331

FREE WOODEN PALLETS Take all, you pick up Call 327-4404

FREE! 2 beautiful solid smokey grey kittens w/white boots. 297-4425

FREE! 2 puppies, mostly lab retriever! 323-8545 or see aft 6 3819 B Meritas Dr.

FREE! 2 tabby kittens, 7wks old. Free to good home. 568-7654

FREE 7 mo old female puppy, part Beagle, part Boxer, good watchdog, exc. w/ children, house trained. 687-4033

HALF Springer Spaniel puppies, 2 female, free to good home. Call 324-7917

MEDICAL DENTAL 220

FREE COLUMN 130

HELP!! We are two cute, orange & white kittens found in an old store. Please come & take us home. 298-3238 LEAVE MSG

IT'S HERE: the '89-'90 Military Pages. Call 682-7185 for your free copy.

LONESOME, part German Shepherd, needs school aged boy to play with. Free food will deliver to P/C or Cols. 563-2193

PART Persian kittens (2), black w/ white feet, blue eyes, 6 wks old. 298-1354

PRETTY kittens free to good home, litter trained, 6 wks old. Call 323-5371

PUPPIES! 5 adorable, 2 semi adorabe, 1 ugly-cute, free to good home. 2330 Japonica Dr. or call 568-7715

SAVE ME from an early death. I'm free, 2 yr. old male mutt, I love kids & will protect your home. Please call my owner at 323-9689.

WHITE part Chihuahua puppy, male, very cute! Free to good home. 298-4345

3 KITTENS, free to good homes. Approx. 8wks old. Call 322-0712.

3 MALE kittens to goo home. 2Mths old. Call 298-3437

3 PART Persian kittens, 6wks old. Call 298-8607

4 KITTENS 9 wks. old, short hair, box trained, very lovable. Need good homes. Call 569-9860.

8 WK. OLD mixed Sheep Dog free to good home. Call 561-4314

MEDICAL DENTAL 220

MANAGEMENT EMPLOYMENT 210

BORED WITH RETIREMENT? Need a 'couple who cares' to manage my motel. Honesty a must. Prefer non-smoker & drinker. If you think you're the ones I'm looking for give me a call at 687-0203. Ask for Buddy.

RESTAURANTS & CLUBS 212

COOKS & Servers wanted. 10 miles from back gate of Ft. Benning. Call 855-4132.

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

AMAS de CASA! Aburridas? Cansadas de estar en la casa? Permitanos cambiar esto! Rhodes busca representantes de venta ambiciosas y agresivas interesadas en la oportunidad de hacer $50,000 al año. Posiciones a tiempo completo y permanentes solamente. Aplique al 3166 Macon Rd.

FULL TIME RESIDENT COUPLE

An exciting opportunity exists for a retired NCO (Combat Arms) and his wife (no children at home) to supervise 6-12 grade boarding students at a unique military school. Apartment & all meals provided. Management & leadership skills required w/good communicative abilities. Requires full time residence in student quarters. Salary range $10,872-$11,880. Send resume to Vice President of Finance & Personnel, 201 East Green St., Milledgeville, GA 31061.

MEDICAL DENTAL 220

CLASSIFIED

"There's something in it for you"

CALL TOLL-FREE IN GEORGIA 1-800-282-7859

CALL TOLL-FREE OUTSIDE GEORGIA 1-800-241-7894

322-4500

HOURS:

MONDAY - THURSDAY 8:30AM - 7:00PM

FRIDAY 8:30AM - 5:30PM

If you would like your ad to appear in the next day's edition, please call BEFORE 5:30pm.

Listed below are local telephone exchanges for the Columbus/Phenix City area. These do not require an area code if you live within the area. If the number is long distance, then the advertisement will list the area code.

ALABAMA
291 Phenix City
297 Phenix City
298 Phenix City
855 Phenix City
Smiths/Seale

GEORGIA
322 Columbus
323 Columbus
324 Columbus
327 Columbus
561 Columbus
563 Columbus
568 Columbus
569 Columbus
571 Columbus
576 Columbus
596 Columbus
649 Columbus
682 Columbus
685 Columbus
687 Columbus
689 Columbus
989 Cusseta

Please check your advertisement the first day it appears in the newspaper. If you need to make corrections, simply call one of our Classified Advertising Representatives as soon as possible. Please call on the first day your ad appears, as the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer cannot be held responsible for errors beyond the first insertion date. We will be happy to see to it that your ad appears correctly in the next scheduled insertion in the Ledger-Enquirer.

INDEX OF CLASSIFICATIONS

A1 Air Cond., Heating
A2 Appliance Repair
A3 Architecture & Drafting
A4 Auto Care
B1 Brickwork, Masonry
B2 Buildings, Contractors
C1 Carpentry, General Repairs
C2 Catering, Food Service
C3 Cleaning Service
C4 Clock & Watch Repair
C5 Concrete, Driveways
C6 Carpet
C7 Child Care
E1 Electrical
E2 Energy Saving Products
F1 Fencing
F2 Floor Sanding
F3 Furniture
G1 Grading, Backhoe
G2 Gravel, Sand, Topsoil
G3 Gutters, Downspouts
H1 Handyman
H2 Hauling
H3 Home Improvement
I1 Insulation
L1 Lawn & Garden
L2 Lawn Mower Repair
M1 Misc. Services
P1 Painting, Wallpapering
P2 Plumbing
P3 Protection Services
P4 Photo Services
R1 TV, Stereo, Video Service
R2 Remodeling
R3 Roofing
S1 Screens, Storm Windows
S2 Sewing, Alterations
S3 Sheetrock, Drywall
S4 Signs
S5 Swimming Pools
S6 Sewing Machine Repairs
S7 Storage
S8 Small Engine Repair
T1 Tree Stump Removal
U1 Upholstery
V1 Vacuum Cleaner Service
V2 Video Taping
W1 Welding
Y1 Yardwork
Y2 Yard Equip. Rental
000 Legal Notices
001 Funeral Notices
002 Funeral Homes
003 Memorial Notices
004 Cards of Thanks
007 Cemeteries/ Monuments
010 Cemetery Lots
012 Lodge Notices
016 Public Notices
018 Professional Services
020 Personals
021 Only Hearts
022 Happy Ads
024 Items of Interest
028 Vacation & Tourist Information
034 Fishing & Hunting
036 Antiques
038 Air Cond./Heaters
040 Appliance Sales
042 Auctions
044 Building Materials
045 Bicycles
046 Camera/Photo
048 Camping Equipment
049 Christmas Trees
050 Clothing
052 Computers & Equip.
054 Firewood
056 Firearms
058 Furniture for Sale
059 Yard Sales - AL
060 Yard Sales - GA
061 Collectibles Buy/Sell
064 Sports Equip. & Supplies
066 Outdoor Equip.
068 Jewelry
070 Machinery, Tools
072 Heavy Equipment
074 Medical Supplies
076 Misc. for Sale
077 Lost & Found Items
078 Musical Instruments
080 Office & Store Equip.
081 Restaurant Equipment
082 Pawn Shops
084 Power Tools
086 Equipment Rental
088 Sewing Machines
092 Swimming Pools & Supplies
096 TV-Video-Stereo Sales
098 Merchandise Wanted
110 Livestock
112 Livestock Supplies
114 Poultry
116 Poultry Supplies
118 Hay-Feed-Grain
120 Farm Equipment
122 Pets
124 Pet Supplies & Services
126 Pet Boarding & Grooming
127 Pets-Lost & Found
128 Pets Wanted
130 Free Column
132 Fruits & Vegetables
134 Lawn & Garden
136 Lawn Mowers & Equip.
138 Plants, Shrubs, Trees
140 Landscaping, Nursery
142 Wanted to Buy
210 Management Employment
212 Restaurants & Clubs
214 Employment Agencies
215 Employment Information
216 Help Wanted General
218 Help Wanted Part-Time
219 Domestic Help Wanted
220 Medical/Dental
222 Office/Clerical
223 Data Entry
224 Professional Employment
225 Technical
226 Sales
228 Skills & Trades
229 Child Care
230 Job Wanted
232 Resume Services
234 Job Listings
310 Medical Training
312 Clerical Training
314 Beauty & Barber Schools
316 Dancing, Music, Drama
318 Modeling
320 Correspondence Schools
322 Real Estate Schools
324 Trade Schools
328 Misc. Instructions
330 Colleges
410 Business Opportunities
412 Investments
414 Money to Lend
415 Credit
416 Wanted to Borrow
510 Rentals
512 Rooms
514 Room & Board
516 Share Home
518 Furnished Apts. GA
519 Furnished Apts. AL
520 Unfurnished Apts. GA
521 Unfurnished Apts. AL
522 Cottages
524 Furnished Houses GA
525 Furnished Houses AL
526 Unfurnished. Houses
527 Unfurnished Houses AL
528 Business Rentals
529 Office Rentals
530 Wanted to Rent
532 Property for Rent
534 Resort Rentals
536 Storage Rentals
610 Property
612 Townhouses & Condos
614 Homes For Sale AL
616 Homes For Sale GA
618 Real Estate Wanted
620 Commercial Property
622 Income Property
624 Investment Property
626 Lots For Sale
628 Backwater Property GA
629 Backwater Property AL
630 Lake Front Lots
632 Resort & Vacation Property
634 Out of Town Realty
636 Farms & Acreage
638 Real Estate Auction
640 Wanted to Buy
710 Mobile Homes For Sale
714 Mobile Homes For Rent
716 Mobile Home Lots For Rent
718 Mobile Home Lots For Sale
720 Mobile Homes Wanted
724 Mobile Home Service
726 Mobile Units
810 Boats
812 Canoes & Sailboats
813 Personal Watercrafts
814 Marine Service & Supplies
816 Boats Wanted
818 Motor Homes For Sale
820 Campers & Trailers
824 Camping Supplies & Equipment
826 RV Supplies & Service
828 Motorcycles For Sale
830 Mini-Bikes
832 Dunebuggies For Sale
834 Scooters, Go-Carts
836 Wanted to Buy
910 Airplanes
912 Tractors & Trailers
914 Trucks
916 Truck Service, Parts, Acc.
918 Truck Rental, Leasing
920 Trucks Wanted
922 Buses/Vans For Sale
924 Jeeps For Sale
926 Auto Service Parts, Acc.
928 Auto Insurance / Financing
930 Autos For Sale
932 Sports Cars For Sale
934 Classic & Antique Autos
936 Imported Autos
938 Auto Rental/Leasing
940 Autos Wanted

DON'T

Spend Hours Shopping The Aisles For Bargains

SHOP OUR PAGES FIRST

It pays!

Let Bayonet Advertising Work For You!

322-4500

NURSING AT SAINT FRANCIS HOSPITAL

"Speaking from an ICU nursing perspective, there are three reasons why St. Francis Hospital is the best choice for me. First, it is personally very important to me to implement the best possible holistic care to my patients. Because of the low patient/nurse ratio, I am able to give my patients the care I feel they need. Second, the personable environment of a small Catholic hospital enables me to feel much more comfortable than in a large medical center environment. Finally, the flexibility of my schedule, as a result of my head nurses efforts, makes it possible to enjoy my professional life, as well as, my family life."
Renee J. Penninghton RN

COME JOIN THE BEST NURSING TEAM IN TOWN!!!

Positions available:

CRITICAL CARE - New expanded units with flexible hours.
OPERATING ROOM - RN's and ORT's The Columbus area open heart surgery facilities.
NEUROSURGICAL FLOOR - Flexible hours and shifts.
ALCOHOL & DRUG UNIT - RN, 3 to 11 shift.

We offer good working conditions, competitive salary, specialty differentials, good fringe benefits and a professional working atmosphere.

Call or contact Personnel Department

St. Francis Hospital SF

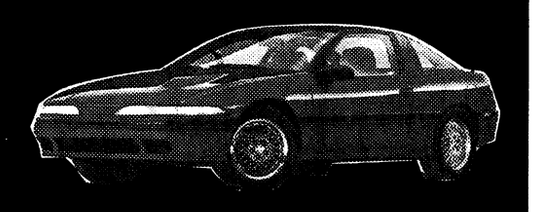
2122 Manchester Expressway
Columbus, Georgia 31995
404 322-8281

EOE M/F

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

AUTOS FOR SALE 930



AUTOS FOR SALE 930

ATTENTION; E-4s & UP

Need Wheels

- NO Or VERY LITTLE DOWN PAYMENT
- NO Or LITTLE CREDIT - NO PROBLEM
- INTEREST AS LOW AS 0% A.P.R. -24 Months
- TERMS UP TO 60 MONTHS -SMALL PAYMENTS

Choose Now From Our Entire Stock Of New Chryslers-Plymouths (Including 1990 Laser) For Maximum Discounts!!

- AWARD WINNING SERVICE DEPARTMENT
- OVER $500,000 WORTH OF CLEAN USED CARS READY
- CALL AHEAD FOR INSTANT CREDIT APPROVAL

CARL GREGORY CHRYSLER PLYMOUTH-SAAB

568-4900

1800 Box Rd. I-185 Exit 4
"Just Give Us A Try"

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

HOUSEWIFES?
Are you bored? Tired of being at home? Let us change that for you!Rhodes is looking for ambitious aggressive salespeople who would like the opportunity to make $50,000 a year. Full time permanent positions. Apply at: 3166 Macon Rd.

Leaders
For the Finest Jr. Officers seeking the Finest Career opportunities and service. Palm Quinn, USMA '79, 250 Teri Lane, Prattville, AL 36067. (205) 361-9152.

MEDICAL DENTAL 220

HUGHSTON ORTHOPAEDIC CLINIC
MEDICAL TRANSCRIPTIONIST
Must have experience. All others need not apply.
CALL 324-6661

HUGHSTON ORTHOPAEDIC CLINIC P.C.
Immediate Opening
Registered Radiology Technologist
Call 324-6661

TRADE SCHOOLS 324

Train to be a Professional
•SECRETARY
•EXECUTIVE SEC.
•WORD PROCESSOR
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
THE HART SCHOOL
a Div. of A.C.T. Corp.
Nat'l Hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

Train for careers in
•AIRLINES
•CRUISE LINES
•TRAVEL AGENCIES
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
A.C.T. TRAVEL SCHOOL
Nat'l Hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

MEDICAL DENTAL 220

HUGHSTON ORTHOPAEDIC CLINIC
NEEDED IMMEDIATELY CAST TECHNICIAN
Must have experience. All others need not apply.
CALL 324-6661

SALES 226

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL 322-4500

HIGH SCHOOL SENIORS
(18 Yrs Old)
College Students
Work 8-15 Hrs Weekly
Earn $500-$3000 Monthly
Call 323-6764 between 9-12 On Monday, only

SKILLS & TRADES 228

FREE TRAINING
Highway Marking Machine Operators
No experience necessary, but MUST have a valid driver's license with no DUI for 3 years. Must be able to drive a 5sp vehicle larger than a pick-up truck & must be willing to travel 3-4 wks at a time. TRAVEL TIME PAID, $18,000 ave. annual salary. Call today for info. PERSONNEL CONCEPTS, 571-2424.
NO FEE EOE

CHILD CARE 229

Exp. Childcare In my home, fenced yard, loving atmosphere. meals furn. 298-9881

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

BLOOD PLASMA SAVES LIVES
$10 ea. DONATION
New Donors/ Or Inactive For 6 Months/ $5 Bonus with This Ad/ Plus $5 2nd Time Bonus Plus $750 Cash Drawing Monthly
Community Plasma Center
825 4th Ave.
Columbus
322-6566

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

RESUME SERVICES 232

A BETTER JOB WINNING RESUME $9
up to executive presentations. Expert writing, typing, printing, updating.
...FREE CONSULTATION...
★ SAME DAY SERVICE ★
America's oldest & largest Professional Resume Svc.
327-2238
2520 Wynnton Rd. Ste. 4

FURNISHED APTS. GA 518

Nice 1 br Duplex, S Cols, comp. furn, Cnt h/a, $200 mo, single pref. 561-8684

UNFURNISHED HOUSES GA 526

RANCH Style house, Rent w/option to buy, c/h/a, 3BR 1½BA. 6608 Pine Valley Dr, Forest Pk. $400/mo Call 322-4093

UNFURNISHED HOUSES AL 527

3BR, 1BA brick, fenced yard, carport, $350 a month - deposit. Call 298-9033.

PROPERTY 610

CLAY COUNTY, Historic homes, farmland, lake lots, Collier Mills, RFD #1 Box 494A, Ft. Gaines, GA 31751. Call (912) 768-3160

TOWNHOUSES & CONDOS 612

TWO Bedroom Condo at backwaters, lease or purchase. 205-956-0560.

HOMES FOR SALE AL 614

NO MONEY DOWN
If you have ever served in the military, then you may qualify for NO MONEY DOWN on this 1750 sq. ft. home w/4BR, 2BA. Near North By-Pass. Payments less than $750 mo. Call CAROL DANIELS, 297-6449. MLS #14-2000
Bowden Realty, 297-7777

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

BUILT LIKE A FORTRESS
$64,900-Over 2,000 sq. ft., brick home in perfect condition. Seller will sell VA or FHA on this quality property. Call Pat McKee 596-9829 or Nelson Jones 322-0013.
The Adams Company
324-7232

BY OWNER, N. Cols., 3 br, 2 ba, greatroom, covered patio, fenced back yard, large lot, 5 yrs. old, $64,000. 563-9200, 327-2494

NEW 3BR, 2BA home on large lot, in rural subdivision, near Ft. Benning. Other lots and floor plans to choose from. Call George at the Adams Company 324-7232 or 561-8403.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

MILITARY & VETERANS!
Why Waste Money Renting? Buy Here Vacant Low Priced 2,3 & 4 Bedroom Homes In All Areas On Your VA GI Bill! No Money Down! Low Monthly Payments!
A-1 REALTY!
1032 Linwood Blvd.
CALL 323-3300

NEW HOME, 3-2-1, wooded lot, near Ft. Benning, lower $50's. Call 298-5486, 989-3057.

USE Your VA, large (1700 sq ft) home, near Benning & schools, see anytime. Mr. Harris 687-9711. (Agent)

$32,900/2 bedroom home close to Ft. Benning. Huge lot, with park like setting. Hurry, seller will sell VA now! Call Pat McKee 596-9829 or Nelson Jones 322-0013.
The Adams Company
324-7232

3BR, 1BA brick, carpet, cent. H/A, low utilities. Convenient to Benning. 561-0467

3 BR, 1 BA, utility room, sep. DR, LR, deck, refin. wood floors, stove, energy eff. window unit, sep. garage, new roof inc. $48,500. 3111 17th Ave. Call 576-5460.

MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT 714

NICE 2BR, washer/dryer, central heat, Furn, a/c. $230 mo. 561-8684/689-8646

1,2 & 3br elec/gas on, near schools & post. 1314 Ft. Benning Rd. 9-5, 689-0453

2BR, W/D, air cond & ceiling fans, near Harmony Church. No Pets. 989-3354

2 BEDROOM, furnished, washer & dryer, fenced lot. Call 298-5074.

3 BEDROOM, unfurnished, fenced yard. Call 298-5074.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

BOATS 810

Bass Boat '87 Dynatrak 16', 90hp Evinrude. $6,000. 298-2339

SUMMER FUN 17' Bass Boat, 135HP Evinrude, 2 Deptfinders, livewell, life jackets, very good cond. $2600 firm. 297-3921 or 298-5560, ask for Tony

14' Fiberglass boat, 7½ hp motor, tilt trailer, other equip. $650. 561-8287

'75 boat, walkthru windshield, 50 HP Mercury, good cond, $1400/offer. 568-1930

'84 Tidecraft, 90hp, tilt-trim, walk-thru windshield, $5500. 561-8922 after 7pm

CAMPERS & TRAILERS 820

Coachman 16' Travel Trailer, a/c, $1900. 561-8922 after 7pm

JAYCO, Jayeagle, '74, pop-up camper, great cond., w/awning & screen porch. $1300. 682-2019

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

SPRING SALE!

HONDA REBEL STREET CRUISER
Electric start, no down payment, $94.37 per month including tax, tag, title & insurance. In-house financing for E-1s & civilians with job. Over 50 used Hondas for sale.
Honda-Come Ride With Us
TOMMY WAGES HONDA
Corner 18th St. & 4th Ave
322-7328

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

Harley Davidson, '67, 1200cc w/fat bob tanks, chrome, $2200/offer. 568-1930

HONDA '80 CX500, good condition, $900 neg. Call 561-5050 eve. Keep trying!

YZ 125, '87, exc cond, w/ helmet & access, $1500. Call after 4pm, 596-1841.

$1000/BEST OFFER Yamaha 750 Seca '81, excellent running cond. Call 291-0966.

TRUCKS 914

FORD P/U, '72, no bed, good cond., $800. Richard, 323-2557, 322-6234 lv. msg.

FORD p/u, '76, full size, 3 spd. manual, $1200. Call 568-9694

TOYOTA 4x4, '88, low mi., 1 owner, $9250, must sell. Call 323-8079

JEEPS FOR SALE 924

JEEP '83 Cherokee Pioneer, 4x4, 4DR, pb, ps, am/fm/cass, 5SP, new tires, exc. cond, $4800. 687-2696

AUTO INSURANCE FINANCING 928

Military & civilians residing in Alabama. Call or see us for your insurance needs. Serving area since 1960.
PITTS-DAVIS INS.
298-2500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

Beretta GT, '89, 1300 mi. Lded/pwr, wht/brgdy int, pymts or pyoff. 561-8033.

BUICK LaSABRE '71, 4DR, A/C, $400 Call 298-3559

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

CADILLAC FLEETWOOD '80, $3300. Call 563-3066 Mon thru Fri 8-5.

CAMARO '78 Z-28, new eng/trans, tires, brakes, paint job, needs some interior work, $2500/best offer 297-0553 after 6pm

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500

The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'

CORSICA '88, must sell, take over payments of $226/month. Call 327-2414

DATSUN 280Z '75, auto, air, sharp as new, no oil leaks, asking $4150. 569-0635

FIERO GT, '85, silver w/grey, V-6, all options, $5500. Call 561-8568

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

FORD ESCORT GT, '88, new, loaded, $6250 or best offer. Call 297-5222

FORD LTD, '76, 74,000 mi. One owner, 2 dr, air, auto, am/fm radio, good cond. $1395. 561-3571.

HONDA Accord LX '84, 5 spd., loaded, exc. cond., $5700. 327-7571 or 563-8372.

HONDA Accord, '81, white w/ blue int., 5 spd., low mi., sport rims, $1300. Call 298-2897

MONZDA Spider '75, high perform., 400 eng, auto, $2500/best offer. 568-0955

MUSTANG '65, body and interior needs work, power train excellent, 289 Hot Rod, $3,000. 563-4936

PONTIAC T1000, '81, auto, 4 dr, am/fm, very good eng. cond., clean & good looking, leaving must sell. $800. 689-0067 ext. 2110 after 6pm

SUBARU '81 2 dr, auto, air, good cond., white, $1500. 324-3594 or 563-5899.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

VW, '69, tilt front end, new seats & carpet, $1300. Call 563-8258

25IN Color console. Very good cond., $150; Couch & chair, $50; 596-1527 323-4425.

'66 BUG No rust! Good shape! $600/best offer. Call 563-9346, 3-11pm.

'72 FORD LTD. Good cond, good ac, $900 or highest offer. 687-2330 ext 330

'78 DATSUN, good cond, $800 or highest offer. 687-2330 ext 414 or 404.

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

CAMARO Z28 '83, exc cond, loaded. Day: 324-0505 or Nts & Wkend: 561-6277

Corvette '73, loaded, ps, pb, Burg alarm, t-tops, all leather inter, classic. $8,000 or best offer. 561-7226.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

CLASSIC & ANTIQUE AUTOS 934

CORVETTE '69, 350, pb, ps, pw, t-tops, $5200 or best offer. Call 563-8258

IMPORTED AUTOS 936

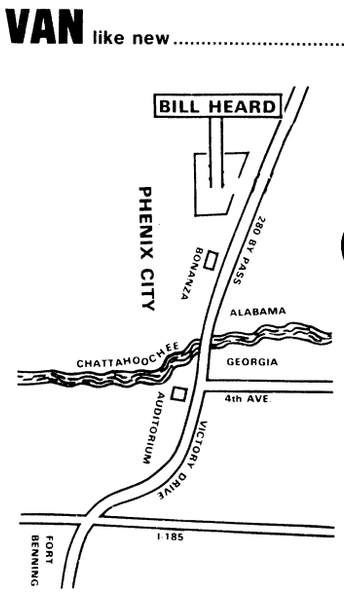
CORVETTE '84, silver/gray w/gray leather, 31,000 mi., both tops, $13,500. 322-1583

Engines: Honda, Toyota, Nissan, Mitsubishi, Mazda, Isuzu, Subaru. Guaranteed & ready to install. Lowest prices; shipped anywhere USA. Techna-Car 1-800-344-1015.

JAGUAR XJ6, 1986, 30,000 mi, under warranty, excel. Dorch. gray, 1-641-1726.

VOLVO '84, 760GLE Turbo-loaded. Call 327-2037 or 649-2104

'79 MERCEDES 300d (rebuilt eng., $5,000 value), exc cond, $9000. 298-8691



AUTOS WANTED 940

WANT TO BUY Peugeot 505, '85, diesel, manual, loaded. Call 324-7792 evenings.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

MAKE THE RIGHT PLAY
At
BILL HEARD PHENIX CITY
1131 280 By-Pass Phenix City, Ala.
Over 100 Pre-Owned Cars To Choose From!

88 CHEVY SPRINT automatic, air condition $4995
86 CHEVY CAVALIER 4-Dr., automatic, air conditioned $4995
85 FORD ESCORT GL 4-Door, automatic, air conditioned $3495
84 OLDS DELTA ROYALE 4-Dr., nice $2995
83 FORD PICKUP XLT LARIET 40,000 actual miles $5995
88 PONTIAC GRAND AM 2-Dr., automatic, air cond., power windows, stereo, Was $9995, NOW $8950
85 CHEVY CAPRICE loaded $5995
86 HONDA ACCORD power steering, air conditioned, nice $4995
85 CHEVY GOOD TIMES VAN like new $11,990

86 ASTRO VAN Sharp as a tack $9950
(3) 88 CAVALIERS 4-Door, nice, low miles $5995
(2) 85 300 ZX T-Tops, like new, from $9850
87 MONTE CARLO SS only one in town like this $11,850

PHENIX CITY 298-3636
"MR. BIG VOLUME"
BILL HEARD CHEVROLET USA
1131 280 By-Pass Phenix City, AL

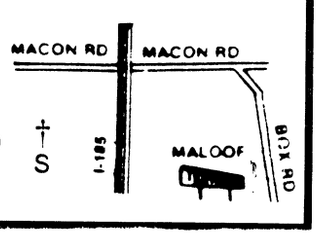
BUTLER
INVENTORY CLEARANCE
NISSAN-CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH DODGE
THIS COULD BE YOU!
BUTLER IS GIVING AWAY $1000 CASH EVERY WEEK IN JUNE!
Just visit BUTLER NISSAN-CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH DODGE and register. Drawings will be held each Monday morning in June, and the winner's name and picture will be featured in Butler's newspaper advertisement each week.
No purchase necessary, but you must be at least 18 years old with a valid driver's license to participate. Only one winner per household, please.

89 CHRYSLER 5th AVE. Complete w/luxury equipment YOUR CHOICE This Week Only! $17,700 rebate included
89 DODGE DYNASTY V/6., a. trans., air, am/fm, stk. #3006 This Week Only! $13,500 rebate included
89 NISSAN King Cab A. trans., air, bedliner, step bumper This Week Only! $9795 rebate included
1990 300 Z is HERE! COMPLETELY REDESIGNED! THE TRUE TRENDSETTER
89 NISSAN 240 SX XE 5 spd., air, two-tone, stk #89d45 This Week Only! $13,695 rebate included
88 NISSAN Pulsar NX SE A. trans., air, am/fm This Week Only! $12,295 rebate included

BUTLER'S MILLION $ TRADE-INS

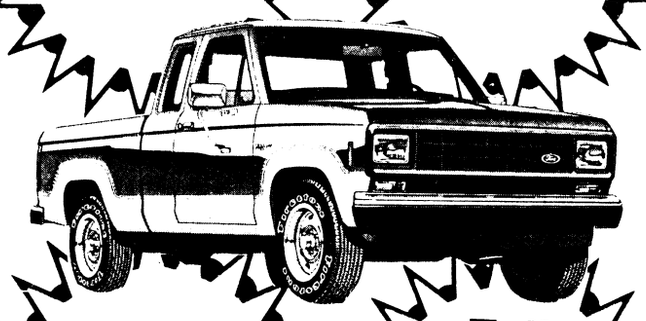
1987 YUGO Neat & Cheap $2495	1987 BUICK PARK AVE. X-cellent Cond. $13,995	1986 CHEVY SPECTRUM A. trans., air, 4 dr. $3995	1984 JEEP CJ7 4 x 4 A. trans., hardtop. $5995	1988 CHEVY Z-24 One owner -like new $9995
1985 PONT. FIERO SE 5 Spd., air, am/fm $4994	1988 CHEVY Z-24 One owner, Like New! $9995	1985 FORD T-BIRD TURBO A. trans., air $6995	1987 CHEVY IROC Z-28 Fully equipped! $10,995	1987 TOYOTA Camry LE, Full pwr. $11,995

BUTLER NISSAN-CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH DODGE
427 New Franklin Rd.
LaGrange, GA (404) 884-1744
Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8:00- Sat. 8:30-6:00



MALOOF TOYOTA'S
CASH MATCH
WIN $100 INSTANT CASH!
THRU FRI., SAT., MON.
Just match the last four digits of your Social Security number to the last four digits of the serial number of any car on our lot - new or used! (Must be 18 and have valid drivers license. Limit one per household please)
Plus receive rebates on Camrys and Trucks and Big Discounts on many other Toyotas.

1989 CAMRY



Stk #3445
$15,700 MSRP
-1,000 Maloof Rebate
YOU PAY $14,700

1989 TOYOTA PICKUPS
Model #8200

$12,900 MSRP
-1,000 Maloof Rebate
YOU PAY $11,900 Includes Air Conditioning!

MALOOF TOYOTA
Exit 4 I-185, Macon Road
CALL DAVID OR SANDY FOR INSTANT CREDIT APPROVAL
563-7500
Sales Hours: Mon.-Fri. 9-9 Sat. 9-7

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
"DELIVERS"

E-2s & Up!!
No Previous CREDIT! "No Problem"
SAME DAY DELIVERY!

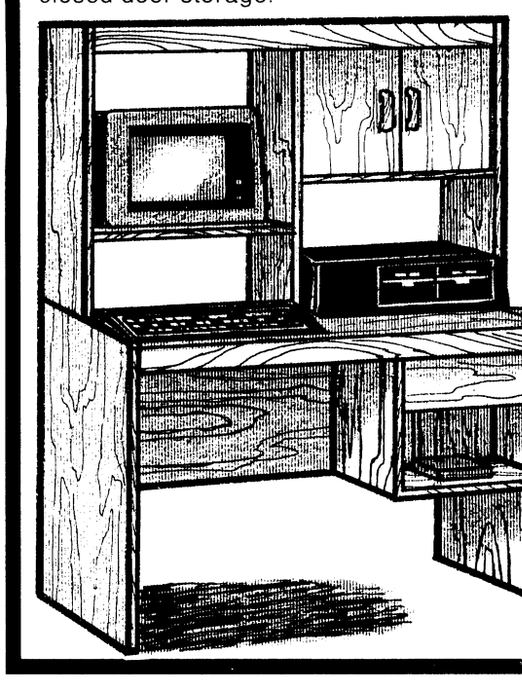
SLOW CREDIT? "No Problem"
Toll Free 1-800-544-8480
Only Requirements
1. L.E.S.
2. $99.00 Down
3. Ability to Buy Full Coverage Auto Insurance
Bring this Ad – We'll Pay Your Cab Fare
RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
Hwy. 431 North
EUFAULA, ALABAMA

WALL-TO-WALL TOTAL CLEARANCE SALE!

DURING THIS SUPER 3 DAY EVENT
FURNISH AMERICA MUST SELL
$200,000 IN BRAND NAME FURNITURE!

WE MUST RAISE CASH!

We want to expand our operation to better serve our customers!



3 HUGE DAYS
FRI-SAT-SUN-MON
10-8

SAVE 20% 30% 40% ... EVEN 80%

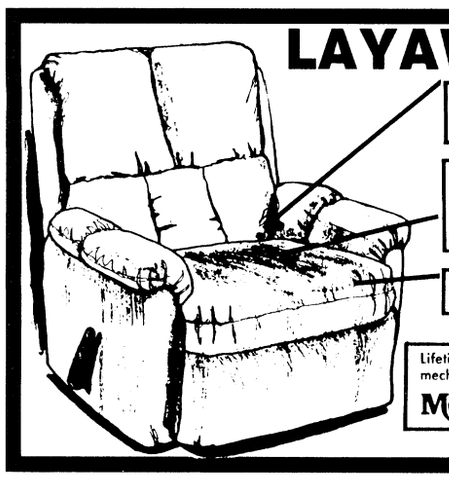
COMPUTER WORK STATION

This versatile 4-piece set is our way of helping you bring high-tech home. Components include a desk, hutch, printer stand and corner unit. Desk features a roomy box drawer and shelf. Hutch offers an adjustable shelf and handy closed door storage.

Printer stand has two shelves, one adjustable, and a slot in back for paper feed. Corner unit can be attached to either side. A must for serious computer enthusiasts. All components finished in Plymouth Oak. Ready to assemble.

REG. $190.00
TODAY ONLY
$99

ENJOY THE SUMMER!!!



PORCH SWINGS
ONLY $29
CASH AND CARRY

Solid Oak Swing with all Hardware
COMPARE AT $99

IT MUST BE SOLD REGARDLESS OF COST OR LOSS!

LAYAWAY FOR FATHER'S DAY!

MANY STYLES TO CHOOSE FROM $222

THE "BETTER BOY"

Come in today and check out the large recliner section at Furnish America. Let Dad, Grandad or your husband know just how much you love them. Buy one of these fine recliners and we'll keep the secret so only you know how little you paid.

- Select hardwood frame construction
- Hickory dowels and corner blocks in all stress joints
- Each seat has drop in coil unit or five non-sagging sinuous springs with two sixteen gauge tie wires
- High density urethane foam

UNLIMITED LAYAWAYS
RENTAL RETURNS
BUY FOR PENNIES ON THE DOLLAR

CASH DISCOUNTS

90 DAYS SAME AS CASH

NO PAYMENTS 'TIL AUG. '89

AMERICAN BEDDING

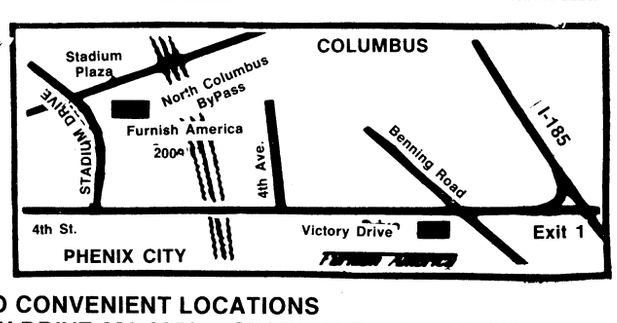
COUNTRY MORNING POSTURE SERIES
SOLD IN SETS ONLY

Twin .....NOW $139.95
Full.....NOW $199.95
Queen. NOW $239.95
King .....NOW $299.95

GOURMET RACK

From the foremost collection. Attractive sturdy construction. Perfect to help fill that empty spot and to give you additional space at the same time.

NOW $88

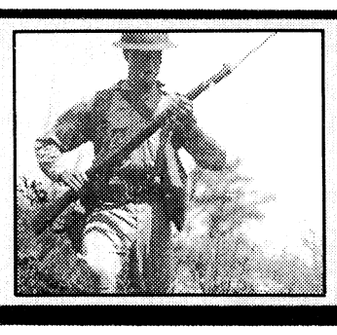


BEDROOM WARDROBE

ONLY $99

Furnish America

Yes, we still have credit terms. Even at these astounding prices we can offer convenient terms based upon needs including 100 days same as cash. Minimum purchase $400. Your charge cards welcome.



NOW TWO CONVENIENT LOCATIONS
BENNING ROAD AT VICTORY DRIVE 687-2350— STADIUM PLAZA 298-1121

34th Med. Bn. wins 1st quarter safety award.

See A-3

Snively says infantrymen are a special breed.

See A-2

INDEX

Opinion A-2
Community A-6
Spiritual A-7
Sports B-4
Movies B-5

THE BAYONET

Home of the Infantry

Carrier Route Presort
BULK RATE
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
Permit No. 175
Columbus, GA 31994

Vol. 47, No. 36 | Published in the interest of the Fort Benning, Ga. community. | June 9, 1989

POST BRIEFS

Lawn watering schedule corrected

The Bayonet published an incorrect lawn watering schedule in last week's paper. Listed below is the correct schedule. Categories of buildings and their respective watering times are:

Family Housing Areas (except Custer Terrace Housing Area), Sunday, 6 to 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. to midnight; Wednesday and Friday, 5 p.m. to midnight.

Custer Terrace Housing Area, Saturday, 6 to 10 a.m. and 5 p.m. to midnight; Tuesday and Thursday, 5 p.m. to midnight.

All others — administrative-type buildings, troop barracks and commercial facilities, Monday, Wednesday and Friday, 5 to 9 a.m.

★ ★ ★

Federal Employees' Week begins Monday

The 14th Annual Federal Employees' Week begins Monday and activities will focus on self-development, awareness and career enhancement for civilian and military personnel.

Throughout the week, ten workshops with topics ranging from strategies for survival in the work place to stress management to education will be conducted for all federal employees. Each workshop will be held in Building 4, Classroom 30.

A kickoff luncheon will be held in the banquet room of the Econo Lodge Uptown Motel Monday at 11:30 a.m. The keynote speaker will be Dr. William H. Edwards, associate professor of speech communications at Columbus College. Edwards will speak about "Gender Communication."

Tickets to the luncheon are available from Mary Renteria at 545-1943 or Darlene Thomas at 545-5171.

■For the complete workshop schedule, see related story, A-3.

★ ★ ★

HHD, 67th Maint. Bn. to relocate to Fort Ord

Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, 67th Maintenance Battalion is relocating to Fort Ord, Calif., but the subordinate units currently under the 67th will remain at Fort Benning.

A farewell review and relinquishing of command ceremony will be held for the 67th, June 16 at 10 a.m. on York Field.

Approximately 39 soldiers will move to Fort Ord with the 67th, but subordinate units currently under the 67th will fall under Fort Benning's 36th Engineer Group.

Those units are: 533rd Transportation, 598th Maintenance, and the 608th Ordnance Detachment.

In California the 67th's higher headquarters will be the Bayonet Combat Support Brigade. The effective date for relocation is July 16.

During the farewell ceremony Lt. Col. Charles R. Thornton will relinquish his two-year command of the battalion. Thornton is going to Fort Lee, Va., as director of individual training at the U.S. Army Logistics Center.

The incoming battalion commander, Lt. Col. Norris S. Jordan, will take command of the 67th, July 18 at Fort Ord.

★ ★ ★

Goodwill Horse Show free to military

Goodwill Industries will hold its 13th annual Greater Columbus Horse Show Saturday starting at 12 noon at the Columbus Fairgrounds next to the Municipal Auditorium.

Active duty and retired military and their family members will be admitted free with a military identification card.

Tickets for non-military people are $2 for adults and $1 for children.

All proceeds benefit Goodwill Industries in helping the handicapped.

Benning paratroopers jump from AF's largest plane, C-5A

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The largest aircraft in the Air Force inventory stopped by Benning last week for an airborne operation conducted by the Parachute Packing Branch (Rigger Detachment) Company A, 1st Battalion, 11th Infantry.

The aircraft was coordinated through the 1st Battalion, 507th Parachute Infantry Regiment, according to Parachute Pack Branch, noncommissioned officer in charge, MSgt. Bert Barnette.

Barnette said the 507th originally was going to conduct an airborne operation of their own, but mission requirements prevented them from following through so they let them have the aircraft.

"More than sixty riggers jumped," he said, "and there were no incidents."

Barnette, who also participated in the operation, said he enjoyed it and added, "The whole sequence to exit the plane is faster than the C-one-thirty or the one-forty-one, and I enjoyed every aspect of it."

He said most comments about the operation were positive, and most of the soldiers would like to have the opportunity to do it again.

The unit conducts a mission of this type on a monthly basis to stay current in airborne operations and to build unit cohesiveness.

Ann McDonald

Members of the Parachute Packing Branch rig up their parachutes in the bay of the C-5A Galaxy.

TSB, 36th get new commanders

Jones to head TSB

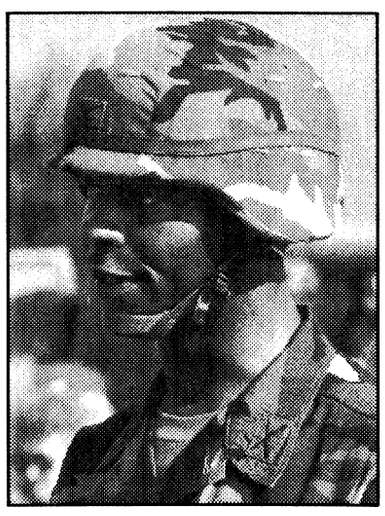
By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

When the new commander of The School Brigade graduated from Officers Candidate School in 1966, the thought of commanding the entire brigade probably never crossed his mind. But, it crossed the minds of the powers that be.

Col. James M. Jones took over the unit's top spot in a ceremony conducted on York Field last week.

During his inauguration speech Jones said, "It's an honor to follow in the footsteps of a man like Colonel Ken Teel. His professionalism, dedication, and love for soldiers is well known by all who have ever served with him."

He added that it is an honor to assume command of the super soldiers and civilians who make up the brigade cadre and staff.



"I don't have to tell you what a tough job it is," Jones said."You have the awesome responsibility of training all the airborne, all the officer candidates and all the basic and advanced infantry officers in our Army today."

He said in spite of the budget constraints and personnel shortages, the soldiers of the brigade have earned a fine reputation for training both enlisted and officers.

Jones continued by saying that reputation extends to supporting the soldiers, civilians and family members who make up the total Army family.

"Our challenge is to maintain that high level of

See TSB A-4

Col. James M. Jones

Col. Henry S. Miller, Jr.

Miller takes reins at 36th

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The 36th Engineer Group changed command last week at York Field before hundreds of the soldiers who make up the group's three battalions.

Col. Douglas R. Church, outgoing commander, relinquished command June 2 to Col. Henry S. (Hank) Miller, Jr.

Church, who commanded the group for two years, not only passed on command during the ceremony, but he also said good-bye to a 26-year Army career. Church, 49, will officially retire from the Army June 30.

Miller, 45, comes to Fort Benning from his assignment as staff officer, U.S. Army War College and Carlisle Barracks in Carlisle, Penn.

Miller is a 1966 graduate of The Citadel, with a Bachelor of Science degree in Civil Engineering, and a 1974 graduate of the University of Arkansas, where he earned a Master's degree in Industrial Engineering.

Some of Miller's previous positions and assignments include duty with the 5th Special Forces Group in the Republic of South Vietnam; executive officer and later commander of the 3rd Engineer Battalion of the 24th Infantry Division at Fort Stewart, Ga., and later the Inspector General of the division.

Miller also served at Headquarters, U.S. Army-Europe as staff officer, Deputy Chief of Staff for Engineers, and Assistant Secretary General Staff, Office of the Commander in Chief.

During Church's command of the 36th, he oversaw a number of major deployments of the 36th's soldiers to places such as the National Training Center at Fort Irwin, Calif., Honduras and most recently, Costa Rica, where the group's soldiers spent four months building roads and bridges for the natives of the Osa Peninsula there.

Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire, post commander, bid farewell and presented the Legion of Merit to Church, who will retire to north Georgia.

SPIRIT roundup week begins June 19

USAIC Public Affairs Office

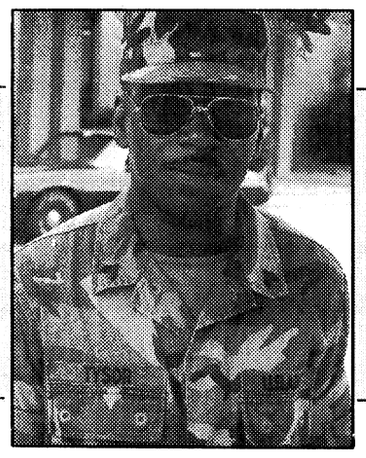
Fort Benning's "SPIRIT Roundup Week" is June 19 through 23. According to Sarah McLaney, the installation's Systematic Productivity Improvements Review in TRADOC program coordinator, the purpose of the campaign is to generate productivity improvements that save dollars.

The campaign's slogan is "More Army for Your Dollar." Military and civilian employees who make and report dollar savings in their job areas may win a trophy or T-shirt.

All civilian and military employees on Fort Benning are eligible to participate. All productivity-improvement type actions conducted during the third quarter of fiscal 1989 (April, May and June) that have dollar savings are eligible for submission.

Actions should be submitted on TRADOC form 120-R to the activity SPIRIT point of contact no later than June 23.

Awards will be presented to individuals who submit the most actions with dollar savings during the campaign . There will be a first and second place winner in each category (command/major unit, direcctorate staff and personal and special staff). Winners will receive a SPIRIT trophy at a special awards ceremony.



Each individual who submits a valid SPIRIT action during the campaign week will receive a SPIRIT T-shirt. T-shirts will not be given to individuals until the action is validated by the SPIRIT point of contact for the activity and the SPIRIT coordinator.

Fort Benning was one of the top winners in last year's TRADOC' SPIRIT competition, and the post won $1 million for the second time in a row. SPIRIT program officials said they would like the post to win the million-dollar prize for the third consecutive year.

See SPIRIT A-4

OPINION

VARIOUS VOICES: June 14 is the Infantry's birthday; what changes would you like to see before its next birthday?

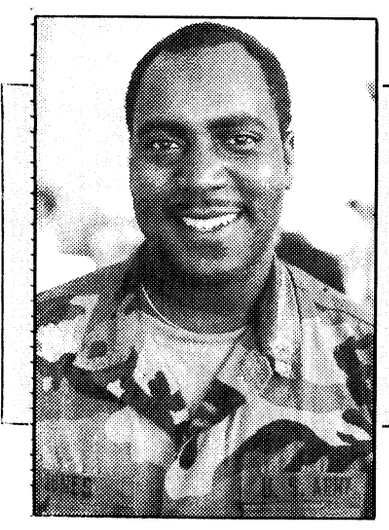
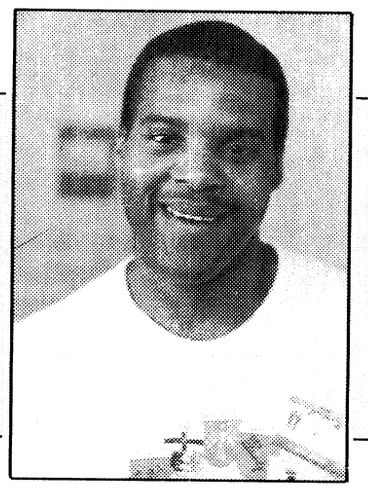
Sgt. Vernell Tysor, Co. D, 197th Spt. Bn., 197th Inf. Bde. — "We should have more NCO leadership development. I think the younger NCOs really need that."



2nd Lt. David Dellinger, 4th Bn., Rgr. Tng. Bde — "I would like to see better communication equipment at squad level. Communication always seems to be a problem. I think with all the technology out there, the Army should be able to come up with something better."



SSgt. Carlos Rosario, HHC, 197th Inf. Bde. — "I just finished being a drill sergeant for two years, and I think the new recruits should be trained harder and longer."

SFC Willie Day, Co. C, 2nd Bn., 69th Armor, 197th Inf. Bde — "I think there should be more combination training with armors so the Infantry can have a better understanding of tanks."

Spec. Alat Jones, Co. A, 2nd Bn., 18th Inf., 197th Inf. Bde — "We need better training aids. A lot of the equipment is broken. I also think there should be more emphasis on NBC training."

Sgt. Terrance Williams, Co. A, 2nd Bn., 18th Inf., 197th Inf. Bde. — "I think there should be more emphasis on new equipment such as getting more 113s, MOPP suits and anti-tank weapons. It is coming, but it's slow."

The Infantry has come a long way since the doughboy depicted here.

U.S. Army photo

Infantrymen are special breed

By Clyde Snively
USAIC Public Affairs Office

Infantry soldiers are a special breed of men.

Always have been. Always will be.

They're the guys who go eyeball to eyeball with the enemy. Who taste cold steel and hot blood.

They're the ones in the trenches with bullets zinging overhead, incoming artillery making mush of their brains, while their feet wither up and turn grey with trench foot and frostbite. They go into combat in tropical zones with winter uniforms, are sent to the Korean front in sub-zero weather with summer sleeping bags.

As the D-Day Invasion was progressing, Gen. Leslie McNair, U.S. Ground Forces commander, said, "Our Army is no better than its Infantry, and victory will come only when and as our Infantry gains it. The price will be predominantly what the infantry pays."

That statement was true in the freezing winter of Valley Forge, and it's just as true today as our infantrymen stare at the enemy across the demilitarized zone or iron curtain.

Congress gave birth to the Army on June 14, 1775 when it authorized 10 companies of riflemen be raised in Pennsylvania, Maryland and Virginia. That was the start of the Continental Army.

Its baptism came the following winter at Valley Forge where starving men living in tattered tents, short of blankets, boots, clothes, somehow survived.

Growing stronger under the leadership of Gen. George Washington and Baron Friedrich von Steuben, the Army eventually defeated the British in the battle of Yorktown in 1781, with the Infantry leading the way.

Infantrymen fought in all our battles in all our ground wars. Campaign streamers on battalion guidons tell tales of guts and glory. The 18th Infantry at the 197th Infantry Brigade is a case in point.

Their streamers recall the Indian Wars in Wyoming, Dakota and Montana. They reflect the time in history when brother fought brother in Mississippi; Kentucky; Tennessee and Georgia.

Soldiers of the 18th were in the War with Spain at Manila, fighting the Moros in Iloilo and Panay in the Philippines. In World War I, these infantrymen left the trenches to take Lorraine, Picardy, Montdidier-Noyon, Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel and the deadly Meuse-Argonne.

They returned to Europe in World War II, but their bloody path took them through Algeria-French Morocco and Tunisia before they stormed ashore at Sicily and Normandy. Then it was Northern France, the Rhineland, Ardennes-Alsace, and finally Central Europe.

The 18th got a break from Korea, but were back into the thick of things in Vietnam, picking up more streamers for action over there.

This is the typical unit history of a typical infantry unit.

Infantrymen know what's expected of them. They know they'll be called when the balloon goes up, whether it's a policing action as in Grenada or an all out war. It doesn't matter — can't get the job done, can't win the battle, the war, without the ground-gaining, ground-holding troops.

Much talk is heard about all the fancy weapons systems — bombs that can think, artillery rounds that'll find you even if you're on the other side of the mountain.

Directed energy, kinetic energy, lasers, robotics — ominous words that sound more like science fiction than soldier talk. Add these to faster and more powerful tanks, artillery that shoot bigger rounds farther, and aircraft that pack greater payloads.

They all add up to a more lethal battlefield.

How's the infantry soldier gonna survive with all that garbage crashing down about his head?

Like he always has — with guts, bold initiative, comradeship and sheer will to survive.

My theory is, if we ever get into another major war, all those fancy-dancy weapons are going to cancel one another out. And once again, victory will be decided by which army has the best infantry. Once again, it'll be the grunt, the mud soldier, the dough boy, with his rifle and his bayonet.

He alone, weary, hungry, bowed but not broken, and certainly anonymous will be the difference between victory and defeat. The American fighting man has never let his country down — and never will.

Army and infantry birthdays remind soldiers to reaffirm oath to defend

We infantrymen celebrate two birthdays Wednesday. Both the Army and the Infantry commemorate the 214th anniversary of their founding on June 14.

From the early days of Valley Forge to the present, our nation has depended on the Army to be there when freedom and democracy were threatened. And at the forefront of the Army, there was always the Infantry, the Queen of Battle, leading the way.

This year the Army is spotlighting a special group of people in our Army — the noncommissioned officer —the backbone of the Army.

As General Bruce C. Clarke once noted: "There never has been a good Army without a good Noncommissioned Officers' Corps."

Today, we have never had a better NCO corps, and as a result, our Army has never been better. In all our past wars, the leadership and professionalism of our NCOs has stood out on the battlefield. They've displayed exceptional courage, showed remarkable leadership and many died for our country.

Today, they're prepared to do so again. They stand ready to lead our soldiers into combat.

So, as we look back on 214 years of history, mark the events with birthday balls and other observances, all of us — privates, sergeants, captains, generals — must reaffirm the oath we took when we first came into the Army — to uphold and defend the Constitution against all enemies, foreign and domestic, as generations of soldiers before us have done.

Michael F. Spigelmire
Major General, U.S. Army
Commanding

Soldiers, civilians reflect on heritage during the Army's 214th birthday

On Wednesday, the U.S. Army will celebrate its 214th birthday. This is a time for all soldiers and civilians in the Army to reflect on a proud heritage and to rededicate themselves to meeting the challenges of the future.

The Army has a record of distinguished service to our nation. Even before our country was born, the Army stood the test of battle. Those first American soldiers faced terrible hardships and epic struggles. In the end, they would not be defeated, and they helped bring freedom to a new nation. Ever since, the Army has defended our nation against all enemies.

Those who serve today, whether as soldiers or civilians or as members of the active or reserve component, have that legacy to uphold. The challenges facing America have never been greater. Yet, the quality of those who serve the Army today has never been better.

This year also commemorates the Bicentennial of the establishment of the Army under the Constitution. The Army's motto — This We'll Defend — can hold no greater purpose. Let us reaffirm our commitment to preserve and protect this document of freedom and by so doing, rededicate ourselves to the spirit, hope and vision of America — The Land of The Free.

Carl E. Vuono
General, U.S. Army
Chief of Staff

The Bayonet

This newspaper is an authorized publication for members of the Army. Contents of THE BAYONET are not necessarily the official views of, or endorsed by the Department of the Army or any of its agencies. Everything in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, sex or national origin of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunity by an advertiser will result in the refusal of the publisher to print advertising from that souce. THE BAYONET is an unofficial publication authorized by Army Regulation 360-81. Editorial content is prepared, edited and provided by the Public Affairs Office of the U.S. Army Infantry Center. THE BAYONET is published each Friday by the R.W. Page Corporation, a private firm in no way connected with the Department of the Army, under exclusive written contract with Fort Benning. All photos are U.S. Army unless otherwise credited. Liaison between the publisher and the commanding general, USAIC, is maintained by the public affairs officer, through the command information officer, USAIC, Fort Benning.

Editorial

Commanding General ..... Maj. Gen.Michael F. Spigelmire
Public Affairs Officer ..... Lt. Col. McDonald Plummer Jr.
Command Information Officer ..... Maj. Thomas Fix
Command Information NCOIC ..... SSgt. Ron Allen
Administration NCOIC ..... SSgt. Luz Llanos
Editor ..... Agatha Hudson James
Assistant Editor ..... Spec. Shawn Bryson
Staff writer ..... Spec. Ann McDonald
Editorial Office: Public Affairs Office, USAIC, Building 4, Room 601, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905, (404) 545-2201/2202; AUTOVON 835-2201.

Advertising

Retail/Display ..... (404) 324-5526
Classified ..... (404) 322-4500
Circulation ..... (404) 323-1234

For subscription information call (404)323-1234.

Circulation 21,000

Represented nationally by Knight Ridder Newspaper sales W.B. Bradbury and Military Media, Inc.

34th Med. Bn. wins 1st quarter safety award

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

In order to promote the importance of Army safety, the Fort Benning Safety Office presents annual and quarterly awards to units that achieve outstanding safety records.

The 34th Medical Battalion is no stranger to these awards. In fiscal years 1987 and 1988, the 34th won the Commanding General's Annual Safety Award for having the best safety records on post.

The start of fiscal 1989 brought more of the same to the unit. The battalion won recently the quarterly safety award for having no major accidents during the 1st quarter of the fiscal year.

Fort Benning commander, Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire, presented the award to Lt. Col. Allen Rhodes, 34th commander, Monday at the battalion's ceremony field.

Rhodes, who accepted the award on behalf of all the soldiers of the battalion, made his remarks short and to the point. "This one's for you," he said to the soldiers on the field as he held the award high in the air.

The award is given to units who make it through a quarter without a single major accident, both on and off the job, according to Regis Beighley, Infantry Branch Safety Manager.

A major accident is defined by the safety office as one with military property damage of $1,000 or more, or a personal injury that requires hospitalization, Beighley said.

Rhodes credited the winning of the award to the "good soldiers" of the 34th, which is made up of about 550 soldiers, as well as leadership personnel. "Our NCOs and officer are serious and professional about safety and fully involved with the soldiers (about safety)," Rhodes said.

Rhodes explained that one of the unit's Safety Day activities two weeks ago is an example of the command involvement in safety. He said six vehicles were randomly selected from the motor pool to be thoroughly inspected. The soldier with the safest vehicle won a "Follow Me Safely" coffee mug. While a coffee mug may not seem to be a big deal to some people, the safety awareness brought about by the competition was the important, according to Rhodes.

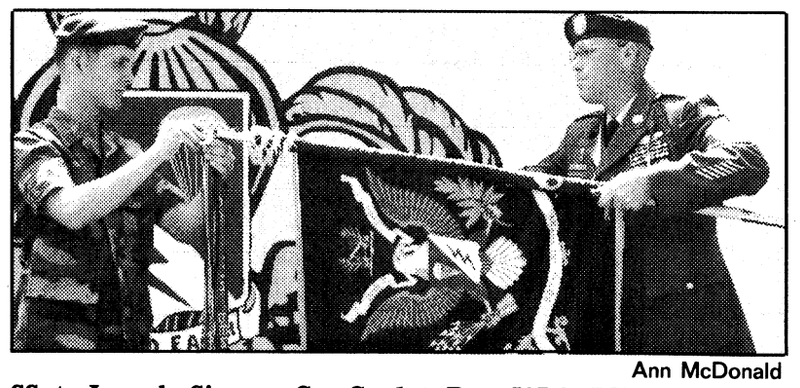
The first quarter achievement of the 34th's soldiers makes them the front runners in the competition for this year's annual award.

Legal Assistance receives award

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The post's Legal Assistance Office received "The Chief of Staff's Award for Excellence in Legal Assistance" for the year 1988.

The award is given annually to a Legal Assistance Office which provides quality services and professional legal assistance to the soldier and the Army family and community.



These services are recognized as playing an essential role in assuring mission preparedness of the Army through continued resolution of personal legal affairs.

The award is given to three categories of Staff Judge Advocate Offices. Large offices are those with more than 15 attorneys in the entire office; medium offices are those with three to 14 attorneys and small offices are those with only one or two attorneys.

The Fort Benning Legal Assistance Office competed in the large office category and was judged to be one of the best Legal Assistance Offices in the Army in that category in 1988.

The award was forwarded to Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire by Gen. Carl E. Vuono, Army Chief of Staff, and Maj. Hugh Overholt, The Judge Advocate General of the Army. The award was presented to Col. Michael J. Nardotti Jr., the Fort Benning Staff Judge Advocate.

Maj. Dennis E. Brower has been the Chief of Legal Assistance since July 1987.

Ann McDonald

SSgt. Joseph Singer, Co. C., 1st Bn., 507th PIR, and CSM Edmund Thompson, Headquarters, 1st Bn., 507th PIR, furl the colors in preparation for the journey to France.

14th Annual Federal Employees' Week activities begin Monday

USAIC Public Affairs Office

The 14th Annual Federal Employees' Week begins Monday. The post's Federal Women's Program Committee has planned a full week of activities for civilian and military personnel.

Throughout the week, ten workshops with topics ranging from strategies for survival in the work place to stress management to education will be conducted for all federal employees. Each workshop will be held in Building 4, Classroom 30.

Civilian employees will receive credit for training with the completion of DD form 1556 for each workshop.

Fort Benning's FWP was organized in 1974, and the first Federal Women's Week activities were held in 1975. As time passed, the FWP changed to include emphasis on the overall employment concerns of all federal workers — military and civilians, supervisors and non-supervisors

The theme this year is "Striving Together with an Eye to the Future." Listed below is a schedule of the week's activities:

■Monday, 11:30 a.m. until 1 p.m. — Kick-off luncheon at Econo Lodge Motel. Keynote speaker: Dr. William H. Edwards, Associate Professor, Speech Communications, Columbus College. Tickets are available from Mary Renteria at 545-1943 or Darlene Thomas at 545-5171.

■Monday, 2 until 4 p.m. — Year 2000: Strategies for Survival in the Work Place. Participants will learn some of the requirements needed to market employment skills. Speaker: Patricia Russell-McCloud, Attorney.

■Tuesday, 9:30 until 11:30 a.m. — Career Track versus Parenting. Speaker: Dr. Patricia Cornett, Community Health Nurse, Martin Army Community Hospital.

■Tuesday, 1:15 until 3:15 p.m. — Productivity Equation, a workshop that will provide information about the importance of having a healthy mind and body. Speakers: Jackie Titus, Associate Professor, Allied Health, Columbus College, and Maj. Carol Handley, Chief, Clinical Dietetics, Martin Army Community Hospital.

■Wednesday, 9:30 until 11:30 a.m. — Stress Management, A Different Perspective. Speaker: Yvonne Linsenbigler, Civilian Program Coordinator for Civilian Counseling Services.

■Wednesday, 1:15 until 3:15 p.m. — Values and Quality of Life, a workshop designed to address the "necessities" and "how-to's" for developing a well balanced lifestyle. Speaker: Chap. (Capt.) Steven Paschall, The School Brigade.

■Thursday, 9:30 until 11:30 a.m. — Communication Skills - Interpersonal. Speakers: SFC Ronald Reid and SFC Anthony Johnson, Equal Opportunity Advisors, Equal Opportunity Office.

■Thursday, 1:15 until 3:15 p.m. — Education - Pathway to Success. Speakers: Kathy Anderson, Sharon Jamison and Gary Arthur, from Columbus College; Charles Fritts, Army Continuing Education; and Paul Stansel, Troy State University.

■June 16, 9:30 until 11:30 a.m. — Overview of Civilian Personnel, the Career Intern Program, Civil Service Retirement Program, Nonappropriated Fund positions and Training and Development areas of the Directorate of Civilian Personnel will be discussed. Speakers: Mildred Watts, Betty Mabry, Caroline Stevens, Patricia Pfeiffer and Thaddeus Wilson.

■June 16, 1:15 until 2:15 p.m. — Merit Promotion and KSAO's. Speaker: Dan Fusco, Civilian Personnel Office.

■June 16, 2:15 until 3:15 p.m. — Interviewing Techniques for the Interviewee. Speaker: Shirley Brister, Civilian Personnel Office.

■June 16, 3:15 until 3:30 p.m. — Closing Remarks, Fort Benning Commanding General Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire.

507th soldier participates in D-Day activities in France

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

D-Day ceremonies were conducted this past week in Normandy, France and one post soldier traveled there to represent his unit at the event.

With his unit colors in hand SSgt. Joseph Singer of Company C, 1st Battalion, 507th Parachute Infantry Regiment started his journey to the site.

This is an annual event conducted in conjunction with anniversary of the Normandy Invasion according to battalion command sergeant major, CSM Edmund Thompson.

"The 507th was one of the unit's that participated in that invasion," Thompson said. "So a representative from this unit, as well as many of the other units who were involved in D-Day, send a rep and their colors to France."

Thompson said Singer was selected because he is one of the best soldiers in the battalion.

"I was thrilled that I was chosen," Singer said, "It's quite an honor to be singled out to be the representative of your unit at an event conducted halfway around the world."

Singer will spend six days in France.

AUTO STORAGE WAREHOUSE
• SPRINKLER
• BURGLAR ALARM
• INSULATED
by MONTH or YEAR
ALLIED BONDED WHSE.
4301 ALLIED DR.
COLUMBUS (404) 687-0222

The Linen Outlet
Accessories for the Home
90 Day LayAway
Open Mon.-Sat.10-6
2211 Wynnton Rd.
323-9211

Low Cost Term Life Insurance
Consolidated Insurance Services
Albany, GA
Dealing with A+ or A Rated Companies.
1-800-289-8766
For a complete proposal

Annual Premiums (Male, Non-Smoker)

Age	$100,000	$250,000	$500,000	$1,000,000
35	122	203	300	550
40	130	225	345	640
45	155	233	455	860
50	205	388	545	1040
55	273	543	790	1530
60	383	875	1405	2760
65	643	1525	2545	5040

VISA CARDS ARE HERE!
VISA
COMPARE the terms of your Credit Union with the market and you'll make the switch.
$8.00 Annual Fee
15% Annual Percentage Rate
25 Day Grace Period
2786 Eckel Street
Fort Benning, GA 31905
682-0830
TIC FEDERAL CREDIT UNION
Offer to eligible members only.
4811 Bankers Blvd.
Columbus, GA 31904
324-5288

NEW BONUSES NEED CASH TODAY? NEW BONUSES
Save lives and earn money by donating your time at one of the finest Plasma Facilities in the country
New & Donors who have not donated in SIX MONTHS RECEIVE $7.00 BONUS with this ad.
Bring a Buddy & RECEIVE AN EXTRA $5.00
Additional Bonus on 6th & 8th Donations
EARN $10.00 AND ABOVE ON EACH VISIT
RIVERFRONT PLASMA CENTER
507 Dillingham St.—Phenix City
297-5711
Hours: Mon.-Wed.-Fri. 7-3:30—Tues. & Thurs. 7-6:30
BROAD ST. PHENIX CITY RIVER COLUMBUS DILLINGHAM ST VICTORY DR
CONVENIENT EVENING HOURS FOR BENNING PERSONNEL
EARN OVER $100 PER MONTH

BE WISE..
DON'T WASTE

Steve's Check Casher
Do You need a check cashed?
Come visit the Money Man.
WE CASH THEM ALL
$ INCOME TAX RETURN CHECKS
$ PERSONAL CHECKS
$ Payroll
$ Out of State
$ Two Party
$ Money Orders
$ Western Union
$ Tax Checks
$ Insurance Checks
$ Insurance Drafts
$ Government Checks
$ Cashier Checks
ALL TYPES
Let Us Handle All Your Check Cashing Needs!
3949 Victory Station Shopping Center
Suite 2 Next to Blempie's
Come by and Visit With Us Today or Call 689-8335
HOURS: M-F 10-7, Sat. 10-5

FREE
ALL TUNE and LUBE
Your Total Car Care Center
Oil change, lube & filter with the purchase of an engine tune up.
COMPLETE ENGINE TUNE $39.90*
Includes all parts and labor for most cars some Vans & Pick-ups Add'l.
12 MONTH/12,000 MILE WARRANTY
WITH COUPON ● WHILE YOU WAIT
Exp. 6-23-89
● Oil Change, Lube & Filter $9.90 reg. $19.90
● Transmission Tune-up $24.90 reg. $29.90
● Air Conditioning Service $24.90 reg. $29.90
● Fuel Injector Service $39.90 reg. $49.90
● Brake Special (Most Vehicles) $34.90 reg. $63.90
FREE BRAKE INSPECTION
CB
6028 MILLER ROAD 569-TUNE
OVER 70 LOCATIONS NATIONWIDE!
Hours M-F 8 AM-7 PM Sat. 8 AM-4 PM

NEW LOW AIRFARES
Atlanta Roundtrip To:

Frankfurt	Munich	Brussels	Seoul
$758 1 June-30 Sept. $660 1 Oct-31 Oct	$778 1 June-30 Sept. $694 1 Oct-31 Oct	$872 1 June-30 Sept. $719 1 Oct-31 Oct	$1199 1 June-31 Aug.
$560 1 NOV.-8 DEC.	$580 1 NOV.-7 DEC.	$519 1 NOV.-19 DEC.	$1149 1 Sept.-1 Dec.

*Certain Restrictions/Taxes Apply to These Fares
*Some Blackout Dates Exist
TRAVEL WORLD, INC.
3115 Mercury Drive
Columbus, GA 31906
404/563-8687
EXIT 4 MACON ROAD AUBURN AVENUE MERCURY DR VE GOO GOO TRAVEL WORLD COUNTRY S
4393 Victory Dr.
ARCCO Place
Columbus, Georgia 31903
404/689-3092
FT BENNING MAIN POST EXIT 1 VICTORY DRIVE HILL ARCCO TRAVEL WORLD ARCCO PLACE

ASK THE JUDGE

By Dennis E. Brower
Office of the Staff Judge Advocate

Q. A bill collector has really been bothering me lately about an account that I got behind in the payments on. Because of family problems and my latest move, I had to stop making payments about six months ago.

Now the debt collector wants all of the loan paid off all at once, or he wants me to give him one payment now and three signed post-dated checks. He says he can't cash them because they are post-dated and this will show him my good faith in continuing to make timely payments.

Is it true that just because I missed some payments that the entire amount of the loan is due? Also, is it a good idea to give the debt collector these post-dated checks?

A. Almost all loans have provisions in the contract that if you miss even one payment, the entire loan can become due all at once.

Not all companies use this provision because they know that people sometimes get in a little trouble with their bills. If they were to demand all of the payments at once they know that most people could not do that and would not pay anything.

The loan company could sue in court for the full amount of the loan, but that still does not mean that they would receive the entire amount.

It is easier for the loan company to work with the debtor and try to get them to make up the payments. That way the loan company can receive all of their money.

Some companies are not as kind, and they will demand the entire loan should you fail to make any payment on time. This may seem to be unfair, but they are legally allowed to do this.

Should you begin to fall behind in any loan payments, it is advised that you contact the company and be honest with them.

They may not like the fact that you can't make the payments, but they will appreciate you informing them and perhaps a plan could be worked out for reduced payments for awhile and then additional payments when your finances are more stable.

The Army Community Service has budget counseling available at 544-3917 or 545-5516.

Another excellent service is the Consumer Credit Counseling Service located at 102 Seventh Street, Columbus. The telephone number is 327-3238. This is a United Way Agency that handles debt problems and even makes the payments for you. There can be a cost for this service, but it is usually only $10 each month.

Post-dated checks are never a good idea. Never give them to anyone. Although they are not supposed to be cashed before the date listed on the checks, it is possible for checks to slip past the bank.

Although you may be able to argue that the bank was not allowed to cash them, often the damage done in your checks "bouncing," all the service charges and other bad credit problems caused are not worth it.

The best way to stay out of trouble is to not spend more than you make. However, should you begin to get into trouble paying your bills on time, don't wait until it is too late for help.

Immediately seek professional debt counseling and solve the problem before it becomes a "monster" and destroys you and your family.

HOUSING LIST

Family Housing List
as of June 5

Jr. NCO-2 BR ..... March 10, 1988
Jr. NCO-3 BR .. May 21, 1989
Jr. NCO-4 BR . April 25, 1989
Jr. NCO-5 BR . April 13, 1989
Sr. NCO-3 BR .... Feb. 9, 1989
Sr. NCO-4 BR .... Feb. 1, 1987
Sr. NCO-5 BR .. Dec. 10, 1988
CGr. Off-2 BR .. April 3, 1989
CGr. Off-3 BR April 21, 1989
CGr. Off-4 BR ... Feb. 3, 1989
FG Off-3 BR ... June 30, 1988
FG Off-4 BR .... Dec. 23, 1987
Sr. Off-3 BR .... April 24, 1989
Sr. Off-4 BR ..... Immediate

By using the following procedure, soldiers on the Family Housing Waiting List can use this chart to estimate when they can expect quarters:

Locate your category of housing.

Note eligibility date located on the same line as your category.

Calculate the time difference between the eligibility date listed and your eligibility date. The difference is the approximate time you still have to wait for housing.

EXAMPLE: If the latest eligibility date of the person who last received housing in your category was May 15, 1988, and your date of eligibility is Sept. 15, 1988, you can expect housing in about four months. If you do not know your eligibility date, contact the Family Housing Office, building 399, at 545-3107.

Summer vacation's fun, but take along sense of safety

By Barry Price
Provost Marshal Office

Summer activities are approaching in full swing. Many families will be loading the family car with all kinds of recreational equipment, lots of food and anxious, pleasure seeking passengers. One item many will leave behind when heading for the beach, pool, mountain resort, lake area or favorite picnic area is a sense of safety.

Safety is an important summer companion no matter how near or how far the vacation trip. Everyone is more relaxed and many tend to be off guard. Even the simple basic safety rules necessary to enjoy summer activities are ignored.

Most summer safety rules are just plain common sense, which if followed, ensure an enjoyable and rewarding summer vacation.

Some basic "safety sense" rules for summer include:

●Water safety: All swimming and boating rules posted at recreation areas are for your benefit and should always be observed. Swimming should never be done alone or immediately after a meal. Never dive into unfamiliar waters; there may be hidden obstacles in the water. Never venture out too far — it's a two-way trip and the one back can be too much for a tired swimmer.

●Safety in the sun: The summer sun helps make your vacation enjoyable. It can also make it miserable. Many vacationers are fooled by clouds, unaware the sun's most harmful rays filter through a cloud cover, and too much sun can make your vacation very painful and dangerous. So before you start to enjoy the sun and get that deep, dark tan, have on hand the proper sun screen or tanning formula needed to protect your body from those harmful rays.

●Fire safety: Summer brings out the backyard chef, the barbecue grill and sometimes the fire department.

On camping trips in the woods and even in your own backyard, cooking equipment , if handled carelessly can cause untold damage to the forests, fields and homes. Remember, always have available a means of extinguishing an unsuspected fire.

Including summer "safety sense" as a companion on your vacation this year might prove to be the wisest thing you ever did. It is fun to enjoy summer time and all the pleasures that go with it, but unless you are careful and conscious of safety while enjoying such pleasures, they may turn into tragedies. So, go on and make this well deserved vacation a safe and happy one.

VA to scale back services

Department of Veteran Affairs

The Department of Veteran Affairs will begin scaling back medical services and curtailing expenditures because emergency supplemental funding for VA has not been provided by Congress.

VA Secretary Edward J. Derwinski said he had to react to the continuing legislative impasse in Congress which has embroiled VA's request for supplemental funding and is affecting operation of the VA healthcare system.

"I must take these actions," Derwinski said, "to keep the system functioning within the limits of our resources. They should hold us until June 15, when we are cautiously optimistic that the Congress will resolve its differences and provide VA with urgently needed funds."

Derwinski described the emergency measures as "temporary, but to be closely monitored and reviewed." He cautioned that if supplemental appropriations do not reach VA soon, more drastic cutbacks may be needed.

Among the immediate steps being taken by the VA healthcare system is a freeze on accepting new patients whose eligibility depends on available VA resources. Except in emergencies, the veterans affected are those with nonservice-connected status whose incomes are above limits set by law, designated as VA categories "B" and "C".

Other actions include decreasing staff levels at VA facilities through attrition. VA will also halt spending used to purchase and maintain certain medical equipment and will delay the start-up of numerous new facility projects.

Derwinski said later steps he might be forced to take in the absence of early Congressional action could include cuts that would close some specialized medical programs and steps affecting staffing within VA's Veterans Benefits Administration. This could result in slowing down the processing of compensation and pension claims, educational assistance, home-loan guaranties and life insurance claims. Grounds maintenance at VA's 113 national cemeteries may also have to be reduced.

SPIRIT

Continued from A-1

Actions for consideration include a wide range of topics, such as: improving procedures, service or products; saving time, money, supplies or other resources; eliminating or reducing waste, expense or errors that result in dollar savings to the government, either in manhours or actual dollars.

For more information, contact the SPIRIT program point of contact for your activity: Chaplain office, Chap. (MSgt.) Brott, 545-2288; Civilian Personnel, Julie Hartman, 545-4584; DEH Charles Orr, 545-7533; DOC, Martha Shelton, 545-5171; DOIM, Luella Hunt, 545-1460; DOL, Jeanette Zuback, 545-4725; DPCA, Dot McClellan, 545-7041; DPTM, Becky Pennington, 545-7419; DRCS, Doris Peters, 545-5019; DRM-Admin, Kathy Corizzo, 545-4770; DRM-CA, Pat Porter, 545-3610; DRM-FAD, Eve Whipple, 545-1550; DRM-MEDD, Sara Snider, 545-3554; DRM-PBD, Melody Franciscus, 545-2223; DIS, Dock Hicks, 545-1120; EEO, Mary Hewson, 545-3465; AG, Dottie Miller, 544-4014; IG, Bob Raab, 545-3981; IRAC, Louise Patten, 545-3204;MEDDAC, Dot Kash, 544-3487; MPA, Capt. White, 545-7610/1065; PAO, Brad Castleberry, 545-2238; Safety, Anita Langford, 545-3267; SJA, CWO Landen, 545-2181; SGS, Rhonda Clenney, 545-3946; USAIS, Vicki Burkhalter, 545-7161/4003/7410; TSB, Ginnie Steele, 545-2003; USAITC, Susan Piland, 544-1655/1657; USAMU, Tommy Pool, 545-3510; USARSA, Betty Glisson, 545-3326; 29th Inf., Ernestine Hunt, 544-6008, Ext. 118; 34th Med. Capt. Jane Allgood, 545-7148; 36th Eng., Ann Matty, 545-2686; 75th Rgr. Regt., Capt. Callaghan, 545-1481, 197th Inf. Bde., Maj. Nazario, 544-3818.

TSB

Continued from A-1

support in an era of declining resources," he said. "That will be tough, but I have a simple formula — good leaders, good workers and good ideas."

"We must always find ways to work smarter," he added. "We have to continue to capture the good ideas already out there at every level of our organization and put those ideas to work."

Jones said every soldier and civilian in TSB must be made to feel like part of a team — a team pulling together for the good of the enlisted and officers they train, the Army they serve and the nation they defend.

"I look forward to joining you and serving with you," he told his new troops.

Jones comes to Benning from Washington, D.C. where he served as Chief, House of Representatives, Army Congressional Liaison Office. Jones is accompanied by his wife Jean, two sons, Mark and Brian, and daughter Karen.

Bayonet Classified--322-4500

Just Say No To Drugs!

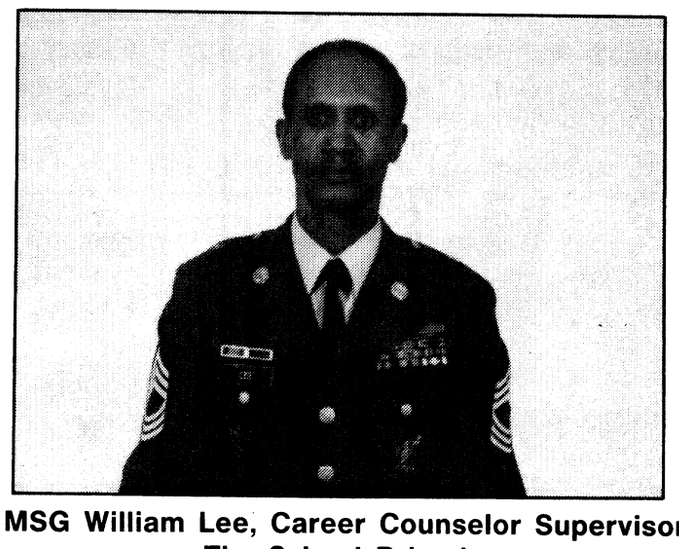
Need Auto Insurance?
Call the Military Specialists
- Low down payment
- Money-saving deductibles
- Affordable payment plan
- 24-hour claim service

CALL TODAY
689-2787
2029 S. Lumpkin Road
Oakland Park Shopping Center
GET TO KNOW
GEICO

REENLIST
UNITED STATES ARMY

Fort Benning

ADVANTAGES THE ARMY OFFERS YOU AND YOUR FAMILY.



If you're married, there are many benefits available to you and your family that are not easily duplicated in civilian life.

You and your family get comprehensive medical and dental care, commissary and post exchange privileges, thirty days annual leave and use of a variety of post facilities.

And you also have reenlistment options that include bonuses, change of duty station or retention of present duty station, to name just a few.

Plus, there's the intangible benefit of being part of the Army family and all the closeness this entails.

When you take all this into consideration, reenlistment makes a lot of sense for a lot of reasons. We can show you even more. Come talk to us, and bring your spouse.

MSG William Lee, Career Counselor Supervisor
The School Brigade
Building 2512 PH: 545-5006

ARMY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.® REENLIST.

IT TAKES MORE THAN A HUG TO MAKE A BIG PERSON FEEL SECURE.

That's why it helps to be in the Army.

Because the Army has a range of benefits and services that give you and your family a real sense of security.

Benefits like knowing your family is covered by medical and dental insurance. Or knowing who is taking care of your children, and that your older kids are enjoying safe, supervised activities.

There's security in knowing there are places to turn for financial assistance. That there are programs to help your wife or husband find employment.

It's reassuring to know there are places to shop, like the commissary and the PX, where your money goes farther.

And nothing makes a family feel more secure than knowing they've got a steady income and job security.

Not everyone has that kind of security. Army families do. Because the Army provides many things to help make your life easier. We do it because we're committed to you. We want you to use the services we offer. We want you to stay in the Army family.

In this family, we take care of our own. And you won't find a more secure feeling anywhere else.

ARMY FAMILY. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.®

COMMUNITY

CLASSES

Disaster Classes — The American Red Cross is sponsoring two classes — Introduction to Disaster Services and Shelter Management — June 19 to 20 at Building 4, classroom 52. Classes will last from 9 a.m. until 4 p.m. each day. Contact the Disaster Chairman at 545-5117/5118 for more information.

★ ★ ★

Arts and Crafts — Today, 1:30 to 2:30 p.m.; Greenware Cleaning Workshop — Saturday, 1 to 3 p.m. For more information, call 545-3677 or stop by the Arts and Crafts Center for a calendar.

★ ★ ★

College re-entry seminar — On June 22, the Columbus College Adult Re-Entry Program will sponsor a free seminar called "Survival Tips" from 7 to 9:30 p.m. at the Elizabeth Bradley Turner Center for Continuing Education. This seminar will feature helpful tips from currently enrolled adult students as well as advice on how to provide encouragement from their spouses, children, and employers. Adults considering college are invited to attend and to bring their families along so they can learn how to help them "survive."

For more information, contact Linda Gabrielson, Coordinator, Adult Re-Entry Program at 568-2330.

MISCELLANEOUS

Army Birthday Ball — The Sergeants Major Association will host the 214th Army Birthday Ball June 17 starting at 6 p.m. at the Main NCO Club. Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire is tentatively scheduled to be the guest speaker. Tickets are $16 per person, and dress is formal. For more information, contact your unit sergeant major. Retired military who would like to attend should contact SSgt. Yarbrough at 545-4633.

★ ★ ★

Preschool Teaching Position Available — Patch Preschool has a teaching position available. Applicants must have a bachelor's degree in Early Childhood Education. Resumes should be sent to the Director, Patch Preschool, P.O. Box 1852, Fort Benning, Ga. 31905 or stop by 102 Baltzell Ave., no later than June 20.

★ ★ ★

Operation Safe Summer — begins in the Custer Terrace/Upatoi/Battle Park communities Saturday. Fingerprinting of children will be done at the Community Life Center, building 10800 (behind the post office), beginning at 10 a.m. and will continue until all children attending have been fingerprinted. The Provost Marshall's office and the Community Life Center strongly encourage 100 percent participation from the community. You could be saving your child's life.

For further information, contact SSgt. Price at 545-7115 or the Community Life office at 544-1332.

★ ★ ★

Summer Day Camp — Custer Terrace Child Development Center has extended its services to include a summer day camp for 6 to 9 year olds. Activities will include bowling, swimming, cookouts, movies and field trips. A limited number of spaces are available. Call 689-8527 or come by the center, building 2682, for more information.

★ ★ ★

Film series — The Columbus Museum will hold a family film series on Thursdays in July for children of all ages. Films will be shown at 12:15 p.m. in the Patrick Theatre. Admission is free. Contact the Museum's Education Department at 322-0400 for more information.

★ ★ ★

Games, Swimming and Crafts — A day camp for asthmatic children, sponsored by the American Lung Association, Columbus College and the Schering Corporation, will be held July 17 through 21 at the Continuing Education Center, Columbus College. The camp is open to any child with asthma, ages 6 through 12. For more information, call the American Lung Association at 323-4700.

MEETINGS

Fort Benning Management Association — The monthly meeting of the Fort Benning Management Association will be held Thursday at 11:30 a.m. at the Main Post NCO Club. The speaker will be Bernard Pfeiffer, Chief, Administrative Law Division, Staff Judge Advocate Office. He will present the second part of a program entitled, "The Ethical Crisis in Government." Pfeiffer will discuss case studies of the common ethical problems faced by government employees, supervisors and managers. Lunch costs $4.75 for Southern fried chicken and $4 for chef salad. Please call in your reservation by close of business Monday to Carol Harris at 545-5580/5656. Cancellations are required no later than Wednesday. Members who fail to make timely cancellations will be billed for the cost of the luncheon.

★ ★ ★

Attention Rangers — The next scheduled meeting of the U.S. Army Ranger Association, Inc. — The Lead The Way Brigade — will be held Saturday at 1 p.m. at Shoney's Restaurant on Victory Drive. The agenda is plans for July 4th. All active duty and retired "rangers" are encouraged to attend.

GIRL SCOUTS

Concharty Council of Girl Scouts — Girls, 6 through 17 years of age are invited to participate in the Concharty Council of Girl Scouts' Summer Camp.

The resident camp is located in the woodlands of Pine Mountain near Shiloh, Ga. Camp begins June Sunday and runs until August 11. The camp is open to both Girl Scout members and non-members.

VOLUNTEERS

Volunteer — The following volunteer opportunities are available at Fort Benning:

Vacation Bible School Helpers — Needed June 19-23.

Receptionists — ACS Welcome Desk needs receptionists. Make the first impression of Fort Benning a positive one for newcomers.

Thrift Shop — Why not volunteer in an air-conditioned environment. Child care is provided.

Blood Drive Committee Co-chairman — A co-chairman is needed for blood drive committee at Red Cross. Work hand in hand with someone who knows how to get the job done.

Community volunteers — The mayors of each community are looking for helpers, for newsletters, publicity and other committee positions.

Most of the volunteer positions available provide free day care for your children. Why not volunteer in an air-conditioned building this summer. Make your own hours. For more information on these volunteer opportunities or a listing of others, call Karen at the Volunteer Center at 545-5602 or come by the center in room 210, building 241, Miller Hall, Directorate of Personnel and Community Activity headquarters.

WIVES' CLUBS

NCO Wives' Club

Installation and Appreciation — NCO wives will have an installation and appreciation June 28 at 11:30 a.m. at the Holiday Inn on Manchester Expressway. Call M. Greene at 682-9733 or E. Lipe at 682-8764 to make reservations.

Business Meeting — NCO wives will have a business meeting Wednesday at 10 a.m. at the NCO Wives' Club building by Lawson Army Airfield. For more information, call E. Lipe at 682-8764 or M. Greene at 682-9733.

YOUTH ACTIVITIES

Coaches needed — Coaches are needed for all youth sports. Interested parties should contact the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for additional information.

It is time to register children for the Youth Activities summer day camp program. Call 545-3079.

★ ★ ★

Pools — Youth Services pools will open for the 1989 swim season June 10. The pool is located on McIver Street and is open to children of active duty and retired military personnel.

★ ★ ★

Day Camp registration — Youth Services day camp registration is in process now. Children ages 6 to 11 years are eligible to register for day care. Cost is $28 for eight weeks/two four-week sessions. The first day camp session begins June 19.

★ ★ ★

Swim Team — Sign up for the Youth Activities Swim Team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Monday through Thursday. The swim team is a year-round organization. Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for more information. (MWR)

Ann McDonald

OWC Board of Directors

The 1989-90 Officers' Wives' Club Board of Directors has been installed. Directors are: Bottom row (l-r) Debbie Dickinson, treasurer; Kathleen Mead, 2nd vice-president; Marianne Kernan, president; Diane Spigelmire, honorary president; Le-Lone Jones, 1st vice-president; Judy Viale, recording secretary; Andy Williams, assistant treasurer. Standing (l-r) Sharlene Wall, bookkeeper; Denise Coburn, allied liaison; Sherrie Bunyea, thrift shop; Gay Hitchcock, scholarship chairperson; Sandy Stonerock, reservation chairperson; Barbara Nahas, hospitality chairperson; Patsy Chilcote, parliamentarian; Barbara McKnight, welfare chairperson and Robin Cillo, corresponding secretary.

Valid identification card needed when visiting the U-Do-It Center

USAIC Public Affairs Office

Housing residents are reminded that when visiting the Unit and Housing Support Branch (U-Do-It Center), they must show a valid identification card and a self-help card, which is issued upon completion of the Family Self-Help class.

If you have lost your card, stop by the front office in building 385 to get a new card prior to visiting the store.

If you have attended the Family Self-Help class and did not receive a nameplate, you may pick up your nameplate at the Unit and Housing Support Branch between 8 a.m. and 4 p.m. Monday through Friday.

SHIPPING YOUR CAR!

Pickup & Delivery To Port
POV delivered to Ft. Benning
from Charleston Port Terminal
Car Processing for personnel going Overseas
Exchange Concessionaire
Hours: Wed.-Fri. 12:00-6:00
Sat. 9:00-4:00

CAROLINA AUTO PROCESSING CENTER

Located at Bldg. 1624
Ft. Benning • (404) 682-1668

MILITARY WELCOME

PERSONAL CHECKS
MILITARY CHECKS
PAYROLL CHECKS
INCOME TAX CHECKS
ALLOTMENT CHECKS
INSURANCE CHECKS

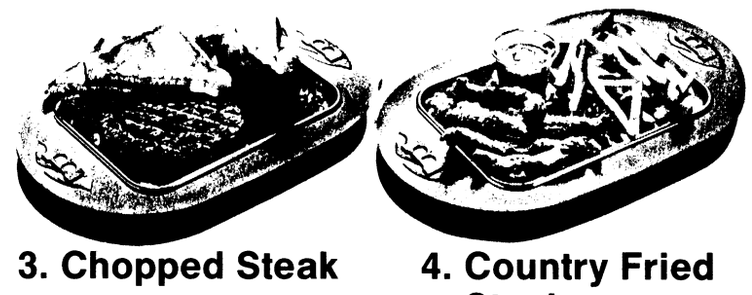
MR CHECK CASHER

$ NEW LOCATION $
3809 Victory Drive
Traffic Circle Shopping Center

ARCCO
A World Class Military Supply Store

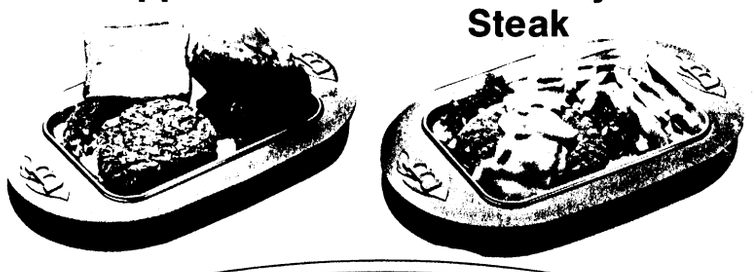
ONE STOP SHOPPING
for Soldiers, Hunters, Campers
Monday-Friday 9-7:30, Saturday 9-6, Sunday 11:30-4:30
682-0547 - 4411 Victory Drive (at I-185) 682-0547

Complete Merchandise Selection and Service
Field and Camping Equipment
Dress Greens and Blues
Knives and Patches
Sweats and T-Shirts
Boots and BDUs



No Frills Lunches

- Entree
- Baked Potato or French Fries
- Texas Toast
- Drink



$3.25 Including Tax

Entree Choices

1. Rib Eye
2. Chicken Fingers

3. Chopped Steak
4. Country Fried Steak

BONANZA®

Victory Drive
Manchester Expressway

BIRTHS

Martin Army Community Hospital

GIRLS

Rosa Marie Brownlee — Born March 21 to Spec. Dwight C. Brownlee and Spec. Rosa N. Rivera.

Shannon Thaisa Farrar — Born May 21 to 1st Lt. Jeffrey A. and Patricia Farrar.

Stacy Michelle Medine — Born May 18 to Sgt. Dominick and Sharon A. Heath-Medina.

Candace Shavon Williams — Born May 18 to Spec. Calvin D. and Brenda F. Williams.

Angelica Joyce Solomon — Born May 20 to Sgt. John W. and Mayra Solomon.

Keila Alise Grimes — Born May 19 to Spec. Levi and Valorie L. Grimes.

Chenika Nicole Rogers — Born May 18 to Spec. Adrian and Spec. Cindy M. Rogers.

Jessica Danielle Coley — Born May 17 to Spec. John W. and Wendy L. Coley.

Amanda Michelle Mingee — Born May 20 to Spec. George and Melissa Mingee.

Kimberly Charlene Derrickson — Born May 24 to SFC Charles and Ramona Derrickson.

Jessica Rae Cox — Born May 29 to SFC Thomas and Connie Cox.

Rachel Kathleen Miller — Born May 30 to 1st Lt. Jody L. and Kathleen Miller.

Katherine Jane Butler — Born May 27 to Pvt. 2 Mark D. and Kelly D. Butler.

Erica Attita Wilson — Born May 29 to SSgt. Ivory G. and Saundra Wilson.

Ashley Elizabeth Jetty — Born May 26 to SSgt. Christopher and Susan Jetty.

Penelope Ann Solis — Born May 27 to SSgt. Abel and Anna R. Solis.

Demecka Denise Wiley — Born May 25 to retired MSgt. Albert and Carolyn Wiley.

Shacoya Shambrea Fortson — Born May 19 to Spec. Willie and Felecia Fortson.

BOYS

Brian Marcus Warren — Born May 23 to SSgt. R. W. and Gwenevre Warren.

Joshua Manuel Rodgers — Born May 18 to Capt. James and Gail Rodgers.

Thomas Max Uzailko Jr. — Born May 17 to Sgt. Thomas M. and Holly E. Uzailko.

Nathaniel Copeland — Born May 21 to Sgt. Dennis G. and Nadja Copeland.

Justin Alexander Antonio Weatherly — Born May 20 to Spec. Carle A. and Angela A. Weatherly.

Blake Edward Reed — Born May 21 to Spec. George E. and Karen M. Reed.

Patrick W. Reilly — Born May 23 to SSgt. Dennis J. and Lauagaia P. Reilly.

Kyle Michael Franck — Born May 3 to 2nd Lt. Michael L. and Sonja Franck.

Ryan Nicholas Stark — Born May 26 to Sgt. Randall G. and Laura J. Stark.

Robert Anthony Perez — Born May 26 to Cpl. Robert and Maria F. Perez.

Zackery Bryan McClelland — Born May 19 to SSgt. James T. and Mary L. McClelland.

Julious Lorenzo King — Born May 27 to Spec. Hayward L. and Betty A. King.

Michael T. Dupree — Born May 24 to Cp. Michael L. and Rose M. Dupree.

William Joseph Marsh — Born May 26 to PFC Chester R. and Kathy J. Marsh.

Brandin Anthony Marshall — Born May 29 to Wayne B. and Patrice A. Marshall.

Eric and Matthew Martin — born April 14 to 1st Lt. Mark W. and Patricia A. Martin.

SPIRITUAL

Rosary makers find a cause and an art

Tracy James learns how to make rosaries.

Photos by Debra Galle

By Debra Galle
USAIC Chaplain's Office

"Rosaries are needed badly for young soldiers in training at Fort Benning. Pat Barnard and the women at Holy Family Church make the rosaries. Materials are furnished. If you have some time to give to this project, please call..."

This announcement in a church bulletin at Main Post Catholic Chapel caught the eyes of at least two young women who thought the venture and the cause of this volunteer work might be worth looking into.

When they inquired, Trish Castranio and Monica James learned that the group meets each Tuesday morning in the hall of the Holy Family Church in Columbus. Both had small children but were told to bring them along. What they found that morning were women with boxes of beads and string. They also found a cause, an art and a niche.

Castranio, whose husband works at Sand Hill, had heard about the soldiers who are given rosaries and wanted to be a part of the group that provided them. James, also of Fort Benning, learned the art quickly. She was inspired enough to begin a group on post to make rosaries for soldiers.

"Distributing rosaries promotes prayer," said James. "I feel privileged to be a part of that promotion."

Pat Barnard, who has been instrumental in the project, has been making rosaries since in 1960.

"My husband was in the Army then," she said. "I was at a swimming pool on post and spotted a woman who was working with strings of beads. I was curious so I asked her what she was doing. She taught me how to make rosaries."

Barnard, who was received into the Catholic Church 32 years ago was honored at the June 2 First Friday meeting of the Military Council of Catholic Women. She stayed to help a new group of women learn the art of rosary making.

"We hope the soldiers enjoy the rosaries and that God will bless and keep them," Barnard said.

Pat Barnard (r) shows Monica James the art of making rosaries.

Last month alone, over one thousand rosaries were distributed to troops at the Infantry Training Center. These soldiers will finish their training and move on — most likely with many memories of basic training and Fort Benning.

The ladies who spend hours stringing black beads on olive drab string hope that each soldier remembers something more than his training. They hope he remembers the rosary that a stranger made for him is meant to be a comfort and reminder that people care.

Making transitions is what life is all about

By Chap. Jonathan M. Smith
67th Maintenance Battalion

One of my college professors, a man with three doctorates, said to me, "My friend, it is more accurate to speak of change than of graduation." He continued, "We never graduate from life, rather we learn and grow from the experience making the transitions in the confidence that God will always be with us."

His point was valid. We all face transitions in life. We graduate form high school, college or one of the many military schools. We begin married life. We have children. We receive promotions, change jobs, move to a new community and form new friendships. It is easy to become anxious about the future. A flood of unanswerable questions could sweep us away. Where will I go? What will I do? In time we discover the answers, but the transition often throws our lives into turmoil. Here is where the need for confidence comes in.

"The Lord himself goes before you; He will never leave you nor forsake you," Deut. 31:8. Moses spoke these reassuring words to Joshua to build his confidence at a time of transition in his life. Joshua was to lead God's people into the promised land. The responsibility must have been overwhelming.

When our responsibilities are overwhelming, when growing hurts, when the transitions are difficult, we have the promise that God will not leave us or forsake us. In this promise, we can be confident. God, faithful to His word, sent His son, Jesus to experience the pain and suffering we deserve and to die for us. He rose from the grave so that we may live a new life by placing our whole confidence and trust in Him. As we are enrolled into the next period of our lives, the God who understands what we have been through now says to us, "I will never leave you nor forsake you."

With His words of assurance we have the freedom to be who we are under His divine care no longer subject to the pressure of our peers, nor puppets of our surroundings. In the words of a hymn:

"God is my comfort and my trust,
My hope in life abiding; and
To His counsel, wise and just,
I yield, in Him confiding
The very hairs, His word declares,
Upon my head He numbers.
By night and day God is my stay,
He never sleeps nor slumbers."

CHAPEL BRIEFS

Ecumenical

Notice: Change of Location for Vacation Bible School — Due to building repairs, Vacation Bible School will be held at Faith and Patch Schools. Classes will be held from 10 a.m. to 12 p.m. from June 19 to 23. Classes will include Bible study, music, crafts, recreation and refreshments. Adult volunteers are needed. Call 545-4715 for more information.

Religious Education Center Library — Several thousands volumes of Catholic, Protestant, and Jewish material are available at the Religious Education Center Library. There are commentaries, Bible dictionaries, Bible handbooks, and many other reference books and other religious material.

The library, located in the Religious Education Center, Building 229, Crain Hall, is open during duty hours, Monday through Friday. Everyone is invited to use the library for inspiration, study and research.

Monthly Prayer Breakfast — The monthly Prayer Breakfast, normally held the third Tuesday of each month at the Infantry Center Chapel Annex, will not be held in June. The next Breakfast will be held June 18.

Protestant

Protestant Women of the Chapel — PWOC meets each Thursday from 9:30 to 11:30 a.m. at the Religious Education Center. Baby-sitting is provided. Contact Debby Godwin at 687-7157 for more information.

Youth Alive — Two non-denominational youth groups meet each Sunday from 6:30 to 8 p.m. The junior high group meets in the Infantry Center Chapel Annex, and the senior high group meets in the Religious Education Center. Youths are encouraged to attend for fun and Christian fellowship.

Sunday School Bus — A bus is available to transport individuals who live in McGraw Manor and Davis Hill/Bouton Heights to Sunday School at the Main Post Sunday School.

The route begins in McGraw Manor at approximately 8:55 a.m. and proceeds through Davis Hill, Bouton Heights and on to the Religious Education Center where Sunday School is held. At approximately 10:35 a.m., the bus departs the REC and passengers are returned.

For more information, call 545-2366.

Catholic

Military Council of Catholic Women — Women interested in making rosaries for Fort Benning soldiers are invited to meet each Wednesday from 9:30 a.m. until noon at the Religious Education Center. Materials are provided. For more information, contact Monica James at 682-8713.

Pre-Cana Classes — A class, open to anyone who wishes to be married in the Catholic Church, will be held June 25 at the Religious Education Center. For registration and additional information, call Phil Reilly at 545-5508/2271.

Pre-Baptism Class: The Religious Education Center will sponsor a pre-baptism class June 25. The class is a requirement for parents who wish to have their child baptized in the Catholic Church at Fort Benning or to take a letter to their home parish. Expectant parents are encouraged to attend. Call Phil Reilly at 545-2771 for more information and registration.

CENTRAL CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(DISCIPLES OF CHRIST)
2622 Macon Road
Douglas A. Garner, Pastor
Sunday School 9:45AM
Morning Worship 11:00AM
EVERYONE WELCOME!

CHURCH OF GOD BY FAITH
3022 Clarabelle St.
Invites you to Worship with them at 12 noon
Take Victory Dr. to 30th Ave, turn right on Clarabelle St.

SOUTH COLUMBUS UNITED METHODIST CHURCH
1213 Benning Drive
10 Minutes from Ft. Benning
Sunday School 9:45 am
Morning Worship 11:00 am
689-5094

First Assembly of God
1309 10th Ave. at 13th St.
Phenix City, Ala.
WELCOMES ALL Military Personnel to worship with us.
Sunday School 9:45
Services 10:45
Evening Service 6:00pm

NORTH HIGHLAND ASSEMBLY OF GOD
7300 Livingston Drive Columbus, Georgia 31909
Weekly Service Schedule
Sunday School 9:30am, Worship 10:30am & 6pm
Wednesday Evening, Family Night 7:00pm
(Children & Youth Activities—Adult Bible Study)
Security Parking Nursery
Jimmy R. Swilley, Sr. Pastor For Information call (404) 561-7777

ROSE HILL CHURCH OF CHRIST
7479 Old Moon Road
DAVID G. SPIECE, MINISTER
• BIBLE STUDY 10:00 AM
• EVENING WORSHIP 6:30 PM
• WEDNESDAY MIDWEEK SERVICE 7:30 PM

NORTHSIDE CHRISTIAN CHURCH
(A New Testament Church)
1442 Double Churches Road
Sunday School 9:45am
Morning Worship 10:45am
Evening Worship 6:00pm
Spencer Arnold, Minister
324-5220

OUR LADY OF LOURDES CATHOLIC CHURCH
Located near Ft. Benning at 1953 Torch Hill Rd.
Phone 689-5720
SATURDAY VIGIL MASS 5:30pm
SUNDAY MASSES 8:30am & 11:00am

FOUR STAR PHOTO INC.
1 Hour Photo Service at Main PX Mall Bldg. 9230
682-9787
24 Hour Drop Off & Pick Up Services Available At:
• Bldg. 10800 Custer Terrace Shopette
• Bldg. 3218 Sand Hill PX Mall
• Bldg. 4 Infantry Hall PX
• Bldg. 1711 Main Post Mini Mall
• Bldg. 9002 Kelly Hill PX

Beth Middlemiss

Darrly Blackwell (l), Wilbur physical education teacher Bob Smith and Ted Moore are headed down to Victory Pond for a fishing class. Several students caught a fish for the first time during the recent outdoor education classes.

Dexter fifth graders get outdoor education

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

Fifth graders from Dexter School and Wilbur School joined forces for an outdoor education program that they will not soon forget. Eighty-one students, their teachers, their principals, and several invited guest lecturers conducted two full days of classes in the wooded areas around Victory Pond.

Classes in first aid, outdoor art, fishing, orienteering, ecology, meteorology, and astronomy all took place. Students were in groups that rotated through all of the activities.

Dr. Barry David, Dr. Kitty Howells, Dr. Kevin Lokkesmoe, and Dr. Cathy Nishimura from Martin Army Hospital taught first aid. Capt. Jim Walker from Lawson Air Field taught meteorology. Charles McInnis from Chattahoochee Valley Community College taught astronomy. Chuck Leonard, weather reporter for Channel 9, taught about weather.

Teachers from both Dexter School and Wilbur School also taught several of the classes.

Classes did not end when the sun went down. After a campfire with songs, ghost stories, and roasted marshmallows, the students participated in an astronomy class out under the stars.

Students brought their gear and spent the night at the 2nd Battalion, 54th Infantry Barracks at Sand Hill.

"This outdoor education program allows us to do many things that we can't do in a regular classroom setting," said Janet Wynn, Assistant Principal at Wilbur School and coordinator of this year's outdoor education program. This program provides us opportunities to actually observe plants and animals in a natural setting, to use a compass in a wooded area to find direction, to conduct an evening class under the stars, and to relate to each other in a different environment. Many friendships were formed that will carry over till next year when both the Wilbur and the Dexter fifth graders move to the sixth grade."

Faith teams compete in 'Odyssey of the Mind'

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

Two teams of 14 students from Faith Middle School have again done very well in the "Odyssey of the Mind" world finals held May 25, 26 and 27 at the University of Colorado in Boulder.

The "Fabulous Fables" team placed fifth out of 48 states, and the "Ye Gods" team placed ninth out of 48 states.

Libbie Kurinec, coach, stated, "Our goal was to place in the top 10, and we're thrilled to have accomplished that."

In Boulder the students competed alongside more than 4,500 others from the United States, Canada, Mexico, the Republic of China and the Soviet Union.

In all, more than 350,000 students from almost 7,000 elementary to post-secondary schools, participated in this year's "Odyssey of the Mind" competition.

"Odyssey of the Mind," an international creative problem-solving competition was founded by Dr. Sam Micklus, a New Jersey college professor who wanted to encourage thinking among his students.

He began with only 28 schools, all in New Jersey.

Corporate sponsor of the "Odyssey of the Mind" is the IBM Corporation, which has given grants to prepare and distribute supplementary curriculum materials to help teachers relate OM problem assignments to class work in science, mathematics, social studies, language arts, and technology education.

Team members for "Fabulous Fables" are:

Tara Norton, Gina Barlotta, Sterling Harris, Chris Moore, Troy Hutchins, Ben Engel, and Jason Rivest.

The teams were coached by Joan Hutchins and Libbie Kurinec.

CROWDS AND CROWDS OF READY BUYERS
CLASSIFIEDS
Ledger-Enquirer Classified
322-4500
It Makes A Lasting Impression

VERY BEST SHOES
Traffic Circle Shopping Center
Name Brand Shoes At A Discount Price
Babies & Childrens Shoes $5.00 up
Ladies Shoes $6.00 & up
Mens Shoes $6.00 & up
682-3567

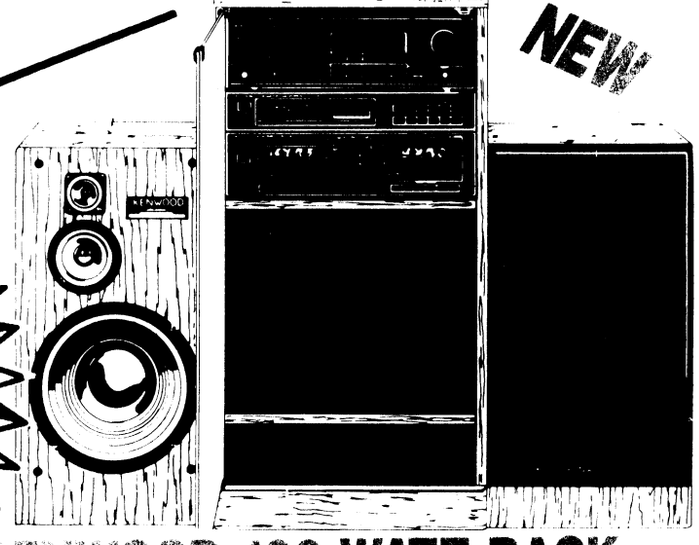
Econo Self Storage
4483 Victory Drive 404-682-3803
FORT BENNING
FOR THE MILITARY
Storage while TDY
Foot locker storage
Motorcycles
Boats
Personal effects
Bivouac
Permanent party storage
Fort Benning Blvd. Econo Self-Storage Victory Drive By-Pass FORT BENNING
UNIT SIZES AVAILABLE
Lockers 5(W) x 5(D) x 4(H)
5x10 10x10 $20 up 5x5 10x20
Call Now to Reserve Your Space
For Your Business or Family Items—Short or Long Term

C. F. Taylor & Associates, Inc.
Insurance & Financial Services
Military - All Ranks - Welcome
Driving Record - No Problem
Free Auto Quote
We Accept For Your Down Payment or Payment in Full: VISA MasterCard
ALL TYPES OF INSURANCE 322-6430
1308 Wynnton Court - Suite B - Columbus, Georgia 31906

Call 323-1234 For Home Delivery of
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer

L-E Advertising Really Pays!

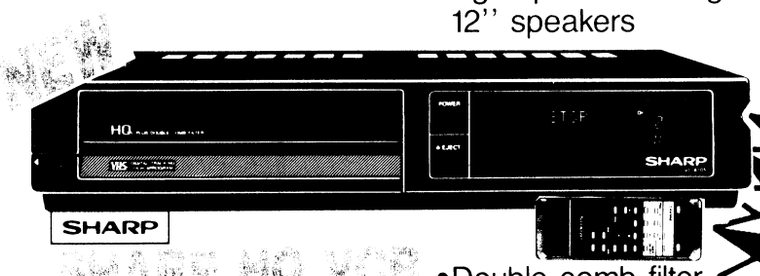
THE DEVON
UNDER NEW OWNERSHIP
• ELECTRONICS • JEWELRY • FURNITURE • APPLIANCES



Serving the Military & Civil Service Employees with...
Announcing
ON EVERY ITEM THROUGHOUT THE STORE

NEW

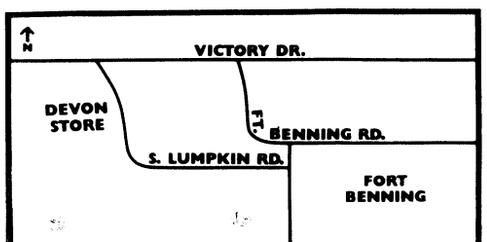
WAS $469.99
NOW $399.99
Special SALE $299.99
19 per mo.
Deferred Payment $344.16



•82 channels •Advanced 100% solid state chassis •Quick start, in-line gun CRT

Look for our name brands at low, low prices!

NEW
WAS $1,099.99
NOW $1,049.99
Special SALE $849.99
34 per mo.
Deferred Payment $975.42



KENWOOD 100 WATT RACK
•7 band graphic equalizer •Bi-directional tape dubbing •Quartz synthesized tuner w/20 station preset memory •Dual cassette with Dolby(R) B NR, high speed dubbing & auto tape selector •3-way 12'' speakers

SALE ENDS JUNE 21, 1989

NEW
WAS $579.99
NOW $519.99
Special SALE $399.99
25.50* per mo.
Deferred Payment $459.00

•Double comb filter •14 day/4 event programmable •111 channel voltage synthesized tuner •27 function remote

★ CONVENIENT CREDIT ★ NO DOWN PAYMENT ★ TAKE IT HOME TODAY

Mon.-Fri. 10am to 8pm;
Sat. 10am to 5pm;
Sun. 1pm to 5pm

WE FINANCE ALL QUALIFIED MILITARY & CIVIL SERVICE
*Per month pricing based on no down payment with 17.9% annual percentage for 18 months. Multiply monthly payments by 18 months for total cost. Price may vary depending on local sales tax, insurance or warranty

Sports

Engineers battle with headquarters soldiers in 197th softball action.

See B-4

Entertainment

Jekyll Island water amusement park offers "Splashtacular" fun for all.

See B-5

ARMY NEWS

Vuono comments on reduction proposal

On May 29, President Bush, supported by the NATO allies, announced an initiative to achieve parity in conventional forces in Europe.

Our first mission is to preserve peace and freedom. Arms control negotiations to achieve parity contribute to this mission.

Therefore, U.S. reductions accompanied by significantly larger Soviet reductions can lead to greater stability in the world. The Joint Chiefs of Staff and the Army participated fully in developing this initiative. We support it.

The president is able to propose this initiative and gain alliance support for it because of the high state of readiness of units in U.S. Army, Europe and around the world, the dedication of you and your families, and the tremendous ability you have demonstrated. You should take great pride in these accomplishments.

The specifics of a reduction are to be determined in consultation within the alliance and negotiation with the Warsaw Pact. The Army will continue to consult with commanders in Europe as the negotiations progress and planning to withdraw units proceeds. Moreover, when agreement on the President's conventional-parity initiative is reached, the Army will protect the interests of soldiers and their families as it is implemented.

"We are and will continue to be a trained and ready Army."

Gen. Carl E. Vuono
Army Chief of Staff

★ ★ ★

Recruiting command foresees future problems

The U.S. Army Recruiting Command met its mission goals the first half of fiscal year 1989, but some personnel officials see problems on the horizon for the rest of the year.

Total recruiting volume through the end of March stood at 99.8 percent of mission, and enlistment contracts totaled 52,719 out of a goal of 52,778. But officials say that was made possible by shifting 4,000 accessions from the first half of the year forward to the second half.

Also, while 98 percent of the recruits had a high school education, only 89.4 percent of the recruits were what the command calls 'high school diploma graduates,' a term which denotes the completion of 12 uninterrupted years of schooling and receipt of a diploma. The other 8.6 percent obtained GED certificates or equivalent diplomas before enlisting.

★ ★ ★

Finance center gives good reasons for bonds

Soldiers and civilians have several good reasons to buy U.S. Savings Bonds, say officials in the U.S. Army Finance and Accounting Center at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.

Some of them are:

- U.S. Savings Bond interest rates are highly competitive. Bonds held five years or longer earn 85 percent of the average yield on five-year treasury securities with interest compounded semiannually.
- U.S. Savings Bonds have a guaranteed minimum rate. Should market rates drop sharply, the average yield on savings bonds will pay no less than six percent for bonds held five years or longer.
- U.S. Savings Bonds are exempt from state and local income or property taxes.
- No federal taxes are paid on bond earnings until the bonds are cashed or reach final maturity.

-- from Army News Service reports.

TRADOC program aims to reduce number of civilian employee injuries

TRADOC News Service

Training and Doctrine Command officials are using a "carrot and stick" approach in an incentive program aimed at cutting the number of civilian employee injuries and the amount of workman's compensation paid to employees.

"Something has to be done," said Bill Teagle, manager of TRADOC's civilian injury and illness compensation incentive plan. "For the past several years, costs have been going up eight to 10 percent a year."

In fiscal year 1988, the Army paid more than $120 million for compensation to civilian employees under the Federal Employee Compensation Act (FECA). TRADOC's share of that bill was more than $10 million.

Army officials, using FY 88 as the base year, have directed commands to reduce their overall compensation costs by two percent a year, beginning with FY 89. Commands who save more than two percent will have that amount credited to their budgets. If a command's costs increases, that amount will be deducted from its budget.

Currently under FECA, the Department of Labor (DOL) pays medical bills and salaries to employees who cannot work because of job-related injuries and illnesses. DOL then charges those costs to the employing agency. Until this year, Army would pay those bills without changing its subordinate commands. But now Army officials want commands to manage the program to cut costs and injuries.

TRADOC's goals are a 5 percent

See FECA B-2

Live-fire exercise

Soldiers of the first platoon, D Co., 1st Bn., 29th Inf. Regt. and the third platoon, C Co., 1/29th, recently took part in a Combined Arms and Training Department live-fire exercise. Clockwise from right: 29th soldiers man machine guns on an M2 Abrams. A Bradley driver waits to move out. A Bradley rolls over an obstacle during the live-fire exercise.

Photos by John Chapman

Woman awarded for activity in community

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

A former mayor of South Main Post and director of Santa's Castle was recently awarded a certificate of appreciation for Patriotic Civilian Service by Fort Benning's commanding general.

Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire presented Diane Gravatt with this award which recognizes patriotic civilian service that contributed to the mission of an activity,command or staff agency of the Army or to the welfare of Army personnel.

The citation on the award reads, Gravatt has made innumerable and lasting contributions to improving the quality of life for Fort Benning's families for the past three years.As mayor of South Main Post she was instrumental in converting Russ Pond into a fishing and recreation area. She convinced the installation to put it on the five-year plan for a major upgrade.

Gravatt also developed a training module that is used during orientation for newly elected mayors. She has been the mayor's representative on the nonappropriated fund advisory council and has initiated a number of projects that have been selected for funding.

One of Gravatts projects is Santa's Castle. Santa's Castle is a year round agency which restores old toys using volunteer labor and gives them to families in need during the Christmas holiday season. In it's first three years of operation, Santa's Castle provided toys to over 1,600 children.

Diane Gravatt

Gravatt said she and co-founder Karen Chinen developed Santa's Castle from a project called "Toys for Tots"

See WOMAN B-2

Dirty AC filters might cause host of problems

By Becky Ray
Energy Branch

Does your air conditioner seem to run incessantly but provide little air circulation? Does the air smell stale? If so, try checking your air conditioner filter.

The most important and easiest part of maintaining an air conditioning unit is making sure the filter is clean and installed properly. It should be checked and changed at least once a month in summer. Permanent filters should be gently cleaned each month in a mild soap and air dried. Under no circumstances should an air conditioner be allowed to operate without a filter.

Dirty filters can cause a host of problems. As dirt and dust particles clog the filter, the air conditioner must work harder to force air through the filter. Air circulation is hampered, and the quality of the cooled air is reduced. Dust and other particles can be blown through the filter back into the room.

Air conditioners with dirty filters work longer and harder to circulate air, so are less effective and efficient. This extra demand on the system encourages maintenance problems. Dust can also accumulate in the air conditioning system itself, and cause extensive and sometimes irrepairable damage to the unit.

In Fort Benning's Family Housing units, filter replacement is the responsibility of the resident. Filters are issued free of charge at the Unit and Housing Support Branch, building 385, on Vibbert Avenue. Hours of operation are 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Tuesday through Friday and 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on Saturday. The telephone number is 545-1121. Please know the exact size of the filter or bring the old filter with you.

Problems with air conditioners should be reported to the DEH Work Reception Branch, 545-2135, between 7:30 a.m. and 4 p.m Monday through Friday. Please be prepared to give the clerk your address and building number and the nature of the problem. Make a record of your service order number.

This time of year is extremely busy for the air conditioning crew, so response may take a few days. Our mechanics are working long and hard to see that all repairs are made properly. Service orders are responded to in the order in which they are written.

AUSA hosts military night at Columbus Mudcats game

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Fort Benning's commanding general threw in the first ball of a Mudcats game last week in honor of the Association of the U.S. Army Military Appreciation Night at Golden Park.

The baseball was given to Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire by SFC James Walker who jump into the park with the ball during a skydiving exhibition by the Silver Wings.

Walker and Spigelmire were not the only green suiters at the park; more than 2,000 soldiers turned out to see the color guard and to listen to the band strike up some melodies.

During the evening, all AUSA ticket holders who entered the park were given the opportunity to be eligible for a drawing. Between each inning a name was called off and the winner received a prize.

The Mudcats weren't quite as lucky, they lost to Birmingham 9 - 7.

Ann M. McDonald

Dayton Preston, general manager of the Columbus Mudcats, and Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire, post commander, walk to the pitcher's mound at Golden park where Spiglemire threw the first ball of the game.

Ann M. McDonald

SFC James Walker, of the Silver Wings parachute demonstration team, waves to the crowd after parachuting into the park.

FECA

Continued from B-1

reduction in FY 89 and a 2.5 percent cut each following year. The command's incentive plan includes competition among installations to share in any savings. The installations and activities have been placed in three categories. They are:

Category A — installations and activities whose compensation costs exceeded $500,000 in FY 88.

Category B — installations and activities with costs in FY 88 from $200,000 to $500,000.

Category C — installations and activities with FY 88 costs of less than $200,000.

When money is credited to the TRADOC budget by DA, the top saver in each category will share that money. Category A will receive 50 percent of it, with 30 percent going to the Category B winner and 20 percent to the Category C winner.

The "stick" in the incentive program comes when an installation's compensation costs increase. That same percentage of increase over FY 88 will be deducted from its budget.

There are four areas in which TRADOC officials want to see savings. They are:

Total compensation.

New lost time for compensable injuries and illnesses.

Long-term compensation rolls.

Total number of days of continuation of pay (COP).

"There must be a reduction in the numbers of employees who are on the long-term rolls," Teagle said. "There are people who have been receiving compensation since 1961."

Long-term is defined as compensation that continues for a year or more.

"If a person cannot work, then, of course, no one should expect them to. But there are other alternatives, such as transitional or light duty," he said.

A transitional assignment is used when a person suffers an injury that would keep him or her from working in the original position. Transitional duty allows a person to work at a less strenuous job while recovering from the injury. After recovering, he or she can return to the former job.

Employees also can be offered rehabilitation jobs in which they are trained for new jobs within their capabilities.

In these cases, the employees receive a regular salary and is not on the compensation rolls.

Such alternatives would also reduce the number of days of COP. COP comes into the picture when an employee cannot work because of a job-related injury of illness. The installation where the worker is employed continues to pay the person's medical bills and salary for a maximum of 45 days. If a person cannot return to work at the end of 45 days, then compensation is paid by DOL.

In FY 88 more than $4 million in COP was paid throughout the Army. TRADOC paid $820,000. The COP bill was in addition to FECA costs.

"The most obvious answer to the problem would be to make all work places safe," Teagle said. "Supervisors and managers must take those actions, too."

"It is well within the command's capability to reduce FECA costs by five percent. It only requires concern, creative thinking and positive action," he said.

Woman

Continued from B-1

which they took over from the post fire department.

"Before Santa's castle the mayors selected who would get the toys and then the fire department would give them to the families," she said. "The department did the best they could in cleaning them up before distributing them but the toys still weren't in the greatest shape."

Gravatt said they decided a year long program would be much better because it would allow ample time to get the toys in tip-top shape and allow enough time to identify more needy families.

"Another bonus with this project is that it allows parents come in and select the presents from the shelves instead of being given an often unwanted item," she said.

Gravatt has done all of this work voluntarily although she has a husband and three sons.

"I live here in this community, and I have to take care of it along with everybody else," she said.

Gravatt added that her greatest reward for her efforts was seeing the new mayors emplaced in their offices.

"The community has so much potential," she said. "And, to see women like those mayors excited about the community and willing to take care of it make me very happy."

Gravatt said she will continue her volunteer efforts in Hawaii where her husband, Lt Col. Arthur Gravatt will be assigned as the commander of the 65th Engineer Battalion, Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

MACH reminds transferring soldiers of EFMP screening

Martin Army Community Hospital

Soldiers tranferring to overseas commands, whether they plan to take family members or not, are required to have medical records of all family members screened through the Exceptional Family Member Program at Martin Army Community Hospital. The purpose of the screening is to identify exceptional family members who must be enrolled in the EFMP when found to have medical conditions, educational disabilities, or other types of support needs.

The EFMP is a mandatory, department of the Army, Program (AR 600-75), which became effective Aug. 1, 1986. If soldiers do not have their family members screened after receiving notice of pending overseas assignments, they may discover later that family travel has not been approved.

If during the screening process, a medical condition or educational condition is found to exist, then a series of DA questionnaires must be completed prior to completion of the screening. Questionnaires must be coordinated with other facilities which could result in additional delay in finalizing the family member screening process for overseas deployment.

A large number of soldiers and spouses are still unfamiliar and uninformed on the program and its requirements. If you are unsure whether a family member qualifies for enrollment in EFMP or if you are alerted for an overseas assignment, you can contact the EFMP Office, MACH (544-4350) for further information and scheduling required appointments. Walk-ins cannot be seen due to the large number of daily scheduled screening/enrollments.

If the social ervice assistants are unable to take your call, you may leave your name and phone numbers on the answering machine and your call will be returned. Messages should be as clear as possible to allow prompt reply. (POC Ms. Moore, 544-4350 — Appointments are required.)

Hospital marks 1st anniversary of volunteer Hospice Program

Martin Army Community Hospital

The Martin Army Community Hospital Hospice Program, a program in which volunteers work with terminally ill patients, marked its first anniversary in May. One year ago, the first class of volunteers completed training and immediately began working with terminally ill patients. Four additional volunteers joined the program after graduating from a subsequent training program.

MACH Hospice is a sub-unit of the Columbus Hospice Program. The Hospice program provides medical and emotional support to terminally ill patients that wish to remain at home for their last days.

During the past year, MACH Hospice volunteers have provided services to 24 patients. Fourteen of these patients were referred by MACH. The other 10 patients came from referrals from the Columbus Hospice. MACH volunteers have agreed to work with nonmilitary, connected patients as a means of helping integrate services provided by Columbus Hospice and MACH Hospice. A total of 611 hours have been volunteered the past year by MACH Hospice volunteers.

Patricia Barnett presently serves as MACH Hospice volunteer coordinator. Other volunteers are: Georgianne Barnes, John Galloway, Claudette Jefferson, Freda Ketchum, Cpt. Robert Lace, Linda MaGee, Rosanno Melnick, Mary Phelps, Jan Stables and Brenda Thomas.

CHATTAHOOCHEE COMMUNITY DAY SCHOOL

KING STREET & MCNAUGHTON
P.O. Box 420
CUSSETA, GA31805

989-3243
7:00 a.m.-6:00 p.m.

Renate Lewis, Director

This is the program that parents of preschool children have been asking for in the Columbus-Fort Benning-Cusseta area!

- small sized classes
- developed learning centers in each classroom
- positive self-image is the center of all program
- hands-on learning
- beautiful and fun equipment for learning
- music, movement, social skills, pre-math and reading readiness, open-ended art, cooking, special events

This unique school was planned, designed and sponsored by Chattahoochee County to meet the needs of preschool children of this community. The school is governed by a board consisting of county officials, parents, and the school staff and is non-profit.
The school is located about 10 minutes from 185 at exit 1 S in Cusseta, Georgia.

Spend a few minutes and come to visit just to see what is possible in this new approach to child care, the answer to the day care delima.
Cost: $45.00 per week

HEART ATTACK

Signals

- Uncomfortable pressure, fullness, squeezing or pain in the center of the chest, lasting two minutes or more.
- Pain may spread to shoulders, neck or arms.
- Severe pain, dizziness, fainting, sweating, nausea or shortness of breath may also occur.

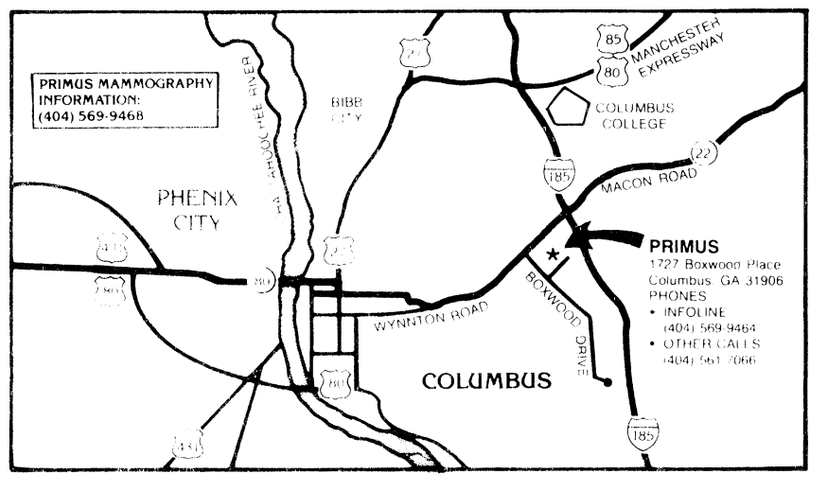
Actions

- Recognize the heart attack "signals".
- Stop activity and sit or lie down.
- Act at once if pain lasts for two minutes or more. Call the emergency medical service, or have someone take you to the nearest hospital emergency room.

American Heart Association — WE'RE FIGHTING FOR YOUR LIFE

PRIMUS

NEW ARMY PRIMUS CENTER PROVIDES WALK-IN MEDICAL CARE



PRIMUS Walk-In centers are a new approach to providing military beneficiaries access to primary health care. PRIMUS Columbus will be open 365 days each year—from 0700 to 2000 weekdays and from 0900 to 1600 Saturdays, Sundays and Holidays (Effective 10-1-88).

No appointment is necessary and there is no cost to patients for treatment and medication.

All military beneficiaries, including family members, entitled to care at military treatment facilities and enrolled in the DEERS are eligible for care. Basic laboratory and X-ray services are provided on site. Licensed and credentialed physicians and staff provide medical care.

PRIMUS Columbus is located at
1727 Boxwood Place
Columbus, GA 31906

Infoline: (404) 569-9464
Other Calls: (404) 561-7066

PRIMUS Mammography Information: (404) 569-9468

Critically ill or seriously injured patients should go to a hospital emergency room.
Services are provided by PHP Healthcare Corporation, Alexandria, Virginia, under contract to the US Army Health Services Command.

2nd NCO Academy moves from Bragg to Benning

USAIC Public Affairs Office

It's the Year of the Noncommissioned Officer and in an unexpected compliment to the Army theme, Fort Benning will be the new training location for Reserve component and National Guard NCOs from throughout the Southeast.

Last week the doors swung open for the first time at the newly relocated Second U.S. Army NCO Academy. The school was switched to Benning from Fort Bragg, N.C., where it had been since 1984. The move here was made because Bragg didn't have a year-round training site according to the school's commandant, CSM Steven Foust.

"We had to give up ou facilities at Bragg in May, and we wouldn't get them back until September, when they were finished training ROTC cadets," he said.

Besides having a fulltime facility there is another advantage to the academy's move. They are closer to 2nd Army Headquarters.

Second Army is headquartered at Fort Gillem, near Atlanta, and is commanded by Lt. Gen. Orren R. Whiddon. Second Army commands the Army Reserve and provides training supervision to the Army national Guard in eight Southerastern states, Puerto Rico and the U.S. Virgin Islands.

Foust said during fiscal year 1989 the school will only conduct the Primary Leadership Development Course. The school expects to train 900 soldiers during that time.

"Next year we will have an eleven series BNCOC, ANCOC," he said, "We are also developing and First Sergeant's Course and a Battle Staff Course."

In fiscal year 1990 the unit will train more than 2,100 soldiers.

There are 19 soldiers at the academy full-time and 59 drilling reservists who will fill in the gaps.

The school grounds consist of, 29 buildings and a motor pool. There are 12 troop barracks which can comfortably house more than 350 soldiers.

"These facilities are one hundred percent better," Foust said, "I'd like to thank the post for it's support in giving these facilities and the great reception we've gotten since we arrived."

Ann M. McDonald

Maj. Gen. James Crysel (l) and Ted Bodley share a moment after meeting again for the first time in 20 years.

Taxi section has ACOE spirit

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Personnel in the Taxi Section, Transportation Division, decided that just because motor pools aren't pleasing to the eye, it didn't mean their office had to be that way.

The employees of the Taxi Section took it upon themselves to turn their "dungeon-like" office into one of the nicest looking areas in the motor pool.

Together they cleaned, painted and carpeted the office located in building 221. They also found some used furnishing for the office.

Unfortunately, the group isn't able to spend much timely in their newly remodeled office. Their job is to make sure post personnel get to their destination.

They don't seem to mind, however. They receive phone calls from satisfied customers, almost daily, according to John Mollett, Chief, Taxi Section.

"I occasionally get letters o commendation for my employees service during special projects or peak periods," he added.

These drivers are constantly serving customers and each time the door of their vehicle is opened, they give the same friendly smile. That is exactly what the Army Communities of Excellence is all about.

Man finds friend he thought was dead for 20 years

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Two friends have been reunited because of a story that recently appeared in The Bayonet, Fort Benning's post newspaper.

The story was about a visit from Maj. Gen. James Crysel, Commander of the U.S. Total Army Personnel Agency, Alexandria, Va. who came to Benning to speak at his son, Pvt. James Crysel's, graduation from training.

Ted Bodley who works in the Directorate of Logistics, here, saw the photo Crysel in the paper and couldn't believe his eyes.

"I just stared at that picture." he said, "You see, I thought he was killed in Vietnam, but there he was in the paper."

Bodley said he thought he was dead because he had asked around about Crysel and was informed that he was killed.

Bodley retired from the Army and wasn't familiar with was what was going on in the active Army.

"It was quite a shock to see his face after all these years," he said, "I had finally gotten used to the loss and there he was in black and white. I immediately called him and he informed me he was coming to his son's airborne graduation."

Bodley was Crysel's first NCO when he entered the Army in 1959.

They served together at Fort Jackson, S.C.

Crysel explained that when he arrived at the unit, the two platoon leaders to hold the position before him had been fired by the commander and he didn't want to leave the company in the same way. So, Bodley squared him away.

"He made sure my uniform was just right, and even gave me his helmet liner so that I was completely straight," Crysel said.

The two became friends fast and share many memories from that time.

Bodley recalled the time that the two helped construct a mess hall that still stands at Fort Jackson.

"I was there when his son Jim was born and now he's graduating from Airborne School," he said.

The men saw each other for the first time in more than 20 years at the graduation.

"There weren't many words spoken when we met," Bodley said, "but we're going to catch up. We've exchanged addresses and we plan on doing some fishing."

Fitness, wellness week attracts attention to McBride school

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

Fitness-Wellness Week recently brought several members of the Fort Benning community to McBride School. The week was designated by the McBride staff to enhance the already strong physical education and health programs there.

Parents were invited to join their children in a variety of activities during the week that emphasized fitness, wellness and safety.

Maj. John Henderson, M.D., from Family Practice at Martin Army Community Hospital, spoke with McBride students about the benefits of exercise. In another session, Maj. Carol Handley, a dietician at MACH, talked with students about nutrition.

Linda Scorgie, station manager 3, from the American Red Cross, came to McBride for a special program on summer safety. She emphasized water safety with special tips for safety in and around swimming pools.

Spec. Tony Bailey, from the Military Police, presented a program on drug awareness. He talked with the youngsters about ways to stay away from drugs.

The week ended with a one-mile power walk for third graders. Several parents joined in the walk.

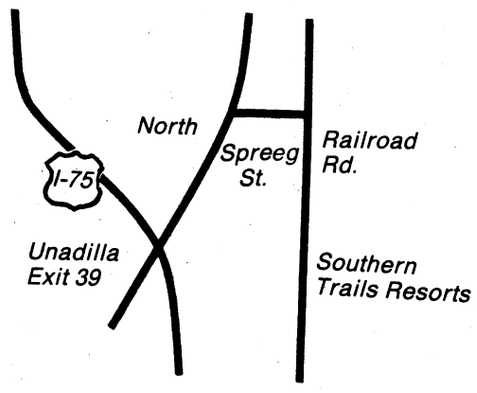
The McBride School physical education teacher, A.C. McGinnis; school nurse, Liliane Baumgartner; and counselor, Jim Rutland, work in conjunction with the rest of the McBride faculty to stress safety, sportsmanship, drug education and overall development of sound minds and bodies.

"We hope to make our Wellness Week an annual event," said principal, Del Hicks. "The week brought new and interesting information to our students. It gave them several important safety suggestions to remember while they are involved in activities now and during the summer."

ATTENTION CAMPERS

Southern Trails Resorts
Exit 39 Unadilla, GA
Proudly Announces
Our New Campground

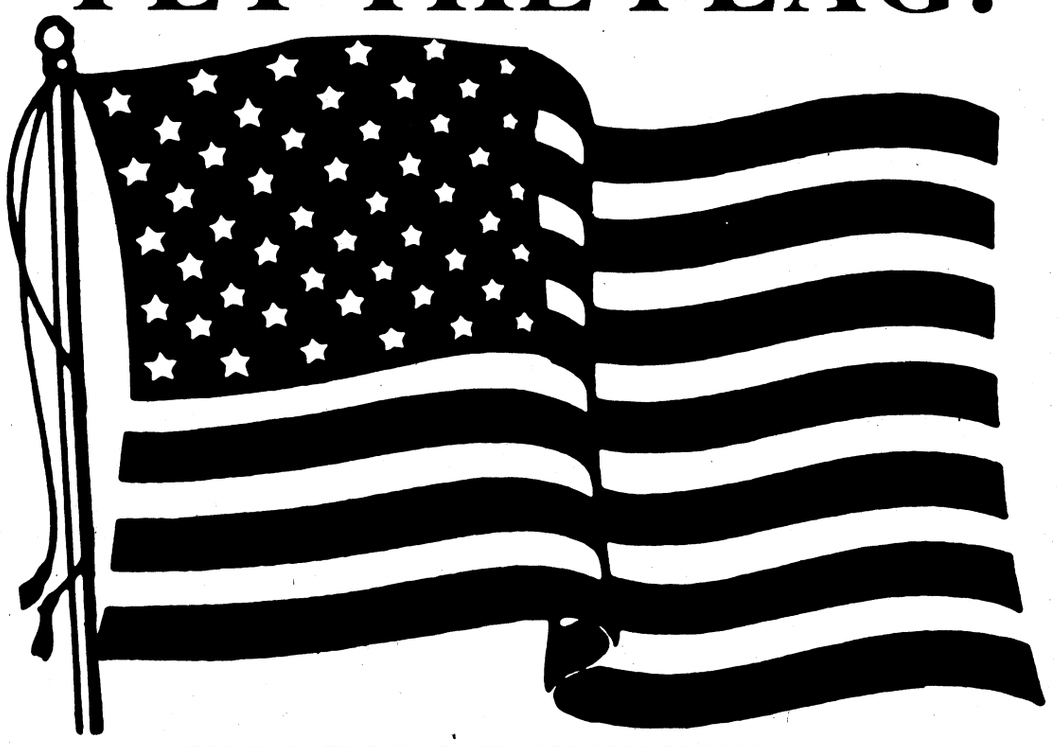
If you like the North Georgia Mountains-Alpine Helen and enjoy the white powder beaches of Panama City come by and let us tell you about these and over 500 more private, luxury camping resorts throughout the U.S. and Canada.



FREE CAMPING 3 DAYS 2 NIGHTS

FREE TV 5" A/C-D/C TV

I-75 to Exit 39, go east 1 block, turn right, cross tracks, turn right, follow to campground. (Next to Southeastern Arena.)



FOR RESERVATIONS:
912-627-3254
betweem 7 a.m. and 8 p.m. collect

QUALIFICATIONS:
1. 25 years of age or older.
2. Show proof of ownership of R.V. (Motorhome or Trailer).
3. If married, both husband and wife must be present and tour the resort.
4. Present this ad at Campground Office.
5. Must be gainfully employed or retired.
6. Current CCC members not eligible.

This is not a timeshare or real estate offering. Expires July 15, 1989.

FLY THE FLAG!

BUY A FLAG AND SHOW YOUR COLORS EVERY DAY, ESPECIALLY ON:
Independence Day—July 4

$10.99
Plus $1.75 postage if ordered by mail.

* 3x5-Foot Fine Cotton Flag with Canvas Heading and Brass Grommets
* 6-Foot, 2-Piece Staff, Cord Halyard
* Golden Eagle Top Ornament
* Heavy Stamped Steel Rust Resist Mounting Bracket, Screws, Instructions

MAIL OR BRING COUPON TO:
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
Cashier
17 W. 12th Street
Columbus, GA 31902

Please send me_____flag kit(s) at $10.99 plus $1.75 postage for each kit. My check or money order is enclosed. Make checks payable to Columbus Ledger-Enquirer, please.

NAME_____

ADDRESS_____

CITY_____ STATE_____ ZIP_____

Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
Where You'll Find Out

SPORTS

SPORTS SHORTS

Youth bowlers needed

Youth bowling leagues are still forming at the Main Post Bowling Center. Competition began Tuesday, but bowlers are still needed to fill the league.

Bowlers, ages 4-18, will compete Tuesday nights throughout the season in three different leagues; bantoms, preps and juniors and seniors.

For more information, call the bowling center at 545-4272.

Fishing rodeo Saturday

The 1989 Youth Fishing Rodeo will be held Saturday at Russ Pond in celebration of National Fishing Week which began June 5.

The rodeo, which will run from 9 to 11:30 a.m., is free and open to children ages 5 through 15 of active duty and retired soldiers and Department of Defense civilians.

Participants may register for the rodeo today at Youth Services, building 105, from 8 a.m.-4:30 p.m. A late registration will be held the day of the rodeo.

In order to help make the rodeo a success, the Georgia Department of Natural Resources, by contract, has stocked the pond with 2,000 cat fish.

Drawings will be held throughout the day for prizes such as camping and fishing equipment.

Prizes will also be awarded for winners in three catagories: largest single bream by weight,largest string by number and largest catfish by wieght.

All participants will be required to check-in with the Fort Benning Bass Club before leaving the rodeo to get a accurate count of participants and fish caught during the rodeo.

For more information, call 545-3070/3913.

Post powerlifting meet June 24

The 2nd Annual Fort Benning Powerlifting competition will be held June 24 at Briant Wells Gym. Lifters will squat, bench press and dead lift. Current U.S. Powerlifting Federation rules will be in effect, and regulation one-piece suits are mandatory. There is no entry fee.

Competition is open to all Fort Benning male and female active duty military, military dependents, retirees, Department of Army and Department of Defense civilians and Non-appropriated Fund civilians.

Awards will be presented to the top male finishers in each weight category. Women awards will be determined by formula.

For the first time at Fort Benning, a team powerlifting competition will be held. Lifters may compete in the team competition as well as individually. The top three teams will receive awards.

Weigh-ins will be held at Briant Wells Gym June 23 from 4 to 7 p.m. and on June 24 from 8 to 9:15 a.m. A meeting will be held for all lifters on June 24 at 9 a.m.

Lifters may sign up at any post gym or show up for the weigh-in and lifters meeting. For more information, contact Speedy Austin at 545-4726/4388.

Chess tournament set for June 17

The 1989 preliminary Army Chess Tournament will be held at Kelley Hill Community Recreation Center June 17 at 10 a.m. This tournament will determine nominations for attendance at the Army Chess Tournament to be held at Fort Belvoir, Va. September 10 through 16.

Only active duty military personnel are eligible to compete. The tournament will be U.S. Chess Federation sanctioned and membership is required. Memberships may be purchased at the time of registration.

Contact Kelley Hill Community Recreation Center for details at 544-3079 Wednesday through Saturday after 12 noon.

USO giving away Braves' tickets

The USO is giving away Atlanta Braves baseball tickets by means of a drawing. Only active duty military personnel are eligible. To enter, put your name, rank, duty station, duty and work phone numbers on a postcard (DoD postcards are illegal) and mail to USO/Atlanta Braves Tickets, P. O. Box 20963, Atlanta, GA 30320. One entry per person please.

A drawing will be held weekly on Tuesday. Each winner will receive two tickets to a Thursday or Sunday home game. Tickets should be picked up before the game at the press box office. Military identification must be shown when picking up tickets.

Follow Me Course holds tournaments

The Follow Me Golf Course will hold the Bi-City Golf Tournament (gross event, flighted) June 17 through 18.

Golfers pay half-price greens fees Monday through Friday with cart rental from 1 p.m. until dark.

Also to be held this month is the 10th annual Purple & Gold Open Golf Tournament. The tournament will be held June 24 through 25.

Prizes will be given to first through fourth places in each flight as well as golfers with closest to the hole and longest drive.

For more information, call 687-1940.

Pot-O-Gold is $4,050

Fort Benning bowling centers' "Pot-O-Gold" cash prize has reached $4,050.

Bowlers must strike in certain frames to win the pot.

League and open bowlers who purchase a three-game ticket and pay a $1 entry fee prior to bowling are eligible to enter the tournament.

For more information, call the Main Post Bowling Center at 545-4272 or 545-1949.

YA needs swimmers

The Youth Activities Center is looking for swimmers for its swim team. Tryouts are held at Briant Wells swimming pool Mondays through Thursdays.

The swim team is a year-round organization.

Call the Youth Activities Center at 545-3070 for information.

Bowling centers offer specials

The Fort Benning bowling centers are offer the following specials:

Youth Special 18 years old and younger, three games, $1.50 including shoes, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Monday through Friday.

Adult special, 19-years-old and older, three games, $2.25 plus shoes.

Evening Special, 5 p.m. to closing, Monday through Friday, three games, $3 plus shoes.

Holidays not included.

Call 545-4272 or 544-1985 for additional information regarding these and other special bowling discounts.

— Compiled from staff reports.

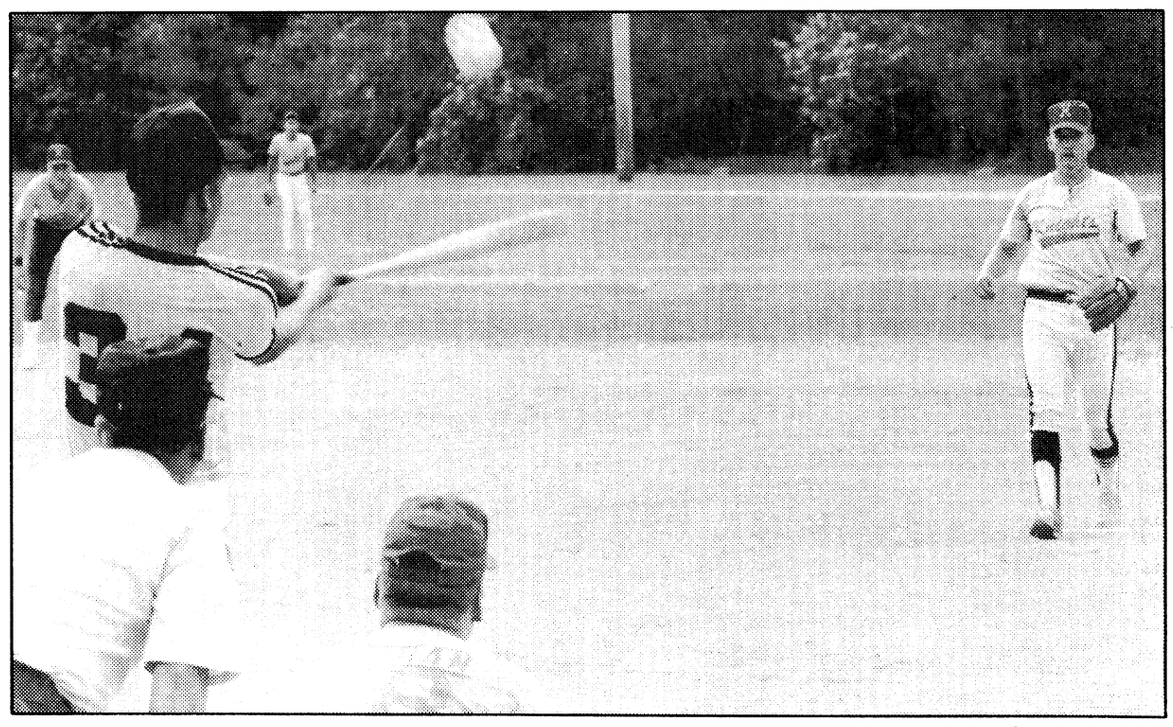
HHC, 197th downs 72nd engineers, in mid-season USAIC softball action

By Aurelio Feliberty
197th Infantry Brigade

Softballers from Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 197th Infantry Brigade, showed the 72nd Engineer Company what they were made of in a recent match up on Kelley Hill as they took the engineers, 9-6.

The top of the 1st inning opened up fast with two runs made by HHC's Todd Rector and Kieth Hutchson.

The engineers responded in the bottom of the 1st with a run of their own by Bruce Buscher.



HHC's Scott Utter capitalized on an HHC triple in the top of the 2nd, with a single of his own, driving in another run.

HHC continued its domination over the engineers in the top of the fifth with a burst of five runs, which pushed the score to 8-1.

The 72nd started a come back in the bottom of the 5th with four runs.

Both teams added another run to the scoreboard before the game ended at 9-6.

"I feel good about winning, and now I'm looking forward to the playoffs, said HHC's Larry Walker."

Aurelio Feliberty

Todd Rector, of HHC, 197th hits a fly ball to left field against the 72nd engineers.

Despite the loss, 72nd engineer Todd M. Savoie said, "The team is getting better with all the practice we have been getting."

HHC coach, Arthur Weyler predicated the win before the start, confidently stating, "We are going to take it."

David A. Fitch, of HHC, went on to add that not only would the team win this game, but also the playoffs. "The team is getting better, and we're playing as a unit," Fitch said.

"The team will win (the playoffs) through the unity we are displaying," said HHC's Alen Ogin.

Race calendar

JUNE

10 COLUMBUS - "Just Say No To Drugs" 12.5-mile Bicycle Marathon, Benning Hills Park, 10 a.m. Race ends at Carver Park. No entry fee. Teens 14 to 18 years old. Grand prize scholarship to attend Drug Prevention Conference, St. Simons Island, Ga. Other prizes are bicycle and trophies. Each participant receives a free personalized T-shirt. Information: 687-5172.

10 CAMILLA - "Love Run 5K" 8:30 a.m. Information: (912) 336-7610 or 336-0945.

10 CAVE SPRINGS - 5K, 8:30 a.m., $7, $9 entry fees. Georgia School for Deaf campus. Free admission to Cave Springs Arts Festival, pool and cave to all runners. Information: (404) 777-8744.

10 LILBURN - "Life Flight 5K" 8 a.m. Information: (404) 939-3007.

17 STONE MOUNTAIN - "Comin' 'round the Mountain 10K" 8 a.m., Stone Mountain Park. Information: (404) 920-2881.

17 DALTON - "Decatur Federal Run for the Good Life 8K" 8 a.m. Information: (404)278-0847.

17 SUWANEE - "Run for US 10K" 8 a.m. Information: (404) 577-1582.

24 COLUMBUS - "Whisperwood Spa and Club Biathlon" 5-mile run & 25-mile bike ride (team or individual), 8 a.m., Flat Rock Road entrance to Whisperwood. $10 individual entry fee, $18 team entry fee. Information: (404) 569-9995.

24 LAGRANGE - "9th Running Gabbettville Long Cane 10K" 8 a.m. Also, 1-mile run/walk, 7:30 a.m. Ten year age groups. Information: (404)663-2240.

Fishing pro to hold tournament in Eufaula for old and young

Fish World Inc.

One of the largest youth fishing events ever produced in the outdoors field, will be held in Eufaula, Ala., June 30.

Tom Mann's Junior Fisherman Tournament will be held in conjunction with Tom Mann's Research Angler Rally and will take place across from Tom Mann's Fish World on U.S. Highway 431 North in Eufaula.

Youngsters, from toddlers through 15 years of age, will test their outdoor skills with Tom Mann and his friends in the industry. Also present, will be a host of outdoor writers and a number of television stations that plan to film the festivities.

Over 500 youngsters from 25 states are expected to participate in three major events — fishing, casting and airgun competition. Children will be classified in four age divisions: toddlers through 5, 6 to 8, 9 to 12, and 13 to 15 years of age. There are trophies and prizes awarded to the top 10 winners in each division and category. There are plenty of prizes for all kids taking part in the events of the day.

The Research Angler Rally Adult Tournament will be held the following day, July 1, on Lake Eufaula. This is for ages 16 and up. Over 300 entries will be expected from all over the country. The weigh-in will be held at Lakepoint Resort. Cash prizes and trophies will be awarded. In addition, a ladies tournament will be held at Fish World on July 1. The purpose of this weekend is strickly to promote family life in the outdoors.

Anyone interested in participating in these events should contact Fish World, Route 2, Box 84-C, Eufaula, Ala. 36027, or call (205) 687-7044.

STANDINGS

USAIC SOFTBALL

TSB

HQ, 2/11th	6	0
HQ, 1/507th	2	2
B Co., 1/11th	2	2
A Co., 1/11th	2	3
HQ, 1/11th	0	5

36th ENGR. GP.

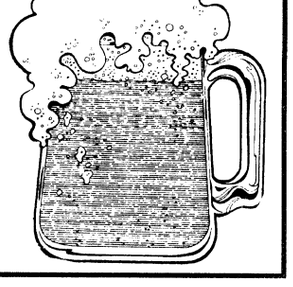
East League

598th Maint. Co.	4	0
215th FSU	3	2
533rd Trans. Co.	2	2
608th Ord. Co.	2	3
HHC, 36th	1	2

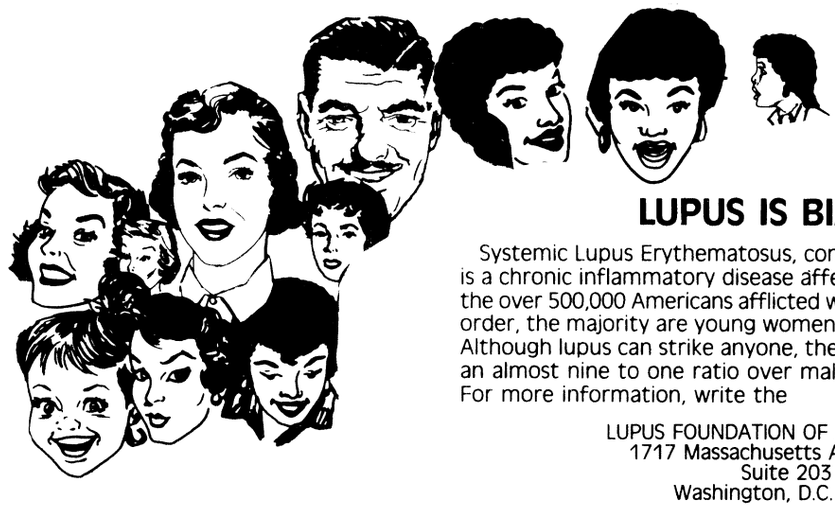
West League (43rd Eng. Bn.)

A Co.	6	0
C Co.	4	1
HSC	4	3
B Co.	2	3
43rd Officers	1	5
586th AFB	1	5

COMBINED LEAGUE



498th Med. Co.	4	0
2nd MASH	4	0
MEDDAC	3	1
HHC, 34th Med.	3	1
MPA	2	1
Nav. Res.	2	1
Inf. Board	2	2
75th Rngr.	2	3
CID	1	2
USAF	1	3
NCOA	1	4
690th Med. Co.	0	3
USARSA	0	4



WOMEN'S LEAGUE

215th FSU	2	0
MC Prod.	2	0
29th Inf.	2	0
Outlaws	1	1
34th Med.	1	0
197th	0	1
Touch ' Class	0	1
TIC C.U.	0	1
DEH	0	2

DISCOUNT AUTO GLASS
2315 - 2nd Ave.
323-4604
10% Military Discount
We Install Glass In Both Domestic And Foreign Cars

PILLOW TALK LOUNGE
1207 1ST Ave. 324-5806
SPECIAL
Thursday, June 15 8 P.M.
Captain Morgan & Red Stripe
BEER
Plus 10 lovely ladies.

LUPUS IS BIASED.

Systemic Lupus Erythematosus, commonly called lupus or SLE, is a chronic inflammatory disease affecting connective tissue. Of the over 500,000 Americans afflicted with this immune system disorder, the majority are young women in their childbearing years. Although lupus can strike anyone, the disease attacks females at an almost nine to one ratio over males.
For more information, write the

LUPUS FOUNDATION OF AMERICA, INC.
1717 Massachusetts Avenue, NW
Suite 203
Washington, D.C. 20036

Give to the Heart Fund

ENTERTAINMENT

'Summer Waves' at Jekyll Island offers family fun

Summer Waves

Jekyll Island's water park, Summer Waves, opened May 27 for its second season of splashing family water fun.

Located on South Riverview Drive along the Intracoastal Waterway, the 11-acre park has five "Splashtacular" water attractions for all ages and levels of bravery.

From wild slides to calm waters, sunbathers and daredevils alike will find their pace at Summer Waves.

This season — with monthly special events, new extended hours, $5 after 5 p.m. admission, "Tuesday Tube Day" and sand volleyball courts — Summer Waves will offer more wave-crashing excitement and sun-soaking good times than any place from north Georgia to central Florida.

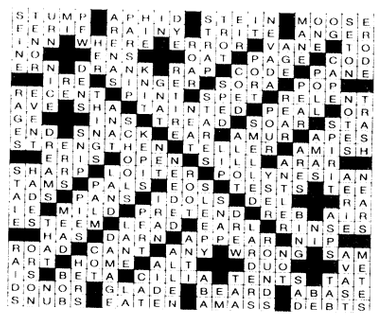
Thrill-seekers wanting high-speed excitement should go directly to the five-story "Big Bounce" twin speed slides that hurtle riders down two breath-taking drops at speeds up to 30 mph before gliding them to a slippery-smooth landing. For twisting, turning fun, the 40-foot-high "Hurricane" and "Tornado" serpentine slides race riders through 360-degree turns before splashing them in a catch pool. New this year, "Tuesday Tube Day" will give riders on inner tubes a fast-paced sliding thrill on the "Hurricane" every Tuesday.

To slow the pace, the "Frantic Atlantic" wave pool generates 4-foot, ocean-like waves while the "Slow Motion Ocean" endless river meanders through the park at a leisurely 3 mph. Both are great for hopping on an inner tube, relaxing and soaking up the sun. For toddlers, the "Pee Wee Puddle" is a carefully-supervised area with a padded slide, the good ship Summer Waves, a tire swing from the boat mast and mounted water squirt guns, all in only 12 inches of bubbling water.

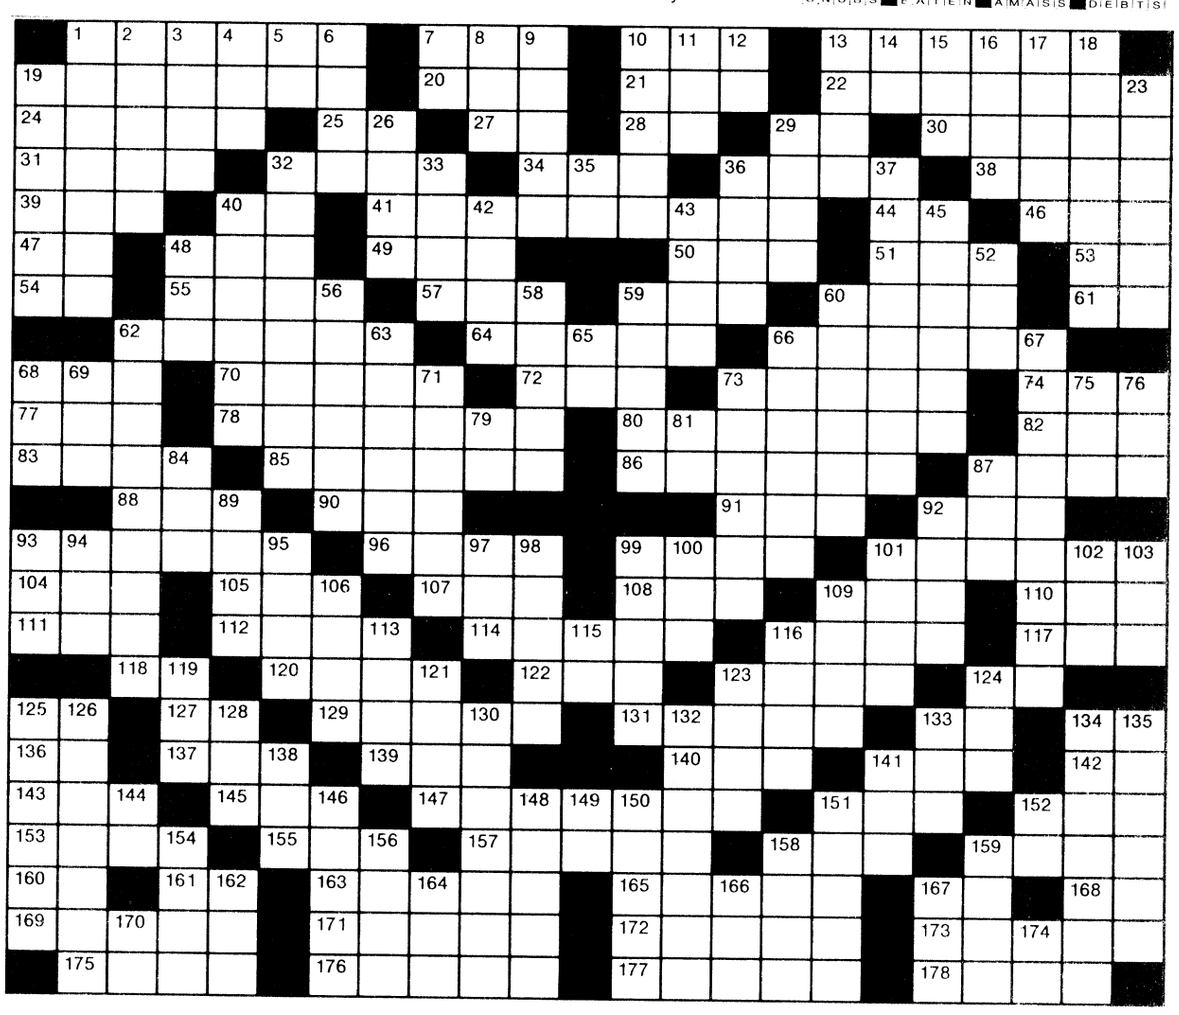
The park features an elaborate, coastal landscape of palm and oak trees, brilliant flowers, ornamental grasses and bedding plants nestled in mosiac patterns along lush stretches of lawn. Shade structures provide a cool place to enjoy a hamburger and drink from the "Picnic Shop," or tingling frozen dessert from the new "Ice Scream Shack." The "Summer Stuff" shop offers suntan lotions, visors, shirts and swimsuits. Staff for the park includes certified life guards and ride attendants. Guest services include changing rooms, showers, lockers and tube rental. First aid and guest relations are also provided.

Hours are Monday through Thursday from 10 a.m. to 6 p.m. and Friday through Sunday from 10 a.m. to 8 p.m. The park will be open Fridays in July from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m. Full-day admission is $7.95 for adults and $5.95 for children ages 4 to 8. Children ages three and under are admitted free. Season passes and group rates are also available.

PUZZLE



ACROSS



1 Team of three horses
7 Employ
10 Sched. abbr.
13 Cured
19 Playhouse
20 Crony: colloq.
21 Hawaiian wreath
22 Went in
24 Stunted persons
25 Sun god
27 "Magnum, —"
28 Running
29 Exist
30 Brief
31 Finishes
32 Attitude
34 Cover
36 Seasoning
38 Kennedy matriarch
39 Paid notices
40 Physician: abbr.
41 Concerns
44 Equally
46 Corded cloth
47 Tellurium symbol
48 Theater sign: abbr.
49 Ventilate
50 Dawn goddess
53 Concerning
54 12 mos.
55 Fruit seeds
57 "Gunga —"
59 Carpenter's tool
60 Mix
61 Roosevelt ID
62 Richie of music
64 Verses
66 Cubic meters
68 Edible seed
70 School, in Paris
72 Anger
73 Gallant young man
74 Torrid
77 High mountain
78 Contends
80 Realms
82 Macaw
83 Back of neck
85 Withdraw from a federation
86 Sowed
87 Pierce
88 The self
90 Lair
91 Marry
92 Strike
93 Airplane shelter
96 Walk
99 Prophet
101 Free from fraud
104 Slender finial
105 Lowe of film
107 Sodium chloride
108 Cushion
109 "The Week That —"
110 Fish eggs
111 Males
112 Mizzenmast, e.g.
114 Forgive
116 Saucy
117 Female sheep
118 Proceed
120 Apothecary's weight
122 River island
123 Landed
124 Hypothetical force
125 Calcium symbol
127 Achieve
129 Fear
131 Chemical compound
133 At home
134 Hebrew letter
136 Early morn
137 Newt
139 Obstruct
140 Beverage
141 Hail!
142 Lansbury ID
143 Small rug
145 Fish limb
147 Scuffles
151 Beam
152 Monk's title
153 Short jacket
155 Lamprey
157 Nocturnal mammal
158 Prohibit
159 Whip
160 French article
161 Babylonian deity
163 Broaden
165 Actor Phoenix
167 Bond nemesis
168 Down: prefix
169 Stage extra: colloq.
171 Sends forth
172 Omit from pronunciation
173 Facilitated
175 Was borne
176 Fall into disuse
177 Thick
178 Walked on

DOWN

1 Utter violent denunciation
2 Tears
3 Dobbin's dinner
4 Possessive pronoun
5 Krypton symbol
6 Danish island
7 Elevator sign
8 Weaken
9 Choice part
10 Save wedding expenses
11 "Perfect" number
12 Three-toed sloth
13 Foot part
14 Printer's measure
15 Lawyer: abbr.
16 Condescending look
17 Mistake
18 Dinner course
19 Pact
23 More profound
26 — Minor
29 Choir voice
32 Guards
33 Wife of Geraint
35 Alternative word
36 Pack away
37 Raggedy
40 Impels onward
42 Journey
43 Oceans
45 Evades an obligation
48 Health resort
52 Before
56 Breathed loudly in sleep
58 Clamor
59 Pintail ducks
60 Looked fixedly
62 Occurrence
63 Slivers
65 Teutonic deity
66 Web spinner
67 Smashed
68 Shallow vessel
69 Guido's high note
71 Current —
73 Poured forth
75 Anglo-Saxon money
76 Flap
79 TV's Marinaro
81 Myself
84 Urge on
87 Transgress
89 Paddles
92 Vast throng
93 Dress border
94 Simian
95 Highway
97 Hearing organ
98 Beg
99 Malice
100 Dine
101 Male deer
102 Seed
103 Golf mound
106 Larry of the Celtics
109 Fish trap
113 Fat of swine
115 Roman 1,001
116 Entreaty
119 Poem
121 Flesh
123 The sweetsop
124 "— Life to Live"
125 "Ships of the desert"
126 Nonprofessional
128 Away
130 Fetishes
132 "The — Cuckoo"
133 — League
134 Marched
135 Exalted in spirit
138 Even score
141 Swiss river
144 As far as
146 Stairpost
148 Judgment
149 Musial ID
150 Enticed
151 Street show
152 Iron symbol
154 Want
156 Peruvian city
158 Articles of furniture
159 Wild hog
162 Metric measure
164 Short swim
166 Wine: Fr.
167 Openwork fabric
170 Italian river
174 Therefore

LAST WEEK

Enjoy Idle Hour Park July 4

USAIC Public Affairs Office

An "Old Fashioned Fourth of July in the Park" will be held at Idle Hour Park in Phenix City July 3 and 4.

There will be amusement rides, arts and crafts, a peanut circus, a peanut powered tractor pull for children 3 to 10 years old, local entertainment, a 5-kilometer run and one-mile fun run/walk, boat display, tennis tournament, ugly dog and fat cat contest, concession stands and gaming booths; something for the entire family, topped off by fireworks on July 4.

Come and enjoy two fun-filled days in the park with a family atmosphere.

For further information, contact the Phenix City-Russell County Chamber of Commerce at 298-3639.

Providence Canyon has hikes

Georgia Department of Natural Resources

Providence Canyon State Park will be offering guided hikes of the canyons at 2 p.m. on Saturdays and Sundays during the months of June, July and August. The one to two hour hikes will begin on Saturday, June 3 at 2 p.m., starting at the Park's interpretive center and will be directed by park naturalist, Julian Singer. Come and enjoy the outdoors and learn about wildflowers, trees, and geology on a guided tour of Providence Canyon State Park.

Providence Canyon State Park, operated by the Georgia Department of Natural Resources, is located 7 miles west of Lumpkin, Georgia on Highway 39c. The park is open to the general public and admission is free.

MOVIES

Today	Troop Beverly Hills - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Rain Man - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Die Hard - (R)	Main Post 9:40 p.m.
Saturday	The Dream Team - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Who Framed Roger Rabbit? - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Fletch Lives - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Cyborg - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	My Stepmother is an Alien - (PG-13)	Main Post 9 p.m.
	Out of the Dark - (R)	Main Post 11 p.m.
Sunday	Cyborg - (R)	Sand Hill 2 p.m.
	Caddyshack II - (PG)	Main Post 2 p.m.
	Fletch Lives - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	The Dream Team - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Monday	Fletch Lives - (PG)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Cyborg - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Dead Bang - (R)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Tuesday	Scrooged - (PG-13)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	The Dream Team - (PG-13)	Main Post 7 p.m.
Wednesday	Dead Bang - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Mind Games - (R)	Main Post 7 p.m.
	Bill and Ted's Excellent Adventure - (PG)	Kelley Hill 8 p.m.
Thursday	Dead Bang - (R)	Sand Hill 7 p.m.
	Who Framed Roger Rabbit - (PG)	Main Post 7 p.m.

Carmike Cinema 7
5301 Sidney Simons Blvd. 596-8244 CARMIKE
DISCOUNT MATINEES MON.-FRI. ALL SEATS $2.50 till 5:30 PM
"INDIANA JONES AND THE LAST CRUSADE" PG13 1:00, 4:00, 7:00, 9:45
"PINK CADILLAC" PG13 1:00, 4:00, 7:00, 9:45
"STAR TREK V" PG 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:45
"RENEGADES" R 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:45
"FIELD OF HONOR" PG 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:45
"FIELD OF DREAMS" PG 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:45
Columbus Square 8 / 563-4440 COLUMBUS SQUARE
"PINK CADILLAC" PG13 1:00, 4:00, 7:00, 9:45
"LEAN ME" PG13 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:45
"ROAD HOUSE" R 2:00, 4:30, 7:00, 9:45
"INDIANA JONES AND THE LAST CRUSADE" PG13 1:00, 4:00, 7:00, 9:45
"STAR TREK V" PG 2:00 4:30 7:00 9:45
"SEE NO EVIL, HEAR NO EVIL" R 2:20, 4:40, 7:10, 9:30
"NO HOLDS BARRED" PG13 2:20 4:40 7:10 9:30
"PET SEMATARY" R 2:20, 4:40, 7:10, 9:30
Peachtree Triple / 322-7704 PEACHTREE MALL
"RAIN MAN" R 7:00 9:30
"K-9" PG13 7:00, 9:30
"MAJOR LEAGUE" R 7:10, 9:20
Plaza Triple 99¢ / 563-3737 CROSS COUNTRY PLAZA
"TWINS" PG 7:00, 9:30
any Movie 99¢ anytime! "SPEED ZONE" PG 7:10 9:20
"ACCIDENTAL TOURIST" PG 7:00 9:30
Phenix Twin 99¢ / 297-3905 280 BYPASS
any Movie 99¢ anytime! "FLETCH LIVES" PG 7:15 9:30
"OLIVER AND COMPANY" G 7:00 8:45

The Cottage Kitchen PICK-UP MEALS
10% DISCOUNT*
TO ALL ACTIVE MILITARY
MILITARY RETIREES & CIVIL SERVICE
(WITH I.D.)
HOURS: M-F 11:30-2:00 & 4:30-8:00 AND SAT. 11:30-2:00 & 5:00-7:00
*Not Valid With Any Other Offer
Discount on All Dinners Including Daily Specials
VICTORY DRIVE STORE ONLY!
3119 Victory Drive (Next to Payless Shoe Store) 687-2775

Arby's
IT'S BACK!
ARBY'S FAMOUS
BEEF 'N CHEDDAR
99¢
FOR A LIMITED TIME ONLY!

Western Sizzlin
Special
New York Strip Dinner with Soup-Salad-Hot Food Bar
$5.99
Kids under 6 eat FREE!
Friday and Saturday all day
Tender and juicy New York Strip, U.S.D.A. choice, served with soup-salad-hot food bar, hot bread, and your choice of potato.
Western Sizzlin STEAK HOUSE
Macon Rd. near I-185 & Victory Dr. near I-185
Also in Opelika & LaGrange.
MasterCard, Visa, and checks accepted.

FIGHT HEART DISEASE, KIDNEY DISEASE AND BLINDNESS.
Support the American Diabetes Association.

THINK SAFETY

Infantry Branch Safety Office

Off the job

Off-the-job safety is a problem every day. Management recognizes the necessity of keeping the worker at full efficiency on the job, and has developed safety programs that are very effective. The problem is that the worker is under the control of the safety program a comparatively small amount of the time.

Off-the-job safety can be divided into three general groups — recreational, home, and transportation-associated activities.

Transportation or motor vehicle accidents account for the greatest number of off-the-job deaths. Regardless of what school of thought is professed in this area, there is one fact that must be conceded — a driver is common to all accidents. The driver must realize that in operating a motor vehicle, he has many responsibilities. At all times, the driver should know the vehicle and its condition. The driver must evaluate conditions and then drive within their limitations. The driver must also obey traffic laws and insist on their enforcement.

Recreational activities offer a multitude of exposure for off-the-job accidents. In this area, drowning is the leading cause of death. The rules of water safety are very clear and should be followed. The Coast Guard and the Red Cross offer many programs in relations to water safety, and participation in these programs by the water enthusiast is encouraged.

The modern home can be riddled with hazards. Any one of a number of items in the home can cause serious injury or death. Items such as medicine and cleaning materials can be poisonous to children if swallowed, and poisonous to adults if taken incorrectly or misused. A good example of this is taking barbituates while consuming alcoholic beverages. Cleaning materials will emit poisonous gases.

The use of power tools can also create hazards if they are unguarded or improperly grounded. Yard tools, especially the lawn mower and edger, create other special problems. Several practices will help limit these hazards — reading labels, proper storage procedures of flammable and toxic materials, proper use of equipment and analysis of the job to be done for hazards.

It should be kept in mind that safety is safety whether it is off or on the job. If the worker can grasp and apply those simple principles, his off-the-job activities can be just as safe as those on the job.

Children and traffic

The safety of our children in the housing areas requires serious concern, especially with the closing of schools and summer months ahead. The most hazardous situation is children playing in the streets. This is a two-pronged hazard. First, it is an immediate danger to the child. Also, the driver who attempts to dodge a child playing in the street, runs the risk of striking another car, fixed object, or even another person.

The second threat is the false sense of security that the child develops by being permitted to run and play in the streets under the more protective speed limits and other traffic controls present at Fort Benning.

Countermeasures for the double hazard must also be two-pronged. First, parents must aggressively educate and train their children to stay off the streets, except when crossing them or entering/exiting a vehicle parked on a street.

Secondly, vehicle operators must conform to speed limits and other traffic controls, and always be alert to the possibility of a child chasing a ball into the street, chasing another child across the street, running out from behind a parked car, or any of the other child like acts that may put the child in the path of a moving vehicle.

The bottom line is to preserve the lives of our children — our most precious resource. That will require the driver's constant awareness of children to avoid tragedy, and the efforts by parents to teach their children of the dangers of playing in the street.

The Military Police assist in this effort; however, their coverage of the residential areas is limited. The basic responsibility lies with the parents and the vehicle drivers.

In hot weather

Your body needs more liquids during hot weather — especially when you're exercising or engaged in other vigorous activities.

The National Safety Council reminds you that being thirsty is not a good indicator of your body's liquid requirements, since you're already dehydrated when thirst sets in.

The Council suggests that you make a regular practice of drinking water several times a day.

Increase your intake of liquids before, during and after physical activity — don't wait until you've finished exercising, when drinking too much liquid may give you cramps.

Avoid alcoholic and beverages with caffeine, which actually deplete body fluids.

also be two-pronged. First, parents must aggressively educate and train their children to stay off the streets, except when crossing them or entering/exiting a vehicle parked on a street. Secondly, vehicle operators must conform to speed limits and other traffic controls, and always be alert to the possibility of a child chasing a ball into the street, chasing another child across the street, running out from behind a parked car, or any of the other child like acts that may put the child in the path of a moving vehicle.

The bottom line is to preserve the lives of our children — our most precious resource. That will require the driver's constant awareness of children to avoid tragedy, and the efforts by parents to teach their children of the dangers of playing in the street.

The Military Police assist in this effort; however, their coverage of the residential areas is limited. The basic responsibility lies with the parents and the vehicle drivers.

While biking

With the advent of spring and warmer weather, old and young enthusiasts will be thinking of getting out their bicycles. After a long winter of non-riding, observing the following rules will help make your biking safer and more fun.

Ride the bicycle that fits you. The size of your bike affects your balance and ability to reach the pedals and braking controls.

Parents should supervise the selection of a bicycle for the child and periodically inspect bike to see that it is in good working condition.

Check the tires for wear and tear. Also inspect the chain, lights, horn and wheel spokes. Make sure the bike is well lubricated and tighten any loose nuts and bolts.

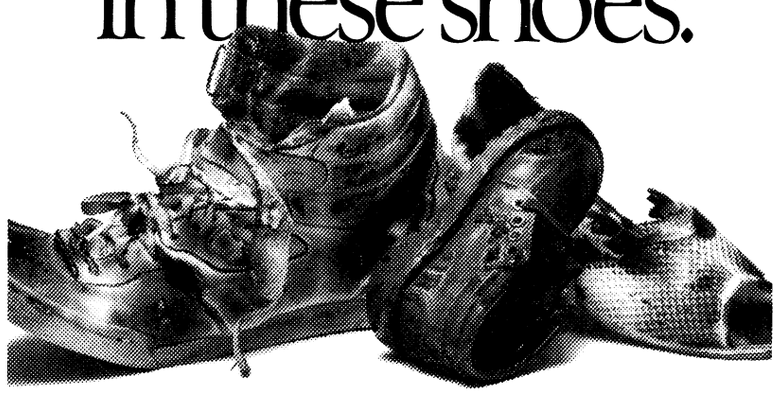
Check braking ability on both wet and dry surfaces before taking the bike into the street. The bicycle should also be in good alignment.

Children should not be permitted to ride on roadways until they have mastered all aspects of the bicycle and this mastery has been observed on the roadway on which the child will travel.

Skills that must be taught to children include the ability to ride in a straight line near the curb, knowing the rules of right-of-way, proper hand signals, turning corners and making safe, rapid stops.

Keep in mind that you're traveling on one of the smallest vehicles on the road, and it is not always easy for a motorist to see you. Wear light colored clothes, use reflective tape or reflectors and at night never ride without lights.

Around the pool



Drowning is the second most common cause of accidental death to children. If your home has a swimming pool, follow these suggestions from the National Safety Council.

Supervise children whenever they're in or near the pool.

Keep rescue and first-aid equipment at poolside.

Enclose pools with a fence that a child cannot easily climb over. Gates should be self-closing and self-latching, with the latch set out of young children's reach.

Put yourself in these shoes.

Each year, forest fires burn more than just trees. Remember that. Please.

Ad Council

A Public Service of the U.S.D.A., Forest Service, and your State Foresters.

SMOKEY

CLASSIFIED

322-4500

CLEANING SERVICES C3

GERMAN CLEANING Team, 1-day service, call 687-8544 anytime.

TOTALLY Domestic Cleaning Services, specializing in residences. Reasonable rates. Call 563-5073 after5pm.

SMALL ENGINE REPAIR S8

S & S SMALL ENGINES Buy, Sell or Trade. Lawn mowers, go-carts, tillers, edgers, weed eaters. Repairs of all types. 291-1688

PUBLIC NOTICES 016

REQUEST FOR PROPOSAL
The Lower Chattahoochee APDC/AAA is accepting proposals for day care and/or respite care services to Alzheimer's Disease patients in the 8 county area. The contract period is September 1, 1989 - June 30, 1990. Deadline for submission of proposals is June 30, 1989. The request for proposal is available upon request at the APDC/AAA office at 930 Second Avenue, Columbus, GA 31994.
EOE

PERSONALS 020

COLUMBUS DATING SERVICE
Meet That Special Person!
Call Mon-Fri, 9-5PM, 689-0072.

TROUBLED? Need to talk? Call CONTACT. We care. 24 hours. 327-3999

HAPPY ADS 022

DO YOU KNOW SOMEONE GRADUATING FROM HIGH SCHOOL OR COLLEGE THIS MONTH?
If so, send them a special greeting in the Classified Advertising section for only 50¢ per line.

You can add this Graduation artwork for an additional $3.50. Call a Classified Sales Representative today.

322-4500

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

Airport Road Furniture & Flee Market, 228 New Airport Rd, Lagrange, GA. Call (404) 884-2952, opened daily, 10-6; Sun, 12-6. Antiques, Collectibles, Furniture.

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE FORT BENNING BAYONET PLEASE CALL 322-4500

VISA MasterCard

Poetry & Short Story Contest Sponsored by Christian Writers Fellowship. Deadline, July 15, 1989. Contact Gloria Hidle, (404) 323-1749.

ANTIQUES 036

OAK ICEBOX, $175 or best offer. Call 685-0603, 687-5581

AIR COND/ HEATERS 038

16,000 BTU Whirlpool a/c, w/comfort thermostats, $250. 323-5724 lv. msg.

APPLIANCE SALES 040

APT SIZED washer, Whirlpool, $150; Call 323-5724 leave message.

DRYERS, $95 & up; refrig, $50 & up; ranges $85; washers etc. Call 682-8717

Frigidaire frost free, 18 cu ft, almond, approx 3 yrs old, ice maker, asking $370. 327-7467

Kenmore heavy duty, large capacity, washer/dryer, exc. cond, $300. 297-7929

Washers, $95 up; dryers $85 up. Excellent cond. Guaranteed. 687-5330

COMPUTERS & EQUIP. 052

ADAM Computer, base, keyboard, printer, $250. Call 689-5175

HAYES MODEMS, (new). 1200B $125; 2400B $250; 1200 $180; 2400 $250, 9600-$600; 2400Q $350. Can be seen at Sheraton Hotel on Sat., ask for Clyde Moore or call 1-469-4101.

FIREARMS 056

SKSASSAULTRIFLE 7.62x39mm, new in box, 60 rounds ammo, $250. 404-882-8971.

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

GOLD CREDIT CARD GUARANTEED ISSUE
Bad credit, no credit. Military, college student, divorced, self-employed. GOLD CARD is designed for you. Guaranteed approval, no collateral required. Gold Credit Cards available for issue. Call for details, Mr. Perdue, 323-5337 Monday thru Saturday 8:00 a.m.-7:00 p.m.

FIREARMS 056

New AK-47s-Legend Series, standard & also folding stock models, caliber 223 & 7.62x39. Big Buck Trading Post, Manchester, GA. (404) 846-3620

FURNITURE FOR SALE 058

QUEEN SIZE Sleeper sofa, reliner chair, swivel rocker. $350. Call 291-1396

YARD SALES GA 060

CARPORT Sale, clothing, etc. Sat 10-4. 5336 Misty Lane

Custer Terrace, multi-family sale, Ray Ct., off Kessler Ct., Sat., June 10, 8-2

3907 DEXTER DR., 8-3, Sat., furniture, children's clothes, toys, mics.

MACHINERY TOOLS 070

RIPSAWS, 8 in. $100, 9 in. $150. Excellent cond. Call 327-6059

RIPSAWS 8 in. $100, 9 in. $150. Excellent cond. Call 327-6059

MISC. FOR SALE 076

Air Cleaner (electronic), new: over $650, sacrifice $300. Call 323-9365 anytime.

15 cuft Freezer, $175; Bunkbeds w/mattresses, $100. Call 323-3007

MINNKOTA 3 HP trolling motor, asking $200. Call 682-4415

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

BLOOD PLASMA SAVES LIVES
$10 ea. DONATION
New Donors/ Or Inactive For 6 Months/ $5 Bonus with This Ad/ Plus $5 2nd Time Bonus Plus $750 Cash Drawing Monthly
Community Plasma Center 825 4th Ave. Columbus 322-6566

MISC. FOR SALE 076

Refrigerator 19.5 cu. ft., side by side, $100., sofa, sleep sofa, two chairs, 322-5867

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

MISC. FOR SALE 076

253 LB. Cast Iron Olympic Style Weights w/bar & bench, $350. 323-3847 aft 6.

ITEMS OF INTEREST 024

FRIENDS OF THE MILITARY
THE MILITARY PAGES
682-7185
Welcomes These New Advertisers & Invites All Military ID Holders To Patronize These Businesses For Discounts Or Incentives:

Kill Shot, Inc	685-0002
Childlife Discovery Center	682-0777
Auto Cosemetics II	689-1440
Newell & Newell (CPA)	568-4944
Clayton Homes	687-6570
Victory Station Barber Shop	687-4031
Columbus Carpet Mill Store	324-4451
Bill Walker (PA)	323-6726
Chattahoochee Valley Fair	324-7166
Downey Transmission	689-8818
Torch Hill Shell & Auto Repair	689-0071
Hampton Inn	576-5303
The Columbus Mudcats	324-3594
Farrer's	322-3303
Steve Brown (PA)	689-7734
Pennzoil Lub Center	324-7863
Mater Taxidermist	324-1104
Chick-Fil-A (Columbus Square)	561-8036
Edgewood Auto Car Care	569-0452
Peter Pan Day Care Center	689-7029
JC's Bar-Be-Que	689-1111
Steamatic	324-2224

LEDGER-ENQUIRER

CLASSIFIED

"There's something in it for you"

CALL TOLL-FREE IN GEORGIA 1-800-282-7859

CALL TOLL-FREE OUTSIDE GEORGIA 1-800-241-7894

322-4500

HOURS:
MONDAY - THURSDAY 8:30AM - 7:00PM
FRIDAY 8:30AM - 5:30PM

If you would like your ad to appear in the next day's edition, please call BEFORE 5:30pm.

Listed below are local telephone exchanges for the Columbus/Phenix City area. These do not require an area code if you live within the area. If the number is long distance, then the advertisement will list the area code.

ALABAMA	GEORGIA
291 Phenix City	322 Columbus	568 Columbus	682 Columbus
297 Phenix City	323 Columbus	569 Columbus	685 Columbus
298 Phenix City	324 Columbus	571 Columbus	687 Columbus
855 Phenix City	327 Columbus	576 Columbus	689 Columbus
Smiths/Seale	561 Columbus	596 Columbus	989 Cusseta
	563 Columbus	649 Columbus

Please check your advertisement the first day it appears in the newspaper. If you need to make corrections, simply call one of our Classified Advertising Representatives as soon as possible. Please call on the first day your ad appears, as the Columbus Ledger-Enquirer cannot be held responsible for errors beyond the first insertion date. We will be happy to see that your ad appears correctly in the next scheduled insertion in the Ledger-Enquirer.

INDEX OF CLASSIFICATIONS

A1 Air Cond., Heating
A2 Appliance Repair
A3 Architecture & Drafting
A4 Auto Care
B1 Brickwork, Masonry
B2 Buildings, Contractors
C1 Carpentry, General Repairs
C2 Catering, Food Service
C3 Cleaning Service
C4 Clock & Watch Repair
C5 Concrete, Driveways
C6 Carpet
C7 Child Care
E1 Electrical
E2 Energy Saving Products
F1 Fencing
F2 Floor Sanding
F3 Furniture
G1 Grading, Backhoe
G2 Gravel, Sand, Topsoil
G3 Gutters, Downspouts
H1 Handyman
H2 Hauling
H3 Home Improvement
I1 Insulation
L1 Lawn & Garden
L2 Lawn Mower Repair
M1 Misc. Services
P1 Painting, Wallpapering
P2 Plumbing
P3 Protection Services
P4 Photo Services
R1 TV, Stereo, Video Service
R2 Remodeling
R3 Roofing
S1 Screens, Storm Windows
S2 Sewing, Alterations
S3 Sheetrock, Drywall
S4 Signs
S5 Swimming Pools
S6 Sewing Machine Repairs
S7 Storage
S8 Small Engine Repair
T1 Tree Stump Removal
U1 Upholstery
V1 Vacuum Cleaner Service
V2 Video Taping
W1 Welding
Y1 Yardwork
Y2 Yard Equip. Rental
000 Legal Notices
001 Funeral Notices
002 Funeral Homes
003 Memorial Notices
004 Cards of Thanks
007 Cemeteries/ Monuments
010 Cemetery Lots
012 Lodge Notices
016 Public Notices
018 Professional Services
020 Personals
021 Only Hearts
022 Happy Ads
024 Items of Interest
028 Vacation & Tourist Information
034 Fishing & Hunting
036 Antiques
038 Air Cond./Heaters
040 Appliance Sales
042 Auctions
044 Building Materials
045 Bicycles
046 Camera/Photo
048 Camping Equipment
049 Christmas Trees
050 Clothing
052 Computers & Equip.
054 Firewood
056 Firearms
058 Furniture for Sale
059 Yard Sales - AL
060 Yard Sales - GA
061 Collectibles Buy/Sell
064 Sports Equip. & Supplies
066 Outdoor Equip.
068 Jewelry
070 Machinery, Tools
072 Heavy Equipment
074 Medical Supplies
076 Misc. for Sale
077 Lost & Found Items
078 Musical Instruments
080 Office & Store Equip.
081 Restaurant Equipment
082 Pawn Shops
084 Power Tools
086 Equipment Rental
088 Sewing Machines
092 Swimming Pools & Supplies
096 TV-Video-Stereo Sales
098 Merchandise Wanted
110 Livestock
112 Livestock Supplies
114 Poultry
116 Poultry Supplies
118 Hay-Feed-Grain
120 Farm Equipment
122 Pets
124 Pet Supplies & Services
126 Pet Boarding & Grooming
127 Pets-Lost & Found
128 Pets Wanted
130 Free Column
132 Fruits & Vegetables
134 Lawn & Garden
136 Lawn Mowers & Equip.
138 Plants, Shrubs, Trees
140 Landscaping, Nursery
142 Wanted to Buy
210 Management Employment
212 Restaurants & Clubs
214 Employment Agencies
215 Employment Information
216 Help Wanted General
218 Help Wanted Part-Time
219 Domestic Help Wanted
220 Medical/Dental
222 Office/Clerical
223 Data Entry
224 Professional Employment
225 Technical
226 Sales
228 Skills & Trades
229 Child Care
230 Job Wanted
232 Resume Services
234 Job Listings
310 Medical Training
312 Clerical Training
314 Beauty & Barber Schools
316 Dancing, Music, Drama
318 Modeling
320 Correspondence Schools
322 Real Estate Schools
324 Trade Schools
328 Misc. Instructions
330 Colleges
410 Business Opportunities
412 Investments
414 Mone; to Lend
415 Credit
416 Wanted to Borrow
510 Rentals
512 Rooms
514 Room & Board
516 Share Home
518 Furnished Apts. GA
519 Furnished Apts. AL
520 Unfurnished Apts. GA
521 Unfurnished Apts. AL
522 Cottages
524 Furnished Houses GA
525 Furnished Houses AL
526 Unfurnished. Houses
527 Unfurnished Houses AL
528 Business Rentals
529 Office Rental
530 Wanted to Rent
532 Property for Rent
534 Resort Rentals
536 Storage Rentals
610 Property
612 Townhouses & Condos
614 Homes For Sale AL
616 Homes For Sale GA
618 Real Estate Wanted
620 Commercial Property
622 Income Property
624 Investment Property
626 Lots For Sale
628 Backwater Property GA
629 Backwater Property AL
630 Lake Front Lots
632 Resort & Vacation Property
634 Out of Town Realty
636 Farms & Acreage
638 Real Estate Auction
640 Wanted to Buy
710 Mobile Homes For Sale
714 Mobile Homes For Rent
716 Mobile Home Lots For Rent
718 Mobile Home Lots For Sale
720 Mobile Homes Wanted
724 Mobile Home Service
726 Mobile Units
810 Boats
812 Canoes & Sailboats
813 Personal Watercrafts
814 Marine Service & Supplies
816 Boats Wanted
818 Motor Homes For Sale
820 Campers & Trailers
824 Camping Supplies & Equipment
826 RV Supplies & Service
828 Motorcycles For Sale
830 Mini-Bikes
832 Dunebuggies For Sale
834 Scooters, Go-Carts
836 Wanted to Buy
910 Airplanes
912 Tractors & Trailers
914 Trucks
916 Truck Service, Parts, Acc.
918 Truck Rental, Leasing
920 Trucks Wanted
922 Buses/Vans For Sale
924 Jeeps For Sale
926 Auto Service Parts, Acc.
928 Auto Insurance / Financing
930 Autos For Sale
932 Sports Cars For Sale
934 Classic & Antique Autos
936 Imported Autos
938 Auto Rental/Leasing
940 Autos Wanted

MISC. FOR SALE 076

MICRO FISCHE Viewer, $75. Electric typewriter, $75. Man typewriter, $50. 16mm projector, $100 obo. 323-9365 Ben.

LOST & FOUND ITEMS 077

Grandma's Car Keys, found Weracoba Park. Call after 3pm, 327-2998

MUSICAL INSTRUMENTS 078

SET of CB 700 drums, $900. Call 297-8900 & leave message on machine.

Yamaha Electric Piano, full scale, lots of features, 1 yr. old. Ideal for singing group, etc. 298-7124

TV-VIDEO STEREO SALES 096

20" COLOR console TV, dark walnut, Must see to appreciate, $200. 682-4658

PETS 122

AKC Cocker Spaniel pups, 6wks old. Wormed & Shots. $150. Call 687-2744

AKC doberman pups, 7 wks, shots, tails, dewormed. To see call 687-7226.

AKC Lab Pups, black, choc., yellow. Wormed/ shots. F-$75, M-$100. 298-6360

AKC ROTTWEILER PUPS Bred to preserve heritage. Top U.S.A. lines. 561-6493

AKC ROTTWEILER pups, massive size, champ blood, $450 neg. 561-2604

AKC SHELTIE PUPS, 6 wks old, sable & white. Days 322-8151, 327-2670 after 6pm

GERMAN SHEPHERD AKC, female, 4 generation pedigree, 3 mos. old, shots and wormed. 687-3309/

GREAT DANE, F, 1½ yrs old, ears clipped, full blooded, all shots. $200. Call 563-9760

PETS-LOST & FOUND 127

FOUND Small, female, dog, Schomburg Rd. area, Foxfire S/D. Call 569-0862.

HAVE YOU LOST YOUR PET? Please contact the Muscogee County Humane Society at 7133 Sacerdote Lane, off Schatulga Road.

YOU CAN HELP SAVE A PET
Call our 24-hour hotline for lost & found pets. 571-2060.

FREE COLUMN 130

FREE! 3 adorable, black & white kittens. 563-3870 after 6PM

BLACK & WHITE long haired kittens, free to good home. Call 682-1842

Cute Puppies, free to good homes. Call 297-6106

Female Chow mix w/black tongue, also 3 puppies. Free to good homes. 855-3854

FREE! Adult dog, good watch dog and good with kids. Call 297-1186

FREE BLACK KITTENS
Need good homes!
CALL 569-7873

FREE black & white female dog. Call 298-4286

FREE CAT, female, neutered & declawed, 3 yrs old, shots. Call 327-1458

FREE KITTENS, 1 black male tabby, 1 grey male tabby, 1 female black. 298-7506

FREE! Mix Spitz puppies. Call 297-3649

FREE! Morris-type kittens, almost weened. Too Sweet, one coquette, one incourraigible. For cat lovers only. Call 989-3222

FREE! Mother cat & kittens
Call 327-8091

FREE! Puppies, 2brwn, 5 black, part chow & collie. Med. sized dogs. 291-7977

Free to good homes: 2 female white German Shepherds, 5½-6 mths old. Updated shots. Call after 12pm, 569-1257

FREE TO GOOD HOME: 2 cute kittens, 8 weeks old. Call after 5:30pm, 298-0153

FREE! to good home, 3 kittens, 7 weeks old, Northside. 596-8763

FREE to good home, 6 wk old puppies, part Lab. Call 298-5474 after 5pm.

FREE TO GOOD HOME Tail-less Kittens. 8 Wks Old. Call 297-9578.

SALES 226

IF YOU ARE CONSIDERING A 2ND CAREER IN

- Real Estate
- Insurance
- Sales
- Management
- Personnel

DON'T
Without investigating this opportunity first. You would not want to pass up $20,000 per month for life!

Call
404-594-4271
(24 hr. recorded message)
Local Interviews

FREE COLUMN 130

FREE TO good home, Collie/Lab mixed puppies, 8 wks. old. Call 297-2021

FRIENDLY, loving kittens to good homes only. Call 689-1008

GOLDEN LAB, male, 1-1½ yrs. old, very gentle; 1 white, 1 silver grey kitten, 2 mo. old. 563-6554

INNER SPRING mattress for sleeper sofa, king size, Call 596-9061

IT'S HERE: the '89-'90 Military Pages. Call 682-7185 for your free copy.

Large Male Dog, housebroken, good w/kids. Free to good home. Call 687-6135

ORANGE, Grey & Black Kittens, 10 wks old. Free to good homes. 563-1823

Pit Mix female, excellent watchdog, great w/kids, 2 yrs. old, spayed. Free to good home w/fenced yard. 682-8587

REPAIRABLE REFG., Call 327-6777 after 4PM

RUSSIAN Blue & silver tabby look alike kittens, free to good home. Call 298-6779

SPAYED, beautiful, clico, F, cat. 3 yrs old, sweet disposition. Moving, free to loving home. 297-3182, 561-0274

1 FEMALE German, free to family with kids. Call 297-7119

2 ADULT & 2 baby hampsters, free, for pets only. Call 682-4600

2 CUTE, PLAYFUL KITTENS! Free to good home! Call 298-3238 lv. msg.

2 Year Old female cat, great w/kids; also 10 mth old kitten, litter trained. Free to good homes. 682-8001

3 FREE Male kittens need loving homes. Please call 561-5728

5 KITTENS, 7 wks. old, short hair, box trained, very lovable. Need good homes. Call 569-9860.

6 MTHS Male, ½ Collie ½ Shepherd, free to good home w/children. 687-4197

7 PUPPIES, part Spitz, 5 wks., 4 black & 1 white. Free to good homes. 297-7839

9 WK old rabbits. Call 298-8794

WANTED TO BUY 142

USED baby carriage, reasonable price. Call 323-6961 after 6 p.m.

MANAGEMENT EMPLOYMENT 210

BORED WITH RETIREMENT?
Need a 'couple who cares' to manage my motel. Honesty a must. Prefer nonsmoker & drinker. If you think you're the ones I'm looking for give me a call at 687-0203. Ask for Buddy.

STARVIN MARVIN FOOD STORES

One of the fastest in most progressive convenient store operations has an opening for a Manager in the Columbus area. This is a great opportunity for the career minded individual to learn our retail business where opportunity for advancement is ever present. We offer competitive starting pay and excellent benefits. Which includes:

- Paid vacation
- Retirement Plan
- Major Medical Insurance
- Sick benefits
- Paid holidays
- Hospitalization
- Life Insurance
- and Monthly commission program

Please apply in person or send resume to: Starvin Marvin, 3701 Buena Vista Rd. Columbus 31906.

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

AMAS de CASA!
Aburridas? Cansadas de estar en la casa? Permitanos cambiar esto! Rhodes busca representantes de venta ambiciosas y agresivas interesadas en la oportunidad de hacer $50,000 al año. Posiciones a tiempo completo y permanentes solamente. Aplique al 3166 Macon Rd.

Leaders
For the Finest Jr. Officers seeking the Finest Career opportunities and service. Palm Quinn, USMA '79, 250 Teri Lane, Prattville, AL 36067. (205) 361-9152.

TRADE SCHOOLS 324

Train for careers in
•AIRLINES
•CRUISE LINES
•TRAVEL AGENCIES
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
A.C.T. TRAVEL SCHOOL
Nat'l Hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

Train to be a Professional
•SECRETARY
•EXECUTIVE SEC.
•WORD PROCESSOR
HOME STUDY/RES. TRAINING
•FINANCIAL AID AVAIL.
•JOB PLACEMENT ASSIST.
1-800-327-7728
THE HART SCHOOL
A Div. of A.C.T. Corp.
Nat'l Hdqtrs. Pompano Bch. FL

SALES 226

EKCO STAINLESS STEEL WATERLESS COOKWARE

★ SPECIAL SALE ★
Regular Dinner Party Prices
$899 to $1,300

SALE PRICE NOW . . .
12pc $199
17pc $299
18pc $399

JUNE 9-13TH

ECONO-TRAVEL MOTEL
Phenix City ByPass
RUSSELL WEAVER
(205) 298-5255

HELP WANTED GENERAL 216

HOUSEWIFES?
Are you bored? Tired of being at home? Let us change that for you!Rhodes is looking for ambitious aggressive salespeople who would like the opportunity to make $50,000 a year. Full time permanent positions. Apply at 3166 Macon Rd.

MEDICAL DENTAL 220

IMMEDIATE OPENING
PART-TIME R.N.
Georgia License. Night Shift.
The Bradley Center Inc.
2000 16th Avenue
Columbus, GA 31993
576-6371 or 576-9800
E.O.E.

SALES 226

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE
FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL
322-4500
VISA MasterCard

SKILLS & TRADES 228

FREE TRAINING
Highway Marking Machine Operators

No experience necessary, but MUST have a valid driver's license with no DUI for 3 years. Must be able to drive a 5sp vehicle larger than a pick-up truck & must be willing to travel 3-4 wks at a time. TRAVEL TIME PAID. $18,000 ave. annual salary. Call today for info. PERSONNEL CONCEPTS, 571-2424.

NO FEE EOE

RESUME SERVICES 232

A BETTER JOB WINNING RESUME $9
up to executive presentations. Expert writing, typing, printing, updating.
...FREE CONSULTATION...
★ SAME DAY SERVICE ★
America's oldest & largest Professional Resume Svc.
327-2238
2520 Wynnton Rd. Ste. 4

BUSINESS OPPORTUNITIY 410

Day Care Center. Exc. potential, small investment req. Call 327-7161 ask for Ivory.

RENTALS 510

HOUSES & apts, reasonable rates. Call wkdays, 8-5pm, 569-7051; wkends, 568-1534.

WELCOME IOBC CLASS #8!

We have a nice apartment ready for you, close to Ft. Benning.
Your Off-Post Housing Center. Phone 689-4873.

PARK PROPERTIES

ROOMS 512

Five min to post, private entrance, refr, cable, cheap. 682-0690 Ms. James.

FURNISHED APTS. GA 518

NICE large 1 BR, in historical distric, $220. plus deposit. For information call 324-7000, evening & weekens 327-1920

Nice 1 br Duplex, S Cols, comp. furn, Cnt h/a, $200 mo, single pref. 561-8684

UNFURNISHED APTS. GA 520

$145 per mo. 760 Illges Rd. Across from Carver High. 323-3480.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

UNFURNISHED APTS. GA 520

ATTENTION MILITARY!
GRAND OPENING!
FREE RENT TILL JULY
2BR, 2 Bath luxury apts. Next to Benning.
Call
689-4873

RESORT RENTALS 534

NICE AND AFFORDABLE place to stay at Panama City Beach, 2 minutes from beach, room phones, swimming pool, king size beds, HBO. Royal Court Motel, 9216 W. Hwy, 98, Panama City, FL. Military Rates. 904-234-2419.

PROPERTY 610

CLAY COUNTY, Historic homes, farmland, lake lots, Collier Mills, RFD #1 Box 494A, Ft. Gaines, GA 31751. Call (912) 768 3160

TOWNHOUSES & CONDOS 612

P.C. Beach, gulf front condo. $25,000. By owner. 1-800-874-8025 Ms. Haire.

WHY OWN? Affordable luxury F.V.C. Club Members vacation in Gulf front condos for $25 a night year round, unlimited usage. Indoor pool, rest., lounge, beach bar. P.C. Beach, 1-800-874-8025, Ms. Haire.

HOMES FOR SALE GA 616

A-1 GOV'T OWNED BARGAINS!
ANYONE CAN BUY!
NO DOWN PAYMENT!
PAY MONTHLY LIKE RENT!
PRICED BELOW MARKET!
1163 HAMBY DR (Off Buena Vista)
3BR Brick $350.17 P&I $39,900
2436 BRUCE AVE (Off Lumpkin)
2BR Brick $245.73 P&I $26,000
2608 BROADMOOR (Oakland Pk)
6RM Brick $354.11 P&I $40,350
3106 PLANTATION (Oakland Pk)
4BR Brick $430.02 P&I $49,900
5632 GERMANTOWN (Yorktown)
7RM Brick $456.35 P&I $52,000
245 ROBERT LEE (Benning Hills)
3BR Brick $289.60 P&I $33,000
Have More! Pick Up Lists!
24 Hr Recording 327-3611
ALSO Bargains in EQUITIES, GI BILL HOMES, Etc.!
A-1 REALTY CO.
1032 Linwood Blvd.
PHONE 323-3300

By Owner, Moores Forest, 2,000 - sqft, 4BR, $94,500. No agents. 324-0294

BY OWNER, N. Cols., 3 br, 2 ba, greatroom, covered patio, fenced back yard, large lot, 5 yrs. old, $64,000. 563-9200, 327-2494

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500
The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
'There's something in it for you'
VISA MasterCard

Completely Remodeled 3BR, 2BA, workshop, 3 acres, $98,500. 324-3759

Owner Financing, reduced for quick sale. 3br, 1½ba, fenced, $49,500. 324-3759

SHERATON FOREST
By Owner. 3br, 2ba, 1900 sqft, new paint, wallpaper & carpet. Fireplace, ceiling fans, sprinkler system, landscaped. No. Cols. 563-1186 after 6pm

3BR, 2BA, FP, in-ground pool, corner lot carpeted, Assume equity, $7,500, non-qualifying loan, payments 812.32. 5124 Verdun Dr. Call 682-0428 or 205-264-4840.

3 BR, 1 BA, cent. heat & air, low util., workshop, garden, E. Cols. 561-0467.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

INVESTMENT PROPERTY 624

100% LEASED
10,600 SQ.FT. CENTER
Excellent veild. Sound national and regional chain store tenant. Locations offers high appreciation potential. Call J. Arnold 404-984-1002.

RESORT & VACATION PROPERTY 632

TOM STANBURY REALTY

Recreation & Retirement Properties located in Quitman, Clay & Randolph Counties.

CUTHBERT & SHELLMAN: We have many houses priced from $16,500 to $90,000.

LAKE GEORGE: In Chatt. Plant. Estates. A wooded & well landscaped lot with M/H, CH&A, recently done over with new carpet & gable roof. Garden spot & fruit trees. 2 metal utility buildings, one 10'x20' & other one 9'x12'. All for only $17,500.

LAKE GEORGE: 1 Sreet back from South side of Patula Creek in Speir Subd. Beautiful view of lake. Lot with septic tank & well. Mobile home has 2BR 1BA. LR-Kitchen, most furniture stays. C/H with 2 window AC. $10,760.

LAKE GEORGE: Double lot in Chattahoochee Plantation Estates with beautiful view of lake. 3BR 2BA kitchen, large LR, gas heat & window AC. Owner financing available if qualified. $19,500.

LAKE GEORGE: Waterfront lot, 100' wide, in Chattahoochee Plantation Estates, with beautiful view of lake. Mobile home 12x65' - has 3BR 2BAs, kitchen, LR. 8x8 addition has washer & dryer. Priced at $29,900.

201 N Peachtree St
Cuthbert, GA 31740
Office: 912-732-3855
Home: 912-732-6710

FARMS & ACREAGE 636

HOUSE/2 ACRES, corner lot, '0' St., Pine Mtn. Val. $39,500. Also 23 acre paved frontage & water, will divide at $5000 per acre. 1-628-4953.

MOBILE HOMES FOR SALE 710

ASSUME PAYMENTS
1990 2BR 14wide...$119/month
1990 14X70, 3BR 2BA.....
$145/month
Small transfer fee & assume payments. Free delivery & set up. For more info call Mr. Jackson:
1-800-822-8078
(912) 454-1060 after 7PM

SCHULT '87, 14x72, 3BR 2BA, catherdral celing, $14,500. Call 291-1396

MOBILE HOMES FOR RENT 714

ATTENTION MILITARY!!
FREE RENT
TILL JULY
CALL NOW FOR SPECIALS ON OFF-POST HOUSING.
CALL NOW. 689-4873

NICE 2BR, washer/dryer, central heat, Furn, a/c. $230 mo. 561-8684/689-8646

1,2 & 3br elec/gas on, near schools & post. 1314 Ft. Benning Rd. 9-5, 689-0453

2BR furnished, a/c, pool & water free, fenced, St. Mary's Rd. Call 322-1407

BOATS 810

DESPERATE!! $7000 MUST SELL. 36 ft house boat. Florance Marina, 568-0219

MONARK '72 bass boat, 14-1/2 ft., 40hp Johnson. Best offer. 563-1521

STARCRAFT 16ft., 75hp, $600. Starcraft 16ft, hull only, $100. 322-8138

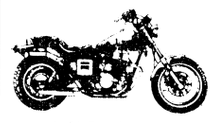
MOTOR HOMES FOR SALE 818

1984 ITASCA, 20' Class A., Exc. cond. $12,900. Call 563-5365.

MOTOR HOMES FOR SALE 818

PACE ARROW, 25ft., '77, fully self contained. Low mi, good cond., 4K generator, roof air, many extras. $13,500. 323-9861 anytime

CAMPERS & TRAILERS 820



ASTROSTAR '88, 32ft., fully equipped, air & awning, like new, $8850. 291-1087

OVERHEAD camper, a/c, self-contained. Sell or trade. Best offer by Mon. 682-2965

26' TRAVEL TRAILER, self-contained, $2500 Firm. Also have motorcycle. 682-0622

MOTORCYCLES FOR SALE 828

SPRING SALE!

HONDA REBEL STREET CRUISER
Electric start, no down payment, $94.37 per month including tax, tag, title & insurance. In-house financing for E-1s & civilians with job. Over 50 used Hondas for sale.
Honda-Come Ride With Us
TOMMY WAGES HONDA
Corner 18th St. & 4th Ave
322-7328

YAMAHA, '84, 175, 3 wheeler, $650. Call 327-3521

'86 KAWASAKI K1000 Ninja, exc cond, $2500 or best offer. 682-4024

TRACTORS & TRAILERS 912

TOYOTA '89, extra cab, V-6, 5 sp, air. Take over pymts. 322-2092/324-8422-pager.

TRUCKS 914

BLAZER S-10 4x4, '88, 4.3 liter eng., loaded, $13,000. Call 291-0674 or 297-5150.

CHEVROLET PICKUP
1964, runs good
Call 322-5036

CHEVY S-10 '89, 4x4, exc. cond., take over pymts $269 & $500 dn. 563-8492

FORD p/u, '76, full size, 3 spd. manual, $1200. Call 568-9694

Scottsdale, '77, ½ ton, shortbed, auto, tilt, air, customized int., mags, new tires. Tim, 291-9984, 568-7775

Toyota P/U '75, exc. 2nd truck, good running cond. $300/offer. 689-4022 after 5

BUSES/VANS FOR SALE 922

FORD van,'73,V8, 1 ton, dependable work van, $800/offer. 322-8433, 324-1434

FORD VAN '87, Premier Edition, VCR, Color TV, many extras. Call 323-2669.

1979 Ford Econo 150 Window Van, $2,000-trade. Mr. Harris, 687-9711, 689-4545

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

CONSOLIDATION BLOW-OUT
OUR VICTORY DR. INVENTORY HAS BEEN MOVED TO OUR N. COLS. LOCATION
MANCHESTER EXPWY/ BEALLWOOD CONN. DOWN FROM COLS. TECH TAKE EXIT 5-GO W. APPROX. 4 MILES
SUN BELT
Manchester Expwy./Beallwood Conn.
327-5756 OPEN SUN 1-5pm

JEEPS FOR SALE 924

1989 Jeep Cherokee, Pioneer pkg, pw, pd, remote ctrl locks, cruise, tilt, auto., 4.0 liter, 12,300 mi. 324-2270

JEEP '83 Cherokee Pioneer, 4x4, 4DR, pb, ps, am/fm/cass, 5SP, new tires, exc. cond, $4800. 687-2696

AUTO SERVICE PARTS, ACC 926

1 SET Wheels & Wire Wheel Covers for 1981-1987 Buick Regal, like new cond, $225. 322-1415 (Days) Mon-Fri

AUTO INSURANCE FINANCING 928

Military & civilians residing in Alabama. Call or see us for your insurance needs. Serving area since 1960.
PITTS-DAVIS INS.
298-2500

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

Beretta GT, '89, 1300 mi. Lded/pwr, wht/brgdy int, pymts or pyoff. 561-8033.

BUICK RIVIERA '84, fully loaded, am/fm cass., excellent condition. 322-3332

CASH & CARRY AUTO SALES
1980 Mustang, a/c, 1950
Call Kevin 291-9699

CHEVY ASTRO, '88, take over payments, fully trans. warranty. Call 563-8951

CLASSIFIED ADVERTISING EXPANDED HOURS 322-4500
The Columbus Ledger-Enquirer Classified Advertising Department has expanded its hours to serve you better. You can now call our representatives until 7:00pm Monday thru Thursday. If you would like your ad to appear in the FOLLOWING day's newspaper, please call BEFORE 5:30pm. We hope this expansion will allow us to serve you better.
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
CLASSIFIEDS
Call 322-4500
VISA MasterCard

DODGE '85 Daytona, 5 sp, am/fm cass. w/equalizer, ps, cruise control, new tires & wheels, V6 fuel injected, black w/red interior, reclining seats, good cond. $5000 or assume loan. 297-4246 after 6.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

FOR INFORMATION ON PLACING ADS IN THE
FORT BENNING BAYONET
PLEASE CALL
322-4500
VISA MasterCard

GRADUATION SPECIAL
Ford Escort '82, auto, air, 1 owner. Call Paul 682-3644

GRADUATION SPECIAL
Buick Regal '78, 1 owner. Call Paul, 682-3644.

GRADUATION SPECIAL
'75 Camaro, mag wheels, auto, air. Call Paul 682-3644.

MAXIMA '88 auto., loaded, all power, emergency must sell 568-3575

MERCURY Zephyer, '79, good eng, clean body. AC, fm/am radio, new transmission. $900 or best offer. Contact 689-0067 ext 2258, 2129 or 2169.

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

CUTLASS CIERA '86, dark blue, 4dr, cruise, air, 50,000 mi. 1 owner, $4800. 689-2666

FIERO GT, '85, V6, silver w/grey, all options, $5400. Call 561-8568

Ford LTD '72, auto., 4 dr, a/c, am/fm radio, good engine & running cond. Must sell. $700. Call 687-2330, ext. 330

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

Mustang LX Convertible '84, cruise, tilt, V/6, 79K mi, adult driven, solid car. $7,300 neg. Glenn, 297-5711, 563-7102

Olds 442 '77, 2dr, auto, a/c, tilt, cruise, am/fm, $3,000/O-BO. 563-8481 after 6

OLDS 98, '85, 4DR, 56,000 miles, $7000. Call 682-8443

PLYMOUTH K '86, 4 door, Silver, $3795. Call 561-5819

Plymouth Turismo '85, low mileage, loaded. $4300 297-1560 after 5pm

RED '78, Ford Mustang, V6, 4sp, $900 firm. Call 324-6255

TOYOTA Corolla GTS '88, Sport Coupe, fully loaded, sunroof, twin cam 16 engine. No equity, take over payments. Call 298-4876 leave message.

TOYOTA CRESSIDA, '78, exc. body, $900/best offer. Call 323-3381 lv. message

T-BIRD Elan, '86, fully loaded, new tires & battery. 53,000 mi, burgandy exterior/interior, PCS Must sell. $10,000. 989-3319 after 5PM

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

CAMARO Z28 '83, exc cond, loaded. Day: 324-0505 or Nts & Wkend: 561-6277

Corvette 79, L82 engine, manual trans. Good shape. $7,000/best offer. Got married, must sell! 561-0399

AUTOS FOR SALE 930

SPORTS CARS FOR SALE 932

CORVETTE '84, silver/grey w/leather, 31K mi, both tops, exc cond, $13,500. 322-1583, lv mess.

CLASSIC & ANTIQUE AUTOS 934

'68 Convertible Pontiac Bonneville, runs good, $725. 326-2033

LINCOLN Continental '67, 70% restored. $1650 firm. Call 322-8138.

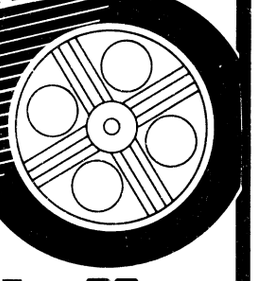
MERCEDES 190C '65, excellent condition, $2500/neg. 568-7295

MUSTANG, '66, loaded, almost like new. $4000/best offer. Call 563-7707

'67 CAMARO RS, 427 eng., automatic, 456 positrac, good cond. Call 682-3644.

IMPORTED AUTOS 936

ACURA Legend Coupe '88, excellent condition, original owner. Call 298-8856.

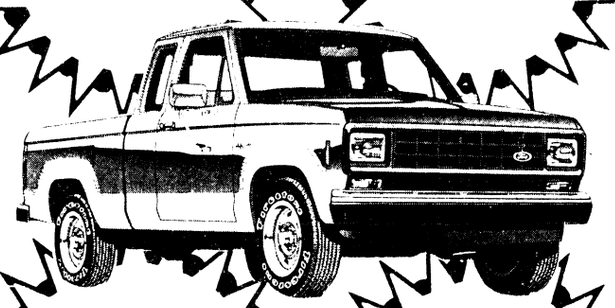


Engines: Honda, Toyota, Nissan, Mitsubishi, Mazda, Isuzu, Subaru. Guaranteed & ready to install. Lowest prices; shipped anywhere USA. Techna-Car 1-800-344-1015.

'86½ Mercedes 190D, 2.5 ltr, sunroof, Aero kit, burwood int., 28K mi, wrnty, exc. cond. $17,900. 561-8216

MG MIDGET completely restored, new paint & eng. $3000/offer. 324-4300

AUTOS FOR SALE 930



RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
"DELIVERS"

E-2s & Up!!

No Previous CREDIT! "No Problem"

SAME DAY DELIVERY!

SLOW CREDIT? "No Problem"

Toll Free 1-800-544-8480

Only Requirements
1. L.E.S.
2. $99.00 Down
3. Ability to Buy Full Coverage Auto Insurance

Bring this Ad –
We'll Pay Your Cab Fare

RANDALL GREENE FORD-MERCURY
Hwy. 431 North
EUFAULA, ALABAMA

BUTLER

$1,000 CASH BASH

BUTLER IS GIVING AWAY $1000 CASH EVERY WEEK IN JUNE!

Just visit BUTLER NISSAN-CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH DODGE and register. Drawings will be held each Monday morning in June, and the winner's name and picture will be featured in Butler's newspaper advertisement each week.

No purchase necessary, but you must be at least 18 years old with a valid driver's license to participate. Only one winner per household, please.

Marshall Butler

THIS COULD BE YOU

1989 NEW YORKER
V-6 Engine, Luxury Pkg.
Regular Price $19,464
Factory Rebate 1,000
Butler Rebate 1,000
This Week Only... $17,464

1989 DODGE SHADOW
Southern Special, Air, AM/FM Cassette
Regular Price $10,597
Factory Rebate 750
Butler Rebate 750
This Week Only..... $9,097

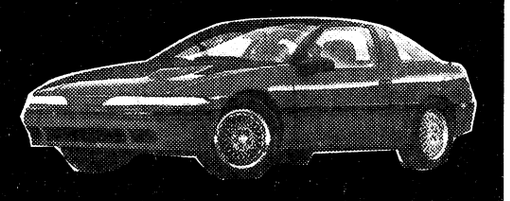
1989 DODGE DAYTONA ES.
5 spd., Popular Eq. Pkg. 2.5 EFI, AM/FM Cassette
Regular Price $12,007
Factory Rebate 1,000
Butler Rebate 1,000
This Week Only... $10,007

1989 NISSAN SENTRA
Stk #88d144
Regular Price $7,954
Factory Rebate 500
Butler Rebate 500
This Week Only..... $6,954

1989 NISSAN
HARD BODY PICKUP
Regular Price $8,679
Factory Rebate 500
Butler Rebate 500
This Week Only..... $7,679

1988 NISSAN PULSAR SE
Twin Cam, A. Trans, A/C, AM/FM
Regular Price $16,093
Factory Rebate 750
Butler Rebate 750
This Week Only... $14,593

BUTLER'S MILLION $ TRADE-INS



1987 YUGO Neat & Cheap $2495	1987 BUICK PARK AVE. X-cellent Cond. $13,995	1986 CHEVY SPECTRUM A. trans., air, 4 dr. $3995	1985 TRANSAM $7995	1982 PLYM. RELIANT One owner $2995
1985 PONT. FIERO SE 5 Spd., air, am/fm $4994	1988 CHEVY Z-28 Loaded $13,995	1985 FORD T-BIRD TURBO A. trans., air $6995	1987 CHEVY IROC Z-28 Fully equipped! $10,995	1987 TOYOTA Camry LE, Full pwr. $11,995

BUTLER NISSAN-CHRYSLER-PLYMOUTH DODGE
427 New Franklin Rd.
LaGrange, GA (404) 884-1744
Hours: Mon.-Fri. 8:30-8:00- Sat. 8:30-6:00

ATTENTION; E-4s & UP
Need Wheels

- NO Or VERY LITTLE DOWN PAYMENT
- NO Or LITTLE CREDIT - NO PROBLEM
- INTEREST AS LOW AS 0% A.P.R. -24 Months
- TERMS UP TO 60 MONTHS -SMALL PAYMENTS

Choose Now From Our Entire Stock Of New Chryslers-Plymouths (Including 1990 Laser) For Maximum Discounts!!

- AWARD WINNING SERVICE DEPARTMENT
- OVER $500,000 WORTH OF CLEAN USED CARS READY
- CALL AHEAD FOR INSTANT CREDIT APPROVAL

CARL GREGORY CHRYSLER PLYMOUTH-SAAB
568-4900
1800 Box Rd. I-185 Exit 4
"Just Give Us A Try"

PUBLIC NOTICE!

PHENIX CITY

FURNISH AMERICA

GOING OUT OF BUSINESS SALE

SALE STARTS FRI JUNE 9TH 12 NOON!

FIRST COME: FIRST SOLD!

200,000 MUST BE SOLD

Regarless of cost or lost!

CREDIT TERMS STILL AVAILABLE!

- 90 DAYS SAME AS CASH!
- NO PAYMENTS TIL SEP 89
- NO DOWN PAYMENT!
- CREDIT PLANS FOR YOUNG ADULTS JUST STARTING OUT!

GET THE BUY OF A LIFETIME! ALL BRAND NAMES!

BRING YOUR TRUCK. DELIVERY AVAILABLE AT X-TRA COST!

THE AREA'S LARGEST SELECTION OF 'MOTION' FURNITURE

- SECTIONALS WITH RECLINERS, SLEEPERS & RECLINING SOFAS

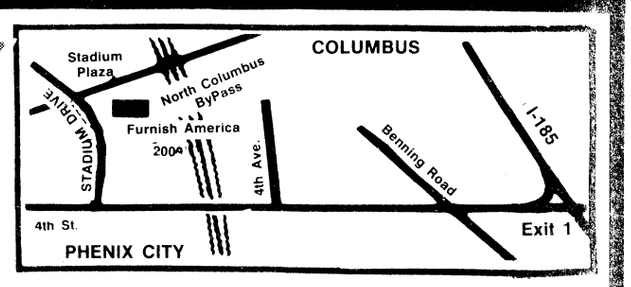
PLAINLY TAGGED DISCOUNTS WILL SAVE YOU HUNDREDS EVEN THOUSANDS OF DOLLARS!

COME SEE US!

MERCHANDISE TO BE LIQUIDATED!

BEDROOMS, DININGROOMS, LAMPS, MATTRESS SETS, DAYBEDS, BUNKBEDS, SOFAS, LOVE SEATS, CHAIRS, RECLINERS, BOOK-CASES, WATERBEDS, INCLINER SOFAS, SECTIONALS & MORE!

WE QUIT!



OUR LOSS IS YOUR GAIN! SAVE 30-60%

ALL ITEMS SOLD 'AS IS' 'WHERE IS' 'F.O.B.' NO HOLD ORDERS

DON'T MISS IT!

Furnish America

Yes, we still have credit terms. Even at these astounding prices we can offer convenient terms based upon needs including 100 days same as cash. Minimum purchase $400. Your charge cards welcome.

STADIUM PLAZA 298-1121

A new place for officers to take a break opens at the Officers' Club.

See A-3

Members of the original airborne test platoon visit their old stomping grounds.

See A-3

INDEX

Opinion A-2
Unit A-4
Sports B-3
Community B-4
Spiritual B-5
Movies B-6

THE BAYONET

Home of the Infantry

Published in the interest of the Fort Benning, Ga. community.

Carrier Route Presort
BULK RATE
U.S. POSTAGE
PAID
Permit No. 175
Columbus, GA 31994

POST BRIEFS

DoD components to stop issuing $50, $75 bonds

Anyone who would like to subscribe for $50 or $75 denomination U.S. Savings Bonds must complete the paperwork before June 30, according to Fort Benning's installation savings bond officer.

All Department of Defense components will stop issuing $50 and $75 denomination Series EE U.S. Savings Bonds effective upon completion of the 1989 Savings Bond Campaign, according to a Department of the Army message.

"June 30 will definitely be the last day of the savings bond campaign here," said Harry Holmes, installation savings bond officer. "I would suggest that if anybody wants to take advantage of the $50 and $75 bonds, they should do so now."

The change, directed by the Treasury Department, will not affect individuals who have previously subscribed for those denominations, according to the message.

This restriction will also preclude those individuals continuing to participate at the $50 and $75 level from purchasing additional $50 and $75 bonds or changing their current payroll plan bond purchases for an amount less than a $100 bond.

Upon completion of this year's campaign, savings bonds acquired through payroll savings plan deductions of allotments will be available only in $100, $200, $500 and $1,000 denominations for new subscribers.

Some commands have elected to extend this year's bond campaign into June as has Fort Benning. However, any units that haven't submitted results of their savings bond campaigns for submission to the Training and Doctrine Command are asked to call Harry Holmes at 545-1117.

★ ★ ★

Playskool, Inc. recalls 'Busy Box' toy

Playskool, Inc., has recalled its Color 'N Contrast Busy Box after finding the toy's printed red logo exceeds the 0.06 percent lead content limit required by federal law.

The Army and Air Force Exchange Service is one of the retailers that stocked the toy worldwide. The Busy Box has been removed from exchange shelves.

Customers who have purchased Playskool's Color 'N Contrast Busy Box may return it to their local exchange for a full refund. Or they may send the toy to the following address:

Playskool, Inc.
110 Pitney Road
Lancaster, PA 17602

★ ★ ★

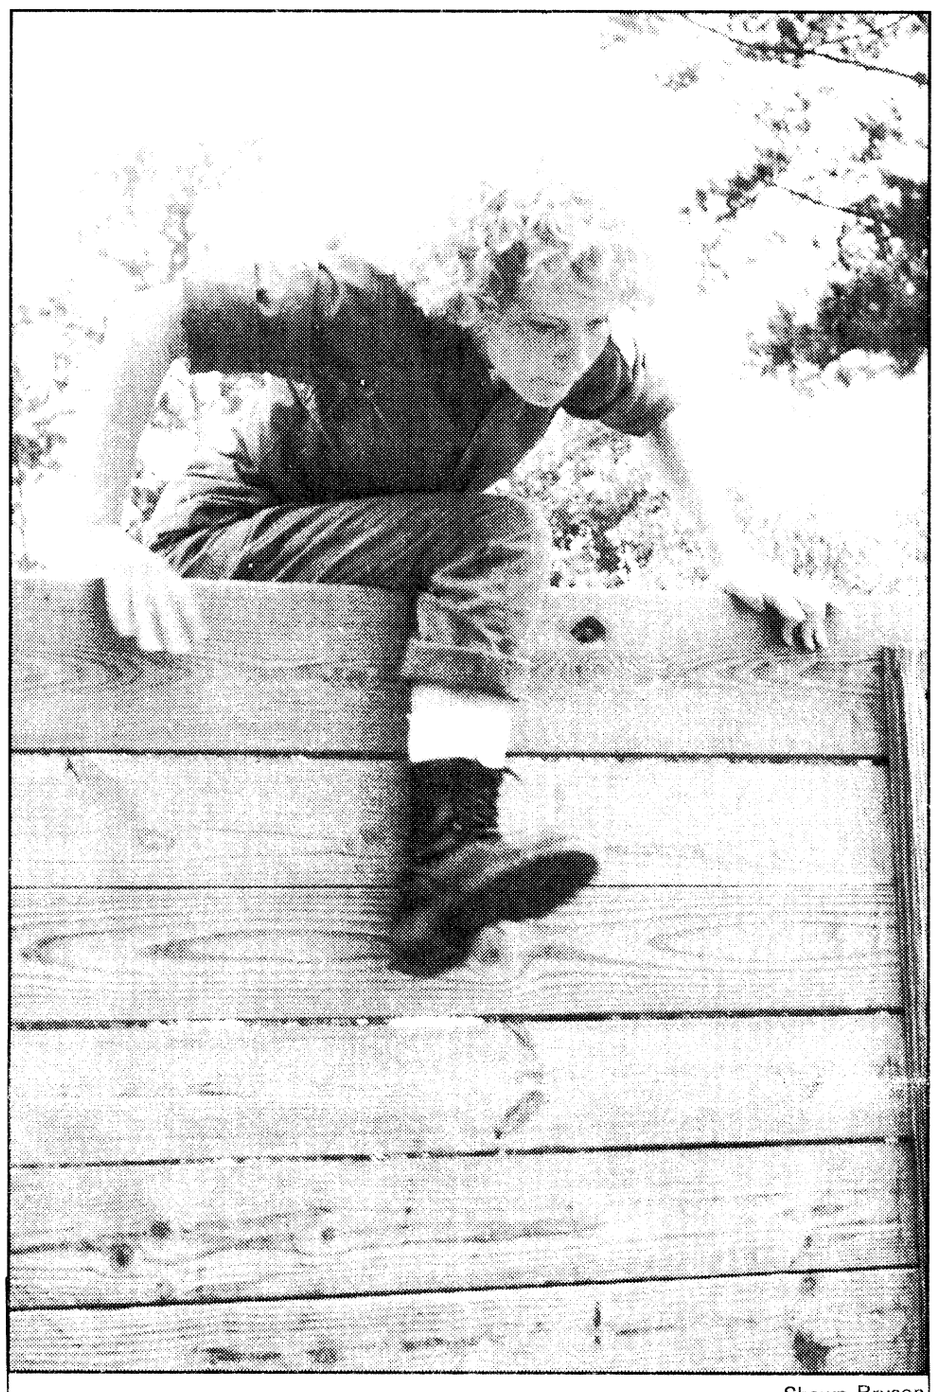
Job Seekers Workshop slated for Saturday

A Job Seekers Workshop will be held Saturday from 8 a.m. to noon at the Holiday Inn, Banquet Room, 3170 Victory Dr.

The workshop, presented by the Noncommissioned Officers Association, will focus on all aspects of the job search as will be experienced by separating or retiring servicemembers, according to NCOA.

The workshop will be conducted by Blaine Souerwine, an NCOA career transition expert.

★ ★ ★



Flying club may fly if anyone's interested

Interest has been expressed in establishing a Fort Benning Flying Club.

Costs associated with the Flying Club would include membership fees, instruction fees, aircraft rental and fuel costs. The Flying Club is required to be self-sufficient.

Active duty and retired military and DOD civilians employed at Fort Benning who are interested in participating in a Flying Club are asked to contact Patsy Mason, 545-7357/5641, and leave their name and phone number prior to June 30.

If sufficient interest is shown, a meeting will be scheduled the following week. All interested personnel will be notified of the date, time and location of meeting.

Shawn Bryson

Over the edge

JROTC Cadet Nancy Adams hurdles a wall on the confidence course during Junior ROTC training here. See A-6 for the story and more photos.

FAREWELL

to HHD, 67th Maint., 36th Eng.

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, 67th Maintenance Battalion, 36th Engineer Group has packed its bags and will bid farewell to Fort Benning July 16.

HHD and 39 of the unit's soldiers are relocating to Fort Ord, Calif.

Lt. Col. Charles R. Thornton, gave up command of the 67th June 16 in Building 4's Marshall Auditorium during a farewell review and relinquishing of command ceremony.

Fort Lee, Va., is Thornton's next stop. He will take over as the director of individual training, U.S. Army Logistics Center.

The new commander of the 67th will be Lt. Col. Norris S. Jordan, who will take over the unit July 18 at Fort Ord.

The 67th's higher headquarters at Fort Ord will be the Bayonet Combat Support Brigade, a Forces Command organization.

Thornton, who took command of the battalion in June, 1987, said during the ceremony that he had pursued command of the 67th since his last assignment with the unit as commander of the 608th Ordnance Company.

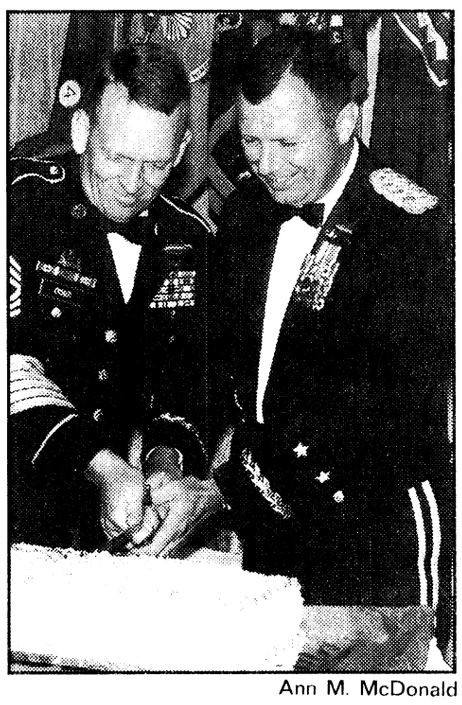
"If we had to talk about winners and losers, Fort Ord is gaining from this deal and Fort Benning is losing," Thornton said.

"Fort Benning should feel pretty good though, because while HHD is leaving, the bulk of the battalion remains at Fort Benning," Thornton said.

Left behind by the 67th are about 600 soldiers from four units, the 598th Maintenance Company, 533rd Transportation Company, 608th Ordnance Company and the 89th Explosive Ordnance Detachment. These units will now fall under the 36th Engineer Group.

The 67th has provided combat service support at Fort Benning since 1970. In recent years, the soldiers of the 67th have brought the unit much recognition. Units in the 67th have won numerous awards at installation, Forces Command and Department of the Army levels in competition's such as the Army Award for Maintenance Excellence. The battalion has also excelled in supply, transportation, sports and dining facility competitions.

The unit also assumed command and control of the 3rd Ranger Battalion's Ranger Support Element.



The 67th's subordinate units at Fort Ord will include the 519th Maintenance Company, 301st (Medical) Transportation Company, 590th Service and Supply Company, 49th Explosive Ordnance Detachment, 7th Replacement Detachment, 7th Personnel Service Company and Company A, U.S. Adjutant General.

U.S. Army celebrates its 214th birthday

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

Fort Benning's noncommissioned officers gathered at the main post NCO Club for the 214th Army Birthday Ball, June 17.

A presentation of the 13 colonial flags, the Army Flag and the attachment of the 169 campaign streamers preceded the dinner and a speech by the guest of honor, post commander, Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire.

Ann M. McDonald

Command Sgt. Maj. Autrail Cobb and Maj. Gen. Michael F. Spigelmire cut the Army birthday cake.

Spigelmire opened his speech by recalling his recent induction as an honorary member of the NCO Association, which occurred in the same ballroom not long ago.

He said the toughest job in the Army is that of an infantry or mechanized unit NCO at squad and platoon level.

Spigelmire said it's because they don't get a break. They are working constantly.

"In Vietnam, we didn't adequately train our NCOs but they still did the job," he said."Now we're changing that, and there is a noncommissioned officers education system that is parallel to the officer's education system, which I think is important."

He told the crowd of NCOs how much he relies on them and that he teaches all of the officers in the Infantry Officers Basic and Advanced Course how important NCOs are.

"I show dignitaries the Henry Caro NCO Academy because very few armies have something like it," Spigelmire said.

The commander said the Army's future holds reduction in force structure and fewer promotions.

"The chief of staff of the Army said there will be no degradation of NCOES, and NCOs will still get promoted," he said. "Although the future isn't rosy, it is strong, and it will be for another 214 years."

4-year-olds won't be covered by dental plan after June 30

Sponsors must specifically enroll them

Army News Service

Family members under 4 years old won't be covered by the Active Duty Dependent Dental Plan after June 30 unless their military sponsors specifically enroll them.

Children under 4 are eligible for coverage, as are other qualified children. However, those under 4 aren't automatically enrolled, even though the sponsor may have enrolled the whole family as a group and is subsequently paying the monthly family premium.

In order for children under 4 to receive benefits under the Dependents Dental Plan after June 30, the family premium code must reflect their enrollment.

Although benefits may have been paid for them in the past, the family premium code may not indicate that children under 4 are to be included in the coverage.

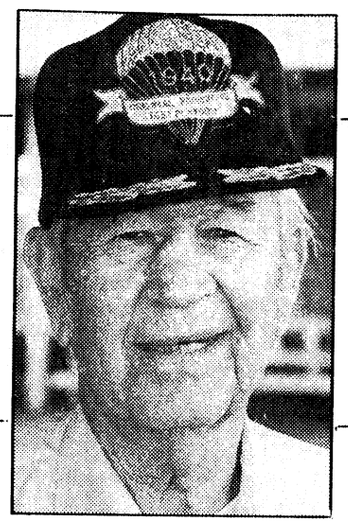
Sponsors paying the family premium who want their children under 4 to receive dental benefits should contact their personnel or finance officer immediately to make sure that the correct premium code has been reported.

Sponsors paying the family premium who don't want their children under 4 to receive the benefits need not take any action.

Sponsors currently paying the single premium for one family member, and who also have children under 4, may choose to enroll them in the plan at any time. This action will change the sponsor's premium from the single rate to the family rate, and will increase the monthly paycheck deduction.

The current premium for one family member is $3.93; for more than one, the premium is $7.86.

(From a CHAMPUS news release.)



OPINION

VARIOUS VOICES: How has training changed since you went through Airborne School?

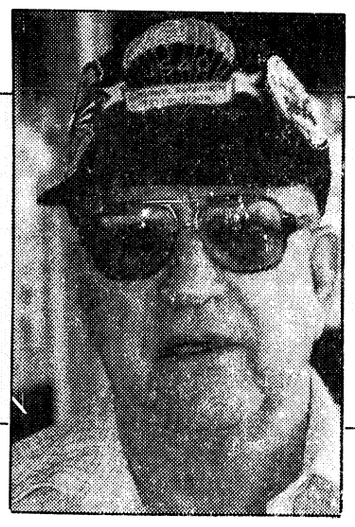
Note: These are members of the original test platoon the rank and the order in which they jumped during the first U.S. Army airborne operation is included.

1st Sgt. Hobart B. Wade, 10th jumper, original test platoon — "We played training by ear back then. We had to jump off the back of a moving truck and pack our own parachutes. Now they (airborne students) have someone pack their chutes, and of course, they don't jump off the back of trucks."



Pfc. Charles "Swifty" Wilson, 18th jumper, original test platoon — "It's much better organized. When we went through, the only one who knew anything about parachuting was our boss, Lieutenant Ryder, who gained his knowledge from the Germans. The stuff he didn't know about, we played by ear."

Pfc. Tyerus Adams, 24th jumper, original test platoon — "Training is 100 percent different. We didn't have anything to work with back then. We had to beg, borrow and steal to get something to train with."

Pfc. Robert Shepherd, 17th jumper, original test platoon — "It's 100 percent different. We mostly ran and of course did our PLFs (parachute landing falls) off the back of a truck."

Pfc. Louie Davis, 20th jumper, original test platoon — "We were just a test so nothing was firmly established. We did mostly physical training. It was not as technical as it is now."

Pfc. Frank Casell, 45th jumper, original test platoon — "It's changed a lot. The canopy on the parachute is different, and of course, the planes are much better. We jumped from B-18s, C-33s, C-46s and C-47s"

NCOs
share a tradition as rich as the history of our country

By Michael Livingston
Army News Service

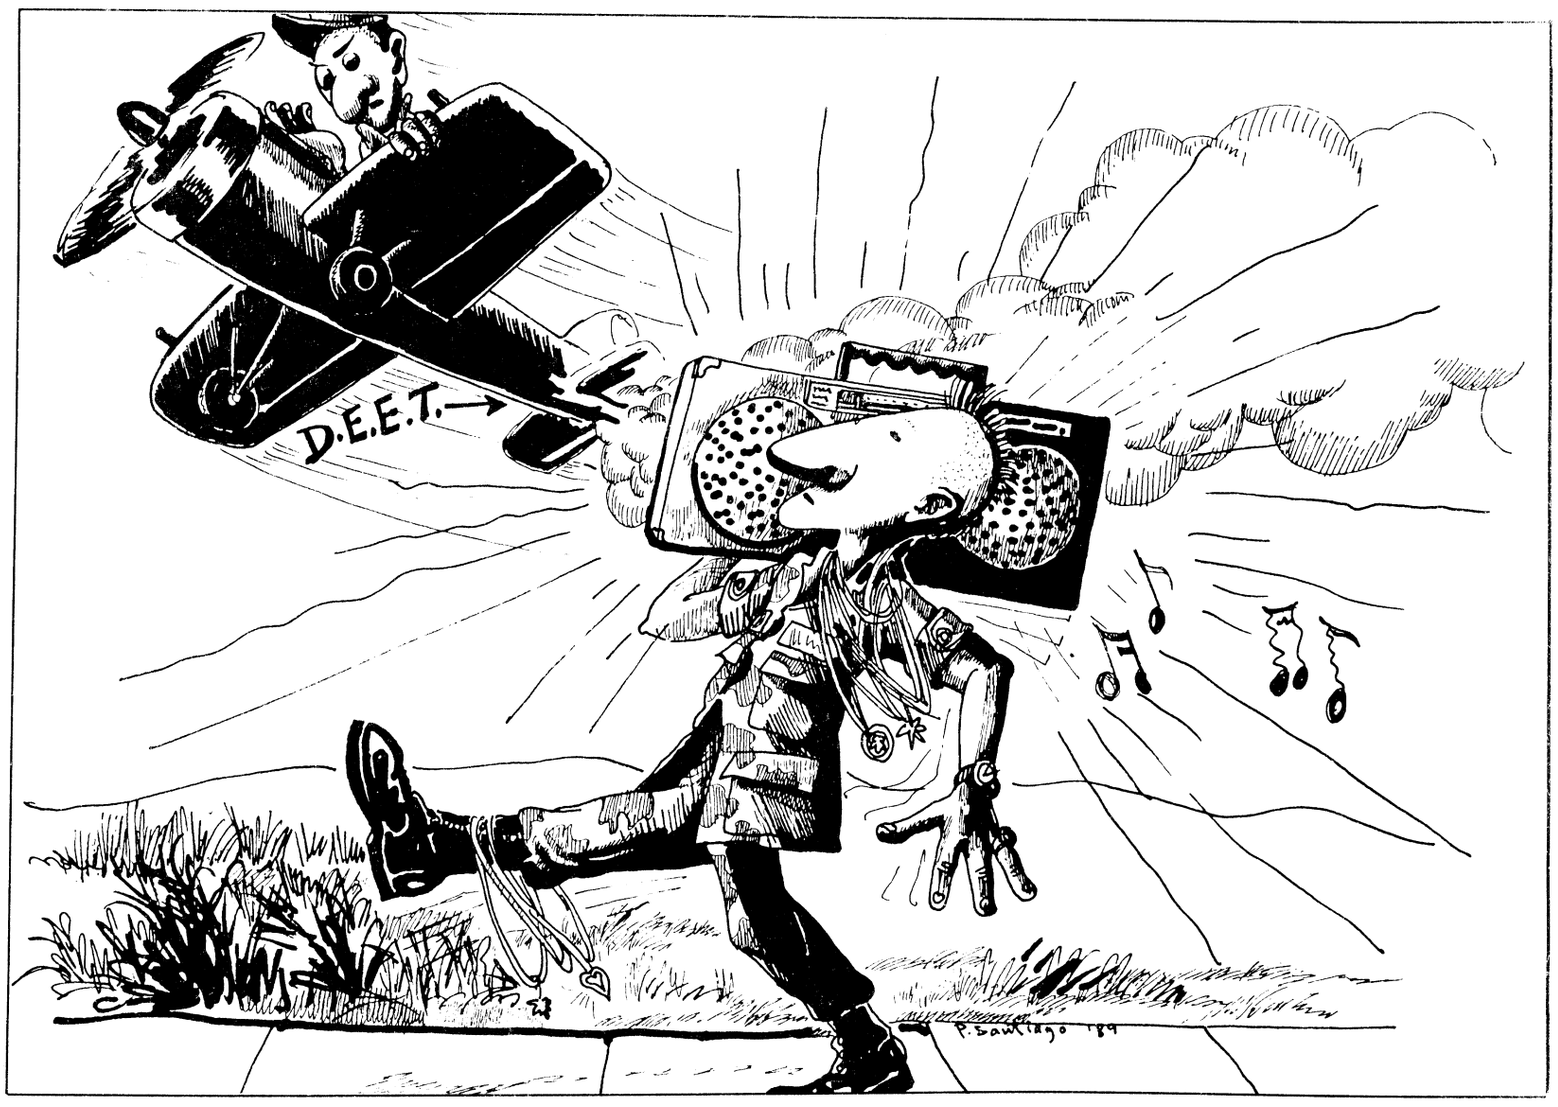
The senior leadership of the Army has long recognized the importance of a strong, professional noncommissioned officer corps.

The decision to dedicate 1989 to NCOs and their education demonstrates resolve to maintain an NCO corps that will forever be the backbone of the Army.

Noncommissioned officers share traditions as rich as the history of our country and our Army. As a young soldier, I was in awe of the man with the big, booming voice, assured manner and obvious control of himself and his platoon. He set the example for us to follow, just as NCOs have done since 1775.

His appearance in crisp, starched fatigues and highly polished boots was a look I tried to copy. I wasn't always successful, but I knew when I was close. He would nod and say, "Looking good, troop."

He was a mentor, tough when he needed to be but never failing to make every moment with his men a lesson about soldiering.



He indirectly chose my career for me. I wanted to be like him and someday be a sergeant, too. I learned to wear the stripes of a noncommissioned officer by watching and copying the master.

In my tenure in the Army, there have been many masters. One platoon sergeant taught standards, another job skills and still another leadership styles. A favorite sergeant major taught me that humor could easily motivate.

The common threads shared by each were the values of the professional soldier. Courage, candor, commitment and competence weren't just words to them; it was their way of life. We begin the year of the NCO facing a great challenge. Young sergeants must learn the same lessons taught to us.

Teach those cherished values to the platoon sergeants of tomorrow. The classroom can be the steps of the barracks, a motor pool or even the end of a bunk. Make the year of the NCO the most important year for our Army in recent history.

(EDITOR'S NOTE: Livingston wrote this commentary while attending the U.S. Army Sergeants Major Academy at Fort Bliss, Texas.)

When to start the New Year and other tidbits that 'bug' people

By Clyde Snively
USAIC Public Affairs Office

The summer doldrums are here, and it's only been summer for a couple of days.

To show you how bad it's gotten, one gal in the office of the Directorate of Logistics took to thumbing through her government-issue desk calendar. To her dismay, she learned the bureaucrats had found a way to delay entering the next decade.

Although Dec. 31 falls on a Sunday, Jan. 1, 1990 is a Saturday, making Monday, the day after Sunday, Jan. 3. If this is too deep for you to follow, pickup a desk calendar and check it out.

Good news from the research labs, campers. The Army's getting a new insect repellent. It's known in supply circles as diethyl-toloumide.

Infantrymen and other users refer to it as DEET. The stuff's supposed to be user friendly. It was tested from Alaska to Africa and Honduras to Thailand and found to repel almost all biting, disease-causing insects for up to 12 hours.

The researchers say it's good for mosquitoes, biting flies, chiggers, deer flies, fleas, stable flies and terrestrial leeches. As a bonus, it's supposed to smell good too.

Unfortunately it's not good against "No-see-ums," or midges. Guess you still need some Skin So Soft from Avon.

This new stuff is special. However, there were some properties in the old insect gunk that endeared it to many.

For instance, spray it on your plastic map covers, and it cleans grease pencil scribblings. Leave it on too long, and it melts the dadburn thing, just as it does the stock of your the M-16.

Need fuel to heat your C-rations or MREs and don't have any sterno? Just squirt some bug repellent in your peanut butter and instant fire.

It was also great for removing camouflage paint and melting down the cammie sticks in order to get the stuff on.

Of course, it was also true the enemy could smell American troops wearing the stuff a mile away. I wonder what the smell distance on the new stuff is.

Boom boxers. Read and heed. We all know, or should, of the post regulation that says "thou shall not play boom boxes so loud as to disturb someone at a distance of 25 feet," or words to that effect.

Columbus doesn't have a noise ordinance, yet, but they do have a public nuisance ordinance, which a couple of our rangers discovered the other day. Seems they were tooling around the parking lot at Carmike Cinema, blasting everyone in East Columbus — the sound was so loud, it blurred my vision.

Anyway, the movie folks got tired of that act — people inside couldn't hear Indiana Jones — and called the cops on them. So beware.

Why you'd want to turn the volume up that loud anyway is beyond me. You rangers especially, your hearing is your life.

Been noticing an increase in McDonald's wrappers, Burger King boxes and AAFES bags lying along the highways and roads on post.

I guess the scum who are dumping them there never had to go on police call. Either that or they think OSUT soldiers enjoy their Sunday outings out along I-185 with their plastic trash bags picking up other folks' garbage.

Shooting's too good for litter bugs.

I know one person who'll note time and place and call in a license number to the MPs in a flash. Me. The inside of my car may look like a pig pen, but at least it's there until I get to a trash can and not spread all over Chattahoochee Valley.

Commander warns of drunk driving penalties

The penalties for drinking and driving not only include large fines, higher insurance premiums and prison terms, but also an increased chance of being injured, permanently disabled or even killed.

A Fort Benning soldier was killed recently when his car rolled over while trying to turn onto First Division Road from Interstate 185. He was speeding, had been drinking and was not wearing his seat belt.

Two of the three Fort Benning soldiers killed in traffic accidents this fiscal year had been drinking prior to the accidents.

The safest approach is to refrain from drinking any alcoholic beverages whenever you will be driving. If you do have a drink or two, do one of the following:

- Ride with a designated driver who will not drink any alcoholic beverages that day. Our club system managers will give designated drivers a badge to wear and free nonalcoholic drinks.
- Take a taxi or bus.
- Stay over at a friend's house.

Commanders should stress to all personnel that the above are safe alternatives to risking life and limb needlessly. Noncommissioned officers should also actively promote responsible driving at platoon level.

All leaders must care enough to help our soldiers avoid a deadly situation.

Michael F. Spigelmire
Major General, USA
Commanding

The Bayonet

This newspaper is an authorized publication for members of the Army. Contents of THE BAYONET are not necessarily the official views of, or endorsed by the Department of the Army or any of its agencies. Everything in this publication must be made available for purchase, use or patronage without regard to the race, creed, color, sex or national origin of the purchaser, user or patron. A confirmed violation or rejection of this policy of equal opportunity by an advertiser will result in the refusal of the publisher to print advertising from that souce. THE BAYONET is an unofficial publication authorized by Army Regulation 360-81. Editorial content is prepared, edited and provided by the Public Affairs Office of the U.S. Army Infantry Center. THE BAYONET is published each Friday by the R.W. Page Corporation, a private firm in no way connected with the Department of the Army, under exclusive written contract with Fort Benning. All photos are U.S. Army unless otherwise credited. Liaison between the publisher and the commanding general, USAIC, is maintained by the public affairs officer, through the command information officer, USAIC, Fort Benning

Editorial

Commanding General ..... Maj. Gen Michael F. Spigelmire
Public Affairs Officer ..... Lt. Col. McDonald Plummer Jr.
Command Information NCOIC ..... Staff Sgt. Ron Allen
Administration NCOIC ..... Staff Sgt. Luz Llanos
Editor ..... Staff Sgt. Sharon Reynolds
Assistant Editor ..... Agatha Hudson James
Staff writers ..... Spec. Ann McDonald, Spec. Shawn Bryson
Editorial Office: Public Affairs Office, USAIC, Building 4, Room 601, Fort Benning, Ga., 31905, (404) 545-2201/2202; AUTOVON 835-2201.

Advertising

Retail/Display ..... (404) 324-5526
Classified ..... (404) 322-4500
Circulation ..... (404) 323-1234

For subscription information call (404)323-1234.

Circulation 21,000

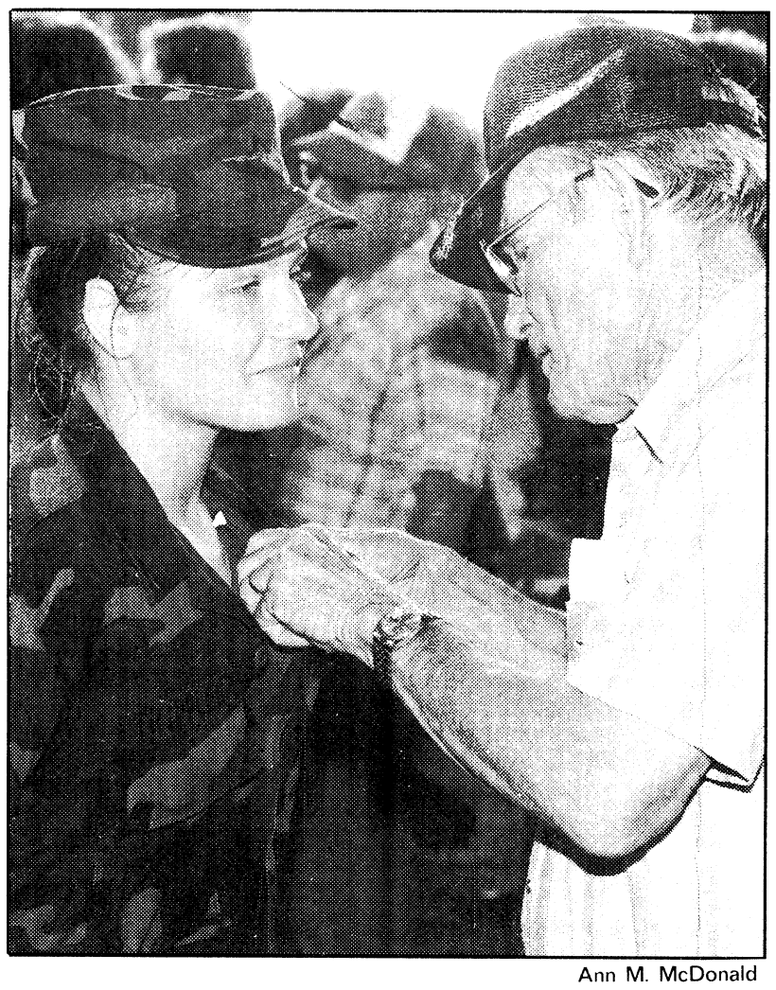
Represented nationally by Knight Ridder Newspaper sales W.B. Bradbury and Military Media, Inc.

History makers return for airborne memories

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

More than 48 years ago, several soldiers made history at Fort Benning by jumping out of an aircraft in flight.

Louie Davis, a member of the original airborne test platoon said, "I knew when we were trying out the idea of jumping out of an airplane, it would be successful. It's really exciting to see young troops carrying on what we started."



Since that first jump in 1939, test platoon members have returned here almost every year for a reunion. This year was no different.

1st Battalion, 507th Parachute Infantry Regiment hosted 10 of the 48 members of the original airborne test platoon last week.

They come here because this is where it all began, according to the secretary of the group, Charles "Swifty" Wilson.

"We went up to Fort Bragg, North Carolina, a couple of times, but it wasn't the same," he said.

He said although only 10 came to the reunion, there are 19 of the 48 members still alive.

Ann M. McDonald

Raymond Smith, original test platoon, pins graduation wings on Pvt. 2 Susan Trippler.

"We maintain contact with each other during the entire year and coordinate this trip, which usually falls in June," Wilson said. "This year some just couldn't make it."

Comments were made on how much fun it is to be around troops who are just becoming paratroopers and to see the advances being made in training.

During their visit, they observed all phases of airborne training and visited the parachute packing branch.

"They didn't have riggers when we went through," one test platoon member said."We had to pack the chutes ourselves."

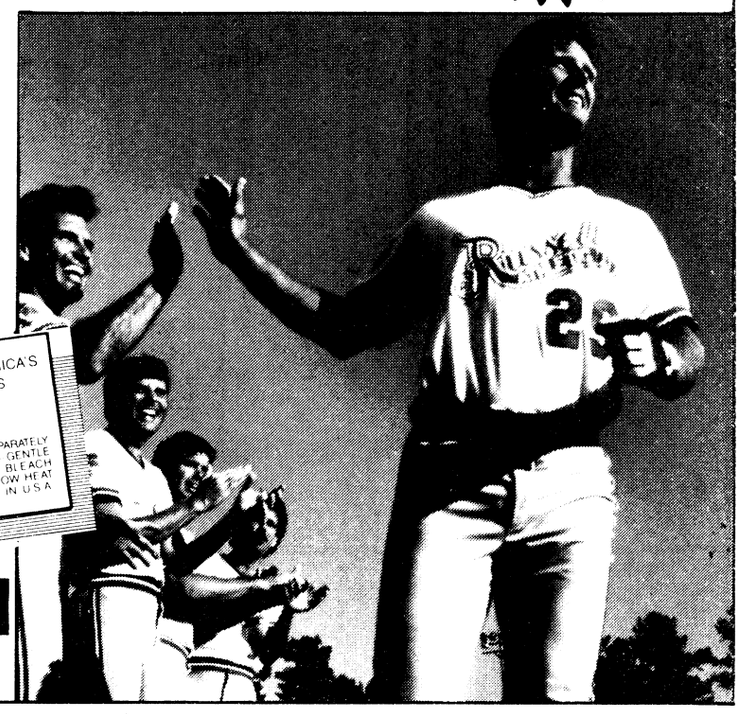
Local 54 approved, signed

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The American Federation of Government Employees, Local 54, has a new contract with Fort Benning that was approved and signed last week by the post commander.

The most significant change brought about by the signing is the new article on Smoking Cessation, which reiterates the command policy on smoking for the installation and provides special coverage for MEDDAC and DENTAC, according to Willie D. Varner, chief, Management Employee Relations, Civilian Personnel Office.

The policy, by agreement, now bans smoking inside MEDDAC and DENTAC facilities. Visitors and employees may smoke in areas designated outside the facilities.



Unit commanders are involved in the contracting decision because they have civilians working in positions within their units. Hence, they have input in decisions made involving them.

"Now that the contract has been signed, it will go to the Training and Doctrine Command for final approval," Varner said. "The current agreement will remain in effect until the renegotiated contract is approved by TRADOC."

The negotiation process took eight hours, which is comparatively shorter than the 14 hours it took in 1986. The union proposed changes to 19 of the 36 articles and management proposed changes to 15 articles.

Local 54, was chartered at Fort Benning Feb. 6, 1933 and was granted exclusive recognition in 1965. The union represents more than 3,000 general schedule employees, according to Varner.

ATTENTION All Fort Benning Teams
Clean Up.
Go with an all-time great. Russell Athletic.
SAVE 25% NOW TILL JULY 15th.
NOW 25% OFF!
Softball is serious business. You're playing to win, so don't suit up with anything less than Russell Athletic.
Russell has been outfitting America's top athletes for generations, with the kind of field tested quality that holds up. Play after play, game after game.
And when it comes to styles, trims and colors, the combinations are endless.
If You Are Proud Enough To Wear The Very Best.
Russell Athletic. Authentic American Sport.
WORN BY AMERICA'S TOP TEAMS
42
MACHINE WASH SEPARATELY USE WARM WATER GENTLE CYCLE DO NOT BLEACH TUMBLE DRY LOW HEAT WPL 7232 MADE IN U.S.A.
RUSSELL ATHLETIC TEAM SPORTS SUPPLY, INC.
5381 Beallwood Connector 323-6501

CPO takes 3 TRADOC awards

By Shawn Bryson
Bayonet staff writer

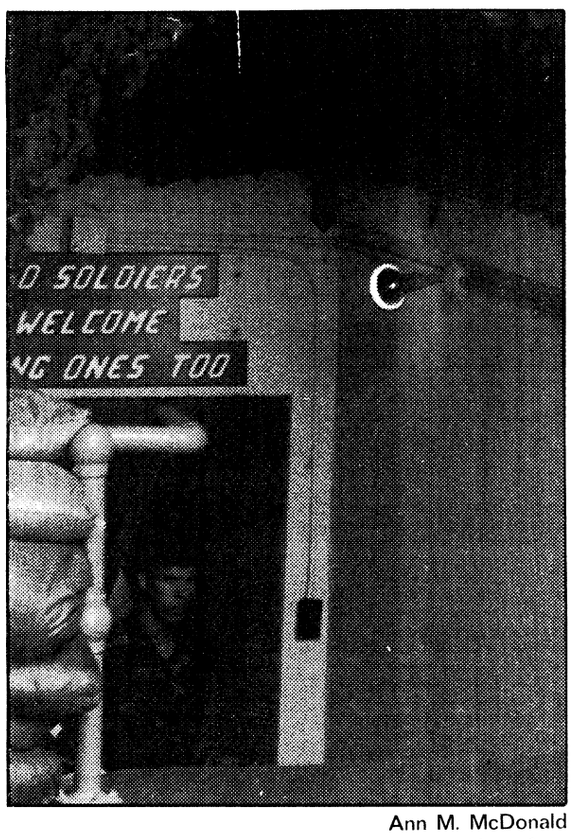
The Directorate of Civilian Personnel at Fort Benning took three of eight awards in the fourth annual Training and Doctrine Command's Civilian Personnel Management Excellence Awards competition recently.

Awarded were the office of the DCP; Theresa V. Gunter, director of DCP; and the DCP's Gary Burkhalter.

This win makes the second for the office of the DCP, according to Gunter. She said the office also won in 1988.

Gunter said the Civilian Personnel Office was evaluated in areas such as recruitment and placement, labor management and employee relations, affirmative action and special employment programs, training and development of employees and position management.

Eighty people make up the DCP, which is responsible for about 6,000 civilian employees on post, not including employees of post schools or post exchange services.



"We are especially proud of our work with the handicapped," Gunter said. "The DCP has been recognized for years because of its handicapped program."

Community services of the DCP include combined employment efforts with organizations such as the Private Industry Council and the Urban League.

Gunter was recognized by TRADOC for her efforts as director of the DCP. She, too, is no stranger to the DCP awards. She won the Leadership in Civilian Personnel Administration award in 1987 and again this year.

Gunter received her award based on criteria, including overall program excellence, customer service and exemplary accomplishment of continuing program.

The third recipient, Burkhalter, won his award for technical excellence. Burkhalter is in charge of the DCP's Federal Equal Opportunity Recruitment Program. According to Gunter, Burkhalter brought the program from a developmental stage to a model program within the command. Burkhalter was also recognized for his accomplishments in the overall installation mobilization readiness program.

Ann M. McDonald

The "Bunker" is open and ready for business.

'Bunker' opens for post officers

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

The Fort Benning Officers' Club has opened a new place to take a break.

It's the "Bunker," and according to the general manager of the club, Jimmy Stiller, its location has quite an extensive past. It first opened as the "Infantry Bar" in 1962. In 1976, it was renovated and renamed the Foxhole. Then in 1984, the facility was closed.

It's once again open for business.

Stiller described it as a bunker with a little more class.

"I tried to make it resemble a Vietnam bunker," he said, "I relied on my experiences during the war, and I put some personal items in there, too."

Stiller said that anyone who wishes to put some of his own mementos in the "Bunker" is more than welcome to do so.

"It's a place for officer's to relax and unwind a little bit," he said.

The "Bunker" is open Tuesday through Friday, 4:30 to 10 p.m.; Saturday, 10 a.m. to 5:30 p.m. and Sunday, noon to 5:30 p.m.

Seat belt use mandatory here

By Karles C. Jackson
Military Police Activity

We worry and wonder about the "atomic age," we anticipate the glamour and convenience of the "space age," but in a very practical sense, we're still living in the "motor vehicle age."

The good old automobile, which has been with us since the early part of the century, is now the most important form of day-to-day travel for most people.

Yet, how many people say, "I don't need a safety belt when I'm traveling at a low rate of speed or going a short distance?"

All driving is dangerous. More than 80 percent of all accidents occur at speeds less than 40 mph.

In fact, fatalities involving non-belted occupants of cars have been recorded at speeds as low as 12 mph.

On June 12, the Fort Benning Military Police and Safety Office conducted a traffic survey and issued 33 citations for failure to wear seat belts.

Personnel are reminded in addition to the assessment of four traffic points for each seat belt violation, civilian employees of Fort Benning, military members and their family members who are cited for failure to wear seat belts must attend the Advanced Driver Education Class.

Failure to attend remedial driver training can result in suspension of post driving privileges. Individuals who accumulate a total of 12 points against their driving records in a 12-month period may be subject to losing driving privileges on post.

The Military Police and Safety Office will continue to conduct traffic surveys throughout the installation for seat belt violations.

Buckle up for safe driving.

We've Joined The Armed Forces Financial Network
ARMED FORCES FINANCIAL NETWORK
VISA Worldwide
Plus System Worldwide
AVAIL in Georgia
ALERT in Alabama
HONOR in Florida
Columbus Bank and Trust Company is proud to announce its new membership in AFFN (the Armed Forces Financial Network)! Now you can access your CB&T accounts at more than 30,000 ATMs* around the world with your CB&T Military Visa Card or Electronic Banking Center card.
Make cash withdrawals, cash advances, balance inquiries and money transfers wherever you see the AFFN symbol displayed. . . no matter where you are. And, in addition to AFFN, CB&T is a member of the networks displayed above, so you can also use your CB&T cards at any ATM displaying their symbols!
CB&T's membership in this new ATM network is just another example of our continuing commitment to being your Career Military Bank. At CB&T, we've joined the Armed Forces. . . to make banking easier for you!
*Automatic Teller Machine
CB&T Columbus Bank and Trust
We're Listening
Member FDIC

UNIT NEWS

Course enhances team efforts

Airmen visit Benning to teach basic functions of airlift operations

D.L. Bridges

Tech. Sgt. Richard Cooper explains aircraft loading formulas to Sgt. Robert Ridgeway and Sgt. Raymond Hinch.

By D.L. Bridges
197th Infantry Brigade

Soldiers of the 2nd Battalion, 18th Infantry, were among 25 students who attended 40 hours of instruction in the Airlift Planners Course given by the U.S. Air Force May 22 through 26.

The course's objective is to teach basic functions of an airlift operation so there is an effective team effort for short-notice airlift requirements for such organizations as the Rapid Deployment Force.

"The formal course has been around since the early 1970s when all the independent courses were consolidated," said Chief Master Sgt. Albert Good, assistant instructor. "In wartime, there wouldn't be enough Air Force teams to meet the massive requirements for airlift, and the course improves combat readiness."

Instruction covers Military Airlift Command, aircraft preparation, principles of load planning and safety.

Students received information concerning cargo preparation, load planning, optimum weight balancing, manifesting and inspections.

Larry Frost, Directorate of Logistics, coordinates the course offered at Fort Benning. "We have five classes a year, and it's a real asset because it enables units to be more self sufficient in load-out for missions," he said. "We have a 15 to 20 percent no-pass rate because of academics and lack of attendance," he said.

Good said there are about 30 classes a year given across the United States and only two teams available to conduct the training.

Tech. Sgt. Richard Cooper, teaches 15 classes a year in addition to his duties as a loadmaster. The course is taught to U.S. Army personnel at Fort Bragg, as well as Fort Benning.

"I really enjoy teaching this class because the students are excited and ready to learn," Cooper said.

"The homework is important and some students take it too lightly, but if they come and listen, they learn a lot," he said.

"I thought it was a good class," said Sgt. Robert Ridgeway, HHC, 2nd Bn., 18th Inf. "I already had the equipment preparation course, so some of it was repetitive. But it was a good review. The hardest part of the class is figuring out how to balance the loads inside the aircraft. Anybody who gets the chance should go," he said.

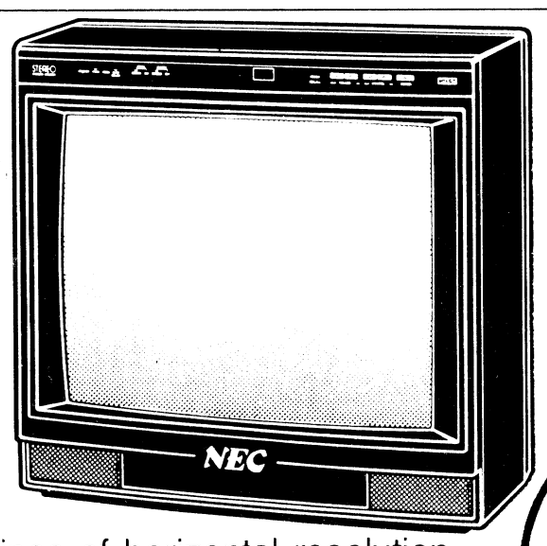
"They put out a lot of information in a limited amount of time," said Sgt. Raymond Hinch, HHC, 2nd Bn., 18th Inf. "The course entails a lot of mathematical computation and record keeping, but it's not that difficult as long as you use a calculator and remember the formulas."

Frost said there would be another class this year, but budget considerations would cause a reduction in the number offered next year.

Advertising in The Bayonet pays
322-4500

Econo Self Storage
4483 Victory Drive 404-682-3803
FORT BENNING
FOR THE MILITARY
Storage while TDY
Foot locker storage
Motorcycles
Boats
Personal effects
Bivouac
Permanent party storage
UNIT SIZES AVAILABLE
Lockers 5(W) x 5(D) x 4(H)
5x10 10x10 $20 up 5x5 10x20
Econo Self-Storage
Fort Benning Blvd.
By-Pass
Victory Drive
FORT BENNING
Call Now to Reserve Your Space
For Your Business or Family Items—Short or Long Term

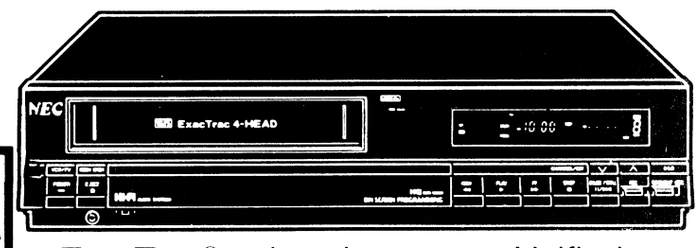
Low Cost Term Life Insurance
Consolidated Insurance Services
Albany, GA
Dealing with A+ or A Rated Companies.
1-800-289-8766
For a complete proposal
Annual Premiums (Male, Non-Smoker)



Age	$100,000	$250,000	$500,000	$1,000,000
35	122	203	300	550
40	130	225	345	640
45	155	233	435	860
50	205	388	545	1040
55	273	543	790	1530
60	383	875	1405	2760
65	643	1525	2545	5040

BANK CLOSED
THEN COME TO
PERSONAL CHECKS $
MILITARY CHECKS
ALLOTMENT CHECKS $
OUT OF TOWN CHECKS
$ PAYROLL CHECKS
INCOME TAX CHECKS
$ INSURANCE CHECKS
ALMOST ANY CHECKS
MR CHECK CASHER
NEW LOCATION
3809 Victory Drive
Traffic Circle Shopping Center
687-8666

• ELECTRONICS • JEWELRY • FURNITURE • APPLIANCES



Serving the Military & Civil Service with...

CONVENIENT CREDIT NO DOWN PAYMENT TAKE IT HOME TODAY

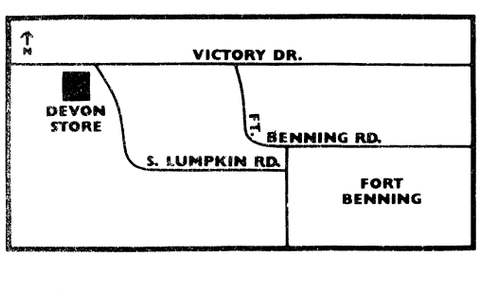
REG. $76.50 PER MO.
Special Price $1,049.99
66.94* PER MO.
Def.pmt. $1,204.92

•Comb filter for over 500 lines of horizontal resolution •Direct audio/video inputs •Fixed & variable audio line outputs •On screen time/channel /timer display •NEC wireless remote control operates both NEC tv and vcr •S-video input

REG. $63.75 PER MO.
Special Price $869.99
55.46* PER MO.
Def. pmt. $998.28

•ExacTrac® 4-head system •Unified A/V remote •155 channel cable capable frequency tuning •21 day/8 event on-screen programming from remote •Digital auto tracking for better picture and sound

Fantastic Prices on ALL Display Models



•5cu. ft. cooking capacity •30 minute timer •22 power levels •Defrost control

REG. $199.99 plus tax
Special Priced at
94.99* PLUS TAX.
NO RAINCHECKS

If contract is paid with twelve (12) months of 1st contract due date, we will refund finance charges on that purchase.

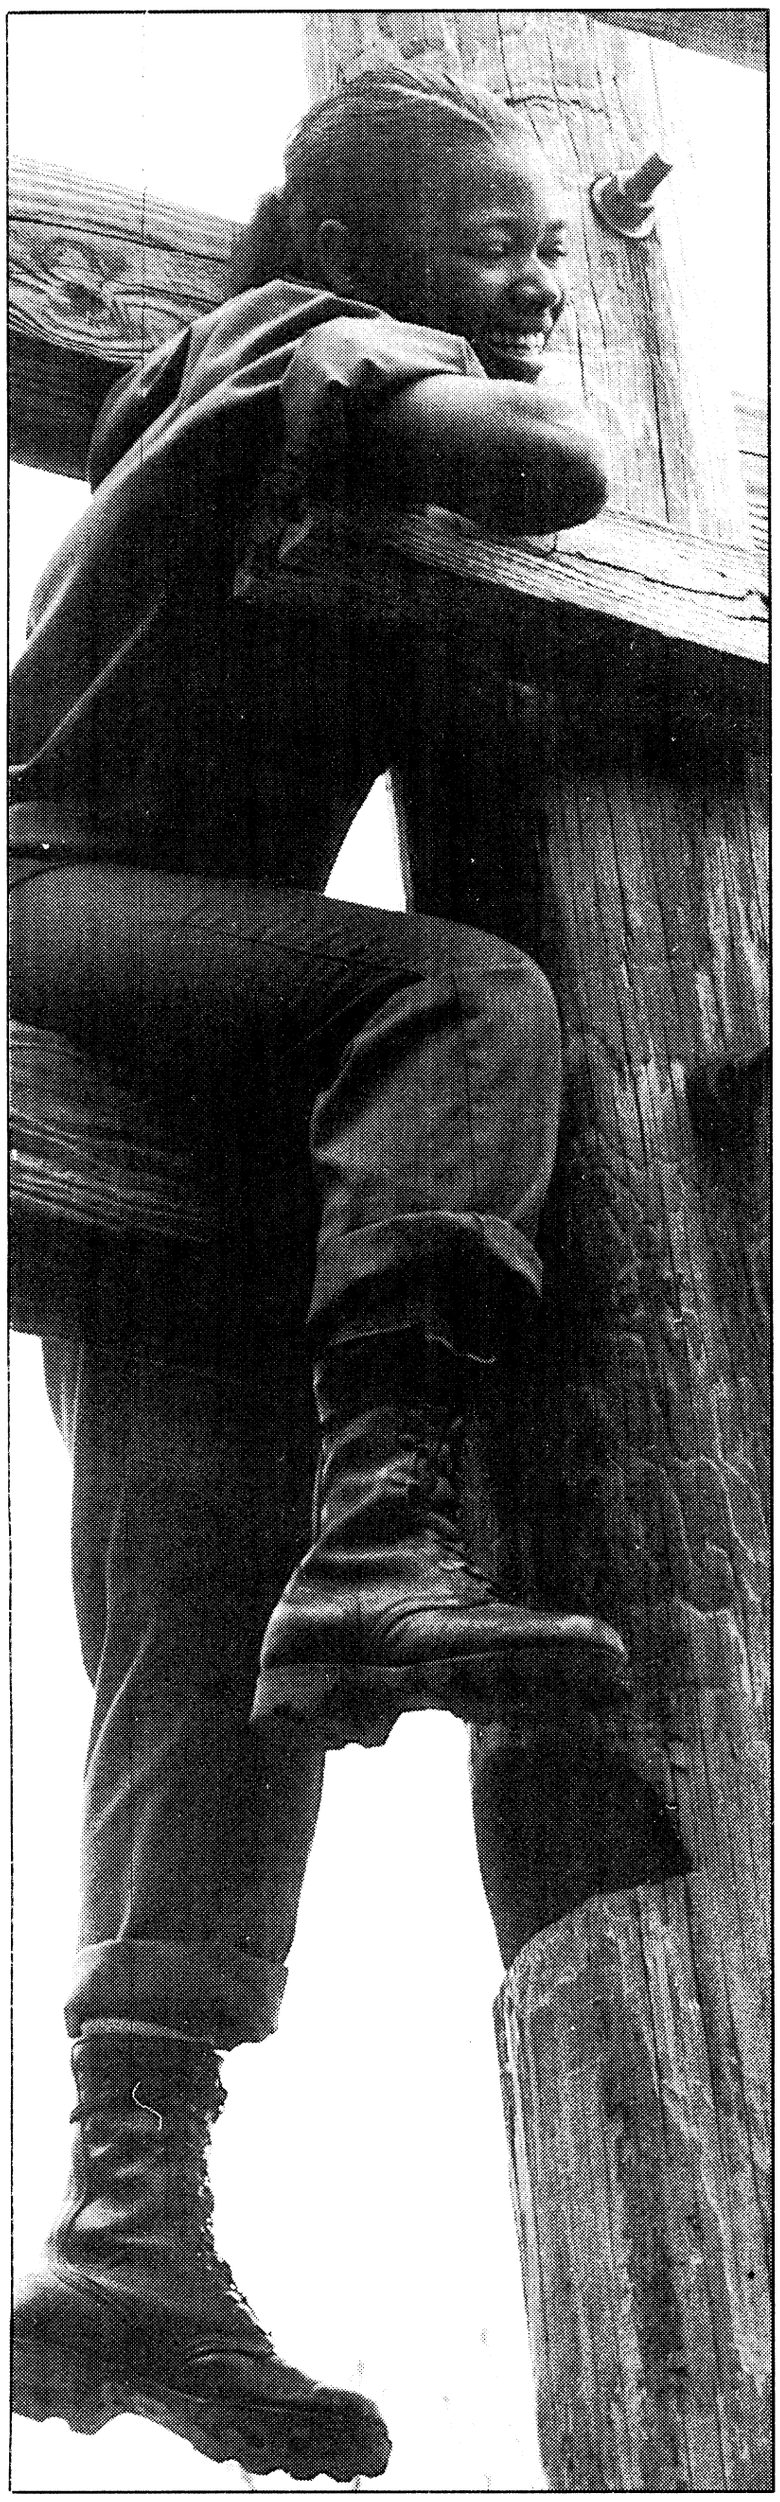
SALE ENDS JUNE 28, 1989

COLUMBUS #270
3296 Victory Drive
(404) 689-1210

Mon.-Fri. 10am to 8pm;
Sat. 10am to 5pm;
Sun. 1pm to 5pm

*Per month pricing based on no down payment with 17.9% annual percentage for 18 months. Multiply monthly payments by 18 months for total cost. Price may vary depending on local sales tax, insurance or warranty.

Marlboro



17 mg "tar," 1.1 mg nicotine av. per cigarette by FTC method.

SURGEON GENERAL'S WARNING: Quitting Smoking Now Greatly Reduces Serious Risks to Your Health.

© Philip Morris Inc. 1989

ROTC
Cadets build confidence

Junior ROTC cadets tackle obstacles at a confidence course and rappel 90 feet to get a taste of the "real Army."

The expressions on the young cadets' faces varied as they gazed up at the Slide for Life at the Sand Hill confidence course, an obstacle that appeared even more challenging against the overcast morning sky.

One of the cadets, not more than 4 feet, 10 inches tall, glowed with enthusiasm as he listened to the sergeant's instructions. Another cadet, about 17 years old and towering over the rest of the group, looked apprehensively at the obstacle before him.

Meanwhile, about three miles away at Todd Field, a cadet grimaced as she heard the instructions to take a good "L" position on the skid of the 90-foot rappelling tower. Her look of terror soon changed to amazement when after her descent, she realized what she had just accomplished.

These scenarios were basically the norm last week when more than 250 Junior Reserve Officer Training Corps cadets, from 32 high schools in Georgia, Alabama and Florida, came to Fort Benning for the 1989 JROTC Leadership Course.

The purpose of the course, according camp commander and senior Army ROTC instructor at Baker High School in Mobile, Ala., Col. James E. McIntyre, was "to familiarize the cadets to some of the basic elements of Army training and give them a full week of living in a totally military environment — contrary to one hour (of training) they get at school."

They're here because they want to be. They came expecting the dangers and excitement of the training," said Capt. John Payne, liaison officer for the 3rd ROTC Region at Fort Riley, Kan.

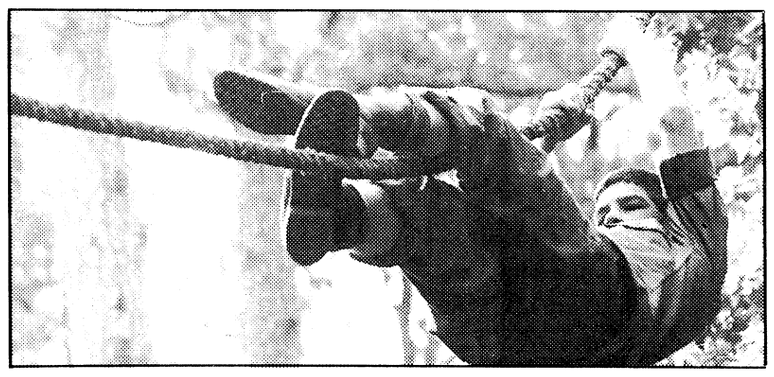
Upon their arrival June 11, the cadets were separated into six companies, composing two battalions and one brigade, according to Lt. Col. David H. Crawford, camp public affairs officer and senior Army ROTC instructor at Eufaula High School in Eufaula, Ala.

"It was amazing how they acclimated to each other during the first day," Crawford said of the cadets, most of whom had never been to the course. "By the end of the week, there will be many new friendships," Crawford said.

Other training during the week included compass navigation, M-16 rifle qualification, M-60 machine gun familiarization, airborne introduction (34-foot mock towers and 250-foot controlled decent tower) and the Leadership Reaction Course.

While many cadets were more than intimidated by the rappelling training, it was a cake walk for cadet James P. Walton, 16, of North Fulton High School in Atlanta, Ga. "It wasn't that scary to me because I have rappelled from a 200-foot cliff with the Boy Scouts," Walton said. But he said he enjoyed it and the airborne training, and he said he plans to attend the camp next year.

Although cadre members from each of the high schools officially supervised the cadets during their training, much emphasis was put on cadets leading cadets, according to McIntyre. He explained that leaders were rotated daily.



Leadership positions held by cadets included brigade, battalion and company commanders, platoon leaders and sergeants and squad leaders.

Cadet Andrea Peoples, 16, from Satsuma High School in Mobile, Ala., was exposed to "a lot of responsibility" when she was appointed the brigade commander June 14. "I was also a company commander the first two days," Peoples explained. "It's exciting. Instead of staying in the classroom, we get to come and apply what we've learned. She attended the course two years ago. "I wanted to come back because the first time was a blast," said Peoples, who has been in JROTC for three years and plans to go to Auburn University on an ROTC scholarship.

But, leadership and Army experience were not the only goals of the course, according to Crawford. "Part of our effort was to show the cadets how to follow as well as lead," Crawford said.

"These cadets have been the most outstanding I've ever seen because of the leadership they've displayed," said commander McIntyre.

"I think the course gives each cadet a greater sense of self-confidence and self-discipline," McIntyre said. "Most have an awareness that they've been challenged and can do a great deal more than they ever anticipated."

JROTC Cadet Kathy Prince takes a breather high atop an obstacle.

JROTC Cadet Vincent Clark "Slides for Life" at the confidence course.

Staff Sgt. Terlin Kois demonstrates to JROTC cadets how to properly negotiate an obstacle.

Story and photos

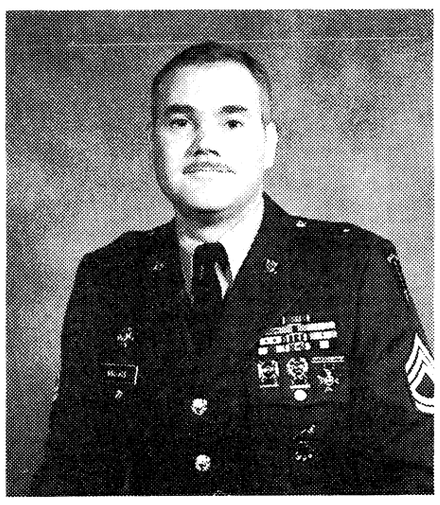
by

Shawn Bryson

FORT BENNING

MAKE A CAREER DECISION.

This is your chance to become part of an elite team of soldiers who collect and analyze a variety of electronic transmissions as well as voice communications.



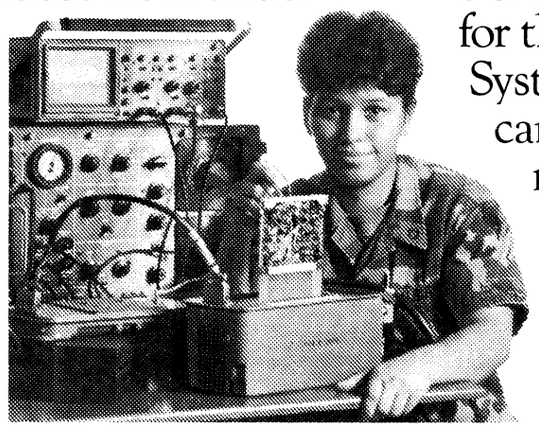
It also could afford you the opportunity to study a foreign language such as Russian, German, Korean, Arabic, Spanish or Czech.

If you're completing your tour of duty, it may be worth considering reenlistment for training in this vital area.

In conjunction with your duties, you'll be using some of the most high-tech electronic equipment available as well as employing sophisticated analysis techniques.

This field features assignments throughout the United States, and also overseas.

Interested? Come talk to me, and we'll review your qualifications. And, if you wish, bring your spouse along.

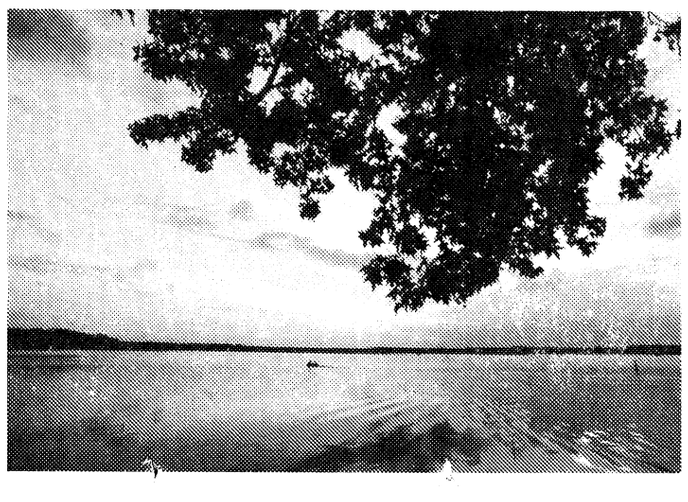


SFC Marion E. Wallace
In-Service Recruiter USAR/NG
PH: 545-4132/544-4759
Bldg. 2617 Soldier's Plaza

ARMY.
BE ALL YOU CAN BE.®
REENLIST.

NOW'S YOUR CHANCE TO LET THE ARMY KNOW WHAT YOU WANT TO DO.

1 YOU CAN CHANGE YOUR MOS. There are hundreds of new MOS's to choose from under the Army Training Reenlistment Option. Or, you may be able to reenlist with the same MOS, for airborne training.

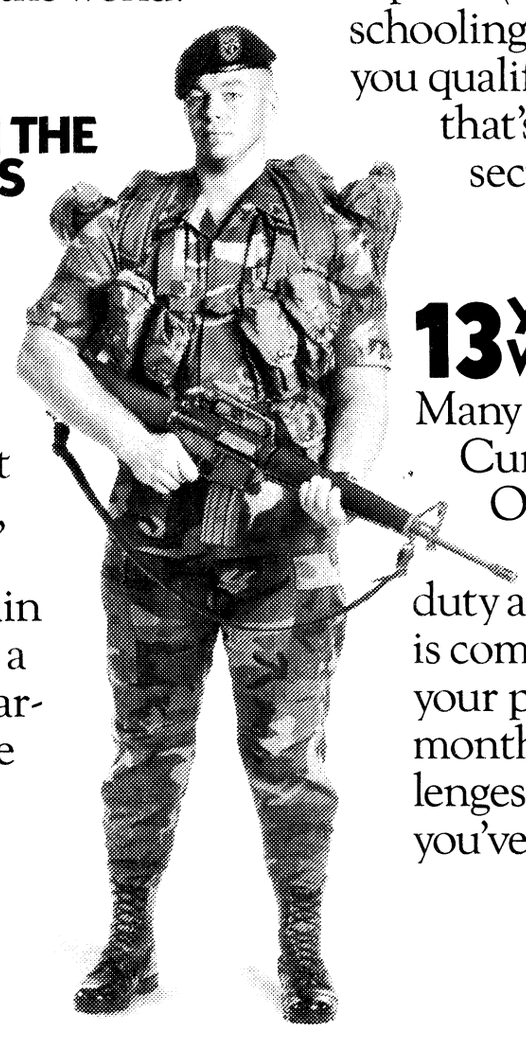


2 YOU CAN STAY WITH YOUR PRESENT REGIMENT.
Under the Regiment of Choice Option, you can reenlist and stay with your present regiment, or try a different one. If you're not presently in a regiment, you may be able to get into one. This option lets you make long-range plans, because you'll know where your regiment will be located.

3 YOU CAN GO TO BERLIN.
If you want to be on the front line of freedom, you may be able to reenlist under the Berlin Brigade Option. It isn't an easy duty, but it is an important one. The Berlin Brigade symbolizes our country's commitment to peace in Europe.

4 YOU CAN JOIN THE "BIG RED ONE."
Under the Combat Arms Unit of Choice Option, you could reenlist to become part of the "Big Red One," or any one of a number of the Army's best units. You don't have to be in a combat unit now, and most of these units have vacancies in almost every MOS.

5 YOU CAN SEE MORE OF AMERICA.
With the CONUS to CONUS Option, you can reenlist to relocate in a different part of the United States. Naturally, it all depends on whether your MOS is needed at your desired location.



6 YOU CAN LEARN A HIGH-TECH SKILL. Under the USAISC Option, you may qualify for the U.S. Army Information Systems Command. There, you can learn high-tech skills like radio teletype operation or satellite communications repair. There are over 140 MOS's, and you can serve in CONUS or overseas.

7 YOU CAN COME BACK TO THE STATES.
If you're overseas and want to come home, the CONUS Station Option can make it happen. Of course, a lot depends on what your MOS is, and where you want to go, but the Army will make every effort to relocate you, upon completion of your overseas tour, at a location of your choice.

8 YOU CAN GO OVERSEAS.
The Overseas Reenlistment Option makes it possible for you to spend a minimum of 12 months in Germany, Korea, or some other exciting part of the world.

9 YOU CAN JOIN THE SPECIAL FORCES OR RANGERS.
If you're special, the Special Forces or Ranger Regiment Option may be just right for you. You must be Airborne qualified, have an MOS that's needed (or agree to train in one) and qualify for a SECRET Security clearance. The demands are great, but so are the rewards.

10 YOU CAN JOIN THE OLD GUARD. If you'd like to march with one of the Army's oldest and most prestigious outfits, then reenlist for the Old Guard Option. If you make it, you're guaranteed assignment in Washington, D.C., for up to 3 years.

11 YOU CAN LEARN A NEW LANGUAGE.
Under the Language School Option, you could learn a second language of your own choosing, provided the Army's need matches your choice. Once you've completed your training, you could serve in a foreign country. And, of course, there's great satisfaction in being bilingual.

12 YOU CAN JOIN AN INSCOM UNIT.
Under the Intelligence and Security Command and Electronic Warfare/Cryptologic Units and Training Option (INSCOM/EW), your schooling will be intensive. But if you qualify, you'll be part of a group that's essential to our nation's security efforts.

13 YOU CAN STAY RIGHT WHERE YOU ARE.
Many soldiers do. Under the Current Station Stabilization Option, you can reenlist to stay at your present duty assignment after your tour is completed. You're guaranteed your present duty for 12 to 14 months. You can find new challenges and rewards at a place you've come to know.

As you can see, reenlisting opens up a world of opportunities for you. Of course, qualifications are different for each option. But if you qualify, you'll be well on your way to expanding your Army, and your life, experience.

To find out more details about each reenlistment option, talk to your Retention NCO. They are there to make sure you know what your choices are, and to help you chart the best course for your future.

REENLIST. BE ALL YOU CAN BE.®

Tornados are potential killers

Infantry Branch Safety Office

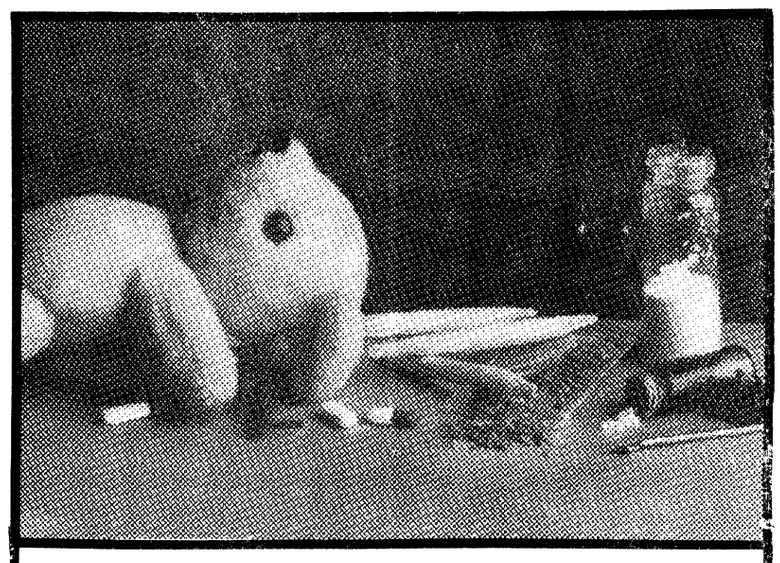
Few people live through tornados and go on to kill bad witches as Dorothy did in the "Wizard of Oz." And those who do live thorough tornados are usually just happy to be in one piece.

Tornados are potential killers. They're unpredictable, indiscriminate and swift. There is almost no way to predict what a tornado will do next, so the best way to avoid a tornado is to get out of its way.

Know where the best shelter area is for wherever you could be during an emergency. Hold tornado drills at home, office and school.

Most tornados have specific danger signs that preceed their destruction — power failure, severe thunderstorms with frequent lightning, heavy rain, strong winds, hail from dark clouds or a roaring noise.

When dark clouds gather, watch the sky, but also monitor radio or television stations for weather news. Besides standard radio stations, the NOAA weather radio broadcasts on one of the following three high-band FM frequencies: 162.40, 162.475, 162.55 MHZ.



A tornado watch status means that conditions are right for the development of a tornado. That status may stay in effect for several hours and cover an area as large as several states.

A tornado warning indicates that a tornado has been sighted. The report will give the tornado's location and probable storm path. Seek inside shelter if this warning concerns your location.

Though hail may or may not precede a tornado, the portion of a thunderstorm adjacent to large hail is often where strong to violent tornados occur. Once large hail begins to fall, assume that a tornado may be nearby, and seek appropriate shelter.

Once the hail has stopped, remain in a protected area until the thunderstorm has moved away.

Don't sit back and assume it will never happen to you. Take one beautiful day and prepare.

ASK THE JUDGE

By Gary T. Culbreath
Staff Judge Advocate's Office

Q. I got a phone call from a company offering a luxury vacation to the Bahamas for $400.

The salesperson said I had been specifically selected, and it was a once in a lifetime opportunity.

It sounded like a good deal. The salesperson said the $400 would take care of everything. Other than that, he couldn't give me a lot of specifics. Also, he asked me for a credit card account number. He said I had to sign up now because it was a limited time offer.

What should I have done?

A. Discount travel clubs like this rarely deliver what they promise. The best rule is if it sounds too good to be true — it is.

When dealing with telephone solicitors, remember they are skilled in high-pressure tactics. They will say anything to make a sale. Their job is to do whatever is necessary to sell you a good or service.

When dealing with a discount travel offer, the most important thing to do is find out exactly what you are paying for. Ask the salesman what the price does and does not cover, if it is refundable and what you have to do to get your money back.

Often, you still have to pay hidden charges such as gratuities and taxes once you get to the vacation spot. Find out the names and addresses of the airlines, cruise lines and hotels involved and call or write them. You should find out about the accommodations, as well as check reservations, dates and times.

It's a good idea to get brochures describing these places. Often the luxury accommodations promised are not your idea of luxury. If the salesperson can't or won't give you this information, that's a good indication it's a scam.

Additionally, before you agree to purchase anything or pay anything, get a written contract, and make sure it confirms everything you were told on the phone.

Remember, it's never a good idea to give your credit card number over the phone to anyone no matter what the circumstances. That advice goes for any other personal information such as bank account numbers.

This information can be used by the telephone solicitor to immediately charge your account whether you ultimately use the goods or services or not.

Should you receive phone calls like this over a government telephone, inform your supervisor or unit commander immediately. Fort Benning regulations prohibit the use of government telephones for the furtherance of commercial enterprise.

You should give your commander the name and address of the salesperson, the name of the company they represent and a description of the goods offered for sale.

Finally, realize that these deals are rarely as great as they sound. If you have any doubt as to any part of the offer, just say no. If it's really that good a deal, it will be available to you later.

If you have any additional questions, call the legal assistance office at 545-3281.

These drugs don't have age requirements

SHIPPING YOUR CAR!
POV Processing
&
Overseas Shipping Service
Vehicles Picked Up or Delivered
To/From Port in Charleston
CAROLINA AUTO PROCESSING CENTER
Located at Bldg. 1624
Ft. Benning • (404) 682-1668
Hours: Wed.-Fri. 12:00-6:00
Sat. 9:00-4:00
Exchange Concessionaire

MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
VHS HQ TABLE MODEL VCR
MODEL VG-7515
• On-screen Remote Programming
• Auto Program Frequency Synthesized Tuning
Only $319.95
E-Z PAYMENT PLAN
20" Diagonal REMOTE CONTROL TABLETOP COLOR TV
MODEL 20GT420
ONLY $379.95
ZENITH
ONLY $299.95
SE1315W
REMOTE CONTROL
13" DIAGONAL 157 CHANNEL CABLE READY CAPABILITY
HOOVER
VACUUM
Model U4467
As Low As $79.95
QUICK 'N E-Z FINANCING
Friedrich®
ROOM AIR CONDITIONERS
8000 BTU
AS LOW AS $499.00
MOVIE RENTALS
AS LOW AS
99¢
Per Day
FREE DELIVERY
10% Down Payment
matching home laundry pair
FREE DELIVERY
HOTPOINT SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR YOUR MONEY BACK!
PERMANENT PRESS CYCLES
WASHER Model WLW 3500B
DRYER Model DLB 1550B
SAVE ON THE PAIR
ONLY $728.00 for the pair
large capacity refrigerator
HOTPOINT SATISFACTION GUARANTEED OR YOUR MONEY BACK!
Hotpoint
■ 17.7 cu. ft. energy-saving refrigerator ■ equipped for optional icemaker ■ twin vegetable storage pans ■ covered dairy bins
Model CTX18C
ONLY $599.95
WE MAKE IT QUICK 'N EASY TO BUY
MODERN TV & APPLIANCE
You Don't Need A Lot Of Money, Just A Little Bit A Month
2039 Ft. Benning Rd.
BANK FINANCING
Hours: 9AM-6PM Mon.-Sat.
INSTANT CREDIT
687-8249

Heathkit
A leader in quality electronics for the technically sophisticated customer.
When you need kit or assembled electronic products for work, home or hobby, you can be sure Heathkit products are designed to perform reliably and effectively...year after year.
See what we have to offer. To get your FREE Heathkit Catalog, fill out and mail the coupon below or call toll-free today!
1-800-44-HEATH
(1-800-444-3284)
Powerful Kit Laptop and Desktop Computers
Precision Test Instruments
Dynamic Home Entertainment Products
Skill-Enhancing Educational Courses and Trainers
YES! Please send me a FREE copy of the Heathkit Catalog.
Send To: Heath Company, Dept. 034-784
Benton Harbor, Michigan 49022
Name
Address Apt
City
State Zip
A subsidiary of Zenith Electronics Corporation CL-801

No Frills Lunches
● Entree
● Baked Potato or French Fries
● Texas Toast
● Drink
$3.25 Including Tax
Entree Choices
1. Rib Eye
2. Chicken Fingers
3. Chopped Steak
4. Country Fried Steak
BONANZA®
Victory Drive
Manchester Expressway
5061 Macon Road
280 Bypass, Phenix City

BUY A FLAG AND SHOW YOUR COLORS EVERY DAY, ESPECIALLY ON THIS UPCOMING HOLIDAY
Independence Day - July 4.
$10.99
Plus $2.50 postage if ordered by mail.
* 3x5-Foot Fine Cotton Flag with Canvas Heading and Brass Grommets
* 6-Foot, 2-Piece Staff, Cord Halyard
* Golden Eagle Top Ornament
* Heavy Stamped Steel Rust Resist Mounting Bracket, Screws, Instructions
MAIL OR BRING COUPON TO:
Columbus Ledger-Enquirer
Cashier
17 W. 12th Street
Columbus, GA 31902
Please send me _____flag kit(s) at $10.99 plus $2.50 postage and handling for each kit. My check or money order is enclosed. Make checks payable to Columbus Ledger-Enquirer, please.
NAME _____
ADDRESS _____
CITY _____ STATE _____ ZIP _____
"WE'RE FLAG HEADQUARTERS FOR THE VALLEY!"
Where You'll Find Out.

THE BAYONET

People & Places

June 23, 1989

B SECTION

Faith 7th-grader honored by Duke University

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

A seventh-grader at Faith Middle School was recently honored in a ceremony in Atlanta by Duke University.

Danny Segal received special recognition in Duke University's Talent Identification Program. The program identifies verbally and mathematically superior seventh-graders from a 16-state region in the South, Southwest and Midwest.

Two other Faith Students were also honored by Duke. Leslie Negron, another Faith seventh-grader, was awarded special recognition but did not attend the ceremony in Atlanta; and Benjie Wisdom, a seventh-grader who has since moved from Faith, qualified for national recognition because of his extremely high SAT scores.

To be eligible for the Duke program, students must have scored at the 97th percentile or better on an in-school achievement or ability test. Students then take either the Scholastic Aptitude Test or the American College Test Assessment; this is the test normally taken by college-bound high school juniors and seniors. Many of the seventh-graders identified score as well as or better than the high school juniors and seniors who are being tested.

To be eligible for the Duke program, students must score at the 97th percentile or better.

TIP, established in 1980, has provided thousands of students with information about their abilities and options.

Nineteen Faith School seventh graders qualified on the in-house achievement category and participated in TIP this year by taking the SAT.

Miss AUSA

Ann McDonald

Miss AUSA, Spec. Barbara Holloway, makes appearance at Columbus Mudcats game during AUSA Appreciation Night.

Queen from ITC begins her reign

By Ann M. McDonald
Bayonet staff writer

She's the new queen, and the subjects of Fort Benning and the Chattahoochee Valley are her court.

Spec. Barbara Holloway of Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion, 58th Infantry, Infantry Training Center is the 1989-90 Fort Benning-Chattahoochee Valley Chapter of the Association of the U.S. Army Queen.

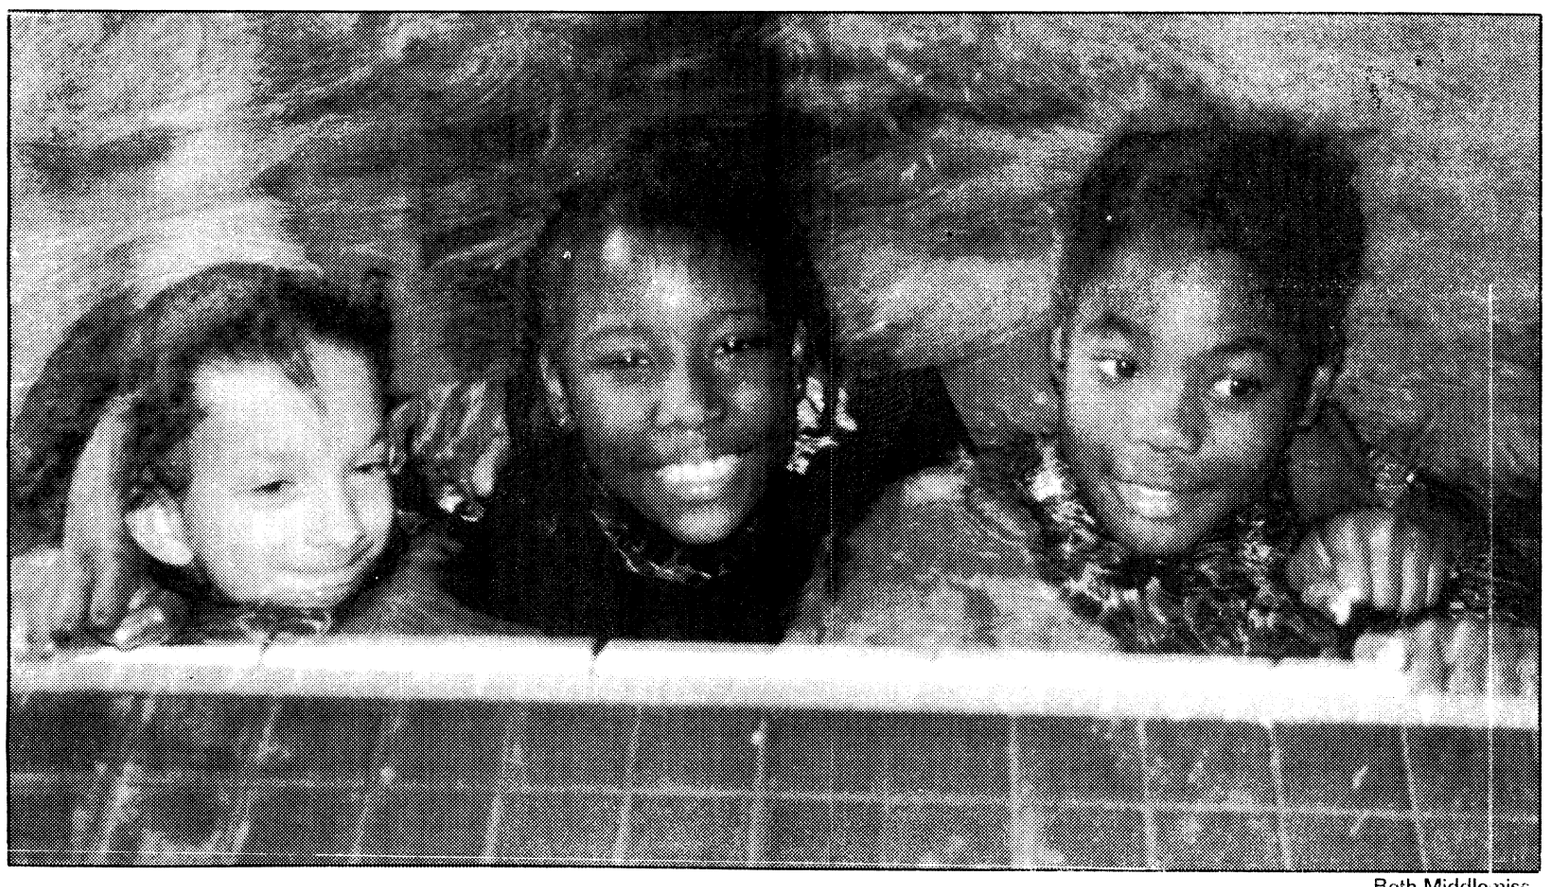
As queen, she will represent the chapter at all AUSA functions such as parades, the Fourth of July celebration, Oktoberfest and the national meeting in Washington, D.C., according to Sgt. Wade Shell, AUSA administrator.

Shell said she was crowned queen after selling the most tickets in a postwide campaign to earn funds for AUSA. Holloway, along with her unit earned $14,610 for the chapter. ITC earned $7,873.50 more than any unit on post.

"The unit supported me 100 percent," Holloway said. "That made it easy to do my part so that ITC could reclaim the crown."

An ITC soldier, Staff Sgt. Barbara Arredondo, was crowned queen last year.

Holloway said when they crowned her queen at the Armed Forces Day ceremony, she could hardly believe she had won.



"I feel good about winning, and I am ready to do all the things I am required to do as queen," she said.

The 25 year-old queen should easily settle into her duties as a representative of the chapter. With two years of college and a tour to Germany under her sash, she has the Army experience to represent the chapter.

In addition to her new position, she still finds time to support her unit. Currently, she is the manager of her battalion's softball team.

"I'm really excited about the upcoming year," Holloway said. "I plan to support AUSA 100 percent because the association supports the soldier."

Holloway was awarded a set of dress blues, an evening gown, a $100 savings bond, a plaque, an AUSA jacket and a trip to Washington, D.C. for her efforts.

Beth Middle niss

Cynthia Rorie (l), Danielle Trice and Thadra Smith practice adaptive aquatics program techniques.

Aquatics

Loyd School students learn water safety skills

By Beth Middlemiss
Fort Benning Schools

Adaptive aquatics is a Loyd School program designed to promote social skills, self esteem and gross motor skills and to physically and mentally challenge individuals while learning basic water safety skills and swimming techniques.

Loyd School has just completed its second year in the adaptive aquatics program.

The program is possible because of the cooperative efforts of the Red Cross and Red Cross volunteers, parents, Briant Wells pool personnel and school personnel who work together to make the program an important part of the school program for 23 Loyd students in first through fifth grades.

This year, adaptive aquatics was held every Thursday afternoon.

However, school officials, Red Cross volunteers, pool personnel, teachers and students — especially students — are hoping the program can be extended to two afternoons per week next year.

197th soldier wins chess tourney minutes after returning from NTC

Kelley Hill Recreation Center

Only 45 minutes before the Army Chess Tournament preliminary at Kelley Hill Recreation Center June 17, the game's major contender and ultimate winner was still on his way to Fort Benning from the National Training Center in California.

David G. Parker, Company B, 1st Battalion, 58th Infantry returned just in time to win the preliminary and will go to the Army Chess Tournament at Fort Meade, Md., Sept. 10 through 14.

Although nominated at Fort Benning, the final selection of players is determined by a selection committee at Fort Meade.

"I didn't realize the tournament was going to start at 10 a.m.," Parker said. "One of the other players came to get me. It was tough. I was tired."

> "I didn't realize the tournament was going to start at 10 a.m.
>
> — David G. Parker

Parker has been participating in U.S. Chess Federation tournaments since his arrival here from Korea in March 1988.

From the 11 players who competed in the eight-hour tournament, there was a four-way tie for second place. They were:

Robert R. Leonhard, Airborne School; Hermel D. Fortin, Co. D, 1st Bn., 29th Inf., Jonathan M. Smith, 43rd Engr.; and Milas Lebedovych, Martin Army Community Hospital.

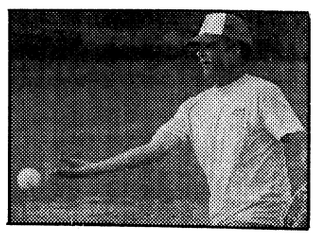
Both rated and nonrated players are encouraged to play.

Membership in the USCF may be obtained at the Recreation Center on tournament days.

Additionally, Parker said one of the regular players is starting a chess club, which will meet each Tuesday from 6:30 to 10 p.m. at Building 2754. It's free and anyone is welcome, according to Parker.

For more information about the monthly USCF Chess Tournaments held at the Kelley Hill Recreation Center, call 544-3079 Wednesday through Saturday, noon until 9 p.m.

Owen Ditchfield



Learning first aid

Amanda Alvarado, White School fifth-grader, gets pointers on applying a leg bandage from Red Cross volunteer, Sherrie Bunyea, during a recent first aid class for health students.

Sports

1st Bn., 58th Inf. smashes opponents in softball action.

See B-3

Entertainment

Criminal Law is the Saturday evening feature at Main Post Theatre. Show time is 9 p.m.

See B-6

Post's child care program cited best in TRADOC

USAIC Public Affairs Office

"We run a professional operation," is how the coordinator for Fort Benning's 60 child care providers described the post's program.

Becky Carroll said the post's providers receive 20 hours of training and their backgrounds are checked before they are certified and children are placed in their homes.

"Our training consists of CPR, first aid, nutrition, discipline, how to recognize and report child abuse, and even some business classes such as income reporting and contract writing."

The efforts of the coordinator and the providers have not gone unnoticed as Fort Benning's program was cited as the best in TRADOC following an inspection by that command's Child Care Evaluation Team.

Some of the areas the program was cited for include its written policies and standard operating procedures, records maintenance, outstanding play space and furnishings and participation of staff in local community early childhood eduction organizations and activities.

"Some of our providers were getting a little frustrated with all the inspections," she said. "We went our first three years with no inspection, then suddenly we were inspected by the Department of the Army Inspector General, our own IG, a re-look by the DA IG and even the U.S. Department of Agriculture." The TRADOC team capped off the year of inspections. The USAIC IG has thoroughly investigated allegations by a provider concerning perceived irregularities in the way CDS manages this program.

She noted that local safety, fire and preventive medicine inspections also occur on a regular basis.

"I know this might seem like a lot to some providers, but when it comes to our children, we are working in a zero-defect environment," she said.

Because providers were selected randomly by each team of inspectors, and CDS couldn't pick them, some providers were checked several times, others, not at all.

For parents, the service means a well-regulated program, which ensures a proper diet for the children, a schedule of supervised activities and games (no more than one hour of television a day) in homes that are safe and sanitary.

Parents are also guaranteed their children will receive individual attention. The ratio of care provider to infants is one to four. For school-age children, it's one to eight. The majority of care provided is for infants, according to Carroll.

She noted the advantages of the in-house provider system are the individual attention and sensitivity of care administered in the homes versus that in child care centers.

She also said there are potential problem areas, such as charges of child abuse that have to be guarded against.

"That's why we screen our prospective providers very closely," she said.

While noting the providers are in a business and are expected to be professionals, Carroll also added, "If people become providers just for the money, then they're in the wrong business."

Providers who fail to live up to the standards can be suspended or decertified.

In the three and a half years of existence, only one provider has had a certificate pulled while five others have had 30-day suspensions.

Gisela Cooper, a child care provider said, "I love this work. I love working with the children. I have mostly toddlers and babies."

Regarding all the recent inspections she said, "We have to have them. Without inspections, we get sloppy."

Another provider, Barbara Elmore, 4 Devore Court, said she, too, loves her work. "I'm learning a lot and enjoying it. I loved the training classes, and I even like the mandatory meetings."

Both women agree that, while the CDS staff isn't perfect, they enjoy working with them, saying the people they come into contact with are friendly and helpful.

Linda McKee has been a provider with Fort Benning for the past two years. Prior to that, she worked two years at Fort Bragg and two years overseas.

"This program is much superior," she said. Thanks to the training I received, I have planned activities for the children. Before, I was just a babysitter. Now I'm a child care provider — a professional."

She said she likes the idea of having outreach coordinators. "If I have a problem I go to them. I've never had to go any higher. They are very open, and we work out any problem I may be having," she said.

Sabine Young is in her second year with the Fort Benning child care program. She was on board in Alaska when the formalized program was just getting started.

"I was certified there, but they hadn't reached the level they have here. It's much more strict down here."

She does think some of the paperwork can be overwhelming. "There's too much. The parents don't like it. I had a single parent who couldn't believe he had to fill out so much. It was part of the family care packet, and he said his commander hadn't told him about that. I don't think he believed me."

Young is currently caring for after-school children while she attends college courses in the morning.

"My husband just came down on orders for Alaska. When I go back, I think I'll go to school full time, take a break from child care," she said.

With all its faults, McKee summed it up when she said, "Compared with other programs, CDS is where I'd put my children."

AR 608-10 defines 'unauthorized' care

Child Development Services

An unauthorized child care home is defined as a home where an uncertified family member is providing care to one or more children unrelated to her for more than 10 hours a week on a regular basis, according to Army regulation 608-10.

On Aug. 18, 1988, Chief of Staff Col. James I. Daily issued a letter stating that unauthorized child care is not acceptable at Fort Benning.

Because of the growing number of reports of unauthorized child care, the Military Police have joined Child Development Services in their effort to stop this potentially dangerous situation from occurring.

The Child Development Services Family Child Care office receives numerous calls each week, reporting unauthorized care.

Each report is investigated by an FCC outreach worker and a Military Police investigator.

Although the FCC office must repond to every call, many times the individual is not at home or does not have children present.

In fact, out of 14 reports within the last two months, only three sponsors have been found to be guilty.

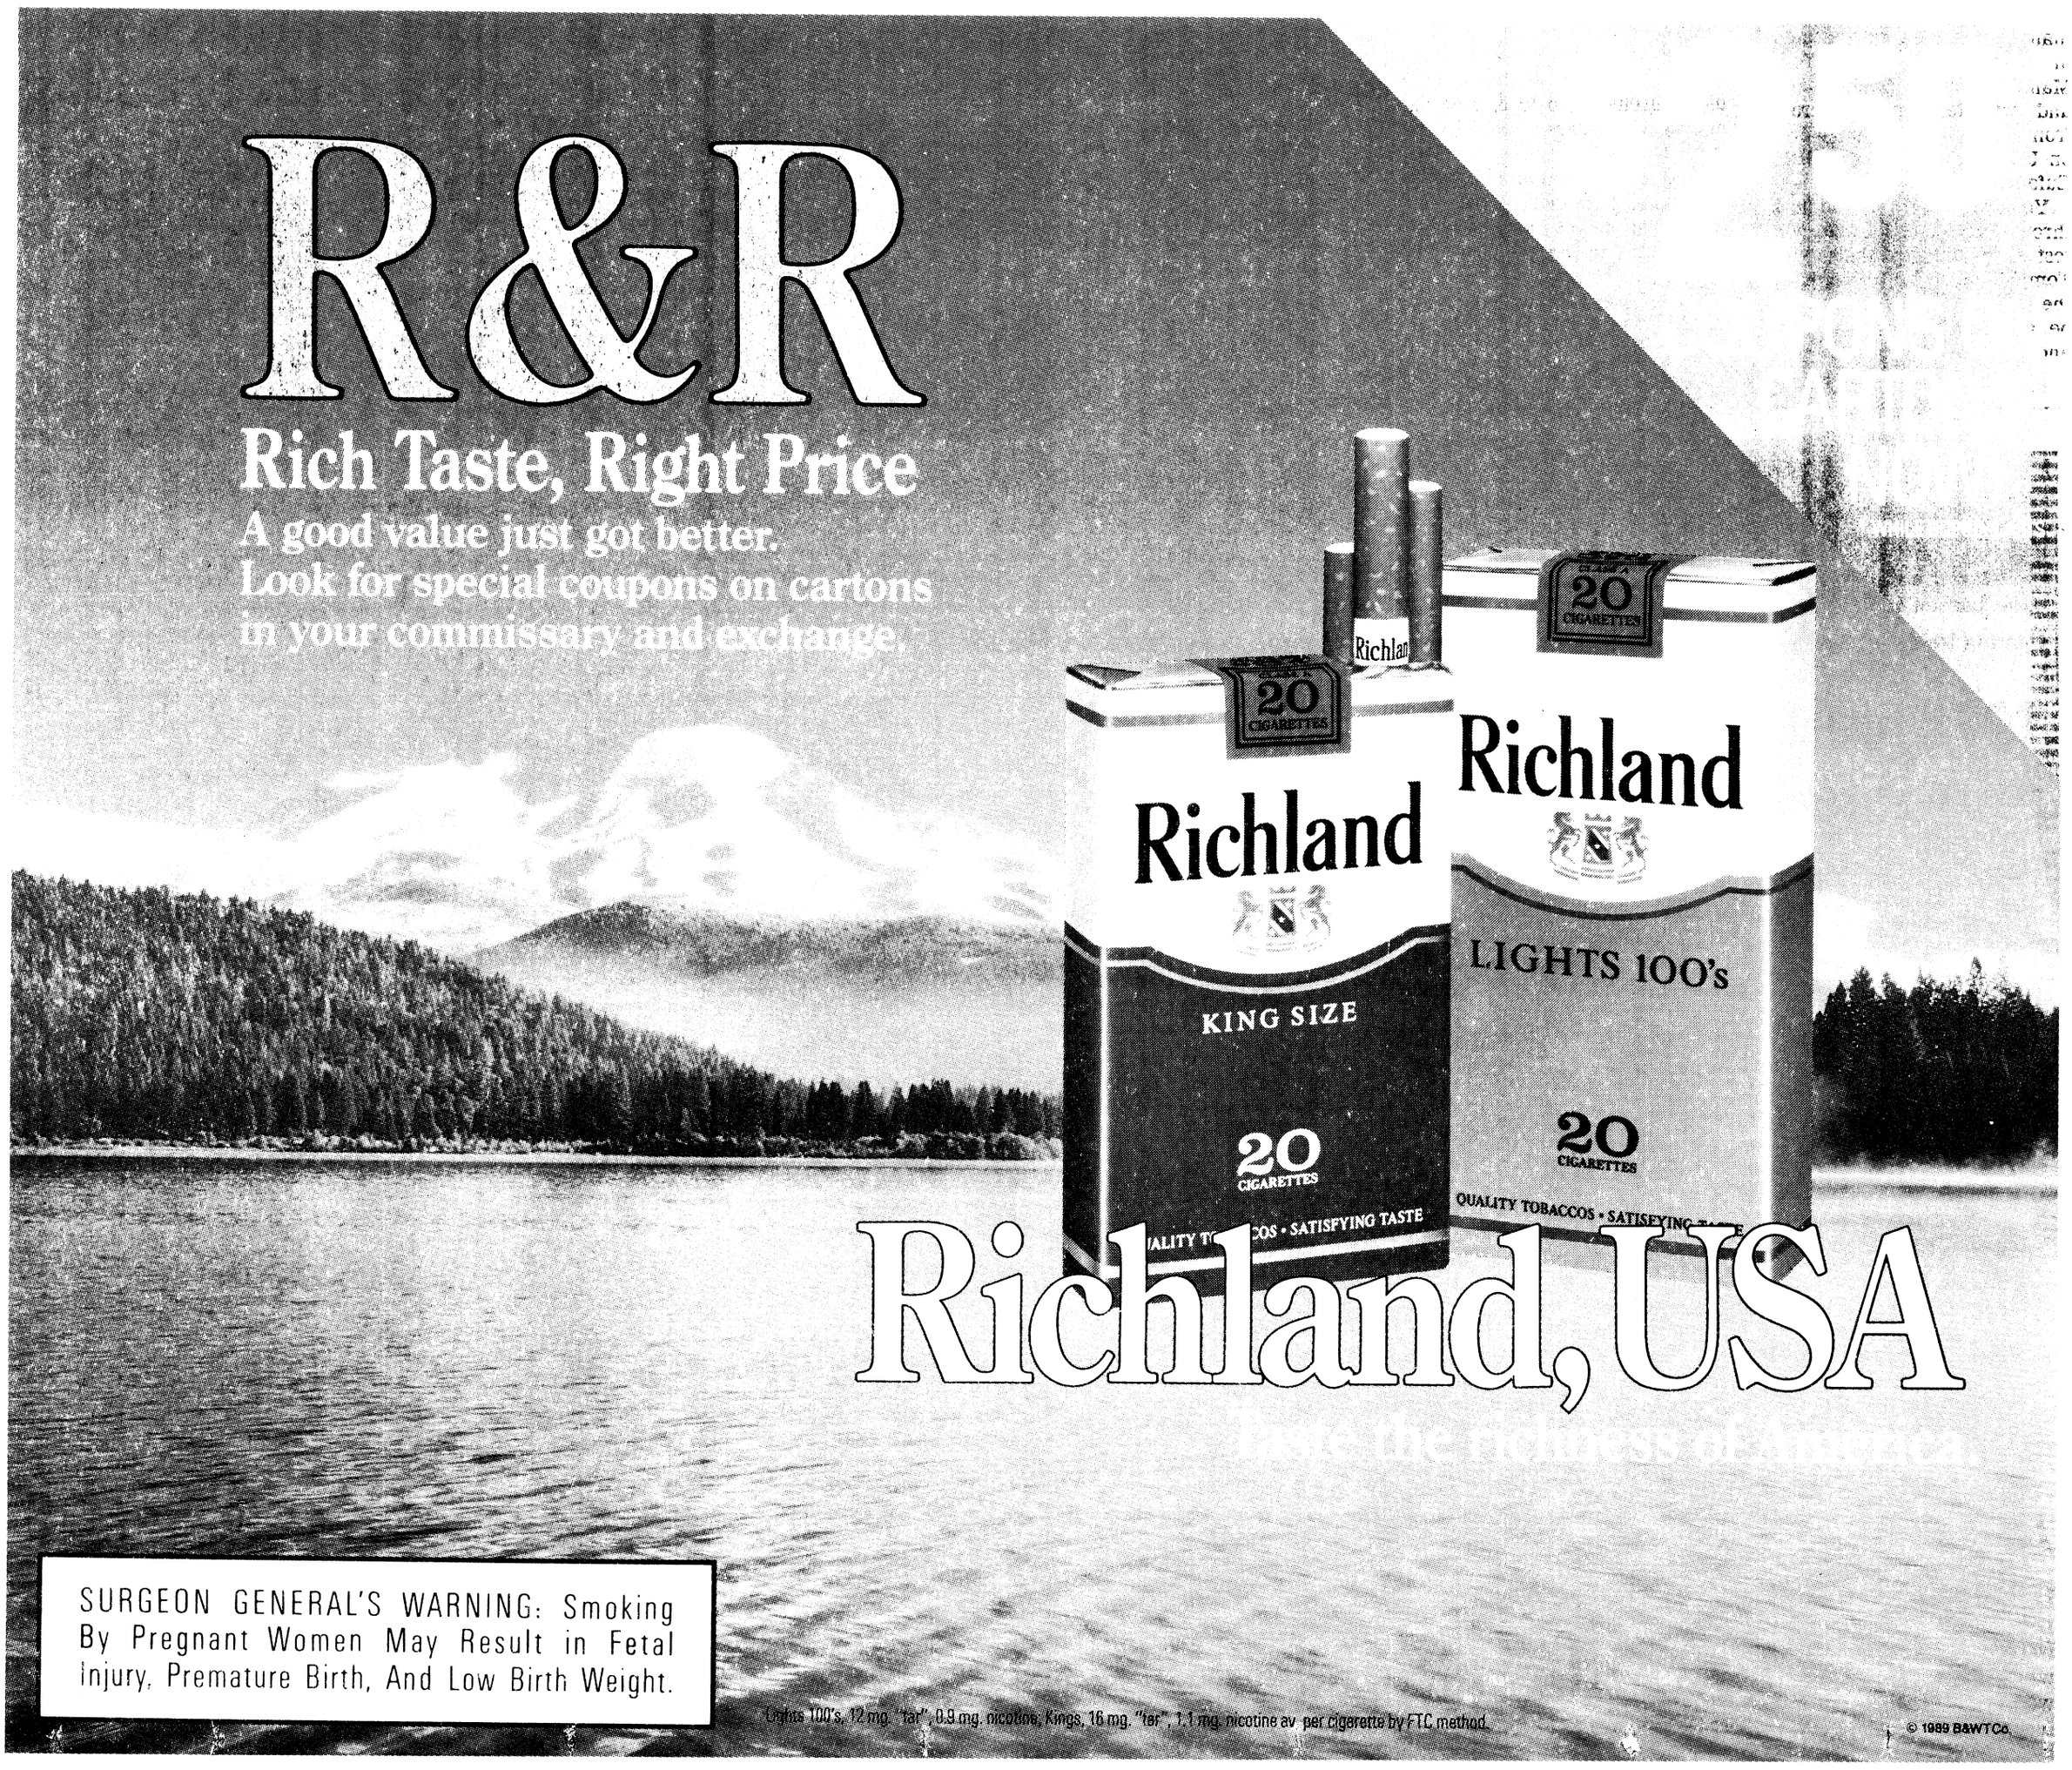
When it is substantiated that there is unauthorized care happening in the home, the sponsor is called in to the MP station and charged with violation of USAIC 210-5, Failure to Control Dependents.

The sponsor's name will come up on the Military Policy desk blotter. At this point, the Community Life Office gets involved. The soldier is called in to talk with the NCOIC. He is cautioned about controlling his family members and advised that he could risk losing government quarters if the illegal care continues.

Becoming a part of the Army Child Development Services Family Child Care Program is a privilege, not a right, and individuals who wish to become certified need to realize this, according to Judy Cobb, Child Care Development. There are specific regulations that must be followed.

To some individuals, the process may not seem worth the time and effort involved. But to those who are in the program, the rewards can be great, both in monetary gains and in self-satisfaction.

Parents can also feel more comfortable knowing their children are being cared for by a trained professional, not a babysitter.



Individuals who are interested in becoming certified providers should contact the Family Child Care office at 544-1623 or come by building 11302 on Custer Road.

KEEP A PROUD TRADITION ALIVE

You have a long, proud history of helping the Arthritis Foundation through the Combined Federal Campaign. Today we are making progress against the pain. With your support more and better answers are possible. Please keep this important tradition alive by giving to the Arthritis Foundation through the Combined Federal Campaign. Remember, you can designate the agency of your choice.

Harry Morgan

SPORTS

1/58th smashes opponent, 10-0

By Andrew Wiese
197th Infantry Brigade

1st Battalion, 58th Infantry, officers smashed defending champions, 197th Infantry Brigade Separate Units 10-0 in recent softball action.

"This was our first game of the year," said Murray Williams of 1st Bn., 58th Inf. "Thanks to a tremendous recruiting effort, we have some very tough players."

Harvey D. Watson of the Separate Units team said, "Being the defending champions, we are here to win and have fun.

"But most importantly, we are here to build teamwork, perseverance and cohesion because these qualities are a must in any sport or in any form of combat," he said.

The game started quickly as 1st Bn., 58th took an early lead in the first inning by bringing home two runs.

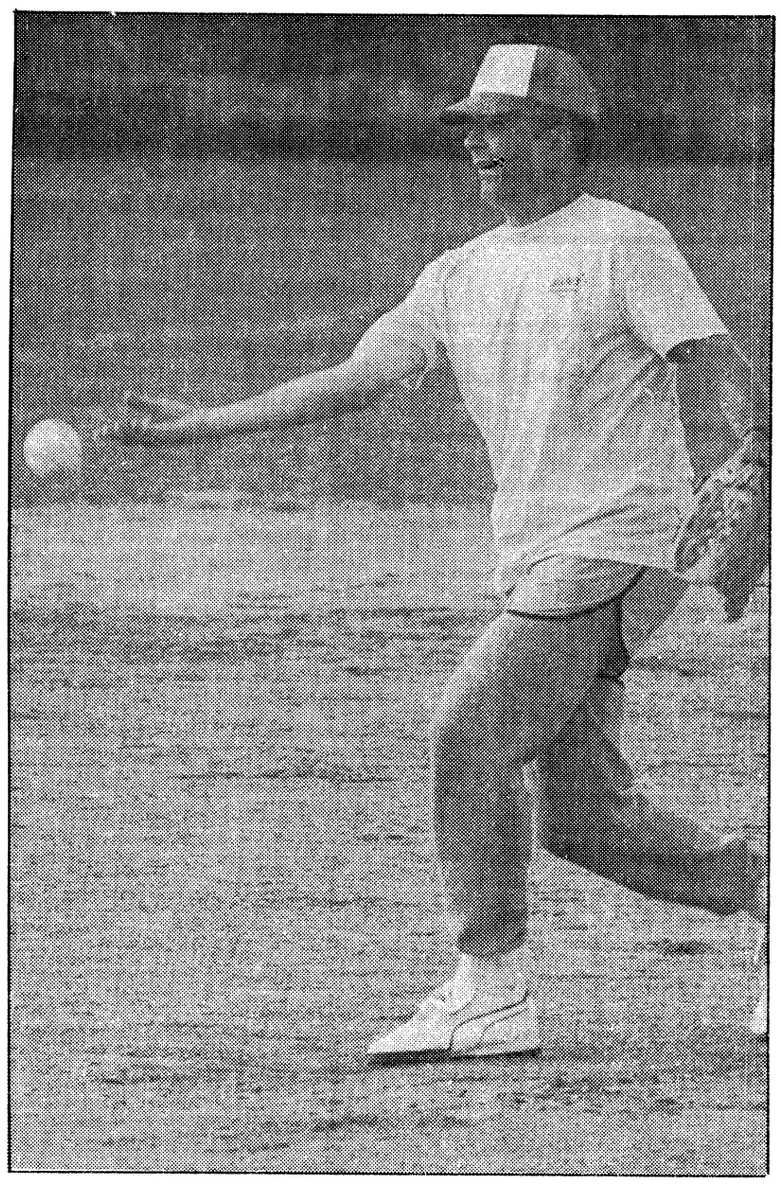
By the third inning, the lead increased to five runs, mainly because of errors in the outfield by the Separate Units team.

Separate Units held 1st Bn., 58th to a five-run lead until the fifth inning.

With one man on first base, Richard Wright came up to the plate and smashed the ball out of the park. This was Wright's first home run of the season.

The homer seemed to get the team fired up, causing a rally that eventually ended the game with the score of 10-0.

"Both teams displayed fantastic athletic ability," said Darryle Johnson of 1st Bn., 58th.



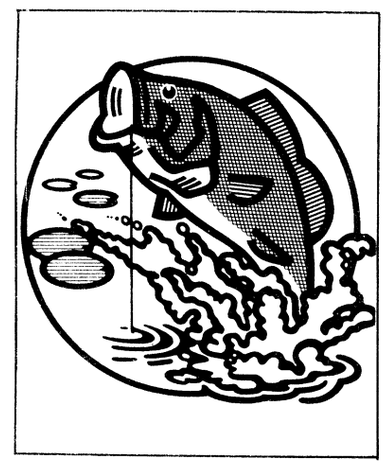
"However, in the fifth inning, we put every thing together and got the runs home," he said.

"Softball, like any team sport, gives the individual a great opportunity to work together with others," said Archibald Arnold.

"Great teamwork is what we are looking for this season," he added.

Richard Stouder said cohesion between the brigade winning on the sports field, is equitable to winning in combat. "Teamwork is the only way to accomplish this," he said.

Teamwork paid off for 1st Bn., 58th Inf. They came away with a decisive win.



Andrew P. Wiese

1st Bn. 58th Inf.'s pitcher Archibald Arnold throws another strike.

Bass Club holds fish-off

Club members brave inclement weather

By Jackie Marsh
Fort Benning Bass Club

The day dawned rainy and dreary and grew progressively less inviting as it matured.

But, 18 Fort Benning Bass Club members refused to let stormy skies, 12 full hours of fishing and the dark night waters of Lake Harding deter them. The fish-off began June 16 at 8 p.m. and ended at 8 a.m. June 17.

Since the hardy souls (hardheaded fishermen) would not give in, Mother Nature, took pity on them and gave them a very pleasant evening for fishing.

There were 77 fish caught with a combined weight of 144 pounds, 4 ounces.

Joe Wikoff took first-place honors with seven fish weighing 18 pounds, 1 ounce. Ben McGuire captured second place with 15 pounds, 1 ounce. Pat Bennett held onto third place with 13 pounds, 12 ounces. Mike Irvin hooked into a 6-pound, 3-ounce lunker, which won the Big Fish honors for the evening.

The next tournament is scheduled for July 16 at Lake Eufaula.

Anyone interested in becoming a member of the Bass Club of Fort Benning should attend a club meeting. They are are held the second and fourth Monday of each month in Building 2616, second floor at 7:30 p.m.

For more information, contact Porter Angel at 569-9100 or Joe Wikoff at 685-0301.

Youth fishing event June 30

Fish World Inc.

One of the largest youth fishing events ever, will be held in Eufaula, Ala., June 30.

Tom Mann's Junior Fisherman Tournament will be held in conjunction with Tom Mann's Research Angler Rally and will take place across from Tom Mann's Fish World on U.S. Highway 431 North in Eufaula.

Youngsters, from toddlers through 15 years of age, will test their outdoor skills with Tom Mann and his friends in the industry. Also present, will be a host of outdoor writers and a number of television stations that plan to film the festivities.

•Over 500 youngsters from 25 states are expected to participate in three major events — fishing, casting and air-gun competition. Children will be classified in four age divisions: toddlers through 5, 6 to 8, 9 to 12, and 13 to 15 years of age. There are trophies and prizes awarded to the top 10 winners in each division and category. There are plenty of prizes for all kids taking part in the events of the day.

The Research Angler Rally Adult Tournament will be held the following day, July 1, on Lake Eufaula. This is for ages 16 and up. Over 300 entries will be expected from all over the country. The weigh-in will be held at Lakepoint Resort. Cash prizes and trophies will be awarded. In addition, a ladies tournament will be held at Fish World on July 1. The purpose of this weekend is strickly to promote family life in the outdoors.

Anyone interested in participating in these events should contact Fish World, Route 2, Box 84-C, Eufaula, Ala. 36027, or call (205) 687-7044.

Check with doctor before beginning exercise program

National Exercise for Life Institute

Many people spring into summer too vigorously, and instead of getting into shape to safely participate in their favorite summertime sports and activities, they injure themselves, according to The National Exercise For Life Institute.

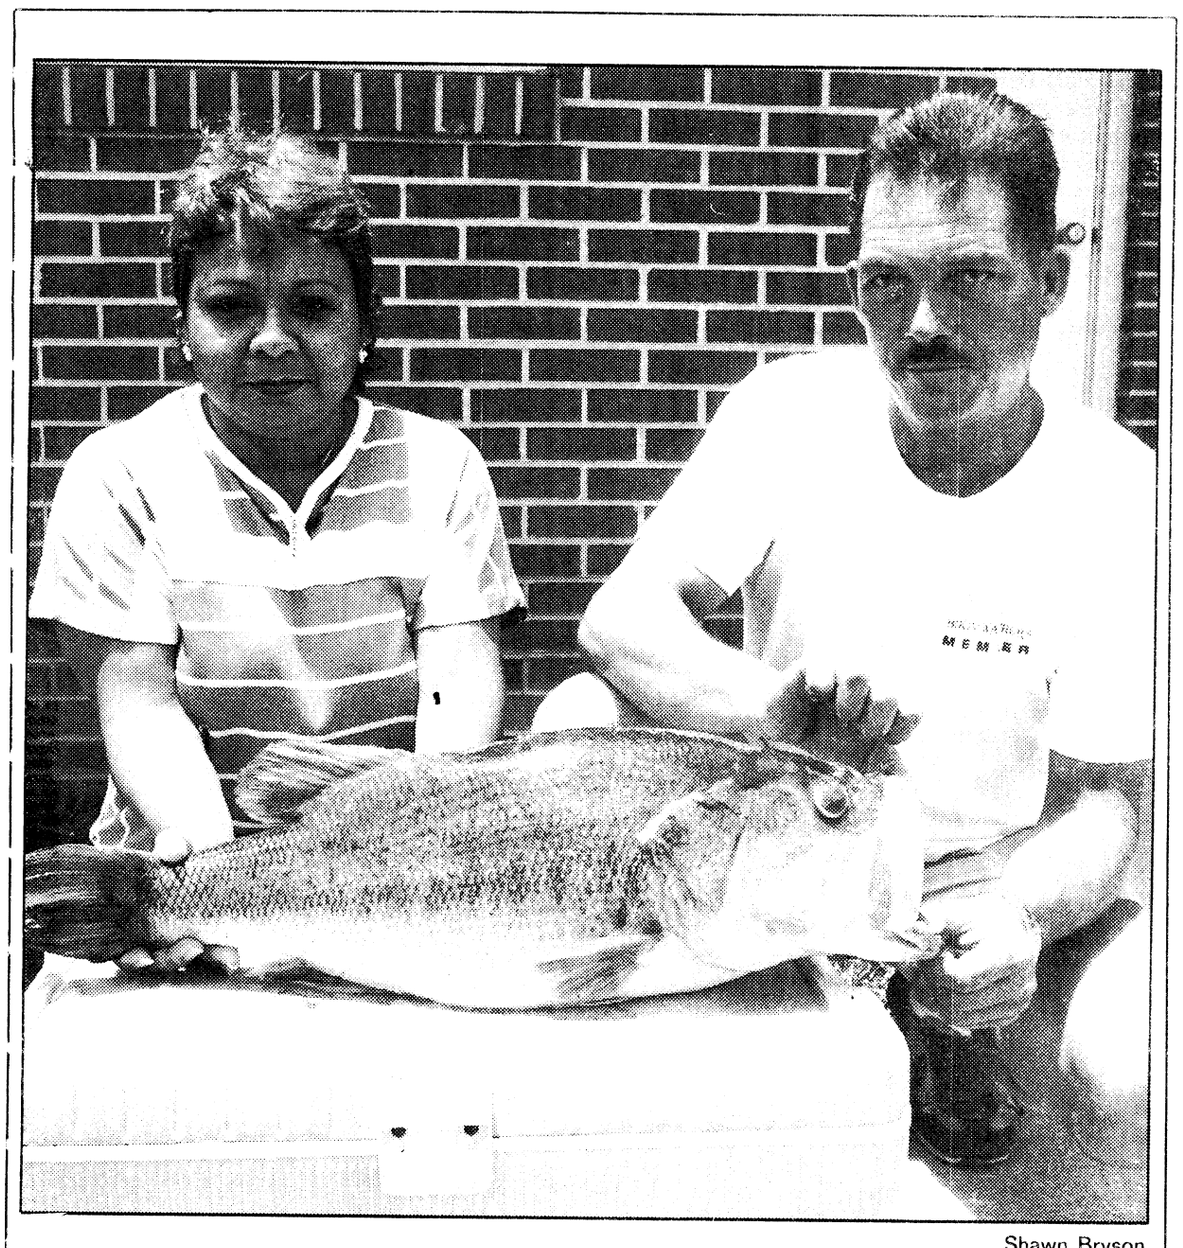
"With summer here, people are starting to jog, play tennis, swim, hike, play softball and tee off at the golf course. And, hundreds of these weekend athletes will find themselves with sore shoulders, aching backs, hurting knees, sprains and bruises," said Diane DeMarco, executive director of the Twin Cities-based Institute.

"People are coming out of hibernation and are eager to be active," said orthopedic surgeon James Priest, M.D., of Orthopedic Consultants, P.A. "This time of year we see more shoulder impingement syndrome (which is a sprain of the rotator cuff), elbow injuries and stress fractures, which cause leg pain. These types of injuries can result from softball, baseball, tennis, golf and jogging," Dr. Priest continued.

"Some people don't believe in moderation, and feel they have to do as much as possible to get the best results," said Dr. Richard Birrer, a professor specializing in exercise and activity at the State University of New York at Brooklyn.

"To avoid injury, we would advise people to start exercising during the latter part of the winter, so they're more ready to go outside and participate. Don't rush into it. Start out slowly and gradually build endurance, strength and flexibility," explained Dr. Priest.

"Take time to prepare for your favorite summer sports by strengthening the parts of your body that will be used during your particular activity," said DeMarco.



Some Good Choices

Swimming is good for the muscles and skeletal structure, because the buoyancy of the water helps reduce excessive pressure on the joints

Walking is also highly recommended by experts as a means of getting in shape for outdoor activities. However, plan to spend some extra time if you want to reap the same benefits as the exercises mentioned above. You should aim for walking three miles in 45 minutes, four to five times per week.

The best guide for avoiding exercise injuries is still basic common sense. "Before jumping into an exercise program, check with a physical therapist to be sure you're in good enough condition for the sport or activity you've planned," Dr. Priest advised.

The purpose of The National Exercise For Life Institute is to collect and disseminate information about the many benefits of regular aerobic exercise, in order to convince more Americans to start and maintain a program of regular aerobic exercise.

Shawn Bryson

Fish story

Larry Rozier and his wife, Judy, display a 12-pound, 2-ounce black bass caught last week at King's Pond. Larry said the fish, which measured 25-1/2 inches in length, was the biggest catch of his life. He said he feels there are more just like it in the ponds around Fort Benning. Rozier is a master trainer with Co. C, 2nd Bn., 29th Inf. Regt. He said he used a pumpkin-seed colored rubber worm and 14-pound test line to land the bass.

Looking for bass?

Find the nearest underwater highway

By Earl Bentz and Steve Price
Outboard Marine Corporation

Whenever top lady angler Linda England needs to find bass in a hurry, she heads for the nearest highway.

No, she's not on the way to the fish market, but rather, to any underwater highway or roadbed, a type of structure she feels can be productive year-round.

"Bass migrate along the old roads just the way people did before the lake flooded them," says the Johnson Outboards Pro Staff angler. "At some times of the year, bass may spawn on the road, and at other times, the fish simply congregate on them in large schools.

"I believe if you can locate an old roadbed on your lake, you can find bass somewhere on it."

The first step in locating this type of structure, says England, is studying a lake map, which should have the approximate location of each road marked. The actual location can then be pinpointed by studying with a depthfinder.

"Somewhere along that road will be a key spot that attracts and concentrates fish," England notes, "so don't simply begin casting at random. Spend some time following the road and studying it to try to find that special place bass might be using."

England's favorite places along roadbeds include old blown out bridges, ditches beside the roads, and sharp bends in the roads. She especially likes to fish spots where roads intersect or run close to deeper channels.

Jigs, spinnerbaits, plastic worms and crankbaits can all be used to fish sunken roadbeds, says England. Water depth, as well as the mood and position of the bass often determine lure choice.

"At times, bass will move along a road during a day as the sunlight changes," explains the Johnson pro. "In a tournament on Alabama's Lake Eufaula, I once found fish holding along the very edge of a road where a bridge had been blown out.

"In the morning the bass would be at 10 feet on that edge, but as the sun rose, the fish would gradually move down to the bottom of the channel to 30 feet. The next morning, they'd be back up at 10 feet."

England said she probably catches more roadbed bass by fishing the edges of the road rather than the middle. That's because many roads are lined on both sides by old drainage ditches that provide additional cover.

"Another point to remember about roadbed fishing," adds the Johnson pro, "is that you often can catch a lot of fish from the same spot on the road.

"When you catch your first fish, stay and keep working the area because there are probably more right there."

DISCOUNT AUTO GLASS
2315 - 2nd Ave.
323-4604
10% Military Discount
We Install Glass In Both Domestic And Foreign Cars

COMMUNITY

ARTS & CRAFTS

Arts and Crafts — Special classes offered this week are:

Sgraffeto on Greenware, Saturday, 1 to 4 p.m. Cost is $6. (greenware included in cost)

Free Ceramics Pouring, Thursday, no mold fee all day.

Oil Painting classes, every Saturday and Sunday, 1 to 4 p.m. Cost is $2 per class.

Notices:

Kelley Hill Auto Crafts will be closed for inventory Wednesday.

Multi-Crafts and Main Post Auto Crafts will be closed for inventory June 30.

For more information, call 545-3677 or stop by the Arts and Crafts Center.

BLOOD DRIVE

197th Infantry Brigade — A blood drive is scheduled at the 197th Infantry Brigade through June 30.

CLASSES

No Frills Exercise — A "No Frills Exercise" class sponsored by the Custer Terrace Community Life Center in cooperation with the ACS Outreach program will have an introductory meeting Tuesday at 10 a.m. in Building 10800 on Craig Drive. Meet the certified instructor and help establish convenient class times to fit your schedule. For more information, call Debra Howell at 544-4969.

CLUBS

Main NCO Club

Bosses Night — — Come to the NCO Club for Bosses Night tonight. The club offers an extensive menu and entertainment. Enjoy the food, entertainment and then stay and party until the morning hours. This event begins at 4:30 p.m. Club cards are required. Call 687-1232 for additional information.

CHECKOUT CENTER

Equipment Checkout Center — Simplify your summertime leisure needs with a wide assortment of outdoor equipment at the Equipment Checkout Center. Additionally, the ECC can save you money and offer you convenience with your next moving requirements. The ECC now has a fully stocked assortment of U-Haul trucks, trailers and resale items. ECC offers the following rentals:

Camper, self contained — $17 daily; $100 7 days
Travel trailer — $12 daily; $60 7 days
Pop-up camper — $10 daily; $50 7 days
Fishing boat/v-hull — $5 daily
Outboard motor w/tank — $5 daily
Boat trailer — $5 daily
Boat, trailer and motor — $10 daily
Jon boat — $5 daily
Canoe — $5 daily
Canoe trailer — $5 daily
Smoker cooker trailer — $9 daily
Utility trailer — $2 daily
Motorcycle trailer — $3 daily
Horse trailer — $9 daily
Portable generator — $5 daily
Tent, 8' by 10' — $5 daily

U-Haul Rentals:

Equipment — trailers, tow bars, tow dollies, auto transports, pet carriers, furniture pads.

Resale items — packing boxes, packing tape, bubble packing, hitch balls, light hookups.

Trucks — various sizes available (call ECC for specific information)

The ECC facility is open Monday through Friday, 7:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. and Saturdays, Sundays and holidays, 8 a.m. to noon. Call 545-7978 for more information.

GOLF

Follow Me Golf Course — Golf lessons are available at the Follow Me Course for beginners and more advanced players as well.

Lessons may be private or group depending upon particular desires. Call the golf course at 687-1940 for scheduling and pricing information.

ITT

Getaway specials — The Fort Benning ITT Office is offering the following summertime specials:

Six Flags and White Water tickets, Disney packets, discount movie tickets, military lodging rates and airlink bus tickets to and from Atlanta.

Call 545-7535/545-4155 for more information. (MWR)

MISCELLANEOUS

Our Lady of Lourdes — School registration for students, kindergarten through 8th grade of Our Lady of Lourdes School for 1989-90, will be taken at the school office Tuesdays and Thursdays from 9 a.m. until noon, For more information, please call the school office at 689-5644 during the above hours.

★ ★ ★

Summer day camp — Services have been extended to include a summer day camp for 6- to 9-year-olds at Custer Terrace Child Development Center.

Activities will include bowling, swimming, cookouts, movies and field trips. A limited number of spaces are available. Call 689-8527 or come by the center, building 2682, for more information.

★ ★ ★

Cookout — Local motorcylists will have a cookout to benefit the Muscogee County Humane Society July 22.

It will be held all day at the L and H Bar at 3642 Victory Drive.

For tickets, call 682-9037 after 6 p.m. Tickets purchased in advance cost $3, they're $3.50 at the door.

