BENNING HERALD

VOLUME III FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, APRIL 28, 1933 UD 1 .B 2 BENNING HERALD Vol. III April 28, 1933 - April 20, 1934

Second Anniversary.

Large Number Of New Assignments Are Forecast In Messages During Past Week

the annual turnover of personnel of of San Francisco; Harvey I. Cassidy, the classes of the Infantry School, and changes in the composition of other organizations at the post, are the center of interest at Fort Benning this week.

Four new members of the infantry board, the body which, under the supervision of the chief of infantry, outlines training and development policies of the infantry, are expected to take their seats in the councils of the board in the near future. Orders already issued announce the assignment of Major William H. H. Morris, jr., and Major William G. Livesay, both at present on duty as instructor and student, respectively, at the Army War College, Washington, D. C.; and of Major Clarence R. Huebner, now on duty as an instructor at the Command and General Staff School, Fort Leavenworth. Majors Morris and Livesay are expected to report for duty at Fort Benning about the middle of August, and Major Huebner is expected to arrive about September. Orders are also expected to be issued shortly assigning Major Maxsom S. Lough, at present on duty with the general staff, Headquarters 3rd Division, Camp Lewis, Washington, to the infantry board at Fort Benning.

The new assignments are being made to furnish replacements for Major Barnwell W. Legge, who departed some time ago for duty in China; and for Major Brett, Major Courtney H. Hodges, and Lieutenant Colonel Thomas W. Brown, who are due to depart shortly for other stations.

Among officers assigned to other organizations of the garrison are Major William H. Hobson, now on duty at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C.; who is due to join the 29th Infantry about August 15; and 1st Lieutenant George D. Vanture, who is now on duty with the Organized Reserves, 5th Corps Area, Muncie, Indiana, and who will join the 83rd Field Artillery about June 15.

Officers assigned to Fort Benning as students in the 1933-34 classes of the Infantry School include the fol-

Captains Virgil G. Allen, 76th Division, New Haven, Conn.; Joseph A. Cistero, 77th Division, New York City, N. Y.; James P. Wharton, 3rd Corps Area, Baltimore, Md.; Preston

. . and full of goodness . . . that's the way you get Kinnett's Ice Cream, because we take every precaution to see that it's properly made and kept fresh at all times.

Sold At The Officers' Club

War Department orders forecasting | B. Waterbury, 30th Infantry, Presidio 34th Infantry, Fort George G. Meade, Md.; Fred M. Fogle, Quartermaster Industrial College, Corps, Army Washington, D. C.

Lieutenants Thomas J. Cross, 7th Infantry, Vancouver Barracks, Wash.; Francis J. Gillespie, Headquarters 3rd Division, Fort Lewis, Wash.; Gaylord L. Phipps, 30th Infantry, Presidio of San Francisco, Calif.; George A. Taylor, 30th Infantry, Presidio of San Francisco, Calif.; Burns Beall, 23rd Infantry, Fort Sam Houston, Texas; James J. Carnes, 2d Infantry, Fort Wayne, Mich.; Claude D. Collins, 6th Tank Company, Jefferson Barracks, Mo.; Charles F. Colson, 5th Infantry, Fort Williams, Me.; William T. Fitts, jr., 22d Infantry, Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.; Charles C. Higgins, 6th Infantry, Jefferson Barracks, Mo.; Oliver W. Hughes, 17th Infantry, Fort Crook, Neb.; Edward B. Jackson, 17th Infantry, Fort Crook, Neb.; Daniel P. Norman, 34th Infantry, Fort George G. Meade, Md.; John C. Shaw, 25th Infantry, Fort Huachuca, Ariz.; James R. Simpson, 66th Infantry, Fort George G. Meade, Md.; Lawrence V. Kastner, Infantry, Fort Lewis Wash.; William H. Schildroth, State College of Washington, Pullman, Wash.; Forrest A. Hornisher, 65th Infantry, San Juan, Puerto-Rico; Joseph G. Felber, Infantry, China; Douglas Campbell, Infantry, Philippine Department; and Willet J. Baird, Infantry, Hawaiian Depart-

Three instructors from the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., are also assigned as students at the Infantry School. They are Major Harlan L. Mumma, Captain Walter H. Wells, and Lieutenant Harold A. Mever.

Among officers of the Fort Benning garrison who will become students upon the opening of the fall school term are Captain Benjamin B. Bain, Infantry School Detachment; Captain to Fort Benning from China; Lieutenant Joseph Brenner, who is en route from Manila, P. I.; and Lieutenant Robert V. Murphy, instructor who will be assigned to the 34th Inin the academic department of the Infantry School.

Captain Guy L. Hartman, 24th Infantry, and Captain Robert J. Wallace, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks) have received orders assigning them to duty in the Hawaiian Department, effective in June.

Six students in the tank course, Captains Richard F. Fairchild, Leroy W. Nicholls, Lieutenant Donald T. Beeler, David M. Fowler, Ralph E. Tibbetts, and Edwin K. Wright, have received assignments to the tank battalion at Fort Benning. All of the officers named will join the 66th In-

Other assignments of officers are as follows:

Captains Francis M. Flanagan to the 66th Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass.; Leroy E. McGraw to 5th Tank Company, Jefferson Barracks, Mo.; Timothy A. Pedley, jr. to the 66th Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass.; and Russell Ayers to 30th Infantry, Presidio of San Francisco, Calif.

Lieutenants Claude A. Black to 4th Tank Company, Fort McClellan, Ala.; Theodore L. Dunn to the 66th Infantry; Fort George G. Meade, Md.; Riley F. Ennis, to the 66th Infantry Fort Devins, Mass.; Frederick W. Hein to the 66th Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass.; Thomas H. James, to the 66th Infantry, Fort George G. Meade, Md.; Roland W. McNamee, to the 2d Tank Company, Miller Field, N. Y.; Armistead D. Mead, to the 66th Infantry, Fort George G. Meade, Md.; Willliam L. Mitchell, to 66th Infantry, Fort George G. Meade, Md.; William J. Moroney to the 5th Tank Company, Fort Benjamin Harrison Ind.; Richard G. Prather to the 66th Infantry, Fort George G. Meade, Md.; Thaddeus E. Smyth to 6th Tank Company, Fort Snelling, Minn.; Frank J. Spettel, to the 66th Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass.; Louis J. Storck to the 66th Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass.; James O. Wade to the 2d Tank Company, Miller Field, N. Y.; John E. Walker to the 4th Tank Company, Fort McClellan, Ala.; James H.

Griffith to 2d Tank Company, Fort Houston, Texas; Rupert D. Graves to the 66th Infantry, Fort Deven, Mass.; Carl E. Anderson to 3rd Tank Company, Fort Lewis, Wash.; Jerome D. Cambre to 3rd Tank Company, Fort Lewis, Wash.; Edward L. Munson, jr. to 30th Infantry, Presidio of San Francisco, Calif.; and Fay Smith to 3rd Tank Company, Fort Lewis, Wash.

Major John B. Thompson, Cavalry, instructor of equitation and horsemanship at the Infantry School is to be re lieve from that duty in the near future and assigned as instructor at the United States Military Academy. Lieutenant Eugene W. Ridings, 29th Infantry, Lieutenant Elwyn D. Post, Student, Lieutenant Phillip H. Dra per, jr., 83rd Field Artillery, and Lieutenant Fred W. Sladen, jr., Infantry, will also be assigned as instructors at West Point. Lieutenants Sladen and Draper are at present on duty in Paris, France.

Major Lawrence J. I. Barrett, student in the advanced course will be assigned to the 24th Infantry on completion of his present student term, and Captain Gilmer, student in the tank course will be assigned to the 66th Infanry at Fort Benning.

THURSDAY'S CHANGES

Captain LeRoy W. Yarborough, Headquarters Staff, will be assigned to the 26th Infantry, Plattsburg Barracks, New York; Captain Raymond H. Vermette, instructor, academic department, will be assigned to the 16th Infantry, Fort Jay, New York; Captain George S. Beatty, 29th Infantry, will go to the 10th Infantry, Fort Thomas, Ky.; Captain Landon J. Lockett, 24th Infantry, will be assigned to the 18th Infantry, Fort Hamilton, N. Y.; Captain Russell B. Reynolds, instructor, academic department, will join the 22d Infantry, at Fort McPherson, Ga.; and Captain Mark W. Hanna, and Captain Peter LeToney, both of Headquarters Staff, will be assigned to the 2d Division, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Lieutenants of the permanent personnel who will be relieved and sent to other stations include, Orestes William J. Kunzman, who is en route Cleveland, 29th Infantry; who will go to the 3rd Infantry, Fort Snelling, Minn.; Lieutenant Elliott Watkins, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks)

fantry, Fort George G. Meade, Md.; and Lieutenant Carlisle B. Irwin, 24th Infantry, who will go to the 2d Division at Fort Francis E. Warren Wyoming.

Assignments of student officers include the following: Captain Pierre Mallett, to the 83rd Field Artillery, Fort Benning; Lieutenant Percy W. Thompson, to the 83rd Field Artillery, Fort Benning; Lieutenant James E. Moore, Tientsin, China; Lieutenant Albert Pierson, to the Philippine Department; Lieutenant Wesley G. Wilson to 7th Infantry, Alaska; Lieutenants Clebert L. Hail, Jack G. Pitcher, Herbert Vander Heide, Paul R. Weyrauch, and Edgar Wright, to the Panama Canal Department.

Officers ordered to duty as students in the 1933-34 company officers' course at the Infantry School include the following: Lieutenants Ephraim H. Hampton, 38th Infantry, Fort Sill, Okla.; Horace L. Beall, jr., Robert B. Beattie, Earl C. Sergquist, Francis H. Boss, Edwin A. Cummings, John F. Farra, John B. Orinsead, Wilhelm girlie."

P. Johnson, James W. Lockett, Andrew T. McNamara, Paul J. Mitchell, Martin Moses, Ralph T. Nelson, and Richard Wetherill, jr.

Pat and Mike were detailed for scout duty overseas. The commanding officer ordered them to conceal themselves in a cow's hide and pretend to graze over toward the German trenches. Pat was given the front legs and Mike the hind legs.

All went well until Pat received a prod from his buddy.

"Come on, let's get out of here,"

"What's the matter?" inquired Pat. "Matter!" snorted Mike. "Migawd, here comes a German with a milk Sheba: "I can get out of my clothes and into a pair of pajamas in two minutes.

Sheik: "I'd like to see you do it,

GOOD USED FURNITURE

We can really save you money on anything you need in good household goods. Get our prices and save.

THWEATT FURNITURE CO.

1244 Broadway

DOUGH BOY

FOREST WORKER

either will do a harder days work on OLD SETTLER'S

PORK

SAUSAGE

(The Choice of Benning)

The Provision Co., Inc.

The Real Economy

in car operation—is—Dependable Service at reasonable prices.

The service rendered by our Service Department to hundreds of officers and enlisted men at Fort Benning is our greatest asset. Every customer 100% satisfied.

A complete renovation of your car will save you hundreds of dollars. Our service is at your disposal Now

Convenient terms if desired

Columbus Roberts Motor Co.

510-12-14 12th Street

Rockne

Phone 271 Pierce Arrow

Studebaker

White - Indiana Trucks and Busses

Valuable Service Is Rendered Bv Army Relief Group

Few know the great work the Army Relief Society is doing because this splendid organization never advertises, and never publishes in its public reports the detailed assistance and incentive it gives to its beneficiaries. It is a noble, silent work carried on by big-hearted, earnest army women.

During the past month a Fort Benning soldier took his own life, leaving a wife and six children absolutely destitute. In response to a telegram, the Army Relief headquarters sent at once, from New York, one hundred lollars to be expended for emergency elief. This was followed by letters f tender sympathy and helpful suggestions to the widow from Mrs. William Stephenson, national chairman, and Mrs. Arthur Poillan, national vice-chairman. Both chairmen expressed their eagerness to render permanent financial aid and asked the guidance of the local branch of the Army Relief Society in perfecting plans for the future of the widow and her six little children.

The Army Relief Society was organized thirty years ago and has grown far beyond the founder's dream of helpfulness. Its services extend to every corner of the globe. Its sole mission is to help the widows and orphans of deceased officers and enlisted men. It helps in cases of sickness and distress; helps to educate and make self-supporting the families of army men.

Gratitude wells high in the hearts of hundreds of worthy women, who through the timely aid of the Army Relief Society have been lifted from despondency and discouragement and given a new outlook and renewed interest in life. Great numbers of women have been given a start and are making good in the business world. Bereaved army children, who perchance, would have gone through life ignorant and sensitive, have been given a good education and prepared to take their place in life as useful citi-

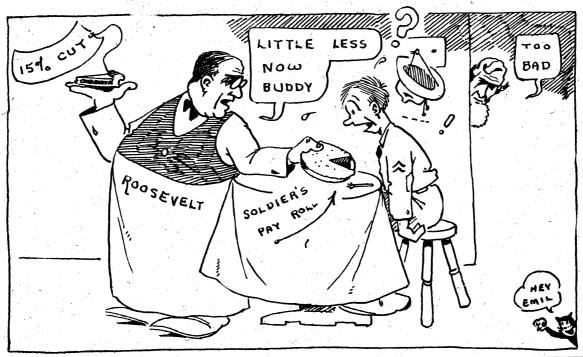

The officers of the Fort Benning branch, Army Relief Society, are Mrs. Campbell King, president, Mrs. James B. Woolnough, vice-president, Mrs. Jesse A. Ladd, secretary.

Diamonds Watches Silverware

PEKOR JEWELRY CO

1221 Broadway

Let's Hope There Isn't Any More!

Civilian Conservation Corps Members Get Their First Taste Of Real Army Life Thursday

Fort Benning's first draft of recruits | coffee. for the Civilian Conservation Corps conditioning camp arrived in Columbus at 10:10 P. M. Wednesday evening from Mobile, Ala. The men were met at the railroad station by officers and enlisted men detailed for duty with the conditioning camp, and were transported to Fort Benning by army trucks.

Upon arrival at the post they were given a supper of sandwiches, which the acting mess sergeant of the camp had in readiness. After eating, the men bathed under hot showers and then proceeded to their tents, where army cots and mattresses with plenty of blankets were in readiness.

Thursday morning found the organization of the reception camp in full operation, and soon after reveille the acting mess sergeant and cooks who are operating the mess under the supervision of Lieutenant William R. McKinnon, assistant commandant of the School for Bakers and Cooks, served the men their first meal at the army camp. Breakfast Thursday morning consisted of fresh fruit, corn flakes, creamed beef on toast, hominy grits, toast, butter and coffee.

At noon the men enjoyed a dinner consisting of broiled pork chops with brown gravy, boiled potatoes, spin-ach, cucumber salad, bananas and cream, bread, butter, and coffee.

Supper on Thursday included steamed frankfurters, sauerkraut, mashed potatoes, peaches, bread, butter, and coffee.

The regular army garrison ration is being used by the school for Bakers and Cooks to provide the meals for the conditioning camp, and the standard of the meals of Thursday will be mainained. Menus for Friday's meal prepared by Lieutenant McKinnon are as follows: Breakfast, fresh fruit, oat meal, scrambled eggs, bacon, hot biscuits, syrup, butter, and coffee; dinner, roast beef, brown gravy, mashed potatoes, escalloped corn, combination salad, rice pudding, bread and butter, coffee; supper, beef pot pie, with vegetables, cinnamon rolls, soaked prunes, bread, jam, and

Few average men learn how to cook, but they'd better.

No one ever thought he had more money than brains.

Ninety coil, double-deck, helical top, steel frame Simmons Spring and a fifty-five pound, all layer-felt Simmons mattress, only $24.95. (An allowance of $5.00 for your old mattress and spring. Balance $1.00 per week.)

If you need only a mattress or spring, the price of either is $12.50 with an allowance of $2.50 for your old mattress or spring.

Johnston-Cunningham Furniture Co. 1014 BROADWAY PHONE 460

After the breakfast Thursday the men were organized into groups to police around their camp. Later in the morning a truck load of athletic supplies was sent to the camp. Supervised athletics, directed by Cap-recreation officer, will form a prominent part of the conditioning training of the men while at Fort Benning, before they are sent out to the active working camps.

Colonel Frank F. Jewett, camp commander, expressed himself as being very pleased with the appearance and general high types of men included in the contingent which arived Wednesday. All of them are young men, and few, if any, have ever visited an tain Phillip T. Fry, post athletic and army post, but according to officers on duty with the camp, they are adapting themselves very readily to the camp routine, and appear to be eagerly anticipating the duties and experiences which lie ahead of them in the Civilian Conservation Corps

45558

Col. Jewett is being assisted by Capt. John E. Hull, adjutant; Capt. William B. Yancey, supply officer; and Lieut. William R. McKinnon, mes officer. Capt. Clinton E. Fentress will command the first company of about two hundred men.

> New Arrivals Of MEN'S SPORT OXFORDS

$3.19

Other Sport Oxfords in Tan and Elk, and Black and White, from $2.45 to $4.25.

SAM NEEL'S

Shoe Department Westbrook Bldg.

PORCH GROUP

Including the Gay Upholstered Glider, Refreshment Table, Resilient Chair... Three Pieces Pieces May be Purchased Separately Glider $12.20 Chair $8.00 Table $3.20

Just imagine your porch furnished with this charming group of "Summer Furniture!" The glider is well constructed, comfortable and colorful. The chair is of spring steel with metal cane all-weather back and seat. The refreshment table, 18" high, has a metal top removable for use as a serving tray, and it folds up compactly for storage.

Oak Porch Swings $1.90

Porch Rockers $2.75

1141 BROADWAY

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS IN THE SECOND SECON

Woman's Club Holds Annual Meeting, Marking Close Of Year's Activities

The Polo-Hunt Club was the scene of a most delightful gathering on Monday, April 24th when the Infantry School Woman's Club held their annual luncheon which marked the closing of the year's activities.

The guests were seated at one long table which was decorated at intervals with green bowls holding lovely arrangements of the choicest flowers from the gardens of the club mem-These flowers were later sent to the post hospital to be distributed throughout the wards.

Mrs. E. G. Peyton, the retiring president of the club was toastmistress and during the course of the luncheon introduced Mrs. Paul B. Malone who is the guest of her daughter Mrs. O. S. Robles. When Gen. and Mrs. Malone were stationed at Ft. Benning some years ago Mrs. Malone took a very prominent part in the activities of the Infantry School Woman's Club, so it was with sincere pleasure that she was welcomed as an honored guest on this occasion.

In a few well chosen words Mrs. Peyton expressed her pleasure in serving the club as president during the past year and in turn introduced Mrs. Philip Wood, the incoming president, who made a gracious speech of acceptance.

BE THRIFTY

SHOP AT SILVER'S

This is a fine time to be thrifty and you'll find it much easier to do so at Silver's than anywhere else. Do your shopping next time at . . .

5c — 10c and $1.00 STORE The Best of Merchandise

Located on Corner Broadway

And 11th Street

At the conclusion of the luncheon Mrs. Peyton was presented with a beautiful basket of flowers as an expression of appreciation from the membership of the club.

PLANS COMPLETED FOR KLINE-JOHNSTON WEDDING

Plans were announced in Sunday's papers for the wedding of Miss Mary Kline, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Kline and Lieut. Robert D. Johnston. The wedding will be held at St. Luke's Methodist Church on Saturday, May 6th at 6:30 o'clock. The Rev. Pierce Harris will officiate. The bride will be given in marriage by her father Mr. William A. Kline. Miss Kline has chosen as her maidof-honor her sister, Miss Martha Kline, and for her bridesmaids Miss Marie Maulding of Atlanta and Miss Bess Kimbrough of Montgomery. Elizabeth Long will be flower girl, while Guy Blackmon, Jr. will be the ring-bearer. Lieut. Johnston will have as his best man Lieut. John M. Brown. The ushers will be Lieut. Eugene L. Brown, Lieut. Joseph K. Dickey, Lieut. Marshall H. Hurt, Lieut. Joseph B. Coolidge and Lieut.

TANK BATTALION TO HOLD RE-CEPTION AT POLO HUNT CLUB

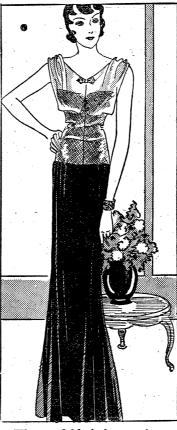

Sidney G. Brown, Jr.

The Polo Hunt Club will be the scene Saturday afternoon of a reception from four to six given by the Tank Battalion. These affairs are held by the officers and ladies of the Tank Corps once a year for the members of the different organizations on the Post. Dancing will be enjoyed and coffee, sandwiches and ices will be served. The ladies who will serve at the reception will be Mesdames Fred L. Munson, Charles W. Weeks, Charles F. Morse, William E. Persons, J. DeCamp Hall, William B. Wallace, Frank K. Jewett and Clyde A. Selleck. Those receiving the guests will be Majo. and Mrs. Allen F. Kingman and Captain and Mrs. Donald P. Spalding. The guest list will include friends and members of the Tank Corp from Columbus and Fort Benning.

DINNER DANCE AT COUNTRY CLUB ENJOYED

The dinner dance which was held last Saturday evening at the Country Club in Columbus was one of the most enjoyable affairs of the early spring. The Club was lovely with its decorations of spring flowers. In the ballroom, large clusters of Southern smilax and mountain laurel were used. Among those from the Post reserving tables were: Maj. and Mrs. William S. Roberts, Maj. and Mrs. William S. Eley, Capt. and Mrs. Har rison B. Beavers, Capt. and Mrs. Hugh Boone, Capt. and Mrs. Casper

Today's Fashion

White and black for evening.

By VERA WINSTON

After being conspicuous by its abence during the earlier part of the season, black and white returns again to the evening scene. You know, the all-black or black and white frock always looks extra distinguished when posed against the background made up of various colors.

For instance, we can only imagine an evening of triumph for the wearer of the frock glorifying the accompanying sketch. It is of white and black chiffon. The black chiffon is posed under the white of the top of he dress and the skirt is of solid black chiffon. The graceful neckline is ornamented by two fine clips of brilliants with onyx, repeating cleverly the color scheme of the frock.

R. Crim, Lieut. and Mrs. William F. Dean, Lieut. and Mrs. Howard W. Uhrbrock, Lieut. and Mrs. Wendell G. Johnson.

CAPT. AND MRS. BERRY HONOR GUESTS AT PICNIC SUPPER

Capt. and Mrs. Kearie L. Berry who recently received orders to Tientsin, China were the honor guests Friday evening at a delightful picnic supper given by Capt. and Mrs. Raymond E. Vermette. The guess assembled at six and motored to the picnic grounds. The Vermettes had as their guest Capt. and Mrs. Berry, Maj. and Mrs. Charles P. Hall, Maj. and Mrs. Claudius M. Easley, Capt. and Mrs. Hugh C. Evans, Capt. and Mrs. Casper R. Crim, Capt. and Mrs. Charles W. Pence, Capt. and Mrs. Russell R. Reynolds, Capt. and Mrs. Herbert L. Harries, Capt. and Mrs. Guy W. Hartman, Capt. and Mrs. Horice O. Cushman, Lieut. and Mrs. Lin dell W. Straube, Lieut. and Mrs. William W. O'Connor, Lieut. and Mrs. James W. Clinton, Lieut. and Mrs. James R. Pierce, Miss Kathleen Orndorff and Lieut. Gerald Gabriel.

OFFICERS CLUB TO HOLD BRIDGE TOURNAMENT

Plans are being completed for a bridge tournament which will be held on May 2 for the ladies of Fort Benning at The Officers' Club. Nothing has been more enjoyed this past winter than the contract bridge tourneys which have been held under the auspices of the Officers' Club. The committee for the forthcoming tournament will consist of Mrs. Thomas L. Jenkins, Capt. Raymond E. Vermette and Lieut. William A. D. Thomas. Those ladies desiring to play may call any member of the committee or Lieut. Dowdall at the Officers Club. The New York Whist Club rules for contract will be used.

D. U. S. A. HOLDS LAST MEETING

The Fort Benning chapter of the Daughters of the United States Army held their last meeting of the season Thursday entertaining with a luncheon party at the Cricket Tea Room. An election of officers for the coming year was held. Those elected were: Mrs. John Huling president, Mrs. A. V. Arnold vice president, Mrs. C. B. Ferenbaugh, secretary, Mrs. R. B. Gayle treasurer.

During the luncheon corsages of roses were presented to Mrs. Thomas W. Brown, the National President of the D. U. S. A. and to Mrs. John B. Thompson, the President of the Fert Benning Chapter. Both Mrs. Brown and Mrs. Thompson are soon to leave the Post, the corsages being in the nature of a farewell gift from he Fort Benning Chapter.

THURSDAY EVENING SUPPER DANCE CANCELLED

The regular Thursday evening supper dances which were scheduled for the week and the next have been cancelled due to the maneuvers which are being held at Fort Benning. However, plans are being made for several affairs which will be held in May. The next supper dance will be held on May 11, a capacity number (Please turn to page 5)

FOR THOSE BIRTHDAY PARTIES

... nothing will suit the children better than a whole lot of Foremost Ice Cream! Try it the next time you are giving a birthday party.

> Call the SODA FOUNT

FOREMOST DAIRIES INC.

For Quality Cleaning and Dyeing

Phillips Dry Cleaning Co.

Telephone 301

Columbus, Ga.

2320 Wynnton Drive

DOLAN-HENRY HAT SHOP

COME – SEE – SAVE!

AT THIS

DOLLAR DAY SALE!

A large number of hats, for motoring, for traveling, for any wear. Formerly $3.95 to $6.95. Offered at $1.00 each Saturday and Monday.

Just received: New shipment of Knox Panama Hats AT ALSOBROOK'S

The Ideal Shoe For Golf or Sport Wear

$6.00

Widths AAA to B's

Sizes 3's to 9's

Shown In

Beige Pig, Brown Calf Trimmed White Pig, Brown Calf Trimmed White Pig, Black Calf Trimmed White Pig, White Calf Trimmed

It is porous, soft, pliable, durable. Du-Flex soles, Full Kid Lined

Miller-Taylor Shoe Co.

Where The New Styles Are Shown First

1130 Broadway Phone 2405

FURNITURE OF QUALITY

CONVENIENT LOCATION-MODERN EQUIPMENT

RATES REASONABLE

Phone your agent or call our Superintendent, Mr. Trussell, Phone 3062

DIMON COURT APARTMENTS

H. ROTHSCHII

Leading Furniture Dealer for 38 Years

1229 - 31 Broadway

Columbus, Ga.

-:- Things Chinese -:-

extremely simple diet of the people. such as rice, beans in various preparations, millet, garden vegetables, and fish. These, with a few other things, form the staple of countless the feast-days, or other special occasions, with a bit of meat.

Now that so much attention is given in Western lands to the con-thing for the GARDEN and LAWN; seeds, plants, tools, fer-

VALLEY SEED CO. 1041 Broadway

JEAN'S BEAUTY SHOPPE

In New Locality 1209½ Broadway

"Where prices and quality satisfy"

Both parents and children will equally enjoy Collins' Bread. Serve Collins' Bread. it for every meal, and learn what goodness in bread really means!

COLLINS

BAKING CO.

1144 13th St.

One of the first things which im-trivance of ways in which to furnish press the traveller in China is the nourishing food to the very poor, at a minimum cost, it is not without The vast bulk of the population interest to learn the undoubted fact seems to depend upon a few articles, that, in ordinary years, it is in China quite possible to furnish wholesome food in abundant quantity at a cost for each adult of not more than two cents a day. Even in famine times, millions, supplemented it may be on thousands of persons have been kept alive for months on an allowance of not more than a cent and a half a This implies the general existence in China of a high degree of skill in the preparation of food. Poor and coarse as their food often is, insipid and even repulsive as it not infrequently seems to the foreigner, it is impossible not to recognise the fact that, in the cooking and serving of what they have, the Chinese are past-masters of the culinary art. In this particular, Mr. Wingrove Cooke ranked them below the French, and above the English (and he might have added the Americans). Whether they are really below any one of these nationalities we are by no means so certain as Mr. Cooke may have been, but their superiority to some of them is beyond dispute. In the few simple articles which have mentioned, it is evident that even from the point of view of the scientific physiologist, the Chinese have made a wise choice of their staple foods. The thoroughness of their mode of preparing food, and the great variety in which these few constituents are constantly present, are known to all who have paid the least attention to Chinese cookery. Another fact of extreme significance does not force itself upon our no-

HERALD WANT ADS

CLASSIFIED ADV. RATES:

20 cents per line or fraction of line Minimum charge for any classified advertisement, 50 cents. Payment must be made before advertisement is pub-

FOR SALE-1928 Fort Tudor Sedan. Good Condition. $100. Major Bradley, Phone 829.

Arthur Perlitius Military Tailor

> UNIFORMS and BREECHES

Because it is rich in vitamins, minerals and proteins, milk is the ideal food for all, and an absolutely necessary food for children. Use it in preparing their desserts and other foods; serve a glass at every meal, give them warm milk at bedtime.

DAIRY

Macon Road Telephone 1144

Scout Committee Holds Meeting

A meeting of the Girl Scouts Community Committee was held at the Scout cabin on Thursday morning. April 20.

Interesting reports of work accomplished during the past months were given by Mrs. T. W. Brown, chairman of the committee and captain of Car dinal Troop; Mrs. H. J. Matchett, di rector of Scouting; Mrs. Paul Kellam, captain of Daffodil Troop; Mrs. C. H. Studebaker, Brown Owl of the Brownie Pack, No. 1; Miss Helen Shelton, Brown Owl, Brownie Pack, No. 2; Mrs. A. V. Arnold, chairman of riding activities; Mrs. Thomas B. Catron, summer camp director; Mrs. James B. Woolnough, in charge of tree finder badges; and Mrs. Omar N. Bradley, Brownie chairman.

Plans were perfected for the Court of Honor, which will be held on May 24.

tice, but can easily be verified. There is very little waste in the preparation of Chinese food, and everything is made to do as much duty as possible. What there is left after an ordinary Chinese family have finished one of their meals would represent but a fraction of the net cost of the food. In illustration of this general fact, it is only necessary to glance at the physical condition of the Chinese dog or cat. On the leavings of human beings it is the unhappy function of these animals to "live" and their lives are uniformly protracted at "a poor dying rate." The population of new countries are proverbially wasteful, and we have not the least doubt that it would be possible to support sixty millions of Asiastics in comparative luxury with the materials daily wasted in a land like the United States, where a living is easily to be had. But we should like to see how many human beings could be fattened from what is life after as many Chinese have "eaten to repletion," and the servants or children have all had their turn at the remains! Even the tea left in the cups is poured back into the teapot to be heated again.

It is a fact which cannot fail to force itself upon our notice at every turn that the Chinese are not a race gifted with that extreme fastidiousness in regard to food which is frequently developed in Western lands. All is fish that comes to their net, and there is very little which does not come there first or last. In the northern parts of China the horse, the mule, the ox, and the donkey are in universal use, and in large districts the camel is made to do full duty. Doubtless it will appear to some of our readers that economy is carried too far, when we mention that it is the general practice to eat all of these animals as soon as they expire, no matter whether the cause of death

(Please turn to page 11)

SOCIETY

(Continued from page 4) of reservations have been made for that evening. On May 12, the National Guard and Reserve Officers are planning to have a large dance at Biglerville; and on the 20th of May the Officers' Club will hold its last dance of the season. This dance will be in the nature of a cabaret party and will be held at Biglerville.

PERSONALS

The Post will be sorry to learn that Chaplain Willis T. Howard is a patient in the Station Hospital. It is hoped that he will soon be recovered.

Miss Louise Waddington who has been visiting relatives in Fort Benning departed Monday for Charleston, C. where she attends school at Ashley Hall.

Friends of Lieut. Richard T. Mitchell will be sorry to hear that he is a patient in the Station Hospital.

WE MAKE RUBBER STAMPS One Day Delivery COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

Editorial Opinion

ECONOMY AND THE ARMY Needful as retrenchments are to balance the national budget, it is clear that they should not be pressed to the point of endangering national safety. The United States Army now has an enlisted personnel of one hundred and seventeen thousand men, assuredly no more than reasonable prudence requires. Should it be cut down. as has been suggested, by twelve to fifteen thousand, the saving in money would be inconsiderable, but the loss in efficient defense would be marked. So, too, the proposal that from two to three thousand officers be retired raises a serious question as to whether such economy would not be paid for too dearly in impaired service.

Other curtailments now being considered include the reduction of the National Guard drill periods by fifty per cent, elimination of Reserve Offi cers Training Corps camps, elimination for a year of citizens' military training camps and, what would be extremely regrettable, entire withdrawal of support from the R. O. T. C. Officers equal to emergencies cannot be produced in a day. When they are needed, they are needed critically, and only a system of continuous training makes them available. We are in heartiest sympathy with the economy program, but such essentials as these are the last that should be sacrificed.—Atlanta Journal.

When a girl's face is her fortune it generally runs into a good figure.

What Rate of Interest are You Paying?

HERE IS OUR PLAN

Note for \dots		• • • • • • • •	. $300.00
8% Interest dedu	cted	• • • • • • • • •	. $ 24.00
Net to you			. $276.00

Payments . . $25.00 Per Month for 12 Months

Fidelity Loan and Investment Co.

1206 FIRST AVENUE

T. E. BAISDEN, Secretary-Treasurer

Heigh Ho! Off to the Party!

All dressed up and some place to go - in one of these adorable dance or party

Sizes 14 to 20

Whites, Pastels, Florals, Blacks, Cotton Laces, Taffetas, Organdies, Silk Crepes, Chiffons, Nets-

$5.98

It's fun to be gloriously lovely and it's thrilling to have the boy friend say, "You surely look keen to-night." Here's howin Kirven's sweleant party trocks. Some have jackets, some capelets, some with large puff sleeves and some sleeveless. All are especially entranc-

Ready-to-wear

Second Floor

THE BENNING HERALD

Published every Friday Phone 556 Columbus, Georgia

VOLUME III APRIL 28, 1933 NUMBER 1 L. C. Kunze ----- Publisher A. F. KUNZE FELICIA C. HOWELL _____ Society Editor D. P. HARDING ___ Sports Editor Circulation Manager Louis T. Kunze

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject anyadvertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

Lieutenant Peep's Diary

make. Ordinarily, stories or articles sent to publications are returned with a courteously worded rejection printed on some outlandishly colored slip of paper, or else they are voluntarily consigned to the waste basket. This time, however, the liaison maintained between the writer and the press failed at some vital point, and our usual column, Lt. Peep's Diary, was, quite involuntarily we assure you, misplaced. So this week we take the liberty of offering in its stead the work of another, the scion of the Peep family, Peep, Jr., with the hope that it may prove quite as acceptable as the distinguished chronicle which usually occupies this space).

PEEP, JR'S. DIARY Thursday, Apr. 13

What! No orders? Up betimes and find myself some what put out over the attitude of schedule makers who cause us to attend class early on a morning following a night problem. Did arrive at the Anopolis of Approved Solutions to find each and every classmate of the same mind but such is the life of a freshman. Which leads me to inquire: "How

It would seem that the blooming of violets and spring fever brings forth a revival of jousting at coins (pitching nickels, to you!) whereat I did observe that it takes more strength than before in as much as a nickel does not go as far as it used

- The entire day spent in the field attacking and defending against the bothersome Reds who do astound and constantly confuse me by continually doing most unexpected and astonishing things! Also greatly envious of those who can sleep beneath a bush during the explanation of a situation and yet leap sprightly up when called on and give forth the approved solution even including the academic "We believe." Which expression appears to be exceeding convenient to an instructor and is most aptly handled by Major Terrell.

Friday, Apr. 14 Egad! No orders?

Being a holiday lay late abed pondering the results of my latest Walter Winchelling it strikes me that the presentation of a bunch of wild flowers to Danny Walker while members of the class stood by in bare headed silence may solve the mystery of the Benning Boulevard Nursery sellout of last week! And would that the schedule makers could arrange things so that all rainy days would not fall on week hold being fully repaired, and Lt.

Saturday, April 15

For sooth! No orders?

The morning spent nursing a bruise

(The editor has an explanation to resulting from the normal rock barrage laid down by Mitchell and attached troops at Thursday's terrain exercise. Am of the opinion that if the Blues could develop as much fire power as said outfit the Reds could be forced to withdraw across the Chattahoochee and stay there. For services in such engagements do recommend that Tex Evans be presented with the Golden Goose!

Sunday, April 16 Alas! No orders?

To the Horse Show where I did see some splendid jumping but was somewhat vexed and disappointed that no one was policed which to my way of thinking is the most interesting part of any show and no end exciting for the policee! The final act in honor of Major and Mrs. "Long Drawers" Thompson very touching to my sensative soul. Even Mrs. Thompson's horse, Baldy, looked sad, or mayhap 'twas his natural expression. Monday, April 17

Ye Gods! No Orders?

Off to the wars under Field Marshal Hones who I verily do believe will rise up to burlesque his own funeral! The anties of General Stika's Vulgarian Greindeirs made the campaign most pleasant but on my life l cannot understand why all Vulgarian Basic Privates are named Jesse Traywick unless it be to add confusion to the Blue S-2 report! Bethought me for a few moments that all was lost since I could neither understand Hastus Howard's Spanish nor interpreter Bravo's English! Military Attache Wu did somewhat relieve my mind by discovering that Rastus wasn't saying anything anyhow, so what?

No end put out when I did attempt to obtain Cusetta Kate's phone number to find it to be the same as my own and that Kate's same red wig is 'hat well known Thespian treat!

Am of the opinion that if the Hones system were used more often 'twould be much easier to get the big picture. Indeed, at most lectures I get only the little picture and it then becomes necessary to have it enlarged!

My nerves all shattered from the constant whine and crash of active Hones Howitzers but did bravely pull myself together and out once more to the night wars where I did carefully warn Andrews to beware of an especially deep hole a few seconds after he had fallen into it! Which, having extracted himself, did put Andrews in mind of the two Irishmen who fell into the elevator shaft and the first remarking on the way down, "Look out for that first step, it's a bad one!" Tuesday, April 18.

Still no orders!

The plumbing of the Peep house Peep being back with not book in hand, station Peep, Jr. doth hereby sign off.

-Peep, Jr.

R L

Herald, for it will contain an illustrated account of our Pioneer over night trip, on April 21 and 22.

We're going on another overnight hike on May 6, too. Everybody goes this time (everyone who is 2d or 1st class), not just the Pioneers! Cardinal Troop

Tuesday, April 25

Watch for next week's Benning for Mrs. Griswold, our new leader. Then we sang songs, and decided on those we want to sing at the Court of Awards on May 24th.

Some time was spent planning meals, too, for Mrs. Matchett asked each girl to write down what she'd the others. like to eat, on May 6th. Perhaps we are going to have better things to eat next time, but personally, I know I bet we're going to have a lot of We had the Flag Ceremony today, that would be nearly impossible!

Tales Of The Tent City

Here's a letter that fell out of Capt. Long Horn Sutton's pocket. We apologize to old Cow Town for reading his mail. The letter reads:

"Dear Bill: Since I sold the little farm in Arkansas I have prospered. You know we always lived in that little one room shack but I came to Texas and bought a farm and pretty soon I leased it to an oil company and sure hit some luck. They struck a big oil field on the place and now I have me a big house here in Ft. Worth. It has six rooms, there is one room that we don't do anything but eat in, then one that we just sit in, two rooms that we don't do anything but sleep in, one room we just cook in, then there is one that is all white that has a place that you can wash all over in, and over in the corner is a place you can wash your face and hands in and in the other corner is a thing where you can wash your feet in. When we moved in, there was two lids on this, but we took them off, we are using one for a bread board and we have Grandpa's picture framed with the other. Write me when you can-Your friend

Why don't the Infantry School get Capt. Lucas a protractor so that he could get the same results in TOG as we do.

Our friend Lipsey again breaks into the news column. We have tried our best to keep the boy in place, but he prefers his name in the news. This time we find Lipsey trying to demonstrate that magnatic personality of his on a certain girl here on the post. As we get the story, he bet a carton of cigarettes that he could get a date with some sweet little girl-just by using that personality of his. Lipsey fell down in that the bet was made with a very close friend of the girl he was to get the date

Well the story ends-you know the ending. The girls are 5 packs of eigarettes ahead. We suggest that ipsey read that book "The Power of Personality" and try again. Five acks of cigarettes won't last forever.

There seems to be a doubt in the ninds of some of our class as to the illness of our Class Supervision Major Easley. In one corner of the Major's room in the hospital is a crib, whether or not that means any thing judge for yourself. But any way, hurry up and get well Major. o we will know what kind of clothes

All kinds of new tactics and principles came out the other nite while on our nite operations. Capt. Duncan gets the Blue Ribbon. As commander of the Browns he put his machine gun company in assault. We understand the Infantry Board is seriously considering adopting this method.

Tudhope took Major Cota seriously nd carried a blanket along on maneuvers last night. We're glad to see he got away without his rubbers. Bet he had to sneak out the back way to get away with it.

Accept our apology for failing to produce our weekly paragraph for last issue, but three night exercises and several days of TOG left us little time or desire to try our hand at any other tasks.

Officers are invited to a dance to be given on May 3, from 10 to 2, at the Elks Club in Columbus. The music will be by Cecil Krisal's orchestra. Better come, boys, and get a lay-off from TOG for a while.

—С. Н. В.

Pine Tree Troop

We have two new Tenderfoots now. Virginia Pope and Mary Frances Kelley, who were invested today. These two are already working on 2nd Class, for they hope to go on the overnight hike.

During the meeting we worked on tests, some of the older girls helping

Then the Patrols got together and wrote menus for the hike on May 6. good things to eat on that trip!

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

CONDUCTED BY E. F. H.

BIRTHDAY GREETINGS

This being the anniversary issue of the Benning Herald the Flare takes occasion to congratulate the management. Two years ago, when Congress gave the coup de grace to the Infantry School News and similar service publications, the Herald undertook to supply the real need which this large garrison has for a news medium of its type. It has performed that service in a manner eminently satisfactory to the authorities and pleasing to its subscribers. It has given us a hometown paper that is a credit to the com munity as well as to the public. It is a healthy, growing youngster, and given the support it deserves, it can do for us what we want done better than we could do it ourselves, even if legislative restrictions were removed. The Flare wishes it the many happy returns of the day.

BARD OF THE UPATOI

From time to time, The Flare has proclaimed the fact that we have a poet in our midst, and on one or two occasions we even went so far as to print some of his verse. Neither the announcement nor the samples, however, created any great stir among the local intelligentsia.

We can't blame our public for not paying much attention to our restrained ballyhoo. The opinion of the professional soldier on poetry is not to be trusted. He never gets much beyond the point of looking upon "The Shooting of Dan McGrew" as the immortal saga of all time, and Service publications are all too prone to seize upon some banal product of the military mind, expressed in halting meter, and acclaim its author as the American Kipling." In view of such indications of a plentiful lack of discrimination on the part of military critics of poetry it is not surprising our announcement was coldly received. We think, however, that the concrete evidence submitted should have aroused more interest.

The May issue of Harper's, now on the newsstands, contains a poem by Lieutenant C. T. Lanham, who is the lad we tried to tell you about. It is serious stuff and you may not like it, but you know it has to be pretty good or Harper's wouldn't pay money for it.

It is no new experience for Bard Lanham to have his poems appear in reputable publications. When he was really working at it the morning mail probably brought in as many publishers' checks as it did notices of accounts overdue. Should he go in for serious writing once more, and should the present tendency to deflate army pay schedules and inflate everything else continue, it is not inconceivable that, by the end of the fiscal year 1934, Poet Lanham's check for a sonnet may equal his monthly honorarium from the government.

For the benefit of those who have let their subscriptions to Harper's expire, we reprint the poem that inspired the item.

EMPIRE BUILDERS

No savage continent remains to dare The eagle's brood, no sea to try their wings. Their talons that have gripped the hearts of kings Now curve on perches of a dark despair. Their eyes that knew the naked sun now stare In sullen apathy at smoke that rings Their last grim citadel and climbing, flings Its plumy pennants on the dusty air. O ve of winged feet and hearts of flame. Look upward where the painted planets rise Against the wall of night. No foot has trod Those shining shores. No eagle standard cries Defiance from those peaks that bear no name Except the awful signature of God.

THE HUNTER TRIALS

It is something of a paradox that in the Army. With the possible exception of Riley, the Mecca toward blue ribbon. Being the first blue ribwhich all true believers face when bon to be bestowed upon any memthey worship their four legged god, ber of the immediate family, it cre-Benning leads them all in the num ated quite a sensation in the domestic The National Guard and Reserve ber and variety of its mounted ac circle. We have a yellow one sometivities than whom there is no one more horsey, with a yen to start a collecion of cups and ribbons or add to one already started can do so here. Polo, weekly jumping contests, horse shows and now the hunter trials, afford excellent opportunities for horse enthusiasts of both sexes and all ages to acquire these coveted trophies.

In inaugurating the hunter trials, Sir Sidney Negrotto has started something which should, and doubtless will be, an annual affair. An unexpectedly large number of competitors participated and the size of the gallery was encouraging. If the sponsors of this new and interesting feature will lay out a steeplechase er. His comments add materially to course that will be under the eyes the enjoyment of horse shows, hunter of the spectators, the hunter trials trials and the like. may well become the most popular of Benning's horse events.

It so happens that the hunter trials the home of the Infantry School mark an epoch in our family history. should be one of the horsiest posts Our son, who was a dark horse entry in the juvenile class came off with the which the same enterprising young centaur acquired but, since there were only three entries in the event, the taking of third place was just a routine matter. Even the boy's mother wasn't able to make much out of it. The blue one, however, has inspired a lot of brushing up on horse terminology.

> Lieutenant Robert V. Murphy, the official custodian of the Infantry School's motorized loudspeaker, is developing into a local Graham Mc-Namee. If half of the things that the alarmists fear may happen to the Army, do happen, he should be able to pick up a job as a radio announc-

(Please turn to page 7)

THE FLARE (Continued on Page 6)

PUNIC FAITH

A few weeks back the 29th Infantry held a two-sided maneuver in which the 1st and 2d Battalions were pitted against each other. On this memorable occasion Colonel Rico Rice, commanding the motorized 2d Battalion, put over a fast one by eluding the opposing force and slipping into the post in the rear. By the time the In elligence section of the 1st Battalion staff caught up with the situation, the elusive 2d had accomplished its mission of destroying the imaginary supplies, or whatever it was, and had taken up a strong polis invited to the fact that Colonel the erstwhile defenders of the home

V. V. VICK—Graduate watch maker. Watches repaired $1.75. One year Guarantee. City Drug Store.

Automobiles and household goods insurance at reduced rates for all military and civil personnel. GOVERNMENT PERSONNEL AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION

SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

Colonel Rice modestly attributed his decisive victory to his familiarity with the tactics of Hannibal, as gleaned from weeks of attending rehearsals of The Road to Rome. According to our personal recollection of that drama, Hannibal's tactics, as elucidated therein, had little to do with he field of battle, but there can be no disputing the fact that Colonel Rice's dramatic and tactical successes were concurrent.

Last week, in another two-sided maneuver, the 1st Battalion, led by its new chief, Colonel Lemly, had its revenge. This time Colonel Rice was defending and, while his cordon of outposts watched vigilantly at every trail and dirt road by which an or thodox enemy might be expected to approach, Colonel Lemly marched his cohorts triumphantly across the practically unguarded Upatoi Bridge, past the grinning M. P.'s at Outpost No. l, and into the garrison.

The attention of military students

sition across the communications of Lemly's coup is also reminiscent of Hannibal. To date the Colonel has given out no statement that his maneuver was inspired by a study of the tactics of the great Carthaginian, but, in this connection, it is of interest that he was present on the post when "The Road to Rome" was produced and that he attended the performance.

The amazing fact that we now have two Hannibals in the 29th Infantry can hardly be accounted for by any other theory than that Robert Sher-wood's famous play as produced by the Dramatic Club was one of the most effective courses in military instruction ever put on by the Infantry School.

OVERWORK CASUALTY

The appearance of Lieutenant Gene Ridings in the Officers' Club at 10:00 AM on the first day of the Grand Maneuvers brought forth a chorus of exclamation from a group of his golf companions who were shaking for drinks at the time.

To Lone Wolf Golightly's cheery greeting, "Never saw you looking so well, Chubby, but why aren't you out fighting the war?" the Lieutenant replied with dignity that he was not attending the maneuvers for the excellent reason that he was on sick report as a result of overwork.

Cannonball Pierce, upon recovering from the shock of this announcement, promptly got in touch with the press and threatened to cancel his subscription to the Benning Herald if we didn't publish a formal protest against the conditions which brought about his friend's near collapse. According to Pierce, Lieutenant Ridings is in no shape to do more than thirtysix holes a day.

OPTIMIST

Captain Morris Depass, former language student at Peking and for eight years a resident in the land of Confucius and squeeze, recently received from China an elegant white brass name plate.

This name plate, in addition to having the name, rank and condition of servitude inscribed both in English and Chinese—a little vanity which all who have served in China, including the conductor of The Flare, affect—is unique in another respect. It is a double faced affair with Captain DePass on the front and Major De-Pass on the back.

The name plate cost $30.00 and the duty thereon was $1.95 gold. It was ordered, of course, before the last pay cut, a circmustance which Mrs. DePass may or may not have overlooked when she took her husband to task for his extravagance.

"Well, anyway, it will last a life-time," remarked friend husband cheer-

"Yes, and from present indications, you won't even have to reverse it," retorted Mrs. DePass.

CITATION FOR THE WEEK Benning acquired cultural prestige

by the concert of Dorothy Githens on Tuesday night. Even in these days when unprecedented bargains of every description are available for anyone with cash money or credit, we recall no other instance of so much in the way of musical entertainment being offered for the small sum of Unfortunately, Mrs. Eley was competing, on the evening in question, not only with maneuvers, but with a movie that nearly everybody wanted to see. The real high brow music fans, of course, scorned the show for a rew prospects elected to see "She Done Him Wrong." By carefully calculating time and space factors, one could take in both events and that was our intelligent solution of the problem. The subject of entertainment logistics. however, has not been given the attention it deserves in the Infantry School curriculum and, in consequence, the audience was not as large as it would have been otherwise. What it lacked in size, however, it made up for by its enthusiastic reception of the excellent program.

Our citation for the week goes, therefore to Dorothy Githens Eley for putting on a concert that was not only the best we have ever heard at the price but was also one of the best we have ever heard at any price.

Congratulation

We are pleased to offer Congratulations, to the Benning Herald On this, its Second Anniversary And express our Sincere best wishes For future years

Book Shop The Infantry School

Congratulations

The Board of Governors of The Officers' Club, recognizing the benefits of such a publication as the Benning Herald, is glad to note its development through the period of its infancy. Now that it is a husky youngster, has cut its teeth and commenced to talk, may it continue to speak for the Army, and particularly for Fort Benning, and to promote better and better relations with our , civilian neighbors.

The Officers' Club

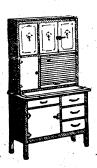

FORT BENNING, GA.

You Can Save By Doing Your Grocery Shopping at

REAL BARGAINS

KITCHEN CABINETS

GREEN, GREY IVORY OR IVORY AND GREEN

$28.75

PORCELAIN TOP TABLES

WHITE, GREY GREEN OR IVORY.

$6.00

REFRIGERATORS

All Metal In Choice New Finishes GREEN-GREY OR

IVORY AND GREEN. As Low as-

$19.75

TERMS — PRICES

B.L. Pennell Fur. Co.

1249 BROADWAY

PHONE 4618

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Knight Unable To Meet Corn Griffin

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

had, however, taken only several and means of stopping the Detroit bites when there came a call from club in general and Ty Cobb in parbites when there came a call from the diamond for him to come and relieve the startling hurler. "Who's Finally Miller called upon his catcher, Wally Schang, and put the catcher, Wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the A's," he catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally Schang, and put the him to come out with a statement of the catcher, wally schanged by the catcher, wall schanged by the catcher, wall schanged by the catcher of the cat wards the diamond and then replied casually, "Cochrane, Simmons, and Foxx." The rookie heaved a sigh and then laid his partially eaten sandwich on a bench. "Don't touch that," he warned, "I'll be right back."

All lovers of baseball are familiar with the feats of Tv Cobb--feats so great that they made him the most feared man in the game. Illustrating this great respect for the Georgia Peach is the story about the skullpractice indulged in one morning by

First National Bank

Georgia Home Building "The White Bank"

Capital and Surplus_$ 350,000.00 Resources Over _____ 2,000,000.00

Fort Benning Representative:

R. M. Hall, Jr.—Phone 290

Rent a Box in our Safety Burglar and Fire-proof Vaults for your Valuables. Prices moderate.

Accounts of Fort Benning

Personnel Solicited UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY

In 1929, a Detroit rookie pitcher | the late Miller Huggins, then mana was working in the bull-pen during ger of the Yankees. An important a game between the Tigers and the series between Detroit and New York Philadelphia Athletics. Becoming was about to begin and so Huggins hungry, he bought a sandwich. He had called a meeting to discuss ways > for us. Ty Cobb was on second, and started to steal third. What would you do? Schang thought deeply a moment and then answered: "As soon as I saw Cobb trying to steal third, onto the ball, and then try to tag-out the so and so when he slid into the Leslie Pawson, 28-year-old-millhand, outraced 221 rivals in the 37th annual running of the Boston Marathon in record-smashing time. His time was over 25 seconds better than the record established by Zabala of Argentina in the 1932 Olympics and over two minutes faster than the record for the Boston run made in 1929.

Pawson was never worse than third passing any of the checking stations. He trailed for the first eighteen miles, then put on a burst of speed which carried him by the two leaders. On coming to punishing hills, he never slackened pace and increased his lead by leaps and bounds. He finished five minutes ahead of Dave Komonem, who broke the tape 500 yards in front of the runner who placed third.

Frank Shields, lanky New Yorker, swept aside the remaining opposition in the Mason and Dixie tennis championships, winning the singles titles and pairing with Lester Stoefen, giant Californian, to capture the doubles

(Please turn to page 9)

Cairo Lightheavy Pride of Benning Nine Saturday 7-4

Athletic Association Will Secure Tough Opponent For Two-Fisted Soldier

Knight's managership. Fort Benning officials wasted no time in getting in touch with Bronson, offering Knight a fight with Griffin any time he felt the urge. This was an unexpected I'd make a bluff to throw there, hold development as far as Bronson was concerned; nevertheless he forwarded his terms to Captain Fry which incidentally called for one of the largest guarantees ever given a fighter on the post. Captain Fry accepted but to date has received no answer, and there seems little likelihood that he

> In other words, the Fort Benning Athletic Association called Knight's bluff. Duckworth, with an ace-in-thehole named Joe Knight, opened the pot. Captain Fry stuck and Bronson took over Duckworth's hand. Bronson raised Captain Fry, and here it was that the unexpected development took place. Captain Fry made another raise and called. Bronson had been bluffing and had nothing but a complete bust. In one word, some cheap publicity which didn't amount to a hill of beans and Captain Fry raked in the winnings.

> Joe Knight lately lost a close decision to Bob Godwin, which displaced him as number one ranking southern lightheavy. He has since been making every effort to regain his high rating. By meeting Griffin, he would be endangering his chances of ever getting to the top again.

> But fans need not be disappointed. The Athletic Association will bring either Wine or Battling Bozo, probably the latter, to Benning, on May 9th. Frankie Wine, who has fought W. L. Stribling several times and given a very good account of himself, is another fighter who has no > overwhelming desire to come into contact with Corn's flying fists. Battling Bozo held Griffin to a draw on the occasion of their last meeting. That was before Corn started his long string of victories and became the much-improved fighter he is today.

> So if Griffin and Bozo, the clown, do meet, it will be a grudge fight with both boys out for blood. Bozo has always been popular with Benning fans. His clowning convulses them and he mixes genuine fighting ability with his antics in the ring. Griffin wants another chance to wipe that smirk off Bozo's face.

Well-Known Stars Will Compete In This Tournament

The announcement that the annual Cotton States tennis tournament, one of the principal net events in the south each year, will be staged at Fort Benning came Tuesday. The tournament will take place from June 6 to June 11 inclusive.

At a recent meeting of the South ern Lawn Tennis Association, this high honor was awarded to Fort Benning. The dates were also established at that time.

Most of the south's leading tennis players perform in this tournament. Over a hundred entries outside of those players competing from Colum-(Please turn to page 10)

Crusaders Beaten Indisposed to Box By Fine Greencord

A hard fighting Greencord baseball team from the Special Units, of the Infantry School, staged a brilliant uphill battle at the Pals' field, Phenix City, Saturday afternoon, to overcome a three run lead and win over the Crusaders of the City league, 7

Britton, Crusader left hander, held the Greencords well in check for four innings, but weakened in the fifth and sixth stanzas to fall a victim of the army sluggers for a total of seven safe bingles and seven markers.

Robertson, Greencord portsider, wirled nice ball for seven innings. His offerings were touched for four hits and three runs in the second and third stanzas, but he closed the books after the third and twirled brilliant baseball. Hinkley relieved Robertson at the end of the seventh frame and stood the Crusaders sluggers on their heads allowing no hits and whiffing five batters.

Tom Futch, Greencord centerfielder, was out in front with the willow, collecting three bingles out of four trips up. Newman and Thomas of the Greencords and Britton of the Crusaders, hit triples.

Score by innings:

Grencords ___ 000 124 000—7 11 3 Crusaders ___ 012 001 000—4 8 3 Robertson, Hinkley and Newman; Britton and Henderson.

Company E and Company F baseball teams were victorious in regimental games played at Fort Benning Sunday afternoon, each beating other company teams from the Twentyninth Infantry.

Company E staged a walk-away to defeat Company H, 20 to 6. They were aided in the feat by fifteen hits and 10 opposition errors. Sizemore, of Company E, led in hitting, getting three for five, two of them being triples and one a single. There were four home runs hit in the contest. Foreman and Tinsley, of Company E, and Fuller and Gray, of Company H, crashed out circuit clouts.

Company F trounced Company G, 8 to 7, in a hard fought seven-inning game as the closing feature of the afternoon. Barron, of F company, led the hitting, getting two for four. one being a home run.

First Game

Score by innings:

E Company 503 021 018-20 15 3 H Company 003 400 200 — 6 6 10 Aiken and Haney; Pyles, Harkey and Palmer.

Second Game

F Company ____ 010 420 1—8 9 5 G Company ____ 320 100 1—7 9 5 Haines and Bright; Johnson, Yattow and Woods.

THE FINEST BAR-GAINS YOU EVER SAW!

30 Chevrolet Coach. good paint, good rubber '31 Sport Ford Coupe Original paint; brand

$295 6 wire wheels, luggage $350

$225

$350

$350

carrier; paint like new-'29 Ford Sedan, good $140 tires, paint, etc. _____ '29 Ford Touring in A-1 $115 condition, good rubber 31 Chevrolet 2-Door Sedan; good rubber, paint, etc. Another bargain at ____ 4

'31 (late) Ford Victoria, a beautiful car and in perfect condition ___

20 OTHER REAL BARGAINS TO SELECT FROM

Liberal Terms—Good Trades

PATTERSON-

MOTOR COMPANY 1415 First Ave. -

(ADVICE TO BASEBALL PLAYERS)

YOU CAN'T EXPECT

TO KNOCK THEM OVER THE FENCE

... with a hide-busting clout far over the outfielder's head into the sticks . . . /

Or Pick Up Those Screaming Grounders

. the kind that bounce erratically all over the diamond and give you a mess of trouble grabbing.

Unless You Have Good Equipment!

Like That Sold At The Main Branch

FORT BENNING, GEORGIA

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

BUY

TIRES AND TUBES

ON OUR

EASY PAYMENT PLAN

Small down payment and balance in payments to suit your own convenience—No Red Tape.

Goodyear Prices Greatly Reduced

We Appreciate Your Business

United Oil Corp.

PHONE 1800

1215-17 FIRST AVE.

SPORT CHATTER (Continued From Page 8)

With his powerful service working effectively, Shields blasted his way to a four-set victory over Gregory Mangin, national indoors champion, 10-8, 4-6, 6-0, 6-2. Except for the first two sets, Shields had little trouble with Mangin. The black-haired New Jersey player matches Shields terrific placement drives with shots not quite

McMURRIA'S

Radio Equipped FORDS-CHEVROLETS PLYMOUTH ON EASY TERMS

SEE PARHAM

McMURRIA'S 1125 6th Avenue Phone 2509

BURRUS USED CAR BARGAINS

THIS WEEK SPECIALS

Iod. "T" Ford Coupe$ 15.00
tudebaker Sedan 95.00
9-Ford Sport Coupe 145.00
9-Ford Tudor Sedan150.00
0-Ford Tudor 250.00
1-Ford Tudor 275.00
1-Ford Coupes$250 to 295.00
0-Marquette Coupe 250.00
0-Marquette Coach 225.00
0-Dodge "8" SedanSpecial
2-Ford V-8 DeLuxeSpecial
2-Ford V-8 Convertible Sedan Special

Many Others Priced $25.00 Up

EASY TERMS—GOOD TRADES

BURRUS MOTOR CO.

Winning Boxing Team And Trophy

The accompanying photo shows the members of the Fort Benning Amateur Boxing Team, which won the matches recently held in Mobile. With the team are shown its coaches and athletic officers of the Post.

as powerful but deadly in their ac curacy. In the third set, Shields found the range and thereafter had and Berkely Bell.

First impressions of the major league pennant races: the Yankees look like winners in the American ... strong in every department of the game, with terrific offensive strength Athletic pitching not holding out so well, with only Grove and Freitas doing well White Sox considerably strengthened by addition of Mule Haas and Al Simmons from Philadelphia Boston Red Sox much underrated at start of season boast a powerful aggregation should finish well up in second division . . . Jimmy Foxx appears to be in for another very good year Cleveland fine defensively with average offensive strength Senators will give Yankees plenty of opposition . . . excellent all-round club . . . Pittsburgh Pirates off to a healthy lead in the senior circuit Cardinals have splendid pitching but otherwise are deficient Cubs and Dodgers look like they might make it hot for the Pirates all the way . . . New York not up to standard of other years probably will not even finish in first division Cinci Reds in the cellar position and undoubtedly will be there by September Boston Braves might be a dark horse Phillies are powerful but lack good pitching. . . . etc. ad infi-

Mangin at the mercy of his smashing Merit High Praise cipitated into the finals where he met the defending champion, Earl Aver-Benning triumphed is a silent tribute Shields and Stoefen won the doubles title in straight sets from Mangin For Fine Showing

The Fort Benning amateur boxing team, after running roughshod over its competitors in the Southeastern meet held in Mobile a week ago, now looks for new worlds to conquer and new heights of fame to explore. Soldier leatherpushers swept to victory in the recent tournament with 42 points, completely routing Mobile and other opposing teams.

Roy Whatley, 1932 southern middleweight champion, justified entirely the confidence his admirers and backers had placed in him. In his debut, he dumped Ed O'Neal on the canvas before the first round was over, and thereby indicated to all concerned hat he had a very covetous eye on the crown. Max Morris, of the Atlanta A. C. had the misfortune to meet the soldier in the second round of the tourney, and although Max managed to stay, the limit, it was Whatley's bout by the proverbial mile. In the title match, Grosso of Birmingham discovered just why Roy was being considered the sensation of the tournament. Unless the age of miracles is still with us, Whatley will do big things in the national tourna-

Charles and Billy Floyd put on a whale of a show in the fight for the bantamweight title. Fans were dizzy from the excess of leather that was thrown in this bout. Charley Floyd was declared the winner after three rounds of brilliant boxing. Both boys came up to the finals with a couple of knockout victories trailing behind

The welterweight class also proved to be strictly a Fort Benning affair, with Joe Graves, Co. "E" 29th Infantry, and Neal Milan, Co. "D" 66th Infantry, fighting it out for the right to wear the championship laurels. Graves, showing rare courage, made a real fight of it. The war lasted until the second round when Milan nailed Graves with a right-handed smash in the region of the heart that wrote finis on fistic entertainment in the Lonnie Wilson, runner-up in the tournament for two years, Melvin Penland in the finals for the heavyweight crown, and what a battle this turned out to be. Penland won but only after a great fight that had the fans on the edge of their seats throughout the three rounds.

Now that the newly-crowned champions have come in for their full share of credit, it is time to hand out bouquets to those who failed to win a title but nevertheless left a lasting impression.

Al Leguigan, a veteran of many years, filled the gap in the flyweight class at the last minute. When no youngsters were found to compete in this class, Al volunteered, and there are at least two fighters who fought in the recent tournament who will always regret his decision. Leguigan Amateur Boxers won his first two fights and was preett, undoubtedly the best fighting man to his work.

for his weight and inches in the tournament, with the exception of Whatley. Averett won but Al made it hot for the champ while he was in there. Leguigan's records is a tribute to him.

Phil Carpenter was on the receiving end of a tough break or Fort Benning would be boasting five champions. Phil won his first fight by a knockout in the second round. In his second battle, he met Williamson of Mobile. Carpenter was way ahead in points after the second round, but the Mobile battler rallied to take the third. The judges were hard put to render a decision but after a second vote awarded the decision to Williamson. Incidentally, Williamson proceeded to the finals where he won the title after one of the greatest fights in the tournament.

The others who failed to reach the finals, especially "Hard Luck" Polewada, deserve praise for their efforts in the meet. Every fighter on the squad gave the best that was in him, and had Fort Benning not walked off with highest honors, the boys would still be in line for the plaud-

And last but not least, Coach Howard Johnson comes in for his share of the credit for his team's victory. cipitated into the finals where he met The one-sided margin by which Fort

Tailored-To-Order 1550 and 1850

The SCHWOB Co.

The Standard Tailoring Co.

1037 Broadway

Columbus, Ga.

The Post Exchange

HAS A DELIVERY SERVICE FROM ITS

SODA FOUNTAIN

The hours of this service are from 11 a.m. to 9:00 p. m., and it is designed particularly for the deliver of ice cream in quarts and smaller quantities to your home.

> Excellent Curb Service Also Phone 69

THE SODA FOUNTAIN

POST EXCHANGE

FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

Polo Elimination Tournament Begun Sunday Afternoon

The Freebooters, Optimists, Hoofers, and Students survived the round robin polo tournament and are now engaging in an elimination tournament to determine the winner. Last Sunday afternoon, the Freebooters met the Students and the Optimists clashed with the 29th Hoofers.

The powerful Freebooters, playing against a two-goal handicap, took the field against the blue-jerseyed Students in the first half game. Butler opened the scoring with a goal for the Students in the first chukker but Monte Blue and Farmer Nichols retaliated for the Yellow Peril with a goal apiece in the second period, making the score 3-2 in favor of the Students. Stephenson of the Students also scored in the second chukker and Sweeney of the same team chalk ed up another marker for his four some in the third. At the end of this period, the Students were still leading 5-3. In the fourth chukker, the Yellow Peril drew even with their hard-riding opponents when Blue and Nichols scored again. The game ended with the score tied at 5-5. Fast riding and hard playing featured this exciting game.

The 29th Hoofers also spotted their opponents, the Optimists, a two-goal handicap, but offset the advantage before the end of the second period. The score at this point was 2-2, with Westlund and O'Connor providing the fireworks. The third chukker saw both fours fighting desperately to take the lead but ended without a score. In the fourth period, Zero Wilson tallied twice for the Optimists. running their score to 4. O'Connor retaliated with a goal for the Hoofers but the gong ended the half-game with the score 4-3, the Optimists on

The last halves of these games will oe played off this coming Sunday. The post championship will then be decided by a contest between the winners of the Sunday matches.

Drink

The Best Cola Beverage

Spend This Crown Same As Cash

Howard Bus Line.

inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise

SCHEDULE

rro			Froi	m ·
Colum	nbus	F	t. Ben	ning
5:00	$\mathbf{A}\mathbf{M}$		6:00
6:00	- 66		7:50	64 -
7:00	"		9:15	"
8:30	"		10:45	44
10:00	•		12:45	PM
11:45	".		2:15	4
	PM		4:15	"
3:00	"		5:10	"
5:00	"		6:00	. 44
7:00	. "		7:00	4
9:00	"		8:00
10:30	"		9:45
12:00	M		11:15	66
			12:00	M
		lso "Extras" s
	S	CHOOL BUS	ES
410		PHONES		224

CITY

Fort Benning Racqueteers Put Tiger Tennis Players On Spot

Greencord Outfit Falls Before Fierv Attack of Auburn

A hard-hitting, fast-fielding Auburn nine routed the Greencord baseball team to the tune of 10 to 5 last Wednesday afternoon. The wet weather slowed up both teams considerably.

Gilbert, Greencord twirler, allowed fourteen bingles to ring off Tiger bats. The wet ball made it almost impossible to put much stuff on the pellet and Gilbert was forced to rely on a fast ball most of the time. Wilcoxin, with the exception of the first and fifth innings, had the soldiers well under control and hurled a fine

Head, red-headed Auburn thirdsacker, led his nine in hitting, by collecting three safe hits in five times up. His singles came just at the right time and drove in five Tiger runs. Gump Ariail, who cavorts in right field for Auburn, sent the pellet whizzing over the right field fence in the seventh inning. Jimmie Hitch-cock, all-American football player, hit safely three times in four trips to the platter.

Tolle, stellar Greencord leftfielder, was the only player on his team to solve the delivery of Wilcoxin. Wee Grady made three hits in four times to the plate. With two out in the seventh inning, Hinkley relieved Gilbert in the box for the Greencords.

WELL KNOWN STARS TO COM PETE HERE ON COURT

(Continued on Page 8) bus and Fort Benning itself are ex pected. The tennis committee, composed of Major Henry B. Lewis, Captain James H. Drake, and Mrs. Schneider, will have charge of preprations for the big event.

This will be the first time that a major southern tournament has ever been held in Fort Benning, although the annual Infantry School invitation meets have always succeeded in draw ing several of the south's outstanding stars to the post courts.

Plans are being made for the staging of men's singles and doubles as well as the women's singles and doubles. Any player residing in the Cotton States is eligible to enter. Matches will be played on the six clay courts. Entry blanks will be sent to leading tennis players and clubs in the future.

Many cities made bids for the tournament, but notification of the selection of Fort Benning as the site was received Monday from A. R. Tigrett, Memphis president.

I. S. D.

All caustic and sarcastic comments aside, has anyone of the many (?) readers of the column listened in Cpl. Bill Brewer's bi-weekly program from the local station? Bill sure can tickle the ivories, if you don't believe it just listen in next Wednesday afternoon. If you don't like it, just bust up the radio; the detachment Bond and Liability Insur- fund will pay for it (you're tellin' me?); and if it does get over in a big way Bill will be back on the ozone again on Saturday. Just recently the local boy who made good has been traveling in high company, being assisted on his last program by no less a personage than the son of the S. U. commander-Bob Jew The lad toots a mean horn.

(We won't mention the new number, thought, Bill, till we've dug you for a few more smokes)

It seems that the Q. M. Detach ment is the only organization capable of realizing the actual worth of Sgt. "Don" Isham, according to "Peg" Pittman who is of the opinion that the QMers were only giving Don the rating they thought he deserved when he new uniform arrived adorned with a lovely two, instead of three stripes. Was his face red?

The Fort Benning tennis team won a close victory over Auburn Sunday afternoon by the score of 5-4. Fort Benning went into an early lead when Drake, Lynch, and Giddings were returned winners; then Godwin of Auburn won two hard-fought, fiercelyplayed sets from Sherburne of Fort Benning to put the Tigers back into into the running. Weyrauch, Fort Benning, lost a three-set match to Whittle, but Gavin, Fort Benning, took the measure of his opponent after losing the opening set. At the end of the singles matches, Fort Benning enjoyed a 4-2 lead.

Poore and Newman combined to face Godwin and Howard, Auburn's ranking doubles team. The opponents won in three sets. Major Irving and Lieut. Gavin were also defeated. At this point the match was even at 4-4, the outcome of the contest hinging upon the result of the doubles encounter between Weyrauch and Giddings of Fort Benning and Whittle and Crane of Auburn. The Auburn combination won the first set, but the Fort Benning racqueteers came back to win the last two and the match.

The scintillating play of Godwin of Auburn against Sherburne of Fort Benning was one of the highlights of the match. Godwin's fast service and fine ground strokes were too much for Sherburne, who played brilliantly at times. Godwin won 8-6, 6-4. Sherburne's flashing forehand drive scored many points but failed to disconcert his opponent.

Lynch of Fort Benning won without difficulty from Howard 6-0, 6-3. His powerful service was effective and the forehand shots rattled off his racquet like rifle bullets. A backhand chop also contributed materially to Lynch's victory.

Gavin of Fort Benning, after losing the first set to his opponent, swept him off the court in the second and third, to win his match. Both players matched ground strokes throughout the match and rarely took the net. Gavin was not pushed in either of the final sets.

Giddings of Fort Benning defeated Kirby, Auburn, in straight sets by scores of 6-2, 6-1. The smashing service of the Fort Benning player was too much for his opponent. Kirby was slow on his feet and many of Giddings' placement shots caught him flatfooted.

Weyrauch, Fort Benning, lost a hard, closely-contested three-set match to Whittle of Auburn 6-4, 4-6, 4-6.

In the doubles matches, Poore and Newman, representing Fort Benning took the court against Godwin and Howard. Again, the play was more or less dominated by Godwin, who was responsible for his team's victory by scores of 6-4, 3-6, 3-6. Both Poore and Newman were not exhibiting the brand of tennis exhibited against Georgia Tech.

Irving and Gavin won the opening set of their doubles match but then lost the last two 6-3, 1-6, 4-6. Weyrauch and Giddings, however, won their match to cinch the match for Benning at 5-4.

Tank Notes

Friday evening Company E, was host to their championship basketball team and also to the Battalion team with a chicken supper. This supper was also in honor of Lieutenant Nelson who is leaving the company. After the chicken had disappeared Lieutenant Rosebaum, basketball coach, of the battalion team, made a short talk in which he praised Company E, for their work in winning the Battalion Championship; he also gave praise to the Battalion Squad for the spirit shown by them in the post series. Following Rosebaum's Lieutenant talk Lt. Nelson, made a brief talk in which he thanked the men of Company E for their cooperation during his tour of duty here and expressed the desire that he might return to the tanks for duty in the near future.

Upon the recommendation of their Company Commanders the following named men have been appointed to the grade of corporal: Private 1cl. Grant R. McNeil, Co. E, and Private Edwin L. Ellis, Co. D. Congratulations to you fellows and may you continue the upward path of success.

Without eating the other half of certain pie which has caused several heated debates Captain Murphy, told an audience of ex-cooks, mess sergeants and what-not that the trouble was a lack of sugar and he would bet there wasn't a grain in a car-load.

Sergeant Stewart and Corporal Hud on who have been on furlough over in Louisiana, reported back Wednesday afternoon. They tell us that the three-point-two hasn't got the kick that our home-brew has over across

We suggest that Private Kepley of Company E let his chin whiskers grow out a little longer before he makes his next trip to the fair city of Co lumbus.

We are informed that Company E will present to their biggest liar a beautiful loving cup in the near future. Some of you fellows will sure have to tell 'em tall if you expect to beat Corporal R. P. M. Scott out

Headquarters Company's famous Chevrolet rub down and super gloss non-glare man, formerly affiliated with the jewelry trade and trust company, has succeeded in obtaining the collection agency for a well known Barber Supply House and Broker, and from what Rasko tells us he is also quite a social editor traveling incognete. How's business, Ivy?

Private Auzat tells us find Bowden Henderson on the steps to the Orderly Room each morning smiling. Well we are informed that Grant did the same thing at Rich-

Home Savings Bank

"The White Bank"

Capital _____$150,000.00

Interest Paid on Deposits at 3 per cent. per annum, compounded semi-annually. hort term Certificates of Deposit issued at 3 per cent. per annum

Home of the CHRISTMAS SAVINGS CLUB

Fort Benning Representative: R. M. HALL, Ja., Phone 290

Vita Health Reclining Cabinet

We have an experienced Graduate Masseur or Masseuse whom we send to Fort Benning each Monday, Wednesday and Friday who can conveniently give Swedish Massages and Mineral Baths in your home. Reasonable Rates. We have many luxurious and beneficial Treatments for Health, Beauty and Happiness.

Treatments conveniently given at home include Swedish Shampoo, Turkish Shampoo, Oxygen, Sulphur, Nauheim, Oil of Eucalyptus, Saline Baths, Salt Glow, etc.

Office hours 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.--Evenings by appointment

Russian Turkish Cabinet Swedish Facial and Scalp Massage Therapy

SPECIAL REDUCING TREATMENTS

RIGDON HEALTH INSTITUTE

216 Doctors Building

If You Give AMan His Choice

The First Thing He'll Pick Will Be

THE WORLD'S MOST DELICIOUS PEANUT!

Watch the little bill-board on Tom's Jars for New Contest.

Tom's Toasted Peanuts

GENE AUSTIN, famous tenor coming to Main Theater, Fort Benning Matinee and Night, Sunday, May 7th, in his newest musical revue, "Broadway Rhapsody".

of radio, stage, and screen stars, including many feature acts of the vations can now be booked through larger vaudeville circuits will be seen the Officers' Club. here in person on May 7th at the Main Theatre. The play in which these noted players will be seen and heard is entitled "Broadway Rhapso-

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital 1006 13th Street

Office Phone 1318

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

Gene Austin, heading a company dy," a musical variety in two acts. The seat sale has opened and reser-

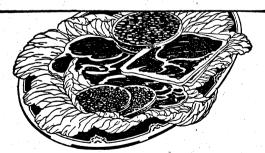

> Mr. Austin is well known on the stage and radio and especially so for days of his recordings with the Victor Record Company, and it is said that more than thirty million records of Mr. Austin's voice were sold. He will be heard in many of his old successes, as well as several of his newest song hits, some of them lately composed. The company is a very large one, numbering some fifty people, among some of the better known names being Track and Hay, Carol Lee, "Hap" Farrell and Flo, Tommy and Joe Rollo, Paul Russell, Harrington Sisters, Gloria Dawn and the fa-mous Brick Top Girl Orchestra, an organization that has been called America's musical sweethearts.

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

If It's A Dutch Supper You Like

YOU'LL FIND EVERYTHING YOU NEED — RIGHT HERE!

To.

1 Jan 1

. . . and you'll be able to easily prepare the finest Dutch Supper you ever ate, on short notice, too.

GROCERY DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

BATTERY "A"

At the present time the news is around the vicinity of Harmony Church. The Battery left Monday morning for two (2) weeks maneuvers, and will return May 5th according to all reports.

The special duty men left in are doing the Guard for the Battalion, and as the old saying goes in the Artillery they will be meeting themselves coming off guard going back

The Kingfish, Sgt. Jeff W. Smith is very busy these days feeding the Battery in the field and all the men staying in including the Medical Corps, Veterinary Corps, Finance Department, Hq. Battery and Co. "C."

Our old friend Luther K. Jackson was discharged on the 20th and left for Texas A. & M. College where he will be on DEML with the ROTC, we wish you the best of luck, Jack.

One of our recruits, Allen Thomas was transferred to Fort Barrancas, Coast Artillery Corps, where he will resume his position as Sunday School teacher in his native city of Pensa-

Pvt. Lowell Kennedy will be discharged on the 27th of this month. I don't think he has quite made up his mind yet, as to what he is going be an accident, old age, or disease. This is done as a matter of course, and occasions no remark whatever, nor is the habit given up because the animal may chance to have died of some epidemic malady, such as the pleuro-pneumonia in cattle. Such meat is not considered so wholesome as that of animals which have died of other diseases, and this truth is recognized in the lower scale of prices asked for it, but is all sold, and is all eaten. Certain disturbances of the human organisations into which such diseased meat has entered are well recognised by the people, which, it should be said, are by no means constant. Dead dogs and cats are subject to the same process of absorption as dead horses, mules, and donkeys. We have been personally cognisant of several cases in which villagers cooked and ate dogs which had been purposely poisoned by strychnine to get rid of them. On one of these occasions some one was thoughtful enough to consult a foreign physician as to the probable results, but as the animal was "already in the survivors could not make up their minds to forego the luxury of a feast and no harm appeared to come of their indulgence!

THINGS CHINESE (Continued from page 5)

Another example of Chinese economy in relation to the preparation of food is found in the nice adjustment of the material of the cooking kettles to the exigencies of the requisite fuel. The latter is scarce and dear, and consists generally of nothing but the leaves, stalks, and roots of the crops making a rapid blaze which quickly disappears. To meet the needs of the case the bottoms of the boilers are made as thin as possible, and require very careful handling. The whole business of collecting this indispensable fuel is an additional example of economy in an extreme form. Every smallest child, who can do nothing else, can at leas' gather fuel. The vast army of fuel gatherers, which in the autumn an winter overspread all the land, leave not a weed behind the hungry teeth of their bamboo rakes. Boys are sent into the trees to beat off with clubs the autumnal leaves, as if they were chestnuts, and even straws are scarcely allowed leisure to show which way the wind blows, before some enterprising collector has "seized" them.

BEES

10-frame standard hives with bees on drawn combs. One shallow super with 10-frames and foundation, assembled. Big bargain—all for $4.50.

FRANK BARNES

208 - 9th Street Phenix, Ala.

HEADQUARTERS COMPANY

The company is out on a two weeks' maneuver. The company barracks is a lonesome place while the company is away.

The company (the detachment left behind) is running smooth under the supervision of 1st Lieutenant Ferenbaugh and Sergeant Hopkins.

The left behinds at the post sure do miss our mess sergeant John Falk who is doing his bit in the field.

Our Company Commander Captain Porter is spending his two weeks in the field on maneuvers which goes to show that he has everyone's interest at heart. Company Commanders did not have to go out on these maneuvers if they desired to send some of their subordinates out. Pfc. Tuell, our Sergeant Major's Clerk took off Monday on maneuvers walking. This is the hardest maneuver that Charlie has ever been on. We hope your feet don't get very sore on the trip this week, Charlie, and again we ask 'Vas you dere Sharlie?"

According to the many telephone calls that were received in the Band quarters they verified the fact that the program was splendid last Thursday evening which was broadcasted over Radio Station WRBL.

Our orchestra sounded like one of the big time Orchestras of the country. We are all proud to have such a splendid orchestra.

Corp. Youngblood did fine singing. It seems as if the long rest that he had taken from singing with the orchestra has done him good because he came back over the air with a

-I. M. Yarbrough.

Lafkowitz Bros.

Makers of good Clothes -Alterations-

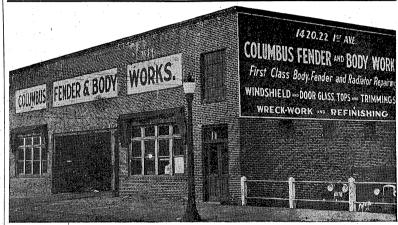

1208 First Ave. Telephone 371

BANKRUPT SALE

DIAMONDS WATCHES JEWELRY

Royal Jewelry Co.

1151 Broadway

"Don't Drive A Shabby Car"

THE POST EXCHANGE

Fort Benning is our agent.

depends upon mechanical perfection in repair work. We have a staff of expert mechanics and a fully equipped shop.

AUTO DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE Fort Benning, Ga.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service.

:-: Town Topics :-:

Last week we commented upon the valor of National Guard officers in routing a pole-cat. Further investigation resulted in the discovery that the aforementioned mephitine musteloid is an inhabitant of Block 21. Lieut. Dowdall, an authority on the subject, admits a slight though unsavoury acquaintance with the animal.

Several times in the past few months the pole-cat has been in the vicinity of the Biglerville mess, how ering outside or under the building, but never had inspected the inside until last week.

> Dependable Electric and Gas Service

Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

Had the pole-cat not been endowed with a friendly spirit, the officers that dine in the Biglerville mess would even now be camping out on the lawn for their three squares a day.

It has oft been suggested to this columnist that he devote at least half his available space to pure scandal, written in the form of a questionnaire. Also that he limit his observations to the younger social circle, inasmuch as The Flare capably handles the problems of the senior society.

It's funny about people. They like to hear scandal about others but resent being implicated themselves. For the benefit of the latter, we recall the old Flare excuse: "Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

Such questions as these two, for example, might be considered appropri-

Q. What charming Columbus blond

Q. What Columbus girl has waxed yrical about a certain Fort Benning lad, and what have Vicks Cough Drops to do with the answer?

Newest addition to the Griswold family is an experimental Austin truck-pride and joy of the major's Upon this insignificant existence. little vehicle, Major Griswold lavishes the greatest affection. And, therefore those of us who have been privileged to see with our own eyes the major fondling and caressing it lovingly will have no difficulty in understand ing the deep, stirring emotion that the following incident aroused.

On the occasion of the overnight maneuvre last Friday night, Major Griswold magnaminously consented to allow Lieut. Colonel Rice the use of his pet, cautiously extracting a promise beforehand, however, that the Colonel bestow on the car every possible care and consideration.

The first few hours and all went well, then something happened. Alas, constantly refers to 2nd Lieut. Hugh the Austin stubbornly refused to func-Carey of the 29th foot as "her little tion. Back to Major Griswold went honey, her little pet," and why? the car, accompanied by this brief, soul-deadening message "Here is your road-louse. A squirrel bit it."

Social activities on the post, practically at a standstill now, will take up again in a swirl of teas, luncheons, supper parties, and dances after the armistice is declared. A glance at the Officers' Club social calendar confirms the opinion of this columnist that the officers in the field will probably get less sleep after the maneuvres than they are getting at present.

As conductor of this column, we have been asked by some of our readers to answer certain questions, and we are taking this opportunity to save a little stationery in doing so.

First, one shy little lady wished to know if we were intrigued by anyone. We must truthfully state, in answer to her query, that we are, as yet, intrigued by no one, but admit that we are intriguing to such a degree that we do have difficulty at times in avoiding the attentions showered on us by the members of the fair sex.

Again, another fan wishes to know whether or not we have a hobby. And in answer, we must admit that the answer's yes-and the hobby's practical joking. Our excellence in the field is, to our own way of thinking. not to be surpassed by any practical jokester existing. Many are the prank perpetrated upon unsuspecting fellow humans through our agency, but, h far the most amusing joke of our career was that played upon our parents in choosing them as such. Our mo to is, "Live and don't let live", and we are firm in the belief that we have abided faithfully by it during our period on earth.

Maxwell Optical Co. I. A. MAXWELL

Optometrist and Optician

A COMPLETE OPTICAL SERVICE

1217 Broadway

n the Job every minute

they've just got to be right with tweezers each torn or imperfect cigarette.

Each and every Chesterfield

Each tray of CHESTERFIELDS from the cigarette-making machines passes under the watchful eyes of inspectors, trained by long practice to see flaws such as an end of torn paper, or a poorly filled cigarette.

And there's still another safeguard ... two "electric detectives" on each packaging machine. Electric fingers "feel" each end of every cigarette, and throw out every imperfect package.

Open your pack of Chesterfields, and look at them. It's no accident that every eigarette is round, firm and full. Somebody's been on the job every minute to give you what you want . . . a cigarette that's made right in every way and that's milder and tastes better.

VOLUME III

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, MAY 5, 1933

NUMBER 2

MOON TOPICS

When we obtained our first copy of last week's issue of the Benning Herald, we were amazed and indignant to discover that someone had made an impromptu addition to our column. The item in question, purportedly written by us, was innocuous enough, but there is still a certain objection to it, in that it was pointless, childish, and entirely out-of-place. Obviously, it was the offspring of a warped sense of humor, the last few dregs of some sluggish mental process, understandchild or an idiot.

We have always had a sneaking At any rate, the crude perpetration afforded us an excellent opportunity to sharpen our faculties for making deductions and thus to learn the identity committed the indiscretion. In this we succeeded; we refuse, however, to disclose the names of those involved. Probably they are childishly looking forward to getting a little publicity on the matter. If so, they are doomed to be weefully disappointed.

Cam Sweeney, debonair poloist, now comprehends the awful agony of intense embarrassment. After the conclusion of the polo games last Sunday, he and Steve Stephenson decided to quench their thirst at the soda fountain of the Officers' Club. Now, in the course of the game, Lieutenant Sweeney had succeeded in making a very conspicuous rip in the back of his riding trousers. Cam was blissfully unaware of this outstanding defect in his otherwise faultless attire, or he would certainly have hesitated before frequenting a public place.

The two men walked nonchalantly into the Officers' Club encountering a group of friends. Now a rip in the trousers is like bad breath; even your the evidences of suppressed mirth in in Belgrade about June 6. the people around him.

covery. But the worse was yet to come, for someone noticed that his trousers leg was also ripped in the front, disclosing to the avid public gaze a generous portion of gorgeous pink shorts. Lieutenant Sweeney must have felt like Gunga Din in Kipling's immortal poem:

"The uniform 'e wore

Was nothing much before

And little less than 'arf of that'be'ind." Fortunately some considerate person came to the aid of the distressed officer by handing him a towel which Lieutenant Sweeney hurriedly girded about his lions. The towel served its purpose nobly, but the pink shorts the blushing Lieutenant left the build-

Names Submitted For Committee of Dramatic Club

The nominating committee, composed of Colonel Fred L. Munson, Major Allen F. Kingman, Captain W. C. Phillips, Mrs. Andrew D. Chaffin, and Mrs. Clayton L. Studebaker, has nominated the following officers and ladies for next year's executive committee for the Dramatic Club:

Lt. Colonel E. F. Rice Mrs. H. A. Wadsworth Major T. B. Catron Captain H. J. Golightly Lieutenant F. H. Lanahan

Under the present constitution, the entire affairs of the Dramatic Club able only if the process had taken are in the hands of an executive complace in the brain of a ten year-old mittee of five members, elected at the annual meeting of the club. The meeting, at which the above names and any others that may be proposed opinion that we were preeminently will be formally voted on, will be qualified for a detective. Who doesn't? held sometime during the coming

Col. Whitlev Leaves of the person or persons who had During Past Week For Foreign Post

Lieutenant Colonel F. Langley Whitley, 24th Infantry, departed from Fort Benning on Tuesday for Washington, D. C., where he will be on temporary duty for about ten days in the office of the assistant chief of staff for military intelligence, prior to his embarking for Europe to become military attache to Jugo Slavia, Roumania, and Greece.

Colonel Whitley will be stationed at Belgrade, Jugoslavia, and will also assist the American ministers at Athens. Greece, and Bucharest, Roumania. He will alternate his residence in the three capitals, and will spend about six months of each year at his station in Belgrade, and about three months each at Bucharest and Athens.

Colonel Whitley is scheduled to sail from New York on May 17, on the President Harding, arriving in Hamburg on May 26. He plans to make a motor tour of Germany, accompanied by his family, and to arrive in Vienna about June 2. A portion of best friends won't tell you. But a his journey through Austria and Hunperson's best friends can't always regary will be made by steamer on frain from laughter, and Lieutenant the River Danube, and, according to Sweeney was disconcerted to see all his present itinerary he will arrive suddenly he became acutely con- Whitley is the second which he has The remainder of scious that there was something about filled in a similar capacity as mili- conditioning camp are being held in him that apparently was not all it tary attache. From 1921 to 1924 he should be. A lightning-like investi-gation resulted in the inevitable dis-Brazil and while on that duty he processing which precedes their asexplored the Amazon region in Brazil signments to the fifty numbered comand traveled extensively over South America.

Colonel Whitley came to Fort Benning in July, 1932, shortly after his graduation from a two-year course at the Command and General Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and was assigned to the 24th Infantry. In October 1932 he was enrolled as a student in the refresher course, and upon his graduation returned to his regimental duties.

During the World War Colonel Whitley served overseas in command of a battalion of the 9th Infantry, 2d Division, and later on General Pershwere still very much in evidence when ing's staff. He received the Silver Star for conspicuous bravery in the to subsist the civilian recruits at the been furnished railroad transportation Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass.; Albert battle of Belleau Wood.

Corps Area Commander

Major General Edward L. King, Commanding Officer, Fourth Corps Area, who arrived at Fort Benning yesterday afternoon while on his way to Florida. General King was detained at Fort Benning for a short while by bad weather and made a brief inspection tour of the Post. He returned to Fort McPherson yesterday evening.

Over 400 Men Of C. C. C. Alreadv Here For Preliminary Conditioning

Organization of Company No. 1401, ning conditioning camp, and organiza-Walter A. Bigby, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks) has been placed in charge

The remainder of the men at the he reception company, and are being panies which eventually will be organized at Fort Benning from the approximately 10,000 civilians who will be recruited for the Conservation Corps.

Among the specialized courses of training which are being given to selected men at the Fort Benning camp is a school for cooks, which has been organized under the direction of Lieutenant William E. McKinnon, assistant commandant of the School for Bakers and Cooks. These men will be given a complete course of instruction, both theoretical and practical, covering the use of the regular army garrison ration, which is being used

Another group of specialists is be and been received at the Fort Ben- in trained in first aid work, under Benning. At noon Tuesday 440 men the direction of Major Homer L. mand, has been completed at Fort Connor, medical inspector at Fort Captain Edward J. Renth in com- Benning. Two men from each com-Civilian Conservation Corps, with pany will be given a thorough course of instruction in emergency treatment tion of Company 1402 has been un for injuries which might befall the dertaken, with eighty men assigned men in their labors in the forestation to the new organization. Captain groups, and a study of camp sanitation is also included in the instruction. Lieutenant Charles T. Ward, Medical Reserve, is assisting Major Connor in directing the instruction of these men. Five reserve officers, four of whom are Georgia men, reported with the camp on Monday. They are: Captain Tracy E. Davis, Infantry Reserve, Columbus, Ga.; 1st Lieutenant Frank G. Marshall, Coast Artillery Reserve, Atlanta, Ga.; 2d Lieutenant Cecil W. Sherlock, Cavalry Gatewood R. Bridges, Infantry Reserve, Leary, Ga.; and 1st Lieutenant Willam H. Francis, Field Artillery Reserve, Auburn, Ala.

All men who are accepted for enrollment after passing physical examinations, are sworn into the Civili an Conservation Corps, within twenty-four hours after their arrival

(Please turn to page 7)

OFFICER ASSIGNMENTS

Announcement that Lieutenant Augustus J. Regnier, and Robert N. Young, students in the Company Officers' course, have been assigned as students in the 1933-34 course at the Signal School, Fort Monmouth, N. J was received in a radio message from the chief of infantry on Friday. Other prospective assignments announced in the same message include Lieutenant Ovid C. Wilson, instructor academic department to the Cavalry School, Fort Riley, and Lieutenant Robert A. Murphy, a student in the company officers' course to the Field Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla.

Other War Department orders announce the assignment of several officers which will become effective in he near future. Major Paul W. Beade, now on duty at the United States Military Academy, West Point, N. Y., will be assigned to the 29th Infantry, effective about Auust 20.

Major Kramer Thomas, Cavalry, now an instructor at the Cavalry School, Fort Riley, Kansas, will be assigned as an instructor at the Infantry School effective about August 10. Lieutenant Louis W. Haskell, William H. Hall, and George E. Lynch, all of the 83rd Field Artillery, will be assigned as students in the 1933-34 battery officers' course at the Field Artillery School effective about Sept.

Orders which previously assigned Lieutenant Roland McNamee, and James O. Wade, students in the compan officers' course, to the 2d Tank Company, Miller Field, N. Y., have been amended so as to assign them to the 1st Tank Company at the same

Captain William T. Brock, who came to Fort Benning in December, 1929, and who served as assistant quartermaster until recently, has been retired from active service, on account of physical disability. The retirement will become effective on April 30, at which time Captain Brock will be advanced to the rank of Major on he retired list.

APRIL 29

Lieutenants Joseph P. Cleland, Clyde D. Eddleman, Francis E. Gillette, James E. Purcell, John A. Stewart, Jesse T. Traywick, and Felix A. Todd, jr., are assigned to the 29th Infantry Fort Benning.

Lieutenant James R. Davidson, James E. Poore, jr., Albert T. Dickerson, and Albert N. Hickey, are assigned to the 24th Infantry, Fort Ben-

Lieutenant William S. Triplett, is assigned to the 67th Infantry (medium Tanks) Fort Benning.

Other ments are as follows: Lieutenants Paul Cooper to Infantry 3rd Division, Fort Lewis Wash.; Louis Q. McComas and Lawton Butler to 4th Infantry, Fort George Wright, Wash.; George L. Dewey, John W. Evans, John W. Ramsey, Reserve, Augusta, Ga.; 1st Lieutenant jr., and Carl S. Graybeal to 2d Division, Fort Houston, Texas.

Robert C. Andrews, Phillip N. Kernan, Robert B. McCleave, Murray E. McGowan, Virgil R. Miller, C. Elford Smith, and William J. Phelan, to 2d Division Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyoming; Richard L. Baughman to 12th Infantry, Fort Jay New York; Elvin S. Burger to 11th Inat Fort Benning. Only six men, so fantry, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Ind.; far, have been rejected on account Marcelle C. Crombez, Jesse F. Bressof physical defects, and these have ler and Ridgely Gaither, jr., to 13th

(Please turn to page 2)

OFFICERS ASSIGNMENTS (Continued From Page 1)

J. Dombrowski to 13th Infantry, Fort Adams, Mass.; Silas W. Hosea, Harry K. McKinney, and Antulio Segarra 10th Infantry, Fort Wadsworth, Y.; Daniel W. Hundley to 6th Infantry, Jefferson Barracks, Mo.; William H. Long, to 17th Infantry, Fort Crook, Neb.; George A. Millener and Robert C. Turner to the 20th Infantry, Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y.; Nicholas J. Robinson to the 29th Infantry Fort Ontario, N. Y.; William G. Stephenson to the 18th Infantry, Fort Hamilton, N. Y.; Charles S. Ewing to 10th Infantry, Fort Thomas, Ky.; Henry L. Flood and James N. Gavin to 38th Infantry Fort Sill, Okla. Ernest B. Gray to 38th Infantry, Fort Douglas, Utah; William D. Ginder and Walter N. Johnson to 4th Infantry Fort Missoula, Mont.; Carl E. Lundquist, Edgar D. Stark to 2d Infantry, Fort Brady, Mich.; James W. Smyly, jr.; Harry W. Halterman to 5th Infantry Fort William, Me.; Vachel D. Whatley, jr., to 22d Infan try, Fort Oglethorpe, Ga.; Ralph W. Wicker to 3rd Infantry Fort Snelling

Major William S. Eley, student in the advanced course, is assigned to the infantry, Panama Canal Depart-

Lieutenant George H. McManus, is relieved from the 3rd Field Artillery, Fort Denning, and assigned to the Signal School, Fort Monmouth, $\mathbf{PEP}\dots$ in every step

> Use (-H00D-)

Heels and Soles

Hood Rubber Products Co., Inc. Watertown, Mass.

> KENNY'S NORWOOD COFFEE

is sold at Fort Benning

through the

Post Exchange

TRY A POUND YOU WILL BE PLEASED

HENRY GRADY HOTEL

PEACHTREE AT CAIN

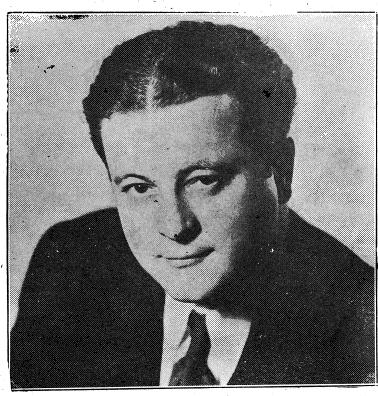

Atlanta, Ga.

550 rooms of comfort and convenience. Each room has ceiling fan, circulating ice water, radio and either shower or tub bath; corner rooms have both. Open Dining Terrace and Coffee Shop.

Rooms from $2

J. F. de Jarnette Vice-Pres. & Mgr.

Coming To Benning

Gene Austin, noted tenor, who will appear at the Main Theatre on May 7th in the show "Broadway Rhapsody". A large and unusually talented supporting cast will appear in the same show with Mr. Austin.

N. J. as a student in the 1933-34

Lieutenants Theodore L. Dunn and Ralph E. Tibbets, students in the tank course to duty with the 66th Infantry (Light Tanks) upon completion of their present school terms Lieutenant Dunn will be stationed with the 2d Battalion 66th Infantry at Fort Benning and Lieutenant Tibbetts will be stationed with the same regiment at Fort George G. Meade, Lieutenants Andrew L. Gamble, Brendan M. Greeley, and Charles H. Treat, students in the company officers' course, will be assigned to the 65th Infantry at San Juan, Puerta Rico, upon the conclusion of their present course of instruction.

Lieutenant James I. Barnay, jr., Field Artillery, now on duty at Pur-due University, Lafayette, Indiana, has been assigned to the 83rd Field Artillery at Fort Benning, and will report at that station on or about May 12.

Lieutenant Robert H. Chard, student in the company officers' course, will be assigned to the Panama Canal Department, effective at the close of the Infantry School term. May 3

Majors Dana H. Allen and Frederick W. Huntington, students in the advanced course, will be assigned to the Philippine Department, as will Lieutenants Edward C. McDaniel, Howard K. Vail, and Carl B. Herndon, students in the company officers'

Major Walter R. McClure, advanced class, will be assigned to Headquarters 5th Corps, Fort Hayes, Ohio, Major John S. Switzer, jr., advanced class, to the 6th Corps Area, Detroit, Mich.; and Captain Hiram G. Fry, advanced class to the 5th Corps Area, Lexington, Ky. May 4

L. Harries, and Orryl S. Robles will Captain Charles R. McNair will go to be assigned to the 24th Infantry at Fort Benning.

Captains Don C. Faith and Walter P. O'Brien will be assigned to the 29th Infantry at Fort Benning.

Maxwell Optical Co.

I. A. MAXWELL Optometrist and Optician

A COMPLETE OPTICAL SERVICE

Phone 3718

1217 Broadway

Captains Samuel N. Brabson, Robert H. Chance, Hugh McC. Evans, Fred E. Gaillard, John J. Harvey, Edar H. Keltner, Ronald L. Ring and lst Lieutenant Wilbur E. Dunkleburg will go to the Second Division, Fort Sam Houston, Texas.

Lieutenant Ross C. Brackney will join the infantry at Fort Francis E. Warren, Wyoming; Captain Emons B. Whisner will go to the 7th Infantry, Vancouver Barracks, Washington; Captain Glenn H. Anderson will be assined to the 2nd Infantry, Fort Brady, Michigan; Captains Harry B. Ayers, Bovey N. Hall and Campbell N. Jackson will join the 5th Infantry, Fort Williams, Maine.

Captains Eugene V. Behan and Jesse P. Green will be assigned to Capain Charles H. Owens, Lieutenants Charley P. Eastburn and Herman W. Ohme to Philippine Depart-

Lieutenants Paul R. Freeman and Joseph A. McNerney to China. the 26th Infantry, Plattsburg Barracks, New York. Captains Leslie W. Brown and Harlan S. Seeley will go to the 12th Infantry, Fort Washington, Maryland; Captain Cecil J. Gridley and William D. Brown to the 6th Infantry, Jefferson Barracks, Mis-

Captains Charles F. F. Cooper and Thomas E. May will join the 28th Infantry, Fort Niagara, New York; Captains Caspar R. Crim and John F. Hanley will go to the 13th Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass.; and Captains Orion L. Davidson and Harry G. Rennagel will go to the 22d Infantry, Fort Oglethorpe, Georgia.

Captain William J. Fox will be assigned to the 2nd Infantry, Fort Sheridan, Illinois; Captains James A. Gilruth, Charles R. Sargent, William A. Smith and Glenn P. Strock to the 16th Infantry, Fort Jay, New York.

Captains John P. Gleaves and Arnold M. Siler will go to the 16th In-Captains George O. Clark, Herbert fantry, Fort Wadsworth, New York; the 12th Infantry, Fort Howard, Maryland; Captains Herman H. Meyer and Loren A. Wetherby to the 34th Infantry, Fort George Meade, Maryland and Captain Allender Swift to the 38th Infantry, Fort Douglas, Utah.

Captain Bert S. Wampler will go to the 28th Infantry, Fort Hayes, Ohio.

Lieutenant Jesse L. Gibney will be assigned to 34th Infantry, Fort George C. Meade, Maryland; Lieutenant Frederick L. Knudsen, Jr., to the 4th Infantry, Fort Missoula, Montana; Charlie Q. Lifsey to the 8th Infantry, Fort Screven, Georgia; Lieutenant Cleon L. Williams to the 17th Infantry, Fort Crook, Nebraska; Lieutenant Walter C. Sweeney, Jr., to the 22nd Infantry, Fort McPherson, Georgia.

Orders have been issued announcing the assignment of students of the Tank Course as follows: Captains Richard F. Fairchild and LeRoy W. Nichols to the 66th Infantry, Fort Captain Francis N. Flanagan, 65th Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass.; Captain LeRoy R. McGraw 5th Tank Company, Jefferson Barracks, Missouri and Captain Timothy Pedley, Jr., to 66th Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass.

Lieutenants Carl K. Anderson and Jerome D. Cambre and Fay Smith to the 3d Tank Company, Fort Lewis, Washington.

Lieutenant Claude A. Black to 4th Tank Company, Fort McClellan, Ala.; Lieutenant Theodore L. Dunn to 66th Infantry, Ft. George G. Meade, Maryland; Lieutenant Riley F. Ennis, 66th Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass.

Lieutenant Frederick W. Hein 66th Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass.; Lieutenant Thomas H. James, 66th Infantry, Fort George C. Meade, Maryland; Lieutenant Roland W. McNamee, 2nd Tank Company, Miller Field, New York; Lieutenants Armistead D. Mead, Jr., and William L. Mitchell to 66th Infantry, Fort George C. Meade, Maryland; Lieutenant William J. Moroney to 5th Tank Company, Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana; Lieutenant Richard G. Prather to 66th Infantry, Fort George G. Meade, Maryland.

Lieutenants Frank J. Spettel and Louis J. Storck to 66th Infantry, Fort Devens, Mass.; Lieutenant Fabius N. Smyth to 6th Tank Company, Fort Snelling, Minnesota; Lieutenant James O. Wade to 2nd Tank Company, Miller Field, New York; Lieutenant John M. Walker to 4th Tank Company, Fort McClellan, Alabama and Lieutenant Jack H. Griffith to 2nd Tank Company, Fort Sam Houston, Doubt is an easier guest to entertain in one's bosom than worry.

In a one-horse town some local magnate is sure to own the horse.

HALF SOLES A BETTER A GOOD 50c · Half Half , Sole

LAMAC SOLE $1.00 The Only 5-Unit Machine In Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY We specialize in cripple work

Phone 565 1234 Broadway

WE MAKE RUBBER STAMPS One Day Delivery COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

PEKOR

JEWELRY CO.

1221 Broadway

STERLING

SILVER PLATE

SPECIALS

STERLING GOBLETS Set of Six.....$21.00 STERLING CANDLE-

STICKS 9 1-2 inches, pr. $5.00

STERLING BREADand-BUTTER PLATES 6 inch $2.39

26 PIECES COMMU-NITY 50-YR. PLATE $28.75 Values . $19.75

39-PC. CHINA, to match Community Service for Six..$25.00

18-INCH TUDOR PLATE (35 year) Well and Tree...$8.75

COVERED VEGETA-BLE DISH

35 Year Plate by Community ...$7.95

18-INCH MEAT PLATTER 35 year Plate by Community . . $7.50

WATER PITCHER Community 50-year Plate$11.95

1221 BROADWAY

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

1102 Broadway

Phone 3914

BOOK REVIEW

"Henry of Navarre." Henry Dwight Sedgwick. Bobbs-Merrill. 1930. Reviewed by Mrs. W. R. Watson "Henry of Navarre" is an entertaining and stimulating biography thoughtfully written.

The author in his preface says, "Most people think of Henry IV as the hero of Ivry with panache blanc blazing amidst the thickest carnage ... or as the lawgiver of the Edict of Nantes, or as the Vert Galant sporting with the Charmante Gabriella. In deference to these romantical. Protestantish or sexually minded possible readers, I have concentrated my attention upon such conceptions, and left out of the background all I could of what is usually called history-those national, ethical and intellectual changes summed up under the title Reformation."

And by following carefully the task which he set for himself, Sedgwick has omitted all tiresome explanations, and has boldly drawn Henry-one of the most interesting figures in history or fiction, a hero who combines the high quality of soldier, leader, statesman, and administrator with a personal charm and a friendly man-

It is as statesman that Henry is most important. Against the background of the reformation-Elizabeth and Essex and the Spanish Armada-France under Henry emerges for the first time as a united state and a world power. Henry's love for France is the outstanding passion of his life—far above religion which he could and did change easily—far above women there were so many that Henry VIII looks like a hope less amateur beside our Henry of Navarre. His great design was to league the Protestant powers against the Catholic—not for religious sons particularly, Henry and Montaigne were the only truly tolerant people in France-but to preserve the balance of power against Spain, the same balance of power that has been at the root of all European trouble ever since. He looked forward to a league of nations, and had definite plans for one.

The statesman in Henry, however, is never allowed to dominate the book long enough to make it boring. His personal life played such an important part in his national conduct that full details of it are essential for any estimate of the man. Fortunately his letters are wise and witty, and the episodes are dramatic and human, ironic and appealing. Corisande, feeling Henry's lack of interest and fidelity, writes bitter little notes on Henry's love letters; Queen Margot finds an affinity on her brother's court, and the ignorant Henry boasts that he is to have a son; Charmante Gabrielle, on the eve of becoming Queen of France, dies in horrible agony; Two nuns fallen from grace because of the King, later become Abbesses; Henry becomes embroiled in a war with Austria because that power will not return to him another man's wife. Henry's mistresses are not the only vivid characters in the pageant. Catherine de Medici, the Duc de Guise, Henry III, deColigny, Du-Plessis Mornay and d'Aubigne all have their moments of power and their tragedies.

Henry is always the dominant figenergetic, vigorous, tolerant, dashing. He was friendly and lenient when it suited him to be. He masqueraded like the Caliph of Bagdad, and was heartily amused when one of his subjects, all unknowing, berated the king's expensive lady to his face. With all his surface brilliance and charm, however Henry was taught in a generation of murderers and assassins. He was so shrewd, so discreet, so schooled in keeping his own counsel, that, at the end of a biography written years later, the reader knows of Henry only what he has allowed to be known.

And Mr. Sedgwick has not insisted on any interpretation. He has not debunked or psychoanalysed. That fact is the main excellence of a biography deft and graphic.

New Navy Chief

ice-Admiral William H. Standley who has been appointed new Chief of Naval Operations, the Navy's highest command, to succeed Adhighest command, to succeed Admiral William Pratt, who reached the retirement age on March 1.

THINGS CHINESE

From "The Sentinel"

The Chinese recognize six arts: Ceremonial, Music, Archery, Charioteering, Writing and Mathematics. This seems to leave no place for painting and sculpture. They are included however in the term, Shu, translated "Writing." The ideograph is composed of two symbols, that for pencil and that for "speak." The symbol for pencil was originally in the form meaning stylus. The word, Shu, therefore means stylus (or pencil) speaking. Such speaking might be done either by words or by pictures. But all written words China were at first pictures of the object named, or the act performed, and the Chinese written characters used today are all derived from pic-

The oldest art objects found in China at the present time are vessels ings of the marvels of Heaven and of bronze used in religious worship, vases and wine cups upon which one finds the ancient pictographs that drous things. were a part of the written language in that faraway period. They are found stamped on the vessels to indicate their ownership and use. Some of them are no longer understood. Some are no doubt private marks. Among these pictographs are drawings of a spear, a sheaf of arrows, a boat, a bow and halberd. All these archaic symbols approach the shape of things designated much more closely than the modern conventional forms of characters do.

The written characters on these ancient vessels are entirely distinct from the themes used for decoration. The outer surface of each vase is covered with scroll work, lozenges, heart-shaped and dagger-shaped motifs, animal heads and grotesque faces. Even at that early date, the Chinese showed a fondness for the grotesque and that trait still exists. The most common theme for decoration during the Shang and Chou peroids, were the "Thunder Scroll" and the T'ao T'ieh for "Ogre Head." In this last some have noticed a resemblance to the face on the totem poles along our Pacific Coast. Some people are of the opinion that these forms originated in the south Pacific and were later introduced into China and Alaska, but later developments seem to indicate northern or central Asia as the most likely place of their

Although the written characters on the ancient vessels were not meant

Columbus Office Supply Co.

24 Hr. Service

RUBBER STAMPS

Phone 556

for decorations, Chinese writing lends itself to ornamental uses. One cannot enter a home of a Chinese gentleman without finding some highly prized specimen of calligraphy hanging on the wall of the reception hall. It may be a single character expressing the good wishes of a friend, or it may be a pair of scrolls on which is written in well balanced sentences a friendly appreciation of the householder's virtues. Such an autograph of some distinguished poet, painter or statesman is a precious leacy to be transmitted to one's heirs.

Among the single characters used today are those for the five sources of happiness: Domestic Joy, Official Position, Long Life, Wealth and Pleasure. These are often represented by rebuses, the word, Fu, for domestic happiness, is the same word that is used for bat, so therefore the picture of a bat is used in the place of the character in many cases. A mandarin in his robes represents Lu. Official Position, the word Shou for Long Life is represented by an old man with a staff, but the character itself has 360 forms and is very ornamental. The smiling and corpulent god of wealth speaks for himself and Pleasure is represented by a character that doubled is often used on wedding presents. Symbolism appears to be a characteristic of all primitive

Something about the use of colors in the painting. Dyeing and painting in the five colors was done in the twenty-third century B. C. The Sumptuary laws forbade certain color dyes to be used for any other than the kings' robes, and it was a grave offense for a man to paint the pillars of his house red instead of black. One of the earliest references to painting is made in the account of the visit of Confucius to the royal capital during the Chou Dynasty. There he saw the portraits of the leading men of the day, and it was said that the temples of the King of Ch'u were filled with the paint Earth, Gods and Spirits of the hills and streams Ancient Sages and won-

Finest Imported Linens

SPORT SUITS FLANNELS DOBBS' HATS

BOY'S SHOP

2ND FLOOR

Hofflin & Greentree

COLUMBUS' LEADING CLOTHIERS

We have an experienced Graduate Masseur or Masseuse whom we send to Fort Benning each Monday, Wednesday and Friday who can conveniently give Swedish Massages and Mineral Baths in your home. Reasonable Rates. We have many luxurious and beneficial Treatments for Health, Beauty and Happiness.

Treatments conveniently given at home include Swedish Shampoo, Turkish Shampoo, Oxygen, Sulphur, Nauheim, Oil of Eucalyptus, Saline Baths, Salt Glow, etc.

Office hours 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.--Evenings by appointment

Cabinet Baths

Swedish Facial and Scaln Mineral

Physio Therapy Hydro

SPECIAL REDUCING TREATMENTS

RIGDON HEALTH INSTITUTE

216 Doctors Building

Phone 1037

Use our convenient monthly payment plan. No extra charge.

Before You Leave Benning . . .

IGNITION COOLING BRAKES

Ray-Bestos Lining RE-BORING

(New-latest equipment)

you Student Officers, and instructors, too . don't forget that you'll make your trip much easier and safer and much more economical if you bring your car here for a final inspection and repair work.

Dependable Service is the real economy in car operation and you'll save money in the long run by having our experts put your automobile in firstclass mechanical condition before you start.

Ask any Studebaker, Rockne or Pierce Arrow

Every Job Guaranteed In Writing

Columbus Roberts Motor Co.

510-12-14 - 12TH STREET

STUDEBAKER

ROCKNE

PHONE 271

WHITE-INDIANA TRUCKS and BUSES

PIERCE-ARROW

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS IN

Marriage Of Miss Carol Crouch To Lieut. H. W. Gould Announced Last Sunday

Of widespread interest is the an 24TH INFANTRY LADIES BRIDGE nouncement of the marriage Sunday evening of Miss Carol Crouch, daughter of Mr. A. S. Crouch of Houston, Texas, to Lieut. Harold Wilbert Gould. The couple motored to Seale, Alabama, Sunday evening where the wedding ceremony was performed. Mrs. Gould attended college at the Florida ters won first prize with Mrs. Landon State College for Women and upon J. Lockett winning second prize. her graduation has been connected with the Station Hospital as chief dietician. Lieut. Gould is the son of Mrs. A. W. Gould of Ellsworth, Maine. He is a graduate of the United States Military Academy of the class of 1919, and has been stationed with the 29th Infantry since 1931. Lieut. and Mrs. Gould will be at home after May 15.

JEAN'S BEAUTY SHOPPE

In New Location 1209½ Broadway (Over Alsobrooks).

Phone 9424

"Where prices and quality satisfy"

WE DON'T SELL AUTOMOBILES

But we do sell just about everything elsefrom door-bells to goldfish. There are many things here that you may need, and you'd better stock up now, while the opportunity is here.

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST. CUARANTEED SATISFACTION CLUB ASSEMBLES.

Mrs. George C. Mergens was the hostess Tuesday afternoon at her quarters on Lumpkin Road to the ladies of the 24th Infantry Bridge Club. Four tables assembled at two o'clock and at four-thirty a refreshing tea was served. Mrs. Clinton E. Fen-

MEDICAL CORPS LADIES BRIDGE CLUB MEETS.

The monthly meeting of the ladies bridge club ofthe Medical Corps was held Tuesday afternoon at the Nurses' Quarters. Four tables of contract bridge assembled at two o'clock and played until four-thirty. The card and dining rooms were decorated with mountain laurel, zinnias and other Spring flowers. During the afternoon a refreshing salad course was served.

LADIES BRIDGE TOURNAMENT HELD TUESDAY EVENING AT OFFICERS' CLUB.

Of outstanding interest to all bridge players of Fort Benning this week vas the ladies bridge tournament held Tuesday evening at the Officers' Club for the ladies of the garrison. Seven tables assembled for bridge. Those playing were: Mesdames Robert B. Cole, Joseph A. Atkins, Guy W. Hartnan, Lynn E. Brady, William C. Lucas. William A. D. Thomas, George P. Howell, James E. Bowen, Roger B. Harrison, Omar N. Bradley, Emil W. Leard, Lloyd W. Cook, Allen F. Kingman, Joseph A. Stuart, Frederick H. Gaston, Arthur L. Luse, Orestes Cleveland, Clayton H. Studebaker, Edward C. Johnson, Harlan C. Griswold, Dwight W. Rosebaum, William C. Jarvis, Guy W. McKinley, Clinton E. Fenters, Hugh McC. Evans, Raymond W. Pearson, Andrew J. Evans, and Oscar J. Neundorfer. Four high prizes were awarded for the two high East-West and the two high North-South players. Winning the honors for North-South were Mrs. Harrison and Mrs. Bradley, while winning East-West were Mrs. Bowen and Mrs. Howell. Those in charge of the tournament were Mrs. John L. Jenkins, Mrs. Henry J. Matchett and Capt. Raymond E. Vermette.

BENNING BACHELORS TO HOLD MONTHLY DANCE SATURDAY.

The Fort Benning Bachelors have made plans for their monthly dance to be held on Saturday evening from nine to twelve at the Polo-Hunt Club. The Club will be decorated with pine boughs and mountain laurel for the occasion. The committee in charge of the affair will consist of Lieut Robert A. Ports and Lieut. James J. Winn. Invitations for the dance have been extended to the young married

For Quality Cleaning and Dyeing

Phillips Dry Cleaning Co.

Telephone 301

Columbus, Ga.

2320 Wynnton Drive

May Specials

 Oil O' Castor Wave
 3.00

 Plain Steam Wave
 2.50

 Eugene Method
 5.00

 Shampoo and finger wave__ 50c

All work guaranteed

Mrs. R. G. Dietz, Prop— —Miss Dixie Louise Cross, Asst.

THE NEW BEAUTY SHOPPE

1106 1-2 BROADWAY PHONE 9286

Today's Fashion

A knitted ensemble in gray, with plaid collar and sleeves.

By VERA WINSTON

THE accompanying sketch speaks for itself as to the good looks of the knitted ensemble. The suit is of light weight zeyphyr in gray, for the skirt, the serape blouse and the jacket. The blouse has long sleeves. The smart little jacket is lined with th plaid zeyphyr that is useed to make the large collar and the striking threequarter sleeves. The skirt has the added virture of hanging perfectly.

contingent on the Post and in Columous, members of the debutante set, their guests and escorts. A number of dutch treat parties and other inormal affairs are being planned to precede the dance.

COLUMBUS COUNTRY CLUB TO HOLD BRIDGE TOURNEY.

The Columbus Country Club has made plans to hold another of its enjoyable bridge tourneys. Mr. Allen Woodall, who has been in charge of these affairs throughout the winter, has been largely responsible for enabling the bridge players from Fort Benning to compete with Columbus players. Friday's affair will assemble around eight tables. There will be first and second prizes awarded to couples playing East and West and North and South.

PERSONALS

Misses Margaret and Elizabeth Ports have as their house guest Miss Peggy Thurston of Miami, Florida.

Friends of Lieut. John A. Geary will regret to learn that he is a patient in the Station Hospital as the result of a broken ankle.

Mrs. Burrell Cole and Mrs. Eleanor Garrard of Columbus spent last weekend as the houseguest of Mrs. Joseph Friends of Lieutenant Richard T. Mitchell will regret to learn that he is a patient in the Station Hospital as the result of an operation.

ST. ELMO

is open for the month of May for 25c admission to grounds and house 9 A. M. to 6 P. M.

Girl Scout Notes

Cardinal Troop Tuesday, May 2

We are certainly excited over our overnight hike on Saturday. At the meeting today we received lists of the things to bring and to eat. Since everybody that is second or first class in the three troops are going, we are going to have quite a number. Something like five dozen, I think! And the food—oh it's going to be deli-cious! I'll tell you all about it next

Each Cardinal girl will have a buddy out of the same troop, and will choose a "little buddy" from one of the others to sleep outdoors with them. Those that aren't chosen must sleep on the porch. In this way the Cardinals become Junior Councillors.

Here's hoping it doesn't rain!

Pine Tree Troop

Wednesday, May 3

Today, some of use were busy finishing up our Second Class work, partly because we want to go on the long looked-forward-to overnight trip. We were also busy picking buddies and learning what to bring. This is part of the fun of such an expedition, anticipating it!

Those who are Tenderfoots, and didn't have this pleasure, put their heads together to plan a day-hike for next Wednesday, and none of the others may go!

"Make It Two"

They always say that when there's Foremost in sight! Why don't you make it two next time—and give your-self a real treat!

> Call the SODA FOUNT

FOREMOST DAIRIES INC.

Mother's Day MAY 14th

Remember her with flowers... they carry a true expression of your love.

Benning Boulevard Nurseries PHONE 4176

You'll Save Enough!

... IN DRESS BILLS, WITH THE PRO-TECTION A "LANE" GIVES YOU, TO PAY ITS COST!

Yes, moth time is here again. Aren't you sick of the usual weary rigmarole of "protection"—adopting doubtful helps, half precautions, hoping against hope that your precious fur and woolens will "come through all right?" If you are, then what you need is a "Lane" chest. Price

H. ROTHSCHILD

LEADING FURNITURE DEALER OF COLUMBUS FOR 39 YEARS

The Overnight Hike

assembled at the cabin twenty girls who had signed up for the Pioneer badge. The bedding rolls were piled high in one open truck and the Pioners-to-be in the other, all waiting to be off. We each had with us food we tied up our bedding rolls and be for three meals, so we fully expected gan getting breakfast. We had bacon twenty-four grand hours in the woods. pancakes with honey, and delicious (And we had them, too!)

The minute we reached the Quartermaster Camp, where we were to spend the night and most of the next

On Friday afternoon there was exciting afternoon, and how easy it was to go to sleep.

> The next thing we knew it was five o'clock in the morning, time to get up and wash. After some had washed in the spring and some in the creek. cocoa. I call that a pretty elegant breakfast for campers, but it was all done in pioneer fashion.

All morning long (it was a won-taken on the overnight trip of the girl scouts several days ago at the Quartermaster Camp day, we were off the truck and exploring right around the house.

We prepared our suppers as soon as we finished making our beds along the porch of the cabin. We had kabobs and Somores for dinner. In case this is all Greek to you, I will explain: Kabobs are delicious bunfulls of steak, onion, celery, and bacon, all previously cooked on a stick over the fire. You could eat six of those unless you wanted dessert, which was Somores. These are graham cracker sandwiches with chocolate and marshmallow insides . M-m-m-m.

The campfire that night was really bright and gay. We drew up logs and formed a semicircle around it. Then we began telling stories about the Pioneers and frontier days, and their adventures with Indians. Just as one girl came to a part in her story where some Indians were shooting dreadfully, something popped out of the fire and hit several people. This continued at intervals, and we soon found that it was bark flying off a certain kind of log we had put on the blaze From then on we were very careful and jumped away each time it happen

That popping was the most exciting part of the evening except the going to bed. We made more noise then than ever, so Mrs. Brown came around the porch at 10:30 and told us to be quiet and go to sleep. It was really surprising how tired we were after our rything for the GARDEN and LAWN; seeds, plants, tools, fer-

VALLEY SEED CO. 1041 Broadway

derfully long morning) we cleaned up the breakfast "dishes", prepared lunch, and, in between, lay on the beach and got sunburned. It was such a delightfully lazy morning.

Our lunch consisted of a stew that smelled and tasted better than any other I've seen, anywhere; and twists, made of biscuit dough wound on sticks and roasted in the fire. We filled them with jam and they melted n our mouths!

Right after lunch Capt. Hones came out to instruct us in our Pioneer Badge. We learned all about finding camp sites, camp cooking, and building fires, and more. A few more hikes and we'll pass.

The remainder of the time was pent in cleaning the place up and getting into the truck which had come out again for us. At about three thirty we reached home, healthily tired and dirty. The dirt we had on us was gloriously clean woodsy dirt, and it felt verygood, even tho we were glad to get home to take a bath.

We had such a wonderful time on that camping trip that I feel I have conveyed to you a very poor description of our fun and enjoyment, and that it would take a far greater or ator than Demosthenes or any of the other ancient orators to do it full

Right here and now, we wish to hank Mrs. Brown, first for all her houghtfulness and kindness that made it possible for us to have this good time. Next, Mrs. Wadsworth, without whom we couldn't have had near ly so much fun. Captain Hones comes next, for without him this Pioneer Badge trip would have been only a trip. And next comes the Quartermaster, whom we thank heartily for letting us use its wonderful camp. Now we thank them all together, for it was their combined efforts that did so much for we Pioneers-to-be.

EVERIDGE'S

THE BAKERY BEAUTIFUL

INVITES YOU

to visit us-and see for yourself just why Everidge's products are so tempting and delicious! Bread and cakes of every conceivable kind.

109 - 12TH STREET

REMEMBER . . .

Your Mother on Mother's Day We have a variety of gifts suitable for Mother on her day . . . when you're making out your drug-store-list, remember Harper's maintains a daily free delivery service for the convenience of its customers at Fort Benning.

PHAKMAC

1165 TALBOTTON ROAD

PHONE 396

:-: Children School News :-:

Buddy Grace Wins

Buddy Grace, 10 year-old champion from the fourth grade was the winner of the marble tournament held at the Children's School. Richard Johnson was runner-up with Arch Ar nold coming in third.

Buddy and Arch played in the Chatahoochee Valley finals. Arch was third place and Buddy was fourth Richard moved away from the Post before the finals took place, so Arch played instead.

Model of Dearborn Given

Mrs. H. N. Monroe has given a model of Fort Dearborn to the Children's School. She bought it while on a visit to Chicago.

The Fort is made of cardboard and it has the two walls around it. There is a small flag in the center with a tiny American flag on it. There is a well in one corner.

The fort was put in the library. The school appreciates it very much.

Cooking Classes Entertain

The cooking classes served a luncheon Friday, April 28.

The domestic science room was very attractive with vases of roses placed on the table and in other plac-The place cards, made by the girls, were pictures of the entrance to the school.

The guests were: Mrs. T. B. Catron, Mrs. H. J. Matchett, Mrs. Verona Evans, Major and Mrs. M. D. Welty, Mrs. N. D. Cota, Mrs. S. E. Brett, Miss Lillian Wells, Miss Annie Lou Grimes, Captain and Mrs. H. N. Mer-

-Shirley Rooks.

Orthophonic Given to School

The Fort Benning Children's School has a new victrola. It was given by the Army Daughters. It is used for marching and has made the marching improve greatly. The children like it very much.

-Virgil Hanson.

The Gardens

The children of the lower grades are planting gardens. Each grade from the fifth grade down has a garlen. In them they have radishes, ettuce, corn, lima beans, peas, and flowers.

The first grade children have a hart. On it they have the date when they planted things and when they came up.

-Ray Porter. Miss Kennon's Room Wins Prize

Miss Kennon's room won the P.-T. A. prize at the March meeting. They used the money to buy books for he room.

> -John Talbot. Magazines Given

Mrs. Catron has given the school several copies of "Child Life" and "St. Nicholas." The children appreciate the thoughtful gift. They enjoy using the magazines during their reading period.

> -Evelyn Chandler. Mrs. Thompson's Gift

Mrs. J. B. Thompson has given the chool some records to play on the orthophonic. We thank Mrs. Thompson for the records. We enjoy them. -Elwood Volland

The Extra Five Minutes

When the bell rings and the boys and girls of the fifth grade line up to march in, each one tries to march in best. If the boys march in best they get out five minutes earlier on Friday afternoon. But if the girls march in best they get the extra five minutes. Both the boys and girls want the five minutes.

-Catherine Justice. Baseball Game

The 5B's and 5A's are playing base ball this year. The girls and boys are going to have a game as soon as possible. They are practicing now.

The girls' line up is: Captain, Shirley Rooks; 1st base, Evelyn Renth; pitcher, Mary Jane Merrill; catcher, Betsy Ross; center field, Shirley Rooks; left field, Katherine Woods; right field, Marie Cody; 2nd base, Rae; shortstop, La Vernon Hutto; short stop, Eva Barksdale.

Every one is anxious to see who will win.

-Frances West.

Seventh and Eighth Grade Debate

Resolved: That girls are more useful around the house than are boys. The debators on the affirmative side were: Jerry Catron, Ann Kraft and Margie Heileman. Those on the negative side were: Wendell Bevin, Jack Cushman and Fred Ladd. Several mothers and fathers were there and Mrs. Munroe and Mrs. Huling judged the debate and announced the affirmative side as the

> -Peggy Arnold. Our Rodeo

We had been practicing for about month for the rodeo. One day the chief brought the bulletin and showed me where it said "An Annual Rodeo will be held at the Infantry School Stables on March 24, 1933 at 3:00 o'clock. It cost five cents for child ren and ten cents for grown people.

All that day we were excited about it, but at last the time came. There were only nine children when we got started, and we thought it was a "flop". Later when we counted the money, however, we had six dollars and ninety cents. We gave a dollar to the sergeant who helped us, and the rest to the school. Miss Grimes said we should vote what to do with the money and we decided to fix up a basket ball court on the big playground.

-Jimmie Ladd.

Too Much School

Too much school. Too much school, I would rather play hooky, And swim in a pool.

It is much more fun To talk to Ray, Than to sit in school And study all day.

–John Tal Summer and Winter in the Cou Summer in the country is very a for you,

The roses are red and the zinnias, You can go out and jump and and leap,

And go under a big tree and go sleep.

Sometimes we climb an apple t And get an apple as red as can At night we sleep on a feather l But not until our prayers are

In winter quite the other way, The snow is on the ground all o Sometime we can go out on the la And that is better than leaves to ra

Sometimes you can hear a bird in a tree,

SSinging a song for you and me. And soon the winter days are go And the birds come back to s their song.

> -Bernard Samps (Please turn to page 6)

WOLFSON CO.

939 Broadway

Wrapping Paper, Paper Bags, Towels, Napkins, Cups and Stationery.

PHONE 113

WHEN YOU EAT AT BENNING

YOU KNOW YOU ARE EATING U. S. GOVERNMENT INSPECTED MEATS

BUT WHEN IN THE CITY Do You Insist On This Protection?

RED ROSE Meats are U.S. Inspected

Demand them—Why take chances?

The Provision Co., Inc.

The Post Exchange

HAS A DELIVERY SERVICE FROM ITS

SODA FOUNTAIN

p. m., and it is designed particularly for the delivery of ice cream in quarts and smaller quantities to your home.

> Excellent Curb Service Also Phone 69

THE SODA FOUNTAIN

POST EXCHANGE

FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

THE BENNING HERALD

Published every Friday Phone 556

Columbus, Georgia

MAY 5, 1933 LUME III NUMBER 2 C. Kunze ---- Publisher Editor ELICIA C. HOWELL __.). P. HARDING __ Sports Editor Circulation Manager

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald erves the right to classify, edit, or reject anyadvertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

Lieutenant Peep's Diary

Blue this morning and unusual y in that it is by assignment and will out not only the day but the week. hinks I did detect a gleam of sfaction in the good wife's eve as handed me the day's lunch. A k's respite from sandwich making no doubt desirable above even a pping tour in Atlanta.

he main body to the business of ching on its objective after a norwait of a couple of hours but so leted was it by the detachment of ance, flank, rear, and train guards it did appear to consist of 3,200 oires, a rifle company and attached hine gun platoon.

he war considerably slowed up by n a k e fight along McMurrian's nch at the Yankee Road. Mimic does ever pale beside the genuine g and ours ran true to form. The snake, but for the fact that he several times held up by the oires' rulings, would have much ier finished off the moccasin. The bat finally over, the troops and pires turned reluctantly back to the inal business of the day. sday, April 25.

ne day most pleasantly spent in uac with the combat train in such nless pastimes as dulling my razor indulging in cribbage. The tranlity of the occasion interrupted by ed "armoured car" which flitted merrily popping off with a mae gun. No more damage done to cause one member of the guard to choke on his cheese wich in his fruitless speed after weapon.

ne commander of this car, one art, F. A., will resort to any subige, it seems, and gratitude is not is soul as the tale proves. The having, during the morning, kindling of all bridges enroute, Blue engineers were busily end in repairing them. The armorear full of Reds arrived at the ge on which the enineers were ork. Quoth Stewart in a voice uthority, "When will this bridge be To which the engineer lieunt replied "Just a few minutes, and we'll have it ready for you. I hurry it up." Eventually the ge was ready, the car crossed and, Thursday, April 27. of perfidious ingratitude, stoplong enough to eliminate by magun fire, the entire gang of attaches to the engineers for so unwittingly obliging the enemy.

Field soldiers, fresh from seven months in the class room, questioned their comrades this morning with solicitude, "How did you sleep last night?'

"Well, first on my right side and then on my back awhile. Then I'd try it again on my right side until the train commander's snoring woke me up. How did you sleep?"

"Oh, no worse than anyone else This three point suspension may be the berries for motors but it's not worth a cuss for sleeping." Wednesday, April 26.

Gray, no little astonished to read in a communication delivered by a breathless messenger not that his ma chine guns were sorely needed at the front nor yet that he was to withdraw hastily to Harp's Pond but that he had violated garrison regulations by loitering overlong with his petrol car near the Main Exchange. Fort Benning M. P.'s do rightly rank with the Canadian M. P.'s for finding the man in the wilderness.

Another change in assignments today, platoon commanders becoming regimental staff and battalion commanders taking post as second-in-command of companies. The shake-up inspired Red Reeder to comment, They're changing the batting order to find a winning combination against the Reds." Privately I feel that a drastic re-alignment of umpires would be more conducive to a Blue vctory.

These sloppy evenings around a pine stump fire do elicit many tales of pith and amusement. One of the these which had not hitherto assailed my ear concerned the now immortal episode of "Powder River hook 'em cow,

Chattahoochee launch 'em skow.' The tale pertains to a nameless one standing on the Georgia shore observing troops pulling on a rope the other end of which was attached to something not clearly visible on the Bama side. Approacheth Major Loblolly and demands to know what they are doing. Answer by the nameless one (so runs the story) "Pulling the other bank closer so the bridge will

Up there hours earlier than betimes and did march 500 yards to a cold, hard place in the road lest we be not ge builders. No onus o,f course, there five hours later when we were

Here's To Your Health

BY MAJOR HOMER L. CONNER, Medical Inspector

POISONOUS SNAKES

ere are four kinds of rattlesnakes two kinds of moccasin snakes to ound on this reservation.

e bite of any of these snakes is ly if the person or animal bitten t promptly and properly treated. ere is no part of the reservation which the hospital cannot be ed within an hour or sò. Be of this short period the seven below can safely be followed.

Nearly all bites are on the arm g. Tie a cord (a belt or necktie be used) above the bite. This d be tied tightly at first but must artly loosened for a few seconds fifteen minutes to preserve cir-

Do not cut the wound, burn it, ply any chemical or medicine to

- 3. Do not use any alcoholic drink. This is most important. Alcohol makes the heart beat faster and thus pumps the poison quickly over the body.
- 4. Take the person bitten to the Station Hospital as quickly as possible so that snakebite serum may be given. 5. Give the patient strong black coffee, if he is dizzy.
- 6. There is no part of the Fort Benning reservation so distant that a person bitten cannot reach the Station Hospital in time. But the earlier the serum is used the better the needed. One soldier was heard to comment (a propos of our early rising) to the effect that one may not these days attend the second show of the cinema lest in so doing he be late for breakfast.
- 7. If the snake is captured or killed bring it to the hospital. The treatment differs somewhat in bites of different kinds of snakes.

The night march accomplished in stealth until the rendezvous was reached. Secrecy was there maintained by some leather-lunged son of Bashan's bovine ordering, in a voice to be heard at Cusseta on theeast and Firm Roberts' on the west, "You men put out those cigarettes," all this with four trucks burning headlights near the road and five officers flitting about with flashlights like non-stop fireflies. And I did then recall Captain O'Brien's remark that "Gumbinnen might have been a panic but it was nothing compared to this battle of Gum Beninng." A car load of student officers in the guise of Reds having been captured and brought to "Major" Russell P. Reeder for disposition, he did solve the problem to the satisfaction of even a Mongolian umpire. He said 'Take 'em down into the woods and orture 'em. There are too many officers around this headquarters now.' Inexplicable on the part of the capives was Bim Smith's reluctance to

Our front line's advance having been halted by the umpires at eleven a. m. we did lie on the grassward in a light drizzle until two o'clock when word reached us to close station for he day, all of which drew from Captain Beavers the observation "If we were to sit on the grass in the rain for three hours in front of our quarters the neighbors would get the dog catcher after us." Which is just another proof that it all depends on the situation.

Friday, April 28

The great withdrawal being well under way, one company commander observed that his column seemed unusually short. Investigation revealed that platoon commander Joe Phelan has aversion to withdrawing and was still in bivouac, probably, Topine, with the intention of assuming from there, the passive defense. After a delay of forty minutes Joe was convinced, his platoon broke camp and he column resumed its withdrawal. Saturday, April 29.

Lay late abed, not rising until fivethirty A. M. and pondering many incidents of the past week's war. Among them the picture of Joe Cleland washing his face with a wash cloth, in my opinion as grievous a sin in campaign as failure to protect one's flanks. Reminiscently amused at all the S4's and train commanders appointed during the week whose excellent plans and orders a la School teaching were thwarted at every turn by the 29th regular S-4 who, with heroic self sacrifice stayed out the whole week to S-4 the entire show. With the two battalions on opposite sides during the coming week methinks he must needs be twins to duplicate the performance.

Impressed by Captain Anderson's display of erudition and information on all subjects except local geography, lack of the latter having caused him on Thursday to become separated from the platoon that he was umpiring for upwards of an hour. And on Wednesday as battalion commander he caused the firm of Robinson, Hearn and Paul I know not how much anguish by bivouacing his troops two miles from water.

Most thankful of all that the sounding of recall did conclude the exercise without that deadly postscript, The Critique.

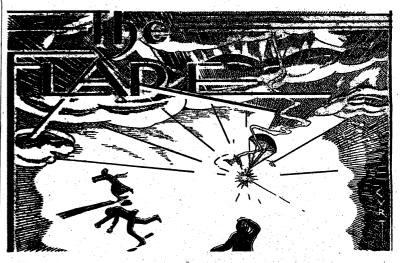

CHILDREN'S SCHOOL NEWS (Continued from page 3) My Trip To Washington

Last summer when I was going to my grandmother's we stopped at Washington. It was going to be a long wait until the train, so mother took my brothers and me in a taxi to the White House.

After that we went through the Washington Monument. It was a pret ty sight to look down on all the hous es and buildings. We could not stay very long for we had to go back to the train.

When we got back we got on the train and went to my grandmother's and had lots of fun that day.

—Jacqueline Thompson.

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all." -John Wolcot.

CONDUCTED BY E. F. H.

APPENDECTOMY

On the first day of the maneuvers, Lieutenant R. T. Mitchell of the Company Officers' Class, being seized with violent pains in the abdomen was hurried in to the Post Hospital. Here the experts in conference assembled diagnosed the case as appendicitis and prepared to operate.

The next step was to notify the nearest relative of the victim, an un welcome duty which devolved upon Major Dabney. One of the hospital orderlies got Mrs. Mitchell on the wire, whereupon the Major undertook to break the news gently. His approach was masterly. He began by talking about the weather after which he led the conversation gently around to professional matters by inquiring as to the reactions from the "cold shots" which he had given Mrs. Mitchell some time before. Then gradually and with exquisite tact he let it be known that Mrs. Mitchell's husband was about to be operated upon.

Mrs. Mitchell, as might be expected of the daughter of General and Mrs. Jarvis, acted promptly. Within the hour she, with her father and mother, and a special nurse were waiting at the hospital for Lieutenant Mitchell to be brought out of the operating room.

After what seemed hours of anxious waiting, Colonel Leary, in full surgical regalia, came forth.

"We got it all right" commented the Colonel as he removed his ceremonial robe, "but I thought we'd never get it. I never carved through so much fat in my life." The three members of the family looked at each other blankly.

"I can't understand that," murmured Mrs. Mitchell, wondering where her slender husband had concealed the surplus avoirdupois. I thought we'd have to blast," continued the surgeon.

"When can we see him?" asked Mrs. Mitchell, more than ever mystified but none the less anxious. The colonel replied to the effect that the patient was in no condition be seen at the moment, but that Mrs. Mitchell would have a look at him as soon as the worst effects of the ether had worn off.

After more hours of waiting, someone brought word that Mrs. Mitchell might take a peep. Tiptoeing softly into the room while father, mother, and special nurse (all ready for business) waited outside, the anxious wife took one look behind the screen which shielded the patient's bed and collapsed. For the patient was not Lieutenant W. J. Mitchell, her husband, but his Brobdingnagian friend of the same surname.

"I thought it was funny when they talked about cutting through all that fat," commented Mrs. Mitchell when she came to.

Just how and when Mrs. R. T. Mitchell, the real wife of the victim, was informed that he was a casualty we do not know. Rumor has it that she spent the afternoon at bridge, oblivious of the misfortune that had overtaken her husband. Certainly she was spared several hours of painful

We are happy to report that both Lieutenant R. T. Mitchell and Mrs. W. J. Mitchell are recovering from the effects of the operation.

BACK TO THE ARMY AGAIN Back to the Army again.

Wot-me? I'm back to the Army again.

-Kipling. The chief news item of the week is that Mr. Tracy Davis,-Captain Davis, if you please—the well known big insurance broker and friend of widows and orphans, is back in khaki.

Since the latest pay reduction, selling life insurance to army officers has become the world's worst business. The Captain or Looie with a wife and two or three kids is more likely to try to make a touch on the agent for a loan of a couple of dollars until pay day than he is to take out a policy. With only such prospects to work on a wise insurance man takes to the tall timber and hat is literally what Captain Davis is doing. In other words he has joined up for six months or more with the C. C. C.

Captain Davis-can't you hear his West Point classmates who are contemplating retiring at sixty-four as first lieutenants cheer when they see him turn out with two shining silver bars on each shoulder—is well and favorably known in local sporting and social circles. He is generally rated a good egg and his many friends are hoping that his aboreal duties won't take him so deep into the forest primeval that he will have to give up, even temporarily, his Benning associations.

SNAKE IN THE GRASS Leftenant James S. Lockett, prominent contender for the Playboy Back to the Army again, Sergeant, Championship, is going about seeking sympathy for what he claims is Rather too free with my fancies? the year's most glaring example of presumption on friendship. It seems that Playboy Lockett recently took a five day leave. As he departed Aide de Camp Winn borrowed five dollars. This wasn't so bad, although the customary procedure is for the travelling party to make the touch. What griped the Leftenant was to discover, upon his return, that the Aide de Camp had made free use of his clothes and his car in order to advance his standing with his (Lockett's) best girl.

FASHION NOTE

Spring styles in army field unibe distinguished by dash of color-that is if Colonel A. S. J. Tucker, the recently promoted chief of the versatile Second Section, succeeds in popularizing the innovation.

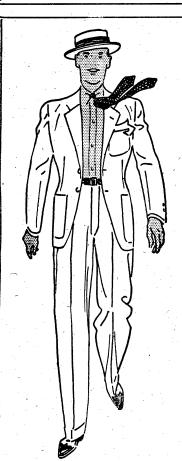

Personally, we have always favored enlivening the drab habiliment of the field soldier, but the fate of several mere majors who aspired to the role of the Army Beau Brummel has deterred us from putting our ideas to the test. For example, Major Mordecai's attempt of a few years back, to introduce the red tie as the last word in correct morning attire for an attending surgeon, never got anywhere and was never repeated.

Colonel Tucker wisely waited until he had silver leaves on his shoulders before making his drive against conservatism in military dress. Then and not until then did he appear (Please turn to Page !)

UNDERGOES CONDITIONING

(Continued From Page 1) take an oath, binding him to faithful performance of his duties and observance of the rules for Civilian Conservation Corps, before he officially enrolls as a member. A text of the oath of enrollment is as follooks: "I,affirm that the information given above as to my status is correct. I agree to remain in the Civilian Conservation Corps for six months unless sooner released by proper authority, and that I will obey those in authority and observe all the rules and regulations thereof to the best of my ability and will accept such allowances as may be provided pursuant to law and regulations promulgated pursuant thereto. I understand and agree that any injury received or disease contracted by me while a member of the Civilian Conservation Corps cannot be made the basis of any claim against the Government, except such as I may entitled to under the Act of September 7, 1916, (39. Stat. 742) (An Act to provide compensation for

Automobiles and household goods insurance at reduced rates for all military and civil personnel. GOVERNMENT PERSONNEL AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

PURE LINEN $6.25

SEERSUCKER $6.25

Wash Shantung $4.75

Flannel Trousers $3.95

Linen Trousers $1.45

STRAW HATS 95c to $2.45

SPORT SHOES To Match $5.00

> PAYNE CLOTHING CO. 1203 BROADWAY

CIVILIAN CONSERVATION CORPS back to their home, with an allowance of twenty-five cents for each meal required during the journey.

The first two days of the recruits' time at the conditioning camp are spent in "processing," which consists of the physical examination, bathing, measuring and fitting of clothing, issue of equipment, and administration of oath. On the third day the recon--, do solemnly swear or ditioning process begins. This phase of the recruits' preparation consists largely of mass calisthenics, and supervised athletics. These are supplemented by orientation talks by offiers on duty with the company, which are designed to acquaint the men with he routine of their new environment, and with the salient features of the luties which will be required of them n the working corps.

Each man, upon the passing of his physical examination, is required to employees of the United States suffering injuries while in the performance of their duties and for other purposes), and that I shall not be entitled to any allowances upon release from camp, except transportawas accepted to enrollment. I understand further that any articles is in to pull a few guards. sued to me by the United States Government for use while a member of the Civilian Conservation Corps renand remain, property of the United States Government and that willful destruction, loss, sale, or disposal of such property renders me financially responsible for the cost thereof, and in public with the green tie and O. liable to trial in the civil courts. I understand further that any infraction of the rules or regulations of the Civilian Conservation Corp renders me liable to expulsion therefrom. So help me God."

Upon arrival in the camp, at whatever hour, the men are given a meal and as soon afterward as practicable, are issued a number of articles for their personal comfort. These include a toilet kit, containing a toothbrush, shaving brush, comb, mirror, razor, soap, shaving soap, and tooth-paste. In addition each man receives two large bath towels, and three face towels, a barracks bag, two blankets, a meat can, a cup, and a knife, fork, and spoon. After he has been officially accepted and has taken the oath of enrollment, he is given a belt, a neck-tie, three suits of underwear, a hat, two jumpers, two pairs of working trousers, two olive-drab shirts, one pair of olive-drab trousers, six pairs of sox, one raincoat, and a pair of shoes for his personal use. He is also given a number of articles to add to his comfort which include two pillow cases, four sheets, one pillow, one bed-sack, and one mosquito bar.

Under the camp schedule aranged by Colonel Jewett the civilian recruits' day begins at the same time as does that of the soldiers at Fort Benning, but he goes to bed an hour earlier, THUS being sounded in the Cvilian Conservation Camp at ten P. M. The official schedule of calls is as follows: First call for revielle, 5:45 A. M., Reveille, 5:55; Assembly, 6:00; Mess call, 6:30; Sick call, 7:00; First call for training, 7:20; Assembly, 7:30; Mail call, 11:15; Recall from training (except Saturday) 12:30 P. M.; Assembly 1:00; Mail call 3:30 P. M.; Recall from training (except Saturdays) 4:30; Mess call (Supper) 5:30; Call to quarters, 9:45; Taps, 10:00 P. M. Sundays and holidays: Mess call (breakfast) 7:00 A. M.; Sick call, 8:00 A. M.; Church call, 9:00; Mail call 10:30; Mess call (Dinner) 12:00 Noon; Mess Call (Supper) 5:30 P. M. Call to quarters 9:45; and Taps, 10:00 P. M.

HERALD WANT ADS

CLASSIFIED ADV. RATES:

20 cents per line or fraction of line. Minimum charge for any classified advertisement, 50 cents. Payment must be made before advertisement is pub-

FOR SALE-1928 Ford Tudor Sedan. Good Condition. $100. Major Bradley, Phone 829.

Furnished Bed Room with private bath and Meals. Apply 1200 5th Ave.

FOR SALE-2 Toy Terrier Puppies, males. Phone 631, Benning.

83rd F. A.

BATTERY A

on an all week maneuver, which we think will be about the end of the spring maneuvers. Several members of the organization or figuring on a furlough when we get in.

1st Lieut. Louis W. Haskell, Executive officer of the Battery has received orders to attend the Field Artillery School at Fort Sill, Okla., for the school year 1933-34. We wonder if the a 20 days leave, visiting relatives at Savannah, Georgia.

Pvt. Lowell Kennedy was discharged on the 27th of April and reenlisted on the 28th for his same old place. Pvt. Kennedy is now on 60 day reenlistment furlough in Ala

Cpl. Doll Johnson and Pvt. A. R. Fannin returned from furlough last week, Pvt. Fannin in time to drive tion in kind to the place at which I the old wheel team on the last week of maneuvers. Cpl. Johnson staying

Pfc. Armstrong has returned from the School for Bakers and Cooks. Pvt. Tuggle is taking his place.

THE FLARE

(Continued From Page 6)

shirt combination which created such a sensation in Academic Circles. It will be noted in this connection hat he even passed up St. Patrick's Day which, to a less astute psychologist, would seem the ideal occasion or initiating this particular departure from uniform regulations.

We fear, however, that Colonel Tucker, with all his popularity and rank, lacks one essential quality of a successful arbiter of fashion. He is deficient in that sublime effrontery which enabled the original Beau Brummel to foist his revolutionary dress reforms upon Christendom. He can't stand the gaff. When Deacon Leard invited Colonel Weeks to come out and have a look at his section chief's new color scheme, Arbiter Tucker left the premses in such haste as to give the impression of ignominous flight.

AND THE BAND PLAYED DIXIE It happened some time back but the press never gave it the publicity it deserved.

The occassion was a meeting of the LaGrange post of the American Legion at which the Purple Heart decoration was to be conferred upon certain qualified members. Our own Colonel Eph Peyton, well known throughout the state of Georgia as a silver tongued orator, had been imported from Benning to make the address and, as always, he made a good

The high point of the ceremony came when the speaker was eloquently describing the medal about to be presented:

'And on the obverse side," said the Colonel, holding the decoration up to the admiring view of the audience, we see pictured the Father of his Country, George Washington, in Con-

E. F. H.

Austin Supported By Excellent Cast The battery is back again this week InAppearanceHere

Such an outstanding array of stage stars and vaudeville headliners as is presented in "Broadway Rhapsody" have never before been offered in one show for the amousement of Fort Benning theatre-goers.

Heading the list of featured stars, of course, is Gene Austin, who is Lieut. will carry his aide, Cpl. North already well known to most of the radio and victrola fans for his sing-2nd Lieut. James J. Heriot is now on ing abilities. In the current attraction Austin sings a few of his old time favorites, as well as introducing several new rhythmic and tuneful mem-

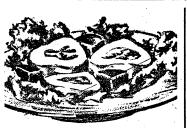

> Sid Tracey and Bessie Hay, an English importation, are featured. This famous dancing team appeared for six months with Gene Austin last year in

> "Hap" Farnell is the leading comic and essays a "drunk" role, being as sisted in putting over some of his quips and gags by "Lotsa" Mama Farnell, the queen of avoirdupois. Helen and Agnes Harrington are the sister team, doing the kid numbers, comedy, lyrics, and harmony, and these two young ladies have had several years' time as featured stars over R. K. O. circuits.

The leading lady of the show is petite little five-foot-two-eyes-of-blue Agnes Antelline, who does a number of songs and specialty dances. Her previous experience includes engagements with Publix and Fanchon and Marco units; featured star at Sid Grauman's Chinese Theatre in Hollywood, and a recent engagement with Buddy Rogers' orchestra in New York

FOR SALE Post Exchange

For These Warm Days Now Coming

Why not serve more cold lunches and suppers? They are much easier to prepare, and they'll be most acceptable at any time. You will find all essentials at

GROCERY

DEPARTMENT POST EXCHANGE

Fort Benning, Ga.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

THIS IS ALL WE NEED SAY

THE KING AMONG TOASTED PEANUTS

Look At This: $250.00 To Be Given Away Every Two Weeks! See Details of Tall Tales Contest on Tom's Cards, Beginning May 15th.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

THE BENNING HERALD

Corn Griffin Faces Bozo Tuesday Night

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

The most sensational sporting event | Up jumped Buddy and aimed a force of the week was the renewal of active ful kick at the mid point in Chaphostilities between the rival camps of man's tummy. Blazing Ben liked this the Washington Senators and the New York Yankees. Bad blood has existed between the two clubs ever since Bill Dickey of the Yanks had staged a private little war with Carl Reynolds early last summer. On that occasion. Dickey had connetced with a right hand smash to the button that had almost lifted the head off Reynold's shoulders. The punch broke the Senator's jaw, and Dickey was suspended for 30 days and fined a thousand dol-

Last week, Ben Chapman of the Yankees slid into second, neatly kicked Buddy Myers' feet from under him, and sent him sprawling to the ground.

Howard Bus Line, Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDILLE

	3	CHE	טעי
Fron	n			From
Colum	bus			Ft. Ben	ning
5:00	AM			6:00	\mathbf{AM}
6:00	66			7:50	44
7:00	66			9:15	۳.
8:30	. "			10:45	"
10:00	"			12:45	PM.
11:45	"			2:15	44
1:30	PM			4:15	66
3:00	. "			5:10	"
5:00	. 64			6:00	44
7:00	66			7:00	4
9:00	- 66			8:00	44
10:30	"			9:45	66
12:00	M			11:15	44
				12:00	M
	Αl	so "E	xtras'	and
,		HOOL	B	JSES

PHONES

sort of treatment not at all, and retaliated with several hard punches. Soon both were going at each other like a pair of wildcats.

Members of both teams and the umpires finally succeeded in separating the two gladiators, and both were banished from the game. Fans and players alike now thought the war was over, but Chapman had other ideas in mind and proceeded to put them to practical use.

Chapman was forced to go through the Senator's dugout to leave the field. Suddenly he wheeled on Earl Whitehill, Senator twirler, who had apparently made some remark, and nailed him with a right to the mouth. Everyone in the vicinity joined the melee that followed and hundreds of belligerent fans poured out from the lower tier onto the playing field. Dixie Walker, a Yankee, started to come to his teammate's rescue but, on the way over, encountered a score of rabid fans who took pleasure in taking some of their spite out on the unfortunate player. Lazzeri, Gomez, and Dickey battered their way through the crowd and saved Walker from further punbeen called and, in a few minutes, the tenseness of the situation relaxed. Five of the irate fans were rushed off to the police station to cool their back in jail. The game was resumed. Yankee sluggers pounded Senator pitchers for many hits and sixteen runs while the hapless Washington team was busy accumulating a row of unimpressive goose eggs at the competent hands of Van Atta, New York rookies pitcher.

Will Harridge, president of the (Please turn to page 9)

And Battling Bozo

Kid Baisden, Valdosta South-paw, To Meet Four-H Posey In Semi-final

Corn Griffin, sensational army lightheavyweight, meets Battling Bozo in a return match Tuesday evening in the post gymnasium. Interest in this bout is at a fever pitch. On the occasion of their last meeting, a draw verdict was rendered. Since that time, Corn has engaged in a number of fights with outstanding heavies and lightheavies and has won all of them, over three-quarter via the knockout route. He has developed a flashing left to the point where it is one of his most dangerous wea-

Jerry Pavalec, Young Hambrick, Bennie O'Dell, Joe McCarthy, and Ted Sandwina are among those who have fallen before the soldier's flying fists recently. In his last battle before a Fort Benning crowd, Griffin toppled Ted Sandwina, giant German, after thirty seconds of the first round had passed. In no fight since his draw with Bozo has he been extended to the limit.

Battling Bozo is one of the cleverest battlers for his weight in the ring today. Victories over Pete Latzo and Lou Scozza and many other na-In the meantime, the riot squad had tionally known fighters cannot be overlooked. Since his fight with Griffin, he has been in the bad graces of the boxing commission and has not had an opportunity to display his wares often. The falling out with the commission was brought about when Bozo slugged a referee in the

> Both fighters will be in fine shape when Tuesday night rolls around. Bozo is confident he can turn back Corn, basing his belief on the fact that he is a cleverer boxer than the soldier. Bozo admits that Griffin packs a harder wallop but contends that he will not get any opportunity to use it when the two meet.

Griffin and Bozo realize that much depends on the outcome of this fight. Corn has been proceeding up the fistic ladder to success with giant strides; his fighting stock is soaring skyhigh and a deflation in the market would not help his cause. Bozo, on the other hand, is anxious to prove that he deserves to be among the leading lightheavies in the game, and a victory over the pride of the army would mean just that.

This bout is going to be one of the best ever staged at the post, beyond a shadow of a doubt. Fans in this vicinity have seen Corn's opponent in action; a ring clown with genuine ability, that's Bozo. He is out to win the fight Tuesday night, but he has a tremendous obstacle to overcome, and that obstacle is Corn Griffin.

In the semi-final, Four-H Posey, middleweight from Paducah, Ny., swap punches with Kid Baisden, a big favorite in Fort Benning, although the portsider hails from Baisden has never been defeated in these parts, but he will have to apply pressure if he is to win Tuesday night. Posey has scored 73 knockouts in the last four years and sees no reason why he shouldn't increase that number at the expense of the Kid. Recently he turned in a win over Frankie Palmo of Cincinnati, the lad that gave Cyclone Smith the battle of his life some time ago.

Posey is so good that he does not restrict himself entirely to the middleweight class but extends his conquests into the lightheavy and heavy divisions. Charlie Arthur, St. Louis heavy, was easy picking for the Paducah bat-

(Please turn to page 10)

Best Card Of Year Greencord Nine Defeats Auburn Headed By Griffin 6-5 In Extra Inning Ball Game

By AL DURDEN Playing steady baseball back of Hinkley's brilliant twirling, the Greencords of the Special Units, Infantry School, took a close, hard fought ten inning diamond duel from the Au- bled Newman's roller to first. Orgerburn Tigers, at Auburn, Wednesday afternoon, 6 to 5.

The Greencords registered in the opening frame. Tolle, first up was thrown out at first by Head. Tiger third baseman. Evans sent a terrific drive over second that bounded past safe on Orr's error at first base. Or-Jenkins in center and rolled into the high weeds at the end of the field, Evans collected four sacks and the first run of the game on the clout.

Both teams went out in order in the second frame. Tolle opened the third frame for the Greenhats with a bingle down the third base line. Martin singled through second and Tolle pulled up at third. Wee Grady galloped home on Evans' long fly to right field.

The Tigers came to life in their turn at bat in the third. Jenkins led off with a triple to center. Baker looked at four wide ones and took a walk. On an attempted double steal, Jenkins was nabbed at the plate on a fast return of Newman's throw to second by Massey. Morris looked at two called strikes and then sent a drive into deep right to score Baker. Morris went to third on Mc-Mahon's bingle through the infield. Morris stole home on an attempted squeeze play when Newman dropped the ball.

The Greencords came back in the first of the fourth to take back the Futch was safe when Orr failed to tag the base on an easy infield roller. Hinkley beat out a slow roller to Morris. Massey dumped a bunt in front of the plate. Futch scored as Morris heaved wild to first base. Hinkley checked in when Orr fumon popped up to short. Tolle rolled out to Head. Jimmie Hitchcock made a beautiful pickup of Martin's drive to short and tossed him out at first.

The Greencords added another marker in the seventh. Orgeron was geron stole second and scored on Tolle's drive to left field. Tolle was trapped off first and chased down by the entire Tiger infield.

The Tigers made their big bid in the eighth. Morris whifted. McMa-(Please turn to page 9)

First National Bank

Georgia Home Building

"The White Bank"

Capital and Surplus_$ 350,000.00 Resources Over ____ 2,000,000.00

Fort Benning Representative:

R. M. Hall, Jr.—Phone 290

Rent a Box in our Safety Burglar and Fire-proof Vaults for your Valuables. Prices moderate.

Accounts of Fort Benning

Personnel Solicited UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY

S-P-O-R-T-S

FISHING

. . . requires the strongest and most carefully made tackle, something you can depend on when a "big one"

TENNIS

Speed, dexterity and first class equipment are the essentials of tennis, one of the fastest games played today.

BASEBALL

... is another game which may depend on the condition and worth of the equipment when the game reaches a critical spot.

And You Can Get All Of This Equipment At The Main Branch

POST EXCHANGE FORT BENNING, GEORGIA TELEPHONE 608

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

BOXING TUESDAY NIGHT, MAY 9TH

Post Gymnasium, 8:15 P. M.

Corn Griffin Ft. Benning

Valdosta, Ga.

Bunker Hill

Chick Liddell

Ft. Benning

Young Bozo

Battling Bozo Birmingham, Ala.

10 Rounds Kid Baisden

4-H Posev Paducah, Ky.

8 Rounds

vs.

Ben Spivey

Lefty Kline

Columbus, Ga.

6 Rounds

VS.

Ginger Jernigan Columbus, Ga.

6 Rounds

 $\mathbf{vs.}$

Daniel Webster Ft. Benning

Birmingham, Ala.

Seawood Wilson

4 Rounds

vs.

Ft. Benning 4 Rounds

Ringside $1.00 General Admission 50c

Tickets on sale in Columbus at Sears-Roebuck & Co., Wheat's Drug Store, Hubbard Hardware Co., and Sport & Luggage Shop.

Freebooters And Optimists Lead SPOR

Freebooters Turn Back Students By 11-8 Score Sunday

Optimists Down Hoofers In Close, Exciting Game To Stay In Tournament

The championship elimination polo tournament is now rapidly nearing conclusion with only two combinations still in the running, the Freebooters and the Optimists. Last Sunday afternoon, the powerful Freebooter team ran roughshod over the Student four to win an 11-8 victory. The Yellow Jackets were clicking with clock-like precision and succeeded in running up a big lead in the early stages of the game. In the final chukker, the fighting Students made a brief but brilliant rally to tally three Farmer Nichols of the Freebooters starred for the winners as well as Major Thompson, whose fine defensive play kept the student score down. The Students were handicapped by the

SUITS $9.95

WASH PANTS 95c

> HATS 95c

SHIRTS -95c

Other Prices In Proportion

mediocrity of their mounts, which were far inferior to the horses of their opponents.

Umpires: Major Arnold and Captain Cunningham.

The Optimists barely managed to nose out the 29th Hoofers in a fast and furious game by the close score of 8-7. Captain Cushman played a fine game although ill. O'Connor, who usually stars, was badly mounted in two periods, weakening the Hoofer cause. Zero Wilson exhibited brilliant polo, and Captain Gee's tremendous backhand drives delighted the Umpires: Major Arnold and Captain Johnson.

The Billygoats met a pick up ar tillery team in an extra game and emerged with a decisive victory 5-1. The Artillery four was handicapped by the absence of most of their most competent performers. The Billygoats used Major Frasier who played a brilliant game before leaving for the Walter Reed General Hospital!

SPORT CHATTER

(Continued from Page 8)

American league, imposed light fines and suspensions on Whitehill, Chapman, Myers, and Walker.

How can three triples, a double, and two singles be hit in one inning without one run being scored? Here is an account of a half-inning of a game played long ago in the old Indiana

The first man up triples and is nipped off third by a snap throw from the catcher. The next batter triples and is thrown out trying to stretch his three-bagger in to a home-run. The next hitter also triples and is safe. The next man at bat, an exceptionally fast runner, chops one down the third base line. The third baseman, seeing he has no chance to get the batter at first, hovers over the ball thinking it wlil roll foul while the runner on third does not dare to try for the plate. The batter takes advantage of this and continues on to second, and is credited with a twobagger, of course, when the ball remains in fair territory. The next man up bunts down to third and beats it out. Then comes the next batter with a sharp smash to right that hits the runner going from first to second, retiring said runner, the batter, however, under the rules, getting credit for a single. Thus we have three triples, a double, and two sngles without a run being scored.

On July 14th, 1921, a ball game was played between Charlotte and Winston-Salem of the South Atlantic League which established a record that will probably stand for all time. And in one inning, this happened: The first three batters hit the first ball pitched for singles. And then to the platter came a player by the name of O'Connell. He smashed the first ball pitched to him for a home-run, thus scoring four runs. Four runs on four pitched balls—a record which will probably never be broken.

GREENCORDS DEFEAT TEAM FROM AUBURN

(Continued From Page 8) hon walked. Kimbrell was safe when Meet. Evans juggled his bounder to third. Head whiffed. Hitchcock doubled tieing runon Mason's single. Orr ballooned out to center.

Both teams went scoreless in the ninth. Martin opened the tenth frame for the Grencords with a triple to left field. Evans sent him across with his third hit of the game. Gilbert popped up to the infield. Futch popped up to Jimmie Hitchcock. Hinkley popped up to Head.

Auburn failed to rally in their turn at bat. Kimbrell grounded out Evans to Orgeron. Head popped up to Orgeron. Hitchcock fouled out to Newman and the game was over.

Score by innings: Greencords __ 101 200 100 1-6 9 4 John "Corn" will meet the Bozo of Tigers_____ 002 000 300 0-5 5 5 Birmingham, Alabama, instead of Morris and Baker.

Post Tennis Team Easily Repulses Opelika Plavers

Drake, Fort Benning Ace, Extended To Defeat Godwin In Deuced Sets

The Fort Benning tennis team made it two in a row by handing the Opelika Country Club aggregation a sticging 8-4 defeat. Post net artists had previously turned back Auburn. In the singles play, Fort Benning captured seven out of the eight matches to take an insuperable lead. The Alabamans. however, rallied to win three of the four double matches.

By far the most outstanding match of the day was the fierce battle between Captain Drake, ranking post player, and Rex Godwin, Auburn's outstanding racqueteer. Godwin had played against Sherburne in the match between Auburn and Fort Benning and had turned in an impressive vic-Captain Drake, chopping to every corner of the court with remarkable dexterity and using a backhand drive to good advantage, outsteadied Godwin to take the match after two hotly-contested, long-drawnout sets 8-6, 8-6. The spectacular play of Drake's opponent was appreciated by the gallery. Godwin's steady, re liable, ground strokes, his excellent placement shots, and fine service kept him in the running until Drake had annexed the final point. Drake as usual, often advanced to the volleying position in midcourt, and scored many times.

Poore and Lynch, ranking two and three respectively, won from their opponents in straight sets. Lynch faced Dozier Howard, another Auburn player. Gavin of Fort Benning was the only post player to lose his singles match when he encountered a stubborn opponent.

The doubles match between Drake and Sherburne and Godwin and Howard was another spectacular battle, goin to three sets before the winner was decided. The Fort Benning players finally nosed out their opponents, 7-5, 5-7, 6-4.

This Saturday, the Fort Benning stars meet the Atlanta tennis club, led by Jack Mooney, nationally known player, and on May 14, post players, clash with the Albany tennis club. On May 8, the annual post invita tion tournament to decide the championships of the post will get under way and will probably be in progress until the last of the current month. On June 6-11, the Cotton States Tournament, one of the foremost net events in the south each year, will take place at Fort Benning.

Tank Notes

Tomorrow Saturday, May the 6th, Lieutenant Nourse will take our track team to Auburn Alabama, and pit their skill against the Freshmen of the Polytechnic Institute. After we learn the results of this meet we should be able to determine how we stand in the coming Benning Track and Field

Due to the manuevers, calling all of our baseball players out the company McMahon and Kimbrell teams were unable to finish the comacross. Hitchcock came in with the pany series. The remaining games to be played will resume schedule next week. Down in Company "E" the battle cry is that they have the series well in hand, and over in Company F-2 we hear the same battle cry. Wouldn't be surprised if Company F-1 doesn't have a say in the Championship game before the series are over.

Almost on the even of the night that Joe Knight is to meet John "Corn' Griffin, in came a wire that Joe will be unable to fight Griffin due to a bad hand. I guess the next time that they match Joe to appear here at Benning against "Corn" he will develop leg trouble. How about it "Corn"? Well Batteries-Hinkley and Newman; Knight. "Corn" says if the Bozo can be stopped they can start the count

29th Inf.

HEADOUARTERS CO.

Headquarters Company is busy on the maneuvers for the two weeks.

Everyone stayed in Camp Sunday at Harmony Church, with the excepton of going in to Fort Benning to get a bath and stay half an hour and back aain. We played two games of baseball with the 1st Bn. Hq. Co. and won both games. We were losing in the first half of the first game and we had to pull two of our stars out of the kitchen who had been washing pots and pans and help win the two a life! games. We had several quartets around Camp Sunday night singing church hymns.

Our first Sergeant, Houghtby, and Tech Sgt. Mitzen are two of the busiest men in the company on the ma-

Corp. Richardson has performed excellent service on maneuvers in the Intelligence Platoon. Everyone has been in high spirits and are still in high spirits on account of their good rest in the Camp Sunday and also from the fine way they have been treated by the officers and noncom missioned officers.

McLendon had a little misfortune on maneuvers last week. He was out getting information on the enemy and he sighted a tank brigade 6 abreast now as he is going in the ring to put his lights out.

Corporal Ivy, Headquarters Com pany, says he likes publicity and if these fellows who have been putting his name all over the Weekly News for the past two or three issues think they are doing some good by doing so he wants them to keep it up. He also says there is only one thing that will get him goaty and that is to keep on reminding him of the bean Bill-A-

We could tell you all about Coble who acts the goat for Bingham and Dungan; but we won't go into that at this time. Some of these days maybe he'll wake up and get wise to him-self. MAYBE?

News from Denver Colo., received a few days ago indicates that we are going to see Mr. Sergeant Guthrie in the near future. The whole Battalion is wishing and hoping a speedy recovery for Sergeant Guthrie, and hopes to see him soon.

decided to climb a tree and take some notes. One of the tanks ran into the tree he was in and knocked him out and he ran and got away from them.

We are all proud of our mess Sergeant John Falk. He gave us a chicken dinner Sunday and it was the best dinner we have ever had. Our Company mess won first place in the ratings of all messes in Fort Benning, for the month of April, 1933. We had the band playing for us

Sunday evening and it was grand to sit in the field like this and enjoy life. People are paying hundreds of dollars to take trips like this, What Pfc. Bishop, Headquarters Company star message center runner reports that he has buried a marine on the maneuvers. He says he hopes he won't find anymore to bury on this

-I. M. Yarbrough.

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital 1006 13th Street

Office Phone 1318

Lafkowitz Bros. Makers of good Clothes

-Alterations 1208 First Ave.

Telephone 371

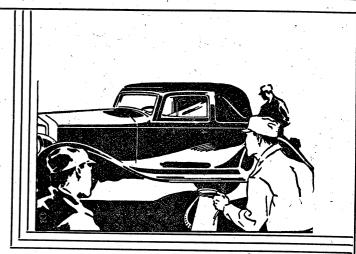

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

POWER

A Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

... will go far toward helping you run your car longer and more economically. Frequent examinations of all moving parts, especially in the new model cars, and the use of only the best oils and greases, will make your car give twiceas much service.

> AUTO DEPT. POST EXCHANGE Fort Benning, Ga.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service.

GRIFFIN TO MEET BOZO IN TUESDAY'S BOUTS

(Continued from page 8)

Fans know what to expect from little tip to fans-watch these boys Chick Liddell boxes Ginger Jerni-

MOTHER

IS FAR AWAY

Send her a nice box of Hollingsworth's Candy, direct from the manufacturer or from our store.

JOINER'S

Complete Prescription Pharmacy OPPOSITE WAVERLY HOTEL

CURB SERVICE

6 A. M. to 12 P. M. Every Day PHONE 183

Baisden. The Kid is a game, courageous, willing mixer, with a left hand that would fell an ox. His last bout with Rip Tetherton, just about stole the show. But he will be traveling his own aainst the best fighters in hi in fast company this time, and Baisden's followers will be privileged to see the Valdosta southpaw stack up against one of the toughest middleweights in the game.

The main preliminary will find two old favorites in the ring together. Ben Spivey and Bunker Hill always put on a real thriller against any oppon ent. And when they fight each other, enough leather is thrown in six rounds to pay for the price of admission to he entire card. They have met bea draw—there is little to choose becopped the decision in the most restep Tuesday night.

gan in the other six-rounder. Chick is a younster, fast, clever, and aggressive. Jernigan is a veteran with many years of experience trailing behind him; at one time, he fought and held best he has, absorbs lots of punishment the kind of fight you've been wanting weight. Considerably older now, he has much of the old skill left. Liddell and Jernigan should exhibit some of the best boxing that has been seen in a post ring for some time. Jernigan is a much-in-demand main go fighter in Columbus and vicinity; Lid- clash. dell has won all of his last few fights

In one of the two four-round bouts, Youn Bozo, brother of Battling Bozo, yourself "the best card of the year faces Daniel Webster. Fans who have seen Max in action against his more From curtain-raiser to main go, there famous brother have been very favor- is not one single weak link in the fore. Usually the slugfests ends in ably impressed. The youngster is a chain. Seeweed Wilson and Lefty southpaw with a wicked wallop, plenty Kline will start you off in a good tween either fihter-but Bunker Hill of courage, and lots of aggressiveness. humour. Daniel Webster and Young Kid Webster has made excellent show- Bozo will slug to your heart's content. cent brawl between the two. Many ings in his most recent appearances in Chick Liddell and Ginger Jernigan fans voiced the opinion that this bout the ring. On the last occasion, he will offer six rounds of beautiful boxtole the show and they could not fought a draw with Ben Spivey. Web- ing. Bunker Hill and Ben Spivey have been far from wrong. Hill hit ster, a far better boxer than Spivey, will give their impression of what the Spivey with everything but the club disdained to stand off and peck at World War must have been like in water bucket and the Columbus lad his opponent but elected to slug with its most hectic moments. Kid Baisretaliated in like manner. Here's a the terror of Columbus. It developed den and Four-H Posey will demoninto a real thriller with honors even. strate their version of the knockout son and Lefty Kline booked to throw tain not to go the scheduled eight leather at each other. Wilson is a favorite. He always gives fans the in the process, but hands out an equal amount to hapless opponents. Lefty Kline's ability in the ring needs no confirmation. He is well-known to fans in this vicinity and aims to give Seeweed Wilson the trouncing of his life when the two popular battlers

Glance at the program for Tuesday evening, and if you don't mutter to so far", you're not a genuine fight fan. The curtain-raiser has Seaweed Wil- wallop in a fight that is almost cer-rounds. And Battlin Bozo and your old favorite, Corn Griffin, will put on to see for some time. It's the best card of the year to date; no fan can afford to miss it.

Home Savings Bank

"The White Bank"

Capital _____$150,000.00 Surplus _____ 50,000.00

Interest Paid on Deposits at 3 per cent. per annum, compounded semi-annually. Short term Certificates of Deposit issued at 3 per cent. per annum

Home of the CHRISTMAS SAVINGS

CLUB Fort Benning Representative: R. M. HALL, Ja., Phone 290 flavor that neither possesses alone

Turkish tobacco is to Cigarettes what Seasoning is to Food soil, different climate, different temperatures night and day, and different farming methods produced an entirely new tobacco—small in size, but very rich and aromatic.

This tobacco is known generally as Turkish tobacco; but there are as many varieties of Turkish as there are kinds of apples.

Four certain spots are famous for the qual-

Early in the 17th century, tobacco seed ity of their Turkish tobacco - Xanthi and from America was taken to Turkey. Different Cavalla in Greece; Samsoun and Smyrna in Turkey. And it is principally from these places that our buyers get the Turkish for Chesterfield.

These Turkish tobaccos are blended, in just the right amount, with Domestic tobaccos. It is this blending and cross-blending of just the right amount of Turkish and Domestic tobaccos which gives Chesterfield a flavor that neither possesses alone.

hesterfield -the cigarette -that's Milder -the cigarette -that Tastes Better

CHESTERFIELD

VOLUME III

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, MAY 12, 1933

NUMBER 3

Dramatic Club Elects Officers For '33-'34 Season

At the annual meeting of the Dramatic Club, held at the Officers' Club Wednesday evening, the nominees proposed by the Nominating Committee, headed by Colonel Munson, were unanimously elected to constitute the Executive Committee for next year. The new Executive Committee will be made up of the following officers and ladies: Lt. Col. E. F. Rice, Mrs. H. A. Wadsworth, Major T. B. Catron, Captain H. J. Golightly, Lt. F. H. Lanahan.

This committee designates from its own membership the principal officers and manages the affairs of the club during its term of office.

Major Catron and Captain Golightly served on the Executive Committee during the current year as Vice President and Secretary-Business Manager, respectively. Colonel Rice was one of the founders of the Infantry School Dramatic Club and has had a wide experience as actor in and di rector of amateur plays. Mrs. Wads worth is an experienced director. She and Colonel Rice were co-direct ors in The Road to Rome and Cock Robin, two successful plays of the current season. Lieutenant Lanahan will be remembered for his fine per formance in Miss Lulu Bett.

Following the election of officers Lieutenant Raymond proposed a reso lution, which was unanimously adopt ed, commending the retiring Executive Committee for a most success ful season.

Captain Barnett Does Ground Loop; Leg Is Broken

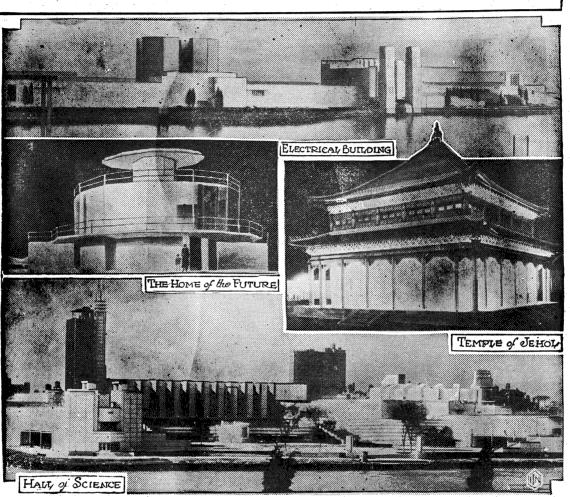

Captain Lloyd Barnett, commander of Flight B. 16th Observation Squadron, who began military flying in 1917, and who has survived the perils of battlefield, maneuver and school flying for sixteen years, met his first serious accident at Fort Benning, and will probably be on crutches for some time after he leaves his bed, to which he is confined at pres geons, as the result of a smash-up.

Last week, Captain Barnett led his squadron as it flew high over the ground troops engaged in the annual maneuvers at the Infantry School. the mission was a dangerous one, as it involved swooping down at breathtaking speed from altitudes of 10,000 feet or more to skim over the sharp pinnacles of the pine forest to observe the movements and formations of the troops below.

With characteristic determination and efficiency of army air men, Captain Barnett concluded the maneuver mission and gave the signal to turn back to Lawson Field. That evening he crashed, but the crash was on the Barnett's front porch, which is exactly 27 inches from the ground. A screen door is said to have been the cause, but at any rate the impact damaged Captain Barnett's landing gear to such an extent that he will be hobbling around on crutches for several

Chicago's Fair a World in Miniature

Almost Every Spot on the Globe Represented in $25,000,000 Show. Site of "Wonderland" Was Bed of Lake Michigan a Dozen Years Ago.

If you have ever wanted to view the wonders of the world, but lacked the necessary financial resources, attain your desire by a visit to the Chicago Century of Progress Exposition, which opens officially on June 1. Here, aided by a little imagination, one may make a tour of the globe at an infinitesimal fraction of what it would cost to make a round of the terrestrial sphere on which we live. What is more, only the beautiful things of the world will meet the eye in Chicago's pocket edition of the globe—squalor has no place in "the greatest show on earth." In a couple of skips one may go from old Fort Dearborn, the original Chicago, to the Golden Temple of Jehol, a reproduction of the original, built in China and transported to the shores of Lake Michigan. The visitor may marvel at the glories of Egypt in the time of the Pharaohs, stand in awe before the 18-story jade temple in the Chinese exhibit or watch the manufacture of silk from the lowly worm to the glorious evening gown. For Americans the Hall of Science and the Electrical Building will have the greatest appeal; for here are graphically illustrated, by working models, the tremendous strides taken by science in the last century. Too, one may view the architects' dream of the dwelling of the future—a twelve-sided house; constructed of steel and glass and provided with a garage for the family auto and a hangar for the family airplane. When one considers that only twelve years ago, the 600-acre site on which the miniature world stands was far beneath the waters of Lake Michigan, one marvels at the patience of the organizers and engineers of the great show and appreciate the magnitude of the task they have accomplished so well.

to attend the joint anti-aircraft air corps exercises which will be held at Fort Knox, Ky., from May 15 to May 27, according to a letter received at Headquarters, Fort Benning, from 4th Corps Area Headquarters, at At- plays of all gardeners may be judged, mic area, at 9:00 o'clock Friday mornlanta.

The exercises will, in addition to their tactical training aspects present an impressive exhibition of military flying. Eighty-five army planes will be engaged in the mimic combat against the 61st, 62nd and 69th Antiaircraft Artillery regiments, the 1st Signal Company, and other 5th Corps Area troops.

The reserve officers are being invitel to attend in their unofficial status as observers, and consequently the federal allowances for traveling or

(Please turn to page 4)

ent under the treatment of army sur- Invited To 5th C.A. Of Club Sponsors Graduate From Aerial Maneuvers Flower Show Here Clerical School

Section of the Woman's Club will sponsor a Flower Show at the Polo Club. It was decided to hold the show in order that the combined disreal purpose of the show, however, is to stimulate interest in gardening and Post beautification.

There are a large variety of classes for exhibitors—(a) Roses; (b) Annuals; (c) Perennials; (d) Miscellaneous. Under this group are four classes for children only-(1) Best collection of wild flowers: (2) Best bird house; (3) Best miniature garden displayed by Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts; (4) Best miniature garden displayed by Brownies and Cub (Please turn to page 4)

ing a special course of instruction in stenography and clerical work will be held in Assembly Hall 6, acadeas well as enjoyed and admired. The ing. Colonel Charles W. Weeks, assistant commandant of the Infantry School will preside at the ceremony, and will make the presentation of certificates to the eighteen graduates of the five months' course.

> The course which began on September 22, 1932, was in charge of Captain Francis X. Wilson, who was assisted by Technical Sergeant Claude I. Moore, and Staff Sergeant Joseph the difficult operations in the rugged P. Carey and Ralph B. Ward, all of the Infantry School Detachment.

General Fugua Lauds Cooperation Of Infantry School

On the eve of his relief from duty as chief of infantry, Major General Stephen O. Fuqua dispatched letters of praise to Major General Campbell King, commandant of Th eInfantry School, and president of the infantry board, in which he lauded the support and cooperation which the two Fort Benning establishments had extended to the office of the chief of infantry during his period of office.

General Fuqua's first letter commending the faculty and student body of The Infantry School was as follows:

"As the day approaches when I shall leave the post of Chief of Infantry, I feel that I should let you, and through you, the faculty of The Infantry School, know how much I appreciate the cordial support and cooperation that has been accorded me during my term in office as Chief of Infantry.

"The fact that great reliance could be placed upon you and those working under you was made apparent to me early in my work here, and it has been a source of great satisfaction to know thta I could repose such confidence in you and the officers serving under you.

In closing I wish to give you, the school faculty, and student body of The Infantry School, my best wishes

In commenting on the operations of The Infantry Board, which is the advisory body to the chief of infantry in all affairs connected with armament, equipment, technic, and tactics of infantry, General Fugua said:

"I feel that prior to vacating the office I should express to you, and through you to the members of The Infantry Board, my gratification at he pleasant relations that have continuously existed between the board and the office proper.

Colonel Persons Praises Men For Georgia Reserves Garden Section Enlisted Men To Interest-Energy

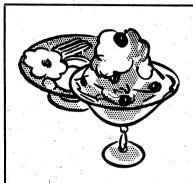

The 29th Infantry, which went into bivouac camp at Harmony Church, at the conclusion of the annual school maneuvers, broke camp Sunday morn-Georgia reserve officers are invited On Monday, May 15th, the Garden Graduation exercises for a class of the post after a two hour march from ing and arrived at its barracks in Harmony Church.

The week-end camp was inspected on Saturday morning by Major General Campbell King, commandant of the Infantry School, and Lieutenant Colonel Thomas W. Hammond, post inspector. Later in the day Colonel William E. Persons, commander of the 29th Infantry, assembled the men of his regiment in the natural amphitheater near Harmony Church and reviewed the operations of the troops during the maneuvers of the past two weeks. Besides discussing the various tactical features of the maneuvers Colonel Persons praised the soldiers for the individual interest and energy which they displayed during terrian of the Fort Benning reservation.

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS IN THE SECOND SECON

Miss Mary Kline, Of Columbus, And Lt. form a medley of sight, sound and Johnston Are Wed Last Saturday

The marriage of Miss Mary Kline to Lieut. Robert D. Johnston which was solemnized Saturday afternoon at St. Luke Methodist Episcopal Church was one of this Spring's loveliest weddings. The ceremony took place at six thirty o'clock Saturday evening with Rev. Pierce Harris officiating. The church was decorated with palms and ferns. The altar was banked with palms and was decorated by pedestal baskets of pastel shades gladiola which were flanked by cathedral candelabra holding white tapers. While the guests assembled, Mrs. Chester Stevenson sang "I Love You Truly" accompanied on the organ by Prof. Louis

EASY DESSERTS

... in summertime are hard to get . . . that is, unless you use Foremost Ice Cream. Nothing will make a more acceptable or delicious dessert for the hotweather season.

> Call the SODA FOUNT

FOREMOST DAIRIES INC.

Chase and by Miss Gertrude Chase at the harp. Entering first were the ushers and groomsmen including Lieut. Joseph K. Dickey, Lieut. Joseph B. Coolidge, Lieut. Eugene L. Brown, Lieut. Marshall H. Hurt, Lieut. Sidney G. Brown, Jr., and Lieut. Glenn A. Farris. Miss Marie Mauldin of Atlanta and Miss Bess Kimbrough of Montgomery were the bridesmaids. They wore lovely full-length dresses of starched white chiffon made with full puffed sleeves and finished in the neck line with circular berthas edged girls. in the back by clusters of handmade gren roses. Their hats and accessories were green and they carried bouquets of pastel flowers. Miss Martha Kline, sister of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a gown of green starched chiffon made with floor length ruffled skirts and full ruffled sleeves. Her hat was a tiny affair made of green flower petals, green shoes and gloves completed her costume. She carried a shower bouquet of pastel flowers.

Little Miss Elizabeth Long was the flower girl. Her frock carried out the color scheme of the bridesmaids being of white chifon. She wore a little green hat and carried an old fashioned nosegay. Master Guy Blackmon, Jr. acted as the ring bearer. The bride was given in marriage by her father, Mr. William A. Kline and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Lieut. John B. Brown. The young bride was lovely in her wedding gown of white lace trimmed with pink and fashioned with a long skirt. Her veil was of tulle, nose length in front and falling below her waist in back, and held to her head by a cap of lace edged with tiny nearls. She carried a shower bouquet of white roses and lilies of the valley. Before leaving for their wedding trip in Florida, the bride changed into her travelling suit which was of dark blue crepe with accessories to match. She wore a corsage of roses and lilies of the valley. Lieut. and Mrs. Johnson, upon their return will be at home at Fort Benning.

MISS HARRISON TO PRESENT PUPILS IN COLORFUL SOIREE FEATURING CARNIVAL THEME Friday afternoon and evening at the Springer Opera House, Miss Agnes Harrison will present her pupils in a dancing carnival.

A circus with its big tent, its bark er, its beautiful ladies, its freaks, its pink lemonade and its clowns, will and Mrs. Landon J. Lockett, who leave dncing that promises to have all the fascination of the real sawdust trail. It will be a novel and spectacular entertainment, one differen in every particular from those of previous

The first act will show the outside of the circus grounds, with the waistcoated and high-hatted barker, spieling forth the wonders of the show. On either side ofthe big tent will be the lesser attractions, the midgets, clown bands, magicians, spicy apples, pink lemonade and an enchanting balloon vender. There will be a group of pickanninnies with a bale of cotton and an alluring group of dancing

The second act will be the inside of the big tent with the beautiful Russian ballet in a setting of rare beauty.

Miss Harrison has written the story, compiled the music and designed the settings and costuming.

WELFARE COUNCIL TO HOLD FINAL MEET

The Welfare Council plans to hold the last meeting of the season on Friday afternoon at three o'clock at the Polo-Hunt Club. There will be a business meeting followed by an informal tea for the old members who are leaving Fort Benning and for the new members. Mrs. Elbert J. Lyman president of the Council will be the host-The Council members leaving this Spring are: Mesdames Thomas W. Brown, Allen F. Kingman, Sereno E. Brett, Charles H. Owens, Lewis C. Davidson, Francis J. Heraty, Fred E. Gaillard, Ronald L. Ring, Russell J. Nelson, and Robert W. Wallace. The new members are: Mesdames William E. Persons, Maurice D. Welty, Henry J. Terrell, Herbert A. Wadsworth, Vernon Evans, Lloyd H. Cook, Phillip S. Wood, Frank A. Heileman, Eugene W. Lewis, Willis T. Howard, Joseph A. Holly, Gustin M. Nelson, Frank A. Cashel and Miss H. T. Ryan.

29TH INFANTRY LADIES BRIDGE CLUB HOLDS BOX SUPPER.

The 29th Infantry ladies bridge club, which holds its monthly meeting the first Tuesday of each month, en tertained Tuesday evening at the 29th Infantry camp. Due to the fact that the meeting was the last of the season bridge was dispensed with and a box supper was held which included the officers of the regiment. Each lady prepared a box supper for two, numbers were handed to all present and the ladies and officers were paired according to the numbers drawn. After supper, dancing was enjoyed. The 29th Infantry orchestra playing. During the evening a receiving line was formed to welcome to the regiment the newly assigned officers who will join the 29th Infantry at the close of the school year, and also to welcome to the regiment the latest bride. Those in the receiving line were: Capt. and Mrs. Don C. Faith, Capt. and Mrs. Walter P. O'Brien, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold W. Gould, Lieut. and Mrs. Clyde D. Eddleman, Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph A. Stewart, Lieut. and Mrs. Jesse A. Traywick, Lieut. and Mrs. Francis E. Gillette, Lieut. and Mrs. James E. Purcell and Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph E. Cleland.

OFFICERS AND LADIES OF 24TH INFANTRY TO GIVE DANCE

The Polo Hunt Club will be the scene Saturday evening of a dance from nine-thirty to twelve when the officers and ladies of the 24th Infantry will entertain. This dance will be in the nature of a farewell party for three members of the regiment and their wives who are leaving in the near future for a change of station. The honorees will be: Capt. and Mrs. Guy W. Hartman, who expect to sail on the June transport for Hawaii, Capt.

Permanent Waves $3.00; Shampoo and Set 50c; Haircut 25c. MRS. R. G. DEITZ

NEW BEAUTY SHOPPE 1106½ Broadway Phone 9286 shortly for Fort Hamilton, and for Lieut. and Mrs. Carlisle B. Irwin, who leave shortly for Fort Francis E. War-

The Club will be decorated with the shields and the regimental colors of the 24th Infantry. Music will be furnished by the 24th Infantry orchestra. A small reeciving line consisting of Col. and Mrs. Fred L. Munson and the honorees will be formed to welcome the guests. Invitations have been extended to the members of the regiment, former members and friends of the departing officers.

WEEKLY SUPPER DANCE HELD AT OFFICERS' CLUB

Thursday marked the resumption of the weekly supper dances at the Officers' Club. For three weeks these affairs have been discontinued due to the maneuvers on the reservation. This week's affair was most enjoyable. a capacity number of reservations having been made. Those reserving tables were: Maj. and Mrs. Allen F. Kingman, Maj. and Mrs. Frederick McCabe, Capt. and Mrs. Arvid P. Croonquist, Capt. and Mrs. John C. Wood, Capt. and Mrs. Pierre Mallett. Lieut. and Mrs. Richard G. Prather, Lieut. and Mrs. Claude B. Ferenbaugh, (Please turn to page 3)

WISE SHOPPERS

. . . will always come to the store which offers the best in value and service. And they always find that Silver's is ONE store that excels all others in these respects.

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST GUARANTEED VALUE

For Quality Cleaning and Dyeing

Phillips Dry Cleaning Co.

Telephone 301

Columbus, Ga.

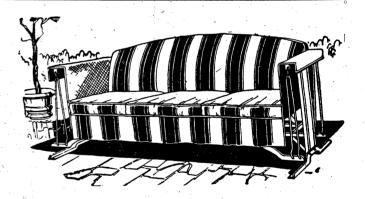

2320 Wynnton Drive

DOLAN-HENRY HAT SHOP AT ALSOBROOK'S

Give Mother A Hat For Mother's Day . . .

It Will Be A Useful And Valuable Gift, That Will Be A Constant Reminder Of Your Thoughtfulness. Prices Range From $1.95 to $5.00.

FORT BENNING CHARGE ACCOUNTS SOLICITED

GLIDERS $9.95 and up

Think how pleasant it will be to bask in the cool comfort and summery lightness of these gay gliders that make summer days in the house

GARDEN

NEW LOW PRICE ON GOOD GARDEN HOSE 25 Ft. 98c

Rothschil

LEADING FURNITURE DEALERS FOR 39 YEARS 1229-31 Broadway

Gloves New Season

Fashion dictates gloves-and when Fashion dictates-feminine minds accept the decree.

Now-we are showing the new things of Fownes and Wearright designing - Materials of the erispest Organdies, Matelasse, Sharkskin-Crepes, Silk and Cotton Piques, Beverly Hills and Warm Springs Mesh.

All of newest design—yet of moderate price. 59c — $1.00 — $1.50 — $1.95

"Always: We are happy to serve you"

Warren's Accessories

With Alsobrook's

1211 Broadway

SOCIETY

(Continued from page 2)

Lieut. and Mrs. Kameil Maertens. Lieut. and Mrs. William L. Mitchell, Lieut. and Mrs. James E. Purcell and Capt. William A. Lynn.

NATIONAL GUARD AND RE-SERVE OFFICERS GIVE DANCE

One of the most enjoyable events of this week will be the dance at Biglerville Friday evening which will be sponsored by the National Guard and Reserve Officers Classes at Fort Benning.

The

SODA FOUNT POST EXCHANGE

Maintains

... a delivery service within the post. The service is organized principally for the delivery of ice cream in large or small quantities on short notice.

The hours of this service are from 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

ALSO EXCELLENT CURB SERVICE

PHONE 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE

Ft. Benning, Ga.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

\mathbb{S} \mathbb{C} GIRL \mathbf{O} \mathbf{U}

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Girl Scout Court of Awards will be on May 24th, a week from next Wednesday. If weather permits we hope to have it outdoors near the Scout Cabin. Be sure to be there, everybody!

Plans are being made for a number of novel and entertaining skits to be performed between dances. There will be clever impersonations, novelty dances and original skits which will add to the enjoyment of the evening. Biglerville will be decorated in colorful streamers of red, white and blue. The 24th Infantry orchestra will furnish the music for dancing. There have been a number of reservations made for dinner at the Officers' Club preceeding the dance. Among those reserving tables are: Capt. Chang, Capt. Dudley, Capt. Richardson and Capt. R. M. Furber. Invitations have been extended to all officers and ladies on the Post.

TICKETS FOR COTTON BALL ON SALE AT OFFICERS' CLUB

Tickets for the Cotton Ball which will culminate the festivities of Bicentennial Week in Columbus are now on sale at the Officers' Club. The Ball, which will be an unusually elaborate affair, will be held at the Exposition Building, in the Fair Grounds.

PERSONALS

Lieut. Harold L. Mace left Saturday to spend the wek end with friends in St. Petersburg, Florida.

Lieut. Milton H. Pressley left Saturday to spend the week end with relatives in Jacksonville, Florida.

Friends of Lieut. John W. Ramsey will regret to learn that he is ill in the Station Hospital.

Mrs. James E. Moore departed Friday with her two children to spend a month with relatives in Massachusetts.

Mrs. Richard T. Mitchell has as her houseguest her sister-in-law, Miss Mitchell of Orlando, Florida.

Lieut. and Mrs. Jasper J. Riley have as their houseguest the latter's grand-mother, Mrs. John Rietzel of River Edge, New Jersey; her mother, Mrs. Herman Rietzel of Brooklyn, N. Y. and her grandfather, Mr. Albect, of Brooklyn, N. Y.

termaster Camp. The following were overnight hike. And that is always We left around three o'clcock on five machine gun buses, for the Quar-

THE OVERNIGHT TRIP

great excitement at the Scout Cabin, for fifty-six girls were starting on an

Saturday afternoon was a scene of the leaders: Mrs. Matchett, Lt. and Mrs. Kellam, Mrs. Heileman, Mrs. Brown, Mrs. Wadsworth, Mrs. Griswold, and Miss Stilwell. I must say they did an excellent job of leading

As soon as the trucks arrived, we grabbed our bedding rolls from the big truck and set to work, making our beds. When these were finished, you couldn't find a cozier spot on earth. We almost wanted badly to jump in and curl up, but then we thought of supper. Up jumped our appetites! The Pine Tree Troop had the job of fire building, and in a minute or so they had the barbecue pit all ready for the Daffodils, who cooked the supper. The Cardinals' job was to clean up the camp.

The supper was served in perfect camp fashion by the second troop. We had a wonderful ring-turn-tiddy! We ate it on toasted rolls which made it just delicious. For desert there were somores and ice cream (!) which Mrs. Schneider brought us. That was certainly a treat. Thank you just loads, Mrs. Schneider.

Then—the camp fire. No overnight trip is complete without a camp fire, of course. The Pine Trees made a beautiful one down on the beach, where we could hear the lapping of the creek (if we weren't singing too loud). When the songs were all sung, Mrs. Griswold started a story, and just as it became terribly exciting she passed it on to someone else who took it up most humorously. It continued this way until Mrs. Matchett announced that the Cardinals had a stunt which they could best perform in the cabin. She didn't know what it was, of course, because all such things are deep, dark secrets.

When all was ready, a Scout began reading a story and the rest of the Cardinals acted it out. It was the Three Bears! It was all a joke, for there was Goldilocks with her permanent wave, and the story mixed up in general! For the originality of that we thank Mrs. Brown.

When the storms of applause had finally died down, most of us went to bed, and since we didn't know what the rest were doing, we must now sing "Goodnight!"

The next thing we knew it was five o'clock, time to get up. That's not a bit early, in camp, in case you're thinking so. We went in two's and three's down to the riverto get washed and brushed.

It was then the Cardinal's turn to build fires, and the Pine Trees' to prepare breakfast. And what a breakfast! Eggs, bacon, toast, fruit, cocoa, and the delicious camp flavor that goes with all food cooked outdoors. That meal was a huge success.

The morning was spent mostly as we wanted, wading or anything. Then she called everybody together to have "Scout's Own." The Minstrels became the choir, and those not taking that badge, the Sunday School class. Between songs Mrs. Matchett read an article about Helen Keller. served as a lesson to us all, and impressed its moral into many minds. "Use Your Eyes."

For lunch we had spaghetti a la Cardinal Troop, for they did the making! The dessert was a lovely "fruit cup," only on tin plates in a very typical camp style. It was delicious.

After dinner we washed up the dishes and sat around enjoying the atmosphere. Some went on short walks, some in wading.

Soon the thundering of trucks was heard and we gathered up our belongings. We mounted our trucks and were counted. Then the ride home in the warm breezy afternoon; it was fun, but we were glad to arrive home to take about fifty-six

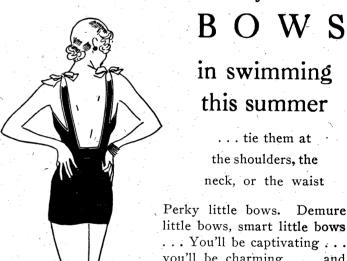

(Continued on Page 5)

Shirt-waist Dresses

-KIRVEN'S-

A Girl's Going To Need a Lot Of

in swimming

this summer ... tie them at the shoulders, the neck, or the waist

Perky little bows. Demure little bows, smart little bows ... You'll be captivating ... you'll be charming . . . and you'll be, oh, so feminine in Kirven's latest styles in bath-

> $2.95 to $6.95

Bathing Suits

ocean

Black, navy, red, green, yellow and blue.

Two-Piece Swim Suit

For the Junior Miss Sizes 10 to 16

Trunks $1.65 Bandeaus $1.25

Here's a suit that is going to prove a sensation. Comfortable, and practical, it fills a long wanted need in the swim life of the Junior Miss. The trunks come in scarlet, avalon blue and navy. The bandeaux in red and white stripes and blue and white stripes.

Second Floor

FOR

MOTHERS' DAY

SUNDAY, MAY 14TH

Serve Kinnett's Ice Cream as a special treat to Mother and the entire family. Everyone will enjoy it, and especially so during these hot days to come.

SERVE KINNETT'S NEXT TIME!

SOLD AT THE OFFICERS' CLUB

Mother's

SUNDAY MAY 14th

Remember her with flowers... they carry a true expression of your love.

Benning Boulevard Nurseries PHONE 4176

We Telegraph Flowers

VOLUME III

THE BENNING HERALD

Published every Friday Phone 556 Columbus, Georgia

MAN 10 1000

VOLUME III	MAI 12, 1933	NUMBER
L. C. Kunze		Publisher
A. F. KUNZE		Editor
FELICIA C. HOWELL	 	Society Editor
D. P. HARDING
Louis T. Kunze		Circulation Manager

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject anyadvertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DI SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE, DETROIT, BALTIMORE

Lieutenant Peep's Diary

Monday, May 1

officer again, albeit only a lovely platoon leader, was too good to last was not ill founded. Today remanded to the ranks as a Pfc. of machine gunners. But my percentage on premonitions remains at 100 having maxed Ah'm gonna report dis to de cap'n all daily guesses on the cold lunch. and Ah knows he will hisself come It having been consistently ham, jam down and move dem rifles." and cheese sandwiches, the only element of uncertainty, and one on early in the week, while still inexwhich white money changed hands, was which kind would be on the top of the pile. A double loser myself one day when, having wagered on Thursday, May 4 ham to win, cheese to place, and jam to show, did discover cheese in all is in the nature of good clean fun three places. Did vainly try to track down the one who had so maliciously the Red machine gunners from their treated me but found no one in any kitchen with a thumb long enough to make one print the length of a sandwich, which neutralized my only Tuesday, May 2

Having observed Major Wood bedding down last night I was no little astonished at the amount of things on hand. Curious to know how he could reconcile all the equipment with the order that no bedding roll would be of greater diameter than 15 inches. The letter of the law, I found, he had fulfilled. None of his three rolls was greater than 15 inches

Constraining this day to laugh at Trader Horn Gray who did bargain with an Ethiopian wench for a fried chicken. Being bored by ceaseless vigil beside a machine gun, the Trader bethought himself of food from the neighboring cabin as at least a time killer. The fowl was to be caught, killed, cooked and delivered for consumption for "two bits." That it eventually cost the Trader six bits and a stomach ache stands to refute the "superiority of the native Briton over the untutored savage."

Merit will out, and I find myself by this day's change in assignments a corporal. Millener, by display of energy and constant application to duty, has worked himself up by stages from Runner number 3 on Monday, through Runner number 1 today. Truly we are in the midst of the crowning achievement of the year, the culmination toward which we have been preparing for eight months.

Wednesday, May 3

representing Red cavalry should get the most out of the exercise, Major course of which Mutt Bowen com-Johnson contrived to get their horses on one side of the bridge at McBride's Ford and themselves on the other. The bridge was then declared destroyed. The troopers at once plunged into the ford on foot only to be required by the amiable (and perfectly dry) major to eschew the shallow water of the ford and cross in the much deeper water under the bridge where, had they been in any wise as short as the major, they had all drowned. So enangered they by the blowing of recall ten minutes later that they all but forced the major to eat one of their cold lunches in retaliation.

Stories rife of the goings on in the cavalry camp and one, at least, did amuse me considerably. The dark cloud in charge of the forage tent did find himself without place to no little amazed to find therein articharged.

sleep due to the stacking in the tent My premonition that this being an of all the troopers' rifles. He complained thereof to his corporal, one Brown, who replied in withering tones "Boy, Ah'm suah sorry fo' you dat yo' ain' got no place to sleep.

Reeder as a cavalryman reports that pert, he had gone about saddling up in the dark and had got the bridle on Stewart before finding his error.

Reassured this day that all this war for, after the declaration of armistice gun positions overlooking the north bank of the Upatoi, and the Blue gunners opposing did disport themselves together like so many grampuses in the creek the while the guns cast lowering looks from both banks.

It did come to my ears that a Red, having by accident run into the Blue lines, decided to bluff it out and converse between himself and the local Blue leader ensued.

The Red: "Lieutenant (this with a tone of authority): Just what are your dispositions here?"

Lt. Brady: "Well, sir, our front lines extend around this hill, our reserve is in those woods and the command post is near the road over there.'

The Red: "Much obliged. I'll be ankling along."
Lt. Brady: "Just a minute. I can show you on the map where the rest of our installations are." And so the poor Red who was itching to depart was made the unwilling witness and auditor of a short monograph on the Blue situation. Escape, however, he did with all the plans after an uneasy five minutes, and I do wonder if to this hour Brady knows what he had done.

So deep in the woods have I gone during the past three days to achieve "umpire defilade" that tonight I find myself in an itching torment from chigger bites and it now becomes a moot question as between chiggers and umpires which is the lesser evil. Friday, May 5.

Breakfast at 10:30 P. M. last night and the ration cycle for aught I could discover did begin and end with Fort Knox To assure himself that the students breakfast. Followed then for the manding F Co. got left behind and at recall was fighting a delaying action by striking his pursurers from behind. Recall blown early in the day by a persipicacious one who desired to forestall the union of the Reds and Blues for an attack on the umpires.

Home without delay there to wallow in ablutions for upwards of an hour. The good wife near broken-hearted at noon when I, by established habit, did eschew lamb chops and strawber ry short-cake at the table for to wash down a bologna sandwich with gulps from my canteen the while squatting in the shade of a tree in the neighboring lot.

Saturday, May 6. Up betimes and straight to the business of empting the "music" bag and

cles as follows:

Package of razor blades, unopened. Deck of cards so swollen as to be fit for use as flannel cakes to break the

Piece of soap stuck to the side of

Can of footpowder, almost empty. Paper sack containing half of a bologna sandwich and two tumble Toothpaste tube with the paste containing the tube.

Half of a U. S. G. S. map, Columbus quadrange covered with computation of mileage to new station at 4.3 cents per mile . Monday, May 8.

To Jiggs Hall to hear from the lips of the all-knowing ones where we had been and what doing for the fortnight past, all this after the same game only to buy all newspapers afterwards in order to find out what he has just seen. The session begun by Col. M. L. C. Stilwell complimenting the students on their work and strangely did seem in no wise reluctant so to do. The three hour post-mortem established two facts one, that the umpires didn't know any more about the war than the players; and two, that it takes a lot of anti-tank flags to stop the tanks, Col. Stil-well having had to wave one at Maior

Roberts in order to end the critique

To Hook Range in the afternoon to witness a chemical demonstration. The participating students did don white suits with hoods much like to pajamas for a cold climate and with the pointed face and probsocis of the gas mask they did look for all the world like a troop of trained ant-bears out for a walk. This sartorial unit did strike me as being most appropriate for wear during most First Sestion lectures.

An airplane emitting smoke, and doubtless in the employ of the School, put all sections to shame by putting out more U's in five minutes of sky writing than all Sections working at their best speed could produce in time for lunch.

Tuesday, May 9

Lecture this morning by the big biscuit and beans man, Captain Paul, during which a written query passed across my desk enroute from one student to another. It read as follows: "Do you believe Capt. Paul is a des cendant from a Kansas Medicine And very shortly it crossed the desk again travelling back and reading, "No, I think an Indian teed off from him one time and failed to replace the divot."

More stories of maneuvers being passed around today and myself greatly tickled by the one of the artilleryman wakened in the midst of a tear gas attack. Groping about in his blindness he seized and donned what he believed to be a gas-mask. Immediately he jerked it off spluttering "What blankety blank blank this and that went and put oats in my gas-mask?"

And so, by easy stages, toward graduation.

GEORGIA RESERVE OFFICERS (Continued From Page 1)

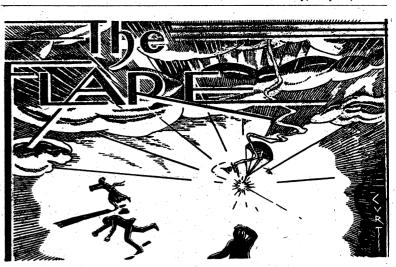

other expenses will be available for their attendance. The commanding general of Fort Knox, Ky., has announced that accommodations including adequate messing facilities, will be available for reserve officers at

CLUB TO SPONSOR FLOWER SHOW AT FORT

(Continued From Page 1)

There will be an attractive prize and three ribbons awarded to the best display in each classification. sweepstakes prize will be awarded the person scoring the greatest number of points in the show. There will be a prize for the exhibitor making the greatest number of entries. Each of the classes for children will be awarded a prize and ribbons.

All members of the garrison are most cordially invited to enter as many displays as they wish. It is not necessary to be a member of the Woman's Club in order to enter displays in the show. No entry fee will be

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

CONDUCTED BY E. F. H.

RUMORS-BELIEVE 'EM OR NOT

For what we are about to receive, may the Lord make us truly thankful. Amen Short Blessing.

The past month has seen a tremendous pick up in the basic rumor If legitimate business were operating at the same rate as the Benning rumor factory, the country's twelve million unemployed would all be drawing pay for overtime.

We have heard on good authority that the Army would be reduced by four thousand, three thousand and one thousand officers. We have been assured that there would be no permanent reduction at all but that everybody would be furloughed at half pay—also no pay. We have heard that The Infantry School would be closed next year and that it wouldn't. We have been reliably informed that all captains would be drafted into the C. C. C. We have heard that officers would be eliminated first for physical defects, second, for age, and third, on record. Other authentic rumors give various permutations and combinations of this order of elimination—the wildest being that officers who have been just one jump ahead of ' B" boards for years would get the axe before excellent and superior officers who were born a few years too soon. This, of course, is absurd. mention it only to show how ridiculous some of these stories are.

All of this is most disturbing. It keeps the country's defenders and their wives-particularly their wives-in a state of constant turmoil.

Ever mindful of its mission to furnish our public with the low down everything, we have kept the grapevine wires hot in an endeavor to get the latest advance information on what is really going to happen to the army. We are pleased to announce that after weeks of effort, we have it.

The commissioned strength of the Army will not be reduced but four thousand officers will be given an indefinite furlough without pay. The selection will be made from young, physically perfect officers on merit alone—only those having a superior or excellent rating being eligible.

There are two big and somewhat revolutionary ideas back of this program. In the first place, the administration realizes that Army officers of ordinary ability would promptly become public charges if thrown into the cut throat competition of the business world in its present state. In the second place, the president's advisers are of the opinion that the present economic struggle constitutes a splendid preparatory school for those who have shown aptitude for high command. In support of their theory, it will be recalled that Grant, Sherman, Jackson and other leaders of marked ability were recalled from civil pursuits at the outbreak of the Civil War.

This phase of the New Deal has much to commend it. For one thing, it will be an interesting experiment and for another it gives those who have hitherto felt secure in their jobs something to think about.

AS THE SPIRIT MOVES SCENE: The Catholic Chapel. TIME: Sunday, May 7.

Cast of Characters Chaplain Monahan Mrs. Fort Brady Mrs. Sam Houston

The curtain rises with the chaplain in his robes of office conducting the responsive reading of the Lord's CHAPLAIN MONAHAN: Our Father who are in heaven, Hallowed be thy name.

Thy kingdom come

Thy will be done

On earth as it is in heaven. MRS. SAM HOUSTON (In stage whisper): Where are you ordered? MRS. FORT BRADY and MRS. HOUSTON together: Give us this day our daily bread. MRS. FORT BRADY (sotto voice):

Fort Brady Michigan. What about vou?

BOTH TOGETHER: And forgive us MRS. SAM HOUSTON: San Antonio and we wanted to go north. BOTH TOGETHER: As we forgive those who trespass against us. MRS. FORT BRADY: And we asked for a southern station. BOTH TOGETHER: Lead us not into temptation.

MRS. SAM HOUSTON: Isn't that just the way? BOTH TOGETHER: And deliver us from evil. MRS. FORT BRADY: Never knew it to fail. BOTH TOGETHER: Amen.

FUZZARD ON INFLATION

Flare copy being scarce this week, we were delighted to learn that our old friend, General Marathon Miltiades Fuzzard, cashiered, was in town. The General dropped out of sight after his whirlwind campaign for the presidency and nasty rumors were circulated that he was taking a rap for bootlegging. We know of no better way to answer this foul accusation than to quote the General's words:

'Wot the hell makes 'em think I'd be peddlin' it when I got use for all can get myself."

"Your constituents out at the Fort would like to hear your views on inflation. Nobody out there except Bob Hall seems to understand it, we said by way of changing to more pleasant subject.

The General made a bull's eye on the brass cuspidor, eight feet away. "I can tell you all about it," asserted confidently. "Fact is, it's my idea. Frank called me in to a conference just after he shut all the banks and things looked pretty bad for anybody that had any money in 'em. He had a lot of college professors in too, but their lingo about diminishing returns and unearned increment gave me a headache. listen to 'em, Frank,' I says, 'I'll tell you what the trouble is. People ain't got enough money. 'What are we goin' to do about it, Milt,' he says, and then I says 'I'll tell you what to do about it. Go off the gold standard and print some more money. Only don't do it' says I 'until you cut their pay. If you issue a lot of new money and then cut the pay, it'll look bad. But if you cut the pay first, the Army will take it all e right because they'll figure the government ain't got any money. Then you can put over your inflation be cause they don't know nothin' about economics anyway. When prices go up, they'll blame the local merchants:

cuss out the Post Exchange. And

(Please turn to page 5)

even if some of 'em do figure out

Page Five

Automobiles and household goods insurance at reduced rates for all military and civil personnel.

GOVERNMENT PERSONNEL AUTOMOBILE ASSOCIATION SAN ANTONIO, TEXAS

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

SUITS $9.95

WASH PANTS 95c

> HATS 95c

SHIRTS 95c

Other Prices In Proportion

WALTER

CLOTHING CO

Woman's Club

LITERARY SECTION

The Literary Section of the Infartry School Woman's Club held its last meeting of the year at the Polo Hunt Club on Monday May 8th with Mrs. John A. Otto in charge of the program.

A most interesting program was given as books from the late spring fiction were reviewed.

Mrs. Claudius M. Easley gave an interesting review of "One More Spring" by Robert Nathan.

Mrs. Thomas G. Hearn reviewed two books: "Never Ask the End" by Isabel Paterson and "The Last Adam," which is the first novel of James Gould Cozzens and was selected as the January book of the Book-of-the-Month Club.

Mrs. Phillip G. Blackmore reviewed "Pageant" by G. B. Lancaster." "Pageant" is a historical novel of Tasmania from 1848 to the beginning of the present century. Tasmania is an island off the coast of Australia.

Mrs. John A. Otto reviewed "South Moon Under" by Marjorie Kinnan Rawlings. It is a tale of the "scrub" country of the interior Florida, where a primitive people lead a hard, but hearty life. Mrs. Otto gave interesting reviews of "Man Wants But Little" a first novel of Wilson Wright; and "The House of Exile" by Nora Waln, the tale of an American girl's experience in China.

Mrs. Clough F. Gee gave three delightful reviews. The first "Hardy Perennial" by Helen Hull is the story of the Prentiss family and gives a crowded year in the life of this New York family. The second, "Sunset Song" by Lewis Grassic Gibbon is a novel of Scottish peasant life; and the third, "Jenny Wren" by E. H. Young.

In closing Mrs. Joseph A. Holly, chairman of the Literary Section, thanked everyone for their cooperation and help in making this a most successful year.

THE FLARE

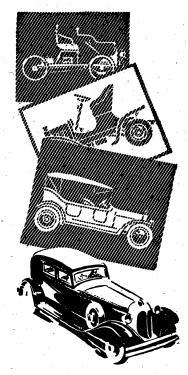

(Continued from page 4)
that they're gettin' hooked both ways, they can't do nothin' about it.'"
"It looks to me as if you did the

CONVENIENT LOCATION—MODERN EQUIPMENT RATES REASONABLE

Phone your agent or call our Superintendent, Mr. Trussell,
Phone 3062

DIMON COURT APARTMENTS

Cars Are Still Far From Being Perfect

should be careful to see that you do not violate any of the rules of safety by running your car when it may have defective parts. Have it examined regularly and use only the best oils and greases, and you will do much to insure the safety of yourself and others.

AUTO DEPT. POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone
Not In The Military Service.

Army a bad turn with you advice," we murmured reproachfully.

"Well, I ain't had no special love for the Army since they kicked me out," continued the General, "but in one way it may help 'em. As Frank said in his speech over the Raddio, this here inflation gives the feller who borrowed money when there was plenty of it a chance to pay it back when it ain't so scarce. It helps the debtor classes and the Army is in the debtor class up to its neck."

"I don't exactly see how Army debtors are going to be helped much with prices going up and pay going down," we protested.

"It ought to help their morale just to know that the President feels that way about it," replied the General. "When he gets the butcher, the baker, and the candlestick maker fixed up he may give you fellers a few playin' cards in this New Deal. But so long as there ain't a war on, you've gotta wait your turn. And I'm a tellin' you from experience that your turn comes a long way down the list. In the meantime, why not let the creditor classes do the worryin'. That's been my policy all along and it saves a lot of wear and tear on whatever you got that passes for a brain."

CITATION FOR THE WEEK In the course of our long and faith ful service as commentator on outstanding achievements by members of our talented garrison, we have cited impresarios, play directors, actors, Masters of Fox Hounds, Horse Show promoters, various club/officials, and numerous other public spirited citizens. Not everyone, however, who has deserved honorable mention by this department has received it. There are many among us who do really worthwhile things so quietly and inconspicuously that our plodding mental processes don't react to the occasion until after the current issue has gone to press.

This week we welcome to our private Hall of Fame one who, but for the fact that our sense of appreciation is equipped with a delayed action fuse, would have been in it long ago. We should have dashed off an enthusiastic citation at the first public display of the talent which now brings this belated acknowledgment. We might even have given one for something totally different—namely, the best review of an amateur play that we ever read, but we slipped up on that, too. This time, however, we are spreading it on the records for we were fortunate in being one of a number from Benning who were present at the concert given in Columbus on Sunday afternoon. This week's tribute goes, therefore:

To Mary Tucker for a piano recital that delighted not only the competent critics of classical music, but also registered in a big way with the conductor of this column and other representatives of Benning's rude soldiery who braved a garden tea fight to hear it.

GIRL SCOUT NOTES (Continued From Page 3)

baths!

Again we thank everybody, in cluding those who had only a small part in giving all the Scouts the best fun of their lives!

Cardinal Troop

By Tuesday, the ninth, we were all rested again and ready for more! The "more" will be the Court of Awards a week from Wednesday.

We spent today's meeting listing our badges, and discussing the overnight trip.

Pine Tree Troop

Those who didn't go on the overnight hike were given a special treat in the form of a supper hike. The Second and First Class girls stayed home (at the cabin) and proved very nobly that they were Second and First Class. They had a test, you see, covering part of the work.

The Tenderfoots went to a water-proof camping spot (it was raining) and cooked their supper of ring-turn-tiddy and rolls. The dessert was fruit and—chunkies! What a surprise. One of the girls told me how much she liked Nancy and what a girl she was; then I saw her eyeing the chunky box! Miss Stilwell said she enjoyed the hike as much as the girls did, and that's something!

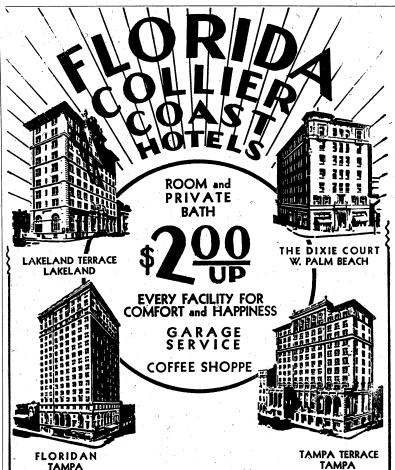

Of course they are good! They are made with Collins' Bread—and that will lend additional flavor to anything. Try Collins' Triple Loaf, for a new treat in bread!

COLLINS' BAKING CO.

1144 - 13TH STREET

ASSOCIATED HOTELS

JACKSONVILLE

HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON

HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

Buy Now

Wholesale Prices Are Advancing Rapidly.

Protect Your Wants
At Our Low Prices.

Just Received

Palm Beach Suits $12.50

Linen Suits $7.50 and $10.00

B. V. D. and Jantzen
BATHING SUITS
Ladies, Girls, Men and Bovs

Chancellor Co.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Corn Griffin Wins Verdict Over Bozo

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

Duster Mails, old major league to the batter, the catcher was to snap pitcher, tells his one on himself:- the ball loudly into his mitt and we "One day some years ago I was pitch- hoped the umpire would think it a ing for a team in the Southern Lea- strike and call the batter out, it begue in a game that went far into ing as dark as it was. So back went extra innings on a dark and cloudy the catcher with the ball. I went afternoon. In the visitors' half of the through the motions of pitching a fourteenth frame, they filled the bags ball to the batter. The catcher loudwith two out and I had two strikes ly banged the ball he had been holdand three balls on the batter. It was ing into his glove. But the batter so dark the fans and players had been ragging the umpire to call the game but he would not. So I called our catcher to the box and I told him my scheme. He was to return to the place behind the bat with the ball concealed in his big mitt. I was to him to first and thus forced in what go through the motions of pitching proved to be the winning run!

must have been a lip-reader. For just as I delivered the imaginary ball he let out a yell of pain, dropped his bat and grabbed his arm. And that durned umpire ruled the batter had been hit by a pitched ball, sent Babe Ruth has a notoriously poor memory for names and as a general thing every one is "Charley" or "Buddy" to him. And this is one of the tales they tell concerning his lack of remembering. A year or so ago last Christmastide, Ruth set out to address a flock of Christmas cards. He took his ball playing friends first and naturally, of these, the Yankees led all the rest. Finally his wife noticed him scratching his head in great puzzlement. At last he turned to her for help, "Say, Honey," he asked, "what the dickens is the name of the first baseman on our team that also

With modern pitching in the major leagues, scores in which the winning team gets eight or ten runs are regarded as slugging matches. But back in 1922, the Chicago Cubs and the Phillies put on an exhibtion that stands as a world's record so far as the big leagues are concerned. The final score was Chicago 26, Philadelphia 23. Just 49 runs scored all together. Not the least remarkable phase of this massacre was that neither club made a single error. The Cubs used five pitchers, the Phillies but two. Of the 51 hits made by the two teams, twelve were doubles, three were triples and three were home runs. And the Cubs put on two huge innings, scoring 10 runs in the second frame and 14 in the fourth.

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital 1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

Howard Bus Line. Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

Fro			Fro
Colum	nbus	4 3	Ft. Ben	ning
5:00			6:00	AM
6:00			7:50	*
7:00			9:15	- 44
8:30		×	10:45	. 44
10:00	66		12:45	PM
11:45	- 44		2:15	44
1:30	PM		4:15	**
3:00	"		5:10
5:00	66	-	6:00	66
7:00	44	. •	7:00	44
9:00	" -	•	8:00	44
10:30			9:45	*
12:00	M		11:15	66 .)
,			12:00	M
	Al	so "Extras"
		HOOL BU
410		PHONES		224
CITY				OST

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

Don't Run Yourself To Death

It's useless, because you can rent a Still car and RIDE wherever you want to go. And you'll likely save yourself a lot of embarassment by filling your date ON TIME.

EASY RATES GOOD CARS FORDS — CHEVROLETS

STILL'S RENT-A-CAR CO.

1232 FIRST AVE.

Griffin Had Edge In Featured Bout Of Balanced Card

4-H Posey Wins By Technical K. O. From Kid Baisden In Semi-Final

John "Corn" Griffin pounded out a close over Battling Bozo in the main bout of one of the finest fight cards ever staged at the post. A large crowd was on hand to witness the events and were not disappointed. "Red" Lindsey refereed the preliminary bouts, and Lieut. Howard Johnson was the third man in the ring during the semi-final and main go.

Battling Bozo went into the ring nursing a healthy respect for Corn's potent punching. From the first round to the last, he gave fans an exhibition of master boxing, weaving, ducking, side-stepping, and rolling with punches. Griffin was the aggressor throughout.

The first few rounds found both fighters on even terms. Griffin was trying desperately to connect with a telling blow, but his opponent presented an elusive target. That Bozo was out to win the fight was easily apparent in the opening round. The smug smile of confidence that usually graces the featrues of the Slagtown Slugger was absent; in its place, appeared a grim determination.

Every round except the ninth and tenth was fought in the same fashion. Battling Bozo was at his best and was taking no chances. Whenever Griffin came close enough to do any damage, Bozo promptly tied him up in a clinch. Nevertheless, Corn landed several stiff punches in the opening rounds that Bozo did not pick out of the air with his gloves. But for the most part, Bozo remained strictly on the defense, his main object being to stay clear of the flying fists of the old soldier. In this he succeeded until the ninth round.

In the ninth round, Griffin began to get under way, and scored fre-quently with his left. The stanza went to Corn by a fairly decisive margin. The tenth also was won by the soldier, who was still fresh at the final gong, while Bozo looked tired. The decision in favor of the Tanker met the approval of the crowd. Griffin's aggressiveness, the harder punches that he landed, and his fine boxing influenced the verdict.

In the semi-final, Four-H Posey and Charley "Kid" Baisden put up a battle that more than rose up to the level of expectation. Posey was the winner when Baisden's seconds threw in the towel just after the seventh round had got under way.

The first two rounds were Flurries of infighting featured the opening stanzas. The third round went to the Paducah battler by a slender margin. In this round, Baisden, at one time, threw such a fusilade of punches that he pitched to the floor when they all fell short of their mark. Posey was doing damage with a long right uppercut in the clinches. fifth round found Baisden in trouble and holding frequently. It was this round that marked the beginning of the end. Posey caught Baisden with a right and left to the button, and Charlie catapulted agianst the ropes, obviously hurt. Baisden backpedalled but Posey caught up with him and was inflicting plenty of punishment at the bell.

When the gong rang for the sixth, Baisden was across the floor like a tiger, and surprised Posey with a ferocious attack. But Charlie had sprung his last bolt. Four-H connected with a right uppercut to the jaw and Baisden went down for a count of nine. For a brief second or two,

(Please turn to page 7)

Tanker Trackmen Hand Tiger Cubs Licking In Recent Match At Auburn

It looks like a certain element is going to cause a lot of trouble to the other teams in the post intramural track meet scheduled for the 25th of this month, and that element is the team known as the Golden Tornado of the tank battalion.

Last Saturday morning the Tankers journeyed over to Auburn, fully expectant of taking a terrific licking at the hands of the freshman tracksters. Last Saturday evening the Tornado returned, leaving a chastened and badly whipped Tiger cub to lick its wounds in the solitudes of Ala-

The Plainsmen didn't have a chance, that was apparent from the beginning. Eight first places and the relay, out of the thirteen events run off, together with a large plurality of seconds and thirds, and a clean sweep in two events, gave the Tanks the overwhelming margin of thirtythree points in a 761-2-431-2 victory.

The individual highlight of the meet was the showing made by Thorne, Tanks, who ran second in the relay. Taking the baton from the lead-off man with his opponent a good three yards in the front. Thorne showed unusual headwork at the second turn. Spurting, he passed the runner, forced him to the outside lane, and proceeded to pile up a ten yard lead before the lap was over.

The Tankers won the event with a thirty yard lead, smashing the Fort Benning time for the relay by eleven seconds.

Other outstanding features of the meet were the shutout handed to the frosh in the 880 yard run and the broad jump; Jones' 20 ft. 5 inches leap in the latter contest; Coble's tossing of the javelin 181 ft. 5 in.; and Adams' pole-vaulting to the height of 11 ft. 2 in., all of them equaling, if not beating Benning's records for the

(Please turn to page 7)

Home Savings Bank

"The White Bank"

Capital _____$150,000.00 Surplus _____ 50,000.00

Interest Paid on Deposits at 3 per cent. per annum, compounded semi-annually. Short term Certificates of Deposit issued at 3 per cent. per annum

Home of the

CHRISTMAS SAVINGS CLUB

For Bonning Representative: R. M. HALL, Jr., Phone 290

... who hardly need be told that it takes fine tackle to make a good disciple of Izaak Walton - the Main Branch has a complete line of all kinds of fishing equipment.

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service.

Plans Are Being Perfected Now For

Contestants in the Cotton States Tennis Tournament, at Fort Benning June 6-11 this year, are going to find the army entries in this, the south's leading tennis event, tough customers to handle. As a matter of fact, and despite the entries of such Southern luminaries as Bryan Grant, Gus Feur, Jack Mooney, Lefty Bryan and others, it easily is possible that the next tennis king of the Cotton States will be an army officer in the person of one Lieutenant Dolph E. Muehleisen, Air Corps.

According to information received by Major Henry B. Lewis, chairman of the Officers' Club tennis committee which is handling arrangements for the event, Lieutenant Muehleisen plans to come from March Field, California, where he is stationed, to play in tennis tournaments in the east during June, and will spend a week at Fort Benning. With him on the trip and also entering the Cotton States Tournament will be Lieutenants Robinson (former army champion), Helms, Stone, and Merrill.

A definite idea of this Muehleisen person's batting ability was established last week in the Chae Valle: (California) tournament, when he took Keith Gledhill, number three ranking player of the United States, to the tennis limit of 7-5, 5-7, 7-5, before giving up to him the honor of meeting the national champion, Ellsworth Vines, in the finals of that tournament. And in the doubles of

Maxwell Optical Co. I. A. MAXWELL

Optometrist and Optician

A COMPLETE OPTICAL SERVICE

1217 Broadway

Phone 3718

HALF SOLES A GOOD A BETTER 50c · Half . Sole

LAMAC SOLE $1.00
The Only 5-Unit Machine In
Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY We specialize in cripple work

Phone 565 1234 Broadway

> Dependable Electric and Gas Service

GEORGIA
POWER S COMPANY

A Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

Drink

The Best Cola Beverage

1-20

Spend This Crown Same As Cash

teamed with Lieutenant Robinson to where they were finally eliminated in Coming Tourney a close match by probably the best combination playing in the United States since Allison and Van Ryn started losing—Vines and Gledhill. A newcomer to tournament tennis, Muehleisen flashed too late in the season last year to be considered in national ratings. The summer of 1932 was his first real experience at tournament tennis, but when he did et underway, he quickly established himself as a leading player with real possibilities by winning the Army Championship, trimming the Navy's leading players in the Leech Cup matches, and then, before the season ended, taking the measure of no less han five nationally ranked stars.

His reaching and semi-finals at Ojei and then losing a close match to Gledhill is Muehleisen's opening gain in the 1933 campaign. Those who know his ability predict a high na tional ranking for him before the summer is over.

Other entries for the Cotton States are reaching Major Lewis in every mail and present indications are that the Infantry School will entertain, on June 6-11, possibly the best and largest collection of tennis players the South has seen together. Jack Mooney, former Cotton States and Southern champion for several years was at Fort Benning yesterday with the Atlanta team and while there conferred with Major Lewis and Captain James H. Drake on further details of the tournament. As a member of the advisory committee of the South ern Lawn Tennis Association, Mooney is acting as the representative of the Association in making plans for the tournament. Mr. A. K. Tigrett, Memohis, Tenn., president of the Association, will come to Fort Benning later and will be present during the playing of the Cotton States tournament

TANKERS GIVE TIGER CUB LICKING AT AUBURN

(Continued From Page 6) events. Thorne also cracked the post record in the 220, and Lloyd did the same thing for the mile run.

Results of the different events were as follows:

100 yd. dash: 1st, Griffin, Tanks; 2d Long, Auburn; 3d Orouke, Au

Time: 10.8. Mile Run: 1st, Lloyd, Tanks; 2d, Iones, Auburn; 3d, Powers, Auburn.

Time: 4.58. Shot Put: 1st, Huckaby, Auburn; 2d, Wadsworth, Tanks; 3d, Parker, Tanks, 39 ft. 8 in.

440 yd. dash: 1st, Griffin, Tanks; 2d, Emrey, Auburn; 3d, Trotter, Auburn. Time: 53.4.

Pole vault: 1st, McKenzie, Auburn; 2d, Adams, Tanks. Height: 11 ft. 3 in. High hurdles: 1st, Lawrence, Auburn; 2d, Segrest, Tanks. (Mercer, Auburn, and Turner, Tanks, disquali fied. No time taken).

880 yd. run: 1st, Mathews, Tanks; 2d, Lloyd, Tanks; 3d, Warren, Tanks. Time 2.10 9-10

Discus: 1st, Huckaby, Auburn; 2d, Rocky, Tanks; 3d, Parker, Tanks. 106 ft.

High jump: 1st, Hall, Tanks; Thorne, Tanks, tied. 2d, Weaver, Tanks, Walker, Auburn, tied. Height 5 ft. 7 in.

220 yd. dash: 1st, Thorne, Tanks; 2d, Long, Auburn; 3d, Pullen, Tanks. Time: 23.6.

220 yd. low hurdles: 1st, Lawrence, Auburn, 2d, McCullen, Tanks, 3d, Javelin: 1st, Coble, Tanks; 2d, Plummer, Auburn; 3d, Heath, Tanks. 181 ft. 5 in.

Broad jump: 1st, Jones, Tanks; 2d, O'Brien, Tanks; 3d, Weaver, Tanks. 20 ft. 4 1-2 in.

Relay: 1st, Tanks. Team: Griffin, Thorne, Mathews, Pullen. Auburn Team: Mercer, Lawrence, Trotter, Emrey. Time: 2.46.

Everything for the GARDEN and LAWN; seeds, plants, tools, fer-

VALLEY SEED CO. 1041 Broadway

fight their way into the semi-finals In Early Stages

Post championship tennis tournaments are now well under way. Sevmatches were played over Tuesday and Wednesday. In his first round match, Captain Drake, ranking Fort Benning net artist, won an easy victory over Lieut. Henry Britt by scores of 6-1, 6-1. Britt, suffering more from lack of practice than anything else, nevertheless showed well. Drake was unextended.

Dewey defeated Lovett in a fiercely-fought three set match. Dewey won the first set at 6-3, lost the second at 2-6, and rallied to capture the third and deciding set at 7-5. Captain Wilson turned back Warren Drake Jr. easily by scores of 6-2, 6-2. George Beatty, who won the Boys' Championship last fall, won from Major Lewis in straight sets 7-5, 6-2.

Newman, Lynch, Sherburne, and Poore all drew byes. Harding was victorious over Weyrauch in straight sets 6-3, 6-1, and Major Blackmore upset Gavin 6-1, 6-4. John Barnes won from Blair 6-3, 6-4.

The only match that has been played in the Mixed Doubles Tournament to date resulted in a victory for the Mrs. Keiler-Captain Drake combination which won from Lt. and Mrs. Blair without difficulty 6-1, 6-3.

In the Ladies' Singles, Mrs. Keiler, one of the outstanding favorites, defeated Mrs. Blair 6-1, 6-2.

GRIFFIN DEFEATS BOZO (Continued From Page 6)

it looked like the end, but Charlie, one more demonstrating to the fans his indomitable courage, came up before the fatal ten. Using his head, he began to backpedal, in an effort to give his head a little time to clear. But Posey had other ideas and followed up his advantage without delay. Baisden fought back courageously but ineffectually. Posey was not to be denied and seconds later, the Kid was again on the floor. And again he came up at the count of nine. Mercilessly Posey proceeded to the attack. Another right lifted Baisden clear off his feet and sent him sprawling to the canvas for the third time. Now, for a surety, it looked like the end. But the gong rang at the count of three. Baisden's seconds leaped into the ring and dragged his prostrate form to the corner, working over him desperately.

Shortly after the beginning of the seventh, Posey whipped another right to the jaw, flooring Baisden. But Charlie, dazed and groggy as he was, proved to the satisfaction of everyone that the word "quit" was not in his vocabulary, by staggering to his feet. It was at this point that his seconds tossed in the towel to save their battler from further punishment.

Bunker Hill won the decision over Ben Spivey in the feature six-round-It was a typical fight between the two, and the crowd shouted itself hoarse during every one of the six rounds. Spivey put on his customary iron-man stunt, taking everything that Hill could give in the way of punishment and coming back for more. The soldier also received his share of punishment. Even the referee, Red Lindsey, was not exempt ond round, Chick opened up a bad cut over Ginger's left eye, which bled profusely and necessitated the stop ping of the brawl in the fourth stanza. Liddell and Jernigan boxed beau-

In a four round bout, Webster won ning streak in the bud.

the same tournament Muehleisen Local Tournament from the flying gloves that were toss- a wide decision over Young Bozo. Both Chick Liddell won by a technical went astray. Webster found his op-K. O. over Ginger Jernigan in the ponent an open target and won every other six-rounder. Early in the secone of the four rounds. Both fighters threw plenty of leather.

In the curtain raiser, Seaweed Wilson won over Lefty Kline. Fast fighting featured the bout, which Wilson won by a fairly decesive margin. Wilson's victory nipped Kline's win-

FRESH VEGETABLES

WILL SOON BE READY!

The approach of summer weather is always the signal for fresh vegetables, for nothing adds so much zest or healthfulness to a meal as these do.

You will find that the Grocery Department carries a full and varied supply of vegetables, for cooking and for salads, and can supply your wants.

GROCERY DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service.

ROBERT KLOEPPEL - OWNER DIRECTO

The Best Toasted Peanut

10m's

From Every Standpoint!

Look At This: $250.00 To Be Given Away Every Two Weeks! See Details of Tall Tales Contest on Tom's Cards, Beginning May 15th.

Special May Sale LOWER PRICES

1932 Ford Panel Delivery	$310
1930 Ford Coupe	275
1930 Ford Coach	210
1931 Ford Coach
1931 Ford Victoria
1930 Dodge Sedan	385
1928 Oakland	125
1928 Studebaker Com	250
1929 Buick Coach
1929 Chevrolet Coach	195
Every car completely conditioned.	re-

Money Back Guarantee

Columbus Roberts MOTOR CO.

STUDEBAKER - ROCKNE PIERCE ARROW White - Indiana - Trucks - Busses Phone 271

RUBBER STAMPS COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

BURRUS

The Best Place To Buy

ANY USED CAR

'31	Buio			$5	50
	Coup	e	 	 Ψυ	.
			,

'30 Dodge 8 Cylinder Deluxe Fordor_____

'31	Ford	Deluxe	_ $3	95
. C	Coupe		_	4
J.			٠.,

'32 Ford V-8 $495 Cabriolet ----

MANY OTHERS

BURRUS MOTOR

COMPANY

1216-22 1st Ave.

Phone 3500

Tales Of The Tent City

What-No congressional investigations this week? We may have one next week as Ed. Cunningham says he is going to write his Senator about this hot weather we are having.

We note that as the expiration of our stay is drawing near, more members of our class are following the foot steps of those foresighted individuals who have so much to say to on instructor at the end of each conference. Is it a means of insuring a good efficiency report? We would like to inform these gentlemen that this School has been here some 13 or 14 years and every trick has been pulled from the bag and there are none left. Try some other way, this won't work. Believe me, this is the approved solution.

Obituary

Died on the seventh day of May, 1933, the well known and oft cussed Blue Goose. Christened on the 24th day of February 1933, and nursed along thru an arduous period of unrelenting toil. Following a week of internal illness which the best advice and assistance offered by the mechanics of the Tank School was unable to diagnose, the old Blue Goose passed to the great beyond. Deep and inconsolable grief for the departed is felt by all officers of the Tent City.

We want to thank the Ladies Auxiliary of the Advisory Council who hold daily meetings in Columbus, for being so interested in our class affairs. We also want to thank those ladies for allowing our class to hold a stag party. Feel assured ladies, we will take good care of your husbands this particular nite; they are in God's pocket when they are with "The only line I got right on my TOG was the north and south line." Farney: "Just think of the major cut and the "U" you would get if the north and south line wasn't cor-

$550 | Famous Police Dog Visits Pupils Of Children's School

Canine royalty of moviedom came to Fort Benning Thursday morning to perform for the youngsters of the Children's School, and give valuable lessons in safety measures in daily life. Silver King, last of the line of doggy cinema stars, and Mr. Arthur Butler, his trainer and owner, who are traveling the country teaching the lessons of safety recommended by the Silvertown Safety League, made an appearance before the post kiddies of Benning and were received with great enthusiasm by the younger members of the garrison.

The dog, who is eight and one-half years old, and a member of 95 police departments throughout the nation, added another force to his record when Captain Arnold J. Funk, Provost Marshal, made him an honorary member of the Military Police

FORT BENNING

We enjoy your fights We enjoy your polo We enjoy your business We enjoy your friendship

WE THANK YOU

The Provision Co., Inc.

"Makers of good Sausage"

24th Inf. Chorus To Give Program At Main Theatre

Music lovers of Fort Benning will be given an extraordinary entertainment on the evening of Sunday May 21st, when the 24th Infantry chorus, comprising 70 singers, will appear in a forty minute program, featuring negro spirituals at the Main Theater, after the second motion picture show.

The program will be presented under the direction of Doctor Manly lic appearance of the season. A sec- tional features.

ond presentation of the same program will be given at the 24th Infantry Theater on the evening of May 24th. Arrangements have been made to broadcast one of the presentations over the local radio station.

The 24th Infantry chorus, while never having appeared in any other locality than at Fort Benning, is nevertheless, nationally known, through a musical program staged for a motion picture news reel which was shown all over the country and which was reported to have been the hit of the season.

Colonel Fred L. Munson, commander of the 24th Infantry, has taken L. Taylor, of Columbus, who has an active interest in the promotion been drilling the chorus for some of the regimental chorus program as time in a prepartion for its first publone of the regiment's principal recrea-

First National Bank

Georgia Home Building "The White Bank"

Capital and Surplus__$ 350,000.00 Resources Over ____ 2,000,000.00

Fort Benning Representative:

R. M. Hall, Jr.—Phone 290

Rent a Box in our Safety Burglar and Fire-proof Vaults for your Valuables. Prices moderate.

Accounts of Fort Benning

Personnel Solicited UNITED STATES DEPOSITORY

AN INVESTMENT OPPORTUNITY UNUSUAL MERIT

Cumulative Preferred Stock

Par value $25.00 per share. Preferred as to dividends and assets. Dividends must be fully paid on this stock before anything can be paid to holders of common stock, also all arrears must be brought up to date. In event of liquidation all holders of preferred stock must be paid off in full plus all accumulated dividends before any assets may be divided

 $^{$}50,000.$

TO BE SOLD IN ANY AMOUNT ... $25 UP.

8% Payable Quarterly

Dividends Payable In January, April, July, October

Issued By

SECURITY

SAVINGS and LOAN COMPANY COLUMBUS, GEORGIA

This company is owned, controlled and operated by citizens of Columbus and Fort Benning. It has no outside affiliations. The board of directors are well known Columbus business men and serve without cost to the company. All salaries are conservatively based and general overhead expenses are maintained at a very low level. Operating in 1932 on a paid in capital of $73,000.00 common stock, this company showed a net profit in excess of the $4,000 required to pay the dividend on the new issue of the preferred stock.

This business has developed so rapidly that for several months they have been unable to accomodate the large number of applicants, particularly from the Army. They have maintained a waiting list on loans that has averaged from $5,000 to $8,000 at all times. The Audit of Johnson-Wellborn Co. and signed by S. M. Wellborn, Jr., Cert. Pub. Acct., made in January 1933 shows that a total of $53,000 in loans was made to Army officers during 1932 and t January 1st, there was less than one-half of one per cent of this amount past due and that there were no losses whatever.

The purpose of this new issue is to take care of this surplus of

Purchase Of This Stock Is Recommended As A Safe And Profitable Investment

CAN BE PURCHASED AT THE OFFICE OF THE COMPANY OR FROM THE LOCAL BROKERS

W. R. LUTTRELL

S. GILLIS & \mathbf{W} . SON VOLUME III

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, MAY 19, 1933

NUMBER 4

Commandant Will Retire On June 1st

MOOTE

Some time ago The Flare comment ed at length upon the Playboy Contest being sponsored by police-officer Lawson. Since then, many dates have passed over into history, and The Flare, occupied with fresher scandal, has been unable to give any space to the famous contest, now rapidly approaching conclusion.

A word about Captain Lawson, whose comparatively advanced age from consideration as one of Benning's outstanding playboys (he stands upon his record), would be appropriate at this point. He still flits from car to car, from youthful blossom to youthful blossom in a manner that puts many of the post's younger and more agile Lotharios to shame.

When the item concerning the contest appeared in The Flare, Caldwell lengths-we mean dates. Came the two weeks maneuvers and the majority of Benning's leading playboys were forced to work off their zest in the woods. Caldwell saw his chance and made haste to avail himself of the golden opportunity.

Marathon dancers, flag-pole sitters, hot dog consumers, and beer drinkers were paled into insignificance. Nonstop pilots will blush with shame and mortification when they concentrate their optics on that which are about to make public. We are confident that our words will sear even the eyeballs of the blind. For, in the brief two weeks that the officers were away in the woods and for one week thereafterwards, Caldwell Foos made history, establishing a post record that will probably stand for all timetwenty-two consecutive dates.

We dispatched a reporter at once his quiet understandable timdity, the approached the record-breaker, who said modestly: "Many are enter taining the erroneous opinion that, inasmuch as I have already rolled up a decisive lead. I will content myself with merely coasting in to the finish. As a matter of fact, you can quote me as saying that I intend to maintain a grueling pace, thus indicating to those skeptical of my achievements that my consecutive run of dates was no flash in the pan."

Honorable mention in the contest will undoubtedly go to Lieutenant Brookner Brady who, although running a rather poor second to Caldwell, has outdistanced—we beg pardon-outdated all other competitors.

Lieutenant Mike Mullikin, present at the National Guard dance last Friday evening, was guilty of an embarrassing faux pas. Upon first entering the dance floor, he observed flux of men who are being sent in what looked suspiciously like a receiving line adorning the portion of wall next to the door. So, bracing himself for the ordeal, he approached the nearest officer on the line and, mut- of the academic department, have tering social nothings, introduced the bee nadded to the regular officer staff charming young lady who was his of the local camp. Captains John W. guest for the occasion. Across the of- Blue, Rutledge M. Lawson, and Geo. ficers' face, there flashed expressions V. W. Pope, all of Fort Benning, have

(Please turn to page 5)

School To Close Monday Morning

A last minute rearrangement of the class schedules of the Infantry School, a revision of the plans for assigning officer graduates, members of the faculty, and other officers of the staff and garrison, and hasty readjustment of the personal plans of the hundreds of officers involved were necessitated by telegraphic orders received at Post Headquarters Monday morning from the adjutant general which directed that present school term of the Infantry School be officially ended on May 22, in order to meet the officer does not necessarily eliminate him demand of the Civilian Conservation Corps. Further instructions stated that all graduates of the Infantry School, and all members of the staff and academic department who are at present under orders to proceed to other army stations in the continental limits of the United States will proceed to their new posts not later than May 31. Exceptions are made in the case of officers ordered to other service schools in the United States. Of-Foos was enjoying a lead of several ficers who are now on leave of abscene or who have been granted leave may be required to return to duty at once as Corps Area comanders are authorized to revoke or curtail leaves already granted.

Officers who are under orders for duty at other service schools are placed at the disposal of the Corps Area commander until such time as they are due to report for their new duties. Student officers remaining at Fort Benning, and sixty percent of the Headquarters staff and academic department will be withdrawn from their normal duties and assigned to duty with the Civilian Conservation Additional advices received on Monday indicates that 3,500 Civilian Conservation Corps recruits are to be added shortly to the 637 already in camp at Fort Benning. 1,000 of these men will come from Georgia, 1,000 to interview Caldwell. Conquering from Folrida, and 1,000 from Alabama, and 500 from South Carolina.

The recruiting officer at Athens, Ga., has notified Lieut. Col. Frank W. Jewett, commander of the Fort Benning conditioning camp, that he expects to send drafts of Georgia men to Fort Benning at the rate of 250 a day, commencing Wednesday. Messages have also been received from the recruiting officers in Alabama and other sttaes indicating that large numbers of men will be received daily from those localities.

CCC Camp Rapidly Completing Quota

The organization of the Civilian Conservation camp at Fort Benning is expanding rapidly to meet the inincreasingly larger numbers to the post for their preliminary training. Major Robert S. Lytle, of the Infantry Board, and Major Thomas S. Arms

(Please turn to page 2)

California's Aerial Defense

This distinctly unusual picture shows a group of United States Army planes practicing oblique formation in the mimic warfare now being enacted in Southern California. Over 300 fighting planes, 400 officers and 1,800 enlisted men form the aerial guard for California's giant stores of navy fuel against a theoretical enemy, supposed to attack from the West. The defending force is under command of Brigadier General

Lieutenant Orestes Cleveland

The entire garrison was deeply shocked to learn of the sudden death of First Lieutenant Orestes Cleveland, 29th Infantry, on Monday morning, the fifteenth of May.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Cleveland came to Fort Benning in the fall of 1929. They resided in Columbus. during the first year while Lieutenant Cleveland completed the Company Officer's course, and then moved to Fort Benning when he received assignment to the 29th

Lieutenant Cleveland was a native of the State of New York and was born in 1896. His first regiment was the 9th Infantry. Enlisting in February, 1917, two months before the United States declared war, he joined Company "K" of this regiment at Laredo, Texas. Promotion was rapid and, within a few months of his first enlistment, he was made a sergeant. Lieutenant Cleveland was twice recommended for the officers' training school, but illness and later, the signing of the armistice, prevented him from getting a commission during the war.

In 1922, he passed the examination for a commission. Since that (Please turn to page 7)

Tank Convoy Makes Trip To Atlanta

Fifty officers, comprising forty-one members of the tank class of the Infantry School, and a number of instructors, and approximately twentyfive enlisted men of the Infantry 1897, when he enlisted in the 5th School, comprised the personnel which conducted a motor transport private and corporal until July, 1898, convoy to Fort McPherson, Atlanta, and return to Fort Benning. The motor train was operated entirely by student officers of the tank class, as a part of their practical training in 1st lieutenant on March 2nd, 1899, he their mechanical and tactical course, served at posts in Alabama until early All of the positions, ranging from in 1899, when he was ordered to Cuba convoy commander, to truck driver with his regiment. and mechanic, were filled by the officer students. These duties were ro- panied the 1st Infantry to the Philtated so that during the trip, which ippine Islands, where he participated commenced at 6:00 o'clock Wednes- in numerous engagements during the day morning and terminates at 4:00 campaign against insurgent forces on o'clock Friday afternoon, each officer the island of Samar, during the Philstudent having filled thirteen differ- ippine insurrection. ent positions in the operation of the army motor convoy.

The train was composed of approximately twenty-five vehicles of differ- 26 of the same year. He was stationed ent types, including fifteen tank carriers, several experimental types of trucks, and a midget Austin truck. The diversity of motor vehicle types made the operation of the train more difficult, and injected a number of Fort Leavenworth, Kan., where he was mechanical and other problems into the operation of the long train, which Cavalry schols, and the staff college,

(Please urn to page 10)

General King To Retire To Life Of Private Citizen

Major General Campbell King, Commandant, The Infantry School, will retire on June 1st, according to War Department advices received at Fort Benning Wednesday.

The retirement order was issued in compliance with a request made by General King several weeks ago. While a few of General King's official family knew of his plans to apply for retirement after more than 36 years of service, the news was received at Fort Benning with general surprise and regret. During the four years in which General King has commanded the Infantry School, where hundreds of regular army officers, and others of the National Guard and Organized Reserves, as well as officers of foreign armies, are trained each year, he has become one of the most highly esteemed officers ever to have held that important position of command. Since coming to Fort Benning General King has been closely associated with the civic affairs of Columbus and other neighboring communities of the great army post, and is regarded in civilian circles as one of the foremost personages in the South.

No announcement concerning a successor for General King has been made.

General King, who has commanded the Infantry School since May 4, 1929, is the highest ranking officer ever to be designated as permanent commander of the institution. Upon his assumption of command at Fort Benning in 1929, he was holding the rank of brigadier general. His administration of the Infantry School during the ensuing three years exhibited such outstanding qualities of leadership that on May 1, 1932, he was advanced to the rank of major general and reassigned to the command of the Infantry School.

General King was born at Flat Rock, N. C., August 20, 1871. He attended Harvard university and studied law in Atlanta, Ga., until July, United States cavalry. He served as when he was appointed a second lieutenant in the regular army. He was assigned to the 1st United States Infantry and having been promoted to

In the summer of 1900 he accom-

He returned to the United States with the 1st Infantry in 1903 and was promoted to captain on August at Fort Wayne, Mich., until 1904, when he was placed in command of a company of guard troops at the World's Fair, St. Louis, Mo. Then followed a four-year period of service at a student officer at the Infantry and

(Please urn to page 10)

N; seeds, plants, tools, fer-

VALLEY SEED CO. 1041 Broadway

KENNY'S

NORWOOD

COFFEE

is sold at Fort Benning

through the

Post Exchange

TRY A POUND YOU WILL BE PLEASED

Drink The Best Cola Beverage

Spend This Crown Same As Cash

NOW ON SALE

at the Book Shop

Fort Benning, Ga.

Battle Leadership

By Capt. Adolf Von Schell, German Army

A comprehensive study of various phases of action on several fronts during the World War.

Published by the Benning Herald

REMEMBER

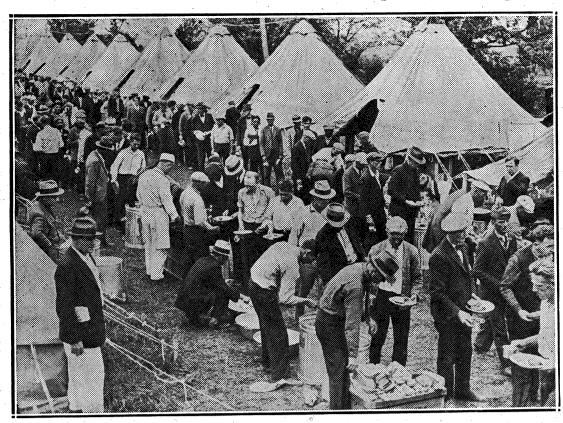

A handful of meat eating Britishers

Give 'em more OLD SETTLER'S Sausage and bring out a few Napoleons.

rule millions of non-eating Hindus.

Bonuseers Settle Down in Camp Near Capital

Judging from this picture the 500 Bonus Army veterans at Fort Hunt, Va., will be satisfied if Congressional action on their demands is long postponed. For the vets are living as guests of Uncle Sam, being housed in army tents, as shown, and with "chow" served regularly, just as in the days of 1917-18.

Reserve Class Graduates From Tank School Here

Brevity and informality attended the class of the national guard and reserve officers' tank course at the Infantry School at 10:00 o'clock Wednesday morning. The class, composed of three national guard and two reserve officers, was the first to graduate from the newly established tank section of the Infantry School, which opened at Fort Benning last September, after its transfer here from Fort George O. Meade, Md., and its in corporation into the Infantry School.

After administrative formalities connected with the termination of their course were completed, the graduating officers were conducted to Post Headquarters by Colonel Charles W. Weeks, assistant commandant, where Major General Campbell King, commandant of the Infantry School, re ceived them.

General King spoke briefly to the departing students, and pointed out the distinction which they enjoyed as being members of the first graduating class of the tank section of the Infantry School. He congratulated them upon the industry and efficiency which they had displayed during their studies, and stated that the successful conclusion of their course afforded him great satisfaction as commandant of the Infantry School, as well as much personal gratification. He expressed the hope that the termination of their studies at the Infantry School would not end their active interest in the subject with which they had become familiar during their course of instruction, and that they would feel free to call upon the faculty of the Infantry School at any time for advice or assistance in professional matters. In conclusion General King extended his best wishes for the future success of the de parting students, and then he presented each with the diploma awarded by the Infantry School to the graduates of its tank course.

Members of the graduating class were Captains Edmund J. Engel, 33rd Tank Co., Illinois N. G.; Macon R. Moore, 38th Tank Co., Kentucky N. G.; Louis M. Hesselbush, Infantry Reserve, Orson B. Powers, Infantry Reserve; and 1st Lieut. Lyman K. Johnson, 40th Tank Co., California N. G.

Columbus Office Supply Co. 24 Hr. Service RUBBER STAMPS Phone 556

Dependable Electric and Gas

POWER (COMPANY

Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

CONSERVATION CAMP IS RAPID LY FILLING UP

(Continued From Page 1) been ordered to Fort Barrancas, Fla for duty with the Civilian Conserva tion Corps camp there.

By June 7, all of the 4,000 men of the first of the three increments, repesenting Fort Benning's quota, are expected to have completed their preliminary training at Fort Benning. Under present plans all of these men will have been dispatched to the reforestation camps by July 1.

Commencing Wednesday morning 250 Georgians will be received at Fort Benning daily until Saturday, when a draft of 1,000 men from Georgia will have reported. Two contingents of South Carolinians, comprising 250 men each, are expected to arrive on Friday and Saturday. 1,000 men each from Alabama and Florida, are also expected to report at Fort Benning within the next few da there all arrangements for their eption, equipment and training have on completed by Colonel Frank F vett, camp commander.

FLORIDAN

)wing to lack of appropriations f purpose while the men are in the cditioning camp, recreational equip mt and reading matter is somewhat mger. Mr. Frank A. Cashel, Fort Being representative of the American Red s, who is assisting the camp recreation ficer in making a rangements for the entertainint of the man while at Fort Benning, quest that persons desiring to o tribute reading matter, games, car baseball equipment, or other athle supplies leave them at the office the American Red Cross, 504 12th Columbus.

They'll tell you that Ic Cream makes a grand des sert and that there's nothin they like better. And, after you've tasted Foremos you'll agree with them i every way!

> Call the SODA FOUNT

FOREMOST DAIRIES INC.

TAMPA TERRACE

ROOM and LAKELAND TERRACE EVERY FACILITY FOR GARAGE SERVICE COFFEE SHOPPE

ASSOCIATED HOTELS JACKSONVILLE

HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON

HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

Service

The Provision Co., Inc.

Colonel Barron Is

Assigned To Zone

Colonel Thomas W. Brown, who has served as a member of the Infantry

Board at Fort Benning since August

31st, 1929, departed from the post on Saturday morning, en route to Washington, and New York preparatory to embarking on an army transport, sailing on June 16, for the Panama Canal

Department, to which Colonel Brown

in 1929, as a member of the Infanry

Board, was based upon his exensive knowledge of infantry weapons, especially the machine guns, on the latter of which he is regarded as one of the leading authorities in the United

Colonel Brown is one of the pioneers in the study and development of the machine gun as an American infantry weapon and has been engaged in this work since Januray, 1908, when, as a first lieutenant he was assigned to the task of assisting in the preparation of a set of provisional regulations and the organization of a suitable infantry machine gun unit.

The machine gun, new to the American Army, was commanding a great deal of attention among progressive infantry officers but was comparatively an unknown weapon in our army.

Brown engaged and which later resulted in the organization of machine gun platoons and companies in the infantry, and the acceptance of the machine gun as a primary and formidable infantry weapon began at the School of Musketry, the predecessor of the present Infantry School, which was estab-

Colonel Brown has, in the past quarter of a century, seen the development of the machine gun from a comparatively crude and uncertain weapon to a great deal of the progress associated with machine gun units in our army is attributable to the influence of Col-

Colonel Brown began his military career as a private in Battery C, 1st

Field Artillery, in which he enlisted on January 18, 1900. He was appointed a 2nd Lieutenant of infantry in February, 1901; a first lieutenant in September, 1905; and captain in June,

1915. He was promoted to major, temporary, in August, 1917, and lieutenant colonel, temporary, in June, 1918. After the close of the World War he was appointed major, regular army, in July, 1920, promoted to lieutenant.

colonel in November, 1920, and to 100% Pure Pennsylvania

Safe Lubrication

FOR SALE

Post Exchange

California, in 1907.

onel Brown.

The studies in which Lieutenant

Colonel Brown's selection for detail has been assigned.

States Army.

Opportunity To Visit World's Fair

Mr. Fred Schomburg is planning an educational trip to the World's Fair for the Boy Scouts, leaving Columbus about August the sixth for an eight day stay in Chicago arriving home on the 15th.

He will be assisted by several lead-

Light weight Broadcloth Army Shirts

Shirts in all colors, Solids, Stripes and the NEW Plaids. Fast colors. $1.55

Same as above, values $1.50, 95c

> 100% Pure Linen Suits Preshrunk

$6.25 (These are REAL values)

PAJAMAS

All Colors Woven Broadcloth $2.00 Values $1.45 $1.50 Values 95c We have a few more all

White Flannel Trousers for $3.95

> Straw Hats All kinds 95c

CLOTHING CO. 1203 BROADWAY

Bov Scouts To Have My Sojourn In Fort Benning, Georgia Bids For Building Opportunity To

Hello, everybody, Fort Benning, Georgia. I am so glad to have the Opened Tuesday chance to say a few words to you.

First of all I will tell you of my feeling while at Fort Benning. Yesterday, Lieut. Young announced in class, "After the instruction this afternoon, the School is finished." Following this announcement, yell and laugh in class. But if you were Present in this class, you would notice one boy silent in his chair. Who is he? His simple name is Wu. Why? "Don't you like school being over?" one of my classmates asked me. "Well, I can't tell," I answered. I know that all of you have had the experience of first leaving your home when you were only a child on trip. At this time I have the same feeling. I become a child again. School being over, I will leave my home again. In the past nine months, since I came here, all officers, instructors, fellow students and their families have treated me very kindly and made me feel at home. I will have my longing for Fort Benning, Georgia.

Next I will tell you what the future holds. Since no orders came from China yet, I could not tell. But I have asked permission to go back to China. The officers here asked me, "Do you like fight?" "No, but I don't like to see the invaders in my country." "You might be killed in war, if "I expect that might happen. I like to do my duty. If my duty demands me to be killed, I am not afraid of that." This short conversations always took place in class. There are many who do not know my reactions yet may wish to know about this, therefore I am writing this short communication to you all.

I am so sorry to be saying good-bye to you. Thank you for all the kindness you have extended to me. I hope that I will come back to see you some day. Good health and blessedness to all of you! When you all come to China you are welcome in my home.

ers and expects to have a group of forty or fifty boys. Everything is being arranged beforehand so that the maximum of pleasure will be had by

The cost of the trip will depend somewhat on the number going, from preesnt outlook the cost will be:

Railroad fare plus lodging from $22.50 to $27.50.

Meals from 80 cents to $1.00 a day. Sightseeing $1.00 a day for 8 days. Making the total cost from $40.00 to $45.00.

Scouts who desire to go are requested to notify Mr. Schomburg as early as possible of their intentions so that tentative arrangements can be made. A trip of this kind will be worth weeks of schooling.
CAMP OPENS JUNE 6TH

The Boy Scouts of Columbus, Phenix City and Fort Benning will hold their annual summer camp at Camp McKenzie, beginning June the 6th, Tuesday morning and will break camp on Thursday afternoon June the 15th.

The cost for each boy will be $7.50 for the entire ten days.

Summer House To Be Opened At Daytona Beach

Mrs. Ed. Luetje and Miss Verna Dudley, of Columbus have announced that they will open a summer house at Daytona Beach, Florida, on June first. Both are residents of Columbus and both have had a great deal of experience with this type of work, Mrs. Luetje having been formerly the manager of the Log Cabin.

Those who have been fortunate enough to visit Daytona Beach are unanimous in saying that it is easily among the best vacation spots of the lished at the Presidio of Monterey, east coast of Florida. Besides having all the other attractions which are characteristic of the land of flowers, it is the locale of the world-famous speedway, the scene of the speed tests of Sir Malcolm Campbell a short the dependable weapon of today, and

The house which will be opened soon is located near the beach at Daytona and, in addition to the other advantages, will be operated on a schedule of reasonable rates.

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS...

----- $ 600,000.00

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative—MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

Bids for the construction of a 750,-000 gallon clear water basin, as a part of the post water supply system of Fort Benning, were opened in the office of Captain Carl H. Jabelonsky, constructing quartermaster, at ten o'clock Tuesday morning. Algernon Blair, of Montgomery, Ala., was the low bidder, proposing to do the job for $13,200 and to undertake the work within fifteen days after the award of the contract, and to complete it within 140 days thereafter. Smith-Bow construction company of Atlanta submitted a bid of $13,400, and proposed to undertake the work within 30 days after the award and to complete it within 150 days working time. The Grann Construction company of Atlanta submitted a bid of $13,442 and agreed to undertake the work within ten days after award of contract and to complete it within 120 days.

colonel on June 24, 1932.

He is a member of the general staff corps eligible list and served in the general staff corps from June, 1917, to July, 1919. He is a graduate of the Army School of the Line, class of 1921; the General Staff School, class of 1922; and the Army War College, class of 1929.

Maxwell Optical Co. I. A. MAXWELL

Optometrist and Optician

A COMPLETE OPTICAL SERVICE

1217 Broadway

FOR SALE

Ford V-8's—any models. $75.00 off list price

Call

H. DIXON SMITH

Telephone 1215

Do You Need Cash Money? HERE IS OUR PLAN

Note for $300.00 8% Interest deducted $ 24.00 Net to you $276.00

Payments . $25.00 Per Month for 12 Months

Larger or Smaller Loans Proportionately.

Fidelity Loan and Investment Co.

1206 FIRST AVENUE

T. E. BAISDEN, Secretary-Treasurer

BEFORE YOU GO

ON YOUR MOTOR TRIP THIS SUM-MER YOU HAD BETTER PREPARE!

It only takes a fraction of a second for an accident to occur, and you'll do better by preparing for it beforehand than trying to avert it when it's too late. Have your car inspected regularly and use only the best oils and greases, and you'll decrease your chances of an accident.

AUTO DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS IN THE SECOND SECON

Engagement Of Miss Ermine Alice Tru- Flower Show Of Woman's Club lock and Lt. Thomas Hannah Announced

Centering interest of society both in Army and civilian circles is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Ermine Alice Trulock of Columbus and Lieut. Thomas Robertson Hannah. The brideelect is the daughter of Mrs. Morroville Byron Trulock and the late Mr. Trulock. She is the sister of Mr. Morrowell Trulock and of Mrs. Win A. McNulty who before her marriage of last week to Lieut. McNulty was Miss Elma Tru-

Miss Trulock is a member of the prominent families of the South, her mother was formerly Miss Charlotte Peebles of Manning, South Carolina. She graduated from the Columbus High School and Georgia State College for Women of Milledgeville and later attended the University of Georgia. She is one of the most popular members of the younger set and was formerly president of the Cotilion

Lieutenant Hannah is the son of Colonel and Mrs. J. G. Hannah of Staunton, Virginia. His mother was Miss Gertrude Washburne of Glen Falls, N. Y. He is the brother of Miss Gertrude Hannah. Lieut. Hannah attended the Columbus High School when his father was stationed at Fort Benning, he later attended Shadman's Preparatory School at Washington, D. C. and was graduated from the United States Military Academy with the class of 1932.

Miss Trulock and Lieut. Hannah plan to be married in the early sum-

24TH INFANTRY BRIDGE CLUB

The monthly meeting of the 24th Infantry bridge club was held Tuesday evening at the 24th Infantry Club. Four tables of contract bridge assembled at eight o'clock and played until eleven when a refreshing salad course was served. Those holding high scores were: Mrs. Oscar W. Griswold, Mrs. Robert R. Martin and Colonel Fred L. Munson. The hosts for the evening were Mrs. Martin and Major Peter P. Salgado.

Daytona Beach, Fla.

Mrs. Ed Luetje (Former Manager of Log Cabin) AND

Miss Verna Dudley

Will open a summer home on ocean front-reasonable rates. For particulars, telephone

1532 (City) 2812-W (City)

The Menu Won't Tell You!

. . that it's Kinnett's Ice Cream served for dessert, but your taste will! So be sure of satisfaction by being sure it's Kinnett's.

SOLD AT THE OFFICERS' CLUB

Today's Fashion

fternoon frock of printed sheer By VERA WINSTON

One of the nicest frocks for afternoon wear, shown this week, is a printed sheer in the dainty field flower design that is such a success this season. The design is etched in various shades of yellow. It has a bow thatis lined with brown chiffon. A brown belt and brown accessories are worn with it.

THURSDAY EVENING SUPPER DANCE SUCCESS

The patrons of the Officers' Club are taking advantage of the fact that the Thursday evening supper dances are drawing to a close by keeping the reservations filled. Thursday event will be the next before the supper dances cease for the summer. Those reserving tables were: Major and Mrs. John W. Robinson, Maj. and Mrs. William S. Eley, Maj. and Mrs. Sereno E. Brett, Maj. and Mrs. Edwin F. Harding, Capt. and Mrs. Henry E. Kelly, Capt. and Mrs. Joseph T. Zak, Capt. and Mrs. Howard N. Merrill, Leut. and Mrs. Francis H. Lanahan, Lieut. and Mrs. Howard W. Uhrbrock, Lieut and Mrs. Wendell G. Johnson, and Lieut.and Mrs. Joseph K. Dickey.

LAST DANCE OF SEASON TO BE HELD SATURDAY EVENING

Plans are being completed for the dinner dance Saturday evening which will be held at Biglerville. This dance which will be the last of the season will be in the nature of a cabaret, tables, seating from 4 to 10, will be arranged around sides of the ball room leaving a large space in the center for dancing. There will be several specialty numbers, featuring local talent, the first of these will be held from 8 to 9, followed by dancing. At 10:30 the second features will be held, after that time Biglerville will assume the nature of a night

A member of reservations including many dutch treat and "No Host" parties have been made. Among those reserving tables were: Col. and Mrs. J. DeCamp Hall, Lt. Col. and Mrs. Reginald H. Kelley, Maj. and Mrs. Neal C. Johnson, Maj. and Mrs. William L. Roberts, Maj. and Mrs. Charles P. Hall, Capt. and Mrs. William E. Boone, Capt. and Mrs. Arvid P. Croonquist, Capt. and Mrs. Floyd S. Partridge, Capt. and Mrs. William

Garden Section Is Very Successful

Girl Scout Notes

ANNOUNCEMENT

The Court of Awards will be held en Sunday, May 21 at 4:00 p. m. We will have it under the Big Tree between the Polo Club and the Girl Scout Cabin. There is to be a wonderful program, including ceremonies, presentations and songs. Everybody

Cardinal Troop

Our meeting today was taken up mostly by a ceremony to be presented on Sunday. It is really beautiful. May 16 h. The committee on ar-I think I had rather have you come and see it instead of me describing it here!

The Child Nurse workers finished up, also, and will receive their badges Sunday.

You see, everything that we are doing leads to Sunday, so you must

Pine Tree Troop

We had a wonderful meeting today! Nancy's assistant came to the Cabin t three saying that she (Nancy) would be late because of a Leaders' Meeting at Mrs. Matchett's. She brought with her baskets and jugs that proved to be the important part of a surprise party for our Lieutenant! We hid all the "eats" in the closet and began a Scout Meeting. We had the Flag Ceremony, and then sat and waited.

Soon Mrs. Matchett's car drove up, and she and Nancy walked into the Cabin to the tune of "Hello" sung by us!

All this time Nancy suspected nothing; she and Mrs. Matchett gave announcements. The faces of the Scouts were unusually bright and cheery, and I hope Nancy didn't think hat the reason was the last meeting. We couldn't keep the secret any longer, so while she was outside the cabin for a minute we brought out the ice cream "Blimps" and punch. She was never more surprised in her life when she returned!

L. Brown, Capt. and Mrs. Author J. Perry, Capt. and Mrs. Alexander R. Bolling, Capt. and Mrs. Russell Blair, Lieut. and Mrs. Mark W. Boatner, Lieut. and Mrs. Claude B. Ferenbaugh, Lieut. and Mrs. Felix A. Todd, Lieut. and Mrs. Elvin H. Burger, Lieut. and Mrs. Alvin K. Silva, Lieut. George T. Summerlin.

Those who attended last year's affair are looking forward with eager anticipation to Saturday's Dinner Dance.

> RUBBER STAMPS COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

gle-"Mistress Mary, quite contrary, how does your garden grow?" all of the members of the Garden Section of the Infantry School Woman's Club can truthfully reply-"It grows very well, thank you!"

For in spite of drought, heat, and the pay cut, they have just held the first of what, no doubt, will prove to be an annual flower show.

Under the leadership of their capable chairman, Mrs. Frank A. Heileman, and her assisting committee, a most creditable exhibition was held at the Polo-Hunt Club on Monday, rangement, headed by Mrs. Louis W. Haskell, and assisted by Mrs. Robert G. Mangum, Mrs. John H. Mellom, and Mrs. Raymond W. Pearson, classified entries from 8 o'clock until 12:00 noon, when the Flower Show was turned over to the judges.

The scores of visitors exclaimed over the beauty of the scene as they entered the Club and noted the one hundred and sixteen entries arranged

(Please turn to page 5)

OPPORTUNITY KNOCKING

Opportunity is knocking for you when you read thisbecause Silver's offers you so many ways of economizing. This is your opportunity to save!

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST. GUARANTEED QUALITY

READ HERALD ADVERTISEMENTS

Also complete line of Automobile Wardrobe Trunks.

and light of weight for the new travel lure by air, water,

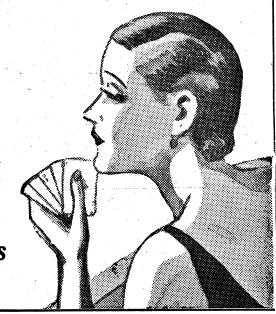

H. ROTHSCHI

"Leading Furniture House for 39 Years"

A Party Favorite!

10m's

Toasted Peanuts

Army Daughters Hold Last Meet

The Army Daughters of Fort Benning held their last meeting of the year on April 27, at the Cricket Tea Room in Columbus. Following luncheon officers for the coming season were elected. They were Mrs. John Huling, president; Mrs. Archibald Arnold, vice-president; and Mrs. Claude B. Ferenbaugh, secretarytreasurer. Corsages were presented to Mrs. Thomas W. Brown, who has been national president the last year, and to Mrs. John B. Thompson, president of the Fort Benning chapter, both of whom are leaving for new stations in the near future.

FLOWER SHOW IS BIG SUCCESS (Continued from page 4)

with artistic effect about the large room. From the exquisite arrangement of very small flowers to the inviting bridge tables set for luncheon and the dainty breakfast trays, one wondered about long tables filled with every seasonal flower, placed in containers that ranged from kitchen bowls to crystal and cloisonne vases.

Even the children of the post were represented in entries of Class D, where prizes were given to the Boy or Girl Scout entering the best birdhouse, minature garden, or wildflower collection.

Much credit for the success of the affair is due to the efforts of the Publicity Committee, headed by Mrs. Charles W. Weeks, and assisted by Mrs. James B. Woolnough; and to the Committee on Prizes, the chairman of which was Mrs. Frank F. Jewett, assisted by Mrs. Max V. Tal-

The Garden Club was most fortunate in being able to secure the services of the following as judges: Mrs. George Burrus, jr., of Columbus, who is President of the Charter Circle Garden Club of that city, an officer of the Federated Garden Clubs of Georgia, and an authority on flower show displays; Mrs. W. H. Joy, of Flower Shop; Mrs. B. A. Moody of Wheat's Flower Shop; and Captain Robert J. Whatley, the efficient post gardener of Fort Benning

HERALD WANT ADS

CLASSIFIED ADV. RATES: 20 cents per line or fraction of line. Minimum charge for any classified advertisement, 50 cents. Payment must be made before advertisement is pub-

WANTED—Two single Simmons beds complete. Cheap for cash. P. O. Box 271.

FOR SALE-Model T Ford Coupe-

A-Roses

(All second prizes) 2, Mrs. J. A. Ladd; 6, Mrs. J. P. Gammon; 7, Mrs. R. G. Mangum; Prize for best display in Class A, Mrs. Gammon.

1-1st Mrs. H. L. Connor, 2nd Mrs. J. E. Hull, 3rd Mrs. H. L. Connor; 2-1st Mrs. G. B. McConnell, 2nd Mrs. G. C. Mergens, 3rd Mrs. H. M. Monroe; 3—1st Mrs. E. J. Lyman, 2nd Mrs. R. G. Mangum, 3rd Mrs. T. S. Arms, 3rd Mrs. T. A. Heileman; Prize for best display in B-Mrs. McConnell.

C—Perennials

1-1st Mrs. T. G. Hearn, 2d Mrs. R. G. Mangum; 2-1st Mrs. R. G. Mangum, 2nd Mrs. T. A. Heileman, 3rd Mrs. H. A. Monroe; 3—1st Mrs. P. T. Fry; 5—1st Mrs. T. S. Arms, 2nd Mrs. A. Mordecai, 3rd Mrs. R. G. Mangum; 6-Mrs. A. S. Dabney; 7-1st Mrs. L. S. Partridge, 2nd Mrs. E. J. Lyman, 2nd Mrs. L. S. Partridge; 8-1st Mrs. R. G. Mangum, 2nd Mrs. R. B. Cole, 3rd Mrs. J. H. Mellon; 9-1st Mrs. L. W. Nichols, 2nd Mrs. C W. Weeks; 10-2nd Mrs. H L.. Connor; Prize for best display in class C, Mrs. Arms.

D-Miscellaneous 1-1st Mrs. H. L. Conner, 2nd Mrs. H. L. Connor, 3rd Mrs. R. G. Mangum; 2-1st Mrs. F. A. Heileman, 2nd Mrs. J. Huling; 3—1st Bill Pearson, 2nd Margie Heileman; 4—1st Fommy Hearn, 2nd Jack Pearson, 3rd Fred Ladd; 5-1st Bill Pearson, 2nd Jack Robinson, 3rd Marion Bloomquist; 7-1st Mrs. R. W. Pearson, 2nd Mrs. L. W. Nichols, 3rd Mrs. A. Mordecai, 3rd Mrs. J. N. Robinson; 8-1st Mrs. R. W. Pearson, 2nd Mrs. L W. Nichols, 3rd Mrs. R. G. Mangum: 10-1st Mrs. R. W. Pearson, 2nd Mrs. T. S. Arms, 3rd Mrs. J. E. Hull; 11lst Mrs. J. B. Woolnough, 2nd Mrs. J. N. Robinson, 3rd Mrs. M. V. Talbot, 4th Mrs. F. A. Heileman; 12-1st Mrs. R. W. Pearson, 2nd Mrs. R. G. Mangum, 3rd Mrs. G. B. McConnell, 3rd Mrs. M. V. Talbot; 13-1st Jack Pearson; Prize for best display in class D-Bill Pearson.

Prize for largest number of exhibits: Mrs. R. G. Mangum.

Sweepstakes prize won for greatest number of points scored in the show Mrs. R. W. Pearson.

TOWN TOPICS

(Continued from page 1)

denoting surprise and astonishment and utter consternation, disconcerting well-meaning Lieutenant Mullikin, who gathered with commendable keenness of mind that all was not what it should be. The blushin lieutenant, drawing upon his reserve supply of nonchalance, managed to inquire weakly whether the ladies and gentlemen lined up along the wall constituted a receiving line. Being curtly informed that they did not, he babbled incoherent apologies and reexcellent running condition. 2 new tires, new battery. Bargain. $20.00. Phone Ft. Benning 234. Lt. Riley.

Interesting Books ACADEMIC LIBRARY

...The Years of the Locust—Gilbert Seldes-Little, Brown, and Company,

"The Years of the Locust" is a timely book of depression economics for the layman. It reviews the events of the years 1929-1932 in such a way that even the most startling measures of today appear justified if they will protect the present and future from a repetition of the past.

The collapse of the stock market in 1929 was the occasion for the depression. No writer can determine all the causes. The absence of a frontier had something to do with it. For many years the undeveloped west had been the dumping ground for surplus products of eastern manufacture. After 1890, the frontier fell into the Pacific Ocean, and production was forced to turn inward on itself. About that time the laborer with his weekly wage became a valued consumerthe dear friend of the capitalist. High pressure salesmanship and astute advertising combined to lure from him not only his hard earned cash but also most of his credit for the future. As Seldes says: "We went into debt in order to build factories would sell more or less perishable things to people who would go into debt to buy them. When we had built too many factories and people had gone into debt as far as they dared, we could no longer sell what we made. With vast stocks of raw materials and finished goods on hand. we collapsed." Enough of money from the factories had not been put back into the pockets of the laborers. It had gone into building more factories.

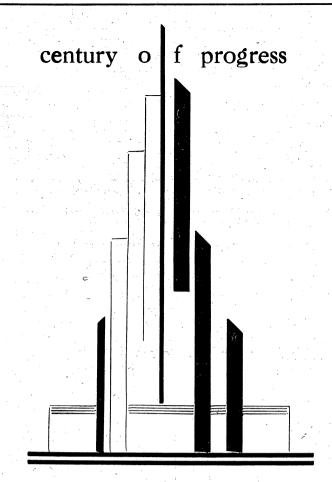

President Hoover was a successful man and engineer. He represented the capitalist party. He knew of the vast resources of the nation, knew thta there was no excuse for poverty and unemployment. He would not believe that they existed. So he adopted a Fabian Policy. Not until it was too late did he discover that something would have to be done. Then he combated the depression by feeble methods—public buildings, a housing scheme, maintenance of wage standards-when there were no jobsmunicipal charity. At no time would he countenance a dole. Rarely would he admit the existence of hunger and Disillusion - unemployment - scatered rioting—bread lines—roaming armies of children—France and Russia in the limelight of the world, taking the place of the United States-the Army moving against the Bonus Army by official order-all these are only a few of the historic facts of he grim years.

The actual cost of the depression s written high in deflation. Stocks, honds, and investments tumbled. Population decreased—only a limited umber of immigrants were allowed. The quantity of wheat, oil, and coton allowed on the market was cut down. The quality of goods was lowered. Reputable publishing houses sold pornographic books. Advertising grew more vulgar. Deflation showed in mental values by reactions against the colleges: there was no advantage in educating a boy for a ob he could not have: for brute labor was greater than the market for the mind." Appropriations for libraries were cut to a mini-

The most shocking result of the deflation for the American mind was the disappearance of the business man as the romantic ideal of the whole country. We had always believed that "we might make fools of ourselves and our politicians might make fools of us; but business had too great a stake in the future to let either of us go too far.

Mr. Seldes's book is important reading for a resume and estimate and a measurement of just how far we did go. It is also important reading if we want to remember the background for all the vital measures that are brought up every day by the present administration.

Make Preparations For Your Trip at

Swagger along to the World's Fair in one of Kirven's smartly modern swagger ensembles and realize that you too are as modern and as smart as the Fair.

Silk Dress Seersucker Swagger $5.95

The dresses are white silk crepe. The coats in stripes or checks, bright, summery and swanky.

Silk Dress Linen Swagger $10.75

The dresses are white with polka dot collars and belts. The coats in pure white linen.

Silk Dress Silk Swagger $16.75

The dresses in white and pastel solids, navy and field flower prints. The coats are made of same materials.

Silks 14 to 20

Ideal For Traveling Spring Wool Coats and Suits Greatly Reduced

Second Floor

THE BENNING HERALD

Published every Friday Phone 556

Columbus, Georgia

MAY 19, 1933 NUMBER 4 LUME III Publisher Editor Circulation Manager

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald serves the right to classify, edit, or reject anyadvertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,
BALTIMORE

Lieutenant Peep's Diary

lnesday, May 10 scanning my diary for the few s just past and did note the abtherefrom of several items, the h I had been sure were record One which might well be left oosterity concerns Gustavus Adol-McGehee. On a field exercise ecent day Col. Bonesteel having ibutéd∕a mimeo diagram purport o be the solution, did then query Sustav Adolph his opinion of this tion, to which he replied: "Well, except for one item it looks just Whereupon the Colonel te down and confessed the graph epresent a good way not to do nd McGehee has since been busier a one eyed runt in the back of a burlesque show explaining what meaning he had really inbsent, too, was mention of Mc as' recent condition brought on oo much First Section. He, siming the absentminded professor examined his fingernails and cut class, did while riding in a motor cle remove the cigarette from his th and throw his hat out the nother concerns Stika's remark owing a beration by two captains third (the latter being not presin which the two called the third tically everything but an officer. y ceasing finally to regain breath, a was heard to comment from the hs of his bedding roll nearby ep having been prevented by the "And if I were a captain that ld go for me too.'

either should Blair's classic go ical definitions worthy of this "Priority on the ool's teachings. ls" says Blair "means you can your half in the middle."

see no mention neither of the re- pate in the former.

cruits in the Whatley and McKinney households bringing the Company Officers' class total to thirteen. Thursday, May 11

Terrain exercise scheduled for to day, uniform "C mounted," was diagnosed by Reeder as a problem in de fense, this based on past defense ex ercises mounted "For" said Red stands to reason that it's defense. The horses can't do attack."

'Tis bruited about the class, this being rumor time, that Flood is secretly cleaning up a neat pile by making passport photographs for all officers ordered away except Cam Sweeney who goes only to McPher-

By far the best rumor yet circulated is the one (started I doubt not by some malcontent as yet without orders) that all orders so far issued are to be at once rescinded. Friday, May 12

Another gorgeous day spent indoors vith a map and a blue pencil. And judging from the uncertain looks on the faces of the class at the day's close one might appropriately say that the First Section con surely make haze while the sun shines.

The general shuffling and rattling of papers and maps toward the end of the morning did mind me of a similar situation occurring in the years ago of my college days. The end of the hour of lecture approached; the students began to pile their books and shuffle their feet. "Just a moment" quoth the prof, "I have yet a few pearls to cast." To the dance at Biglerville this evening and do feel much obligated ecorded but be writ large among to the Guard and Reserve Class for an evening full of rhythmic exercise and excellent punch, it being with difficulty that I could be persuaded to depart from the latter to partici-

Here's To Your Health

BY MAJOR HOMER L. CONNER, Medical Inspector

wimming Pools and Contagious Diseases

Vater in swimming pools may be means of transferring disease ther. Any person may be a carof disease. Another person may susceptible to that disease. Water impossible to detect all carriers contagious diseases. It is impose to know those who are especialsusceptible to one or more of se contagious conditions.

xclusion from swimming pools of h these—the carrier and the sustible—obviously can not be done. nsmission of disease by swimming I water can only be prevented by ification of the water. Every bathin a swimming pool adds to the er germs which come from his secretions. These secretions from his nose, ears, mouth, bladintestine, or skin. Only a cont dilution of the water (constant of pure water) and the addition chemicals such as chlorine can in way counteract or control or dey these germs from body secre-

The intestinal diseases, such as common diarrhoea, dystentery and typhoid fever may be contracted through swimming pool water. Resns directly from one bather to piratory diseases, especially those that effect the throat, nose, and sinuses are very often caught in swimming pools. Sore eyes, ear infections and swimming pools conveys this in infectious skin diseases are also the controlled swimming pool. Fungus infection of the feet (ringworm, dhobie itch, athletic feet) is easily transmitted by bath house floors. This is such an universal human complaint that it now makes our most difficult problem of control.

Control of a swimming pool to pre vent the spread of disease has a direct bearing on the continued good health of every person using it. Every person using a swimming pool should carefully and cheerfully live up to the regulations which govern a well controlled pool. These regulations are made to help prevent the spread of contagious disease. Selfish, careless, or thoughtless individuals can easily contaminate the water of a swimming pool. Think of these things when you next go into the swimming pool.

Saturday, May 13

Lay late abed pondering the advisability of recommending to the Assistant Commandant the addition of a Fifth Section to the Academic Department. Its function would be to collect, classify and produce instruction in "Whatnot." Whatnots being at present used indiscriminately by all Sections and even, as we determined at the critique, in maneuvers, their sound tactical or technical use is most vague to students. Besides clarifying the situation the addition of this Fifth Section would do much to increase the efficiency of the School by reducing overhead, eliminating duplication and whatnot.

Pondering, too, how Buck Purcell after two weeks of frantic maneuvering in that same vicinity could have so thoroly lost himself two nights ago while hunting with a car and a map for the 29th Infantry Camp. Monday, May 15

The day begun with a lecture by Major Weir who brought up again the subject of the "open mind" so often referred to in the same breath with The School. I am by now most horoly convinced that, in this course, the open mind is an excellent defense igainst ennui, but occasions do arise apon which, in order to arrest the simultaneous influx and exodus of information, it becomes necessary to close the mind on at least one side.

Major Eagles, in his introduction o the Battle of Bertrix, remarked 'We will solve this problem in the peace and quiet of the lecture hall," which did indicate to me that the man has either no knowledge of the state of our assembly hall or else a complete mastery of irony.

The afternoon expended in equitaion, the grade to be conferred by the First Section. The Blues were still defending against the Reds. For myself I should deem it a masterly move o let the Reds have it and to require them a written paper agreeing not to try to give it back. There might then be ease (instead of U's, I think I hear Stika say) in the class and the First Section as well.

Not in any wise astounded by the sudden revelation that graduation will be next Monday. The only announcement that could now surprise me would be one to the effect that there would be no move changes. In many ways the early closing will be relief and a great one in respect to the oaf in my vicinity (to whom I need no longer listen) who always after the instructor's "Any questions?' remarks sotto voce "Any answers?' A relief to the class in general who have of late been unable to sleep nights because of an excess of lec-

Tuesday, May 16

By now prepared for almost any hing we were yet surprised and hocked to have this announced as the last day of school. It runneth in my mind that this were a greater joy to Bob Young than any other for that he may now enjoy surcease from his exacting duty as company commander. And I do think that his manner of execution for the year does merit for him a big hand from the class.

Next in order of alleviation is myelf for whom diary keeping does draw to a close. But Lord, I should not complain of the job having been actively aided thruout by nearly all members of the class.

Wednesday, May 17

To the Quartermaster in a mild frenzy to know about getting packed out my frenzy as naught compared to his who has two hundred imbeciles like myself to send off in the space it takes to write one's name sixty-nine times.

Thursday, May 18

Having for two seasons past witnessed this delirious exit I had frequent thought that spring at Benning is a poor place for the wanderlust what with everyone else getting orders and departing gleefully. But now in receipt of orders and the midst of packing meseems that not to go were as well and infinitely more peaceful. Friday, May 19

Did see Joe Phelan this day and into short converse with him about diplomas. He of the opinion that he Academic Department might, in continuance of their now established treatment of him, award him a sheep-

(Please turn to page 7)

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

CONDUCTED BY E. F. H.

FORESTRY MOBILIZATION

TOMORROW TO FRESH WOODS AND PASTURES NEW."—Milton THERE IS A PLEASURE IN THE PATHLESS WOODS."—Byron

The reforestation sword of Damocles that has been suspended over our devoted heads fell Monday morning. Offices, homes, the Post Exchange, street corners and telephone wires buzzed with the news that graduation of all classes would be shoved up to May 22; that all officers under orders for other stations in the U. S. would clear Outpost No. 1 by midnight May 31; that Corps Area commanders had the power of life and death over leave of absence; that 60 per cent of the faculty and staff would be used on C. C. C.

duty.

That afternoon Major Tommy Arms was dragged ruthlessly off the golf course and Major Lytle was shanghaied from the tennis courts to become big supervising executives of the local conditioning camp. About the same time Two-Gun Tige Phillips was yanked from his desk in the Fourth Section to take over a job with the S. O. S.—better known in peace times as the Q. M. C.

Meanwhile Captain Monte Blue, the idol of the polo field, who that morning had confided in Lieutenant Raymond that he had it straight that members of the faculty would not be ordered out, received a mandate to proceed post haste to Fort Barrancas. Gazetted with him were Lightning Calculator Lawson and Captain George Pope, prominent Glee Clubber and weapons expert. There were other casualties, too, but in the confusion of the moment we checked off only those we happen to know rather well officially or socially.

We haven't seen such exciting times since 1917. There is the same wartime uncertainty as to what the next hour may bring. As to what next month or next year may have in store, no seventh son of a seventh son has arisen to hazard a prophesy. However, a letter which Fighting Joe Vermette re-ceived from his prospective K. O. in Fort Jay, New York, indicates that some of those in high places anticipate a protracted siege. Captain Vermette, who had written to find out about quarters, etc., received a reply to the effect that there were no quarters, that all officers assigned would be on a commutation status and that families would be in the way. The letter ended with the cheering information that Captain Vermette was slated for the C. C. C. for an indefinite sentence of from two to seven years.

Incidentally we have had reports that C. C. C. communications from Fort Screven have been received, signed "Marshall, District Commander." It is beginning to look like a man's war. There really ought to be a campaign ribbon for it.

The War Department hasn't exactly taken the Flare into its confidence about the why and wherefore of this sudden activity on all fronts but we have a pretty good idea that the army has asked for and received carte blanche to raise our new commander-in-chief's baby to be a soldier. At first the reforestation project looked like a camouflaged dole or at best a flop but it is losing that aspect fast since the army received the mandate to put it over. We may not like everything about it. It upsets the existing scheme of things, breaks into routine, complicates domestic arrangements, and knocks strictly military training programs into a cocked hat. But there are compensations. For one thing it will give the officers who get it a lot of valuable experience in handling just the kind of men that they will be called upon to handle in the next war. In fact, it will provide the best training possible in an all important military subject-training that our present army with its depleted units doesn't provide. It's going to be field training, too.

So, whether we like it or not, this C. C. C. business is at once a challenge, a responsibility and an opportunity. And incidentally, if we do the job well and reforest the backwoods districts, it may effectively close the traps of backwoods congressmen who have been yammering for a reduction in the army.

RUSS POOL SPECIAL

The swimming pool has always been productive source of Flare copy, which is one of several reasons why we were glad to see it open for the summer.

The first episode of the current season features Dick King, popular and punctilious member of Benning's pected rebuff. ounger set.

Dick, having made a swimming date with Miss Evelyn Parker, house guest of Colonel and Mrs. Baltzell, duly escorted the lady to the bath houses where they separted to rejoin after the purification ceremony prescribed by Garrison Regulations had been performed.

Now Dick's acquaintance with Miss Parker had been brief and the girls certainly do look different in their swim suits. It is not so remarkable then, that, upon emerging from his shower. Dick should mistake Mrs. Freeman for his swimming date and take post beside her on the steps.

"How about a little swim?" he suggested cordially.

"No, thanks," replied Mrs. Freeman, "I've had all I want for today." replied Mrs. Free-Dick gathered from this remark that Miss Parker was not as wildly enthusiastic about the water as her conversation on the way down indicated. In fact, her whole attitude on the subject seemed to have undergone a decided change, as Dick discovered during the course of the gay one-sided conversation which our hero attempted to carry on after his unex-

Finally Lieutenant Freeman came up, which was Dicks' cue for a formal

"Miss Parker—allow me to present Lieutenant Freeman," said he in his best Chesterfieldian manner.

"I know Lieutenant Freemanslightly," murmured the damsel, "He is my husband."

Dick made a tactful but unconvincing effort to carry the impression that he had been spoofing all along. The Freemans were amused, but Dick had that uncomfortable feeling that he was being laughed at rather than with. As soon as he could do so politely, he withdrew to search among the hundreds of swimmers for the elusive Miss Parker. He found her just before the whistle blew.

Dick feels that he made a poor impression on the two ladies who fig-

(Please turn to page 7)

THE FLARE

(Continued From Page 7) of course, might justly accuse him of being an inattentive swimming escort and he is convinced that Mrs. Freeman must think him just a trifle

OUR GROWING LANGUAGE

Since most of our official duties have to do with speaking and writnew developments in the English langiving them the publicity they de-Otherwise, the gems that fall been able to discover. from the lips of our erudite faculty, or drip from their pens, may be lost

Unfortunately we can't make all the lectures or read all the papers that a conference on the use of combined our prolific orators and authors produce. We get around a bit, however, and pick up what we can. Also, we occasionally get something along this line from meticulous students who take the trouble to jot down unusual | yet quite yes." quotations.

At the critique on the maneuvers,

The

SODA FOUNT POST EXCHANGE

Maintains

... a delivery service within the post. The service is organized principally for the delivery of ice cream in large or small quantities on short notice.

The hours of this service are from 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

ALSO EXCELLENT CURB SERVICE

PHONE 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE

Ft. Benning, Ga.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone N In The Military Service o Anyone Not

ROBERT KLOEPPEL

which are attended in person, we gleaned a couple of rare specimens ured in this adventure. Miss Parker, from Major Tom Hearn's able discussion of the supply features of the campaign.

The first one, "something to think ahead on," strikes an unexpected Shakesperian note, said expression being distinctly reminiscent of the Bard's famous line, "We are such stuff as dreams are made on." searched the classics in vain, howing we are naturally interested in ever, for an example of syntax to which the second one might be tracguage. We seize eagerly upon origin ed. This line, "That's a purely job al forms of expression with a view to for tactically action" has no counterpart in literature so far as we have

Major Hearn's most famous expressions, however, are in the field of noncommittal phraseology. Consider, for instance, the following taken from railheads:

"Usually you don't-you may, but frequently will," or this one from his conference on the ration cycle:

"I wouldn't say absolutely no nor

If any better example of well hedged statements have been uttered during the current school year, The Flare will be pleased indeed to print

WHAT AN INJURED HORSEMAN READS

The many friends of Lieutenant Zero Wilson, the troubadour of Block 23, are glad to see him up and about after a week in the hospital. Poloist Wilson gave the spectators of the game between the Freebooters and the Optimists, on last Sunday week, an anxious quarter of an hour following his bad spill.

Troubadour Wilson took advantage of his enforced period of rest and recuperation to catch up with his reading-something that members of the hard working horse group have little time for except when recovering from an injury. In this instance, the Troubadour's fellow poloists were most thoughtful and kept their physically crippled but mentally active associate well supplied with high grade literature. The prize contribution in this line, by the way, was Major Arnold's. On his first visit to the patient, the artilleryman brought along "Bunk," "Ballyhoo," "Smoke arong "Bunk," "Ballyhoo," "Smoke House" and Captain Billy's "Whizz Bang."

FAUX PAS

Colonel and Mrs. Tucker of the Versatile Second Section made enterainment history last Saturday afternoon by throwing one of the most original parties that we have attended in our almost finished four-year term at Benning.

Chief Tucker played a role of the genial host to perfection. On the following day, however, he didn't do so well. Meeting Mrs. Nichols, wife of one of his famous Horse Group

LIEUT. ORESTES CLEVELAND (Continued From Page 1)

time, he has served with the 25th Infantry at Nogales, Arizona, the 19th Infantry at Schofield Barracks, and with the 29th Infantry at this

The death of Lieutenant Cleveland took from this garrison and from this army an enthusiastic, likable and talented officer. He was interested in the activities around him, and has been associated prominently with both the Dramatic and Glee Club. He took part in several theatrical productions during his stay at this post. Last March he had an important role in the cast of Victor Herbert's "The Debutante", which the Glee Club presented.

He also took pleasure in horses and riding. He had a gentle hand and the innate patience required for training mounts. He was a regular entrant in the Benning horse shows, hunts, and rides.

Lieutenant Cleveland possessed high professional qualifications.

In every regiment to which he has been attached, he has become well-known for his excellence as a drillmaster. His knowledge of close order drill was exact; he had a fine command, and took great pride in the precision and accuracy with which he conducted drill. He had the further attribute of being a fine shot as is evidenced by the fact that he represented the 29th Infantry as a member of the Infantry Team at Camp Perry in

Lieutenant Cleveland leaves his widow, Mrs. Katherine Cleveland and three children. Funeral services were held Tuesday afternoon at the Post Chapel. Interment will be at Arlington National Cemetery. A brother officer said recently: "I have known Cleve well for fifteen years. We lived in the same tent for more than a year during the war. He was a loyal friend and a helpful, sympathetic comrade, popular with soldiers and officers alike. He had a keen sense of humor, an active mind, and a friendly smile. His death is a real loss to the army."

on Sunday he expressed deep and sincere regret that she had been unable to attend the party. He was visibly embarrassed when Mrs. Nichols informed him that she had been present throughout the festivities.

TAKE A CHANCE, YOU HORSE-MEN!

Fans of Cartoonist Ahern whose 'Our Boarding House" sketches appear in the Columbus Ledger, see sporting possibilities in the fact that Major Hoople and our own Major Thompson are both trying to dispose of long used cars. They are prepared to wager even money that Hoople sells his before Thompson does. It looks to us like a poor bet either way but we think that the Horse Group and the ladies' riding class should rally to the support of their idol and cover the Hoople money.

SPIRIT OF THE TIMES The following notice is posted on the bulletin board of the Officers'

"Will sacrifice 5 passenger custom built Cadillac sedan—new tires—new battery. Has been used very little. In perfect condition throughout

Would consider trade for light car suitable for forest roads.

Capt. Hugh B. Dudley, Reserve Officers Area, Tent 38." We are glad to give Captain Dudley this free advertisement in our widely read column but we doubt if it will do him any good. The vogue of custom built Cadillacs has been decidedly on the wane since the first pay cut, and light cars suitable for forest roads have become suddenly popular in military circles.

CITATION FOR THE WEEK

No one knows better than we what a chore it is for an amateur writer working on his own time to grind out a weekly column. The task has some compensations but it certainly spoils many an hour that otherwise might be pleasantly spent. This week's citation goes, therefore, to:

Lieutenant Richard L. Baughman, LIEUT. PEEP'S DIARY (Continued from Page 6)

skin taken from a ewe. Saturday, May 20

Breakfast from the kitchen table. Lunch from the sink drain bread. Lest dinner be from the top of a crate, did go to the Cricket to eat from linen again.

Announcement by the Finance Officer of a "partial payment" did inspire Duke Giddings to inquire as to the origin of the term for, said he, "I have received nothing else for going on a year now." Sunday, May 21

On the morrow we shall appear, as many worse as better, to exchange our code numbers for our names and our commissions. And I do earnestly beseech Allah that in the act of reaching for the goat-skin I may not catch my spurs together and either stand rooted to the spot or tip uncertainly forward onto my nose.

And so as we are constrained to say in the Company Officers' Class, "I'll be C C C'ing you soon."

Lieut. Peep.

better known to the readers of the Benning Herald by his nom de plume, Lieutenant Peep, for the talent and endurance that has produced so many inches of clever and entertaining satirical comment on the doings of the Company Officers' Class.

HENRY GRADY HOTEL

PEACHTREE AT CAIN Atlanta, Ga.

550 rooms of comfort and convenience. Each room has ceiling fan, circulating ice water, radio and either shower or tub bath; corner rooms have both. Open Dining Terrace and Coffee Shop.

Rooms from $2

J. f. de Jarnette Vice-Pres. & Mgr.

THE COMING BUSINESS REVIVAL

. . will undoubtedly stabilize business to the point where stocks will be on a steady increase in value. being the case, why not invest now in a stock of proven worth, one that will be safe as well as profitable?

$50,000.00

OF PREFERRED STOCK

PAYABLE QUARTERLY

DIVIDENDS PAYABLE IN JANUARY, APRIL, JULY, OCTOBER

TO BE SOLD IN ANY AMOUNT FROM $25.00 UP

Par value $25.00 per share. Preferred as to dividends and assets. Dividends must be fully paid on this stock before anything can be paid to holders of common stock, also all arrears must be brought up to date. In event of liquidation, all holders of preferred stock must be paid off in full plus all accumulated dividends before any assets may be divided among other stock holders.

SAVINGS and LOAN COMPANY COR. 13TH ST. and FIRST AVE.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Smith And Gordon Fortenberry To Fight

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

Play, who won second place to Brok- in a now defunct minor league in er's Tip in the Kentucky Derby, the west and there witnessed the most walked away with the race. Ladysman, beaten favorite in the Derby, finished second, four lengths back of handled the ball. And this is how Head Play. Broker's Tip came in he describes the play. Men on sectenth and last, experts attributing his ond and first and none out. Batter downfall to the slow track.

Head Play, Charley Kurtsinger up, held it all the way. Rounding into the home stretch, Ladysman came forlenge to Head Play's lead. Kurtsinger clucked to the Mason colt as Work-Head Play responded with a burst of speed that left the field behind, and won by four lengths.

Head Play is now generally conceded to be the best three year old in the country, although there are some that say Broker's Tip can beat the Mason colt on a dry, fast track.

Cleveland pushed New York off the top rung of the ladder in the American League. Teams in the junior circuit are now closely bunched with the Indians, the Yankees, the Senators, and the White Sox providing most of the fireworks.

In the National, Pittsburgh and New York are fighting it out for first place with little to choose between the two outfits. The Giants look lots better in action than they do on paper. The Cincinnati Reds, the big surprise, and field fly. the St. Louis Cardinals are batting for the other first division berths. The Reds have been occupying the cellar for a long time now, and apparently are beginning to tire of their environ-

Bob Newhall, famous sportsman, records these two interesting anec-

Manager Max Carey of the Brook-

In the Preakness last week, Head lyn Dodgers claims he once played extraordinary triple play on record; unique in that not a single player hits high fly over second base and is at once declared out by umpire on broke fast,, spun into the lead, and infield fly rule. Both the runner on second and the shortstop lose ball in the sun and it comes down and hits ward with a rush—the only real chal- the runner on second on the head. This player the umpire immediately called out for being hit with a batted man on Ladysman attempted to take ball. The ball bounced from the the inside and cut out Head Play. player's head over towards first base where the runner on that base, in disgust, kicked the ball out to right field and was called out for interference, the third out in the triple play. With all due respect to Manager Carey, it must be said that the umpire certainly erred in calling the second and third outs. For the moment he called the batter out on an infield fly, the ball hit by the batter could no longer be regarded as a batted ball and hence the man it fell upon on second would not be out. For, if the second man were out for being hit with a batted ball, then the batter would have gotten credit for a safe hit. And yet he was called out on an infield fly. And he could not both be called out on the infield fly rule and given credit for a safe hit. The proper ruling would have been one out on the in-

> In 1898, Frank Isbell, later first baseman for the Chicago White Sox, was a pitcher for St. Paul. At that time Sunday ball was not allowed in the city limits, so the management had fitted up a little park outside of town for use on the Sabbath. One Sunday Minneapolis opposed the Saints. The field was so small that (Please turn to page 9)

Cvclone Smith Is Championship Tennis Tournaments Tough Foe Tuesday

Rip Tetherton Clashes With Billy In Ten Round Semi-Final

Walker "Cyclone" Smith and Gordon Fortenberry will clash in the main go of the splendid fight card to be staged at the post next Tuesday night. Smith is staging a come-back; his last bout, with Harry Allen, ended in a draw verdict. Gordon Fortenberry needs very little introduction. Jack Tunney, Bennie O'Dell, Corn Griffin, and Smith himself have lost decisions to him. Some time ago Fortenberry fought Bob Godwin, losing a close slugfest to the Georgian.

The soldier wants to revenge himelf for the defeat he suffered at the hands of Fortenberry on the occasion of their last meeting. Gordon realizes that a victory over the Cyclone would be another feather in his already well-decorated chapeau. The bout should be close and hard fought with the issue remaining in doubt up to the final gong. Love taps will be taboo when these two maulers get together in the same ring. Clear the Rip Tetherton will show against Benny Hood in a ten round semi-final. In his last appearance, two-fisted Rip knocked Red Schilling colder than a pawnbroker's heart. Schilling was a tough, willing mixer, but he just wasn't in it with the soldier, who carried too much dynamite in either mitt. Rip's opponent has a reputation that speaks for itself, having defeated both Baisden and Schilling.

The ten-round semi-final bout, will with two minute rounds instead of three, is an innovation as far as Benning fight cards are concerned. Captain Fry has been tinkering with th idea for some time, and it is bound to be a success. With a semi-final on the order of the Tetherton-Hood scrap and a main go with Fortenberry and Smith showing, the Athletic Association could cast out the preliminaries and the fans would still be getting their money's worth.

But the preliminaries serve to make the fight card even better. In the main preliminary of six rounds, Old Saginaw Seeley, on the come-back trail, takes on Marshall Cardwell, another battler whose record obviates the necessity of an introduction. Sag has fought twice recently with excellent opponents and won both times, Ginger Jernigan and Ben Spivey both losing decisions to the fast-moving, clever soldier.

Grumpy "the Great" Gordy faces Tough Man Singly in the other sixrounder and what a bout this should Gordy has always been popular with the fans in this vicinity, who like his style of fighting and dote on his clowning tactics. Tough Man Singly appeared against Ghost Ghastly recently and won a technical K. opponent. Singly went wild in that bout and was throwing leather in all directions when the referees stepped in and awarded the fight to him.

Herby Yutmeyer, the lad that has won his last few fights by the K. O. route, meets a tough customer in Billy Hyde, amateur champion of his division in Oklahoma at one time. Hyde has only shown once, winning on that occasion. When Little Herby throws that right, something is bound to happen, and he intends to throw it a lot next Tuesday night.

The curtain-raiser finds Tut Tut Taylor, hard-punching medico, opposing Tobe Reynolds, a good boy trying to crash the hall of fame. This fight should put the fans in a good humor for the rest of the evening. (Please turn to page 9)

Scheduled To Face Are Now In Very Advanced Stage Rapid strides in the post tennis match and will now play Lynch and championships were made during the Calhoun, who drew a bye. past week. In the men's singles, Captain Drake, the champion, adment by disposing of Harding in Giddings and Weyrauch. They met straight sets 6-4, 6-0. Calhoun, playing a good brand of tennis, had very little Lewis and Irving defeated Winston trouble with Julius Evans, winning and Churchill without a great deal of by scores of 6-0, 6-1. Calhoun had difficulty and then forced Poore and previously beaten Irving in an upset Newman, No. 2 ranking doubles team after three hard-fought sets. Calhoun next meets the champion, Drake. Wilson advanced to the quarter-finals by out of the fire, 6-3, 2-6, 6-0. handing Dewey a decisive defeat 6-2, 6-3. Sherburne turned back Churchill 6-2, 6-0,

In the other bracket, Lynch, who strokes with Graves, and finally won Barnes in a second match. Newman Kendall. took both sets at love. Major Blackmore, having defeated Gavin in his first round match, met his Waterlot in Poore. Blackmore, however, forced Poore, losing 6-4, 6-3. Beatty and their match.

the first set at 6-4, lost the second at love, and came back to win the match at 6-4. Blackmore and Wilson, latre Miss Bonesteel. however, were eliminated by Drake and Sherburne in the second round. Before losing, they put up a surprisingly strong resistance, especially in 10-8. Gavin and Britt defeated Ham- sets 7-5, 11-9. Evans and Calhoun mond and Dewey in a first round

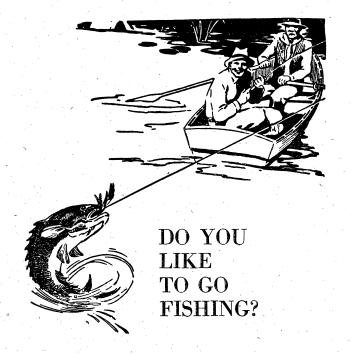

In the other bracket, Evans and Evans advanced to the sem-finals by vanced another step up the tourna- defeating McCleave and Blair and difficulty and then forced Poore and on the post, to three sets before the

In the woman's singles, the champion, Mrs. Lynch, advanced in the tournament by defeating both Mrs. Luse and Mrs. Morse. Mrs. Lynch had drawn a first round bye, matched won the first by scores of 6-3, 6-0, strokes with Graves, and finally won the second by 6-4, 6-1. Miss Ely won by scores of 6-3, 6-4. Newman had by default from Mrs. Krauthoff. Mrs. no difficulty whatsoever in beating Eagles won two love sets from Miss

In the other bracket, Mrs. Gaston turned back Miss Michie without difficulty 6-0, 6-2, but then lost a hardfought match to Mrs. Evans. The match went to three sets, Mrs. Evans Hammond have not as yet played losing the first set, but rallying strongly to take the last two. Mrs. Evans In the men's doubles, Harding and had previously beaten Miss Gaston Beatty lost a hard, fiercely-fought 6-1, 6-1, in a first round match. Miss three set match to Blackmore and Bonesteel won without trouble from Wilson. The latter combination took Miss Moore 6-1, 6-2, and Mrs. Keiler, co-favorite with Mrs. Lynch for the championship, defeated Mrs. Blair and

In the mixed doubles, the team of Harding and Bonesteel won in straight sets from Blackmore and Gaston 6-4. 6-2. Mrs. Maglin and Lt. Poore edged the second set, which they lost at Eagles and Irving in two hard-fought

(Please turn to page 9)

IF YOU DO . . .

.. then you're one of those fellows who like good tackle. And you're also one of those fellows who'll find that the Main Branch has a complete line of sporting equipment of every kind.

PHONE 608

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service.

BOXING

TUESDAY. MAY 23

Post Gymnasium, 8:15 P. M.

MAIN GO-10 ROUNDS

Cyclone Smith vs. Gordon Fortenberry Coco, Florida

29th Infantry
SPECIAL 10-ROUNDER

Rip Tetherton Fort Benning

Benny Hood Orlando, Florida

6 ROUNDS

Saginaw Seeley

Marshall Cardwell LaGrange, Ga.

6 ROUNDS

Tough Man Singly 29th Infantry

Quartermaster Corps. 6 ROUNDS

Herb Yutmever Medical Det.

Tut Tut Taylor

Grumpy Gordy

vs.

Billy Hyde 29th Infantry

4 ROUNDS

 $\mathbf{vs.}$

Tobe Reynolds

edical Det.
SPECIAL SURPRISE CURTAIN-RAISER WRESTLING MATCH

Cooper 29th Infantry

vs.

Wood Q. M. C.

Ringside $1.00 General Admission 50c

Tickets on sale in Columbus at Sears-Roebuck & Co., Wheat's Drug Store, Hubbard Hardware Co.,

A letter from Tanks Grantham manager of Corn Griffin, to this department revealed that the soldier originally had a bout scheduled with Al Borris on the 15th of the month. The fight never materialized; Borris took the path of the least resistance and ran out on Griffin.

Senator Durant, at whose estate in Guilford, Conn., both Grantham and Griffin stayed for a while, has been associated with the world of sportdom for half a century. He is the author of several books.

The senator took Grantham and der that Corn might train in Stillman's gym. Griffin claims that he feels better than ever before and is anxious to make a complete success of his eastern campaign.

Grantham intends to contact several good lightheavies while in New York for a bout with Griffin in Fort Benning soon. Tanks will leave New York today or tomorrow so that he may be at the post on the night of the Smith-Fortenberry war.

CYCLONE TO ENGAGE WITH FORTENBERRY IN FISTIC DUEL

(Continued from Page 8) From curtain-raiser to main go, the fight card next Tuesday night should be classified under the label of superexcellence. And there is every reason to expect that it will be the best fight card of the year.

As an added attraction, Lieutenant Johnson is planning to open the card with a wrestling exhibition. If the fans get a kick out of it, and they undoubtedly will, it may become an won from Krauthoff and Sherburne. It took three sets to decide the out-Mrs. Keiler and Captain Drake, co-favorites with Lynch and Lynch, won easily from Blair and Blair 6-1, 6-3.

POST CHAMPIONSHIP TENNIS MATCHES MAKE PROGRESS

(Continued from page 8)

Drs. Miller & Davis

Dog and Cat Hospital 1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

Howard Bus Line, Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

110		riom
Colum	bus	Ft. Benning
5:00	AM	6:00 AM
6:00	•	7:50 *
7:00	44	9:15 "
8:30	"	10:45 "
10:00	"	12:45 PM
11:45	46	2:15 "
1:30	PM ·	4:15 "
3:00	"	5:10 "
5:00	44	6:00 *
7:00	4	7:00 "
9:00	66 1 6	8:00 "
10:30	"	9:45 "
12:00	M ·	11:15 "
		12:00 M
	Also "Extras"	' and
	SCHOOL BY	USES
410	PHONES
CITY		POST

GRIFFIN BOXING Kellevs Loose Chain Lightning In IN EAST SOON 29th Infantry Track Meet Victory

By JACK GIBNEY

The Blue Thunderbolt of the 2d Battalion 29th Infantry emerged victorious in the regimental track and field meet held in Doughboy Stadium, Thursday morning, May 18. It was a walk-away, or more technically a run-away, for the Kelly's, who scored 79 3-4 points to the 42 3-4 amassed by the Green Wave of the 1st Battalion. The 2d Batts took eight first places, against the Irish four; and the two teams tied in one event. Sam Prophet, Company G, was the individual high point winner of the meet with 12 points to his credit.

It begins to look like the same old story again this year,-the Kellys and Griffin to New York last week in or- the Tankers fighting it out for the post championship. Both teams have wonderful material, and more of it than any of the other aggregations in the garrison. Doubtless they will lose individual points here and there, as the other teams have some star men that are doing very nicely in work-outs, but when the final count is made it is a pretty safe bet that the Tornado or the Thunderbolt will head the list.

> Thursday's meet was not fast, but that was due to the condition of the track, and not the ability of the run-With the next week to work on the weak points that showed up in the regimental meet, and a little work on the track, and all three teams of the Demonstration regiment can be expected to make a good showing the morning of May 27. It's too bad that only one team can win.

Results are as follows: 100 yd. dash: 1st, Nichols, 2d Batt; Rivers, 2d Bn.; McDonald, 2d Bn. Time 11 seconds flat.

120 yd. high hurdles: 1st, Horton, lst Bn.; 2d, Marquis, 2d Bn.; 3rd, Time 17 seconds Prophet, 2d Bn.

220 yd. dash: 1st, Craig, 1st Bn.; 2d, Rivers, 2d Bn.; 3rd, Doucet, 1st Bn. Time 25 2-5.

220 yd. low hurdles: 1st, Stephens, 2d Bn.; 2d, Horton, 1st Bn.; 3rd, Reaves, 1st Bn. Time 29 seconds flat. 440 yd. run: 1st, Saunders, 2d Bn.; 2d, Dowden, 2d Bn.; 3rd, Ramirez, 2d Bn. Time 56 seconds flat. 880 yd. run: 1st, Maitland, 2d Bn.; 2d, Washman, 1st Bn.; 3rd, Smith, 1st Bn. Time 2:18 2.5.

Mile run: 1st, Elkins, 2d Bn.; 2d, Knight, 1st Bn.; 3rd, Wittichen, 2d Bn. Time 5:05. Broad jump: 1st, Prophet, 2d Bn.; 2d, Hebert, Hq. Bn.; 3rd, Reddock, 1st Bn. and Woods 2d Bn. tied. Distance 19 ft. 3 in. Discus: 1st, Maxwell, 2d Bn.; 2d, Estes, Hq. Bn.; 3rd, Blackstone, 2d Bn. Distance 112 ft. 10 in.

Shot put: 1st, Simmons, 1st Bn.; 2d, Costello, 2d Bn.; 3rd, Carpenter, 1st Bn. Distance 38 ft. 5 in.

Pole vault: 1st, Reddock, 1st Bn.; 2d, Carpenter, 2d Bn.; 3rd, Prophet, 2d Bn. Height 10 ft. 6 in.

High jump: Carpenter, 1st Bn., and Johnson, 2d Bn.; tied for 1st. Height 5 ft. 7 in.

Javelin: 1st, Prophet, 2d Bn.; 2d, Hayes, Hq. Bn.; 3rd, Hebert, Hq. Bn. Distance 161 ft. 2 in.

1440 yd. relay: Won by 2d Bn. Team of Rivers, Woods, Dowden and Saunders. 1st Bn. second. Team of Hunt, Craig, Reddock, and Delano.

Permanent Waves $3.00; Shampoo and Set 50c; Haircut 25c.

MRS. R. G. DEITZ

NEW BEAUTY SHOPPE 11061 Broadway Phone 9286

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

SPORT CHATTER

(Continued from page 8)

the centerfield fence was almost back of second base and balls hitting it rebounded nearly into the infield. In the ninth inning of the game in question, St. Paul was two runs to the good. When the ninth rolled around, Minneapolis got men on first and second with two outs. The next batter met one of Isbell's slants for a fly ball that hit the centerfield fence and the rooters breathed easier as they knew it would bounce back so far no run could score. But the ball didn't bounce back at all. It stuck right where it lit, high up above the clutching fingers of the St. Paul centerfielder, and in came the two runners followed by the batter, giving St. Paul the runs that won the game. It developed that the ball had alighted upon the point of a wire nail driven through the fence from the outside.

83rd F. A.

HQ., HQ. BTRY. AND C. T. War Department Orders have been received on Lt. Hall of this battery to report to Ft. Sill, Okla., as a member of the 1933 Battery Officers' class. Both officers and men of this organization regret to lose Lt. Hall as he is one of the most popular officers in the battery.

The battery is getting smaller every day as we have orders to send five groups of men to the C. C. C. camp to be detailed as instructors in planting trees. We suggest that the groups be divided into the following companies. Sgt. Dodd to be appointed first sergeant of a company of men who are all blaze faced or bald head ed. Corporal Morris as first sergeant of the sand blowers, or men under five feet in height. Corporal Lee supply sergeant of the ridge runners, or men with a long leg and a longer one. Private Vestal as beauty culturist and assigned to a company of cake eaters. We suggest that this company be assigned to duty at Palm Beach, Florida, gigolos to entertain the idle rich, of course Vestal couldn't let it be known that he once was an obscure manure shaker prior to his appointment as sheik. Vestal is known about town as an answer to a maiden's prayer.

Our first Sergeant is sporting anew Chevrolet coach and was seen at one of the leading play grounds in Georgia in the company of a very charming young lady. He was dressed in the latest summer style, a blue flannel coat and white flannel breech-

Sgt. Dodd has been elected Burgomaster of Block W, by a large ma-Hooky Rowland was in charge of the campaign. A chicken supper was served in honor of Sgt. Dodd's appointment and we all wish him a very successful term of office.

BATTERY "A"

2nd Lieut. John R. Beishline, our Stable Officer, leaves Thursday for duty with the Civilian Conservation

Battery "A" is having a very quiet week. The Battery is on fire guard, and we have been lucky so far in that we had no calls. Cpl. Haywood North received the only call of the ery exciting one as it ended at the Provost Marshal's Office. Stay in there, and fight 'em Haywood, we need those white ducks to wear to Alabama,

In the near future we are going to have a beauty contest, the main contestants being Sgt. McRae, Junior and Physcal Culture Haywood

It seems service practice is about over for Battery "A." The old grind The old grind of Horse exercise and gunners instruction starts in the near future.

Notice: Lost, strayed or stolen, two privates, Daniel L. Williams and James O. Taylor.

BATTERY "C"

The Battery has recovered from maneuvers and a good time has been reported by all who took part.

29th Inf.

COMPANY "F"

It has been some time since we were in print, but I think that being on maneuvers is a good excuse.

We certainly hated to see our old

The chief of the second section has cut four notches on his gun and each as a whole had a few golden opporplenty of direct hits. From our view point it would have been just too bad for the tankers if we had had live ammunition.

The first and fourth sections are credited with one fast tank each, although the fourth section got captured. They deserve plenty of glory.

In he second week of the mimic war, the O. P. detail got a lot of glory for observing enemy movements. They saw Battery "A" unlimber and go into position and had observed fire on them in a few minutes, probably before they were prepared for action.

It is still very doubtful whether Battery "A" ever located our first po sition, as we believe it was impossible to see the position even within a hundred yards of it. But miracles happen in all wars.

During our gas attack which came n the wee hours of the morning, one of our recruits believed that someone put paper in his face piece and tied it therein. Champ Clark put on a nose bag for a gas mask.

Last but not least "believe it or not," the chief of the 1st section had to put a collar on a horse to make sure whether or not the long neck strap goes to the front or rear.

pal, Pfc. George W. Cotten, "go west." He was an ideal soldier and liked by everyone that knew him.

We have two new 1st Class Privates, viz: Andrew Reed and Gus Owens. Pfc. Holland and Pvt. Stantliff were rated Specialist 6th class.

Tune in some evening when you have nothing else to listen to and hear the "Harmonizing Four." Reading from left to right, we have: Bass, one represents a tank. The Battery Peter Barron; tenor, Richard Benas a whole had a few golden oppor-tunities in tank attacks, and got tone, Walter "Gimp" Bennett. They are on the air at all hours singing over station BLAH operating on an assigned frequency of 1200 motor-

> We have had a few changes in the color scheme of our reading room. The furniture has been reupholstered in a pleasing shade of green.

It seems that Sgt. Cummings has joined the ranks of the "Dog Lovers"; anyway he has a nice bulldog. But don't growl so much at the dog, O. K., or else you'll have a larger hospital bill than the dog is worth. Don't forget, Sarge, that we were all re-

HALF SOLES A GOOD A BETTER 50c · Half , Sole Sole LAMAC SOLE $1.00

The Only 5-Unit Machine In Columbus All Work Guaranteed

CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY

We specialize in cripple work Phone 565 1234 Broadway

We have an experienced Graduate Masseur or Masseuse whom we send to Fort Benning each Monday, Wednesday and Friday who can conveniently give Swedish Massages and Mineral Baths in your home. Reasonable Rates. We have many luxurious and beneficial Treatments for Health, Beauty and Happiness.

Treatments conveniently given at home include Swedish Shampoo, Turkish Shampoo, Oxygen, Sulphur, Nauheim, Oil of Eucalyptus, Saline Baths, Salt Glow, etc.

Office hours 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.--Evenings by appointment

Swedish
Facial and Scalp

Massage Cabinet Therapy Furkish Baths

SPECIAL REDUCING TREATMENTS

RIGDON HEALTH INSTITUTE

216 Doctors Building

Phone 1037

IT'S NOT SO EASY TO PLAN A MENU

. . and especially so during these hot days. Even the most appetizing foods have to have an extra inducement to make them thoroughly appreciated. That's why you'll discover that the Grocery Department will assist you so much in preparing summer meals-its variety and the freshness of its stock lend added flavor to any meal.

GROCERY DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service.

GENERAL KING SOON TO LEAVE Mexican border, another as an in-(Continued from Page 1)

and later an instructor at the Army Service school.

Upon completion of his tour of to Washington, D. C., as a student at the Army War college. Upon his graduation from the War college, he became a member of its staff of in-

In the latter part of 1912 he rejointhe Hawaiian Islands for three year tour of duty at Schofield Barracks. The completion of this tour of ser-Infantry.

Upon returning to the United States worth as an instructor in the Army structor in the business men's training camp at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, an assignment as inspector-instructor of the Texas National Guard, and anduty at Fort Leavenworth, he rejoind other as adjutant of the 12th Provised the 1st Infantry at Vancouver Barracks, Wash. In 1910 he was ordered was ordered to Bloomington, Ind., where he became professor of military science and tactics at the University of Indiana, and on the 15th of May he was prometed to major.

In June, 1917, he sailed for France, where he was appointed assistant died his regiment and went with it to vision adjutant and later division operations officer of the 1st Regular Army Division, with the rank of lieutenant colonel. In November, 1917, vice in the Hawaiian Islands also he was appointed chief of staff of the marked the completion of seventeen 1st Division. A promotion to the years service as a member of the 1st rank of colonel, national army, came in May, 1918. He served in several defensive sectors with the 1st Divishe was again ordered to Fort Leaven- ion and participated in the Montdider-Noyon defensive, including the cap-Service school. A series of miscellanture of Cantigny. He also served with eous assignments followed the completion of his service as an instructor at defensive south of Soissons, and in adier general and was transferred to government, and Commander of the of experiment, also accompanied the

In September, 1918, he was detailed | Manila and Subic Bays. In 1925 he was as chief of staff of the 7th Army Corps, and in the following month Islands, and was ordered to Washinghe was appointed a temporary brigadier general, and was assigned to the 3rd Army Corps, as chief of staff, which position he held during the Meuse-Argonne offensive, the march to the Rhine, and the occupation of Luxemburg and Germany.

Upon his return to the United States in July, 1918, he reverted to his regular army rank of major, and was assigned to duty at the General Staff college, Washington, D. C., as an instructor. In July, 1920, he was promoted to the rank of colonel, regular army, and in 1921 he became a member of the war plans division of the general staff. Late in 1922 he was ordered to the Infantry School at Fort Benning for a short course of instruction. An assignment to command the He is also the holder of several foreign journey as an observer. Colonel Wil-15th United States Infantry at Tientsin, China, followed the completion of of the Legion of Honor, the Croix de his duty at Fort Benning, and in 1924 Guerre with palm and silver star, both relieved from duty in the Philippine ton, D. C., for duty as assistant chief of staff, personnel division of the War Department General Staff. In 1931 he was assigned to command of the Infantry School at Fort Benning.

For his conspicuous meritorious ser-War Department order conferring the near Mondidier, the advance south of Mihiel salient. Later, as chief of staff of the 3rd Army Corps during the splendid tactical judgement, he rendered especially meritorious service." decorations, among which are Officer are not found in the operation of a convoy composed of a uniform type of vehicle.

TANK CONVOY MAKES JOUR-NEY TO ATLANTA

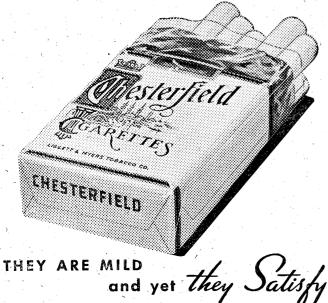

(Continued from Page 1)

The students and others accompanyvices overseas he was awarded the ing the convoy to Atlanta were quar-Distinguished Service Medal. The tered at Fort McPherson on Wednesday and Thursday nights. While at decoration reads as follows: "He serv- Fort McPherson the class was coned with distinction as chief of staff of ducted on a special tour of observathe 7th Division in the operations tion through the assembly plant of the Chevrolet motor company and the Soissons, and in the attack on the St. | Fisher body company in Atlanta. This inspection trip was arranged with officials of the two companies by Ma-Meuse-Argonne operations, by his jor Stephen G. Henry, senior mechanical instructor of the tank school, who accompanied the convoy during the liam B. Wallace, head of the tank section of the Infantry School, and several other officers of the tank sectenant George D. Barnes, instructor.

It takes barrels of money

Four miles of warehouses are used to store our tobaccos. The crops now in storage are worth about $70,000,000 ... most of it for Chesterfield Cigarettes.

_ put away for 30 months

The Domestic kinds are packed away in wooden hogsheads that weigh 1,000 pounds and stand as high as a man's head.

Like fine wine, tobacco improves with age. So after our buyers select, from the various markets, the right kind of tobacco for Chesterfield, we put it away for 30 months or more to become mellow and sweet.

This ageing process is expensive, but there is no short-cut to make tobaccos milder-to make them taste better. It just takes money and time to make Chesterfields.

VOLUME III

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, MAY 26, 1933

NUMBER 5

MOOTIN

Chaplain Monahan had a picnic for the children of his Sunday School class. Said Chaplain Monahan: "Judging from the attendance at the picnic, the affair was a huge success. There are fifty-one children in my Sunday School class. Sixty-five children attended the picnic."

Last Sunday afternoon, we wended our weary way over to the tennis courts, broiling in a hot sun, where George Lynch and Jimmy Drake were battling it out for the tennis championship of the post. Lieutenant Lynch was wearing a cap of milky white hue -well, it was white, anyway.

This cap seemed both an object of veneration and disgust. After every point, George would readjust the cap on hils head with infinite care. Sometimes a 45 degree angle would suffice to ward off the rays of the sun; at other times, it required at least a 30 degree angle; and once we were almost convinced that the cap was parellel with the side of George's head. Occasionally, it was necessary to pull the cap well down over one eye, depending on which court George was serving in. And once during the course of the match we are certain that George must have been balancing the cap on the end of his nose.

This week's citation (apologies to The Flare) goes to George Lynch for ajuggling act deserving of the highest Incidentally, it was a darn good tennis match.

If Lieutenant Ted Decker were to east a vote for the laziest officer in Block 21, Lieutenant Sewell Brumby would be his choice. Somebody overheard this remark coming from Lieutenant Decker. "Several days ago, something happened to Sewell. He was not himself. A radical change had occurred. I was worried. Then suddenly it came to me. They actually had the poor boy working. (Lieutenant Brumby was recently transferred to the C. C. C.)

We have it from a reliable source that Lieutenant Brumby is so lazy that he deliberately drives his car over a bump to knock off his cigarette

These are turbulent times. Recently the Officers' Club dispatched letters to the various summer resorts in this vicinity requesting information concerning them for the use of the officers of the garrison. Two weeks ago, detailed information was posted on the Officers' Club bulletin board-plain for all eyes to see. Then President Roosevelt conceived his brainchild and the army was elected adopted father.

Across the typewritten list of summer resorts available for army officers and their families on leave, someone scrawled that cryptic Americanism "Yeh". That single word was more than just an attempt to be funny. It was ironical and slightly sarcastic, written by someone who would have liked very much to obtain two or three weeks leave to visit any one of the summer resorts listed had the C. C. C. not called him forth from hiding These are turbulent times.

Scene At Nazis' Literary Holocaust

Made in Berlin during the recent Nazi drive on what they consider anti-German literature, these pictures show the destruction of more than 20,000 books and pamphlets adjudged inimical to culture as interpreted by Chancellor Adolf Hitler and his followers. Lower photo shows cheering Nazis hailing Hitler as the books went up in smoke, while in upper panel are young Nazis feeding the literary holocaust.

Large Number Of Students Graduate Monday

Commandant Reads Message From Acting Chief Of Infantry During Exercises Held May 21 At Main Theatre

ers were graduated from the various classes of the Infantry School at com-mencement exercises held yesterday. Major General Campbell King, com-mandant of Fort Benning, addressed the graduates and presented the dip-

The Benning commencement was this year about three weeks before the customary time. The school term was shortened because of the demand with the Civilian Conservation corps

Major General King presided at the exercises. Seated on the stage with the commandant were: Col. Charles W. Weeks, assistant commandant; Col. Ephraim G. Peyton, executive officer; Col. Fred L. Munson, commander of the 24th Infantry; Col. W. DeCamp Hall, quartermaster; Col. William E. Persons, commander sojourn at Fort Benning, pointed out of the 29th Infantry; Col. George F. the importantce of the school course Baltzell, director of the Infantry in the education of an officer, and the board; Col. William B. Wallace, chief advantages which accrue to him dur of the tank section; Lieut Col. Frank ing his career by reason of his attend-F. Jewett, camp commander of the ci- ance at the Infantry School. Schools vilian conservation corps; Lieut. Col. he said, however highly developed. Joseph W. Stillwell, chief of the first are never able to provide a complete section; Lieut. Col. Reginald H. Kelly, head of the department of experiment; Lieut. Col. Albert S. J. Tucker, chief of the second section; Major Omar N. Bradley, chief of the third section; Major Edwin F. Harding, chief of the against the idea that they have acfourth section: Major Clvde A. Selleck, commander of the 1st Battalion, 83rd Field Artillery; Major Allen F. Kingman, commander of the tank bat new methods and improvements are talion; Major Emil W. Leard, secretary being developed will make the meth-

James J. Winn, aide-de-camp, and Chaplains Frank L. Rosenthal and Dan J. McCarthy, both of Columbus.

Of the graduates, 105 were members of the Advanced course; 125, Company Officers Course; 41, Tank course; and 158, National Guard and Reserve Officer course. Special students included in the classes were: six cavalry of ficers, three field artillery officers, one chemical warfare officer, five Marine for officers for duty in connection Corps officers, and one Chinese Army officer.

At the beginning of his address, General King read to the assembled students the contents of a radio message which had been received from the Office of the Chief of Infantry which was sent by Colonel Lawrence B. Halstead, Acting Chief of Infantry.

General King reviewed the accomplishments of the students during their military education, but serve merely as a foundation for progress, and a guide for future development. He cautioned the graduates against stagnation in thought, and particularly to guard quired the last word in infantry technique and tactical methods, for the rapidity with which new weapons,

Four hundred and forty-eight offi- of the academic department; Lieut. lous of tomorrow totally different from those of today. The instruction of the Infantry School, he said, has been pri marily in existing infantry methods, with only a suggestion of the new. The full text of General King's address to the graduating classes was as follows:

Gentlemen of the Graduating Classes, Ladies and Gentlemen:

This is the great day in the annual history of the Infantry School. The following radio has been received from the Chief of Infantry.

"Please extend to all graduating classes of the Infantry School the heartiest congratulations of the Chief of Infantry on their having completed successfully the respective courses of Instruction. On behalf of the infantry Soldier Injured I extend to them best wishes for continued success in their future activi-

"Paradoxical as it may seem, I regret to see you depart at this, the completion of the school year, and I also feel happy in its successful termination. I realize you must be actuated by a variety of conflicting emotions-pride in the knowledge of a task well done, regret at the necessity for breaking pleasant bonds formed during the year. In the case of regular officers, new posts and new assignments to be anticipated; in the case of National Guard and Reserve officers, a return to your former stations and

"Except for service during war, the time spent at the various service schools is unquestionably the most im-

(Please turn to page 4)

OFFICER ASSIGNMENTS

Assignments of officers of the Infantry School garrison announced in radio message received from Washington, D. C. include the following:

Captain Robert S. James, advanced course, is assigned to duty at the Ohio State University, Columbus, Ohio.

Lieutenant George W. Barnes, instructor in the tank section of the Infantry School, is assigned to Holabird Quartermaster Depot, Baltimore,

May 20:

Radio announcement of pending War Department orders affecting several Fort Benning officers was received at Post Headquarters on Saturday. Captain Grover C. Brandt, advanced course, and Lieutenant Eugene L. Conoly, company officers' course, are assigned to Puerto Rico for which station they will sail from New York on June 16.

Captain Edmund T. Bowden and Captain Macey L. Dill, students in the advanced course, and Captain Howard J. Liston, academic department, are assigned to the Hawaiian Department. and will sail from New York on June

Among assignments made on Saturday were those affecting Major Lewis C. Davidson, instructor academic department; Major Sereno R. Brett, tank member of the Infantry Board; Major Stephen C. Henry, senior mechanical instructor of thetank section, and Major Allen F. Kingman, commander of the Infantry School's tank battalion. These officers are ordered to Camp Beauregarde, La., for temporary duty with the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Captain Jesse P. Green, and Captain Eugene B. Behan, student officers; Captain LeRoy W. Yarborough, Headquarters Staff, and Lieutenants George A. Milliner, Robert E. Turner, student officer, who at present are under orders to proceed to Plattsburg Barracks, N. Y. to join the 26th Infantry, are instructed to report to that station with the least possible delay for duty with the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Other groups of officers from the 29th Infantry and the 83rd Field Artillery have been assigned to the Conservation Corps conditioning camp at Fort Benning. These include Captain Charles F. Johnson, Captain John A. Otto, Captain G. C. McKinley, Captain Earl A. Johnson, and Lieutenants Edward K. Purnell, Jewel N. Brumby, Robert B. Johnson, Henry C. Britt, Ernest F. Easterbrook, James K. Wool-

(Please turn to page 4)

In Fall Of Pole

Private James R. Wilburn, Company C, 24th Infantry, was seriously injured at Fort Benning, when a telephone pole, on which he was working, fell on him, crushing him to the ground and causing severe fractures of the left arm, thigh leg and foot. Private Wilburn's thigh was fractured in two places, the upper arm once; with a oblique fracture of the small bone in the leg and fracture of the heel bone, together with continuous and possible shoulder injury, complete the list of injuries. Reports from the station hospital indicate that he is now rallying from the results of the accident. and no permanent injuries --- expect-

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS IN SECTION OF THE SECTION OF THE

Last Dance Of Successful Season Is Held At Club Thursday Evening

Thursday evening's supper dance marked the las of this season's affairs at the Officers' Club. No entertainments of this kind have been enjoyed this last Winter any more than Thursday evening supper dances. Each Thursday reservations for tables have been completely filled. Entertaining through this medium has proven not only enjoyable, but convenient and reasonable.

Among those reserving tables for Thursday were: Le. and Mrs. R. R.

Permanent Waves $3.00; Shampoo and Set 50c; Haircut 25c.

MRS. R. G. DEITZ
NEW BEAUTY SHOPPE
1106½ Broadway Phone 9286

ALL - WEATHER SHOPPING

No need to let bad weather interfere with your shopping, for you can get everything you need here, and the rain won't even touch you.

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST.
BUY AMERICAN!

Martin, Capt. Golightly, Maj. and Mrs. Hearse, Maj. and Mrs. Ely, Capt. and Mrs. Paul, Capt. and Mrs. Pence.

29TH INFANTRY TO SPONSOR

The officers and ladies of the 29th Infantry will sponsor the first of a series of dances which will be held this Summer at the 29th Infantry camp. Dances at this attractive camp were greatly enjoyed throughout the duration of last Summer. Friday's affair will begin at eight o'clock and will last until ten. The 29th Infantry orchestra will furnish the music.

HICKMAN-BISHOP ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Of widespread interest throughout Army circles is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Louise Hickman of Washington, D. C. to Lieut. Noel S. Bishop of Philadelphia, Pa. Miss Hickman is the daughter of Col. and Mrs. Edwin A. Hickman of the Finance Department. She is one of Washington's most attractive belles. After graduating from Western High School in Washington she atteneded college at George Washington University where she received her A. B. degree. Lieut. Bishop of the Corps of Engineers is at present stationed in Philadelphia. He graduated from the United States Military Academy in the class of 1919. Plans for the wedding have not been completed.

COLUMBUS LITERARY SOCIETY MEETS AT QUARTERS OF MRS. GREENE

The "Junto", an interesting literary society composed of Columbus ladies, held its final meeting of the year at the attractive quarters of Mrs. Joseph I. Greene on Lumpkin Road, on Friday afternoon. Mrs. Greene, prior to her marriage to Lieut. Greene, was Miss Margery Hutchison of Columbus.

At this meeting, programs consisting of plans and a list of new officers for the coming year were distributed. The program for this meeting consisted of the review of six outstanding novels—"Red Dust" by Cannon, reviewed by Miss Latimer Watson; "Giants of the Earth", Peder Victorous", and "Their Father's God" by Rolvaag by Miss Joan Warner; "Wild Geese" and "Dark Flowers" by Mrs. Greene. After

It takes good men to make bread, and that's why Collins' Bread is so good.

Try it, and you'll convince yourself.

COLLINS' BAKING CO.

1144 13TH STREET

The Modern Nightcap

A glass of cold milk, just before retiring, will break down the barriers of sleep and give old Morpheus a chance. Try it tonight and ENJOY your rest!

WELLS' DAIRY

MACON ROAD

TELEPHONE 1144

served. The members of the "Junto" are: Mesdames Calvin DesPortes Davis, Charles Dimon, Jack Ellis, William Hudson, Tom Huston, A. Illges, Roscoe Johnson, Robert Lewis, Russell Newton, John Peacock, Frank Schley, James Smith, J. D. Terry, Maurice Lardins, Nell Andrew Knight, Joseph I. Greene, and the Misses Sara Hines Ford, Joan Warner, Latimer Watson, Catherine Banks, Frances Blackmon, Evelyn Daniels, Becky Flournoy, Sue Mac Fox, and Louise Hart.

MISS GERTRUDE MALONE HON-

Numbered among the delightfully informal affairs for the week was the curry party given Monday evening by Mrs. Selina Waddington n honor of Miss Gertrude Malone. Miss Malone is the attractive daughter of Maj. Gen. and Mrs. Paul B. Malone. She, with her mother, has been spending several weeks in Columbus as the house guest of her brother-in-law and sister Capt. and Mrs. Orryl S. Robles. Mrs. Waddington had as her guests a few of the honoree's friends.

MASTER GAYLE WILSON CELE-BRATES FIFTH BIRTHDAY

Lieut. and Mrs. Ovid O. Wilson entertained Sunday afternoon at their quarters for their small son, Gayle, in celebration of his fifth birthday. The party bgan at four and asted until six. During the afternoon games and contest were enjoyed. Delicious refreshments consisting of ice cream, cakes, and candy were served at five. Gayle had as his guests a few of his friends from the very young set.

MAJOR AND MRS. PATTERSON ENTERTAIN

Maj. and Mrs. Patterson were the hosts at dinner Thursday evening entertaining for a few of their friends in the medical corps.

After dinner the guests were escorted to the post movie.

The Pattersons had as their guests Major and Mrs. W. D. Mueller, Major and Mrs. A. S. Dabney, Capt. and Mrs. Grace, Capt. and Mrs. Chase.

PERSONALS

Lieut. Robert C. Andrews left Fort Benning on Tuesday to spend a few days in New York City before proceeding t otheir new station at Fort Francis E. Warren.

Lieut, and Mrs. Carl B. Herndon departed from Fort Benning on Friday. They will stop over with relatives in Washington, D. C. before sailing in June for the Philippines.

Lieut. and Mrs. Henry L. Flood are to be congraulated upon the birth of a son, who was born at the Station Hospital on May 15.

Lieut. Edwin D. Post left Fort Benning on Tuesday for Ohio where he will join his wife and small daughter and then proceed to his station at West Point, N. Y.

Capt. and Mrs. Robert W. Chance will depart the end of the week for Fort Sam Houston, Texas, where Capt. Chance has been ordered for station.

Lieut. Philip D. Ginder left Fort Benning Saturday for San Antonio where he plans to spend a few days with friends prior to reporting for duty at ort Missoula, Montana.

Maj. and Mrs. Dana H. Allen, with their two small children, plan to leave Fort Benning the latter part of the week. They will motor to New

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician
Murrah Bldg.
Phone Office 4108
Res. 1153

SEEDS — PLANTS
Everything for the GARDEN and
LAWN; seeds, plants, tools, fer-

VALLEY SEED CO. 1041 Broadway

the program, tea and sandwiches were served. The members of the "Junto" port leaving on June 20 for the are: Mesdames Calvin DesPortes Dav-Phillipines.

Miss Katherine Lemly has as her guest Miss Barbara Lowe of Fort Mc-Pherson.

Miss Margery Simmons of Washington, D. C. has been the house guest for a week of Maj. and Mrs. Sereno E. Brett.

Lieut. and Mrs. John W. Ramsey with their small daughter departed Friday by motor for Fort Sam Houston where Lieut. Ramsey has been ordered for station.

Drink

The Best Cola Beverage

Spend This Crown
Same As Cash

FOUR OUTSTANDING

FAN VALUES

Guaranteed to be of the highest quality—not the ordinary cheap make.

Oscillating	$4.95
10-inch Oscillating	$6.95
12-in Oscillating	$9.95
16-inch Oscillating	$17.50

Max Rosenberg Co.

1145 Broadway

CONVENIENT LOCATION—MODERN EQUIPMENT RATES REASONABLE

Phone your agent or call our Superintendent, Mr. Trussell, Phone 3062

DIMON COURT APARTMENTS

DOLAN-HENRY HAT SHOP

AT ALSOBROOK'S

When you plan your trip—don't forget to have some of the season's latest hats—alluring, beautiful and fashionable creations—such as are sold here!

PRICES FROM $1.95 TO $7.50

FORT BENNING CHARGE ACCOUNTS SOLICITED

FRESHNESS

is necessary quality which may have much to do with your success as a competent housekeeper. For this reason, wise buyers will insist on fresh vegetables during the summer and thus guarantee satisfaction in the family.

GROCERY DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

New Books

THE FIGHTING TANKS, 1916-1932 By Jones, Rarey and Icks.

A book on tanks soon to go to press. This book has been written for publication by the National Service Publishing Company of Washington, D. C. The authors, Major Ralph E. Jones. Infantry (Tanks), Captain George H. Rarey, Infantry (Tans), and First Lieu-tenant Robert J. Icks, nearly a year and have put forth much effort with the object of making the book as complete and useful as possible.

Major Jones, since 1928, has had extensive service with tanks and has been an instructor in tank tactics at Meade. Captain Rarey is now on duty at Fort Benning with the Department of Experiment.

The book deal, primarily, with the tanks of about thirty nations, the methods of employing tanks, etc. With lesser thoroughness it covers other vehicles and devices pertaining to mili-

DUN-DEER

SHOES

THE FOOTWEAR SEN-SATION OF 1933

DUN-DEER OXFORDS FOR MEN-WOMEN AND CHILDREN-IN BROWN AND ELK-BLACK AND WHITE.

Men
Ladies	$2.25
Misses 12 to 2	$1.95
Children 8 to 11	$1.65

DUN-DEER SANDALS

Ladies	$2.25
Misses 12 to 2	$1.95
Children 8 to 11	$1.65
	•

Men's Black and White Star Brand Sport Oxfords...$2.50 Other Sport Oxfords For $2.45 to $4.25

SHOE DEPARTMENT WESTBROOK BLDG.

Columbus Players To Present Comedy At Springer On June 3

The Little Theater Players of Columbus will present their last play of the current season on Saturday, June 3, at eight-thirty p. m. at the Springer Opera House in Columbus.

The personnel of the post is familiar with the play selected for the concluding performance—"The Torchand therefore will remember Bearers that it s one of the most hilarious comedies ever presented on the local boards. A satire on Little Theater work in the United States, it exaggerates every idiosyncrasy of the amateur players throughout the country to produce an unequaled source of humor. The lines, the action and the very emotions of the players are presented n an exaggerated form through the medium of a play within the play and are productive of many laughs.

The cast selected for the play will bring many old favorites of Little Theatre audiences on the stage again. The twelve people of the cast are: Frederick Ritter ____ Robert McNulty ___ Mary McMurri Mrs. Ritter _ Mrs. J. Duro Pampinelli

Frances McNultv __ Howard Overby Mr. Spindler --Nelly Fell _ Julia Allen Ralph Twiller --___ Dexter Jordan Florence McCrickett

Dorothy Greentree Huxley Hossefrosse ____ Perry Borom Teddy Spearing ___ Albert Kunze, Jr. Clara Sheppard -- Dorothy Thompson Jenny (The Maid) _____ Sarah Ivey Stage Manager ____ Salvador Spano

The presentation of "The Torch-Bearers" will be a public performance and all seats will be reserved.

tary mechanization. There are about 200 illustrations, of which photographs constitute the greater portion. Data regarding many tanks and other vehicles is tabulated in a uniform way and placed adjacent to the corresponding photographs.

List of Chapters

1. Introduction

Tank Combat History

Tanks of all countries (including photographs and data pertaining to both experimental and adopted models) General List (numbers and models by countries)

Shapes and Relative Sizes of Various Tanks in Profile

Powers and Limitations

Main Considerations Governing Employment

Types and Uses

Power Carts

Tank Design

Tank Equipment and Accessories

Miscellaneous Vehicles Command and Signal Tanks Command Post Vehicles Half-Track Combat Vehicles Armored Cars Self-Propelled Artillery Military Tractors Cross-Country Traction Aids Cargo Carriers, Converted from Cross-Country Cargo Carriers

Tank Carriers Cross-Country Traction Aids Special Mainenance Vehicles 10. Tank Armament and Gunnery

11. Obstacles and Defense Against

(Please turn to page 8)

REMEMBER

A handful of meat eating Britishers rule millions of non-meat eating Hindus. Give 'em more OLD SETTLER'S SAUsage and bring out a few Napoleons.

The Provision Co., Inc.

Faculty Blamed For Service Spots

Worry Caused Students By Instructors Given As Cause Of Startling Number Of Bare Pates

which appear in the Doughboy, one of Lt. Dowdall and the tonsorial arthears of the hard-hearted, vllainous ists of the garrison. way in which the members of the faculty annoy the members of the student body of the Infantry School with uninteresting questions and still more uninteresting examinations.

first concrete example of this tendency that there was an alarming disparity between the number of officers who ended it—far from that. Even if it were so that a great number of stuwould reflect on the prestige of this

All during the year, in the columns "cheer-bringer" of the post. There was of the Herald, in the conversations of another evidence, one that appeared he students and in the comments only to discerning minds, such as that

Briefly, the number of "service a sort of unofficial publication as spots" on the craniums of the students of the two regular Army courses was exactly seventy per cent greater than But the post was presented with its the number which graced the pates of the National Guard and Reserve on the part of the mentors of Upatoi Officers. A keen minded person would U, when the students received their at once jump to the logical conclusdiplomas last Monday morning. Not ion-and that is exactly what Lt. Dow dall, in an interview with the Herald reporter, did. The Secretary pointed began the course and the number that out that the 80 per cent rate of bald spots among the regulars is conclusive proof that the longer course that dents failed to pass the course we they went through is a great source should hesitate to mention it, for it of worry, and logically argued that (Please turn to page 8) the whole family will like Kinnett's Ice Cream-for parties, for desserts or for any occasion.

SOLD AT THE OFFICERS' CLUB

Saturday's Purchases Will Appear On Your June Statement, Payable In July

Sale Of Fine Dresses

In Sizes 14 to 44

And End Of The Month Sale of Kirven's Fine Ready To Wear. Smart styles for the smart woman. Many can be worn now with comfort. Others are splendid for traveling and vacation wear.

Silk Dresses . . . Knit Dresses

Dark and light shades in crepe and sheers, including navy and black. Soft wool knits in light and dark shades.

> $10.75 formerly $16.75 to $19.75

Silk sheers and light weight wool. Light shades and navy and black.

formerly $25.00 to $49.50

$19.75

Suits . . . Coats

Spring coats and suits that make ideal traveling costumes. Especially appropriate for your trip to the Century of Progress.

formerly $16.75

$11.95

formerly $29.75

$19.95

SPECIAL

16 Silk Dresses

Light and dark shades. Not all sizes.

formerly $19.75

$4.95

14 Silk Dresses

Prints and solids. All are small sizes.

formerly $10.75

$2.00

THE BENNING HERALD

Published every Friday Phone 556 Columbus, Georgia

VOLUME III	MAY 26, 1933	NUMBER 5
L. C. Kunze		Publisher
A. F. KUNZE		Editor
FELICIA C. HOWELL		Society Editor
D. P. HARDING		Sports Editor
Louis T. Kunze	Ci	rculation Manager

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject anyadvertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE, BALTIMORE

GRADUATION

(Continued from page 1)

is there that your minds are refreshed upon matters pertaining to your arm of the service, where the latest thought in the evolution of your branch is imparted, and, most important of all, where you are given a foundation for future development in tactical thought. You must realize, however, that in the short period of your stay here the numerous and various subjects of military science can only be touched upon thereto. briefly. Schools are never able to give a complete education-they are merely the foundation and the guide for future study and progress. How much of a basis and interest in future study have accured to you is in direct proportion to the effort you have

"These classes heretoday have made you have the foundation, and so I feel confident that your future progress is

"Probably no more serious mistake could be made on our part than to leave with you the idea that you have acquired the last word in the technique and tactics of the infantry arm. To the best of our abilty, we have passed in review before you the latest thought on infantry methods, but be assured that startling changes will appear with increasing rapidity. New inventions and improvements present themselves with almost alarming frequency. Today scientific advancement is almost continuous. It is essential for each of us seriously to study new developments primarily to find their application to the infantry in combat, and secondarily their general relation to national defense as a whole.

"Motorization throughout the country today is a case in point. It is im- have met your tasks has been a source possible even to hazard a guess as to the limit of this progress, or to the of the faculty. extent it may be used in military operations.

"It is evident that in the changes restoring mobility on the battlefield, increased motorization is assured. The mechanized army may still be a dream of the future, but each year it takes a more definite form. It is now not in the realms of prophesy to say that we must learn to think in terms of hours and minutes instead of days and weeks.

"Here at the Infantry School your those new weapons now in the pro- which will be yours. cess of evoluion. We must start with a thorough knowledge of accepted Only by a thorough teachings. grounding in what is proven can we hope to reach out and estimate the value of that which is still uncertain.

That the infantry must and will profit by the new developments in ordnance, air materiel and motor vehicles is inevitable. Wherever possible, these improvements must be made vour own if you are to retain in the future the dominant role of the infantry. As infantry officers you should train yourselves so that, should another war come, yo uneed not confine yourselves to the weapons now on hand in the army, but understand and know how to apply those other means that modern science has and will make available. This mental atttude we have portant in your military careers. It ly hope that the course you have just completed suggests many possibilities to you. They can, however, only bear fruit if you view this day, as in the fullest sense of the word, a commencement day. You can be loyal to this school and to the infantry only if vou follow the future changes in the infantry and contribute your portion

> But let me give you a word of caution here. Do not jump from the actual of today into the theoretical of tomorrow. Do not forget that the role of the army is to be prepared to fight now, not ten years hence. But we cannot, except with peril to our country, shut our eyes to the changes passing before us. Whatever occurs, you must retain the ability we have tried to give you this to estimate the situaion correctly, make your de cision soundly and capably direct the execution of the plan.

"To you, Gentlemen of the National Guard and Reserve Officers Class, in particular do I extend my most hearty congratulations upon the completion of your course of study here at Benning. With your graduation more than 1500 company officers of the National Guard and Reserve Corps will have passed through the Infantry School in 1929. In 1930 h eleft for duty with and felt its influence. The course has been quite difficult, with a maximum of instruction crammed into a minienthusiastic manner in which you of pleasure to me and to the members

"To you gentlemen of the sister services and of other armies who have so valiantly and cheerfully labored with us through his school year, I wish to express the pleasure your presence here has been to us and the satisfaction with which we will enroll you as alumni of the Infantry School.

"And to all of you, to whatever category you belong, one final reminder. The school promises to keep abreast of new thought nad the use of new inventions. We stand ready instruction has been primarily in exist- to help you in any way consistent with Infantry School in 1927, and received ing methods, with only a suggestion our field of endeavor and desire your of the new. We do not yet under cooperaton in giving us the benefit of He also will be a member of the 24th stand the methods and capabilities of the ideas and practical experience Infantry.

> "The year has been a success-your work has been well done. In particular, you have been generous in vonr appreciation of the instruction offered I feel confident that the infantry as a whole, as well as each of you individually, will benefit materially by the time you have spent here at Benning. May happiness and success attend your future.

> "The members of the classes will now file forward and receive their diplomas.

The majority of the several hundred graduates departed at once from Fort Benning, the National Guard officers to their homes and the regulars to their new assignments and stations Many of the latter are going to duty with the Civilian Conservaion Corps in the Fourth Corps Area, and other sought to develop in you. We sincere | parts of the United States.

OFFICER ASSIGNMENTS (Continued from page 1)

nough, Huston P. Houser, and Everett W. Garlow, all of the 29th Infantry; and Captain Frederick W. Gaston, and Lieutenants William Z. Hall, and John R. Beishline, of the 83rd Field Artillery.

Lieutenant Frank S. Bowen, jr., student officer, has also been placed on special duty with the Civilian Conservation Corps at Fort Benning.

A number of officers, graduates of the various classes of the Infantry School, have been assigned to station and duty at Fort Benning. These include Captains Herbert L. Harries, Orryl S. Robles, Llewlyn D. W. Tharpe, Richard F. Fairchild, Pierre Walle of the advanced course, and Lieutenants William S. Triplett, Jas. H. Poore, James R. Davidson, Percy W. Thompson, Albert H. Dickerson, and Albert N. Hickey, all of the company officers' class. Tank course students who will remain at Fort Benning include Captain LeRoy W. Nicholls, and Lieutenants Edwin K. Wright, Theodore L. Dunn, Donald C. Beclar, and David N. Fowler.

Captain Harries, who is assigned to the 24th Infantry, is a graduate of the company officers' course at the Infantry School for the year 1925-26. He arrived at Fort Benning in May, 1932 from the Philippine Department.

Captain Robles also claims prior duty at Fort Benning. He was a member of the 29th Infantry in 1920, when the post was still Camp Benning. He was promoted to captain in 1920 and graduated from the company com-manders' course in 1922. From Fort Benning he left for duty as instructor of the Washington National Guard, and required to attend the advanced course last year. He also is assigned to the 24th Infantry.

Captain Tharpe is a graduate of the 1922-23 company officers' course, and at the finish of his studies was assigned to the 15th Tank Battalion, now the 6th Infantry (light tanks) at the post. He left Fort Benning in 1927, going to Camp Meade, Md., but reurned in 1931 as test officer for the Department of Experiment. He became a student in the advanced course last year, and will go to duty with the 24th Infantry.

Captain Fairchild, prior to his assignment to the Infantry School, was member of the 13th Infantry, Fort Ethan Allen, Vt. He is also a graduae of the company officers' course class of 1922-23.

Captain Mallett was assigned to the 83rd Field Artillery at Fort Benning the War Mothers and Widows Pilgrimage to Europe, and on his reurn atage to Europe, and on his return atmum of time. The determined and Ft. Sill, Okla. He will be assigned to the 24th Infantry.

Lieutenant Triplett was studying at Purdue University, Lafayette, Ind., at the time of his assignment to the company officers' course and is assign ed to the tank battalion.

Lieutenant Poore came to Fort Benning in 1931 from Fort Monmouth, N. J., where he was a member of the Signal Corps. He is quite well known in Fort Benning and Columbus as a tennis player, having won a number of tournaments at the post and in the neighboring city. He is assigned to duty with the 24th Infantry.

Lieutenant Davidson attended the eserve company officers' course at the his regular commission since then.

Thompson, who Lieutenant signed to the 83rd Field, is a graduate of the Field Artillery School, Fort Sill, Okla., class of 1931-32.

Lieutenant Dickerson completed a tour of duty with the 65th Infantry Puerto Rico, before his assignment to the Infantry School. His assignment to the 24th Infantry comes just after his promotion to the ranks of 1st lieutenant on May 1.

Lieutenant Hickey was serving at Fort McKinley, in the Philippine Department, at the time of assignment to the company officers' course at Fort Benning. He will be on duty with the 24th Infantry.

Captain Nicholls, assigned to the ank battalion, was a member of the company officers' course at the Infantry School in 1926-27. He is qualified as an expert rifleman. Prior to his

(Please turn to page 5)

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

CONDUCTED BY E. F. H.

THE DEVASTATION OF BENNING

The edict arrived like a bolt from the blue, And assigned us by scores to the woodpecker crew; And it closed up the School and sent the boys forth, By overland travel, South, East, West and North.

Like leaves of the forest when summer is green, The students one morn with diplomas were seen; Like leaves of the forest when autumn has flown, The students at sunset were vanished and gone.

Then more orders came on the waves of the air, Which called on the shock troops for all they could spare; And the Faculty too and the chair-warming Staff Were caught in the whirlwind and scattered like chaff.

And all who had orders that took them away Were told to clear out by the last day of May And haste to their posts to become C. C. C.'s And forget about tactics and learn to plant trees.

And the widows of Benning are loud in their wail On tennis courts, golf course and Upatoi trail, For the Army is out to deliver the goods And the flower of the service has gone to the woods.

DARK HORSE WINNERS

Recent garrison sporting events have een the rise of two new stars, both of whom started from scratch less than three vears ago.

We refer, of course, to Golf Champion Brann and to Mrs. Courtney Hodges, winner of the Handicap Skeet

Champion Brann had never played golf until coming to Benning on his present tour of duty. He got his start playing with Lone Wolf Golightly, Cannonball Pierce and the late Sheriff Tuttle. This famous foursome was more distinguished for its Stentorian banter than for its golf, but in one way it afforded good training for a future champ. Anything short of actual ly interfering with a player's club when he was in the act of making a shot was permissible. A long period of "conditioning" in such company is guaranteed to make one forever impervious to minor annovances which sometimes cause a temperamental golfer to blow up. Without a doubt it gave Champion Brann the unshakable nerves that enabled hi mto bear un under the strain of a long and grueling contest.

Mrs. Hodges' achievement was even more noteworthy. Until her marriage to Major Hodges, this now undisputed lady champion of the Skeet Range did not know the difference between a twelve-guage shot gun and a Stokes mortar. Having married a man whose hobby is guns, however, she decided to major in firearms. Under her talented husband's expert tutelage she learned to shoot both in the field and

Came the great handicap Skeet Shoot and of course Mrs. Hodges entered. Her scores of 19 and 20 easily put her in the running for the cup and. in the final shoot-off with Adjutant General Lewis, she won.

Coach Hodges did not witness the final triumph of his apt pupil. Official duties called him to Camp Knox on the day before the shoot-off. Perhaps it is just as well. The thrill of seeing Mrs. Hodges break bird after bird might have been too much for him. But what a dramatic and operatic opportunity was lost! What a finale it would have been if the circumstances had been right for Mrs. Hodges, after pulverizing her last target, to turn to her beaming husband and sing,

"You made me what I am today, I hope you're satisfied."

OFF-TO-THE-WARS NOTES

As we go to press this bright Thursday morning, strong reinforcements are being dispatched to the Alabama front. Some twenty prospective service school students are pulling out for Camp McClellan which, from all accounts, must be one of the hottest spots in the Reforestation war zone.

Word was received today that Captains Howard Clark and Mark Brislawn, who arrived at McClellan only four days ago, are already on their way to their field stations with some two hundred men each and no commissioned or enlisted assistants.

Fortunately both of these officers have recently had histrionic experiences which should be of material help in handling any situations that may arise. Captain Brislawn as Han-nibal in "The Road to Rome" had a part which called for the control of his rough soldiery by sheer force of character and Captain Clark as the "Law West of the Rockies" demonstrated another method. Both of these home town boys should make good.

And speaking of home town boys who are making good reminds us of Sir Roger Willams, formerly an instructor and M. F. H. at the Infantry School. Sir Roger is now the big C. C. C. shot (sounds like a prescription) at this same Camp McClellan that we have been talking about.

WRONG PEW

The current swimming season so far has produced no cases of unlawful entry. Mrs. Roger Williams and Mrs. Richard Sutherland are no longer with us, and this year's crop of water nymphs obviously lacks either the courage or curiosity which prompted the adventurous spirit of yesteryear to invade the men's bath house.

On the other hand, although Cannonball Pierce and Playboy Heriot still frequent the waters of Russ Pool, no male has ventured to violate the sanctity of the women's showers.

The above state of affairs indicates an increasing tendency to "look before you enter" but the Flare does not despair of having an occasional item of this sort to report. As a matter of fact we have one for release in this issue. It concerns Captain B. B. Bain, who was told to wait in the Court Martial witness room and blundered in the ladies' rest room instead. Our

(Please turn to page 5)

FOREMOST FOR Two

They always make it two when there's Foremost Ice Cream in the offingfor there's nothing quite so cooling or refreshing as this is. You never know what really good ice cream is until you've tasted Fore-

> Call the SODA FOUNT

FOREMOST DAIRIES INC.

THE FLARE

(Continued from page 4) informant states that he came out quickly and very red, and that his hand trembled noticeably as he lit the ceremonial Murad.

OPTIMIST

A survey of the departure book at Headquarters reveals that officers setting forth on an indefinite tour of C. C. C. duty are signing out "On D. S." One, however, evidently permitted Hope to dictate a different terminology. Captain John (Monte) Blue is signed out "On temporary duty."

> TRUE CONFESSION DEPT. Lieutenant Bares Promotion Thoughts

We give it as our fixed opinion that the Army is becoming more psychologically conscious every day. Even the

FOR SALE

Ford V-8's—any models. $75.00 off list price

Call

H. DIXON SMITH

Telephone 1215

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS $ 600,000.00 RESOURCES OVER $ 3,200,000.00

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

JACKSONVILLE HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

lieutenants use it as the following incident proves.

Private Blackburn of the 29th Infantry, who had been notified that he was to be appointed corporal, was reluctant to accept the office and repaired to 2nd Battalion Headquarters to tell Lieutenant Pierce so.

"I don't feel that I have the necessary qualifications," explained Blackburn with becoming modesty.

"I know just how you feel," said Pierce sympathetically. "I felt the same way when I was promoted to 1st Lieutenant. In fact, when I thought of my increased responsibilities I seriously considered resigning my commission. I decided, however, to give it a trial and, as you see, I have made good. I'm sure you can do the same.'

Blackburn, thus encouraged, decided to accept his promotion.

CITATIONS FOR THE WEEK

We have two achievements to cite this week—one individual and one collective. The individual citation goes:

To Post Golf Champion Don Brann, the golfing upstart, for progressing in three years from a rank beginner to a big time player who successfully took the measure of such old masters as Omar Bradley and Howard Liston.

The collective citation goes: To the 24th Infantry Glee Club for the Sunday night concert which gave a large and appreciative audience an opportunity to listen for an hour to a superb rendition of negro spirituals. _E. F. H.

OFFICER ASSIGNMENTS (Continued from page 4)

assignment to Fort Benning he on duty at Fort Ontario, N. Y.

Lieutenant Wright has been stationed at Fort Benning since 1931 when he came here as a member of the company officers' course. His duties will be with the tank battalion.

Lieuenant Dunn, who is also assigned to the tank troops of the post, was previously on duty in the Philippine Department.

Lieutenant Keeler arrived from the 7th Infantry, Vancouver Barracks, Wash., to attend the tank course. He is another of those assigned to the tank battalion.

Lieutenant Fowler, last member of the tank course to remain in duty at Fort Benning, came here in 1931 from Hawaii. He is a graduate of the company officers' course, class of 1931-32.

Major Roger R. Harrison, 24h Infantry, who has been on duty at Fort Benning since 1930, is to be relieved and detailed to New York College, city of New York. Major Harrison will report for duty not later than June 30, according to a radiogram received at Headquarters the Infantry School on Tuesday.

HERALD WANT ADS

CLASSIFIED ADV. RATES: 20 cents per line or fraction of line. Minimum charge for any classified advertisement, 50 cents. Payment must be made before advertisement is pub-

WANTED—To buy good light car. Must be in first class condition—will pay cash. Phone 1017-W.

Sunday Dinner

50c

Fried Chicken

Rice and Gravy

New Potatoes String Beans

> Scalloped Egg Plant Buttered Onions Stuffed Peppers

Hot Rolls

Corn Bread

Tomato Salad Strawberry Short Cake or Ice Cream Coffee, Tea or Milk

Breakfast, Short Order, Sandwiches 6:30 AM to 10:30 PM Daily

Private Dining Room-Parking Lot

Kyle's Kozy Kitchen

32nd Street and Hamilton Road Phone 9262

Summer Clothes

Men and Boys

Hofflin & Greentree

COLUMBUS' LEADING CLOTHIERS ESTABLISHED 1888

Year Around Hetels Tampa Terrace, Tampa Lakeland Terrace, Lakeland

ROBERT KLOEPPEL

Year Around Hetels Dixle Court, West Palm Beach George Washington, Jacksonville Mayflower, Jacksonville

Season Hotels Manatee River, Bradenton Saraseta Terrace, Saraseta Royal Worth, West Palm Beach

OWNER

DIRECTOR

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Fortenberry Takes Decisions In Main Go

Orlando Battler

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

by scoring a pair of magnificent vic- the discus. tories in the pole vault and high jump, Yale downed Harvard in the forces completed their rout of Canada fortieth annual track and field meet between the two universities. By defeating Harvard, Yale finished her dual meet season undefeated. The dope sheets of track experts had the Crimson down to win; Yale had been held to a tie by the Princeton Tigers, while Harvard had defeated Princeton.

Keith Brown stole the thunder in an exceptionally fine meet. His leap Dr. Wright played some of the finest of 14 ft. 1 1-2 inches in the pole vault broke a meet record; not satisfied with this performance, he forsook the pole vault runway for the high jump pit and cleared the bar at a height of 6 ft. 6 1-8 inches, establishing another meet record by several inches.

Eddie Calvin, Harvard sprint man and broad jumper, did something no one else in the long history of Yale-Harvard dual meets has ever been able to accomplish by winning three first places, triumphing in both sprints and in his specialty, the broad jump. Karl Warner won the 400 meter run in the exceptionally fast time of 48 seconds flat. Johnny Dean, Harvard football captain-elect, also

BURRUS

THE BEST PLACE TO BUY A USED CAR

'31—Hudson "8" Fordor $475 Sedan almost good as new

'31—Ford Tudor Sedan, $325 new paint, tires, etc .____

'30—Ford Sport Coupe $245 Extra Clean____

'30-Ford Sport

'28-Packard "8" 7 Pass- $395 enger Sedan _____

'27—Studebaker Sedan _____

SEVERAL CHEAP CARS

All Cars Reconditioned and Are Good Values

MOTOR CO.

Authorized

Dealer

1216-22 1st Ave.

Phone 3500

With Keith Brown setting the tempo | starred with a double in the shot and

United States Davis Cup tennis by winning all five matches without the loss of a single set. Allison and Vines both won in straight sets from Gilbert Nunns and Dr. Jack Wright, Canadian ace. The Vines-Wright match was a magnificent exhibition of high grade tennis all the way, with the lanky Canadian forced to extend himself to win the first and third sets. tennis of his career against Vines.

An ill wind from Cuba blew Sailor Watson of the British Royal Navy no good. The ill wind was Kid Chocolate, who allowed the English cruiser to arrive at port, safely although in a very damaged condition. Kid Chocolate piled up an early lead in the first few rounds, which Watson was unable to overcome although he tried valiantly. The ebony-skinned flash of greased lightning won by a decisive margin.

Joe Savoldi, former Notre Dame ootball star, proved that he was no flash in the pan by throwing Ed (Strangler) Lewis after 43 minutes and 7 seconds of wrestling in Madison mare Garden Monday night. Saveldi had previously lost to the former champion a week before when he dived through the ropes onto the hard concrete floor around the ring. The fall knocked Savoldi out and Strangler Lewis was declared the victor.

Savoldi was in control of the situa tion almost all the time. His toe holds were very effective, but near the end Lewis began to apply his famed headlocks. Jumping up after he had been slammed to the floor, Savoldi catapulted at Lewis, caught him squarely amidships, and sent him squirming and groaning to the canvas. No sooner had the Strangler struggled to his feet when two hundred pounds of bone and muscle struck him again, and this time, the impact was too much for even an old veteran to withstand. It was an easy matter for Savoldi to pin his opponent's shoulders to the mat after this last onslaught.

By far the most remarkable World's Series ever played, from a pitching point of view, was that of 1905, between the ew York Giants and the Philadelphia Athletics. The series went five games and in every one of the five the losing team was shutout. The first game was won by Mathewson, 3 to 0. The second game was won by Chief Bender, of the A's, also by a score of 3 to 0. The third game ed into ring history. Both fighters found Matty the winner, 9 to 0. Old came across the ring fast, Tetherton Joe McGinnity was on the mound for shooting a left uppercut to Hood's the Giants in the fourth game and face. What happened next is mostly hot nitch ing duel with Eddie Plank, 1 to 0. on the floor. The count was just so pitched his Indian rival to win, 2 to probably a left, following a wicked 0. There never was such pitching in right to the jaw. any series, before or since.

Wins Close Fight Tuesday Evening

Billy Hood Knocks Out Teth erton In Thirty Seconds Of First Round

Gordon Fortenberry, two-fisted mauler from Orlando, proved that his former victory over Walker "Cyclone" Smith was no fluke by handing the tough soldier lightheavyweight a trouncing in a close and fiercely-contested bout last Tuesday evening.

Both fighters were in excellent shape for their bout, particularly Smith, who absorbed plenty of punishment in the earlier rounds but who seemed to get stronger as time went along. Throughout the bout, Smith tried desperately to work himself inside Fortenberry's defense.

Fortenberry won the first round by a wide margin as he stood off and popped Smith with both hands. A left hook was doing plenty of damage to Smith in the clinches. In the second stanza, Gordon caught the soldier with a left and the Cyclone took a nine count. Coming up slightly dazed, he was an easy target for repeated books but fought back gamely. minimizing Fortenberry's advantage.

The minute's rest was all that Smith needed and he came outof his corner for the third round decidedly refreshed. This round and the two following were fairly close, with neither battler showing enough margin to win any of these three. Smith, strong as a bull, was shooting those favorite short triphammer blows to the ribs and heart time after time. The sixth and seventh perhaps went to Smith. The soldier was absorbing a lot of punishment around the head, but was more than making up for this deficiency in the clinches.

Fortenberry came back to win the next round by a rather decisive margin, as he tied the Cyclone up in the clinches and slugged with him at long range. The ninth was practically a repetiton of the preceding round. Near the end of the session, Forten berry nailed Smith with a left to the head and two sharp rights to the jaw. a combination of blows that set the soldier back on his heels. The tenth. another fast round despite the grueling pace the two fighters hadmaintained since the opening gong, went to Fortenberry by a shade. The judges decision given in favor of the Orlando mauler climaxed an excellent battle between two rough and ready fighters who gave everything they had for the approval of the fans.

Billy Hood, stablemate of Fortenberry, scored a sensational knockout victory over Rip Tetherton after thirshrouded in doubt but Then back came Matty against Bender much formality. Rip was out for over in the fifth game and Big Six out- a minute. The knockout wallop was Captain Fry, Athletic Officer, was anxious to see how a ten-round semifinal, two minute rounds, regulation one minute rests, would work. He never saw. Hood was not that oblig-

Saginaw Seeley won his third straight decision since returning to the ring by outgeneraling Marshall Cardwell in the main six-rounder. It was a beautiful boxing exhibition. Cardwell tried hard, but Seeley was an elusive target. Saginaw has won decisions over Jernigan, Spivey, and Cardwell recently.

Grumpy Gordy and Tough Man (Please turn to Page 7)

Finals In Ladies' Singles And Mixed Doubles To Occur Soon

nis tournaments having already been lin and Poore 7.5, 11.9. The playing completed, the finals of the women's singles and mixed doubles remain to be played. Competing for championship honors will be Mrs. Lynch and sets. Mrs. Keiler in the ladies' singles and the Lynch-Lynch vs. the Keiler-Drake team in the mixed doubles.

In the semi-finals of the ladies' singles Mrs. Lynch, defending champion, hurdled a formidable obstacle in Mrs. Eagles by scores of 6-2, 5-7, 6-2. Mrs. Lynch was forced to extend herself to the limit to nose out her opponent, the match being even closer than the score indicates. The steady, reliable game of Mrs. Eagles caused Mrs. Lynch to make frequent errors which otherwise she would not have

In the semi-final match, Mrs. Keiler, co-favorite with Mrs. Lynch for the championship, turned back Mrs. Evans with little difficulty. The loser was unable to cope with Mrs. Keiler's accurate driving game.

In the quarter-finals of the ladies' singles, Mrs. Lynch had repulsed Mrs. Morse 6-4, 6-1, Mrs. Eagles had defeated Miss Ely 6-2, 6-3, Mrs. Evans had won over Mrs. Gaston in a hard fought three set match 3-6, 7-5, 6-3, and Mrs. Keiler had conquered Miss Bonesteel in straight sets 6-2, 6-2.

In the mixed doubles, the favored combination of Lynch and Lynch ad-

Two of the post championship ten- | vanced to the finals by defeating Magof Poore was the outstanding feature of the match, his fine exhibition being mainly the cause for the two deuce

> In the other bracket, the right to play in the finals was earned by Captain Drake, post champion, and Mrs. Keiler who beat Evans and Calhoun with little or no difficulty.

Howard Bus Line, Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

	-	~
Fron	n			Fro	m
Colum	bus		F	t. Ber	ining
5:00	AM ·			6:00
6:00	44			7:50	4.
7:00	"			9:15
8:30	44,			10:45	"
10:00	"			12:45	PM'
11:45	"			2:15
	PM			4:15	**
3:00				5:10	"
5:00	4.		•	6:00	*
7:00	"			7:00	**
0.00	. 64,			8:00	44
10:30				9:45	• •
12:00	M			11:15	"
			100	12:00) M
				and
,	SC	HOOL		SES
410		PHO	NES	.,	224
~

IT TAKES SKILL TO GET HIGH ONES!

Yep! It certainly takes skill-but it takes good equipment too-the kind you can get at the Main Branch, Post Exchange. A complete line of all types of athletic equipment. Phone 608.

POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

Drake Is Post Tennis Champion SPORTS

Victorious Over Lynch In Finals

Captain James Drake defeated Lieutenant George Lynch 6-3, 3-6, 6-3, 6-3 for the tennis championship of the was on hand to witness the brilliant exhibition of tennis. A broiling sun beat down on the tennis court, but there was little or no wind to interfere with the players' accuracy.

Drake abandoned his forehand chop at the start of the match for a forehand drive, but he soon discovered that Lynch was his equal at a driving game, so switched back to his customary policy of using the drive only on his backhand and seldom on his forehand. Lieutenant Lynch, who had played brilliant tennis to upset Lieutenant James Poore in the semi-finals, was at his best in the first two sets. A powerful service coupled with an accurate driving game and a reliable backhand forced Drake into trouble time after time.

Lynch rallied to take the second set by the same score he had lost the first 6-3. Again his accurate driv-

THE

Post Exchange

has a

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The hours of this service are from 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

SODA FOUNT

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

Capt. James Drake Lieutenant Donald Brann Wins Post Golf Title By Defeating Maj. Omar Bradlev In Final Round Handicap Skeet

when he defeated Major Omar Bradley in the finals, one up in thirty-six holes. 112 participated in the tournament. Lieut. Regnier and Major post last Sunday afternoon. Play Bradley, the defeated finalist, tied for started at 2 o'clock. A large gallery low medal. Lt. Regnier won the play-

The match between Lieut. Brann and Major Bradley was as close as the score indicates. At the end of the morning round, Major Bradley enjoyed a comfortable lead, being four up on his opponent. Lieut. Brann began cutting down this lead in the afternoon round, succeeding so well that he was only one down at the end of the first nine holes. In making a score of 36 for this distance, Lieut.

ing game forced Drake into many errors, and very seldom did he allow the champion to advance to the net with impunity. In this set, Lynch made many "gets," bringing applause from the sidelines. Drake was chopping to every corner of the court, the object in view being to wear his opponent down. In this he succeeded so well that there was a distinct falling off in Lynch's game the next set ,which Drake took 6-3. This set was almost a repetition of the first, Lynch holding his opponent on even terms for a while, then gradually re linquishing the lead to Drake. By this time, it was obvious that Lynch was fairly tired and conserving his strength. Drake, however, won the fourth and final set with comparative ease, thus clinching the match and the post championship.

In the finals of the men's doubles, Drake and Sherburne paired to defeat Newman and Poore in a hardfought four-set match. The champions were forced to the limit in the first two sets of the match, winning the first after a bitter, long-drawn-out battle, but losing the second.

In he third set, Drake and Sherburne hit their stride. Drake's accurate placement shots and fine net game, Sherburne's powerful service and equally powerful driving game, succeeded in disposing of their opponents in comparatively easy fashion. The fourth set also went to the combination of Drake and Sherburne, again by a somewhat decisive margin.

The doubles match for the championship of the post was featured by the fine playing of every one of the four participants. Many moments of

> 1928 ESSEX COUPE IN GOOD CONDITION FOR ONLY $45 CALL 731 OR 71

This Is An Emblem Of Superiority

Lieutenant Donald Brann was the Brann shot very brilliant golf. By winner of the post golf tournament the thirty-fourth hole, Major Bradley was down two. He won the thirty fifth and halved the thirty-sixth, the match thus going to Lieutenant Brann, one up in thirty-six holes.

Lieutenant Brann had previously defeated Captain Liston in the semifinals. At the end of the 18th hole, both players were all square, and it took six additional holes to decide the winner, Lieutenant Brann winning on the twenty-fourth hole.

Captain Ross won the consolation tournament of the championship There were seven flights in flight. all, of 16 entries each. Colonel Jenkins won the second flight, with Captain Bell runner-up. Colonel Chaffin was the winner of the consolation tour-

29th Inf.

COMPANY "F"

ing you about our barbecue. Then maybe we'll tell you about some other things; the provision being that you

Can you imagine a pit with red hot coals in the bottom, a netting of wire stretched over them, and hams, goats, etc., slowly being cooked by the coals beneath? With the aroma scenting the breezes all around? If so, you can imagine what we saw and smelled upon our arrival at the scene down upon the banks of the Upatoi. A large cooler of lemonade was ready to drink, and music was furnished. A little later two kegs of beer were brought. Then we had a sack race.

which was won by Pvt. Creamer of the first platoon. Next a three-legged race won by Cpls. Maitland and Krew-son of the second platoon. And o top it off there was the apple-grabbing contest and the pie-eating contest. A number of apples were placed in a container filled with water; the contestants had to grab an apple and stand erect. This event was won by

Pfc Chick Liddell of the third platoon. The pie-eatin geontest was won by Pfc. Red Johnson of the first platoon. Incidentally, Chick is the Regimental champ pie-eater, and Red is Say, Lugenbuhl, how about a plate of ice-cream? We'd rather have some of that you saved from the barbecue.

Or have you eaten it all? And didn't it taste good? Cheer up, Henry, we will get some more sometime and then

NEW BOOKS

-Temples.

the champ in his outfit.

you can eat all you want.

can stand them.

We will start off this week by tell-nament. Captain Vermette and Cap tain Yancey finished one-two respect ively in the third flight, Capt. Pence winning the consolation tournament. In the fourth flight, Lieut. Wade emerged the victor, with Captain Wampler second. Colonel Bonesteel won the consolation in this division. Lieut. Vanderheide and Lieut. Foster were first and second in the fifth flight, Major Roberts winning the consolation. Lieut. Ives was victorious in the sixth flight, overcoming Colonel Woolnough in the finals of the event. Captain Bain won the consolation tournament. And in the last flight, Captain Spalding and Lt. MmNamee finished one-two respectively, with Lieut. Evans winning the consolation.

14. Cooperation Between Tanks and Other Elements

15. Communicationand Control

16. Concealment and Camouflage

17. Landings and Stream Crossings

18. Tank Supply, Maintenance and Salvage

19 .Outstanding Conclusions Bibliography Index

A proof copy of this book is now on display at The Book Shop.

Mrs. Hodges Wins Shoot Recently

Skeet shoots were held on the 7th and 14th of the current month. Major Lewis and Mrs. Hodges tied for first place in the handicap shoot, each scoring a possible fifty. In the shootoff, Mrs. Hodges scored 25 to Major Shooting from scratch, Major Hodes, Captain Buracker, and Major Bradley went into a three-way tie for first place. Each broke 44 birds out of a possible fifty. Because Major Hodges has been away on temporary duty lately, there has been no opportunity as yet for a shoot-off, but one will be held in the very near future.

HALF SOLES A GOOD A BETTER 50c · Half , Sole Sole

LAMAC SOLE $1.00 The Only 5-Unit Machine In Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY

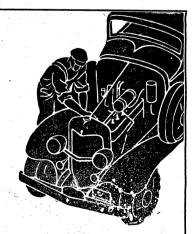

We specialize in cripple work

When we do a body repairing or fender repairing job for you-you'll be able to detect the difference! Our work is done by men who are artists in their line, and it shows true artistry in every line!

The Post Exchange Is Our Agent At Fort Benning Columbus Fender & Body Works COLUMBUS, GA.

TRUST YOUR CAR TO TRAINED HANDS ONLY

The mechanism of a car is a very delicate thing, yet is as sturdily built as it can be. So you can make it last a much longer time by being sure that it receives the best of attention at all times.

AUTO DEI

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

POST EXCHANGE brilliance enlivened the contest.

> (Continued from page 3) 12. Tank Organization 13. Some Tank Combat Principles

Let It Be Your Guide To Satisfaction Wherever You Go!

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded to the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital

1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

JEOR GIA

1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

Maxwell Optical Co. I. A. MAXWELL

Optometrist and Optician

A COMPLETE OPTICAL SERVICE

1217 Broadway

-the cigarette-that Tastes Better

Tank Officers Are Entertained On Trip

The officers who shepherded the convoy of tanks to Atlanta last week were entertained by the local branches of nationally known automobile manufacturers. Reports from the Gate City of the South inform us that both the Ford and Chevrolet branches entertained them on their visit to Fort McPherson.

SPOTS

(Continued From Page 3)

the faculty must have made life mighty difficult for the poor students —if one could judge by the baldpate census of the class.

On the other hand, Lt. Dowdall sets forth the claim that the members of the N. G. & R. O. Class showed the lesser percentage of bare spots because of the fact that they were subjected to the divine light of education for a shorter time. Interviews with a few members of the latter class, however, reveal that their 4 1-2 month course was no-cinch at that, and that they extend their heart-felt congratulations to their brother sudents for having carried on for so long in the face of such tremendous odds.

In concluding his interview, the Secretary of Dowdall's Tavern made haste to say that the foregoing remarks and opinions are his own and do not re-

10,000 Men Will Pass Through Camp At Fort Benning

Fort Benning is destined to become one of the busiest posts in the south in the very near future according to reports from Headquarters, 4th Corps Area yesterday. Judging from the information received at Fort Benning, a FACULTY BLAMED FOR SERVICE total of ten thousand men are shortly to become members of the Civilian Conservation Corps camp at this post

The outward movement of the Civilian Conservation Corps began last Friday wehn two companies were dispatched to the scene of operations near Ocala, Florida. One hundred and forty-four men were included in the group which is commanded by Captain Edwin J. Renth.

flect the general opinion of the personnel. So, just at the present, the Infantry School Tonsure will have to remain a moot subject—that is, until the Medicos take it upon themselves to conduct a scientific investigation into the question and emerge with a really up-to-date explanation of the mystery.

READ HERALD ADVERTISEMENTS

FORTENBERRY TAKES DECISION | got careless, and allowed Hyde to get OVER SMITH

(Continued From Page 6) Singly fully lived up to the expectations of the fans with six rounds of hilarious comedy. Grumpy copped in the curtain raiser with the decision however, proved a tough opponent to the limit.

in too close. A right hook to the side of the head turned the trick. Tut Tut Taylor and Tobe Reynolds went to war for four hectic rounds the decision with the fans still in the a draw. Both fighters gave and took aisles holding their sides. Singly, plenty of punishment unstintedly. In a new feature to the fortnightly for the Great Gordy and forced him boxing shows, Joe Wood pinned Chesty Cooper in eight minutes and thirty-Billy Hyde scored a knockout vic- two seconds. Both wrestlers gave an ory over Little Herby Yutmeyer in entertaining exhibition, and went over the 4th round of a 6 round battle. Her- in a big way with the fans, who almost by piled u pa nice lead in the first to a man expressed a desire to have two rounds with a rapier left jab, but more wrestling features in the future.

Fort Benning Personnel - - - Compare Our Prices Before Buying Furniture

End Tables 69c

Card Tables 75c

6x9 Linoleum Rugs $3.95

Spot Chairs $4.75

Rockers $5.00

COME IN AND LET US SHOW YOU. COM-PLETE LINE OF HOUSEHOLD FURNITURE.

CASH or TERMS

Phone 4618

1249 Broadway

B. L. PENNELL FURNITURE CO. "WE SAVE YOU DOLLARS"

VOLUME III

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, JUNE, 2, 1933

NUMBER 6

NWOTE TOPICS

By the time this issue of the Benning Herald reaches the hands of its subscribers, General and Mrs. King and their son Dick, will have already left the post. Major General King's áccomplishments before he came to this post and his achievements as Commandant of this garrison need no reiteration. His voluntary retirement is a severe blow to the army; there exists always a crying need for men like him. His departure from the post is another blow, a blow more personally felt, to the garrison, which has come to respect, admire, and love the King family. Bon voyage!

From the C. C. C. camp flows an ever constant stream of humor. This celumn's ubiquitous spies have done their duty faithfully this week and we have been furnished with an abundance of material.

Each day hundreds of unemployed dribble into Fort Benning. A sevenday man in the C. C. C. camp looked contemptuously on incoming trucks loaded to capacity with reforestators and muttered innocently to a comrade, "Geez, man, look at de recruits, wouldja?"

Second Lieutenants recently transferred to the C. C. C. aver modestly that they have been called everything from corporal to colonel. From a fairly authentic source comes the story of how Colonel Jewett was walking through the camp one day when approached by one of the men, who grabbed roughly between thumb and forefinger the colonel's insignia of rank and inquired, "Say old man what does this here thing mean?"

The colonel's reply is not recorded.

2nd Lieut. Milton Pressley has a deep-seated aversion to the word "slim" when used in obvious reference to his stature. Last week, Lieut. Pressley was calling the role of his cmopany. Coming to a peculiar name on the roster, he bellowed it forth. No answer. Again he bellowed it forth. Still no answer. Lieutenant Pressley was mystified but not discouraged and decided on a process of elimination to discover the culprit.

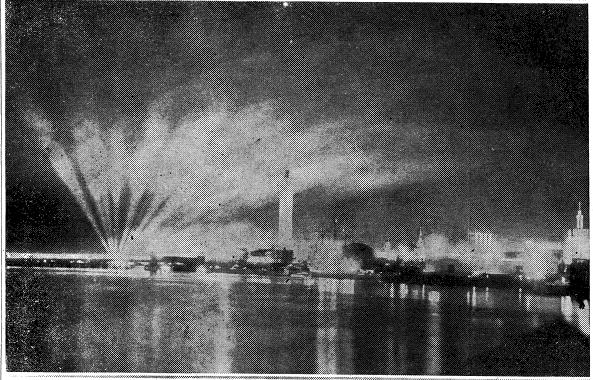

He arranged it so that when the names had been called, one man alone would be left. Lieutenant Pressley reasoned logically that this man must then be the owner of the peculiar name. When the process had beed completed, sure enough,, one man was left.

"What is your name?" inquired the now thoroughly aggravated lieutenant. "Johnson, sir," was the reply.

Again Lieut. Pressley, now even more mystified, scanned the roster. There was no man by the name of Johnson enrolled in the company. Suddenly the man who had been responsible for all the confusion stepped forth and said to Lieutenant Pressley, "Say, Slim, my name is Johnson but I didn't register as Johnson, so that probably is the reason why my name isn't on the list."

Lieutenant Pressley began boiling at the mention of the word "slim' and it was perfectly obvious to the spy who witnessed the incident that he was containing himself only with difficulty. When Johnson had finished his explanation, it goes without saying that Lieutenant Pressley blew up higher than a kite.

FAIR LIGHTS TURNED

View of the beautiful lighting system of A Century of Progress Exposition as lights were giv en tryout on the eve of the formal opening. International Illustrated News Photo.

General King Leaves Post Thursday For Future Home

ketiring Commandant Bids Farewell To Officers Of Command At Home Early Thursday Morning.

Major General Campbell King, comofficial farewell to the members of eral King spoke briefly to the asseming. It is not material that I comhis staff at his office at headquarters, Fort Benning, late Wednesday after- tion of the command. In substance, noon, and at that time closed the desk from which, for over four years, he has conrolled the activities of the world's largest school of arms, The Infantry School.

Present at this meeting and greeting their commandant for the last time, as such, were Colonel Ephraim G. Peyton, executive officer; Colonel Charles W. Weeks, assistant commandant, and some fifteen other officers who, in their several spheres of action, have handled the details of the functioning of the garrison of Fort Benning and th Infantry School.

Intending this as the closing act of pected of officers specially selected mandant of the Infantry School, bade his official duty as commandant Gen, do the duty you have been perform bled officers of his appreciation of ment on either of those things. their help to him in the administra-

> "I called you together here, that, upon my departure from Fort Benning, I might express to you my appreciation for your help during the time that I have been commandant.

"There is much that might be said of the efficiency with which each of you has handled the duties you have been called upon to perform. There is much that I might say of your devotion to duty, your unfailing efforts to accomplish that which would benefit the command. Those attributes, however, are what might well be exfor their efficiency and their ability to

"I do, however, want to tell you that I have appreciated the loyalty you have on all occasions shown to me; that I have felt and sincerely appreciated the friendliness with which you have approached me on the so lution of problems that have arisen.

"You know, as one grows older, he looks less to the future, and the past begins to occupy a greater place in his mind. In the future, I will look back with much pleasure to my many asociations here, and the memory of the past four years always will occupy an important place in my mnd. It is a memory which I shall cherish, and in my retirement I shall reflect upon (Please turn to page 2)

Large Class Ends Primary Work At Children's School

Thirty students of the Fort Benning Children's School received diplomas from Major General Campbell King, commandant of the Infantry School, in graduation exercises held at the Main Theater Friday morning, May

The exercises were opened with an invocation by Chaplain Willis T. Howard, after a selection by the 26th Infantry Band. The Kindergarten section of the school presented two selections, played by their "symphony" orchestra, and directed by their own tiny leader. The appearance of the "military band" was achieved by pupils and gold caps, and the applause at the finish of the concert was highly merited. The 1st and 2d grades sang two numbers, followed by the 3rd and 4th, and the 5th and 6th grades singing a song each. Both choruses deserve credit for the excellence of their voices.

After another selection by the 29th Band General King addressed the children as follows:

"This is the great day for the Fort Benning Children's School. All the hard work of the past term is concluded, and a beautiful three-months' holiday before us. Never mind how old we are, we can never forget that grand and glorious feeling that used to come over us when school ended.

"This is also a great day for parents, but perhaps not in the same way is for the children. The parents' work does not stop with the termination of school,-on the contrary, if anything, it is increased, because now they still have to keep an eye on you from eight until two in addition to the time that she used to ride herd on you outside of school hours.

"All of us have a very special pride in our grand new building, for we are the ones that helped to build it, and I know that you will be particularly gratified to learn that our school this year has been put with the class "A" schools.

"I want to congratulate all the pupils upon the completion of this term, and especially the graduating class. I know that you have worked long and faithfully and have well earned the holiday that is coming to you. In connection with this I might say that the selection just played by the band was a very appropriate one—"Happy Days are Here Again." But do not let us this time forget the teachers who have labored so patiently and earnestly with you; and the Parent Teacher Association which has done so much for your comfort and welfare. I want to express to all of these my appreciation and my gratitude.

"And now come my last words. This is a day of joy and gladness to you, but to me it is a sad day, because I must say goodbye to all the dear little girls, and the fine, manly boys here at Benning, for I am leaving Benning for keeps. In leaving Benning I will leave a piece of my heart behind. I hope that you will have many better commanding officers than myself, but I doubt if you will ever have one who loves you more."

At the conclusion of his talk General King presented the diplomas, shook hands wth each graduate, and

(Please turn to page 2)

C.C.C.'s To Number 10,000 At Benning Campsite Soon

Recruits Of Roosevelt's Rehabilitation Plan Receiving Fine Treatment In Hands Of Regulars At Garrison.

By nightfall Wednesday, prepararecondition the 10,000 men definitely assigned to the local post from the Civilian Conservation Corps were completed. There were at that time over 7,000 of the men already in the tent camp commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Frank F. Jewett at the fort, and the scheduled arrivals for the succeeding 24 hours increased his number by approximately 1,000. All arrangements have been made to receive this large influx of additional men, and, aside from providing a number of twenty-four hour tours of duty for the personnel engaged in receiving them, the post will be able to take care of them without diffi-

Nothing further was heard by Wednesday from Major General Edward increasing the number of men to be handled at Fort Benning to 13,000 as was estimated yesterday. It is known however, that the local fort will be expected to add to its quota the men that other posts in the corps area were not able to handle.

The work being done at Fort Benning in connection with the Civilian Conservation Corps is being paralleled at practically every other army post in the United States, but in most cases on a somewhat smaller scale. It is understood that Benning will receive and handle the largest number of recruits of any post in the United States, but all others are doing their share to handle part of the 275,000 men that have been called out in President Frank D. Roosevelt's L. King, Corps Area commander at reforestation project for the relief of the unemployed. It is estimated that tions at Fort Benning to receive and Atlanta, relative to the possibility of the work will require 5,400 army offield service throughout the United States, while practically all of the remaining officers will have some additional duty in connection with the administration and supply of the C.C. C. companies. Approximately one half of the officers on duty in the 4th

Corps Area will be detailed to the reforestation work, and 5,000 enlisted men also be required for the job

The number of work projects in the 4th Corps Area, which comprises the eight Southern States, should be sufficient to care for the entire quota allotted to this section, and it is very improbable that any of the men enrolled will be sent outside the Corps Area.

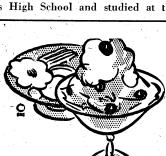

In addition to supervising their work in the forests the army has a

(Please turn to page 4)

Marriage Of Miss Louise Fortson And luncheon at her quarters followed by two tables of contract bridge. Capt. A. M. Siler Solemnized Friday

Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Boyd Fortson announce the marriage of their daughter, Louise, to Capt. Arnold M. Siler on Friday morning, May 26. The ceremony was performed by Doctor Frederick S. Porter in the court of the First Baptist Church. The bride wore a costume of tan waffle cloth with a coat of white pique. White shoes, hat, and gloves completed the accessories. She wore a corsage of sweet heart roses. Miss Fortson is the charming and talented daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Boyd Fortson. She is descended on both sides from members of prominent Georgian families. She graduated from the Columbus High School and studied at the

TRY IT ON YOUR OWN FAMILY

You'll like it, your husband will like it, your children will like it-for there's no ice cream quite as good as Foremost!

> Call the SODA FOUNT

FOREMOST DAIRIES INC.

University of Georgia. Capt. Siler has for the past five years been stationed at Fort Benning with the 24th Infantry and during the past year has been a student at the Infantry school. During the day Capt. Siler with his bride departed by motor for their new station at Fort Wadsworth, New York.

HOUSE GUESTS HONORED WITH BUFFET SUPPER

Among the many affairs preceeding the Bachelor dance last Saturday evening was the delightful informal buffet supper given by Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd Barnett honoring their houseguests, Miss Cornelia Thompson and Mr. Robert Alston of Anniston, Alabama. The guest list included: Capt. and Mrs. Howard N. Merrill, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold S. Kelly, Lieut. and Mrs. James E. Bowen, Lt. and Mrs. George P. Howell, Mrs. Selina Waddington, Miss Thompson, Lieut. Marion Huggins, Lieut. James J. Winn and Mr. Alston.

SERIES OF CONTRACT BRIDGE TOURNEYS HELD

tive homes of Mr. and Mrs. Frank U. Garrard and of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin DesPortes in Columbus. This week's Bowen. affair was held a eight o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Garrard. Winners for the highest score east and west were: Dr. and Mrs. Hugh Bickerstaff while playing north and south high score was won by Mrs. C. E. Battle and Mrs. Louis Garrard. At the conclusion of the game, the guests en joyed playing a prearranged hand and discussed various methods of playing it. The couple winning first place for playing the hand most advantageously were J. C. Harris and P. B. Patterson. All bridge lovers from Fort Benning and Columbus are cordially invited to attend these tournaments. Reservations may be obtained by calling Mrs.

LUCAS BRIDGE CLUB FRIDAY

Mrs. Wm. Lucas entertained her bridge club Friday with a delightful

Drs. Miller & Davis

Dog and Cat Hospital 1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

The members of the club are: Mrs. Clayton Studebaker, Mrs. L. E. Brady, Mrs. J. E. Bowen, Mrs. G. P. Howell, Mrs. Lanham, Mrs. Wm. Lucas, Miss Harriotte Atkins.

PERSONALS

Capt. and Mrs. Raymond E. Ver mette with their small daughter, Joan, departed Tuesday for Fort Jay, New York where Capt. Vermette will go for station.

Capt. and Mrs. George S. Beatty with their daughter and son, Elizabeth and George, departed Thursday for Fort Thomas, Kentucky where Capt.

Beatty has been ordered for station.
Lieut. and Mrs. John W. Ramsey with their small daughter, departed Tuesday for Fort Sam Houston, Texas where Lieut. Ramsey has been ordered for station.

Maj. and Mrs. Frank V. Schneider have as their houseguests the latter's two neices, the Misses Gladys and Frances Hinckley.

Lieut. and Mrs. Albert Dombrosky left last Wednesday for their new station at Fort Adams, Rhode Island.
Mrs. Selina Waddington plans to leave the first of next week by motor for Charleston, South Carolina to at-Bridge players of Columbus and of tend the commencement exercises of Fort Benning are enjoying a series of her daughter, Louise, from Ashley bridge tourneys which are being held Hall. Miss Waddington will return to each Wednesday evening at the attrac- Fort Benning with her mother to be the houseguest of her brother-in-law

Mrs. Claude B. Ferenbaugh with her mother, Mrs. Charles S. Van Way, de-parted Wednesday for West Point, New York to attend the graduation of Mrs. Ferenbaugh's brother, Cadet George Van Way, from the United States Military Academy.

Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd Barnett had is their house guests over the weekend Miss Cornelia Thompson and Mr. Robert Alston of Aniston, Alabma.

Miss Esther Kelley, daughter of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Reginald H. Kelley, is spending the Summer at Fort Benning with her parents, Miss Kelly is a recent graduate of Leland Stanford University.

Miss Margery Hall who is attending art school at Providence, Rhode Island, is spending her summer vacation wth her parents, Col. and Mrs. J. DeCamp Hall.

Miss Hulett Wiley of Jacksonville, Florida, is spending a few weeks at Fort Benning as the houseguest of Miss Page Michie.

GENERAL KING LEAVES POST THURSDAY (Continued from page 1)

that as one of my richest possessions, when I recall the greatest of my pleasures in my military career of having served Fort Benning."

There was no review of troops or other official ceremony in connection with the departure of General and Mrs. King. It was his urgent desire that there should be no interference with the mass of duties all are performing in connection with the C. C. C., and consequently plans for a review of the troops as a farewell gesture were not carried out.

General and Mrs. King left by automobile for their home near Charleston, S. C., at 6 o'clock Thursday morn-Officers and ladies of the son gathered at that hour near the colonial mansion, which, for four years, has been home to the Kings. to hid them farewell

HERALD WANT ADS

CLASSIFIED ADV. RATES:

20 cents per line or fraction of line. Minimum charge for any classified advertisement, 50 cents. Payment must be made before advertisement is published.

FOR SALE—Persian Kittens, Silver Grey, Pedigreed. 2929 - 12th Ave. Phone 930.

1933 4-door Buick Sedan, perfect condition, for sale. Cash or part cash and terms. W. H. Dismuke. Phone 1173, 294 or 3214.

AT SCHOOL (Continued from page 1)

made some little comment on their work to each one. Chaplain John R. Monahan then asked a benediction on the assemblage.

Seated with General King on the stage were Major Maurice D. Welty, Headquarters Staff, Chaplains Howard and Monahan, Captain Howard H. Merrill, director of the Children's School; Lieutenant James J. Winn, aide; Mrs. Thomas D. Catron, past-president of the P.-T. A.; Mrs. Roger D. Harrison, president of the P.T. A.; and Miss Grimes, Principal of the Children's School.

ything for the GARDEN and LAWN; seeds, plants, tools, fertilizer.

VALLEY SEED CO. 1041 Broadway

Men Think They're Smart!

. . but you women can certainly show them up when it comes to buying economically. You know, for instance, that you can get much more at Silvers' than you can get anywhere else!

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST. BUY ECONOMICALLY

SPECIAL SALE

Of Black Kid Slippers and every pair of Blonde Kid Slippers in our store, REDUCED!

Values up to $7.50Now $3.85

MILLER-TAYLOR SHOE CO.

WHERE THE NEW STYLES ARE SHOWN FIRST 1130 BROADWAY

FURNITURE OF QUALITY

ROTHSCHILD

Leading Furniture Dealer for 38 Years

1229 - 31 Broadway

Columbus, Ga.

EAT MORE SALADS THIS SUMMER

They're easy to prepare . . . they're attractive looking . . . they're appetizing ... and they're one of the most healthful dishes you can eat. Everything for every salad is sold at the . . .

GROCERY DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

Little Theatre To Present Last Play Of Season On June 3

The Little Theater players have made up their minds-and when they become determined, Columbus is in for a good show. "The Torchbearers", George Kelley's hilarious comedy, promises to be an everlasting proof of this, for in the final rehearsals it has shown an ever increasing smoothness and continuity which will make it one of the funniest and most entertaining plays ever staged by the local players.

Your writer has been privileged to view several of the more recent rehearsals, and the spontaneous humor of the players and inherent humor of the play itself are both combining to lift it out of the ordinary amateur class. The talent of the cast, the experience of the director and the able support of the remainder of the members of the Players are additional factors which will undoubtedly make this play an unusual one.

As has been told before, the play itself is one of rare humor and biting satire. It is a play dealing in an ironical way with the Little Theater groups of America, and, while it sometimes deals a little too harshly with the efforts of amateur thespians, still it could very easily be a guide showing the things to be avoided in the staging of an amateur performance. Also, one needs hardly to be told that a successful performance of the play will be a refutation of the author's work, and the local performance should be interesting from that point

Being, to a small degree, familiar with the difficulties of putting on an amateur performance, we can easily understand just how hard the members of the present cast have ben working. In the rehearsal we saw Wednesday night, there was that something present which makes a play go over with the audience. The exaggerated acting of the cast of the "play within a play".

(Please turn to page 4)

Columbus Office Supply Co. 24 Hr. Service

> RUBBER STAMPS Phone 556

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

HENRY GRADY HOTEL

PEACHTREE AT CAIN Atlanta, Ga.

550 rooms of comfort and convenience. Each room has ceiling fan, circulating ice water, radio and either shower or tub bath; corner rooms have both. Open Dining Terrace and Coffee Shop.

Rooms from $2

J. F. de Jarnette Vice-Pres. & Mgr.

GIRL

The Court of Awards held on last | Mary Sunday under the big tree near the Girl Scout cabin marked the culmination of the most successful year in the history of Fort Benning Girl Scout work.

It was a beautiful impressive cere-Several features made this mony. year's program especially distinctive. The most popular feature perchance, was the award of the Blue Thank Badge to Mrs. Henry J. Matchett, who has served for three years as director Brackenridge, Beatrice McKinley.

Mrs. Joseph W. Stilwell, who preceded Mrs. Matchett as leader of the Girl Scouts and has given such splendid cooperation during the past three years awarded Second Class Badges to Bernice Drake, Lillian Evans, Bet ty Ruth Parey, Mary Jane Merrill, Edith Horton, Elizabeth Evans, Charlotte Fox, Ruth Switzer, Virginia Wadsworth, Helen DePass, Mary Anna of Girl Scout work at Fort Benning. This Thank Badge is an honor conferred on only a few directors in the United States. It is given as a token of appreciation to leaders who have rendered unusually conspicious loyal

Mrs. Henry J. Matchett, Director of Girl Scout work at Fort Benning.

Parents of Girl Scouts who have watched the character building, supervised diversion and valuable instruction made possible for their daughters through Mrs. Matchett's indefatigable efforts were gratified over this recognition, which she so richly

The presence of Fort Benning's be loved commandant was appreciated. The Girl Scouts are very close to the heart of General King. He has attended the court of Awards every year during his stay on the Post giving cheery words of encouragement to the Troops and Leaders. He will be sadly missed by the scouts and all other organizations of the garrison. General King awarded First Class Badges to Anna May Huling, Gertrude Duvall, Beth Murphy, Louise Lucas Marion Vien, Miriam Mangum, and Esther Weeks.

KENNY'S

NORWOOD COFFEE

is sold at Fort Benning

through the

Post Exchange

TRY A POUND YOU WILL BE PLEASED

Both of Mrs. Stilwell's daughters were honored. Miss Nancy Stilwell received gold and silver stars-wellmerited recognition for her work as Lieutenant of the Pine Tree Troop. Winifred Stilwell was pronounced the outstanding Girl Scout of the year. She has served as Scribe, contributing clever, weekly articles to the Benning Herald, assisted the Brownie leaders and was voted the best camper. The Stillwell family are leaving soon for California and will be missed in all Scout activities.

Mrs. Thomas W. Brown and her attractive daughter, Anne leave in June for Panama. Mrs. Brown was awarded gold and silver stars as a reminder of the Scout's appreciation of her service as Captain of the Cardinal Troop. Anne was awarded a Profi-calls for casual clothes. Clothes that allow the free play of your arms, that allow for a long stride, freedom for every movement of your body. And clothes that are easily laundered.

(Please turn to page 4)

Outdoor Life!

Sport Frocks $2.95

Sizes 14 to 20

Two Piece Linen

Striped slip over jacket in green, brown and blue with a solid white linen skirt. Sportsy to the last stitch,

Shirtmaker

English broadcloth with yoke. Cap sleeves, patch pockets and belt of same material. In swanky pin stripes. Striped seersucker in sleeveless frocks take the lead wherever they go.

Sport Shoes $3.95

Oxfords with Crepe Soles

White calf with brown calf trim. Comfortable and soft, they mold themselves to your foot.

SPORT

Anklets 35c

3 for $1.00

White calf with plenty of perforations. Each tiny hole lets in the air for coolness and com-

Lisle and silk All colors Sizes to 11

DOROTHY GREY

Sunburn

Cream

$1.00

Sun-proof Cosmetics

HARRIET HUBBARD AYER

COMPLEXION BALM. A liquid powder, swim-fast and moisture-proof, and a grand protection against burn and freckles. . . 85c

AYERISTOCRAT Face Powder. A superadhesive, non-clogging blend that will keep shine away from your nose for bours. 85c Liquid Rouge and Cream Rouge. So that your cheeks may hold their bloom in sun or wind or beat. Liquid Rouge from 45c

Indelible Lip Sticks that steadfastly hold their color the whole day through. . . From 55c

Toilet Goods Department

THE BENNING HERALD

Published every Friday Phone 556 Columbus, Georgia

VOLUME III	JUNE 2, 1933	NUMBER
L. C. Kunze		Publisher
A. F. KUNZE		Editor
FELICIA C. HOWELL		Society Editor
D. P. HARDING	the state of the s	C
Louis T. Kunze		Circulation Manager

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject anyadvertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE, BALTIMORE

RL

(Continued from page 3)

every year during her four-year stay at Benning. Emily Brown, who served as Scribe for the Girl Scouts for two years has made good at college in Colorado during the past season. seldom accorded during freshma year. It pays to be a Girl Scout

Mrs. Paul Kellam, the efficient Captain of the Daffodil Troop was presented with gold and silver stars. Mrs. Brown gave silver chevrons to Mrs. Matchett, Esther Weeks and Ruth O'Neil as a reward for five continuous years of Girl Scout service. Mrs. Frank A. Heileman awarded Repeated Badges to several girls and Proficiency Badges to Peggy Arnold, Betty Thorn, Jane Kraft, Nancy Lanham, Lillian Evans, Jean Pealey, Beatrice Mc-Nulty, Helen Matchett, Jacqueline Madegan, Ruth Crosby, Ann Kraft, Betty Ann Albright, Betty Ruth Raney, Ann Cota, Marion Vien, Edith Horton, Loletta Peterson, Mary Jane Ann Bohensky, Thorn, Mary Ellen Robinson, Mary Margaret Fox, Charlotte Fox, Ruth Switzer, Esther Weeks, Marie Brandt, Sereno Duncan, Madelaine Matchett, Miriam Mangum, Frances Swift, Julia Williams, Natile Griswold, Elizabeth Evans, Virginia Wadsworth, Ruth O'-Neil, Winifred Stillwell, Frances Lewis Minnie Ohme, Phyllis Partridge, Frances Kellam, Katherine Wood, Margaret Frasier, Mary Frances Kelly, Mary Gautier, Ann Betts, Barbara Monroe, Shirley Rooks, Beatrice Mc Mary Anna Brackenridge, Ella May Perry, Helen DePass, Marion Bloomquist, Anna May Huling, Gertrude Duvall, Beth Murphy, Dorothy Negrotto, Louise Lucas, Frances Hug, Helen Kellam, Bernice Drake, Margie Heileman, Jerry Catron, Allison Stilwell, Betty Negrotto.

Mrs. Matchett expressed apprecia tion for the large amount of time given in directing the work of the by the following examiners: Major non Evans, Mrs. Roger B. Harrison, Mr. Davenport, Mrs. Norman D. signed the following duties to mem-Cota, Mrs. Joseph W. Stilwell, Captain R. J. Whatley, Major Omar W. Bradley, Mrs. Frank A. Heileman, Mrs. James B. Woolnough, Major J. W. Duckworth, Mrs. John Huling, mounted Troops and for the Girl ry B. Lewis, transportation, Mrs. El-Scout Emblems which adorned the bert J. Lyman, publicity.

ciency Badge. She has won honors green sweaters worn at the Junior Horse Show, where the mounted troops won many compliments on their interesting drill. Colonel J. De-Camp Hall was thanked for the use of the logging camp and Mrs. Frank Her Scout friends were interested to V. Schneider and Mrs. Patrick J. Mc. hear that Emily had been elected Nulty for donations of ice cream. The editor of her college paper an honor following mothers made the lovely corsages which were presented to honorees: Mrs. James B. Woolnough, Mrs. Charles W. Weeks, Mrs. Thomas W. Brown, Mrs. Herbert A. Wads-Mrs. Omar Bradley, Mrs. Archibald V. Arnold, Mrs. Oscar W. Griswold, Mrs. Paul Kellam, Mrs Frank Heileman and Mrs. John A.

One of the most interesting features of the Court of Awards was presented by the brown clad Brownies as they gathered around the Toad Stool. This ceremony was directed by Winifred Stilwell. The Law Ceremony given by the Cardinal Troops was directed by Mrs. Herbert A. Wadsworth. Shirley Rooks and Nancy Lanham served as Color Guards and orders were given by Alison Silwell as the patriotic Scouts went through the Flag Cere-

Mrs. Norman D. Cota led the Minstrel Badge girls in a group of songs and Margie Heileman sang a Girl Scout song she had composed for the occasion. All of the Scouts joined in singing the "Campfire Song", "Oh, Beautiful Banner", "Promise Song' and "Hail to Girl Scouts."

During the past year the Fort Benning Welfare Council has profited by the Girl Scouts desire to "do a kind deed daily". Dozens of useful garments have been donated by the girls and they are now busily engaged in collecting books, cards and games for the use of the convalescents at the Post Hospital.

The Girl Scout Community Committee, organized during the past winter has been an important factor in the success of the Girl Scouts. This representative group of women seek leaders, stand back of the girls in all girls competing for Proficiency Badges they do and meet once every month to discuss plans for furthering Scout-F. A. Heileman, Bob Jewett, Mrs. Ver. ing at Benning. Mrs. Brown, chairman of the Community Committee asbers of the Committee: Mrs. Matchett, director of Scouting, Frank V Schneider, Secretary, Mrs. Lloyd Partridge, Treasurer, Mrs. Archibald Arnold, riding activities, Mrs. J. De-Mrs. Charles W. Weeks, Mrs. Howard | Camp Hall, overnight camping, Mrs. N. Merrill, Corporal A. J. Carr, Mrs. James B. Woolnough, tree finder Eugene W. Lewis, Mrs. Hammond badge, Mrs. Thomas B. Catron, sum-McD. Monroe and Captain Howard mer camps, Mrs. Charles W. Weeks, junior citizen badge, Mrs. Joseph W. Special thanks were extended to Stilwell, child nurse, Mrs. Omar Major and Mrs. Archibald V. Arnlod for excellent instruction given the Bradley, Brownie chairman, Mrs. Hen-

C. C. C.'s To Number 10,000 At Benning (Continued from page 1)

P. S. Gage, C. A. C., to look after ficer. the welfare of the men and provide big job on hand in keeping the men off hours. Each of the forest districts contented and happy when off duty. in the Corps Area has its Welfare To this end Major General Edward Officer, and in every forest camp one L. King, has established an organiza- of the regular army officers on duty tion under the supervision of Major will be designated as the welfare of Traveling libraries will be maintain-trades will be supervised by the proper instructors. Magazines and newspapers are being distributed to the various camps. As funds become available from the War Department, the camp welfare officers will be allotted money to purchase athletic equipment. Plans are laid to organize baseball and other leagues within the camps. If the location of the camp permits, small swimming pools will be built in the woods, and wherever the game can be found, hunting and fishing will add to the list of sports. The War Department expects to place a radio receiving set in each of the forest camps, and stationery will be available at all times. What small articles are necessary to the men's extra comforts will be supplied by post exchanges when the camp is distant from towns.

One of the big factors in keeping the men amused is the entertainment and work that they carry on themselves. In as far as possible the men will take care of most of the work of the forest camp, being supervised by army personnel; and a great deal of the popular entertainment is that put on the men in the form of boxing, string orchestras, minstrel shows.

To facilitate the handling of the large number of men expected to arrive at Benning within the next few days for their conditioning the following officers and enlisted men of the garrison have detailed on duty with the camp: Lieutenants Francis R. Gillette, James E. Purcell, John M. Evans, Washington M. Ives, jr., Carl W. Westlund, John A. Stewart, Anthony G. Howe, Edmond M. Rowan, William Bache, Joseph B. Coolidge, Lon H. Smith, Joseph K. Dickey, James Churchill, jr., John M. Brown, Milton E. Pressley, jr., William E McNulty, James D. Sams, and Hugh T. Cary; Staff Sergeant Howard T. Justice; Sergeants Milton N. Dye, John W. Bridges, William F. Kyles, Edgar Blankenship, Herbert Smith. and Thomas N. Smith; Corporals Marshall Phillips, Dan Asher, Leonard D. Miller, James L. Swain, Fred Barnett, Henry M. Acords, James L. Lowman, George S. Gaines, Norman J. King, Lucius Jones, and Harold L. Ellis; Privates 1st class Frederick W. Burling, Walter C. Chafin, Martin W Denzing, Clifford Moses, Frank P. Falloway, Abner R. Myers, Fred T. Ward, Laney E. Rutledge, Roy V. Runnels, Donald F. McKinn, Howard J. Hawkins, Joseph L. Peloquin, Louis J. Phillips, Joseph R. Smith, John Bierman, Otis Chesser, Henry M. Swan, Ralph F. Newton, Clifton S. Ambrose, William E. Pattison, Leon Copeland, William T. Hall, and Claude E. Hankel, of the 29th Infantry; and Lieutenants William N. Grubbs, Arthur L. Cobb, and Daniel F. Walker; Sergeant Kiser N. Underwood; Corporals Albert V. Hiers, and William D. Holt; and Privates 1st class, Martin L. Winslow, Warner F. Russell, George N. Armstrong, and William P. Davis, of the 1st Battalion, 83rd Field Artillery.

PUBLIC PERFORMANCE TO BE GIVEN BY PLAYERS (Continued from Page 3)

the vivid acting of the people behind the scenes in the second act and the restrained acting of Mr. and Mrs. Ritter in the first and third acts are a revelation in this community. It's something you cannot afford to miss.

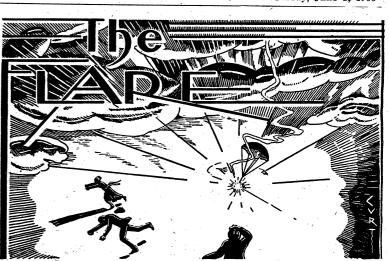

The play is being directed by Maurice Squirrel, a member of the Players who has long since proven his and whose name on the program should, in itself, be a guarantee of a pleasant evening's enjoyment.

The cast is as follows: Frederick Ritter __ Robert McNulty Mrs. Ritter _____ Mary McMurria Mrs. J. Duro Pampinelli

Frances McNulty Mr. Spindler ____ Howard Overby Nelly Fell _____ Julia Allen Ralph Twiller _____ Dexter Jordan Florence McCrickett

Dorothy Greentree Huxley Hossefrosse ---- Perry Borom Teddy Spearing -- Albert Kunze, jr. Clara Sheppard -- Dorothy Thompson Jenny (The Maid) ____ Sarah Ivey
Stage Manager ____ Salvador Spano
The presentation of "The Torch-

Bearers" will be a public performthem with entertainment during their ed and training in different vocational ance and all seats will be reserved. Tige Phillips and George Bloomquist,

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

CONDUCTED BY E. F. H.

"Let not him that girdeth his harness boast himself as he that putteth it off." I Kings 20:11

This week marks the voluntary retirement from active service of a distinguished soldier. If General Campbell King were only that, however, the Flare might easily have failed to make mention of the incident. We have known distinguished soldiers whose retirement stirred no emotion within us other than a feeling of relief. Were General King such a one we should now be maintaining a discreet silence. For that is our privilege as the conductor of a free-lance column like this. When the proprieties are in conflict with our honest opinion we may and do elect to say nothing.

In other Herald issues the official record of General King's long and brilliant service is recounted. One may find there a catalog of the high positions he has filled, both in peace and in war, of the important commands he has held, of the honors and decorations which have been bestowed upon him by our own and other countries. The record tells in the formal stereo-typed language of a War Department document, the story of an eminently successful military career. We shall not repeat it here, not only because the repetition is unnecessary but because our remarks on the subject of General King's retirement are not concerned with position and ribbons. aim is rather to touch upon those personal characteristics which cut and dried official records seldom mention-to write, if we can, an appreciation of the man as well as the soldier.

It was our privilege once to serve under Campbell King as a regimental commander. Then as now, his recipe for leadership is best described by the lines:

"Gently but firmly that he might feel The velvet scabbard held a sword of steel."

We knew we had a leader rather than a driver but we also sensed the fact that he could drive if occasion demanded. There was no bluster, no desk pounding, but we knew the force was there.

It was not so much fear of the "sword of steel," however, that influenced the officers of that regiment to give the best they had. It was rather the desire to please the "old man," to measure up to what he expected of us, to receive his ever ready word of praise for work well done. We sensed the fact that he was for us and we were for him. Loyalty in that outfit was not the spurious by-order brand. It was real and it flowed down as well

One star did not change the character of Campbell King's leadership and nor did two. Neither did advancement alter the human qualities which have endeared him to his subordinates. A genuine interest in the welfare and contentment of those under his command has characterized his admin-istration at Benning. While increasing the efficiency of every military istration at Benning. activity under his control, he has been mindful of the thousand and one little things which men of large affairs sometimes neglect—little things that have made the Benning garrison "a happy family." For it is not just a fortuitous circumstance that things have been running smoothly on an even keel for the past four years. Nor is it just an accident that Benning has been, during this period, a pleasant station at which to serve. Every measure that had for its object the happiness of the command has had the encouragement of the Command and many such measures originated in his office.

The position of a commanding officer is that of an autocrat and the human race is so constituted that few of us can wield despotic power for long without becoming more or less indifferent to its effects on others. Our departing Chief, however, has commanded without irritating. He has been big enough and sure enough in his high position to temper his edicts with tact and exercise his authority with diplomacy and understanding. As a result he takes with him into his retirement the affection as well as the esteem of his last command.

General King's retirement is genuinely regretted. Those whose contacts with him and his family have been personal as well as official doubly regret with film and his rainty have been personal as well as some that the service is losing an officer who can ill be spared. Commanding Generals under whom it is both an education and a pleasure to serve are not so numerous in this man's army that we can look with indifference upon the retirement of one of the best.

C. C. NOTES

C. duty of one kind or another. Va- immunity for the name of Colonel rious classes of alleged Untouchables John Bridgehead Jenkins, like that have been decimated by orders from Post or Corps or War Department. There are no longer any guarantees of security. Only the four venerable Lieutenant Colonels who will be next year's Section Chiefs (if school keeps) and the sacred Secretaries to the Assistant Commandant seeem to be immune, and even they are keep ing their fingers crossed.

The Camp Knox orders with their Westward ho significance caught a number of the boys who had reason to believe that they were sitting pretty. Take the cases of Major Wadsworth, who had just taken over the multifarious property of the tank section, and Artilleryman Arnold who had just been appointed Publicity and Liaison Officer of the local camp. Both of these gentlemen are now contemplating following Horace Greeley's well known advice to young men. Viscount Neil Johnston, veteran Area Supervisor, was also drafted out of what looked like an essential home the Knox contingent resented his sustation occupation as were Two-Gun perior attitude. Having had two the extemporized Quartermasters. Almost everybody is now in C. C. Even exalted rank did not confer of Abou Ben Adhem, lead all the

> The most surprised and shocked member of the Knox detail, however, was Major George Kraft, the well known Schedule Maker. Nor was the shock lessened by the manner in which the news was broken. Egged on by several false friends who had seen the order, the Major had just delivered his fixed opinion that the work put him among the Untouchables when the orderly arrived with the bad news. Caught off balance, as it were, the Schedule Maker had to start from scratch in the grand scramble to get off on time. A Flare Scout reports that he saw him rush out of the tailor shop, and then rush back muttering "I forgot my pants; I can't go without my pants.

Speaking of Viscount Johnson reminds us that the other members of weeks' experience in the local conditioning camp his manner toward the new hands was distinctly high-hat.

(Please turn to page 5)

FLARE

(Continued from page 4)

Major Phil Wood, prior to his departure, made an important addition to the growing code of customs of the Reforestation Service by leaving callhis intimate friends.

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

GEORGIA POWER (E) COMPANY

A Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

THE

Post Exchange

has a

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

. which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The hours of this service are from 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GA

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

Eagles hold the record for being kicked out of C. C. C. camps. After being a short tour of duty with the local establishment they were sent to Camp McClellan only to be told upon arrival that they weren't needed. Accordingly, they returned to Benning just in time to be included in the cov ered wagon group bound for Camp Knox. Before they could get away, however, the order was rescinded and ing cards marked P. P. C. C. C. on they were sent back to Colonel Jewett. Mrs. Bonham states that she is fed up on false alarm farewells to Pecos Pete Bonham and Wotaman her husband and Mrs. Eagles has practically given up hope of being a C. C. C. widow.

> The new officers who haven't been hooked for some sort of C. C. C. duty are begining to feel like slackers. Chief A. S. J. was quite at a loss for an answer to Major Chick Terrell's pointed question, "What are you going to tell your children when they say, 'Daddy, what did you do in the war of 1933'."

> As might be expected, the stirring war-time activities of the Benning garrison have been productive of several literary masterpieces. One officer went into an executive session with the Muse of Poetry and in due course of time brought forth what we believe to be one of the first Reforestation folk songs. We print it for what it is worth.

Mama put out your service flag Your man's in the C. C. C., He's S. O. L. but what the hell! He's gone to plant a tree. He'll make the sylvan forest bloom

And save the army cut, Providing that the hungry squirrels Don't take him for a nut."

The men are taking their assignments philosophically-even cheerful-Captain Herb Harries summed up the masculine attitude quite well in the remark, "I don't care when I go so long as I stay on the pay roll."

The wives aren't so agreeable about

Drink

The Best Cola Beverage

Spend This Crown Same As Cash

DIRECTOR

Five "Old-Timers" Retire Recently At Ft. Benning

War Department announcement of the pending retirement of five members of the Fort Benning garrison has been received at post Headquarters The announcement comes to each one as the climax to thirty years' service in the regular army of the United States, and will place the men concerned on the retired list, effective

Those named on the retirement orders are: Master Sergeant Guy Wyrick, Medical Corps; John E. Lanham, Headquarters Company, 2d Battalion, 69th Infantry (light tanks); Marcus D. O'Neal, Infantry School Detachment; Charles H. Bussey, Quartermaster Corps; and Joshua R. Johnson, Headquarters Company, 24th In-

Three years in the Coast Artillery and twenty-seven in the Medical Corps, a commission as captain during the world war, together with some rather hard study that has won him the right to a degree in law on his quitting the service, are included in the record of Master Sergeant Guy Wyrick, Medical Department, sergeant major and chief clerk of the station hospital at Fort Benning. Sergeant Wyrick was born in the state of Kansas, and enlisted at Joplin, Mo., in the Coast Artillery for a small taste of military life in the year 1905. His large number of army travels have included five years of service spent in various posts of the Philippine Islands, and assignments to almost every large army post in the United States. He held a captain's commission in the Sanitary Corps from June 12, 1918 to June 1, 1919 working most of the time in the office of the surgeon general at Washington. Four years residence study in law at it. Mrs. Harry Reeder's remark as she came back from the railroad station after seeing Major Reeder off for Knox voices their sentiment.

"I smiled when I said goodbye to my husband when he went to the border," quoth she, "and I smiled when I saw him off to France, but this is no laughing matter."

Captain Red Cummings is responsible for the second poetic outburst that has been brought to our attention. Having been requested to furnish a new story in the recreational activities of the camp, he elected to do part of it in verse. The Cummings' opus goes like this.

The nights are filled with music and the thud of padded fists, The groans of wrestlers permeate the

Contortionists and jugglers, ventriloquists and clowns

At the C. C. C. Fort Benning County Fair."

AUTHORATATIVE DIRECTIONS

A big red headed recruit from somewhere in rural Florida blundered into the latrine assigned to the Reception Company of the C. C. C. camp. He was not one of the reception personnel.

'What the hell are you doing in here," demanded one of the rightful users of that particular utility.

"A general told me to come here," replied the rookie. "Whaddy yuh mean, general?" said the questioner. 'I mean that I asked a general where to go," drawled the Floridian, 'and he was mighty nice about telling me. He stopped his mules and got down from the wagon and pointed out this place."

DODGE

E. F. H.

San Antonio, Tex., entitle him to stand | first lieutenant of infantry on June intends to do upon his retirement.

Battalion, 66th Infantry (light tanks), organization to the present time. for the past several years sergeant initial "y", till he was commissioned examination for his degree, which he 30, 1917. Upon his discharge from his commission after the war, in Feb-Another campaigner who held a ruary, 1919, he immediately reenlistwar-time commission is the next on ed with Headquarters Company 15th the list of retirements within the next Tank Battalion (since changed to the few days. Master Sergeant John E. 2d Battalion 66th Infantry (light Lanham, Headquarters Company, 2d tanks), and has remained with that

The Ancient Order of Hibernians, major and chief clerk of the tank and fighting Irish throughout the serv-battalion, took his first "hitch" with ice may well raise their chests in pride ice may well raise their chests in pride Company F, 27th Infantry, and though at the military record of Master Serhe shifted to the 7th Infantry for geant Marcus D. O'Neal, Infantry the next four "stacks," held to the School Detachment. His first bit of geant Marcus D. O'Neal, Infantry (Please turn to page 8)

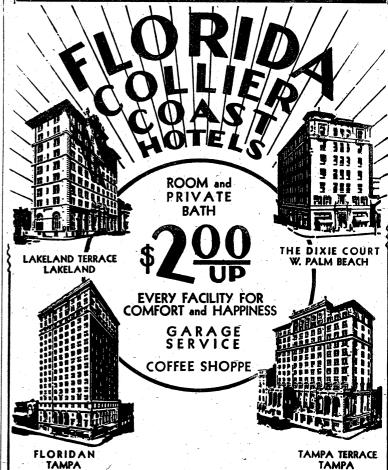

THE PREMIER

of PEANUTS

10m's

Toasted Peanuts

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded for the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

ASSOCIATED HOTELS JACKSONVILLE HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

Announcing . . .

WE ARE NOW DEALERS FOR

PLYMOUTH

and FINE MOTOR CARS AND TRUCKS

VISIT OUR SHOWROOMS AND SEE THE LATEST DESIGNS OF THESE FAMOUS MAKES

Patterson-Pope Motor Company
1415 FIRST AVENUE

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Canadian Champion To Fight Griffin

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

ed Young Corbett, defending welterweight champion, to the canvas three time in the first round of their titular fray before Referee George Blake stepped in and awarded the championship to the hard-punching young Irishman. Corbett had won the title two months ago; it was his first defense of his championship.

Corbett was the aggressor during the first few seconds of fighting and caught McLarnin unawares with his driving tactics. The Irishman received several jolting lefts and rights before he was unable to land a punch. But when he did, it nailed Corbett coming in and, to the amazement of the fans at the ringside, the champion tumbled to the canvas, one of the few times he had been floored in his career. He took a count of nine. Mc-Larnin came across from the neutral corner to which he had retired at the knockdown like a tiger thirsting for the kill, shifted to southpaw style and drove in three portsiders to the jaw.

Corbett hit the canvas like a ton of brick and it looked like curtains. He was up at eight but out on his feet. His back was turned to the Irishman, who leaped across the ring and landed a terrific right to the jaw. Corbett started falling, Referee Blake raised a hand of McLarnin and a new champion was crowned.

Jack Dempsey, ex-champion, one of the greatest fighters ever to don leather, confidently predicts a knockout in the Baer-Schmeling bout. And Jack know, after entering the ring against both warriors in one of the greatest publicity stunts ever attempted.

The Manassa Mauler went three minutes against Max Schmeling and two against Maxie Baer. Dempsey, out of shape and with a roll of fat gracing his stomach, went to war against both. Schmeling was unable placed second at the distance. Stories galore have been told to land his favorite punch, a left up-

Jimmy "Babyface" McLarnin smash- | percut, but Baer nailed the ex-champ with several left hooks to the body that really hurt.

Baer and Schmeling are rapidly approaching the peak of condition. And Dempsey avers that the knockout will come sometime between the tenth and fifteenth rounds.

In the chill of a gray, gloomy afternoon, the Southern California Trojans, winners of the annual Intercollegiate A.A.A.A. track and field champion ships for the past four years, van quished the seemingly invincible Stanford forces 45-42. Far behind the two leaders, three eastern universities went into a tie for third place, Yale, Cornell, and New York University with sixteen points apiece.

Three defending title-holders re peated. Zaremba of New York University won the hammer throw and Bill Miller of Stanford and Bill Graber of the University of Southern California again figured in a deadlock in the pole vault.

Records fell in the course of the splendid meet. John Lyman of Stanford, with a mighty heave of 52 ft. 8 1.2 inches in the shot put, broke the accepted world's record made by Heljasc of Hungary. George Spitz of New York University swept to victory in the high jump by clearing the bar at 6 ft. 6 1-2 inches, a new intercollegiate mark.

Record feats though they were, the brilliant performance of Bill Bonthron of Princeton who won both the Dempsey, above everyone else, should 800 meter run and the 1500 meter race outshone them all. John Paul Jones, way back in 1912, was the only man ever to score a double victory in these two runs in the long history of the meets. Ben Eastman pulled up fourth in the 800 meter run, several inches behind Bill Mangan who

Stories galore have been told about

(Please turn to page 8)

Clashes With Corn Griffin Thursday

Cotton Batton and Roy Dunn of Atlanta To Meet In Semi-Final

Charley Belanger, light-heavyweight champion of Canada, will invade Fort Benning next Thursday night to meet Corn Griffin, army sensation, in a ten round bout that will constitute the supreme test for Griffin. Belanger is being given the biggest cash guarantee that has been offered in the local arena and in addition, is receiving a juicy share of the gate receipts, win, lose, or draw.

Corn Griffin will stack up against a man who is not only fast and clever but a willing mixer and a hard puncher. Yes, Griffin will go into the ring the underdog, but then the Tanker seems to like that attitude best. The Griffin-Belanger battle is far and away the best bout to be staged at the post for many, many years; in fact, the more one thinks about it, the less one is inclined to think that there has ever been a better bout fought here in our own little community of Fort Benning.

From all advance reports, the June eighth card will be anything but topheavy. The Athletic Association is arranging a supporting cast for the two heavy roles that will do justice to the main go and that is saying a Griffin recently returned from a brief tour of the east where he lost decision to Trader Horn, the lad who put the Indian sign on Lou Scozza, number two ranking lightheavy in the world. At that, newspapers in the vicinity of New Haven were prone to call the decision a rotten one.

In his last appearance a Fort Benning, the Terrible Tankers won a close bout from Battling Bozo, who used every trick in his rich repertoire to keep away from Corn's flying fists. So, you fight fans, climb on the old bandwagon, grab your tickets early, and stay clear of the rush that is bound to occur.

Capt. Drake And Mrs. Keiler Win Mixed Doubles

Captain Drake and Mrs. Keiler won the mixed doubles championship of the post by defeating Lieutenant and Mrs. George H. Lynch last Friday by scores of 2-6, 6-4, 6-4. The winners lost the first eight of ten games to their opponents when they began the match playing erratically. The Lynch combination, with one set safely tucked away and a lead of 2.0 in the second, began to make frequent erors which completely dissinated their lead. Captain Drake and Mrs. Keiler crept up even with their opponents and then slowly but steadily pulled away to win the next set.

The same was true of the last and deciding set and the championship rested with the Keiler-Drake team of mixed doubles. Mrs. Lynch played an impressive game throughout; her ground game left little or nothing to be desired and she successfully coped with the play of her opponents in every other department of the game. Her partner, Lieutenant Lynch, finalist in the men's singles, played well at the start, suffered a sudden reversal of form, and made many errors in the last two sets. After a bad first set, Mrs. Reeve Keiler and Captain Drake, post champion, hit their stride and were going well at the finish.

Charlie Belanger Charlie Belanger Has Dropped Mickie Walker For Nine Count

ers in the country. The Canadian on. lightheavyweight champion dropped a decision to Mickie Walker, the Toy Bulldog, who fought Jack Sharkey, heavyweight champion of the world to a draw not long ago. But the startling thing about his fight with Walker was that Belanger did something that Sharkey could not do-that very few fighters in the ring today have done. He floored the toy bulldog for a count of nine.

Belanger also lost a close decision to Maxie Rosenbloom, but then who Jimmy Slattery, ex-lightheavyweight champion of the world, was defeated by Belanger, and Jimmy was not on the decline at the time of his defeat at the hands of the Canadian champion either. Leo Lomski, Joe Knight, Tiger Jack Payne, Pete Latzo, Lou Scozza, and many others celebrities of the ring have gone down to defeat before the onslaught of the man who fights Corn Griffin next Thursday.

A semi-final that will put the fans in the best of spirits for the best main go ever to appear on a Benning fight card will be the titanic battle between Roy Dunn of Atlanta and Cotton Batton of the 24th Infantry, colored middleweight champion of the south. Cotton Batton is well-known to fans in this vicinity; he never fails to please, and Roy Dunn is the lad who has been knocking them all for a row of ashcans in Atlanta. For the opening gong to the moment when the hand of one of the participants is raised in

Charley Belanger, the lad who is token of victory, this fight should be slated to swap punches with Corn a whirlwind—we take that back—if it Griffin, the Terrible Tanker, on the isn't at least a tornado or a hurricane eighth of the current month, has met or something, we will gladly consent some of the outstanding leatherpush to eat the paper this article is written

> RUBBER STAMPS COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

Howard Bus Line. Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

From Columbus			From Ft. Benning
5:00	AM			6:00	$\mathbf{A}\mathbf{M}$
6:00	"			7:50	٠,,
7:00	66			9:15	"
8:30	"			10:45	46
10:00	66			12:45	PM
11:45	66			2:15	44
1:30	PM			4:15	** :
3:00	,44			5:10	"
5:00	64			6:00	-
7:00	"			7:00	44
9:00	"			8:00	° 44
10:30	"		. ,	9:45	. #
12:00	M			11:15	**
				12:00	M

Also "Extras" and SCHOOL BUSES PHONES

wer the Fence.

Telephone 608

Everyone gets a big kick out or seeing a long nomer, and you will get just as big a kick out of handling the equipment on sale at the Main Branch, Post Exchange. Every kind, every type of athletic equip-

POSTEXCHANGE

FORT BENNING,

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

BOXING

THURSDAY JUNE 8TH

Post Gymnasium, 8:15 P. M.

10 ROUND FINAL

Corn Griffin

vs. Charlie Belanger

8 ROUND SEMI-FINAL

Cotton Batton Colored Middleweight Champion of South

Roy Dunn

6 ROUNDS

Chick Liddell Ft. Benning

vs.

Billy Wilson Columbus

6 ROUNDS

Dapper Doyle Ft. Benning

vs.

Ernest Chambliss Birmingham

4 ROUNDS

Ghost Ghastly

vs.

Young Wallace

CURTAIN RAISER

General Admission 50c

Ringside $1.00

Tickets on Sale at Hubbard Hardware Co.; Wheat's Drug Store; Officers' Club; and all orderly rooms.

Take Title During Meet Last Week by Lloyd of the Tornado, and the

By JACK GIBNEY

For the sixth straight year the Golden Tornado of the Tank Battalion has fought its way to victory in the annual garrison field and track meet; but never before by such an overwhelming margin as they piled up in Doughboy Stadium last Saturday morning. Despite the pouring rain, which dimmed the field and drove the spectators out of the stands, the Tankers took event after event, topped by the long-disance toss of Coble in the javelin throw, and featured by the clean sweep that they made in the half-mile run. Two of the three post records that were broken fell before the onslaught of the gold-jerseyed team; the javelin throw by Coble, already mentioned, and the smashing of the post broadjump record by Jones and Weaver. To the above may be added the winning of high-point score

NEW FORDOR SEDAN

Bring your Ford here for service

WHEN you bring your Ford car here for service, you are always sure of prompt, courteous treatment from men who know their business. Our mechanics are specially trained and our new preciion service equipment dupsion service equipment dup-licates factory manufacturing methods. Only genuine Ford parts are used and all labor is charged at a low flat rate.

1216-22 First Avenue Phone 3500

Tanker Trackmen Famous Plavers May Enter Cotton States Tournament To Be Held Here

tug-of-war, captured by the "biff-trust" that "Red" Lindsey coached.

The 2d Battalion, who looked like serious competition for the Tankers when they qualified twenty-six men in the preliminaries last Thursday, came out second best in the contest. Nicholls, Saunders, and Costello proved the mainstays of the Blue Thunderbolt, but their efforts were not sufficient to overcome the lead the Tankers had over the field.

The 1st Battalion, the fighting Green Wave, were not figured as offering any threat to the supremacy of either the Kellys or the Tankers, but surprised everyone by coming through with 33 points for third place. Carpenter, the "old man" of the Benning cinder path, repeated in the high jump after a tough battle with Thorne, of the Tornado, who captured second. The Irish ancient also held his own with the youngsters for third place in the shot put, and together with Simmons, who broke the post record in the same event, and who took several other places, helped mightily to hold the 2d Batts back.

The Special Units of the Infantry School, (or the I.S.D.) grabbed off several points for themselves when Dodd placed fourth in the 100, and the relay team ran away from the 83rd and Headquarters Battalion, 29th to take fourth place. For as little training and as small a team as competed, the Green cords made a good showing.

The outstanding performance by the Spare Parts of the 29th was the winning of the discus by Estes. This eam also made its first serious bid for recognition in the post meet, and should do better next season.

Of the three post records broken,, the shot put had stood for the longest period of time, being established by Berttelman in 1928. The double breaking of the broad jump distanced by Jones and Weaver, showed that the Tanks had put in some work on that event; and a perusal of the papers reveals the fact that Coble's toss of the javelin traveled a farther distance than the throw that won the recent Yale-Harvard meet, where the collegians could only do a mere 188

Results of the meet are as follows: 100 yd. dash: Griffin, Tanks, and Craig, 1st Bn.; tide; Nichols, 2d Bn., Dodd, I. S. D. Time 10.7.

220 yd. dash: Pullen, Tanks; Nicholls, 2d Bn.; Thorne, Tanks; Craig, 1st Bn. Time 25.4.

440 yd. run. Saunders, 2d Bn.; Mathews, Tanks; Woods, 2d Bn.; Delano, 1st Bn. Time 55.4.

880 yd. run: Warren, Tanks; Lloyd, Tanks; Mathews, Tanks; Stallard,

(Please turn to page 8)

Even at this stage of development, the annual Cotton States Tennis Tournament to be held here in Fort Benning promises to bring some of the country's highest ranking net artists to this community. Major Henry B. Lewis, chairman of the committee entrusted with the responsibility of making the eaborate preparations for the tournament, has been endeavoring to get in touch with Ellsworth Vines, ranked number one in the national rating and generally conceded to be the world's outstanding performer on the tennis court, who is now playing in Memphis along with other members of the United States Davis Cup team.

The services of Clifford Sutter and Sydney Wood may also be obtained. Sutter ranks number three in the country and Sydney Wood is not far behind. Several telegrams have been dispatched to Memphis, but as yet have been unanswered which is indicative of the fact that Vines, Sutter, and Wood have not yet made up their minds but are giving the matter consideration. This, in itself, is encour-

The United States Davis Cup team, led by Ellsworth Vines, has just completed conquests of Canada and Argentina without the loss of a match. The permission of the American Davis Cup committee will be necessary before Vines and his satellites can engage in the Cotton States tournament.

But should Vines, Sutter, and Wood not be able to participate, the tournament will still be featured by a galaxy of stars from all over the country. Heading the list are such outstanding performers as diminutive Bryan Grant, who rates thirteenth in the national ranking, Dolph Muchleisen, who fought Keith Gledhill, who with Ellsworth Vines is national doubles champion, to a standstill in the semi-finals of a tournament in California. The army ace, Muehleisen lost by scores of 7-5, 5-7, 7-5.

Three other Californians, John N. Stone, Phineas K. Morrill, and Stanley K. Robinson, are also entered in the tournament. All three of these players are ranked among the leaders in a state which has produced such great stars as Vines and Gledhill.

Billy Reese of Atlanta, the winner of the tournament last year, will defend his title, it is indicated. Reese played recently in Fort Benning when the Georgia Tech tennis team came here to play Fort Benning. On that occasion, Billy made a tremendous hit with the large gallery on hand to see him play by easily defeating Captain Drake, number one ranking player on the post.

"Lefty" Bryan, hattanooga, winner of the Fort Benning invitation tournament last year, will also be numbered among the list of entries. Others who have indicated that they will be entered are: Frankie Parker, Kendall Cram, Ed Sutton, Gus Feurer, Hudson Hamm, Fred Andrwes, Jack Mooney. To tennis fans, these names are bywords in the game. Hamm defeated George Lott for the Florida State title last year. Gus Feuer is nationally known as the best drop shot artist in the country. Frankie Parker, at a tender age, was defeating some of the best players in the country, and Ed Sutton is one of the favorites to win the intercollegate tennis title this year.

Wilmer Hines, at the age of fourteen, was winning southern tournaments. Hines is also entered in the Cotton States Tournament. Bryan Grant and Jack Mooney, who have won almost every important title the south has had to offer in the last few years, will team up in the Cotton

(Please turn to page 8)

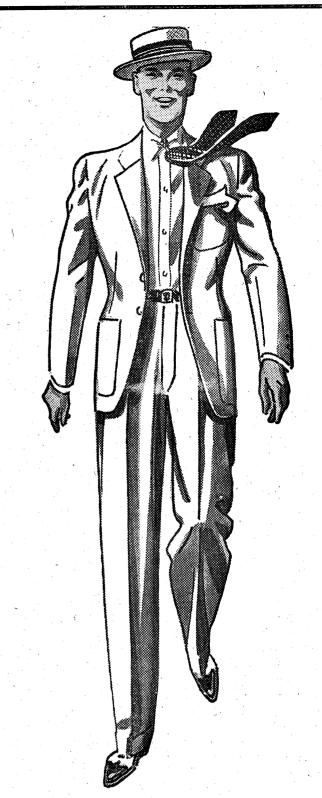

PEP...

in every step Use

Heels and Soles

Hood Rubber Products Go., Inc. Watertown, Mass.

Hot Weather Clothes

SCHWOBILT

Linens

Tropical Worsted

$ > 50

A GREAT SHOWING OF SPORTSWEAR

The Sport Suit Flannel Trousers

and $495

THE SCHWOB CO.

The Standard Tailoring Co. 1037 Broadway Columbus

BUY

GOOD YEAR

ON OUR

EASY PAYMENT PLAN

No red tape-small down-payment and balance at your own conven-

ALL TYPES — ALL SIZES At Prices you May Never See Again WE APPRECIATE YOUR BUSINESS

UNITED OIL CORPORATION

PHONE 1800

1215-21 - 1ST AVE.

OLDTIMERS RETIRE (Continued from page 5)

battle came when the war drums boomed in '98, and he enlisted as a volunteer. In 1904 he entered the regular army, serving with Company M of the 19th Infantry. By the time the World War sent the dove of peace to unknown regions he had six years in the Coast Artillery, as well as infantry and quartermaster service, to his credit.

When the Fifth Division went overseas, "Red" O'Neal was right along as a captain in the 6th Infantry, and stuck with the Red Diamond outfit through the engagement in the Meuse-Argonne. Three divisional and one General Headquarters citation for heroism in action at St. Mihiel, GET THERE WITH EASE!

Whether you're going swimming or just on a trip around the corner, you can get there more easily if you use one of our cars!

EASY RATES

NO HOUR CHARGE Comfortable Equipment

> FORDS CHEVROLETS

STILL'S RENT-A-CAR CO. 1232 1ST AVE.

Montfaucon, and Brieulles testify to the fighting flame that still shows in Second Batts Lick

Master Sergeant Charles R. Bussey, Quartermaster Corps, began his military career in the Hospital Corps in 1900. After six years with that organization, three with the 6th Infantry Band, and three with the Coast Artillery, he left the service to re-urn to civilian life. The siren call of arms, and the life of the barracks hailed him back, however, and he reenlisted in the 121st Coast Artillery Company in 1914.

During the war he was in sole charge of the Recruit Depot mess at Savannah, feeding on an average of 1,000 men a day for the duration of the war. Since he came to the School for Bakers and Cooks, he estimates that he has taught and graduated over 2,500 cooks for duty in the various organizations of the army.

The last mentioned of those on the retirement list, Master Sergeant Joshua R. Johnson, Headquarters Company, 24th Infantry, is one of the type of men that are slowly leaving the service—old time soldier, Indian fighter, and field soldier of the bygone days. Nashville, Tenn., was the place of his initial enlistment, when he was assigned to the 10th Cavalry at ort Robinson, Neb., in 1905. His first enlistment gave him an opportunity to get into action in the last of the Indian uprisings, when the 10th Cavalry went into Montana in 1906 to subdue the Ute Indians. He stayed with the 10th through the Punitive Expedition against Villa into Mexico

TANKERS WIN TRACK MEET (Continued from Page 7) Tanks. Time 2.13 1-5.

Mile run: Lloyd, Tanks; Ray, 1st Bn.; Hamm, Tanks; Smith, Tanks; Time 4.59.

Shot put: Simmons, 1st Bn.; Costello, 2d Bn.; Carpenter, 1st Bn.; Thomas, Tanks. 38 ft. 6 3-4 inches. New post record.

Discus: Estes, Hq. Bn. 29th; Maxwell, 2d Bn.; Blackstone, 2d Bn.;

Bn.; Thomas T,anks; Simmons, 1st Bn. 190 ft. 4 inches. New post record. Broad jump: Jones, Tanks; Weaver, Tanks; Simmons, 1st Bn., tied; Prophet, 2d Bn., 20 ft. 9 inches.

High jump: Carpenter, 1st Bn., Thorne, Tanks; Johnson ,2d Bn.

Camp, 1st Bn., and Dowden, 2d Bn. tied for third and fourth. 5 ft. 6 in. 120 yd. high hurdles: Turner, Tanks, Horton, 1st Bn.; Marquis 2d Bn. Time 17.2.

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS $ 600,000.00 RESOURCES OVER $ 3,200,000.00

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

BELIEVE IT OR NOT

We want to go on record that we are thankful and grateful for our husky neighbor

FORT BENNING

The Provision Co., Inc.

COLUMBUS, GA.

First Batts 9-8

2nd Battalion, 29th Infantry, found the offerings of Foster and Smith easy to solve, and combined 14 hits with a baker's dozen errors to total 9 runs, winning from the 1st Battalion, 29th Infantry team by a score of 9-8. The game marked the opening of the in-tramural baseball schedule for the 1933 season.

1st Battalion scored first, annexing one run in the second inning. Reddock, who was the big noise in his outfit, got on base on a hit to left, scoring on Snead's hit to righ.

They pushed two more runs over in the third. Sheriff hit over second and was safe. Johnson hit to left, and Reddock pushed one into left,, scoring Sheriff and Johnson.

They picked up one run in each of the next four innings, failed to tally in the eighth, and scored their last run in the ninth.

Foster, who started on the mound for 1st Battalion, lasted until the eighth, when he was relieved by Smith, with one man out.

2nd Battalion picked up one run in the third. It was in this inning that the 1st Battalion infield declared a moratorium on efficiency.

2nd Battalion picked up three runs in both the sixth and seventh, and one run in the eighth and ninth.

Haynes, who relieved Pyles in the sixth, goes into the records as the winning pitcher.

Reddock, playing first for 1st Battalon had the best day at bat. He got three hits in his five trips to the platt, and went safe the other two times on errors.

Batteries: 2d Bn., Pyles and Haynes; Thompson. 1st Bn., Foster, and Smith; Snead.

Co. E Wins Title Costello, 2d Bn. 116 ft. 9 inches. Javelin: Coble, Tanks, Costello, 2d In 66 th Infantry

Playing steadily behind the pitching of Swantic, the baseball aggregaton representing Company E, 2nd Bn., 66th Infantry, won the championship of the Tank battalion, defeating Company F, 67th Infantry, by a score of 8-1, in a game played Monday afternoon on the Tank field.

Swantic, the fellow they call The Iron Man, perennial army hurler, pitched consistently, and was well hand-led by Pike, his battery mate.

It was a pitcher's battle until the late innings of the game, but then Segrest, F Company moundsman, went down before a barrage of hits and the game was won.

Hodges and O'Brien performed brilliantly afield.

> SPORT CHATTER (Continued From Page 6)

Bill Byron, the one-time famous "singing umpire" of the big leagues. Hank Gowdy's favorite concerning Bill deals with a game at the Polo Grounds years ago when an airplane passing overhead was something to make everybody look up and take notice. Right in the midst of a game between the Brave and Giants, with Byron working behind the bat, the far-off hum of an airplane was heard. Everybody gazed upward and saw, diat least 8,000 feet up a tiny ship. It was passing directly over the field. When all had had a look, the pitcher started a windup but Byron suddenly and majestically called "time." Then he turned to the actounded batter and hissed, "only two bases if you hit that there air-ship!"

Maxwell Optical Co.

I. A. MAXWELL

Optometrist and Optician

A COMPLETE OPTICAL SERVICE

1217 Broadway

NATIONALLY KNOWN TENNIS STARS MAY BE HERE (Continued from page 7)

States. Dolph Muehleison and Donald Robinson, Californians, are formidable entries in the men's doubles. Ths team went to the finals of a tournament in Callfornia, only to be defeated by Gledhill and Vines, national champions in the event.

Entries keep coming in day by day. Karl Kamrath and Martyn Buxby of the University of Texas, two players who rate among top notchers in the national ranking, will both be entered.

Arrangements are rapidly nearing completion for handling the large crawd expected to be present at the Officers' Club courts when the nation's foremost tennis stars begin to whistle the ball back and forth across the net. The bleacher seats used by aptain Fry is staging the outdoor boxing matches are to be moved to the tennis courts in addition to the present stands. Canvas covers for the bleachers will protect the spectators from the sun.

Play will start on June the sixth and it is planned to hold the finals on Sunday, June 11.

SHAMMY SHINER

THE NEW WASHABLE POLISHING CLOTH

FOR ALL METAL INSIGNIA AND EQUIPMENT

Does not soil the hands or clothing and does away with messy powders, liquids and pastes. The polishing mater-ials are scientifically processed right into the cloth and one Shammy Shiner lasts indefi-nitely.. Just a light rub and your insignia or equipment is made bright and new in a jiffy.

Ask for it at your Post Exchange

N. S. MEYER, INC. NEW YORK

Distributors to the Military and Naval Trade

SHOES

FOR MEN AND WOMEN

Ladies' White Sport Shoes $1.95

Sandals and Pumps: Step into June in white and you'll be in step with fashion.

Sport Shoes $1.78 to $4.95

- Men's

In black, black and white, tan and white, and tan and brown.

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY

1234 BROADWAY

Telephone 565

LET US TAKE REAL CARE OF YOUR CAR!

Every sensible person knows that a skilled man can do a thing better and faster than an unskilled worker. That's why you should let the Auto Department inspect your car regularly—and you should use only the best of oils and greases.

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, JUNE 9, 1933

NUMBER 7

R.O.T.C. Students Arrive At Post Thursday For Work

Forty more university students from Georgia Tech, in addition to the number already scheduled, arrived at Fort Benning Thursday to attend the R. O. T. C. encampment at the Infantry School.- Captain Newton H. Strickland, who was formerly on duty at the post as ordnance officer of the Infantry School, will be in charge of the men from Tech. The additional number of students raise he total now at Benning to about Four courses of instruction have been arranged for the college men including field artillery, engineer, ordnance, and signal corps studies. The field artillery group is the largest of the training season, having two hundred and thirty-seven members; the engineers have the second largest number, seventy-four; the ordnance thirty-two; and the signal corps class numbers twelve.

The old area occupied by the R. O. T. C. encampment in former years is now filled with members of the Civilian Conservation Corps, who are stationed at Benning for their two weeks' reconditioning period and the site of the collegians' camp has been moved to the vicinity of Block 21, in and around Biglerville mess, which the R. O. T. C. boys are to use as a dining hall. Upon their arrival they Thursday, the members of the camp immediately started drawing equipment, and standing physical examinaday evening. On Saturday they will start a systematic police of the camp area, cleaning it up for their occu-pancy, and will devote part of the morning to lectures on camp sanitation and cleanliness, by regular officers.

Major Gustav H. Franke, who commanded the encampment last year, will again fill that important post; and Lieutenant Bruce C. Clarke, (DOL) University of Tennessee, has been announced as camp adjutant. Work is now going forward on the regular class schedule, for the training work which is due to begin Mon-

Veterans To See Action As Members Of C.C.C. At Post

Veterans of former wars that have been won by this country will swing back into action in the great war on ordered by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, when four hundred of the men who saw service during the World War arrive at Fort Benning for their reconditioning period of two weeks, prior to their taking up the work in the woods that is being carried on by the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Beginning on June 6, President Roosevelt has authorized the enrollment of war veterans in the ranks of the C. C., and the recruiting will be finished by July 6. This time the war will be fought, not with rifle and gas mask, on the muddy stretches of France; but with a shovel and the axe, in the national forests of this country. There will be no drilling, or midnight patrols; but outdoor

(Please turn to page 7)

C. C. C.'s HIT REFRESHMENT LINE

A small part of the more than eight thousand men of the Benning Civilian Conservation Corps Camp are shown as they lined up at the canteen to purchase a few of the luxuries of life. In a daily routine such as they will have to undergo, the canteen will probably play an important part in helping keep them supplied with cigarettes, tobacco, soap and other similar necessities.

Welfare Council Holds Final Meeting Of Season

Prominent Charitable Organization Of Benning Loses Many Members In Annual Turnover Of Personnel This Year.

There was sadness intermingled lapping of activities. wi h thankfulness at the final meettions to determine their fitness, and ing for the season of the Fort Bencontinued in this work till Fri ning Welfare Council—sadness over the prospect of losing so much valuable service, thankfulness over the friendships formed through common interests.

> General King's retirement came as a real blow to the Council. He has not only given the benefit of his authorized influence and his cool, sane judgment on all decisions of importance, but has_continually shown genuine heart interest in all problems that have confronted the organization during his administration.

Mrs. King as chairman of the Advisory Committee has given such splendid cooperation and ever ready willingness to render any kind of service. As president of the Fort Benning Branch, Army Relief Society, Mrs.

The Community Chest was organized by General King and the vital a Community Chest to supply funds work it makes possible will be a continual reminder of his interest in the men, women and children of this the wherewithal to carry on the work command. The Welfare Council was organized two years ago as a branch of the Community Chest Committee.

its organization has served as treasurer of the Welfare Council left last week with her family for the Philippines. The Council is fortunate in winning the consent of Mrs. Joseph A. Holly to take Mrs. Owens' place as treasurer. As chairman of the Literary Section of the Woman's Club during the past season, Mrs. Holly demonstrated her excellent executive

Mrs. Lewis C. Davidson, one of the members of the Supply Committee, who leaves soon for Washington, King perfected a plan whereby the who leaves soon for Washington, Army Relief and Welfare Council has done more for "sweet charity" worked hand in hand with no over-perchance, than anybody on the Post.

Mrs. Davidson was president of the Welfare Association before there was and many hours were spent in various forms of entertainment to secure of the Association. Mrs. Davidson's work was largely responsible for bringing to the Post a realization of Mrs. Charles W. Owens, who since the need for a Community Chest.

The Welfare Council is losing the entire Tank Committee. Mrs. Russell Nelson has already gone, Mrs. Robert J. Wallace leaves soon for Hawaii and Mrs. Allen J. Kingman for Washington. Through Mrs. Kingman's interest and effort a little baby girl, whose mother was unable to care for her large family was recently adopted by a couple in Columbus who have no little ones of their own. A good education, luxuries and love in abundance are assumed for the little girl. This was one of the outstanding accomplishment sof the past quarter.

(Please turn to page 4)

Boy Scouts Defeat Columbus Entrants In Meet

Every Member Of Benning Team Places In Some Event In Meet Held At Municipal Stadium On June Second

In the Boy Scouts' field meet held | 11 and 12 of Fort Benning were alin the Columbus stadium, June 2nd lowed to enter the meet as one troop and sponsored by the Scouters' Club | because a number of scouts have only of Columbus, the Fort Benning scouts recently left the post. The local ook honors and were awarded a large plaque as the winners of the meet. Four troops participated and who took the boys to the stadium were awarded points as follows: Ft. and assisted in judging the events. Benning 38, Troop 2, Columbus 34½, Troop 6 Columbus 7, and Troop 1 Columbus 5. The feature of the Benning representatives was that each scout who went to the meet placed in some event and each will be awarded one or more prizes when the awards nalling elementary, team of George Buddy Harding, 1st. Tent pitching are made at a later date. Of the Pope, Wendell Bevan, Bill Pearson team, Bob Buffington, Buddy Hardtwelve events Benning took five firsts, and Howdy Clark, 1st. Signalling ing and Donald Spalding, tied for work, and a chance to rebulid the tied for first in two others, took two troop was in charge of Captain D. P. Spalding and Lieut. Melvin Meister

The high point winner was Bill Pearson. The summary of events and places made by the Fort Benning troop are as follows: Fire by friction flint and steel, J. B. Bonham, 2nd. Dressing race, Max Talbot, 1st. Sigadvanced, team of J. B. Bonham, Bill first. second and one third prize. Troops Pearson, Howdy Clark and Tommy Arms, 1st. Knot tying, team of Bill Pearson and Julius Evans, 2nd. First aid elementary, team of Wendell Bevan, Bill Pearson and Warren Drake, tied for 1st. First aid advanced, team of Wendell Bevan, Howdy Clark, Tommy Arms and Bobby Arms, 1st. Tug of war team, J. B. Bonham, Max Talbot, George Pope, Julius Evans, Bob Buffington, Oscar Neundorfer, Harry Reeder and Buddy Harding, 3rd. Message relay team J. B. Bonham, George Pope, Bill Pearson, Howdy Clark, Tommy Arms, Julius Evans, Bob Buffington and

—D. P. Spalding in the forest camps.

Number Of New Companies Sent To Forest Locations

The arrival of 28 replacements from South Carolina was the only gain registered in the Fort Benning C. C. C. camp for June 7. This was more than offset by the departure of Company 1411 under Captain Blain for its work camp near Albany. The total number of men in camp, however, remains at a high figure, there being about 8,000 in the tent city.

A number of companies have com pleed their two weeks' conditioning and are ready to move to their work camps as soon as these are reported ready. The men are eager to get to their real work with the reforestation army. Undoubtedly the intense heat of yesterday created added sentiment in favor of an early departure. After such a day with the sun bearing down with full force on the tents, the young C. C. C. recruits' fancy turned naturally to thoughts of cool, forest shades.

Thursday no companies are scheduled to leave for work camps. Company 1415, however, is moving today to a branch of the reconditioning camp which is being set up at Harmony church. This company is composed of colored recruits and it is expected that it will ultimately be assigned to reforestation work on the Fort Benning reservation. This company is commanded by Captain Joseph T. Zak, and has 1st Lieutenant Paul Cooper for its second in command. The enlisted men in this company are Sergeant Eugene Jackson, Headquarters Company, 24th Inf., who is acting 1st sergeant; Corporal Paul Blouin, Co. A, 24th Infantry who is acting supply sergeant; Corporal Jas. T. Walker, Co., 24th Inf., who is acting mess sergeant, and Private 1st Class Howard Curtis, acting first cook.

Every effort is being made by the military authorities to keep the men happy and contented while waiting assignment to work camps. Every evening from about 7:00 to 9:00 a varied program is put on at the C. C. C. Recreation Center under the supervision of Captain Alexander H. Cummings, the camp athletic and recreation officer.

Boxing ranks first in popularity, with a fine representation of fighters from Georgia, Alabama, Florida, South Carolina and Mississippi. The boys from this section of the country are noted for their fighting ability, and any lack of science is made up in aggressiveness and willingness to mix it. The best of the C. C. fighters are matched weekly with soldier boxers from the Fort Benning boxing stable, which includes some of the best fighters in the South.

Another popular form of amusement is wrestling and several interesting cards have already been arranged.

There is much musical talent in the camp, including banjo pickers, mouth organists, guitar players, and singers. Whenever the crowd gets tired of boxing and wrestling there are always plenty of musicians ready to entertain.

The soldiers of the post have shown a splendid spirit in helping to entertain the C. C. C. and the boys here are very appreciative of their efforts.

Altogether, the life of the C. C. C. at the Fort Benning Reconditioning Camp is a merry one, with enough hard work thrown in to give the boys a taste of what is in store for them

Miss Mary Louise Clark And Lt. Bache Are Wed At Ceremony In Madison, Fla.

An impressive event of Tuesday last cessional marches. The bride entered at the First Presbyterian Church of of Miss Marie Louise Clark, daughter of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Robert W. Clark, Jr., Ret., of Sarasota, Florida and Lieut. William Hyatt Bache, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Bache, of Greenville, Florida. The Rev. R. H. Latham, pastor of the church, performed the impressive ring ceremony in the presence of an assemblage of relatives and friends of the couple. The altar was simply but effectively decorated with standard baskets of gladioli and ferns. Tall lacy bamboo made a charming background for the floral decorations and maiden hair ferns outlined the choir rail. Pews reserved for the family were marked off with ribbons. Mrs. S. B. Algeo of Greenville rendered a program of nupial music while the guests were assembing and during the ceremony. She also played the processional and re-

Maxwell Optical Co.

I. A. MAXWELL

Optometrist and Optician

A COMPLETE

OPTICAL SERVICE

1217 Broadway

the church on the arm of her father Madison, Florida, was the marriage and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man. Lieut. Everett W. Barlow. Miss Nan Clark, sister of the bride was her only attendant. While Lieutenant Edward G. Winston acted as usher. The bride, who is a charming and accomplished young woman, and a recent student at the Florida State College for Women, was attired in a white embroidered net ensemble, with hat and accessories in white and carried an arm bouquet of brides' roses. The maid-of-honor wore a pink net ensemble with hat and accessories to match. Her flowers were an arm bouquet of pink roses. Mrs. Clark, mother of the bride, was handsomely gowned in pink, with a shoulder corsage of pink rose buds Mrs. Bache, the groom's mother, wore a white silk suit with a shoulder of white roses. The bride and groom left immediately after the ceremony spending a few days at Radium Springs before returning to Fort Benning.

MAJ. AND MRS. RIFE AND MAJ.

Maj. and Mrs. George J. Rife and Maj. and Mrs. Charles O. Grace were the joint hosts Sunday evening entertaining the members of the Medical Corps at dinner at the Officers' Club. The guests assembled for dinner at seven. After dinner the hosts escorted their guests to the Post movies.

AND MRS. GRACE JOINT HOSTS AT DINNER

Attending the dinner were: Col. and

CONVENIENT LOCATION—MODERN EQUIPMENT RATES REASONABLE

Phone your agent or call our Superintendent, Mr. Trussell, Phone 3062

DIMON COURT APARTMENTS

TODAY'S Popular Beverage -- In A Handy Six-Box!

Ice-cold bottled Coca-Cola is the world's most popular beverage for all occasions. A delicious treat for all the family. This handy 6box is an inexpensive way to keep supplied.

Six Treats To Take With You - - - On Your Party!

Take the Coca-Cola 6-box along for the picnic. It's the only drink that satisfies thirst completely. Every bottle is pure and uniform.

25c Per Carton

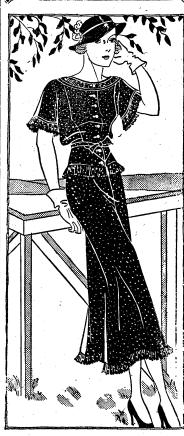

On Sale At Following Columbus Stores

Andrews' Market Andrews Market
Mrs. Ruth Andrews
Atlantic & Pacific Tea Stores
R. W. Blanton
W. W. Bryant
L. Booker J. H. Carter
Howell Cobb
Central Drug Store
R. T. Davis & Son
M. N. Daniel M. N. Daniel
East Highland Market
F. D. Giglio
C. S. Hardman
R. E. Hardman
Harper's Pharmacy
M. Z. Hendrix
Johnston Grocery Co.
King's Self Service Stores
Kennedy's Market
R. S. Land
Linwood Pharmacy
McCrory's McCrory's E. D. McCord & Co. A. E. Martin

North Highland Pharm.
Phenix City Pharmacy
O. E. Patrick
P & T Cash Store
J. L. Peacock
L. W. Rogers Stores
Rose Hill Pharmacy
Red Cross Pharmacy Red Cross Pharmacy
St. Elmo Grocery
H. C. Smith's 3 Drug Stores
Silver's
Sue's Service Stores Staley's Market
C. M. Taff
Woodruff Grocery Co. Woodruff Grocery Co.
Wynnton Grocery
O. L. Warren
East End Pharmacy
Howard Odom
T. J. Crawford
George Goins
Goodwin Grocery Co.
United Oil—1st Ave. Station
R. L. Bain R. L. Bain Carter's Home Service Store

Today's Fashion

Dainty frock of dotted swiss. By VERA WINSTON

Many of us are busy searching for those rare frocks that can be worn in town and in the country as well as for commuting or long trips. Cool little cotton frocks are excellent for such all-purpose dresses and the shops are therefore beginning to stock them in all sorts of designs and color schemes. Shown here is a useful but dainty little frock of dotted Swiss, white dots on a navy ground. It is buttoned down the basque-like front with white crocheted buttons. The neckband is pleated at the sleeves, peplum and hem. Mention of the peplum reminds me that many of the early autumn frocks will show the peplum again.

Mrs. J. DeCamp Hall, Maj. and Mrs. Raymond W. Pearson, Maj. and Mrs. John F. Corby, Maj. and Mrs. Henry E. Fraser, Maj. and Mrs. Albert C. Kinberger, Maj. and Mrs. Claude V. Gautier, Maj. and Mrs. James W. Duckworth, Capt. and Mrs. Max V. Talbot, Capt. and Mrs. Walter E. Chase, Capt. and Mrs. Huston J. Banton, Lieut. and Mrs. Wayne G. Branstadt, Lieut. and Mrs. William R. Mac-Kinnon, Lieut. and Mrs. Glenn B. Mc-Connell, Mrs. Howard and Miss Lillian J. Ryan.

MRS. LANHAM ENTERTAINS HER BRIDGE CLUB WITH LUNCH-

Mrs. Charles T. Lanham entertained the members of her bridge club Friday with a delightful luncheon followed by two tables of contract bridge. The guest list included Mrs. Francis G. Bonham, Mrs. Lynn E. Brady, Mrs. James E. Bowen, Mrs. Clayton G. Studebaker, Mrs. William C. Lucas, Mrs. Dwight W. Rosebaum and Miss Harriotte Atkins.

PERSONALS

Miss Louise Waddington with her mother Mrs. Selina Waddington, returned to Fort Benning Thursday. Miss Waddington recently graduated from Ashley Hall in Charleston, S. C.

Mrs. George P. Howell, with her two children, departed Wednesday for a month's visit with her parents at Fort Humphries, Virginia.

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

Fart Benning on Monday from attending her class reunion at Forsythe Uni-

Miss Eleanor Bonesteel departed Friday for West Point, New York, where she will attend the graduating exercises of the class of 1933. She plans to visit in New York and Washington before returning to Fort

Mrs. Walter P. O'Brien with her two children left Fort Benning on Saturday for a few months' visit with friends and relatives in Washington.

Mrs. Elliott Watkins departed from Fort Benning on Wednesday for a visit with relatives in Washington.

Lieut. and Mrs. James C. Fry left Friday for a visit with friends in New York.

Mrs. Walter C. Phillips with her two children left Fort Benning on Monday for Wheeling, West Virginia, where they will be the guests of relatives for the Summer.

Mrs. Andrew D. Chaffin accompanied by Mrs. Herbert A. Wadsworth departed last Saturday for New York and West Point.

Mrs. Guy L. Hartman returned to BUY NOW!

You will save by stocking up on things you need right now, for the whole country is on a buying wave, and prices have already begun to rise. Save by buying

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY AND 11TH ST. POLITE SERVICE

WE DON'T EXPECT YOU TO SEND YOUR CHILDREN TO BUY FOR YOU.

.... but if you should-you would discover that we will give you the same excellent service as always. And, during these summer months, you will find this service one that is more convenient . and helpful than ever before.

GROCERY DEPT. POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

R.O.T.C

This store is headquarters for . . .

Men's Wear

Linen Suits....$8.95

Odd Wash Trousers-$1.25, $1.50, $1.95

> Interwoven Sox 25c and 35c

Straw Hats $1.50

Shorts and Under-Shirts . . . 25c-35c-50c

We Invite You To Make This Store Your Headquarters While At Ft. Benning.

JNO. K. HARRIS COMPANY

1122 BROADWAY

To Be Held Here For This Summer

According to information just received from the War Department the summer range exercise season for troops at Fort Benning will be suspended this year, the reason being that the urgent demands for personnel for the duty required in connection with the Civilian Conservation Corps makes it impossibe for time to be allotted to rifle and other firing on the range.

This is the first time in the history of Fort Benning that the demonstration troops stationed there have not been able to include in their summer training schedule the rifle and other firing that is considered by army officials to be one of the most import-

HERALD WANT ADS

CLASSIFIED ADV. RATES: 20 cents per line or fraction of line. Minimum charge for any classified advertisement, 50 cents. Payment must be made before advertisement is pub-

1933 4-door Buick Sedan, perfect condition, for sale. Cash or part cash and terms. W. H. Dismuke. Phone 1173, 294 or 3214.

FOR SALE-1931 Ford Coach, Perfect condition. Real Bargain. Tel. 2996-J. or call by 1226 3rd. Avenue.

FOR SALE—Black Gelding suitable ladies mount or polo pony, Lt. Winn, Phone No. 3, Fort Benning.

FURNITURE OF QUALITY

H. ROTHSCHILD

Leading Furniture Dealer for 38 Years

1229 - 31 Broadway

Columbus, Ga.

HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

Range Season Not Capt. H. J. Liston Pvt. T. E. Smith Leaves Benning Dies Sunday At

Captain Howard J. Liston, instructor in the Academic Department of the Infantry School, who has been on duty at Fort Benning since October 4, 1928, left the post yesterday morning en route to New York, where he will board an army transport for the Hawaiian Department, his new station.

Captain Liston first came to Benning as a student in the company officers' course, class of 1922-23. Upthe company officers' course at the Signal School, 1923-24, but before deed as acting assistant adjutant, and cer of Fort Benning for his work as was on duty with the department of noncommissioned officer. military art as a mechanical draftsman, working on training charts for use in instruction pertaining to the automatic rifle.

In 1924, upon finishing his course of study at the Signal School he was again assigned to Benning, to the 29th Infantry but before arriving he received his commission as captain in the regular army. In September, 1924, he was transferred to the 24th Infantry and assigned on special duty with the Academic Department. After two years as an instructor, he attended the Command and General Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, and finishing his course, attended the University of Pennsylvania for one year, taking mechanical drafting. He returned to Benning as an instructor in October, 1928, and has been on duty with the School ever

Six Officers Of Same Class Here

Six officers, all of them members of the same graduating class, at the United States Military Academy, West Point, have been assembled at Fort Benning from the corners of the world, and detailed on special duty with the Civilian Conservation Corps while awaiting the opening of the company officers' course of the Infantry School for 1933-34.

The officers concerned, all of whom were commissioned as 2d lieutenants on June 9, 1928, are Lieutenants Edwin M. Cummings, who arrives from the Hawaiian Department; James W. Lockett, Paul J. Mitchell, Martin Moses, and Ralph T. Nelson, who also have been on foreign service in the Hawaiian Department; and Richard Wetherill, jr., who was stationed with the 65th Infantry in Puerto Rico.

ant phases of the annual training program, to be followed in order to keep the officers and enlisted personnel qualified for efficient field and combat service.

The 29th Infantry has a normal complement of 78 officers, and this is the minimum considered necessary by War Department officials for the proper functioning of the regiment in carrying out its numerous duties of demonstrations for the Infantry School, routine training, and range firing. During the summers, it has been customary in the past for Headquarters the Infantry School to increase this allottment temporarily to over_100 by attaching to their regiment officers who report at Benning from overseas stations a few months ahead of the fall term of school. The reason for this action was stated at Headquarters to be that the additional duties incident to the summer training program made the increased number of officers necessary.

HALF SOLES A GOOD A BETTER 50c · Half 75c Half , Sole Sole

LAMAC SOLE $1.00 The Only 5-Unit Machine In Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY We specialize in cripple work 1234 Broadway

Station Hospital

Private 1st Class Thomas E. Smith, Battery A, 83rd Field Artillery, died at the station hospital, Fort Benning, Sunday afternoonat 3:15 P. M. from an attack of pneumonia. At the time of his death Private Smith had only a few days to go before he would have completed twelve years honoron his graduation he was assigned to able service in the army, during which time he held a record for being an excellent soldier, and merited parting from the local post, he serv. the pproval of the commanding offi-

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital 1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

GEORGIA

A Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

PERFECT BREAD

... perfect in flavor, perfect in size, perfect in price-Collins' Bread effectively combines every attribute of every other kind.

O L L I N BAKING COMPANY 13TH

Vacation Clothes for BOYS

Vacation clothes for the growing boy must be able to resist hard wear. Kirven's boys' clothes are made to stand the gaff of vacation play. Boys' Clothes must be cool and comfortable. Kirven's boys' clothes are that. And boys' clothes must look nice enough to make the best prom. Kirven's boys' clothes are ready for the 59c Covert Shorts . . .

In the darker shades for play wear.

Khaki Shorts 79c

Ideal for camp. Complete with Khaki belt.

Linen Camp Suits

Complete with sport shirt, shorts and linen belt.

59c Wash Shorts

White and tan grounds with stripes. Sanforized.

Blouses-Shirts

White, blue, and tan.

$1.00 2-pc. Underwear 4 pieces

Just like Dad's. Athletic shirts and shorts.

79c Shorts-Knickers

A general assortment of stripes and colors reduced from $1.00.

$1.00 Wash Pants

Sanforized cotton pants in novelty stripes

$1.49 Wash Dress Pants

Sanforized. Look like flannel but are much more practical.

$1.00 Linen Shorts .

Fine quality linen in solid white.

Boys' Department

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Phone 556

Columbus, Georgia

VOLUME III.	JUNE 9, 1933	NUMBER 7
L. C. Kunze		Publisher
A. F. Kunze		Editor
D. P. HARDING		Sports Editor
Louis T. Kunze		Circulation Manager
A descentation in the con-	ill be seened	// D : 11 11

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE
FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,
BALTIMORE

WELFARE COUNCII

(Continued from page 1)

Mrs. Fred E. Gaillard, who used her car so frequently to take little children to the hospital for treatment, and to deliver Christmas and Thanksgiving baskets has gone to San Antonio.

Mrs. Thomas W. Brown, chairman of the Transportation Committee left last week for Panama. It was while Mrs. Brown was president of the Daughters of the Army that she suggested an annual rummage sale, the proceeds to be used for the charities sponsored by the Welfare Council. The first sale brought the Council $40 and the rummage sale last year $132. There will be another rummage sale given under the direction of Mrs. John Huling, president of the Army Daughters in the early Fall. It is hoped that everybody in the community will start putting aside all kinds of articles to be contributed for the sale. This serves a double purpose in enabling worthy people to purchase things they need at low prices and theincome from the rummage sale supplies needs for many indi gent families.

Mrs. Frances J. Heraty and Mrs. Arnold Ring, representatives of the Student Officers' families leave soon, Mrs. Heraty for Washington and Mrs. Ring for San Antonio. Both have collected many useful garments from the army families living in Columbus.

Mrs. Sereno Brett, the dietitian of the Council, who goes to Washington this summer has supplied the right kind of food for numerous undernourished children and given helpfulinstruction to mothers.

The Council is fortunate in having among the new members several trained workers. Mrs. William E. Persons, chairman of the Twenty-ninth Infantry Committee worked for four years as a volunteer with skilled Social Service workers in Tuscaloosa, Alabama. With the large enlisted personnel, the Twenty-ninth Infantry Committee receives more calls than any other committee connected with the Council.

Mrs. Eugene W. Lewis, member of the Quartermaster Committee, before her marriage to Captain Lewis, served for twelve years as head of the Public Health Nursing Association in San Antonio.

Mrs. Wayne G. Brandstadt, wife of Lieutenant Brandstadt, and Miss Ryan, head nurse at the Post Hospital, members of the Medical Department Committee are both trained Social Service workers.

Not a cent of overhead expense is necessary in expending the Welfare Council funds. All of the women on the various committees use their own cars to visit and to deliver food or clothing or other necessities.

During the past year several individuals and organizations have rendered service which has helped to make the Community Chest fund go fur-

Mr. Frank A. Cashel, Red Cross Field Director contributed to the Welfare Council quantities of flour and clothing. Surplus cakes, pies and rolls have been donated by the Post Bakery. A permit from Colonel J. DeCamp Hall to obtain wood for indigent families from specified areas on the Post eliminated coal bills. A large reduction made by Colonel Charles F. Morse in hospital fees for families of enlisted men was very helpful. Mrs. Anderson shares her rooms in the Post Exchange building with the Welfare Council and without recompense cares for the clothing and other articles left there. By the way, 380 garments were donated and distributed during the past quar-

The use of the Welfare rooms has been offered to the Parent-Teacher Association to store toys. The P.-T. A. will render the same service that proved so valuable last year in seeing that there are no empty stockings among the military contingent at Christmas time. After the toys are collected under the direction of Mrs. Geoffrey Marshall the Post Firemen will renovate them and they will be distributed by the Welfare Council Transportation Committee.

Magazines, card tables, puzzles and decks of cards for the Conservation Camp, articles of every description for the Army Daughters' rummage sale and books for the convalescents at the Post Hospital may also be left at the Welfare rooms.

It is not surprising that not a single resignation was presented by any of the officers or committees at the final yearly meeting. All who are giving their time to the vital work connected with the Welfare Council realize that it is in every way worth while and are glad to carry on for another year. Very few realize how much is being accomplished by the women who are serving on the various committees, for few reports of aid extended to worthy cases are ever published. Frequently efforts are made to spare the pride as well as the heart.

While it is deemed best to work as a council with definite duties for every member, the entire Post is urged to cooperate. The following vomen have agreed to receive contributions on clothing, flowers, toys, eards, books, or canned good from members of the organizations they represent. Mrs. Phillip S. Wood, Woman's Mrs. Frank A. Heileman, Club, Mrs. Roger Harrison, Mrs. Geoffrey Marshall, Parent-Teacher Association, Mrs. Henry J. Matchett, Girl Scouts, Mrs. Norman D. Cota, Boy Scouts, Mrs. Willis T. Howard, Chapel Guild, Mrs. Seltzer, Service Club, Mrs. Frank Cashel, Red Cross, Mrs. John Huling, Daughters of the

The officers and committees appointed for the ensuing year are: Mrs. Elbert J. Lyman, president; Mrs. Thomas B. Catron, first vice president; Mrs. Jesse A. Ladd, second vice president; Mrs. Edward C. Betts, secretary; Mrs. Joseph A. Holly, treasurer.

Advisory Committee: Mrs. Charles W. Weeks, Mrs. Ephraim G. Peyton, Mrs. George F. Baltzell.

Twenty-ninth Infantry: Mrs. William E. Persons, Mrs. Andrew D. Chaffin, Mrs. John J. Albright, Mrs. Earl A. Johnson, Mrs. Norris A. Wimberly, Mrs. John W. Brown.

Twenty-fourth Infantry: Mrs. Fred L. Munson, Mrs. Roger B. Harrison, Mrs. Marcel A. Gillis.

Medical Department: Mrs. Lucius K. Patterson, Mrs. Stanley W. Matthews, Mrs. Wayne G. Branstadt.

Nurses: Miss Ryan, Miss Nora Freeman, Miss Julia Lincoln.

an, Miss Julia Lincoln.

83rd Field Artillery: Mrs. Clyde Huston Banton.

Interesting Books

ACADEMIC LIBRARY

"The Discovery of Europe"—Paul Cohen-Portheim.

E. P. Dutton, Inc., 1932

No book could be more timely after Selde's "The Years of the Locust" (reviewed a short while ago) than "The Discovery of Europe." The first was a masterly discussion of the American economic crisis; the second is a survey of all the similar European crises. The first gave facts, but no panacea, no attempted solution for America. The second presents plans and premises and hopes for Europe.

"The Discovery of Europe" is a keen and intense and exciting sort of thing, written by a man who knows most of Europe well, loves it all, and would defend it against itself in these dangerous days when America to the west and Russia to the east rise menacingly with their machine civilization which, by their wicked—and successful—examples, threaten the very foundation of European individualism and humanism at a time when all of Europe is undecided where to turn.

The author's major premise is that Europe if it is to live must discover Europe. Only from itself can come any hope for its future. America and Russia are now collosal imitators of a civilization first begun in Europe during the industrial age. That era ended disastrously with the World War. No good can come to her if she follows either the Russian or American model, fashioned as they are upon an earlier unsuccessful one of her own.

Cohen-Portheim's survey and analysis of the national traits and characteristics of the European countries, especially Germany, have, and England is brilliant. He has at his command not only knowledge of the history of these peoples but also personal and intimate contacts with a wide range of individuals and classes.

The first two parts of the book with their summaries of civilizations and definitions of problems are important reading. The author is interested not at all in mass production but in every individual worker. He decries size and quantity and numbers, standardization and nationalization. He wants tolerance and compromise among the classes so that some day there can be peace and leisure, education and enjoyment for all human beings.

The last part of his book is a picture of glamorous Europe—Vienna and Berlin and Paris; the blue Danube and the mad Hapsburgs, the biergarten and the old free city patriciate; Sarah Bernhardt and Eleanor Duse; Stockholm and Copenhagen; tulips and hyacinths: "Hedda gather" and "The Joy of Living"—all names and words that mean Europe—legend and romance and color and beauty.

Paul Cohen-Portheim was born an Austrian. "With the help of French maids, an English governess and a polyglot school at Geneva he became a cosmopolitan." He studied painting, but since the war he is better known as a writer. His work has clarity and vigor.

A. Selleck, Mrs. Clayton H. Studebaker.

Special Units: Mrs. Frank F. Jewett, Mrs. John Huling, Mrs. Clough H. Gee.

Tank Regiment: Mrs. John Stutesman, Mrs. Gustin M. Nelson, Mrs. Donald F. Beeler.

Quartermaster: Mrs. J. DeCamp

Hall, Mrs. Eugene W. Lewis,
Veterinary Corps: Mrs. Burton Seeley.

Infantry School Detachment: Mrs.

Thomas B. Catron.
Air Corps: Mrs. Lloyd Barnett.
Employment: Mrs. Maurice D. Welty. Clothing: Mrs. Robert T. Foster, Mrs. George O. Clark.

Supply: Mrs. James B. Woolnough, Mrs. William B. Wallace, Mrs. Thomas W. Hammond, Mrs. Vernon Evans, Mrs. Henry Terrell, Mrs. Lloyd Cook, Mrs. Hammond McD. Monroe.

Transportation: Mrs. Reginald H. Kelley, Mrs. Oscar W. Griswold, Mrs. Herbert A. Wadsworth, Mrs. Norman D. Cota, Mrs. Geoffrey Marshall, Mrs. Huston Banton.

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

—John Wolcot

CONDUCTED BY E. F. H.

OPEN FORUM

The Flare is seriously considering establishing a sort of local Hyde Parl where the widows of officers on C. C. C. duty can mount a soap box to give voice to their protests.

The men, like the dumb driven cattle that they are, take their C. C. C assignments philosophically and we hear surprisingly little complaint out of them. Indeed, some are taking it so calmly as to foster the suspicion that they are rather looking forward as to a vacation of six months, more or less in the peace and quiet of the forest primeval. The women, however, regard the ordering of their husbands on C. C. C. duty as a ruthless plot on the part of the Administration to break up the great American home. They fee deeply on the subject and they need facilities for blowing off steam.

Russ Pool has been suggested as a good place for the proposed forum but we are fearful that the outburst of crimson oratory would have a demor alizing effect on the life guards. Also, it might be embarrassing to the few otherwise estimable officers who have not been drafted for C. C. jobs and who enjoy the invigorating effect of a swim after the heat of the day. For there is nothing which inflames the mind of a C. C. C. widow like the sight of an officer who hasn't been "caught". It is getting to be positively dangerous for a coffee cooler to appear in public. We shouldn't be surprised to hear any day that Deacon Emil Leard, Secretary Emeritus to the Assistant Commandant, had been tarred and feathered by a female mob. As for Gadgeteer Malin Craig, we confidently expect to see him torn limb from limb if he doesn't get some kind of a C. C. C. job pretty soon. For a bachelor 1st Lieutenant with no dependents not to be sent to Point Barrow, Alaska, when husbands and fathers are being sent to such distant and desolate places as Albany, Georgia and Panama City, Florida, is more than any true Army wife and mother can endure.

For the foregoing reasons, Russ Pool and other recreational facilities of the Post are objectionable as locations for our forum. On the other hand, the proposal to mount the soap box on one of the water tanks on Ebert Hill seems unduly conservative. Everything considered we believe that Doughboy Stadium would be the most suitable place. It is dignified—even imposing—and nobody much ever goes there. Only those with a definite desire to listen to the fair protagonists of Red Revolution would come under the spell of their oratory. As for the dear girls, they could sound off to their hearts' content without disturbing the mental processes of the slowwitted oafs who regard the current exigencies of the service as all in a day's work.

MARS GROWS RETICENT

A recent radio from Fourth Corps Area Headquarters has allocated 400 World War veterans to the local C. C. C. camp. These men will be organized into two companies and the authorities are now looking about for officers with overseas service to command them.

The Flare in an interview with Major Lytle, big C. C. C. Camp Executive, extracted the following statement:

"Since it became known that only officers with overseas service would be assigned o the veterans' companies, there has certainly been a lot of soft pedaling on war records. It has been some time since I heard that old familiar expression, 'Now, when I was in France.' As for campaign ribbons and decorations, they simply aren't being worn. We've had scouts out to take down in Belleau Wood and the Moose-Argonne, but so far they haven't caught anybody. I never saw such a shy and retiring bunch of battle-scarred heroes.

"What likely majors have you to command the companies?" we asked.

"I can mention several," replied the C. C. C. Executive knowingly. "There's Courtney Hodges, for instance, with one of the finest war records in the army, and Jimmy Brett and Allen Kingman. Brett rode tanks all over France and Kingman wears more gold service stripes than Pershing. Then we have Majors Foos, Howe, and Cole, all of whom belong to combat divisions with fighting records."

"What about the Lieutenant Colonels?" we asked.
"Too much rank," replied Major

"Too much rank," replied Major Lytle.

"I've heard that Colonel Jenkins wrote back that he is to be second in command of the last company to leave Camp Knox," we remarked.

Camp Knox," we remarked.

"Don't believe it," answered Major Lytle. "The part about getting assigned to the last company to leave for parts unknown sounds all right but Colonel Jenkins wouldn't get him self tied up with a job that might necessitate his attending to small de tails personally. He's too big a shot for that."

"Is there anything in the rumor that officers who have served in China are eligible for this important duty?' we asked hopefully.

"Not a chance, not a chance," re plied the Major, with an air of final ity which indicated that the interview was over.

AQUATIC SPORTS DEPARTMENT In our issue of two weeks ago we commented on the fact that this year's swimming enthusiasts were furnish swimming enthusiasts were furnishing scant copy for this column. We are glad to be able to report that things are picking up.

Mrs. F. H. Lanahan, wife of the celebrated actor, Duke Lanahan, broke the ice by wandering into the men's shower. The dean of the life guards, observing the unlawful entry, made a noble effort to stop it with frantic cries of "lady—lady," but Mrs. Lanahan either did not hear the warning or had made up her mind to go through with it. The Flare never presumes to inquire into the motives of the women who furnish us with items of this sort. It merely reports the facts.

Mrs. Lanahan, as becomes a young matron who doubtless clings to a few old fashioned ideals, came out precipitously and in a proper state of confusion.

Not so Miss Maxine Rife and Miss Ann Ryan who conducted a joint investigation of the men's bath last Sunday morning. These thoroughly modern young ladies walked out as casually as they walked in. To them the fleeting glimpse of a man under a shower was merely an indication that they had taken the wrong door—not an occasion for painful embarrass ment.

(Please turn to page 5)

WELCOME

Reserve Officers and

R. O. T. C's.

Glad To Have You With Us

We have—

Military Supplies

Hats

Shorts

Underwear

Hosiery

Also everything you may need to wear while at Fort Benning.

> Post Exchange Clothing Dept.

Jimmie King, Manager

When in Columbus, make

CHANCELLOR COMPANY

Men's and Boys' Wear

Your Headquarters

THE FLARE (Continued from page 4)

As in former years, the boys are way behind in this unique contest. To date Buck Persons is the only one who has ventured into the ladies' side of the bath house. There are no startling circumstances connected with his adventure. Like Miss Rife and Miss Ryan, he just sauntered in and sauntered out. You can't faze this younger generation.

A VOICE CRYING IN THE WILDERNESS

Mine Host Dowdall is in receipt of a letter from Lightning Calculator Lawson who writes from Meadville, Mississippi (about 30 miles east of that there are "no paved roads any-where near." Presumably he would like to burn up a few getting places.

While the Lightning Calculator does not say it, in so many words, it is quite evident that he misses the society of the local Playboys upon whose goings and comings was he wont to keep such close tab. He speaks in a most complimentary manner of Mine Host Dowdall's success-

NATURAL FLAVORS

One of the principal reasons why Foremost Ice Cream is so delicious is that it is made with natural fruit flavors, the finest that money can buy. And, in addition, these make it healthful and attractive.

Call the

SODA FOUNT

FOREMOST DAIRIES INC.

ful efforts to make the Officers Club "a better place-especially for bache-Perhaps he refers to the soda lors." fountain which is quite the popular hangout for debs and sub-debs. That he had something like that in mind is indicated by the postscript which rather gives the keynote to the whole communication. "Give my love to all my F. B. girls," it reads, and Mine Host has wisely chosen The Flare as the best means to get the word a-

For a man of Capt. Lawson's gregarious instincts, life at Meadville, Mississippi, must be dull but if there is a railroad running through the town he need not be at a loss as to how to put in his spare time. He can Natchez). In it he bewails the fact take post near the tracks and memorize the numbers of the freight cars Presumably he would as they pass. After one or two demonstrations of his unique ability in this line the yokelry will present him with the keys to the city. After that Captain Lawson will no longer be lonesome-not even in Meadville.

CHANGE OF STATUS

Mine Host Dowdall has also reeeived a letter from Captain Monte Blue. Readers of The Flare will recall that Captain Blue left the post a few weeks back on "temporary duty" with the C. C. C.

Writing from a forest work camp near Provencal, Louisiana, the erstwhile poloist says in part:

"You may as well take me off the list of active members of the Officers' Club, as indications are that I will be away indefinitely."

J. W. Blue. (Signed)

MILESTONE

On Tuesday of the current week, a distinguished foursome composed of Colonel Munson, Post Commander, Colonel Fabius Maximus Kelley, Director of the Department of Exepriment, Colonel Franklin Belasco Rice. President of the Dramatic Club, and Colonel Hartwell Bonesteel, new chief of the Technical Third Section, enjoyed an afternoon on the golf course.

To the casual observer it was just a quartet of brass hats out for a few hours of agreeable exercise, but actually it was a birthday party in honor of Colonel Munson. And just to prove that 62 years is nothing to a man with young ideas, the Colonel took the three comparative minors for a cleaning with a score of 86.

The Flare speaks for the entire command in wishing our popular K. O. many happy returns of the day. We hope he reverses the figures by making a 62 when he is 86.

WANTED—A SPECIALIST

At a recent conference of the best field officer and medical minds of the C. C. C. camp, the army specifications for latrines were exhaustively discussed. Various remedies for the serious defects in the type now installed were considered. The most pertinent suggestion came from Major Lytle who moved that Chic Sale be called into consultation before undertaknig any extensive remodeling.

PAGE ST. PATRICK

From Reforestation Work Camp Nathan B. Forrest, near Addison, Alabama, comes the word that Captain Howdy Clarke's company killed 26 rattlesnakes on the first day after its arrival.

On the second morning a large wild turkey gobbler paraded serenely down the company street.

We shall be glad to print anything we hear concerning the wild life which Benning's home town boys encounter in their wanderings among the national forests. We can always be trusted to use discretion as rerards what to tell. Had Captain Clarke's turkey gobbler been a purple dinosaur, for instance, we should have omitted all reference to it and o the 26 rattlers as well.

CITATION FOR THE WEEK

On The Flare's private Roll of Honor we inscribe this week a familiar name. To the best of our knowledge, not belief, the owner thereof is the first prominent citizen to make this department twice.

To that indefatigable promoter of worthwhile enterprises, Adjutant General Lewis, for securing for Benning and carrying through under adverse conditions the Cotton States Tourna-

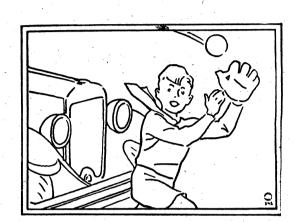

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

WOULD YOUR BRAKES HOLD?

INASPOTLIKETHIS

If they wouldn't, then you'd better have them inspected immediately. A thorough inspection at regular intervals is good for ANY car. And-be sure to use only the best of oils and greases.

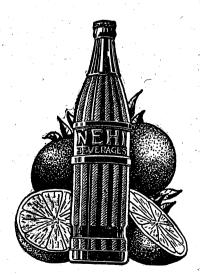

AUTO DEPT.

POSTEXCHANGE

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell o Anyone Not In The Military Service.

Club--home FOUNTAIN or HIGHWAY

No matter where you are at home with thirst consuming you; at the club with good mixers; down town at the refreshment hour; motoring abroad on the highways, no better recipe for thirstquenching and immediate invigoration can be written than NEHI True Fruit Orange Beverage. From fresh, with sparkling clear carbonated water-it is as healthful (for children too!) as it is exhilarating and delicious. And what's more, a nickel is all it costs.

NEHIORANGE

A True Fruit Beverage

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Corn Griffin Holds Belanger To Draw

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

roic figure, who for years has stood out in the field of sports as a symbol for honest, fairness, and courage, is lost to the athletic world.

Muldoon began his checkered career as a wrestler. Big, brawny, and powerful, he soon made a name for himself in this branch of athletics. Shortly afterwards he won the championship and began his famous tours of the country, meeting the local heroes and tossing them as fast as they came to him.

He once wrestled for eight hours with Clarence Whistler, of wrestling fame. In the course of the bout, the lights were turned off in the hall in order that the spectators and wrestlers themselves might be dispersed. But the great battle continued in total Muldoon has always been a great believer in physical culture, regular exercise, and the proper training of mind and muscle. Out of this grew his "health farm" idea, patronized by men in every walk of life. Decrepit athletes and tired business men alike this insidious vice. cheerfully put themselves under the control of Muldoon, and were never to regret it.

John L. Sullivan was scheduled to was tough and hard to beat; but John L., with his customary indifference, refused to go into training for the bout. His friends and backers knew that there was only one man in the uncertain terms. He was not going groaned and consented to obey his lage barroom and was gazing on wine ed John L. by the collar and made distance away. Here Muldoon stripp- ed in a world's series.

William Muldoon is dead. The heled down to the waist and requested Sullivan to do the same. Sullivan complied and the two went at it hammer and tongs. Muldoon picked Sullivan up and heaved him down on the floor of the barn; he then proceeded to bump the champion's head severely. Sullivan would play bad boy, would he?

> Needless to say, Sullivan won his battle with Kilrain. At the end of 75 bitterly-fought rounds, the Boston Strong Boy was still erect while Kilrain was buckling at the knees. At this point, Kilrain's seconds merci-

> Yet for all his feats as wrestler and the fame derived therefrom, it was as a fighter who battled stubbornly on behalf of that he thought was right. that he gained most of his renown. Muldoon stood for all that was clean and honest and uprght in both wrestling and boxing . e never tolerated dishonesty and his whole life was dedicated to the fight to stamp out

> Muldoon is in truth the last of the old guard—the grand old man of ath-

Fans fortunate enought to be on hand when even one world's record fight Kilrain for the title. Kilrain is established, forever afterwards, consider themselves lucky. But to the spectators at the fifth world's series game played at Cleveland between the Indians and Dodgers on Oct. 10, 1920, was given the opportunity of witnesscountry who could get anything out of Sullivan, so they hired Billy Mulstood the test of time. In the first doon to train the Boston Strong Boy, inning, Cleveland filled the bases and Muldoon laid down the law in non then Elmer Smith, Indian centerfielder, cleared them with a homer over to stand for foolishness. Sullivan the fence, the only time this feat was ever performed in a world's series game. In a later inning, with Dodger runners on first and second, the batter One day, Sullivan succumbing to lined fiercely to Wambsgans, Clevetemptation, sneaked down to the vil- land second baseman. Wamby stepped on second, doubling off that runthat was not only red but sparkling ner who had started to third and then and white, when Muldoon dropped turned to see the man from first tearin looking for his protege. He grabb- ing for second head down, Wamby touched him for the third out of the him accompany him to a barn a short only unassisted triple play ever pull-

Quick Energy fron

Tom's Toasted Peanuts

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded for the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

Night One Of Very Best Seen At Post

John "Corn" Griffin climbed another rung up the ladder to the light heavyweight championship of the world by holding Charlie Belanger, Canadian champion, to a draw in the greatest fight that this writer has ever seen at the Post. Belanger came in the ring first; Griffin climbed through the ropes a minute later. Major Patterson called the two boxers to the center of the ring and gave them their last minute instructions.

First Round: Corn and Belanger came out slowly. Belanger weaved, ducked and bobbed with Griffin's punches as the two warmed up. Grif-fin landed a right in Belanger's ribs. Charlie retaliated by hooking his left to Corn's jaw and the two milled about in the center of the ring.

Second Round: Griffin came out fast and snapped Belanger's head back with a left jab. Belanger nailed Griffin with two left hooks in a row. In a flurry of infighting Corn connected with a right and left to the stomach. Belanger hooked his left twice at Griffin's head. Both fighters were punishing each other severely.

Third Round: As Griffin danced out from the corner the Canadian flicked his left to the face. Corn nailed Belanger with a left to the midsection and a right to the head. Belanger rushed Griffin against the ropes with a long left followed by a right. Belanger came in close and mauled Griffin. Griffin was in trouble at the Fourth Round: Both fighters traded left jabs. The Canadian's flashing left reopened the old cut over Griffin's left eye. Belanger catapulted Corn against the ropes with a barrage of punches. Griffin was absorbing plenty of punishment at this time. Corn fought back courageously, however, and was fighting his opponent on even terms when the round ended.

Fifth Round: Griffin jabbed with a right and landed a left that could have been heard all over the stadium. Bclanger was short with two lefts. Griffin scored frequently with left jabs during this round.

Sixth Round: Griffin came out for the sixth, began working on his opponent's body. Belanger hurt Grif-fin with a left hook that reopened the cut over Corn's left eye which was now bleadin profusely. Belanger was having the better of the infighting at this point.

Seventh Round: Instead of hitting with his left, the Canadian was now using that weapon to chop Corn's face to pieces. Belanger landed three hard rights to Corn's head on the ropes. Corn retaliated ferociously and the two traded blows in the center of the ring. Belanger connected with two rights and a left. These blows obviously hurt Corn and Belanger followed up his advantage with Benning lightheavyweight sprawling into the ropes. After absorbing considerable punishment, Griffin proceeded to give Belanger back some of his own medicine. By the end of this round, Griffin's left eye looked in bad condition.

Eighth Round: Belanger continued to work on Corn's injured eye. He nailed Griffin with a hard right, but Corn countered with a left to the bread basket. or the remainder of the round Corn beat a tattoo on Belanger's face and body.

Ninth Round: In this round both fighters satisfied themselves with merely standing off at long range and shooting punches at each other from every angle.

Tenth Round: This round was a (Please turn to page 7)

Main Go Thursday Cotton Batton Easily Outpoints Rov Dunn In Fast Semi-Final Go

The preliminaries on Thursday pounded out a decision over Felix night's fight card were almost as wild and wooly as the main bout, itself. but when Ferraux connected with a In the semi-final bout Cotton Batton on the 24th Infantry employed all the cleverness in ring lore at his com-mand to defeat Roy Dunn, hard punching Negro, decisively on points Cotton's lightning left jab, like the cut of a sharp knife, stood him in good stead. It seldom failed to find a target. By the time the sledgehammer blows reached their destination, if they reached their destination at all, they had lost a lot of their sting and force.

Batten had clear margin on points in almost every round. He richly deserved the verdict which was given in his favor.

In the main six rounder Chick Liddell won a decision from Billy Wilson of Atlnta. The soldier's cleverness was his main element in his victory. Wilson possessed a finelydeveloped weaving attack which at first mystified his opponent. Billy missed frequently in the course of the bout as Liddell moved away from his punches. In the third round Chick nailed Billy with a right that had Billy hanging on the ropes. Wilson survived the storm and returned for the fourth round almost as fresh as when he started. In the last two rounds Chick's left jab was finding its mark often.

In the other six round bout on the evening's program Sandy Huff and Seaweed Wilson fouht to a draw. The fans saw plenty of action in this bout. Leather flew in all directions and both fighters absorbed lots of pnishment.

In a four round bout Ghost Ghastly punch to Ghastly's nose a state of war existed between the two. By the end of the fight however, Ghastly's opponent was just about out on his feet and had the Ghost followed up his advantage he might have won by a knockout.

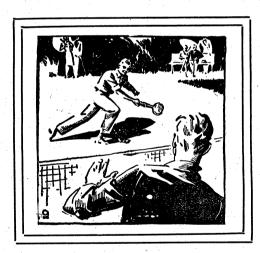

The curtain raised between Taylor and Vaughn was full af activity from (Please turn to page 7)

Howard Bus Line. Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

	CLIED	11111
Fro		From
Colun	ıbus	Ft. Benning
5:00		6:00 AM
6:00	66	7:50 "
7:00	44	9:15 "
8:30	"	10:45 "
10:00	"	12:45 PM
11:45	"	2:15 "
1:30	PM	4:15 "
3:00	"	5:10 "
5:00	"	6:00 "
7:00	"	7:00 "
9:00	•	8:00 "
10:30	44	9:45 "
12:00	M	11:15 "
		12:00 M
	Also "Extra SCHOOL I	" and BUSES
410	PHONE
740	LILOINE

YOU'VE PROBABLY SEEN A LOT OF GOOD TENNIS LATELY

... at the Cotton States Tournament. But remember, that tennis is being played by men and women who KNOW their game, and who KNOW that it takes good equipment to make an expert at any game. That's the kind we have at the Main Branch. Phone 608.

POSTEXCHANGE

FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

Cotton States Tournament Shows Fine Playing Progress Toward Finals; Favorits Remain In Play

With the Cotton States Tennis Tour- went into a 4-2 lead in the first set. games and the set. Brilliant play by nament now moving into the quarter-final round, all seeded players still remain in competition. Bryan field into the third round by registering victory over Jupdge Beavers 6-1,6-1. The diminutive star had previously turned back Willis of North Carolina in straight sets 8.6 6.0.

Grant was scheduled to play Galloway in the first round but the latter failed to appear and the match was defaulted. Willis was the national star's next opponent and offered much more opposition than expected, as he

Wash Shantung Suits $4.95

White and Black, White and Tan Cords, Striped Trousers. Light Summer Wear. (Values to $3.00)

$1.95

STRAW HATS PANAMAS, ETC. 95c to $1.95

All Colors of Shirts, Kingston Broadcloth, 7-Button Front. ($1.50 Value)

95c

Shorts and Slip-Over Shirts

CLOTHING CO. 1203 BROADWAY

With the score 5-3 against him, Grant tightened and began playing the tennis that has made him one of the na-Grant of Atlanta, number thirteen tion's foremost players. Willis went aranking player in the country, led the head at 6.5, but Grant knotted the count, then went on to win the next two games and the set. The set was a walkaway for Grant as his sharply angled placements and fine net play began to draw results.

Three Fort Benning players were entered in the tournament. Davis Harding lost to Jimmy Haverstadt in the first round by score of 6-0, 6-1. Haverstadt was runner-up in the Coton States last year. Sherburne won his first round match by default, but lost to Dozier Howard 7-5, 5-7, 6-4 in an upset. Captain Drake, post champion, was slated to play Campbell in he opening round, but Campbell defaulted the match by not making an appearance. Drake then defeated doubles. Williamson, man mountain of southern tennis, weighing 305 pounds, 6-2, Kamrath, however, number 23 ranking player in the United States, proceeded to trounce Captain Drake 6-1, 6-3. Drake put up a fine battle and carried the favorite to deuce in almost every game of the last set.

Haverstadt defeated Crawford of Georgia Tech in a second round match 6-3, 6-3, but lost to Buxby 6-3, 6-4. Buxby, another member of the undefeated University of Texas tennis team, is favored to face Grant in the semi-finals. The score of the Haverstadt-Buxby match is not indicative of the actual closeness of the contest.

Jack Simpson of Atlanta, another seeded player, won his first three matches easily. First to fall before racquet was Challis of Texas, who lost by scores of 6-1, 6-4. Swift of Columbus was defeated by the hard-driving Atlantan 6-2, 6-2, and Taylor provided no opposition whatsoever and lost two love sets in quick order. Jack Mooney, perennial winner of the tournament up until two years ago, demonstrated that he is still to a factor to be considered by wading through three opponents with only the loss of five games. Ray White lost to Mooney 6-2, 6-0, Brown was defeated 6-1, 6-1, and Gerst was able to get only one game in the course of two sets from the veteran of southern

Billy Reese, 1932 winner of the Cotton States tennis tournament, drew a bye in his opening round but met a Tartar in Williams of Texas in the second round. Williams forced Reese to apply all sorts of pressure before the Atlantan was able to run off the match. Both sets went to deuce. The Texan, employing a wicked chop, disconcerted the defending shampion, who was forced into error many times. Reese won the first set at 7-5, and started off in the second set as if he was going to make quick work of his opponent. With the score 5-1, Williams tightened up and won the next five games in a row to go into the lead. At this point, Reese steadied himself and took the next three

SOLDIERS:

When You Want Good Service In Town You Are Invited To Visit

OUR CAFE We Serve The Best Of

Foods—Give The Best Of Attention—And Are Your Best Of Friends PHONE 9433 No. 7 - 10th Street

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

both participants drew rounds of applause from the gallery.

Calhoun of Columbus lost to Reese 6-0, 6-0. J. G. Biggers was beaten by Cohn, also of Columbus 6-3, 7-5. Cohn in his turn, was subdued by Judge Beavers. Crawford defeated Henry Dozier 6-2, 6-1.

Weltens of Texas won his first round match from Wheeler 6-3, 6-3 and his second from Pierre Howard 2-6, 6-2, 6-2. He lost, however, to Wilmer Hines of North Carolina 6-3. 6-2. Hines had previously defeated Colmernares of Texas, after Colmernares has succeeded in winning the first set from his seeded opponent.

Quarter-finals in men's singles will take place Friday, semi-finals Saturday, and the finals, Sunday. In the meantime, progress will be made in the men's doubles, in the women's singles and doubles, and in the mixed

Beaver and Hines, Grant and Mooney, Kamrath and Williams, and Buxby and Weltens, are favored in the men's doubles.

Brilliant tennis has been displayed in the opening rounds. The abundance of fine players, the keenness of the competition, and other factors, are contributing to make this Cotton States tournament one of the finest. if not actually the finest, ever held in the history of the tournament.

CORN GRIFFIN-CHARLIE BEL ANGER FIGHT TO DRAW

(Continued From Page 6) fitting climax to the splendid battle. Both Griffin and Belanger really went to war in this stanza. The two stood toe to toe and slugged it out to the great joy of the fans who went wild when Griffin rallied and almost tore Belanger's head off his shoulders with two riht hooks. When the final gong sounded both battlers were still trading blows.

The Griffin-Belanger bout will go down in Fort Benning ring history as perhaps the greatest fight ever to have been staged at the Post. It was a fight between two clever, fast, hard punching, light heavies who at no time were disinclined to mix it.

COTTON BATTON EASILY DEFEATS ROY DUNN (Continued From Page 6)

start to finish. The two contestants in this bout wasted no undue affec tion on each other and the blows that they were landing certainly could not be labelled as love pats. Taylor won the decision.

VETERANS TO SEE ACTION AS MEMBERS OF C. C. C.

(Continued From Page 1) morale of the men, lost during their struggle of the last few years.

Arms that took the shots during the training days of 1917-18 will again feel the prick of the inoculation needle: feet that hiked the roads of the South on practice marches will once more wiggle in the roomy comfort of the army "dog-kennel"; and champion "spud-peelers" of the A. E. F. will again demonstrate their skill in preparing the potato for that important formation—the "chow-line"

The veterans will feel right at home in the camp at Fort Benning, for the regular army personnel is to have the same charge of the reconditioning of the former dough has of the younger men now enrolled in the reforestation army, and perhaps not a few of the incoming C. C. C. men will find friends of war-time days running the company to which they are assigned.

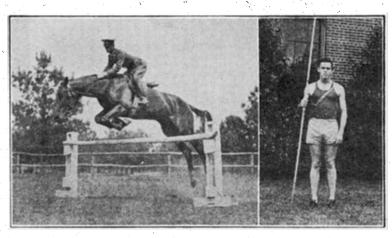

SUNDAY DINNER 50c

Half Fried or Broiled Chicken, Rice and Brown Gravy, String Beans, New Potatoes, Scalloped Egg Plant, Squash, Corn on the Cob, Carrot and Pineapple Salad, Peach Ice Cream or Butterscotch Pie, Coffee, Tea or Milk.

KYLE'S KOZY KITCHEN

32nd St. and Hamilton Ave. Phone 9262 Private Dining Room Parking Lot

WINNERS IN ATHLETIC EVENTS

Above, at left, is shown a picture of Pvt. Grady E. McLendon, Hq. Co., 29th Inf., clearing the bar. He is the winner of 1st place in the jumping sweepstakes, post horseshow. At right, is Pfc. Coble, 66th Inf., winner of javelin throw in the post track meet.

10,000 men get the treat of a life time. They have met and been won by . . . OLD SETTLER'S PURE PORK SAUSAGE

Uncle Sam Feeds The Best.

The Provision Co., Inc.

We have an experienced Graduate Masseur or Masseuse whom we send to Fort Benning each Monday, Wednesday and Friday who can conveniently give Swedish Massages and Mineral Baths in your home. Reasonable Rates. We have many luxurious and beneficial Treatments for Health, Beauty and Happiness.

Treatments conveniently given at home include Swedish Shampoo, Turkish Shampoo, Oxygen, Sulphur, Nauheim, Oil of Eucalyptus, Saline Baths, Salt Glow, etc.

Office hours 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.--Evenings by appointment

Russian Cabinet Turkish Baths Mineral

Swedish Facial and Massage

Therapy

SPECIAL REDUCING TREATMENTS

RIGDON HEALTH INSTITUTE

216 Doctors Building

Phone 1037

Well, then, just drop by the Soda Fount and let us cool you off. If our cure for the hot weather isn't effective, then nothing else is!

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

DON'T SAY GOODBYE TO YOUR PAY

Travel cheaply and comfortably in one of Still's cars. You'll get there more quickly and more easily than in any other. Easy Rates — Comfortable Equipment — No

Hour Charge STILL' STILL'S RENT - A - CAR COMPANY

83rd F. A.

Hank Drawdy, the boy with the million dollar smile, was discharged today and is ready to take on another stack with Headquarters Battery. More power to you, Hank; you know a good outfit when you see it.

The battery or what's left of it is getting ready to turn over the animals days. Sgt. Dodd goes to Florida and and material to the R. O. T. C. boys, who are expected to arrive some time this week for a stay of six weeks. We hope that they will bring along some of their trained shakers from Auburn, Ala., to help us to cut down our over head.

One company of C. C. C.'s are going to Albany, Ga., at least that's the latest dope we received from Private Vestal, who attended a meeting of the city council Saturday evenng, June 3, 1933. They arrived at a decision that the suburbs, especially Ragsdale, need beautifying. Trees should be planted in front of each residence, grass seed sown on the lawns and roses of different colors set out in each yard. Vestal purchase his discharge and return to mere about Field Artillery.

is well qualified as an overseer as he civil life. The army has lost not only has completed a course in landscape a good stable sergeant but an excellgardening. We hope that Vestal gets ent soldier. He has accepted a job a chance to show his ability as a with a local contractor as an overseer gardener, it will bring credit to this of laborers in the construction of the organization and I am sure that he new barracks in the post. We wish will receive the full cooperation of Sgt. Monroe the best of luck in his the people of Ragsdale in the per- new field, and if he ever decides to formance of his duties.

Sgts. Dodd & Phillips are ready to come in Headquarters again. leave the post within the next few Sgt. Phillips to South Carolina. We hope that their stay in the woods will battery after making a non-stop walk be a pleasant one. Be careful of the gators Dodd and don't expose your nude head to the Florida mosquitos.

discharged this week. We hope that the 15% cut won't affect them, as to their intentions of reenlisting in Headquarters Battery. We hate to lose them as they are experienced Artillerymen.

Sgt. Monroe our stable sergeant was discharged this week by purchase. Sgt. Monroe was one of the best stable sergeants, if not the best, in the battalion. We regret that he decided to return to the army, he will be wel-

BATTERY "C"

Private Evans has returned to the to Opelika.

We have news from Co. 1403 C. C. C., which has members of this battery Privates Cole and Bugby are to be in its regular personnel position and ready for work.

Our Expert and 1st Class gunners are in a better spirit now since the gunners pay has been extended. But we are still in the fog about the pay

Our Battery Commander made a short talk to a Company of C. C. C.'s on the 105mm Howitzer. The men seemed very interested in the talk and seemed to be very anxious to learn

SHAMMY SHINER

THE NEW WASHABLE POLISHING CLOTH

FOR ALL METAL INSIGNIA AND EQUIPMENT

Does not soil the hands or clothing and does away with messy powders, liquids and pastes. The polishing mater-ials are scientifically processed right into the cloth and one Shammy Shiner lasts indefi-nitely. Just a light rub and your insignia or equipment is made bright and new in a jiffy.

Ask for it at your Post Exchange

N. S. MEYER, INC. NEW YORK

Distributors to the Military and Naval Trade

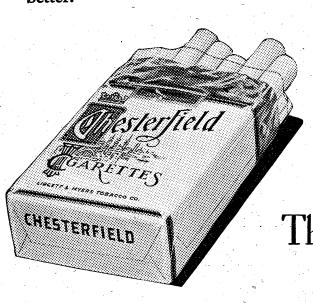

hesterfield's got what it takes

MOKERS, men and women, are really thinking more about the kind of cigarette they smoke.

They know that there are all kinds and styles...They know that some things they can prove and some things they have to take the manufacturer's word for . . . They are really getting to know what it means for a cigarette "To Satisfy" ... to please them... to give them real pleasure.

I'm telling you that CHESTER-FIELD is this kind of a cigarette.

They're milder ... they taste better.

They have what it Takes to Satisfy_Just Try them!

VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, JUNE 16, 1933

NUMBER 8

TOPICS

A goodly portion of every day last week we spent at or in the vicinity of the tennis courts, where Adjutant Lewis was doing his utmost to make the annual Cotton States tennis tournament a success. Hence we remained almost entirely out of circulation as far as the rest of the post was concerned; in other words, the main body of the contents of this column for the week will be entirely confined to the activities of the tennis courts.

The bringing of this celebrated tennis tournament to the post could have been inspired by only one motive. Almost at the beginning, it was generally conceded by those in a position to know that financially, at least, the tournament had little chance of being a success . So there is only one conclusion left for us to draw—that Major Lewis and his collaborators on the project were actuated only by the desire to be of service to the personnel of the post.

The tournament, therefore, was a success. Never before in the history of the tournament have such a number of national stars been brought together. Proof of this lies in the fact that the winner of the Cotton States tournament in 1932 was seeded number five this year.

Everything ran off smoothly. The visiting players were given all possible consideration while on the post. There were no protests from any source. The tournament itself was played exactly in accordance with the schedule. Even the weather obligingly did right by the occasion.

A calamity of great importance was averted by the timely intervention of Major Blackmore when some practical joker locked Paul Moss, United Press reporter, in the telephone booth at the tennis courts. Major Blackmore, hearing the pounding and beating, the scuffle and hammering, which was anything but subdued, came to the rescue by unlocking the door. The major's quick action and rapid solution of the situation doubtless saved the "doings" of the Cotton States tournament for the metropolitan dailies.

It was with great joy that J. B. Bonham, lion of Benning's junior subdeb set, learned that he had been chosen as one of the ballboys for the finals of the men's singles in the Cotton States tournament. His clothing, he decided, must by all means do

The heat on that particular afternoon was intense and soon the finalists began to perspire profusely. Wilmer Hines, one of the players, spotting shy and retiring J. B. hovering in the distance, conceived an idea. He called the ballboy par excellence to him; timidly J. B. approached the grabbing distance, he was suddenly seized and muzzled violently. J. B. mistook this quite naturally, of course, thought, he imagined that it was probably a reward for some meritorious service he had performed in retrieving a bill for Mr. Hines. When the truth became known later (that Hines had merely used J. B. as a tow-

(Please turn to Page 3)

World's Fair Crash That Killed Nine

Firemen are shown combing the charred wreckage of the giant Sikorsky amphibian plane which crashed with a party of Chicago World's Fair sightseers near Glenview, ill. Seven passengers, the pilot and mechanic were killed in the disaster, which occurred when a wing crampled at 600 feet. The pilot, Captain Carl A. Vickery, was a veteran of 6,000 hours in the air.

Local Red Cross Branch Performs Exceptional Work

Relief Organization, Under Mr. Frank A. Cashel, Fills Important Place In Proper Welfare Administration Here; Assists Other Agencies.

Benning has the Post received such chapters. a large amount of service of every type from the Red Cross as Mr. Frank A. Cashel, the Field Director has made possible since his arrival a few months ago.

Mr. Cashel came to Benning direct from National Headquarters in Washington. His eager willingness to serve both organizations and individuals and his efficient manner in accomplishing so many seemingly difficult things have made all who have worked with him realize that his service is invaluable.

Before leaving Benning General King wrote a letter of appreciation to Mr. Cashel and had copies of the letter sent to National Headquarters and to the Post Welfare agencies.

The Field Director's office is under direct supervision of National Headquarters and all funds expended are cares for the soldier's families. All of the duties connected with the soldiers in the Post Hospital and Post Prison are met by the Red Cross Field Director-services which the women of the charitable organiza player. When J. B. had come within tions could not render and which the officers would not have time to meet.

As soon as a soldier is discharged he becomes a Red Cross case and the as a sign of affection. On second Field Director assists him in getting readjusted into civilian life. A plan has been perfected whereby the Field Director will meet all discharged men one month before they are relesed from the Service so in the making the outlook of the army perevent they need assistance, to return sonnel for the fiscal year 1933-34 season of the Fort Benning Welfare home the Field Director will have rather bleak.

Never before in the history of Fort time to correspond with the home

In order to make sure that no cases receive help from more than one organization a confidential exchange is kept by the Red Cross Chapter and other welfare organizations in Columbus and on the Post.

The following Benning representatives have recently been appointed as members of the Columbus Red Cross Chapter Executive Board: Colonel Ephraim G. Peyton, Capt. John Huling, Mrs. Reginald H. Kelley, Mrs. Elbert J. Lyman.

These representatives will strive to keep a spirit of good will and close cooperation between the Columbus Red Cross Chapter and the Benning Red Cross office and to assist in fulfilling Red Cross charter obligations to service men.

Reenlisnment Bonus To Be Discontinued

Enlisted men of the regular army justice to the occasion; so J. B. appeared for the match in spotless white ducks and freshly-laundered white shirt.

The discontinued by an ineans of quarters and a find the expended are will take another blow on the financial chin the 1st of July, when the table organizations at Benning. The Army Relief Society expends aid only by order of the War Department. The by order of the War Department. The hospital. The Parent-Teachers Associated in the 1st of July, when the reenlistment "bonus" is discontinued by order of the War Department. The hospital. The Parent-Teachers Associated in this purpose will take another blow on the financial chin the 1st of July, when the reenlistment "bonus" is discontinued by order of the War Department. The to widows and orphans of soldiers reenlistment allowance of $75, paid by and officers. The Welfare Council the government upon the reenlistment of an enlisted man following his honorable discharge from the military service, has gone by the boards in the fulfillment of the economy plan laid out by President Franklin D. Roose-

The "bonus" while not abolished by executive order, will not be paid for the simple and effective reason that no appropriation has been made for this purpose. This "cut," together with the possibility that the fifteen percent salary cut now in effect on all members of the military service will be continued after July 1st, Corps is receiving many hours of Mr. Cashel's time and effort. In addition to daily visits to the camp and assistance to the boys continually in solving personal problems, Mr. Cashel distributed during the past month 5000 games, 2,000 magazines, 3,000 envelopes, 6,000 sheets of paper and a radio. The entire Post is urged to assist in furnishing magazines, games and card tables. They may be left at the Chaplain's office, Red Cross office or Welfare Council rooms.

A book shelf for the convalescents at the Post Hospital has recently been established by the Field Director. Several organizations are cooperating in this service. The Girl Scouts have during the past month collected several dozen novels and a number of families who were moving away left books for the sick soldiers. Mrs. Joseph A. Holly, chairman of the Literary Section of the Woman's Club will call for books for this purpose ciation recently donated some books for little sick children.

"I have never seen such splendid cooperation between organizations as I have found at Benning. I don't believe there is anything like it at any other Post in the Army," Mr. Cashel recently remarked.

During the past few months the Field Director has made the following donations to the Post Hospital patients: 7,000 envelopes, 16,000 sheets of writing paper, 12,000 magazines, 200 packs playing cards, 500 packages cigarettes.

The following report read by Mrs. Cashel at the final meeting for this (Please turn to page 4)

C.C.C. Is Ready To Start Forest Work

The Fort Benning reconditioning camp for the members of the Civilian Conservation Corps numbered 8,553 at midnight Monday night, or approximately 22 percent of the total number of civilians recruited from the Southern states, comprising the 4th Corps Area, for the fulfillment of the reforestation program ordered by President Franklin D. Roosevelt. As soon as they have completed their period of physical conditioning at the post, and word is received from the various localities that the camps are ready for occupancy, the C. C. C. will leave for their work in the wods. It is expected that the last company will leave on or about July 1.

Men now in camp at Fort Benning will be sent to forest camps in Georgia, Alabama, and Florida, the states from which the majority of the reforestation "army" is drawn. Georgia, of the three states, leads in the number of camps to be established in the woods, having a total of forty, three of which are expected to be located on the Fort Benning reservation. Florida is second with 23 camps, and Alabama third with 17. The quota for recruiting the three states was given as Georgia 6,000; Alabama 5,500; and Florida 3,000. The forest camps will comprise approximately 200 men in each. None of the members of the C. C. C. in the 4th Corps Area will be sent outside of the Corps Area for work.

Of the veterans to be enrolled in the C. C. C. beginning on June 26, four hundred will be sent to Fort Benning for their reconditioning.

War Department data concerning the financial aspect of the C. C. C. reveals that on May 31 $1,200,000 had been expended for the reforestation work in this Corps Area. To date the C. C. C. camps have received $1,962.00 for the purchase of magazines, periodicals, newspapers, etc. to be distributed to the 68 companies established. It is planned to make the share of each organization of the C. C. for this purpose $117.10. when all the companies have reached their site of operations. $22,800 has been received for the purchase of athletic equipment for 190 companies with a share of 120 for each company. The War Department has alloted $3,740 for the purchase of radio sets, and it is expected that each camp will be equipped with one good set,

In Midst

Southern college men who are attending the R. O. T. C. encampment at Fort Benning finished the first half week of their six-weeks' course Wednesday noon by commencing the real work of their courses. Monday and Tuesday had been devoted principally to the study of close order drill, guard manual, and general shake-down routine of the companies, together with a small amount of their technical studies. Wednesday morning the engineer company from Auburn, Ala., the University of Tennessee, and the ordnance company from Georgia Tech were busily engaged on the target range, learning the principles of rifle marksmanship. This is a part of the

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS IN THE SECOND SECON

SOCIAL COMMENT

Social affairs at Fort Benning now adays are largely feminine functions. Although there are still enough men left on the Post to make up two or three foursomes at golf it's rather difficult to get them all assembled at one-time-in-case somebody wants to give a party. By the time the different officers of the day are taken out and those on night duty of one kind or another, hostesses have a hard time to find enough men to make things alternate all the way round the

. . . often stumps you when you're planning to do any buying-but you needn't let it worry you any more, for you can get everything you want under one roof-at Silver's.

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST.

BUY WISELY

CREEK ROCKS SUNDAY EVEN-

Mrs. Tracy Davis and Mrs. Burrell the Bull Creek Rocks Sunday evening. The delightful scene made a fine setting for this pleasant informal Brady, Lieutenant and Mrs. Claude occasion. The guests were: Major and Mrs. Forrest Harding, Lieutenant and Mrs. Joseph I. Greene, Lieuten-Mrs. George Woodruff, Miss Eleanor Garrard, Lieutenant James Winn, and Lieutenant George Howell.

NEW ARRIVALS FROM THE PHILIPPINES

Since last week a number of new families have come to Fort Benning after completing their tours in the Philippines. Major and Mrs. John F. Corby recently arrived to join the Medical group here. Major Corby was on duty with the 12th Medical Regiment at Fort William McKinley during the first part of his Philippine tour. During the last year he was with the staff of Sternburg General Hospital in Manila. Major and Mrs. Corby were both active in social and dramatic affairs in the Islands and are being welcomed by many former friends and acquaintances.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Paul Johnson have also just come from the Philippines. They were with the 31st Infantry in Shanghai and Manila. They are now getting settled in Block 23.

Lieutenant and Mrs. John F. Grinstead were with the 45th Infantry at Fort William McKinley during their tour in the islands. They also have their new quarters in Block 23.

Drs. Miller & Davis

Dog and Cat Hospital 1006 13th Street

Office Phone 1313

We Solicit Fort Benning Trade

Visit our store for quality merchandise at lowest prices in the city.

B. L. PENNELL FURNITURE CO.

1249 BROADWAY

PHONE 4618

... COCA - COLA IN CARTONS

The Handy Home Service Package!

It is the easiest way to keep your refrigerator supplied at a trifling cost.. Is full of wholesome refreshment and requires no preparation.

Easy To Buy . . . Easy To Carry . . . Easy To Put On Ice!

IT'S THE BEST SERVED DRINK IN THE WORLD EVERY BOTTLE IS UNIFORM

On Sale at All Columbus Stores!

ENJOYABLE PARTY AT BULL' LIEUTENANT AND MRS. LYNN' BRADY ENTERTAIN

Lieutenant and Mrs. Lynn Brady were hosts to a number of their Cole of Columbus invited a number friends and Lieutenant Brady's classof their friends to a picnic held at mates on the occasion of the completion of ten years' service by the "1923" Military Academy class, Tuesday evening. Their guests were: Mrs. Sally Ferenbaugh, Lieutenant and Mrs. William Lucas, Lieutenant and Mrs. James Bowen, Lieutenant and Mrs. Clyde Eddleman, Lieutenant George ant and Mrs. Nunez C. Pilet, Mr. and Howell and Lieutenant Joseph B.

> MRS. JOSEPH I. GREENE, ENTER-TAINS IN HONOR OF MRS. JOHN F. UNCLES

In honor of Mrs. John F. Uncles, of West Point, N. Y., who is visiting her mother, Mrs. George Y. Banks, of Wynnton Drive, Columbus, Mrs. Joseph I. Greene, entertained at a luncheon on Thursday. Besides the honor guest the following were present: Mrs. George Woodruff, Mrs. Burrell Cole, Miss Eleanor Garrard, Mrs. Sam Burracker, Mrs. Malcolm Lindsey, Mrs. Charles Lanham, and Mrs. James Bowen.

PERSONALS

Mrs. George Howell recently motored to Washington to visit her mother, Mrs. Chisholm, who is departing in a few weeks for a European tour.

Recent Fort Benning arrivals who have been living in Columbus during the past year include, Lieutenant and Mrs. Theodore Dunn, Lieutenant and Mrs. Edwin Van Horne, Lieutenant and Mrs. Richard Mitchell, Lieutenant and Mrs. Joseph Cleland, and Lieutenant and Mrs. Francis Howard.

Mrs. Landon Lockett and her two children left Tuesday for a girls' camp in North Carolina where she will instruct in riding for the season. After the summer Mrs. Lockett will join Captain Lockett at their new station at Fort Hamilton, New York. The Locketts are old Benning residents, having just completed their second tour here. They have been closely identified with all mounted activities at their post, Captain Lockett being a graduate of Fort Riley and an instructor at the Infantry School

Lieutenant and Mrs. Cummings, who have just arrived from Hawaii, are now at Fort Benning in Block 23. Mrs. Cummings was Miss Charlotte Storey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Storey, of Columbus.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Richard Mitchell, and his sister, Miss Mitchell, who has been visiting them at their home in Columbus for some time, left today for Daytona Beach, Florida, to visit Lieutenant Mitchell's parents. Lieutenant Mitchell was operated on several weeks ago at the Post Hospital for acute appendicitis and is now on

The Benning Bachelors are giving a sport dance at the Polo-hunt club on Saturday, June 17.

The Medical Bridge Club met Tues-

KENNY'S

NORWOOD COFFEE

is sold at Fort Benning

through the

Post Exchange

TRY A POUND

YOU WILL BE PLEASED

day at the Nurses' home. Those attending were Mesdames Morse, Banton, Talbot, Frazer, Kinberger, Newgord, Patterson, Mordecai, Branstadt, Duckworth, Leary, Vermette, Chase, Grace, Corby, Neutler, Fraser, Rife, Seeley, Baird, Gould and Pearson. Prizes were won by Mesdames Pearson, Leary, Chase, and Gould.

Columbus Office Supply Co. 24 Hr. Service RUBBER STAMPS Phone 556

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

JEORGIA

A Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

DOLAN-HENRY HAT SHOP

AT ALSOBROOK'S

You ladies of Fort Benning can't possibly afford to miss these bargains.

All dark Straw Hats (Good for motoring or traveling). Former price up to $8.50. Now selling at $4.00.

New shipment of Fabric Hats_____$1.95

"OUALITY"

Not Fancy Slogans!

A delicious, appetizing loaf that is popular on every table. Even the best meals are heightened in enjoyment by Everidge's bread—Old-Time, Rye, French, and Whole Wheat. Fresh daily at Post Exchange Grocery.

EVERIDGE'S

Columbus, Ga.

FURNITURE OF QUALITY

H. ROTHSCHILD

Leading Furniture Dealer for 38 Years

1229 - 31 Broadway

Columbus, Ga.

MAKE ALL MEALS MORE APPETIZING.

It's not nearly so hard as it may seem at first for you can get the best of groceries here—and they will have a lot to do with your success.

GROCERY DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

We Specialize In Automobile Liability and Property Damage Morton Realty Co.

Phone 544 - Swift Bldg. Columbus. Ga.

MAKE YOUR PARTY A SURE SUCCESS

... Serve Foremost after the bridge-playing is over. It makes a hit with everyone, from the youngest to the oldest of your family or your friends.

Call The Soda Fount

FOREMOST DAIRIES INC.

DUN-DEERS. FOR SPORT OCCASIONS

The new Dun-Deers sport shoes are here for your approval and inspection. You will like them. They are light-weight, springy, flexible, cool, and smart. You will find Dun-Deers almost indispensable to your Summer shoe needs; fashioned in elk-skin in sandal

.....$2.25 Ladies Misses Children . . .

SHOE DEPARTMENT

Westbrook Building

General Insurance Polo Committe Submits Handicaps For Coming Year

In the near future the Fort Benning Polo Committee will forward its recommendation for handicaps for next year to the United States Polo Association in New York. The recommendations are based on recent tournament play at the fort. The handicaps of seven players are advanced on the new proposed list. The list includes Major John B. Thompson and Lieutenant Carl Westlund, from two to three goals; Lieutenant Lawton Butler, Lieutenant W. G. Stephenson, Lieutenant O. O. Wilson, and Captain J. A. Nichols, from one to two goals, and Lieutenant J. J. Winn from zero to one goal.

Major A. V. Arnold and Captain J. W. Blue keep their old rating of two goals, while Captain W. L. Bevan, Captains H. O. Cushman, J. P. Gammon, C. A. Gee, M. F. Halloran and L. L. Lockett, and Lieutenants Gould, Griffith, O'Conner and Sweeney remain at one goal. Benning players, as now handicapped by the U. S. Polo Association, number nine teen players, with four two-goal men.

In the new ratings going forward, twenty players are recommended for handicap, ratings including two threegoal men and six two-goal men. No players are lowered in the new rating.

The play of Major John B. Thompson, captain and back for the Post Champion Freebooter squad, was a feature of the Benning season. His cunning defense kept many a younger ferward baffled and his brilliant runs when he came through on the ball were a constant threat to opponents. Lieutenant Carl Westlund, a beautiful stick man and the mainstay of the 29th Infantry team, is the other player recommended for three goals. Cap tain J. A. Nichols, raised to 2 goals, is one of the best number two's in the Army. Lieutenant Stephenson, back, and Lieutenant Lawton Butler, number two, were the best men in the Student line-up. Stephenson is an excellent back, with an exceptionally long drive. Butler is a hard rider and very accurate stick man.

The handicap recommendations of the Benning Polo Committee are generally adopted by the United States Polo Association without alteration el to remove perspiration and grime from his hands and face), J. B. was bitterly disillusioned. What made matters worse, J. B.'s spotless white ducks and clean white shirt were spotless and clean no longer.

TOWN TOPICS

(Continued From Page 1)

R. O. T. C. MEN IN MIDST OF WORK

(Continued From Page 1)

regular course for the reservists during their summer encampment, and plays a large part in the gradings that they will receive in July. The R. O. T. C. students had an abundance of room for their target practice, due to the cancellation of the target season of the regular army personnel at Benning. Zeroing the rifles, "dry-runs" with dummy cartridges, and practice in assuming the positions from which the rifle is fired will occupy the college for the next few days, actual firing to begin at some later date.

Signal Corps students from Georgia Tech spent the morning with safety belts and "climbers," learning to master the difficult technique of ascending a slender pole to erect telephone lines. Bark flew in large quantities as some of the beginners relaxed their watchfulness in their ascent, and unwittingly made a hurried and entirely unintentional downward passage.

The field artillery units from the University of Florida and Auburn were occupied receiving instruction from enlisted instructors of the 83rd Field Artillery, stationed at Fort Benning, in the proper methods of aiming the 75 mm. gun and getting into action; riding; and the gentle art of grooming the "broom-tails." comb and brush flew diligently if not expertly, and many a caisson-puller from the army stables rolled a patient and long-suffering eye as the collegians practiced their cleaning.

The recreational end of the encampment also went into full swing with the selection of the staff for the camp paper. This news chronicle is a mimeographed publication published each week of encampment. Plans are being made to make this naper as popular as before. Devane Williams, Unias editor-in-chief.

SUNDAY DINNER 50c

Half Fried or Broiled Chicken Rice and Brown Gravy String Beans Corn on Cob Egg Plant Stuffed Peppers Fruit Salad

Ice Cream or Chocolate Pudding

Coffee, Tea or Milk Sandwiches, Short Orders, Etc.

Private Dining Room Parking Lot

Kyle's Kozy Kitchen

32nd St. and Hamilton Ave. Phone 9262

=KIRVEN'S

HOSE

by Humming Bird 59c

All silk chiffon hose. In the new summer shades for your new summer dress and shoes.

COTTON

DRESSES

KIRVEN'S=

$5.95

Sizes I4 to 44

A new shipment of the very latest in summer cotton and linen dresses. The black linen has a deep sunback and a white linen coat. Some of the cottons have swagger coats of self material, jackets or sleeveless boleros.

Dotted Swisses Cotton Laces Black Linen White Linen Seersucker Eyelets Ginghams Voiles

In summer's most fashionable colors. Navy, brown, copen, maize, red, black and rose; solids, stripes, checks and dots.

White Fabric

HATS

$1.95 thru $4.95

Cotton piques, linens, silk piques and silk crepes. Swank summery medium brims, wide brims and close fittings.

White New SHOES

$3.95

$5.45

$7.50

Pumps Ties

MAIN FLOOR

Phone 556

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Columbus, Georgia

JUNE 16, 1933 NUMBER 8 VOLUME III. L. C. Kunze____Publisher F. Kunze C. Howell____ Society Editor D. P. HARDING Sports Editor Louis T. Kunze

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,
BALTIMORE

RED $\mathbb{R} \ \mathbb{O}$

(Continued from page 1)

Council gives an idea of the large | Field Director uses the various deamount of service given to army families through Mr. Cashel's efforts:

The Red Cross has been very glad cil whenever possible. One of the first duties of a Field Director is that of cooperating with all agencies with the view of assisting the service man and his family. This, in a way, is set forth in a clause of the Charter granted by Congress which reads as fol-

"To act in matters of voluntary re lief and in accord with the Military and Naval authorities as a medium of communication between the people of the United States of America and their army and navy and to act in such matters between similar National societies of other governments."

There was secured from the Nation al Red Cross at Washington, 500 24 1-2 pound bags of flour which has been placed at the disposal of the Welfare Council. This flour was made from government wheat by the Red Cross. Some has been distributed but a large percentage remains in stock. A total of 348 ready-made garments were donated to the Welfare Council by the Red Cross. These included hosiery, union suits, boys' knickers and overalls, all in childrens' sizes and some cut material, enough for 30 families.

Also a dozen layettes were donated by the Reading, Pa. Chapter and delivered to the chief nurse at the Post Hospital for distribution to needy mothers. 3,000 yards of material has been ordered for the making of additional layettes, nightgowns and childrens' clothes, which should arrive very soon. When this material is finished into layettes and garments, they will be turned over to the Welfare Council for distribution.

The Red Cross also has cooperated with the Welfare Council in securing charity rate tickets for cases involving the transporttion of families.

Several investigations were made of cases of the Welfare Council by the Red Cross chapters in the soldiers home town. In this instance, it might be mentioned that all Field Directors have funds which enable them to communicate with chapters by telegraph in emergencies, and it is hoped that the committees of the Welfare Council will make greater use of this

Also several families of general prisoners who are at present in the Post Stockade, were removed from the limits of the Military Reservation reestablished mto civil life. Houses were rented, and furnished in some instances, and financial aid giv-

Possibly there are several other small services that have been rendered but it is sincerely hoped that all members of the Welfare Council will always call on the Field Director for any assistance possible; for personal investigations where it is not possible for a member of the council to enter the home for investigations, through chapters and in any other way. Both the time of the Field Director and office facilities are entirely at the disposal of the Welfare Coun-

To close this report, possibly a brief resume of a certain case history will emphasize the method in which a partments of the National Red Cross: This particular soldier, as far back as 1930, was a case of a Field Directto have assisted the Post Welfare Coun- or in Fort Benjamin Harrison who had assisted him and his wife in setting family difficulties. The man was eventually transferred to Fort Benning. After continually being in family difficulties up to March, 1933, the soldier committed suicide, leaving his wife and several children. The Post Welfare Council immediately took charge of the family, furnishing financial assistance in various forms and attending to the innumerable details that are always present in cases of this The Field Director's Office as sisted the widow in filing papers for the Adjusted Compensation of her husband, also her pension claim. telegram was sent to a case correspondent at National Headquarters in Washington, to expedite the adjusted compensation check and in ten days the widow received a check for $702. Telegrams were also sent to the Louisville Chapter to secure a suitable lodging for the widow, who was to proceed there to await the admittance of her children to the Masonic Home and also to give birth to another expected child When the widow was ready to travel, charity rate tickets were secured and telegrams sent to Birmingham and Louisville to have someone meet her. She arrived safely, was installed in a boarding house, was taken to the Masonic Home and be used against him, he stated: tentative arrangements made for the admittance of the children. The Louisville Chapter at present will continue to treat this as an active case. assisting the widow in securing admittance to a hospital at a reasonable rate and in general, to supervise her affairs until she is completely re-adjusted to civil life."

Tell your troubles to the Red Cross man" is one of a Field Director's slogans. The soldiers are urged to visit the Red Cross office to talk over business problems, to secure information regarding emergencies back home, to receive assistance in locating missing relatives, to receive help in securing employment for members of their families.

The Field Director has made arrangements to have a talk with each recruit as soon as he arrives and explain the Red Cross work to them and others pertinent facts and information which might assist them in becoming better soldiers.

Field Directors always keep posted on changes in government legislation for the disabled man the war did not end with the Armistice. Red Cross service for the disabled veteran, like the Home Service program of war times, has been a joint endeavor, with chapters carrying the major responsibility.

The personal service rendered by the Red Cross during the war to the soldiers, sailors and marines demonstrated the fact that increased military efficiency resulted from the adjustment of personal worries. When in the peace-time Army and their families also have their social problems. The prompt solution of these problems, along with this military value, is of far-reaching social and economic during the recent Cotton States Tenvalue to the Fort Benning personnel.

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

CONDUCTED BY E. F. H.

SPOILS OF WAR

Miss Evangeline McLennan, although defeated in the finale by Mrs Porter, was easily the champion souvenir collector of the visiting raquetesses. Her specialty was military insignia and the lapels of her sporty blue tennis coal glittered with evidence of her proficiency at separating the susceptible male from the gadgets which he wears on shoulder and shirt collar. Realzing that our dear public would be interested, we did our best to trace the source of these trophies. Practically all of them except a set of 17th Infantry crossed rifles that we couldn't find out about were supplied by local Adjutant General Lewis in person presented the fair runner-up with a major's leaf and the insignia of the exclusive A. G. D.

Major Blackmore gave the bursting shell which identifies members of the select Ordnance Department.

Aide-de-Camp Winn tendered the rare and expensive badge which proclaims the wearer one of the Lord's anointed with a through ticket to eavenworth and the General Staff.

Major Newgord, the Eye, Ear, Nose, Throat and Ankle specialist, sup plied the classic caduceus which distinguishes Hygeia Halberdiers from the common soldiery. We have a vague recollection of seeing the flash of silver propellers in the midst of the gold but we don't know where she got her memento of the elite Air Corps.

It will be noted that Miss MacLennan's collection, except for the mysterious 17th Infantry insignia, runs to noncombatant services. She displayed no trophies of the dashing cavalry, the thundering artillery and the fighting Q. M. C. Possibly she leans toward pacifism but we think not. She could hardly be expected to acquire a set of crossed sabres on a post which, since Major Thompson's departure, has no cavalry representative, and the Quartermasters were all too occupied with C. C. C. business to get around much during the tournament. The latter circumstatnce was a bad break for Miss McLennan for she might just as well have gathered in one of the attractive wheel and key devices. True, a Quartermaster is a pretty hard bird to get anything out of but we are confident that Capain Elliott would break down under pressure.

As for the artillery insignia we happen to know that she made a valiant effort to persuade Lieutenant Sherburne to donate his. So far as we know this was her only failure. We made a thorough investigation of Playboy Sherburne's remarkable demonstrations of unsuspected ability to resist feminine wiles. In an informal interview in which we neglected to mention that what he said might

"I'd have given her the crossed guns if I hadn't known that all she wanted was just a set of artillery insignia. If she had wanted my crossed guns to remember me by it would have been different."

Evidently Miss Mac Lennan's technique is not perfect. It works beautifully with the older men but it lacks the quid pro quo quality which modern youth demands.

WITH WOMEN

Adjutant General Lewis is to be congratulated for securing the attendance of such a large number of nationally known tennis stars at Benning for the Cotton States Tournament. Promoting a tennis tournament involves more than sending out a formal notice that one is being held at such and such a time and such and such a place. The big shots have to be approached diplomatically or they will give the affair the go-by.

We don't know how Promoter Lewis handled men but we suspect that his letters to the lady stars contained a strong dash of sex appeal. This opinion is founded on the fact that Mrs. Lila Porter upon her arrival evinced a pronounced interest in the personality of the man who had corresponding with her.

Upon being met in Columbus by Mrs. Keiler she was obviously disappointed.

"Where is the soldier?" she kept asking.

We are glad to report that the interest of the Ladies' Champion did not flag upon acquaintance. More than once, as the harried promoter rushed by to render a bit of valet service to some temperamental raqueteer, Mrs. Porter was heard to remark, 'Isn't he cute?"

SOIREE INSURANCE

One of the minor duties which fell to the lot of Adjutant General Lewis nis Tournament was the securing of TENNIS PROMOTER MAKES HIT es. All of Benning's better known tennis players were legitimate game. Many perhaps would have preferred to be mere spectators but all felt it incumbent upon them to oblige the hard-working promoter.

Major Blackmore solved the problem of being obliging without letting himself in for too much heavy duty of this sort, by bringing the Black more twins to the matches. lively youngsters had a predeliction for getting under the feet of the players and Major Blackmore was sure of being promptly relieved as an umpire in order that he might devote his undivided attention to the business of riding herd on his tennis-minded and Mrs. John A. Andrews fell on June 3d. Sometime prior to the event the one-time Secretary and General Handy Man of the Erudite Fourth Section was rudely torn from the bosom of his family and shipped to Camp McClellan to father a company of the C. C. C. It might have been worse, as the husbands who were hustled off to Camp Knox a few days later found out. Camp McClellan is near enough to admit of a week-end visit but California is a long, long way from Tipperary.

REFORESTATION EVANGELINE

As the date of the anniversary approached the separated Andrews hoped and planned for a solution. It looked, however, as if exigencies of the C. C. service would require the presence of Captain Andrews at Major Arnold to miss his train. -P. A. L. officials for the more important match. McClellan and he regretfully sent Mrs.

Andrews word to that effect. Mrs. Andrews therefore decided that she would surprise her husband by motoring over to spend the week-end with him. She insists that she dispatched a warning telegram on Friday but since Andy didn't receive it and hasn't received it yet, the Flare feels justified in rejecting her disclaimer of any intent to make a surprise visit. Women dearly love surprises and the set-up for one was too good to pass

Saturday morning found the devoted wife and camp follower on the road to Anniston and shortly before noon she pulled up in front of the C. C. C. headquarters at McClellan. she ran into Captain Bob Miller and Golf Champion Brann, who informed her that friend husband had left early that morning for Benning. Mrs. Andrews rushed for the telephone booth while Captain Miller took up a collection of loose change to finance the call.

Back at Benning Captain Andrews entered his wifeless domicile just as the telephone rang. Mrs. Andrews wire and, after a brief interchange of felicitations. Andy agreed to stay put until the bride of a few years back could make the return journey.

Mrs. Andrews made good time and the dinner hour found the devoted couple reunited under their own rooftree.

It is still something of a mystery how they missed each other on the way, for both journeyed by the same road. Like Evangeline and Gabriel in Longfellow's poem, that we had to read in high school, they passed like ships in the night, each unmindful of the nearness of the other. Incidentally the opening line of the Longfellow classic would do nicely for a great C. C. C. epic based on the Andrews' Adventure, "This is the forest primeval."

LATEST NEWS FROM THE WESTERN FRONT

The Flare's G-2 Department is becinning to receive scattered bits of information of the progress of the great drive which the Reforestation Army has launched against the west

From the northern wing comes the cheering word that Captain W. B. Tuttle, formerly of Benning and late of Plattsburg Barracks, New York, is digging in for an indefinite stand on the Idaho front.

From the center we hear that the train commanded by Schedule-Maker Kraft suffered a breakdown in the middle of the Great American Desert. We hope, for the sake of the Schedule Maker and his stalled cohorts, that the train carried a full supply of three point two.

It is from the southern wing of the army, however, that we get our principal item. It deals with Artilleryman Arnold who, at the time the incident took place, was in charge of a company of C. C. C. boys headed for somewhere in California.

The train stopped for water something at Gallup, New Mexico. The name of the place inspired the energetic Major with thoughts of exercise and he got off the train to stretch his legs and fill his lungs with the air of the great open spaces. While thus engaged the train moved out and the refreshed Artilleryman returned to the station to see it breaking off toward the setting sun.

The embarrassed train commander did what he could. He prevailed upon the station master to send a wire to hold the train at the next station and arranged with the railroad authorities to give him an engine to ride in pursuit. It was a long chase, for the West is a country of magnificent distances and the next station was a hundred miles distant. Our hero caught his train, however, and was given a royal reception by the C. C. C. boys when he steamed in on his commandeered locomotive. The spokesman of the welcoming delegation, so it is reported, not only assured him that the company was glad to have him back at the helm but promised to take better care of him in the future.

NOTE: There is positively no truth in the story that it was a blond waitress in the station lunch room and not his passion for exercise that caused

(Please turn to page 5)

Continued From Page 4) THE FLARE

C. C. C. NURSERY RHYME

Along with other things, including a fair amount of profanity, the great reforestation project seems to have inspired a sudden virulent epidemic of poetry. The following adaptation to the occasion of a well known nursery rhyme is Captain F. H. Wilson's contribution. It was suggested by the recent order detailing some 300 naval America's reforestation army from the officers to duly with the Civilian Con- Prussian Guards of pre-war days is servation Corps.

The old man of the wilderness said to me sea?"

I answered him as I thought good "As many blue jackets as work in the wood."

NICKNAME

The comraderie which distinguishes

NEW FORD COUPE

Dependable Ford Service

WHEN you bring your car here for service you are always sure of prompt, courteous treatment from men who know their business. • Our mechanics are specially trained and we have the newest and latest service equipment needed to do an accurate, thoroughly satisfactory job. • Only genuine Ford parts are used and all labor is contact and low flat rate.

Burrus Motor Co.

1216-22 1st Ave.

PEKOR BENNING SPECIALS

CANDLE HOLDERS

Pr.$4.50

Sterling BREAD & BUTTERS 6 Inch$3.00

FOUNTAIN PEN & PENCIL SETS

By Parker Pen Co.

Ladies' CIGARETTE CASES In Colors $2.00

26-Piece Set TABLE SILVER Stainless Steel Blades $5.95

NOVELTY BRACELETS and NECKLACES $1.00

Solid Gold DIAMOND RINGS

$9.75 $3.50 Value

CAMEO PENDANT & RING SET $3.75

> Solid Gold BABY RINGS With Diamond $1.95

Boy's POCKET WATCHES $1.00

PEKOR JEWELRY COMPANY 1221 BROADWAY

illustrated by the following story:

Major George Kraft finished one of his early talks to the boys of his com-"How many soldiers serve on the pany with the customary "Any questions?"

> "Yeh," drawled one of his charges, what's your name?"

> "Kraft," answered the Major. "K-R-A-F-T Cheese."

> "I get yuh," was the snappy comeback. "You're the big cheese."

> As repartee the recruit's B. J. remark lacks subtlety but the name stuck. To the Schedule Maker's company he is "The Big Cheese."

ICE CREAM CHAMPION

Mine Host Dowdall has placed the name of Lieutenant Marion Huggins in nomination for the Frozen Dessert Champion of Fort Benning.

Friends of Lieutenant Huggins discovered him in the act of storing away the contents of a quart container of ice cream and promptly reported the fact to Mine Host Dowdall who verified the performance. Questioned later, the Lieutenant, with becoming modesty, insisted that he'd done nothing worthy of note.

"It wasn't really a full quart," quoth he. "Actually I only ate a pint and two or three extra dishes.

CITATION FOR THE WEEK

The June 9th issue of the Benning Herald reviews the work of the Welfare Council during the current year. The article mentions by name the women who have given so liberally of time and effort to further the purpose for which this important charitable organization exists . It tells something of their service on the numerous committees which have been working quietly throughout the year to alleviate suffering and to smooth the way of those of our people whose burdens have been unduly heavy.

So little publicity has been given to the work of the Welfare Council that we venture to state that half of the garrison doesn't know that such an organization exists. The biblical injunction, "Let not the left hand know what the right hand doeh," seems to have been the guiding principle under which the Council functioned.

The report leaves much unsaid about the splendid work which the Welfare Council has done in the two years of its existence. Also, since Mrs. Lyman wrote it, it contains no mention of the all-important part she has played as President of the Council and organizer and supervisor of its activities.

The ladies are too modest. Let The Flare speak through a citation which goes this week:

To Mrs. Elbert J. Lyman and her co-workers of the Welfare Council for their unselfish devotion to a worthy cause and for their unostentatious, intelligent and efficient administration of the charities of the Benning Garrison.

-E. F. H.

SHAMMY SHINER

THE NEW WASHABLE POLISHING CLOTH

FOR ALL METAL INSIGNIA AND EQUIPMENT

Does not soil the hands or clothing and does away with messy powders, liquids and pastes. The polishing materials are scientifically processed right into the cloth and one Shammy Shiner lasts indefi-nitely. Just a light rub and your insignia or equipment is made bright and new in a jiffy.

Ask for it at your Post Exchange

N. S. MEYER, INC. NEW YORK

Distributors to the Military and Naval Trade

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

JACKSONVILLE HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

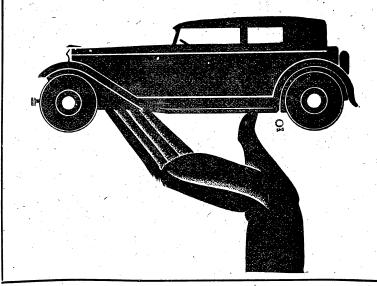

NOT OUITE AS GOOD

... as it was when new, perhaps, but your car will still be in excellent condition if you're careful enough to let us inspect it regularly and use only the best of oils and greases.

AUTO DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell
To Anyone Not In The Military Service.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Bitsy Grant Wins Tennis Championship

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

Boxing at last has had its shot-inthe arm. Glamor left the ring that fore as a box-office attraction. fateful night when Gene Tunney battered the Manassa Mauler, Jack Dempsey, from pillar to post. For a while, Max Schmelnig loomed as a prospect to occupy the high spot that Dempsey occupied in the hearts of the followers of ring destinies. But the Black Uhlan fell far short of that goal, and boxing continued to decline as a

ON YOUR DATE

... be sure of a good time by having a good car . . . one of Still's.

Low Rates — No Hour Charge SPECIAL RATES ON TRIPS

STILL'S

RENT - A CAR CO. 1232 1ST AVE.

sport. Wrestling rapidly came to the Jack Sharkey, who for a long time had been knocking at the door of the heavyweight title, fought a disappointing draw with a man much smaller, much lighter than himself-Mickey Wilker, the toy bulldog. He then proceeded to win the title from Max Schmeling. The decision was muchdisputed and had the same effect on boxing fans that a cigarette has on an empty stomach. The ring game continued to decline; and, what was more, there was no heavyweight prospect on the horizon.

The clique, which had been followng boxing ever since the days when John L. Sullivan swapped blows with barrel-chested mine-workers, began to grab frantically at straws. Primo Carnera, a huge mountain of a man, electrified spectators by knocking out everyone in sight inside of the first three rounds. But most of these early opponents of Carnera, third-raters anyway, entered the ring leaning so far that a blow from a feather would have laid them out among the posies. It was a different matter entirely when Primo climbed through the ropes against a moderately good fighter. And so another balloon was pricked. Les Kennedy, Stan Poreda, and Steve Hamas, all considered fairly good prospects, fell by the wayside. And boxing continued to de-

From Livermore, California, the name of one Max Baer, the Butcher (Please turn to page 7)

Hines Defeated By Corn Griffin, Leading Lightheavy, Star In Thrilling Proves That Best Is Not Too Good Three Hour Battle

Win From Wilmer Hines Of Carolina

Bryan Grant of Atlanta defeated Wilmer Hines, University of North lightning-like left could penetrate the Carolina, for the championship of the Cotton States, in a thrilling five-set battle last Sunday afternoon. A large and enthusiastic gallery was on hand to see the country's thirteenth ranking player exhibit his tennis wares against the southern intercollegiate champion.

Grant won the toss and elected to serve. Hines surprised the gallery by winning the game at 50-30. Five smashing services, two of which were aces, gave the youngster the second game at 50-15. At this point, Grant tightened to win his own service at love, as he forced Hines into error several times. The fourth game was brilliantly played, Bitsy finally managing to break his opponent's whistling service. Low, hard drives and scintillating net play featured, this game. Grant again won a love game on his service to go into the lead for the first time 3-2. Hines knotted the count at 3-3 on his delivery, after Grant has taken the game to deuce several times. The Atlantan now applied pressure and played beautiful tennis to win the next three consecutive games and run out the set at 6-3. Bryan had difficulty winning the seventh game (his own service), but won the last two at 50-15.

So far everything was happening just as everybody figured it would. Hines was putting up a valiant struggle, but Grant had just a little too much skill for the youngster. Then came the second set, a long-drawn-out affair which Hines finally won at 11-9. Wilmer won the opening game, Grant the next two easily. The fourth was bitterly contested, but the North Carolina racquet-wielder won to tie the score at 2-2. A few minutes later, the finalists were still running neckand neck at 5-5. Hines stepped ahead at this point with a love game on his service, but Grant also won his serve. Then Grant broke through Hines' service, and it looked like the diminutive Atlantan had the set in his palm of his hand. The fourteenth game went to deuce; Grant had set point twice but could not come across at the right moment. Long rallies at crucial points had the crowd under a terrific nervous strain. Hines won the game, and the next one for good measure. Grant evened the count at 8-8, then 9-9. Hines won the next two games with the loss of only a single point. Final score: Hines 11-9.

Grant, playing cautiously now, broke through Hines' service to win the opening game of the third set. The second game went to deuce several times before the Atlantan was able to win it. The score was now 2-0 in favor of Grant. Hines rallied strongly to bring the score to 2-2, Grant made it 4-2. Hines won his own service and crept up within a game of his opponent. Wilmer then forged ahead, but Grant drew even at 5-5. Hines won the next two games and the set at 7-5.

The set score was 2-1 in favor of the University of North Carolina star at the intermission, and the gallery was in a state of excitement with the prospect of an upset staring it in the

The fourth set found Hines cold, and consequently he made many errors. Grant had no difficulty in win ning this set at 6-0. After it became clear that the Atlantan was going to win the set, Wilmer eased up to conserve his strength for the final set. (Please turn to page 7)

Corn Griffin has now proved that fans settled down for the slaughter. Then Griffin proceeded to cut Pavalec into ribbons to win by a K. O. in the seventh round.

When Corn stacked up against the mighty Belanger, he rated the underdog position. The general consensus of opinion was that Griffin would be listening to the birdies before the seventh round had passed into history. Everyone, of course, knows the outcome of that fight. Griffin took everything hard-punching Belanger had, and almost tore the head off his shoulders in exchange. The Canadian, an excellent boxer, used all the ring tactics in his repertoire only to have them go to naught. His twofisted attacks had Griffin on the ropes more than once—but Corn always came back for more.

he can step with the fastest of com-Grant Stages Uphill Battle To pany and hold his own. No flash in the pan is Griffin. Against Belanger, Canadian lightheavyweight champion and a topnotcher in the United States, Corn demonstrated that his flashing, most close-knit defense. That left hand is going to serve the army fighter in good stead throughout his career in the ring. As a defensive weapon, it is fine; but it is not merely limited to defense. Griffin's sharp, deadening jabs worried Belanger every round of the ten round bout. And when Griffin chose to hook that left, it was just too bad. But history has pointed out that there have been many gladiators of the ring who could punch and were also fast and clever. What happened to them? They fell by the wayside, simply because they either did not relish a hard punch or two, or because they were totally incapable of withstanding much punishment. How does Griffin measure up to these standards? The argument is best answered by examples of ring warfare. In Flordia, not long ago, Jerry Pavalec, erstwhile sparring partner of the formidable Max Schmeling, who had the enviable distinction of hitting the former champ so hard at one time that Schmeling's eves took on a glassy look and his knees were as water beneath him, smacked Griffin on the Van Dyke with everything he had behind the blow. Somehow, exactly how no one knows, Griffin came to his feet at the count of nine. When Corn came out for the third round,

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

HALF SOLES A GOOD A BETTER 50c · Half Half . Sole

LAMAC SOLE $1.00
The Only 5-Unit Machine In Columbus All Work Guaranteed

CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY

We specialize in cripple work Phone 565 1234 Broadway

MAKE YOUR FISHING A PLEASURE — NOT A DISAPPOINTMENT

It's certainly a disappointment to any true fisherman for the "big one" to get away, but it is unnecessary if you have good tackle. The Main Branch has a complete line of all kinds of athletic equipment. Call 608.

POST EXCHANGE FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

IT'S A BOTTLED DESSERT

You'll never find anything quite as good or refreshing as bottled NEHI. Whenever you're hot and tired, and need something to put some pep into you again - there's nothing better than this healthful drink-one that combines all the qualities of all other soft drinks in one!

A True Fruit Beverage

Mrs. Porter Captures Title SPORTS

Woman Player Is Victor In Finals

Mrs. Lila Porter, ranking woman player of Alabama and considered one of the best players of her sex in the south, swept Miss Evaline McLennan to overwhelming defeat in the finals of the ladies' singles Sunday morning. Mrs. Porter, who had eliminated Mrs. Frank Coyne of Atlanta, defending Cotton States champion, in straight sets, played practically unbeatable tennis to win by one-sided scores of 61. 6-0.

The newly-crowned champion played a cautious game, forcing her opponent into error time after time. In no one department of the game was Mrs. Porter deficient. Her forehand

THE

Post Exchange

has a

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The hours of this service are from 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Author-ized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

ROBERT KLOEPPEL -

Alabama's Ranking and backhand shots were working to perfection, and her service and net play left little to be desired.

Miss MacLennan, at the outset, was conceded to have a remarkably good chance of defeating Mrs. Porter. Her forehand drive was the hardest and fastest of any woman entered in the tournament, but Mrs. Porter experienced no difficulty in returning ev-erything that came her way. The long rallies almost invariably ended with Miss MacLennan driving the ball into the net or over the baseline.

The new champion's fast service scored many points. On brief excursions to the net, she was impregnable and her backhand proved a reliable weapon at all times.

Miss MacLennan, who had been somewhat hampered by a bad ankle, had eliminated Mrs. Frank Davis of Atlanta in the semi-finals 6-4, 6-1. Her game on this occasion was slightly better and certainly more effective than aginst Mrs. Porter.

Mrs. Porter's steadiness was the main factor in her smashing victory. In all phases of the game, she was disconcertingly consistent.

GRANT WINS COTTON STATES TOURNAMENT (Continued From Page 6)

Grant won the first four games of the fourth set so easily that a glimpse at the score sheet shows that Hines obtained only three points during those games. In the fifth, Hines gave Grant a battle, carrying the game to deuce many times before losing it. Bryan had little difficulty winning the sixth.

The stands were tense with excitement as the fifth set began. Hines, serving, won the opening game at 50-30. Back came Grant to knot the count on his service. Then Bryan forged ahead by breaking through his opponent's service in the third game, and holding his own in the fourth. Grant now led at 4-2. At this point, Hines thrilled the crowd by drawing even at 4-4. Both players were fighting desperately for the points, making almost impossible "gets." Grant was tiring rapidly. Hines looked much stronger. Hines opened service in the ninth game. The Atlantan, drawing on his reserve supply of strength, won the first two points. Wilmer won the third, Grant the fourth, to lead 15-40. Hines came to the net to win the next point but Grant won the game with a beautiful placement. Gathering all his remaining strength in a supreme effort, Grant won his own service at love, and the match was

Final scores of the titanic battle read as follows: 6-3, 9-11, 5-7, 6-0, 6-4

Team Of Weltens And Buxby Win

On Sunday afternoon, the finals in the doubles events of the Cotton States tournament were held. The first of these to be decided was the ladies' doubles. Mrs. Porter, ladies' champion, and Miss Evaline MacLennan, runner-up for the title, teamed to defeat Mrs. Frank Coyne and Mrs. Stanton Reid by scores of 6-3, 4-6, 6-4

Mrs. Porter and Miss MacLennan, the outstanding favorites to win the event, encountered more opposition than was generally expected. Mrs. Coyne and her partner Mrs. Reid were in the thick of the competition all the time, fighting desperately for every point and never giving up until the last point had been played.

Again it was Mrs. Porter's splendid play which turned the tide in favor of the ultimate winners. Her lobs and passing shots were working well, minimizing the fine net play of her opponents. Miss MacLennan, too. played a good brand of tennis, but her best efforts were outshone by her partner, who defeated her in the finals of the ladies' singles by scores of Play in men's doubles followed almost immediately after the men's singles. Martyn Buxby and Bert Weltens of Texas engaged Bryan Grant and Jack Mooney in what was expected to be as closely-fought a battle as the men's singles. Buxby and Weltens gave the gallery a taste of what was in store for them by winning the first four games easily. The fifth game went to the Grant-Mooney combination, the sixth to the Texans, the seventh and eighth to the Atlantans, and the ninth to Buxby-Weltens. Final set score 6-3.

At this point, it was clear that Mooney, who had played beautiful tennis in the semi-finals, was badly off form, and that Grant, tired from his exertions in the finals, was unable to carry the whole lead, although he was performing brilliantly. The Texan team was playing superbly, especially at the net.

The second set was a walkaway for the Texas combination. Mooney was unable to return to form and Grant was so exhausted he was about ready to drop. Weltens and Buxby won every game in this set to take it at love. By previous agreement, it had been decided that the match would be two out of three sets, because of the approaching dusk. Both Weltens and Buxby exhibited a beautiful brand of tennis and the lobs and would-be passing shots of their opponents went to naught.

The mixed doubles title went to Mrs. Porter and Bryan Grant when the combination of Weltens and Mrs. Reid defaulted.

> SPORT CHATTER (Continued From Page 6)

Boy, was heralded. But who was this Max Baer? No one knew much about him except that he was big, strong, and rugged. Gradually, not dramati-cally at all, Max Baer forced himself into the limelight.

Then Ernie Schaaf went down to his death before the huge fists of the Italian colossus. He went down with cries of "fake" ringing in his ears. It was not until hours later that the world learned that Schaaf had been seriously, perhaps fatally, injured in his fight with Carnera. The worst happened. Schaaf died.

The night of the Baer-Schmeling battle came. Odds were as much as 3-1 for the Teuton. Baer had been instructed by his management to hold himself in check for the first five rounds. But every once in a while, Max forgot the instructions and launched a two-fisted attack that had the crowd roaring like mad. The pace was a little fast, and in the sixth and seventh sessions, Baer subsided and allowed Schmeling to be the aggressor. The fans, always quick to jump at conclusions, imagined that Baer was beginning to tire, that the slaughter was about to begin. Then Baer leaped to the attack in the eighth. He hammered Schmeling heavily around the head with both hands. Schmeling kept plugging, however. The ninth was a nightmare for the ex-champ as Baer bombarded him into a corner and beat him mercilesswent to his corner at the end of this hectic round.

The crowd seemed to sense the dramatic in the air. Baer came out for the final tenth like an enraged tiger. The Teuton plowed right in right into a right to the jaw that shook the rafters. The Butcher Boy, with a bloody snarl on his lips, followed up his advantage with a twofisted attack that swung his opponent dazed and groggy on the ropes. The crowd leapt to its feet. Baer nailed Schmeling with a left hook to the body, crossed a terrific blow to the Van Dyke, and Schmeling sunk weakly on the floor. It was the first time since Schmeling came over to this country five years ago that he had ever been knocked down. At the count of nine, the once strong German climbed to his feet. But he was helpless; his eyes were dazed and his knees buckled under him. Baer, with the savage, awful snarl still disfiguring his features, drew back his right. Then the referee stepped in and stopped the slaughter. One more punch might have had a permaanent effect on Schmeling, and the crowd, usually against a technical knockout, seemed to sense it for there was not ly. Schmeling stumbled a bit as he one dissenting voice raised in protest.

UNCLE SAM A SURGEON?

GETTING WRINKLES OUT OF TUMMIES GETTING MARROW INTO BACKBONES

> Old Settler's Sausage for breakfast makes this operation very pleasant and long to be remembered.

Every pound of Old Settler's Sausage guar-

The Provision Co., Inc.

ROCKNE STUDEBAKER

PIERCE-ARROW

Best Selection of Late Model Used Cars In Columbus

- Terms To Suit YOU -

Columbus Roberts Motor Co.

512 - 14th Street

Phones 271-272

TAKE THEM ON YOUR PICNIC

SOMETHING THE WHOLE FAMILY CAN ENJOY!

TOASTED PEANUTS

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded for the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

OWNER

CKSONVILL

Karl Kamrath And Buxby Beaten By Hines And Grant

Bryan Grant, diminutive net artist from Atlanta with a ranking of number 13 in the country, and Wilmer Hines, southern intercollegiate tennis champion, won their way to the finals by defeating Martyn Buxby and Karl Kamrath respectively.

Grant was in superb form and won over Buxby in straight sets by scores of 6-1, 6-2, 6-2. The University of Texas star, ranked number 29 in the United States, was handicapped at the outset with a strained shoulder mus-Wilmer Hines, after dropping the first two sets to his nationally known opponent, rallied brilliantly to win the next three and the match. Hines showed an indomitable will to win, and thus served notice on Bryan Grant that the latter had a hard match in store for him.

In his straight set victory over Martyn Buxby, Grant was unbeatable. His ground strokes, played from corner to corner, his change of pace, and his combined to complete the route of the Texan. Bitsy won the first game of the initial set on his service. Buxby knot ed the count at one-all, then Grant ran out the next five games and he set at 6-1. Bryan was playing Buxby, in desperation, went to the net often in this set only to have the bell whizz by him for a passing shot.

Buxby lost his service in the first the score by winning Grant's. Bitsy game ran the score to 5-1. At this point, Bux. scores: 6-1, 6-2, 6-2. by tightened to hold service, but Grant went on to win his and the set tennis, returning seemingly impossible shots and amazing the gallery with accurate placements. Buxby's usually fine net game was ineffectual as Grant made passing shot after pass- the first two games. Hines won the ing shot from both forehand and next four; then Kamrath went into rath started off impressively by break- 3-6, 6-2, 7-5, 6-4.

backhand.

The third set was almost a repetition of the first two. Buxby was overdriving consistently and Grant splendid net play were factors which won the opening game on the Texan's service. Martyn returned the compliment several minutes later by knotting the score at 1-1. Grant showed no sign of losing his steadiness; his control of the ball was always accurate, and he continually was successful cautiously, not making any errors. in drawing his opponent out of position. Grant ran the score to 5-1; at this point Buxby rallied to win his own service, but, as it turned out, the ninth game, but Kamrath held was only delaying his execution. came of the second set, but evened Grant took his own service, after the had gone to deuce several again won the Texan's service and times, the set, and the match. Final

Karl Kamrath and Wilmer Hines took the court to stage the second at 6-2. Grant was playing beautiful tennis battle of the afternoon. Kamrath, ranked number 25 by the national Tennis Committee, was favored to win over the youngster. The Texan started off impressively by winning 5-4 lead. Hines tightened to even the score at 5-5. The southern intercollegiate champon won the eleventh after fighting courageously to break game to go into the lead again but Kamrath won the next three games in into a 3-2 lead but relinquished the a row. inal score of the first set was Kamrath 8-6.

The Texan also won the second set cautiously and hence making errors. Kamrath's change of pace seemed to set at 7-5. bother Hines. Kermath won the first game, dropped the next two, won the next four to lead 5-2. Wilmer won service to win 6-3. The Texan had five set points to credit before he was able to pull the set out of the Hines had little difficulty in winning the third set at 6-2. He bore down on his service and his brilliant net play gained him many important points. With the score in the set points. tied at 2-2, Hines ran out the next four games.

After the ten minutes' rest, both players took the court again. Kam- match went to him by scores of 6-8, ing Hines' service to go into a 1-0 lead. Hines won the next two games, the Texan's service. Kamrath went lead to Hines when the latter won two games in a row. The Texan knotted the count, first at 4-4, later at 5-5. 6-3. Both players were playing too But the southern champion, nothing daunted, applied pressure to win the

The gallery seemed to sense the tenseness of the situation when Hines won the first game of the fifth and deciding set on his service. Kamrath also held service, then broke through Hines to win the third game. Wilmer, employing a wicked chop on Kamrath's second service, returned the compliment and the score was again tied at 2-2. Five minutes later it was still tied at 4-4. Kamrath, desperate, was going to the net time after time. In the ninth game, the Texan lost the first two points on his service, evened the count at deuce, then lost the game Hines held service and the set and

Mhat does it take TO DATISFY?

Has Chesterfield got it?

A Fair Question and a Fair Answer

For a Cigarette to Satisfy—

It must have the right kind of tobaccos.

We honestly believe that the tobaccos used in CHESTERFIELD cigarettes are of better quality (and hence of better taste) than in any other cigarette at the price.

It must be made right; uniform, well-filledno particles of tobacco getting into your mouth; no hard and soft places.

It must have the right flavor and aromathe right amount of aromatic Turkish.

It must reach you just as fresh as if you passed by the factory door.

CHESTERFIELD has what it takes to satisfy. Just try them.

They have what it Takes to Satisfy_Just Try them!

VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, JUNE 23, 1933

NUMBER 9

Opening Of Infantry School Has Been Assured By War Department

schools be reopened in the fall. Desonnel will follow in due course.

ance to Columbus and Fort Benning. was contained in a radio directive received, from the War Department by Colonel Fred L. Munson, acting commandant of the Infantry School. The brief statement made public definitely kills a persistent rumor emanating from Washington that the gigantic task of handling the organization and supervision of the Civilian Conservation Corps would tax War Department facilities to the extent that it would be impossible to operate the service schools during the school term starting next September.

Of the eighty instructors in the school who were present for duty as such when the Infantry School closed on May 22, there remains a total of eleven who are carrying on the activities of the School at the present time and preparing schedules and programs for next year. A number of those now absent are in California forests with companies of the Civilian Conservation Corps and the re mainder are scattered over several Southern states on the same duty.

Plans for the return of these instructors to Fort Benning for the op ening of school, now scheduled for September 12, have not been made and Fort Benning authorities do not know how or when such action will be taken. The return of a large percentage of the instructors now absent or the detail of others to replace them will, of course, be necessary in order that the School can function it is stated, but what the War Depart ment plans or will plan for taking this action is not known. The permanent station of the officers now absent is still Fort Benning, their status while absent on the C. C. C. duty being "temporary duty." In most cases families of the officers have remained at the post.

The number of students that are to be in the several classes of the School is another factor still undetermined, it is stated. Approximately 135 officers now are under orders to attend the School next year, the orders to be effective at a time to permit the officers to arrive at Benning for the opening of the School term. Most of these orders were issued last March, and before it was known that the Army would conduct the organization of the Civilian Conservation Corps companies and supervise their work. The figure 135 is slightly less than usual one for this time of the year, according to personnel figures at Benning.

West Point Preparatory Course Not To Be Held Here This Year

Information received from Headquarters, 4th Corps Area, contains the announcement that the preparatory course usually conducted at Fort Benning during the summer months for enlisted men of the regular army who desire to enter the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. will not be held at the post this year. The course, which usually began on July 1, was preliminary training and study for the regular classes held at Fort McPherson, Ga., and acted as an elimination course for the large numbers of students who try for admittance to West Point each year.

"It is contemplated that Army C. C. C. Orchestra tailed instructions with regard to per- Very Popular With This information, of great import- Men Now In Camp

When orders were received for the establishment of a camp for 10,000 men of the Civilian Conservation Corps at Fort Benning, it was realized that some kind of an athletic program and other entertainment would be necessary to keep the men contented during their period of conditioning. Accordingly a C. C. C. Recreation Center with Captain A. H. Cummings in charge was organized.

The Recreation Center immediately instituted a nightly program of boxing shows and band concerts, varied occasionally by exhibitions of local talent drawn from the regular army garrison. These entertainments attracted a large attendance and were thoroughly enjoyed. As time went on, however, and the movement to forest work camps did not begin as promptly as anticipated, other sources of entertainment were sought.

Sergeant Frederick B. Sanders of the Infantry School Detachment, who was on duty with the Recreation Cener of the C. C. C. camp conceived the idea of forming an orchestra composed entirely of men of the Civilian Conservation Corps. He was successful in finding a number of men that possessed requisite talent. Some difficulty was expected in obtaining the necessary musical instruments but this difficulty was overcome. Then began a period of intensive practice during which the hastily assembled musicians worked long and faithfully to develop a real orchestra.

As soon as the hastily assembled orchestra had acquired the ability to play together the first concert was given. It was a tremendous success and from that night on the C. C. C. orchestra furnished the backbone of the entertainment program.

The orchestra consists of fifteen musicians, representing every state from which the Fort Benning camp drew its recruits. There is only one member of the orchestra who is not a member of the C. C. C. This is Pri-Infantry (Light Tanks), who has ing visited the post as a member of been used at the piano for most of the plans and training secion of the him for being wounded in action the entertainments. Private Shirkie is one of the key men around which the orchestra was built, and he has given material assistance to the organization.

One considerable group of men in camp was denied the privilege of attending the regular entertainment. These were the men in companies quarantined for measles. Touched by the hard fate of the quarantined boys and inspired by the great sucecss of Sergeant Sanders' organization, second orchestra was organized from members of the quarantined companies for the entertainment of the quarantined companies. This orchestra has been fully as successful as the original one and has done much to relieve the monotony of camp life for the men in quarantine.

The Chief Of Infantry

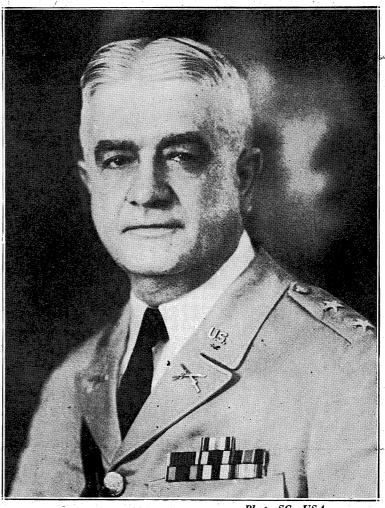

Photo SC-USA Major General Edward Croft

Chief Of Infantry To Visit Post For First Time Sunday June Twenty Fifth

Major General Edward Croft, new | War General Croft was commissioned chief of infantry, will make his initial visit to the home of the Infantry School when he arrives at Fort Benning at eight thirty-five Sunday evening for a short visit of informal inspection of the activities now taking place on the post. General Croft was appointed to the office that he now holds by President Franklin D. Roosevelt, succeeding Major General Stephen O. Fuqua during the later part of May. One of the many notable things about the visit of the new chief to Benning is his request that all honors and ceremonies due his rank be dispensed with, as well as all unnecessary formality.

This is not the first time that General Croft has been at Fort Benning, he having been a student in the revate D. E. Shirkie, Company F, 67th fresher course in 1926; and also havgeneral staff when he was on duty with that unit in Washington, D. C. Previous to his succession to the office of chief of Infantry General Croft was in command of the 10th Infantry at Fort Thomas, Ky.

During his stay at the Infantry School, General Croft will be the guest of Colonel George F. Baltzell. director of the infantry board, one of the main cogs in the infantry machine which General Croft is now directing.

Major General Edward Croft was born in Greenville, South Carolina, July 11, 1875. He attended the South Carolina Military Academy (The Citadel) and was graduated from that institution in 1894.

On July o, 1898, the year of the outbreak of the Spanish-American a second lieutenant of Infantry and assigned to the 19th Infantry, joining that regiment in Puerto Rico. He helped to organize and command part of the first native troops organized on that island, and with them and some white troops, assisted in suppressing disorder during the change from Spanish to American control. The following year, 1899, he returned to the United States for station at Camp Meade, Pennsylvania.

Promoted to first lieutenant on March 31, 1899, General Croft next saw service in the Phllippine Islands during the Phillippine Insurrection. He commanded a company in action against the insurrectionists, and it was during this campaign that he was cited for gallantry in action for which he was awarded the Silver Star decoration. against the enemy. During this tour of duty in the Philippines, he organized and commanded the first native troops to be utilized in action against the insurgents on the Island of Cebu.

General Croft returned to the United States in June, 1902, as aide de camp to Major General R. P. Hughes. He was graduated from the Infantry and Cavalry school in July, 1904, and, on August 7, 1904, was promoted to the grade of captain, being assigned to the 2nd Infantry. The following year he went back to the Phlippines to serve with his old regiment, the 19th

Then followed duty at Fort Mc-Intosh, Texas, in 1909 and 1910, after which he was again sent to the Philippines. In June, 1912, he was order-(Please turn to page 3)

C. C. C. Men Are Leaving Rapidly For Forest Camp

The movement of forest workers from the Benning camp continues at the rate of approximately 800 men a day. The departure of four full companies and a detachment of 94 men yesterday reduced the number in camp to 4739. At the present rate of movement another week will find the big conditioning camp at Benning practically desetred except for the two companies of veterans which will be just coming in.

Three companies left Thursday morning and a fourth was scheduled to leave Thursday night. Company 1445 commanded by 1st Lieut. Louis B. Rutte, 29th Infantry, left at 4 a. m. for Chatham, Jackson Parish, La. The other officer going with this company is 2d Lieut. Martin Moses, Infantry. Regular army enlisted men going with this company are Sergeant Millard Matthews, Company E, 29th Infantry, acting 1st sergeant, Corporal George H. Patrick, Headquarters Company, 2d Bn. 29th Infantry, acting supply sergeant, Corporal Odis Laird, Headquarters Cemagany, 2d Bn. 29th Infantry, acting mess sergeant, and Private 1st class Walter F. Carlock, Headquarters Company, 2d Bn. 29th Infantry, acting first cook.

Co. 2401, colored, commanded by 1st Lt. Julian E. Raymond, left at 7 a. m. for Smith Creek, Fla. This company consists of 172 men of the C. C. and will occupy and organize work camp Florida P-61. other officer leaving with this com-pany is 2d Lieut. E. C. Berquist, Infantry. Regular army enlisted men going with this company are Sergeant Charles E. Thompson, Company C 24th Infantry, acting 1st sergeant, Sergeant Herbert Brown, Company E, 24th Infantry, acting supply sergeant, Corporal Hillery Wynder, Company E, 24th Infantry, acting mess sergeant, and private 1st Class Jacob Gilliam, Company E 24th Infantry, acting first Company 1410 commanded by Captain John A. Otto, 29th Infantry, also left at 7 Wednesday morning. The other officers going with this company are 2d Lieut. Henry C. Britt, 29th Infantry and 2d Lieut. William C. Ellis, F. A. Reserve. Regular army enlisted men gong with this company are Sergeant Cecil B. Coates, R. M. G. Company 29th Infantry, acting 1st sergeant, Sergeant John T. Caho, R. M. B. Company 29h Infantry, acting supply sergeant, Corporal Otis J. Petty, R. M. G. Company, 29th Infantry, acting mess sergeant, and Private 1st Class Harold E. Bradford. G. Company 29th Infantry, acting first cook. This company consists of 185 men of the C. C. C. It goes to St. Marks, Fla.

Company 1428 commanded by Captan Richard F. Fairchild, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks), left at 8:30 Thursday for Waterboro, S. C. This company consists of 195 men. The other officer with this company is 1st Lieut. James W. Clinton, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks). Enlisted men of the regular army going with this company are Sergeant Robert A. Willingham, Company D 66th Infantry (Light Tanks) acting 1st sergeant, Corporal Henry Heath, Company D 66th Infanry (Light Tanks), acting mess sergeant, and Private 1st Class Robert L. Ramsey, Company E 66th and uncomfortable, are the kind that make people say: "Well, it was never like this in the Philippines-or in Hawaii-or Panama!" and wish for the somewhat cooler tropic station they have once served at. As a matter of fact our Tientsin station in China is the only one of our scenes of foreign service where temperatures climb as high as they do at Fort Benning occasionally. There was one period of ten days last fall at Tientsin when the thermometer stayed consistently at the century mark, some times well into the night.

(Please turn to page 7)

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS IN THE SECOND SECON

PICNIC ENJOYED BY BENNING

The coolest form of social enjoy ment on these hot evenings is picnicking. A number of Benning people enjoyed a picnic at the rocks

AFTER YOUR CLEANING UP..

... when you're all hot and bothered, just call up the Soda Fount and have them send around some Foremost Ice Cream.

You'd be surprised how refreshing it is!

Call The Soda Fount

FOREMOST DAIRIES

Days like these, hot, humid, long, in Bull Creek on Saturday night last Those who enjoyed the supper and singing at the creek-bed island surrounded by the lovely pine grove were; Major and Mrs. Forrest Harding, Lieutenant and Mrs. James R. Pierce, Lieutenant and Mrs. Joseph I. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. George Woodruff, Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Des-Portes, Mrs. Tracy Davis, Mrs. Marcrum Cole, Miss Eleanor Garrard, Mrs. John Uncles, of West Point, N. Y., Lieutenant Carl Robinson, Lieutenant George Howell, Lieutenant George Decker.

> A number of parties have been give en recently in Columbus and Fort Benning in honor of Mrs. John Uncles, wife of Lieutenant John Uncles, of West Point, N. Y., who is now visiting her mother, Mrs. George Y. Banks in Columbus. On Tuesday Mrs. Tracy Davis, wife of Captain Tracy Davis, and Mrs. Calvin Desportes, were joint hostesses at a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Uncles, given at the home of their mother, Mrs. Frank U. Garrard at Wildwood. The guests were: Mrs. Malcolm Lindsey, Mrs. Joseph I. Greene, Mrs. Nunez C. Pilet, Mrs. Richard Desportes, Mrs. Wright Brown, Mrs. Frank Garrard, Jr., Miss Eleanor Garrard, Mrs. Marcrum Cole, Mrs. George Woodruff, and the guest of honor, Mrs. John Uncles.

> Mrs, Clayton H. Studebaker entertained her bridge club Friday at her home on Eames avenue. Quite a number of the club's regular members were away from the post and friends were invited to fill in their places. Those who attended and enjoyed Mrs. Studebaker's hospitality were: Mrs. James Bowen, Mrs. William Lucas, Miss Harriotte Atkins, Mrs. W. A. D. Thomas, Mrs. Lynn Brady, Mrs. Rosebaum, Mrs. C. T. Lanham and Mrs. Don Faith. After the games delicious refreshments were served.

Mrs. Selina Waddington is entertaining on Monday at a luncheon in honor of Mrs. Guy Hartman, who is departing soon, with Captain Hartman for their new station in Hawaii.

Lieutenant and Mrs. George Lynch were visitors at the post over the week-end. They drove over from Anniston where Lieutenant Lynch is now on duty.

Miss Louise Waddington, sister of Mrs. James Bowen and daughter of Mrs. Selina Waddington, who has recently finished school at Ashley-Hall, Charleston, S. C., and has been visiting her sister for the past few weeks,

Today's Fashion

Navy and white. By VERA WINSTON

This year we are fortunate in having so many costumes that are good for town or country wear, practical things that are as trim as they are dainty. The tremendous popularity of linen has had muchto do with this pleasant state of affairs. A typical many-purpose dress is shown here. The frock is of navy blue handkerchief linen and has white lacings. The skirt has a center seam and uses Similar pieces are pointed pieces. placed at the neckline. The jacket is of white heavy linen smartly embroidered in an all-over design in navy. The color scheme of navy and white continues to be of major importance.

is leaving in a few days for Atlanta to take the entrance examinations for Smith college.

Captain and Mrs. Lloyd Barnett are now enjoying several weeks' visit in Montgomery, Alabama, Mrs. Barnett's home. Mrs. Barnett's son, Lloyd, Jr., is visiting relatives in New Orleans.

Mrs. E. K. Wright and her daughter. Phyllis, have left by motor for Spokane, Washington, accompanied by Mrs. Kameil Maertens, where they wll spend the summer visiting relatives and friends.

JABELONSKY BASSETT WEDDING Miss Brita Jabelonsky, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Carl Jabelonsky, and Captain Richard O. Bassett, Jr., were quietly married on Wednesday.

Captain and Mrs. Bassett will shortly leave for their new station at Fort Sam Houston, San Antonio, Texas.

Members of the R. O. T. C. camp vited by the students and a consider-

Capt. Vautrin Visits Benning Wed.

Fort Benning, Georgia, was Wednesday the host to Captain Jean Vaurin, French Army, who arrived at the post after a two and one-half hour flight from Fort Bragg, N. C., in an army plane piloted by Lieutenant C. W. Coustland, Air Corps, of Bolling, Field, Washington, D. C.

Captain Vautrin has been detailed by the French Government to make a tour of the United Straes to observe army activities, and arrived at the French Embassy in Washington two weeks ago. His visit to Fort Benning will include an informal inspection of the 29th Infantry training and barracks, and a short study of the work being carried on by the Infantry Board, with particular reference to tank activities. The French officer's visit follows the policy adopted by the War Department of the interchange of ideas between the military services of the various na-(Please turn to Page 7)

Make Your Dollar Go Twice As Far!

You can get just as much here for less than you would pay elsewhere . . . and without any sacrifice of economy or convenience on your part, either!

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST. REAL SATISFACTION

The Most Delicious Bread You Can Buy!

Collins' Bread has what it takes to make bread good—that's why it's so popular on every table. Order Collins' next time and you'll realize what good bread really is!

COLLIN'S BAKING

1144 — 13TH STREET

FURNITURE OF QUALITY

ROTHSCHILD

Leading Furniture Dealer for 38 Years

1229 - 31 Broadway

Columbus, Ga.

DESIGNED

To Save You Trouble . . . The Handy "Six-Box"

WHEN YOU'RE IN A QUANDARY:

... just ask your grocer for the handy Six-box. It is the answer to a lot of the Hostess' problems and every hostess will be wiser if she will have Coca-Cola, in the Six-box on hand. And there isn't a person living who doesn't think Coca Cola is the most delicious and refreshing drink ever made!

And There's No Raise In Price! The New 'Six-Box" Costs Only

25c

PLUS A SMALL DEPOSIT ON CARTON THE WORLD'S BEST DRINK

On Sale At All Columbus Stores!

R.O.T.C.ToHold2nd Dance Of Season

at Fort Benning announce that their second dance of the series planned for the encampment will take place Friday evening at Biglerville mess, with music for the occasion being furnished by the 24th Infantry orchestra. As is customary all officers and ladies of the garrison have been inable number of the belles of Columbus are expected to be present.

FOR "LOW COST" ENTERTAINING

During these hot summer months, when you're entertaining a small party, there's nothing that will make such a hit as a dutch supper. Serve one next time and you'll discover an easy way to economy without a sacrifice of deliciousness.

GROCERY DEPT. POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GA. The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

MAJ. GENERAL CROFT TO BE HERE SUNDAY (Continued From Page 1)

ed to Fort Sheridan, Illinois, and re mained on duty there until January 1914, when he was transferred to Boston on recruiting duty.

In 1915, General Croft was ordered to the Mexican Border where he commanded a company, battalion, and district, successively, in suppressing banditry and Mexican marauders. He was also senior-insructor of a brigade of National Guard troops assembled on the Border in 1916-1917.

He was promoted to major of Infantry, May 15, 1917, and sailed wih the 26th Infantry, 1st Divison, for France on June 5, 1917. Following his promotion to lieutenant colonel, National Army, on August 5, 1917, he was ordered to the United States and assigned to training. He was detailed to organize and command the first officers' training camp at Camp Devens, Massachusetts, and was in charge of the organization and operation of division schools of the 76th Division, and conducted the field firing in training that division. The results accomplished in organizing and operating these agencies were such as to cause him to be twice commended by the War Department Inspector and his commanding general.

Promoted to colonel of Infantry, National Army, on June 17, 1918, he

Wash Shantung Suits $4.95

White and Black, White and Tan Cords, Striped Trousers. Light Summer Wear. (Values to $3.00).

$1.95

All colors of Shirts, Kingston Broadcloth, 7-Button Front. ($1.50 Value).

95c

STRAW HATS. PANAMAS, ETC.

95c to $1.95

Shorts and Slip-Over Shirts 3 For $1.00

> PAYNE CLOTHING CO. 1203 BROADWAY

Screen Victim of Tropics

While physicians frankly admit they are puzzled, beautiful Edwina Booth, film actress, is slowly dying of a mysterious disease she contracted while playing the feminine lead in the movie version of "Trader Horn" in Africa. Insert, Miss Booth is shown in the role that brought her into the valley of the shadow.

was given command of the 380th Infantry at Camp Sheridan, Ohio, which Maj. Howe, Lieut. he commanded until it was mustered out after the Armistice. On January 1, 1919, he was ordered to Camp Custer, Michigan, as executive offcer, and later to Camp Meade, Maryland, in the same capacity.

In August, 1919, General Croft was ordered to Fort Leavenworth as a student officer at the school as a Line and, on August 31, same year, reverted to his regular rank of major of Infantry. Upon graduation in June, 1920, he remained at Fort Leavenworth as a student in the General Staff School and, upon graduation in 1921, was instructor, General Service Schools. He was promoted to lieutenant colonel, Infantry, on July 1, 1920, and to colonel on Sepember 15th of the same year.

Following graduation from the Army War College in Washington in 1924, General Croft was given command of Fort Hamilton, Brooklyn, New York, retaining the assignment until October, 1926, when he entered the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia, for a short refresher course. He was then ordered to Fort Jay, New York, to command the 16th Infantry, and continued in that capacity until July, 1928, when he was detailed on the General Staff in Washington and became chief of the training branch of the office of the Assistant Chief of Following this tour of duty a Washgton, General Croft Fort Thomas, Kentucky, to command the 10th Infantry. He continued in command of this regiment until his appointment on May 24, 23, as Chief of Infantry, with rank of Major General from May 6th.

General Croft's citation for gallantry in action reads as follows:

"Edward Croft, Colonel, (Inf.). G. S. C. then 1st lieutenant, 19th Infantry, United States Army. For gallantry in action against Insurgents near Cebu, Philippine Islands, on July 27, 1901. During this engagement, Lieutenant Croft was seriously wounded but in spite of his wound he retained command and coolly directed the action of his troops until a senior officer arrived with reinforcements."

Winn To Leave

War Department orders have been received at headquarters, the Infantry School, relieving Major Dan D. Howe, Infantry, from further assignment and duty with the 29th Infantry, and detailing him as an instructor with infantry units of the Kentucky National Guard. Major Howe will be stationed at Bowling Green, Ky.

This was his second tour of duty at the Infantry School, he having attended the Company Officers' class in 1920-21. Major Howe is also a graduate of the Tank School, having attended that school when it was at its former location, Fort Meade, Md.

Previous to entering the army in 1916, Major Howe had taken the degree of Bachelor of Science in Civil Engineering at Virginia Polytechnic Institute in 1912.

He was a member of the 1932-33 class which was graduated from the Advanced Course of the Infantry School in May, and orders were issued which assigned him to the 29th Infantry. He was temporarily attached to Regimental Headquarters for duty.

Major Howe came to Fort Benning in September, 1932, from the Philippine Islands where he had been on duty for the previous two years as Survey Officer of the Post of Manila.

Second Lieutenant James J. Winn. Infantry, popular young member of the Fort Benning garrison, has been relieved from his assignment as Aidede-Camp to the Commandant of the Infantry School and assigned to duty with the Infantry, the Panama Department.

Lieutenant Winn, a native of Ala bama, was appointed a cadet at the Military Academy in 1925, leaving there in 1929 wth the commission of second lieutenant of Infantry. He was ordered to Fort Benning for duty with the 29th Infantry following his graduation from the Military Acade-

In 1929 Lieutenant Winn fulfilled the requirements of the Basic Course, Troop Schools, in the subjects The National Defence Act and Care of Animals, and in 1930 in the subject of Training Methods and Principles of Teaching.

He was a student tt the 1929-30 Mess Management course, and at the 1931-32 company officers' course, completing these courses with an academic rating of "excellent."

At the request of Major General Campbell King, then the Commandant of the Infantry School, War Department orders which would have sent Lieutenant Winn to the Hawaiian Department were amended to order him to duty as Aide-de-Camp to General King in July, 1932, which duty Read Herald Ads recent relief as Commandant.

HENRY GRADY HOTEL

PEACHTREE AT CAIN Atlanta, Ga.

550 rooms of comfort and convenience. Each room has ceiling fan, circulating ice water, radio and either shower or tub bath; corner rooms have both. Open Dining Terrace and Coffee Shop.

Rooms from $2

J. F. de Jarnette Vice-Pres. & Mgr.

CONVENIENT LOCATION—MODERN EQUIPMENT RATES REASONABLE

Phone your agent or call our Superintendent, Mr. Trussell, Phone 3062 DIMON COURT APARTMENTS

KEEP YOUR CAR IN SHAPE FOR THE SUMMER SEASON

Our skilled mechanics can help you get every inch of mileage and every bit of easy riding out of your car this summer by keeping it in perfect running condition. Let us make an estimate on the work. You'll be surprised at the comparatively low prices we charge for fine repair work.

WE ARE AGENTS FOR

STUDEBAKER ROCKNE PIERCE - ARROW MACK TRUCKS

COLUMBUS ROBERTS MOTOR CO. PHONE 271

LET THIS SIGN

omi

BE YOUR GUIDE

WHEN YOU WANT GOOD PEANUTS!

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded for the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

Phone 556

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Columbus, Georgia

NUMBER 9 VOLUME III. JUNE 23, 1933 L. C. Kunze----_Publisher A. F. Kunze-Society Editor D. P. HARDING. Sports Editor

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT, SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE, BALTIMORE

C. C. C. From Woman's Viewpoint

C. C. C. Imposes Considerable Hardship On Wives And Families Of Officers On Detached Service

Much has been written about heroes and heroines during war, but it yet remains for some word-painter or master musician to express in meter or melodious sound the bravery of the army heroines of peace time.

A splendid spirit is being shown by hundreds of army women whose shock came—ranked out of quarters husbands have been called to duty with the Civilian Conservation Corps.

For months Infantry School husbands and wives had sacrificed luxuries in order to save their pennies for a trip together during academic leave. Instead the husbands are now in the forests and, as in war time, the wives are left to "keep the home fires burning."

This means the expense of keeping up two establishments (not an easy task even before the cuts were in vogue), and countless responsibilities that must be assumed by the army

Fortunately the army woman has a saving sense of humor and is so cheery about all the sacrifices she makes to help her husband serve his country during peace time, that the work at large does not realize how much she endures. No matter what conditions arise, she can always find a bright side and make the best of the situation.

"Even the clouds of the depression have a silver lining, an army mother remarked during the past week. "If the depression had not made the C. C. C. necessary, we might now be trying to make ends meet during a years furlough. I think all of us should philosophically accept this state of affairs and determine (also as in war time) to pack up our troubles in the old kit bag and smile, smile, smile"

"The Doughboy," an interesting book published in 1921, when the Post was still being called "Camp Benning" contained a story written by Mrs. Paul B. Malone, entitled "The Doughboy's Wife."

The manner in which the army wotracts from Mrs. Malone's story:

"When I married a young army officer years ago, I knew nothing of army life beyond such knowledge as had been gained by an occasional visit to West Point, the most beautiful and interesting of all our arm: garrisons. It was splendid, but I was just a bystander, a deeply interested spectator, nothing more, I did not share in the great work in progress. Like most young women, I was impressed more by the externals than the things they represented, and looked upon West Point with its beautiful scenery and imposing buildings as a little paradise on earth."

"I was therefore well prepared for our first station, a small one-battalion Post, which had existed for nearly a century. But we had our own house and worked hard furnishing it. In about a month the work was done and we were happy, when the first and in a hurry too. The push-cart became a moving van. The carpets prepared for other rooms were tucked in at the ends; curtains were remade, and after another month's work we settled down to winter quarters in six feet of snow in an old ramshackle building constructed fifty vears before. I was disturbed. The good army women sympathized with the new lieutenant's wife, but told of their experiences. They had been with their regiment west of the Mississippi for more than thirty years They had just left the Indian territory, the last American frontier. I was reduced to silence. Their tales of 'old Army' life in an adobe shack with one room for all purposes, of two hundred mile trips in the army schooner with young children, in midwiner, of Indian raids of the garrison. sheltered only by a stockade and the long campaigns which followed made my little inconveniences seem ridiculous by comparison. In fact, I soon grew to envy them their experiences. These women had actually lived through the tragedies of life which actors and actresses all attempted inadequately to portray."

How small the petty trials of the 'new Army" seem when we think of the "old Army" who participated in a great achievement, all hardships for gotten in the joy of serving. Even the trying conditions caused by the C. C. C. seem small in comparison.

The C. C. C. at Fort Benning is paricularly fortunate in having a man of Colonel Frank F. Jewett's type in charge. Colonel Jewett's contact with boys as P. S. M. T. at the University of Nebraska and as the father of three exceptionally fine sons, man meets cheerfully every hardship has given him experience that enables is illustrated by the following ex- him to meet with sympathetic understanding problems that confront boys of all ages.

Colonel Jewett patiently answers scores of letters from anxious moth ers. Parents frequently come to Benning to see their sons and to interview Colonel Jewett regarding their welfare. They invariably leave entirely satisfied, for even a few weeks of the regular camp routine and the bountiful supply of nourishing food prepared by army cooks makes a great improvement in the appearance and morale of the boys.

The habits of sanitation required by Colonel Jewett and the untiring efforts of the army doctor will prove

Ten Years Ago This Week

29th Infantry completed range practice with cal. .30 rifle. 2d Battalion marksmen scored high average, 95.71 per cent, with 1st Battalion running a close at 95.59 per cent average.

Q. M.'ers celebrated the 148th anniversary of the founding of their organization by a chicken supper and cat-fish fry at the Big Eddy Club. A number of prominent Columbus citizens were present.

I. S. D. baseball team defeated the 83rd Field Artillery 17-4, allowing the Red-Legs three hits, while making seventeen themselves. Batteries were McNutt and Shepard and Bennet and Duff for the Greencords, and Owens and Field for the Cannoneers.

The Taners romped over he Red-Legs also in a double header on Sunday afernoon, making the same score in both games; 9-1. Swantic, Dennis, Grantham and Baltzell were the stars

The I. S. D. led the league with 1,000 per cent, Tankers in second place with 500, and the Artillery dragging the rear with .000.

McNutt of the Greencords was leadng pitcher with a 1,000. Grantham of the I. S. D. led the hitters with beneficial to the boys of the C. C. C. now and in years to come.

"Do you know," an interested ob server recently remarked ,"that if the C. C. C. now at Benning had to pay the regular price charged by civilian doctors for typhoid shots and daily visits to doctors' offices, it would amount to three thousand dollars per Colonel Jewett's talks to luncheon clubs and other organizations have given the civilians a better understanding of the excellent service being rendered to the C. C. C. by the Army personnel.

The C. C. is also fortunate in securing the services of Major E. F. Harding as Public Relations Officer. He has the happy faculty of wielding a facile pen in such an originally clever manner that all he writes is read with eager interest and his readers wish for more. His admiring Public hope that he will continue his column in the Benning Herald until he leaves for the War College in Washington. Usually there is somebody to take the place of every officer who is ordered away, but the fact is universally conceded that nobody can take Major Harding's place as editor of The Flare.

"I have never seen a writer who could handle a subject in Major Harding's facetious style-with never a ' a prominent Colonel said while discussing what the loss of The Flare will mean to the Army family at Ben-"Even the C. C. C. widows were good sports in accepting his suggestion to establish a local Hyde Park where Army women might indulge in their frequent outbursts of crimson oratory against the C. C. C."

Modesty is one of Major Harding's chief characteristics. Despite the fact that for weeks The Flare was filled with comments on "The Road to Rome," no mention was even made in Benning's most successful production. Following its presentation his friends expected The Flare to contain "I Told You So" in glaring headlines, for throughout the four years since Major Harding has been stationed at Benning he has urged the Dramatic Club to attempt "On The Road to Rome," but until this year his plea has gone unheeded because of the belief that it was too ambitious an undertaking for amateurs.

Major Harding's use of his talent with the C. C. C. will undoubtedly be characterized by the same brilliant success that has crowned his efforts as instructor, author and Dramatic Club president during his stay at

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all." -John Wolcot.

CONDUCTED BY E. F. H.

C. C. C. FRONTIER

In the belief that most of our readers are interested in what the Fort Benning boys are doing in the far flung reforestation battle line, we have not hesitated to request the privilege of reading the less private parts of their letters to their wives. By disseminating bits of pertinent information through the medium of our widely read column we hope to paint an impressionistic picture of the most unique war that the American army has ever waged. If the widows will cooperate by turning over to our intelligence department the pages which contain descriptive passages and news, The Flare will endeavor to interpret the C. C. C. for the benefit of the home guard. We aren't interested in sentiment. No matter how beautifully expressed, we can't use it. Our clientele is too sophisticated and too cynical. If a husband of over five years' standing should come through with a real masterpiece of a love letter they would take it as a sure indication that he was leading a double life.

Artilleryman Arnold writing from Lassen National Park, California, gives some interesting glimpses of C. C. C. life on the California front. The Artilleryman, after the vicissitudes described in the last issue of The Flare, finally came to rest some six miles from Coutotenc, a mountain village of one hundred and sixty souls. He is deep in the rough with no means of communicating with the outside world other than Shank's mares. He expects to have a telephone and some trucks later but his only present means of getting anywhere is to walk. There are not even any horses. That means that at least one of Benning's most enthusiastic poloists is going to be badly out of practice when the war is over.

Major Arnold has another artilleryman, Lieutenant Jack Murphy, formerly of Benning, with him. Lieutenant Murphy is an engaging fellow with a gift for clever wisecracks and a sense of humor. This last mentioned quality is a most important asset under the circumstances.

Major Arnold has no drinking water supply problem. There is plenty of water for bathing purposes also in the mountain streams that flow by the camp, but the Major's letter indicated that baths would never be popular until some kind of a water heating arrangement be improvised.

Major Arnold states that last year his camp site was under seven feet of snow before September. It looks like a long, hard winter.

The company is located in a gold producing district and the country full of prospectors. Gold bearing sand was encountered during the construction of the outside plumbing installations for the camp and several flakes were washed out by the good old forty-nine method. Our mind's eye penetrating the future, conjures up a picture of our popular Artilleryman, gone completely native after long years of service in the Reforestation Army. He is looking off toward the back areas of his camp and our prophetic ears hear him muttering, "Thar's gold in them thar latrines."

MORE FRONTIER TALES

The trials of an army officer on C. C. C. duty in wildest California-Hollywood excepted-are well illustrated by the experience of Captain Harvey H. Smith.

Captain Smith is located some 100 miles from Fresno. He is thirty miles from his railhead and fifteen from the nearest post office. His camp is pitched on the edge of Sequoia National Park and when we say "edge" we have reference to vertical as well as horizontal direction. It took him three days to pitch three tents on the precipitous mountain side that was assigned him for a camp site. In this connection it is also worthy of mention that an expedition sent out to cut tent poles to replace those which were left at Knox, had to go six and one-half miles before they found for the purpose.

Bathing is an adventure rather than an incident in the lives of Captain Smith and his men. It requires resolution, endurance and fortitude. One must first climb far down the mountain to the stream that furnishes the facilities, such as they are, and then brave water that a few moments before was sliding over a glacier. As might be expected under the circumstances, only a few of the more hardy have had a bath since leaving Camp

Captain Smith reports that a bear broke into the camp of his nearest C. C. C. neighbor and made heavy inroads into the Class I supplies. of some of our mighty hunters be-P. A. L. fore the Lord like High-Gun Hodges and Chief Eagle-Eye Bradley, but we hardly expect it to result in a flood of urgent requests for front line assignments. The call of the wild appeals strongly to such a red blooded he-men but we have noted a willingness to await an unsolicited military order before heeding it.

SEEING AMERICA FIRST

Major Kraft's letters home go into raptures over the scenery. We quote "This is the most beautiful country I have ever seen x x x x. Our camp is in a tall pine woods and just outside my tent is a tree about six feet in diameter and 100 feet tall. Most of the rest are just as large. About a quarter mile from camp the road winds around the side of the mountain and there is a straight drop of 2,000 feet to the canyon bottom beany trees small enough to be used low. x x x x. Surrounding this are snow capped mountains and off to the north you can see Mount Lassen."

He also has something to say about the cold nights.

"Last night I slept under four blankets and had the bedding roll folded round me but still almost froze."

Now we understand why Long Tom Hearn sent in a frantic S. O. S. appeal to have his two West Point blankets sent by air mail. The Columbus Ledger scooped us on that story so we won't repeat it. We won't even comment on it other than to remark, in passing, that Major Hearn's ideas on supplying the shock troops regardless of expense are more applicable to a state of war than to a This bit of news will stir the blood peace time emergency with a pay cut in full operation.

(Please turn to page 5)

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

THE

Post Exchange

has a

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The hours of this service are from 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

THE FLARE (Continued from page 4)

But to quote further from the Schedule Maker:

"These people out here seem to have no idea of distances; anything up to fifty miles is just a short step and they think nothing of traveling 50 or 100 miles to see a moving pic-

Plumas National Park is evidently no place for a movie fan. One hundred miles is a long way to go even to see Marlene Dietrich or Joan Crawford. We wonder if the back yard scenery which "The Big Cheese" speaks of so glowingly makes up for this disadvantage.

GOLDEN OPPORTUNITY

Of the home town boys now campaigning with the C. C. C. in the Far West, seven that we know of are located within easy striking distance of Reno. Viscount Johnson's post office address is Westwood; Tank Tacticians Roberts, Reeder and Wadsworth, are at Blairsden, Calpine and Nevada City respectively; Schedule-Maker Kraft is near Greenville; Artilleryman Arnold is at Contotenc and Monitor Vernon Evans is outposting a village called Eukiah. None of these places means anything to us but we list them for the benefit of those who are interested in the geography of the hinterland. When last visited by early 20th century explorers they were located in Lassen and Plumas National Parks.

Mrs. Reeder professes to be worried over the fact that Major Reeder is fifty miles nearer the divorce center of the U.S. than Viscount Johnson. There is no evidence, however, that any of these Benning officers have taken steps to establish a residence. Of course there is no hurry. It only takes six weeks to establish a legal residence and it is beginning to look as if the boys would be on the job for at least six months.

From the wives' point of view, Reno might be not only a convenient

Accounts of Fort

Benning Personnel

Solicited.

"The White Bank"

but a strategic place in which to locate in case they prefer to be near their husbands during the current emergency. It would certainly simplify things should they suddenly decide that the career of an army wife hasn't much to recommend it in these days of pay freezes, reduced allowances, and C. C. C. duty.

HOME GUARD NOTES

Gadgeteer Malin Craig has requested us to give the widest possible publicity to the fact that he is now on C. C. duty. He hopes thereby to reestablish himself in the good graces of the women who have been snubbing him because their husbands have been ordered to all sorts of unheard of places in the sticks. Now that he is roughing it in a fan-cooled office at Post Headquarters he hopes that his presence at social gatherings will not cause the wives of his friends to see red.

Secretary Emeritus Deacon Leard has practically given up hope of landing an assignment with the Reforestation Army.

"They won't even give me one of the veteran companies," he complained bitterly. "We Untouchables need a Mahatma Ghandhi."

Speaking of the veteran companies reminds us that Major Dan Howe, who wa slated to command one of them, has been detailed to the Kentucky National Guard. That leaves a good opening for some major with combat service. Far be it from us to advise G. H. Q., but we wonder if anybody up there has thought of Major Chink Hall. He has one of the choicest collections of campaign ribbons in these parts.

Major Schnitz Schneider is another good bet. Or if they want somebody with a lot of rank what's the matter with Colonel Rico Rice? Colonel Rice not only has a splendid A. E. F. record but he did a fine job with the Carthaginian guardsmen in The Road to Rome.

We are saving a few battle scarred veterans for nominations in our next issue. Officers who do not wish their names brought forward at this time will do well to see us in the meantime. Our terms are reasonable.

HOLE IN ONE

There is no congestion on the golf course these days. Only a few of our hardiest Indispensables have the temerity to play regularly. There is a feeling that too many appearances may impair the untouchable status of those who are none too sure of their home guard assignments. For the same reason perhaps ,there is less tendency than usual for the semi-professional golfers to tell the world all about their good shots.

They are making them, however. About two weeks ago Colonel Fabius Maximus Kelly, playing number 16, uttered a solemn vow to high heaven that, for once. he would not look up and swung. The grip was correct, the stance perfect and the follow-through superb. With breathless interest Coloels Munson, Rice and Bonesteel, the other members of the foursome, watched the flight of the ball. Not so Fabius Maximus. He kept his head down while he counted three and then turned resolutely away to admire he sunset. It was not until the audience rushed forward to shake his hand that he realized that he had achieved one of those rare great moments in the life of a golfer by making a hole in Colonel Munson insists that the erstwhile stage husband of the beautiful Amytis didn't get the maximum thrill out of the shot because he didn't see it. When the foursome lined up at the refreshment counter, however, the Dictator ordered a ten cent drink without even waiting to see who was going to be stuck.

APPROVED SOLUTION

Another great golf shot that has recently come to our attention was made by Colonel Chaffin. Approaching No. 9 green the Colonel was in a hurry—a big hurry. He had an important engagement that brooked no delay. He couldn't even wait to putt. It was an emergency calling for quick thinking, prompt action and real athletic prowess. Colonel Chaffin rose to the occasion by sinking a fifty yard approach shot and making record breaking fifty yard dash to the Club House.

N.B.: He made the appointment on time.

IT PROBABLY WASN'T THE COLONEL'S SCORE

Our third golf story is not concerned with drives and approach shots but with elementary education.

Cannonball Pierce, the former meteor of the polo field and tennis course was adding up the opposition score as the foursome strolled toward the golf shop.

"Six and two is nine," chanted the Lieutenant.

"Your grammar is atrocious, young man," said Colonel Weeks. "It's six and two are nine."

-E. F. H.

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital

1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313 SHAMMY SHINER

> THE NEW WASHABLE POLISHING CLOTH

FOR ALL METAL INSIGNIA AND EQUIPMENT

Does not soil the hands or clothing and does away with messy powders, liquids and pastes. The polishing materials are scientifically processed right into the cloth and one Shammy Shiner lasts indefi-nitely. Just a light rub and your insignia or equipment is made bright and new in a jiffy.

Ask for it at your Post Exchange

N. S. MEYER, INC. NEW YORK

Distributors to the Military and Naval Trade

The Garden Spot the World Hotel AL Facing Beautiful Bay Biscayne and the Atlantic Ocean

An Ideal Combination for a SUMMER VACATION

Most of the recreations of the winter season with low summer hotel rates. 250 rooms, each with bath and radio.

> J. Frank Gough, Manager. Please write for folder.

FLORIDA COLLIER COAST HOTELS AND ASSOCIATED HOTELS

Year Around Hotels

Year Around Hetels Court, West Palm Be Dixie

Season Hotels Manatee River, Bradenton Sarasota Terrace, Sarasota Reyal Worth, West Palm Beach

333

9 111

THE DIXIE COURT

W. PALM BEACH

PRIVATE BATH

ROOM and

EVERY FACILITY FOR COMFORT and HAPPINESS

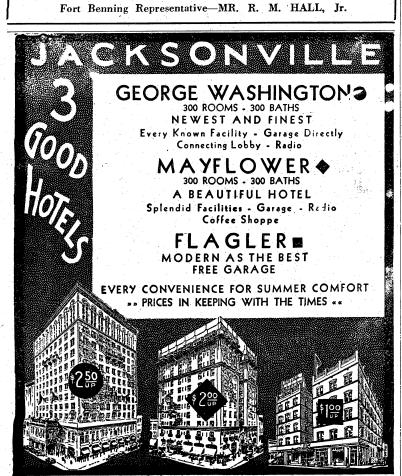

FLORIDAN TAMPA

TAMPA TERRACE TAMPA

ASSOCIATED HOTELS

JACKSONVILLE HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

OWNER

DIRECTOR

ROBERT KLOEPPEL .

RESOURCES OVER ______3,200,000.00

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Double Main Go Features Thursday Fight

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

turns on the coming battle between ian. Finally he headed for the ropes

Jack Sharkey ,the Boston bean-eater, and Primo Carnera, Italian giant. The bout will go fifteen rounds and the winner will be the heavyweight champion of the world.

This will be Sharkey's first defense of the title he won from the German, Schmeling, some time ago, and the talkative Bostonian seems convinced that there can only be one outcome to the fight-that Sharkey will win.

Sharkey is an unpopular champion. He is what may be classified as an "in-and-outer," a victim of his own temperament, and the crowd never adheres to a fighter of this type. Fans expect that the champion should be in championship form all the time and rightly too perhaps.

But, even at that, when Sharkey made the statement that he was confident of defeating the Italian menace, i must be confessed that he had some basis for such an opinion. In the days gone by, when Jack was not occupying the throne, he once met Car-

Carnera had been winning all his fighs by the knockout route. True. he had not met any fighter who could have been considered by any stretch of the imagination a top-notcher, but he nevertheless looked very impressive. The leading heavies did not know quite what to make of this new menace—so they took the path of least resistance, and refused to fight Primo—all except Sharkey.

In the third round, the present title-holder cut loose and dropped Carnera. Primo rose at the count of nine. Sharkey came across at him like a lion sensing the kill; and Carnera discreetly dropped on one knee to avoid being hit. The referee be-gan the count and Sharkey went wild. He stormed about the ring like a

Now that Baer and Schmeling have | and everyone else was trying to prefought their little war, the spotlight vent him from knocking out the Italand would assuredly have left the ring had not his manager and seconds prevented him.

After this brief display of temperament, Sharkey settled down and took an easy decision from his huge opponent. The Bostonian is certain that Carnera will be an easy mark when the two meet again. He has said as much in statements to the

And Sharkey looks good in training. He is fast and clever and punches like a mule. The way he mauls sparring partners around should be enough to get the humane societies on his trail.

In the game of September 3, 1910, between Washington and the Philadelphia Athletics, substitute hitters fared hopelessly at the hands of Walter Johnson, great pitcher for the Senators. In the eighth inning Manager Connie Mack sent in three pinch hitters in succession:—Hartsel, Hauser and Lapp. And the Big Train neatly fanned every one of the three!

On May 1, 1920, Brooklyn met Boston with Leon Cadore working for the Dodgers and Joe Oeschger for the Braves. In the early innings each club scored one run. The tie remained in force when the ninth came and went. Inning succeeded inning and either side could break through the marvelous pitching. The sun went down and still the two teams struggled. At last came the twenty-sixth inning. Neither side was able to break the deadlock and the game was called on account of darkness. Both pitchers worked the entire distance. But the strain proved too great and it is history that neither Oeschger nor Cadore ever again show ed the form that had made them stars madman, convinced that the referee for their respective teams.

Tetherton - Hood; B A Posev-Baisden Are Slated To Meet

Dapper Doyle To Meet Billy Hyde In Feature 6-Rounder Next Thursday

A fistic treat that is a fistic treat is in store for the followers of Fort Benning leatherpunching activities on Benning leatherpunching activities on June 29. The exciting announcements Engineers. A's match with Billy Hood and Kid Baisden was in line for another grack of den was in line for another grack of den was in line for another crack at Four-H Posey, created quite a furor a very agreeable furor.

A licensed National Boxing Association referee will officiate over the semi-final and final bouts, thus dispensing with the practice of having one man inside the ropes and two vithout for the purpose of rendering Tetherton is confident that he will take the Orlando fighter this trip. Few fans will have forgotten the catastrophe that overtook Rip when he met Billy Hood some weeks ago. Tetherton was standing up in the ring about thirty seconds after the gong; the rest of the time, he was out cold. The general opinion is that Tetherton was too confident before the battle, hence a little careless.

Kid Baisden some time ago by a technical knockout is a favorite with the fans in this vicinity, and no mistake. Posey has a remarkable record. He has lost only six fights in his entire career, and has never been laid among the chrysanthemums. Over bid of the crew from the 83rd F. half of his fights have been won by the knockout route, and Kid Baisden, to Posey ,was merely something to fatten his K. O. record on.

But Kid Baisden, although his endurance is nothing remarkable, is quite a leather tosser himself. The lad punches and punches—and when we say he punches, we mean puches. The art of lovetapping is a nonentity to this boy.

With two feature ten-round bouts on the program of such a calibre as the Tetherton-Hood bout and the Baisden-Posey battle royal, the rest of the card could afford to be weak. But it is not, for the Athletic Association is busy matching good boys in the preliminary bouts to do justice to the main goes. Lay your ducats on the counter.

Mrs Lewis Winner Of Blind Bogev Golf Tournment

The "blind bogey" golf tournament at Fort Benning Tuesday was won by Mrs. Henry B. Lewis, her scores on six of the holes being the same that had previously been put down by Frank Goss, professional at the Officers' Club.

Women players from the Columbus Country club and the officers' club took part in the tournament.

Mrs. Roy Burns and Mrs. Gordon Flournoy tied for second place in the tournament, each having the same scores on five of the holes as the "bogey" against which all players were competing. Mrs. Russell J. Nelson, Fort Benning, also was tied for second place, but lost out in a draw that was held immediately finishing the play.

In the second flight of the day's play, Mrs. James B. Woolnough was the successful competior scoring six holes similar to the scores arranged for that flight. Mrs Thomas S. Arms, (Please turn to Page 7)

By JACK GIBNEY

ball league: Battery A ____3 Battery C _____3 2
Battery B ____2 1
Engineers ____2 0
Ord. & Sig.___2 0

B Battery Beats

Devotees of the national pastime of baseball performed their opening devotions Monday at the R. O. T. C. camp at Fort Benning in a barrage of base-hits. Battery B swamped the Engineers in a game which was called in the third inning on account of rain. At that point the big bats from Battery B had rolled up a total of lo, 1st Bn. center fielder was the 18 runs, while the Engineers had not outstanding hitting star of he game been able to break into the scoring column.

The picked team from the R. O. T. C. camp played its opening game in the regular intramural baseball league on Wednesday afternoon, drop ping the second game of the doubleheader to 2nd Battalion, 29th Infanry, by a score of 1-0.

In the opening game of the twin bill, Special Units turned back the bid of the crew from the 83rd F. (Please turn to page 7)

Standings of the R. O. T. C. base- A., 9-6. As is the usual thing, the potent bat of Futch, center gardener for the Greencords, played a prominent part in the win. McIntyre started on the mound for Special Units, and pitched well to the veteran receiver, McCarthey.

During the game, however, the starting battery was removed, and the ace battery of Gilbert, pitching, and Newman catching went in to guaran-

First Bn. Bv 6-3

In Monday's game, Lefty Nichols, who relieved Harkey in the early innings, pitched 2nd Bn., 29th Inf. to a win over 1st Bn., 29th Inf. The score was 6-3, and Foster went into the records as the losing pitcher. Rolcollecting three singles in four trips to the plate.

Tanks Take Close Win Over Hq. Bn.

The Terrible Tankers were not too Four-H Posey is a big drawing card here. The youth who turned back

Special Units Take

awe-inspiring in their game with Headquarters Battalion on ednesday, but Swantia used three catchers in but Swantic used three catchers in the course of the afternoon and a ninth inning come-back put them in front by a score of 7-6.

White started for Headquarters

A SYMBOL OF SATISFACTION

Whenever you see the NEHI Cola cap anywhere, that's a sign that someone has been satisfied. fying as NEHI Cola.

10 ROUND FINAL Rip Tetherton

Post Gymnasium, 8:15 P. M.

BOXING

THURSDAY JUNE 29TH

Billy Hood

Orlando, Fla.

10 Round Final Four-H Posey

Kid Baisden Valdosta, Ga.

Peducah, Ky. Dapper Doyle

6 Rounds

Young Hyde Oklahoma

Daniel Webster

6 Rounds VS.

Dummy Nix Columbus

29th. Inf.

4 Rounds

Squint Johnson

Honolulu, Hawaii Young Griffin

Bogart Gully

vs. 4 Rounds $\mathbf{vs.}$

29th Inf. Tiger Thornton

29th Inf. General Admission 50c

Tanks Ringside $1.00

Tickets on Sale at Hubbard Hardware Co.; Wheat's Drug Store; Officers' Club; and all orderly rooms. MRS. LEWIS WINS GOLF TOUR-NAMENT

(Continued From Page 6)

Fort Benning, was second in this flight, scoring five holes with the number of strokes that were considered to be the ones for the tournament.

The entries for the tournament were unexpectedly large and members of the Officers' club committee, who arranged for the play stated that they were encouraged to attempt further meets of the same order for the summer schedule.

With husbands of Fort Benning golf players ether absent in California or other places on duty with the Civilian Conservative corps, ladies of the club have conceived the idea of combining with members of the Columbus Country Club for tournaments in which members of either club are eligible to compete. The meet Tuesday was in the nature of an experiment to determine if there were sufficient interest in the two clubs during the summer months to warrant carrying on regular tournaments. The success of this one seems to indicate that other novelty plays of a similar nature will be held throughout the sum-

With the state woman's championship meet scheduled to be played at the local Country club the later part of the summer, it is considered by members of the committees at both the Country club and the Officers' club to be highly desirable that the maximum number of members of both clubs play golf during the summer months in order to be in trim for entry into the state meet.

The members of the Officers' club golf committee which arranged for this tournament were: Mrs. Ralph B. Lovett and Mrs. John E. Hull. The chairman of the committee, under whose supervision all of the arrangements at the Officers' club course are made is Mrs. Jesse A. Ladd.

> BASEBALL (Continued from page 6)

enth, when he was relieved by Parsons, an outfielder who has been revamped into a hurler.

McLane, Smith and Killabrew got the most of Headquarters safeties, and supplied he punch that pushed over those necessary runs. Rowan's single in the ninth scored Hodges with the tying run, and Smith followed with another single which scored Moon to stop the game in the ninth with nobody out.

Howard Bus Line, Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

Fro	m m	.1111	Fro	m
Columbus				ning
5:00	AM		6:00	AM
6:00	"		7:50	# .
7:00	66		9:15	64
8:30	44		10:45	"
10:00	. 66		12:45	PM
11:45	"		2:15	- 66
1:30	PM		4:15	44 €
3:00			5:10	"
5:00	46	1	6:00	.44
7:00	"	100	7:00	44
9:00	.44		8:00	44
10:30	"		9:45	: 66
12:00	M		11:15	44
1.00		1.1	12:00	M
		"Extras
410	I	HONE	S	224
CITY			P	OST

Fresh from his triumph in the national open at Glenview, Ill., Johnny Goodman, the new golf king, is greeted on his return to his native Omaha, Neb., by Miss Josephine Kersiga, who, according to reports, believes that Johnny is not only a good man, but perfect.

C. C. C.'s BEING MOVED TO ENCAMPMENT (Continued From Page 1)

Infanry (Light Tanks), acting first

Three companies are scheduled to leave today. There are Company 1438, commanded by Captain Pierre lyn D. Tharpe, Infantry, Company 1438 commanded by Captain Pierre Mallett, 83rd F. A., and Company 1420 commanded by 1st Lieut. Gustin M. Nelson, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks). Captain Tharpe's company goes to Midway, Ala., Lieut. McCormick's company to Near Metz Tower, Fla. Capain Mallett's company to Aiken, S. C., and Lieut. Nelson's company to Lake Kurr, Fla.

Three companies are tentatively scheduled to leave Saturday and two Sunday. The companies leaving Saturday are Company 1425 commanded by Captain Grover C. Graham, Company 1450 commanded by Captain Henry E. Sowall, F. A. and Company 1442 commanded by Captain A. D. Thomas, 83rd F. A. Captain Graham's company goes to Jackson, Walton county, Florida, Captain Sowall's company to Fort George, Fla., and Lieut. Thomas' company to Selma, Tenn. The last company is the first company to be sent to a forest work camp outside of the area comprised of the five states from which the men now at the Benning conditioning camp were drawn.

Tentatively scheduled to leave Sunday are Company 1441 (colored), commanded by Captain Orryl S. Robles, and Company 1406 commanded by Capain Leonard Murphy, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks). Captain Robles' company goes to Middle Prong, Baker county, Fla. Captain Murphy's company holds the record for being the longest company to remain in the Benning camp. It has been here from the start and has gone through all the vicissitudes of the measles quarantine. In spite of this it has maintained throughout a high stolen his gun an dhe was trying to morale which is at once a tribute ity of the men in the zation and to the character of the regular army personnel which has been with it. It's work camp station is to be in the vicinity of Prosperity,

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

Good? He's Perfect! R.O.T.C. Golfers Begin Play This Afternoon At One

The qualifying round which will aid in determining the golf cham-pion of this year's R. O. T. C. camp will be played Friday afternoon over the Officers' Club course at Fort Benning, beginning at one o'clock.

The following players are scheduled to play in this qualifying round: Mc-Carty, F. Jones, Taylor, Sweeney, Morris, J. A. Jones, Jr., A. T. Race, Kelly, Lantaff, Rogers and Bowers.

The finals of the match play are listed for Wednesday, June 28.

83rd F. A.

The famous and only Boob Hurst is again in the limelight. It seems a very hard job for Boob to keep his class "A" pass. We suggest that he be issued two kinds of passes, one permanent pass and one temporary pass, so that if one is taken up he can still use the other one.

We welcome the three new recruits who have been assigned to this battery and we hope that their stay in this orgnaization will be a pleasant one, as this is one of the best organizations in he army.

The battery is testing a new insect exterminator in odrer to rid the barracks of mosquitos and other insects, mostly other insects. Latina, our beauty specialists, states that it is good for dandruff and it will also restore lost We suggest that you practice what you say, John, and give us a demonstration for the balded men of this battalion.

Foot's Cutrer has been appointer official referee for all wrestling bouts to be held at Hancock's, Phenix City, Ala. Cutrer s also training at Nora's Gmn, locaed on second avenue Columbus, Ga., for a match with the Heavy-weight Champion of the south, the Great Paul Jones, the Yoddling Ice Man.

Sam Hale and Allen havee applied for membership in he Royal Order of Guinea Chasers. Sam Hale chased a young Guinea Saturday night and finally captured it on fourteenth street. Allen expects to have Sam as his sonin law. We don't wish you any hard luck, Allen, but a baker's helper makes a very poor son-in-law.

BATTERY "A"

The Battery has a couple of new N. C. O.'s, Cpl. Charles E. Fulford was appointed Sergeant, and Pfsc. Henry B. Sailers was appointed Corporal. As Sailers drew ou ton some of the men that were in line for the same rating, a key to the crying room was issued. Better luck next Boys!

We have a number of discharges coming up in he next few days. Sgt. Fulford and Sg. Jeff Smith, our mess sergeant, we all hope Jeff wll enlist as a good mess Sgt. is hard to find.

The Battery has had four of our men to leave with the C. C. C. for Soperton, eorgia. Cpl. Rogers, Sgt. Cole, Cpl. North and Pfc. Burns. Here's hoping they like their new lo-

Pfc. Dunn was seen running around the guard house the other night. Some one asked Dunn what was the idea of all the running, Dunn's answer was that he dreamed that some one had catch them.

CAPTAIN VAUTRIN MAKES SHORT VISIT TO BENNING (Continued from page 2)

tions, carried out by the visits of officers of the United States army and of foreign armies to the various training schools of the countries conrelationship The friendly cerned. between the different nations that follow this custom is being fostered by the association of military personnel with each other.

Captain Vautrin was escorted on his tour of the post by Major Emil W. Leard, secretary of the Infantry School. At the conclusion of visit tomorrow morning Captain Vautrin flew to Fort McClellan, Ala., and from there to California, presumably for a visit at the Presidio of San Francisco.

High-brow Pitcher

Hal Schumacher, star hurler of the New York Giants, is upsetting tra-dition that all pitchers have above their necks is ivory. He has just been graduated with honors from St. Lawrence University. He is shown when he took a day off from mound duty to get his

READY FOR A DATE?

Sure, you're ready, when you take one of Still's cars. It will get you there quickly and bring you back just as quick-ly. Reasonable prices—good

STILL'S

RENT - A CAR CO. 1232 1ST AVE.

READ HERALD ADVERTISEMENTS

GLORIFIES YOUR BREAKFAST

When in doubt give 'em "Old Settler's Pork Sausage." The Sausage that never lacks zest. Every pound U. S. Government Inspected. Every pound guaranteed by - - -

The Provision Co., Inc.

Show The Ump!

Yep! that's what we mean! You can show the ump that you know almost as much about baseball as he does by buying only the best of equipment . . . bats, gloves and balls that will help make you a better player.

You can get every kind and type of athletic equipment at the Main Branch. Phone 608.

POST EXCHANGE

BENNING, GA. FORT

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

C.C.C. Personnel Does Fine Job In Laving Out Camp

The Fort Benning conditioning camp, was laid out by personnel of the Conservation Corps, under the direction of Major F. A. Heileman, Corps of Engineers. Conservation Corps personnel also constructed the camp, except for installation of water and light, which was handled by the Utilities Division of the Quartermaster

The camp was originally prepared to take care of four thousand men. About the middle of May, however, word was received to prepare for a maximum quoa of ten thousand recruits. This necessitated the erection of tents for some twenty-eight additional companies, with the necessary shower baths, kitchens, dining, storage, and office tents. There were also some additional miscellaneous installations, such as recreation tents, canteen tents, and hospital tents. In all a camp of approximately one thousand tents had to be erected.

Since recruits were expected to arrive in about a week, and the rate of influx was uncertain, it was highly desirable to complete the new portion of the camp as rapidly as possi-

HALF SOLES A GOOD A BETTER 50c · Half Half . Sole

LAMAC SOLE $1.00 The Only 5-Unit Machine In Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY We specialize in cripple work

1234 Broadway

Dependable Electric and Gas

Phone 565

Service

A Citizen Wherever We Serv 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

Men Who Laid Out Camp

Engineer party that laid out extension to the Fort Benning conditioning camp for the Civilian Conservation Corps. The Benning camp at its largest sheltered nearly 10,000 men. All of the men comprising the pary including its foreman, L. L. Towle, a graduate of the University of Cincinnati, are members of the C. C. C. except Private 1st Class H. S. Ivey, who belongs to the 7th Engineers.

Front row, left to right: M. G. Swearingan (axeman), Edgefield, S. C., Rogers (axeman), Columbia, S. C., Private H. S. Ivey (instrument man), 7th Engineers, Ft. Benning, Ga., L. L. Towle (foreman of party), Mobile, Ala., James Logan (stakesman), Bishopsville, S. C., G. W. Hancock, (axeman), Columbia, S. C.

Rear row, left to right: Yates Shearer (axeman), Columbia, S. C., Johnny Johnson (instrument man), Moultrie, Ga., C. B. Webb (head chainman), Columbia, S. C., W. E. Parris (axeman), Columbia, S. C., W. R. Dozier (head rodman), Columbia, S. C.

One member of the party, Groutman, (rear chainman), is not in the picture.

site of the new addition, plans were four corners of kitchens, storage tents, approved on May 20, and layout start. mess tents, bath houses, and the thired on Sunday, May 21.

A hand-picked crew of engineers from the Conservation men in camp was selected by means of the classification cards made out during the processing of recruits. This crew, whose picture appears above, laid out the company streets, tent lines, kitchens, mess tents, shower baths, and the necessary drainage ditches. Mr. Lucian Towle, an engineer graduate of the University of Cincinnati, now a member of the C. C. C. was in charge of all survey work. He was ably assisted by Private Ivy, Co. A, 7th Engineers. The other members of the engineering crew, practically all of whom are experienced in engineer work, were C. C. C. men.

The method of construction was as follows: A survey party laid out the base line for the camp, turned off ninety degree lines for company

Gordon Field was assigned as the streets, and drove stakes marking the ty-eight pyramidal tents forming each company street. The survey crew was followed by a second crew which located and drove stakes for the center poles of all tents, and marked identification corners with white tape. A canvas crew, which came next, pitched the tents.

trenches for pipe lines and drainage. As each company was completed, the work was passed on by an inspector. Water mains and pipes were installed by the Post Quartermaster, who also furnished electric light installations.

Erection of tents was carried on by companies of the Conservation Corps already formed. Considerable difficulty was occasioned by the hardness of the ground, which necessitated the use of a drill to drive holes to receive the tent pegs. Work progressed rapidly, however, and by noon May 31, ten days after the start of the survey work, the new addition, with a capacity of six thousand, was complete, with tents up, ditches dug, water and light connected, and kitchens ready to operate. Thereupon the men of the engineer crew, with the exception of certain members retained as foremen on other jobs, reverted to their proper companies, having very creditably accomplished a task of considerable magniude and some difficulty.

All work was finished on or ahead of schedule, and the camp was com

Then came a ditching crew digging pleted in ample time to receive the newcomers.

> The men worked efficiently, faith fully and willingly on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays, when others of the Conservation Corps were enjoying baseball and swimming, and deserve much credit. Their only erward is the satisfaction which comes from a job well done, and the knowledge that they had made it possible for new recruits to be received in an established camp with every provision made for their comfort and conven-

General Insurance We Specialize In Automobile Liability and Property Damage Morton Realty Co.

Phone 544 - Swift Bldg. Columbus, Ga.

We have an experienced Graduate Masseur or Masseuse whom we send to Fort Benning each Monday, Wednesday and Friday who can conveniently give Swedish Massages and Mineral Baths in your home. Reasonable Rates. We have many luxurious and beneficial Treatments for Health, Beauty and Happiness.

Treatments conveniently given at home include Swedish Shampoo, Turkish Shampoo, Oxygen, Sulphur, Nauheim, Oil of Eucalyptus, Saline Baths, Salt Glow, etc.

Office hours 10 a.m. to 5 p.m.-Evenings by appointment

Swedish Russian Cabinet Turkish Baths

SPECIAL REDUCING TREATMENTS

RIGDON HEALTH INSTITUTE

216 Doctors Building

Phone 1037

Only Thirty Miles From Columbus

Oak Mountain Springs AND SWIMMING

ON OAK MOUNTAIN-SIX MILES PAST WAVERLY HALL

OPENING ON JULY SECOND (P. M.)

BOYS' SUMMER CAMP

OPEN TO BOYS FROM 7 TO 14

Two weeks of grand fun for boys—fishing—swimming—frog-gigging -riding-hiking-everything that any healthy boy wants to do. Oak Mountain Springs is a fine place for a boy's vacation and there isn't a boy yet who wouldn't enjoy a trip here this summer.

RATES $10.00 PER WEEK

FOR INFORMATION OR RESERVATIONS, CALL HUMES-PHONE 381 OR P. B. AUSTIN-3778-W.

CLOSES ON JULY NINETEENTH

The people of Fort Benning are especially invited to drive up here and see the Springs. A few days' stay is quite inexpensive and will do much to help pass away a dull summer. The hotel is well-managed and the pool is one of the best you've ever seen.

Real Southern cooking with all vegetables, eggs, chickens, etc., supplied from our own farm. American plan hotel, including three meals daily-with special rates for children. If you are in search of a delightful rest, try this famous resort for a few weeks.

Mountain Springs

For Information or Reservations call Mr. J. E. Humes-381

CONDITION

Just as condition means everything to an athlete, so does good condition mean everything in the life of your car. By keeping it in good condition, you guarantee safety, economy and long-life.

The Auto Department will be able to do much to elp you keep your car at its best. Have it inspected regularly and use only the best of oils and greases. By so doing you are guaranteeing that you will get the utmost benefit from your present car.

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY JUNE 30, 1933

NUMBER 10

ITOWN

The dearth of material in these parts caused temporary suspension of this column's activities last week. We are now prepared to start out afresh, although we are still handicapped by a lack of available, appropriate topics. Summer is now with us. Those of you who have not realized this fact now informed. Such a beginning of course, indicated but one thing-that we are either suffering from the excess heat or that we are lacking material for this column. The latter assumption is correct, although there are probably many reasons that could be advanced in favor of the former.

The roses that bloom in spring wither in summer. Where are the dashing ieutenants who made life so enjoyale for the debs and sub-debs some me ago? Gone reforestating, of ourse—he inevitable answer has a

The ranks of the artillery has been adly depleted. Tommy "Watch me p" Sherburne has departed for other limes. Tap-dancing has gone out of ogue on the post since the irresistile, irrepressible Tommy went the ay of all bachelor lieutenans. Jimmy eriot and Bill Grubbs, inseparable (Please turn to page 9)

Iai. General Croft Visits Ft. Benning

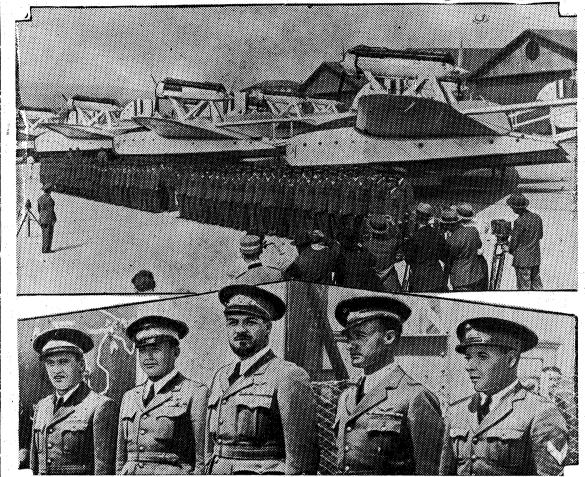

A brief tour of the post of Fort Benning, a conference with the Infantry Board, and a luncheon given in his honor at the Officers' Club by Colonel Fred L. Munson, acting commandant of the post, occupied most of Monday's visit by Major General Edward Croft, chief of Infantry, to the home of the Infantry

Immediately following a short tour of the post the first thing Monday morning, General Croft conferred with the Infantry Board relative to the work that was being carried on in connection with the studies of new tactics of infantry warfare and items of equipment. At the luncheon, which was given at the Officers' Club at 1:00 p. m. the commanding officers of the varirus units of the post, the members of the Infantry Board, and officers of the staff honored the chief on infantry by their presence. The list of guests included Colonel Munson, acting commandant; Colonel George E. Baltzell, who was host to General Croft during his stay; Colonel Ephraim G. Peyton, executive officer; Colonel William L. Persons, 29th Infanry; Colonel J. DeCamp Hall, post quartermaster, Colonel Charles F. Morse, Medical Corps; Lieutenant Colonel Frank F. Jewett, Infantry; Reginald L. Kelley, Infantry; Andrew D. Chaffin, 29th Infantry; Joseph A. Atkins, Infantry; Rowan P. Lemly, 29th Infantry; Thomas J. Leary, Medical Cerps, Burton L. Seeley, Veterinary Corps; C. H. White, office of the chief of infantry; Elmer F. Rice, 29th Infantry; Charles H. Bonesteel, Inantry; Major Thomas B. Catron, Infantry; Gusav H. Franke, (Col); and ing, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks).

Italian Air Fleet Poised for Chicago Hop

Tuned to the pack of condition for their mass flight to the world's Fair at Chicago, this mighty armada of 24 seaplanes is pictured at Orbetello, Italy, with the brigade of specially-trained fliers who will pilot them on the hazardous trip, as they awaited favorable weather for the take-off. Lower photo is General Italo Balbo, Italian Air Minister, (with beard) who leads the flight, with some of his officers.

Woman's Club Accomplishments In Retrospect

Prominent Organization Has Added Much Of Value To Social Life Of Post

banding for the summer, it may per- while, I did not suppose army peo chance prove interesting to take a ple could get into the spirit of the retrospective view of some of the ple could get into the spirit of th splendid things accomplished during type of work undertaken in civiliar the past season by Benning's public spirited women.

my stay at Benning has been a revela- never seen any group of women enter tion to me," a civilian visitor recently more heartily into all phases of eduremarked to a Benning army woman.

"I had always thought of army women as a most frivolous, class leading a butterfly existence, with hardly a serious thought beyond their duties to their families," continued the visit-circles. My experience at Benning has shown me most forcibly what a Contact with army women during mistaken idea this was, for I have cational, civic and philanthropic en-deavors."

"It is true," replied the army wife, "that there is a large amount of social life in any army Post-innumerable calls that must be made, much "Knowing that they are to be entertaining expected of an army wo-

As the Fort Benning clubs are dis- stationed in any place such a short man, regimental and Post affairs to attend as part of her duty to her husband. With the expense thus entailed and another move always in view. an army woman must be a good manager to make ends meet and live within an officer's salary. So there is little time to spare for public spirited work and yet hundreds of army women find time to meet with eager willingness every call for service.

The Infantry School Woman's Club was cited to the civilian friend as an example of what might be accomplished by an organization of army women despite the handicap of fre-(Please turn to page 4)

Citation For The Flare's Conductor - - Vale!

Popular Columnist, With Herald Since First Issue, Writes Last Contribution

Herald, for all the surviving columnists to give a brother writer a good send-off when he was the recipient of a W. D. order detailing him for a change of station. This law applies to practically every columnist who ever wrote for the paper, and to the ladies, too, So, when in the regular course of events the conductor of the FLARE was detailed to C. C. C. duty at McClellan, the staff of the paper feels it incumbent upon itself to make more than a bare mention of the fact . . . in fact to write a sort of eulogy upon him.

As regards the word eulogy just used . . . perhaps some students of the English language might dispute our Captains Wendell H. Bevan, 83rd correctness in using it to describe the Field Artillery and Donald H. Spald deeds of a mere pen-pusher. But, we

It has long been the custom, in the lask that those who are sticklers for which appears his week, is an excelaccuracy bear with us and accept the word for what it is worth when we attempt to write of one who justly deserves some such term.

And, we might add, we are perfectly sincere in our eulogizing the departed Conductor. We, of all people, realize to what a great extent his weekly contribution benefited the Herald, and the garrison, itself. It was one of those columns which add spice to any paper, one which dealt with the vicissitudes of the personnel of Benning with a light hand, but with one that spared neither the highest or lowest. His comments ranged from exposition of the golf playing habits of the Headquarters Staff down to the maneuver adventures of the men of the Infantry, and he covered everyrealize our limitations, and we must thing between. His last column, lent demonstration of the democratic spirit which has made it one of excépional interest, and the whole of Benning has already expressed its regret at seein the departure of the Conductor.

In conclusion, there remains only one more thing for the Herald and for Fort Benning to do . . . to adopt his style for this time and finish these few too short paragraphs with:

A CITATION

To Major Edwin F. Harding, for his perfect finesse and human understanding in handling for nearly two years the best liked and most interesting column which has ever appeared in any Army paper.

Majors Harding, Kingman, ColeAnd Brett Leave Post

Major Edwin F. Harding, instructor; Major Robert B. Cole, instructor; Major Sereno E. Bret, tank member of the Infantry board, and Major Allen F. Kingman, commander of the tank battalion, have received orders telling them of transfers from Fort Benning to other posts of duty.

The four officers, members of the permanent personnel of the Infantry School have departed recently for Fort McClellan, Ala., for duty with the Civilian Conservation Corps prior to reporting in the fall to other schools where they will be enrolled

Major Cole has been ordered to the Army Industrial College at Washing-

Major Harding is to be a student at the Army War College.

Harding's Record

Major Harding first came to Fort Benning in 1927, following a tour of forein service with the U.S. Army forces in China, as a member of the advanced class of the Infantry school. His service prior to coming to the post started with his graduation from the United States Military Academy as a second lieutenant of infantry in June, 1909. He was promoted to 1st lieutenant in July, 1916, and to captain in May, 1917. Advancement to the rank of major (temporary) from June, 1918 to October, 1918, preceded his appointment to major, regular army in July, 1920.

Following his graduation fro 1 the advanced course he attended the command and general staff school at Fort Leavenworth, and returned to Fort Benning on the completion of the course as an instructor in the academic department, in 1929. While at Benning he has been head of the course of military history, which is regarded as one of the most important studies in the Infantry school curriculum. In addition to his work with the school. Major Harding has been active in social circles as president of the Infantry School Dramatic club, and it will be a long time before the witty and pungent satire that have flowed from his pen will be forgotten by the personnel of the post. High or low, the degree of rank made no difference, and all who came under his notice weer etched indelibly in the columns of "The Flare," with their due meed of praise or kindly sarcasm recorded

Cole Leaves Post

Robert B. Cole, instructor in the first section of the academic department, received his B. S. degree from the Citadel in 1903. His military career began as a second lieutenant in the South Carolina National Guard in 1905, and by 1917 he had attained the rank of major. In August of that year he received his commission as captain, national army, and was promoted to major, national army, in May, 1919. His rank as regular army major came in July, 1920. In 1924 he arrived at Fort Benning to enroll in the advanced course, and upon his graduation left for Hawaii where he was on duty with the infantry. He returned to the Infantry He returned to the Infantry school in 1929, following his graduation from

(Please turn to page 3)

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS IN THE SECOND SECON

Now that so many of the Benning sides of a new and unexpected army gave an informal buffet supper on officers have established their C. C. C. companies in the conservation camps. their wives and families are beginning to find ways to be near them. Forests are usually a part of the scenic surroundings of mountain resorts. Hence it happens that a number of the conservation camps are not far from suitable villages and towns, where officers' families can find accomoda-This is one of the brighter duty. For a number of families these | Thursday evening in honor of Lieut. circumstances will result in a longer in normal times, although, of course, the scene of the outing is not a mater of choice. Present indications are that a number of those who have departed from Fort Benning, will return to the fold at the end of the summer. At best, however, we can only make guesses and as usual in this army existence of ours, we won't know for sure until the orders are out.

GRIGGS-MACE WEDDING AT JACKSONVILLE WEDNESDAY

A wedding of much interest to was that of Miss Virginia Griggs of that city and Lieutenant Harold L. Mace, a member of the 16th Observation Squadron of this station. Mrs. Mace has many Benning friends, having spent a good deal of time here recently visiting Miss Page Michie. A number of Benning people motored to Jacksonville to attend the cere-Mrs. Benjamin G. Weir, Captain and Mrs. Lloyd Barnett, Lieutenants Thos. L. Sherburne, ames J. Winn, and Milton H. Pressley, Jr.

CLAYTON STUDEBAKER CELE-BRATES FOURTH BIRTHDAY

Clayton Studebaker, Jr., son of Lieutenant and Mrs. Clayton H. Studebaker, celebrated his fourth birthday recently with a party at which the following were guests: Virginia Harrison, Jimmy Brett, Chinkie Arnold, Janet Thomas, Jimmie Bowen, Barbara Thompson, Lewis O'Brien, Joan Thompson, Peter Selleck, Joan Selleck, Pat Evans, Lucile Krim, Gail Wilson, Jimmy Krim, Bertrand Pierce, Jean Pierce, and Bobby Pierce.

Major and Mrs. Elbert J. Lyman and Mrs. Norman A. Matthias, who summer outing than might be enjoyed are the houseguests of their parents, Colonel and Mrs. Ephraim G. Peyton.

In honor of Mrs. John Uncles of West Point, N. Y., Mrs. Burrell Cole entertained at her charming home in Overlook, Columbus, at a buffet supper on Saturday night. The guests were: Major and Mrs. Henry B. Lewis, Major and Mrs. Forrest Harding, nor, Mrs. Melissa Reese, Mrs. Wil-Captain and Mrs. Ralph Lovett, Captain and Mrs. Malcolm Lindsey, Lieutenant and Mrs. Joseph I. Greene, Lieutenant and Mrs. Nunez C. Pilet, Mr. and Mrs. George L. Woodruff, Benning people, which took place on Mr. and Mrs. Theo Golden, Mr. and Wednesday at Jacksonville, Florida, Mrs. Calvin Desportes, Mrs. Tracy Davis, Miss Eleanor Garrard, Lieutenants George Howell, George Decker, and Carl Robinson.

Mrs. Malcolm Lindsey entertained most delightfully on Friday at her home in Austin Loop at a luncheon in honor of Mrs. John Uncles. Mrs. Lindsey's guests were: Mrs. Uncles, mony. Among them were: Major and Mrs. Burrell Cole, Miss Eleanor Garrard, Mrs. Calvin DesPortes, Mrs. George Woodruff, Mrs. Wright Brown, Mrs. Tracy Davis, Mrs. Norman A. Matthias, Mrs. Joseph I. Greene.

> Lieutenant and Mrs. Norman A. Matthias' parents, Colonel and Mrs. Ephraim G. Peyton, have recently completed a tour in Hawaii and at the end of their leave will be stationed at West Point, N. Y. Mrs. Peyton reently entertained at a large tea in honor of her guests and on Wednesday evening gave a dinner for them at which forty guests were

> Last Friday night a number of post people enjoyed a Dutch party at the swimming pool; Major and Mrs. Francis G. Bonham, Captain and Mrs. Clinton E. Fenters, Major and Mrs. Roger B. Harrison, Captain and Mrs. Malcolm Lindsey, Captain and Mrs. John E. Hull, Major and Mrs. Thomas Arms, Mrs. Oliver E. G. Trechter, and Mrs. John A. Andrews.

> Mrs. Charles T. Lanham and daughter Shirley left on Tuesday to join Lieutenant Lanham at Rabun, Ga., where he is on duty with the C. C. C. Later, Mrs. Lanham will go to Wash ington to visit her mother and will return to Benning in the fall.

Mrs. Clayton Studebaker is entertaining on Friday at an informal luncheon. Her guests will be: Mrs. James Bowen, Miss Harriotte Atkins, Mrs. Vanture.

Lieutenant and Mrs. James Pierce entertained informally at dinner recently Lieutenants George Decker, Claude Ferenbaugh, and George How-

Mrs. Selina Waddington entertained in honor of Mrs. Guy Hartman at a bridge luncheon on Monday. The guests were: Mrs. James Bowen, Mrs. Don Faith, Mrs. James Pierce, Mrs. Morris, B. DePass, Mrs. Wm. O'Con-Lucas, Mrs. Clayton Studebaker, (Please urn to page 10)

SPECIAL

Saturday

Dresses

Cool Voiles Eyelets—Organdies Regular $1.95 Values

> ON SALE 98c

SYLVIA'S

1206 Broadway

PASS THE GOOD WORD ALONG!

nomical it is to shop at Silver's. You'll be doing them a good turn, and 'you'll help them save time and money.

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST. PLAN YOUR PURCHASES

Let other people know how easy and how eco-

Bedroom Suite Sale Today and Saturday 4 Pieces Bed, a chifforobe, a tri ple venetian mirror vanity and a bench to match. CASH $1.00 Week!

So great was the demand for this high quality Walnut Bed Room Suite when offered by us a few weeks ago, it was necessary to re-order to supply the demand. We bought for our several stores an-other 500 of these suites of which we have 50 suites only for this sale at the same low price. We were advised that this is the last available at this price

BUY NOW - Why Pay More Later? NOW ON DISPLAY IN OUR WINDOW AND SHOW ROOM

Maxwell Bros. & McDonald

1141 BROADWAY

"FURNITURE"

PHONE 409

Choosing The Staff Of Life

In making your selection of bread—request Everidge's . . . Old Time, French, Rye, Whole Wheat and Parker House Rolls. Fresh daily at the Post Exchange Grocery. You can get nothing better.

VISIT THE BAKERY BEAUTIFUL

EVERIDGE'S

109 - 12TH STREET

HARRIED HOSTESSES:

WILL WELCOME THE "SIX-BOX"

IT'S THE GREAT-EST HELP EVER DEVISED!

There's nothing so helpful to the person who is entertaining as the Six-Box. It will help you out of many difficult situations, when you have casual guests or visitors. And when you're giving a party, of course . . . Coca-Cola is something the guests EXPECT!

25c PLUS A SMALL DEPOSIT

FOR SIX BOTTLED COCA-COLAS

FOR SMALL PARTIES FOR EVERYDAY USE FOR ANYTHING

There's no person living who doesn't appreciate an ice cold Coca-Cola on these hot summer nights. It will add life to your party and make any night seem cooler!

On Sale At All Columbus Stores!

(Clip This Coupon)

WRBL Presents You $1 Radio Scrip FREE

This Coupon is good for $1 in Radio Scrip if presented to our premium store, 1307 Broadway, before July 4th. ATTEND THE FIRST RADIO SALES-ROYAL THEATRE-TUESDAY NITE-JULY 4TH.

Name		 · · · · · ·
	~ ·

Address

Do You Have A Radio In Your Home?....

(Clipped From The Benning Herald)

OUR OFFICERS LEAVE MONDAY er of the tank battalion, is one of ON C. C. C. DETAILS

(Continued from page 1) he command and General staff school Leavenworth, Kansas, and was asigned to duty as an instructor. In april, 1933, he received his detail as student in the army industrial colege, for the school year of 1933-34, where he is expected to report next all, on termination of his duty with he C. C. C.

Kingman Has Fine Record ajor Allen F. Kingman, command-

MEN'S SPORT OXFORDS n's black and white, tan and elk sport oxfords

$2.65

OTHER SPORT OXFORDS $2.50 to $3.95

SAM NEEL'S

SHOE DEPARTMENT WESTBROOK BLDG.

Unfinished Chests $6.75, $9.95

Maple $9.00

Walnut, from $9.50 to $20.00

Mahogany $20.00

the outstanding tank officers of the United States army. He was graduated from Harvard university in 1916, and in December, of that year, he was appointed second and first lieutenant on the same day as a member of the first Leavenworth class. He was raised to the grade of captain in August, 1917. His first service at Benning was in 1927, when he reported from Camp Meade, Md., as a class. Upon his graduation he received a detail to the command and General staff school, and was detailed on temporary duty with the experimental mechanized force at Camp Meade until the opening of the school. He was ordered to Benning as an instructor on the completion of his course at Leavenworth in 1929, but upon the personal request of Major General Campbell King, then commandant of the Infantry School he was assigned to command the tank

During his tour of duty at Fort Benning Major Kingman has made the tank battalion one of the outstanding units of the post, not only in the efficiency with which the arduous duties of a demonstration organization are performed, but also in athletics. Under his encouragement and direction the "Golden Tornado" of the Tankers has raged through the opposition offered at the post to cap-

Springs $5.95

Mattress $6.95

Metal Beds $7.95

battalion.

FORT BENNING

ACCOUNTS SOLICITED CASH OR TERMS

ture the major share of the athletic trophies during the last four years. Major Kingman is one of the best liked officers in the social life of the garrison, and was vice-president of the Infantry School Dramatic club.

In addition to graduating from the service schools mentioned above, Major Kingman is a member of the Command and General Staff eligible list, and attended and graduated with high honors from the Tank School at Camp Meade, class of 1922-23, and member of the 1927-28 advanced the French Tank School at Paris, France, class of 1923-24.

Brett Has Fine Record Major Sereno E. Brett, probably the army's best known and best qualified tank expert, has been on duty at the Infantry School for the greater portion of the time since the close of the World war. His latest tour of duty began in September, 1931.

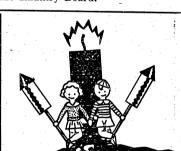

Major Brett, a native of Oregon, served throughout the World war with the Tank Corps, and retained his commission with the rank of captain after the war. Major Brett has been awarded the Distinguished Service Medal and two silver star citations.

First mention of Major Brett's connection with the Infantry School comes in March, 1921, when he was announced as instructor in the Department of Military Art in addition to his regular duty as the commandin officer of all Tank Corps troops at the Upatoi station.

Major Brett is a graduate of the 1921-22 company officers course, the 1926 Tank School course, and the 1927-28 course of the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth. In addition to this, he holds the degree of Bachelor of Science from the Oregon Agricultural College awarded in 1916.

In March, 1929, Major Brett was relieved of his duties as instructor in the Infantry School, and given the command of the 15th Tank Battalion. In August of thta year, while he was commanding the 2nd Battalion, 1st Tank Regiment, he was detailed again as an instructor at the Infantry School in the tactics and weapons of the tank, this coming in addition to his other duties

When War Department heads decided upon the creation of a mechanized force at Fort Eustis, Va., Major Brett was selected for the highly important post of executive officer, being replaced as the commanding officer of Benning's tank troops by Major Allen F. Kingman. Major Brett returned to Fort Benning in July, 1931, for duty as a member of the Infantry Board.

FOREMOST FOR THE FOURTH!

For boy and girl . . . for child and parent . . . for young and old . . . there's nothing better than Foremost to help make this a grander and more glorious Fourth than ever!

Call The Soda Fount

FOREMOST DAIRIES

We will be closed all day Tuesday, the Fourth, but will be open all day Thursday.

Mid-Summer DRESSES $2.95

Sizes 14 to 46

Shirtwaist frocks in striped broadcloth. White pique sports frocks with tie-back shoulders and sun-backs. Soft and cool linen dresses. And white pique suits with short jackets.

> Washable SILK DRESSES $5.95

> > Sizes 14 to 44

1-2 Sizes 16 1-2 to 24 1-2

Candy striped shirtwaist frocks. Solid white and pastels. Bamberger crepes in light ground with colored figures. And all are washable.

Second Floor

New Swim Suits $6.50 to $12.50

Sand sirens and water nymphs alike agree that Kirven's suits make the biggest splash at the best swims.

Second Floor

JUST ARRIVED

Spot Chairs, $5.25 to $9.95

Sleepy Hollow Rockers and Windsor, both Straight and Rockers

At Lowest Prices

Kitchen Cabinets $29.75 Porcelain Tables $6.00 Porch Rockers $4.00 Swings (oak) $3.00

"We Save You Dollars"

B. L. Pennell FURNITURE COMPANY

1249 Broadway

Phone 4618

Phone 556

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Columbus, Georgia

NUMBER 10 VOLUME III. JUNE 30, 1933 L. C. KUNZE... Society Editor

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,
BALTIMORE

MAN'S

(Continued From Page 1)

quent changes.

ten years ago by a group of Fort club house at every meeting and also Benning women who desired intel- the table decorations at the two lunlectual pursuits and has been enlarged cheons given by the Woman's Club.

ed and improved during every year

The Hospitality Committee arranged of its existence.

The past season was one of the most successful and interesting in the indefatigable work and capable leadership of the president, Mrs. Ephraim G. Peyton, who was a charter member of the Infantry School Woman's Club and served as its president during Benning's pioneer days.

The other officers of the club were: Mrs. Charles F. Morse, vice president; Mrs. Charles F. Morse, second vice president; Mrs. John E. Hull, recording secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Barnett, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Arthur H. Luse, treasurer; Mrs. Max V. Talbot, Auditor. These officers and Mrs. William B. Wallace constituted the executive board.

The standing committees for the 1933-34 season were: House Committee: Mrs. Geoffrey Marshall, Mrs. Philip Fry, Mrs. Hugh C. Gilchrist, Mrs. Russell J. Nelson, Mrs. Marcel A. Gillis, Mrs. Hammond McD. Mon-

Hospitality Committee: Mrs. Neal C. Johnson, Mrs. Frank J. Jewett, Mrs. Francis E. Bonham, Mrs. Oliver E. G. Trechter, Mrs. John De Camp Hall, Mrs. Charles W. Owens, Mrs. Hal C. Granberry.

Membership Committee. Mrs. William B. Wallace, Mrs. John J. Toffey, Mrs. Frank F. Jewett, Mrs. Maurice D. Welty, Mrs. Fred L. Munson, Mrs. Charles W. Weeks, Mrs. Charles F. Morse, Mrs. J. De Camp Hall, Mrs. Jesse A. Ladd.

Nominating Committee: Mrs. William B. Wallace, Mrs. Raymond Pearson, Mrs. Harry L. Reeder.

Programme Committee: Mrs. Harry L. Reeder, Mrs. Barnwell Legge, Mrs. Thomas W. Brown, Mrs. Homer H. Slaugher, Mrs. Francis J. Heraty, Mrs. Philip G. Blackmore, Mrs. Albert S. J. Tucker.

In spite of a reduction in dues the Programme Committee was able to present a delightful, instructive series of lectures and musical treats. In addition to the address by the commandant, General King at the opening meeting, officers who have made an exhaustive study of varithere gave the club members the benefit of their personal experiences. Cleveland, Scie Major S. A. White discussed India, Spring Fiction. Lieutenant Harry Dowdall, Ireland, Colonel Joseph W. Stillwell, China. Professor R. S. Wallace, of Vermont, now a patient at Warm Springs, gave a talk on Control of Birds and Insects, Major George J. Rife on Meats, and Major Stephen G. Henry on Care of Automobiles.

Musical selections were rendered by Mrs. Ralph Cotton and pupils of Columbus Conservatory of Music, Boys' Choir of Trinity Church, Mrs. William S. Ele, Mrs. Harry L. Reeder, Mrs. Fred E. Gaillard, Mrs. Raymond Pearson, Mrs. John J. Albright, Mrs. Norman D. Cota and Mrs. John Andrews. Dance numbers were presented by Mrs. E. L. Moseley, Jean Westfall and pupils of Miss

The Woman's Club was organized of the decorations which adorned the the enjoyable teas which followed each monthly meeting. The membership Committee secured a large numhistory of the club. The most im- ber of members from army families portant factor in its success was the and also several associate civilian members from Columbus.

The Nominating Committee at the closing meeting of the Woman's Club, presented the following names for officers, for the ensuing year, each are being unanimously elected: Mrs. Philip S. Wood, president; Mrs. William B. Wallace, first vice president; Mrs. Jesse A. Ladd, second vice president; Mrs. Philip T. Fry, recording secretary; Mrs. Oliver E. G. Trechter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Huston J. Banton, treasurer; Mrs. Max Talbot, auditor.

With these competent officers in charge and with Mrs. John E. Hull as chairman of the Programme Committee, the success of the club for the coming season is assured.

The outstanding acomplishments of the Woman's Club for the 1933-1934 season was the establishment of a scholarship to the Tallulah Falls School, to be known as "The Barbara King Memorial Scholarship" as a tribute to the beloved daughter of General and Mrs. Campbell King. In recognition of this service the gavel given each year by the State Federation of Women's Clubs for the most distinctive welfare work was awarded to the Infantry School Wo-

In response to the popular demand of the members, a Literary Section, Bridge Section and a Garden Section were added to the club, each Section meeting once a month.

The Literary Section Committee: Mrs. Joseph A. Holly, chairman; Mrs. Charles W. Weeks, Mrs. Philip G. Blackmore and Mrs. Clough F. Gee carried out the purpose of the Literary Section-creating a greater desire for more reading, and providing able, recreation, inspiration and mental stimulation. The following chairmen, assisted by other members of the Literary Section presented programs on subjects assigned them: Mrs. Roger Harrison, Fall Fiction; Mrs. C. W. Easley, Poetry and Drama; Mrs. Elbert J. Lyman, Public Affairs; Mrs. ous countries during their station John E. Hull, Biography; Mrs. Francis J. Heraty, Travel; Mrs. O. R. Cleveland, Science; Mrs. J. A.

Mrs. Frank A. Heileman, as chairman, directed the activities of the Garden Section. She was assisted by committee was also instru Mrs. Louis W. Haskell, as secretary having bus fares reduced. and the following Section Programme Committee: Mrs. Raymond W. Pearson, Mrs. Charles W. Weeks, Mrs. Robert G. Mangum, Mrs. Max V. Talbot. Plants were exchanged at stated intervals among the members and a study made of plants that will grow well in this climate and that can be enjoyed during the brief stay of the officers' families at Benning. The Garden Section is cooperating in the Post Beautiful movement and with the assistance of the Girl Scouts will further this object.

The outstanding accomplishment Agnes Harrison's School of Dancing. of the Garden Section was sponsoring

First Of Veterans Arrive At Benning Thursday For CCC

The first contingent of C. C. C. veterans, 55 in number, arrived at the Fort Benning reconditioning camp from Atlanta at 9:30 p. m. Wednesday night. After a hot supper, a good night's sleep and a hearty breakfast his morning, the exsoldiers expressed themselves as being well pleased with their surroundings. After their physical examinations Thursday they were assigned to Company 2418, commanded by Major John W. Foos, 29th Infantry. The regular army enlisted personnel with this company are as follows: Master. Sergeant Edward J. O'Hara, I. S. D., acting first sergeant; Corporal A. A. Wonsick, I. S. D., acting supply ser-The House Committee had charge geant; Sergeant Robert L. Foster, Company A, 29th Infantry, mess sergeant; Private H. M. Swain, Service Company, 29th Infantry, and Private W. D. Hinton, Company C, 29th Infantry, cooks, and Private 1st Class W. E. Pattison, Hq. Company, 29th Infantry, company clerk. About 75 more C. C. veterans were expected to arrive in camp Thursday from Co-

> Miscellaneous detachments of nonreteran C. C. C.'s leaving Fort Benning yesterday for their camps include 23 men transferred from the reception company to Kingstree, S. Men released from the station hospital and joining their organizations in the field include 11 men to Company 1448, Fargo, Ga., three men to Company 1423, Selmer, Tenn.; two men to Company 1410, St. Marks, Fla. and 6 men to Company 1445, Chat-

A telegram was received this morning at Post Headquarters from the Commanding General, 4th Corps Area extending congratulations for the promptness with which C. C. C. companies have been dispatched to their

Fort Benning's first flower show, a ery popular event of the past month. Exhibits were entered by the Garden Section in the Columbus Flower Show in May. The luncheon given at Benning to honor the delegates attending the meeting of the Garden Clubs of Georgia during this session in Columbus was the largest luncheon ever attempted at Benning.

The unselfishness of the Benning army women is shown through this untiring efforts to beautify their surroundings by planting shrubs, vines and fruit trees for future occupants

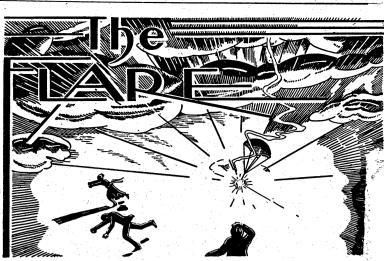

The Bridge Section, with Mrs. Regi ald H. Kelley, as chairman, was one of the most popular departments of the Woman's Club and brought about a wider acquaintance among the women of the Post. A bridge tea benefit, with Mrs. Burton A. Seeley in charge, was enjoyed by a large number of members and guests.

Through Mrs. Peyton's efforts attractive year books were issued for the first time since the organization of the Infantry School Woman's Club.

With Mrs. James B. Woolnough, as chairman, a committee from the Woman's Club arranged a card of regulaions for domestic servants, approved by the Com mandant, and distributed among the families living on the Post, proving a great help to housekeepers. This committee was also instrumental in

A trophy was presented to the winner in the Junior Horse Show by the Woman's Club . Contacts and cooperation with the clubs of Columbus have been helpful and delightful.

It has been said that the faith and loyalty of women have accomplished more than the battles of the world. The women of the Infantry School Woman's Club have reason to rejoice over the many achievements of the past season and also reason for inspiration to go forward with renewed energy into new and greater endeavor during the coming year.

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

CONDUCTED BY E. F. H.

OFF TO THE WARS Chickens come home to roost.

Old Proverb.

En Route to Ft. McCl. Recent issues of the Flare have mentioned the names of severa our more prominent war heroes in connection with the much-soughtassignments to command veterans' companies of the R. O. T. C. We under the impression that the priority list for detail with the corps d' of the Reforestation Army would be made up according to the nur of battle clasps that officers are entitled to wear on their victory ribb with certain adjustments in favor of Silver Star citations, Purple E medals, D. S. C.'s. Croix de Guerre and other coveted indications of torious combat in service. Not having any of these things ourself, we no other interest in the matter than to help G. H. Q. pick the right for the jobs. For fifteen years we have stood just a trifle in awe of officers with impressive war records and we rejoice in the opportunit do what we could through the medium of our column to give them dese publicity. We were all the more willing to do this because of their mendable reluctance to play up their A. E. F. service at the time.

Nothing, of course, was further from our thoughts than that should be even considered for assignment to a veteran's company. were one of the boys who got overseas after the Armistice for just enough to exchange our three silver stripes for a blue one. The ne we got to the front was Camp Devens, Mass. We never beheld an battled Hun with a sawtooth bayonet and the only scar we acquired du the war came from an empyerna incision that followed a somewhat longed encounter with the justly celebrated Spanish influenza.

One never knows in this man's Army when he is going to g break. Even as our last list of nominations was rolling off the pre G. H. Q. was getting out an order sending four hand-picked warrior Camp McClellan to command the four veterans' companies to be organ in that hectic conditioning camp. Imagine our embarrassment at fin our names on it along with such battle-scarred heroes as Tanker Brett Kingman and Sekatary Cole of the Great First Section.

It goes without saying that we are immensely flattered! We co have borne it, of course, if our name had been left off, for we had idea of being so honored, but it sure makes us feel mighty proud, as say it in the South. And if anybody thinks that we can't hold our own the evening sessions around the camp-fire in the woods, they don't kno We've heard and read too many personal experience monograph during the last four years to be at a loss when the boys start off on the Now-when-I-was-at-Chateau-Thierry" line. We crossed the Savieres Brook with Beetle Smith and the Meuse with Guy Hartman. We fought with the 28th Division in the Vesle and the 3rd in the Argonne. We have been all over the front with the mighty 1st and 2nd Divisions. The working uniforms of the C. C. Service doesn't call for a display of medals and we recall enough of fifty odd personal experience monographs to make us the greatest fighter of them all. So don't worry about us. Everything will be jake unless some big-shot at McClellan decides that we haven't the necessary backround to give an order to an experienced man who has peen in battle. In that case, they might send us home as they did Pecos Pete Bonham and Wot-A-Man Eagles. That would be a blow to our pride that we'd take with our customary Spartan fortitude.

SCOOP

The Benning Herald, being a weeky, is at a considerable disadvantage when it comes to competing with the daily press as regards spot news. Did you notice, however, how it scooped the Columbus dailies on the picture and story on the new Chief of Infantry. The associate editor of the Herald put this one over and we hereby give him a deserved pat on the back for his forehandedness in getting the picture and the data for timely print-

While on the subject of Benning's home town paper, we might also say a few words in general commendation. It is our honest opinion, possibly prejudiced, that the Herald is the best paper of its kind in the United States. It doesn't often scoop the dailies, nor is it necessary that it should. Its proper field is the reporting of post events and intimate news the little inconsequenial things about people we know personally. It has been doing a first rate job all along that line and has served the garrison well.

Even in these days when budget trimming is a vital necessity for most Army families, we believe that every officer stationed at Benning should be a subscriber to the Herald. The paper is entitled to support of a one hundred per cent officer subscription list, providing that it fulfills its mission. We have in mind, however, personal interest rather than public spirit. The point that we would make is that no officers' family should be willing to do without the Benning Herald and its news of his friends in order to effect a saving that amounts to less than the price of six cigarets a week.

MUST HAVE LOOKED LIKE

A RACE

The Saturday morning police bloter carried the following reports: "Lieutenant Meister reported for speeding by Colonel Peyton. Colonel Peyton reported for speeding by Colonel Baltzell. Colonel Baltzell reported for speeding by Private Gaffney, M. P." CHERCHEZ LA FEMME

When the ban on white bathing suits was lifted, we approved but wondered.

A few days later an attractive C. C. C. widow tripped lightly down the steps leading to the hitherto inviolate waers of Russ Pool in one of the snappiest white swim suits that we have seen anywhere. Possibly the wearer had something to do with the favorable impression, but anyhow the toute ensemble was a knockout.

The lady's escort was Adjutant General Lewis, expert judge of Bathing Beauty Contests and perennial promoted of the celebrated "Venus of Russ Pool" competition.

We are glad to see the Adjutant (Please turn to page 5)

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORL

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

By the time this issue of the Benning Herald reaches the public, the hampionship bout between Jack harkey, present holder of the world's leavyweight title, and Primo Carnera, onderous challenger, will have been ought, and the name of the winner vill have been flashed the length and readth of the country. Will Jack Sharkey make a successful defense of the title he won a year ago, or vill Primo Carnera dispose of the Bostonian as effectively as he has disosed of others?

In the first place, what has Sharey himself to say about the coming pattle in which he is to figure so prominently. He has stated several imes to the press that he anticipates to difficulty whatsoever in taking the talian colossus into camp. But, of ourse, that attitude is to be expected. Very few fighters are willing to admit before they go into the ring that hey honestly believe that they are bout to be whipped. It's bad pubicity, hence taboo.

Carnera for the most part has renained silent. The giant has been orking away slowly but surely exess poundage, gradually whittling himself down to his best fighting veight, which is about two hundred nd sixty pounds. In training thus ar, he has not looked so well, not nearly so well, for example, as his pponent in the coming championship ray. Sparring partners have been litting him readily and Carnera has not been doing much in the way of etribution. This too, however, might vell be a pose, with Primo himself holding himself in check and letting Sharkey grow over-confident.

The odds on the night of the battle will probably be around 7.5 in favor of the Bostonian, this despite the fact that Sharkey trimmed Carnera handily on the occasion of their last meeting. Sporting bloods figure, however, that the Italian has made rapid strides since then in boxing technique. They also figure that Sharkey is much older than his challenger, and therefore on the downgrade; that he will not be able to stand the gaff of a fifteen round bout if the going is hot, and they anticipate that the going will be

Yes, there will doubtless be a good deal of Carnera money floating around on the night of the fight. Sharkey, also, has his backers, who confidently are expecting their idol to pull through with a victory. The general concensus of opinion is that Sharkey will win by a decision.

This writer adheres to the latter belief. Carnera, although his punishing left jab may wear his opponent down, has not much of a punch. Nor is he as clever or as fast a boxer as Sharkey, although it is not to be denied that he moves swiftly around the ring for a man of his size. Partisans for Carnera point out that Sharkey was awfully, awfully tired in the last five rounds of his battle with Schmeling for the heavyweight chambionship some time ago. But it is a question whether Carnera has the ability to wear the Bostonian down had Johnson writhing on the canas much as the Black Uhlan succeed vas. The bell saved Squint at the ed in doing. That question will only be answered Thursday night.

In the meantime, Max Baer, recent knockout victor over Herr Max Schmeling, awaits the outcome of the bout with no lack of interest. And all for a very good reason. Baer is

(Please turn to page 7)

Baisden Defeats Posev Last Night In Thrilling Bout

Billy Hood, husky Orlando fighter, won a decision-over Rip Tetherton and Kid Baisden fought to a victory over Four H Posey in the feature ten round bouts of Thursday night's excellent fight card. The Baisden-Posey battle was the most thrilling fight that has graced a Benning ring for many moons. Jarvis refereed the preliminaries and Battling Budd of Atlanta officiated in the two ten-round-

Young Griffin, who won his last two fights via the knockout route, met Tiger Thornton in the curtain-raiser. It was Griffin's third professional appearance in Benning, and he was anx ious to slow the fans in this vicinity that he was no flash in the pan. He set out with this object in view, but the Tiger had other ideas in mind and proceeded to carry them out. The result was a slugfest that had the fans in a state of turmoil throughout the bitterly fought four rounds.

Bogart Gully and Squint Johnson went to war in the other four-rounder. Bogart, brown as a berry and in fine physical condition, floored Squint for a count of three in the opening round. Johnson came up fighting and survived the storm of gloves that descended on him from all angles. In the second stanza, Gully again dropped his courageous opponent with a solar-plexus blow that count of nine, but it was so obviously a question of time before the Hawaiian completed the destruction he had already wrought that referee Jarvis deemed it advisable to award the fight to Gully on a technical knockout. By defeating Johnson so impressive, Gully succeeded in carving a niche for himself among the leatherpushers in this vicinity.

Daniel "Kid" Webster met Dummy Nix of Columbus in the first sixrounder. Webster, who loves the going when it's roughest, was throwing punches from every conceivable angle, and that dynamite right hand, which travels with the speed and precision of a 16-inch projectile, was creating considerable damage. Dummy, too, was distributing his share of punishment, and so the fight rapidly developed into a replica of a Kansas cyclone. Suddenly in the fifth round, Webster dropped with both hands clasped around his mid section. As Nix looked on, Webster slowly wilted and assumed a horizontal attitude on the canvas. The count was so much formality.

In the feature six-rounder, Dapper Doyle, hammer-headed bantam from the 29th Infantry, fought Lefty Kline of Columbus. Originally slated to meet Jimmy Hyde, conqueror of Scrip DeOlive, Dapper Doyle agreed to fight Lefty Kline when failed to put in an appearance. Kline early indicated he relished not one whit the offerings of the clever soldier leatherpusher. Nevertheless, some of his left hand smashes to face Doyle outhit and outboxed Kline to win a clean-cut decision.

Kid Baisden, Valdosta southpaw, and Four-H Posey of Paducah, Kentucky, then stepped into the ring to determine once and for all who was the best fighter. On the previous occasion of the meeting between the two, Four-H battered Baisden from pilar to post to win by a etchnical knockout. Baisden looked in good physical trim as he climbed through the ropes. Battling Budd of Atlanta officiated in both the two feature bouts of the evening.

Both Baisden and Posey avoided customary formalities and got under way with the opening gong. The southpaw's savage two-fisted attacks rushed Four-H to the ropes several times in the course of the first round. Posey stabbed the Kid like a tiger,

Benning Players Defeat Opponents From R.O.T. C. With Ease Recently

Fort Benning racquet-wielders took the ninth on his own service. whitewashed the R. O. T. C. Sunday wind and a drizzling rain made the playing difficult at the outset. But later on in the afternoon, the rain ceased falling and the wind subsided, making playing conditions excellent except for the heavy courts.

Originally, six matches were sched uled, four singles and two doubles. As the matches did not get under way, however, until two o'clock, it was decided to call off one of the doubles contests.

Harding of Fort Benning met Pritchett, Auburn's ranking player and winner of the R. O. T. C. tennis tournament last week. Harding was victorious in straight sets 8-6, 6-3.

Major Blackmore, Fort Benning, used his fast chop to advantage in defeating Sharp of the R. O. T. C. 8-6, 6-4. Sharp was the runner-up in the recent tournament, and his brilliant, though sometimes erratic play, made his match with Major Blackmore very close and interesting. Sharp's volleying from mid-court scored many points. Blackmore's fast crosscourt shot and deceptive backhand were both formidable factors in Captain Wilson and Whittle, R. O. T. C., had the closest match of the day. Long rallies featured the match, with both participants playing cau-tiously and making few errors. Wilson won the first set at 6-2, but encountered much more difficulty in the second set, which he lost at 10-8. Captain Wilson had his man set and match point twice in this set. The Fort Benning player got off to a 5-2 lead in the third and deciding set, and after dropping the eighth game,

Lieutenant Evans played a fine afternoon by a score of 5-0. At first, brand of tennis defeating Cornforth inclement weather made postpone of the R. O. T. C. The chop game ment of the match imminent. A high of the Fort Benning racqueteer was very effective against his opponent, whom he forced into error many times. Final scores of the match were 6-3, 6-2. The winner played exceedingly cautiously hroughout the match, making few errors.

Only one doubles match got under way, Harding and Blackmore oppos ing Sharp and Pritchett. After the first set had been played, which the Fort Benning combination won at 6-2, the R. O. T. C. players agreed to de-(Please turn to page 7)

Howard Bus Line, Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

From Columbus		Section 1997		From
				Ft. Ben	ning
5:00	\mathbf{AM}			6:00	AM
6:00	- 66			7:50	64
7:00	66			9:15	"
8:30	"			10:45	44
10:00	66			12:45	PM
11:45	66			2:15	66
1:30	РM		1.	4:15	46
3:00	44			5:10	66
.5:00	44			6:00	44
7:00	" .			7:00	"
9:00	66		100	8:00	44
10:30	"			9:45	"
12:00	M			11:15	66
				12:00	M

Also "Extras" and SCHOOL BUSES PHONES

224

FROM A TO Z

There's hardly a person in the world who isn't interested in some kind of sport . . . who will talk it . . . play it ... and make a regular hobby of it. Baseball, tennis, fishing, boxing, riding . . .

... you'll find their devotees everywhere you search. And invariably, you'll also discover that they realize the value of good equipment, that they are anxious to own only the best for the sport they favor.

. . . the best of equipment for every sport is sold at the Main Branch. Phone 608.

Post Exchange FORT BENNING, GA. The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any One Not In The Military Service

WONDERFUL

A glass of sparkling RUMS DRY Ginger Ale will convince you of its deliciousness . . . A mixer . . . well, you'll have to try it to find out just how good it really is!

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

Dependable
Electric and Gas
Service

GEORGIA COMPANY

A Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

BOOTLEGGERS

TAKE NOTICE

like nobody's business. Keep pepped up, but sober. Eat Old Settler's Pork Sausage

for Breakfast. Every pound United States Government Inspected and Guaranteed by

The Provision Co., Inc.

FROM FRUIT

... the Grocery Department will have it for you. Why not learn to depend on this department, it is maintained especially for your own convenience . .

and to help you who are sta-

POST EXCHANGE

tioned at this post.

Old Settler's Pork Sausage has a kick

THE FLARE

(Continued from Page 4)
General back on the job. In other years he was always at the pool during the afternoon swimming hour, but this year he has been conspicuously absent. He never seemed to take the same interest since he officiated as a judge in the American Legion Bathing Beauty show. We were beginning to suspect that his official duties in connection with the regularly organized contest had made him scornful of our amateur Aphrodites.

All hail, then, to the strong contender for Benning's Beauty Crown who has brought the veteran connoisseur of curves back to the water.

Of course, the rescinding of the white swim suit regulation a few days previous may have been just a concidence

TO FISH!

It's a far cry from fruit to fish, but the Grocery Department is fully able to supply all your needs and ready at all times to do so. In times of emergency, when you need something to finish the menu of that dinner you're giving tonight ...

FT. BENNING, GA.

GROCERY DEPT

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell

To Anyone Not In The Military Service

VALEDICTORY

This is our final blast. For something over two years, we have been firing THE FLARE once a week, except for a two month intermission while we were on Academic leave. During this time we have put our close to one hundred issues. At a conservative estimate, that means something over 150,000 words, which is more than you will find in the average length novel. When we think that the same amount of effort might have produced a best-seller that would have made us indifferent to payless furloughs and horizontal pay cuts, we heave a sigh of regret. Then we remember the high percentage of rejected manuscripts and are grateful for our honorarium from the Benning Herald.

As we have intimated from time o time, it is something of a chore to grind out thirty-odd inches of copy-week in and week out-steering the while between the grim Scylla of hypersensitive feelins and the dread Charybdis of official displeasure. On the whole we have succeeded pretty well in not offending those we mentioned, even when our remarks were mildly damaging to the amour propre. We believe that it was generally well understood that we weren't trying to hold up brother officers and their wives to ridicule. Our aim was rather to pass on inconsequential news and gossip in readable form without ruffling feelings.

Had we been less particular about the latter point, our column might have been more interesting, but it could hardly have lasted as long. Also it would have failed in its purpose, which was to further, not injure, the cordial relations within the garrison and between the writer and his subject.

And so we come to an end. It will be a relief not to feel the obligation to get out THE FLARE next week and the week after and the week after that. We will miss more than the soiree of getting it out, however. The occasional expressions of appreciation that came to our ears, the satisfaction of having written something that our intelligent public liked, the feeling that we were making a little contribution to the enjoyment of those we wrote for and those we wrote about make up the price we pay for our new freedom. Believe it or not, these last lines are being written under an emotional strain that makes it hard for us to keep from stopping

We understand that THE FLARE is to be continued. It hasn't been settled yet who the new pilot will be but we know of a couple of gifted but reluctant litterateurs who could make it a better column than it has ever been under us if they will work at it. For, much as we appreciate the flattering tribute which appeared in last week's Herald over the initials 'P. A. L." we can't agree with it. Our place as conductor of THE FLARE can be filled all right. The only difficulty lies in catching some qualified victim off guard and hornswoggling him into taking the job.

CITATION FOR THE LAST FOUR YEARS

In handing out our weekly citation, we somehow overlooked a group which has merited one on numerous (Please turn to page 10)

FURNITURE

Headquarters for Furniture and all kinds of he hold furnishings, at the lowest price and easiest te

It will pay you to see us before you buy.

CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO SUCCESSORS TO JOHNSTON-CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE

1014 Broadway P

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

Make This A Sporting Fourth

Tennis Rackets

Our tennis rackets are good buys at any prices. Wright & Ditson, Whiz and other makes, all strung tightly with good gut.

Wright & Ditson $5.98 "Whiz" 1.98

1008 BROADW

Golf Equipment

With the features of clubs that sell for more than twice as much elsewhere, Sears clubs have everything for the most discriminating golfer.

Golf Clubs $1.19—$1.98 $2.98 Aristo Balls 3 for $1. Mohawk 3 for $1. Windsor 25c eac

Cantilever Type98

FISHING TACKLE

All Steel Rods—Off Set Handles $2.9

Minnows 29c, 39c, 59c, 89c, 98

Lines 79c, 98c, $1.1

Tackle Boxes,

Sears

SEARS-ROEBUCK & CQ.

Qv.

Quick Energy-

Good Flavor!

ARE SO POPULAR

NO WONDER

Tomis

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded for the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

BENNING PLAYERS DEFEAT OPPONENTS (Continued From Page 6)

fault the second set and the match as it was necessary that they return to camp.

The other doubles match was cancelled for the same reason. Plans are now underway for another match to be played next Sunday afternoon. The competition in all matches was keen and the result might be entirely different if another match was played.

> SPORT CHATTER (Continued from page 6)

down to meet the winner sometime in September.

Jack Dempsey is letting no moss grow over the glory that Baer derived from his conquest of Schmeling. Baer is traveling around the countryside flighting exhibition bouts, not only enhancing his reputation but also keeping himself in tiptop shape in case he does fight in September, which seems very probable at this moment, although neither Carnera or Sharkey will be relishing a bout with the Livermore Butcher.

The heavyweight stage is all set now. Unless something absolutely unforseen happens, boxing stock will go soaring upwards at a rapid rate. Jack Dempsey, still one of the most colorful figures in the ring game, and Max Baer, likely to be the most popular champion since the heyday of the Manassa Mauler, stand ready to see that there is no crash.

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital

1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

HALF SOLES A GOOD A BETTER 50c · Half , Sole

LAMAC SOLE $1.00 The Only 5-Unit Machine In Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY We specialize in cripple work

Phone 565 1234 Broadway

THE

Post Exchange

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

Pitching-Fielding, No Problem To Coach Of Greencord Team

familiarly known as the Greencords, fence when he comes to bat. are faced with a situation which is the willow, are consistent pinch-hitters and can be thrown into almost any position other than behind the plate.

Arthur Gilbert, elongated rightfirst or in the outer defences. He has ers in the batting averages. a peculiar stance at the plate, standing

The Special Units diamondeers, send the left fielder back near the Hinkle, the man who made the rockboth unique and delightful. Their ing-chair delivery popular, seems to four starting pitchers are handy with specalize in doubles, his pair of twobaggers playing a prominent part in Special Unit's recent win over Headquarters Battalion, 29th Infantry.

Bob Robertson has been appearing hander, and the ace of the mounds in right field in the more recent men, is dangerous whenever he comes games. Bob is speedy afield and on to bat. Gilbert can be used either at the bases, and is up among the lead-

Wee Grady Tolle, captain of the so that he almost fully faces the pitch- team, may be seen in left field when er, but opposing moundsmen have he is not in the box. Tolle once was the hot corner with screaming hits learned that it is good strategy to lead-off man in the batting order, and down the third base line

Battery A Winners Of ROTC Baseball Championship

By virture of their 10-7 win over Battery B, Battery A won the baseball championship of the current R. O. T. C. camp at Fort Benning with a percentage of 1.000. Battery A won four games and lost none.

The winning battery was Head, pitching, and Arial, catching. O'Barr was the losing pitcher. He was caught in yesterday's game by Royal.

is still up where his hitting usually means runs. Batting from the left side of the plate, Tolle makes life very miserable for the guardians of

Revelers Club To Resume Series Of Dances At Pos

At a special meeting of the Reveler Club, cosial organization of the er listed personnel of the Second Batta ion of the 29th Infantry, held June 20 it was decided o hold he club's regt lar bimonthly dances on the first and third Wednesday of each month. Thi is but a return to the club's regula routine, activities having been su pended for the past few months.

The election of officers saw the re election of Bill Parker, President, an Ernest T. Stephens, Secretary. Othe officers elected at that time are: Has ry L. Blackburn, vice-president; Dea Littlefeld, treasurer, and theh appoin ment of Bill Boren, Chick Liddell an James Lehner as dance committee.

And I Learned About Women From Her!

"When the thermometer would get around 90, I just couldn't take it! Perspiration would roll off my back like a waterfall, and I mopped faster than a windshield wiper. Yes sir, that was me up one side and down the back. Then one day I asked by stenographer how it was that women always looked so cool. She told me women's summer clothes didn't weigh but 48 ounces. Right then the breezes started blowing. I had never thought about the weight of a suit. I'm wearing a Schwobilt summer suit now and just as cool as friend cucumber. It weighs only 39 ounces and it's 10 degrees cooler. Take my advice - see Schwob. He puts the sun in the shade!"-

HOT WEATHER SPECIALS

Tropical Worsteds . .$10.95

Sport Suits $12.50

Sport Trousers . . . ___

Seersuckers $ 4.95

Leave It to Schwob To Put the Sun in the Shade

SCHWOR CO.

The Standard Tailoring Co.

1037 Broadway

Columbus, Ga.

Rockne Convertible Roadster delivered to Mr. R. W. Sheppard of Columbus. Seated in the car with Mr. Sheppard is T. R. Cain, Jr., sales representative of the local Rockne dealers.

Get There On The

In One Of Still's Cars

Faster, more convenient, safer than any others. Still's cars will help make this the best vacation you ever had.

Easy Rates - Good Cars

STILL'S

RENT-A-CAR CO. 1232 1st Ave.

RUBBER STAMPS COLUMBUS ÓFFICE SUPPLY CO.

4th Infantry Band Proves That It Is Superior Even To Fire-Engines into punches on the elbown, should

d the members of the 24th Infantry and experienced some slight interption at their concert given in the ea in front of Service Club No. 1 1 Ingersoll street Wednesday after-

It all happened during their rention of Buccalossi's composition, 1 Hunting Scene." This novelty ımber was being played when two aming red trucks from fire departent headquarters, located at the inrsection of Ingersoll street and Vibert avenue, pounded and wailed their ay down Ingersoll sreet in answer a fire reported at the quarters of ieutenant Ives.

With sirens going full blast the emen went merrily on their way in arch of the conflagration and the bly got their orders to get going. usicians desperately followed their

The number preceding The Hunt- The 24th Infantry Blues.

Warrant Officer Robert B. Tresville FLORIDA HOTELS WILL OFFER SPECIAL RATES

The hotels George Washington, Mayflower and Flagler, Jacksonville, Florida, owned and operated by Robert Kloeppel, have made elaborate plans for special entertanment for the fourth of July week celebration, beginning July 1st. Special week-end fourth of July celebration rates and charges for rooms and meals will be in effect.

A most unusual program has been worked out for this speial celebraion Washington. at the hotels George Mayflower and Flagler.

ing Scene was a popular number, Going, Going, Gone, and it was during this selection that the firemen proba-

Following the unhappy, albeit necessary, interruption, the band played

BAISDEN BEATS POSEY (Continued From Page 6) and took many of his opponent's ter

ders, and arms. The second round furnished a whirlwind of activity. In the third, Baisden floored Posey for a count of three. Four H fought the Valdostan on even terms for the remainder of the round. Terrific punching by both fighters had the fans in a constant state of excitement. The fourth stanza saw Posey dropped twice; the Paducah battler was on the floor, dazed and groggy, at the bell. Baisden came out for the fifth, determined to end matters. But he found Posey far from out, and was staggered twice by long hard rights. Near the end of the round, a right uppercut contacted Baisden's jaw. The floor hurt.

Baisden smashed Posey to the canvas again in the sixth, but Four-H absorbed all the punishment that the Valdostan handed out thereafterwards for the rest of the round. But Baisden showed no signs of letting up and had his opponent on the floor in the seventh for small counts. The eighth round saw plenty of action but no further knockdowns. In the ninth, Posey cut loose and nailed Baisden with two right hand smashes that would have felled a bull-but the southpaw remained on his feet, although he was obviously dazed. The tenth also went to Posey, but it was not enough and the decision went to Baisden. It was the most thrilling fight that this writer has ever seen on the post and both fighters deserve credit for a splendid exhibition of courage and punching ability.

In the second featured ten-round bout, eagle-beaked Rip Tetherton met Billy Hood, husky Orlando battler, who had knocked Rip out in thirty seconds previously. Tetherton had a grim look of determination on the face when he swarmed out of his cornor to the music of the opening gong. Rip was overly-cautious and the first round was fought with honors even. The Orlando slugger took the offensive as the Ripper remained at a distance and popped Hood with long rights and lefts. ed cleverly and Hood was more or less buffaloed by the soldier's defensive tactics. In the fourth, Tetherton was down for a no-count.

Referee Battling Budd warned Tetherton about back-pedalling in the fifth. Rip did ont seem to care much for coming into close quarters with his aggressive opponent. As a consequence, he received another warning in the sixth heat. The seventh saw more action with Hood having the better of the going. A rising crescendo of action, featured the eighth, ninth, and tenth rounds, although Tetherton still seemed disinclined to mix it. The decision in favor of Hood was, of course, acceped wihout protest from any quarBUY

GOOD

TIRES and TUBES

ON OUR

EASY PAYMENT PLAN

No red tape—small down payment and balance on convenient terms.

The best that money can buy

Willard Batteries On Same Plan

WE APPRECIATE YOUR BUSINESS

UNITED OIL CORPORATION

PHONE 1800

1215-21 1ST AVE.

ASSOCIATED HOTELS JACKSONVILLE HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER MIAMI...HOTEL ALCAZAR

Suggested Funds Would Pay For Needed Building

The $3,465,041 for construction at Fort Benning, recommended by the War Department to President Roosevelt's advisory committee for public works struck a distinctly responsive note in opinions of Fort Benning authorities Saturday. Colonel Fred L. Munson, acting commandant of the Infantry School, stated that he was extremely optimistic over Benning's chances to progress several vears ahead of the planned construction program through the allottment of funds here from the three and one half billion dollars public works bill passed by the recent congress.

As explanation of the fact that prac-

The New V-8 FORD is the Roomiest and most Powerful FORD CAR Ever Built

112" Wheelbase 75 Horsepower

Prices Range From () at Detroit

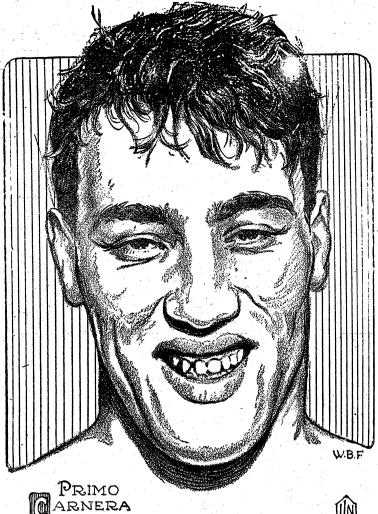

Plus Freight and Delivery Bumpers and Spare Tire Extra

Phone or Call for a Demonstration

> BURRUS MOTOR CO.

1216-22 1st Ave. Phone 3500

New Champion

Primo Carnera, the Italian man-mounain who won a sensational victory last night over Jack Sharkey, the holder of the world's hevayweight championship. Carnera's sixth round victory places him next in line to meet Max Baer, America's leading contender for the world's heavyweight honors.

tically 90 per cent of the funds alot- the different activities that would be ted to army posts in the state of housed in the building, have been Georgia were recommended for Fort busy on plans for a combination Benning construction, authorities at Headquarters and Academic building. he post pointed out two things. First, These plans are compleed now, but the Infantry School is the largest of a state, and its importance as the lead- the indefinite future—in the fifth ing branch school in the army, and group of priorities. The plans for the largest school of arms in the this building were available to the the expenditure of funds for its continuous development. Second, and recommendation that seemed feasible. probably the practical reason the local post received favorable consideration on so many and such large projects, is the fact that definite and detailed plans for the construction were ready for immediate action. On tentative priority lists scheduling construction for several years to come, projects were outlined in detail and plans and specifications for each of them had been made. All that was required to make them ready for actual contracts was approval by the War Department and authorization and appropriation by Congress.

A part of the almost daily routine of Lieutenant Colonel Joseph A. Atkins, assistant executive officer, and Captain Carl A. Jabelonsky, constructing quartermaster, has been the planning for and outlining of future con-struction projects. This included for piracy on the high seas? plans for buildings and in addition. even the telephone lines, sewer system, heating plants, water works, and all that would become necessary if and when the buildings were consructed. As an example of this, for the past several months these officers, together with a board of officers from the actual construction of the builddozen military establishments in the ing was scheduled for some date in world, naturally would make logical War Department for inclusion in any playboys, will tickle no more. For the next six months or so, their undivided attention will be focused on trees. "Budge" Howard, too, has left. With his departure, the hearts of many budding blossoms experienced a feeling of poignant regret.

> TOWN TOPICS (Continued From Page 1)

Dangerous Dan Gilmer almost alone holds the fort, and it must be admitted he is doing a pretty good job of it. But where is Hugh Carey, the Blonde's Delight? Where, also, is Ned Winston, he whose great-grandfater was hung

> RUBBER STAMPS COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

WE DO FINE AUTO BODY REPAIRING AT MODERATE COST

THE POST EXCHANGE IS OUR AGENT AT BENNING

COLUMBUS FENDER & BODY WORKS

Mike Mullikin, pupil of Earl Liederman, (although we understand he has now switched to Lionel Strongfort) is basking under a hot Florida sun somewhere near Tallahasse. Is it merely a coincidence that there is a large girl's school in the vicinity? And Sewell Brumby, whose "exquisite" profile has caused the hearts of many young ladies to palpitate vigorously, where is he?

But the greatest blow of all, he straw which broke the camel's back, so to speak, was the sudden, unexpected, tragic departure of Caldwell Foos for the east. The debs and sub-debs had counted on Caldwell; they had put their faith in him. Even with all the lieutenant's gone, Caldwell would manage somehow. There was no doubt about that. Somehow Caldwell would manage.

Then, almost before anyone known anything about it, Caldwell had goi It was a severe blow. The debs a sub-debs reeled dizzily under t shock. It was as if their last support had been pulled out from under the The R. O. T. C. corps rushed to t rescue by taking up a large share the burden that Caldwell had left ! hind. But even the R. O. T. C. con is staggering under the heavy lo that had previously been borne by o person.

Incidentally, Caldwell is in line a slap on the back. Jobs-any jobs are hard enough to find these d Caldwell has furnished this colum ist with reams of copy. It is or fair that we wish him every succ in the employ of the General Elect Company. Knowing him, we f sure that he will succeed.

DETAILS Count . .

IN YOUR AUTOMOBILE

Careful drivers are always those who pay attention to details. Proper adjustment of brakes, proper inflation of tires, proper greasing and oiling of the engine and moving parts . . . these are what insure safety and comfortable driving. Are YOU a careful driver . . . and one of those who is also careful about the condition of your car? Automobiles are being made as nearly perfect as possible now-a-days, but even these cars can be injured by improper attention.

Have your car inspected frequently by this department and use only the best of oils and greases.

AUTO DEPT. POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service.

KEEP YOUR CASH

Trade in the old car as down payment on a reconditioned guaranteed late model used car.

1932 FORD V-8's

1932 CHEVROLETS

1931 BUICK 8 SPORT ROADSTER (Radio)

1931 STUDEBAKER

All late models in perfect condition.

Lowest prices — Easy terms

Buy now and Save.

COLUMBUS ROBERTS MOTOR CO.

510-14 12th Street

Phone 271-272

STUDEBAKER - - - - ROCKNE

FURNITURE OF QUALITY

H. ROTHSCHILD

Leading Furniture Dealer for 38 Years

1229 - 31 Broadway

Columbus, Ga.

SOCIAL NOTES (Continued From Page 2) Mrs. Lynn Brady, Mrs. Herbert Harries, Mrs. John Andrews, Mrs. Orryl Robles, Mrs. Frederick Gaston, and Mrs. Clyde Eddleman.

Mrs. Russell J. Nelson entertained Wednesday at a tea at her home on the First Division Road in honor of Mrs. Guy Hartman.

Mrs. Guy Hartman entertained on Friday in honor of her houseguest, Mrs. Young, of Atlanta, and Captain

General Insurance We Specialize In Automobile Liability and Property Damage Morton Realty Co. Phone 544 — Swift Bldg.

Columbus, Ga.

and Mrs. Richard Bassett.

Miss Betsy Ross, daughter of Captain and Mrs. Fay Ross, had a birthday party on June 24 in celebration of her eleventh birthday. Her guests were: Schofield Waddington, Paul Fowler, Shirley Lanham, Harry Kelly, Ruth Ross, Jimmy Kelly, Matson Smith, and Aileen Kelly.

Miss Louise Waddington, daughter of Mrs. Selina Waddington, is visiting Miss Jane Lindroth at her parents' home on Lumpkin Road.

Mrs. William Lucas left Thursday to visit her mother, Mrs. Ellis, at Charleston, South Carolina, and will probably spend the entire summer. Mrs. Guy Hartman left Thursday for Atlanta to visit friends before leaving for New York and sailing for their new station. Majors Henry B. Lewis and John F. Corby, and Captain Arnold Funk have recently returned from a threeday inspection tour of the Citizens'

Conservation Camps in the state of Woodruff, Miss Eleanor Garrard, Mrs. more of that sort of thing than the and by night, in fair weather and Malcolm Lindsey, Mrs. Burrell Cole, and Mrs. Joseph I. Greene motored to West Point and Fairfax on Mon-

Lieutenant Malin Craig has returned from Atlanta where he was an attendant in the wedding of Miss Barnett and Lieutenant George Crosby, son of Major General George Crosby.

Major Roger Harrison left recently for his new station with the City College of New York. Mrs. Harrison is spending a month with Mrs. Oliver E. G. Trechter and will join Major Harrison later.

> THE FLARE (Continued from page 5)

occasions. Every organization on the post has contributed in material ways to the important business of training Infantry officers for future wars through demonstration and participation in student maneuvers. Our citation, then applies to the men of all others, we wish especially to cite in our farewell issue:

the bidding of strange officers, they of the Infantry School. marched and countermarched by day foul, in seemingly purposeless wanderings over Benning's ninety-seven The buck privates of the 29th In- thousand acres-playing the game fantry, for the spirit shown in a hun-like soldiers for the reputation of dred student maneuvers wherein, at their crack regiment and the credit

–E. F. H.

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS_____RESOURCES OVER _____

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL. Jr.

It's talking about Chesterfield - says it has a good reputation -What about it?

¬ALKING ABOUT the reputation of a cigarette—that's something new.

I know about reputation of people . . . reputation of some other things ... and, come to think about it, I should say that CHESTERFIELD has an A-1 reputation.

You know, it seems to have real merit. To me, for a cigarette 'To Satisfy,' it certainly has to be made right; and then it has to taste right. I just don't like them strong ... they just have to be mild.

CHESTERFIELD has what it takes to satisfy. That's what people say about it."

hesterfield

CHESTERFIELD

They have what it Takes Just Try them! VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, JULY 7, 1933

NUMBER 11

350 Students End Work At R.O.T. C. Camp On July 12th

Brief graduation exercises for the 305 students of colleges in Georgia Alabama, Florida, and Tennessee, who have been attending the R. O. T. C. encampment at Fort Benning since June 3, were held at the post Friday morning.

Forty-five of the students who attended the courses were presented with commissions as second lieutenants in the officers' reserve corps; an increase of twenty-seven over the number who were commissioned at last year's encampment. Selections by the 24th Infantry band opened the exercises at 7:30 A. M., following which Colonel Fred L. Munson, acting commandant of the Infantry School, made a brief talk to the college men on preparedness, presented the commissions and administered the commissions and administrated the oaths. Major Gustav K. Franke, commanding officer of the R. O. T. C. camp, then complimented the students on the success of the encampment this year, in spite of the curtailment of the course, which had been shortened almost two weeks.

The men who were commissioned as second lieutenants represent all of the colleges and universities that had sent students to the camp. The largest number were commissioned in the ordnance department, among whom were William H. Bates, Raymond W. Burkett, John F. Chick, Leon L. Combs, jr., William Connerat, jr., Joseph J. Davis, Joseph R. DePriest, Eugene K. Graham, Walter K. Graham, John E. Hatcher, William B. Hawkins, Henry E. Hemboldt, Theodore Y. Howze, Ralph D. McConigly, Robert W. Norris, jr., jr., Jackson F. Palmer, George B. Pilkington, Willard E. Quillian, Wayne E. Robinson, Claude B. Sawyer, jr., Frederick N. Scanlin, Robert S. Sloan, jr., Nathan Sugarman, James S. Tabb, Theodore Taube, Charles von Herrman, jr., and Jerome B. Woods, all of whom are at-Gruel, jr., Sam F. Lambert, James G. Lee, Eldred W. McCal, Clifford A. Roberts, and Roy W. Williams also tillery reserve lieutenants commis-sioned were William H. Boyce, University of Florida, Robert G. Pitts, Albert T. Goodwyn, University of Alabama, and James K. Kimbrel, University of Alabama.

The program of athletics which was carried on by the collegians during their stay at the post was completed July 4th, when Battery A emerged victorious in the field and track meet. A considerable number of the outstanding southern athletes competed in the various events and as a consequence the meet was excedingly fast. Battery A scored 37 points, with Battery B, running a close second at 32.- Engineers finished third with 23, Battery C with 19, and the Ordnance company with 4 rounded out the teams entered. The signal corps company did not enter. In golf Hieman, University of Florida won the championship, with Jones of Auburn runner up. The final round was played Monday, after some stiff competition in the first rounds. Pritchett, No. 1 player of Auburn in tennis, won the tournament held by the R. (Please turn to page 3)

held in the various posts in the corp for this examination have been listed Algebra, Plane Geometry, and Engat West Point will begin their studies lish. The questions for the examinations are to be prepared by the commanding officer of the 4th Corps Area, and will be furnished to all military posts, together with the date and hours of the examination, which are to be the same throughout. The completed papers will then be forwarded to Fort McPherson, where they will be graded by a board of officers. The men taking the examinations are to be assigned code numbers, which will be used on all his examination papers in place of his name. Those who pass this examination will be carried on detached serv-subjects listed for study in the prep courses at Fort McPherson, at the conclusion of which the candidates stand their examination for admittance to West Point, include algebra, medieval and modern history, plane geometry, English and American literature, English analysis and composition and the history of the United States.

It has been the custom in previous years to hold a preliminary school at each of the posts in the Corps Area for the instruction of those who desired to attend the school at Fort Mc Pherson. This local course, which began on or about July 1, vas continued till a few days b fore the

Benning Finishes Task of Training 10,000 Recruits

The reconditioning camp at Fort Benning for men enrolled in the Civilian Conservation Corps has meased to function, the last man being handled through the camp headquarters Wednesday. A total of 10,721 men were "processed" through the camp during the time it was in operation. The similar camp for receiving and organizing companies of veterans is in operation in the same location as the former camp where one of the largest groups of C. C. C. men in the United States were han-

Upon the closing of the camp at Fort Benning, Colonel Fred L. Munson, acting Commandant of Fort Benning took occasion to commend the officers and men in an official communication sent out from heaqduarters at the fort for their work in connection handling the C. C. C. men.

Word has been received by radio from the War Department that the mobilization of the 250,000 men in the United States and shipment of them into work camps had been completed as desired by President Roosevelt in his presidential order calling the men together. The radio, which was sent by General Douglas Mac-Arthur, Chief of Staff of the Army to Corps Area Commanders, including General Edward L. King, Commander of the Fourth Corps Area at Atlanta was:

"On May 12th, 1933, the President directed the War Department to complete the mobilization of the C. C. C. and to insure its distribution into work camps. This task comprised the reception, physical examination, the enrollment, the conditioning, the feeding, clothing, equipping, paying, disciplining, hospitalizing and organizing into two hundred man units of approximately two hundred fifty thousand members of the C. C. C. in seventy three conditioning camps on military reservations throughout the United States.

'It included the establishment, construction and supply of over one thousand four hundred work camps extending from the Atlantic to the Pacific and from the Canadian border to the Gulf of Mexico. It represented the greatest peace time demand ever made upon the Army and constituted a task of character and proportions equivalent to emergencies of war.

'The President's plan has been efficiently accomplished in record time and without confusion. This achievement is indicative of the superior standard of professional fitness of the Army. Only a high morale, spirit of cooperation, pride of service and plished such splendid results.

"I extend to you and all members of your command my sincere appreciation of this great accomplishment. It was well done, Army."

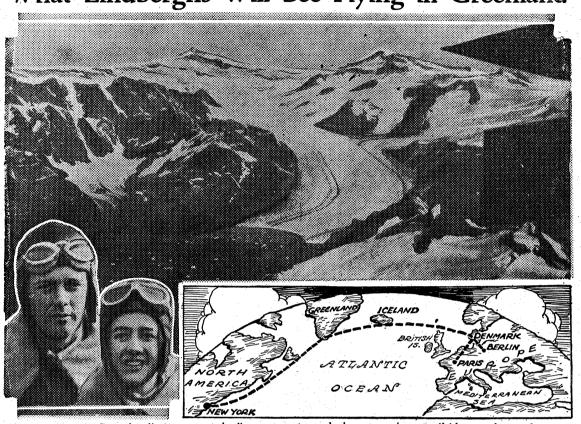

In forwarding this communication to Colonel Munson at Fort Benning, General King said:

"I add my sincere and hearty appreciation of a big task well done. 'Without the cooperation and devotion to duty mentioned by the Chief of Staff, the task would have been impossible; with these, all things, humanly speaking, are possible. "I congratulate you all." Colonel Munson has sent the commendation out from headquarters at Fort Benning to the members of the command, added the following:

(Please turn to page 3)

What Lindberghs Will See Flying in Greenland

Acrial photo of "Greenland's icy mountains" near coast, made by a previous trail-blazer, shows the territory over which Mr. and Mrs. Charles A. Lindbergh will fly in mapping a new northern mail and passenger route to Europe. Monster flying boats are being constructed for regular service over the route, which will extend via Iceland and Denmark.

THE PARENT-TEACHERS ASSOCIATION

Important Part In Education Of Army Children Falls To Lot Of Women Who Form Organization At Benning

interested in the education and future career of their children is the Parent-Teacher Association.

One of the first questions army parents ask when ordered to a new tions is possible until a strong public experience of seeing their boys and station is "What Kind of School Will opinion approves and demands it. girls have such a hard time at col-I Find for my Children" While army children have a hard Man's greatest school is travel. It excels in human interest and utility every other form of instruction. Its all of Georgia Tech. The Field Ar- cultural values are infinite. Travel is Nature's university.

the very best school and the very best Parent-Teacher Association in the whole Army.

No improvement in school condiopinion approves and demands it. Parents cannot be enthusiastic and lege because they have failed to have interested in school improvement certain studies and a proper fountending Georgia Tech. The Signal time with the interruptions caused at the composition of unless they know conditions and pos-sibilities for improvement. There is are among the most ardent believers interest in improvements like a Par as a duty to serve as members of the ent-Teacher Association which meets Benning Association and have a share regularly to consider such matters.

At Benning the Parent-Teacher As. tages of the Post children. sociation meets in the afternoon, a fact that precludes fathers from atone of the most artistic in the Army, With the highly intellectual person- tending. However, the fathers of the

The most important organization nel at Fort Benning, there is no Post are always ready to lend their at Fort Benning for parents who are reason why this Post should not have influence and effort to any project sponsored by the association.

Several mothers who have no children of their own in the Benning School, but have been through the girls have such a hard time at colin furthering the educational advan-

(Please turn to page 4)

WEST POINT CANDIDATES TO TRY OUT HERE

Qualification Exams To Be Held Here To Select Students For McPherson Class, Tests To Be Given On October 1st.

who are candidates for admission to the United States Military Academ for the competitive examinations at Fort McPherson on October 1, according to order issued by Headquarters 4th Corps Area. The final entrance examinations, which are held on a competitive basis, will take place in March, 1934; and a preliminary examination for the purpose of determining those fit to continue the course will be held early in December.

A preliminary examination for the men who desire to take the Fort Mc-Pherson preparatory course will be area on August 1-2 to determine the Enlisted men of the regular army the candidates. Among the subjects pursue the preparatory course. The mental fitness and qualifications of ice at Corps Area headquarters to

(Please turn to page 4)

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS

When the Fourth of July turned hours afterward, as a result of the quite knew which way to take it. The thermometer said that everything was going down but the stocks refused to follow the thermometer. And as the climate's coolness continued, followed by still more Arctic weather in the forefront of July, the whole State, let alone Fort Benning, wondered whether the next ice wagon was about to ensue.

In view of the fact that we are still more than twenty-four

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital

1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

After Your Game

Refresh Yourself

With

FOREMOST

When you're hot and tired, then is the time you'll most appreciate the delicious goodness of Foremost Ice Cream. Order some right away.

Call The Soda Fount

FOREMOST DAIRIES

out to be Christmas Eve or something blizzardly breezes that came so unexvery closely approximating it, no one pectedly out of the North, we have an honest right to ask from whence came the Arctic winds that have cansed the barbecue to stiffen and the soul of man to seek the woolen covers in despaair. Had it been but a momentary change had the frozen regions minutes but made their presence known for a few minutes only in the interval between hot and hottest; there is every reason to believe that nohing but welcome would have attended the coming of the highly premature and climatic Indian season that Nature has foisted upon us so sudden-But coming without the least warning as it did, what has simple Man to say? Nothing, Nothing at all. Once in 42 and one-half years Nature, the Ultimate Queen of Existence, takes precedeence and give us all a broad and raucous "Ha-ha" by denying in temperature and other condition the weather we may, by the light of our briefer lives, expect.

As a matter of fact, every one of has every reason to believe that the Glorious Fourth is bound to be a day of hot discomfort made bearable only by a firecracker and Roman candle freedom. We have memories of other Fourths, full of powder and pinwheels, that were far less frigid than the Fourth just passed.

In one respect, however, there was, no difference. The forty and eight guns told their tribute to the States, at Fort Benning as at all other Army posts.

A most enjoyable picnic took place on the evening of the Fourth. Those who took part in this delightful informal gathering were: Lieutenant and Mrs. James Bowen, Lieutenant and Mrs. James Pierce, Lieutenant and Mrs. William O'Connor, Lieutenant William Craigie, Mrs. Selina Waddington, Mr. Trost and others.

Captain and Mrs. William Yancey now have as their house guest Captain Yancey's mother, Mrs. William L. Yancey, who will be with them for some time to come.

About 50 people were present at the watermelon cutting that took place at Jeff's hole Thursday afternoon at four o'clock. Where all the melons came from is still a mystery; although the auspices of the Twenty-fourth Infantry may well have been invoked. The warmth of the gentle sunlight and the soft chattering voice of the stream that once impelled Jeff to do his stuff were as implicit in their appeal to appetite as to any of the finer

Whether it's a picnic or a trip—be sure of enjoy-ment every minute of the time by taking the SIX-

BOX along with you to guarantee your regular

Coca-Cola when you want it. It is the perfect drink

For family use the SIX-

BOX is unexcelled. You will be wise if you keep it on hand all the time. Its economy, convenience and neatness make it all the more attractive.

for every occasion.

Today's Fashion

The perfect rest-hour garment. By VERA WINSTON

AS PART of the program of making the most of our leisure hours, the smart but simple negligee plays a stellar role. The fluffy, frilly rest gown belongs more to the category of the hostess gown. But a soft, silky garment, simply but perfectly styled and done in a restful color seems to induce serenity and peace. The delightful little negligee shown here is surely the perfect rest-hour garment. It is of French blue triple sheer. It has self-ruching at the neck and ruching also outlines the cut-out shoulder. The capelet sleeves are in one with the bodice. A soft sash that ties at the side marks the rather high waist-senses. And so no one went thirsty for melon!

Friday evening the second of the Friday night swimming parties at Russ Pool proved quite successful. Swimming was the enjoyment early in the evening; and later, as the sun began to set, good talk and good food were interesting concomitants.

Captain John W. Blue entertained nformally at a most delightful buffet supper on Friday night. His guests included Captain and Mrs. Malcolm F. Lindsey, Captain and Mrs. George Pope, Lieutenant and Mrs. Joseph I. Greene, Mr. and Mrs. George Woodruff, Miss Eleanor Garrard, Mrs. Tracy Davis, Mrs. Burrell Cole, Lieutenant George Decker, and others

Mrs. Joseph I. Greene has been visiting her father, Mr. George K. Hutchins who has been ill at his home in Wynnton for the past several months, suffering from a severe heart attack

Capt. and Mrs. Geo. Pope and their children are leaving on Saturday for Mississippi where Captain Pope is stationed with the Civilian Conservation Corps.

Captain John W. Blue is spending

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

A Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

a few days leave at Benning enroute to North Carolina after which he will return to Florida where he is stationed with the Civilian Conservation

Mrs. William Lucas left Wednesday to visit relatives in Charleston, South Carolina and vicinity.

Mrs. George Howell has just returned from Washington, D. C., where she has been visiting for the past four weeks. Mrs. Howell is the society correspondent of The Herald. She is thrice welcome home because the diligent substitute has daily grown more at a loss for news and gossip with which to enliven the readers of this publication.

> RUBBER STAMPS COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

THINK IT OVER CAREFULLY

It's a hard job trying to figure out where to do your buying, but you'll do much better if you decide on Silver's. Everything you need, at lower prices!

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST. GUARANTEED QUALITY

FURNITURE

Headquarters for Furniture and all kinds of household furnishings, at the lowest price and easiest terms. It will pay you to see us before you buy.

CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

SUCCESSORS TO JOHNSTON-CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

1014 Broadway

Phone 460

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

TAKE "SIX-BOX" ALONG

PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

DELICIOUS:

REFRESHING:

AND

AS ANYTHING YOU HAVE EVER TASTED

-MORE SO THAN ANY

OTHER SOFT DRINK SOLD AT ALL COLUMBUS STORES

LIVE EASIER THIS SUMMER!

Make your summer cooking worries disappear by doing all your buying at one place—the Grocery Department. We have a wide variety of everything you'll need.

Wise cooks will appreciate the perfect service given by the Grocery Department at all times.

Grocery Dept. POST EXCHANGE

Fort Benning, Ga.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

THE

Post Exchange

has a

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The hours of this service are from 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING. GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

 \mathbf{L}

SILVER

 \mathbf{R} BY

Kirk

Gorham

Towle Reed & Barton

Wallace International

Silverware, like almost everything else, will probably go up in price in the near future. Buy yours now, while the prices are reasonable.

AND SON 1121 BROADWAY

Post Celebrates Fourth Of July

Tuesday, July 4, was a holiday for the members of the Fort Benning garrison. Aside from the rendering of the national salute of 48 guns, and the playing of patriotic airs by the two bands of the post, there were no stficial ceremonies arranged for the troops of the garrison as a whole.

The regimental band of the 29th Infantry played a fifteen minute program of patriotic airs in the vicinity of the tall staff from which waves the garrison flag, from 7:45 to 8:00 p. m. At the noon hour the Salute to the Union commemorative of the Declaration of Independence, and consisting of one gun for each of the states, was fired by Battery C, 83rd Field Artillery. At 11:55 the 24th Infantry band, stationed at the flagpole, played the "Star Spangled Banner" at the conclusion of the salute.

A number of organization celebrations were planned for the various units of the garrison, and holiday dinners were prepared at all of the

BENNING COMPLETES WORK OF PREPARING 10,000 C. C. C.'S (Continued From Page 1)

"In transmitting this communication, the Commandant desires to express his gratification to all concerned and to offer his congratulations to the officers and men whose efforts and cooperation elicited this commenda-

While army now has completed its task of mobilizing, °organizing and processing the civilian conservation Corps, this does not mean, it was stated at Headquarters, Fort Benning Wednesday, that officers and men who have been on that duty now can return to their normal army work. Quite the contrary for each of the 1,400 work camps located throughout the United States requires the presence of three army officers and an indefintie number of enlisted men ranging from three to ten; also the camps are organized into districts for administrative reasons and each of the seventy district headquarters requires an additional minimum of six officers and thirty men. These officers and men, according to the set up, must remain with the works camps and at district headquarters until at some time in the indefinite future when other arrangements may be made for the administration and supervision of the work camp set up.

Officials at Fort Benning have no idea what, if any, change will be made. Under present plans, the army will continue its supervision.

R. O. T. C. STUDENTS FINISH WORK HERE (Continued From Page 1)

O. T C. capturing the singles championship without any serious trouble. In the boxing tournament, Turril, University of Florida, won the 135 lb. class, Craig of Georgia Tech, eliminated all competitors in the 150 lb. Rogers of Auburn captured the 168 lb. title, and "Red" Cobble, University of Florida champion, ran off with the heavyweight division. The R. O. T. C. baseball team, which played in the post intramural league, won two and lost three. Battery A, of Auburn, won the camp league over the three others teams playing.

CONVENIENT LOCATION—MODERN EQUIPMENT RATES REASONABLE

Phone your agent or call our Superintendent, Mr. Trussell, Phone 3062

COURT APAR

FOR HAPPY FAMILIES

Try Collin's Old Fashioned Milk Bread. For sale at your grocer.

BAKING COMPANY

1144 13TH

STREET

KIRVEN'S JULY SALES

DRESSES-SUITS-COATS

In All Sizes

Silk and Cloth Dresses

Crepes, Sheers, Prints and Light wools, Navy, Black, Blue, Grey and Beige.

formerly $16.75 to $19.75

Crepes, Sheers, Prints, Light wools and Knits. Navy, Blue, Black, White, Grey and Beige.

formerly $29.75 to $45.00

$8.95

Knit Suits

Two piece and three piece suits. In White, Flesh, Green, Beige, Grey and

formerly $10.75

Two piece and three piece suits in the above colors. formerly $16.75 to $29.75

$10.75

Light Wool Suits

Black, Navy, Beige and Grey.

formerly $16.75

$5.95 3

Black, Navy, Grey and Beige.

formerly $29.75

$8.95

Wool Coats

In Navy, Grey, Beige, and Dawn Blue.

formerly $16.75

$6.95

In the above colors.

formerly $29.75 to $39.75

$10.95

Junior Silk Dresses

Only four dozen of these dresses for sports and dress up occasions. Summer and mid-summer styles including some suitable for traveling.

formerly $5.95

$1.98

SHOES

All White Shoes

except sandals

Were $7.50	Now	$5.95
Were $5.45	Now	$3.95
Were $3.95	Now	$2.95

KIRVEN'S

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Phone 556 VOLUME III. Columbus, Georgia

JULY 7, 1933 NUMBER 11 -----Publisher _Editor FELICIA C. HOWELL
D. P. HARDING ____Sports Editor _Circulation Manager

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,
BALTIMORE

Parent-Teachers Association

(Continued from page 1)

and interest of Benning parents. The construction of the school building come right next in importwas financed by officers and soldiers contributed the labor.

The population of Fort Benning has greatly increased since the comple-tion of the school building and more rooms and an auditorium are needed. The Kindergarten children are not able to enjoy the new building on account of lack of space and are forced to occupy one of the temporary quarters adjoining the school yard. A fund-to add necessary rooms and an auditorium has been started by the Parent-Teacher Association. It is hoped that the entire Post will cooperate in the accomplishment of this project.

The Parent-Teacher Association was fortunate in having as its president during the past season Mrs. Thomas B. Catron, one of Benning's most intellectual, public spirited women. Mrs. Catron has made a thorough study of educational methods. While serving as an officer in Parent-Teacher Associations at West Point and at Fort Leavenworth, she was instrumental in making marked improvements in the children's schools at both places.

Mrs. Catron was ably assisted by the following officers and chairmen: Mrs. Norman D. Cota, first vice president: Mrs. A. J. Petit, second vice president; Mrs. Sereno Brett, secretary, Mrs. Vernon Evans, treasurer; Mrs. John Huling, Jr., hospitality committee; Mrs. Thomas G. Hearn, publications; Mrs. Philip S. Wood, transportation.

Organizations in the army continually encounter difficulties caused by frequent changes. The Benning Parent-Teacher Association was looking forward to the leadership of Mrs. Roger B. Harrison, who has demonstrated such splendid executive ability in responsible positions in several literary and educational army organizations. Major Harrison's orders for duty in New York, however, will make it necessary to find another president for the ensuing year.

The enjoyable programs for last season's monthly meetings were arranged by Mrs. Norman D. Cota. Among the speakers present were: Dr. Stukes, of Agnes Scott College; Prof. Wallace, of Warm Springs: Dr. Otis Knight, of Mercer University; Mrs. Wooten, Georgia State College for Women; Miss Edwina Wood of Columbus and Col. J. DeCamp Hall, Capt. Howard N. Merrill, and Mrs.

ing at the Polo Club, conferences be- empty stockings among the Army tween mothers and teachers of each families, the Parent-Teacher Associagrade, conducted by room mothers tion collected used toys, which were were held in the school building at regular intervals.

Closer cooperation between mothers and teachers is one of the aims for the coming year. Acquaintance with mothers makes possible a more intelligent understanding on the part of the teachers of the children's needs and potentialities. Intelligent understanding by mothers of the work and methods of the school usually to establish a Nursery School. While help to develop a loyalty among the parents are deeply grateful for the children and the eachers efforts be advantages made possible through the came more fruitful. A teacher has Benning Parent-Teacher Association, the program of constructive work a grammar school child during most uncounted opportunities, untold re- planned for the coming year. of the child's waking hours and the sponsibilities still await the women stands as a monument to the loyalty teacher's responsibility for character ance to the lessons learned at the mother's knee.

> The Benning Parent-Teacher Association has enlarged the scope of its activities until it has become a real, vital community asset. The Crafts Shop conducted by the Association under the leadership of Mrs. Frank V. Schneider, with Mrs. Donald P. Spalding as active manager of the Shop has proven a welcome convenience to the entire Post. "Pin money" is made by dozens of energetic housekeepers skilled in the culinary art and in needle work. The Wednesday and Saturday sales of home made food are anticipated with delight. Rare articles of every description are available.

The Book Shelf, which was managed by Mrs. Roger B. Harrison last year and is now in charge of Mrs. John L. Jenkins is one of the most popular feature of the Crafts Shop. A circulating library for children in the school building, directed by Mrs Henry J. Matchett is also in constan Donations of good books for this library will be gratefully received.

The Parent-Teacher Association is rendering a service to future housewives by cooperating heartily with the Domestic Science Department of the school. During the past season the Association equipped the Domestic Science rooms with an ample supply of china, silver and glass, making real, practical work possible. At the close of the school year a luncheon was prepared and served by the Domestic Science pupils to the officers of the Parent-Teacher Association and prominent Post officials.

Supervised diversions for the children were arranged by Parent-Teachers ommittees. Besides the monthly dances at the Polo Club, Hallowe'en Christmas and Easter parties were given. The Tony Sarg Marionettes brought to Benning by the Association was enjoyed by both children and parents.

During the coming year the children will be given a comprehensive idea, through explanations before each performance, of the Community Concert Series to be presented in Columbus and their attendance encouraged.

"Sweet charity" was also included in the activities of the Association. Tuition was paid for twelve children whose parents were unable to furnish Allen F. Kingman, of Fort Benning. attendance at the Post school. De-In addition to the monthly meet-termined that there were to be no renovated by the Post firemen and distributed by the Welfare Council at Christmas time. Mrs. Geoffrey Mar shall will have charge of this feature for next year. Families moving away this summer are requested to leave toys with Mrs. Marshall for this pur-

> A movement has been started to procure and equip a playground and

Ten Years Ago This Week

The Infantry Rifle Team started working out at Niagara in preparation for the national matches at Camp Perry. A number of members of the Fort Benning garrison were present, including Captains W. A. Dumas, Infantry; C. H. Karlstad, Infantry; J. A. Kneudal, Infantry team coach; F. J. Pearson, Infantry; P. L. Ranson, Infantry; J. S. Schwab, 24th Infantry; W. M. Spann, Infantry; T. Wessels, Infantry; 1st Lieutenants V. Jones, 24th Infantry; F. H. Privett, 29th Infantry; 2d Lieutenants H. S. Olsen, 29th Infanrty; W. R. Tomey, 29th Infantry; Sergeants J. B. Ellis, I. S. D.; P. M. Giron, I. S. D.; F. Ioerber, I. S. D.; G. B. Larkins, Company C, 24th Infantry; A. B. Strickland, I. S. D.; and Corporals J. A. Rivadenera, Company A, 29th Infantry, and R. A. White, I. S. D.

The 29th Infantry gave a farewell party for Colonel and Mrs. Goodale who were leaving the regiment.

The I. S. D. retained its lead in the post baseball league by taking a ten-inning struggle from the Terrible Tankers 3-2, and the Tankers promptturned around and walloped the Artillery 10-0. Heckert and Waller of the Greencords were the big hitrs. Batteries I. S. D. Hyland and McCarthy; Tanks Lindsey and Smith. The 24th sent the Pensacola Giants back to the cane bottoms after a two game series which the Happy Hearts won 4-3, 14-2. Batteries 24th Leonard-Wallace and Haywood-Battles; Pensacola, Winder-Wesley, and Hill-Wesley.

Preparations for the proper celebration of July 4th were underway, including a 24th Infantry track meet and gymkhana, parade by the bands, exercises (patriotic, not calisthenic) at the swimming pool, swimming meet, baseball, and fireworks on the parade ground in the evening. Colonel B. P. Nicklin gave the address at the swimming pool, and Chaplain L. F. Rosenthal read the Declaration of Independence.

Immediately following their marriage Captain and Mrs. Claude G. Hammond (nee Alice Sims, of Columbus) left for a tour of New York and Canada.

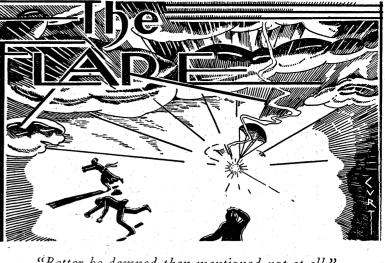

Student officers prepare to play "pussy-in-the-corner" when official word is published from post headquarters that the junior officer in each block of quarters can be "ranked out," and in turn may rank out his junior in another block. Somebody was out of luck!

WEST POINT CANDIDATES

(Continued from page 1) were to enroll at Fort McPher An elimination examination was held and those successful in passing it were detailed for further study at Corps Area headquarters. This system was of great value to the men tional two months of study for the stiff examination given to those who are trying for the Military Academy. The course was discontinued this year because of the demands made other posts by the Civilian Conservation Corps. The men who take the decline. But not these three Summer attended a Poker Party instead. Colothe educational fees required for examination in August will go direct Widowers. They organized themselves nel Persons' selection as a judge in the to Fort McPherson, without any previous tions.

> A number of men formerly stationed at Fort Benning have completed the course at Fort McPherson in past years, and are now on duty. as regular commissioned officers with the army, or are at present studying at the Academy. One of the most recent ones to attend West Point from the post, recently won first place in a mathematics test between the Military Academy and Harvard Universi-> of the Post. A force of united effort will furnish inspiration for new endeavors and the accomplishment of -P. A. L.

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

(Non-conducted)

When CONDUCTOR HARDING packed his little black bag and slipped off the FLARE FLYER just west of the water-tower he left the SOCIETY SPECIAL with no one to run it to the next station except The Train Crew. Something had to be done so you find the Brakeman bringing the train falteringly along with a flat wheel and a leaking hot-air brake toward the next station where it is hoped to find a fully qualified and properly equipped CONDUCTOR to take over the train made so famous by Late CONDUCTOR HARDING.

The Marvelous Moblization of Wonderful Woodmen, known to the world as the C.C.C. Crime, has wrought havoc with many, if not all, of our efficient and smooth running institutions. The Benning Herald has probably suffered most severely, but the Runner up in the Hardluck Handicap is undoubtedly the Officers' Club. We do not refer to that Pretentious Pine Pile presided over by Mine-Host Dowdall. A careful check made during that hour in the morning which has been well established as the most prolific for Club profits finds business about as usual. The Infantry Board still lines up against the Pie Counter and shoots Macaroons and the little round tables are all occupied by Janes in Jodpurs drinking Cokes. In fact business, if anything, has improved since Colonel Pulchritude Picker Persons and Inside Straight Schneider joined the Macaroon Gamboleers. No, not Dowdall's Dispensary. We are talking about that Mission Style Mansion of Brick and Stucco the corner stone of which was laid by Lafayette and which will be dedicated by Jas. E. Bowen the 5th when he is Chief of Infantry. Parson Golightly, the Big Kiwanis Builder who established his reputation as a Concrete Mixer by completing the Kiddy Foot Bath at Russ Pool in the remarkable time of two years, three months, ten days and six hours has been in so-called charge of construction at the New Officers' Club and since the row of Fallen Arches began to take form several months ago has been going around the Golf Course daily with that well known expression of satisfaction on his face which is worn by the family cat just after swallowing the Canary. For several days, however, our Maker of Bricks without Straw has lost somewhat of his debonair manner and has been heard to curse roundly at the hooks and slices which have crept into his golf game. When cornered at the nineteenth hole last week Contractor Golightly unburdened himself and admitted that he was worried about progress on the Club. know" he said, "I was beginning to make real progress when this C. C. C. thing came along and they took away my Man Friday. Frenchy O'Flaherty's slogan was 'A Brick a day keeps the Inspector away' and under that banner I was always able to show progress. But the Conservationists caught himwell, on short notice, and tomorrow I will lay the last brick that he had laid out for me and I don't know what I am to do. I went to see Mrs. Mike. thinking that I could get his address and ask what to do next but the Missus all but burst into tears. It seems that Mike has written home every other day or so and has described his camp in minute detail. He has given its location as only two miles from a nice town that has five and ten cent stores, drug stores, grocery stores and markets. He has told in his letters of how many eggs he has to buy a day for his boys and the names of the movies he has been to see at night but it has never occurred to him to give her the name of the town and he always mails the letters on the train so that she can't even find out from the post-mark where he is. All she knows is that it is somewhere in Alabama—she thinks. Isn't that just like a wild Irishman? Truly the Officers' Club-the one in course of construction-is S. O. L.

deserving of all the sympathy they can get. Their's is a sad lot indeed but they have had one real Break. Three Breaks, to be numerically correct. Totem Pole Pete Ferenbaugh, Humdinger Howell and Debonair concerned, as it gave them an addi- Decker got their heads together, estimated the situation and decided to give their wives a long delayed and Lewis and Peacherino Preferred Pilet richly deserved vacation. were purchased and three grateful joint by not being asked to act as wives departed for points East, North judges for this year's contest that they upon personnel at Fort Benning and and South leaving three tearful husbands who were supposed to go into a into a P. O. E. A. W. Association Beauty Contest in Phenix City on the (Prevention of Ennui among Widows Fourth of July we assume was in the to you) with a prize for the one who nature of a tryout in the Sticks and received the most invitations to din- we expect to see him as Head Man at ner. Rumors of the doings of the the City show next year. members of the Association were wafted to the respective wives with the result that the organization was abruptly disbanded due to the unexpected return of the wives. And three erstwhile Summer Widowers have been wihdrawn from circulation. The prize the last count found Totem Pole Pete and Humdinger tied for second place with Debonair leading by two invitations because Mrs. D was so far away that it took her two days longer to get back than it do the other two

The C. C. C. Crime has been the mak- which was conducted to a successful ing of many Post Widows and they are issue by Adjutant General Lewis always had this column's approval and support. And his and our judgement was vindicated at the recent Beauty Contest at the Columbus Country Club when all three Palms, first, second and third were awarded to glorious girls so attired. And speaking of Beauty Contests, Loveliness Lauder Tickets had their noses put so far out of wouldn't even attend despite the earnest entreaties of their wives.

TRAVELOGUE

On June 24th, last, there was a wedding in Atlanta, of interest to service people. It is not with the wedding. however, that we are particularly concerned, but with the efforts of one of our local citizens to attend it.

Lieutenant George H. (Dilatory) McManus, of the 83rd, set forth to number himself among the guests at the wedding, which was to take place at five-thirty. The church, his destination, chanced to be on one of the many Peachtree streets, avenues, cir-

(Please turn to page 5)

The crusade for white bathing suits

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Corn Griffin Rematched With Wily Canuck

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

A whistling right uppercut to the ly developed to the point where he weight circles.

all, lost the title to Gene Tunney, a boxer. Gene retired from the ring undefeated and immediately there was a wild scramble for the vacant throne. From Germany came Herr Max Schmeling, another boxer, and the Black Uhlan succeeded in acquiring the prestige and the popularity that automatically are extended to the heavyweight champion of the world. But the title was not long to remain in Schmeling's hands. Jack Cuckoshay, alias Sharkey, a brawny Lithuanian, and undoubtedly the outstanding boxer since Gene Tunney, jabbed and ducked his way to a victory over the slower-flat-footed Ger-

Thus matters stood until Max Baer, the Butcher, came out of the west with a sneer on his lips and dynano fighter had ever succeeded in doing before in this country—Baer bring back to the boxing game that Dempsey had succumbed to the superior boxing of Gene Tunney.

Jess Willard in the minds of the batting an eye. oldtimers, was plodding methodically towards the title. Weighing in the neighborhood of two hundred and and the sixth began. Suddenly Carsixty pounds and six feet eight inches nera advanced on Sharkey, who was in height, he constituted a formida- dwarfed by the Italian, with arms chin and an inert heap that once was almost as fast as a good lightwas the heavyweight champion of the heavyweight. His unorthodox style, wide, wide world terminated abrupt-ly the rule of the boxer in heavy-shoulders, and elbows to an oppoeight circles.

Jack Dempsey, the greatest of them in blocking punches.

> Still, he could not hit. He did not have the knockout wallop. But any giant of two hundred and sixty pounds can wear an opponent down with jabs and hooks that have all that great weight behind them. Ponderously, the Italian Colossus clambered over the obstacles that led to the crown. Finally, he got his chance. Jack Sharkey, positive that what he did once he could do again, consented to give the Italian a title shot. And so the two were matched with the heavyweight crown at stake.

Sharkey swarmed outof his corner at the gong and began fighting one of the greatest battles of his career. Carnera was helpless in the hands of a master boxer and the champion was at his best. For five rounds, Sharkey belted the challenger all over the mite in his right hand to do what ring. But one thing was rather discouraging to the title-holder. No matter how hard he hit the man knocked Schmeling out in ten rounds. mountain in front of him, Carnera The whole boxing world was star merely smiled back foolishly and tled. Here at last was a hitter, here was obviously not hurt in the least, at last was someone who would Sharkey, noticing this, grew reckless, and began using his right more and something it had lost since Jack more in an effort to knock Carnera out. Several of these crushing rights found their target and the crowd In the meantime, Primo Carnera, wonder how Primo withstood the who aroused images of the massive terrific blows without so much as

The fifth round passed into history ble opponent for any man. At first, flailing like giant windmills. He awkward and an easy target, he rapid- half-pushed the champion to the floor

To Trade Punches With Tanker Again

Excellent Supporting Cast Being Arranged For Next Fight Program

The announcement that Corn Griffin, the Terrible Tanker, would trade blows with Charley Belanger, Canadian lightweight champion, in a rematch was received with general acclaim from every quarter. Captain Fry turned the announcement loose and immediately there was a storm of speculation aroused. Some contended that Griffin, having already sampled the wares of Mr. Belanger, would take the Canadian champ into camp on the occasion of their next meeting. Others were of the opinion that Belanger, a northerner and therefore unaccustomed to the excessive heat of a Georgia summer, was out of shape when he last fought Griffin, and that the Canuck will win when he faces the Terrible Tanker in a rematch.

Griffin is confident of defeating the Canadian. At no time in his recent battle with Belanger, he stated, was he in any danger of being knocked out. The wily Canuck's punches had no zip behind them, Belanger employing an open glove to slap Griffin on face and body. Of course, there is much room for controversy there. If Belanger had no punch whatsoever, he would never have been able to deposit Mickie Walker on the floor for a count of nine, nor would he have been able to pile up such an impressive knockout record. Also, Charley knows all the tricks of the ring game, born of many years' experience in the cauliflower industry.

Not less confident of winning the coming battle than Griffin is Belanger himself, who claims that he entered the ring a month ago out of shape and tired from lack of sleep and spent with the excessive heat. He figures to defeat Griffin by a large margin or to knock him out alto-

Griffin realizes that much hinges on the outcome of this fight. For several months, he has been climbing the fistic ladder in leaps and bounds, accumulating many notable victories over tough opponents. If he defeats Belanger, Griffin stock will soar skywards and he will automatically be numbered among the best in his division. If he loses, it will mean that his long upward climb will have been for naught.

At any rate, fans are certain of witnessing a real battle when the wily Canuck and the Terrible Tanker rush out for the opening gong. Neither has any intention of losing, and for references, recall the last, as the crowd, hysterical now, rose to its feet almost to a man. The Lithuanian clambered to his feet shaking his head. He staggered a bit as the man mountain closed in on him. A right uppercut that started from the floor landed silently against the button and Sharkey collapsed on the floor. It was the end of a champion, and simultaneously the end of the rule of the boxer.

Boxing fanatics are already excited over the prospects of a Baer-Carnera clash in September. A knockout, it seems, would be the inevitable outcome. For the first time since Dempsey fought Tunney, a million dollar gate is not an improbability. The crowd enjoys seeing two hitters in the ring together, and Carnera, by his knockout of Sharkey has indicated that he is a hitter. The muscle men are with us again.

Charlie Belanger M. P. Sharpshooter Scores Bullseve

Victim Of Perfect Shot Intrudes Upon Slumber Of Lt. Pilet's Guardian Of The Peace

The innate courageousness of the ments of man in warfare and the genus homo sapiens has been a source chase. of comment by great writers and psychologists since the beginning of time. When the Neanderthal man ventured forth from his smoky cave, armed with a jagged piece of rock, and slew the sabre-tooth tiger, his deed was scribed on the rock walls of his cavernous lair. The Cro-Magnon man towering red-head of middle Europe, listened with proudly swelling chest to the chants of the women as they recounted his mighty killing of the wolly mammoth, armed with only a stone ax and wooden spear. Tribal legend tells of the deeds of Hiawatha. Troubadors of old sang of Bayard and Launcelot, and Robert W. Service has immortalized the Red Cross Man. But it remained for one of Fort Benning's finest to add the culminating deed to the achievefight between the two. Their activi-ties in the ring will be practically doubled this time, if the imagination can be stretched so far as to grasp that, which, admittedly, will be difficult.

Licensed referees will officiate in the preliminaries and main go. This means that one man will render the decision instead of the customary three. Those who witnessed the re-cent card will recall the stellar offiiating of Battling Budd and Jarvis of Atlanta and can be assured of the same class of refereeing this time.

The Athletic Association is busy arranging a preliminary card that will do justice to the main bout, and the fans in this vicinity are certain of seeing a real show.

The aforementioned member of Lieutenant Pilet's efficient force, who shall remain nameless to save the face of the M. P. Section, was enjoying a well-earned nap on his virtuous couch in the M. P. barracks not long ago. Slated to go on patrol shortly, he was fully accountered, even to the extent of the G. I. .45 (Please turn to Page 7)

Howard Bus Line, Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise

Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE From

riom		Fro	From
Colur	nbus	Ft. Ben	ning
5:00	AM		AM
6:00	"	7:50	4
7:00	"	9:15	4 '
8:30	"	10:45	44.
10:00	66	12:45	PM
11:45	4	2:15	"
1:30	PM	4:15
3:00	- 66	5:10
5:00	66	6:00	.
7:00	44	7:00
9:00	66	8:00
10:30	"	9:45
12:00	M	11:15
	M1
	A 7 44TF	12:00	M
	Also "Ex
	SCHOOL		· [
410	PHO	NES :	124

CITY

IT'S A TREAT ITS HEALTHFUL!

Treat yourself, order a NEHI True Fruit Orange next time! If you aren't satisfied-and convinced that it is the best fruit drink you ever tasted then you're different from everyone else.

A TRUE FRUIT BEVERAGE

BOXING

TUESDAY JULY 11TH

Post Gymnasium, 8:15 P. M.

10 Rounds

Charlie Belanger vs Montreal

8 Rounds

Benny Odell Orlando

Corn Griffin

Ft. Benning

Frank Mackery Ft. Benning

8 Rounds

The Cowboy Kid Atlanta

Cotton Batton Ft. Benning

6 Rounds

Herb Yutmeyer

Billy Hyde Ft. Benning

 $\mathbf{v}\mathbf{s}$ 4 Rounds

Ft. Benning

Stratton Smith Ft. Benning

 $\mathbf{v}\mathbf{s}$

Tut Tut Taylor Ft. Benning 4 Rounds

Lightning Lige Ft. Benning

General Admission 50c

Columbus Ringside $1.00

Chero Pete

Tickets on Sale at Hubbard Hardware Co.; Wheat's

Drug Store; Officers' Club; and all orderly rooms.

PEP...

in every step

Use

(-H00D-) Heels and Soles

Hood Rubber Products Co., Inc. Watertown, Mass.

THE FLARE (Continued From Page 4)

lanta, and the subjects of our interest became confused.

Upon arrival at the church at sixforty-five, the Lieutenant was informed that the last guest had wandered off into the rain a full half hour before. Undaunted, he returned to his car and stormed over toward the Driving more into the traffic, and involving Club, where the reception was taking himself once more among the Peachplace. Becoming involved in the late trees, he finally extricated himself afternoon traffic, he took a couple of from the mazes of the big city, and rived at his (second) destination about twenty minutes after the departure of the Wedding Couple and as the last guests were filtering home.

Visibly shaken, though still the master of his soul, he concluded that the only course remaining to him was to join his colleague and fellow Artilleryman, the best man, at Fort Mc-Pherson. Projecting himself once wrong turns again, and finally ar arrived at the Bachelor Building at cles and so on which go to make up Fort Mac just five minutes after the object of his quest had left for an extended and mose enjoyable evening involving a chicken dinner, a dance at the Club, lovely ladies, seductive music, and in short, practically all (in a nice way) that Atlanta has to offer.

Defeated at last, the ordinarily immutable and unshaken Artilleryman surrendered to fate, and started on the long return trip. But his troubles were not quite over. Taking the wrong fork in the road, he passed not only through Warm Springs, but five miles beyond, when the end of the pavement brought him to what he later referred as his "senses"

Returning to the Atlanta-Columbus highway, he finally arrived home a bout one in the morning, having made a three hundred and twenty mile trip with no other material result than a newspaper, which, while obtained a few hours earlier than would have been possible at Fort Benning, he was too tired to read until next day at noon, at which time it had been read and thrown away by the cook.

Thank you a lot, SCIPIO.

Oh, oh. There goes the whistle for the station and next week a Regular Conductor will be on the run. Just as you expected this wasn't a FLARE at all . . . only a Flash in the Pan. And so the Brakeman with a sigh of relief climbs gladly from the train leaving with you.

The Citation for the Week

To Major Forrest Harding, whose splendid penmanship, easily adopted to every occasion, furnished the per sonnel of the past with the most interesting, the most enjoyable, and the most widely-read column that has ever appeared in any army publication.

THE MODERN IDEA

"I've been terribly worried, Herbert."

'What about, dear?"

"I wonder whether I'm really the only girl whose money you've ever loved."

PAST MASTER

Father: "Why won't you marry

Daughter: "I will only marry a man who knows life and has learned its sorrows.' Father: "I see-a widower."

FLORIDA COLLIER COAST HOTELS AND ASSOCIATED HOTELS

CCKSONVILLE

Year Around Hotels Fieridan, Tampa Tampa Terrace, Tampa Lakeland Terrace, Lakeland

Year Around Hotels Dixle Court, West Palm Be George Washington, Jackson Mayflower, Jacksonville

Season Hotels Manatee River, Bradenton Sarasota Terrace, Sarasota Royal Worth, West Palm Beach

DIRECTOR

J. Frank Gough, Manager.

Please write for folder.

Distributors:

PIERCE-ARROW STUDEBAKER ROCKNE WHITE TRUCKS INDIANA TRUCKS

Catering to the Fort Benning clientele . . 100 per cent satisfied owners and customers.

It is an established fact that our service, methods and ethics of doing business have increased our volume over 500 per cent in the last twelve months.

THANK YOU, FORT BENNING!

Columbus Roberts Motor Co.

512-14 12th Street

Oldest Columbus' And Most Popular Furniture Dealers!

H. ROTHSCHILD FURNITURE COMPANY

Leading Furniture Dealers In Columbus For 39 Years.

GEORGE WASHINGTONS 300 ROOMS - 300 BATHS NEWEST AND FINEST Every Known Facility - Garage Directly Connecting Lobby - Radio MAYFLOWER • 300 ROOMS - 300 BATHS A BEAUTIFUL HOTEL Splendid Facilities - Garage - Radio Coffee Shoppe FLAGLER 5 MODERN AS THE BEST FREE GARAGE EVERY CONVENIENCE FOR SUMMER COMFORT . PRICES IN KEEPING WITH THE TIMES ..

OWNER

Students To Be:

Perhaps you've already heard of the Herald. Perhaps not. ... but in any case you'll want to see it regularly. It is your best way of keeping up with the gossip and everyday news of Benning's people. And that isn't all. The subscription rates are unusually reasonable ... approximately 3c per copy!

ROBERT KLOEPPEL -

HERALD SUBSCRIBE TO THE

NOW!

Retired Here On June Thirtieth

Staff Sgt. Austin N. Walker, 24th Infantry, retires on June 30th after more than twenty-nine years' service with the United States army. During his last enlistment, Sgt. Walker was acting as chauffeur for Colonel Fred L. Munson, commanding officer of the 24th Infantry, and at present the acting commandant of the Infantry School.

Sgt. Walker first enlisted with the army on July 12, 1904, and saw his first service with Troop L, 10th Cavalry, then stationed at Fort Robinson, Nebraska. For fifteen years he was a member of this regiment, and was then transferred by War Department orders, in the grade of sergeant, to the then active colored section of the Infantry School Detachment.

Upon his assignment to the Infantry School Detachment, Sgt. Walker was detailed to the farm which was then a part of the post activities, and following that was stable sergeant at the Infantry School stables.

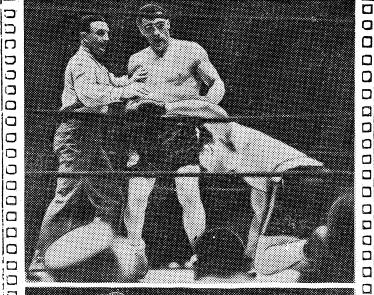

"Mr. Downing," a favorite mount of Major General Campbell King, and "Billy," ridden by Major General Briant H. Wells, were two of the "college horses" who were among his charges. There were many thoroughbreds, both in breeding and perform ance, in the Infantry School stables at the time Sgt. Walker's duty there, but his favorite, if put to a choice, was "Mr. Downing." This horse was General Pershing's mount during the World War, his distinguished appearance, polished manners and high intelligence marking him as an outstanding example of equine per-sonality. At the close of the war, he accompanied the Army of Occupation into Germany, where he became the mount of General Henry T. Allen. Mr. Downing came to the Infantry School in 1926, coming from the Cavalry School at Fort Riley, Kansas, and again won the approval of those in high quarters. He became the personal mount of the Commandant, Brigadier General Edgar T. Collins, and when Major General Campbell King succeeded General Collins as commandant, Mr. Downing kept his position of honor.

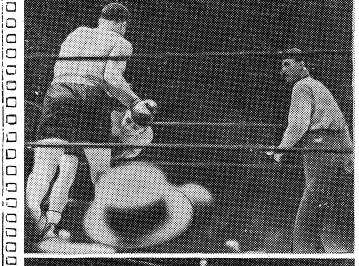

Following the break-up of the colored section of the Infantry School Detachment, Sgt. Walker was transferred to the 24th Infantry, and he has been with that regiment since

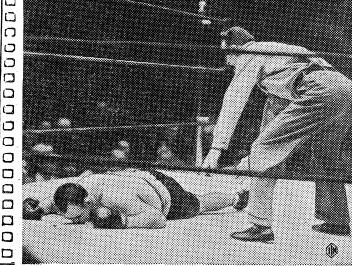

Much of Sgt. Walker's service with the Cavalry was spent under the command of General John J. Pershing. In 1907-08 he served with General he was with the troops stationed at Pershing, who then held the rank of Fort Anache. Arizona, the police Brigadier General. In 1916-17 he was a member of the Punitive Expedition into Mexico.

Sgt. Walker missed the last Indian campaign in 1906 on what was purely a piece of chance. In that year, when the Sioux created the last flurry of excitement in Montana, Sgt. Walker was attending the bakers and cooks school, and his Troop went to the wars without him.

Sergeant Walker As Championship Changed Hands

Primo Carnera blasted the heavyweight crown from the head of Jack Sharkey. At top, Sharkey is shown rising after the first knockdown. He is met by Carnera, shown with the right hand starting the deadly uppercut that sent him down to be counted out into the list of ex-champions.

Fort Apache, Arizona, the police agency on the Apache Indian reservation. Fort Apache, at that time, was 96 miles by stage or car from the nearest railroad.

Sgt. Walker has been, to use his own words, "a noncommissioned officer, off and on, for sixteen years." He plans to leave Fort Benning the first of next week, going to Rochester, For a part of 1914-15 and 1917-18, N. Y., where he will make his home.

M. P. SCORES BULLSEYE (Continued From Page 6)

strapped on his manly hip. Gentle sounds of peaceful slumber rent the air of the squad-room. Suddenly an electric tension in the atmosphere galvanized our hero into wakefulness. Something was wrong. Psychic as it may seem, he sensed the presence of an insidious something that boded no good to his sleeping comrades. Slowly he raised upon an elbow. wiftly and keenly his gaze swept the whole expanse of the room. Cautiously he eased the .45 from its lea-

Then he saw it! Creeping slowly and evilly from underneath his bunk. The M. P. held his breath, waiting till this malicious and deadly thing should be entirely in the open and at his mercy. Inch by inch it advanced. Silently the pistol was raised. Little by little the steel-like clasp of the trigger tightened. Maddeningly deliberate, the vicious presence was at last in clear view. Now was the moment!!

Blam! The roar of the automatic filled the room! His comrades were saved!!!

A gaping hole in the whitened pine planking of the floor was all that remained of an oversized, black cockroach.

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

JACKSONVILLE

HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON

HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI...HOTEL ALCAZAR

GET HOME

. BEFORE THE BALL!

It takes a good man to beat the ball to the bag on a close steal-and it takes good equipment to make a good man. That's why those players who buy their gloves, shoes, bats, etc., at the Main Branch are always in the top ranks. You can play ANY game better if you have the best of equipment.

Post Exchange

FORT BENNING

GEORGIA

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

Feeding Three For The Cost For Two

Sausages have no bone, surplus fat or gristles to be lost. Sausages can be easily divided into portions. Save 50%—Feed 'em more good sausages.

The Provision Co., Inc.

Of Experiences At C. C. C. Campsites

Strange as a message from Mars word has been trickling back to Fort Benning by devious channels from those who have departed for service in the field with the Civilian Conservation Corps. Scattered throughout the country, from Florida to California, the personnel of the Infantry

KENNY'S

NORWOOD

COFFEE

is sold at Fort Benning

through the

Post Exchange

TRY A POUND YOU WILL BE PLEASED

SHAMMY SHINER

POLISHING CLOTH

FOR ALL METAL INSIGNIA AND EQUIPMENT

Does not soil the hands or clothing and does away with messy powders, liquids and pastes. The polishing materials are scientifically processed right into the cloth and one Shammy Shiner lasts indefi-nitely. Just a light rub and your insignia or equipment is made bright and new in a jiffy.

Ask for it at your Post Exchange

N. S. MEYER, INC. NEW YORK

Distributors to the Military and Naval Trade

S \mathbf{T} U \mathbf{D} E \mathbf{T}

TO

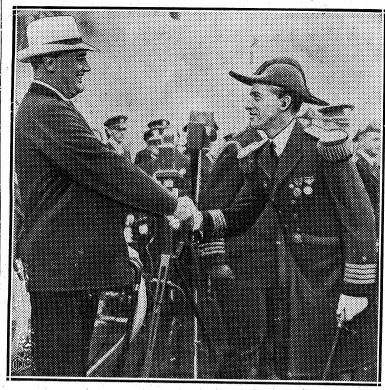

When you get in Columbus, remember that you can get fully outfitted here at Payne's with everything you may need. Our prices are reasonable, and our store is always open to you. We have always appreciated the patronage of the Benning personnel and hope for its continuance.

PAYNE

CLOTHING

COMPANY 1203 BROADWAY

Strange Tales Tell Welcome to Commander-in-Chief

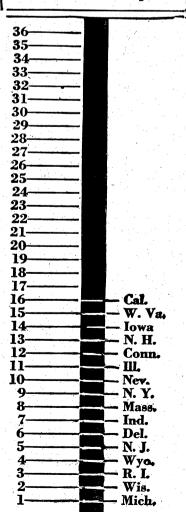

Bronzed and looking fit as a fiddle, President Roosevelt is greeted by Captain John M. Smeallie, commander of the U. S. S. Indianapolis, as the Navy's commander-in-chief boarded the cruiser at Campobello Island, New Brunswick, for his return to Washington following his vacation cruise up the New England coast.

School are experiences are making— to wear an overcoat half the time. almost carving, in some cases—a home Lieutenant Robert V. Murphy and for themselves and the members of the C. C. C. organizations they are assigned to, in national parks and forests in a number of states.

Word of those who are getting back to nature in the wide open spaces came to Captain Arthur Perry, Fi nance Officer of the post, who received a number of semi-official acknowledgements of his work in connection with finance matters concerning the officers who were stationed in California and writes next from Camp Callahan. Calif., 28 miles from the railroad, so far back in the mountains that they telephone a telegram 100 miles to the camp! Lieutenant Robert T. Foster comments simply that it is very cool and pleasant at the location of the camp he commands. They have

Progress of Vote inDry Law Repeal

Votes against repeal—None. Next states voting—Arkansas (July 18), Alabama (July 18), Tenneasee (July 20), Oregon (July

Captain Arthur H. Luse are situated somewhere between Yosemite National and Sequoia National parks, and telling the Californians that Benning still looks the best. Lieutenant Julian E. Raymond, near Telogia, Fla., sent in the first payroll, made out under a tarpaulin by the light of lantern in a tropical downpour, after spending the day clearing several acres in order to get the tents up. Captain Walter C. Phillips is on the other states. Captain Raymond O. north side of the Yosemite, eleva. Miller, who left for Camp Knox, Ky., tion 6,000 feet, with a company of C. C. C.'ers from Cleveland, Ohio. They had to clear away the snow to build the kitchen. He conveys the information that Captain George O. Bloomquist is somewhere in the vicinity, in fact almost a neighbor, being only sixty miles distant. Captain Charles N. Pence is located in northern California, in the woods, Shasta County. Major Archibald V. Arnold possesses al the variety anyone can wish for, heat that beats Georgia in the valley below the camp, and snow drifts on the mountains 2,000 above. Captain Harvey H. Smith at Springvile, Calif.,

HINT OF A HEAVY BOOT

It was approaching midnight and the young man still hovered around the door. The stillness was suddenly shattered by a loud crash upstairs.

"Gracious, dear," said the timid swain, "what could that be?"

"Oh," replied the miss, "that's just papa dropping a hint."

"I want a nice present for my husband. What do you advise? "May I ask how long you have been married, madam?" "Oh, about fifteen years."

"Bargain counter in the basement, ma'am.'

had a nice time hauling the snow off the camp site to keep from sliding off the landscape. The camp site where Captain Smith is at present will be permanent if the spring that is their sole source of water holds out for the

And so it goes. Perhaps the "wan-dering boys" of Fort Benning will return to the Georgia hills some day, to enjoy once more the delights of hot and cold running water and real beds to sleep in.

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

HALF SOLES A GOOD A BETTER 50c ; Half Sole Half Sole

LAMAC SOLE $1.00
The Only 5-Unit Machine In
Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY

We specialize in cripple work Phone 565

Read Herald Ads

B. H. HARRIS CO.

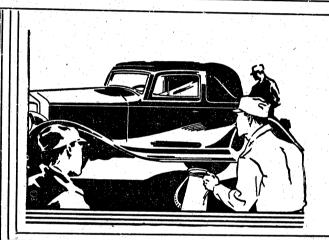

Renting

Special attention given Fort Benning Officers Kindly call and let us assist you in getting located

Office, 12th Street

Phones 250-251

B. H. HARRIS CO.

DON'T DEPEND ON LUCK TO KEEP YOU SAFE!

Your own safety, and that of your family, is something you can't afford to trust to an ill-kept automobile. Let us examine yours frequently so you will always get the utmost of pleasure and safety from it.

AUTO DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

LET THIS NAME . . .

lomis

ALWAYS ASK FOR TOM'S TOASTED PEANUTS

BE YOUR GUIDE TO ENJOYMENT!

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded for the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, JULY 14, 1933

NUMBER 12

Army Mathematician Demonstrates Superiority Of Benning Training

ner Of Contest, Was Once In Co. F. 29th Infantry

Fort Benning, by proxy, has again forged to the front in a new line of endeavor. The person who brings the home of the world's largest school of arms before the public notice is a former member of the Infantry School garrison, Cadet George R. Smith, Jr., appointee to the United States Military Academy from the 29th Infantry.

The future officers of the regular army had discovered a new type of competition to be indulged in, this time in the academic line. It was a mathematics tournament, and a meet had been arranged between the cadets and Harvard University. Of the twenty "matheletes" from the two schools who competed in the tests, the premier position was won by Cadet Smith in two three-hour sessions of calculus. both differential and integral. The cross country system of scoring was used by Professor Arnold Dresden, of Swarthmore College, President of the Mathematical Association of America, who had prepared the questions and graded the papers. Under this system the team with the lowest, instead of the highest, score wins. The Army team won the meet with a total of 98, against Harvard's 112. In addition the cadets took first, fourth, fifth, seventh, eighth, eleventh, twelfth, fifteenth, seventeenth, and eighteenth

Cadet Smith won his admission to the Military Academy as the result of a competitive examination open each year to enlisted personnel of the regular army. Prior to his qualifying for admission to West Point Smith served for two years as a member of Company F 29th Infantry. While at Fort Benning he was outstanding in his work as a soldier and as an athlete, playing on the 2nd Battalion football team, and winning a number of first places in the annual post swimming meet. He also acquired the nickname of "Icecream" among his fellow soldiers, due to his weakness for the deli-

Waldo, Fla., where he was born, was the site of his earlier education. Smith attended high school in Haines City, Smyrna, and St. Petersburg, Fla., and, graduating, matriculated at the University of Florida, where he was a member of the R. O. T. C. unit. The decision to compete for entrance to the Military Academy was not long in Army a short time after he began at the University.

Since his entrance at West Point, Smith had added further scholastic and athletic honors to his laurels. He has been outstanding in his class, being for three years next to the top in general merit. C Squad for "Plebe? football, which corresponds to freshman football at a civilian university; track, and swimming have been the sports to which he has devoted most of his spare time. Last year he was acting corporal at the summer encampment of the cadets, and was detailed as color guard, one of the highest honors that can be bestowed upon a student at the Academy. He is also a qualified rifle and pistol shot and a first class gunner in the field artillery. old songs of war-ime days.

Cadet George R. Smith, Win- Old Memories Are Revived When War Songs Fill Program

"Madelon," "Katy," '' K e e p The Home Fires Burning," Remind Veterans Of Days "Over There"

Twas a summer evening—and a few of the more highbrow of the veterans composing the two Civilian Conservation Corps companies at Fort Benning, Georgia, for their period of reconditioning were gathered around the 29th Infantry band in anticipation of a few minutes relief from the boredom of a "recruit camp". Warrant Officer Horton raised his baton, and the concert began.

Listless gossipers at the far end, of the company street raised their heads to listen. Tousled, sleepy-eyed heads poked out of tent flaps. Men of the Marne and the Aisne, the Meuse-Argonne and St. Mihiel, who were regarding this "war" on depression with amused toleration, wheeled around with something of interest in their mien. That wasn't any classical music! That was-Hell, yes! That was "Katy"!

The theme of the music shifted to that march to which thousands of these men and their buddies had marched off to France, "Madelon"! Oe C. C. C'er started to whistle. Others took it up. Visions of 5th Avenue, New York, as they swung past in review, draped with long lines of ticker tape, and showered by torn up telephone directories. Then came "Keep the Home Fires Burning". Setimental? Sure, but it brought back memories of those dog-goned wrist protectors that the folks back home would knit, and the pies and cakes that some dog-robbin' mail orderly had sampled and then tromped What would have been more suitable would have been cigarettes and chocolate.

Goodbye Broadway, Hello France". Huh! It was goodbye bright lights, hello woods, this year. But it did sound good to hear it again.

By now the crowd had gathered until the entire personnel of the camp was currounding the regular army songs began to pour in—"Rose of No renewing old friendships, making new Man's Land", "Frenchy", "How Y' ones and of perpetuating the customs being made, and he enlisted in the Gonna Keep 'Em Down On The Farm", "Over There", "Everybody's Out of Step But Jim"-these and others that rest in the limbo of forgotten things were dragged out to the light of day. And, as far as they were able, the band complied.

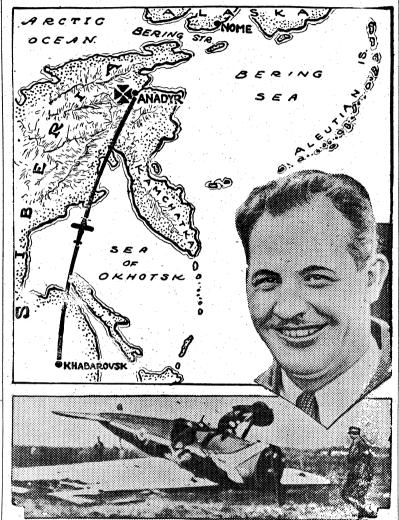

At last it came to an end. The musicians were played out.

"When y' coming back?" "How about playing "Oh, How I Hate To Get Up In The Morning" next time?" "That sure was swell, buddy, thanks a lot."

The band departed to their barracks. The veterans turned to tents and gossip once more, but with a little more jaunty step, and a certain cocky tilt to their heads that spoke of renewed confidence that returned with those

Where Mattern Was Found

Jimmy Mattern, round-the-world flier, missing since June 15, has reason to smile over another narrow escape from death in Russia. He was found safe at remote point in northeastern Siberia, where he was forced down on a hop, from Kharbarovsk to Nome. Photo below shows his plane after its first crackup in Russia.

The Daughter Of The U.S. Army

Society-Founded At Benning-Continues To Grow In Popularity Throughout Service

One of the younges and yet one of the most important organizations at Fort Benning is the Society of the Daughters of the United States Army. Its membership includes women whose fathers or grandfathers have served as officers in the regular

The Society of the Daughters of the United States Army was founded at Fort Benning in February, 1928 when Mrs. Charles D. Roberts was inspired to gather into a group girls and women whose common interest was their army childhood and environment. musicians. Requests for half-forgotten They organized for the purpose of and traditions of the service.

From the original chapter at Fort Benning have sprung chapters Washington, Fort Leavenworth, Governor's Island, Fort Sill, Fort George G. Meade, Schofield Barracks, Atlanta and Portland, Oregon. The membership of the Society is now about seven hundred.

With the increase in membership has come the desire for greater aims and purposes. To comply with this, the Fort Benning chapter perfected this year a reorganization plan, which allows more leeway for chapter activities and provides for greater efficiency and progress.

The Society has now emerged from the infant stage and has begun the process of growth and development which has already caused the organization to be recognized as a patriotic society of na ionwide importance.

National headquarters of the Society of the Daughters of the Army have been established in Washington. Mrs. Thomas W. Brown, who as president of the Benning Chapter was instrumental in enlarging the scope of the Army Daughters' activities was elected national president, Mrs. Archibald V. Arnold, vice president, Mrs. Thomas G. Hearn, second vice president, Mrs. John Huling, Jr., secretary, Mrs. Malcolm Lindsey, treas-

During the past year Mrs. John B. Thompson served as the efficient president of the Benning chapter, assisted by Mrs. Oscar W. Griswold as vice president and Mrs. Richard B. Gayle as secretary and treasurer.

Mrs. John Huling Jr., who has demonstrated such splendid executive ability in numerous Post organizations will serve as president of the Army Daughters of Benning during the coming year. Mrs. Archibald V. Arnold is vice president and Mrs. Ferenbaugh secretary and treasurer.

Progress has been made other than numerical increase. Reports sent in this year indicated that activities broader than purely social ones were meeting with success. It is fitting, particularly at the present time, that the chapter with their local Red Cross, Welfare Council, Girl Scouts, Chapel Guild and Parent-Teacher As-

In order to raise funds for chari-(Please turn to page 4)

Popular Officer Of 83rd F. A. Has New Assignment

Captain F. H. Gaston Football Mentor Of Artillerymen Goes To Hawaiian Dept.

Capt. Frederick H. Gaston, 83rd Field Artillery, will be transferred from duty at Fort Bening to the Ha waiian department, under War Department orders which he has received. Captain Gaston has been at Fort Benning for three years.

Captain Gaston, who at present is on duty as commanding officer of a Civilian Conservation Corps company stationed at Georgetown, S. C., will sail from New York on or about August 25 for his new station. It is expected that he wil return to Fort Benning for a short period before sailing, in order to superintend the packing of his household goods.

During his three years at the post Captain Gaston has made an enviable record for himself in the artillery battalion. He is one of the most popular officers to have served at Benning, both with the officers and enlisted men of his organization, and his departure will be regarded with regret. In addition to his military duties Captain Gaston has acted as head coach of the artillery football team, and, though the small size of the command hampered the production of a championship team, he has turned out aggregations that always gave a good account of themselves on the gridiron.

The military career of th eartillery officers began in November, 1917, when he accepted a temporary commission as first lieutenant of field artillery, and served throughout the war. In September, 1920, he vacated his wartime commission to accept one as first lieutenant of artillery in the regular army. Promotion to captain came in October 1928. In August, 1930, Captain Gaston reported at Fort Benning for duty with the 83rd Field Artillery, after finishing a tour as R. O. T. C. instructor at Cornell University, N. Y. While here he attended the mess management course at the School for Bakers and Cooks, and was on duty with several military courts, or which work he received the commendation of the commanding officer.

In addition to holding a B. S. degree from the University of Pennsylvania, Captain Gaston is a graduate of the basis course of the Fied Artillery School, class of 1922.

Captain and Mrs. Gaston are planning to leave Fort Benning about August I, in order that they may make a visit with their one son, who is attending the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y. Cadet Gaston entered the military academy as the result of a competitive examination held for the enlisted men of the army each year, to select suitable material for the future officer personnel of the service.

1st Battalion Takes Ease While 2d Resumes Grind

Soldiers of the 1st Battalion, 29th Infantry, who took a vacation for the last week, ended their six days of rest on July 10th at midnight, and resumed their normal duties, while the 2nd Battalion of the same regiment are given six days freedom from work.

The vacations, which were given by Colonel William E. Persons, regimental commander, as a rest from the con-

(Please turn to page 5)

29 th antry Camp Is Scene Of where a delicious supper was enjoyed. and Mrs. James R. Pierce. Novel Dance Last Saturday Evening

One of the most enjoyable affairs present received, if not a "rush," at of this Summer was the dance Saturday evening which was given by the officers and ladies of the 29th Infantry at the Regiment's attractive camp on the Upatoi. Due to the C. C., extra men were at a premium so Saturday's affair was managed entirely by the ladies of the 29th Infantry, their business being to see that every man

Get Your Husband

In On This!

You can train him to save money - just as you do-by doing HIS shopping at Silver's.

And he will get more satisfaction than he ever

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST.

PERFECTED PRODUCTS

got anywhere else.

least their share of "cuts." Preceding the dance hamburgers and ice cold watermelons were served. During the evening a small receiving line was formed to welcome to the regiment a number of newcomers. Those in the receiving line were: Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Andrew D. Chaffin, Lieut. Col. Elmer F. Rice, Capt. and Mrs. Henry L. Barrett, Mrs. Don C. Faith and Mrs. John M. Evans. The 29th Infantry orchestra furnished the music.

CAPT. AND MRS. LINDSEY HOSTS AT INFORMAL SUPPER

Capt. and Mrs. Malcolm F. Lindsey were the hosts Friday evening to a few of their friends, entertaining at supper at their attractive quarters on Austin Loop. Among those enjoying the Lindsey's hospitality were: Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph I. Greene, Mrs. Frances Cole, Miss Eleanor Garrard, Capt. Arnold J. Funk, and Lieut. Malin

LITTLE JACQUELINE HORNE CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Little Miss Jacqueline Horne, the daughter of Capt. and Mrs. James C. Horne, was the hostess Saturday afternoon to a few of her young friends in celebration of her fourth birthday. The young guests assembled at threethirty and played games until five when ice cream and cake were served. The children attending the party were: Louis Traywick, Patty Cook, Felicia Howell, Ann Louise Howell, Hal Cook, James Bowen and Buddy Boos.

MISS JANE LINDROTH HONORED ON BIRTHDAY

Miss Jane Lindroth was the honor guest Sunday evening at a picnic supper given by Miss Louise Waddington on the occasion of the former's birth day. About ten members of the sub set motored out to Jeff's Hole

Phone 460

MRS. SELMAN HONORED AT IN-FORMAL SUPPER PARTY

Mrs. George D. Vanture entertained Monday eveing at an informal supper party honoring her mother, Mrs. H. P. Selman of Douglassvile, Georgia. Her guests were: Mrs. Selman, Mrs. Frank Henning, Mrs. Francis H. Lanaham, Miss Jackie Corrie and Miss Edith Selman.

PERSONALS

Lieut. and Mrs. James R. Pierce

Miss Harriotte Atkins and Miss Katherine Lemly with a party of friends motored to Radium Springs

Capt. John W. Blue, who has been spending a ten day leave at Fort Benning left Tuesday for Florida where he will join his C. C. C. com-returned Tuesday from Florida where they have been spending the last month with Lieut. Mitchell's parents while he has been on sick leave.

Capt. George J. Forster who is on C. C. C. duty at Blue Ridge, Ga.,

Mrs. Walter O'Brien departed from Fort Benning with her two children for an extended visit with friends in the East.

Mrs. Frances Cole and Miss Eleanor Garrard of Columbus spent last week end as the house guests of Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph I. Greene.

Lieut. Malin Craig returned Suday from Atlanta where he spent a few days as the guest of friends. Lieut. Craig has recently recevied orders assigning him to duty with the 83rd ield Artillery.

from Louisiana, where he is on duty with the C. C., for a week end ho are recent additions to the 83rd Field Artillery, have as their houseguests the latter's mother, Mrs. H. P. Selman, and sister, Miss Edith Selman panied by her two small children arrived at Fort Benning Sunday having spent several weeks in St. Louis,

Leroy W. Nichols returned Tuesday to Fort Benning after a week's visit ham, is the house guest of Lieut.

left Fort Benning on Wednesday for a week's visit with Mrs. Pierce's parents in Birmingham, Alabama.

to spend last week end.

Lieut. and Mrs. Richard T. Mitchell spent last week end at Fort Benning.

Capt. Richard B. Gayle arrived visit with his family.

Lieut. and Mrs. George D. Vanture, of Douglasville, Georgia. Mrs. George H. McManus accom-

Missouri, with her parents.
Mrs. Horace O. Cushman and Mrs.

with friends in Florida. Miss Kathleen Orndorf, of Birming

ADVICE TO STUDENTS

While you're in Benning always ask for Kinnett's Ice Cream for every occasion. Whether it's for a small entertainment—for a children's party or for dessert—it will be most satisfying for every one. Telephone down town for large quantities-otherwise, you can get it at the Club.

Sold At The Officers' Club

KINNETT'S ICE CREAM Phone 223

Mrs. John A. Otto departed from Fort Benning on Thursday to join her husband who is stationed on C. C. duty at St. Marks, Florida. Lieut. and Mrs. John A. Stewart pent last week end at Fort Benning. Lt. Stewart is stationed with his C. C. C. company at Butler, Georgia.

Lt. and Mrs. Harold L. Mace arrived at Fort Bening on Wednesday from an extended honeymoon throughout the East. Mrs. Mace was formerly Miss Virginia Griggs of Jacksonville,

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

HALF SOLES A GOOD A BETTER 50c : Half Sole Sole

LAMAC SOLE $1.00
The Only 5-Unit Machine In
Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY

We specialize in cripple work 1234 Broadway

DOLAN-HENRY HAT SHOP

AT ALSOBROOK, S

Welcomes the ladies of the new classes at Fort Benning, we want them to call at once, become acquainted with us and be assured they can purchase in our shop hats of the highest class. We are exclusive agents for Knox, Gage and Blossom hats as well as the smartest popular price hats. Your accounts earnestly solicited.

Everything

For The

Living Room

Your home will undoubtedly need a little "touching up" in the way of furniture. Why not drop in to see us. You will get just the things you expect-at prices that encourage economy.

1141 Broadway

Phone 409

Miller-Taylor Shoe Co's

PRE-INVENTORY SALE

Continues daily. Every pair of our fine summer men's, ladies' and children's shoes drastically reduced.

You will save considerably by purchasing your needs-not only for this season —but for next season as well, at these low prices.

MILLER-TAYLOR SHOE GO.

Where the new styles are shown first.

1130 BROADWAY

PHONE 2405

FIRST AID FOR HOSTESSES

FURNITURE

hold furnishings, at the lowest price and easiest terms.

CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

SUCCESSORS TO JOHNSTON-CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

It will pay you to see us before you buy.

Headquarters for Furniture and all kinds of house-

THE NEW SIX-BOX

1014 Broadway

The hostess who was worried and flustered up to the last minute is old-fashioned in these times when the new SIX-BOX solves so many of the problems of entertain ing. For small parties or casual guests-it is the guarantee of instant enjoyment -always on hand.

Don't take chances - buy your SIX-BOX today-and then you'll be prepared for any eventuality.

The Finest and Most Popular Drink Made!

 $2\,5\,\mathrm{c}$ PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

ON SALE AT ALL COLUMBUS STORES

Order A Block

FOREMOST

for your dessert

DELICIOUS ICE CREAM

It will top off any meal with a satisfying flavor and a generous amount of healthfulness. And your family will all welcome it.

Call The Soda Fount

FOREMOST DAIRIES INC.

83rd F. A.

HQ. HQ. BTRY. AND C. T.

Several members of the battery are on furlough enjoying a long needed rest. Cpl. Hurst has gone to Talladega, Ala., to recall his boyhood days. Our latest report from that part of the woods is that Cpl. Hurst is runing around barefooted to relieve the pressure from his mind.

A few of the old timers in the outfit celebrated the fourth of July by attending a picnic at Boyle's Thirty Acres. Sgt. Roper addressed the members of the A. O. H., his topic was "What makes the world safe for Democracy." Pop Eye Long says that the speech didn't interest him as he is a Republican and didn't know anything about the Democrats, so that was the end of that lesson.

The battery had four new recruits join the battery this week. We hope that they will enjoy their enlistment in such a good outfit as Headquarters Battery.

The boys on C. C. C. duty are writing us each week from all parts of the woods. Sgt. Dodd has joined a nudist camp, which is located three miles from their camp. His job is (Please turn to page 4)

RUBBER STAMPS COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

COMPLETE YOUR SILVER SERVICE NOW

BEFORE THE BIG ADVANCE

STERLING SILVERWARE

By

GORHAM, KIRK, TOWLE, WALLACE REED & BARTON, INTERNATIONAL

C. SCHOMBURG & SON

JEWELERS 1121 BROADWAY

AY COLUMBUS, GA.

AT THE SIGN OF THE BIG CLOCK

HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON

HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

Baseball Games Of Past Week

S. U. BEATS ARTILLERY

The Special Units smothered the Artillery by the score of 11 to I. Hinkley and Gilbert on the mound for the Special Units showed their old time form in this contest, Gilbert shading Hinkey's hurling by allowing only one hit in the four innings that he labored on the hillock.

Trippe and Orgeron lead the attack for the Special Units with two bingles out of four times at bat.

Committing eight errors the Artillery was hopelessly outclassed throughout the game.

1ST BN. WHITEWASHES TANKERS

Lt. W. B. Moore's green-jerseyed warriors of the last Battalion, 29th Infantry whitewashed the Terrible Tankers to the tune of 5 to 0.

Foster on the rubber for the Irish and borneto victory by the excellent support of his team-mates blanked the Tank Battalion for nine consecutive innings.

Ragsdale, Reddock, Brookshire and Johnson were the mainstay of the 1st Bats hitting power while Smith and Killebrew of the Tankers wielded the willow effectively for their team. Score by innings:

1st Bn. _____ 000 220 100 5 10 2
Tanks _____ 000 000 000 5 5 3
Batteries, 1st Bn.: Foster and Snead.
Tanks: Swantic and McGleshei.

KELLS TAKE ARTILLERY

The Kellys of the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry, trounced the redcaps of the 83rd Field Artillery to the tune of 8 to 3.

The Gunners threatened in the fifth stanza when the Kelly's support weakened and the Redcap started knocking the horsehide around the lot, bu Gentleman Ward bore down, goosegging the Artillery for the remainder of the affray.

Thompson took batting honors for the Second Bats with three singles out of five trips to the plate. Spears of the Gunners securing two out of four.

Second Battalion Leads Intramural

BY HOBBS

The first half of the Fort Benning intramural baseball has been extended to five more contests for each team entered in the league. As was originally planned each Unit would play ten games apiece, this plan being altered by the Athletic Commission bringing the total number of games to be played in the first half to fifteen.

Kjelstroms Kellys of the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry are leading the league having won 9 out of their 12 contests.

This is a terrible upset to the Special Units who were slated to clean up in this series.

Next in turn is the Fighting Irish of the 1st Battalion 29th Infantry who, by virtue of a decisive victory (Please turn to page 4)

B. H. HARRIS CO. Renting

Special attention given Fort Benning Officers
Kindly call and let us assist you in getting located

Office, 12th Street

Phones 250-251

B. H. HARRIS CO.

Whether You Go

- BY WATER
- BY LAND
- BY AIR

BE SURE TO MAKE

TOASTED PEANUTS
YOUR TRAVELING COMPANION

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded for the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

A transaction with us is never completed until the customer is thoroughly satisfied.

H. ROTHSCHILD

FURNITURE COMPANY
Leading Furniture Dealers In Columbus

For 39 Years.

Phone 556

BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Columbus, Georgia

VOLUME III. JULY 14, 1933 NUMBER 12 ----Publisher Society Editor Felicia C. Howell..... D. P. HARDING Sports Editor

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE, BALTIMORE

DAUGHTERS OF THE UNITED STATES ARMY (Continued From Page 1)

table purposes the Benning Army Daughters gave a rummage sale two years ago which proved so popular and so profitable they decided to make a rummage sale an annual affair. The second sale was held last Fall and already the Dughters are collecting for the November sale, which they expect to surpass all others. The first rummage sale brought $140.00, which was used to purchase an all-wool sweater for every woman and child on the Welfare Council list. The receipts from the rummage sale last Fall which amounted to $132.00 were used to send Thanksgiving and Christmas baskets to 62 families.

A rummage sale serves a double purpose. Besides the gifts made possible for indigent families, the very small sum charged for clothing and other items at these sales is a great help to worthy men and women who are not charity cases and yet are having a hard time making ends meet. This year, on account of the pay cut the need is greater than ever before.

Families moving away this summer are urged to keep the rummage sale in mind as they pack and leave articles at the Welfare Counci rooms or call any member of the Army Daughters and transportation will be provided. -Odd pieces of china, plain and fancy clothing, rugs, furniture, bridge prizes, curtains and all sorts of things will serve a useful purpose if given to the Army Daughters.

Benning's first fashion show was sponsored by the Army Daughters this Spring, with Mrs. Archibald Arnold and Mrs. Herbert Wadsworth in show will be included among the activities attempted by the Society during the coming season. It is a splendid thing for the

83RD FIELD ARTILLERY (Continued From Page 3)

to give setting up exercises each morning. We will be able to give you information next week as one of our news hounds expects to visit the camp.

BATTERY "A"

Our beloved Junior Cook can now buy the girls a cool drink when he attends the dance as he is now Pfc. S.5. The young man we have reference to is none other than Bob Boy-The young man we have referett. Air you there 'Bob'?

The first sergeant received a letter from Cpl. Holt who is with the C. C. C. in Florida. He says he is in need of a machine gun to protect him from the mosquitoes. We are surprised that a state so well advertised would allow such animals to exist.

Several ofthe boys left this week on furlough, among them who are Pvts. Stewart, Pfc. Lewis, Pvt. Fourroux, Pvt. Aguillard, Pvt. Bennett, Pvt. Armstrong, Pfc. Killingsworth, Pvt. Hollis, and Pvt. Lane.

Our old saddler, Cpl. Johnson, D. L. has been discharged. He took on another stack and is now at Midland City, Ala., on reenlistment furlough.

The famous horseman of Battery will continue to rise.

daughters and granddaughters of the army to perfect an organization to carry on the ideals, traditions and customs of the service. In this connection an interview given by Mrs. Eli A. Helmick, wife of Major General Eli Helmick retired, is recalled. Mrs. Helmick has been through all the grades herself and given sympathetic understanding and helpful, motherly advice to scores of young army women. In speaking of the importance of woman's part in army life, Mrs. Helmick said: "In no other business or profession is the life of husband and wife, hour by hour, day by day, month by month and year by year, so constantly lived ogether as one. It has been said with reason that the wife counts for half of her husband's efficiency record, that a wife can make or break her husband in his life's career. The truth of this common remark is painfully apparent to he elderly army woman, who may look back upon the years that have passed and she counts off the names of splendid men of promise of her young days who are forgotten today because of a thoughtless, selfish wife. And on the other hand, she sees the average, unpromising young offieer who had no great talent years ago, today the leader largely because his wife was a helpmate and an inspiration. Army women are often considered frivolous and overfond of society. As a fact, this is not the case at all. If you take the army register for instance, and begin at the top of the list and go down the column over the record of every army wife, you will find, I think, the percentage of women who are taking daily interest in and do real, al ruistic work. would greatly surprise you. I know charge of arrangements. It was a bril- that in Washington you will find liant social success. Another fashion army women members of nearly every civic, national and international club or organization for the human betterment."

-P. A. L.

"A" will be discharged on the 13th. Cameron says he is quitting the army and going to Atlanta, but we still have our doubts.

One of our West Point Cadets was discharged last week after completing his year enlistment, Pvt. William R. Brett. "Willie," we hope you will be an Admiral some day.

BATTERY "C"

Privates Fussell and Stone have rejoined the battery from furlough and Infantry School Detachment, have from all reports had a swell time. Private Stone states that the Alabama ball supremacy for some undefined Corn is as good as ever and from his appearance upon his return we all agree with him. But after a few of our good meals he is looking much better.

Corp. Wilson is back on his old job again after several months' vacation. states that it isn't so bad since he has only one recruit.

Sergeant Chewning and Speedy Stewart took a walk Sunday afternoon. We are sure that they found what they were looking for because Speedy pulled off his shoes. He does

We have two new Privates First Class, Privates Brown and Whitley having been promoted. We are glad to see the boys go up and hope they

Ten Years Ago This Week

The 1st Battalion 29th Infantry gave a smoker to its departing battalion commander, Major Floyd Hatfield. Among those present were Brigadier General Walter H. Gordon and Colonel George S. Goodale, regimental commander. The affair was held in the post gym with about 600 men present. Boxing and vaudeville featured the enertainment.

Colonel Edward S. Walton, constructing quartermaster, office of the Quartermaster General, Washington, D. C., visited the post and was entertained by Colonel and Mrs. William O. Smith.

The Signal Corps broadcast the returns from the Gibbons-Dempsey fight under supervision of Captain Jay B. Lattin, who was said to understand the new (sic) radios thoroughly.

The Terrible Tankers, led by Company B, took first honors in the post swimming meet. Company B took fifteen of the sixteen places in the eight events, the I. S. D. capturing the lone single.

The 24th Infantry field meet on the 4th was won by Company M with a total of 29 points.

The Greencords of the I. S. D. took a double header from the Atlanta Ramblers. The first game ended 1-0, when Suby hit the longest home run The second yet scored at Benning. game ended 7-6, with "Iron-man" Swantic pitching.

The Greencords also cleaned house with the Jordan City nine, winning hands down with a score of 11-4. This made eleven wins in twelve starts for the I. S. D.

SECOND BATTALION LEADS INTRAMURAL (Continued from page 3)

over the Tank Battalion are holding second place honors.

A brief resume of the 1st Bats meteoric rise to fame will ensue.

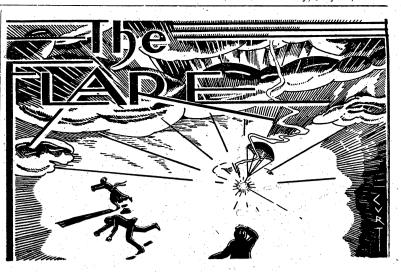

At the opening of the series, Lt Moore's fighting Irishmen dropped several games—one to their brothers in arms, the Second Battalion-one to the Artillery via the whitewash route and suffered a defeat at the hands of Lt. Nourse's Terrible Tankers, but those hard fighting, green jerseyed warriors, by persistency and untiring effort have stepped up the percentage ladder, winning six consecutive contests to place second in the Suffering a late defeat from the wiles of the 1st Bats, the Tank Battalion, has descended one notch, to third place having been ousted from second honors by virtue of the whitewash victory issued by Foster, hurler de-luxe of the One B-N aggregation.

The Special Units, better known to some fans as the Green Cords of the reason. They have a wealth of material, virtually the pick of the Post, but are not clicking like they should.

Similar to the Special Units—Headquarters Battalion, of the 29th Infantry has plenty of Grade "A" players but costly bobbles at critical times are partly responsible for their position on the fifth rung of the league's ladder of success.

At the date this goes to press the Redlegs of the 83rd Field Artillery are occupying the cellar position in the first half of this series having won only two out of their 10 contests the Gunners never say die, though, having defeated the league leaders one game apiece. Better keep your eye on them, "Topnotchers," they might surprise you.

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all." -John Wolcot.

Conducted By D. P. H.

MISCELLANEOUS

It was some time ago that E. F. H. first dipped his deadly pen into the poisoned inkwell and then tossed The Flare like an anarchist would a bomb at his unsuspecting public. This brainchild, conceived in a moment, received weekly nourishment from the hand of its talented author until it had reached an advanced stage of popularity. Wives and husbands alike clamored for it. Wrongdoers dreaded it, and even Captain Dimwit's youngest son, aged eight, consumed the contents with an avid greed.

This admiring public refused to give E. F. H. even so much as one week's respite. And so the disgruntled conductor sweated and groaned, squirmed and tore his hair in mental anguish, and pored over blank pages that must somehow be filled before the copy-collector came round in the morning. All this time, The Flare continued to adorn the editorial pages of the Benning Herald with its scathing comments and delicately-shaded humor. And Captain Dumbjohn feared lest his harmless little practical joke might prove a boomerang if E. F. H. ever got his hands on the story. And Mrs. Brighteyes could not sleep nights because she felt that the incident of the riding class might somehow get to the ears, of The Flare's argus eyed conductor.

E. F. H. never missed an issue. This splendid record he kept intact until the government began calling forth its brawny sons to the forests. And even then he lingered on, though his fellow officers were vanishing in droves. Proudly he pointed to himself as one of the "untouchables. That, of course, was before the blow descended on E. F. H.'s curly head, and he was whisked off to Fort McClellan, Alabama, along with Majors Brett, Cole, and Kingman to take command of the companies of War Veterans.

Before leaving, he deposited the onerous task of writing The Flare into our unwilling, and incidentally totally uncapable, hands with the suggestion hat the column "be kept in the family." We were not under the impression that a scandal column was among those things passed on from father to son, but nevertheless remained strictly silent under the stern paternal eye

Already, our shoulders are sagging.

There is no reason under the sun why we should not confide in our public the terrifying extent of our troubles. In the first place, as one of our most esteemed and useful critics stated recently, E. F. H. made the mis ake of being too good. The one glaring disadvantage of having a dictator is that when the dictator loses his power the country suffers because his successors are unable to grasp at once all the loose ends of government and handle them competently. The situation is analogous. E. F. H. had gone, temporarily at least, and left us with an unusually high standard of excellence which it would be almost impossible for us to maintain. The best we can do under the circumstances is to make a whole-hearted attempt to come somewhere near that standard.

In the second place, we will not be in a position to give as much time to the editing of The Flare as our predecessor did, inasmuch as there are other sections of the paper to which the greater part of our efforts must be devoted. In other words, what we are driving at is that contributions for his column from any source will be welcomed with open arms. The conductor, of course, reserves the privilege of rejecting the material he does not see fit to print. Those who have been calling up E. F. H.-on the telephone to inform him of humorous anecdotes suitable for use in his column need not deviate from that practice. If The Flare is to be kept alive, and we sincerely hope that it will be, such aid will be expected and certainly appreciated.

HUMILIATION OF LEARD This is the story of how Brother Emil Leard and Equestrian Syd Negrotto were put to shame by that doughty waiter of the Officers' Club, Private Fields, of the 24th Infantry. The public humiliation of the two took place at the watermelon-cutting party given by the Officers' Club at Jeff's Hole.

"I can beat anybody eating a watermelon Georgia style," Major Leard has said modestly, a blush suffusing his features as he uttered the remark which will go down in history as the simple statement that touched the match to the fuse. Not to be outdone, Equestrian Syd Negrotto challenged Brother Emil or anyone else to bandy watermelons with him.

Mine Host Dowdall sensed a climax and publicly announced that a demonstration of watermelon eating would take place. Private Fields then clambered to a position to where he was the cynosure of all eyes, proceeded to consume six large slices of watermelon as fast as they were presented to him. The first slice disappeared in less than thirty seconds by actual timing. Only the bare rind remained. Five other pieces, comprising a watermelon and a half, vanished amazingly, seeds and all.

Having demonstrated to the satisfaction of all present that he was fully qualified as a watermelon-eater, Private Fields, smacking his lips in anticipation, challenged Brother Emil and Equestrian Syd to a real contest right then and there. Major Leard, to be frank, was greatly confused. A situation quite similar to this had never arisen in the Thaenatopsis Club. He quailed. He writhed in torment. Tact was needed and tact Major Leard would employ.

Once more he assumed the suave, untroubled composure as familiar to his fellow members of the Thanatopsis Club. "We do not eat the seeds in Georgia," he said simply, thus gracefully backing out of an embar rassing situation. Equestrian Syd, it the meantime, remained ingloriously

To the victor belong the spoils. Private Fields was donated the largest watermelon Lieutenant Dowdall could find for his share in the humiliation of Leard and Negrotto.

MRS KRAFT LEADS

With most of the officers on the post shunted off to various portions of the United States, their faithful wives seem to be vying among one another to determine who gets the most long distance telephone calls. The race is extremely hot at present, but Mrs. Kraft, who has received two long distance calls from hubby George in California, undoubtedly has the edge so far.

It is perfectly obvious, of course, (Please turn to page 5)

JUST RECEIVED

A big shipment of men's and boys' fall shoes. Black and Closing out-70 pairs of men's black and white, tan and elk sport exfords at $2.50 pair.

Star Brand All Leather Shoes made by the world's largest shoe manufacturers.

SAM NEEL'S

SHOE DEPARTMENT

Westbrook Building

RUBBER STAMPS COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

THE FLARE (Continued From Page 4)

that one such call from California is the equivalent of at least three from Podunk, Mississippi, and four or five from Girdletree, Florida. Only half credit is given for emergency calls. That is, if Major S. puts through a long distance call to Mr. S. for the ole purpose of expressing an urgent desire for two more suits of woolen underwear and the green toothbrush he left in the lefthand drawer of his resser, full credit cannot be awarded. Then there is the story of a certain fficer who twice put through calls t eleven c'clock at night for finanal reasons, and boh times found his wife not at home.

The contest is rapidly reaching that noint where the wives who have not received any long distance calls from their husbands are afraid to go out in public for fear that they might meet ome of those that have.

BEE EPISODE

The Benning Herald's licensed copy-collector and associate editor was on his way out to the post a week Thursday. As he sat behind the wheel of his dilapidated Chevrolet coupe, he reflected that all was right with the world. Nothing marred the perfect day. Birds sang in the trees. The gentle brezes were wafted this way and that. The sky was clear and a vivid blue in color. All was right vith the world.

Basking thus in the glory of a ew day, Al Kunze, Jr. was annoved dangerous variety began buzzing about his ears. His annoyance knew no bounds when this same bee, impelled by fate perhaps, chanced to light on the Barrymore nose of which he is so justly proud. Once more we hearken our readers back to the fact that Albert was driving a Chevrolet along a public highway.

One thing and one thing only occupied the mind of young Albert. The bee must be removed from the precarious position to which it clung so tenaciously. In the first place, it had no right to be there; and sec ondly, if provided the proper incentive, it would undoubtedly sting. And so do almost inestimable damage to the aforementioned Barrymore nose. That he was driving a car along a public highway never entered his head or it was at least relegated to the realm of the subconsciousness where it could do no good.

In the meantime the car, without means of guidance, lurched this way and that. Finally, it took to the wide open spaces leaving a string of badly mangled fence posts in its wake. Then Al, who had been valiantly shadow boxing with the bee all this time, became acutely aware of his alarming situation, and gradually brought the car to a halt, but not before the headlights had been damaged beyond repair, the fenders mutilated, the windshield broken, and the radiator pushed in.

The moral of this tale is simply that when faced with two evils always choose the lesser one.

CITATION FOR THE WEEK

To Lieutenant Colonel Elmer F. Rice for conducting this column last week in an interesting and highly entertaining fashion.

BATTALION TAKES EASE WHILE SECOND RESUMES GRIND

(Continued From Page 1) to say the least when a bee of the tinuous work demanded of the personnel of the organization in connection with Civilian Conservation Corps work at the post, were arranged for this season, as it is the only slack time of the year when the demonstraion regiment can get the necessary time free. During the school year the troops are constantly on the go, working with the academic department of the Infantry School in demonstration of the latest types of infantry tactics and methods, and firing on range from June until September. The war Department order which suspended range firing for his fiscal year in order that the work with the C. C. C. might be rushed to completion, left this short period free to the troops for their much needed rest. All duties have been suspended except the necessary guard, fatigue, and interior administration of the regiment.

Two years ago the 29th Infantry participated in the similar vacation when Colonel Duncan K. Major was in command of the regiment, and journeyed at their own expense to Tybee Island for a week's stay.

Drs. Miller & Davis

Dog and Cat Hospital

1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

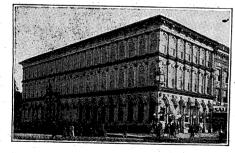

Young and old-Everidge's Old Time, Rye, Whole Wheat, French and delicious Parker House Rolls are just the best and cheapest food for your table. Ask for them at the Post Exchange Grocery.

FOR FAMILIES

ERIDGE

THE BAKERY BEAUTIFUL 109 12th Street

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS

--- $ 600,000.00

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

Some people buy fresh gasoline for their motor

How much more important to buy fresh meat for the human system.

Keep away from the hospital and cemetery by eating-

Old Settler's Pork Sausage

Made Fresh Every Day by

The Provision Co., Inc.

HENRY GRADY HOTEL

PEACHTREE AT CAIN Atlanta, Ga.

550 rooms of comfort and convenience. Each room has ceiling fan, circulating ice water, radio and either shower or tub bath; corner rooms have both. Open Dining Terrace and Coffee Shop.

Rooms from $2

J. F. de Jarnette Vice-Pres. & Mgr.

REFRESHING MEALS

ARE EASIER THAN YOU THINK TO PREPARE

EVERY person likes the appearance and flavor of cool, crisp salads—delicious consommes, and savory meats. And, you, too, can be one of those successful hostess who serve delicious meals if you deal with the Post Exchange Grocery, for we sell only the best of everything.

GROCERY DEPT. POST EXCHANGE FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

FLORIDA COLLIER COAST HOTELS AND ASSOCIATED HOTELS

ar Areund Hotels lan, Tampa

Season Hotels Manatee River, Braden Sarasota Terrace, Sara Royal Worth, West Palm

Please write for folder.

ROBERT KLOEPPEL OWNER

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Griffin Outpoints Belanger Decisively

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

in the world of tennis. Jack Crawford, Australian net wonder, has succeeded in bringing the Wimbledon championship back to the British Empire. He met and defeated Ellsworth Vines, American ace, in the five set final of the recent tournament staged at the famous courts.

Vines had previously eliminated Henri Cochet, still considered one of the outstanding tennis players in the world despite his age, in four sets, and was an overwhelming favorite to take Crawford into camp in the finals. The Australian had beaten Jire Satch of Japan in the semi-finals.

Vines was depending largely on his smashing service and fast forehand drive to defeat Crawford. He also employed a high bouncing ball on his opponent's backhand, which was effective. Crawford retaliated in kind and kept returning the ball deep on Vines' backhand. For five fiercely fought sets the battle waged back and forth with honors fairly even. Finally in the fifth set, Crawford managed to break through Vines' service with a marvellous display of reserve stamina, and then proceeded to hold his own, winning the set, the match, and the championship.

Many years ago, Australia was "top as far as tennis was concerned. Then the United States came along with Big Bill and Little Bill, Tilden and Johnston respectively, to annex the Davis Cup and hold it for over half a decade. France, not to to win a least one of two, which would be outdone, finally won the cup away Australia comes to the fore again from this country with LaCoste and Cochet, Borotra later taking the place of LaCosta when the latter retired Two-fisted Soldier Upsets The from competitive tennis.

Australia has again become a menace with Crawford, McGrath (pro-nounced McGraw), Quist and others. Crawford, a little known star in 1932 came to the public eye when he defeated Vines and other American stars in the American tour of Australia recently. In the finals of the French championwships, Crawford again served notice on the world of tennis that he was to be considered a menace to the world's leading players by handing Henri Cochet a sraight set lacing.

McGrath, seventeen year old sensation, is the second player to constitute the Australian menace. McGrath employs an unorthodox and backhand stroke-he uses both hands and the results appear to be excellent. He, too, boasts a victory over Ellsworth

McGrath lives tennis. Every day, weather permitting, he is out on the tennis courts, rehearsing his strokes. If, by any chance, it happens to rain, he repairs to the parlor of his house, where he swings his racquet for hours at a time to achieve perfect form.

Australia faces Great Britain in the inter-zone semi-finals for the Davis Cup. The English, led by Henry "Bunny" Austin, are the underdogs and everything at present points to an Australian victory. Crawford can be practically counted on to win both his matches and McGrath is certain

(Please turn to page 8)

Into Camp Tuesday

Dope Bucket In Bloody Ten Round Brawl

Corn Griffin, the Terrible Tanker with a lust for battle, boxed and hit beautifully to win a cleancut decision over Charles Belanger, who rules the Canadian lightheavyweight roost. Griffin jabbed and hooked his way to an impressive victory over the best man he has met in the squared circle since he first donned gladiator's leather several years ago. From the first to the tenth and last round, the fight was fought at a fast pace which told on both principals. Jarvis of Atlanta was the third man in the ring for all bouts on the evening's program and did an excellent job of officiat-

The rainstorm, which threatened to mar the evening throughout both four round battles, necessitated the staging of the main go as the third bout on the card. Belanger climbed through the ropes first and was given a large hnad by the crowd. Griffin followed soon afterwards to the accompaniment of a volley of handclapping. Jarvis called the two fighters to the center of the ring for last minute instructions. Belanger tipped the beams at 184 pounds while Corn weighed slightly less, 182 1-2 pounds.

First round: The Canadian came out of his corner slowly, Griffin flicked out his left as Belanger moved to the attack. Griffin hooked his left to the head and right to the kidneys, Belanger retaliating with a savage right to the side of the head. Corn was boxing cautiously, but keeping his left a little too low as Charley connected with several overhand rights to the face. They wrestled around the ring with neither fighter obtaining an advantage. Corn rapped Belanger twice with lefts to the head. The Canadian was obviously working hard to open the old cuts over Griffin's eyes as the gong rang.

Second round: Belanger was ineffectual with a right, but caught Corn with another hard right seconds later. The Canadian received slightly the better of it in a clinch as he pounded Griffin's body with triphammer left hooks. The soldier nailed his sturdy opponent with a right to the breadbasket that echoed all over the stadium. Belanger blocked a right, countered with a left, as Griffin weaved in close shooting short punches to the body. Charley was taking his time and looked unconcerned at this point.

Third round: Griffin landed a light right to the face, came downstairs, and hooked a stinging right to the body. A right glanced off Corn's head. Griffin was now scoring frequently with a lightning left jab. Both fighters went in close and vapped hard punches. Belanger fists were working like pistons. A stream of blood was dripping from Griffin's left eye at the bell.

Fourth round: Griffin missed by inches with a left, and the Canadian took the opportuniy to snap Corn's head back with a wicked uppercut. The soldier retaliated by scoring three successive jabs to the face. Griffin was boxing superbly and forcing Belanger to miss as the gong sounded. Fifth round: Belanger pawed at Griffin with rights, and nailed Corn finally with a steaming right to the head. Griffin countered with a left to the jaw, went in close, and forced the Canadian champion to give ground as he hit Charley savagely with short rights and lefts to the body.

(Please turn to page 7)

Terrible Tanker Cotton Batton And Bennie Oddell Are Takes Tough Foe Awarded Technical Knockouts Tuesday

the whole general effect of the boxing program last Tuesday night. Cross to the chin. The soldier fell In the semi-final, the Cowboy Kid, like a stunned ox and the crowd behailing from Atlanta, put on the India Rubber Man act. Cotton Batton, colored middleweight champion, hit his fast-moving opponent with everything but the stadium water bucket. The Cowboy Kid went down but bounced right up again in one of the grittiest exhibitions of pure courage and ability to withstand punishment that has been seen in a local ring for some time.

The Cowboy Kid, in the first place, gave away considerable poundage to missing frequently because he was so anxious to end the battle then and

In the course of the next four rounds, the Cowboy was dropped frequently, but always disdained to take a count. Near the end of the fourth, Cotton nailed him with a right that had all the steam in the world behind it. This time, the Atlanta negro took a nine-count and came up groggy but weathered the storm that followed. Baton came out savagely for the fifth and smashed the Cowboy Kid to the floor with an assorted volley of lefts and rights to the head. After this assault, Jarvis gave the fight to Batton on a technical K. O. The Kid got a large hand from the crowd as he stepped down from the arena.

Bennie O'Dell won a technical K. O. from Frank Mackery in the fifth round. The big Orlandan took the aggressive role right at the start and forced the Tanker to give ground time after time. Frank managed to CITY stay away from Bennie until the

A strong supporting card enhanced fourth round when O'Dell caught his opponent. But he fought like a wildcat and traded punches with his heavier adversary time after time. The inevitable results of these slugfests would be that the Kid ended up on the floor.

Batton got to his opponent before many seconds of the first round had (Please turn to page 8)

Howard Bus Line, Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

Tro	796			From	78
Colun	bus		F	. Ben	ning
5:00	AM			6:00	AM
6:00	. "	100		7:50	4
7:00	66			9:15	4
8:30	"	1		10:45	"
10:00	"			12:45	PM.
11:45	٠. د	0		2:15	"
1:30	PM			4:15	44
3:00	*			5:10	66
5:00			t the se	6:00	"
7:00	"			7:00	. 4
9:00	. 44			8:00	*
10:30	46			9:45	44
12:00	M			11:15	44
1				12:00	M
	Al	o "E	tras" s
			BUS		100
410	2		NES		224
-				10

Get 'Em!

No Matter How Hard They Are!

THOSE high, screeching liners -those flies that come down from the sun-those screaming grounders-GET 'EM-it's easier to do if you're properly prepared with the best of sporting equipment, such as you can get at the Main Branch. Telephone 608.

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

NEH

That's your guarantee of a healthful Beverage. You'll find it in your favorite flavor —and as for healthfulness, ask your doctor.

NEHI Orange NEHI Grapefruit NEHI Cola NEHI Chocolate natural aspect, so-to-speak, as Jimmy Foxx climbs up behind the batting order. But now his old team-mate, Al Simmons, to lead the major packs. With a game to go before these mutterings reach Broadway, the Athletic first sacker is a mere point from front place, with Klein, of the National Phillies, and Cronin, of the Senators tagging close to the rear. Foxx, it might be re-called, was a little slow in getting the batting eye focused this spring, and Connie Mack shoved Coleman, new righthander, who took Simmons'

THE

Post Exchange

has a

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

... which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The hours of this service are from 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Author-ized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

The lineup of Baseball's Big place in right field, into the Six is beginning to assume a clean-up position, stepping bench. Perceiving that such a state Jimmy down to fifth place in of affairs might tend to force himthat the young man, who has ing and quickly reduced the old been heralded the most valuable player in the American League, has found the apple for plenty base wallops, the Athletic sage has placed his charge back of Cochrane in the batting lineup and the move appears very, very much warranted.

> In looking over the list of leading batsmen, and checking the stars' respective teams in the official standing one wonders over the fate that keeps the Phillies either in, or perilously near, the cellar. There's Klien, Davis and Fullis, a trio of Philadelphia National hitters among swatters who boast a combined average of 357, the Phillies are running a bare seventh in the National League race. While the trio terrifies the all and sundry hoard of twirlers, it seems that even the .180 hitters wax fat off the offerings of Phil boxmen. What a shame to leave the stellar work of three league-leading hitters to go to naught for the lack of pitching material.

Knoxville, the Smoky train of Tennessee, ridiculed, cussed and mocked during the first half of the Southern League, only to put on steam for the second lap, continues to stay in the van, though in grave danger of weakening. Nashville has crept up to striking distance for the league leadership, and stands a swell chance of being out front by Friday afternoon.

The loyals who hoped and maybe prayed—if there are any loyals left that the Atlanta Crackers would olace a rejuvenated team into the field for the second half are downcast; for, lo! the Crackers are dismally mired deep in the second division, as usual. And Uncle Wilbert Robinson's boys might well thank their gods of fate that only a surprise flop of the Chattanooga Lookouts keeps them from the cellar.

A new "wrinkle" has been added to the diet business. And how it did, and continues, to work! Bud Tinning, Chicago Cub pitcher is the charcater, and the won and lost column in the National League is the barometer attesting to success. During training season Mr. Tinning enjoyed nothing better than three-four helpings of anything the Cub chef might place on the table; so the twirler found himself tipping more than 200, and in April-May, on the self out of work, Bud started dietwaist line. And then he went to pitching. Since that date he has turned in seven straight victories and, while believing in plenty calories, just dearly loves a creditable score board.

GRIFFIN WINS OVER CHARLIE BELANGER TUESDAY

(Continued from Page 6)

Corn set Belanger back on his heels with a wicked right hook. Charley swarmed right back and the two bat tlers exchanged blows in the center of the ring. Griffin's lightning left jab kept his opponent off balance continually. Gong.

Sixth round: Griffin, having piled the major big six, and yet, with three up a respectable lead on points in the first half of the fight, became ultra-cautious. Belanger sparred while he looked in vain for an opening. Corn scored with a left. The Canadian became over-anxious and missed several times as Griffin ducked under his punches. Charley trapped Corn in a corner and the two swapped punches with honors slightly to Belanger. As Charley missed a short right, the soldier connected with a hard right to the jaw, then a left uppercut, which drew the claret from the Canadian's nose.

Seventh round: Griffin and Belanger traded lefts to the head. Charley nailed Corn with two consecutive rights to the head as the soldier attempted to tie him up in a clinch. Belanger beat a tattoo on Corn's ribs in close. Griffin retaliated by hooking his left to the Canadian's head. Both the sixth and seventh rounds were close with little to choose between either fighter.

Eighth round: The slight drizzle which had sprung up after the fifth round was still persisting and threatened to stop the fight. Griffin employed his left to good advantage in clinch, scoring both to head and body before Belanger broke away. Charley caught Corn with a long hard right to the jaw as Griffin wrestled in close. The soldier swung a right and left to the midsection and both landed. Belanger pushed Corn into the ropes and the two traded heavy blows as the gong sounded. Neither fighter heard the bell and continued o wage war fully five seconds after Ninth round: Both fighters sparred for an opening. Griffin scored with a left, rushed the Canadian to the ropes with a savage two-fisted assault. Belanger backpedalled but was not fast enough to keep away from Griffin, who followed his prey like a tiger stalking a mountain goat. Charley was staggered as a right brought a red flow of blood from his nose. The crowd went wild as Corn shot lefts and rights to the head and body. Belanger returned some of the punishment he was absorbing, but Griffin was way ahead. Both men's fac were stained with the spreading se let of spilt blood as the gong sounded.

Tenth round: Belanger and Griffin traded punches. Corn stopped Charley short with a wicked left to the body. Belanger grunted but rushed in where angels feared to tread. It was now nip-and-tuck between the two with both men shooting lefts and rights as fast as they could throw them. Griffin bounced into the ropes, came off with both hands swinging and catapulted Belanger to the ropes. Belanger stagged Griffin with a long right. They were slugging at the bell.

Jarvis separated the two and raised Corn's hand as the crowd bellowed. It was a great fight, featuring hard hitting and clever boxing. The decision was cleancut and marked another milestone in the fistic career of the Terrible Tanker.

Pajama Comfort and Fifth Ave. Style!

Tropical Worsteds - $10.95

Sport Trousers

COLUMBUS, GA.

Seersuckers

THE SCHWOB CO.

The Standard Tailoring Co.

1037 BROADWAY

OF THE CLASSROOM OR DRILL

INTO

CLEANED

BY

SUIT

Special DRY CLEANING Service

FORT BENNING

Mr. Willis Buckner, who is well known at the army post, has been named to represent our dry cleaning establishment at Fort Benning, and promises the acme of service, coupled with the quality cleaning of expert workmanship to give army officers and enlisted men one of the highest types of dry cleaning

Chattahoochee Valley Cleaners

618 First Ave.

Phone 3338

SPORT CHATTER (Continued From Page 6) give the racquet-wielders from the land of the sheep and sunshine the necessary margin of victory.

If Australia is victorious over Great Britain, she faces the United States in the inter-zone finals for the right to challenge France, present holders of the famous Davis Cup. And the outcome of an Australia-U.S. match would be practically a toss-up, depending almost entirely on what kind of form Vines displays.

Either Australia or the United

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

GEORGIA

POWER COMPANY

Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway

States can be counted on to give France a run for her money in the match for possession of the Cup. Cochet has been defeated decisively by both Vines and Crawford. Borotra claims he is through as far as Davis Cup competition is concerned. The liant, cannot as yet come up to the standards of Cup play. Christian Boussus, for example, would hardly prove much opposition for McGrath or Sutter.

Cochet, however, has an irritating way of winning his Davis Cup matches, when previous performances and other indications have him down to lose. It was Cochet who made it possible for France to retain the famous trophy last year, and it might possibly be Cochet who will pull the same stunt again this year.

BENNY ODELL WINS TECHNICAL KAYO OVER MACKERY (Continued From Page 6)

passed with a terrific right to the jaw that lifted the Kid clear off his feet and deposited him neatly on the floor. The Atlantian had landed flat on his

To its great surprise, the Kid from an abbreviated range. bounced up to his feet again as if he had been floored by a feather and rushed in to the attack. Batton, himself amazed, followed up the attack like an infuriated lioness and pounded his adversary from pillar to post younger French players, though bril- gan leaving its seats. But the soldier staggered up to his feet at the count of nine, and although he took plenty of punishment, managed to survive the round. The fifth proved Mackery's Waterloo, and after Jarvis had come to the conclusion that it was just a question of time before the actual knockout, he awarded the battle to O'Dell, who will probably fight Cyclone Smith in the near future. Mackery was on the floor when O'-Dell's hand was raised.

In the only six-rounder on the evening's program, Stratton Smith, in a comeback attempt, clashed with Billy Hyde, who knocked out Herbie Lutmeyer recently. Originally, Yutmeyer had been scheduled to face Hyde in a return match, but developed stomach disorder and was forbidden to enter the ring. Smith and Hyde, however, provided a whirlwind of action as both attempted to come in had one bad round, the second, when he was floored for a nine count, but otherwise had the better of the going. The decision was rendered in favor of

Tony Viggins, the wild bull of the highlands, substituted for Stratton Smith against Tut Tut Taylor. Taylor was puzzled by the ferocious antics of his primitive-looking opponent, but kept plugging away. The two slugged from one corner of the ring to the other. In the course of the bout, Viggins hit the pill roller with about a dozen long rights to the head that would have knocked out most any op-ponent, but Tut was unimpressed and continued to shoot short, powerful blows to face and body. The decision, a draw, met with popular approval.

The curtain was raised by Chero Pete of Columbus and Lightning Lige of Fort Benning. Both fighters were content to stand off and slug at long range, putting plenty of TNT behind all their punches. The fight was close but the decision was awarded to Chero, probably because of his aggressiveness

The whole card left nothing to be

SHAMMY SHINER

THE NEW WASHABLE POLISHING CLOTH

FOR ALL METAL INSIGNIA AND EQUIPMENT

Does not soil the hands or clothing and does away with messy powders, liquids and pastes. The polishing materials are scientifically processed right into the cloth and one Shammy Shiner lasts indefinitely. Just a light rub and your insignia or equipment is made bright and new in a jiffy.

Ask for it at your Post Exchange

N. S. MEYER, INC. NEW YORK

Distributors to the Military and Naval Trade

VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, JULY 21, 1933

NUMBER 13

Ten Years Ago Last Week

The Infantry School Detachment took ninth place in the regimental and provisional team matches at Camp Perry, in the N. R. A. matches. The Greencord team was composed of Sergeants J. B. Ellis, A. B. Strickland, and P. M. Giron.

Department of Experiment marks men held down twelfth place in the match with Captain T. F. Wessels, Sergeant F. Ioerger, and Pfc. G. R. Burnham doing the shooting.

The Instructors team of the Infantry School finshed thirteenth. Captains F. J. Pearson, C. H. Karlstad, and W. A. Dumas composing the combination.

The Happy Hearts of the 24th Infantry were sixteenth, which position was won by Captain J. S. Schwab, Lieutenant L. V. Jones, and 1st Sergeant G. Lawkins.

Demonstrationists of the 29th Infantry took 22nd place. Lieutenants A. D. Rothrock, F. H. Privett, and Corporal J. A. Rivadenera shooting.

Captain E. C. Betts returned from a sixty day sick leave spent in recuperating from injuries suffered during a recent polo game.

Doctor Taylor's Community Singers of Columbus, gave a splendid concert of negro spirituals on the commandant's lawn. A large group of the personnel of the post was present.

24th Infantry machine gun companies finished range firing last week with 100% qualification for the organiza-

Pontoneers of Company A 7th Engineers succumb to a popular childhood malady and are quarantined in their barracks with the measles.

Members of the Infantry School Detachment were assured of transportation to town by the purchase of a Reo combination truck and bus from the company fund.

The Terrible Tankers downed the Redlegs of the 83rd Feld Artillery 14-1 with Lindsey pitching a wonderful game and clouting out a homer to bie or little Junior in the afternoon put the contest in the bag.

The new polo field in the vicinity of Block 21 has been christened Pike Field in honor of Lieutenant colonel Emory J. Pike, World War Veteran.

Six Temporary MP's Return To Outfit

Six men of the 29th Infantry who have been on duty with the Military Police Section of the Infantry School have been returned to duty with their organization, after receiving special commendation for their work from the Provost Marshall, Captain Arnold J. Funk.

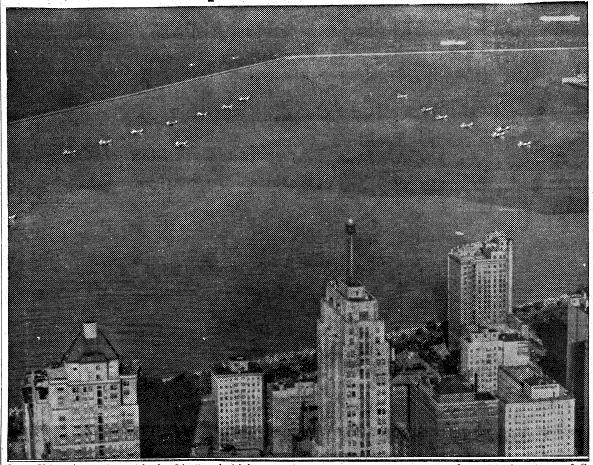

The men are Privates Herbert H. Holloway, William Lloyd and Marvin L. Worth, Company B; Edward L. Ketchum, Company E; and Clarence G. Allen and John E. Cochran; Company H.

Captain Funk's commendation reads

as follows:

"It is desired to express my appreciation of the excellent manner in which they performed their duties while on special duty. This exemplification of conscientious, soldierly, and willing performance of duty reflects credit on their regiment."

Balbo's Intrepid Crew Feted by Chicago

Over Chicago's skyline with the Lindbergh Light atop the outlaing in center foreground, appear the planes of General Balbo's air argosy at rest on the waters of Lake Michigan. Lower shows fliers of the Italian armada at the public reception at Soldier's Field where they received a great ovation. even more strenuous than the flight from Italy to the Windy City.

Scientific Leapfrog Taught ToBenning's Young Hopefuls

Exercises Give Outlet For Energy; Forty Boys Undergo Daily Instruction By Trained Gym Instructor At Post Gymnasium

muscles of the Benning younger generation to such a great extent, but, anyway, it's the gymnastic equivalent which is saying practically the same

Mothers of Fort Benning have ceased to worry about Johnny, Bobperiods for these kiddies are supporting the Darwinian theory to the utmost, climbing, running, swinging, hurdlng and exercising every muscle in their bodies, until the end of the other day on an emergency re-

Perhaps it's not exactly leapfrog the instruction period when they quest—it seemed like Junior had exe which is occupying the minds and rush breathlessly home to display to cuted the tumbling act to precision ma and pa their added supply of but was using her portiere rings for sinew and muscle and relate their a demonstration of the trapeze act!! improvements.

> It would warm the hearts of these kiddies' parents to stop by the gym and oberve the progress their children are making, the clean wholesome activity that they are engaging in and the very efficient manner in which the intructor, a former P. D. at New Orleans Y. M. C. A. handles his tiny students.

Another tot had cut all the handles off of his mother's new brooms and was using them for a swinging stunt

Allotted space does not permit the writer to enumerate all 40 of the students in the class, but mention may be made of the youngsters in the junior class who are exceptionally proficient. They are; Buddie Partridge, One mother called the instructor son of Captain Partridge, Jack Cush

(Continued on Page 5)

No Bonus - - - But Soldiers Reenlist Here Anyway

Southern Doughboys, Artillerymen, Tankers, Etc., Re-Up To Tune Of 62.84% For Month of June; Perhaps The Depression Looks Better From Inside.

Records computed and published by Headquarters, 4th Corps Area reveal a high percentage of reenlistments of regular Army personnel dicharged during the month of June, 1933.

Of the 21 posts, stations and de tachments scattered throughout the states of Georgia, Alabama, Florida, North and South Carolina and Tennessee, 62.84% of the men discharged upon completion of their enlistment have rejoined for another three years with Uncle Sam's Army.

Fort Benning, with an actual strength of 4689, more than one third of the total number of soldiers in the southeastern states, approached nearer the norm, with a percentage of 61.88, than any other station. Of the 181

June, 112 reenlisted for further service at the Infantry Schol. Benning led the list with the largest number of soldiers discharged and reenlisted, and ranked tenth in percentage.

That the Infantry School is a popular post among the enlisted personnel is attested by a glance at the authorized and actual strength of the Post. Authorized strength on June 30 was 4687; actual strength was 4669; a total of eighteen vacancies in one of the largest posts in the United States.

The majority of the larger organizations, with the exception of the 29th Infantry, are up to, or over, their allotted total of men. The 29th Infantry, known throughout the Army service, all of them 'outstanding soldiers and specialists in some particular feature of military work. This organization, the largest unit in the service had, on June 30, vacancies for seventeen soldier specialists, the number being greatly reduced by en listment and transfer since that date.

The work of the various organiza tions at Fort Benning is hard and continuous, and, human nature being the same the world over, it some times happens that far pastures look greenest, and soldiers leave Fort Benning for duty at other posts and stations. Hawaii and China, Panama and Alaska call the soldier with a siren song, but, if he remains in the service, he returns in the end to than any other station. Of the 181 as the "Demonstration" regiment is men discharged in the month of composed of the select men of the fantry School.

Tank Battalion Is Only Outfit With Life Guard Unit

Fort Benning's contingent of lifeguards for the swimming pools of the post, which is composed of enlisted personnel of the garrion, has just finished an inspection and examination by Mr. Ramon Eaton, Field Director of the American National Red Cross. Mr. Eaton's examination revealed that the life guard and first aid units at the Infantry School were maintained in a high degree of training and efficiency, and ranked among the best in the country.

In a commendation issued from Headquarters, the men of the 66th Infantry (Light Tanks) were especially complimented, the communication reading as follows:

"Mr. Eaton has found the life guards at Russ Pool very proficient and has highly recommended them, both as to their practical knowledge and the protection which they afford the swimmers. He also found them very proficient for the purpose of instructing the personnel of the post in swimming. He further wishes me to commend to you the fine work of Corporal Armand J. Parr, who has trained these men so proficiently. We might add that Corporal Parr has received post graduate training at the Red Cross Institute.

The commanding officer of the 66th Infantry, passed this appreciation of the commendation of the members of his command on to the Unit commanders, saying as follows: commanding officer is gratified to note the splendid work done by the life guards of this battalion in general, and of Corporal Parr in particular."

"It is with great pleasure that, in passing on this commendation, he is able to add his own appreciation of such work, which reflects great credit on this entire organization."

Company E, 66th Infantry, is the only organization in the Army that has a unit of life guards, examined and holding certificate from the American Red Cross.

Another 29th Inf. Unit On Vacation At Lake Juniper

Yesterday morning at 9:00 A. M. a convoy of four trucks left Fort Benning transporting members of Cannon Company 29th Infantry to Juniper Lake, thirty miles from Columbus and near the towns of Geneva and Talbotton, Georgia, for their week's vacation, following that of the Second Battalion which ended Wednesday night at midnight.

The duties of these men have been almost doubled owing to the mobilization of ten thousand or more civilian Conservation Corps recruits at this station and this break in routine comes as a great relief to the personnel of the Special Units Battalion which is composed of the following companies: Regimental Headquarters Co., Cannon Co., Service Co., & Regimental Machine Gun Co.

Mr. Dozier, owner of the Juniper Lake Camp, has granted Cannon Company permission to utilize this wonderful recreation center as a site for the personnel of this organization to

(Continued on Page 5)

SOCIAL HICH CHICHTS FELICIA C. HOWELL, PHONE 389

Wedding Of Miss KatherineLandis And Lt. Hammersberg Solemnized Saturday

Miss Katharine Gordon Landis of Carlisle, Penna., and Lieut. Robert E. Hammersberg, D. C., were married Saturday at 4 o'clock at the home of Major and Mrs. R. W. Pearson at Fort Benning.

Ivory tapers in brass candelabra and a profusion of garden flowers were used throughout the house.

Plan Your Buying Carefully

If you will plan your buying carefully beforehand—and then buy what you need at Silver's—you'll discover that you can get what you want and save money at the same time!

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST. EVERYTHING YOU NEED

The ceremony was performed in the presence of a group of friends by Chaplain Willis T. Howard before an improvised altar of smilax, fern and white oleanders.

To the strains of Lohengrin's Wedding March, played by Mrs. Pearson, the bride entered on the arm of her father. Her gown was delpinium blue embroidered mousselin de soie with which she wore a large pink horse hair hat and carried an arm bouquet of pink roses.

The brother of the bride, Mr. Boyd Landis, acted as the grooms-man.

At the reception which followed, the bride used her husband's saber to cut the wedding cake. Mrs. Pearson was assisted in serving by the bride's aunt, Mrs. Olive Landis Barton of Flemington, New Jersey, Mrs. Walter E. Chase and Mrs. M. V. Talbot.

Mrs. Hammersberg is the daughter of Mr. Merkel Landis of Carlisle, Penna. She was educated at Wilson College and the Illman School of Philadelphia, followed by extensive travel abroad.

After a brief honeymoon trip the young couple will be at home at Fort Benning where Lieut. Hammersberg has recently been assigned to duty.

MISS MAUDE HELEN HAGER BE-COMES BRIDE OF LIEUT. HAR-VEY THOMAS MORGAN ON SAT-URDAY.

Announcement is made by Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Carl Hager of Terre Haute, Indiana, of the marriage of their daughter, Maude Helen, to Lieut. Harvey Thomas Morgan, U. S. A. The ceremony having taken place Saturday in Terre Haute, Indiana. The bride will be remembered by her many friends at Fort Benning as having served in the Nurse-Corp until July 1st at the Station Hospital. She was prominent in social and women's

1209 Broadway

Today's Fashion

Mode for early autumn.
By VERA WINSTON

Many of the clothes created for midsummer wear often show a hint of the mode for early autumn. From a survey of the accompanying drawing one may discern something that has already been prophesied, the return of the tunic silhouette. Satin frocks always mean forgetting, and as satin is the important material for autumn, ve can see the shadow of the fagotting in the lines of drawn hand work on the coat. The coat is of very dark red linen, almost a brown. It has crepe over the shoulders to achieve width. The crepe de chine dress which is in deep flesh pink can be glimpsed under the linen of handwork. The shoulders of the coat is quite tunic-like.

club activities. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Morgan of Terre Haute, Indiana. He has served a tour of duty at Fort Benning having attended the Infantry School in 1920. He is now stationed at Fort Benjamin Harrison, Indiana, where he and his bride will be "at home" after August 1st.

ENGAGEMENT OF INTEREST ANNOUNCED.

Of interest throughout Army and civilian circles is the announcement of the engagement of Miss Ethel Elizabeth Woodruff to Lieut. Phillip Draper, Jr. Miss Woodruff, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Waldo Woodruff of Columbus, Georgia, is one of the lovliest and most popular debutantes of the state. She is descended on both sides from members of Columbus' most prominent families, her mother being formerly Ethel Illges. Miss Woodruff, James Woodruff, Jr., and Barnett Woodruff. school at Mount Vernon Seminary and the Kay-Smith Studio School in Washington, D. C. She is a member of the Cotillion Club and of the Community Service League and the completion of her scholastic work she travelled extensively in Europe. Lieut. Draper is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Philip Henry Draper of Troy, New York and like his bride-elect is descended from prominent families, his mother prior to her marriage being Miss Sally Stimson of Watertown, New York. Lieut. Draper attended preparatory school at the Swavely School at Manassas, Virginia and graduated from the United States Military Academy with the class of 1929. He was stationed at Fort Benning for three years with the 83rd Field Artillery until 1932 when he was ordered to Paris, France to specialize in French at the Sorbonne. Upon his return to the United States he will report to West Point as an instructor in French. The marriage will take place in August.

PETERS RUDOLPH MARRIAGE ANNOUNCED.

Mr. and Mrs. George Peters of Savannah, Georgia, announce the marriage of their daughter, Josephine Elizabeth, to Lieut. Francis A. Ru(Please turn to page 3)

KENNY'S

NORWOOD COFFEE

is sold at Fort Benning

through the

Post Exchange

TRY A POUND
YOU WILL BE PLEASED

FURNITURE

Headquarters for Furniture and all kinds of household furnishings, at the lowest price and easiest terms. It will pay you to see us before you buy.

CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

SUCCESSORS TO JOHNSTON-CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

1014 Broadway

Phone 460

COMPLETE YOUR SILVER SERVICE NOW

BEFORE THE BIG ADVANCE

STERLING SILVERWARE

Ву

GORHAM, KIRK, TOWLE, WALLACE REED & BARTON, INTERNATIONAL

C. SCHOMBURG & SON

1121 BROADWAY

COLUMBUS, GA.

AT THE SIGN OF THE BIG CLOCK

O H. ROTHS

A transaction with us is never completed until the customer is thoroughly satisfied.

H. ROTHSCHILD

FURNITURE COMPANY

Leading Furniture Dealers In Columbus For 39 Years.

We Offer The Services Of Our RENTAL DEPARTMENT

To all incoming officers to assist them in getting pleasantly located for the coming school year.

FLOURNOY REALTY CO.

Owners and Exclusive Agents for WILDWOOD COURT APARTMENTS

The Greatest Trouble-Saver

Ever Devised!

THE SIX-BOX!

3 Phones 465

You'll have to agree with the rest of the world when you say that Coca Cola is the most delicious and refreshing drink made. And now, in the new Six-Box, it is the most handy, most convenient of all the popular priced soft drinks—it is truly one that will add you to its list of friends.

SIX DELICIOUS BOTTLED COCA-COLAS

FOR ONLY

25c

PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

THE WORLD'S MOST POPULAR AND DELIGHTFUL DRINK; IN A CONVENIENT, COMFORTABLE SIZE

SOLD AT ALL COLUMBUS GROCERS

On back doors in peaceful, panhand-

Wasting away because I have not

The wherewithal to purchase chow.

Pursuits which avail me naught. My once well-padded form is

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

SHAMMY SHINER

THE NEW WASHABLE POLISHING CLOTH

FOR ALL METAL INSIGNIA AND EQUIPMENT

Does not soil the hands or clothing and does away with messy powders, liquids and pastes. The polishing materials are scientifically processed right into the cloth and one Shammy Shiner lasts indefi-Just a light rub and your insignia or equipment is made bright and new in a jiffy.

Ask for it at your Post Exchange

N. S. MEYER, INC. NEW YORK

Distributors to the Military and Naval Trade

DODGE

DECISION

ADAPTED FROM AND WITH

To reenlist, or not to reenlist.

Whether 'tis bettre to rub up against A cold, unfriendly, and forgetful

In search of a job which is not-

And by reenlisting place myself in a Position whereby I may request all Promises of a job in the near future.

As I gaze upon the leaden skies of an Approaching winter, the "situation

Me is appalling. The prospects of Howling winds filtering through my B. V. D.'s

Reenforced only by the flimsy fabric

Makes my heart grow faint within me; and I

company

PLYMOUTH AGENTS FOR

STUDENTS:

If you're newly assigned to Ft. Benning, and especially if this is your first tour of duty here, you'll be wise if you'll drop by here when you arrive. We have made a reputation for ourselves for being one of the most dependable dealers in Columbus.

In addition to our Dodge and Plymouth agency, we also handle a number of used cars. Perhaps you'll find just what you need here to replace your old car.

> PATTERSON - POPE MOTOR COMPANY

> > 1415 1st AVE.

USED C A R S

CKSONVILLE GEORGE WASHINGTON'S 300 ROOMS - 300 BATHS NEWEST AND FINEST Every Known Facility - Garage Directly Connecting Lobby - Radio MAYFLOWER • 300 ROOMS - 300 BATHS A BEAUTIFUL HOTEL Splendid Facilities - Garage - Radio Coffee Shoppe MODERN AS THE BEST FREE GARAGE EVERY CONVENIENCE FOR SUMMER COMFORT .. PRICES IN KEEPING WITH THE TIMES «« ROBERT KLOEPPEL OWNER DIRECTOR

In which I once did revel. This good right hand which once did

My trusty rifle on the drill field Of the post is palsied, and APOLOGIES TO SHAKESPEARE My knuckles calloused from knocking

That's the question.

Or don the uniform once more

To go to the devil with their fair To be à soldier once again by heck. 'Tis a consummation devoutly to be desired that confronts

Hand-me-down Palm Beach breeches

Long for the flesh-pots of my old

Mess; the aroma of roast beef Assails my nostrils, and I yearn for

The shoes upon my feet are grasping Plutocrats. They have no soles! Kismet! Old Glory looks good to me.

Savage Club Gives Another Dance

The Savage Club, 1st Bn., 29th Inf., wishes to convey its appreciation of the excellent backing that the personnel of Ft. Benning has shown in making this dance club one of the most popular at the Infantry School.

To date this club has sponsored three dances, all being very successful, and you, our patronizers are responsible that we have succeeded.

The club wants to thank the 1st sergeants for their splendid cooperation in handling our tickets for us.

Someone at our last Masquerade dance suggested that a pajama dance would be quite appropriate for the next scuffle, well ladies and gentlemen you are going to get just what you ask for; A PAJAMA DANCE to be held at the 29th Infantry Theatre on next Wednesday, July 26th. so prepare your nighties and your silk kimonos for this date.

Any organization that has been left out of the ticket lineup and may for some reason have misplaced their present supply, call Savage Head-quarters and ask for Stolier or Hobbs and they will accommodate you.

For this pyjama dance, Jawbone tickets may be procured in all orderly rooms payable on the August pay roll. Thanking you again, THE SAVAGES.

CORRECTION

In other articles the credit for coaching the Tankers in their baseball playing this season has been incorrectly given to Lt. Nourse. Lt. Kellam, however, is the officer who has been doing such a fine job of making a smooth-running team for the tanks.

> There's N_0 DOUBT

There's no need to resort to he high-pressure salesmanship of modern times to tell you that Foremost Ice Cream is good. A taste will prove it to you—and a dish will make a friend of you forever.

Call The Soda Fount

FOREMOST DAIRIES INC.

FLORIDA COLLIER COAST HOTELS AND ASSOCIATED HOTELS

Year Around Hotels Floridan, Tampa Tampa Terrace, Tampa Lakeland Terrace, Lakeland

Year Around Hotels Dixie Court, West Palm Beach George Washington, Jacksonville Mayflower, Jacksonville

Season Hotels Manatee River, Bradenton Sarasota Terrace, Sarasot Royal Worth, West Palm B

The Post Exchange

HAS A DELIVERY SERVICE FROM ITS

SODA FOUNTAIN

. The hours of this service are from 11 a. m. to 9:00 p. m., and it is designed particularly for the delivery of ice cream in quarts and smaller quantities to your home.

> Excellent Curb Service Also Phone 69

THE SODA FOUNTAIN

POST EXCHANGE

FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

THE SUMMER'S FINEST!

om's

Toasted Peanuts

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded for the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

Phone 556

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Columbus, Georgia

JULY 21, 1933 VOLUME III. NUMBER 13 L. C. Kunze____ ----Publisher Louis T. Kunze

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,
BALTIMORE

Notes To Company Correspondents

Extracts From The Sentinel Speak Fully For Herald Editor; Please Heed Them This Fall!

The extracts from The Sentinel, not retard our respiration. which follow struck the Editor's eagle eye particularly because they seemed just as appropriate for the Herald, too. Of course, the characters may not be as well-known, and the locale is quite different, but a little thing like distance means nothing between editors-or company correspondents. You may know some of those who write for The Sentinel for all we know. Anyhow, we're just printing this as a warning when, in the Fall, we expect to start again running full force on the Company Correspondent's comments. Naturally you will expect to see your name here, and probably will, too, if you don't in-dulge in coil shuffling or failing to re-up before then, but right now, what with vacations and C. C. C.'s, the company reporters are a little short. And another thought-Suppose you were over in China and had to wet-nurse a lot of Chinese for C. C. C.'s?

Lifted bodily from Noah Webster's massive opus, we print the following: "Cooperate: To act or operate jointly with another or others; to concur in action, effort, or effect.

Cooperation: The act of cooperating or of operating together to one end; concurrent effort or labor." Sounds like The Sentinel is starting a class in etymology, doesn't it? This is not the case however-we just wish to bring those important words to your attention. The staff of The Sentinel appreciates each and every scribe's efforts in the past and at the present. You have all cooperated with us, more or less. It is a foregone conclusion that The Sentinel would be a mell of a hess if no company notes were submitted at all. Something like a man without a backbone, or taking 3.2 out of 3.2.

The staff of The Sentinel would breathe a lot easier if we could depend on all notes being in at the appointed time, the deadline, i. e., 12:00 noon each Wednesday. We tearfully request you to observe the deadline a little more rigidly in the future, and tary.

In the past we have brought to your attention the use of superfluous commas and quotaton marks. We won't squawk if you'll promise to get your news in at the designated time. We shall have plenty of time to delete them if you do slip a few extra quotation marks around someone's nickname. And we should like to call your attention to the matter of abbreviations. If you wish to abbreviate corporal, sergeant, private first class, olive drab, etc., use the authorized abbreviations as laid down in army regulations, i. e., corp., sgt., pvt. lcl., o.d. If "o.d." is capitalized it stands for Officer of the Day. Don't put your unit in "Officer of the Day" uniforms. It would be confusing. And each time a member of your organization returns to duty from the hospital, is it vitally necessary to say that "Private Whiffle Diffle has returned to the fold again"?

We believe you will give a little thought to the matter and cooperate (see above for meaning) in the future. Let's refresh our minds by tabulating the simple rules governing the submission of news:

Deadline: 12:00 noon, each Wednesday.

Spacing: Double space in order that we may compute print inches. Paper: Any kind. One side only.

We are as lenient as the laws of propriety will permit in our censorship. Don't get angry if your column called your first sergeant or your particular corporal a @-") (and you don't see it in print. We can't run it worth a darn. And the guard house is situated immediately below the office of The Sentinel, serv ing as a stimulus and mental hazard each time something questionable comes up. The prison officer is also the editor of this weekly paper and has on numerous occasions vividly expressed his intention not to be his own boarder if he can prevent it. So don't try to put the staff in soli-

SOCIETY

(Continued From Page 2) dolph, of Omaha, Nebraska on June 29th at Seale, Alabama.

AND MRS. LEMLY HOSTS OFFICERS' AT DINNER.

The attractive quarters of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Rowan Lemly was the the Officers' Club program for its ful dinner party. The table was decorated with a colorful center piece of Summer flowers, flanked by tapers of yellow. The Lemlys had as their guests for the evening: Colonel and Mrs. Charles W. Weeks, Colonel and Mrs. William E. Persons, Major and Mrs. Thomas B. Catron and Major and Mrs. Homer L. Conner. After dinner the guests were escorted to the Post

MRS. STUART HONORS BRIDE ELECT AT LUNCHEON SATUR-DAY.

Miss Katherine Landis, whose marriage to Lieut. Robert E. Hammersberg was solemnized last Saturday, was the honor guest Saturday at a beautiful luncheon given by Mrs. Joseph A. Stuart. Mrs. Stuart had as her guests the bride's family and the members of the bridal party. They were: Miss Landis, Mrs. Olive Landis Barton, Mr. Merkel Landis, Lieut. Robert E. Hammersberg and Mr. Boyd

CLUB SPONSORS SWIMMING PARTY. Each Friday has been set aside on scene Thursday evening of a delight- swimming party and supper, however due to inclement weather two of these affairs have had to be postponed so this week's swimming party has full reservations. The guest will arrive at six-thirty for swimming, at eight a hot supper will be served at individual tables under the trees. Japanese lanterns will serve as the lighting fixtures. Among those making reservations are: Colonel and Mrs. William E. Persons, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Thomas J. Leary, Maj. and Mrs. Lewis C. Davidson, Maj. and Mrs. Harry L. Reeder, Capt.

> "no-Host" parties. MARIE AND SALLY LINDSEY HOLD BIRTHDAY PARTY.

and Mrs. Harland C. Griswold, Capt.

and Mrs. Heward N. Merrill and two

The little Misses Marie and Sally Lindsey, the attractive twins of Capt. and Mrs. Malcolm F. Lindsey, were

SATELLITES

By C. T. KEPLEY

In the tank battalion of the Infantry School, is to be found another "Old Timer" of the service, who has a record and personality that is quite his own. Sergeant Richard P. M. Scott, better known as "Deadeveof the 66th Infantry (Light Tanks), is the man under discussion.

Sergeant Scott was born at Owensboro, Kentucky, in 1889. At the time of his enlistment he was working as a miner in the coal mines of that region. Of the Scott family of five boys, two were killed in action while serving with the Canadian Army, one recently died as a result of wounds sustained in France with the A. E. F., and "Deadeye" is a member of the Order of the Purple Heart because of injuries received in action.

Scottie" first entered the service in 1911. He enlisted in the Marine Corps, and after seven years service with that branch he found his way into the 18th Infantry. On June 17. 1917, just two months affer war had been declared by President Wilson, the 1st Division sailed from Hoboken. Scott was among the doughboys that comprised that famous unit. When the 2nd Machinegun Battalion was formed in France he was transferred to Company C of that organization. Today he is one of the foremost authorities on machineguns in the U. S. Army. While with this outfit he saw action in twenty-one engagements. Among them, the battle of the Aisne-Marne, St. Mihiel, Meuse Argonne and

In his last action "Scottie" wounded and remained as a patient in Base Hospital No. 7 for eleven After his release he was sent with the army of occupation as member of the 7th Machinegun Battalion.

At the close of the war, Scott did not discontinue his activities with the army. He has been a member of the Pistol team at Camp Perry, Ohio and was the Instructor to the only machinegun team to hold the Howard Clark Trophy for two succeeding years. He is, today, one of the best skeet shooters in the army and a quail hunter of the first water.

Each year when the organization of which he is a member goes to range cott will be found to be the man in charge of the group of guns. It is his duty to see that they are kept in a condition that warrants safety in firing. The men never have to worry about how a gun will act for when Deadeye" has finished with them they are mechanically perfect.

This battle-scarred veteran of the Mexican Border Campaign and World War is a confirmed "Old Soldier." He has approximately twelve years to serve before retiring and states that if he is still alive twelve years from this date that he will retire at Fort Benning, Georgia, home of the Infantry the honor guests Saturday afternoon at a party given by their parents in celebration of their fifth birthday. At three o'clock the young guests assembled and games and contests were enjoyed until four when two lovely cakes topped each by five white can dles were served. Ice cream and can dy completed the refreshments. Twelve of the twins' young playmates attended the party. They were: Peggy Trechter, Virginia Harrison, Barbara Cole, Felicia Howell, Ann Louise Howell, Gale Hall, Barbara Brown, Sally Davis, Frank Garrard, James Bowen, Jr., Calvin DesPortes, Jr. and Roger Brislawn.

PERSONALS

Lieut. and Mrs. James R. Pierce plan to return to Fort Benning the latter part of this week from a visit with the latter's relaives in Birmingham, Alahama

Miss Katherine Lemly is spending a few days with friends at Fort McPherson, Georgia.

Friends of Lieut, Lindell D. Straube will be glad to learn that he has received a permanent commission as a lieutenant in the Dental Corps.

Mrs. Joseph I. Greene departed Saturday for Jacksonville where she is visiting relatives. Lieut. Greene departed last week for McRae, Georgia where he will be on duty with the C.

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

Conducted By D. P. H.

MISTAKEN IDENTITY

An unwelcome visitor to the Officers' Club for the last two summers has been the species of mephitine musteloid (polecat, to you) that has apparently decided to make his permanent home beneath the building. All efforts to entice this animal from its domain have met with failure. cat is persistent in its choice of a residence. Mine Host Dowdall grew desperate. He even went to the extremity of offering a five dollar reward for its dead body.

This magnanimous offer stirred the waiters of the Officers' Club into frenzied action. They went into conference together and worked out a campaign. By this scheme, the waiters would take turns sitting up nights patiently waiting for the polecat to put in an appearance.

Private Fields, the thaumaturgist whose specialty is the watermelon disappearing act, was comfortably ensconced in a chair, a shotgun poised ready in his hands. It was a warm, balmy eve. On such a night, Private Fields greatly preferred to be in bed but the vision of a five dollar bill floating before his eyes, so to speak, had the effect of keeping him in some degree of preparedness. He visualized himself with a watermelon of gargantuan proportions in either hand and three or four dollars in his pocket to buy additional watermelons when the two gave out.

Suddenly a black and white creature scurried across his line of vision. The thaumaturgist did not wait until he saw the whites of its eyes: he took hasty aim and fired. The animal obligingly rolled over on its side and performed the customary convulsions when in a moribund state. Finally, it lay still. But wary Private Fields was not to be deceived by such a simple trick. He had often heard how some animals take great pleasure in pretending to be dead when in reality very much alive. The same, he reasoned, might well apply to this nefarious mephitine musteloid. Accordingly, he was not to be enticed from behind his chair for several minutes. At last, convinced that the animal must assuredly be dead, he approached the creature with slow and stealthy stride, much as an Indian would creep up on an unsuspecting white victim in the days gone by.

He sniffed the air suspiciously. The one infallible distinguishing characteristic of the polecat had not yet become evident. This was queer, because Private Fields was standing right over the dead body of his victim. The first vague doubts began to assail his being. He made a cursory examination of the animal and concluded wisely that if this was a polecat it was certainly unlike any other polecat he had ever seen. As a matter of fact, thought Fields with a sickly feeling in the pit of his stomach, the animal had a distinct resemblance to the ordinary variey of house cat. In this assumption, as it turned out, he was entirely correct. The watermelons would have to wait.

In the meantime, Mine Host Dowdall grew more and more impatient at the inability of his waiters to entice the skunk to a place where it could conveniently be destroyed. He issued an ultimatum, finally, which stated in no uncertain terms that unless the waiters succeeded in rooting out the poleca before Monday, the whole affair would be put in the hands of the Military Police who, it seems, were also impressed by the promise of a five dollar reward.

INTERVIEW

It has been suggested to us that when we run low on topics, we can interview some of the C. C. C. widows as a last resort. The more we think of this suggestion, the better we like it. It has distinct possibilities, and it will at least keep us from resurrecting General Fuzzard. The last sentence reminds us of the comment made by an officer apropos Fuzzard. A new issue of the Benning Herald had just come out. The officer turned the pages of the paper to The Flare and observed that General Fuzzard (whose activities had been woefully obscured after the presidential election) had burst back into print in a big way. "What!" exclaimed the officer, "I thought that old bird had died long ago."

For some time we pondered over the problem of which C. C. C. widow we were going to interview. At last came the long-awaited spark of inspiration and we dashed off in quest of Mrs. Forrest Harding. We found her in the act of watering the Harding lawn. It was with some trepidation that we approached the little lady, for we had heard that she entertained peculiar ideas about pub-

Finesse was needed, so we volunteered to help water the lawn for her. This, we learned later, was the best thing we could have done for Mrs. Harding opened her heart to us immediately. Ouestion: How did you receive the news that your husband had been detailed on C. C. C. duty in Alabama?

Mrs. Harding: Oh, I didn't make much fuss over it. I was prepared for it. But I do think it was mean of them to make him go now, and just as we all thought he might stay here too. (Mrs. Harding's slight frame shook with pent-up emotion).

Question: Do you find it difficult managing household affairs with the master gone? Mrs. Harding: Not very difficult. You know, my husband never was very domestic anyway. Why, he never did a thing around the house-not one thing. And, as for watering the lawn, he'd never think of doing anything like that. Major Lewis across the street waters his lawn all the time -and potters around the flowers too. But Major Harding doesn't even know the difference between a violet and a water-lily. Major Harding . . .

Question: Has your husband returned at all since his departure?

Mrs. Harding: Oh, yes, he has returned several times for swims in the post pool.

Question: Did he look wan?

Mrs. Harding: Not nearly so wan as I thought he should have looked. You know, I actually think he's enjoying himself.

Question: How does the thought of having him in the woods appeal to .Mrs. Harding: It will do him good. It's been so long since he's done anything for himself that the change will be just fine. Of course, I am afraid that he will catch cold or something. I wanted him to take three blankets instead of two, but he wouldn't. He needs someone to look after him. And when I suggested that he take an axe or a hatchet to chop the trees with, he gave me such a mean look!

(Please turn to page 4)

THE FLARE (Continued from page 4)

Contributons to this column, we reiterate, are always welcome. Here is one from Mrs. Bloomquist, who sets an admirable example.

THE MORNING RIDE OF MRS. RAYMOND

Now I am going to tell you something In you I am confidin' The tale of a Mrs. Raymond Who thought she'd go a'ridin'

So first she mounted 'pon a horse Who had a reputation For being a plugish plug Used just for transportation.

But when she mounted 'pon his back I wish you could have seen him, His eyes went round, his ears went back.

You really should have seen him.

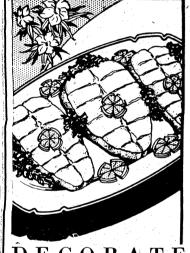

Then he circled faster, faster With Mrs. Raymond perched on top While I sat and calmly waited For the reassuring plop.

Much to my greatest amazement, She stuck to him quite like a leech Until a gallant colored soldier Came within her grasping reach.

With his help she got off Fasset-For that was what the horse was named

'Said she was scared 'bout to death

Didn't seem at all ashamed.

DECORATE

Your Table

Make every dish more tempting than the rest and watch the hit you'll make with the guests. Any food may be good, but unless it's temptingly served it is just mediocre. Let us help you with the articles which will give you just what you want with every dish!

GROCERY DEPARTMENT POST EXCHANGE

Ft. Benning, Ga. The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

"Get on that horse and give it to him.

Said Lieutenant H. Monroe. "I will not, sez Mrs. Raymond I'm going home I'll have you know-

Some horses I would ride outside, And some I ride within a fence, And some I would not ride at all, Not cowardice, just plain good sense." Marian Bloomquist.

EXCESSIVE MODESTY

Lieutenant Howard Johnson was keeping a weather eye open for a striker. At last, he came to the conclusion that he had a remarkable good prospect, but before hiring him definitely, he decided to ask a few questions. In the conservation that followed, the soldier made it clear that he had once worked for Major Schneider.

Lieut. Johnson: You say, you used to work for Major Schneider?

Soldier: Yassuh.

Lieut. Johnson: How much did Major Schneider pay you? Soldier: About three to four dollars a month, suh.

Lieut. Johnson (at this point permitted himself an exclamation denoting surprise): Why, that's not a helluva big salary."

Soldier: Thass alright. I'm not a helluva good striker.

ANOTHER UNIT OF 29TH INFAN-TRY GOES ON VACATION (Continued From Page 1)

swim, fish or indulge in boating if they are nautically inclined.

Lt. William W. O'Connor, commanding this company has arranged a program of athletic and recreational events which will promote interest to the entire command.

Several dances will be held at the picnic grounds during Cannon Company's stay, music being furnished by the "37 Millimeter Wildcats" consist-ing of the following pieces: Two guitars, one violin, one drum and an ash

Corporal Smith, non-commissioned officer in charge of the mess has arranged some splendid menus for the men, including an old fashioned barin general, "Chow" a la carte.

SCIENTIFIC LEAPFROG IS OC CUPYING YOUNG HOPEFULS (Continued from page .1)

man, son of Capt. Horace N. Cush-man, Arthur Wolfe, son of Mr. Sgt. Wolfe, George Bell, son of Mr. Sgt. Bell and Ralph Walls, son of Sgt. Walls, and last but not least little "Popeye" Benefield, son of Sgt. Benefield of the Infantry School Detachment.

The period of instruction in these classes is from 1:15 p. m. to 2:30 p. m. daily.

Much credit is due Private Bernard Burge, 1st Bn. Hq. Co., 29th Inf., for his most excellent work with the youngsters, not only physically fit, but keeping them out of Mrs. Smith's flower garden and Squire Dillingham's pea-patch.

RUBBER STAMPS

COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

CONVENIENT LOCATION—MODERN EQUIPMENT RATES REASONABLE

Phone your agent or call our Superintendent, Mr. Trussell, Phone 3062

DIMON COURT APARTMENTS

B. H. HARRIS CO.

Renting

Special attention given Fort Benning Officers Kindly call and let us assist you in getting located

Office, 12th Street

Phones 250-251

H. HARRIS В.

Fastest Miler

Lovelock, Oxford University, England, track star, had good reason to smile for he set a new world record for the mile run at the Oxford-Cambridge vs. Princeton-Cornell meet at Princeton. Lovelock is shown finishing in 4:7.6, nearly 2 seconds better than the old mark becue and a watermelon cutting and B A S E B A L L BABBLE

By EDDIE BALL

With the major league season past the turn the experts are turning to those teams who near the stretch way under par for copy to fill the yawning chasm of newspaper columns; it is the period when galleys of dope can be written on the subject of "fired managers," and the prospects for changes at the end of the season. According to fellows who like to rap the second division team, at least four changes are certain each year in the American and National leagues.

One of the latest rumors has Rogers Hornsby at the helm of the St. Louis Browns in 1934; another would send the mighty Bambino to Boston, his first love. Still other energetic scribes mention probable changes at Brooklyn, Cincinnati, Detroit and Chicago. The matter of expired contracts makes little difference. Someimes it is expedient to buy them in.

For some reason we have yet to see any mention of the Phillies, the hardluck team of the National. Again, that is because of ownership-management. Like the 3.2 beer question, we have a paradoxical situation if there ever was one. Led by Chuck Klien, the Phillies number five batters among the first six heavy hitters of the circuit, and yet the team hovers in or directly above the cellar. It seems that an investment in a trio of able boxmen would prove its worth indeed. With only fair hurling, the Phillies should make a walkaway of the race.

It seems that southern College baseball aspirants stand in the good graces of the New York Yankees as none others do. The Yanks now have Buster Mott and Spurgeon Chandler, former Georgia grid heroes, and Jimmy Hitchcock, Auburn football hero of the past three years under contract. The trio have been farmed out for experience, and 'ere a couple years / (Please turn to page 8)

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS $ 600,000.00 RESOURCES OVER $ 3,200,000.00

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

Watch Your Car,

As You Do Your Bankbook

You watch the size of your bankroll pretty carefully—at least, you should, if you want to stay out of jail. But, did you ever think, you can land in the ditch or in a coffin just as quickly if you're not careful enough to keep your car in good shape.

Let us look it over and correct any mechanical defects which may be present. And you should use only the best of oils and greases. The rest is up to you!

AUTO DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE Ft. Benning, Ga.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service

ASSOCIATED HOTELS=

JACKSONVILLE HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Cyclone Smith Faces Bennie Odell Soon

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

with a brilliant burst of powerful gia Peach, perhaps comes closer to it stickwork, have surged to the top again at this writing. Led by the colorful Bambino of Swat, the New York aggregation ousted the Washington Senators from first place.

When Washington went to first place some weeks ago, it looked like they meant to stay there. But Babe Ruth, who had been relegated to the ashheap for discarded veterans by many sportswriters, suddenly came to life again and began blasting homeruns with the old zest and gusto. And when Ruth is clicking, invariably the whole New York team clicks, and that precisely is the reason why the Yankees are lodged in first place right

Washington, however, remains a menace. All in all, the Senators are the smoothest working outfit in the American league, and this always tells in the long run. It is not always the nine with the greatest number of individual stars that wins.

The Bambino of Swat is batting at a clip that has caused many sportswriters who predicted that the Babe was on the decline to hide their heads in shame. At the present moment, he is giving Jimmy Foxx of the Athletics a hard run for first place in knocking out homeruns. Gehrig, Klein, and all the other sluggers are a safe distance behind both these men, who show no signs of letting up.

Yes, Ruth is far from through. And when he does turn in his uniform, it's going to be a severe blow to the game of baseball. After all, the Babe is getting along in years. The question that is puzzling fans and owners and managers alike is to find a man who can replace Ruth in the hearts of all baseball lovers. That will be difficult. The Bambino has been the most popular and most colorful figure in the national game. No one rivals this su-

Those almost invincible Yankees, premacy of his. Ty Cobb, the Geor than any other man, and Ty hung up his glove some time ago. It would be hard to estimate just how much mon ey has poured into the Yankee coffers just for the reason that Babe Ruth happened to play on that particular team. Of course, the Babe has been the highest salaried performer in base ball, but the Yankee owners were good business men. They knew his value to their team and were willing to pay high to retain it.

> Of all the modern day players, Jim my Foxx is the best bet to take the Babe's place in baseball. Like Ruth, he swings from the waist up, and when he connects with the ball, it rarely stops with the infield. Only the fact that Foxx has been partly obscured by the gigantic shadow that Babe Ruth has cast over baseball has kept him from coming more to the attention of the fans.

> But when Ruth turns in his uniform, Foxx will have the largest following in baseball.

> Lefty Grove is leading the American League twirlers at this writing with fourteen victories to his credit against four defeats. Lefty is one modern day pitcher that will assuredly be ranked among the great pitchers of all time. Grove has been leading the American League in pitching for so long that it is beginning to be a habit with him. His speedball, possibly the fastest in baseball today, coupled with the large variety of curve balls he has at his command have been largely responsible for his splendid record.

The argument that Grove has been pitching for a winning club may be advanced by some skeptics. This, of course, is undeniable, but ask the players in the American League what (Please turn to page 8)

Will Top One Of Best Cards So Far

Rip Tetherton Primed To Make Comeback Against Tenerio In Semi-Final

Bennie Odell, the giant who laid Frank Mackery low, will clash with Cyclone Smith, the Wild Bull of the Upatoi, on July 25th. Odell issued a challenge to either Smith or Griffin, and the Cyclone was very obliging. The ten round main go will top an excellent supporting card.

Odell impressed everyone with the competent way in which he handled Mackery, one of Benning's younger and more promising leather-toters. There was not the least doubt as to the outcome from the first round to the fifth when the Floridian received a technical knockout. Bennie was complete master of the situation as he forced Mackery to give ground all over the ring. All this time, he kept his right cocked for use when the opportunity arose. And before many rounds of the fight had passed into history, he had more than one occasion to use it. Mackery was on the floor when the battle was awarded to Odell.

Smith will be dwarfed beside the huge figure of Odell, towering six feet four inches in height and with the avoirdupois distributed all over his body. Bennie's excellent record testifies to a brilliant career spent in the ring. He has been knocked out but twice in about one hundred and ten fights, has dropped ten decisions, and won forty-five of the bouts via the knockout route. The Wild Bull is faced with a mighty tough prospect when he crawls through the ropes against Odell.

Smith, himself, has been indicating that he is all the southern dope experts have figured him out to be. Since losing a close fight to Gordon Fortenberry on his last appearance at the post, the Cyclone has fought in sundry localities. A draw with Harry Allen in Savannah and a win over Wild Bill Cox has convinced fans that Smith will be a dangerous man for anybody.

Present indications point to Rip Tetherton meeting Lope Tenerio in the semi-final. Tetherton lost a decision to Billy Hood in his last appearance here, and failed to make a creditable showing. It must be remembered, however, that Rip was fighting under a weight disadvantage, and that he was undergoing the mental hazard of fighting a man who had (Please turn to page 7)

AMATEURS WILI GO INTO ACTION

Lieutenant Johnson of the Post Athletic Department is making ar rangements at present for an all-star boxing program, featuring the champions of the southeast (Fort Benning) against another amateur aggregation sometime in August. The amateur leatherpushers of Fort Benning won in a walk at Mobile some months ago in the annual tournament and probably rank among the outstanding teams not only in this section of the country but all over the United States. Lieutenant Johnson is striving to get the best possible amateur aggregation to oppose his outfit, and the chances are good because of the splendid record of the Fort Benning team.

Four Southeastern amateur championships are held by members of the garrison.

Smith-Odell Scrap Summer Boxing Season Will See Many Outstanding Fight Cards

Corn Griffin, the Terrible Tanker, and Charley Belanger, the wily Canuck, matched punches and ring skill against each other. What the next few months will bring in the way of fistic lore is in no wise certain, but it is sure that there will be some eruptions on the unruffled surface of the pugilistic world.

Rosenbloom, lightheavy-Maxey weight champion of the world, is at present engaged in a barnstorming tour that is calculated to bring not only a steady stream of money into the Rosenbloom coffers but also to add to the prestige of the playboychampion. Lou Scozza, according to certain reliable sources of information. has shot hs bolt; he has never been able to win the lightheavyweight championship away from the present king of the division although he has met the champion several times. Young, comparatively inexperienced, and aspiring lightheavyweights now dominate the scene and among these is numbered Corn Griffin.

During the winter months, Griffin's sensational record has flared acros the fistic world like a fiery come! Only an unpopular decision to Trader Horn mars his impressive record, and Griffin more than made up for this bad showing by handing Charley Belanger, Canadian champion, a decisive trimming in ten rounds. Corn entered the ring against his skilled adversary the underdog. Many were of the opnion that the Tanker would not last the route: imagine their surprise, therefore, when Griffin not only went the whole way but pounded out

The summer boxing season made a victory over the man who once had its debut a week ago Tuesday when Mickie Walker on the floor for a count nine.

Griffin is rapidly developing the qualities that make for a champion. His lightning left jab is an effectual point-scorer, and he hits with the impact of a 15 inch projectile. Punches roll off him like lizards off a log, and a damaging wallop to a vital spot only succeeds in hoisting the danger signal. He boxes like a veteran and is rapidly learning the little ring tricks that a prospective champion must know.

The summer months are coming, and Griffin has a lot to do. Joe Knight and Bob Godwin are still shining lights on the fistic horizon. Godwin is generally conceded to be the second ranking lightheavy, but in Rosenbloom, he met a master boxer who cut him to pieces. Knight, it is definitely known, is not hankering for a match with the Terrible Tanker. As long as he can meet setups and avoid the better ring gladiators, the Cairo slugger will be content to merely rebuild the reputation that suffered so much at the hands of Bob Godwin.

Griffin is still young and has therefore plenty of time before making his big bid-if he chooses to wait. Joe Knight may be entited to come out of his shell, but this is doubtful. It is too comfortable in the shell at present, especially when there is an ogre in the shape of one, John Griffin, waiting outside to gobble up Mr. Joe Knight when he makes his exit.

Cyclone Smtih, that veritable whirlwind, has proved in his last few fights outside of Benning that he is far from through. Two great battles with (Please turn to Page 7)

FOR FISHING:

You all know the powerful tug when a big bass strikes-you've probably been to the Dead Lakes, where the king of the Big Mouths lives-so you'll understand when we tell you that good tackle is the most important part of the whole fishing trip-such tackle as you buy here.

FOR BASEBALL:

Of course all of us cannot be Ruths or Gehrigs, but we can all play a better game of baseball if our equipment is of the best kind. And that which is sold at the Main Branch is certainly in this class-it's the kind that makes experts out of good players.

FOR TENNIS:

Tennis, with its speed and lightningfast plays is the one sport that absolutely depends on the best of equipment. Just try playing some day with a poor racket or dead ball-that's all needed to convince you!

MAIN BRANCH

PHONE 608

FT. BENNING. The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

BOXING

TUESDAY JULY 25TH

Post Gymnasium, 8:15 P. M.

10 Rounds

Cyclone Smith

 \mathbf{vs}

Benny Odell Orlando

Ft. Benning

8 Rounds

Lope Tenerio Philippine Is.

Chick Liddell Ft. Benning

Rip Tetherton

Ft. Benning

 $\mathbf{v}\mathbf{s}$

Bunker Hill Ft. Bennng

Grumpy Gordy Ft. Benning

6 Rounds

Tough Man Singly Ft. Benning

Ghost Ghastly Ft. Benning

4 Rounds $\mathbf{v}\mathbf{s}$

Jack Darby

Tiger Thompson Ft. Benning

4 Rounds $\mathbf{v}\mathbf{s}$

Black Hurricane

General Admission 50c

Ringside $1.00

Tickets on Sale at Hubbard Hardware Co.; Wheat's Drug Store; Officers' Club; and all orderly rooms.

E

SPORTS

Baseball Games Of Recent Date In Benning Races

(July 4th, 1933) HQ. BN. 29TH VS. S. U.

In a close ten-inning contest, replete with thrills, Headquarters Battalion, 29th Infantry defeated the Spe cial Units nine, 3 to 2.

Headquarters were the first to draw blood, pushing a run across the plate in the third frame by virtue of an error by Wee Grady Tolle, Special Units hurler. The Spare Parts scored again in the 8th stanza. Like this: Fraiche singled and trotted home when Slugger Morrow poled one out against the left field fence.

The Special Units scored in the 6th when Massey, riding second, sprinted the last lap, after Hinkley clouted a hot one through short. Magoni's nine tallied again in the 9th, after the spectators, suspecting the outcome, had arisen and congregated at the exits preparaory to going home. Here's the

After two outs were chalked up against the Special Units, Robertson singled, went to second on a fielder's choice and scored when McIntyre pinch-hitter, bounced out a single over

Coley was substituted then to run for McIntyre and when Massey singled thru short, the left-fielder muffed the agate and it rolled to the fence, Coley coming home for what every one thought the winning run, but, after order was restored and the fielder had retrieved the horsehide, the ball was relayed to the third baseman and Coley was ruled out by Umpire Red Lindsey for failing to touch third.

The tenth inning spelled disaster for the Special Units, after two men had received free passes and the bases were filled via the bobble route, Hinkley lost control and threw wild scoring the runner from third and ending the game.

Score by innings:

Hq. Bn. .--- 001 000 010 1 3 9 1 S. U. _____ 000 001 001 0 2 13 5

(July 15th, 1933) ARTILLERY VS. TANKERS

The Records of the 83rd Filed Artillery downed the Terrible Tankers 9 to 8 in a slugging bee that was noticeably marked with numerous errors, each team committing seven misplays throughout the fracas.

Cherry started on the mound for the Artillery but was relieved in the 7th by Jakey Morris, the Caisson

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital

1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

A Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

HALF SOLES A BETTER A GOOD 50c · Half Half , Sole Sole LAMAC SOLE $1.00

The Only 5-Unit Machine In Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY

We specialize in cripple work 1234 Broadway Riders' portsider, who has a puzzling assortment of balls.

Bragan labored on the hillock for the Tank Battalion but was sent to the showers in the sixth inning in favor of Segrest. None of the hurlers were very effective, both sides Kellys Still In scoring many hits.

off of the combined twirling of Bragan and Segrest; the Tankers receiving credit for eleven blows.

McLeod, Holloway, Thornhill and pear were the hitting stars for the Redcords, while Stanisbury led with the willow for the Tankers. Score by innings:

Tanks _____ 000 030 320 8 11 7 Artillery _____ 101 220 12x 9 13 7 Batteries; Artillery, Cherry, Morris and Thornhill; Tanks, Bragan, Segrest and Pike.

1ST BN. 29TH VS. HQ. BN. (Played Saturday, July 16th 1933) Headquarters Battalion, 29th Infantry defeated the Fighting Irish nine 3 to 2 in a 12 inning pitchers' duel. Huntley, tossing them over for the Spare Parts, shaded Foster's twirling by whiffing six batsmen to the 1st Bat twirler's one, both teams being given excellent support by their

The Spare Parts scored in the second and fourth frames to lead the Irish 2 to 0, the Irish registering two markers in the sixth stanza when, with a runner riding second, Charley Banks rocked the fence with a line drive to collect three sacks and score his team-mate from second.

Reddock, hot corner man for Lt. Moore's nine, then bingled over sec ond and scored sub-runner Sheriff from third with the tieing run.

The contest remained deadlocked at two all for five more innings, until the fatal 12th, when Headquarters Battalion broke up the game by an excellent showing of baseball strategy.

Potter singled, Huntley clouted one to the second baseman, who juggled the ball, owing to a bad hop, both runners being safe on this play. Fraiche, Spare Parts initial sackman, laid down a perfect bunt that caught the Irish flat-footed, filling the bases. The next batsman attempted a squeeze play by bunting the ball to first but the horsehide rolled foul five feet from the bag and struck out. Labonte fulfilled the wishes of his erstwhile manager, Lt. Ferenbaugh by laying down a beautiful bunt, scoring the runner from third and winning a hard fought ball game.

Ragsdale, Banks and Rollo lead the attack of the Green-jerseys, while Morrow, Mauldin and Huntley took batting honors for the Spare Parts nine.
SCORE BY INNINGS

RHE 000 002 000 000 272 Hq. Bn. 010 100 000 001 3 9 3 Batteries; 1st Bn. Foster and Snead, Headquarters Bn.; Huntley and Potter. Umpires; Lindsey and Holland.

> (Wednesday, July 19th, 1933) SECOND BN. VS. TANKS

Owing to the torrential showers that have rendered Gowdy Field practically useless, the games scheduled for the past week have been rather scarce, In the first game of a double header played last Wednesday, the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry trounced the Tankers to the tune of five to one.

The game was called several times during the affair when out of a clear sky, Jupiter drenched the contestants with a deluge that would have done justice to the great flood of the Noah

The Tankers took an early lead in the fracas, when Stanisbury, center fielder for the Tank Battalion, doubled to left-field, and Smith, consistent willow wielder for Lieutenant Kellam's nine, singled to center.

The Kells retaliated in the second reports will be unusually fine.

HOW THEY STAND

STANDING OF THE LEAGUE ON WEDNESDAY JULY 19TH, 1933

Team	Played	Won	Lost	Percentage
econd Battalion	13	10	3	7 6 9
First Battallion	13	8	5	616
Tanks	14	7	7	500
opecial Units	11	5	6	454
leadquarters Battallion	13	5	8	385
Artillery	12	3	9	251

The Field Artillery garnered 13 hits Position At Top Of Baseball Heap

Since last week's standing there has been a total number of eight games played at Gowdy field; and the Kelleys of the Second Bn. 29th Inf. still maintain their positi on aeth ttoopf 2 the ladder. There has been no change in the standing of the teams as compared to last week as far as their positions are concerned. The 1st Bn. Irish are still holding second place, Tanks third honors, Special Units fourth, Headquarters Bn., 29th, fifth. The Artillery is still in the cellar, although they have boosted their percentage up by defeating the Terrible Tankers. The Golden Tornado also suffered a defeat at the hands of the crafty Second Bats bringing their percentage down to 500 with a total of fourteen games played, seven won and the same number lost.

Headquarters Bn., 29th Inf., that ag gregation of ball players coached by Lt. Ferenbaugh, has been the star of the league since the last standing. playing heads up ball to boost its lowly average of 273 to 385 percent.

Both games that this team has play ed have been extra period contest, one extending to the tenth inning and the other a twelve stanza affray. It is plain that this team is going to cause many a coach a severe headache before the second half of the intramural baseball season ends. Mr. Harding:

frame after Segrest, tank hurler, is sued Slocum a free pass and Bob Tinsley hit one of Segrest's offerings or a circuit clout.

The Second Bats scored 2 markers in the sixth and one in the seventh to put the game on ice.

Ward laboring on the rubber for the Kellys never was in trouble after the first stanza when the Tank Battalion scored their lone run.

The game was called in the 8th innings when the diamond was transformed into a miniature lake.

The Second Bats collected nine hits from the offerings of Segrest while the Tanks registered four.

Tinsley, McAllister, Thompson and Mitchell lead the attack for the Kells while Sanisbury and Smith wielded the willow effectively for the Tankers. Score by innings:

Second Bats, 020 002 10x 5 9 3 100 000 0xx 1 4 5 Batteries: Tanks; Segrest and Sullivan. 2nd Bats; Ward and Thompson. Umpires; Nourse, Lindsey and Hol-

GRIFFIN MEETS BENNY ODELL TUESDAY NIGHT (Continued From Page 6)

once knocked him out. Now Rip seems bent on improving his standing with the fans in this vicinity. His opponent will put him to the test. Tenerio is flashy, clever, and not afraid of punishment. This writer ventures to assert that the Tetherton that fights Tenerio will be a far cry from the Tetherton that fought Hood. The reason is simple. Rip is out to do or bust. There is no alternative. He was going places when Hood put the bee on him. His progress has momentarily at least been halted and he will assuredly be anxious to get going again.

The remainder ofthe card, from all

BENNING FIGHTERS ARE GIVING GOOD ACCOUNT IN RECENT BATTLES

(Continued From Page 6)

Harry Allen enhanced his reputation greatly in these parts. The tougher they are the better Smith likes them. and as long as he entertains this out look, it's going to be hard to take the rugged soldier into camp. Very few fighters have ben able to make the Cyclone give ground.

Cotton Batton, colored middlewight champion, is still seeking in vain to find someone that can give the dusky slugger somé real competition. Batton is a fine boxer, willing to mix it, and can hit like a mule. The fans like this type of fighting, and Batton can be depended upon to give the crowd frequent thrills during months to come.

Rip Tetherton made the mistake of hopping up on the old bicycle and pedalling for all he was worth in his fight with Billy Hood of Orlando, Florida. Nevertheless, this asserts nothing. Fans have seen Rip when he was really in a fighting mood and have been greatly impressed. His battles wih Kid Baisden, for example. have come close several tmes to stealing the whole show. Tetherton is another gladiator with a wicked wallop in either mitt and he is a remarkably good boxer besides. This writer predicts that the two-fisted soldier will make up for his poor showing against Hood during the summer months in a big way.

Kid Baisden of Valdosta, Georgia, will probably grace many fight cards in the future here at Benning with his terrifying presence. Here is one fighter that always pleases the crowd. Baisden has only one object in view and that is to knock the stuffing out of his opponents or get knocked out himself. His two battles with Four-H Posey, pride of Paducah, illustrated this fact perfectly. Baisden, out of training, and Baisden, in training, are two entirely different fighters. Baisden, in training, is one of the best middleweights in this section of the

Swimming Team Prepares For Meet

The Tank Battalion swimmers at Fort Benning, winners of the last eight Post Swimming Meets, already has started preparation for this year's

This year will find them without some of their first string swimmers, but from the looks of some of the newcomers in section it seems that they have worthy successors.

Tannehill, holder of three swimm. ing records for the post, will not be in the line up this year. He is serve ing in Hawaii. Thorne, breaststroke marvel, did not reenlist. Griswold who came within two seconds of breaking the existing world record (Please turn to page 8) country and stands a good chance of becoming nationally famous.

This brief resume of the winter months and prospects for the months to come brings one fact to light. The fight cards in the future will bring together a glittering array of stars such as Benning has never been before. Credit for this must go to Captain Fry and Lieutenant Johnson of the post Athletic Department who have been untiring in their efforts to give the fans in this vicinity their money's worth in pure, honest-togoodness fighting.

Howard Bus Line. Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insur-

SCHEDULE

ance Provided

	, .	· C I	1171	- 0
Fro					Fro
Colun	nbus				Ft. Ben	ning
5:00	$\mathbf{A}\mathbf{M}$		*		6:00	AM
6:00					7:50	"
7:00	44				9:15	"
8:30					10:45	46
10:00	. 66				12:45	PM
11:45	46				2:15
1:30	PM ·			-	4:15	46
3:00	44		*		5:10	46
5:00	44				6:00	4.,
7:00	"				7:00	44
9:00	46				8:00	44
10:30	44		*		9:45	46
12:00	М				11:15	44
,					12:00	M
	Ala SC	60 "	Extr OL		and SES

PHONES

POST

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

A Relic The Old South

A breakfast prepared with Old Settler's Pure Pork Sausage, seasoned in true Colonial fashion, is indeed a treat to the present gen-

SOUTHERN SAUSAGE FOR SOUTHERNERS

Serve your guest this delicious dish tomorrow morning. Every pound guaranteed pure by—

The Provision Co., Inc.

Will Red Lindsey Stage Come Back? Well, He's Going To Attempt It, Anyway

pitcher of Fort Benning who retired to the mound in the near future. at the close of last season, is to stage a comeback in the second half of the intra-mural season at the Post. "Red" has been serving as an umpire in the first half of the season here, but re-

Red Lindsey-in football togs. Red seems to be able to do most anything, sportlingly speaking that is, and his chances for a comeback are OK. Football Team in 1926-27.

"Red" Lindsey, veteran baseball ports indicate that he is to return

Lindsey needs no introduction to local fans. He has participated in various sport activities at the post for the last thirteen years. In 1923 "Red" pitched for the Infantry School Team with Kjelstrom of the 2nd Battalion 29th Infantry catching, a combination that was hard to beat. Kjelstrom also retired last season and so far, with the exception of serving as coach for the 2nd Batts, has not returned to the

Besides being a baseball twirler of the first water "Red" is also an ex-cellent soldier, being 1st Sergeant of Company F, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks), and coach of the championship Tug-of-War team of the "Terri-ble Tankers" for three successive years. He has quite a football record, being All-Army Center on the Army

As well as his ability to toss the apple Lindsey's willow wielding is nothing short of marvelous. "Red" on the mound and the team of the 66th Infantry giving him the support that they have rendered so far this season, their average should run very near the century mark, in the struggle for supremacy in the second half of the Post inter-mural baseball league.

It is a case of the call of the sandlot being too strong for "Red" to resist. If he pitches as he calls "balls" and "strikes" the fans will get a treat in the way of baseball.

> TANK SWIMMERS (Continued from page 7)

for the backstroke, will be among the absentees.

Lucas, one-time Tanker flash man, is back again with that unit after a stay in Hawaii. He states that he intends to stage a comeback in both swimming and boxing.

The Tanks have defended their title as the best on the Post for eight sucagainst champions, as will occur on August 11, when the battalion meet will be held, someone must lose. It promises to be one of the most outstanding sport classics held at Fort Benning in recent years.

> BASEBALL BABBLE (Continued from page 5)

goes into the sport, familiar names may flash in the New York line-up, and across the sports pages.

A communication has been received from Atlanta, seeking information on the Night Diamond baseball loop in Columbus. The kind-hearted communicant, on the verge of a nervous breakdown in following the sad Atlanta Crackers, would be he go-between in securing the Crackers' entrant into the local night league. It is doubtful, however, if league heads would think of such an addition. For one thing, the night baseballers, clerks and business heads, bankers, policemen and lawyers, profess to play a new game bearing the semblance of cessive years. When champions vie baseball, and would not dare to risk even any six-day bike races.

the advent of the Crackers into such a fold. It Atlanta can't play a decent game of ping pong in the Southern, there is little chance for checker antics in the Columbus night lopo. We are offering to book the Crackers with the high school teams for 1934.

> SPORT CHATTER (Continued From Page 6)

pitcher gives them the most trouble, and three-quarters of them at least would answer "Grove."

Outside of baseball, all has been quiet on the sport front. Londos, who is never inactive, is still throwing his opponents out of the ring with astounding regularity. The fistic champions are engaging in no titular brawls. Women swimmers are still breaking world's records. America's Davis Cup players are in practice for the challenge match with England, which lately turned in a surprise win over Australia. Stars are doing little in the world of golf, and there aren't

To taste right food must be seasoned right

-every good cook knows that lo Satisfy/-a cigarette has to be seasoned just right

You buy food—steak, flour, corn meal, or fruit—it is cooked and brought to the table and tastes just fine. While the same food, cooked by somebody else, may not taste right at all. That's the difference between cooks-knowing how It's somewhat like this with cigato season food.

have good tobaccos, but they are not mixed right; and then again they are not seasoned with the right amount of the right kind of Turkish Chesterfields are seasoned just right...they are milder and taste bet-Tobacco. ter ... and that's why They Satisfy.

esterfield

VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, JULY 28, 1933

NUMBER 14

Ten Years Ago Last Week

Company A 7th Engineers finished range season with a percentage of 98.61 men in the organization qualified. The average score per man was Picture fans were disappointed on Saturday when the theaters of the post closed their doors due to the absence of the film, which failed to arrive. The recreation officer attempted to get an airplane to go to Atlanta and procure a picture, but there was no plane available.

The Memphis Red Sox divided honors with the 24th Infantry in a twogame series. Scores for the games were 24th 6; Memphis 8 in the first; and 24th 7; Memphis 5 in the second game, after losing the first by a costly

The 24th Infantry staged some good bouts in the post gym, the main-go between "Flashlight". Boyd of the 24th, and Young Dixon.

Major Walter A. Rose Ordered Here From Canal Zone

Major Walter A. Rose, Dental Corps, who has been serving at the Gorgas Hospital, Ancon, Panama Canal Zone, is relieved from his duties there and ordered to Fort Benning. Upon his arrival at this station he will be assigned to duty at the station hospital. Major Rose has just completed a tour of foreign service.

Major Rose began his army career in October 1917, when he was appointed Dental Surgeon. In February 1918 he was commissioned First Lieutenant, Dental Corps, and during October of the same year was advanced to Captain, remaining in this grade until October 1929, when he was promoted to Major.

Major Rose is a Doctor of Dental Science, holding the degree from Ohio State University. He is also a graduate of the Army Dental School, class of 1930, and the Medical Field Service School, class of 1930.

Upon his arrival at this station Major Rose will be assigned to duty at the station hospital.

LT. PETERSON ORDERED HERE First Lieutenant Arthur S. Peterson, Infantry, who has been serving as an escort to the "Gold Star Mothers" on their pilgrimage to the Cemeteries of Europe, is relieved from that dered to Fort Benning.

the regular army officers who have risen "from the ranks," having served as a private, corporal, and sergeant in Troop H, of the 12th Cavalry, Headquarters Company, 320th Field Artillery, 1st Replacement Depot, and the 631st Aero Squadron from July 1916 to August 1919.

In July 1921 he was admitted to the United States Military Academy as a Cadet and upon his graduation was appointed 2nd Lieutenant of Infantry in June 1925. He was a student with the Air Corps for one month in the summer of 1927. In May 1931 he was promoted to the grade of First Lieutenant.

Last year while serving with the 3rd Infantry at Fort Snelling, Minnesota,

(Please turn to page 4)

Post's Amazing Record May Stand for Years

POST'S ROUND the WORLD ROUTE FERDINAND MAGELLAN AT FINISH Wiley Post's remarkable solo flight around the world in 7 days, 18 hours and 49 minutes, establishes a record that, in the opinion of aviation experts, will take years to beat. Here is how Post's record compares with other marks Ferdinand Magellan, 1519-22-by sailing vessel, 2 years, 11 months and 23 days.

regunand Magelian, 1519-22—by sailing vessel, 2 years, 11 months and 23 days.

Nellie Bly, 1889—by steamship and train, 72 days, 6 hours and 11 minutes.

John Henry Mears, 1913—steamship and train, 35 days, 21 hours.

Linton Wells, and Edward Evans, 1926—by steamship, auto, airplane and train, 28 days, 14 hours, 6 minutes.

Mears and C. B. D. Collyer, 1928—by steamship and airplane, 23 days, 15 hours and 21 minutes.

Dirigible Graf Zeppelin, 1929—21 days, 7 hours, 34 minutes.

Post and Gatty, 1931—by airplane, 8 days, 15 hours and 49 minutes.

SCHOOL TO OPEN SEPTEMBER FIFTH

Greatly Reduced Number Of Officers Comprise Personnel Of Classes This Year. Partial List Given On Page Four Of This Issue Of Herald

army have receved orders from the lieutenants. War Department to attend next year's classes at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia, according to information given out at Headquarters, the Infantry School, on Saturday. In addition to these, a total of 13 officers are under War Department orders to move to Fort Benning for duty, with organization or activities. The present stations of these officers ranges from Tientsin, China, on the west, to Paris, France, on the east, and from practically every state in the Union.

While some of them who now are Lieutenant Peterson is another of in to Fort Benning at different times during the summer, the large majority of them will arrive at the post on or near September 1, which is the scheduled opening date of three principal classes of the School. Also, it was stated at Fort Benning Saturday, some of the officers ordered to the fort for duty as students next year may be delayed in arriving because of their being detailed on duty with the Civilian Conservation Corps at places where they cannot be relieved in time to arrive by September.

According to War Department plans at the present time, the Company officers' Class will have a total of 85 students for the School year, starting in September. Last year there was a total of 124 students in this class. Practically all of those detailed to for the winter and completing other

A total of 133 officers of the regular take this course of instruction are

The Advanced Class, according to orders, issued, will have 23 members, being materially reduced from last year's total of 106. There are no field officers in the class, according to orders issued, detaling its members, the class being made up of captain and lieutenants.

A total of 6 captains and 14 lieutenants make up the personnel of the Tank Class, this 20 being slightly less than half of the 41 who took the tank course last year.

With the exception of the Tank them who now are class, practically all of whom were will be reporting members of the Company Officers' or and technical training, the gunnery, the Advanced Class last year, none of the officers detailed to the School for the coming term have ever attended any class at the Infantry School it was stated at Headquarters Saturday. Some of them have been, and others now are, on duty wth organizations or activities in connection with the school but their work as students will be entirely new.

The three principal courses at the Infantry School (Advanced Class, Company Officers' Class and Tank Class) will open on September 5. Previously, the opening dates of the three classes had been scheduled for September 18, the students having been instructed to arrive beteween September 12 and 14 for purpose of registering, getting settled in houses details necessary before the opening

According to the former schedule the three classes were to complete their courses for graduation on June 7, 1934. The information just received changes the dates for closing also the Advanced class and Company Officers' class courses being lengthened so that graduation for them will be on June 15. The Tank Course Class course has been materially shortened, and according to the new schedule will close on February 1, 1934.

Through shortening of the Tank Course, studies of that class will be limited to tank technique, mechanics combat practice and tactics formerly aught in connection with this course having been eliminated. Briefly, the Tank Course in the future will concern itself with the mechanical operation of and technical training in connection with tanks, it was stated.

Fort Benning officials realize that, as yet, a great deal more than half of the instructor personnel of the Infantry School is on duty elsewhere in connection with the activities of the Civilian Conservation Corps, many of them in California and other distant points. They state that no indication has been given by the War Department as to when these instructors might be expected to return.

The schedule of courses, as now outlined, for next year's work at the (Please turn to page 3)

Cannon Company, Headquarters Battalion, 29th Infantry for the past week has taken advantage of its week's respite from duty by vacationing at Juniper Lake 30 miles from Columbus and close to the towns of Geneva and Talbotton.

Cannon Company

Returns This Week

From Lake Juniper

While at this camp Lt. William W. O'Connor, commander of this organization prepared a program of athletic events and dances that are still a choice subject for after dinner con-

A convoy of four trucks left Fort Benning, Wednesday, July 19th to transport the members of the company and equipment to the rest camp. Upon arriving at the lake, the personnel of the company proceeded to prepare their camp for even the most critical eye and then indulged in aquatic sports for the remainder of

Thursday Cannon Company entertained members of the Young People's Baptist Union with a dance and barbecue, music being furnished by the company's own orchestra, the "37 Millimeter Wildcats."

Friday, members of this organization centered their attention on the denizens of the deep. Two of the members of the company coming to the conclusion that they couldn't entice any of the fish to bite, bought a string of fish at a local sea-food establishment and endeavored to "snow" Sergeant Tommy Tompkins under. Their deception proved in vain however when the non-com found that the fish were ice cold. Imagine icecold fish in the torrid month of July!

Saturday of last week the B. Y. P. U. members were again entertained by the "Wildcats" and their stringed instruments, refreshments were served later on in the evening.

Sunday the personnel indulged in swimming, boating, fishing and various other forms of entertainment.

Monday and Tuesday, Cannon Company were the hosts to the welfare workers of the Fresh Air Fund, entertaining them with a supper and dance, and on Tuesday night the company gave a farewell party to citizens from the towns of Genevi and Talbotton and to the welfare workers.

Mr. Dozier, owner of this camp site, was very generous in allowing Cannon Company to spend their week's vacation at his lake, and from the smiles of the sun-burned soldiers apon their return to the Garrison the outing was greatly appreciated.

Lt. O'Connor, Company commander of this organization, as well as 1st Sergeant Sanders, and Cpl. Smith deserve much credit for the manner in which they made the week's excursion enjoyable for the men.

M.P.'s End Trials For Qualification

Members of the Military Police Detachment of the Infantry School finished their target practice with the .45 caliber automatic on Tuesday, July 25, qualifying fourteen of the sixteen men firing the course, according to the records which the Provost Marshal's office finished compiling today.

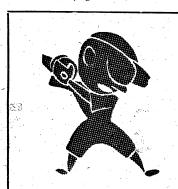

Two men of the M. P. Section qualified as expert with the pistol, Private Ansel L. Todd heading the

(Please turn to page 4)

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS BEST

INFORMAL TEA WELCOMES HOUSE GUEST.

Mrs. Willis T. Howard was the hostess Monday afternoon at an informal | ly with her parents for Washington, tea from five to six given in honor of her neice, Miss Mary Hodges of Montgomery, Alabama. Throughout the house and on the tea table roses and zinnias were used as decorations. Miss Nana Seeley and Mss Margaret Hall served. Mrs. Howard had as her guests members of the debutante set of Fort Benning.

Make A Home Run With Every Cent!

YOU can make every cent do for you what a home run will do for a baseball team—that is, if you're wise enough to do your buying at Silver's!

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST. COMPLETE STOCK

MISS JANE LINDROTH HONORED AT PICNIC.

Miss Jane Lindroth, who leaves short-D. C., was the honor guest Tuesday evening at an informal swimming and supper party given by Miss Lucille Jackson. The young guests assembled at six at Jeffs Hole for swimming followed by a picnic supper. Miss Jackson's guests included about nine couples from the sub-debt set.

OFFICERS CLUB TO SPONSOR SUBSCRIPTION DANCE FRIDAY

Members of the Officers Club and their guests are cordially invited to attend the subscription dance Friday evening at the Polo Hunt Club, Dancing will be from eight thirty to ten thirty and during that time sandwiches and coffee will be served. A large number of reservations have already been made.

MRS. HAMMERSBERG HONOR

GUEST AT LOVELY TEA Mrs. Robert E. Hammersberg, whose recent marrage to Lieut. Hammersberg was a social event of the Post, was the honor guest Friday afternoon at a beautiful tea and miscelleanous shower given by Mrs. Max V. Talbot at her attractive quarters on Austin Loop. The guests assembled at four and at five tea was served. The tea table was lovely with a huge silver bowl of multicolored Summer flowers, flanked by silver candlesticks with tapers of yellow. Yellow mints and cakes completed the appoint ments. Assisting Mrs. Talbot in the dining room were: Mesdames Paul C. Borup, Wayne G. Brandstadt, Charles L. Baird, Houston J. Banton and Walter E. Chase. Mrs. Talbot had as her guests: Mesdames John J Albright, W. M. Shearer, William B. Yancey, Joseph A. Stuart, and Frederick H. Gaston and the ladies whose husbands of the Medical Corps.

FURNITURE

Headquarters for Furniture and all kinds of household furnishings, complete line of Sellers' Kitchen and Dining-room furniture and Sim mons beds, mattresses and springs. At lowest prices and easiest terms.

It will pay you to see us before you buy.

CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

SUCCESSORS TO JOHNSTON-CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

1014 Broadway

Phone 460

MAKE IT A POINT TO GET THE SIX-BOX

AT YOUR GROCER'S NEXT TIME

Write it down - so you won't forget it-get the Six-Box at Mr. Grocer's when you're there next time. You can hardly afford to forget it, for it offers unparalleled advantages of convenience and handiness combined with the advantage of having the world's best drink always on hand!

At An Extremely Convenient Price of Only 25c

Plus Small Deposit

From China to New York-from Alaska down to Argentina—everywhere you go you'll find the words "Delicious and Refreshing" as the password to enjoyment. For they're the sign that Coca-Cola is at hand!

SOLD AT ALL COLUMBUS GROCERY STORES

Today's Fashion

Plaided gingham for golf. By VERA WINSTON

Hope you are playing golf this season. For, apart from the joy of the game, there have never been so many really attractive golf frocks and costumes, nice looking things combining the practical with the pretty. In this classification is the very grand little golf dress here sketched. It is in red, white and black plaided gingham, with a belt of white pique. The plaid design is used both ways to empha-size the trcky and intricate cut and detail of this apparently simple little frock. The buttons are of pearl.

MEMBER OF VERY YOUNG SET CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY.

Little Louise McManus, the lovely daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. George H. McManus, celebrated her second birthday Tuesday with a birthday party at the home of her parents. At four o'clock the little guests assembled and played games until five when ice cream, candy and a large white cake topped by two candles were served. Louise had as her guests: Mary Rutte, Betty Rutte, Felicia Howell, Ann Louise Howell, Bobby Rutte, Clayton Studebaker, Stanford Pilet, Pat O'Flaherty, Peter Selleck, Jimmie Bowen and Mortimer O'Conner.

PERSONALS

Lieut. Richard T. Mitchell departed Monday for McRae, Georgia, where he will be on duty with the C. C. C.

Chaplain and Mrs. Willis T. Howard have as their house guests the latter's niece, Miss Mary Hodges, and her two nephews, Pat and George Hodges, of Montgomery, Alabama.

Lieut. and Mrs. Robert T. Mitchell have as their house guest the latter's sister, Miss Thalia Daly.

Miss Katherine Lemly returned to Fort Benning from Fort McPherson on Thursday, where she has been visiting. Returning with Miss Lemly is Miss Barbara Lowe of Fort McPher-

Mrs. William W. O'Conner departed Tuesday for New York where she will visit relatives.

Mrs. James E. Bowen left this week for Philadelphia where she will be the guests of friends.

Mrs. Lynn E. Brady left Tuesday for Philadelphia while there she will be the guest of her sister.

Miss Margaret Hall, the attractive daughter of Colonel and Mrs. J. De-Camp Hall, has as her house guests, Mr. Robert Jones and Mr. Howell Otis of Providence, Rhode Island. Mr. Jones and Mr. Otis have been on an extensive motor trip through the Southern States having stopped previously at Washington, D. C. and at Nashville, Tenn. for a visit with relatives. Many delightful affairs have been given in their honor; among these have been a dinner given on Tuesday evening by Miss Hall and on Thursday (Please turn to page 3)

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

GEORGIA

A Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

COMPLETE YOUR SILVER SERVICE

BEFORE THE BIG ADVANCE

STERLING SILVERWARE

GORHAM, KIRK, TOWLE, WALLACE REED & BARTON, INTERNATIONAL

C. SCHOMBURG & SON JEWELERS

1121 BROADWAY

COLUMBUS, GA.

AT THE SIGN OF THE BIG CLOCK

EVERYTHING For The Home

FURNITURE RUGS

LEONARD ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS

PHILCO Radios

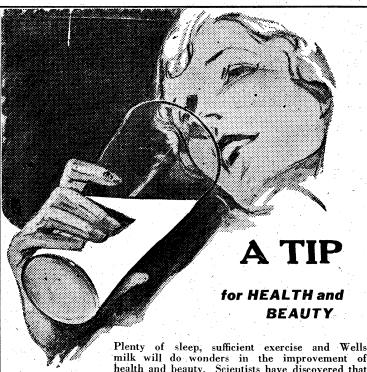

For the best of everything in furnishing your new home, you should come here. We sell the finest furniture made at reasonable prices. Students are invited to come in to visit us when planning for their Benning home.

1141 BROADWAY

PHONE 409

COLUMBUS, GA.

milk will do wonders in the improvement of health and beauty. Scientists have discovered that fresh milk contains the necessary aids to these two desirable qualities. And, of course, you should use Wells milk only! It's pasteurized!

Officers living in town can also be supplied with Wells Dairy milk regularly.

WELLS DAIRY C O M P A N

2340 WYNNTON DRIVE

PHONE 1144

ASK FOR A BIG ONE!

Give yourself a double treat of Foremost, the finest Ice Cream you can buy! What's just one helping when two will make life more enjoyable?

Call The Soda Fount

FOREMOST DAIRIES INC.

A Student's Pocket Guide To Fort Benning

OFFICERS' CLUB: Better known | as Dowdall's Tavern. Located on and Janes in Jodhpurs.

of Varney Avenue. This is the scene of many historic incidents in which officers were rescued from the perils of the sand-traps and bunkers and ter-but that's incidental. Also muddy sent on C. C. C. duty.

TENNIS COURTS: Located at the 45 degree intersection of Sigerfoos Road and Wold Avenue. Scene of the battles for the Cotton States Tournament, the matches between Tilden and his cohorts and Major Lewis' triumphs in management. CALCULATOR'S MONUMENT: Right near the Officers' Club. Built to perpetuate the memory of a dog and to give a lesson to imperfect man.

MAIN THEATER: Last resort of C. C. C. widows, golf widows; first resert of hostesses. Also scene of graduation ceremonies, Dramatic Club plays and Glee Club fiestas. On Ingersoll Street.

DOUGHBOY STADIUM: Where Cap'n Fry puts on his carnivals of off the road on which you enter the carnage, and Benning's gladiators gladiate every other Tuesday night.

Ingersoll St. and Vibbert Ave. HEADQUARTERS: Where the powers that be guide the destinies of | Road. the eight-thousand-odd inhabitants of Benning. Also where you should sign up upon entering or leaving the post. Also the telegraph office. Also, so we hear, was once a dairy house. On Vibbert Ave.

RAINBOW ROW: Supposedly christened in honor of the Rainbow Hall Street and noted for its cokes Division, but we strongly suspect that the Conductor of the Flare, popular GOLF CLUB: Located at the end Herald columnist, had a lot to do with suggesting the name.

BIGLERVILLE: Home of bachelor officers. Hot in summer—cold in winand the scene of the famous rat-catching inciddent, in which a striker waited up practically the whole night with an air gun trying to spot a rat. Out at the other end of Ingersoll St.

BIGLERVILLE HALL: Where the big hops are held. Also, betimes, converted into a messhall for the N. G. and R. O. classes. Under the protectorate of the Officers' Club.

POLO CLUB: Where the smaller dances and parties are held. A nice place and also under the Officers' Club protectorate. Running Ave.

RUSS POOL: The most popular place in Benning during the summer. A fine place to pick up funny stories —a columnist's paradise. Located just

BLOCK 23: This has to be seen to be appreciated. At end of Lumpkin

AUSTIN LOOP: Where they built the made-to-shed-snow houses. Off Vibbert Avenue.

UPATOI CREEK: The creek which gave Benning its name "College of the Upatoi." You'll see it just at the (Please turn to page 5)

Sgt. Tarvin To Be Retired July 31st

Master Sergeant Dan H. Tarvin, Infantry School Detachment, Fort Benning, has served twenty-eight years as a member of the United States army and will be retired on July 31, 1933.

Sergeant Tarvin was born in Marvin, South Dakota on July 1, 1885. In 1903 he enlisted as a member of F Troop, 1st Cavalry, and after one enlistment in this branch of the service he changed to the Field Artillery at Fort D. A. Russell, Wyoming. His next "hitch" was with the Coast Artillery at San Francsco, and after a 'stack" spent at the "Golden Gate" city he returned to the Field Artilleryat Fort Sill, Oklahoma. During the Punitive Expedition on the Mexican Border Sergeant Tarvin found his way into the famous 6th Regiment of Infantry, serving with this organization until the outbreak of the World War. When the 1st Division embarked for France he was among its members. Upon reaching the scene of action he was assigned to the General Headquarters staff of General Pershing, and carried out this duty for the remainder of the war.

After the cessation of hostilities he was returned to the states as a casual and took up his peace-time duties with the 1st Motor Transport Company at Fort Bliss, Texas. It was while serving with this unit that Sergeant Tarvin received the qualifications which make him one of the best authorities on gasoline motors in the Tank Section of the Infantry School.

Upon his retirement he will return to the scene of his childhood days, Marvin, South Dakota, to make his

SOCIETY

(Continued From Page 2) Capt. and Mrs. Clough F. Gee entertained at a picnic supper at the Quartermaster camp.
Mrs. Herbert H. Harries returned to Fort Benning from a visit with friends in St. Louis, Missouri, while on her visit Mrs. Harries flew to Chicago, where she spent several days at the Century of Progress.

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

SHAMMY SHINER

> THE NEW WASHABLE POLISHING CLOTH

FOR ALL METAL INSIGNIA AND EQUIPMENT

Does not soil the hands or clothing and does away with messy powders, liquids and pastes. The polishing materials are scientifically processed right into the cloth and one Shammy Shiner lasts indefi-nitely. Just a light rub and your insignia or equipment is made bright and new in a jiffy.

Ask for it at your Post Exchange

N. S. MEYER, INC. NEW YORK

Distributors to the Military and Naval Trade

Infantry School is;

SCHOOL OPENS ON SEPT. 5TH

THIS YEAR

(Continued from page 1)

Advanced Class: Registration, September 1 to 3; opening date, Sep tember 5; graduation, June 15th, 1934.

tion, September 1 to 3; opening date.

september 5; graduation, June 15,

Tank Class; Registration, September 1 to 3; opening date, September

5; graduation, February 1, 1934. Refresher Class: Registration, October 14, 1933; opening date, October 16; graduation, November 17, 1933.

Officers' Class; Registration; January

15, 1934; opening date, January 16; graduation, February 17, 1934.

National Guard and Reserve Company Officers' Class: Registration Feb.

23-24, 1934; opening date, February 26; graduation, May 26, 1934.

National Guard and Reserve Officers' Tank Class: Registration, February 23-24, 1934; Opening date, February 26; graduation, May 26,

National Guard and Reserve Field

Company Officers' Class; Registra-

You Shouldn't Need This Reminder:

No good housekeeper should have to be reminded that variety is the spice of life—and good living, too. By adding variety to your menu, you go a long way toward giving satisfaction to everyone.

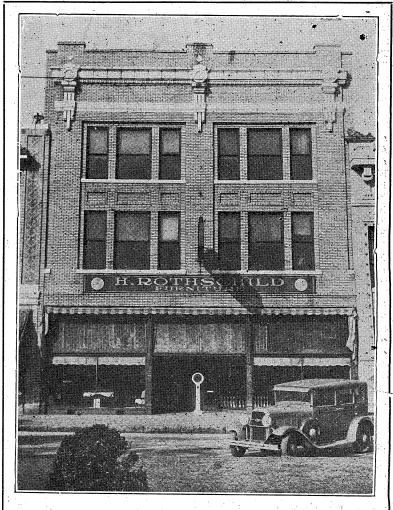

The Grocery Department is fully able to supply your smallest need, and you are invited to make use of its services. You can promote economy and succeed in gaining more time from your duties if you buy your supplies here.

GROCERY DEPT.

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

A transaction with us is never completed until the customer is thoroughly satisfied.

H. ROTHSCHILD

FURNITURE COMPANY

Leading Furniture Dealers In Columbus For 39 Years.

FIG CAKE SPECIAL for this WEEK-END

You know that there's nothing that tastes quite so good or so different as figs do. That's why you're sure to like this cake, our special for this week.

CENTS

COLLINS BAKING

13TH

STREET

A cordial invitation to all residents of Ft. Benning to buy furniture on our easy club plan. The best merchandise for the least money, whether cash or

We solicit new accounts at Fort Benning. OUR PRICES HAVE NOT ADVANCED!

B. L. PENNELL FURNITURE CO.

1249 Broadway

Phone 4618

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Phone 556

Columbus, Georgia

VOLUME III.	JULY	28, 193	3	- V - 1	NUMBER 14
L. C. Kunze	 				Publisher
A. F. Kunze	- 14				Editor
FELICIA C. HOWELL	 			So	ciety Editor
D. P. HARDING					ports Editor
Louis T. Kunze					on Manager

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,

PARTIAL LIST OF OFFICERS

WHO HAVE BEEN ASSIGNED TO CLASSES AT BENNING

Coolidge, Joseph B., 2d Lt., Inf.

Cummings, Edwin A., 2d Lt., Inf.

Easterbrook, Ernest F., 2d Lt., Inf.

Decker, Chas. L., 2d Lt., Inf. Dickey, Joseph K., 2d Lt., Inf.

Dobs, Francis H., 2d Lt., Inf.

Emery, Russell G., 2d Lt., Inf.

Farris, Glenn A., 2d Lt., Inf. Felber, Joseph G., 2d Lt., Inf.

Grinstead, John B., 2d Lt., Inf.

Hampton, Ephraim M., 2d Lt., Inf. Heimerdinger, Earl H., 2d Lt., Inf. Henderson, Philip J., 1st Lt., Inf.

Horton, Thomas R., 1st Lt., Inf. Houser, Houston P. Jr., 2d Lt., Inf.

Howard, Robt. A. Jr., 2d Lt., Inf.

James, Joseph E. Jr., 2d Lt., Inf.

Johnston, Robt. D., 2d Lt., Inf.

Joyes, John W., Jr., 2d Lt., Inf.

Johnson, Welhelm P., 2d Lt., Inf.

Gose, Elliott B., 1st Lt., Inf.

Guthrie, John S., 2d Lt., Inf.

Herte, Roy J., 1st Lt., Inf.

Hulley, Jas. P., 1st Lt., Inf.

Kent, Thomas, 2d Lt., Inf.

Kunzig, Henry B., 2d Lt., Inf.

Lindquist, Roy E., 2d Lt., Inf. Lockett, Jas. W., 2d Lt., Inf.

Mifflin, Thos. 2d Lt., Inf. Mitchell, Paul J., 2d Lt., Inf.

Moore, Ned D., 2d Lt., Inf.

Nelson, Ralph T., 2d Lt., Inf.

Nourse, Robt. S., 1st Lt., Inf. Olin, Chas. L., 2d Lt., Inf.

Purnell, Edward K., 2d Lt., Inf. Quinn, Howard W., 2d Lt., Inf.

Schanze, August E., 1st Lt., Inf.

Seely, Theodore A., 1st Lt., Inf. Seitz, John F. R., 2d Lt., Inf.

Smith, Aubrey D., 2d Lt., Inf.

Roth, Samuel, 2d Lt., Inf.

Scott, Leon C., 2d Lt., Inf.

Steer, Wm. F., 1st Lt., Inf.

Pospisil, Jaromir J., 2d Lt., Inf. Pressley, Milion H., Jr., 2d Lt., Inf.

Moses, Martin, 2d Lt., Inf.

Moore, Howard R., 2d Lt., Inf.

McKee, Montgomery, 2d Lt., Inf.

McNamara, Andrew T., 2d Lt., Inf. Maxwell, Winston R., 2d Lt., Inf.

Farra, John F. Jr., 2d Lt., Inf.

Crabb, Frederick G. Jr., 2d Lt. Inf.

Aycock, Geo. F., Maj., M. C. Baade, Paul W., Maj. Inf. Barney, Jas. P. Jr., 1st Lt. F. A. Bessette, Leo A., Capt., Inf. Brockway, Edgar K., Capt., Inf. Hobson, William H., Maj. Inf. Huebner, Clarence R., Maj., Inf. Lamont, Jas. M., 2nd Lt., Inf. Longh, Maxon S., Major, Inf. Morris, William H. H., Jr., Maj. Inf. Stutesman, John H., Lt. Col., Inf. Thomas, Kramer, Major, Cavalry. Warren, John W., 1st Lt., Air Corps ADVANCED CLASS

Beall, Burns, 1st Lt., Inf. Brenner, Joseph, 1st Lt., Inf. Carnes, Jas. J., 1st Lt., Inf. Cassedy, Harvey J, Capt., Inf. Castner, Laurence V., 1st Lt., Inf. Collins, Claude D., 1st Lt., Inf. Colson, Chas. F., 1st Lt., Inf. Cross, Thos. J., 1st Lt., Inf. Fitts, Wm. T., Jr., 1st Lt., Inf. Gillespie, Francis J., 1st Lt., Inf. Higgins, Chas. C., 1st Lt., Inf. Hughs, Oliver W., 1st Lt., Inf. Jackson, Edward B., 1st Lt., Inf. Kunzman, Wm. J., Capt., Inf. Meyer, Harold A., 1st Lt., Inf. Murphy, Robt. V., 1st Lt., Inf. Norman, Daniel P., 1st Lt., Inf. Phipps, Gaylord L., 1st Lt., Inf. Sams, Crawford F., Capt., M. C. Schildroth, Wm. H., 1st Lt., Inf. Shaw, John C., 1st Lt., Inf. Simpson, Jas. R., 1st Lt., Inf. Taylor, Geo. A., 1st Lt., Inf. Waterbury, Preston B., Capt., Inf. Wells, Walter H., Capt., Inf. Wharton, Jas. P., Capt., Inf. Woodward, Horace M., Jr., Captain C. W. S.

COMPANY OFFICERS' CLASS Ahearn, Walter E., 2d Lt., Inf. Allen, Thos. H., 1st Lt., Inf. Andrews, Lexford W., 2d Lt., Inf. Baird, Willet J., 1st Lt., Inf. Beall, Horace L., Jr., 2d Lt., Inf. Beattie, Robt. B., 2d Lt., Inf. Bennett, John H., 1st Lt., Inf. Bergquist, Earl C., 2d Lt., Inf. Bogart, Theodore F., 2d Lt., Inf. Boos, Francis H., 2d Lt., Inf. Brisach, Raymond C., 2d Lt., Inf. Bristol, Richards M., 2d Lt., Inf. Brown, Thad A., 2d Lt., Inf. Brown, Eugene L., 2d Lt., Inf. Brown, John M., 2d Lt., 29th Inf. Brown, Sidney G., Jr., 2d Lt., Inf. Campbell, Douglas, 2d Lt., Inf. Chalmers, Paul A., 2d Lt., Inf. Clifford, Carleton M., 2d Lt., Inf. Clinton, Jas. W., 1st Lt., Inf.

Westlund, Carl W., 1st Lt., Inf. Wetherill, Richard Jr., 2d Lt., Inf. Williams, Cyril E., 1st Lt., Inf. Wooten, Sidney C., 2d Lt., Inf. The roster of men and their percentage qualifications follows:

Stoughton, Tom R., Jr., 2d Lt., Inf.
Stoughton, Tom R., Jr., 2d Lt., Inf.
Stuart, Archibald W., 2d Lt., Inf.
Taylor, Wm. N., 2d Lt., Inf.
Verbeck, Wm. J., 2d Lt., Inf.
Walsh, John X., 2d Lt., Inf.
Wells, Lucien F., 1st Lt., Inf.

M. P.'S FINISH SHOOTING FOR QUALIFICATION (Continued From Page 3)

list with a percentage of 85.2. Three Sharpshooters, led by Fedgie B. Tynes, whose percentage was 84.2; and nine marksmen, with Private Elmer L. Brown's percentage of 77 being high, completed the number of qualified men in the Unit.

The entire detachment did not fire the course, due to the suspension of the regular target season for the year, by War Department order. Only those members that joined the organization lately, and those who failed to qualify last range season, fired this

Expert Todd _____ 85.2 Hesterlee _____ 85.0 Sharpshooter Tynes _____ 84.2 Allen, J. E. ---- 82.1 Atwell _____ 83.0

Marksmen Brown _____ 77.0 Eller _____ 75.2 Harris, F. _____ 68.1 Womble, J. W. ____ 73.3 Thomas, J. W. _____ 69.2 Gates, Lee _____ 77.5 Bennett _____ 70.0 Vissoga ---- 61.3

Hines _____ 61:1

SATELLITES

By N. H. HOBBS

(The loyalty to the 29th Infantry of a number of high ranking noncommissioned officers that still don the olive drab and go about their duties as personnel sergeant majors, 1st sergeants, regimental supply sergeants and various other important tasks will be illustrated in the following article and subsequent articles.)

MR. SGT. GEORGE R. STILL Master Sergeant George R. Still, personnel major of the doughboy demonstration regment is one of the essential elements in the military or ganization which Kipling knowingly Master Sergeant Still was born in Knoxville, Tennessee on March 23rd, 1888, and attended the Knoxville public school and the Maryville College at Maryville, Tennessee.

called "The backbone of the Army."

His first enlistment was with the 12th Cavalary in 1906 when he soiourned to the Philippine Islands. Upon receiving his excellent discharge he re-enlisted for the 29th Infantry Band, then stationed in the Islands. He returned to the states with this unit in 1909, being stationed at Fort Jay on Governor's Island, New York. Sergeant Still's capable manner and efficiency soon won for him the high rank of first sergeant in Headquarters Company, 29th Infantry.

During the world war, Sergeant Still sailed the Carribean Sea with this organization to the Panama Canal Zone, where the 29th was assigned the task of safeguarding the locks, power plants and repair shops of the

It was at this station that this high ranking non-com received his commission as second lieutenant and was ordered to Fort Snelling, Minn., for the purpose of instructing future officers in the principles of warfare. In less than two months 2nd Lieutenant Lieutenant, and in November 1917 was promoted to Captain. Through the fall of this year Captain Still was showing the civilians the Army idea at the 5th Officers' Training Camp at Fort Snelling. After a tour at Fort Crook with the 41st Infantry, and another at Funston with the 10th, he was assigned as liaison and personnel officer on the Army Transport Leviathan. While assigned to this duty Captain Still brought back to the States from France General John J. Pershing, under whom he had previously served at Fort McKinley, near Manila, many years before.

In December 1919, Sergeant Still, after reverting to his old time rank. re-enlisted for Headquarters Company. 29th Infantry, his former outfit, and again took up his duties as "top kick" of this organization.

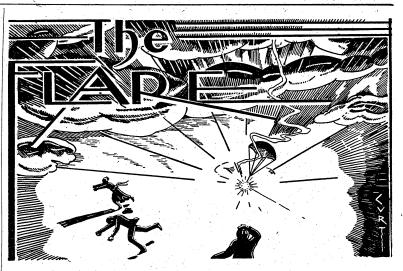

It was not long, however, until he was promoted to the grade of Master Sergeant to serve as personnel sergeant major of this Demonstraton Regiment, and since that date has completed three enlistments as Master Sergeant with character excellent.

Sergeant Still's record of efficiency and character for the 27 years that he has served Uncle Sam have won for him the name of one of the Regiment's outstanding non-commissioned officers, and in the course of another enlistment he will be given his reward for 30 years continuous service without a black mark or flaw against his name.

LT. PETERSON TO BE STATIONED AT BENNING

(Continued From Page 1) Lieutenant Peterson was assigned on the Detached Officers' List in connection with the Pilgrimage of Mothers and Widows to the Cemeteries of Eu-

Lieutenant Peterson is expected to arrive here sometime in September and upon his arrival he will be assigned to the 24th Infantry for duty.

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

Conducted By D. P. H.

Toward the end of last week the Officers' Club was a scene of febrile activity. Lieutenant Dowdall, true to the ultimatum he had issued to the waiters, decreed that the time was now ripe to call upon the Military Police to extradite the polecat from its abode under the building. The first daring soul to invade enemy territory was a man named Long, who entered the skunk's private domain armed with a flashlight and a long range shotgun. Shortly after his disappearance into the bowels of the earth, two distinct shots were heard.

Within a few seconds an excited group had gathered about the cavity into which the man Long had crawled. Shortly afterwards, the military policeman, begrimed but happy, emerged in the midst of the admiring throng. In reply to the questions shot at him from every angle, Long admitted that he thought the mephitine musteloid had been relegated to limbo very satisfactorily. He modified the optimism of this statement a little later, however, by stating that he could not be absolutely sure. So, inasmuch as the terms for the granting of the reward demanded the corpus delicti, Long was forced to make frequent excursions under the building for the purpose of locating the body. The rest of the morning was occupied with these goings-in and comings-out.

To the surprise of everyone, including Long the Skunk-killer himself, the pole-cat, dead or alive, refused to be located. Finally, after a morning of fruitless searchings, Lieutenant Dowdall wearily shrugged his shoulders and confessed that it was his opinion that the man Long had been the victim of a cruel optical illusion. Our own opinion is that the illusion, in this case, probably was a great deal less cruel than the reality would have been.

Since Long's disappointing though valiant effort to demolish the nefarious intruder, several military policemen have made similar attempts. Never has the skunk's headquaters actually been found. But Mine Host is not the type of man who is easily discouraged by the first few failures. He now intends to place traps, enticingly baited with the best that the Club has to offer in the way of meats, at strategic points beneath the building. Should this fail, there is no telling what Lieutenant Dowdall may do next-unless he has the structure razed to the ground.

CLANDESTINE ATTACHMENT? About a year ago Captain Wimberly and family moved into their present quarters on Austin Loop. Captain and Mrs. Barnett immediately paid George R. Still was appointed 1st their respects to their new next door neighbors by calling on the Wimberlies, who returned the formality soon afterwards.

For the next year, the two families knew each other well enough to say good morning" and "good afternoon" when they chnaced to meet. Everyday courtesies were exchanged, but that was about as far as the acquaintnce went.

Recently Captain Barnett asked Captain Wimberly if he would not like to fill out a threesome of golf. Captain Wimberly readly assented, and so they set out for the links. Later that afternoon, Captain Wimberly turned and said "Say, Barnett, you're a bachelor, aren't you?"

Captain Barnett could not refrain from wondering who his next door neighbor though he had been living with for the past year.

S. P. E. A. W. NOTES

Kiwanis Golightly, the Big Concrete and Stucco Man from the Wide Open (and closed) Spaces, recently joined the ranks of the S. P. E. A. W. (Society for the Prevention of Ennui Among Widows in case you have forgotten). With the record establish to catalogue faces and names is not by Humdinger Howell, Debonain Decker and Totem Pole Pete Ferenbaugh as a sighting shot, Go Getter Golightly set himself the task of making the record of the Charter Members of the society look like one of Inside Straight Schneider's Poker Hands. Someone had told him that in the Bible the number Seven was the Open Sesame to good luck so he decided to start out by giving seven widows a chance to forget their C. C. C. Husbands. He sat down at the telephone and called seven successive numbers but registered seven straight misses. It developed that all the Callees were at the swimming pool wading with Winsome Wilbur Elliot, another busy member of the Society.

He left word, the Brazen Builder that he is, to have the widows call him when they came in and then hied himself to the Golf Club for his daily six hour practice period. When he returned to his lonely domicile he found a message to call a certain number in Columbus. His face wreathed in smiles of satisfaction and anticipation of his first date he called the number and found at the other end of the wire-a Banana Warehouse in Columbus. Someone had played a dirty trick on a Budding Belvedere.

As this column goes to press, Beauty Boy Brady and Beau Brummel Bowen voted themselves into the S. P. E. A. W. on the strength of the departure of their respective wives on a three weeks' leave. The Column Sleuth will follow their every move and no doubt will have something of interest (to their wives) to report in the near future.

FAUX PAS

Captain George Clark, dashing (temporary) bachelor and big merchandise and provender man, in one of the rounds of his general store chain, chanced to encounter Mrs. Waddington, charming Benning hostess and society matron.

Always affable, the debonair merchant not only said "good morning' but elected to enlarge the scope of his remarks beyond the point of mere politeness. Being one whose ability developed that he should have by all means limited his discourse to the weather.

With seventy-five percent of the officers of the garrison away on arboreal missions, however, and about the same proportion of the ladies accepting the resulting separation with varying degress of good grace, he reasoned that the odds were in his favor that any lady whose identity was in doubt would find the Civilian Conservation Corps a sprightly and interesting topic of conversation.

So the genial Captain, blindly hoping that he was not picking one of the twenty-five percent whose husbands were still to be numbered among those present, suited his action to his thoughts and inquired sweetly,

(Please turn to page 5)

Drs. Miller & Davis

Dog and Cat Hospital

1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

RUBBER STAMPS

COLUMBUS OFFICE

SUPPLY CO.

HALF SOLES A BETTER A GOOD 50c · Half Half Sole . Sole

LAMAC SOLE $1.00 The Only 5-Unit Machine In Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY We specialize in cripple work Phone 565 1234 Broadway

LWAYS ask for Kin-A nett's Ice Cream wherever you happen to be-and you're sure of getting that same good cream which is served at the Club!

KINNETT'S ICE CREAM

SOLD AT THE OFFICERS' CLUB A STUDENT'S POCKET GUIDE TO FORT BENNING

(Continued from page 3) bottom of the plateau on which Benning is situated.

CHATTAHOOCHEE RIVER: Not so unpronounceable as it seems. This river is the scene of the famous bridge-building incidents of the last school year. Ask some one of the students of the last class.

PROVOST MARSHALL'S OFFICE: Located on Wold Avenue, at the south end of Hall Street. This is a good place to stay away from. Its principal officials, Capt. Arnold Funk and Lt. N. C. Pilet are pretty good fellows, though, even if they do see eye to eye with Capt. Ed Betts on points with a judicial touch to them.

THE FLARE

(Continued From Page 4) "And how do you like being a widow?"

The reply "Oh, I'm used to it now, having been one for eleven years,' left the gentleman in a reflective

Have A Laugh!

Sgt.-Ah, tells yo' jedge, Ah's innocent ob hitting dat woman wid ah flatiron. She done hit husse'f.

Judge-Hold on now! Common sense tells us that a woman wouldn't hit herself with a flat-iron.

Sgt.—Ah, knows, jedge. She didn't mean to hit husse'f. She done throwed de iron at me, but she fo'got it was an electric iron an' de co'd swung it back.

Wasey-See the crowd going into iew Deadbeat's remains. He must have been well liked, after all.

Kudner-No; those are collectors who were never able to see him while he was alive.

Corporal (boastfully)—All that I am I owe to my mother!

Buck-Why don't you send her 39 cents and square the account?

"Co. A": "What's the first thing you do when you park with a girl?' "Co B": "Well, I set the emergency brake and clutch."

"Do you think kissing gets one into trouble?

"No—usually two."

"Why is it you're, so tired after every dance, Jane?

"It's because of all the waist movements."

"Your daughter has promised to be my wife."

"Well, don't come around here look

"Call-For-And-Deliver" Service

The Shoe & Hat Shop of the Post Exchange has recently instituted a "Call-for-and deliver" service for shoe repair work to all quarters on the Post. The service includes all types of repairs on officers' boots and shoes, and repairs and dyeing of ladies' and childrens' shoes.

PHONE 544

SHOE & HAT SHOP

Post Exchange, Ft. Benning, Ga.

Warning To A General

This certain General should be more careful in selecting his pleasure. If this General likes a good peppy companion at his breakfast table, then this General should choose the real Southern article, one that satisfies one's innermost longing. Such a companion, General Public, is Old Settler's Pork Sausage for your breakfast tomorrow and tomorrow.

The Provision Co., Inc.

CAT TALE

This is the latest story on the Defenders of the Peace at Benning. Lately there have appeared several short sketches in which the M. P.'s have figured rather prominently, and they have borne the publicity with such a good grace that we are tempted to print this story, too.

According to the tale as it came to us, one of the more prominent of Benning's officers called hastily to the office of the P. M. and the following conversation ensued (Ed. Note: the conversation is not reported exactly as it occurred but this version will do for all practical purposes):

"Say, Lt. Pilet, have one of your M. P.'s come over to my quarters right away. There seems to be a cat or something dying out on my front lawn and I want you to get it away.

A few minutes later, remarkably few, the police squad car drove up to the officers' quarters and M. P.'s literally boiled out of the Ford. In short, about five of the police were there, all bedecked in full praphernalia.

The cat was hastily put out of his misery.

So far, there has been no reason advanced which would account for the positively hasty service given in this instance, especially when one considers that a small boy armed with the crudest of instruments could have done the job just as effectively, much less five full grown M. P.'s But perhaps it's just an outgrowth of the complex which caused the pistolling of the cockroach at the M. P. bunk-house the other day when a well-aimed shoe would have done as well. One is, perforce, to wonder what the M. P.'s are coming to- and what the eventual outcome will be-starting with a roach and ending with what?

ing for sympathy. I knew something would happen with you hanging around the house every evening.

"I hear you dropped some money on the Stock Exchange. What were you, a bull or a bear?"

"Neither. Just a simple ass."—Exchange.

STUDENT OFFICERS

We handle all kinds of good used furniture, gas stoves, refrigerators, dining and breakfast room suites. We give you half back on any-thing you buy from us.

THWEATT & SON

PHONE 2715

1244 Broadway

We Offer The Services Of Our RENTAL DEPARTMENT

To all incoming officers to assist them in getting pleasantly located for the coming school year.

FLOURNOY REALTY CO.

(REALTORS)

Exclusive Agents for

WILDWOOD COURT APARTMENTS

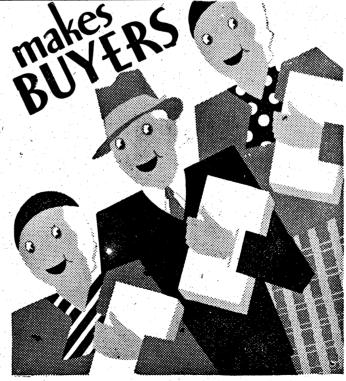

3 Phones 465 1209 Broadway

JAGKSONVILLE GEORGE WASHINGTON'S NEWEST AND FINEST Every Known Facility - Garage Directly Connecting Lobby - Radio MAYFLOWER � 300 ROOMS - 300 BATHS A BEAUTIFUL HOTEL Splendid Facilities - Garage - Radio Coffee Shoppe FLAGLER M MODERN AS THE BEST

FREE GARAGE EVERY CONVENIENCE FOR SUMMER COMFORT * PRICES IN KEEPING WITH THE TIMES .

ROBERT KLOEPPEL -OWNER

THAT'S SMART

. . in these amazing weeks . . . where a hundred and one new and different things are shouting for each dehoarded dollar, Stanton-Superservice smarter selling ideas . . . in word and picture . . . keep goods moving fast . . . and meet the buyer's demand for the latest news about your merchandise! They're furnished by this newspaper to its advertisers at no extra cost.

PHONE 556

111 - 12TH ST.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Smith And Odell Battle To Decision

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

England recently provded two of more opposition. the biggest upsets in Davis Cup histroy ,first when she defeated Australia, and secondly when she routed it became necessary for the Amercan Uncle Sam's forces to the tune of a team to win the doubles event as well stinging 4-1 beatnig. There were few as the next two singles matches. One tennis critics who conceded the Brit- more victory for England would mean ish even a fair chance of turning the tables on Ellsworth Vines and his co-for the Davis Cup were concerned this horts, and none had sufficient daring to even intimate that John Bull might win four of the five matches. Henry "Bunny" Austin was not conplayers in the world. He did, it is true, have moments of brilliance when it took very stellar playing to defeat him, but these moments were fortunately few and far between. Fred Perry, on the other hand, was usually steady and reliable but certainly not to be consdered as on a par with Vines, Cochet, and Crawford.

be was, therefore, am exceedingly startled world that learned that Austin had turned back Vines in straight sets and that Perry had pulled the same stunt on Wilmer Allison. That Perry should beat Allison was conceivable, but the Vines defeat was so unexpected that the effect was stunning.

The lanky Californian was badly off form. And Austin was at his best. The result was an easy three set victory for the Britisher by scores of 6-1, 6-1, 6-4. Allison displayed just as miserable tennis in losing to Perry, although the Texan put up a little

After this double defeat in singles for the Davis Cup were concerned this

Lott and Van Ryn performed their share capably by defeating Hughes and Perry in a hardfought duel. On sidered one of the outstanding tennis the next day, Vines was scheduled to face Perry and Allison was down to battle Austin.

> Austin and Allison took the court first. Realizing the tremendous responsibility placed on his shoulders, Allison pulled a fine assortment of tricks out of the bag in the first set to hold Austin even for the first four games. Then the slender Briton broke through Allison's service in the sixth game, won the seventh on his own delivery and the eighth with Allison serving, to win the set at 6-2.

> In the second set, Austin quickly ran up a lead of 4-2. At this point, Allison rallied and knotted the count at 4-4. At 7-7, Allison, with a tremendous effort, broke through Austin's service, and went on to win the set.

> The third set saw Allison break the Briton's service to go into a 2-1 lead. Then Austin spun off four games in a row, Allison braced to win the next,

(Please turn to page 7)

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

FOR SAFER DRIVING

- Inflate your front tires a little more than your rear tires. It makes steering easier at high
- 9 Ride in a new Dodge or Plymouth, or in a good used car from Patterson-Pope motor company. It's your guarantee of safety.

C

DODGE-PLYMOUTH DODGE TRUCKS USED CARS

I R S \mathbf{E}

To Rip Tetherton

Bennie Smith, giant Orlandan, and Cyclone Smith battled ten furious rounds to a draw last Tuesday evening. The decision was fair in every respect. The visiting fighter's longer reach served him in good stead, but could not keep the soldier off altogether. The main go topped a program of excellent fights. Puggy Weinert demonstrated improved form in handing Rip Tetheron a decisive trimming in the sem-final. Tetherton had left his bicycle at the ringside this time and gave a very good account of himself throughout the ten bitterly-fought rounds. He made things very interesting for the Polack

Odell looked awkward in the first round and the ringside fans were wondering just how long it was going to take Smith to knock him out. But after Odell had absorbed a few healthy wallops on his Van Dyke without giving an inch and after Bennie had swatted the Bull mightily with his right several times, everyone began to perk up and take notice. The husky Orlandan wasted no time in serving Smith notice that this was going to be a real battle.

Odell tried to hold Smith off with his right but the Bull bored in nevertheless to the range he liked best. In the first stanza, the Cyclone hit Bennie with an overhand right to the jaw that impressed everyone but Odell. Smith scored frequently with short left hooks to the face and body, while Odell contented himself with beating a regular tattoo of punches on the soldier's bowed head. The first round was Smith's by a shade.

In the second and third rounds, Odell came to life and began to score oftener with a left jab that was, however, not very effective, and a right hook, that was effective. The Orlandan, strong as a bull, was able to do something which not many fighters of Smith's weight can do, toss him around like a feather. Whenever Bennie decided that Smith was making it uncomfortable for him in the clinches, he simply gave the Cyclone a mighty shove and sent him spinning against the ropes. Smith, however, kept trying and once trapped Odell in a corner and pummeled him with lefts and rights to the head.

The fourth was a slugfest with Smith having slightly the better of the going by virtue of several overhand rights, which invariably set Odell back on his heels. But Bennie's impassive face, like that of one of the Egyptian sphinxes, never revealed any sign of being in trouble. In the course of this round, there were many toe-to-toe slugfests with honors about even. The fifth, sixth. and seventh rounds provided no letdown in action. Both gladiators were trying for a knockout. Smith won the fifth, clearly, the sixth was about a draw, and the seventh went to Odell. In the latter round, Smith dropped the Floridian in a clinch with a blow that looked slightly low.

The eighth was a draw. Both Odell and Smith swapped heavy punches, the Floridian scoring with rights and the Bull showing no preference whatsoever. The ninth found Smith boring in with renewed energy, and he forced his giant opponent to give ground with a solid right to the breadbasket. Odell backed away, scoring with a right in the process. They came together in a clinch again but this time Smith got the worst of it as Bennie connected several times with rghts to the kidneys. Smith nailed his opponent with a right over the heart and two savage punches to the head as the bell sounded.

(Please turn to page 7)

Puggly Weinert Recent Baseball Games Hands Trimming By N. H. HOBBS

After the smoke of the battle for supremacy in the first half of the Fort Benning intramural season had cleared it showed the following standings and percentages for the various teams entered in the league:

Team	Played	Won	Lost	Percentage
2nd Battalion, 29th Inf.	14	10	4	.714
1st Battalion, 29th Inf.	14	8	6	.572
Tanks	15	8	7	533
Special Units	13	6	7	.462
Hq. Battalion, 29th Inf.	15	6	9	.400
83rd Field Artillery	13	4	9	.307

season, the Redlegs of the 83rd Field ed the debacle by grounding to sec-Artillery took the Spare Parts of the 29th Infantry to the cleaners to the tune of 5 to 4.

In the first frame both nines started knocking the old rock around to score two markers apiece, neither team scoring again until the fourth when Headquarters Battalion chalked up two more runs to lead the Cannoneers 4

The Gunners retaliated in the next inning to score 3 counters. Holloway was issued a free pass, Morris singled to center, placing runners on first and second. Cherry rattled the rose bushes in right field for a circuit clout, scoring Holloway and Morris ahead of him to lead the Spare Parts 5 to 4, a lead which was never overcome.

The doughboys made a desperate attempt in the ninth by running in a flock of pinch hitters but to no avail. Score by Innings:

Hq. Bn. 29th Inf. 200 200 000-4 8 2 Artillery _____ 200 030 00x-5 6 2

Hq. Bn.-White and Potter. Artillery-Morris and Thornhill.

Friday, July 21st

In a closely contested game played at Gowdy Field, Friday, the Special Units nosed out the First Battalion Green Wave 4 to 3.

Magoni's Greencords started their slaughter in the fourth frame when Gilbert doubled, Massey collected two sacks, scoring Gilbert, Newman popped to third, and Orgeron hit a hot bounder to the short stop who scooped it up easily but threw wild to first, Massey scored on this error and Orgeron sprinted to second. Evans flied out. Wee Grady Tolle smashed out a two timer, Orgeron crossing the plate for

In one of the fastest games of the the Units third marker. Trippe end-

Lt. Moore's Irishmen failed to tally until the fifth stanza. Johnson bingled for a lone bag, Ragsdale duplicated. placing Johnson on third, Rollo flied to left and Banks walked filling the bases, Snead hit a bounder to short, forcing Banks at second, and Johnson raced home on this play. Delano, relief hurler for the Green Wave popped up, retiring the side.

The 1st Bats scored again in the sixth; Jordan hit an easy roller to third, but Evans, hot corner man for

(Please turn to page 7)

Howard Bus Line. Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

Fro	m		From	n
Colun	ıbus		Ft. Ben	ning
5:00	AM		6:00	AM
6:00	66		7:50	4
7:00	"		9:15	"
8:30	"		10:45.	"
10:00	66'		12:45	PM
11:45	- 66		2:15	"
1:30	PM		4:15	**
3:00	"		5:10	"
5:00	44		6:00	"
7:00	"		7:00	"
9:00	44		8:00	44
10:30	"		9:45	*
12:00	M	1. 1. 1. 1. 1.	11:15	**
			12:00	M
	A)	lso "Extras	" and	-
	SC	CHOOL B	USES
410		PHONE		224
CITY			. P	OST

You know men will stand and talk in their "off hours." And more often as not the subject of their conversation is the next fishing trip or tennis game. Not only that, but you'll find that they all agree on one thing—that good equipment is the best way to succeed in any sport—the kind of equipment which is sold at the Main Branch. Telephone 608.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

Griffin Continues Meteoric Rise SPORTS

(Continued From Page 6)

the Units, threw wild, Jordan travelling to third on this misplay. mour was out, third to first, Reddock walked, pilfered second, Johnson was out at first unassisted but little Herbie raced home on this play, Orgeron throwing too late to nab him. Reddock went to third. Then the unexpected happened. Newman, backstop for the Grencords, thinking the runner was out at home, pulled off his mask and started walking toward the dugout after throwing the ball to Gilbert. There wasn't anything else for Jumping Joe Reddock to do but steal home, much to the consternation of the Special Units Crew, this run tied the score, three all.

The Special Units came back strong in their turn at bat to chalk up a marker which decided the winner of

Foster started on the rubber for the Irish but was pulled when the Units loaded their shotguns with hitting

Gilbert labored on the mound for the Greencords and proved to be very effective, allowing only three hits during the entire game.

Reddock, Johnson, and Jordan were the heavy bats of the 1st Battalon's offense, while Evans, Gilbert, and Massey led the attack on the Irish.

Monday, July 24 In one of the most brilliant exhibitions of baseball given at Gowdy Field the Golden Tornado of the 66th Infantry defeated the "Greencords of the Infanrty School Detachment by a score of 8 to 6 last Monday. Both teams played bang-up ball, but the Tanker nine got the edge in the first innings while the Spare Parts remained scoreless until the last half of the fourth frame.

In the first stanza, Stansbury of the Tanks walked, Kulikofsky bunted, Smth was thrown out at first, Stansbury out on forced play. Swantic hit to left field, scoring Kulikofsky. Mc-Lane was hit by a pitched ball, Rolliston walked, and Wyrick hit down firrst base line scoring McLane and Swantic.

In the the third frame Kulikofsky hit to center field for a triple, Swantic swatted one across the first sack. Kulikofsky was caught off third and waltzed to the dugout. McLane clouted to right field for a triple, scoring Swantic.

In the last half of the fourth Evans, of the Grenecords bunted and scored on a long drive by Tolle.

In the sixth period, Swantic was hit by a pitched ball, and scored on a long swat by Wyrick.

At this point in the game Smith, pitching for the Tankers was relieved at the mound by Rowan. The seventh frame found the boys of the 66th still going strong. Rowan hit to right and scored on Smith's slam to the left fielder.

RUBBER STAMPS

COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

The Infantry School Team made a rally in the seventh. Hinkley hit over second. Newman socked the old apple to left field for a double, and Massie, hitting for Martin, drove out a long one scoring Hinkley and New-

The Greencords had apparently hit their second wind in the ninth stanza for Hinkley again hit over second, Newman hit to short, Gilbert hit to third and Hinkley was out on a forced run. Evans, heavy slugger of the I. S. D. hit a double, scoring Gilbert and Newman, and Tolle hit to short scoring Evans, the next batter struck out and the ball game ended. BATTERIES:

Tanks: Smith and McClashed, Rowan and Sullivan. Special Units: Hinkley, Gilbert and

Score by innings:

_____ 301 001 300—8 Special Units _____ 000 100 203—6

Tuesday, July 25th

Due to a mutual agreement with all teams concerned the Athletic commission decided to cancel the remainder of the games to be played in the first half inasmuch as they would not affect the standing of the league leading Kellys of the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry and would only make minor changes in the other nine's standing.

As was originally planned each Unit entered in the league would play ten games each, that plan being altered by the Athletic Commission and an extension of five more games for the various units was scheduled, but by virtue of the Special Units win over the 1st Battalion Green Wave ,placing the Kells in a undisputed first place for the first session of the Fort Benning's 'Little World Series" the remaining six games to be contested were can-

The second half officially opened on July 25th when the Blue Thunderbolt of the second battalion, 29th Infantry met their brothers in arms, the lighting Irish of the 1st Battalion.

At the start of this game it looked ike a Banner day for the Irish, when 'hey scored a marker in the first and second frames to lead the first half hampions 2 to 0, but in the third frame the big guns of the Kellys started barking to tally five runs off of the came number of hits, which, with a couple of errors chalked up against he Green Wave, were responsible for the win.

Foster started on the mound for the rish but took a stroll to the showers after the Kells scored in the third inning to put the game on ice. Delano, lanky right hander, went in at this phase of the struggle and pitched effectively until the fifth when the Blue Thunderbolt opened fire with another barrage of hits to score two more runs, Delano being yanked and replaced by Herbie Jordan who held the 2nd Bats to only one more tally for the remainder of the affray.

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS RESOURCES OVER ___

----- $ 600,000.00

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative—MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

Corn's Future Is Depending Upon Next Two Fights

Ghost Ghastly Also Slated For Out Of Town Fight Soon

Next Monday night, July 31, John 'Corn' Griffin, Fort Benning light heavyweght boxer, and logical contender for the World Championship, will meet K. O. Roberts, two-fisted slugger of Charlotte, North Carolina. In this bout "Corn" will have a chance of displaying his technique; for Roberts is the man who knocked out Johnny Dundee, former world champion welterweight, in his attempted come-back. It is a known fact that if K. O. lands a solid blow with either hand it means "lights out" for the Benning scrapper. Griffin has met fighters of this type in the last two years and if Roberts fails to place the knockout punch in the right spot he will have a long, rough road to travel for the length of the fight.

On the following Monday night Griffin will fight in Ashville, North Carolina, but his opponent is not known at this time. If he wins both bouts he will meet W. L. (Young) Stribling, on Labor Day.

The popularity of this battler is far reaching. Fight managers in Chicago are clamoring for a contract with Griffin, from New York comes offers of engagements with the foremost fighters of the United States. Florida is always anxious to place "Corn" on its fight cards.

At age of twenty-two he has met such men as Charlie Belanger, Tony Left Nichols, portsider, labored on the hillock for the Kellys and except for the first and second stanzas, when the 1st Bats scored two runs, was never in hot water, allowing seven scattered hits during the fracas.

Brookshire and Holtzclaw lead the attack of the Grene Wave, Brookshire with 3 bingles out of four trips to the plate and Holtzclaw with two safeties. Thompson and Pruit were the heavy batsmen for the Second Battalion, Tommy with a double and two singles and Pruitt with two safe bingles.

Score by innings: R H 2nd Bn. _____ 005 020 010—8 10 RHE 1st Bn. _____ 110 000 000—2 7 Umpires: Lindsey, Nourse and Hol-

Batteries:

1st Bn.-Foster, Delano, Jordan, Reddock and Snead. 2nd Bn.-Nichols and Pruitt.

Wednesday, July 26th Hq. Bn. and Tank Battalion

Wednesday, Headquarters Battalion trounced the Terrible Tankers to the tune of 6 to 1 and showed the rest of the baseball teams that they really mean business in the second half.

The Tankers were the first to score in this affair, chalking up a run in the secondstanza to register their only marker of the contest.

Huntley, Spare Parts hurler shaded Swantic's twirling by striking out 6 men and proving invincible in the clinches, while Swantic, although he struck out seven of Ferenbaugh's proness at critical phases of the struggle, being credited with three wild pitches.

Headquarters Battalion played deuces wild in this contest, scoring two runs in the third, seventh and eighth

The Sparts Nine were knocking the old rock around the lot in this affray. They jumped on the offerings of Iron Man Swantic for eight clean hits, while Huntley yielded 5 to the Tankers; Kulikofski, Golden Tornado secondbaseman securing three of these.

Score by innings:

Score by innings: Tanks _____ 010 000 000—1 5 6 Hq. Bn. _____ 002 000 22x—6 8 3 Batteries:

Tanks-Swantic & Pike, Sullivan. Hq. Bn.—Huntley and Potter. Umpires: Nourse, Holland and

Cancella, Battling Bozo, Jake Denning, Ted Sandwina, and Franke Edgren, and holds wins over them. He has lost but one fight in the past eighteen months and that was an unpopular decision to Trader Horn.

At his age, with his experience and prospects for the future Griffin will battle his way to the very top of the ladder in days to come.

Friday night, July 28, Ghost Ghastly, Benning Battler will go to Opelika, Alabama to fight on a card to be given at that city. His opponent is not known at this time, but it is certain that Ghost will make a good showing. He will be accompanied by Mike Carpenter, trainer of the Post Post stables of fighters.

Ghastly has been fighting here for the last three years and has a good record in this vicinity. He is a fast, clever boxer and very popular with the fight fans of Fort Benning and but Bunny came right back in the ninth game to clinch the set. In the fourth and last set, Austin outscored the Texan 6-4 to win the match and assure England of the right to meet France in the challenge round.

> SPORT' CHATTER (Continued From Page 6)

With nothing at stake, Perry played listlessly to lose the opening set at 6-1 to Ellsworth Vines. Then Vines slipped up badly and returned to the form he had exhibited on Friday. Perry mopped through thesecond set at love. Vines won the third set at 6-4 but was forced to the limit. The customary ten minutes rest was omitted at this point because he American feared that his injured ankle might stiffen.

Vines again slipped in the fourth set and Perry won it at 7-5. During this set, the Californian's ankle gave way in the sixth game, and thereafter he refused to run for the ball. placing all his hopes on his fast service. The fifth set saw the series brought to a dramatic end when Vines, preparing to serve at match point, suddenly pitched to the ground where he lay unconscious. Officials quickly gathered around him but the Californian did not revive until five minutes later. The cause of his collapse was laid more to nervous exhaustion than the injured

SMITH AND ODELL FIGHT TO DRAW

(Continued From Page 6)

The tenth found both fighters trading lefts and rights with abandon. Smith caught Odell with a hard right and Bennie staggered but just for an instant. Bennie retaliated with a left and right to the body as Smith waded in. They were still slugging at the bell with neither battler showing an advantage. The decision, a draw, met with some disapproval but that was quite natural, the fight being as close

BURRUS

THE BEST PLACE TO

BUY A USED CAR

'27 NASH

29 ESSEX Sedan _____$125

'29 CHEVROLET Coach _____$125

28 STUDEBAKER

29 FORD

Tudor _____$175

29 FORD

'30 FORD Standard _____$245 Coupe __

31 FORD Sport _____$275 Coupe _

30 FORD DeLuxe Tudor _____$275. '31 FORD

Cabriolet _____$325 All Cars Reconditioned and Are Good Values

Burrus Motor Co.

Authorized

1216-22 1st Ave.

Phone 3500

ROOM and PRIVATE BATH LAKELAND TERRACE LAKELAND EVERY FACILITY FOR GARAGE SERVICE COFFEE SHOPPE FLORIDAN TAMPA TERRACE TAMPA TAMPA

ASSOCIATED HOTELS

JACKSONVILLE HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

Hq. Company, 29th Entertains Large Number Of Guests

Regimental Headquarters Company of the 29th Infantry entertained members of the Headquarters Battalion baseball team, personnel of the company, the 29th Band and specially invited guests with a chicken supper and smoker Monday night.

The dinner prepared by Sgt. John Faulk and his efficient staff of cooks, consisted of the following: fried chicken, french fried potatoes, sweet corn, giblet gravy, tomato salad, creamed peas, lemonade, apple pie and ice cream, cigars and cigarettes.

During the meal, selections were

DRINK
CRAZY CRYSTALS
A National Mineral Water Product.

for constipation, Stomach trouble, Colitis, Neuritis, Rheumatism, and Common Colds, Etc. R. A. SPINKS Exclusive Dealer

8 E. 12th Street

FOR SALE Post Exchange

Men's Brown Elk Oxford$3.19 Other Oxfords

From $2.19 to $5.45

Star Brand Shoes are made for the entire family in one of the largest factories in the world. The Star Brand Shoe is guaranteed not to have poor materials or poor workmanship.

SAM NEEL'S SHOE DEPARTMENT

Westbrook Bldg.

ampa Terrace, Tampa rendered by the 29th Infantry Orchestra. They played some of the latest song hits, including, "Stormy Weather," "Sunday in Caroline," "Hold Me," "Two Tickets to Georgia' and "Shufle on to Buffalo."

After the guests had finished dinner an introductory speech was given by Lt. Ferenbaugh, commander of Headquarters Company and coach of the Battalion baseball team, congratulating the members of the squad for their excellent showing of sportsmanship and their hard fighting; he then introduced the next speaker of the evening, Major Schneider, Battalion Commander.

Major Schneider commended the team for the dogged persistence that they had shown in the first half of the ntra mural baseball league and expressed hopes for the team to come out on top in the next session.

Captain McClure, company mander of Service company, 29th Infantry, another of the officer guests present at the ceremony and a very ardent fan of the popular sport, expressed his opinion regarding the baseball team and contended that the Headquarters Battalion nine had lost most of their games by sheer hard luck and he hoped that they would rout this jinx in future contests.

Captain Cushman, Regimental Supply Officer was then introduced by Lt. Ferenbaugh and suggested that the recruiting of "King Kong" for the Spare Parts outfield would be a great

Lt. Johnson, assistant athletic officer of the Infantry School then was called upon to make a speech. He expressed his regrets for being unable to attend as many games as he desires to but he was very enthusiastic regarding the Headquarters team and that he preferred teams that could take it on the chin, so to speak, and for them to come back harder in this second half to win the bunting and play for the championship.

The last speaker of the evening was the assistant adjutant, 29th Infantry, Lt. Howell who wished the team luck and success in their future contests.

Tuesday night the members of the Headquarters baseball team were the guests of Cannon Company which was excursioning at Juniper Lake. They entertained with a barbecue and

83rd F. A.

BATTERY "C'

Pvt. 1cl Green has just returned from furlough and reports an increase in his family, a nine pound girl. He has his chest out for the first time since he enlisted in the army.

Pvt. 1cl. Barks (our He-Man) is staging a come back. He has been seen on 1st Ave., Columbus, Ga., several times in the past few weeks. We all hope him better luck this time.

The B. C. has announced that he would give the Pvt. 1cl. that makes the highest score during gunners examination a three day pass, and the Private that makes the highest score will be appointed Pvt. 1cl. We wish all of us could be high man.

Pvt. 1cl. McKenzie is with us again after a 90 day furlough up in Tennessee. He states that the old farm life is much better now than it was before he entered the army. We all believe that he will leave us as soon as possible and go back to the farm.

HEADQUARTERS BATTERY

Mr. and Mrs. Mace of North Highlands gave a chicken supper at home on July 7th, 1933 in honor of Primo Cutrer's victory over Ching Johnson at Hancock Arena. Primo being the guest of honor was requested to sit at the head of the table and give a toast, which was as follows: "Some have chicken who can't eat, some can eat that haven't any chicken but we have chicken and we can eat, so let us all be thankful." Primo committed a social error, when a sweet young thing asked him to pass her the nut cracker he passed her the beer bottle, which, no doubt was a nut cracker.

Boob Hurst is enjoying a thirty day furlough in the wilds of Jacob's hut. Hurst has returned to the haunts of his boyhood days and will run barefooted again with his old boy chumps.

Our baseball team seems to have its off days which have lost us many a ball game. When the pitchers are working true to form, the rest of the team are making errors. Ye scribe suggests that each player be assigned a position as far as possible and work in that position every day at practice. Corporals Cherry and Pike celebrated Corporal Pike's election to the office of Chief of The Guinea Chasers. Corporal Pike has been requested to sing over the Radio on the Guinea Chasers program. He will sing Columbia "germ" of the ocean. You are requested to tune in on station A. O. H. Saturday evening at 8:15 P. M. at which time Corporal Pike will sing. We hope that the proprietor of the country store at Morven, Ga. will have the batteries charged so that the home folks will have a chance to hear Corporal Pike over the air.

BATTERY "A"

The Battery has started taking gunner's instruction which means plenty of hard work, but the higher-ups is making it well worthwhile for the boys this year, as there are going to be several prizes given to the men making the highest scores.

Pvt. Cates is now sick in hospital t his home at Chattanooga, Tenn.

Harold N. Chancey has visitors and is now on pass. His father is visiting him here in the Fort and in Colum-

Our barber-to-be is preparing to take over the shop on the 25th of the month. We hope he is very successful with the shop. However we know he is from Ohio and is liable to go off at any time.

Pvt. Head, the string artist of the battery, is going on a 6 days furlough for the purpose of helping entertain some of the boys in the 29th Infantry who are going on a picnic.

Pfc. Brown, E. C. and Loud Speaker Gilbert are back from special duty with the C. C. C. and will help out considerably with the guard roster.

We have a new assignment for the Battery, Pvt. Harold Beck. Pvt. Beck is another one of the boys from New Orleans. We hope he does not take the place of Pvt. Hadley who is back in New Orleans.

Pvt. Jones: "I can read your thoughts."

She: "Well, what are you waiting for, then?"

Griffin Wins By Technical Kayo Over Everett

Corn Griffin was awarded a technical knockout over Buck Everett of Gary, Indiana, in the third round of a scheduled ten round battle last week. The soldier, who recently won a decision over the Canadian fightheavyweight champion, Charley Belanger, had opened a bad cut over Everett's eye. The cut bled so much that the referee decided to stop the fray before any dangerous consequences developed. Griffin easily had the best of the going, and was never in Cyclone Smith pulled a fast one on his backers by going out of town several days before his fight with Odell to knock out Wild Bill Cox in one round. The Wild Bull of the Upatoi had previously engaged Cox in Atlanta and pounded out a win, but Cox was unimpressed and began yelling for a return match. This time Smith made it emphatic by dropping Cox for the count when the timekeeper's watch was ticking off the last few seconds of the first round.

HENRY GRADY HOTEL

PEACHTREE AT CAIN Atlanta, Ga.

550 rooms of comfort and convenience. Each room has ceiling fan, circulating ice water, radio and either shower or tub bath; corner rooms have both. Open Dining Terrace and Coffee Shop.

Rooms from $2

J. F. de Jarnette Vice-Pres. & Mgr.

THE POST EXCHANGE IS OUR AGENT AT BENNING 1420 FIRST AVENUE PHONE 165

If you're one of those who desire efficient and economical operation of your car, you'll perhaps be interested in knowing that you can have it—it you keep always carefully tuned up and use only the best of oils and greases.

E H

G В E N N Ι N

> The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service

VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, AUGUST 4, 1933

NUMBER 15

Ten Years Ago Last Week

The Enquirer-Sun announces that the Benning-Columbus-Cusseta road is to be paved with Federal aid. Approximately $150,000 is expected to be spent on the project.

Major Charles K. Nulsen, 24th Infantry, was announced as Post Exchange Officer, to replace Captain Charles H. Moore, Jr., who had been relieved. Lieutenant Rudolph Broedlaw is detailed as Major Nulsen's as-

Captain Barnwell R. Legge and Mrs. Legge leave for France, where the captain will be stationed at the Ecole de Guerre.

The print shop receives a new coat of paint and a new roof is put on the Post Theatre.

The Galloping 29th Foot Cavalry took the I. S. D. into camp in the first game of the post season to the tune of 3-2. Bolo Burns, with his pitching, was the star of the game, with McNutt, under-hand delivery man for the Greencords, tossing his usual good brand of ball. General Gordon, post commandant, officially opened the season by tossing the first Budding leather-pushers of the Infantry School start training in the post gym for the amateur boxing tournament to be held in September.

I. S. D. defeated the Cannoneers of the 83rd Field Artillery 9-1 in the American League to cinch the preliminary baseball championship of the

4 Post Sergeants Reach Retirement

Monday, July 31, Fort Benning saw the last scene in the enactment of a great drama, in which four men have taken part. Master Sergeant Dan H. Tarvin, Infantry School Detachmnet; 1st Sergeant Forrest R. Cobb, Company E, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks); 1st Sergeant Joseph W. Smith, C Company, 29th Infantry; and, 1st Sergeant William J. Miller, Headquarters Company, 24th Infantry, brought to a close their period of active duty in connection with the military organization of this country.

When the curtain fell on this cereearly part of this century and have in at a later date. The high rating they have attained while with the troops of the U.S. Army speaks more eloquently than words for the manner in which they have carried on. They have kept firm in the faith imposed in them, and have performed their respective duties in a manner above question.

Sergeant Tarvin will make his home in Marvin, South Dakota, Sergeant Cobb will alternate - between Key Infantry. In 1899 he was ordered to 1917, as division chief of staff. In West, Florida and Columbus, Georgia, Sergeant Smith will reside at Home lst to the Philippine Islands, where stead, Florida, and Sergeant Miller he participated in numerous engage will remain in Columbus and estab ments in the Island of Samar. lish his domicile there.

President at Old Home for Month's Vacation

Roosevelt's home at Hyde Park, N. Y. there for the month of August. Lower her distinguished son and daughter-inand state troopers keep a close watch shows Mrs. Sara Delano Roosevelt law back home.

The flag again flies at President for the nation's chief executive is mother of the President, welcoming

Maj. General King Finally Reaches Retirement

Benning's Beloved Commandant Ends Many Years Of Active Service In Army; Successor In Command Of Infantry School Not Yet Named; Record Is Given Below.

Major General Campbell King. Fort Benning, Georgia, for over four years was Monday officially retired from active duty in the United States Army, after more than thirty-six years' service in every grade in the military ranks, from private to major general of the line. General King left Fort Benning on June 1, in compliance with a War Department order which ordered him to his home and place of birth in Flat Rock, N. C., to await retirement at his own request.

His command of the Infantry School, which was his last assignment, was also a high honor. He commanded the School for a longer period than any other officer, and achieved, while there, a higher grade than any other officer to be in charge of its activities. General King assumed command of Fort Benning on May 4, 1929, succeeding Edward Collins, ored soldiers entered the service in the of arms grow and expand into one set an example for those who come institutions in the world. He added much to the efficiency of the School, and high officials of the War Department have many times had occasion to commend him for the manner in University of Indiana as professor of which his leadership has been accomplished.

General King entered the army as a private in the 5th Cavalry in 1897, being promoted to corporal before he was commissioned a second lieutenant in July 1898, and assigned to the 1st

States and for a year was on duty at he was detailed as chief of staff of the commandant of the Infantry School, Fort Wayne, Mich., leaving there to assume command-of a company of guard troops at the World's Fair, St. Louis. Upon the completion of this Kan. and in 1905, upon his graduation with high honors, he was assigned to the Army Staff College as student. Upon his graduation from this school he became an instructor in the Army Service Schools. From this duty he rejoined his old regiment, the 1st Infantry at Vancouver Barracks, Wash., being stationed there until 1910, when he became a student in the Army War College. After his graduation, he was assigned as instructor in the same institution until 1912, when he re joined the 1st Infantry at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

He was again ordered as an instructor to the Army Service Schools in mony these men retired and will dered to the Philippines, and the 1915, leaving to join the 7th Infantake up the more peaceful pursuits period until he left for his home, of civilian life. Each of above namcessively as instructor in the business of the greatest military educational men's training camp at Fort Sam Houston, as instructor-inspector of the Texas National Guard, and as adjutant of the 12th Provisional Division. In April, 1917 he was ordered to The military science and tactics.

Two months later, in June, he sailed for France, where he served with the 1st Division (regular army) until September, 1918, as assistant division adjutant, as division operations officer, and after November Cuba, and from there went with the addition he participated in the Montdidier defensive, including the capture of Cantigny, the Aisne-Marne offensive south of Soissons, and the St. In 1903 he returned to the United Mihiel Offensive. In September, 1918, 7th Army Corps.

Appointed a temporary brigadier general in October, 1918, he was assigned to the Third Army Corps as detail he attended the Infantry and chief of staff, and served as such Cavalry School, Fort Leavenworth, throughout the Meuse-Argonne offensive, on the march to the Rhine after the Armistce, and with the Army of Occupation in Luxembourg and Ger-

He returned to the United States in July, 1919, and reverted to his regular rank of major, being ordered to the General Staff College at Washington, D. C. as instructor. While on this duty he also completed the course at that School. In 1921 he was placed on duty with the War Plans Division of the General Staff. In 1922 he attended the Infantry School for a short course of instruction, and was then ordered to China to assume command of the 15th Infantry.

In the summer of 1924 he was apointed brigadier to the Philippine Islands to assume command of the coast defenses of was returned to Washngton, where he was on duty as assistant chief of staff, presonnel division. War Depart. staff, presonnel division, War Department general staff, until he was order ed to assume command of the Infantry School.

For his services in the World War General King was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, and in addition holds several foreign decorations, among which are the officer of July 31, was made public in the Fort the Legion of Honor, and the Croix Benning Post Daily Bulletin on Wedde Guerre with Palm and Silver Star nesday. The communication to Gen-(France); and Commander of the eral King which was sent by Colonel Order of the Crown of Italy.

(Piease turn to page 3)

CaptainsCampbell And Kelly Slated For Retirement

Captain Stuart D. Campbell, Quartremaster Corps, Fort Benning, has been retired from active duty with the army. Captain Campbell has been at his home for some time awaiting this retirement, which took place on July

KELLEY RETIRED

Captain Clyde Kelley, Infantry, who was a student in the 1932-33 Advanced Course of the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia, and who at the present time is at Walter Reed General Hospital, Washington, D. C., has been ordered to appear before a board of officers for examination for retirement.

Captain Kelley was born in the state of Illinois, September 18, 1888. He was the 1st Sergeant of Company C, 2nd Infantry, California National Guard from June 19, 1916 to November 15, 1916 and from March 26, 1917 until his discharge on August 14, 1917. He was appointed Captain, Organized Reserve Corps on August 15, 1917, and 1st Lieutenant of Infantry in the Regular Army on September 19, 1919. On July 1, 1920 he was promoted to his present grade.

This officer is a graduate of Michigan State Agricultureal College, Lansing, Michigan and holds the B. S. Degree from the University of New Mexico, class of 1913. He is also a graduate of The Infantry School Company Officers' Course, class of 1925.

Prior to being sent to Walter Reed Hospital Captain Kelly was assigned to Fort Benning, as a student of the Infantry School.

Stockade Mess Is Again In 1st Place

At the regular monthly inspection of the various messes of the Infantry Schoool of Fort Benning Georgia by Major Homer L. Connor, the Post Stockade Mess was again rated first place in the competitive standing.

Headquarters Company, 29th Infantry was second and the Station Hospital Mess third.

Of the 31 messes at Fort Benning the placing of first, second and third is quite a distinction, although the messes at the bottom of the chart compare favorably with the ones ordinarily considered above average. The Post Stockade Mess was rated first last month, following some keen competition from Headquarters Company, 29th Infantry and the Special units messes, who, prior to the Stockade's top notch standing of the past two months have been leading the list.

Manilla and Subig Bays. In 1924 he Garrison Sends King At Flat Rock

The farewell of the Infantry School to its beloved commandant, Major General Campbell King, who retired from active duty with the army on Fred L. Munson, Acting Commandant During his tour of duty at the In. of the Infantry School, in the name fantry School General King endeared of the personnel of the Fort Benning

(Please turn to page 3)

SOCIAL HIGH CHICA C. HOWELL, PHONE 389

Col. And Mrs. Persons Will Entertain Officers And Ladies Of 29th Infantry

Colonel and Mrs. William E. Persons will be the hosts Saturday evening to the officers and ladies of the 29th Infantry at a hamburger picnic to be held at the 29th Infantry camp. The guests have been invited for six o'clock for a picnic supper. After supper the 29th Infantry orchestra will furnish music for dancing which will be in the nature of a "Leap Year" affair with the ladies doing the "Tagging.'

LIEUT. AND MRS, CROSBY ARE HONOR GUESTS AT PICNIC

Lieut. and Mrs. George H. McManus and Lieut. Malin Craig, Jr., were the hosts Thursday evening at a picnic supper held at Bull Creek in honor of the former's guests, Lieut. and Mrs. George D. Crosby. Mrs. Crosby, before her marriage in June was Miss Barnett of Atlanta. The guests invited to meet Lieut. and Mrs. Crosby

HALF SOLES A GOOD A BETTER 50c · Half Half Sole . Sole

LAMAC SOLE $1.00 The Only 5-Unit Machine In Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED BOSTON SHOE FACTORY

We specialize in cripple work 1234 Breadway Phone 565 were: Maj. and Mrs. Henry B. Lewis, Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd Barnett, Capt. and Mrs. Ralph B. Lovett, Capt. and Mrs. Samuel L. Buracker, Capt. and Mrs. Malcolm F. Lindsey, Lieut. and Mrs. Clayton H. Studebaker, Lieut. and Mrs. James R. Pierce, Lieut. and Mrs. George P. Howell, Lieut. and Mrs. Nunez C. Pilet, Lieut. and Mrs. Harold L. Mace, Mrs. Donald W. Brann, Capt. Arnold J. Funk, Capt. Harvey J. Golightly, Lieut. George H. Decker and Lieut. William W. O'-Connor.

CAPT. AND MRS. GASTON HONOR GUESTS AT PICNIC SUPPER

Among the many delightful affairs given in honor of Capt. and Mrs. Frederick H. Gaston, who left on Thursday for New York, was the picnic held last Saturday evening at the Artillery camp. Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd S. Partridge and Lieut. and Mrs. Clayton H. Studebaker were the hosts. A few of the Gastons' many friends attended the picnic. They were Maj. and Mrs. Clyde A. Selleck, Capt. and Mrs. Wendell L. Bevan, Capt. and Mrs. Clough F. Gee, Lieut. and Mrs. George H. McManus, Lieut. and Mrs. Glenn B. McConnell, Mrs. John R. Beishline and Mrs. Robert G. Mangum.

OFFICERS' CLUB TO SPONSOR SWIMMING PARTY AND SUP-PER

Due to the great popularity of the

Today's Fashion

Evening ensemble of pink satin By VERA WINSTON

THE EVENING ensemble here shown has several autumn trends. First of all, it is in satin, the color a light pink, two important points. The dress is simply out with the new sheathlike silhouette. It has a low back decollete and halter front. The waist length jacket centers its interest at the shoulders and sleeves.

swimming and supper parties which have been held at Russ Pool and sponsored by the Officers' Club, plans are being made to hold another similar affair Friday evening. Nothing is more refreshing these warm Summer nights than a cooling swim followed by a delicious meal. Friday's affair as was the preceding one will be held not only for the officers and wives on the Post but will include the ladies whose husbands are away on C. C. C. duty. Arrangements are made for swimming from six to eight-twenty. At that time a hot supper will be served at individual tables. Due to the large number of reservatons a large gathering is expected.

PATRICIA EVANS CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY

Little Patricia Evans, the attractive daughter of Lieut. and Mrs. John M. Evans, celebrated her sixth birthday Monday with a party at the quarters of her parents on Miller Loop. Fifteen young guests assembled at four o'clock. At five o'clock ice cream, candy and a lovely three tiered cake topped by six candles were served.

PERSONALS Mrs. Richard T. Mitchell departed Monday for San Antonio, Texas, month.

Mrs. Clyde D. Eddleman with her young son departed Monday for Fort Worth, Texas for a visit with relatives. Friends of Mrs. John A. Stewart

HERALD WANT ADS

CLASSIFIED ADV. RATES: 20 cents per line or fraction of line Minimum charge for any classified advertisement, 50 cents. Payment must be made before advertisement is pub-

FOR SALE: Modern House-trailer equipped with two double beds, refrigerator, New Camp Stove, fans and lights for battery and 110 volt; and every modern convenience. Inspection by appointment. Price $250.00.
P. O. Box 746—Columbus, Ga.

will regret to learn that she is ill at

Capt. and Mrs. Alexander H. Cummings announce the birth of a son

Lieut. and Mrs. George H. McManus had as their house guests last week,

Lieut. and Mrs. George D. Crosby, who have been recently assigned to

Mrs. John M. Evans plans to leave

Fort Benning Sunday for a visit with

Lieut. Evans who is stationed at Brooklet, Georgia, with the C. C. C.

Capt. and Mrs. Frederick H. Gaston with their daughter, Betty, left Fort

Benning Thursday for New York.

From there they will sail on August

25 for Hawaii, where Capt. Gaston

MISS DOLAN IN NEW YORK

The Fort Benning friends of Miss

Anne Dolan will be interested in knowing that she is now in New York chase of the latest Fall hats.

has been ordered for duty.

the Station Hospital.

born at the Station Hospital.

the 83rd Field Artllery.

You Should Buy At Silvers'

Because it helps to promote ease of mind and prevent physical weariness. You can do all your shopping in one store . . . under one roof . . . and not tire yourself out walking all over town.

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST.

SHOP SAFELY HERE!

for a short time, making new pur-

COMPLETE YOUR SILVER SERVICE NOW

BEFORE THE BIG ADVANCE

STERLING SILVERWARE

GORHAM, KIRK, TOWLE, WALLACE REED & BARTON, INTERNATIONAL

C. SCHOMBURG & SON

AT THE SIGN OF THE BIG CLOCK

1121 BROADWAY COLUMBUS, GA.

A transaction with us is never completed until the customer is thoroughly satisfied.

H. ROTHSCHILD

FURNITURE, COMPANY Leading Furniture Dealers In Columbus For 39 Years.

"Call-For-And-Deliver" Service

BENNING'S FLOWER SHOP CUT FLOWERS AND FUNERAL DESIGNS

GURLEY'S FLOWER SHOP

JUST ACROSS THE 13TH ST. VIADUCT

The Shoe & Hat Shop of the Post Exchange has recently instituted a "Call-for-and deliver' service for shoe repair work to all quarters on the Post. The service includes all types of repairs on officers' boots and shoes, and repairs and dyeing of ladies' and childrens' shoes.

PHONE 544

SHOE & HAT SHOP

Post Exchange, Ft. Benning, Ga.

HAVE YOU EVER BEEN THIRSTY!

When You Come Home From That Late Party?

Of course you have! You wouldn't be human if you weren't and you wouldn't be human if yo could withstand the temptation of a cold bottled Coca-Cola just before going to bed. In the new, handy, SIX-BOX.

ONLY

PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

THE WORLD'S DRINK - - - -SERVED IN THE WORLD'S WAY!

Coca-Cola is known and liked the world over. Every nation, every clime sees thousands sold every day-during the pause that refreshes!

SOLD BY ALL COLUMBUS GROCERS

GENERAL KING RETIRED

(Continued from page 1)

himself with all classes of the post and Columbus, and there is not a member of the Fort Benning garrison but will be sorry to see, not Major General King, but Campbell King, the man, leave the service to which he gave the better years of his life.

POST SENDS MESSAGE

(Continued from Page 1) garrison read as follows:

"The entire personnel of Fort Benning join me in extending greeting upon the occasion of your retirement and in expressing the feeling that the active list suffers a great loss today. May you and yours be spared

INSIGNIA -

NAVY

A Suggestion

As manufacturers we wish to announce that we have not yet raised prices on Military and Naval Insignia and Uniform Equipment. Nevertheless, price advances are imminent and will be considerable.

WE RECOMMEND PURCHASING YOUR NEEDS NOW

N. S. MEYER INC.

43 East 19th Street, New York It Your Post Exchange or Dealer

SALE OF DRAPERIES AND HOMEFURNISH-INGS OF

DuPont Perry

Every item marked below today's wholesale prices. Don't fail to visit this sale.

Cretonnes from 12c yd. to 29c yc Colored dot Marquisette 19c yd. French Marquisette 21c yd. 1,000 yds. in remnant pieces up to 9 yds. long. Ruffled curtains _____ 79c pr. Glazed Chintz _____ 47c yd. Felt-base (Linoleum) rugs and Roll goods

Electric table lamps at less than cost Electric Hot Plates ____ 95c ea. Cretonne Pillows _____ 19c ea.

DuPont Perry in charge of sales. Same Location-1219 Broad 29th Inf.

HEADQUARTERS COMPANY

Our First Sergeant Houghtby and Tech Sergeant Mitzen are the best in the Regiment. Mitzen is one of the best golfers in the Post.

Everybody is well pleased with the company. We have only had one Courts-Martial n the company in the past seven months.

Our Company Mess took second place in the mess ratings of July, 1933. This is our usual standing first and second place, in a total of 31 messes in the post.

Our baseblal team is going fine They have won three thest days. straight games here in the Post. They took one game from Lanett and Opelika. Alabama and one from Newnan. Georgia. It seems when the boys get away from the Fort to play baseball for the ladies they cannot be beat.

The following men of the company are doing fine on the team: Sergeant Hayes, LaBonte, Corp. Easily and Privates, Mauldin and Oates.

The Company has organized the following swimmnig team n the company and we believe they will make a fine showing in the swimming meet to be held in the near future. Bozeman, Holloway, Ringenberg, and Wal-

This has been a very hot month but each man in the company has been given a week off which has been enjoyed and appreciated by all.

Corporal Youngblood is getting discharged during the month of August and we all hate to loose him. We will miss his sunny disposition, his cheerful smile and laughter. Corporal oungblood is one of the best singers in the Post and he has sang on the radio many times.

-I. M. Yarbrough.

HQ. CO. 1ST. BN.

This is station 1-s-t-B-N announcing on a frequency of ten kilocycles, four motor cycles, and five thousand one hundred and fifty bicycles by authority of the Federal non-radio "Cumish-

It has been quite a while since any (Please turn to page 4) to enjoy your well earned rest during many years of health, happiness and success.

General King acknowledged the telegram, expressing his appreciation of the sentiment sof Fort Benning, on behalf of himself and Mrs. King: "Mrs. King and I are deeply appreciative of the sentiments of the Fort Benning personnel," he said in answering Colonel Munson's telegram. "Their sympathy and their friendship so spontaneously and so freely given at all times will ever be a cherished memory in our hearts.

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital

1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

Everything for the home

FURNITURE RUGS PHILCO RADIOS

LEONARD

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS

For the finest furniture at the most reasonable prices you should come here. We have everything you need for furnishing your new quarters. Students are invited to come in and visit us when they are planning for their Benning

1141 BROADWAY

COLUMBUS, GEORGIA

PHONE 409

Lt. Ted Sherburne To Leave Benning

2d Lieutenant T. L. Sherburne, Jr. 83rd Field Artillery, Fort eBnning, has been assigned to the Field Artill. ery School, Fort Sill, Oklahoma, for the purpose of taking the 1933-34 Course at that School. He is relieved of his present assignment to the 83rd Field Artillery. Since the organization of the Civilan Cionservation Corps, he has been serving with Co. 1414 o fthat unit, as acting quartermaster.

Lieutenant Sherburne is the son of Colonel T. L. Sherburne, Fort Huachaca, Arizona. He was born in the Philippine Islands, July 27, 1905. He entered West Point Military Academy July 1, 1924 and upon his graduation was appointed 2d Lieutenant of Infantry, June 9, 1928. On June 10, 1932 he transferred to his present branch of service; the Field Artillery.

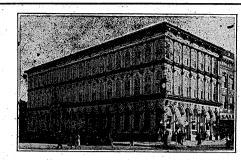

As a net star and basketball player Lieutenant Sherburne is hard to beat as he tried out for the Leech Cup in 192, and while at Fort Benning he was a member of the Infantry School Basketball Quintet.

Lieutenant Sherburne will leave Fort Benning to take up his new as signments sometime near the last of

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS $ 600,000.00 RESOURCES OVER $ 3,200,000.00

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

A Quiet Word of Advice from a Fifty-Seven-Year-Old

Without fanfare of trumpets, without clamor from rostrums, quietly but insistently the markets of the nation for the past few weeks have set down in black on white certain facts none can escape. For two years those magic black figures had registered, "Drop, Drop, Drop." And when levels of lowness, heretofore thought impossible, had been attained, there occurred startling changes in the eternal song of the little black figures on the market pages of the nation's newspapers. The chorus of the new song was "Rise, Rise, Rise". The change in chorus first started on the farm, then spread rapidly to all markets of the nation.

It is not the purpose of this bit of advice from a 57 year old store to linger long on the fact that wool, rubber, cotton, leather or wheat are costing more at the source to replace. All our readers can see the market pages for themselves. It is not our purpose to urge our patrons to use the merchandise stocks available now at the new prices to stock up beyond their needs. But it is our suggestion to our friends that purchases can be made to advantage now, because stocks now on hand at retail are much lower in price than replacement quotations, and when these stocks have to be replaced the higher sale price will have to be met at the source.

Such home furnishings as sheets, pillow cases, blankets, draperies; cotton piece goods and silk fabrics have advanced and are advancing in cost day by day. Apparel markets are moving forward with similar rapidity. We think it not amiss, therefore, to apprise you of the fact and to allow you. while there is yet time, to anticipate, at least in part, price increases you may have to face in the immediate future.

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Phone 556

Columbus, Georgia

VOLUME III. AUGUST 4, 1933 NUMBER 15 ____Publisher Louis T. Kunze__

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,
BALTIMORE

Here's To Your Health

BY MAJOR HOMER L. CONNER, Medical Inspector

Benning, by circular advised the wo- gin even at the age of 20. men of this station that periodical for the men. It is thought that there the symptoms they produce are so are now many women at this station trivial that no attention is paid to has been made to them by the medical that we can hope to treat successfully department.

This is therefore a reminder that every woman owes it to herself and her future good health that she take advantage of this offer. Periodical examinations are of great value, for they often detect beginning ailments that are easily corrected, but which if neglected, even only for a few months, might produce a serious consequence or even cause death.

Beginning tumors of the breast, uterus or any other organ especially call for early diagnosis and treatment. More often than not the tumor is not cancer, but provided it prove to be your annual physical. Prompt action. cancer, the only chance of permanent if you have a tumor, may save your cure is early treatment. Women af. life.

Physical Examinations—Women ter the age of 35 or 40 quite frequent-Two years ago, the Surgeon, Fort ly have these tumors. They may be-

Many tumors are harmless and ofphysical examinations, at least once a ten not suspected. The dangerous year, were as necessary for them as tumors often grow very slowly and who do not realize that such an offer them. It is only in the beginning these dangerous tumors. Then they are entirely local and easily reached. Then they are easily destroyed or

The following signs may mean can-

1. Any lump in the breast or other part of the body that begins to grow or change.

2. Any sore which does not heal, especally on the face or in the mouth. 3. Any unusual discharge or bleed. ing from any part of the body.

Pain is a late symptom in any kind of cancer. Make arrangements for

C. C. Lamentation

Sound Of The Aye Is Only A Dirge To The Unwilling Ears Of The C. C. C. Officers.

Major Kramer Thomas, Cav., who will report at Fort Benning in the near future for duty as an instructor, replacing the famous Major Jack Thompson, is both a soldier and a poet as the following lines to the CCC will prove. Major Thomas, now CCCing at Park Rapids, Minn., writes that he is anxiously awaiting orders to proceed to Fort Benning, since he has heard rumors to the effect that "all instructors and their prey" are to return to

The Civilian Conservation Corps. . . . Three hundred thousand men or more, With axes. Each C. C. C. conservator Will eat three meals a day, or four On taxes That someone pays In the far off days. . . . The far off days when someone pays.

The toilet kits for the C. C. C. Are beautiful to behold, And lovelier still to a Of the opposition fold.

I love to live in a lonely tent In the northern part of the continent Where the axes ring And mosquitoes sing. But better still I'd like to be A long way off from the C. C. C. Where glasses clink And a man may think Of something else than "when do we eat?" And, "what do you do for blistered feet?"

Forty miles from a railroad, two hundred from a city . . . I never will have to entertain a Congressional Committee For the things that need investigation Are closer to a railroad station.

SATELLITES

By N. H. HOBBS

(By N. H. HOBBS) MR. SGT. W. C. REDDY

Should you ever have cause to visit the office of the Regimental Supply at Headquarters 29th Infantry, you would probably be greeted by a smiling, affable non-commissioned officer of the old Army. This non-com is Master Sergeant William C. Reddy, Regimental Supply Sergeant of the 29th Infantry, who, for the past eight years, has been efficiently handling the supplies, munitions, clothing, and various other duties connected with Sergeant Reddy (Irish as his name) was born in Massachusetts in the town of Westborough in 1885. Tiring of the bustle and hum of the Bay State, he enlisted for Field Company F, Engineers on January 8, 1907 at the ageof 22. He stayed with this organization until June 28, 1908, when he purchased his discharge for the purpose of working for the Civil Government in the capacity of engineer. His first discharge was as Private First Class with excellent character.

He worked for the civil government for two years until November 12, 1910 when he again enlisted for the 1st Battalion "Bridgebuilders," being dischraged this time at Washington D. . as private 2nd class also with excellent character.

Sergeant Reddy then enlisted for Company H of the 29th Infantry, which was stationed at Fort Jay, New York and during the World War at the Panama Canal Zone. This "Hitch" was during the seven year term regime but Sergeant Reddy was discharged for the convenience of the Governnment for the purpose of reenlisting on May 22nd, 1919, this enlistment terminating at Camp Shelby, Mississippi as Sergeant with the notation excellent character" on his discharge.

It was at this stage of Sergeant Reddy's Army career that he decided recollist for Company F of the Demonstration Regiment and with this organization that he was appointed "Top-Kick," serving two enlistments as first sergeant, with excellent

In May 1925 Sergeant William C. Reddy was transferred to Service Company, 29th Infantry and apponted Master Sergeant to serve as Regimental Supply Sergeant of the Demnstrationists until the present time.

He has over 20 years continuous serice with the 29th Infantry and six years with the Engineers. In the course of four more years he, too, ill receive his earned reward and will retire from active duty with the United States army.

Sergeant Reddy's record of character and efficiency is enviable, having served 27 years with Uncle Sam and all of his discharges bearing the notation "Excellent Character."

29TH INFANTRY NOTES (Continued From Page 3)

notes have been presented to the 29th Infantry column by this Company but in the future the scribe will endeavor to be more attentive.

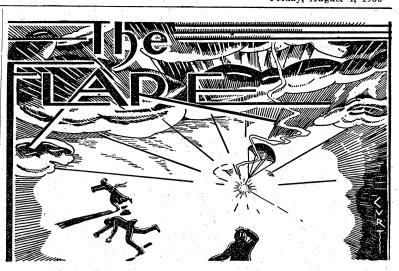

Everything is abou he same here, us a few of our men have gone wil he Civilian Conservation Corps. Most of the old men are still here, Sgt. Justice is "somewhair" in Louisiana and Tolbert Bagley is down in good old Missisisppi in the city of Gulfport.

Private Shannon and Pfc. Stanfield are still discussing the theory of Proffesor Piccard's ballon ascension and the possibiliies o tfthe Akron's survival and several other affairs too deep for this scribe.

Sergeant McGaha is still using his Sunday sno wo nthe poor indviduals who have to sit and listen to "gift of gab". The other day he was telling the one about the three bears- Ha! maybe you have heard that one too.

Sorry that we can't tell you more. the chow whistle is blowing, see you next week.

-N. H. Hobbs.

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all." -John Wolcot.

Conducted By D. P. H.

VERSATILE SIR SYD

Sir Sydney Negrotto makes an impressive master of the hounds. It would be difficult to compute the number of ladies who have been so indiscreet as to cast amorous glances at Sir Syd in the saddle. But our gallant equestrian does not limit the scope of his activities to hunts and horseshows. Very few people, for example, know that the genial Master of Foxhounds is an international authority on machine gun equipment or that an invention of his, the all-purpose machine gun mount, has succeeded in revolutionizing the anti-aircraft industry.

Recently Captain Negrotto returned from Washington where he served as a member of the board of officers whose express duty was to pass judgment on machine gun equipment and determine subsequently by a series of tests which equipment was suitable for further development. At this session, it was discovered that Sir Sydney's all purpose machine gun mount was the only one that fully answered to all the necessary qualifications, and hence will be adopted.

The international spotlight was immediately focused on Sir Sydney when his invention became known a few years ago. The Japanese government, always progressive, sought information at once concerning the mount, and several South American governments requested permission to make use of it. The United States Marine Corps has actually had the mount in use for the past two or three years, and found it very adequate. In addition, the popular and versatile Sir Syd is also the author of several training regulations and authoritative articles on defense against aircraft.

That so very few people knew anything about this invention is indicative of becoming modesty on the part of Sir Sydney, but it would now appear that the Master of Foxhounds is going to have a hard time dodging well-merited bouquets in the future.

THE BALLAD OF 598

Three days long and three nights broad All along that rivulet of steel That links this vast extent of land Two hundred strong, nine valiant leaders in the band Eager, alert, fired through with zeal To plant the tree that would bestow On burdened race, a moratorium of economic woe.

One age long week ago the peaceful sounds Of citizenry had issued from this group now westward bound. Drawn from sleepy mine, from hilly farm and store. Then! Inoculation! Vaccination! Shoes too large, Pants too small-a hat! But why say more. Count off! Right face! Line tent pegs! Processing! Conditioning for the legs! Four whistle blasts—the wheels of progress start to hum.

Destination Redding! California here we come!

Tis night the train slows down

Two hundred pairs of eyes take in their first impression of The switching yards of Sacramento town.

One last shriek—a shudder—a dying train is dead.

The car is boarded! Action! Confusion! Up and out of bed.

Change trains for Redding-Big Springs-Miller's Ranch-Slate Creek-Hawley-Callahan-Slagle Branch. Orders! Hurry! Unscramble baggage! Load it fast. Can't buy bread locally-Build mess halls-Order pipe, Orders! Hurry! Instructions! Hurry! How long must we suffer our food last?

"What? Meat and Bread? Contact the Contractor, I'm non perishable Supply."

Contact the Contractor! Improvise! On your ingenuity rely. A'board!—more whistle blasts—nine trains astir.

One last request—Bread! "Not me—the contractor." First standard, then narrowgauge and truck. Nevada City passed from out whose muck A million pounds of And now to winding roads and trails headed north.

A grassy plot nestled within the forest line Here! At last! Right here we plant that pine. But first pitch tents, clear brush and make a path To water fresh from melted snow

A scorching sun, a night whose breath would deal a blow To anyone who felt the need for evening bath.

Still strong this gallant little group of twenty-five
With two days passed and still no word from outer world Though bread is gone they still are all alive Meat is gone, stores are low—no pines will grow The seeds last night were pounded into dough. A Forest Ranger's phone—Call G. H. Q.—What for? This is no bakery—"Contact the Contractor."

A long night's vigil—still no word. No message, no assurance from above. But hark! the sound of distant horses hoof Beating the rocky trails

DRINK CRAZY CRYSTALS
A National Mineral Water Product.

for constipation, Stomach trouble Colitis, Neuritis, Rheumatism, and Common Colds, Etc. R. A. SPINKS Exclusive Dealer 8 E. 12th Street

> Dependable Electric and Gas Service

Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

FLARE (Continued from page 4)

With lathered side and heaving flank The rider reins his horse, Oh God, we thank Courage regained! breasts filled with hope; A telegram! Its contents! Here's the dope, Concerns not bread—no, nothing of the sort; "Where is your weekly morale report?"

S. P. E. A. W. NOTE

"Manly virtue, like the sun, His course of glorious toil should run, Alike diffusing in his flight Congenial joy, and life, and light."

Colonel Bid-em-up Bonesteel went out of circulation last Saturday when he departed hence to gather up his family and bring them hither. Since July first, Boulevardier Bony has been senior member of the Society for the Prevention of Ennui Among Widows and if there has been a busier member than Bony our sleuth has failed to discover-or uncover-him. Bony started his career by making a Fourth at Bridge. He made a Fourth four times and according to the immutable laws of mathematics that makes the Whole Works. But this is not going to be a Bridge Brochure. Bony bought himself a new automobile which had to be broken in by being driven for a thousand miles at thirty per hour. Bony having finished his novitiate in the Society was now a full fledged mmeber. He organized automobile drives into three reliefs of 60 miles each with time between reliefs to change passengers. His daily schedule was 10:00 a. m. to 12:00 noon; 1:00 p. m. to 3:00 p. m.; and from 4:00 p .m. to 6:00. But this is not going to be an Automobile Anthology. Bony became a Diner-out of dignity and dispatch. His home mess rarely saw him after he once got started on his viandic vagabondage. But this is not going to be a Commissariat Circular. On nights when our chivalrous Colonel was not Bridging he Danced. He even went so far as to inaugurate dancing between rubbers. When he dined he revived that little old last year's custom of dancing between dishes. He wore out one pair of dancing pumps and was half way through his second when Recall from Circulation sounded. But before you begin to think that this is a Dance Diatribe we must mention the Movies. With all the above mentioned activities Bony found time to carry this or that Cutie to the Cinema. He actually revoked his long standing rule "never to see the same movie a second time" just to give some weeping widow a better use for her eyes. This is not a Movie Monologue. We just want to show you what a superior member of the Society Bid-em-up Bonesteel has been and why there was weeping and wailing among the Widows when he departed. And his departure! Never since the famous despedida of General Wells, a cherished memory of the old-timers, has there been such a touching and tearful Tosti's Good

We shall Bridge but we shall miss him.

Bye. Weeping Widows formed a double line at ten pace intervals along the road from Jaw-Bone Corner to the Upatoi. Bony drove down the line in second with derby doffed, and as he passed Out-guard No. 1 a selected quartet sang softly and sob-

His will be a Vacant Chair, No more dances, rides, or movies He is giving us the air."

SLEEP ALL DAY?

Major Neal Johnson, an instructor at Ft. Benning during the past school year, is on duty with Company 571 of the Civilian Conservation Corps, located in California. The following paragraph is taken verbatim from the Westwood Sugar Pine:

"Company 571 has placed a flag pole at the head of the Company street and each evening as "Old Glory" comes down from the mast at 5:00 P. M. Revilie is sounded and the boys stand at attention until the flag has been drawn from the mast.'

Criticism, which speaks for itself, from the pen of Major (Schedule Maker) Kraft: "The Duke (Major Johnson) evidently doesn't take his job very seriously if he can sleep all

THE CITATION OF THE WEEK TO Genial sports-loving Sir Sydney Negrotto, M. F. H., who, in successfully combining initiative and inventive skill with all-round good fellowship, has been of inestimable service to the Infantry Arm.

RUBBER STAMPS

COLUMBUS OFFICE

SUPPLY CO.

CONVENIENT LOCATION—MODERN EQUIPMENT RATES REASONABLE

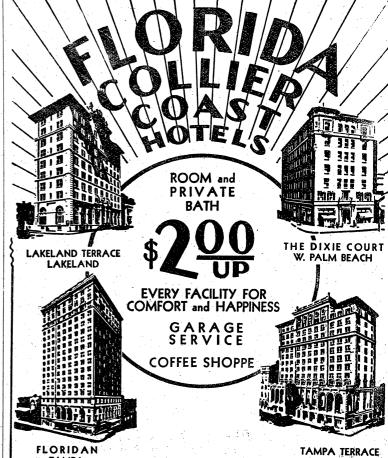

Phone your agent or call our Superintendent, Mr. Trussell, Phone 3062

MON COURT APARTME

SPECIALS FOR THE WEEK-END ANGEL FOOD CAKE 25c JAPANESE FRUIT CAKE 35c

You've never known what really good cake tastes like until you've tasted these two. They're the very acme of cake-baking and they're moderately priced!

BAKING COLLINS

ASSOCIATED HOTELS JACKSONVILLE HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

Let Us Tune Your Engine!

If you've had a hard trip here . . . or if you expect to use the car much while you're here, as most of us do . then you should let us tune it for you, put it in first class condition. The job can be quickly done, but it will save you many small worries and expenses. Drive by today and let us check it.

BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any. one Not In The Military Service.

B. H. HARRIS CO. Renting

Special attention given Fort Benning Officers Kindly call and let us assist you in getting located

Office, 12th Street

Phones 250-251

H. HARRIS CO.

FURNITURE

Headquarters for Furniture and all kinds of household furnishings, complete line of Sellers' Kitchen and Breakfast-room furniture and Simmons beds, mattresses, springs. At lowest prices and easiest terms.

It will pay you to see us before you buy.

CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

SUCCESSORS TO JOHNSTON CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

1014 Broadway

Phone 460

No "Boloney" Here

Old Settler's Pork Sausage is BECOMING famous as the choice of Benning. A true product of the Old South. Made of selected choice porkers. Southern Barbecue has long been famous. The same contented "grunts" furnish the meat for this famous sausage. Ye Olde Colonial flavor gives this sausage more "kick" than some brands of present day liquors. Nothing is too good for a man's stomach. Old Settler's Pork Sausage is pure and every pound guaranteed by-

The Provision Co., Inc.

make

"VARIETY"

your watchword

From the beginning to the end of every meal the wise hostess makes "variety" the standard by which to judge the service and the dishes. For nothing tempts quite so much as variety ... or makes a dinner so successful.

The Grocery Department is fully able to meet your demands for every requisite of

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Amateur Fighters Matched With Detroit

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

Several baseball experts have gone go far as to say that Dizzy Dean, eccentric Cardinal twirler, will some day pleasure that Dizzy has a greater wealth of curve balls than of the three mentioned above. In addition, his smoke ball sears the grass on the diamond. Uncanny control—at times aids him considerably in his conquest of the won and lost collumn.

Last week, Dean decided to show his teammates and the baseball world itself that he was capable of reaching great heights when the felt in the pink. And so he managed to establish one of the finest modern day baseball records in existence. Seventeen Cubs whiffered the merry breezes, threw down their bats, and strode to the bench with a puzzled frown written all over their faces. Dean was going good, and they simply were unable to fathom his delivery.

Howard Bus Line. Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise

Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

From Columbus	From Ft. Benning
5:00 AM	6:00 AM
6:00 "	7:50 *
7:00 "	9:15 *
8:30 "	10:45 "
10:00/ "	12:45 PM
11:45 "	2:15 "
1:30 PM	4:15
3:00 *	5:10 "
5:00 "	6:00 a
7:00 4 9:00 4	7:00 4
9:00 "	8:00 "
10:30	9:45 *
12:00 M	11:15 *
	12:00 M
Also "Extras"	and
SCHOOL BU	STES :
(10 PHONES	224
CITY	POST

A fine assortment of curves plus a speed ball that smoked like a burn ing oilwell turned the trick. Just as outstrip the best pitchers of all time, a Cub player would get set for a high including Christy Matthewson, Three one on the inside, Dean would blaze Finger Brown, Walter Johnson, and one across the center. Seven of the others. They point out with great seventeen Chicago players watched the strike whiz across the place without taking the bat from their shoulder.

The performance of the Cardinal pitcher recalls other great performances along the same line many years ago. "Noodles" Hahn was first twirler to establish the previous modern day record of sixteen strikeouts in a single game. Then Rube Waddell, who in some phases of character bears a marked resemblance to Dizzy Dean, turned in sixteen strikeouts against his old teammates, the Philadelphia Athletics. The incident connected with this feat of Waddell is worth repeat-

Rube was one of the most brilliant, eccentric, undependable pitchers ever to put stuff on the ball. When he was going good, he was unbeatable. Almost every true baseball fan recalls the time when Waddell motioned his own outfield into the bench with the bases loaded and none out. Then he confidently set to work on the next three batters, all powerful hitters. He put everything he had on the ball, and the result was that he fanned them in short order, retiring the side.

But Rube was getting old, and Con nie Mack, Philadelphia manager, then a comparatively young man, decided to send Waddell to St. Louis. Rube was as mad as a wet hen, and he made up his mind then and there that if he ever got a chance to pitch against his old teammates, he would make Mack regret his decision.

Finally, his opportunity came. The Browns and Athletics were to play a short series. Waddell begged and begged that he be given a chance to demonstrate that there was still plenty of what it takes in his old soupbone. And so it came about that it was Rube Waddell, once of Philadelphia, who walked calmly out to the mound, and (Please turn to page 8)

We Offer The Services Of Our RENTAL DEPARTMENT

To all incoming officers to assist them in getting pleasantly located for the coming school year.

FLOURNOY REALTY CO.

(REALTORS)

Exclusive Agents for

WILDWOOD COURT APARTMENTS 3 Phones 465 1209 Broadway

Announcing

JOHN LOCKE formerly of the the U-DRIVE-IT CO. is opening

The Rent - A - Car Co.

519 — 8TH STREET

PHONE 9579

BRAND-NEW FORD EQUIPMENT—REASONABLE RATES—SPECIAL RATES ON LONG TRIPS

MR. C. D. SHINE—Associated with us.

WE CATER TO ARMY PERSONNEL

Entire Card Will Be Staged Here In Honor Of Ptomey

The Fort Benning amateur boxing team, which won the championship of the southeast at Memphis last spring by a lopsided score, will exchange greetings with the Detroit amateur club champions here on August the fifteenth. The greetings, in this case, will all be enclosed n leather gloves

The lads from the banks of the Upatoi compiled an awe-inspiring rec ord at Memphis. Four soldier-amateurs were crowned champions of their divisions. Billy Floyd, scrappy little Tanker, outdistanced the field in the featherweight class, Clyde Milan knocked out Joe Graves, also of Fort Benning, to win the welterweight title, Roy Whatley, 1932 middleweight champion, easily repeated, and Penland took the heavyweight title by pounding out a close decision over Wilson in the third all-Benning final on the program.

Phil Carpenter, twice champion in previous southeastern meets, was handicapped by a bad knee, and was eliminated in the semi-final round of the lightheavyweight championship, dropping a close decision to the man who ultimately went on to win the title. Leguigan of Fort Benning also made a highly creditable showing in the flyweight class. The plucky little veteran, nearing the age when all fighters should retire, advanced to the finals before being knocked out by the champ of the class. He gave an excellent account of himself throughout the meet, and his progress was more or less of a surprise.

Roy Whatley, middleweight, justified the faith of his coach and team mates by winning the title without difficulty. He had won the championship of the previous southeastern meet by registering four straight knockouts.

The Detroit team will be composed for the most part of local champions, state champions, or the runners-up in state championships. The card will be a benefit in honor of Willie

Griffin Ba'tters Way To Victory

John "Corn" Griffin took a trip up to Charlotte, North Carolina, and stayed in that vicinity long enough to batter K. O. Roberts, promising light heavyweight, from one corner of the ring to the other. Griffin was at his best. A lightning left jab, the same that disconcerted Charley Belanger, wrought havoc on Roberts, and Griffin's right also proved a potent factor. By the sixth round, K. O. had absorbed so much punishment that his seconds threw in the towel to save him from further mauling.

The victory over Roberts is another feature in the soldier's cap. Roberts was no setup; his record indicated mostly by t out route, over good leatherslingers. The Charlotte battler carried dynamite in both hands, but couldn't come close enough to Griffin to do any damage with either. Corn was by far the superior boxer and made his opponent look like a novice at the game as he weaved, ducked, and bobbed away from Roberts' punches, then coming in with a two-fisted barrage that had K. O. in a bad way time after time.

Griffin's victory over Belanger has given his confidence. From now on there is little doubt but what he will hold his own with the best in the game. By the end of the summer, if thigs run along as smoothly for the army battler as they have been running, Griffin will be rated high up among the first ten in his division.

B ${f E}$

(By N. H. HOBBS)

The race for the bunting in the last half of Fort Benning's intramural season is more strongly competed as can be seen from the present league

The Kellys of the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry are leading the league with a total of 2 played and 2 won giving them an average of 1,000, while the Headquarters Battalion, 29th Infantry, coached by Lt. Ferenbaugh, are tied with the Terrible Tankers for second place honors. The Special Units third with 2 played, one victory and a defeat at the hands of the Headquarters Battalion in the other giving them a playing percentage of 500. The Green Wave of the 1st Battalion, 29th Infantry are next to bottom wth an average of 333 and the Redlegs of the 83rd Field Artillery in the

Team	Played Won	Lost	Percentage
Second Battalion	_ 2 2	0	1.000
Tanks	3 2	1	.667
Headquarters Battery	3 2	1	.667
Special Units	_ 2 1	1	.500
First Battalion	_ 3 1	2	.333
Artillery	3 0	3	.000

(Thursday, July 27th) S. U.'s DEFEAT REDLEGS

The Special Units defeated the Cannoneers of the 83rd Field Artillery in one ofthe finest exhibitions of baseball turned in at Gowdy Field this The game was noticeably season. marked with double plays executed by the Special Units' infield, the combination of Martin and Massey around the keystone sack working to perfection. Gilbert, tossing the ball for the Greencords, proved invincible in this fracas, whiffing nine of the batsmen that faced him. Holloway gave up eleven hits to the big bats of the Units but shaky support on the part of his mates at critical times was responsible for the Redlegs defeat.

Roy Martin, peppy second baseman for the Greencords was the Pepper Martin of Fort Benning's league in Thursday's contest. Out of five trips to the plate he smashed out a triple and three singles. Tolle, midget twirler for the Units shared honors with Martin, securing two doubles and Orgeron playing the initial bag came across with two safeties. Score by innings:

Special Units __ 010 010 202 6 11 3 Field Artillery _ 000 100 000 1 5 5 Batteries: S. U. Gilbert and Newman. Artillery: Holloway and Pike. Umps: Lindsey and Nourse. Friday's Contest

TANKS AND 1ST BATTALION

With the thermometer close to the century mark the Golden Tornado of the 66th Infantry, sent the First Battalion, 29th Infantry to the showers by the score of 8 to 3.

The Green Wave played heads up ball in the affray but were unable to spike the big guns of McLane and Stansibury and were also on the losing end of bad breaks.

Foster labored on the mound for (Please turn to page 7)

IN YOUR FAVORITE FLAVOR

Nehi Cola Nehi Orange NEHI GRAPEFRUIT NEHI MALTED CHOCOLATE RUMS DRY GINGER ALE Nehi Fizz

READY FOR ANY OCCASION:

Delicious bottled Nehi needs no preparation of any kind. Just pour it out of the bottle into a glass full of cracked ice and you have the finest of drinks!

\mathbf{A} \mathbf{S} \mathbf{E} B A L L (Continued From Page 6)

but it was a Tanker day and Lieut. on first for the last out. Kellam's boys were out to slug the rock all over the lot.

This game was the second defeat suffered by Lt. Moore's proteges since the official opening of the second half on July 25th, when the Irishmen were trounced by their brothers in arms, the Second Bats. It will be remembered that the 1st Battalion lost several contests at the start of the first half of the season, but came from behind to nose the Tankers out of second place and make a good showing for themselves.

Score by innings:

..... 103 030 001—8 Tanks . First Bats ___ 020 000 010-3 Batteries 1st Bats: Foster and Snead. Tankers: Segrest and Sullivan.

(Saturday, July 29th, 1933) ARTILLERY AND 2ND BATTALION

The Kellys of the second Battalion, 29th Infantry were taxed to their utmost in Saturday's game when they nosed out the Redlegs of the 83rd Field Artillery 4 to 3. The contest was one of the most hrilling that has been played at Gowdy Field in many

The Blue Thunderbolt scored three runs in the third frame but the Artillerymen came back in the fourth with a barrage of hits to score two runs. Both teams remained scoreless until the ninth, when the Caisson Riders shoved another marker across the plate to even the contest, and extend the game to the tenth inning. Kielstrom then substituted for Thompson, E. equeezed in Slocum from third and ended the affray. In the third, Saunders was safe at first by virtue of an error on second base. Barron smashed out a double scoring Saunders. Thompson, A, clouted a hot one to third, Cummings, hot corner man, throwing wild to first. Barron travelled to third and scored on a passed ball, Thompson raced to third, Slocum was out, pitcher to 1st. Mitchell banged out a long sacrifice fly scoring Thompson, next man up singled but died on first when Prophet grounded to second.

The Redlegs scored two markers in the 4th after one out was chalked up against them. Cummings singled, Cherry duplicated, and Morris hit for a one sacker filling the bases. Speir skied to Thompson, A, in left field, holding the runner on third. Rhodes. substitute batter, for Nelson, poled out a sizzling single scoring Cummings

THE

Post Exchange

has a

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Author-ized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

the Irishmen and pitched a nice game, and Cherry but was caught napping

The game remained three to two in favor of the Kells until the ninth inning when the Redlegs came back to life. Cherry hit for a lone bag, Morris sacrificed him to second, Speir singled, advancing Cherry to third. When Speir stole second, Prewitt made a play for him, Mitchell threw to home in an attempt to catch Cherry but the heave was wild, the run tying the score. Next two batters retired in order.

The Blue Thunderbolt scored another counter in the tenth and salted away their second victory since the opening of the last half of Fort Benning Intramural baseball season. The first man at bat, Slocum, rocked the fence in deep right center for a clean triple. Mitchell striving too hard to bring in this run popped to left field. After the next man at the plate had waved at two balls, Kjelstrom pulled him and went to bat himself. On the first ball pitched he laid down a from third ending a hard fought Barron and Slocum were the mainstays of the Second Bats' hitting power while Cummings, Nelson and Morris took batting honors for the Artillery.

Morris pitched a nice game for the Redlegs, with his puzzling assortment of balls, striking out 4 of the Kelly batsmen and fielding his position nice-

Pyle tossed them over for the Kells Kells and was very effective, except for the bunching of the Artillery's hits in the fourth.

Score by Innings: RHE Artillery ____000 200 001 1—3 8 2nd Bats ____003 000 000 1-4 9 Batteries:

Artillery-Morris and Nelson. Doughboys-Pyle and Prewitt. Umpires-Nourse and Holland.

Monday, July 31st HQ. BN. AND SPECIAL UNITS

Headquarters Battalion of the 29th Infantry turned in a beautiful exhibition of baseball Monday when they defeated the Special Unit nine 2 to 1. Lt. Ferenbaugh's proteges played almost errorless ball n ths affray, reducing the numbers of bobbles to a lone misplay.

Gilbert labored on the hillock for the Greencords but was yanked in favor of Hinkley in the third frame, the reason not being known; as he pitchthe Headquarters men during his work on the mound.

Parsons, lanky right hander, twirled for the Spare Parts and pitched a stellar brand of ball, allowing the Greencords only six scattered hits during the contest.

Both markers for the doughboys were recorded in the 2nd stanza, when Morrow was hit by a wild pitch and Hays sacrificed him to second. Labonte then smashed out a long drive, collecting three sacks and scoring Morrow from first. On the next play Mauldin fulfilled the wishes of his coach and laid down a perfect bunt to squeeze Labonte from the hot corner bag but was thrown out at first. Hebret whiffed retiring the side.

The Special Units scored their lone run in the fifth, Hinkley bingled, Martin hit safely for a lone bag, Hinkley raced to third. Massey fanned and Potter, backstopping for the Headquarters team threw to first in attempt to nab Martin. Hinkley on third crossing the plate to keep his team from suffering a defeat via the whitewash route. The rest of the batters were retired in order.

Labonte was the star of the contest for the Headquarters team, starting the scoring for the Spare Parts by smashing out a sizzling triple in the second frame and scoring a runner from first, crossing the plate himself after Mauldin's perfect bunt.

In the ninth stanza Evans, hot corner man for the Units, hit one of Parson's offerings somewhere in the vicinity of 1st base and the foul line, the umpire ruled a foul but Evans kept right on traveling until he reached third, paying absolutely no attention to the shouts of the Ump. A brief squabble ensued in which Sam Stuart contended that the ball was fair and tinuing the game under protest.

RHE Score by innings: Hq. Bat. _____020 000 000 2 7 1 S. U. _____000 010 000-1 6 2 hit the old agate in the rose bushes in Batteries:

Hq. Bat.-Parsons and Potter. S. U.-Gilbert, Hinkley and New-

Umpires-Holland and Nourse.

Tuesday, August 1st, 1933 ARTILLERY VERSUS TANKS

The Terrible Tankers outslugged the Cannoneers of the 83rd Field Artillery Tuesday. in a free for all hitting contest, by the score of 12 to 9.

The Redlegs started the fracas off right by scoring three runs in the first frame after one out had been chalked up against them. Morris flied out, Reddock was safe at first by virtue of an error on the hot corner man for the Tanks, Holloway popped to second, Moseley hit a hot liner to short, short threw to second to cut Reddocl off there and the ball slipped right thru O'Bron's hands, who was covering the bag. Reddick travelled to third, Speir then clouted the old perfect bunt, and squeezed Slocum horsehide right on the nose for a clean triple, and runners from first and third crossed the plate. Dickens singled, scoring Speir; Sullivan, backstop for the Golden Tornado, threw to first in an attempt to catch Dickens napping, but the heave was wild, and Dickens pulled up at second. Rhodes ended the debacle by flying out to

The Tank Battalion remained scoreless in ther turn at bat, but came back strong in the second spasm to even the affray, three all. Rollison hit a ball which proved to be too hot for the pitcher to handle, and was safe on first. He sprinted to second on a pass ball. Wyrick hit to first, the ball took a funny hop, placing runners on first and third. Sullivan hit a one hopper to the pitcher, who threw wild to the initial bag, both runners cross ing the plate on this miscue and Sullivan circling the infield to third. He scored on Smith's bounder to first. The next man up flied out, O'Brion singled, Swantic walked and both men advanced on a pass ball. O'Brion was caught between plate and third for the last out.

The Redlegs retaliated in their turn at plate to score four more markers, to numerous errors on the part of the Tanker nine, but Lt. Kellam's gang decided to slug it out with the Caisson Riders and tallied five counters in the third stanza to lead the Artillerymen 8 to 7. The Tank Battalion scored again in the fourth to shove one more run across the plate and ed good ball and struck out three of hold the Redlegs scoreless until the sixth inning, when the Cannoneers succeeded in chalking up another run.

The Golden Tornado scored three more runs in the fatal seventh to put the game on ice. Smith singled, Stansibury doubled, scoring Smith from first, then O'Brion smashed out a hit, scoring the runner from the keystone sack, O'Broin went to third on a passed ball and then McLane, that consistent hitter, poled out a long sacrifice fly, O'Brion dashing home to score the third counter. Rowan, next man to plate, fell to the ground in an attempt to duck a close ball, and the horsehide decided to play a mean trick on him by hitting his bat and rolling right down the pitchers alley for a fair ball and he was thrown out the controversy finally ended by con- at first for the last out. This fluke brought many giggles from the fans.

The Redlegs strived hard to rally in the ninth, after two outs, Nelson left field for a circuit clout.

Cherry started on the mound for the Artillerymen but took a stroll to the showers in the third inning when the Tankers started knocking the ball all over the lot. Holloway relieved him in this stanza but he, too, proved ineffective. It was an old time slugging bee, with anybody and everybody hitting the rock.

Smith worked on the hillock for the Tank Battalion but several of the Redlegs fattened their batting averages in touching him for a total of nine hits.

Practically everyone was hitting in Tuesday's contest, Stansibury, Rollison, O'Brion, Sullivan and Cue Ball Smith emerging with slugging honors for the Tanks; and Nelson, Mosley, Speir, Holloway and Reddock for the Cannoneers.

Score by innings: Artillery ____304 001 001— 9 9 Γanks _____035 100 30x—12 12 5 Batteries:

Artillery-Cherry, Holloway and Rhodes and Nelson.

Tanks—Smith and Sullivan. Umpires-Nourse and Holland.

Wednesday, August 2nd, 1933 HEADQUARTERS BN. & 1ST BN. 29TH INF.

Errors were responsible for the defeat suffered by the Headquarters Battalion, 29th Infantry at the hands of the 1st Battalion Irishmen. Costly bobbles at critical phases of the game on the part of the Spare Parts infield was the verdict. The Hq. Team suffering the humiliation of ten misplays during the nine innings, while the Green Wave played almost errorless

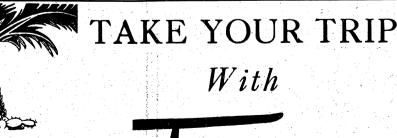

White started on the rubber for the Spare Parts and pitched very effectively during his stay, allowing the Irishmen only two bingles in four innings. He was pulled in the fourth in favor of Huntley who twirled a nice game for the remaining five innings. It just seemed that the breaks were against the Headquarters nine.

Delano was in the box for the Irishmen for four sessions but was vanked in favor of Foster in the fourth frame, after Lt. Ferenbaugh's nine started knocking the rock around. Foster and Delano were well supported by their mates, verified by the fact that the Spare Parts clouted out 15 hits off of the combined efforts of Delano and Jordan was the fielding star of the game, playing a bang up game at the keystone sack, stopping the old horsehide several times when it was labeled "H-I-T". Holtsclaw made a fine running catch along the left field foul line of another one of those balls that looked like a sure bingle.

Hq. Battalion drew first blood in the affray, scoring three runs in the fourth stanza; Hayes clouted out a two-timer, Labonte whiffed, Mauldin smashed out a single, scoring Hayes, White, in an attempt to duck one of Delano's fast balls, fell to the ground but old lady luck smiled on him, the ball hit his bat, and bounding past first, advanced Mauldin to second. both runners advanced on a wild pitch, incidentally the only misplay of the nine innings against the Green Wave. Fraiche then hit, Mauldin and White crossing the plate on this play. Easley popped to third and Potter skied to center fielder retiring the side. The 1st Battalion came back strong in their turn at the plate to score three markers and knot the contest three all; Brookshire hit to short, Mauldin bobbled the ball and ball, having only one miscue recorded Brooks was safe at first. The next (Please turn to page 8)

THE WORLD'S FINEST PEANUTS

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded for the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

SPORT CHATTER

(Continued from page 6) began throwing up practice offerings tothe catcher.

Waddell made history that day. He le down the A's with a few scattered hits, and in the process fanned sixteen batters. His old teammates found it a lot more convenient to be behind Waddell than against him.

Dean, in many ways, is like the old Athletic wonder. He can do tricks with a baseball that will have made Houdini himself sit up and take notice. Like Waddell, too, he has his off days, usually because he broke training the night before he went into the box.

Dizzy is a truckhorse for work. He has been worked about once every third day, and Dean even with this short rest had been doing well for his second year under the big top. Finally, Street decided to give Dean a little more rest between games, and the result made history in a big way.

So it would seem that those baseball experts who predicted that Dean

PEP...

in every step

Use

Heels and Soles

Hood Rubber Products Co., Inc. Watertown, Mass.

KENNY'S

NORWOOD

COFFEE

is sold at Fort, Benning

through the

Post Exchange

TRY A POUND

YOU WILL BE PLEASED

BASEBALL

(Continued from page 7)

man up hit to the infield but again the ball was booted, runners riding first and second. Reddock walked, filling the bases, Johnson hit to short, short throwing to first, but Fraiche failed to locate the bag. Brookshire was safe at the plate, and Holtzclaw hit a bounder to third forcing Jordan at home. Rollo singled, scoring Reddock, and Johnson, but was put out at second when he endeavored to stretched his bingle into a double. Snead grounded to short for the third out.

The Green Wave chalked up another run in the seventh spasm to lead the Spare Parts 4 to 3 and tallied two more runs in the eighth to put the game in the bag. Jordan skied out to center, Reddock walked and then stole second, (it seems to be a habit with him); Johnson clouted an easy roller to second. After the throw to first Fraiche dropped the rock and failed to retrieve it before Olie had touched the sack. Reddock, ever alert, advanced to third on this play and stole home before the initial sackman could orient himself. Jumping Joe can truthfully be called the Benny Chapman of Fort Benning's league.

This contest was the first win for the Irishmen since the start of the second half, having been beaten by the Second Bats and the Terrible Tanks. Now that they have routed their jinx, it is believed that they will be one of the strongest contenders for second race honors.

The hitting stars of Wednesday's contest were Rollo, Foster and Snead for the Green Wave; and Hayes, Mauldin and Fraiche for Lt. Ferenbaugh's nine. Mauldin had a perfect day at bat getting three singles and a free pass to first out of four times at plate.

Score by innings: R H E

Ist Bn. _____000 300 120—6 6 1

Hq. Bn. ____000 3000 000—3 15 10

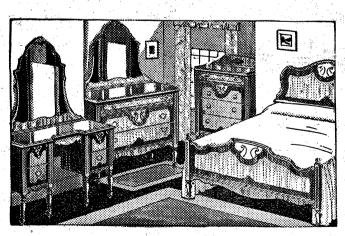

Batteries:

Hq. Bn.—White, Hutley and Potter. lst. Bn.—Delano, Foster and Snead. Umpires — Lindsey, Nourse and Heckert.

would some day be considered among the topnotch twirlers of all time was not just talk for talk's sake. At any rate, St. Louis' hopes for a pennant has been given a big boost, and if Dizzy Dean, Wild Bill Hallahan, and the other member of the fine Cardinal pitching staff, do what it is expected they will do, the National League pennant flag will be waving from the top of a St. Louis flagpost by the middle of September.

FURNITURE

FOR EVERY HOME!

We consider it a privilege to be able to invite the personnel at Ft. Benning to visit our store. We are sure that they will find just the articles they need at most moderate prices. We are always ready to assist you.

Bedroom Suites as low as $49.50

EVERY KIND OF FURNITURE

FOR EVERY KIND OF HOME

B. L. PENNELL FURNITURE CO.

1249 BROADWAY

CHANCELLOR'S

NEW DEAL Sensational

We honestly believe this is the greatest value giving sale we have ever offered you.

This Spring and Summer prices have been the lowest in our history. Most articles are 25 per cent lower than they were last Summer and, in addition, you are getting the advantage of this sale.

Our advice is to buy everything you need for now, Fall and Winter.

STRAW HATS PANAMAS One-Half Price

LINEN AND WASH SUITS

BEFORE	\mathbf{NOW}
$10.00	$ 6.95
12.50	8.55
13.50	9.95
15.00	10.95
18.00	12.95

LUGGAGE Gladstones and Hand-Bags BEFORE NOW

$ 6.50 $4.95 8.50 6.85 12.50 9.85

Leather is up in price 50% BUY NOW!

PRACTICALLY EVERYTHING REDUCED—IT WILL CERTAINLY PAY YOU TO BUY NOW AND BUY ALL YOU NEED!

WOOLEN 2 PANTS SUITS

BEFORE	NOW
$13.50	$ 9.85
15.00	11.85
22.50	14.85
25.00	18.85

B. V. D	CIAL LO Union
	69c
BEFORE		NOW
$1.00		.79
1.50		$1.19
2.00		1.49
2-Pie	ce Underw	vear
50c	Now	41c
75c	66	59e

WHITE AND COLORED SHIRTS—NATIONALLY ADVER-TISED BRANDS—IN ALL SIZES—NOW SELLING AT GREATLY REDUCED PRICES

SALE PRICES CASH
ALTERATIONS EXTRA

CHANCELLOR

COMPANY 1108 BROADWAY VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, AUGUST 11, 1933

NUMBER 16

Ten Years Ago Last Week

Service Company gave a big smoker in post gym in honor of the 29th Infantry ball team. Attending were General Gordon, post commandant, and the regimental commander, Colonel Heath. Featuring the entertainment were boxing, music, vaudeville, and chow by Firm Roberts, Columbus Side lights on the Fort Benning series were: The 29th beat the I. S. D. four games straight to take the post championship.

Kjelstrom and Harrison of the 29th scored the greatest number of runs in the series-three each. Bauch of the I. S. D. led the hitters, coming to bat once to make a percentage of 1000. Hyland, I. S. D., was second with 385, Brown, 29th, third with 352, and McGaha, 29th fourth with Sixteen men averaged a 1000 fielding. Payne of the 29th leading with 20 assists, five put-outs, and no er-

Pvt. J. W. Sartain Dies As Result Of Recent Wreck

Funeral services for Private Jesse W. Sartain, 1st Battalion Headquarters Company, 29th Infantry who was fatally injured in a motorcycle accident at Twelfth avenue and twenty-first street in Columbus, early Sunday afternoon were held at the Protestant Chapel at Fort Benning, Tuesday

Private Sartain was killed when the motorcycle on which he was riding crashed into a vehicle driven by Luther Averett, of 1212 Rose Hill Street, Columbus. Sartain was driving south on Twelfth Avenue, while the automobile driven by Averett was going north on Twelfth Avenue. Mr. Averett was travelling at a normal rate of speed and had pulled over to the right hand side of the road at the time of the crash, witnesses stated. It was thought that Sartain was unfamiliar with the mechanism of the motorcycle. loaned him by H. R. Balance, a corporal in Company A, 29th Infantry, and consequently lost control of the vehicle when the machine skidded.

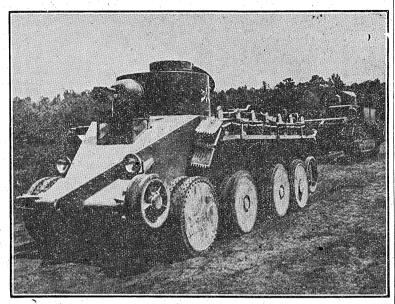

Private Sartain came to Fort Benning on October 6th, 1930, after the termination of an enlistment at the West Point Military Academy, detachment of Engineers in September of the same year.

Following the services at the chapel, the body was escorted to Outpost number one by members of the 1st Battalion Headquarters Company, the 29th Infantry Band and a firing squad of 6 men. From Outpost number one, the body was sent to Columbus to await shipment to his home in Cottondale, Sergeant Charles E. McGaha, Private Sartain's former platoon leader accompanied the body on this trip.

Kingman Honored By Huge Motorized Review

Major Allen F. Kingman, commanding officer, 66th Infantry who was honored today by one of the largest motorized reviews ever held. Major Kingman is leaving Fort Benning after a long assignment here, for a new post in the near future. At right is a photo of one of the mile-a-minute Christie tanks, recent development of the inventor, Walter P. Christie, which featured in the review.

Huge Review Today Honors Commanding Officer Of Part Of 29th Inf. Will Take Part In Spectacle On Gordon Field

66th Infantry, Maj. Kingman, Who Departs Soon

cooperate with the 66th Infantry (Light Tanks) and the 67th Infantry (Medium Tanks) in bidding farewell to Major Allen F. Kingman, tank battalion commander since September 9, 1930, who is leaving Fort Benning soon to take up his new assignment as a student at the Army War College, Washington, D. C. This highly trained body of men of the demonstration regiment will file past the reviewing stand this morning in his honor.

Rumbling and clanking their way across the spacious parade ground of Ft. Benning, the tanks of the 2d Battalion, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks), and Company F, 67th Infan-66th Infantry try (Medum Tanks), passed in review for the last time before Major Allen F. Kingman, commander of the Tank Battalion of the Infantry School. It was the largest motorized review ever to be held by the United States Army in time of peace.

The 2d Battalion 29th Infantry will ponderous forty-four ton Mark VIII, man has seen Tankers splash their lumbering along like some prehistoric monster, to the diminuitve twoman Ford tank, built for the army in the ast days of the war bade farewell to Major Kingman, who has been ordered to duty as a student in the Army War College, Washington, D. C. Quick-firing, shifty Ordnance models, led by the veteran "Fu Manchu," slim, irresistable, six-ton Renaults, nicknamed the "Mad Rabbits" by the enemy in the World War; and, the high-speed Christie, latest weapon of tank warfare to be adopted by the army, paid all their respects to their departing chief, who has done so much to raise this battalion of the Tank Corps to their present high standard.

After the review Major Kingman will witness the last athletic event of the battalion while he is in command, when the Tanks will hold the organization swimming meet at Russ Pool. front of the tank barracks. The re-In the three years that he has been past will be prepared by the Mess but this year he will be unable to see the team compete in the post con-

The 2d Battalion and the "Golden Tornado" of the Tankers are the greatest rivals, in the field of sports, at Fort Benning, and it was while watching these two teams compete upon the gridiron, the sandlot, and the cinder track, that Major Kingman became known to the men of the doughboy unit. His idea of sportsmanship, and his pride in the collection of trophies the Tank Battalion have acquired during his period of duty as commanding officer, have made his name known throughout Fort Benning.

To climax a day spent in entertaining him, the departing commander will be feted by a lawn party, given for all officers and enlisted men, in Ninety-three vehicles in all, from the with the 66th Infantry, Major King force of Company E, 66th Infantry.

Officers Ordered To Report Here Bv September 1st

Orders received by Headquarters, the Infantry School, Fort Benning, from the War Department, state that all officers who are members of staffs and faculties, under orders as students at any Service School, and who are on duty at any place other than the school to which they are assigned, will be relieved and returned to their proper station in order to take up their duties in connection with the Army's educational system.

Orders published by Fourth Corps Area Headquarters at a later date state that the officers who are assigned to the Infantry School, many of whom are on duty with the C. C. C. will be relieved August eighteenth in order that they may return to Fort Benning, on or before September 1. The following officers who have been relieved from duty at other places in the Corps Area, to return to their proper station, are: Captain Ray E. Porter, 29th Infantry, Co. 472, Camp P-76, Chula, Ga.; Capt. Harry W. Caygill, Inf., Co. 1447, Camp P-68, Douglas, Ga.; 1st Lieut. Carl W. Westlund, 29th Inf., Co. 1429, Camp P-56, Warm Springs, Ga.; 1st Lieut. Stephen S. Hamilton, 66th Inf. (Light Tanks), Co. 1439, Camp P-52, Vilas, Florda; 1st Lieut. Julian E. Raymond, 24th Inf., Co. 2401, Camp P-61, Telogia, Fla.; 1st Lieut. Richard T. Mitchell, Inf., Co. 2419, Camp P-63, McRae, Ga.; 1st Lieut. Donald W. Brann, Inf., Co. 476, John B. Grinstead, Inf., Co. 1411, Camp P-54, Albany, Ga.; 2d Lieut. Thomas L. Sherburne, 83rd F. A.; Co. 1414, Camp P-61, Soperton, Ga.; 2d Lieut. Horace L. Beall, Jr., Inf. Co. 1432, Camp P-58, Clayton, Ala.; 2d Lieut. Robert D. Johnston, 29th Inf., Co. 1439, Camp P-52, Vilas, Fla.; 2d Lieut. Francis H. Boos, Inf., Co. 1447, Camp P-68, Douglas G,a.; 2d Lieut. Earl C. Berquist, Inf., Co. 2401, Camp P-61, Telogia, Fla. WEST POINT-

Twenty-One Post Soldiers Complete PreliminaryExams

Twenty one soldiers of the Fort Benning garrison recently completed preliminary examinations for the purpose of attending the West Point preparatory school at Fort McPher-Georgia, These examinations were given in English, algebra and geometry and were conducted by Major William W. Eagles.

The preparatory course which was formerly held at Fort Benning, for candidates desiring to attend West Point Military Academy, New York and receive commissions as second lieutenants, will not be held at the Post this year.

The course that usually begins on July 1, was preliminary training and study for the regular classes held at Fort McPherson and acted as an elimination course for the large number of students who try for admittance to West Point each year.

After the exams were completed, the students' papers were assigned code numbers and sent to Fort Mc-Pherson, Georga, where they will be graded by a board of officers assigned for that purpose.

"In A Pig's Eve!" Says Sherman Descendant As He Carolinian Accepts Porcine Present With Characteristic Southern Grace

Pays Johnny Reb For Theft Sixty-Eight Years Old

to Gen. Douglas McArthur, Arm: chief of saff, received two pigs at the War Department on August 3, and the tale is as follows:

Rqrs. 16th Brigade Office of the Brigade Commander, Washington, D. C., Aug. 2, 1933. Subject: Pigs.

To: Capt. Thos. Jefferson Davis, A. G. D., War Dept., Washington, D. C.

1. In answer to your claim for property stolen by Gen. Wm. T. Sherman during his stroll through Georgia, it gives me great pleasure to be able to reimburse you, in kind, for the property stolen.

2. Gen Sherman was very lenient in terms of peace offered the Rebel

Capt. Thomas Jefferson Davis, aide Army, and I am sure that it was a matter of oversight that your family was not reimbursed many years ago.

3. I hope that this favorable action on your claim will go far to cemen: the friendly relations between the North and the South and at least keep one damned Rebel from claiming that he would have been a millionaire to day had it not been for my uncle's march through the south.

4. Will you be so kind as to acknowledge receipt of the two pigs by indorsement hereon.

(Signed) John B. Sherman, 1st Lieut. Inf. For and in the absence of Wm. T. Sherman, Gen. U. S. Army.

Aug. 3, 1933. Subject: Receipt for Pigs.

To: Lieut. John B. Sherman, aide to Gen. Miles, 16th Brigade, Munitions Building, Washington, D. C. 1. I have the honor to accept two pigs, this date tendered to me in your name, in full satisfaction of damages resulting to the chattels and possessions of the Davis clan through the acquisitive tendencies of the Sherman horde during its historic visit to the state of South Carolina.

2. To me it has been a life-long disappointment that upon your uncle's arrival there my male forbears were unavoidably absent from their homes, engaged in the business of fighting a (Please turn to page 4)

ESSOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS IN

Engagement Of Miss Wiley And Lieutenant Pressley Is Announced

The announcement of the engage-Milton H. Pressley is one of great inonly daughter of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. gia. Her brother is Lieutenant Noble James Wiley, Jr., of Schofield Barracks, Hawaii. Miss Wiley's mother ers of his time.

H()

YOU SHOULD SHOP AT SILVER'S

You can get nearly anything you want here, so you should come prepared with your lists. Just write down the little things you want, come here, and you'll save time and money both!

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST. SHOP SAFELY HERE!

was the former Miss Hulett Frapp ment of Miss Hulett Wiley to Lieut. daughter of the late Colonel and Mrs. Frapp of Cuthbert, Georgia. On both terest throughout Army and civilian her maternal and paternal sides, the circles. The lovely bride-elect is the bride is a representative of pioneer families of distinction in the South. Noble James Wiley, who are now | Her father was the son of Colonel and stationed at Fort McPherson, Geor. Mrs. A. A. Wiley of Montgomery, Alabama, Col. Wiley having been one of the most prominent Southern-

> Miss Wiley is a graduate of Western High School in Washington, D. C. and completed her education at the Ossining School for Girls at Ossining, N. Y. She has travelled extensively both in this country and abroad. She has been a frequent and popular visitor at Fort Benning, having been the guest of Miss Page Michie sev-

> Lieut. Pressley is at present assigned to the 29th Infantry and this fall will be a student in the Company Officers' Course. He graduated from the United States Military Academy

> The marriage of the popular young couple will take place at the Post Chapel at Fort McPherson on Tuesday, August 29th.

MAJOR AND MRS. LEARD FETED Among the many delightful affairs hich have been given in honor of Major and Mrs. Emil W. Leard was the dinner Friday evening at the Officers Club given by Mrs. Selina Waddington. Mrs. Waddington had as her guests Major and Mrs. Leard, Lieut. and Mrs. George P. Howell, Miss Louise Waddington, Capt. Arnold T. Funk, Capt. George T. Forster and Lieut. James E. Bowen. After dinner the guests were escorted to the Post movies.

DEPARTING COUPLE ENTER-

Major and Mrs. Emil W. Leard, who leave Saturday for Washington, D. C., were the honor guests Tuesday evening at a delightful dinner party at the attractive quarters of Major and Mrs. Charles W. Yuill. Throughout the house multi-colored zinnias were used, while the dining table was graced by a silver bowl of pink roses flanked by pink candles.

The Yuills' guests were: Major and Mrs. Leard, Captain and Mrs. Robert

Today's Fashion

In Between Hats By VERA WINSTON

JUST NOW there is need of a hat or two to bridge the gap between the white hats of summer and the dark hats that we'll all soon be wearing. In the sketch are two models for wear right now. First is a beret type of hat in thin black felt. It has a visor brim in oxford gray. The bow is of white lacquered satin. The nice little toque is of brown satin in bands. The stiffened flange at the top is very smart. The feather fancy is in red and brown

B. McClure, Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph P. Cleland, Mrs. Colby, Mrs. Mor-ris B. De Pass: Mrs. Charles W. Pence, Mrs. Albert H. Dickerson and Capt. Wilbur S. Elliott.

MEDICAL BRIDGE CLUB MEETS AT NURSES' QUARTERS.

Bridge lovers continue to play in spite of the heat as evidenced by the Medical Corps Bridge Club meeting at the Nurses' Quarters on Tuesday. The hostesses were Mesdames J

F. Cosby, James S. Brunnette, and Wayne E. Brandstadt. Five tables of contract assembled at two o'clock and played until four-thirty when a refreshing iced salad was served.

PERSONALS

Major and Mrs. Emil W. Leard plan to leave Fort Benning on Saturday for Washington, D. C. where Major Leard has been assigned to duty with the Army Industrial College.

Friends of Mrs. Charles W. Hunt will be delighted to learn that she is the guest of her mother, Mrs. Rhodes Brown, of Columbus. Colonel and Mrs. Hunt left Fort Benning last for Fort Howard, Máryland.

A group of Fort Benning boys left for Chicago to attend "The Century of Progress." This tour is conducted by the Boy Scouts of America. The boys who will be gone for ten days are: Tommy Arms, Arms, Wendell Bevan, George Pope, and Bill Pearson.

> Dependable Electric and Gas Service

A Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

Miss Katherine Lemly, attractive daughter of Lt. Col. and Mrs. Rowan P. Lemly, plans to have as her house guests next week Mr. Jay White, son of the American ambassador to Italy, and Mr. Wm. Worthington Russell, son of the American minister to Siam. Many delightful affairs will be had in their honor.

Mrs. S. F. Anderson POST EXCHANGE DRESS MAKER DRAPES AND CHAIR COVERS MADE TO ORDER PHONE 631

FLOWERS AND PLANTS

Fresh from our greenhouses, will carry a message that will please you.

Benning Boulevard Nurseries

WE TELEGRAPH FLOWERS

Benning Road

Phone 4176

WE OFFER THE SERVICES OF OUR RENTAL DEPARTMENT

To All Incoming Officers To Assist Them In Getting Pleasantly Located For The Coming School Year.

FLOURNOY REALTY CO.

(REALTORS)

Exclusive Agents for WILDWOOD COURT APARTMENTS

3 Phones 465

Everything for the Home

FURNITURE RUGS PHILCO RADIOS LEONARD

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS

. . . and when we say everything, we mean just that. We are able to supply you with everything you need for any home, from parlor to kitchen-and all of our stock is as modern as the World's Fair!

1141 BROADWAY

PHONE 409

COLUMBUS, GEORGIA

We need hardly to tell you of the comprehensive service which the Grocery Department is giving the personnel of Benning. It promotes economy and helps relieve the strain of eternally wondering what to give next to the clamoring family or the expectant dinner-guest.

We invite you to use our facilities at any time.

GROCERY DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

You've Heard Of Epicurus?

of course you have

You've studied about him and read about him-the famous old Greek philosopher who let his tastes be guided by his intellect, And it's safe to say that he'd have chosen Coca Cola had he been living in the present time. In the new SIX-BOX they're

ONLY

PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

SOLD EVERYWHERE AND THE

FAVORITE EVERYWHERE!

Whether you're in Frisco or New York, whether you are in Manitoba or Cuba you can get Coca-Colas. Ask for them!

SOLD BY ALL COLUMBUS GROCERS

Big Fish

Corporal Lawrence R. Guner, Co E, 66th Infantry, Supply Sergeant for C. C. Co. No. 1424, and two members of the organization are shown here with the result of a hard day of trolling, casting, and feeding the wiser fish, and from the smug smiles on those sunny countenances one can readily seen that they are not disappointed with the outcome of their efforts as followers of Isaac Walton.

COCOANUTS?

What I want is a dish of that good old Kinnett's Ice Cream. If I had that, even this desert island wouldn't be so bad, cocoanuts and all. And you can bet that it will be one of the first things I get after I'm rescued!

Sold at the Officers' Club

KINNETT'S ICE CREAM

THE

Post Exchange

has a

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

... which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The hours of this service are from 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GA.

ized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

This proves the fact that men still believe in bringing home the bacon, only in this case the meat happens to be a collection of the scaly creatures that inhabit the babbling brooks and the limpid lakes of the sunny south. The string of perch, catfish, bass, pike, and croppies would do justice to most anyone's luck at fishing. C. C. C. Company 1424 is located at Waynesboro, Georgia, under the command of Captain J. A. Stuart, who before his assignment to C. C. C. duty was commanding officer of Co. D, 66th Infantry. Captain Stuart is ably assisted in carrying out his part of President Roosevelt's Reforestation Plan by Sergeant "Spike" McKelvey of Company D, 66th and Corporal Gunther.

Cpl. L. R. Guner and Catch

Pvt. Sartain

We regret to inform our readers of the death of Private Jesse W. Sartain, Headquarters Company First Battalion, 29th Infantry who was killed in a motorcycle accident in Columbus last Sunday afternoon.

Sartain was well liked by every member of the Company and in his passing we lose a very efficient soldier and man.

Sartain came to 1st Battalion Headquarters Company in the fall of 1930 and since that date has made a name for himself, not only as an excellent member of this organization and the intelligence platoon to which he was assigned, but as a soldier who was devoted to his duties. His untiring efforts to please everyone he was associated with and his pleasant manners made him one of the most popular men in Headquarters Company. Private Sartain, had no favorites, he was a friend to everyone, a pal in the true sense of the word and a comrade that would fight to the finish for the interests of the ones that he loved.

Not only while a member of this organization was Jesse liked, but time after time, his "buddies" in the Engineer Detachment at the West Point Military Academy, at West Point, New York, would shower him with letters and greetings on his birthdays in commemoration of the time when he was a member of that detachment.

Words cannot express the manner in which we wish to convey our feelings, but may the Almighty Power in the Heavens hear our humble plea and transmit to our beloved comrade the sorrow that is in the heart of each and every man in this company.

MEMBERS HQ. CO., 1ST BN.

HARRIS CO. Renting

Special attention given Fort Benning Officers Kindly call and let us assist you in getting located

Office, 12th Street

Phones 250-251

HARRIS

29th Inf.

HQ. CO., 1ST BN.

In the last entry, ye scribe forgot to make mention of the fact that several of the men are on furlough and other facts of interest.

Private William K. Roberts has departed on a 60-day respite from duty to the "Gator State." Cpl. Jerald C. Hays, our erstwhile company clerk left for his home in Inverness, Mississippi, accompanied by James G. Weaver, have a good time fellows and give the folks at home our best re-

Two of the company, foremost noncommissioned officers are on duty with the three C's, one, Sgt. Albert L. Bagley is at Gulfport, Mississippi and he oher Staff Sergeant Howard Justice, our communications chief extraordinary is stationed "somewhair" in Louisiana-greeting sergeants, hope to see your smiling physogs now Several new recruits have joined that the School has definitely decided the battery and they are learning

(Please turn to page 5)

83rd F. A.

HQ., HQ. BATTERY AND C. T. Staff Sergeant Edward P. Roper, a member of this battery for over a period of eleven years, has reached the end of his career as an active soldier. Sgt. Roper will retire from the army on Sept. 30, 1933 after having served thirty years. Sgt. Roper has served in the Philippines, China and Panama; he is also a survivor of the Galveston Flood after which he spent several weeks in the hospital and finally had to have a silver plate put in his head as the result of a building falling on him. So you see Sgt. Roper's life in the army was no bed of roses. We all wish him the best of health and spirit in his days of leisure and that he may enjoy the Several new recruits have joined to function this year. How about duickly the ways and habits of the that Hole demonstration, "Here's army. We hope that their stay in rest of his life in comfort.

(Continued on Page 4)

NAVY

INSIGNIA

A Suggestion

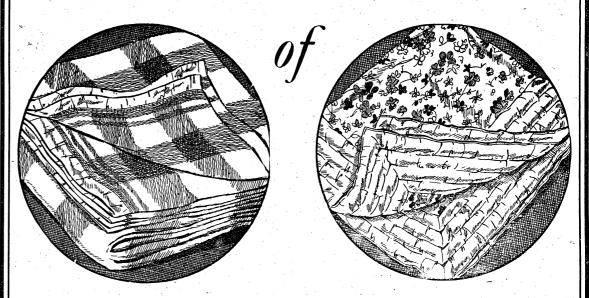

As manufacturers we wish to announce that we have not yet raised prices on Military and Naval Insignia and Uniform Equipment. Nevertheless, price advances are imminent and will be considerable.

WE RECOMMEND PURCHASING YOUR NEEDS NOW

N. S. MEYER INC.

43 East 19th Street, New York At Your Post Exchange or Dealer

KIRVEN'S AUGUST SALE

BLANKETS - COMFORTS

are offered in Kirven's Sale at prices at least 25% lower than replacement cost. Kirven's bought them early in the year for this sale; bought them before the advance. Now you get the benefit of our early purchase.

A real soft part wool blanket. Size 70x80. Assorted colors, Rose, Gold Blue, $2.95 Green and Lavender

A pure 100% virgin wool reversible blanket. Size 66x80. Warm as the proverbial toast. Assorted color combi-$4.50

A soft fluffy single color virgin wool blanket. Size 72x84. Rose, Gold, Blue, $5.50 Green and Lavender Green and Lavender

A pure virgin wool double blanket in bright plaids. Size 66x80. Same $5.50 Solid color and floral design fine rayon fabric covered virgin wool comfort. Extra large size 72x87. Rose, Gold Blue, $5.50

Green and Orchid Green and Orchid

Fine quality plain color sateen covered virgin wool comfort. Size 72x78. Assorted gin wool comion. Size , colors in Rose, Gold, Blue, Green $6.50 and Lavender

Fine quality figured sateen covered virgin wool comfort. Size 72x78. Same $7.50 assortment of colors as above

Plain silk covered all virgin wool comfort. Size 72x87. Warm, comfortable and beautiful. Same colors as $11.50 above

A pure goose down comfort. Sateen covered in floral designs. Size $16.50 72x87. Same color assortment

MAIN FLOOR

Phone 556

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Columbus, Georgia

NUMBER 16 VOLUME III. AUGUST 11, 1933 L. C. Kunze-____Publisher Society Editor Sports Editor D. P. HARDING. Louis T. Kunze____

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,
BALTIMORE

Here's To Your Health

BY MAJOR HOMER L. CONNER, Medical Inspector

Septic Sore Throat

This is a serious acute respiratory disease with the causative organisms (germs) in the discharges of the mouth and nose

The onset of the disease is sudden. There is intense congestion or inflammation of the throat, tonsils and larynx and often the formation of membrane. Prostration is severe. The lymph nodes (glands) in the neck are swollen. A high fever is the rule. Everybody is susceptible to septic sore throat. An attack only produces a temporary immunity.

The organism which causes the disease is a streptococcus which is al-Contact with a person having this disease or one who has the causative organisms in his throat may be followed in from one ot five days by an outbreak of the disease in others.

more commonly appears as a sudden outbreak of several or many cases within a few days of one another. These outbreaks are often traced to a particular milk supply. In the past few years there have been several such epidemics, investigations of which has always shown that a human carrier has been responsible for the contamination of the milk. The milk contamination as a rule has not been a direct one from the throat of the carrier to the milk, but rather war. I assure you that nothing less important could have prevented them from being present to extend to the strangers within their gates a type of hospitality and warmth of greeting appropriate to the circumstances. My only consolation for this failure on our part has been the knowledge that damned Yanks enjoyed to the full the sport of swine-chasing-no doubt because it afforded them the novel experience of running toward rather than from an adversary, even if only a pig.

SHERMAN SENDS PIGS

(Continued From Page 1)

3. I trust that this acknowledgement of Davis culpability will combine with your belated act of restitution to assuage the pangs of a festering conscience. My hope is that these pigs in their maturity will come to appreciate the full significance of I do kidnaping of their ancestors almost (Signed) T. J. Davis, Capt. Adjutant Gen's. Dept. Aide to the Chief of Staff.

There was considerable excitement in the corridors of the War Department and in the office of Capt. Davis, opposite that of the chief of staff. Davis posed with the pigs and said: "You know, even though Sherman did send me those pigs liked them. I called one Whiskey because he is tall and thin. The other is Soda. They kinda went together, you know

"I think I would have kept them but the general (Gen. Douglas Mc-Arthur)—well, he didn't go for them; no, not at all."

(Please turn to page 5)

an indirect one from the mouth or nasal discharge to the hands of the carrier and then from his hands to the udder of the cow. The cow develops garget which if not discovered results in millions of organisms growing in the udder and these gain access to the milk. The victim of the disease is the consumer of this infected milk supply. Cases that occur through direct contact have no relation to milk. They are transmitted by the nasal or throat secretion which contaminates the hands or any surface or any article which it contacts. Thus several cases in a house or family and their close friends can be ways of human origin and one that is traced to direct contact and not to closely related to the organism that milk. The control of the disease is causes scarlet fever and erysipilas. based on its methods of spread. The case must be isolated and eare taken to prevent its spread to others through the discharges of the mouth, nose or ears.

The control of the milk supply is Septic sore throat is a disease that the only known method of preventing milk epidemics. As epidemics have been known to occur even from "certified milk" there is only one absolute and certain method that can he relied on to prevent them. Every drop of milk, be it "certified," "market," or to be used in the manufacture of milk products, must be prop erly pasteurized.

Ony pasteurized milk is safe for human consumption.

Fort Benning has this safe supply

83RD F. A. (Continued from page 3)

Headquarters battery will be a pleas

Foots Cutrer is contemplating opening a new gym in the vicinity of Fiddlers' Green, Columbus, Ga. Sev eral young ladies have applied for membership in the ladies' class which will be conducted three evenings a week. We hope that What-a-Man Cutrer will not fall for any of the weaker sex.

Sgt. Cantrell paid a visit to the city of Columbus the other afternoon. This is not Christmas Eve. Bearcat, so we all wonder whether or not you might have had a birthday.

Famous last words by our Battery Clerk: "The wheels of progress are turning."

BATTERY "A"

Sgt. Hudgins, our well known mule sergeant is spending a well earned vacation this week with his animals in the pasture area, accompanied by Slim Dozier, the hard working horse shoer and snake charmer.

Sgt. Red Fulford returned from a furlough recently bragging about a swell vacation. From the callouses on his hands, he must have had a very good one.

The battery has been getting a break lately, as soon as one man comes off furlough there is another waiting to take his place.

Seven of our men are getting dis charged within the next seven days, and from all reports most of them are not going to re-up. We would turn reported like to know the reason. Pvt. String joyable time.

SATELLITES

By N. H. HOBBS

Men may come and men may go, but some of the members of the Unted States Army choose to remain in the service for a period of thirty years and retire from active duty upon completion of the three decades of

make the army their business in life is Corporal Thomas B. Calloway, In-Among those who have chosen to fantry School Detachment, Fort Benning, Georgia. Corporal Calloway first entered the army as a member of the 14th Cavalry, located at the Presidio of Monterey, Californa. From 1906 until the following year he served with this unit and when in 1907. an idea of General Arthur MacArthur was put into effect and a School of Musketry established at Monterey, Corporal Calloway and two other men of the 14th Cavalry Squadron were the first enlisted men to serve with what is now the Infantry School of Fort Benning. He stayed on duty with this institution for some time and then returned to his old outfit. Little did he realize that he had helped to start the greatest school of arms in the world, and still less did he imagine that he had aided in creating the Infantry School Detachment, the only "Battalion of Specialists" in the U. S. Army, the unit with which he is now serving. Time has changed things since the day when Corporal Calloway first saw duty with the I. S. D., and it has expanded into a great unit of the army, from three enlisted men to over four hundred. After serving out his time with the 14th, "Tom" as he is affectionately called by his comrades, joined the 3rd Cavalry, overseas with this organization. The regiment was held in resèrve and did not see action in the front lines The transport, on which he was sailing, became lost from the British escort during a three-day storm off the coast of Ireland and when it reached port, Corporal Calloway found that ne was carried on the records as "lost at sea." After his return from France he became a member of the 6th Cayalry, and wishing to change the branch of service he joined up with the 8th Infantry, but only serv ed 8 months as a doughboy before transferred into the Infantry School Detachment, where he is now

Corporal Calloway is a native of Weagfka, Alabama, born there October 28, 1884. He received his early education while living in this city. When he enlisted in the army Tom was a resident of Birmingham, Alabama. He has qualified as Expert in the use of the rifle on every occasion that he has ever fired on the range, and is one of the few men of the Cavalry to fire the mounted pistol course with a score of one hundred

This pioneer in the establishment of the organization with which he is now serving, is a clerk of the second section, Academic Department of the Infantry School. Modest and unasuming, he carries on his everyday duties in a manner, gained by over twenty-five years with the army, which reflects nothing but credit upon his fellow says the hills of Tennessee are Four more new recruits were reand K, P. duty for the old men.

BATTERY "C"

We are beginning to enjoy the summer period since we have turned our horses into the pasture. The old grooming kits are beginning to get a little rusty from lack of use.

1st Lt. Crosby has joined the bat tery and we are very glad to have him. We only hope that he will not be sent away on C. C. C. duty as the other officers were.

Pvt. 1cl Barks has been rated Speck 6th cl and is now one of our cooks We hope he doesn't poinson anyone

Pvt. 1cl Whitley spent the past week in the southern part of Georgia. He went to Richland and upon his return reported that he had a very en-

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all." -John Wolcot.

Conducted By D. P. H.

CAPARISONED COLONEL CAUGHT IN CATACLYSM

An incident in the life of Colonel Persons, the Powerful Personality who presides over the Destiny of the Demonstration Regiment, has just been brought to our attention and we give it to you as all in a day's work.

Colonel Persons esablished his reputation as a judge of human beauty last July when, on the Glorious Fourth, he journeyed over to Phenix City and unerringly picked the Winner in a Bathing Beauty Contest. We say "unerringly" for you know that one must be Unerring when serving as a Judge in a Beauty Contest. Since that event The Twenty-ninth' Tribal Chief has clearly demonstrated that he is also a good judge of the beauties of Nature. He has converted the Barren Waste of red clay which formerly surrounded his Quarters on Buzzard's Row into a vernal vision of natural loveliness. Of course he has had some assistance, such as advice from his Better Half and a little manual help from a Striker. He has a new Striker now-and thereby hangs a tale.

It seems that one evening the Colonel and The Missus had a Dinner Date at which Rank was to predominate. This, of course, called for the Gladdest of Glad Rags, Mess Jacket, Christmas Tree Ornaments, and Everything. Furthermore the event required that the guests arrive On Time. The Time Element did not bother the man who, through many years service has been known to his Intimates as "Punctuality Persons," as at five minutes before "H" Hour, we find the Colonel leaving his Quarters faultlessly attired in a meticulously laundered Mess Jacket, perfectly pressed trousers, and all of the accessories that a Well Dressed Officer should wear. As he sauntered down the front walk he paused to peer with pride at the lovely lawn and the bower of beauty which his efforts had created out of a wildernest. Pause—What is this?—The Lawn Sprinkler was not Sprinkling. Not only that but it was sitting on the south side of a Rose Bush instead of on the west side. He Tiptoed through the Tulips, carefully moved the sprinkler from the south to the west side of the Rose Bush, and then turned away to go to the other side of the house where the faucet connection to the hose had been cleverly concealed by a cunning Construction Quartermaster.—Enter the Ides of March.—Kismet!—The gambian Striker, who had been taking a Siesta on the shady side of the house, suddenly awoke and seized this precise moment, when his employer had turned his immaculate back to the silent sprinkler, to turn on the water

Colonel Persons appeared at the Party in Civilian evening clothes and he was five minutes late.

A CORRECTION

A short time ago when the writer of this paragraph was temporarily Furnishing Fuel for the Flare, he fed the flames with an article concerning Parson Golightly and his Man Friday in which article a certain amount of Hyperbole and Antithesis was used. It is possible that some readers misunderstood the article through their unfamiliarity with those above mentioned figures of speech so often indulged in by what Forrest Harding would call a litterateur. This is written toc correct any impression which anyone might have gained that Contractor Golightly was not doing things with the New Officers' Club, and that work had ceased with the departure from the post of his Armenian Assistant Aloysius O'Flaherty. If there is any doubt in any reader's mind as to the amount of progress being made on Go-Getter Golightly's Pet Project, a visit to the Club Building which is arising on the north shore of what time, thus assuring Capable Chaperused to be called Lake Malone (and onage, and by rushing two at a time what would still be called Lake Malone if General Malone were here ground in the given time. We hope and if there was a Lake) will correct that when his Best Friend and Severhave been gained by a previous article in this column. The progress that is being made on the club by Newt, his soldier helpers, and his colossal Civilian pay roll of $5.00 per day is nothing short of miraculous. Sometime when you are resting, drop over and see some real workers.

INFORMATION FOR THE INQUISITIVE

Any reader of this column who may desire information as to name, facts, or figures of anything appearing in the Flare is requested to follow these instructions carefully. First on one sheet of letter size paper, using a typewriter, and writing on one side and state why it is desired. Second: manly form, military carriage, and Prepare a stamped and self-addressed envelope in a larger envelope and mail it to Santa Claus.

S. P. E. A. W. NOTES

Two Flares ago note was made that Beau Brummel Bowen had joined the Society for the Preveniton of Ennui Among Widows, and based on the number of inquisitive questions which have been asked of our sleuth, the whole Post is Panting for details of his doings. We don't know whether Beau Brummel has acted with malice aforethought or whether he is just that kind of an hombre, but at any rate he has proved himself to be a Double-Crossing Model Member of the Society. We say doublecrossing for he has double-crossed the Scandal Seekers, and we say Model Member for he has been the means of preventing Ennui among a maximum number of Widows. Bowen has been very, very busy but he has always (well, almost always) devoted himself to two widows at a he has covered the greatest amount of erroneous impression that may est Critic returns from her leave some kind friend will show her this Certificate of Character.

Two Post Widows, either dissatisfied with the amount of attention received or not aiming to be amused by amateurs, went outside the local Chapter of the Society last week end and journeyed up state to Blue Ridge, Georgia to see what sort of entertainment Captain George Forster, who is an ex post facto member of the society, could turn out for them. Ex Post Facto is not used in the Judge Advocate General Betts Legal Sense. After two days the Weary Widows wended their ways homeward with their noses a little out of joint, And we use that expression only alonly, ask for the information desired legorically. Captain George, whose suave social ways have endeared him to Debutante and Dowager for the past two years at Benning, is now Farmers of that part of the country commanding a C. C. C. Company in and their Daughters. On August 13th, the vicinity of Blue Ridge Georgia-The Metropolis of North Georgia is what George calls it in his Rotary ing or something to which all the Club speeches. George may have political aspirations, at any rate he is his Company have been invited. At making himself solid with the Prole all these parties, Gentleman George tariat in his new precinct. The week not only feeds them but he enter-end of July 30th George held a Barbecue at which he entertained the Churches of the vicinity and their Ministers. The week end of August 6th he entertained, at a Barbecue, the Barbecue George is going to have an Old Home Week or Home Comfathers and mothers of the boys in

(Please turn to page 5)

THE FLARE (Continued from page 4)

COMPLETE YOUR SILVER SERVICE NOW

BEFORE THE BIG ADVANCE

STERLING SILVERWARE

GORHAM, KIRK, TOWLE, WALLACE REED & BARTON, INTERNATIONAL

C. SCHOMBURG & SON

JEWELERS 1121 BROADWAY

ROBERT KLOEPPEL

COLUMBUS, GA.

AT THE SIGN OF THE BIG CLOCK

JACKSONVILLE GEORGE WASHINGTON'S 300 ROOMS - 300 BATHS NEWEST AND FINEST Every Known Facility - Garage Directly Connecting Lobby - Radio MAYFLOWER ... A BEAUTIFUL HOTEL Splendid Facilities - Garage - Radio Coffee Shoppe FLAGLER 8 MODERN AS THE BEST EVERY CONVENIENCE POR SUMMER COMFORT .. PRICES IN KEEPING WITH THE TIMES ..

THEY'RE GOOD TO LOOK AT

OWNER

DIRECTOR

THEY'RE BETTER TO TASTE!

TOASTED PEANUTS

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded for the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

Enlisted Mens' Club Host Here At Popular Hop

Last Wednesday evening, one of the most brilliant dances of the season was held at the Japanese Ballroom of the 29th Infantry. This dance was in the form of a sport hop and was sponsored by the Savage Club of the 1st Battalion, 29th Infantry. It was declared one of the greatest social activities of the summer season.

At exactly 8:20 p. m. on Wednesday, the busses transporting the fair damsels from the City of Columbus made their appearance on the scene. Upon being greeted at the door each patron was presented with a favor, in the form of a "lollypop"—pink, blue, green, "yaller" and many other varieties.

The music, furnished by the Jazz Pirates of the 24th Infantry, started promptly at 8:30 o'clock, opening with the theme song of the Savages, "Stormy Weather"—after finishing this number the orchestra played "The Washington and Lee Swing" the vocal refrain, a clever little ditty composed by members of the club was sung by Benny Stolier and brother Youngblood.

Mrs. P. E. Bryan, wife of 1st Sgt. Bryan was elected hostess for Wednesday's entertainment and certainly played the part well. She not only kept the "wallflowers" supplied with partners but also lent a distinctive air to the colorful affair by her pleasant mannerisms and sociability.

Every form of sport apparel was worn at this event, the swimming suit predominated however, leading by a large majority in the different types of sports clothes portrayed.

The Savage Club members wish to show their appreciation of the manner in which the patrons swung into the spirit of this gala social affair and boosted the stock of the Savage Club to unreached heights in the market of danceland at the Infantry tans them with Parades and Reviews and Camp Inspections. He has been obliged to have his entire set of Forestry Tools replaced at least once and none of them has been worn out through fair wear and tear The shovels, spades and saws have been worn thin and rendered useless for work by being highly polished for inspection. What long standing influence George used we can't imagine but he managed to get the Band over from Fort McPherson to help in the entertainment by dispensing silver strains of martial music in the circumambient air. Barbecue George is certainly committing himself to the community where the exigencies of the service have placed him and it is rumored that he is slated for Mayor of Blue Ridge as soon as the United States Army can spare his O'Cutie O'Connor took a long time to get started as a member of the S. P. E. A. W., but they do say "the slower the start the faster the finish." In fact Cutie's change from an associate member to an active one would seem to date from that Perfect Party the Persons gave last Saturday at the 29th Camp. Cutie cavorted and chattered ceaselessly like hte charming chevalier (We did not capitalize chevalier purposely-look it up in your dictionary) that he is. During the dancing, some fair recipient of his favors told him that tangoed with an Hibernian accent which a few lessons in Spanish would correct. O'Conner is thorough and he forthwith dated himself up for a Castilian Curriculum. Now oft of a stilly evening should you pass the Right porch you might hear the soft voice of Cutie speaking Spanish as she is spoke-in the Philippines.

CITATION

The Citation for the Week goes to The Mother of Mary Wadsworth. When Mary was brought home having ridden Tom Finley into a tree and an examination had shown that Mary had a very badly bruised knee, Brownie in the true Style of the Spartan Mother, calmly said "Thank the Lord long skirts are being worn —E. F. R. SHERMAN SENDS PIGS (Continued From Page 4)

The story behind the pigs is reported to have resulted from Capt. Thos. Jefferson Davis ordering 1st Lieut. John B. Sherman to salute the Confederate flag during the Roosevelt inaugural parade. They were standing together, and Capt. Davis saw an opportunity to settle a score with Sherman. He saluted the flag and commanded his junior to do likewise.

Capt. Davis, it seems, had frequent ly asked Sherman to replace the property taken by Sherman's marchers from the Davis ancestral home.

> 29TH INFANTRY (Continued From Page 3)

the wire! where do you want it?" Private Sidney E. Shannon and William H. Stanfied are still debating the possibilities of the Akron's survival, Stanfield is pro and Shann oniscon-who will win? Don't fail to see the next chapter of this thrilling serial in next Saturday's Herald.

Cpl. Norman H. Hobbs was the recipient of a beautiful silver-plated cigarette case at the Tacky Dance sponsored by the Revelers Club of the Second Battalion recently. How come yo' all so lucky man?

HENRY GRADY HOTEL

PEACHTREE AT CAIN Atlanta, Ga.

550 rooms of comfort and convenience. Each room has ceiling fan, circulating ice water, radio and either shower or tub bath; corner rooms have both. Open Dining Terrace and Coffee Shop.

Rooms from $2

J. F. de Jarnette Vice-Pres. & Mgr.

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS RESOURCES OVER

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

A transaction with us is never completed until the customer is thoroughly satisfied.

H. ROTHSCHILD

FURNITURE COMPANY

Leading Furniture Dealers In Columbus For 39 Years.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Benning Amateurs Meet Detroit A.

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

turned in performances within the last two weeks which succeeded in from his tennis throne. startling the entire world of baseball. First, Dizzy Dean crashed all existing modern records for strikeouts in a single game by fanning seventeen Cubs. Then Carl Hubbell, New York Giants shutout ace, blanked all opposition for forty-five innings, a truly remarkable feat. This also surpassed the former record.

But it remained for Lefty Grove to throw the monkey wrench into the smooth-working Yankee machine, which had not been shutout for two seasons. The New Yorkers, with their "murderer's row," were capable of being beaten, certainly, but opposing pitchers invariably banked on hitting strength from their own teammates to accomplish the ankee down-

Lefty Grove has generally been conceded the greatest pitcher in either circuit for the last few years. It was fitting, therefore, that the lean, wiry speedball artist finally stopped the Yankees. Grove let the New Yorkers down with five hits and a row of nine imposing goose eggs.

The 1933 Davis Cup campaign was highly revealing. Two net artists were practically catapulted into the international spotlight—Fred Perry of England and Jack Crawford of Australia. Neither had previously occupied a very high place in the The tremendous shadow of achievements. The name of Vines was on everybody's lips. But this same gigantic shadow lay stretched out in a grotesque position on a tennis court not long ago, while the player who had caused its downfall woman's team to atone for the strongwas the center of a large group of awe-inspired admirers. That player matches. With Mrs. Helen Wills was Fred Perry and he had just suc. Moody in good physical condition, ceeded in doing what tennis experts

Three big league pitchers have two hours before had deemed almost impossible—he had toppled Vines

> But this dynamic Englishman was not content with merely beating the greatest tennis player of the age. He led his teammates to victory in the challenge round with France. Perry conclusively proved that he was no flash in the pan by taking Cochet into camp in his first match. Then, after dropping the first set to the youngster, Merlin, he stormed through the remaining three sets to clinch the Davis Cup for England.

Perry first came to the attention of tennis experts when he got as far as the semi-finals in the national championships at Forest Hills last year. This, in itself, was a notable achievement, but the Englishman did not stop there. His game gradually improved until he now deserves to rank high up among the best ten tennis players in the world.

Jack Crawford's meteoric rise to fame is scarcely less remarkable. First, he overcame Henri Cochet in straight sets to win the French championship, then he went to the finals in the Wimbledon tournament where he demolished Ellsworth Vines to win the title. In the Australian-England cup match, he did everything in his power to get Australia in the final round by polishing off both Austin and Perry, the two British representatives. But, unfortunately, Vivian McGrath, sixteen year old tennis w nder, and Crawfor's teammate, Ellsworth Vines dimmed their failed to live up to expectations and twice bowed before the Union Jack.

> American men tennis players having failed to bring home the bacon, (Please turn to page 7)

Southern Champs Boast Wealth Of Boxing Talent

The championship leatherpunching Simon Pures of Fort Benning will show their wares against the Detroit Athletic Club on Tuesday, August the Fifteenth. The card will be a benefit for Willie Ptomey, the scrapping two-fisted, redblooded doughboy who went a long way in the game when he was in his prime. All the proceeds of the match will be given over to him.

Detroit arrived here with a string of fighters that numbered several state champions and runners-up for state championships among them. The whole outfit, as a unit, is considered to be one of the strongest amateur aggregations in the north. But in the Fort Benning glovetossers, the Wolverines will meet opponents worthy of their steel.

The Simon Pures from the shady banks of the Upatoi, coached by Lieutenant Howard Johnson, ran roughshod over all opposition in the annual southeastern boxing meet held at Mobile last April. When the dust of battle had risen from the ring, and scorekeepers had totaled up the points accumulated by Fort Benning, it was found that the doughboys had annexed 42 ponts to their nearest rival's 21. In other words, the meet was a walkaway. The Mobile tournament saw four soldiers crowned amateur champions of the southeast in their divisions; five other doughboys fourth their way to the finals before being eliminated.

Roy Whatley, ace middleweight, will head the list of amateurs tossing gloves on the memorable night of August the Fifteenth. Roy first came to the public eye when he demolished four successive opponents in the 1932 southeastern tourney held in Atanta. He put every fighter that entered the same ring with him in such quick order that he was groomed for a berth on the 1932 Olympic team. But Whatley, new to the game, lacked experience, and after fighting his way to the semi-finals in the national tournament in New York, lost a close decision to a man with much more experience.

Whatley again demonstrated championship form in the Mobile tournament this year, capturing the middleweight title without too much difficulty. Only one fighter went the whole route with the soldier, who for the first time showed real boxing boxing ability. He never had a chance to show how well he could box before. He put his opponents away too soon.

The entire Fort Bennng team is composed of a glittering array of individual stars. Charles Floyd, bantam king of the southeast, won his title by defeating Billy Floyd in an all-Benning final, the first of three to grace the championship bouts of the tourney. Neal Milan disposed of Joe Graves, also hailing from Fort Benning, in the welterweight division. Milan walloped Graves with a right to the heart in the second round, and Joe tasted resin.

In the third all-Benning final, Marvin Penland, husky heavy, defeated Lonnie Wilson in three rounds of furious mauling to win the championship. This bout was generally conceded to be the best on the program and had the crowd on the edge of their seats throughout the three bitterly-contested rounds.

Five Benning fighters were runner-ups. Al Leguigan, dynamic little flyweight, waded through the preliminary rounds in a most emphatic manner before being eliminated in the final. Joe Graves, Marshall Grosse, Billy Floyd, and Lonnie Wilson, were the others to perform in

(Please turn to page 7)

:-: BASEBALL

(By N. H. HOBBS)

It is mighty hard to predict who will be the winner in the second half of Fort Benning's intramural baseball season.

At the present writing the Second Battalion Kellys of the 29th Infantry are leading the league with a total of 5 games played, 4 won and one lost. Thundering on their heels is the Special Units nine of the Infantry School Detachment and Headquarters Battalion of the Demonstration Regiment, third. The Greencords have played four games, won three and suffered defeat at the hands of the Black Pirates in the other, while Headquarters Team, known to the seasoned fans as the "Black Pirates," have played 5, won 3 and lost 2. The 1st Battalion of the 29th Infantry is fourth on the percentage ladder having played 4, won 2 and lost 2 for a percentage of

The Terrible Tankers are next to the dugout position with a percentage of 400, while the Artillery still holds the cellar.
HOW THEY STAND

to the control of the	Played	Won	Lost	Percent
Second Battalion	. 5	4	1	800
Special Units	. 4	3	1.	750
Headquarters Battalion	5	3	. 2	600
First Battalion		2	2	500
Tanks	. 5	2	3	400
Artillery	. 5	0	5	000

Games of Recent Date Played At Gowdy Field

SECOND BATTALION AND SPECIAL UNITS

August 3rd

In a hectic game played at Gowdy field on Thursday, August 3rd, the Special Units of the Infantry School Detachment downed the 1st Battalion, 29th Infantry 6 to 3.

The Kellys held the Greencords scoreless until the eighth inning when the Units came to life and shoved four markers across the plate to lead the Blue Thunderbolt, 4 to 3. Again in the ninth the Greencords opened up and scored one more counter to win the ball game 5 to 3.

The Second Bats strove hard to rally in their turn at bat by running in a flock of pinch hitters but they failed to score.

Ward started on the mound for the Kells and held the Units batting in the ninth, but the Greencords were keystone sackman, Martin, out to win and touched this twirler (Please turn to page 7) for 2 hits and another run in the ninth frame.

Robertson labored on the rubber for the Special Units and but for the Kellys' bunching of hits in the 5th inning pitched a wonderful game for the Units, spiking the guns of the Blue Thunderbolt for four hits in eight spasms.

The Second Battalion scored their three runs in the fifth; Slocum singled, and Mitchell bunted in an attempt to sacrifice Slocum to second but the umpire ruled him out for stepping across the plate. Prophet singled, Slocum travelling to third, then the catcher, attempting to nab Slocum asleep at the hot corner, heaved wild, and Slocum crossed the plate for the first marker of the game. Prophet attempted to reach third on this play but was thrown out by Trippe who covered the wild throw power for two lone hits until the made by McCarthy. Pruitt was safe eighth. He was relieved by Nichols at first by virtue of an error on the

BOXING

Fort Benning Amateur Boxing Team

The Detroit Athletic Club

TUESDAY — AUGUST 15

DOUGHBOY STADIUM

The Proceeds Of This Fight Will Be Given

To The Former Benning Fighter

WILLIE PTOMEY

FOR MEN OF ALL SPORTS!

FISHERMEN:

WHO KNOW GOOD TACKLE

BASEBALL PLAYERS:

WHO KNOW GOOD GLOVES

TENNIS PLAYERS:

WHO KNOW GOOD RACKETS

SWIMMERS:

WHO KNOW GOOD SUITS

... need hardly be told of the value of good equipment, THEY ALREADY KNOW! That's why you'll find so many of them depending on the Main Branch as their chief source of all kinds of Athletic Equipment-for we sell only the best for every kind of sport. Come in and look it over-or call 608.

BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

AMATEURS MATCHED HERE (Continued From Page 6)

the championship bouts. Besides the men already mentioned, Phil Carpenter, who belongs to the lightheavy but who formerly held the middleweight championship of the southeast, will see action against the Wolverines. Carpenter was handicapped by a bad knee and excessive weight in the Mobile tourney this year and was beaten in the semi-finals by the man who eventually went on to capture the title. The decision, however, was close, and either fighter might well have been given the fight and no kick would have been forthcoming.

Johnson has been Lieutenants gradually rounding his proteges into shape by daily workouts in the gymnasium. All the team members are in good physical condition nad raring to go. The boys realize without a single exception that they are stacking up against one of the best aggregations in the north, and are intent on making a good showing.

At any rate, August the Fifteenth will probably see more leather thrown in one evening than Fort Benning has ever wtinessed before. Missing this card will be like missing the World's Fair when one lives in Chiĉago.

SPORT CHATTER (Continued from page 6)

the Americans would have been favorites. But when Mrs. Moody announced that a physical disablement would restrain her from participating, the outcome was shrouded in doubt. Diminutive Sarah Palfrey was selected substitute to bear the burden of the singles matches with Helen Jacobs.

Little Sarah covered herself with ting safely. glory by breaking even on her matches, turning in a surprise win over Dorothy Round, who bore the distinction of being the first woman to take a set from Mrs. Moody in many years. Helen Jacobs also won her match as did the American team of doubles. and the Americans led at the end of the first day by 3-0.

At this point, the Englishwomen rallied and won the next three matches played the following day to knot the count at 3-3. On Helen Jacobs rested the American hopes, and she filled her role nobly. After losing the opening set, she blasted her way to victory in the second, and every thing hinged on the outcome of the final set. Miss Jacobs' opponent spurted off to a 5-3 lead, and American hopes began to dim. At one point, the Englishman was only two points away from victory but Helen steadied down to deuce the set, regained her confidence, and swept on to win the mtach and clinch the championship for the Americans.

RUBBER STAMPS

COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

E

(Continued From Page 6)

twisted his ankle on this play) advanced to second on a misplay and scored when Gentleman Jim Ward banged out a circuit clout. Tinsley ended the stampede by skying out to

The Special Units failed to score in the eighth stanza. Hestery hit for a one bag, next man popped to short and Gilbert, relief pitcher for Robertson hit sending Hesterly to third Hesterly scored when the catcher for the Kells made a bad throw to sec ond, Massey hit, Gibert crossed the plate for the second marker of this spasm, and Massey stole second and scored on an error by the shortsop. Tolle was safe at the initial sack on a bobble by the hot corner man for the Kells, went to third on a misplay and scored when Futch banged out a single. Trippe grounded to second retiring the side.

The Units pushed another marker home in the ninth: Evans hit, went to second on a bobble by right fielder. the next man at bat tipped the ball, a foul fly way back against the stands," which was chalked up as a sacrifice hit as Evans scored. The next men were retired in order.

The Second Bats strove hard to overcome this lead in he ninth but to no avail.

Ward was the star of the game for the Kellys, not only pitching a stellar brand of ball but banging out a homer in the 5th frame with one man on base. Hitting honors for the Infantry School Detachment were divided amongst Futch, Gilbert, Hesterly, Trippe, and Evans, each man hit-

Score by innings

Special Units ___ 000 000 041 5 8 3 fine brand of ball, but he despaired 2nd Bn. _____ 000 030 000 3 5 5

ARTILLERY AND 1ST BATTALION 29TH INFANTRY

The game was scheduled for Friday between the 1st Battalion and the 83rd Field Artillery was postponed by rain until last Sunday. The Ist Battalion nine piloted by Lt. W. B. Moore, defeating the 83rd Field Artillery by the score of 6 to 4 when the game was played at Gowdy McGaha, veteran baseball pitcher for the Green Wave started on the mound for the Irish and pitched no hit baseball for four innings, to be relieved in the fifth by Wagner, a right hander. McGaha is well known to the seasoned baseball fans of Fort Benning as the greatest spitball pitcher in the history of athletics at the Infanry School. Mac is rather advanced in years now and the old wing isn't what it used to be, but in his youth it was just another day for Mac to twirl 12 or 14 innings.

The Irish scored 3 runs in the second frame and one each in the seventh, eighth and ninth, while the Redlegs tallied one marker in the sixth and made a desperate attempt to rally in the ninth by shoving three more markers across the plate.

Morris worked on the rubber for

C. D. SHINE

JOHN LOCKE

RENT-A-CAR COMPANY

DRIVE YOUR SELF

New 4 and V-8 De Luxe Fords COURTESY TO ALL

Special Prices On Out Of Town Trips

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

the Artillerymen, but the first bats were out to win the ball game and touched him for a total of nine hits.

HQ. BN. AND ARTILLERY August 7, 1933

The Headquarters Battalion of the 29th Infantry, coached by Lieutenant 2nd Bn. _____ 011 020 00x 4 8 2 Ferenbaugh, swamped the Artillery Nourse and Holland. by the score of 16 to 3.

The game was noticeably marked by errors on the part of the Artillery hot corner man. The first man to start in this position for the Redlegs was pulled after he had committed five misplays and booted the ball all over the lot. The next player in this position was as bad as the first, being unable to orient himself in his position.

Parson labored on the mound for the Headquarters team and pitched an excellent brand of baseball for the entire game, allowing the Redlegs only five scattered bingles during the

Potter played a bang up game for the Spare Parts not only with the willow but by his excellent exhibition of backstopping. Out of five trips to the plate he secured a triple, a double and a single. His running mate for hitting honors was Fraiche who hit safely three times out of five. Both batters brought in six runs

Speir, Morris, Cherry and McLeod were the batting stars for the Artillery, Speir getting a triple and the rest of the players each hitting safely in their time at bat. Holloway twirled for the Gunners and pitched a of his mates support and weakened in the eighth to allow 6 hits coupled with many errors on the part of the infield that was responsible for the

Score by innings.

Artillery __ 002 000 001 3 5 13 Hq. Bn. __ 100 021 012 16 13 2 Umpires: Nourse and Holland.

TANKS AND SECOND BATTALION August 7, 1933

In a closely contested game played at Gowdy Field last Monday the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry took the Tanks into camp by the score of 4

This game was spectacular in more than one way, for two of Fort Benning master coaches and stars participated. Kelly Kjelstrom went into the game in the fifth frame, pinch hitting for Fuller, who up to that time had been roaming left field for the Blue Thunderbolt. With two men on Kelly poled out a single, scoring the two and then went to left field, after the side had been retired, to take Fuller's place.

The other player was Red Lindsey, veteran Tanker who made his appearance in the 7th frame. He clouted out a double and struck out two of the Kelly batsmen in that same stanza. Rather looks like Lindsey's comeback is in earnest. At his next time at bat he hit safely for a lone bag, and, to the surprise of the Kelly catcher, stole second.

The Blue Theunderbolt scored one run in the third, on in the fourth and two in the fifth to lead the Tankers by a margin of one run which was never overcome.

The Terrible Tankers were the first to score however, piling up three runs in the first inning to lead the Kellys. Stanisbury walked, O'Brien whiffed, Swantic hit a double scoring Stanisbury. McLane repeated, Swantic crossing the plate, Sullivan skied out to center field and McLane raced home when Lee bobbled Wyrick's easy grounder. Wyrick was out attempting to steal.

Lindsey and Swantic were the hitting stars for the Tankers. "Red" had a perfect day getting a double and a single out of two times to plate, and Swantic a double and single out of Segrest labored on the hillock for the Tankers and pitched quite effec tively until the 5 and 6 when he weakened and the Kells touched him He was relieved by Lindsey in the 7th frame. Nichols, left handed ace of the Kelly hurling staff, worked on the rubber for the Blue Thunderbolt and, except for the fatal first stanza when the Tankers scored three runs, was never in hot water, holding the Tank Battalion to four scattered hits after the 1st frame stampede. Score by innings.

Tank Bn. ____ 300 000 000 3 9 5

(Please turn to page 8)

HALF SOLES A GOOD A BETTER Half Sole

50c · Half . Sole LAMAC SOLE $1.00 The Only 5-Unit Machine In Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY

We specialize in cripple work Phone 565 1234 Breadway

JACKSONVILLE

HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON

HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

Ginger Ale

When you're making up a punch that you want to make distinctive-one that must have a touch of genuine originality—then use Rum's Dry Ginger Ale-it gives drinks the flavor that nothing

Healthful . . . Pepful

BASEBALL (Continued from page 7)

Tuesday August 8th SPECIAL UNITS AND 1ST BAT-TALION, 29TH.

Using their entire staff of moundsmen Tuesday, the First Battalion, 29th Infantry nine made a desperate attempt to spike the guns of the Infantry School Detachment but they were unsuccessful and went down in Score by innings. defeat on the bad end of a 7 to 4

The Irish staged a desperate rally in the ninth,however, andhad Gilbert, Grencord hurler, worried when they came within one counter of tying the

Gilbert pitched shutout ball and up until the ninth frame, when the Irishmen attempted to knot the score, had allowed the Green Wave only two hits and one run.

Tolle and Tripp starred in the willow wielding for the Units, each securing three safetys out of five times at bat, while Reddock and Ragsdale of the 1st Bats starred for their

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital 1006 13th Street

Office Phone 1313

Dr. R. H. Brown Osteopathic Physician

Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

Howard Bus Line, Inc. Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

From	From
Columbus	Ft. Benning
5:00 AM	6:00 AM
6:00 "	7:50 "
7:00 *	9:15 "
3:50 "	10:45 "
19:00 "	12:45 PM
11:45 "	2:15 "
1:30 PM	4:15 "
3:00 "	5:10 "
5:00 "	6:00 "
7:00 "	7:00
9:00 	8:00 "
10:30 	9:45 "
12:00 M	11:15 "
	12:00 M
Also "Extra
SCHOOL 1
410 PHONI
CITY	POST
CITY	POST

nine, getting two for four.

Massey, versatile shortstop for the Special Units, hit the longest blow o fthe game when he poled out a terrific smash to center field that was good for three sacks.

Gilbert allowed but five hits in the fracas while the big guns of the combined efforts of Lefty Smith, Delano and Foster.

1st Bn. _____ 010 000 003 4 5 2 Special Units __ 010 020 13x 7 13 1

Umpires: Nourse and Lindsey, Hol-

2ND BN. AND HQ. BN. Wednesday, August 9th

The Second Battalion of the 29th Infantry defeated the Headquarters Battalion of the 29th Infantry last Wednesday at Gowdy field by the score of 5 to 4.

The game placed the Kellys in a tie for first place honors, previously sharing this honor with the Special Units of the Infantry School Detachment and their foes of last Wednes-

The Kells opened up in the first frame by scoring two runs off of a like number of bingles. They talied again in the third stanza by shoving two more counters across the plate by virtue of two bobbles on the parts of the Black Pirate infield and a timely hit by Slocum, Kelly outfielder.

The Spare Parts failed to count until the sixth spasm when they chalked up a lone marker. They scored again in the eighth, however, with another run. At the first of the ninth the Kells were way out in front, leading the Headquarters nine 5 to 2, when the Black Pirates started a ninth inning rally that came near to spelling defeat for the 2nd Bats. They shoved two markers across the plate and fell short one counter of knotting the score.

Huntley worked on the hillock for the Spare Parts but showed a degree of wildness in the first three innings, he calmed down for the remainder of the game, though, and pitched fine ball.

Shotgun Pyle twirled for the Kellys and held the Black Pirates to six scattered hits for seven sessions. He was relieved on the rubber by Ward, the Headquarters team touching weary Willie for a total of two hits and two runs in the ninth.

Tinsley was the mainstay of the Blue Thunderbolt's hitting power, while Hayes, Labonte and Fraiche led the attack for the Spare Parts. Score by innings.

Hq. Bn. _____ 000 001 012 4 9 4 202 100 00x 5 7 2 Umps: Wolfe, Nourse and Lindsey

Benning Invited To Send Bowlers

The post bowling team of the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Geor gia, champions of the Tri-City bowling league, has been invited to join the Inter-city Bowling League, to be formed by teams from different cities in the Southeast. The Infantry School Bowling Association was invited to join the league by John C. Bell, secretary of the Atlanta Bowling Association, and provisional secretary of the Inter-city League.

Two teams of five men each will be entered by each city in the league, which is to be composed of bowling organizations from Atlanta, Birmingham, Chattanooga, Gadsen, and Fort Benning. The first match has been tentatively scheduled for September 16, with matches taking place every other Saturday until May 12, 1934. At the conclusion of the league cash prizes will be awarded the winning team and the individual winners.

The Infantry School team was extended the invitation as a result of the bowling record the team made in the Atlanta Bowling Tournament, which they entered last winter.

Sergeant Eles J. Talbot, in charge of the post bowling alleys, is temporarily in charge of arrangements concerning Benning's entry into the

Red Cross Swim Classes, To Open

Classes in Red Cross life-saving and wimming methods will be conducted at Russ Pool, the bathing tank deluxe of the Infantry School, for a period of 10 days commencing on Monday, August 14th and ending on the 24th of the month.

Instruction in these methods of life saving will be expertly demonstrated by Cpl. Armand J. Parr, a member of Company F, 66th Infantry, Light Tanks. Corporal Parr is senior examiner for this period of instructions and also is on duty at the pool as senior life guard.

The purpose of these classes is to qualify at least ten men in each organization at Fort Benning as senior life saver, which will secure for them a certificate of the Affiliated Life Saving Corps from the American National Red Cross.

The Company Commander of the various organization at the Infantry School have been urged to turn out as many men for these instructions as practicable.

Aged Tree Falls After 150 Years

A historic landmark of the Fort Benning reservation passed into oblivion today when one of the venerable oaks that form the large grove in the vicinity of post headquarters and the commandant's home was felled by a party of soldiers, graduates of the tree surgery course conducted at Fort Benning.

Upon inspection after it toppled, it was estimated by examination of the four foot thick trunk, that the oak had weathered more than 150 changes of season.

This tree, which formerly stood at the top of the hill coming into the post, near the intersection of Sigerfoos and Vibbert Avenues, had been dying for some time. During the past few years operation after operation was performed in order to save it, but to no avail, and the other day it was decided by post authorities that it must be removed, as it was forming a menace to the incoming rtaffic at the post.

Thursday morning, by the combined ing a menace to the incoming trafefforts of the soldier crew, working with cross-cut saw, axe, wedge, and rope, the head of the former forest monarch was bowed, and the tree that already was older than a man's average life when the city of Columbus began, was dragged off to be sawed into stove wood.

Facing Beautiful Bay Biscayne and the Atlantic Ocean An Ideal Combination for a SUMMER VACATION

Most of the recreations of the winter season with low summer hotel rates. 250 rooms, each with bath and radio.

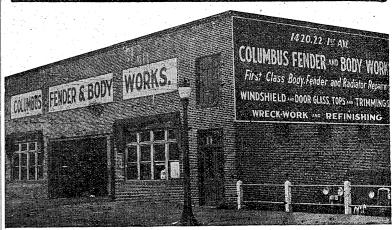

> J. Frank Gough, Manager. Please write for folder.

Year Around Hotels Floridan, Tampa Tampa Terrace, Tampa Lakeland Terrace, Lakeland

Year Around Hotels Dixie Court, West Palm Beach George Washington, Jacksonville Mayflower, Jacksonville

FLORIDA COLLIER COAST HOTELS AND ASSOCIATED HOTELS

Season Hotels Manatee River, Bradenton Sarasota Terrace, Sarasota Royal Worth, West Palm Beach

PHONE 165 THE POST EXCHANGE IS OUR AGENT AT BENNING

1420 FIRST AVENUE

REMINDER:

HAVE YOUR CAR CHECKED AT THE FIRST AVAILABLE OPPORTUNITY.

You're probably planning to do a lot of driving while you're at Benning-and if you're already here, you'll KNOW you are. So you're wise if you keep your car in the best of condition and use only the best of oils and greases.

We can give complete information regarding all roads near Columbus.

AUTO DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE FORT BENNING, GA.

The Fost Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

FURNITURE

Headquarters for Furniture and all kinds of household furnishings, complete line of Sellers' Kitchen and Breakfast-room furniture and Simmons beds, mattresses, springs. At lowest prices and easiest terms.

It will pay you to see us before you buy.

CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

SUCCESSORS TO JOHNSTON-CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

1014 Broadway

Phone 460

The Most Economical Breaktast

What shall we have for breakfast? It is the eternal question. Not so much from the outlay point of view but as to choice of meat, is the problem. A real honest to goodness Pork Sausage is the only answer. With hot cakes, waffles or fried apples and hot biscuits-good nite.

Old Settler's Pure Pork sausage is famous as the Ali Pork Sausage with the Old Colonial flavor. Does not fry away, frys to golden brown color and is the biggest bargain of breakfast meats. No bone, no gristle, minimum shrinkage in cooking. Balance your budget—get rid of your grouches by serving Old Settler's Pork Sausage at least three mornings a week.

The Provision Co., Inc.

Ten Years Ago Last Week

General Gouraud, French hero of Verdum, visited Columbus, and Geneal Gordon went aboard the special train to pay his respects. A picked platoon of the 29th Infantry, under Lieutenant Perwein, acted as guard of honor for General Gouraud.

No pictures were shown on the evening of August 10, in respect for the funeral of President Harding.

Captain James Taylor, 15th Tank Battalion, joined the ranks of the benedicts when he and Miss Easter Miller, of Columbus, were united at the St. Luke Methodist Church.

Major E. P. King arrived to assume command of the artillery battalion.

Orders were published requiring the innoculation of all post canines against rabies. Price ranged from $2.00 to $7.00 according to the size of the dog.

Legion members visited the post stockade to have a look-see; not as Student officers of the garrison are issued a ukase to spruce up in hopes of preventing the disease of "crumbiness" from spreading to the permanent personnel.

First football practice for Post Team called for Sept. 3.

Lieutenant L. V. Jones, 24th Infantry, and Lieutenant H. W. Barrick, 15th Tank battalion, qualified for Infantry Rifle Team with scores of 2774 and 2770 respectively.

New Type Tent Demonstrated Here

A new type kitchen tent affording greater convenience and protection from the weather to Army cooks in the field was demonstrated to mess sergeants and cooks of the 29th Infantry on Wednesday morning by Captain Virgil Bell of the department of experiment at Fort Benning.

The new type was planned by Colo nel Reginald H. Kelly, Lieutenant Colonel, department of experiment of the Infantry School.

The dimensions of this new tent are slightly smaller than the measurements of the old pyramidal tent in use by the doughboys at Benning being 14x14 feet square and having walls six feet and six inches long, whereas the pyramidal is 16x16 square and has walls three feet long.

The advantage of these tents over the large wall fly that is in use by the mess forces at Fort Benning is that the tent can be completely closed whereas the old flys were open at both ends and caused the cooks and other members of the kitchen force much discomfiture during inclement weather.

Due to an error, credit was not given for the pig story on the front page of last week's Herald. This story was taken from the August 3rd issue of the Army and Navy Register and we hereby give that publication full credit for the entire story.

Colonel Wallace Cited For Bravery in Action Fought Years Ago In Southern Luzon, Philippine Islands Is Selected As

Thirty-three and one half years ago, First Sergeant William B. Wal Maj. Hobson Here lace, Company G, 30th Infantry, United States Volunteers, wormed his way For Tour Of Duty through dense jungles along the Lucban-Mauban trail in southern Luzon, Philippine Islands, wondering what moment a bolo would slash across the back of his neck.

Today Colonel William B. Wallace. chief of the Tank Section of the Infantry School, is in receipt of a citation for gallantry in action because of that agonizing six-hour journey of Tabayas. In the intervening years that have seen his promotion from the grade of first sergeant of a line regiment, to a full colonel, head of one of the most important branches of the world's largest school of arms, Colonel Wallace has traveled far, and visited many lands, but the finish of his six-mile. journey that lasted from 9 p. m. till 3 o'clock in the morning will always stand out in his thoughts as the most important destination that

On the morning of February 4, 1900, Steele's battalion of the 30th Infantry (Volunteers) was sent out as advance guard, with express mission of locating another regiment of Schwan's brigade the whereabouts of which were unknown to brigade headquarters. All day long they worked their tortuous way through the steaming jungle, keeping up a running fight with insurrectos, until they reached Sampaloe, Tabayas province, Southern Luzon.

At 6 o'clock that evening they went into camp upon learning that the regiment for which they were searching was not far distant. Someone was needed to carry the information back to the brigade, and First Lieutenant Kirby Walker, aide de camp to General Schwan called for volunteers to accompany him. First Sergeant Wallace and two other men of Company G, one of them since dead,

At 9 o'clock the little party set forth on its mission. Members knew that the trail was pracically blockaded; that the jungle was alive with the "little brown brother," and that the slightest error in judgment would mean a rush in the dark, and four more names struck from the rollcall.

Hour after hour they wormed their way along, crawling past the small camps of insurgents, working an opening though the network of vines, and breathlessly placing each foot down on the rocky trail. Twice they passed through enemy lines, and many times could have reached through the leaves and touched some sleeping outpost. At last after making the six miles to headquarters at an average rate of one mile per hour, they reached the brigade and delivered their message.

Perhaps the best idea of the terrain over which Colonel Wallace passed with his comrades, can be realized from the words of General Schwan contained in his official report of the expedition.

"The trip was over the roughest trail in country noted for the roughness of its trails; the rocky footings, so difficult in daylight, were most trying at night, and tested to the umost limit the endurance of the sturdiest." General Schwan said, "The journey was also a perilous one, passing as it did through the heart of the enemy counrty.'

All this in an official army report tour of duty at Fort Benning, and noted for briefness and concise state what his duties will be in connection (Please turn to page 5)

Major William H. Hobson, Infantry, former professor of military science and tactics at Georgetown University, has taken up his new duties with Headquarters, 29th Infantry. Major Hobson arrived at the local army post several days ago.

Major Hobson first entered the military service in September 1912, when as a graduate from West Point Military Academy he was appointed a 2d Lieutenant of infantry and assigned to Co. "H" 9th Infantry, Fort Snelling, Minnesota, for duty. He was promoted to 1st Lieutenant while a member of the 27th Infantry, stationed at Los Banos, Philippine Islands in 1916. From the 27th Infantry he was sent to the 31st doughboy regiment, also at Los Banos, and while serving with this organization he advanced to captain. After his promotion to Cap tain, Major Hobson served as senior instructor at the 3rd and 4th Officers Training Camps at Fort McKinley Philippine Islands. He was promoted to the temporary rank of major on June 13, 1918, while at Fort McKinley, and immediately sailed for the United States to take up an assignment with the 137th Depot Brigade Camp Jackson, South Carolina, but never served at this station. his arrival on the mainland he was reassigned to the Inspector General's Department in Washington, D. C. and carried on his duties at this office until November 28, 1918. On November 29, 1918, he was detailed as professor of military science and tactics at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., and served four years in this capacity. Upon comple ion of his four year assignment at Georgetown, Major Hobson was or dered to Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, as a student at the Command and General Staff School of that station.

He received his diploma from this chool as a distinguished graduate on June 22, 1924, and upon his graduation he was appointed brigade executive of the 6th Infantry Brigade and post adjutant of Fort Douglas, Utah During the joint army and navy man euvers of April and May 1925 he was detailed as an umpire and made the trip to Honolulu with the navy sailing from San Diego, California. and returning to Los Angeles to later take up an assignment as commanding officer of the United States Military Academy service detachment, West Point, New York. While at West Point he also served as officer in charge of children's school and did addi tional duty in the tactical department of the Military Academy. Since then he has served another tour of duty at the Georgetown University, where he was stationed at the time of his assignment to Fort Benning.

Major Hobson is an expert with both the pistol and the rifle, and has served as instructor in the use of all infantry weapons. He personally coached the intercollegiate smallbore championship team of George town University in 1923. As an ex ponent of putts and drives, midirons and mashies, he won the president's cup at the Storm King Golf Club in

This will be Major Hobson's first (Please turn to page 5)

BRIG. GEN. GEORGE H. ESTES

Gen. Estes Next C. O. According To Recent Rumor

Unofficial rumors current yesterday in Atlanta and at Benning are to the effect that the next commandant of Fort Benning will be Brigadier General Geo. H. Estes, now commandant of Fort McPherson at Atlanta. The Atlanta Constitution was quoted yes terday as saying that it had learned that the appoinment would be made. None of the sources of information, however, could name any definite date for the expected appointment.

General Estes was born at Eufaula, of his younger years at Columbus. He received his education at the latter city and it was as a citizen of Columbus that he received his appointment to West Point, in 1890. He is a graduate of the Staff and Command School at Fort Leavenworth, and of the Army War College in Washington. He was decorated for his services in the World War, when he served with the 76th Division and later commanded the 18th Division. He was also decorated pines. He also served with the Army in Porto Rico, Hawaii, Panama and General Estes, if his appointment as commandant of the Infantry School is actually made, will succeed Major General Campbell King, who voluntarily retired a short time ago.

Colonel Peyton Vets' Commander

Colonel Ephraim G. Peyton, executive officer of the Infantry School, recently was elected commander of the Eightieth Division Veterans' association. His election took place at the annual meeting of the Blue Ridge Boys, which took place at Huntington, Colonel Peyton, who has been executive of the Infantry School since last September, commanded the 320th Infantry throughout the entire combat service of the 80th division in France in 1918. This organization was the only division of the army that entered the Meuse-Argonne offensive three times, jumping off at the start from the forward slopes of Mont-Homme on September 26, and pushing their way until they reached a point just south of Brieulles. They were relieved September 30, but four days later on October 4, again entered the line between the 3rd and 4th divisions at Nantillois, where they engaged in a hand-to-hand conflict with the enemy for seven days, and reaching Cunel where they were relieved on the night of the 10-11. It was during this engagement that Colonel Peyton and his staff were so severely gassed at Madelaine Farm that they were blinded and had to be led by hand when the regimental command post was advanced.

After a rest in a back area, the division again moved into the line to participate in the attack which was launched on November 1. Five days later they were relieved by the 1st

Prior to Colonel Peyton's assignment to Fort Benning he was commander of the 30th division, composed of the National Guard troops of North and South Carolina, Georgia and Tennessee. Since his coming to the Infantry School he has more than ably fulfilled the position of executive of-

Capt. Spalding Now In Charge Of Tanks

Captain Donald P. Spalding, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks), who has been on duty as Plans and Training Officer of the Tank Battalion of Fort Benning since 1931, will be in command of that unit until the arrival of the new tank commander, who at present is a student in the Ecole De Guerre, Paris, Fance, and who will arrive at the Infantry School in October.

Captain Spalding began his military career as a member of Company H, 3rd Infantry, Oregon Nationa Guard, serving in that organization as private and corporal from June 1916, until September of the same year. In April, 1917 he was appointed a 2d lieutenant of infantry, Officers' Reserve Corps, and ordered to active duty the following month. He was comfor services in Cuba and the Philip missioned a 2d lieutenant of infantry, regular army in October 1917, and promoted to 1st lieutenant on the same order. Promotion to the grade of captain came in 1920.

Captain Spalding attended the tank school in 1923, and the Advanced Course of the Infantry School in 1930-31.

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS TO SEE SOCIAL HIGH BUNG OF THE SECOND OF

Wedding Of Lt. Draper-Miss Woodruff Mrs. Woodruff, the bride's mother warden, Lieut. and Mrs. Andrew J. wore a beautiful gown of blue lace Evans, Lieut. and Mrs. Theodore T. Solemnized In City Tuesday Afternoon

Dignity and beauty marked the wedding ceremony of Miss Ethel Woodruff to Lieut. Philip Draper Jr., which was solemnized Tuesday afternoon in the beautiful gardens of the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Waldo Woodruff at Woodcrest. The ceremony was performed by Dr. Robert Boyd, pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in the presence of friends from civilian and military sets. The gardens formed an exquisite setting for the ceremony, flowers in full bloom forming a riot of color against a background of box wood hedges and graceful cedars.

Preceding the entrance of the wedding party, a program of nuptial music was rendered by Professor Louis Chase at the piano, Miss Gertrude Chase at the harp, Mrs. Porter played the violin and Walter Hunter the cello. A quartet sang "Tis Thy Wedding Morn."

> Stock Of DuPont Perry's On Sale

Brown Electric Co.

13th St.-Just East of Viaduct Draperies - Linoleum Shades - Rugs

Mrs. S. F. Anderson POST EXCHANGE

DRESSMAKER

FUR COATS MENDED AND RELINED PHONE 631

The ushers were the bride's brother James Woodruff Jr., Arthur Chenoweth, Henry Reeves, Norman Illges, Cliff Swift and ohn Illges, Jr.

The groomsmen were Lieut. James J. Winn, Lieut. Robert A. Ports, Lieut. Carl W. Westlund, C. E. Howard Jr. and Carlton McNeeley.

The bridesmaids: Mrs. Carlton Mc-Neeley, Miss Dorothy Illges, Mrs. Troop Butler, Jr. of Langley Field, Va., Mrs. J. W. Kirksey of Lookout Mountain N. C., Mrs. Cecil Holmes Rood of Freemont, N. C. wore lovely gowns of peach chiffon, cut in the latest fashion with high neck line and long full skirt flaring from the knees which formed a short train. Tiny flower petal hats with short veils were worn, while the bouquets were as asters in peach, pink, lavendar and yellow.

Miss Emily Woodruff, sister of the bride was maid of honor, she wore peach chiffon cut on similar lines of the bride's maids with flower hat to

The bride was beautiful in her wedding gown of heavy ivory satin cut floor length. It was patterned with a deep yoke of lace with the neck cut off at the shoulders with the sleeves. Her veil of Brussels lace was caught snugly to her head with clusters of orange blossoms. She carried a beautiful bouquet of white lilies. She was given in marriage by her father James Waldo Woodruff and was met at the altar by the groom and his best man, Lieut. Arthur L. Cobb. An arch was formed of crossed sabers of the groomsmen through which the bride and groom passed across the lawn into the house where the reception was held in the drawing room. In the receiving line were the bride and groom, Mr. and Mrs. Woodruff and Mr. and Mrs. Henry Philip Draper.

Throughout the house, gladioli, asters, lilies and tube roses were used for the decorations while in the dining room, the table was laid with a Venetian point lace cloth in the center of which was the bride's cake, a beautiful white terraced affair embossed in lilies and roses.

Supper was served during the evening on the lawn. The bridal party and a few intimate friends were seated at a separate table which was laid with a pale green cloth; the centerpiece was a mound of asters, gladioli and roses encircled by blossoms in the form of a wedding ring.

with accessories to match. She wore a corsage of orchids.

Mrs. Draper, mother of Lieut. Draper, wore pink chiffon with accessories to match, her corsage was of orchds and lilies of the valley.

A number of out of town guests, friends and relatives of the bride and groom attended the wedding.

During the evening the bride changed her wedding dress for her traveling costume of mustard crepe with accessories to match.

Lieut. Draper and his bride left Wednesday morning for West Point, New York, where Lieut. Draper will be an instructor in the French department.

ENGAGEMENT OF MISS SHELTON TO LIEUT. HUNT ANNOUNCED Mrs. George Henry Shelton, widow of the late Brigadier General Henry Shelton announced the engagement of her daughter Helen Shelton to Second Lieutenant Richard Johnson Hunt, 29th Infantry, U. S. Army. Miss Shelton is the niece of Major Lawrence J. I. Barrett, Assistant Secretary of the Infantry School at Fort Benning, Ga. She attended school at Gunston Hall and Immaculata Seminary in Washington, D. C. Lieut. Hunt is the son of Colonel and Mrs. William E. Hunt, U. S. Army. Colonel Hunt is the Inspector General of the 5th Corps Area Headquarters at Columbus, Ohio. Lieut. Hunt graduated from West Point in the class

MISS PHYLLIS SARGENT HONORED

Miss Phyllis Sargent who departed Thursday with her mother, Mrs. Chas. R. Sargent for Fort Jay, N. Y., was the honor guest Saturday at a kitchen shower given by Miss Kenneth Kendall and Miss Eleanor Bonesteel. The shower, which was followed by tea was held on the attractive lawn of Miss Kendall's aunt, Mrs. Herbert L. Harries. The tea table was laid with a point-de-venice lace cloth. Yellow roses and yellow tapers were used. Miss Page Michie poured. The guest list included a few intimate friends of the honoree. They were: the Misses Page Michie, Esther Foos, Harriotte Atkins, Lucille Jackson, Myra McPherson, Louisa Cargill, Betty Welty, Dorothy Russ, Mary Moore, Helen Shelton, Esther Kelly, Betty Catron, Athleen Munson, and Mrs. Theodore Dunn.

Miss Sargent's engagement to Lieut. William B. Moore was announced in the Spring, plans are being made for their wedding which will take place in October at Fort Jay, N. Y.

DESPEDIDA GIVEN FOR MAJOR AND MRS. KINGMAN

The officers and ladies of the Tank Battalion were the hosts last Thursday evening at a delightful dinner party at the Officers' Club for their former commander and his wife, Major and Mrs. Allen W. Kingman, who leave shortly for Washington, D. C. where Maj. Kingman will be a student at the Army War College. The table was charmingly decorated with bowls of pink roses and tapers of corres ponding color. Capt. Donald P. Spalding who relieves Maj. Kingman in commanding the Tanks, presided at the dinner and during the evening presented Mrs. Kingman with an appropriate gift of a bridge set, a table with four chairs, from the officers and ladies of the Battalion. After dinner movies were in order Members of the Tank Battalion who were present were: Maj. and Mrs. Kingman, Maj. and Mrs. Sereno E. Brett, Capt. and Mrs. Donald S. Spalding, Lieut. and Mrs. Paul W. Kellam, Lieut. and Mrs. Robert S. Nourse. Lieut. and Mrs. Dwight A. Rosebaum, Lieut, and Mrs. Cranford B.

Visit historic "St. Elmo" While in Columbus.

Dunn, Lieut. and Mrs. Richard B. Wheeler, Mrs. Harry W. Reeder, Mrs. Joseph A. Stuart, Mrs. William S. Triplett, Mrs. Reeve D. Keiler, Capt. James C. Horne, and Lieut. Carl W. Robinson.

CAPTAIN AND MRS. SPALDING HONOR DEPARTING COUPLE WITH INFORMAL TEAT

Captain and Mrs. Spaulding were the hosts Sunday afternoon at their attractive quarters on Miller Loop to Major and Mrs. Allen Kingman entertaining at an informal tea.

At the tea table Ms. Spaulding was assisted by Mrs. R. B. Wheeler, Mrs. (Please turn to page 5)

ATTENTION MOTHERS of Fort Benning

Miss Eugenia Levy, of 1413 Second Avenue, (Phone 3984-J) will be glad to care for your children in your home when you desire to go on trips, parties, etc., or when you are ill. Best of references from responsible parties.

YOU SHOULD BUY AT SILVER'S

You can save money on many articles of general merchandise by shopping at Silver's—that's WHY you should shop here. And it's so much more convenient!

SILVER'S COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST.

SHOP SAFELY HERE!

CONVENIENT LOCATION—MODERN EQUIPMENT RATES REASONABLE

Phone your agent or call our Superintendent, Mr. Trussell, Phone 3062

DIMON COURT APARTMENTS

Everything for the Home

FURNITURE RUGS PHILCO RADIOS LEONARD

ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS

. . and when we say everything, we mean just that. We are able to supply you with everything you need for any home, from parlor to kitchen-and all of our stock is as modern as the World's Fair!

1141 BROADWAY

PHONE 409

COLUMBUS, GEORGIA

DECORATE YOUR TABLE LIVEN UP YOUR MENU TEMPT YOUR APPETITE

. . . with fresh meats this summer. You know, yourself that they have solved many a problem in the past and will probably do the same in the future. But, above all, be sure that the meats you're buying are well-chosen, are well-kept and are well-inspected. That's the only kind that is sold by the Grocery dept. Also, we have a complete selection of all kinds of cold-meats.

ROCERY

OST EXCHANGE FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

You Know How It Is ...

When You're Hot and Tired and Thirsty

. . how cool and tempting a delicious bottled Coca-Cola looks. And you know how refreshing they taste, too; so why not keep them always on hand in the new conven-

ONLY

PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

Surely that's a small enough cost for such a big taste! You can get twice as much enjoyment out of the SIX-BOX as from anything else.

> The Answer To The Nation's Thirst Question!

SOLD BY ALL COLUMBUS GROCERS

29th Inf.

HQ. CO., 1ST BN.

Hello world!! This is Hq. Co. 1st Battalion sounding off again bringing to you a presentation of what the dumb scribe should not talk about.

Corporal Leonard Knight, a membe of the intelligence platoon has been discharged per E. T. S. from this organization but immediately took on another stack. He will depart on a 90 day furlough some time in the near future. Bon voyage Leonard!

Our first sergeant Pink E. Bryan, is working in a new capacity now, I believe that he has something to do with the culinary art? How about

For the last three months "Paw" Tipper, our erstwhile company mechanic has been painting the footlockers of this organization. It seems like he has suffered a lot of discomfiture and embarrassment by having members of the company sit down on them before they were dry. At last Tip could stand it no longer. His patience was worn out, as soon as he would complete a footlocker ode to the absent minded individuals who so unceremoniously camped on the wet lids.

"Some people paint footlockers for pastime.

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

BRIDGE PARTY

Whatever it is, it's sure to be a success if you serve Foremost Ice Cream—whether as dessert or just as refreshment on one of these Benning nights it will be equally tempting and delicious!

> Call the SODA FOUNT

FOREMOST DAIRIES

INCÒRPORATED

I've painted these for the last time, I have worked hard with vigor and to each animal a pair of green eye

So if you value your life stay to h-ll off of them."

"The lids are all wet and sticky with paint.

If you flop on them, you'll work 'til you faint,

So take my advice if you treasure your gizzards,

And keep off of them, you-bunch of lounge lizards."

"Paw" (Signed)

Members of the Savage Club who are also soldiers of this organization wish to announce that the Savage Club has joined the N. R. A. and added several new members to its rolls.

Inasmuch as this is the Headquarters for the Savage Club, we wish to make mention of these members in this article; they are; Pvt. Lagrange from Company D, 29th Inf., Pvt. Bergeron from Company B, Corporal Rollo, a member of A company and Pvt. Mauldin, "slum-burner" de luxe, from this outfit. Congratulations fellows.

Well, we'll be saying adios, and as the Chicago gangster said to the cop as he turned his machine gun on him, "I hope I'm not boring you."

N. HOBBS Company Representative

HEADQUARTERS COMPANY

The Company is having usual communication school with men from various companies taking the course in radio and wire communication.

Sergeant Barney is still on the job and in charge of wire communication. Tech. Sgt. Mitzen is our Radio expert, now acting First Sergeant. Sergeant Jimmy Hayes is on radio procedure. Sergeant LaBonte is our Message Center Chief. Sergeant Murphy is in charge of radio code instruction. These sergeants can't be beat on their jobs as instructors.

Our Company Swimming Team is doing some hard training on the wimming team.

Bozeman, Bouton and Ringenberg are all good on the breast stroke and it will be hard to pick a winner. Ringenberg is making a great showing in the 50 yards free style. The Regimental Swimming Meet is to be held on August 26, at 9:00 a.m.

The baseball team is doing some fine playing these days. They are getting bus or show tickets for making hits and they are sure losing the ball when they come to bat.

Our First Sergeant Houghtby, is on a furlough to Chicago to the World Fair. Tech. Sgt. Mitzen is acting first sergeant while he is away.

We have a new corporal in the company. Corporal Burgess. We are glad to have him. Burgess is captain o four basket ball team and we expect great things from him this winter. He is to be our new company clerk. Vice Corporal Mueller who is making good showing since he completed the clerk school this year. He is also doing excellent work on the Battalion Baseball Team.

83rd F. A.

HQ., HQ. BATTERY AND C. T. Sgt. Lee is very busy these days trying to keep enough feed for all the animals to eat. Sgt. McLeod is making arrangements with the Quartermaster to see whether or not that glasses so that it will eat everything within sight. This no doubt would solve the forage problem, especially in the winter months when the green grass is gone.

Sgt. Phillips and Cpl. Nahring have returned to the fold. We are glad to have you back with us again, it will at least help to relieve the guard problem.

Cat Fish Smith was discharged this week and left for the parts of Louisiana unknown to the writer, but not the enemy.

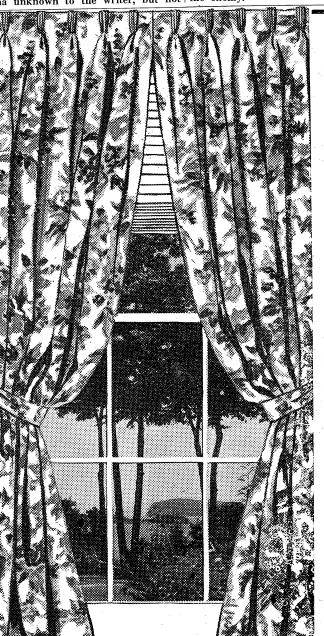

we might be able to draw and issue too far from the mail route. He wrote us the other day and said that he would be back very soon as he is getting lonesome for the boys. For three years Cat Fish Smith followed a Liaison Cart on all demonstrations, so while at home a cart past him on the street and he got home sick and street. He said it was just second nature for him to follow it, the only person that he missed was Cpl. Hurst giving orders and to the location of

BATTERY A

Corporal Ed Roper has decided to stay with us for three more years and also Chester Cameron. Ed is still in the hospital, we hope to have him with us soon.

Pfc. Cameron the boy who should be on the stage, re-enlisted for the 24th Infantry according to his service followed in rear of it down the record but of course it was an error on the Recruiting Officers' part, and now Pfc. Cameron is on a twentyday furlough.

The battery is going to give a bar-(Please turn to page 7)

Kirven's draperies and curtains will change your house into a cosy, com-

Fashions

for the

HOME

Fall

fortable home for the fall and winter season.

Block Linen $1.25 Yd.

Block linen for draperies and chair covering adds a tone of quiet dignity to any home. Natural linen ground with leaf designs in Green, Brown and Red and rich floral patterns in mixed colors.

Satin

$1.95 Yd.

Lustrous satin is the newest fashion for drapes and coverings. In soft Egg Shell, deep toned Brown, Rust and Gold.

Lace Panels

Also the famous Scranton line. Wide panels bordered on both sides, of course, in a small but striking de-Natural shade. 2½ yards sign.

$1.19

CURTAINS

Heavy Net

In deep Ecru with a wide hem at the sides and bottom. $2\frac{1}{2}$ yards long. Tailored.

$1.00

Marquisette

Tailored marquisette in Cream and Ecru. Wide hems at side and bottom. 2½ yards long.

$1.00

Priscilla

Priscilla style curtains in Cream. Small, medium, large and coin size dots. Ready for hanging.

$1.25

Shower Curtains

Lace Curtains

The famous Scranton lace curtains in natural shade with delicate conventional designs. 2½ yards long.

As advertised in House and Garden.

$1.50 to $3.75

Chemically treated shower proof curtains. Contain no rubber and look like lovely soft drapes when they are hung over the bath.

$2.25 to $6.25

Full-Lenoth Mirrors

How do you look when you are dressed? The only thing to tell you, beside Friend Husband, is a full length mirror. These are four feet long.

$1.98

Second Floor

K

STERLING SILVERWARE By

GORHAM, KIRK, TOWLE, WALLACE REED & BARTON, INTERNATIONAL

COMPLETE YOUR

SILVER SERVICE

BEFORE THE BIG ADVANCE

SCHOMBURG & SON

JEWELERS

COLUMBUS, GA.

1121 BROADWAY AT THE SIGN OF THE BIG CLOCK

BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Phone 556

Columbus, Georgia

VOLUME III. AUGUST 18, 1933 NUMBER 17 _____Publisher Sports Editor Louis T. Kunze_____Circulation Manager

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT, SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE, BALTIMORE

Here's To Your Health

BY MAJOR HOMER L. CONNER, Medical Inspector

Diphtheria

In recent years it has been demonstrated that any community can rid itself of the disease diphtheria. This result however can only be accomplished when there is a one hundred percent immunization of all children. It is among children of preschool age (1 to 5) that diphtheria is now the most common and most fatal. It is in children of this age that susceptibility to diphtheria has been proven to be almost universal. To prevent the disease in these children is now the aim of every up-to-date community. It can only be brought about by the inoculation of these susceptible children. The younger the child the less disturbance the immunizing injections produce. The use of antitoxin to produce immunity is exceedingly successful. It must be remembered however that this immunity is not lasting. The immunity produced by toxoid or toxin-antitoxin is more lasting than that produced by the antitoxin but even these may not last longer than a few weeks or a few months in certain individuals. It is therefore necessary to "Schick Test" these children at intervals of at least once a year to find if they need the injections repeated. "Toxoid" is the newest treatment for producing immunity. Reaction (Allergy) is thought to be less frequent following the in jection of "Toxoid" than it was with "Toxin-antitoxin." There is always one thing you can be sure of about these reactions—the younger the child the less likely you are to have them.

The injection of "Toxoid" in two or three doses to amount to 2 cc will produce an immunity in over ninety percent of children. It has been in use for such a short period however that we do not know how long the immunity lasts, although in a few it has lasted for over three

To play safe you should have your child retested. If the "Schick" is found "positive" you should again have the child injected with "Toxoid." It is only by this method that can prevent diphtheria.

The drive to prevent diphtheria by immunizing injections in most of our large cities is responsible for these low rates.

Fort Benning has had an enviable record as regards immunization against diphtheria. Keep it up. Protect your children against this dread disease.

Here and There

From "NEWSDOM"

Mussolini talks of traveling to America. Riding two planes, we imagine, as practically anybody nowadays can

-Detroit News

It's funny, with all the poor poetry that's going around, that no one ever thought of killing two bards with one stone.

-Boston Evening Transcipt

Historians will probably speak of Hitler as "the man who held the destiny of a nation in the hollow of his

-San Francisco Chronicle

After an intensive study of crime, Prof. Moley will begin conversations with the war debtors

-Washington Post.

The modern bathing suit doesn't contain enough material for a moth to work upon.

. boro (Ga.) Herald-Journal.

Kentucky man, presumably a Democrat, has produced a holler that can be heard in three states. But can Jim Farley hear it?

-The Knickerbocker Press

Gandhi is in again. How long will it be before he starves himself out again?

-South Bend Tribune

As Governor "Alfalfa Bill" Murray slashed into the budget of the University of Oklahoma, and especially into the fine arts and athletic departments, he said learnedly, "We'll have to get along without so much fiddling and baseball until times get better." -Minneapolis Journal

The August Golden Book reprints one of the shrewdest bits of irony ever uttered—Thomas Corwin's advice to a young speaker:

"Never make people laugh. If you would succeed in life, you must be solemn, solemn as an ass. All the great monuments are built over sol emn asses.

-Howard Vincent O'Brien in the Chicago Daily News

If evolution develops features necessary to survival, why aren't Americans developing bullet-proof hides? -Birmingham News

Somehow you never can achieve naval parity by paring the navy. —Buffalo Times

Perhaps General Balbo when back home, will report that, judging by the higher figures on the ticker tape they tossed at him, conditions are on the mend over here.

-W. H. H. in The Knickerbocker

There is some discussion concernornithological accuracy of the Blue Eagle, but what interests most citizens is his ability to fly.

"When America interferes," says a

Paris daily, "it always costs us something." But costs don't matter if you don't pay.

Los Angeles Times

-New York Sun

Perhaps a man should not be severely punished for his weakness; but certainly you don't expect other people to be punished for him.

-St. Louis Globe-Democrat

Astronomers recently have discovered a new universe. Maybe we'd better institute a tariff against it at

—Atchison, Kan., Globe

SATELLITES

By N. H. HOBBS

If business ever requires you to visit the orderly room of Service Company, 29th Infantry, the transportation unit of the Demonstration regiment, you will be greeted by a clear eyed, pleasant faced individual wearing the diamond stripes of a 1st Sergeant. This 1st Sergeant is Hans Friis, the "top kick" of one of the Regiment's most important organiza-

Ist Segeant Friis first enlisted for Company B, 3d Infantry on July 9th, 1898. The 3rd Infantry was stationed at Fort Snelling and at Fort McPherson during the Spanish-American War. and at the end of that enlistment he decided to go back to civilian life again and stayed out of the service until February 1907 when he enlisted for Company K, 10th Infantry stationed at Camp McKinley, Honolulu and later at Fort Davis in Alaska. Upon receiving his excellent character discharged as Corporal in 1910 he reenlisted for the 16th Infantry at Fort Crook, Nebraska. Three weeks after he enlisted for this organization his egiment was ordered to Alaska. He was discharged this time as private also with excellent character. After spending a couple of enlist ments with these outfits, Pop Friis took on a stack with Co. M. of the 29th Infantry which was, at the time, stationed at Fort Niagara, New York but later embarked on transports for the Panama Canal where they were assigned the responsibility of guarding the locks during the World War. This time he was discharged as sergeant also with the notation "Character Excellent" written on his discharge. He reenlisted for this organization in 1917 and was discharged this time as staff sergeant. It was during this enlistment that the 29th Infantry returned frmo Ranama and was stationed at Camp Beauregard in Louisiana. Serving in the capacity of Staff Sergeant, Friis was the Battalion Sergeant Major of the 1st Bat talion.

1st Sergeant Friis' next enlistment was with Headquarters Company of the Demonstrationists. He was discharged from this Company in July 1920, also as staff sergeant with excellent character.

After receiving his discharge from the Headquarters organization Sgt. Friis reenlisted for Headquarters Company of the 33rd Infantry stationed at the Panama Canal Zone. No sooner than he had arrived at this station he was appointed corporal and a few months later staff sergeant to exercise control over the communication platoon. This time he was discharged as a staff sergeant and as usual with excellent character.

Pop Friis returned to his first love, the 29th Infantry in 1926 and was assigned to Service Company, he spent two enlistments with the transportation unit and, needess to say, was disharged as one of the first three grades with an excellent rating on the line marked character.

For his efficiency and loyalty to the regiment, for his expert handling o the many duties set before him, Frins was appointed first sergeant of Service Company, 29th Infantry, in September 1932.

1st Sergeant Hans Friis has over 25 active service in the United (Continued on Page 5)

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

CONDUCTED BY E. F. R.

After two more or less wild Sighting Shots we find ourself about to Fire our first Flare for Record. We ask your indulgence and assistance, particular ly your assistance. We do not hope, nor do we, in our wildest flights of fancy, imagine that we can even approximate The Flare as it has been conducted by Forrest Harding. The Gods have destroyed that mold. What we are really trying to do is in the nature of an experiment. Under the erstwhile Conductorship of "E. F. H." the Flare established itself as one of those little things that do so much to make a Dull World a little brighter. Under the guidance of the brilliant intellect and skillful pen of the Past-Conductor this Community has become Flare-Minded. For an issue or two of The Herald we are simply (and what a good word that is) endeavoring to ascertain whether it is The Flare itself that the people want, or whether the Desideratum is The Flare only as "E. F. H." can conduct it. If the latter "whether" is the case then this effort becomes our Swan Song—our Ave atque

COMMANDANT COLLARED BY COUNTY CONSTABLE

Wouldn't it be just like the luck of a Callow Columnist making his bow to be confronted with a bit of news concerning no less personage than that have reached this Column from Fort Benning's Commandant. Oh, well, the higher they are the harder we will fall, so here goes. Last week Colonel Fred L. Munson,

Commandant of The Infantry School,

Commandant of a C.C.C. Area, Commandant of the 24th Infantry, Protector of the Oppressed, and Friend of Man, hied himself forth accompanied by his excellent executive and clever chauffer Major Monk Lewis to make an official inspection of the C C. C. Camps in the area over which he Reigns Supreme. For days all went merry as a marriage bell. Camp all cap-a-pie. Morale marvelous. Chauffeur Lewis driving so carefully that the only petty annoyances were stripped mufflers, broken springs, and blowouts. Came the last Day. The schedule cut down the time intended for inspection of the last camp, to a minimum in order that upon its completion away they would go until the cry Atlanta Ahov was raised. Monk merrily motored his Chief into the Camp near Bainbridge and they sought out the tent of the Camp Commander, Captain Ross. Now for the monkey wrench in the machinery. At the headquarters tent stood a man representing himself as the Majesty of the Law. The heavily armed civilian sprang a Sheriff's Badge and announced he had a warrant for the arrest of two deserters from Fort Benning who had made way in a Government Car. The description fitted Colonel Munson and the Hang-Dog expression and general cut-throat appearance of Monk left no doubt in the mind of the Constabule that he had Got His Men. Our Commandant told the Laws who he was, giving all his ranks and titles including a succinct account of his service. No good. He showed a copy of his orders. The Sheriff could not or would not read. The two deserters would have to proceed under custody down the road seventeen miles where they could tell their story to the Judge who might identify them or believe their story which the Sheriff (after another look at Lewis) said he knew damn well was a tissue of lies. Not to prolong the agony of the reader Our Commandant and his Helper were conducted down the road only to find the Chamber of Commerce of Bainbridge assembled at a Fish Fry waiting for their Guests of Honor and the President of the Chamber who had posed as the Sheriff. The Hospitality of the Hosts more than made up to the Guests for the unpleasant moments that Colonel Munson had spent with the Masquerading Sheriff. And Monk, the Mutt, knew it all the time.

C. C. C. NOTE

We have been profuse in our sympathy for the Post Personnel who have been picked up for detail with the I. W. W. (Illustrious Woodpeckers of the World) and the sad tales some of the officers in command of C. C. C. Camps have well night broken the Readers' hearts. Of late we have begun to wonder if the matter is not what might be called Controversial and possibly the C. C. C.'er himself may have a legitimate growl coming to him. As a matter in point we quote from a letter received recently from Captain O'Connel who is Somewhere in the Shadows of the Forest. "I have two Navy files on duty with me. My tent, and the line of officers' tents are the Quarterdeck, and the tennis court up on the hill is the Fo'csle. they want to leave camp and go to town they ask permission to Go Ashore or Leave Ship. The messhall is the Galley and the latrines are the Head. As my Forestry Superintendant said the other day 'Between the Army, the Navy, and the Forestry the C. C. is a Hell of a place to try to speak English."

S. P. E. A. W. NOTE

It is possible that the members of the Society for the Prevention of Ennui Among Widows have been taking a week off but we are inclined to believe that the dearth of news from that front is due to the fact that the regular Playboys have been working under cover. Our only item for the week concerns the rise and fall of Malin Chivalrous Craig, who, since he is a Bachelor, is not supposed to be a regular member. Malin, either not appreciating his inelegibility or ignoring it, made a mighty attempt to muscle-in on the society. It came about and climbed to a climax in this wise. Scipio Craig has been acting Recruiting Officer for the Post for the past two weeks. During this time his efforts to recruit the Band of the Twenty-fourth Infantry up to full the Eighty-third Field Artillery for it had been so strenuous that the week end found him tired in body and soul. When Mallet Malin feels that way he seeks companionship. So he nomi nated, seconded and elected himself into membership in the S. P. E. A. W. Next he got himself a widow and proceeded as her escort to make merry at the Picnic given for Forrest Harding to celebrate the Wanderer's Return. Beau Brummel Bowen, an Active and Model Member, resented the machinations of Malin purely from his pride in the prestige of the Society, there was nothing personal concerned you are assured. Bowen had not been invited to the Picnic but a little thing like that never stops the True Crusader. The Hunt was on.

(Please turn to page 5)

THE FLARE (Continued from page 4)

Bow-wow Bowen got his nose to the ground and was off. Despite being drawn astray by a few false scents it was not many hours before the Human Hound had treed his quarry. (That Human Hound cognomen is supplied by Malin). The quarry had not exactly been treed. Bowen found the trees beneath which the Picnic Party had played prior to moving on to a Polishing Off Party elsewhere. Battling Bowen never backs so on he proceeded in pursuit until success at last crowned his efforts. He found the Party but the Picnic now consisted of only the survival of the fittest among whom Malin and the Widow were which. Bite-em Bowen got right down to cases. He tried command, Junior are too well known to necescajolery, and collusion on Malin all to no avail. having heard that there are two sides to every situation, cast camouflage aside and adopted an entirely new set of tactics. He went to work on the

KENNY'S NORWOOD COFFEE

is sold at Fort Benning

through the

Post Exchange

TRY A POUND

YOU WILL BE PLEASED

Widow, and so wonderful were his wiles that in no time at all he had completely won the Woman. The discomfiture of Mallet Malin was complete and he was obliged to content himself with taking charge of the Guest of Honor and rowing him ashore through a Heavy Sea.

ALOHA

Yearly changes in personnel with the attendant departure of official and social friends are so many that space does not permit personal au revoirs to all. We believe, however, that the Family of the Father of the Flare rate room in this Column. The abilities, charms, and graces of Forrest and Elinor Harding and of the younger Hardings, Davis, Elinor, and Forrest sitate their enumeration here. During Never-Beaten Bowen, the four years that they have been that there are two sides stationed here they have so endeared themselves to Fort Benning and Columbus that their departure from the community leaves empty spaces that can never be filled. All of us whose rare good fortune it has been to know them wish the Hardings God Speed. May their paths always fall in pleasant places. And may their recollections of us be as fond as our memories of them shall be—always.

> CITATION FOR THE WEEK The Colonel got the D. S. C. Parley Voo

The Colonel got the D. S. C. Parley Voo

The Colonel got the D. S. C. He cited himself from his own

Hinkey Dinkey Parley Voo

Our Citation for this week goes to "E. F. R." for the audacious affrontery, egregious egotism, and impulsive intrepidity which he has displayed to toddle along in the famous footsteps of "E. F. H."

WE OFFER THE SERVICES OF OUR RENTAL DEPARTMENT

To All Incoming Officers To Assist Them In Getting Pleasantly Located For The Coming School Year.

FLOURNOY REALTY CO.

Exclusive Agents for

WILDWOOD COURT APARTMENTS

3 Phones 465

1209 Broadway

WEEK-END SPECIAL TRY COLLINS' SPECIAL LEMON CREAM CAKE 35c

COLLINS BAKING COMPANY

1144 13TH STREET

FURNITURE

Headquarters for Furniture and all kinds of household furnishings, complete line of Sellers' Kitchen and Breakfast-room furniture and Simmons beds, mattresses, springs. At lowest prices and easiest terms.

It will pay you to see us before you buy.

CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

SUCCESSORS TO JOHNSTON CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

1014 Broadway

Phone 460

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

RESOURCES OVER _____

_____$ 600,000.00

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

SOCIETY

(Continued from page 2) J. H. Stuart, Mrs. Robert Nourse and Mrs. C. B. Warden.

The Spauldings had as their guests members of the Tank Battalion.

SUBSCRIPTION DANCE AT POLO

Due to the popularity of the first script dance, the Officers' Club will sponsor another such dance on Saturday evening at the Polo-Hunt Club. The cost will be 25 cents per person. Dancing will begin at eight o"clock and will last until eleven. During the evening individual tables were arranged around the dance floor where coffee and sandwiches will be served. Several informal parties will be held preceding the dance.

PERSONALS

Lieut. Robert W. Ports who has been stationed in Alabama with the C. C. C. is spending the week end at Fort Benning.

Lieut. Carl W. Westlund who has been connected with the C. C. C. at Warm Springs is at Fort Benning for a week's leave.

Lieut. and Mrs. Ovid O. Wilson are spending three weeks' leave at Fort Benning prior to reporting to duty at Fort Riley where Lieut. Wilson has been assigned to the Cavalry School as a student.

Miss Mollie Brown, the attractive daughter of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Geo. Marshall of Fort Moultrie is the house guest of Mrs. Tracy Davis of Columbus.

Mrs. Charles R. Sargent with her daughter Miss Phyllis Sargent, left Thusday for Fort Jay, N. Y., to join Capt. Sargent who is stationed there. Miss Sergeant whose engagement to William B. Moore was announced this Spring is making plans for their marriage in October.

Mrs. Joseph A. Atkins and Mrs. Horace O. Cushman departed Thursday for Flat Rock, N. C., where they will be the guests of General and Mrs. Campbell King.

Friends of Miss Elizabeth Berry will be delighted to learn that she is planning a visit to Fort Benning as the house guest of Miss Hariotte Atkins. She is expected to arrive on September 3. Several affairs will be given in her honor.

Mrs. William W. O'Connor who has been the house guest of relatives in New York returned to Fort Benning Thursday.

Mrs. James E. Bowen and Mrs. Lynn E. Brady who have been the guests of friends in Philadelphia returned to Fort Benning Thursday.

MAJ. HOBSON HERE FOR DUTY (Continued from page 1)

with the demonstration regiment of the Infantry School is not known at this time.

COLONEL WALLACE CITED (Continued from page 1)

ment of fact, and from a general in command of a brigade. What the same trip must have meant to the four intrepid souls who made it alone, at night, is hard to imagine.

At the time of this action Colonel Wallace had served about fifteen months in the army, having been for one year in Cuba with volunteer organizations. He enlisted for service in the Philippines in August 1899, and has stayed with the army since that

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital

1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

HALF SOLES A GOOD A BETTER 50c · Half Half Sole Sole

LAMAC SOLE $1.00 The Only 5-Unit Machine In Columbus

All Work Guaranteed CALLED FOR AND DELIVERED

BOSTON SHOE FACTORY We specialize in cripple work

1234 Breadway

Phone 565

SATELLITES

(Continued From Page 4) States Army, having over 19 years service with the 29th Infantry. In a few more years Sergeant Friis will be given his just reward for thirty years active service for his country. His devotion to duty and his record of excellency will merit his earned retirement from the Army and exemplification of his meritorious career may well be emulated by any enlisted member of the Army.

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

A Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

B. H. HARRIS CO.

Renting

Special attention given Fort Benning Officers Kindly call and let us assist you in getting located

Office, 12th Street

Phones 250-251

B. H. HARRIS CO.

They Look Good They Taste Good They ARE Good

that's

THE KING AMONG TOASTED PEANUTS

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded for the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

TAMPA ASSOCIATED HOTELS

JACKSONVILLE HOTEL GEORGE WASHINGTON HOTEL MAYFLOWER - HOTEL FLAGLER

MIAMI....HOTEL ALCAZAR

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Benning Amateurs Uphold Reputation

SPORT CHATTER

BY DAVIS HARDING

ed, French Canadian, smashed a solid left to Ben Jeby's midriff and followed this awesome punch with a the former middleweight champion to the floor face down. In this manner, Brouillard demonstrated his right to the world's middleweight title.

- Jeby had been hailed as champion of the 160 pounders when he trounced Frankie Battaglia in twelve rounds last winter.

Brouillard's rise in fistic circles has been remarkable. At the age of twenty, the durable French Canadian won the welterweight crown away from Jackie Fields. That was two years ago. But Brouillard gained weight so rapidly that he was soon a full-fledged middleweight. Recently he whipped Mickie Walker, the Toy Bulldog in an impressive fashion.

Brouillard is a southpaw, and his style has utterly confounded orthodox right-handers.

The new champion came out with the opening gong prepared to make a cool, calculating fight of it. He stabbed out openings with his extended right hand and followed his smart jabs with left hand smashes to the face and body.

Near the end of the sixth round, Lou loosed a volley of left hand blows to the midsection that left Jeby gasping for breath, the air driven from his lungs. The gong found the realizes that his showing in the intergame New Yorker draped all over the ropes, an easy target.

Brouillard got right under way

Lou Brouillard, rugged, barrel-chest- again in the seventh. He drew Jeby's guard up with his pawing right, and smashed his left to the belt-line. Ben sagged under the withering punishsweeping left uppercut that crashed ment and Brouillard came at him like a Kansas Cyclone. A left uppercut spread Jeby on the canvas, but the New Yorker pulled himself to his feet at the count of eight. The effort was too great, and without another blow being sruck, Jeby's eyes closed and he slumped over on his face.

> International tennis stars are getting in shape for the national championships to be held at Forest Hills next week. The Newport tournament, considered a tune-up, has been in progress for the last week and is now rapidly reaching a conclusion. Fifteen of the first seventeen ranking players in the country are competing.

> Ellsworth Vines is determined to defend his national championship successfully. His poor showing in the Davis Cup matches has influenced many to believe that he will be incapable of repeating.

This may be the Californian's last year in amateur competition. Vines has admitted several times that he has been the recipient of flattering offers to turn professional; he also has confessed that one particular offer is so attractive that he has it under consideration.

There is no doubt about it-Vines would make a great card. But Vines national tournaments and in the Davis Cup matches was poor, and materially (Please turn to Page 7)

Lick Detroiters In Furious Rounds At Doughbov Arena

The Fort Benning amateur boxing team justified its top ranking in the southeast by handing the Michigan state champions a 4-3 setback. Thirtythree rounds of the fastest, most furious leather slinging that has ever been seen in a Benning arena, amateur or professional, was the reward of the faithful who braved threatening weather to see two championship outfits in action.

Throughout the three opening exhi bition bouts, a slight drizzle persisted. The sky was overcast, and the prospects for further postponement of the bouts seemed good. But fickle Dame Weather, after getting an eye-ful of the exhibition bouts, changed her mind completely.

A. J. Jarvis of Atlanta and Hal Davis of Syracuse, New York, alternated as third man in the ring, and both referees did an excellent job of officiating. Lieut. Ferenbaugh and Lt. Cleland were the two judges.

At 8:15, C. A. Meyer of Fort Benning and Lee Corsini of Detroit crawled through the ropes. The opening gong sent the two batters into furious action. After a few preliminary slugfests, Meyer and Corsini settled down to one steady exchange of blows. The Fort Benning amateur held his own with Corsini until the latter part of the second round when the Wolverine forged ahead. A right to the chin floored Meyer, but the gong saved him at the count of nine. Corsini came out fo the third, intent on completing arrangements for the disposal of Meyer, and soon had him in a bad way. The inevitable knock out came near the end of the round. Steve Tackas put Eddie Mann of Fort Benning away in even quicker fashion. Eddie tried to keep the rugged Detroiter at long range, but Tackas bored in with a long right uppercut to the body, and caught Mann on the ropes with an avalanche of lefts and rights. Mann subsided for the evening.

Bennie Woolam of Fort Benning made Davie Simpson, Golden Gloves champ step fast all the way in the third exhibition. Simpson waded in with his guard down half of the time in an effort to put across a finshing Woolam fought back courageously, but by the end of the second round, it was just a question of time. Simpson was awarded a technical knockout in the third stanza.

After witnessing the three exhibition bouts, your correspondent was wondering what the regular match bouts were going to be like. Charles Floyd and Joe Nadeau gave him a pretty good idea of what was forthcoming with three rounds of fast boxing and hard hitting. Floyd, the southeastern bantam champ, found in Nadeau a boxer who was worthy of his steel, but at the end of three rounds, the Benning leatherpusher was the one who received the verdict. Both fighters punished each considerably around the head.

G. Morris of Fort Benning upset the dope bucket by winning a close decision over Al Nettlow of Detroit, 1933 Golden Gloves king. Morris' long reach stood him in good stead and time after time he beat Nettlow to the punch. The Wolverine packed a vicious wallop and set Morris back on his heels persistently when the Benning battler got careless. Morris took the aggressive from the outset, and this factor probably influenced the judges to render the decision in his favor. There was very little to choose between either, and a draw would have been the verdict, if draws were not banned in amateur fighting regulations.

Walter Haliburta of Detroit scored (Continued on Page 7)

:-: BASEBALL :-:

(By N. H. HOBBS)

There have been no changes in the league standing of the various teams entered in the intramural series since last week's showing. The Kellys of the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry are still leading the league with a total of seven games played, six won and one lost. Next in order is the Special Units of the Infantry School Detachment who are the strongest contenders for second place honors in the standing, they have played five and lost one to Headquaters Battalion of the 29th Infantry, who are at the present writing occupying third place, the 1st Battalion Irishmen are next with a playing percentage of .429, while the Field Artillery are the submarines of the race

Three teams that figure prominently in the race are the Special Units, Headquarters Battalion and the 1st Battalion. The Greencords, under the management of Sad Samuel Stewart, former Columbus Fox initial sackman and outfielder, are really playing Brand "A" baseball, and the combination of Tolle and Massey around the keystone is mighty hard to beat. Massey is hitting his stride with the willow and Trippe, Futch, Tolle and Orgeron are boosting their batting averages every day. With an excellent staff of hurlers, such as, Robertson, southpaw twirler, with oodles of stuff, Gilbert, speed ball pitcher de luxe and Hinkley the Specialists are destined to account for themselves strongly before the termination of this half.

Headquarters Battalion of the 29th Infantry comprising men from the Spare Parts of the Demonstration Regiment are also scheduled to make the fans sit up and take notice. They have one of the youngest teams in the league and a hurling staff that will do justice to some of the finest pitching staffs in the big leagues. Such slab artists as Parsons, Huntley and White, are the big reasons why some of the leading batters in the intramural league are suffering from diminished batting average and believe me this baseball aggregation is knocking the old agate all over the lot. In a total of 6 games they have an average of 13 hits per game, and hits will win ball games.

The 1st Battalion of the 29th Infantry are just coming to life, they lost a couple of their first games, but they did the same thing in the first half of the season and came back strong to win a series of games in a row and place as runners up. In a game with the Tank Battalion recently they collected a total of 20 hits to score nine runs and prove to the baseball world that they are still in existence. Better watch the Fighting Irish.

STANDING OF THE LEAGUE ON WEDNESDAY, AUGUST 16TH, 1933 Lost Percentage Played Team 2nd Battalion _____ .833 Special Units -.666 Headquarters Battalion _____ 1st Battalion _____ .286 Tank Battalion ______

TANKS VS. SPECIAL UNITS August 10th, 1933

83rd Field Artillery _____

School Detachment continued their winning streak when they bested the Tank Battalion by the score of 6 to affray in the third stanza by bunching their hits; Robertson doubled, went to third on a misplay and scored when The Special Units of the Infantry Massey poled out a long sacrifice hit to left field, Tolle then smashed out a two timer, Futch grounded to second, Tolle raced to third on this play and scored when Trippe hit for a long bag. The Specialists took the lead in the Trippe then stole second and scored (Continued on Page 7)

The Poise of a Rider: THAT COUNTS!

It takes poise to stay on top of a bucking broncho, and it takes just as much poise to smack a tennis ball an inch over the net-out of your opponent's reach. Not only that but the same thing applies to the equipment for every sport -you MUST have the best to play your best game. And that's the only kind we sell. The Main Branch, Phone 608.

EXCHANGE POST

FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

LET THIS CROWN BE YOUR GUIDE:

TO REAL ENJOYMENT

You profit both ways when you order Nehi Cola. You get the best cola beverage made-and you get the privilege of using Nehi Cola Crowns as a medium of exchange. Nehi Cola is the REAL two-in-one drink, in more ways than one!

MADE BY THE MAKERS OF

Nehi Fizz — Rums Dry Ginger Ale — Nehi True Fruit Beverages

BENNING LICKS DETROIT (Continued from page 6)

first for the visitors when he dropped Norman Phail of Fort Benning for the count in the second round. Phail fought on even terms with his rugged opponent in the first heat, but Haliburta rushed him to the ropes in the second with a storm of lefts and rights. Phail dropped to the canvas and was counted out.

Neal Milan, S. E. A. A. U. welterweight king, and Bill Larkin of Detroit then treated the fans to three rounds of fast and hard hitting, which saw first one fighter, then the other, gain the upper hand. Larkin felled Milan in the first for a no-count with a right to the jaw. Milan jumped up and went into a clinch. Larkin pushed him away, probably expecting him to fall. Instead, Bill received a couple of jolting punches to the Van Dyke that put a different light on the matter. The rest of the first round was fought on practically even terms. Both boys stood toe-to-toe and slugged it out in the second, with Milan getting the better of the exchange. He was now hitting Larkin freely, and the Detoiter looked dazed. The third was almost a duplicate of the second except that Larkin absorbed a little more punishment. Milan won the decision. It was one of the best fights of the evening.

Roy Whatley, southeastern middleweight king, met his match in Frank Kapanowski of Detroit, Golden Gloves and Michigan state champ. Frank was the stronger of the two and rushed Whatley all around the ring. Nevertheless Roy gave a good account of himself and put in some hard licks himself. Kapanowski was easily the better in the clinches and punished the Fort Benning ace leatherpusher with hard rights and lefts to face and body. Roy was unable to keep the rugged Wolverine at long range, and consequenty dropped the decision.

Phi Carpenter easily took Tony Mangane of Detroit into camp. It did not take Tony long to find out that he was up against a clever boxer and a hard puncher, and after arriving at this disconcerting conclusion, proceed ed to go into his shell. Every time Phil got close enough where Tony thought he might hurt him, the Detroiter covered up, and there was nothing Carpenter could do about it except whale away at a pair of heavy shoulders and a wall of gloves. Phil, however, managed to connect heavily to the face in the third round.

In the last of the team match bouts, Lonnie Wilson of Fort Benning engaged Jim Barnes, 1932 Golden Glove champ. This was far and away the best, most exciting bout on the

SERVICE

Regardless of the make car you drive.

We Offer

Complete Service Facilities Factory Trained Mechanics Modern Methods Hundreds of satisfied Army Customers

> May we Serve -YOU-

Columbus Roberts Motor Co.

Studebaker — Rockne White Trucks

510-14 - 12th St. Phone 271

C. D. SHINE

evening's program, which speaks very well for Wilson and Barnes. The Fort Benningite and the Detroiter wasted no time in getting down to business. They came out of their corners with the opening gong like twin cyclones and collided in the center of the arena. A toe-to-toe exchange gave the fans a little idea of the type of fight this was going to be. Wilson nailed Barnes with a mighty right and the ringsiders confidenty watched for the fall. But Barnes didn't even shake his head or bat an eye; instead he walloped Wilson with an assortment of rights and lefts.

Killing punches rolled off these two like lizards off a log. But in the second stanza, Barnes dropped Wilson for a count of nine. Lonnie came to his feet dazed but it never occurred to him to clinch. Barnes rushed in for the kill and ran right into a right that spun him clear across the ring. He bounced off the ropes into fusillade of punches, one of which opened up a cut over his eye. Wilson was down again before the second round was over and it looked like curtains for the army battler. But Lonnie was up before the fatal ten and held Barnes on even terms for the remainder of the round.

The third was a wild, weird slugfest from the start to the finish. It was Wilson's round as he nailed Barnes time after time with hard smashes to the chin that would have stopped almost any other opponent. But Barnes took his punishment as if it were all in a day's work and returned a goodly portion of it. The decision was awarded to Barnes, but had draws been allowed, no judge in the world would have been brave enough to give either fighter the edge In a special bout, Marvin Penland S. E. A. A. U. heavy champ, copped the decision over an Alabama opponent. After this fight, Major Kingman presented the trophies to the winners.

The victory of the Fort Benninng amateurs is mute proof of the successful efforts of Lieutenant Howard Johnson, the team coach. Lieutenant Johnson must be given a large share of the credit for developing one of the best amateur boxing teams in the country.

83RD FIELD ARTILLERY (Continued from Page 3)

becue at Russ swimming pool Thurs day afternoon for all the boys in the battery and their friends especially lady friends, and we all are planning on a good time. Especially when it becomes chow time as the Mess Sergeant and all the cooks are working hard to please all the boys as such occasions are usually far apart.

Our ole draft (horse, Pvt. Stringfellow will be discharged tomorrow and is planning to leave us. Every one hates to see him leave, but Harry says the hills of dear old Tennessee are longing for his return.

BATTERY C

First Sergeant Workman and our capable battery clerk are both on We all extend our best furlough. wishes for an enjoyable time for both of them.

Sgt. Gehm has just returned from furlough and has taken over the duties as acting 1st Sgt. He reports a wonderful time on his trip to Wisconsin.

him credit for being good on edu- he then raced home when an error cating them too.

The Battery extends its greetings to 2nd Lieut. Harris and 2nd Lieut.

JOHN LOCKE

RENT-A-CAR COMPANY DRIVE YOUR SELF

New 4 and V-8 De Luxe Fords

COURTESY TO ALL

519 - 8th Street

Phone 9579

Special Prices On Out Of Town Trips

SPORT CHATTER (Please turn to page 6) decreased the inducement that formerly existed to see him in action.

And so there is a double incentive for him to top the field in the national tournament. In the first place, the honors that accrue to a national champion are not to be overlooked, and in the second place, it would help him build up again the reputation that was so besmirched in the course of the last few months.

The Washington Senators, chiefly through the efforts of Buddy Myers. are still grimly retaining their hold on first place in the junior circuit In the crucial series between the Sena tors and Yankees last week, the Sena tors not only refused to give ground, but more firmly entrenched them selves in their position.

But cast a glance down the pages of baseball annals, and many teams will be found who, although holding a fairly safe lead through August were incapable of maintaining the steady grind down the home stretch. Still, perhaps we should not be pesturns at bat.

> BASEBALL (Continued from Page 6)

Score by innings:

Team Hdqrs. Bn.,

___125 001 102—12 15 1 29th Inf. Tank Battalion 010 000 000— 5 1 3 Batteries: Hq. Bn., White and Wright, Tanks, Lindsey, Segrest and Umpires: Nourse and Holland.

SPECIAL UNITS VS. ARTILLERY

August 14th, 1933, Monday The Special Units of the Infantry School Detachment continued their winning streak in Monday's game by defeating the 83rd Field Artillery by the score of 11 to 4.

This game was noticeably marked by errors recorded against the Redlegs infield and outfield; the first six 1ST BATTALION VS. SECOND

BATTALION 29TH

The Second Battalion, 29th Infantry defeated their brother in arms, the 1st Battalion Irishmen to the tune of 5 to 1 in a rather one sided contest staged at Gowdy Field last Friday.

Nichols, portsider for the Kells held the Green Wave to only a pair of bingles during the entire nine innings. The support given him by his mates was unquestionable, however, minimizing their bobbles to two misplays.

The Blue Thunderbolt hopped on the combined offerings of Foster and Delano to record nine hits and five runs to chalk up another victory, to their excellent showing in the second half of the Intramural season.

The Kells shoved a run home in the second stanza after Prophet singled, Barron sacrificed him to second, he went to third when McAllister grounded to short and scored when Nichols clouted out a single. They tallied aagin in the next frame, another run; Thompson singled and then pilfered the keystone, went to third on a wild pitch and sprinted home when Amos came across with a single. The Blue Thundebolt made two more runs in the fifth session; Thompson was safe at first by virtue of an error on short, he then committed petit larceny by swiping second and again crossed the plate when his trusty comrade Amos poled out another single. Amos repeated Tommy's act by stealing second, (Snead backstopping Corp. Wilson is still the battery for the Irishmen couldn't seem to locate the keystone bag with his throws) was recorded against the Green Wave shortstopper. After Prophet rolled an easy grounder to that position, Barron whiffed ending the stampede. Kelly's men scored their fifth marker in the next inning, when they smashed out two singles to counter Saunders who had gained first on an error of the first baseman for the Irish.

Thompson was the hitting star for the Kellys when he smashed out three hits out of four trips to the plate, next in turn was his keystone mate. Amos who played a bang up game at second for the Blue Thunderbolt, he secured two safetys out of four times

Jumping Joe Reddock and Malvin Snead were the two reasons why Nichols wasn't credited with a no-hit game and incidentally Snead scored the only marker recorded for the Irish.

Score by innings:

RHE Team 1st Battalion ___000 001 000—1 2 6 2nd Battalion __011 021 00x—5 9 2

Batteries: 1st Bn., Foster, Delano and Snead, 2nd Bn. Nichols and Thompson.

Umpires: Lindsey and Holland.

HEADQUARTERS BN. VS. TANKS August 12th, 1933

The Headquarters Battalion 29th Infantry nine, swamped the Golden Tornado of the Tank Battalion in a one-sided demonstration Saturday at Gowdy diamond, 12 to 1.

Lindsey started on the mound for the Tank Battalion but was sent to the showers in the third when the Black Pirates opened up with a barrage of fire that would have done justice to Honus Wagner, star batter of all times.

White, versatile speed ball pitcher, twirled the entire nine innings for the Spare Part nine and held the Golden Tornado to five scattered bingles during the fracas.

Lt. Ferenbaugh's proteges scored in every inning but three, starting with the first when they tallied one marker. coming back strong again in the next frame to chalk up a pair of runs and cutting loose with the heavy ar-RHE tillery in the 3rd session to record five more counters, they failed to score in the next two stanzas but in the sixth and seventh the Pirates shoved two more runs across the plate, they made it unanimous in the final inning by running in another pair of markers. The Spare Parts jumped on the combined offerings of Lindsey and Segrest for a total of fifteen hits. Believe me those Pirates are knocking that old agate around and before this second half terminates, are going to cause many a coach a severe headache on these torrid nights.

White and Easley were the heavy hitters of Saturday's game, White clouting out a triple at his first time to plate and on his second appearance clouted out a home run with a runner riding second, Easley hit safely three times out of his five trips to bat while many others clouted the rock around for a pair of hits each. Included in this category are Fraiche, Hayes, and Wright, all players on the Headquarters nine.

Jimmy Hayes was the fielding star of the game when he raced away back against the scoreboard to nab Mc-Lane's elongated smash, which would have been good for at least three sacks in event it was missed.

Kulikofski and Smith were the willow wielders for the Tank Battalion, Kulikoski banged out a double and Smith hit safely two times out of his grounded to pitcher retiring the side. The Greencords tallied again in the fifth session, one more counter to lead the Golden Tornado 4 to 0.

The Tankers came to life in the seventh when they hopped on the offerings of Lefty Robertson to smash out three hits and chalk up a pair of markers; Stanisbury doubled, Kulikofski skied to center, then Smith clouted out a two bagger scoring Stanisbury. Swantic flied out to left field, McLane, that hardhitting Initial sackman for Lt. Kellam's nine, poled out a bingle that shoved Smith across the plate, Pike hit for rain, ending the

Robertson, a left hander with worlds of stuff worked on the rubber for the Specialists and held the Tank Battalion to four bingles during the entire fracas, while the Units hopped on the offerings of Smith and Lindsey for a total of nine hits and six counters. Score by innings:

Team RHE Special Units __003 010 002—6 9 1 Tanks ____ __000 000 200—4 2 2

Batteries: Special Units, Robertson and McCarthy. Tanks, Smith, Lindsey, McGlashen and Pike. Umpires: Nourse and Holland.

(Please turn to page 8)

THE

Post Exchange

has a

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The hours of this service are from 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

CKSONVILLE GEORGE WASHINGTON'S 300 ROOMS - 300 BATHS NEWEST AND FINEST Every Known Facility - Garage Directly Connecting Lobby - Radio MAYFLOWER ◆ 300 ROOMS - 300 BATHS A BEAUTIFUL HOTEL Splendid Facilities - Garage - Radio Coffee Shoppe MODERN AS THE BEST FREE GARAGE EVERY CONVENIENCE FOR SUMMER COMFORT .. PRICES IN KEEPING WITH THE TIMES ..

BASEBALL (Continued from page 7) runs tallied by the Specialists were the result of errors on the part of the Ar-

No Matter What Car You Plan to buy in 1933

You owe it to Yourself to see AND DRIVE the new 8-Cylinder

FORD

75 Horsepower

112" Wheelbase

11 Beautiful Body Types

B. DETROIT

This is the roomiest and Most Powerful FORD CAR Ever Built

Call or Phone for a demonstration without obligation BURRUS MOTOR CO.

1216-22 1st Ave. Phone 3500 R. E. (BOB) MATTHEWS FT. BENNING REPRESENTATIVE

Caisson Riders certainly deserved credit for the stellar brand of ball that he pitched in this contest, his assortment of slants and curves had the Greencords completely baffled, in fact Morris has yet to show any signs of weakening while he has worked on the mound for his brother Gunners.

In the first frame the Greencords tallied a run by virtue of an error on the Redleg shortstop and in the second stanza shoved two more markers across the plate when the hot corner man and the left fielder bobbled the agate. In the fourth the loose playing continued and another run was scored and in the following session after Morris had whiffed two of the Kelly batsmen, two more counters were recorded for the Specialists, the Greencords bunched their hits in the seventh and eighth and chalked up five more runs, making a total of 11

Hinkley started on the mound for the School Detachment nine, but took a stroll to the proverbial showers after two runs had been scored by the Gunners. He was relieved on the rubber by Gilbert, speed ball ace of the Greencord nine who held the Cannoneers to only three more bingles for the remainder of the affray.

Evans led with the willow for the Greencords, getting a double and two singles out of five trips to the plate, next in order was Hesterly with a two timer and a single and Gilbert with a double.

Speir, right field ball hawk for the Gunners led with the bat for the losers, hitting safely two times out of four.

Score by innings: Team ___000 301 000— 4 Special Units 120 120 32x—11 9 Batteries: Artillery, Morris and Thornhill and Rhodes. Special Units, Hinkley, Gilbert and Newman.

Umpires: Lindsey and Nourse.

TANKS VS. 1ST BATTALION Tuesday, August 15, 1933

The 1st Battalion of the 29th Infantry smothered the Tank Battalion under a barrage of hits to win a well earned ball game Tuesday by the tune of 9 to 3.

The Green Wave was the first to score in this contest in the second stanza after Ragsdale had doubled to left field, Charley Banks, that grand old slugger and hot corner man for the Irish poled out one of the longest hits of the intramural season. He caught one of Lindsey's offerings right on the button and the agate sailed high, wide and handsome over the left field fence, boy oh boy, what a wallop. It seems like Charley has hit his stride again and emerged from the batting slump that lowered his average during the first half of the season. The Irish counted again in the fourth; Banks was given a free pass, Brookshire hit after Jordan had popped to the infield, advancing Banks to second, Foster flied out and that consistent hitter Reddock came across with a sizzling double scoring Charley from the keystone, Stolier hit for rain, retiring the side.

The Golden Tornado came to life in their turn at bat and knotted the score three all, Smith hit, Swantic hit, Wyrick doubled and Rolliston duplicated Wyrick by clouting out a two timer, all these hits being responsible for the only three counters that were ing the contest.

sixth by virtue of three hits by Foster, Rollo and Johnson coupled with an to left field, no advance was made, error on the Tanker third baseman, Prophet walked, filling the bases but two more runs being chalked up for the Irishmen.

Lt. Moore's proteges went on a hitting spree in the eighth that after the smoke and dust had cleared from the diamond was good for a total of five hits and four more counters.

Little Benny Stolier played the initial sack for the Green Wave in this contest and sure played a bang up game at that position, handling four chances without an error, receiving credits for 12 put outs assisted and three unassisted. He was rather weak with the willow, however, but by fast sprinting beat out a grounder to the shortstop and was given credit for a hit.

Banks, Reddock, Johnson, Ragsdale and Jordan were the heavy stickmen for the Irish, Banks' homer with a runner riding second was the highlight of the game, while the other willow wielders were credited with a bevy of triples, doubles and singles. Reddock still believes in swiping the bases and was credited with two thefts in this contest.

Smith and Swantic were the mainstay of the Tank Battalion's hitting power, Smith was credited with three singles and Swantic with a single and a triple that bounced off the scoreboard.

Score by innings:

Team 1st Bn. _____020 102 040—9 20 1 Tanks _____000 300 000—3 10 3

Batteries: 1st Bn., Foster and Reddock; Tanks, Lindsey, Swantic and McGlashen.

Umpires: Nourse and Holland.

2ND BATTALION VS. ARTILLERY August 16, 1933, Wednesday

The Second Battalion of the 29th Infantry whitewashed the 83rd Artillery baseball nine by the score of 4 to 0.

The Kellys scoed a marker in the first stanza by virtue of a couple of costly errors on the keystone sackmen for the Caisson Riders, they repeated this act in the following frame and chalked up two runs in the fifth spasm to win the game 4 to 0 and score the only runs made during the entire nine innings of play.

Shotgun Pyle, supported to the limit by his mates twirled a stellar brand of ball for the Blue Thunderbolt and held the Redlegs to seven scattered bingles during the fracas. There was not a single error chalked up against any Kelly player during the contest. Pruett worked in coordi nation with Pyle and played a bang up game back of the rubber, not one Artilleryman was credited with a swiped sack for the duration of the

The Kells counted in the opening frame like this: Saunders hit a grounder to second, the keystone sackman juggled the ball and was late in attempting to nip the fleet-footed base runner, Barron was safe at the initial on another misplay by the second baseman, Thompson whiffed, for the first out of the session, Slocum grounded out to second, Saunders crossed the plate on this play and Amos rolled to first unassisted for the third out of the inning.

In the 2nd time at bat, the Kells bunched their hits and tallied another counter; Kelly fanned, Prophet doubled and Pruett hit one on the nose for booming single scoring Prophet from the keystone, Pyle was safe at first on a fielder's choice, Pruett being forced out at second. Tar Heel Saunders bingled, Pyle racing to third on this play, Saunders pilfered second but both runners died on base when Barron grounded to short for the third out. Kellys leading 2 to 0.

In the fifth the big guns of the Doughboys barked again collecting 4 hits and shoving two more runs across the home stretch; Saunders singled, stole second, went to third on a pass ball and scored when Barron poled out a screaming double, Barron gained third when Thompson grounded to short. Slocum clouted out a single

Visit historic "St. Elmo" While in Columbus.

Morris, southpaw hurler for the recorded for the Tank Battalion dur Barron crossed the plate, Slocum raced to second when Amos came The Irish untied the score in the across with a safety, both runners then executed a double steal, Kelly skied Pruett flied to center ending the stampede.

Saunders led the attack of the Blue Thunderbolt in Wednesday's game, securing three singles out of five appearances before the Redleg twirler. Slocum and Amos shone in the stick work also; Slocum with a double and a single and Amos with two safetys credited for him. Speir of the Artillery was still the leading batsmen for his team, smashing out a double and single at his turns at bat.

Rhodes, roaming left field for the Cannoneers was the fielding star of Wednesday's game when he raced out beyond the left field foul line to make a beautiful running catch of Barron's foul fly.

Score by innings:

Team 2nd Battalion __110 020 000—4 12 0 Artillery _____000 000 000—0 7 Umpires: Lindsey and Nourse.

INSIGNIA

A Suggestion

As manufacturers we wish to announce that we have not yet raised prices on Military and Naval Insignia and Uniform Equipment. Nevertheless, price advances are imminent and will be considerable.

WE RECOMMEND PURCHASING YOUR NEEDS NOW

At Your Post Exchange or Dealer

N. S. MEYER INC. 43 East 19th Street, New York

GOOD TOOLS

GOOD MECHANICS

We have one of the best equipped shops in this territory for work on all makes of cars and employ the best mechanics we can find. Therefore we are able to give you the service you desire at the most reasonable prices.

AUTO DEPT.

EXCHANGE FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

A transaction with us is never completed until the customer is thoroughly satisfied.

H. ROTHSCHILD

FURNITURE COMPANY

Leading Furniture Dealers In Columbus For 39 Years.

PUT ON THE SPOT

An expression used by the underworld when a member is condemned. Uncle Sam's guardians of health ARE JUST as cold blooded in condemning an inferior food product as the gangster his enemy or erstwhile pal.

Our greatest boast at the Provision Company, Inc., has always been that our goods DO pass this strict supervision and scrutiny of United States Government Inspectors, both civil and military. It is worth hundreds of dollars in advertising to say Old Settler's Pork Sausage is the choice of Benning. We thank you.

The Provision Co., Inc.

VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, AUGUST 25, 1933

NUMBER 18

Ten Years Ago Last Week

Lieutenant Arthur N. Ziegler and Miss Dorothy Kneeland were married way up north in Michigan. The Zieg-Iers planned to return to the post about October 1.

Mrs. Woodson Hocker, and daughter, Dorothy, left the post on a visit friends in Missouri. Colonel Hocker is to join them soon; when they will proceed to his new station.

The 29th Infantry baseball team was presented with the championship pennant of the Infantry School by Lieutenant Colonel Gideon H. Williams representing the commandant.

The Artillery mallet-wielders dropped a hard game to the 29th poloists by the score of 6-5.

Lieutenant L. V. Jones, 24th Infantry, made the Infantry Rifle and Pistol team squad at Camp Perry.

21 West Pointers Assigned To Post

Twenty one graduates of the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York, who received their commissions as second Lieutenants in the regular army last spring, have been assigned to organizations at Fort Benning, Georgia. The officers recently completed an intensive fouryear course of study at the Military Academy, and at the present time are on leave at the various homes.

Four of the officers concerned have been assigned to the 83rd Field Artillery. They are: 2nd Lieutenants William A. Harris, Gerald Chapman, Robert B. Neely, and James N. Roy-

The remainder, seventeen in all, have been assigned to the 29th Infantry Fort Benning, and will take up their duties with the famous demonstration regiment of the Infantry School, when their leaves of absence expire. They include: 2d Lieutenants David W. Gray, Lauren W. Merriam, Henry T. Henry, Stephen O. Fuqua, Jr., Joseph W. Stilwell, Jr., John A. Cleveland, r., Raymond E. Kendall, Earl J. Macherey, Benjamin Thomas Harris, Ernest N. Clarke, Daniel W. Smith, James O. Boswell, William H. G. Fuller, Shelby F. Williams, Walter A. Huntsberry, Frank

L. Elder, and Joseph B. Crawford.
Of this group of officers assigned for duty at Benning, three were residing in Georgia at the time of their Texas. He remained in command of appointments as cadets to West Point.

They are Lieutenants William A. Harthis unit during its organization training until it was demobil ris, and James O. Boswell, both residents of Athens, Georgia, and Lieutenant James M. Royal, whose home was at Sargent, Georgia.

Pvt. Owens Made New Color Guard

Private first class Gus Owens of Company F, 29th Infantry has been designated as color guard in place of Private first class George Wheeler who has been relieved for duty with the Company. Color Guard is one of the highest honors t obe proffered upon a private soldier and men are selected for this detail for their exceptional soldiering qualities and

Gen. Estes New Commandant Of Infantry School

Brigadier General George H. Estes, U. S. Army, has been officially announced as the commandant of the Infantry School, Fort Benning, Georgia, according to advices received at Fort Benning.

General Estes' appointment has been rumored for some time, but it was only on the receipt of the War Department announcement that it became a certainty. He is expected to arrive at Fort Benning to assume his new duties within the next few days.

The selection of General Estes as commanding officer of Fort Benning and the Infantry School is a very fitting and opportune one. In addition to his excellent record as an army officer, he is a former resident of Columbus, and numbers some of the most prominent citizens of the city among his relatives. Among those are Mrs. J. Homer Dimon, Mrs. Everett Strupper, Mrs. Lottie Estes, Mrs. James Calloway, and the Kirven family.

General Estes was born at Eufaula, Alabama, in 1873. At the time of his appointment to the United States Military Academy at West Point, he was attending the University of Georgia, leaving there to take up his duties as a cadet in 1890. Upon his graduation in June 1894, he was commissioned a 2nd lieutenant, remaining in that grade until his promotion to captain in February 1901, was the detail as commissary for the infantry division organized at Fort Sam Houston, Texas, for duty in Mexico, in the year 1911. He was on duty as commissary a total of two years, from December, 1910, to December, 1912. In July, 1916, he was advanced to the rank of major, regular army, after serving as executive officer of the Mexican internment camp of 5,000 Mexican officers, soldiers and their families, at Fort Bliss, Texas and Fort Wingate, New Mexico, from February until September, 1914, when the prisoners were returned to Mexico. He then returned to staff duty at the United States Military Academy, where he remained until the outbreak of the World War.
On August 5, 1917, he received a commission as colonel in the National army and was assigned to the 76th Division at Camp Devens, Massachusetts. The following January, in 1918, he was appointed brigadier general (temporary), and assigned to duty with the 18th Infantry Division Texas. He remained in command of training until it was demobilized. During this period he was also in command of Camp Travis, from September, 1918 until March, 1919. The size of the command can best be realized when it is understood that Camp Travis at that time was composed of 36,000 men, 5,000 of them colored, and 15,184 animals. The problem presented by the large number of colored soldiers was a difficult one, but was handled by General Estes to the complete satisfaction of the War Department and the citizens of San Antonio.

Upon the demobilization of the 18th Division, General Estes was ordered to Camp Upton, New York, and there assisted in the demobilization of the organizations that were pouring in from France. In April,

New Commanding Officer

BRIG. GENERAL GEORGE H. ESTES, INF.

rank of lieutenant colonel, and was Presidio of San Francisco, California. ordered to duty with the staff at the port of debarkaton, New York. At the recommendation of the Commanding General of the port, he was again promoted to the grade of colonel, (emergency) and contniued on this duty until he was ordered to the General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, in August, 1919. Upon his graduation the following year he was again promoted to the grade of colonel, but this time in the regular army, and was assigned as a student at the Army War College, Washington, D. from which he graduated in 1921. He was immediately placed on duty with the Operations and Training Division of the War Department General Staff, at Washington, which department supervises the use and training of the regular army, national guard, Reserve Offices' Training Corps, and other elements of the army. While with this branch General Estes acted as a general inspector. On June 15, 1925, he assumed command of the 65th Infantry, stationed on the Island of Puerto Rico, and shortly after was placed in command of all U. S. troops and all army activities and interests on the Island.

At the completion of this assignment he was again placed on the General Staff and assigned to duty as chief of staff of the 9th Corps Area. 1919, he reverted to his regular army with station and headquarters at the

On January 2, 1929, he was appointed brigadier general, regular army, and assigned to command of Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, where he remained a short time. After a short course of study at the infantry school, Fort Benning, during the winter of 1929, he was assigned to command the 8th Infantry Brigade, with station and headquarters at Ft. McPherson, Georgia.

General Estes has served with or in command of troops in every commissioned grade in the army, and including brigadier general. He has acted in all regmental staff positions, in the subsistence department of the army, in the Inspector General's Department, and on Corps Area and War Department General Staffs. His active service includes service in Cuba, where he was recommended by his regimental commander for a brevet as captain for his conduct in action. He also saw service in the Philippines in 1899-1901. He received the written commendation of his Division Commander for his conduct in action in December of the same year. His graduation from the General Staff School was with the highest recommendation for staff and line duty. He was recommended for duty with any division of the War Department General Staff upon his graduation from

(Please turn to page 3)

Col. Munson To End Work As Acting Commandant Here

Having commanded the post of Fort Benning longer than any other officer not regularly assigned as commandant of the Infantry School, Colonel Fred L. Munson, 24th Infantry, next Tuesday will relinquish his command in favor of Brigadier General George H. Estes, ordered to be commandant of the school by the War Department in orders dated August 21. Upon the arrival for duty of General Estes at Benning, Col. Munson will return to his duties as commanding officer of the 24th Infantry, his regular assignment.

Colonel Munson became commanding officer of Fort Benning on June 1 of this year by virtue of the fact that he was the senior officer on duty at the post after the departure of Major General Campbell King for his home at Flat Rock, N. C., to await Colonel Munson comes to Fort Benning August 2, 1932, having been ordered by the War Department to command the 24th Infantry after serv ing four years as professor of military science and tactics and commandant of cadets at Clemson Agricultural College, S. C. When he reported at Fort Benning Colonel Munson became junior in rank at the post only to General King, then commandant. During the almost a year they both were stationed at Benning, Colonel Munson commanded the post many times during the temporary absences on leave or at other stations of General King. When General King left Fort Benning on June 1, it was known that he would not retire until July 31, and hence it was probable that Colonel Munson would have at least two months as commandant of the Infantry School. As it has turned out, the tour has been pracically three months.

During his term as commandant Colonel Munson has become well known to the progressive activities of Columbus. His ever readiness to lead or assist in promoting the good feeling between the two communities, Columbus and Fort Benning, has made him a valuable asset to both. Despite the handicap of the fact that his assignment was only temporary, and the knowledge that this successor might be appointed by the War Department at any time, Col. Munson has carried on from day to day, working out and completing the hundreds of details arising, and all the time making progress toward the general development of the post and the opening of another so

It was during his tour as acting commandant that it became necessary for the post to expand its facilities to the limit and to function at top speed in order to handle and take care of the reconditioning and processing of over ten thousand men of the Civilian Conservation Corps. This task, undoubtedly the hardest and most complicated one in the fifteen year history of the post, was excellently worked out by a well supervised organization. Fort Benning, led by Colonel Munson, slipped into high gear, and while all working parts were strained to the utmost, functioned smoothly in completing this gigantic task to the satisfaction of all concerned.

While the 9th Infantry has been Colonel Munson's regiment during (Please turn to page 3)

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS IN

OFFICERS DANCE THURSDAY EVENING AT POLO

Among the most enjoyable affairs of this season was the dance Thursday evening given by the Reserve Officers who are taking a two weeks' course at Fort Benning. The dance was held at the Polo-Hunt Club in compliment to the officers and ladies of Fort Benning. Dancing began at eight o'clock and continued until twelve. During the evening a receiving line was formed to welcome the guests. In the receiving line were: Colonel Edward S. Bres, Colonel and Mrs. Fred W. Munson, Colonel and Mrs. William E. Persons, Major and Mrs. Frank A. Heileman, Capt. and Mrs. Donald P.

H()V

YOU SHOULD SHOP AT SILVER'S

You can do your buying here at any time. Whether it's rainy or sunshiny—whether it's hot or cold, you can still shop in comfort-at almost bargain prices.

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST. BUY BARGAINS HERE

Spalding, Lieut. and Mrs. Mark A. | MISS MADELINE LENANE HONOR | Saturday to Fort Benning from Wash-Boatner, Miss Betty Fielder, Miss Louise Hart, Lieut. Col. C. Thurwell, Major L. E. Lyon, Major A. K. Kupfer, Capt. J. C. Babson, Lieut. Henry J. Woodbury and Lieut. P. W. Thomp-

COLONEL BRES ENTERTAINS WITH DINNER PRECEDING

Colonel Edward S. Bres entertained Thursday evening with a delightful dinner at the Officers' Club preceeding the dance which was given by the Reserve Officers at the Polo-Hunt Club. Covers were laid for nineteen Mrs. Fred W. Munson, Colonel and Mrs. Frank A. Heileman, Capt .and Mrs. Mark A. Boatner, Miss Betty Fielder, Miss Louise Hart, Lieut. Col. Easterbrook. C. Thurwell, Major L. E. Lyon, Major A. K. Kupfer, Capt. J. C. Babson, Lieut. Henry J. Woodbury and Lieut. P. W. Thompson.

MEDICAL CORPS HOLD BRIDGE

their bi-monthy bridge club meeting at the Nurses Quarters, Tuesday afternoon. Four tables assembled at four thirty when a refreshing tea was served. Two prizes were awarded for the ladies obtaining the highest scores. The hostesses for the Club were: Mesdames Burton A. Seeley, Huston J. Banton and Walter E.

BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. James E. Bowen was the hostess Friday to the members of her bridge club entertaining with luncheon at the Officers' Club. The guests assembled at one o'clock followed by two tables of contract bridge. Mrs. Bowen's guests were: Mrs. Selina Waddingon, Mrs. George P. Howell, Mrs. Lynn E. Brady, Mrs. Charles T. Lanham, Mrs. Clayton H. Studebaker, Miss Harriote Atkins, and Miss Kay

GUEST AT DINNER PRECEED-ING DANCE.

Miss Madeline Lenane, the attractive house guest of Lieut. and Mrs. William W. O'Connor, was the honor guest Thursday evening at a delightful dinner given by Lieut. and Mrs. Lynn E. Brady at their quarters on Lumpkin Road.

MISS KATHERINE LEMLY ENTER-TAINS.

Among the many delightful affairs preceeding the dance last Saturday evening was the dinner given by Miss Katherine Lemly in honor of her house guest, Miss Barbara Lowe of The guest list included: Colonel and Fort McPherson. Miss Lemly had as her guests: Miss Lowe, Capt. and William E. Persons, Major and Mrs. Wilbur Elliot, Miss Harriotte Frank A. Heileman, Capt and Atkins, Lieut. Col. Rowan P. Lemly, Mrs. Donald P. Spaldng, Lieut. and Lieut. Carl W. Westlund, Lieut. Joseph B. Coolidge and Lieut. Earnest E.

> MISS MARY GAUTIER ENTER-TAINS HOUSE GUEST

Miss Mary Gautier the attractive daughter of Major and Mrs. Claude V. Gautier, entertained Monday evening at the quarters of her Parents on The ladies of the Medical Corps held Rainbow Avenue complimenting her house guest, Miss Doris Kavade of Washington, D. C. A few of the hostesses intimate friends in the two o'clock and played bridge until younger set assembled at seven for dinner followed by the Post movies.

HOUSE GUEST HONORED

Among the many delightful affairs preceeding the dance Thursday evening which was held at the Polo Club was the dinner given by Lieut. and Mrs. L. E. Brady in honor of Miss MRS. BOWEN ENTERTAINS | Madeline Lenore, the attractive house guest of Lieut. and Mrs. Wm. O'Con-

> The Bradys had as the r guests: Miss Madeline O'Connor, Lieut. and Mrs. Wm. O'Connor, Lieut. and Mrs. Robert Pierce, Lieut. and Mrs. J. E. Bowen, Lieut. and Mrs. J. P. Cleland, Miss Harriotte Atkins, Lieut. Earnest Easterbrook, Lieut. J. B. Coolidge, Lieut. Milton Pressly.

PERSONALS

Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Andrew D. Chaffin, accompanied by their son Davis, departed Wednesday for West Point, New York, where Davis will complete his course at the United States Military Academy.

Major and Mrs. Claude V. Gautier have as their house guest their neice Miss Doris Kanade of Washington, Major and Mrs. Frank V. Schneider spent last weekend at Highlands, N.

Captain George J. Forster departed from Fort Benning on Monday for Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, where he will be a student at the Command and General Staff School. Major and Mrs. Edwn F. Harding accompanied by their daughter, Eleanor and their two sons Davis and Buddie, left Fort Benning Sunday for Washington where Major Harding will be a student at the Army War

Major and Mrs. Robert B. Cole with their son left Monday for Washington, D. C. where Major Cole will be a student at the Army Industrial College.

Captain Morris B. De Pass spent the last weekend at the Post. He is stationed at Baxley, Ga., with the Lieut. and Mrs. William W. O'Connor have as their house guest the latter's sister Miss Madeline Lenane.

Lieut. Milton H. Pressley who has been in Tennessee with the C. C. C. is spending this week at Ft. Benning. Lieut. Pressley's marriage to Miss Hullit Wiley next Tuesday at Fort McPherson will be an outstanding event throughout military circles.

Mrs. Charles T. Lanham returned

Drs. Miller & Davis

Dog and Cat Hospital 1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

ington, D. C., where she has been spending the summer with relatives.

Mrs. Lindell W. Straube with her small son Richard is the house guest of Major and Mrs. Raymond

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

A Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

FURNITURE

Headquarters for Furniture and all kinds of household furnishings, complete line of Sellers' Kitchen and Breakfast-room furniture and Simmons beds, mattresses, springs. At lowest prices and easiest terms.

It will pay you to see us before you buy.

CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

SUCCESSORS TO JOHNSTON-CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

1014 Broadway

Phone 460

Furnishings for the Home

FURNITURE RUGS PHILCO RADIOS LEONARD ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS

. . . and when we say everything, we mean just that. We are able to supply you with everything you need for any home, from parlor to kitchen-and all of our stock is as modern as the World's Fair!

1141 BROADWAY

PHONE 409

COLUMBUS, GEORGIA

A transaction with us is never completed until the customer is thoroughly satisfied.

H. ROTHSCHILD

FURNITURE COMPANY Leading Furniture Dealers In Columbus For 39 Years.

BENNING BLVD. NURSERIES

FLOWERS and PLANTS AT ALL TIMES AND FOR ALL PURPOSES WE TELEGRAPH FLOWERS

Benning Road

Phone 4176

In A Tight Pinch..

WHEN UNEXPECTED GUESTS DROP IN . . .

Colas to fall back on—and they'll please everybody—if you're wise and will keep the SIX-BOX always handy. It's simple to get, it's simple to keep and the Coca-Colas are the simplest and most delightful drinks in the world to serve.

ONLY

PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

You'll hunt far before you'll find another quarter as big as that you spend for the SIX-BOX. Six delightful Coca-Colas for the price of five!

SERVE IT AT ALL TIMES—TO ALL PEOPLE— IT CLICKS EVERYWHERE!

SOLD BY ALL COLUMBUS GROCERS

83rd F. A.

Sgt. Driver and Corp. Allen recently returned to the battery after having been away on detached service with the C. C. C.'s. They were stationed at Swamp No. 666 near Mount Olive, Ala.

Battery will have their annual picnic at Warm Springs, Georgia on Sunday, August 27th. We are all looking forward to a good time at this popular Summer Resort.

Lieuts. Lynch and Sherburne recently returned to the battery and are now on Leave. They are to report to the Field Artillery School, Fort Sill, Oklahoma at the expiration of their leave. We enjoyed their short visit with the battery and extend our best wishes for a successful school year.

Our saddler was recently discharged and has decided to make the presence of our commanding of-the Army War College and for high command.

GEN. ESTES NEW COMMANDANT (Continued From Page 1)

In addition to his regular army duties General Estes is at present inspector of training for the Organized Reserves of the states of Georgia, South Carolina, and Florida, and is commanding general of the 82d Division, Organized Reserves.

His appointment to the post of commandant of the Infantry School comes after the retirement of Major General Campbell King, former commandant, who left the active service list on July 31, 1933.

COL. MUNSON FINISHES WORK (Continued from page 1)

almost half of his forty years of service, his army career has called him to practically the four corners of the world. From Cuba in 1898, through the Philippine jungles during the insurrection there and the walls of Peking in the Boxer rebellion, to the Argonne forest in France during 1918, he has been in action in practically all of the important campaigns since he first entered the army in

In addition to guiding the technical and military work of the world's largest school of arms, Colonel Munson has noticeably kept close to the welfare of the members of the Benning garrison, instituting and guiding developments to promote the comfort and general well-being of the personnel in their work and during their leisure moments.

THE

Post Exchange

has a

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

... which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The hours of this service are from 11:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

halters for the battery for another three years.

The assignment of ten Lieutenants, brings our score up to thirteen officers, one Captain and ten Lieuten-We could form a section of them-six drivers, five cannoners, a gunner, and a chief of section, except that eleven are not for duty. We might form another section from the soldiers on C. C., and another from those on special duty, and another from those on furlough. But that would give us five sections and him the best of luck. we only have four.

BATTERY "A"

the battery were treated to a barbecue and everyone enjoyed the swell eats much to the pleasure of our mess Sgt. Jeff Smith. Music was furnished by the 24th Infantry Band and were they hot! Our only regret was that we couldn't have them here every night. We were honored by Lt. Studebaker and our battery commander Lt. McManus, also attended.

Everybody seems to be getting more sleep since the arrival of new beds and the departure of the "chinches." It makes it tough on It makes it tough on some men, they have no alibi for not having a neat bunk for inspections.

One of our new men either got homesick or lovesick and secured a transfer to Ft. Oglethorpe. We are sorry to see him leave us and wish

HQ., HQ. BATTERY AND C. T.

What's this? We hear that after Last Thursday evening the men of Hurst buys out, he will sell peanuts in the Pastime Theatre and that he expects every one of his friends to patronize him.

> We wonder what's to become of our great baseball team if they keep on "winning" game after game! Many men in the Battery are betting

COMPLETE YOUR SILVER SERVICE

BEFORE THE BIG ADVANCE

STERLING SILVERWARE

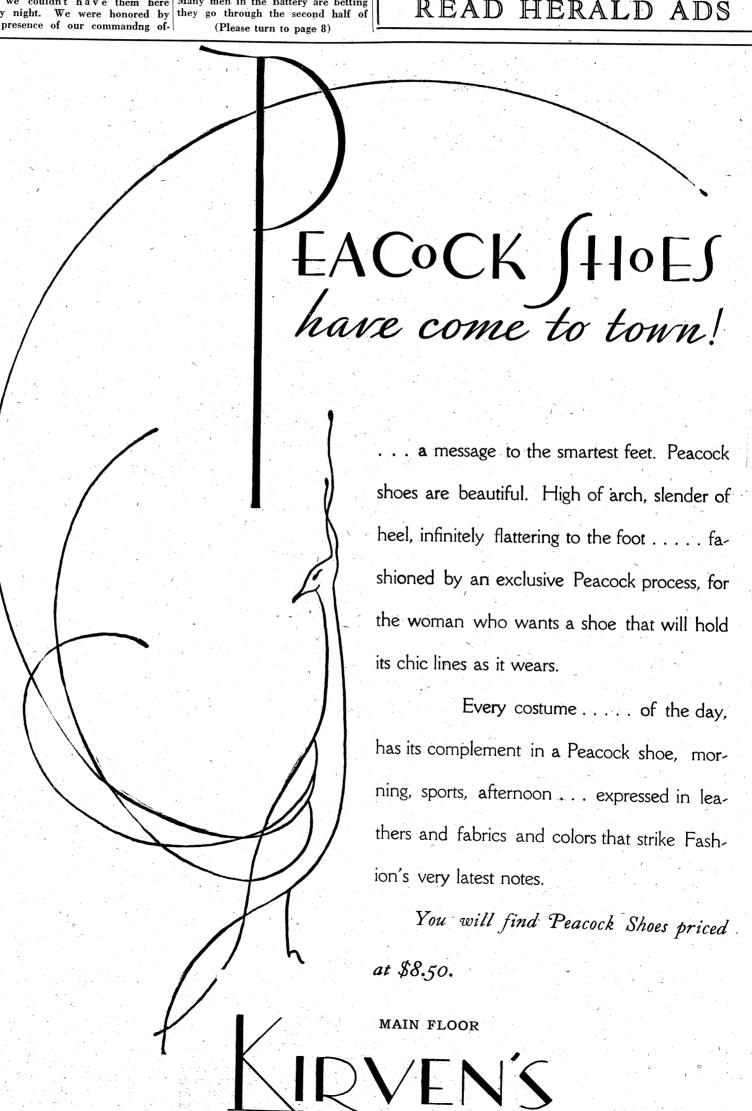

GORHAM, KIRK, TOWLE, WALLACE REED & BARTON, INTERNATIONAL

C. SCHOMBURG & SON

JEWELERS 1121 BROADWAY

COLUMBUS, GA. AT THE SIGN OF THE BIG CLOCK

READ HERALD ADS

Columbus, Georgia

VOLUME III. AUGUST 25, 1933 NUMBER 18 A. F. KUNZE______FELICIA C. HOWELL_____ Society Editor Sports Editor Louis T. Kunze.

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,
BALTIMORE

Here's To Your Health

BY MAJOR HOMER L. CONNER. Medical Inspector

Each year we publish these notes to inform newly arrived personnel some of the important facts that have to do with Sanitary medicine, or the prevention of disease.

Water Supply: The water supplies of Fort Benning and the city of Columbus are excellent. Both are filtered, chemically treated and safe.

Water from any other source, wells, streams, or springs is not safe and should not be used. Foods:

All food products of animal origin sold at the Commissary and the Post Exchange are examined by the Veterinary Inspector. As a rule meat and meat products sold on the post are of higher quality than can be bought anywhere in Columbus.

All persons are advised not to use products from sources without adequate inspection or without definite knowledge of their quality.

Only pasteurized milk is permitted to be sold on the Post. This milk is obtained from the only dairy farms that qualify as "grade A" in this vi-Frequent inspections and laboratory analysis make us believe this milk to be safe.

Milk from any other source, unless it be pasteurized, is not safe. Personnel living in Columbus are especially warned about obtaining and using milk that is not pasteurized.

That sold at Fort Benning is from inspected sources. The milk is pasteurized. It is believed safe.

Vaccination or other protective inoculation is done by the Attending Surgeon.

(1) Smallpox is more or less common. Off the post, the enforcement of health regulations is lax. Contact with a contagious disease is possible. It is advised that all your family be vaccinated if this has not been done within a year.

(2) Typhoid fever is also a common disease in Columbus. All persons between the ages of 2 to 45 should receive the prophylactic inoculations. Two courses of this treatment, with three years intervening, are required of those in the military service and are recommended for all

(3) Diphtheria is now one of the very rarest of diseases in families of defects found are reported to the military personnel. Each year ning in connection with physical examination given school children, a "Schick Test" is conducted to determine susceptibility. Diphtheria Toxoid is given to those found "positive" to this test. Practically all children under school age are susceptible to diphtheria. They should all be given Toxoid treatment provided they have never received it. The "Schick Test" is necessary to determine the need of further toxoid treatment. Hookworm:

The soil is more or less heavily contaminated with the eggs of hookworm and other parasites. The hookworm gains admission to the body usually through the feet, causing what is known as "ground itch." It is

Notes For Newly Arrived Personnel inadvisable to allow children to go barefoot.

> Hookworm disease is universal in the dog and cat and possibly in other small animals in this part of the country. The so called "creepng eruption" seen here, more or less frequently, every summer is caused by the "dog" hookworm. Skin Infections:

> Spore infections (ringworm) and pus infections are very common. Do not neglect their treatment. Servants:

Post regulations require that serv ants be examined prior to their being given permits to live on the post These permits have to be renewed at intervals.

These regulations protect your family from contact with communicable diseases, especially gonorrhea and syphilis.

Personnel living in Columbus are entitled to have their prospective servants examined.

Servant examinations are conducted by the Attending Surgeon (Post) at 9:00 AM on Tuesdays or Thursday. Dogs:

Rabies is very common in Georgia. Garrison regulations requre that dogs and cats be protected against rabies once each year. This inoculation is given by the Veterinarian for the cost of the vaccine. Garrison regulations also require that dogs be kept on the owners' premises and not allowed to run loose.

Dog bite should never be home treated. On no account destroy a dog which has bitten a person or some other animal. The dog shoud be impounded at the Veterinary hospital for observation and the necessary laboratory tests to determine the need of anti-rabic treatment. Snake Bites:

Serum (nti-venium) is kept at the Station Hospital for the treatment of poisonous snake bite. In case of snake bite rush the victim to the hospital for early treatment. Children's Schools:

Parents are advised not to send children to school when ailing. School teachers are advised to send pupils home when there is the least suspicion of illenss. Common colds and skin infections are the most frequent causes for exclusion from the Post schools.

Each year children attending the post schools are given a physical examination by medical officers. The the Attending Surgeon for their cor rection.

Medical Attention:

The office of the Attending Sur geon at the post is in Dispensary "A" (Wold avenue opposite the Tank barracks).

Office hours—8 to 12 AM: 1 to 2 PM except Saturdays, Sundays and holidays. Saturday hours 8 to 10:30 AM Sunday and holiday hours 11 to 12 AM Inoculations and vaccinations (wo men and children only) are given at 9 AM on Monday and Saturday. Baby Clinic: 9 AM Wednesday.

Servants' examinations—9 AM Tues day and Thursday. Requests for visits on those unable

SATELLITES

By C. T. KEPLEY

On the night of February 16, 1918, the famous 18th Infantry, as a mem ber of the 1st Division, American Expeditionary Forces in France, was occupying a defensive position in the Ausauville Sector. Firmly entrenched and awaiting some movement on the part of the enemy to begin, the men were resting after a hard day of marching from Sonimerviller to their present location, and quietness reigned supreme. Sentries were posted, pa trols were dispatched, and the soldiers off duty, either slept or wrote letters to the folks at home. The tenseness that prevailed throughout the camp gave warning that trouble was due to start. At dawn the enemy batteries opened with a barrage that lasted perhaps a half-hour, and the Yanks knew that there was an offensive drive started. Orders were given for the men to stand by for a counter attack, to follow the assault by the German shock troops. At 4:30 a. m. the first of the attackers swept across "no man's land." Whistles screamed and the Americans went "over the top" to stem the tide of advancing infantry. In this maneuver they were successful, but the casualties were high. The troops reassembled and companies made the customary check by roll-call to discover the men who had fallen. In Company F, 18th In-"topkick" was counting fantry, the his losses. Among them was Sergeant Ellie Tapley. Stretcher bearers found him where he had fallen. Shrapnel had taken its toll, but a spark of life still remained. He was taken to the base hospital and the hardness of pioneer Georgia stock pulled him through. From that memorable night until July 15, 1919, he remained at the hospital under treat ment for the wound.

Sergeant Tapley was born in Swains boro, Georgia, February 3, 1895. Here he received his education, and from this town he departed for a destination unknown in 1916. In July of the same year he reached Little Rock, Arkansas, and embarked upon a mili tary career. As a recruit he was sent to Jefferson Barracks, Missouri, for a period of training. After a short stay at this station he journeyed to Brownsville, Texas, as a member of the 4th Infantry, then in the Punitive Expedition on the Border. From there he was transferred to Gettysbury, Pennsylvania, as a member of the 58th Infantry, and at the outbreak of hostilities in Europe, was again transferred, this time to the provisional battalion of the 18th Infantry, and sent to France as a reserve. The trip to Europe was an eventful one. Submarine warfare was running riot and the transport made the voyage under the protection of a heavy naval escort. Nearing their destination a dense fog completely blanketed the ocean, and it was during this blindness that one of the transports was rammed by the battleship North Carolina. The transport was in grave danger of sinking and in an attempt to aid the other members of the convoy in locating them and removing the passengers, the siren which was to be used in case of an attack by a submarine was sound-

(Please turn to page 5) to attend the office should, if possible, be made before 9 AM.

Office-Doctors Building, Broadway, Telephone 255.

Office hours-11 to 12 AM and 2 to 3 PM except morning hours are 10 to 11 on Sundays and holidays.

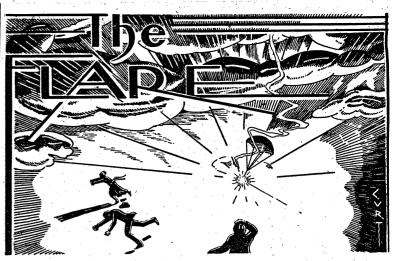

There are no afternoon hours Saturday, Thursday, holiday.

Wednesday afternoon is reserved for a children's clinic.

Emergency Calls-Post, call Telephone 572. Columbus-call telephone 255 between hours 8 AM to 4 M: at other hours call Columbus 4173. Dental Clinic:

Location, Dispensary "A." Appointments should be made for either examination or treatment. Health Officer:

The Medical Inspector with an office in Dispensary "A" corresponds to the Health Officer in a city. He is always ready to advise on matters that pertain to Sanitation and the prevention of diseases.

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

CONDUCTED BY E. F. R.

The Conductor of this Column has been in close contact with Fort Benning and The Infantry School since 1923. We have gone through Benning's vagaries and vicissitudes. We have experienced its Pain and its Grief. We are firmly convinced that a publication such as The Infantry School News was, before it was obliterated by Congressional enactment, and such as The Benning Herald now is, has a most important and necessary place in the life of the community. The continued existence of The Benning Herald is to a great extent dependent on the number of paid-up subscribers. Please remember this when your present subscription expires. Whether y oucare for this particular Column is a matter of personal choice. But Fort Benning needs The Herald. Renew your subscription and boost it to your friends who are joining for the first

Just a word about The Flare. When we firde our first Flare a week ago we asked for your assistance. We have had some but we need more We believe that this Column, which under the clever Conductorship of Forrest Harding was one of the brightest spots in the paper, should be Carried On. If you, reader, do care for the way we are carrying on say so and tell us what you do want, but what is also essential is that you give us the "Dope." We shall never, wittingly, Trifle with a Trust, Fray a Feeling, or be Poisonously Personal.

BATHING BEAUTY ABASHED | lowed to its end and there sat none

first came into favor we felt that Femmes were tempting Fortune. From our knowledge of the durability of fabrics and from data obtained from the Bureau of Standards concerning Stresses and Strains we were convinced that a Gorgeous Girl who gowned herself in Gutta-Percha for a swim courted disaster. However we were unable to lure a single listener into an argument. According to others, we were all wet. So we have been hanging around Russ Pool day after day waiting for the catastrophe which would prove the correctness of our assumptions and assertions. For hours we have flattened our face against the fence (we have sworn off swimming, sold our bathing suit, and therefore are not allowed inside the inclosure) watchfully waiting. Honi soit qui mal y pense. Our vigil was only in the interests of science and safety for swimmers. Last week we gave up, admitted the incorrectness of our judgment, and remained at home during the swimming hour. Humanum est errare. That very afternoon a Lovely Lady of Miller Loop cutely caparisoned in rubber clothing caught up with calamity. While swimming where the water, sweetly swimming where the water, fortunately, was deep she suddenly sensed that there was a rent in the rubber. Came from her lips a frightened roar for rescue. eyes modestly closed, a few of our faithful and efficient Life Guards seized the large piece of Burlap Sacking which has been kept on hand for just such an emergency and swiftly swam to render First Aid. In a remarkably short space of time Our Aphrodite arose from the foam modestly, albeit in elegantly, clad completely in Sack Cloth. To those readers who have expressed curiosity as to why the Dame who suffered the Disaster has not been swimming since we would explain that she had to wait a week for the Pool to be drained from the Vulcanizer for several days

SAID SHE, POINTING AT PILET A Charming House Guest of O'cutie O'Connor was seated in the stands at Gowdy Field the other day watching some base-ball team or other trying (in vain, as usual) to defeat the Sec ond Bats. Suddenly the Sweet She gave expression to a prolonged A · · · H · · · of Admiration. "Who is that Stunning looking Officer with the Beautiful Figure? He looks just like Von Stroheim." The Dotted Line from the Lady's Eyes was fol-

When the Rubber Bathing Suit other than Precious Pilet the Policeman. We have hesitated for some time, but now, after this Von Stroheim incident, we agree with Pilet's Boss, Captain Funk, who says that Pilet is inconsistent in the way he pronounces his own name and that of his automobile. We give you this jingle to straighten the matter out. He rides through the Sun and Wet In a bright polished new Chevrolet He puts out the Bunk

For Hand-Signal Funk And his name-from now on-is Pilet

FOND MOTHER FORGETFUL Captain Pinkey Cummings, one of those Helpless Helpers in that Temperamental Section of the Academic Department which has been presided over by Forrest Harding for several years, became the Fond Father of a Bouncing Baby a few weeks ago. The novelty has not yet worn off and Papa Cummings is giving a demonstration of a Devoted Daddy such as is seldom seen. His Friend Wife can scarcely get him out of the house. One day last week F. W. remarked to Pinky "You can't Play with Precious all day. You need to get out and take some exercise. Why don't you play a round of Golf?" sounded like good advice so Daddy in a Daze proceeded to golf club and joined a foursome on No. 1 Tee. His playmates soon realized that

HOLE IN ONE

Slippers.

Cummings' mind was not on his game but it was not until the Fourth

Green that they discovered that Pin-key was playing in his Bed-Room

The Twenty-ninth Infantry's excellent and efficient Executive, Colonel Cheer-em-up Chaffin, joined the Fort Benning Hole-In-One Club recently. His ball, propelled from the 14th Tee with all the force of his South Paw Sock, landed in front of the Green, bounced high in the air, hit in order to rescue the remnants of the Flag, and then slid down the the rubber suit, and it won't be back pole right into the hole. After the cheering and congratulations had subsided somewhat, Andy is said to have remarked, "I wonder if that ball is trying to give me an object lesson. If so, I suppose that ball is trying to tell me that if I ever expect to make another hole-in-one I, myself, will have to come down the pole."

D. O. L. S.

We hope to make an announcement in this Column in the near future which should be of interest to the whole Community, but particularly to The Horsey crowd. We sent a copy (Please turn to page 5)

THE FLARE (Continued from page 4)

of our Citation of two weeks ago to The Prince of Wales and we are expecting almost any day now to receive notice that Mary Wadsworth has been awarded the D. O. L. S. (The Distinguished Order of the Lost Stirrup.) The P. of W. who is a Charter Member and the present Head of the Order will be pleased to hear, we feel sure, of other candidates who may be, or who may become, eligible

NAVY

INSIGNIA

A Suggestion

As manufacturers we wish to announce that we have not yet raised prices on Military and Naval Insignia and Uniform Equipment. Nevertheless, price advances are imminent and will be considerable.

WE RECOMMEND PURCHASING YOUR NEEDS NOW

At Your Post Exchange or Dealer

N. S. MEYER INC.

43 East 19th Street, New York

for membership. Readers of this Column are requested to keep the Conductor of the Flare informed as rapidly as the Queens qualify. Caballeros can become candidates also.

C. C. C. NOTES

We submit herewith an unsigned communication from someone sojourning somewhere near Sebring, Florida. A careful perusal will indicate that the author is an addict to antithesis as are we at times. We submit the letter just as received without change, and we thank our correspondent from the depths of our heart. It is admirable assistance like this that causes Columnists chasing chronicles to chuckle instead of crab.
"We have read several accounts of the various hardships, experiences, and other numerous trials of CCC Camps out in the wilds of California and other "outlandish" places, but, if you are not in the habit of letting your pity, indignation, and shame get the best of you when you read of the trials of others, which make yours seem trivial, then read on.

Speaking of hardships in the wilds on duty with the CCC no one should make any kick, unless it is Captain Grant A. Schlieker. His Company is marooned down in Highlands County, Florida, dumped three miles from Sebring, with only one paved highway to town and the only means of transportation are two Buicks, one Chevrolet roadster, and at present one truck, used as a bus. His Head-quarters, Officers' Quarters, Mess Hall, Recreation Hall, and Supply Room are located in a little old

WE OFFER THE SERVICES OF OUR RENTAL DEPARTMENT

To All Incoming Officers To Assist Them In Getting Pleasantly Located For The Coming School Year.

FLOURNOY REALTY CO.

Exclusive Agents for

WILDWOOD COURT APARTMENTS

3 Phones 465

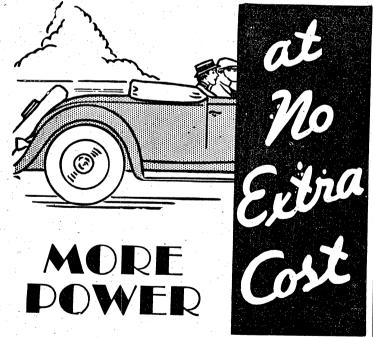

STUDENT OFFICERS

We handle all kinds of good used furniture, gas stoves, refrigerators, dining and breakfast room suites. We give you half back on any-thing you buy from us.

THWEATT & SON

PHONE 2715

1244 Broadway

Our fine equipment and expert workmen are your guarantee of good work-and you can certainly save money and yet gain in auto enjoyment by having your car kept in first class condition. Drive it by for an inspection -without charge.

EXCHANGE FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

Forty Thousand dollar building that was the El Lago club in the days of the Boom. It took us the amount of one whole day to get the building in shape for our use. We even had to repair two screen doors.

Now speaking of baths, getting one of those is almost an impossibility. We only have a few sunken bath tubs, and three shower rooms. As for swimming, well, that is for people who have swimming pools, not for us, however, as we only have two lakes, neither hardly large enough for swimming. One is only about five miles in circumference, the other one about ten mles in that measurement. The favorite past-time of the boys is fishing, only we can't get hooks large enough for the fish. Down in the city they even charge us (07.) cents to see a forty cent movie. Now—if anyone has more of a kick than we have we would like to hear from them."
Bugs Ride-em-Ragged Raymond arrived in the Post recently to resume his arduous labors with the Second Section after a Summer spent resting with a C. C. C. Camp Somewhere in the South. When interviewed regarding his summer activities, Bugs admitted that the only thing he had done aside from entertaining the natives of the countryside by playing them music on his little tin Fife was to train a Woodpecker Quartet, and Bugs added, "They could all sing well to begin with." could all

S. P. E. A. W. NOTES Beau Brummel Bowen, Belvidere Brady, and O'Cutie O'Connor on Friday night were withdrawn from Circulation and placed on the Inactive list of the Society for the Prevention of Ennui Among Widows.

No more will Russ Pool see Widows wading with Wilbur. Winsome Wilbur Elliot was withdrawn from Circulation on Saturday.

Bid-em-up Bonesteel, who withdrew to the In-active list ten days ago, so far forget himself last week that he became entangled in a Mixed Four-some. All went well until The Commandant (and by the way Munson manipulates a mean mashie), from an adjoining Fairway, caught sight of Chivalrous Charlie. "What is the Chivalrous Charlie. "What is the meaning of this, Bonesteel," called Colonel Munson, "When did you get back into Circulation?" And was his face Florid!

CITATION FOR THE WEEK

Our Citation for this week is awarded to the Perfect Parent, Captain Pinkey Cummings, whose right to the ribbon is set forth in a paragraph elsewhere in this Column.

-E. F. R. SATELLITES

ed. Men were given orders to stand by, life-boats were manned, and everything made ready for abandoning the ships in case they was torpedoed. After the fog rose the ship that had been rammed was taken in tow and the convoy proceeded on its way, reaching port without a casualty.

(Continued from Page 4)

After the Armistice was signed and peace was restored, "Madam", as Tapley is known by his friends, was sent back to the United States with the 164th Infantry, and assigned to Headquarters Troop, 5th Division, serving with this unit until April 5, 1920. On demobilization he enlisted for the Tank Corps, and came to Fort Benning as a member of what was then Company B, 15th Tank Battalion, as served for thirteen years

Besides being an outstanding soldier Madam is one of the best barbers in the army. A member of Company E, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks), his duties are in this capacity.

(Please turn to page 8)

HERALD WANT ADS

CLASSIFIED ADV. RATES: 20 cents per line or fraction of line Minimum charge for any classified advertisement, 50 cents. Payment must be made before advertisement is pub-

THE DUDLEY HOME, 1244 5th Ave. will be open to house guests on Sept. 1st. Attractive rooms in large and comfortable home. Meals if desired.

B. H. HARRIS CO.

Renting

Special attention given Fort Benning Officers Kindly call and let us assist you in getting located

Office, 12th Street

Phones 250-251

H. HARRIS CO.

Shop At Sears And Save

OWNER

Garbage Cans

ROBERT KLOEPPEL

10 Gal.98c

20 Gal.$1.49

DUST MOP

Approved by Good Housekeeping Inst.

89c

Curtain Stretcher 5 ft. by 8 ft. $1.98

Electric Iron Chromium Plated $1.98

Complete with Cord

Ironing Board Large Size

$1.29

Sturdy Combination

Family Scale 25 lb. Capacity

98c

Carpet Sweeper

Roller Bearing Approved by

Good Housekeeping

$2.79

Health Scales $5.98

Keep a check on your weight daily Beautiful Green or White Enamel.

Sears Welcomes Officers' Charge Accts.

Sears, Roebuck And Company 1008 Broadway

Phone 3760

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Rosales Will Not Meet Griffin Tuesday

BASEBALL

(By N. H. HOBBS)

The highlight of this week's round on the diamond at Gowdy field was the whitewash defeat suffered by the Special Units at the hands of Lt. Ferenbaugh's Black Pirates of Headquarters Battalion, '29th Infantry and the duplication of that feat by the Grenecords when they blanked the Kellys of the Second Battalion for nine consecutive innings. Preacher Parsons pitched the Black Pirates to their victory, while Lefty Robertson, Special Units ace, was responsible for the flock of goose eggs chalked up for the Kells.

The 1st Battalion Irish have come to life and won three consecutive games during the past contests, but owing to a protest by Lt. Ferenbaugh in the game between his proteges and the Irish the game will have to be played over. It seems like the similarity of the names White and Wright was responsible for the protest. May it be suggested that Wright's name be changed to Zudiwosky:

The Tanks have been having hard luck lately, it seems like their best hitters are suffering from diminished batting averages, while the Artillery are still peeking out of the hole, errors being responsible for a lot of their

Even after all of these shutouts, hitting sprees, close contests and pitchers' duels, the standing for the teams entered in the intramural league

As this goes to press the Second Bats are leading the race, having played nine contests, won seven and lost two. The Special Units of the Infantry School Detachment are next with eight; six and two; a percentage of 750. The Headquarters Battalion third with a total of seven games played, five victories and two defeats; one by the Kellys and the other by the Irish, giving them a playing percentage of 714. The Green Wave is playing 500 ball with eight, four and four, while the Tank percentage has been lowered considerably to 250. The Redlegs of the 83rd Field Artillery are still at the bottom of the list.

With three of the best nines in the league battling for top place honors it would be hard to predict who will be the winner in the second half.

League standings and percentages including Wednesday's contest:

			 riavea	: W (m	LUSI	I el celli	uge
d 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1			 9		7	2	778
Second Battalion			 Ŕ		6.	2	750
Special Units			 . 7		5	2	714
Headquarters Battali	on		 6	4	4.	 	500
First Battalion			 0		6	· 5	250
Tanks			 Ö		Ů.	6	000
Artillery			 8		U	Ö	.000
Tildinoi j		1 1 2

HO. BN. AND SPECIAL UNITS

In one of the most brilliant exhibitions seen at Gowdy Field in many moons the Black Pirates of the Headquarters Battalion, 29th Infantry shutout the Greencords of the Infantry School Detachment 2 to 0.

Although Gilbert, hurling ace of the Specialists' staff of pitchers, this stage of the contest by Lt. Ferenstruck out 13 of the Pirates' batsmen baugh, pilot of the Headquarters nine. he suffered defeat in the fourth stanza, of the affray when Morrow singled and pilfered second, Mauldin, walked, bat rolled an easy grounder to Sey and both runners advanced on a pass ball. Easley, center field ball hawk for the Pirates, fulfilled the wishes and bringing in the runners who were riding second and third, the only two markers of the game.

Hebert, playing the keystone for the Headquarters nine, played a bang up game. He dashed here and there making impossible catches, some barehanded, to throw to first and put out several of the Greencord runners who were sure that they had put one past him. Hayes who roamed left field for the Spare Parts also played a wonderful game, making several shoe-string catches that were labelled "H-I-T".

Parsons, the preaching twirler for the Pirates, held the School men to credited with an error. only three hits during the entire by Easley, a two timer by White, nine innings that he labored on the Easley was the hitting hero of this rally by the Irish shortstop, who was game, bringing in the only two runs with a timely double.

for the Greencords, pulled the prize to third on an attempted steal only to find the bag occupied by a runner. Batteries: Parsons and Wright; S.

U. Gilbert and Newman.

Score by innings:

Hq. Bn. _____ 000 200 000 2 4 0 Special Units __ 000 000 000 0 3 2 Umpires: Nourse, Wolfe and Lindtalion Green Wave bested the Black Pirates of the Headquarters Unit by the score of five to three.

1ST BN. AND HQ. BN. In an eleven inning game played avail.

The affray was the subject of much dispute in the eleventh stanza after the Black Pirates had staged a desperate rally in an attempt to knot the score. The game was protested at

The argument came up after Maul din had doubled. The next man to mour, playing short for the Irish, who scooped it up easily and caught Mauldin off of second. Parsons was of his coach by doubling to left field safe by virtue of a fielder's choice, then Jeffries, who was pinch hitting, was announced by Red Lindsey, as 'Jeffries hitting for White." reality he was poling for Wright, the similarity of the two namse Wright and White being responsible for the discussion. Whether Jeffries told the ump Wright or White will be thrashed out, in the protest.

> The Green Wave scored a marker in the opening frame, one in the second and another in the third session tolead the Pirates 3 to 0.

The Spare Parts came to life in the last of the third however to chalk up two counters by reason of a double

Spare Part hurler, and a single by Fraiche. They were aided in this

The Headquarters Team tallied another marker in the fifth session. Orgeron, covering the initial sack Fraiche hit, Hebert singled, Fraiche travelled to second, Hayes filled the boner of the contest when he raced bases with a single when the Irish short fielder was credited with another misplay by scooping up an easy roller and throwng wild to the plate, allowing Fraiche to score from third. The rest of the would-be batsmen retired in order, with the run knotting the score three_all.

The game remained at a deadlock and the end of the ninth stanza found both teams still tied. They strived hard to shove home the winning run in the tenth but to no at Gowdy Feld recently the 1st Bat- In the eleventh spasm the Irish

Broken Hand Puts Finis On 10 Round Scheduled Match

Rosy Rosales, Arizona boxer who was slated to meet Corn Griffin in the main go of the next fight card at Benning, will not appear in the local arena for some time to come, if ever. Last Thursday night, Lieutenant Howard R. Johnson, assistant ath. letic officer, received a long distance telephone call from Scotty Strachan, who is handling Rosales, stating that the Indian had broken his hand in a fight up in West Virginia, and would be unable to uphold his end of the contract.

Lieutenant Johnson immediately started negotiations to secure the services of some other leather-pusher of Griffin's quality in order not to disappoint the Benning fans. Prominent among those whom he was trying to sign up were Nate Brown and Frankie Sims. Brown will be remembered as the chief sparring partner who had so much to do with training Max Schmeling for his recent fight with Baer. It is said that Brown had once held the Californian down to a very close victory, and that this is the main reason for his selection to head the list of stable

As far as is known at the present time the fight will be held, but at time of going to press no definite opponent for Griffin had been select-

The semi-final of eight rounds will bring Cotton Batton and Rough Glover into contact again. House Glover will be remembered as losing recently to Batton at the post, and still farther back putting the 24th boy away in four rounds. The Atlanta negro claims that he was in no shape for the last meeting, which accounts (so he says) for Batton winning, and once more promises to do better.

The main six-rounder will be scored two runs after Johnson had singled and Charlie came across with one of his infrequent homers-the lead that was never overcome.

In the Headquarters turn at bat, the dispute started but the session ended with the Irish still in the lead.

Banks, Johnson and Reddock were the leading hitters for the Green Wave while Fraiche led with the willow for the Spare Parts.

Foster piched for the Irish and didn't warm up until the sixth frame. He held the Headquarters team to only two bingles after the Pirates had scored three runs off of eight hits in the third and fifth stanzas.

(Please turn to page 7)

DODGE PLYMOUTH

cent importation from Oaho, and ful this time. Dapper Doyle, kinky headed scrapper of the 29th Infantry. Gully holds | Sand Scorpion is due to touch leaththe title of "Only Man to Have er with Frank Voght, of the 29th. Knocked Out Sandy Huff," a select Huff is still mad about the K. O. society whose membership is limited at the hands of Gully and swears to to one. Doyle has been aching for take it out on someone Tuesday. a suitable apponent for some time, as the last few fights he has had have not given him a boy that will make P., will make his first professional him put out.

Stratton "Chittling" Smith, from Demonstrationists. Smith was not so with his sledge hammer blow. Hyde teresting affair for the fans.

fought out between Bogart Gully, re- will probably be a little more care

Sandy Huff himself, the Southern "Nuff said."

Bean-pole Yates, the Mauling M appearance against Steve Brophy, another newcomer to the pro ranks in the Tank Battalion, will again try the curtain-raiser. Both of these boys conclusions with Billy Hyde, of the are big, and have been looking forward to this meeting for sometime. long ago matched with Hyde at the It being their first start, and also the last minute, and came within an ace fact that is rumored to be bad blood of laying the 29er back on the shelf between them, should make it an in-

NETT Reasons:

- ITS PURITY
- ITS HEALTHFULNESS
- · ITS DELICIOUSNESS
- ITS ECONOMY

and ITS PREMIUM VALUE:

> For Nehi Cola Crowns Possess A Definite Cash Value And Will Enable You To Purchase Many Articles

the price you want to Whether it's a new or old car-you will find it here-in our line of new Dodges and Plymouths and in our fine line of used cars. Ask us to demonstrate the Dodge "Show Down" plan

MOTOR CO. TTERSON-POPE

1415 FIRST AVE.

DODGE TRUCKS

USED CARS

BASEBALL (Continued From Page 6)

White worked on the rubber for the Headquarters nine. He also did- hit for a bag, Johnson pulled up at n't get started until the fourth. The Green Wave piled up three runs from a like number of hits in the first three innings and scored the deciding runs in the eleventh when Banks came across with a circuit clout. Score by innings:

1st Bn. ____ 111 000 000 02 5 7 2 Hq. Bn. ___ 002 010 000 00 3 9 2 Umpires: Nourse and Lindsey.

SPECIAL UNITS AND 2ND BATS The Special Units of the Infantry School, still mourning the flock of goose eggs that Lt. Ferenbaugh's proteges of Headquarters Battalion handed them in a recent game, duplicated the Black Pirates' feat by whitewashing the Kellys of the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry by the score of 2

Robertson, former collegian hurler and southpaw twirler for the Specialists held the Kells to four scattered bingles during the melee and received credit for six strikeouts and one putout.

The Greencords tallied their first run in the third stanza when Mc-Carthy was safe at first by virtue of an error onthe Kells hot corner man. Robertson sacrificed him to second, the next man grounded to pitcher but Tolle came with a bingle bringing Mac home from the keystone. Tolle was out at second, pitcher to short. They scored again in the sixth frame; after two outs, when Tolle hit, stole second, and scored on Futch's double over third.

The Kells tried hard to rally in the ninth. Thompson led off with a single, but Nichols hit to second baseman and caught Tommy off of first. The next man whiffed, ending one of the best exhibitions of baseball seen at Gowdy Field in many a moon.

Tolle was the hitting star of the Greencord offensive scoring one of his team's runs and getting two singles out of four appearances before the Kelly twirled. Futch was the other big gun of the Specialists, being responsible for the second marker for his team with a hot double.

Thompson was the heavy stickman for the Blue Thunderbolt, getting a triple and a single out of four times

This is the first time in many a moon that the Kellys have been completely shut out without a counter at all, but Lefty Robertson was invincible in this affray and really had the Second Bats' number.

Batteries: Special Units: Robertson and McCarthy. Second Bats: Ward and Pruett. Score by innings:

Second Bn. ____ 000 000 000 0 4 1

Sp. Units _____ 001 001 00x 2 6 2 Umpires: Nourse and Lindsey.

FIRST-BN. AND ARTILLERY The 1st Battalion baseball nine swamped the Artillery aggregation in a one-sided contest, last Tuesday to the tune of 12 to 4.

The Irishmen started knocking the agate all over the lot in the first gles during the entire fracas. frame, a couple of errors on the Redleg infield aiding the stampede. Red-left fielder let the ball roll between his legs. Johnson singled, scoring Jordan from the hot corner, Banks the keystone, and both men advanced one sack when the Cannoneer backstopper heaved wild to second. Johnson crossed the plate on a pass ball and Banks stopped at third, scoring when Snead hit an easy roller to pitcher and was safe at first on Holloway's wild throw. Snead, after racing to third on a wild heave, scored when Holloway was credited with a wild pitch. Holtzclaw hit the apple right on the nose for a four-timer and scored the Irish fifth marker of the inning. Seymour, shortfielder for the Green Wave, was hit by a pitched ball, but was out at second when he overran the bag in an attempt to steal. The Artillery were credited with four misplays in this spasm.

The Artillery scored a marker in the second stanza. Holloway hit a double across first base and scored when Gilbert sent a sizzling single out into the left field turf. They tallied again in the following session, when Thornhill hit thru pitcher for one sack. McLeod also singled, advancing Thornhill to second, Morris skied to right field, Cherry singled and when the right fielder juggled the ball Thornhill raced home. Mc-Leod pulled up at third, and crossed the rubber when Speir grounded to short. Holloway rolled to second, ending the inning. The Redlegs shoved another run home in the fifth frame, which proved to be their last marker. After that Foster, star moundsman for the Irish, settled down and blanked the Cannoneers for the remainder of the contest.

The Green Wave chalked up five runs in the last two stanzas on deliveries of Morris, who was swapped for Holloway on the rubber to make the count unanimous.

Foster and Holtzclaw were the stars with the willow for the Irish, each player getting credit for a circuit clout. Otherwise there were no individual hitters. Everyone on the 1st Battalion nine was knocking the rock all over the lot, hopping on the combined offerings of Holloway and Morris for a total of 18 hits and 12

Cherry and McLeod were the heavy stickmen for the Caisson Riders, Cherry with a double and single, and Mc-Leod securing two safeties out of four trips to the plate.

Ray, center garden ball hawk for the Irish, played a fine game, making several hard catches out of balls that were labelled hits.

Score by innings: 1st Bats ____ 520 000 032 12 18 2 Artillery ____ 012 010 000 4 9 6

Batteries: 1st Bats: Foster and Reddock; Artillery: Holloway Morris, and Thornhill.

Umpires: Nourse and Lindsey.

2ND BATS AND TANKS

The Second Battalion of the 29th Infantry defeated the Tank Battalion of the 66th Infantry Wednesday at Gowdy Field by the score of 4 to 1. Lefty Nichols, southpaw ace of the Kelly hurling staff, whiffed twelve of the Tanker batsmen and held the Golden Tornado to five scattered bin-

The Kells scored two runs in the second frame after Saunders had sindock grounded to short, Jordan sin | gled and pilfered the keystone. Lee gled and travelled to third when the brought him home with a hot single he will win the coveted "Trophy" down the first baseball line, and raced to second when Pruett grounded to the hot corner. Lee scored when Obron heaved Saunder's easy roller wild to first. The Blue Thunderbolt tallied again in the sixth stanza, a lone run, and chalked up another marker in the final session.

The Tankers scored their only run in the eighth when Hodge, relief hot corner man for the Golden Tornado, doubled and Swantic brought him home with a booming single.

Swantic started on the mound for the Tankers, but was relieved in the third by Rowan, a portsider, after Thompson had singled. After Row an had breezed two deliveries past Slocum, Kelly stickman, for two called strikes, Kjelstrom, coach for the Second Bats, substituted Avery for the batter at the plate. Then is when the fun stared for the Tank coach exchanged for Rowan on the rubber and he struck out the batsman and resumed his former position in right field. Rowan made his appearance on the rubber again. The comedy continued in the fifth spasm. Swantic was again substituted for Rowan on the hillock and Rowan roamed the right field garden. This episode brought many giggles from the fans. then Tarheel Saunders was the mainstay of the Kells hitting power securing three hits and a free pass out of five trips to the plate

Swantic, Wyrick and Hodge wielded the willow heavily for the Tankers, Swantic with a triple and a single, Wyrick a double and a single, and Hodge a two-timer at his only turn at bat.

This game placed the Kellys in the lead again, before this contest sharing top-notch honors with the Greencords of the Infantry School Detachment and Headquarters Battallon Batteries: 2nd Bn: Nichols and Pruett.

Tanks: Swantic, Rowan and Mc Glashen, Sullivan. Score by innings:

Second Bats ____ 020 001 001 4 12 2 Tankers _____ 000 000 010 1 5 3 Umpires: Wolfe and Nourse.

HO. BN. VS. ARTILLERY Headquarters Battalion of the 29th Infantry defeated the Artillery in a rather dull and uninteresting affair esterday by the score of five to one. Three base smashes were in vogue n this contest when three of the Black

Prate heavy stickmen clouted out one Huntley tossed them over for the pare Parts and except for the first innng when the Redlegs shoved one marker across the plate was never in hot water.

Holloway started on the rubber for the Cannoneers but was relieved in the fourth by Jakey Morris a southpaw with worlds of stuff. Morris was unable to spike the big guns of the Pirates and they collected six hits and runs off of his offering.

Little Chick Mauldin was the fielding star of the game. He handed seven chances at short without a miscue and also received credit for one putout. Working in coordination with him around the keystone was Hebert, who also played a bang up game, receiving credit four assists and two putouts.

Hitting hours for the affray went to Fraiche, Hebert, Harris and Mauldin, the first three poled out triples and Mauldin helped the cause by securing a double and a single when he appeared before the picher.

Batteries: Huntley and Wright; Holloway, Morris and Rhodes. Score by innings:

Hq. Ben. _____ 210 100 100 5 8 1 Artillery _____ 100 000 000 1 5 4 Umpires: Lindsey and Nourse.

83RD F. A.

(Continued From Page 3) the baseball season with a clean slate. Every one is saying that Cpl. Cherry and Pvt. Rhodes should stop hitting so many home runs and "give" a few more to the opposing players.

Well, since Corporal Pike is taking dancing lessons through a correspondence course, the personnel of the Battery has decided to put him in a dancing contest which will be held at Boyle's Acres next February Sergeant McCallum predicts in a walk.

Ouite a few of the men are on furlough and the writer himself wishes he were with them but just the same he sincerely hopes they are having a good time and enjoying themselves. As soon as they return they will have to get back in the harness again and pull their part of the load of guards and fatigues.

Our smoldering heavyweight wrestler, Frank Cutrer, wants every one in the outfit to go to town next time he wrestles for he promises to give them a good show for their money. But the question every one is askng himself is whether Cutrer wrestles every night? He goes to Columbus practically every day.

Your roving reporter has to sign off now but will be with you again in the next issue of the Herald.

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

RUBBER STAMPS

COLUMBUS OFFICE

SUPPLY CO.

C. D. SHINE

JOHN LOCKE

RENT-A-CAR COMPANY

519 - 8TH STREET PHONE 9579

LOWEST PRICES IN TOWN NEW CARS COURTESY TO ALL

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS____ RESOURCES OVER ____,

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

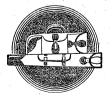

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

Upland Game

Newcomers to Ft. Benning will be glad to know that there's some fine hunting here, and oldtimers already know. So it's time to be getting out your hunting equipment and adding what you'll need. The Main Branch will shortly be displaying a complete line of shells and other equipment and you're invited to come in and inspect them.

PLAN YOUR OWN HUNTING SEASON NOW!

THE MAIN BRANCH WILL CARRY A COM-PLETE LINE OF HUNTING SUPPLIES.

PHONE 608

POST EXCHANGE

FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

Sez "Nira"

"The Provision Company, Inc. has enthusiastically suscribed to the National Industrial Recovery Act in all its regulations."

We have always operated on a basis of fair dealing for everyone-employees as well as customers. Thank you for your patronage.

The Provision Co., Inc.

29th Inf.

HEADQUARTERS COMPANY We got our mess sergeant John

Falk, out for one of our indoor baseball games last week and he had an off day while at the bat. He could snag them from the air in any kind of a position but while at the bat he missed all three balls that he had occasion to strike at by about two Private 1cl Tuell and Kirkpatrick are spending a ten days' vacation at Juniper Lake and are having a great time.

DESSERT for TWO

And you may be sure it's Foremost Ice Cream For everybody likes it and everybody welcomes the idea of its being on the table! In all delicious flavors for all kinds of people, at all times!

> Call the SODA FOUNT

FOREMOST DAIRIES INCORPORATED

Sgt. and Mrs. Jack B. Gibney have recently announced a new addition to the Public Relations Office staff in the person of a fine 71/2-pound boy. So far, Jack Jr's. broadcasting has been rated excellent.

The communication school is going along fine these days, going out to the woods every day.

Supply Sergeant Riley is a busy man these days. He is painting foot lockers at present and they are sure looking fine. He expects to start on the bunks next.

Corp. Richardson is back from CCC duty. He has been acting supply sergeant on CCC duty. He trained a CC man to take over his duties as supply sergeant.

Sgt. Funk, our drum major has been given another job with the In fantry School this year as instructor in Scouting and Patroling. He has previously been on this subject at the School and made an excellent record.

Sergeant Wright, one of our musicians, spent the biggest part of last Saturday cleaning some ducks for his Sunday dinner. After cleaning them and having put them in the ice box he went to play for a dance. Upon his return from the dance he found someone had robbed his ice box of everything, and had taken, besides his cleaned ducks, 5 pounds of sugar and several other articles. Sergeant Wright had to put on a fast for the weekend.

24th Inf.

COMPANY G

We, the members of Company G, and Band, 24th Infantry, announce to the world in all sincerity that we have the best company baseball team in the United States Army and by having such it probably is the best ball team in any army in any

The regimental baseball season was divided into two halves, the winners of each half to play for the regimental championship. This will be entirely unnecessary as Company G won both halves after having played fourteen games and winning four-

Not satisfied with this record the team under the able leadership of Sergeant Arthur Jones journeyed to Tuskegee Institute on the thirteenth instant where they met and defeated the aggregation of that famous insti-

Captain Edward C. Johnson, who is carried some of the players to Tuskegee and comprised a component the wonderful record of this wonderful band of warriors of the diamond, has stated that they will be the guests of honor at a picnic and dance given by G Company at the 29th Infantry recreation camp which they

Engineers

For about three years Company "A" has consisted of one platooon. Recently orders, have been received increasing it to a full Company. The organization takes a lot of pleasure in welcoming the following men to the outfit; Pvt. Schrock transferred from Service Company 29th. Infantry. Pvt. Dlearo, transferred from Hq. Battery, 83rd F. A. also Pvt. Bell, Pvt. Anderson, Pvt. Cochran, Pvt. Sanford, Pvt. Harp, Pvt. Slade, Pvt. Headley, Pvt. Power, and Pvt. Wilkes. These men are new to the Service, and are now taking recruit drill under St. Sgt. Tooze, ably assisted by Pvt. Lassiter and Pvt. Thomas. We hope that you like the Army, fellows. Pvt. Van Hoose enlisted for the outfit after spending six years in the tropics. We think that as soon as he gets over missing so many boats that he is going to be a mighty good man to have around. Welcome, Van.

Pfc. Philips, and Pvt. Pugh have just taken on three more years and are now on Furlough. Have a big time while you can. And don't forget to hurry back.

Pfc. Ivey went out last Saturday Morning and constructed a weir on a creek with great success, also a small flutter mill with even greater success. Good work, Ivey.

The boys are havng quite a time with the new Hooper Doo that has just been installed in the Day Room. But the Day Room orderly is having a lot of trouble keeping up with the pennies. And-the First Sergeant is still having a lot more trouble keeping up with his pipe. Stay with it, Sergeant.

> SATELLITES (Continued from page 5)

shop is a favorite haunt for the old soldiers of the battalion, who gather here to discuss the latest developments in politics, and to talk over the old times when they were in action. Here they fight the old battles, recross the Marne River, and repeat the "million dollar barrage." Debates are frequent. The men were war time members of every branch of service, and each thinks that his unit was responsible for the success of the Allied Armies. Madam will pause shaving a man to correct some soldier who thinks that the cavalry was responsible for clearan ardent fan and who, incidentally ing the way, or another who holds that the artillery tore down the resistance of the opponents. He never repart of the small cheering section of lates his individual achievements, but stresses the fact that the drives that the doughboys launched were the decisive factor of the war and that their indomitable courage and stubborn resistence turned the tide and paved the way for a truce of peace.

As a result of the wound received at Ausauville Private Tapley was recently made a member of the Order of The Purple Heart.

Thirteen years from today, providing Fate holds her present course Madam will retire, from active service with the army, as a member of Company E, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks), Fort Benning, Georgia.

have so kindly permitted the organization to enjoy on Saturday.

The Company and Band, which he also commands and especially the team, will be sorry to see the Captain eave the organization but as he has already received his orders there is nothing left for us to do except wish him the best of luck and hope that during his travel he might command a company with a ball team which will have a record as high as his present organization and we may meet on the diamond.

The personnel of the baseball team is Sergeant Arthur Jones, Corporal Harvie Brown, Herman Seats and Lawrence Tillis, Privates 1st Class Herman Hodges and Vergil McLarkin (Kingfish) and Privates Elmer Trammell, Benjamin Randolph, Norman Guyden, Winston Nathaniel, James A. Armstead, Marcellus Hampton, Floyd Lamar, Lewis Perry, Fendall Williams, Slone Williams and Dorsey Battle, the three latter being members of the Band which is attached to G Company for administration.

Sgt. Wm. W. Hodges.

PLEASE THE MEN!

If you can do that you're good!-But, of course, you have the Grocery Department to help you, and that counts for a great deal. We are amply able to supply your every culi-

GROCERY DEPT. EXCHANGE POST

FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

100% on CODE

WE DO OUR PART

WE HAVE RAISED SALARIES and

EMPLOYED MORE MEN

... in accordance with the provisions of the Agreement we have made with the Government.

We are cooperating in every way we can with Fort Benning and will appreciate your continued patronage. To newcomers, may we add that we will greatly appreciate your visits to our store.

force:

Bass H. Lewis _____ Vice President T. M. Hall _____ Mgr. Mill Supply Dept. W. F. Glenn _____ Mgr. Paint Dept. W. L. Goodroe _____ Mgr. Builder's Hdwe. Dept. Mrs. Doris Harvey _____ Cashier Cecil Jordan _____ Shipping Clerk Douglas Ward _____ Delivery Howard Allen _____ Delivery

STORE HOURS - DAILY, 7 TO 5:30 STORE HOURS SATURDAY, 7 TO 6:00 WE ARE PLEASED TO SERVE YOU

WM. BEACH HARDWARE CO.

1010-1012 BROADWAY PHONE 14 - 15

If it's TEMPTATION

TRIAL

TOOTHSOMENESS

You Want

Then It's

You'll Buy

Have you entered Tom's Tall Tales Contest? $250 in prizes to be awarded for the best Tall Tales. See details on Tom's display cards.

DENNING

VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 1, 1933

NUMBER 19

Last Week

Colonel and Mrs. J. M. Graham left on leave, at the conclusion of which they will report to Colonel Graham's new station at Plattsburg Barracks, Colonel James B. Gowen and family arrived at the post last Wednesday. Colonel Gowen is the new director of the Infantry Board.

Kid Sebukaty, middleweight king of Benning boxers, lost a furious 8round battle to Kid Numbers at Fort Bragg, via the K. O. route. Sebukaty kissed the canvas when the last round had only fifteen seconds to live.

Majors Brett And Henry Leave Post

Major Sereno E. Brett, Infantry, who has been on almost continuous duty at Ft. Benning practically since the close of the World War, and Major Stephen C. Henry, whose last term of duty at The Infantry School began in 1932, departed from Benning last Friday en route to new stations and as-

Major Brett, who, as the tank member of the Infantry Board, established himself as one of the foremost tank experts of the army, will be enrolled as a student at the Army Industrial College at Washington, D. C.

Major Brett possesses an extensive from the Infantry School Company Officers' course in 1921; the Tank School at Fort Meade, Md., in 1926; and the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, in 1928. In addition to this he holds a Bachelor of Science degree awarded by the Oregon Industrial College in 1916.

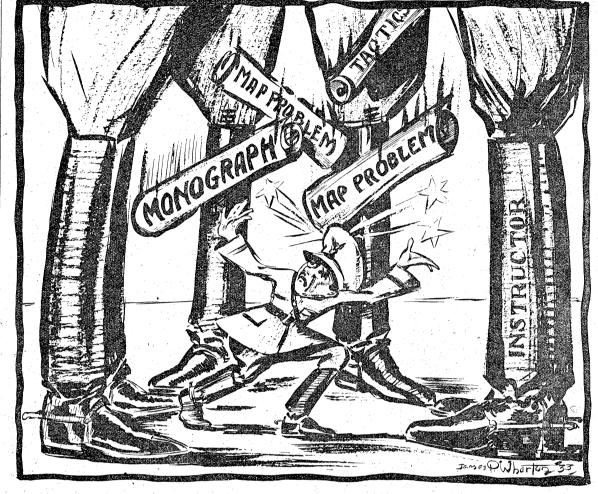

He served through the World War as a member of the tank corps and conducted himself with such distinction that he was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross, the Distinguished Service Medal, and two Silver Star citations. He has held numerous high positions of staff and command during his military career.

Major Henry, who recently returned from a tour of duty with the Civilian Conservation Corps, has been designated as a student at the Army War College, Washington, D. C. In Major Henry's case, also, this assignment to one of the higher military schools follows considerable study at other service and civilian institutions. He is a graduate of the Tank School, class of 1923, the Infantry School Advanced course, class of 1927, and the Command and General Staff School, class of 1928. His civilian education includes a Bachelor of Science degree from Louisiana State University, class of 1917. He is also a member of the General staff corps elegible list.

Major Henry's work as an instructor in the academic department of the nfantry School, has been in the tank ection, where he is considered an expert both in the use as well as the care and maintenance of the land battle-

Ten Years Ago A Prospective Student's Impression Of Benning

Brigadier General Estes To Be Principal Speaker At Opening Exercises Of School Next Tuesday

Life Guard Class military education, having graduated Gets Certificates

The ladies and children of the Fort Benning garrison who have taken the Red Cross Life Saving Course at Russ Pool, were awarded their diplomas and certificates last week.

Beginners Class: Helen Hundertmark, Edith Hamilton, Mary Jane Petit, Betty Jones, Dorothy Johnson, Betty Ann Brett, Ruth Pyle, Helen Hodges, Peggy Trechter, Betty Lucas and Doris Harvey.

Elementary Class: Girls—Grace Hundertmark, Matilda Betts, Theresa Hug, Patricia Evans, Bertram Pierce, Mary Hundertmark, Helen Huling, Zephie Blain, Barbara Thompson, Pat Connor, Sally Bevan, Jo Ann Selleck, Dorothy Ferenbaugh, and Elaine Golightly.

Advanced Class: Girls-Nancy Ea gles, Jean Robinson, Judy Bell, Bolling Buracker, Mary Frances Kelly, Louise Lucas, Kathleen Cushman, Elizabeth Cushman, Mary Lee Hug, Betty Bevan, Ann Betts, Edith Hor-

Advanced and Junior Life Saving: Helen Kellam, Marion Vien, Ann Yancey, Frances Hug, Ann Cota, Esther Weeks, Beatrice McNulty, Dorothy Combs, Beatrice Catron, Anna

May Huling.

Beginners' Class: Boys—Brelon Grantham, Jr., and Bobby Robinson. Elementary Class: Boys—Paul Kellam, Joe Thompson and Thomas

Advanced Class: Boys-Buddie Lucas, Sidney McCabe, Oliver Trechter, (Please turn to page 8)

School classes for the school year 5th, at 10:00 A. M. Courses will be conducted throughout the year for one hundred and thirty-one infantry officers of the regular army, five U.S. Marine Corps officers, two from the Philippine Constabulary; and three from the Cuban Army, the attendance of the latter being by special arrangement with the Cuban government.

The exercises will be opened with the playing of the "National Emblem" march by the 29th Infantry Band, following which Major John F. Monahan, Catholic chaplain of the post, will make an invocation.

Brigadier General George H. Estes, ommandant of Fort Benning and the Infantry School, will then make an address of welcome to the assembled students. The Honorable H. C. Smith, mayor of Columbus, will also make a short address welcoming the officers to Columbus after wh cises will terminate with a benediction by Major Willis T. Howard, Protestant Chaplain, and the 29th Infanrty Band playing the regimental march "Fol-

There will be three regular classes conducted throughout the school year. A great reduction in the number of officers attending the courses has been made since last year, when the total of the three classes was two hundred and seventy. The advanced class has suffered the greatest cut, there being only thirty members as against one hundred and six last year; a reduction of approximately two-thirds. Attending this course are one field officer of the Philippine Constabulary, two U. S. Marine Corps captains, and one

(Please turn to page 4)

The official opening of the Infantry Maj. Thomas Here; 1933-34 will take place on September Succeeds Thompson

Major Kramer Thomas, Cavalry, who was ordered to Fort Benning, Georgia, as a successor to Major John B. Thompson, Cavalry, instructor in the management of animals of last year's class of the Infantry School, arrived at the fort Wednesday, August 30th.

Prior to his assignment to duty with the Infantry School, Major Thomas was a member of the staff and faculty of the Cavalry School, Fort Riley,

Maj. Thomas began his military career as private in B Troop of the 1st as a Private in B Troop of the 1st Cavalry (National Guard) on September 11, 1916, and received an appointment as 2nd Lieutenant of Cavalry on November 30, 1916. In September of rrance Major States and given an honorable discharge. He has since been returned to the army and holds his wartime rank of major.

Major Thomas is a graduate of the Troop Officers' Course of the Cavalry School, class of 1923, and the Advanced Course of the same school, class of 1929. He is also a graduate of the Command and General Staff School, Fort Leavenworth, Kansas and has been placed on the General Staff and Command Eligible List of the army.

He will take up his duties as head of the animal section of the Infantry School at the opening date of the institution, and will be chief instructor in the management and handling of animals.

Gen. Estes Assumes Command Of Post

Brigadier General George H. Estes assumed command of Fort Benning Wednesday, replacing Colonel Fred L. Munson, who has been acting commandant since July 1 when Major General Campbell King was relieved from duty prior to retirement July

General Estes assumed command of the Infantry School Wednesday, a fitting ceremony being staged at post headquarters. Immediately afterward, he called officials of the garrison into conference to discuss future plans for the post.

An escort company from the 29th Infantry, commanded by First Lieutenant Carl F. Duffner, together with the band and colors received General Estes at post headquarters. The new commandant arrived in an automobile with Colonel Munson.

As the car stopped, a battery from the 83rd Field Artillery fired the 11gun salute. When the salute was completed, General Estes was given the usual salute and honors by the escort company. He then inspected the company with Colonel Munson and Lieutenant Duffner.

A staff meeting was held at 9:30 o'clock, and among those present at that time in his office were Colonel Ephraim G. Peyton, executive officer; Colonel Charles W. Weeks, assistant commandant; Colonel George F. Baltzell, director of the infantry board; Colonel Charles F. Morse, surgeon, and Colonel J. DeCamp Hall, quartermaster.

When General Estes completed his conference with the staff and heads of activities he then met the commanding officers of the five major units on the post. These are the 29th Infantry commanded by Colonel William E. Persons, 24th Infantry, now Colonel Munson's command, Special Units, commanded by Colonel Frank F. Jewett, 1st Battalion 83rd Field Artillery, commanded by Major Clyde A. Selleck and the 2nd Battalion, 66th Infantry (light tanks) com-manded by Captain Donald P. Spald-

General Estes has been at Fort Benning since Sunday. He motored to the post Sunday afternoon and immediately entered the station hospital for treatment for a slight illness. His condition is much improved. His family arrived Wednesday.

Capt. North To Be With Medicos Here

Captain William D. North, Medical Corps, has been assigned to Fort Ben-1918 he was advanced to the rank of ning, and will report to this station Major in the infantry. At the cessa- upon the completion of his present tour of foreign service. Captain Thomas was returned to the United North will join the Medical Department of the Infantry School, upon his arrival in Fort Benning: He has been on duty with the Medical Department, Panama Canal Zone, since his assignment to foreign service in Panama. This officer first entered the service in 1927, when he graduated from Vanderbilt Medical University, at Nashville, Tennessee, where he holds the M. D. degree. He is also a graduate of the Medical Field Service School and the Army Medical School, classes of 1929.

The exact date of his arrival in Benning is not known, but his foreign duty will be completed in the very near future, and his assignment to the Infantry School will take effect upon his arrival in the United States.

Miss Hulit Wiley Marries Lt. Pressley Tuesday Afternoon At Ft. McPherson

Of interest throughout the Army and Civilian Circles was the wedding Tuesday evening of Miss Hulit Wilev. only daughter of Col. and Mrs. James Wiley of Fort McPherson, to Lieut. Milton Pressley Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. M. H. Pressley of Miami, Fla., which was solemnized in the Fort McPherson chapel at 8 p. m. Bishop

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital

1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

ONE GUEST

OR TWENTY

WHEN it's a problem like that-when you hardly know what you're going to servethen it's time for you to fall back on Foremost Ice Cream for it is just the thing that will make the biggest hit of the evening!

> Call the SODA FOUNT

FOREMOST DAIRIES

INCORPORATED

H. J. Mikell officiated in the presence of a large group of friends in military and civilian circles. The quaint chapel was charming with its decorations of palms and ferns. The altar was banked by palms and white gladioli in tall wicker baskets while at each end tall white tapers burned in cathedral candelabras. Each pew was marked by decorations of white burning tapers held in place by bows.

Preceding the ceremony a musical program was rendered by Mrs. Joseph Amom of Fort McPherson and as the bridal party approached the altar Mendelssohn's wedding march was rendered.

Bridal Party

The bridesmaids were Miss Susan Noble, of Fort McPherson, and Miss Page Michie, of Fort Benning. They wore blue crepe gowns fashioned with a high neckline in the front and a deep V in the back. Epaulettes of the same material gave the wide shoulder effect, and they wore blue crepe slippers and carried bouquets of pale pink dahlias tied with turquoise blue tulle. Mrs. Harold Mace. of Fort Benning, formerly Miss Virginia Griggs, of Jacksonville, Fla., was the matron of honor. She wore a becoming gown of ecru lace made with a high neckline, long tight sleeves and a full skirt of slipper toe length. Her girdle was formed of two shades of blue crpee and her slippers were of blue faille. Her bouquet of dahlias, in dusty pink tones, was caught with a filmy tulle

Lieutenant Pressley and his brother, John Pressley, of Miami, Fla., as his best man and a group of brother officers at Fort Benning, including Lieutenant Harold L. Mace, United States Army, Lieutenant J. B. Coolidge, United States Army, Lieutenant Ernest Eastrebrook, United States Army, and Lieutenant Charles Decker, United States Army, were groomsmen. As the bride and bridegroom turned from the altar following the ceremony the groomsmen raised their sabers to form the gleaming archway of steel for the newly-married couple to pass under, thus fulfilling an old serv-

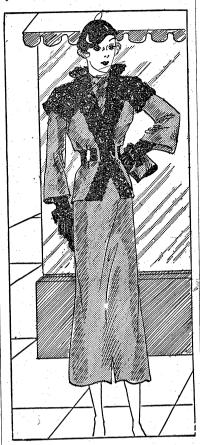

Beautiful Bride

Wearing white lace posed over gleaming white satin, the beautiful bride entered the chapel with her father, Colonel Noble James Wiley, by

CARTON SELER WILL REFUND

TOUR DEPOSIT.

Today's Fashion

Fur Trimmed suit for early fall. By VERA WINSTON

The fur-trimmed suit has become a necessary member of the wardrobe family, so there is much interest in the new models that are already being shown. Exceedingly smart is the very attractive model shown in the accompanying sketch. It is rich in detail. The material is grege wool and the collar is in nigger brown Persian lamb. The lower part of the sleeves and the cuffs of the gloves are all of Persian lamb. chief of the siut material has fur ends which slip through the collar of the coat at the back. The skirt has a tiny slit in front. The cuff of the sleeve is fairly wide also.

whom she was given in marriage. The gown was fashioned with a quaint square neckline and leg o' mutton sleeves completed with a long tight sleeve from the elbow to the wrist. The skirt was floor length in the front, and formed a train in the back. Her filmy tulle veil was worn capshape and was caught to her hair with dainty sprays of orange blossoms. Graceful folds of the tulle formed a train several yards in length. Her slippers were of white crepe and she carried an exquisite bouquet of white roses and valley lilies, showered with narrow white satin ribbons, caught with rosebuds and valley lilies.

Reception Follows Following the ceremony Colonel Wiley and Mrs. Wiley entertained at a reception at their quarters at the Garrison. Receiving the guests were the guests were the hosts, the bride and bridegroom and Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hughes Pressley, of Miami, parents of the bridegroom. Mrs. Wiley was gowned in black lace veiling black satin and her flowers were a spray of pink rosebuds and valley lilies. Mrs. Pressley wore pink lace with a corsage of pink roses. Mrs. Charles White, of Washington, D. C., maternal aunt of the bride, wore black crepe with a shoulder spray of gardenias.

WANT ADS

CLASSIFIED ADV. RATES: 20 cents per line or fraction of line. Minimum charge for any classified advertisement, 50 cents. Payment must be made before advertisement is pub-

Licensed U. G. Nurse wants position as companionate nurse or care of child. Moderate compensaton. Phone 1491-R.

The bride's table was covered with an imported cloth and centered with the beautifully embossed wedding cake, built in tiers and topped by pastel shaded flowers. Flanking the central decoration were silver cande labra holding slender waxen tapers. Mrs. George H. Estes, Mrs. William Henry Noble, Mrs. Lewis Sidney Morey and Mrs. George Woodward presided at the punch bowl.

Lieutenant and Mrs. Pressley left during the evening for a short motor trip, after which they will make their home at Fort Benning, Ga., where Lieutenant Pressley is a student in the company officers' class of the Infantry School.

Among the out-of-town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Milton Hughes Pressley, of Miami, parents of the bridegroom; Mr. John Pressley, of Miami, brother of the bridegroom, and Mrs. Charles D. White, of Washington, D. C., maternal aunt of the bride; Miss Page Michie, Miss Harriotte Atkins, Lieu-Charles Decker, Lieutenant Harold D. Mace and Mrs. Mace, Lieutenant Ernest Easterbrook and Lieu-(Please turn to page 3)

BUT it doesn't matter! For she can get another and better pan at Silver's for a very moderate price to take the place of the old one. And not only that-she can get almost anything for the home here.

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST.

ONLY GUARANTEED ARTICLES

CONVENIENT LOCATION—MODERN EQUIPMENT RATES REASONABLE

Phone your agent or call our Superintendent, Mr. Trussell, Phone 3062

DIMON COURT APARTMENTS

Just as the honking cry of wild geese-the shortening of long summer days and the prospective opening of school are heralds of Fall, so is Dolan-Henry Hat Shop the herald of the new Fall styles. Miss Annie Dolan has just returned from New York, where she made purchases of new Fall stock from the leading milliners of the Metropolis.

We cordially invite the ladies of Fort Benning to visit our shop for an inspection of our new stock.

Charge Accounts Solicited

DOLAN-HENRY HAT SHOP

A L S O B R O O K 'S

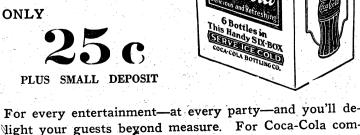

The Answer To The Hostess' Prayer!

THE BIG COCA-COLA SIX-BOX!

Ready at all times for all occasions! That's the SIX-BOX—the best way out of every entertaining problem -and at the small cost of only light your guests beyond measure. For Coca-Cola combines everything it takes to make a cold drink good, and it's easiest of all to serve!

ONLY

PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

COMBINES DELICIOUSNESS AND GOODNESS TO THE NTH DEGREE!

> SOLD AT ALL GROCERY STORES IN COLUMBUS

NEW FALL SHOES

Our stock is now complete in all the new patterns in Suede, Kid, and Satin.

Come in and let us have the pleasure of showing you these new styles, and get our prices on these new shoes.

> Watch our windows daily for new styles.

MILLER-TAYLOR SHOE CO.

1130 BROADWAY

PEP...

in every step

Heels and Soles

Hood Rubber Products Go., Inc. Watertown, Mass.

KENNY'S VACUUM PACK NORWOOD COFFEE

is sold at Fort Benning

through the

Post Exchange

TRY A POUND
YOU WILL BE PLEASED

THE

Post Exchange

has a

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

... which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The hours of this service are from 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

SOCIETY

(Please turn to page 2) tenant J. B. Coolidge, and Lieut. and Mrs. G. P. Howell, all of Fort Benning.

MRS. CLAYTON STUDEBAKER ENTERTAINS BRIDGE CLUB.

Mrs. Clayton Studebaker entertained Friday at her quarters on Carnes Ave. complimenting members of her bridge club.

Eight ladies assembled at 1 P. M. for lunch followed by two tables of contract bridge. The guests list included: rMs. J. E. Bowen, Mrs. Charles Lanham, Mrs. G. P. Howell, Mrs. Lynn Brady, Mrs. Selina Waddington, Mrs. Wm. O'Connor, Miss Harriette Atkins.

MEMBERS OF CLASS OF 'cv TO GIVE INFORMAL DANCE

The members of the West Point Class of 1931 will be the hosts Monday evening at an informal sports dance which will be held at the Polo Hunt Club. The guests have been invited at 9:30 and dancing will continue until 12 P. M., the 29th Inforchestra furnishing the music.

The guest list will include members of the young married set, debutantes and sub debs from Columbus and Fort Benning, their guests and escorts.

Many informal affairs will be held preceding the dance.

MISS ELIZABETH BERRY TO BE GUEST OF HONOR AT DINNER PRECEEDING DANCE

Miss Elizabeth Berry, who arrives Sunday to be the house guest of Miss Harriotte Atkins, will be the honor guest Monday evening at a dinner given by Capt. and Mrs. Malcolm Lindsey at their attractive quarters in Auston Loop.

The guests have been invited for dinner at seven and plans will be made to attend the dance that evening at the Polo-Hunt Club.

Capt. and Mrs. Lindsey's guests will be a few intimate friends of the honoree. They will include Miss Elizabeth Berry, Lt. and Mrs. Frances Cole, Miss Harriotte Atkins, Miss Eleanor Garrard, Capt. John W. Blue, Lieut. Malin Craig, Lieut. Ernest Easterbrook, Lieut. Charles Decker, Paul Blanchard.

PERSONALS

Miss Catherine Lemly returned Monday from Fort McPherson where she has been the guest of Miss Barbara Lowe.

Miss Harriotte Atkins departed Monday for Fort McPherson, Ga. where she attended the marriage of Miss Hulit Wiley to Lieut. Milton Pressley as the guest of Miss Sussanne Noble.

Lieut. and Mrs. . A. Rosebaum are to be congratulated upon the birth of a son Monday Aug. 29.

Lieut. and Mrs. G. P. Howell departed Tuesday for Fort McPherson, Ga. where othey attended the wed-

New Books

The House of Exile, by Nora Waln.

The author of this charming book has had experience of China such as few Westerners ever enjoy. Thanks to a friendship between her ancestor and one of the old Canton hong merchants, who traded together in the eighteenth century, she was invited in 1920 to stay in the mansion (Please turn to Page 7) ding of Miss Hulit Wiley to Lieut Milton Pressley.

Lieut. and Mrs. Mace are spending a few days at Fort McPherson as the house guest of Miss Susanne Nobel, Mrs. Mace acted as matron of honor to Miss Hulit Wiley when she became the bride of Lieut. Milton Pressley.

Lieut. Ernest Easterbrook, Lieut. J. B. Coolidge and Lieut. T. E. Decker left Tuesday to attend the wedding of Miss Wiley to Lieut. Pressley.

Lieut. and Mrs. O. O. Wilson, with their children departed Monday for Fort Riley where Lieut. Wilson will attend the Cavalry School.

Miss Elizabeth Barry will arrive at Fort Benning on Sept. 3 to be the house guest of Miss Harriotte Atkins. Miss Berry spent three years at Fort Benning, her father, Colonel Berry, having been Commanding officer of the Special Units.

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

An INVITATION

... to the personnel of Fort Benning to make our store THEIR store—whether as the proper place to buy good furniture—a place to meet their friends, wait for their automobiles or "whatnot".

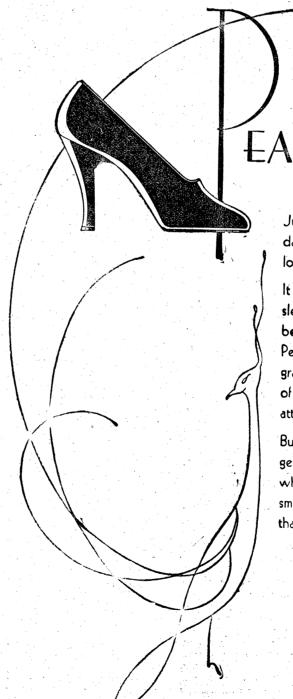

We ask you to inspect good furniture at low prices. We sell on terms, and solicit new accounts.

B.L. PENNELL

FURNITURE COMPANY
1249 BROADWAY

at Thirteenth Street

TELEPHONE 4618

The Smartest Feet
Are Wearing

EACOCK JHOES

Just as we predicted on our opening date. Peacock shoes have walked their lovely way into the leading wardrobes!

It may be the high arch or the slender heel which REALLY fits. It may be the exclusive process by which the Peacock shoe is made to HOLD its graceful shapeliness. It may be the range of colors and fabrics and leathers, all attuned to Fashion's latest dictates.

But probably it is all these things together for when a womar knows where she can fit HER foot and her smartest costume as well she is from that moment won!

You will find Peacock
Shoes priced at $8.50.

IDVENS

LET US KNOW

ABOUT YOUR HOME FURNISHING PLANS —AND WE'LL SHOW YOU HOW THEY MAY BE CARRIED THROUGH AT LOW-

We are agents for Leonard Electric Refrigerators, for Philco Radios and for all kinds of furniture for every room in the home. We will consider it a privilege to assist you in getting your new quarters furnished.

1141 Broadway

Phone 409

BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Phone 556

Columbus, Georgia

VOLUME III. SEPTEMBER 1, 1933 NUMBER 19 _____Publisher L. C. KUNZE... Louis T. Kunze_____Circulation Manager

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE, BALTIMORE

Here's To Your Health

BY MAJOR HOMER L. CONNER, Medical Inspector

"Pink eye" or conjunctivitis is a very common eye infection in Southern Georgia during the summer.

The most common cause for the spread of this disease is probably the small fly called "eye gnat" which makes its first appearance in May or June and thereafter increases rapidly until in August they become a veritable pest which may continue until the first frost.

School sessions at the beginning of the school year in September in these sections have frequently had to be limited to half days. On entering the school room one is struck by the constant fanning with the hands to keep the gnats away from their eyes. If there be a discharge from the eye of some child there you will see a swarm of gnats.

They alight near the inner angl of the eye where discharge accumulates or on the margin of the lids. they seem to burrow in and feed. attract gnats. Proper disposal of garto another conveys the germs of and paper), adequate sewage disposal, prespreads the "pink eye."

Every one of us who lives at Fort Benning who spends any time out-of: the cleaning out of heavy vegetation doors suffers the annoyance of this and the elimination of piles of trash pest during July, August and September. The warmer and more humid the day the greater the annoyance. me to believe that careless handling A few cases of conjunctivities are now under treatment.

Control of this disease and methods advised to prevent its spread are

1. Early and continuous treatment until the disease is cured.

2. Prevent personal contact either with the patient or indirect with the discharge from the eyes. Hands or any thing that comes in contact with the discharge may convey the disease. (Wash your hands).

3. Sanitation. The measures advocated have largely to do with the prevention of fly breeding. The gnat like all flies, by choice lays its eggs in manure either animal or human. If this is not handy it will take any decaying fruit or vegetable matter. Depending on heat and moisture, the eggs hatch out into maggots and then change into full grown adult. Under favorable conditions the time from the laying of the egg to adult is about 11 days. If conditions are unfavorable it may take as long as 3

Control measures therefore consist in the removal or treatment of substances about human habitations which The gnat passing from one child bage (wrap in several thicknesses of vention of ground pollution with manure, or food and kitchen wastes. all help to reduce the breeding places,

My observation at Benning leads of garbage has been the main reason for the breeding of gnats. Another reason is the decaying vegetation about our houses which the seasonal heat and many rains have produced.

SATELLI

(By'N. H. HOBBS)

teer infantry during the Spanish-American conflict, may be observed (the 29th Infantry) where he carries crack rifle company.

This small individual, 1st Sergeant Floyd Hall, is regarded as one of the most competent and efficient in June 1910. "top-kicks" in the 2-9 army.

Kentucky Infantry on June 1st, 1898 abuse and scorn when he tumbled the sleepy occupants of the camp out of their bunks by the staccato notes of was discharged from this organization at Anniston, Alabama on February 1st, 1899 as private with excellent character.

It was at this stage of his life that he decided to try the "civies' again, but after working on the railroad for the Chesapeake and Ohio nine years the lure of the hiking doughboys and the olive drab brought him back to the service at Columbus, Ohio in June, 1907. Here he was assigned to Company M of the

A descendant of the wellknown he went to Cuba and engaged in the Kentucky long rifle pioneers and a Army of Cuba Pacification struggle member of the 4th Kentucky volun- in that same year. The 5th Infantry returned to the states in February, daily at his desk in A Company of 1909 taking part in the inaugural the only war strength, infantry, dem- parade of our twenty-seventh presionstration unit in the U. S. Army, dent, William Howard Taft, fourteenth republican Chief Administrator of the out his duties as first sergeant of this United States. It was during this enlistment that Private Hall was appointed corporal and discharged as such with an excellency of character

Cpl. Hall immediately reenlisted Born in Lexington, Kentucky in for the same outfit and during this 1878, he enlisted for the services of hitch was appointed sergeant and his country with the 4th Volunteer placed in charge of the Exchange in the capacity of steward. The at the budding age of 19. During 5th Infantry figured prominently in this enlistment, the then private Hall the Confederate's Union held at was subjected to many remarks of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania during that enlistment.

Upon the completion of Sgt. Hall's second stack with M Company of the reveille sounded from his bugle. He 5th Infantry he took on this time with I Company of the third battalion, 29th Infantry at Albany, New York and from there went to Fort Jay. The stay was short-lived however and the third battalion travelled from there to Niagara, leaving that station on St. Patrick's day, 1915, sailing on the transport Buford for Panama. After arriving at their new station, the 29th doughboys engaged in cutting trails, mapping terrain and building triangular stations. It was during this assignment that Sgt. Hall man and Captain William H. Noble, (now Col. Noble, of the Q. M. 4th Corps area) led an expedition of 20 men into the wilds of Panama and established a trail through the dense undergrowth for a distance of nineten miles from Gatun to Pina. This task was very hazardous, oftimes the party was attacked by boars and frequently did without water for long periods of time. But by dogged peristency and indomitable courage. the small detachment of men finally succeeded in mastering the wilds and established a trail between these two

During the World War, the 29th Infantry was assigned the responsibility of guarding the great Gatun locks and power plants. This work was alternated between the battalions and companies for periods of months at a time; first on the Pacific coast and then at Gatun and Mira flores, (look at the flowers) so called on account of the abundance of the various and multi-colored species growing in

The third battalion of the 29th also engaged in mapping coast lines at

Orange Keys and Porto Bello, picturesque Spanish settlements in that

Sgt. Hall returned to the United States with the Demonstrationists and took up camp at Beauregard, Louisiana. While at Camp Beauregard, the flu epidemic pointed its ice cold finger of death at those valiant soldiers stationed there and they suffered many casualties from this dreaded

The 2-9 regulars then went to Camp Shelby, Mississippi, where they form ed a demobilization outfit. Sergeant Hall being discharged from this station on June 19, 1919 for the convenience of the government and for the purpose of reenlisting.

Shortly after his reenlistment Ser geant Hall was promoted to the grade of first sergeant and when the 3rd Battalion came to Fort Benning in October 1919 accompanied them on the journey as "top-kicker" of I Company. The Great Infantry School was in its infancy then and the third battalion was doing the necessary guard and fatigue while their brother battalion, the first, were the demon strationists for the school of officers When the 3rd Battalion was relegated to the ash heap, and disbanded in 1922, Sergeant Hall was transferred to A Company and has been with that organization ever since. He has in the capacity of first sergeant been very instrumental in making this line company one of the best in the regiment and in winning the title of such in 1931 and 1932 thereby en titling the members of that organiza tion to wear the much coveted "E, that is symbolic of that distinction 1st Sergeant Hall has made several envious records of proficiency during his career. He holds the certificate of efficiency as "Gas" non-com during the War and also as an instructor in Scouting and Patrolling. He has also qualified highly with the rifle and pistol, having made sharpshoot er with both weapons.

By his ceaseless energy he performs his duties with the utmost efficiency and gives the closest, personal supervision to the training and discipline of members of A Company. His brilliant record and excellency of character is reflected in the high stand-(Please turn to page 5)

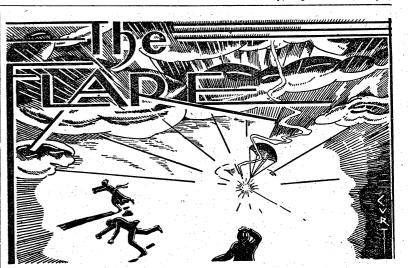

BRIG. GEN. ESTES TO BE PRIN CIPLE SPEAKER (Continued from Page 1)

Cuban captain, the rest being infantry captains and lieutenants of the regular army.

The largest of the three courses the company officers' class will have ninety members or three-quarters of last years' number. These include three Marine Corps lieutenants, one officer of the Philippine Constabulary, and one of the Cuban Army

The tank course, with twenty-one members is slightly more than one half last years' total of forty. With the exception of one Cuban Army officer all members are captains or lieutenants of infantry, and the majority graduates of last year's advanced course. Immediately after the opening exercises the annual drawing of quarters will be held. A few of the student 5th Infantry and with this unit that under the supervision of Major Christ- officers are to be housed at the post.

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

CONDUCTED BY E. F. R.

The FLARE joins the entire Post Personnel in extending to Brigadier General George H. Estes and his Family the warmest of Welcomes and best Wishes for a pleasant and prosperous tour at The Infantry School.

ANNUAL DRAWING OF QUARTERS

The Grand Free Exhibition took place on the Show Grounds at the Post Theatre and should have immediately followed a Street Parade for Barnum and Bailey and Ringling Brothers Circus with Three Rings and Two Stages had nothing on the MASTODON MACROLOGY which was perpetrated by Post Headquarters under the personal direction of Adjutant General Monk Lewis. The affair was a triumph for the tireless energy and meticulous attention to the minutiae of detail on the part of our admirable and admired Adjutant. Loquacious Lewis had left nothing to chance. By means of Daily Bulletins and Circulars, General and Special Orders, Personal Conferences and Telephone Calls, and repeated Rehearsals all of the Directors and all of the Draw-ors had been made so cognizant of the manifold mechanisms of the Machinery that there was scarcely a Hitch in the hectic Hodge-Podge. The Stage fairly sagged under a score of scampering scribes and secretaries. Winsome Wilbur Elliot was one of The Adjutant General's Right Hand Men and he lent Charm and Character to the occasion. All Officers or their Wives or their Proxies were present except certain excepted ones who were excepted in one of the exceptional orders published by Monk and some not excepted ones who were the exception and did not understand the orders. And if you don't believe that the above sentence is as clear as the Lewis-Lovett Lyrics, get out your retained copy of the Post Instructions and re-read them. Do not be misled by the above account and get the idea that there was discord or disorder at the Drawing. We have been carried away by our cacoethes scribendi. Monk handled a Matter of mammoth proportions in a most Masterful Manner. As an example of the way in which Monk missed a minimum of minute matters we would attract your attention to the fact that he stationed two ambulances outside the Theatre and he stationed Hand-Signal Funk and Police man Pilet inside the Theatre in case of Riot. Furthermore, he arranged with the authorities to have the Theatre present "Hell Below" the night before the drawing, and as the people passed out after he drawing their eves were confronted with advertisemens for that evening's enertainment which was entitled "Pack up your Troubles." Everybody who rated quarters on the Post got them and with a minimum amount of confusion and dissatisfaction. A few notes were made by our Rambling Reporter and they are given here as the High Lights of Lewis' Legerdemain Performance.

CHINA CROWD COMMENCES TO CRACK

We hope this incident doesn't presage a Rift in the Ranks of The China Crowd but The DePasses did rank out the Golightlys. We trust that the above is only a passing Phantasmagoria and that there is no need for mourning in the Marshall Men-

DRIVEN INTO THE STREET BY DRINK

Mrs. Ives, whose husky husband is away at a CCC Camp, knowing that her quarters in Block 23 might hang in the balance, was at the Drawing Bright and Early. She sat for hours wistfully waiting for the Master of Ceremony to reach her name. At the rate things were going it seemed that it would be an hour before the Ives Ivy-clad Inn would be on the spot so she quickly slipped out to the Lobby for a quiet drink of water. When she returned to the Drawing she found that Drama had been enand was out in the Street-on paper "I was going to ask to go on a Commutation Status, anyway," Maude murmured, "But it was a dirty trick to throw me out when I was absent."

MONK HAD SWELL SCENERY ON HIS STAGE

An erstwhile member of the S. P. E. A. W. was heard to remark, - "Say, wasn't going to move but I believe would like the set of quarters that goes with that good looking young lady on the Stage."

COMMANDING OFFICER NOT CONSULTED

Captain Zak on the Saturday before the Drawing, definitely announced to Director of Drawing that he desired to go on a Rental Allowance under the authority recently received which permitted officers on indefinite CCC duty so to do. On the following morning Zak burst into the Map Reproduction Plant where a rehearsal of the drawing was being staged. "Sir" Zak zyzzled to Monk Lewis "When I returned to my quarters yesterday I found that I am not the Commanding Officer of my household. I do not desire to go on a rental allowance and I do desire to hold my present quarters."

FACULTY LIAISON

One winsome CCC Widow when her husband's name was called stood up and stated "I desire to retain my present quarters." Lewis, the Laird of the Lares and Penates of the Post, politely protested "But my dear Mrs. So-and-so, I have a telegram here from your husband in which he states that he is giving up his quarters and going on a rental allowance." We do not know the answer to this particular impasse.

RANK RANKED

As the drawing for quarters in Class III came to a close with the consequent wailing of several Captains who had to hunt new homes, it became necessary to determine the next officer to be ranked out. It developed that the unhappy officer was Captain Blain. It then became apparent that the next officer to draw was Captain Blain. By a special ruling of the Director of the Drawing Captain Blain was permitted to rank himself out and then choose his own quarters, thereby saving two movesor something.

OMEGA

In dismissing the subject of this year's Drawing we desire to follow (Please turn to page 5) the Approved Infantry School formula and give the Lesson Learned. At last we have become cognizant of the full meaning of that ancient term "Drawn and Quartered."

BETTER BE DAMNED
We had a very interesting item

HENRY GRADY HOTEL

PEACHTREE AT CAIN
Atlanta, Ga.

550 rooms of comfort and convenience. Each room has ceiling fan, circulating ice water, radio and either shower or tub bath; corner rooms have both. Open Dining Terrace and Coffee Shop.

Rooms from $2

Office, 12th Street

J. F. de Jarnette Vice-Pres. & Mgr.

THE FLARE

Continued from page 4) concerning the Conjugal Companion of Colonel Cheer-em-up Chaffin but Edith informed us personally and emphatically that she was the Exception that proved the rule "Better be damned than mentioned not at all." We respect her wishes—we do not print the article—and—oh very well, let her be damned. Yes, Madam, we play the game.

EXPLANATION (Contributed) Whispers have been started, and eyebrows raised, by the unprecedented appearance of one of our otherwise impeccable young officers on his morning ride. The son of an erstwhile Chief of Cavalry, and himself a member of a mounted branch, it really was expected that Lieut. George D. Crosby would comport himself according to the best dictates of the equine world, a brotherhood whose standards and traditions are not to be trifled with nor deviated from. It was not that the subject of our study had forgotten his spurs, nor yet were his gloves missing. His mount was completely and nattily outfitted with saddle and bridle, all correctly assembled and properly adjusted. It was no such common matter as missing or misplaced equipment that brought the blush of shame to the cheeks of his friends and started the breath of scandal through corridors and drawing rooms. Very much the reverse. A substitution rather than a deficiency was to be noted. For, held carelessly in the right hand of the rider, idly flicking flies from the ears of his steed, was a three-foot spanner wrench. This was the sand in the hub of the equine propriety, the sock in the coffee of horsemanly

Phones 250-251

ethics. The explanation, to the old and understanding friends of Supply Officer Crosby, is succint and lucid. He had simply seen something that wasn't nailed down, and was taking it to his supply sergeant.

Thank you, M. C., for your contribution. It came at an opportune time to fill a space that we were about to devote to Poetry.

NO COMMUNICATIONS FROM COMMUNICATIONS OFFICER

While strolling through the Epidemic Area in search of News as is our semi-occasional custom we slipped into the Second Section. There we discovered Captain Hannibal Brislawn dusting off his Desk. Brislawn, whom you will recall was the Romantic Romeo in the Road to Rome, had just returned from the Somnolence of a C. C. C. Summer somewhere on the Southern Front. We endeavored to interview the Czar of the Communication Clan concerning his Pastoral Pastimes but we were met with only uncommunicative reticence. We had to give up and mark our thirst for trifles in his direction as Unfinished Business. We left the Hochgeboren Hannibal with the idea in our mind that either he had spent a very uneventful summer indeed or he had such a good time that he didn't dare discuss it. A few days later, however, while Listening in at the Annual Drawing of Quarters and hearing Mark's questions and answers when it came his turn to Draw we decided that his preoccupation during our Interview was entirely due to a mental study he was making of instructional Bulletins concerning the details of the Drawing of Quarters, and take it from us, that study required concentration.

S. P. E. A. W. NOTES With the return of so many CCC Workers from their summer activities we find the number of Ennuied Widows correspondingly decreased. In fact, based on the lack of activity which has come to our notice during the past week, it would seem that the days of the Society for the Prevention of Ennui Among Widows are numbered. To be frank we have only two items this week and they are so personal that we may be accused of Egotism. If the Reader does not confuse Egotism with Egoism we will (Please turn to page 8)

SATELLITES
(Continued from Page 4)

ard of discipline and order maintained in that organization and his retirement which will take place in the course of a few more years will be well merited.

All of Sergeant Hall's discharges show the notation, "excellent character" and all but one as non-commissioned officer.

BURRUS

USED CAR VALUES

Dodge Touring	$ 65
Ford Tudor	175
Ford Tudor	275
Ford Fordor	385
V-8 Ford Tudor With Radio	500
Lasalle "8" Special Coupe	500
MANY OTHERS	300
1411111 C 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1 1

BURRUS MOTOR CO.

ALL PRICES

1216-22 1st Ave. Phone

KEEP SOMETHING ON HAND FOR THE CHILDREN!

Children are always hungry, as you probably well know! And you'll help keep them healthy and happy if you'll keep a snack on hand for them all the time. Not only that, but you'll find many appropriate ones here—just as you expect to find anything you need at the

GROCERY DEPT. POST EXCHANGE FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

WE OFFER THE SERVICES OF OUR RENTAL DEPARTMENT

To All Incoming Officers To Assist Them In Getting Pleasantly Located For The Coming School Year.

FLOURNOY REALTY CO.

Exclusive Agents for

WILDWOOD COURT APARTMENTS
3 Phones 465

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK
THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative—MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

STUDENT OFFICERS:

try

TOASTED PEANUTS

They're the most characteristically southern thing you'll meet with while you're at Benning—crisp crunchy morsels of Southern goodness—toasted to the ultimate of perfection. Large package for only 5c.

THE PEANUT THAT MAKES HUNGER A JOY!

B. H. HARRIS CO.

Renting

Special attention given Fort Benning Officers

Kindly call and let us assist you in

getting located

A transaction with us is never completed until the customer is thoroughly satisfied.

H. ROTHSCHILD

FURNITURE COMPANY

Leading Furniture Dealers In Columbus
For 39 Years.

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORK

BASEBALL :-:

(By N. H. HOBBS)

Standing of the teams in the Fort Benning Intramural league is shown below; including Tuesday's game.

	PLAYED	WON	LOSI	PERCEN
Second Battalion	11	9.	2	819
Special Units	10	7	3	700
Headquarters Battalion	9	6	3	667
First Battalion	10	5	5	500
	9	2	. 7	222
Tanks	ģ	0	9	000
Artillery

1ST BN. VS. SPECIAL UNITS

In a hotly contested and highly arof the 29th Infantry bested the Special Units nine by the score of 3 to 2.

The Irish drew first blood in the fracas in the opening frame; Reddock singled, Jordan bunted down the third base line and was safe at first, Johnson sacrificed and advanced both runners, Charley Banks then swung hard at one of Gilbert's offerings, unexpectedly the agate rolled easily toward third, catching the Greencords flatfooted and Banks was given credit for a hit; Reddock scored on this play.

The Specialists knotted the score one all in the fourth spasm after one out; Futch singled and swiped the keystone, Tripp grounded to first and Futch crossed the plate when Evans sent a scorcher over second.

The Green Wave broke the tie in the fifth; Snead hit; Brookshire singled, Snead pulled up at the hot corner; at Foster's turn at bat, the hit and run signal was on, Snead came racing down the white stripe toward home and Foster attempted to bunt. After about fifteen minutes of arguing the umpire ruled Snead safe at the plate on interference by the Greencord team's runs. catcher; Brokshire went to second on and dented the rubber at home when Foster bunted the horsehide to sec-

The Greencords strived hard to rally in the seventh by shoving in a flock 1st Battalion ___100 020 000—3 5 1 of pinch hitters, but they all looked the same to Boots Foster and he retirgumentative affray the 1st Battalion ed them in order. They did manage to tally another marker in the ninth when Futch doubled and Tripp sent him scurrying home with a rousing Boots Foster labored on the rubber for the Green Wave and certainly pitched a beautiful game, although he weakened in the final stanza and gave up two hits. He was given excellent support by his mates, there being only one miscue recorded against the Irish for the duration of the fracas.

Gilbert, speedball ace of the Greencord hurling staff, also twirled a stellar brand of ball receiving credit for five strikeouts.

Futch, left field ball hawk for the Specialists made the prettiest catch of the season when he pocketed Johnson's drive to left center.

Reddock, Irish backstopper suffered a bruised finger in the ninth session and was taken out of the game. He certainly played a bang up game behind the rubber, pegging the rock to the keystone and nipping several of the Greencords who attempted to pilfer second and scoring one of his

The hitting honors were divided this play, gained third on a wild pitch evenly for the Irish nine while Futch was the heavy stickman for the Schoolboys offense.

Score by innings:

Team

Snead; Gilbert, Newman and McCar-

2ND BN. AND HQ. BN., 29TH INF. August 26th, 1933.

The Kellys of the Second Battalion 29th Infantry held on to their lead in the second half of the Fort Benning intramural series when they bested the Headquarters Battalion team 11 to 5.

Fraiche led off with his team's scoring when he clouted out a triple and crossed the plate when Hayes singled to right field.

The Kells scored one run in the second frame and another in the third to lead the Black Pirates 2 to 1. The Blue Thunderbolt went on a rampage in the fifth spasm and when the smoke had cleared from the field had chalked up five runs to put the game on ice.

The Black Pirates, not to be outdone, sent four runners scurrying in the sixth set-to but after that they failed totally and the Kellys returned home with the Pirates' scalp hung to their belts.

Ward started on the rubber for the Kells but took a stroll to the showers in the sixth after the Headquarters nine opened with a volley of blows that would make a "75" look sick. He was relieved by Fuller, who pitched shutout ball for the remainder of the scuffle.

The Pirates used all the pitchers on their staff but failed to quell the storm.

Kelly was the mainstay of his team's hitting power while Fraiche took honors for his battalion.

Score by innings-2nd Bn. ____ 001 051 012 11 13 3 100 004 000 5 9 3 Hg. Bn. ----

Batteries: Ward, Fuller and Thompson; Parsons, Barker, Huntley and Wright, Sweatman.

TANKS AND SPECIAL UNITS (Aug. 28, 1933)

The Greencords of the Infantry School Detachment defeated the Tank Battalion aggregation of baseball players in a rather close contest 7

The Tanks opened up with a barage of hits in the first two stanzas that had the Specialists completely bewildered. They chalked up five runs off of three hits and led the top-notchers for four consecutive

The Greencords came to life in the fifth session to chalk up three runs. They tallied two more counters in the succeeding frame to knot the score and in the lucky seventh shoved two more markers across the rubber at home, which proved to be the deciding factor in winning the contest.

Robertson started on the hillock but was swapped for Gilbert in the second after three runners had score i. Gilbert was very effective for the remainder of the affray. He blanked the Golden Tornado for seven in-

The Tanks were forced to use a pair of twirlers also; Rowan traded places with Segrest in the sixth.

Johnson was the heavy hitter for the Tankers while Wee Grady Tolle took batting honors for his team.

Score by innings— 230 000 000 5 7 3 Tanks . Special Units 000 032 20x 7 11 4

Batteries: Segrest, Rowwan and Sullivan; Robertson, Gilbert and Newman, McCarthy.

> 2ND BN., AND 1ST BN. August 29th, 1933.

The Second Battalion of the 29th Infantry defeated their brothers in arms, the 1st Battalion Irish in a rather one-sided contest 7 to 2.

It seems that the breaks were against the Green Wave, a couple of decisions by the Ump were booed vigorously and the crowd went wild and were loud in their protests when bad outs were called.

The Irish used their entire staff of slabmen in an attempt to spike the big guns of the Kellys but to no avail. The Blue Thunderbolt just (Please turn to page 7)

Special Units __000 100 001—2 7 2 Batteries: Foster, Reddock and Six Teams To Compete At Russ Pool In Annual Garrison Aquatic Event

On Saturday, September 2, 1933, the annual garrison swimming meet will be held at Russ Pool, Fort Benning, Georgia, when six crack swimming teams compete for the post championship. These teams, representative In Swimming Meet of the various units of the Infantry School, are made up of the best swimmers of each organization, through a period of training which they have been undergoing for the past motnh, they should be able to establish several new marks in the swimming records of the south.

Tannehill, versatile swimming star of Fort Benning, will not be among the contestants this season, as he has journeyed to Panama, and while serving in the Coast Artillery in the Canal Zone, he is also establishing new marks in the Central American swimming circles.

This meet is one of the highlights of Fort Benning's athletic activities. The fans are looking forward to the contest with a good deal of enthusiasm, and are checking on the teams now being groomed for the coming kept piling up runs and hits and when the final out was made returned the most points in the nine and ten to the barracks with increased bat-

Lefty Nichols twirled for the Kellys and was given excellent support by his mates.

Snead was the hitting star of the game when he was given credit for three blows out of four trips to the plate; sharing honors with him was the attack of the Kells with a couple of safeties each.

Score by innings-

Foster, Smith, Santa and Reddock.

Children Display First Class Form

Wednesday, August 30, following the awarding of diplomas to the graduates of the Red Cross Life Saving Course given at the Infantry School for the Ladies and Children of the garrison, a graduation swimming meet was held at Russ Pool, the bathing tank of the Fort Benning personnel, for sons and daughters of officers and enlisted men of the post.

The meet is an annual event staged here for Benning's young hopefuls and competition ran high when these bronzed young Weismullers and aspiring Helen Holmeses clashed for top honors.

Nancy Eagles, 7 year old daughter of Major and Mrs. William W. Eagles, was high-point winner in the six, seven, and eight year old class, while Frances Kellam, daughter of Lieutenant and Mrs. Paul Kellam, captured year old class. Little Tommy Vien, son of Warrant Officer and Mrs. William H. Vien, stole the show in the six to eight year old boys' event. He placed first in the 25 yard free style, traversing the distance in 27.6 seconds, and also led all other competitors in the 25 yard backstroke and 25 yard breast-stroke events. His Reddock who poled out a triple and time in these two swims was 35.6 a single. Kjelstorm and Tinsley led and 30.9 respectively. Billy Luce came out on top in the nine and ten year old boys' class. Jacqueline Gilchrist was the winner for the eleven 2nd Bn. _____ 004 002 001 7 10 2 to twelve year old girls, by taking 1st Bn. _____ 001 001 010 2 11 2 two seconds and one first like Batteries: Nichols and Thompson; Kraft led the thirteen to sixteen year (Please turn to page 7)

Get Ready for Fall

Of course, it's still a little way off-but who ever heard of a true hunter who waited until the last minute to clean up his guns and other hunting gear and stock up on his needs?

This department will shortly be carrying a full line of hunting equipment for all kinds of game. The country around Ft. Benning and to the south is a noted hunting territory and new arrivals will be wise if they start early to get ready.

Only nationally known makes of guns, shells and other gear will be stocked at the Main Branch. Place your faith in the sure dependability of good equipment this year—then you won't miss your fair share of good shooting and fishing.

Skeet shooters who expect to try the Benning skeet grounds can also find their favorite equipment stocked here. Everything for every kind of game is here—at the Main Branch, Post Exchange. Phone 608.

POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GEORGIA

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

WATCH IT RIZZ!

Watch the tiny silver bubbles rise gently to the surfacewatch the "bead" that forms on the glass-watch it foam and "fizzle" and you'll understand why it's so good.

that's

the best carbonated water made

You can mix it with anything you desire and it will always enhance the distinctive flavor of any drink! For mixing or for drinking plain it is equally unbeatableso it's your turn to try it next time you order a carbonated water.

Page Seven

CHILDREN'S SWIM MEET (Continued From Page 6)

old girls, by placing first in all events in which she entered. Arthur Wolfe, son of Master Sergeant and Mrs. M. C. Wolfe, was high in the eleven to twelve year old boys' class by taking two first and one third places. In the boys' thirteen to sixteen year old class Don Leary, son of Leutenant Colonel and rMs. T. J. Leary, swam and dived his way into two first places to clinch high point position. Considering the age of some of the youngsters who participated in this contest the time is very fast.

> AMONG THE BOOKS (Continued From Page 3)

(founded when Kublai Khan was reigning) of a northern branch of the Lin family. Once she had learned Chinese—the First Lady, that i, the chief wife of the head of the clan, declined to see her until she hadshe was adopted as "daughter-by-affection.'

Miss Waln poetizes her surroundings more than her country woman, Mrs. Pearl Buck, who spares us none of the dirt and sordidness which distress many foreigners in China. Yet her picture is essentially true and vividly revealing. Here one may see how a Chinese lady passes her day; the duties appropriate to each season of the calendar; the immense importance of the land in China and the inticate laws which govern its tenure by "red cards," the head of the family

Howard Bus Line. Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

Fro		From
Colun		Ft. Benning
5:00	AM	6:00 AM
6:00	66	7:50 *
7:60	~	9:15 "
3 :80	"	10:45 "
10:00	66	12:45 PM
11:45	"	2:15 "
1:30	PM	4:15 "
3:00	46	5:10 "
5:00	44	6:00 "
7:00	"	7:00 "
9:00	- 64	8:00 "
10:30	"	9:45 "
12:00	M	11:15 "
		12:00 M
	Also "Extras"	and
	SCHOOL BU	JSES
410 CITY	PHONES
CILI		POST

Chapter Of O.E.S. Savage Club Will Instituted Here

On Wednesday evening at 7:30 p. lodge No. 579 F. & A. M., the initial of the most brilliant affairs ever to steps were taken to institute a Chapter of the order of the Eastern Star. A very large number of prospective charter members were present, the majority of which signified their intention to become membres of the nasium.

The petition for the organization of the chapter was signed and the following recommendations were made in accordance with the law as laid down by the Grand Chapter.

Worthy Matron___Jean M. Foster Worthy Patron____L. N. Chitwood Associate Matron__Margaret Chitwood Associate Patron ... Harry M. Foster

The remaining officers will not be elected or appointed until the chapter is instituted by the Grand Chap-

It was also recommended that the regular meeting night of the Chapter be on the first and third Thursdays' in each month at 7:30 p. m.

The meeting was very fortunate in having with them, Captain Daniel O'Connell, Past Worthy Grand Paton of Texas, and his talk on helpful hints and suggestions for a new hapter was a great help to all. It is the hope of the chapter that Brother O'Connell will be with us for some time and his help will be greatly appreciated.

superintending the preparation of his coffin and graveclothes; the celebration of birthdays, weddings and spring and autumn sacrifices. Also one can learn much of the Chinese mentality and its peculiar habit of seeing all time, past, present, and future, in a single plane.

This particularly comes out when Miss Waln (having married an Englishman in the Chinese service) arrives in Canton. There she saw a great deal of Dr. Sun Yat-sen, Borodin, the Russian agent, and the dark years of the Communist hold on Young China.

The book ends tranquilly in the House of Lin once more. The House has begun to buy aeroplanes and motor cars for its amusement, but the essential genius of China is undisturbed. "It is just a period," says one Chinese, "when you are adequately educated in Chinese history you will comprehend. We have had these intervals of unrest, sixty to a hundred years in length, between dynasties during the 46 centuries of our history."

FURNITURE

Headquarters for Furniture and all kinds of household furnishings, complete line of Sellers' Kitchen and Breakfast-room furniture and Simmons beds, mattresses, springs. At lowest prices and easiest terms.

It will pay you to see us before you buy.

CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

SUCCESSORS TO JOHNSTON-CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

1014 Broadway

Phone 460

DIEARIAST-MOST

The approved sound of "Yum Yum" and a few cents more for the "kitty" brings smiles to the face of him whose duty it is to please the hungry mob. Old Settler's sausage, Hot Cakes and "Java" will do the work. Old Settler's are sold on quality and are the tastiest of meat foods.

The Provision Co., Inc.

Sponsor Dance

The dancing enlisted personnel of m. in the rooms of Fort Benning Fort Benning will be treated to one be sponsored by an enlisted men's club when on Labor Day, September 4th, the Savage Club of the 1st Battalion, 29th Infantry, will hold their Night Club affair at the Post Gym-

> The Savages deviated from their regular routine schedule of dances and put off their dances previously scheduled for September in order to make this event one of the best of the summer season

Plans and preparations are now completed and for the benefit of the dancing set of the Infantry School the following information is published.

The Jazz Pirates, well known syncolaters of the 24th Infantry will furnish the music and will also entertain with specialty numbers. Come and hear these boys play for you.

The dance will start promptly at 8:30 and will last until midnight and during the affair a short intermission will be had.

Tables will be set at advantageous positions in the hall so that all of the patrons can observe the proceedings, and refreshments will be served for a nominal price. Sergeant John Faulk, mess sergeant extraordinary will be in charge of the culinary department.

These tables will be reserved for parties or for individuals by calling 604. Please state how many are go ing to be in your party.

There will be an abundance of waiters to answer your every need and serving of the refreshments will not

A special table will be set for the mothers of the girls who are planning to attend and a special waiter designated to serve them.

In keeping with the orders of 1st Lieutenant Gorege H. Decker, custodian of the A. and R. Fund, 1st Battalion no tickets will be issued at the door. For the benefit of the many enthusiastic patrons, we would suggest that you draw your tickets at your orderly rooms so as to abolish any dissension that may arise.

The hostess for this affair will be Mrs. P. E. Bryan, wife of first sergeant P. E. Bryan of Headquarters Company first battalion.

SWIMMERS RECEIVE DIPLOMAS FOR LIFEGUARD WORK (Continued From Page 1)

Tommy Vien, Buddy Grace, Jack Robinson, Paul Fowler, Norris Wimberly, Bobby Mangum, John Huling, Bill Spalding, Billy Arms, Lloyd Barnett, Dan Cota, and Jack Cushman.

Advanced and Junior Life Saving: Boys-Wendell Bevan, Hope Heldreth, Charles Griswold, Oscar Neundorfer, Lewis Davidson, William Mackinnon, Harry Reeder, Fred Ladd, Howard Wilson, Gordon Baskin, Max Talbot, Julius Evans, Pat Faith, Farrar Gee and James Bonham.

Beginners' Class: Ladies-Mrs. J. M. Robinson.

Elementary Class: Ladies-Mrs. Paul Kellam, Mrs S Mrs. N. C. Pilet, Mrs. D. C. Faith, Mrs. C. B. Ferenbaugh, Mrs. W. A. Petrosky, Mrs. L. S. Partridge, Mrs. J. E. Hull, and Mrs. O. E. G. Trechter. Advanced Class: Ladies-Miss Mary

Robinson and Mrs. W. L. Bevan. Advanced and Senior Life Saving: Ladies-Miss Elizabeth Catron, Mrs. William W. Eagles, and Miss Martha

This course was carried on by Mr. Fred Cashel, Field Director, American Red Cross, under the direct supervision of Corporal Armand J. Parr, Company F, 66h Infantry (Light Tanks), assisted by the life-guard crew at Russ Pool.

Much credit is to be given Mrs. Paul Kellam and Mrs. William W. Eagles, for the success of the class, especially among the younger chil-

A MESSAGE TO A SMART HOUSEKEEPER

You probably realize the value of having a steady and dependable milk supply-steady and regular delivery and dependable quality-and you, therefore, will appreciate the fact that Wells' Milk offers every one of these qualities. Let us start your delivery today.

WELLS DAIRY CO.

PASTEURIZED MILK TELEPHONE 1144 MACON ROAD

Classic Beauty In Every Line

. . . that's why the new Buicks and Pontiacs are SELLING, because they have everything that the careful buyer wants in a fine motorcar. Perfect symmetryperfect harmony between every part—perfect mechanical equip-ment—truly are these the "perfect" motorcars of the present era! And, to cap the climax, they are perfect in price-for not even the most economical motorcar owner of the country could find fault with their ease and low cost operation.

We Consider It A Privilege to welcome the students of the 1933-34 class of the Infantry School to Benning and Columbus. And, this year as in other years, we hope to be among who serve you with the perfect service which has made us a byword with the commun-

Cliff M. Averett Motor Company

1445 FIRST AVENUE TELEPHONE 883

THE FLARE (Continued From Page 4)

even admit the possible accusation. Ever since the formation of the S. P. E. A. W., This and That person has that one of his Corporals, who is on approached the writer with remarks somewhat to this effect: "Why don't you write yourself up. I am going to write a column myself and what I can't say and write about you!" Our reply has invariably been:—"We aim to publish the News without Fear, Partiality, Favor or Affection. If you think you have an item on the Conductor of this Column that is as interesting to the Reader as the ones he has published on others, all you have to do is bring it around and we will publish it. We can take it." To date we have just one contribution and it just barely got in Under

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

Citizen Wherever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

the Wire. This Note was submitted who received Honorable Mention in this Column a few weeks back and here it is. "Captain Funk, The Provost Marshal stated the other day duty at Out-Guard No. 1, approached him and said: "Sir,-How many cars does Colonel Rice own anyway? He has driven nine different cars out of this Post in five days and he had a different Lady Passenger each time." Thank you very much, Carrie, for your Contribution. Instead of a Blast we consider it quite a Boost and it furnishes us with just the Fortitude we needed ot throw our Modesty in the Mud and Blatantly Blare the following Blast: Rollicking Rico (name suggested by Beauty Boy Brady's Best Bet) was withdrawn from Circulation on Thursday and with the placing of the Founder and Charter Member on the In-active List the S. P. E. A. W. goes into temporary Obscurity.

CITATION FOR THE WEEK

The Citation for The Flare for this week goes to Colonel Fred L. Munson for his Perfect Performance as Commandant during the Inter-Regnum: General King-General Estes. The Infantry School has never had a better Commandant, Officially, Personally, or

_E. F. R.

1420 FIRST AVENUE PHONE 165 THE POST EXCHANGE IS OUR AGENT AT BENNING

It may seem like an unnecessary expenditure at first, but the money you put in having your car fixed up will be a saving for our fine equipment and expert mechanics will make it just that. Drive by for an estimate at no cost to you.

AUTODEPT POST EXCHANGE FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

Colonel Peyton Returns To Post

Colonel Ephraim G. Peyton, executive officer of the Infantry School returned to Fort Benning Tuesday from leave. During his absence from the post Colonel Peyton made an extensive trip through the north, which included visits to relatives, a short stay in Chicago, where he attended the Century of Progress Exposition, and had an enforced lay-over in Maryland during the storm along the sea coast.

It was while on this trip that Colonel Peyton attended the annual threeday reunion of the 80th Division, famous wartime organization, and was selected commander of the unit. As far as may be ascertained the 80th Division is the only organization that has held an annual reunion since its return overseas.

Prior to attending the reunion, the Peytons visited the Colonel's brother, Commander P. J. Peyton, U. S. Navy (Ret.) at Hendersonville, North Carolina. While there Colonel Peyton took occasion on to visit General and Mrs. Campbell King at Flat Rock, North Carolina. General King, former commandant of Fort Benning, relinquishing his command his command on retirement from active service on July 1. General and Mrs. King wished to be remembered to all their friends of the post and Columbus. After leaving Henderson-ville Colonel and Mrs. Peyton stayed for a short time with Colonel Pey-ton's brother-in-law, Major William M. Connor, who is judge advocate of the 5th Corps Area, stationed at Fort Hayes, Columbus, Ohio.

Their stay at Chicago was followed by a visit to Fort Niagara, New York, via Detroit, Michigan, and Buffalo, New York. There they stayed with Colonel Charles H. Morrow, commanding the 28th Infantry. Colonel Peyton stated that Colonel Morrow had recently completed the reconstruction of old Fort Niagara, and that the historic landmark was daily visited by a number of tourists.

The Peytons stopped for a while at West Point, New York, where the Colonel has a son-in-law on duty as instructor at the United States Military Academy. From there they journeyed down the coast to where the storm delayed them at Elkton, Maryland, for a day, when they proceeded to Washington, and through the Shenandoah Valley to Fort Benning.

Just received—big shipment of all leather Star Brand Shoes for the whole family.

Men's Oxfords

$2.39 to $4.45

Ladies' Straps and Oxfords

$1.97 to $4.45

Swagger Brown sport oxford exactly as illustrated above

8½ to 11½......$1.95

12 to 2 _____$2.50

SAM NEEL'S

Shoe Department Westbrook Building THIS WEEK TRY OUR SPECIAL

JAPANESE FRUIT CAKE 35c Ea.

COLLINS BAKING CO.

1144 13TH STREET

COMPLETE YOUR SILVER SERVICE NOW

BEFORE THE BIG ADVANCE

STERLING SILVERWARE

GORHAM, KIRK, TOWLE, WALLACE REED & BARTON, INTERNATIONAL

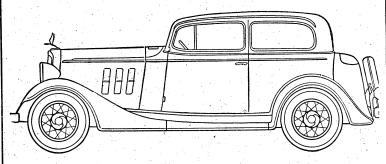

C. SCHOMBURG & SON

1121 BROADWAY

COLUMBUS, GA.

AT THE SIGN OF THE BIG CLOCK

WE ARE GLAD TO BE A-MONG THOSE WHO WEL-COME THE COMING OF THE

1933-'34

CLASS OF

The INFANTRY SCHOOL

More than having just the privilege of being of some service and assistance to you, we hope to number you among our friends, those whose lasting memories make Benning the best liked Army post in the country.

YOU ARE CORDIALLY INVITED TO VISIT DISPLAY ROOMS AND SERVICE PLANT

Muscogee Motor Company Inc.

1501 FIRST AVENUE

TELEPHONE 100

HERALD BENNING

VOLUME III.

FORT BENNING, GA., SEPTEMBER 8, 1933

NO. 20

WELCOME

TO THE INFANTRY SCHOOL IN THE HEART OF THE DEEP SOUTH

KIRVENS CORDIALLY WELCOMES THE PERSONNEL OF BENNING

We would appreciate a visit from you as soon as possible. We feel sure that you will be both surprised and pleased, and we assure you that we will do everything in our power to assist you.

Kirven's is Columbus' large est department store, and it has earned an excellent reputation through many years of service to Columbus and to Fort Benning.
Your friendship will be appreciated as much as your patronage.

In the Autumn Fashion Review, it's a Kirven ensemble that dominates the picture. Whatever the occasion may be; sports, afternoon, town, dinner or evening, you will find the Kirven's label on the smartest outfits. Because of authentic Paris style and the finest workmanship, Kirven's points with pardonable pride to our First Fall Fashions.

Second Floor

Very feminine are Kirven's hats this season; and very, very chic. Sailors that all the lassies love, smart toques and dashing berets in felts, silk fabrics and satin. All of autumn's most fashionable colors.

$2.95 to $15.00

Kirven's footwear is made for good solid comfort that makes walking a pleasure, yet they're beautiful, trim and neat.

In leathers, fabrics and colors that strike Fashion's most pleasing autumn notes. Shoes that complement any costume you may wear. Kirven's high lights his fall are Foot Delights at $7.50 and Peacocks at $10.00.

$4.95 to $10.00

KIRVEN'S

BRIG. GENERAL GEORGE H. ESTES
THE COMMANDANT

We are on the threshold of startling and important changes in the application of the principles of military science. New inventions and improvements present themselves with almost alarming frequency. It is essential for us seriously to study these new developments and to determine their application to the Infantry in combat. Primarily, however, the mission of the school is to prepare regular officers for their most important duty, that of developing and leading a national army.

The value of the Infantry School to the individual can only be measured by the character of his service after he has completed the course and gone to his new station.

Colonel Munson

Early History Of Fort Benning

De Soto Passed Near Present Site In Hazardous Search For Treasure back as it has been possible to procure any records of events, there has been a continuous pageant of hisvicinity.

The first inhabitants of the present site of Fort Benning were the Creck Indians. They founded the town of Kasihta, near where the Upatoi flows into the Chattahoochee river. Kasihta was a "Peace Town" and served as a refuge. Within its limits no blood could be shed. All acts of violence were punishable by death; executions, however, took place at Coweta, the "War Town" of the

Perhaps the first white man to visit this section of the state was Hernando De Soto, a Spaniard whom the King of Spain had appointed governor of Cuba and Florida. Some-time near 1540 he led an expedition

VALLEY SEED

COMPANY WELCOMES YOU!

We supply your needs in all kinds of seed, plants and garden sup-

LAWN SEEDS A SPECIALTY 1041 BROADWAY

Fort Benning, Georgia, home of into this part of the country. From the Infantry School and largest a description of the terrain they school of arms in the world, has one travelled over, left by some of his of the most couorful backgrounds in men, it is possible that he touched the history of this country. As far the land now occupied by the reservation of Fort Benning; notably the high ground now occupied by the Infantry School stables on the bank of torical events taking place in that the Chattahoochee; but nothing definite can be said about whether he actually visited the site of the Infanry School. Many of the notes of historical students, regarding the site of the Fort, are deductions made from, and by means of archeaological studies conducted on the site of the old Indian towns that once were located in this territory. Two large mounds erected by the redskins on the site of the corrals and stables still yield many objects of Indian workman-

In the year 1679 several Spanish Friars, coming from what is now northwestern Florida, attempted to establish a mission settlement a few miles down the river from Kasihta, but a powerful chief from Coweta, the neighboring town to Kasihta, repelled the invaders so fiercely that they gave up the venture and returned to Florida. Two years later they again returned to attempt the establishment of a mission but were again repulsed and did not return to this section.

The next white man in this country was an Englishman, Dr. Henry Woodward, who, in the year of 1685, came here from the Carolinas to trade with the Indians. He was received with all due courtesy and carried on a flourishing business with the aborigines. The Spanish from the settlements of the south, set forth to banish him from what was then considered Spanish territory, but when they arrived on the scene they discovered that the wily Dr. Woodward had fled. He again returned and stayed until the summer of 1686 when he left for the Carolinas and started was taken up by other men from the settlements on the East Coast, and continued throughout the Revolutionary War.

The nex visitors were the French, who, in 1714, came here from the settlement of Mobile. Sieur Benville, Lieutenant Governor of Louisiana and founder of Mobile, journeyed here for the purpose of allying the chieftans of the towns of Kasihta and Coweta with the French in the war that was then in progress. In this venture he was unsuccessful.

In the year of 1715 the first military activities took place in this locality when the Indians rebelled in what was known as the Yamasee Rehellion.

In 1739 General Oglethorpe came here with three attendants and arranged with the inhabitants of Kasihta, which made it possible for him to bring white settlers into this region. I was over the route he journeved that the first trail in this section was laid out and accepted for travel by the white man.

In 1805 the Creek Indians made an agreement with the Government for the use of the path or trail. They agreed to furnish all ferries and to keep taverns or inns along the road. In 1811 the path was reworked and enlarged under the supervision of Lieutenant J. N. Buckett, of the U. S. Army, and named the Federal Road.

This trail is now what is known as the First Division Road. It leads from a point on the Buena Vista Highway to the Lumpkin Road in the Post proper. It is the principle road leading to the maneuver grounds and firing courses of the Infantry School.

From the fall of 1813 until 1825 several military engagements took place in this region. Among the famous Americans who fought here were General Andrew "Old Hickory' Jackson, the hero of the battle of General Orleans; Néw Scott, who was later to lead the victorious American troops into Mexico City; John Floyd and Tom Jessup. In 1825 the famous French ally of the colonies during the Revolutionary War, General Lafayette, made a visit to Georgia. While here he traversed the Federal Road, crossing the pres ent reservation of Fort Benning.

In 1828 John Woolfolk bought 5,000 acres of land, which comprises part of the post today, and on it he created a plantation that was famous throughout the settlements of the south. It was the Woolfolk family that built the house now serving as the Assistant Commandant's quarters.

In 1836 the Indians, who seemed displeased with the terms of the treaties to which they had been subjected, made attacks upon the white settlers. Through these depredations an Indian War arose and the first battle, in which twenty-two men of the Georgia Militia opposed about forty Indians, took place at Bryant's Ferry, on what is now the Fort Benning Reservation. This was known as the battle of Hitchiti.

In 1883 the Woolfolks sold their land to Benjamin Hatcher, who established here one of the greatest plantations of the south, working approximately two hundred and fifty negroes. Thatcher held the estate until 1907, when he sold it Arthur Bussey. Bussey built the dwelling now used as a residence by the Commandant of the Infantry School. He made further improvements upon the plantation and lived here until 1919 when he sold it to the U.S. Government. It was the Bussey family that gave the plantation the name of "Riverside." During the days of preparation for the world war training camp was established here and named Camp Benning in memory of Brigadier General Henry L. Benning, Confederate States Army, of Columbus, Georgia.

Today there is much contrast between the modes of the redskins and the conveniences of civilization. Where once the aborigine lurked in quest of game for food, or armed with primitive weapons strode on the up-to-date soldier now rides or hunting ground for the Indian; now hikes, enroute to practice the arts of modern scientific warfare. Over the same routes that our forerunners travelled by foot or horseback thou- grounds in the world. sands of automobiles now pass daily. Where the tepees of the redskins once stood now stand abodes of the latest type, dwellings created from stone and cement.

Benning meets the needs of its in to follow.

never returned. The trade that he his way to meet his primeval foes, habitants. Once it provided an ideal it embodies features that make it one of the best military training

> The Indian, the Conquistadore, and the Pioneer are gone. They have no place in modern life, but still there lingers the same spirit that prompted them to penetrate into the wilderness Today, as then, the terrain of Fort and pave the way for those who were

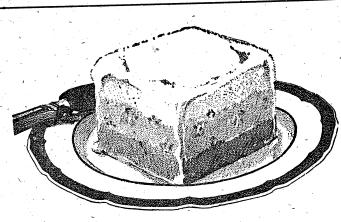

A child's health depends greatly on the necessary minerals and other elements contained in fresh milk. Milk builds the body and helps to produce a clear and healthy mind. See that your family has it always in sufficient quantities.

WELLS DAIRY CO.

Phone 1144

2340 Macon Road

INNETT'S Ice Cream has been the best for many classes of the Infantry School before yours-and this year it's better than ever. For your entertainments and parties you'll find that it has no peer-and you can get it in any quantity at any time you want

SOLD AT THE OFFICERS' CLUB

WELCOME BENNING PERSONNEL FLOWERS AND PLANTS

AT ALL TIMES FOR ALL PURPOSES

BENNING BLVD. NURSERIES

WE TELEGRAPH FLOWERS

BENNING ROAD

PHONE 4176

The

ASSOCIATED MILITARY STORES

OFFICERS' CLUB FORT BENNING, GA

INVITES THE OFFICERS AND LADIES TO

CALL AND SEE OUR DISPLAY OF

MILITARY AND RIDING

EQUIPMENT

Colonel Munson-Mayor Smith Are Speakers At Opening Exerceses

period between the retirement of Maappointment of Brigadier General George H. Estes, and Mayor H. C. opening exercises Tuesday, Colonel Munson acted for General Estes, who ever, they have spent much time and was prevented from attending the exercises because of illness.

After being introduced to the student body, members of the staff and the Infantry School faculty by Col. Charles W. Weeks, assistant com-mandant, Colonel Munson read a radiogram from Major General Edward L. Croft, chief of infantry.

Message Received The radiogram was worded as fol-

"Please extend to the members of the advanced company officers' and tank classes my greetings and best wishes for their success throughout the school year now opening.

Colonel Munson then addressed the students, describing the aims of the Infantry School and outlining the purpose of the course of study to them. Following his address, he introduced Mayor Smith, of Columbus.

Classes will be begun by the Tank school students Tuesday afternoon. The company officers' and advanced classes will begin their studies Wednesday morning.

Colonel Munson's address in part

"I am happy to welcome you at this opening exercise of the sixteenth academic year of the Infantry School. It is a pleasure to realize, after several months of uncertainty, that the work of this great military institution is to continue without interruption, and that you are not to be deprived of the privilege of pursuing its course of study. The tremendous effort necessary to relieve instructors and students from work with the Civilian Conservation Corps in order to permit us to open on schedule is an indication of the velue placed on our service schools by the secretary of war, the chief of staff and by the army in general.

"At the very beginning I wish to emphasize one point. The school exists to afford you the opportunity for professional improvement. During the academic year you are relieved, is so far as is possible, from routine responsibility in order that who acted as commandant in the work in a more wholesome and responsive state of mind. You will jor General Campbell King and the been specially selected for their experience and training in the technique of infantry and the allied arms. These Smith, of Columbus, featured the instructors do not reserve to themselves all inclusive knowledge. How-labor in preparing the various cours. es which will be offered you and they will make every effort to bring this instruction to you in an interesting and understandable manner. You will best receive it if you are Addresses by Col. Fred L. Munson, you may enter upon your school free from petty annoyances, and you will find, I believe, that everything possible has been done to smooth your way to a pleasant and profitable

"Now a few words as to the more serious part of the year—the aim and object of the academic course. The advanced and company officers' courses have undergone some important changes. The length of these courses has been somewhat increased because the Chief of Infantry recognized the imperative necessity that infantry unit commanders know more about tanks and the possibilities of motorization and mechanization. The tank course, on the other hand, has been shortened to five months, since the members of this class have already completed one of the regular courses and are now to specialize on the purely mechanical subjects so important to the commanders of tank units.

Important Changes

We are on the threshold of start. ling and important changes in the application of the principles of military science. New inventions and improvements present themselves with almost alarming frequency. It is essential for us seriously to study these new developments and to determine their application to the infantry in combat. Primarily, however, the mission of the school is to prepare regular officers for their most important duty, that of developing and leading a national army.

The peace time training of the (Please turn to page 8)

ALWAYS

the name Chancellor has been a guarantee of satisfaction for Benning Personnel. May we, this year, have the privilege of serving you as we have served the members of thirteen other classes of the Infantry School.

CHANCELLOR

Fort Benning's Columbus Headquarters

FALL COATS

Of Economical Distinction

Save from $5.00 to $10.00 by buying a coat from us now. We have a Lay-Away plan —a small deposit will hold any coat until called for. PRICES:

$10.75 $12.75 $19.75

SYLVIA'S 1206 Broadway

ESOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS LESS

Miss Sue Thrasher Married During Week Branches Of Entertainment At Benning

Benning, Thursday, Captain Arnold ing. Funk, Provost Marshal at the Fort was married to Miss Sue Thrasher of At-

LICENSED NURSE having special study in Pediatries will take full care of child-from 1 day to 5 years of age—Regular salary. Address—BOX 40 BENNING HERALD

FINISHED!

and early, too!

Yes, she's through with her day's shopping! Early, too, for she was wise enough to plan her buying beforehand and then do her shopping at Silver's. That's a sure cure for the shopping blues!

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST.

ONLY GUARANTEED ARTICLES

According to word received at Fort | lanta at the latter place Tuesday even-

Captain Funk left Fort Benning Tuesday on a 30-day leave of absence. His plans to be married were not known, even to his friends.

Captain and Mrs. Funk left Atlanta immediately, after their marriage for an automobile tour. Their desti-nation, however, was unknown.

COLONEL AND MRS. HALL EN-TERTAIN THURSDAY AT DIN-NER AND MOVIE PARTY.

Colonel and Mrs. J. DeCamp Hall were the hosts Thursday evening entertaining at their attractive quarters with a dinner in honor of Mrs. Edgar T. Jadwin, who is the house-guest of her son-in-law, and daughter, Major and Mrs. Thomas G. Hearn.

The Halls had, as their house guests Mrs. Jadwin, Col. and Mrs. Ephraim G. Peyton, Colonel and Mrs. William B. Wallace, Col. and Mrs. William B. Wallace, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Andrew D. Chaffin, Major and Mrs. Thomas G. Hearn and Mrs. Ben G. Ferris.

MRS. JAWIN HONORED AT DIN-NER PRECEDING DANCE AT

Mrs. Edgar T. Jadwin was the hon guest Saturday evening at a delightful dinner given at the Officers' Club by her son-in-law and daughter, Ma-jor and Mrs. Thomas G. Hearn. The guest list included Mrs. Jadwin, Col and Mrs. J. DeCamp Hall, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Reginald H. Kelly, Major and Mrs. Maurice D. Welty, Major and Mrs. Thomas B. Catron, Major and Mrs. Frank A. Heileman, Major and Mrs. Frederick A. Irving, Mrs

Last Season's Hats made into Expert Hat Remodeling.

Nicholson Hat Shop 319 Third Nat. Bank Bldg.

We Cordially Invite THE LADIES

OF FORT BENNING

TO VISIT OUR MILLINERY SALON CHARGE ACCOUNTS SOLICITED DOLAN-HENRY HAT SHOP AT ALSOBROOK'S

WHY PEOPLE LEAVE HOME!

... Because They Can Expect Coca-Cola At Others' Parties!

Yep! that's why! Coca-Cola will put extra life into any party-and will also make YOURS more popular than ever. Sold in the Six-Box

PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

Coca-Cola is the one drink that satisfies all people everywhere. That's why it has become the world's popular cold drink, the one that everyone asks for.

DELICIOUS AND REFRESHING AT ALL TIMES, AT ALL PLACES, FOR ALL PEOPLE!

SOLD AT ALL COLUMBUS GROCERS

Capt. Arnold Funk Of Ft. Benning And Glee Club Forms One Of Most Important

Ten years ago this fall a group of of entertainment on the post, with its men and women were practicing for the celebration of a Thanksgiving Mass to be sung on Thanksgiving day at the post. The group of army personnel was supplemented by the ad- assumed that of professional attaindition of musicians and singers from Columbus, and together formed a mammoth chorus. The services, sung on the parade-ground at Fort Benning, was one of the most impressive ever staged in this vicinity, and was heard by hundreds of people, both Protestant and Catholic, from the surrounding country.

So well received were the efforts of the Fort Benning and Columbus singers immediately began work on Christmas Carols, which was sung before the Women's Club and the Officers' Club of the post. That Spring the Fort Benning Glee Club was formally organized, and produced their first opera "The Nautical Knot." So well was this received that it was repeated in the fall, and the Glee Club was on its way to the heights.

Since that time the organization has grown in numbers until it forms one of the most important branches Bortz and Lieut. Col. James B. Wool-

After dinner the Hearns escorted their guests to the Polo-Hunt Club

HOUSE GUEST HONORED

Numbered among the many delightful affairs in honor of Mrs. Stowe Sutton of Fort Crook, Nebraska, was the picnic supper Friday evening which was given by Lieut. and Mrs. George P. Howell at the 29th Infantry Camp. Saturday evening, Lieut. and Mrs. J. E. Bowen entertained with an informal curry party at their quarters. The guest lists for these affairs included the friends of the honoree.

PERSONALS

Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Andrew D. Chaffin have as their house guest the former's neice, Miss Nellie Barr Chaffin, of Nashville, Tenn.

Miss Harriotte Atkins has as her house guest Miss Elizabeth Berry, of Boston, Mass.

Major and Mrs. Thomas G. Hearn have visiting them the latter's mother, Mrs. Edgar T. Jadwin, widow of the former Lieut. General Edgar T. Jad-

Lieut. and Mrs. Francis E. Howard arrived at Fort Benning recently, having visited relatives in New York. Lieut. Howard will be a member of the Tank Class this year.

Lieut. and Mrs. Francis Gillespie arrived at Fort Benning Sunday. Lieut. Gillespie will be a member of the Advanced Class.

Major and Mrs. Neal C. Johnson has as their house guest last week Major and Mrs. Kramer Thomas, Major Thomas will be in command of the Cavalry unit at Benning.

Alice Churchill, attractive daughter of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. James Churchill, who is stationed at Washington, is the house guest of Major and Mrs. Harry W. Reeder.

THE NEW BEAUTY SHOP Croquignole Waves$3.50

Round Wave with ring at ends$3.50 Flat Marcel $3.50 Eugene Method$6.50 Finger Waves not dried Phone 9286 1106½ BROADWAY

MRS. J. O. METHVIN

Voice Instruction, Private and Class Voice placing and Repertoire Mrs. Methvin is a Pupil of Dudley Buck, formerly Prof. of Voice, University of Kansas Certificates from Columbia, Northwestern, and DePaul Universities. Four years Columbus High School.

For Information Call STUDIO 908 SECOND AVE.

Phone 1695

Columbus, Ga.

Chase Conservatory of Music

220-10th St., Columbus, Ga. NOW IN SESSION DEPARTMENTS

Piano, Violin, Voice, Orchestral Instruments and Expression Pupils received rfom Primary to Advanced Grades. Certificates and Diplomas awarded. Private and Class lessons. Large Auditorium, Radio Broadcasting, Pupils Recitals. Rates low. Send for literature.

Telephone No. 264

Louis T. Chase, President

Columbus School of Music

DEPARTMENTS

Piano, Violin, 'Cello

7 - 15th Street

productions eagerly awaited from year

Long ago the Glee Club lost the air of an amateur organization and ment in its effects. A director of dramatics and a director of music was

(Please turn to page 15)

Phone 1360

RALPH COTTON, Director

if you can resist foremost ice cream.

after trying it once—then we'll admit that you're a wonder!

So, if you don't feel that you can spare any more nickels then you'd better shy away from Foremost Ice Cream. But, if you're one of those people who like the little joys of life, then you'll order it every time—for no other Ice Cream ever made is just as smooth, just as delicious and just as tempting as Foremost.

Of course you'll want to know where to get it . . .

... and it's very easy, too, for all you have to do is call the Soda Fount (Telephone 69) and it'll be sent to you post-

OREMOS D A I R I INCORPORATED

Benning Holds Much Of Interest For Families Of Student Officers

Clubs, Societies, Organizations Assist In Spending Leisure Time

One of the joys of army life is the frequent reunion of old friends who have sreved together at other stations and shared in common the many experiences that come to all dwellers on Army Posts.

Loyal friendships are made among army folk. The announcement of the Infantry School personnel brings each year a thrill of eager anticipation over the prospect of meeting again some interesting acquaintance.

Many happy reunions have taken place at Fort Benning since the arrival of the student officers for this season.

The unusually large number of highly intellectual men and women stationed at Benning make the social life distinctive and charming.

Despite the many social activities, however, nearly every woman at Benning find time for some form of altruistic work.

It is said that statistics show that everywhere since the war efforts have been redoubled in behalf of all worthy causes, that a permanent good has come out of the catacylsm of the most terrible war the world has ever known and a certain selfishness that was getting ingrained into the American fiber has to a large extent been swept aside and the majoirty of men and women will never again be satisfied with lives of ease, selfishness or frivolity, for the habit of intermingling the worth while things into their lives has come to stay.

Most of the women at Benning have lived through that agony of suspense as their husbands offered their lives in service during the war while throngs of women united in a vital part to "keep the home fires burn-ing." All of the labor that common suffering called them to do was twice blessed-for those who gave and those who received.

Gratitude wells high in the hearts of hundreds of women today who have caught a higher vision, gratitude for a spirit of unselfishness, of cooperation, gratitude for having had a share with the intellectual force of

The women of Bennng are looking forward to the leadership of Mrs. George H. Estes in numerous phases of philanthropic work. Mrs. Estes' friends pay high tribute to her many noble traits, which combined with cordial affability endears her to all. The welfare work at Fort McPherson was accomplished through the Chapel Guild, of which Mrs. Estes was presi

It is hoped that Mrs. Estes will consent to serve as President of the Benning chapter of the Army Relief Society and as Chairman of the Advisory Board of the Benning Welfare Council. The Army Relief Society cares for the widows and orphans of officers and enlisted men. The Welfare Council meets the needs of the many families living on the Post and in Columbus. The Field Director of the Red Cross cooperates with both organizations and renders invaluable service to discharged soldiers and their families. The Chapel Guild assists in many phases of the religious activities on the Post.

The Parent-Teacher Association has perfected a program of real constructive work in connection with the Post School and will present a series of lectures dealing with subjects of interest to mothers at the monthly meet-

Officers' wives living on the Post and in Columbus are urged to join the Infantry School Womans Club. A speaker or musician of note will be presented on the first Monday of each month, the program followed by a tea. The Literary Section, Gar-den Section and Bridge Section of the Woman's Club each hold monthly Delightful plays given by the Dramatic club are always attended by capacity houses.

For musicians the Glee Club will prove interesting. The Glee Club opera given each season is anticipated with eager delight.

The Golf Club, Riding Classes,

Swimming Instruction, Tennis and Golf Tournaments are enjoyed by the Athletic women of the army contingent. Splendid cooperation exists between the clubs of Fort Benning and Columbus.

A group of public spirited men and women give hours of service to the Boy and Girl Scout troops.

Two excellent libraries afford diversification for the literary element of the army. In fact, Fort Benning has made possible rare privileges of every variety for people of every age and every taste.—P. A. L.

Anna Dozier's School of the Dance Member—Dancing Masters of America

Ballet and Toe

Tap

Modern Character

Acrobatic Musical Comedy

Interpretative

Ballroom

Fort Benning Opening Wednesday, September 27

American Legion Hall______1237½ Broadway Polo Club

Phone 2206

Kirven's

BEAUTY PARLOR

cordially welcomes

LADIES OF BENNING.

both newcomers and old residents.

EXPERT operators, who realize that more than individual attention is necessary in beauty service, assure coiffures that are becoming to your own personality.

Second Floor

Kirven's

KIRVEN'S INVITES YOU

A SPECIAL SHOWING

FASHIONSINFURS

Exclusive collection of Fur Coats and Scarfs, from one of New York's Finest Furriers-brought to Kirven's for a

TWO-DAY SHOWING MONDAY TUESDAY SEPT. 11 - 12

This showing gives you an unusual opportunity to select a fur coat or scarf of the finest quality, from the complete selection of an exclusive New York Furrier. Not only can you select exactly the kind of a Coat or Fur you wish, but in this way, Kirven's can save you 25 per cent to 33 1-3 per cent.

You can attend this showing whether you plan to buy or not. Come in and see what beautiful pelts, and what becoming Fashions in Furs this selection offers.

Second Floor

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Phone 556

Columbus, Georgia

NUMBER 20

VOLUME III. L. C. Kunze_____Publisher Society Editor FELICIA C. HOWELL Sports Editor

SEPTEMBER 8, 1933

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,
BALTIMORE

TELLI

(By N. H. HOBBS)

Staff Sgt. Edward Roper On September 30, 1933, twilight will on the army career of Staff Sergeant Edward Roper, Headquarters and Headquarters Battery, and Combat Train, 1st Battalion, 83rd Field Artillery, Fort Benning Georgia, when this hardy son of the plains reaches his destination and brings his ship into port after over twenty-five years spent in a long and successful voyage with the colors.

Born at Shannon Valley, Iowa, in September of 1874, Sergeant Roper entered the army in 1908, at the age of thirty-four, and was initiated into the military service as a member of Company F, 19th Infantry. When he was discharged after three years of honorable service with this organization he liked the army so well that reenlistment followed immediately. He had completed only six months with the 12th Infantry, the unit for which he reenlisted, when he transferred to the 15th Infantry and served the balance of this term of service with the famous Can Do" regiment. The urge to travel became too strong to resist and after reaching the conclusion that he yould remain with the army, Sergeant Roper "joined up" with the 23rd Infantry and served for two years with this outfit. At this point in his career a new Infantry unit came into being, and Sergeant Roper was among the men who laid the foundation, his name being one of the first ever entered on the rolls of the 34th regiment. Following the organization of the 34th the world entered into armed conflict, and as mess sergeant for a battalion of the Home Guard, Sergeant Roper carried on his duties for the duration of the war. In 1920 he returned to the scene of his first army service, this time as a member of Infantry School, Fort Benning, he graced by his services, and after three years as a member of the noted Infantry School, Fort Benning, he be the scene of his home.

SMITH SPEAK (Continued from page 5)

regular army unit does not provide this preparation. Everything we every method we demonstrate must be suited to the character of our war army. Genuine simplicity of this important attribute are greamust therefore be the guiding motive. The long, the complicated, the rigidly conventional find no place in our present conceptions. Neither must you permit yourself to overemphasize the technical and material means of combat, impressive though they have become. Now as ever, the elements that contribute to victory lie more in the men than in the means employed. You will have the privilege of actually commanding organizations in the field, from the company to the reinforced brigade, and exercising the staff functions appropriate to those commands.

"While working you must not forget that our normal war problem will deal with partially trained officers and men. Organizations of veterans will only come later and will present few problems comparable in difficulty with the earlier ones.

You will find the Infantry school leavoring to give its graduates a ant attitude.

made a change of branches and started an eight year period of service with the Field Artillery, where he has per formed the duties of Mess Sergeant Stable Sergeant, and Provost Sergeant in the last act of his career with the troops of the U.S. Army.

While stationed at Galveston, Texas in 1916, Sergeant Roper came near to being a fatality of the catastrophe which befell that city. As a member of the 23rd Inf., he was quartered in one of the buildings first struck by the tidal wave when it broke through the seawall of Galvaston. The men had no chance to escape. Happening during the night, water entered city without warning. When daylight arrived Sergeant Roper, who had been rendered unconscious by the impact of the wave, regained his senses and found that he was the only survivor of fifteen men who had been in the building when it crashed. His comrades were beyond human aid, but this soldier lived to help in clearing the wreckage, and to patrol the city while it was under martial law.

Few men in the army, today have erved with more organizations than this man. In twenty-five years he has seen service with nine different units, stationed from the rugged coasts of New England to the broad expanse of the Pacific, and from Canada on the north to Mexico on the south. His highest rank, that of staff sergeant, was attained in 1929, after but one enlistment spent in the Field Artillery. While with the Infantry he qualified as a rifle marksman and a pistol expert, and while carrying on the duties of mess sergeant of the Home Guard during the war, the meals, prepared under his direction, did much to keep the morale of the men high during the hectic days of 1917-18.

Sergeant Roper has traveled over Company H, 19th Infantry. The 29th the entire United States and has visited many cities, but has found the hospitaity of the people of Columbus, Georgia, unrivalled. So, upon his re doughboy demonstration unit of the tirement he states that Columbus will

COLONEL MUNSON AND MAYOR | a practical institution. Theoretical instruction is scheduled only when it is not possible to give practical work. The course is desgned to emphasize leadership as the determining factor in combat.
"Unfortunately in our present military system, facilities for development tual troop duty—the most important school of leadership. Field maneuvers of large bodies of troops are rare Most of our present infantry units are so small that only constant effort and enthusisam on the part of a company officer will enable him to remain abreast of his profession. He tends to become satisfied with plans he can commit to paper and he is inclined to view problems of combat as abstract and theoretical. Such a state of mind is fatal to the development of leadership. To meet this situation, the school stresses the importance of execution.

Only less mportant to the teaching of the tactics and technique of our arm and the principles of their application in combat is the secondary mission of the school-that of en-

Benning Dav-Bv - Dav

By MAJOR RAMBLE (Apologies to O. O. McIntyre) FORT BENNING, September 4-Thoughts while strolling: Wonder what the Advanced Course will be Rumors, advice and caution of students of another day leave me befuddled. Conflicting opinions bring resultant confficting emotions. Map-reading. Supply. Logistics. Motors. Tactics. Monographs. And a sea of others. Graded tests map problems. Night exercises. An endless array of book-lore and lecture material assembled for the edification of the student. They bewilder

Equitation. Horses bouncing uncomfortably on the backs of animals devoid of all human understanding, for the edification of hard-boiled Riley graduates devoid of all compas-Slow-trotting till my back teeth ache and that isn't all.

Map-reading. Contours. Traverses. Finding elevations that do not exist. Failing to locate hills that do exist. Marching by compass for miles in the dark only to find as one of last years' students said that "what he had taken was back azimuth" whatever that is. I thought a compass was somethng a Mississippi riverboat captain steered by, with the aid of the north star and both river banks.

Advice from all sides about being columnist. Benning veterans of yesteryear quoting reminiscently of the "keepers of the faith" of another day, Major Harding and the Flare. Lieutenant Peep, Gunbotham's School Daze, Bonaparte Hennessy. Mulhall

Just names to me but capable of conjuring up memories to a Benning veteran. It is enough to make a timid newcomer, in the art shy and self-conscious. But this columnist will try to keep one eye posted on Advanced Class doings and one ear planted to catch the miscellaneous news items that happen or might happen on the post in general consistent with our ability to learn of such things while were ride to and from the post at the beginning and end of each student day. Living in Columbus has its drawbacks.

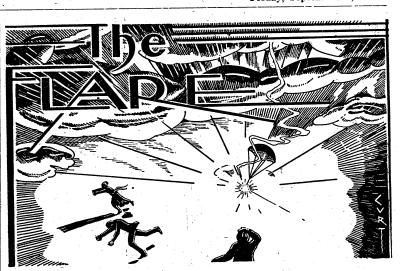

Signs of a waning summer gleaned from the casual remarks of post personnel: Sunday morning riding interest picking up. Tanned Benning natives contrasted with the newcomers from the sticks. CCC widows withdrawn from circulation as their husbands return. The quarters lottery, whereby Major Jones is to move into Major Brown's quarters as soon as Major Brown vacates and takes those of Captain Smith who is held up for the time being because Lieutenant Green can't decide whether he should go on rental allowance or The Housing Committee something. at the Ralston run by some fellow called Bill Hones whom everyone seems to know. I am unable to place him but he is apparently the official custodian of Columbus real He seems to own a lot of estate. houses there.

More Signs: Gnats. Tall grass. Students frantically attempting to borrow uniforms for the opening exercises. And at Russ pool interest of the male contingent visibly dulled on viewing feminine bathing attire, as contrasted with the alert and all-insame costumes the first part of the under way!

broader background of military information and culture and an understanding attitude toward the citi-

The exigencies of our profession tend to isolate us from the normal life of the American citizen. We are inclined to become intolerant of his comparative indifference to questions of professional importance to us and to become irritated because he declines to center his interest on matters as remote from his daily routine as war and the preparation for war. Nothing can be more harmful to the interest of national defense nor more unlikely to gain for it the support of our citizen than an aloof or intoler-

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

CONDUCTED BY E. F. R.

CONDUCTED BY E. F. R.

It is not surprising that the Children of Israel were glad to beat it out of Egypt. They had been required to make Bricks without Straw. We wonder if their strenuous struggles were any worse than trying to make THE FLARE without Fuel. It is possible that we have not Circulated as much as we should have during the past week but neither was there a Path beaten to our Door by Friends with this Message—"I have a dandy Item for you to put in the FLARE." Another week with the Paucity of Pitch of last week and THE FLARE will become a feeble Flicker. With the CCCers from the Academic Department returning to their Widows and the Wives returning from Leave to their Summer Widowers we were unable to stir up a single Scandal. But the Show must go on. Ho Hum

SCHOOL STARTS

Ho Hum-Having attended at least five Opening Exercises at The Infantry School, we wearily wended our way over to the Post Theatre on Monday with just that "Ho hum" attitude. We knew all of the Speeches that were going to be delivered and we were perfectly familiar with the Regular Routine. We just trailed over to the Theatre to see if we couldn't pick up a Bricket or two with which to feed the FLARE. We had a little difficulty at first in locating the Student Body but we found them at last. They were huddled together in a little Heap down Front and were completely surrounded by Instructors. The Classes of 1933-1934, by the way, should graduate educated right up to the Muzzle. If the Statistics which we have consulted are correct, each and every Student will have onehalf Instructor apiece." Or in Other Words" as the Tactical Teachers say, there will be One High-Powered Instructor for each Two Students. Truly the Student's lot is not a Happy one. We were handed the usual blue Folder entitled "The Infantry School Opening Exercises" which had been carefully prepared by the Post Printer. We looked it over carefully thinking we might see a Blue Eagle flaunting its "We Do Our Part" Slogan, but we decided that The Code was still in transit, for the cover was as destitute of Blue Eagles as it was last year before we started to Recover. It seemed to us that the Printer missed a good bet. He might have flown his Eagle and put both mottoes on it so that it read thus wise "We do our Part-Follow Me." We opened the Brochure and found the same old Programme-Band; Invocation; Commandant's Speech; Mayor of Columbus speech; Benediction; Band-Same old Stuff. But we had a Surprise coming to us. First, the Invocation didn't sound as familiar as we had expected. Then Colonel Munson stepped up to the Plate Pinch-Hitting for General Estes who was on Sick Report. Colonel Munson made a Hit the first time up. In fact he batted One Thousand. Everything he said was new, or put in a new way, and right to the point. Next Mayor Smith sauntered to the Stand. We thought we could count on Mayor Smith to come through and carry out our conjectures concerning our pre-conceived Programme but darned if he didn't Double-Cross us by turning out Dandy Disourse, It was Interesting, Concise, and most Hospitable. And lastly, even the Benediction was new. We went to Scoff and we remained to Pray. The Classes of 1933-1934 are off to a Flying Start.

Not long ago a week or two at most—one of our Altruistic Bache Half who uses the Bicycle. The Old lors, a sort of an Abou-Ben-Adam. Man now takes the car to the office. Friend-of-Man Fellow, was talking with a group of Ball-and-Chained fellow officers all of whom were complaining about the cost of living in Double-Harness. The subject of a Second Mount and the necessary expense involved had been discussed at motto "We do our Part." That is all great length. Up spoke our buoy right for the Herald but we think ant Bachelor, Coadjutant Craig, "If that we ought to have a little Bird clusive stares by the same men at the you Birds must have a Second Mount of our own and a Slogan to keep why blow money on an Antediluvian it flapping its wings. We do not Auto. If I were a Married Man and know whether there is to be a Code The University of the Upatoi is had to have a Second Mount I would for Columnists or not, but until we get me a bicycle and turn the Family get it we believe we ought to have Car over to my wife for her exclusive use." Rarely in records of Recommendations has one been seized upon with the avidity with which the Married Officers grabbed the advice of Matter-of-fact Malin-but in every case the M. O. Reversed the English. Three days after the above mentioned conversation, we happened to be about to depart for our Sunday Morning Golf Game when we beheld Mrs. Studebaker pedalling a Bicycle around Miller Loop. We hailed her and asked how come this scarcely seen spectacle. "Why this is the Studebaker Second Mount. I am on my way to church. Clayton has the Family car out at the Polo Field. But the Second Mount is all mine."

And now you can see Bicycles serv-

REVERSED RECOMMENDATIONS ing as Second Mounts wherever you go, but in every case it is the Better

N. R. A.

You have probably noticed that the Benning Herald has fallen into line for National Recovery and sports a Blue Eagle and the accompanying right for the Herald but we think a Bird Badge and we invite recommendations from our Readers. You need not bother to suggest a Black ulture we have already thought of that and discarded it as not sufficiently alliterative. Just to give you a start, how about a "Pink Parrott' and a Slogan, "We say our say?'

And the youngsters are willing to do their Part. It seems that the young Heir to the Bonham's Boodle obtained from somewhere a Blue Eagle sticker. He plastered it on his Bicycle and, riding home, proudly displayed it to his Parents." See that," the boy said to his puzzled Pa-"I'm a N. R. A. And I'll tell you what it means. It means No More Sweating and it means No More

(Please turn to page 9)

THE FLARE (Continued from page 8)

BENNING DRAMATIC CLUB

The Fort Benning Dramatic Club is about to start its eighth annual Season and whether the season is a ed. The Commandant (the late Gensuccessful one or not rests, to a large extent, with YOU. As you all know it requires money to put over a season of Dramatics and the Club ment, and morale of a Garrison than is absolutely dependant for financial membership subscriptions. membership Drive is now under way, so, if you wish to see four good shows during the coming winter, pay your Dollar and a Half Fee to the Club Representative and it will entitle you to see four Productions,

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

GEORGIA COMPANY

A Citizen Whereever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

give you an opportunity to participate actively if you so desire, and Child Labor, so you had better lay off will enable an important Benning Activity to continue. It happens that the writer eight years ago went to the Commandant at the request of several interested people and asked if a Dramatic Club might be start eral Edgar T. Collins) replied: do not know of a more important factor in the amusement, contenta successful Dramatic Club." The support upon the funds derived from Club has been uniformly successful and it is your reeponsibility to continue the success by giving your support. As you probably know the Club is conducted by a group of Five Officers. The Conductor of this Column has the honor of being President. The four Working Members are as follows: Vice-President; Major Thomas Catron; Secretary-Treasurer, Captain Golightly, Asst. Treasurer and Business Manager, Lieut. Lanahan; Director, Antoinette Wadsworth. All of the Workers know their Dramatics through long experience and all they need is your support to make this a most successful season.

The Dramatic Club believes that a person goes to the Theatre to be Entertained and, based on that premise, the Plays that will be presented this year will be pleasant and entertaining. You will not be subjected to Slap-Stick Comedy-much-nor will you be treated to terrible tragedy. You will always find that you can laugh—if not with us, at least at us. At any rate you will get your money's worth. The first Play will be presented the last part of October and will be the highly successful Rachel Crohers Play—"Let Us Be Gay."

SHOWING OF SUMMER SHORTS SUBSIDING

We will be glad when these Returned CCC Husbands who have been out of Contact with Civilization and who have lost the Trend of the Times, catch up with the Band Wagon. While the above mentioned Husbands have been spending the Summer in somnolence their Wives have been alertly awake to Popular Progress. We refer to the surprising improvement in the Scenery this Summer on the Golf Course by the advent of Sweeties in Shorts. From the one or two proemial Pioneers at the beginning, the rapidly increased numbers of Shorts Wearers spoke well for the judgment and progress of our Post Pretties. The Shorts looked good to the gawking gazer, and as to the comfort of the Cuties so clothed-just ask the Woman who Wears them. But since the Return of Useless Ulysses we hardly see the many more, presumably because the Man of the House discourages their use. We launch this Lance at you, Lord of the Manor: You can insist on wearing the Pants in your Family but when it comes to Shorts, the Wife wears them much more becomingly than you do.

BATTERY DISCIPLINE Recently arrived in our midst is a man whose ability to force a lucrative wager is well-nigh phenomenal. A man who trains assiduously in the unusual art of bouncing a tennis ball against the ceiling and garners large sums by wagering his friends as to who can keep the ball in motion the greatest number of consecutive bounces, who artlessly bets that the product of football scores will be even, (a four-to-one probability) and who once discovered that a woodtick placed at the center of a horizontal plane would start off in the directon of the nearest human body, and took in enormous wealth from his unsuspecting brother officers through system of bets as to the direction the insect would select for his escape, placing his own body in the proper position to influence the tick. We take great pleasure in introducing and warning you against, Lieutenant George D. (Chizzler) Crosby. Having resurrected an old form of entertainment, one which has been of considerable monetary advantage to him in the past, he sought a victim. Through some pretext or other he forced an entrance into the inner sanctum of the austere and business like commander of Battery "A," George H. (Comatose) McManus. By what devious and subtle process he led the trend of thought from the initial subject-matter to his basic project we shall probably never know, the victim being unable to recall and the confidence man reserving his art for future occasions. Suffice it to say that in a short while our friends Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford Crosby and Lethargic McManus were to be found bending over a desk on the center of which a cross had been inscribed with a pencil. The game was to spin a thumbtack between the thumb and forefinger, dropping i the desk in the vicinity of the cross. The spinning tack was then hit with an ink bottle at the proper moment to impale the desk in the vicinity of the cross. He whose tack was found to be the more remote from the intersection of the cross provided the other with coin of the realm. After some minutes of this exciting, and novel, sport, the contestants looked up to find that the first sergeant had brought in a petty offender for the paternal rebuke of the sage dispenser of battery justice. How long these two had been witnessing the thumbtack spinning is not definitely known -it could not have been longer than fifteen minutes. The promoter went his way with his ill-gotten wealth, leaving the battery Solomon to deliver his admonition with a red face. (Please turn to page 15)

THE H&G STORE Welcomes You

TO FORT BENNING. COLUMBUS AND THEIR STORE

MAY OUR YEARS OF SELLING CLOTHES FOR MEN AND BOYS INFLUENCE YOU TO BECOME ONE OF OUR PATRONS.

Kuppenheimer Varsity Town Manhattan Stetson Dobbs

WE SINCERELY IN-VITE YOUR ACCOUNT

Visit Our Boys' Shop 2nd Floor

THE LARGEST BOYS' SHOP IN COLUMBUS

A WELCOME

To Incoming Officers and An Invitation To All to consult

ROBINSON BROWN JR.

Special Agent Ordinary Department 210 Murrah Bldg. Phone 1637 Columbus

REPRESENTING:

THE PRUDENTIAL

Insurance Company of America Home Office: Newark. N. J.

> For Advice And Aid On All Life Insurance Matters

Information And Advice Cheerfully Given Whether Pertaining To Prudential Contracts Or Others

Hofflin and Greentree

COLUMBUS' LEADING CLOTHIERS ESTABLISHED 1888 1128 BROADWAY

-:- Hunting Through Benning Fields -:-

Long ago, when the Cherokee and Creek tribes roamed the southeastern section of this country, the then state of Georgia, which extended to the Mississippi, was known as the happy hunting ground for red men and white settlers. Incidents of Indian lore show that, from as far away as the Iroquois Nations of the northeast, the tales of the fertile, gamepopulated land brought the tribes in wholesale migrations, and it is a historical fact Muscogees of northern Mexico chose the bottom lands of the Chattahoochee River valley for their home after their long Odyssey through the south. The steadily inlong Odyssey creasing numbers of the red men decimated the myriads of fowl and game, and the passage of time under the white settlements has at last brought to almost total extinction to the wild life of Georgia. Except in a few scattered spots, notably the Okefenokee Swamp, and isolated locations on the coast, there is but one area of any extent where the sight of a bronze tom turkey or a roving wildcat does not set every Nimrod in the county on the trail.

Where they have come from is one of Nature's mysteries, but in recent years the wild game of the fast disappearing Georgia pine woods has returned to the hills and swamp bottoms of the Fort Benning military reservation, situated midway on the western boundary of the state, ten miles southeast of Columbus, and details of soldiers traveling through the underbrush of the marshland or the sagefields of the hills consider the sight of a drove of wild hogs, a flock of wild turkey, or a red fox sneaking through the briers a common occurrence, conceding it the notice of a casual marking for investigation when the hunting season shall

The ninety-seven thousands acres of land that comprises the Fort Benning reservation form a game sanc-

200 Rooms

Fire Proof

Ralston Hotel

COLUMBUS, GA. Headquarters Incoming Officers and their families. Popular Priced COFFEE SHOP Excellent Food Good Service C. L. ARNOLD, MANAGER

military personnel, under a strict system of game conservation that is increasing the numbers of the fur and feather clans each year. Numbers of small lakes dot the lowlands of the valley of the Chattahoochee

River, which forms one boundary of the reservation, numerous small brooks break out of the foothills to run away and join the muddy river.

The uplands, with their large open fields sown with wild peas and kaffir corn, from excellent feeding grounds woods of hickory, oak, and pine,

where the grey and fox squirrel wax fat and quarrelsome, cloak the hills and fill the draws, and offer shelter and feed to the wily bronze monarch, King Turkey. An efficient force of range guards, acting as game and fire wardens, patrols the reservation throughout the year, keeping a check on the spread or decrease of that shows a lessening of numbers is promptly and effectively closed to hunters till it resumes its natural and energetic hunt club, composed of members of the garrison personnel, does its part in practical conservation wild cat of the swamps, and makes and yon till the kill adds another brush to the hunt trophies.

for quail, turkey, and doves.

GIANT RESERVATION ABOUNDS IN MANY KINDS OF TYPICALLY SOUTHERN GAME

tions governing hunting that are in have been shot at Fort Benning in force at the military post, the beaver have thrived and multiplied; today a large village extends along the entire string of lakes parallel to the Upatoi; and the tribe is moving to other spots on the reservation.

Wild hog hunting is another of the popular sports at the home of The the animal population, and any spot Infantry School. The natural protection afforded by the dense undergrowth of the swamps forms splendid coverts for the pigs, and large abundance of game. An enthusiastic droves abound in the lowlands of the reservation creeks. Hunted on foot, or pursued in the classic manner, atop a horse, the wild porkers, desby exterminating such vermin as the cended from domestic hogs, afford both fine sport, and an excellent dish life safer for the young turkey and for barbecue. quail by running Brer Reynard hither

The wild turkey; most prized, and most wary, of American game birds the subject of innumerable and heated discussions as to methods of hunting and calling; he is to be found in small numbers all over the country, The ponds were still there when the but Benning. The variety that ranges over the broad acres seems to be deconstructor had departed. Fishermen, scended from the "Bronze," with a penetrating the unfrequented spot a cross strain of domesticated turkey short time ago, were surprised to that has reverted to a wild state. This find evidences of fresh cuttings that is not stated as fact, for argument looked very much as if old Chisel- is rife in the matter, and it is entooth had returned. A range guard tirely possible that there is a strong investigated, and reported that a colo- mixture of Florida gobbler someny of beaver at work, building a dam where in the lineage; but wild they further downstream from the old site. undoubtedly are. The two pictures Under the protection of the regula show a pair of the largest birds that destroyed, as are stray cats; and no recent years ; one of them weighing nineteen, and the other twenty-two pounds. Due to the protection offered, and the bag limit of one tom per season, the big birds are steadily gaining ground in their fight for survival, and flocks running as high as fourteen gobblers have been reported by the range guards.

The fox squirrel in his home in the upland pines fell an easy victim to hunters, both due to his large size and to the scarcity of cover, however, they have ventured back to the Fort Benning woods, and today can be found with black mask and gloves, quarelling with and deviling their brother and natural enemy, the grey squirrel.

Racoons, common over most of the south, are as may be expected, found in abundance on this game reserve A night's hunt with good dogs will generally bag from four to six of the ring-tailed critters, and several of the military organizations on the post have captured and tamed the young 'coons for mascots. Another feature that helps to preserve the 'coon, and other small game, at Bennnig, is the practice of registering all dogs, and limiting the possession of them to certain personnel. Any dog found on the reservation that is not registered or claimed within a certain time is dog or cat is permitted to-roam at large.

As mentioned above, fox and wildcat furnish sport for those who care to follow the hounds. Both the red and grey fox roam the ridges and yap at the moon, just as they did when the Cherokee kindled his fires on Torch Hill. The red variety, more cunning, and fleeter than the grey, is the most pursued; and due to the natural cover offered him, frequently eludes his pursuers to live and run another day. A large pack of hounds is maintained by the Infantry School Hunt Club for use in trailing both the fox and the bobcat, the latter of which inhabits the tangled swamps of the lower reservation. This illnatured, animated buzz-saw is no distance runner; when routed out by the hounds he doubles and twists like a running hare; and when finally brought to bay turns on the dogs and battles with all the fury of his sinewy frame until the mass of the pack rolls him under.

During the winter months flocks of Canada geese stop in the Chattahoochee bottoms for feeding purposes, and to break their long flight of migration. Teal and mallard find the small, secluded lakes to be excellent feeding grounds; quail and dove thrive in the fields till the season opens; and Br'er Rabbit scampers and dances in the bramble patches in the swamp bottoms.

The steady increase of native game on the Fort Benning reservation is proving a valuable aid in the progress of restocking the state of Georgia, and the conservation methods applied at the Infantry School maintain it as a nucleus for the spread of wild life throughout the region. The comparatively small amount of hunting that is allowed is regulated for the best interests of hunters and hunted, and in years to come the Fort Benning military reservation may form a supply point for the distribution of various species to a large portion of the southeastern

You Are Invited To Call On Us When You Need:

Wrapping Paper, Bags, Stationery, Paper Cups, Twines, Notions, School Supplies.

WOLFSON COMPANY

939 Broadway Phone 113

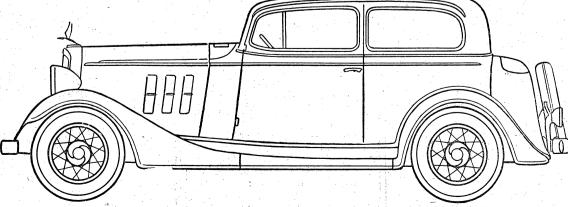

Years ago a primeval engineer, the beaver, had built a dam and formed several small lakes along the Upatoi Creek, tributary of the Chattahoochec. troops arrived after the war, but the

(THE VROLL)

 $\mathbf{A}\mathbf{n}$ Outstanding Consecutive Leader for 3

Years

Muscogee Motor Company, Inc.

"MORE THAN FIFTEEN YEARS SERVING FORT BENNING"

W. T. HEARD, Pres.

COLUMBUS, GEORGIA

BURREL C. COLE, Sales Mgr.

USED CARS Offer The Same Satisfaction That Made Chevrolet The Leader

Enlisted Men Receive Benefit Of Training During Work at School

There is no station in our Army available to all sections of the country, portunity to see the functioning of experience in the latest methods of no where else. The immense size of the reservation affords ample opportunity for hunting and the size of the command affords opportunity for all kinds of athletics. The intramural games at Fort Benning are the best that can be seen anywhere in the country.

The Infantry School, is in the final analysis, the greatest training center for doughboys, the result of an idea that came to Major General Arthur MacArthur in 1907. This distinguished soldier, then in command of the Pacific Coast, realized more keenly than most the need of training for our soldiers and citizens in the use of Infantry arms and tactics, and established a school of musketry at Monterey, California. The result was so successful that the authorities decided this training should be made which affords the enlisted man more and, in 1913, transferred the school desirable forms of recreation and to the more centrally located Fort training than Fort Benning. Men Sill, Oklahoma, where the artillery enlisting for this station have an op- school of fire is now located. Then came the World War and the world's greatest Infantry training the Oklahoma station was not large school for officers and thereby gain enough to handle the large number of students in both schools. Accordmodern warfare that they can obtain ingly the War Department looked about for a more suitable site and at length chose the old Bussey Plantation located at the junction of the Chattahoochee Rver and Upaoi creek, on the Georgia side of the river about nine miles from the city of Columbus. Approximately ninetyeight thousand acres were purchased at a reasonable price. The terrain offers the finest kind of field for maneuvers. There are hills and flats, wooded and open country, and all the features so essential to the varied situations assumed in infantry train-

The location having been chosen, the decision to move the school was reached in September, 1918, and units began to move, bag and baggage, from Sill to the Benning plain. At first the incoming troops camped on the Columbus Macon road, just outside the city, but in June, 1919, the entire command was transported across the Upatoi to its present location. The name Camp Benning was given, honoring the distinguished soldier, lawyer and jurist Henry Lewis Benning a citizen of the neighboring city of Columbus. In 1922 the name was changed to Fort Benning.

Starting with a few brief courses for specialists, the Infantry School began in full swing in the fall of 1920, with an eight months' course for of ficers ranging from 2d Lieutenants to Colonels, and since that time its growth has been so steady that now the installations include the academ ic department, with a highly trained corps of instructors; a department of experiment; crack demonstration units, and a monumental recreation center built by the voluntary labor and contributions of military person

The academic department is the training center proper. There are the Tank Class, the company Officers' Class, the Advanced Class, two different classes for National Guard and Reserve Officers (Company Officers and Field Officers); Refresher course for regular army General officers and Colonels and the following courses for enlisted men: Communication for enlisted specialists from the National Guard, Stenography and Clerks Course. Courses of study range from military history to the manipulation of machine guns;

(Please turn to page 15)

HENRY GRADY HOTEL.

PEACHTREE AT CAIN Atlanta, Ga.

550 rooms of comfort and convenience. Each room has ceiling fan, circulating ice water, radio and either shower or tub bath; corner rooms have both. Open Dining Terrace and Coffee Shop.

Rooms from $2

J. F. de Jarnette Vice-Pres. & Mgr.

that you will find our service as useful and our employees as helpful as they have been to others in the past.

To The New Arrivals:

... we extend every privilege offered by our organization, with the hope

Commissioned Officers of the Regular Army may borrow up to ten per cent of their yearly salary on their open note, without any indorsement.

We make it a point to render the most courteous and efficient service possible and our record of satisfied customers is our most outstanding proof of this statement.

We are also offering to commissioned officers of the Regular Army an unusually attractive investment in our 8% preferred stock with dividends payable quarterly. Par value is $25.00 per share and you may pay for it in monthly installments.

Pekor Jewelry Co.

Diamonds Watches

Silverware

Electric Clock

We Solicit Fort Benning Accounts

1221 - BROADWAY - 1221

WATCH AND JEWELRY REPAIRING

SECURITY SAVINGS AND LOAN CO.

Corner 13th St. and 1st Ave. PHONE 2766

Your Finest Opportunities

Will Be Found At

... this store, for we have long endeavored to uphold a reputation at Benning which has made many friends in the past and we hope will make many in the future. Drop in to see us on your first visit to Columbus, and we will offer you many suggestions for furnishing your new quarters.

PHILCO RADIOS — LEONARD ELECTRIC REFRIGERATORS

1141 BROADWAY

PHONE 409

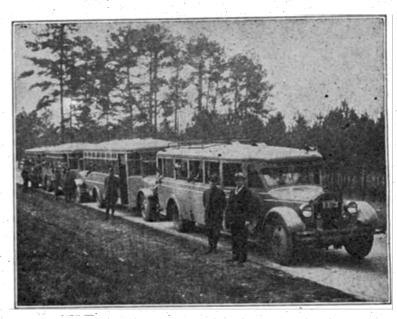

BOOK SHOP The Infantry School

Located in the Academic Area

"A co-operative store whose sole mission is to serve the permanent personnel and students on duty at the Infantry School."

Student Supplies
Publications of the Infantry School
and
Magazine Subscriptions

The Book Shop is operated to save you money.

Scene on Fort Benning Boulevard, showing four of our buses, carrying children back to Fort Benning after their day in school in Columbus.

HOWARD BUS LINE, Inc. Passenger Transportation Columbus - Fort Benning

Operating Under

LICENSE BY WAR DEPARTMENT

BOND AND LIABILITY INSURANCE PROVIDED

PRE-ANNOUNCEMENT.

The Studebaker Corporation will shortly place on the market a new model priced at $645 and up F. O. B. Detroit.

This is the first time Studebaker has ever put a car on the market as low as

$64-5 F. O. B. Detr

To The Students:

We will consider it a privilege to be able to assist you in any way possible while you are at Benning. We have one of the finest and most modern repair shops in Columbus, and our work has made a name for itself which alone is a guarantee of satisfaction. Call by and let us give you an estimate.

Columbus Roberts Motor Company

STUDEBAKER — ROCKNE — PIERCE ARROW — WHITE BUSES — MACK TRUCKS — ETC.

510 - 12 - 14 12TH STREET

and

SCHOOL OPENING

School opening is always the big event of the Fall at Benning—The coming of Fall heralds it just as surely as it heralds the coming of the first frost—but it's not until later that the students get down to the hard work of the year. It's not until later, too, that they begin to realize the supreme importance of the Post Exchange in the scheme of living at this or any Army post.

You are cordially invited, during your stay at the Infantry School, to use the facilities of the Post Exchange to their fullest extent—and we take this means of assuring you that we will watch, in every department, to see that you are perfectly satisfied.

There is hardly a thing that cannot be purchased at one of our branches.

POST EXCHANGE

FORT BENNING GEORGIA

ECONOMY-CONVENIENCE SERVICE

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital

1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

HARPER'S DRUGS

Telephone 396

Delivered Daily to

FORT BENNING

Auto Department

have the facilities of one of the finest grease and wash men, the paintersfor automobile repair work of any kind. The Post Exchange Automobile Department offers much in the way of fine equipment and expert workman-ship which makes it stand far in the forefront among garages in this section of the country—it has amply fulfilled its proud boast that no job is took big for its men.

As a necessary complement to the properly equipped machine-shop, the Garage is fully supplied with all the machinery necessary for work on any part or make of automobile. From putting new brake lining in, to reboring cylinders, it performs each job with equally efficient promptness. and each job is done well in the first place-there is no excuse for error.

Themen who comprise the person nel of the Auto Department are selected especially for their skill and

As have many others in the past, | knowledge in some special line of authe students of this year's class will to repair work. The electricians, the garages and repair shops in the south all have exceptional proficency which has led to their inclusion in the roll of men who work here, and which is the owner's guarantee of perfection and satisfaction in any repair work which may be done.

Praise alone never repaired any automobile—it is skill which, in the final analysis, turns the car out of the garage. That is why, at Fort Benning, the Auto Department has such a reputation for fine work-it depends more upon results than words for its good name. The number of satisfied car owners on the post attest to this and the number of owners who ask for repeat jobs is but anothers indication.

The Auto Department has announced that it will give estimates, without cost, of whatever work may be necessary on any make of automobile.

Grocery Dept. Is Setting High Mark

Setting a mark at which many sup-"complete" grocery stores might well shoot-the Grocery Department of the Post Exchange has been transformed into a model of perfection which is but rarely achieved in towns many times the size of

Especially is this evident in the department of the Grocery which handles the fresh fruits and vegetables and that in which sea food is sold. Rang-(Please turn to page 15)

ENLISTED MEN GET TRAINING (Continued from Page_11)

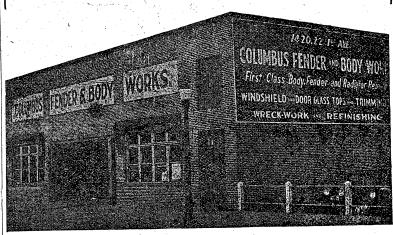

from tactical maneuvers staged with live ammunition to the study of educational technique. Students learn by lecture, demonstration, and practical work the latest wrinkles of everything pertaining to Infantry. They watch specially chosen units perform the newest and most up-to-date drills. They absorb the principles of tactics from lectures by specialists, and then go out and observe these principles applied to concrete situations in demonstrations. They watch riflemen fire tracer bullets which leave little phosphorescent trails in their flight. They learn about howitzers and machine guns from weapon experts and themselves handle and fire these infantry aids. They participate in extended maneuvers over the reservation with its varied ground, with its tangled woods, its gentle and steep hill slopes, its open fields and tumbling water courses. If there is anything that Infantry should do, the student officers do it. General Foch said that the art of war is an art wholly of execution. At the Infantry School, the trainers and leaders of the American armies of the future learned by practical work themselves the profession to which they have dedicated themselves and which is the sole defense of the nation in Equal in scope with the broad course of instruction are the sources from which the student officers are drawn. From the Regular Army come officers of all grades from Lieutenant to Colonel, with an occasional general officer for a Refresher course. To date more than half the nfantrv lishment have completed at least one of the Benning courses. Nor are the students wholly doughboys, for many officers from other branches of the service have completed the courses. From the National Guard and Reserve Officers, on whom so much responsibility will fall in case of emergency, and on whose shoulders will rest to a large extent the training and leading of a great national army in time of need, come officers of all grades. Each year officers come from the Marine Corps of the Upatoi, and by special dispensation officers from Mexico, Japan, The Irish Free State and Cuba, receive the benefits of the school. The class for enlisted specialists from the National Guard is drawn from all the forty-eight states, and Hawaii.

hours of emergency.

WELCOME... ...STUDENTS

Columbus Fender & Body Works

First Class Body, Fenders and Radiator Repair-Windshield and Door Glass, Tops and Trimming.

WRECK-WORK AND REFINISHING

"Don't Drive A Shabby Car"

THE POST EXCHANGE

Fort Benning is our agent.

WILLARD

BATTERIES

SOLD

and

SERVICED

At

For Sale At

Quaker State

MOTOR OIL

Gives you extra power,

extra speed, extra life-

its use is a genuine economy.

Post Exchange AUTOMOBILE DEPT.

Fort Benning, Georgia

AUTO DEPT.

Post Exchange

The

maintains one of the most highly organized and efficient repair departments in the South. Our staff of workmen are selected from among the highest and most thoroughly trained mechanics available and their work is as reliable as it is possible for auto work to be.

OUR MECHANICAL EQUIPMENT

like our workmen, is a model of perfection. The most up-to-date equipment is used for every operation, and we take a genuine pride in the efficiency of the mechanical work we do. Our shop is open for inspection at any time.

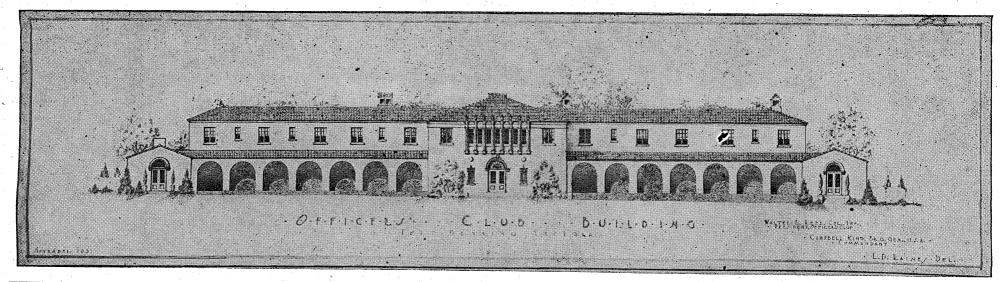

Drive By For An Estimate At No Cost To You

PRESSURE LUBRICATION

. . . is not just done with "grease"—but is done with a grease made especially for each working part of your car. Therefore we use Exclusive Alemite Greases, made and tested for each

POST EXCHANGE GARAGE HAVE YOUR CAR ALEMITED FOR SAFETY'S SAKE

An Architect's Eye View Of Officers' Club

THE FLARE Continued from page 9 RESERVE AMMUNITION

Do you know your Bible and do you remember the Parable of the Wise and Foolish Virgins? Against a dire Darkness as might be caused by just such a lack of fuel for the Flare as has been the case the past week, we saved up a Contribution which was submitted to use some time ago by one of our few and most appreciated Aides. Here it is.

CITATION FOR THE WEEK Our Citation for this week goes to Louise Kraft for acquiring such a perfect Coat of Tan during the summer that a New Arrival, seeing, from a distance, Louise sprawling over Potatoes at the Post Exchange, remarked: "I certainly would like to engage a good looking maid like

IN ENTERTAINMENT

(Continued From Page 6) secured, and the productions rounded out until each one was an improvement on the last.

Perhaps the most ambitious undertaking of the Glee Club was the staging of "The Red Mill" in 1931-32. It scored an overwhelming success, and produced a thoroughly worthwhile and beautiful opera.

Officers of the Glee Club for the Howard Clark, president; Mrs. Norman D. Cota, vice-president; Mrs. Guy C. McKinley, librarian; Lieutenant Joseph B. Coolidge, secretary; and Lieutenant Carl F. Duffner, treas-start as soon as a selection of a vehicle has been made, and it fully exbe equal to those of the past in all dant appoints one.

MODERN BUILDING OF OFFICERS' CLUB EMBODIES MANY ATTRACTIVE FEATURES

Many Privileges Extended To Members Of Principal Officers' Social Organization Of Infantry School

The Officers' Club, at Benning is the | dues for which he, his family, and | latest design so as to add much dating back to the establishment of the Infantry School at this station in 1918. It was instituted by officers who were students at the school, as a means of recreation and relief from the arduous duties required of the commissioned personnel. In 1922, after a hard struggle, it found itself, and since has improved its position by becoming more and more helpful, GLEE CLUB IMPORTANT FACTOR in many ways, to its members, and the students who come here each year to pursue courses of study at the Infantry School.

The organization and frame work of the club is simplicity itself. The management is under control of a Board of Governors. Each Governor heads a department of the club's activities. The Secretary-Treasurer appointed by the War Department on the recommendation of the Commandant, is general manager, and serves year 1933-34 are as follows: Captain as a member of the Commandant's Staff. This officer is responsible for all of the club's funds and is bonded. Five members of the Board of Governors are elected at the annual meeting of the membership, held in October, and after the election they serve Work on the first presentation will in various capacities for periods of one year. Each class of the students elect one member to represent pected that the year's productions will the student body, and the commanoldest social organization of the post, house guests can enjoy all the con- beauty to the interior. Every room veniences and facilities of the club, will have a telephone connected to including an 18-hole golf course, ten a central switch-board. In addition, tennis courts, playing or attending polo games on four fields; enjoying fox, cat, drag, and coon hunts; shooting on the skeet range; weekly dances at the main club and six special parties during the season; the use of the grill, mess, tea room, library, barber shop, beauty parlor, catering, delivery service, and the privilege of securing the Polo-Hunt Club for private parties at a nominal charge. The Club conducts bridge and chess tour- ladies' sides of the basement with naments during the year and, by mutual agreement with the Country Club of Columbus, certain privileges and concessions are made to members.

Each member pays small monthly

When the Officers' Club was reorcanized in 1922 provision was made for the payment of an initiation fee, and the funds thus obtained were set aside for the construction of a new building to house one of the most complete Officers' Clubs in the country.

Years passed, and the new club seemed as remote as ever, till a definite move was made sixteen months ago, and actual construction was started. Detail plans were drawn by an architect, approved by the Commandant, Quartermaster General and the Secretary of War. Within a few months the work was well under way.

The construction of the new club is being done by soldiers under the supervision of Captain H. J. Golightly of the 24th Infantry, and will be completed during the academic year. The officers now stationed at Fort Benning will be the first to enjoy the facilities of the club, which has been the cherished hopes of the personnel of the garrison for the last twelve years. When completed the club will embody all the more modern features of the best civilian clubs found in large cities. The first floor will be devoted to club facilities such as a main lounge, dining room, grill, kitard room, club office, billiard room, library, barber shop, beauty parlor, tailor shop and ladies' lounge. On the Second Floor will be fourteen rounds for transient guests. A public address system will carry dance music to all parts of the building, and will also simplify paging throughout the club. This system will include a one-way speaking device for the transmittal of orders to the cook from the counters

The building will be of early Spanish design, so far as possible, with the lighting fixtures selected of the

Dr. R. H. Brown

Osteopathic Physician Murrah Bldg. Phone Office 4108 Res. 1153

there will be two private booths for telephones, having separate wires that pass through the signal office switchboard without passing through the house switch board.

The servants will be quartered in the building, which will make it possible to receive service at the club at all times. In looking forward to the building of a swimming pool in the rear of the structure, provisions have been made for locker and shower rooms on both the officers' and the exits via the rear as well as the first floor of the building. The barber shop and beauty parlor to be installed as permanent equipment of the club will be the most modern shop in the country.

In the men's "dug-out" there will be billiard and pool tables as well as card tables, the floor will be tiled and luck Mal, don't come back with too hunting trophies will adorn the walls. A special feature of the ladies' lounge will be the powder room, where special furniture will be installed. maid will be in charge to assist the

When the club is finished, during the coming year, the hopes and prayers of the Benningites will be answered and they shall take great pride in introducing their Officers' Club to the outside world.

29th Inf.

HEADQUARTERS COMPANY 1ST BATTALION

The popular pastime of the 1st Battalion Headquarters soldats seems to be hearts;—a very smudgy game if you get what we mean.

Incidentally if 25 was a slam (called such when any player makes all the points himself) the scribe would win all of the games played in the company. Mac McGaha might have a hand in the fun too, as well as John Farmer. George Atchenson, called Pappy by his many friends, thinks that 22 points should be a slam, it seems like he acquires more 22's than anything else. Paw Tipper, of Carbon Hill fame figures prominently in the Heart games played in the company day room also but the trouble with him is that he likes to smoke too much especially when Breezy Story McGaha happens to hold the queen of spades. All past grievances are brought up when one indulges in a game of this kind and back-biting or, cutthroating would be a more fitting name for the popular pastime. Enough of this tho'.

Private Malvin Snead, Irish backstop and initial sackman, also of basketball fame, has left for his home in Lakeland where he will spend a 60 day furlough with his folks. Good many fish stories about the whoppers you caught.

The big question of the day is what Mac McGaha was doing the other day playing hide and seek with the second floor window casing in the Headquarters barracks. Peek a boo Mac, I see you. "Aw g'wan you was peekin", says Mac. "Nosiree", says I, "a little birdie told me.'

We have about taken up our alloted space-we'll be seeing ya.

IT'S A HIT!

THE NEW

DODGE and PLYMOUTH

CARS and TRUCKS

At

PATTERSON-POPE MOTOR COMPANY

> 1415 First Avenue PHONE 412

B. A. (RED) ANSLEY, Representative at Fort Benning

Benning Organizations Experts Of Army

29th Infantry Is Considered One Of Finest Of Units

Officers of the United States Army, who come to Fort Benning to pursue courses of instruction in the classes of the Infantry School, are furnished troops to command, men to carry out their battle plans, and class work, by the 29th Infantry, crack demonstration regiment, and the only organization in the U.S. Army that is composed of companies of wartime strength. Through this highly trained body of men the student may see the subject of their studies actually

Picked as the crack regiment of infantry of the service, the 1st Battalion, 29th Infantry was sent to For. Benning on March 23, 1919, to take up its duties in connection with the training of the student officers who come to the school each year to pursue a course of study. The remainder of the regiment arrived at Camp Benning on October 15, of the same

This organization has many uses at this station. The major portion of experimental work of the army is carred by members of this unit. From testing a new tent to executing the latest type of Infantry Drill is all in the day's work for them. When experimenting with new arms, tactics or technic, every detail of the experiment must be thoroughly understood. It must be determined whether the subject of the test meets the specifications of the military service sufficient to warrant its adoption. This conclusion can be reached only by the actual use of the article, and by an exacting consideration of its merits. The advancement and development of the equipment of the United States Army depends upon the judgment exercised by the men.

Each man of this regiment may be called an expert in military science. The additional duties of the Infantry School in which he is instructed, place him foremost in the ranks of modern soldiers.

Battles, planned before they are executed, must be carried out un-hesitatingly and without error, no one may falter, each man must have a thorough knowledge of the part he is to play, in order that the result may be satisfactory. This duty is carried out by the 29th Infantry and its component units in a manner that has been the source of commendation by officers from many armies (Please turn to page 20)

Barracks, 29th Infantry

I. S. D. Is Unique Among Units Forming Ft. Benning's Personnel

"Battalion Of Specialists" Performs Number Of Highly Important Duties In Administration Work Of Post

In the operation of the great military establishment, The Infantry School, whose activities may be compared to those of an enormous laboratory whose researches extend into every phase of training of the foot soldier, his weapons, his protective because there are nearly five hundred devices, his transportation, and his reactions as a human being to all of the conditions which he may face, either in time of war or in time of peace, there must be, as in any other laboratory, a staff of specialists whose varied qualifications are such as to enable the institution to cover its entire field adequately.

The Infantry School has such a staff, a staff of enlisted men, which probably is the largest concentrated group of selected soldiers in the United States army. Every man in it owes his membership to some special qualification. The range of accomplishment of these men includes everything from manual dexterity to out tanding soldier ability and intellectual attainments. Collectively, these men are known as the Infantry School Detachment. The term "detachment" is a misnomer, for in general military usage it conveys the idea of a relatively small group. "Battalion of Specialists," Infantry School," would be a more descriptive title, not only because the Infantry Detachment is an aggregation of men of special knowledge and ability but men comprised in this group.

Like many other enterprises of magnitude and importance the Infantry School Detachment is a development of small beginning. Its incepton took place twenty-six years ago at the Presidio of Monterey. It was then known as a school of musketry, which was organized as a local training school. Five men, four of them infantrymen and one an ordnance sergeant, were comprised in the per-

In 1913 the school of musketry was transferred to Fort Sill, Oklahoma, where it became a permanent organization and was officially designated at the Detachment, School of Musketry. At that time the authorized strength of the detachment was ninety-four enlisted men, eighty-two of whom were transferred to it from other organizations. Colonel Richard M. Blatchford, who later became a brigadier general, was then commandant of the School of Musketry to which the detachment belonged.

On October 3, 1917, the detachment's official title was changed to the Detachment, Infantry School of Arms, and its enlisted personnel was increased to 428.

In October, 1918, the Infantry School of Arms was moved to Colum bus, Georgia, where it was reorganized and enlarged. The detachment crrived in Columbus on October 6th and established its camp on the Macon Road just beyond Wynnton. In June, 1919, the camp in Columbus was abandoned and the detachment moved to Fort Benning. It was early in 1919 that the machine-gun school, comprising some two hundred men was then transferred to the Detachment, Infantry School of Arms.

On February 10, 1921, the Detachment, Infantry School of Arms was designated Infantry School Detachment. At that time it consisted of two parts, one white and the other colored. Later the colored section was disbanded, leaving the present authorized strength of 424 men.

With duties ranging from experimental work to instructorship in the Infantry School these men carry on in connection with the world's largest school of arms. The qualifications are the most widely varied in the military service, but all go to make the main cog in the institution of the world's largest school of arms.

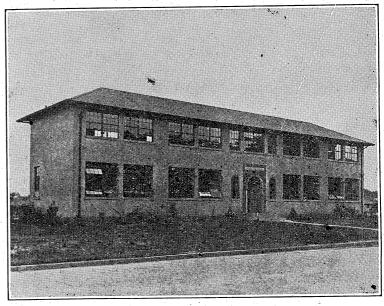

Benning Is Only U. S. Post To Have Tank Unit With Full Equipment

All Types Of Tanks Are Included In Armament Of Benning's Outfit; Varied Duties Occupy Time Of Organization

the only post in the United States Army to have on permanent duty a tank organization employing all types of the land battleships now used by the armed forces of this country, is held by Fort Benning, the home of the Infantry School.

As the world's largest school of training of infantry officers, it is only also be foremost in the use, study as the 2d Battalion, then designated

The unique distinction of being fied, Company A, 301st Battalion (Heavy) replacing Company B, 344th Battalion, which was redesignated as the 5th Tank Company. On April 1, 1920, the battalion less Company C, left Camp Meade, and arrived at Camp Benning on April 4th. Company C, rejoined the battalion July 3, 1921, at this station. Since coming arms, and a leading institution in the to Benning, the tank unit has undergone three redesignations. From the natural that the Infanry School should 344th Battalion it was changed to the

One of Buildings of Tank Group

and development of the latest weapon as he 2d Battalion, 1st Tank Regi of battle, which has been allotted to the charge of the most important arm of warfare.

The 66th Infantry (Light Tanks), with Company F, 67th Infantry (Medium Tanks) attached, is the unit that fulfills this role at Fort Benning. On March 19, 1920, the 341th Battalion was selected as the demonstration battalion for the Infantry School. The organization was modiment (Light) and it was recently changed to 2d Battalion, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks). In September, 1931, the Tank Unit was joined by another company from Fort Meade. Maryland, Company F, 2d Tank Regiment which was sent here after the regiment had been rendered inactive. Later it was redesignated at Company F, 67th Infantry (Medium Tanks). Please turn to page 20)

Welcome Warning To The Students Of The 1933-34 Class Of The Infantry School

BE SURE YOUR EYES ARE IN GOOD CONDITION BEFORE YOU START IN ON THE CLASSROOM ROUTINE

Your glasses may be obtained through the Post Exchange.

LL OPTICAL CO.

26 Years In Columbus

HUMES

for Furniture for Radios for Pianos

VISIT OUR 5-ROOM BUNGALOW ON SECOND FLOOR—IT'S A PLEASURE TO HAVE THE FT. BENNING PEOPLE IN-SPECT OUR COMPLETE STOCK—ALL -MARKED IN PLAIN FIGURES

24th Infantry Proud Of Long Band Of 24th Inf. Term Of Service In War And Peace Is Oldest Colored

Colored Regiment Participated In Notable Battle Of San Juan Hill During Spanish-American War

try School, here is none with broader historical background or prouder traditions than the 24th Infantry, one of the two regiments of colored infantry in the United States army. This crack negro regiment was organized from remnants of the four original colored regular regiments which had been authoized under special act of Congress on July 28, 1866, and came into being on November 1, 1869.

For thirty years the 24th Infantry garrisoned numerous army posts, most of which were located on Indian frontiers, and although it did not participate extensively in any of the Indian campaigns, the performance of such a variety of duties in the field gave it a high reputation for efficiency throughout the army.

It was in the Spanish-American War that the 24th Infantry wrote a new page in military history and demonstrated the sterling qualities of the American negro soldier. At Santiago the gallant twenty-fourth faced unflinchingly the withering fire of the Spanish Mausers, and after an assault by a white regiment, the colored regulars pressed forward to the final and captured the enemy's stronghold. It also took part in the capture of San Juan Hill and later were ordered to Siboney where a large field hospital had been established to care for the victims of yellow fever. Here the 24th regiment acted as nurses, orderlies and caretakers for the patients, and when they were relieved at Siboney, only 198 men out of the entire unit were able to march to the transport that was to carry them back to the United States.

After a period of recuperation in a widely distributed territory in the jungle campaigns.

At the time of the Mexican disturbances the twenty-fourth was stationed at Columbus, New Mexico, of proficiency. Despite their numer

Among the many units of Uncle | and in March, 1916, it was incorporat-Sam's army stationed at the Infan- ed into Pershing's Punitive expedition, and remained in Mexico assisting in guarding the long line of communications until February 5th, 1917. Although the twenty-fourth was not selected for overseas service, many specialists and non-commissioned of ficers were taken from its ranks and sent with other colored regiments that were sent to France.

On October 9th, 1922 the twenty fourth arrived at Fort Benning, where it has become one of the important cogs in the mechanism of the Infantry School. Here it performs a mul-

Band In Country

Has Accompanied Regiment Into All Its Engagements

The 24th Infantry Band is the oldest band (colored) in the United States. Organized with the 24th regiment of Infantry in Texas at the close of the civil war, the band has accompanied the regiment on all expeditions and engagements participated in for over half a century. Included in this service have been stations and out-posts along the Texas border and in Indian territory during the early Indian Campaigns; three tours of service in the Philippine Is-

24th Infantry Theater

titude of services which have neither lands; in Cuba during the Spanishglamor nor romance and its reward American War; and in Mexico with consists largely in the satisfaction of duty well performed and of the appreciation of those for whom it renthe U.S. the 24th was ordered to the ders services Were it not for the Philippine Islands to aid in quelling twenty-fourth Infantry the demonstrathe insurgents. And there it was split tions of The Infantry School would into small detachments and fought in lose a great deal of their effectiveness for the overhead which is now carried by the colored regiment would have to be performed by the demonstration units, with a consequent loss the Punitive Expedition. During this latter service the band became known as "Pershing's Own."

Few men leave the band once they become members. Four have served for over twenty-seven years. Several members are the second generation to serve with this organization, and one has the distinction of being the third generation with the 24th Infantry. Taking into consideration the youngest recruit, the average age of all members of the organization is thirty-one years, and the average service is eleven years.

Before being accepted as a member, an applicant is required to demonstrate his musical ability during a period of six months and is required to complete a one year course of training at the Army Music School in Washington D. C. Applicants are usually young men who have had experience with civilian orchestras.

The leader of this band, Warrant Officer Robert Tresville, is an accomplished musician as well as an instructor. He studied under Frank and Walter Damrosch and is the only colored man selected to be a member of the famous Damrosch Choral Club. The natural musical talent of the colored race has been preserved through systematic training brought to such a standard that for martial music the band is unequalled. It is one of the few bands which can extemporize and transpose with no apparent effort.

Composed of sixty pieces, it is the largest regimental band in the army. Attached to it fis mehaouts vbgkqcm Attached to it is the famous 24th Infantry Bugle and Drum Corps of twenty-four additional pieces. The bugle corps is modeled after the famouse Morrocan Bugle Corps.

ous duties, the units of the Twenty-Fourth Infantry carry on with little interruption their comba practice and it is not improbable that if they are called again to the field of battle they would acquit themselves as creditably as their predecessors who won fame and glory for the regiment at

STUDENTS:

Introduce yourself to the finest of Southern confections by asking next time for a bag of

TOASTED PEANUTS

These delicious, browned, toasted peanuts are the finest you've ever eaten-each one a treat fit for a king.

Special Showing SIMMONS

BEDS — MATTRESSES — SPRINGS IN

> Newest designs, colors and patterns are now on display at our store-call in and see the newest in Simmons wooden beds -Mahogany and Walnut-in both full size and twin.

Also Simmons Metal beds in newest styles and finishes-including the new Zalamite panel.

Complete display and assortment of Simmons Springs, including the new "Special Ace."

We have also new colors and designs in Beautyrests, Deepsleep and Slumber King mattresses.

SPECIAL

$3.00 FOR YOUR OLD MATTRESS

A beautiful Simmons springfilled mattress, made with attractive cover, with 299-coil spring constructions—at:

WITH $3 ALLOWANCE ON YOUR OLD MATTRESS TERMS

LIBERAL DISCOUNT FOR CASH EXCEPT NATIONALLY ADVERTISED GOODS

Cunningham Furniture Co.

SUCCESSORS TO JOHNSTON CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO. 1014 Broadway Phone 460

Makers of Fine Printing Plates

WRIGLEY ENGRAVING CO.

Atlanta, Georgia

WE ARE GLAD TO WELCOME

The Students of the 1933-34 Classes of The Infantry School

WHILE AT BENNING ASK FOR

COLLINS BREAD AND CAKES

AT THE POST EXCHANGE GROCERY

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Tankers Win In Swimming

Retain Eight Year Old Championship By Slim Margin

Blue Thunderbolt Comes Within Ace Of Toppling Defender From Throne

The post swimming meet, annual classic of the Infantry School, was held last Saturday morning, with the Golden Tornado of the Tank Battalion retaining their eight-year old championship by the slimmest of margins. The Tank victory is directly attributable to the first place awarded in the diving, for had it not been for this, the ancient rivals of the Terrible Tankers, the 2nd Battalion, 29th Infantry, would have tied the score

The entire meet was in doubt all the way, with the Blue Thunderbolt and the Tornado fighting it out all along the line. Perhaps the most thrilling event of all was the 300 yd. medley relay, the last on the program, in which the Kelly's just managed to nose out the Tankers by the grace of God and the length of an arm.

The Tanks were badly hampered by the absence of Tannehill, who is splashing the waters of the Panama Canal. Lucas, Tanker, the high point winner of the meet, did his best, how ever, to compensate for the loss, and dashed off some nice wins in several

The surprise of the entire meet was the showing made by the Green Wave of the 1st Battalion, and the winning of the 100 yd. breast stroke by Boze man, of the Headquarters Battalion, in which he clicked off a new post record. Bozeman had not been figured in the dope sheet, as it was thought Parr of the Tanks, had a swim-away, but the Spare Parts merman, using a new double-stroke, clipped 1 1-4 seconds off the post time. In the heart-breaking 300 yd. medley relay, Latham, of the 2nd Batts, and Humphreys, of the Tanks, jockeyed down the course, fighting for second place, with the Spare Parts swimmer in the lead. The breast stroke found Walker of the Kellys overcoming the Headquarters lad to send Wilson, 2nd Batts, into the water ten feet ahead of Ervin, anchor man for the Tornado. Down the stretch they came, Wilson holding his lead, and making it look like a cinch for the Thunderbolt. In the last twenty yards Ervin, swimming beyond anything he had ever shown before showed a wonderful exhibition of fighting heart as he battled his way forward to slap the finish line with Wilson in a one-two rythm that looked like a dead heat. The judge's ruling, however, gave the victory to Kellys by a split second.

Total points scored by the Tanks amounted to 44, of which Lucas accounted for 10. The 2d Batts were riding the Tankers' heels with 39; the 1st Batts trailing with 12, and the Headquarters group capturing 5.

Results and time were as follows: 400 yd. relay: Tanks, team of Lucas, Sheldon, Ervin, Jones. 2d Bn.; 1st Bn. Time: 4.33 2-5

100 vd. breast stroke: Bozeman, Hq. Bn.: Parr, Tanks; Walker, 2d Bn.; Glidwell, 1st Bn.; Wilson, meet. 2d Bn. Time 26.2

400 vd. free style: Lucas, Tanks; Prophet, J.; 2nd Bn.; 1st Bn. Time 6.15 100 yd. back stroke: Latham, 2nd Bn.; Glidwell, 1st Bn., Humphreys, Tanks. Time: 1.24 4-5 10 yd. free style: Wilson, 2nd Bn.; Ervin, Tanks; Polawada, 2nd Bn. Time 1.05 2-5.

Action pictures showing the grace ful diving of some of the entrants in the Post Swimming Meet which was held last Saturday. The Benning teams possess to an unusual degree gracefulness and form wrich makes for perfect diving. At the bottom is yd. free style: Herrington, 2nd shown the high point winner of the > 200 yd. free style: Lucas, Tanks; Sheldon, Tanks; Prophet J., 2nd Bn. Time: 2.42 3-5

300 yd. medley relay: 2d Bn., team of Latham, Walker, and Wilson. Tanks, Hq. Bn. Time: 4.13 Fancy Diving: Parr, Tanks; Jones, Tanks; Littlefield, 2nd Bn.

:-: BASEBALL :-:

(By N. H. HOBBS)

ed Gowdy Field practically useless for the past week. However several games have been staged there, including such brilliant exhibitions of baseball as the shutout defeat suf-fered by the Special Units nine at the hand of the Headquarers Team and the fourteen inning battle contested by the Irish of the 1st Battalion, 29th and Headquarters Battalion nine also of the Demonstra-

The fourteen inning struggle was the most spectacular of the two and is declared to be the best played at Gowdy this season.

At the present writing the Kellys of the second Battalion are leading the league with a total of eleven games played, nine won and two defeated, giving them a percentage of 819; Thundering on their heels is the Headquarters Team of the 29th Infantry who have played ten games and have won seven and lost three for an average of 700; The Special Units of the Infantry School Detachment are next having contested eleven fracases, emerging victorious in seven and suffering defeat in four for a PC of 636. The 1st Battalion Irish have boosted their average 46 points and have been living up to their name as the Fighting Irish of the 1st Battalion by playing in two consecutive extra period contests. One with the Tank Battalion and the other with the Black Pirates. The Tanks and Artillery are holding down the two cellar positions, the Tanks having played eleven games, won three and lost eight while the Artillery or Redlegs as they are often called have contested ten games but have failed yet to emerge victorious in a single one.

The race for the bunting is tightening up now, there is still a chance for the Special Units and Headquarters to be at the invincible Kellys of the Second Battalion and the results of next week's games will probably decide the champions of the second half. In event the Kells win the bunting in the final session of intramural baseball there will be no playoff-the Blue Thunderbolt having won the first half and they will be the undisputed champions of Fort Ben-

TANKS AND 1ST BATTALION

In a thrilling eleven inning battle in which Charlie Banks, home run swatter of the Green Wave nine, made a chump of the Tank hurler, the 1st Battalion bested the Tank baseball nine in a close game at Gowdy field, the final score being 5 to 4.

The Irish led off with the scoring in the opening frame after Johnson had singled and Banks brought him home with a scorching bingle over the keystone sack.

Lefty Smith, who worked on the rubber for the Green Wave, held the innings, but weakened in the sixth stanza to allow the Golden Tornado 2 singles and 3 runs, with an error on the part of the Irish left fielder helping the cause.

The Irish knotted the score in their turn at bat and shoved 2 more markers across the plate by virtue of an error on the Tank hot corner man and two timely hits by Banks and Seymour.

Lt. Kellam's nine untied the score in the lucky seventh, but the Irish pulled even again in the eighth frame afer Snead poled out a grass-cutting single and Seymour again brought a run in by his timely clouting.

The end of the ninth frame found both teams in a 4-4 deadlock which continued until the eleventh, when the fun started. Reddock singled and

The intermittent rains have render- went to second on a wild pitch by Segrest, Tank twirler. grounded to short and Johnson was purposely passed by Segrest. Charlie Banks, next man at bat, loomed like a gigantic nightmare in front of the Tank twirler, who, upon receipt of orders from the Tank coach intended to walk Charlie. Banks realized this and despairing at the thoughts of continuing the game further, reached far out on the other side of the plate and tapped the ball right on the nose, sending Reddock home and winning hard fought ball game.

Score by innings-000 003 100 00 4 9 4 Tanks _____ First Battalion 100 002 010 01 5 11 3 Batteries, Tanks: Clapsdale, Rowan, Segrest and Sullivan.

1st Bn.: Smith, Santa, Foster and Snead.

Summaries: Banks was the hitting (Please turn to page 19)

Benning Invades Football Battle-Ground Of South

L' Roi est Mort! Vive L' Roi! Or in plain everyday Anglo-Saxon, intramural football at Fort Benning, long the Mecca of service sports, is a thing of the past, and a bigger and better system has come to replace it.

In conjunction with the announcement that, due to the request of the organization commanders of the larger units of the post, intramural football would be dropped from the athletic schedule for the next year, comes the news that the 29th Infantry, largest infantry regiment of the United States Army, is to organize and maintain a regimental fotball team, principally for intercollegiate competition among Southern colleges, but ready and willing to take on all

STUDENTS:

We'd like to add our welcome to that of the many others who are glad to see you among the members of the classes of The Infantry School. We hope, as they do, that you will have a most successful and interesting school year and that you will successfully meet all obstacles to the completion of your Academic work.

The South's Best Dressed Men Are Endorsing SCHWOBILT REGUSPATOR CLOTHES

The SCHWOB Co.

The Standard Tailoring Company

1037 Broadway

Columbus, Ga.

BASEBALL

(Continued From Page 18) star of the game, securing four bingles out of six trips to the plate. Sharing honors with him for willow wielding was Seymour, Irish shortstop, whose timely clouting was the highlight of the contest.

Obrion and Smith took slugging honors for the Tankers, each banging out two hits during their appearances before the twirlers.

Reddock, who played at short du ing the fracas, turned in his usual fine exhibition of baseball and swiped the bag at second twice in a row after gaining the initial sack by sing-

SPECIAL UNITS AND HQ. BN. (Sept. 29th, 1933)

Preacher Parsons, hurling ace of the Black Pirate pitching saff again twirled his team to a shutout victory when he handed the Special Units of the Infantry School Detachment a flock of goose eggs and won the contest for the Spare Parts 3

Although numerous errors were recorded against the Pirates they succeeded in pulling out of the tight places on exceptional fielding quali-

The Pirates scored one marker in theopening frame when Fraiche tripled and sprinted home as Morrow grounded to short. They tallied again in the third inning Fraiche hit and was propelled around to scoring position by Hayes and Hebert, crossing the rubber at home when Morrow singled. The third counter was recorded for the Spare Parts and was made by Fraiche, who was responsible for all of his team's scoring, when he dented the rubber at the plate in the eighth spasm after gaining the initial sack on an error, and came home when Morrow grounded to second.

The Special Units threatened in the fifth inning when three errors were recorded against the Spare Parts infield and the bases were loaded. but the strain was relieved when Massey flied out to third, and the next player skied to first. Robertson whiffed with the bases loaded, to complete the fiasco.

Score by innings-Sp. Units _____ 000 000 000 0 5 2 Hq. Bn. 29th___ 101 000 01x 3 5 5 Batteries: Gilbert and Newman; Parsons and Wright. Umpires Lindsey and Nourse.

83RD FIELD ARTILLERY & TANKS (Sept. 6th, 1933)

The Tanks and Artillery engaged in a nip and tuck encounter in last Tuesday's contest in which the Tanks emerged victorious over their barrack

The Redlegs scored two runs in the second frame after Holloway had walked. Speer was safe at first on a fielder's choice, Rhodes gained the initial sack when the hot corner man for the Tanks was credited with an error, and a repetition of the last act was made when the third baseman committed another misplay, filling the bases. Matthews brought two runs home when he singled. Wilson sin-

STUDENTS:

Remember, when buying Jewelry, that you can find the best quality, the best bargains, and the best service at this store.

You Are Always WELCOME

GEM. JEWELRY COMPANY

Cor. 12th & Broadway

G. Peyton is shown speaking at the swimming meet won by the Tankers at Russ Pool last Saturday morning. The Blue Thunderbolt of the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry, came within an ace of nosing out the winning team.

gled but both runners died on base low and brought Jordan home from as Morris skied to right field.

The Tankers knotted the score in ending the debacle. the third spasm but the Cannoneers tally another counter and even the score, three all.

Lt. Kellam's nine opened up with was good for three markers and third and short. proved to be the undoing of the Ar-

The valiant Redlegs, consistently fighting for victory, staged a desperate rally in the final stanza which althe inning three runs behind, Rhodes at second when Nelson was safe at first on a fielder's choice. Matthews man bobbled the ball, placing runed the rubber at home when Morris hit safely. Wilson stopped at third tagged out by the Pirate backsop on this hit. Cherry attemped a squeeze play but unfortunately he popped to the pitcher and caught Wilson off third, retiring the side and ending the ball game.

Jakey Morris pitched the entire nine innings for the Cannoneers and twirled his usual fine game of ball.

Clapsdale started on the rubber for the Golden Tornado but was sent to the dugout in the eighth frame after the Redlegs had tied the score. Segrest relieved him on hillock duty and was given a big scare in the final chapter when the Artillery staged their desperate comeback.

Holloway, Morris and Matthews were the hitting power for the Artillery while Swantic and Stanisbury starred with the willow for their team.

Score by innings-Artillery _____ 02 000 012 5 8 3 - 101 010 03x 8 6 4 Batteries: Morris and Matthews;

Clapsdale, Segrest and Sullivan. Umpires: Wolfe and Nourse.

HQ. BN. AND 1ST BN.

In one of the most thrilling games of the season to be played at Gowdy field. Headquarters Batalion and the 1st Battalion battled fourteen innings to finally end up in a deadlock at

Neither pitcher would allow the winning run to cross the plate. Foster, who was tossing them over for the Irsih, was pitting his sturdy arm against by Parsons of the Headquarters Bat-

The Black Pirates started the scoring in the third frame. Fraiche was at second, and travelled to third when Hayes bingled. He scored when the Irish hot corner player bobbled the ball.

The Green Wave came back strong in their turn at bat and scored two markers to lead the Pirates. Foster led off the attack with a neat single, the next man at bat grounded to Pirate hurling staff was sent into the second, no advance, then Little Herbie game in the 13th inning when run-Jordan bounced the old agate off of the score board for a nice double, and Preacher Parsons had walked the keystone. Rollo skied to center

Lt. Ferenbaugh's proteges knotted came back strong in the eighth to the contest, two all, in the fourth spasm, after Boots Foster had issued a free pass and hit Parsons with a pitched ball. Fraiche brought Wright a barrage of hits in the eighth that home with a grass-cutter between

From the fourth inning on the affray was classed as a pitchers' duel-Foster against Parsons-neither twirler relenting or showing signs of weakening until the last half of the most cost the Tanks a game. Starting ninth frame when the Irish threatened to end the contest. Rollo was led off with a single, but was forced issued a free ticket to first, then stole second and went to third on an overthrow. Snead grounded to short hit, Nelson stopped at second. Wilson who was playing far in on the green was safe at first when the third base in order to nip the runner if he started home. Seymour whiffed afners on all bases. Two runners dent- ter he attempted to squeeze Rollo from the hot corner, and Rollo was when Seymour tipped the ball in an attempted bunt that failed to connect.

From that phase of the game on, neither team could connect, each striving for the one marker which would win, inning after inning, three up, three down until the start of the 15th chapter in the history of one of the greatest and most spectacular games to be played, at Fort Benning's diamond this year.

Wolfe who was Umping behind the rubber called the game on account of darkness and a steady drizzle that was intermittent during the struggle.

Several times during the contest the twirlers got in the hole owing to a wet ball, but they would pull themselves out of the pit aided by brilliant fielding on the part of their

Each team was credited with an error, the misplay for the Irish resulted in a run being scored, but the overthrow by the Black Pirate catcher proved uneventful.

Jordan was the fielding star of the Green Wave when he raced way back on the green to catch what looked like a base knock, and would have been but for his brilliant exhibition. He was also responsible for his team's runs when he brought Foster home with a double that jarred the lights the slow curves and crooks offered ber at the plate himself when Johnson came across with a timely bingle.

Morrow, right field ball hawk of the Black Pirate nine was the hitting star for the Spare Parts when he safe at first when Wright was forced poled out three singles and a double and was issued a free pass out of six trips to the plate.

Score by innings-Hq. Bn. 001 100 000 000 00 2 7 1 lst Bn. 002 000 000 000 00 2 6 1 Batteries: Parsons, White, Wright;

Foster and Reddock. Umpires: Wolfe and Lindsey.

Note: White, speed ball ace of the ners were riding second and third scoring Foster from the initial sack. Rollo, filling the bases. White re-Olie Johnson connected with the wil-tired Snead on called strikes.

24th Inf. Tennis Enthusiasts Hold Tennis Tourney

Colored net stars from the entire South congregated at Fort Benning last week to take part in the first invitation tennis tournament to be staged by the 24th Infantry Tennis Club this season. Over forty players, some of them from as far away as New Orleans were entered in the meet, and ran away with most of the honors, the Happy Heart rackerteers capturing

In addition to the tennis playing, there was a very interesting program of entertainment staged by the Tennis Club. Friday the competitors and guests of the organization held a bridge tournament, with C. Hamilton, Memphis, taking first place in the men's class and W. H. Mitchell, New Orleans, and H. F. Adams, Tuskegee, taking second and low score respectively. Mrs. H. W. Farley, Columbus, was first among the women, Mrs. J. L. Allen, Fort Benning, second, and Mrs. Fletcher Reeves, also of Fort Benning, low score. Saturday the guests of the regiment were escorted on a tour of the post, transportation being furnished by the 24th personnel, under the direction of Staff Sergeant L. A. Scipio. Saturday evening the 24th Infantry Theater presented a picture for the contestants only, following which the 500 Club staged a

Winners in the various events of the tennis matches are as follows: Men's singles: Dr. J. B. Garrett, and Dr. H. O. Mathews, both of Tuskegee, to play off for place Sunday, Sept. 11, in Tuskegee.

Mixed Doubles: Private C. H. Penrose, 24th Infantry and Myrtle Cranson, Fort Benning, defeated O. S. Moss, New Orleans, and Almela Hill, Atlanta, 6-2, 6-4.

Women's Singles: Laura Demery. Atlanta, defeated Jesse Abbott, Tuske-

School Days

To our patrons of Fort Benning WE kindly call your attention to the service we render to all who are in need of BI-CYCLE Our pairs. truck is at the filling station three days out of each week, as follows: Tuesdays, Thursdays, and Saturdays, from about 10:30 to 11:30. Any repairs you might have we will appreciate taking care of them. Our charges are positively no more than if you were to bring them to our establishment. All makes repaired, and all work guaranteed.

Davenport Cycle Company

111 - 10th Street Phone 2474

EXTENDS

GREETINGS

TO ALL

Incoming Student Officers Their Families

And the Entire Personnel at Fort Benning

WE INVITE YOU TO BECOME ACQUAINTED WITH

NEHI BEVERAGES

NEHI COLA

RUMS DRY GINGER ALE

TRUE FRUIT BEVERAGES

(Nehi True Fruit Orange)

(Nehi True Fruit Grapefruit)

NEHI MALTED CHOCOLATE

29TH INFANTRY IS OUTFIT OF EXPERTS

(Continued from page 16)

The regiment is made up of fourteen organizations. Six rifle companies, two battalion machine gun companies, one regimental machine gun company, two battalion headquarters companies, one regimental headquarters company, a service company and a cannon company. The Service Company is the largest organization in the regiment and its duties are to furnish the transportation for the other units. In this duty it is able to cooperate with the remainder of the regiment in a most efficient manner. Recently enlarged by a program of motorization, the Service Company is equipped with a fleet of trucks of the latest type, ranging from the large Marmon-Herrington to the new Ford vehicle, and the trusty mule for transport over rough terrain. The Regimental and Battalion machine gun companies are the nucleus for machine gun activities and it is through these units that the student officers learn the operation of the infantry's most valuable weapon. The Regimental and Battalion Headquarters Companies make up the staffs of the regiment, furnish communication facilities, and scouts for the unit in the field. The Cannon Company is made up of one platoon of .37 mm cannons and one of the various trench mortars in use by the army, and is the sole source of instruction in the use of these weapons at Fort Benning. The remainder of the companies are equipped with the caliber .30 rifle and form the shock troops of the regiment.

The normal commissioned strength of the regiment is seventy-nine officers, but at the present time practically three-fourths of these are on duty with the Civilian Conservation Corps in the field. It is hoped that these will be replaced and returned to duty before the school year is much further advanced in order that the demonstration schedule may be carried out in full.

The organization is at present under the command of Colonel William E. Persons, who assumed the command upon its relinquishment by Colonel John W. Toffey.

In World History

Though Company C, 2nd Chemical Regiment, with its chemical mortars, Livens projectors, and portable chemical cylinders, appears to be contributing a brand new art to military science at the Infantry School, Fort Benning, the Greeks had soldiers on the same kind of duty and doubtless had a name for them, too!

Asphyxiating smokes, dust and chemicals, such as Greek fire and sulphur have played a part in war since time immemorial. The World War, of course, saw chemical warfare waged for the first time in a big way. But even then the conditions of were peculiar and tactics of chemicals were not fully developed.

The premeditated use of smoke in battle is a new development of war and, while little known, its importance is engaging the attention of military authorities. Smoke tactics is a rapidly developing science.

At Fort Benning the principal functions of Company C are to assist in the development of the tactics and technique of the use of smoke to demonstrate to the students of the Infantry School the weapons and material of he Chemical Warfare Service, to work with the Infantry in the tests and development of new appliances, and to participate with other troops at Fort Benning in exercises and maneuvers.

The company is also available to the Post Chemical Officer to assist in the conduct of schools for unit gas officers and noncommissioned officers and to aid such officers and noncommissioned officers in the training of their units in the defense against chemical attack. Such training includes instructions in the use and care of protective devices and appliances with particular reference to the gas mask, in the construction and use of gas shelters, neutralization of chemical agents, identification agents, first aid to gas casualties, smoke tactics and chemical tactics from the point of view of defense.

C. D. SHINE

JOHN LOCKE

RENT-A-CAR COMPANY

DRIVE YOURSELF 519 - 8TH STREET PHONE 9579

COURTESY TO ALL

Chemical Warfare History Of Tank Warfare Emphasizes Old-New Science Value Of "Land Battleships" To Army

The history of warfare, like that of other human activities, has been one of constant change. The trend has been one of advancement, both in equipment and the methods of training. The World War, with its problems and difficulties, involving the master minds of the machine age, gave the movement an impetusness that resulted in phenomenal advances in all branches of the armed forces. And, nowhere was this advancement more in evidence than in the Infan try and its relative branches.

The Tank Corps, born of this period of organization and development is undoubtedly the most important and far-reaching in its effect.

The history of the tank in the American Army begins with the World War, when the doughboys took over many machines of early British and French manufacture, and by accepting volunteers from other units, formed the wartime tank units. The Tank battalion of the Infantry School, made up of the 2d Battalion, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks), and Company F, 67th Infantry (Medium Tanks) were the first tank combat units formed in Europe in 1917.

From the now obsolete creations of wartime to the up-to-date, highspeed, tanks of the present time has been one of the greatest advancements in the 20th Century. Tanks, which in 1918 travelled at six miles per hour, have been replaced by ma-chines that attain a speed of fortysix miles per hour over the same terrain. For rapid transportation they are built so that it is possible to transport them under their own power at the remarkable rate of ninety miles per hour.

The use of the tank in connection with the operation of the Infantry School is, indeed, a very important one. The tank, accepted by all as one of the most valuable weapons of modern warfare, will be found in every engagement. Not only are they used for training purposes, or for creating in full detail, a mimic battle which the students must plan and carry out, but they are also studied to find the most effective means of combating them, when used by the enemy.

The Tank Battalion of the Infantry School is equipped with every model of tank in use by the United States Army, from the ponderous 44-ton Mark VIII, to the tiny Ford, Uncle Sam's contribution to the implements of war of the Allied Forces in 1917-18. They have the latest Ordnance Types, Super-speed Christies, and two companies of the French Renault.

When the Infantry School begins its course of instructions for the officers of the regular army, the tanks will see action, as a relative unit of the highly-trained demonstration regiment, in putting into execution the studies of the students.

150 Men Comprise Q.M. Dept. Staff Of Specialists

With duties ranging from clerk at the commissary to tinsmiths of the utilities shops, some 150 men form the Quartermaster Detachment of the Infantry School, and carry on their duties in connection with the world's largest school of arms. The burden of supplying a garrison of an army post the size of Fort Benning with the necessary subsistence, clothing, quarters, and equipment is a very heavy one, and for this purpose a large detachment of Quartermaster men are necessary. Vast projects of construction have taken place at Benning. Repairs on the warehouses, dwellings and office buildings are necessary. All worn or damaged property is to be replaced. Each organization must have its daily rations. Troops msut have transportation to and from their place of duty. This is but a few of the things that the men of the quartermaster are called upon to do, and duties not performed by men of this unit are carried on under their direction.

(Please turn to page 21)

Ten Years Ago Last Week

Calculator, "nobody's dog, but every one's pet", was poisoned by strychine

The Infanry School News celebrated its first birthday, having progressed from a small, book-sized publication, to almost full newspaper size.

Colonel A. W. Bjornstad was assigned to Benning as assistant command-ant, leaving the command of the 3rd Infantry to take over the job.

The Columbus Motor Club joined hands with post personnel to keep the Fort Benning road in good shape They began with a judicious and hopeful dragging of the dirt highway.

The 24th Infantry finished range season with 96.75 per cent of the regiment qualified. The 3nd Battalion led with an average of 98.86, eight companies, Hq., A, C, D, F, H, and M, qualifying 100 per cent.

TANKERS ONLY OUTFIT WITH COMPLETE EQUIPMENT (Continued from page 16)

Working in connection with the Infantry School the "ironclad doughboys" find their duties varied. From the gigantic forty-four ton Mark VIII to the Ford two-man tank is a wide field of study, offering a collection of some fourteen different models of automotive fighting craft. Tanks that easily span a trench sixteen feet in width and carry a crew of eleven men are valuable as instructional Quick-maneuvering Ordmachines. nance models, designed for close fighting and used as a replacement for the cavelry, are included in the course, and the speedy Christie machine, which is able to cover the rougher terrain at forty-seven miles per hr. and 80 miles per hr. on paved roads, is the latest development in the science of war. Through actual execution of the maneuvers they have planned, the students of the Infantry School learn the art of war. If a battle is planned and does not turn out as expected they profit by their errors. No battle is complete without the tank. In the mimic wars fought at Fort Benning, the tanks support the movements of the infantry troops. In the execution of these engagements they carry out their wartime duties.

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

RESOURCES OVER_____

....$ 600,000.00

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

COLUMBUS ORANGE GROVES

On the Benning Road at Intersection of Brown St.

Carrying a complete line of citrus fruits and vegetables, welcomes the class and invites your patronage.

Our products are always fresh and reasonably priced

PHONE 2078

WELCOME TO THE STUDENTS of the Infantry School

All Grades Of Fine, Low-Ash Bituminous Coal For Furnace And Grate Highnote Coal & Transfer Co.

1201 - 10TH AVENUE

PHONE 160

ON GUARD

United States Government Inspectors are always on guard at the busiest places in Columbus, Georgia. They inspect every animal before and after slaughter. That is one reason Old Settler's Pork Sausage is becoming the great American breakfast in these parts.

Bear down—"Buddy"—every ounce is guaranteed pure by

The Provision Co., Inc.

Schedule Of Instruction For Coming Week For Classes Of Inf. School

The schedule of instruction for the School stables will be the scene of this three classes of the Infantry School for the week beginning September 11, is with the exception of the tank class composed largely of out-of-door instruction in the form of scouting and patrolling, map work, and rifle marks-

Monday morning the students of the advanced course will have practical work in map reading, consisting of a motor trip along the 1st Division, Cusseta and Benning Boulevard reads, under the direction of Captain George F. Bloomquist. During the afternoon from 1 to 3, Major Thomas S. Arms will supervise a demonstration and practical work in scouting and patroling, in the vicinity of the trench area.

At 5:00 P. M. Major Arms will again take the students to the trench area, where they will have practical work in night patrolling, lasting till 8 o'clock.

Tuesday morning will begin with a lecture on industrial moblization by Major George L. Kraft. The second period will be devoted to a demonstration of landscape target firing under the direction of Captain Alexander H. Cummings. The last period before noon will be a rifle field firing demonstration also under the supervision of Captain Cummings.

At 2 o'clock the students will have à lecture on Topography, Aerial Maps and Photos by Captain George F. Bloomquist. The lecture will be followed by practical work on the same subject.

A lecture on military history, covering the landing at Cape Holles and Gallipoli will take up the first class period on Wednesday, September 13. and will be give by Major W. W Eagles and Captain Walter C. Phillips. The second period will be on practical work in equitation. The class will be at the Infantry School stables where the students will secure their mounts.

In the afternoon of Wednesday, from 1 to 2 o'clock September 13, the students will be at the dsposal of the Assistant Commandant. At 2 P. M. they will repair to Davis Hill for a conference, demonstration and practical work in the tactics of scouting and patrolling, under the direction of Major Thomas S. Arms. From 8 till 11:00 P. M. the officers will have practical work in night patrolling at Davis Hill. This work will also be under the supervision of Major Arms.

Thursday morning the students will have a conference on military history, which will cover the orientation on written monograph. The class will be under the direction of Major W. W. Eagles. At 9 o'clock the men will change class rooms and under to a conference on industrial moblization, presided over by Major George L Kraft. At 10:00 A. M. the third period will be taken up with a demonstration of the tactics of snipers and observers with actual work in the vicinity of the trench area. Major Hugh C. Gilcrist will serve as instruct-

The afternoon of Thursday will be taken up with a class in equitation, under the supervision of Maj. Kramer Thomas, chief instructor in animal care and management. The Infantry

HERALD WANT ADS

CLASSIFIED ADV. RATES: 20 cents per line or fraction of line. Minimum charge for any classified adbe made before advertisement is pub-

FOR SALE: White Persian Kitten. Phone City 2161.

practical work.

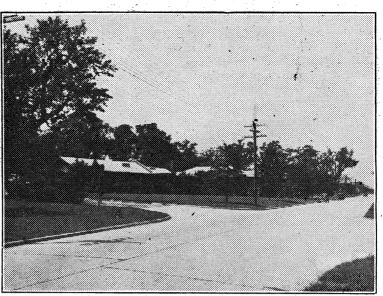

Friday, September 15, will end this week's schedule. The first period will be taken up with practical work in aerial photography, with the instructions furnished by Captain George F. Bloomquist. From 10 until 12 o'clock Major Kramer Thomas will conduct a class on equitation at the Infantry School Stables.

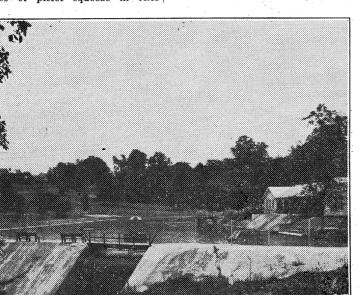

In the afternoon Captain William Hones will conduct a class conference, demonstration and practical work on the forms, reports and use of battal-ion intelligence sections. This program for the afternoon will be carried on in the class room.

The company officers' class will start hte week with a lecture on industrial mobilization by Major Goerge L Kraft. The second period will be carried on under the direction of Major Claudius M. Easley, and will cover the use of pistol squeeze in rifle

ject taking place from 8 till 11 o'clock

The first period of Thursday will be a conference and demonstration on sight changes of the rifle marksmanship course, under the supervision of Major

At Top: Post Headquarters; Below: Russ Pool

tical work will be the 29th Infantry Parade Ground.

Major Thomas S. Arms will contactics of scouting and patrolling, during the first period of the afternoon. During the second period the students will be at the disposal of the Assistant Commandant, and from 8 until 10:00 P. M. will be devoted to practical work in night scouting and patrolling, under the direction of Major Thomas S. Arms.

Tuesday, the class hours will be taken up by three classes. From 8 till 9:00 o'clock Captain Bloomquist will con-tion of Major Easley. duct a conference on military sketchfollowed by practical work, in the vicinity of Cook Ridge on the reservation. The period after lunch will manship, lasting until 4 P. M., under tions. Conferences, the direction of Major Claudius M. and practical work w Easley.

Wednesday's program also consists Maxey Ridges. At one o'clock the ond period will be practical work in vin E. Meister. the field on scouting and patrolling, S. Arms, with a class on the same sub-marksmanship. The scene of the prac- Easley. The next class will be in the form of a conference on industrial mobilization under Major Kraft. At 10 A. M. the students will go to the duct a class and demonstration in the trench area for a demonstration on the tactics of snipers and observers, bq Capain Hones. The afternoon will be devoted to range practice and rifle marksmanship at Shelton Range, under the direction of Major Easley.

Friday, September 15, will begin with a class on trigger squeeze in connection with the pistol marksmanship course, in which the students will engage in conference, demonstration and practical work, under the direc-

The second period will be a graded ing, estimating terrain, which will be test in rifle marksmanship, and will be carried out by Major Easley. The final period of the week will be one on the tactics of scouting and patrolbe a conference, demonstration and ling, dealing with the reports, forms practical work in rapid fire rifle marksdemonstrations and practical work will make up the period. The Tank Course will begin the of three classes. The first of which week's training with a class conferwill be made up of practical work in ence on motors and fuels, under the topography. The instruction will be supervision of Major Robert S. Lytle. under the direction of Captain Bloom- The second period will be a motion quist, and will take place at Cook and picture demonstration on the same Maxey Ridges. At one o'clock the subject, also given by Major Lytle. students will have a conference, de The next class will be a study of monstration and practical work in the propellor shafts and joints of truck mechanics and safety of the pistol chassis, followed by a period of prac-marksmanship course, instructed by tical work on the same study, under Maj. Claudius M. Easley. The sectithe instructorship of Lieutenant Mel

Tuesday, September 12, Captain L. under the direction of Major Thomas L. Williams will conduct the first period on the carburetion of gasoline motors, the class being a conference. The next period will be one of practical work on the carburetion of motors, under the same instruct. or. The two afternoon periods will be taken up by a conference and practical work on the transmissions of truck chassis, under the direction of Lieutenant Meister.

> Lieutenant Meister will have charge of the program for Wednesday, both morning and afternoon being taken up by practical work on truck transmissions.

> Thursday, Captain Williams will hold a class conference during the first period on carburetors of gasoline motors, with the next period being under the same instructor and practical work following the conference. The next two classes will be on the same study and will duplicate the preceding ones of the morning. Lieutenant Meister will again give instructions and practical work in the transmissions of a truck chassis, during the first afternoon period. Thursday's final period will be on the subject

BENNING INVADES THE SOUTH'S FOOTBALL BATTLEGROUNDS (Continued From Page 18)

Developments to date show that the project is already well under way, with the opening game scheduled with Bowdin Agricultural College, Atlanta, Ga., on the night of October 11, at Atlanta. Following that the Demonstrationists will take on Ga. Military College in Memorial Stadium at Columbus, Ga., and have tentative games with Auburn, Alabama Freshman, and other outstanding elevens of the Southern schools.

Lieutenant George H. Decker, 29th Infantry, has been selected as head coach of the army team, with Lieuenant Joseph P. Cleland assistant backfield coach, and Lieutenant John A. Stewart line coach. Light practice has already started, although a number of the 29th stars are still on duty with the CCC in the field, and over a hundred men have turned out. A wealth of new material is expected to be uncovered, as a number of the candidates are former varsity freshmen players of various schools.

The organization of the 29th Infantry football team presages a return. to the golden age that was Benning's when the Infantry team trained here, and the name of the Doughboys was feared on the gridirons of the country, from border to border and coast of rear axles and differentials under to coast.

COMPLETE YOUR SILVER SERVICE NOW BEFORE THE BIG ADVANCE

STERLING SILVERWARE

By GORHAM, KIRK, TOWLE, WALLACE REED & BARTON, INTERNATIONAL

C. SCHOMBURG & SON JEWELERS

1121 BROADWAW COLUMBUS, AT THE SIGN OF THE BIG CLOCK

WELCOME. STUDENT OFFICERS

We believe you will like our city, we want you to like us and we know you will like our

OLD TIME BREAD

Fresh daily at Post Exchange Grocery. We cordially invite you to visit our bakery.

EVERIDGE'S

The Bakery Beautiful

109 Twelfth St.

Columbus, Ga.

Do You Need Money? HERE IS OUR PLAN

Payments .. $25.00 Per Month for 12 Months

Larger or Smaller Loans Proportionately.

Fidelity Loan and Investment Co.

1206 FIRST AVENUE

T. E. BAISDEN, Secretary-Treasurer

B. H. HARRIS CO. Renting

Special attention given Fort Benning Officers Kindly call and let us assist you in getting located

Office, 12th Street

Phones 250-251

B. H. HARRIS

29TH INFANTRY

(Continued From Page 15)

An exciting baseball (indoor) game was played in the company last week between the Band and Headquarters Company. Headquarters Company won 28 to 5.

The stars of the game were: The umpire (The company barber Willard), Sergeant Pop Villa the star tuba player was the star for the Band. It is thought the only thing he lacks being in Lou Gehrig's class is hitting the ball more often and being a little faster on his feet and knowing the art of catching a ball. The Company tried to get Abie Blumberg (the company tailor) to assist in umpiring but he was busy at the time counting and checking his monthly collections that were due in on August 31, 1933.

We are proud of our showing in the Regimental Swimming meet. Bozeman made first place in the 100 yards breast stroke and broke the Post record of 124 seconds. Bozeman made it in 120½. He also made first place in the Post Swimming Meet. Bouton made third place in the breast stroke.

Shoemaker and Ringenberg deserve honorable mention for their good showing in this swimming meet.

Sergeants LaBonte, Hayes, Corporal Easiley, Privates, first class Hebert, Mauldin and Oates are making a showing on the Battalion Baseball Team and anyone missing these games are missing quite a treat. The best fortune tellers have given out the information that the Battalion Team will win the pennant in the second half of the Post League in the following manner:

By winning from the Second Battal-

UNIFORMS

You can depend on us to give the very best of service on all tailoring and uniform work. We make a point of using the best obtainable materials and our work is as much our pride as our vocation.

You are invited to come by and let us show how economically and well your tailoring work can be done.

THE TANK TAILOR
Located in the Tank Area

Engineers

COMPANY "A" 7TH ENGINEERS

We are fast getting to be a real outfit again, and all the oldtimers are geting a lot of pleasure out of that fact. One big reason is that the Guards and K. P.'s aren't nearly so close togeher. And that's a big help too, believe me. Pyts. Sanford, Slade and Harp all say that if another guy puts catsup on their rifles that it will be just too bad for them, cause these holiday K. P.'s are plenty tough.

Hill and Hurst gave the home town girls a treat last week over in Montezuma, and from the looks of things it must have been some treat. How about it fellows?

Dlearo and Meadows are going over to Macon an awful lot lately, and we can't find out a thing as to the reason for it. Now how about getting real lowdown and tell us the reason for all this travelling?

These recruits of ours are certainly getting along fine and a lot of credit must be given Pvts. Thomas and Lassiter. These two boys are really putting out. More power to you, fellows.

The Bear has about gotten over his fight with the pile driver. Now Bear you may be a mighty big boy, but don't get out of your class quite so far next time. It really doesn't pay. Don't you see?

ion Team and then the Special Units Team to also the Second Battalion Team. This will put us in the lead. "Pop Up" Jimmy Hayes accidentally hit one in the game against Special Units Team Sunday and he was also one of the stars of the game.

We have some good prospects for the tryout for the Batalion Foot Ball Team and believe they will make a place on the first line.

They are Sgt. Jimmy Hayes, Michigan all state player, Holloway who has played on the A. P. I. team (Auburn Tigers), This is his first year at Benning.

Chick Davis better known by his friends as Shipwreck Kelly by having Kelly's number 17 from last year, This is his first year at Benning, Williams is also a new comer.

This is his first year playing on the team here.

—Y. M. I.

SCHEDULE OF INSTRUCTION FOR COMING WEEK

(Continued From Page 21) direction of Lieutenant Meister. The instructions will be in the form of a conference.

Captain Williams will hold the first period on Friday with a conference on motors and carburetors. The class will be a conference, and will be followed the next period with practical work on the same subject and under the same instructor. The next two periods will be the same as the first; a conference and practical work in carburetors making up the schedule for the time.

The closing class will be one on the subject of rear axles of truck chassis, in which the students will engage in practical work, under the direction of Lieutenant Meister.

This will close the schedule for all three celasses of the Infantry School for the week September 11 to 15, which is the first full week's instruction to be given in the 1933-34 classes of the world's largest school of arms.

WE WISH THE STUDENTS

THE BEST OF LUCK DURING THE CURRENT ACADEMIC YEAR

Kenny's NORWOOD Coffee

VACUUM PACKED IS SOLD AT FORT BENNING THROUGH THE

P O S T E X C H A N G 1

Try a pound—you will be pleased

83rd F. A.

HO. HO. BATTERY AND C. T.

Hurst left the battery Monday Sept. 4th for parts unknown. Hurst purchased his discharge from the army and expects to work for the National Biscuit Company making faces for animal crackers. We wish you the best of luck in your new enterprise and hope that the depression never hits you again.

Cook Davis returned from duty with the C. C. C. and expects to take up his duties as a cook again with the battery. It has been rumored around that Paul Davis has been offered a position as head cook in the Old Ladies' Home located at Astor Park, Florida. We would like to get a little information, Paul as to your duties.

Cpl. Pikes attended a swimming party sponsored by the Three Musketeers, at the Cascade Swimming Pool, Monday Sept. 5th, 1933. Cpl. Pike gave an exhibition of fancy diving which was enjoyed by everyone but himself, it seems that the spring board wasn't in the best of shape and when Cpl. Pike did the swan dive, he stayed in free wheeling too long and you all know the results.

We welcome Lt. Craig, Jr., to the battery and we hope that his tour of duty with Headquarters Battery will be a pleasant one.

Cpl. Nahring wants to know if there is any law whereby a soldier can be tried for breaking a young damsel's heart. We suggest that you go in conference with Sgt. Phillips as to the treatment for a broken heart. If you can't conduct yourself any better than that John, we will have to take you off the C. C. C. list for future assignmens.

Mustache Charley Clark has returned from the wilds of Florida where he spent 30 days on furlough. During his absence he cultivated a mustache which would be a credit to Clark Gable but it seems that our 1st Sergeant doesn't care for mustaches, so in order to keep peace in the family, Clark shaved it off

BATTERY "C"

Sgt. Driver, our chief of the Third Section, has decided to leave the army and go back to the Ol' Farm. We are sorry to lose such a good soldier and give him our best wishes for a successful crop in the coming year.

Sgt. Underwood has returned from duty with the C. C. C.'s in the Florida swamps. He has taken over his former duty as chief of the Fourth Section.

The battery seems to have had a very nice time over the holiday, laying onthe ol' bunk, and flying from one place to another over the South. We are glad that the bunch had such a grand time.

GROCERY DEPARTMENT SETS HIGH MARK

(Continued From Page 14) ing all over the country, from New York to California and from Minnesota to Florida, the Department carries vegetables and fruits which are truly representative of the greenstuffs of each secton of the country. Grapefruit from Florida, grapes from California, parsley from Louisiana, cranberries from New Jersey, potatoes from Minnesota, mushrooms from Illinois—so the list reads, one that is interesting, almost, from a Geographical standpoint as from that of the epicure.

Nor is the Grocery department behind in the matter of seafoods. Those gourmands who delight in soft shelled crabs from the Chesapeake—than which there are none better—in frog legs from Florida, or in the boiled lobster or smoked haddock fillets from New England will find them here, ready for their job of tempting the most finicky of eaters most finicky of eaters.

As to the staples, the Department is careful to carry only the most acceptable of each product which is obtainable. As any cook could remember, the purchase of cheap canned goods or staples does not pay—even in the first place—and the Grocery Department, profiting by the experience of others, is careful in its selection of staple foods—and generally orders directly from the manufacturers, thereby insuring freshness in the

EVERY DROP of "tough-film"

-PENNZOIL

IS REFINED TWICE

This amazing oil combats oil failure, the cause of 60 per cent of all motor repairs.

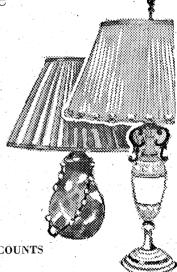

ON SALE AT

AUTO DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE

FURNITURE of the FINEST!

We know that the officers of the Army are accustomed to seeing fine furniture—so we don't hesitate to ask you to visit our store—for our stock would please even the most exacting. And we'd like you, during your tour of duty here, to let us assist you in every possible way.

FT. BENNING CHARGE ACCOUNTS SOLICITED

B. L. Pennell Furniture Company
1249 BROADWAY
PHONE 4618

A Cordial Welcome is extended to all new student officers as well as the old personnel.

Ten Stores to serve

Try US

The Home of Quality Foods at Low Prices

Ballard's Flour, 24 lbs$1.19
Strictly Fresh Eggs, doz. 23c
Lux Soap Flakes, Pkg 9c
Campbell's Pork and Beans, Can 5c
Domino Sugar, 5 lbs28c
Carnation Milk, 3 tall cans17c
Blue Ribbon Malt, Can
No. 2 Cobbler Potatoes, 5 lbs15c

Large Iceberg
Lettuce, Head	10c
Half or Whole
Ham, 1b.	19c
Fancy Western Round
Steak, lb.	25c
Thompson Seedless
Grapes, 3 lbs.	25c
Premium
Crackers, lb. pkg	15c
Argo Red
Salmon, Can	15c
Small Octagon	,
Soap, 3 Bars	10c

STUDENTS:

We extend a greeting from Columbus' oldest furniture dealers to Benning's newest class. May your stay be pleasant, profitable and interesting.

furniture for the fastidious

Truly is our furniture the very epitome of modern furniture design. You can purchase the right kind for every room in your home, correctly styled, correctly made and correctly priced. Let our reputation be your guide—it has never failed anyone yet!

AGENTS FOR

PHILCO

H. ROTHSCHILD

Leading Furniture Dealers In Coumbus For Thirty-Nine Years

The Officers' Club

Fort Benning, Ga.

Offers The Facilities
of six clubs in one

SOCIAL CLUB

GOLF CLUB

TENNIS CLUB

POLO CLUB

GUN CLUB

THE HUNT

And many other advantages such as Grill, Mess, Barber Shop, Beauty Parlor, etc.

The Board of Governors extends to every officer of Fort Benning a cordial invitation to become a member of this club.

The Officer's Club

Fort Benning' Ga.

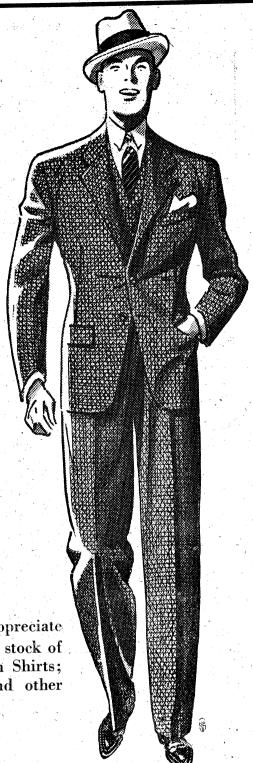

City's Largest Store for Men and Boys

SCHOOL DAYS again! And what difficulties must be overcome to get the boys ready in time. Mothers new to Fort Benning will be astounded by a visit to Metcalf's Boys' Department, at 1040 Broadway, and 1222 Broadway. We carry the largest stock in the South—thousands of articles in all sizes, wanted styles and materials—including nationally advertised Suits, Long Woolen Pants, Knickers, Shorts, Rugby Sweaters, Tom Sawyer Shirts, Boycraft Shirts, Universal Pajamas, Overcoats, Lumber Jacks, Raincoats, Caps, Belts, Ties, Sox. There isn't anything a boy needs that you will not find in this department in dependable quality.

And as for service—well, every saleswoman in this department is a mother of boys. They know boys, they know your problems, and they know how to be of intelligent help to you. Really, you can bring your boys in and leave them to our saleswoman without a worry as to the result.

You will find a visit to Metcalf's Boys' Department interesting, and we are delighted to show you and tell you about it. Get acquainted when you are in town

A NY Student officer who comes into our stores will appreciate the selection and economy offered by our immense stock of Suits, Overcoats, Hats, Raincoats; Elder Shirts, Wilson Shirts; Allen-A Underwear and Hose, Haines Underwear and other brands equally well known and dependable.

The Logic of Buying Now

CLOTHING is advancing in price by jumps. Monday the clothing manufacturers go under the code, and prices will soar again from five dollars a suit up. We are selling today, in many instances, at less than the replacement cost to us. It is our policy to tell you the cost of the merchandise we sell, so that you know our prices are fair. It is a new policy. How do you like it? Come in and get acquainted.

New Fall Suits for Men

Open 7 A. M. to 7 P. M. Employing Two Shifts $Q95

Cost us $9.00

$1245

Cost us $10.75

$14⁹⁵

Cost us $12.50

 $^{$}16^{95}$

Cost us $13.50

Metcalfs

Fall HATS

$1.85

$2.95

We have over 8,000 new Fall hats in our two stores—of every shade and style.

Welcomes Benning's New Students

DENNING

VOLUME III

FORT BENNING, GA., SEPTEMBER 15, 1933

Ten Years Ago Last Week

Chaplain Stephen R. Wood, who had acted as "sky-pilot" for the 29th Infantry for the past fourteen years, was transferred to Langley Field, Va.

Colonel and Mrs. John B. Schoeffel and their family left for Trenton, N. J. were Colonel Schoeffel was to be divisional instructor of the 44th Division National Guard.

Captain and Mrs. W. E. Lewis and Captain O. M. Moore and family left for Fort Sill Okla., where the two officers were ordered for duty.

Motion Pictures Important Here

The motion picture machine, introduced to the American pubic early in the twentieth century, has more uses than one, as shown by the schedule of the three classes of the Infantry School, at Fort Benning.

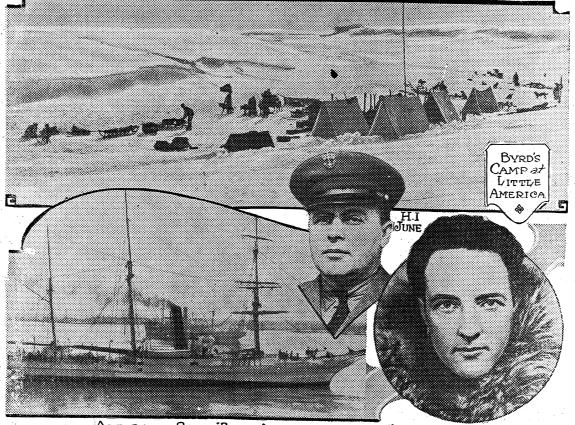

In the early days of the school, the students were able to witness only one part of a demonstration of infantry tactics during a mimic battle because the troops, simulating an attack on the enemy's stronghold, were scattered over such a wide area that it was impossible to see just what the other members of the attacking party were doing. If an officer was in charge of the troops on the right or left flank of the front he had only his battle plans to follow. Now they may see the entire enactment of such battles by use of moving picture, and in doing so the officers acquire a complete knowledge of each phase of a

To instruct the students in the use of all infantry weapons would require more time than is alloted to the courses of the school. Long hours and tedious explaining would be necessary to give them an idea of how an arm should be utilized. Yet, they are able to graduate from the school with a thorough understanding of the part each weapon plays in the present day army. By of the motion picture camera and synchronization, they may learn by seeing the subject of their studies carried out to the fullest extent, and by synchronizing a summary of each picture in the film, they are able to have a spoken explanation of each phase of the project

The officers who are taking the automotive course as members of the tank class of the Infantry School have conferences on each part of an automobile or truck, studying it in the classroom so as to understand the technicalities and construction of the particular part or section under discussion, and are then shown the part it plays in the operation of the motor by use of the film projector.

These films will play an important part in the instruction of the officers throughout the school year as they have ben adopted under the full approval of the War Department. They have been recognized as another step in the advancement and

Byrd Ready for New South Pole Venture

ANTARCTIC SHIP BEAR

ADMIRAL RICHARD E BYRD

Bound on his second trip to the Antarctic, Rear Admiral Richard E. Byrd will sail from Boston on Sepptem-of 1929. The object of the new trip is to conduct an aerial survey of the territory surrounding the South Pole with the object of mapping and claiming it for the United States. Byrd will be accompanied by Harold 1. June, veteran pilot who was with him on his previous venture. Seven scientists and explorers, besides a crew of 70, complete the expedition which is financed by voluntary contribution of supplies and equipment from

Tankers Celebrate Baptism Of Fire Received In 1919

Tuesday Celebration Commemorates Action Fought In Reduction Of St. Mihiel Salient On Sept. 12, 1918, During World War.

Head Of Welfare Council Of Post

Accepts Office Of President At Request Of General Estes

The Fort Benning Welfare Council, devoted primarily to the relief of distress among the dependents of enlisted personnel of the garrison, recently appointed its officers for the

At the request of Brigadier General George H. Estes, commandant of the Infantry School, made because of her outstanding work as head of the Welfare association during the last two years, Mrs. Elbert J. Lyman has again accepted the office of president.

Mrs. Thomas B. Catron as 1st Vice President, and Mrs. Jesse Ladd as 2nd Vice President; Mrs. Edward C. Betts as 'treasurer and Mrs. Joseph A. Holly as secretary complete the roster of the Council officers. All of them were in office in the same capacity last year.

4 FT. BENNING SOLDIERS WIN OUT IN LOCAL WEST POINT EXAMS

Four men of the Fort Benning garrison having passed highest in (Please turn to page 8)

Tuesday, September 12, the tank Mrs. Lyman Again battalion of the Infantry School, com. Boy Dead As A prised of the 2d Battalion, 66th Infantry (Light Tanks) and Company F, Result Of Bite 67th Infanry (Medium Tanks), commemorated the fifteenth anniversary of their baptism of fire, received while the unit was serving in France in Captain Donald P. Spalding, battalion commander, arranged a special holiday program, which was held at Doughboy Stadium, Fort Benning. The celebration ceremonies started at 8:30 A. M., when Chaplain Willis T. Howard delivered an invocation, Following the deliverance by Chaplain Howard, the 24th Infantry Band rendered an appropriate selection. Captain Spalding then delivered an address, during which he reviewed the events of the battalion for the past The the Tank Corps as a whole, and the other children about two o'clock battalion as a unit. His historical description covered the organization from the time it was formed until the present day, and for the benefit of the men who have recently joined the battalion, Captain Spalding told of its traditions and the highlights which make certain. Upon learning that have been the source of much commendation by all arms of the service. child was rushed to the post hospital, Following Captain Spalding's address, the 24th Infantry Band played but the boy's system was not strong another selection, and Colonel George F. Baltzell, Director of the Infantry Board, acting for Brigadier General George H. Estes, who was unable to attend due to illness, delivered an ad- is believed to be due in a great part be in charge of the classes for the dress as commandant of the Infan to the youth of the boy and the (Please turn to page 8)

By Rattlesnake

Is First Death By Snake-Bite On Reservation In Three Years

Robert Huffenberger, 6 year old son of Sergeant Hugh Huffenberger, I. S. D., range guard, died at the station hospital early Tuesday morning as the result of a rattlesnake bite inflicted Monday afternoon at the Huffenberger house, on the Cusseta road, one mile north of Cusseta, in Area

The boy was picking grapes in the and also gave a brief history of rear of the house with a number of when he was bitten by the snake, which struck him in the right leg. The wound inflicted was so slight hat at first it was not thought he had been struck, and Sgt. Huffenberger took his son to Cusseta to the poison had been injected the where anti-venom was administered, enough to combat the poison of the snake.

This is the first death at Fort Benning from snake-bite since 1930, and other step in the advancement and preliminary examinations recently dress as commandant of the Infanmodernization of the United States held at the Infantry School, for the try School. Immediately after this large size of the snake, which is reported to have had fifteen rattles.

Reserve Officers To Hear Lectures

The Columbus-Fort Benning Chapter of the Reserve Officers Association is scheduled to begin its regular school training for the winter months early in October, according to information received from Major William Hobson, 29th Infantry, regular army officer who will be in charge of the classes for the coming year. The training which has been arranged by Major Hobson with the cooperation of Colonel Charles W. Weeks, assistant commandant of Fort Benning, and head of the academic department of the Infantry School, will consist of lectures by instructors of the various departments of the School on all the latest phases and methods of modern warfare, especially as applied to infantry tactic and technic.

This announcement was made late Tuesday following a conference held at Headquarters, at Fort Benning and attended by Colonel Ephraim G. Pey ton, who as executive officer was rep resenting the Commandant, General Geroge H. Estes, Major Hobson, and several of the leading officers of the Columbus-Fort Benning Chapter.

The chapter, situated as it is in the immediate vicinity of the Infantry School, is very fortunate in being able to secure the officers of that institution as instructors, and it is expected that the classes, which will be held at the post, will be largely attended by the reserve officers, and by a number of student officers as well.

The schedule of instruction for the eservists will consist of bi-monthly lectures and conferences throughout the winter months, coming to a close at the end of May. Added to this is expected to be some practical work in the theories that have been imparted. The meetings will take place at Fort Benning will be held on the second and fourth Tuesdays of each month, each one under the direction of a member of the most specialized group of instructors in the United States Army. The C. C. C. classes, which have been carried on for the Benning-Columbus chapter for some years, are expected to surpass anything they have previously attained, during the current year of instruction.

The local group of reservists numbers in the vicinity of 100 members, from Columbus and Fort Benning. It is expected that this number will be increased with the holding of the classes this winter, and Major Hobson, who recently attended a meeting of reserve officers in La Grange, Ga., stated that a number of the members of the chapter there had announced their intention of attending the local classes as often as possible.

The Columbus-Fort Benning chapter plans to hold is last meeting Tuesday evening. At that time new officers for the year will be elected. At the present time the following reservists are in office: Major John C. Carter, president; 1st Lieutenant Anthony Tarantino, vice-president; 1st Lieutenant Frank G. Lumpkin,, Jr., secretary; 2nd Lieutenant Seaborne Ayres, treasurer; 2nd Lieutenant John Snell, Jr., public relations officer; and Major Frank L. Rosenthal, chaplain.

Major William Hobson, who is to coming year, arrived at Fort Benning to take up duties with Headquarters, 29th Infantry, on August 15, 1933.

Society Completing Schedule Of Social Events For Coming Winter Season

Now that Fall approaches, with its cooling and invigorating weather, Fort Benning society is looking forward with keen anticipation to the commencing of its social activities. The Officer's Club will again sponsor the Thursday evening supper dances which were such enjoyable affairs of the past Winter. The dates for the commencing of these affairs have not definitely determined due to the expected arrival of a formal visit of the Secretary of War and the subsequent reception by the Commandant. However, it is expected that the first Thursday in October will be the date. These affairs will continue throughout the Winter and Spring until the end of the School year, barring holidays. In addition to the Thursday evening supper dances plans have been made by the Officers Club for special affairs on outstanding dates such as Hallowe'en, Christmas, New Year's Eve Washington's Birthday and Easter.

BACK SCHOOL!

Back to nine months of work for the kiddies. But you can make it lighter by supplying them with school necessities, bought at Silver's, of course, which will make all the other kids envious!

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY and 11TH ST. AMERICAN MADE GOODS

Parent-Teachers Association The has arranged to have the Polo-Hunt Club every Thursday in each month for their meetings. And the Woman's Club plans to start activities on October 16th with a tea to welcome new members. The regular meetings will be held the first Monday in each month. The Literary Section has engaged the second Monday, while the Bridge Section will hold its meetings on the fourth Monday. The 29th and 24th Infantry regiments have also arranged with the Officers Club for reservations for their dances and receptions during the Winter.

COLONEL AND MRS. PEYTON

HONOR GUEST AT DINNER The attractive quarters of Colonel and Mrs. Ephraim G. Peyton was the cene of a dinner Tuesday evening in honor of Mrs. Charles A. Hunt of Fort Howard, Maryland, who is the house guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes Browne of Columbus. Colonel and Mrs. Peyton had as their guests: Mrs. Hunt, Mr. and Mrs. Browne, Colnel and Mrs. J. DeCamp Hall, Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Andrew D. Chaffin, and Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Rowan P. Lem

MISS NANA SEELEY AND MISS MARGUERITE MOORE JOINT HOSTESSES AT DANCE

Miss Nana Seeley and Miss Marguerite Moore will be the joint hostesses Friday evening at an informal dance which will be held at the Polo-Hunt Club in honor of two recently arrived guests, Miss Beth Berry, the house guest of Miss Harriotte Atkins, and Miss Alice Churchill, the guest of Major and Mrs. Harry W. Reeder. The dance will also be in the nature of a farewell to several young lades who leave next week for college, Miss Esther Foos, who leaves for Vassar, Miss Betty Catron who leaves for Ogontz and Miss Margaret Hall who leaves to attend Art School in Providence, Rhode Island.

The guests have been invited for nine o'clock and dancing will continue until midnight. During the evening a refreshing course of sandwiches and punch will be served. The 29th Infantry orchestra will furnish the music for dancing. Misses Moore and Seeley's guest list will include members of the college set, their guests and escorts.

Continuing:

our showing of Simmons Beds, Mattresses, and Springs. These fine pieces of furniture are now selling at the lowest prices in their history, and you have here an unexampled opportunity to get what

Come by our store and let us show you just exactly what we have.

Cunningham Furniture Co.

Successors to JOHNSTON-CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO. Phone 460 1014 Broadway

Anna Dozier's School of the Dance Member—Dancing Masters of America

CLASSES FOR CHILDREN For Three Year Olds - Through High School

Ballet and Toe Modern Interpretative

Acrobatic Musical Comedy Ballroom

4:00 p. m. Wed. Sept. 27 At Polo-Hunt Club

____1237½ Broadway American Legion Hall__ .____Fort Benning Phone 2206

MISS ELIZABETH BERRY HONOR GUEST AT DINNER PRECEDING DANCE

Miss Elizabeth Berry, the attractive house guest of Miss Harriotte Atkins. will be the honor guest Friday evening at a dinner given by Miss Katnerine Lemly preceding the Seeley Moore dance at the Polo-Hunt Club. Miss Lemly's guest list will include: Miss Berry, Miss Hariotte Atkins, Miss Alice Churchill, Lieut. Joseph B. Coolidge, Lieut. Earnest F. Easterbrook, Lieut. Eugene L. Brown, Lieut. Carl W. Westlund, Lieut. Glenn A. Farris and Lieut. Ephraim E. Hampton.

MRS. HOWELL HONOR

GUEST AT LUNCHEON Mrs. George P. Howell, Sr., who is the house guest of her son nad daughter-in-law Lieut. and Mrs. George P. Howell, Jr., was the honor guest at a delightful luncheon party given by Mrs. Selina Waddington at the Officers' Club Wednesday. The luncheon table was attractively decorated with silver bowls of roses and zinnias. Mrs. Waddington had as her guests: Mrs. Howell, Mrs. William E. Persons, Mrs. Andrew D. Chaffin, Mrs. Elmer F. Rice, Mrs. Rowan P. Lemly, Mrs. Charles H. Bonesteel, Mrs. Maurice D. Welty, Mrs. Thomas B. Catron, Mrs. Frank V. Schnieder, Mrs. Robert S. Lytle, Mrs. Herbert A. Wadsworth, Mrs. Herbert H. Harries, Mrs. Morris B. DePass. Jr., Mrs. John A. Andrews, Mrs. Melissa iRess, Mrs. James E. Bow-en and Mrs. George P. Howell, Jr. PERSONALS

Mrs. Stowe T. Sutton, who has been the house guest of Lieut. and Mrs. Aloysius E. O'Flaherty departed Wednesday for Maxwell Field, Alabama.

Many of Fort Benning's young college set are preparing to leave next week to attend their various schools and colleges. Among the young men who have already departed is Elmer Rice the son of Lieut. Col. and Mrs. Elmer F. Rice who left Sunday for Auburn. The young ladies who leave next week are: Miss Louise Waddington, who will enroll as a member of Smith College in Massachusetts, Miss Esther Foos who will be a member of the senior class at Vassar, Miss Elizabeth Catron who will attend Ogontz School for Young Ladies in New York and Miss Margaret Hall will be a junior member of the Art School in Providence, Rhode Island.

CONVENT HAS FINE TEACHING RECORD

Located in one of the oldest buildings in Columbus, one surrounded to the core with historical associations of the first degree, and preserving some of the oldest traditions of education, the Convent, which is conducted by the Sisters of Mercy, begins another year of operation on September 18.

The Sisters of Mercy are well known for their educational efforts. Their system of maintaining a more personal touch with their charges than is given in public schools has resulted in a thoroughness of learning which is unrivalled anywhere else. The Convent, too, in following this method, has succeeded in turning out pupils which have made their records shine in high school, college and in the business

Likewise, the fact that their training carries the personal touch which is essential to correct education, makes their relations with the pupils much less strained than they would be were the teacher an impersonal being, symbolizing the power rather than the person in the teacher's chair. This and others are the reasons why the Convent is noted as an excellent school, one about which one may honestly say, even though it is surrounded in Columbus by some of the finest schools in the South, "It is the best

EARL HAZEL

head of music dept., Auburn, Ala will teach piano at Fort Benning

—Tuesdays and Fridays.

Phone Mrs. J. E. Hull, 439 for information.

Mrs. Selina Waddington will depart a week from Wednesday for Massachusetts where she will place her daughter, Louise, in Smith College. While away she plans to visit friends in New York and in Fort Leavenworth, Kan-

Miss Agnes Harrison has recently returned from New York where she has been studying various types of dancing. She plans to open her dancing classes on October 3. These classwill be held during the Winter at the Polo Hunt Club.

Lieut. and Mrs. Mark W. Boatner have as their house guest Mrs. Clara Mae Garic of New Orleans, Louisiana.

HERALD WANT ADS

ONE Spaulding Standard rowing machine; one luggage carrier. All in excellent condition. Major J. F. Corby, 302 Miller Loop, Fort Benning.

THE NEW BEAUTY SHOP Croquignole Waves$3.50 Round Wave with ring at ends $3.50 Flat Marcel $3.50 Eugene Method$6.50 Finger Waves not dried ... Shampoo and Set..... MRS. DIETZ, Mgr.
MRS. RUSHING, Assistant
Phone 9286
1106½ BROADWAY

Mrs. Kendrick C. Kierce Teacher of Piano

Modern Methods in Private and Class Instruction. Beginners Through Advanced Grades

STUDIO 1228 PEACOCK AVE.

PHONE 789

DOLAN-HENRY HAT SHOP

HAS A HAT FOR EVERY LADY OF FORT BENNING—ALL WE WANT IS FOR EVERY LADY TO COME IN. WE FEATURE KNOX HATS—POPULAR PRICED HATS— ALL-AMERICAN "ALL SERVICE" BERETS. PRICES $1.95

Fort Benning Charge Accounts Solicited

St. Joseph Academy - Columbus, Ga.

The Sisters of Mercy

Classes for the scholastic year 1933-34 will be resumed MON DAY, SEPTEMBER 18. Pupils will be accepted for the seven elementary grades, in all of which sight-singing receives special atten-Excellent advantages in instrumental music; piano and violin. Also daily special lessons in French provided a class of ten or more may be formed.

Apply at the Academy, 1142 Third Avenue

Chase Conservatory of Music

220-10th St., Columbus, Ga. NOW IN SESSION DEPARTMENTS

Piano, Violin, Voice, Orchestral Instruments and Expression Pupils received from Primary to Advanced Grades. Certificates and Diplomas awarded. Private and Class lessons. Large Auditorium, Radio Broadcasting, Pupils Recitals. Rates low. Send for literature.

Telephone No. 264

Louis T. Chase, President

Preserve Your Equanimity!

By Keeping Coca-Cola Always On Hand!

Never let the worries of entertaining get you ali up in the air! Just keep the SIX-BOX on hand always and you'll always have a dependable assist ant at your parties! Only

PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

And when you want something that will help you while away hot summer hours in perfect comfort—you'll hardly need an introduction to Coca-Cola—because Coca Cola is its own intro-

COOL COMFORT SEALED UP IN BOTTLES OF DELICIOUS DRINKS!

John Ortiz, Daring Spaniard, Once Wide Range Of Held Captive Near Present Site of Post

The exploits of the famous explor was deputed to keep watch over the known, only the barest outlines of his travels are included in even the most comprehensive of the American histories. And to an even lesser degree are known those other equally brave explorers and their men Narvaez, Gallegos, John Ortiz, and their ene mies, Hiriga, Moscoso, Vitachuco, and

But the story of John Ortiz, little known though it may be, is just as deserving of prominence as that of Pócahontas and Captain John Smith, which it parallels. It, too is the tale of a wilderness romance in which the hero is the conquering white man and the heroine-the Indian maid. It does not end the same, and its locale not the same—it is placed in the palmetto and pine of Georgia and Florida-but it is just as interesting, just as courageous and just as involved as that of his more famous counterparts. and it contains, moreover, the glamour added by the famous name of the Conquistador, DeSoto.

Most of the readers of this story will remember that DeSoto traveled over a large section of this country, seeking the source of the wealth of gold and precious stones. It was during one of the sporadic expeditions of his captains against the Indians that the party, under Gallegos, "attacked a small body of Indians," in the words of the historian, "and put them to flight; but, as a horseman was charging with his lance at one of the number. he was amazed to hear him cry out: 'Sirs, I am a Christian; do not kill me, nor these poor men, who have given me my life."

"Naked, sunburned, and painted, this man was scarce distinguishable from his wild associates. His name was John Ortiz, and he had lived with the Indians twelve years, being one of the few followers of Narvaez who escaped destruction. Since the disastrous failure of that (Narvaez') expedition he had made his way to Cuba in a small boat and had returned again to Florida in a small vessel sent in quest of the lost party. The Indians enticed a few of the crew on shore, and made them pris-Ortiz was among the number, and was the only one who escaped immediate death. After amusing themselves with various expedients to terrify and torment their captive, the savages, by the command of their chief, Hiriga, bound him to four stakes, and kindled a fire beneath him. He was preserved, even in this extremity, by the compassion ate entreaties and persuasions of a daughter of the cacique (chief). His burns having been healed, he er De Soto are comparatively little temple where the bodies of the dead were deposited, to defend them from attacks of wolves. His vigilance and resolution, in dispatching a wolf, panther or 'Lyon,' according to one account, which had seized the body of a child of one of the principal chiefs, aroused a kindly feeling tofor three years. At the end of that time, Hiriga, having been worsted in fight with Moscoso, a hostile chief whose dwelling was a two days' journey, thought it necessary or expedient to make a sacrifice of his Christian subject to the devil. See ing," says our Portugese historian. 'the Devil holds these people in de plorable bondage, they are accustomed to offer him the life and blood even of their subjects, or of any body else that falls into their hands

Forewarned of this danger by his former benefactress, Ortiz fled in the night towards the country of Moscoso. Upon first meeting with the subjects of this chief, he was in great danger from the want of an interpreter to explain whence he came, and what was his errand; but, at last, finding an Indian who understood the language of the people, with whom he had lived, he quieted the suspicions of his hosts, and remained with them in friendship no less than nine years. Moscoso, hearing of the arrival of DeSoto, generously furnished his captive with an escort, and gave him free permission to return to his countrymen, in accordance with a promise made when Ortiz first came to his territory.

The long lost Spaniard was joyfully received, with his companions. at DeoSto's camp; his services as guide being considered invaluable. In answer to the first inquiry, however, where gold was to be sought, he could give no satisfactory informa-

"The cacique Moscoso, being sent for, soon presented himself at the Spanish encampment, and after spending some days in familiar intercourse with the wonderful strangers, departed, exulting in the possession of a shirt and other tokens of royal munificence.'

The gold about which the Spaniards inquired so minutely and which they worked so hard and so vainly to find, was probably that mined at what is now Dahlonega. DeSoto once passed near this place in his march from Eastern Georgia to the West, but there is no evidence that he ever found the location of the source. It was probably a carefully guarded secret even before the Spaniards first landed on the shores of

(Continued on page 7)

The class schedule for the week heginning September 18 shows a diversity of subjects for the three classes of the Infantry School. Beginning with Military History it runs through the gamut of military education to the overhaul of rtuck chassis, stoopwards him, and he was well used ing on the way to include almost every subject helpful to the infantry officer in the development of his profession.

> Monday's work for the advanced ourse will begin with a lecture on the battle of Ctosiphon, by Captain John A. Andrews. This will be followed by practical work in aerial photography tudies, supervised by Captain George F. Bloomquist, and practical work in equitation under the direction of Major Kramer Thomas, during the af-

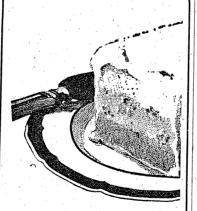

Tuesday will find the advance students beginning with a terrain exercise directed by the instructors of the 1st section, with the afternoon placed at the disposal of the assistant commandant for some study as yet unan nounced. In the evening Captain Bloomquist will conduct practical work in the reading of maps and aerial photographs at nght, from seven till eleven o'clock

Wednesday morning the class will open with a lecture on the general duties of engineers in the field by Major Frank Heileman, Corps of Engineers. Captain Mark Brislawn will continue with a conference on applied communication, and will be followed by Lieutenant Colonel John L. Jenkins supervising a conference on defensive combat. Major Vernon Evans will close the morning's work with a conference on the occupation and organization of defensive positions.

The entire afternoon will be occupied with practical work in the reading of aerial photographs under the direction of Captain Bloomquist.

Thursday morning Major Archibald V. Arnold, Field Artillery, will begin the day's work with a conference on the organization, powers, and limitations of field artillery. He will be followed by Captain Henry J. Matchett, who will direct a conferencethe battalion in defense. Captain Brislawn will conclude the morning with a conference and illustrative problem on applied communications. In the afternoon the students will

(Please turn to page 7)

ORDER

.... so everyone will have enough! And when it's Foremost Ice Cream you order-then everyone will be satisfied, too, because the delicious creaminess, the excellent flavors and the healthfulness all combine to make it the most popular of ice creams.

> Call the SODA FOUNT

FOREMOST DAIRIES

INCORPORATED

Here's To Your Health

BY MAJOR HOMER L. CONNER, Medical Inspector

Bedbugs

These pests have recently become far too common complaint and it therefore seems timely to again describe them, their habits, and the easiest method of controlling them.

Bedbugs found all over the world ere of two common species; one found in temperate or cold climates; the other found in the tropics.

They are bloodsucking insects. Because of this fact it is possible for them to transmit disease.

Certain tropical diseases, relapsing fever and leishmaniasis are strongly suspected of being transmtted by the bedbug, but as yet this has not been absolutely proven.

Bedbugs normally subsist only on human blood, but when this is not to be obtained they will feed on animals and birds.

Under ordinary circumstances the bedbug feeds only at night. During the day or in the presence of artificial light it hides in cracks or crevices

The eggs are deposited in the walls, floors, ceiling or furniture wherever there is protection and concealment.

They are laid separately but tend to stick together in clumps. In warm weather the eggs hatch in from 4 to 10 days. The larvae are yellowish white in color and resemble the adult except in size and color. They develop by moulting (shedding its skin) through four stages from 4 to 10 days apart.

Blood is required for the development of each of these stages before he adult form is reached.

Where blood supply is ample the time from the laying of the egg to he adult form varies from 6 weeks in warm weather to 11 or 12 weeks in cold weather.

When food is not to be had all the different stages are prolonged even sene at 7 days intervals that newly for months.

The adult bedbugs can even for 6 months without food.

In vacated houses they remain for long periods only to reappear when the building is again occupied. They even migrate from one house to another in search of food.

The bedbug is sensitive to changes in temperature. It thrives at temperatures between 60 and 98 degrees Fahrenheit. Below 60 they become inactive. High and low temperatures kill them. Knowledge of this fact helps us sometimes in getting rid of these pests. This is especially rtue of the high temperature for it has been found that a temperature of over 113 degrees with sufficient moisture will kill eggs, larvae and adults in a short time. Low temperature below freezing, if prolonged for 2 or 3 days, will kill the larvae and adult forms but often the eggs survive.

Bedbugs are usually spread from place to place or from one building to another in clothing, bedding, baggage or furniture. Almost before we realize it our homes are infested. Then the problem is to get rid of Fumigation is the most effective method of controlling bedbugs. This means the use of a poison gas which penetrates into every part of the building and its contents.

Poison gas is not under ordinary circumstances safe to use. We therefore must rely on kerosene.

Kerosene if applied to every crack and crevice in the room, building and furniture, and to clothing and bedding or any other place or article where the bedbug can hide will kill them. Some times eggs are not reached by this treatment so it is always a good procedure to make a second or even a third application of kero-

(Please turn to page 7)

An Open Letter To The Service

We have done our part for National Industrial Recovery having signed the President's pledge.

It remains now for the Administration to do its part to correct the "pay freeze' and restore Service pay to its former level.

We gladly contribute our efforts and devote ourselves towards this end.

N. S. MEYER, INC. NEW YORK

39 REASONS:

Each one of our thirty-nine years is but another reason why you should do all your shopping for furniture at this store. Experience is a great teacher, and experience has taught us the solution to each of your problems, and the proper way of avoiding every difficulty.

> We will be glad to have you visit our store and see for yourself that we are fully stocked and most dependable.

IT

For 39 Years Columbus' Leading Furniture Dealers

Send 'Em Back to School

With - - -

in the lunch-basket. There's no confection which carries so much of deliciousness and energy, and it's just the thing for healthy, growing children, especially those going to school.

Phone 556

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Columbus, Georgia

SEPTEMBER 15, 1933 NO. VOLUME III

Publisher L. C. KUNZE. .Editor Society Editor FELICIA C. HOWELL____ ____Sports Editor _Circulation Manager Louis T. Kunze__

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,
BALTIMORE

(By N. H. HOBBS)

of the nation's finest is on parade. As the band plays, "We Lead the Way," the companies pass in review before their regimental commander, Colonel William E. Persons, until finally the colors, carried by Staff Sergeant Thomas J. O'Leary, one of a triumvirate of faithful 29th Infantry non-commissioned officers, pass the reviewing stand. Straight as an arrow is this fifty-nine year old youngster, with a precision of step and soldierly bearing that is the envy of many of the much younger soldiers of the demonstration regiment.

Sergeant Tom as he is affection ately called by his many friends, is an Irish-American, his mother being born in Dublin, Ireland and his father Himself was born in Chicago, Ill., on New Year's day, 1884, and, during his youth, worked around the many factories in Chicago. Later his adventurous Irish spirit called, and he finally landed in New York City, where his dominating personality and leadership were easily recognized and he was placed in charge of a crew of stevedores at a prominent New York steamship pier in 1914.

His roaming nature again whispered adventure and in 1915 he enlisted for the 29th Infantry, then stationed at Fort Slocum, New York. It was with D Company of the Demonstrationists that he went to Panama shortly afterward, where the 29th safeguarded the great Gatun Locks and power plants While at Panama, the then Private O'Leary was assigned as chauffeur for General Clarence G. Edwards, who was in command of all American forces in the Panamanian sector.

O'Leary returned to the states with the Demonstrationists and took up camp a Beauregard, Louisiana in 1918. It was at this camp that he was discharged as sergeant, with excellent character and immediately reenlisted. Shortly afterward the doughboy regi ment went to Camp Shelby, Miss., where they formed a demobilization unit. Sergeant O'Leary came to Fort Benning with the 29th as a sergeant and was assigned to Service Company, where he has been ever since.

He was appointed staff sergeant in December, 1925, and is now the rank ing staff sergeant of the regiment.

It was during the 29th Infantry's trek to Camp McClellan, Alabama, in 1922 that Thomas O'Leary, then ser-

The 29th Infantry, composed of 2,100 | cial commendation from a high ranking field officed: The commendation, in part, read as follows: "I desire to express to you my appreciation of your work in connection with the motor transportation, of the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry on their recent hike to Camp McClellan, Alabama. This hike was begun after heavy rains which rendered the roads well nigh impassable and due to additional rains they continued in this condition for the greater part of the hike. You deserve credit for your untiring effort and intelligent work to get your train of twenty trucks and trailers (Five of which were kitchen trailers) through. The transportation was up at all times sufficiently early to serve the troops with two hot meals per day and more than fifty per-cent of the time it arrived in time to serve three hot meals per day. I consider your efforts largely responsible for results as outlined above and I wish to thank you officially for your able assistance.

Signed, G. V. Heidt Major, 29th Infantry.

Since 1927, Tom O'Leary has been provost sergeant of the 2-9 doughboys and for six years has handled all working parties of the largest peace strength regiment in the United States Army. He has efficiently carried out, to the minute, all details pertaining o work assigned to the Demonstrationists.

During hikes, in which the 29th Infantry participates, Sergeant O'Leary can be seen directing the many tent details that are necessary for the sheltering of the officers. Always smiling, his laughing Irish eyes twinkle when he fondly shows his excellent claracter discharges from the service, all of which bear the rating of non-commissioned officer.

For eighteen years Sergeant O'Leary has been loyal, to the 29th Infantry, and to Service Company of the Demonstration regiment, where he has been since 1919. There has been only one break in his service with the largest body of organized demonstration troops in the service. From January, 1919, to June of the same year he was a sergeant in the Supply Company of the 24th Infantry for a period of six months.

try holds a parade, pause a while and tues of Block 21. . . . Captain Mike observe this loyal and faithful non- Halloran, the hardboiled and hardgeant in charge of a motor convoy, commissioned officer as he passes in riding member of the horse group, consisting of fifty White and G. M. C. review, bearing the colors of the embarrassed three of the four-legged trucks, was the recipient of a spe- greatest regiment in the Army.

Reflections Of A Student

that magic name! Cast about, perhaps, in some officers' school at a far away post. There the phrase "Now when I was at Benning . . . etc." uttered by even a second looey, has caused great minds to waver, ended debates, and elevated the speaker to a throne of dictatorship envied by all. A Benning grad was one set two grads out of different classes

"Benning." how oft have we heard would tangle! Each class seems to acquire a different interpretation on tactical principles peculiar to itself, and every member is willing to die in defense thereof. At such a time we striplings could sit back in glee, and listen to the mighty roar as the giants battled

And in yet another sense Benning seemed to stand out, and that was as a great, all embracing social center. apart, and to whom all turned in It is the mecca for all true Army case of doubt. But ah, what fun when Daughters, of Army age, size, sort or (Please turn to page 5)

Benning Day -By - Day

By -MAJOR RAMBLE FORT BENNING, Sept. 11.—Highlights of the week in the Advanced Class: Introduction to the first of the all-star First Section cast in the person of Major Pete Bonham, company supervisor, father confessor and contact man between the A. C. S. office and the members of the Advanced Class . . . Class organization into squads and from thence into Kriz Hall to sign up for compasses, alidades, protractors, field glasses and whatnots . . . Perfect G-4 arrangements by Pete Bonham to permit us to purchase our own locks for our lockers . . . Visits to the Distribu tion Room for Sergeant Peterson to unload TR's in exchange for MR's . . . Marching in formation for the first time in years as we plodded dignifiedly onward from Kriz Hall to the Main Theater for the opening exercises . . . Casual remarks as to what a hike it was (and the Advanced Class was supposed to be getting younger!) . . . Momentary bewilder ment by our acting company com mander, Cavalry Captain Walton W. Cox, trying vainly to think of the proper command to pass a column of squads through a one-man theatre door, ending finally in a snappy command, "Tght-by-trooper-I-forgot-whatthe-infantry-calls-it, it worked! Impressive opening exercises, followed by The Benning Quarters Lottery No. 2-ably, tactfully and efficiently conducted by Colonel Weeks and his two assistants, the debonair QMC Captain Elliott and Bill Hones, prominent realtor of better type homes in Columbus and Benning both for the financially fixed and the financially embarrassed . . . A relief in the tension of "He does" and "He doesn't" when Bill Hones in taking a census of dependents ran into fractions that for a moment bade fair to upset well-conceived plans and policies, until then all-inclusive in scope Later replies of "One and one" "Two and one" which made one wonder if we were at a ball game Tuesday the school struck its stride with its first full day of classes. Ma jor Dabney, the school's venerated dispenser of timely advice to all student ills, both real and imaginary, and wise counsellor to the monographstricken, opened up with a fifty-minute barrage of "do's" and "don'ts" on physical fitness. One student as he left the hall, however, during the break that followed was heard to mutter that in order to comply with the doctor's advice on six glasses of water daily it would benecessary to borrow two glasses from a neighbor as he owned only four . Bloomquist, guardian of the school's contours and bench-marks, presented.

A novel thought during his hour on map-reading (he sure knows his azi muth from the proverbial elbow) when he informed the class that military students of today were less efficient than their ancestors at mapreading by night, probably due to the fact that the former prowl less at night than did the latter. Which caused one student to suggest that a similar comparison be made at the end of the course between the subdued student denizens of Block 23 The next time that the 29th Infan- and their carefree cousins, the habimembers of the same group by parading their deficiencies for the benefit of the students. One had flat feet, the second was pigeon-toed and the third suffled like Charlie Chaplin. Was their face red? . . . One wit, after pounding through two equitation periods, remarked that if his horse's gait was any indication of its diet, they'd been feeding it too much of the roughage Veterinarian Rife spoke about . . . During the inspection of stables later all manners of labor-saving and comfort-producing devices were exhibited for the admiration of the students. We were out of range of the instructor's voice when one piece of apparatus was being explained. Later inspection on our own gave us the impression that it

(Please turn to page 5)

not at all." "Better be damned than mentioned -John Wolcoi.

CONDUCTED BY E. F. R.

SOLDIER

(From the August "Harpers") The stars swing down the western steep And soon the East will burn with day And we shall struggle up from sleep And sling our packs and march away.

In this brief hour before the dawn Has struck our bivouac with flame, I think of men whose brows have borne The iron wreath of deadly fame.

I see the fatal phalanx creep, Like death, across the world and back, With eyes that only strive to keep Bucephalus' immortal track.

I see the legion wheel through Gaul, The sword and flame on hearth and home, And all the men who had to fall That Caesar might be first in Rome.

I see the horde of Ghengis Khan Spread outward like the dawn of day, To trample golden Khorassan And thunder over fair Cathay.

I see the grizzled grenadier The dark dragoon, the gay huzzar, Whose shoulders bore for many a year Their little emperor's blazing star.

I see these things, still am I slave When banners flaunt and bugles blow, Content to fill a soldier's grave For reasons I shall never know. C. T. Lanham, 1st Lieut., Inf.

EXPLANATION AND APOLOGY

We feel this week that our Reading Public is entitled to an Explanation, and that two of our friends are entitled to an apology. When our Predecessor on the FLARE turned over his Torch to us he accompanied it with a number of helpful hints and a few words of warning. Among the latter, he stressed the fact that we might be annoyed acutely by Typographical Er rors, and that frequently we would find that the Editors would make changes in copy which would make us downright sore. We served somewhat of an apprenticeship on a newspaper years ago during which we passed through the various grades from Printers Devil to include a short term Editor-in-chief of the Hometown Bugle, and we are therefore aware of the many hands through which a Contributor's Brain Child has to pass ere it appears before the Reader's eyes. With Compositors, Typesetters, Proof Readers and Editors all taking their fling, changes in the original copy easily occur. For the above reasons we have been charitable at minor typographical errors, such as mis-spelled words, and the occasional omission of a whole line of type. We have passed up without com-ment such changes in copy as altering the title "Fond Father Forgetful" to read Fond "Mother" Forgetful, and changing "Faulty Liaison" to Faculty Liaison, both changes making Nothing out of Something. Two changes were made in our copy last week which cause us to apologize to Louise Kraft and Malin Craig in behalf of the Benning Herald. Malin had given us a Contribution a couple of weeks ago which we had held for a Rainy Day. That day came last week and we introduced Craig's Contribution, "Battery Discipline," with a short paragraph entitled "Reserve Ammunition", in which we made reference to the Bibical Parable in which the Wise Virgins saved up oil for a Dark Day. When the FLARE appeared, "Battery Discipline" had no Introduction, and the Introductory Paragraph appeared just before the Citation for the Week. We apologize to Contributor Craig for not introducing his article and for apparently crediting him with the Citation. The Citation, in part, was printed as follows: "Louise, sprawling over Potatoes in the Post Exchange". We humbly apologize to Louise on behalf of the Benning Herald. The copy we turned in to the Printer read "Louise, pawing over Potatoes in the Post Exchange", which is quite a different matter. We hope that in addition to an Explanation and Apology this paragraph proves a lesson, and that we will not have to use up valuable space again Burnishing up the Boss' Blunders.

ANOTHER SWIM SUIT SPLITS vertook the Rubber Robed Lady from Miller Loop some weeks ago, Gutta-Percha Gowns have been making their appearance in Russ Pool in ever increasing numbers. Another accident occurred last Saturday afternoon. An altogether charming (if your mind is as quick as all that you can delete the word "altogether") visitor on the Post was disporting herself in Rescue. In this case there was to be the pool, becomingly dressed in one no rescue with a Rag, for a hand apof the Latest Gowns by Goodyear. Her peared above the surface and most skill in the water and on diving board quickly called the attention of the Undeterred by the disaster which swimmers in the water and the gazers in the Gallery and she was soon the Cynosure of all eyes. Suddenly the air was rent with the sound of a rip, and our Beautiful Bather disappeared below the surface leaving nothing but bubbles to mark the spot. Even before the Life Guards could move, Romeo Rowan, seized the every-ready square of Burlap and swam to the

(Please turn to page 5)

was a horse-hammock invented by some fellow named Lockett, probably used to soothe colicky colts. Any the stables . . . An interesting game onstrated in which a snappy soldier stands at the bow of the horse to give the student's potential regimental when the gyrations of mounting are be facing in the same direction . . Major Arms of the highpowered First Section impressing the pupils of the combined classes Friday afternoon with an interesting demonstration of sneaking and peeping. Without benefit of megaphone or loudspeaker he conjured out of a landscape of some fifty acres a number of tricks that had the boys popeyed. As a result of his exhibition the suggestion has been ordered that Major Arms be the official Benning representative at future nearby county fairs in wife-calling or hog-calling contests . . . withal an interesting decidedly waved Rowan and his rescue robe away. O'Cutie O'Connor was probably one of the first On-Lookers to grasp the seriousness of the situation. With lightning rapidity his Hair-Trigger Brain realized that the lady would not come up for air until she was furnished with something better than a Gunny Sack. O'Cutie was not dressed for Bathing, but was on the outside garbed for Gazing. He dashed rapidly into the Dressing Room where he took the Hot Bath with Soap and the Cold Bath without Suit as prescribed by Garrison Regulations (Sec. XVIII, par. 5. b, (1)). He then had himself examined by the Head Life Guard and proved that he had no "sore throat, sore eyes, discharge from the nose and ears, or had sores or ulcers or other contagious skin disease." He then donned his diving suit and quickly obtained a large Bath Towel to use in lieu of the Burlap. He was up the Post A. & R. Officer, Captain Fast-and-Furious Fry, and get permission to take the Towel into the Tank The permission having been obtained and the Memorandum Receipt having been signed O'Connor, plunged to the rescue. But still no Rescue. The Subaqueous Sweetie scorned the Towel, as she had the Burlap. O'Cutie correctly estimated the situation and started for another Bathing Suit. He swam to the Bath House, took his Hot and Cold Baths, dressed, drove to the nearest officer's quarters where he borrowed a Swim Suit, and returned to the Pool. He passed through the Dressing Room, only pausing to take his hot and cold bath, pass the physical examination, and don his Woolen Waders, and swam again to the Damosel in Distress. He tied his wristwatch to the borrowed Bathing Suit as a weight

THE FLARE (Continued from page 4)

Howard Bus Line. Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insur-

SCHEDULE

			, 0 11	-
From Columbus			Ft.	From Ben	n ning
5:00 A	AM '			6:00	AM
6:00	"			7:50	66
7:40	66			9:15	" "
8:30	"			10:45	46
10:00	"			12:45	PM
11:45	"			2:15	- 46
1:30 I	PM P			4:15	44 -
3:00	46	S	÷	5:10	66
	44	· .	3	6:00
	"			7:00	44
	"			8:00	44
	a.			9:45	"
12:00	M ·			11:15	44
				12:00	· M
	Also	"Extr	สร" ลก		141
	SCH		BUSE
410		PHON			224
CITY					COT

waiting under water. In about four jamas. minutes, making a total of twenty-three since sinking, the Submerged Swimmerette, clad in the new suit, arose horse group wives who have missed from the depths amid the Plaudits of their vacuum sweepers, curling the interested crowd. Swiftly she irons or electric fans can probably swam to the Bath-house Steps. Arrivlocate them by searching through ed there, either because of the Cheers of the Populace or on account of the called "Mounting the Colonel" dem length of time our Heroine had been under water, she became stampeded and dashed madly into that section of commander an aiming point so that the Bath-house reserved for men. Post regulations were for once ignored for completed, both horse and rider will the Lady was permitted to pass through without pausing for the prescribed showers. She ran rapidly to her awaiting auto and disappeared from the picture. The Lesson to be Learned from this ale is this: Ladies, if you will wear Rubber Swim Suits you must realize the possibility of accident. If the accident happens do not be so immoderately modest as to shun the shielding Gunny Sack for it takes time for a Rescuer to break through that he was mistaken for a Log. the Red Tape which binds the entrance and exit to the Pool.

WHAT A MAN

We knew that Captain Jack Otto shape. Certainly every Infantry girl able sort of Hombre around the Headquarters of the Twenty-ninth Infantry where he commanded the R. M. G. Company prior to a CCC detail in the Florida Fever Belt. But we did not begin to realize just how good he was-and is-until we overheard the following conversation last week. Feminine Friend: "Hello, Mrs. Otto, Isn't your Husband ever coming back from CCC duty?" "Yes, indeed," replied Ethel. "The Regiment asked for him some time ago but he couldn't be spared from his Camp. But they have called eight Reserve Captains to duty so John can come home now.

MORE AND MORE MOTOR MINDED

Pardon a Personal Paragraph. As you probably know, we have the honor of commanding the only Motorized Infantry Battalion in the World: well, perhaps in the United States: -anyway, at Fort Benning. When we arrived here a year ago and took over this important command we were favorably inclined toward motors as delayed slightly for he had to call a means of transportation, but we were a little skeptical as to the extent to which motorization might go in the Army. We still looked upon the Horse as a Necessary Military Evil. It did not take us long to become completely Motor-minded and we commenced preaching about our Pet Hobbý. For a long time we felt like John the Baptist Crying in the Wilderness. But at last we feel that we are getting somewhere. A few of the seeds which we have scattered apparently have taken root. Last week, the IV Section of the Academic Department, one of the Last Strongholds of the Horsey Crowd, put in a Requisition for a Bicycle for the use of the Horse Section at the Infantry stables. That action, we hope, marks the Hegira of the Horse. The next step after the Bicycle is perhaps a little Austin, and when that next step is taken, in order to break in gradually the Old Die-Hards, we suggest that a pint of Ammonia be used in each gallon of Gas just for Atmosphere.

FANNY FARMER FAINTED

Student R. S. Momas, following the tection. Someone is complaining that dictates of Garrison Regulations and they couldn't hear noise No. 8 bethe Customs of Fort Benning, engage cause of the barking dog. ed the services of a properly authenticated Nubian Maid, who came to there are the swarms of car salesher with Credentials testifying to her superior ability as a Cook and General House-maid. Planning her first jor Easley is starring. This time he's Dinner in her recently assigned Quarteaching Walsh, J. T. that new son ters, Mrs. Momas decided that the Starchy Item of the Diet should be Baked Potatoes. She dug the old Faithful Fanny Farmer Cook Book out of the Professional Book Box, looked up the subject of Baked Potatoes, found what she wanted, and then directed the Dark Desdemona to "bake the Potatoes in the Jacket." A short time later Mrs. M's nose knew there was something burning in the Kitch ters, and that the M. P.'s haven't en. Upon investigation it was discovered that the potatoes were being bak. Kinzig on this subject. Let's see ed in the Jacket all right but the now, is there anything else to be Cook had used for a Jacket the upper thankful for????

and sank it over the spot where the part of the Lord of the Manor's Pa-

CITATION FOR THE WEEK

One day last week Old Man Arms of the Epidemic Department was conducing a Demonstration for the Students in what the schedule calls Scouting and Patrolling but which is familiarly known as Sneaking and Peeping. Of course Scout-Master Arms did the talking and a detachment from the 29th Infantry did the Demonstrating. It was going to be so good that Arms invited guests out to see the Show. Among these was his Mother. Mother didn't like being crowded in with the Students and decided she could get a better view if she sat on a log which she noticed about ten yards away. Over she walked to her eserved seat.

Our Citation goes to the Unknown Soldier of the 29th Infantry who had so thoroughly Camouflaged himself within a few yards of the spectators had a Reputation as a pretty Value has been here, and apparently returns, year after year, to visit. Glowing tales have been poured in these ears, of dances, picnics, rides, hunts and brawls,-enough to make one wonder if heaven itself wasn't located somewhere down in "Geo'gia."

REFLECTIONS OF A STUDENT (Continued from page 4)

So is it any wonder that we new arrivals drove up to the Ralston that fateful September first with a delightful thrill of anticipation? And certainly the first four days seemed to bear out previous reports, what with golf, tennis, swimming and a splendid dance by the bachelors of thirtyone to greet us. However a glimpse of the future was afforded on Tuesday the sixth, when a greasy rifle was shoved in our hands, and every one was lined up for the old familiar sizing formation. The afternoon following the opening move on the part of the "Powers" was appropriately disposed of by the Assistant Commandant by letting us do the disposing. May the practice continue! But from then on folks, we've been hitting the ball rain or shine, early and late. Wonder if the old West Point system of beating down the plebes, in order to build them up new form while still plastic, is to be followed? At any rate, the class statistician has estimated that Capt. Bloomquist enough perspiration on his route sketching to fill Russ Pool to the three-quarter mark. That was the afternoon one bright soul got away to a flying start by sketching the wrong road.

Like a bouncing ball the class is passed from one section to another. No sooner is one set of instructors tired out, than a new group is met. As I sit and muse over the past week, events flit by in kaleidoscope form, but a few stand above the others:marksmanship in the gym, and everyone wondering how young Major Easley might be. Watch out! he's asking questions on the day's assignment. Funny that he memorized the names of Heimerdinger and Pospisil for the first questions. Then there's Lt. Raymond very aptly broadcasting "How Dry I Am" on several buzzer sets. And next Major The recently arrived wife of Tank Arms' night problem in sound de-That, strange to say, was the noise. men, who have descended upon us like a plague of locusts. Again Maentitled, "High, Low, Right or Left," which is sung to the accompaniment of fast bolt action. And last but not least that awful wetting Tuesday afternoon. We saw the storm an hour before she hit, but hints were of no avail. Oh well, maybe it's that plebe system again.

Anyhow, we're glad we're single and avoid all the stewing over quartagged our buggy yet. See Scott and

The Grocery Department is at all times fully stocked with all seasonable groceries and seafoods, and, in addition, carries the largest possible stock of staple grocery items.

Whatever you may need-whenever you may need it, you can depend on the Grocery Department to supply you.

GROCERY DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service

A WELCOME

To Incoming Officers and An Invitation To All to consult

Robison Brown Jr.

Special Agent Ordinary Department 210 Murrah Bldg. Phone 1637 Columbus

REPRESENTING:

THE PRUDENIAL

Insurance Company of America Home Office: Newark, N. J.

> For Advice And Aid On All Life Insurance Matters

Information And Advice Cheerfully Given Whether Pertaining To Prudential Contracts Or Others

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Brilliant Baseball Games Feature Of Week

Games of recent date contested at Gowdy Field have show some brilliant exhibitions of baseball, and, as was prophesied, a closer race for the bunting in the second half of the Fort Benning intramural season.

The 66th Infantry Tankers scored an upset over the Headquarters Battalion, 29th Infantry when Segrest, veteran of many seasons, held the Black Pirates to five hits during the contest. McLane starred with the willow with four for four, including a homer which furnished the high light of the contest.

The Pirates turned around and bested the League-leading Second Bats in a close game, after the Blue Thunderbolt had coasted into the eighth inning with a three run lead.

The standings of the various teams including Wednesday's game is as follows: The 2nd Bats are leading the race, having played thirteen, won ten and lost three for a percent of 769: Headquarters Battalion, 29th, is thundering right on their heels with thirteen contested, nine won and four defeated, for an average of 692; the valiant Special Units of the Infantry School Detachment are next having played eleven, won seven and lost four, averaging 636; the Irish of the 1st Battalion are still fighting their way up to the top and are playing 583, having contested twelve games and won seven. The Tank Battalion has boosted its average up a little since the last standing, having beat the Pirates to raise their percentage to 308; while the Artillery are in the well, having failed to emerge victorious in a single game in the second half.

There are four teams still in the race. If the Special Units defeat the Kellys the Headquarters nine will be thrown into a tie for first place honors with the Second Bats. There still looms a hard fighting Green Wave baseball aggregation for the Pirates to settle with, the last two encounters between the Irish and the Pirates having ended in tie games. In the most spectacular of the two games they battled for fourteen innings, ending in a 2-2 deadlock.

The Special Units are still fighting hard and may overthrow the Kells to win the second half. The 1st Battalion Green Wave can win all three of their next contests which would put them right up to the top (if) one of the largest words in Webster's. Anyway it remains to be seen, and the contests of next week will prabably decide the winners.

STANDINGS AS FOLLOWS

1	Maria Land	(Including	Wednesday's Played	game) Won	Lost	Pct.
	100		13	10	3	769
			13	9	4	692
			11	7	4	636
	457	TRUMPIN	12	7	5	583
		그렇다보기	$\tilde{13}$	4	7 . 9	308

egihth, however, and allowed three inning, accounting for three more runs. An error on the Kelly second 1st BN. 29th INF. vs 2nd BN. In a closely contested game, replete hits and one run before he was sent with thrills, the Headquarters nine of to the showers in favor of Fuller. the 29th Infantry bested their brother "Slim" failed to stem the barrage and battalion, the Second Bats, in one of gave up two more hits in the same the upsets of the season.

2nd Bn.

Hq. Bn.

1st Bn.

Ward, who was tossing them over for the Blue Thunderbolt, held the baseman helped the cause consider-Spare Parts scoreless for seven con- ably. secutive stanzas, allowing the Pirates but two bingles. He weakened in the a lot of loose playing on the part of the Pirates infield in the fourth spasm to score three runs. Prophet led Benning Bowlers. off the attack with a single and Thompson was safe at first on an error. Kelly was also safe at the initial on a similiar play. Prophet crossed the plate on this miscue, Mitchell's sacrifice advanced the baserunners one sack, and they both sprinted home when Labonte threw Lee's easy roller

C. D. SHINE

Lt. Ferenbaugh's Pirates came to life in the eighth frame after the Kells had visualized another victory to add to their already long string. Fraiche—good old dependable Fraiche started the slaughter with a triple that rocked he fence in deep right center. Labonte drove him home with a hot single and himself advanced to second when White was given credit for one timer. Labonte travelled to third on a pass ball and dented the rubber a home when Calsor hit safely. Both White and Calsor crossed the pan when the Kelly second baseman was given credit for an error. Parsons hit but died on first when Herbert skied to left field. The Pirates scored another run in the final session on a round of errors by the Blue Thunderbolt.

Kelly ran in a flock of pinch hitters in the last inning, but they all looked the same to Preacher Parsons, and he retired them in order.

Parsons twirled a whale of a game for the Spare Parts and allowed the Kells but five scattered bingles for the entire nine sessions. He whiffed four of the Second Bats willow wielders and was given credit for eight additional assists.

Fraiche was the batting star of the Headquarters nine when he started the stampede in the fatal eighth with a screaming triple and also scored another one of his teams runs when he circled the bases in the last spasm.

Mitchell and Saunders starred with the willow for the Kells.

SCORE BY INNINGS

RHE 000 000 041 5 Hq. Bn. The Second Bats took advantage of 000 300 000 3 2nd Bn. Batteries: Parsons and Wright and Johnson; and Ward and Fuller and

> 1st BN. 29th & ARTILLERY The 1st Battalion, 29th Infantry baseball nine, shutout the baseball > aggregation representing the 83rd Field Artillery in the opener of a > double header played at Gowdy Field

The Irish scored in every inning but

Santa, on the rubber for the Green Wave, and given errorless support by his mates, held the Artillery to four scattered bingles during his stay on the mound, but he was relieved in the eighth frame by Lefty Smith, port-sider, who kept up the goose egg column for the remainder of the fracas. Jordan, versatile ball player and keystone sackman, and Olie Johnson, right field ball hawk were the mainstay of the Irish offense. Herbie smashed out two doubles and Johnson

Cherry and Nelson wielded the wil-

BATTERIES: Cherry and Matthews and Santa, Smith and Reddock.

In the nightcap the Tanks and Headquarters Team engaged in one of the most thrilling games of the season which finally ended 4 to 3 in favor of the Golden Tornado—a big up-

Too much McLane was the cause Please turn to Page 7

000 000 000 0 6 7 020 212 02x 9 12 0 was given credit for three safetys.

low heavily for the Caisson Riders. SCORE BY INNINGS

1st Battalion

three, collecting twelve hits off Cherry, Redleg hurler, and exhibited a brand of base running unparalleled

Thompson. Umpires: Wolfe and Lindsey.

Friday September 8th, 9-0.

JOHN LOCKE

RENT-A-CAR COMPANY

DRIVE YOURSELF 519 - 8TH STREET PHONE 9579

COURTESY TO ALL

Sure You Want The Best

BEST EQUIPMENT

Every Job Guaranteed

Hundred of Satisfied Army Officer Customers

Your Account Is Already Open—Use It

Ask any owner or customer why he has always

Recommended

STUDEBAKER SERVICE

Columbus Roberts Motor Co.

510-14 Twelfth St.

Phone 271-2

To Begin Season Prizes Announced

Bowling artists of the Infantry School, including newcomers among the three classes of the Academic Department, will find one of the best alleys in this section in the Academic Department bowling hall, which opened last Monday for the fall and winter season.

In connection with the playing on the alleys during the winter months, a number of weekly and monthly prizs, as well as several for high scores have been announced by Captain Fremont Hodson, officer in charge of the alleys. For the first bowler to make a possible score of 300 on regulation ten pins, there has been selected a trophy valued at $25, or a cash prize of the same amount. For each succeeding bowler who scores 30, there will be a trophy or cash prize of $10. The first lady to make a score of 200 or more will receive a $5 coupon book or credit to that amount at the Book Shop, and for each succeeding score greater that the previous high score, $5 coupon book or Book Shop credit. Officers who make a score of 250 or better will receive a like prize, under the same conditions as to succeeding scores. The first enlisted man to score 250 or more will also be eligible for the $5 prize, with succeeding higher scores being awarded in a like manner. The first bowler to make a score of 200 or more with duck pins receives $5, and succeeding higher scores the same.

Weekly prizes for the high score will be awarded throughout the season, in the amount of a $1 coupon book per week. The same prize will hold for the high score on three consecutive games, and for the greatest number of games bowled with a score of 200 or more.

Monthly prize contests, effective October 1, have been adjusted into three flights, the first consisting of bowlers with an average of 230 or more for their five best games, the second of those with an average of 200 to 229 for five games, the third, of those who attain an average of 150 to 199 for five, and the fourth of all other bowlers. Upon a bowler's attaining an average of five games above the maximum score of his flight he will be transferred to the flight to which his score applies on the following month. No bowler may move from a higher to a lower flight. The winner of each flight will receive a monthly prize consisting of a $5 cash prize or that amount in credit at the Book Shop, whichever he may select.

Formation of the regular officers and enlisted men's league has not been made as yet, and details will be announced some time after the first of October. Last year the enlisted men's post team had a very successful season, capturing the championship of the Tri-City Bowling league in competition with civilian teams from Columbus, Phenix iCity and Girard, and going to Atlanta to compete in the Southeastern Bowling League Tournament. As a result of their play in Atlanta they have been invited to join a league of Southeastern bowling teams composed of organizations in a number of surrounding larger cities and will have two

Please turn to Page 7

Like other Sportsmen

you'll be wise if you make your preparations for the hunting season beforehand. And like the football enthusiasts, the tennis players, the baseball players, the fishermen, or the skeet shooters, you'll be wise if you buy at the Main Branch.

At the Main Branch, we try to keep a complete stock of fine sporting equipment. You can depend on that which you purchase here.

POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service

BASEBALL

(Continued From Page 6) of the defeat suffered by the Black Pirates. Mac was invincible in Fri day's contest, banging out four hits out of a like number of times at bat for a perfect day. In his first appearance before White, Spare Part hurler, he nailed the agate right on the nose and sent the ball over the right field fence, clearing the structure by a good fifteen feet. The second time at bat he received credit for a nice single, and in his third appearance clouted out a screaming triple that rolled to the center field fence. His last time at the plate he got credit for another one timer when he reached sky high to smash out a single on a pitch that was intended for a ball.

The veteran, Segrest, labored on the rubber for the Tank Battalion and pitched a stellar brand of ball for the entire game, allowing the Pirates but five scattered bingles for the duration of the melee.

Speed Ball" White worked on the hillock for the Pirates but McLane loomed like a nightmare, causing the defeat suffered by the Hadquarters

"Radio" Obrion was also instrumental in winning the game for the Tankers when he banged out a roaring triple in the sixth spasm to cross the plate as McLane collected three bags off of a similar clout.

SCORE BY INNINGS

R H FTanks 010 001 020 4 9 000 001 200 3 5 2

TANKS AND 2nd BATTALION

In one of he fastest ball games of the season, the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry defeated the team of the 66th Infantry, (Light Tanks) by the slim margin of one marker. The score was 3 to 2 in favor of the doughboys.

The first hint of action came in the opening frame when Tommy Thompson poled out a hard drive which slipped through the left fielder's glove and Tommy pulled up at third. He crossed the pan when Kelly came across with a beautiful single down the first base line.

The Tankers' only two scores were recorded in the third frame. After Stanisbury had doubled, the veteran Swantic, who represented the Golden Tornado on the rubber, poled one of Nichol's offerings over the left field fence and the agate rolled to the reville gun.

Lefty Nichols who labored on the hillock for the Kells held the Tanks scoreless for the remainder of the

SCORE BY INNINGS

RHE 002 000 000 2 7 Tanks 2nd Bn. 1000 011 00x 3 6 1 Batteries: Swantic and Sullivan and Nichols and Thompson.

can recall when a slender Bulova baguette like this would have cost at least $50!

During out trade - in - sale, you can purchase it for only $29.75 . . . less a generous allowance on your old watch!

GEM JEWELRY CO. 1200 Broadway Phone 339

83rd F. A.

BATTERY "A"

Cupid has shot an arrow into our table shack and has one of the horseshoers talking in his sleep at nights and day-dreaming. We know that Pfc. Dozier is happily married, so from all indications it must be "Muscle Bound"

We will soon be back to full strength if recruits keep coming in. Sgt. Cole nad Pfc. Burns have just returned after three months in the woods with the C. C. C. Both were glad to be back with old friends.

"Hot Papa" Muscrove declares, am through with all 'dames' from now on." One glance at his head and he can't be blamed; whoever swung that rolling pin must been hefty.

Congratulations to Pvts. Jones, Kea and Lane on their appointment to Private First Class. Pvt. Jones has decided to stay another three years, reenlisting last week.

BATTERY "C"

Corp. Mallard and Pfc. "Spot" Webb have returned to the battery after having been away on detached service with the C. C's at Montmorency, S. C. We are proud of the splendid commendations that they both received from their company commander.

Corp. Tatum has returned from furlough and from the looks of things, he certainly must have had a "swell" time. His trip carried him to the old home town away down n Old Louisi-

Pfc. "Spotlight" McKenzie has re-cently releved Pfc. "Champ" Clark of of the Day Room Orderly's job.

> BOWLING (Continued From Page 6)

teams in the league.

Sergeant E. J. Trott, Infantry School Detachment, has been nounced by Captain Hodson as caretaker and assistant to the officer in A nominal sum will be charged for each game played, and bowling alley coupon books will be available to all organizations.

WIDE RANGE OF SUBJECTS BE-FORE CLASSES (Continued from page 3)

again be occupied with the study of aerial photographs under the supervision of Captain Bloomquist.

The tactics of a rifle company in defense will be the subject of a con erence on Friday morning which will be directed by Major William F. Lee Following this the students will take part in a conference on field artillery in defence, conducted by Major Arnold, and a conference on anti-tank defense directed by Major Herbert A. Wadsworth. The morning will be concluded by a conference supervised by Major Heileman on the duties of combat engineers. Maj. Heileman will again open the atfernoon's work with another conference on engineers in defense and withdrawal, following which Captain Bloomquist will conclude the week's work with practical work in the interpretation of aerial photographs.

A conference demonstration and practical work n rapid firing of the automatic pistol will begin the week's work for the company officers. This will be directed by Major Claudius M. Easely. Captain Oliassembling and mechanical operation of the automatic rifle, Captain Bloomquist will direct the class in a study of military sketching which will occupy the entire afternoon.

Tuesday the students will attend oil heaters. the terrain exercise directed by the with the automatic rifle under the su-penetrate all parts of them. pervision of Captain Trechter, and pistol marksmanship supervised by Major Easley. work in the study of the automatic few eggs always seem to escape derifle on Wednesday, after which Lieu- struction. tenant Colonel Jenkins will hold a conference on defensive combat tac 7 to 30 days, depending on temperatics. The students will then attend ture conditions, are always necessary noon in equitation directed by Major Thomas.

Thursday morning they will attend Maj. Arnold's discussion of the powers of field artillery, and Captain Matchett's conference on the battalion in defense. Captain Trechter will resume the work with the automatic rifle following this, and the afternoon will be devoted to pistol marksmanship on Simpson range, directed by Major Easley.

Friday the students will follow the schedule of the advanced class for the first three periods, following which Major Easley will continue the work in pistol marksmanship. The afternoon will be occupied by equitation, under Major Thomas.

The tank course students will begin a week of mechanical work with a periodof practical work in the assembling and disassembling of different types of rear axles and differentials under the direction of Lieutenant Melvin E. Meister. A conference on the truck chassis directed by Lieutenant Joseph A. Holly will follow, and the morning will be closed with a conference on springs and spring devices by Captain Severne S. McLaughlin. The afternoon will be devoted to practical work with carburetors supervised by Captain Laurin L. Williams.

Tuesday the tankers will resume their study of springs directed by Captain McLaughlin, who will supervise the next period of instruction in the care and maintainance of different types of wheels. Captain L. L. Williams will supervise more work with carburetors during the last morning period and will continue the subject during the entire afternoon.

On Wednesday the students will continue the study of carburetors under Captain L. L. Williams, following which they will be given a review and oral quiz by Lieutenant Meister on the truck Chassis. The latter will take place in the afternoon.

Thursday will bring more study of carburetors in the morning under the direction of Captain L. I. Williams, and a graded test on the truck chassis by Lieutenant Meister in the afternoon.

Friday Lieutenant Russel J. Nelson will open the day with a conference on manifolds, followed by Captain L. L. Williams with a conference on air cleaners, who will conduct more practical work with manifolds and air ning). The Spaniards committed cleaners as the last period of the morning. The afternoon will begin with a conference on chassis troubles and overhaul by Lieutenant Meister, who will then supervise work in the practical overhauling of the same.

HERE'S TO YOUR HEALTH (Continued From Page 3)

hatched bedbugs from those surviving eggs are killed.

Creosol, turpentine and pyethrum powder added to the kerosene make it more effective.

Steam is a very effective means of eradicating bedbugs, when ever it can be used.

Mattresses, bedding and clothing are better treated and less harmed by steam treatment. When this can not be done it is necessary to carefully search all this material for bugs and eags. using in addition kerosene, gasoline or boiling water.

Flaming with a blow torch all the ioints, cracks and springs of iron beds is effective.

In hot weather a good method for the eradication of bedbugs is to close up the house, build a fire in ver E. Trechter will then direct a the furnace and place small oil stoves conference demonstration and practi- in each room, so that the temperacal work in the assembling and disture can be raised to 130 or 140 degrees F.

> This high temperature must be maintained for from one to four hours. The necessary moisture is provided for by placing pans of water on the

All clothing, bedding and etc. must 1st section, following which in the be hung up or arranged in the rooms afternoon they will resume their work so that the heat and moisture will

The final thing to remember is, that unless we use the unsafe gas, there is no method of eradicating all Captain Trechter will again conduct bedbugs with only one treatment. A

Repeated treatments at intervals of positions, and spend the entire after- to eradicate these immature forms.

Engineers

We have so many Recruits around the outfit that the old timers don't know for sure whether they are themselves or someone else. We only lack two men of being a full outift once more and it certainly looks good to a lot of fellows that have to pull K. P's and Guards.

Corps. Wanner, Evans, Jones, and Decoux are now Acting Sgts. and they are certainly taking things seriously. Pfcs. Ivey, Gay, Dyas, Stewart, Devane and Delearo are Acting Corporals. That's mighty fine fellows, keep up the good work.

Pfc. Richards just couldn't stay away from down in Florida any longer so he got himself an eighteen day furlough and took off. We all tried to find out why it was that he wanted to go so bad, but all he would say was he wasn't talking." Still and all we have a strong idea that he has someone down there and that she isn't a boy, either. What's the dope, Rich-

Pfc. Phillips couldn't stay away from the outfit any longer so he turned his furlough in and now is working very hard to make up for lost time around the garage. Welcome back.

Pvt. Schrock, has received orders to report to Fort Humphreys to enter the Engineer school. Work hard Schrock and don't let the Seventh

JOHN ORTIZ, DARING SPANIARD, ONCE HELD CAPTIVE (Continued from page 3)

Florida, and when the Indians learned of the invaders' insatiable greed for the precious metal, they became even more careful and took extra precautions to see that the location of the treasure trove remained hidden.

There is also mention made in old books of an almost fabulously valuable pearl necklace which was the property of a queen of the Indians who had headquarters at Cutifachiqui, on the Chattahoochee. bly on the present site of Ft. Mitchell, Ala., across the river from Fort Benunheard-of atrocities in their efforts to force the Indians to reveal the hiding place of the necklace, but there is no evidence that it was ever found. The pearls from which the necklace was made were probably found in the bed of the Chattahoo chee; at Brennan's Mound, near Columbus, there are large numbers of shell fragments scattered among the bones of Indians who died many

Later on in DeSoto's exploration he and his party were endangered through the treachery of one of the powerful chieftans of the country, Vitachuco, who in spite of the fact that he had but recently made a treaty of peace with the Spaniard, gathered together a large number of subjects and allies, and prepared to attack. The plan was robbed of its element of surprise by the vigilance of John Ortiz who discovered it and warned his countrymen in time for them to repulse the attack of the In-

Thus ends the story of one of he Conquistadores, the daring, bold explorers who risked their livse, their comfort, and their peace of mind to face the unknown dangers of Indians, untracked forests and fierce animals. heir deeds, their very names are forgotten, and it is only by searching through the pages of old books and old pamphlets that we can resurrect them, and polish up the stories of their conquests to the same brightness with which they shone in their own

PACKARD

5-Passenger Sedan absolutely like new. Big sacrifice for quick sale or trade.

Kyle Motor Co.

1425 1ST AVE. Home of the New Terraplane Sixes and Eights

New 1933 Pontiac Sedan-Big Reduction

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS

.___$ 600,000.00

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

FRANK GOTCH

America's greatest wrestling champion died in his very prime—at the height of his brilliant career, from a bad stomach. No man can long eat food that is not healthful -"Buddy" you can bear down on OLD SETTLER'S PORK SAUSAGE-Not an ache in a carload. We say this is the best commercial Pork Sausage on the American market today-bar none. Every pound is United States Government inspected and guaranteed by-

The Provision Co., Inc.

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital

1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

THE

Post Exchange

has a

DELIVERY SERVICE

from its

SODA FOUNT

... which is designed for the delivery of Ice Cream in small quantities on the Post. The hours of this service are from 11:00 a. m. to 9:00 p. m.

Excellent Curb Service

Telephone 69

SODA FOUNT

POST EXCHANGE

FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

AN INVITATION...

efficient and satisfactory.

to the officers and ladies of Fort Benning to make our store their headquarters for drugs and other necessities while in Columbus. You will find our service quick,

JOINER'S PHARMACY

PHONES 183 AND 184

14 Thirteenth Street, Opposite Waverly Hotel

TANKERS CELEBRATE BAPTISM OF FIRE (Continued from page 1)

address the men of the unit paid respects to those who fell during the battalion's baptism of fire on September 12, 1918, by standing at attention while the band played the "Star Spangled Banner."

Chaplain John F. Monahan then gave the benediction and the troops returned to the company mess halls for a special holiday dinner.

During the program at Doughboy Stadium, Captain Spalding had invited officers, representing the major units of the Infantry School, to occupy the speaker's platform. Among those who accepted the invitation are: Colonel George F. Baltzell, Director of the Infantry Board, who spoke for General Estes; Colonel Charles W. Weeks, Assistant Commandant of the Infantry School; Colonel William E. Person, Commanding the 29th Infantry; Colonel William B. Wallace, Instructor of the Tank Section, Infantry School; Lieutenant Colonel Frank F. Jewett, Commanding Officer, Special Units; Lieutenant Colonel Reginald H. Kelley, Head of the Department of Experment; Major Sidney G. Brown, commanding the 2d Battalion, 24th Infantry; Major Clyde A. Selleck, commanding officer of the 83rd Field Artillery; Major Harry L. Reeder, in structor of the Infantry School and only former commander of the tank battalion now at Fort Benning; Chaplain John F. Monahan, Catholic Chaplain of the post; Chaplain Willis T. Howard, Protestant Chaplain of the Infantry School; 1st Lieutenant Charles R. Landon and 2d Lieutenant W. Estes

On September 12, 1918, the battalion, while still in its infancy, received a baptism of fire as a battle unit, during the reduction of the St. Mihiel Salient. For this reason the 66th Infantry (Light Tanks), and Company F, 67th Infantry (Medium Tanks) have selected this day as the battalion birthday, which is the most important day of the yearly schedule.

Board To Study Phase Of N. R. A.

Another phase of the country-wide drive, in an attempt to reduce expenses through the National Recovery Program, will be studied to the smallest detail when a board of officers, appointed at Fort Benning, Georgia, meet to investigate and report upon the present status of forage for animals at the Infantry School. Cooperating with President Roosevelt in his balancing of the budget, these officers will comply with instructions relative to the reduction in funds for the purchase of forage. In meeting they shall study the means to be employed in properly sustaining pubic animals under the conditions prevailing at this station.

During the summer months the animals have been turned out to graze over the 97,000 acres of Fort Benning, and through this means much dry forage has been saved. Now that the summer is almost gone, a means of satisfactorily sustaining them through the winter months must be determined.

The board will be composed of the following officers: Lieutenant Colonel Burton A. Seeley, Veterinary Corps; Major Clyde A. Selleck, 83rd Field Artillery; Major Kramer Thomas, Cavalry; Captain Horace O. Cushman, 29th Infantry, and Captain Clough F. Gee, Quartermaster Corps.

Howard, Protestant Chaplain of the Infantry School; 1st Lieutenant Charles R. Landon and 2d Lieutenant W. C. Sweeney, aide-de-camp to General Reassigned Here

A number of officers who have been on C. C. duty at the various Georgian Camps are returning to the 29th Infantry in the near future and have been assigned and reassigned to the many organizations in the 29th Demonstration regiment.

The officers affected by the special orders issued by the regimental commander, Colonel William E. Persons are: Captain Henry L. Barrett who has been relieved from attachment to Regimental Headquarters and Band has been assigned to Company F

Second Lieutenant Henry C. Britt has been relieved from assignment to Company G and has been ordered to H Company, a machine gun organiza-

First Lieut. Washington Ives has been relieved from his assignment to Company H and will do duty with E Company, a rifle outfit of the Second Battalion.

First Lieutenants James E. Purcell and Clyde D. Eddleman have been relieved from their assignment to Headquarters and Headquarters Company First Battalion. Lieut. Purcell has been reassigned to Service Company, the transportation unit of the Demonstrationists and Lt. Eddleman has been ordered to D Company of the let Battalian.

Another officer to be assigned to D Company is Second Lieutenant Orville W. Mullikin who has been attached to B Company.

Second Lieutenant Edmond M. Rowan has been relieved from duty and assignment to Company A, a rifle company of the 1st Battalion and has been reassigned to Cannon Company of Headquarters Battalion, 29th Infantry

Lastly, Second Lieutenant Richard H. Smth has been ordered to C Company another rifle organization of the 1st Battalion, before this assignment he was attached to A Company.

Some of these officers have not yet returned from the C. C. C. Camps, but each officer has been furnished a copy of the special order and will report immediately to their assigned Companies upon their return to the 29th Infantry.

We Make

RUBBER STAMPS

COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

4 FORT BENNING SOLDIERS

purpose of attending the West Point preparatory school at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Georgia, have ben ordered to that prominent post for furtherance of their studies and as competitors for appointments to enter the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York. If these men are successful in the preparatory examinations held at McPherson they will attend the Academy at West Point, where, after a period of four years, they will be commissioned as second lieutenants in the regular army.

The men who were successful in the preliminaries are, Private William F. Gay of Company F, 29th Infantry, Private George W. Rhyne of Company D, 66th Infantry, Privates George B. Crandall and Richard D Pruitt both of E Company, 66th Infantry.

Dr. R. H. Brown

OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN
Murrah Bldg.

Phones Office 4108 Res. 1153

Dependable
Electric and Gas
Service

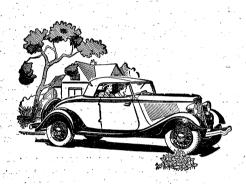

GEORGIA COMPANY

A Citizen Whereever We Serve
1330 Broadway
R. M. Harding, Manager

CONVENIENT LOCATION—MODERN EQUIPMENT RATES REASONABLE

Phone your agent or call our Superintendent, Mr. Trussell, Phone 3062

DIMON COURT APARTMENTS

NEW FORD ROADSTER

$510

{F. O. B. Detroit, plus freight and delivery. Bumpers and spare tire extra.}

Low prices on Ford Service All labor charged at flat rate

Bring your Ford here for expert service work. We use only genuine Ford parts and all labor is charged at a low flat rate. You know in advance what the labor cost will be. Satisfaction guaranteed. All mechanics specially trained. Ask about our Special Inspection Service. It will save you money and keep your car like new.

Burrus Motor Co.

1216-22 First Avenue
Phone 3500
R. E. (BOB) MATTHEWS,
Fort Benning Representative

You Know . . .

where you're going!

but do you know whether you're going to be there?

Too many people start out on trips with their cars in poor condition. Whether it's one or a hundred miles, you should still take the same precautions—check your oiling and greasing, your tires, your engine—in fact, your whole car.

But, if you're smart, you'll keep your car in such a good condition that you KNOW it's ready to start at any moment. That's where our help comes in!

Drive by for an estimate at no cost to you.

AUTO DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE FT. BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service

GEORGE WASHINGTON OF 300 ROOMS - 300 ROOMS - 300 BATHS NEWEST AND FINEST Every Known Facility - Garage Directly Connecting Lobby - Radio MAYFLOWER 300 ROOMS - 300 BATHS A BEAUTIFUL HOTEL Splendid Facilities - Garage - Radio Coffee Shoppe FLAGLER MODERN AS THE BEST FREE GARAGE EVERY CONVENIENCE FOR SUMMER COMFORT "" PRICES IN KEEPING WITH THE TIMES - "

OWNER

ROBERT KLOEPPEL

DENNING

VOLUME III

FORT BENNING, GA., SEPTEMBER 22, 1933

Ten Years Ago Last Week

The Infantry Rifle Team finshed its stay at Sea Girt, N. J. with Fort Benning personnel carrying off a goodly share of the prizes. First to ring the bell was Captain J. H. Kneubel, 24th Infantry, who won the Eisner Individual Match. Lieutenant L. V. Jones, Infantry, came through with possibles at 200 and 600 yds., and a 49 at 1000 to lower his team score by only one point. Lieutenant W. H. Omohundro, 24th Infantry captured the Wingate All Comers Short Range match with Captain Severne S. McLaughlin, (now instructor in the Tank Section) coming in second. Major Price, 24th Infantry, placed second in the All Comers Expert Match and third in the Gould Individual Rapid Fire Match, in which latter Lieutenant Jones won 1st place again.

The 15th Tank Battalion (now 66th Infantry Light Tanks), celebrated organization day and was presented with new colors by General Gordon, commandant. The usual contests of pieeating, sack-races, etc., followed by a baseball game between picked teams, took place. In the evening a boat-ride on the S. S. Callahan, accompanied by refreshments, took place.

Colonel Woodson Hocker, left post on furlough on conclusion of which he assumed command of the 25th Infantry at Nogales, Arizona.

Capt. O'Connell To Leave Ft. Benning

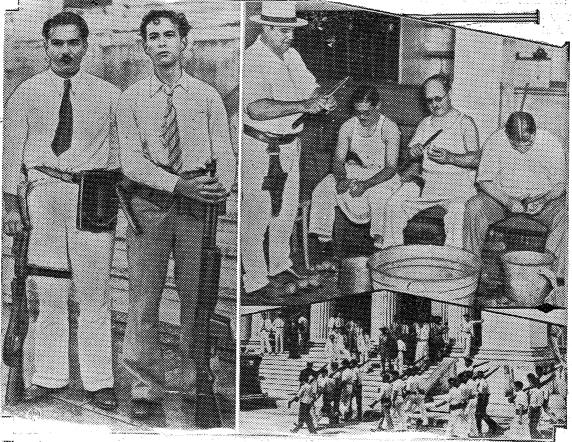

Captain Daniel O'Connel, Quartermaster Corps, for five years assistant commandant of the School for Bakers and Cooks Fort Benning, Ga., is in receipt of War Department orders announcing his relief from the local post and assignment to Fort Bragg,

N. C. as assistant post quartermaster. Captain O'Connell has been on duty at Fort Benning since 1928, when he was assigned here from Fort Sam Houston, Texas, and assumed his duties with the School for Bakers and Cooks. He has served continuously on that assignment ever since, and in addition has acted as assistant utilities officer of the post. For his excellent work with the culinary branch of the post activities, as well T. C. camps that have been held during his stay at Fort Benning, and for the manner in which he has conductper meal, Captain O'Connell has received numerous commendations from various officers of the army whose commands he has fed.

His work at Fort Benning is the latest act of a long and active military career. He first enlisted in the army in Troop G of the 2d Cavalry in 1895, and served successively in the 4th Artillery the 6th and the 13th Cavalry, in every enlisted grade from private to regimental sergeant major H's work as regimental commissary sergeant of the 13th Cavalry led him to transfer to the Quartermaster Corps, and he was serving in that branch at the time he held a commission as a captain in the Officer Reserve Section of the Quartermaster Corps, and was ordered to active duty in 1917. He served during the war as a captain

(Please turn to page 3)

Armed Diplomacy in Revolt-Torn Cuba

Three interesting pictures from turbulent Cuba, where, it is reported a new revolt is brewing. ago Alvarez and Ysmael Seijas, heads of the student "brain trust" that directs the policies of President Grau San Martin. Automatic rifles indicate they do not put all their trust in brains. Top right four of the Cuban Army officers besieged in Nacional Hotel, Havana, prepare a meal in the kitchen. Lower, a company of armed students of Havana University ready to cope with trouble.

Children's School Opens Monday With Enrollment Of 350

While the grownups of the Fort Benning garrison began their third week of the academic classes at the Infantry School, the children of the post com menced their school term on Monday Sepember 18.

The seven grades had approximately about 350 children whose regular courses will be supplemented by instructions in art and music. Domestic science and manual training courses will begin in October and have been added to the instruction schedule for pupils of the sixth and seventh grades. A model kitchen, as mess officer of the numerous R. O. fitted with miniature electric stoves and other appropriate equipment for the culinary experiments of the makebelieve housewives, and a work-shop ed the huge Special Units messhall, provided with benches, tools, and genius, have been added to the school's These laboratories are heltered in a temporary. It has been contemplated to add a projection to the main school building for the cusing of these classes.

Captain Howard N. Merrill, officer in charge of the children's school, has completed his selection of its staff of eachers, Miss Anna Louise Grimes s to be principal, and will also conuct classes of the first grade. Miss Ellison will teach the second grade.

Miss Sarah Kennon will have the third grade, Miss Mary Davis, the fourth, Miss Stevenson the fifth, Miss Lois Wells will retain her supervision of the sixth grade as will Miss Lillian Wells, the seventh. Mrs. Beatrice Harris will supervise the domestic se ence work and Mrs. G. Reiney will West Point, N. Y., for a number of (Please turn to page 3)

According to recent advices from Washington, Benning is allotted over six million dollars of the Reconstruction Fund for new construction. It is expected, in accordance with the plans of the Administration and of Secretary Ickes, that the work which is to be carried out with this funds will be begun at the earliest possible moment in order to give employ ment to a number of men.

Six Post Officers Recently Promoted To Higher Grades

The promotion of four officers of promoted to 1st Lieutenant 2nd Lieu tenant Martyn Moses, Infantry, Air Corps, promoted to 1st Lieutenant. and Lt. Huggins promoted to 1st Lt. The first three mentioned are all stu-Wells being a member of the advanced class, and Lieutenants Moses and McKee, members of the Company officers, Lieutenant Huggins is on regular duty at the post, having been assigned to Flight B, 16th Observation Squadron.

Major Well's promotion dates from September 1. This officer has been on publicity duty at the Recruiting Publicity Bureau, Governor's Island, New York, the office that handles publicity for the army in general, and with the United States Military Academy at

(Please turn to page 3)

Reserve Officers Hold First Meeting; Hobson Presides

The Columbus, Fort Benning Group of the eserve Officers held its first meeting of the winter season last Tuesday night, September 19, at 8:00 P. M. in the American Legion Hall, Columbus. The meeting was called by Major William H. Hobson, 29th Infantry new director of the Reserve Officers Group, for the purpose of electing officers for the coming year, discussing the schedule for the school to be conducted during the winter months, and to take up other matters of importance to the

The tentative schedule of instruction for the reservists during the winthe Infantry School was recently and ter months includes bi-monthly lecnounced in orders announced by the tures and conferences, which will come War Department, Washington, D. C. to a close about the end of next May. Those who have been advanced to a The meetings are to be held in the asof which he was mess-officer, and other mechanical equipment for the Wells, Infantry, promoted to major; under the direction of one of the higher grade are Captain Walter H. sembly halls at Fort Benning, each one which feeds an average of 650 men encouragement of latent inventive 2nd Lieutenant Montgomery McKee, specialized groups of instructors of the There will also be some practical work in the use of the theories and methods taught throughout the year. Present plans will make the coming schedule one of the best dents at the Infantry School, Major that has been conducted for the local reservists as yet, and of much interest for those who are interested in the Major Hobson, who will be in charge of the classes, has seen a great deal of service in positions that especially qualify him for the work in which he is engaged. He is a graduate of the Command and General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, Kansas, has served as professor of military science and tactics at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C., for eight years, as officer in charge of

(Piease turn to page 3)

Company Officers Complete Record Firing Recently

Three Officers Tie For First Place In Series Fired On 300 Yard Range

The Company Officers' Class, comprising ninety students, completed their range practice in rifle marksmanship recently and the compilation of scores and averages show exceptional results by the classmen.

All the firing took place on the 300 yard range and consisted of three scores of ten shots for each position, including ten shots prone, ten shots sitting and kneeling, (five in each position) and the same number of rounds rapid fire.

To acquaint the reader with the method of scoring a shot fired into the black portion of the target, which measures eight inches in diameter is scored as a bullseye, and the firing given credit for five points, the next ring is known as the four circle and the student is credited with four points when his bullet penetrates the limitations, the rest of the circles are scored in order, three points for the "trey" ring and two for the deuce, incidentally a deuce is the lowest possible shot to be scored unless the firer misses the target completely. In that case he is greeted with a vivid red flag, waved exceptionally fast in hollow mockery to the belated and perspiring student.

Nine officers completed the instructions with exceptionally high scores and statistics show that the officers' score at the tail of the nine man list is only a difference of three points from the three leaders.

A triumvirate composed of Lieutenant John F. Farra Jr., and Lieutenants Roy J. Harte and Russell G. Emery lead the class with a total of 140 points out of a possible 150.

Lieutenant William F, Steer was next with a score of 139. Three officers, namely, Lieutenants Thomas H. Allen, Ephram N. Hampton and Joseph G. Felber shared honors with a total of 138 points and lastly Lieutenants Tom R. Stoughton Jr., Forrest A. Hornisher, Henry B. Kunzig and Lieutenant Ernest F. Easterbrook complete the nine honor men with scores of 137.

To facilitate instructions governing the firing of the service rifle the class was divided into squads, eight men to a squad. The averages for the eight officer groups show a total of 1063 for the fifth squad; 1062 for the 6th; the third group is next with a total of 1055; then the first aggregating 1049; the eleventh with 1027; next in order is the ninth with points then the seventh with 1024; 1017 points are recorded for the tenth squad; 1014 for the second; 1011 for the eighth and lastly the fourth group with a total of 995.

Instructions pertaining to the firing of the weapon were under the supervision of Major Claudius M. Easley, who has been on the staff of the school for a number of years and is the children's school at the United considered an authority on this sub-

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS LESS

MRS. BRADY ENTERTAINS AT BRIDGE CLUB

Mrs. Lynn E. Brady was the hostess to the members of her bridge club when she entertained Friday at her quarters with a delightful luncheon followed by two tables of contract bridge. Mrs. Brady's guest list included: Mrs. Clayton H. Studebaker, Mrs. James E. Bowen, Mrs. George P. Howell, Mrs. Charles T. Lanham, Mrs. William C. Lucas, and Miss Har-

GOLF TOURNEY AND LUNCHEON HELD WEDNESDAY

The ladies' golf committee of the Officers' Club sponsored a most successful golf tournament Wednesday in the nature of a "blind bogey" tournament. Thirty-six golfers assembled at the golf club at ten o'clock for a play of nine holes. At twelve, luncheon was served to thirty of the players in the Chinese room at the Officers' Club. The first prize of two golf balls was awarded to Mrs. Walker Flournoy of Columbus with the winning score of five "ringers."

TWENTY NINTH INFANTRY

INFORMAL DANCE SATURDAY The officers and ladies of the 29th Infantry will be the hosts Saturday per and dance at the 29th Infantry camp to welcome the recent members evening at an informal spaghetti supwho have joined the Regiment. Supper will be served at seven o'clock, preceded by a receiving line consisting of the new arrivals in the 29th Infantry. After supper the 29th Infantry orchestra will furnish the music for dancing.

Just returned from New York with a complete assortment of new PICTURES and FRAMES for every decorative purpose.

MARGARET HARRISON

at Rosenburg's

Mrs. Kendrick C. Kierce Teacher of Piano

Modern Methods in Private and Class Instruction. Beginners

Through Advanced Grades

STUDIO 1228 PEACOCK AVE. PHONE 789

LIEUT. COL. AND MRS. CHAFFIN ENTERTAIN WITH DINNER AND MOVIE COMPLIMENTING

Miss Chaffin, the attractive house guest of Lieut. Colonel and Mrs. Andrew D. Chaffin, was the honor guest Thursday evening when her hosts entertained at their attractive quarters with a delightful dinner and movie party. Six members of the debutante set and their escorts were invited. They were: Miss Chaffin, Miss Harriotte Atkins, Miss Elizabeth Berry, Miss Katherine Lemly, Miss Esther Kelley, Miss Marguerite Hall, Lieut. Joseph B. Coolidge, Lieut. Walter C. Sweeney, Lieut. James M. Matthews, Lieut. Frederick G. Crabb, Lieut. Ernest F. Eastrebrook, and Lieut. Henry B. Kunzig.

LIEUT. AND MRS. BOATNER EN-TERTAIN HOUSE GUEST

Lieut. and Mrs. Mark M. Boatner were the hosts Sunday when they entertained at a delightful tea complimenting their house guest, Mrs. Clara Mae Garic of New Orleans. The guests were invited from four to six. The tea table was laid with a lovely lace tea cloth, in the center of which was a silver bowl filled with zinnias and roses, flanked by silver candelsticks with tapers of pink. The guests invited for this occasion were: Mrs. Garic, Major and Mrs. Phillip S. Wood, Capt. and Mrs. Lloyd Barnett, Capt. and Mrs. John A. Otto, Lieut. and Mrs. Joseph A. Holly, Lieut. and Mrs. Francis J. Gillespie, Lieut. and Mrs. Hammond M. Monroe, Lieut. and Mrs. Claude B. Ferenbaugh, Lieut. and Mrs. Charles T. Lanaham, Lieut. and Mrs. William W. O'Connor, Lieut. and Mrs. Richard B. Wheeler, Miss Marguerite Lenane, Capt. Johnson, Capt. Harvey J. Golightly, Capt. John W. Blue, and Lieut. Marion Huggins.

DAUGHTERS OF THE ARMY TO BE ENTERTAINED AT LUNCH-

As a compliment to recent arrivals who are daughters of regular army officers, Mrs. John Huling and Mrs. A. L. Arnold, President and vice pres ident of the Fort Benning Chapter of the Daughters of the Army will entertain on Sept. 28 with a luncheon at the Officers' Club. Last year a tea was given to welcome the Daughters of the Army into the Fort Benning Chapter.

This organization was founded at Fort Benning in 1928 by Mrs. C. B. Roberts, wife of General Roberts as president.

MISS ANNA DOZIER TO OPEN CLASSES AT POLO CLUB Opening on September 27th at the Class Piano Instructions $\mathbf{B}\mathbf{y}$

ANNIE RUTH WADE MRS. ROLLA H. BROWN Phone 1153 Columbus, Ga.

DOLAN-HENRY HAT SHOP

AT ALSOBROOK'S Has at all times a complete stock of hats that follow latest trends of fashion, that reflect the tastes of the buyer as well as the seller-Priced moderately at prices from $2.95 to $15.00.

Fort Benning Charge Accounts Solicted

St. Joseph Academy - Columbus, Ga.

The Sisters of Mercy

Classes for the scholastic year 1933-34 will be resumed MON DAY, SEPTEMBER 18. Pupils will be accepted for the seven elementary grades, in all of which sight-singing receives special attention. Excellent advantages in instrumental music; piano and violin. Also daily special lessons in French provided a class of ten or more may be formed.

Apply at the Academy, 1142 Third Avenue

It Shall Be Nameless

Fort Benning's favorite child, who lar case, imagine the flushed faces of shall be known here only as "Sis", two new officers—bachelors looking has gone off to college. When asked for new places to go-who wandered what she liked best about school, she took no time in assuring us that the room during a dance at the Polo Hunt fact that she could chew gum in class had a slight edge on even the handsome young History professors. At any rate she has made good-She was elected President of the History class Junior Gum-Chewer's League due to the fact that she chewed with that new Mae West air that she has been practicing all summer.

Was our Eddie Rowan a pale shade of lavender at the movies the other P. M.? A lady dashed up greeting him with this little piece. "Oh, Eddie, you're just the person I've been looking for. We want a tall, dark, and very handsome man to play a part in the first Dramatic Club play and we thought of you the first thing. Our hero, being a modest young soul insisted that he wouldn't do at all but that tall, dark, handsomeness was too much for his modesty and he was overuled.

With the arrival of the new officers come an equal number of embarrassing moments. In this particu-

Polo-Hunt Club, Miss Anna Dozier will conduct dancing classes for those of the Fort Benning personnel who want to learn the latest dancing steps. Prominently featured among these will be the new ballroom step, the "Nira," which was dedicated to President Roosevelt, and which Miss Dozier will introduce to Fort Benning for the first time.

Miss Dozier is a member of ehe Dance Masters of America, and has just returned from New York, where she completed a course at the Normal School of the Association and attended its convention. While in New York, she studied under some of the most famous teachers of the country, and she will teach steps learned from them at the classes which she will soon begin.

Miss Dozier has been in charge of the dancing of several Glee Club productions at the Post and each time has demonstrated her skill and experience in all kinds of dancing.

PERSONALS

Capt. Arnold J. Funk returned Sunday from a two weeks' leave throughout Georgia and Alabama. Mrs. Funk will join Capt. Funk in a few days.

Mrs. Selina Waddington with her daughter, Louise, departed Wednesday for New York and Massachusetts.

Miss Barbara Lowe of Fort Mc-Pherson spent last week end with Miss Katherine Lemly.

Miss Elizabeth Berry who has been the houseguest of Miss Harriotte Atkins left Sunday for her home in Boston, Massachusetts.

General and Mrs. Estes have as their houseguests their son and daughterin-law, Mr. and Mrs. Estes of Puerto

Major and Mrs. R. S. Lytle have as their house guest their daughter Mrs. E. N. Murray, of Philadelphia, Pa. Mrs. Murray will be remembered by her many friends at Fort Benning as Virginia Henderson.

Lt. and Mrs. Edw. A. Chazal announce the birth of a daughter Jenifer Louise Chazel, Sept. 16 at Ocala, Fla. Lt. and Mrs. Chazal will leave on the Nov. 1 transport for Hawaii.

THE NEW BEAUTY SHOP

Croquignole Waves....$3.50 Round Wave With Ring at Ends......$3.50 Flat Marcel$3.50 Eugene Method $6.50 Finger Waves Not Dried 35c

AND SET 75c MRS. DIETZ, Mgr. MRS. RUSHING, Assistant

PHONE 9286 11061/2 BROADWAY

unknowingly into the ladies dressing Club. To more embarrass the already very much reddened young men, they had to make their hasty exit back to the dance floor to the tune of much clapping of hands and caustic comments by the large audience of dancers. Anyway, they say that "Experience teaches" you to "Look twice before you leap," ESPECIALLY into ladies dressing rooms.

My, what a lot of old sayings, adages and what have you have been well exemplified by the brand new classes Please turn to page 8

EARL HAZEL

head of music dept., Auburn, Ala will teach piano at Fort Benning

—Tuesdays and Fridays.

Phone Mrs. J. E. Hull, 439 for information.

BEFORE YOU

LEAP!

That's just another way of saying that you should be careful in spending your money-that you should plan your buying beforehand-and then take your list to SILVER'S.

SILVER'S

Cor. Broadway and 11th St. BUY FIRST AT SILVER'S

For Party Perfection!

From Weiner Roasts To Card Parties

There's always one thing that is a necessary adjunct to the perfect party-that's delicious bottled Coca-Cola-and when it's in the SIX-BOX then it's the best thing in the world for every entertaining need.

PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

Many have tried to imitate Coca-Cola, but never has any other manufacturer ever equalled the deliciousness of the world's most faous drink. Always ask for it-it's your guarantee of satisfaction.

DELICIOUS AND REFRESHING AS ONLY COCA-COLA CAN BE!

SOLD BY ALL COLUMBUS' GROCERS

We are now prepared to do "Lamac" work on all types of Ladies' Shoes. Expert Boot And Shoe

Shoe & Hat Shop

Repairing

POST EXCHANGE PHONE 554

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

The Old Schoolhouse

Being a worm's-eye view of "The largest Infantry School in the world". The worm being the Company Officer and the view prejudiced.

The annual marathon between the instructors' tongueslips and the students' imbecilic questions is on again. (At least, they'll be 'tongue-slips' in print.) At the last check-up, the students were leading by a couple of

From the standpoint (in a manner of speaking) of those unfortunates who drew front-line seats in Number Four, a seat attachment along the general lines of Maj. Easley's right spur might be useful for another purpose than getting yourself a firm kneeling posi-

The class is waiting with some anxiety for the instructor will attempt to match Major Arm's Ode on Sneaking and Peeping.

With proper appreciation and suit able applause, this might very well lead to something. Since the Arts have been introduced why not-say, music? Consider, for instance, how forcibly an obscure point in Night Operations might be impressed by suitable renditions from a 24th In-

If you think this column should have been called "The Little Red School-house"-that's your idea.

The Fifteen Percent anvil chorus and the "I got moved to town" hammer throwers should have a new leader. Consider the plight of Captain Cordoba. Since the esteemed Mr. Machado took a run-out powder and the A Company top-sergeant treed the remainder of the Cuban Army in a hotel for the week-end, he doesn't get paid at all!

Don't worry, you'll find something to do with those 'itty, bitty arrows which Captain Bloomquist doesn't

All of us of '30 and below are nursing a faint hope that the powers-thatbe may find some excuse to hang a sword on Scott just once more.

Since the President has established a precedent by lunching with the CCCs on occasion, we suggest that it would be no more than polite for him to drop in some noon on the Company Officers' Mess in the locker-room. He could straddle a bench and regale himself from someone's Sears, Roebuck dinner pail.

And we could guarantee that he'd lose those twelve pounds if he came around often.

> bennie the bed bug, with no apologies to mr marquis.

i came over from block 21 to oversee affairs around the sections. my clients are coming home nights smelling so terrifically that i thought i had better look into things.

i think i will preface my remarks by saying that i think this column is lousy. with sincere apologies to my cousin, louie.

if it were any worse, its father could go to new york and move in with winchell. on second thought. however, i dont think it has any fa-archie tells me though that winchell get a fifteen percent cut too so maybe this is some of his stuff on the side. i have just caught a ride back to turner street so i'll be seeing you. -if you want to know how i managed to slip that apostrophe overask the editor.

EDITOR'S NOTE: It is not customary with the Herald to run any anonymous articles of any sort, for easily understandable reasons. We are running this communication because we think it's good-but we'd appreciate it if the author signed his next letter-the name will be kept in strict confidence, and the author is not held responsible for anything published.

Reflections Of A Student

still finds all the little Company Officers on their feet, (very much so), and going strong. It looks as if no one were going to die after all, and instead most of "Uncle's Boys" rather grudgingly admit to feeling more fit

GIVE 'EM SOMETHING TO BE CHEER. FUL ABOUT!

These first school days are going to be hard enough for the kids—so why not help to make them a little easier by sending down to the Soda Fount for a little Foremost Ice Cream? It would put pep into a hermit!

> Call the Soda Fount

FOREMOST DAIRIES INC.

The end of the third week of duty than in a good many moons. And that's no moonshine, either. Ouch! Well, anyway, after a few more weeks of this training (no cigarettes, and to bed at eight), we may be able to laugh off a night maneuver a little less hollowly than we did the one a week ago. That night we sallied bravely forth, each determined to bring back a set of captain's bars to the little wren as a souvenir (the advanced class was occupying a position in defense), but after running in circles, taking a few barbed wire hurdles, slipping into trenches and battling mosquitoes, it was more of a triumph to be able to find ones way back to the train at all than anything else. Of course we weren't lucky enough to get lost within the first 50 yards like Johnson, Joyce and Nelson did, and our spirits were not raised on the way home by close proximity with the two pansies in Citronella, but it was refreshing to hear Carl Westlund speak so delicately of his best breeches, lightly caressed by the aforementioned wire.

Is it any wonder, then, that Major Kraft's admission the next day, to "Keep physically fit with golf and in your spare time' was ra ceived "cum grano salis." Working from 8 to 5, and then having just barely enough strength left to get in shape for a few personal night maneuvers, isn't it about time to sign up with the NRA?

Many of the class snakes are already well situated, both in the post and in town. A rather ticklish situation has arisen in that great jealousy appears to exist between the town and post femmes. The latter rather huffily accuse the bachelors of dating in town instead of patronizing local talent. However the facts happily belie the accusation. True, a few of the boys have kicked over the traces and gone in strong for the Hamilton crowd, (particularly the well upholstered gal in lavender), but then

(Please turn to page 8)

SIX POST OFFICERS RECENTLY PROMOTED TO HIGHER GRADES

(Continued From Page 1) years. He served during the World War as a first and second Lieutenant with the national army, receiving his commission in the regulars on July 1, 1920. His promotion to 1st Lieutenant, regular army came on July 12, 1926 and to Captain on July

Lieutenant McKee's commission as lst Lieutenant dates from September 1, also. He has been on duty with the 7th Infantry at Chilkoot Barracks, Alaska, prior to his assignment to Fort Benning. He received his commission in the regular army at the completion of four years study at the United States Military Academy at West Point, N. Y., in 1927.

September 1, is also the date of Lieutenant Moses, promotion. This officer recently returned from a tour of duty with the Civilian Conservation Corps, to which he was assigned upon his arrival from the Hawaiian Department where he had been on duty. He graduated from the Military Academy in 1928 and for a while was assigned to the Air Corps.

promoted on Sept. 1, came to Fort Benning last fall. He is a graduate Military Academy, and transferred to the Air Corps in 1928. He has graduated from the Air Corps Primary Flying School, Bombardment Course in 1928, and is rated as an air pilot. Prior to his assignment to Fort Benning he was on duty with the Phillipine Department. Since coming to the post Lieutenant Huggins has been cocupied with demonstration work pertaining to the training of officers of the infantry branch, and has made a number of cross-country flights, both training and passenger carrying in official business.

CAPTAIN O'CONNELL TO LEAVE FORT BENNING

(Continued from page 1) and Major in the Adjutant General's Department of the National Army, vacating his temporary grade of major in 1920 to accept a commission as captain of the Quartermaster Corps in the regular army.

Captain O'Connell will leave Fort Benning sometime in the near future for his new assignment.

Lieutenant Huggins who also was RESERVE OFFICERS HOLD FIRST MEETING; HOBSON PRESIDES Continued from page 1

States Military Academy at West Point, New York, did additional duty in the tactical department of he Academy, and is an instructor and expert shot wth the rifle and pistol.

CHILDREN'S SCHOOL OPENS MONDAY WITH ENROLL-MENT OF 350

(Continued From Page 1) have charge of art while Sergeant Russell D. Wall will instruct the manual training class.

Salaries of teachers, and all other costs of operation of the Fort Benning children's school, are borne by a fund derived from tuition fees, and from other local, private sources. Even the money required for the erection of the building was obtained from these sources, no government funds being allotted for such purposes.

It was not decided whether or not a kindergarten class will be conducted. If enough pupils are enrolled to warrant such, supervision of the class will be under Miss Nellie Porter who, will also instruct in music.

Sport Sweaters

Slip - Over

Warm, rich colored slip-overs with long sleeves for autumn sports. Other slip-overs with belts and various collar treatments for more dressy occasions are $3.95.

Twin

Twin sweaters are the sport sweater hit of the season. Consists of cardigan in autumn's most casual sweater.

Sweater Section Second Floor

Phone 556

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Columbus, Georgia

NO. 22 SEPTEMBER 22, 1933 VOLUME III Publisher L. C. KUNZE. .Editor Society Editor FELICIA C. HOWELL _Circulation Manager

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,

Here's To Your Health

BY MAJOR HOMER L. CONNER, Medical Inspector

SNAKE BITE

What to do if bitten by a poisonous snake.

A recent unfortunate accidental death from snake bite indicates that there is again need for publishing the methods of treating these accidents.

There are in this vicinity four kinds of rattlesnake, the diamond back, a red rattler and two varieties of ground rattler. There are two kinds of moccasin, the copperhead and the cotton mouth. The bite from any of these snakes s deadly, depending of course on the size of the snake and the amount of venom it injects during the act of biting and the place where the Most bites are on the hands, arms or legs and this very fact fortunately offers us our best chance for successful treatment. During the past few years our methods of treating snake bite have been more thorough and therefore more successful. The number of deaths has been greatly re-Where formerly 25 out of every 100 persons bitten died we now only have 1 or 2 such victims. Unless the bite be on the face or the venom be injected directly into blood stream there is in this day no reason to expect even these one or two deaths provided the treatment is thoroughly given.

Early Treatment Valuable

The early treatment given the victim at the time of the accident determines very largely whether he recovers or not. The venom must be localized and mechanically removed from the tissues. We localize the venom by placing a tight bandage (tourniquet) around the limb above the bite. It must be tight enough to stop the circulation. The mechanical removal of the venom is accomplished by making cross cuts with a sharp knife through the skin into the underlying tissues wherever there is swelling about the bite. As the swelling spreads more cuts are made even as many as 200. This allows bleeding and the escape of fluid which contains the poison. To increase the flow of this fluid (serum) suction must be applied in order to remove the poison from the tissues as rapidly as possible.

To sum up, first aid consists of:

Ta tourniquet between the bite and the heart.

(b). Many incisions at the site of

(c). The use of suction. Take Victim To Hospital

These having been started our next endeavor is to rush the victim to the Station Hospital where the treatment is continued and anti-venom injected. The application of the tourniquet is necessary to localize the injected venem. hTe first time it is applied place it within 2 or 3 inches of the bite if there is no swelling. If swelling has begun, place the tourniquet at its upper edge, then every fifteen minutes as the swelling advances loosen it up and replace a little higher on the limb.

All this time cross cuts are being made to let blood and fluid ooze out and the suction is kept up for just as long as the swelling continues to advance. Venom can be thus extracted from the swelling tissues for 7 or 8 hours or longer. Suction is the most successful method of treatment and if kept up for hours or as long as swelling advances will save the lives of many a snake-bite victim even though the anti-venom serum be not given.

There are several precautions to always keep in mind in the treatment of snake bite.

1st. Never, under any circumstances apply drugs or chemicals to the drinks. Alcohol increases the heart beats and thus makes absorption of the poison more rapid.

3rd. To loosen the tourniquet every 15 minutes just enough to allow a return of circulation. If this be not done gangrene of the limb will fol-

Death Occurs Several Hours After Deaths from snake bite usually do not occur until 24, 36 or 48 hours after the bite. Absorption even in the untreated case is usually slow. Lives can be saved even as long as 24 hours after the bite. There is no part of the Fort Benning reservation that is so distant that a person bitten cannot reach the Station Hospital in time for successful treatment to be administersuccessful treatment to be administered. If a snake is captured or killed The immediate application of bring it in to the medical Inspector.

SATELLIT

BY C. T. KEPLEY

On November 6, 1917, the famous age. Started in the military service Rainbow Division marched down Broadway in New York City, amid the cheers of throngs gathered to watch the embarkation of this crack fighting unit. Mothers and Fathers watched intenty to catch a last fleeting glimpse of a son as he kept step to martial music. Some of the men had parents who were unable to see them as they boarded transports for "somewhere in France." Such was the case with most of the boys of the 167th Infantry (National Guard) of Alabama, for it is a long way from this southern state to New York.

Among those who marched down that "Great White Way" that day was a veteran, though only 18 years of

as a member of the 167th Infantry (National Guard), when it was called out on September 8, 1916, to stand by in case the United States became involved in the war.

Private First Class James M. Edwards received his first taste of armed conflict on the Mexican Border. Before the Punitive Expedition was over America had declared war and the already trained regiment was sent to New York to embark for France.

The soldiers of the Rainbow Division had an uneventful voyage to Europe, arriving at Liverpool, England without mishap. There the men were entered into a training camp at (Please turn to page 8)

BENNING DAY-BY-DAY

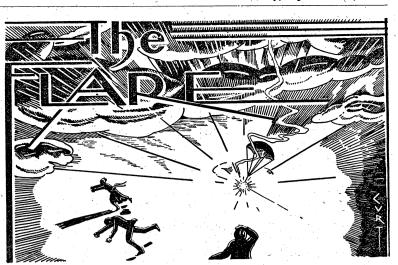

By MAJOR RAMBLE

FORT BENNING, Sept. 18.—The first "line-of-duty" accident in the Advanced Class to come to the attention of this columnist to date occurred last Sunday. The story came out Monday morning when Lieutenant Bill Schildroth reported for class with a facial appearance that only a mother could love. To offset any whisperings of domestic strife in the Schildroth household it is only fair to Bill to relate just what happened. It appears that four diligent students (Ham Meyer, Ollie Hughes, George Taylor and the victim of this sad tale) decided, as all conscienious newcomers of the school should, to make a personal automobile map reconnaissance of the reservation, thus giving them the edge over their less farsighted classmates. Schildroth's car was drafted for the purpose. Bright and early Sunday morning they started out, each with a convenient thumb posted to traverse his own fire-control map as the car bumped over each contour. After a leisurely trip down Lumpkin Road to Gilbert Creek they returned and started on the First Division road. First one would glance at a friendly signboard along the way and announce nonchalantly that that was such-and-such a hill while the others admired his topographical ability. As soon as the others caught on they were all doing it but that is beside the point. Arriving at Harmony church they turned left on the Cusseta highway and headed for Columbus, contouring as they went. Suddenly the attention of the back-seat topographers was called to the antics being performed by Chauffeur Bill Schildroth, who until now had been driving in a creditable manner. First he jerked. Then he flinched. Then he jumped (if a man sitting behind a steeringwheel can be said to jump) and finally as the car swerved sharply to the left he was seen to lose all interest in the steering wheel as he made a futile attempt to bail out. The car left the highway and stopped with a thud in the ditch as Bill's note hit the steering wheel button and sounded the horn. The scared and battered passengers, after disentangling themselves and after disengaging Bill's neck from the steering wheel that he was now wearing as a lavaliere, demanded an explanation. Bill stated, between twitches of pain from various parts of his anatomy that a bee had seen 2nd. Never give the victim alcholic fit to park inside his pants leg and had proceeded to emphasize the school doctrines of concealment, surprise and attack.

This story has no particular moral, except for a few appropriate comments. It is hoped that Captain G Bloomquist ("G" for Gisement) will reward him properly when the grades for map-reading are turned in, preferably with an "A". A "B" would be adding insult to injury. A second comment is that Bill should be thankful it wasn't the queen bee. Finally a word of advice for future attempts at beecatching with the pants leg. If the defending party will nonchalantly loosen the belt and unbutton the trousers sufficiently to let the bee see daylight no further difficulty should be experienced as the bee will buzz contentedly on its way.

Major Tommie Arms, the First Section's bassoon - voiced contract bridge expert, uncovered his second bagful of tricks Monday in another presentation of Sneaking and Peeping. During the course of the afternoon he demonstrated the approved method of walking stealthily lest someone hear. To a married man this was old stuff, except for the fact that the toe came first on hard ground and the heel first on hard ground. Also the shoes were left on. But the real surprise came that night, after a refreshing and speedy trip on the Toonerville Trolley, the South's most publicized twenty-two caliber railroad, when the combined classes were spotted by squads near the Trench Area, straining their combined ears for sounds of the enemy. First a cough was coughed and its position plotted. Next a clicking rifle-bolt. Then came a rumbling machine gun cart wheel that was unanimously mistaken by all

(Please turn to page 5)

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all."

CONDUCTED BY E. F. R.

This Column is still without a Bird Symbol and a Slogan. In anticipation of the prompt receipt of a Code for Columnists we invited, two weeks ago, recommendations for a suitable Bird and Battle Cry for the FLARE. Recommendations are coming in very slowly and if we are ever going to recover from whatever it is that ails us we must have your help. do you think of these two that have been submitted to us by our Loving Friends. The first one writes "Make it a Black Vulture and use the Slogan "We Tear Our Part" The other one recommends a Mauve Mocking-Bird and the Motto—"We Mock at Wounds."

DRAMATIC DOPE

The Starters in the 1933-34 Dramatic Season have left the Barrier and are on their way down the Track. The First Show of the Season will be Rachel Crothers' Clever Comedy, "Let Us Be Gay," and will be presented October 27 and 28. Mrs. Kay Brady is directing it and Rehearsals are under way. The cast calls for twelve Characters, five females and seven male. It is a little early to publish the names of those taking part for changes may be necessary prior to production. If you have not already sent in your membership blank to Captain Golightly please do so as soon as possible. If you have lost your application blank, you can obtain another by calling on Major Catron, Captain Golightly or Col. Rice. The Dramatic Club Officers have been asked why the charge for membership should be $1.50 this year and no 15 per cent cut over last year. To those inquiring minds the Club would answer that last year the membership fee was reduced, on account of the Pay Cut, from $2.44 to $1.50. a reduction of 25 per cent. Furthermore an increase is not contemplated when and if the Pay Cut is reduced or eliminated.

ANOTHER DIVING DAMOSEL IN DISTRESS

We don't know what we will do for FLARE fuel when the present swimming season is over and Russ Pool has been closed for the winter. Ever since the S. P. E. A. W. became inactive we have found the Post Plunge our most prolific place for space material. And right here and now we recommend the Inventor of the Rubber Bathing Suit for a D. S. M. As the Season draws toward a close, the Goodyear Gowns which have rendered faithful—more or less faithful—and severe Service through a long hot summer are beginning to show the results of strenuous usage, and hardly a day passes without some Damsel suffering disaster. The rumor is rife that on last Saturday a Sweetie while disporting herself a bit strenuously suffered the loss of the seat of her Swim Suit and was obliged to swim ashore on her back. If you have missed Modest Maxine from the Mob lately, it is because she is having her Gutta-Percha Gown halfsoled. We are going to recommend to the Post A. & R. Officer, one Captain Felonious Fry (The "Felonious" is a pseudonym presented to Fry pursuant to certain perniciousness and is purely a personal matter) that before next Swimming Season he install at the Bath House a complete Vulcanizing Plant where Rubber Robes can be renovaed while you wait.

BAADE BOY

of the Twenty-ninth Infantry long to information on to Hand Signal Funk lurch into the Lime Light. Major by Phone. Funk informed Policeman Bad-Boy Baade, who recently report- Pilet and he in turn called out his ed at Fort Benning for duty with the Motorized Police Force. In the mean-Demonstration Regiment as S-3, is a very close Friend and near Neighbor The Friendship is sort "Blank." of a Damon and Pythias affair. In bought his Chops, and returned to the other words, Baade and Blank are Post. It was not until he was stopped Pally, Baade borrows from Blank at Out-Guard No. 1 and found the M. and Blank borrows from Baade. P. Company mobilized that he realized Formerly the Borrower sometimes his Borrowing had been mistaken consulted the Borrowee; now he always does. It came about in this Brother Blank and all was well; but wise. One afternoon, recently, Baade now Baade and Blank require a Memdiscovered that he had forgotten to orandum Receipt in each and every stop at the Post Exchange and purchase some Meat for Dinner. The change had closed for the day. True to his S-3 Training, he estimated the Situation and arrived at the Decision that a trip to town was necessary. Time was an important element and Mrs. Baade was at a Bridge Party and had taken the Family Car with her. What to do-? What to do-? A glance from the window disclosed Blank's Bus standing at the Curb gathering Rust. Without taking valuable time to find his friend and secure sufferance, Baade dashed for Blank's Buggy, stepped on the Starter, and was away with a roar. The noise of departing Auto disturbed Blank in his afternoon Siesta and he ran to the window just in time to see his Departing Dodge disappear around Jaw-Bone Corner. Blank came to the conclusion that he was It didn't take the newly arrived S-3 being robbed and at once passed the time, Our Hero, totally unaware that the Law was on his Trail, rode rapida brother officer whom we will ly into the outskirts of Columbus and pulled up at Choppy's Club where he for Buccaneering. A phone call to case of loaned or borrowed property.

> LYNN ROBERTS ON THE LOOSE The Calm Somnolent Solemnity of the First Section was rudely ruffled the other afternoon and things didn't calm down until Closing Time. It was about Four O'clock in the afternoon and the Teachers of Tactics were beginning to take their feet from their respective desks preparatory to calling it a day when Phone rang frenziedly. Some Instructor or other more widely awake than the others took down the receiver and wearily asked what was wanted. A Feminine voice at the other end asked to speak to Major Roberts. Upon being informed that Roberts was not there and had not been there all afternoon there came a shrill shriek from the information seeker. The Tactician (Please turn to page 5) talked into the phone calmly and soothingly for a time and then asked Ella, at length, was able to ellucidate the car about noon to take our Maid to her Home near Bradley Landing and he hasn't been back, and it's four now, do you suppose something has happened to him? Do you suppose he still is with the Maid? Please find him for me." Major Arms, the Silent Scout and Sleuth Man, put his Trusties on the job and in less than fifteen minutes Lynn was located at Gowdy field watching the Second Bats trim some Base Ball Team or other. It all proved Much Ado About Nothing and a Telephone call to Ella soon allayed all of the fond wife's fears. The First Section considered that their fifteen minutes of strenuous efforts had been enough for the time being, so they locked up the office and called it a Day.

THE FLARE (Continued From Page 4)

PLEBES BREAK INTO PRINT

It is not often that the newly arrived Second Lieutenants from West Point gain publicity so promptly as seems to be the case this year. The group that were assigned to the Second Battalion stepped from Graduation Leave right into a hot Perspiring Practice March which brought two of their number to the writer's attention. Pathfinder Fuqua had some difficulty getting shifted from Peal Boots to Hobnailed Hiking Shoes and missed the Initial Point by enough minutes to enable the marching column to get completely out of sight.

Centers

Branches of this firm are operated in many industrial centers. A few are Detroit, Akron and Tulsa. A smooth flow of reports on the motor. rubber and oil industries is thus provided for the benefit of customers.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER

13 West 11th Street, N. W. Columbus, Ga Phone 2272

MEMBERS NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

what all the excitement was about. Tanks. The Iron Duke was setting the pace for the First Hike that morn-Second Battalion was well on its way again. So passed the morning away. It was a hot, hard hike and all of the new Recruits made it under their Battalion and reported to his Comthe Hike but he covered so much of the Reservation that the Iron Duke may excuse him from the Annual Reservation Reconnaissance to which new Officers are generally treated in order to familiarize them with the Terrain. You who have known Colonel Joe Stilwell for four years or more and we who have known him for thirty years or so will wonder what sort of an officer his son Joe Junior is going to be. We don't know for sure yet, but we think that the son of Vinegar Joe is a Chip off the Old Block. At any rate he turned out for his first practice march in a pair of Leather Breeches.

DAMN THAT DIET

It was a fortunate thing for the personnel at Benning that the Tropical Hurricane which was scheduled to sweep in from Savannah changed its mind and turned north. Had it struck this spot several of Fort Benning's Favorite Femmes would have been blown right away. We don't know who started it,—unless it was Brownie Wadsworth and Rather-bedamned Chaffin,-or who invented it; but the fact remains that the Ten Day Diet of a few years ago has been put completely in the shade by a Five Day Diet which has obtained a furious hold on many of Benning's Beauties The Five Day Diet, according to our observations, has it all over the Ten Day Diet in many ways. For example; why starve for ten days when starving for five will thin you down just as much and let you get back to Choppy-and-his-Cheer five days sooner? What the Diet consists of we can't say but based on the results that we have seen it consists of principally of Nothing. If you see some of your lady friends floating around looking like wraiths or Banquo's Ghost you can be sure they are on the Five Day Diet. If the Fad doesn't fade we shall organize a F. D. D. C. (Five Day Diet Club) and report the list of Active Members in our next Column.

ACADEMIC DEPARTMENT GOLF NOTES (ANONYMOUS)

turned to our midst from Camp Knox,

"Long John The Looper" has re-

The Iron Duke, whose protege the and although his Triple C Troubles | who was on the receiving end of a sting. George Kraft in suggesting that stu-Pathfinder is through the medium of are over, his Golfing Trials are just ing rebuke administered by Tactician assignment orders, left Word for Fu- beginning. John tells us that a Cer- Cook. There followed a number of qua to join the column, and incident tain Golfer, name not disclosed, in the other episodes that had the boys baftally the Company, at the Water Camp Knox vicinity was able to fled until it began to dawn on them straighten out John's Loop and get him in the Inside out-Groove of which somewhat as follows: "Lynn left in ing so of course by the time his new we have no greater exponent than Lieutenant, proceeding at a Normal John himself unless it be Tommy marching rate, reached the Tanks the Arms and Alex Morrison. Alex has written a longer Book on the Insideout Hitting theory than has Jenkins but we question that he has talked at such length or as fervently about own steam. Pathfinder caught the it as has our Local Looper. While Col. John was at Knox and emulating pany Commander before it was all he swing of he Camp's Golfing Paraover. He didn't find the Battalion on gon, Seventy-fours and Better were common occurrences; but since returning here the Old Grooved Swing has disappeared. The Loop is back and the Colonel comes dragging in with a haggard, Drawn expression: hands over twenty cents to Gilchrist; and sadly wends his way to Miller Loop. This is all rather tough on the First Section, for they feel that there is a slur in the fact that by merely Copying the swing of an unnamed stranger the Pars came regularly; and now with the Galaxy of Stars in the Frst Section to copy, the Fours don't Drop, and the Loop and the Lunge are ever present. How can one go wrong when he has the opportunity of daily observing Chink Hall's Slow Deliberate Back-Swing, or the Rythmic Timing of Phil Wood who has no semblance of hitting at any but the proper place in the Swing. How can he stray if he watches Jim Woolnough with his Crisp Short Backswing pitch from just off the Green right up to the Pin? Or if he observes Tommy Arms step briskly up to the ball on the Putting Green with a breif preiod of not more than five minutes elapsed time confidently tap the ball for the Losing Put? No, Colonel, it can not be mere example, for if you need more proof watch Bill Lee, the Ex Baseball Star, wind up and sock one 300 yards over into the Rough across two Fairways to the right-yes, or to the lefteither way is easy for Bill. If the above examples won't cure your Loop then you must have something on your mind beside Golf. Don't let your School Work take your mind your Conference for you. He did it last year and he shot himself a 33

> We are reminded by the above Contribution of a Paraphrase by Grantland Rice.

on the first nine only three days ago."

your Play. Let Birdie Eagles give

"Fours are made by Dubs like me, but only God can make a Three.

BENNING DAY-BY-DAY (Continued From Page 4)

for the rumbling of a beer keg. And so on for a variety of others. The best one came last when what appeared to be a contour hound rent the air with a soulful bark that would have thrilled the most dignified lady dog on the post. The series of barks that came forth, it was later reported, caused six coons to head for the same tree. The yelps were repeated a second and a third time at the behest of Stentorian Tommy, each series becoming more soulful than the last. But even to the end, unmindful of the fact that hounds ordinarily do not bay with such regularity, a number of students reported hearing nothing. Full credit for the realistic barks goes to Private Barfield of the 29th Infantry, with the hope that the mess-serhis outfit will provide him with an extra large steak for his en tertainment, Captain Ball-of-Fire Cummings, Major Arms' foremost rival for bouncing words off his diaphragm with a maximum of reverberation, rates three stars for a creditable introductory speech followed by an impressive musketry demonstration Tuesday morning.

Honors for the week go to Bill Hones, realtor, census-taker and tactician, for Friday afternoon's performance. The students received their first jolt when Bill took up the suggestion of Student Tom Cross that it was too hot to listen to indoor instruction and moved the classes to the 29th Infantry parade ground where it was twenty degrees hotter. The next instant the students were sympathizing with Bill that a novel method of instruction was being invoked. The real show, however, began when the platoon started bringing in the results of its work. Spies and deserters, the friendly Cusseta farmer, the walking runner and finally the impartial campfollower-all enlightening examples of how a hot afternoon can be overlooked. We are beginning to appreciate what Benning means.

Our esteemed contemporary, the columnist from the Company officers class sort of stole a bit of our thunder last week when he touched on something we had made note of for this week's column. But at the risk of being called an imitator, here it is anyway: One-word description of Major Claudius M. Easley-youngish.

This and that: Students still furtively glancing at each other's name plates, followed by a jovial "Good morning, Jones" or Brown, as the case may be) exchanged simultaneously, thus indicating to each other how adept they are at remembering faces . . . Several students still experiencing difficulty with Doc Dabney's six glasses-of-water-per-student-per-day edict. One complains that the doctor neglected to state what to mix with it while another, after conscientiously trying to take all six immediately upon rising the other morning and choking on the fourth, left instructions with his wife to replace the bathromo's oversized jelly glass with one that was smaller and better-suited to the purpose . . . Chief indoor sport, invented by Kriz Hall's efficient Sergeant Morgan, wherein he hides behind lockers to spot students' pigeon holes, ready to insert a fresh supply of mimeographed papers in students boxes as fast as they are cleaned out . . The well-meant advice of Major dents take plenty of exercise, delivered to leg-weary students as they were trying to recuperate from the strenuous problem of the night before . . . Proposed dedicatory hymn for the new Officers Club: "How Firm a Founda-

Dr. R. H. Brown

OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN Murrah Bldg.

Phones Office 4108 Res. 1153

HENRY GRADY HOTEL

PEACHTREE AT CAIN Atlanta, Ga.

550 rooms of comfort and convenience. Each room has ceiling fan, circulating ice water, radio and either shower or tub bath; corner rooms have both. Open Dining Terrace and Coffee Shop.

Rooms from $2

J. F. de Jarnette Vice-Pres. & Mgr.

An Open Letter To The Service

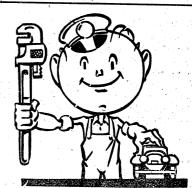

We have done our part for National Industrial Recovery having signed the President's pledge.

It remains now for the Administration to do its part to correct the "pay freeze" and restore Service pay to its former level.

We gladly contribute our efforts and devote ourselves towards this end.

N. S. MEYER, INC. NEW YORK

WE HAVE

The TOOLS and The WORKMEN

YOU HAVE

The AUTOMOBILE

and, when there's anything wrong, you should let us fix it-our staff and our equipment are your best guarantee of a satisfactory job. And you should always use only the best oils and greases to prolong the life of your car.

FT. BENNING, GEORGIA

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

For Fall and Football

Always Ask For

Toasted Peanuts

Nothing adds so much to your enjoyment of cool weather as Tom's Toasted Peanuts-and you should make it a point to ask for them EVERY time. You'll find them everywhere there's a crowd!

ara ya wa Bajire y

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Post Team To Meet Mobile Amateurs

Ladies Blind Bogev Golf Tournament Williamson In 29th Inf. Team; Hot Weather Slows Work

opened their winter season Wednesday afternoon with a nine-hole "blind bogey" tournament in which a number of ladies from Columbus Country Club participated and won prizes. The took part in the play. The lades cent victors over the highly rated Denovelty tourney was planned as the from Columbus were Mrs. Flournoy, first of series to be held throughout the winter, and was a great success.

Mrs. Gordon Flournoy, Columbus, five out of the nine holes correct as regards the unknown score which had been arranged beforehand by Frank Goss, professional at the club. Eight other players tied for second place, including Mrs. William G. Livesay, Mrs. Francis M. Cole, Mrs. G. P. Howell, Mrs. Otis McCormick, Mrs. Gustin M. Nelson, Mrs. Walter Phil-Mrs. Ralph R. Lovett. All of the second place golfers, with the exception of Mrs. Cole, are from the post.

The second flight was led by Mrs. Jesse A. Ladd, Mrs. James R. Pierce second, and Mrs. Henry B. Lewis, Mrs. Wayne B. Wheeler, and Mrs. luncheon at the Officers' Club.

The feminine golfers of the post | Mark M. Boatner were first and second in the third flight.

There were thirty-three contestants in all entered in the tourney that Mrs. Cole, Mrs. Roy Burns, Mrs. Fred Dismukes, and Mrs. Bob Hall. The won first prize in the match, having Benning players included Mrs. Livesay, Mrs. Howell, Mrs. McCormick, Mrs. Nelson, Mrs. William Fitts, Mrs. Lloyd Cook, Mrs. Phillips, Mrs. Schnieder, Mrs. John E. Hull, Mrs. Lovett, Mrs. Paul W. Baade, Mrs. Joseph A. Atkins, Mrs. Pierce, Mrs. Benjamin Weir, Mrs. Harold L. Mace, Mrs. Geoffrey Marshall, Mrs. Herbert A. Wadsworth, Mrs. Claude E. Ferenlips, Mrs. Frank V. Schneider, and baugh, Mrs. Charles W. Weeks, Mrs. Charles H. Bonesteel, Mrs. Hugh C. Gilchrist, Mrs. Wheeler and Mrs. Boatner. A houseguest of Mrs. Boatner, Mrs. Garic, also played in the tourney.

After the match, which started at ten o'clock, the golfers attended a

:-: BASEBALL :-:

(By N. H. HOBBS)

In the final games of the season at Gowdy field numerous upsets have occurred. The Headquarters nine turned in a win over the league-leading Kells as did the Special Units, and the Pirates won the right to play the Second Battalion a three-game series for the second half championship by trouncing teh Iris of the 1st Battalion twice in a row and tying the Blue Thunderbolt in the bunting race. Both teams have played fifteen, won eleven and lost four. The rest of the teams are out of the race now and wheher or not Fort Benning will have a little world series remains to be

If the Black Pirates emerge victorious in the three-game series they will win the right to play the Kellys for the Post Championship. If they fail, the crown for the baseballers of 1933 will adorn the Kelly brow.

It is mighty hard to predict the winners in the three-game series. The Kellys are doped to win, however, and are counting on Ward, Nichols, and Pyle to turn in the victory. The Pirates boast Preacher Parson, Huntley, and Speed Ball White to upset the Kells. The Pirates have been outhitting the 2nd Bats but the Kells are showing the best fielding averages.

When this goes to press one of the games will have been contested and those of you who miss the Saturday and if necessary the Sunday games,

ARTILLERY VS. 2ND BATTS

The 83rd Field Artillery made a desperate thrust to beat the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry but came out on the bad end, four to two.

the Keils were first to score when they shoved a run home in the second as McAllister singled, swiped second, and scored on Barron's double.

In the third inning the Redlegs knocked Pyle's offerings all over the lot and scored two runs off two hits. aided by a pair of bobbles on the Kelly infield which helped the cause

The Second Bats knotted the count in their turn a bat. Pyle led off with a single, went to second on a

Please turn to page 7

Réasons-

WHY EVERIDGE'S BREAD IS POPULAR

It is made from the finest ingredients • by Master Bakers in one of the South's finest bakeries especially for you at Post Exchange Grocery.

EVERIDGE

THE BAKERY BEAUTIFUL

109 - 12TH STREET

C. D. SHINE

JOHN LOCKE

T-A-CAR COMPANY

DRIVE YOURSELF 519 - 8TH STREET PHONE 9579

COURTESY TO ALL

Title Bout

The Post Amateur Boxing Team, champions of the Southeast, and retroit Athletic Club, will meet the ball this winter, is still going through the Blue Thunderbolt last year is amateur boxing team of Moble, Ala., at the post next Wednesday evening, September 27, fighting a seven bout and light scrimmage, in preparation better of the two teams.

The Mobilites were runners-up in the S. E. A. A. U. tourney held in the Bay City last April, taking three championships and pushing the Benning team, which won the Southeastern title, for the championshp. Due to the peculiarities of the draw for opponents, the majority of the Mobile boxers were eliminated before they could get their hand, or more properly, their gloves, on the Benning boys. At the conclusion of the meet they asked Lieutenant Howard R. Johnson, Benning coach, for a rematch, and Wednesday evening will give them their opportunity.

for the evening's entertainment, five of them being exhibition matches. Tommy Littleton, Mobile coach, who will be in charge of he boys while they are at the post, has sprung a surprise on everyone concerned by bringing a new team with him. The majority of the boys that fought in the tourney last spring have dropped from the team in one way or another, and Littleton is carrying the squad with which he hopes to take the S. E. A. U. title away from Benning next spring. Frankie Schuttgen, featherking of 1932, and lightweight title holder this year, has turned professional, and naturally is ineligible for amateur competition. Eddie Neilson, who with Schuttgen and Williamson formed the triumvirate that was expected to make a big showing next Wednesday, has also left the amateur ranks, but by the retirement route Williamson is the only one of the big three left to date.

Littleton has taken this chance of breaking his boys in as he figures that the Benning aggregation is the toughest one the Mobilites will meet next spring, and will give the stiffest competition to everyone concerned. He writes that he has a good bunch of boys, all of them tough fighters, and clever boxers, and is confident of returning to the Bay City with the Benning scalp at his belt.

Perhaps the bout of most interest and that should show the most action wil be that between Charlie Williamson, present holder of the lightheavy title, and Phil Carpenter, challenger in the spring tourney. Williamson downed Carpenter in one of the biggest upsets of the meet, as the 29th boy had been doped to have a walkaway. With no alibis to offer, Carpenter has been training seriously in the hopes of a rematch, and expects to take a win next Wednesday. Carpenworst enemy is perhaps his selfconfidence, as he is one of the cleverest boxers, and hardest hitters in the Southeastern amateur lightheavies today. If he can make up his mind to take this Williamson boy seriously, he stands a good chance of winning.

The Benning team needs no intro-duction to local fans. From "Tanker" Floyd to Marvin Penland, and including Neal Milan, Billy Floyd, Roy Whatley, George Morris, Bert Wool am, Herman Vallery, Norman Phail, Phil Carpenter, Lonnie Wilson, Marvin Penland, and Roy Graves, they are all known to Benningites, who have seem them in action in past post competition. An addition to the squad who shows great promise is John Horton, giant fullback of the 1st Bn. football team last year, who will fight in the heavy ranks of the Simon

Mrs. Gordon Flournoy, Columbus, Wins Carpenter May Meet Newcomers Aid In Stiffening Line Of the south in its torrid grip for the the Green Wave and will be with the past week, the regimental football team of the 29th Infantry, organized footed quarter who was so instrumentto participate in inter-collegiate footthe daily grind of tackling, line plays match to decide which is really the for their initial game to be played at are also on CCC duty at far off sta-Atlanta on the evening of October 13 tions and have not yet reported back with Bowdoin College. This game for duty with the 29th. will be a night contest.

> For the past week the candidates, approximating over 100 players have been engaged in light practice work under the supervision of Lieutenants Joseph P. Cleland, (assistant backfield coach) and John A. Stewart, (line coach).

Wednesday the team engaged in light scrimmage. Holloway, (former Alabama freshman) halfback, Darden, Kelly half back of last year, Blackstone, Kelly fullback and Harper, all Twelve bouts have been arranged Benning half of last year's gridders, now playing quarter, constituted the backfield. Harper who has been shifted to quarterback position cap tained the team. All four of the backs showed up exceptionally well during the scrimmage.

The full squad is not in training owing to the extended baseball season, but it is expected to have them out next week. Saunders, Kelly quarter of last year, is still scooping them up around short for the Blue Thunderbolt baseball nine and Herbie Jordan, Irish quarterback, has just Pures this winter. A number of other boys have been working out in the the 9th and the 18th will be devoted hopes of winning a berth on the team this winter, and all of them ordination of plays in preparaion for are showing promise.

time, although whether they will be held in Doughboy Stadium or in the gym is a matter of conjecture.

Despite the heat wave that has held | completed his baseball season with squad next week, Thompson, fleetal in winning the championship for not expected to be in uniform this season. A number of last year's stars

> Next week will be a continuance of last week, with Lts. Cleland and Stewart supervising the candidates in line plays, dummy practice and a few light scrimmages.

A lot of the new boys are showing up well among them several from prep schools, and freshman squads of last year. Several new-comers from exceptionally well in the line, bolstered by a stiffening of the oldtimers such as Kreweson, Berish, Berryhill, Dusty Rhodes, and Pressley.

The outlook for the team promises to be good. From the present look of things, Coach Decker's proteges will follow the light, fast system of play, and eschew the line-rolling tacics traditional to service teams. The few signals that have been given to the squad to aid the lining up of material have been from the Notre Dame system that the Green Wave of the 1st Bn. had such success with last year, and should work nicely.

Heavy work will not begin for the squad until the finish of the regimental practice march which will take place from the 2nd to the 9th of next month. The short time left between to intensive work on signals and cothe contest with Bowdoin. Coach The bouts will start at the usual Decker is after a victory in this game particularly, as the Atlanta boys walloped his Irish team last year pretty

BOXING

THURSDAY NIGHT, SEPT. 27TH

8:15 P. M.

Charley Floyd Billy Floyd

BANTAMWEIGHT

Grover Mallini Paul Krotler (Ex.)

FEATHERWEIGHT

Wesley Hughes Leon Nichols (Ex.) VS.

LIGHTWEIGHT

vs.

Doy Cates

WELTERWEIGHT Neal Milan

vs.

Red Bodder MIDDLEWEIGHT Robert Hershbeck

vs. vs.

Phil Carpenter Eblin Morris

Marvin Penland

John Horton

Roy Whatley

Frank Lee

Mike Panos

Frank Mann

Norman Phail

VS.

Wilford Hultz (Ex.) LIGHTHEAVY

vs.

Bill Williamson Jimmie Smith (Ex.)

HEAVYWEIGHT

VS.

Lyle Howard Bill Walker (Ex.)

General Admission 50c

Ringside $1.00

Tickets on Sale at Hubbard Hardware Co.; Wheat's Drug Store; Officers' Club; and all orderly rooms.

Bowlers Of Fort Benning Hold First Meeting Wednesday; Teams Selected

Bowlers of Fort Benning held their first meeting last night in the Infantry School Academic Department Alleys at which they selected the teams that will represent the post in the coming inter-city Bowling League, which is to be composed of two teams from Atlanta, Birmingham, Chattanooga and Fort Benning. It was announced at the meeting that since Gadsden has dropped from the league, the opening would be postponed until October, pending the selection of some other city to replace the Ala-

The first team of Fort Benning bowlers which was selected last night, is to be composed of the following members of the garrison: Staff sergeant Edward C. Davis, I. S. D. Master Sergeant Otis Glenn, I. S. D. Technical Sergeant John W. Heckert, I. S. D. Sergeant Herbert Wales, Motor (86th) Transport; Sergeant Miles J. Trott, I. S. D. Sergeant Trott is also in charge of the Post alleys.

The second which has only been tentatively selected will probably compose the following: Master Sergeant Cecil O'Blennis, I. S. D., Sgt. John L. Labonte, Headquarters Company 29th Infantry, Corporal Frank Gable, ISD, Private first class "Mac' Maciejewski, Cannon Company, 29th Infantry and Cpl. Anthony Headquarters Co., 29th Infantry.

After the meeting the ten-pin men gave an exhibition of their prowess with astonishing results. All of the bowlers were playing the first game of the year since mid-season and both teams bowled within a few points of a 200 game, a much better score than

BASEBÁLL

(Continued from page 6) misplay and scored when Mitchell hit. In the fifth the Artillery sky rocketed, making a couple of misplays and allowing the Blue Thunderbolt two more. These proved to be the deciding factor.

'Shotgun" Pyle started off on the mound for the Kells but failed to make his appearance in the fourth In his stead was "Weary Willie" Ward who held the Caisson Riders to one lone bingle.

Morris twirled for the Redlegs and showed up as the usual "hard luck" hurler, who was not given any backing by his mates.

Barron and Mac Allister were the big guns of the Kellys offense, "Mac" with two singles and Barron a double and a single.

Morris starred with the willow for the Redlegs when he clouted out a double in the third spasm.

Score by innings-Artillery ____ 002 000 000 2 6 4 2nd. Bn. ____ 011 020 00x 4 11 3 Batteries; Artillery; Morris and Matthews; 2nd Bn.; Pyle, Ward and Umpires: Wolf eand Nourse.

HQ. BN. AND 1ST BN.

The Headquarters nine bested the Irish and moved a notch closer to the second half championship of Fort Benning intramural season. The score was 7 to 3.

"Preacher" Parsons walked several of the Irish batters, but proved effective in the pinches and came across with another victory.

Foster started on the Green Wave but gave up several hits and went to the dugout in favor. of Santa, who held the Spares to a pair of bingles and one run for the rest of the contest.

The Pirates collected a total of nine hits off Santa and Foster, while the Parts and never was in hot water, Irish fell short one bingle of tying the hitting honors.

Errors were largely responsible for the defeat, when the Green Wave made eight misplays during the fra-

Morrow led with the willow for the Headquarters team. He was issued two passes and hit safely twice out walked three times and clouted out a single in the seventh, got credit for for a perfect day at bat.

two its and Johnson hit one in the rose bushes in right field in the fifth to score Jordan from first.

Jordan played a bang up game at second for the Irish but Fraiche stole the show for the Pirates when he made a beautiful one handed catch out of Johnson's foul fly. Score by innings-

Hq. Bn. _____ 100 030 201 7 9 2 1st Bn. _____ __ 010 010 010 3 3 8

Batteries: Parsons and Johnson: Foster, Santa and Reddock.

SPECIAL UNITS AND 2ND BATS

The Special Units beat the Second Baltalion 29th Infantry to the tune of 4 to 3 Monday.

Both nines were credited with 7 bingles but the 2nd Bats couldn't overcome the errors and were chalked with five misplays.

Robertson started on the mound for the Units but was relieved in the fifth when the Kellys touched him for a couple of hits which turned into runs as the Specialists were demerited v th two errors. Gilbert twirled the Units to a victory when he held the hard hitting Kells to a pair of bingles for the remainder of the strug-

The Greencords started the scoring in the second stanza. Nichols, who was tossing them over for the Blue Thunderbolt heaved wild to third in an attempt to double and the agate rolled to the fence scoring Trippe from second.

The Kells knotted the count in the hird spasm when the Greencords were halked up with an error and Lee scored from third, after singling to an first.

The Kells ran wild in the fifth and after two outs, Nichols went to first on an error, and scored when Saunlers bounced one off of the right field fence for a clean triple. Thompson also hi but was forced out at second when MacAllister rolled to short. Saunders crossed the pan on an error on short.

The Greencords tallied another marker in the seventh and two more in the eighth to put the game on ice. The run in the seventh was recorded when Evans, hot corner player for the Specialists hit high, wide and handsome over the handsome over the center fielder's for a circuit clout. Three errors against the Kells coupled with two hits spilled the 2nd Bats chances for victory,

Evans was the star with the willow for the Units with a homer and a single out of four appearances.

Saunders hit heavily for the Blue Thunderbolt when he clouted out a triple in the fifth chapter. Score by innings-

010 000 120 4 7 3 001 020 000 3 7 5

Batteries: Robertson, Gilbert and McCarthy, Nichols, Ward, and Thomp-

Umpires: Lindsey and Wolfe.

HQ. BN., AND 1ST BN. 29TH INF. In the second encounter within a week the Headquarters nine bested the 1st Battalion for the second time. The score at the end of the melee was 5 to 3. The Pirates collected a total of ten hits off of the combined offerings of Smith and Foster while the 1st Bats could collect but seven off Huntley, curve ball artist who went the entire innings for the Spare Parts. The Irish came within an inch of blasting the Headquarters hopes when they started a rally in the final spasm for a pair of bingles and two runs.

Huntley who twirled for the Pirates. pitched a nice game for the Spare he gave up but seven hits, only two of which were bunched.

Lefty Smith started on the rubber for the Irish but was yanked in the opening frame in favor of "Boots" Foster, who hurled his usual fine brand of ball but couldn't compensate the flock of errors made by his mates.

Hebert, star second baseman for of five trips. Stolier was robbed of the Spare Parts, furnished the higha perfect day at bat when he also light of the affray when he clouted out four hits of four trips to the plate

29th Inf.

HO. COMPANY, 1ST BATTALION

Yowzah!! everybody, yowzah!! the old 1-ST-BN. broadcasting againthere has been a number of changes in the company lately, everything and everybody is on the go; between demonstrations and practice marches the old outfit has been kept rather busy for the past week.

It. Lynn E. Brady, of "Brady Bomber' fame has returned to the old organization from which he was transferred to Company D, when the CCC's took their toll of the Demon stration Regiment's officers.

Anybody that would like to have a private room please consult Corporal Norman H. Hobbs and he will acquaint you with the particulars.

Sergeant "Breezy Story" McGaha former spit ball artist of the Irish baseballers, and shackman extraordinary, was seen the other day peeking around the corner of the window, in the second floor hallway. We wunda what he could have been looking at, or for? Please enlighten us, Mac, Statistics show that the sale of skin balm at the 29th Infantry A & R exchange is rapidly increasing—the boys in the company are getting to be regular sheiks—or maybe B. O. has embarrassed them—better use lifebuoy "fellers," it's a lot cheaper.

Ripper, midget pool room orderly and star guard on the Green Wave Champion quintet of 1932-33 has been howing excellent form in his pugi listic aspirations and has developed one of the meanest lefts this side of "Plum-nearly" a local town of mean

Private William Harvey Stanfield has completed his story, Gold in the Sun, after many hard nights' work and has dispatched it to the Argosy magazine officials for approval. Well here's hoping that it is a successwe might repair to the speakeasy and quaff some 3 dot 2, eh?

Private "Paw" Tipper says that he is a woman hater from now on-he wrote his little Sue in Carbon Hill. Bama, and as yet hasn't received a eply to his epistle. The far away look in his orbs bespeaks the sorrow and longing that is in his heart. Please don't take it so hard, Tip, the beach is covered with pebbles—just take your pick!

Several of the boys got together the other night and went on a vrey enjoyable "fishing party" (?). Included in the honor guests were Bill the position of the tent pole. Mauldin, P. D. Smith from the din ing department of a local outfit—Cpl. Simons, Cpl. Clovis LeJune and his nibs-Norman H. Hobbs . . . A very exciting time was had by all—Bill fell in the water and Hobbs contracted a very bad cold. Again (?) as usual we had a fiisherman's luck! and a

I guess that we have about taken up all the room in this column that we will be allowed—be back with you next week with some real dirt on a very prominent individual.

Adios.

Charlie Banks, veteran first sergeant. and hot corner man for the Green Wave ended the Irish baseball season when he scooped, hustled and handled six hot chances at the fiery corner like a sixteen year old. Score by innings-

1st Bn. _____ 100 000 002 3 7 5 Batteries: Huntley and Johnson; 1st Bn.; Smith, Foster and Reddock n 1 Seymour. Umps.: Wolfe and Lindsey.

> Dependable Electric and Gas Service

A Citizen Whereever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

83rd F. A.

BATTERY "A"

We are more than glad to welcome the arrival of eight new men to our organization. They are all promising looking and we hope they live up to expectations.

With the arrival of the above men and the return of all of our officers the men are looking forward to a busy and interesting winter.

We have heard that Cpl. North, now with the C. C C., is having a hard time keeping primped up having to use only a field mirror. If he don't hurry back, his position as battery "sheik" will be filled. Pfc. Lon Johnson is trying hard for it.

Our wandering boy has returned home after a few days AWOL. We refer to Pvt. Granger, he says he had plenty of money but we are under the impression that it was hunger for Sgt. Smith's chow that brought him

BATTERY "C"

Our Supply Sgt. has been seen going to the Rifle range lately, and, as he makes no statements, we are in doubt as to whether he is trying out for the Rifle team, estimating the amount of hay on the range, or planning on opening the Lumpkin road.

Sgt. Chapman has been assigned to the duties of keeping up the ultrarefined Sect. for Sgt. Johnson, whom we don't expect back very soon. We hope that this will keep him awake.

We welcome to the battery Lieuts. Royal, Harris, Walker and Vanture. These officers have been on leave or detached service. They called hands in the Battery Officers' room today and it seems as though this place will again be occupied by someone besides Charge of Quarters.

Our 1st Sgt. is back from a thirty day furlough which he spent in Kentucky and South Georgia. He reports a very nice vacation.

The battery went to the pasture last Monday where we held our annual Fall round up. We came back with all except four horses under control. The lasso squad couldn't slip their ropes around such fast steeds.

Red Cross Life Savers with Pvts. Mathis and James going strong to bring the total up to ten.

With all of the tent pins in the roll, there seems to be a mystery in the recruit squad as to how they are going to use the spare pin for marking

Tankers To Play Intramural Games

Although the annual post intramural football season has been cancelled this fall, gridiron fans of the post will be able to see a number of excellent gates, if present plans for the season are fulfilled.

Not to be outdone by their traditional rivals, the 29th Infantry, the Tank Battalion of the post are laying plans for a ten game series between the five companies of the organization to decide the champions of the unit. This announcement was made Wednesday morning by Lieutenant Warden, athletic and recreation officer of the Tankers, together with the statement that the Golden Tornado would put no organization team into competition this

The series of the Tankers is due to begin October 11, and continue for one month until November 11. Each team will play two games in the series, with the winner being decided by the percentage system. To date the Headquarters Company players are the only ones who have made an appearance on the field, and the quality of the material that turned out makes the outfit a formidable bid for title honors. The championship last year was won by Company E, 66th Infantry, after a hectic season. The teams that will be represented, in addition to the two mentioned, are: Company D, 66th Infantry; Company F, 66th Infantry; and Company F, 67th Infantry.

Engineers

COMPANY "A" 7TH ENGINEERS

Lt. Hammer has returned from CCC duty after being away for about six months. We are mighty glad to have the Lieutenant back again.

The Company went on a hike last Friday. It was the first one that we have had since last winter and it was the first one for all the Recruits. Sgt. Wanner went out for the first itme in three years. He decided that it was a lot easier to issue clothes from the supply room than it was walking all over the Reservation. If we take many more hikes in this hot weather there are going to be a lot of men The battery at present has eight lose weight. How about it, Tooze?

We are still wondering why or what it is that Cpl. Delaro goes over to Macon so often. Can't get any satisfaction from him at all.

Ivey, Hancock and Van Hoose are laying out a drainage system for the Post Tennis Courts. Hancock has Please turn to page 8

Accounts of Fort Benning Personnel Solicited.

"The White Bank"

CAPITAL & SURPLUS

$ 600,000.00

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative—MR. R. M. HALL: Jr.

COMPLETE YOUR SILVER SERVICE

BEFORE THE BIG ADVANCE

STERLING SILVERWARE

By

GORHAM, KIRK, TOWLE, WALLACE REED & BARTON, INTERNATIONAL C. SCHOMBURG & SON

JEWELERS

1121 BROADWAW COLUMBUS, GA. AT THE SIGN OF THE BIG CLOCK

ENGINEERS (Continued from Page 7)

just transferred from the I. S. D. and from all accounts he is going to be a credit to the Company.

Pye and Marshburn took a pass recently, and from the looks of both of them it must have been some weekend. What in the world happened boys?

Looks as if we are going to have one of the best basketball teams that we have had in years. We have a lot of good material and they are working hard. That is the only way that we can have a good team and that is what we really want. Keep up the good work.

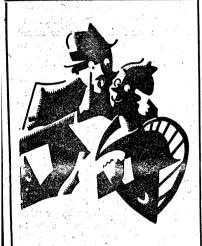

Rewards of Efficient Service Will Be Given to Fort Benning

TYPEWRITER SHOP

216 Doctors Bldg. Phone 733 Columbus

Expert service on all makes of office machinery—Woodstock Typewriters—Re-builts — Supplies. H. Hahn, Mgr. (Over five years at the Quartermaster Typewriter Repair Shop).

Let's get

KINNETT

Let's drop down by the club and treat ourselves to a big plate of Kinnett's Ice Cream! I'm sure you'll like it—and as for me—well just watch me!

Why don't you, too, try Kinnett's next time?

Sold At The Officers' Club

KINNETT'S

ICE CREAM

$6,000,000 for Benning

A healthy sum indeed. More power to you, Fort Benning. The officers and personnel can be healthy and more powerful in physique by eating more of the South's best pork sausage "Old

Settler's-not an ache in a carload. U. S. Gov-

The Provision Company, Inc.

ernment inspected and guaranteed by-

IT SHALL BE NAMELESS (Continued From Page 2 /)

at the well-known Infantry School (largest in the world, and all of that you know) Tuesday morning. First, to be a bit clearer, was the one about "stirring up a hornet's nest." Well it was done literally, and how the hornets did resent it (Maybe it was a 'hornet's love nest' and OF COURSE they would resent it). Anyway, hornets are not noted for their kindness to treaspassers, and according to the bumps on the anatomies of several members of the classes, they lived up to their reputations. Then of course, you've heard the old one about 'The Good Samaritan getting it in the neck' . . or was that it. Well, Cappy Wells could tell if he would, that it's true. He really didn't say he got it in the neck, but at any rate, in the manner of the well known Samaritan, he was taking out the stinger of the hornet from the unmentioned portion of an unmentioned brother student's anatomy, when he also was stung. It practically ruined the morning's work and of course, everyone knows how the dear students do hate to have their morning's work ruined. But at that, bet it was true this time, for even work is "sweeter than the hornet's sting."

EDITOR'S NOTEs This column has been added to the Herald's features in order that the happenings-and shortcomings-of an important class of Benningites might be given fitting and proper representation in Benning's family publication. With this issue is born this column-for THE YOUNGER SET.

SATELLITES

(Continued from Page 4) Winchester, where they stayed but two short weeks. Across the English channel to the Alsace-Lorraine sector for some education in actual battle. They spent ten days on this front, carrying on guard duty and patrolling no man's land until they were dispatched to the Champagne Front. Here, as green troops, they displayed a spirit and initative that made them famous throughout the Allied armies. In a defensive drive they met the enemy and halted an advance which was being made with alarming rapidity. After the turning point had been reached in this engagement and the Central Powers were retreating, or concentrating on a more strategic location, the Rainbow Division was marched to the Chateau Thierry sector, where they staged one of the greatest offensive drives of the war. At the outcome of this movement, the Division was but a skeleton of its former self. Half the strength of the organization was dead, or had been wounded to such an extent as to render them unfit for further combat service. Among the casualties was Private Edwards. The 167th Infantry, operat-ng on orders from General Headquarters, was advancing through Belleau Woods, when it ran into a counter barrage of the Germans. Private Edwards was among the first casualties of the day, a victim to the deadliness of shrapnel, his war time duties over. When the battlefield was cleared he was picked up by stretcher bearers and carried to Base Hospital No. 19, at Vische, France, where he remained until peace was declared. Edwards did not again return to action after this wound which was incurred on awarded the Purple Heart Medal.

Truce of peace was signed and the fighting men were returned to the manner. United States to take up once more the pursuits they had followed before being cast into the holocaust. Some chose to remain with the army, and among these was Corporal Edwards, for he had been promoted to this rank shortly after the cessation of hostilities

The Motor Transport Corps at Camp Jessup, Georgia, was the scene of his first peacetime duty.

One year enlistments were going strong at that time, and upon the expiration of this period, the corporal, just about to tell us whether or not who had gained a first hand knowledge of the operation of various vehicles, used in government transportation, journeyed to Camp Holabird, played the lady of loose morals. "No, Maryland, and served as a transportation sergeant at this station for fourteen months.

The call of civilian life almost got him about this time and he forsook the military service, only to find after eleven months, that he had no place in the outside world. His heart was with the colors. He took up his career, where it had been left a short time before, and joined the Military Police Detachment at the United States Military Academy, West Point, New York. Again he answered the urge to quit the service and with but four months to go on his term of enlistment purchased his discharge and returned to Alabama. Still he was unable to adapt himself to a civilian occupation and enlisted for the Quartermaster Corps at Fort McPherson, Georgia, where he stayed for three years. In 1930 he came to Fort Benning, Georgia and enlisted in the Tank Corps of this station. Here his knowledge of gasoline motors, extreme neatness as a soldier, and ability in infantry drill has placed him as a non-com of the Tankers. He now eserves as assistant supply sergeant, a duty which he carries on efficiently.

(Last week, in the Satellites column the writer attempted, by use of much repetition of the regimental number 29th" to impress upon the readers that Sgt. Thomas J. O'Leary was a member of the demonstration regiment. But the typesetter, from the heights of his omnipotence, arbitrarily made Tom a member of the 24th Infantry in one of the paragraphs and the proof-reader (another necessary evil on a newspaper) let the slip pass. For this reason, the Herald takes this means of anologizing to Mr. O'Leary for the slip that passed last week.

REFLECTIONS OF A STUDENT (Continued From Page 3)

these same men have more than done their duty by our Nell. F'r instance, what would Margie Hall's paper case have been without Ad. Smith to master the ceremonies? And wasn't Ephraim Hampton's informal "at home" last Saturday night a friendly gesture to the local brigade-?

The Red Apple Boys made their first appearance last Monday when several were chosen to act as coaches to other less fortunate classmates at the weekly contour chasing festival. When pressed for details on their tactics, some refused to talk on the grounds that they would be giving away fraternity secrets. Others feigned surprise, but a very few frankly admitted the practice, and even boasted of their methods. One of these was Rex Andrews, who carries a tow rope, to drag any instructor's car home which might become disabled. Steamboat Kent deserves mention along this line for his fine map of Ft. Benning which was posted on the bulletin beard. Captain Bloomquist states that this is one of the most unique sketches ever made at Benning, showing as it does Steamboats, great apprecation of contour not merely as a necessary evil to outline hills and valleys but as a medium for thought expression. In this masterriece the artist overspread our

LICENSED NURSE having special study in Pediatries will take full care of child-from 1 day to 5 years of age—Regulation sal-

Address—BOX 40 BENNING HERALD

July 26, 1918. For it he has been post with a delicate tracery of webbing, giving to the world his own spidery ideas in a most surprising

> Our own little citation for the week goes to Capt. Hones and his able student assistants who so graphically put on the demonstration in Military Intelligence.

Bennett fell naturally into the part of the dumb lieutenant. Next we remember Ray Brisach, the PX barber and his Mae West attitude, "Come up and see me sometime"; Bill Gerbeck and his Moustachio, who together formed the enemy spy; Dick Bristol, the salesman who was the Queen of Spain had four on the bottom of her night gown; and last I don't know where the Vulgarian Colonel is to day, but I knew where he was all last night." Even the dullest could deduce that contact had been finally made with the enemy.

And in closing, folks, just a hint to the kiddies: Oak chips and malt syrup can be had at the Officers' Club.

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital 1006 13th Street

Office Phone 1313

KENNY'S VACUUM PACK NORWOOD COFFEE

is sold at Fort Benning

through the

Post Exchange

TRY A POUND YOU WILL BE PLEASED

(Phone For your Our delivery service will assist you in many ways and will save you money and time in the long run. It's so much more convenient too, to pick up the telephone and give your order, and, since you have our well stocked Department at your service, you can count on being satisfied.

TELEPHONE

16 or 17

GROCERY DEPT.

POST EXCHANGE

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

39 REASONS:

Each one of our thirty-nine years is but another reason why you should do all your shopping for furniture at this store. Experience is a great teacher, and experience has taught us the solution to each of your problems, and the proper way of avoiding every difficulty.

> We will be glad to have you visit our store and see for yourself that we are fully stocked and most dependable.

ROTHSCHILD \mathbb{H} .

FURNITURE

For 39 Years Columbus' Leading Furniture Dealers

DENNING

VOLUME III

FORT BENNING, GA., SEPTEMBER 29, 1933

The

CONDUCTED BY E. F. R.

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all." -John Wolcoc.

We note with interest the advent, almost weekly, of new Columns in the Benning Herald and to all Budding "Welcome" and Columnists we cry "Good Luck," and we hope you like it. During the Hot Dry Summer, the Roof of the Herald was precariously held aloft by two Columns-"Satellites" and "The Flare." It was hard Pickings for any Column Writer to gather sufficient items of interest to make a respectable sized Column. It was quite a Load and the Firer of the Flare acquired his Round-shoulders and his Worried Look from trying to carry his part of the Burden. Now the CCCers for the most part have returned, the new Students have arrived and started classes, Instructors have resumed their Bull Fights, and Fall and Winter Social activities are under way. There are enough items of interest to Herald Readers to take the strain off the two faltering Columns and the old Law of Supply and Demand has added new Props in the form of Columns to the Herald Structure. At the present rate of increase however, it will not be long before the Herald will resemble the Parthenon, that ancient Greek Temple of Learning which always gave us the impression of being nothing but Columns. We do not intend to have the Benning Herald lose its Roof because of too many Columns pushing it off as was the case, we feel sure, of the Parthenon. Just so soon as we are convinced that the Herald is about o suffer a like Fate, we shall blow out our little Flare and devote more f our time to our Official Duties.

And speaking of Columns we would ommend to your attention "The Top " The Morn" of the Columbus Enuirer. In our morning perusal of he Paper, Top O' The Morn comes irst Page Headlines, and we go about nind for having read it. We didn't ven mind when "Top" Scooped us n the Precocious-Child-in-the-Duffner Iome Episode a week or so ago. And re we still remember the Circus Pose were viewing Mr. Hippopotamus nd not an Elephant.

SWEET SWIMMERS STILL SUPPLY COPY

We repeat, "What shall we do when uss Pool closes for the Season?" The thing Blunder this week does not ncern a Beauty suddenly bereft of r bathing suit but brings to your ention the blunder of a Blonde who roneously used the wrong exit.

(Please turn to page 5)

Twins At Fort Benning Children's School

LEFT TO RIGHT, REAR: Mary Louise and Betty Ann Rutte, Wilna and Wilfred Knight, Elizabeth and Kathleen Cushman, Bill and Mary Yancey, Phillip and Edward Blackmore. IN FRONT, LEFT TO RIGHT: Sallie and Marie Lindsey.

29th To Start Training

Doughboys To Take Field On October Second For Five-Day Hike Over Reservation; All Three Battalions To Participate

Escort Company Is Selected By Colonel Persons

An escort of honor Company has recently been selected by Colonel William E. Persons, regimental commander of the 29th Infantry, for the training year 1933-34.

The Company commander for the honor group is Captain Don C. Faith. Captain Faith has recently returned mmediately after a scanning of the from the CCC's at Bloxham, Florida, and is back on duty with the 29th our Daily Toil in a brighter frame of Infantry. He is a graduate of the Company officers' course, the Infantry School class of 1926 and the Advanced Course, 1932-33. After the completion of the Advanced Course ll of the above is just a Preamble at the Infantry School he was ordero ask our Readers to be Charitable ed to the 29th Infantry and was as oward Aspiring Amateurs, for even signed to the Second Battalion. While 'rofessionals Slip at times. In the with this Unit he was the subject of op's Column of September 26th, much commendation from the Battalhen talking about a Circus and its ion Commander Colonel Elmer F. ttractions, he referred to the first Rice. His service has taken him to lephant exhibited in the United the far east with the "Can Do" regitates as "the Behemoth." Old as we ment in Tientsin, China and also in the Philippine Department. He was ers of our youth which referred to also at Fort Sam Houston, Texas with The Blood-Sweating Behemoth of the 20th Infantry. He has completed oly Writ" and when we gazed at the three sub-courses for command and nimal so advertised we found that general staff eligibility. He is at present in command of E Company, 29th Infantry.

The three platoon leaders for the escort honor organization have been selected as follows: Lieutenants David W. Gray, Raymond E. Kendall and Joseph B. Crawford, all recent graduates of the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York.

B Company of the demonstration regi- geants to privates will roll their packs ment in the personage of 1st Sgt. ready to take the field on the morn-John D. Brown.

peace strength infantry regiment in the United States Army has issued or. Hold Meeting; Two ders which will take the 29th Infantry toops into the field fora period of five days starting October second and ending on the seventh when the troops will return to the garrison.

The field duty which the model participate in will be in the form of a practice hike. These are conducted annually in accordance with the War the post, which has been arranged troops of the army will be kept in hiking condition ready to turn out F. Jewett, who is in charge of boys' at all times for any emergency that activities at the post this year. Major may involve long marches.

tual war time manner with special the formation and organization of emphasis stressed on securing cover the troops was discussed and laid in event of an airplane attack.

The route of the march as anvale road at southeast corner of the bership will on the sixth day.

All over the army, from far off Lieutenant Melvin Maine and Alaska to China, Russia | Scoutmaster, Troop 12. and France the 29th Infantry sets the example for other fighting units of the military service. Wherever one goes in the army there are officers who have either taken the advanced course, refresher or Company Officers' courses here at the Infantry School and their praise of the model infantrymen is very high.

The regiment composed of approximately 85 officers ranking from Colonel to second lieutenant and over The first sergeant is appointed from 2,000 enlisted men from master ser-

(Please turn to page 10)

Colonel William E. Persons, regimental commander of the largest Troops Selected

The two Boy Scout troops of Fort Benning will hold their first activity of the schedule arranged for the coming year, next Saturday mornin doughboys of Uncle Sam's Army will in the form of a water carnival and swimming meet in Russ Pool. The swim meet tomorrow opens a program of events for the Scouts of Department policy that the regular by Major Thomas S. Arms, by direction of Lieutenant Colonel Frank Arms called a meeting of the Scouts The hike will be conducted in ac and counsellors last week, at which

The two troops of Scouts will renounced is, Harmony Cemetery-Mctain their present titles, being known Bride Ford, (1st day) Eelbeck, (2nd as Troop 11 and Troop 12, respectively. It is expected that the memreservation 4th day) Logging camp, fore next month. Lieutenant Joseph arriving with her parents in a beau-(5th day) and lastly Fort Benning P. Cleland, 29th Infantry, was select tiful big car. Three second lieutened as Scoutmaster of Troop 11, and ants and one supply sergeant were Meister, Ε.

The athletic program for the Scouts includes football, basketball, tennis and golf tournaments, and a track meet in the spring. It is expected that several games will be scheduled with Scout troops from Columbus. Major Kramer Thomas, Cavalry, has arranged to conduct a riding class exclusively for the Scouts, and it is planned to make two overnight mounted hikes during the year. A number of coon hunts, using the Officers' Club hound pack will be held, as well as the usual hikes.

(Please turn to page 10)

Bovs And Girls To Hold Joint Meet Tomorrow At Pool

A combined swimming meet for Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts and the Cubs of the Fort Benning garrison will be held at Russ Pool on Saturday, September 30.

Individuals are limited to three events. The following schedule of events for the boy scouts is announced: 50 yard free style; 25 yard breast stroke, 50 yard back stroke; fancy diving; 100 yard free style; 50 yard back stroke. There will also be a 200 yard relay between the two troop teams. Four swimmers will compose the team and each member will swim 50 yards.

The schedule for the two girl troops, Daffodil and Pine Tree, is as follows: 25 yard breast stroke, 25 yard back stroke, 50 yard free style; fancy diving and a hat race; while the Cardinal Troop will participate in the 50 yard breast stroke, 50 yard back stroke, 100 yard free style, a potato race and fancy diving.

For the Cubs: 50 yard free style, 25 yard breast stroke, 25 yard back stroke, and a 200 yard relay between two packs, composed of four boys on a team.

Heretofore the Girl Scouts and Boy Scouts have held individual meets. but on account of the impending cold weather it was thought best to combine the meets.

Ten Years Ago Last Week

The Infantry School formally opened its 1923-23 year with exercises being held in the Officers' Club hop room (just in rear of post headquarters) and including an address by General Gordon, post commandant.

The Fort Benning polo team composed of Captains McClure and Betts, and Lieutenants Broedlaw, Berderinden, Roxbury, Douglas, and Om-stead, left for Birmingham to play a National Guard team from the Air

A monument fund to the memory of Calculator was started with Colonel H. Wagner, 34th Infantry, making the first contribution.

Miss Atlanta, in the person of Miss alleged to have been severely injured in the crash.

Major Elmer F. Rice arrived at Fort Benning and began interesting himself in the formation of a Dramatic Club. Incidentally, there also arrived at the school one Captain Stanley G. Saulnier who also became interested

The Infantry School football team, coached by Major "Shrimp" Milburn, was taking daily workouts. Practically all of the players were officers, but four soldiers, Kjelstrom, Buck, Franz The Court of Honor, of which and Lindsey gave promise of developing into usable players.

SOCIAL HIGHLIGHTS III

General And Mrs. Estes Will Meet Officers And Ladies At Ceremony receiving line which will consist of General and Mrs. Estes and Colonel and Mrs. Weeks, will join, with the ground. The guests will be received alphabetically, from 9 p. m. until 10

p. m. The lawn will be lighted by colorful Japanese lanterns. There will be a raised platform for dancing while the 29th Infantry Orchestra will fur-

Refreshing punch and sandwiches will be served throughout the even-

FIRST SUPPER DANCE OF SEASON

TO BE HELD NEXT THURSDAY

The Officers Club will sponsor its first dance of the season on October 5

when Fort Benning and Columbus society will gather for dinner and danc-dances will be held each week and will be managed along the same lines as last year. Dinner will be served at eight o'clock at tables seating not more than twenty guests. During dinner, the 29th Infantry orchestra will play for dancing until ten thirty o'clock.

Full reservations have been made for October 5. Among the guests, there will be a table composed of life members of the Officers' Club from Columbus which will be sponsored by three hosts and hostesses, Mr. and Mrs. Rhodes Browne, Mr. and Mrs.

Dudley Spain, and Mr. and Mrs. Mc-

OFFICERS' CLUB SCENE OF DE-

Mrs. Norman D. Cota was the honor guest Monday evening at a delightful surprise dinner party given in celebration of her birthday. This affair was held at the Officers' Club, many of the guests consisting of former members of the 27th Infantry regiment who were stationed with Major and Mrs.

Cota at Schofield Barracks, Hawaii.

Among the surprise features of the fantry. Enjoying their hosts hospitality were: Colonel and Mrs. Charles

W. Weeks, Major and Mrs. Fredrick

W. Irving, Major and Mrs. Elbert J.

Lyman, Capt. and Mrs. Oliver, E. G.

Trechter, Capt. and Mrs. Henry J.

Matchett, Capt. and Mrs. Clough F. Gee, Capt. and Mrs. George V. W. Pope, Capt. and Mrs. Guy W. McKinley, Lieut. and Mrs. George A. Taylor. Lieut. and Mrs. Cleland C. Sibley,

Lieut. and Mrs. Richard G. Thomas, Lieut. and Mrs. James J. Carnes and After dinner the guests proceeded to

MRS. LUCAS HOSTESS TO BRIDGE

Mrs. William C. Lucas was the hostters with luncheon followed by tov

H. Studebaker, Miss Harriotte Atkins.

Mr. H. Alexander.

the Post movies.

LIGHTFUL DINNER PARTY

These Thursday evening supper

preceeding the reception.

Brig General and Mrs. Estes will be the hosts Friday evening at their quarters entertaining with a reception to receive the officers and ladies who are lily pond making an attractive backpermanent personnel of the post and also to receive the officers of the Advance and Student Officers Classes. The reception will be held on the lawn of the General's quarters. The

SHE'S WISE

Certainly, for she's learned, like many other smart women, that there's a world of things that can be bought here—and that will save patience and money in the long run.

SILVER'S

Cor. Broadway and 11th St. SAVE TIME AND MONEY

This Vassarette Girdle knows its place AND STAYS THERE!

moment in this conscientious new Vassarette Girdle! Put it on the way you want it . . . and it will be there after a day at the office, an bridge club entertaining at her quartable, or an evening of tables of contract bridge. The guest dancing. Soft and absorb- list included: Mesdames James E. ent next to your skin Bowen, Lynn E. Brady, George P. ... and so silky smooth Howell, Charles T. Lanham, Clayton outside that your dresses simply glide on. It's nothing to launder.

VASSARETTE FOUNDATIONS

WARREN'S

AT ALSOBROOKS

1211 Broadway

Accessory Shop

Phone 362

SPHAGHETTI PARTY

The 29th Infantry Regiment welcomed its new members with a spaghetti party and dance Saturday evening which was held at the 29th Infantry camp on the Upatoi. The officers and ladies of the regiment arrived at sixthirty o'clock for supper which was served al fresco. After supper a receiving line was formed consisting of the new officers and ladies who have joined the regiment. Following the reception dancing was enjoyed, the 29th Infantry orchestra furnishing the SPECIAL UNITS LADIES BRIDGE CLUB TO RESUME MEETINGS.

The special units ladies bridge club plans to meet for the first time since last spring on Tuesday afternoon at 3 Many dinner parties will be held p. m. Mrs. Calvin and Mrs. Pearce will act as hostesses.

> JUNIOR PROM SPONSORED BY MRS. KRAFT

> Mrs. Geo. L. Kraft was the hostess at a Junior Prom last Friday at the Polo Club which was attended by a large number of the younger set of the Post. Miss Anna Dozier of Columbus was present and entertained with her Goofus dance. Among those present

> Misses Frances Lewis, Ann Kraft, Patsy O'Brien, Mildred Yancey, Mary Neundorfer, Lillian Evans, Frances Hug, Marian Bloomquist, Peggy Arnold, Miriam Mangum, Ann Yancey, Mary Dicks, Betty Ruth Rarey, Helen Luetje, Marjorie Catron, Anna May Huling, Virginia Wadsworth, Jacqueline Gilchrist, Betty Ann Albright, Betty Bevan, Margie Heilman, Betty Negrotto, Phyllis Wright, Matile Griswold, Louise Dozier, Elizabeth Evans, Virginia Pope, Ella May Perry, Phyllis Partridge, Julie Williams, Jane Kraft, Madeline Matchett, Jane Ellen Grace.

Lawrence Persons, Max Talbot, Allen Partridge, Edward Johnson, Rob ert Arms, Russell Griswold, Jimmie Persons, Billy Spaulding, Hamilton Bonham, Howard Wilson, Jr., Tommie Dicks, Delbert Munson, Julius Evans, Donald Spaulding, Farrar Gee, John Talbot, Wendell Bevans, George Maertens, Howard Clark, Mark Boatner, J. B. Bonham, Russell Wall, Don Leary, Bob Buffington, Fred Ladd. Thomas Catron, James Maertens, evening was the lovely birthday cake bearing the emblem of the 27th In-George Pope, Ed Luetje.

DAUGHTERS OF U. S. ARMY GUESTS AT LUNCHEON AT OFICERS' CLUB The Daughters of the United States

Class Piano Instructions $\mathbf{B}\mathbf{y}$ ANNIE RUTH WADE MRS. ROLLA H. BROWN Columbus. Ga. Phone 1153

THE NEW BEAUTY SHOP

Round Wave With Ring at Ends..... ...$3.50 F!at Marcel$3.50 Eugene Method $6.50 Finger Waves Not Dried 35c SHAMPOO AND SET..... 75c

MRS. DIETZ, Mgr. MRS. RUSHING, Assistant PHONE 9286 1106½ BROADWAY

Foundation Garments, Two-way-stretch Girdles, Underthings, Negligees, Robes, Pajamas, Brassieres, Hose.

Phone 2800

12 Twelfth St.

LADY JANE

TWENTY-NINTH INFANTRY WEL- Army were the guests Thursday at a COMES NEW MEMBERS WITH delightful luncheon given by the president, Mrs. Archibald Arnold, and the vice-president, Mrs. John Huling. Forty-seven guests assembled at the officers club where the luncheon was held. The table was attractively decorated with vases filled with pink codena d'amour. Mrs. Arnold made a short address explaining to the new members the purpose and aims of the

D. U. S. A. Plans were discussed for the coming fall rummage sale and the spring fashion show. PERSONALS

Mrs. Frank V. Schneider spent the last weekend with friends at Albany,

Mrs. George P. Howell, Sr. of Charleston, South Carolina, who has been the house guest of her son and daughter-in-law, Lieut. and Mrs. George P. Howell, returned home Saturday.

EARL HAZEL

head of music dept., Auburn, Ala will teach piano at Fort Benning —Tuesdays and Fridays. Phone Mrs. J. E. Hull, 439 for information.

For The Last Word In Millinery try

DOLAN-HENRY HAT SHOP

AT ALSOBROOKS

YOUR ACCOUNT SOLICITED

FORWARD AMERICA!

Skyriders March with you

The General Shoe Corporation, employing more than 1,600 shoe makers, have signed the President's Blanket Code Agreement. This company is 100% for President Roosevelt's Recovery Program.

All Styles Sizes 1.6

$3.50

SHOES FOR BOYS

Block & Brown $3.50

MILLER-TAYLOR SHOE CO.

WHERE THE NEW STYLES ARE SHOWN FIRST 1130 BROADWAY

Economy Exemplified!

IN THE SIX-BOX. COCA-COLA'S CONTRI-BUTION TO THE HOSTESS' ASSISTANTS!

The small cost of the SIX-BOX makes it the ideal means of buying Coca-Cola -and the deliciousness and refreshing flavor of Coca-Cola makes it the ideal drink for entertainments of every sort. Only

PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

The whole world has stamped the seal of approval on Coca-Cola. It is the whole world's drink, in the world's most convenient form.

AT ALL COLUMBUS GROCERS

ORDER IN PLENTY

You never saw anyone yet who got enough of Foremost Ice Creamits delicious smoothness, tempting flavors, and purity make it the best you can get!

> Call the Soda Fount

FOREMOST DAIRIES

INC.

The Old Schoolhouse

-perhaps we should say, 'even a

While waiting for inspiration to appear from somewhere, we might apologize for the Editor's note below our last installment. We didn't plan on wielding a poisoned pen or anything like that; we were just afraid of being too obviously one of Commander Hulley's 'nit-wit humorists'. At least, afraid of being caught at it.

Now that we have been forced to come out from behind our bush, we might square things by saying something nice about the Company Commander. Just because nothing like that seems to occur to us, off-hand, doesn't mean that we won't think of something or other if we concentrate long enough.

Sure enough, Captain Hones has taken our hint and Major Arm's example. His little skit was well acted and admirably staged. We only slipped once. Even an intelligence expert should have remembered that nobody in any army ever made up his mind as quickly as he did when Cross made the unprecedented suggestion that we go outside.

Referring again to that footnote of the Editor's, he says: "the author is Hi, there!

a Hairy

Woolen?

We don't k n o w of anything better you could buy for football games, golf, spectator

sports or casual wear.

They are soft and

bleary in color, and just as soft to feel. Brown, Tile, Eel

Grey, and Eagle Blue.

Sizes 14 to 20.

Second Floor

How About

We have discovered, that being the not held responsible for anything pubproud proprietor of a column like this lished". Even at the doughboy kindergarten they still will tell you that column like this'-puts you in about the pen is mightier than the sword the same predicament as Major Eas- But we refuse to be taken in. We ley's unfortunate owl. However, won't take a chance. But the temponce you get the darn thing by the tation to let Major Easley know just what we thought of that formation the day he tried to drown us is almost overpowering at times.

> Speaking of poetry and the drama, we'll be charitable and won't mention the name of that lecturer in Tactics who did the forward one-and-a-half off the rostrum the other day and then went into his dance. He did some things which Pavlowa never saw until he recovered his balance, twenty feet

> We still maintain that some instructor is missing a bet by not calling Scott into service and giving him a bennie, the bed-bug.

A couple of the Turner Street Terrors maintain that Alabama week-ends are a good substitute for those night maneuvers. You get all the same after-effects.

i read major conners article last week with a great deal of interest. i don't know where he gets some of that stuff but one thing he said gave me an idea. i had no idea that i was such a traveler but if the major knows his bed-bugs, i see where i am going to drop down and look things over in the wynnton district.

i have been thinking that i should investigate conditions in the village ever since the night bing kunzig came in about 3 a. m. talking to himself. i was getting pretty sleepy so i didn't get all the details but it seemed that he had been disappointed in love, disappointed, anyway.

i talked it over with cousin archie and he delivered an opinion something like this:

if mr. darwin could but return, from where'er it is he's gone to burn, there's things i'm sure we'd like to ask a few points obscure—he might clear them.

for, if man came from a monkey, and all the monkeys sprang from fish, there must be some, some men or who would revert, to be your atavists. well, now we know that most any fe-dark or darker, makes monkeys of her males;

to question wherefore, we all must (Please turn to page 8)

Centers

Branches of this firm are operated in many industrial centers. A few are Detroit, Akron and Tulsa. A smooth flow of reports on the motor. rubber and oil industries is thus provided for the benefit of customers.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER

13 West 11th Street, N. W. Columbus, Ga Phone 2272

MEMBERS NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

HERALD WANT ADS

FOR RENT: Furnished or unfurnished Apt. Bedroom, living room, study, breakfast nook, kitchenette. Large sunny rooms. Private entrance. Phone 1662. 1044 Front Avenue.

It Shall Be Nameless

can keep his secret passions hidden for such a long time. Now wno would have guessed that our great big Bing Kunzig had a most decided weakness for luscious-colored pajamas. According to rumor they are of all colors and designs, but the public (and that by accident) were white striped ones. One can imagine that Bing was just too cute for words because that lovely blue would match

It certainly is funny how a man those great big blue eyes and schoolboy complexion perfectly.

And are we all breathless and eager awaiting to meet a person named J. W. Baird. Our interest was aroused to a fever pitch the other day by a most intriguing story that was told to us about his gorgeous quarters in only ones so far seen by the general block 21. It seems that while on duty in Honolulu, our friend J. W. a most fetching pair of blue and had acquired many nick-names with a view to fixing up his quarters. The most beautiful is a pair of very exotic

(Please turn to page 8)

Everything For Boys

--with no extra charge for Quality!

Through the years, Hofflin & Greentree and Quality have been synonymous terms. And yet Quality costs no more in our Boys' Shop. Every article is the best the market offersyes. And with every sale is the assurance that if the merchandise is not satisfactory Hofflin & Greentree will make it good. BUT There's No Extra Charge For Quality!

For instance our Boys' Suits with two pair of knickers. They're every stitch wool with dozens of patterns and colors to choose from. The price

$795 $895

Handling Exclusively PERFECTION CLOTHES The finest boys' suits made.

Two-Pants Longies

These suits come with two pants, or with one pair pants and a pair of knickers. Compare this value for Quality and Price.

$1200 up

Rugby Suits

From four to ten years old is the age for Rugby's—H. & G.'s Boys' Shop is the place to buy them. All-wool.

MICKY MOUSE SWEAT SHIRTS

Here's the favorite—Micky Mouse—back again this fall in all sizes and colors and with zippers!

Sport Shirts

In all colors and sizes. Long sleeves

Button-On Blouses Guaranteed best quality broadcloth

95c

Sweaters

The popular White Chief. 100% wool.

$225

Boys' Suits

Wool pants, wash tops. 2 to 8.

$150

Hofflin & Greentree Boys' Shop

ESTABLISHED

2nd Floor

ESTABLISHED 1888

KIRVEN'S

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Phone 556

Columbus, Georgia

SEPTEMBER 29, 1933 VOLUME III NO. 23 L. C. Kunze_____Publisher Society Editor Sports Editor Louis T. Kunze_____Circulation Manager

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE, BALTIMORE

Here's To Your Health

BY MAJOR HOMER L. CONNER, Medical Inspector

TUBERCULOSIS

Tuberculosis is universal. It is es timated that ninety-seven percent of the human race have this disease some time during life.

The great majority of these tims get well of the infection. This first infection does not produce ab solute immunity to the disease. Many persons are reinfected. One third of the persons who become ill of this disease die of it.

Whether or not one is to recover from this disease depends largely on its early discovery. Many patients state that the first symptoms appeared only a few weeks before examination, but careful questioning shows that many were ill for a year or longer. Tuberculosis of the lungs only rarely appears suddenly; it is a mild, slowly progressing diease that often is without symptoms for a long time.

Its discovery at this period offers the best hope for treatment and complete recovery. Periodical physical examinations of every man, woman and child at intervals six months or one year are a necessary procedure to detect early tuberculosis.

As stated above, early tuberculosis of the lung usually is without symptoms or if they be present they can not be distinguished from some other lung disease, like a common cold or

No doctor can truly state that tuberculosis is not present except the examination includes the use of an X-ray apparatus.

Not to make or advise an X-ray examination if there is a suspicion of tuberculosis, or in one who has respiratory disease that persists for longer than three weeks, or in one who has repeated attacks of respiratory disease, amounts to malpractice.

The following healthy persons should have periodical X-ray examinations:

1. All members of a household, irrespective of age, who have been exposed to an open case of tuberculosis.

2. Nursing and other personnel who are in contact with infectious cases.

3. Children in contact with a tuberculous teacher, or another tubreculous child.

4. Close friends, and relatives tuberculosis persons.

5. Persons working with or under tuberculosis persons. The smaller and more dusty the workroom the more necessary the examination.

6. Milkers on dairy farms where there are tuberculous cattle.

7. Children of tuberculous parents should be examined annually up to the age of 25.

Xray examinations of persons in the value not only to the individual but also to the community.

Reflections Of A Student

down on the pistol range. Major Easley, cozily surrounded by his class, is demonstraing errors in range procedure. Pointing the pistol at his head, the Major asks, "What is wrong with this picture?" "It looks Okey to me" pipes up a young hopeful; whereupon said Major thought for a moment, and then delivered the retort courteous. 'I't may be fine for you, but the danger is that an accidental discharge might cause the bullet to bounce off the ivory and injure someone standing near." Considering Major Easley's stories about the owl of slow movement, and about Mr. Mahgabgab, we are inclined to consider him something of a jester, along with his other accomplishments, such as an uncanny instinct to pick out treeless nd shadeless spots, in an otherwise tree infested region, and an ability jumps Tuesday pm, when he ran to tell just which questions 85 out into the most remarkable piece of of the 90 will guess wrong.

A movement is on foot in the fourth squad to inveigle Carl Westlund to follow in the footsteps of that great leader, Sparky Baird. This gentleman took his entire squad to dinner at Firm Robert's place one evening last week. And there were no strings attached either! What could be a more unselfish demonstra tion of love for one's command?

prepared for the two afternoons of little 60 cent per quarter box was equitation that awaited us. However

The scene of this little episode is 'tis truly said that one only learns by experience. Now that it is over there's not much need for those long drawers so carefully crated away, along with gloves and spurs and other horsey contraptions. But then in a few more months we'll be riding again, and then maybe we'll think to get out some of this paraphernalia. Certainly there's nothing like looking the part to give a would be horseman some feeling of security, to start with, anyhow. Let Seely and Hen derson take heed! As the saying goes, she was only a stableman's daughter, but all the horsemen knew her. Seely was the first to bite the tanbark in the third platoon, and we'll warrant he knows her only too

> "Handsome Adolph" Trechter was putting the class through the auto-rifle spec this writer has ever witnessed. "What is immediate action, Lt. Horton?" Tommy, unhesitatingly-"Immediate action is the unhesitating appication of a probable remedy for the stoppage." At this point a prolonged whistle emanated from the class, and Handsome Adolph invited Tommy up to conduct the recitation.

It is at this time that our morale is beginning to weaken. Why? Well. we don't seem to be quite as welcome After the experiences of the ad to Columbus as heretofore. It once vanced class which preceded us, per- was that no matter how many trips haps we should have been better were made to the Post Office, that (Please turn to page 10)

BENNING DAY-BY-DAY

By MAJOR RAMBLE

FORT BENNING, Sept. 25-The week started with a bang Monday morning by Advanced Classites asking each other what was meant by "terrain exercise equipment," listed as student equipment for the muchfeared first exam conducted by Chief Scout Arms. No one seemed to Sergeant Morgan, the efficient box-filler, was appealed to but he wasn't certain. By this time the suggestions of Benning old-timers as to what to take had caused students to their desks and lockers from field glasses to extra campaign hats and the class, taken as a whole, closely resembled the occidental armies after the loot of Peking. Sergeant Morgan hastily dispatched himself to the inner sanctums of the First Section and asked the same question, the reply to Blue Book. This he promptly did only to report that the answer was not contained therein. The next suggestion, to look in a certain Leavenworth pamphlet, was hastily carried out but to no avail and the students continued to wonder until Major Arms enlightened them all by giving a list of proposed items that might or might not be taken. In order to avoid similar confusion for future terrain exercises students are advised to post in a prominent place the follow-

2 Pencils with erasers

1 Compass (optional)

1 Field glasses (depending on the situation)

1 Sense of humor.

The prize for the best answer to terrain exercise equipment" on Major Armes' S x P quiz goes to Jimmie Carnes who reported in true patrolling style sans shoulder bars or collar insignia. Jimmie was taking no

Captain John Andrews of the Military History group scored Monday morning with an interesting fifty-minute talk on the battle of Ctesiphon, famous for the inability of mortal man to pronounce it. This was a batabove groups will prove of untold the in which both the British and the Turks had each other by the tail but Infantry, then stationed at Fort Logan, being unable to decide how to proceed next both let go at the same

> The three-hour riding session Monday afternoon after a full course Officers' Club luncheon left us all wondering if the army's plans for complete motorization couldn't be hurried a little. We are beginning to appreciate the true meaning of the remarks we overheard at the Club last week when one sweet young thing told another that one of the many advantages of riding a horse lay in the fact that it made the cheeks red. We hasten to

> George Bloomquist, mapper, actor, poloist, and Scandinavian tactician (our G-2 section is now functioning) sort of strained the credulity of his listeners Monday morning by producing an aerial photo showing the shadows cast in a northerly direction but after verifying this, each man for himself, and finding ourselves persuaded against our better judgement we reluctantly admitted that it was being Benning this year and that at the Infantry School nothing was impossible. This conclusion was further verified after Seventy-three degrees Arms crossed up the combined classes as to the exact moment of leaving woods.

We wish to apologize for overlooking the best bon mot of last week when Major Hugh C. Gilchrist of the elaborate Sneaking and Peeping staff observed: "Please notice that that tree comes all the way to the ground."

An interesting demonstration early in the week when Cavalryman Thomas sent his favorite mount "Howdy' through a series of maneuvers with a longue. Until then we had labored mained on this duty until 1918 when loss to the regiment and the army.

under the delusion that a longue was something to sleep on.

The highlight of the week from the standpoint of a columnist searching for material came Tuesday when Nonpareil Bloomquist engineered a night ride for the edification and amusement of the class. Five groups embussed for their respective start ing points under the tender care of Lieutenant Raymond to the 23rd In fantry woods, Captain Clark to the silo, George himself to Fiske Range Lieutenant Foster on the Mary's Falls road and Lieutenant Murphy, who hereby qualifies for the season's first red apple, to Hook Range. The innocent victims mounted on specially trained night horses, started at indrape upon themselves everything in tervals from each station to make the complete circuit without benefit of maps or flashlights and nothing much else but George's caution to avoid backyard clotheslines. first pair to gain fame was the Jim Wharton-Walter Wells ("Cappy" to you) combination when they veered off the beaten path and headed for a which suggested that he look in the friendly nearby light, only to be greeted with a vehement "Get the hell out a trifle more lost than they were. of my back yard" yelled at them, by huddle and consulting the mass of notes taken down by the former as to the proper course to follow, concluded that this could not be the place they were looking for and left without a murmur. After checking in two stations hence some hours later they disappeared into the void again and remained unaccounted for until long after the problem ended, when George Bloomquist tracked them down after they had been unceremoniously eject ed from a private coon-hunt being conducted in a swamp several miles from their next station. When finally located they were riding in concentric circles around the silo fearing to ride too far away from their only remain ing orientation joint.

Gadget Waterbury and George Tav lor tied the Wharton-Wells combination for first place among the year's new members to the Explorers' Club after a long but futile search for bigger and better swamplands. Each pair, peering through the darkness, caught fleeting glimpse of a flickering light emanating from the flashlight of the other only to find, as they drew alongside what should have been the much sought station, that the other pair wa

A further check on absentees showed an irate married non-com. Wharton that two more pairs had gone astray and Wells, after going into a tactical when the Marine Fox-Gimlet Fitts (Please turn to page 9)

SATELLITES

(By N. H. HOBBS)

Up where the Great Smoky Moun- the prisoners were shipped to At the violet blue of the skyline and the the Federal penitentiary. While on swirling waters of the Tennessee river duty at Panama he accompanied the sweep gracefully away northward to join the muddy waters of the Ohio hunting trip of six days in the junriver. John D. Brown first came into gles of that country. life on July 22nd, 1879. Who, at that time would have prophesied that infant, now 1st Sergeant Brown of Company B, 29th Infantry, would establish himself as one of the Army's most outstanding and efficient non-commissioned officers?

As a youngster, "John D." as he is affectionately called by his host of admirers, craved excitement. At the age of 28 he left his native heath to go out into the world in earch of romance and adventure. His first stop was at an Army recruiting station, and, after having the different branches of service explained to him, he enlisted for Company D of the 21st Colorado. He took to the army as a duck to water and exactly two months after he first enlisted was his superior officers and his leadership that 1st Sergeant Brown was the "topqualities were easily recognized. During this enlistment the 21st was ordered to the Philippines. He returned to the States with this unit in 1910 and was discharged at Fort Logan, Colorado in the same year.

His next enlistment followed immediately and he joined Company F of the 18th Infantry, then garrisoned at Fort McKenzie, Wyoming and later at San Antonio, and Texas City, Texas. While in Texas the 18th was on border duty near Mexico for a short "John D." was appointed sertime. geant during this hitch and was discharged as such in October 1913. The notation on his discharge read "character excellent."

Sergeant Brown's third choice in the United States saw him doing duty tion would be obtained and it would with D Company of the famous 29th not have been secured had you not Infantry, the largest peace strength made exceptional efforts to uncover regiment now in existence. The 29th the major factors of their conspiracy Fort Porter Buffalo New York, at the time but in March, tion and the sound intelligence used 1915 they were ordered to the Panamian sector for the purpose of pro their conviction with appropriate sen tecting American interests there and tences ensued. I desire to commence to guard the great Gatun locks and you for your fine work in this matter power plants. His leadership quali- which not only rebounded to the bene ties were again recognized and he was fit of your Company but to the en appointed sergeant and placed in tire regiment also." charge of all troop supplies for the 29th Infantry. He stayed on this duty mendations that Sergeant Brown has for nineteen months. This enlistment received during the 26 years that he was during the seven year regime has faithfully served the Army of the and in 1917 Sergeant Brown was de- United States. tailed to attend the 1st Officers' In four more years 1st Sergean training camp. He resigned and was Brown will be retired after thirty then placed on duty as acting 1st years continuous service with the sergeant in charge of all returned 29th Infantry with which he ha prisoners at Toboga Island. He re- served for many years will be a grea tains rear their rugged peaks into lanta, Georgia for confinement in well-known author, Rex Beach, on a

In April, 1918, sergeant Brown was promoted to the grade of 1st Sergeant and ordered to duty with Company B, 29th Infantry where he has been ever since. The 29th left Panama in September, 1918, and took up camp at Beauregard, La. They stayed there almost a year when they were ordered to Camp Shelby, Miss., to await instructions that would send them to Columbus, Ga. The 29th came here after one week in Shelby.

Sergeant Brown was the first sergeant of all the Demonstration troops during the birth of the Infantry School and was the subject of many commendations from high ranking officers; among the then Chief of Infantry and Colonel H. B. Fiske, (now Brigadier General H. B. Fiske) who is at present at Fort de Lesseps, Canal appointed corporal. His ability as a Zone. General Fiske was in command soldier gained him high favor with of the 29th Infantry during the time kick" of all the demonstration troops. Colonel Harris Pendleton, who was in command of the 29th Infantry in 1920 when several members of B Company conspired to rob the post exchange sent the following commendation to Sergeant Brown; "The results of the trial by General Court Martial of Sergeant John McFadden and Privates George W. Alford and Bernard E. Kowalski, all of Company B, 29th Infantry, have just been pub lished. These men conspired to rob the post exchange of this station and acting jointly in pursuance of that common intent, did succeed in per petrating heavy thefts. Due to their joint action it seemed improbable that sufficient evidence for a convic Due to your indefatigable investiga competent evidence was obtained and This is only one of the many com

THE FLARE

Continued on page 4 The Radiant Resident of Rainbow Row finished her swim (and unless you have seen this particular Sweetie swim you still have swimming that is swimming to see) shook the water Orienting herself, jauntily entered the Men's half of the Bath House. The wandering woman made two discoveries in rapid succession; first, she was in the Right Church but the Wrong

Dr. R. H. Brown

OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN Murrah Bldg. Phones Office 4108

> Dependable Electric and Gas Service

A Citizen Whereever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

Ladies' Star Brand all-leather riding boot. Indies Brown.

$4.50

Just received-five new numbers in young men's brown oxfordsin calf, genuine seal skin, plain toed, wing tip, and plain cap.

$3.45 to $4.65

Complete line of young men's

$2.39 to $4.95

STAR BRAND ALL LEA-THER SHOES ARE SOLD ONLY AT

Shoe Department Westbrook Bldg.

Pew; second, that the Provisions of tain that the Horseless Crowd can but as she made for the door said in Jodhpurs-Beauties in Breeches-"Oh, Pardon Me." Our Lovely Lady from her shoulders, and without then made her third discovery, to wit, Male Chivalry still flourishes at Benning, for despite the unexpectedness of the situation a Gallant Male promptly replied "Not at all—it's quite all right."

MATCH-MAKING MACHINATIONS FRUSTRATED

Traffic on the Road to Romance is sometimes hard to regulate. There dwell in adjacent Domiciles on First Division Road, the Bradys and the O'Connors. In the Brady household lives Thomas Brady I, and Thomas Brady II, two of the most melodious meowers that ever serenaded the Moon from a Back Fence. In the O'Connor Menage dwells Mehitabel O'Connor a female Feline of fame and Pedigree. While the Bradys and O'Connors are the best of friends and get along famously as neighbors, the Cats of the two families do not seem to hit it off at all well. After a few nights of disturbed slumber the Bradys and the O'Connors got together for a Council of War. After much discussion the concensus of opinion seemed to be that the Thomas (I and II) Bradys were antagonists toward Mehitabel and didn't appreciate her charms, and Mehitabel liked a good scrap herelf. It was decided that something had to be done to quiet the Quarrels or some disgruntled Neighbor would get out the family blunderbuss and bring about a Catastrophe. Someone suggested that the Cats be put through a course of Training with the Mission to be accomplshed that of substituting Affection for Antagonism and replacing Rancor with Romance. The Bradys were of the opinion that their Thomases did not find Mehitabel attractive, so the O'Connors concentrated on polishing and perfuming their Pet into a Cat Coquette. After a couple of days of preparation the Feline Flirt was pronounced perfect. Bathed in Life Buoy and Lux, with Pink Ribbons on her neck and Bells on her Toes, Mehitabel was turned out to Work her Wiles on the Doubting Thomases. To all intents and purposes the Experiment was a Failure for again the night was made hideous by the sounds from the quarreling quadrupeds. In our opinion we believe Mehitabel blameless and that the two Thomases need training tending to develop good taste and refinement. The Thomas (I and II) Bradys' views on the situation seem best expressed by the following verse written by Don Marquis a few years

"Persian Pussy from over the Sea Demure and lazy and smug and fat, None of your Ribbons and Bells Ours is the zest of the Alley-Cat."

ENTRANCING EQUESTRIENNES

We have always considered the feminine portion of the Horsey crowd as a few Fanatics who preferred Ammonia in their Atomizers to Houbigant Quelque Fleurs. On Tuesday we gave the first Ladies' Riding Class the Once Over and if the apparent equine enthusiasm continues we shall have to spell Horsey Crowd with Capital Letters and think of the Horseless Crowd as the small group of Fanatics. There were so many Shes at the Stables that the Post Ex change and Commissary had almost nothing to do and very nearly closed up shop. On Riding Days it is cer-

Paragraph 5, b, (1), Section XVIII have their choice of cabbages and Post Regulations are being complied their pick of potatoes. And Coswith. Cutie never lost her composure tumes! Oh la la! There were Janes in a most polished and polite manner Pretties in Pants-and several Sweeties in Skirts just looking on. In fact it is reported that one sweet young thing, newly arrived and attending her first ride desired to make the best impression possible, so she borrowed her Husband's brand new Pink Tea Breeches. She impressed her companions but didn't make much of a hit with Hubby when later he got them out to wear to his first Guard Mount. And such colorful Costumes —Solomon in all his glory could not have been arrayed like any one of these. Several Femmes whom we had never thought were so much as Lookers, appeared positively entrancing in their Gowns for Galloping. We did notice, however, several Sweethearts whom we can recommend for the Five Day Diet Club-for the sake of the horses. One look at any of the Charter Members will convince you what a remarkable Diet it is, for it removes Rotundity without suppressing the Curves. We refer to the Diet only as a suggestion in case the Riding itself doesn't Reduce-but give the Horses a little help. We expect to look over the Riding Classes again soon and we hope we won't have to publish our list of Candidates for the Diet Club.

CHANGES COGNOMEN

For some time now, whenever we have had occasion to mention Captain Elliot we have referred to him as Winsome Wilbur Elliot. Elliot figured in a Fiasco recently about which we would like to tell our Readers but he modestly requested us to refrain. Suffice it to say that we have changed his name to Wrong Room Wilbur.

ACADEMIC ACROBATS

In the Old Days when the Infantry School was in its Infancy all Instructors were put through a course of instruction in Proper Presentation in order that they might impart their knowledge to the Student with the utmost efficiency. One of the subjects stressed was Interest Destroying Factors and this item alone has done wonders for our Teachers by reducing personal peculiarities and mannerisms to a minimum. Very little instruction was given in Interest Establishing Factors and items of Showmanship have been developed slowly. Intructors tell stories, draw pictures, and act little plays to hold the Student Interest. It remained for Tank Technician Wadsworth to put the latest wrinkle into his Attention Attract ing Antics but putting ona Ground-Lofty-Tumbling Act during a Conference last week.

MAKE

Chancellor Co.

MEN'S AND BOYS' STORE

Your Columbus Headquarters

CHARGE ACCOUNTS SOLICITED

CASH YOUR CHECK WITHOUT EXTRA CHARGE

> FREE TELEPHONES AND REST ROOMS For Your Convenience

Lowest Prices On QUALITY MERCHANDISE

A Pleasure To Show You

Chancellor Co.

1108 BROADWAY

Yas Suh 'n Mam Mistuh Jack Walton's

The CABIN

Is goin' to be a sho' nuf nice place fo'

folks tuh eat at!

Opens Tuesday Oct. 3

Waverly Hotel

Thirteenth Street

We have done our part for National Industrial Recovery having signed the President's pledge.

It remains now for the Administration to do its part to correct the "pay freeze" and restore Service pay to its former level.

We gladly contribute our efforts and devote ourselves towards this end.

N. S. MEYER, INC. NEW YORK

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Benning Amateur Team Defeats Mobile

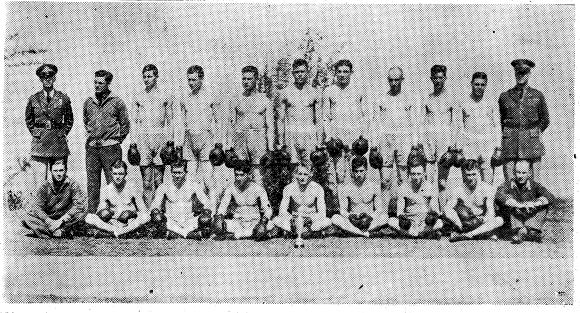

3-1 Victory Won 3v Local Team Nednesday Night

The Mobile boxing team, vaunted ould-be victors of the Fort Benning mateurs, went down in defeat last ight before the soldier leather-pushrs to the tune of 6-1 in team fight, a rather slow card that showed a w flashes of real interest for the ght fans. Coach Tommy Littleton Mobile certainly sold the Benning oxing promoters and the public in neral "down the river" when he ad rtised his team as being probable ctors over the Benningites. The Mole aggregation, with the exception of vo fighters, were nowhere near in e class of the Benning boys, and e final score showed it.

It is quite probable that the writer spoiled from seeing the Benning amps in action so much. With all due apologies, the Mobile team an average amateur boxing team, better, and not much worse than general run of the mill. They were essly outclassed by the Benning than which in our opinion e is no better team in the South y in the amateur ranks.

ne best fight on the program was bout between Nick Camarata, of Mobile team, and Mike Panos, upheld the honor of Benning. of these boys were fast, clever, could hit, and both of them were willing to mix it up. Camarata a shade the more experience of pair and battled out a one point sion, although Panos was in betcondition and was the stronger at finish. Another round would most y have told a different tale. Pais a new comer to the Benning , and is wonderful material to ng the feather title to add to the already held at the post.

ohn (Seven and One-Half Percent) on, another newcomer, showed

The Fort Benning Amateur Boxing Team

myth by stopping the hopes of the Reforestation Army in one good solid punch. His K. O. of the C. C. C.er is believed to be the quickest on record at the post. Lonnie Wilson, another of the Bennng heavies, also took the C. C. C. into camp via the T. K. O. route after flooring the Woodpeck-

Neal Milan, Tanker Floyd, and Roy Whatley all fought good battles although the Mobile seconds were a trifle too quick to toss the towel. The Benning boys with the exception of Milan, were not over-extended, and won with comparative ease. Phil Carpenter, primed with ambition to wrest the light-heavy crown from the brow of Charlie Williamson, was forced to content himself with an oldtimer that he was ashamed to hit, when Williamson refused to make the trip at the last minute. Bob Cochrane, Mobile, who stepped in the ring with Carpenter, was game to do so, but had no more business in a boxing match than a celluloid dog chasing an as bestos cat through Hades.

Officials for the bouts were Lieutenants Joseph P. Cleland and William W. O'Connor, judges, and Hal Davis, referee. They did a very good t his publicized right hand was no job all round, considering everything.

:-: BASEBALL

(By N. H. HOBBS)

The last of the intra-mural baseball games have been played at Fort Benning—the Second Battalion bested the Headquarters Pirates in two straight games to cop the crown, but believe me the Kellys had to strain to the utmost to capture the second contest of the three-game series. It was truly one of the best games played at Gowdy field in a long time. Fuller, alternate left fielder and hurler for the 2nd Bats was the hero-he held the big bats of the Pirate aggregation to only five bingles during the contest and struck out nine of the Spare Parts willow wielders.

Immediately after the Kells had won the championship Captain Phillip T. Fry, the post athletic officer arranged for a seven game series between a composite team composed of baseballers from the 29th Infantry to compete against a nine made up from the Special Units, Tanks and 83rd Field Artillery and believe me, the race is going to be plenty close. "Kelly" Kjelstrom was elected as manager of the Doughboy nine while Lieutenant Paul Kellam was named as coach of the "Vagabond" team.

The championship of the Kellys is not at stake, they have already won that honor. These games are being played in order not to rob the fans at Benning of the annual baseball playoff and series.

KELLYS SWAMP PIRATES

In one of the first games of a three game contest tilt between the Headquarters Battalion and the Second other day and again bested the Pi-Battalion, 29th Infantry the Kellys swamped the Pirates 8 to 3. This game was played to decide the winners of the second half champion-

The Pirates managed to shove a run home in the succeeding frame after White was hit by a pitched ball, and Johnson sacrificed him to second. He went to third when Mauldin singled and crossed the plate when Parsons grounded to second.

The Kells chalked up another run in their turn at bat and scored three more counters in the fourth stanza to lead the Pirates by a wide margin To make it decisive the 2nd Bats made two more runs in the eighth spasm to win the game eight to three.

Both teams used relief hurlers; White went into the game in the fifth and Ward for the 2nd Bats took the mound in the following chapter Hitting honors were nine for the Second Battalion and eight for the Pirates, numerous errors on the Spare Part infield was largely responsible for the defeat.

Saunders of the Kells was the big stickman for his nine when he was credited with a perfect day at bat, getting five for five. Laborte led the attack of the Pirates with a couple of hefty smacks that were heard all over the park at Gowdy field.

SCORE BY INNINGS

RHE 010 020 000 3 9 4 Hq. Bn. 210 300 02x 8 11 1 2nd Bn. Batteries: Parsons, White and Johnson; 2nd Bn. Fuller, Ward and

Umpires. Wolfe, Lindsey and Ma-

KELLYS DUPLICATE

The Second Battalion of the 29th Infantry duplicated their feat of the rates of the Headquarters Battalion in one of the best games of the season. Aside from showing errorless support by both sides it was one of the fastest games of the season.

The Kellys shoved one marker across the plate in the opening frame and after that neither team scored Sauders, versatile shortstop for the Kells, poled out a long triple and scored when Newton came across with a hefty single over second.

The Pirates tried in vain for a tally in the remaining eight innings but just couldn't seem to connect with the old agate at the right time. After two outs in the second frame Easley caught one on the button for a clean triple but he died on the hot corner bag when Johnson grounded to third; again in the fourth the Pirates threatened, Hayes led off with a single, Hebert skied out to center then Chock Morrow came across with a bingle and advanced Hayes to second. Laborte flied out to left and Easley whiffed for the third out.

Labonte was the last man to bat in the final inning but the Pirates aspirations to become the Champs of the diamond at Fort Benning were shattered when he whiffed thereby placing the crown of the Infantry school baseballers on the Kelly brow.

Slim Fuller certainly deserves credit for the fine game that he twirled; he allowed the Spare Parts but five scattered bingles during the affray and also was one of the heavy Please turn to page 7

Howard Bus Line, Inc.

Operating Under Government Franchise Bond and Liability Insurance Provided

SCHEDULE

Fro	m	Fre	m
Colun	nbus	Ft. Ber	ıning
5:00	AM	6:00	\mathbf{AM}
6:00	66	7:50	"
7:00	66	9:15	- 44
8:30	" "	10:45	66
10:00	66	12:45	PM
11:45	66	2:15	"
1:30	PM	4:15	46
3:00	. 46	5:10	- 66
5:00	"	6:00	. 46
7:00	66	7:00	66
9:00	66	8:00	- 44
10:30	66	9:45	- 44
12:00	M	11:15	. 66
		12:00) M
		lso "Extras" and CHOOL BUSES

PHONES

C. D. SHINE

JOHN LOCKE

RENT-A-CAR COMPANY

PHONE 1841

519 - 8TH STREET

Special Low Prices on Long Trips

CALL US FOR FURTHER INFORMATION

Test Of A

Good cooks of the old school were noted for their famous pastries. They always used nature's own shortening-Pure Lard. Substitutes for lard appeared. Substitute is something to take the place of the real article. New cooks are taking the place of the old and with Pure Lard as shortening they can gain just as much prestige for their pastry as the old timers. True you don't need to use as much. Old Style Flavor Dry rendered lard is pure lard-no beel tallow or cottonseed oil added. Master the art of making good pastry by using our lard put up in 20 lb. pails.

The Provision Company, Inc.

Get your hunting gear ready now-replace the things you and see that everything is cleaned up for the season. You'll find all necessary at the Main Branch, made by the best manufacturers in the country!

TELEPHONE 608

Post Exchange FORT BENNING, GEORGIA

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service

H. Q. Co. Gives A Dinner For Team

Monday night at the organization mess hall, Regmental Headquarters Company, 29th Infantry entertaned the members of the Headquarters Battalion baseball team with a chicken supper in honoring the team for the exintra-mural season at Fort Benning. It will be remembered that the baseball nine played the Second Battalion, 29th Infantry aggregation a three-game per. series recently for the second half championship.

The supper was served at 6:00, after which Lieutenant Claude B. Ferenbaugh, who is commanding officer of the Communications outfit, and also coach of the baseball team, introduced the battalion commander, Major Frank V. Schneider to the assembly, Major Schneider complimented Lt. Ferenbaugh for his excellent work with the team and stressed the importance of athletics in the Army. He also commended the team members on their excellent showing and sportsmanlike playing.

Captain Robert B. McClure, who sat on the Headquartres bench during most of the season and wore out one campaign hat, was called upon to make a speech.

Captain McClure started by telling Headquarters team engaged in.

Captain Edward J. Renth, who was ordered to duty with the CCC's and had returned to the Fort Benning garrison for a brief visit was asked to take the floor. He talked on the necessity of having rooters in the stand to back up the athletic teams of the battalion and urged all the members of the Company present to turn out in force and root for their cellent showing it made during the team. He also mentioned the improvement in athletics in the battalion and thanked the Company Commander for the invitation to the sup

Captain Henry L. Barrett, who has recently been assigned to command Regimental Machine Gun Company of the 29th Infantry was the next speaker of the evening. He stated that it was a pleasure for him to see such a fine baseball nine in action and then thanked the mess-sergeant and his staff of cooks for the supper.

Thanks to the 29th Infantry orchestra for the music rendered during the meal was expressed by Lieutenant Anthony S. Howe, another officer guest present.

Staff Sergeant William C. Kjelstrom, coach of the Championship second battalion nine, who was present at the supper, was the last speaker. He complimented Headquarters baseball team and stated that if the season and services had bene prolonged that a little story on himself and Captain the team would probably topple the Edward J. Renth, who is at present Second battalion from the top of the on CCC duty. Captain McClure also legue. He then thanked Sergeant John commended the team on their excel- He then thanked Sergeant John lent baseball exhibitions, especially the Faulk, mess sergeant of the Company last game of the season that the for the excellent supper and the inbastmen for his nine when he poled out a triple in the fifth inning.

BASEBALL (Continued from page 6)

Speed Ball White of the Pirates pitched in opposition to Fuller and certainly hurled a stellar brand of ball; the Kells collected but six hits off his offerings and he also figured prominently in his team's hitting when he banged out a double in the eighth stanza, thereby placing himself in scoring position.

SCORE BY INNINGS

100 000 000 1 6 0 2nd Bn. 000 000 000 0 5 0 Batteries: Fuller and Thompson;

White and Johnson. Umps: Lindsey, Wolfe and Ma

VAGABONDS DEFEAT 29TH

The first game of a seven game series to decide the supremacy of the baseballers of Fort Benning and to have a "Little World Series" at the Gowdy field diamond for the benefit of the seasoned fans who look forward to this annual competition, spelled defeat to the 29th Infantry nine when they were downed by the Vagabonds, composed of other units of the post, by the astonishing score of 10 to 4.

The 29th team was hopelessly outclassed in the initial game when the post players knocked the agate all over the lot, collecting 14 hits to the doughboys 7 and scoring ten markers

The entire Vagabond infield was composed of Special Units players with the exception of McLane of the Tanks, while the Infantrymen's in field players were split up fifty-fifty two Headquarters men-Fraiche and Hebert-and two Kelly players-Barron and Lee. The outfield for the post players showed Swantic of the Tanks, Trippe of the Greencords and Futch also a Specialist player. The Irish gardens were patrolled by Johnson of the Irish and Tinsley and Newton of the Kelly nine.

In reality the Vagabonds beat the infantry team in the very first inning when they collected a total of five hits off of the combined offerings of Collier and Foster, who relieved Collier in the opener. The Vags, started hitting again in the fourth and after the smoke had cleared from the screen-two more markers were credited to the Vagabonds.

The Infantry came to life in the sixth and seventh spasms and clouted out three hits and collected four runs, but were unable to catch up with the Vags' lead.

Collier started on the mound for the Infantry team but his stay was short lived when he was pulled in favor of Foster in the opening frame. Boots Foster seemed to twirl in spurts. In the second inning he struck out two of the Vagabond hitters but in the fourth he weakened and allowed the opposers three bingles.

Morris worked on the hillock and certainly pitched fine ball for seven and one-half innings. He was relieved by the coach's judgement in favor of Gilbert in the eighth; Gilbert twirled his usual excellent brand of ball and struck out three of the Infantry batsmen.

Massey was the star with the willow for the Vags when he poled out a triple and two singles out of five times at bat. Newton was the star for the Infantrymen when he was lited with two singles during the

SCORE BY INNINGS

RHE 000 002 200 4 7 3 29th Vagabonds 500 200 03x 10 14 3 Batteries: Collier, Foster and Reddock; Morris, Gilbertand McCarthy. Umpires: Magoni, Wolfe and Lind-

SECOND GAME BETWEEN

THE VAGABONDS AND 29th The dougboys of the 29th Infantry evened the count with the Vagabonds in a closely contested game played at Gowdy field last Tuesday when they nosed them out 3 to 2.

In the first part of the contest the 29th players backed up Lefty Nichols, who was tossing them over for (Please turn to page 8)

For Men Who Want Distinction

Correctly styled for the man of fashion— -fitted on you like the suit of a Bond Street tailor-and sold to you at an amazingly low and economical price! Ready-to-Wear $16.50. Tailored-to-Order $19.50.

The SCHWOB Co.

The STANDARD TAILORING CO.

1037 BROADWAY

COLUMBUS, GA.

YOUR CAR:

We do expert work on fenders bodies, upholstering, tops, radiators and window and windshield glass.

Columbus Fender & Body Works The Post Exchange Is Our Agent at Fort Benning

But Can You?

You may think that your brakes will hold, or if you know they won't, that maybe the other fellow can stop. But are you SURE? If you're not, then you'd better make sure right now, before you're in trouble. And you should keep the rest of your car in good condition, too; accidents are more easily avoided than explained.

AUTO DEPT.

XCHANGE POST E FORT BENNING, GEORGIA

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service

IT SHALL BE NAMELESS (Continued from page 3)

Oriental drapes. The rest of the live ing room is furnished in accord with the hangings and the whole room has quite a fascinated Oriental air. However the bedroom is supposedly the masterpiece. It is done in shades of red (no less) and from all I hear it is a work of art that would make any woman's eyes green with envy. Then to keep his masterpiece from looking too masculine he has added an extensive collection of lanky, long-legged, langorous-looking boudoir dolls. We hope that Mr. Baird will have visitor's hours because we know that there will be numerous others just dying to take a peep.

It seems that none of the wiles of the young women on the post have any effect on the dashing new Lieu tenant of the Air-Corps. Instead of chasing around evenings Lt. Huggins seems to disappear from sight. Upon inquiring very extensively about the matter we find that he shuns feminine company and disappears every night about seven-thirty and can be found pounding the good old ear. His "sleeping" hours are piling up rapidly and he soon will have more than any aviator in the Army. It certainly is a shame that someone doesn't take him in tow instead of letting a perfectly good bachelor go to waste.

After listening through keyholes and hanging around to catch snatches of conversation we have finally found out what the "cat that ate the canary expression meant on lot of the bachelor's faces. It seems that they are writing their own book of etiquette for feminine visitors to the bachelors' quarters. So prepare yourselves for that no really well-informed young woman is without her book of eti-

Well that good old wartime custom is back in full force again. Most any place you go you can find a couple of young maids or matrons knitting away. In fact the women have given up their bridge in order to finish their sweaters. Just the other day a young man wandered unwittingly into a bridge game on the post and was very disgusted because he didn't even get a chance to "kibitz." The game had broken up after the first rubber in order to do few rows on the sweaters. The only reason I can see that might have brought the good old custom back is the late C. C. C. war.

> OLD SCHOOLHOUSE (Continued from page 3)

it's only blondes can make a fish?

archie told me that he saw that in the new yorker and as the author was a friend of his, i could go ahead and use it, seeing that it seemed to fit commander hulley wanted a class re porter and i don't see why he should overlook me. if anyone gets an intimate picture of these students, i certainly do. i've some friends in town and i think i'll have to speak to them about hullev.

i think the editor was kidding the boss when he said he printed this stuff last week because it was good. the boss probably believed it but i know he just had a lot of space with nothing else to put in it.

BASEBALL

(Continued from page 7)

Futch, Massey and Newman and Evthe Infantrymen, but in the seventh an error on the hot corner man was turned into a run evening the score, one all.

The post nine committed three misplays during the fracas but none of hem were turned into runs.

Saunders was truly the star of the game when he also scored two of his eam's runs and made several nice plays on short.

SCORE BY INNINGS

RHE 000 010 100 2 9 3 Batteries: Gilbert and Newman; "That's all there is, there ain't no lichols. White and Reddock. "more." lichols, White and Reddock.

VAGABONS HAND 29th LICKING

In the third game of a seven contest series the Vagabonds of the post gave the 29th Infantrymen a bad drubbing yesterday when they knocked three regimental pitchers all over the lot at Gowdy field to collect a total of thirteen hits and ten runs, to the Infantry's nine hits and four markers.

"Iron Man" Swantic twirled his team to victory when he struck out seven of the doughboy batsmen and received credit for one additional assist and put out. Several times he got in the hole by walking players but he proved invincible in the clinches, which aided by the strong support given by his mates, was responsible for the victory.

Ward started on the hillock for the 29th but was yanked in favor of "Speed Ball" White, hero of yesterday's contest, White pitched very effectively and allowed the big batsmen of the Vagabond nine but two hits during his work on hte mound; he in turn was relieved by Bob Harkey, veteran twirler. The Vagabonds had too much power in their war clubs though and they pounded him for three bingles and a trio of runs.

Thompson and Johnson led the attack for the Regimentals, "Tommy with a double and a single and "Olie" with a pair of singles.

Evanse was the fielding star of the affray when he handled four hot chances at the hot corner without a misplay. He also scored one of his the worst, gals, and don't forget team's runs when he gained first on a fielder's choice, went to the Keystone when Massey hit and dented the rubber at home when Futch singl-

SCORE BY INNINGS

011 000 011 4 9 29th Infantry 202 300 12x 10 13 2 Vagabonds 29th Infantry-Ward, White, Harey and Reddock, Thompson; Vagabonds—Swantic and McCarthy. Umpires, Wolfe, Lindsey and Ma-

ENGINEERS

COMPANY "A" 7th ENGINEERS 'Abie" Sanford is wondering why it is that every one else can make the pool ball fall overboard so much easier than he can. My advice is to never shoot pool until you are an expert, "Abie". Headley and Schellenger are wondering the same thing.

Our Recruits are finding out how it feel to "Line the sights and squeeze the trigger." Ratcliffe says that a hundred years frm nw it wn't make a bit f difference whether he squeezes the trigger or not. But some of the Recruits are going to make our 'Ole Timers" sit up and take no-

There are a lot of us that are dreading the hike with the 29th Infantry next week. Believe you me we are gong to be one "Tuff" outfit around here if we keep going at the rate we have been gong for the last month. Sgt. Johnston says that he is a mere shadow of his former self. He only weighs 190 at the present writing. He also allows that after hte hike he will have to stand twice in one place to even cast all be over in about 20 years, Sgt.

Richards came in from furlough last Sunday. From the looks of his shoes the roads must have been very rocky, or the pavement was extra hard. The Mess Sgt. is still wondering what became of all the food in the Mess Hall. We think that Richards could clear up the mystery.

The men that are out for basket ball are looking better every day. These boys are gong to make a lot of the outfit around wonder what is that raising so much dust on the floor. Limber is coaching the team and he is really a good one, too.

The supply room is doing a rushing business these days, and lately 001 100 01x 3 6 2 Sgt. Wanner's favorite experssion is, 29th Inf.

HO. CO., 1ST BN.

Bridge seems to be the favorite pastime of the members of this organization at present. Pfc. Paw Tipper seems to be in the limelight, it is stated that he plays the "Kannotlosesky" system and doubling style Every time that Pappy Atcheson bids Paw doubles him and runs his temperature to 104. We have heard of all sorts of things, but we will always believe that Ripley would be very interested in knowing that a certain onlooker at a bridge game, not being satisfied with the run of the pasteboards, tore up the deck and then snowed himself under in the confines of his barrack domicile. We vouldn't mention any names because Breezy Story Mac has a pet aversion to publicity. How about that Nothing unusual happened outside of aforementioned occurrences, except that Hobbs, intent on seeing the 29th doughboy baseball team drub the Vagabonds, watched the game too close; in the fourth inning when the infantrymen had one man on base and a bright outlook for a run, a foul ball careened off the batter's willow and struck the above named individual in the iris and noses and everyplace else. No luck tho', it didn't knock him out. Ha!

Several men in the Company have completed the life savings tests being conducted at Russ pool under the auspices of the American Red Cross, among the list are: Ellis Haik, Julius E. Prince, Bankston and several new members of the outfit.

If the kind readers of this column will excuse the scribe, he will take time out to see what all the noise is just outside of the barracks. Here I am back again, it wasn't anything but the top-kick in his high powered Phoard. Those of you who are not acquainted with the Ford-the following decriptin opisuo."ee cmfwy followng description is published: A two-seated, red coated, four cylinder vehicle, that coughs and wheezes like a giraffe with catarrh and makes more noise than two skeletons dancing on in question and discussion is the revielle. When the top ambles up in the crippled "Cah" it is a signal for all of the men, who have been catching that extra wink or two after first call to crawl out and prepare to dres and may the Lord help the hapless individual who happens not to hear it. Amen.

Do you think that we have expanded enough for this week? Honestly speaking-we have written too and the post record was 1:24. much. Well, we'll be seein' ya.,

Hi-de-ho. N. H. H.

COMPANY "H"

Jack Avery, one of our promising ball players, has transferred to the Air Corps, Maxwell Field, Alabama. We wish him lots of luck in his new

D. R. Meetze, who was discharged the 5th per the ETS route, took right on off. Guess he figures he can do better on the outside.

Sergeant Ryles, Corporal Barnett, and Pfc. Smith are back from CCC a shadow. Don't take it so hard, it'll duty now and they look like they are glad to get into harness again.

> We are hearing many favorable reports in re the Revelers dance that was given on Wednesday last. That's the 2nd Batt spirit all right, we do everything we go out for in a thoroughly convincing way.

Ernest Stephens.

HEADQUARTERS CO.

Everybody is getting ready for the hike next week. It will be about 14 miles per day. The first camp site, is McBride's Ford, near 29th Infantry Recreation Camp, second camp, at Eelbeck, third camp at Logging Camp, fourth camp at Louvale Road at S. E. corner of reservation, fifth camp, Logging Camp and sixth camp, back to Fort Benning.

Tank Notes

CO. "F" (Medium Tanks) Rumors around are that Captain Bigby is due back soon; we know that the loss of the 3 C's is our gain.

Lieutenant Rosebaum will be missed s company commander but we're glad that he will still be with us.

Some members of this company still on duty with the C. C. C.'s were visitors at the company recently.

"You can take a boy out of the country" but it took Uncle Sam to go one better, "he put them in the woods."

Members of this company thank the Savage Club of the 1st Bn., and the Revelers Club of the 2nd Bn., 29th Infantry for all the favors extended them at their dances

It seems as our nickname "Irishers' will soon be changed as we've lost such "Irishmen" as Prusinosky, Progansky, Lashicici, Rudzinski, Ulanos ki, (you try to pronounce them).

We have heard of Tin Lizzies and many other cars, but it took Sergeant Nobles to drive a Cackle Hackle H

Monday evening Headquarters Company enjoyed a chicken supper put out by John Falk, mess sergeant. This supper was in honor of the base ball team and for the great showing they made this year. Sergeant LaBonte and Private, first class, Hebert are playing on the all-star 29th Infantry Team against the all star post team in their seven game series for the championship of the post.

Our Radio Section has plans to have the World Series Baseball Games broadcasted while on the hike next

The company representatives on the Regimental Football Squad are making a fine showing and hope to be in some hot scrimmages soon.

They are Holloway, Chick Davis and Chick Williams, Bozeman, Ser geant Hayes our All-State football player from Ohio will be out for practice next week. He has been in the Post Baseball League which has just closed.

Our First Sergeant Houghtby is a tin roof. It happens that the motor back again and we are all glad to see him. He made a trip to the World's regulator of the Company's arousal at Fair at Chicago and had a fine trip

> Private Bozeman's name has been put on the Honor Roll 29th Infantry, and has been given an honor roll star. This star is a gold star to be worn on the right sleeve of the coat at all times.

Bozeman also holds the post record in the breast stroke made this year. He made the time in 1:20 1-2 and park it back of the mess hall. We have found the reason Jimmie

I. M. Y.

Friday, September 29, 1933

to the company. We ave found the reason "Jimmie" Ellison has been practicing all the latest dance steps. He is going to try to keep his crown as Fort Benning's best.

The company gossip says—You hould see He-Man Hall hunting more blankets during the last cool nights-Hear Dear Dave Shirkes, he can get more strange noise out of a bugle than any other man in the Army-Joe Sarchack was asking Pop Eye Toler for a Cut on his pool bill-Cicero Walls seems to forget there's such a place as Columbus.

CO. "E" TANKS

With our football team working out daily, and building roads between the acts, our boys should be in good condition to play their first game on October 11th. This year will see "Iron Man" Swantic back at the helm of the team and nothing short of a championship will be our goal. Headquarters Company looks like they are (Please turn to page 9)

Glean Up Sale New Models Coming. All Use Cars Reduced

1931	Ford Sport	1	32	0	5
	Roadster	4		フ	J
1931	Chevrolet	1	32	0	5
	Coach	9)_	フ	J
1929	Ford	1	31	5	N
	Roadster	থ)1	J	U.
1928	Buick	1	31	O	5
	Sedan	•)1	. 7	J
1927	Packard		3	Q	5
	Sedan	٩	י	U	J
1929	Dodge		31	6	5
	Victoria	•)l	v	J
1928	Hudson			7	5
	Coach	•	D.	1	J
1931	Oldsmobile De Luxe		2/	4	5
	Sedan	٩	בע	i, Ti	,
1930	Graham Sport		32	O	5
1	Roadster	•	PΖ	ブ	J
1930	Ford	(29	1	5
-	Coach	•	VΖ	1	J

Many now are way under present market prices. Convenient monthly payments.

Columbus Roberts Motor Company

Phone 271-2 510-14 Twelfth St.

CONVENIENT LOCATION—MODERN EQUIPMENT RATES REASONABLE

Phone your agent or call our Superintendent, Mr. Trussell, Phone 3062

DIMON COURT APARTMENTS

FURNITURE

Headquarters for Furniture and all kinds of household furnishings, complete line of Sellers' Kitchen and Breakfast-room furniture and Simmons beds, mattresses, springs. At lowest prices and easiest terms.

It will pay you to see us before you buy.

CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO

SUCCESSORS TO JOHNSTON-CUNNINGHAM FURNITURE CO.

1014 Broadway

Phone 460

WE BUY

Old GOLD Jewelry AND

DENTAL SCRAPS

UNDER U. S. LICENSE No. 628

C. SCHOMBURG & SON

IEWELERS

1121 BROADWAY

COLUMBUS, GA.

CHATTAHOOCHEE VALLEY EX-POSITION TO OPEN SOON

The rapid forward strides of farming in the Chattahoochee Valley, check in. The search for them prombrought about by the employment of diversified methods and improved implements, will be demonstrated by the thousands of agricultural exhibits that will make up the 17th annual Chattahoochee Valley Exposition to be held here October 9-14.

In order that they may collect a representative display of agricultural ly lighthouse had a chance to die out. products from the Chattahoochee Valley, fair officials will distribute approximately $8,000 in cash prizes in the various departments. Practically all of the prize money will go to farmers and their families.

It is assured, Felix L. Jenkins, Secretary-Manager, states that the 1933 Exposition will have the largest agricultural exhibit that has ever been shown at a local Fair. Sixteen communities, several more than ever before, will arrange booths showing products of their farms in an effort to win handsome cash prizes that are offered. The exhibits annually are the feature attraction of the fair and create a keen competition among the citizens of the sections represented.

Other departments of particular interest to farmers also will show an increased entry list. The cattle, swine, agricultural, horticultural, poultry, rabbit, and Boys and Girls Club Work Departments will be filled to overflowing, it is indicated.

Not only will the Exposition feature farm products, but improved farming methods will be shown. A great many of the latest farm implements will be on exhibit during the week, and the use of them will be demonstrated to interested persons.

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital 1006 13th Street

Office Phone 1313

CAPITAL & SURPLUS

RESOURCES OVER____

BENNING DAY-BY DAY (Continued from page 4)

pair and the Marine Gally-Frank Gillespie, combination had failed to sed to be a difficult one until Mapper George, in an inspirational moment, lifted his lantern high overhead. The marines, mistaking this Statue-of-Liberty pose for a lighthouse, tugged at their bits and pulled for the shore like moths to a candle, checking in at a gallop before the rays of the friend-

The morning after brought with it, in addition to many tender memories, the oft-repeated assertion by each eligible explorer that at no time during the ride was he lost in the slightest degree. Despite the fact that each member of each lost pair traced an entirely different course on the map to redeem himself as to just where he had gone it was impossible to swerve them from their convictions.

The past few weeks of conferences have been interspersed occasionally

TANKERS (Continued from page 9)

going to be our biggest trouble but we took care of them last year and and it is our belief that we can do the same thing again this year. We have several new men on our team who we believe can take care of the places left open by several of our boys who left us by the way of ETS. Our schedule will run over a period of one month beginning October 11th. Football fans of the Post who wish to see these games are welcome to

It seems that we are about to have a war between the "little half" of our supply room force and the "big half" of the first platoon. To be frank with you boys we think it about time for you to pull down your flags and sign a peace treaty. War clouds make us nervous. And, too, two bits for flowers at this time—well, you know what kind of a shape we are in. What do

Accounts of Fort

Benning Personnel

Solicited.

"The White Bank"

by sincere requests to join this and that and to subscribe for something else. All of these requests we submit to willingly and cheerfully as the merits of each are explained for our benefit. We are glad to donate a few of our few remaining dollars for a our slim pocketbooks for something worth while still leaves us in a jovial mood. This is simply by way of leading up to the only sensitive point in the student's armor. We refer to the encroaching upon the sacred tenminute break between barrages, with the hope and prayer that these few precious minutes will be respected by instructors and left to us in toto in order to catch up occasionally with Sergeant Morgan in the one-sided game of "Clean Your Boxes" and for other purposes.

Tall, gray-haired, imposing Colonel John Jenkins, master of tactics and one of the first string of the First Section's All-American brain-trust, presented a logical discourse on defensive combat Wednesday morning. Not knowing just what to expect next from the tacticians after Bill Hones set us back on our haunches last week when he dispersed the enemy with much laughter we are at a loss to understand whether the baby woodpecker that flew merrily back and forth during the colonel's talk was a plant or an omen. We have been informed that the colonel spent the past summer on C. C. C. duty and suspect strongly that this gay little bird returned with him to work on wooden students as a field more fertile for his natural tendencies than was presented by reforestation.

The aforesaid colonel startled the class with the announcement that the results of defensive combat are negative in war, love, or any other form of strife. Until that surprising remark was made we had venerated the becoming gray in his hair as a youth naturally should his elders thinking it went with his years. And though we have been told that he did not return gray from the late war we are still oathe to credit or blame the still loath to credit or blame the charming Mrs. Jenkins as the inspiration for such a startling conviction.

We have become morbidly curious by the oft-reneated announcement by the combined forces of the school not to try to remember what the bottom of page seventeen of a certain book says. If someone doesn't tell us soon what book is referred to, we must necessarily conclude that they have been passing to each other some gem of literature that we know we shouldn't read but concerning which we have an uncontrollable urge to peruse in the privacy of our boudoirs. Otherwise we can not be expected to remember what to forget.

We are becoming more and more confused as to whether BM 418 means BM 26 or whether BM 26 means BM 418. We have been assured on four separate occasions that it is BM 418 but so far the score stands as follows: 4 instructors for BM 418 and 3 instructors for BM 26. But inasmuch as the newly-painted sign at the point in question says BM 26 we are still of an open mind, awaiting that coordination from the faculty that the intructors assure us is so necessary or the part of the students.

While wrestling the other day for the first time with the Fire Control map, a map so large as to necessitate oversized desks to lay it all flat, Communicator Brislawn apologized for its size and explained to us that the school now had a smaller one, better suited for the purpose, known as Special Map No. 11. Inasmuch as our desks all contained an unlimited supple of the No. 11 maps which we had been using since school started and inasmuch as none of us knew until this particular class that such a large map, as the Fire Control, existed, which fact caused great commotion among students until Box-Jammer Morgan quieted us all by producing them, we are still trying to determine whether or not a joke was being perpetrated at our expense or something.

wrote furiously in one of his TEpads and then turned in a blank one while suffering from the fog, of war . . . The same student comparing himself to the inevitable recruit who fires on the wrong target, pleading for a worthy purpose. Encroaching upon chance to shoot over again. . . . Jimmy Simpson dashing up with his TE-pad, crying out, "Hey, Major, you haven't got mine yet!" . . . Learning for the first time that combat engineers do engineer but do not combat. . . And learning, too, that seventy-three degrees on the map does not necessarily mean the same thing on the ground. . . Student wives losing that haggard moving look as the usual accumulation of army junk finds its way into nooks, corners, garrets and cellars. . The considerate Horse Tribe of Thomas, Halloran Monroe and Matthews prochafed fundaments slowly unchafe....

Flits of thought: The student who | berry, ex-29th. . . Collins and Colson sightseeing on the sightseeing Road during the late night ride without seeing any sights intended in the problem. . . . Similarly with the Hughes-Higgins team. . . . Gaylord Phipps riding ahead of our pair in the darkness and acquainting us with the tree-limbs that must be ducked, to our intense gratitude but to his own facial disfiguration. . . . An infantry commander is a man who is harassed on one side by the enemy and on the other by a large body of officers giving conflicting advice. . . . Artilleryman Arnold's concentrated fifty-minute barrage of statistics and organizational data from which we are still recuperating. . Anti-Tank Wadsworth's graceful re covery from an Eddie Cantoresque nose dive. . . . Signaleer Brislawn demonstrating to potential monographers ducing slow but steady progress with how to ring one's own bell. . . The the Advanced Class, old and young, as same teacher's sleight-of-hand tricks in producing hitherto unseen lines on a New recruits welcomed to the fold in map by snapping his fingers. . . . The the persons of Mangum, Vanture and philosophical discourses by Scandi-Barney of the Field Artillery, Lana-han of the Signal Corps and Gran-quility and personal hygiene.

PEKOR JEWELRY CO.

1221 BROADWAY

DIAMONDS

WATCHES

JEWELRY

Beautiful Furniture

we have just what is required for filling in the bare spots. Come in and look over our WROUGHT IRON

Beautiful Pottery

WITH PARCHMENT SHADES

1141 BROADWAY

PHONE 409

For players

And

for spectators

WE OFFER EVERY BANKING SERVICE

THE FIRST NATIONAL BANK

THE HOME SAVINGS BANK

Fort Benning Representative-MR. R. M. HALL, Jr.

Toasted Peanuts

When you are sitting on the benches at one of the "big games" always think of Tom's Toasted Peanuts. They're the best for every taste-and they're the best for every person.

help you—its wide variety and fresh stock will be the solution of many of your culinary problems.

16 and 17

Grocery EXCHANGE

FORT BENNING, GA. The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service

29TH STARTS TRAINING (Continued From Page 1)

ing of October 2nd.

Three battalions of the 29th will participate in the hike. The 1st Battalion commanded by Lieutenant Colonel Rowan P. Lemly, the 2nd by Lieutenant Colonel Elmer F. Rice and the Headquarters Battalion led by Major Frank V. Schneider.

Company A of the 7th Engneers will accompany the Headquarters battalion on the march and a detachment of medicos will be with the regiment to take care of any emergency that may arise. An enlisted veterinary section will be among the other detachments to accompany the 29th Infantry.

For the past few days, the 1st Battalion as a whole has been engaged always jammed full of "Welcome to in practice marches preparatory to Columbus" ads. Now we're lucky if the regimental march while Compan- we find a "box rent due" notice. Well, ies of the Second Battalion have been the first of the month will soon be going out individually getting in shape for the trek.

During the course of a training year, a number of men have been added to the regiment's rolls. These have to be trained in the modes and methods of hiking, the conservation of water while on the march and several phases of soldiering in the field with which they can only become experienced by emulating the old heads and veterans of the demontration outfit.

Headquarters Company, 2nd Battalion will try out several new radio sets during the march and H Company will test a new type gas field range designed by the Department of Experiment at the Infantry School.

REFLECTIONS OF A STUDENT (Continued from page 4)

here, and will the snow fly then! At the rate this writer has affixed his signature to chits of one sort or another, it will take three mail bags to deliver the bills, with five check books and twenty years in Atlanta to pay them.

The citation for the week's best class goes to the communicaton section. Under the able direction of Captain Brislawn, (quick change artist), a most enjoyable demonstration was put on Monday afternoon. This showed a regiment in attack, and was complete even down to the camp followers.

Outside of the professional side, we which events were timed, so that no were struck with the precision with sooner had the instructor spoken of an event, than sure enough it happened—a messenger galloped over the hill, or a colonel approached. This was carried down even unto the chicken hawks, which sprang up out of nowhere as soon as the carrier pigeons were released. The plane did only fairly well, however. On one occasion Lt. Raymond had to improvise his patter for five minutes while waiting for it to arrive; and then on both dropped messages the observer missed the sprightly Lieutenant by at least ten feet.

Late news flash! In secret conclave held, a morale committee has been appointed; Lts. Wells, Clinton, Kunzig and Easterbrook, with the company CO, Hulley, as member EX OF-FICIO. After explaining to the boys the meaning of EX OFFICIO, Hullev outlined the duties of the above named officers. They are to increase the morale and prestige of the class, (at no extra cost), by dances, parties or what have you. Anyone having a free dance floor, music and corn meal, and especially "fixings", please com-

In closing for the day, take this hint to the kiddies.—When studying (?) overtime, try chewing on some of the local sugar cane, stripped of its husk. It's quite the stuff!

Wonder how Catherine Lemly's sunburn got along. The last we saw of her, she was pretty well covered by a nice pink coat, having lain face downwards a couple of hours or so at Russ Pool. Her bathing suit was as ultra as ultra, and showed considerable portions of fair (flaming) skin. It's a good thing, though, that the suit covered what it did, or our Catherine would be eating off the mantel for a week.

BOY SCOUT'S MEETING

(Continued From Page 1) Lieutenant Colonel Charles H. Bonesteel is the head, will be composed of officers prominent in boys' activities, and has not been completely announced as yet. The Court will meet on the second Saturday in each month to award merit badges to the Scouts and conduct examinations for admission into higher ranks of Scoutdom. Examiners have been selected to conduct tests for over fifty merit badges, and a large number of officers of the post have volunteered their services for this work.

The Scouts will hold weekly meetings throughout the year, Troop 11 meeting on Thursday afternoons at 4:00 o'clock, and Troop 12 on Friday afternoons at the same hour.

The Fort Benning Cub Pack, which is to be composed of four dens this year, has been organized under the direction of Major Dan D. Cota, and will begin its activities by participation in the Scout-Cub joint swimming meet Saturday morning.

The Cubs, composed of post boys of the ages of nine, ten, and eleven years, will have about forty members, or ten to each den. Den No. 1 is planned to be composed of Cubs from Block 14; Den No. 2 of those from Blocks 15 and 16; Den No. 3 those from Rainbow Row; and Den No. 4 those living in Block 12. The division of the pack into Dens is for the purpose of forming a small compact unit, that will give each member a share in the work and activities. Counsellors for the four dens include Lieutenant Kameil Maertens, Den No. 1; Captain Oliver E. G. Trechter, Den No. 2; Captain Arthur H. Luse, Den No. 3, and one throughout the year. as yet unnamed Counsellor for Den of athletics similar to the Scouts, consisting of football, basketball, track, swimming, hikes and picnics Cubs into the higher ranks.

The Cub Pack has three standards of proficiency, namely, the Wolf, The Cubs have planned a program Bear, and Lion Cub, in order of accession. Examinations are to be conducted throughout the year to pass

Lightning Quick on the Start wise auto-owner, you'll get yours while we Lightning quick on the start, Corona gives still have a supply. We expect a sell-out ou real motoring satisfaction. A quality battery with 13 full size plates. If you're a

1008 Broadway

Phone 3760

IN TUNE WITH OUR TIMES - - -FLOWERS AND PLANTS -- FOR ALL OCCASIONS --

TELEGRAPHED OR DELIVERED LOCALLY

BENNING BLVD. NURSERIES

BENNING ROAD

ATTEND CHATTAHOOCHEE VALLEY EXPOSITION

COLUMBUS, GA. October 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14

6 BIG DAYS — 6 BIG NIGHTS

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBITS ROYAL AMERICAN SHOWS

New Shows! New Rides! New Attractions! Fireworks Thrilling Free Acts Music

> SEASON TICKETS (10 Admissions) $2.50 On Sale At

H. C. SMITH DRUG STORE — ELIE DRUG CO.

Shoe & Hat Shop

POST EXCHANGE PHONE 554

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Any Person Not In The Military Service.

DENNING

VOLUME III

FORT BENNING, GA., OCTOBER 6, 1933

Benning Building Program Announced

Conducted by "Pinch Hitter"

"Better be damned than mentioned not at all." -John Wolcot.

At the time of going to press, the genial E. F. R., conductor of The Flare, is absent from the Post with the 29th Infantry, engaged in their annual marching in the rain. Before his departure, he wished upon us the thankless job of firing this week's Flare. By way of assistance he left us a little, very little, material. He did not teach us, however, his knack of alliterative humor. We are just one of these army officers trying to get along and we ask you to bear with us and to overlook deficiencies in this column until next week when it will be back in its usual capable hands.

SLIGHTLY TARDY

One of our better known polohimself, one evening last week, in a position requiring explanation. It date with one of Benning's popular somewhat in the afternoon by exercatch forty winks after dinner and set his alarm clock for seven forty-five. The alarm failed to work and he was ing naturally, that it was nine-twenty. ed his date, insisting that the operaa sleepy voice informed him that it was entirely too late to consider keeping the date. Reflecting that the young lady and other members of her household certainly believed in the "early to bed" adage, he returned to his room and happened to glance at his Orryl S. Robles, another daughter and watch-which read quarter of two in the A. M. The explanation seems to be that the face of his alarm clock was cracked and the hands stuck at nine-twenty.

LIMPING LEMLY LECTURES

Lieutenant Colonel Lemly, comf marching men. Recently he was not affected by the fact that immediately after his discourse on feet. he went home and dislocated one of his own toes.

DON'T YOU LOVE-ETT?

Speaking of dislocations, we have another injury item. Daily Bulletin meal, was offended at the sight of a crumb on the otherwise spotless table cloth. The offending crumb was flicked out of sight. The flick was successfully accomplished albeit acmiddle finger.

(Please turn to page 5)

Commander Of 3rd Corps Area Visitor At Fort Benning

With the guns of the salute being fired in his honor booming in the air, Major General Paul B. Malone, former assistant commandant at Fort Benning who is visiting at the post, inspected the escort company from the 24th Infantry that had turned out to do him honor, and made a short talk to the assembled military personnel.

Accompanied by Brigadier General George H. Estes, commandant at the post, General Malone started his inspection of the Company with the first report of the thirteen gun salute. Under the command of Capt. Llewllyn D. W. Tharp, 24th Infantry and officered by Lieutenants Lawrence A. Deitz and David X. Angluin, the es cort company, composed of picked troops from the colored regiment, presented arms as they rendered a salute to the visiting general.

At the conclusion of the inspection General Malone complimented the officers and men on the splendid appearance of the escort, and made mention of the fact that he had had previous acquaintance with the men of playing, curly-haired bachelors found the regiment, both when he was formerly stationed at the Infantry School and at the battles of Santiago and seems that he had an eight-fifteen San Juan Hill during the Spanish American war. He praised the work debutantes. Having fatigued himself of the regiment both in peace and war very highly and spoke of the advancecising polo ponies, he decided to ment that they had made in the past

Entering Headquarters building at the conclusion of the honors rendered much chagrined to note, upon awak- him, General Malone, met the members of the Headquarter's staff, and He rushed to the telephone and call- commented on how widely and favorably the Infantry School and the work tor ring until answered. Eventually carried on here and was known throughout military circles of the United States and foreign countries.

The general and Mrs. Malone, with their daughter, Miss Gertrude Malone, arrived at the post late Saturday evening for a visit of one month with Mrs. wife of Captain Robles, 24th Infantry. While at the post the General and family will stay at the Robles quarters, 300 Austin Loop.

Distinguished Career

As a staff officer in Wickoff's Brigade, Kent's Division, at the battle of Santiago, Cuba, General Malone, then manding the First Battalion, 29th a new graduate from the United States Foot, has a hobby. It is care of the Military Academy at West Point, saw his first major engagement chemistry. He served again in Cuba ets, formed in line of battle as if as provost marshal and Judge Advocate of the Army of Cuban Pacification until 1908, when he attended the Army school of the Line and finished as an honor graduate the following year. More military education at the Army Publisher Lovett, during a recent Staff College followed, and he became a member of the War Department General Staff in 1911.

His World War Service includes the duties of assistant chief of staff at General John J. Pershing's Headquarcompanied by the dislocation of his ters in France till early in 1918, when reconnictering the route of march for he assumed command at the 23rd In- the night maneuver and arranging for

(Please turn to page 2)

General Malone

Brig. Gen. Estes Commends Troops

The 29th Infantry, in the midst of its annual practice march, is in receipt of a letter of commendation from Brigadier General George H. Estes, post commandant, for the excellent showing made by the regiment as a whole and the escort company which served as a guard of honor when he visited the bivouac camp of the regiment Wednesday, October 4, in par-

In his letter to Colonel Persons, regimental commander, General Estes says in part:

'You have been in the field two days. All material and equipment was in excellent condition, and all personnel presented an extremely neat and soldierly appearance."

The regiment marched to a new camp site on the Louvale Road about four miles south of Cusseta Thursday morning, making the hike in very good condition. The order of march was 1st Battalion, 2d Battalion and Headquarters Battalion, the same in which they left the post last Monday morning. The troops, especially the recruits, who are making their first hike, and showing better condition

Friday morning, in the wee small hours of the dawn, the res in actual combat, and marched major general, through the hills and woods of the While at Fo Fort Benning reservation to the 24th Infantry Logging Camp on the Cusseta road with but one period of rest at 8:00 o'clock. The camp Friday night was the last that the regiment made before their return to the post proper and their barracks Saturday morn-

Battalion commanders and company officers spent all Thursday afternoon the disposition of troops.

General Croft To Many Improvements

Major General Edward L. Croft, chief of infantry, is expected to arrive at Fort Benning, Georgia, Monday from Washington, D. C., for a short visit at the post.

General Croft, who visited the Infantry School shortly after his ap pointment to the office of chief of infantry last spring, has been in active service with the Army for almost thirty-five years. Beginning as a second lieutenant of infantry in 1898 the various grades leading to his present high officer were but stepping stones on the way.

He served through the Puerto Rican strife, and the Philippine Insurrection, being wounded at Labangon, Barrio St. Nicholas, in 1901, for which he received a citation for courare in action.

He served as aide-de-camp to Major General R. P. Hughes; graduated from the Infantry-Cavalry School at Fort Leavenworth, Kan., and in 1905 returned to the Philippines with his old regiment, the 19th Infantry.

Periods of service at Fort McIntosh. Tex., the Philippines again, Fort Sheridan, Ill., recruiting duty in Boston, line duty with the 26th Infantry, San Benito, Tex., and a detail as inspector-instructor of the Texas National Guard followed, until he was sent with the 26th to France as a major. He was returned to the States as a lieutenant colonel and sent to Camp Devens, Mass. in charge of the 76th Division training schools; to Camp MacArthur, Texas, as colonel, and to Camp Sherman, Ohio, as commander of the 380th Infantry. From there he was detailed to Camp Custer, Mich., and Camp Meade, Md., as executive officer.

In 1921 he was graduated from the General Staff School at Fort Leavenworth, and became an instructor in the general service schools. Later he attended the Army War College, Wash- three grades, and 4420 enlisted men. ington, D. C., and on graduation became commandant of Fort Hamilton, used most of the drill period assigned ed as a line and staff officer in the camp for a problem in tactics that 1929 he was detailed on duty with to his battalion lecturing on all phas pacification of the Philippine Islands took them across country through the general staff as chief of the es of his favorite subject. We trust for two years, following which the mil- wooded terrain, and kept them on the training branch, and remained there that the thought left with his men itary academy claimed his services as move until 11:30 a. m. At 2:15 the until his detail to Fort Knox, Ky., in an instructor in the department of troops were rolled from their blank. 1932. A year later he was appointed chief of infantry with the rank of

While at Fort Benning General Croft will take occasion to inform himself in full detail of the plans and work being done on the construction projects recently authorized at the post, a matter in which he has a great amount of interest, and which has received much of his attention since his appointment as head of the General Croft is to be the guest of General George H. Estes, post commandant, and Mrs. Estes, during his ed at the annual convention of the stay at Benning.

Be At Ft. Benning Expected Under On Inspection Tour Appropriated Fund

Nearly every branch of the Army represented at Fort Benning will benefit from the recently allotted $6,352,-492 which will be used in poviding new quarters, in improving existing buildings and in building necessary structures of various sorts. The money, which will be spent in providing work under the plan of the Public Works Contruction program will be used according to a plan outlined by the war department in Washington recently.

Listed in the new construction planned for the post will be new barracks, officers' quarters, telephone construction, heating plant, tank school, hangar, gas storage system, improvement of landing field, and building area, paved aprons (runway for flying field), ordnance shops, radio transmitter building, tank shops and sheds. incinerator, veterinary hospital, non-commissioned officers' quarters, completion of officers' mess, guardhouse, academic building, print shop, stables, quartermaster's warehouses, gun sheds, fire hose, new bridge over Upatoi creek, and chapel. Several of the buildings provided for under the new appropiration have become very necessary: the gun sheds, the radio transmitter building, the academic buildings, the quartermaster warehouses, and the print shop, for example, are of war-time vintage and are almost hopelessly inadequate for the present needs of the

Likewise, the reconditioning work will include roads, rifle range facilities, railroads, water and sewer system, electrical system and miscellaneous repairs for buildings. The work to be done on the water and sewage system is, like that noted before, necessary.

The work on these projects will be begun as soon as possible; the necessary details such as approval of plans and placing of contracts are as yet uncompleted. The construction is planned as an unemployment relief measure, and, for that reason will be pushed as fast as it can.

The sum will complete the six year building program for Fort Benning and will adapt it to a permanent garrison strength of 532 officers, 139 Non-commissioned officers of the first This, of course, does not include the student officers. The buildings will be patterned after the general plan already adopted in building those now at the post, one which combines efficiency with comfort and appearance to the greatest degree.

Ten Years Ago Last Week

Lieutenant L. V. Jones, 24th Infantry, won the National Individual Rifle Match at Camp Perry, N. J., in competition with the outstanding marksmen of the country.

The 24th Infantry Band returned from Chattanooga, where it had play-(Please turn to page 3)

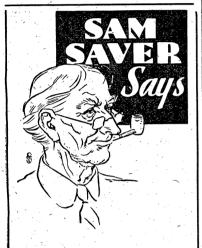

Dramatic Club Announces Opening Fort Benning group for the coming Occupation until March 1919, when he Performance Of Season: 'Let Us Be Gay

The Fort Benning Dramatic Club will open its season on October 27 and 28 with a charming drawing room comedy "Let Us Be Gay" by Rachel Crothers. "Let Us Be Gay" is a three-act play with prologue, the prologue taking place in the home of the heroine while the scene of the three acts is a house party at the country place of Mrs. Bouccicault somewhere near Westchester.

Almost the entire cast will be new to Fort Benning and Columbus theatregoers save Mrs. Reeder, who has been closely associated with the Fort Benning Dramatic Club for several years and has justly earned her reputation as an able trouper. Other year's audiences will remembers her as the delightfully comic in Cradle Snatch-

The lead, Kitty Brown, will be taken by Miss Katherine Lemly; Bob Brown, Kitty's divorced husband will

"One of the best ways in the world to economize is to do all your buying at one store. By doing that, you can always expect a uniformity in the product and can save yourself a great deal of unnecessary walking." Another reason for your shopping at-

SILVER'S

COR. BROADWAY & 11TH ST.

be played by Lt. E. G. Wheeler; Mrs. Bouccicault, Kitty's aunt, Mrs. Reeder; Diedre Lessing, Mrs. E. G. Wheeler; Bruce Keene, fiance of Diedre Lessing, Lt. Russell; Madge Livingston, Mrs. Clayton Studebaker; Wallace Grainger Lt. Joseph Cleland: Townley Towne, Lt. Rowan; Whitman, the major domo, Maj. Howard; Perkins, the maid, Margaret Moore; Mrs. J. R. Pierce and Miss Harriett Aiken will be in charge of costumes and props while Captain Virgil Bell will arrange the set.

The plot centers around the meeting while on Mrs. Bouccicoulet's house party for Kittie and Bob after three years, spent in Paris by Kitty as a gay divorcee.

Kitty's charm intrigues all of the men on the party to the chargrin of the feminine guests. Kitty is accused by Diedre of stealing Bob, with whom Diedre is infatuated in spite of her engagement to Bruce. After an amusingly hectic week end the play ends to the satisfaction of all concerned with the reconciliation of Bob and Kitty.

"Let us Be Gay" is being ably directed by Katherine Brady, her part in one of last winter's performances will be remembered as outstanding.

HOUSE GUESTS SHARE HONORS Mrs. Mildred Briggs of San Jose, the house guest of Miss Esther Kelly shared honors with Miss Nell Chaffin, house guest of her uncle and aunt

Lt. Col. and Mrs. Chaffin when Mrs. Lyman entertained them Wednesday at a delightful informal tea at her quarters.

The guest list included a few friends of the honorees.

ARMY DAUGHTERS ARE GUESTS AT LUNCHEON

The Army Daughters of Fort Benning and Columbus were guests of Mrs. John Huling, Jr., and Mrs. A. V. Arnold at luncheon at the Officer's Club September 28th. Forty-three Army Daughters were present and four army mothers who are visiting Benning at the present time. Mrs. Huling, President of the Fort Benning Chapter, welcomed the new members and those who had just come from other posts; Mrs. Ferenbaugh, the secretary, read a letter telling of the progress of the Headquarters Chapter in Washington; and Mrs. Arnold, the vice-president, outlined the aims of the Society and the projects of the Division, as a member of the Army of

CARTON OFFICE WILL REFUND

POST LADIES BRIDGE CLUBS RESUME PLAY

Almost all of the organization's ladies' bridge clubs ceased activities in June due to the summer months and also on account of the number of ladies who left Fort Benning for the Summer resorts.

This first week in October sees the bridge clubs resuming play, among those starting are the Special Units which meets Tuesday, October 3, at 2:15 p. m. for the first meeting of the Mrs. Catron and Mrs. Pence will be the hostesses, and the meeting will be at the quarters of the former, 205 Miller Loop.

24th Infantry Bridge club: Meets at 8:00 o'clock Tuesday evening, October 3, at 24th Infantry Officers' Mess. All members and former members of the 24th Inf. club are cordially invited Please notify Mrs. Griswold, telephone 94, or Mrs. ietz, telephone 396, whether or not you will attend.

Medical: Will meet at the Nurses' quarters Tuesday, October 3, at 2:00 p. m. Those able to attend please call Mrs. Morse 650, Mrs. Leary 666, er Mrs. Kinberger 828.

LADIES' BRIDGE AND TEA CLUB, 29TH INFANTRY

The Ladies' Bridge and Tea Club of the 29th Infantry will hold its first meeting of the year at the home of Mrs. Persons, 106 Eames Avenue, on Tuesday, October 10th, at 4:00 p. m. There will be no bridge at this meeting. Plans for the coming year will be discussed.

All ladies of the regiment are automatically members of the Club, and a special invitation is extended to all those who have "joined" since the last meeting in the spring.

Mrs. Chaffin will be co-hostess with Mrs. Persons.

MRS. HOWELL AND MRS. CHAM-BERLAIN SHARE HONORS AT BRIDGE LUNCHEON

Mrs. G. P. Howell Sr., the house guest of her son and daughter-in-law Lt. and Mrs. Howell with Mrs. Chamberlain, house guest of her son-in-law and daughter, Capt. and Mrs. Ely shared honors Friday at a beautiful bridge luncheon given by Mrs. Chaffin at her attractive home. Mrs. Chaffin had as her guests Mesdames Howell, Chamberlain, Kelly, Rice, Baade, Wadsworth, Howard, Albright, Yancey, Wimberly, Ely, Hobson, Purce, Ives, Shearer, Morris, Ferenbaugh.

PERSONALS

Lt. and Mrs. McNamara have as their house guest Miss Emily Draper of New York City.

Capt. and Mrs. Ely have as their house guest the latter's daughter Mrs. Chamberlain.

Miss Mildred Briggs of San Jose, California is the house guest of Miss Esther Kelley.

GENERAL MALONE VISITOR AT FORT BENNING (Continued from page 1)

fantry of the 3rd Brigade, 2nd Divme Sector near Verdun, the Aisne offensive between Soissons and Rheims, for which latter action he was cited by the 10th French Army Corps, the Army of the North and Northeast, and the 2nd Division, and later was awarded the Distinguished Service Cross.

More action in the Pont-A-Mousson Sector, and command of the 10th Brigade in the St. Mihiel Offensive, the Meuse-Argonne and at the capture of the Bois-des-Rappes, preceded his promotion to the rank of brigadier general, (temporary) in 1918. Pausing only long enough to sign acceptance of the new rank, General Malone proceeded again into action and was busily engaged carrying the American line forward to the east of the Meuse on the day of the Armistice. He was with the 10th Brigade, 5th Brigade, 2nd Division, on July 1, and almost immeditately was ordered to duty at Fort Benning.

General Malone's decorations include the Croix De Guerre with two palms, officer of the Legion of Honor. Distinguished Service Cross, and a Silver Star Citation.

was assigned to command of the 3rd

While he was on duty at the post General Malone, was quite active in club work and social life in Columbus, and served as director of the Rotary Club here, and as vice-commander of the American Legion.

Along with his military activities, the General is noted as an author and public speaker, having written a number of books, of fiction, most of them pertaining to the Military Academy at West Point.

Drs. Miller & Davis Dog and Cat Hospital

> 1006 13th Street Office Phone 1313

KENNY'S VACUUM PACK NORWOOD COFFEE

is sold at Fort Benning

through the

Post Exchange

TRY A POUND

YOU WILL BE PLEASED

Mr. Cotton of the Columbus School of Music will begin a new class in violin during October. These lessons are conducted at the Protestant Chapel. For information call, City Phone 1360.

Columbus School of Music 7 - 15th St.

BLUE EAGLE:

Just as the Blue Eagle is the symbol of progress, so is the Star Brand emblem the symbol of economy and quality. Look for it—expect it—and you're sure of satisfaction. Star Brand shoes are sold in Columbus

SAM NEEL'S SHOE DEPARTMENT Westbrook Bldg.

NEW FOUNDATION GARMENTS

Two-way-stretch Girdles, Underthings, Negligees, Robes, Pajamas, Brassieres, Hose.

VISIT OUR BEAUTY PARLOR

Phone 2800

12 Twelfth St.

LADY JANE SHOPS

You know how annoying it is to have to visit several different stores in order to find what you want, don't you? Well-that's all unnecessary when you do your buying at the Post Exchange Grocery Department. We keep a large stock of every staple grocery item at all times, and special "in season" foods from all over the country.

Grocery Dept.

E X C H A N G FORT BENNING, GEORGIA

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

We Knew What Was Needed,

SO WE MADE THE SIX-BOX, THE MOST EFFI-CIENT HELP FOR HARASSED HOSTESSES EVER DEVISED!

The world was waiting for something that would solve the problem of what to serve at bridge parties, birthday parties or any kind of party. So we made the SIX-BOX and it has solved the problem! Easy to handle, economical-easy to keep, and

PLUS SMALL DEPOSIT

AT ALL COLUMBUS GROCERS

The Old Schoolhouse

Company class is growing apace. The other day, when the class met at 12.50 —by unanimous consent, of course we acquired a 'moale' committee, by appointment. Golf, tennis and tiddlywinks representatives and a President -also by appointment. The President is a really modern model. He hasn't a mustache, unfortunately, but then Mussolini gets along without one,

The lack of mustache is regrettable but we're going to call him Adolph, anyway. Though we might prevail on Lillums Verbeck to lend his to the

Now that the crying need for a morale committee has been at least stifled, the filling of the remaining offices is proceeding rapidly. The handsom est man is still undecided, due to the enthusiastic competition of the numerous claimants. It has been about decided to settle the disgraceful dispute with BARs at 600.

The man most apt to succeed-in 'finding' the most of the aspiring young company officers-seems to be Major Easley, at this writing.

And the most popular man is, of

ARMY NAVY

General Staff Badge

We are pleased to announce that we have completed dies and are now prepared to furnish this badge.

> MANUFACTURERS MILITARY AND NAVALINSIGNIA AND EQUIP MENT FOR OVER HALF A

N. S. MEYER, Inc. NEW YORK

At Your Post Exchange or Dealer

You can make your entertainments successful by attending to details yourself—such as ordering Foremost Ice Cream in preference to any other kind. It's pasteurized, it's pure and it's ultradelicious-and it will be the crowningly successful touch to any party!

> Ca'l The Soda Fount

FOREMOST DAIRIES. INCORPORATED

The list of accomplishments of the | course, Adolph, without a dissenting

There's one really clever idea which, after four weeks of this concentrated persecution, we had about decided to We thought that "nominating for oblivion" would be as pleasant a pastime as any we could imagine. But the list grows too long. So we think we'll shift gears and back up on it.

So-we submit to posterity: Lockett's right boot. Major Easley's hair-cut. Captain Kelly's funny stories. Guthrie and Crabb's night operations

Promotions among our class-mates: Commander Hulley is now a major (at the very least). And he doesn't have to leap and scramble for a bus seat with the lowly rank and file any more. And the fate of the careless plebeian who plants himself in that front seat of the 5th bus, reserved for the august breeches will be interesting.

bennie, the begbug i have been looking over the boss shoulder and i just saw crabb's name.

now i blush to confess that, although was born and raised in block 23, not all of my clients have always been masculine. i have gotten to the point where i am willing to overlook some such minor infractions of convention and what not-especially the latterbut never before have i had anyone under my supervision who had them visit him two at a time. i won't even mention yellow bathing suits. but that is probably guthrie's affair. i mean the bathing suit—not crabb's visitors. i know that some of these boys are friendly but not that friendly, i hope.

it is my personal opinion that the herald could do without most of these columns which the flare says are holding up the roof. but maybe we can have a good columnist's war and decimate the ranks. i hereby challenge the reflector, i can think of worse things to say about his collection of junk than he can about my intelligent observations. (but don't pick on the boss or i'll get fired.) i won't mention the lady who maintains that hers is nameless because i never insult a lady. whether she is or not.

but i wonder if she has ever considered this. if it has no name, what does that make it?

IT SHALL BE NAMELESS

When a poor columnist runs out of omething else to write he can most always find something to write about the ladies riding class to put in. Last Tuesday a certain lady, namely Mrs. Otto was enjoying the rest period always so needed by Mike Halloran's class. All was a pleasant hubbub of chatter when a lusty shriek was heard from Mrs. Otto. The class looked around just in time to see the lady jump high into the air, clear a log with more ease than any horse in the stables and go sprawling on the ground. When asked Mrs. Otto explained that the horse was going to kick her and she thought that she had better get out of the way before he could get to her. Well, more power to the lady if she can see the kick coming and get out of the way time. Try it some day when you feel like breaking into the hospital.

Long gone is the care free attitude of the student of this year's classes. The once happy go lucky laddies are going around with a most harried expression on their faces. The poor girls are complaining about getting so little attention when taken out these days. It seems that they will be telling the most amusing story that they know, only to be greeted by a daed silence or what's worse a very hollow and unamused laugh.

Well, well . . . and maybe a couple of more wells. All apropos of raying that for changes (no I did NOT say Change) there is nothing that beats the life of an Army officer. And how often have we heard long until Phyllis and Bill Moore anthat. Its almost as trite as that old nounced their engagement. We will one about the newspaper man or woman-'You do meet such interesting people.' But anyway, as I was saying, here after all of that 'blessed eventing' at the Post Theatre on that fateful day of the drawing of quarters, after poor Captain Hones, timid little flower that he is, was in a mass of blushes . . . well after all of that, be darned if everyone is not having to move after all . . . that is the dear students. And it does not make any dfference HOW many they have in their family, now or in the future. Such is life in the well known Army. But just think of next year's classes . . . with nice lovely new quarters. Our contemporary, good old Bennie had better be away from here then . . . no one of his tribe allow ed, even on bachelor status.

Dear me, its funny where you can run on to those little items that make column like this what it is. (Well, all right go ahead and say it). But one would hardly feel that the Post Exchange was the place for little doo dads such as we use. However, it gives one to think when one sees one of the younger set all interested in the in second place. price of chops, and comparing the relative merits of this cut and that the family shopping. And it was not action.

keep a watch, and maybe tip you off to another soon.

Many a sigh went heavenward Monday night as the good old twenty ninth true to tradition, bivouacked in the pouring rain. One girl said 'Just think of all those new lieutenants. You know they do not have any old uniforms to wear." However, your scribe was thinking other thoughts. Can you imagine certain of those dapper lads, trying to sleep in pup tents. No foolin, girls, Sherman was certainly right about war.

> TEN YEARS AGO. (Continued from page 1)

Spanish-American War Veterans.

The 29th Infantry held its track and field meet, and horse show, with "Hi" Davis, Jimmy Johnson, "Jawn" Mc-Caslin, and others of the regiment now regarded as old-timers standing forth as shining lights of the occasion.

Captain Edward C. Betts, 29th Infantry, won the officers' jumping contest, with Captain McClure finishing

The 24th Infantry started work with cut. Remember last year when Phyl the regimental football team, a squad Sargent started 'helping mother' with of about forty players reporting for

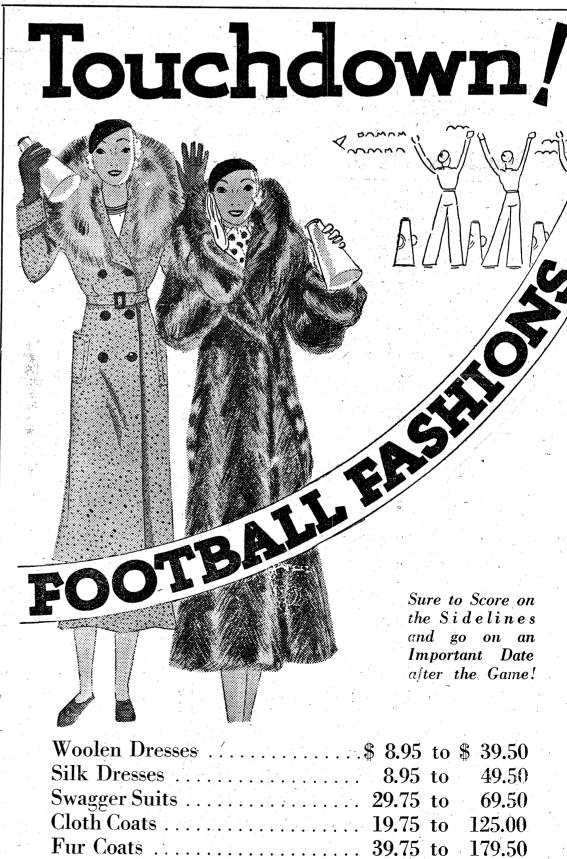

Just as good as it looks!

That's Kinnett's! And that's saying a lot for no other ice cream looks as delicious or as tempting as this does.

> Sold at the Officers' Club

KINNETT'S

ICE CREAM

THE BENNING HERALD

Published Every Friday

Columbus, Georgia

Phone 556 OCTOBER 6, 1933 NO. 24 VOLUME III

_____Publisher A. F. Kunze______Felicia C. Howell______ _Society Editor _Circulation Manager Louis T. Kunze____

Advertising rates will be quoted on request. The Benning Herald reserves the right to classify, edit, or reject any advertising matter.

The Benning Herald by mail to any address in the United States or its possessions, $1.50 per year. Single copy 5 cents.

Application for entry as second-class matter is pending.

PUBLISHER'S REPRESENTATIVE FROST, LANDIS & KOHN
CHICAGO, NEW YORK, ATLANTA, ST. LOUIS, DETROIT,
SAN FRANCISCO, LOS ANGELES, SEATTLE,
BALTIMORE

Here's To Your Health

BY MAJOR HOMER L. CONNER, Medical Inspector

THINGS THAT THE PARENTS SHOULD EXPECT FROM THE SCHOOL FOR HIS CHILD.

- A proper seat and desk.
- Good light.
- Good ventilation.
- 4. Room temperature between 68-70 degrees F.
- 5. Sanitary toilet facilities.
- All reasonable facilities for hand washing.
- 7. Supervised exercise and play and a suitable place for it.

THINGS THAT AUTHORITIES SHOULD EXPECT FROM PAR-ENTS OF SCHOOL CHILDREN

1. A child that has a clean body and clean clothes.

2. A child that has had a good night's rest.

- 3. A child that has had a reason able unhurried breakfast.
- 4. A child with no uncorrected eye defect if known.
- 5. A child that has been vaccinated against smallpox.
- 6. A child that has been protected against diphtheria.

CHILDREN WHO SHOULD BE OUT OF SCHOOL

- A child with a fresh cold.
- 2. A child with an upset stomach.
- 3. A child with a sore throat.
- 4. A child with a fever.
- 5. A child with a rash, or sores on

Reflections Of A Student

Have you a little machine gun in past week has been so delightful, and no home is complete without one? Aid recovery, help yourself, and clear those storeroom shelves! Combine instruction with pleasure, and while learning the rudiments of elementary gun drill on the parlor floor, invite the neighbors in for an evening of fun. There is little doubt but that your perhaps a friendly competition could be arranged between student families: say, let Mrs. Jones handle the tripod, Jones himself carry the gun, with little Oscar bringing up the water can. A very sweet picture indeed, and one which conjures up great possibilities for the younger generation along this line. It is our observation that the av erage run of the mill army brat needs but little encouragement from papa to develop into a first rate fledgling Capone. How exciting post life would become then! We wonder if the aca demic department thought of this great menace in urging the home use of these weapons, and also if it has figured out who pays for the parlor floor upon completion of this delight ful pastime?

We are thankful that we've moved from the shadeless Doughboy stadium to shady Gowdy field, (shady about that sex has been taken out of it, instruction in said drill during the noon hour (thereby so arousing our interest that food is forgotten). But we DO want to exercise our prerogainstruction of automatic rifle with that of machine gun. To us who rely on spec entirely, it's a tough job keepas before. Is it the "bolt handle" or question? Who knows, who can know, oh, who cares! Just the same, hats off to Sgt. McNulty who put on such a good exhibition in MG drill Friday. His time of 2 seconds in the phase "unload" was especially impres-

The five o'clock schedule still is holding its own. But after all, this your home, and if not, why not? Do time has flown so, that we really don't you realize that in this day and age mind it at all. Once we get snugly buried down behind a sand bag at the range, all care and worry depart. The sun peeps out from behind the clouds, and gnats sing sweetly in our ears. Happy indeed is the lot of the "prone with sand bag" shooter; but all good things must come to an end. Then the task of getting unhitched antics would be highly amusing, and from the rifle sling, of plucking off a multitude of sand burrs (which after all prefer your finger to your rompers' leg), and of finally counting up a score of 40 shots, half of which appear to have gotten tired and lain lown before reaching the target. In view of these facts, "Heimerdinger week" was declared in Block 21; ice cream and cake being served daily at this gentleman's suite.

And while we're on the subject of Block 21, here are some notes that come to mind. Was there, or was there not, a couple of soprano voices in that midnight rendition of Sweet Adeline three tracks en route, we were unan-Monday? Probably our mistake, as of course no LADIES ever visit in this formal dinner out towards Warm breeches and campaign hat? Guess he had something weighty on his mind-6:30 p. m.), for our machine gun drill; it must be that MG drill again. How ard Quinn tried the stunt of assemb-(one now says "disassemble" instead ling his MG in the dark last Friday the afternoon at least. In the event of "stripping" the gun); and that our night. But we understand that at 2 a few students are still able to funcwives are saved the trouble of putting a. m. no headway had been made, tion at the conclusion of the demongiven for the week's best class, so the week's worst session. It goes to tives, to gripe at the method of mixing the defense committee on their presentation of a battalion in a defensive position. Everyone was uncomfortable, from the able soldiers of the 29th, ing twice as many names catalogued who after digging in for three hours and roasting in the hot sun, received the "operating handle," that is the but a bored and cursory glance from the students, to the committee itself, which openly admitted to be torn by internal dissension. Even Major Mc-Nable, who was never observed to leave the comfortable seat of a cross country car, looked unhappy, perhaps because of a guilty conscience. However our sympathy goes out to the (Please turn to page 9)

BENNING DAY-BY-DAY

By MAJOR RAMBLE

FORT BENNING, Oct. 2-Benning preferred stock hit a new high Monday afternoon with a demonstration of signal communications that is still be ing talked about. From the organ ization of the communications platoon at the beginning of the afternoon to the airplane pickup which concluded it the boys were entranced with a number of surprises of one kind or another that kept them wondering just what should be expected next. The exasperatingly dumb S-3 and his much provoked communicator, Shorty Feren baugh, the harassed colonel portrayed by Lieutenant Cleland and the per fect timing from first to last made lasting impressions on Benning's schoolboys not soon to be forgotten. To Captain Brislawn and his cohorts goes our citation for the week.

On Tuesday afternoon the Advanced Classites assembled with high morale for a concerted attack on Gisement George's map-reading exam. What it was on that memorial day that there little apprehension may have existed in the minds of a few was quickly dispelled by George's soothing announcement that it was an easy exam capable of solution in two hours. Vis ions of an early start on nine holes of golf or an extra hour to catch up on our Saturday Evening Posts left us all at the start in a particularly amiable mood. Then the papers were passed out and the attack commenced. Three hours later a much harassed and badly shaken student body reluctantly turned in its papes and staggered out of Kriz Hall, mumbling and muttering to itself, walking on its heels and exhibiting all other necessary symptoms of being punch-drunk. As we returned to town with the remainder of our pool trying vainly to reassemble our incoherent thought all and sundry were explaining in great detail wherein they had erred but we at least were páying no attention inasmuch as we at the same time were much engrossed in explaining likewise.

The elder statesmen of the class are seriously contemplating the purchase of a brown derby to be awarded to the man who best qualifies himself by the prize boner of the week, said derby to be duly inscribed with the name of the culprit and set to rest for a period of seven days in a prominent position on said student's desk.

Thusday afternoon was spent in a concerted effort by the defense committee of the First Section to impress forcibly upon the multitude the length, width, depth and circumference of a sector to be defended by a battalion. For some time we have been curious to know just what was meant by a tactical exercise. After limping back from this one, making imously of the opinion that a tactical exercise is a forced cross-county wall quarter after dark. Mr. Dick Bristol up hill and down dale with just enis next. Have you heard about the ough tactics thrown in to divert our thoughts from leg-weariness. To ac Springs that he attended in drill complish this properly the legs of the student body are first worn to stumps, which produces a state of non compos mentis, which in turn silences student kibitzers for the duration of up lunches since Captain "Machine Gun" Kelly has offered to give extra sight. The spirit was there, though. We regret that no citation can be is designed to take care of them. Even a horse would have been welcome. we can do no less than give it for The school first breaks you in, then it breaks you down.

> The school gave a perfect example of the Principle of Cooperation the same afternoon. "Captain" Murphy, who has been dunned by the faculty at the rate of two questions per day since the beginning of school, disagreed with the site chosen by the school, for a certain trench, whereupon the entire defense committee unanimously assented that the position was a good one. Shortly thereafter Colonel Woolnough, the venerable head fense committee is a part, criticized

SATELLITE

Master Sergeant John C. Hickey Figures In This Week's Review of the Old-Timers of the Garrison—In 19th Year With Army

he town." Remember that old tune? On December 23, 1883, up in dear old New York, where the massive skyscrapers rear their stately heads into the turquoise blue of a typical northern sky; people were scurrying back and forth through the department stores, Macy's, Shepard's an I many others, while the blustering wind and icy sleet caught at their garments and whipped them around like sheets in a gale. Many prospective buyers were searching here and there for a suitable present for Mary, a drum for Johnnie, a bag of catnip for the pet kitten, for it was close to Christmas time and everyone were making last minute purchases.

This same spirit of happiness pre vailed in the Hickey household, for was born to Mrs. and Peter J. Hickey a son, John C. Hickey.

Peter Hickey was in business for himself and it was around his fathers' office that John worked as a youngster, helping his dad in many details and executing his duties so arduously and faithfully that it was prophesied that when he grew up he would either become a great statesman—or a soldier.

After his graduation from the Brooklyn Commercial High School in Brooklyn, N. Y., his ambitions grew and he enlisted for the 3rd Battery, Field Artillery in the year 1902. Again his knack for doing things right came to the fore and he was appointed a corporal shortly after he enlisted-and discharged with an excellent character rating in 1905.

He decided that there was no place like home and went back to work for his father. The civilian life was short lived when he joined the United States Military Academy at West Point, New York, and stayed there for a period of two years from 1905 to 1907.

At the end of his period of duty West Point he was appointed a 1st Lieutenant of Field Artillery of the New York National Guard but resigned from his commission when the United States entered in the World War to enlist in the Regular Army for the Signal Corps in November 1917. Shortly after he enlisted for the Signal Corps John C. Hickey sailed, with other troops on the Army transport "Huron" for the shores

While with the Signal Corps, which at the time was only a small detachment but were later expanded into larger units, he was with the intelligence department and engaged in work with goneometric stations; listening posts with the 1st Army. Later when the Corps were stationed at Suilly he went with that group.

It was there that he received a ci-which Colonel Jenkins, said commit-regulations, from its regimental comtee's head, quick-wittedly replied, "So do I." Verily the student hath not is not to get mad at G-3. Its transa chance!

A doughboys' description of an engineer combat regiment: An engineer regiment is not a regiment but a small motorcycles, bicycles and wheelbarbattalion but by being so-called it rows, omitting pushcarts and baby-cartalions whose headquaters are not headquarters. Its combat function is not to combat. The engineers normally march at the tail of the column, ready on short notice to strike quickly on the doughboys ahead with an unlimited supply of tools and advice, but part of the regiment may be attached to the advanced guard in which case a company is employed not because it is needed but because its truck is. It remains in the good graces of the division commander by providing him with electric lights to read his daily paper. It executes its original assignment by going through channels but makes corrections thereto by tactful of the First Section of which the del hints productive of auto-suggestion. Its morale is maintained by the band's the location of a second trench, to martial music and by visits, so say the "East side, west side, all around tation from General Edwin Russell, who was at the time Chief Signal officer of the A. E. F. Sergeant Hickey's modesty prevents the citation from being printed but we are sure that it was most enviable. During the time that he was a Sergeant first class of the Signal Corps. This rating of sergeant may be unknown to most of the readers so for their information it would be similiar to the rank of technical sergeant in present

After the Armistice was signed Sergeant Hickey returned to the states "Virginia" on August 4th, on the 1919 and was discharged in the same year with the rating of sergeant first class and character excellent on his discharge.

He re-enlisted for the 22nd Infanry shortly afterward and stayed with them in the capacity of Corporal, Sergeant, Battalion sergeant major and first sergeant for a period of eight years. Later when the 1st Battalion of the 22nd was disbanded he came to the Infantry School Detachment at Fort Benning, Georgia, and has been here ever since. All of Sergeant Hickey's discharges during the eight years with the 22nd Infantry bore the notation "Character excellent."

After his change of stations from Fort McPherson to Fort Bennnig, Ga., in September 1927 he was assigned to duty as an assistant in the personnel office at Post Headquarters.

For his excellent work in this capacity he was promoted to the grade of Master Sergeant a little over one vear from the time he was detailed on this task, on October 9, 1928, and has held that grade ever since. He has received several commendations from commanding officers of the Infantry School Detachment since he has been there and they all speak of the efficiency of Sergeant Hickey and their pleasure of having him in their office during their administration.

When the Civilian Conservation Corps was organized by the President for the relief of the depression, Sergeant Hickey was ordered as Sergeant Major to the reconditioning camp where over 10,000 C. C. C.'s passed during his administration.

After the last CCC Company had departed from Benning, he assumed the role of Sergeant Major of district H and has since July of this year.

For nineteen years Sergeant Hickey has faithfully performed all duties set before him in a manner far above reproach and had made a name for himself is one of the most efficient paper men in the army. He can be ob served daily at his desk in Post Headquarters with his nose buried in a pile of papers, solving the many jobs that come through his office and living up to Kipling's contention that the non-coms are the "Backhone of the mander whose other primary function portation, like Coxey's Army, includes horses and packtrains and everything on wheels that can be pushed, pulled or pedalled, including trucks, wagons, ranks a band. It consists of two bat- riages which were left out by overbridges to make sure they are broken changes mud-holes to water-points by inserting therein a pump which is surrounded by engineers who proceed to drain the water by pumping it into the doughboy's water-wagon, which has been previously drained for the purpose. And while doing allthis stands by to rally at the hous of the Widow Jones on two hours notice for a fight or a frolic. What an outfit!

> Thingumabobs: Jeff Marshall, the gasman, in a "One Hour With You" on when to smoke and when not to ... Bugs Raymond, Benning's radio Chic Sale, in a high pressure real estate talk attempting to sell the code room

(Please turn to page 5)

BENNING DAY BY DAY (Please turn to page 4)

Monday morning. . . . Colonel Woolnough coming to the defense of Major Lee in the defense of woods. . . Major Hall striking a responsive chord

Dependable Electric and Gas Service

GEORGIA COMPANY

A Citizen Whereever We Serve 1330 Broadway R. M. Harding, Manager

PEP... in every step

Use (-1100D-)

Heels and Soles

Hood Rubber Products Co., Inc. Watertown, Mass.

Cotton . . .

Hundreds of words each day are dispatched on the wires of this firm about cotton. This makes it possible for investors and commodity traders to keep informed on crop, weather and marketing conditions in this important commodity.

FENNER, BEANE & UNGERLEIDER

13 West 11th Street, N. W. Columbus, Ga. Phone 2272

MEMBERS NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

telling the scholars how to save map money. . . . The same Major's thought ful caution to avoid being fooled when the sschool crosses us up by providing one more terrain exercise pad than there are requirements. . . George Bloomquist strongly advocating the use of a strip of paper for measuring roads instead of the map measure, followed almost, immediately by Major Hall who urged just as emphatically the use of the map measure rather than a strip of paper. Personally we believe all marches should be made on straight roads to permit the use of a ruler. . . . Tactician Hall again carefully explaining everything about solving map problem except how to find the answer. . . Major McCabe, the efficient guardian of the portals of the Sanctum Sanctorum, in a two-minute dissertation on "What The Well Dressed Man Should Wear" . . . A balloon squadron has two balloons and two wenches. . . Major Arch Arnold, the school's artillery expert, crossing up Colonel Jenkins by his assertion that it would take three regiments of artillery to lay and maintain a smoke screen similar to the one demonstrated when the aforesaid Colonel expected the reply to be one battery or thereabouts. . . . A perfect demonstration of a well-dug squad trench Thursday afternoon during the inspection of a battalion defense area, said trench having been dug within ten feet of an admirably suited ditch six feet wide, six feet deep and long enough to protect a war strength company, thereby illustrating the value of perfect reconnaissance. . . Non-horsey wives of horsey husbands pathetically dragging themselves to the Ladies Riding Class, afraid to stay home and be talked about and scared to death to go for the doubtful privilege of absorbing punishment first and Absorbine later. . . . The same wives returning at noon, waddling unevenly over the ground on limping diagonals, thankful to be on solid earth again, and praying for rain on the morrow. . Gadget Waterbury suspiciously dogging the footsteps of the tacticians in the personally conducted Cook's Tour of a defensive area Thursday so they couldn't fool him. . . . Engineer Heileman and Medico Dabney tying for the best platform presentation of the week. . . Monograph preparation at the circus as the first month of school draws to a close.

Benningites Back From C.C.C. Detail

From the Everglades of Florida, the blue grass of Kentucky, the mountains of Tennessee, the redwood forests of California, and the hills and swamps of Georgia and Alabama, the soldiers of the 29th Infantry are drifting back to Fort Benning, their part in President Roosevelt's "Drive on Depression", ended, for a time at least. And hey are bringing back with them more honrs to dd to the laurels of their regiment, tor again, as many time sin the past, the 29th has led the way.

Men that can hold the deadly fire of a machine gun unerringly on the target for perfect results have been armed for the last six-months with ar insect spray gun; experts in radio and telephone communication and all the intricacies pertaining thereto have spent their time since last April in stringing the common, garden variety of electric light wire; and officers accustomed to handling large groups of generally case-hardened, toughened regulars have been sorely tried with the tribulations and grief of companies of unseasoned, home-sick city boys and young men. It was a strange assignment, fulfilled in strange ways, and in strange places, but it was fulfilled, and to the letter, before the 29th returned home, wiser, but not sadder, men for the experience that they have

Colonel William E. Persons, commander of the regiment, is justifiably broud of the record made by the men of his command, a record which needs no extolling but that speaks for itself in the following extracts from letters written by Civilian Conservation Corps camp commander and forestry supervisors from all parts.

'Upon my relief from Command of the organization I wish to commend most highly to you and to their respective company commanders the members of the enlisted section of this (Please turn to page 8)

THE FLARE
(Continued from page 1)

WANTED...

ONE HUSBAND COMPLETE

One of the C. C. C. widows of the 29th Infantry feels that she has waited entirely too long for the return of her husband. She announces herself now to the effect that if he cannot be spared from duty in the woods the War Department should lose no time in securing a replacement for him in his home.

OLD INHABITANTS DEPART

The War Department, in its wis dom, has seen fit to retire Captain H. S. Kelly from active service because of disability incident thereto. Accordingly, after a total service of ten years and six months at Benning, J. Ham Kelley, the post's greatest practical joker, packed up his gadgets and departed hence; be it said, to the distinct loss of his many local friends. We hear, however, that he has settled in near-by Columbus and we sincerely hope that he does not change his wave length and that we will still be able to listen in on his frequent broadcasts.

Some of Ham's many friends officiated at his concurrent promotion and retirement on the evening of September thirtieth at a camp on the Alabama side of the river. The casualties were negligible.

LITERAL OBEDIENCE

A hard-working member of the Post Adjutant's office had occasion to visit Post Headquarters the other evening. He met the sentinel at the northeast corner of the building and announced his desire to have the front entrance unlocked. To his surprise, the sentinel disappeared, proceeding on his beat. In a few moments, he reappeared and opened the door. Upon being questioned as to why he proceeded all the way around the building before unlocking the door, he replied: "Sir, my orders say to keep the building on my left and that was the only way I could get to the front

ATTEND

Chattahoochee Valley Exposition

October 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14
6 BIG DAYS — 6 BIG NIGHTS

COLUMBUS, GA.

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBITS
ROYAL AMERICAN SHOWS

New Attractions! New Rides! New Shows!
Thrilling Free Acts Fireworks

Music

SEASON TICKETS (10 Admissions) $2.50
On Sale At

H. C. SMITH DRUG STORE — ELIE DRUG CO.

It's Not Only New-IT'S NEWS

A New and Improved Form of Whole Life Insurance

Premium Reduced 15% First 3 Years — Regular DIVIDENDS begin End 3rd Year, Thus Producing Low Cost From Start To Finish.

Monthly Premium for $10,000.00 Insurance

First 3 Years After 3 Years Double Rates Include Age 25 $12.30 $14.40 without extra Indemnity cost Premium Age 35 16.90 19.80 May be Added for 25.70 Waiver Disabil-Age 45 30.20 ity Clause. Extra Premium Age 55 41.20 48.40

Dividends which begin at end of third year may be applied to offset increase in premium.

Let me show you how much The Prudential's new Policy has increased the purchasing power of your dollar.

Please Mail Coupon

ROBISON BROWN, JR. Special Agent

Ordinary Department
LIFE INSURANCE — ANNUITIES

210 Murrah Bldg.

'Phone 1637

THE PRUDENTIAL INSURANCE COMPANY OF AMERICA

Home Office Newark, N. J.

ROBISON BROWN, JR.,

210 Murrah Bldg., Columbus, Ga.

Please furnish additional information, without obligation on my part.

Could see you at____time.

Name_____Rank____

39 REASONS:

Each one of our thirty-nine years is but another reason why you should do all your shopping for furniture at this store. Experience is a great teacher, and experience has taught us the solution to each of your problems, and the proper way of avoiding every difficulty.

We will be glad to have you visit our store and see for your-self that we are fully stocked and most dependable.

H. ROTHSCHILD

FURNITURE

For 39 Years Columbus' Leading Furniture Dealers

NEWS OF THE SPORT WORLD

Corn Griffin Slated For Next Final

To Head Next Card

Good news for fights fans of the post is contained in the announcement that Captain Fry is diligently in search of a good opponent for Corn Griffin. Our Corn is a nice fast, clever boxer, albeit some are of the other opinion, and it is just a little bit of too bad that the last few fights he has had have been against cautious men that did not wish to make a fight of the occasion.

In hopes of restoring some of Corn's lost popularity Captain Fry tried a week or so ago to put the clutch on Joe Knight for a match, but Joe forestalled any such hopes by demanding an outrageous guarantee, that over the half-thousand mark for a battle at the post. Coupled with that was the request, polite but firm, for a 35 per cent guarantee and two hundred fish traveling expenses; all in all a certainty of $700 and possibly more. And that was that. The retort proper would have that Bennng only wanted to borrow Knight, not

Then out of the blue came a letter from Bob Godwin's father, who is also his manager, stating that his boy had an open date the latter part of this month. With the least possible delay, contracts were dispatched for at time of going to press things looked very bright for the battle.

So maybe the fans will do right by Nell and make an honest gal out of Griffin by giving him the credit he deserves, when they see him in action against Godwin.

Dr. R. H. Brown

OSTEOPATHIC PHYSICIAN Murrah Bldg.

Phones Office 4108

Res. 1153

Fort's Star Boxer Baseball Season At Post Ends In A Blaze Of Glory With Game Monday During Practice

Baseball days are over at the Gow-1 score two markers in the opening dy field stadium, most of the youthful baseballers have hung up their spikes for this year and donned the moleskins either to represent their Tank Company in the coming series or do the bidding of Coach George H. Decker, mentor of the Regimental, 29th Infantry eleven.

The Vagabonds of the post have emerged successful by beating the 29th Infantry in one of the most thrilling games of the entire season, staging a last desperate fling in the fatal ninth inning they brought the bacon out of the fire by shoving two runs across the pan and copping the supremacy of the diamonders at the Infantry School. It was a briliant stab that the regimental team made for their second championship, after the 2nd Bats beat everything in the intra-mural. Someone wanted to see just how good they really were and consolidate ed all the baseball stars of the post excepting the 29th Infantry, to see if they couldn't walk away with a chip or two off of the "Kelly" crown. Well they did and if it's any satisfaction for a stronger team to heat a weaker one, we don't see it.

Anyway the Second Battalion has the crown and the only way to wrest it from them is to be out there on about the 24 or 25 of October, and the diamond next year and play better ball than them.

29TH BEATS VAGABONDS

The hard fighting doubhboys of the 29th Infantry won their second game from the Vagabonds yesterday via the error route, thereby tying the hard hitting outlaws with two games apiece in the seven game series which is in progress daily at Gowdy field. The score was 4 to 3.

Although the Doughboys garnered but four hits off of the combined offerings of three Vagabond hurlers they took advantage of misplays to frame.

the infantry nine aided by excellent Estes, post commandant of Fort Bensupport twirled his team to victory over the post nine, although he struck out but three of the oposing batters he held them to weak popups and easy rollers. The support was rather shaky at times but at crucial moments it would tighten up. Fuller gave up a total of seven hits and a wild pitch in the fourth was turned in to a run.

All three of the Vagabond twirlers pitched effectively but the support broke down completely at critical moments.

The deciding factor of the melee vas MacAllister's circuit clout in the sixth inning. After two men were put out at first, MacAllister who has previously been sent into the game to replace Kelly at first, stepped up and poled out one of the longest hits of the game, the horsehide rolled under the scoreboard after taking two bounces, but the fielders were unable to retrieve it until after Mac had crossed the pan.

The Regimentals were credited with but four hits off of the combined offerings of Segrest, Robertson and Gilbert, while the Vagabonds garnered seven off of Fuller's deliveries.

The Vags scored a marker in the third stanza, one in the fifth and their last in the sixth when McLane singled and Trippe brought him home with a scorcher that was good for two sacks. The last run tied the score but the Vagabonds' hopes of a victory were shattered when MacAllister poled out his elongated smash in the

Cherry and Trippe were the heavy sluggers for the Vagabonds, Cherry poled out a double and two singles out of four times up, while Trippe was also given credit with one double

SCORE BY INNINGS

001 011 000-3 7 4 Vagabonds 210 001 00x-4 4 2 Segret, Robertson, Gilbert and Mc Carthy; Fuller and Thompson.

VAGS BEAT 29TH

In the third game of a seven con test series the Vagabonds of the post gave the 29th Infantrymen a bad drubbing Thursday when they knocked three regimental pitchers all over the lot at Gowdy field to collect a total of thirteen hits and ten runs, to the Infantry's nine hits and four

Iron Man Swantic twirled his team to victory when he struck out seven of the doughboy batsmen and received credit for one additional assist and put out. Several times he got in the hole by walking players but he proved invincible in the clinches. which aided by the strong support given by his mates, was responsible for the vic-

Ward started on the hillock for the 29th but was yanked in favor of Speed Ball White, hero of yesterday's contest. White pitched very effectively and allowed the big batsmen of the Vagabond nine but two hits during his work on the mound; he in turn was relieved by Bob Harkey. veteran twirler. The Vagabonds had too much power in their war clubs though and they pounded him for three bingles and a trio of runs.

The game was noticeably marked by substitutions on the Infantry team, there being a total of seven during the fracas while the only substitute for the Vags was Holloway for Spear in right field.

Trippe was the star with the willow for the Vagabonds; his first time at bat he smashed out a single; in

(Please turn to page 7)

Lt. Sweeney Hurt

Lieutenant Walter C. Sweeney, jr., "Sleem" Fuller, the dark horse of aide de camp to Brigadier General ning, was injured Thursday morning when he was struck by a flying polo ball and knocked from his horse while practicing and training ponies at the Infantry School stables.

Lieutenant Sweeney was practicing with Captain John W. Blue instructor of equitation in the academic department, when the latter drove a long ball for the goal with considerable force. Just as the ball rose from the ground, Lieut. Sweeney who was not watching, rode into the line of flight, and the ball, made of bamboo root, struck him on the left temple, knocking him from his horse.

In the fall Lieut. Sweeney hit on his left side, and an extra polo ball which he was carrying in the pocket of his riding breeches, caused a painful swelling and bruise. He was carried to the station hospital where it was ascertained that there was no fracture of the skull, although five stitches were taken in his temple.

Prior to coming to Benning as aide to General Estes, Lieutenant Sweeney was on duty with the 22d Infantry at Fort McPherson, Atlanta, Georgia.

Post Athletics Are Now In Doldrums

Athletics at the time of writing are almost at a standstill at the post. ed mild practice. Baseball is over, basketball is far in the future, and the 29th is on the suspended, and football is not scheduled to begin in earnest till next Wednesday, when the first game of the Tanker schedule of company contests gets under way.

The 29th football team, which has slated to play a number of games with college and service teams throughout the south, will of necessity, not begin their serious training till the return from the hike. The prospects for a team so far have been fair, as most of the stars have been sojourning with the C. C. C. in the woods and bills of Georgia and Alabama, and the rest have been occupied with baseball King of the summer sports. A good bit of new material has been turned out, and it is expected by Lieutenant Decker, Demonstrationist coach that his boys will be well under way toward their game with Bowden College in Atlanta the evening of the 18th. The first chance that local fans will have to see the 29er's in action will be on the 28th, when they meet the strong Georgia Military College eleven in Memorial Stadium in Columbus. Without prejudice, as G. M. C. has always cut considerable ice in Southeastern grid circles, and is reputed to have attained as strong a team this year as they used to boast, one may say that the 29th will have no easy time.

The remainder of the 29th schedule has not been made public as yet, but it is known that they intend tackling one of the teams from Oglethorpe, Alabam Frosh, and possible Auburn Frosh before the season ends.

Polo is still in the status of things talked about, although several teams have tentatively organized and start-

The Athletic Office has not yet (Please turn to page 8)

For Hunting and For Football . . .

October is here—the month when football gets into its stride and hunting begins to draw the sportsmen out into the fields. And it's the month, too, when cautious men look to see that their equipment is all there and in good shape.

You will find everything you need for every sport at the Main Branch, Phone 608.

Post Exchange

FORT BENNING, GA.

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service

You Won't Be Disappointed With

RUMS DRY ginger ale

IT IS DEPENDABLE MORE LIFE BETTER FLAVOR

Always Ask For

RUMS DRY

Benning's Younger Swimmers Display Skill Saturday

Troop 11, Fort Benning Boy Scouts, swamped Troop 12, their brothers in Scoutdom, by the score of 58 to 13 in the annual Scout swimming meet and water carnival held at Russ pool on the post, Saturday morning. Scout Bonham, of Troop 11, and Scout Johnson, of Troop 12, were high point men of their respective organizations.

The three troops of Girl Scouts, the Daffodil, Cardinal, and Pine Tree, also held their annual meet Saturday, as did the Cub Packs of the post. McKinnon and Cota were tied for high points with 14 each to their credit, with Cubs Talbot and Grace finishing second and third. Girl Scout Helen Kellam was high point

At the conclusion of the meet Lieutenant Colonel Frank F. Jewett, director of the boys' activities at the post, presented prizes.

Results are as follows:

Boy Scouts

50 yard free style: Scout Leary, Scout Neundorfer, Scout Johnson 25 yard breast stroke: Scout Bon-

See us for Good Ford Service

thorough going-over at regular intervals. It costs little and it will be the means of giving you many thousands of miles of pleasant, economical motoring. All our mechanics are specially trained. All labor charged at low flat rate.

Burrus Motor Co.

1216-22 1st Ave. Phone 3500

ham, Scout Talbot, Scout Reeder.

50 yard breast stroke: Scout Bonham, Scout Talbot, Scout Bevan.

Scout Johnson, Scout Pope. 100 yard free style: Scout Walls, Scout Nundorfer, Scout Pope.

25 yard back troke: Scout Johnson,

Scout Luse, Scout Clark. Diving: Scout Gee, Scout Leary, Scout Walls. 200 yard relay: Won by Troop 11, team of Scouts Wall, Leary, Bonham and Persons.

Girl Scouts

100 yard free style: Scout Marion Vine, Scout Peggy Arnold, Scout Frances Hugg.

50 yard free style: Scout Helen Kellam, Scout Beatrice McNulty, Scout Marion Barrett.

25 yard back troke: Scout Helen Kellam, Scout Ann Betts, Scout Marianna Brackenridge.

50 yard back stroke: Scout Ann Kraft, Scout Marion Vien, Scout Jacqueline Madigan.

25 yard breast stroke: Scout Marion Barrett, Scout Beatrice McNulty. 50 yard breast stroke: Scout Ann Huling, Scout Ann Kraft, Scout Ann Yancey.

Diving: Daffodil and Pine Tree troops, Scout Helen Kellam. Cardinal troop; Scout Jacqueline Gilchrist, Scout Jane Grace, Scout Frances Hug. Potato race: Scout Ann Kraft, Scout Jacqueline Madigan, Scout Mar-

Hat race: Scout Marianna Brackenridge, Scout Beatrice McNulty, Scout

Cubs

25 yard back stroke: Cub Robert McKinnon, Cub Dan Cota, Cub John

25 yard breast stroke: Cub Dan Cota, Cub Buddy Grace, Cub Martin McKinnon.

50 yard free style: Cub Robert Mc-Kinnon, Cub Buddy Grace, Cub Dan

Relay race: Cub team of Cubs John Huling, John Rice, Dan Cota and Robert McKinnon, 1st.

Watermelon race: Cub Dan Cota Cub Robert McKinnon, Cub John

We Make

RUBBER STAMPS

COLUMBUS OFFICE SUPPLY CO.

Astonishing? Yes! But TRUE!

Some folks think the first autos were invented in the 1890's -but self-propelled steam carriages traveled the public roads in England in 1820 until ruled off by Parliament in favor of railroads.

IF YOUR CAR SOUNDS LIKE AN 1820 MODEL

. . then we want to see it! If your automobile chugs, knocks, misses or stalls it may mean a faulty carburetor, wrong timing, fouled plugs or sticking valves. But it DOES mean that you are wasting gasoline and money. We'll do a good repair job-all work guaranteed.

Auto Dept.

0 H A N FORT BENNING, GEORGIA

The Post Exchange Is Not Authorized To Sell To Anyone Not In The Military Service .

BASEBALL (Continued from page 6)

50 yard back stroke: Scout Luse, his second appearance before the twirler he laced out a hot liner toward right field; Johnson came run ning in fast to make a shoestring catch, but didn't get there quite soon enough, the horsehide rolled to the ri ht field fence and Trippe was credited with a home run; McLane was riding second at the time. Trippe's third time at bat proved uneventful but in his last he clouted out another

McLane also aided in the scoring with a double and a single and Massey and McCarthy were credited with a pair of bingles each.

Thompson and Johnson led the at tack for the Regimentals, Tommy with a double and a single and Olie with a pair of singles.

Evans was the fielding star of the affray when he handled four hot chances at the hot corner without a misplay. He also scored one of his team's runs when he gained first on a fielder's choice, went to the keystone when Massey hit and dented the rubber at home when Futch singled. SCORE BY INNINGS

29th Infantry 011 000 011 4 9 5 Vagabonds 202 300 12x 10 13 2 Ward, White, Harkey and Reddock. Thompson; Swantic and McCarty.

Umpires, Wolfe, Lindsey and Ma-

DOUGHBOYS OUTPLAY VAGS SATURDAY

The 29th Infantry doughboys outplayed, outhit and outfielded the Vagabonds at Gowdy field yesterday to win a very decisive 9-3 victory over the outlaws.

The infantrymen collected a total of fourteen hits off the combined offerings of Morris, Gilbert and Segrest, Varabond twirlers who tried in vain to spike the big guns of the Regimentals but to no avail.

The win placed the Infantry in the lead over the Vagabonds, the hard fighting doughboys havng beaten the Vags three out of five tlts.

In Saturday's contest both teams played ar-tght ball for four stanzas. The 29th has scored first blood in the affray in the third frame, but the Vagabonds took the lead in the fourth by touching White for a total of three hits and a pair of markers. In the sixth an error on Tolle when he threw wild to second in an attempt to double was good for two counters for the Infantry.

The Regimentals touched Gilbert in the next inning for three bingles and another pair of runs and in the eighth two more by virtue of a hit by Saunders and a freak home run by Tinsley, when the Vagabond left fielder let the agate roll between his legs. Adding insult to injury, in the last set-to, the 29th shoved another pair of runs across the plate when Thompson led off with a triple, Johnson was hit by a pitched ball, Thompson scored when Reddock grounded to second and Johnson dented the rubber when Hebert clouted out a single.

Speed Ball White labored on the hillock and was given errorless support by his mates-a beautiful exhibition of baseball on the Regimental side; White allowed the Vags but nine hits in all. The only time that he al lowed a collection of bingles was in the fourth and final chapters, when Futch singled and hard-hitting Trippe brought him home with a screaming triple down the first base line. White struck out the last two batters though a parting challenge.

Trippe of the Vagabonds was the hitting star of the game when he banged out four hits out of four times to bat for a perfect day at bat.

Tinsley and Thompson led the atack on the Varabonds. Tommie with a triple and two doubles, while Bob Tinsley was given acknowledgement for four safeties out of five trips to the plate. One of them was a freak

SCORE BY INNINGS

001 002 222—9 14 0 29th Infantry 000 200 001—3 9 4 Vagabonds

White and Thompson; Morris, Gilhert, Segrest and McCarthy and Sul-

LAST GAME OF THE SERIES In last Monday's game, in the last and final of the seven game series the Vagabond team emerged victo- stem the onrushing tide and pitched rious by a 5 to 4 score and won for a wild ball to aid in the rout themselves the title of the baseball moguls of the Infantry School. The pennant so the Vagabonds' bid was in the keystone sackman was making wain.

The game was replete with thrills from start to finish and held the Gowdy field on the edge of their eats for the entire melee.

Lefty Nichols pitched a wonderful came for the doughboys when he held two hits with incredible succession. He was relieved from further hillock work and replaced by Ward, Weary for the next three spasms which were Willie they call him. Ward failed to (Please turn to page 8)

Gilbert started on the rubber for the outlaws and twirled a good game 2nd Battalion had already copped the despite the presentation of runs htat

The outlaws were the first to score in the opener when Massey got a triple and scored when Nichols balkspectators that thronged the stands at ed unintentionally. The Vagabonds chalked up two more runs in the third frame to lead the Regimentals 3 to 0.

The Doughboys came to life in the the hard hitting Vags to only four fourth and opened up on Gilbert with bingles in eight chapters of play but a barrage of hits that coupled with he weakened in the ninth and gave up a pair of hobbles was good for three

> Both nines labored on even terms (Please turn to page 8)

C. D. SHINE

JOHN LOCKE

RENT-A-CAR COMPANY

PHONE 1841

519 - 8TH STREET

Special Low Prices on Long Trips CALL US FOR FURTHER INFORMATION

From the

SPEEDWAY

Comes their Stamina

From the

SKYWAY[®]

Comes Their Style

Pre-View Showing

STUDEBAKER

DICTATOR

COMMANDER

PRESIDENT

$645

$845

$1045

And Up - F. O. B. Factory

Streamlining and stamina are effectually combined as never before in these radical new cars . . . possessed of every definite advantage of the modern automobile: power brakes, automatic choke, startix, all enclosed springs, shatterproof glass, and everything which makes automobiling of the year to come what it is going to be. And above all, Studebaker is the most economical car on the road.

Columbus Roberts

O

510-12-14 12th St.

Studebaker — Pierce Arrow — White Trucks — Indiana

BASEBALL (Continued from page 7)

