1_THE PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION (ARMY). Award of the Presidential Unit Citation (Army) by the President of the United States of America to the following units of the Armed Forces of the United States is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1. The text of the citation, signed by President Richard Nixon on 21 February 1974, reads as follows:

By virtue of the authority vested in me as President of the United States and as Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces of the United States, I have today awarded

THE PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION (ARMY) FOR EXTRAORDINARY HEROISM TO THE

158TH AVIATION BATTALION, 101ST AVIATION GROUP 101ST AIRBORNE DIVISION, UNITED STATES ARMY AND THE FOLLOWING ASSIGNED UNITS: HEADQUARTERS AND HEADQUARTERS COMPANY COMPANIES A, B, C, AND D 159TH TRANSPORTATION CORPS DETACHMENT 168TH TRANSPORTATION CORPS DETACHMENT 169TH TRANSPORTATION CORPS DETACHMENT AND THE

273RD TRANSPORTATION CORPS DETACHMENT

The 158th Aviation Battalion and assigned units distinguished themselves by extraordinary heroism in action against a hostile force in Southeast Asia during the period 8 February to 24 March 1971. The unit conducted combat assaults and resupply missions deep into enemy territory in support of Army of the Republic of Vietnam forces. The initial airlift into the concentrated enemy stronghold in the area around the Ho Chi Minh trail resulted in the discovery of one of the most intensified hostile forces ever encountered in the Vietnam war. The enemy troop movement and resupply network was well fortified and anti-aircraft weapons, .51 caliber machine guns and a multitude of individual weapons. The valorous aircrews of the 158th Aviation Battalion flew mission after mission through barrages of enemy fire. Each assault and extraction was challenged by an intense fusillade of fire from the North Vietnamese Army. Through determination and unparalled skill, members of the 158th Aviation Battalion accomplished each mission and added greatly to the success of Operation LAMSON 719. The selfless and unremitting support rendered by the units stands as an example of indomitable spirit and dedication to the counterinsurgency effort of the Free World. The men of the 158th Aviation Battalion and its assigned units displayed extraordinary heroism and devotion to duty which are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect distinct credit upon themselves and the Armed Forces of the United States.

II__VALOROUS UNIT AWARD. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 202.1, AR 672–5–1, the Valorous Unit Award is awarded the following-named unit of the United States Army for extraordinary heroism while engaged in military operations during the period indicated :

- Luong Son Detachment, 5th Special Forces Group 1st Special Forces (25 August 1966 to 4 April 1967)

The 2d Battalion, 7th Cavalry, 1st Cavalry Division, and attached units, distinguished themselves by extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against a hostile force in Binh Thuan Province, Republic of Vietnam, during the period 25 August 1966 through 4 April 1967. The Battalion and its attached organizations, which comprised Task Force 2/7, supported the Republic of Vietnam in its revolutionary development program in Binh Thuan Province. The area was almost entirely under Viet Cong control when Task Force 2/7 arrived in the province. The 482d and 840th Viet Cong Battalions, and their ancillary units, operated almost at will throughout the area, except for the coastal enclave of Pham Thiet which was still under government control. Operating over an area of almost 5,000 square kilometers, Task Force 2/7 struck at enemy forces in a succession of brilliantly conceived and gallantly executed maneuvers. During this period, the Task Force mounted 371 combat assaults into enemy held territory. In eight months of fierce combat, the Task Force lost 11 men while causing the enemy to lose 481 men. It captured 70 enemy soldiers, 151 weapons, 291 tons of rice, 3.6 tons of salt, and 7.4 tons of other grains. It destroyed over 600 bunkers and numerous installations. The spirit, devotion to duty, and courage displayed by Task Force 2/7 personnel set a superb example for the Republic of Vietnam Forces in the area. Control of Binh Thuan Province passed from the Viet Cong to free world military forces, and the enemy was unable to operate effectively in strength by day or night. The conspicuous gallantry, intrepidity, heroism, and audacity displayed by the members of the task force in combat are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon them, their units, and the Armed Forces of the United States.

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY WASHINGTON, DC 24 January 1973

The Department of the Army announces with deep regret the death of its former Commander in Chief, The HONORABLE LYNDON BAINES JOHNSON, 36th President of the United States, who died on 22 January 1973 at Johnson City, Texas.

MR. JOHNSON was born on 27 August 1908 at Stonewall, Texas, near Johnson City. He earned a Bachelor of Science degree at Southwest Texas State Teachers College, San Marcos, Texas, in 1930, and subsequently taught in public schools in Cotulla, Pearsall, and Houston, Texas. He attended the Georgetown Law School. Honorary Doctor of Laws, Doctor of Civil Law, Doctor of Humane Letters, and Doctor of Literature degrees were also conferred on him.

MR. JOHNSON was a dynamic statesman and one of the most active and respected Congressmen the country has ever known. He possessed outstanding qualities of leadership which were demonstrated during the sorrowful and difficult time immediately after the assassination of President Kennedy. He firmly took charge of the Government and with unwavering courage and strength of purpose led the country through a period of progress and economic stability, reaffirming the principles of our democratic form of government.

Prior to being sworn in as President, MR. JOHNSON had served the country for thirty-two consecutive years in positions of responsibility, including Majority Whip, Minority Leader, and Majority Leader of the United States Senate, and Vice President. During World War II, although he was exempt by law from military duty as a member of the Congress, MR. JOHNSON volunteered his services to the United States Navy and participated in heavy action in the Pacific Theater, receiving the Silver Star for gallantry in New Guinea. He was recalled from active duty by a personal Presidential Order to return to his Congressional post. He remained in the United States Naval Reserve until 18 January 1964, when he resigned his commission.

In 1964, MR. JOHNSON was elected to the highest office in the Nation, after assuming the Presidency one year earlier. His aspiration to build a better America was reflected in his inaugural speech when he stated: "The oath I have taken before you and before God is not mine alone, but ours together. We are one nation and one people. Our fate and our future rest not upon one citizen but upon all citizens."

During his administration as President of the United States, he was dedicated to seeking peace, defending freedom for all, and enriching the life of man. He worked diligently to achieve these goals, as was evinced by his stand against armed Communist aggression in Vietnam and by his initiation of legislation to strengthen our economy; to erase poverty, illness, and ignorance; to promote equality for all; and to improve and enrich the quality of the American life. With his many achievements, President JOHNSON rightfully earned a place in the history of our country and fulfilled his pledge to this Nation: "I will lead and I will do the best I can."

The loss of this most distinguished, dedicated, and patriotic citizen will be mourned by the country whose people will be deprived of his profound leadership and philosophy. The grief of the Nation is deeply shared by members of the United States Army.

As a mark of respect to the memory of MR. JOHNSON, the National Flag will be displayed at half-staff on all installations under the control of the Department of the Army for 30 days from date of death.

The remains of MR. JOHNSON will lie in state in the Rotunda of the United States Capitol from 24 January 1973 to 25 January 1973. Funeral services will be conducted in the National City Christian Church, Washington, D.C. on 25 January 1973, and MR. JOHNSON will be buried in the family cemetery at the LBJ Ranch, Johnson City, Texas, on that date.

The Commanding Generals, Military District of Washington and Fifth United States Army, will render appropriate honors.

XIII....PHILIPPINE REPUBLIC PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION. The award of the Philippine Republic Presidential Unit Citation to the units of the United States Army listed below, in recognition of participation in disaster relief operations in the Republic of the Philippines during the period July and August 1972, is confirmed. United States Army personnel who were assigned or attached to the units listed during the period cited and who participated in the disaster relief operations are authorized to wear the Philippine Republic Presidential Unit Citation Badge.

The citation, issued by Headquarters, Armed Forces of the Philippines, reads as follows:

"By direction of the President, pursuant to paragraph 19 1, Section II, Armed Forces of the Philippines Regulations G 131-052, this Headquarters, dated 24 April 1967, the PHILIPPINE REPUBLIC PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION BADGE is hereby awarded to the following units of the United States Armed Forces for outstanding service to the Republic of the Philippines through exceptionally meritorious participation in disaster relief operations in flood-stricken provinces of Central Luzon in July and August 1972:

CINCPACREP PHIL DISASTER TASK FORCE

US DISASTER TASK FORCE (MANILA)

These units responded commendably to the large-scale emergency precipitated by incessant torrential rain and the resultant floods, extending invaluable assistance in various forms to Philippine agencies engaged in the massive rescue and relief operations. The selfless efforts of the officers and men of these units helped immeasurably in the rescue, evacuation, inoculation and medical treatment of disaster victims as well as in the timely delivery of medical and food supplies to inundated communities. Notwithstanding the adverse conditions under which many of their personnel operated, these units played their role in an exemplary manner, thereby earning the appreciation not only of the countless beneficiaries of their humanitarian work but also of the Republic of the Philippines as a whole."

I__THE PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION (ARMY). Award of the Presidential Unit Citation (Army) by the President of the United States of America to the following units of the Armed Forces of the United States is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 201, AR 672–5–1. The text of the citation, signed by President Richard Nixon on 5 February 1973, reads as follows:

By virtue of the authority vested in me as President of the United States and as Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces of the United States, I have today awarded

THE PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION (ARMY) FOR EXTRAORDINARY HEROISM TO

COMPANY C, 4TH BATTALION, 9TH INFANTRY BATTERY B, 7TH BATTALION, 11TH ARTILLERY COMPANY B, 25TH AVIATION BATTALION TROOP D, 3D SQUADRON, 4TH CAVALRY 116TH ASSAULT HELICOPTER COMPANY AND THE 187TH ASSAULT HELICOPTER COMPANY

Company C, 4th Battalion, 9th Infantry, 1st Brigade, 25th Infantry Division and its attached and supporting units distinguished themselves during the period 24 April 1969 to 26 April 1969 by extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations against Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Army forces in Tay Ninh Province, Republic of Vietnam. During this period, the enemy was engaged in his "Winter-Spring Offensive," with the ultimate objective being to attack the capital city of Saigon. The enemy planned to strike with the full power of the three divisions, the military forces of two subregions, and numerous provincial battalions and companies to clear the way for the advance on Saigon. With full knowledge of the enemy's intentions, Patrol Base Frontier City was constructed adjacent to the Cambodian border on 24 April 1969, directly in the path of the enemy's intended route of advance. During the early morning hours of 26 April 1969, the patrol base was attacked by an enemy force estimated to be two reinforced battalions of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars. Although the enemy fought savagely to seize the base, the defenders repeatedly repelled the determined, combined artillery and infantry assaults on their position. Purposely permitting the enemy to approach within a thousand meters of their position before bringing them under fire with artillery, mortars, machineguns, small arms and air strikes, the brave defenders devastated the enemy attack. Enemy forces were able to breach the perimeter wire at only one point, but were trapped in a blistering cross-fire and were unable to exploit their gain. The attack was completely stopped and the enemy forces were routed, with heavy losses of men and equipment. Totally defeated, the enemy was forced to withdraw to sanctuaries in Cambodia, leaving behind a large number of casualties, numerous weapons, and a large amount of ammunition. The gallant defense by the officers and men of Company C, 4th Battalion, 9th Infantry and its attached and supporting units contributed significantly to the blunting of the enemy's major offensive in Tay Ninh Province. Their dedication, professionalism, and heroism are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on them and the United States Army.

II--MERITORIOUS UNIT CITATION. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 203, AR 672-5-1, the Meritorious Unit Commendation is awarded to the following units of the United States Army for meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service during the period indicated:

THE UNITED STATES ARMY BAND, 21 January 1971 to 20 January 1973.

THE UNITED STATES ARMY TRANSPORTATION AGENCY (WHITE HOUSE), 1 January 1971 to 19 January 1973.

During the early morning hours of 26 April 1969, the patrol base was attacked by an enemy force estimated to be two reinforced battalions of Viet Cong and North Vietnamese regulars. Although the enemy fought savagely to seize the base, the defenders repeatedly repelled the determined, combined artillery and infantry assaults on their position. Purposely permitting the enemy to approach within a thousand meters of their position before bringing them under fire with artillery, mortars, machineguns, small arms and air strikes, the brave defenders devastated the enemy attack. Enemy forces were able to breach the perimeter wire at only one point, but were trapped in a blistering cross-fire and were unable to exploit their gain. The attack was completely stopped and the enemy forces were routed, with heavy losses of men and equipment. Totally defeated, the enemy was forced to withdraw to sanctuaries in Cambodia, leaving behind a large number of casualties, numerous weapons, and a large amount of ammunition. The gallant defense by the officers and men of Company C, 4th Battalion, 9th Infantry and its attached and supporting units contributed significantly to the blunting of the enemy's major offensive in Tay Ninh Province. Their dedication, professionalism, and heroism are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on them and the United States Army.

PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION TO THE THIRD MARINE DIVISION (REINFORCED)

for service as set forth in the following

CITATION:

For extraordinary heroism and outstanding performance of duty in action against the North Vietnamese Army and Viet Cong forces in the Republic of Vietnam from 8 March 1965 to 15 September 1967. Throughout this period, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced), operating in the five northernmost provinces of the Republic of Vietnam, successfully executed its three-fold mission of occupying and defending key terrain, seeking out and destroying the enemy, and conducting an intensive pacification program. Operating in an area bordered by over 200 miles of South China Sea coastline, the mountainous Laotian border and the Demilitarized Zone, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced) successfully executed eighty major combat operations, carrying the battle to the enemy, destroying many of his forces, and capturing thousands of tons of weapons and materiel. In addition to these major operations, more than 125,000 offensive counterguerrilla actions, ranging from squad patrols and ambushes to company-sized search and destroy operations, were conducted in both the coastal rice lands and the mountainous jungle inland. These bitterly contested actions routed the enemy from his well-entrenched positions, denied him access to his source of food, restricted his freedom of movement, and removed his influence from the heavily populated areas. In numerous operations, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced) demonstrated the great efficacy of combined operations with units of the Army of the Republic of Vietnam. In July 1966, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced) moved to the north to counter major elements of the North Vietnamese Army moving across the Demilitarized Zone into the Province of Quang Tri; its units fought a series of savage battles against the enemy, repeatedly distinguishing themselves and, time and again, forcing the enemy to retreat across the Demilitarized Zone. Imbued with an unrelenting combat spirit and initiative and undeterred by heavy hostile artillery and mortar fire, extremely difficult terrain, incessant heat and monsoon rains, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced), employing courageous ground, heliborne and amphibious assaults, complemented by intense and accurate air, artillery, and naval gunfire support, inflicted great losses on the enemy and denied him the political and military victory he sought to achieve at any cost. The outstanding courage, resourcefulness, and aggressive fighting spirit of the officers and men of the Third Marine Division (Reinforced) in battle after battle against a well-equipped and well-trained enemy, often numerically superior in strength, and the great humanitarianism constantly shown to the peoples of the Republic of Vietnam, reflected great credit upon the Marine Corps and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

HEADQUARTERS SUPPORT ACTIVITY, SAIGON

CITATION:

For exceptionally meritorious service in providing vitally needed logistic support to growing numbers of United States and Allied military personnel in a new and strange environment for the buildup of US counterinsurgency forces in the Republic of Vietnam from 1 July 1962 to 15 March 1966. With minimum resources and personnel, and in the face of extremely difficult conditions, including attacks from insurgent forces at all locations along and at the end of lengthy supply lines, Headquarters Support Activity, Saigon, skillfully and expeditiously provided all facets of urgently needed logistic support to thousands of United States and Allied military personnel assigned to the many and varied components of each of the United States and Allied Services stationed in the Republic of Vietnam. The notable record achieved by Headquarters Support Activity, Saigon, has been a strong contributing factor in the success of the United States effort in the Republic of Vietnam, and attests to the skill, teamwork, diligence and perseverance of the individual members of the Activity. Their loyal and inspiring devotion to duty reflects great credit upon themselves and the United States Naval Service.

2. Award of the Navy Unit Commendation to the following United States Army units is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1.

3d Battalion, 21st Infantry (For the period 1 May 1968 to 16 May 1968) 1st Battalion, 5th Cavalry (For the period 6 May 1968 to 8 May 1968)

Battery D, 3d Battalion, 82d Artillery (For the period 10 May 1968 to 16 May 1968)

The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in presenting

THE NAVY UNIT COMMENDATION

TO

THIRD MARINE REGIMENT, THIRD MARINE DIVISION (REIN), FMF

for service as set forth in the following

CITATION:

For exceptionally meritorious and heroic achievement during the period 30 April to 16 May 1968 while engaged in combat against enemy forces in the southeastern Cam Lo District, Quang Tri Province, Republic of Vietnam. Initiating counteraction against a numerically superior enemy force in the vicinity of Dai Do and along the strategically critical Thach Han River, the Third Marine Regiment demonstrated an outstandingly high degree of combat readiness and aggressiveness during a series of fiercely fought and bitterly opposed combat actions. In the face of heavy enemy small arms, mortar, and artillery fire, the Third Marine Regiment moved relentlessly forward and surmounted every obstacle to inflict over 1,500 casualties upon the enemy and capture large quantities of weapons and ammunition. The success achieved by the regiment and its attached Army and Air Force units precluded the closing of the Thach Han River—a communication and resupply route essential to units in the Northern I Corps area—and prevented the enemy from attacking and isolating the cities of Dong Ha and Quang Tri and their respective military complexes. By their valiant fighting spirit, efficient teamwork, professionalism, and dedication, the officers and men of the Third Marine Regiment and attached units achieved a resounding victory over the enemy and contributed essentially to United States efforts in Southeast Asia. Their inspiring performance reflected great credit upon themselves and the Marine Corps, and was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Armed Forces.

- 3. Award of the Navy Unit Commendation to the following United States Army units is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1.
  - 29th Civil Affairs Company (For the period 12 June 1966 to 30 June 1968) 244th Psychological Operations Company (For the period 6 May 1965 to 30 November 1967)
  - 7th Psychological Battalion (For the period 1 December 1967 to 30 June 1968)

The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in presenting

THE NAVY UNIT COMMENDATION TO

HEADQUARTERS, III MARINE AMPHIBIOUS FORCE

CITATION:

For exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service in connection with operations against insurgent communist (Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Army) forces in the Republic of Vietnam from 6 May 1965 to 30 June 1968. Demonstrating an exceptional degree of professionalism, the Headquarters, III Marine Amphibious Force provided operational control and coordination for a force that grew, during the period, to be the largest force ever committed to the field under command of a US Marine Headquarters. By 30 June 1968, the Force, consisting of US Marine Corps. Army, Navy, and Air Force units, had aggressively conducted 230 major combat operations in the I Corps Tactical Zone resulting in resounding defeat for communist aggression in the Republic of Vietnam. Although primarily concerned with combat operations, the Headquarters vigorously pursued a civic action program designed to aid the stricken Vietnamese populace while concurrently encouraging trust and confidence in the local and national governments. A highly successful Combined Action Program was developed by the Headquarters which provided for deployment of combined United States-Popular Force units to 115 Vietnamese hamlets, thereby providing security for approximately 280,000 citizens. Tasked with control and coordination of all aspects of combat operations of the huge force, the Headquarters provided aggressive planning, coordination, and leadership in such areas as intelligence, combat and service support, logistics, morale and personnel services, health, recreation and welfare, and a multitude of related responsibilities. The effective teamwork, indomitable spirit, and loyal devotion to duty of the officers and men of Headquarters, III Marine Amphibious Force provided a significant contribution to the success of the military assistance effort in the Republic of Vietnam and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service.

THE MERITORIOUS UNIT COMMENDATION TO

FIRST AMPHIBIAN TRACTOR BATTALION THIRD MARINE DIVISION (REINFORCED), FLEET MARINE FORCE

CITATION:

For meritorious service in close combat against the North Vietnamese Army and insurgent communist (Viet Cong) forces in Quang Tri Province, Republic of Vietnam, from 26 August to 9 December 1968. When the First Marine Regiment was deployed from the Napoleon/Saline II Tactical Area of Responsibility, the operational control of the area was assigned to the First Amphibian Tractor Battalion because of its versatility and competency. This assigned area of approximately thirty-two square miles encompassed some fourteen miles of river and waterways, eighteen miles of desert, and additional broken land ideally suited for harboring enemy ambush and sapper units. By conducting 543 day patrols and 675 night patrols, the battalion was instrumental in killing 3,476 of the enemy and capturing 613 individual weapons, as well as 19 crewserved weapons. In addition to performing duties of an infantry unit, the battalion carried out an intensive and conclusive combined action program which resulted in a highly proficient integrated Marine and Popular Force provisional rifle company. The "can do" attitude of the officers and men of the First Amphibian Tractor Battalion earned them the name "AmGrunts" (Amphibian Tractor Infantrymen). Through effective teamwork, aggressive fighting spirit, and the many individual acts of bravery, the First Amphibian Tractor Battalion, together with supporting Marine and Army units, dealt the enemy a severe blow, and in so doing demonstrated those qualities of valor and professional skill which were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service.

2. Award of the Meritorious Unit Commendation (Navy) to the following United States Army units is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1.

THE MEBITORIOUS UNIT COMMENDATION

NINTH ENGINEER BATTALION, FLEET MARINE FORCE for service as set forth in the following CITATION:

For meritorious service while participating in operations against the insurgent communist (Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Army) forces in the Republic of Vietnam from 1 July 1968 to 31 May 1969. During this period the Ninth Engineer Battalion, under the operational control of the Commanding General, III Marine Amphibious Force, and administrative control of the Commanding General, First Marine Division, performed with distinction in maintaining, upgrading, and ensuring the operational readiness of 48 miles of National Route #1 through Quang Tin and Quang Nam Provinces, from Chu Lai to Dien Ban. Working closely with US Army, Republic of Korea, and Republic of Vietnam forces operating in the area, this vital route of communication was kept constantly open in spite of enemy interdiction with mines and demolitions and the ravages of flood conditions. By rapid installation of bypasses and tactical bridging, often in round-the-clock operations, each emergency was promptly reduced. From 1 July 1968 to 1 January 1969, working under the most adverse conditions of weather, location, and enemy harassment, the battalion completed a steel and timber bridge, 722 feet long, across the Song Ba Ren river in southern Quang Nam Province. The imagination, determination, and craftsmanship displayed in its construction marked it as a major engineering achievement. The speed and thoroughness with which this project was pursued in the face of the adversities of the elements and the enemy were a tribute to the complete professionalism and dogged determination of the unit. By their tireless efforts, resourcefulness, and individual acts of heroism, the officers and men of the Ninth Engineer Battalion achieved an illustrious record of courage and skill that were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service.

3. Award of the Meritorious Unit Commendation (Navy) to the following United States Army unit is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1.

PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION TO THE THIRD MARINE DIVISION (REINFORCED)

CITATION:

For extraordinary heroism and outstanding performance of duty in action against the North Vietnamese Army and Viet Cong forces in the Republic of Vietnam from 8 March 1965 to 15 September 1967. Throughout this period. the Third Marine Division (Reinforced), operating in the five northernmost provinces of the Republic of Vietnam, successfully executed its three-fold mission of occupying and defending key terrain, seeking out and destroying the enemy, and conducting an intensive pacification program. Operating in an area bordered by over 200 miles of South China Sea coastline, the mountainous Laotian border and the Demilitarized Zone, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced) successfully executed eighty major combat operations, carrying the battle to the enemy, destroying many of his forces, and capturing thousands of tons of weapons and materiel. In addition to these major operations, more than 125,000 offensive counterguerrilla actions, ranging from squad patrols and ambushes to company-sized search and destroy operations, were conducted in both the coastal rice lands and the mountainous jungle inland. These bitterly contested actions routed the enemy from his well-entrenched positions, denied him access to his source of food, restricted his freedom of movement, and removed his influence from the heavily populated areas. In numerous operations, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced) demonstrated the great efficacy of combined operations with units of the Army of the Republic of Vietnam. In July 1966, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced) moved to the north to counter major elements of the North Vietnamese Army moving across the Demilitarized Zone into the Province of Quang Tri; its units fought a series of savage battles against the enemy, repeatedly distinguishing themselves and, time and again, forcing the enemy to retreat across the Demilitarized Zone. Imbued with an unrelenting combat spirit and initiative and undeterred by heavy hostile artillery and mortar fire, extremely difficult terrain, incessant heat and monsoon rains, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced), employing courageous ground, heliborne and amphibious assaults, complemented by intense and accurate air, artillery, and naval gunfire support, inflicted great losses on the enemy and denied him the political and military victory he sought to achieve at any cost. The outstanding courage, resourcefulness, and aggressive fighting spirit of the officers and men of the Third Marine Division (Reinforced) in battle after battle against a well-equipped and well-trained enemy, often numerically superior in strength, and the great humanitarianism constantly shown to the peoples of the Republic of Vietnam, reflected great credit upon the Marine Corps and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

II__VALOROUS UNIT AWARD. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraphs 194 and 202.1, AR 672-5-1, the Valorous Unit Award is confirmed for the following named units of the United States Army for extraordinary heroism while engaged in military operations during the periods indicated as awarded by cited authority.

The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in commending

CITATION:

For exceptionally meritorious service in providing vitally needed logistic support to growing numbers of United States and Allied military personnel in a new and strange environment for the buildup of US counterinsurgency forces in the Republic of Vietnam from 1 July 1962 to 15 March 1966. With minimum resources and personnel, and in the face of extremely difficult conditions, including attacks from insurgent forces at all locations along and at the end of lengthy supply lines, Headquarters Support Activity, Saigon, skillfully and expeditiously provided all facets of urgently needed logistic support to thousands of United States and Allied military personnel assigned to the many and varied components of each of the United States and Allied Services stationed in the Republic of Vietnam. The notable record achieved by Headquarters Support Activity, Saigon, has been a strong contributing factor in the success of the United States effort in the Republic of Vietnam, and attests to the skill, teamwork, diligence and perseverance of the individual members of the Activity. Their loyal and inspiring devotion to duty reflects great credit upon themselves and the United States Naval Service.

2. Award of the Navy Unit Commendation to the following United States Army units is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1.

3d Battalion, 21st Infantry (For the period 1 May 1968 to 16 May 1968) 1st Battalion, 5th Cavalry (For the period 6 May 1968 to 8 May 1968)

Battery D, 3d Battalion, 82d Artillery (For the period 10 May 1968 to 16 May 1968)

The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in presenting

THE NAVY UNIT COMMENDATION

TO

THIRD MARINE REGIMENT, THIRD MARINE DIVISION (REIN), FMF

for service as set forth in the following

CITATION:

For exceptionally meritorious and heroic achievement during the period 30 April to 16 May 1968 while engaged in combat against enemy forces in the southeastern Cam Lo District, Quang Tri Province, Republic of Vietnam. Initiating counteraction against a numerically superior enemy force in the vicinity of Dai Do and along the strategically critical Thach Han River, the Third Marine Regiment demonstrated an outstandingly high degree of combat readiness and aggressiveness during a series of fiercely fought and bitterly opposed combat actions. In the face of heavy enemy small arms, mortar, and artillery fire, the Third Marine Regiment moved relentlessly forward and surmounted every obstacle to inflict over 1,500 casualties upon the enemy and capture large quantities of weapons and ammunition. The success achieved by the regiment and its attached Army and Air Force units precluded the closing of the Thach Han River—a communication and resupply route essential to units in the Northern I Corps area—and prevented the enemy from attacking and isolating the cities of Dong Ha and Quang Tri and their respective military complexes. By their valiant fighting spirit, efficient teamwork, professionalism, and dedication, the officers and men of the Third Marine Regiment and attached units achieved a resounding victory over the enemy and contributed essentially to United States efforts in Southeast Asia. Their inspiring performance reflected great credit upon themselves and the Marine Corps, and was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Armed Forces.

- 3. Award of the Navy Unit Commendation to the following United States Army units is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1.
  - 29th Civil Affairs Company (For the period 12 June 1966 to 30 June 1968) 244th Psychological Operations Company (For the period 6 May 1965 to 30 November 1967)
  - 7th Psychological Battalion (For the period 1 December 1967 to 30 June 1968)

The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in presenting

THE NAVY UNIT COMMENDATION TO

CITATION:

For exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service in connection with operations against insurgent communist (Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Army) forces in the Republic of Vietnam from 6 May 1965 to 30 June 1968. Demonstrating an exceptional degree of professionalism, the Headquarters, III Marine Amphibious Force provided operational control and coordination for a force that grew, during the period, to be the largest force ever committed to the field under command of a US Marine Headquarters. By 30 June 1968, the Force, consisting of US Marine Corps, Army, Navy, and Air Force units, had aggressively conducted 230 major combat operations in the I Corps Tactical Zone resulting in resounding defeat for communist aggression in the Republic of Vietnam. Although primarily concerned with combat operations, the Headquarters vigorously pursued a civic action program designed to aid the stricken Vietnamese populace while concurrently encouraging trust and confidence in the local and national governments. A highly successful Combined Action Program was developed by the Headquarters which provided for deployment of combined United States-Popular Force units to 115 Vietnamese hamlets, thereby providing security for approximately 280,000 citizens. Tasked with control and coordination of all aspects of combat operations of the huge force, the Headquarters provided aggressive planning, coordination, and leadership in such areas as intelligence, combat and service support, logistics, morale and personnel services, health, recreation and welfare, and a multitude of related responsibilities. The effective teamwork, indomitable spirit, and loval devotion to duty of the officers and men of Headquarters, III Marine Amphibious Force provided a significant contribution to the success of the military assistance effort in the Republic of Vietnam and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service.

FIRST AMPHIBIAN TRACTOR BATTALION THIRD MARINE DIVISION (REINFORCED), FLEET MARINE FORCE

CITATION:

For meritorious service in close combat against the North Vietnamese Army and insurgent communist (Viet Cong) forces in Quang Tri Province, Republic of Vietnam, from 26 August to 9 December 1968. When the First Marine Regiment was deployed from the Napoleon/Saline II Tactical Area of Responsibility, the operational control of the area was assigned to the First Amphibian Tractor Battalion because of its versatility and competency. This assigned area of approximately thirty-two square miles encompassed some fourteen miles of river and waterways, eighteen miles of desert, and additional broken land ideally suited for harboring enemy ambush and sapper units. By conducting 543 day patrols and 675 night patrols, the battalion was instrumental in killing 3,476 of the enemy and capturing 613 individual weapons, as well as 19 crewserved weapons. In addition to performing duties of an infantry unit, the battalion carried out an intensive and conclusive combined action program which resulted in a highly proficient integrated Marine and Popular Force provisional rifle company. The "can do" attitude of the officers and men of the First Amphibian Tractor Battalion earned them the name "AmGrunts" (Amphibian Tractor Infantrymen). Through effective teamwork, aggressive fighting spirit, and the many individual acts of bravery, the First Amphibian Tractor Battalion, together with supporting Marine and Army units, dealt the enemy a severe blow, and in so doing demonstrated those qualities of valor and professional skill which were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service.

NINTH ENGINEER BATTALION, FLEET MARINE FORCE

CITATION:

For meritorious service while participating in operations against the insurgent communist (Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Army) forces in the Republic of Vietnam from 1 July 1968 to 31 May 1969. During this period the Ninth Engineer Battalion, under the operational control of the Commanding General, III Marine Amphibious Force, and administrative control of the Commanding General, First Marine Division, performed with distinction in maintaining, upgrading, and ensuring the operational readiness of 48 miles of National Route #1 through Quang Tin and Quang Nam Provinces, from Chu Lai to Dien Ban. Working closely with US Army, Republic of Korea, and Republic of Vietnam forces operating in the area, this vital route of communication was kept constantly open in spite of enemy interdiction with mines and demolitions and the ravages of flood conditions. By rapid installation of bypasses and tactical bridging, often in round-the-clock operations, each emergency was promptly reduced. From 1 July 1968 to 1 January 1969, working under the most adverse conditions of weather, location, and enemy harassment, the battalion completed a steel and timber bridge, 722 feet long, across the Song Ba Ren river in southern Quang Nam Province. The imagination, determination, and craftsmanship displayed in its construction marked it as a major engineering achievement. The speed and thoroughness with which this project was pursued in the face of the adversities of the elements and the enemy were a tribute to the complete professionalism and dogged determination of the unit. By their tireless efforts, resourcefulness, and individual acts of heroism, the officers and men of the Ninth Engineer Battalion achieved an illustrious record of courage and skill that were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service.

for service set forth in the following

CITATION:

For meritorious service in support of the national defense effort from 1 May 1967 to 1 May 1970. The Personnel of Program "C", a sensitive operation under the direction of the Assistant Chief of Naval Operations (Intelligence), displayed a continuous and exceptional degree of professionalism, determination, and resourcefulness in the performance of their duties. Through the technical skill of these personnel, the remarkably high order of analytical expertise in processing and reporting of highly sophisticated data, and overall initiative, foresight, ingenuity, judgment, and devotion to duty, Program "C" has made major contributions toward fulfilling significant gaps in vital US intelligence objectives. The performance of the personnel of Program "C" during this period was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Military Services.

PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION TO THE THIRD MARINE DIVISION (REINFORCED)

CITATION:

For extraordinary heroism and outstanding performance of duty in action against the North Vietnamese Army and Viet Cong forces in the Republic of Vietnam from 8 March 1965 to 15 September 1967. Throughout this period, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced), operating in the five northernmost provinces of the Republic of Vietnam, successfully executed its three-fold mission of occupying and defending key terrain, seeking out and destroying the enemy, and conducting an intensive pacification program. Operating in an area bordered by over 200 miles of South China Sea coastline, the mountainous Laotian border and the Demilitarized Zone, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced) successfully executed eighty major combat operations, carrying the battle to the enemy, destroying many of his forces, and capturing thousands of tons of weapons and materiel. In addition to these major operations, more than 125,000 offensive counterguerrilla actions, ranging from squad patrols and ambushes to company-sized search and destroy operations, were conducted in both the coastal rice lands and the mountainous jungle inland. These bitterly contested actions routed the enemy from his well-entrenched positions, denied him access to his source of food, restricted his freedom of movement, and removed his influence from the heavily populated areas. In numerous operations, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced) demonstrated the great efficacy of combined operations with units of the Army of the Republic of Vietnam. In July 1966, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced) moved to the north to counter major elements of the North Vietnamese Army moving across the Demilitarized Zone into the Province of Quang Tri; its units fought a series of savage battles against the enemy, repeatedly distinguishing themselves and, time and again, forcing the enemy to retreat across the Demilitarized Zone. Imbued with an unrelenting combat spirit and initiative and undeterred by heavy hostile artillery and mortar fire, extremely difficult terrain, incessant heat and monsoon rains, the Third Marine Division (Reinforced), employing courageous ground, heliborne and amphibious assaults, complemented by intense and accurate air, artillery, and naval gunfire support, inflicted great losses on the enemy and denied him the political and military victory he sought to achieve at any cost. The outstanding courage, resourcefulness, and aggressive fighting spirit of the officers and men of the Third Marine Division (Reinforced) in battle after battle against a well-equipped and well-trained enemy, often numerically superior in strength, and the great humanitarianism constantly shown to the peoples of the Republic of Vietnam, reflected great credit upon the Marine Corps and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Naval Service."

II___VALOROUS UNIT AWARD. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraphs 194 and 202.1, AR 672-5-1, the Valorous Unit Award is confirmed for the following named units of the United States Army for extraordinary heroism while engaged in military operations during the periods indicated as awarded by cited authority.

The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in commending

CITATION:

For exceptionally meritorious service in providing vitally needed logistic support to growing numbers of United States and Allied military personnel in a new and strange environment for the buildup of US counterinsurgency forces in the Republic of Vietnam from 1 July 1962 to 15 March 1966. With minimum resources and personnel, and in the face of extremely difficult conditions, including attacks from insurgent forces at all locations along and at the end of lengthy supply lines, Headquarters Support Activity, Saigon, skillfully and expeditiously provided all facets of urgently needed logistic support to thousands of United States and Allied military personnel assigned to the many and varied components of each of the United States and Allied Services stationed in the Republic of Vietnam. The notable record achieved by Headquarters Support Activity, Saigon, has been a strong contributing factor in the success of the United States effort in the Republic of Vietnam, and attests to the skill, teamwork, diligence and perseverance of the individual members of the Activity. Their loyal and inspiring devotion to duty reflects great credit upon themselves and the United States Naval Service.

THIRD MARINE REGIMENT, THIRD MARINE DIVISION (REIN), FMF

for service as set forth in the following

CITATION:

For exceptionally meritorious and heroic achievement during the period 30 April to 16 May 1968 while engaged in combat against enemy forces in the southeastern Cam Lo District, Quang Tri Province, Republic of Vietnam. Initiating counteraction against a numerically superior enemy force in the vicinity of Dai Do and along the strategically critical Thach Han River, the Third Marine Regiment demonstrated an outstandingly high degree of combat readiness and aggressiveness during a series of fiercely fought and bitterly opposed combat actions. In the face of heavy enemy small arms, mortar, and artillery fire, the Third Marine Regiment moved relentlessly forward and surmounted every obstacle to inflict over 1,500 casualties upon the enemy and capture large quantities of weapons and ammunition. The success achieved by the regiment and its attached Army and Air Force units precluded the closing of the Thach Han River—a communication and resupply route essential to units in the Northern I Corps area—and prevented the enemy from attacking and isolating the cities of Dong Ha and Quang Tri and their respective military complexes. By their valiant fighting spirit, efficient teamwork, professionalism, and dedication, the officers and men of the Third Marine Regiment and attached units achieved a resounding victory over the enemy and contributed essentially to United States efforts in Southeast Asia. Their inspiring performance reflected great credit upon themselves and the Marine Corps, and was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Armed Forces.

- 3. Award of the Navy Unit Commendation to the following United States Army units is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1.
  - 29th Civil Affairs Company (For the period 12 June 1966 to 30 June 1968) 244th Psychological Operations Company (For the period 6 May 1965 to 30 November 1967)
  - 7th Psychological Battalion (For the period 1 December 1967 to 30 June 1968)

The Secretary of the Navy takes pleasure in presenting

THE NAVY UNIT COMMENDATION TO HEADQUARTERS, III MARINE AMPHIBIOUS FORCE

CITATION:

For exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service in connection with operations against insurgent communist (Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Army) forces in the Republic of Vietnam from 6 May 1965 to 30 June 1968. Demonstrating an exceptional degree of professionalism, the Headquarters, III Marine Amphibious Force provided operational control and coordination for a force that grew, during the period, to be the largest force ever committed to the field under command of a US Marine Headquarters. By 30 June 1968, the Force, consisting of US Marine Corps, Army, Navy, and Air Force units, had aggressively conducted 230 major combat operations in the I Corps Tactical Zone resulting in resounding defeat for communist aggression in the Republic of Vietnam. Although primarily concerned with combat operations, the Headquarters vigorously pursued a civic action program designed to aid the stricken Vietnamese populace while concurrently encouraging trust and confidence in the local and national governments. A highly successful Combined Action Program was developed by the Headquarters which provided for deployment of combined United States-Popular Force units to 115 Vietnamese hamlets, thereby providing security for approximately 280,000 citizens. Tasked with control and coordination of all aspects of combat operations of the huge force, the Headquarters provided aggressive planning, coordination, and leadership in such areas as intelligence, combat and service support, logistics, morale and personnel services, health, recreation and welfare, and a multitude of related responsibilities. The effective teamwork, indomitable spirit, and loyal devotion to duty of the officers and men of Headquarters, III Marine Amphibious Force provided a significant contribution to the success of the military assistance effort in the Republic of Vietnam and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service.

THE MERITORIOUS UNIT COMMENDATION TO

for service as set forth in the following

CITATION:

For meritorious service in close combat against the North Vietnamese Army and insurgent communist (Viet Cong) forces in Quang Tri Province, Republic of Vietnam, from 26 August to 9 December 1968. When the First Marine Regiment was deployed from the Napoleon/Saline II Tactical Area of Responsibility, the operational control of the area was assigned to the First Amphibian Tractor Battalion because of its versatility and competency. This assigned area of approximately thirty-two square miles encompassed some fourteen miles of river and waterways, eighteen miles of desert, and additional broken land ideally suited for harboring enemy ambush and sapper units. By conducting 543 day patrols and 675 night patrols, the battalion was instrumental in killing 3,476 of the enemy and capturing 613 individual weapons, as well as 19 crewserved weapons. In addition to performing duties of an infantry unit, the battalion carried out an intensive and conclusive combined action program which resulted in a highly proficient integrated Marine and Popular Force provisional rifle company. The "can do" attitude of the officers and men of the First Amphibian Tractor Battalion earned them the name "AmGrunts" (Amphibian Tractor Infantrymen). Through effective teamwork, aggressive fighting spirit, and the many individual acts of bravery, the First Amphibian Tractor Battalion, together with supporting Marine and Army units, dealt the enemy a severe blow, and in so doing demonstrated those qualities of valor and professional skill which were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service.

2. Award of the Meritorious Unit Commendation (Navy) to the following United States Army units is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1.

THE MERITORIOUS UNIT COMMENDATION

NINTH ENGINEER BATTALION, FLEET MARINE FORCE for service as set forth in the following CITATION:

For meritorious service while participating in operations against the insurgent communist (Viet Cong and North Vietnamese Army) forces in the Republic of Vietnam from 1 July 1968 to 31 May 1969. During this period the Ninth Engineer Battalion, under the operational control of the Commanding General, III Marine Amphibious Force, and administrative control of the Commanding General, First Marine Division, performed with distinction in maintaining, upgrading, and ensuring the operational readiness of 48 miles of National Route #1 through Quang Tin and Quang Nam Provinces, from Chu Lai to Dien Ban. Working closely with US Army, Republic of Korea, and Republic of Vietnam forces operating in the area, this vital route of communication was kept constantly open in spite of enemy interdiction with mines and demolitions and the ravages of flood conditions. By rapid installation of bypasses and tactical bridging, often in round-the-clock operations, each emergency was promptly reduced. From 1 July 1968 to 1 January 1969, working under the most adverse conditions of weather, location, and enemy harassment, the battalion completed a steel and timber bridge, 722 feet long, across the Song Ba Ren river in southern Quang Nam Province. The imagination, determination, and craftsmanship displayed in its construction marked it as a major engineering achievement. The speed and thoroughness with which this project was pursued in the face of the adversities of the elements and the enemy were a tribute to the complete professionalism and dogged determination of the unit. By their tireless efforts, resourcefulness, and individual acts of heroism, the officers and men of the Ninth Engineer Battalion achieved an illustrious record of courage and skill that were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Marine Corps and the United States Naval Service.

3. Award of the Meritorious Unit Commendation (Navy) to the following United States Army unit is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1.

AWARD OF THE MEDAL OF HONOR

By direction of the President, under the Joint Resolution of Congress approved 12 July 1862 (amended by act of 3 March 1863, act of 9 July 1918 and act of 25 July 1963), the Medal of Honor for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of life above and beyond the call of duty is awarded by the Department of the Army in the name of Congress to:

Staff Sergeant James L. Bondsteel, 367-48-2299, United States Army, who distinguished himself on 24 May 1969 while serving as a platoon sergeant with Company A, 2d Battalion, 2d Infantry, 1st Infantry Division, near the village of Lang Sau, An Loc Province, Republic of Vietnam. Company A was directed to assist a friendly unit which was endangered by intense fire from a North Vietnamese Battalion located in a heavily fortified base camp. Sergeant Bondsteel quickly organized the men of his platoon into effective combat teams and spearheaded the attack by destroying four enemy occupied bunkers. He then raced some 200 meters under heavy enemy fire to reach an adjoining platoon which had begun to falter. After rallying this unit and assisting their wounded. Sergeant Bondsteel returned to his own sector with critically needed munitions. Without pausing he moved to the forefront and destroyed four enemy-occupied bunkers and a machine gun which had threatened his advancing platoon. Although painfully wounded by an enemy grenade, Sergeant Bondsteel refused medical attention and continued his assault by neutralizing two more enemy bunkers nearby. While searching one of these emplacements Sergeant Bondsteel narrowly escaped death when an enemy soldier detonated a grenade at close range. Shortly thereafter he ran to the aid of a severely wounded officer and struck down an enemy soldier who was threatening the officer's life. Sergeant Bondsteel then continued to rally his men and to lead them through the entrenched enemy until his company was relieved. His exemplary leadership and great personal courage throughout the four-hour battle ensured the success of his own and nearby units, and resulted in the saving of numerous lives of his fellow soldiers. By individual acts of bravery he destroyed ten enemy bunkers and accounted for a large toll of the enemy, including two key enemy commanders. Staff Sergeant Bondsteel's conspicuous gallantry and extraordinary heroism at the risk of his life are in the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

AWARD OF THE MEDAL OF HONOR

By direction of the President, under the Joint Resolution of Congress approved 12 July 1862 (amended by act of 3 March 1863, act of 9 July 1918 and act of 25 July 1963), the Medal of Honor for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of life above and beyond the call of duty is awarded by the Department of the Army in the name of Congress to:

Private First Class (then Private) Kenneth M. Kays, 334-46-7766, United States Army, who distinguished himself on May 7, 1970 while serving as a medical aidman with Company D, 1st Battalion, 506th Infantry, 101st Airborne Division near Fire Support Base Maureen, Thua Thien Province, Republic of Vietnam. On that date a heavily armed force of enemy sappers and infantrymen assaulted Company D's night defensive position, wounding and killing a number of its members. Disregarding the intense enemy fire and ground assault, Private Kays began moving toward the perimeter to assist his fallen comrades. In doing so he became the target of concentrated enemy fire and explosive charges, one of which severed the low portion of his left leg. After applying a tourniquet to his own leg, Private Kays moved to the fire-swept perimeter, administered medical aid to one of the wounded, and helped him to an area of relative safety. Despite his own severe wound and excruciating pain. Private Kays returned to the perimeter in search of other wounded men. He treated another wounded comrade and, using his own body as a shield against enemy bullets and fragments, moved him to safety. Although weakened from a great loss of blood, Private Kays resumed his heroic lifesaving efforts by moving beyond the Company's perimeter into enemy-held territory to treat a wounded American lying there. Only after his fellow wounded soldiers had been treated and evacuated did Private Kays allow his own wounds to be treated. These courageous acts by Private Kays resulted in the saving of numerous lives and inspired others in his Company to repel the enemy. Private Kays' conspicuous gallantry and heroism at the risk of his life are in keeping with the highest traditions of the service and reflect great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

Sergeant First Class Gary L. Littrell, 309-44-2110, United States Army, United States Military Assistance Command, Vietnam, Advisory Team 21, who distinguished himself during the period April 4 to 8, 1970 while serving as a Light Weapons Infantry Advisor with the 23rd Battalion, 2nd Ranger Group, Republic of Vietnam Army, near Dak Seang in Kontum Province, Republic of Vietnam. After establishing a defensive perimeter on a hill on April 4, the battalion was subjected to an intense enemy mortar attack which killed the Vietnamese commander, one advisor, and seriously wounded all the advisors except Sergeant Littrell. During the ensuing four days, Sergeant Littrell exhibited near superhuman endurance and conspicuous gallantry as he singlehandedly bolstered the besieged battalion. Repeatedly abandoning positions of relative safety, he directed artillery and air support by day and marked the unit's location by night, despite the heavy, concentrated enemy fire. His dauntless will instilled in the men of the 23d Battalion a deep desire to resist. Assault after assault was repulsed as the battalion responded to the extraordinary leadership and personal example exhibited by Sergeant Littrell as he continuously moved to those points most seriously threatened by the enemy, redistributed ammunition, strengthened faltering defenses, cared for the wounded and shouted encouragement to the Vietnamese in their own language. When the beleaguered battalion was finally ordered to withdraw, numerous ambushes were encountered. Sergeant Littrell repeatedly prevented widespread disorder by directing air strikes to within 50 meters of their position. Through his indomitable courage and complete disregard for his safety, he averted excessive loss of life and injury to the members of the battalion. The sustained extraordinary courage and selflessness displayed by Sergeant Littrell over an extended period of time were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on him and the United States Army.

AWARD OF THE MEDAL OF HONOR

By direction of the President, under the Joint Resolution of Congress approved 12 July 1862 (amended by act of 3 March 1863, act of 9 July 1918 and act of 25 July 1963), the Medal of Honor for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of life above and beyond the call of duty is awarded by the Department of the Army in the name of Congress to:

First Lieutenant Brian M. Thacker, 001-34-4571, Field Artillery, United States Army, Battery A, 1st Battalion, 92d Artillery, who distinguished himself on March 31, 1971 while serving as the team leader of an Integrated Observation System collocated with elements of two Army of the Republic of Vietnam units at Fire Base 6 in Kontum Province, Republic of Vietnam. On that date, a numerically superior North Vietnamese Army force launched a well-planned dawn attack on the small, isolated hilltop fire base. Employing rockets, grenades, flame throwers, and automatic weapons, the enemy forces penetrated the perimeter defenses and engaged the defenders in hand-to-hand combat. Throughout the morning and early afternoon, Lieutenant Thacker rallied and encouraged the United States and Republic of Vietnam soldiers in heroic efforts to repulse the enemy. He occupied a dangerously exposed observation position for a period of four hours while directing friendly air strikes and artillery fire against the assaulting enemy forces. His personal bravery and inspired leadership enabled the outnumbered friendly forces to inflict a maximum of casualties on the attacking enemy forces and prevented the base from being overrun. By late afternoon, the situation had become untenable. Lieutenant Thacker organized and directed the withdrawal of the remaining friendly forces. With complete disregard for his personal safety, he remained inside the perimeter alone to provide covering fire with his M-16 rifle until all other friendly forces had escaped from the besieged fire base. Then, in an act of supreme courage, he called for friendly artillery fire on his own position to allow his comrades more time to withdraw safely from the area and, at the same time, inflict even greater casualties on the enemy forces. Although wounded and unable to escape from the area himself, he successfully eluded the enemy forces for eight days until friendly forces regained control of the fire base. The extraordinary courage and selflessness displayed by Lieutenant Thacker were an inspiration to his comrades and are in the highest traditions of the military service.

 $I_{--}MERITORIOUS$  UNIT COMMENDATION. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 203, AR 672-5-1, the Meritorious Unit Commendation is awarded to the following unit of the Armed Forces of the United States for exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service during the period indicated:

THE DEFENSE COMMUNICATIONS AGENCY SOUTHEAST ASIA MAINLAND REGION AND ASSIGNED DETACHMENTS: DEFENSE COMMUNICATIONS AGENCY SOUTHEAST ASIA

MAINLAND REGION, REPUBLIC OF VIETNAM (1 JUNE 1970 THROUGH 31 MAY 1971)

DEFENSE COMMUNICATIONS AGENCY SOUTHEAST ASIA MAINLAND REGION, THAILAND (1 JUNE 1970 THROUGH 31 MAY 1971)

The citation reads as follows:

The Defense Communications Agency Southeast Asia Mainland Region and assigned detachments distinguished themselves in support of military operations against a hostile armed force in the Republic of Vietnam from 1 June 1970 through 31 May 1971. The members of this joint service agency demonstrated extraordinary diligence and initiative, and consummate skill in providing operational direction and management control over the most complex system of communications ever assembled in support of combat operations. With the agency working in coordination and cooperation with Army, Navy, and Air Force operating and maintaining agencies, over 5000 circuits making up the long-haul communications capability in the Southeast Asia Mainland Region have been upgraded and tailored to provide COMUSMACV, COMUS MACTHAI, and other commanders and staffs with highly reliable, nearcommercial-quality communications service. The Agency consistently provided key commanders and staffs with data and status on system performance and assumed a commanding role in the early detection and correction of situations which could affect system performance. Throughout this period, the Southeast Asia Mainland Region has provided outstanding management through engineering, planning, implementing, analyzing, and directing of the vast network of high quality, multi-channel voice, teletypewriter, and data communications to free world allied forces and United States Government agencies. Operating under conditions of adverse environment and subjected to hostile action, members of this Agency persevered selflessly to meet quality criteria and long-haul reliability in support of troop redeployments, combat missions, and critical command and control objectives. The outstanding proficiency and devotion to duty displayed by personnel of the Defense Communications Agency Southeast Asia Mainland Region are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military services and reflect great credit on them and the Armed Forces of the United States.

THE UNITED STATES ARMY MEDICAL CENTER, RYUKYU ISLANDS

The citation reads as follows:

The United States Army Medical Center, Ryukyu Islands, distinguished itself by exceptionally meritorious service in support of military operations in Southeast Asia during the period 1 November 1968 to 30 April 1971. During this period the United States Army Medical Center fulfilled its mission as an integral link in the medical-care chain and as the primary medical supply and maintenance support activity for the United States and Allied Forces in Southeast Asia. Through a selfless devotion to duty, the professional and administrative elements of the United States Army Medical Center welded their professional efforts together in a cohesive, directed effort to accomplish the mission of providing the best medical care to patients injured or infected eight to ten thousand miles from the continental United States. Extending 30.8 percent of its military in-patient care effort in support of Republic of Vietnam patients, the United States Army Medical Center distinguished itself by the comprehensive, timely, and compassionate care which it provided. Indeed, the sensitive medical care and the responsive supply procedures offered by the United States Army Medical Center are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on the United States Army, Ryukyu Islands; the United States Army, Pacific; and the Department of the Army.

2. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 203, AR 672-5-1, the Meritorious Unit Commendation is awarded to the following unit of the United States Army for exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service during the period indicated:

THE 83D RADIO RESEARCH SPECIAL OPERATIONS UNIT

UNITED STATES ARMY

The citation reads as follows:

The 83d Radio Research Special Operations Unit distinguished itself by exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding services in support of United States objectives in southeast Asia during the period June 1969 to October 1970. Throughout this period, the members of the unit consistently demonstrated outstanding professional ability and dedication in providing supported commands with timely and accurate information on which to base their intelligence estimates. In numerous instances, the operational achievements of the Radio Research Special Operations Unit were the object of laudatory comments from such supported commands as Military Assistance Command, Vietnam and the Seventh Air Force/Thirteenth Air Force. Operating as a well-trained team, the unit constantly revised and adapted its mission to meet the changing requirements of the supported commands. From their operational site in Bangkok, the men of the 83d Radio Research Special Operations Unit worked long and arduous hours beyond those normally expected in order to insure a 24-hour-a-day flow of information to vitally interested commanders who were often conducting combat operations against hostile forces in southeast Asia. Through its initiative, resourcefulness, ability to adapt the mission to support rapidly changing requirements of the tactical commanders, and readiness to take any action necessary to increase its support capabilities the 83d Radio Research Special Operations Unit contributed significantly to the success of counterinsurgency efforts in southeast Asia. The outstanding professional skill, devotion to duty and esprit de corps displayed by the members of the unit are in the finest traditions of the military service and reflect the utmost credit on them, their unit and the United States Army.

3. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 203, AR 672-5-1, the Meritorious Unit Commendation is awarded to the following unit of the United States Army for exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service during the period indicated:

587TH MEDICAL DETACHMENT UNITED STATES ARMY

The citation reads as follows:

The 587th Medical Detachment, United States Army Medical Command, Japan, distinguished itself by exceptionally meritorious service in support of patient care for patients aeromedically evacuated from the Republic of Vietnam to United States Forces hospitals in Japan from the period 1 June 1968 to 31 December 1970. The detachment had the unique mission of providing helicopter ambulance service to six hospitals because of the impractical use of ground transportation due to narrow roads; congested traffic conditions; and long, arduous rides. With at first six, and later nine, UH-1D helicopters authorized for the detachment, the unit met the demanding requirements in an outstanding manner. The limited number of aircraft which required extensive maintenance did not preclude the unit from establishing the incredibly high record of 7,406 patient movements while flying 544 hours in one month. During peak periods, it was not uncommon for unit pilots and crewmen to fly and work 45 days without relief. Unit maintenance crews worked throughout the night and on weekends to insure that their helicopters were mission-ready. Especially noteworthy was the unit's resourcefulness, enthusiasm, and technical skill, which resulted in an average of 80-percent aircraft availability, which is 5 percent higher than the level set by Department of the Army, although the unit's aircraft were flown much above the Department of the Army Flying Hour Program. The detachment flew a grand total of 11,017 hours, while moving 128,420 patients and 38,042 pounds of urgently needed whole blood and medical supplies without a major accident. The detachment also had the additional mission of providing Search and Rescue for the Central Honshu-Kanto Plains area and prevented loss of life on several occasions. The professional ability and devotion to duty of its members, coupled with the exceptional accomplishments of the 587th Medical Detachment, reflect the utmost credit on the unit, the United States Army Medical Department, and the United States Army.

By direction of the President, under the Joint Resolution of Congress approved 12 July 1862 (amended by act of 3 March 1863, act of 9 July 1918 and act of 25 July 1963), the Medal of Honor for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of life above and beyond the call of duty is awarded posthumously by the Department of the Army in the name of Congress to:

First Lieutenant Russell A. Steindam, 455-74-5716, United States Army, Troop B, 3d Squadron, 4th Cavalry, 25th Infantry Division, who, while serving as a platoon leader in Tay Ninh Province, Republic of Vietnam, led members of his platoon on a night ambush operation on 1 February 1970. On the way to the ambush site, suspected enemy movement was detected on one flank and the platoon's temporary position was subjected to intense small arms and automatic weapons fire as well as a fusillade of hand and rocket-propelled grenades. After the initial barrage, Lieutenant Steindam ordered fire placed on the enemy position and the wounded men to be moved to a shallow bomb crater. As he directed the return fire against the enemy from his exposed position, a fragmentation grenade was thrown into the site occupied by his command group. Instantly realizing the extreme gravity of the situation, Lieutenant Steindam shouted a warning to alert his fellow soldiers in the in:nediate vicinity. Then, unhesitatingly and with complete disregard for his own safety, Lieutenant Steindam deliberately threw himself on the grenade, absorbing the full and fatal force of the explosion as it detonated. By his gallant action and selfsacrifice, he was able to save the lives of the nearby members of his command group. The extraordinary courage and selflessness displayed by Lieutenant Steindam were an inspiration to his comrades and are in the highest traditions of the United States Army.

By direction of the President, under the Joint Resolution of Congress approved 12 July 1862 (amended by act of 3 March 1863, act of 9 July 1918 and act of 25 July 1963), the Medal of Honor for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of life above and beyond the call of duty is awarded posthumously by the Department of the Army in the name of Congress to:

Second Lieutenant Robert R. Leisy, 532-44-6403, Infantry, United States Army, Company B, 1st Battalion, 8th Cavalry, 1st Cavalry Division, who distinguished himself on 2 December 1969 while serving as platoon leader during a reconnaissance mission in Phuoc Long Province, Republic of Vietnam, One of his patrols became heavily engaged by fire from a numerically superior enemy force located in a well-entrenched bunker complex. As Lieutenant Leisy deployed the remainder of his platoon to rescue the beleaguered patrol, the platoon also came under intense enemy fire from the front and both flanks. In complete disregard for his own safety, Lieutenant Leisy moved from position to position deploying his men to effectively engage the enemy. Accompanied by his radio operator he moved to the front and spotted an enemy sniper in a tree in the act of firing a rocket-propelled grenade at them. Realizing there was neither time to escape the grenade nor shout a warning, Lieutenant Leisy unhesitatingly, and with full knowledge of the consequences, shielded the radio operator with his body and absorbed the full impact of the explosion. This valorous act saved the life of the radio operator and protected other men of his platoon who were nearby from serious injury. Despite his mortal wounds, Lieutenant Leisy calmly and confidently continued to direct the platoon's fire. When medical aid arrived, Lieutenant Leisy valiantly refused attention until the other seriously wounded were treated. His display of extraordinary courage and exemplary devotion to duty provided the inspiration and leadership that enabled his platoon to successfully withdraw without further casualties. Lieutenant Leisy's conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the cost of his own life are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

Sergeant Donald S. Skidgel, 007-50-4732, United States Army, who distinguished himself on 14 September 1969 while serving as a reconnaissance section leader in Troop D, 1st Squadron, 9th Cavalry, 1st Cavalry Division. On a road near Song Be in Binh Long Province, Sergeant Skidgel and his section with other elements of his troop were acting as a convoy security and screening force when contact occurred with an estimated enemy battalion concealed in tall grass and in bunkers bordering the road. Sergeant Skidgel maneuvered off the road and began placing effective machinegun fire on the enemy automatic weapons and rocket-propelled grenade positions. After silencing at least one position, he ran with his machinegun across 60 meters of bullet-swept ground to another location from which he continued to rake the enemy positions. Running low on ammunition, he returned to his vehicle over the same terrain. Moments later he was alerted that the command element was receiving intense automatic weapons, rocket-propelled grenade and mortar fire. Although he knew the road was saturated with enemy fire, Sergeant Skidgel calmly mounted his vehicle and with his driver advanced toward the command group in an effort to draw the enemy fire onto himself. Despite the hostile fire concentrated on him, he succeeded in silencing several enemy positions with his machinegun. Moments later Sergeant Skidgel was knocked down onto the rear fender by the explosion of an enemy rocket-propelled grenade. Ignoring his extremely painful wounds, he staggered back to his feet and placed effective fire on several other enemy positions until he was mortally wounded by hostile small arms fire. His selfless actions enabled the command group to withdraw to better positions without casualties and inspired the rest of his fellow soldiers to gain fire superiority and defeat the enemy. Sergeant Skidgel's conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the cost of his life were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on him, his unit and the United States Army.

When the platoon came under intense fire from a determined enemy located in two heavily fortified bunkers, and realizing that withdrawal would result in heavy casualties, Sergeant Buker unhesitatingly, and with complete disregard for his personal safety, charged through the hail of enemy fire and destroyed the first bunker with hand grenades. While reorganizing his men for the attack on the second bunker, Sergeant Buker was seriously wounded. Despite his wounds and the deadly enemy fire, he crawled forward and destroyed the second bunker. Sergeant Buker refused medical attention and was reorganizing his men to continue the attack when he was mortally wounded. Specialist LaPointe's patrol was advancing from the landing zone through an adjoining valley when it suddenly encountered heavy automatic weapons fire from a large enemy force entrenched in well-fortified bunker positions. In the initial hail of fire, two soldiers in the formation vanguard were seriously wounded. Hearing a call for aid from one of the wounded, Specialist LaPointe ran forward through heavy fire to assist his fallen comrades. To reach the wounded men, he was forced to crawl directly in view of an enemy bunker. As members of his unit attempted to provide covering fire, he administered first aid to one man, shielding the other with his body. He was hit by a burst of fire from the bunker while attending the wounded soldier. In spite of his own painful wounds, Specialist LaPointe continued his lifesaving duties until he was again wounded and knocked to the ground. Making strenuous efforts, he moved back again into a shielding position to continue administering first aid. An exploding enemy grenade mortally wounded all three men. Specialist LaPointe's courageous actions at the cost of his own life were an inspiration to his comrades. # AWARD OF THE MEDAL OF HONOR

By direction of the President, under the Joint Resolution of Congress approved 12 July 1862 (amended by act of 3 March 1863, act of 9 July 1918 and act of 25 July 1963), the Medal of Honor for conspicious gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of life above and beyond the call of duty is awarded posthumously by the Department of the Army in the name of Congress to:

Corporal Michael F. Folland, 230-64-9853, United States Army, who distinguished himself on 3 July 1969 while serving as an ammunition bearer with the weapons platoon of Company D, 2d Battalion, 3d Infantry, 199th Infantry Brigade during a reconnaissance patrol mission in Long Khanh Province, Republic of Vietnam. As the patrol was moving through a dense jungle area, it was caught in an intense crossfire from heavily fortified and concealed enemy ambush positions. As the patrol reacted to neutralize the ambush, it became evident that the heavy weapons could not be used in the cramped fighting area. Corporal Folland dropped his recoilless rifle ammunition and ran forward to join his commander in an assault on the enemy bunkers. The assaulting force moved forward until it was pinned down directly in front of the heavily fortified bunkers by machinegun fire. Corporal Folland stood up to draw enemy fire on himself and to place suppressive fire on the enemy positions while his commander attempted to destroy the machinegun positions with grenades. Before the officer could throw a grenade, an enemy grenade landed in the position. Corporal Folland alerted his comrades and his commander hurled the grenade from the position. When a second enemy grenade landed in the position, Corporal Folland again shouted a warning to his fellow soldiers. Seeing that no one could reach the grenade and realizing that it was about to explode, Corporal Folland, with complete disregard for his own safety, threw himself on the grenade. By his dauntless courage, Corporal Folland saved the lives of his comrades although he was mortally wounded by the explosion. Corporal Folland's extraordinary heroism, at the cost of his life, was in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflects great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

 $I_{--}DISTINGUISHED$  SERVICE CROSS. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 25 July 1963, the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action is awarded posthumously to:

Captain James D. Birchim, 530-30-4771 (then First Lieutenant), Chemical Corps, United States Army, Special Operations Augmentation, Command and Control Central, 5th Special Forces Group, 1st Special Forces, who distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism in connection with military operations involving conflict with an armed hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam on 15 November 1968, while serving as the team leader of a Special Forces long-range reconnaissance team operating deep within enemy-controlled territory with the mission of locating a missing team. After 3 days of fruitless search, Captain Birchim's team was ambushed by an enemy force. The team executed immediate actions to break contact. During the withdrawal, which scattered the team, Captain Birchim's ankle was broken by an exploding enemy grenade. In spite of his wounds, he successfully reassembled the team, led them out of the ambush area, and directed air strikes against the enemy. As the team moved toward an extraction zone, they were attacked twice by enemy forces. On both occasions, Captain Birchim's aggressive and courageous leadership enabled the team to break contact and continue toward the extraction site. During the last exchange, Captain Birchim was again wounded by an enemy grenade. At the extraction site, one of the helicopter's extraction ropes was rendered useless when it became tangled in the trees. After insuring that all other members of the team were secured in the remaining harnesses, Captain Birchim seized one of the extraction ropes in an attempt to ride "double" out of the jungle to safety. Weak from his wounds and exhausted by his efforts, Captain Birchim fell from the extraction rope during a storm on the return trip. Captain Birchim's extraordinary heroism and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest military traditions and reflects great honor on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

II__SILVER STAR. 1. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded to:

Lieutenant Colonel Lee E. Duke, 183-20-4322, Armor, United States Army, who distinguished himself by gallantry in action while engaged in operations against a hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam on 29 December 1968 while serving as Commanding Officer, 2d Squadron, 11th Armored Cavalry Regiment. At approximately 1130 hours on that day, Colonel Duke was performing normal command and control functions from his helicopter when he received a call for assistance from another ship from the 2d Squadron Air Section which had engaged and wounded several enemy soldiers. Arriving at the scene of the action, Colonel Duke observed that the sister aircraft had landed and the pilot had dismounted in an attempt to capture several of the enemy. Colonel Duke immediately ordered friendly forces in the area to move to assist in developing the situation. He then ordered his pilot to land the aircraft, whereupon he dismounted to assist the elements on the ground. By this time, the area was under fire. Colonel Duke dragged several wounded enemy soldiers to a clearing where they might be evacuated and, while en route, captured another enemy soldier. He then returned to his aircraft to direct the approach of the reaction force as it arrived. Hovering over the area of the fierce engagement, Colonel Duke marked pockets of enemy resistance for the maneuvering ground forces. With complete disregard for his own safety, and in the face of the intense enemy ground fire directed at his aircraft, he continued to control the action until his own ship was hit by a burst of automatic weapons fire, requiring a forced landing not more than 50 meters from the ensuing battle. On the ground, he continued to direct the action until the enemy force had been completely destroyed. Colonel Duke's outstanding devotion to duty, professional ability, and personal courage were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

2. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded to:

Sergeant Larry D. Cook, 316-42-1543, United States Army, who distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous action on 10 July 1969 while serving as a squad leader in Company B, 3d Battalion, 47th Infantry, during an airmobile operation in Kien Hoa Province, Republic of Vietnam, During the operation, elements of the company supported by Troop D, 3d Squadron, 5th Cavalry, encountered a large enemy force in a dense woodline. In the ensuing action, the company commander was wounded and evacuated, increasing the responsibility of subordinate leaders, including Sergeant Cook. Under heavy enemy fire, Sergeant Cook led his men against two dug-in enemy emplacements, capturing the emplacements and eliminating the enemy. During this action, Sergeant Cook took up an exposed position in order to direct the attack, ignoring the danger to which he was exposed. He personally was responsible for the elimination of three of the enemy and personally captured two rifles, three grenades, one enemy rocket launcher, more than 400 rounds of ammunition, and other valuable supplies. Sergeant Cook's extraordinary heroism in close combat against an armed hostile force was in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflects great credit on him, the 9th Infantry Division, and the United States Army.

3. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded to:

Specialist Five Langdon E. Homer, 524-58-4296, United States Army, who distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous action on 15 September 1967 while serving as a medical aidman with Company C, 3d Battalion, 60th Infantry, 9th Infantry Division during Operation Coronado in Dinh Tuong Province, Republic of Vietnam. During the operation, his unit encountered heavy fire from a numerically superior enemy force armed with grenades, rockets, recoilless rifles, and automatic weapons. His unit was pinned down in the face of the withering enemy fire; however, Specialist Homer, with complete disregard for his own safety, exposed himself to the intense weapons fire while moving from one position to another to give medical aid to his wounded comrades. He treated 18 of his fellow soldiers. Because of his dedicated and heroic actions, the unit was able to mount an attack through marshes and waist-deep mud and drive the enemy from the position. Specialist Homer's heroism in close combat against an armed hostile force was in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him, the 9th Infantry Division, and the United States Army.

III__SILVER STAR. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded to:

Special Colonel Yutasin Kesornsuk, 183-67-00347, Royal Thai Army, who distinguished himself by exceptionally heroic actions in connection with ground operations against a hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam on 19 October 1970 in Long Thanh District, Bien Hoa Province, while serving as 2d Brigade Commander, Royal Thai Army Volunteer Force. On that day, two platoons of the 2d Brigade made contact with a large enemy force in well-concealed bunkers. Colonel Yutasin was directing the contact from his helicopter over the position. The friendly troops pulled back, and artillery, gunships, and air strikes were placed on the enemy bunkers. In order to exploit the situation immediately after the air strike, Colonel Yutasin landed his helicopter and personally led the force back into the bunker complex with no concern for his own safety. When the friendly unit again came under heavy fire, he directed the destruction of the enemy force and continued into the enemy complex. Under his command, the unit continued searching out the area. Colonel Yutasin's actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the Royal Thai Army.

IV__LEGION OF MERIT. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 20 July 1942 and Executive Order 10600, 15 March 1953, the Legion of Merit (Degree of Commander) for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service is awarded to:

Lieutenant General Juan Castanon de Mena, Army of Spain. October 1969 to May 1971.

General Hayao Kinugass, Army of Japan. July 1970 to December 1970.

General Francesco Mereu, Italian Army. January 1970 to January 1971.

General Antonio Carlos da Silva Muricy, 1G-88.916, Brazilian Army. April 1969 to December 1970.

Major General Richard J. H. Webb, New Zealand Army. March 1970 to July 1971.

 $V_{--}LEGION OF MERIT.$  By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 20 July 1942 and Executive Order 10600, 15 March 1953, The Legion of Merit (Degree of Officer) for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service is awarded posthumously to:

Brigadier General Kim Jong Whan, 12840, Republic of Korea Army. December 1967 to November 1969.

VI__LEGION OF MERIT. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 20 July 1942 and Executive Order 10600, 15 March 1953, the Legion of Merit (Degree of Officer) for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service is awarded to:

Brigadier General Teferi Banti, Army of Ethiopia. November 1965 to July 1970.

Brigadier General Nguyen Chan, 51/200489, Army of the Republic of Vietnam. August 1969 to August 1970.

Major General Bulrit Dardarananda, Royal Thai Army. October 1964 to November 1968.

Special Colonel Phin Gesorn, RT2485PJ861, Royal Thai Army. January 1966 to August 1970.

Colonel Kjell Laugerud, Army of Guatemala. May 1968 to July 1970.

Major General Alber M.E. Guerisse, Belgian Army. November 1966 to June 1970.

Brigadier General Lee Joo Ho, Republic of Korea Army. October 1968 to November 1970.

Brigadier General Park Tae Hyun, 14762, Republic of Korea Army. August 1969 to July 1970.

Lieutenant General Hsu Ju-Jih, 506122, Republic of China Army. May 1969 to October 1970.

Special Colonel Yutasin Kesornsuk, 1836700347, Royal Thai Army. February 1970 to January 1971.

Brigadier General Roberto Marcelo Levingston, Army of Argentina. January 1969 to June 1970.

Brigadier General Yoo Sam Suck, Republic of Korea Army. March 1969 to November 1970.

VII___LEGION OF MERIT. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 20 July 1942 and Executive Order 10600, 15 March 1953, the Legion of Merit (Degree of Legionnaire) for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service is awarded to:

Lieutenant Colonel Walter Cremer, 300-819-C-2151, Army of the Federal Republic of Germany. August 1965 to September 1970.

VIII__DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS. By direction of the President, under the Provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Distinguished Flying Cross for heroism while participating in aerial flight is awarded to:

Captain Jack W. Revels, 249-50-5876, Corps of Engineers, United States Army, who distinguished himself by herosim on 10 April 1968, while serving as platoon leader on a combat operation in the Republic of Vietnam. During the extraction of American troops, a large enemy force engaged the helicopters led by Captain Revels with intense automatic weapons and mortar fire. Throughout the ensuing operation, Captain Revels repeatedly led his flight through the heavy enemy fire. At the completion of the scheduled extraction, Captain Revels learned that four soldiers had inadvertently been left in the pick-up zone. Realizing that the enemy would overrun the area at any moment, Captain Revels volunteered to extract the men. With complete disregard for his personal safety, Captain Revels flew his aircraft through a hail of intense hostile fire and landed in the pick-up zone. He displayed great bravery in remaining in the area until he was assured that all the remaining troops were aboard his aircraft. Displaying great professional competence and bravery, he flew his damaged aircraft through exploding mortars and automatic weapons fire to successfully conclude the accomplishment of his mission. Captain Revels' courageous act and extraordinary heroism in close combat against a numerically superior enemy force were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

 $IX_{--}$ DISTINGUISHED FLYING CROSS. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Distinguished Flying Cross (First Oak Leaf Cluster) for heroism while participating in aerial flight is awarded to:

Captain Jack W. Revels, 249-50-5876, Corps of Engineers, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism while participating in aerial flight over the Republic of Vietnam on 10 September 1968. On this date, Captain Revels was serving as Air Mission Commander on a combat assault of the 9th Infantry Division into an enemy stronghold. Upon landing in the landing zone, the ground force received heavy automatic weapons fire from two sides and, radio contact was immediately lost. The troops on the ground were caught in a murderous crossfire. Realizing the deteriorating situation and to prevent the complete annihilation of the unit, he braved enemy fire by flying at low level over the landing zone to mark the enemy's positions. At the same time, he coordinated airstrikes in the area. He repeatedly exposed himself to withering ground fire, ignoring any thoughts of personal harm, to aid the American unit. His courageous actions, quick thinking, and complete disregard for personal safety contributed immeasurably in saving the unit. Captain Revels' exemplary performance and heroic actions under hostile fire were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

 $X_{-.}$ SOLDIER'S MEDAL. 1. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Master Sergeant West F. Chappell, 267-42-0201, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism on 20 April 1971 while rescuing individuals who were trapped in a fire at the Imperial Hotel, Bangkok, Thailand. With complete disregard for his safety, Sergeant Chappell demonstrated great courage and composure in aiding persons who were forced to exit the structure through windows. He prevented numerous individuals from jumping to almost certain death on the concrete below by relaying them to the top of a bus parked beneath a ledge on the first floor of the hotel. Following this rescue action, he courageously entered the building at great personal risk and, battling dense smoke and flame, pounded on doors alerting the occupants to the danger; thereby preventing the possible loss of additional lives. His indomitable courage, under extremely dangerous circumstances, served as an inspiring example to all who were present. Sergeant Chappell's heroism reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

2. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

First Lieutenant Terrence E. Cooney, 051-38-4568, Corps of Engineers, United States Army, who distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous service while serving with Company D, 54th Engineer Battalion. On the afternoon of 22 December 1970, Lieutenant Cooney was directly responsible for saving a mother and her two small children from peril when a fire ignited on the third floor of building No. 8100 in the dependent housing area of McPheeters Barracks, Bad Hersfeld, Germany. The intense heat and smoke from the fire trapped the mother and her children in the quarters directly above the blazing apartment. When the fire started, Lieutenant Cooney realized the need for quick action. He immediately attempted to enter the stairwell, but was driven back by dense smoke and heat. Moments later, a noncommissioned officer enlisted Lieutenant Cooney's assistance in another rescue attempt. Discovering that the wrought iron railing bordering the tile roof would not support his weight, the noncommissioned officer asked for Lieutenant Cooney's help. Lieutenant Cooney, with a rope cinched around his waist, negotiated the steep snow- and ice-encrusted roof to the apartment window, some 40 feet above ground level. With the noncommissioned officer acting as an anchor, Lieutenant Cooney used the tether line to transfer the trapped residents to the window of the adjoining apartment. The heroic actions of Lieutenant Cooney averted a tragedy. The valorous actions of Lieutenant Cooney were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Army and reflected great credit on him and the military service.

3. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Carl G. Dinger, 285-34-0179, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism in the course of preventing the loss by fire of a valuable Model 60A1 tank at Nunenroth, Germany, on 31 October 1968. Sergeant Dinger, in cooperation with another soldier from his unit, ignoring shouted warnings to stay clear, proceeded to approach the burning vehicle, open the rear deck doors, and direct portable fire extinguishers into the engine compartment, thereby suffocating the fire. Further, Sergeant Dinger entered the tank while it was still ablaze and turned off the master switch and fuel pumps. He also removed live ammunition from the ready racks and extinguished flames on the inside of the vehicle; thus eliminating the possibility of an explosion. In the process of extinguishing the fire, Sergeant Dinger received burns on his face and hands. This act of heroism reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

4. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four David A. Dunaway, 556-78-7902, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fort Wainwright, Alaska on 27 April 1971. On that date, Specialist Dunaway, while assigned to the Fort Wainwright Fire Department, responded to a fire alarm in an eight-family apartment building. When Specialist Dunaway arrived at the scene of the fire, he was informed that a child was trapped in the burning apartment. With complete disregard for his personal safety, Specialist Dunaway donned his protective breathing apparatus and, without waiting for hoses to be laid, dashed through the back door of the smoke-filled, extremely low apartment to attempt the rescue of the child. Specialist Dunaway proceeded upstairs and searched two bedrooms before the intense heat and smoke almost overpowered him. He was unable to locate the child. Seeking to escape, he returned to the first floor of the apartment. By this time his breathing apparatus had malfunctioned due to extreme heat. Specialist Dunaway was then caught in an unexpected back flash, and his protective clothing ignited. He escaped through the back door when another firefighter entered with a hose. Specialist Dunaway was taken to Bassett Army Hospital, where it was announced he was in critical condition and he was treated for first, second, and third-degree burns on the face and hands. His courageous action and humanitarian regard for his fellowman reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

5. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Charles V. Elrod, 413-54-9681, United States Army, who distinguished himself by an act of heroism on 26 March 1971, while assigned to the United States Army Advisor Group (National Guard), Alaska, with station in Juneau, Alaska. Sergeant Elrod distinguished himself by saving the life of a 16-year-old youth who was in danger of drowning. With complete disregard for his life, he jumped into the icy water of Gastineau Channel, completely clothed, and rescued the drowning boy. The youth, who could not swim, had jumped into the water in an attempt to rescue his 6-year-old sister, who had fallen off the dock. After the youth had been safely brought to the dock by Sergeant Elrod, he pulled his clothes off and again jumped into the freezing water to search for the little girl. He continuously dove for the girl, remaining in the water for about 5 minutes, until he saw a boat approaching with the girl aboard. When he came out of the water, his feet and other parts of his body were completely numb. Sergeant Elrod's heroic action reflected great credit on him, the United States Army Alaska, and the United States Army.

Sergeant First Class Jose Garza, Jr., 465-50-8405, United States Army, who distinguished himself by exceptional heroism, at the risk of his life, by preventing serious injury and possible death of a fellow soldier. On 16 October 1970, Sergeant Garza was acting as Safety NCO on a transport aircraft participating in training for USARSO Jumpmaster Course 2-71, near Gatun Drop Zone, Canal Zone. Sergeant Garza, with complete disregard for his own safety, rushed to aid a student jumper whose reserve parachute had deployed while the student was still in the aircraft. Unable to overcome the tremendous drag of the deployed parachute, Sergeant Garza did successfully prevent the reserve parachute from becoming entangled in the tail section of the aircraft and gained time to allow the student to make an exit from the aircraft without serious injury. His quick and selfless action undoubtedly prevented serious injury to the student jumpmaster. Sergeant Garza's actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

7. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Private First Class Raymond F. Godfrey, Jr., 523-40-0302, United States Army, who distinguished himself by exceptional heroism on the evening of 22 March 1971 while assigned to Company G, Second Battalion, United States Army Security Agency Training Regiment, Fort Devens, Massachusetts. His heroic actions saved the lives of many people who were asleep when their apartment building in Haverhill, Massachusetts, caught fire. Private Godfrey, at the risk of his own life, entered the building and aroused the residents and led them to safety. His heroism reflected great credit on him, the United States Army Security Agency, and the United States Army. (This award supersedes the Army Commendation Medal awarded to Private Godfrey for meritorious achievement on 22 March 1971, as announced in Headquarters, United States Army Security Agency General Order 123, 1971.)

8. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Tommy R. Greenway, 251-82-8960, United States Army Security Agency Field Station, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of his life, at Prince's Valley near Mekele, Ethiopia, on 7 April 1971. On that date, while on a hunting trip, Specialist Greenway displayed complete disregard for his personal safety by rescuing four persons from a gasoline-fed fire in a grass hut. When he was unable to extinguish the fire, Specialist Greenway dashed into the burning hut to rescue the occupants. Specialist Greenway carried three children safely from the blazing hut and reentered the hut a second time to rescue a woman. Only the quick thinking and immediate reaction of Specialist Greenway prevented what could have been serious injuries, and possibly death, to the occupants of the blazing hut. This action not only demonstrated the outstanding character of Specialist Greenway but also greatly enhanced the image of the United States in the eyes of the local population. His courageous action and his humanitarian regard for his fellow man reflected great credit on him, the United States Army, and the American people. (This award supersedes the Army Commendation Medal awarded to Specialist Greenway for meritorious achievement of 7 April 1971 as announced in Headquarters, United States Army Security Agency General Order 136, 1971.)

9. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Staff Sergeant Arthur L. Guile, Jr., 480-50-5859, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism on 7 November 1970 while assigned to the United States Army Air Defense School at Fort Bliss, Texas. He voluntarily placed his life in grave peril to save the lives of a mother and her 1-year-old child by rescuing them from their burning home at Fort Bliss, Texas. Sergeant Guile acted swiftly with skill and decisiveness, thereby insuring that no loss of life or severe injury occurred, either to himself or the occupants of the house. Sergeant Guile's rapid reaction in a situation of extreme peril reflected great credit on him, the United States Army Air Defense School, and the military service and was in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Army.

10. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Robert A. Holtzclaw, 556–68–0567, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism not involving combat with an enemy, at Fort Hood, Texas, on 30 July 1970. Specialist Holtzclaw was a passenger in a boat being operated in darkness during a military exercise that collided with a tree stump, throwing two other soldiers into the water. Specialist Holtzclaw immediately dived overboard and rescued one of the soldiers who was about to drown. Unable to locate the second man in the dark and muddy water, he sent the boat for lights and assistance. He voluntarily remained alone at the scene and continued to search for the other soldier in vain. This effort was made extremely difficult and dangerous by the presence of numerous, submerged tree branches. Specialist Holtzclaw saved one life and voluntarily made a protracted and dangerous effort to save another. His actions were in keeping with the finest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

11. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

First Lieutenant Duane S. Hunter, 559-60-9154, Air Defense Artillery, United States Army, who distinguished himself by exceptionally heroic actions involving voluntary risk of life in the rescue of two companions following a boating accident near Fort Barry, California, on the morning of 20 January 1971. Lieutenant Hunter, accompanied by two other officers, was participating in an oil-spill cleanup and waterfowl rescue following the collision of two oil tankers in San Francisco Bay. The three officers were hurled into the icy waters when an unusually large wave capsized their boat. They began fighting the icy breakers and treacherous currents in an attempt to reach the shore. Lieutenant Hunter struggled to safety, but his companions, encumbered by heavy clothing and severe bodily bruises inflicted by the overturning boat, were unable to overcome the treacherous surf. On seeing their extreme plight, Lieutenant Hunter responded without hesitation and with total disregard for his safety, twice plunging back into the frigid waters to pull his companions to the shore, despite his own exhaustion and numbress. His courageous action and humanitarian regard for his fellow man, reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

12. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of the Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class James McMillian, 256-20-7018, United States Army, who distinguished himself by his voluntary risk of life in a successful effort to preclude serious injury to members of the United States Army Training Center, Infantry, Fort Dix, New Jersey. On 3 October 1970, Sergeant McMillian was serving as Assistant Instructor, Hand Grenade Training Facility, BCT Committee Group, Fort Dix, New Jersey. During the conduct of the live fire exercise, a basic trainee entered Sergeant McMillian's bay to throw two live grenades. After pulling the safety pin on his first grenade, the trainee accidentally dropped the grenade outside the bay, where it lay armed and ready to detonate. The trainee lost his composure and leaped outside the bay and laid down beside the grenade. Completely disregarding his personal safety, Sergeant McMillian dashed outside the bay and pulled the trainee to a safe position. The grenade detonated, wounding Sergeant McMillian. Sergeant McMillian's calm, spontaneous reaction, coupled with his unselfish and voluntary risk of his life, averted injury or possible death to the trainee. His actions reflected great credit on him and on the military service.

13. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Five Gary G. McMahon, 284-48-5532, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism, at a great risk to his life, when he freed a diver at Conshos Lake Dam, New Mexico, during the afternoon of 19 December 1970. Specialist McMahon was a standby diver when another diver became fouled in numerous cables at a depth of 60 feet. Realizing the diver could not free himself, Specialist McMahon, with utter disregard for his personal safety, proceeded to make a dive in scuba gear. Working among numerous cables in which he himself could become fouled, and in zero visibility, Specialist McMahon made a total of three dives before he was able to rescue the diver. Specialist McMahon's heroic efforts averted tragedy and reflected the greatest credit on him, the Corps of Engineers, and the United States Army.

14. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four William C. Magee, 020-38-1650, United States Army, who distinguished himself on 11 March 1971, while on leave at his home in Boston, Massachusetts. He was approached by a 14-year-old girl, who told him that she had been robbed at gunpoint by two men. She was able to accurately describe one of the assailants. Specialist Magee went immediately to the scene of the robbery, where he spotted the two men. Alone, and aware that one of the men was armed with a revolver, he decided to follow them until he could contact a policeman. The thieves, however, become aware of his surveillance and attempted to elude him. Displaying great courage, Specialist Magee gave chase and subdued one of the men until police arrived. This action led to the subsequent arrest of the other thief. Specialist Magee's heroic actions earned for him the gratitude of the Boston Police Department and reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

15. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Alfred G. Mares, 561-54-6303, United States Army, Company A, 8th Special Forces Group (Airborne), 1st Special Forces, Fort Gulick, Canal Zone, who distinguished himself by exceptional heroism and selfless action at the risk of his life to prevent possible serious injury to a fellow soldier. On 16 October 1970, Sergeant Mares was acting as jumpmaster on a transport aircraft participating in training for Jumpmaster Course 2-71 near Gatun Drop Zone, Canal Zone. A student jumpmaster accidentally deployed his reserve parachute inside the aircraft. The parachute was then drawn from the aircraft, endangering the life of the student jumpmaster. Exposing himself to the gravest danger, Sergeant Mares managed to hold the student until the reserve parachute was clear of the tail section of the aircraft. Only then did Sergeant Mares release his grip to allow the student to make an exit without serious injury. Sergeant Mares' actions were in keeping with the most cherished traditions of the 8th Special Forces Group and the United States Army.

16. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Frank L. Marles, 188-34-4350, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism on 28 January 1971, at Bad Kreuznach, Germany. On that date, Specialist Marles was serving as a driver at the John W. Minick Kaserne. Receiving notification of a fire in the Kaserne, Specialist Marles ran to the scene and found a 2½-ton truck almost completely engulied flames. The burning vehicle was loaded with six fuel pods, each containing approximately 75 gallons of gasoline and presented great danger to several other vehicles parked nearby and to a fuel pump located in the area. Recognizing the potential destructive force of the fire, Specialist Marles, without regard for his personal safety, ran to the burning truck, entered the cab, and drove the truck a safe distance away from the other vehicles and the fuel pump. By his actions, Specialist Marles eliminated the possibility of the fire destroying or damaging many thousands of dollars worth of government property and greatly reduced the possibility of injury or death to the personnel who were fighting the fire. Specialist Marles' courageous and heroic act was in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

17. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Staff Sergeant Guillermo Galaza Nunez, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life in New York on 3 February 1968. On that date, Staff Sergeant Nunez, while on ordinary leave, discovered a fire raging in an apartment building at 149 Broome Street, Manhattan. Reacting swiftly, he alerted the fire department and voluntarily remained in the burning structure to assist the panic-stricken occupants. Sergeant

GO 9

Nunez cut off the sources of draft and succeeded in calming the hysterical occupants. He quickly organized the residents into an orderly group and saved the lives of 12 adults and 10 children by leading them to safety. Additionally, he worked laboriously assisting civil police and members of the fire department in evacuating occupants of adjacent buildings threatened by the burning structure. He also played a prominent role in settling homeless survivors in temporary shelter. His courageous actions and humanitarian regard for his fellow man, has reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

18. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant William O'Connell, 027-36-3398, United States Army, Headquarters and Headquarters Company, 2d Battalion, 8th Infantry, 4th Infantry Division, Fort Carson, Colorado, who distinguished himself by heroism on 4 February 1971, in the city of Fall River, Massachusetts. A two-alarm fire broke out in a multiple-unit structure at 1184 to 1194 Pleasant Street. Disregarding the danger to his life, Sergeant O'Connell ran into the burning building and alerted the occupants on the second and third floors. Sergeant O'Connell assisted an elderly lady and her 3-year-old great-granddaughter to flee from their third-floor apartment minutes before the roof collapsed. His act of outstanding courage reduced the possibility of serious injury and probably saved the lives of the occupants. His heroic performance was in keeping with the finest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

19. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Staff Sergeant Samuel J. Peterson, 263-90-5590, United States Army, who distinguished himself by exceptional heroism on 23 February 1971 at the Andrew Jackson Hand Grenade Range, Fort Jackson, South Carolina. Sergeant Peterson voluntarily risked his life to save a trainee who had dropped a live fragmentation grenade by pushing the man into the grenade sump. He acted voluntarily and without concern for his personal safety, thinking only of the welfare of the trainee. Sergeant Peterson's selfless action is but a continuation of his record of excellent conduct and responsible leadership. His exemplary behavior clearly places him above his contemporaries and sets him apart as a noncommissioned officer of the highest caliber. Sergeant Peterson's exceptional bravery in voluntarily risking his life so that a fellow soldier might be saved was in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

20. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Staff Sergeant Gilbert R. Rangel, 560-62-4230, United States Army, who distinguished himself by exceptional heroism on 9 March 1971 at the Andrew Jackson Hand Grenade Range, Fort Jackson, South Carolina. Sergeant Rangel voluntarily risked his life to save a trainee who had accidently dropped a live fragmentation grenade. Sergeant Rangel's quick action in forcing the trainee out of the grenade pit, kicking the grenade into the sump, and then jumping on top of the man to shield his body from the blast undoubtedly saved both men from injury. His exemplary behavior sets him apart as a noncommissioned officer of the highest caliber. Sergeant Rangel's exceptional bravery in voluntarily risking his life so that a fellow soldier might be saved was in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

21. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Five Willie R. Simeon, 435-78-1154, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism at Baumholder, Germany on 3 November 1970. A sudden explosion and fire in an armored personnel carrier endangered the lives of the crewmembers. Disregarding his personal safety, Specialist Simeon ran to the rear of the vehicle to assist a crewmember whose clothing was burning. He extinguished the flames and carried the man to an ambulance. He then returned to the fire and rescued the driver who had been blown out of the vehicle and burned on the face and hands. After insuring that all personnel were safe, Specialist Simeon assisted in removing a second vehicle from the scene to prevent it from exploding. He remained at the scene to fight the fire with members of his unit. Specialist Simeon's personal bravery and courage were directly responsible for saving lives and many thousands of dollars worth of government property. His heroic actions reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

22. By direction of the President, under provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Chief Warrant Officer William L. Summers, 410-52-1483, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism on 13 June 1970. Warrant Officer Summers was the pilot of a cargo helicopter participating in disaster relief operations in the mountains of Peru in South America. On a final approach to a landing zone, one of the engines failed and the heavily loaded aircraft crashed on a steep mountain slope. Warrant Officer Summers freed himself from the demolished helicopter and then realized that other members of the crew were trapped in the wreckage. The fuel cells of the aircraft were pouring hundreds of gallons of highly volatile jet fuel on the ground and the wreckage adjacent to the number one engine which was still running. Fully aware that at any moment the hot exhaust from the still running engine might cause an explosion and fire, killing everyone in the wreckage, Warrant Officer Summers unhesitatingly dashed back into the remains of the helicopter. Searching through twisted metal and scattered cargo, Warrant Officer Summers located the crew chief who was seriously injured and dragged him to a position of safety. With complete disregard for his own safety, he re-entered the wrecked helicopter and removed a Peruvian Air Force pilot who had been acting as navigator for the helicopter. He again entered the wrecked helicopter and searched until he was assured that no one remained aboard. Only then did he think of his personal safety and allow himself to be escorted away from the crash site. His heroism and concern for his comrades reflected great credit on him, his organization, and the United States Army.

23. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant George Vargas, 060-40-3160, United States Army, who distinguished himself by voluntarily risking his life in a successful effort to preclude serious injury to a member of the United States Training Center, Infantry, Fort Dix, New Jersey. On 4 February 1971, Sergeant Vargas was serving as Assistant Instructor, Hand Grenade Training Facility, BCT Committee Group, Fort Dix, New Jersey. During a live fire exercise, a basic trainee entered Sergeant Vargas's bay to throw a live hand grenade. After pulling the pin on the grenade, the trainee accidentally threw it against the wall of the bay. It fell into the grenade sump, armed and ready to detonate. Sergeant Vargas yelled, "Grenade," and threw himself on top of the trainee as the grenade detonated. Sergeant Vargas's calm, spontaneous reaction, coupled with his selfless and voluntary risk of life, averted injury or possible death of the trainee. His actions reflected great credit on him and were in keeping with the highest traditions of military service.

 $XI_{-}$ SOLDIER'S MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provision<sup>s</sup> of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Major Darcy Ramalho, EZ 215-88A, Brazilian Army, who distinguished himself by heroism on 26 December 1970 at Fort Gulick, Canal Zone when he unhesitatingly and voluntarily, at great personal risk, entered a burning building with another individual to rescue four small children. Although badly injured while forcing entry to the building, he bravely continued his rescue efforts and assisted in removing two of the children. Upon learning that a third child was still trapped in the burning building, he courageously entered the building a second time to remove the child to safety. Although the individual who was aiding him in the search was overcome with smoke and forced to retreat, Major Ramalho, disregarding the dense smoke and intense heat, continued the search until he located and rescued the child. Major Ramalho's prompt and courageous actions under hazardous conditions reflect great credit on him and the Army of Brazil.

XII__BRONZE STAR MEDAL. 1. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 11046, 24 August 1962, a Bronze Star Medal with "V" Device for heroic achievement in connection with military operations against hostile forces is awarded to:

Staff Sergeant Donald F. Carter, 176-32-7083, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism in February, 1968, while serving as secondin-command of a long range patrol deep in enemy territory in the Republic of Vietnam. He demonstrated uncommon courage and ability to react under fire and saved the lives of several men. He directed artillery fire on an enemy unit of at least company strength, and, in the consequent attack upon the patrol, tenaciously remained in position as its rear-guard to enable the patrol to withdraw without casualties. In a fierce exchange of small-arms fire between himself and the enemy, he succeeded in eliminating and wounding several of the enemy soldiers and in scattering their forces to such an extent that they were unable to successfully mount an attack against the small patrol. Staff Sergeant Carter's heroic actions in combat reflected the highest credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

2. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 11046, 24 August 1962, a Bronze Star Medal with "V" device for heroism in connection with military operations against hostile forces is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Clark Cook, 265-32-4790, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroic actions on 11 May 1967 while serving with Company B, 2d Battalion 502d Infantry, 101st Airborne Division, in the Republic of Vietnam. Company B made a combat assault on a landing zone that had been mined by the enemy. During the initial landing, the landing zone was swept with enemy automatic weapons fire. Five men were wounded by exploding enemy mines. While the lead platoon fought for 2 hours to overcome enemy resistance, Sergeant Cook constantly braved small arms fire to render aid to the wounded and assist in their evacuation by helicopter. With complete disregard for his safety, Sergeant Cook ran across mined areas to reach wounded men, while ordering those around him to remain in place to prevent additional casualties. He made several trips of more than 400 meters, under fire, to reach casualties, and then return with them to the helicopter landing site. His valorous actions contributed immeasurably to the success of the mission. Sergeant First Class Cook's bravery, aggressiveness, and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

XIII...BRONZE STAR MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 11046, 24 August 1962, a Bronze Star Medal for meritorious service in connection with military operations against hostile forces is awarded to:

Special Colonel Jetth Gongsakdi, 1793300864, Royal Thai Army. January 1970 to January 1971.

XIV__AIR MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 9158, 11 May 1942, as amended by Executive Order 9242-A, 11 September 1942, an Air Medal with "V" device for heroism while participating in aerial flight is awarded by the Department of the Army to:

Brigadier General Tran Ba Di, 51-121114, Army of the Republic of Vietnam, who distinguished himself by heroic action on 13 April 1970 while serving as Division Commander, 9th Infantry Division, Army of the Republic of Vietnam. While inserting a battalion of the 16th Regiment in Dinh Toung Province, contact was made with two companies of the 261A Battalion, a main force Viet Cong unit. Despite intense small arms fire from the ground, Brigadier General Tran Ba Di remained overhead for 5 hours and 50 minutes, often at low level, to direct gunship fire and tactical airstrikes and to adjust artillery. During a Viet Cong counterattack in the late afternoon, Brigadier General Tran Ba Di's quick action in placing tactical airstrikes directly on the attackers prevented them from overrunning the friendly unit. When it became dark, Brigadier General Tran Ba Di transferred to the command-and-control helicopter of a night hunter-killer team and remained in action for another 4 hours. As a direct result of his courageous, sustained action and aggressive determination, the Vietnamese unit turned defeat into victory. His actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the Army of the Republic of Vietnam and reflected great credit on him and the military profession.

XV_ARMY COMMENDATION MEDAL. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under provisions of paragraph 33, AR 672-5-1, the Army Commendation Medal for heroism is awarded to:

Major James L. Rougeau, 437-56-9120, Quartermaster Corps, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism on 13 May 1971 at Alton Civic Memorial Airport, Alton, Illinois. Major Rougeau was performing duties as jumpmaster on a utility helicopter when a parachutist became entangled on the landing skid of the aircraft. Major Rougeau immediately explained the situation to the aircraft commander and advised that the aircraft should remain at jump altitude in the event the parachutist might fall free. Realizing the immediate danger to both the entangled parachutist and the aircraft, Major Rougeau directed the aircraft commander in several attempts to dislodge the man by maneuvering the aircraft. After these attempts failed, Major Rougeau removed his reserve parachute to get close to the parachutist. Directing two other personnel on how to hold him, he then, voluntarily and at great personal risk, extended his body outside the aircraft and below the door. After ascertaining that the parachutist was conscious, he cut through the harness and clothing of the man, allowing him to fall free and experience a normal parachute deployment. His courage and determination saved the life of the parachutist and relieved the extremely hazardous situation of the aircraft and its crew and passengers. Major Rougeau's heroic actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

First Lieutenant George C. Bass, 514-50-2688, Infantry, United States Army, who distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous actions on 8 January 1971 while serving as platoon leader, 2d Platoon, Company B, 2d Battalion, 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile), in the Republic of Vietnam. On that date, Lieutenant Bass was leading his platoon on a combat operation and made contact with an enemy unit of undetermined size defending a regimental-size bunker complex in the vicinity of Minh Tanh. Lieutenant Bass maneuvered his platoon into an assault position while under intense enemy automatic weapons fire, forced the enemy troops from their key positions, and destroyed their ability to resist. During the course of the battle, Lieutenant Bass observed an enemy soldier who was about to fire an automatic weapon on friendly elements. With complete disregard for his personal safety he unhestitatingly engaged the enemy soldier in hand-to-hand combat and eliminated him, thus saving the lives of the friendly soldiers. As a result of Lieutenant Bass' conspicuous gallantry and outstanding leadership, the mission was accomplished with few casualties to friendly elements. Lieutenant Bass' heroic actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Army and reflected great credit on him, his unit and the military service.

II__BRONZE STAR MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 11046, 24 August 1962, a Bronze Star Medal (Fourth Oak Leaf Cluster) with "V" device for heroism in connection with military operations against hostile forces is awarded posthumously to

First Lieutenant George C. Bass, 514-50-2688, Infantry, United States Army, who distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous actions on 6 March 1971 while serving as platoon leader, 2nd Platoon, Company B, 2nd Battalion, 1st Cavalry Division (Airmobile), in the Republic of Vietnam. At 0800 hours on that date. Lieutenant Bass was leading his platoon to provide support for an element of his company which was engaged in a battle with the enemy in Bienh Tuy Province, Military Region III. Upon arrival in the battle area, Lieutenant Bass deployed his platoon and was leading his men in a flanking maneuver to distract the enemy forces and facilitate their defeat. The platoon came under intense hostile small arms fire as it made contact with the enemy. Disregarding his personal safety, Lieutenant Bass, who was acting as point man for the platoon, continued to press the attack. As he moved forward, he was mortally wounded by an enemy antipersonnel mine. The courage and heroism he displayed were an inspiration to his subordinates and reflected great credit on him, his unit and the military service.

On that date, friendly forces were heavily engaged against an enemy force of unknown size. While under heavy small arms fire Lieutenant Bass maneuvered his platoon into an effective flanking position and delivered a heavy volume of fire upon the enemy positions, enabling the friendly elements to maneuver into good assault positions to effectively engage the enemy force. The determination, bravery, and tactical expertise displayed by Lieutenant Bass' outstanding display of aggressiveness, devotion to duty, and personal bravery were an inspiration to his subordinates and reflected great credit on him, his unit and the military service.

The Research and Development Field Unit-Vietnam, Advanced Research Projects Agency, Office of the Secretary of Defense, distinguished itself in support of military operations in the Republic of Vietnam during the period 1 January 1970 to 31 May 1971. Demonstrating singular initiative, diligence, and consummate skill, the officers and men of the unit provided a fast-reaction capability for the conduct of behavioral science research and operations and systems analysis, as well as materiel testing and evaluation for agencies of the United States Mission Council. Through an enlightened program of counterparts development, they materially aided the achievement of Allied cooperation and contributed greatly to the satisfaction of national security needs in the Republic of Vietnam. With ingenuity and resourcefulness, the members of the Research and Development Field Unit-Vietnam, Advanced Research Projects Agency, Office of the Secretary of Defense successfully completed numerous studies that provided invaluable information concerning the evaluation of hamlet security, the causes of refugee movements, Vietnamese social values, psychological operations, and the motivation and morale of the enemy. By providing special reports, continuous liaison, and combined use of data bases and test environments in the development of new and improved weapons, equipment, concepts, and techniques, unit personnel materially advanced the free world effort in the Republic of Vietnam. The remarkable proficiency and devotion to duty displayed by members of the Research and Development Field Unit-Vietnam, Advanced Research Projects Agency, Office of the Secretary of Defense are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect distinct credit upon them and the Armed Forces of the United States.

I__DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 25 July 1963, the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action is awarded to:

Lieutenant Colonel (then Major) Kenneth D. Ferguson, Infantry, 232-46-0880, United States Army, who distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism on 31 January 1968 during the Viet Cong "Tet" assault on Tra Vinh, the capital of Vinh Binh Province, where he was serving as advisor to the Provisional Reconnaissance Unit and Revolutionary Development Cadres. Immediately after the initial enemy assault, Colonel Ferguson moved through the streets under hostile fire with another American officer to search for wounded personnel. Seven wounded persons were recovered and transported to the hospital. On returning to his compound, he was informed that fifty to sixty Viet Cong had captured and occupied the Province Chief's compound. Colonel Ferguson, armed with an M-79 grenade launcher, moved quickly to the Provincial compound with three other Americans and four Vietnamese soldiers, providing protective covering fire and resupplying ammunition. For almost 2 hours, under intense hostile machinegun and rocket fire, Colonel Ferguson maneuvered from one position to another and fired grenades through windows of the various buildings of the Provincial compound that were occupied by Viet Cong until he was seriously wounded. His aggressiveness, tenacity, and decisive leadership resulted in the enemy being driven from the compound. Colonel Ferguson's extraordinary heroism and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

II__SILVER STAR. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded posthumously to:

Sergeant Daniel G. Casey, 562-72-9917, United States Army, who distinguished himself by exceptionally valorous action on 28 July 1969 while serving as a squad leader with Company C, 2d Battalion, 502d Infantry, 101st Airborne Division during a reconnaissance-in-force mission in an area approximately 20 miles southeast of Phu Bai, Republic of Vietnam. While walking point for his company, his unit was attacked by an enemy force. During the engagement he eliminated several of the enemy with hand grenades. He then assaulted another enemy position. He threw a hand grenade that struck a tree limb and fell short of its intended mark. Realizing that the hand grenade was dangerously close to his comrades, he moved forward under fire, retrieved the hand grenade, and attempted to throw it again. The hand grenade exploded and he was mortally wounded. Sergeant Casey's heroism in combat against an armed hostile force was in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

III__SILVER STAR. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded posthumously to:

Sergeant David I. Mirter, 041-46-5193, United States Army, Special Operations Augmentation, Command and Control Detachment Central, 5th Special Forces Group (Airborne), 1st Special Forces, who distinguished himself by gallantry in action on 29 January 1971, while serving as a member of a joint American/Vietnamese reconnaissance team on a mission deep in enemycontrolled territory. After being inserted on 29 January, the team moved from the landing zone and into dense jungle. The team had stopped for a security break when Sergeant Mixter detected enemy movement nearby. He readied himself for combat and alerted his team members to danger. Soon the lead element of a force estimated to be two squads of enemy soldiers came into view, and Sergeant Mixter fired on them. The enemy returned fire with rockets, small arms, and automatic weapons. Realizing they were greatly outnumbered, the team began to withdraw while Sergeant Mixter remained in his position to deliver covering fire. By his holding the enemy at bay, his fellow soldiers were able to escape the deadly trap. When Sergeant Mixter attempted to rejoin his team, a B-40 rocket landed directly in front of him, wounding him seriously. The remainder of the team was forced to withdraw from the area by the overwhelming enemy fire power and was safely extracted an hour later. Sergeant Mixter's selfless actions gave them the precious seconds they needed to reach safety. Sergeant Mixter's gallantry and self-sacrifice were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

IV__SILVER STAR. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded posthumously to:

Sergeant First Class Ronald E. Smith, 315-40-4807, United States Army, Special Forces Operations Augmentation, Command and Control Detachment Central, 5th Special Forces Group (Airborne), 1st Special Forces, who distinguished himself by heroism while serving as a member of a long-range reconnaissance team on a mission deep in enemy-controlled territory on 28 Not vember 1970 in the Republic of Vietnam. Immediately upon landing, the team received enemy small arms fire. Sergeant Smith engaged the enemy troops and called for air support to enable the team to break contact and move from the area. The team then moved down a large enemy trail, stopping three times to place anti-personnel mines. After two and one-half hours, the first mine exploded; followed by the second, and then the third. The team then came under attack by a large enemy force. Disregarding his personal safety, Sergeant Smith

again called for air support while exposed to the enemy fire. The team detonated Claymore mines and succeeded in eliminating several of the enemy. Shortly thereafter, the relentless enemy began a second assault. Sergeant Smith moved to a completely unprotected position in an attempt to mark the enemy targets. He was struck by enemy fire and fell to the ground. The team leader attempted to reach Sergeant Smith but was driven back by the enemy fire. Air support arrived and delivered airstrikes on the enemy, enabling the team to break contact. Sergeant First Class Smith's gallantry and self-sacrifice were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military and reflected credit on him, his unit and the United States Army.

 $V_{-}SILVER$  STAR. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Derald R. Bunnell, 538-38-5012, United States Army, who distinguished himself by acts of heroism on 7 and 8 October 1968 while serving as Senior Medical Corpsman, Detachment B-55, 5th Mobile Strike Force Command, 5th Special Forces Group, 1st Special Forces, in the Republic of Vietnam. While on a reconnaissance-in-force mission, on 7 October, the 5th Mobile Strike Force made contact with a large, well-entrenched enemy force. With complete disregard for his personal safety, Sergeant Bunnell led a small force through a hail of small arms and automatic weapons fire in order to establish flank security. As tactical air strikes and artillery fire pounded the enemy positions, Sergeant Bunnell moved throughout the battle area, treating wounded and encouraging his comrades. When tactical air strikes and artillery fire ceased, his unit again advanced against the enemy positions. Heavy, accurate, enemy mortar, small-arms, and automatic weapons fire forced his unit to withdraw to a secure position to evacuate the wounded. During the early morning hours of 8 October, Sergeant Bunnell's unit was again subjected to intense enemy rocket and mortar fire, accompanied by a 3-pronged ground attack. After two platoons of his unit were overrun, Sergeant Bunnell gathered stragglers, redistributed ammunition, and led his men as they fought to escape the enemy encirclement. Sergeant First Class Bunnell's courage and leadership were in keeping with the most cherished traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

VI_LEGION OF MERIT. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 20 July 1942, and Executive Order 10600, 15 March 1955, the Legion of Merit (Degree of Commander) for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service is awarded to:

Lieutenant General Albert Schnez, 300811-S-3421, Army of the Federal Republic of Germany. October 1968 to September 1971.

VII_LEGION OF MERIT. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 20 July 1942, and Executive Order 10600, 15 March 1955, the Legion of Merit (Degree of Officer) (Second Award) for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service is awarded to:

Major General Choe Due Myong, 10929, Republic of Korea Army. April 1969 to December 1970.

VIII__LEGION OF MERIT. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 20 July 1942, and Executive Order 10600, 15 March 1955, the Legion of Merit (Degree of Officer) for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service is awarded to:

Kear Admiral Kim Dong Bae, 80113, Republic of Korea Navy, January 1969 to June 1969.

Brigadier General Carlos Braga Chagas, Brazilian Army. January 1969 to July 1970.

Brigadier General Tran Ba Di, 51/121114, Army of the Republic of Vietnam. July 1968 to July 1970.

Brigadier General Tran Van Hai, 45A/102629, Army of the Republic of Vietnam. June 1968 to November 1970.

Special Colonel Suvich Kanjananta, 1850800002, Royal Thai Army. July 1969 to July 1970.

Major General Arne Gunnar Lund, Norwegian Army. October 1968 to February 1971.

Lieutenant General Hu Shing, Army of the Republic of China. October 1965 to March 1971.

Brigadier General Kang Yeung Sik, 16699, Republic of Korea Army. February 1970 to November 1970.

Special Colonel Yukontorn Singhaphan, Royal Thai Army. June 1951 to February 1971.

Brigadier General Park Noh Young, 15358, Republic of Korea Army. November 1969 to February 1971.

IX__SOLDIER'S MEDAL. 1. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, A Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant David L. Anderson, 540-56-1562, United States Army, who distinguished himself by an act of heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Landstuhl, Germany on 12 August 1970. On that date Sergeant Anderson responded to a call for help in a housing area where a 12-year old boy had climbed a tower and came in contact with high-voltage, electric power lines. Sergeant Anderson, with complete disregard for his own safety, climbed the tower with another noncommissioned officer to reach the boy. The two men reached through a wire guard and lifted the boy, who had fallen across a wire line and was being severely burned and electrocuted. They held the boy off the electric wires for 25 minutes until the voltage was turned off. They then carried him down from the tower to a waiting ambulance. The boy's arm had to be amputated; but, his life was saved. Sergeant Anderson's heroic and selfless action was in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service.

2. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Pauline A. Atwood, 006-54-7827, United States Army who distinguished herself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fort Ritchie, Maryland, on 16 August 1971. At approximately 0030 hours, Specialist Atwood observed a woman struggling in the waters of Upper Lake Royer, Fort Ritchie, about 30 yards from shore. The woman had apparently jumped into the lake in an effort to take her own life. With complete disregard for her personal safety, Specialist Atwood swam to the aid of the stricken woman. With only the dim light of several distant street lights to guide her, she located the woman, overcame her hysterical actions and towed her to shore. Although nearly submerged on several occasions by the struggling woman, she tenaciously continued to swim and safely reached the shore. With the aid of a bystander, the young woman was subdued until Military Police arrived on the scene. By her courageous action, humanitarian regard for her fellow man, and dedication of service to her country Specialist Four Atwood has reflected great credit on herself and the United States Army.

3. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to :

Sergeant First Class Dewey C. Johnson, 417–48–7505, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life while serving at Seale, Alabama on 30 December 1970. Learning that a nearby service station owner was being assaulted and robbed by two men, Sergeant Johnson immediately went to his assistance. At the risk of life, with no thought for his personal safety, Sergeant Johnson drove off one of the assailants and then entered the service station and disarmed the other man whom he held at gunpoint until police arrived. Sergeant Johnson's actions saved the service station owner from possible injury or death and materially aided local police. By his courageous action and humanitarian regard for his fellow man, in the dedication of service to his country, Sergeant First Class Johnson has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

4. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Staff Sergeant Joseph A. LeBlanc, 004-38-9672, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Bad Herfeld, Germany on 22 December 1970. On that date a fire ignited on the third floor of Building 8100 in the dependent housing area of McPheeters Barracks, Bad Herfeld, Germany. The intense heat and smoke trapped a woman and her children in their apartment. Sergeant LeBlanc gained access to the fourth floor by climbing the stairwell in the adjacent apartment. Finding the back door jammed by the intense heat, Sergeant LeBlanc climbed through a window, and cautiously attempted to negotiate the steep, snow- and ice-encrusted roof to reach the apartment. The wrought-ironwork bordering the slippery roof gave way under his weight, and he prudently sought assistance. A line was secured to the apartment window. By means of the line Sergeant LeBlanc and another individual were able to assist the trapped family in leaving the apartment and crossing the roof to safety. By his courageous action and humanitarian regard for his fellow man, in the dedication of service to his country, Staff Sergeant LeBlanc has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army. (This award superseded the Army Commendation Medal award to Sergeant LeBlanc in General Orders 273, Headquarters 4th Armored Division, 1970.)

5. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Harold V. Wiggins, Jr., 174–38–3515 United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Hampton, Virginia on 26 June 1971. On that date Specialist Wiggins came upon the scene of an accident at the entrance to Gosnold Hope Park on the Old Back River Road, Hampton, Virginia. A vehicle had careened off the road and collided with a utility pole, overturning and catching fire. With total disregard for his safety, Specialist Wiggins rushed into the flames and freed a woman who was pinned in the burning automobile. Had it not been for this selfless act, the woman would have perished in the flames. By his courageous action and humanitarian regard for his fellow man, in the dedication of service to his country, Specialist Four Wiggins, has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

 $X_{-BRONZE}$  STAR MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 11046, 24 August 1962, a Bronze Star Medal (Second Oak Leaf Cluster) with "V" device for heroism in connection with military operations against hostile forces is awarded (posthumously) to:

Sergeant Major Donald F. West, 263-40-6023 (then Master Sergeant), United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism in connection with ground operations against a hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam, 30-31 January 1968, while serving with a volunteer provisional task force charged with defense of the 651st Signal Compound, Nha Trang, South Vietnam. During the day and night of 30-31 January, Sergeant Major West repeatedly exposed himself to small arms fire while organizing the defense of the compound, directing the placement of the crew-served weapons, and resupplying the weapons positions. During the conflict, two small children came out of an alley approximately 50 feet forward of the front position, and the enemy fired at them with small arms and machinegun fire. Completely disregarding his safety, Sergeant Major West left the front position, under the protection of covering fire, and dashed forward to rescue the children. Again, when the personnel positioned at the front position controlling the main avenue of approach were wounded, Sergeant Major West directed their evacuation. He then exposed himself to fire to drag sand bags to the front position in order to provide more cover. Sergeant Major West then took his position at the most exposed and dangerous sector of the perimeter and maintained his watchfulness throughout the night, leaving his position only when necessary to control activities on other portions of the perimeter. Despite grenade and mortar fire landing repeatedly within 15 meters of his position throughout the night, Sergeant Major West's determination never wavered, and the enemy was deterred from launching a large scale attack on the compound. It was largely through Sergeant Major West's determination, courage, and devotion to duty that the compound was held through the night, saving all the signal equipment for the 23d Army of Vietnam Division and inflicting heavy personnel casualties on the enemy. Sergeant Major West's personal bravery and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on him and his unit.

XI_BRONZE STAR MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 11046, 24 August 1962, a Bronze Star Medal (with "V" device) in connection with military operations against hostile forces is awarded to:

Staff Sergeant Luther G. Bruner, 439-58-5840, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroic action on 23 February 1969, while serving as Assistant Platoon Sergeant, with Battery B, 5th Battalion, 2d Artillery, at Dau Tieng, Republic of Vietnam. The Dau Tieng Base Camp came under heavy mortar and rocket attacks. A mortar barrage hit in the vicinity of six personnel, wounding all of them. Staff Sergeant Bruner aided his platoon sergeant in moving the six wounded men away from danger and into a bunker. Still under heavy mortar and rocket fire, and with complete disregard for his personal safety, he ran 100 to 150 meters to obtain medical assistance for the wounded. His act of bravery and determined concern for the lives of his comrades prevented more severe injuries. Sergeant Bruner's heroic actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Army and reflected great credit on him and the military service.

XII__ARMY COMMENDATION MEDAL. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 33, AR 672-5-1, the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service is awarded to:

Lieutenant Colonel Eng Amphavannasoukh, 17.192, Royal Armed Forces of the Kingdom of Laos. July 1967 to June 1970.

Captain Klaus D. Bohlman, 041037–B–2212, Federal Republic of Germany Air Force. April 1969 to April 1971.

Major David B. Ellis, 431547-322, Canadian Armed Forces. November 1970 to December 1970.

Captain Huynh Hai Ho, 62/600584, Vietnamese Air Force. May 1970 to May 1971.

Lieutenant Colonel Athanassi Karavanidis, 29385, Hellenic Army. August 1969 to June 1971.

Lieutenant Colonel Wolfgang Lucius, 300-925-L4201, Army of the Federal Republic of Germany. October 1965 to August 1970.

Colonel Koseke Mateyoshi, G252438, Japanese Ground Self Defense Force. June 1970 to March 1971.

Major Darcy Ramalho, IG-788043, Brazilian Army. January 1970 to February 1971.

First Sergeant Jacinto Antonio Rumbo, 67, Republic of Panama National Guard. July 1970 to July 1971.

Colonel George Shao-Chi Tong, 0-77536, Army of the Republic of China. November 1963 to January 1971.

XIII_ARMY COMMENDATION MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of paragraph 33, AR 672-5-1, the Army Commendation Medal for Meritorious achievement is awarded to:

Major William Bain, 431-386-218, Canadian Armed Forces. 7 October 1970.

By his holding the enemy at bay, his fellow soldiers were able to escape the deadly trap. When Sergeant Mixter attempted to rejoin his team, a B-40 rocket landed directly in front of him, wounding him seriously. The remainder of the team was forced to withdraw from the area by the overwhelming enemy fire power and was safely extracted an hour later. Sergeant Mixter's selfless actions gave them the precious seconds they needed to reach safety. Sergeant Mixter's gallantry and self-sacrifice were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

 $IV_{+-}SILVER$  STAR. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded posthumously to:

Sergeant First Class Ronald E. Smith, 315-40-4807, United States Army, Special Forces Operations Augmentation, Command and Control Detachment Central, 5th Special Forces Group (Airborne), 1st Special Forces, who distinguished himself by heroism while serving as a member of a long-range reconnaissance team on a mission deep in enemy-controlled territory on 28 November 1970 in the Republic of Vietnam. Immediately upon landing, the team received enemy small arms fire. Sergeant Smith engaged the enemy troops and called for air support to enable the team to break contact and move from the area. The team then moved down a large enemy trail, stopping three times to place anti-personnel mines. After two and one-half hours, the first mine exploded; followed by the second, and then the third. The team then came under attack by a large enemy force. Disregarding his personal safety, Sergeant Smith

again called for air support while exposed to the enemy fire. The team detonated Claymore mines and succeeded in eliminating several of the enemy. Shortly thereafter, the relentless enemy began a second assault. Sergeant Smith moved to a completely unprotected position in an attempt to mark the enemy targets. He was struck by enemy fire and fell to the ground. The team leader attempted to reach Sergeant Smith but was driven back by the enemy fire. Air support arrived and delivered airstrikes on the enemy, enabling the team to break contact. Sergeant First Class Smith's gallantry and self-sacrifice were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military and reflected credit on him, his unit and the United States Army.

V__SILVER STAR. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Derald R. Bunnell, 538-38-5012, United States Army, who distinguished himself by acts of heroism on 7 and 8 October 1968 while serving as Senior Medical Corpsman, Detachment B-55, 5th Mobile Strike Force Command, 5th Special Forces Group, 1st Special Forces, in the Republic of Vietnam. While on a reconnaissance-in-force mission, on 7 October, the 5th Mobile Strike Force made contact with a large, well-entrenched enemy force. With complete disregard for his personal safety, Sergeant Bunnell led a small force through a hail of small arms and automatic weapons fire in order to establish flank security. As tactical air strikes and artillery fire pounded the enemy positions, Sergeant Bunnell moved throughout the battle area, treating wounded and encouraging his comrades. When tactical air strikes and artillery fire ceased, his unit again advanced against the enemy positions. Heavy, accurate, enemy mortar, small-arms, and automatic weapons fire forced his unit to withdraw to a secure position to evacuate the wounded. During the early morning hours of 8 October, Sergeant Bunnell's unit was again subjected to intense enemy rocket and mortar fire, accompanied by a 3-pronged ground attack. After two platoons of his unit were overrun, Sergeant Bunnell gathered stragglers, redistributed ammunition, and led his men as they fought to escape the enemy encirclement. Sergeant First Class Bunnell's courage and leadership were in keeping with the most cherished traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

IX__SOLDIER'S MEDAL. 1. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, A Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant David L. Anderson, 540-56-1562, United States Army, who distinguished himself by an act of heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Landstuhl, Germany on 12 August 1970. On that date Sergeant Anderson responded to a call for help in a housing area where a 12-year old boy had climbed a tower and came in contact with high-voltage, electric power lines. Sergeant Anderson, with complete disregard for his own safety, climbed the tower with another noncommissioned officer to reach the boy. The two men reached through a wire guard and lifted the boy, who had fallen across a wire line and was being severely burned and electrocuted. They held the boy off the electric wires for 25 minutes until the voltage was turned off. They then carried him down from the tower to a waiting ambulance. The boy's arm had to be amputated; but, his life was saved. Sergeant Anderson's heroic and selfless action was in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service.

2. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Pauline A. Atwood, 006-54-7827, United States Army who distinguished herself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fort Ritchie, Maryland, on 16 August 1971. At approximately 0030 hours, Specialist Atwood observed a woman struggling in the waters of Upper Lake Royer, Fort Ritchie, about 30 yards from shore. The woman had apparently jumped into the lake in an effort to take her own life. With complete disregard for her personal safety, Specialist Atwood swam to the aid of the stricken woman. With only the dim light of several distant street lights to guide her, she located the woman, overcame her hysterical actions and towed her to shore. Although nearly submerged on several occasions by the struggling woman, she tenaciously continued to swim and safely reached the shore. With the aid of a bystander, the young woman was subdued until Military Police arrived on the scene. By her courageous action, humanitarian regard for her fellow man, and dedication of service to her country Specialist Four Atwood has reflected great credit on herself and the United States Army.

3. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Dewey C. Johnson, 417–48–7505, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life while serving at Scale, Alabama on 30 December 1970. Learning that a nearby service station owner was being assaulted and robbed by two men, Sergeant Johnson immediately went to his assistance. At the risk of life, with no thought for his personal safety, Sergeant Johnson drove off one of the assailants and then entered the service station and disarmed the other man whom he held at gunpoint until police arrived. Sergeant Johnson's actions saved the service station owner from possible injury or death and materially aided local police. By his courageous action and humanitarian regard for his fellow man, in the dedication of service to his country, Sergeant First Class Johnson has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

4. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Staff Sergeant Joseph A. LeBlanc, 004-38-9672, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Bad Herfeld, Germany on 22 December 1970. On that date a fire ignited on the third floor of Building 8100 in the dependent housing area of McPheeters Barracks, Bad Herfeld, Germany. The intense heat and smoke trapped a woman and her children in their apartment. Sergeant LeBlanc gained access to the fourth floor by climbing the stairwell in the adjacent apartment. Finding the back door jammed by the intense heat, Sergeant LeBlanc climbed through a window, and cautiously attempted to negotiate the steep, snow- and ice-encrusted roof to reach the apartment. The wrought-ironwork bordering the slippery roof gave way under his weight, and he prudently sought assistance. A line was secured to the apartment window. By means of the line Sergeant LeBlanc and another individual were able to assist the trapped family in leaving the apartment and crossing the roof to safety. By his courageous action and humanitarian regard for his fellow man, in the dedication of service to his country, Staff Sergeant LeBlanc has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army. (This award superseded the Army Commendation Medal award to Sergeant LeBlanc in General Orders 273, Headquarters 4th Armored Division, 1970.)

5. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Harold V. Wiggins, Jr., 174–38–3515 United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Hampton, Virginia on 26 June 1971. On that date Specialist Wiggins came upon the scene of an accident at the entrance to Gosnold Hope Park on the Old Back River Road, Hampton, Virginia. A vehicle had careened off the road and collided with a utility pole, overturning and catching fire. With total disregard for his safety, Specialist Wiggins rushed into the flames and freed a woman who was pinned in the burning automobile. Had it not been for this selfless act, the woman would have perished in the flames. By his courageous action and humanitarian regard for his fellow man, in the dedication of service to his country, Specialist Four Wiggins, has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

 $X_{-BRONZE}$  STAR MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 11046, 24 August 1962, a Bronze Star Medal (Second Oak Leaf Cluster) with "V" device for heroism in connection with military operations against hostile forces is awarded (posthumously) to:

Sergeant Major Donald F. West, 263-40-6023 (then Master Sergeant), United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism in connection with ground operations against a hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam, 30-31 January 1968, while serving with a volunteer provisional task force charged with defense of the 651st Signal Compound, Nha Trang, South Vietnam. During the day and night of 30-31 January, Sergeant Major West repeatedly exposed himself to small arms fire while organizing the defense of the compound, directing the placement of the crew-served weapons, and resupplying the weapons positions. During the conflict, two small children came out of an alley approximately 50 feet forward of the front position, and the enemy fired at them with small arms and machinegun fire. Completely disregarding his safety, Sergeant Major West left the front position, under the protection of covering fire, and dashed forward to rescue the children. Again, when the personnel positioned at the front position controlling the main avenue of approach were wounded, Sergeant Major West directed their evacuation. He then exposed himself to fire to drag sand bags to the front position in order to provide more cover. Surgeant Major West then took his position at the most exposed and dangerous sector of the perimeter and maintained his watchfulness throughout the night, leaving his position only when necessary to control activities on other portions of the perimeter. Despite grenade and mortar fire landing repeatedly within 15 meters of his position throughout the night, Sergeant Major West's determination never wavered, and the enemy was deterred from launching a large scale attack on the compound. It was largely through Sergeant Major West's determination, courage, and devotion to duty that the compound was held through the night, saving all the signal equipment for the 23d Army of Vietnam Division and inflicting heavy personnel casualties on the enemy. Sergeant Major West's personal bravery and devotion to duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on him and his unit.

XI__BRONZE STAR MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 11046, 24 August 1962, a Bronze Star Medal (with "V" device) in connection with military operations against hostile forces is awarded to:

Staff Sergeant Luther G. Bruner, 439-58-5840, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroic action on 23 February 1969, while serving as Assistant Platoon Sergeant, with Battery B, 5th Battalion, 2d Artillery, at Dau Tieng, Republic of Vietnam. The Dau Tieng Base Camp came under heavy mortar and rocket attacks. A mortar barrage hit in the vicinity of six personnel, wounding all of them. Staff Sergeant Bruner aided his platoon sergeant in moving the six wounded men away from danger and into a bunker. Still under heavy mortar and rocket fire, and with complete disregard for his personal safety, he ran 100 to 150 meters to obtain medical assistance for the wounded. His act of bravery and determined concern for the lives of his comrades prevented more severe injuries. Sergeant Bruner's heroic actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the United States Army and reflected great credit on him and the military service.

XII__ARMY COMMENDATION MEDAL. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 33, AR 672-5-1, the Army Commendation Medal for meritorious service is awarded to:

I__PHILIPPINE REPUBLIC PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION. The award of the Philippine Republic Presidential Unit Citation to the units of the United States Army listed below, in recognition of participation in disaster relief operations in the Republic of the Philippines during the period 1 August to 15 December 1970, is confirmed. United States Army personnel who were assigned or attached to the units listed during the period cited and who participated in the disaster relief operations are authorized to wear the Philippine Republic Presidential Unit Citation Badge.

The citation, issued by Headquarters, Armed Forces of the Philippines, reads as follows:

"By direction of the President, pursuant to paragraph 19 1, Section II, Armed Forces of the Philippines Regulations G 131-052, this Headquarters, dated 24 April 1967, the Philippine Republic Presidential Unit Citation is hereby awarded to the following units of the United States Army in the Philippines:

UNITED STATES ARMY ELEMENT JOINT UNITED STATES MILITARY ADVISORY GROUP PHILIPPINES

UNITED STATES ARMY SUPPORT ELEMENT PHILIPPINES, 2D LOGISTICAL COMMAND

For outstanding service to the Filipino nation through exceptionally meritorious participation in disaster relief operations in different parts of the Philippine archipelago subsequent to the devastating typhoons which hit the country during the last 3 months. Aware of the plight of the people in disaster-stricken areas and in response to requests from the Philippine government, the resources of these organizations were mobilized to support Philippine relief agencies in mitigating or alleviating human suffering. Through the combined efforts of their personnel many of whom performed tasks under adverse and, in many cases, extremely hazardous conditions, emergency supplies of food, medicine, electrical power, and water were provided to devastated areas on time. These organizations played their respective roles in an exemplary manner and this is noteworthy in view of the fact that they continued performing their normal missions, for which an extra burden was placed on their personnel and equipment because of their participation in relief operations. Through their significant contribution to the welfare of typhoon victims, these organizations have earned the appreciation and gratitude of the Filipino people and of the Philippine government."

II__THE PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION (ARMY). Award of the Presidential Unit Citation (Army) by the President of the United States of America to the following units of the Armed Forces of the United States and the Republic of Vietnam is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1. The text of the citation, signed by President Richard Nixon on 31 January 1972, reads as follows:

By virtue of the authority vested in me as President of the United States and as Commander in Chief of the Armed Forces of the United States, I have today awarded

THE PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION (ARMY) FOR EXTRAORDINARY HEROISM TO THE FOLLOWING ASSIGNED AND ATTACHED UNITS OF THE 3D BRIGADE, 101ST AIRBORNE DIVISION, UNITED STATES ARMY: HEADQUARTERS AND HEADQUARTERS COMPANY, 3D BRIGADE, 101ST AIRBORNE DIVISION 1ST BATTALION, 506TH INFANTRY 2D BATTALION, 319TH ARTILLERY 2D BATTALION, 501ST INFANTRY 3D BATTALION, 5TH CAVALRY 3D BATTALION, 187TH INFANTRY COMPANY A, 2D BATTALION, 506TH INFANTRY COMPANY D, 2D BATTALION, 506TH INFANTRY COMPANIES A AND B. 158TH AVIATION BATTALION COMPANY C, 326TH MEDICAL BATTALION TROOP A, 2D SQUADRON, 17TH CAVALRY BATTERY C, 1ST BATTALION, 83D ARTILLERY BATTERY C, 2D BATTALION, 9TH ARTILLERY BATTERY C, 2D BATTALION, 11TH ARTILLERY BATTERY C. 4TH BATTALION, 77TH ARTILLERY 25TH PUBLIC INFORMATION DETACHMENT 1ST, 2D, 3D, AND 4TH BATTALIONS, 1ST REGIMENT, 1ST IN-FANTRY DIVISION ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC OF VIETNAM 1ST, 2D, AND 3D BATTALIONS, 3D REGIMENT, 1ST INFANTRY DIVISION ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC OF VIETNAM BATTERY A, 11TH ARTILLERY BATTALION, ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC OF VIETNAM BATTERY A, 12TH ARTILLERY BATTALION, ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC OF VIETNAM AND BATTERY B, 34TH ARTILLERY BATTALION, ARMY OF THE

REPUBLIC OF VIETNAM

During the period 10-21 May 1969 the foregoing assigned and attached units of the 3d Brigade, 101st Airborne Division distinguished themselves by extraordinary heroism in action against the enemy in the vicinity of Dong Ap Bia Mountain, A Shau Valley, Republic of Vietnam. The 3d Brigade commenced Operation APACHE SNOW by striking at the enemy on his ground. For 4 days the enemy harassed the men of the Brigade with mortar, rocket-propelled grenades, and small arms fire. Undaunted by this enemy action, the units of the 3d Brigade continued to uncover huge amounts of enemy stores and equipment and to destroy his forces. After pinpointing a stronghold on Dong Ap Bia Mountain, the Brigade launched a series of determined attacks during the ensuing 8 days to drive the well-trained-and-equipped enemy from his entrenched positions. Each day the enemy continued to infiltrate reinforcements to help repel the determined American and Vietnamese forces. After 8 days of intense combat, units of the Brigade broke through the enemy defenses and overan his bunker complexes. The battle continued for another 36 hours while the men of the Brigade searched for and destroyed all remaining pockets of enemy resistance. During the 12 days of battle the 3d Brigade and attached units eliminated more than 500 enemy troops; seized large quantities of weapons, explosives, and other military equipment; and captured tons of rice. The determination, devotion to duty, indomitable courage, and extraordinary heroism demonstrated by the members of the 3d Brigade, 101st Airborne Division and attached units are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on them and the United States Army.

THE PACIFIC STARS AND STRIPES

with citation as follows:

The Pacific Stars and Stripes distinguished itself in support of military operations throughout the Pacific Command and specifically in the Republic of Vietnam during the period 1 January 1965 to 30 June 1971. Responsible for acting as an information and morale activity for the purpose of publishing and distributing a daily newspaper for personnel of the United States Armed Forces and other United States Government agencies in the Pacific command, the personnel of Pacific Stars and Stripes demonstrated exemplary resourcefulness, a willingness to adapt to changing requirements, and determined professionalism in the best traditions of a free press. Over 200 million copies of the Pacific Stars and Stripes were distributed to United States forces in southeast Asia under the free distribution program during the period 1 September 1965 to 30 June 1971. Pacific Stars and Stripes established itself as one of the most comprehensive chronicles of the Vietnam hostilities and of the activities of forces in the Far East. More than half of the 13,000 articles written by Pacific Stars and Stripes reporters in Vietnam appeared in the newspaper. This accurate and timely coverage was of immeasurable value in keeping our servicemen in the Pacific well informed on actions which affected themselves and their units. Pacific Stars and Stripes has enjoyed eminent success in distributing the newspaper to more than a million readers daily spread over an area of more than 31/4 million square miles. The services of Pacific Stars and Stripes have been unparalleled in the history of the armed forces; through their uncommon versatility, technical expertise, and total dedication to mission accomplishment, Pacific Stars and Stripes contributed greatly to morale and effectiveness of the personnel serving within the Pacific Command. The remarkable proficiency and devotion to duty displayed by the members of Pacific Stars and Stripes were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and American journalism and reflect distinct credit on them and the Armed Forces of the United States.

IV___MERITORIOUS UNIT COMMENDATION. 1. By direction of the Secretary of the Army under the provisions of paragraph 203, AR 672-5-1, the Meritorious Unit Commendation is awarded to the following units of the United States Army for exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service during the period indicated:

with citation as follows:

The 1st Logistical Command, United States Army, distinguished itself in support of military operations in the Republic of Vietnam, during the period April 1968 to April 1970. During the cited period, the Command supported all major free world military forces tactical operations, repeatedly meeting its goal of effective, efficient, and responsive logistical support to satisfy the needs of the combat unit. In addition to its outstanding record of combat support, the Command waged its own offensive on logistical problems in the Republic of Vietnam. Through the employment of dramatic management programs never before implemented in a combat environment, the Command refined logistical techniques, reduced supply excesses, and effected operational cost reductions without compromising mission accomplishment. 1st Logistical Command personnel displayed exceptional competence and dedication in accomplishing all tasks assigned to them. They made a vital contribution to the success of the United States' and free world forces' counterinsurgency efforts in the Republic of Vietnam and Cambodia. The 1st Logistical Command's outstanding achievements were in the highest traditions of the military service and reflect distinct credit on its members and the Armed Forces of the United States.

2. I Field Force Vietnam, United States Army, distinguished itself by exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service in connection with military operations against an armed hostile force in the Republic of Vietnam during the period 1 August 1968 to 30 April 1971. Continuing its role as a corps-level tactical headquarters for Military Region 2, I Field Force Vietnam directed the combined combat operations of United States, Republic of Korea, and Army of the Republic of Vietnam units and supervised pacification and the Vietnamization program in an area constituting 47 percent of the land mass of the Republic of Vietnam. Headquarters, I Field Force Vietnam was repeatedly and frequently called upon to provide critical planning, logistical, intelligence, communications, and artillery support to free world military forces. The successful outcomes of the battles for Ben Het and Dak To in May and June 1969, the defenses of Bu Prang and Duc Lap in Autumn 1969, the battles of Kak Seang and Dak Pek in April 1970, the Cambodian operation in May 1970, and the massive seige of Firebase 6 in March and April 1971 attest to the effectiveness and timeliness of the support provided by I Field Force Vietnam. Helping to organize, train and equip the Regional Force companies and Popular Forces platoons within Military Region 2, I Field Force Vietnam contributed significantly to the increased security of the region, allowing the people to return to their peaceful pursuits while maintaining a posture to resist the incursions of the enemy. During this period, I Field Force Vietnam overcame every obstacle to establish a proud tradition of effective tactical planning, reliable combat support, and far-sighted progressive efforts in the fields of pacification and civil actions, thereby hastening the day when an independent and prosperous Republic of Vietnam will assume its proper role in a world of free nations. The exceptional accomplishments of the personnel of Headquarters and Headquarters Company, I Field Force Vietnam in support of the allied counterinsurgency effort are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on them and the Armed Forces of the United States.

I__PHILIPPINE REPUBLIC PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION. The award of the Philippine Republic Presidential Unit Citation to the units of the United States Army listed below, in recognition of participation in disaster relief operations in the Republic of the Philippines during the period 1 August to 15 December 1970, is confirmed. United States Army personnel who were assigned or attached to the units listed during the period cited and who participated in the disaster relief operations are authorized to wear the Philippine Republic Presidential Unit Citation Badge.

The citation, issued by Headquarters, Armed Forces of the Philippines, reads as follows:

"By direction of the President, pursuant to paragraph 19–1, Section II, Armed Forces of the Philippines Regulations G 131-052, this Headquarters, dated 24 April 1967, the Philippine Republic Presidential Unit Citation is hereby awarded to the following units of the United States Army in the Philippines:

UNITED STATES ARMY ELEMENT JOINT UNITED STATES MILITARY ADVISORY GROUP PHILIPPINES

UNITED STATES ARMY SUPPORT ELEMENT PHILIPPINES, 2D LOGISTICAL COMMAND

For outstanding service to the Filipino nation through exceptionally meritorious participation in disaster relief operations in different parts of the Philippine archipelago subsequent to the devastating typhoons which hit the country during the last 3 months. Aware of the plight of the people in disaster-stricken areas and in response to requests from the Philippine government, the resources of these organizations were mobilized to support Philippine relief agencies in mitigating or alleviating human suffering. Through the combined efforts of their personnel many of whom performed tasks under adverse and, in ne cases, extremely hazardous conditions, emergency supplies of food, medicine, electrical power, and water were provided to devastated areas on time. These organizations played their respective roles in an exemplary manner and this is noteworthy in view of the fact that they continued performing their normal missions, for which an extra burden was placed on their personnel and equipment because of their participation in relief operations. Through their significant contribution to the welfare of typhoon victims, these organizations have earned the appreciation and gratitude of the Filipino people and of the Philippine government."

II_THE PRESIDENTIAL UNIT CITATION (ARMY). Award of the Presidential Unit Citation (Army) by the President of the United States of America to the following units of the Armed Forces of the United States and the Republic of Vietnam is confirmed in accordance with paragraph 194, AR 672-5-1. commenced Operation APACHE SNOW by striking at the enemy on his ground. For 4 days the enemy harassed the men of the Brigade with mortar, rocket-propelled grenades, and small arms fire. Undaunted by this enemy action, the units of the 3d Brigade continued to uncover huge amounts of enemy stores and equipment and to destroy his forces. After pinpointing a stronghold on Dong Ap Bia Mountain, the Brigade launched a series of determined attacks during the ensuing 8 days to drive the well-trained-and-equipped enemy from his entrenched positions. Each day the enemy continued to infiltrate reinforcements to help repel the determined American and Vietnamese forces. After 8 days of intense combat, units of the Brigade broke through the enemy defenses and overan his bunker complexes. The battle continued for another 36 hours while the men of the Brigade searched for and destroyed all remaining pockets of enemy resistance. During the 12 days of battle the 3d Brigade and attached units eliminated more than 500 enemy troops; seized large quantities of weapons, explosives, and other military equipment; and captured tons of rice. The determination, devotion to duty, indomitable courage, and extraordinary heroism demonstrated by the members of the 3d Brigade, 101st Airborne Division and attached units are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on them and the United States Army.

III__MERITORIOUS UNIT COMMENDATION. 1. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under provisions of paragraph 203, AR 672-5-1, the Meritorious Unit Commendation is awarded to the following units of the Armed Forces of the United States for exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service during the period indicated :

 $I_{--}SILVER STAR$ . By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded to:

Brigadier General Nguyen Vinh Nghi, 52/120091, Army of the Republic of Vietnam, who distinguished himself by gallantry in action in connection with military operations against an opposing hostile force on 31 July 1969 while serving as Commanding General, 21st Infantry Division (RVN). General Nghi, after being informed that his 31st Regiment had made battle contact with two battalions of the 3d North Vietnamese Regiment at Rach Gia, immediately proceeded there to personally direct the operation. Arriving in the area by Command and Control helicpoter, he immediately directed the helicopter pilot to fly at tree top level so that he could pinpoint enemy targets and troop positions. At approximately 1700 hours, the 31st Regiment succeeded in blocking the North Vietnamese force on three sides. However, the enemy force, realizing this, began moving to the open section of the perimeter. Recognizing the importance of keeping the enemy under complete observation, he directed the pilot to make several low-level flights over the enemy positions to draw hostile fire and contain the enemy and gave personal direction to additional friendly forces which were being landed by boat. This action closed the gap and encircled the enemy. General Nghi, still making low-level flights during the early hours of darkness, continued to pinpoint enemy positions and directed that the ground troops conduct a limited night attack to insure the enemy would not escape. His valiant example of personal courage and gallantry in the face of intense enemy automatic and small arms fire so inspired the friendly forces that they pressed the attack so vigorously that the battle resulted in 77 North Vietnamese soldiers killed and three captured. General Nghi's conspicuous gallantry and extraordinary heroic actions are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on him and the Army of the Republic of Vietnam.

11__SILVER STAR 1. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded to:

Captain William L. Speer, 511-42-8135, Medical Service Corps, (then infantry), United States Army, who while serving as Commanding Officer, Company B, 4th Battalion, 31st Infantry, 196th Infantry Brigade, Americal Division, distinguished himself by gallantry in action on 8 January 1968, in the Republic of Vietnam. Company B was conducting a combat operation northwest of Fire Support Base West in the Que Son Valley when it engaged a North Vietnamese Army force of almost battalion size. The company was immediately pinned down by heavy small arms fire from three sides. Disregarding the heavy small arms fire, Captain Speer moved about, evaluating the positions of his platoons, informing them of the locations of the other platoons, and encouraging his new men. During the course of the battle he was informed that personnel in an enemy bunker were placing heavy fire on the 1st Platoon. Using several hand grenades, he eliminated the enemy strong point. The better to control the various elements of his unit, he moved to the center of a rice paddy to his east. From that position, he controlled a retrograde movement of his unit and evacuation of the wounded to a secure village. He pointed out targets and directed artillery fire to within 50 yards of his position. He then rejoined his unit in the village where he reorganized and redistributed ammunition. While evacuating casualties, his unit came under indirect enemy fire. Learning that the 60-millimeter-mortar base plate had been lost, he improvised a base plate and then directed mortar fire into the enemy locations. The mortar fire effectively stopped the enemy advance. Captain Speer's decisive leadership and gallant conduct inspired his men and contributed to the successful defeat of determined enemy attacks. His conduct was in keeping with the cherished traditions of the military service and reflected utmost credit on him and the United States Army.

2. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Bernard W. Newman, 049-24-8209, United States Army, who distinguished himself by gallantry in action in the Republic of Vietnam on 5 May 1968 while serving with Company A, 5th Special Forces Group, 1st Special Forces in an advisory capacity to a company of Civilian Irregular Defense Group soldiers during a reconnaissance operation. The company made contact with enemy troops and moved immediately in pursuit but was ambushed by a reinforced company of enemy troops and sustained heavy casualties in the initial barrage of fire. Although under extremely heavy automatic weapons and mortar fire, Sergeant Newman led an assault to push back the enemy force and was able to knock out the enemy's most damaging machinegun position. After being pinned down by enemy fire, Sergeant Newman calmly directed artillery fire on the enemy positions until American gunships arrived to assist in the fighting. After arrival of the gunships, Sergeant Newman began the withdrawal of the friendly troops. During the withdrawal he was wounded in the leg by enemy rifle fire while acting as the cover force by himself. After moving to a more secure position, Sergeant Newman continued to provide covering fire for the withdrawing friendly forces. He refused medical attention and continued to assist, directing the gunships in their fight against the enemy, continuously exposing himself to enemy fire. Sergeant Newman's valorous actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected the highest credit on him and the United States Army.

111__LEGION OF MERIT. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 20 July 1942 and Executive Order 10600, 15 March 1953, the Legion of Merit (Degree of Commander) for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service is awarded to:

Lieutenant General Fernando Gonzalez-Camino y Aguirre, Spanish Army. May 1968 to July 1971. IV__LEGION OF MERIT. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 20 July 1942 and Executive Order 10600, 15 March 1953, The Legion of Merit (Degree of Legionnaire) for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service is awarded to:

Colonel Victor J. Suarez Romero, 315-08-3085, Colombian Army. May 1970 to February 1971.

 $V_{-.}$ SOLDIER'S MEDAL. By directions of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Second Lieutenant Pradist Duangjarus, 10331-00591, Royal Thai Army, who distinguished himself by heroism not involving actual conflict with an armed enemy on 2 August 1969, while serving as 1st Platoon Leader, 1st Company, 2nd Battalion, 1st Infantry Brigade, Royal Thai Army Volunteer Force, Vietnam. At approximately 0930 hours in Nhon Trach District, Bien Hoa Province, Republic of Vietnam, Lieutenant Pradist assisted in the rescue of a American officer and a Thai Aviation pilot from a burning helicopter and helped carry them to safety. Lieutenant Pradist was on patrol after having been inserted into the area during a combat-air-assault operation. The OH-13 helicopter from the Thai Light Aviation Company was attempting to land near the location of Lieutenant Pradist's platoon. The helicopter, upon landing, began to slide in the soft muddy soil and the tail rotor became entangled in the brush. As the helicopter attempted to take off it flipped over, shattering the canopy, and the plane burst into flames. Realizing the seriousness of the accident and that the American officer and Thai pilot were caught in the burning aircraft, Lieutenant Pradist, and a United States Army Liaison Noncommissioned Officer rushed to the ship to free the persons trapped inside. Lieutenant Pradist pulled the pilot free and then attempted to free the American officer but was not immediately successful as he was pinned in by the passenger door. While the Noncommissioned Officer lifted the burning helicopter and rocked the ship, Lieutenant Pradist freed the officer and pulled him safely away from the ship. At this moment several hand grenades in the ship began to explode and the fuel tanks caught fire, thus completely demolishing the helicopter. An American officer in a command-and-control ship circling overhead landed and evacuated the two wounded officers. Lieutenant Pradist acted with complete disregard for his own safety. His rapid estimate and response undoubtedly resulted in saving the lives of both. Lieutenant Pradist's heroic actions were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on him, his unit and the Royal Thai Army.

VI__SOLDIER'S MEDAL. 1. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Private First Class Thomas J. Byers, 547-82-3269, 54th Military Police Company, Fort Ord, California, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fort Ord, California on 9 July 1971. On that date Private Byers performed a heroic act that prevented injury and possible death to a trainee, who had climbed a 50-foot water tower and threatened to commit suicide by jumping from the tower. Placing the safety of the soldier and performance of duty above the regard for his personal safety, Private Byers  climbed the water tower and engaged the trainee in conversation in an attempt to gain his confidence. After approximately 10 minutes, Private Byers was able to get close to the trainee and grabbed him. Together with another military policeman, they assisted the trainee down the ladder from the water tower to the safety of the ground. His decisiveness, quick thinking, and courage during the period of this act saved the trainee from possible serious injury or loss of life. By his courageous action and humanitarian regard for his fellow man and dedication of service to his country, Private First Class Byers has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army. (This award supersedes the Army Commendation Medal awarded to Private Byers for heroism on 9 July 1971, as announced in General Orders Number 120, Headquarters United States Army Training Center, Infantry and Fort Ord, California, dated 20 September 1971).

2. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Chaplain (Captain) Thomas R. Fraker, 411-54-7763, United States Army, who distinguished himself by exceptional heroism involving risk of life at Fort Benning, Georgia on 28 September 1971. On that date Chaplain Fraker was called to Eubanks Army Air Field where he was briefed about a man who was threatening to commit suicide from a 250-foot tower. At great personal risk to himself, Chaplain Fraker climbed the tower and talked the man out of committing suicide. After more than an hour, he then accompanied the man down to the ground. By his courageous action and humanitarian regard for his fellow man and dedication of service to his country, Chaplain Fraker has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

3. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

First Lieutenant James R. Landblom, 502-48-4837, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fayetteville, North Carolina on 8 April 1971. With complete disregard for his personal safety, Lieutenant Landblom entered a burning house trailer and traveled its entire length through heavy smoke and intense heat to rescue a 16-month-old child. Any hesitation on the part of Lieutenant Landblom would have resulted in the loss of the child's life, since the trailer was destroyed by the time the Fire Department arrived. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, First Lieutenant Landblom has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

4. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Second Lieutenant Peter C. Neukom, 542-52-8669, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Hopewell, Virginia on 6 June 1970. On that date Lieutenant Neukom was fishing from the shore of the Appomattox River, when he heard screaming. He looked out and saw the head of a small boy just visible on the surface of the rapidly moving river. He ran upstream until he reached the best vantage point to swim to the boy. He dove into the water and swam to where the boy was last seen. He dove and surfaced several times before he finally came up with the boy and towed him to the shore. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Second Lieutenant Neukon has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

5. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Richard M. Newton, 351-42-5773, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Siegelbach, Germany on 29 December 1970. On that date Specialist Newton, disregarding great personal risk, pulled a German citizen from a burning automobile moments after it had been in a serious accident. He returned to the burning wreckage a second time to aid the driver, who was pinned inside the wreckage. The second attempt, unfortunately, was to no avail. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Specialist Four Newton has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

6. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Captain Arthur R. Paik, 551-54-6025, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Baumholder, Germany, on 31 March 1971. On that date Captain Paik was in his quarters when he heard a disturbance in the hallway. He discovered a female German employee totally enveloped in flames. With utter disregard for his own personal safety, he restrained the woman, placed her on the floor and extinguished the flames with an extinguisher. After extinguishing the flames, he quickly summoned aid. The lady was removed to a German hospital. Before seeking treatment for his own injuries, he investigated the source of the fire and discovered a can of inflammable material on a stove in the kitchen. He extinguished the fire, preventing extensive damage to the building. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Captain Paik has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

7. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress, approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Second Lieutenant Robert J. Richardson, 422-58-4445, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Grafenwohr, West Germany on 21 March 1971. On that date Lieutenant Richardson was the administrative officer-in-charge on Range 45 at Grafenwohr, West Germany, where his battalion was conducting tank gunnery training exercises. Hearing shouts of "fire," Lieutenant Richardson saw a tank enveloped in flames near the ammunition point. He quickly gathered the range team personnel and instructed them to gather fire extingushers and assist in putting out the fire. He then ran to the burning tank, climbed aboard, and began to take ammunition being passed out of the turret. At this time, the tank was burning fiercely and was partially obscured by thick smoke. When the tank commander was forced to leave the turret due to the intense heat and smoke, Lieutenant Richardson, aware of the imminent danger of explosion, went into the turret and began to remove the remaining ammunition. The smoke inside the turret was extremely thick, but Lieutenant Richardson remained inside until he was overcome by smoke inhalation. He was evacuated to Vilseck Hospital for medical treatment. Lieutenant Richardson's courage and selflessness prevented the loss of human lives and destruction of government property. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellowman, and dedication of service to his country, Second Lieutenant Richardson has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

8. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Staff Sergeant Harold W. Sharrow, 122-34-5243, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life while serving as a Military Policeman, 21st Military Police Company, 502d Military Police Battalion at Fort Bragg, North Carolina, on 1 June 1971. On that date Sergeant Sharrow and his patrol partner were notified to answer an alarm at the Mallonee Village Branch of the First Citizens Bank. Upon arriving at the bank Sergeant Sharrow was informed that three armed men were inside the bank. Sergeant Sharrow instructed his patrol partner to position the patrol jeep in the driveway of the bank, hoping to block the escape of the men. Disregarding his personal safety, Sergeant Sharrow engaged the robbers in gunfire, resulting in the capture of one of them and recovery of a portion of the stolen money. The individual captured also supplied the names and descriptions of the others involved in the robbery. Sergeant Sharrow's devotion to duty was outstanding and is worthy of the highest praise. By his courageous action and humanitarian regard for his fellow man and dedication of service to his country, Staff Sergeant Sharrow has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

9. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four (Then Private First Class) John A. Smith, 398-52-6640, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Hohenfels, Germany on 8 July 1971. On that date a soldier was performing maintenance in a tank when three rounds of 105mm ammunition exploded, setting the tank on fire and injuring the man seriously. The tank was loaded with its basic load of ammunition. The fire caused other ammunition to become hot and in danger of exploding. Specialist Smith attempted to enter the burning tank but was initially turned away by the intense heat and smoke. Determined to rescue the man, he obtained a protective mask, entered the tank and lifted the soldier through the loader's hatch. Once outside the tank himself, he collapsed from smoke inhalation, personal injuries, and shock. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Specialist Four Smith has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army. 10. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Staff Sergeant Robert M. Stover, 565-56-8622, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Gatun, Canal Zone on 6 November 1971. On that date, while fishing in the Chagres River, Sergeant Stover noticed two boys being swept away by strong waves. Sergeant Stover entered the water in an attempt to save the two boys. After bringing one of the boys to shore he reentered the water and brought the other boy safely to shore. Due to the strong currents and waves Sergeant Stover collapsed from exhaustion. Disregarding his exhaustion he entered the water again and attempted to rescue a fellow soldier. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Staff Sergeant Stover has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

11. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Larry G. Stratton, 585-26-9094, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Siegelbach, Germany on 29 December 1970. Specialist Stratton, disregarding great personal risk and danger, pulled a German citizen from a burning automobile moments after it had been involved in a serious accident. He returned to the site of the burning wreckage a second time to aid the driver, who was pinned inside the wreckage. The second attempt, unfortunately, was to no avail. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Specialist Four Stratton has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

12. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Dale R. Thomas, 464-50-5298, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving valuntary risk of life at Grafenwoehr, Germany on 21 March 1971. On that date a tank located near an ammunition point burst into flames. Facilities were not adequate to bring the fire under control. Sergeant Thomas quickly obtained another tank and towed the blazing vehicle away from the ammunition point. Completely disregarding his personal safety, Sergeant Thomas climbed onto the burning tank and began to take ammunition being passed from inside the turret. When the tank commander was forced from the turret due to the intense heat, Sergeant Thomas quickly climbed into the turret. He remained inside the burning tank until all the ammunition had been removed. He then assisted in towing the tank into an open field. Sergeant Thomas' courageous action prevented the loss of lives and further destruction of government property. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Sergeant First Class Thomas has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

13. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Hugh L. Thomas, 422–62–3594, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fort Sill, Oklahoma on 15 March 1971. On that date a fire broke out in an administrative storage area where men were working and was spreading toward a tracked recovery vehicle parked nearby. Specialist Thomas realized immediately that the vehicle would explode if it remained where it was, destroying everything near it. He climbed into the vehicle and drove it to a safe area. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Specialist Four Thomas has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

14. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Five Robert T. Toomer, 462-82-5080, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Grafenwohr. West Germany on 21 March 1971. On that date his company was conducting tank gunnery training exercises. Specialist Toomer's tank was positioned near an ammunition point in preparation for firing on the range, when his tank burst into flames. Specialist Toomer quickly ran to the rear deck of the blazing tank and attempted to smother the flames with a fire extinguisher. The fire was beyond control. Another vehicle was ordered to tow the burning tank away from the ammunition point. Specialist Toomer plunged into the thick smoke and assisted in connecting the tow cables. After the tank had been towed to a safe location, Specialist Toomer climbed on board and began to take ammunition from an individual inside the tank. When the tank commander was forced out of the turret by the intense heat and smoke, Specialist Toomer quickly climbed into the turret. Completely disregarding his own safety, Specialist Toomer remained inside the blazing tank until all the ammunition had been removed and he was ordered to leave by his Company Commander. Specialist Toomer's courageous action prevented the loss of human life and further destruction of government property. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Specialist Five Toomer has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

15. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress, 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Dean E. Wayt, 286–44–1050, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Feucht, Germany on 29 March 1971. On that date Specialist Wayt observed two 16,000gallon fuel-transporting railcars loaded with diesel fuel, crash through a metal chain-link gate at the entrance to the Petroleum Supply Point. They continued to roll at a speed of approximately 10 miles per hour out of the Supply Point and down the tracks. Specialist Wayt ran after the first of the two railcars, jumped aboard, and stopped the railcar by manually operating the braking device. Specialist Wayt's courageous actions averted a possible disaster. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Specialist Four Wayt has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

16. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Private First Class James Williams, 557-66-2744, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life of Fort Belvoir, Virginia on 14 September 1970. On that date Private Williams observed a dump truck overturn and erupt in flames on Interstate Highway 495. Upon hearing screams from the driver trapped in the cab of the truck and without regard for his own personal safety, he proceeded to assist in the rescue of the driver from certain death. Despite the ever-present danger of explosion, Private Williams assisted in the removal of the driver and assured his safety and comfort while awaiting professional help. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Private First Class Williams has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

17. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Jimmy A. Williams, 331-40-6143, United States Army, who distinguished himself by an act of heroism involving voluntary risk of life at West Point, New York on 13 October 1971. On that date three painters, who had been painting the inside of a water tank at Michie Stadium, West Point, had been overcome by the noxious fumes and were lying at the bottom of the tank. Because of the small size of the manhole on the top of the tank, members of the West Point Fire Department Rescue Squad were unable to enter the tank, and small, thin volunteers were needed. Specialist Williams quickly responded. He was lowered into the tank, which was still filled with noxious fumes, and he tied a rope around each of the painters who were then successively lifted to safety and resuscitated. Specialist Williams' quick actions and disregard for his personal safety saved the three men from death or serious injury. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Specialist Four Williams has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

VII_-AIR MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 9158, 11 May 1942, as amended by Executive Order 9242-A, 11 September 1942, an Air Medal with "V" device (Numeral 17) for heroism is awarded by the Department of the Army posthumously to:

Captain George L. Aikin, (then First Lieutenant), 222-30-5543, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism while participating in aerial flight evidenced by voluntary action above and beyond the call of duty on 3 October 1969. On that date Captain Aikin responded to a call received from the 5th Special Forces at Dak Pek, Vietnam, requesting aid in locating and assisting a Special Forces team which had made heavy contact with a superior-size enemy force. He responded immediately to the request and flew to the contact area, approximately seven kilometers northeast of Dak Pek. Disregarding enemy ground-to-air fire, Captain Aikin proceeded to make several low passes, locating the friendly and enemy positions. With other series of low passes he was able to determine the most secure route back to Dak Pek for the Special Forces team and began directing them out of the enemy-held area. Faced with low ceilings and limited visibility, Captain Aikin began leading the team, continously executing low passes over and ahead of them in order to deny the enemy an opportunity to set up an ambush site. Upon returning to Dak Pek, it was learned that the team had been led through two North Vietnamese companies without a single casualty solely through the efforts of Captain Aikin. Captain Aikin's unyielding courage in the face of overwhelming odds, disregard for his own safety, and extreme devotion to duty were responsible for the successful return of a valuable Special Forces Intelligence team and are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service, reflecting great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

I__DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 25 July 1963, the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action is awarded (posthumously) to:

Specialist Four Guy L. Mears, 266-94-8021, United States Army, 254th Medical Detachment who distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism in action in the Republic of Vietnam on 17 October 1970. On that date Specialist Mears was serving as a crewchief aboard a medical evacuation helicopter near Tuy Hoa, Republic of Vietnam. The helicopter exploded and started burning as a result of enemy fire. Specialist Mears escaped from the burning aircraft unharmed, but when he discovered the pilot of the aircraft remained trapped inside he reentered the fiercely burning aircraft at the risk of his life in order to save the lives of fellow crewmembers. Specialist Mears continued his brave rescue attempt with total disregard for his own safety until he became incapacitated by mortal burns. Specialist Mears' conspicuous gallantry, extraordinary heroism, and intrepidity at the cost of his own life are in the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on him, and the United States Army.

II__DISTINGUISHED SERVICE CROSS. 1. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 25 July 1963, the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action is awarded to:

Major James T. Newman, 259-56-0638, United States Army, who distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism in action of 18 February 1971, while serving with Troop C, 2nd Squadron, 17th Cavalry, 101st Airborne Division in the Republic of Vietnam. Major Newman was on another mission when he was informed of the plight of a downed American medical evacuation helicopter. He immediately rushed to the location of the downed aircraft. Upon arrival at the landing zone, his helicopter received extremely intense antiaircraft fire. Using evasive tactics he continued toward his objective, hampered further by dense smoke from grass fires and dust clouds from exploding enemy mortar rounds. Disregarding the intense hostile weapons fire, he remained in the landing zone well beyond the range of feasible safety so that the downed crew, two of whom were seriously wounded, could crawl from their bunker to his aircraft. He then flew his aircraft out of the area through a two-and-one-half-kilometerwide corridor of continuing intense antiaircraft fire. Through his indomitable courage, complete disregard for his safety, and profound concern for his fellow soldiers, he averted loss of life and prevented further injury to the crewmembers of the downed medical evacuation helicopter. Major Newman's extraordinary heroism was in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflected great credit on him and the United States Army.

2. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 25 July 1963, the Distinguished Service Cross for extraordinary heroism in action is awarded to:

Specialist Five (then Specialist Four) Glenn R. Nicholas, 587-46-1251, United States Army, who distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism in action in the Republic of Vietnam on 5 July 1971. On that date Specialist Nicholas was serving as crew chief on a light observation helicopter conducting visual reconnaissance operations in support of Army of the Republic of Vietnam ground forces. While investigating an enemy bunker complex with signs of recent activity, Specialist Nicholas' aircraft came under intense ground-to-air fire, seriously wounding the pilot. The aircraft crashed into a heavily wooded area and began to burn. Although dazed from the crash, Specialist Nicholas attempted to remove the unconscious pilot. At this time an explosion erupted in the ship, throwing Specialist Nicholas back, and he received fragmentation wounds. Despite his wounds and with total disregard for his own safety, he moved back to the aircraft and succeeded in extracting the pilot. As he dragged the pilot clear, another explosion occurred on board the aircraft. On two occasions, the command-and-control aircraft attempted to land to extract Specialist Nicholas and the seriously wounded pilot but began taking intense ground-toair fire. In each instance, Specialist Nicholas moved into the fire zone and warned the ship away. When the aircraft erupted in one final explosion he moved the still-unconscious pilot to a relatively safe place and began administering first aid while simultaneously defending their position with machinegun fire directed against the enemy force which was trying to capture them. Minutes later a ground element was inserted to neutralize the enemy ground force long enough for the medical evacuation helicopter to arrive and extract Specialist Nicholas and the wounded pilot, although it was under intense ground-to-air fire. Specialist Nicholas', personal courage and total disregard for his own life, in an attempt to save the life of a fellow crew member, were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army. (This award supersedes the Silver Star awarded to Specialist Nicholas for gallantry in action as announced in II Field Force Vietnam General Orders Number 2699, 1970.)

III__SILVER STAR. 1. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded to:

Special Colonel Isaranghura Vasin, 1853301825, Royal Thai Army, who distinguished himself by gallantry in action on 15 March 1970 while serving as Chief of Staff of the Royal Thai Army Volunteer Force in the Republic of Vietnam. On that date Colonel Vasin was notified that an ambush patrol from Company A, 1st Battalion, 1st Brigade, Royal Thai Army Volunteer Force was in contact with a numerically superior enemy force. Realizing that ammunition resupply and reinforcements were urgently needed, Colonel Vasin immediately ordered the ready reaction force. Colonel Vasin saw in the faces of the men that they were apprehensive about moving at night against an unknown number of enemy forces. Realizing that decisive leadership was immediately needed, Colonel Vasin personally led the force and solved the situation at the scene of contact. Colonel Vasin ordered the troops to dismount and sweep toward the point of contact when the reaction force arrived at the rubber plantation within 500 meters of the enemy. Realizing the troops were reluctant to close with the enemy in the dark, Colonel Vasin moved among them and instilled greater sense of direction and courage. The remaining enemy force evacuated the area as Colonel Vasin's force bore down on them by fire and maneuver. Inspired by his leadership and personal example, the men rallied and displayed an aggressive spirit defeating the enemy. Colonel Vasin's heroic actions and dedicated performance of duty were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit on him, his unit, and the Royal Thai Army.

2. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 9 July 1918, a Silver Star for gallantry in action is awarded to:

Private First Class William E. Pittman, 236-34-0336, United States Army, who distinguished himself by gallantry in action on Angaur Island, Palau Group, on 23 September 1944 while serving as a rifleman with Company "B", 322d Infantry, United States Army. Private Pittman was participating with his company in an attack over rough terrain when it received such intense machinegun, rifle, and grenade fire that it was forced to withdraw. The platoon leader re-entered the area, and Private Pittman and a sergeant voluntarily followed him. When the officer fell mortally wounded, Private Pittman and the sergeant attempted to evacuate him. In attempting to aid the officer the sergeant was also wounded. Realizing that further evacuation of the platoon leader was useless and that the sergeant was able to care for himself, Private Pittman went to the aid of his Company Commander who had been seriously wounded. Private Pittman culminated his valorous act when he successfully assisted in the evacuation of his Company Commander while under heavy enemy fire. The gallant actions of Private Pittman in aiding others without regard for his personal safety were a source of inspiration to all members of his company and were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and the United States Army.

IV__LEGION OF MERIT. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 20 July 1942, and Executive Order 10600, 15 March 1955, the Legion of Merit (Degree of Commander) for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service is awarded to:

Lieutenant General Fernando Gonzalez-Caminoy Aguirre, Spanish Army. May 1968 to July 1971.

V__LEGION OF MERIT. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 20 July 1942, and Executive Order 10600, 15 March 1955, the Legion of Merit (Degree of Legionnaire) for exceptionally meritorious conduct in the performance of outstanding service is awarded to:

Colonel (then Lieutenant Colonel) Victor J. Suarez Romero, 315083085, Colombian Army. May 1970 to February 1971.

VI_SOLDIER'S MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded posthumously to:

Specialist Four James C. Barnes, 242-68-6135, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life near Deep Bottom Bridge in Duplin County, North Carolina, on 17 June 1971. On that date Specialist Barnes was swimming when a young woman cried out for assistance. Specialist Barnes unhesitatingly swam to her assistance, fully cognizant of the extreme dangers presented by the depth and turbulent conditions of the river and the highly emotional state of the woman. Upon reaching the woman, Specialist Barnes tried unsuccessfully to tow her to the safety of the river bank. Her frantic struggles, coupled with the strong undercurrent of the river, made any attempt at rescue virtually impossible. Both the woman and Specialist Barnes were pulled under by the current and were drowned. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Specialist Four Barnes has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

VII__SOLDIER'S MEDAL. 1. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1962, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Wallace H. Atchley, 423-22-1253, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fort Belvoir, Virginia on 14 September 1970. On that date Sergeant Atchley witnessed a dump truck overturn and became engulfed in flames on Interstate Route 495. The driver was trapped in the cab of the truck and screaming for help. Without regard for his personal safety, Sergeant Atchley proceeded to rescue the driver from a certain, fiery death while other observers on the scene made no attempt to assist. Sergeant Atchley emptied fire extinguishers, which he had obtained from the onlookers, over the drivers' body and on the cab of the vehicle in order to quell the flames. The fuel continued to burn, presenting an ever-present danger of explosion. When the flames had receded sufficiently, he removed the driver through the window. This was a precarious maneuver since the fire could not be completely extinguished in the cab. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Sergeant First Class Atchley has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

2. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Salvatore J. Barbera, 089-44-1252, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Teucht, Germany on 29 March 1971. Specialist Barbera observed two 16,000-gallon fueltransporting railcars loaded with diesel fuel crash through a metal chain link gate at the entrance to the Petroleum Supply Point. The railcars continued to roll at approximately 10 miles per hour out of the Supply Point and down the tracks. At great personal risk, Specialist Barbera jumped aboard the second car and stopped the railcars by manually operating the braking device. Specialist Barbera's courageous actions prevented the loss of United States Government property and averted a possible disaster. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Specialist Barbera has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army. 3. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Samuel L. Baucom, 219-26-5188, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Remagen Hand Grenade Range, Fort Jackson, South Carolina. On that date Sergeant Baucom risked his life to save a trainee. The trainee had pulled the safety pin on a live hand grenade, and, when he attempted to throw the grenade, it rolled off his finger tips and fell behind him. Seeing the grenade drop, Sergeant Baucom immediately grabbed the trainee, pushed him down, and covered him with his own body. The grenade exploded without loss of life or injury. By this courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Sergeant First Class Baucom has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army. (This award supersedes the Army Commendation Medal awarded to Sergeant First Class Baucom, United States Army, as announced in General Orders Number 101, Headquarters, United States Army Training Center, Infantry and Fort Jackson, South Carolina, 1971.)

4. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Second Lieutenant Glen A. Birdsall, 231-68-6781, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fort Benning, Georgia, on 12 April 1971. On that date an M132-A1 flame track malfunctioned and burst into flames, trapping two men inside the vehicle. Lieutenant Birdsall, with total disregard for his personal safety, sprinted 200 meters to the track carrying a fire extinguisher. With three other soldiers, he managed to bring the flames under control. He then mounted the track and, with the help of two soldiers, rescued the two men from the still-smoking vehicle. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Second Lieutenant Birdsall has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

5. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Second Lieutenant Dan C. Branscum, 570-68-4725, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fort Ord, California on 8 June 1971. On that date a soldier dropped a grenade while attempting to pull the safety pin. Lieutenant Branscum and the young soldier both dove to retrieve the activiated grenade in an attempt to get it out of the pit before it could explode. In the scramble, the grenade was flipped into the air above the throwing bay. Leaping up, Lieutenant Branscum batted the grenade over the safety wall and then pushed the soldier to safety on the bay floor. The grenade barely cleared the safety wall when it exploded. Lieutenant Branscum's quick thinking, decisive actions, and complete disregard for his personal safety saved the soldier's life. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Second Lieutenant Branscum has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

6. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Alberto Garcia, 450-72-7892, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Hohenfels. Germany on 9 April 1970. On that date Specialist Garcia witnessed the crash and explosion of a reconnaissance helicopter. Disregarding his personal safety, he attempted to rescue the crewmembers of the burning helicopter. Suffering severe burns to his hands and face, Specialist Garcia was successful in assisting in the rescue of the pilot. Returning to the flaming helicopter, he attempted to rescue the remaining crewmember. Displaying extreme courage and extraordinary heroism, he entered the helicopter despite the intense heat and flames and remained in the burning wreckage until all attempts to rescue the remaining crewmember proved futile. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Specialist Four Garcia has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army. (This award supersedes the Army Commendation Medal, awarded to Specialist Garcia for heroism on 8 July 1970, as announced in 4th Armored Division General Orders Number 273, 1970.)

7. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Douglas E. Gibbs, 232-56-4084, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Hohenfels, Germany on 8 July 1971. On that date Sergeant Gibbs rescued a fellow soldier from a burning M60 tank. The soldier was performing maintenance in the tank when three rounds of 105-mm ammunition exploded, injuring him seriously and preventing him from leaving the burning tank unassisted. Sergeant Gibbs climbed aboard the burning tank, disregarding the danger of a possible explosion, and assisted in removing the injured soldier from the tank. When the soldier was removed to safety, Sergeant Gibbs immediately took action to keep the injured man alive. He began mouth-to-mouth resuscitation, which he continued until they both arrived at the dispensary. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Sergeant First Class Gibbs has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

8. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Captain Phillip W. Gray, 215-38-1977, Armor, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Grafenwohr, West Germany on 21 March 1971. On that date Captain Gray positioned his tank near the ammunition point in preparation for firing on the range when the tank suddenly burst into flames. Captain Gray quickly analyzed the situation and organized a fire-fighting team. Realizing that the available facilities were inadequate to control the fire, he ordered the blazing vehicle towed away from the ammunition and surrounding vehicles. Completely disregarding his personal safety, Captain Gray climbed into the smoke-filled turret of the tank and removed approximately 10 rounds of ammunition before he was forced to withdraw by the smoke and intense heat. Refusing to abandon the burning vehicle, Captain Gray remained on the tank and supervised the emergency unloading of the equipment. When all items had been removed, he ordered the vehicle towed to an open field, eliminating danger to personnel and material. Captain Gray's courage and leadership prevented loss of human lives and the destruction of Government property. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Captain Gray has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

9. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

First Lieutenant Elliott R. Guttmann, 568-58-3456, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism when he risked his life to save two young companions on 19 June 1971. While swimming in the Gulf of Mexico waters off the coast of Galveston, Texas, Lieutenant Guttmann and the two boys 12 and 11 years of age, were swept by strong currents and high waves toward a stone fishing pier extending out from the shore. At great personal peril, without hesitation he swam to a position between the jagged rocks and the two boys using his body to protect the two boys from harm. His neck, back, and arms were severely cut and bruised when he was crashed against the rocks, but, ignoring painful injuries, he continued to use his body to shield the boys from danger until he could aid them onto the pier and safety. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Lieutenant Guttmann has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

10. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Second Lieutenant Christian R. Holmes, IV, 548-74-0143, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at San Francisco Bay, in the vicinity of Fort Point on 18 July 1971. On that date Lieutenant Holmes, without hesitation and with complete disregard for his safety, plunged into the cold and treacherous waters of San Francisco Bay in an heroic attempt to save the life of a woman who had jumped from the Golden Gate Bridge. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Second Lieutenant Holmes has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

11. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Richard C. Houser, 335–44–8179, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life in Chicago, Illinois, on 8 July 1971. At approximately 1550 hours on that date, Specialist Houser was on leave in Chicago from his organization. While walking on North Clark Street he heard a gunshot and observed the victim who fell to the pavement across the street from him. After looking around for a moment, the assailant then fired two more shots into the victim and fled. Specialist Houser immediately pursued the armed offender with complete disregard for his personal safety, and, after a hand-to-hand struggle, disarmed and captured him singlehandedly. After turning the offender over to an armed security guard, he rapidly returned to the site of the incident and attempted to revive the victim by administering mouth-to-mouth resuscitation. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Specialist Houser has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

12. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Walter B. Judd, 268-34-1094, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Wurzburg, Germany on 24 May 1971. On that date Sergeant Judd answered a call for aid from a drowning German woman. Acting without hesitation or regard for his personal safety, he ran across a heavily traveled four-lane highway and down to the Main River bank. Though already exhausted from the 180-yard run, he dove into the river and swam diagonally upstream, fighting the swift current and tremendous undertow. Reaching the almost lifeless woman, he called on his last resources of energy to keep the woman's head above water and fought his way back to the river bank. Only his intense will to survive and deep concern for another life enabled him to reach the shore, where observers pulled him and the woman from the river. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Sergeant Judd has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

13. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

First Lieutenant Howard J. Kahl, Infantry, 405-60-9104, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fort Benning, Georgia on 12 April 1971. During a training exercise an M132-A1 flame track malfunctioned and burst into flames, trapping two crewmen inside. With total disregard for his personal safety, Lieutenant Kahl ran 200 meters with a fire extinguisher and managed to bring the flames under control with assistance from three other men. He then mounted the track and rescued the trapped crewmembers. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, First Lieutenant Kahl has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

14. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Private David R. Kalina, 460-92-7722, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fort Rucker, Alabama on 4 June 1971. On that date Private Kalina's immediate and appropriate action, following a fire in the company area, resulted in the administration of life-saving first aid and the successful medical evacuation of a critically injured soldier. Private Kalina distinguished himself by analyzing an emergency situation correctly and then taking immediate and necessary action without regard for his personal safety. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Private Kalina has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

15. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Private First Class Bruce A. Keaton, 306-58-3897, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fort Bragg, North Carolina on 24 April 1971. On that date Private Keaton distinguished himself by exceptionally heroic conduct in connection with an accidental explosion at the Coleman Danger Area at Fort Bragg, North Carolina. Private Keaton found two seriously wounded men on Preachers Road and learned from them that two other wounded men were still at the site of the explosion in the impact area of observation Post Number 5. Private Keaton gave first aid to the two men and immediately called for a medical evacuation helicopter. Without hesitation he then proceeded, at great personal risk, into the impact area. At the site of the explosion, Private Keaton found one man dead and a second man very near death from losing both legs and suffering from multiple shrapnel wounds. He applied tourniquets and moved the man in a truck to expedite the trip to the hospital. The man would have died at the site had it not been for the brave, decisive, and competent action of Private Keaton. By his courageous action. humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Private Keaton has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

16. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class Joe Lopez, 572-48-4166, United States Army, Company B, 7th Special Forces, Fort Bragg, North Carolina, who distinguished himself by heroism on 13 August 1971. On that date at approximately 0915 hours on St Mere Eglise Drop Zone, Fort Bragg, the 7th Special Forces Group was conducting monthly command and staff parachute jumps from helicopters. During the third sortie a jumper made a poor exit from the lead helicopter and was hanging from the right skid. Disregarding the risk of his personal safety, Sergeant Lopez climbed out of the aircraft onto the skid in order to reach the jumper. With one hand holding the jumper by the back pack he retrieved the deployment bag of the dangling parachute which prevented it from possibly becoming entangled in the aircraft rotors. Such an entanglement could possibly have resulted in the loss of the jumper's life and the lives of the helicopter's crewmembers. Sergeant Lopes continued the support of the jumper, at the risk of his own safety, until the safe removal of the parachutist after the aircraft made a safe descent to the ground. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Sergeant Lopez has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

17. By direction of the President, under the provision of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Cadet Robert G. Losey, 546-74-5984, United States Military Academy, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Pittsburgh, Pennsylvania, on 28 July 1971. On that date John A. King, the driver of a car containing his wife, mistakenly put his car into gear instead of reverse, causing the vehicle to shoot forward and plunge off a dock and into the lake. Disregarding his personal safety, Cadet Losey, with his split second response, was the first to respond to the emergency. He dove into the lake and removed the two people from the car while other swimmers assisted by opening the car doors. Cadet Losey's quick and decisive action saved the elderly couple from drowning. Upon the couple's release, the car settled to the bottom of the lake in approximately 8 feet of water. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Cadet Losey has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Military Academy.

18. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Specialist Four Dennis F. McCarthy, 026-34-8985, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Fort Polk, Louisiana on 17 May 1971. On that date Specialist McCarthy's quick thinking and swift and courageous action prevented severe injury to two trainees. One of the trainees accidentally activated a delay mechanism on a grenade simulator. Specialist McCarthy, not knowing whether the device was active or not, grabbed it from the trainee's hand and attempted to throw it clear of the group. The device detonated shortly after it left Specialist McCarthy's hand, knocking the three men to the ground, but causing only minor injuries. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Specialist Four McCarthy has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

19. By direction of the President, under the provisions of the Act of Congress approved 2 July 1926, a Soldier's Medal for heroism not involving actual conflict with an enemy is awarded to:

Sergeant First Class James E. Teachy, 241-54-1004, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism involving voluntary risk of life at Landstuhl, Germany on 12 August 1970. On that date Sergeant Teachy, responded to a call for help in a dependent housing area where a 12-year-old boy had climbed a tower and came in contact with high voltage electric wires. Sergeant Teachy, along with a military policeman, climbed the tower to reach the boy. The two men reached through a wire guard and lifted the boy from the wire. They held the boy off the electric wire for 25 minutes until the electricity was turned off. They then brought him down from the tower to a waiting ambulance. The boy's life was saved. By his courageous action, humanitarian regard for his fellow man, and dedication of service to his country, Sergeant First Class Teachy has reflected great credit on himself and the United States Army.

VII_AIR MEDAL. By direction of the President, under the provisions of Executive Order 9158, 11 May 1942, as amended by Executive Order 9242-A, 11 September 1942, an Air Medal with "V" Device (Numeral Device 35) for heroism while participating in aerial flight is awarded by the Department of the Army to:

Captain Edward J. Preston, 450-46-1551, United States Army, who distinguished himself by heroism while participating in aerial flight in the Republic of Vietnam. At approximately 2100 hours on 30 September 1966, during Operation ATTLEBORO I, in Tay Ninh Province; Company C, 2d Battalion, 1st Infantry, 196th Light Infantry Brigade, suffered three casualties from enemy rifle grenades. Medical evacuation for the seriously wounded was urgently needed, and Captain Preston and his crew were airborne shortly after the request was received. En route to the rescue, Captain Preston was confronted with extremely adverse flying conditions. Heavy torrential rains and lightning forced him to fly at and below tree-top level in order that the evacuation area could be observed. The fury of the tropical storm prevented immediate visual contact with the evacuation area below, forcing Captain Preston to make several attempts before he was able to locate the evacuation area. Flying almost blindly at tree-top level and negotiating the high trees along the small landing zone, his relentless courage in braving the fury of the tropical storm was responsible for saving the lives of the seriously wounded personnel. Captain Preston's personal courage reflected great credit on him, his unit, and the United States Army.

By Order of the Secretary of the Army:

W. C. WESTMORELAND, General, United States Army, Chief of Staff.

Official:

VERNE L. BOWERS, Major General, United States Army, The Adjutant General.

Distribution:

To be distributed in accordance with DA Form 12-4 requirements.

VI___VIETNAMESE GALLANTRY CROSS WITH PALM. 1. The award of the Vietnamese Gallantry Cross with Palm by the Republic of Vietnam to units listed below is confirmed.

2. The Gallantry Cross with Palm has been awarded by the Government of the Republic of Vietnam for outstanding service during the period 2 December 1969 through 8 January 1971 to:

2D SQUADRON, 17TH CAVALRY, 101ST AIRBORNE DIVISION and its attached units:

Company L, 75th Infantry 332d Transportation Detachment 333d Transportation Detachment 507th Transportation Detachment

The citation reads as follows:

An outstanding, seasoned unit which always demonstrates a gallant fighting spirit. Participating in combat in Quang Tri and Thua Thien Provinces from 2 December 1969 to 8 January 1971, the 2d Squadron, 17th Cavalry, has fought alongside and provided maximum fire support for the 1st Infantry Division, Republic of Vietnam Armed Forces, at Tun Tavern, Fuller, Barbara and O'Reilly bases, thus blocking infiltration by the North Vietnamese Communists into the dense mountain areas of Quang Tri and Thua Thien Provinces and inflicting heavy losses upon the adversary. In particular, during Operations Narrative and Clinch Valley, conducted in June and July 1970, although faced with unfavorable weather conditions, rugged terrain, and intense hostile fire, the men of the 2d Squadron, 17th Cavalry, overcame all hardships and fought gallantly, smashing many North Vietnamese Communist regular units and at the same time destroying many enemy bases, trenches and defensive fortifications. Heavy casualties were inflicted on the enemy and numerous weapons and much ammunition, along with military clothing and equipment, was seized. With the above brilliant achievements, the 2d Squadron, 17th Cavalry, has made a substantial contribution to the Republic of Vietnam's fight against the Communist aggressors in order to preserve freedom. At the same time, it has upheld the heroic traditions of the United States Armed Forces.

3. The Gallantry Cross with Palm has been awarded by the Government of the Republic of Vietnam for outstanding service during the period 31 January 1968 through 3 February 1968 to:

2D BATTALION, 506TH INFANTRY, 101ST AIRBORNE DIVISION

The citation reads as follows:

The 2d Battalion, 506th Infantry Regiment, 101st Airborne Division, under the command of Lieutenant Colonel DAVIS E. GRANGE JR. is cited as a gallant and stirring combat unit. Throughout its assignment in the Republic of Vietnam, the 2d Battalion aggressively participated in numerous operations and struck heavy blows at the North Vietnamese Army Regular Units in III Combat Tactical Zone (CTZ). Especially, during the enemy Mau Than offensive, the above Battalion was air-lifted from Phuoc Vinh to Bien Hoa Airbase to coordinate with friendly forces, releasing the enemy pressure in the vicinities of Bien Hoa Airbase and III Corps Headquarters from 31 January to 3 February 1968. Despite massive volumes of hostile fire, the 2d Battalion fighting men, with vast combat experiences and the determination to win, have overcome all difficulties and repulsed the enemy from his well-entrenched artillery positions. The anti-Communist spirit and the great sacrifice of all fighters of the 2d Battalion, 506th Infantry Regiment, 101st Airborne Division greatly contributed to the counter-insurgency effort to provide freedom for South Vietnam.

VII__VIETNAM GALLANTRY CROSS WITH GOLD STAR. 1. The award of the Vietnamese Gallantry Cross with Gold Star by the Republic of Vietnam to a unit of the United States Army listed below is confirmed.

2. The Gallantry Cross with Gold Star has been awarded by the Government of the Republic of Vietnam for outstanding service during the period 19 October 1966 through 24 April 1971 to:

8TH TRANSPORTATION GROUP and its subordinate units:

- Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, 8th Transportation Group Headquarters and Headquarters Detachment, 27th Transportation Battalion

The citation reads as follows:

An outstanding unit composed of courageous fighting men with abundant professional experience, who have always demonstrated an enthusiastic spirit of service. While serving in Military Regions 1 and 2 from 19 October 1966 to 24 April 1971, although forced to operate on critical and difficult terrain and faced with Communist ambushes and attacks, the men of the 8th Transportation Group disregarded dangers and utilized their full capability to successfully accomplish assigned logistical support missions. In particular, during Operations "MacArthur," "Francis Marion," "Patrick," "Wheeler," "Wallowa," "Dazzlem," "Pershing," "Walker," "Maeng Ho 9-10," "Nguyen Hue II," and "Lam Son 719," the 8th Transportation Group covered a total of 60,191,926 road miles, moved 175,000 servicemen and transported 4,291,079 tons of cargo in support of United States, Republic of Korea and Republic of Vietnam Armed Forces, destroying vital bases and logistical installations of the Communists in Secret Zones, and inflicting heavy personnel casualties and weapons losses upon them. With the above splendid achievements, the 8th Transportation Group has made a substantial contribution to the anti-Communist efforts in the Republic of Vietnam.

The citation reads as follows:

An outstanding unit which always displays a gallant fighting spirit. Throughout its period of service in Binh Thuan Sector, the 2d Squadron, 1st Cavalry, has exerted itself in all operational missions, in providing air and artillery support, and in the Village and Hamlet Pacification Program in three districts in the northern part of Binh Thuan (Hoa Da, Hai Ninh and Phan Ly Cham). In particular, during the period from 1 June 1969 to 30 August 1970, the 2d Squadron, 1st Cavalry, successively conducted combat operations in three districts in the northern part of Binh Thuan. In other fields, the 2d Squadron, 1st Cavalry has coordinated closely with S5 of Hai Ninh, Hoa Da and Phan Ly Cham Subsectors and the 44th Infantry Regiment in conducting broadcasts appealing to Vietcong cadre and soldiers to rally to the government side, dropping 2,000,000 leaflets and putting up 10,000 posters. Furthermore, it has also carried out Civil Affairs projects, assisting in the construction of schools and defensive systems in villages and hamlets, providing medical treatment and distributing medicine to the people of three districts in the northern part of Binh Thuan. With the above outstanding achievements, the 2d Squadron, 1st Cavalry, has made a substantial contribution to the Republic of Vietnam Government's Pacification and Development Program and at the same time has promoted Vietnamese-American friendship.

2. The Civil Actions Medal, First Class, with Oak Leaf Device has been awarded by the Government of the Republic of Vietnam for outstanding service during the period 26 June 1970 through 30 July 1970 and 12 January 1971 through 25 February 1971.

18TH AVIATION COMPANY, 1ST AVIATION BRIGADE

The citation reads as follows:

The 18th Aviation Company, United States Army, stationed in Qui Nhon is an outstanding unit which has participated in military operations within Military Regions 1 and 2 and has provided effective fire support for Popular Forces and Regional Forces units, gaining numerous splendid achievements. Along with its military activities, the 18th Aviation Company, under the command of Major BILLY J. HARDEMAN, has always taken part in Civil Affairs projects in order to help the Vietnamese people. In particular, in construction and maintenance projects, as well as in the furnishing of materials, foodstuffs, and medicines for the British Children's Protection Center, all of its men smoothed away all difficulties and exerted themselves to complete two living quarters for 48 children and one dispensary equipped with adequate medical equipment and capable of providing medical treatment and care for more than 200 children. Furthermore, the Company provided 12 tons of medicines, one washing machine, and a quantity of foodstuffs and furniture for the benefit of 275 children. The above outstanding achievements have contributed substantially to the Pacification and Rural Development Program of the Government of the Republic of Vietnam, and at the same time have strengthened the already existing bonds of friendship between the two Vietnamese and American peoples.

3. The Civil Actions Medal, First Class, with Oak Leaf Device has been awarded by the Government of the Republic of Vietnam for outstanding service during the period 30 and 31 October 1970 to:

1ST BATTALION, 61ST INFANTRY, 1ST BRIGADE, 5TH INFANTRY DIVISION

The citation reads as follows:

An outstanding unit, which has rendered numerous outstanding services in both military and civil affairs fields. In particular, on 30 and 31 October 1970, the entire population of Quang Tri Province was in a critical situation due to floods caused by Typhoon Kate, Lieutenant Colonel RICHARD A. SCHOLTE, commander of the 1st Battalion, 61st Infantry, quickly organized voluntary teams to launch relief operations using amphibious vehicles to rescue and evacuate civilian victims in rural areas south of Quang Tri Province. Almost all the men of the Battalion displayed untiring efforts by going to remote, isolated, flooded villages in order to carry children in their arms, lead the elders, and transport the people to safe areas. In addition, the Battalion provided food, medicines, canvas tents, and necessary materials for the benefit of flood victims and established the following noteworthy record: distributed eight canvas tents, 200 mosquito nets, 200 blankets, a large quantity of clothing, medicine and food and provided facilities to evacuate 250 persons to safe areas. With the above good actions, the 1st Battalion, 61st Infantry has promoted the spirit of mutual assistance between the peoples of the United States and the Republic of Vietnam.

4. The Civil Actions Medal, First Class, with Oak Leaf Device has been awarded by the Government of the Republic of Vietnam for outstanding service on 30 October 1970 to:

75TH SUPPORT BATTALION

The citation reads as follows:

An outstanding unit which has rendered numerous outstanding achievements in the military and civil affairs fields. In particular, on the night of 30 October 1970, after being assigned the mission of providing necessary materials for flood victims in Quang Tri Province, the 75th Support Battalion immediately mobilized and sent all available resources and facilities to required areas. Throughout the flooding period, the Battalion established many refugee centers and temporary shelters and distributed food, blankets, mats, and medicines to a large number of homeless Vietnamese people. In summary, the 75th Support Battalion distributed 15 canvas tents, 400 mosquito nets, 400 blankets and a large quantity of clothing, medicines and food, and provided facilities to transport 480 people to safe areas.

5. The Civil Actions Medal, First Class, with Oak Leaf Device has been awarded by the Government of the Republic of Vietnam for outstanding service during the period 1 January 1970 through 15 January 1971 to:

84TH ENGINEER BATTALION and its assigned and attached units:

536th Engineer Detachment

23d Engineer Detachment

The citation reads as follows:

The 84th Engineer Battalion, under the command of Colonel RICHARD M. WELLS, is an outstanding unit, which has constantly demonstrated an enthusiastic spirit of service and great zeal in all its assigned missions. Throughout the period it has operated in Vietnam, in addition to the missions of effectively supporting Vietnamese units in military operations against the enemy and in rural development and reconstruction efforts, the 84th Engineer Battalion has always strived to assist the inhabitants and local authorities in implementing many projects and programs aimed at rebuilding houses, schools, markets, roads, bridges, and culverts. In particular, in the program to construct Bong Son bridge along National Highway #1, begun in January 1970, although faced with great difficulties and obstacles, all the men of the Battalion have disregarded every obstacle, working continually day and night to complete, in record time, a three-lane bridge with 16 spans, 497-meters-long overall and 8.7-meters-wide, capable of supporting over 48 tons and equipped with sufficient lighting and defensive systems. Through their tremendous efforts, after 8 months of construction, the Bong Son bridge was completed on 14 September 1970, helping to facilitate traffic from the provinces north of Binh Dinh into Saigon and the transporting of local products from rural areas into cities. Due to this bridge, commerce has become more prosperous, and the supplying of military equipment and the movement of units have been carried out in an expeditious and timely manner. Furthermore, the 84th Engineer Battalion has rehabilitated many other lines-of-communications systems in Binh Dinh and repaired two spans of an old wooden bridge and two parallel pillars of a railroad bridge in order to complete the lines-of-communication program over the Lai Giang River along National Highway #1. With the above outstanding achievements, the 84th Engineer Battalion has made a substantial contribution to the Pacification and Development efforts of the Government of the Republic of Vietnam.

6. The Civil Actions Medal, First Class, with Oak Leaf Device has been awarded by the Government of the Republic of Vietnam for outstanding service during the period 1 October 1969 through 15 December 1970 to:

93D EVACUATION HOSPITAL and its assigned and attached units:

46th Medical Detachment 935th Medical Detachment 53d Medical Detachment 332d Medical Detachment 194th Medical Detachment 2d Medical Detachment 25th Medical Detachment

The citation reads as follows:

The 93d Evacuation Hospital and the attached 194th Medical Detachment established an outstanding record while working in civil affairs projects within the territory of Military Region 3 from 1 October 1969 to 15 December 1970. Through their medical civic actions activities, the 93d Evacuation Hospital and the 194th Medical Detachment were responsible for managing the civil affairs program in Bien Hoa Province, bringing about numerous successful results concerning medical services. During their first months of activities, they worked closely with the 720th Military Police Battalion in order to effectively support rural medical services in the villages of An Hoa Hung, Long Binh Tay and An Xuan. Physicians, dentists, and nurses of the 93d Evacuation Hospital provided medical treatment and care for more than 180 Vietnamese civilian patients in the above rural hamlets. Thanks to a deep devotion to duty and a high sense of duty exhibited by the men of the 93d Evacuation Hospital, this medical civic action program progressed satisfactorily among the Vietnamese people. The 93d Evacuation Hospital and the 194th Medical Detachment cooperated with United States Advisory Team 18 in frequently visiting and distributing medicines to the people in Long Tan, Tan Zuan, and Phuoc Long villages. Public health requirements increased considerably, with 1,455 patients receiving medical treatment in December 1969. The unit also conducted sick call every week in Di An District (Bien Hoa Province), under the sponsorship of Advisory Team 95 until 1307 patients were given medical care by physicians and dentists. Along with the above medical civic actions program, the Management Board of the 93d Evacuation Hospital gave assistance to the Tan Mai Orphanage, where there were approximately 200 children up to 12 years of age, by providing care and medical examinations on an outpatient basis, distributing medicines, and emphasizing preventive medicine problems. The 93d Evacuation Hospital assisted materially in improving sanitary conditions such as building water tanks to hold sterilized drinking water. The Sisters of the Da Minh order were carefully given instructions on basic procedures for preventing communicable diseases, as well as on rations and dietary rules for children. Thus, the death rate has reduced to a minimum. Furthermore, the 93d Evacuation Hospital not only treated orphans and nuns for their common diseases, but also initiated a campaign called "Let's do right away." This campaign was started in September 1969 with a view to furnishing clothing, toys, and essential items for orphanages. Approximately 70 private individuals and organizations from 13 American States have responded to this campaign and have sent 480 parcels of donations weighing 6,300 pounds. At Da Minh Orphanage, Ho Nai, the 93d Evacuation Hospital frequently coordinated with the 194th Medical Detachment and the 97th Military Police Battalion in conducting visits and sick call and sending donations, as well as demonstrating methods for feeding and nurturing children and maintaining sanitary conditions at high standards. At the same time, in accordance with the decision of the 44th Medical Brigade Commander, the 93d Evacuation Hospital had to carry out the missions of providing medical treatment and care for sick and wounded servicemen of the Civilian Irregular Defense Group forces, as well as for those of the war victim program. There were approximately 130 Vietnamese patients receiving medical treatment for their internal diseases every month. As a Burn Treatment Center in Military Regions 3 and 4, the 93d Evacuation Hospital furnished adequate medical equipment and medicines for Vietnamese medical units and, at the same time, provided medical treatment and care for a number of Vietnamese persons having burns. Through the above outstanding services, the men of the 93d Evacuation Hospital and the 194th Medical Detachment have strengthened the bonds of Vietnamese-American friendship.

7. The Civil Actions Medal, First Class, with Oak Leaf Device has been awarded by the Government of the Republic of Vietnam for outstanding service during the period 28 October 1970 through 6 December 1970 to:

223D AVIATION BATTALION and its assigned and attached units:

18th Aviation Company 129th Aviation Company 61st Aviation Company 225th Aviation Company 196th Aviation Company 203d Aviation Company 163d Medical Detachment 546th Medical Detachment

The citation reads as follows:

The 223d Aviation Battalion, United States Army, under the command of Lieutenant Colonel ANTHONY J. ADESSA, is an outstanding combat aviation unit, which always displays an enthusiastic spirit of service. While operating in Vietnam and stationed at Qui Nhon, in addition to providing fire support for Vietnamese units during military operations against the enemy, the 223d Aviation Battalion smoothed out all obstacles and overcame difficult circumstances in order to help the Vietnamese people and local authorities carry out many projects designed to restore the country and rebuild houses. In particular, in the mission of evacuating and providing relief for flood victims in five districts of Binh Dinh Province, although faced with great difficulties caused by the bad weather, all the men of the Battalion disregarded danger and worked unceasingly to use helicopters for timely evacuation of 25,000 persons and a quantity of property to high grounds. They also understook reconnaissance flights to guide helicopters and barges in rescuing 13 persons from being swept away by the currents and search out the bodies of three drowned victims for burial. In addition, the entire unit provided a quantity of canvas tents for temporary camps, plus old clothing, food, blankets, and mosquito nets. At the same time, it maneuvered and dispatched mobile medical teams to various local areas in order to provide medical examinations and distribute medicines to the people. The above good actions have strengthened the already existing bonds of friendship between the two Vietnamese and American peoples.

AWARD OF THE MEDAL OF HONOR

LIBRAIRY

By direction of the President, under the Joint Resolution of Congress approved 12 July 1862 (amended by act of 3 March 1863, act of 9 July 1918 and act of 25 July 1963), the Medal of Honor for conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity at the risk of life above and beyond the call of duty is awarded posthumously by the Department of the Army in the name of Congress to:

Sergeant Rodney J. Evans, 417-70-7176, United States Army, who distinguished himself by extraordinary heroism on 18 July 1969 while serving as a squad leader in Company D, 1st Battalion, 12th Cavalry, 1st Calvary Division, during a combat mission in Tay Ninh Province, Republic of Vietnam. Sergeant Evans was leading his squad in a reconnaissance sweep through heavy vegetation to reconnoiter a strong enemy position. As the force approached a well-defined trail, the platoon scout warned that the trail was booby-trapped. Sergeant Evans led his squad on a route parallel to the trail. The force had started to move forward when a nearby squad was hit by the blast of a concealed mine. Looking to his right, Sergeant Evans saw a second enemy device. With complete disregard for his own safety he shouted a warning to his men, dived to the ground, and crawled toward the mine. Just as he reached it an enemy soldier detonated the explosive, and Sergeant Evans absorbed the full impact with his body. His gallant and selfless action saved his comrades from probable death or injury and served as an inspiration to his entire unit. Sergeant Evans' conspicuous gallantry and intrepidity in action at the cost of his life were in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflect great credit upon himself, his unit, and the United States Army.

39TH RANGER BATTALION

ARMY OF THE REPUBLIC OF VIETNAM

The 1st Armor Brigade, Army of the Republic of Vietnam, and its subordinate units, the 17th Armored Cavalry Squadron, the 37th Ranger Battalion and the 39th Ranger Battalion, distinguished themselves by extraordinary heroism and marked success in action against hostile forces in the area south of Hoi An, Quang Nam Province, Republic of Vietnam during the period 11 February 1970 to 24 April 1970. The 1st Armor Brigade conducted intensive combat operations against heavily defended positions in a Viet Cong/North Vietnamese Army stronghold. Throughout this period, the Brigade's contact with the enemy involved fierce, prolonged engagements demanding the most effective command and control and the utmost in tactical execution and courage on the part of the Brigade and its subordinate elements. The 1st Armor Brigade assaulted continuously and relentlessly to overcome tenacious enemy resistance supported by heavy rocket and small arms fire. Despite the ferocious, determined enemy defense, the 1st Armor Brigade destroyed virtually all the enemy formations in the area of operations, annihilating the T-89 Sapper Battalion and decimating the 70th Main Force Battalion and the V25 Local Force Battalion to a point of combat ineffectiveness. At the conclusion of the

TAGO 189A-October 510-468-13-72

Brigade's operations in the area, an historic enemy sanctuary had been converted into a Government-pacified area. The extraordinary heroism, devotion to duty, and professional competence displayed by the members of the 1st Armor Brigade forces are in keeping with the highest traditions of military service and reflect great credit upon them and the Armed Forces of the Republic of Vietnam.

II__MERITORIOUS UNIT COMMENDATION. 1. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 203, AR 672-5-1, the Meritorious Unit Commendation is awarded to the following unit of the United States Army for exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service during the period indicated :

442D SIGNAL BATTALION UNITED STATES ARMY

with citation as follows:

The 442d Signal Battalion is cited for its outstanding service in support of United States forces engaged in combat operations in the Republic of Vietnam and in support of all United States military forces in Thailand. During the period July 1969 through July 1971, the 442d Signal Battalion was assigned the mission of operating and maintaining the Army portion of the Integrated Communications System in Northern Thailand. Strategically placed terminals and relays provided the Integrated Communications System with some of the longest and most efficient Tropospheric Scatter Shots in the world. These mainline and tributary links comprised approximately 300,000 channel miles of communications and provided telephone, teletype, and data communications. These circuits supported the vital mission of the United States Air Force units in Thailand, who provided direct combat support to free world forces in southeast Asia. In all instances the 442d Signal Battalion satisfied communications requirements rapidly and effectively. The outstanding contribution of this unit is reflected by the excellently maintained facilities and services it performs and clearly shows the devotion to duty and high standard of performance of the personnel of the 442d Signal Battalion.

2. By direction of the Secretary of the Army, under the provisions of paragraph 203, AR 672-5-1, the Meritorious Unit Commendation is awarded to the following units of the United States Army for exceptionally meritorious achievement in the performance of outstanding service during the period indicated:

THE 7TH PSYCHOLOGICAL OPERATIONS GROUP

AND ITS SUBORDINATE COMMANDS:

AUGMENTATION, 7TH PSYCHOLOGICAL OPERATIONS GROUP, JAPAN

AUGMENTATION, 7TH PSYCHOLOGICAL OPERATIONS GROUP, OKINAWA

AUGMENTATION, 7TH PSYCHOLOGICAL OPERATIONS GROUP, TAIWAN

16TH PSYCHOLOGICAL OPERATIONS COMPANY 18TH PSYCHOLOGICAL OPERATIONS COMPANY 3D PSYCHOLOGICAL OPERATIONS DETACHMENT 15TH PSYCHOLOGICAL OPERATIONS DETACHMENT 24TH PSYCHOLOGICAL OPERATIONS DETACHMENT 244TH PSYCHOLOGICAL OPERATIONS DETACHMENT UNITED STATES ARMY

the citation reads as follows:

The 7th Psychological Operations Group, United States Army and its subordinate commands distinguished themselves by exceptionally meritorious performance of duty in support of free world forces in Vietnam and contiguous areas during the period October 1968 to June 1970. During this period, the 7th Psychological Operations Group supported the Commander, United States Military Assistance Command, Vietnam, by providing in excess of 13 billion leaflets for dissemination in support of military operations, area pacification programs, and the Chieu Hoi amnesty program. During this period, the 7th Psychological Operations Group provided approximately 85 percent of the total Military Assistance Command, Vietnam, printing requirements. The leaflets were instrumental in increasing the number of enemy defections to the Government of Vietnam during this 21-month period. The development and continuing refinement of the technique of high altitude leaflet dissemination enabled the Group to provide a high level of leaflet saturation into areas which otherwise would have been denied to the United States. This technique enabled the aircraft to drop leaflets into favorable winds miles away from the target area, and yet insured that the leaflets fell within the designated location. Thus, the aircraft and crew were able to avoid enemy antiaircraft artillery fire, and there was not a single aircraft or crew member lost while engaged in leaflet dissemination using the high altitude technique. During the period cited, the 7th Psychological Operations Group provided 80 officers and enlisted personnel on a temporary duty basis in support of Commander, United States Military Assistance Command, Vietnam. These men were instrumental in training selected personnel from Military Assistance Command, Vietnam, served as short-term replacements in key positions, and thereby contributed to the success of the psychological operations program in Vietnam and contiguous areas. Throughout the cited period, the 7th Psychological Operations Group rendered exceptionally outstanding support to military combat operations in the Republic of Vietnam and contiguous areas. The service of the members of the 7th Psychological Operations Group and its subordinate commands is in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service and reflects great credit on them, the Armed Forces, and the United States of America.

The citation reads as follows:

The 2d Logistical Command distinguished itself by exceptionally meritorious performance of duty as the primary logistical support unit, during the period 1 July 1970 to 31 December 1971, for the United States and Allied Forces operating throughout Southeast Asia, Okinawa, Japan and Korea. The 2d Logistical Command was directly responsible for Operation RED HAT, the removal of toxic chemical munitions from Okinawa. The professionalism, competency and dedication of the personnel of the 2d Logistical Command were readily apparent during the entire RED HAT Operation and resulted in the safe and efficient removal of over 13,000 short tons of chemical munitions from the island of Okinawa while simultaneously continuing their normal mission of logistical support to free world forces. During the cited period, the 2d Logistical Command implemented numerous internally developed cost reduction programs which resulted in validated cost savings in excess of 12.6 million dollars while the command increased its mission effectiveness and customer satisfaction. The PACOM Utilization and Redistribution Agency (PURA), under the operational control of the 2d Logistical Command, nominated 915.9 million dollars and referred for shipment 115.0 million dollars of excess material for the maximum utilization of this material by the United States Government. Through continual progress in automated logistics, the 2d Logistical Command made highly significant, economical and efficient advances in the execution of all facets-supply, maintenance, transportation and services-of the command's logistical mission. The 2d Logistical Command's successful accomplishment of its multifaceted mission made an important contribution to the national defense and to the defense of South Vietnam and all Southeast Asia. The dedication and efficiency of the 2d Logistical Command are in keeping with the highest traditions of the military service, and reflect great credit upon itself, the United States Army, Ryukyu Islands, the United States Army, Pacific, and the Department of the Army.

GENERAL ORDERS

No. 45

HEADQUARTERS DEPARTMENT OF THE ARMY WASHINGTON, DC, 26 December 1972

The death of the Honorable HARRY S TRUMAN, 33d President of the United States, which occurred on 26 December 1972, at Kansas City, Missouri, is announced with deep regret.

MR. TRUMAN was born on 8 May 1884 in Lamar, Missouri. He attended public schools in Independence, Missouri and the Kansas City School of Law. From 1905 until 1918, he was a member of the National Guard, serving on active duty from 1918 to 1919 and participating as a captain of artillery in the Saint-Mihiel and Meuse-Argonne Campaigns. He concluded his service as a member of the Officers' Reserve Corps with his retirement in 1953. He distinguished himself in public life by serving in the judiciary as a Presiding Judge from 1926 until 1934. Elected to the United States Senate in 1934, he served until he was elected Vice President of the United States on 7 November 1944. Having taken office as Vice President on 20 January 1945, he assumed the Presidency upon the death of President Franklin D. Roosevelt on 12 April 1945. He was subsequently elected to serve another term as President of the United States, remaining in office until 20 January 1953.

MR. TRUMAN introduced the "Truman Doctrine," which was approved by the Congress on 15 May 1947, to aid Greece and Turkey in combating communism. The inception of the North Atlantic Treaty Organization as a stabilizing force in world affairs occurred during his second term. He skillfully guided the affairs of our country during the Korean Conflict, and his quick decision to redeem a solemn national pledge to quell armed aggression was lauded throughout the free world. After serving his country faithfully for many years, he devoted his remaining years to writing.

On the occasion of the 14th anniversary of the Korean Conflict, MR. TRUMAN was awarded the highest medal of the Republic of Korea, "The Order of Merit for National Foundation, Kong-guk Kongnu Hunjang" in recognition of and appreciation for his contribution to the cause of freedom and democracy. In October 1966, he was awarded the George Catlett Marshall Medal, the highest award of the Association of the United States Army, for his "selfless and outstanding service to the United States of America."

MR. TRUMAN's life was characterized by integrity, courage, and patriotism. These qualities earned him the admiration and respect of the people of America.

GO 45

His death deprives the Nation of a most distinguished citizen and will cause widespread and genuine sorrow.

As a mark of respect to the memory of Mr. TRUMAN, the National Flag will be displayed at half-staff on all installations under the control of the Department of the Army for 30 days from the date of death.

MR. TRUMAN will lie in state in the lobby of the Truman Library from 27 December 1972 to 28 December 1972 and will be buried in the Courtyard of the Truman Library, Independence, Missouri on 28 December 1972.

The Commanding General, Fifth United States Army, will render appropriate honors.

By Order of the Secretary of the Army:

Official:

VERNE L. BOWERS Major General, United States Army The Adjutant General CREIGHTON W. ABRAMS General, United States Army Chief of Staff
