Col. Cassell

Col, Cassell was a member of the National Guard from 1937 to 1940 as an enlisted man and received his commission in 1940. After an assignment with the 116th Infantry Regiment at Fort Meade, Md., he was sent to the University of Maryland where he served as Professor of Military Science until May 1944. He was then assigned to Camp Wheeler, Ga., where he remained for the next 15 months.

Col. Cassell spent the next 26 months with occupation forces in Korea, returning to the United States in 1948. After two years service at Ft. Jackson, S. C., the colonel returned to the Maryland Military District where he was assigned as a Unit Instructor in the USAR until March, 1952. He returned to Korea in April of that year for a 12-month tour of duty including an assignment with KMAG. He came back to the States in March of last year. nd after attending The Infantry School, Fort Benning, Ga., he was assigned to the 3d Armored Division.

(Continued from page 1) The returning G-2 first saw Fort Knox at the age of 15 when he attended a summer course here in 1922 as a basic ROTC cadet. He served at Knox again in 1926 when he trained here with the 7th Cavalry Brigade (mechanized).

Reserve Officer A graduate of Colby College, Waterville, Maine, Col. Davidson began his military service in 1932 when he joined Squadron A of the 101st New York Cavalry. Later, as a Reserve Officer, he signed to the 2nd and 13th Cavalry Regiments, and in 1936 he was graduated from the Cavalry School, Fort Riley, Kansas.

Col. Davidson began active duty in 1940 at the Front Royal, Va., Remount Depot, and a year later was sent to Panama as commanding officer of the pack-mule trains there.
Overseas Service

Col. Davidson went to England in 1944 and then to France Following a brief return to the states in 1945, he went to the Pacific Theater and was on oc cupation duty in Japan until 1947. Upon his return home, he was separated from the service but was recalled to active duty with the Intelligence Division in 1948

After graduation from the Stra tegic Intelligence School in Washington, D. C., Col. Davidson was designated as Military At-tache to Romania and later to Czechoslovakia. However, he was never granted an entry visa by either of these countries and spent over a year in Istanbul, Turkey, attempting to obtain passage behind the Iron Curtain attempting to obtain

In 1950 Col. Davidson assumed the role of G-2 of the American forces in France, and he remained there until his assignment with the Central Intelligence Agency in Washington, D. C., a year and a half ago. He served with CIA until his assignment to the 3rd Armored Division in February 1953. He served the Spearhead Division as G-2 until his temporary assignment to Fort Bragg las

The Annuity Plan & How It Effects You

"Annuity Plan" suddenly becomes the magic word in many an army household this month and among many careerists who are still debating among themselves: "Should I should --shouldn't?" or should I

To supply some of the answers — not all of them in a condensed form at that, INSIDE THE TURRET this week presents a summary of questions and answers on plan. These questions and answers were released recently from Headquarters, Second Army, and in some cases are printed verbatim from the Second Army report.
Current interest in the plan is accelerated by the fact that many soldiers who may want to apply for it, must do so by April 30. The plan covers members of the Armed Forces and Reserve units on active duty or in a retired status.

In general the plan allows a serviceman to draw a reduced retirement pay after he retires so that in the event of his death his widow and children will continue to receive benefits (annui-ties) instead of those benefits being cut off with the death of the husband as is now the case. The plan is not compulsory. It is strictly voluntary, and it covers both enlisted and officer personnel.

Do You Know?

the plan?

TAEGU, Korea-Roving Sally has joined the fight against crime

Sally is a boxcar. She is a wellequipped crime laboratory which rides the rails in Korea to track down stolen United States supplies and equipment and helps maintain railway security.

The boxcar laboratory is the creation of Master Sergeant Robert E. Wolfe, (137 E. Russell, Columbus, Ohio) now serving with the Criminal Investigation tion of the 772nd Military Police Battalion.

It took seven weeks to trans form the boxcar into a crime lab rate received the Bronze Star Medal with V-device for valor in Korea at the battalion parade on the 29th

During this time, Sally was outfitted with equipment such as flinger-printing apparatus, cameras, spotlights and other tools used in crime detection. Another special feature is a built-in locked evidence room. She also sports an office, bedroom, washroom, and a kitchen complete with ice-box and stove. Sally can hold sufficient provisions to stay out for two weeks or more at a time.

When Sally is sent out on a case, she generally is accompanied by one or two investigators, an interpreter, and two or three Korean detectives.
All doubts of Sally's worth were squelched after she had made the first two trips. By then, the material and labor costs chargeable to her were more than covered in the recovery of UN supplies.

The champs have set an amazing record this season of only one defeat after playing a sched-ule of more than 40 games. In the final game, 2128 took an early lead over the 3rd M five, with the score 20-9 at the end of the first period.

The issue was never in doubt throughout the remainder of the contest.

Jim Flick paced 2128 as he dropped in nine field goals and eight free throws for a 26 point total. High man for the losers was Hope with 11 points. The Champions used a collapsing zone defense to bottle-up Harry Nicholson, one of the outstanding players on the QM quintet. He only collected seven points for the evening, which is well below his season average.

The 2128 five had previously defeated the QMs 89-58 in the opening game of the post-wide playoffs. In that game, Flick was high for the victors with 27, while Borden followed with 24. Nicholson was tops for the losers with 13

In their second game of the series, the 2128 team edged 29th AIB 46-44 in a very exciting contest. The next game featured the Instructor Bn., the only team to have defeated 2128 during the season. Going into this game, 2128 and- the Instructors were the only undefeated quintets re-maining in the playoffs. This semi-final match was taken by 2128 with a score of 74-56. Flick was outstanding in this contest with a total of 27 points. The following evening, 3rd QM pulled the upset of the tourney knocking the Instructor team out of the playoffs 73-62, which placed them in the finals with 2128. The final and deciding game was then taken, as previously stated, by a hot 2128 five 83-44.

2128 had won the Non-Division Bn. Championship two weeks ago and now add the Post-Wide crown to their collection.

SPORTS SIDELINES

ONE OF THE CHIEF THREATS to the Yankees in the approaching struggle for the American League pennant is the Cleve-land Indians. The Indians should be a sure bet for second in the Junior Circuit, with a better than average chance for first place. They appear to be a much stronger club than the ones fielded in

DURING THE PAST FEW SEASONS the team has suffered from weakness in right field, at first base and shortstop. Only the first sack position still hasn't been improved. General Manager Greenberg has been involved in several transactions in an attempt cure some of these ailments.

DAVE PHILLEY has been acquired from the Athletics and is set to go in the right field position. He hit slightly over 300 last season and is reliable defensively. Needless to say, he is a definite improvement over the Indian right gardners of the last several

The Annuity Plan

The plan provides for options for payment to dependents after a serviceman's death, according to the individual wants and needs of the man.

How often and how long will payments go on after death? Payments to children will continue monthly until they are 18 ried. A wife will receive payments until she remarries or dies. How long must one pay to stay in the plan?

It depends

How much will the plan cost Special tables have been prepared for this purpose. Personnel and administrative officers can best answer this question. These officers, too, can best figure out for each case just how much a man's dependents will get in event of his death

Can one ever get out of the plan once he has joined?

Not unless he is on active duty and has five or more years left to serve.

Any person thinking about joining the plan should study the idea thoroughly, going over his individual case with a personnel or administrative officer

Gen. Howze Leaves Fort Knox

Maj. Gen. Collies. Commanding General of The Armored Center farewell to Brig. Gen. Howze, Asst. Commandant of The Armored School, as he leaves for a new assignment in the Far East.

Brigadier General Robert L. Howze, Assistant Command-ant of The Armored School, departed from Ft. Knox on Saturday Morning, the 3rd of April, for a new assignment in the Far East.

Brig. Gen. Howse has been assigned to The Armored School since May of 1952, The many friends that the General and his family have made during their stay at The Armored Center assembled at Veoman Guest House at a very early hour to bid farewell. Among those present were Maj. Gen. John F. Collier, Commanding General of The Armored Center and Brig. Gen. John K. Waters, the Deputy Commanding General of The Armored Center

Army Life in Foreign Countries Discussed by International Club

The panel discussion group, amassed and monitored by Mrs. Percy Brown at the recent International Club tea, revealed an array of responses to inquires, regarding indigenous modes and customs, that held necks craned and eyebrows akimbo for the better part of two hours. The questions, for the most part, were focused upon the domestic sphere of army hours. The questions, for the most part, were focused upon the domestic sphere of army life in the countries of the questionees - namely: Brazil, Chile, Ecuador, France, and

A few ungarnished garnerings: Though they do maintain some form of PX or Commissary most posts are not equipped with quarters for resident families. Sweden excluded, officers' clubs exist in several of the larger cities of each country. These clubs provide a variety of athletic outlets as well as courses for both men and women. In several countries, such as Brazil, where army clubs are few and far between, officers automatically receive guest privileges at the best civilian clubs. Again, with the exception of Sweden, and Chile guest privileges at the best civilian clubs. Again, with the exception of sweeter, and cline (flast becoming a runner-up in the high cost of living) servants are an integral part of a officer's household. In Ecuador a chauffeur (what's that?) is an integral part of every car. Our Allied friends are aghast at how hard the average American Meet The Volunteers

We are impressed by the enviable extent of THEIR leisure; their apparent irrepressible joie de vivre on an expansive and gracious scale . . . particularly true of our neighbors to the south, who eek out every plausi-ble or implausible excuse for a celebration, giving it the full treatment from filberts to fireworks at the slightest provoca-tion. In Sweden, the land of black days and sunlit nights, the occasions for ceremony are perhaps less frequent but greeted with the appropriate, colorfully formal ritual that dates beyond the annals of history.

HAVE YOU HEARD THE PRO-VERB" AN OUNCE OF PREVEN-TION IS WORTH A POUND OF CURE" Did you realize that this proverb can be put to everyday use, not only as an aid to health, but as aid to longevity? All you have to do is substitute the word Safety for prevention.

Safety has been the by-word for the 43d EOD Squad ever since its reactivation in early 1951, and with safety the Squad has thrived and has grown to be known very well for its Safety Record. To most laymen, perhaps the safety record of the Squad is not so spectacular-but you see most laymen do not know what type of unit this is. EOD is the abbreviation for Explosive Ord-nance Disposal. This is the unit that clears your Artillery Ranges of DUDS - digs up the bombs that fail to explode - picks up the deadly little hand grenade that didn't go off when it was supposed to. Now perhaps the laymen can understand the extraordinary safety record of the 43d EOD Squad, Consider the hundreds of tons of dangerous ammunition and sensitive explosives the Squad has rendered safe since its arrival at Fort Knox just over two years ago and you can easily understand why each member of this unit must be safety conscious. If he isn't safe-ty conscious — it may mean his life and perhaps the life of his buddies. We work on thin ground

A Message about Telephone Rates...

SOUTHERN BELL TELEPHONE AND TELEGRAPH COMPANY

We want you to know why we have asked the Kentucky Public Service Commission to approve an increase in telephone rates. But first, let me sy that the additional income requested by the tirst, let me suppose the state of the company it will amount to only a small increase for each outcomer. Company it will average less than 2 cents a day for residential instance, it will average less than 2 cents a day for residential telephone subscribers. 70 Our Customers in Kentucky:

Since 1939, when inflation began, the cost of living has increased about 92%, but Kentucky telephone rates on the average are up only about 46%. As a result of inflated costs of providing service, telephone earnings today are about 4%—even less than in the depression years.

The cost of telephone equipment and materials has increased a great deal since 1939. Foles have gone up 134%, cable 88%, a great deal since 1939. The since 195% and copper wire 145%.

The investment cost of adding a telephone is over times as great as in 1946-an increase from $122 to $527.

Despite the fact that we have more than doubled the number of telephones in service in the State since 1946 'there is a big telephone iob still tobe done in mentucky. 2900 party-line of the State are waiting for telephones. Also, 8,900 party-line of the State are waiting for higher grades of service.

We must earn a fair profit, however, if we are to attract the additional investment money required to continue the improvement and expansion of service the public in Kentucky to demanding, we are simply asking for rates that will enable us to do the job Kentucky wants us to do.

astunter trees C. Hunter Green Kentucky Manager

Compared with other prices, telephone rates are 10%, while Since 1939, consumer prices in general have increased 92%, while telephone rates in the overall have increased only about 48% in Kentucky, at the same time, per capita income in Kentucky has increased 282%.

Residential telephone service took 2.4% of average family in 1939. Today it takes only 1%.

New Building to Accommodate 500 Beds

Col. D. W. Milne, United States District Engineer in Louisville last week announced that funds have again been allotted for the construction of a new hospital at The Armored Center

The structure will cost in the neighborhood of seven million dollars.

It will rise nine stories, the most modern and possibly most well planned army hospital ever constructed. The new hospital will be constructed of reinforced concrete with concrete block wall panels and will be loated behind Gammon Field House.

Plans call for it to accommodate 500 beds, but it will be constructed on what has been termed a "1000 bed chassis." That means that with the addition of ward space, the new building can accommodate 1000 beds. clinical and supporting facilities will be constructed along the same lines

Civic League Celebrates Its First Anniversary

The Fort Knox Civic League had itself a birthday party Wednesday and celebrated in grand style. About 100 persons, military and civilian, attended the luncheon at the Officers' Country Club which marked the League's first anniversary.

The meeting was also a together and get-acquainted" session for new staff members at Ft. Knox and civilian leaders and dignitaries from Elizabethtown and Louisville.

Ranking guests were Mayor Andrew Broaddus of Louisville, Mayor Henry P. Richards of Elizabethtown, Maj. Gen. John H. Collier, commanding general TAC, and Col. John Ryan, Chief of Staff. Each was presented with a handsome engraved bronze plaque giving him hon-orary membership in the Civic League.

Weather Varied

Some of the men slept in tents while many others spent the night under the stars. This first night of the trip featured weather that was rather cold, about 14

The second day, the group cov ered considerable territory and their next stop was at Wakeeney. The men ate sack meals during the day, which, it should be added, were always made up fresh daily.

Again after covering many miles, the battalion reached Fort Riley, Kansas. The troops once could enjoy the comforts of civilization. Upon arrival at the post, they were treated to a hot meal. The luxury of showers and clean bedding were tremendously appreciated by the organization. Needless to say, sleeping in barracks was a welcome change from the outdoor life they had been leading.

Lake City Arsenal, Kansas, was the haven for the men that night, after a very grueling day. Once again the men enjoyed a good night's sleep in the open, as the weather had now improved considerably

The next bivouac point was Columbia, Missouri. The unit spent the night in the city's homecoming grounds, Most of the men slept indoors, as the thermometer had dropped several degrees

Maj. Francisco noted that there was little or no rolling motion to the jet. "What surprised me most," he said, "is the very large area of vision that one gets from a jet. It's surprising that you can see so much going at such speeds. The only time I held my breath was when we came in on the napalm run.' Napalm runs are so low that jets are some-times no more than 50 feet above the ground when coming in for the bomb drop.

Communications between planes in a formation was a natural concern of Capt, Fredrick A. Mc-Kiernan, an instructor in the communications department of The Armored School here.

"In order to keep radio silence when in enemy territory," he said, "the jet pilots communicate with one another by 'flapping' their wings. Each 'flap' has a different meaning. I wondered what would happen if the wing tips touched on something like that," he said. "The planes often are no more than six inches apart in some formations. But I was told that at that speed the wing tips would immediately repel each other if they touched."

Lt. Col. L. E. McDonald, di-rector of the Human Research Unit at Ft. Knox, had some difficulty picking out targets from the racing jet, but was impressed with the comparative quiet of the iet engine.

Pulling out of the dive bombing run, the planes were heading with something like four times the pull of gravity. But it didn't at all bother a man whose experience in the military had taken overland, over and under water and through the air in Local Community Chest practically every type of military and payal craft.

He continued "I'll admit I was impressed with the physical power of the jet. But I was scared when the wing tips seemed almost to touch one another in close formation."

The chaplain was asked if his fear prompted a sudden prayer.

The major has been a member the Officers' Reserve Corps since 1934, and was called to active duty in August, 1940. His first assignment was here at Fort Knox with the 1st Armored Division where he remained until June, 1941. He saw troop duty at several posts during the next three years, and in September. 1944, he embarked for the ETO where he served with the 25th Tk. Bn. The major saw action in Rhineland, Central Europe and Ardennes-Aiscase campaigns, and he was awarded the Bronze Continued on page 8)

Pvt. Kozmon was 19 years old at the time, and when he had picked up the new fighter in squadron was escorting a group Hamburg, he'd had no idea that of German Stuka dive bombers Never having seen a large sea-port before, he'd taken a spin around the harbor before heading back to Berlin and was paying no particular attention to his radio.

About halfway between the two cities, he suddenly saw a large flight of about 120 planes ahead of him. Suspecting nothing, the young pilot approached the rear of the formaton and waggled his wings in salute.

In answer, nine of the planes peeled off to greet him, and as the sun glistened on the wings, he caught a glimpse of a blue star in a white circle. They were American P-51s.

Kozmon fired a burst and headed for home. When he got to Berbullet holes in the plane, and he ing a new fighter.

This was just one of many experiences "enjoyed" by Pvt. Kozmon during World War II. A native of Komarom, Hungary. he was attending the University of United States as a Displaced Per-Budapest in 1943, and when the war began to get hot in Europe men and electrical ensineer at the he transferred to the Hungarian Reliance Electrical and Engineer-Force Academy. He had been a pilot in civilian life, and was entering the service in March.

Pvt. Kozmon was assigned to a Hungarian fighter squadron sta-tioned in Berlin and flew eight missions over the Russian front Gordon B. Rocces, 3rd Armored before the war ended. He flew [Division Commander.] Messerschmidt 109's, and Focke Wulf 119's and 219's, and was credited with shooting down four Russian aircraft.

Posting two of those "kills" proved to be quite costly. It was in February, 1945, also, and his the enemy" was in the vicinity. on a mission over Poland. The combs had been dropped, and they were headed home when about 40 Russian-piloted P-33's engaged them.

Kozmon got two of them before was wounded in the shoulder and leg and was forced to crash land his plane. He was thrown clear of the crash and knocked unconscious. When he awoke, he sian soldiers who were attached to a Russian tanker unit, and he was taken to their headquare s in a small village nearby.

While there, he was "interrogated," a fact to which his upper dental bridge will attest, and he was held without food, water er medical attention for four days. At the end of that time, the Ger-, his mechanics counted 68 man ground forces counterat-llet holes in the plane, and he tacked, and he was found by a received a royal "chewing out" German tank unit. He was sent by his unit commander for ruin-to the rear and spent a month in the hospital before returning to duty.

After the war ended, Pvt. Kozmon remained in Germany, and in August, 1951, he came to the ing Company in Cleveland before

An Ige-Carver, Too Former Sugar Puller Is C-36 Tanker

Have you ever met a sugar puller who does ice-carving on the side? Chances are you never have, If you're interested in meeting one, drop by the second platoon over at Cc. C of the 36th AIB, CCA.

Both of these unusual talents are part of a very interesting protession, and by asking Pvt. Laur-is Muellenhager., a 20-year-old tanker from Detroit, you can find out all about it.

Lauris, it seems, deals in culi-nary art. He is what is known as an expert in commercial foods The field includes restaurant management, catering services for parties and banquets, and actual preparation of food of all varieties.

According to Muellenhagen, a goed commercial food man knows how to determine the right food for the right cccasion. He can choose the food to suit both the setting and the type of customer.

The master of the culinary art also know how to order food. He develops an almost un-conscious talent for balancing quality with one hand and cost with the other.

Finally comes the finishing touch the delicate magic that accompanies proper preparation and serving of food. This, incidentally, is where we come to the icecarving and sugar pulling. Ice-carving means exactly that—the sculpturing of large pieces of ice for use as attractive center pieces for large parties. Sugar-pulling refers to the warming and shaping of semi-crystallized sugar for the same decorative purpose.

Wonder what he can do with C-Rations?

In 1947, the Department of the Army decided to give Replacement Training Centers, as they were then called, the names of wartime divisions with outstanding combat records. Officials saw this as a means of encouraging enlistments and building up mo-rale and "esprit de corps" for trainees and permanent party,

It was natural that the 3d Armored Division should be one of the units chosen for reactivation, for during 221 days of front-line fighting, the Division had spear-headed nearly every major attack by the United States First Army

So. on July 15, 1947, the Division was re-activated and given a new mission - training This role took on more vital meaning when the North Korean Reds invaded South Korea on June 25, 1950

In its new role, the Division has maintained its precedent of "firsts". Last summer, when the Army began trying a new sys-tem of light infantry overseas replacement, the Spearhead Divi-son produced the first "carrier company" of 4-man "buddy company" of 4-man "buddy teams", and early this year, the Armys first Armor "packet pla-toons" were graduated from the 3d Armored Division.

Meet The Volunteers

MAKING A ROUTINE RECORDS CHECK in the Fort Knox Thrift Shop is shop Vice President Mrs. J. R. Degenhardt, left, and receiving room volunteer Mrs. Max R. Stalleup, right. They are this week's subjects in the series "Meet the Volunteers.

Whether i.'s in faraway Nanking, on the Road to Mandalay or at Ft. Knox on the road to Louisville, Mrs. J. R. Degenhardt is completely at home in an army Thrift Shop. That's because Mrs. Degenhardt has worked in army post thrift shops from Nanking, China to Ft. Leavenworth, Kansas, to Ft. Knox, Ky.

"And I've loved every minute iton to thrift shop work, Mrs. of all," she adds with a smile. One I stall-up also serves the Armored of her rewards from all this voll-Center Blood Bank.

unteer labor to help others, is see ing and helping along the development of other volunteer thrift shop workers. And that's where . Max R. Stallcup comes in.

Degenhardt is proud of Mrs. Stallcup. And says so, too. "She's one of our finest and most loyal workers," states Mrs. Degen-hardt. And to il ustrate just what she means by that, Mrs. Degen-hardt noted that Mrs. Stallcup works not only on the selling floor, but mainly in the receiving room a position of more than average responsibility in thrift shop work

Mrs. Stallcup, though, is very modest about it all. When she says she enjoys being a volunteer, you know from the sincerity in her voice that she means it. In addi-

"All this volunteer work is very new to me," says Mrs. Stallcup modestly. "But I think everyone should get out in these activities just to meet their neighbors if for no other reason."

Another reward for Mrs. Degen hardt, who at one time or another has been very active in Red Cross and Boy Scout activities, is the simple joy one gets out of helping others. But her other volunteer ventures have had to take a scat because of the time the thrift shop takes up.

Mrs. Degenhardt, however, is much more than just another volunteer. She's vice-president of the thrift shop and one of its charter Her interest goes back

|Fort Knox PTA Receives Award at Fourth District Spring Conference

No. 24 | First Fourth District Spring Conference Held Here Attracts Over 100

The Fort Knox Parent-Teachers Association last week played host to nearly 100 members and delegates of the Fourth District Spring Conference of the Kentucky Congress, Parents and Teachers. It was the first such meeting ever held at The Armored Center. The all-day meeting got underway April 8 in the Auditorium of the Armored School. A total of about 115 persons registered for the conference including the Ft. Knox delegation which was headed by conference host and Ft. Knox PTA president, Lt. Col. F. Irvylb. Irzyk official welcome on behalf of the post commander was given by Brig. Gen. J. K. Waters, deputy commanding general of The Ar-mored Center, with Col. H. F. Donovan, post chaplain, intoning the invocation. Boy Scouts Bill Daggs, Harry McClain, Larry Turner and Blake Keasey brought in the Colors for the Pledge to the Flag.

With that, Mrs. W. A. Boone of Elizabethtown, president of the Fourth District, brought down her gavel and the sessions were officially open. Reports from the local presidents, district chairmen and the district president took up most of the morning.

But there was also an awards presentation and the Ft Knox PTA received the summer roundup certificate. The summer roundup is a clinic for children of preschool age, and the one run by the Ft. Knox PTA last year was judged the best in District Four Mrs. D. M. McMains accepted the award on behalf of the Armored Center group.

A blue ribbon and a certificate also went to the Ft. Knox PTA for having the best publicity book in the Fourth District for the pe riod March 15, 1953 to March 15 1954. Last year Ft. Knox won second prize for the book which features clippings on stories and pictures about the Ft. Knox PTA published in various periodicals Mrs. Lorene Bell, a teacher at Stevens School here, is responsible for maintaining the publicity book Judges for this contest were Mrs E. F. Ochs and Mrs. Duard Pate, (Continued on page 2)

Cub & Girl Scout Plan Summer Outing In June

Give me the wide open spaces is the thought hidden in the minds of local Cub and Girl Scouts, as plans start on this years' summer camp outing to be held at Camp Patton, located at Wilcox Lake

The Cub Scouts are planning heir camping spree June 13 thru 19, and the Girl Scouts will fol-low suite June 23 thru 29.

Women volunteers are needed to act as leaders during the summer camp session. If you are interested in lending a hand to their deserving cause, please contact Mrs. B. McK Greeley, Ph. or Mrs. H. C. Parks, Ph. 23276.

Today she's a sort of G-1 and Chief of Staff all rolled into one, and the oldest member of the shop in point of services, with Museum. the exception of Mrs. J. H. Collier. the exception of Mrs. J. H. Collect.

Mrs. Degenhardt's duties today involve the enlisting and training ference were: Mesdames F. E. of volunteers and in general VanTassell, C. W. Bain, W. H. "trouble-shooting" for the shop Hunt and Forrest Abbott, registerpresident.

Her experience in other thrift shops serves her well. She can recall the days when the thrift shop in Nanking she sold $400 worth of winter coats in one day.

"Ft. Knox," she says, "has one of the finest army thrift shops existing today. It's the ideal set-up and we're proud of it. It's helped a lot of people."

And this is no question: With volunteers like Mrs. Degenhardt and Mrs. Stallcup, how can our Thrift Shop be anything else but a success.

Three thousand seven hundred and ninety-nine discrepancies were found among the 11,999 men "beltlining" out of the 3d Armored Division during January, February, and March, according to a recent report by the AG Out-Processing Section. This fixed the 3-month percentage of discrepancies at 31.6%

CCR showed the best record among the major commands with 825 discrepancies found among 3,358 men, for a percentage of 26.4. CCB, DivArty, and CCA fol-lowed in that order with percentages of 27.1 45.3, and 47.3 respec tively.

Among the separate commands, the 23rd AEB pulled off the top mark with only four discrepancies among the 37 men beltlined. This gave them a percentage of 10.8. Other figures showed the 45th AMB with 15.9%, Special Troops with 23% and the 3d QM Bn, with

Fort Knox Plans Royal Welcome For President Eisenhower's Visit Friday

The four-motored Presidential plane, The Columbine, will touch its trievele landing gear to the ground at Godman Air Force Base shortly after 10 a.m. Friday with the Commander in Chief aboard.

President of the United States Dwight David Eisenhower will be at The Armored Center for approximately an hour while on his way to the Lincoln Shrine at Hodgenville, Ky. He will return from Hodgenville in the afternoon and board his plane for Lexington, Ky., where he is scheduled to speak at the 175th anniversary celebration of Transylvania College.

The Presidert and his party will be greeted at the air base here by Maj Gen. John H. Collier, commanding general, The Armored Center, and other post leaders.

An escort platoon composed of members of the 38th Re-An escort piction composed of memoers of the stati Re-connaissance Battalion and the 131st Tank Battalion, both of School Troops, will form an honor guard for the President at the air base. They will escort the Presidential party to the reviewing strnd facing Brooks Field from Fifth Avenue.

The Presidents' route of march from Godman AFB to Brooks Field, will be via Park Road to Chaffee Avenue to the Civic Center to Old Ironsides to Fifth Avenue.

According to the schedule released this week from Head quarters, The Armored Center, honors for the President will be rendered at Erooks Field at 10:28 a.m. A salute battery from the 576th Armored Field Artillery Battery will fire off a rarely heard 21-gun salute.

a rarely heard 21-gun salute.

At Brooks Field, 52 tanks will pass in review. Maj. William O. Howk, of CCA Instructor Group, Third Armored Division, will be the provisional battalion commander for the review. Companies C and D of the 36th AlB, CCA, Third Armored Division, will furnish crews and 18 M-47 tanks. The 36th Tank Battalion, School Troops, will furnish 17 M-41 tanks and the 131st Tank Battalion, School Troops, will provide 17 M-48 tanks for the review.

Appropriate martial music will be furnished by massed bands from the Third Armored Division and School Troops. After the review, Mr. Eisenhower will be escorted via Old Ironsides, Chaffee Avenue, the Civic Center, Old Vine Grove Road and Bullion Boulevard to Highway 31-W where he will leave the post for his motor trip through Elizabethtown to Hodgenville.

His return in the afternoon will carry him directly to Godman AFB where he will again receive a 21-gun salute and appropriate honors and emplane for Lexington.

Members of the garrison have been invited to attend the honor ceremony at Brooks Field. Spectator areas will be marked off and all will be expected to remain within the proper, designated boundaries. Children under 12 will not be permitted to enter the spectator areas unless accompanied by an adult. Dogs and pets are to be kept indoors from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m.

Chest Drive Tops $42,500 Mark

The Ft. Knox Community Chest drive wound up its third week with a total of $42,642 in its coffers. And the 62-man 15th Armor Group, the smallest of the major commands, still leads the post in per capita sales with five dollars per man, an increase in one week of a dollar per capita from their previous week's rec-ord of four dollars.

The total for the major com-mands so far is a little more than petition. $40,000. The civilian components on post have thus far contributed more than $2300.

De Castries entered the army in 1921 as an enlisted man. This, in spite of the fact that his forebears were of the old nobility, his family quite wealthy, and the army or military service almost a tradition in his family. One ancestor fought with Lafayette in the American Revolution with the rank of lieutenant general. Another, the Marquis de Castries, was Navy Minister in the court of Louis XVI. His father was an infantry officer, a graduate of the French military academy. Yet, this lineal descendant of ten dukes of the realm entered the service of his country with none the trappings of rank.

However, he was soon chosen for officers school and was graduated, subsequently, with his commission. A few years later, his "les affairs d'amour" culminated in a situation that proved embarrassng. De Castries left the army

Harold (Spud) Rawlings, pro-fessional at the Anderson Golf Club, announced today that the Club will have its official opening on Saturday, April 24.

Highlighting the day will be a golf clinic, beginning at 2 p.m. conducted by Bill Kalser. Bill is the head of the golf department at Hillerich and Bradsby, and he is one of the area's fine golfers as well as a neat man with the called fancy and the trick shot. He has promised to show some of his trick artistry with the woods and irons. Bill recently paired with Betty Dodd, top lady professional, in the Miami National Four Ball Tourney. They reached the semi-finals before losing out.

Starting at 4 p.m. on opening day, there will be free beer and a jam session to relax the players after the long stroll across the eighteen-hole course. At 7 p.m. a new PGA instructional gol golf film will be shown, along with a movie on trick shooting.

The Anderson Golf Club and Course are open to all enlisted men from 8 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. A Club membership may be ob-tained for $3 a month. Included in this membership are all green fees, the free use of clubs, and the use of all club house facilities including lockers, showers, enter-tainment rooms and bar.

Each weekend, the club holds a tournament for all members. Merchandise prizes are presented to the winners. During April, members are using blind handi-caps and a blind bogey drawing for the prizes. Regular handicap tourneys will begin in May.

Armored School Officers Get Field Experience

Three days of training in tank platoon tactics were started this week at Ft. Hood, Tex., by the 132 officers from the Advanced Armored Class of The Armored

They are divided into six platoons with two platoons sent to each of three sites for a day spending their time studying the reinforced tank platoon in hasty river crossing, the tank platoon as an advance guard, and the reinforced tank platoon in day and night attacks

Live fire is being used for the field problems, with artillery pieces and M-48 Patton guns furnishing the loudest fireworks. The officers themselves are acting as tank drivers, commanders and platoon leaders. Support for the exercise is being furnished by CCA and CCB and CCR and Division Artillery of the First Armored Division.

Perplexed Private 'Buttonholes' Way To New Army Job

SEOUL (ANS) - Army classification experts pride themselves on their ability to keep square pegs out of round holes.

But their ingenuity was tested when Private Freddie Powell of Union City, N.J., joined the ranks.

How could the Army use a buttonhole maker?

Though the Army needs people who are handy with the needle, most uniform alterations are most made by civilians.

Before Powell's basic training was over, however, the problem had been solved. The soldier's score on mechanical aptitude and driver's reaction tests showed ability in those fields, so he was sent to Heavy Vehicle Operators School at Fort Eustis, Va.

The soldier now is doing an important job with the 82nd Ordnance Heavy Maintenance Company in Korea.

Classification specialists point with pride to the way they cracked the "Case of the Button-hole Maker." The soldier not only is contributing his services to the Army in a job he likes, but he also has acquired another trade which may help him if and when he returns to civilian life.

armed only with a diploma in electrical engineering from the International Correspondence Schools. But he stayed and made good.

One night a few weeks ago, at the Third Armored Division's Officers Club, a host of his fellow workers. civilian and military got together to toast Roy Fryxell who officially retired March 21 as chief utility engineer for the Armored Center.

He had worked himself up from a lineman's job with no regrets for all the years of service he had rendered. "When I took my first job out here as a lineman with post util-ities," he said, "We were under the post quartermaster. A few years later the engineers took us over."

"But the biggest change at Ft Knox in all these years in my opinion was the change over in

And Roy Fryxell was in on the ground work on the converting operation. Permanent buildings began going up and that meant in offices and headquarters and will be the uniform for parades and dress and off-duty functions after World War I, in the days when disarmament was popular among the nations.

"The population at Ft. Knox," said Fryxell, "Had dwindled to 14. My wife and I were part of that group that stayed on to keep Knox going. Then it was reopened and eventually established as a permanent post.

In January, 1945, Mr. Fryxell took over the position he held when he retired last month. He and his wife, Anna Lee. also a native of Louisville, have raised all their five children at this post. And even today, there is still a Fryxell in the office of the post engineer. He is Edward M. Fryxell, who is superintendent of the electrical department, and as such has served under his father the last few years, J. F. Fryxell is another son. He is district plan superintendent for trict plan superintendent for American District Telegraph in St. Louis. Mrs. J. W. Wilson, a daughter, is living at Ft. Knox also. Her husband is connected with the post office, while Mrs. R. L. Craver, whose husband, Maj. Craver is in Korea, also lives near her parents. Another daughter, Mrs. Peter F. Scott, lives in Detroit, Mich.

But the living Fryxell generations dont stop here. There also are six grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Mr. Fryxell's sister, Mrs. Ann Dixon, lives in Louisville. Ky., at 4810 Bellview Street.
The Fryxells won't be leaving

"It's really great," Mr. Fryxell reflected, "just to sit back and relax. A utilities job is a 24-houra-day business. Now I don't have to worry about that sort of thing anymore. But I'll say this much: I wouldn't trade off my 34 years at Ft. Knox for anything else in the world."

It was pointed out that last year there were nine fatalities from automobile accidents involving military personnel. off post and off duty, in Kentucky. Total state figures on accidents involving soldiers last year showed 16 fatalities and 893 injuries. Trooper Evins told the afternoon audience in Theater Three that military personnel were involved in one out of every 30 automobile accidents in the nation. Her reviewed Kentucky state highway laws and advised that while some states do not require drivers license renewal by a servicemen, other states do. She helped them plan their projects, such as it e one they had last fall that berefitted the children of the Bethany Orphanage at Bethany, Ky, with toys and clothes. She guided them in their social relationships, in their fun and recreation. And she helped the church into their lives.

The CYF at Ft. Knox has managed to maintain its strength of from 40 to 50 young people, in spite of sudden transfers. The group has met at least once a week on Sunday evenings and often it met at other times to plan many of is functions.

But Mrs. Johnson prefers to talk about the CYF rather than herself, "It was the children themselves who have done so much in CYF," she says modestly, "I just got in the way." However, the success of the CYF here proves that Mrs. Johnson's being "in the way" these last seven years has been an incaluable contribution to yours at Ft. Knox

PTA Plans Bridge and Canasta Party May 7th at Sadowski Field House

Tickets Now on Sale by Students of Dependents' School System

Students of the dependents' school system have begun selling tickets for the PTA bridge and canasta party to be held at Sadowski Field House at 8 p.m. on May 7.

A house prize of considerable value as well as several prizes for winning scores are being offered. It isn't necessary to be present at the party to win the house prize, which will be drawn by ticket number.

Free refreshments will be served during the evening.

Funds raised as a result of the party will be used for operating expenses of the PTA, which include the presentation of scholarship awards to this year's graduating students

Beginner canasta tables will be urranged and an expert will be present to help get the game

Bridge will be progressive in that winning partners will move to the next higher table at stated periods. Partners will remain together during the entire evening. The fund raising committee suggests that you bring your favorite exponent of Culbertson or Goren and join the fun at Sadowski on May 7.

Sadowski To Provide "Dance Atmosphere"

The excitement of the Kentucky Derby will be in the air on May 1 to add to the excitement of an informal dance planned for that Saturday evening at Sadowski Field House by the Ft. Knox Officers' Open Mess.

Who could be more appropriate to play the "call to the dance" than Louis Armstrong and his world famous orchestra. Louis's smooth mellow trumpet throaty vocal style lend them-selves to excellent dance music.

The orchestra is composed of old school musicians who play music with a beat. They play on the notes and not around them. As accomplished artists, the Armstrong Group plays any type and variety of music with equal skill.

Doors to the field house will open at 8:30. Dancing will begin at 9 and continue until 1. Bar servce will be in operation dur-

MEMORIES OF EISENHOWER'S Famed 11th Armored Cav. VISIT REMAIN EVEN THOUGH CEREMONY IS NOW HISTORY TO Establish New Home Here

By Marvin Kaplan
At exactly 10:10 a.m., last
Friday, April 23, the slim, sweeping outline of a super-Constellation came out of the sullen, northeast, rain-filled skies that hovered closely over The Armored Center.

Less than a minute later the double-tired wheels of the shiny-silver, four-motored, Air Force plane touched the long runway at Godman Air Force Base, spraying sheets of water still standing from an earlymorning downpour

Col William G Draper, the pilot, braked the

Presidential Visit Sidelights

As the President inspected his escort platcon at the airfield, he looked up at the tanks and asked what kind they were. He was told they were M-41, light tanks. The President noted that such a tank during his days of association with armor when he worked with the late Gen. George S. Patton on the development of armor

The MPs were in eviden from Ft. Knox to the Lincoln Shrine for the President's visit. In fact there were 320 of them altogether from the 570th MP Svc. Co. and the 701st MP Bn., all under the combined control of Lt. Col. Henry C. Leach, (TAC Provost Marshal.

The Eisenhower visit to Ft. Knox was big news all over the nation as well as Kentucky. Approximately newspaper, radiio, television and photonews representatives plus about 25 or 30 White House Press Corps members were on hand to cover the event. James Hagerty, Presidential Press Secretary, was here, too. Among some of the "big-name" journalists were Robert L. Riggs, Louisville Courier - Journal; Merriman Courier - Journal; Marvin Smith. #### Know Your Medals, Decorations & Badges

This is the last of a series of articles which have explained how the Army awards its decorations, medals and badges for heroism and achievement. The final article gives definitions of decorations, medals and insignia furnished by the Heraldic Branches and the series the series and describes the 3d Armored Division award policy.

Midals are awarded for length of service, good conduct or for a compaign. Examples are the Good Conduct Medal, Korean Service The Description of Service Medal, etc.

Campanga. Campanga. Conduct Medal, Korean Service Medal, etc.

Insignia are given as a method of identification of pranch, unit or rank. A Division batch, infantry brass and sergeant's chevrons are all insignia.

Division Award Policy
According to recent Armored
Division memoranca, recommendations for any award or decoration may be initiated by and individual except by someone in his own behalf.

These recommer dations must be based on personal knowledge of facts and must contain a complete and concise description of the service performer. Each recommendation is substitted through command channels to The Armored Center Headquarters.

The Distinguished Service Cr The Distinguished Service Cross and the Distinguished Service Medal are presented by an officer designated by the Commanding General, Second Ar my, but Spearheaders receive all awards from the Silver Star through the Bronze Star Medal for Valor from the Division Commander, Major unit commanders make all other awards inch ding the Bronze Star for meritoricus achievement and the Purple Haart. The latter two decorations are always presented at troop reviews.

According to the memoranda, "It is particularly desirable that awards of the Commendation Ribbon with Medal Pendant be made to outstanding company grade officers, warrant officers and enlisted personnel whose achievements and service meet the standards prescribed."

Armstrong romped off with the first place awards in both the male vocalist and the trumpet solo classes. "Down Beat" magazine reported that he had twice the number of points for runner-up Billy Eckstine and that he also ropped such greats as Frank Sinara, Ma Cole, Perey Como in the male vocalist competions. Armstrong rowned off with the

Although the battle for trumpet Anthough the battle for trumped honors was tough, Armstrong was still well ahead of Dizzy Gillespie, Bobby Hackett, and Roy Eldridge. In this annual Critics Poll, voters are the country's leading jazz critics, disc jockeys, and recording executives

"Down Beat" gave Armstrong another honor back in 1952, when it named Satchmo its first winner in its Hall of Fame poll category, as the most important musical figure of all time. He topped such greats as Duke Ellington, Glenn Miller, Bing Crosby and Johann Sebastian Bach.

With Armstrong will be such greats as Velma Middleton, Trummy Young, Barnery Bigard, Arvell Shaw, Billy Kyle and Kenny John. This is another in the series of name enterlainment brought to Ft. Knox each month by The Armored Center Special Services.

Contingency Act Date Extended to October 31

According to an announcement this week from the Office of The Adjutant General, the deadline on filing applications for participation in the Uniformed Service Contingency Act of 1953 has been extended to October 31, 1954 for personnel on extended active duty $5.71 per man in the till. with 18 years or more of service for pay purposes.

The previous deadline for filing an indication of desiring to take part in the plan was April That deadline still applies so far as retired soldiers are con-cerned. The new date is for those on extended active duty only.

The Act allows retired servicemen to purchase annuities for their survivors out of retired pay. Personnel on extended active duty who have submitted an indication that they do not desire to participate in the plan can now submit an affirmative indication provided they elect to do so before the new deadline date of October 31, 1954.

Citing the essentials of military service, Brig. Gen. J. K. Waters. deputy commanding general, TAC, addressed the 79 officers who graduated last Friday, April from the Associate Armor Officer Advanced Class Number 2 at The Armored School.

The general was introduced to the graduates and to their friends and relatives who had gathered for the ceremony by Col. Henry C. Newton, acting as-sistant commandant of the School.

Col. Paul J. Ritchie. School secretary, presented diplomas to the graduates. The 16 week course provides advanced branch training to officers, giving them a working knowledge of the duties and responsibilities appropriate to higher-ranking Armor officers.

Top honors went to Lt. Col. B. A. Armstrong, of the Montana National Guard. Second honors were awarded Capt. Joseph R. Gordon, Jr., with third honors taken by WOJG Frank W. Ethridge, both of TAS headquarters.

On the 11th of May 1954, the 131st Tank Battalion (120 MM Gun) School Troops, will celebrate its 33rd organizational day in gala fashion.

Tentative plans call for a battalion formation in the morning, at which time Lt. Col. William S. Huff, the battalion commander, will address the members of the battalion and their guests. The remainder of the morning's activities will include tank rides, military skills contests, and an open-house tour of the battalion area for all guests. In the afternoon, the scene of action will shift to Otter Creek Park where a picnic lunch will be served. The rest of the afternoon will be devoted to athletic contests and the selection of the best decorated cake commemerating organizational day, submitted by the company mess halls.

Gen. Gilman C. Mudgett, chief of information for Department of the Army.

"The Army's the biggest employer of manpower in the country," he said. "This means that employer-employee relationships must be kept high. That's the job of TI & E.

"To inform the public who make up the stockholders in this corporation just how their money being spent and the progress being made is the job of PIO."

Gen. Mudgett used such plain, huginege-like terms to express the aims of the programs he directs. Another appeal for interest in the I & E-PI set up in the army was based on leadership. The general told the more than 600 officers that gathered to hear him that I & E and PI could be invaluable tools in leading men by using psychology instead of force.

The education program of the army also received mention from Gen. Mudgett. Some 10 per cent of the draftees today do not have a fourth grade education, he said. It is an obstacle that we must overcome, he said.

In general, the chief of information said that the big aim of this program is to make every man appreciate his part in his unit, and the part his unit plays in the overall plan of America's defense.

3AD Honor Guard Announce Vacancies

Have you ever watched the 3d Armored Division Honor Guard perform some of its intricate, silent-count drills and wondered how much practice goes into such a performance?

Have you ever wondered how the Guard is selected and what a soldier must do to become a member?

As for practice, it takes continuous drilling to perfect and maintain such flawless coordination. Every spare moment, when they are not actually demonstrating or performing, members of the Guard practice — the new ones learning, the old ones per-fecting and maintaining their fine edge.

How are they selected? Anyone who has certain basic qualifications may apply. He must be be tween five foot, ten inches and six foot, one inch in height and have outstanding military ap-pearance and bearing.

He must also be proficient in dismounted drill, be a sergeant or below and have a character rating of "Exceller.t" with no record of court martial or Article 15 punishment. He must be assigned to the Division as permanent party and have an MOS as an Infantryman, Artilleryman tank crewman.

Vacancies exist in the Guard present. Interested enlisted men may make an appointment to be interviewed by the Guard's commanding officer and NCOs by calling Star 9140.

It usually takes a new Guardsman a month and a half of diligent practice to reach the point where he can become an active part of the Guard at all of their performances. He is then on the staff of the Division Commander, wears a distinctive uniform and lives in the specially appointed show barracks of the Division.

3AD Rated "Superior" in Ordnance Check

2nd Army Inspection Of Division Critiqued

'Superior" was the overall rating received by the 3d Armored Division in the recent Second Army Annual Ordnance Inspection, it was announced last week.

In a critique at Theater One, Col. Allan L. Feldman, Second Army Ordnance Officer, person-ally congratulated Maj. Gen. Gordon B. Rogers, 3d Armored Commanding General, Division on the Division's fine showing.

He singled out Col. William
M. Fondren, Commanding Officer of Combat Command A, for commendation. CCA had a straight Superior rating.

The Division, overall, received 37 Superiors and three Excellents. CCA received eight Superiors, Division Headquarters had four Superiors, CCB had seven superjors and one Excellent CCR had six Superiors, DivArty had five Superiors, 3d QM Bn. had six Superiors and one Excellent, and the 45th AMB had one Superior and one Excellent.

Seven Commended By Gen. Rogers

Seven Spearhead officers received letters of commendation from Maj. Gen. Gordon B. Rogers, 3d Armored Division Commander, last week for the fine showing of their units in the recent Second Army Ordnance inspection.

Col. William M. Fondren was commended for the record of CCA. That command received an overall Superior and was first in the Division in Wheeled Vehicles, Combat Vehicles, Tank Artillers and Supply Records.

Col. John W. Brady received a letter of commendation for the Superior received by CCB, and Maj. Glenn Greener, Division Ordnance Officer, was also commended for the Division's Superior. The numerical rating received far surpassed the one received in 1953

Two battalion commanders, Lt. Col. Richard Gillis, CO of the 84th Tank Battalion, CCA, and Lt. Col. James W. Cocke, CO of the 761st Tank Battalion, CCB, were commended for the fine showings of their units. The 84th placed first in Combat Vehicles and Tank Artillery for the entire Division.

"Straight From The Center"

The Volleyball competition here in the Center, found Hq. Co. and Co. A as our representative in the Post Volleyball tournament. They both fared well, placing second and third respectively and both qualified for the Armored Center Championships, which are going on presently.

Volleyball is giving the sports spotlight over to Softball here however, with Company and Section teams getting geared for the intramural program which will soon be in full swing. Tryouts for personnel are going to be conducted next week, to determine who will be representing the Personnel Center, on the two teams we plan to enter in the Armored Centers Battalion Softball League.

Also in the sports spotlight here was SFC George E. Brown, Hq. Co., who was presented a trophy of April 28th, for having won first place in the 1953 Golf Tournament of the Personnel Center. The presentation was made by Lt. Col. Simone F. Falcon, Executive, and witnessed by a number of officers and men of the organization. Sergeant Brown who is Battalion Sgt./Major de-feated 1st Lt. Lynn A. Fisher, formerly of the Personnel Cen-

Co. A has two new Cpls., Ar-thur Smuk and Ray Manis, and two new Pfc's. Glen Crowe and Ed Hornberger, Volleyball has its compensations, especially a winning team.

Sergeant Robert K. Turk, mess Sgt. of Co. B found himself in a Ripley, Believe-it-or-not situa-tion. Several weeks ago he was married in Indiana but received, of all things, a Kentucky mar-riage license, which; so he found out a week later made the marriage null and void. So last Saturday he repeated the perform-ance this time at Henderson, Kentucky, making everything nice and legal. Wonder what it feels like to get married twice in two weeks? How about that Sgt.

The Marriage Dept., also found Pfc. Betty Jane Sotack, clerk-typist at Personal Affairs, tying the bond with Cpl. Robert Letz-ring who is a Medic at the Dis-pensary here. Congrats and best wishes to both.

The Personnel Center is preparing to lose its Sgts./M, when M/Sgt. Russell Hom leaves for FECOM early next month.

Little Theater Group To Give "Arms & The Man"

chosen by the Ft. Knox Little Theater Group for presentation on May 20th, 21st, and 22nd.

Charm Sorbello will portray a Bulgarian Major's daughter in the comedy, with Don Salper as Bluntschli, a Swiss soldier. Both Mrs. Sorbello and Mr. Salpe will be remembered for their outstanding performances in the recent Little Theater production of "Ten Little Indians."

Also in the cast are Howard Seebach, Dick Neuweilar, Kay Greener and Patry Glor.

The involved plot of "Arms and the Man" produces many hilarious situations and, with the polished performances of Little Theater players, is sure to be another treat for Ft. Knox theater-goers.

HIGHLIGHTS FROM THE 701st

"ASSIST BY EXAMPLE"

The 701st MP Bn, has finally The 701st MP Bn. has finally yielded its position atop "country lub hill" and has moved to its summer home on 2nd Avenue. The wear will give the Bn. their first real protection against the elements since they abandoned their semi-encamped positions in the 'ill's surrounding this installation last month.

The large drill field located in front of "A" Co. should soon be occupied by Sfc. Allessis "thundering thorobreds." The Sergeants eacht choices have for the most part fallen down on the jobs on he hopes new to train his own "hay-burners."

The ranks of "A" Co. have been swelled by seven new men. The new men are: Sfc. C. Nave, Pvt's. G. Burke, M. Essy, J. Gerlach, J. Flaniff, T. Ingram, R. Jacobs.

Lt. Robert Ciolek, of "B" Co. is eaving the company to take over the job of Post Athletic Officer. The men of the Co. and of the entire Bn. wish him the best of success in his new endeavor, but will miss his helping hand and fine qualities.

Cpl. Richard Johnson, "B" Co. Clerk is going to find out if two can live as cheaply as one. Cpl. Johnson was married May 1st in Detroit, Mich. Congratulations "Rich."

Lt. James R. Graham has taken er as "C" Co. Commander. Lt. for quite some time and the en-tire battalion is wishing him all kinds of luck in his new job. Lt.

Come in and let's get acquainted. Here's a 13-point checking list we invite you to use in checking the used car values at Swope Motors.

THIRTEEN POINT CHECK LIST FOR USED CAR BUYERS

- Walk around the car. If it sets squarely on the ground, springs are "O.K."
- Inspect the tires. Look at casings on both sides for
- Look for reflection in body on each side. Distorted image reveals bumping out of body after accident. Look for it! Who wants a wreck?
- Watch exhaust while motor is running. Excessive smoke indicates need for motor overhaul.
- Start engine. Does motor run quietly? Does starter work? How is oil pressure?
- 6. Check ampmeter. How is the battery?
- Check transmission by driving in all goors. Try brakes, foot and hand. Will car pass the Fort Knox safety inspection?
- 8. Check steering wheel. Is there too much play?
- Check oil dipstick. Is the oil clean? How about air cleaner, and oil filter?
- Inspect inside. It is clean? Are the seats and floor
- Check the radiator. Does it leak? Is the fan belt O.K.? When was it greased?
- Check ownership. Who owned this car before it was traded? Dealer should be willing to tell you.
- 13. Always Buy From A Reputable Dealer.

$65,000 Collection Is 123 Percent of Goal

A tremendous payday surge last week pushed the 3d Armored Division more than $10,000 over its quota and climaxed the most successful Community Chest Drive ever staged in the Division.

All previous charity drive records were smashed as Spearheadcontributed a total of $64,740 in the 6-week Spring campaign. This is more than twice the amount collected in the Division's 1953 Spring campaign and $6,000

nore than the total contributed by the Division in both the Spring and Fall drives last year.

With a quota of $53,337 $3 per man — Spearheaders went way over the top. They gave 123 percent of their goal — $3.64 per man - and more than doubled last year's top per capita figure of $1.70 per person,

The results of the drive far exceeded all expectations, according to Lt. Col. Robert L. Webb, Excutive Officer of Reserve Command and Division Coordinator for the Chest campaign

The Division donation exceeded by more than $12,000 the total amount collected at The Armored Center in last year's Spring drive. The Division gave $24,001 last Spring ($1.28 per man) and $34,-737 last Fall ($1.70 per man).

Spearheaders Selected For Training Groups

Seventy-two enlisted men from the 3d Armored Division have been selected to serve with summer training groups this year, ording to an announcement by Division G-1 officials at last s's Staff and Commanders Conference

The men will serve with ROTC Reserve and National Guard sum mer training units. They are all "fully qualified people" as speci-fied by Second Army Headquarters

Some of those selected probably will leave post temporarily, since Fort Knox will support Camp Pickett, Va., Indiantown Gap, Pa., and Camp Perry, Ohio, in addition to the training here.

The Spearhead summer training levy has been approved and broken down as follows: CCAeight men; CCB—eight; CCR— twelve; DivArty—eight; 3d QM Bn.—seven; 45th AMB—twelve and Headquarters — seventeen.

You save time in traffic. New truck Hydra-Matic transmission gets you off to smooth, time-saving starts without shifting or clutching. Imagine how easy this makes driving in traffic and on delivery routes! It's optional at extra cost on 12-, 34- and 1-ton models.

tional at extra cost on $2.74 - and 1-ton models.

You save time on the highway. New high-compression power gets you up to highway speeds from a standing start in less time, and saves you time on hills, too.

You make trips faster—and the new Comfortmaster cab makes them seem shorter. It's got everything!

You save extra trips, too. That's because of the extra load space you get in the new Advance-Design bodies. New picthy bodies are deeper . . . new stake and pat-form bodies are wider and longer. Also, they're set lower to the ground for easier loading.

You save on operating costs. High-compression power saves you money! The "Thriftmaster 235" engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261" (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep. New Chevrolet trucks are built stronger to last longer and save you money on maintenance. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models . . . bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models . . . stronger frames in all models.

THIRTEEN POINT CHECK LIST FOR USED CAR BUYERS

- Walk around the car. If it sets squarely on the ground, springs are "O.K."
- Inspect the tires. Look at casings on both sides for
- Look for reflection in body on each side. Distorted image reveals bumping out of body after accident. Look for it! Who wants a wreck?
- Watch exhaust while motor is running. Excessive smoke indicates need for motor overhaul.
- Start engine. Does motor run quietly? Does starter work? How is oil pressure?
- 6. Check ampmeter. How is the battery?
- Check transmission by driving in all goors. Try brakes, foot and hand. Will car pass the Fort Knox safety inspection?
- 8. Check steering wheel. Is there too much play?
- Check oil dipstick. Is the oil clean? How about air cleaner, and oil filter?
- Inspect inside. It is clean? Are the seats and floor
- Check the radiator. Does it leak? Is the fan belt O.K.? When was it greased?
- Check ownership. Who owned this car before it was traded? Dealer should be willing to tell you.
- 13. Always Buy From A Reputable Dealer.

$65,000 Collection Is 123 Percent of Goal

A tremendous payday surge last week pushed the 3d Armored Division more than $10,000 over its quota and climaxed the most successful Community Chest Drive ever

staged in the Division.
All previous charity drive records were smashed as Spearheadcontributed a total of $64,740 in the 6-week Spring campaign. This is more than twice the amount collected in the Division's 1953 Spring campaign and $6,000

nore than the total contributed by the Division in both the Spring and Fall drives last year.

With a quota of $53,337 $3 per man — Spearheaders went way over the top. They gave 123 percent of their goal — $3.64 per man - and more than doubled last year's top per capita figure of $1.70 per person,

The results of the drive far exceeded all expectations, according to Lt. Col. Robert L. Webb, Excutive Officer of Reserve Command and Division Coordinator for the Chest campaign

The Division donation exceeded by more than $12,000 the total amount collected at The Armored Center in last year's Spring drive. The Division gave $24,001 last Spring ($1.28 per man) and $34,-737 last Fall ($1.70 per man).

Spearheaders Selected For Training Groups

Seventy-two enlisted men from the 3d Armored Division have been selected to serve with summer training groups this year, ording to an announcement by Division G-1 officials at last s's Staff and Commanders Conference

The men will serve with ROTC Reserve and National Guard sum mer training units. They are all "fully qualified people" as speci-fied by Second Army Headquarters

Some of those selected probably will leave post temporarily, since Fort Knox will support Camp Pickett, Va., Indiantown Gap, Pa., and Camp Perry, Ohio, in addition to the training here.

The Spearhead summer training levy has been approved and broken down as follows: CCAeight men; CCB—eight; CCR— twelve; DivArty—eight; 3d QM Bn.—seven; 45th AMB—twelve and Headquarters — seventeen.

"ASSIST BY EXAMPLE"

The 701st MP Bn, has finally The 701st MP Bn. has finally yielded its position atop "country lub hill" and has moved to its summer home on 2nd Avenue. The wear will give the Bn. their first real protection against the elements since they abandoned their semi-encamped positions in the 'ill's surrounding this installation last month.

The large drill field located in front of "A" Co. should soon be occupied by Sfc. Allessis "thundering thorobreds." The Sergeants eacht choices have for the most part fallen down on the jobs on he hopes now to train his own "hayburners."

The ranks of "A" Co. have been swelled by seven new men. The new men are: Sfc. C. Nave, Pvt's. G. Burke, M. Essy, J. Gerlach, J. Flaniff, T. Ingram, R. Jacobs.

Lt. Robert Ciolek, of "B" Co. is eaving the company to take over the job of Post Athletic Officer. The men of the Co. and of the entire Bn. wish him the best of success in his new endeavor, but will miss his helping hand and fine qualities.

Cpl. Richard Johnson, "B" Co. Clerk is going to find out if two can live as cheaply as one. Cpl. Johnson was married May 1st in Detroit, Mich. Congratulations "Rich."

Lt. James R. Graham has taken ver as "C" Co. Commander. Lt. traham has been with the 701st or ouite some time and the enfor quite some time and the en-tire battalion is wishing him all kinds of luck in his new job. Lt.

Come in and let's get acquainted. Here's a 13-point checking list we invite you to use in checking the used car values at Swope Motors.

THIRTEEN POINT CHECK LIST FOR USED CAR BUYERS

- Walk around the car. If it sets squarely on the ground, springs are "O.K."
- Inspect the tires. Look at casings on both sides for
- Look for reflection in body on each side. Distorted image reveals bumping out of body after accident. Look for it! Who wants a wreck?
- Watch exhaust while motor is running. Excessive smoke indicates need for motor overhaul.
- Start engine. Does motor run quietly? Does starter work? How is oil pressure?
- 6. Check ampmeter. How is the battery?
- Check transmission by driving in all goors. Try brakes, foot and hand. Will car pass the Fort Knox safety inspection?
- 8. Check steering wheel. Is there too much play?
- Check oil dipstick. Is the oil clean? How about air cleaner, and oil filter?
- Inspect inside. It is clean? Are the seats and floor
- Check the radiator. Does it leak? Is the fan belt O.K.? When was it greased?
- Check ownership. Who owned this car before it was traded? Dealer should be willing to tell you.
- 13. Always Buy From A Reputable Dealer.

$65,000 Collection Is 123 Percent of Goal

A tremendous payday surge last week pushed the 3d Armored Division more than $10,000 over its quota and climaxed the most successful Community Chest Drive ever

staged in the Division.
All previous charity drive records were smashed as Spearheadcontributed a total of $64,740 in the 6-week Spring campaign. This is more than twice the amount collected in the Division's 1953 Spring campaign and $6,000

nore than the total contributed by the Division in both the Spring and Fall drives last year.

With a quota of $53,337 $3 per man — Spearheaders went way over the top. They gave 123 percent of their goal — $3.64 per man - and more than doubled last year's top per capita figure of $1.70 per person,

The results of the drive far exceeded all expectations, according to Lt. Col. Robert L. Webb, Excutive Officer of Reserve Command and Division Coordinator for the Chest campaign

The Division donation exceeded by more than $12,000 the total amount collected at The Armored Center in last year's Spring drive. The Division gave $24,001 last Spring ($1.28 per man) and $34,-737 last Fall ($1.70 per man).

For total collection figures at The Armored Center in this Spring's drive, see the front-page story in this week's TURRET Reserve Command set the pace for the major Spearhead commands, collecting 127 percent of its quota or $16,326. Combat Com-mand "A" was close behind with 124 percent or $15,035; Division Artillery had 120 percent or $10 .-554, and Combat Command "B" gave 106 percent of its goal or $10,608.

The village blacksmith hired himself an apprentice and immediately began his instructions to the promising lad. "When I take the horseshoe out of the fire," he said, "I'll lay it on the anvil. And when I nod my head, you hit it with the hammer." with the hammer.

The apprentice did exactly what the blacksmith told him to do and now he is the village blacksmith.

Maj. Gen. Collier Departs Early Next Month After Nearly Two Year Tour of Duty Here

Major General John H. Collier, Commanding General of The Armored Center since August 7, 1952, leaves Fort Knox early next month for a new assignment in the Far East Command.

The news of the general's departure was released today

In news of the general s departure was released today by his headquarters here. During General Collier's tenure as Commanding General here, Fort Knox growth and development has continued with the completion of many new buildings, the approval from Congress of construction of a new hospital, the arrival of new units and the visit of many a dignitary, including the President of the United States.

President of the United States.

The multi-million dollar construction program that resulted in the erection of many new permanent type barracks at The Armored Center blossomed into reality during General Collier's command. A recent announcement from Washington brought news of a seven-million-dollar hospital in the offing for Fort Knox. Two dependent schools were built during the time General Collier has been here—Crittenberger and Stevens—and a 200-unit apartment house addition to the Wherry Housing project here.

He has greeted many military and civilian figures of national and international fame.

Among these visitors were President of the United States Dwight D. Eisenhower, King Fai-Marshal Viscount Bernard L. To Be Held May 22 Montgomery, Senator (now Ambassador at Large) Henry Cabot Lodge, and many others.

THE REWARDS OF RELIGION Religions have been great according as they have offered their worshippers rewards. The auestion asked of God by State, "Doth right to the root of the matter of the religion as in any other phase of life, you cannot get something for nothing. God himself cannot. There is a practical side of Religion, Well—that is! What does not be the state of the cannot of the well-than for me? What are its rewards?

Let us answer this question by asking another. What is the re-ward of knowledge? It is more knowledge, a greater capacity for Wisdom and Understanding.

What is the reward of Religion?
More Religion. And by Religion we mean what we have discovered Religion to be—"The life of God in the soul of man." The reward of that kind of Religion is more of God in the human soul, more God-likeness in the living man.

God-likeness in the living man.
Sir Wilferd Gren fell said,
"Whether we, our neighbor, or God be the judge, absolutely the only value of our religious life to ourselves or anyone is what it fits us for and enables us to do."
It does not take much of a man to be religious but it takes all there is of him. When we give our all we get all of our God.

Two conferences of The Armor Association were held at Ft. Knox under General Collier's command. And one of the most noteworthy events in the history of the Army occurred, too, in this era.

That was the issuing of the postage stamp honoring the late General George S. Patton, Jr., and The Armored Forces of the Army.

In July, 1953, General Collier was honored by the service maga-zine "Life of the Soldier and the Airman" with the printing of his biography as a part of its series on generals who began their army careers as privates. It was the opening paragraph of that story that characterized General Collier in these words:

Collier in these words:

Wacs Have A Birthday Party

Signal Inspection Off Gen. Beishline Urges Active To 'Superior' Start Participation in Reserve Unit

The first phase of the annual Second Army Signal Inspection was completed last week with the 3d Armored Division's Signal Pool getting a perfect rating of "Superior" by Rudolph A. Zenker, Second Army inspector. All 616 items inspected were found to be in perfect shape

The entire Division will be checked. CCB is now being inspected and will be followed by CCA, June 15, and the 3d QM Bn., July 19

"We are especially proud of our record," said Capt. Kermit Conn, Division Signal Pool Officer, "because half of the equipment checked was being used in the field, showing that the various unit officers are taking good care of their equipment."

Speaks at Owensboro AF Day Observance

Brig, Gen. John R. Beishline. Assistant 3d Armored Divi-sion Commander, spoke to the citizens of Owensboro, Ky., at an Armed Forces Day cere-mony last Saturday

The general's 20-minute speech dealt with the vital problems of our national defense and the importance of the role of the reserve

"Today we are in the midst of terrible times," Gen. Beishline said. "We may have to fight a war of almost any size at almost any time and at almost any place If we do, you may be sure it will begin swiftly and will proceed as fast as modern inventions permit. It is a good bet — in fact, any other bet would be suicidal — that we as a nation will not have as much time as in the past to prepare for it. We shall not have time to make soldiers out of men who have forgotten, or perhaps never even seen, their weapons They will have to be ready at the

Urges Reserve Participation

"The primary problem is to encourage active participation in the Army Reserve Program by obli-gated reservists. The flow of thousands of these veterans back to civilian life offers the Army Reserve and the National Guard unprecedented opportunity to play a more vigorous role in our national defense. Unfortunately, up to this time, the results have been disappointing all over the country. As you well know, we are not attracting these young people $\mathbf{Y}_{ ext{ou've}}$  climbed hills before, we know.

You've come to many a long rise in the road ahead and tramped down on the gas pedal to make the grade.

But did you ever head a ROADMASTER up a hill-a 1954 ROADMASTER?

You seem to sail when you touch off the great V8 power that gives life to this finest of Buicks.

You move ahead and up that long steep to POWER like this?

pull in a silken, smooth sweep of almost effortless ease—and the thrill your spirits get from such magnificent ability is a precious thing.

And you realize, of course, that a wealth of advanced high-compression V8 power—(the highest horsepower in all Buick history, in fact)—is the heart of this stirring performance.

But you also realize soon enough that your tremendous satisfaction at the wheel of a ROADMASTER comes from more than great power alone.

It comes from the instant response and absolute smoothness of Twin-Turbine Dynaflow.

It comes from the velvety luxury of your all-coil-spring ride. It comes from the superb ease of Safety Power Steering. It comes from the comforting feel of ample roadweight-brought to featherlight handling precision by a new geometry in front-end engineering.

And very definitely, it comes from the eye-catching beauty in which you travel—the look-of-tomorrow styling that graces ROADMASTER today-and with e spectacular new panoramic windshield that is fast becoming the mark of true automobile modernity.

We'll be delighted to seat you at the wheel of a new ROADMASTER-so that you can drive it, try it, feel it.

It costs you nothing to do soopen your eyes to the finest buy in fine cars today. Drop in, or call us this week.

In 1949, Randy won the Me-Welterweight Champtropolitan ionship (147 pounds) and the New York PAL welter title. But he lost out in the quarter-finals of Golden Gloves competition.

In 1950, the improving young fighter again won the Met and PAL crowns, and this time he reached the semi-finals of the Golden Gloves

Phenomenal Very

1951 was a phenomenal and decisive year for Sandy. The budding amateur won the New York, Eastern and National Golden Gloves titles, the Met and PAI, crowns, the National AAU Championship and the European AAU championship. On the European tour, he fought in England, Germany, Sweden, Italy and France.

About this time. Sandy found it almost impossible to get amateur fights. He had lost only six of 133 bouts, and had beaten two of his six conquerers in rematches. About half his victories came by knockouts.

Soon after his return from Europe, Sandy decided to turn pro and went under the tutelage of Hymie Wellman, manager of Johnny Bratton and Orlando Zulueta

Professional Record

In 18 professional bouts before entering the Army, Sandy racked up 15 victories against two losses. One fight was a draw. Eight of his wins were KO's. He fought twice as a welterweight, then switched to the middleweight bracket

Randy owns victories over such "name" fighters as Lee Sala and Jimmie Bowe. He fought his draw with Ernie Durando. His toughest fight-Sala; his biggest thrill—his Golden Gloves championship in Madison Square Gar-

In spring a young man's fancy turns, among other places, to thoughts of softball. Likewise men of The Instructor Battalion have formed the THUN-DERBOLTS, an aggregation of young men who claim to be proficient in the art of softball.

As for the Thunderbolts chances for the season, Lt. Col. Von Halban, the Battalion Commander, has remarked that he will take all wagers and all comers, evidently he has already seen the team in action.

THANK YOU BLOODMOBILE DONORS

Hardin County Chapter, American Red Cross, expresses its sincere appreciation to all civilian and military personnel of Fort Knox who in any way contributed to the success of the Bloodmobile's visit to Fort Knox last Friday.

We are especially grateful to each and every donor; to TAC Headquarters for approving the Bloodmobile visit; to Col. A. L. Tynes, in charge of Fort Knox Hospitals, for his assistance; to Mr. Noly T. Shepherd and Mr. Joe Strong for their cooperation; to Mr. E. L. Davis, president of Post Cab Company, and to Mr. Royce Craddock, president of Craddock Chevrolet, for furnishing free transportation of donors to and from the Bloodmobile. To all others to whom we are indebted, we express our sincere appreciation.

This is a very necessary program and is of vital importance to everyone. The blood received last Friday was credited to the quotas of the counties in which the various donors reside. It is available free to anyone who needs it. The Red Cross Blood Bank program can continue to meet local needs only through generosity of the donors and support of the public such as was demonstrated by the people of Fort Knox last Friday. Our thanks again for your support and cooperation.

3 Service Clubs Offer Free Dancing Lessons to Knox EM

Finer, smoother, more positive performance. A flowing motion. Thrilling new responsiveness and consistently ier handling.

This is not an ad for a new 1954 automobile. It is what you can attain at the dancing classes held each week at three Ft. Knox Service Clubs. One of the major items of entertainment for the enlisted men at Ft. Knox, are the many and varied dances spon-sored by the Service Clubs and by The Armored Center Special Services softed by the Service Clubs and by The Armored Center Special Services So that the men might better enjoy these dances, Service Clubs 1, 2, and 3 have arranged for perhassional dancing instruction of the strength of the st thusiasm, but the favorite dance is still the jitterbug.

Tour Kentucky

A long-awaited experience is in store for us this week, a visit to Audubon State Park. Necessary supplies on this expedition are a camera and a picnic lunch.

We pick up route 60 at Tip Top and start off on our merry way. It is a journey of about 125 miles to Audubon State Park. Much of the ride is along the beautiful Ohlo River. The park is located just north of Henderson, on U. S. Highway 41,

The picturesque playland dedicated to John James Audu-bon, famous bird artist and naturalist, who drew inspiration for his pen and brush in this lo-cale during the period of 1810 to 1819.

Poot trails in the park show to advantage the beauties of thick forest of virgin hardwood trees, ferns, wildflowers and woodland plants. This is one of the most scenic areas of Kentucky. Nature lovers can have a field day in this tobulets environment. fabulous environment.

The park lies within a major migration route and in spring and fall the numbers and variety of migratory birds attract great num-bers of bird lovers to the park.

Army Accelerates EM June-July Separations

Enlisted men scheduled eparation during June and July of this year will be released under an accelerated program, it was announced last week by Sec-Army Headquarters

All personnel concerned will be released by June 25. The terms of this directive are subject to the needs of the service and the discretion of unit commanders.

No individual will be released under these provisions unless he has completed a minimum of 21 months active duty in the current term of service. Personnel desiring to complete their full terms of service or who wish to extend their enlistment voluntararily, will be permitted to do so if otherwise eligible.

The following release schedule has been set-up at Ft. Knox: those eligible for separation between June 1 and June 13 will be separated May 24 to May 31, those eligible for release between June 13 and June 27 will be processed May 31 to June 7, and those scheduled to get out June (Continued on Page 3)

The latter meaning of the word may have been the one least known to you before you entered the Army, but it should now be a part of your normal vocabulary. When the word "retreat" refers to the evening ceremony, it has nothing to do with a defeat. The word is taken from the French 'retraite", referring to the evening honors.

The bugle call sounded at retreat was first used in the French Army and dates back to the crusades. When you hear it, you are listening to a beautiful melody that has come to symbolize the finest qualities of the soldiers of

'Retreat' Is a Word

The "Retreat" bugle call is played each evening just before the flag is lowered. While the flag is coming down, the bugle plays "To the Colors", or if a band is present, the national colors come down to the accompaniment of "The National Anthem"

If you ever participate in a formal retreat review, you will be told just when to salute and how long to hold it. But usually you will be alone when retreat is sounded, and you should know for yourself the proper honors to render.

What To Do

If you are in uniform and walk-ing outdoors when "Retreat" is sounded, you should stop, face the music of the flag and stand at attention. When "Retreat" had "The National Anthem" is played, you salute and hold it until the flag has been lowered and the music ends.

If you are driving when you hear "Retreat" and are not in a stop your venicle, climb out and render the proper honors. If you Jerry's older are in a formation, only the man in charge will dismount, and if II got the full treatment over the the commander will salute from the vehicle.

If you are indoors when retreat is sounded, you should sa-lute only if you are under arms. Otherwise, you should uncover whether in uniform or civilian clothing.

Soldiers in civilian clothes or civilians visiting an Army post should always stand at attention facing the flag and uncover during the retreat ceremony.

It is easy to know just where your car belongs if the lane is marked on the road. If the road is unmarked, only that part that makes up your lane—usually a third or a fourth of the road width—belongs to you. Drive as though the lane were marked.

The lane position of your car should always be a correct sign to other drivers of exactly what you intend to do.

"DIAMONDS"

Diamonds are valuable jewels that we usually think of as adorning a woman's hand, in valuable jewelry, or in a chalice. We think of them in the highly polished stage, forgetting that at one time they were rough, uncut and black, like a piece of shiny coal. It is the craft of cutting and polishing that brings out their hidden beauty

Man's soul is comparable to a diamond. Although rough uncut and unpolished at birth, it may be made into a thing of beauty or a burned-out clinker, depending upon the use each one of us makes of the faculties of our soul, especially our free will

God employs His masterful craft in beautifying the soul with the Sacrament of Baptism. The soul becomes as a supernatural jewel, wonderfully reflecting the light of Sanctifying Grace. Everything I think, or say, or do, affects my soul. Good things beautify my soul. Evil things disfigure its beauty.

Pause a moment and see what you are doing with the soul God gave you. You alone are responsible for its potential beauty or ugliness, for God, having given you that diamond, is most anxious to help you beautify it if you will

Clearance No Longer Needed for Foreign Decorations and Awards

Foreign decorations awarded U. military personnel for action in Korea by other United Nations countries engaged in the Korean conflict can now be accepted by the honoree without specific clearance from Congress.

Public Law 354, dated May 8, 1954, was passed by Congress as a "blanket" measure for the following as stated by this message from Department of the Army:

"Public Law 354 . . . permits members and former members of the Armed Forces of the United States who have served subsequent to June 26, 1950, within the territorial limits of Korea or in waters immediately adjacent thereto, during the per iod of hostilities in Korea in which the United States is engaged, and for one year there to accept from Governments of Foreign Nations whose personnel are participating with or under the United Nations Command in Korea such decorations, orders and emblems as may be tendered them, and which are conferred by such Governments upon members of their own Military Forces. Awards held in the Department of State will be re leased and The Adjutant General will transmit to recipients as soon as practicable without request Regulations implementing law will be furnished later."

Don Salper, Charm Sorbello Excellent In Little Theater Comedy "Arms and The Man"

Colorful and accurate scenery and costumes, along with convincing portrayals by the players added up to an exceptionally fine evening's entertainment last week at Theater One, when the Little Theater Group of Ft. Knox presented "Arms and the Man".

Under the competent direction of Pete Carnahan, the comedy by George Bernard Shaw was presented last Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Each performance was very well attended.

Each actor was effective in his or her part, with special bouquets to Don Salper, who played the handsome hero and Charm Sorbello who furnished the perfect heroine-who wasn't always heroic. Her original fiance, as played by Howard Seebach, who eventually falls for the maid, served as the perfect contrast to the hero. His blunder-

Dustying furnished armost as much context as the piot users, the made, Patty Glor, was a good "republican" and convincing as such. The plot, typical of the author, revolves around a father and his nobleman son-in-law to be, who are off fighting in one of the many small wirs that plagued Europe in the latter 19th century. As a professional soldier who as a friend by Father and Fiance, could rival the professionals.

The play is a gentle spoofing of the British Army of the day; Shaw not very subtlely veils this fact with his characters tagged as "Bulgarian" soldiers.

Again, the Little Theater Group fights for the highest bidder, he an amateur organization, has is welcomed not as an enemy but presented a performance that

3d Armd. Wives' Dessert-Bingo Is Gay Affair

An unusual twist was given to the monthly meeting of the 3rd Armored Wives last Friday at the Brick Club when some 150 women gathered for a Dessert-Bingo. The meeting got off to a fast pace with awarding of prizes for several amusing aspects of the ladies' attire.

Following dessert, the ladies played Bingo for the remainder of the afternoon.

Each of these great bands have been organized and led by the shy, clarinet player and singer from Milwaukee, Woody Herman. And each of them has been — and is — the greatest band of its time.

There are fans all over the United States who say that the first of these groups was the first of these groups was the greatest of them all. There are others who vete for the Herman-Herd of 1945, which won blue ribbons in five polls in one year. There are still others who believe the band Wood which with won the Down Beat Poll after it had been broken up—was the greatest of them all.

But today, as audiences in town after town, city after city, in dancehalls, and theaters and concert halls, hear the Third Herd, the consensus is that here is the band that is the greatest.

Active Service Totaled More Than 70 Years

Amid the roar of a 13-gun salute, the familiar notes of "Ruffles and Flourishes," the salute of an honor guard and the handshakes and tears of their comrades in arms, their wives and families, two of The Armored Center's more well known personalities retired from the Army in ceremonies last Saturday morning on Brooks Field.

Col. John K. Sells and Col. Milo H. Matteson, both of whom had entered the Army as privates, left active military service after continuous careers of more than three decades each. Col. Sells ended more than 36 years service, leaving The Armored Center after holding down the position of Deputy Post Commander here since Sept. 27, 1982. He entered the military service as a private March 12, 1918. In August, 1921 he was appointed a second lieutenant in the Regular Army.

THE MACHINE AGE

Men with machines are confirmed lovers of ease and comfort. The advertisers of machines are never tired of describing their wares as conducive to easy and painless living. The easier it is to operate a machine and the more comfortable it makes one, the more excellent it is. As a matter of fact, nothing is praised so highly as the

Even though all of us like an easy and painless life, we have to face up to the fact it cannot be all easy and painless. If we had such a life as has been described, we certainly would be doing little more than just existing or marking time.

When a man starts out on a career he will find that he must work and study so he may be able to be efficient in what ever his field of endeavor may be. The man who takes it easy and painless in his career will find himself a failure.

It is also much easier and painless to think of ones self than it is to consider the conditions and feelings of our fellow men. However, our national and religious heritage was given us by those who considered more than themselves.

The man who builds his life upon the principles of good living has a sense of usefulness and pride that the man who takes it easy and painless will never know.

Sportsmanlike DRIVING FORCE OF IMPACT

WATCH YOUR SPEED

Speed makes collisions bad. The force with which you strike a solid object increases as the square of your speed. At times as hard if you double your speed, nine times as hard if you treble your speed, says the AAA driver training book, Let the punch of this little man on the left represent your car's striking force at 20 miles per hour. Bouble your speed to 40 miles, and the punch is that of the big, middle man—4 times as damaging. Go 60 miles per hour, or 3 times as fast, and the punch is 9 times as great! Like that of the brutal giant on the right!

This is why your chances of being killed or injured, or of killing, injuring, or doing heavy damage, shoot way up when you push down on the accelerator pedal and speed up your car.

Watch speed! It gives you a giant's brutal power.

At the post cemetery Sunday morning the N. Butler Briscoe American Legion Post sponsored a simple ceremony. Mr. Ray Barry, Louisville, American Le-gion State Vice Commander, and gion State Vice Commander, and Lt. Col. T. I.. Stephens, deputy engineer TAC, spoke briefly. In the audience was Maj. Gen. J. H. Collier, Commanding General, TAC. A firing squad from the 15th Armor Group fired a salute and the 158th Army Band sound-ed the "National Anthem." A bugler sounded Taps.

Much the same type of cere noon Sunday the 576th Armd Arty. Btry. fired off a re sounding 21-gun salute across Brooks Field as a band played and a bugler sounded Taps. Col. J. L. Ryan, TAC Chief of Staff laid a wreath on the 7th Armd Division's Stone in the Court of Honor. That same afternoon at the Zachary Taylor Cemetery in Louisville Armored Center units performed similar duty. And Monday morning in Elizabeth-town Ft. Knox personnel fired off in Legion ceremonies

. Mostly, keeping safe and sound while having fun on a bicycle is common sense. But most children aren't going to see this little note on safety. So the parents that on safety. do read this must drill their offspring in safe travel on a bike.

The Provost Marshal's office gives these hints among many on safe bike riding: ride well to the right of the road in the direction of traffic; obey all traffic signs and rules; be careful in passing a parked car; don't try any "cute" tricks, such as hitching rides on autos or trucks; only one person on one bike; be cautious at intersections: use headlight and tail for the careless motorist Flagello won his bachelor of music degree from the Manhattan School of Music and studied voice under the late, great Freidrich Schorr of the Metropolitan Opera.

He has appeared in concert and over radio and television in and around New York City and once appeared as guest soloist with the New York Philharmonic Symphony Orchestra under Dimitri Mitropoulis.

Flagello leaves the service in November, after which he plans to return to his musical career. He is assigned to Company A, 2128th ASU.

Col. Matteson, deputy president Namp Field Forces Board Number 2 from February 4, 1952 to February 22, 1954, also began his army carcer as a private in December, 1919. But in 1921 he entered the U. S. Military Academy and was appointed a Second Lieutenant of Cavalry in June, 1925, upon his graduation is graduation.

His many tours of duty include service both in the China-Burma-India Theater of Operations and in the European command. A graduate of several Service Schools, Col. Matteson holds many decorations including the Legion of Merit with Oak Leat Cluster, the Bronze Star and four decorations from the Republic of China.

The General Orders retiring the two colonels from active service praised them for their splendid records of achievement and their long and faithful service to their country in peace and war.

The honor guard company was composed of two platoons from the 131st Tank Bn., School Troops, and two platoons from the AFF Board Detachment. Massed bands from the Third Armored Division and the 158th Army Band of School Troops provided the mustic while the salute battery came from the 578th Armd. Fld. Arty. Bitry.

Former A - 83 Tank Platoon For Vanderbill U. Is Impressive In Korea

HQ. 24th INFANTRY DIVISION, KOREA — The 21 men who comprised the first armor packet platoon to be assigned in the Far East were at best at the time of their assigned in the Far East were at best at the fortune of the arrival in Tank Company of the 19th Infantry Regiment just another group who had finished basic training, naive and unconcerned, and a big pain in the neck to their company commander.

Called the "Hollywood Platoon"
by the rest of the company, the men who had trained together and were assigned together were frankly an experiment. Because they were the first group in a plan that might well revamp the whole Army system of assignment, tedious reports and surveys had to be forwarded by Captain Kenneth Cummings, the company commander. The packet platoon, friends throughout their training, became even closer knit when they joined the Tank Company of the 19th because most of the other men regarded them with suspicion and even open resent-"Hollywood boys," they ment. were called "They're being babied they're always getting the attention " When the packet men stung by the resentment of the other men, withdrew into their own circles, the scorn increased.

That was the situation the first of April when the former first platoon, Able Company of the 83rd Bn., 3d Armored Division, at Fort Knox was assimilated into Tank Company of the 24th Divi-sion's 19th Regiment and emerged neophyte fourth platoon quickly beginning training.

Cpl. Kelsey of CCB To Enter West Point

Cpl. James Kelsey, of the CCB Instructor Group, will leave the 3d Armored Division on July 6 to attend the United States Military Academy.

A Spearheader since his enlistment in October, 1952, Cpl. Kel-sey served 14 months as a platoon sergeant at Co. A, 33rd Med. Tk. Bn., CCB.

A native of DeWitt, N. Y., the corporal received his appointment to the academy from his district congressman.

An older brother, Capt. Jesse Kelsey, who is now attending The Armored School, is a 1948 graduate of West Point.

Commands to Exchange Two Battalions

Combat Commands A and B of the 3d Armored Division will ex-change two battalions with one another later this month, according to an announcement by Division headquarters last week

Effective June 16, the 7th Med Tk. Bn. and the 33rd Med. Tk. Bn. will be relieved from CCB and assigned to CCA, while the 36th AIB and the 83rd Recon Bn. will be relieved from CCA and assigned to CCB.

Lt Col James W Cocke former commandant of the Armored Leadership School which was closed last February and commanding officer of the 761st Tank Battalion, CCB, since last March, is leaving the 3d Armored Division for an assignment as professor of Military Science and Tactics at Vanderbilt University, Tenn.

Col. Cocke came to the Spearhead Division from Austria where he served on the General Staff Section United States Forces Austria, from 1949 to 1952. Prior to that he was at Ft. Riley, Kan., for four years as Instructor Training Officer and Chief of Methods of Instruction Committee at the Ground General School.

In 1940 Col Cocke left his reerve status and was called on active duty, serving with the 6th Cavalry Regiment until 1943. He was Assistant G-2 of the 79th Division in Europe in 1944 and participated in many campaigns, including the Normandy, Northern and Central France and the Rhineland, with the 106th Cavalry Regiment.

While Col. Cocke was commandant of the 23rd Armored Engineer Battalion, known as the Armored Leadership School, the battalion received the highest overall pro-Lt. Richard Schuerman, CO, ficiency rating in a 2nd Army suggested the man shooting the Training Inspection for any unit

Three Sergeants Now Taking Basic With Co. B. 57th Bn.

Almost anything will turn up during an 8-week basic infantry training cycle. But when three sergeants reported for basic training at Co. B of the 57th AAA AW Bn., CCR, a little over six weeks ago, everyone concerned was surprised.

Sfc. Clarence Simpson, a native of Salisbury, Md., had 21 months of overseas duty with the navy, but as a reservist with no prior Army service, he found himself in basic.

Simpson, who has over nine years service, was with the Mary-land National Guard as a supply caretaker and hopes to go to Quartermaster school at Fort Lee, Va., after his basic training

During the Korean conflict, he servid on the U.S.S. Sausalito, a patrol frigate, from July 1950 to August 1951 and supported evacuations of Chogjin, Songjin and

"All my active duty has been overseas in the past," stated Simpson, "and now I would like to stay stateside and take my family wherever I go."

Simpson has a wife, Peggy and 5-year-old son, Clarence, Jr. Simpson reported that he though the initial eight weeks of basic infantry training was instructive but tedious,

Another Sergeant

Another member of the National Guard on active duty with B-57 is Sgt. Millard Barlow, from Cleveland. He is a former member of the 107th Armored Cavalry Regiment.

Barlow had four months of active duty as a tank repairman at the Aberdeen Proving Ground, Md., but this did not count as far as classification was concerned. He too found himself going through an 8-week cycle of basic training.

Sgt. Barlow broke his ankle four days after he began basic, but he continued to hobble around with the aid of crutches. He still managed to fire qualification with the M-1 and attend most of his classes.

"I guess I'll get through this asic," he said, "and now that I have over three and a half years of service in, I think I'll stay in to flinish a 20-year hitch."

Third Striper

Another Clevelander in the same situation as the other two sergeants, is Sgt. Donald Sabath, who was a member of the 83rd Inf. Division for three years before going on active duty.

Sgt. Sabath is a graduate of the Kent State University's School of Journalism and was employed by the Cleveland Plain Dealer when he began his tour of active duty

In the active reserve he worked in administration, and he hopes to continue either in this field or in public relations.

All trainees in B-57 are treated equally, and two weeks ago, when the KP roster was read, Barlow and Sabath discovered that they were to be on duty the same day The cooks were continually kidded that they had the highest paid KP's in the history of B-57.

All three men agree that organized reserve or national guard training is beneficial to a man going on active duty. B-57 has utilized this experience by appointing them assistant platoon sergeants.

melodrama, the resentment gone the company commander beams with pride at their mention, and the members of the packet platoon are admittedly as good before the veterans of the company were scornful, now they are envious and quick to praise the packet members.

The change in attitude was partly accomplished by the platoon leader and platoon sergeant who had also trained with the platoon and shipped with them to Korea, a sage veteran of 16 years with tanks, M/Sgt. Roy L. Sutherland of Carleton, Ky. teamed with 2nd Lt. Charles Overstreet of Ponca City, Okla., to guide their boys, to punish them when necessary, to be a second father to them. And in the process they produced a top fighting unit, eclipsing oldtimers in skill and possessing a remarkable morale esprit-de-corps.

Use "Easy Eights"

"Sure the boys had disadvan-tages when they came over," said the quick-talking Sutherland, 'they were an experiment. They had trained on M-47 Patton tanks with lateral hydromatic drive in the states. They were taught only that one tank. Over here they were given the General Sherman tanks "Easy Eights" we call 'em, and they didn't know anything about These had manually shifted levers. They had different guns These are 76 mm instead of the 90 mm jobs they trained with on Pattons. But we taught them that they were the best during basic and we did the same thing during our training over here.

"At first, they had trouble back ing the Easy Eights out of the motor pool because of the dif-ferent shift. But I had the boys practice on one tank and kept them at it 'til they knew everything about these tanks. Now Bradbury (Pvt. Bobby E. Bradbury of Duncan, Oklahoma) is one of the best tank drivers in the

An onlooker viewing the pla toon during training is sure to ease with which the packet pla-toon performs its tasks. Five men are in each tank, a 30 calibre machine gunner in the bow called a "bog," the 76 mm gunner, his loader, the tank driver, and the tank commander. Four men were brought in from other company replacements to supplement the original 21 men in the packet to form the crews for the five tanks that made up the platoon.

The best tank crew of the pla-toon is Lt. Overstreet's crew in his own lead tank. Bog man is Pvt. Sterling Wood of Halifax, Virginia, gunner is Pvt. Robert Asky of Ambridge, Pa., loader is Pvt. Theodore Cox of New Albany, Indiana, driver is Pfc. Fred Albert of Port Huron, Michigan and Lt. Overstreet is Tank Commander and also directs the other four tanks by radio.

a practice "scramble" aler simulating the approach of enemy aircraft, the tank platoon scooted from a class in the company are, rushed through their tents grab-

(Continued from Page 1) bing tank gear without stopping, and slipped into the cramped is tanks. The entire platoon moved ployed into position that would hide the large 37 ton tanks from aerial observation in only six and one half minutes. The driver of the lead tank, Pfc. Fred Albert, 500 horsepower motor was revving up before the last man crawled in The lead tank pivoted out of the motor pool and the other tanks followed. A few minutes had barely elapsed before they stopped in a draw of a hill, the crews emerged and immediately began outting foliage to place on the tank to break the outline

> Men from all parts of the country were banded together in the set of twins, Richard and Ralph Wair of Alexandria, Virginia in the group. With the same sur-names, but not related, are James Adams of Centereville, Michigan, and Jimmie Adams of Gadsden, Alabama. Men with such diversi-fied civilian occupations as baker Joseph Brain of Shreveport, La., apprentice dental technician Marvin Bratton of Roanoke, Virginia, professional musician George Wilson of San Gabriel, California, truck driver William Anderson of Indianapolis, Indiana, and apprentice lens grinder Russell Hollenbach of Allentown, Penna, were taught how to change a tank sprocket, traverse with a 76 mm gun, listen to a radio message despite the clanging noise within the tank, and attend to the other complexities of the lumbering mechanical monsters.

> Thus far, the packet platoon has more than exceeded the expectations that a packet group would emerge the better trained unit. have a higher morale, and at the same time eliminate the time the individual spends in pipeline.

> The value of each packet me ber is appraised so highly that on three separate occasions, Sgt. Sutherland has had other tank platoon sergeants approach him and ask, "How many men do I have to swap you to get so-and-so?" Sutherland just smiles and shakes his head in the negative.
> Where two months before the other noncoms had looked down upon his men, now they were willing to trade two and even three men just to get one of the more exceptional packet members into their groups.

Lt. Overstreet summed it up. "It is a psychological value that makes these men better than those in the other platoons. Because they were all together, it took only a month to settle down after arriving in the Far East. We were combat-ready after one week of training. We know how to work together. Now if the Army will replace platoon with platoon, will have proved that the packet platoon system is the best for the soldier, the tax payer, and the Army in generan."

The final meeting of the Fort Knox Women's Club, terminating its 1953-54 year of activities, was held last Friday at the Brick Club in a rustling bustle of crisp crinolines and chic shantungs. With feathers and flowers perched deftly akimbo, the audience was pruned and primed to top frequency for the announcement of the pending elections

Mrs. Clark Webber, club president, swathed in a smart continental sheath of black, opened the meeting by welcoming the newly arrived members of the 11th Cavalry group interspersed throughout the large audience of native citizenry. Col A. L. Tynes was then called upon to receive on behalf of the hospital the donation by the Women's Club of two electrically cooled drinking fountains. A pertinent badinage of clever quips ensued to the effect that though the hospital was exceedingly grateful for these much needed gifts the staff hoped that the donors would not have to share in the physical benefit of their donation.

In the past the club has contributed two hundred dollars toward the annual scholarship fund for the high school. However, this year the club's executive board voted to make the purchase of a number of colored reproductions ranging from the great masters to well known contemporary painters. These prints are to be rotated throughout the school throughout the year, thus, it is hoped, benefiting of the children by imbuing them with an early appreciation of fine

The 1954 Second Army Track and Field Meet began yesterday and will continue through today at Ft. Lee, Va. Ft. Knox sent an eighteen-man team to compete in this event.

The team is handicapped by the loss of 2nd Lt. Joel M. Mc-Nulty, who was unable to participate due to pressing training needs. McNulty had won three events in the finals of the Ft. Knox meet and was expected to compete in these three nlus the High hurdles in the Second Army Meet.

Pvt. Russell Smith was selected to replace McNulty. Although he was not able to participate in the Ft. Knox Meet, his past performances as a speedster for Anderson College and his third place position in the 1952 Olympic Decathlon Trials, make him a leading contender for 2nd Army honors.

Smith is entered in eight events, but he may not compete in all eight. It is expected that he will compete where the team needs extra strength.

Individual winners in the Second Army Meet will combine to form the Second Army team, which will compete in the All-Army Track and Field Meet at Ft. Devens Mass, the 15th and 16th of June Trophies will be presented to the winning team and to the 2nd place team. The Commanding General's Rotating Trophy will also be presented to the winning team. This trophy must be won three times for permanent session Individual medals will be presented to those placing first, econd and third in each event.

The following events are featured in the meet: 100 yd. dash, 220 yd. dash, 440 yd. run, 880 yd. run, one mile run, three mile run, watching for his success in the running broad jump, discus throw,

"ALWAYS IN FRONT"
The final results of the semi-annual 2nd Army School Troops Inspection have been received and the 38th did quite well. None of our ratings was less than sat-isfactory and the great majority were graded excellent.

Last Sunday's Courier-Journal magazine section carried numerous photos of President Eisenhower's visit to Kentucky, Included was a color picture of the Commander In Chief chatting with M/Sgt. Curtis.

Possibly because of a guilty conscience, Sgt. Hall was seen laboring in the day room on a Sunday. In a recent "Believe It or Not" article it was reported that, if Sgt. Hall's 3-day passes were put end to end, they would circumvent the earth at the counter.

Sometime next month the unit will lose its Commo Chief, Cpl. Bodnar. His tour of duty with this company has brought nothing but superior and excellent ratings in the commo shop by various inspection teams. Also Cpl. Buckley and Pfc Good are being lost through discharge. However in through discharge, However in the beat signed. We will publish the names when the list is complete.

NICHOLS SETS NEW RECORD IN STATE PREP TOURNAMENT

Bobby Nichols of St. Xavier, Louisville, shattered all existing ecords as he blasted a 211 in the 54-hole Kentucky High School Golf Tournament to win his second consecutive state individual championship and lead his school to the team crown.

Bobby fired three sub - par rounds to win the title. He postrounds to win the title. He post-ed two 70's and a 71 to best the previous tourney record of 214, held by Kenny Delk of Manual. The previous record was established in 1941.

Nichols' sensational score en-abled St. Xavier to walk-off with the team championship by post-ing a 919 total. The previous low The previous low in a high school tourney at Knox was a 946 by Male in 1948. The all-time low in the tournament's history was a 918 by Anchorage in 1937, at a less difficult Owl reek Course.

Jimmy Gilbert of Bowling Green was runner-up to Nichols with a fine 222. He posted two 73's and a 76. The team closest to St. Xavier was Clark County, the defending team champs, at 945. They, in turn, were followed by Manual, with a 959.

KNOX GOLF TOURNEY BEGINS NEXT WEEK

The 1954 Armored Center Championship will be determined at Anderson and Lindsey Golf Courses on June 19 and 20.

A 72-hole medal play tournament will decide the golf champ-ion of The Armored Center and it will determine who will repre-sent Ft. Knox in the Second Army Golf Tournament at Ft. George G. Meade, Md., July 13 through

This year, besides the regular champion, there will also be a senior division champion crowned. All men over 45 years of age are eligible in the senior division. This will not be a separate tournament, but is part of the regutourney play.

A seven-man team to represent Knox in the Second Army Tour-nament will be composed of the first five place winners, plus the winner and runner-up in the senior division. Trophies and other appropriate awards will be pre-ented to the winners.

Each contestant will play 18 holes at Anderson Golf Course or June 19 and 26 and 18 holes at Lindsey Golf Course on June 20 and 27. The individual posting the lowest total for the 72 holes will be recognized as The Ar-mored Center Champion.

All male military personnel as-signed to The Armored Center will be authorized to play in the Knox Championship event. Entry blanks are available at Lindsey and Anderson Golf Courses. All entries are due in by noon today.

All entrants who do not possess membership cards at Anderson Golf Club or Lindsey Golf Club, will be required to pay green fees in both practice and tournament rounds. Both courses will be open to all participants for practice, next Monday through Friday. The pairings will be announced prior to 5 p.m., Tuesday. It seems that all the 11th Armd. ing outfits. Cav. Regt. does these days is move! After the entire regiment, five weeks ago it was hoped by the personnel that this would be the last move for a little while. Now however, it seems as though the Cav. is on the move again.

This time the 3rd Bn. of the regiment, which is presently occupying the area northwest of The Armored School Headquarters, is in the process of moving to the area now held by the 29th Armored Infantry Bn., 3rd Armd. Div. This location is adjacent to the general locale now occupied by main units of the Cav.

During the past week a number of regimental staff and service organizations have been on the move. Among them the regimental personnel ofice has changed location. It is now situated in the building where the 29th Bn. CO was located on 9th and Quebec Aves. Others include the Cav. I&E Center which has moved to a more permanent location in Bldg. T-7322 and the Medical Detachment which has changed its billets but still retains the same dispensary location on 10th and

"But the next day I told my superiors that I could no longer be responsible for what happen ed to patients hospitalized in such structures. About 24 hours later received word that Gen. Collier had been notified the new hos pital would be built."

Gen. Collier preceded Gen.
Arinstrong on the speakers' stand.
He told the audience that "it (the w hospital) is the culmination of a great deal of work."

Gen. Armstrong and Gen. Col-lier were then handed shovels by Armored Center Chief of Staff Col. J. L. Ryan, Jr. Together they performed the groundbreaking rites as Col. Tynes and Col. Ryan looked on.

Nations Oldest Fighting Gen. Wood Takes Over

Boston the embold Congress voted a regular Army into existence. It authorized 10 rifle companies composed of men from all 13 colonies "to join the Army near Boston, to be there employed as light infantry, under the command of the Officer n charge of that Army."

At that time, the "Army near in Boston" was no more than a handful of "Minutemen" from Massachusetts. But the army that came to join them was the new Army of the United States born as it were, even before the na-tion itself independent of the tion itself in British Crown.

The tiny, battered, infant army of an infant republic won that war for independence just as it as won every war it has fought since for the preservation of that independence.

The years have wrought their own revolution. From the underpaid-more often not paid at all -poorly clothed, equipped and fed soldier of Valley Forge the Army today is widely respected and envied as the best equipped, best paid, best cared-for striking force in the world.

In a matter of a few short years the soldier has come into an age of atomic warfare, guid-ed missiles and other deadly devices that have projected his importance and complicated his existence. The soldier today has come, too, to an age of idealogi-cal warfare. This is a new phenomenon that he has found he must prepare for. The "Minuteman" of 1775 is the citizen soldier of 1954. And with all the new devices of war, he is still the backbone of his nation's defense as he has been continuously for nearly two centur ies.

Spearhead Review-Chapter One

THE SPEARHEAD IS FORGED With the nearing of the thirteenth anniversary of the 3d Armored

Division's Activation Day celebration, which will be held Saturday, June 19, the Spearhead takes this opportunity to re-print the "Spearhead Review," an account of the brilliant history of the Spearhead "Spearhead Review " is another in a series of articles published periodically in the SPEARHEAD to acquaint trainees with Army history, customs, decorations and other military subjects. Articles are timed to give each group of incoming trainees the opportunity to familiarize themselves with pertinent military topics.

This present series of six articles is a detailed account of the brilliant history of the 3d Armored Division, one of America's most formidable units during World War II. It gives the reasons why men of the Division wear the Spearhead patch with pride.

At Camp Beauregard, Louisi-ana, in April 1941, the 3d Armored Division was officially activated. It was later to become one of the greatest fighting divi-sions in the history of the United States Army.

The nucleus of the Division was mored Division which was sta-tioned at Fort Benning, Georgia. Those commended

Desert Training

After forming at Beauregard, the Division moved enmasse to Camp Polk, Louisianaa where training was begun on June 14th, 1941. On June 18th, 7,000 selectees arrived to begin their 13 weeks of armor training. Throughout 1941 and early 1942, thousands of other selectees arrived to swell the ranks.

Within the advent of war on Dtcember 7th, 1941 the 3d Armored Division embarked upon a program of even more intensive training. The Spearheaders entrained for the Mojave Desert in California, and under the blistering desert sun formed itself into the brilliant fighting unit which was soon to write new pages in the annals of warfare.

Ready For D-Day

The Mojave Desert was not to be the final phase of training, however. There were later moves to Camp Pickett, Virginia, and then to Indiantown Gap Military Reservation, Pennsylvania. On September 5th, 1943, the Division was on the high seas headed for Europe. As the Spearheaders (Continued on page 8)

It's a BUICK! It's a V8! It's only

AKE heart, good friend-you can buy a hit-of-the-year Buick if you can afford any new car.

And we proudly show our price here to prove it.

For this price is the delivered price-the local delivered price-of the new Buick SPECIAL 2-door, 6-passenger Sedan-and it's just a few dollars away from those of the so-called "low-price three"-lower, in fact, than even some models of those very same cars.

But look what this Buick price gets you!

It gets you the very look of tomorrow in styling modernity, even to the spectacular new panoramic windshield that seems to outdate everything before it.

It gets you Buick V8 power-highest in Special history - plus the economy of new Power-Head Pistons.

It gets you Buick room, Buick luxury, Buick size and structure and solidityincluding of course, the famed Million Dollar Ride and a new precision in handling ease.

It gets you, too, solid and deep-down value.

For any way you look at it, you're money ahead with the car that's years-ahead now in looks and line and the lift of its power -and the car that's outselling every other car in America except two of the "low-price three.

Dróp in today or the first thing tomorrow -just to try and to drive and to compare a new Buick. We'll let the car prove its points.

worked long and hard, trudging across the hills and valleys of a growing land to make it come true. Today, his dream is falfilled and his name comes down to us through American folklore as "Johnny Appleseed."

Johnny was born about the American Pioneer American Fioneer.

Throughout our lives we too are planting "seeds." But have you ever asked yourself, "What kind of seed am I planting?" Seeds that will beget misery, unhappiness, discontent? Or seeds that will beget memories among the benole—memories of kindlime time and place as the counsame turne and place as the country he grew up with—in the year 1778 in Massachusetts. He was a religious and peaceful man, and he falt a "call" early in life to perform a mission in the newly developed land.

Making his way across western Pennsylvania, he navigated a ca-noe full of apple seeds down the ness honesty, integrity, a love of God, and a love of man. Ohio River and began his job of planting apple seeds over hun-dreds of miles of countryside. dreds of miles of countryside. For forty years he followed the covered wagon trails, planting many small orchards and occassionally returning to care for the young trees that sprang up behind him. He was well liked by everyone, including the Indians who considered him some sort of medicine man.

After devoting his life spreading this unglorified but de-licious fruit across much of our ncountry, Johnny Appleseed died of pasumonia in 1847. Few of us probably realize how much we would miss if it were not for the dream of Johnny Appleseed, You've heard of a woman hav-g irresistible charms. Well, that is what Gillian Holroyd has and Shepherd Henderson is the young who can't resist her. Her charms, like many young lady's, comes out of a bottle, but her bottles contain magic potions. Gillian Holroyd is a witch.

All this transpires in John van Druten's comedy, Bell, Book and Candle, a play in three acts, to be presented by The Pioneer Playhouse at Nininger Park, Sunday, June 13, 8:30 p.m.

And Gillian Holroyd is a beautiful young witch, who has a yen for the man upstairs. Henderson, She puts a charm on him so that he can't leave her for any length time. Her aunt and her brothers take a hand to break up the affair. What happens when the spell is broken shouldn't happen to a respectable witch.

All of the Pioneer Playhouse shows this summer, will be pre-sented in the arena type theater at Nininger. In case of rain, they will be moved to Service Club No. 1. The plays are free to all Knox personnel and their

A wonderful time was had by all who went to Lake Cumberland State Park a few weeks ago, so off we go to another outdoor playland on this trip. Destination for this expedition is the General Butler State Park.

The park is off U. S. Highway 42 and U. S. 227, near Carrollton. Route 42 is picked up in Shively, after a short drive toward Louisville on 31W. The distance to Butler totals about 90 miles.

This playground was named for General William Orlando Butler, the commanding general in the Hillerich Variety Show Mexican War. The park offers wonderful lake fishing, swimming and boating. Hiking, horseback riding and tennis are other popular activities present for our indulgence.

From the overlook high above the Ohio River Valley you can enjoy a commanding view of the surrounding area. The beautiful Ohio can be viewed in all its glory from this location. This is Call and Disc Jockey Show; 2:00 a tremendous opportunity to society, known as the Koshares, who are the clowns, the play makers, the imitators of the Pueblos. They are like the jesters of medieval courts, with equal social standing. But the word Koshare has come to mean more to the people of the United States. It is a name for a group of Indian Dancers that are famous for their spectacular and authentic Indian Dances. The Koshares will be at Cornwell Field, Sunday, June 27, at 8:30 p.m. so that you too may thrill to their beautiful and savage splendor.

The Koshares have a repertoire of approximately 55 dances, Many of the dances require special of the dances require special props. All of the dances have their own individual costumes.

Among the dances are: The Hoop Dance, which is mastered only by the most agile, it symbolizes the passage of youth through the maze of life; The Crown Dance of the Apache Indians, a healing ceremony. Few dances of the Apaches have survived, but the Koshares have managed to keep this one alive, the masked figures in the dance are to scare away evil spirits which bring sickness. When young Apache girls reached the age of puberty, a similar masked ceremony was performed. The Katchina Dances of the Hopis are sacred and beautiful ceremonies. Few white men have witnessed these ceremonies. Much of nessed these ceremonies. Much of the material was gathered from the Bureau of Ethnology, from rare book collections and from collections of Katchina Dolls. Koshares made the Katchina masks following the existing originals. No two are alike.

Vacation Time Brings Hawaii to Fort Knox

During the hot summer months, our thoughts often turn toward vacations and the wonderful places that we would like to visit. One of the most popular dream spots for a vacation is Hawaii. We could not take all of Ft. Knox to Hawaii, so we brought part of Hawaii to Service Club No. 3.

Beginning with Kamehameha Day, Friday, June 11, the Club will be decorated in a Hawaiian atmosphere and the activities of the club will include some of the customs and traditions of the Islands. We have attempted to make the program as authenic as make the program as authorized to possible, however, we were un-able to import the Pacific Ocean. But, if you ever go to the Islands, you will have some idea of what expect there.

Kamehameha Day is a territory wide legal holiday in Hawaii. It is held in observance of the birth-day of the Islands' first ruler. Club No. 3 will hold open house that day, so that you may drink in the Hawaiian atmosphere. The travel bureau of the Club will be

Get-together at Club 1

An Artist Rendevous is scheduled for Saturday, June 19, 3 p.m. at Service Club No. 1. One of the many attractions of this get-together is a contest for imaginative drawing.

Each participant is given piece of paper and a pencil. The leader slowly and accurately describes a picture to the audience and participants. As he describes each portion of the pictures, the artists draw the objects as nearly perfect to the discription as possible. After the description is completed, a little time is allowed for retouching the drawings and then they are collected and compared with the original picture.
A prize is given for the most accurate and attractive drawing.

Another game is silhouette drawing. Each person draws a sil-houette of the person to his left. The pictures are then numbered and mixed up and everyone tries to guess which is the silhouette of them. Other games are blind-folded drawings and backwards drawings.

The "Why" of Flag Day
Each day at 5 p.m. a bugler stands at the base of the white flagpole on Brooks Field. With him are members of the previous 's guard and an officer. The ceremony they perform is a tradition at Ft. Knox, one which attracts the attention not only of the members of the garrison but also the eyes and ears of visitors to the post.

The bugle sounds and the cannons roar a salute as the National Standard flutters solemnly to the hands of the waiting guards. This is Retreat. It is perhaps one of the most impressive ceremonies performed anywhere as a salute to a nation's flag.

Why such honor to a piece of cloth colored red, white and blue?

Why such honor to a piece of cloth colored ted, white and blue?

Men have fought and died to keep it from 'ouching the dirt of a bloody battlefield. But they have fought, moreover, to keep alive the many ideals for which it stands. It has become more than just a piece of cloth. It has become a symbol of a nation—its people, its history and its growth.

Yet it wasn't until June 14, 1923, that a committee composed of the presentatives from 68 organizations met in Washington, D. Co. Brown has held many varied and essential positions during his period of service, both in sor the request of the American Legion to draft a code of flag etiquette. Forget those whom you may know in this group, but live with them the life of the great people they represent. Enter into the rhythms of the Great Drum. Let your hearts dance free with the winds of Shadowland. Look far into the Tourquoise Sky and see the Great Thunder Bird and remember that there lives Waconda Auga, the Great Spirit. May he fill your hearts with the peace of the Forest Children

In these words are caught some thing of the attitude toward the American Indian of the Koshare Indian Dancers, who will be at Cornwell Field, Sunday, June 27 at 8:30 p.m. Some archeologists say that the American Indian has provided up to sixty percent of our culture. Be that as is may, there has never been any question that this red people were great artists, craftmen and givers of gifts. They contributed immeasurbly to our culture, folklore and art.

In striving to keep alive their onderful dances and in reprolucing their colorful costumes the Koshare Indians do so with idmiration, even reverence.

do more work per day . . . more work per dollar!

You save hours on the road. Thanks to greater acceleration and hill-climbing ability, you can save time without increasing your maximum road speeds.

You save extra trips. That's because of extra load space. New pickup bodies are deeper, new stake and platform bodies wider and longer.

You save time on deliveries. New truck Hydra-Matic transmission saves time and effort at every stop. Optional at extra cost on ½-, ¾- and 1-ton models. You save on operating costs. The "Thriftmaster 235' engine, the "Loadmaster 235," and the "Jobmaster 261' (optional on 2-ton models at extra cost), deliver greater horsepower plus increased operating economy.

You save with lower upkeep, too. There are heavier axle shafts in two-ton models, bigger clutches in light- and heavy-duty models, stronger frames in all models.

And your savings start the day you buy. Chevrolet, you know, is America's lowest-priced line of trucks!

Commands Rated for May in 13 Fields

The May ratings of 3d Armored line discrepancies for May with Division major and separate 10.3 percent. Special Troops had commands in 13 fields were re- 18.8 and CCA, 26.2. The Division leased recently by the Office of the Commanding General. The average standings for the past stveral months were also given.

The OCG has stated that these ratings on the administration, morale, training and discipline of a unit reflect the quality of that units leadership.

The standings for May in small arms maintenance shows the 45th with no deficiencies, followed by DivArty with only one, and CCB tying CCA for third place by having only 5 deficien-cies apiece. However, CCA has the best 6-month average.

DivArty had the best record for general purpose vehicles last month while second place was oc-cupied by CCA, CCB and CCR. All three commands had 19 de ficiencies. But in combat vehicle maintenance. CCA followed by CCB had the best records.

Accident Ratings Special Troops had the few number of AWOLs both in the 6-month average and last month' standings. The 45th AMB was second and DivArty third. The motor vehicle accident report showed two accidents for a distance of 149,065 miles. CCR and Special Troops each had one mis hap for the period.

The relative standards of train ing by the four major command place CCA at the head of the list with a 3.88, DivArty 3.73 for sec ond place, CCR in third place with 3.66 and CCB holding a 3.16 record. The same standings hold true in the 6-month average re-

There were no cases of v disease last month in Special Troops or the 45th AMB. Div Arty had the next best record .031 percent. The Division total was .15 percentage-wise which is slightly less than the 6month average.

DR Standings

Of the 413 delinquency reports issued last month, Special Troops had the best record by receiving only four. The 45th AMB placed second with 32 and DivArty bame in third with 42. These standing hold true in the 6-month averag report also.

Special Troops had the leas Special Troops had the least number of courts-martial for May and was followed by 45th AMB and CCA. Special Troops had a clean record for the period with no courts-martial.

Fifty percent of those eligible for reenlistment in 3d QM Bn last month did so, giving that or ganization top honors for May CCR had 46.6% of its eligibles reenlisting, and 45th had 40% of its men eligible for reenlistment sign on the dotted line. The per-centage then drops to 28% for fourth place which was occupied by CCB. The Division total for last menth was 30.7 of those eligible reenlisting which is better than the 6-month record of 18.5

Soldiers Deposits
Last month, $9,442 was pla in Soldiers Deposits. Of that amount, the 45th contributed $3,-623.00 for first place, and CCA placed second with $3,460. Per centage-wise, however, CCA ha the best record—8.66; Special Troops second, 1.41; and Div-Arty third, 1.31. Four hundred nine men are currently partici-pating in soldiers deposits, 313 of them coming from CCA. Five formal IG complaints were registered last month in the Division, and of these, two were found to be unjustified. Seventeer informal complaints were hand led during the period. CCR reg-istered the three justifiable complaints, and the two unjustifiable originated in the 3d QM Bn.

The 45th had the fewest belt-total for 3,074 men beltlining was 1,281 discrepancies or 41.7%. This is higher than the 6-month average of 30.6%.

Capt. Dan H. Williamson, newassigned Aide-de-Camp Maj. Gen. Gordon B. Rogers, 3d Armored Division Commander, last week received a Letter of Commendation from Lt. Col. James J. Scanlan, CO of the 54th AFA Bn., CCA. Capt. Williamson served as executive officer of the 54th before being assigned to Division Headquarters.

Among Capt. Williamson's dut ies while serving with the 54th were those of inspecting and sup ervising the operation of the unit and the care and police of the battery areas. It was due to his frequent inspections, criticisms and suggestions that two batteries won the Division Best Bivouac Award and two batteries won the "CCA Best Mess" award And as a result of his proficency test review, Capt. Williamson raised the standards of training in the battalion. Two batteries receiving this review scored well over 90% on the final proficiency

---AND A GOOD TIP FOR YOU

When it comes to sales, every car maker aspires to be up at the top of his price class.

Which is only natural. Popularity like that means success.

We know, because for years Buick has held such an envied position the unquestioned sales leader in its class. And with good reasons in styling, room, power, value.

But today, folks like you have pushed Buick success even beyond such bounds.

Today, the top sales standings of a full generation have been changed. Today, latest sales figures for the first four months of 1954 reveal this phenomenal fact:

In total national volume, regardless of price class, Buick is outselling all cars in America except two of the so-called "low-price three."

That's a tip too good to pass up. That's the tip-off that Buick must have the hottest styling of the times and the sweetest performance of the year.

More important, that's the tip-off that Buick prices are well within the reach of more and more people - and that such prices buy a lot more automobile per dollar.

So why not look into the tomorrowstyled Buick that puts you so far ahead today?

Come in, or phone us this week for demonstration. Then you can judge for yourself that Buick really is the beautiful buy-by far.

If you think a pigeon's life is sublime you're wrong Here's one that went from the sublime to the ridiculous.

This little pigeon simply flew the coop and so far as military authorities here now, he (she or it) is AWOL. The pigeon—it has a serial number but no name-was found in the woods outside Youkey, Va., by a sergeant of the West Virginia Military District. The pigeon was brought to the Ap-prehendee Detachment of 2128th ASU at Ft. Knox June 9 and placed in confinement.

Around one of its feet is a small metal band with the pi-geon's sericl number on it. It reads: USA 52 SC 718. That's how the processors at the detachment knew the pigeon belonged to the famous carrier pigeon brigade of the Signal Corps. They immediately placed the pigeon in a cage outside the orderly room door and telegraphed Ft. Monmouth, N. C., The Signal Center for identification and disposition instructions.

HEADQUARTERS, FIRST PROVISIONAL REGIMENT UNITED STATES MILITARY ACADEMY West Point, New York

15 June 1954

Major General G. B. Rogers Headquarters, The Armored Center

Fort Knox, Kentucky. Dear General Rogers

I wish to take this opportunity to express to you, the officers and enlisted men of Fort Knox the thanks and appreciation of the Cadets of the Class of 1955 for the outstanding instruction, hard work and effort put forth by everyone in our behalf.

We felt welcome and at home from the very beginning. Our reception at the air field was well handled. Hearing the band playing West Point songs at the airport; seeing our area well marked with signs designating USMA accommodates. tions; finding our barracks spotless and our beds already made; having at our immediate use a reception room for our visitors having at our immediate use a reception room for our visitors and a very attractive bounge for our use; plus eating in a clean, attractive Dining Hall, all impressed us not only with much hard work by many people in our behalf but because of their excellence set high standards before the cadets which some day they will have the challenge to emulate.

The training program was well received by the cadets. On Thursday 17 June I shall mail to you from Fort Sill a compilation of cadet comments on the training. My observations are that the cadets liked best the outside, practical instruction on tank driving and fring. They were impressed struction on tank driving and firing. They were impressed with the competence and enthusiasm of their enlisted instructors. Not only did the cadets gain much toward their broad, basic, military education but of equal or greater importance they leave The Armored Center with increased faith, confidence and respect in "The Combat Arm of Decision.' Whether as individuals they select Armor as their branch upon gradua-tion or not, each cadet will forever be a better member of the team to insure the preservation of our constitution and the ideals of Duty—Country—Honor—as a result of the training received here.

We depart having profited greatly. Our thanks we feel inadequate but sincere.

J. A. McCHRISTIAN Colonel, Armor Commanding.

Mannheim, Germany — Wild Bill Hickock can move out of the bull's-eye of pistol shooting legend-there's a two-gun sergeant in the Army's Second Armored Division who puts him to shame.

Master Sergeant Hugh G. Hall. (988 North Seventh St.) Memphis, Tenn., a 45-year-old veteran of 30 years military service, can shoot perfect rapid fire scores on targets simultaneously-with a pistol in each hand

Hall, in charge of firing field operations for a combat com-mand, has another unconventional method of demonstrating his skill. He scrambles eggs—complete with shell-in mid-air with a .45 caliber Army pistol.

A marksman who ignores all the rings on the target except the one in the center, the sergeant will accept a "choice of weapons" challenge on anything from a 90-millimeter tank cannon to a .22 caliber target pistol. He has colpistol - shooting competition, in-cluding the Army's Distinguished

MORE LIFE INSURANCE

New York Life has a special new policy for you!

Now! For those who need at least $10,000 more life insurance—a special low-premium policy that builds high cash values fast!

New York Life takes another step forward with a life insurance policy which reflects the economies of bigger unit sales, a principle well-known in other lines of

What it is, in a sense, is life insurance the "economy-size package." Because the minimum amount is $10,000, mies are possible which make the premmies are possible which make the premiums much lower than they would otherwise be. For a man of 35, for example, the annual premium for standard life insurance is only $23.59 per $1,000. And rates are correspondingly low all along

And another important thing: Low the premiums are, this new policy builds up HIGH CASH VALUES quickly—equal to the full reserve after only seven years!

New York Life is a mutual company and pays dividends to policy owners only. The dividends payable on this policy can be used to reduce premium payments or allowed to accumulate to increase the policy's cash value or applied under other available options. The low premiums, high cash values and dividends combine to make this policy unusually attractive from a net cost viewpoint. ,

There are many other outstanding features about this new policy which make it a great insurance "buy" for both men and women. It is issued to age 70. An applicant who may not be able to qualify for standard insurance for reasons of health or occupation may be insurable under this policy at a higher rate. To prevent unintentional lapse, it offers automatic premium loan for two consecutive premiums. At most ages policies with waiver of premium and double indemnity benefits are available at slightly higher premium rates.

If you have been telling yourself that you ought to have more life insurance to protect your family or your business-but have been putting it off because you think you can't afford it—ask your New York Life agent for all the facts or mail the coupon below, today!

BOUNDARIES

By Chaplain (Lt. Col.) Morris C. McEldowney

Boundaries are news. No one can read the newspaper today of watch television without some knowledge of boundaries. a line across a map and says, "Everything on the east side of this line is mine, you may take the west side." Or he builds a barber wire barrier around a little section of earth and says, "This is mine."

We draw boundary lines in the friends we choose. We set up barriers in the names that we give to people. Every time we call a name we set up an artificial boundary through the heart of human

In our worship of God we set up boundaries. It is said that God gives his spirit without measure, but how often we meter out God's grace to a chosen few who meet our man-made qualifications. Nature knows nothing of man-made boundaries. Natural frontiers are a thin penell mark on a map, but in the world of nature the hills and rivers know nothing of the line. The grass on the hillside, the busy ant tunneling the earth, the birds in their flight through the free air, know nothing of man's will to exclude.

It is our faith that God knows nothing of man-made boundaries, but would gather all his human children into the Beloved Community, Man years for community, yet every carth-bound community fails him. In none does he find the peace that his thirsting soul seeks Isolated, disillusioned, weary, man is left desolate, unless he finds the Beloved Community where the barriers of exclusion and the boundary lines of self-interest are erased by a more-than-human

This is a story you've read in the United States ever since their way to America from warbedraggled Europe. The names are different but the smiles and gratitude and reluctance to think bout their pasts are the same.

Pawlo Lawrentschuk, now an-swering roll calls as Paul Smith at Co. B, 7th Medium Tank Bat-talion, CCB, says it's all foggy when he thinks about it now

When you have a future to ut—and just a few years ago you thought there would be no future—well, then you don't like to think about the misery you knew in Russia. But you don't forget it—ever.

Home of His Own

That's the way it is now with Paul. Things are looking up. He has a mother and father now and a home he can call his own in Ohio. Six years ago he had no one, nothing but the clothes on his back and the dark promise of some old Ukranian people in his home town of Gorin Grod Wolynien, now a part of Russia's Ukraine, that there was beyond the barbed-wire borders of Rus sia's sattelites a land with freedom and food to eat.

Being the son of a Ukranian partisan and rich farmer, who was killed in 1947 in a guerilla fight, Paul feared imprisonment in Siberia. Having no close relatives in Gorin Grod (his mother died when he was three and his grandmother when he was eight) Paul, at the age of 14, faced himself westward and started ped-dling on a bicycle. #### Division Tankers Push to Siegfried Line

This is the third of a series of articles tracing the history of the 3d Armored Division since its activation in 1941 until the presend day. Weekly chapters will unfold a detailed account of the brilliant history of one of America's greatest fighting units in World War II.

After Normandy, the victorious Spearheaders pursued the Ger-man Army through Northern Army France and Belgium. In the last months of the 1944 summer offensive, it seemed as though Adolf Hitler's Third Reich might be forced into surrender long before American and British units reached the Rhine.

Hounded relentlessly by Allies both on land and in the air, the crumbling Nazi Army was also harried by Maquis in France and by the Armee Blanche in Belgium. Still the fanatical enemy refused to yield entirely.

On the night of August 25 Division units poured across the Seine River. Enemy resistance the honor of being the first Americans to retake Chateau Thierry.

It makes you feel like the man you are

OU must know, of course, that a fine car is more than merely a means of fine travel.

It is, as the psychologists tell us, an extension of a man's own personality.

It reflects what you feel, what you like, what you are.

So we ask you to take the wheel of a Buick ROADMASTER like the one shown here-for it is, we have found. the automobile chosen more and more by those who are definitely moving ahead in the world.

 $\mathbf{Y}$ ou will find it a car that fairly breathes success.

From its size and its breadth and the magnificent modernity of its styling, you know it is a car of custom stature and so does the watching world.

The wondrous windshield is a pride in itself. You don't just see the view -you command it.

 $\mathbf{Y}$ ou will find it, too, a car of luxurious obedience.

From the moment you ease your foot down on the pedal, you take immediate mastery of the road and of distance.

And you know it-in the silken whip of Twin-Turbine Dynaflow, the might of Buick's greatest horsepower, the magic cushioning of coil springs on all four wheels, the exhilarating ease of Buick Safety Power Steering at your hand.

But with all this, you buy with prudence when you buy a ROADMASTER.

For-though it is, and looks, custom production - it sells for the lowest price-per-pound in the fine-car field. And so wise an investment makes you feel even more like the man

Cub Scouts Enjoy Each Moment of Week's Stay At Camp Patton Charles E. Webster, Pvt. and Mrs. Marion T. Logsdon, Stc. and Mrs. James E. Duncan, Capt.

The Cub Scouts of Fort Knox never had it so good. Or so you would think after reading some of the letters they wrote last week to the folks they left back home.

After camping out for seven days and nights, 92 eight to eleven-year-old sons of post civilian and military men are ex-citedly talking now of re-upping in Pack 128.

The Cup camp, set up at Camp Patton, located on the Fort Knox reservation at Wilcox Lake, had everything it takes to take the children away from their parents and homes and keep them happy, busy, excited and industrious for a whole week. The parents of the Cubs spared nothing in providing everything necessary for the fullest enjoyment of the excellent Camp Patton facilities

The joy the camping trip brought to the lads is reflected in the hurriedly scrawled letters they managed to pen to their parents in the evenings while sitting on their cots, soldierly awaiting "lights out".

One from Johnny Parks, dated Wednesday, 1954, states: "After supper we went down to the lake to make and bait a trot line on Carnival at Club No. 1.

On Saturday of this festive weekend, the Service Club Hostesses will present a huge midway Carnival in front of Service Club I, beginning at 1 p.m. This will be followed at 4 p.m. by a stage show at Nininger Park.

The three day celebration will wind up Monday with a swim-ming meet at Davis Pool at 10 a.m. and a baseball game at Cornwell Field at 2 p.m. The swimming meet will include: 30 yd. free style, 50 yd. breast stroke, 50 yd. back stroke, 100 yd. free style, meetly relay, and a 200 yd. free style meetly relay, and a 200 yd. free style relay.

Exhibition diving will help to make this an even more en-joyable event. This will also be an opportunity to see some of the men in action, who will be com-peting for the Post Swimming and Diving Championships to be held later in July.

So plan to see Johnny Long and all of the other many fine attractions that The Armored Center Special Services have planned for the 4th of July weekend.
